Don't forget to change your clocks and watches tomorrow night before you call it a day.

We're going back on Standard Time for six months, beginning at 2 a.m. Sunday.

And don't forget that tomorrow night is the time for Halloween trick or treat activities. Sunday is the date on the calendar for Halloween, but the trick or treat time has been set for Saturday night in Snyder.

Speaking of trick or treat activity, there has been some discussion of urging parents to limit the participants to children under 12 years of age. This sort of thing was started in the first place for the benefit of the small fry and many feel that they should have it to themselves.

Already some older children devote their trick or treat activity to community work, such as the CROP drive. Anyway, the wee ones may be entitled to one major event that they can call their own.

Tommy Hart, the Big Spring sports writer, says that Don Robbins is being mentioned as a likely successor to Gene Stallings as head football coach at Texas A&M University.

Robbins, who was on the Snyder High coaching staff several years ago, is now head coach at Idaho University. His Idaho team waxed Gene Mayfield's West Texas State Buffaloes, 26-0, last Saturday night at Canyon, and for Idaho it was the fifth victory in a row, something almost unheard of there in the past.

Robbins and Stallings played on the same team at A&M under Bear Bryant, but it is reported that their approaches to coaching differ. While a member of the high school staff here, Robbins always let it be known that football was paramount, No. 1, period, in his thoughts. He comes from a "football family," his father, Cooper Robbins, having coached at Breckenridge and later becoming athletic director at Odessa, and his twin brother, Ronald, having played at Breckenridge and A&M along with Don, and later coaching at Monahans, Coleman, etc.

Of course Stallings has not departed yet. But there has been a lot of speculation. One wag offered a "solution" that would cover several speculative situations. It would send Stallings to Texas Tech, Jim Carlen to Baylor and a newcomer (Robbins or someone else) to A&M. That would remove Bill Beall of Baylor from the Southwest Conference picture.

It would involve a lot of shuffling. But stranger things have happened.

MAJOR POLITICAL PARTIES SPLIT

Britain Enters Market

LONDON (AP) — Parliament's historic vote to take Britain into the European Common Market left both major political parties split today and the outcome of the move into Europe in doubt.

With its vote Thursday night, the House of Commons accepted the principle of Common Market membership on the terms negotiated by the Conservative government, serving notice Britain is prepared to give up some of its centuries-old independence for a role in a united Europe.

But a year-long battle remains to push the enabling legislation through Parliament, aligning British laws with the rules of the European Economic Community, before Britain can actually join on the target date of Jan. 1, 1973. All signs pointed to cliff hangers on the more controversial terms of entry.

Prime Minister Edward Heath won approval in principle for entry by a vote of 356 to 244 in the Commons with 22 abstentions. The big majority of 112 exceeed even the government's more optimistic forecasts.

But only massive help from Labor party rebels swelled the majority to that unexpected size. Heath has no guarantee that he can push through the bills that must follow on the strength of his own party alone.

The Conservatives have a majority of 25 in Commons and 39 of them voted against entry. Many of these say they will also vote against the enabling legislation, even if that means bringing the government down.

Former Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his Labor party are also committed to fighting these bills all the way. Nearly a third of the Laborites voted with the government or abstained Thursday night. But most of these defectors are now expected to return to the party line on the future votes; otherwise the party could be split irreparably.

Wilson's strategy is to delay and eventually defeat the government on this legislation, forcing a general election. With the Conservatives trailing Labor by 12 per cent in public opinion polls, and the polls showing a majority of voters against joining Europe, Wilson figures he would be returned to office.

He said Thursday night that a future Labor government would not pull out of the market but would not cooperate with it until better terms for participation were negotiated.

Trouble could also come for Heath on one of the entry terms still to be negotiated, the question of fishing rights in territorial waters.

TO HALT TEST

Group Prepares New Injunction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environment groups prepared a new request today for a court injunction against a planned atomic blast on Amchitka Island, after the government agreed to show the court secret documents on the test.

An environment lawyer said the U.S. District Court would be asked before noon to rule immediately on the groups' still-pending motion for a preliminary injunction.

Meanwhile, preparations for the underground detonation of a five-megaton hydrogen warhead continued on remote Amchitka, in the Aleutian Islands.

Once Judge Hart looks at the documents, a Justice Department spokesman said, he can then decide whether they have information showing any new evidence of environmental damage which could result from the explosion. If he does, the information will probably be turned over to the environmental groups and made public.

Even if Judge Hart turns down the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility and six other environmental organizations, they still are free to appeal again to the U.S. Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court for a halt to the explosion scheduled to go off within five days.

Meanwhile, the Pentagon rejected a request by Alaska Gov. William Egan for the stationing of "a number of vessels with rescue capability up and down the Aleutian chain" to move in quickly in event a mishap should result from the huge underground nuclear test.

In a telegram to Egan, Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard said the Pentagon agrees with the Atomic Energy Commission "that comprehensive safety arrangements have been fully considered throughout the test planning and are considered entirely adequate."

UN Fund Cut Proposal OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of the U.N. ouster of Nationalist China won Senate approval today of a resolution urging a reduction in U.S. financial support for the world organization.

The nonbinding amendment by Sen. James L. Buckley, Con-R-N.Y., urges President Nixon to negotiate a reduction in the percentage of U.N. costs paid by the United States, from 31.5 per cent to 25 per cent.

The amendment was approved by voice vote as the Senate moved toward final passage of a $3.2-billion foreign aid bill.

A proposal to reduce U.S. payments to the United Nations by $11.5 million was soundly defeated by the Senate Thursday night.

An amendment by Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., that would require a percentage reduction in U.S. contributions to United Nations programs was still pending.

Final action on the aid bill was scheduled for tonight.

The way was cleared for the vote Thursday night when the Senate discarded an antiwar amendment opposed by President Nixon.

In a long series of roll call votes lasting well into Thursday night, the Senate decided, in addition, to retain restrictions on U.S. spending in Cambodia that were written into the bill by the Foreign Relations Committee.

Earlier Thursday Henry Kissinger, the President's top foreign affairs adviser, warned that Nixon might veto the entire measure unless the Senate eliminated the Cambodia restrictions and dropped an antiwar provision drafted into the bill by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho.

The Cooper-Church provision would have limited all funds for the U.S. military in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia to those needed for withdrawal.

It was struck from the bill in a 47-44 vote despite a strong attempt by antiwar forces to reverse the decision.

Seminar On Crime Slated

A crime seminar on hot checks and shoplifting will be conducted here twice Tuesday under sponsorship of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce and the U. S. Small Business Administration.

The seminar will be presented twice — at 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. in the community room of the Snyder Savings and Loan Association.

Films will be shown and there will be question and answer sessions conducted by Snyder Police Chief Bobby Goodwin and Scurry County Sheriff Keith Collier.

The Chamber of Commerce is urging all of its members and their employes to attend. The seminar is especially timely at this season, Chamber officials noted. Shoplifting and not checks, although a problem the year round, are especially troublesome to merchants during the Christmas shopping season, which is coming up soon.

The two sessions are being scheduled to enable local merchants to send as many of their employes as possible to the seminar. A session will last approximately one hour.

TO FILL UN SEAT

Peking Sending Delegates Soon

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Red China notified the United Nations today it will send a delegation in the "near future" to take the seat voted it last Monday.

The announcement was made in a cable to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant from Chi Peng-fei, acting foreign minister of the People's Republic of China.

Chi said the names of the delegation members would be sent later.

After taking note of the General Assembly action in expelling the Nationalist Chinese delegation and giving Peking "its lawful place," Chi aid: "I now inform you that the government of the People's Republic of China will send a delegation in the near future to attend the 26th session of the General Assembly of the United Nations. The name list of the delegation will be sent to you later."

The cable was received at U.N. headquarters at 9:20 a.m. EDT and released to the news media shortly after 10 a.m.

Chi made no mention of a message Thant had sent him urging quick action in naming a delegation to the 15-nation Security Council so that this key body could act without delay in the event of a threat to peace.

In his cable, Chi acknowledged receipt of an early message from Thant notifying him of the assembly's Monday night action.

Some U.N. diplomats were concerned about a possible legal tangle if the Security Council met before the arrival of a Peking delegation.

A member of the council said the president for October, Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua, planned to call a meeting Saturday morning even if the Chinese had not sent a representative.

The delegate said Sevilla-Sacasa wanted to uphold the principle that the council can meet in the absence of a permanent member, as it did during the 1950 Soviet boycott. Freedom from the Soviet veto then permitted the council to authorize sending a U.N. force to Korea when North Korea invaded South Korea.

The council president also thinks Argentina deserves a vote on its pending resolution calling for Thant to contact South Africa about self-determination for South-West Africa, the delegate added.

A meeting before the arrival of Peking's representative probably would provoke a Soviet protest. A diplomat informed on the Soviet Union's position said the council president knew the Russians would regard such a meeting as "a demonstration against the People's Republic of China."

Ft. Worth Cop Killed In Ambush

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A hidden gunman, apparently perched atop a building, opened fire on police outside a psychedelic night club early today, killing one officer and wounding a second.

The ambush occurred during an investigation by some two dozen officers of an earlier shooting in which a Negro man and a teen-age girl were wounded.

Police questioned a number of persons, both black and white, but made no arrests at once in the slaying of the policeman.

Investigators said a security guard at an apartment house exchanged wild shots with a man who ran across a parking lot carrying a high-powered rifle. The apartments are across the street from the scene of the trouble—a racially mixed rock music night spot called the Electric Circus.

The man dropped the rifle, equipped with a telescopic sight, and fled unharmed, police said.

Officers identified the slain policeman as E. M. Belcher, 24. He was shot in the head.

Another policeman, Ronald G. Turner, 28, was treated for wounds from shell fragments at a hospital and dismissed.

A man identified as Kenneth Wayne Harris, 23, was wounded seriously in the earlier disturbance. The girl, Debra Brooks, 19, suffered a superficial head wound and was dismissed after treatment.

Police did not pinpoint the cause of the disturbance at once but said the sequence of events apparently began after a dice game was broken up at the club, the scene of recent racial disturbances.

Jersig To Probe Free Hunt

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Parks and Wildlife Commissioner Harry Jersig said today he will seek an investigation of a report that legislators have been given virtual open invitations to hunt on wildlife management areas.

Jersig said he "certainly" disapproved of the invitations, reported in the San Antonio Express.

"The whole department needs investigating," Jersig declared. "Some of the things they've been doing are ridiculous, absurd and asinine."

Jersig said the commission has never approved the invitations to his knowledge.

The Express said the legislators were invited to hunt on the wildlife areas with no limit on the number of people in their hunting parties.

It said letters went to state senators and representatives, the governor, lieutenant governor and the house speaker, inviting them to take part in all activities of the department.

Arctic Air Is Invading State

An arctic cold front had pushed heavy showers into the Snyder area early today, and these were to be followed by colder weather later in the day, according to forecasts.

Snyder had received 1.20 inches of rainfall by 8 a.m. and 1.50 had been measured at the Lake Thomas dam. It was not known whether there would be any appreciable run-off into the lake.

Meanwhile, the arctic air already had engulfed the Texas Panahandle, bringing freezing drizzle around Dalhart and a sharp chill over the rest of that section.

Travelers and stock warnings for the upper Panhandle were issued by the U. S. Weather Service. Forecasters said there might be snow in the mountains of Far West Texas, and a hard freeze was expected tonight in the panhandle.

By early morning the forward edge of the latest cold front stretched from Childress to Plainview and was moving slowly toward the south.

Light rain dotted much of the area from the Panhandle-Plains sector behind and along the frontal system, and extended as far south as Midland, Wink, Rankin and McCamey in West Texas.

Patchy fog cloaked much of East Texas. Skies were at least partly cloudy everywhere else except a few spots near the Upper and Middle Texas Coast, in Southwest Texas and the southern tip of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Temperatures near daylight went as low as 30 degrees at Dalhart and 33 at Amarillo and Lubbock. Farther south the readings stood mostly in the 60s and 70s, staying as high as 74 at Brownsville and 76 at Galveston.

Blount Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winton M. Blount told President Nixon today he is resigning as postmaster general, clearing the way for his expected bid for an Alabama Senate seat.

At a White House news conference, Blount told of his decision to leave the key government post but said "I have not made up my mind" about running for the Senate seat held by Democrat John J. Sparkman since 1946.

Appearing at the same news conference, Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler relayed Nixon's high praise for Blount's supervision of the post office, which during his tenure has been converted to an independent, semi-autonomous agency called the U.S. Postal Service. The President, Ziegleer said, told Blount at a White House meeting today that he appreciated Blount's "undertaking and accomplishing what many thought was an impossible job."

Motorists Stranded In Wyoming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blizzard whirled through the central Rocky Mountains today stranding hundreds of motorists in Wyoming, and freezing rain slowed travelers in Kansas, Nebraska and several other states in the Great Plains.

In Little America, Wyo., authorities were trying to find ways of accommodating more than 450 travelers who have been unable to proceed along Interstate 80 because of the heavy snow and poor visibility.

Interstate 80 is the main east-west artery through the mountains in Wyoming. Many of the motorists have been stranded since Wednesday night.

The Wyoming Highway Patrol closed I-80 early Thursday from Laramie to the Utah border.

The National Weather Service continued its blizzard warning for the region, but some authorities said the roads may open late today.

Meanwhile a heavy snow warning was put into effect from Utah and northern Arizona to the central Plains.

Birth pills have mom out of control

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: What should a mother do when she knows her unmarried daughter is taking birth control pills? This daughter doesn't even have a steady boyfriend.

She works, pays room and board and is paying for her own car. Altho her friends have always been welcome at home [tho I admit lately I have criticized the appearance of some of them], she seldom has a date call for her at home anymore.

I just don't know what to do. She leaves these pills in plain sight. Do you think this is her way of asking for help? Or doesn't she give a damn? HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: How old is this "unmarried" daughter? If she's 18, she could be asking for help. If she's 28, she may not give a damn. You would worry less if you had more communication and a better relationship. For openers, resolve not to criticize her friends. She sounds like a responsible girl, and there is a chance that she is doing nothing of which she's ashamed.

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor [I refuse to call her a "friend"] who uses people.

She represents a direct-selling cosmetic company and she is always trying to sell the line to everybody she knows. [I bought some.] She also sells a line of cookware. [I bought some of that, too.] Her son recently started selling subscriptions to magazines, so she sent him around to all of her friends and neighbors, and naturally we couldn't very well turn him down.

She also sells Christmas cards, and gets into people's homes by offering to "collect" for every worthwhile cause you can think of. How can I say, "I've had it" to a woman like this? MILWAUKEE

DEAR MILWAUKEE: In English. Unless you can speak a language she understands better.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is a very lovely, well-bred woman who is employed as a housekeeper. Her days off are somewhat irregular. Since my husband is her only child we include her in most of our plans, outings and vacations. She always spends her days off with us, and sometimes we have no notice whatsoever and have already accepted a dinner invitation or weekend with friends. When this occurs, my husband calls the hostess for the dinner [or weekend] and tells her that he is bringing his mother.

I think it is very presumptuous to bring uninvited guests, but my husband says as long as it's his mother it is perfectly all right. What is your opinion? "M"

DEAR "M": I think your husband's obvious consideration for his mother is admirable, even tho some hostesses would regard it as an imposition.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HURT" IN MINNEAPOLIS: It takes an enemy and a "good friend" to hurt you to the quick. The enemy to say something rotten about you. And the "good friend" to tell you she said it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Carmakers Report Profit Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharply higher third-quarter earnings reported this week by the "Big Three" automakers further underscored a general resurgence of corporate profits.

Ford Motor Co., the second largest producer, reported Thursday its quarterly profit rose 16 per cent to $86 million from $73.9 million in the corresponding period a year ago.

Earlier in the week, General Motors reported third quarter earnings of $217 million compared with a loss of $77 million a year earlier when a strike against the company halted output. And Chrysler Corp.'s third quarter net income jumped to $6.2 million from $2.1 million last year.

A survey of 632 nonfinancial corporations by New York's First National City Bank showed profits in the latest quarter were 8 per cent above a year earlier—the same rate of advance over 1970 as in the first half of the year.

In addition to autos, industries showing the biggest improvement, the banks said, were building materials, textiles and apparel and rubber manufacturing.

Many companies cited increased sales and reduced costs as the reasons for the upturn. Auto industry observers said profits of the carmakers in the third quarter would have been even higher if they had not been prevented from raising prices during the wage-price freeze.

In Detroit, two financial experts specializing in automotive securities agreed. They explained that the effect of frozen prices was partially offset by renegotiation of contracts with suppliers, internal belt-tightening and increased volume.

"To oversimplify, by careful management—and sometimes cruel management—they managed to push back the effects of the freeze onto other people, suppliers and such," said Arvid Jouppi, securities analyst for W. C. Roney & Co.

David Healy, an analyst for Birnham & Co., agreed.

"I get tales of woe out of the steel industry and other people," Healy said.

Among the few really dark spots on the third quarter profit picture was the steel industry, where sales skidded as customers worked off inventories accumulated in anticipation of a strike on Aug. 1. The strike was averted at the last minute.

U.S. Steel Corp., the No. 1 producer, reported a loss of $10.5 million in the third quarter compared with a profit of $33.6 million in 1970. Earnings of second-ranking Bethlehem Steel were $6.6 million, down $7.77 million from the year earlier period.

Cubans Moved

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A group of Cubans who had been kept in a motel after flying into the country illegally have been transferred to the U.S. Naval Air Station at Belle Chase.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the move was made to simplify detention.

"People seem to have forgotten that those people are in the custody "of immigration officials, the spokesman said. "They entered the country illegally."

The Cubans, 19 technicians who wanted to attend a sugar convention here and the three-man crew of the Russian-built plane which made the trip Tuesday, were moved Thursday to the air station, a few miles south of here.

The delegation has resisted all attempts to get them to go home and the State Department had not indicated its next move.

Charles B. Chamblee, chief patrol agent for the Border Patrol Division of the Immigration Service, said he expected the Cubans to remain at the air station for the duration of the convention.

Sinatra Files Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Sinatra's lawyers have filed a $5 million suit against the weekly newspaper "Midnight" claiming the publication defamed the retired entertainer by falsely reporting he had cancer and would soon die.

The suit in U.S. District Court in Manhattan claimed Sinatra "has never had nor does he have cancer, nor has any diagnosis been made by any doctor that he has cancer."

Cited in the complaint was a May 10, 1971 "Midnight" story headlined, "Frank Sinatra has cancer," that claimed the singer was forced to retire because he was "suffering from cancer of the throat; and that within a period of one year he would be forced to be confined to a hospital to await his death."

The complaint also said Sinatra was libeled by a Nov. 1, 1971 article in "Midnight" that reported the entertainer was secretly married and his new wife was pregnant.

Named in the suit were the Midnight Publishing Corp., a Canadian firm; Fawcett Publications Inc., Greenwich, Conn., the U.S. distributor, and Manhattan News-Co., listed as the New York City distributor of "Midnight."

WOMAN INJURED — Mrs. Tommy Cotton, 25, Box 24, Ira, sustained a knee injury when her 1969 Model Volkswagen station wagon was involved in a collision with a 1951 Model Ford pickup in the 3100 block of College Avenue at 1:32 p.m. Thursday. She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service. There was considerable damage to her car but only minor damage to the pickup, which was driven by George Vivial Smyrl, Rt. 3, Snyder.

British Entry Will Help US

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Britain's entry into the European Common Market would have a minimum direct impact on America, but the secondary effects would be considerable.

The House of Commons voted 356 to 244 Thursday night to approve the principle of Britain's membership in the economic bloc. Actual entry in the Common Market would come some 19 months from now and only after approval by other countries in the market and passage of enabling legislation in Britainm

The entry would help American business operating in Europe by enlarging its markets. It may hurt American firms with factories only in this country, but only modestly. And it would not hurt American farmers much because Britain is only a small market for their agricultural exports.

Thus shareholders can expect to benefit while nobody in America would be badly hurt.

Perhaps the most important secondary effect of the British addition to the European economic bloc would be that the bloc would be stronger. A stronger Europe should need less American help, particularly in the defense field.

However, a stronger Europe would be in a better bargaining position when it negotiated trade with America. Also, it would provide stronger competition in the rest of the world, building as many cars as America and producing almost as much steel.

Over-all, the change seems favorable for American interests. Indications are that the average tariff Britain charges on goods from America would be reduced about a quarter. Britain's present 10 per cent average duty would come down to the Common Market average of 7 per cent.

However, there may be a loss of sales to Europe as British goods compete with American ones on the continent without having to pay the duty levied on American sales. Business Week magazine has estimated this loss as about $100 million annually, only 1.5 per cent of total U.S. exports to Europe.

American companies with factories in Europe, unlike those manufacturing in the United States, were expecting great things of the British entry.

"Nearly seven out of 10 (American) companies whose European headquarters are in the Common Market believe the British entry will have a favorable impact on their operations," reported Heidrick and Struggles, a Chicago international management consulting firm.

Estes Will Not Appeal Ruling

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Billy Sol Estes will not appeal a recent court ruling that the government can confiscate property placed in the names of his children, Estes' lawyer says.

Confiscation would be in partial satisfaction of federal tax claims.

"We feel like we won and we lost both," lawyer Allen Glenn said of the Oct. 13 verdict.

He said that while the court ruled the government had the right to follow the property and stock into the children's hands, it also held that the trustees, including the Estes children and beneficiaries, are not responsible for the difference between the value of the property when put into trust and its value in a tax sale.

Involved are Pecos River Sand & Grave, Pecos Transit Mix, and the Estes homestead, a Pecos home once valued at more than $100,000.

Shake-Up In China Indicated

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Intelligence analysts say there are increasing indications some of Red China's highest ranking military leaders may have been ousted in an internal power struggle.

Reports from what were described as secret sources, presumably inside mainland China, claim that Huang Yung-sheng, chief of staff of the Peoples' Liberation Army (PLA), has been purged.

The same undercover sources reported that Red Chinese Air Force commander Wu Fahsien and Navy political commissar Lee Tso Pang had been sent away for "re-education," the American analysts said.

The high-ranking trio has not been seen publicly since Sept. 10, shortly before signs of a possible upheaval in the leadership appeared.

According to recent intelligence assessments, the crisis appears still unresolved. Intelligence officials saying reports of such developments inside China are difficult to confirm, called the situation "murky as can be."

China-watchers have speculated that a power struggle was triggered by the reported illness of marshall Lin Piao, communist China's defense minister and designated successor to chairman Mao Tse Tung.

The military leadership is critically important because senior PLA officers play a dominant role in the party and government machinery throughout China.

U.S. Intelligence experts discounted the significance an official Chinese magazine carrying pictures this week of Lin Piao and the three top military figures reported ousted.

In the Communist world, the political health of party and government officials often can be measured by the mention they get—or don't get—in official publications.

But, in this instance, American specialists said, the magazine was taken off the stands in Peking last month. They attributed its appearance in Canton to a slip-up by some lower level Chinese functionaries.

International Center Is A Home Away From Home For Foreigners

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Life at a foreign university can be devastating. It's not that any of life's little miseries are inflicted on the outsider intentionally. It's just that many people unwittingly show little consideration for the lifestyle and cultural preferences of a foreign guest.

That's why it was such a happy day when the new International Center opened this fall at Purdue.

The large white residential structure will be a home away from home for many foreign students and their wives. And it's only the beginning, says Linda Graebner, math major who heads Purdue's student Government International.

"So many people have worked so long to make this a reality. I'm so glad to see we finally have a place where foreign students and American students can meet and exchange ideas. The students really like it. They come at first reluctantly, but then they see we do have a worthwhile program and they all pitch in and help."

The center is not a 'live-in' situation for students, though a limited number of upper apartments are rented to provide income for rent and maintenance. Rather, it is a place to rest and study or play. And it is a place to sign up for campus activities as well as those arranged by the center.

The house is furnished with items contributed by Lafayette and West Lafayette citizens. Older pieces of furniture have been sanded and refinished by a host of students.

An electrical engineering student worked on electrical equipment and a Purdue custodian volunteered his services when it came time to clean and polish floors.

Novelist Gives Details Of Detroit's Auto Industry

WHEELS. By Arthur Hailey. Doubleday & Co. Inc. $7.95.

Detroit—"The Motor City," "The Arsenal of Democracy"—long has been a city in search of a novelist. It still is.

Motown, despite Arthur Hailey's latest fictional offering, "Wheels," still needs—indeed demands—an artist who can do for it what, say, James T. Farrell did for Chicago.

The material is there—and fascinating stuff it is: The Purple Gang; the production line; The Battle of the Overpass; The Black Legion; the sit-down strikes, the $5 day; The Collingwood Massacre, the race riot of 1942 as well as the ghetto explosions of 1967.

And why settle for stick figures the way Hailey does when you can draw for inspiration on such real-life, bigger-than-life figures as Henry Ford, Walter Chrysler, Walter Reuther, James Hoffa?

The major fault with Hailey's novel is that while it keeps telling—at times insists—it is about Detroit, the auto industry, and the people involved in that industry, the reader, especially if he is a native Detroiter, knows that this could be any city, any industry, any people. But it sure isn't the real Detroit.

Granted Hailey has done his homework well. There is a wealth of detail in his book that, separated from the flimsy fictional framework thrown up to hold it all together, makes for fascinating reading at times, e.g., how to sabotage a production line, the best time to buy a car, the methods used to sell cars. But it's just not enough.

Detroit is more, much more.

Dr. Spock Blasts Nixon And Mitchell

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, baby doctor and antiwar activist, says President Nixon and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell are thugs because, he said, they broke the law in allowing mass arrest of peace demonstrators in Washington on May 1.

Addressing about 2,500 students at the University of Texas at Arlington on Thursday, Spock said:

"When I call Nixon and Mitchell thugs, what I'm talking about is the fact that they hesitate—do not hesitate—in the slightest to break the law themselves when it is something that they believe in. I was referring to the fact that last May Day I was one of the 12,000 arrested without the slightest legal excuse or the slightest legal procedure because they wanted us off the streets of Washington."

Members serving in this capacity were Mrs. Dillard Teal acting as general co-chairman; Mrs. W. F. Atwood conducting registration, assisted by Mrs. Bess Johnston and Mrs. Harry Ward; Mrs. W. B. McSpadden issuing badges; and Mrs. F. F. LeFeuvre handling door prizes.

Mrs. Lee Smyth, reporting for the Martha Ann Woman's Club board, praised the Altrurian Daughters for being a hundred percent in membership in the woman's club. A need was expressed for such support from the members of all women's clubs in Snyder.

The program was titled "Shopping Exploration Day" and was presented by Mmes. W. B. McSpadden, F. F. LeFuevre, and W. F. Atwood, who emphasized guidelines for better shopping. As director, Mrs. McSpadden introduced the program by pointing out that the change from the "do-it-yourself" economy of our grandmothers to today's mammoth "shopping center" economy has created a new challenge. Among the factors discussed were the importance of storage room, how long to store various foods for high quality, special techniques to employ in shopping in the supermarket, along with supermarket etiquette, as well as directions for shopping in the department store.

Irish Feud Is Creating An Economic Havoc

By DONALD FORBES
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Commerce Minister Roy Bradford believes that the swift defeat of the Irish Republican Army in Northern Ireland is becoming an economic imperative as well as a political one.

Bradford has warned feuding Roman Catholics and Protestants in this province: "We could face bankruptcy in a matter of weeks."

While other members of the government believe Bradford was exaggerating, they are worried by the decline in foreign investment in Northern Ireland and the damage to business in central Belfast because of the IRA's terror campaign.

Tourist revenue has been waning since the trouble erupted in 1968.

Economic chaos destroying the foundations of Ulster's Protestant-based government is one of the objectives of the IRA, which is pledged to reuniting Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic to the South by bomb and bullet.

Government officials put the bill of Northern Ireland's economic havoc at $60 million up to the end of last year from August 1969. And the 1971 crop of bombings and dislocation could add at least another $36 million to that figure.

Northern Ireland is a province which has traditionally borne chronic unemployment. Because of Britain's economic stagnation and the IRA's policy of economic disruption, one man in 10 is already unemployed and the statistics go from bad to worse.

Nowhere is the effectiveness of the terrorist campaign more evident than in the center of Belfast. Big department stores—the equal of plush shops across Europe—are doing up to 40 per cent less business and are laying off employes.

The government now fears a wave of bankruptcies affecting even the prestige Belfast stores.

A Commerce Ministry spokesman said: "Before all the trouble blew up, we could reckon that half of the province's new jobs created annually came from the expansion of established industries and the other half from new sources. Now the ratio is up to 80-20 because of a slowdown in new outside investment."

He said American or European manufacturers who might have set up factories in Northern Ireland, where wage rates are relatively low and labor relations good, had probably been dissuaded by the violence.

A government committee is currently studying future economic development and methods of stimulating private investment and is due to make its report at the end of the year.

It is expected to press hard for increased public investment.

The rioting has had an inevitable effect on tourism, one of Northern Ireland's major industries.

Tourist revenue stood at $67.2 million in 1968 and dropped to $55.2 million last year.

Junior Editors Quiz on TONSILS

QUESTION: What is the use of the tonsils in the human body?

• • •

ANSWER: There is a mass of special tissue called lymphoid tissue in the throat. Connective tissue and mucous membrane cover it. This mass is called the tonsils. The throat is surrounded by a ring of tonsil tissue. Lymphoid tissue forms white blood cells called lymphocytes which fight germs in the blood. Scientists believe the tonsils were placed in the throat to sift out germs and destroy them before they can go to the lungs or other parts of the body.

Tonsils in children are larger than those in adults. Sometimes children and grownups suffer from tonsillitis, which is an inflammation of the tonsils caused by the invasion of germs in the tonsil area. There is usually swelling and soreness of the throat and difficulty in swallowing. Sometimes, there is severe headache, backache, stiff neck and a high fever. If pus or abscesses appear on the tonsils, a condition known as Quinsy sore throat develops.

A few years ago doctors were inclined to remove the tonsils if there were frequent colds or attacks of tonsillitis, but now are reluctant to do so unless there is a persistence of infection in the tonsils and they become dangerous to health. Most doctors use antibiotics to clear up the infection of tonsilitis and proceed from there.

Time To Weed Out Worries

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How are you coming along with your worry list?

The difference between the amateur brooder and the serious brooder is what they worry about. The amateur worrier worries about anything and everything. He doesn't get wrinkles fretting over trifles. He concentrates on the big worries.

With this in mind, it is a good idea for a fellow to weed out his worries periodically so he doesn't waste his time.

Here are a few problems and issues we've decided to put in our discard file and let somebody else worry about:

Is Lassie taking the pill?

Would the U.S. foreign policy improve if we gave our diplomats overtime pay?

What, if anything, is being done to improve the working conditions of laboratory mice?

If we are to close the generation gap, does that mean adults will have to learn to act like teen-agers, or teen-agers learn to act like adults?

Why do they still call it the cocktail hour when sometimes it lasts till darned near morning?

Would it help solve your dog's identity problem if you fed him food from a personalized can with his very own name on the label?

Is golf taking the place of sex in the American way of life?

Can a marriage be saved if both the husband and the wife like to watch pro football games on television?

Why is it that the guy who wears them calls them dentures but everybody else calls them false teeth?

When a girl says she likes nothing better than to curl up with a good book, does she really mean it—or has she simply led an underprivileged life?

Why do college commencement speakers always advise the graduates to "live dangerously," when there isn't any other way for anybody to live?

Why do we celebrate Halloween only one night of the year, when life seems like Halloween all the time now?

Yes, remember that successful worrying requires a wise choice of what you worry about. After all, it isn't the man who makes the worries—it's the worries that make the man.

Teacher Produces Another Teacher

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Probably no one can cooperate more with their kindergarten teacher than Lynne Sayers Hennesey.

Eighteen years ago she was a youngster in Elaine Crow's kindergarten class at St. Luke's Episopal School.

But this year both are working from the same side of the schoolroom—as second grade teacher at St. Luke's.

Mrs. Hennesey credited Mrs. Crow for getting her interested in becoming a teacher.

"After all," Mrs. Hennesey said, "a good teacher produces another teacher."

A bank in Rio Vista, Tex., 30 miles south of Fort Worth, has built an airport with a 2,600-foot runway for customers who fly planes.

Worth Hotel Gets 2-Year Contract

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Worth Hotel, a fixture in the city's skyline since 1927, got a new lease on life recently. At least two more years.

A two-year management contract was signed with Neal Hospers, who has been operating the 200-room hotel under lease from the Fort Worth Foundation since June 1967.

The hotel's future has been uncertain for some time, although Hospers said the Worth operated "in the black the first six months of this year."

The Jesse Jones Foundation of Houston donated the hotel in the mid-1960's to the Downtown Association of Fort Worth, which later turned it over to a subsidiary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Showman Billy Rose was among the hotel's early celebrity guests. Other guests included Bob Hope, Sally Rand, Ray Charles, Guy Lombardo, the Apollo 12 astronauts and, most recently, the University of Oklahoma football team.

Wolves Host Tigers Tonight

Will Snyder's Tigers remain in the thick of the fight for the District 3-AAA football crown?

That question will be answered at 7:30 tonight at Colorado City against the dangerous Wolves.

The last time the Tigers took off the Wolves on their home field, they were upset 20-14. Colorado City has an 18-13-3 edge in the series.

The Tigers again are the favorites this season. They are 2-1 in district and 2-3-1 for the season while the Wolves are 0-2-1 in district and 1-4-1 for the campaign. Snyder has scored 11 points against 120 for the opposition while Colorado City has tallied only 41 points while yielding 93. However, five of the six opponents of Colorado City are highly-regarded football teams.

Coach Weldon Brevard of Colorado City and Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges of Snyder are both in their first year at their respective posts.

Tonight's game pits the Wolves' slot I attack against Snyder's Winged-T and I. The hosts will have three veterans in the starting backfield. They are quarterback Dewain Nix, 145-pound senior; fullback Larry Dearen, 165-pound senior; and, slot back Wayne Banks, 160-pound senior. Tailback Melvin Jackson, a 150-pound junior, is a letterman.

Another senior, David Matthews, will back up Nix at quarterback. He weighs 196 pounds. When Matthews is in the game, Nix switches to a running back role.

Guiding Snyder's attack will be veteran Butch Buchanan, a 175-pound senior, who is a capable passer. At fullback will be Mike Glasscock, 202-pound senior, who doubles as a linebacker. Jimmy Don Dyess, 180-pound junior, will be at halfback. The fourth man in the backfield is Sammie Harrison, a 145-pound senior. Glasscock, Dyess and Harrison all saw limited duty on offense last season.

Defensively, the Tiges employ an Oklahoma 5 alignment while the Wolves will be in a wide split 6.

Scott Hudson, 210-pound senior tackle, Rickey Parks, 1975-pound senior tackle, and Tim Stansell, 198-pound junior linebacker, will spark the Colorado City defense.

The Tiger defense is led by Mike Line, 208-pound senior tackle; Sandy Land, 251-pound senior tackle, and Albert Hernandez, 210-pound senior middle guard.

Tonight's teams are about equal in the number of returning lettermen, but Colorado City has more first team experience. The Tigers have a little more depth.

Past records mean nothing when these two teams tangle, and tonight's clash could be as exciting as any in the 47-year rivalry.

GAME CAPTAINS — Joe Mark Adams (left), 176 - pound senior defensive end, and Jackie Murray, 186 - pound senior offensive end, will be the game captains for the Snyder Tigers tonight when they tangle with the Colorado City Wolves. Kickoff is on tap for 7:30 p.m. in Wolf Stadium.

Montana State Is Censured

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Montana State University has been reprimanded and censured for violating financial aid to athletes rules.

The action was taken Thursday by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Walter S. Brown of the NCAA's Committee on Infractions said that in September 1970 Montana State University's head football coach "presented a $10 cash award to an athlete for his outstanding performance" in the school's football game on Sept. 26, 1970.

Brown also said financial aid awarded to an athlete "was granted in the amount of room and board for approximately five weeks during the spring semester of the 1969-70 academic year."

The school cooperated fully during the NCAA investigation, Brown said.

Nebraska, Buff Game On Tube

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska and Oklahoma, both undefeated, ranked No. 1 and 2 in college football and bolting headlong for a Thanksgiving Day showdown, are watchful their opponents between now and then don't spoil the contest which could decide the national championship.

Nebraska, 1970's national top team, plays Colorado Saturday in a nationally televised (ABC-TV) game. The Cornhuskers' 7-0 record is impressive but if it were not for a 45-17 loss to Oklahoma, The Buffaloes would have the same mark.

Jerry Tagge Heads the Nebraska offense which leads the Big Eight in total offense while the defense has given up just 5.7 points per game. Flanker Johnny Rodgers has scored 11 touchdowns for the Huskers and averaged 16 yards on every reception.

Colorado, ranked ninth, has two top signal callers in sophs Ken Johnson and Joe Duenas. Johnson is a top passer while Duenas is a running and option threat. Kickoff time is 1:50 p.m., EDT.

Oklahoma's offense grinds out yardage by the hundreds from the Wishbone-T as run by quarterback Jack Mildren, with backs Greg Pruitt and Joe Wylie. The Sooners, 6-0, face Iowa State, which also boasts a very respectable 5-1 mark for the season. The Cyclones appear to have the best chance of stopping the championship festivities on Thanksgiving by dumping Oklahoma.

Pruitt has rushed for a 12.1 average in the six games and a 185.5 yards per game average. He gained 294 yards last week against Kansas State breaking Gayle Sayers' Big Eight record. Oklahoma also claimed an NCAA record with 711 yards rushing in its 75-28 victory.

OU Coach Chuck Fairbanks expects the Cyclones to stay mainly on the ground but says he respects their passing ability. There is no change expected in the sooners' attack—it's all overland.

In other games involving Top Ten teams, Michigan, No. 3, hosts Indiana; fourth-ranked Alabama plays Mississippi State at Jackson, Miss. in a night game; Florida plays No. 5 Auburn; Penn State, No. 6, plays West Virginia; Georgia, ranked seventh, is at South Carolina for a night game; Arkansas, No. 8, hosts Texas A&M at Little Rock at night; and 10th-ranked Ohio State visits Minnesota.

The New York Rangers have qualified for the Stanley Cup playoffs in each of the last five seasons.

Bengals Blast LakeView 52-6

Scoring in every period, the Snyder junior varsity Bengals thrashed Lake View 52-6 here Thursday night.

The Bengals drove 50 yards on their first possession with Hubert Crayton getting the touchdown on an eight yard end sweep. Tim Jones passed to Steve Grimmett on the conversion play, but a penalty wipped out the two points and the next try failed.

On their next possession, the Bengals benefitted from a 49 yard touchdown run around left end by Crayton. Jones swept left end for the two extra points.

V. T. Roberson tallied on an 18 yard run late in the period. Mickey Gonzales' kick for extra point was low.

Tommy Welsh sprinted 32 yards over left tackle early in the third quarter as the count soared to 26-0. The TD followed a fumble recovery. A pass for bonus points failed to click.

With 3:10 remaining in the period, Jones completed a 20 yard touchdown pass to Steve Grimmett, who made the reception behind the safety up the middle. Gonzales' kick missed. The drive covered 69 yards and required nine plays. Big Gainer in the march was a 24 yard burst over left tackle by Welsh.

With 2:55 remaining in the half, Widgeon Emerson intercepted a pass and returned it 40 yards for a touchdown. Gonzales' kick missed, leaving the halftime advantage at 38-0.

The reserves took over in the second half and they drove 62 yards in nine plays. Emerson completed a 24 yard touchdown pass to Larry Mosier to cap the drive. Emerson passed to Layne Collins for two bonus points, hiking the margin to 46-0.

Lake View scored on a 27 yard left end sweep on its first possession in the fourth quarter. The TD capped a 5-play, 75-yard drive.

The Bengals took the kickoff and marched 67 yards in 12 plays with Robertson getting the touchdown on a 2 yard run over left tackle. A pass for extra points missed, leaving the final 52-6 advantage.

The Bengal line did an excellent job of blocking. The reserves played the entire second half.

The visitors tallied first with Lee completing an 11-yard touchdown pass to Childers in the third quarter. It was set up by an interception.

Travis tied it up late in the same period on a 32-yard pass and run from Tim Flynn to Gary Neal. Phil Robinson's kick for extra point was good, but a penalty nullified the play, and the second attempt failed.

Sharp's Offer To Martin Is Reported

DALLAS (AP) — Frank W. Sharp, the convicted Houston promoter, once offered Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford a deal for buying a big block of stock in National Bankers Life Insurance Co., the Dallas News reported today.

The newspaper added in a copyrighted story from its Austin bureau that Martin said he turned down the offer, involving "several hundred thousand dollars."

Martin was quoted as saying he could not afford to enter into the transaction and also feared it might not result in profit.

Sharp made the offer, according to the account by Sam Kinch Jr. of the Dallas News staff, about the same time the Houston financier and Ling & Co. of Dallas were trying to sell a sizeable quantity of NBL shares which later figured in the Texas stock scandal.

Around this time the market price of NBL stock reached its peak. During the same period, it has been disclosed in court proceedings, Sharp tried to sell a group of astronauts in Houston NBL shares valued at nearly $750,000.

Martin, as attorney general, two and one-half years earlier wrote a legal opinion which in effect enabled Sharp to increase the capitalization of his non-defunct Sharpstown State Bank by 2,200 per cent, the News said.

It added that the increased capital made it possible for Sharp to engage in loan and securities operations which caused the Securities and Exchange Commission to level charges of stock fraud in a civil suit heard earlier this year.

The newspaper said it was told that Sharp proposed to put as much as 50,000 shares of the insurance company stock, valued at about $1 million, in trust for Martin until the attorney general could pay for it.

However, Martin was not offered a bank loan to make the purchase as were other state officials, the News said.

Testimony taken by the SEC has established that loans from the Sharpstown bank enabled Gov. Preston Smith, former state Democratic Chairman Elmer Baum, House Speaker Gus Mutscher and Reps. W. S. Heatly and Tommy Shannon to turn quick profits in smaller NBL stock deals.

The Dallas newspaper gave these further details:

John Osorio, formerly NBL president while Sharp controlled the company, told about the proposed stock sale to Martin during a 10-minute talk in chambers with U.S. District Court Judge Sarah TM Hughes and SEC lawyer Robert Watson.

Osorio interrupted his testimony while the stock fraud suit was being tried to request the private conference after Watson asked him to whom Sharp had sought to sell a particularly large block of NBL stock.

Law Students Advise Convicts

FOLSOM, Calif. (AP) — With experience as their only reward, a group of students is providing free legal advice to convicts in Folsom Prison.

"A lot of prisoners just want to talk," says Steve Parshall, 25, one of 20 McGeorge School of Law students who each spend one day a month at the maximum-security prison. "Others want us to file writs and civil suits. Some just want general legal advice."

"If there's no help, you just drag along and hope," says Larry Santifer, 30, an inmate who hopes the legal advice program may help free him on parole by 1974. "Here there is some daylight."

Parshall has met once with Santifer, listening to how he has spent most of his adult life in prison and asking dozens of questions.

Santifer said he was jailed on a bad check conviction in his native Arkansas. He was released, then in 1968 was extradited from California to Arkansas on charges of armed robbery and assault with intent to kill.

He later escaped, returned to California, was convicted of an armed robbery in California and was sentenced to Folsom for five years to life.

Now he's due for parole in 1974—but not freedom. Santifer is to be released so he can return to Arkansas to face four consecutive sentences totaling 108 years. He wants to stay in California—even if it means staying in prison.

"His question is whether Arkansas has lost jurisdiction over him," says Parsall, who is digging through lawbooks and discussing the case with other students and teachers at his Sacramento school. Then he'll write Santifer with the results of his study and any recommendations.

Next month the third Saturday in each month—Parshall and his classmates will return to Folsom for another round of face-to-face meetings with other inmates who want advice. Parshall says more than 100 men are on the waiting list.

"We research the legal problem and give them an opinion," says Kenneth Wells, Sacramento County public defender who runs the program. "The inmates use it whatever way they can."

Chicano Studies Are Approved

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Twin Cities Campus Assembly has approved a proposal for a department of Chicano studies at the University of Minnesota.

The assembly, chaired by University President Malcolm Moos, passed the proposal Thursday by five votes on a roll call.

Francisco Rosales, information officer for the Latin Liberation Front, said Thursday the Chicanos wanted the university to establish a department of Chicano studies comparable to other minority group departments.

The Twin Cities Campus Assembly is made up of 60 students and 125 faculty members from the St. Paul and Minneapolis campuses of the university.

Cochran Surrenders To FBI

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — James L. Cochran, who led authorities on a week-long chase across 10 states and allegedly took 21 hostages in the process, has surrendered quietly to the FBI.

About the same time 10 FBI agents surrounded Cochran at a motel here Thursday night, authorities in Missouri announced they had found the body of Marilyn Oliver, 21, said to be an acquaintance of the fugitive. Authorities said they did not know how she had died.

The decomposed body was covered with sacks when it was discovered in an abandoned farm house near Leslie, Mo.

None of the hostages was harmed.

"He's a tough one and I'd have hated to tangle with him. He looks like he could bend an iron bar," said one FBI agent who helped take the 36-year-old Cochran into custody.

Cochran, who had registered at the motel giving his real name and St. Louis address, had wounds in the left arm and right leg that he is believed to have suffered during an earlier shootout with police.

Cochran's multistate flight began Oct. 21 following a $10,000 robbery at the Cass Federal Savings and Loan Association in St. Louis.

In the shootout that followed Cochran escaped but a companion also charged in the holdup, Paul L. Lockhart, was taken into custody. The money was recovered.

Cochran's flight took him as far west as New Mexico and as far east as Columbus, Ohio, where authorities got hot on his trail late Thursday.

Police said he apparently had forced four members of a Missouri family to drive him to Columbus, where he released them near a bus station Thursday morning.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat gave this account of how the capture came about:

Authorities said Cochran had called a girlfriend, Judy Wright of St. Louis, Thursday afternoon and said he had locked all of his guns in a car which he had abandoned at Lexington. He told her he was "feeling sick" and might be willing to give up.

FBI agents traced the call to a Lexington service station. When Cochran called Mrs. Wright again an hour later, she put the agents on the line, the newspaper said. Cochran was then traced to the motel, where he gave up after agents surrounded his windowless room.

Baptist Oppose Fed Aid To Church Institutions

HOUSTON (AP) — The Baptist General Convention of Texas is on record today as opposing federal aid to church institutions but has opened the way for two institutions to receive such assistance for expansion programs.

At its final sessions Thursday, messengers to the 1.9 million member organization reaffirmed the convention's traditional opposition to church institutions receiving federal financial aid. They then voted to relinquish control of the University of Corpus Christi and the Houston Baptist Memorial Hospital system.

A resolution renewing opposition to a U.S. constitutional prayer amendment now pending before the House of representatives also was approved at the final sessions of the 86th annual meeting.

The action on the University of Corpus Christi opened the way for the school to seek a broader based community support while becoming an independent or state-supported institution.

Similar action now can be taken by Houston Baptist Memorial while carrying out a multi-million dollar expansion program.

Both institutions also will be free to accept federal grants and name non-Baptists to their boards of trustees when the transfers become final.

The hospital transfer was approved 907 to 352 by secret ballot. The university action was approved by a standing vote.

Similar actions earlier had relinquished control of the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston and the Baylor College of Dentistry in Dallas.

A target date of Dec. 31, 1972 was established for university trustees elected by the convention to turn control of the school to a self-perpetuating board. Guidelines established to effect the transfer specify the convention will give up at least 200 acres of the present campus to the new institution but retain not less than 10 acres as a possible site for a Baptist student union or religious center.

Joe Briscoe, a Corpus Christi trustee nine years, said the 20-year-old school "badly needs wider community assistance and support."

Dr. Bob McCreary of Baytown said the action could lead the way for the 565-student university to have an eventual enrollment of 15,000 to 20,000.

Dr. B.H. Bilderback of Waco objected saying the action conflicts with a nine-point urban ministry program adopted Wednesday.

"I can't see how we can vote for urban emphasis and then give away our institutions one by one," he said.

Houston Memorial Baptist, established 64 years ago, has its main hospital in the downtown area with satellite units in suburban areas. A $40 million first phase of the major expansion program includes construction of a new main unit on a 38-acre tract adjacent to the Houston Baptist College in southwest Houston.

Messengers gave voice approval to a resolution that said any amendment to the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution would weaken its strength and open the way to further revision and modification while endangering freedom of religion and religious liberty.

The convention's Christian Life Commission later submitted a report saying the proposed amendment would enable government to impose the limits of "nondenominationalism" on religious practices in any building built in whole or in part by public funds.

A federal financial assistance vote of 1,766 to 724 rejected two executive board recommendations that would have authorized Texas Baptist hospitals to apply for and accept federal capital grants and utilize federal low interest, longtime loan arrangements.

Dr. W. A. Criswell of Dallas, immediate past president of the Southern Baptist Convention, supported federal aid.

"The men who oppose aid offer no alternatives," Criswell said. "They say 'let these Baptist institutions die'".

He said if the hospitals are permitted to decline, "we shall become a dying sect. We will become a small sect without image, without prestige and without acceptance."

Dr. Bill Pinson of Fort Worth expressed opposition.

"The issue is religious liberty," he said. "This would compromise our church-state position. We should maintain our position without compromise."

The 1972 meeting of the convention will be held in Abilene Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

Texans File Suit On Redistricting

DALLAS (AP)—A three-judge federal court has been asked to hold the 1971 legislature's congressional redistricting plan unconstitutional on grounds it violates the "one man, one vote rule."

Two Dallasites, a Wichita Falls resident, a citizen of Iowa Park, three Lubbock residents and three El Pasoans filed the suit. One of their lawyers said the 10 were just "concerned citizens" and he had never thought to ask what they had in common, such as political affiliations.

The group said in their petition that the new congressional districts "are not as compact, contiguous and as nearly equal in population as is practicable."

According to the petition, the districts "were created as a result of political expediencey, to perpetuate in office those representatives who political philosophy coincided with that of the dominant forces in the state legislature, to create 'safe seats' for those of a like mind to provide a political denouncement for past political favors or grievances, to neutralize the votes of ethnic or economic blocs, and with only minimal regard to the constitutional mandate of 'one man, one vote.'"

The suit says the largest district has 19,275 people more than the smallest, or a 4.1 per cent difference.

"The vote of a voter in the 13th District (Panhandle) is worth only 96 per cent of the vote of a voter in the 15th District (Lower Rio Grande Valley)," the petiton says.

The court was asked to declare the plan unconstitutional and issue an order forbidding secretary of state Bob Bullock to conduct congressional elections in the new districts. The plaintiffs also asked the court to command the legislature to enact a new set of district "which meet the requirements of the federal constitution."

Should the legislature fail to do so, the plaintiffs submitted a plan of their own for the court to enact. They said their plan had a population difference of only 696 people between the largest and smallest districts, or less than one-tenth of one per cent.

Plaintiffs are Dan Weiser and John L. Edwards of Dallas; Donald Coleman, John Fletcher and Benjamin Newcombe of Lubbock; Hugh Elliott of Wichita Falls; John R. Karr, Joyce V. Karr and Marvin Zimet of El Paso; and Norma Palmer of Iowa Park.

Rap Moved

NEW YORK (AP) — H. Rap Brown, recovering from bullet wounds suffered in a police shootout, has been shifted to the prison ward of Bellevue Hospital.

Brown was shifted Thursday from Roosevelt Hospital where he had been under treatment since seized earlier this month with three other men in an attempted bar holdup.

Brown was arraigned on charges of attempted robbery, attempted murder, and possession of a dangerous weapon. He is held in lieu of $250,000 bail.

Although identified through fingerprints as Brown, the prisoner claims to be Roy. Williams.

Brown dropped out of sight in March 1970 after two associates were killed when their car blew up in BelAir, Md.

Bush Reveals Apologies

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Ambassador George Bush said Thursday night the United States has received "some apologies" from other nations about the behavior of their delegates during the vote to admit Mainland China to the United Nations.

But Bush declined to name the countries which sent apologies.

Bush, attending a White House dinner for President Tito of Yugoslavia, told reporters he thought the atmosphere after the U.N. vote Monday night was not as wildly exhuberant as some reports indicated.

However, Bush said he thought the over-all mood of the U.N. discussion, which resulted in the expulsion of Taiwan and the seating of Mainland China, was "clearly hostile to the United Sates."

"Everytime I would speak, for instance, there were some hisses and boos," said Bush.

The White House said Wednesday that the "shocking demonstration and undisguised glee" shown by some U.N. delegates at the defeat of the U.S. position in seating both Taiwan and Red China could have a detrimental effect on support for the world body and on foreign aid to those countries.

But Bush said the U.N. decision to throw out Taiwan is "past history." He said he looked ahead to what he called the "exciting transition" when mainland China becomes a U.N. member.

"We wanted them in," said Bush. "We just didn't want the other guy kicked out."

Ashes Verified

LEBANON, Ore. (AP) — Amy Bressler has received a check for $390 from the Treasury Department—all but $20 of the cash she says she accidentally burned in the fireplace of her parents' home.

Miss Bresler earned $410 as a lifeguard instructor last summer, and last August she said she mistakenly threw her savings into the fireplace along with trash. Later, she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bresler, discovered the remains of the currency.

They sent the ashes to Washington with an affidavit saying what happened. Treasury Department investigators were able to verify the remains of $390 and sent her a check for that amount, Miss Bresler said.
