New Police Chief Hired

Members of the City Council heard a request from representatives of the Lamb County Electric Cooperative Tuesday night when they met for a regular monthly meeting.

Bill Harbin, engineering services manager for LCEC, requested a right-of-way easement for the purpose of constructing a single-pole line on the east 20 feet of the west 45 feet of the golf course.

Council agreed to grant the request, subject to a contract agreement between the city, ORC and the electric coop.

Bids were opened with a $50 bid for the old fire truck being accepted and all bids on the Chevrolet pickup being rejected.

The City agreed to accept the maintenance duties on the street just east of the John Deere Implement. The street was paved and curbed at the expense of the owners of the implement business.

Police Chief Charles Feagley was relieved of his job and Gayle Morgan was hired as his replacement. Morgan secured Robert C. Brines of Miami, Tex. as the new night patrolman. Brines has two years previous experience and is working toward an associate degree in law enforcement. He is married and has two children. Morgan's wife will serve as police dispatcher.

Water Superintendent Orian Hackler recommended to the council Jimmy Lively as the replacement for the assistant water superintendent. He was okayed by the council and will assume his duties the first of the year.

Phil Hughes, speaking for the Volunteer Fire Department, asked for additional funds to purchase a compressor which is a vital piece of equipment for the fire department. Funds were granted.

A request from Fritz Richards concerning a city street next to Olton Grain Coop property on High 70 70 was heard. Richards stated that if the city would clear the street, that it would be maintained by the Coop as they kept their property free of debris. Hackler was asked to look into the cost of clearing the street, which he said would aid them in picking up trash in that area.

The question of the city hall renovation was brought up for discussion and it was determined that an architect was needed to draw up the proposed plans and then bids would have to be taken on the work. Councilman Larry Garvin was appointed to secure an architect so that work might begin.

Joe Chester of Chester Electronics requested information about a franchise for cable TV in the city. It was stated that the current franchise had expired and that if he wished to secure a franchise that it would be granted with certain restrictions.

FIRST PLACE WINNER - Bill Kemp is shown here with his truck that won a first place trophy in the National Auto Show held in Amarillo recently.

In National Show

Truck Takes First

Bill Kemp recently took a 1946 Chevrolet truck to a National Auto Show in Amarillo and brought home first place.

The truck which he had worked on for about eight months, was taken apart and rebuilt because it had rusted during the years it had been stored in a barn. Actual mileage on the truck is only 5,400 miles.

Kemp has enjoyed the hobby of rebuilding and building autos for years. This was his first entry in any show. He has rebuilt a 1922 Ford and a 1918 Chevrolet, which he sold. He has also built three dune buggies.

He commented, "I do this in my spare time . . . and I make spare time to do it, because I love it."

His wife, Velma said, "He has the biggest toy box in town", speaking of the large workshop in back of Kemp Motor Company, where he works on his hobbies.

He is planning to build a Model A Ford Roadster and is "looking everywhere for parts to fix it up."

The sponsor of the Amarillo show commented that he has been involved in auto shows for 14 years and never seen a better truck than the one entered by Kemp.

Approximately 12,500 persons viewed the truck. There were 80 vehicles entered in the national show, with categories for vans, trucks, pickups, cars, motorcycles and dune buggies.

For Christmas Shopper

Special Day Set Aside

Christmas in Olton will be celebrated in an "old fashioned" way this year.

Merchants are making a special effort to offer their merchandise at "old fashioned" prices, decorate their stores in an "old fashioned" way and give the "old fashioned" friendly service that they offer year 'round.

December 1 has been set aside by all participating merchants as a special day for all area shoppers. Bargains will be offered in all stores, artists will have displays set up in McLain Electronics and food for everyone will be offered by club members. Howell's Flowers will hold open house and other merchants are making plans for something special in their places of business for that day.

Santa will visit during the day and get the kids' list of thing they want. He will return later in the month via the fire truck and give sacks of candy and fruit to all the kiddies.

More details will be forthcoming in the pages of The Enterprise.

Turkey Shoot Next Weekend

Olton Young Farmers will sponsor a turkey shoot Nov. 19 and 20 beginning at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. respectively.

The shoot will be held at Olton Gun Clubs site two miles south and one-quarter mile west of the city. Shoots will be held for Novices, ladies, children, as well as pros. Prizes of bacon and turkeys will be awarded.

Members have tickets for an 870 Remington shotgun to be given Sunday, Nov. 20 at 4 p.m. Concessions and shells will be available.

The members invite everyone to come join the fun.

Certificate Drawings Planned For Oltonites

Plans are being finalized for the drawings for gift certificates during the last five weeks prior to Christmas, according to Frances Redinger, CCA manager.

Attempts to contact each merchant in the city have been made. However, any merchant who is not contacted, but would like to participate should contact the office of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

The drawings which will begin Nov. 26 are sponsored by local merchants. Gift certificates, redeemable by any participating merchant, will "grow" to larger sums for drawing each week.

The businesses will offer "specials" during the weeks to come and give tickets to those who patronize their stores. The tickets will be placed in a drum from which the winning tickets will be drawn.

Participating merchants and family members will not be eligible for the drawings; however, all clerks and family members will be allowed to accept tickets from the businesses and be eligible for the drawings.

United Way Totals $4,000

Approximately $4,000 of the United Way Goal of $9,000 is in for Olton.

The latest figure shows that United Way Fund Drive is moving toward reaching the goal set for Olton.

Persons not contacted may leave donations for the fund drive at Olton State Bank.

The only fund drive to be conducted in the Olton area this year, it will benefit American Heart Association, American Cancer Society, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Kids Incorporated, Easter Seal, Caprock Council Girl Scouts and South Plains Council Boy Scouts. Persons wishing to give only to designated organizations may do so.

New Electronic Device Aids Cotton Marketing

Cotton producers have a brand new experience this year in marketing their cotton - if they choose to use the electronic device, Tel Cot II.

Several weeks ago Tel Cot II was put into service in the cotton office of Olton Coop Gin. The new electronic feature looks very much like a television set, equipped with typewriter keys.

Actual marketing of cotton is much the same as in previous years, except that the farmer doing business with Olton Coop Gin will be able to use Tel Cot to quickly learn available prices and trends.

With the new device a producer is exposed to the broadcast possible number of buyers located in Lubbock, Littlefield, Vernon, Dallas, Houston and Memphis, Tenn.

Through the use of Tel Cot farmers may sell, contract or put their cotton in "firm offer" (where they set their own price). The offer remains where buyers can see it until sold, or until the producer asks that it be removed.

Local producers are using the new system to keep up with current markets, loan prices, to learn how much over the loan the market is and many other facets of the cotton marketing picture.

Tel Cot II is centered through Plains Cotton Cooperative in Lubbock. Seventy-five terminals are located in Co-operative gins.

In discussing the new system Lloyd Graham, cotton buyer, says "It gives the best possible chance for the producer to get the best available price for his cotton. This device also features a loan advance program, whereby the farmer can put his cotton in the loan and still have access to day to day market with each of the buyers.

"This constitutes the latest and most modern way of marketing cotton at the present time.

"But," Graham adds, "It is not mandatory to use Tel Cot. We have markets through other buyers, should the farmer not wish to sell through Tel Cot."

Price Voters Choice In Precinct One

Voters in Precinct One turned down four of the seven constitutional amendments and gave the majority of their votes to Bob Price for State Senator of District 31.

Price, Republican candidate, received 37; Bob Simpson, D, 32; Burk Whittenburg, D, 24; and Jim Brandon, R, 8.

Amendments which voters approved were number one, increasing the size of the Court of Criminal Appeals; number three, permitting denial of bail to a person charged with a felony offense who has been theretofore twice convicted of a felony offense; and number seven, which pertained to the changing of the name of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission.

Failing to get approval were the number two amendment pertaining to additional bonds or obligations for the Veterans' Land Fund; number four, authorizing tax relief to preserve certain cultural, historical or natural history resources; number five, authorizing the formation of agriculture or marine associations which could mandate the collection of refundable assessments for improvements; and number six authorizing the use of electronic devices or machines by banks.

Raymon Gonzales takes the week's top winnings by coming closest to the actual tie-breaker score. Off five points with a prediction of 0-12, he wins five dollars.

Don Martin and Caleb McClure will equally divide second and third place monies since both were deadlocked after the tie-breaker was counted. They missed by seven points with 0-24 and 3-21 predictions, respectively.

Others who missed five games were Monte Chitwood, 10 points off, 7-14; Joel Nelson, 13, 6-24; Bobby Williams, 18, 7-28 and Roger Thompson, 29, 12-34.

Don Nafzger lost ground in the season standings and now leads by one point. He has 108 correct predictions thus far.

Close back and still potential winners are Joel Nelson, 107; Don Martin, 106; Roger Thompson, 103; Tom Duncan, Ruth Franks and Wade Nafzger, 102; W.E. Andrew, 101 and Kregg Hukill, 100.

Two contests remain to be counted and contestants are urged to keep trying. One who cannot win the season grand prize of $50 can still be a winner for the week.

OLTON AREA HISTORY

Family Stories Are Sought

This is tomorrow's history.

Newcomers to the community and young families may not consider themselves material for a history book but those persons are just as vital as the old-timers in the keepsake book which is going to be published in the Spring of 1978.

Every family in the "Olton Area" is important if the book is to be complete. We do not want the next generation to look at this book and wonder "Why aren't my parents (or grandparents) in this book? They were living in Olton in 1977."

Each family's history is to be written by that family. That is why this book will be unique and one to be treasured through generations.

Begin thinking right now of your family's story. How did you come to live here? What did you do for a living? What are your impressions of the community?

Write of your joys, sorrows, hardships, celebrations . . . all the things that are etched in your memory right now. If you tell what is interesting and meaningful to you, it will be so far others who will someday read this book.

Watch for more about this. It's exciting and you won't want to miss it!

Voice Of Business

In one of the most astonishing displays of cynical, selfish, money-grubbing politics that Washington has ever seen, the House of Representatives voted on Oct. 26 to triple the maximum Social Security tax, while taking great pains to exempt from it Members of Congress and other government employees.

If the House bill is enacted into law, the payroll tax paid by an employee will rise in stages from the current maximum of $965 a year to over $3,000 in 1987. The employer would have to match this payment, for a combined maximum of more than $6,000!

Some increase in the tax is necessary to save the Social Security system. All experts recognize that. But the increase per-worker would not have to be as large if the six million workers now exempt from the tax -- mostly government employees -- were contributing their fair share. And yet, knowing this fact, the House voted 386-38 to continue to exempt them, in spite of a recommendation by the Ways and Means Committee to include them. The action came after Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Califano -- a government employee himself -- sent a letter to each Representative urging maintenance of the privileged status of government employees.

It's bad enough that government workers can refuse to help carry the burden. But worse yet, many of them are taking advantage of the system to get what amounts to a free ride on the backs of the rest of us. With a little effort, they can now have the best of both worlds: Generous pensions of their own, plus Social Security on top of that.

Here's how it works: The government employee gets a part-time job in the private sector. It doesn't have to be very time-consuming. Just earn $50 a quarter for 40 quarters (10 years), and you are entitled to the mimimun Social Security retirement position. That's now about $120 a month.

And what would our minimum-contributor have to pay in Social Security taxes for that $120 a month? A grand total of $120. How's that for a bargain? A lifetime pension of $120 a month for a total investment of $120.

Don't be misled by counter-arguments that federal workers "pay" for their special pensions. They do indeed contribute 7% of their pay to their pension fund, but that contribution only one-sixth of the cost of the federal retirement systen which is one of the world's most generous. The rest has to be made up out of general revenues. Besides, many workers in the private sector also contribute to their pension funds, and they still have to pay the full Social Security tax, too.

Since federal workers can retire as early as age 55, there's another way they can play the retirement game for even higher stakes. Let's take a simplified, hypothetical case for comparison:

George works for 30 years in a civil service job and retires in 1967, at age 55. During his last three years on the job, he earned $16,500. That entitled him to an immediate federal pension of a little over $9,000 a year.

When he retired from the government, George took a job in the private sector at the same rate of pay: $16,500. For the last 10 years, he has been collecting his pay plus his federal pension, which was increased frequently to compensate for inflation. And since he is now in the private sector, he has also been paying the maximum Social Security tax.

Now that George is 65, he is eligible to receive a Social Security pension of about $4,000 a year ($6,000 if he's married). And his government pension has increased from the initial $9,000 to almost $16,000, thanks to the inflation adjustment. So, his total retirement income at age 65 is roughly $20,000 to $22,000 a year.

Sam is a worker in the private sector who is the same age as George and has earned about the same annual salary. Sam has had to wait until age 65 to retire, and is now starting to receive a Social Security pension of a little less than $6,000 a year, even though he has contributed to the Social Security system his whole working life. On top of the Social Security payment, Sam will get whatever private-sector pension he may qualify for. But even if his private-sector pension is as generous as George's government pension, George will still be far ahead, because he has been receiving his pension for the last ten years, while Sam's is just starting.

That's a brief sample of the generosity of the federal Civil Service pension system. The congressional retirement system is even more generous, if you can believe it.

No wonder the vote was 386-38!

Lessons From The Bible

Faith In God - Part I

Why do you or why don't you believe in God?

It has been said we are living in an age of unbelief, more and more people have less faith in the existence of God. Probably the reason is that they fail to examine all the evidence that will build faith in a real and living God. Things we see and feel everyday demand faith in a supreme being, that has supreme intelligence. Nature itself proves God does exist because of the patterns followed time and time again.

The universe is one of the great evidences that we have that when studied carefully will cause our faith to gain strength. Men have many and varied theories as to how it all came into being. These theories change from time to time and also become more confusing. These theories also make the opening statement of the Bible more meaningful, "In the beginning God . . ."

Examine carefully some of the facts of our universe and see why God is the only logical explanation as to where and why all things exist. It is 100,000 light years across this galaxy in which we live. That simply means that if we travel at the speed of light it would take us 100,000 years to go from one side to the other.

This vast space is filled with stars, comets, planets, etc. and all exist in harmony. Travelers in space chart each star or planet in their travels and can remain in space for years without even a near collision, this is order which does not come from accidents.

Consider a very small part of our universe if you will . . . to earth. Where did our earth come from? Why does it function the way it does? Is it by accident? What a magnificent accident it would have taken to produce our dwelling place, the earth. Would you believe it if someone told you of an explosion in the printing room of great news paper and as a result of this explosion we have Webster's dictionary.

The earth is more complex than even a dictionary . . . look at some of the facts. The earth occupies a perfect position in space; if it were closer to the sun it would burn, larger it would burn; farther from the sun it would freeze, smaller it would freeze; if it rotated faster we would be thrown into space, slower we would freeze at night and burn in day.

The earth fills mans needs in its functions.

Where did it come from? Why does it function the way it does? Because it was designed and a design must have a designer. Who is this designer? Could he be sub-human . . . animal? No. Could he be human? If so, why not continue to make more.

There is only one logical answer . . . Super Human . . . Supreme Intelligence . . . GOD.

Party Food Cooking Is Fun

With a flair for the unusual, Mrs. Deryl Machen loves cooking - when she has time for it. She especially enjoys fixing party type foods, and this week shares some of these recipes with those of discriminating tastes in dishes.

A native of Colorado, Joni was reared in and near Colorado Springs and is graduate of Bent County High School. Having lived in mountainous areas most of her life, she found it a little difficult to adjust to the endless plains of Texas. But having lived in Olton for three years, she is making herself at home here.

In the early years of their marriage she and Deryl lived in Ruidoso, N.M. and in Levelland before returning to the farm northeast of the city.

Deryl, who is a graduate of Olton High School and Texas Tech, now carries on farming operations and is a registered Commodity Futures Broker. He is also involved with Matador Trading Company, a commodity trading company using discretionary account trading for different parties and individuals. Always a golfer, he has served as golf pro.

In speaking of her family Joni says "Lanie is the only one at home now." Originally Melanie Ann, the eight year old daughter has been reduced to the family pet name 'Lanie'. She is presently in third grade.

Never having lived on a farm before, Joni has not learned the arts of freezing and canning foods, but she sees much merit in these processes and hopes to do more of it in future days. Now that she is working she has learned the value of preparing foods ahead and freezing them for ease of preparation on busy days.

She is cashier at a local grocery store and says that she has really enjoyed her work, it has made it possible for her to meet so many people and make new friends.

Joni plays golf some, but only for her own enjoyment, not in strict competition. She lists some skiing as the hobby the family most enjoys.

In offering her recipes this week, she states that German Apple pancakes are her husband's favorites. "They are a flat pancake, but the bubble up like a flower when cooked in large heavy skillet. The large pancake is cut in wedges for serving. It is especially nice for brunch."

Wheeler-Stewart Vows Recited In Fieldton

A double-ring ceremony performed in the First Baptist Church of Fieldton Nov. 4 united Dianna Lynn Stewart and Sammie Lee Wheeler in marriage. The Rev. David Burum of Earth officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. G.R. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. M.W. Wheeler of Center.

Nuptial vows were exchanged before a setting of arch candelabra with spiral candelabra on either side. Daisies accented the setting and the memory candle arrangement. Windows were graced with candle decorations and flowers marked the parents' and grandparents' pews.

Presented in marriage by her father, Miss Stewart wore a Princess style gown of white chiffon with accents of beaded silk floss Venise lace. The key-hole neckline was framed in a Boroque pattern of the beaded lace edged in Valintine scallops. Butterfly sleeves were caught to lace cuffs and the beaded lace motifs were scattered throughout. A lace edged flounce encircled the hemline sweeping to a Chapel train. She wore a matching lace mantilla veil reaching to fingertip length.

She carried a bouquet of white daisies and yellow roses, with babies breath cascading, atop a bible. Roses were presented to each of the couple's mother.

Miss Cheryl Stewart served as her sister's maid of honor and C.M. Wheeler of Nacogdoches was his brother's best man.

Bridesmaids were Mitzi Johnson of Lubbock and Shelia Wheeler of Hart Camp.

Groomsmen were Elza Miller and Donny Grant of Lubbock. Ushers were Donny Grant and Timmy Grant, both of Lubbock.

Bridesmaids wore identical formal length dresses of mimosa yellow in crepe-back satin with matching French alecon lace. The moulded empire bodices of their gowns were emphasized by lace insertions and featured a sculptured neckline. Bishop sleeves were cuffed and featured bands of lace overlay. The slightly flared skirts were accented with lace insertions.

Groomsmen wore brown tuxedos with black velvet lapels, vests, bow tie and yellow shirts.

The bride observed the traditional "something old" wearing pearls which belonged to her great grandmother; "something new" was her dress; "something borrowed" was the Bible belonging to the groom's aunt; and the garter was "something blue."

Musical selection by soloist Sandy Miller, accompanied by Jean Parkman of Littlefield and Donna West of Fieldton. They included "Twelfth of Never", "Wedding Song", and "We've Only Just Begun."

The mother of the bride wore a formal length gown of apricot floral polyester chiffon over a delustered satin. She added matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a formal length light pink princess style dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church building. Mrs. Tracy Caraway of Lubbock and Kim Rose presided at the bride's table.

For a wedding trip to Amarillo, the bride chose a black pant suit with rust cowl neck sweater.

The couple is at home near Hart Camp.

'Christmas Projects' Is Topic

Wynon Mayes, County Extension Agent brought the program on "Christmas Projects" for the Tuesday afternoon meeting at the Community Center of the Northwest Home Demonstration Club.

She said that "Christmas is one of the most important time in the year and is a time of love and sharing and a time of giving for us and sharing with others. As we give gifts or decorate our homes and gift packages for Christmas we are sharing."

She demonstrated making several types of Christmas trees for table or wall decoration, using yarns and scraps of cloth and dowel sticks. She also showed the finished product of the many different Christmas Wreaths and explained the method of constructing, some of cloth formed into long tubes and stuffed then braided or entwined.

On a styrofoam base an attractive wreath using soda straws and peppermint candies and another wreath with leaves and flower cut from paper plates. This wreath on a smaller scale was also used for package decoration.

Mrs. Mayes also demonstrated the method of making bows for Christmas or other gift wrapping.

She emphasized each Christmas decoration different, using your imagination and many things can be made using things you already have in the home.

Mrs. E.C. Freeman presided at the business meeting following the salad luncheon served at the Community Center with each member bringing a salad. Mrs. Maurice McCarty brought the opening in the form of a poem "Darwins Mistake" with the monkey denial of the descendancy of man from their race. Roll Call was answered with recalling "the most treasured Christmas decoration". This club voted again to contribute to Girlstown USA, Salvation Army and Training Center and Boys Ranch.

The club Christmas party will be Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 6:30. Definite plans will be announced at a later date. It was announced that Hale County Council Party will be a luncheon Dec. 19 at 11 a.m. at the Agriculture Center and will be a salad luncheon.

Fillies Basketball Play Begins Tuesday

By Coach Larry Ledbetter

The 1977-78 basketball season begins Tuesday, Nov. 15 for the Olton fillies. The girls have been working extremely hard since Oct. 15 and I feel we'll be ready to make a good showing.

This year's fillies team has several quality players and I'm very optimistic about the coming season. Our first opponent will be a tough Tulia team. It has been several years since an Olton girls team has been able to beat Tulia, but this could certainly be our year. We would appreciate all the fan support we can get. The girls are really looking forward to competing for their first win of the season.

Varsity members include Dusty Kinnison, Nancy Britton, Melanie Witten, Jan Spain, Jimmie K. Sanders, Sharla Nicholas, Janet Huguley, Doniece Quigley, Sherri Hutson, Carla Averyhart, Gloria Talamentez and Kim Rose.

Basketball Season Starts

By Coach Don Ledbetter

The Mustangs begin their roundball season Nov. 18 with Farwell at the Olton gym. The first workout for the Mustangs will be Nov. 14. However, all those boys planning to play basketball should report to the gym at 2 o'clock Saturday, Nov. 12 for the issue of workout equipment.

I feel the boys are ready to play this year and I am looking forward to the season. I would like to invite all the Olton fans to come out and back the Mustangs.

Larry Witten Named Officer

Officers were elected for a new two-year term at the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board meeting held Oct. 11, in Lubbock.

Larry Witten was named Chairman, a post previously held for two terms by C.C. "Pap" Reed. John Gilbreath of Hart vacated the post of Secretary-Treasurer to assume the Vice Chairmanship. C.P. Smith, Hale Center, was named Secretary-Treasurer. Witten formerly served as Vice Chairman.

The newly elected directors of the Board were sworn in at that meeting by Bob Gray, of the Texas Department of Agriculture. They are Paul Cobb, Lee Hill, Worth Jones and C.C. Reed. Paul Cobb will be serving his first term as a director.

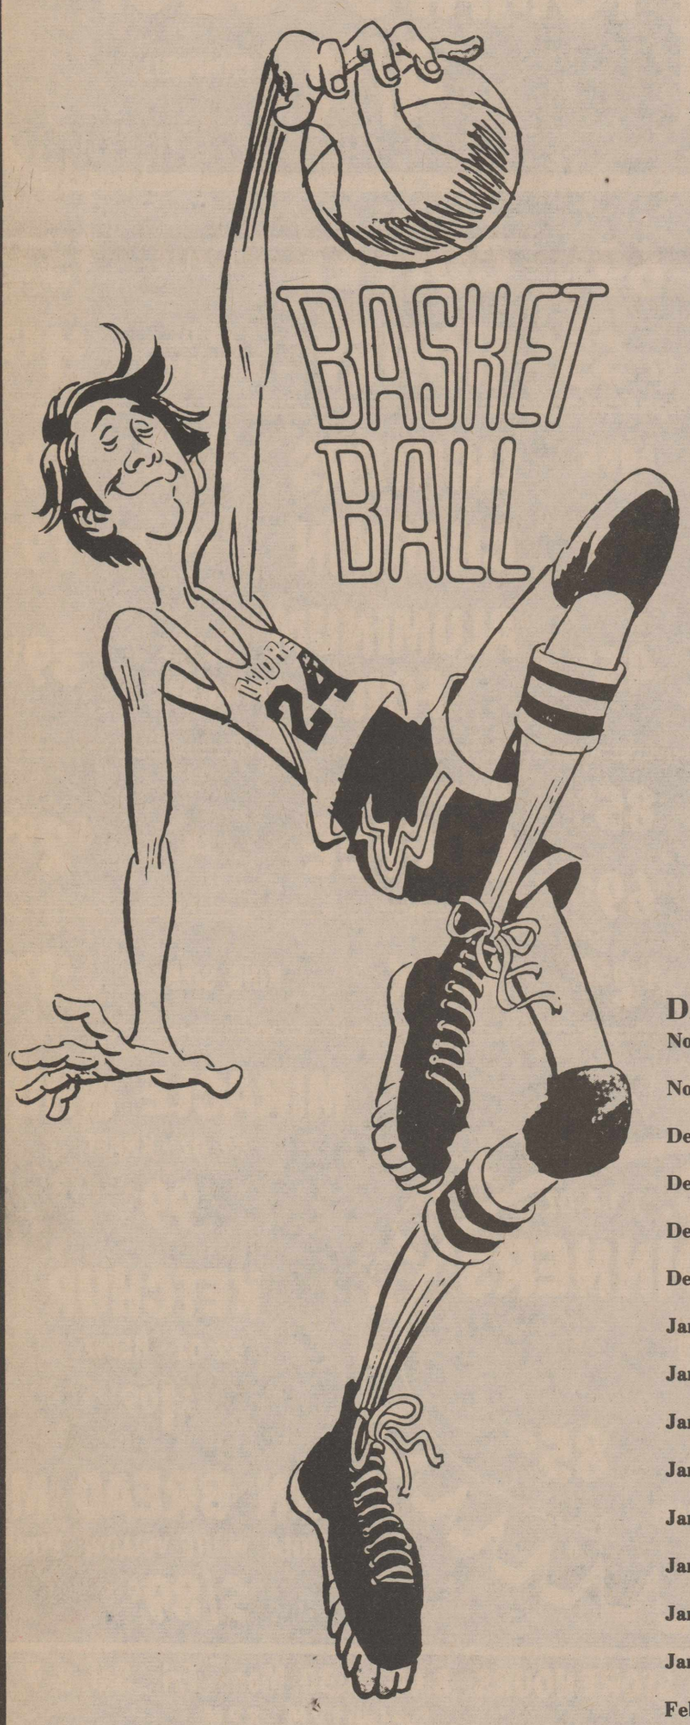

Cobb farms 3,500 dryland acres in Yoakum County; Hill, 2,000 irrigated acres in Hartley County; Jones 980 irrigated acres in Swisher County; and Reed, 1,500 irrigated acres in Swisher County. Jones also breeds Angus cattle and Reed irrigates pasture for cattle grazing.

K.B. Parish, past chairman, awarded plaques of recognition to C.C. Reed for his service as Chairman of the Board and A.R. Dillard for service as a Board director.

The Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement presented a slide show about grain sorghum during lunch. The slide show was one of three prepared by that organization to emphasize the role played by American farmers and ranchers in helping to feed and clothe the nation and world.

Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board promotes grain sorghum sales and research. It is supported by a 5 cents per ton assessment collected in a 29-county area of the Texas High Plains.

Olton Junior High's seventh grade gridsters whipped Morton 16 to 12 recently. Morton scored first, returning the kick-off 70 yards.

Mark Cordova scored on a 10 yard run for Olton. Mike Nelson added two extras. With four minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, Cordova scored again on a 70 yard reverse.

Finishing on an exciting note, Olton mustered a 70 yard drive in the closing minutes and scored with the clock showing 9 seconds. Cordova crossed over from the three. Nelson added two points to bring the final score to 16.

Eighth graders whipped Morton 24-12. Dwayne Wade scored first on a five yard run. Extras were no good. He added six more points and the PAT try was still unsuccessful.

Johnny Hutson scored on a 15 yard run with no extras. Score at halftime was 18-0.

Morton got on the board in the third with a punt return of 60 yards. They scored again with a completed 30 yard pass with only three seconds remaining.

On High Plains

Cotton Quality 'Fantastic'

The quality of High Plains cotton classed through Oct. 21 has been "fantastic," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Johnson compared this year's High Plains fiber characteristics with those reported from other areas of the Cotton Belt and said "High Plains cotton looks better by comparison than ever before, a fact which will make it saleable in markets not available to us in years past."

Grades, micronaire readings and fiber strength tests all are registering substantial improvements over previous years and all compare favorably with cotton from other states.

Staple length of High Plains cotton is always shorter than the national average, but this is the only category in which Lubbock-area cotton falls behind. "Exceptionally good growing and harvesting weather has helped raise High Plains cotton quality in other respects," Johnson explains, "but staple is primarily determined by variety."

Analysis of quality data on the 415,783 bales classed on the Plains through Oct. 21, about 13 percent of estimated area production, shows a huge 76 percent of the crop grading Strict Low Middling White and above. Latest quality figures from across the Belt, covering the 2,366,000 bales ginned through Oct. 1, put only 62 percent of the national crop in the Strict Low Middling and better grades.

Only three states, Arizona, New Mexico and California, have ginned a higher percentage of SLM+ cotton.

Just over 85 percent of the early Lubbock crop has "miked" in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9, a percentage equalled only by California.

Fiber strength, or "pressley," of High Plains cotton has been excellent to date this year, with 58 percent measuring 90,000 psi or above. This compares with a beltwide average of only 33 percent and is above all states except New Mexico and Georgia.

Spain To Participate In Crop Judging Contest

Stanley Spain, a junior plant science major at West Texas State University, will participate in two national crops judging contests in Kansas City, Mo. and Chicago, Ill.

Ten to 12 schools are expected to enter the competiton, according to Dr. Leonard Wilson, associate professor of plant science and sponsor for the WTSU team.

The crops contests are composed of the identification of crops, diseases, weeds and grasses; the grading of grain for commercial purposes; and the analysis of seed for planting. Teams are required to identify or grade 100 of 200 items included in each contest.

Public Notice

Texas Air Control Board Regulation I, Rule 101.1 prohibits the outdoor burning of materials within the State of Texas with certain exceptions. Rule 101.26 of Regulation I allows an exemption for outdoor burning in a rural area of dry vegetable matter at the site where it occurs only when no practical alternative to burning exists and if certain conditions are met. THE CONDITIONS INCLUDE THAT THE BURNING SITE MUST BE OUTSIDE THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF A CITY OR TOWN.

Further restrictions are that the burning shall be commenced only when the wind direction is such as to carry smoke and other pollutants away from any city, town, residential, recreational, commercial or industrial area, navigable water, public road, or landing strip which may be affected by the smoke.

If at any time the burning causes or may tend to cause smoke to blow onto or across a road or highway, it is the responsibility of the person initiating the burning to post flagpersons on affected roads in accordance with the requirements of the Department of Public Safety.

The burning must be at least 300 feet from any residential, recreational, commercial, or industrial area, except for those located on the property where the burning is to take place. No heavy oils, asphaltic materials, items containing natural or synthetic rubbers, or any other material other than dry plant growth which produces unreasonable amounts of smoke may be burned. The hours for burning must fall between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Burning shall not be commenced when the surface wind speed is predicted to be less than six miles per hour or greater than 23 miles per hour during the burn period.

Rule 101.4 provides that the authority to conduct outdoor burning under the Regulation does not exempt or excuse the person responsible from the consequences, damages, or injuries resulting from the burning, and does not exempt or excuse anyone from complying with all other applicable laws or ordinances, regulations and orders of governmental entities having jurisdiction, even though the burning is conducted in compliance with the Regulations.

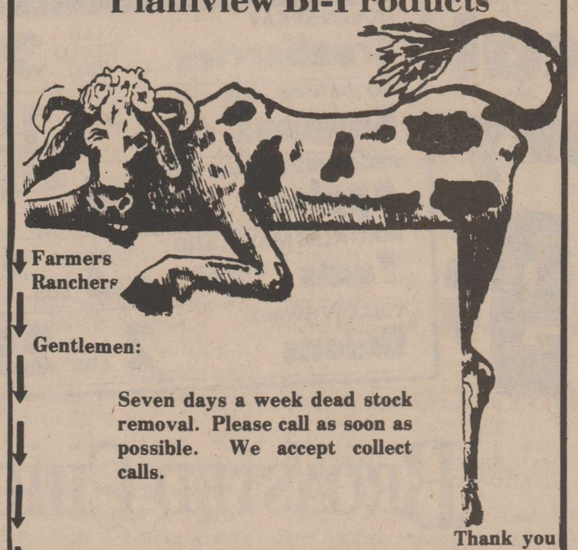

Texas Air Control Board General Rules, Rule 5, prohibits any emissions of air contaminants from any source whatsoever in such concentration or duration as may tend to create a nuisance.

Should violations of the Board's Regulations be found, the Texas Clean Air Act provides for penalties from $50 to $1000 per act of violation. Each day of violation is a separate act of violation.

ERA Discussion Set Saturday

Women who are curious or confused about the true meaning and intent of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) are invited to be present Saturday afternoon, 3 p.m. in Community Room of Olton State Bank building.

Mrs. Janet Sheats, who has attended major meetings and kept abreast of information on the subject, will be present to speak and to try to answer all questions posed in the discussion.

The meeting is neither political nor denominational, but is intended to be strictly informational. Interested persons are invited.

Grainmen Hold Annual Meeting

Olton Grain Coop annual meeting was held Saturday evening, Oct. 29 in the school cafeteria. A harvest dinner was served featuring turkey and traditional trimmings.

Three hundred fifty people were in attendance with guests from Plainview, Amarillo, Lubbock, Friona and Sunray. At the business meeting a financial statement was made by the auditor and dividend checks were distributed. Jim Brown was elected as new director and R.V. Allcorn and Dewey Hukill were re-elected to the Board of Directors. Each will serve three years.

Gin Accident Injures Gary

Bill Gary, manager of Halfway's Coop Gin, was injured Friday night when his hand and forearm were caught in moving gin machinery. Held in the clutches of the machinery for some twenty minutes, the arm suffered severe mangling, but no bones were broken.

His son, Leslie, while rushing to his father's aid, twisted his knee, fell to the ground and had to continue his way, hopping on one foot. Both were rushed to Central Plains General Hospital for treatment. Both are reported improving, Gary with a helpless bandaged hand, and Leslie anticipating knee surgery.

Church Birthday Celebration Set

Former members, pastors and friends will be joining with the members of First United Methodist Church Sunday in observance of that congregation's 75th birthday.

Dr. Dallas D. Denison of Brownfield, pastor of the church in the early 30's, will preach the morning sermon. Other former pastors and their wives will be participating in the service.

An old fashioned "dinner on the ground" will be held at noon in fellowship hall. An informal "Remember When" will be held following the meal.

The celebration will be concluded with a 2:30 p.m. devotional service.
