'True Butchery' Of Retreating Rebels Reported By Almazan

REVOLT MEETS SECOND ROUT AT LA REFORMA

Young Federal General Claims Annihilation Of Foes at La Reforma

TRAINS CAPTURED

Tremendous Number Of Dead,' Is Way Almazan Describes Losses

NACO, Ariz., April 3. (AP)—A Mexican rebel monoplane just before dark tonight flashed over the twin border town of Naco, Sonora and Arizona, dropping three bombs. One of the missels fell on American soil about 20 feet from the international line.

MEXICO CITY, April 3. (AP)—Federal cavalry pursuing rebels driven out of Jiminez inflicted another crushing defeat on them at La Reforma, a small village 11 miles north of the scene of Monday and Tuesday's bitter battle. A report to this effect was received at the presidential offices in Chapultepec Castle tonight.

The report said the rebels were routed and that several of their trains, which had been held up at La Reforma by a burned railway bridge, were captured. The fight occurred this afternoon and resulted in heavy casualties.

The report of the fight came from General Almazan, in personal command of the federal advance guard. This report was sent to General Calles who relayed it to President Portes Gil. It described the battle as decisive.

"The rebel infantry was destroyed," said the report. "All who were not killed were taken prisoners and the rebel trains are also in possession of the federals. It was a true butchery. The enemy had a tremendous number of dead.

"The federals will have to take care of more than 500 rebel wounded."

General Almazan asked for medical supplies.

The federal commander gave high praise to the manner in which all branches of arms, infantry, artillery and aviation had behaved. He pointed out that General Almazan reported that the rebel infantry fought with great bravery.

Schoolboy 'Soldier' Shot During Play

AUSTIN, April 3.—Benno Neuse, 17, or New Braunfels, playing the part of a soldier in a school play at Buda, was wounded from the charge of a shotgun in the hands of one of the girl actors tonight.

He was brought to an Austin hospital. It was undetermined whether wadding from the supposedly blank cartridge wounded the boy or whether it actually was loaded.

Father and Daughter United for First Time

KANSAS CITY, April 3. (AP)—Mrs. Harold Sims left her housework finished to answer the door bell.

So Stinnett Taylor of Tulsa and the daughter born to his wife after they were divorced 26 years ago were united.

Fleet Red Cagle Treads Gravel For Rule Breach

All-American Half-Back Does Penance at West Point With No Spectators; Has Swain as Comrade

WEST POINT, N. Y., April 3. (US)—Back of the grim gray quadrangle in West Point, where there is no gallery to cheer nor bands to play, Christian Keener (Red) Cagle, the army's great all-American halfback and the cadet corps hero, was doing a dreary penance today with the nimble feet that won him fame.

And Saturday he will march again, and every Wednesday and every Saturday until he has hammered out his penalty on the hard gravel for 22 hours. He marches strictly at attention, eyes unwaveringly front, shoulders squared, white-gloved hands swinging back and forward in the perfect cadence that is the pride of West Point.

Barred From Track

He does it on his own time, and he does not complain, although it bars him from track competition this year. All his extra and precious minutes must be spent marching up and down a 100-yard stretch of gravel because he broke the inflexible regulations of West Point.

The captain of next fall's army football team owes his dilemma to missing a boat at Hoboken a week ago last Saturday. He was supposed to catch it. It was a breach of discipline. In the eyes of the West Point faculty, there is no "Red" Cagle, meteoric football star. There is only Cadet Cagle, second classman, second battalion.

As he strides, hour after hour, executing a snappy "to the rear—march!" at each end of the 100-yard stretch, his bearing is a little proud, for he is proving that he is fit to be an officer and a gentleman, as he will become by act of congress when he is graduated. He is proving that a potential officer of the United States army can accept harsh discipline as unflinchingly as later he may pass it out.

Has Comrade

Beside him, from time to time, will walk another erect, alert cadet. It is Cadet Baker, and he will be walking up and down, back and forth, for a whole year. Even Cagle may sympathize with Baker, for Cagle carries back and forth only his 167 muscular pounds, while Bak-

AUSTIN, April 3. (AP)—Governor Moody tonight had disposed of all but three bills sent him by the 41st legislature and planned to clear his desk before midnight, the deadline for executive action.

It was indicated at his office that he would disapprove of the remaining measures, bringing his vetoes over a two-day period to 23. He disapproved of 17 yesterday and three today, the latest batch including the proposed repeal of a section of the old blue Sunday law prohibiting the showing of moving pictures on the Sabbath, and the bill creating a court of civil appeals at Greenville.

TWO AT DENTON DIE IN CRASH

Box Car Thrown on Auto In Rail Yards

DENTON, Texas, April 3. (AP)—Two persons were killed outright and another probably fatally injured when two freight trains sideswiped in the railroad yards here tonight.

The dead:

Fred Werline, about 48, Dallas, engineer of local freight No. 88.

Mary Lynn Church, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Church, Denton.

Herbert Church, father of the girl is not expected to live.

The two freight trains were overturned and several box cars demolished by the crash.

Werline's engine was sitting on a siding, but was not clear of the main line, witnesses said. A through Freight to Fort Worth struck it squarely just back of the cab. Werline's body was mangled. The crew of the other engine was understood to have escaped with minor injuries.

The girl was killed almost a quarter of a mile from the point of impact of the engines. She, with her parents and three other children, were sitting in front of the passenger station near a string of box cars attached to Werline's engine.

One of the cars was hurled into the air and on top of the Church automobile. The girl was crushed, as was her father. Little hope was held for his life.

Mrs. Church and the other children received slight injuries.

Adverse Ruling Halts Plan To Keep 1929 Total On Level With 1928

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP) Secretary Wilbur told the American Petroleum Institute today that under a ruling of the attorney general the federal oil conservation board had no authority to approve the institute's proposed curtailment of production for 1929 to the 1928 level, but added that the board was sympathetic and would be as helpful as the law permitted.

Attorney General Mitchell's ruling was presented to representatives of the institute by the interior secretary after its president, E. B. Reeser, had asked the board to approve the curtailment plan. The ruling did not pass on the legality of the proposed curtailment as the attorney general said this question was not one on which his office could rule.

Other Ways Sought

At the conclusion of the session institute representatives indicate that they might seek other channels to put conservation into effect. Reeser, who had advanced as a reason for asking approval of the plan that the program would coincide with the conservation board's aims, said that the opinion of the attorney general apparently brought "the institute to the end of the road so far as curtailing production is concerned."

After the meeting had adjourned, however, Reeser issued a statement saying "the sympathetic attitude of the board is very pleasing to us and we believe that the statement made by the attorney general will not have the effect of stopping the conservation movement."

Efforts to Continue

It is the intention of the institute, he said, to continue the study of the program and put it into effect wherever possible through assistance of state authorities. Such a curtailment as planned, he declared, is not in violation of the anti-trust laws as the production of oil is not a matter of interstate commerce and therefore not subject to federal supervision.

C. B. Ames, general counsel of the Texas company and a representative of the institute, informed the board that the opinion of the attorney general "apparently presupposes a violation of the law and makes our appearance here look as if it were a plea for immunity from the law.

"Such is not the case," he said. "It has never occurred to any of us that we are not well within the law in our plan and the suggestion of the attorney general comes as a distinct shock."

Among oil men present the general opinion was that the next step toward bringing about curtailment was to work through the state governments. Mr. Reeser said he proposed to ask the federal authorities to call a governors meeting to discuss the subject.

Panhandle Punchers To 'Git In The Leather' Soon For 400-Mile Drive

Special to The Record News

DALHART, Texas, April 3.—Yip! Yip! Yippahoooww!

There'll be hard ridin' for all in these parts along late in April and the dude wrangler will be out of place. From Toyah to Romero in 60 days and that considering all the wheels on the chuck wagon hold out and 4,000 head of cows give no undue trouble.

"Roll along, dogies, roll along—"

Old times in the West will be relived when Bivins and Wagner, cattle men of Amarillo, who own a large ranch near Romero, Texas, a cow town 30 miles southwest of here, will drive 4,000 cattle from near Toyah.

It is expected by those who will make the drive that it will take about 60 days to cover the distance of 400 miles from Toyah to Romero. The greater part of the distance will be through the southwestern part of Texas and the southeastern part of New Mexico, entering New Mexico just east of Carlsbad.

There are practically no fences to obstruct the drive in this long stretch. Drivers estimate that it will take at least 15 men to make the drive. A string of about 100 horses will be required by the men to take care of the cattle.

Old time cattle drivers say that this will probably be the last long drive for this section.

GERMANS TURN ALLIES DOWN

Schacht to Refuse Debt Settlement Plan

By GEORGE W. HINMAN JR.

PARIS, April 3.—Germany must reject the allied demand that "a complete and final settlement" of the reparations problem be based on the amount of debts owed by them to the United States and the enormous claims for war damages.

Germany must insist on a settlement based on a sound economic study of the reich's actual capacity to effect reparations payments.

Such, in brief, is the reply which Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, will make tomorrow when the reparations experts' committee reassembles after its week-long Easter recess.

Firm Refusal

The reply will be couched in the most conciliatory terms, but it will constitute, nevertheless, a most firm refusal to consider as a basis for scientific economic discussion the thesis presented jointly last Thursday by the delegates of the allied powers.

With its presentation, the deliberations of the experts' committee will reach a definite turning point. On one hand stand the allies, demanding Germany pay them the amount of war debts owed to the United States, plus the additional total of about $5,000,000,000 as war damages. Opposing this stand, the reich is insisting that whatever are the allied claims and whatever distribution the allies desire to make among themselves of the tribute levied Germany's payment must be calculated solely on Germany's economic capacity to pay.

Back at Beginning

As far as the fundamental differences over the schedule of payments is concerned, it will place the experts back right where they were when assembled by J. Pierpont Morgan seven weeks ago.

Dr. Schacht's thesis will be just what it was when he made his original preliminary talk, presenting his picture of German economic conditions. It will be, in effect, a courteous suggestion that the experts lay aside their considerations of political claims and get down to the study of the essential question, the reich's capacity to pay.

Stimson and Borah Discuss Future Policies

WASHINGTON, April 3. (US)—Secretary of State Stimson and Senator Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, conferred today on a number of issues facing the government, but maintained silence as to whether any line of action was agreed upon.

The discussion is understood to have covered a wide range of policies to be followed by the government, with Secretary Stimson and Senator Borah sounding out each other's view!

Fort Sill Soldiers Held Here for Theft

Two soldiers from Fort Sill, Okla., who chose to spend a leave from duty by stealing and disposing of Uncle Sam's automobile tires, returned to the camp under arrest after having been captured here by Homer Bentley, city motorcycle officer, late Tuesday night.

The soldiers were in the quartermaster corps in the army camp and had access to the store room.

Just before coming to Wichita Falls on their leave they took $400 worth of automobile tires and tubes from the store room and brought them here.

Bentley, becoming suspicious of the pair while patrolling in the downtown section, followed them to a local tourist camp and later arrested them and confiscated the stolen tires.

Third Woman Linked in Evidence On Mysterious Death of Oil Man

TULSA, Okla., April 3 (UP)—The police theory that William S. McCray, wealthy oil operator, was the victim of a blackmail plot was accelerated tonight with the entrance of a third woman into evidence being uncovered, according to Assistant Prosecutor W. L. Coffey.

Coffey refused to give the name of the woman now being sought, but he revealed that McCray was said to have paid a funeral bill for her. He also revealed that the new information concerns a youth said to be a fugitive on a federal charge. The youth is the son of the former woman friend of McCray whom the investigation revealed had been aided by the slain man.

The information resulted from investigation by a private detective employed by McCray. Neither the woman or the youth are in Tulsa, said Coffey.

Coffey said late today that he doubted that Mrs. Annette Abrahms and Mrs. Dickerson, first two women whose telephone calls to McCray and his estranged wife were checked, had any connection with the case.

McCray died Saturday from injuries received March 24 when he was attacked in his hotel room by an unknown assailant.

28 Cars of Lumber Loaded For Big Park At Lake Wichita

Dismantling of old buildings and clearing of grounds will begin at Lake Wichita Thursday preparatory to the opening of actual construction next week on the $500,000 amusement and recreation park to be opened on May 16, according to Walter W. Peltier, vice president of the recently formed Lakeside Park corporation.

John A. Miller of Chicago, one of the foremost park engineers of the country, will arrive in Wichita Falls late this week, Mr. Peltier said, and will take charge of building operations which are to get under way next week. Mr. Miller visited the site about two weeks ago, when he spent several days here, and has completed revised plans which will be followed in building the water-front amusement plant.

Lumber on Way

Twenty-eight carloads of lumber are now being loaded in Louisiana and East Texas, it was stated, for use in erecting the various buildings and pleasure devices at Lakeside Park. The solid train of lumber for the project here is expected to arrive about April 10. Among the larger units to be built are the board walk, which will be approximately 1,500 feet long, and amphitheater with a seating capacity of from 7,000 to 8,000 persons; and a gigantic roller coaster which it was said will be one of the largest "rides" ever constructed in this section of the country.

No carpenters or other labor will be employed on the project prior to the arrival of Mr. Miller, it was stated. Three foremen will accompany the engineer, and under his direction will employ locally the large force of workmen which will be required to prepare the plant for opening on May 16. Flood lamps will be erected, Mr. Peltier said, in order to make possible continuation of the work during 24 hours each day.

The proposed park will begin where the dance hall and pavalion now stands and will run in a southeasterly direction along the lake shore to a distance of about 2,000 feet. The dance hall is to be thoroughly overhauled and re-designed, it was stated. The board walk, which will be similar in type to that of Lake Worth, will extend around the pavalion, along the waterfront, and around the bathing beach. Extensive landscaping of

CAR CRUSHES WICHITA BOY

Worth Richter, 8, Given Little Chance to Recover

Worth Richter, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Richter, suffered a fractured skull, a broken hip and other serious injuries Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile as he crossed the Iowa Park road near his home, about one and a half miles from Wichita Falls.

The car was driven by a woman whose name was not obtained. She fainted at the sight of the injured child and asked the help of passers-by in driving the automobile into town. The boy was rushed to the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital, where physicians expressed grave fears for his recovery.

According to stories of the accident from members of the Richter family, the little boy and his younger sister were returning home from an errand to the grocery store several hundred yards from the home. The older child is believed to have been in front of his sister and to have got in the path of the oncoming car, which was headed for Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Richter, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, got up out of bed and was half carried into the hospital to see the injured boy.

CAGLE WALKS OFF PENALTY

West Point Star Is Given Taste of Discipline

he carries poignant grief and misery with him on his interminable rounds of penance.

Baker's story is drama. He was in love. He still is, even as he marches. For a long time, Baker thought the girl in love with him. Perhaps she was, but a short time ago, the cadet learned to his amazement that he had a formidable rival in the girl's city, and that she was inclined to smile upon the rival.

Baker decided he must go to her at once and plead that she defer her decision. There was no possibility of getting leave from West Point. Love, the academicians say, is an emotion—war and its study a science.

But Baker went. He was a. w. o. l. He returned several days later—smilingly. Things like discipline seemed faint shadows. He stepped proudly up to the registration book, and with a flourish wrote firmly:

"Cadet Baker—returning from absence without leave."

Grave Offense

It was a grave offence. Baker had virtually flouted authority. The academic board sat on his case. He was sentenced to march up and down in the quadrangle surrounded by barracks, under the keen eye of officers, in every minute of his spare time for one year. The alternative was expulsion.

Baker cheerfully accepted. He began marching, smiling contentedly in the 10 minutes of every hour that the penance-doers may relax from attention and rest.

Then the blow fell. His girl had married the other man.

Baker, eyes front, arms swinging spotlessly white gloves, still was marching today.

So "Red" Cagle treads his way blithely. His punishment is as nothing. He knows how Baker feels. Two months ago the gridiron hero announced his engagement to Miss Marion Haile, of New Roads, La., his boyhood sweetheart. They will wed upon his graduation.

Red's Offense Trivial

"Red's" offense was comparatively trivial, if any offense can be so regarded in West Point. Cagle came to New York city a week ago last Saturday with a party of cadets on an educational trip.

This particular mission was a visit to the museum of natural history. The cadets on the party were dismissed late in the afternoon. They were granted their freedom until 11:45 p. m., when they were to board the 11:45 p. m. Weehawken ferry for transport to Jersey in time to catch the midnight train for West Point.

What the dashing football star did with his liberty is not known. But it seems that he left himself too little time to reach the ferry.

When he got to West Point, he was hailed before the battalion board, composed of tactical officers, all of the regular army. He submitted meekly. Twenty-two hours. Inspection before he started. Inspection every hour. White gloves, uniform, shoes, must be immaculate. The officers studied "Red's" school regimen.

They found the football star had five hours free a week.

Well, he could march, and learn how to obey orders.

LAKE WICHITA PARK STARTS

Crews to Work Night And Day on Project

the ground is being planned, with numerous flower gardens, plots of shrubbery, more than 1,000 running feet of concrete walks, and recreation grounds for children.

Opening May 16

The ground near the bathing beach and along the board walk, according to the plans announced by Mr. Peltier, will be a mecca of concessioners. Work has been in progress for the last ten weeks at the Dallas office of the corporation in obtaining for Lakeside Park more than 30 distinct types of amusement which promise to convert the resort into a "Coney Island" for local pleasure seekers. Contracts already closed were said to assure the presence of these concessions for the opening of the park on May 16.

It is planned to use the amphitheater which is to be built for the presentation of band concerts, vocal celebrities, concert companies and pageants. One of the most interesting features of the park, Mr. Peltier said, will be the "Mystery Music Box," an enormous amplifier which will make musical numbers easily heard for hundreds of yards. This device is now being built by a factory in Cincinnati, Ohio, it was stated.

Advertsing matter is now being prepared for an extensive display throughout this state and Oklahoma announcing the opening of Lakeside Park. Billboard, newspaper, radio and circular advertising will be used in acquainting the people of this section with the development of one of the largest amusement centers in the Southwest in Wichita Falls, it was stated.

Goodwin Named Auditor

H. E. Byrne of Dallas is president of the Lakeside corporation, a subsidiary of the American Amusement company of New York, which secured a lease on the grounds near Lake Wichita last year from the Wichita Falls Traction company. Mr. Peltier is vice president and general manager. C. M. Goodwin of this city has been employed as auditor, and will have charge of the office to be opened soon at Lake Wichita.

Curtis Raises Roof In Capital 'Social War'

18 CASES SET TRIAL HERE

Special Venire of 150 For Pryor Charges

Eighteen criminal cases are set down for trial in the 30th district court during the week beginning April 8, according to a list of settings announced Wednesday afternoon by Sam Spence, district attorney.

Trial of a bigamy charge against Riley Hopson is set for Monday morning, according to the district attorney. The indictment grew out of an alleged second marriage to a girl who claims to have been 15 years old at the time of the ceremony. She will appear as the principal witness for the state, Mr. Spence said.

Pryor Venire

Two special venires for the term were drawn by Judge Allan D. Montgomery Wednesday morning, one for 50 men to try R. B. Nichols, accused of robbery with firearms, on April 17, and the second for 150 men for the jury to try Ed Pryor, former Electra constable, on a similar indictment, on April 22.

Pryor was acquitted here during the January term on charges on complicity in the robbery of a newsstand in Electra last summer while he was still in office. Henry Shumake, who testified that he had committed the robbery, told the jury that the former officer had promised him immunity. It is understoo that Shumake will again be one of the principal state witnesses in the trial to come. The charges involve an attempt to rob the Jefferson hotel in Electra.

A jury in the 89th district court in February failed to agree in the trial of R. B. Nichols, accused of holding up the Spoonts Drug store at Ninth and Van Buren on Christmas night, 1928.

Court Docket

The entire docket for next week in the 30th court follows:

are marketed in Lea county. He stated that the products of El Paso mills go west to California and do not compete in Lea county. E. I. Hill, vice president and general manager of the Panhandle Lumber company with 43 yards in this section, including at Lubbock, Seagraves and Lovington stated that his company was principally interested in a stable agricultural section, rather than an oil territory and that after the Santa Fe first applied to build from Seagraves directly southwest to the oil section, that he suggested that the line go west to Lovington to better serve the agricultural land that lies from a parallel east and west from 15 to 20 miles south of Lovington and on north.

Many Witnesses

After a large number of witnesses in behalf of the Texas and New Mexico line testified Monday and Tuesday. The Santa Fe put interveners in their behalf on the stand Tuesday late. Again today, the Texas and New Mexico line continued its case by putting witnesses on the stand.

Attention was diverted from cattle shipment and cattle market today while H. L. Birney, president of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, told of the building of additional pipe lines for natural gas in New Mexico.

Morgan Admitted Having Booze, Say Customs Men

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Official reports of customs men were made public today in which Representative Morgan of Ohio was quoted as having admitted when he arrived from Panama March 23 that there were four bottles of liquor in his baggage belonging to his wife.

This Morgan denied in Washington and United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, who made the statements public here, said no criminal action could be taken since a husband or wife could not be made to testify the one against the other and none of the customs men actually had seen any liquor.

Callouses
and Burning Soles

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads for Callouses end pain in one minute! They stop the friction and pressure of shoes and are soothing and healing. Removing callouses with harsh liquids or plasters is unsafe—often causing acid burn. Zino-pads are thin, protective. At all drug, shoe and dept. stores—35c box.

4,800 Placards to Mark 1,200 Intersections Here

Provision for 4,800 metal placards marking the streets of Wichita Falls is included in the 1929 city budget to be submitted to the city council at its meeting April 15, George Fairtrace, city manager, announced Wednesday afternoon.

The placards, which are to mark all four sides of each of 1,200 intersections in the city, will cost between $9,000 and $10,000, the manager said, and their manufacture and erection will involve much detailed work.

"I expect the council to approve the item, for I believe it is one of the things Wichita Falls needs most," Mr. Fairtrace explained, "but I do not believe all the work can be completed before July or August."

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their systems. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person.

Get a bottle today, at any drug store, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.—Adv.

Singers Choose Quanah for Meets

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, April 3.—The Hardeman county singing convention selected Quanah as the place for every fifth Sunday meeting of the singers. The invitation of the Quanah Chamber of Commerce and offer of the high school auditorium for such meetings was unanimously accepted at the fifth Sunday meeting here March 31. The central location of Quanah and its accessibility not only to the county, but to the state and adjoining states who send representatives to these meetings, was the reason for this unanimous decision for Quanah.

The meeting March 31 was attended by more than 1,000 singers in an all day session. Singers from distant points in Texas, and several from Oklahoma, were present.

The next meeting will be June 30.

Working Agreement With Gamblers Wins

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 3. (UP)—Lee P. McLaughlin, seeking re-election as mayor of Hot Springs on a platform to continue a "working agreement" with gambling houses, today appeared to have won.

McLaughlin advocated the continuing of an agreement with gamblers which he said had been in effect several years whereby they appear at regular intervals, pay set fines and are allowed to continue their "business" unmolested.

Cleveland Smith, city engineer, opposing McLaughlin on an anti-gambling ticket appeared to be overwhelmingly defeated. He contended the accepting of such revenue was a "public disgrace" to the city.

Missouri Students Aim Barbs at Legislators

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 3. "We wonder . . . . whether hypocrites have consciences," the article continued, "and what an intelligence test of certain officials would show."

GERMANY HAS BLAST EVIDENCE

Government Holds Facts On 1915 Explosion

WASHINGTON, April 3. (INS)—The German government today was charged with holding evidence exclusively in its possession which would materially aid the American government's efforts to prove German responsibility for the Black Tom munitions explosion at Jersey City July 29, 1915, and the Kingsland, New Jersey, fire Jan. 11, 1917.

Robert W. Bonynge, American agent before the German mixed claims commissions, opening his arguments in the Black Tom and Kingsland "Sabotage" cases, involving claims for $24,000,000, declared that evidence is exclusively in the possession of the German government which, if produced, would show Germany's responsibility, but which the German government had failed to submit despite its offer in its opening brief to make available all facts in its possession. He called the commission's attention to its actions in other German-American claims cases where the American claimants had withheld evidence which would have thrown light on the claim the commission did not hesitate to dismiss the case.

Bonynge asked the commission to apply the same rule to the German government if it could be established that vital evidence was being withheld in these two cases.

Proceeding with presentation of the American government's case Bonynge asserted that it would not be necessary to trace individual acts of Sabotage directly to the German government source, but that if it could be shown that by world-wide propaganda Germany had sown seeds for acts of sabotage and violence, then the "government of Germany becomes responsible" for the wave of sabotage that swept this country.

The commission is composed of Chandler P. Anderson, the American commissioner; Dr. Wilhelm Kiesselbach, of Hamburg, Germany, the German commissioner, and Edwin B. Parker of Houston, Texas, as umpire.

Judge Parker, before the arguments opened, said that both the United States and Germany were primarily interested in ascertaining the truth "no matter what that truth may be."

Bristow Picks Herman For New Police Chief

BRISTOW, Okla., April 3. (UP)—W. H. "Judge" Herman was elected by a huge majority to the office of chief of police of Bristow in the city election yesterday, leading the ticket by a large margin. He won with a platform promising uniformed policemen for the city.

Other city officials include Charles West, mayor, and Q. L. Brown, city clerk.

Hammer Used In Beating Woman

CHICAGO, April 3. (UP)—Relatives who broke into the apartment of Mrs. Charles Kelso today found the 70-year-old Mrs. Kelso had not answered their knockings and telephone calls last night because she had been beaten into unconsciousness some time yesterday with a hammer.

In another room of the apartment lay the body of Mrs. Kelso's 60-year-old maid, Mrs. Ida Peterson, who had been in the employ of the prosperous Kelso family for 27 years.

The maid's throat had been cut and police assumed that she had attacked her mistress and then committed suicide.

Hostess Tells How Cops Drank Her Booze Free

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 3. (UP)—While Mrs. Ethel Rhodes entertained a group of dry officers here one night without knowing their true identity, she told a story of how free drinks for city police won her their promises of protection, according to report of federal agents, who terminated the party by seizing her liquor and taking their hostess to jail.

Just Like An Ostrich . . .

A medical authority says that a person who tries to cover up skin blemishes and pimples with toilet creams and powders is just as foolish as an ostrich that buries its head in the sand to avoid danger. Skin eruptions are nature's warning that constipation is throwing poisons into your blood stream and weakening your whole constitution. Remove the constipated condition and you will strengthen your system against disease and clear up your disfigured skin. The best way to do this is with a course of Herbine, the vegetable medicine that acts naturally and easily, which you can get at Miller Drug Store.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the cruelest pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

CHURCH OPENS BRIEF REVIVAL

Rev. Bud Robinson Leads Nazarene Services

A two-day evangelistic meeting will be opened at the First Church of the Nazarene, Fifth and Burnett streets, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. Bud Robinson, a veteran of 35 years' service in the revival field and one of the most widely traveled evangelists in the United States.

Beginning his ministry immediately following his conversion to the Christian religion in his 21st year, Rev. Mr. Robinson is credited with having traveled more than 1,000,000 miles in campaigns which have covered practically all of the United States and a large portion of Canada. He came to Texas shortly after the close of the civil war, and prior to his entry into religious work, spent several years astride a cow-pony in West Texas.

During his ministry is said that 63 young people have been enabled by Rev. Mr. Robinson to gain B. A. degrees from various colleges of the country, $80,000 having been spent in that channel.

L. C. Messer and Roscoe Carrel, musicians, will assist in the two-day revival to be conducted here. Meetings will be held at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Thursday, with an all-day service planned for Friday.

Vaudeville Bill At Olympic Theater

A variety of vaudeville acts, many of them, and each one short and snappy, comprises the program announced by the Olympic theater management to open next Sunday, April 7.

Fifteen persons are included in Vincent and Stewart's "Jazz Pirates," among whom are numbered the Mahavier sisters who have recently finished a 90 weeks' tour through the United States, Cuba, Canada and Australia on the B. F. Keith circuit.

The Francis sisters, credited with a highly successful performance in the Palace theater, London, contribute a representation of aristocratic night life in the English metropolis.

Henrietta Straw, the personality girl; Nannette Shaefer with an assortment of original dances; Polly Jessup, versatile xylophonist, and a stage-band known as the Texas Syncopators complete the company.

The vaudeville bill to be offered was declared by the management to be of big-time class.

AUSTIN, April 3. (INS)—Col. R. H. Baker today tendered his resignation as chairman of the state prison board, effective immediately. Gov. Dan Moody expressed his regret at the resignation.

Colonel Baker resigned because of "disappointment" over the failure of the legislature to pass a centralization bill for the state prison system. He said he hoped such a law would be enacted at the coming special session.

Mrs. Selman J. Lones Gives Beautiful Party for Mrs. Nolen

The lounge of the Wichita club, already attractive with its high rose draped windows, wrought iron balcony rails and splendid exhibition of Mr. Jacob's paintings, was a perfect bower of spring colors on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Selman J. Lones entertained with a beautiful bridge luncheon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Charles Nolen, a lovely young bride of recent date.

Yellow, green, pink and orchid were the pastel shades used in flowers, favors and refreshments. The high white mantel piece was draped in a curtain of southern smilax; there were huge jars of lilac, pots of pink hydrangeas, tall vases of varicolored snap dragon, masses of redbud and then on each table an individual center of sweet peas in pastel shades. One entered the door between two great pots of fancy caladium, to see the fairy land inside.

Yellow, green, pink and orchid covered the tables and lace doilies with fluted edges of the same shades and fruit cocktails carrying out the pastel coloring perfected the scene that met the incoming guests. The place cards and bridge scores were hand made; each held a little lace-edged old-fashioned ribbon flower bouquet in pastel tones.

The luncheon carried out the same color motif. The ices were in shades of orchid, pink, yellow and green and individual cakes made to correspond. Mrs. Beryl Knickerbocker played beautifully all through the luncheon.

In the games, Mrs. Russell Eckerty won the high score prize, Mrs. Jules Constantine second, and Mrs. Billy Maloney the low. There was a cut prize at each table; the prizes were unusually handsome.

Luncheon was served to Mesdames C. W. Nolen, Earl Clayton, Joe Kell, Jack Barnard, James McKanna, Lester Burns, A. C. Smith, Harry Myers, Dudley Golding, W. E. Maxon, Taggert, Albert Solliday, Decker, L. A. French, James Williams, Getrude Woodruff, G. C. Zundelowitz P-T A Elects Mrs. Boone

Mrs. T. R. Boone will head the Zundelowitz Parent-Teacher association the coming year following an election of officers Tuesday at the meeting held at the school. Other oficers named are Mrs. P. B. Cox, first vice president; Mrs. P. A. Garnett, second vice president; Mrs. Albert Owen, third vice president; Mrs. John Marrs, treasurer; Miss Bennie Works, secretary, and Mrs. Harry ten Brink, council representative.

An enthusiastic meeting was held, with the subject "Know What the School Has Done for Your Child" ably discussed by H. A. Glass. His challenge was to the parents in that they were not playing fair, unless they learn to know their school. He gave as the slogan for the Zundelowitz school, "We try to make a good citizen of your boy and girl," and in doing this, the three requirements stressed were "attitudes," "habits" and "scholarship," with the first two being the important ones.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Fred Barron, covering some of the most important women mentioned in the Bible. A singsong, also led by Mrs. Barron, with Mrs. Hermoine Vaughn at the piano included the national P.-T. A. song, "A Little Child Shall Lead."

Report from each chairman was given and the report of the treasurer, Mrs. C. D. Cromer, showed that the P.-T. A. had made in the school year $952.38.

Mrs. C. E. Basham, membership chairman, and Mrs. A. J. Newby, finance chairman, working together, brought into the association 555 members.

Mrs. William Huff, welfare chairman, reported they had dressed a boy and a girl, given many children free lunches and street car fare, and paid a doctor bill.

Mrs. J. C. Mathis conducted the round-table discussion on "How Zundelowitz School Has Helped Our Children." The answers showed many satisfied mothers.

The retiring president urged all members to co-operate with the new president as fully as they had co-operated with her in the year's work.

A report of the convention of the 13th district, which met at Vernon last week was given by Mrs. H. J. Strief, and the co-operation of all present was urged.

Mention was made of the school election in the city, which is to take place on Saturday of this week and all parents were urged to vote.

Attendance prize was won by Miss Elizabeth Turnbough's room, with Mrs. L. C. Miller, sponsor.

Members present who registered were Mesdames W. L. Leach, Fannie Leach, H. J. Naylor, D. L. Hill, A. V. Miller, C. P. Warman, Perry Browning, Mabel Aston, H. J. Strief, Harry W. Duren, H. E. Man, A. Miss Miller Honored At 'Gingham Bridge'

Mrs. Lloyd J. Taylor entertained Wednesday afternoon, honoring Miss Virginia Miller, whose marriage to William C. Hogue of Borger is announced for April 10, with a most unique gingham bridge and kitchen shower.

All the guests wore gingham dresses and the tallies and score cards were of gingham motif. The colors were red and white and the kitchen shower was almost altogether of the pretty red finish so much in vogue at present.

Miss Miller was presented with a handsome gingham dress and a gingham lunch cloth.

There were four tables of bridge and Miss Margaret Smith won high, a nest of hand-painted refrigerator bowls. Mrs. George Dwyer won second and received kitchen salt and peppers in red.

A refreshment plate carrying out the red colors was served to the bridge guests and to many tea guests.

The guest list follows: Mesdames W. P. Ferguson, M. M. Walker, R. E. Shepherd, John Kay Jr., George Dwyer, Robert K. French, James McPhail, R. O. Frame, Frank Wood, Paul Oles, A. L. Hostess Day At Forum Proves 'Gruelling Contest'—Or 'Unique Affair' For An 'Appreciative Audience'

Men's Luncheon Enjoyable Event Of Spring Season

By MRS. L. N. CASON
Record News Society Editor

The great day is over. The men's style show given by the Hub at the Woman's Forum Wednesday was such a roaring success that it is to become an annual affair.

The scene on the stage was President Hoover's private office. Honey Boy and Sassafras, KGKO artists, were janitors cleaning at intervals; they sang and had a line of patter that kept the audience laughing. And they would, once in a while, sweep violently, so that dust flew.

Bruce Greenwood was President Hoover's private secretary and had a line of patter second only to Honey Boy and Sassafras. Mr. Hoover, posed and acted by L. D. Belden, was a master sketch. He was well poised and as placid as our president. In turn, Mr. Greenwood introduced to him, the following characters, each in turn styling for the Hub:

Harold Ackerman, a very young man from Wichita Falls, Texas, who styled three times the best in vogue for the very young man. He made a decided hit each time he entered.

Ex-President Coolidge, in the person of Mr. Gilliam of KGKO. Mr. Coolidge kept up his reputation for silence.

Al Smith and his brown derby came smilingly across the stage in the person of Ed Howard, waving his brown derby with an utterly undefeated air.

The junior senator from Texas was next introduced. Jimmie Allred personified a perfectly dressed Tom Connally.

J. B. Hatchitt was a perfectly groomed, fine looking Jim Reed of Missouri. Mr. Hatchitt remarked to some one who repeated it to the society editor, that he felt all right until he thought he heard his wife laugh; then he was sure there was something wrong with him.

The secretary of the interior, in the person of Ben G. Oneal, wore a golf costume that would make a golfer green with envy. When someone remarked that the men should have remained longer on the stage, Mr. Oneal countered that there was nothing to do. At any rate, he adorned it for the eye.

Lindbergh was outdone in as modest and sweet faced a young man as himself when Floyd Ard wore the latest in "flying" styles across the stage.

Thurman Conrey styled as Raymond Navarro and more young ladies fell in love with that handsome actor.

B. D. Donnell wore with the best attire, the smiling aplomb of Texas' senior senator, Morris Sheppard.

Bill McKemie, as Garner of Uvalde, received a burst of applause as he went through.

Judge McFarland personified the genial Roosevelt, governor of New York, and Hoover had more than one word for his private ear.

And last, but far from least, came Jerry Moffett and Joline Woods as Mr. and Mrs. Dan Moody; they were a handsome couple and the president rose from his chair to bow before the beautifully gowned Mrs. Moody and Mr. Moody in formal evening attire. The Hub did its duty by Mr. Moody.

The curtain fell and rose again with Miss Katherine Orr at the piano and Paul Von Allmen singing "Sweethearts on Parade," and incidentally styling the latest in dinner clothes, while the models paraded once more across the stage, giving a smiling bow to the appreciative aaudience.

Bruce Greenwood burlesqued the professional mannequin as he made his final bow and drew a laugh as he pirouetted so that his costume might be fully appreciated.

The unique interest of the program was due to the untiring efforts of the two hostesses of the day, Mrs. G. B. Smedley and Mrs. Bernard Martin. The Hub did its full share in perfecting the plans of the hostesses. The luncheon and was thoroughly enjoyed by the many masculine guests as well as by the ladies.

The next style show, taking place on next Wednesday, the regular hostess day, will be that of the Smart Shop and Mrs. W. P. Bowen will be hostess for the day.

There were approximately 135 guests at Wednesday's luncheon. Plates were laid for the following: The Hub party, Mrs. L. D. Belden, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Smedley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fulchef and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Martin; Emory Morgan and mother, Mrs. R. A. King and party; Mr. and Mrs. Ballew, Mrs. E. W. Wade, Mrs. Arthur Wade and party; Dr. and Mrs. P. L. Myers and party; Mrs. J. T. Montgomery and party; Mrs. W. L. Hawkins and party, Mrs. B. D. Donnell and party, Mrs. R. G. Scheurer and party, Mrs. Ola Hamlin, Mrs. James Duffy and party, Mrs. Ben G Oneal and party, Mrs. D. O. Johnson and party, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Martin, Mrs. Fred Couper, Mrs. Kinder, Mrs. G. D. Anderson and party, Mrs. T. H. Peery, Mrs. Bruce Greenwood and party, Mrs. Alex Kahn and party, Mrs. T. M. Conrey and party, Mrs. Jimmie Allred and party, Mrs. Rhea Howard and party, Mrs. C. E. McCutchen, Mrs. Logan Alberson, Mrs. Charles E. Hughes and party, Mrs. Hubert Harrison and party, Mrs. J. W. Cantwell, Mr. and Mrs. DeShong and Mr. McPhail, Mrs. Eddleman, Mrs. E. B. Lehrack, Mrs. J. C. A. Guest and party, Mrs. Emma Goff, Mrs. Paul Pearson and party and Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Peterson.

Cash Cutomers Boo Decision For Bruce Greenwood

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

WOMAN'S FORUM, Wichita Falls, Texas, April 3.—The championship of the world in masculine attire was decided in this arena Tuesday afternoon. Before a crowd estimated at 100,000, more or less, the best-dressed men of Wichita Falls paraded in the latest modes of the day.

It was a gruelling contest, and the participants were visibly effected by the struggle. It was a credit to their training, however, that none faltered. There was not a discordant note as they weaved about in the latest weaves.

When the milling subsided, Bruce Greenwood was acclaimed victor. This decision was disputed by many ringsiders, who booed the judges for 23 minutes. It was the opinion of this writer that the decision was based on Mr. Greenwood's final appearance, when he simpered across the stage with the grace of a Povlowa or Chaplin.

Round by round, as they posed 'round and 'round:

FIRST ROUND—Honey Boy and Sassafras, chief seconds, entered the ring. Bruce Greenwood (Hoover's secretary) led with a left and a smile. President Hoover (L. D. Belden) brought down the gallery with a beautiful right counter of dignity. J. M. Gilliam (Coolidge) was calm and quiet as he made an impressive refusal of a speech. Ed Howard (Al Smith) shot 300 yards down the fairway with a brown derby. The rally of Mr. Howard, who refused to concede defeat, scored heavily in his favor. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND ROUND—Jimmie Allred (Tom Connally) hit for three bases with a sparkling Mayfield rally. J. B. Hatchitt (Jim Reed) carried the attack and threatened all Republican opposition. Ben G. Oneal (himself) shot a birdie. At least, a young lady was heard to remark, "Ain't he a bird." (Editor's note—Mr. Oneal is president of the local Ike Waltons. That probably explains the reference to the birds). Floyd Ard (Lindbergh) immediately won the decision (with the ladies). The judges were visibly impressed as Thurmon Conrey (Ramon Navarro) made his appearance. (Again, so were the ladies). Weather clear, tarck fast.

THIRD ROUND—While the contestants were growing weary from the long struggle, B. D. Donnell (Morris Sheppard) went into the fray and his dashing offensive seemed to carry the day. Bill McKamie (Garner) kicked a field goal. One-eyed Connelly crashed the gate. Judge McFarland (Roosevelt) threw his hat in the ring. Jerry Moffett and Joline Woods (Mr. and Mrs. Moody) entered the contest in a last effort for dear old Rutgers. Except to the biased judges, they won. There was no question of that. (Editor's note—They MUST have won, all the ladies thought Jerry the best-looking and men KNEW Miss Joline was). Mr. Greenwood was on the ropes at the bell.

Whoops, my deah!

Two Tries at Marriage Should Be Enough for Any Woman, Says Writer

By BETTY BRAINERD

"DEAR MISS BRAINERD: My first marriage was a dismal failure, but there is a young man who wants to marry me now, but I am afraid to try it again. Do you think one try should be enough for me? I love him, but am afraid it will end up in the divorce courts and I could never go through that again. Nearly every one I know who has been divorced once gets another divorce."

My dear young lady, the privilege of divorce is profaned only by those who also profane marriage. There are certain internationally notorious women who have made marriage a profitable publicity stunt as well as what seems to be an incurable habit.

Marriage, to these addicts of the altar, is a narcotic hypodermically administered in dull intervals between divorces. They traffic on the high sea of matrimony and violate its freedom.

One would think after four marriages or so they would grow weary of the singular monotony of their lives. But no, marriage is merely a game, it would seem, and in some games—baseball, for instance—you get three strikes and the extra privilege of as many foul balls as you desire.

In other words, husbands, to them, are just foul balls, to be taken in stride.

But there are other ladies to whom the privilege of divorce is as sacred as the privilege of marriage.

Not all women who have been involved in one unhappy marriage are failures in their second. Indeed, I should say the percentage of successes in second marriages is greater than in first marriages.

In other words, marriage has at least prepared these women for marriage. It has given them a keener sense of vital values. They have learned by on unfortunate experience; and one such experience for them is enough.

They know how to get on with their husbands. They have developed their capacity for adjustment and understanding. And enduring happiness, sweet and sane and unselfish is the goal they seek—and achieve.

Put yourself in this latter class, my child, and I am sure you will make a success of your marriage. Be sure you are suited to one another. Two tries should be enough for any woman of quality and intelligence. A woman who tries three is not going in for marriage but for higher mathematics.

Or maybe just collecting specimens . . . collecting specimens as rare as herself!

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

YEARS AGO a gentleman of the Old South with a cultivated taste in coffee tried many coffees to find the perfect coffee flavor.
Every one was tantalizingly just not quite satisfying.
He determined to create a new coffee flavor. He worked for years combining and re-combining different coffees, until at last he achieved a blend that fully met his exacting standard.
That blend of choice coffees is Maxwell House, named for the charming old hotel where it won its first fame.
Today Maxwell House Coffee is pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale. Throughout the United States it is the fine coffee served daily in millions of homes. Your grocer has Maxwell House Coffee sealed in tin to protect its matchless flavor.

CAREERS CAUSE MANY WORRIES

Jane Doesn't Want Her Mate in the Navy

Must a Man Choose Between His Girl and His Life Work?—Grass Widow With Two Children — Should a Bride Leave Her Husband to Visit Her Sister?

Dear Miss Dix—To what extent do you think a girl should interfere with a man's chosen career when it is entirely distasteful to her? The career which I have in mind is that of naval officer. The hardships and separation of a life in the navy, the low salary with only periodical advancement and with no reward for ambition or initiative all speak against it. Should one give up the man, suffer the life or force him to give up the career he loves and the only one for which he is prepared, but which he is willing to sacrifice if the girl refuses to endure it? —JANE.

Answer: You are not very patriotic, are you, Jane? You haven't a very high ideal of the calling of the men on whom the safety of your country would depend if some foreign nation should attack us and threaten our liberty. They are our outer bulwark of defense. They literally stand between us and the world.

It seems to me that the career of a naval officer is as high as any man could aspire to and that it is a very fine thing that they should give their talents to their country instead of just employing them in chasing dollars. Nor do many women share your opinion that naval officers are such poor matrimonial risks. Probably the average of matrimonial happiness is just as great in the navy as out of it.

Indeed, some cynic has said that a girl who marries a naval officer has twice the chance of happiness that any other girl has because if she loves him she will be happy when her husband has his shore duty, while if she doesn't love him and loses her taste for him she will be happy half of the time when he is away at sea.

Of course, if you want a man who will be a go-getter and a money-maker and who will give you a fine house and jewels and cars and punch the home time clock regularly at 6 p. m., then you would be foolish to cast in your fortunes with the navy. You are predestined for some baker or banker or candlestick maker with a nice little shop around the corner.

Also, you are right in deciding this question before you get married and while the man still has a chance to choose between you and his life work. For it is a cruel and a dishonest thing for a woman to marry a man and then set about disorganizing his life.

Many women do this. I know a number of women who have married army and navy officers and then nagged them out of their professions because they didn't like to live at army posts or to be left alone so much. And I have seen these husbands, accustomed to command, accustomed to respect and deference, accustomed to filling a high place in society, miserable and unhappy in an environment to which they were not used. Some of them had degenerated into being small clerks; some were doing menial tasks; some, discouraged, had given up the task of trying to make a living at all.

Of course, some army and navy officers make successes in business, but not a great many do, because their whole training is against it.

Anyway, what right has a woman to interfere in a man's career to make him give up the work he loves? Perhaps the woman who has never worked herself has no idea what a man's profession can be to him. Perhaps she can never understand how completely it absorbs him, of what vital interest every smallest detail of it is to him, of how it has filled his thoughts by day and his dreams by night, how his hopes and ambitions are centered in it.

Perhaps she cannot understand the joy he has in achievement, the pride and rapture that thrills him when he succeeds, the unending joy he takes in just the exercising of craftsmanship.

No matter how much a man loves a woman this other love of his work is there, too, and if she forces him to sacrifice it she not only blights his life but she hurts his love for her beyond repair. He always holds it against her in his thoughts, and if he fails in the new and uncongenial work she forces him into he blames her for his failure and hates her for it.

So, if I were you, Jane, I would just get rid of my sailor lover and marry a good money maker and not interfere with his career.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Some two years ago I divorced my husband because he indulged too freely in liquor and narcotics. I have two little girls. I am still young and naturally like to have dates with boy friends. They all seem to like me just fine until they find out that I have been married and have children. Then they usually drop me instantly. Am I to be outcast from the friendship of the opposite sex and go through the balance of my life unhappy and lonely because of my unfortunate marriage?

—MRS. C. W.

Answer: It isn't the fact that you are a widow that handicaps you, it is the children. Very few men either want to marry a woman who has a ready-made family or are financially able to do so.

Nor need you blame the men too much for this. It is certainly asking a great deal of a man to expect him to undertake to support and educate two children who are nothing to him and for whom he is bound to feel a certain jealousy. The man who takes care of his own children nowadays when to rear a child is about as expensive as keeping a yacht, is forced to make many sacrifices of his own personal tastes and desires, and certainly it would take one with a very altruistic spirit to do this for some other man's children.

So you might as well face the truth that a widow with children has a poor chance of marrying unless she is lucky enough to run across some man of means who is a he-angel to boot. Certainly few women have charm enough to overcome this handicap.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young man who has been married a little over eight months. My married life is very happy with the exception that my wife wants to go and pay a visit of a few days to her sister, but I am not willing for her to do this. I hate to leave her even for the hours I am at work and I think it is unreasonable for her to be willing to leave me for a few days. What do you think?

—DORCHESTER.

Answer: I see no reason why your wife should not go to visit her sister. It will do her good to have a little change and make her appreciate you and her home the more. Nothing is a more fatal mistake than for husbands and wives never to be parted. They get fed up on each other. There would be fewer divorces if husbands and wives took more vacations from each other.

WEALTHY REALTY MAN IS RESTORED

R. S. Jarmon is a wealthy real estate dealer in San Antonio, and among his holdings owns a large apartment house. He resides at 307 South Cherry street, is a member of the Travis Park Methodist church and is well known and popular. He recently made the following statement regarding his experience with Sargon:

R. S. JARMON

"The Sargon treatment helped me as I have never been helped before. Previous to using this treatment I simply felt tired all the time, and it took an effort to even look after my real estate holdings. A little exercise left me completely jaded. I was badly underweight simply because my appetite was so poor I couldn't eat enough. I suffered from indigestion, and inactive liver and constipation, and became dreadfully run-down.

"My appetite is now better than it has been in years and I never have the slightest discomfort after eating. Every morning I arise feeling refreshed, and anxious for a hearty breakfast. Sargon removed every trace of indigestion. I am, of course, regaining my normal weight and strength.

"I had begun to despair of ever finding permanent relief from constipation when I began using Sargon Soft Mass Pills. I felt relief after the first few days and am now entirely rid of that trouble. I never felt dizzy from the action of Sargon Soft Mass Pills like from many other laxatives I had used.

"I now feel good all the time; sleep well; am full of new energy and anxious to be on the go all the time."

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls from the Renfro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; in Electra from Lough's Drug store; and in Burkburnett from Burkburnett Pharmacy.—Adv.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We cannot help thinking at times of that thin faced man in dusty clothes who, standing in a courtyard near Vera Cruz, turned to the soldiers and said, "Now boys, shoot here"—he held his hand over his heart—"don't hit my face."

And then our heart draws our thought to the Pennsylvania Military college where Aguirre's 15-year-old son learned with a white face of the execution of his father. Brigadier General Hyatt said, "My boy, you must be a good soldier, a husband to your mother, a father to your sister." "Yes, sir," answered Cadet Aguirre, saluting. That was all. But military training could not save the lad from many a secret heartache.

We read Mark Sullivan's interesting article of March 31, in which he talked of the preservation of local land marks, of old trees, old homes—of the individuality of each town or section. Just the day before, we had read of John D. Rockefeller Jr. having wiped the once flourishing colonial village of Eastview off the map by outright purchase of this hamlet on the outskirts of Tarrytown. The village, including houses built in the days of Peter Stuyvesant, is to be razed by May 1. Frank Arthur Vanderlip ten years ago bought 100-year-old Sparta, near Scarborough-on-Hudson, to rid himself of unwanted neighbors.

March Mentor carries a story of a white oak tree that owns itself. It spreads its branches on the crest of a picturesque hill and the citizens of Athens, Ga., love and care for it. It is about 60 feet high and its girth several feet above the ground measures approximately twelve and a half feet. Every year it is said to receive the homage of admiring pilgrims.

On South Main street, in Houston, Texas, there is a great live oak that spreads its branches over the sidewalks before its home and into the street. We heard that the title to the old home where this tree stands carries a clause protecting the tree from molestation. It is a thing of beauty. There is another live oak in Houston, near San Jacinto street, that is the most beautiful tree we have ever seen. Its low, broad spreading branches are ideal places for children to play and there are almost always children beneath it. We have stood beneath it and looked up into its greenness and felt the glory of God in the wonder of His handiwork.

A recent Saturday Evening Post article gives us these figures: In 1914 fiction was 40,000,000 copies out of 175,000,000 books printed. In 1925 fiction was only 30,000,000 out of nearly 425,000,000 copies. America has gone in for serious reading.

"More than 2,000,000 Americans are defective mentally to such an extent that we are forced to provide them with institutional care."

We do not agree with those who criticize Editor Gene Howe for expressing his opinions in his "colyum" under a name not his own. There's no disguise in his nom de plume. He may wear fancy dress, but he wears no mask. For ourselves, we are all for the man who isn't afraid to say what he thinks.

We have read much of Mr. Bok's work in past years and realize the extent of his worth to America. But after his years in the magazine world, it seems to us that the most perfect donation to the idealization of American people is found in that 50 acres in Florida where he had Frederick Law Oldmstead make the desert bloom. We have not seen it, but we have seen pictures of it. To an ardent lover of nature, the pictures are inspiring. A huge garden of green, alive with all the gorgeous flowers of a tropic country, a sanctuary for birds and at the summit, the "Singing Tower." The bells all told, weigh 123,000 pounds, the largest weighing about 11 tons and the smallest seven pounds. The bells are played by Anton Brees, a Belgian, who learned his art in the carillon school at Malines.

Beauty is a part of religion to us and in Florida, Mr. Bok has given America beauty of sight and sound

Waste at Its Worst

WHILE he was secretary of commerce, Herbert Hoover did a great deal of useful and important work in showing us how to eliminate waste.

The productivity of our factories and the general level of our prosperity were raised to higher levels when people discovered better ways to use their resources without wasting any of them.

There was one form of waste, however, that Hoover was unable to reach—the costliest, most inexcusable form of all; the waste of brains.

In the April issue of Hygeia, the health magazine of the American Medical association, Donald A Laird tells how a psychologist recently descended on a group of ordinary day laborers who were busy digging a sewer ditch and gave them intelligence tests.

Most of the laborers showed just about the kind of result you would expect. But three or four of them, to the amazement of the psychologist, proved that they had unusual intelligence. Their brains were keen enough for them to become members of the professions. The marks they got on the tests were about what would be expected, say, of an average good lawyer.

Yet, fitted by nature to work with their brains, they were doing jobs that any ordinary half wit with a husky physique could do just as well as they.

Waste of that kind is waste that hurts the whole nation. It is more serious than waste of oil, of coal, of power, of timber, of soil. Yet it is a matter that seldom gets any attention. We expect it to right itself. We take it for granted that every man will somehow find his way into the place where he can exercise all of his faculties and powers to the best advantage—and carelesaly overlook the hundreds and thousands of cases where this fails to happen.

The psychologist who tested these ditch diggers didn't bother to find out why the three or four men of above-the-average intelligence happened to be digging ditches. Probably we wouldn't be much wiser if he had. The thing is not uncommon, and there is a variety of reasons for it. We're fairly familiar with most of them.

Much as we talk about the "glorious opportunities" of our country, the plain fact remains that many, many people never get a fair break. It is a lot of poppycock to say that every man gets just what he is entitled to. Many a perfect dumbbell who had the good fortune to be born of wealthy parents is occupying a pleasant, highly salaried position today while another man, with a brain 10 times as good as his, who came from the depths of poverty and misfortune, and never had a chance to develop his latent abilities, is working as a day laborer.

That is the kind of waste that demands checking most of all. Suppose we do waste gasoline, steam, food, electricity or such-like things; we are rich, and it won't cripple us. But we are not any too rich in brains. We never can be. And every brain that lies unused when it might have been put to work in the service of the whole nation represents a loss that can never be made good.

Death Under the Wheels

UNLESS the motorists of the country are very careful, the toll of traffic accidents can be expected to rise sharply during the coming month.

The arrival of warm weather brings a much greater number of cars on the highways than the winter months had seen. The increased congestion, naturally, renders the possibility of accidents greater, and puts on each driver an added responsibility for care and caution.

In addition, many cars did not get the care during the winter that they get in the summer. A number of drivers will be using cars that need mechanical adjustments or repairs—in brakes, steering knuckles and so on—in order to make them really safe. This, of course, adds to the hazards of driving.

Every motorist should see to it that his car is in good working order, and should bear in mind that conditions are more hazardous now than they have been during the last few months. In this way the "spring rush" of traffic can be robbed of its terrors.

An Inland New York

INDUSTRIALISTS and business men in the Middle West are already looking forward to the time when a "second New York" will appear on the shores of one of the Great Lakes to handle much of the great inland empire's import and export trade.

Eventual opening of the St. Lawrence canal—which is taken for granted in the Middle West—will, it is believed, be a tremendous help to the industry and trade of the interior. Such lake ports as Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo and Buffalo are making extensive plans for harbor development. They see a new era of prosperity on the horizon, and are getting ready to make the most of it.

In some sections, particularly the East, the St. Lawrence waterway is not much talked of. But the Midwest wants it, and wants it badly.

Hoover's Medicine Ball

THE VARYING METHODS of exercise that presidents use to keep themselves in physical trim are interesting to observe. Roosevelt played tennis, boxed and rode horseback. Neither Taft nor Wilson bothered greatly with exercise. Harding played golf. Coolidge took walks and rode an electric horse. And now Hoover brings out a medicine ball, for years a favorite with professional athletes, and tosses it around the White House lawn.

A noteworthy item is the fact that he often invites cabinet members to join him. Roosevelt's official family, because of the president's fondness for tennis, used to be known as the "tennis cabinet." Is Hoover's to go down in history as the "medicine ball cabinet?"

MORE VIOLATED THAN THE PROHIBITION LAW

The law most commonly broken in this land of the free and the home of the brave is the law against swearing. It's getting so that it is dangerous for little children to walk down the street. They are sure to get their ears full of words that they readily learn how to misuse. Think about it, men and women.

MUD IN THE SOONER STATE

These Oklahoma roads are almost as muddy as state politics, in spots. Fact of the business is that we made several unsuccessful attempts to negotiate our muddy system before abandoning the favorite whoopie in favor of Mr. Frisco's decidedly slow transportation.

But in view of the fact that all the colleges had turned out for Easter and so many little female mouse's ears were on the streak of rust, we didn't mind so much in the end.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS — By Fontaine Fox

The Day Book of a New Yorker
Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, April 3.—It costs $10 to wink at certain ladies in New York. They are police women. There are about 300 of them scattered throughout the city and, while they do not invite flirtations, they are looking out for them.

Jacques Romano, the psychologist and chemist, came to town the other day and said his say, leaving me, for one, baffled. He said that poorly fitted shoes cause inefficiency, ill health, juvenile delinquency and minor crimes.

"That's news to me. Although I thought all they caused were bunions, corns and ingrown toe nails.

What was called a "billion dollar audience," attended one of those sumptuous openings of a new movie show. Included among the ticket purchasers were E. T. Stotesbury, J. Leonard Replogle, E. F. Hutton, J. S. Phipps, H. C. Phipps, Jules Bache, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, Barclay Warburton, John C. Kings, Jerome Kern and Florenz Ziegfeld.

Ah, but wait. New York, for once, did not enjoy this distinction, or something. The show opened in Miami, which is competing with California for superlative pleasures and experiences. The fact is, there have been many billion dollar audiences in New York theaters, only nobody took the trouble to count the bank book balances of the customers. To Miami it was, I suppose, something might; to New York, it would have been just one of those things.

After all this time it seems strange not to see John Barrymore on a New York stage; Hollywood appears to have captured him, profile and all. . . . Ralph Barton, the caricaturist, is in Florida, somewhere, while his book continues a best seller. He likes New York appreciation and Florida weather. The fellow who used to sell hot dogs and sauerkraut in Broadway. Where's he? Probably goes out of business with the advent of spring. Broadwayites go in for hot dogs on cold nights. . . . Will Rogers is always in an automobile when not throwing a rope or a new epigram, so he's practically out of the scene. Maybe the presence of a whole troup of cowboys from the West has sort of discomfited him. . . . And Fred Stone, whose place on the stage Rogers is taking as a friendly gesture, continues his convalescence in the South.

In its cold and stately mien, Fifty-seventh street, between Broadway and Fifth avenue, present the smartest shopping thoroughfare of New York. It is the city's answer to the Parisian Rue de le Paix.

On the street you not only find the most expensive stores but also the most expensively dressed people. They disdain Fifth avenue, which is merely the popular conception of the smart shopping street.

Also, there is Madison avenue. It seems to have been swallowed up, so far as fame is concerned, by Park avenue and Fifth avenue. Yet it really is one of the dignified old streets of the city. I like to pass through it on warm afternoons and to note the old buildings that still stand with all their rigid dignity in spite of their proximity to the skyscrapers.

On Sunday afternoons, too, this is the street where many of the social register prefer to stroll, because Park avenue has not that warmth to be found in Madison. Besides, a good many people go to Park avenue to see the smart set, and so the smart set parades on Madison avenue to avoid them.

I give up. I guess it's a game of tag.

The Once Over
By H. I. PHILLIPS

Claims that the intelligence level in America is rising have been ruined again. This time by the introduction of a new game combining golf with archery.

PHILLIPS

At Palm Beach, Miami, Ormond and other winter resorts foursomes composed of two players with golf clubs and two with bows and arrows have been disporting about the links, thereby adding immeasureably to the perils of each game.

It is the pinnacle of freakish pastimes, but you've got to admit that the presence of a few careless persons with bows and arrows on any golf course does a lot to speed up the ancient Scotch game.

No golf player is going to feel like striking a series of plastic poses on a green when there is an impatient flapper 50 yards away waiting to propel an arrow capable of piercing a one-inch plank.

There are many things that may cramp a golfer's style, but few things will wreck it like an arrow in his plus-fours.

Not even a Bobby Jones could retain his form and composure on a golf course if he felt and looked like an early Pilgrim father upon whose anatomy a blood thirsty Indian had just scored a bull's eye.

The more one thinks about this bow and arrow innovation the more one concludes that for the purpose of speeding up the game archery paraphernalia might well be a legitimate part of every golfer's equipment. It would work wonders in the worthy cause of reducing the players on crowded links.

Nothing, in fact, would do more to open up the game and the course on a Saturday or Sunday than bows and arrows, except pistols.

Pistols, of course, would be ideal.

They are what golf has always needed, and needs today more than ever.

Combine golf with rabbit-shooting and you would get a game that would make a man think twice before he played it. And there is the real trouble with golf, people don't think twice before they take it up. They don't even think once.

● Why will a woman, who can't hit a fall farther than her grandmother can hurl a paper plate, go out day after day for a jolly 18 holes? Why will a man, who requires a dozen practice swings (?) to drive a ball as far as his wife can throw a fistful of confetti, fool around all summer with every club in his bag? Why will a group of four doddering merchants in knee-trousers spend more time on a putting-green than Grant took for his entire wilderness campaign?

Answer: Because the players immediately behind them have no deadly weapons!

This archery idea, after all, is not to be condemned. It holds out a lot of promise.

TAKE THAT!

Quitaque Secures Graded Road to Floyd County

Special to The Record News

QUITAQUE, Texas, April 3.—The Quitaque chamber of commerce today secured a road to connect up with the graded road south of here in Floyd county. This will open up a good territory to this city. This was one of the projects of the chamber of commerce for this year, and will mean much to the development of the fertile territory south of here. There is about 3,000 acres of new land in that section being put under cultivation.

FARMER TELLS WHY COYOTES SHOULD DIE

Editor The Record News: I read the articles by K. O. Williams and Mrs. H. W. Benton against the use of poison to exterminate wolves.

They certainly do not know the detriment that coyotes do to fowls and your stock. They cause thousands of dollars loss to the farmers each year in the way of destroying young calves, chickens and turkeys, and if that is a friend to man I fail to see it.

I presume Mrs. Benton and Mr. Williams live in the city and don't know the damage that coyotes and wolves do. I am highly in favor of killing the innocent (?) coyote in any manner possible "for material gain" as Mrs. Benton puts it, for God gave us intelligence to protect our property and I figure that calves, fowls, etc., that coyotes prey upon are property. You might just as well say not to kill the boll worm or boll weevil for material gain as to say not to kill the wolf for the same purpose. If they are not a destructive animal why do the different state governments pay a bounty for their extermination?

I am a dear lover of dogs and all animals that are useful but I detest the sly cunning and destroying wolf. I imagine that if the above writers had a nice bunch of turkeys and chickens and that nice friend of man, the coyote, were to get among them and slay about half of them that they would change their opinion pronto and hit for a drug store and purchase some wolf poison.

Mrs. Benton asked one and all to protect "our friends and the pals of children." Imagine the coyote a friend to children—an animal that never loses that wild vicious nature, it matters not how much you pet it.

So Mr. Williams and Mrs. Benton if you want to realize the true nature of a coyote get out on the farm where two or three of them hang around and try raising poultry.

Hello, Carnation
Hello, Texas

Leading TEXANS Welcome CARNATION

A few of the many greetings received from prominent Texans

The fact that your company has turned its attention to Texas and determined to locate a milk condensing plant in one of our cities, and the further fact that you announce that you have under consideration the location of plants other than the one projected at Schulenburg are gratifying to the citizens of this state.

GOVERNOR

As Commissioner of Agriculture of this state I desire to welcome your company here on behalf of the farmers of Texas, as we feel that enterprises of this kind will be worth a great deal to the people in the locality where it is established.

Commissioner of Agriculture

Schulenburg welcomes Carnation. And I know this welcome is enthusiastically echoed by all our neighbors throughout the wide area that Carnation's activities will benefit.

Mayor, Schulenburg, Texas

Texas is a great consumer of dairy products. Now we are to play a bigger part in producing them. We shall welcome milk from Texas' own "Contented Cows."

President, State Fair of Texas

It is a pleasure to welcome a sound, nationally known organization like the Carnation Milk Products Company to the State of Texas.

President, American Exchange National Bank, Dallas

Texas needs a greater dairying industry. Carnation's coming is a fine thing for the state.

Vice-President, Farm & Ranch

So the "Contented Cows" are coming to Texas! This is first-rate news. We can't have too many business organizations of the standing of the Carnation Company.

President, East Texas Chamber of Commerce

Carnation's establishment here is good for Texas and should particularly encourage the dairying industry and the breeding of fine dairy cattle. It should also help the general effort to bring about diversification of crops and what is produced on the farm.

Austin, Texas

Let us hope that this first Carnation condensery in Texas will not be the last. The rich Texas market is a prize worth cultivating intensively.

President, Texas Power & Light Co.

Two old friends exchange greetings to celebrate the coming of Carnation's newest condensery to Texas

TEXAS and Carnation are old friends, and that's a fact. It was a good many years ago that Texas elected Carnation its favorite brand of evaporated milk. And Texas hasn't changed its mind!

Now, we believe, we are going to be better friends than ever. Now Texans are going to buy Carnation Milk from Texas' own "Contented Cows." Today we start building at Schulenburg, down in Fayette County, Carnation's Texas Condensery No. 1, making forty-one in all which Carnation has established in fine dairying regions all over the world—in the United States, Canada, Germany, France, and Holland.

Millions of Carnation Dollars for Texas Dairy Farmers

Here in a state famed of yore for its thundering herds of beef cattle, Carnation will lead the way in the development of the profitable industry of dairy farming.

A million Carnation dollars, it is estimated, will be paid for Texas milk in the very first year after the opening of this new condensery. And the pay checks will keep getting bigger, keeping step with the growth of dairying throughout the great fertile area surrounding Carnation's new location. Besides, Carnation plans even wider expansion, with another choice site in Northern Texas already acquired for future development.

This great extension program means much to Carnation, of course. But it also means much to Texas. It means diversification of Texas agriculture, increase and stabilization of Texas prosperity, and a year-round market for Texas dairymen—with a pay day every month.

And the Best of Texas Milk for Texas Housewives

With Carnation's "Lone Star" Condensery in operation—and that will be in a very few months now—Texas housewives may buy the very best of Texas milk in the familiar red and white Carnation cans.

It will be pure milk, and rich milk, and delicious milk, as Carnation always is. It will be safeguarded by every scientific precaution learned in thirty years of Carnation experience. And you may well feel that it will be better milk for you to use—this milk from home-state "Contented Cows," produced by a company which has settled down in Texas to grow and prosper with the Texans.

We are proud of the cordial welcome which this great state has given Carnation's coming. And we shall endeavor to deserve that cordiality by building an industry which will bring some measure of added prosperity to all Texas.

"Thank you, Texas"

Texas' cordial welcome to Carnation means much to me. Texas gave me my start—in a little adobe grocery that I ran in El Paso years ago. That is where I first thought of evaporating milk. And now that Carnation is building its newest condensery in the Lone Star State I can only say, as friendly memories of old days crowd into the new picture, Thank you, Texas.

Dried Fruits

Dried fruits were an important addition to the food supply of many of the American Indians during the winter months and they practiced the drying of apples, berries and other fruits many years before the coming of the white man.

If you have eaten properly dried fruit you have noticed that its flavor is richer than the fresh fruit. The secret of this wonderful flavor is because the fruits for drying are allowed to become fully ripe before being picked, while most of the fruits shipped to market in the fresh state must be picked while partly green. Most of the finest food and flavoring materials of the fruit are produced in the last day or two before perfect ripeness is reached, and fruit picked before this time never attains the same flavor.

The drying of fruit is resorted sometimes to save a crop when the market price for fresh fruit is low, but this is by no means the usual practice, because farmers have found that certain varieties of figs and grapes, for example, contain a larger amount of sugar than others and are therefore more suitable for drying and have a richer flavor.

The fruit may be either sun-dried in warm localities or dried in dehydrating plants especially built for the purpose. Either of these methods are quite wholesome. Some of the fruit, such as prunes, are dipped in lye to facilitate the peeling of the fruit or to soften the skin so that the moisture will evaporate. This lye solution does not injure the fruit because it is carefully removed by rinsing in pure water. However, many fruits are subjected to fumigation with sulphur fumes. This adds a small amount of sulphurous acid to the fruit and while it gives keeping qualities, I believe it is a bad practice from a health standpoint, and therefore recommend the unsulphured fruits. The sulphured fruit also has a slightly acid flavor that is not present in the unsulphured.

The dried fruits are much more concentrated than the fresh and are therefore quite a nutritious food. They are relished by children and are very desirable as a means of satisfying their craving for sweets. Dried figs, dates, raisins and prunes are known and used throughout the world. However, there are a number of other fruits which are less known but equally as valuable in a dried state.

In this country we use considerable quantities of dried peaches, apricots, pears, apples, nectarines and currants, but it is also possible to dry cranberries, raspberries, rhubarb, cherries, persimmons, mangoes, bananas and a number of other fruits. In some cases, as in the banana, the drying produces a distinct change of the flavor nevertheless quite palatable and nutritious.

I believe that the time will come when the public will demand and be given an unsulphured fruit just as in the past the demand for wholewheat bread has been built up by the general recognition of its advantages.

The dried fruits do not contain as much acid as the fresh fruits because as the fruit acids are reduced, they are slowly transformed into sugar by the ripening process. The dried fruits are excellent energy foods and at the same time are useful for increasing the alkalinity of the body.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Friedreich's Ataxia

Question—A. O. writes: "I have a boy 15 years old whose case has been diagnosed as Friedreich's ataxia. When I asked this doctor about it he told me to read up on it, but I have been able to find very little about it. I will appreciate any information you can give me."

Answer—This is a hereditary disease in most cases. There are changes in the spinal cord and cerebellum causing them to be smaller than usual. The walk is swaying and irregular, resembling that of a drunken person. In making voluntary movements the action is exaggerated and the hand sometimes moves around the object and then pounces upon it. There are also cases where the body sways in a regular movement. The speech is slow or explosive, the expression is dull, but the mental power is usually maintained in the early part of the disease. The patient may walk on the outer side of the feet. This disease is usually considered incurable, but some beneficial results can be obtained through muscle re-education by training the patient to perform complicated muscular feats. I believe that a fasting and dieting regime might prove helpful as the disease somewhat resembles hereditary chorea, and I have had several cases of this latter trouble which responded to this method of treatment. I will be glad to send you instructions if you will write again, enclosing a large self addressed stamped envelope.

Has Extra Toe

Question—O. M. K. writes: "On my right foot I have six toes. This sixth toe gives me a lot of bother. I can't wear a shoe comfortably on that foot, and I can't walk any distance. What would you advise?"

Answer—The best policy may be to have the extra toe removed by a competent surgeon.

MORAN: Well, Big Boy, yo' is a hero today.

MACK: What did I do?

MORAN: Yo' chased that general.

MACK: I was tryin' to beat him to the exit.

MORAN: Yo' is goin' to be decorated fo' gallantry in th' face of th' enemy.

MACK: What's that gallontry?

MORAN: That's bravery.

MACK: Oh, they gets it by th' gallon down here.

MORAN: Yo' don't understand.

MACK: I'll take a pint.

MORAN: Yo' don't get me.

MACK: And that enemy ain't goin' to get me.

MORAN: I means gallantry in th' face of th' enemy.

MACK: If they is goin' to be any gallons in faces, I wants them in my face.

VET AND ROOKIE HURLERS TO DIVIDE WORK AGAINST CHISOX

ALL CATCHERS TO TAKE PART

Bean at First Base; Turgeon Able to Play

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Spudder veteran and rookie flingers are going to have their fling when the quarreling Chisox play three days starting tomorrow at J. Alvin Gardner's gardens. Skipper James Cato Galloway will use two shuckers or more as necessity dictates in each of the trio of combats and this will assure that at least six of the nine hurlers on the Wichita Falls roster will toe the hill against the wan socks.

George Payne and Milt Steengrafe, veteran right handers and Harold Wiltse, the lefthanded hook expert from St. Louis, may be expected to show Mr. Blackburne's bad boys some baffling stuff.

Taber Ready to Toil

Ed Taber, the southpaw from New Haven; Fred Stiely, another lefty, the stocky fellow who has looked so good to date; Chick Galeria, the slender southpaw back from Abilene and Cy Smith, the big righthander from the Piedmont loop, all probably will get into action.

Except possibly Taber, The Eastern leaguer has rounded into condition slowly but he showed yesterday in working a few innings in a practice contest that he is about ready to toil a few rounds, even against big league opposition. Taber certainly looked like a real pitcher yesterday, to further complicate the mound situation, which in addition to Wilse involves such fine prospects as Stiely, Galeria, Ed Ellis and Taber himself as southpaw possibilities.

Plenty of Catchers

The catching burden will be divided. Pete Lapan and Bob Snyder will do service back of the log and Jack Crouch also will play if his injured ankle will stand the strain.

The death Tuesday of Dallas Clements' father at Dallas leaves only Bill Bean as the first baseman—that is, the only first sacker on the Spudder roster. Bill was slated to play in the games with the Giant yannigans but those tilts were rained out. Now he has an injured finger. A hard-luck fellow is this young Mr. Bean. However, his busted digit will permit him to play and if he needs help there is young Lefty Cox, the local lad and a comer, too, as understudy.

Except possibly for Pete Turgeon, who is limping on a bum prop, the rest of the lineup us set, and the starry keystoner probably will be in shape to play this week-end.

Never in the history of Wow street has there been so many panics with so little confusion.

There wasn't one broker who didn't lasso, and hog-tie himself with ticker tape.

The last Monday in March before the second Tuesday in bankruptcy was the day of daze.

On that anniversary of big business and capillary tremors over eight million shares of gilt-edged subpoenas were bought, sold, exchanged, transferred and remitted without notice.

Call money was singing in the twilight like the bloodhounds chasing Eliza across the ice. If the dogs had been smart they would have come back home for their rubber boots.

Laufer Wins 100-Yard National Swim Event

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Walter Laufer of the Lake Shore Athletic club, Chicago, won the 100-yard free style event at the opening of the national swimming championships at the New York Athletic club pool tonight. Laufer set a new championship record of 61 4-5 seconds, one-fifth of a second better than the previous mark set by Johnny Weissmuller, and four-fifths of a second slower than the world record.

Texas Speedster Ties World Record

Claude Bracey, Rice institute dash star, equaled the world's record of 9.5 seconds for the 100-yard dash, at the University of Texas relay games. To Bracey's right are Leland of Texas Christian university, who was third, and Simpson, Ohio State, second.

OUR GEORGE Blackerby has been sent home. But NOT as a measure of discipline. Blackie, Wichita Falls' one and only contribution to major league baseball, was granted permission to come home a couple of days by Manager Blackburne of the White Sox. Georgie will rejoin the Chicago club when it opens a three-day stand tomorrow at Athletic park. And so far as it being necessary to discipline him, one could about as well picture such a chap as Howard Fitzgerald kicking over the traces.

Watching the Spudders workout yesterday, Blackie was highly impressed with the looks of Jim's men. He also sounds a warning that the Dallas Steers, whom the Sox have played several games, look mighty formidable. In fact, Blackerby regards the Dallas club as a pennant contender. "The Steers have a fine pitching staff, a veteran infield and a well-balanced team," George said. "They could use another outfielder. But even as they stand now they are going to be hard to beat."

BLACKERBY, incidentally, apparently stands a good chance of staying with the pale hose. About 50-50, one would say. Reynolds, Hoffman, Metzler and Mostil are four outfielders who will be retained. Blackerby, Randy Moore and George Watwood, a trio of Texas leaguers, are fighting for the fifth place, according to all I can learn. And it seems to be about a tossup, judging from what the boys say who write pieces for Chicago newspapers.

SPEEDIER and cheaper transportation of minor league clubs as achieved by motor may be more costly than the moguls first believed. Indeed, there is an angle to this moving of players by bus and auto that may cause it to be abandoned to a great extent. That is the danger of accident. Death and serious injury have taken toll this spring of ball players in motor smashups and one mishap was narrowly averted.

Denny Williams, an outfielder for the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league was killed several days ago and as this was written, Tommy Thevenow, Philadelphia Philly shortstop, was fighting death following a crash in Florida. A motor bus conveying a coast league club caught fire recently but disaster was prevented.

Of course, there will be accidents, on rail or highway. But the club owners are going to be assured that careful and efficient drivers are at the wheel in the future when their costly athletes are traveling via motor.

French Tennis Star Reinstated

Paul Feret Is Restored To Amateur Standing

PARIS, April 3. (UP)—Paul Feret, one of the foremost tennis players of France, who turned professional and accompanied Suzanne Langlen to the United States under the auspices of C. C. Pyle, has been reinstated as an amateur by the French Lawn Tennis federation.

Special amnesty was granted Feret after he had turned over to the federation the amount of money paid him by Pyle during the American tour.

No Amnesty for Suzanne

No such amnesty will be granted in the case of Mlle. Lenglen, the federation insisted.

The French amateur rule requires a professional to quit tennis for five years before he or she is eligible for reinstatement as an amateur. In the case of Feret, the rule was waived.

Strong influence was brought to bear on behalf of the young star. It was urged that he did not realize the seriousness of the step to which he was persuaded by Pyle several years ago. It also was pointed out with characteristic French naivete that professional tennis had not proven a profitable venture, and that Pyle had abandoned his troupe to its fate. To the French mind, this goes along way towards justifying Feret's return to the amateur ranks.

Barred on Cup Play

Realizing, or at least anticipating, that there would be a protest from other nations if Feret were to represent France in Davis cup play, the federation has accompanied his reinstatement with the stipulation that he is not to play on the French team. He will be eligible, however, for the French national championships.

Smith is 20 years old and lives at Joplin, Mo., where he is the local professional.

HALL DEFEATED BY HUMPHRIES

Pug Outboxes Cyclone In Fast 10-Round Mill

Cagey Pug Humphries from Oklahoma outboxed Cyclone Hall of Childress last night in a slashing, sparkling 10-round mill at the Palace theater. They were boxing in the windup of Alex Ross' weekly show and it was another excellent card attended by a capacity house.

Greater experience and cleverness of Humphries offset the hitting power and aggressiveness of Hall, though the Cyclone was boring in and dangerous at all times.

Tommy Scott outfought Rudy Hodge in eight fast rounds in the semi-windup. It was an interesting mill.

Training Camp Chatter

ATHENS TAKES FEATURE GAME

Texans Beat Oklahoma Five In National Tourney

CHICAGO, April 3. (UP)—Athens, Texas, powerful offensively and almost airtight defensively, turned in the outstanding performance of today's play in the annual national interscholastic basket ball tourney.

The real ability of the Texans did not come out in their first game yesterday when they defeated the Cleveland, Tenn., team, 44 to 22. But this afternoon they were opposed by Central High of Oklahoma City, one of the best teams to enter the tourney, and showed their class to win, 24 to 15.

The score is not indicative of the speed of the game. It was one of the best games of the tourney.

The Texans have a powerful offense, which is good enough for 18 or 20 points against good teams and they apparently figured to win with that many points, for their defense is the best seen in the tournament. The team has size, passing, and the kind of endurance which allows it to play at its best in the final quarters.

In the other featured game in the afternoon, Crane Tech, Chicago, one of the pre-tournament favorites, was beaten 38 to 30 by Warren, Ark. Warren has a small but an aggressive team which may cause trouble to any opponent.

Joes, Colo., a team which came from a town of less than 100 population, exhibited good basket ball in defeating Laurel, Del., 41 to 7.

Virginia Wilson, Helen Hicks Defeated in Golf

PINEHURST, N. C., April 3 (UP)—Four of the outstanding women golf stars of the country remained in the running tonight for the coveted North and South open championship as a result of the elimination of a quartet of hardly less notable feminine players in the quarter finals this afternoon.

The day's matches were marked by two principal features, the elimination of the Long Island girl, Helen Hicks, and the 19-hole battle between two Chicago stars, Virginia Van Wie and Virginia Wilson. Miss Van Wie eked out an extra-hole victory after overcoming a five-hole lead.

BIG LEAGUERS, LARGE, SMALL

They Range From 155 to 230 Pounds in Weight

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, April 3. (UP)—Jim Weaver, Washington Senators' pitcher, is the largest player in the major leagues and Walter (Doc) Gautreau, Boston Braves' infielder, is the smallest.

Weaver measures 6 feet, 6½ inches in height and tips the scales at 230 pounds; Gautreau is 5 feet, 2⅛ inches in height and weighs 155 pounds.

Jumbo Elliott outweighs Weaver by five pounds, tipping the beams at 235 pounds, but the Brooklyn southpaw measures only 6 feet, 3 inches—3½ inches shorter than Weaver.

Jackie Tavener, Cleveland shortstop, is the American league's smallest player and weighs 140 pounds—15 less than Gautreau—but he is 5 feet, 5 inches in height—2½ inches taller than the Boston midget.

Buckeye Is Giant

Garland Buckeye, formerly with Cleveland and the New York Giants once held the distinction of being the heaviest player in the big leagues, but the Giants released him this spring. Buckeye weighs 245 pounds when in shape.

Major league rosters show that 18 players weighing 200 pounds or more are in training. There are seven players measuring 6 feet, 4 inches or better. The midgets are much scarcer, only 10 players weighing 150 pounds or less and but eight measuring 5 feet, 6 inches or under.

The Giants, true to their name, have three players weighing 200 pounds or more. Jack Scott is 6 feet, 2 inches tall and scales 205 pounds. Carl Mays is 6 feet and weighs 204 pounds. Bill Terry is 6 feet, 1¼ and weighs 200 pounds.

The Detroit Tigers have three players of Gargantuan proportions in Dale Alexander, recruit first baseman who measures 6 feet, 3 inches and weighs 215 pounds, Fred Pipgras, brother of the Yankees' pitcher, who is 6 feet, 4 inches tall and weighs 220 pounds, and Rob Roy Fothergill, who is only 5 feet, 10½ in height but scales 200 pounds when in shape and considerably more when not in the best of condition.

Babe and Lou Huge

The Yankees' two biggest players are Babe Ruth, who is 6 feet 2 inches in height and weighs 215 pounds in playing condition, and Lou Gehrig, who is 6 feet, 1 inch tall and scales 200 pounds.

The Cardinals have three of the smallest players in the majors—Ernest Orsatti, who is 5 feet, 7¾ inches in height and weighs 154 pounds; Fred Haney, who is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 165, and Andy High, who is 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighs 158.

The Pirates have two tiny players in Sparky Adams, who is only 5 feet, 4½ inches tall and weighs 151, and Lloyd Waner, who is 5 feet, 7 inches in height and weighs 148.

Hack Wilson of the Cubs is the stockiest player in the majors, measuring but 5 feet, 6 inches despite his 185 pounds.

The SPORTLIGHT

For Your Consideration

You frequently hear of the large sums employed for athletic equipment and athletic development at Yale, Harvard, Michigan, Illinois, California, Stanford, Princeton and other universities where from $800,000 to $500,000 is spent each year.

This money is well spent for gymnasiums, playing fields, for track, tennis, football, baseball, soccer, golf and the rest.

But consider the case of Lincoln Memorial university, at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., where Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee intersect. It was from here that Lincoln's family moved to Kentucky. It was one of the great dreams of Lincoln to provide educational opportunities for what is now the oldest type of the original American stock.

At Lincoln Memorial university there are now a thousand students, probably keener for an education than any other group in the United States. They have no gymnasium. They have no swimming pool. They have no football field nor baseball field. They have no place for recreation or sport in the greatest of all ages for games and play. Many of them start their day at 3 o'clock in the morning, to do a half-day's work around a mountain farm before reaching the class room.

Lincoln Memorial university needs $100,000 for athletic equipment and for playing fields more than the big universities of the East and the West need from one dollar to a million. Where millions are being spent for physical development and for recreation in other universities already well supplied, they have nothing in the way of equipment, in the way of playing fields. You will never find a finer gathering than these young mountaineers to whom an education is one of the serious things of life. They are not asking for any charity. They are not asking for anything. But the need is there.

When you consider that this is the greatest age of sport ever known, and this is now the richest country in the world, their lot is something of a travesty, and unbelievable episode in the nation's life. It is a cause to which every sportsman in the United States should subscribe. It would be a fine thing if every athletic department of every college and university in the country would mail a check addressed to the treasurer of Lincoln Memorial university, Cumberland Gap, Tenn. Here would be further proof that college athletics can get beyond any local selfishness or narrow needs for future athletic luxuries. There is no organization to stand back of any such plan. Each contribution will have to be spontaneous in the knowledge that it is doing a far greater good than any contributor can know.

Dear Mr. Rice: The following deduction is a slant on the performance of athletics and athletic teams which I have never seen brought out in print and which is being forwarded to you for whatever disposition you may care to make of it, including the waste paper basket.

During the world war, while I was serving as an officer in the air service, I noted that certain flyers would perform exceptionally brilliant deeds on a certain day, and be way off form on other occasions. Tracing this through, I notice the same applied to football teams, and also to tennis players, prizefighters, etc., and this is what I find:

Take an athlete who is closely coordinated in mind and muscle, and of a nervous, rather emotional type, and you will find that he will perform at his best on a clear, dry day. This same flyer or athlete will also be way off form when the atmosphere is muggy or when there is a good deal of moisture in the air. On the other hand, the stoical type of athlete does not seem to mind this change in the weather.

I have always advanced the premise that the reason why Dempsey made such a poor showing in Philadelphia was due to an excessive amount of moisture in the air.

I have noticed the wet weather affect good football players, and where the fumbling was more often the result of a certain lethargy of mind rather than of moisture on the ball. I also have noticed that six-day bicycle riders who are leading the van were prone not to be as alert on a wet afternoon as when the weather was dry.

I wish you would follow out this line of thought for your own conclusions, so as to see whether or not you concur with me in this premise.

As far as I am concerned, it has happened so many times in my experience that I am quite of the opinion that there must be some substantial truth in its.

—IRVING K. WOOLFE.

Weather Conditions

Pop Warner used to say that his Indians were almost unbeatable on a clear, dry day, with a dry field, where they were far below form in the rain or upon a muddy field. The Indian is supposed to be a phlegmatic type, but he was keen enough about his sport. Just what part weather conditions play in regard to nervous systems is a matter I have never heard discussed before. It will be interesting to see just how it works out.

Any number have asked how it is that a young golfer such as Horton Smith could develop a swing that is proof against staleness.

Here again you have the triumph of form, which is so often derided. Form is the short cut to the easiest and simplest method. It calls for less effort, for less exertion and for less strain, physical or mental. Play golf badly and you are often worn out at the ninth hole. Play golf well and you feel no sense of weariness after 36 holes. Any fault leads to tension, which in turn leads to nerve weariness, and beyond that leads on to staleness. Physical faults in a swing also lead to mental worries, and these also lead quickly to staleness. Young Smith has a smooth, sound swing that takes care of itself the greater part of the time. No other golfer with any part of a faulty swing could have stood the five months' pressure which he faced with such astonishing success.

MINOR CHAMPS LOSE 3 STARS

Indianapolis Battery and Infielder Graduate

INDIANAPOLIS, April 3. (AP)—Minus three of the trumps at last year's minor league championship hand, the Indianapolis American association team is struggling along trying to rebuild for another crack at the pennant it won in 1928.

Of the trumps the best pitcher in the league, Steve Swetonic, went to Pittsburgh; the best catcher in the minors, Roy Spencer, is with Washington, and Fred Haney, star third baseman, was bought by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Swetonic won 20 games last year and downed Rochester of the Eastern league three times in the little world's series.

The veterans Bill Burwell and Ferdie Schupp are back, and Manager Bruno Betzel has as pitchers Danny Boone and Speece, Teachout from Seattle, Penner from Houston, and a kid named Osborne, who has shown some good stuff.

Unless Pittsburgh turns over Riconda or some other good infielder, the Tribe may look bad at the hot corner. It is strong elsewhere with Layne and Matthews, regular gardeners, back; the veterans Reb Russell and Clyde Barnhart, and the youngster, Koenecke, on deck; Pete Monohan, with Rochester last year, at first; Bud Connolly at second and Rabbit Warstler at third.

'SHACK' FIELD HAS 5 OILERS

New Davis Area Yet To Have Dry Hole

Special to The Record News

ABILENE, Texas, April 3.—Two new producers were completed in the Davis pool in western Shackelford county during the early part of this week. One of them, Grisham-Hunter corporation's No. 1 G. R. Davis, gave a half-mile northeast extension of the area.

Both new wells, the one mentioned above, located in the southwest corner of the west half of the southeast quarter of section 17, T. & P. survey 17, and Midland Oil company-Grisham-Hunter corporation's No. 1 W. Y. and R. A. Davis, in the northwest corner of the east half of the southwest quarter of section 20, T. & P. survey 13, found the oil in sand around 1610 to 1630 feet.

In addition, another test in the Davis district, Petroleum Producers-United Producers', of Wichita Falls, No. 3 W. Y. and R. A. Davis, at the center of the northeast quarter of section 19, T. & P. survey 13, has topped the lime that is encountered on top of the pay formation, in that area, and is expected to go into the producing stratum within the week.

The Grisham-Hunter Corporation's No. 1. G. R. Davis, in section 20, has gone 13 feet into the sand which was topped at 1610 feet and it has several hundred feet of free oil standing in the hole and the owners think it will be good for at least 15 barrels a day. It will be cleaned out and a liner set in the pay before it is swabbed.

This well is approximately one-half a mile northeast of the nearest producer and is a little over a mile northeast of the discovery well in the pool. Petroleum Producers-United Producers' No. 1 W. Y. and R. A. Davis, which is reported to have pumped 100 barrels daily initially from the 1600-foot sand.

Midland Oil company-Grisham-Hunter Corporation's No. 1 W. Y. and R. A. Davis, in section 20, is an east offset to Petroleum Producers-United Producers' No. 2 W. Y. and R. A. Davis, which was completed for an initial production of 60 barrels daily. It is about a mile due east of the discovery well.

It topped the sand at 1630 feet and found oil in the top of the formation. No test of the well has yet been made, as there was 100 feet of open hole above the play and considerable cavings on the bottom. The well will be cleaned out and a liner run down before the sand is drilled into. Considerable crude has risen in the hole and the operators say they have a well of considerable value.

Petroleum Producers-United Producers' No. 3 W. Y. and R. A Davis is down 1625 feet and in a lime. Pipe is being run down and set and when that is completed the test will be drilled deeper in search of the producing formation. This test is a quarter of a mile north of the same owners' No. 1 W. Y. and R. A. Davis, the first commercial well from the 1600-foot sand in the area.

The two wells which have found oil this week make a total of five producing wells in the Davis pool.

When the first well in the district found the pay several months ago local operators were not much enthused over the area, for in the past few years a number of tests in western Shackelford county have found oil in different horizons, but when the area has been tested it has proven disappointing. They figured that the section around the Davis well would turn out the same way, but with a total of five producers completed out of five tests, the members of the oil fraternity are beginning to change their opinion of the territory.

Southwest Shackelford Wildcat Strikes Oil

Special to The Record News

ABILENE, Texas, April 3.—Croom and others' No. 1 Goodwin-Walker, southwest Shackelford county wildcat, located in the northeast corner of the north half of the southeast quarter of section 48, T. & P. survey 14, and seven miles from the nearest proven producing area, had considerable free oil from a sand from 1450 to 1470 feet, the first of this week.

The show came unexpectedly in a formation said to be about midway between the upper and lower Tannehill formations. The test is on a good-looking surface structure, geologists say, and a number of other wildcats in the adjacent districts have found shows of oil and gas at various depths, but none of the nearby ones have been of sufficient value to make commercial wells.

The Croom and others test will be carried deeper to test the Cook sand, expected above 1600 feet.

NATIONAL AVIATION CORPORATION

5 YEARS RECORD

The National Aviation company is distinctly a product of the new interest and trend toward aviation development in America. It was organized by executives or directors of leading aeronautic manufacturers or transport companies and by bankers and capitalists interested in aviation, for the purpose of financing or advising new companies in this field and participating in the business of established companies. It owns, in conjunction with North American Aviation Inc., the entire capital stock of the Sperry Gyroscope company, which manufactures aero and marine compasses, searchlights and other instruments.

On Jan. 31, 1929, it was reported to stockholders that a number of new inventions had been investigated and several new companies organized under the auspices of National Aviation. The corporation was identified with the organization and financing of the Curtis Flying Service, the Sirorsky Aviation corporation and North American Aviation, Inc. The company also owns options on the stock of other aviation companies.

Net for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1928, amounted to $331,017 or $2.20 a share. There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding consists of 150,000 shares of no par common. Of the unissued stock 150,000 shares are reserved under options expiring July 1, 1931, to purchase 50,000 shares at $20 a share, 50,000 at $25 and 50,000 at $30. No dividends have as yet been announced.

As of Dec. 31, 1928, total assets were $3,353,060 of which $326,362 was cash and $100,000 call loans. Book value applicable to the outstanding capital stock amounted to $3,286,880 or $21.90 a share.

EXTRA-LEGAL WIFE UPHELD

Common-Law Marriage Is Given New Dignity

NEW YORK, April 3.—Common-law marriage was given a new dignity today in a citation by Surrogate O'Brien that appeared to place that extra-legal contract beyond the power of courts to nullify.

The interesting reference came in hearing on the application of Gertrude Borhrisch Delgado, who claims to have been the common-law wife of Juan B. Delgado, Colombian plantation owner and corporation head, who died March 13, leaving a fortune estimated at $500,000, for letters of administration.

A brother of the dead man, Jose, who arrived from Colombia a few days ago also filed an application, and contested the girl's claim. He pointed out that Delgado's legal wife, Gabriella Netto de Delgado, received a divorce in New York, an undefended action, in October, 1927, that it became final Feb. 3, 1928, and that the decree forbade Delgado to remarry in New York.

Thus, the brother contended, Delgado had no power to contract even a common-law marriage. Surrogate O'Brien, however, cited the case of a woman who entered a common-law union after having been forbidden to remarry by a state court, and pointed out that despite that prohibition, the informal wedding was held by higher courts to have been valid.

Attorneys were given until Friday to file briefs.

Plane Parts Wash Ashore

Wreckage Examined At San Francisco

MILLS FIELD, San Francisco, April 3. (INS)—Wreckage of an airplane and parts of a radio set were being examined here today in an effort to determine if they were part of the equipment of one of the three planes lost in the Dole flight from Oakland to Hawaii.

The parts were washed ashore at the mouth of Little Sur river, Monterey county, and found by convict road workers.

Three planes were lost. One bore Miss Mildred Doran, Augie Pedlar and Vilas Knope. Another, the Golden Eagle, carried Jack Frost and Gordon Scott. The third was piloted by Capt. William Erwin with Alvin Eichwald as navigator.

The parts brought here included a piece of steel tubing, sections of a wing spar and an almost complete radio set. Additional parts of the radio set discovered later are being brought here.

C-C APPROVES NEW BUREAU

Highest Type Entertainment Sought by Group

Formation of an organization of business men for the purpose of securing for Wichita Falls in the future the highest type of musical and dramatic entertainment was approved by the directors of the chamber of commerce at a luncheon meeting held Wednesday noon at the Wichita club, according to officials of the organization.

The theater committee, headed by J. L. Jackson Jr., was instructed to study the situation and make definite recommendations at the earliest date possible for the establishment of a separate organization whose function will be the active promotion and financial backing of high class attractions for local performance.

Walter Nelson Jr., elected Tuesday night as president of the junior division, was admitted to membership in the board of directors Tuesday. J. L. Jackson Jr., Lamar Fain and Harry Hines, members of the committee which was instrumental in effecting the organization of the junior division, were named as a standing advisory committee to cooperate with the younger body in any common activity which may be undertaken.

Preparations for the April meeting of the entire chamber of commerce membership, date for which has not yet been selected, were assigned to the junior division directors. It was said that the affair probably will be largely social in nature, to afford the members of the new organization opportunity for meeting those of the major body.

Hubert M. Harrison, general manager, gave a report of recent investigations of industrial matters in Waco and San Antonio, which may result in the location of new industrial enterprises in Wichita Falls soon, it was said.

The directors authorized J. W. Chatham Jr., manager of the industrial and traffic department, to attend the national industrial managers' conference at Washington April 15 and 16, and Mr. Harrison to attend the joint meeting of the Southern and Texas associations of chamber of commerce secretaries and managers, to be held at Dallas on April 8 and 9.

Those present at Tuesday's meeting were Orville Bullington, president, N. H. Martin, J. T. Harrell, Ed Peterson, Arthur Rayzor, C. E. McCutchen, J. L. Jackson Jr., Harry Hines, Dr. Q. B. Lee, J. J. Perkins, A. H. Britain, Walter Nelson Jr., Mr. Harrison and Mr. Chatham.

Dual Shooting At Beaumont

'Marie,' Radio Singer, Shot, Husband Killed

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 3. (AP)—Grower C. Sparks, 45, is dead, and his wife, Mrs. Marie Sparks, 34, is suffering from two wounds in the chest as a result of a shooting at their home here last night.

A bullet entered Sparks' head above the right ear, emerging at the left temple. The shooting occurred in a driveway of the Sparks home, and there were no witnesses. Mrs. Sparks made no public statement.

Police at first considered murder and suicide theories, but later abandoned the former.

When the ambulance arrived to take Mrs. Spakrs to the hospital, she was awaiting it on her front porch. Sparks, unconscious, lay in the driveway.

As a radio artist, "Marie" had friends and admirers as far as station KFDM reached. She was one of the most popular entertainers of the local station.

Police continued a search for clues to solution of the shooting.

Better Schools and Lower Taxes Chief 'Relief' Needed by Farmer

Better rural schools, lower taxes and better living conditions for farmers were named as three requisites for a solution of the farm problem by W. L. Hughes, professor of rural education at the Texas A. & M. college, who addressed the Lions club Wednesday noon at the Y. M. C. A. on "Farm Relief."

"We can not have any real farm relief until we improve the educational opportunities offered the rural children," the speaker said. "In Travis county there are still 71 one-room schools. Last year we spent $54 per capita for school children in the cities, and only $18 for the child in the country. The intelligent farmer who appreciates a higher standard of living is moving to the city where his children may have the best possible opportunities. To keep that type of citizen on the farm as a factor in better farm conditions, we must make it an attractive place for him to live, and provide ample school facilities for his children."

The people of Texas spent more than $70,000,000 on tobacco last year, Professor Hughes said, one-half more than they spent on their schools. The three important things to do toward farm relief are, he said:

Remove the heavy tax burden from farmers and place it on shoulders more able to bear it.

Establish an adequate system of rural schools.

Have the farmers own the farms.

Require a higher standard for rural teachers, and increase the salary.

Musical entertainment was furnished by W. E. Young, baritone, with Mrs. F. R. Collard accompanying. Two readings were given by Miss Shirley Jenkins.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under selling which seemed to be inspired by relatively easy cables, a favorable view of the weather news and the official report of boll weevil survival. The latter apparently was a disappointment to recent buyers. The lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when July sold at 19.77. It closed at that figure. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 22 to 32 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 7 points. Active months soon showed net losses of about 10 to 12 points under liquidation, combined with some local and southern selling, promoted by the easy showing of Liverpool, a favorable weather map and a favorable interpretation of the weekly report of the weather bureau.

These initial offerings were absorbed by covering. There also seemed to be some trade and commission house buying. The latter was supposed to be in anticipation of a bullish report on boll weevil survival at midday. When published this apparently failed to provide the expected bullish inspiration, and the mid-morning rally to about yesterday's closing quotations was followed by renewed weakness.

Some stop-orders were uncovered by the decline which followed. The lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when May sold at 20.30, the new October contract at 19.71 and December at 19.78. Closing prices were at these figures.

The report on boll weevil indicated that more weevil than last year had survived the winter in Texas and South Carolina but that fewer had survived in Georgia and Alabama, and in Louisiana on the average. Figures for Georgia and Alabama, particularly seemed to be out of line with expectations of recent buyers, while the survival reported in Texas came in for some bullish comment.

Business was comparatively quiet during the morning when traders were waiting for the report, but there were spurts of activity after its publication. Selling was attributed to Wall street, local operators, commission houses and the South.

Private cables reported hedge selling and liquidation of near months in Liverpool but said the continent was buying distant positions.

Exports today 46,125, making 6,908,417 this season. Port receipts 11,676. U. S. port stocks 1,969,968.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 3. (AP)—Cotton prices worked lower today due to disappointment over the government's boll weevil report. The market eased off 17 to 21 points after the weevil report was issued but rallied 8 points on rather bullish fertilizer totals by Secretary Hester, only to ease off again in the afternoon on a renewal of liquidation and an easier stock market showing losses of 23 to 26 points. Prices rallied a few points at the end. July declined to 19.67 down 26 points and closed at 19.71, or 21 points net lower for the day. The general market closed steady at net losses of 19 to 25 points.

Liverpool came in 1 to 4 points lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 4 to 7 points. May soon eased off to 19.75, July to 19.84 and October to 19.73, or 7 to 8 points under yesterday's close. This early decline was due to favorable weekly weather report. Prices soon recovered the early loss reaching levels 1 point above the previous close on covering in advance of the weevil report.

A bearish interpretation was placed on the weevil report and in spite of a rally at one time of 8 points on Hester's bullish statement prices gradually worked downward until May traded to 19.60, July to 16.67 and October to 19.54 or 23 to 26 points down from the highs. After rallying a few points May closed at 19.63, July at 19.71 and October at 19.56 or 19 to 21 points net lower on old crop months and 25 down on October.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 3. (AP) (United States Department of Agriculture)—Cattle trade around the 11-market circuit was not as active as yesterday. Most killing classes retained the week's previous sharp advance, some points reporting slight losses on less desirable grades of medium weight and heavy steers. Majority of beef steers and yearlings offered showed the effects of fairly long terms in the feed lots with both steers and yearlings of choice quality more plentiful. Strictly choice heavy steers in Chicago scored $14.75, while light weights realized $14.65. Kansas City secured $14.50 for choice 810-pound yearling steers and $14 for 750-pound heifers. Firm values were maintained on stocker and feeder classes. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 34,700, about the same as last Wednesday but 4,500 heavier than a year ago.

Increased receipts of hogs and light shipping demand resulted in unevenly lower prices. Order buyers purchased sparingly at 10@35c lower prices, while packers, on the close, enforced a decline of 25@50c. The day's extreme top at Chicago was $11.85. Total offerings were around 94,700, as compared with 76,622 a week ago and 98,368 the same day last year.

Opening trade on fat lambs was slow but on the close moderate activity developed at values mostly steady with Tuesday. Choice few wooled in Chicago reached $17.35, while best clippers cleared at $16.50. Aged stock ruled firm with some strength reported at Chicago. The supply approximated 46,900, a decrease of 2,000 from a week ago and around 1,500 heavier than a year ago.

Father-in-Law Kills Youth

Fatal Shooting Over Slain Man's Child

HOBART, Okla., April 3. (UP)—Bullets from the gun of an irate father-in-law killed Buddy Godfrey, about 25, on the streets of Roosevelt last night. As he fell, he dropped his little 2-year-old child, said to be the cause of the shooting.

F. L. Fowler, 60, was held in the county jail here pending filing of murder charges.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey had been divorced and were later remarried but were living apart at the time of the shooting. Mrs. Godfrey was keeping the baby while her husband had possession of their two older children, twins.

Godfrey had taken the little child from the Fowler car parked near the curb and was sitting on the running board with it when Fowler shot him three times.

Stocks Move at Creepy Pace As Operators Worry Over Rediscount

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 3. (US)—Stocks hesitated in very quiet trading today as Wall street feared that the reserve bank directors might increase the rediscount rate at the meeting tomorrow afternoon.

There was good buying in a few favorites that caused an early advance but steady liquidation appeared again so that the list as a whole backed and filled in a rather narrow range to close net lower. Unsettlement in the Oil group proved an added bearish influence as it resulted from the attorney general's threat of action under the anti-trust law. Standard of New Jersey dropped three points and other Oil shares lost from one to two points of recent gains.

Steel gained fractionally but General Motors lost all its early gain and closed fractionally lower. Can declined 1½, Montgomery Ward 4¼, Kennecott 2⅝, Radio 2¾ and Anaconda 4⅛. Advance Rumely was one of the few strong features, gaining over two points for the session coincident with further indications that new interests would have a share in the management.

The call money rate declined from a renewal of 10 to eight per cent while the turnover held at the 4,000,000 share level.

To be raised or not is the question regarding the rediscount rate worrying the whole street. Everyone guessed as to what the directors would do at tomorrow afternoon's meeting. Because of the recommendation of the National City Bank that it be increased to six per cent, the majority thought such action would be taken. But that recommendation embodies thoughts held by reserve directors for many weeks that had little or no influence on the directorate as a whole. Should the rate be raised it would undoubtedly influence heavier liquidation during the early hours Friday. Whether it is raised or not, however, the market does not present an unattractive appearance. Character of selling recently has been quite good while the obvious "calls for help" issued by some bull leaders have not tended to improve sentiment.

The street expects another decrease in loans but some brokers told of indications that pointed to a possible increase which would give added bearish influence.

Washington advices indicated that when governors of the 12 reserve banks met in Washington on Monday there was a majority belief that the rediscount rates in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia should be raised immediately. Some governors were averse to this action, it is claimed, and their contentions that such action would do great harm to general business were strengthened by the country-wide excitement over credit conditions aroused by statements of bankers, congressmen and others in the last few days. As a result it was thought that the reserve would continue its under-cover pressure on member banks for a while without raising rates. By keeping after those banks which have opposed its disciplinary campaign it was thought that the stock market's credit structure could be bolstered without damage to general business.

There was further bullish talk regarding Texas Gulf and indications that important interests were accumulating on a scale down when possible. The tipping of Freeport Texas, however, was entirely influenced by the favorable prospects of Texas Gulf. Baldwin directors, it was learned, will act on recapitalization a week from Thursday. A split up of the shares on a four for one basis is expected.

Erie continues to be absorbed by those who are aware of railroad conditions because of their belief that a dividend payment is not far off as earnings now indicate around $7 a share for the year. Marine prefrerred also is picked quietly due to expectation of early week on recapitalization.

Oil men wondered why the administration practically invited them to Washington to carry out conservation plans and then "kicked them in the pants" as one said. Attorney General Mitchell's statement regarding the plan of controlling production contained an emphatic threat of action under the anti-trust laws. This took another prop from under the market as a whole for the oil group has been the only one offering hope for the bulls. It threw the stabilization plans of oil leaders in confusion for the time being at least. For the moment oil men only have recourse to the states to carry on stabilization and there is little hope there as each state would be jealous of output allowed the other.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, April 3. (AP)—Big selling of future delivery holdings upset the wheat market today, and prices fell to the lowest level reached since early in January. Point-blank refusal of the Liverpool wheat trade to follow yesterday's advance here put a strain on values in Chicago and domestic crop reports were flattering; one widely known expert telegraphing from Kansas, the banner wheat state, that he had never sen a better stand of wheat at this time of year.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1½c to 2c net lower. Corn finished 1⅜c to 2@2¼c down, oats ¼c to ⅜@½c off, and provisions showing 15c to 37c drop.

Downward swings of wheat prices here began almost as soon as trading started. The Liverpool market has made practically no response to upturns yesterday on this side of the Atlantic, and this circumstance was emphasized by comparative slowness of export demand today for wheat from North America. Bearish crop reports followed each other in rapid sequence, the gist being that general rains had improved crop conditions to a material extent, and in particular had diminished danger of soil drifting, with abandonment thus far less than average.

Influenced largely by wheat weakness, corn values went down, but showed less disposition to rally than wheat did. Primary arrivals of corn were considerably larger than a year ago, and other terminal markets than Chicago were offering corn to come here. Corn planting was reported to have become general in Oklahoma. Argentine advices said new corn is being tendered in larger quantities, and that corn exports from now on should increase.

Provisions declined as a result of weakness in both hog values and in grain.

CHEESE PLANT RECEIPTS GAIN

Kraft Averages 10,000 Pounds Daily Here

A decided jump in milk deliveries to the Kraft Cheese factory here has been effected during the last few days, according to G. L. Teissler, manager, receipts gaining from 200 to 300 pounds per day.

The Kraft factory is now receiving a little more than 10,000 pounds of milk daily. One year ago the receipts were almost three times that amount each day. The apparent shortage in milk production was attributed to an unusually late spring, and to the continued high price of butter fat. A strong butter market, especially in the north, has offered a constant premium for milk of high butter content, and during the season of greatly reduced milk production has imposed a handicap on industries not engaged in butter making.

The marked increase in the total yield of milk which normally takes effect early in the spring is just now beginning, it was stated, and it is expected that the local receipts will double during the coming 60 days.

VISION OF LIFE ALOFT IS TOLD

Connected Roofs of Skyscrapers Are Predicted

By GERTRUDE LADY DECIES

LONDON, April 3. (US)—How would you like to do your shopping on the roofs of New York's tallest buildings? And, not bothered by the smoke nuisance, to promenade the connected roofs of skyscrapers on a boardwalk similar to that at Atlantic City, but sheltered and protected from the elements?

That is the vision of the future supplied by Howard Robertson, of the architectural association of London, who predicted just such a "life in the air" for London within the next 100 years.

"Though we live today in a so-called era of science and mechanism," said Mr. Robertson, "our houses are cold and draughty, our plumbing absurd, while gas, electricity and water fail with every onslaught of zero weather.

"The future of architecture has as its most pressing problems the removal of these discomforts, and the advancement of hygiene, protection of human life, and traffic circulation.

"In the first place, the smoke nuisance will be abolished. Open fires will be prohibited in all new buildings; electrical heating will become general; houses will be more open, and terraces, roof gardens and outdoor sleeping rooms will develop as they cannot do today. Domestic labor largely will vanish.

"The absence of smoke and dirt will popularize roof gardens. Shopping centers will be on the roofs of buildings, along which the public will walk or be propelled in electric chairs, such as line the broad walks along the beach resorts.

"The roofs will be used for recreation and by the pedestrians, while vehicular circulation, with motors parked in subways beneath the buildings and all traffic will operate on directional floor levels.

"Pedestrians will cross traffic levels by open-air bridges, and all buildings will be of a fixed height. Skyscraper towers will be permitted at fixed points."

Would you like to live in a glass house? That is, providing all common stones have disappeared by 2029?

"Most buildings and houses erected after the system is established will largely be enclosed with glass, of an improved ultra-violet ray type," Mr. Robertson declares. "The walls will be double, creating a hollow space with a vacuum, on the principle of the thermos flask, maintaining heat and coolness without effort.

"Future architecture will not be Robot architecture. Clean, bright, gay, convenient and well equipped, our houses will be as homelike as we wish. Perhaps in 50 years, we will be more healthy because we will live above the streets, in the open air, while traffic and noise, dust and dirt, will be on the ground or under it."

CITY FOLK CAN BE 'COWBOYS'

Dude Ranch Movement Is Launched in New York

NEW YORK, April 3. (US)—"How about being a cowboy this summer?"

T. Joe Cahill heads the Dude Ranchers' association here which today began its campaign to woo vacation-bound easterners and southerners into the great open spaces of the West. Out there, according to Colonel Cahill, a room and grub are cheap and the western ranchers of Montana and Wyoming greet everybody with open arms:

"H'yar stranger. Meet the pardner—"

For $25 a week, the world-dreary city-dweller may become a tenderfoot, a cowboy, or just plain dude or "dudine."

"Two purposes inspired the organizing of the Dude Ranchers' association," explains Cahill who swings a lariat and wears a sombrero when he walks down Broadway. "The prime object was to develop the dude ranching idea for vacationers and secondly, to assist in the development, preservation and conservation of the fishing and hunting industry over the entire western country.

"Our ranches cover the greatest fishing and big game hunting country in the nation. It is an ideal spot for the sportsman!

"In Wyoming we have the Jackson Hole country, Big Horn mountains, the North and South forks of the Shoshone river and many other game preserves. Each and every dude ranch owner has pledged himself to erect and maintain rearing ponds and to work in conjunction with the various United States and state governments."

The dude ranchers are within riding distance of both the Yellowstone National park and the newly created Grand Teton National park. And, according to Cahill, the cowboy is not extinct.

"By cowboys I don't mean the mail order house variety you see in the movies," explains the westerner. "They get that way by buying a catalogue and picking out a $4.95 set of chaps, and a broad-brimmed hat. But the real cowboys are reg'lar he-men. They're a hard-riding, broncho-bustin' gang. Just to look at them ought to fill an American with joy that the old wild west still lives with all its romance and melodrama."

Pair Plead Not Guilty To Embezzling Charge

GOSHEN, Ind., April 3. (UP)—Walter A. Huffman, Indianapolis, former state representative, and Paul E. Metzler, Galien, Mich., former bank cashier, pleaded not guilty in circuit court here today to charges of embezzlement of $40,000 from the Foraker bank.

Solon Seeks to Prevent Cropping of Dogs' Ears

ALBANY, N. Y., April 3. (UP)—A bill in the present assembly, making it a misdemeanor to crop dogs' ears, would be impossible to enforce, Douglas Hertz of the Dog Owners' Service league, said at a hearing before Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Grand Jury Ordered To Probe Air Crash

NEWARK, N. J., April 3. (UP)—The grand jury today was charged to investigate the crash of a Ford airplane near here March 17, an accident that resulted in 14 deaths, to determine whether the pilot, Lou Foote, was at fault.

EVIDENCE ON LONG IS HEARD

Accusers of Governor Give Spicy Testimony

BATON ROUGE, La., April 3. (AP)—Witnesses accusing Gov. Huey P. Long of attempts to influence legislators, politicians and a newspaper publisher with patronage offers and through intimidation were heard today by the Louisiana house of representatives sitting as an impeachment grand jury.

The house spent the day in examining witnesses and planned to continue through the week hearing more than a hundred persons who may shed light on the nineteen allegations in the impeachment resolution charging the governor with murder plotting and official offenses.

Electric Fans Used

A sub-committee of 12, about equally divided in their political affiliations, conducted the investigation while the other house members perspired under electric fans.

Day Charles P. Manship, publisher of the two Baton Rouge newspapers, told of Governor Long's accosting him in the capitol lobby and warning him that if he did not stop the editorial attack in his newspapers on the oil tax he would "hurt him." The governor asked the publisher, he said, if C. P. Liter, managing editor of the Baton Rouge State Times had delivered "his message." That message, Mr. Manship said, later given him by his managing editor, was that if he "did not lay off him (Long he would make public the names of the people who are fighting me who have relatives in the insane asylum."

The publisher said he had a brother in the insane asylum at Jackson, "but the governor cannot humiliate or embarrass me."

Whisky Aplenty

Much time was consumed in testimony concerning a meeting in the governor's office between the governor, Representative Adolphe Gueymard, and Senator Calvin K. Schwing, both of Berville, they testified the governor attempted to get them to support the oil tax. Both the senator and representative said Long offered Mr. Gueymard four jobs if he would vote for the tax and offered to help Gueymard's bank credit if he supported the measure, declaring that he as governor controlled the banks.

Senator Schwing said jobs again were brought up during the conversation he had with the governor at his hotel apartment on Sunday morning, March 24, where he had been summoned by the governor.

"We had a few drinks," said the senator. "There was nothing unusual about that. He told me he could give my brother, Charlie Schwing, a good job and could give Mr. Gueymard the job of purchasing agent at the Louisiana State university."

"Did the governor say he intended offering the job to Mr. Gueymard?" asked a committeeman.

"No, he took another drink."

"What were you drinking?"

"Good whisky."

Charges that Governor Long had told a delegation from East Feliciana parish that he "had bought and paid for like a load of potatoes," Representative W. H. Bennett, of East Feliciana parish, brought testimony from several members of the delegation who said they had heard the governor make the remark and a vigorous protest from Mr. Bennett, who produced a signed statement from the governor denying he ever had made this assertion.

GAINS 100 PER CENT IN 2 MONTHS TIME, SAYS WICHITAN

"I Wouldn't Be Doing Right if I Didn't Recommend Orgatone to Everybody," Says Cauble

"The fame of Orgatone is fast spreading through the state of Texas. Every day men and women are volunteering testimony to the effect that Orgatone has relieved them of their stomach, liver and kidney troubles.

J. M. Cauble, of 1902 Kemp, Wichita Falls, Texas, who has been a carpenter for the past 14 years, states he found great relief from stomach trouble, constipation and nervousness, which had given him trouble for the past 12 years. He said:

"I had been a great sufferer from stomach trouble, constipation and nervousness for 12 long years. I had a very poor appetite and everything I ate caused gas to form in my stomach and which gave me great pain. The gas caused my heart to palpitate so fast, and at times, it was hard for me to get my breath. I was so troubled with constipation most of the time, and got to where I was so nervous, I couldn't sleep hardly at all, of a night, but would roll and tumble all night long. I was in a very run down condition and needed something to build me up, or I knew something serous would result.

"My brother recommended Orgatone to me, and so I began on it. I want to say that it has helped me in every way. My stomach has improved wonderfully and I am not bothered any more with the gassy effect after eating, and don't have those bloating, and smothering spells. I just eat anything I want, and am not as nervous as I was, and sleep like a top every night. My headaches are all gone, and my constipation has been relieved. Orgatone has certainly helped me. I feel one hundred per cent better and have gained eight pounds on two bottles, and feel more like I did when I was younger, and feel like working now.

"Sure, I am glad to recommend Orgatone, for I wouldn't be doing right if I didn't after all it has done for me. I am talking Orgatone, to everyone I see."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls, exclusively by the Allison's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Other agency is the City Drug Store, at Burkburnett, Texas.—Adv

MAJESTIC: "The Canary Murder Case," with William Powell, Louise Brooks and all-star supporting cast, all-talking picture. Sound comedy. Paramount news.

STRAND: Colleen Moore in "Why Be Good?" Two Vitaphone vaudeville acts. Movietone news.

OLYMPIC: The Fred Hurley Players, musical comedy. "Jazz Mad," with Jean Hersholdt. Comedy. Pathe news.

MISSION: Thomas Meighan in "The Mating Call." Comedy.

GEM: Buddy Roosevelt in "The Devil's Power." Chapter 1 of "The Mystery Rider." Comedy.

A mystery plot that has the embryo detectives staggering among the cast in a vain effort to pick the ultimately revealed culprit supplies the framework for "The Canary Murder Case," one of the smoothest screen productions brought here in many months. Its presentation as a motion picture has a favoring background in a highly successful series of stories which has run in the Saturday Evening Post during the last two two years. It was also printed in The Record News as a serial.

The action of the play, which is motivated through the psychological prodding of Vance, the detective, is closely woven and has few or no flaws visible to the naked eye. William Powell, the most sinister and repulsive villain developed by the movies in recent years, excells even those performances as a genteel, restrained operative before whose mind human character becomes transparent as the morning dew. And his voice? Well, there's the young lady who exclaimed in almost breathless adoration during the performance: "Oh, I'd thrill to hear him speak my name the way he speaks that one!"

The character parts in "The Canary Murder Case" call for the enactment of about seven expert interpretations of well defined types. The artistry of Charles Lane, Lawrence Grant and John Bartels is conspicuous in the unraveling of a fascinating drama.

And in justice to the all-talking picture, what could have silenced so tactfully the deep-voiced fan in the next row back who dutifully declaimed all the subtitles? Selah.

FEDERALS WIN PRIZE OF FIGHT

Rebels Retreat From Jiminez, Reports Claim

sued by federal cavalry and airplanes, said latest reports from Mexico City. Santa Rosalia is half way between Jiminez and Bachimba Pass.

General Almazan, federal, reported the rebels had lost "not less than 2,000 men in killed, captured and dispersed," in battles between Corralitos and Jiminez during the past few days. At Jiminez the battlefield was "strewn with enemy dead."

Federals Take Town

Insurgent leaders at Santa Rosalia admitted the federals had occupied Jiminez, but declared a rebel counter attack subsequently had driven hundreds of federal soldiers into the hills. These dispatches were delayed, dated April 2.

Rebels said infantrymen at Jiminez fought hand to hand in the river bed, which passes through the heart of the town. They claimed capture of three pieces of heavy artillery and more than 850 prisoners, and said their airplanes had bombed all water tanks as far south as Escalon, cutting off water supplies for the federals.

Skirmish at Naco

Federal cavalry had a brush with scouting rebels at Naco, Sonora, where a federal garrison is besieged, and eight bombs were dropped by rebel planes on the town, as General Topetes' troops closed in on the town. No damage and no casualties were reported.

The Washington state department warned Americans who joined the insurgent forces that they would get no help from the American government if they became involved in difficulties with the Mexican federals.

'WETS' VICTORS IN WISCONSIN

But Big Battle Will Occur In Legislature

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 3. (UP)—An eager population composed of a big majority of wets waited anxiously in the Badger state tonight to learn how much closer to "good whisky" their referendum victory will take them.

A majority estimated in excess of 100,000 was piled up by the wets in their fight at the polls in Tuesday's election to repeal the state liquor laws. Workingmen from the cities turned out en masse and swept the "off year" election with an avalanche of votes declaring against state liquor restrictions.

Returns from 1,915 precincts out of the state's 2,771 showed 233,790 ballots favoring repeal of the state prohibition act and 135,624 against. Results of 1,732 precincts on the beer legalization showed 205,665 for and 120,446 against.

With the referendum victory accomplished, however, the wets realized that before they can forget state prohibition enforcement, they must obtain repeal of the law in the legislature.

In Milwaukee, formerly the famous city of brewers, the voters were five to one in favor of both the proposal to repeal the state prohibition laws and to legalize 2.75 per cent beer.

From the wet leaders to the beer drinkers in the street there came declarations to the effect "they'd better vote as their backers instruct them."

Meanwhile state dry leaders who conceded the election as a "great disappointment" prepared to do further battle for the dry cause in the legislature, where the repeal measure will be decided finally.

2,000 Women Hear Speech by Crimm

The greatest need of America today is Christian motherhood, Rev. B. B. Crimm, cowboy evangelist, declared Wednesday night when he addressed a crowd of approximately 2,000 women in the tabernacle at Yale avenue and Twenty-second street.

While Crimm was talking in the tabernacle to the women, Fred Rapp addressed the men in the Yale Avenue Evangelical church. Rapp talked on the "Jonahs" in the church and the individual life.

The women cheered loudly when Crimm said he didn't "believe men are any worse today than they were 25 years ago and that they never were worth a darn."

"What has become of the blushing girl?" Crimm asked. "They use so much paint now they can't blush any more."

On Thursday night Crimm will preach on "The Sin Against the Holy Ghost."

Cottage prayer meetings will be held in the following homes at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon: Mrs. J. Darmeyer, 2112 Harvard; Mrs. W. M. Cone, 1543 Speedway; Mrs. J. B. Griffith, 1317 Thirty-seventh; Mrs. M. H. Jackson, 2209 Holliday; Mrs. O. E. Joiner, 1314 Fifteenth; Mrs. R. F. Lane, 2216 Burnett; Mrs. Henry Holder, 1521 McGregor.

Texan's Death Penalty for Slaying Wife Reserved by Supreme Tribunal

AUSTIN, April 3. (AP)—Because it had overlooked objections to the judge's charge in considering the case originally, the court of criminal appeals today granted Henry Bookman's motion for a rehearing, ordered its judgment of affirmance set aside and reversed the case, carrying the death penalty.

The case came up from Limestone county, where a jury gave Bookman the death penalty for the murder of his wife, Mary, on Feb. 5, 1928. She was killed by "instruments or weapons unknown to the grand jury" the indictment said.

The court affirmed convictions of 10 years each against H. B. Roebuck, convinced in Shelby county, for murder, and Javell Stovall, Jackson county, charged with assault to murder.

Roebuck was tried in San Augustine county, where the case was sent on a change of venue, for the murder of Otis Harvey, 14-year-old boy.

Stovall was convicted of assault to murder Dudley Jordan.

W. R. Miller, Fannin county, was ordered released under $10,000 bond. He was held without bail after his indictment for robbery by assault with firearms. It was charged that he took diamond rings valued at $2,500 from Lillian Meade Smith.
