Richard Souter

... New assistant superintendent for business for HISD

Souter looking forward to work

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Richard Souter says it "is kind of scary to follow Larry Wartes," but Souter is excited about moving to Hereford to become the new assistant superintendent for business beginning June 6.

Souter is moving to Hereford after serving as the superintendent at Alpine for the past five years. He has also served as superintendent at Whiteface, Anson and Coahoma, was a principal at Whiteface and Silvertown, and taught and coached for 11 years at Tulia and Post. He is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University, and received his administrator's certification from Texas Tech University. Moving with him is his daughter, Laynie, who will be a junior next school year.

"I feel comfortable coming here," Souter said Thursday. "I've met many of the administrative people here and this is just a top-notch situation. I know you have some tremendous kids here, and to me the kids will always be the number one thing."

"One thing I will always look at when we do anything is to see all of the alternatives available but never sacrifice what is best for the kids in the district. You can always work things out."

One of the first things Souter will face is the 1988-89 budget, which needs to be ready in two months and will go into effect Sept. 1.

"The budget is the first big challenge for Richard," said Superintendent Charles Greenawalt. "That is one reason why we were so interested in him, because of his financial abilities and knowledge of finances and the law. We talked to a lot of people about Richard and one thing everyone said about him was that he was able to stretch a dollar further than anyone else."

"We're looking forward to having Richard here. Everyone stressed some really good things about him besides his school work—he's a deacon in the Baptist church, he's active in Lions Club and other areas where he lives, and those are also very important. Everyone has talked about how good a man he is."

"This really looks like a good situation," Souter said. With my experience I feel I know what to look for, and I want to be on the winning team. I feel like the schools set the tone for the town—you can drive through and look around and schools can leave a good impression or a negative impression. I've done more than just look on the outside, and I am just excited to be able to work here and work with the people here."

EDSC seeks extension

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

The Economic Development Strategy Council has "a 90 percent chance" of being allowed to extend its life for another two months to complete its work on a Strategic Plan for Economic Development and use more expertise to boost Hereford and Deaf Smith County farther along the ED road.

"We will have $67,488 left in the bank on May 31," said EDSC executive director Phillip Niedzielski-Eichner. "We have a lot of work done, but there is still much to be done. My big concern is that we will leave some people behind if we are forced to stop on May 31. It would be valuable to have more time."

EDSC gets its funding through the state's Nuclear Waste Programs Office, which receives its funds from the Department of Energy. The state office will be phased out on August 31, and Eichner said he felt there was "a 90 percent chance that we will be allowed to work through July."

If the extension is granted, the EDSC would be able to more fully utilize work by the National Development Council and obtain a "Target Industry Analysis" that could be prepared by Southwestern Public Service Company.

"The NDC is a nationally recognized non-profit organization whose mission is to help local government in their economic development efforts," Eichner said, "particularly as it relates to the financing of potential investment opportunities."

An NDC representative visited in Hereford last week and will submit a proposal on what the NDC could do in Hereford and Deaf Smith County in "the very near future," Eichner said. "She expressed considerable interest in helping the community at this important time. She impressed those with whom she met with her knowledge of sophisticated approaches to financing potential projects, particularly making use of public dollars to leverage private dollars."

In a brochure NDC says, "There are all kinds of investment bankers. But there is only one National Development Council—an economic development investment banker for the public sector." The brochure gives a general explanation of how NDC helps mix private and public funds, identifies available sources, and helps find creative solutions for development needs, and fine-tunes development programs.

SPS began its Target Industry Analysis program in 1987 to identify industries which may gain an advantage by relocating in the SPS service area, which includes the Texas Panhandle and parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and eastern New Mexico.

"SPS has offered the opportunity to local communities to use this system in their industrial recruitment efforts," Eichner explained. "Deaf Smith County can use the system to identify other targeted industries. Particularly relevant would be food processing types (of industries for Hereford and Deaf Smith County). It would help the community identify food processing industries as well as plastic, hardware and other industries."

The extension would also allow a final draft of the SPED to be thoroughly reviewed; pave the way for a trip to Austin by community representatives to present the SPED to state officials for a possible commitment of state funding for certain needs; and other needed work.

The committee also reviewed a preliminary draft of the "core contents" of the SPED.

"What we have is a compilation of ideas from suggestions of the community," Eichner said. "It may not be any surprise, but I feel this community has as much consensus as any community will ever have. We have input from over 325 people and the community survey that shows we want to build on agriculture in an innovative way, and diversify if it is compatible with agriculture."

"There is also a strong feeling that we want to improve the quality of life, and we recognize that if we don't want to improve the quality of life there is no need for economic development."

The major goals identified include diversifying the agricultural economic base; assisting current

Committee develops ED board for program

The Hereford Independent School District, the City of Hereford, and Deaf Smith County will be presented with a formal structure for funding an economic development program for Hereford and Deaf Smith County with the unanimous blessing and support of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, the Economic Development Strategy Council learned Thursday night.

The formal plan was developed by an ad hoc committee, made up of officials from those three governmental entities, the chamber and other community leaders, which has met several times in the past two months to develop a board that would oversee industrial development activities while not pushing the Chamber out of the development business.

The proposal would allow each of the participating governments and the chamber to appoint a board member. Those four board members would appoint three other persons, hire the staff it needs, and obtain office space and other needs.

Funding for the program would be split three ways: the proposal would have the city and the county each contributing 40 percent, while the Hereford school district would contribute 20 percent. Projections indicate the city and county would each contribute about $48,000, and the school district would kick in $24,000.

"The city, county and school district, if they see fit, would commit to a three-to-five-year program for continuity of the effort," said Phillip Niedzielski-Eichner, EDSC executive director. "There has been a strong feeling that if we commit public dollars then we need to be accountable for those tax dollars. This mechanism will allow for accountability."

"We are still pulling together criteria so we can measure the effectiveness of the efforts annually. I think we all know that economic development is not always something you can measure in 6-8 months. Sometimes it takes 2-3 years, but we can measure the effectiveness of our efforts annually. If we are doing something right, we will be able to know it. If we are doing something wrong, then you should be able to identify it and know what steps to take."

"The chamber called a board meeting today (Thursday) and voted unanimously to support this in the full spirit of cooperation," said Larry Malamen, president of the chamber. "The chamber is very much in favor of this. We also know that if this works it will take the full, cooperative effort of everyone."

"It should show the community how good this is with all three entities willing to do this," said County Judge Tom Simons, who was worried about selling points for taxpayers who might balk at expenditures that may not show an immediate return.

"We just have to realize that we are going to improve ourselves with economic development," said Hereford Mayor Wes Fisher. The city has already placed $50,000 in a contingency fund for development.

U.S., USSR work out issues

GENEVA (AP) — In high-level pre-summit talks, the United States and Soviet Union said they settled anti-cheating issues that have blocked Senate debate on ratifying a treaty to scrap intermediate-range nuclear missiles.

Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze, summing up two days of talks with Secretary of State George P. Shultz, said Thursday that both sides acted "in the spirit of good will" to resolve the issues.

Shultz called the settlement "absolutely satisfactory." He added, "What the Senate does is up to the Senate."

Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., the Senate majority leader, insisted Thursday he will schedule debate on the accord only after it is examined in committee.

But some senators of both parties objected, saying immediate action is needed so President Reagan can take a ratified treaty to Moscow on May 29 for his summit with Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

The verification document signed Thursday seeks to end disputes over where U.S. inspectors of Soviet missile sites will be able to go and what they can look at.

"Occasionally, they'll have an argument," Shultz said of the technicians who will carry out the agreement to destroy 683 Soviet missiles and 364 U.S. missiles with a range of 315 miles to 3,125 miles. "That's life."

Another document signed Thursday guarantees that the treaty signed by Reagan and Gorbachev in Washington last Dec. 8 bans any futuristic intermediate-range weapons either country might develop.

Speaking to a news conference, Shevardnadze said the issues were "very serious problems that required political decisions, and such solutions were found."

Shultz flies to Brussels today to brief NATO on the outcome of the talks, while Shevardnadze is to brief Warsaw Pact foreign ministers in Berlin.

On Monday, the Senate postponed indefinitely debate on the treaty after some Senators accused Moscow of leaving loopholes for cheating or of backtracking on earlier promises.

Shultz told a news conference Thursday that the U.S.-Soviet differences arose from the unprecedented technique of on-site in-

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says some folks are so selfishly constipated, they can't pass a kind word.

Almost every time Congress sets out to trim the budget, the knife slips and trims the taxpayers.

Mothers find the silver lining in even dark clouds. One woman was slightly upset about the grades of her fourth-grade son. She felt a lot better after reading an essay written concerning his three prime wishes:

"First, I wish that there would not be any more wars so no one will get hurt. Second, that everyone believed in God and there will not be any more fights. Third, I wish there was no more guns so no one will get shot." Sounds like Mom had done something right again.

It's important to profit from your experience, but it's even more important to recover from it.

Texas Tech exes and friends got together here Tuesday for a golf tourney and dinner, and it was enjoyable to visit with the Raider coaches. Good things are happening in the athletic program at Tech. Maybe the only thing lacking is strong alumni support like that shown by Texas A&M exes.

Count me among those who tell Aggie jokes, but probably one reason we delight in putting down the Aggies is that we're envious of the tremendous spirit of A&M exes. Several Aggies attended the Raider dinner here Tuesday night because they're interested in the area SWC university.

Local Roundup

Slight chance of rain

Tonight will be clear and warm, with a low near 60. Winds will be light and variable.

Saturday will be fair with a less than 20 percent chance of isolated afternoon thunderstorms. The high will be near 90, with southwest winds 5 to 15 mph.

Beef vote draws 412

The beef referendum here Tuesday drew 412 voters but results of voting in Deaf Smith County and across the nation won't be tallied until May 24.

The referendum will decide the fate of the $1-per-head checkoff program now being used to promote more beef consumption. Anyone who owned cattle between Oct. 1, 1986 (the start of the checkoff program) and March 23, 1988 was eligible to vote.

Ted Peabody, of the local ASCS office, said votes in the referendum will be counted at ASCS offices on May 24. "It will probably be about a week after that before the results are released across the nation."

Parents invited to preview

Senior parents who will not be working at the senior prom Saturday night are invited to a special open house from 6:30-8 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center.

Parents are invited to come by early to view the decorations. Prom sponsors ask that any children please be accompanied at all times by their parents.

TCTA to sponsor tea

The Hereford Classroom Teachers Association will sponsor a retirement tea Monday from 4-5 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center ballroom.

The tea will honor all retiring teachers in the Hereford school system, and everyone is invited to the tea.

'Trifles' game available

The 'Trifles' trivia game, which includes local and area trivia, is now available in Hereford.

The game, priced at $16, is available at Sirion Stockade, The Atrium, Caryn's, the Chamber of Commerce, and at the YMCA.

More information on bust

In the Thursday arrest of Armando Salazar in which county officials confiscated a pound of marijuana, sheriff's Deputy Jimmy Hudgens said today that the arrest was made after officials followed Lionel Gonzalez, 34, to Salazar's trailer house.

Hudgens said that county deputies knew Gonzalez was buying marijuana from Salazar, and arrested Gonzalez Wednesday on charges of possession of marijuana under 2 ounces after Gonzalez exited Salazar's trailer house on north Progressive Road.

Officials then received a warrant for Salazar's arrest. Salazar is still in the Deaf Smith County Jail with bond set at $10,000.

Congress mad over dropping charges on Panama's leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration's bid to drop drug smuggling indictments against Panamanian strongman Manuel Antonio Noriega is drawing expressions of outrage from the two Democratic presidential candidates, members of Congress and law enforcement officials.

At issue are the terms under which Noriega would surrender his post as commander of Panama's Defense Forces as part of what the administration hopes will be a transition to an elected civilian government next year.

White House spokesman Martin Fitzwater acknowledged Thursday that U.S. officials were engaged in "plea bargaining" with Noriega, but he stopped short of saying that dismissal of the indictments was under negotiation.

A top State Department official, Michael Kozak, has been engaged in secret negotiations with Noriega in Panama, and administration sources said Wednesday the military chief-tain was told that if he left Panama for a year, perhaps in August, the indictments would be dropped.

The State Department apparently believes that dismissal of the indictments is the only way to induce Noriega's departure, but the Justice Department sees that concession as too high a price to pay.

Noriega has shown extraordinary staying power, surviving sustained widespread public protests and an economic collapse at home as well as sustained U.S. diplomatic and economic pressure.

One State Department official, insisting on anonymity, attributed the news leaks of the offer to Justice Department officials attempting to kill the proposal by making it public.

Democratic presidential candidates Michael Dukakis and Jesse Jackson both spoke out against withdrawing the indictments.

"I don't think you drop indictments against drug pushers and people suspected of murder," Dukakis said.

Said Jackson: "They want to exonerate him (Noriega) altogether. It's not just Noriega. Others are dealing in drugs. We can't indict them one day and exonerate them the next day. That is no policy at all."

But White House Chief of Staff Howard Baker defended the concept of a deal to win Noriega's removal, calling it "the most fruitful and productive plea bargain."

Shultz said Glitman and National Security Adviser Lt. Gen. Colin Powell would fly to Washington and report to the Senate today.

"I think it will be well-received," Shultz said.

School board President John Fuston said, "One selling point is that we need economic development to improve our education. If we grow, and especially if we expand our tax base, it will improve our schools."

The city, at its meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hereford City Hall, will be presented with the plan. The county will look at the proposal at its May 23 meeting, and the school board will consider it at its June 14 board meeting.

The proposal also calls for an annual performance report by the new entity, providing an evaluation against previously established activity and performance measures. The ad hoc committee agreed that a 3- to 5-year commitment should be considered for the program. Any special funding for the board would be generated by the chamber from the private sector.

To save operating costs, the committee suggested that office space might be utilized at city hall. The group also felt that the relationship with the chamber of commerce should be well defined, since the chamber has had a primary role in industrial development for many years.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

All of the 1988 seniors and their parents will be honored this Sunday during the morning worship at 9:30. Ted Taylor will be speaking. Also, an announcement will be made of the "Extra Mile" Award recipients given to the outstanding seniors who have provided leadership and spiritual direction. The winners will receive scholarships of $300, $200 and $100.

As this is Taylor's final Sunday in Hereford, Kevin and Cathy Bunch will be serving as interim youth directors. Taylor will be moving to Chandler, Ariz.

Sunday night at 6 p.m. the church will be celebrating 10 years of youth ministry with a multimedia slide show called "The Best of 10." This will be a salute to the hundreds of lives that have been touched by the Good Guys Youth Ministries, a farewell to Ted, and a launching of a new area of ministry. All ex's of the youth program and their parents are urged to attend.

Jim Haile and Susie Merrick will be presented in concert at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 20, at the church. There will be no charge but an offering will be taken for the Nazarene Christian Academy.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to hear the handbell music presentation during morning worship at 11.

The First Baptist Church of Amarillo will celebrate its centennial birthday party from 12:30-4 p.m. Saturday.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Scripture For Lunch Bunch meets each Wednesday at noon at the church for a time of informal fellowship and to study the scripture for each Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend. This week's study is Acts 2:1-21.

The youth group will meet at 5 p.m. Sunday for a potluck supper at the church. Families are invited.

The Ephesians study group of the Women's Circle Bible Studies will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Thursday at 7 p.m., the Holy Spirit study will discuss chapters 5-7.

Susie Merrick and Jim Haile will be presented in concert at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Church of the Nazarene.

At 5 p.m. Sunday at the church, all church members and friends are invited to a pot luck fellowship sponsored by the deacons. Deacon Nisar Chand will tell of his journey that brought him from Pakistan. Families with names A-K are asked to bring salads and vegetables and those with names L-Z, please bring desserts.

The "Helping Hands" box has been placed in the small fellowship hall. This project, sponsored by the women of the church, will help needy elderly people in the community. A list of suggested articles to donate is on the box.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Children's Day will be observed in First United Methodist Church Sunday morning, and younger members of the church will have major roles in the worship service beginning at 10:55 a.m.

"Growing in Faith" in the theme of the annual service. Rev. Steve McElroy will give a special sermon for the children. All the children's choirs will sing, and together with all children in the audience will close the hour with the song, I Am The Church.

Jayne Moore and Timmy Wheeler will act as lay liturgists. Other youth serving as ushers will be Temple Abney, Eric Barnes, Jeffrey Carlson and Chadd Jackson, while greeters will be Cathy Armor, Cassie and Taylor Brooks, Jennifer LeGate, Ashley Hardt, Carrie McElroy, Jill Ruland and Wendy Warrick.

Children in Sunday School have designed bulletin covers, and one has been selected for the day's church bulletin. The others will be on display. During Sunday School class time this Sunday the children will decorate a cross with fresh flowers to be displayed. Each child is being asked what church means to him, and the recorded responses will be played.

The children's coordinator, Dee Anne Trotter, and Sunday School superintendent Helen Langley are in charge of arrangements for the day.

Lecithin supplements are not necessary

COLLEGE STATION — Lecithin is a common fatlike substance which is now being promoted as a cure-all for everything from heart disease and Alzheimer's to kidney disorders and high cholesterol.

"Nobody sets out to eat lecithin," says nutritionist Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten. "It's found naturally in eggs, liver, peanuts, soybeans and many other foods."

Lecithin is also a familiar term on food labels, she says, since it's added to ice cream, cooking oil sprays, margarine, chocolate and other foods as an emulsifier.

Sweeten, who is a nutrition specialist with Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service, says that the health claims being made for lecithin are based on the fact that it contains choline.

According to the nutritionist, a lack of choline has been implicated in Alzheimer's disease because large doses of it may, in some circumstances, increase levels of chemicals that help control nerve impulses.

However, researchers have found that choline treatment for Alzheimer's victims produces only very small improvements in memory, if any. Choline or lecithin supplements have not been shown to protect healthy people against memory disorders either.

"Choline appears to be an essential nutrient for some animals, but not for humans, since the body can manufacture sufficient choline from protein," she explains.

Sweeten notes that studies of lecithin's effect on blood cholesterol in humans have been inconclusive and there is no scientific evidence for many of the other claims made about it.

"The type of lecithin commonly sold in pill or granule form in health food stores usually contains little choline and contains only a small percentage of real lecithin," she says.

"Taking large doses of these supplements has not been shown to be hazardous, but they can produce stomach distress, sweating and loss of appetite," adds the nutritionist.

With 112-108 victory at Denver

Mavericks even series with Nuggets, 1-1

By JOHN MOSSMAN

AP Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — The Dallas Mavericks, having cracked the Denver Nuggets' homecourt invincibility, now will put their own perfect record on the line as the even-up NBA playoff series shifts to Reunion Arena.

The Mavericks squared the best-of-seven Western Conference semifinals at one game apiece with a 112-108 victory Thursday night at Denver's McNichols Arena, thus accomplishing what they never achieved in three regular-season meetings. Denver won all three of its home games against the Mavericks in the regular season.

The Nuggets now will be looking to return the favor after going 0-3 in Dallas this season.

Games 3 and 4 will be played in Dallas Saturday afternoon and Sunday night.

"They (the Mavericks) did what they needed to do, which was come up here and win one game," Denver Coach Doug Moe said. "We have to do the same down there."

Dallas guard Rolando Blackman, regaining his shooting eye, scored 31 points, including 15 in the final quarter to thwart several Denver comeback attempts. Roy Tarpley added 27 points and 12 rebounds.

"Our guys played hard, which is the only way to beat a team as tenacious as Denver," Dallas Coach

John MacLeod said. "And we did a better job defensively."

That defense contributed to Denver's poor shooting. After hitting 58 percent from the floor in the first quarter, the Nuggets went 36 percent over the final three periods to finish at 41 percent. Dallas hit 55 percent.

"Our offense was terrible," Moe said. "Alex (English) was off (8 for 21). He just couldn't hit anything. We really didn't have anybody who was consistently putting the ball in the basket. We did a good job of hanging in there, but we were playing lousy."

Blackman, who had hit just 38 percent in five previous playoff games, was 13 of 23 Thursday night.

"My teammates set up screens for me and gave me the ball in scoring situations," Blackman said.

Tarpley, the Mavericks' valuable sixth man, said his team "wanted to be more aggressive and the referees let us play that way. We never stopped believing we could win up here."

After a closely contested first half, Dallas ran off 10 straight points midway through the third quarter. Blackman and Derek Harper had four apiece during the run, which produced a 71-65 lead with 4:18 left in the quarter.

Tarpley's baseline jumper, which just beat the 24-second shot clock, padded the margin to nine points, 78-69, late in the quarter.

The Nuggets drew within one point on Mike Evans' 3-point play barely a minute into the final quarter, but Blackman then ignited an 11-2 Dallas flurry for a 91-81 advantage. Two minutes later, Evans' 3-point basket cut the deficit to two points, but James Donaldson and Blackman immediately countered with baskets, and the Nuggets could get no closer than four points after that.

Lafayette Lever, who scored 10 points in the final four minutes, and English had 22 points each for Denver, and Danny Schayes had 20.

"We shot the ball so poorly it was amazing we were even in the game," Schayes said. "This is not a life-or-death situation. We just have to go down to Dallas and win at least one."

In the night's other game, Chicago beat Detroit 105-95, evening that series at 1-1.

The two games tonight have the Los Angeles Lakers at Utah and Atlanta at Boston. The Lakers-Jazz series is tied 1-1, while Boston took a 1-0 lead in its series with a 110-101 victory over Atlanta Wednesday night.

Bulls 105, Pistons 95. Maybe it wasn't so much the homecoming for Sam Vincent as it was: Three's the charm.

Vincent scored a career-high 31 points Thursday night, complimenting the 36 points of Michael Jordan and leading the Chicago Bulls to a 105-95 victory over the Detroit Pistons in their NBA Eastern Conference semifinal series at the Pontiac Silverdome.

The victory sent the best-of-seven series back to Chicago for Games 3 and 4 Saturday and Sunday, tied at one game apiece.

Vincent started the season with the Boston Celtics, was traded to Seattle and finally Chicago.

Vincent scored all but two of his points in the first half, sitting out most of the second half in foul trouble.

Ladies Day golf round held this week

Mary Shelton, Theresa Albracht, Ann Combs, and Bernice Orel were the winners in the Ladies Day competition this week in the Hereford Ladies Golf Association.

Others who participated were Pat Goforth, Martha Jones, Lois Jones, Cruz Salinas, and Yvonne Horton. The Ladies Day schedule has been changed to a 2-lady scramble format for the rest of the season, association officers said.

HHS girls in fourth place after first state golf round

The Hereford High School girls' golf team stood in fourth place after the first round Thursday of the state tournament in Austin.

The Lady Whiteface team shot a 387 for a fourth place tie. The teams ahead of Hereford were Belton, 331; Brenham, 370; and Andrews, 375.

Amy Coneway, the district first place medalist and regional second place medalist, shot an 83 for the best score among HHS team members.

The other Hereford individual scores were: Brenda Martinez, 96; Naomi Grijalva, 98; Brenda Allen, 110; and Melissa Grijalva, 112.

The top three individuals after the first round were: Barbie Blackwell, Conroe Oak Ridge, 70; Caren Phelps, Silsbee, 71; and Kim Self, Dallas Hillcrest, 77.

The state golf tournament is being played at the Jimmy Clay Golf Course.

Hereford women compete in golf tourney at Muleshoe

A team of six women from Hereford competed in the first tournament of the High Plains Golf Association on Wednesday in Muleshoe.

Pat Goforth was first in the low net standings in the first flight with a 79. In the fourth flight, Rose Marie Robinson was first in low net, 82, and the low putts, 27.

Bernice Orel was first in low gross, 103, in the fifth flight. Others from Hereford who competed were Mary Shelton, Yvonne Horton, and Theresa Albracht.

The tournament standings have Hereford in second place with four points, one point behind Farwell. The second tournament is scheduled in Olton on June 8.

Women interested in the Hereford Ladies Golf Association should contact Pat Goforth at 364-3186. Annual dues are $10 and each tournament costs $12, which includes carts, green fees and lunches.

"There should be no embarrassment whatsoever about asking about prices for a funeral service."

"When you're my age, you usually have had to make funeral arrangements for someone who is near and dear to you. And I can tell you it's never an easy thing to do."

"You have so many decisions to make... the funeral services are involved in some of them. And most of the time you really aren't prepared to make those decisions, especially if it's an unexpected loss. In fact it's best to have a pre-need plan before you require these services."

The personnel at Rix can arrange the kind of service that you feel you can afford either at time of need or by having a Pre-need Plan before the inevitable happens.

Give Rix your ideas in this instance, ask for a price list and an explanation of services, then stay within the budget you set by selecting the services you want.

Pre-planning takes much of the pressure off you at the time when death does come to a member of your family. Let our professional counselors give you the experience that comes with years of service.

For more information on Pre-need funeral plans call us or fill in the coupon printed below and we'll be glad to answer any questions you may have.

Please send me information about your Pre-need funeral plans. I think this might be the answer of how to arrange a memorial service which would be in keeping with my personal desires.

Defeat Baltimore Orioles again

Rangers win sixth straight, 2-1

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Texas Rangers hope they can spend more days at or above the .500 mark than they did last season.

The Rangers lost 10 of their first 11 last season, then played catch-up until July 27 before reaching the .500 mark at 49-49. They promptly lost the next four games and finished in the American League West basement.

This year the Rangers have already reached the break-even point at 16-16, winning their sixth straight Thursday night, 2-1 over the Baltimore Orioles.

Texas again received strong pitching from starter Jose Guzman, 4-2, and bullpen closer Mitch Williams, who went the final 1 1/3 innings to earn his seventh save.

"Last year when we got to .500 we didn't have a lot of optimism that things would continue because of the pitching," Rangers manager Bobby Valentine said.

"This year we're getting well-pitched games, we're playing good defense, and now we're hitting the ball."

Guzman said there'll be no repeat of last year's fold after hitting .500.

"That won't happen again because we're improved from last year in most areas," Guzman said. "I didn't have my best stuff tonight but I got some help."

Guzman scattered seven hits over 6 1/3 innings, middle reliever Jose Cecena came on to work out of a first-and-second two-out situation in the seventh, and Williams retired four of the final five batters.

Left-fielder Pete Incaviglia made a leaping catch against the left-field wall on Cal Ripken, leading off the ninth, to prevent an extra base hit. "Inky's catch threw a charge into me I'd never had before," Williams said. "It was just a great catch."

Baltimore's futility at the plate continued Thursday as the Orioles were 0-for-12 with runners in scoring position and left 14 on base.

"You'd think we'd get a hit every once in a while with runners on," Baltimore manager Frank Robinson said. "I can't explain it. I guess it's patience."

Curtis Wilkerson got the game-winner with an RBI single in the second, Ruben Sierra had two hits and an RBI and Pete O'Brien added a pair of hits to spoil a rare well-pitched game by the 4-29 O's.

Rookie Jose Bautista, 0-2, and reliever Dave Schmidt scattered seven Ranger hits. Bautista was making his first big league start.

"The pitching kept us in the game," Robinson said. "But we'll keep losing as long as we don't hit with men on."

The Rangers winning streak is the longest currently active in the major leagues.

Texas completed a three-game sweep of the Orioles Thursday after sweeping the New York Yankees in three games last weekend, the first back-to-back sweeps of three or more games for Texas since June, 1986.

"We've played good ball to get this far," Valentine said. "But we haven't pulled out all the stops yet. We're capable of continuing to play this well."

Guzman was only able to retire the side in order in the first but was working on a shutout until Keith Hughes hit his second homer of the season with one out in the seventh. Hughes' homer ended a Baltimore string of 17 scoreless innings.

The Rangers open a four-game series against the Kansas City Royals Friday night, Texas' first taste of American League West competition this season.

Texas moved into sole possession of second place in the AL West, 7 1/2 games behind the Oakland Athletics.

Bret Saberhagen (4-3) will start for the Royals Friday night against Ray Hayward (1-0).

Covered dish luncheon marks end of club year

Joyce Aycock served as hostess when members of Westway Home Extension Club met Tuesday in the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room for a covered dish luncheon.

Piano students to perform

The Susan Shaw Studio will present piano students in a spring recital at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Deaf Smith County Library Heritage Room. All parents and friends are welcome to attend.

Solos and duets entered at the recent Junior Music Festival will be played, plus additional repertoire learned throughout the year.

Students participating include Lyndsi Ames, Tim Burkhalter, Trevor Criner, Misty and Todd Dudley, Tracie Gilbert, Steve Holmes, Cristin Leasure, Sarah Perrin, Leslie and Lori Poarch, Heidi and Jill Ruland, Scott Shaw, Eric Sims, Taylor Sublett, Chari Suttle, Shelia and Trisha Teel, Christi Wallace, Stephanie Walls and Jill Walser.

The group will not meet again until the new club year resumes in September.

President Carolyn Evers presided at the business session when roll call was answered with "what I plan to get accomplished this summer." Also, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and members decided to sponsor Johnnie Messer as T.E.H.A. chairman.

Given special recognition were Leta Kaul, who received her 50-year certificate, and Grace Covington, who has been selected as the Deaf Smith County Library display of the month.

The Westway Home Extension Club will celebrate its 50th anniversary from 3-5 p.m. Sept. 11, at the E.B. Black House.

Maudette Smith gave a demonstration on flower arranging and listed hints for making an arrangement. She also assisted members in making one.

Welcomed as visitors were Linda Carter, Maudette Smith and Mrs. Green, Joyce Aycock's mother. Members present included Aycock, Helen Brown, Gayle Carter, Covington, Evers, Mary Dee Hoelscher and Leta Kaul.

"For those who have raised children or can look back to a foolhardy prank that, by the grace of God, didn't land you in jail, the following letter may strike a chord."

"It came from a distraught mother who signed herself, 'A Sad Parent.'"
"On Sunday, Jan. 24, my son did a stupid thing. He was present but did not participate in an act of vandalism at a high school. He will pay a big price for the rest of his life for keeping bad company."

"Since there will probably be a felony charge, he will be expelled from school and any chance of a scholarship is out the window."

"A known felon must identify himself as such on every job application. He can never work in any branch of the government. Whenever there is a crime in the community, a felon is the first person the authorities investigate."

"Please bear in mind that my son's crime was simply being there. The fact that he did not participate in the vandalism doesn't mean a thing."
"I implore every parent who reads this to share it with your children. It will take only a few minutes and it could change the course of your child's life."

woman who asked your opinion of the "new miracle weight loss pill" that flushes away the fat while you sleep and works no matter what or how much a person eats. I would like to add my voice to yours in stating that these pills are worthless.

I received a letter from a company in Tijuana, Mexico, that described a new weight-loss pill that sounded wonderful. They offered a no-questions-asked money-back guarantee if the pills didn't produce the results that were promised.

The pills were worthless and I wrote and asked for my money back. They ignored my request. I wrote again; I never heard a word from them. So, dear Ann, warn your readers again to beware of the phonies and caution them to do business only with established firms.

Please don't use my name or initials. I am ashamed of myself.—North Dakota

DEAR N.D.: Thanks for the backup. So what else is new?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A final word from this pastor-theologian about trying to find a comforting way to speak of death and heaven: Beware of oversimplified explanations. Especially to children. My experience is that youngsters deal with the realities of life and death far better than adults.

Envision the scene: A family's pet cat died. The mother, trying to comfort the sad 8-year-old, explained reassuringly that God had taken the cat.

The child's tears dried and two days passed. He then came to his mother while she was in the kitchen and asked, "Mom, what in the heck does God want with a dead cat?"—Dr. V. Pat Butler, First Presbyterian Church, Neenah, Wis.

DEAR DR. BUTLER: "...from the mouths of babes." Thanks for sharing.

Kingdom Seekers elect new officers

Maxine Coleman and Wilma Bryan were hostesses to the Kingdom Seekers Sunday School Class Tuesday at the Avenue Baptist Church.

Dora Barnett voiced the opening prayer and Coleman read a poem by Helen S. Rice entitled "More of Me." Roll call was answered with prayer requests with Erma Bain leading the special prayer time.

New officers were elected during the business session. Serving as president will be Luella Thomas; vice president, Coy Tice; secretary, Trudie Gray; assistant, Maxine Coleman; treasurer, Velma Carroll; reporter, Fannie Townsend and assistant, Wilma Bryan. Group captains are Erma Bain and Juanita Houle.

The following committees were appointed: yearbook, Rosie Wall,

Juanita Houle and Luella Thomas; and social committee, Trudie Gray and Fannie Townsend.

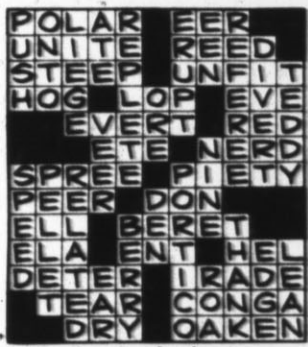

It was announced that Pauline Landers will continue teaching and will be assisted by Fannie Townsend. Program plans for another year were also discussed.

The hostesses served a salad supper and desserts to nine members present.

Yesterday's Answer

DEAR NEVADA READER: I'm printing the piece because I believe the lesson to be learned is one that cannot be repeated often enough. The mother, however, has overstated the case. The chances of the boy being convicted of a felony charge are small, unless he already has a police record. I wish him luck. Meanwhile, I hope this column goes up on lots of refrigerators.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read with interest the letter from the Different types of grass require different mowing levels. For bluegrass, fescue and other upright grasses, Bolens Corp. suggests cutting at 1½ to 2 inches to provide enough leaf surface for healthy growth. Horizontal grasses — Bermuda grass and zoysia — need to be kept at about three-quarters inch high. Any grass cut too short eventually will burn out and die.

A Very Special Thank You!

Thanks to five wonderful tenants:

Johnny Latham - The Atrium Coffee Shop
Pat Lawson - Etcetera
Carol Gerk - Wishes
LaJean Henry - Pants Cage
Dr. Harold Brigrance - 20/20 Eyewear

Thanks to General Contractor Emory Brownlow and local sub-contractors.
Thanks to Don Graham and the First National Bank for the encouragement and financial backing.

THE ATRIUM

Thanks to all of you for making the May 14th, 1988 Grand Opening of the NEW Atrium Shopping Center a very nice and positive reality for Hereford and the surrounding trade area.

Sincerely,
Doug Manning

THE ATRIUM

Etcetera

You'll find some familiar faces at the Atrium, like Pat Lawson of Etcetera. For eleven years, Pat's been outfitting men and women of Hereford in some of the finest contemporary clothing around.

Wishes

I wish I may, I wish I might... give something out of the ordinary from Carol Gerk's Wishes. You'll find everything from fine china and crystal to unique gifts and antiques. And don't get away without trying some fresh fudge.

Atrium Coffee Shop

Every morning you can smell them - fresh cinnamon rolls. Nothing goes better with a hot cup of coffee. Johnny Latham not only offers the perfect early morning menu, but can also serve up the perfect light lunch, sandwiches, salads, and soups. Of course, no one should miss the coffee shop dessert.

Pants Cage

For young ladies, fashion comes first. Stepping in style is a must. And everyone knows that sportswear is "in". Lajean Henry has just what the occasion calls for at the Pants Cage - Jr's and misses separates and sportswear with the perfect accessories to pull your fashion statement together.

20/20 Eyewear

One of the most precious senses we have is our sight - your eyes. And your eyes are often the first thing people notice. Harold Brigrance's 20/20 is the ideal combination of trend-setting eyewear fashion and professional eye care. For your convenience, 20/20 offers same-day service, a full lab and a certified optician.

Proudly Financed By The First National Bank of Hereford

It's not everyday that we at First National get to be a part of new, creative ideas. But if there is one thing we believe in, it's supporting the growth and prosperity of Hereford. The Atrium is just one of the many positive things happening in our community, and we are proud to say we played a part in making this creative idea a reality. Congratulations to Hereford's newest mall - The Atrium.

Age 60 is not old to tennis player Pancho Gonzales

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

This is a warning to all senior citizen tennis players. The 60-and-over competition just got considerably tougher. Pancho Gonzales celebrated that milestone birthday Monday.

Gonzales, however, is not particularly anxious to go against this whole new community of players. "I'm scared to enter," he said. "It admits you're old."

Old? Pancho Gonzales? Never.

He still looks in playing prime, and he'd better be for next month's Tournament of Legends on the grass courts of the International Hall of Fame at Newport, R.I. The field includes some of the sport's magic names of the past, including Stan Smith, Ilie Nastase, Roy Emerson, Pancho Segura, Billie Jean King and Evonne Goolagong.

Gonzales is warming up for the competition by playing with his eighth child, 2-year-old Skylar. When the youngest Gonzales gets tired of playing his famous pop, he can hit a few with his famous uncle, Andre Agassi, who won the Tournament of Champions last week and is considered the country's best young player.

Gonzales takes no credit for Agassi's progress into tennis' elite class. But he admits he has given his brother-in-law a little advice at times.

"I told him, 'If you want to be as good as (Ivan) Lendl, go ahead and play like you're doing. If you want to be better, get your butt up to the net.'"

That was Gonzales' style. He was not a laid-back tennis player.

He also had staying power and thrived on marathon matches, playing two of the most memorable ones in tennis history.

In 1949, it was Gonzales against top-seeded Ted Schroeder for the U.S. Open title at Forest Hills, the same place where Agassi won last week. Schroeder captured the first set 18-16 and took the second as well, 6-2. But it was in that set that Gonzales' competitive flame was ignited.

"They allowed him to put on spikes in the second set," he said. "I thought that gave him an edge and it made me mad. I broke serve early in the third set and won it easily. They gave us a 10-minute break to change clothes and in the locker room I talked to Frank Shields, who was my coach. He said, 'Get to the net and stay with it. He's worn down physically.' That gave me a boost. I broke his serve in the fourth set and won easily."

Now, the fifth set.

"He was called the best five-set player in the world," Gonzales said. "Nobody knew I had only lost one five-set match in my life."

An early break in the fifth set put Gonzales in control of the match. He held service the rest of the way to win. Schroeder and his fancy footwear were beaten. "The spikes helped him in the beginning," Gonzales said, "but in the end, the sudden stops tired him out."

How long had they played? Gonzales smiled.

"All afternoon," he said.

Twenty years later, in 1969, it took more than an afternoon to complete another memorable match. In that one, Pancho was paired against Charlie Pasarell in a first-round match at Wimbledon.

Pasarell won the first set 24-22 and the second 6-1. It seemed like Forest Hills and Schroeder all over again. Now, Gonzales thought to himself, he had his opponent right where he wanted him.

The third set was another longie, this one won by Pancho, 16-14. Then Gonzales finished Pasarell off, winning the last two sets, 6-3 and 11-9.

When they were done, the two men had played a Wimbledon-record 112 games. The match, interrupted by darkness, lasted 5 hours, 20 minutes over two days. Gonzales, 41 then, was a gracious winner against the younger Pasarell.

"In the locker room," he said, "I helped Charlie get to the massage table."

Now that he is 60, Gonzales is making an important change. Opponents have to get to the massage table on their own.

Sports briefs

GENERAL

MISSION, Kan. (AP) — The NCAA announced that 20 of 1,589 athletes tested for drugs last fall — 1.3 percent — tested positive and have lost their eligibility.

This was a slight percentage increase from the 34 of 3,360 who tested positive during the entire 1986-87 academic year.

Identities of the dismissed athletes were not given.

BASKETBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Center Kevin Duckworth, who nearly tripled his scoring average and helped lead Portland to 53 victories, was named the NBA's Most Improved Player.

Duckworth, traded from San Antonio to Portland midway through his rookie season in 1987, averaged 15.8 points and 7.4 rebounds this season. As a rookie, he averaged just 5.4 points and 3.4 rebounds.

The 7-foot, 275-pound Duckworth, who became a starter following a midseason injury to Steve Johnson, received 33 of 80 votes from a national panel of media members. John Stockton of Utah finished second with 15 votes, while Mark Price of Cleveland was third with 11.

AUTO RACING

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Times were slower on the third day of practice at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway as temperatures heated up into the 80s and the track became a little more slippery.

Still, Mario Andretti, who 24 hours earlier posted the fastest lap ever run at the Speedway at 221.565 mph, managed to get his Lola-Chevrolet up to 219.084 late in the day. No one else was able to approach that speed.

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Ayrton Senna and Alain Prost, dominating again in their McLaren Hondas, took the provisional top two positions in official qualifying for the Monaco Grand Prix.

Senna, the Brazilian who is the defending champion on the street circuit in the principality, cruised to a big margin with a 1 minute, 28.464 second-lap over 2.068 miles. He averaged 86.1 mph.

France's Prost, who won the race three straight times from 1984 to 1986, was almost two seconds behind with 1:28.375.
