Public Money Will Fill Gap, Experts Claim

First Half Year Private Spending Above 1948 Level

BY CHARLES MOLONY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 1 — A survey of business spending plans today posted some fairly gloomy signs for the last half of 1949. However, government economists said that this index — which has forecast economic busts in the past —is risking its reputation for accuracy.

The collective bet of American businessmen on the future was posted in their plans for spending on new factories and equipment. Clearly, they figure that things are going to be sliding down through the final months of the year.

Points To Decision

The survey, by two government agencies, pointed to business' decision to cutback outlays in last-half 1949 by 14 per cent under last year. The theory is that prospects for profits would be poorer.

First-half 1949 factory and tquipment buying, however will run five per cent above the same period of 1948's record high — at least partly because of a lot of plant construction that couldn't be halted on short notice.

While businessmen's expectations have correctly given advance signals on economic storms in the past, government economists said they'll bear discounting this time for such reasons as these:

To Increase Sharply

1. Government spending — state and local, as well as federal — will increase sharply. It will more than offset the indicated $900,000,000 drop in business spending for 1949 as a whole.

2. Businessmen probably will spend more on plant expansion in last half-1949 than they admitted in the survey. Past experience shows they're conservative and cagy on future spending, prone to underestimate.

The "business bet" on the future, however, not only serves to indicate what's coming. It also has a part in inclining the future to fit its forecast. This is how:

The billions spent by private business on expansion represents money that would otherwise be

District Commander

500 Members From 43 Posts Expected Here

Registration Is Set 10 A. M. Saturday; McCraw To Speak

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Journal Staff Writer

More than 500 Legionnaires from 43 American Legion posts of the 19th Congressional district are expected here this weekend for the two-day spring district convention.

The convention opens at 10 a. m. Saturday and continues through Sunday afternoon.

William (Bill) McCraw, of Dallas, former state attorney general and present Legion department commander, will be featured speaker of the convention.

Bean's Court Planned

T. A. Thigpen, of Big Spring, district commander, is in charge of the entertainment and instruction program.

Registration for the event will begin at 10 a. m. Saturday in the Hilton hotel.

Shortly before noon Saturday, "Judge Roy Bean's Court" is scheduled to hold forth on the sidewalk at the southeast corner of the Hilton. According to local Legion officials, it will fine Legionnaires straying into the vicinity for "any and everything," with the money collected going into Legion child welfare funds.

Initiation Scheduled

At 2 p. m. Saturday in the local Legion hall, a 40 and 8 "wreck," or initiation, is to be held. The 40 and 8 is an honorary organization of the Legion. After the "wreck," the initiates—or, as they are called by fellow Legionnaires, "Poor Goofs"—will be featured in a downtown street play carnival. Arrangements for this event are under the direction of the Plainview voiture, led by Harry McCain, grand chef de train.

Also scheduled Saturday afternoon is a reception by Legion Auxiliary members in honor of their state president, Mrs. O. E.

Cab Strike On; Union Charges 'Goons' Armed

Entire City Police Force Standing By; Violence Predicted

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 1.—A city-wide taxicab strike began early today, and a union leader charged guns had been passed out to "scab drivers."

Strike director Leon Zwicher said guns were distributed last night and early today "in Harlem and other dangerous areas."

Both sides predicted bloody violence by the other.

They said "skull - cracking goons" have been imported to battle on the streets.

A special regiment of 3,250 police patrolled the city under "gravest emergency" orders, issued only once before—in the first days of World War II. The entire police department was put on extra duty.

Both Sides Determined

The strike started in the dull hours before dawn, and the extent of its impact on the $100,000-000-a-year taxi industry could not be known until hours later.

A taxi union unit of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers has threatened that "not a wheel will roll" and cabs will be "wiped off the streets."

But most of the owners of taxi fleets any many of the men who own and drive their own cabs say they will do their best to keep running.

The union started the strike on

Five candidates seek three places.

Two of them have the backing of union labor.

Polls, at seven places, will open at 8 a. m., close at 7 p. m.

Candidates In Race

Candidates are:

1. Clyde G. Tatum, chairman of the board, and seeking his second term at insistence of friends who urged that a current expansion program of the schools system needs men of school board experience to further it.

3. Don L. Jones, superintendent of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Experiment station east of the city.

4. Byron Terrell, a union carpenter and curently superintendent of C. H. Tisdel Construction company.

5. James C. Sharp, member of the electricians union and at present foreman of Lowrey Electric company.

Attendance Of Students Reported Normal

High School Kids Day Foils April Fool's Hookey Pranks

Today is April Fool's, all right, but Lubbock Senior High school isn't experiencing the usual "hookey-playing" difficulty—thanks to its "Kids Day" program.

Attendance today was "about normal," Principal Floyd Honey reported. And he credited the Kids Day event, when members of the senior class yoluntarily dress as pre-teen age youngsters, with keeping attendance at par.

The Kids Day idea was put into operation about 10 years ago, Honey said, with an eye to attracting students to classes on April 1. This year, as in the past, it's working out quite satisfactorily.

Honey estimated that at least 95 per cent of approximately 300 class of '49 members are actively taking part in today's program. In addition to costumes that belie their ages, senior students are sporting appropriate toys, such as dolls, marbles and tops.

Honey said that, aside from the fact that some of the seniors "act a little young,

Reds Can Avoid Pact "Threat"

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—A top State department official suggested today that the Russians need not worry about the North Atlantic treaty; all they have to do is not attack any member nation.

This official, who declined to be identified by name, reasserted the American government's position that the treaty is purely defensive. He said that any nation which has any doubts about it can fully protect itself by refraining from attack on any of the member countries.

This informal reaction to Russia's protest against the alliance came as plans went ahead for the formal signing of the treaty on Monday. It was clear that the new Soviet blast was not disturbing those plans in any way.

Note Propaganda Move

The Soviet protest, delivered late yesterday, was translated at the State department only this

The swooped down in the night on David (Pete) Moncrief, 24, and charged him in three counts today: With possession of liquor for purpose of sale and with sale of intoxicants.

Statements Obtained

They obtained statements from two youths, 19 and 18, that the youths had purchased alcoholics from Moncrief, it was related.

In addition, the board members, assisted by police, arrested and charged with vagrancy, seven persons found at Moncrief's place. Moncrief was arrested in 200-block North Ave. H

Moncrief posted three bonds, of $500 each, after pleading innocent of the charges. He demanded trial before a county court jury.

ASME Session Opens At Tech

More than 100 mechanical engineering students and faculty members attended opening events today of a two-day convention being sponsored at Texas Technological college by the Texas Tech chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Approximately 60 of those attending were from other colleges and universities.

A technical session was conducted this morning in the engineering auditorium and was followed by a barbecue at noon in the mechanical engineering laboratory. Cold weather caused change in original plan to hold the barbecue in Mackenzie State park.

Inspection Tour Held

An inspection tour of the textile engineering department was to be conducted following the barbecue

Carl J. Eckhardt of Austin, vice president of region 8 of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, attended this morning's session. He will be principal speaker at a banquet to be conducted at 6:30 o'clock tonight in Hilton hotel. His subject will be "Engineering Success in a Changing World." Eckhardt is superintendent of utilities at the University of Texas.

The group is to witness the Tech rodeo and western days pa-

Rodeo Slated Tonight At Jones Stadium

Tech Students Open "Western Days" Despite Cold Weather

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

Wearing western apparel and needing some of the fortitude of the oldtimers as they braved snow and cold wind, students of Texas Technological college were making a gala occasion of the two-day rodeo and western days observance which opened on the campus today.

"It is a smashing success," Clinton Ritter, president of Block and Bridle club, said following the breakfast which was sponsored by that club and was attended by approximately 800 students, faculty members and Lubbock merchants this morning in the agricultural pavilion.

Breakfast Is Served

The first persons arriving had breakfast about 6:15 a. m. and breakfast was served continuously until almost 8 o'clock.

A chuck wagon at which coffee and doughnuts were available was set up in front of the agricultural building.

One of the outstanding events of the day will be a parade which will begin at 5 o'clock this afternoon in front of Jones stadium; proceeding around the circular plot in front of the administration building, eastward on Broadway and across to Main on Ave. G, then back to the starting point. President D. M. Wiggins will lead the parade.

Will Brave Cold

Prospects early this afternoon were that the rodeo would be held as scheduled at 8 o'clock tonight in Jones stadium. Cold weather will not interfere with plans, said a spokesman. If a "hard rain" should fall, postponement would be necessary, but that was not expected.

Western clothing was the popular apparel on the campus. James

Light Snowfall Noted In Area

(By The United Press)

A light blanket of snow fell early today on the Texas Panhandle and South Plains from Lubbock northward to Dalhart. Temperatures in the area ranged from 25 degrees at Dalhart to 27 at Amarillo.

Fine snow and sleet fell intermittently at Amarillo beginning at 5:30 a. m. The weather was expected to warm sufficiently to turn the snow and sleet into rain.

In Lubbock, .04 of an inch of moisture fell between 6 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. today, the U. S. weather bureau station reported. A northeast wind which reached velocities as high as 25 miles per hour dipped the temperature to a low of 32 degrees at 11 a. m.

A low of about 26 degrees was forecast for Lubbock tonight, with continued wind from the northeast and east expected.

Showers Are Likely

The weather bureau forecast a weekend of unsettled weather with scattered showers likely. Little change in temperatures was foreseen.

Skies were cloudy over the western portions of the state extending down into the lower Rio Grande valley and mostly cloudy along the coastal area.

East and North Central Texas had fair weather but increasing cloudiness will blot out the sun during the day, the forecaster

PLAINVIEW, April 1.—A big crowd of 350 to 400 persons braved a chilling north wind today to attend the 14th annual Plainview Fat Stock show.

The show, being staged in the show barn at the Plainview Fair grounds, attracted far more entries than had been expected. More than 350 entries from eight counties were received.

Tom Acker, a 4-H club boy of Nazareth, Bailey county, took top honors in the swine division, the first in which judging was completed. Acker exhibited the grand champion hog, while John Adams, of Tulia, showed the reserve champion.

In the boys' championship of the swine division, Acker also was first, with reserve championship honors going to Harvey Meredith, Plainview FFA youth.

Total Of 245 Boys Registered In Derby; Deadline Is Nearing

Look out, boys, Willie's out to win this year!

Remember the little sober-faced youngster, Willie A. Nieman, who captured second place in last year's Soap Box Derby.

Willie was the darkhorse of the Derby—the only out-of-town boy in the race—and no one paid any attention to him until his little racer, which he made during his spare time from farm work, began to nose out all others in the second, third and fourth heats of the race.

Willie, a year older and a more experienced Derby driver, signed up again this week. Watson Furniture company, who sponsored him last year, has already notified Derby officials they're his sponsor again this year. Willie is an eighth grade student at New Home school.

Willie was one of 25 youngsters who have signed up this week for the big Derby, sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal, Kuykendall Chevrolet company and the Lubbock Exchange club.

A total of 245 boys now is listed on registration cards and if the pace gets slower, Derby officials hope to close out registration by this weekend. April 9 had been previously set as registration deadline.

ATTENTION DERBY ENTRANTS!
Some of the boys who have entered the Soap Box Derby haven't had their pictures made. They should report to the Dallas Studio, 1114 Nineteenth, and have their photographs made, without cost. All boys are asked to have their pictures made as soon as possible.

Entries in the big race, which will be run on a permanent race course in Mackenzie State park on Monday, July 4, signed up this week include:

Jimmy Briscoe, 13; W. L. Downing, 15, route 5; James Edward Gschwend, 11, 1516 Ave. E; Bobby Montgomery, 13, route 7. Willie A. Nieman, 12, route 4, Tahoka; Jimmy Whitacre, 12, 2519 Twentieth; Franklin Maynard, 15, route 7; Kenneth Gordon, 14, 508 Ave. L; Jimmy Cope, 11, 1505 Twenty-sixth; Billy Cope, 14, 1504 Twenty-sixth; Van Horn, 11, 2121 Twenty-sixth. A. M. Perry, 11, 501 Ave. D; Billy McClure, 14, 2704 Ave. F; Eugene Conant, 11, 2630 Twenty-third; Billy Wilkison, 12, 2203 Twenty-second; Ernest Jones, jr. 12, route 6; Harvey Charles Murdock, 11, 119 Temple. Hugh Butler, 13, 3015 North Third; Billy Porter, 13, 2810 North Third. Harold Settle, 13, 3102 North Third; James Smith, 14, 808 Ave O. John Simmons, 13, 504 Ave. S; Ed Golden, 13, route 4; Billy Hallmark, 12, 2402 Thirty-second; and Hugh Carlen, 12, 1628 Seventh.

Sixty Sponsors Are Signed To Support Big Race In City

Sponsors for boys in Lubbock's second annual Soap Box Derby are beginning to send in their checks and Thursday afternoon a total of 60 sponsors had been signed up for the big race to be run on Monday, July 4.

Any individual, business firm or organization can sponsor a boy in the race. All he has to do is pay a fee of $17.50 which pays for the boys wheel and steering gear sets and other incidentals and then follow through and see that his boy builds his car.

Last year's race saw every youngster with a sponsored car and as the race progressed, there was a stepped-up tempo of competition among the contestants and fans over which firm's car would emerge the winner.

Snodgrass-Maner Motor company's car, driven by little Joe Lon Teal, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Teal, 1919 Thirty-first, was the winner, with Watson Furniture company's car driven by Willie A. Nieman, coming in second.

Members of the Lubbock Exchange club, who with The Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet company, are sponsoring the Derby, hope to have enough sponsors for the 250 boys entered thus far in the race by the close of registration date, April 9.

With the sponsors signed up, each boy can get his wheel and steering gear sets and start work on his car.

If you would like to sponsor a boy in the race, send in your check to Sponsors' Committee, Lubbock Exchange club, General Delivery, Lubbock, or to The Avalanche-Journal.

(By The United Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 1—Sen. Glen Taylor, D., Ida., today faced the possibility of spending 180 days at hard labor in the storied Birmingham jail.

The dapper senator and 1948 Progressive party vice-presidential candidate drew the jail sentence and a $50 fine last night when a circuit court jury, in an appeal trial, found him guilty of disorderly conduct here last May.

The charges grew out of a scrap between Taylor and Birmingham police who barred him from entering a door marked for negroes at a negro youth conference where he was to speak.

Taylor Very Pleased

Taylor said he was "very pleased" with the verdict as he posted $200 appeal bond and left last night by plane to return to his Senate duties in Washington.

He announced an immediate appeal and said he would take the case all the way to the U. S. Supreme court, if necessary, in an effort to have Birmingham's racial segregation laws declared unconstitutional.

It will be a long time before Taylor serves the jail term, if ever. The case goes next to the Alabama Court of Appeals, probably in the November term. From there it could go to the state Supreme court and then to the U. S. Supreme court, a process that would take over a year.

In finding Taylor guilty after deliberating an hour, the Alabama jury apparently agreed with prosecuting attorneys who said Taylor acted "like a rowdy instead of a senator."

As Common Brawl

The prosecution, throughout the two-day trial, treated the case as a common brawl.

The defense sought repeatedly to make Birmingham's Jim Crow laws the main issue but Judge George L. Bailes just as repeatedly overruled the attempts.

SEN. GLEN TAYLOR

He instructed the all-white, all-male jury not to regard racial segregation as an issue in the case.

The debonair senator took the stand in his own defense last night. He said that when he saw police stationed at the negro entrance of the church where the youth conference was held, he decided "then and there to test Birmingham's segregation laws."

"The principles of segregation cried out within me," the senator said.

Information On Fate Of Flier Is Awaited

No additional official information has been received concerning the fate of First Lieut. Altus B. Sansom, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Altus Sansom of 2507 Twenty-second street. First Lieut. Sansom has been reported missing on a bomber flight in Japan.

First reports from Japan indicated that Lieut. Sansom was aboard a B-26 bomber which crashed on Mount Fujiyama last Sunday with four men aboard. At first only three bodies were found at the crash scene, but a fourth was reported recovered Thursday, the International News Service said.

Additional information concerning Lieut. Sansom is expected by the family from the War department today.

Tornado Hits Pennsylvania

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 1. (AP) A baby tornado that injured three persons as it swept across the Uniontown country club and six farms left damage unofficially estimated today at from $150,000 to $200,000.

The sudden twister partially demolished the country club building and cut a 50-yard swath across nearby farms before disappearing in the Blue Ridge mountains yesterday.

Treated At Hospital

Two of those injured were treated at Uniontown hospital. Leo Williams, 35, of Uniontown, sustained back injuries, while Virginia Lint, five, of nearby Balsinger, was treated for bruises suffered when the wind hurled her against a barn.

Edwin Smell, a dairy farmer, was slightly hurt when his barn was overturned by the twister.

Smell estimated damage to his barn, fruit orchards and an open-air movie screen he operates at $40,000. Attorney Robert C. Hagan, president of the Uniontown country club estimated damage there at $100,000.

Houses Damaged Also

Several other houses were damaged also. A two-car garage near Hopwood was tossed into the air with wreckage strewn across highway 40.

Esther Plaski, 18, of Ronco, reported the storm's biggest thrill. She was taking a bath on the second floor of the country clubhouse when the wind scored a direct hit.

"I heard a roar," she said, "and the next thing I knew three sides of the room had disappeared."

DALLAS, April 1. (AP)—Jean Geis of Cincanniti and William Watkins of Washington, D. C., won the young artist auditions awards of the National Federation of Music Clubs early this morning.

GIs Attempt To Rob Hotel

BURTONWOOD AIR BASE, Eng., April 1. (U.P.)—Two United States Air Force soldiers were in the guardhouse here today charged with attempted armed robbery of a hotel.

They were identified as Corp. Mitchell Sowell, 28, of Coldwater, Miss., and Pvt. Cecil Geiger, 21, of Honey Island, Tex.

An Air Force statement said the two attempted to hold up the Winston hotel in Manchester at gunpoint Wednesday night but became frightened and fled.

Shot Is Fired

The statement said Sowell and Geiger entered the hotel just before midnight and asked for rooms.

While Geiger waited at the desk, Sowell followed a room clerk into an adjoining sitting room occupied by four or five guests and there brandished a pistol, the statement said.

As the pair rushed from the hotel, Stowell stumbled and a shot was fired, the Air Force said. No one was injured.

The two then flagged a taxi and ordered the driver, Robin Illoson, to take them to this base near Liverpool, 18 miles away, according to the statement. Sowell and Geiger were picked out of a lineup of men at the base by the taxi driver.

From Lou To Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: Barbara Leon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Leon, 2005 Twenty-ninth, will become Mrs. Walter S. Scheef in just 15 days. The bride-elect is spending her remaining days as "Miss" making last minute wedding plans and purchases for her future home, but she still finds plenty to time to reminisce about the days when she and Walter first knew each other.

The couple were introduced by a mutual friend one afternoon on the campus of Southwestern university in Georgetown, where she was a sophomore student. "Walter doesn't even remember it," Barbara laughingly confides, "but I certainly do." He had just entered college after being discharged from the Army in the fall of 1946.

Their first date was to a college football game and barbecue. "It was homecoming and Admiral Nimitz was in Georgetown as a guest of the university," Barbara explains, adding, "It was really a big occasion!" (meaning in more ways than one.) After this first date, neither of them went with anyone else, and last Easter when Walter came home with her during the university holidays, they became engaged and he gave her an engagement ring.

Both the bride-to-be and the prospective bridegroom received their degrees from Southwestern, she in January of this year, and he last August. Although she majored in piano, Barbara also "cooks fairly well" and is experienced enough in sewing that she enjoys making almost all of her own clothes. While her mother has been making her wedding gown, Barbara has made her own veil and lots of her trouseau garments.

The couple will live in Houston, where Walter's family lives, and where he is employed by the Residential Sales department of Houston Light and Power company Barbara enthusiastically describes their "brand new little three room house." The living room is done in light green, the bath in a different shade of green, the kitchen in yellow and the bedroom in light blue. The color schemes of latter two rooms represent her chosen bridal colors. The soon-to-be-Mrs. Scheef wants to spend the summer getting her new little home decorated and arranged to her liking, and in September she plans to begin teaching piano at a studio in downtown Houston.

MUSICAL MATRIMONY

When Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hegyi leave in their wedding trip Saturday following their marriage in the First Presbyterian church at 8 p. m., they will be accompanied by a pair of lovebirds, who are named "Imre" and "Jane," the middle names of the bridal couple.

Taking their music with them is typical of Mr. Hegyi and his bride-elect, Martha Bucy, daughter of Mrs. R. T. Bucy, 2219 Seventeenth, who are destined to have a musical matrimony. They met at a symphony concert in San Antonio where he was concert master and had their first date to a quartet concert in Austin. After that their dating was an every day event. Martha's Lubbock friends will remember her talent as a vocalist, and know that she continued her voice studies in college. Julius, who speaks German fluently and French and Hungarian "a little" taught her German songs for her vocal courses, and by the second week in December they were engaged.

The bride-elect, has chosen as her wedding groomsmen, four of her childhood playmates, with whom she played football on their neighborhood team. They include Billy Beal, John Pinson, Jack Randal and Jack Alderson.

Four of the bride's attendants Betsy Gidley of Lytle, Ester Cobb of Tulia, Evelyn Shofner of Greenville and Carolyn Pugh of Lubbock, started to Trinity in San Antonio at the same time Martha did, and the quintet was known as "The Big Five." The other bridesmaid will be Yvonne Huber of Kennedy.

The wedding ring which Martha will give Julius Saturday in the double-ring service is the same one which her mother gave Mr. Bucy 20 years ago, and the initials of both bridal couples are engraved in the ring.

Julius and his best man, Paul Sieben, have had a 12-year friendship, and studied at Juilliard together. Paul and his wife will join Martha and Julius after their wedding trip to Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and the two couples will spend a week or so on the Sieben's country estate in the New York mountains.

After that the Hegyis will be traveling around because of his musical work, but Martha says they will be "north of the Mason Dixon line most of the time. Her husband-to-be hates to go back to New York because he likes the Texas land and people immensely. The easterner especially likes to see the stars from horizon to horizon, instead of in little patches between a city's buildings.

Martha plans to finish school sometime, but for now her one interest is Julius Imre Hegyi, who, according to her, "is just perfect!"

LOVE,
LOU.

Children present were H. F. Whitson, jr., and Alpha Nunley.

Annual Oscar Show To Go On Somehow, Academy Announces

HOLLYWOOD, April 1. (AP)—Chin up, Oscar. The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences says your annual show will still go on.

The academy governors, beset by withdrawal of support from five major motion picture producers, said last night they will carry on somehow next year.

How Not Plain

Just how wasn't made plain, but the announcement said the method of financing future awards will be determined after annual elections of new officers in May.

The governors said a poll of academy members brought overwhelming vote in favor of continuing the awards for achievement in 1949 films under auspices of the academy alone.

Refuse To Believe

In London, British producers, who bagged many oscars with "Hamlet" and "The Red Shoes," refused to believe that the action of the five American companies was taken because this year's top awards went overseas.

And a spokesman for Hollywood producers added: "Any such thought is preposterous." He said that the academy was notified last Dec. 16 of the intention to withdraw support after the 1948 awards.

Mary Haworth's Mail...

Wife Believes That She Should Choose Secretary For Her Husband's Office

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am sure my problem is not unique; yet I have never seen one like it discussed in your column.

The question is, am I being unreasonable in assuming that I should have some say-so in regard to the hiring of my husband's private secretary?

My husband is a very busy attorney and necessarily he spends much working time with his secretary. He tells me, in a very nice way, that my sphere is my home and hobbies; that the office should be his alone, and should be run on that basis.

Believing, as I do, that most women are better judges of another woman's capabilities and character than a man could be, I cannot agree with him. But what do you think? Signed E. F.

WOMAN IS VOICING ANXIOUS JEALOUSY

DEAR E. F.: In stressing the fact that your husband necessarily spends much working time with his secretary, you are disclosing anxiety lest he hire a girl whose looks, sex appeal and behavior might incite and encourage a subrosa or home-wrecking romance between them.

I doubt that you are primarily concerned to pass upon the secretary's attributes otherwise; that is, as to whether she would be competent, and responsibly willing, to do an efficient, intelligent, steady job of lifting "details well done" off his shoulders—thus saving his time, conserving his nervous energies, and impersonally helping him to do better work.

Moreover, as busy employers learn, in working closely with employes at a common task, you can't always judge the contents of a package by the wrapping. An applican't "first-seeming" reveals something. You can weed out the vague no-accounts, the flashy, the chronic malcontents, almost at a glance; but "average" human beings are too complex for all their potentials, pro or con, to be read in early acquaintanceship.

CERTAIN COMMENTS CONCERNING "HELP"

THUS I would remind: the average wage-earner's efficacy in a given job usually isn't measurable until after a trial run; until routine performance has settled in. It is then his (or her) character begins to emerge in its true colors—reliable or unstable, cooperative or shiftless, productive or parasitacal. And not until then can the employer determine conclusively whether he has retained a helper or a handicap.

As for men's ability to judge women's quality, I think they are just as astute—but no so defensive, picayune and harsh—as women in judging the fair sex. Men seem to have an unerring instinct for sensing whether a woman would be good, bad or indecisive in the management of her emotions; and if he figures she's on the make or can be had, it depends on his character as to how he responds to his estimate of her.

Now for advice: better let your husband run the office, as he nicely insists. The wise way to make your position secure is to tend to your knitting, make home happy and be the gracious woman he prefers to all others. In all probability he has the good sense, the maturity and rectitude, to work impersonally with a secretary of his choice—yet if he hasn't, you can't make the situation fire-proof. M. H.

Good Health Points Are Taught At Overton School

Good health is a way of living, mentally, emotionally, socially, and physically students at the new M. C. Overton elementary school are learning as faculty members accumulate materials in the revision of the health and physical education curriculum. Lennon Hill, Overton principal, is general chairman of a committee composed of Overton teachers who are compiling materials which will be available next year to all teachers in the Lubbock Public school system.

Begin Study

Faculty members began their study last fall when they collected materials from other school systems in Texas and Oklahoma and considered special needs of children in Lubbock. Materials compiled by teachers and students will be turned over to the special elementary work-shop of teachers to be conducted during summer school. There the curriculum will be put in final shape and made available to all schools next fall. The general outline for the curriculum will be: Introduction, philosophy, aims and objectives, special aims and objectives for health, and special aims and objectives for physical education, and an outline for typical programs for each of the six grades in the elementary schools.

An example of the special health study being conducted at Overton is the "Health Castle" which covers one wall in the fourth grade room of Mrs. Ruby Power. A special health play has been produced by students so that various health topics may be presented. Principal characters are a doctor, a patient, and a nurse, and different health lessons are dramatized by these characters. These students also keep a daily health chart which requires them to check washing of hands before meals, brushing teeth and hair, breathing through the nose, cleaning finger nails, keeping windows open day and night, playing in the open air, taking baths at least twice a week, watching posture, drinking plenty of water, and watching daily diet to make sure it contains healthful foods.

Completes Experiment

Another example in Mrs. Lois Priddy's second grade room combines a study of transportation with the health materials. Students who keep health rules are allowed to put their names on the mode of transportation being studied each week.

Mrs. Bennie Sanford, elementary school nurse, has completed an experimental study of physical examinations for elementary school children where 330 students were checked for weight, height, nutrition, teeth, tonsils, ears, hearing, vision, skin and posture. Results will also be available to the curriculum committee.

Plane Lands Safely After Seven Bail Out

EL PASO, April 1. (AP)—Seven fliers bailed out safely yesterday from a burning B-29 bomber, but three others put out the fire and landed.

One of the plane's engines caught fire at 8,000 feet about five miles from the Biggs Air Force base shortly after noon

Capt. William W. Wood, the craft's commander; First Lieut Charles H. Gover, the pilot, and M/Sgt. Gerald D. Deer, flight engineer, put out the fire and landed.

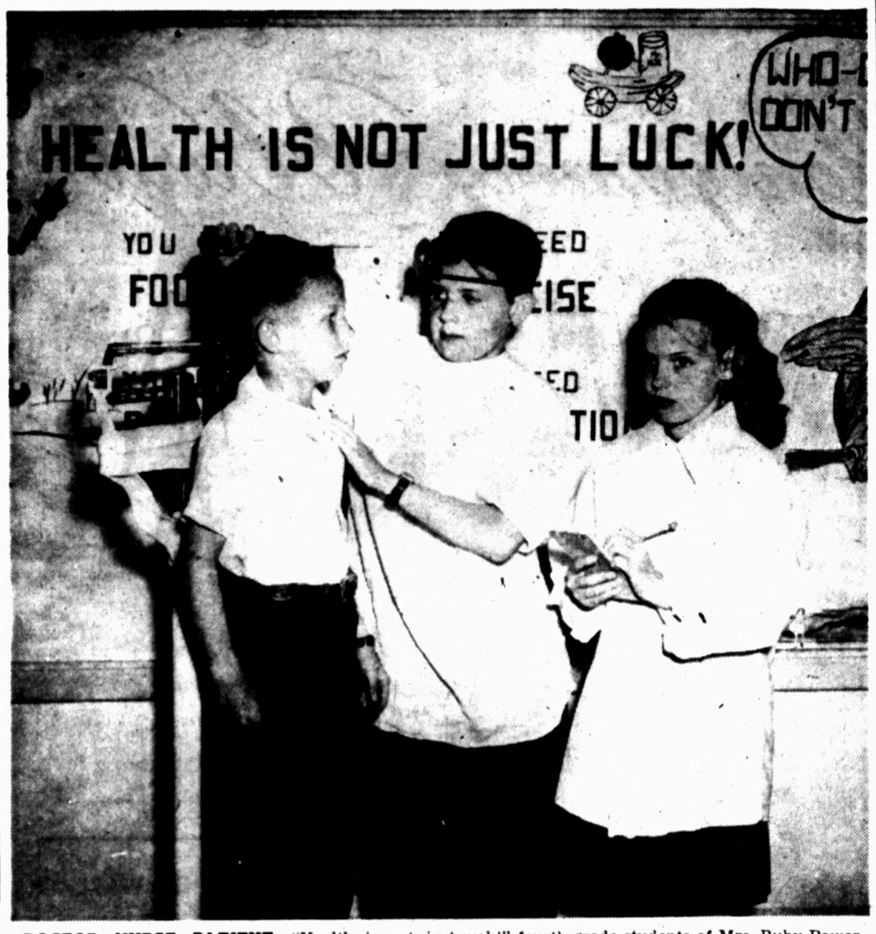

Capt. Burt Alley, the navigator, suffered a minor shoulder injury when he jumped. He was the only person injured.

Changes Announced In Flight Schedules

A slight adjustment in the flight schedule of Continental Air Lines to become effective today was announced by B. Ridgely Mills, traffic manager for the airline here.

Continental's northbound flight No. 45 for Wichita Falls, Oklahoma City, and Tulsa will now depart Lubbock at 11:15 a. m. instead of 11:20 a. m. as in the past. This flight will still maintain connections to St. Louis, Chicago and New York.

Continental's flight No. 46, southbound, for Hobbs, Carlsbad, El Paso will now depart Lubbock at 6:44 p. m. instead of 6:30 p. m. The two remaining flights, Nos. 31 and 30, are unchanged. Flight 30 will depart Lubbock at 9:48 a. m. for Albuquerque and El Paso, arriving El Paso at 11:29 a. m. connecting with American's flights to Los Angeles and San Francisco. The evening flight 31 northbound for Oklahoma City and Tulsa will depart Lubbock at 5:30 p. m.

An Honest Man Now In San Antonio Jail; Returns From Michigan To 'Clear' Record

SAN ANTONIO, April (U.P.)—If Diogenes still were looking for an honest man, he would no longer need a lantern.

All he'd have to do would be to look in the Bexar county jail and find Jesus Navarro, who tells the truth even when it's to his own disadvantage.

Jesus left San Antonio in 1945 and went to Eloy, Ariz., by way of the Michigan beet fields. A letter from a friend informed him that San Antonio authorities "had a paper" against him.

Back To Clear Record

"What could I do?" says Jesus. "I come back to straighten it out."

He went straight to the district attorney's office.

Did they have a paper? They did—a felony indictment for burglary and theft of bed clothing from a hotel.

"Did you do it?" the prosecutor asked.

Jesus guessed he did.

The prosecutor was impressed with his honesty. He reduced the charge to a misdemeanor theft, and Jesus pleaded guilty and went to jail for 60 days.

"Now," he boasted to officers, "my record is clean again."

"Fiddle" Returned To Rightful Owner

AUSTIN, April 1. (U.P.)—A lost $4,000 violin was in the hands of its rightful owner today after a truck driver returned the instrument with the comment that "maybe this fiddle might belong to you all."

The instrument belonged to Ottokar Cadek and his University of Alabama string quartet. The violin, a Nicholas Amati made back in the 1600's, bounced from an open car trunk while the group was en route from Austin to Wichita Falls yesterday.

But before the search could be started, the fine arts department at the University of Texas reported to police that a bearded truck driver had walked in, plunked down the instrument and ambled out with the comment, "though maybe this fiddle might belong to you all."

Crooner Said Behind In Support Payments

LOS ANGELES, April 1. (AP)—Crooner Buddy Clark is pretty sharp with the vocal notes, but a little behind in the bank variety, says his ex-wife.

Songstress Louise Hughes, Clark's first wife, charged in superior court yesterday that he is $4,000 behind in his payments for support of their son, 11, and daughter, nine. She also asked that payments be boosted from $50 to $300 a week.

Clark, also remarried, countered with an offer of $300 monthly He said he earned $58,397 gross last year—not the $100,000 his ex-wife claimed—and that she had denied him permission to see the children.

Tom Clark To Leave Cabinet By July 1

WASHINGTON, April 1. (U.P.)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark has informed the White House that he intends to leave the cabinet by July 1, administration officials said today.

These sources said that like all top government officials, Clark submitted his resignation shortly before President Truman began his new term in January. Mr. Truman has taken no action on it.

PRANK ON POLICE

SAN ANTONIO, April 1. (AP)—The weather was playing an April Fool's prank on San Antonio police today.

It produced the coolest morning of the week, accompanied by a cold rain, as police changed from winter to summer uniforms.

Man And Wife Held In $50,000 Swindles, Burglaries In Year

FORT WORTH, April 1. (AP)—A 30-year-old Huntington, W. Va., man told detectives here today that he and his wife reaped an illegal harvest of $50,000 in the past year from a series of burglaries, swindles and check forgeries in seven states.

The couple were arrested in Denison Wednesday night. They were returned here when they admitted burglarizing three Fort Worth business establishments.

Found Bonds, Checks

The man led Detectives W. C. Shertz and W. B. Johnson to a tourist court here where they found war bonds and a large quantity of checks hidden behind a mirror. The man said he had placed them there before going to Denison last week. He and his wife had planned to return to Fort Worth, he said, to "hit it hard."

His 24-year-old wife, who boasted that she was "the best forger in the business," said they were married shortly after Christmas, 1947, and embarked on the swindles, burglaries and forgeries immediately. She said they worked in Texas, Arkansas, Illinois Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia.

Australia Will Not Admit U. S. Corporal

CANBERRA, Australia, April 1. (AP)—Prime Minister Joseph B. Chiefly said today Australia's decision not to admit U. S. Army Cpl Lorenzo Gamboa is final.

Gamboa, a Filipino who gained U. S. citizenship while serving in the Army, has been refused permission to visit his Australian wife and two young children. The Australian government said he came under its "white Australia" ban on Asiatics.

An authoritative source said the government had been informed Gamboa wants to live in Australia permanently and there is a job waiting for him here. That would put him outside the category of a visitor, the source said.

Gamboa is serving with the U. S. Army in Japan. He is due to be discharged in June. Gen. Douglas MacArthur interceded for him with the Australian government but Australia has refused to lift the ban.

Jewelry Firm 25 Years Old

Along with the 27 other stores of the organization, the Zale Jewelry Co. store in Lubbock tomorrow will begin celebration of the company's 25th anniversary, M. L. Zukav, local manager, announced today.

"The event has been in preparation for almost a full year," Mr. Zukav said, "and Zale designers have fashioned new watches and diamond rings to symbolize the company's Silver anniversary. The company's 25th anniversary emblem has been fashioned from the George Washington 25-cent piece, on display in all stores. Special decorations are in the company's colors, royal blue and silver."

Souvenirs To Visitors

Special souvenirs will be given all visitors to the store on Saturday, Mr. Zukav said.

The Zale Jewelry Co. was started with the opening of the first store in Wichita Falls in 1924 by Maurice B. Zale, president. The second store opened in Tulsa, in 1928 and, peculiarly, the company's greatest expansion came during the "depressed 1930's." Zale now operates in five states: Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska. William Zale, vice-president, joined the concern shortly after the first store was opened.

The company maintains a permanent European office at Antwerp, Belgium, capital of the diamond-cutting world, as well as in New York, where special designing is done.

The Zale store here is located at 1110 Texas avenue.

COLLECTOR NOMINATED

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Sam D. W. Low of Houston, was nominated by President Truman today to be collector of customs for 22 with headquarters at Galveston.

SECOND POLIO DEATH

SAN ANTONIO, April 1. (AP)—The city health department today recorded the second polio death of 1949 here. Beatrice Gonzales, 2½ years old, died in an iron lung at a local hospital yesterday.

Since 1908, the Masjid-i-Sulaiman oil field in Iran has yielded 924 million barrels of crude oil.

Top Track Stars Meet In Prelims Of Texas Relays Today

Records In Field Events To Topple

AUSTIN, April 1 (AP) — The Texas Relays open today with the bulk of 1,181 entries from 113 schools participating in preliminaries and finals of more than 20 events.

It is the biggest first day program in the twenty-eight-year history of the track and field carnival.

Few relay records appear in danger and none of the sprint and hurdles marks are likely to fall but some new standards are expected in the field events.

Texas A. and M.'s mile relay team appears most certain to crack a record — its own. The Aggie quartette last year hung up a time of 3:17.2 in the university class. They already have done the distance in 3:17.1 this year.

New Records Seen

The pole vault record of 14 feet ¾ inch set by Harold Hunt of Nebraska six years ago also is in danger before the soaring of such stars as Bob Smith, San Diego State; Bill Carroll, Oklahoma; Leonard Kehl of Nebraska and George Rasmussen of Oregon. Smith and Carroll already have bettered 14 feet this season.

The high jump standard of 6 feet 7⅛ inches set in 1941 by Don Boydstun of Oklahoma A. and M. and Dub Walters of Baylor may topple before the leaps of Jack Heintzman of Bradley, the defending champion, and Vern McGrew, the Rice star who was on the United States Olympics team last summer.

Almost half of the entries are high school athletes and among them is Darrow Hooper, Fort Worth giant who holds the national scholastic shot put record with a pitch of 59 feet 10⅛ inches set last year.

Oklahoma Ags Favoreed

Favorites in the relay races are Oklahoma A. and M. in the longer events of the university class and Nebraska in the sprint relays with George Pepperdine of Los Angeles, Loyola of Chicago, East Texas State and North Texas State considered the leaders in the college division.

Texas was a solid choice to crack the 440-yard relay record of 41:4 set by Rice in 1937 until it found that three members of its team were on the ailing list. The latest to turn up with a pulled muscle was Charley Parker, ace dash man. It is doubtful if Parker can run either in the sprint relay or in his specialty—the 100-yard dash.

A special mile will match Jerry Thompson, former University of Texas distance star, with Javier Montes of Texas Mines, Jerry Jeffchak of Drake, Harold Johnson of Trinity university, Clark Ford of Louisiana Poly and Robert Parsons and Charles Wilson of Tulane.

Finals are scheduled this afternoon in the 3,000-meter run, sprint medley in three divisions, the university class distance medley and the broad jump and javelin throw in the university class and the high jump in the high school division.

Raiders Ready For Big Meet

BY JOE KELLY
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

AUSTIN, April 1 (Special)—The small squad of Texas Tech cindermen were awaiting the opening gun in the colorful Texas Relays at Memorial Stadium here today.

The eight-man squad arrived by car yesterday from Lubbock and went to the site of the relays for a brief workout. The Tech squad, though hampered by poor conditioning weather, is expected to put up a strong showing in the meet which attracts some of the finest track talent in the country.

Perfect track weather is forecast for the meet, and the temperature should be above 70 degrees with little wind to hamper the try for new records.

Wilson Has Taped Leg

Ben Wilson, quarter-miler and member of the mile relay team, has a heavily taped left leg, but claims that it will not interfere with his running. Wilson has a pulled muscle that has not been aided by the winds and cool weather in Lubbock.

Charley Reynolds, Border conference sprint champion, is still 10 pounds overweight and not at top form yet. He is hoping to make a good showing in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, his favorite events.

Championships will be decided Friday afternoon in eight events and Tech has entries in two of them, the sprint medley and mile relay. The sprint medley quartet will be composed of Reynolds, Moon Mullins, Seth Murphey, and Charley Pinnell. The mile relay will have Coston Bufkin, Joe and Ed Wilson, and Ed Clepper.

Hutcherson Is Trainer

The Sprint relay team finished third at Fort Worth last month, and the mile relay team scared Texas A&M in the mile relay before losing.

Saturday, Clepper and Pinnell will take part in the hurdles and the high jump, while Bufkin and the two Wilson boys will run the quarter mile. Reynolds, Mullins, and Murphey, at the same time, will be vying for dash places.

Earl Hutcherson, Tech freshman and former Lubbock High star, drove a carload down and is serving as trainer and manager. The squad is staying at the Hotel Driskill.

Lamesa Tornadoes To Test Abilene Today

LAMESA, April 1 (Special) — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes go to Abilene today for a District 3-AA baseball encounter scheduled originally for Lamesa.

Abilene's Eagles were upset winners over a strong San Angelo team in their opener, defeating the defending champions, 4-2. The light-hitting Eagles were beaten, 6-5, by Odessa in their second start, however.

The Golden Tornadoes lost to Odessa, 7-10, in their first outing on a windblown field and will be trying to even their record.

Right hander Bill Hart will likely get the starting nod against the Eagles, but Coach Jack Wetzel's mound choice may be Royce King, a left hander.

The Tornadoes will be at full strength fo rthe game with the return of Walter Massengale to the regular catching position after a siege of measles.

BILL IS KILLED

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 1. (AP) A scheme to scuttle old Pimlico turned out as an also ran today after the governor of Maryland unexpectedly pulled the reins a little before the finish line. Gov. William Preston Lane, jr., yesterday withdrew his support of the legislation. That killed the bill.

Lubbock Track Team Crippled

Lubbock High school will leave Saturday morning for the Big Spring Relays with little prospects of a team victory, but several field events may be captured.

Three of the regulars will be of little or no use to the team. They are Charlie Williams, Wayne Stroud and Malcolm Young.

Decker Top Hope

Perhaps the only victory in the track events will come from the flying feet of Donald Decker. He has been running the 100-yard dash in good times this week, turning in a 10.4 and a 10.5. In addition he is a threat in the low hurdles.

In early spring practice it appeared that the Westerner cinder squad would have a very fast 440-relay team and be strong in the dashes, but the toll of injuries reduced the sprinters to just so many track men. But with good weather and the recovery of the injured speedsters the high school squad may come through before the season ends.

Rawls Paces Low Hurdles

Yesterday the 440-relay team turned in an unimpressive 46.5 in that event, and Eddie Goetze ran the 440-yard dash in 54.5. Also showing up well in the low hurdles was Donny Rawls, switched over from the high hurdles.

The workouts in the field events have not been emphasized very much this week, but today the boys are likely to settle down and try for some heights and distances.

The high jumpers loosened up but did not put the bar too high, and no trials were made in the pole vault. On Wednesday W. J. Blake, who tied for first with Alfred Adair at Odessa last week at 10 feet, 6 inches, was unable to clear the bar at a foot below that height.

But on Saturday he is likely to be in form again. Adair should give the Westerners a few points in the high jump and the pole vault.

Perhaps a few more might be picked up by Douglas Ross in the discus. And Morris Moyers, who finished fourth in the shot-put at Odessa, might come through with another place.

But it will take more than a few places to win a track meet, and from all appearances the Westerners will have another lean day at Big Spring Saturday.

Westerner Golf Meet Scheduled Saturday

Lubbock High school will be host to at least seven golf teams Saturday for the annual Westerner invitational golf tournament at Lubbock Country club.

Each school may enter six boys, but four have to be designated as a team. Play will begin at 10 Saturday morning, and golfers are urged to be at the club early so no delay will occur.

The morning round will be 18 holes, and the same number will be played in the afternoon.

Winner of the team trophy last year was Abilene with a team score of 645 strokes. In second place was Amarillo with 664, and Lubbock finished third with 670. The medalist was Bobby Maxwell, Big Spring, with a 36-hole score of 149.

Entered in the meet are Plainview, Amarillo, Abilene, Midland, Pampa, Lubbock, and possibly Odessa. Invitations were also sent to Borger, Big Spring, San Angelo, Sweetwater and Lamesa.

Golfer Ben Hogan Starts Trip Home

EL PASO, April 1 (AP)—Plucky little Ben Hogan was on a train today headin' for home.

He'll be back on the links again some day, he says.

The national golf pace-setter until an automobile accident last Feb. 2 laid him low, Hogan walked the length of a pullman car last night when he boarded the train here.

He posed for photographers and beamed at the prospect of returning to the new Hogan residence in Fort Worth. He is due to arrive late this afternoon.

The wan but smiling Hogan was accompanied by his wife, Valerie; his brother, Royal, and by Dr. Howard Dittos, Fort Worth physician who came here to make the trip.

Last night he said he is definitely "out of the rough and again headed down the fairway."

Giant Clint Hartung To Have Big Year If Curve Develops

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 1. (AP)—It probably sounds like an April fool's joke, but honestly, this may be the year for big Clint Hartung.

Clint is the Texas wonder who was converted by the New York Giants from outfielder to pitcher for his own safety.

One of the most ballyhooed ballplayers to come out of the Army, Hartung never has found his place in the major leagues. He was supposed to be a phenomenal hitter so the Giants tried him in the outfield. They gave that up when caching flies proved to be an unsolvable mystery to him.

HARTUNG

As a pitcher he had a tremendous fast ball. Nothing else.

Now, the Giants claim, Clint has developed a curve. A year ago nobody thought he'd ever learn. A month ago they were sure of it.

But Hartung worked seven innings against Pittsburgh the other day and he threw some balls that didn't stay on a straight line.

"If you don't think he was throwing a curve," said Catcher Walker Cooper, "you forgot what you saw last year. He threw a couple of beauties."

Clint, himself, thinks he has it.

"Last year," he says, "to many people were trying to teach me. I'd hear something one minute and an entirely different thing minutes later. I didn't know where I was going. This year (Leo) Durocher worked (Frank) Shellenback with me and nobody else. He changed my position on the mound. He shortened my stride and he showed me how to hold the ball. I'm doin' fine."

Longest kickoff return during the 1948 National Football League season was by Joe Scott of the New York Giants against Los Angeles—99 yards.

Juniors Clash Here Saturday

Approximately 25 track teams are expected to beat the deadline today for entry into the nineteenth annual Junior High School Track and Field meet tomorrow at Chapman field.

A large number of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders are expected to pour into Lubbock in time for the preliminaries at 10 o'clock Saturday, and approximately 400 boys are expected.

Three Divisions Set

The competition will be held in three divisions, according to the grade levels, and no boy may enter an event below the division of his highest grade in school.

Three Lubbock schools have entered. They are Carroll Thompson, O. ⅞. Slaton, and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High schools. A large number of entries are expected from each of these schools.

For the past few days the boys have been practicing at Chapman field in preparation for the meet, and time trials have been run each day. Thursday afternoon Thompson Junior High had the oval, and the boys ran through all the events.

Maxwell Noland led the seventh graders in several of the events. The 440-yard relay in the second division from Carroll Thompson will be Allen Ross, Preston Hall, Tommy Yelvington, and Jerry Walden. The 880-relay will be run by Richard Flanagan, Billy Biggs, Hall and Gerald Lloyd.

The 440-relay in the ninth grade division should be a strong contender for first place Saturday. On the team are Charles Hodges, Don Jones, Billy Tucker, and Billy Smith.

The strongest team entering appears to be Odessa, winners of the junior high division last week in Odessa.

Other schools already entered are Floydada, Slaton, O'Donnell, Andrews, and Seminole.

Ralls Cagers Beat Independent Squad

RALLS, April 1. (Special)—The Red Heads met defeat here last night at the hands of the Ralls Independent basketball team, 59-52, in an exhibition game before a large crowd.

The victory was well-received by the local fans because the Red Heads have one of the best teams in the world, womens team that is. But they play according to rules set down for men, and they have a powerful aggregation.

Perhaps this is one of the few times in history when five men had the last word where five women were concerned.

Six Giant Players Dropped To Minors

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 1. (U.P.)—New York Giants, in little mood for fooling, began spring "house cleaning" at a stepped up tempo today when they dispatched six players to various minor league farm clubs.

Outfielder Les Layton, First Baseman Jack Harshman and Pitcher Mario Picone were optioned to Minneapolis of the American association; Catcher Wes Westrum, with the Giants all last season, was assigned to Jersey City of the International league; Pitcher Les Klesitz was sent to Trenton in the Inter State league and Pitcher Oswald Kolwe to Sioux Falls of the Northern league.

REDS PLAY TIGERS

TAMPA, Fla., April 1. (U.P.)—A streamlined Cincinnati Red's squad, cut to 31 players, will play host today to the Detroit Tigers.

The Reds cut four players from their squad yesterday, optioning Infielder Benny Zientara to Syracuse of the International league and Outfielder Steve Filipowicz and Pitchers Jim Blackburn and Jim Avrea to Tulsa of the Texas league.

Cincinnati then bowed to Washington, 10 to 9, as Grady Hatton, Charley Kres, Hank Sauer and Ray Mueller each hit homers in a losing cause.

A'S BLAST NEWARK

HAINES CITY, Fla., April 1. (U.P.)—The Philadelphia Athletics, who enjoyed a brisk batting practice session yesterday at the expense of the Newark Bears, were back for some more of the same today.

The A's combed southpaw Bill Woop and Pete Gerbian for 18 hits yesterday and an easy 20 to 5 triumph. Hank Majeski led the onslaught with four hits.

YANKS FACE RED SOX

ST. PETERSBUFG, Fla., April 1. (AP)—Joe DiMaggio was slated to test his ailing heel again today as the New York Yankees opposed the Boston Red Sox.

DiMaggio, who played six innings on Wednesday, was left here yesterday while the Yankees beat the Boston Braves, 9 to 7, at Bradenton. The angular heel doesn't bother him too much any more, will start against Bostoday.

SAIN WILL HURL

BRADENTON, Fla., April 1. (U.P.)—Johnny Sain, king-pin of the Boston Braves' pitching staff, was scheduled to work against the invading St. Louis Cardinals today.

Earl Torgeson was the star of yesterday's contest with a triple, a double and two singles as the Braves lost a 9 to 7 decision to the Yankees.

The Cardinals cut two players from their roster, sending Outfielder Larry Miggins to Rochester of the International league and Catcher Roland La Blanc to Houston of the Texas league.

GENE BEARDEN HURT

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1. (U.P.)—Pitcher Gene Bearden, Cleveland's brilliant 20-game winner last season, today joined Second Baseman Joe Gordon on the Indians' injured list.

Bearden injured himself Wednesday while fielding a grounder and it is feared that the hurler bothered the sciatic nerve. Team Trainer Max Weisman has ordered Bearden to bed. Gordon also is out with a strained arm.

The Chicago White Sox, who furnish the opposition again today, bowled over the Indians, 10 to 2, yesterday in a game called after five innings because of wind and cold. Bob Lemon the brunt of Chicago's attack.

PEE WEE REESE ILL

HOUSTON, April 1. (U.P.)—Shortstop Pee Wee Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers, complaining of a pain in his abdomen, will visit a specialist tomorrow when the team moves into Fort Worth.

Reese left the game after two innings yesterday in San Antonio and the Dodgers trainer said he could not diagnose the infielder's ailment. With Billy Cox at Reese's position, the Dodgers defeated San Antonio of the Texas league, 8 to 1. Brooklyn meets Houston today and Fort Worth tomorrow.

CUBS BEAT BROWNS

SAN ANTONIO, April 1. (U.P.)—The Chicago Cubs today were buzzing about their new home run threat—Shortstop Roy Smalley—as they moved into the Alamo city to continue their spring series with the St. Louis Browns.

The lanky infielder hit his eighth home run of the spring in the fourth inning yesterday to help his team to a 7 to 6 win over the Browns at Alpine.

WILLIAMS IS FAVORED

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Trained to perfection and raring to go, lightweight Champion Ike Williams, 138, and Kid Gavilan, 146, the slight fighting machine from Cuba, will clash tonight in a ten-round non-title "rubber" bout in Madison Square Garden. Deadpanned Ike is the favorite.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

Today a small band of Red Raider trackmen is in Austin, where they will run in the world famous Texas Relays. This probably is one of the top track and field events in any part of this great land of anywhere, for that matter. More great names will be on hand to take part and more unknowns will run than at any previous time. It is said to be the biggest Texas Relays in history and, by the same token, it probably will be the best. For that matter, the small Tech squad that is entered is among the better squads, despite its size.

We have no way of knowing how the various men will come out in their events. We don't know whether Tech will wind up second or 12th. But we do know that, man for man, they have a good chance of ending high in the final standings. That they would beat Texas or Texas A & M is a foregone conclusion. They have too much strength and depth to be challenged by the Raiders. But Maxey McKnight's small group has some top men.

The lad who probably will carry Raider colors the farthest is E-l Clepper, who will run the high hurdles, compete in the high jump and run on the sprint relay team. Clepper is almost an institution at Tech. He's a consistent point winner and he could be top dog for Tech in the Relays. Even with the weather as it has been, Clepper is the type of competitor who rises to meet the occasion. This is one time when it would be to great advantage.

Charley Reynolds, a disappointment so far this short season, might well come into his own. Reynolds was overweight when he reported and has been slow in rounding into form. Part of that was due to Coach McKnight, who said that he came on too fast last year. Maxey would rather have him in shape for the Border meets than for these exhibition affairs. But Reynolds is believed to be about ready to run good races in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. A good showing by him in both events would boost Raider chances for a high finish immensely.

Those two men have much to do with the Raider hopes at the Relays. They need support, of course, and they should get a lot of it from Charley Pinnell. Charley was slowed down by basketball, but he's rapidly rounding into top form. He's pretty certain of getting a point or more in the low hurdles and he could extend every jumper in the high jump. Other Raiders who stand a chance will appear primarily on relay teams and in the 440-yard dash. This trio consists of Costin Bufkin and the Wilsons, Joe and Ed. The other two men making the trip are dashmen and if either waxed warm, they could add points in the century. They are Seth Murphey and Moon Mullins

But don't be disappointed if the Raiders don t finish high. They'll be up against some of the best runners in the United States and it would be a miracle for them to train under the conditions the weather has imposed and still turn in an outstanding performance. But so long as chance takes a part in track events, so long do the Raiders have a chance. We'd like to see them come in ahead of the more vaunted runners. We'd like to see the relay teams finish in front. We'd like to see Texas Tech's colors lifted high in victory. It could be.

While we're on Tech and the season isn't too far behind us, we'd like to bring out the information that Coach Polk Robison is going to have his hands full with his basketball squad next year. Not that they're going to be a troublesome group. He wouldn't let them be in the first place. But Polk is going to lose heavily from the fine team he had this year. Such dependable starters as Don Grove, the towering center; Wimpy Hill and Ardis Barton, the fine guards; and two of the finest forwards, Bill Banks and Wayne Bowles, along with C. W Dukes.

Martyn Defeats Tech With No-Hit Hurling

A no-hitter by Jackie Martyn in a five-inning baseball game Thursday at Boys Club diamond enabled the club team to defeat Texas Tech Independents, 3-0. Eleven batters were strike-out victims of Martyn's left-handed pitching.

Martyn allowed only two Tech men to reach first base, one on a walk and one by being hit with a pitched ball. M. D. Stevens caught for the winners.

The Boys Club nine collected only four hits in winning the game, but they were timely and pushed the runs across. Jackie Cook, playing second base, led the attack with two singles in three trips to the plate, and Jack McClarty batted in one run with a single.

Glenn Lewis worked the full distance on the mound for the Independents, and Joe Coffee was the catcher.

Today at 4:30 Boys Club plays Levelland, and Saturday the team journeys to New Home for a return match. Joe Hall is scheduled to start today for Boys Club, and Carroll Walker will be the probable starting pitcher against New Home.

Two Southwest Loop Games Slated Today

(By The Associated Press)

The Southwest conference baseball chase, getting well underway, has two games scheduled for today.

Southern Methodist will meet Texas Christian at Dallas and Rice and A. & M. will play at Houston. The latter game was rained out earlier in the week.

Yesterday, the University of Texas and Texas A. & M. won circuit victories. The Longhorns whipped Baylor, 10-4, at Austin, while A. & M. blanked Rice, 7-0, at Houston.

Pat Hubert gave up only two singles in hurling the Aggies to their victory in the first loop tilt of the season for both clubs. He allowed only five Rice players to reach base and none of them reached second.

Texas raked three Baylor pitchers for 12 hits, including a pair of home runs and three doubles. The Steers got seven hits and five runs off Fred Copeland in four innings. Leroy Jarl was tagged for three hits and three runs. James Blair, who took over in the sixth, held Texas to two hits and two runs. Meanwhile, Murray Wall allowed the Bears eight hits and had a two-hitter going into the eighth.

At College Station, the A. & M freshman team defeated the Rice freshman, 3-2, in a hurling duel between Bob Tankersley of the Aggies and Walt Deakin of Rice.

My Request, Better Self Feature Race

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—The sport of kings returns to Queens today when Jamaica opens its 30-day spring meeting on Long Island with the $25,000-added Paumonok handicap as the feature attraction.

Fifteen classy stake performers were entered in the six-furlong Paumonok, traditional opening day feature at six furlongs over Jamaica's egg-shaped course. Heading the list are Ben Whitaker's My Request and the King ranch star, Better Self, which won the 1948 Paumonok.

Daily Double Returns

Aside from the Paumonok, chief interest will be in the return of the daily double. Racing officials said a poll conducted last year showed the betting faithful wanted the double restored. The tracks agreed, without mentioning the fact it is expected to give lagging mutuel play a shot in the arm.

Not since 1945 have turf customers been able to play the double in New York.

My Request, one of the leading three-year-olds of 1948, will go as an entry with Mrs. Whitaker's Miss Request. My Request will carry 130 pounds, Miss Request 116.

Better Self, carrying 127, will be making his 1949 debut. He will be coupled in the wagering with a stablemate, Energetic, 110. A third entry is the Joe W. Brown pair of King Dorsett and Brown Mogul, both 110.

Jockey Claude Erickson is to ride My Request, with Dave Gorman on Better Self.

Others entered are: Bomar stable's Piet, 112; Brookfield farm's Istan. 114; Brookmeade's Inseparable, 111; Maine Chance farm's Royal Blood, 117; Mose Rauzin's Buzfuz, 120; Sidney Schupper's Miss Disco, 113; and Mrs. E. Du Pont Weir's Royal Governor, second in last year's Paumonok, 114.

Lubbock Man Elected To State Group Post

The manager of the local gun club in Lubbock, Si Gooden, was elected vice-president of the State Trap-shooters association at a meeting held recently in Houston. Gooden was advised by mail of his election.

The annual state meet of the trap shooters association will be held in Houston April 20, 21 and 22.

15-Month Rent Law Becomes Effective

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1—Landlords and tenants began doing business today under a new 15-month rent law which many officials believe will mark the end of federal rent regulation.

As a starter, housing expediter Tighe Woods plunged into the paper work which will remove rent ceilings from all or part of 100 rent ceiling areas over the country. The first batch of these decontrols is due this weekend.

Rent officials are working nights, also, to write regulations putting the new law into practice. A stream of new rules is expected. But several weeks will be required to fix standards under which landlords may seek rent boosts giving them a "fair net operating income."

Some top housing officials believe that peacetime federal rent control will die on June 30, 1950, when the new law expires.

The "home rule" decontrol provisions, under which cities, counties and villages may throw off ceilings if the state governor approves, are believed likely to open up wide control-free areas as communities gradually overcome their housing shortages.

At least one governor, James (Big Jim) Folsom of Alabama, has made it plain he will support any move by the state legislature for statewide decontrol. This also is permitted by the new law.

The stubborn housing shortage in big industrial centers leads some officials to predict that many major cities will wish to keep controls beyond the expiration date.

But even the hardiest advocates of federal control believe it may be next to impossible to get another act through Congress in 1950, and few states so far have "standby" laws for use when federal ceilings end.

Still confronting Woods was the necessity to find a hard and fast method to determine what constitutes "fairness" in returns to landlords. To make up this yardstick, the housing agency has launched a study to find a cross-section of rental operating costs.

Business Plans

Strong "Multiplier"

Also, it works with a strong "multiplier effect:" The dollar it introduces into circulation when it pays a worker gets re-spent fast — again and again — jumping the national income.

In fact, business spending is one of the four big props under prosperity. In turning down this time, it's following two of the others, consumer (retail) spending and net foreign spending on American goods.

That, say the government economists, leaves just one of the big four items in national income and national product on the upswing: government spending.

They point out, however, that government spending accounts for nearly a fifth of the dollar total of national income, and its prospective increase could cancel or outweigh the combined decline in other spending.

Into Same Lanes

Furthermore, they said, some of the government's billions will be put into the same lanes as business spending — notably for production equipment under the Marshall plan — and will have some "multiplier effect" too.

The economists insisted that the business decision represented a smaller cutback on expansion outlays than "might have been expected — in fact, it could be said they actually are more 'optimistic' than had been guessed before the survey."

The survey, made by the securities and exchange commission and the Commerce department, was taken in mid-February — after a break in commodity prices.

It indicated that business spending this year will total $18,300,000,000, and thus — largely because the cutting down won't be felt until the year's last half — will top anything in dollar volume except 1948's record $19,200,000,000.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

GOLD AIDS MARKET

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP) — Sharp gains for several gold stocks in the last few minutes of trading gave a touch of life to a slow-moving market today.

Losses of fractons to around a point prevailed for the general run of issues. Closing prices in most cases were at or near the low marks of the day.

Selected golds, on the other hand, hit new highs for the year.

Most of the losses were established during the first hour.

The volume of trading dropped back to the modest levels which have prevailed for so long. The margin reduction stimulated business on Tuesday and Wednesday to close to 2,000,000 shares each and yesterday to nearly 1,000,000. Today's business was at the rate of around 850,000 shares.

Financial quarters, though, found some encouragement in the limited amount of trading. It was considered an indication that the market is not faced with any severe selling pressure.

Aircraft stocks did better than most others. Lockheed reached a 1949 high during the day while Douglas and Glenn Martin improved fractionally at one time.

Trimmed a bit most of the day were Santa Fe, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, Barnsdall Oil, American Telephone, Western Union, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Westinghouse Electric, American Woolen, National Biscuit, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Schenley, American Distilling and Publicker Industries.

Akron Drivers Out On Strike

AKRON, O., April 1. (AP)—Akron Transportation Co., bus drivers and mechanics struck for more pay today, cutting off public transportation for some 400,000 residents of the rubber city and adjoining communities.

It was the fourth year in a row that the rubber city's gasoline and trolley buses were idle on April Fool's day because the company and CIO Transport Workers union (drivers)and Independent Association of Machinists (garagemen) were unable to agree to new contracts. The 1948 strike lasted 26 days.

The buses were returned to garages after the night runs ended, shortly before 2 a. m. They stayed there at 4 a. m. when the morning runs were scheduled to start.

Pay Raise Sought

Negotiations which began again yesterday at 1 p. m. still were in progress at city hall. William H. Wright, president of the drivers' local commented:

"Forty fruitless days and nights (of negotiations)."

Both drivers' and mechanics' unions are seeking 9-cent hourly pay raises. Drivers now average $1.32 hourly, and mechanics, $1.42. About 500 drivers and 100 mechanics are involved.

Last night the transport workers voted down an undisclosed company wage offer as "unacceptable." The drivers also seek $100 monthly pensions, six to eight paid holidays and other fringe issues.

Although ATC buses carry an average daily passenger load of around 100,000 the rubber city was able to weather last year's four-week strike with a minimum of absenteeism in schools and at the big rubber plants. Biggest factor in meeting the emergency was a share-the-ride program.

There are 17 vacancies to be filled in the various district boards.

At Cooper two trustees are to be named. W. W. Allen and D. M. Summers seek re-election. They will be opposed by Hugh Sandlin and John Haynes.

morning. It is still under consideration.

The department, therefore, was hesitant to take any formal position on it until it had been thoroughly studied by Sceretary of State Acheson and other top authorities.

The State department spokesman declared that the obvious purpose of the Russian note is to have an effect on world public opinion. He said that was shown by the fact that the note was published by Moscow as soon as it had been delivered in the capitals of the Atlantic power countries.

Foreign ministers were gathering to sign the historic treaty on Monday. One of the new arrivals, Belgium's Paul Henri Spaak, told reporters that Russia's new note will not stop him from signing the North Atlantic alliance for his country.

The latest development on this front came when the State department announced that Secretary of State Acheson would receive British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schumann jointly later in the day.

Mrs. Laurie Davis Hubbard, also of near Cotton Center, and driver of the other car involved in the mishap was uninjured, Texas Highway patrolmen who investigated the accident said.

Men of the Chapel Presbyterian church last night attended a regular monthly dinner and business meeting at the church. Principal speaker was Rev. Chester Gleason, who is in charge of student work at First Christian church. A musical program, directed by H. A. Beaty, included vocal selections by Miss Jean Jacobson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wanda Jacobson. A short business session was held. Twenty-five members attended.

Police said an attorney and one other person had sought unsuccessfully to have police release an automobile held by officials since early Thursday as "bait" to attract its owner. Someone who was driving the car is believed to have stolen gasoline and to have fled afoot when police patrolmen discovered what was going on, leaving his car parked near the car where gasoline was being siphoned from. "We want to talk to the car's owner," officials said. "We have some questions to ask." They said a check of registration records indicated the machine belongs to a person in another county.

Perry Lewis Tucker, 19, of 318 Temple; Raymond Wilburn Roark, 19, of 2918 North Ruby, and Billy Gean Eaton, 21, of 309 Ave. U pleaded guilty of theft who were fined $15 each by corporation court officials, it was announced late Thursday. The man was arrested near a girls dormitory after he allegedly had fired a .38 caliber pistol three times. He also had a .22 pistol loaded with blanks. "The .38 ammunition was live," police said. The student told them he was shooting to "wake the girls up."

GOP Delaying Action Scored

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex) today accused Republicans of using filibuster tactics to delay a vote on the multi-billion dollar European recovery program.

Commenting on the lengthy and critical GOP speeches which have delayed final Senate action on the measure, Connally told a reporter:

"Some of them want to delay action and embarrass the administration. But they won't succeed."

Night Session Possible

He said the aid program will not be injured seriously even if the $5,580,000,000 outlay is not approved by April 3. On that date the Economic Cooperation administration will have spent or allocated all the funds appropriated for this year's program.

Connally is chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee and floor manager of the bill to authorize a second year of Marshall plan aid for western Europe. The actual cash will be provided later by another bill.

Majority leader Lucas (D-Ill), pressing for a final vote, said he will keep the Senate in session tonight if necessary to get action on a proposal by Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Russell (D-Ga).

Demos Confident

The Taft-Russell amendment would slice the $5,580,000,000 program down to $5,037,000,000.

Democratic leaders, seeking an early showdown on what they saw as the major threat to the ECA program, were confident they had the votes to beat the Taft-Russell move. That, said Lucas, would "break the back" of the efforts to water down the spending program.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb), minority floor leader, hoped to get his own economy amendment shoved in ahead of the Taft-Russell proposal, but he wasn't conceded much of a chance.

Wherry's proposal would cut ECA aid to $3,638,000,000 and put the program on a 12-month, rather than 15-month basis.

ASME Session

rade this afternoon and be guests of the Tech chapter of the ASME at the rodeo in Jones stadium tonight, according to plans.

Schools Represented

The Tech chapter of the ASME is host to the convention. Colleges and universities represented, in addition to Texas Tech, are Southern Methodist university, Texas A. & M. college, Louisiana Polytechnic institute, the University of Texas, Rice institute and Louisiana State university. The only school in the southern zone of region 8 not represented is Tulane university.

In the technical sessions, first of which was held this morning and the second of which is scheduled for 9 o'clock Saturday morning, students representing the different schools are delivering 15-minute speeches on different phases of engineering. A $100 first prize and several smaller prizes will be awarded to winners at a banquet which will be held at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night at Cactus Inn.

Southwestern Public Service Co. and West Texas Gas Co. will sponsor the banquet. L. J. Powers, professor of mechanical engineering at Texas Tech, will award prizes to winning student speakers.

A surprise feature of the Saturday night banquet is to be offered by Harlan T. Dowell of Dallas, representing the Chance-Vought Aircraft corporation, and by the chief engineer of Hughes Tool Co. from Houston. A dance is to be held in the Naval Reserve armory following the banquet.

Saturday afternoon, an inspection trip is to be made to the Southwestern Public Service Tuco Power plant near Abernathy and to the West Texas Gas Co. compressor station at Plainview.

Preceding Saturday morning's technical session, sponsors of ASME chapters in the various schools will attend a breakfast at Hilton hotel. Location of next year's conference will be decided.

too," all school regulations remain in effect through the day, with classes meeting on schedule.

Today's fun, incidentally, wasn't confined entirely to seniors. The school's sophomores and juniors were having quite a time "ribbing" the upperclassmen—and looking forward to the April 1 when they can turn "kid for a day."

FRONTIER DAY EVENT IS HELD AT SCHOOL

Annual Frontier Day celebration was in full swing at the O. L. Slaton Junior High school today, as students dressed in colorful pioneer, cowboy and Indian costumes vied for prizes to be awarded the wearer of the "most unique" costume in each division.

The student body voted on the awards by secret ballot this morning and the winners will be revealed at a special assembly program this afternoon.

All the students joined in the observance, officials reported, but the celebration was not marred by absence from classes or other typical April Fool's pranks.

SIAM KILLS OFF DOGS

The meeting is free and open to the public, and local AA officials have invited all interested persons to attend.

Smith is a widely-known civil lawyer, and an outstanding public speaker. On one occasion, he addressed a crowd of more than 75,000 persons in the Los Angeles, Calif., coliseum.

The meeting will be held in the Alcoholics Anonymous building at Sixteenth and Ave. J.

Plainview Man New Associate Justice

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Meade F. Griffin of Plainview was sworn in today as an associate justice of the State Supreme court.

"I'm for the American way of life," the new justice told the court and spectators shortly after Associate Justice John H. Sharp administered the oath.

Griffin said he believed "laws and decisions must continually progress to keep abreast of the times."

"Horse and buggy laws and decisions will not work in this age of airplane and atomic power," he said.

Griffin commended the other members of the court for their work and said he felt honored, as "a plain, small town, practicing lawyer," to join the court.

Chief Justice J. E. Hickman "heartily welcomed" Griffin.

Lucian Moorehead of Plainview, a law partner of Griffin's for 14 years, presented him to the court. Tom Sealy of Midland and F. B. Walker of Fort Worth stood beside Griffin as he took the oath.

Members of the family present for the ceremony included: Mrs. Griffin, his two children, Mary Ellen, 17, and Fred; 14; his mother, Mrs. W. F. Griffin of Tulia, and two sisters, Mrs. Willis A. Hawkins of Hart, and Mrs. Ray C. Clarke of Big Spring.

Plainview Show

pleted at noon. During the noon hour, some 35 show officials and guests met at a luncheon in Chicken inn. Ray Mowery, of the Texas Tech agricultural department, spoke informally at the luncheon, predicting that hog raising would become of increasing importance in this area during the next few years. Mowery also praised the efforts of show officials who devote their time and money to stage fat stock shows which, he said, help build character in farm youths of the area.

Earlier, Mowery has served as judge of the swine division, in which prizes of from $2.50 to $25 were awarded.

Manuel Ayers, general superintendent of the show, said that it appeared the 1949 show would top all previous years both as to attendance and number of exhibitors. The crowds would have been larger, he said, if the weather had been more favorable.

The entire morning period was devoted to swine. Lambs are to be judged at the afternoon session by J. A. Gray, and H. D. Elijah, Oklahoma City, will perform the same task when the fat calves are exhibited tomorrow.

The show this year is open to boys and adults but the two divisions are not to compete against each other. Prizes are given in each division and in each class. When all of the judging has been completed Saturday afternoon the lambs and beef cattle will be loaded for rail shipment to Kansas City where they will be sold on April 6.

The Plains' stockmen who attend his sale will be entertained and taken on a number of sightseeing tours about the Missouri metropolis.

C. B. Martin, former Hale county agent, is president of the Fat Stock Show association. Other officials are Roscoe Snyder, secretary-treasurer; George Sealey, assistant superintendent; Jack McGarr is superintendent of the fat steer and heifer division. Kenneth Gregg has charge of the lamb show. Dickie Roberts is superintendent of the swine division.

The last three named officials are all veteran 4-H and FFA exhibitors who have attended many previous Plainview Fat Stock shows.

It was announced this morning that 25 boys who are exhibiting stock in this show will board a chartered bus Sunday morning to go to Kansas City to see their stock marketed and processed. The group will return Thursday.

TASTE OF FREEDOM HEADY STUFF

Strains Of Love Ballad Put Convict In Path Of Officers

DALLAS, April 1. (U.P.) — The whining strains of a hillbilly love ballad, "My Dallas Darling," led to the capture last night of a 42-year-old convict.

Paul Goetzman Woods sat in his jail cell today and opined he never should have let the fiddle airs lead him to Dallas, where his girl friend lives.

Released For Funeral

He added that he was ready to return to Sugarland prison farm and serve his 99-year murder sntence.

The slender convict from Houston told of being released from Sugarland March 7 for 13 days to attend funeral services for his father at Jefferson, Tex.

But Woods said the taste of freedom proved heady stuff and after the rites, he set out for Mexico.

"I had no trouble passing through customs at Laredo and Nuevo Laredo," Woods said, "but after a couple of days in northern Mexico I decided to return to Texas.

Started For Utah

"I tore up my identification papers and told the American customs men that I lost my wallet. They let me back into this country."

Woods said he elected to hitchhike to Utah but that's when the strains of "My Dallas Darling" hit him squarely between the eyes.

"I was riding in this truck when a fiddle band began playing 'My Dallas Darling' over the radio. I decided to visit my girl friend in south Dallas."

That's where the cops got him last night.

Woods said that he was involved in a wreck last Saturday while "hitching" near San Antonio, and sheriff's deputies picked him up on suspicion. He added, however, that he gave them an assumed name and that he was freed Tuesday.

Former Director Of Boys Ranch Is Dead

DALLAS, April 1 (AP)—Marshall Lochte Brown, who resigned March 1 as director of the Variety Club Boys ranch at Copperas Cove, was found shot to death in his home here late last night. Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg rejurned a verdict of suicide.

Police said Brown had been shot once in the right temple with a .45 caliber revolver.

Brown's body was found by Rowland Wolfe, close friend who Brown once coached to a national tumbling championship.

Police said Mrs. Brown was visiting relatives in another part of Dallas at the time.

Brown, 45, once played football at Loyola university in New Orleans. He had been a circus performer, professional boxer, and Dallas athletic club athletic director.

He was athletic director at the DAC from 1927 until the beginning of World War II, when he became a Navy athletic director in Georgia. After the war he became director of the boys ranch.

He had served as Texas boxing commissioner and wrestling commissioner.

His work at boys ranch was the subject of a recent movie, "Bad Boy."

Taxi Strike

schedule at 4:30 a. m. (EST) in a bold stroke for recognition after an eleven-month organizing campaign among the city's 36,000 taxi drivers, mechanics and other workers.

Mayor Promises Protection

Mayor William O'Dwyer — remembering the beating and cab wrecking in strikes during previous city administrations—warned in a radio address that "goons" on either side "will not be tolerated for one minute."

He pledged that the strikers the employers and the public will be protected from "violence or force."

Police mapped out 58 well-lighted and heavily guarded routes and recommended them to taxi drivers who defy the strike. The routes are for long trips, and will curtail door-to-door service.

The striking union—local 35 of the taxi workers organizing committee—ordered picketing on a round-the-clock schedule at every taxi garage in the city.

Goon Charge Denied

The union said 100 United workers organizers have been brought here to help the strike, but it denies they are "goons"—strong-arm men.

The biggest operators among the owners of the 437 taxi fleets declared anew that they will keep as many cabs as possible running and will rely on the mayor's promise of protection.

Many small fleet owners said they are inclined toward a wait-and-see policy, and probably will not try to operate at least for the first few days of the strike.

The fleets—ranging from two to 1,600 cabs—account for 6,800 of the city's 11,510 licensed cabs The 4,710 others are owner-operated.

Tech Rodeo

(Red) Heath, rodeo manager, and Ritter were wearing 10-gallon hats, levis and cowboy boots, as were numerous other students on the campus. Many students wore striped or plaid shirts.

It was far from an all-male occasion. Many women students were attired in western clothes. Two of the rodeo events, goat tying and cloverleaf barrel race, were scheduled for women students.

Everyone Is Excited

"Everyone is really excited and a great spirit is built up out here," said Ritter.

At the breakfast, a western band composed of students played. Joe Meadors "rode in" from another division, as an agricultural student expressed it, to serve as master of ceremonies for the breakfast.

In the parade, approximately 15 floats are expected to take part. A large number of mounted cowboys and cowgirls is to participate. Dr. Wiggins will ride Tech's Sir Chubby I in the parade.

Dedication Planned

The rodeo performance tonight will be officially opened by President Wiggins with a dedication to all the oldtimers on the South Plains who came here "when sandstorms were just gentle breezes." This year's rodeo will be held in honor of the oldtimers.

This is the first year the show has been held in Jones Stadium and Rodeo Manager Heath says it will "be one to remember." The grand entry will open the program. It will be followed by a bareback riding contest.

Calf roping and girls goat tying will follow on the program. Saddle bronc riding and ribbon roping are next up. Then comes the clover leaf barrel race with Tech cowgirls competing. Team tying is next, followed by Buddy Heaton, of Kansas, a nationally known trick rider and rodeo clown. Heaton is a highlight in this year's rodeo. The final event is brahma bull riding.

The final rodeo program will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. A dance in Tech gym Saturday night at which the best all around cowboy and cowgirl will be crowned, will mark the official close of Tech's Western days.

County Court Finds Driver Not Guilty

A jury in county court of Judge Walter Davies returned a verdict of innocent about 5:15 p. m. Thursday in the case of Harvey Knight, 42, on a charge of assault with a motor vehicle.

The charge against Knight grew out of a collision of Knight's car with a truck March 6 on the Lubbock-Slaton highway.

Gloria Lee Volz, 7, was disfigured by facial scars as a result of the mishap. Knight testified that the child's mother, Mrs. Jo Volz, became hysterical and he took his eyes momentarily from the road in efforts to quiet her. That was when the mishap occurred, he said.

Arguments in the trial began at 3 p. m. Thursday and the case went to the jury about 4:45 p. m. Thursday morning had been devoted to presentation of special issues by the defendant's attorneys and preparation of the court's charge. Testimony had been completed Wednesday.

Sam Allred and Gordon Treadaway were attorneys for the defendant, and County Attorney Waggoner Carr and Assistant County Attorney Dudley Brummett prosecuted.

Judgments signed Thursday by Judge Davies included: $75 and court costs and revocation of the rights to drive a car for six months against Louis Evans Countess, 27, of Idalou, who pleaded guilty of drunk driving; $100 and court costs each against Mrs. Harry Hartzog, about 30, and June Clements, now of Borger, on pleas of guilty to charges of establishing a lottery (a punchboard).

Funeral Planned For Mrs. Howard Wells

Funeral services for Mrs. Howard Wells, 49, of Lubbock route 5, are to be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in First Central Baptist church with Rev. Jack A. Welch, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Tech Memorial park under direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home.

Mrs. Wells died about 3:15 p. m. Thursday in St. Mary's hospital. She had been a resident of Lubbock county for 14 years.

Survivors include her husband, Howard Wells of Lubbock; two sons, Donald and Jimmy, both of Lubbock; and her father, J. T. Duke of Sherman.

Pallbearers will be Orby Gee, Grady Burke, J. L. Edwards, A. F. Morton, Valarie Schnider, and Curtis Heald.

Senators Agree With Churchill A-Bomb Is Deterrent To War

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Congressional leaders agreed today with Winston Churchill that world peace now hangs on continued possession of the atomic bomb secret by this country.

Churchill's speech in Boston last night, praising the Marshall plan, the North Atlantic pact and unity among free peoples, produced the expected reaction in Congress.

In general, the lawmakers who support such foreign policy moves expressed their approval. But there also were critics—led by Senator Langer (R-ND), who carried on a bitter attack on the wartime British prime minister on the Senate floor yesterday.

Not Always Ahead

Senator McMahon (D-Conn), chairman of the joint congressional atomic committee, said of the Boston speech:

"Mr. Churchill correctly judges the part the atomic bombs play in presently keeping the peace. However we shall not remain the exclusive possessor in the future and Mr. Churchill, unlike so many others, realizes it."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), former chairman of the joint atomic group, agreed with Churchill that "atomic bombs have been the major deterrent to Russian aggression up to this point."

"That does not mean we can keep them exclusive indefinitely," Hickenlooper said. "The North Atlantic pact is a major step toward unity of free nations which will be another deterrent against aggression."

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the Senate armed services committee said the "atomic bomb is the keystone in our defense, of course, but we need other military arms to prevent world war III."

China Collapse Cited

Tydings also agreed with Churchill that this nation's atomic monopoly "is undoubtedly a temporary advantage."

Senator Gurney (R-SD), who preceded Tydings as armed services chairman, supported Churchill's plea for unity against aggression.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP policy committee, commented: "I agree with Churchill that the worst disaster since our victory is the collapse of China," and added that this was the "direct outcome of administration's policies."

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said Churchill's views might "require a re-appraisal of our defense measures to the extent we give weight to his judgment."

But Senator Malone (R-Nev), commenting that "personally I admire him and am very fond of him," declared that Churchill's speech was "totally inconsistent."

Langer Bitter

He said Britain and Russia have signed both a non-aggression pact and a trade agreement "under which unlimited war materials and supplies are going to Russia and her satellites." Malone added:

"I wish this country would develop someone who could take care of our interests as well as Churchill protects those of the British empire."

Malone's criticism was mild compared with that levelled by Langer.

The North Dakotan opened his attack Monday by saying that Churchill fought against the United States in the Spanish-American war. Churchill called that "entirely devoid of truth" in a telegram to Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee. Yesterday Langer delivered his reply.

He called the former prime minister "a man who speaks for war," and a "cold-blooded" and "cunning" propagandist, and added:

"American boys who sit crippled and blind must realize that the man primarily responsible was this same Churchill."

Connally Defends Briton

The source of his information about Churchill's Spanish-American war activity, he said, was a biographical sketch in the international Who's Who. He said Churchill probably prepared the sketch "as is customary."

Connally retorted that Langer's charges "do not seem to me to be supported by any proof whatever."

Churchill, in his telegram, had said he visited Cuba as an observer with the Spanish army, but had left two years before the Spanish-American war started.

Senator Chavez (D-NM) said: "I think the senator from North Dakota is wrong when he says that Churchill fought against the United States."

And Senator Knowland (R-Calif), had this to say:

"When we have passed into oblivion, future generations will be saying prayers of thanks for a man . . . with the ability and courage of Winston Churchill."

Chinese Peace Parley Slated

NANKING, April 1 (AP) — The Chinese government's peace delegation, feeling as if it was "standing on the edge of a bottomless gulf," flew off to Peiping today to negotiate with the Communists.

The delegates headed for an uncertain reception by Red negotiators who have given every indication that the going will be tough.

Behind them they left 2,000 demonstrating students who denounced their mission as a "gesture to fool the people" and shouted about "American imperialism" in China.

The delegation of six issued a statement at the air port which was a mixture of hope and fear.

Pledge Given

"We deeply realize the heavy responsibility upon us," it said, "and we feel that we are now standing on the edge of a bottomless gulf or walking on thin ice."

The delegation pledged itself "to carry out talks with the Communists in a spirit of sincerity so that the university desire of the people for a real and permanent peace can be fulfilled as soon as possible."

Gen. Chang Chih-Chung, head of the delegation, had been singled out for attack by the Communist radio shortly before his departure.

The radio in North China said Chang had gone to Chikow, south of Shanghai, on Tuesday to get "instructions" from "No. 1 war criminal Chiang Kai-Shek."

Premier Ho Ying-Chin and other top government officials were at the airport to see the party off.

Meeting Secret

No Nationalist Chinese newsman or foreign correspondent will be allowed to cover the conferences, which might well settle China's political fate for generations.

The dominant Communists are expected to impose harsh terms which would give them control of all China.

The students turned out in their demonstration in front of the offices of Acting President Li Tsung-Jen as the delegation left. They shouted such slogans as "oppose American military aid," "oppose American instigation for prolongation of the civil war," and "down with American imperialism and oppose false peace."

Later the students issued a statement on the peace mission's departure saying "we know this peace gesture is false because the government continues large-scale conscription." It asserted the government now is preparing for war and strengthening the Yangtze river defenses.

"Personal Radio" To Become Broadcasting Family Member

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—"Personal radio" will come of age June 1.

The federal communications commission said today that as of that date it is removing the new citizens radio service from the experimental list. It will begin then to issue regular operating licenses, making this service a full-fledged member of the broadcasting family.

The service contemplates that every man, woman or child 18 years old may become a broadcaster.

Authorizes Garget

The licenses to be issued will authorize the use by individuals of the "transceiver"—a gadget about the size of an ordinary camera and capable of both sending and receiving sound. The device is now on the market.

Proposed rules to regulate its use were announced last August, and have now been finally adopted by FCC. The commission disclosed that it had rejected suggestions that the licensing age be lowered from 18 to 16 years.

The commission said the uses of the individual radio are almost limitless. They range from communinications with field hands on large farms and the supervising of workers on construction projects to employment in the household nursery to pick up baby's cry when its parents are playing bridge in the next block.

Generally, the range of the individual radio signals will be a few city blocks although they may be heard over greater distances under the most favorable conditions.

Two Soldiers Die In Crash

DALLAS, April 1. (AP)—Two Sheppard field soldiers were killed near here late last night when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a truck.

Two other Sheppard field soldiers suffered minor injuries.

Killed were Master Sergeant William L. Blakelev and Bernard Hedington, 23, of Seattle, Wash.

Edward Reider, 19, of St. Mary's, Pa., and Dan K. Conn, 27, of Henrietta, Texas, were treated for cuts and bruises.

Traffic Halted

The truck, driven by Alfred B. Smith, of Chickasha, Okla., had stopped because of a traffic tie-up on the highway caused by a burning pickup-truck.

The car, in which the four soldiers with week-end passes were riding to Dallas, rammed almost half its length under the truck, witnesses said.

Investigators said traffic had stalled in both traffic lanes while firemen fought a blaze that destroyed the pickup truck owned by W. C. Farmer of Argyle, Denton county.

MIXTURE TOO RICH FOR POULTRY

Breeding Of Better Animals For Powerful Feed Necessary

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 1. (AP) —Some new livestock feeds are so powerful animals burst their seams if fed too much of it.

Dr. H. J. Prebluda, nutritionist, told the National Farm Chemurgic council today that scientists will have to breed new animals with greater capacities to handle food.

Farmers are demanding animals that grow faster on less food so they can increase their profits.

New high energy feeds are rich in vitamins, especially the new vitamin, B12; found in what is called the "animal protein factor." They are low in materials, such as fiber, that do not generate energy in animals. This causes rapid growth.

Better Animals Seen

Dr. Prebluda said when these feeds are fed to poultry it is like pouring rich coal into a furnace. Rich coal needs a good draft to burn efficiently. But the birds are not capable of burning rich feeds under draft. They burst the limits of the capacity to handle food. They have a physical breakdown.

Dr. Preblunda, nutritionist for U. S. Industrial Chemicals, Inc., New York, said genticists can breed animals with greater ability to grow rapidly. And this, he said, is being done.

But don't look for these nutrition scientists to produce giants. What Dr. Prebluda wants to do is develop animals that put on the greatest weight and mature in the shortest time on the least food. This saves the farmer money and produces cheaper meat.

Periods Reduced

He said only a short time ago it took 3½ pounds of feed to produce one pound of broiler meat. Now a pound of poultry meat can be produced from 2½ pounds of feed. Birds that reach top weight in 14 weeks on old type feeds reach top weight in nine weeks on the new feeds, he said. But they could grow even faster if they could handle the rich feeds better.

Dr. Prebluda said scientists lack complete knowledge about the "animal protein factor." It is found in such things as fish meal, meat scraps, dried liver and in manure, where it was first discovered. But it is produced now by fermentation, using bacteria, at comparatively low cost.

"As we learn more about it the new knowledge will be applied to food for human beings," Dr. Prebluda said.

Liquor Prices Make First Postwar Drop

PHILADELPHIA, April 1 (AP) —The retail liquor price line broke today for the first time since World War two.

Publicker Industries, Inc., announced that beginning today the retail price of eight brands will be cut three to 20 per cent in 10 states.

The price slash is effective in Pennsylvania, Maine, North Carolina, Oregon, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wyoming, Kentucky, and Arkansas.

Mine Workers' Taking Holiday

PITTSBURGH, April 1 (AP) — John L. Lewis' United Mine workers are taking today off to pay homage to one of their early leaders.

April 1 is known in the coal fields as John Mitchell day and is observed under terms of their contract annually as a holiday to mark the start of the eight-hour day in the coal industry.

In recent years Lewis has shared the honors, with some miners calling April 1 Lewis-Mitchell day.

Holiday To Continue

Most of the soft coal diggers will continue their holiday until Monday, although the anthracite miners of the eastern Pennsylvania fields will work tomorrow—principally because of the deep inroads made in the nation's coal stockpile during the recent two-week work stoppage ordered by Lewis.

Some captive mines, owned by steel companies, will operate tomorrow.

In Illinois, 17,000 members of the Independent Progressive Mine workers will work today. Some diggers also are at work in the hard coal pits, where Mitchell day normally is observed on Oct. 19.

About 400,000 Idle

In all, about 400,000 soft coal miners are idle today—less than a week after the end of their 14-day shutdown. Lewis ordered the stoppage from March 14 to March 28 in memory of killed and injured miners and to protest the appointment of Dr. John Boyd as director of the U. S. bureau of mines.

Throughout the soft coal fields of western Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia and Ohio parades and special ceremonies were scheduled to mark Mitchell day, which commemorates the time 51 years ago when the union first was able to crack operators' united opposition to the eight-hour day.

The UMW now is seeking a six-hour day and a 30-hour week.

Alaska And Hawaii Mix Rare Cocktail

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) (AP) — The latest capitol cocktail: pineapple juice cooled with Alaskan glacial ice estimated to be 30,000 years old.

Such drinks were served yesterday to seal the bonds of friendship between Hawaii and Alaska. They were enjoyed by delegate Joseph R. Farrington of Hawaii who provided the pineapple juice, delegate E. I. Bartlett of Alaska, whose territory furnished the glacial ice, and Governor Ernest Gruening of Alaska.

The ice from the Mendenhall glacier, 12 miles north of Juneau, was flown here by William L. Baker of Ketchikan, editor and publisher of the Alaska Chronicle, who accompanied a party of Gruening supporters from the territory.

The little party was held in the office of delegate Bartlett.

Woman Reelected To Head Club Federation

DALLAS, April 1 (U.P) — Mrs. Royden J. Keith, Chicago, was reelected, for the third time, as president of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs at a meeting here yesterday.

Also reelected by the board of directors were Mrs. Ada Holding Miller of Province, R. I., national vice-president; Mrs. C. Arthur Bullock of Cantan, Pa., recording secretary; and Mrs. Fredrik Marin East Lansing, Mich., treasurer.

Former Movie Actor Now Delivery Clerk

LOS ANGELES, April 1 (AP) — Twenty years ago Nils Asther was one of the movies' top romantic idols drawing a $5,000 weekly salary check.

Today, he is working for $1 an hour as a delivery clerk in the election branch of the city clerk's office—and happy about it.

This was disclosed yesterday as the Swedish-born actor, now 48 and broke, delivered election equipment to polling places for use in Los Angeles' April 5 mayoralty elections.

Still handsome, he said that he came back to Hollywood 14 months ago in hopes of picture work. But jobs didn't come through.

"I could not stand or afford the idleness. A friend got me this job and I like it very much. Never felt better in my life."

Justice Department's Use Of Tapping Wires Is To Continue

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) — Attorney General Clark today made it known that the Justice department is not going to abandon the use of wire-tapping in cases involving national security or a matter of life and death.

He acknowledged, however, that he will not press for one controversial provision in the administration's bill to tighten anti-espionage laws. That provision would permit use in courts of information obtained from wire-tapping by the FBI and military intelligence.

The two positions were disclosed as an aftermath to a flurry created yesterday by a letter sent to Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the Senate judiciary committee. It was signed by representatives of the Americans for Democratic Action and the American Civil Liberties union.

Voice Approval

The two organizations voiced strong approval of McCarran's action in removing the wire-tapping section from the administration bill.

They also went on to say that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had acknowledged publicly that the FBI does tap telephones in certain cases. The letter added that Hoover's statement "is an admission that he is violating the law."

McCarran said this wasn't so—that there is no law banning wire-tapping on the books now.

Clark, in a separate interview, told a reporter the department will continue, as it has done for many years, to tap wires when national security, or life and death such as in a kidnaping case, is involved.

"No Justification"

He said there "is no justification" for the criticism made by the ADA and Civil Liberties group. McCarran also said there was no reason for any "furore." He praised Hoover as a "great American" who has done a "great job" for his country.

Both Clark and McCarran agreed that the disputed provision had been removed last month because of mounting opposition to it in Congress.

McCarran said both he and the subcommittee handling the measure were opposed to the provision and had so informed the department. Clark said he had conferred with Senate and House judiciary members about two weeks ago, adding:

"I told them I was most anxious to get the other provisions of the bill enacted into law to protect the country against espionage activity. I thought that rather than sacrifice the whole bill, we would just take the wire-tapping provision out of it."

Goes Back To Act

The long dispute over the legality of wire-tapping goes back to the 1934 communications act which has a section banning the "interception and divulgence" of telephone communications.

Some believe this act bans wire-tapping. Others believe that it bans only the divulgence of information obtained from tapped wires, but does not make wire-tapping, as such, illegal.

In any event, information obtained from wire-tapping is not admissible as evidence in federal courts.

The espionage bill as it now stands would:

1. Eliminate the statute of limitations insofar as espionage cases are concerned. This means that a person accused of violating espionage laws could be indicted at any time. As the law now stands, an indictment must be returned within three years after the alleged offense if it occurred in peacetime.

Changes, Tighten Laws

2. Change and tighten present laws with regard to passing on information relative to defense "which could be used to the injury of the United States or the advantage of any foreign nation."

3. Provide for a fine of $100,000, or 10 years in prison, or both for any failure of an individual to report theft, loss, abstraction, or destruction of national defense material promptly to his superior officer.

4. Tighten up the act requiring registration of certain persons employed by foreign governments to disseminate propaganda in this country.

Tech Judging Team Honored At Banquet

Texas Tech's international crop judging team Thursday night was honored at a banquet held by the college Plant Industry club at Hilton hotel with more than 125 members and guests attending.

Judd Morrow, faculty sponsor of the club and coach of the judging team, presented gold medals to Miss Camille Stevens, Robbie Gill, Howard Taylor, and L. W. Rosebaum, members of the team. The Tech judgers placed second in international contests at Chicago.

The principal speaker for the evening was W. M. Nixon, 1935 Tech graduate who at present is regional agronomist for the Soil Conservation service with offices in Fort Worth, Nixon's subject was "Progress and What Is Ahead In Soil Conservation."

Marion Baumgardner was toastmaster. Jim Spain presented three vocal numbers, and his accompanist, Lamonte Leddy, gave a piano solo. Edward Day, vice president of the club, introduced guests, and Rosebaum reviewed activities of the club during the past year.

Special guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Jones, superintendent of Lubbock Experiment station; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McNeill, president of Texas Certified Seed Breeders association, Spur; David Sherrill, Lubbock county agent; Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Hunt, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Howard, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation service, and Ernie Shaw, soil specialist with the Soil Conservation service.

Dawson County TB Survey Scheduled

LAMESA, April 1 (Special) — A tuberculosis survey by the use of chest X-rays will be conducted here for a week beginning April 4, sponsored by the State Health department and the South Plains health unit.

A mobile X-ray unit will be set up at the high school gymnasium, and tests will be offered all residents of Dawson county over the age of 15 years without charge. The survey has been approved by the local medical society.

The tests will be taken in staggered shifts from Monday April 4 through Saturday April 9. The schedule of operation for the unit is as follows: Monday, one to four p.m.; Tuesday through Friday, 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Maintenance School To Be Held At Tech

A two day school to instruct 4-H boys, farmers and ranchers in the care and maintenance of their tractors and farm machinery, will be held at Texas Tech, April 7 and 8.

District Agent W. N. Williamson, of the extension service, said that plans have been made to have a second-hand tractor of nearly every type at the school. Service men and maintenance experts from the various firms handling the sales and service of these tractors will be on hand to demonstrate the proper way to make repairs and operate the machine more efficiently.

The school was to have been held in the agricultural engineering building which recently was damaged by fire. The classes will be held in the old agricultural engineering building, Williamson said.

Visitors are expected from 16 South Plains and Panhandle counties and the demonstrations are open to all who are interested in the subject.

WOMAN GIVEN ONE YEAR TO LIVE

"Mrs. Heart" With $10,000 To Spend Gets Pack Of Ideas

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 1. (U.P.)—What would YOU do if you had $10,000 and were told that you had only 12 months to live?

A 51-year-old widow, known to newspaper readers only as "Mrs. Heart," said today that she has received hundreds of answers since she propounded that question through the Daily Oklahoman newspaper.

Some of the telephone calls, telegrams and letters suggested outright that Mrs Heart might receive some sort of satisfaction from giving the senders her money. One man hinted delicately at matrimony.

But most of the helpful Americans sent her message of hope and encouragement.

Mrs. Heart said that none of the messages "seems to have the answer I want." She said she "never dreamed so many people would be interested" in her case.

Other Doctors Unwanted

The retired businesswoman said heart specialists have told her she has just one year left to live. As a result, she bequeathed her fortune to charity and relatives. But she retained $10,000 to spend during the remainder of her life. Now she seeks suggestions on how to spend it.

"I haven't had any fun—I never learned how to spend money," she said.

Many letters suggested that she consult other doctors. One heart expert said he didn't believe "we are justified in telling people they are going to die after a certain period. Heart disease is not a death sentence."

But Mrs. Heart said she didn't want to spend the time going from one doctor to another because "you wouldn't have any fun and you'd probably die anyway."

Lonely Heart Eliminated

D. J. Brown of Berkeley, Cal., said he had a plan for spending the $10,000 and could "eliminate" the "terrible loneliness" Mrs. Heart had complained of when she first set forth her question.

It was the nearest thing to a proposal that she received in answer to her assertion she would be willing to marry someone she knew "pretty well." The widow lives alone with a pekinese dog.

Maurice R. Hays, 36-year-old truck driver from Excelsior Springs, Mo., drove all the way from Columbus, O., to tell Mrs. Heart not to give up hope.

When he was 18, he said, "doctors told me I had a bad heart and would never get over it. Three years later, an Army doctor told me my heart troubles was gone." He advised a strict diet of "fresh vegetables and liver—lots of iron to feed the heart."

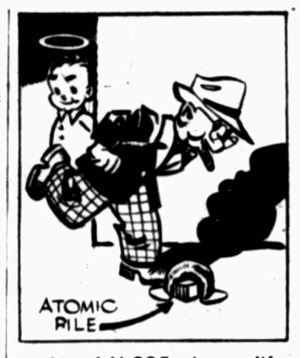

Woman Tries Touch

Mrs. Willie Smith, 42, Little Rock, wanted to borrow money because "frankly, I have cancer and I've been told I have only a year to 18 months to live unless I have an operation."

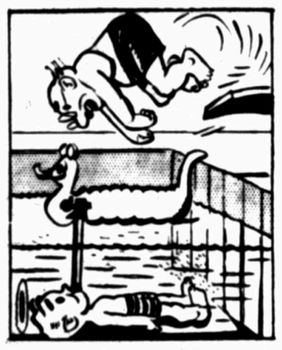

"My husband hasn't worked in nine months," said Mrs. Martha Blakeley of Britton, Okla., who is living at the Salvation Army center here with her five children. "If we had just $75 we could get him into a hospital and hire a doctor to fix his crushed hand and his stomach trouble."

Mrs. Heart said she doesn't care about traveling, clothes, or a new car. She also was cold toward suggestions that she give the $10,000 to a church. That's all taken care of in her will, she said.

And if she marries, her husband cannot expect to share in her estate after she dies. He will only help her spend the $10,000.

Woman Is Sterilized To Escape Prison For Killing Infant Son

LOS ANGELES, April 1. (AP)—Mrs. Georgette Brucks, 21-year-old mother, has been sterilized to escape prison for the beating death of an infant son.

The surgery was performed when her fourth child was born, her attorney, Walter N. Anderson, disclosed yesterday. He quoted doctors as saying that sterilization was necessary, anyhow, because of a uterine condition.

The baby, a six pound, seven ounce boy, was born with a spinal defect which will require corrective surgery if he is to live, Anderson said.

Mrs. Brucks was placed on six-year probation on condition she submit to sterilization after she pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of Howard, her seven-month-old son. A one-to-10 year prison term was suspended.

The sterilization idea was advanced by Mrs. Brucks and her attorney, although she later expressed doubts about it.

Anderson said that Mrs. Brucks does not intend to return to Donald Redman, 23, her common law husband and father of her last two children. Redman is in jail on suspicion of robbery.

Mrs. Brucks is hoping now to get a job as a commercial artist. Aptitude tests in jail disclosed she might have talent, said Anderson.

The court order also provided that Mrs. Brucks agree that a 20-month-old son and the new-born baby be released for adoption. The other child, a four-year-old son, is with the father, Edmund Brucks, at Wickcliffe, Ohio.

Oil Field Visited By Geology Group

A group of 120 junior and senior geology students from Texas Tech made a field trip to an oil well location in the Levelland field Wednesday, according to Charles A. Renfroe, geology lecturer at the college.

Renfroe said the trip was arranged by Frank Stokes of the Lane-Wells company. Stokes conducted the tour to provide the students with practical experience in radio activity well logging.

Churchill Declares Bomb Kept Reds From Overrunning West

BOSTON, April 1. (AP)—Doughty old Winston Churchill thrust out his bulldog jaw, and told the world that:

"Europe would have been communized—like Czechoslovakia—and London under bombardment some time ago but for the deterrent of the atomic bomb in the hands of the United States."

But, he said, "war is not inevitable."

Speaking of the "war of nerves" he advised the Massachusetts Institute of Technology mid-century convocation last night:

"If we preserve steadfastly together, and allow no appeasement of tyranny and wrong-doing in any form, it may not be our nerve or the structure of our civilization which will break—something else will break, and peace may yet be preserved."

Truman Sends Regrets

Reaction from abroad was slow, but the first British newspapers to comment called the speech a "receipe for peace" and "remarkable."

These comments came from three conservative British newspapers, the Yorkshire Post, the London Daily Mail, and the Daily Telegraph.

In a letter expressing his regret at being unable to fulfill his own engagement to speak tonight at the convocation, President Truman said:

"Mr. Churchill, I'm sure, will give you something that will be historical for this period."

Harold E. Stassen replaces the President as tonight's speaker

Churchill rolled out in sonorous tones a blunt accusation that "thirteen men in the Kremline . . . aiming at the rule of the world" had "self-preservation" as the root of their "sinister and malignant policy."

Repeating the phrase, "these thirteen men in the Kremlin," Churchill said their "missionaries are in every country as a fifth column, awaiting the day when they hope to be the absolute masters of their fellow-countrymen and pay off old scores."

People Not Enemy.

". . . The largest army in the world," Churchill said, "is in the hands of a government pursuing imperialist expansion, as no czar or kaiser had ever done."

Churchill said that the Western world was "now confronted with something quite as wicked, but in some ways more formidable than Hitler . . ."

The 74-year-old former prime minister of Britain said that the question, "is time on our side?" was "not a question that can be answered within strict limits."

"We have certainly not an unlimited period of time before a settlement should be achieved," he added.

"The utmost vigilance should be practiced, but I do not think myself that violent or precipitate action should be taken now."

Churchill repeatedly asserted that "we have no hostility to the Russian people," adding:

"We seek nothing from Russia but good will and fair play."

Policies Backed

He hailed the Marshall plan, the "new unity in Western Europe, and the Atlantic pact as demonstrating a "tremendous change in our outlook and policy toward the future of the world."

"Three years ago," Churchill said, "I spoke a Fulton, Missouri, under the auspices of President Truman.

"Many people here and in my own country were startled and even shocked by what I said.

"But events have vindicated and fulfilled in much detail the warnings which I deemed it my duty to give at that time."

(At Fulton, in March, 1946, Churchill lamented the lowering of an "iron curtain" across Europe, assailed Soviet Russian expansion, and called for the fraternal association of the British commonwealth of nations and the United States.)

"Today," Churchill said, "ther is a very different climate of opinion.

"No one could, however, have brought about these immense changes in the feeling of the United States, Great Britain and Europe but for the astounding policy of the Russian government.

"We may well ask: 'why have they deliberately acted for three long years so as to unite the free world against them'?

"I offer you my own answer to this strange conundrum.

"It is because they fear the friendship of the west more than its hostility.

"They cannot afford to allow free and friendly intercourse to grow up between the vast areas they control and the civilization of the West.

"The Russian people must not see what goes on outside, and the world must not see what goes on inside the Soviet domain."

Churchill said that because of the Kremlin policies, relations between Soviet Russia and the rest of the world were "without precedent in history."

"Measures and counter-measures have been taken on many occasions which in any previous period could only have meant armed conflict," he added.

Now, he said, the United Nations organization "remains a key of deliverance."

But, he said, the UN "has so far been rent and distracted by the antagonism of Soviet Russia, and by the fundamental schism which has opened between communism and the rest of mankind."

"But we must not respair," he said.

"We must persevere, and if the gulf continues to widen, we must make sure that the cause of freedom is defended by all the resources of combined forethought and superior science.

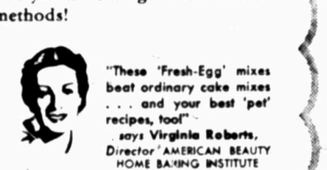

"Here lies the best hope of averting a third world struggle, and a sure means of coming through it without being enslaved or destroyed."

Defense Lawyers Attempt To Shake Former Red's Testimony

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Defense lawyers in the Communist conspiracy trial today resume their efforts to shake the testimony of Louis F. Budenz, one-time Communist who quit the party.

By 43 different motions, the defense sought yesterday to have his six days of testimony thrown out. All the motions were overruled.

As cross examination of the government witness began, defense lawyers brought out information from Budenz about his work, religion and even his love.

"This is the gol-darndest trial I ever saw," said Federal Judge Harold R. Medina.

Accused Of Conspiring

The 11 defendants are accused of conspiring to advocate the forcible overthrow of the U. S. government.

The defense asked Budenz if he, while serving as managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker, ever wrote any article advocating forcible overthrow of the government.

"Not specifically," answered Budenz.

"While you were managing editor," continued a defense lawyer, "did that paper ever carry any story by anybody advocating overthrow of the government by violence?"

"No," said Budenz, "except by use of the principles of Marxism-Leninism."

Budenz ended his direct testimony yesterday after describing his associations with the defendants and identifying some 30 Communist publications.

Parts of the publications were read to the jury by prosecutors in an attempt to show that the Communists' program is one of violent revolution.

After Medina overruled the defense lawyers' 43rd motion, Attorney Abraham J. Isserman started to offer a 44th.

Medina said he would assume that the defense objected to all Budenz' testimony and all the exhibits and "I deny them all."

Might Read Documents

Isserman hinted that the defense might find it necessary later to read all the documents in full, since, he contended, government attorneys' readings had not given a true picture of the publications.

Budenz testified during cross-examination that he married his present wife in October, 1945, the same month he returned to the Catholic faith, but "met her and lived with her" 10 years earlier.

"Did you live as husband and wife?" asked the judge.

"I was not divorced from my first wife," Budenz said.

During his cross-examination Budenz said the Communist party advocated reforms such as higher wages, anti-lynching laws and price and rent controls, but "for reasons of its own."

"They take advantage of every grievance," he said.

DIVORCES ON INCREASE

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—The British military government reports that divorces in the British zone are increasing and the peak has not yet been reached.

Several Mexican States are lending farmers money to buy farm machinery.

Kathleen Winsor And Lawyer Plan Wedding

NEW YORK, April 1. (INS)—Kathleen ("Forever Amber") Winsor and a 38-year-old lawyer who helped her win a divorce from Band-Leader Artie Shaw announced today they will wed in Florida "within a few days."

The attorney, Arnold Robert Krakower, said the details "have not been worked out yet, and we don't know just when the ceremony will be performed."

Krakower explained that he expects the marriage to take place in Palm Beach. It will be his first marriage and her third.

Miss Winsor, author of a best-selling novel, checked out of her New York hotel, stating she has "lots of things to do that will keep me busy all day."

Previous reports said the romance began last December when Miss Winsor won her divorce in a stormy court battle with Shaw.

Stonemason Takes Bernard Shaw To Task For Using Bad English On Grave Marker

WINDLESHAM, Surrey, Eng., April 1. (INS)—A "gravestone grammar" battle today found a 65-year-old stonemason who quit school at 14 accusing famous playwright Bernard Shaw of using "bad English."

The dispute arose when the 92-year-old Shaw commissioned Stonemason Jack Easthaugh in Windlesham village to put an epitaph on a granite monument for Clara Higgs, his faithful housekeeper who died last year. The monument also is to be for Harry Higgs, Clara's gardener husband, when he dies. One line said:

"They kept his home and garden. . . thereby setting him (Shaw) free to do the work he was fitted for."

The shocked Eastbaugh said "Fancy ending a sentence with a preposition," and he sat down and wrote Shaw suggesting the line should read "work for which he was fitted."

Shaw, who long has battled for a simplified English spelling system as well as simpler use of the language, promptly sent a postcard by return mail which said:

"What I write is good spoken English, not a schoolmaster's English which nobody ever speaks. Stick to my text. I never use there 'for whiches'."

Easthaugh exclaimed "was I snubbed!" and then added:

"I'll do it but I still think it's bad English."

With the aid of American experts, India plans to develop a plastics industry.

Victory For Education Bills In Texas House Is Predicted

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Victory for the Gilmer-Aiken education bills was being forecast by their supporters today.

Results of yesterday's House floor action on the first of the bills appeared to justify the prediction. Opponents may delay final passage of the measures, but they do not at present have enough strength to defeat them.

There were two highly indicative votes yesterday. The G-A leaders won both times. Then the House joined the Senate in adjourning until Monday.

Postponement Debated

They battered down Rep. Sam Hanna's motion to postpone consideration of Senator Jim Taylor's bill reorganizing the administrative set-up of the school system. The quick-tongued Dallas legislator wanted to study the bill until April 13. His suggestion was killed 77 to 55.

Rep. Callan Graham of Junction came up with a double-barreled amendment to knock out the proposed 21-member elective board of education and the investment commission on school bonds.

He suggested a nine-member appointive board which would in turn appoint a state commission of education. He was willing to go along with the provision of eliminating the elective office of state Superintendent.

There were indications Graham had considerable support for his amendment, an effort to table it failing by 62 to 67. But Gilmer-Aikin forces quickly worked the floor to switch some votes, and the amendment failed to carry on a direct motion. It was defeated, 67 to 58.

"That just shows you how well organized the backers of the bill are, and how disorganized the opposition is," Graham commented to reporters.

The big guns in the Gilmer-Aikin offensive wanted to keep working until Taylor's bill could be disposed of finally, but a majority of the House preferred to take off for the weekend. Adjournment was by 67-to-59 vote.

This means the school reorganization proposals will not be taken up again until Wednesday, the next Senate-bill day in the House.

Rep. Rae Files Still, Waxahachie school teacher-law maker teaming with Rep. George Nokes of Corsicana to carry the bills through the House, offered several amendments designed to appease criticism of the first measure.

Most important of the changes adopted was one to retain Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of schools, as an advisor in the new organization plan until his term ends Dec. 31, 1950.

Surprise Birthday Party Staged For Youth In Hospital

John Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Austin of 2117 Thirtieth, was admitted to the hospital Monday night after he was struck accidently in the right eye with a belt buckle during a game with other Boy Scouts of troop 3 at First Baptist church.

The party plans originated when hospital personnel learned that the boy's birthday would have to be spent in the hospital. A cake was baked in the hospital's kitchen, Mrs. Austin was asked to invite John Harvey's friends and the rest of the party was taken care of by the boys.

Present for the surprise party were Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church; Mrs. O. D. Whitwell, one of the hospital nursing staff; and five of John Harvey's boy friends, Ben Davis Daniels, Joe Dale Bryan, Clarence King Whiteside, Glen Tucker and Joe Lon Teal.

John Harvey, propped up on a pillow last night in his hospital room, said he was "feeling fine," and pointed with pride to a small branch of hedge on which his friends had tied chewing gum, candy, pencils, notebooks, and a variety of other articles. On the dresser were stacked the birthday gifts which he received. Although hospital authorities aren't certain yet just how serious John Harvey's eye is injured, the parents and the boy are hopeful that no permanent injuries will result.

Fourth grade students of Sanders elementary school Thursday took top honors in a four-school "play day" held on the Sanders school grounds.

The host school team scored a total of 105 points. East Broadway tallied 66, Guadalupe 61, and K. Carter 52.

Events included boys and girls dashes, boys and girls tug-o'-war, girls volleyball relay, boys chinning bar, girls rope-skipping relay, boys softball throw, girls over-and-under relay, boys softball relay, and boys and girls shuttle relays.

Approximately 300 students attended and participated in the events.

Three-Day Formal Opening Of New Floral Company Will Be Conducted This Weekend

Formal opening of the new Texas Floral company, 2107 Twenty-first, one of the finest wholesale and retail floral shops in Texas, will be observed by J. C. Davis, owner, tonight, Saturday and Sunday.

Davis recently remodeled and expanded the shop into a modern floral and gift center. The shop has 125 feet of plate glass windows running the entire length of the building.

Open house will be held from 6 until 9:30 p. m. today; 6 until 9:30 p. m. Saturday and from 1 until 6 p. m. Sunday.

20,000 Visitors Expected

More than 20,000 visitors are expected to go through the plant, which besides the shop and gift department comprises 35,000 feet greenhouse where more than 100,000 flowers and flowering plants are growing. He has more than 500 varieties.

Included in the stock are more than 10,000 rose plants, 15,000 carnations, 6,000 snap dragons and 3,000 to 4,000 calendulas.

The remodeled shop and gift department has a vari-colored terrazzo tile floor, sand-blasted knotty pine walls, and modernistic furniture for patrons.

The gift shop, which contains hundreds of articles of ceramics, glassware, copper and brass pieces, statuettes, pottery and other items, was added to the firm's service to the public in the remodeling of the building.

Davis plans to operate a tropical garden greenhouse in connection with his business and will grow his own orchids and other tropical flowers and plants.

In his greenhouses, which are heated with thermostatically-controlled units, flowers will be blooming for the visitors. Hundreds of other flowers will be on display in the shop and in the refrigerated cases.

Davis, who came to Lubbock in 1921, has been in business for himself since 1926. His new and enlarged plant is the realization of a long dream. He grows more flowers for local trade than any florist between Fort Worth and El Paso and serves florists over a wide area.

E. H. Rogers and John Nimmo are in charge of the design department and Mrs. R. L. Austin and her two daughters, Betty and Sue, have charge of sales and the gift department.

W. E. Dodson and Harold Donnell have charge of the nursery, located at Thirty-fourth and Ave. P.

Midnight Is Deadline For Registering Cars

Midnight tonight is the deadline for registering motor vehicles, and the office of J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector, will remain open until that time.

Five sub-stations, which have been in operation to facilitate registrations, closed yesterday. Tags for 1949 must be on all vehicles operated after midnight tonight, or the motorists will be in violation of the law.

As of the close of business Thursday, 21,200 registration receipts had been issued for passenger vehicles and 5,103 for other vehicles. Of the total, 2,063 registrations were handled Thursday, indicating the last-minute pace.

From the number of persons calling police and the sheriff's department last night and asking about the deadline for registrations, it was indicated that the tax office may expect a considerable rush of registrations today.

At present, the most important oil region in the Middle East lies in a great geologic trough extending down through Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, and the sheikdoms of Kuwait, Bahrein, and Qatar.

FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD—

Saturday, April 2, 1949

Paid Pol. Adv.
Paid for by friends of these three candidates.

That Girl on Broadway says man has inhabited this earth for more than two million years and hasn't yet learned how to run the darn thing!

Nations will spend any amount necessary to wage war, but when it comes to establishing and maintaining peace, they go bargain-hunting.

NOW that the 5-cent cigar and the 5-cent candy bar are back in circulation, what this country needs most is a razor by, of and for women.

Of course, any sort of razor which will cut a man's whiskers will scrape the hair off women's legs and from under their arms. But that's just the trouble. Because a woman knows that, she uses her husband's razor when her husband isn't looking and the next time the husband tries to shave with the razor there's heck to pay.

A smart razor manufacturer could get rich—or, rather, richer—by bringing out a razor just for women. All he'd have to do would be put a plastic handle on it, so there could be a color scheme, and make it look just a little different, otherwise. Then the ladies would rush to buy the product.

The possibilities of a woman's razor are practically boundless.

"Win the admiration and envy of every woman in your bridge club," the advertisements could read. "Buy the Whoopsy-Doopsy razor, made especially for the tender skin of your lovely calves!"

Or:

"This Week Only: The Whoopsy-Doopsy Razor AND a Jar of Smoothy-Woothy Cream to Rub on Your Legs After Shaving—All for 79 cents!"

Or, even:

"Mrs. J. Vandventer van Gotrocks Switches to Whoopsy-Doopsy. 'I Never Knew How to Live Before,' she says, as her butler helps hoist her into her limousine en route to the Bums Arts Ball."

WHY every slick magazine would have full page ads, headed: "She's lovely! She's Rich! She Shaves with Whoopsy-Doopsy! She's Engaged!" And the radio, day and night, would be blaring, to the tune of some old favorite:

"Whoopsy-Doopsy, smooth as silk, makes your legs look white like milk. Zip across here; zip across there—gone is that unsightly hair! Twice as good as your husband's Schick! Shave your legs with nary a nick! Whoopsy-Doopsy, Whoopsy-Doopsy, Whoopsy-Doopsy!"

Or:

"And now the next episode of John's Second Cousin's Wife's Brother-in-Law, brought to you by Whoopsy-Doopsy, the Woman's Razor with the beautiful heliotrope handle. Don't fuss with your husband over his razor. Have one of your own—a real Whoopsy-Doopsy. Greta Slobbo, the movie star, says: 'I'd just as soon go out without my girdle as without my Whoopsy-Doopsy. They're wonderful for whiling away the time between shooting schedules at the studio'!"

Now this may sound like so much melarky, unless, of course, you are a husband whose wife purloins your razor and leaves the blade like it had been used for opening cans. But the truth is, there are a lot of possibilities in the idea.

If any married male will remember, just for a moment, how much stuff his wife buys for no reason at all other than that it's just been sold to her, he'll realize that a Woman's Razor, sold in a plush box with a ribbon around it, would really go big.

Women who'll buy 10 dozen jars of as many kinds of creams and salves; who'll pay $35 an ounce for some stinked up water called "My Indiscretion," or "Naughty Gwendolyn," would be tickled to death to buy Whoopsy-Doopsy razors with that feminine touch. If convinced by some slick advertising patter that shaving with Whoopsy-Doopsy would: make them look as hairless as a billiard ball, they'd spend their last cent for one.

Why some smart manufacturer hasn't thought of the Whoopsy-Doopsy before now is a mystery.

Or else it proves the truth of the cry that excessive taxes finally have wrecked our system of free enterprise!

ATLAS wasn't such a much, after all. He only held the world on his shoulders—unlike Uncle Sam, he wasn't called on to finance it!

It is reported that Joe Stalin is quite ill, but not critically so. A great many people hope for an early and decided change in his condition.

That Man on Avenue Q says after being frightened silly by inflation for the past several years, many of us are now beginning to fear it may not continue!

A "Say-What-You-Think Week," recently proposed, would undoubtedly bring about a number of casualties, but the deep silence on the part of many would be refreshing.

ALTHOUGH immediate war with Russia is an improbability, it remains a constant possibility. And since war with Russia is a possibility that can become an actuality any time the Russians decide they can defeat us, what steps, if any, are we prepared to take against the Communists within our borders the very moment the shooting begins?

Do we know who all of them are and, always, where they are, so they may be picked up before they can do any damage?

And if we know who they are and where they are, do we have the legal power to pick them up and either shoot them, or incarcerate them, as conditions may dictate?

These are questions the whole country ought to have answered right now. If they can't be answered as the people want them answered, steps must be taken to see that they are so answered as quickly as possible.

Communists in the U. S. already have said they will not support this country in any war with Russia.

This means that they will do whatever they can to stab the nation in the back as it fights Russia. They will bomb, shoot, set fires—do all within their power to hamper our war effort if Russia insists on fighting.

Therefore, we ought to be ready to prevent these Fifth Columnists from doing any damage if and when war breaks out.

IN view of the general opinion in the U. S. and over the world that war with Russia may be expected at Russia's convenience, the U. S. needs:

1. Laws forcing every Communists member and sympathizer to register;

2. Laws directing the proper authorities to keep constant check on these enemies of our country; and,

3. Laws enabling proper authorities to round up and deal with them as the situation demands, immediately upon the outbreak of any hostilities between our country and any of the Russian dominated countries.

Not to take immediate steps of this nature is worse than careless and stupid. It is criminal negligence.

This is no time for the nation to sleep with rattlesnakes in its blankets.

BY DREW PEARSON: JUSTICE DEPARTMENT COULD UNCOVER JUICY MICHIGAN SCANDAL

Marshal Tito Appeals For American Military Aid

WASHINGTON — Now that James Forrestal is out as secretary of national defense, the story can be told of one of his last sessions with Truman and the man who was to take his place—Louis Johnson.

PEARSON

Though Forrestal had put up a tough fight against the appearance of being ousted from his job, he saw the handwriting on the wall and asked only that there be a gradual change-over from him to his successor. He wanted this to take place May 1, but at a luncheon with the President and Louis Johnson, he bowed to Truman's wish that it be April 1.

Furthermore, Forrestal volunteered to help Johnson in taking over the defense job and immediately placed important secret intelligence at his disposal.

At this luncheon meeting, it was agreed on the date when Johnson's appointment would be announced, and Johnson declared that until that time he was going to leave town.

"I don't want to be accused of leaking this news," he said. "And it's already begun to leak." He looked meaningly at the other two.

"There's been no leak from me," declared Truman.

"May one cross-examine the President of the United States?" asked Johnson.

The President smiled, and Johnson proceeded to do so.

"Didn't you tell General Eisenhower about this?" he asked.

"Oh, yes," admitted Truman, "but he won't tell a soul."

"And did you tell Senator Tydings?" asked Forrestal.

"Yes, I forgot about that," acknowledged the President, "but Tydings won't leak."

"Yeah?" said the new secretary of defense. "Well, it's leaking already. And that's why I'm leaving town."

Michigan Scandals

If the Justice department ever quits sitting on its hands and takes a real look at the Michigan political contributions, it will uncover some of the juciest scandals in the U.S.A. Furthermore, it will get to the bottom of the manner in which a lot of political money has been raised in this country.

The Justice department has fuddy-duddied round with a semi-investigation, but the U. S. district attorneys in Michigan have been half scared of the big Michigan auto interests, while higher-ups in the Justice department have been busy chasing spies and running off in other directions.

Meanwhile, Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Senate campaign investigating committee, has had some efficient probers busy in Michigan, and they have dug up evidence of widespread violation of the corrupt practices act. Among other things they have found:

A cashier's check, Feb. 24, 1948, by the Barclay Deyo corporation, a Detroit Ford dealer, for $750 to the Wayne county Republican finance committee.

Also a contribution by the Park Motor Sales company, a Lincoln-Mercury dealer in Detroit, for $750, on Feb. 11, 1948, to the Wayne county Republican committee.

Also $953 to the same committee on March 12, 1948, by the Floyd Rice Sales and Service Co., another Ford dealer in Detroit.

Not only are these contributions by corporations a violation of the corrupt practices act, but Senate investigators are interested in ascertaining what connection there was between certain large gifts to the Republican machine and the nonpayment of sales taxes by certain auto dealers. Michigan raised a terrific wad of dough for the G. O. P. What did the Michigan auto people get in return for their money?

TITO WANTS help—This may be denied, but Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has appealed to the United States for American artillery, communications equipment and spare parts for his air force. Tito has told the American embassy in Belgrade he fears a Soviet pincers attack on Yugoslavia from Albania and Bulgaria where the Russians are concentrating military forces. . . The U. S. embassy has passed along Tito's urgent request—with the postscript that it has ironclad evidence that an average of two Russian ships each day have unloaded military equipment at the Albanian port of Durazzo for the past three weeks.

Temperamental Monty — Field Marshal Montgomery will not remain in command of allied troops under the North Atlantic defense pact. The French—and some others—don't like him. Also the joint chiefs of staff of the Western nations have already signed a secret agreement that the chairmanship of their military staff will be rotated as long as war doesn't threaten. However, as soon as war does threaten, an American will be named to head the combined chiefs in place of Montgomery.

Diminishing Communists—The American ambassador to Italy, James Dunn, has just sent a confidential cable to the State department reporting that, thanks to the friendship train, the Marshall, etc., Italian Communist membership has dropped from more than 2,000,000 to less than 1,500,000.

Far Eastern tinderbox—Secretary of State Acheson has sent secret instructions to all American diplomats in the Far East telling them to be extra careful to avoid any action which might be interpreted as an insult to the yellow race. . . Conditions throughout the Far East are so tense that Acheson fears some isolated incident might touch off a disastrous race riot. . . The tense situation is partly because of Communist propaganda, partly because of Western blunders such as the Dutch attack on Indonesia. Communists have been hammering away at the theme that the white men from the West are trying to keep them in a backward state in order to exploit them. . . Acheson wants American diplomats to expose the Russian propaganda line when they can, but above all to be careful in all behavior.

Labor - leader ambassadors—The State department has decided to shake up the diplomatic corps by naming some U. S. labor leaders to diplomatic posts. One of the first to be considered is Clint Golden, capable CIO official now working as adviser to the Economic Cooperation administration. Golden heads the list of candidates for the job of American ambassador to Norway.

The Question Now Is--Can He Repeat?

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

HERE'S expression of a certain masculine attitude that I know most of my women readers have encountered.

"Most of our housewives are so wasteful of their time and energy that no modern industrial concern in its right mind would want them on the payroll," sneers an industrial engineer in a recent magazine article gallantly titled: "Should Your Wife Be Fired?"

MILLETT

Well, Mr. Efficiency Expert, the housewife may run around in unnecessary circles, woolgather, and stop in the middle of one job to run to another, as you charge, but remember, please, that all the while she is doing her housework she is more, much more than a housekeeper.

If she's dusting when Johnny falls out of the apple tree or when Susie spills a glass of milk on the dining room rug she may not get back to her dusting for awhile. But the circles she runs around in bandaging Johnny or trying to de-spot the rug aren't unnecessary circles. They're just a part of the day's routine.

And if she wool-gathers while she works, consider what she has on her mind—a family as well as a job. Maybe she has had a fight with her husband and is feeling pretty low about that. Or, perhaps she is trying to figure out how to handle some problem that has one of the children upset, or maybe her sturdy oak has confided things aren't going well at the office and, though she kept her chin up while she was encouraging him, she's plenty worried and scared herself.

OUTSIDE DEMANDS

THEN there are all those outside demands on her time because she is "just a housewife" and nobody thinks her time is valuable.

The church wants her to bake cookies for a sale. The school wants her to get to a PTA meeting, and if she doesn't make it Johnny's classroom won't be 100 per cent. There's a peddler at the door and the telephone is ringing because someone wants to know if she has her radio turned on and what station is she listening to, please.

And, even if she does happen to be a model of efficiency herself, the housewife can't force her family into co-operating with her. Not and keep her home the easy-going, happy kind of place she wants it to be.

That, probably, is the biggest reason, why the housewife's way of running a house is without factory-like efficiency and may seem positively scatter-brained to an efficiency expert. The one aim of a factory is production, getting the work done. The one aim of a home i sto provide a place where a family can live and enjoy life in a relaxed, happy atmosphere.

THE SALES manager of one of the country's biggest paper mills played host recently to a group of book designers and manufacturing men from a dozen publishing houses. The food was excellent, the wine flowed freely, and when the sales manager arose to speak he was greeted with a salvo of applause.

"Fellows," he said with a catch in his voice, "just 15 years ago today our mill received its very first paper order from a book publisher."

Somebody in the rear of the room caused a near-riot by shouting, "When are you going to fill it?"

Hair-Trigger Action Admirers Must Admire Forrestal Order

NEW YORK, April 1.—All admirers of the hair-trigger action for which America is noted must delight in the last gasp of the dying gaul, Jim Forrestal, as he bows out of the job of secretary of defense. This is the sharp order to the fighting factions in Army, Navy and Air Force to clear all future stories on new gimmicks in death - dealing through the headman's hands.

RUARK

This timely gesture, shaped to restrain the feudin' services from competition for newspaper space, has only taken some three years to flower—during which time Mr. Forrestal was always ostensible boss of everything in the war business.

All this time, the competing forces have phenagled fresh wrinkles in planes and guns and germs and rockets and ships and stuff to rain down credit on own individual heads, and to shove a scornful finger at the opposition. The fact that it all was in direct disobedience to presidential decree never made any difference whatsoever.

Dust Off Brasshat

Every time the pressure kids wanted to make a point, they dusted off a tame brasshat, stuffed him with new statistics, and untethered him at a chicken-patty party with press and radio present. All the services were guilty—the ground forces selling the draft, the Air Force peddling the planes, the Navy hustling carriers and subs and anti-subs.

The atom-smashers chimed in, on the side, with the rocket boys and the germ-growers shoutin' hallelujah in a chorus of doom. It was noisy hucksterism in the best modern sense, practiced callously any cynically. And often, it would seem, with small regard for truth or consequences.

We have been belabored, say, with germ warfare for the last three years. Mr. Forrestal himself came up with a statement the other day that there wasn't much pure fact in all the loose talk about winning one or losing one with microbes. Were all the germ-vendors lying, then?

SECRETARY FORRESTAL, also lost a knee-and-thumb battle with young Stu Symington, the Air Force fellow, which is one of the reasons why Forrestal ain't top dog anymore. Mr. Symington, who is real pretty and tall and smart and as tough as a willow switch, bluffed James right off the table, and made the mutiny stick.

There is no harder thrower in Washington than Symington, who has made his own rules and faced down the boss and who has sold his Air Forces and their 70-groups over all the opposition they could heave at him. This is an admirable quality for any rover boy, except when you're trying to synchronize a military force. Then it becomes simple sabotage. Possibly one solution would be to see how Mr. S. comes out with Louis Johnson, the succeeding chief, and if he whips Looie, too, then we might promote him to be he-coon of the whole business.

Navy Sinned Also

The Navy, although not so floridly successful as the Air Force, has sinned as wishfully as Symington's boys. They staged their recent dramatic maneuvers to throw a cramp into Air Force prestige. But Symington called and raised with the globe-circling nonstop trip of the Lucky Lady II, smack in the middle of Navy histrionics.

You have read much of the Lucky Lady, but little of the deaths of the grew of the crashed B-29 which made her dramatic flight possible. You can call it an unfortunate accident in line of duty, one way, but you can also call it a sacrifice in human lives for a publicity point. The Lucky Lady's flight was not so much a routine operation as a stunt to kill the Navy's bid for public favor, and nobody has denied it.

That is the kind of stuff the new Forrestal ruling is supposed to throttle. It won't, of course, even though it should, unless the new secretary of defense, Johnson, is tougher than the old. But what troubles me is why it took three years to file a restrainer to keep the competitors from playing Hamlet to each other's discredit, and to the nation's loss.

DOWN EAST BOYS SLICK

MONTPELIER, Vt. (U.P.)—Vermont youngsters have been collecting 50-cent bounties on two sets of ears from each hedghog they kill. The scheme was reported to the legislature by Rep. Robert Greeley of Windham. He said the extra ears were carved from the joint of the forepaws.

NEW SPONSORSHIP NEEDED

Spokesmen for the Texas Water Conservation association acknowledge that a proposed water conservation code, of which the organization was the chief sponsor and promoter, is "dead" insofar as the present session of the Legislature is concerned. It probably is just as well that this is so. Too many responsible and authoritative people opposed it to permit any assumption except that it would have been bad legislation.

Now the association spokesmen say they will try again in the next session. This is not too encouraging. The organization has been trying for upwards of 20 years to get control bills enacted. All have been rejected amid charges that bills proposed were intended to serve special interests rather than the people of Texas.

The record suggests that, if and when such controls are proposed again, there might be more chance of favorable action if the sponsorship was entrusted to someone other than the Texas Water Conservation association.

Man "Happier Than Average" After 13 Years In Iron Lung

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 1 (AP) Fred Snite, jr., says he's "happier than the average person" after spending 13 years in an iron lung.

He reached his 13th anniversary in the mechanical respirator yesterday. Life has been "worthwhile by all means," he said.

"I think I am happier than the average person," he told an interviewer. "I believe this so much that were I given a chance to obtain complete freedom, if you want to call it that, I wouldn't be too enthusiastic about accepting it."

Admits Readjustment

Snite admitted he went through a year of readjustment after he was placed in the iron lung in China on March 31, 1936, as a result of infantile paralysis.

After that year, he said, it was no struggle at all.

Snite has crossed two oceans, has married and become the father of three daughters since then.

Live Every Day

"I believe everyone should live every day the best way he knows how, and under the circumstances take things as they come along, neither worrying about what has happened or what is going to happen because what people worry about may never come to pass," he said.

Snite, his wife and their children—Teresa Marie, 8, Katherine, 5, and Mary Ann, 3—are at the Snite estate on Indian Creek, Miami Beach.

Newcomer Finds Our Town Good

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Since many newcomers are arriving weekly to make their homes in Lubbock, the Editor of The Avalanche-Journal asked one of them to write his impressions of our city. The man we asked to do this chore prefers anonymity, for business reasons, but what he has to say about a first-blush view of our city makes interesting reading.)

(Here Just One Month)

I am a newcomer to Lubbock.

Sometimes a stranger can come into a city and view things with a fresh perspective; see things that have been overlooked by those who have lived in that city for a long time. Time and complacency tend to create a certain amount of bias and a natural reaction to praise and defend the status quo.

As a newcomer I don't expect I could do much to make over the city of Lubbock. If I could I wouldn't, because Lubbock has too many fine points. That is why I am here and intend to make my home here the rest of my life.

When I decided to make my home in Lubbock it was after more than 20 years of traveling all over the United States and in 14 foreign countries. Wherever I went I found many things I liked and a lot of things I didn't like. One or the other usually tipped the balance but none of them had as much as Lubbock to offer that was desirable to me.

Schools Draw Praise

For one thing I have a small daughter. She is going on four years of age and getting near to the time she will start to school. Lubbock's school system offered high standards of curricula, qualified teachers and new, fire-proof buildings. She can start in the first grade of the elementary school and go all the way through college. (Provided of course, that her personal wishes agree with mine when she finishes high school). In this way she can be with her mother and me in our later years.

The climate in Lubbock and the South Plains is temperate enough and varied enough to satisfy almost every whim. Even allowing for some inconvenience during the windy seasons when the dust gets kicked around a bit. Lubbock and the back country are clean and you don't have to be a mountain climber to get from one main street to the next as I have had to do in some cities where I have made my home.

Vision In Early Days

Lubbock was laid out by men who obvious had vision and looked ahead a number of years. The streets are wide and adequate for the traffic. They are laid out in parallels and it doesn't take long to learn where everything is and how to find your way around.

Housing is not yet sufficient to fill the needs of a city that is growing as fast as Lubbock. However, Lubbock has no monopoly on this shortage. Other cities also are faced with this prime problem. Some of them are doing more than Lubbock to meet their shortages, but Lubbock stands high on the list. There is a nice, even balance between commercial and dwelling construction here. Projected homes and additions indicate that public-spirited citizens are aware of their responsibilities and are trying to meet them.

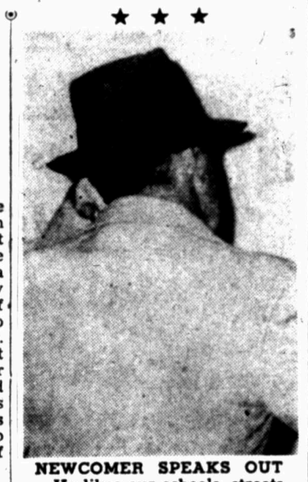

There has been some gouging in realty sales and in rentals. It could hardly be called widespread. It might increase or it may finally vanish. A lot depends on how this problem is met by both the landlord or real estate salesman on the one hand, and the prospective tenant or purchaser on the other.

Well Received Here

I was well received upon my arrival in Lubbock. Everyone was helpful in making me, a wandering Texan, feel at home again. I found comfortable lodging on the first night here and was not long in finding more permanent quarters. I have found a variety of satisfactory places to eat and the department stores and shops contain about everything I'll need to make me comfortable. I have every reason to expect a pleasant and happy existence as I become more and more a part of this community.

Lubbock has a great diversity of entertainment and cultural opportunities which are an essential part of a cosmopolitan's life. These can easily fill the needs of myself and my family without more than

School, City Elections Slated Over Plains

First Balloting Set Saturday

School board elections Saturday and municipal elections next Tuesday will be conducted in a number of towns throughout the South Plains.

At Plainview, two school trustees are to be elected Saturday. Six candidates are seeking election, among them Mrs. H. G. Stinnett, Dr. Joe Webb, Ed Haynes, Dan Kimbell, R. Q. Silverthorne, and C. E. McSwain.

A municipal election will be conducted at Plainview Tuesday to elect two city councilmen from the following candidates: Sam Lankford, E. M. Osborne, Ernie Brock, and E. G. Alexander.

Brownfield Race Hot

Marked interest is being shown in Saturday's trustee election at Brownfield, since three incumbents are opposing three other candidates for three school board offices. Incumbents are Gene Gunn, O. L. Stice, and A. M. Muldrow. Opposing them are I. M. Bailey, W. J. Carter, and Cecil O'Neal.

Three city aldermen's posts are to be filled in Brownfield Tuesday. J. B. McKnight and W. G. McDonald are seeking re-election, while new candidates are Sam Privitt, Herman Chesshir, C. R. Lackey, and Dr. W. A. Roberson.

Elsewhere in Terry county school board elections are planned Saturday, including Wellman, Union, and Meadow school districts. Three county trustees are to be elected.

Littlefield voters will elect two candidates to fill as many posts on the school board. Candidates are W. O. Hampton, Houston Hoover, and Jack Walker.

Two trustees are to be elected to the Tahoka school board Saturday. Candidates are O. D. Orr, G. C. Watson, Luke Hagood, and Hubert Tankersley.

Three places on the Tahoka city council will be filled at a Tuesday election. Seeking the offices are B. L. Parker, incumbent and Ed Hamilton, A. R. Milliken, J. A. Biggerstaff, William H. Wood, and W. B. Strange, jr.

THE QUESTION

What is your opinion of the bill to provide a more secret ballot in Texas elections, by giving the voter the only means of identifying who cast the ballot?

THE ANSWERS

LOUIS L. JARRELL, 3103 Thirtieth, owner of Lub-Tech Floral Co.: "It sounds all right to me. I think the voter's ballot ought to be secret and it's supposed to be that way. The ballot system is built on a secret set-up and it has proven heretofore that by taking the time to check the records they can find who cast a ballot."

MRS. ROY J. O'HAIR, 2308 Thirty-second, bookkeeper for Lubbock Venetian Blind Co.: "I like it very much. I think it should have been done a long time ago. It ought to be a secret ballot. There shouldn't be any way of checking up on how a person votes, unless the voter is willing."

JOE LOGAN, 2803 Twenty-first, owner of wholesale department at Logan's: "I really think we ought to have a more secret ballot. Everybody feels that they don't want people to know how they vote, unless they want to tell it themselves."

J. W. SMITH, Lubbock route 1, local delivery driver for the Texas Co.: "It doesn't matter to me whether it is secret. I don't care who knows how I vote."

H. B. CROSBY, Wilson, retired farmer: "I think the idea is very good. It's a good idea not to let people know how you vote and I'm in favor of the ballot being made more secret."

FRED STIVERS, 2818 N. Sixth, retired farmer: "I'm for a secret ballot. I don't care about anyone knowing how I vote unless I want to tell a close friend. I'm for a bill making it more secret."

MRS. A. E. JONES TIRELESS WORKER

Treatment Center "Is Every Mother's Dream Come True"

BY OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

As aid in the treatment of their children has been made available, the light of human hope has spread forth its rays for numerous parents of Lubbock and the surrounding area in the last few years.

One of the mothers who has worked to secure treatment for children suffering cerebral palsy and has been a leader in developments of the last few years is Mrs. A. E. Jones of 2112 Sixteenth, president of West Texas Cerebral Palsy club.

Felt Alone In Problem

When parents of cerebral palsied children began meeting in Lubbock six years ago, there was no place to which they could take their children for regular treatment and training. Many of the parents knew no other victims of cerebral palsy and felt alone in their problem.

It is easier to understand the problem facing parents if one at some time has heard a parent consulting a doctor and making the anxious query, "When will he get over it." The answer must be, "There is no cure," Mrs. Jones pointed out.

The hope must lie in teaching the cerebral palsied child to develop potentialities to the fullest, learning to live with the handicap and make a useful life in spite of the handicap, which may be slight or may cripple the legs or the arms or the speech of the victim.

In the last few years, specialists in cerebral palsy have visited Lubbock. Parents have organized and through discussion have increased

Sets Adaptable To Plains Area Developed

Onion Crop Possibilities In County Not Being Overlooked

The possibilities of the onion as a cash crop have not been overlooked in Lubbock county. Stimulated by the success of some growers in the Hereford area, several Lubbock county men have set out, or are setting out, a sizeable acreage to this flavorful vegetable.

During this week large crews of Mexican workers, who follow the onion planting and harvest from the Valley to Colorado and back, have been working in Lubbock county under the direction of Clyde London. For the past five years London has concentrated on the growing and marketing of onions. He has built up special crews and has helped to develop special onion sets that are adaptable to the climate and altitude in which they will be planted.

30 Acres Planted

For instance, Tuesday and Wednesday 180 workers planted 30 acres on the P. L. Payne place north of Texas Tech farms. The sets are a special type known as the white and yellow Grano. They were developed for the altitude of this area and will not grow satisfactorily at any other level. They are sometimes referred to as the Globe onion and attain weights of from one-fourth to one-half pound each.

The sets are placed in double rows in the hills. According to London, it takes 120,000 sets to plant an acre. Figuring 50 pounds to the sack it is evident that an acre will produce between 600 and 700 sacks if the weather is right and the onions reach their full growth and weight.

Thursday the London crew moved over onto the A. J. Maloul farm where they are setting out from 40 to 50 acres. London says he will add another 20 workers on this tract. The planting crews brought several truck-loads of the onion sets with them when they left the valley. The plants, like most of the workers, come from the vicinity of Crystal City.

Although this is Payne's first year at growing onions he is looking forward to a good crop and hopes to be harvesting about two weeks ahead of the Hereford planters. All of the plants on the Payne farm were started in November and are fresh and hardy. Fertilizer will be added to the irrigation water as the season advances.

The Theil brothers and Jack West have a number of acres planted to onions in the Monroe community. West has about 20 acres that were planted earlier in the year and have reached a good stand at this time.

D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, says that there are no figures available at the present time to indicate what the total acreage of onion planting will be. Authoritative sources, however, say that the crop will reach upwards of $250,000 at current prices and with the expected yield.

Only Two Americans Who Lost Both Hands, Legs In War Now Lead Happy, Useful Lives

By ROLAND DOPSON
United Press Staff Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 1—The only two Americans who lost both hands and both legs during the war are getting along all right with their postwar plans.

Both are living in the deep south, one because it was his home in the first place, the other because he wanted a warm climate. With the aid of artificial limbs, one is running a farm, the other studying to be a lawyer.

From Birmingham's drab steel mills, a rich, green valley winds its way north between two small mountains. A few miles up the valley is a neat white cottage surrounded by red-roofed barns and cross-fenced fields six inches deep in clover and grain.

Little Farming Experience

This prosperous-looking farm is owned and operated by Fred Hensel, 30, an ex-GI who had both hands and both legs blown off by the Japs on Okinawa.

Hensel, who was reared an orphan at Corbin, Ky., came south in 1946 after his hospitalization at Battle Creek, Mich., seeking a warm climate. He bought the 143-acre farm with part of the $40,000 to $50,000 given him by thousands of friends and well-wishers.

Fred had had very little experience on a farm. But now, after two years, he and his young and very business-like wife, Jewel, are farmers at heart. Fred feels he has proved to himself and others that arms and legs aren't really necessary to a farmer.

Bronzed and heavier than he was before the war, Hansel drives a jeep or a small tractor in tilling his rich acres.

"I work the combine, disc, hay baler and fertilizer spreader with the jeep pulling the equipment," he said. "I can do all the work except plowing, which requires the large tractor."

Hensel is adept at using hooks for hands. But he still finds it difficult to use his artificial legs. Except when he is driving the jeep, he leaves them off.

Outside the farm, his main interests are fishing and hunting. He drives the jeep into the woods on the nearby mountains and shoots squirrels and rabbits with a 16 gauge shotgun. It is rigged with a trigger extension he can fire by moving his lower jaw.

A couple of hundred miles southeast of Hensel's home, Jimmy Wilson, 22, is busy working for a political science degree at the University of Florida at Gainesville.

"After I get it, I'm going into law school," said Jimmy, whose home is in Jacksonville, Fla.

Jimmy, then a private, was the only survivor of a 10-man crew on an Air Force training flight over the Green mountains in Vermont in October 1944. The bomber crashed into a peak. Searchers found him many hours later. After 15 months in hospitals, Jimmy came out with two artificial hands and two artificial legs.

He learned to use them so well that he became an instructor, teaching other amputees how to drive automobiles.

Discharged in 1946, Jimmy came home to Jacksonville and entered junior college, where he emerged quickly as a student government leader. A Jacksonville newspaper, the Journal, started a fund-raising for him that netted $20,000 and enabled him to buy a home. Meanwhile, however, the Philadelphia Inquirer and several national magazines published articles about him, and donations from all over the country in this drive eventually reached $100,000.

At Gainesville, Jimmy is respected by his professors and his fellow students. He has a lot of friends and hits a B-plus average in his classes.

He drives his own car, dials telephones, takes his own notes in class and dates campus co-eds.

But the thing he's proudest of is an article he wrote for a veterans magazine about inadequate artificial limbs veterans were getting. Jimmy says it started a national cleanup of the situation.

WTCC Backing Good Neighbor Commission

SAN ANGELO, April 1 (AP) — The West Texas chamber of commerce's Latin-American committee has voted strong support for the Texas Good Neighbor commission.

The committee members and WTCC officials attending a meeting last night expressed firm approval of a motion to defend the commission. Those present agreed to testify in its behalf next week before the Texas House investigating committee.

The commission is being investigated for its participation in the case of Felix Longoria of Three Rivers. Longoria was the veteran killed overseas whose burial plans at Three Rivers caused controversy. He was buried in Arlington national cemetery near Washington, D. C.

Retailers Cutting Inventories And Debts, Bank Reports Show

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Merchants, taking a cue from their customers, are going light on buying.

"Very conservative inventory and buying policies" were cited by government officials today as the chief cause of a drop in business loans since Christmas. This drop has outdone anything of the sort in previous post-war years.

These loans are used in large part to finance purchases of stocks of goods. Officials said merchants not only have cut back buying for inventory—lest they get caught in a phase of declining prices—but also have been paying off old loans as fast as possible."

Demand Is Off

The business loans drop, as measured in Federal Reserve board reports from member banks in the nation's leading cities, has run unbroken for the last ten weeks. It carried the volume of business loans down $670,000,000 from the December 22 peak.

This drop of more than four per cent in three months is due to lack of demand rather than to newly-tightened bank lending policies, officials said. They added that reports reaching here show no sign of unusual calling-in of loans by the banking system.

Buying caution by merchants was rated a "healthy" sign. The official position is that the country would be better off if businessmen guard against building up big inventories. Such heavy stocks of goods might later have to be dumped in forced selling, something that has accentuated trouble in past "boom and bust" cycles.

Started Mid-1948

The insurance provided against a happening of that kind by the conservative buying policies was described as one way of preventing any "bust."

Nevertheless, these policies clearly were a link in the chain leading to factory layoffs when the buying hold-back, starting with the retail consumer, reached to the manufacturer and brought a slowdown in his operations.

Officials said retailers in general put the brakes on inventory building about the middle of 1948. After-Christmas sales proved a sharp disappointment and when subsequent sales lagged, they began selling stocks of goods without fully replacing them.

Government data showed retail stocks of goods were $295,000,000 lower at the end of January than at the end of December. Wholesalers and manufacturers inventories moved up slightly as they lagged behind retailers in curtailing inventories.

Court Denies Union's Claim

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (AP)—A court denial of a union claim for "overtime on overtime" pay may set a national precedence for cases involving millions of dollars.

Federal District Judge Louis E. Goodman yesterday ruled 1,200 CIO longshoremen were not entitled to pay claims estimated at $1,000,000. The union had brought suit in 1945 and 1946 against west coast waterfront employers.

Seek Time And One-Half

The longshoremen contended they should have received time and one-half their night pay scale for overtime work at night.

Employers held this would be overtime on overtime, since the night rate already was time and a half as compared to the day scale.

In denying the union petition, Judge Goodman cited the 1947 portal to portal pay act. It exempted the employer from penalty overtime provisions after 40 hours' work "if he pleads and proves that the act or omission complained of was in good faith and in conformity with and reliance upon any administrative regulation . . . or interpretation of any agency of the United States."

Employers Contend

Dock employers contended they were conforming with a 1938 ruling by a regional attorney for the wages and hours division of the labor department that their pay practices were legal.

The union announced it would file for a new trial and appeal if necessary.

War Famous B-17 Makes Last Landing

CHICAGO, April 1. (AP)—The Swoose, famous war-scarred B-17 Flying Fortress which saw action from Pearl Harbor to V-J day, swooped to its last landing yesterday.

The Swoose, with her original crew of five aboard, was flown to Douglas airport to take its place in the Chicago branch of the Smithsonian Institution's national air museum.

"This is the end of the line," said Col. Frank Kurtz, original combat pilot of the Swoose. The craft was officially turned over to Walter M. Male, assistant curator of the Smithsonian Institution, by Kurtz, who said: "It's now your baby."

The venerable bomber will be placed in a guarded hangar along with other famous aerial exhibits of the last war until the Smithsonian air museum in Washington is built. Male said it probably will be hangared at Douglas airport for five years.

New Discovery Well Indicated

Faint indications of a new discovery in North-Central Scurry County were developed at J. L. Collins, et al, No. 1 G. E. Parks, wildcat eight miles north of Snyder and 1,980 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

A drillstem test was run for one hour and 45 minutes at 6,208-25 feet in a Pennsylvanian shale and sand formation above the Canyon reef. The zone is tentatively identified as Cisco.

A steady blow of air held at the surface throughout the investigation. Recovery was 90 feet of heavily oil cut mud. The prospector was preparing to core ahead for further examination of the current horizon, which has made no signs of water.

Possibilities Fade

Possibilities of a Glorieta-Permian discovery in South-Central Gaines County have evidentally completely faded out for the Texas Company No. 1 Wharton, wildcat in the northeast corner of the west three-quarters of section 3, block A-22, psl survey.

The exploration indicated a possible pay zone above 5,990 feet, total depth. After extended swabbing tests, a pump was installed.

The last pumping gauge showed recovery of 100 per cent water at the rate of five barrels per hour. Further plans of the operator have not been revealed.

Prepare Swabbing Tests

In the Wasson field of Southwest Yoakum County, Murchison & Fikes were preparing to start swabbing tests prior to completion at their No. 17-C Elliott, failure as a deep wildcat in the area.

It drilled to granite at 11,209 feet, reduced hole to 9,776 feet to examine possibilities of a Devonian discovery. It has now been plugged back further to 5,240 feet to attempt completion in the San Andres-Permian.

Operator has perforated at 5,050-90 feet. Through those perforations, a 1,500-gallon acid treatment was injected. Tubing was being run preparatory to swabbing on last report.

Location is 1,312 feet from south and 1,070 feet from east lines of section 832, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

More Hole Scheduled

More hole was to be made deep in Northeast Gaines County by Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 15 American Warehouse, wildcat in the Cedar Lake area surrounded by shallow production.

The prospector was bottomed on 12,580 feet, in lime and shale, conditioning mud preparatory to drilling ahead. No recent tests have been run.

It is 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey.

School board elections are slated for Saturday at Northfield, Flomot Rural High school, and Roaring Springs Rural High school, all in Motley county.

Matador will have a municipal election next Tuesday, at which time principal offices of the city government will be occupied entirely by ex-servicemen.

While I am especially happy with all the good things I have found here I am most certainly not blinded to many of the minor details and nuisances that need correcting. Perhaps, as time goes on, and I become more a part of the community I will have some part in helping to correct these faults. When that is done, it will be a better place in which old and new citizens alike will be more comfortable.

Henry Fonda Signs For Choice Role In Broadway Hit Play

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 1 — Henry Fonda has his work cut out for him.

The slow-talking actor from Grand Island, Neb., has signed on for the duration of the play "Mister Roberts," which may well prove longer than the war in which both Messrs. Roberts and Fonda served the Navy.

It's an actor's dream—the security of a long-running and successful role. The few that have achieved it include Frank Bacon with "Lightning"; Joseph Jefferson "Rip Van Winkle"; James Barton, "Tobacco Road"; Frank Fay, "Harvey."

Fonda Still Amazed

"It's a beauty all right," said Fonda, still amazed at his fortune. "I'm the happiest man in the world."

By now he is accustomed to the concern of friends that his long absence from the screen will endanger his box-office power.

"Heck, I was never much of a box-office name anyway," he shrugged. "Besides, the movie version of 'Roberts' will bring me back."

Navy Brass Enthusiastic

This will be a unique project. It will mark the first time for a picture to be made by the same cast and company of a stage hit. The troupe will knock off a couple of months and do their parts before a camera aboard a cargo ship.

Fonda said the Navy bigwigs are enthusiastic about the show, despite the fact that its theme is the revolt against brass. The Navy even has offered to donate a ship for use in the film.

The date for the movie is still in doubt. The show will be played out first, and after a year, it's still the no. 1 ticket demand in New York. It has never played to less than 30 standees.

Palsy Center

The School for Exceptional Children was established in Lubbock in 1946 and makes public school education in separate classes available to cerebral palsied children.

The Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, sponsored by Lubbock Rotary club and Lubbock Crippled Children's society, was established last August, making regular, frequent treatment available to children and making information available to parents on care of children at home.

Just Means Everything

Such treatment is something parents "have wanted and needed and longed for. I don't have superlatives enough to say what it means," said Mrs. Jones.

Speaking of treatment now available and of expansion planned in the new Cerebral Palsy Treatment center building for which funds are being raised, Mrs. Jones said. "I suppose it is just every mother's dream come true. At least it is my dream come true."

Francis Elaine, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, receives treatment in the center as prescribed by a specialist at Dallas. She is learning to stand by herself for the first time.

Sunday School Class Opened

One of the most recent developments was the establishment of an inter-denominational Sunday school class at Asbury Methodist church for cerebral palsied children. The class is one of few such classes in the nation.

Mrs. Jones is teacher of the class and is a former teacher in the School for Exceptional Children.

Modest and claiming no credit for the part she has had in securing recognition of the fact that hundreds of children in this area are handicapped as result of cerebral palsy and in promoting attention to need for treatment of those children, Mrs. Jones said, "I have done nothing except what a parent should do."

As early as 1943, she dreamed of possibility of a local treatment center, beginning with hopes for a visit to Lubbock of a noted cerebral palsy specialist, Dr. Earl R. Carlson of New York and Florida, who himself is a victim of cerebral palsy. He is author of the book, "Born That Way," in which he describes his own progress as a cerebral palsy victim.

Meeting Was Called

Mrs. Jones was anxious that Dr. Carlson might see her own daughter and, believing other parents would have the same desire for the specialist to see their children, she called a meeting, which was attended by a small group of parents. Publicity was given to plans to arrange for a visit to Lubbock of the specialist. Between 150 and 200 parents of Texas, Eastern New Mexico and Oklahoma communicated with Mrs. Jones and expressed interest.

Parents voted to pay $20 each to bring the specialist here. The specialist agreed to come for expenses only, making no charge for examination of children. The cost to each parent was only $8.

While here, Dr. Carlson said, "Every human life has its purpose and even the most hopelessly handicapped can be useful to society."

New Avenues Opened

New avenues for education and treatment of cerebral palsied children have since been opened. While here, Dr. Carlson met with a group of school board members and civic leaders and stressed that a school and place for treatment were needed.

A bill had been presented in the Texas Legislature to provide for special education for exceptional children. Mrs. Jones talked to John W. Broome, leader in the Lubbock Crippled Children's society, who worked for the establishment of such a school here.

Lubbock clubs wrote to senators and representatives, urging passage of the bill.

The School for Exceptional Children was opened at Hub Homes in January of 1946, with Mrs. Josephine Ballenger and Mrs. Jones as teachers. The school was moved to Cottage school later and then to Dupre school, where it now is being conducted.

Mrs. Ballenger, principal, has been connected with the school since its opening. Mrs. Jones taught in the spring of 1946, in the 1946-47 school year and the beginning of the 1947-48 school year. Her daughter underwent hip surgery that fall in Dallas and was in bed seven months. Francis Elaine returned to school in January.

Club Formally Organized

Early in 1946, the West Texas Cerebral Palsy club was formally organized.

Club officers, in addition to Mrs. Jones, are Mrs. Paul Warren of Lubbock, secretary; Mrs. James Postlewaite of Lubbock, first vice president; Mrs. George D. Harlan of Littlefield, treasurer, and Mrs. Haymes Wells of Plainview, historian.

In 1946, a visit was made to Lubbock by Dr. Temple Fay of Philadelphia, noted specialist, through arrangements made by Broome.

When parents first began meeting in 1943, many were taking their children to Dallas at intervals for the only treatment their children were receiving. They found the travel a problem with their children suffering cerebral palsy, and some found difficulties in arranging for care of their other children while they took one to Dallas or in taking their other children out of school to make the trip.

Establishment of the treatment center in Lubbock represents to many "the end of a long search," said Mrs. Jones.

Rail Modernization Program Is Speeded By Special Equipment

One of the major rail improvement programs underway on the Santa Fe system is in progress in the vicinity of Lubbock.

Workmen Thursday were employing a score of highly specialized machines, doing a job by assembly line methods that in earlier days of railroading used to be done mainly by sweat of brow.

There's still plenty of hard work involved, though, as A. B. Crawly, the steel gang foreman in charge of the work, or the division roadmaster, C. O. Enlow of Slaton, can show you.

New Rails Relaid

The job in progress just northwest of the Santa Fe depot in the vicinity of Third street and Ave. M was a small part of a big operation.

Between Lubbock and Southland, through Slaton, new 115-pound rail is being relaid for a distance of 26½ miles. This project, underway for some months, is expected to be completed within the next few days. Resurfacing of the roadbed over the relaid stretch will take until about May 15.

The new Texas-California passenger train which started service through Lubbock recently traverses this route. The improved track and roadbed will expedite the performance of this service, Santa Fe officials said.

Other Projects Slated

Other sections of Santa Fe's southern district also are coming in for construction projects designed to improve the railroad in this part of the country.

The 120-man rail-laying crew which was working in Lubbock Thursday functions like a smooth-working football team. They have to in order to lay two track-miles of new rail every day. Aided by all sorts of special equipment, they work at specific jobs which in turn fit into the general operation.

Pacing the fast-moving crew are two "bolt machines which ride along the old track removing bolts holding the rails. A spike puller follows to remove old spikes.

Then four men with lining bars throw out the old rails and two others take up the old tie plates by hand. Two more men come along plugging up tie holes and they are followed by two men with tie-plug hammers who drive down the plug into the tie.

Two cribbing machines have the job of removing ballast and dirt from between the ties to clear the way for the adzing machines. The adzing machines plane down the old tie to smooth it in preparation for the new rail.

The adzed surface is then swept by hand, the old spikes are thoroughly driven into the tie by two men with a "tie-plus punch" and sledge hammer. A creosoting machine applies a protective coating to the adzed surface of the tie.

Crane Sets Rail

Quickly behind come three men placing new steel tie plates, and then the largest single piece of machinery used, a mounted "burro" crane, sets the new rail in place and removes the old rail from the track.

Finishing up the job on the newly-laid rails there come in quick succession a crew who place bolts and angle bars by hand, two ingenious "bolt machines" that tighten the bolts mechanically, and compressor-power jackhammers that drive the new spikes into the tie. Rail anchors are then placed by a crew of six men.

During the operation one man takes the temperature of the steel and designates the amount of expansion room to be allowed between 0 and 25 degrees Fahrenheit, he would leave a quarter of an inch to take care of expansion. If the temperature were 100 degrees, he would have the track laid flush, end-to-end, as the rail would be expanded.

The crew occupies nearly a quarter of a mile of track in performing its job. However, they do not interfere with scheduled operation of trains, and the machinery is removed from the track when necessary to allow a train to pass.

The old rails weighed 90 pounds per yard but they are being replaced with a heavier rail weighing 115 pounds per yard. Each section of rail is 39 feet long and therefore weighs 1,170 pounds, or slightly more than half a ton.

Other sections of Santa Fe's southern district also are coming in for construction projects, all designed to improve the railroad in this part of the country.

The bridge over the Cimarron river near Waynoka, Okla., is being relocated, with a consequent line change and construction of a new bridge. This project will be completed about June 1.

The main lines between Pampa and Canyon are being completely resurfaced, a distance of 71½ miles.

Missing Banker Sought By FBI

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—A missing bank official, sought in the disappearance of $883,660 in bank funds, was reported today by the FBI to have mailed more than $75,000 to personal creditors.

The missing man, Richard H. Crowe, 41, disappeared from his Staten Island home last Sunday. Twenty-four hours later the National City bank announced the loss of more than three-quarters of a million dollars in cash and securities from a Broadway branch of which he was assistant manager.

The FBI said $76,355 of the missing money has come by mail to individuals and institutions to whom the personable Crowe owed money.

Can't Keep Money

But they probably cannot keep it, a bank spokesman said. He cited a law which he said could be used to force the creditors to give the money back to the bank's insurance company.

The money, for the time being, was turned over to the FBI as evidence.

The FBI said yesterday it has sent wanted notices bearing Crowe's picture to cities across the nation. He is charged with violating two sections of a federal reserve act pertaining to the embezzlement of national bank funds.

The search for the missing man centered in Florida, where he mailed his last letter to his wife earlier in the week from Jacksonville.

Actress Gets Order In Paternity Suit

LOS ANGELES, April 1 (AP)—Mrs. Gloria Schumm has been ordered to show why she should not accept a $20,000 settlement from actor Wallace Beery, 64, in her suit charging him with fathering her 13-month-old son.

Mrs. Schumm, 33, known in films as Gloria Whitney, asked the court to nullify the settlement. But yesterday her attorneys, Morton B. Harper and Milton D. Klein, filed a petition in reply and the court directed her to appear Monday.

She alleges that she was intimate with the actor, in 1947. She later remarried actor Hans Schumm, 52.
