Langford's Condition Reported Fairly Good

Robert Langford, Pampa football star, captain of the New Mexico State University grid team last season, injured in an accident Thursday, was reported in fair condition in an Amarillo hospital today.

Langford was injured in an accident at an oil drilling site five miles north of Pampa. He was brought to Highland General Hospital in Pampa in a Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home Ambulance. Following treatment at Highland General, Langford was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo for facial surgery.

Members of the family said this morning that the surgeons told them the operation "went very well" and that today Langford's condition was "as good as could be expected." They said additional facial surgery would be necessary at a later time.

Langord was in surgery for two hours at St. Anthony's. Doctors reported he sustained several broken facial bones and lacerations and that he also sustained a punctured lung from a broken rib and that both collarbones were fractured.

Langford's excellent physical condition was credited with keeping him from falling into unconsciousness and may have allowed him to survive without more serious complications, the family was told.

Langford was injured Thursday morning while working for Transwestern Pipeline Co. He had jumped off a truck to retrieve a piece of equipment and as he jumped back on the vehicle his foot either slipped or caught in a rope and his head was pinned under the rear bumper.

An outstanding athlete at Pampa High School, Langford was recently elected tri-captain of New Mexico State's unbeaten football team. A halfback, the 21-year old senior had been an instrumental figure in Coach Warren Woodson's Aggies running up the nation's longest winning streak in major college circles.

Langford starred in football, basketball and baseball at Pampa High School, where he was all-district on the gridiron. He won the "Fighting Heart" award.

He was student body president, all school favorite, and a member of the Honor Society at Pampa High School where he was graduated in the Spring of 1958.

U.S. Goods Sale To Red Bloc Bared

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American businessmen have obtained government permission to export almost $9 million worth of materials to Soviet bloc nations in the last five weeks.

In addition, more than $2.5 million worth of goods was approved for shipment to Yugoslavia during the same period.

Both private trade and the recent decision to allow the shipment of government farm surpluses was discussed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges at a meeting Thursday with about 20 critical House members.

House sources said Rusk and Hodges left the impression the administration would not be pleased with any congressional action in regard to both government and non-government trading behind the Iron Curtain.

But the sources said the House Rules Committee is expected to consider a resolution next week that would form a select committee to examine the question.

The value of goods — including locomotive engines, oil drilling equipment and laboratory supplies — which the government granted businessmen permission to export to the Communists during the last five weeks was computed by United Press International.

The figures were taken from daily export license lists which the Commerce Department began making public on July 3.

Reds Construct Concrete Wall At Berlin Gate

BERLIN (UPI) — The Communist regime of East Germany marshalled tens of thousands of young men between the ages of 18 and 23 today into a state of semi-mobilization.

The East German news agency ADN said that throughout the Soviet Zone of Germany the youth were gathered into groups to hear the reading of a "call to readiness."

"The number of youths who decide to defend the German Democratic Republic East Germany with weapon in hand climbs hourly," ADN proclaimed.

"In Blumenholze five and in Hammer eight members of the Free German Youth pledged themselves to enter the national people's army. Another eight in Neubrandenburg will join armed organs."

The call meant that men in the 18 and 23 years age group had to pledge themselves to take up arms when ordered to do so by the Communist regime.

Even as the semi-mobilization drive began, the Communists reinforced the barricades isolating East Berliners from West Berlin.

During the night five truckloads of bricklayers and laborers drove into the huge Potsdamer Square on the East-West Berlin border and built a concrete barrier 150 feet long, 5 feet high and 3 feet thick.

Between 80 and 100 men worked on the wall all night so as to have a crash proof blockade across the square when East Berliners awoke in the morning.

A West Berlin policeman said he saw one East German bricklayer working on the barricade with "tears running down his face."

He said the bricklayer told him he had been "woken up without warning and taken to work."

Potsdamer Square was one of the 67 border crossings sealed by the Communist last Sunday.

Rolls of barbed wire which had been placed across the square had failed to stop many East Berliners from leaping across to the West.

With a population of 16.2 million, East Germany already has 576,000 men under arms. NATO and West German figures issued July 1 set the army at 110,000 the "People's Police" or Vopos at

Adenauer Warns Russia Against Military Attack

BONN, Germany (UPI) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called today for a peaceful solution of the Berlin crisis,but warned Moscow that any Russian atomic attack would "unleash a counter-stroke capable of destroying the Soviet Union."

The 85-year-old chancellor added in an address to a special session of the bundestag (lower house of parliament) that the Kremlin thinks it can solve the problems of Berlin "in a way incompatible with law and with the requirements of political reason by supporting illegal actions by the East German regime."

"In this situation," he said, "Europe and the North Atlantic alliance must prepare the measures necessary to safeguard our security and freedom."

He said that West Germany is prepared to bear its share of stepped-up Western defenses in this situation, but said a solution to the Berlin problem is possible only by negotiation.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt followed Adenauer to the bundestag rostrum and called for "convincing, non-military countermeasures by the Western powers."

Brandt said West Berlin leaders think "nothing of so-called counter-measures which would cause roaring laughter from Potsdam Square in (East) Berlin to Vladivostok." He called for words "followed by action."

Two days ago Brandt told a rally of 250,000 West Berliners he had written a personal letter to President Kennedy asking "not merely words but political action."

Adenauer and Brandt, opponents for the job of chancellor in next month's election, thus followed essentially the same approach in seeking a solution to the Berlin crisis.

Parliament responded when they were through by unanimously protesting the Communist move in sealing off the East-West Berlin city border.

Adenauer said his government was "highly satisfedi" with President Kennedy's address to the American people about Berlin July 25 and agreed that "the West has to prepare against this threat by pooling its military forces."

"We know, and the Soviet Union knows, that the Western military potential is superior to that of the Soviet Union," Adenauer said.

Navy To Add More Ships And Jet Planes To Fleets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy has announced plans to add 42 ships to the Atlantic and Pacific fleets and step up orders for jet fighters, anti-submarine planes and ship-borne missiles.

The action Thursday was the latest in a series of moves by the armed services as part of the U.S. military buildup ordered by President Kennedy to meet Communist threats against Berlin and elsewhere in the world.

The Navy announced earlier it would extend duty tours of 28,000 officers and men for six to 12 months. The Air Force has alerted 71 Air National Guard units and the Army alerted 113 National Guard and reserve units and extended tours of 84,000 enlisted men in a buildup to a one-million-man Army.

Added to the fighting fleets will be: two aircraft carriers; 33 ships now in mothballs, including 22 amphibious and 11 support vessels; and seven other ships previously scheduled to be inactivated, mostly destroyer escorts.

This will raise the Navy's operating strength to 861 ships, including 382 warships and 479 support vessels.

The carriers are the 60,000-ton superattack ship Constellation, now under construction, and the smaller, anti-sub carrier Antietam, which had been scheduled for layup.

The addition of the carriers means the Navy will operate 16 large attack flattops and 10 anti-submarine warfare carriers. Each will be equipped with a newly formed air group.

Foreign Aid Bill Approval Urged By Rockefeller

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today urged GOP House members to support President Kennedy's request for long-term foreign aid.

The New York governor entered the foreign aid battle in a last-minute effort to reverse a major setback delivered to the program. Both the House and Senate hoped to complete action on the bill by tonight.

Rockefeller made his plea after Kennedy called for bipartisan unity for his five-year, $8.8 billion borrowing plan. This proposal was defeated tentatively in the House Wednesday by a coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats.

Rockefeller sent telegrams to all GOP congressmen urging them to "face the reality" of America's worldwide responsibilities and to reverse the action.

House Democratic leaders spent Thursday in a vain effort to draw up a compromise on the controversial provision. More strategy talks with White House aides were set for today.

The Senate version of the aid bill still retained the long-term feature. But it took a close 51-45 vote Thursday to turn back an attempt to cut the loan plan from five to three years.

Bob Hope Buys Resort Property

PALM DESERT, Calif. (UPI)—Comedian Bob Hope purchased about $1 million worth of property in this desert resort, Hank Gogerty, Palm Desert motel owner, reported Thursday. Gogerty said Hope bought 280 acres and will announce later how he intends to develop the property.

Blast In Italy Claims 8 Lives

AVERSA, Italy (UPI)—At least seven children and a woman were killed Thursday in an explosion believed caused by a World War II shell or bomb. One child was reported missing and three others were hospitalized with serious injuries.

Record $46.7 Billion Budget Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has signed a record peacetime $46.7 billion defense appropriation bill aimed at building up U. S. military strength for the Berlin crisis, the White House announced today.

The President signed the measure Thursday night, press secretary Pierre Salinger reported. It included the entire extra $3.5 billion Kennedy asked to counter the Berlin threats of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The bill also contained $207.6 million to get a civil defense shelter program under way for the American people.

Congress gave the President several million dollars he hadn't requested. The main increase was $525 million for continued production of B52 and B58 bombers which are now scheduled for final deliveries late this year.

The bill also contained $400 million for stepped up production of the B70 bomber. Kennedy had requested $220 million.

The new money will start a program of shelter construction on federal property, provide for the location and marking of other shelter areas and some stocking of emergency provisions.

Molten Glass Pours Across Factory Floor

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (UPI) — About 140 tons of white-hot molten glass poured across the floor of a local glass plant Thursday when a mechanical plug slipped from a huge vat.

"All we could do was try to cool it as it poured out, said Fire Captain E. L. Brickuy. "The glass was ankle deep, and in some places even knee deep."

The only reported injuries were received by two men who collapsed from the heat.

Use Of Newsprint Dips During Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Newsprint consumption during the first seven months of 1961 decreased from the record high set during the comparable period last year, according to the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA).

Video Education Fund Is Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Commerce Committee has approved a bill to let the government pump up to $25 million into non-profit education TV stations. The funds, which would be matched dollar-for-dollar by state or local groups, would go for advance surveys and actual construction.

Major Airlines Announce Coach Fare Reduction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new day dawned for airline passengers today. All three major transcontinental airlines whacked about $100 off the price of certain coast-to-coast flights.

The new fares, approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board, involve a $198 round-trip excursion fare for jets and $178 for piston-engine planes, plus the 10 per cent federal transportation tax.

A week ago, a round trip between Los Angeles and New York cost $280 plus tax on one of the airlines.

The new fares apply to coach travel between Monday noon and Friday noon, and require the round trip to be completed in not less than 13 days and not more than 30 days.

Trans World Airlines started the reduced fares Thursday, and American and United followed suit today. TWA reported a tremendous response.

A TWA spokesman said coach sections on jet flights leaving New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and San Francisco under the new fares were filled to 91 per cent of capacity — 2,359 available seats and 2,138 of them occupied by paying passengers.

Compared to Wednesday of the previous week, TWA's coach bookings went up 136 per cent in New York, 122 per cent in Los Angeles, 74 per cent at San Francisco and 29 per cent in Pittsburgh. The spokesman said TWA already has booked more than 5,000 advance reservations under the new excursion plan.

The airline industry views the reduced fares as a key test of a theory that lower-priced tickets will mean better business for the hard-pressed carriers.

Jury Deliberates Fate Of Musician

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI — The jury in the murder trial of former western music star Spade Cooley resumes deliberations today.

The group of 10 men and two women was locked up 20 minutes before midnight. A few minutes before calling it a night, the jury, asked for and received definitions of first degree murder, second degree murder, manslaughter and involuntary manslaughter.

Cooley, 50, is accused of the "murder by torture" of his wife, Ella May, 37, last April 3. He pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Prescription For Growth Heard By C-C Managers

More than a half hundred chamber of commerce managers from over West Texas had checked in today for the two-day annual Work Shop and Short Course of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Ass'n. which opened this forenoon in Coronado Inn.

E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Pampa chamber, is official host for the conference. The group was welcomed to Pampa by E. Roy Smith, president of the local chamber. Jimmie Lovell, manager of the Dumas Chamber of Commerce and president of the WTCC association, presided at the opening session.

Melvin Munn of Pampa, keynote speaker, took as his topic, "A New Town Without Moving."

"Improve your citizen attitudes and you improve your city" Munn told the chamber managers. "If you have any plans to change your town, remember you will first have to change people. When people want a thing, they will get it. Make them want the things that will improve and increase your city and you will see it come to be."

Pointing into the conference theme of fundamentals of Chamber of Commerce promotion, Munn said:

"The commercial and industrial growth of Southwestern cities, and especially those in West Texas, resulted from our supply of labor, natural resources and space. . . in this case meaning room to move about right here on earth.

"Continued growth requires three things — vision, vigor and value. Managers and members alike must employ the Chamber of Commerce as a vehicle of progress. There must be vision to see the possibilities of your area, vigor to enlarge upon these possibilities and make them known to prospects, and value to those who shop or actually choose your town."

Munn said the greatest lack in America today is efficient and adequate use of our manpower. Every effort, he stated, must be made to restore a sense of individual obligation to the employe and employer alike.

"Quality merchandise, quality work and real craftmanship mark a city of pride and growth."

Papers were read at this forenoon's session by Bill Quimby of Fort Worth, Russell Willis of San Angelo, and Herbert Schall, of the Oklahoma State Chamber of Commerce. Subjects discussed included Chamber of Commerce organizational work, membership drives and retail sales.

Dr. Richard Crews, former Pampan and now pastor of the First Christian Church in San Angelo was the speaker at a luncheon this noon.

A special program for staff members was scheduled at 3:15 p.m. today with the following speakers, Joe Cooley of Abilene, Gene Garrison of Littlefield, Edith

Granny Finds Way To Enter Her Bedroom

DARLINGTON, England (UPI) —Someone called the fire department when they saw Mrs. Martha Dent climbing in her home Thursday.

Mrs. Dent had lost her key, so she hoisted herself onto an outhouse roof, climbed to another roof and scrambled into her bedroom window.

The firemen arrived only after Mrs. Dent had arrived safely inside. Mrs. Dent is an 81-year-old grandmother.

Cuban Crew Given Refuge

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The United States today granted political asylum to "at least 10 Cubans, including the captain" of the Cuban merchant ship Bahia de Nipe which made an unscheduled "freedom stop" in Chesapeake Bay.

A spokesman for the commander of the 5th Naval District said the other crew members would be allowed to resume their voyage aboard the craft. He said the Swiss government, which is filling in the broken diplomatic relations between this country and Cuba, had been notified of the defection.

New Hay Fever Relief In Sight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Hayfever shots 10,000 times more powerful than those now in use may be on the medical horizon.

Discovery by a team of Chicago researchers of a single substance in ragweed pollen that appears to set off hay fever attacks could prelude a major breakthrough in the long battle against the ailment.

It would prove a boon to an estimated 10 million Americans who suffer hay fever attacks primarily from Aug. 15 until the first frost.

Bais for the prediction is a 10-year research project culminating in the isolation of the ragweed pollen substance blamed for trigering hay fever attacks

Dr. A. Robert Goldfarb, head of the three-man Chicago Medical School team which conducted the research, said tests of the substance indicate it is 10,000 times more potent than whole pollen. The bulk of his report was made this week at the International Congress on Biochemistry in Moscow.

Prior to Goldfarb's report, it was believed that several allergens in the pollen were responsible for hay fever. On the basis of this belief, immunizing shots were comprised of extracts of whole pollen.

Injection of the whole pollen extract forced the body to build up defenses or antibodies to all the substances in pollen, Goldfarb said. He expressed hope that the use of injections containing only a single pure allergen would permit the body's defenses to concentrate on that substance alone and produce far more effective protection againt hay fever.

MATURE PARENT

Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the last of three articles which will appear during her absence taken from the book, "The Lord," by Romano Guardini, house chaplain to Pope Pius XII. Copyright 1954, Henry Regnery Co.)

(EXCERPT NO. 3 FROM ROMANO GUARDINI'S "THE LORD")

The child does not reflect, he is open to the world and everything in it. Unconsciously, he stands straight and looks straight at things as they really are. Then comes the change: gradually his open doors close upon a room of reflection and self - assertion of which he is the center.

In the child's attitude toward life lies his humility. As Jesus says, he does not count himself for much. He does not drag his small ego into the foreground. His consciousness brims with objects people, events — not himself. Thus his world is dominated by reality, that which is.

The grownups' world is cluttered with unrealities, with formalities, illusions and substitutes, intermediaries and trivialities all taken with tremendous seriousness. The child, accustomed to dealing directly with things as they are, is surprised and confused by the hardness and narrowness he confronts in hs elders.

The child is young. It has the simplicity of eye and heart which welcomes all that is new and great and salutary. It sees it for what it is, goes straight to it and enters in.

This simplicity is the childlikeness to which the parable refers. What Jesus values is the child's clarity of vision, the ability to look up and out, to feel and accept reality without ulterior motives. Fundamentally, the attitude of the child is the attitude of a faith which is open to all that comes from God and the readiness to accept the consequences.

Not for nothing does the text read "unless you become as little children," unless you outgrow maturity, turn back to the beginning and build from the ground up.

The childlike mind is the one which sees the Heavenly Father in everything that comes into his life. To do this requires a great effort. Wisdom must be sucked from the naked continuation of cause and effect, love from the accidental. To do this sincerely is difficult.

To become a child in Christ's sense is to reach Christian maturity.

The child is receptive to the great revolutionary ideas of Christ's teaching. The same teaching is met with reserve by the adult. His cleverness condemns it an impossible; his caution warns him of the consequences; his self-esteem is up in arms; his hard grasp cannot let go.

He is encysted in artificialities, fearful for his brittle little world. Fear has made his eyes blind, his ears deaf, his heart dull.

Dear Abby...

Next Time, Raise The Roof, Man!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When that lady complained about the dirty movies they are making these days, you told her not to go to see them.

Well, how do you know they are dirty until you get inside? My wife and I were watching a movie last night. It showed two young people lying in the weeds together and they weren't even married. He started to kiss her and massage her shoulders, and I said to my wife, "Let's get out of here." I went to the box office and told the girl selling tickets I wanted my money back because I didn't pay my money to watch that kind of stuff. She said we had been in the show forty minutes, and she couldn't give us our money back. What do you think of that? I am "MAD"

DEAR "MAD": Four and one-half innings make a legal ball game. I don't know how many minutes make a legal movie. All you can do is holler — and holler I would.

DEAR ABBY: Just a word of consolation to the woman whose husband licks his plate.

Send him over to our house, and he won't lick it. To give you an idea of what I am talking about: The other night my wife BURNED a TV frozen dinner, and the last cake she made had a NAIL in it.

(Signed) EATING OUT

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I live in Washington, D.C. Our problem is the increasing number of people whom we do not know, but who have been told by shirttail relatives and casual friends that they could stay with us while visiting the nation's capital.

These people call us from the bus depot, train station and airport asking for directions on how to get to our house, or even asking us to pick them up. It is getting so that we are afraid to answer the phone. We have a large home, but we have a large family, and over night guests are an inconvenience. We never visit anybody. How do others, who live where tourists like to visit, handle this?

STUCK IN WASHINGTON

DEAR STUCK: Have a list of hotels and motels handy and don't hesitant about recommending them.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Knox Gives Talk On Europe To Rose Society

The Pampa Rose Society met Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Carlson, 2211 Charles, with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Radcliff as co-hosts.

During the business session, conducted by Martin Stubbe, members were encouraged to participate in the flower show being planned by the Pampa Garden Club, and work days for the Duncan Street rose garden were announced.

Five specimens of roses were presented to the member to test their skill at identification.

PROGRAM

For the program, Mrs. J. A. Knox showed slides of her recent tour of Europe. She was introduced by Mrs. A. B. Whitten, program leader.

It was announced the next meeting will be a tour of yards and rose gardens, beginning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stubbe, 2118 Charles. The event is set for 6:30 p.m. Sept. 19.

During the social hour, refreshments of homemade ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Members present were Messrs. and Mmes. William A. Dennink, H. H. Boynton, D. A. Caldwell, Milo Carlson, A. B. Carruth, Ira Carlton, A. F. Johnston, Glenn Radcliff, Martin Stubbe, A. B. Whitten and Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Adair.

Guests were Mrs. J. A. Knox and her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Ashcroft of Harlingen.

Reunion Attended By The E. J. Ayers

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Ayer, 503 Yeager, have returned from a family reunion held Sunday at Possum Kingdom Lake.

The reunion of the Owens and Rainwatter families of East Texas was started 12 to 15 years ago and is held annually. About 62 persons attended this year's event.

Following worship services, a barbecue was held. It was decided to meet in Dallas next year.

Guessing Games Are For Courtship Period

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Memo to this summer's brides: Keeping a young man guessing may be an important part of courtship, but it's a game that doesn't set very well with husbands.

Don't put a husband on the spot with guessing games if you want him to feel comfortable in your company.

Why ask with a pout, "Don't you notice anything different about me?" when he obviously has failed to notice your new hairdo, new dress or your experiment with a new eye shadow? Be a sport and come right out and tell him what's new, instead of making him guess.

Why put him on the spot with, "I'll bet you don't know what day this is?" when you well know he has forgotten it is the anniversary of the day you had your first date, or started going steady, or got your engagement ring or whatever? Besides, you'll be accumulating other important dates, so why make a fuss over the ones that belong to courtship?

And don't, — if you don't want to drive your new husband crazy —begin your conversational tidbits with "Guess who. . .?"

"Guess who called me up today?"; "Guess who I ran into at the supermarket?"; "Guess who is going to have a baby?" makes a guessing game out of incidental information which doesn't make it sound more important. It's much more likely to make it seem awfully unimportant.

Above all, don't ever make your husband guess why he is in the doghouse. If you're made about something, say so in no uncertain terms, instead of acting like a disillusioned heroine going around with a long face, while your husband tries to figure out what he has done wrong NOW.

There's no guessing at all when you read Ruth Millett's booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c-0 Pampa News, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

'Wonder Drug' Firms Accused

NEW YORK (UPI) — Charging that the public is paying "unreasonably high prices" for three "wonder drugs," the Justice Department will take three major drug firms and a top executive of each to court on anti-trust charges.

Sales of the prescription-only drugs total hundreds of million of dollars a year.

A federal grand jury Thursday returned a three-count indictment under the Sherman Antitrust Act against:

Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., and John E. McKeen, president and board chairman; American Cyanamid Co., of which Lederle Laboratories is a division, and Wilbur G. Malcolm, chairman of the board; and Bristol-Myers Co. and Frederic N. Schwartz, president. All three firms have principal offices in New York City.

The drug companies and the accused officers all deny the federal charges.

Two other drug firms were named co-conspirators, but not as defendants, in the indictment. They are the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. of New York, of which E. R. Squibb & Sons is a division, and the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich.

The charges involve three of the four so-called "broad spectrum" antibiotics — aureomycin, terramycin and tetracycline.

The drugs are used in treating a wide range of infections, and are particularly useful against infections of an unknown source. The antibiotics destroy harmful bacteria either by "starving" them or preventing them from reproducing.

The fourth "broad spectrum" drug is chloromycetin and is made by a firm not involved in the case.

Suspect Denies Assault Charge

Bond was set today at $2,500 for Billy Dencel Beezley, 26, of Panhandle, when he pleaded not guilty on a charge of aggravated assault.

Beezley was arrested yesterday afternoon, police said, shortly after they received a complaint from a 13-year-old Pampa girl that a man had offered her money to take a ride in his automobile in the 100-block of Georgia St. She told officers when she refused he grabbed her arm and she jerked away. Police said the girl wrote down the automobile license number.

The bond was set by County Judge William J. Craig.

Tropical Storm Loses Intensity

By United Press International

The season's latest tropical disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico sent sheets of rain over Texas and Mexico coastal areas but weather officials said it would blow itself out by tonight.

The storm, which boiled up off Yucatan late Wednesday, failed to increase in intensity as was first expected and weather officials said there is no longer any danger.

Gilbert Pitts, forecaster at the U.S. Weather Bureau in Fort Worth, said it would cause some scattered heavy rains in South Texas again today, and would diminish by tonight and Saturday.

Light showers also fell today north of Brownwood and in scattered parts of Central Texas.

"If this storm had farther to go (before reaching land) it is likely it might develop into something much more destructive" Pitts said. "But as it is, there are not even any winds of consequence with it."

The Weather Bureau at New Orleans, which sent hurricane hunter planes into the storm center, kept tabs on the storm until it began moving inland on the Texas and Mexican coasts and issued its last weather bulletin concerning it late Thursday afternoon.

Some of the squalls kicked up by the storm across South Texas brought torrential rains and lightning.

Mrs. Goldelee Smith, 66, was struck and killed by a bolt of lightning at her home in Pasadena, a suburb of Houston, Thursday during a storm that dumped .36 of an inch of rain at Houston International Airport in 30 minutes.

Presidio, with a high of 97 degrees, was the hot spot Thursday.

Western Allies Agree On Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Western Allies have reached basic agreement not to use "countermeasures" in the Berlin crisis as it now stands.

They are considering positive Western action in addition to the protests already filed, but these would be long-range measures to strengthen the West for the crisis yet to come in Berlin.

This basic United States, British, French and — somewhat reluctantly — West German position was reported today by officials directly involved in Berlin planning.

It appeared to rule out any immediate bans on East German trade or travel in the West, which would be retaliation. It left the door open for steps to improve miliatry strength and "a whole range" of other measures which officials would not list.

Allied diplomats scheduled their fifth meeting of the week for this morning to continue work on these plans. They also are considering contingency plans in case the Soviets take new action.

When East Germany this week sealed its own and East Berlin's borders to the outward flow of refugees, there was an immediate cry in West Germany to "do something."

But the view of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the British and French foreign offices was that this was not the real "Berlin crisis" everyone had awaited.

It was certainly a violation of agreements for free travel in Berlin. But it was not — and is not — a blockade of the vital Western access to West Berlin. West Berlin travel to the East was only slightly - limited. West Germans can enter East Berlin on foot, though not by car.

Saturday's program is scheduled to open at 9 a.m. with papers to be presented on bond issues, Christmas promotions and decorations and publicizing of special events. Speakers handling these subjects will include Homer Tanner of Brownwood, Jack Lacy Jr. of Vernon, Jimmie Lovell of Dumas, Si Ragsdale of Denton, and Weldon Owens, Country Editor of The Dallas Times-Herald.

In addition to President Lovell, other officers of the WTCC group in attendance include Vice President Bill Thomas of Andrews, and Jess Everett of Weatherford, secretary-treasurer.

Vice President May Make Trip To West Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is expected to visit West Berlin this weekend to demonstrate U. S. support of the city's Communist-surrounded population.

Sources close to Johnson said today that no firm decision had been reached. But they indicated one might be expected quickly.

The source said Johnson would travel to West Berlin as President Kennedy's personal representative just as he did to Southeast Asia when the Laos crisis developed there.

Recently, Johnson visited Africa to stress U.S. interest in the newly emerging nations in that continent.

A visit by the vice president to free Berlin would underscore the President's support of the West Berliners in the crisis which sharpened last weekend when the Communists sealed off the border to East Berlin.

On Wednesday, West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt declared that the Kennedy administration should demonstrate "actions not words" in the face of the Communist tactics.

New Immigration District Formed

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (UPI)— The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service announced Thursday it is forming a new district with headquarters at Port Isabel.

The district will extend from Brownsville to Houston and Beaumont.

Harlon Carter of San Pedro, Calif., southwestern region immigration service chief, said Charles Beechie of San Marcos, Tex., will be the director of the new Port Isabel district.

The Dallas office, which formerly controlled the Houston and Beaumont areas, is being abolished. Carter said the San Antonio district office will take over supervision of the Dallas area and West Texas and will be extended to Oklahoma.

Military Tank Used To Quell Prison Uprising

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Authorities used an Army tank Thursday night to back up "no concession" warnings and stamp out an uprising by convicts holding a score of hostages at Tennesee's white-walled state prison.

The eight-hour rebellion, led by four known ringleaders, ended as abruptly as it began when the M48 Patton tank rumbled up to a barricaded commissary and pointed its guns at the building.

Given three minutes to surrender or be attacked, 33 persons filed from the building. Five were guards, three were commissary employes and 25 were inmates of the sprawling penitentiary. Most were believed to be hostages.

The ringleader was identified as Raymond Farra, 26, officially described as "insane" on prison records. The others were identified as Frank Sanders, serving 25 year for armed robbery, and brothers Robert and John Bohannon, the latter doing 45 years for murder.

Farra, a West Virginia badman serving a life term for kidnaping and robbery, staged a similar rebellion with other convicts in March, 1960. That uprising also was put down after 25 hours of bargaining.

Corrections Commissioner Keith Hampton said today the 1,800 prisoners housed here will be subject to a tightened "get-tough" policy. They will be denied radios, television sets, newspapers and magazines. Armed guards will watch inmates anytime they leave their cells, Hampton said.

Officials were investigating to determine exactly how many prisoners were involved in the protest, apparently over a lack of recreational facilities and alleged brutality on the prt of guards.

Four, in addition to the ringleaders, were hustled off to maximum security cellblocks. "They are the type that would do it," Hampton said.

They were identified as James Edward Long, serving 40 years for armed robbery; Robert Rivera, serving an identical term and Farra's partner in the 1960 trouble:; James Smitty, convicted of burglary; and Hugh Bell, under a 30-year sentence for rape.

The uprising began at 9:45 a. m. Thursday and ended shortly after 6 p.m.

'This One Thing' First Methodist Sermon Subject

"This One Thing" will be the sermon topic discussed by the pastor, Hubert Bratcher, at the two morning services of the First Methodist Church. Special music for the 8:30 a.m. service will be the anthem, "O Saviour, Hear Me," by Gluck sung by Betty Lou McWilliams, soloist. The Summer Choir will sing the anthem, "All Thy Works Praise Thee" by Lockwood for the 10:55 service.

Sunday Evening Fellowship will be held at 6 p.m. with a light supper for the entire family in Fellowship Hall. At 6:30 p.m. children, youth, and adults will separate for one hour of planned activities according to interest and needs. The Adult Bible Study will be continued in the Friendship Classroom.

The First Methodist Church will participate in The Pampa Revival to be held at Harvester Stadium, Sunday, Evening 8 p.m.

'Mind', Science Church Subject

Brotherhood will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson - Sermon on "Mind."

Paul's exhortation to the Colossians (3) will be included in the Scriptural readings:

"Lie not one to another, seeing that yes have put off the old man with his deeds; And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him: Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "With one Father, even God, the whole family of man would be brethren; and with one Mind and that God, or good, the brotherhood of man would consist of Love and Truth and have unity of Principle and spiritual power which constitute divine Science" (pp. 469,470).

Gospel 'Voice' Plans For Worldwide Work

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Christian evangelism in Africa, the Middle East and Southern Asia is getting a powerful new electronic ally.

It is a radio station called "The Voice of the Gospel," now under construction in Ethiopia.

The station will have two 100,000-watt transmitters which will be among the most powerful in the world. It will be able to beam religious programs to an area in which there are more than one billion people, many of whom have never heard the Christian message.

Construction began in June, and the station is expected to go on the air by late 1962 or early 1963.

"The Voice of the Gospel" is a joint project of the Lutheran World Federation, the Near East Christian Council and the interdenominational U.S. Protestant agency known as "RAVEMCCO." The full name of the latter is the Radio, Visual Education and Mass Communication Committee of the Division of Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches.

Christians in the United States, Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and several countries of the Middle East have contributed funds for the station. Pledges of about 61,000,000 have already been received.

The main studios will be located in Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia, and the transmitters are being built on a site outside the city.

Additional studios also will be set up in Lebanon, Egypt, Kuwait, Iran, Turkey, Jordan, Aden, Tanganyika, South Africa, and Madagascar. Insofar as possible, programs to be beamed to a given area will be prepared in that area by people who know the local situation.

The station will broadcast in several different languages, like the voice of America.

The number of radio receiving sets in underdeveloped countries of Asia and Africa has been growing rapidly in recent years. Missionaries report that radios are now found even among tribes living deep in the African bush.

This huge potential radio audience is already being bombardd daily with propaganda broadcasts by various world governments, including Moscow radio. Islamic religious broadcasts are also being beamed to the area from Cairo Radio and other stations.

Baptist Student Union Planning Campus Retreat

ABILENE (Spl) — Around 150 Hardin-Simmons University students including Barbara Lunsford 426 Hill St., Pampa will return to the campus a few days early this fall to participate in the pre-school retreat of the Baptist Student Union.

A three-day program is planned for the group Sept. 8-10 at Lueders Baptist Encampment.

Featured speakers will be Dr. W. F. Hoard, director of the division of student work for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and Dr. Arthur Smith, professor of Bible in the Baptist chair at Texas A& M College.

Jim Pfafflin of LaCrosse, Wis., H-SU student who was a member of the Texas BSU choir that toured the Orient this summer on "Project Understanding," also will speak.

Miss Lunsford represented the Texas BSU as a summer mission worker and will describe her experiences.

The retreat will start at 2 p.m. to run through noon Sunday.

Revival Slated For Children

A Children's Revival will begin Monday, Aug. 21, and last through Aug. 25 at Revival Center Church, 1101 South Wells St. Services will begin each morning at 9:30

Mrs. James Cook of Pampa, experienced children's worker, will be in charge.

Ruby Burrow is pastor.

Leisure Time Declared Arch Foe Of Church

NEW YORK (UPI) — Leisure time has become the No. 1 enemy of churchgoing.

But the churches, instead of fighting leisure, are joining it.

Religion is moving to the people, wherever they may be on Sunday morning, instead of waiting for the people to come to it.

Some clergymen say this really is what Christianity is all about. Jesus did not sit in a church waiting to receive worshppers He moved out among the people, modern clergymen reason, so why shouldn't his 20th Century disciples do likewise?

At least one Protestant clergyman has a full - time job encouraging the mixing of religion and leisure. His parish is as big as all outdoors. He is the Rev. Warren Ost, director of the National Parks Ministry of the National council of churches.

Ost worked his way through seminary as a bellhop in a national park. He worried over the fact that the vacationists who flocked to the park had no place to worship on Sunday. Out of his concern for the vacationist has grown a program under which there are ministries in nearly 40 national parks.

The first year. 1952, there were 32 seminary students assigned to parks. This year, there are more than 150. They work during the week in resort hotels and restaurants as bellhops, dishwashers or waiters. On Sunday, they conduct religious services, usually out-of-doors. In their spare time during the week, they organize discussion groups or devotonalsi.

"This is America's worker-priest movement," Ost said in an interview.

"We hope it will become a spearhead for church programming for leisure America. churches must go to the people. This is a springboard. We hope to go into resort and recreation areas, in addition to parks, and to areas surrounding major cities — the weekend communities.

"You don't need a church building or a church organization for worship. You don't even need ordained clergymen for recreational worship. Laymen, young or old, can conduct such services."

The "Christian Ministry in the National Parks" program maintains resident year-around pastors in Grand Canyon, Sequoia, Yellowstone and Yosemite National Parks and a Winter ski chaplaincy in Sequoia Park. Year-round student interns serve in Mount Hood National Forest, in Oregon; the Virgin Islands National Park and Zion National Park, Utah. Mount Hood has a winter ski chaplaincy.

Death valley National Mounument in California and the Everglades National Park in Florida have winter interns.

Most of the major parks have summer programs only.

The ski chaplaincy is one of the more recent developments. A layman has served as ski chaplain at Snow Ridge, in Lyons Falls, N. Y., for the last six years. Worshippers stand on skiis and sing to the accompaniment of an outdoor organ.

This program has been so successful that two other ski chaplaincies are planned for California parks next winter.

Ost and other National Council officials have suggested to state councils that they recruit chaplains for other recreational areas that draw large numbers of people on Sundays.

"There is real concern on the part of the churches," he said, "that the Protestant church is losing the battle against leisure.

"The image of the Protestant church is cast in the light of the old-fashioned rural economy. It is based on the fact that Sunday service used to be at 11 a.m. That resulted from the fact that services were held at the hour when the horses pulled the farmer's buckboard up in front of the church. It all depended on how long it took farmers to get into town from the farm."

That situation no longer exists Today, city dwellers rush to the countryside on Sunday, leaving the church behind.

"The church ought to get smart," Ost said. "One of the great crises of American life is the lack of creative use of leisure. You can tell more about the dissolution of dead civilizations by what they did with their leisure than with their work."

World Council Starts Work On Church Edifice

GENEVA — Some 300 leaders of the ecumenical movement, local civic and church dignitaries and guests met in Geneva last week for the ground-breaking ceremony for the new headquarters building of the World Council of Churches.

Gathered in the shade of a large blue and white striped tent under sunny Geneva skies, the assemblage saw World Council co-president, Protestant Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, Boxford, Mass. (USA), turn over the first symbolic spadeful of earth on the exact site of the chapel in the new building. Construction will begin immediately on the $2,500,000 (Sw. Fr. 10,700,000) structure, expected to be ready for ocupancy in mid-1963.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, New York, Committee chairman, who presided, described the groundbreaking as both "a culmination and a beginning. What is being done today holds the promise of a better future", he declared. "We enter into that future with confidence that the work ahead will be in accordance with the will of God."

Bishop Sherrill, chairman of the international committee which has raised funds for the building, described it as "a great tribute to the growth of the activities of the World Council" which, he said, "at one time could have been contained under the hat of (General Secretary) Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft. Today" he added, "we have come to the point where new accommodations are required".

Bishop Sherrill took issue in his brief talk with "those who say it is not spiritual to build a building. "This seems to me clear nonsense" he declared. "It is not spiritual to use inadequate quarters when we can do so much more adequate work if we have the tools with which to labour."

Dr. W.A. Visser 't Hooft, WCC general secretary, said the building is required because of "an ecumenical population explosion", but that in planning the structure it had been hoped to keep something of the "family atmosphere" of present headquarters.

The new building will contain 250 offices housing, in addition to WCC staff, the staffs of the Geneva offices of the Lutheran World Federation, the World Presbyterian Alliance, the Brethren Service Commission and other WCC-related bodies, which at present total 280. WCC headquarters at present are located in converted chalets with overflow offices in four wooden barracks.

Funds for the building have been raised by member churches and through special appeals in several countries. Of the 2,500,000 total required, $2,200,0 is0 "completelv0 assured" according to WCC officials.

Plans for the chapel in the new building were approved by the WCC's Executive Committee meeting last week. The chapel will provide permanent seating for 180 persons, with a potential capacity for 400 persons. It will be of rectangular shape, two storeys high, and will be located on the ground floor as an integral part of the main block which will also house the entrance hall, exhibit area and conference rooms. Blueprints call for the altar and cross to be placed before a background design of tinted and stained glass which will be masked from the light of the sun by grill work on the outside wall. A similar grill work in the opposite side will create a unity in the design. Seats will face the altar from three sides.

Missionettes Hold Meeting

The Junior Missionettes of the First Assembly of God Church met Wednesday in the church fellowship hall to discuss the meeting time during the school year.

The church group decided to meet on Thursday afternoon of each week at 4:15 p.m. in the First Assembly church.

Diplomats Face Difficult Tests In Berlin Tiff

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The whole area of conflict between East and West has its bull's eye in Berlin. The asperations and exasperations of the two worlds are pin-pointed there. In the following dispatch, the chief diplomatic correspondent of United Press International probes the hard choices facing both sides in a crisis that could explode into a frightful war, or perhaps become a turning point to peace.

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Will the Berlin crisis lead to gunfire along the Allied access routes to the Red-encircled city — and nuclear war? Or can the diplomats find a formula to keep the uneasy peace in Western Europe?

This is the big question which hangs over Allied and Communist capitals alike as East and West maneuver for military and diplomatic leverage.

Most experienced Western officials believe the crisis will be fought out at the conference table and not on the battlefield — barring the always possible "miscalculation" or accident. But they cannot yet foresee clearly the course of the negotiations or the outline of the solution.

American officials are convinced that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev does not want a nuclear war over Berlin. However, they expect him to rattle his rockets and missiles right up to the brink in an effort to wring as many "concessions" as possible from the West.

While preparing for possible military conflict, President Kennedy and other Western leaders are exploring all avenues which might lead to a peaceful solution.

There are three more or less parallel thrusts in the President's effort to de-fuse the explosive issue:

—Build up U.S. military manpower and non-nuclear fighting equipment to convince Khrushchev "of our determination and ability to defend our rights" in West Berlin "with whatever levels of force are required."

—Rally the NATO allies, particularly Britain, France and West Germany, to similar steps to strengthen the entire Western front.

—Seize the diplomatic initiative with positive proposals for settling the Berlin and German issues without abdicating Allied rights.

The first step — despite its demand for sacrifices from the American people — is the easiest to accomplish. Congress and the public have shown that they fully support Kennedy's proposed measures to bolster the nation's military might and make it more flexible.

The second step, involving allies, is more difficult. Britain, just undertaking a new austerity program, is reluctant to make additional financial commitments. France, beset by new troubles in Tunisia and the same old trouble in Algeria, is an uncertain quantity. The West Germans, although ready to commit more manpower, are preoccupied with September elections and awaiting their outcome before undertaking more decisive steps.

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH
1200 DUNCAN MO 4-2774

Rom. 8,28: Of the many baffling things of this world, there stands out very prominently this one: Why must children of God pass through periods of suffering and sorrow? We know this to be true: We must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God. Such has been the lot of the children of God in all generations. Job of old, when he lost all his earthly possessions, family, even health, became fully aware of this fact. The apostle says to the Hebrews: "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth, and so scourges every son whom He receiveth . . . If we endure not chastisements, we are bastards and not sons". The children of God in this present age are no exception to this rule. When we pass through the throes of sorrow and adversity, – can we honestly say: I know that all things must work to the good of them that love God? When the storms of adversity have swept over our lives and our fondest hopes and cherished treasuries lie shattered at our feet, it is so easy to regard our lives a chaotic mass of unrelated materials, a heap of debris' without plan or purpose, thrown into the world by an unsympathetic and cruel deity. But this is not the case. God, our God, in Christ Jesus, has all things in hand and He rules all things. Now He says: "All things work together for good to them that love God". Only YOU can destroy this plan of God, no other human being, not even the devils in hell. What a relief to know that God is interested in me, knows what is happening to me, and will turn these things to be of the best interest to me even though at present it seems otherwise. God who spared not His own Son while we were yet sinners and therefore His enemies, how much more will He be interested in His believers since they are redeemed and are His property?

Packers To Meet Cards

By United Press International

The Green Bay Packers, unlimbering their muscles for the defense of their Western Division title in the National Football League, meet the Cardinals at St. Louis tonight in their second exhibition game.

The Packers looked mighty impressive in their exhibition opener last Friday night when they walloped the Dallas Cowboys, 30-7, at Dallas. The Cardinals also won their first tuneup, downing the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League, 36-7.

Paul Hornung, the Packers star halfback, hopes to start against the Cardinals. The ex-Notre Dame great has been hampered by a leg injury but said he felt "pretty good" after Thursday's workout.

Another NFL exhibition tonight will match the new Minnesota Vikings against the Baltimore Colts at Baltimore.

The San Diego Chargers and Houston Oilers of the American Football League meet at Honolulu tonight, while the Buffalo Bills entertain the Dallas Texans in another AFL exhibition.

The Washington Redskins will meet the Chicago Bears at Charleston, S.C., and the Los Angeles Rams will entertain the New York Giants in NFL exhibitions Saturday night. The AFL games Saturday night will pit the New York Titans against the Boston Patriots at Philadelphia and the Denver Broncos against the Oakland Raiders at Spokane, Wash.

The San Francisco Forty-niners will host the Cleveland Browns in Sunday's lone exhibition.

U.S. Tennis Aces To Meet Mexico

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Chuck McKinley, a battling teenager from St. Louis, today opened America's bid to win the American Zone Davis Cup finals from a strong Mexican squad.

The 19-year-old McKinley will open festivities when he clashes with youthful Rafael Osuna, a 22-year-old junior studying at the University of Southern California.

"It will be a tough road," Dave Freed, captain of the U.S. Davis Cuppers, said, "but I expect our boys will win.

"I'll be very happy if we repeat the 3-2 win we posted over Mexico a year ago."

"I am confident of winning," said Francisco Contreras, captain of the Mexican team. "The team is composed of good, sound and experienced players who will not be greatly affected by the pressure."

Contreras also agreed that the final outcome "will be very close."

Competing in the second match will be a couple of veterans — Bernard (Tut) Bartzan, a southpaw from Dallas, Tex., and Mario Llamas, both 33.

"Llamas has looked great during our practice here," Contreras said. "He has been playing extremely well and is in tip-top condition."

The doubles match will be held Saturday and the two concluding singles matches Sunday.

Tulsa Gains On Gold Sox

By United Press International

Tulsa beat Ardmore, 5-2, last night to edge within four games of first-place Amarillo in the Texas League.

San Antonio whipped Amarillo, 8-5, Austin and Victoria split a doubleheader in the other league games. Austin won the first contest, 4-3, and Victoria copped the second tilt, 7-3.

The Oilers jumped to a quick two-run lead, and added single tallies in the three innings.

A big five-run sixth-inning by San Antonio swamped Amarillo.

A solo homer by Juan Guzman in the sixth inning provided a 4-3 margin for Austin in its first game with Victoria. Clark Johnson was the whole show for Victoria in the nightcap. He allowed the Senators only four hits.

Ardmore played at Amarillo tonight, Austin at Tulsa, and San Antonio was at Victoria for a twinbill.

Mick And Roger Held Homerless

By United Press International

Everything keeps coming up roses for the New York Yankees, while the poor Philadelphia Phillies must be wondering if the sun ever will shine on them again.

Wednesday, the Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox on a hit batsman with the bases full in the ninth. Thursday, they gained a 5-3 victory over the White Sox on errors by the usually reliable Luis Aparicio and Minnie Minoso plus a dropped fly ball by Jim Landis.

The Phillies bowed to the Milwaukee Braves, 7-6, in 11 innings Thursday night to tie the modern major league record of 20 straight losses. The Boston Red Sox of 1906 lost 20 in a row and the Philadelphia A's matched them in 1916 and again in 1943.

By winning, the Yankees, who didn't need any help from Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, widened their American League lead to four games over the second-place Detroit Tigers, who lost, 3-1, to the Baltimore Orioles.

Lefty Frank Baumann did a good job of stopping both Mantle and Maris, although Mickey was given a run-scoring, first inning triple when Landis caught up to his long drive in centerfield but dropped it just before banging into the wall. But Baumann's pitching went down the drain when his teammates committed mayhem behind him.

A boot by shortstop Aparicio and a throwing error by left fielder Minoso, plus one of Bobby Richardson's three singles and a wrong field double by Tony Kubek in the fourth upped the Yankees' lead to 4-0 and they scored their final run two innings later on two singles and an infield out.

The White Sox erupted for all of their runs in the ninth, chasing Bill Stafford, but reliever Luis Arroyo finally nailed down the final out after a shaky start to preserve Stafford's 10th victory.

The Phillies held the lead twice, at 3-2 in the second inning and at 6-4 in the seventh, only to see the Braves tie it up in the eighth on a walk to Henry Aaaron and Joe Adcock's 25th home run.

"I don't know what to do about it," said a dejected Gene Mauch about his team's losing streak. "There have been only one or two guys in this spot in the whole history of the game."

In other NL games, the St. Louis Cardinals beat the San Francisco Giants, 2-0, on Larry Jackson's three-hitter and the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates split a doubleheader, the Cubs winning the opener, 11-4, with Ernie Banks hitting a pair of homers and a double, and the Pirates taking the nightcap, 4-3, on Roberto Clemente's eighth inning single.

Mike Fornieles walked in the winning run in the 14th inning to give the Cleveland Indians a 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators turned two of Los Angeles' three errors into a pair of unearned runs to beat the Angels, 4-3, in other AL games.

Whitey Herzog hit a two-run homer in the first inning and his seventh-inning single drove in Baltimore's third run as Detroit starter Paul Foytack went down to his eighth defeat against seven wins. Jack Fisher gave up only five hits as he gained his sixth victory against 11 defeats. Mike Roarke's second inning homer was the only hard blow Fisher gave up.

Monterrey Wins In Colt Series

ABILENE (UPI) —Joliet, Ill., the only undefeated team in the Colt Baseball League world series, rested today while Rancho of San Gabriel, Calif., and Monterrey, Mexico, clashed to see which will face Joliet in the final Saturday night.

Joliet overpowered Rancho 14-6 Thursday night with centerfielder Lou Gale leading the attack. Monterrey overcame a five-run deficit to beat Charlotte, N.C, 7-6 and eliminate Charlotte from the series.

If Joliet wins Saturday night, it is all over. Should Joliet lose, then another game will be played Sunday to decide the champion. It is a double-elimination tournament.

Gale slugged a homer, double and single to drive in four runs for Joliet. Third baseman Bill Sudakis and left fielder Pete Fulton hit two-run homers for Joliet and Dale Spier, the winning pitcher, clouted a solo blast.

Dennis Murphy hit a two-run homer and pitcher Don Rice hit a three-run homer for Rancho.

Richard Tevino hit a three-run homer for Monterey in the third inning to spark a five-run rally.

CAN HE HOLD IT? — The Mighty Babe's home run mark has withstood many sluggers since 1927 but Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle are making the best assault on the mark since 1938 when Hank Greenberg hit 58 round-trippers.

Open Lead To Casper

SILVER SPRING, Md. (UPI) — Hot-putting Billy Casper, who hasn't won a major tournament since last October, may be a tough man to catch in the $35,000 Carling Open.

The former U. S. Open champion from Apple Valley, Calif, fired a course record 66 in the opening round Thursday to open a two-stroke lead over a strong field of shotmakers.

Mason Rudolph of Clarkeville, Tenn., and Tomy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., had identical scores of 33-35—68 to share second place.

Babe's Wife Hopes His Mark Stands

NEW YORK (UPI) —The day Roger Maris or Mickey Mantle breaks Babe Ruth's record, one of them also will break a lady's heart.

"I hope the Babe's record stands," his widow said today, with an unmistakable catch in her throat. "But no matter what happens, it always will with me."

Mrs. Ruth, of course, is aware that Maris, with 48 homers, is 15 games ahead of her late husband's all-time record pace and that Mantle, with 45 homers, is 13 games in front.

She isn't the least bit coy about admitting the she follows the daily progress of the two current New York Yankee sluggers.

"I read every word of it in the newspapers," she said.

"It would be difficult to describe how I'd feel if someone ever broke the Babe's record," she added slowly. "I guess everyone might imagine how I'd feel. But even if one of those boys should hit more than 60 home runs, that wouldn't take anything away from Babe, would it?"

Unlike practically all other baseball fans in the nation, Mrs. Ruth is not venturing any predictions on whether the record will be broken this year.

If the Babe, himself, were still around, he undoubtedly would be leading the cheers for both Maris and Mantle.

"You know how the Babe was," Mrs. Ruth said. "He was jealous of no one."

El Campo Squad In Little League Regional Finals

NORFOLK (UPI)— El Campo, Tex., will rest today before squaring off Saturday with Charlotte, N.C., in the Little League Southern Region finals. The winner will represent the South next week at Williamsport, Pa., when eight teams compete for the world Little League title.

El Campo defeated Lake Charles, La., 4-1 Thursday night to advance to the finals.

Browns Seeking NFL Grid Championship

By United Press International

HIRAM, Ohio (UPI) — The Cleveland Browns appear to be on the brink of another golden title-winning era in the National Football League.

Not since 1957 have the Browns been able to win an Eastern Division crown. And the last time they won a league title came two years earlier when they defeated Los Angeles.

Coach Paul Brown, who is always cautious when it comes to taking a peek into the crystal ball, even shows some optimism these days.

"We have the makings of a good one. It can be a humdinger," was the way he felt when the team opened its training camp here.

Fullback Jim Brown, the league's biggest ground-gainer with a total of 5,055 yards in four seasons, also thinks the Browns are in for a good year.

"This should be the best team we've had since I've been here," Brown said. "With the experience gained last season, the young defensive backfield really should be something."

The Browns, who wound up in the runnerup spot behind Philadelphia last year, had the best defensive backfield unit in the division. The youthful foursome of Bobby Franklin, Bernie Parrish, Jim Shofner and Don Flemming helped hold the opposition to 217 points, god for an 18.8 per game average.

To augment the stingy defense will be the high-scoring offensive unit which last year tallied 362 points, tops in the league.

Comprising this awesome scoring machine are fullback Brown, halfback Bobby Mitchell, 10-year veteran Ray Renfro and quarterback Milt Plum.

"He was much faster in setting up to throw a pass and he was much faster in team sprints," said coach Brown as he described Plum following the end of the annual quarterback school.

"Think of what this could mean on the quick ones and diagonals. You know once we get receivers set up with the ability of Dante Lavelli and Mac Speedie, Plum could show us a few things Otto Graham once did."

The Browns have plenty of talent in the receiving department, including four top-notch rookies. The newcomers are Bob Crespino, Charlie Ferguson, Dick Lage and Jim Martin.

Lou (The Toe) Groza, who was on the sidelines a year ago, has come out of retirement. He will once again be the place-kicker and the extra offensive tackle.

MOSCOW (UPI) — The international Modern Pentathlon Federation announced Thursday the 1962 world championships will be held in Mexico City and the 1963 meet in Fontainbleau, France. The 1961 games open tonight at the Leningrad Stadium with 15 nations competing in the five-day program.

Unions Vs. Everybody

Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee posed a neat pair of questions on union rights the other day, and got an evasive answer from a union official.

The senator was probing the slowdowns and shutdowns which threaten our defense and our position in the space race. The witness was Charles Tebbe, business agent of Local 259 of the Pipefitter sat at Daytona Beach, Fla., whose members work sporadically on missiles at Cape Canerval.

Mr. Tebbe testified that the union brothers usually just walked off the job when a non-union worker appeared on the scene, "on their own initiative."

He said this was in accord with unions' "right not to work with non-union people."

"How would you feel if the government took the position that hereafter nobody works on this base if he is a union member? Would you feel that was fair?" Sen. MrClelan asked.

"No, sir," said Mr. Tebbe.

"But you want to operate the other way, don't you?" asked the Senator.

Mr. Tebbe didn't think it was all right to slow down the missile job, but didn't comment on the larger question.

He has made it plain, though, that by and large he doesn't believe anyone has a right to a job unless he sports a union button and pays dues to union bosses, and that unions have a right to deny all other people employment.

Maturity

Time may add wrinkles to the brow. But if it also increases your sagacity, it is not so dreadful a foe as some imagine.

Energy In Groups

The nature of man is such that he always controls his own energy.

He always controls it in relation to his own ideas as to what is good for himself.

He may be mistaken as to what is good, but he will nonetheless always control his energy in this way. What seems to him to be good, will be the signal for the release of his energy in the attainment of that which seems good to him.

But man is not a generator of limitless energy. One person has very little energy at any given time. Human energy is scarce, fluctuating and of great value. But the enemies of man are numerous and powerful and can readily overwhelm him unless enough human energy is marshalled on his own behalf.

This is the great human dilemma. To get enough to eat and to wear; to live in comfort and to obtain some of the things we all want out of life, enormous quantities of human energy are necessary. No one man has enough energy. How does one man go about getting what he wants in the way of good, when his own energy is so weak and inadequate?

Men have learned that human energy can be combined by uniting with others of their own kind. But the problem immediately arises. Who is to control the energy of men acting in groups?

Only two ways have been discovered by means of which united human energy can be controlled. One of these ways is in the market place. The other of these ways is in the political arena leading to government.

When men rely upon the market place for the combination and control of great quantities of human energy, they always rely upon the VOLUNTARY choice of other men. They rely upon man's willingness to practice self-control and self-mastery and to unite with others in anticipation of gain. Every exchange in the market place occurs because each man who enters the market place with his energy or his energy products, does so in anticipation of getting something back which is more valuable to him.

The market place has been so successful that by means of it man has obtained his food, clothing, shelter, comforts and benefits for thousands of years.

The market place is perfect even tho men are not. And in the market place, imperfect men vie with one another toward the perfection of exchange, and do not rely upon coercion. Any coercion in the market place impairs its function. Further, any coercion in the market place limits the ability of each man to derive the satisfactions from the market he otherwise may obtain.

But there are some men who do not believe in the market place. They are uninformed as to the nature of men and believe that men cannot be trusted to work inevitably toward their own improvement. Rather, they believe that men will work for the undoing of others. And hence they turn to the political arena as a way to FORCE others to join into groups so that they can obtain what they want.

They believe that men are so stupid that incentives and profits are not enough motivation. Rather, they believe that motivation must be provided with a whip or a club. Men will only work, they opine, under the threat of punishment. Political action is the proper arena for such as these.

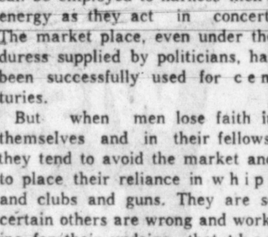
The facts reveal that either the market place or the political arena can be employed to harness men's energy as they act in concert. The market place, even under the duress supplied by politicians, has been successfully used for centuries.

But when men lose faith in themselves and in their fellows, they tend to avoid the market and to place their reliance in whips and clubs and guns. They are so certain others are wrong and working for their undoing, that they unite in an agency of force to compel others to work as they see fit, thereby providing for the undoing of their fellows.

And in the end, since political action is always a two-way street, the very device they employ to harness others, becomes the chains of their own harness as others unite to constrain and control them.

Groups of persons in nations who rely on the market and disdain to use political action, almost invariably enjoy a rising standard of living, beauty, comfort, civilization. Groups which rely upon political action end by creating a static world, sans beauty, sans comfort and finally sans life itself.

matter of Fact



"A woman without ability is normal" goes an ancient Chinese proverb. In fact, until recent times, everybody "knew" that women were naturally inferior. Aristotle saw women as "less complete" than men. The Hindus were even more skeptical. They considered among woman's natural faults "infidelity, violence, deceit, envy, extreme avarice, and a total want of good qualities." Despite all this scornful talk, men have always married these worthless creatures.

The American Way

By MAURICE R. FRANKS

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENTS

In the June issue of Partners, the Magazine of Labor and Management, of which publication it is my great privilege to be editor, I paraphrased Thomas Jefferson's "Declaration of Independence," into terms that apply to modern labor unionism — calling it the "Declaration of Independents."

This issue of Partners went to its readers just prior to July 4, which marked the 185th anniversary of America's independence. I urged all to make that holiday one of solemn re-dedication; to review the Declaration of Independence, that historic document embodying the ideals of the American Revolution and which today should reflect the ideals of every segment of our present society.

And particularly, I pointed out that our labor union leaders would profit by devoting themselves on Independence Day to a line - by-line study of that sacred document. In doing so, they would surely perceive how far astray from its principles they have piloted the American labor movement. Also, they might come to understand the dangers connected with stifling the inalienable rights of man and ignoring the basic claims of human dignity. As they studied the charges and meditated upon the arrogant stupidity of the British Crown, prior to 1776, they might be led to draw a parallel and apply the lesson to themselves.

If conscience alone is insufficient to inspire all leaders of organized labor to audit the books of their thinking and adjust their future performance to the just demands of their people, a hard cold look at the facts that presently challenge their stewardship should impel them in this direction.

They have an obligation — not only to the union memberships they are ethically bound to respect and serve — but in equal measure to the labor movement as a much-needed instrument of economic and social justice. For that matter, they owe it no less to themselves to reform their professional performance, remembering that had the King of England been more fully aware of the minds of his American colonists and so had been better prepared to adjust colonial government to the will of the colonists, there would have been no American Revolution; no need for a Declaration of Independence.

The "Spirit of '76" may not yet be in full flame in the ranks of organized labor, but day by day its flickers are gaining strength. Union workers in organization after organization are getting sick and tired of union officials who have set up a tyrannical hierarchy. Union members are fed up with being treated like mere pawns on a chess board. They resent, as did the founders of this republic, the principle of taxation. They despise the idea of government by international union officers when such government rudely tramples on local dignity.

They resent the crushing impacts of union dictatorship, whether by racketeer or radical. They repudiate the whole idea of such administration of union affairs as consistently reflects a spirit of arrogant irresponsibilty — and often as not of downright stupidity and incompetence. Union members everywhere today are sorely at odds with all the faithless skullduggery which publicly identifies vast segments of union leadership.

A spirit of rebellion and a thirst for independence are gnawing at the grassroots of the labor movement. Unless this fact is recognized and respected, the day may come all too soon when the situation will blow up in the faces of the men who have undertaken to run the unions as a private dominion. The groundwork is being laid for an independent labor movement — as completely divorced from the unaffiliated empires of Messrs. Hoffa, Bridges, et al, as from the already shaky merger of the AFL and CIO.

Independence, if and when it comes, will reject all forms of unionistic tyranny, all forms of personal, hierarchal, or anti-American dictatorship, all forms of unionism that betray the rights of man and downgrade human dignity.

For their own professional survival — as well as for the greater health of the American labor movement, if they didn't do it prior to the Glorious Fourth, let every union officer re-read the Declaration of Indpendence. Let them analyze the spirit of legitimate resentment which provided the ink for that document.

Unless the leaders of modern unionism wake up to the facts of union life and face their responsibilities with a lot more conscience than Great Britain's George III faced his — the end of the line is in sight for them.

Unless the House of Labor gets hep to the real problems confronting it and really starts cleaning up its premises from within, the day is not far off when millions of righteous American working people will fling into the teeth of today's union autocracy a new Declaration of Independents.

Renew 60-Year-Old Feud For Control Of U.S. Rivers

By PETER EDISON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Department of Interior's Bureau of Reclamation and Army Corps of Engineers are water fighting again.

Hearings of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works, recently made public, show that in 25 different river developments in the West, the two agencies are in conflict over water conservation surveys and project planning.

While this competition may give Congress a choice between two plans for river development, duplication of effort and expense result, and there is no central authority.

This is one of the oldest unsettled bureaucratic feuds in Washington. It has been the subject of 20 investigations in the last 50 years.

Water policy has been "settled" many times by agreements on division of responsibility between the two agencies. There is broad cooperation in that Department of Interior markets the power generated at Army - built dams. In general, Bureau of Reclamation does upstream development, Corps of Engineers does downstream work.

Army Engineers got into this through the old War Department authority over all navigable streams. This was later broadened to include harbor development and flood control.

Bureau of Reclamation was not created until 1902 and its activities are limited to 17 western states and Alaska.

But after the great floods of 1927 and 1928 Congress authorized Corps of Engineers to make comprehensive basin surveys of all major streams in the nation. That lets them operate in the 17 western reclamation states and Alaska as well.

Latest resumption of the water feudin', fussin' and fightin' is over Alaskan surveys. Both agencies were authorized by Congress to make studies in 1949, and both immediately began investigations of the entire territory.

The bureau has completed construction of one hydroelectric plant and has recommended two others. Army engineers have completed a report on one completely different project and is investigating two others.

One of the basic reasons for the continuing rivalry is that the two agencies get their authority from different congressional committees.

Corps of Engineers is responsible to Public Works Committees of Senate and House. Bureau of Reclamation is responsible to Interior Committee of Senate and House. The only place their differences can be reconciled is in Appropriations Committees when they come up for money.

Where a clear division of responsibiliy is laid down there is relative peace. The entire Colorado River development, for instance, is Bureau of Reclamation's job.

On the Missouri River, by the compromise Pick - Sloan plan of 1946, Corps of Engineers builds all main stream works, including power and water storage for irrigation. Bureau of Reclamation markets the power and distributes the water.

But Corps of Enginers has now requested money for a power survey project above Fort Peck Dam in Montana. Bureau of Reclamation considers this its territory, upstream.

In California all Central Valley projects have to be correlated with Bureau of Reclamation's Shasta and Friant dams as the primary projects. But this has brought conflict with Corps of Engineers over operation of 11 tributary stream flood control dams authorized by Congress, eight of which are completed.

On the Snake River, a tributary of the Columbia in the northwest where Bureau of Reclamation has had major responsibility since 1906, Corps of Engineers is making surveys in Teton Basin in Idaho and Umpuqua River in Oregon at a cost of $200,000 while Bureau of Reclamation is engageed in an $824,000 survey, of which $240,000 has been spent.

There are similar conflicts of interest in the Red River Valley, the Rio Grande and Gulf river basin of Texas.

The Eisenhower administration wrestled with this problem for five years, then in 1959 came up with what was reported to be an agreeties.

But last year, Budget Bureau had to act as middleman in trying to resolve resumed bureaucratic rivalry. This year, the Kennedy administration's Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall and Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr. are at it again.

The Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 300 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be signed.

Dear Editor:

While reading the enclosed article it occurred to me that you might like to run it in the paper. Most of us can afford new clothes for our children at the start of school.

Some children in this area are probably not able to get new clothes. If you have never been in that predicament you cannot know the embarrassment of having a pair of pants or a dress that is patched.

The article directed to church members, reads:

"A practical missionary activity could be suggested as you think about the coming month. School will be starting and parents will have the task of finding clothes for the schoolage children. This is a big job when they can afford it, but heartbreaking when they do not have the financial resources. Perhaps your members could locate good clean clothes which their children may have outgrown. They could bring them to the church and deposit them in a large box. Try mounting a cutout picture or model school building on the corner of the box. A label on the box could read, Sharing in Back to School.

"At the end of the month the box could be delivered to a mission of your church in an underprivileged area or to a good will center."

Yours truly,
A. B. Reed

Project Started On Sabine River

CENTER, Tex. (UPI)—The $60 million Toledo Bend Reservoir on the Sabine River is officially underway and Claud Kirkpatrick of Baton Rouge, La., is at the head of it.

Kirkpatrick was named chairman Wednesday at the first official meeting of the Toledo Bend Executive Committee, the group which will steer construction of the dam and lake to benefit both East Texas and Louisiana.

The lake formed by the dam will stretch about 60 miles north to Logansport, La.

Kirkpatrick is also chairman of the Sabine River Authority of Louisiana.

He called the committee meeting a "historic occasion" for both states. The committee authorized Forrest h Cotton of Dallas and the Louisiana Department of Public Works, engineers for the project, to begin immediately the preparation of final plans and specifications.

Kirkpatrick said field work under the direction of the two engineering groups will start as soon as rights of entry can be obtained from property owners at the damsite.

The dam itself will be located in the extreme northeast corner of Newton County, Tex.

Other Texans elected to the committee are D. N. Beasley of San Augustine, vice chairman, who is also president of the Sabine River Authority in Texas; Guy Cowser of Center, secretary of the Texas authority, named assistant secretary of the committee, Gene Meek of Newton and John H. Minton of Hemphill.

Foreign Commentary

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

PARIS (UPI) — If there's one Western leader who can be counted on to play it tough in the Berlin crisis it's President Charles de Gaulle of France.

When U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on De Gaulle after the Paris foreign ministers' talks 10 days ago he found him in no mood to knuckle under to Nikita Khrushchev.

De Gaulle has taken the line that the West should in no circumstances make the first move to negotiate with Khrushchev on Berlin.

The Allies are in Berlin by right of international agreements with the Russians, he argued, and an offer to negotiate would merely be taken as a sign of weakness.

In any case, according to De Gaulle's reasoning, negotiation could not improve the Western position in Berlin and might very seriously weaken it.

The clanking down of the Iron Curtain through the heart of Berlin on Sunday merely firmed up De Gaulle's determination to give nothing away.

Whether France has the strength to back up his tough stand, of course, is a question.

Right now France has only two divisions committed to NATO. The flower of her army still is tied up in Algeria.

France is embroiled with Tunisia in a dispute over her big atom-proof naval base at Bizerte and another punishing U.N. General Assembly debate on the conflict is set for next week.

At home there have been repeated threats of a new 'putsch' attempt by extreme rightists to oust De Gaulle.

French Police are powerless to stop the rash of "plastic bomb" explosions nightly in Paris and other French cities.

French farmers are seething with revolt.

But De Gaulle is not a man to be deterred easily by troubles or apparent long odds against him.

Bucking the Berlin crisis at the age of 70, De Gaulle shows no signs of losing any of the obstinate cussedness for which he is famous.

France Planning Defense Buildup

PARIS (UPI) — France has announced it boosting its defense preparations to meet the mounting Berlin crisis.

President Charles de Gaulle interrupted his mid - August vacation to discuss Berlin with the national defense committee.

Afterward, an official communique said France is stepping up its army and air force strength both in West Germany and at home.

"Various decisions were taken concerning the reinforcing of ground and air defense both in Germany and in the national territory," the announcement said. "These decisions will be announced when they have been carried out. They were made necessary by the state of tension resulting from the moves already undertaken in East Berlin and those that might occur in the future."

France recently brought back a full division of crack troops from battle-torn Algeria and was reported planning to bring back a second one. The division has not been turned over to North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

States Big Spenders

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State governments spent more than $31.5 billion in fiscal 1960 according to the Bureau of the Census.

Market Actions Indicate Doubt Of Shooting War

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market appears to be saying that informed opinion believes there will be no serious military conflict and that eventually the Berlin situation will be settled by negotiation, according to Goodbody & Co.

Barring a shooting war, Goodbody sees nothing to indicate a major reaction, perhaps a sharp drop if the Berlin crisis becomes more critical.

The firm detects no sign of selling pressure in the last two weeks but says the market may consolidate its position until ign of ssa Berlin settlement appear and a fall pickup in business is evident.

Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. expects that the market technically will be able to record more new highs before any kind of temporary fall correction is seen.

Bullish technical evidence is still scattered throughout the market list among different groups and price levels, so that the purchase and retention of carefully selected issues seems entirely justified, according to Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co.

Eldon Grimm of Walton & Co. is another analyst who believes that the market hasn't done too badly in the face of the worsening Berlin situation.

Hanging — Texas Style

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Public hangings in El Paso some 100 years ago weren't "official" until a notice was posted on the side of a big cottonwood tree in the settlement's market place.

Marriages, births and more normal deaths also were displayed on a plank nailed to the "Notice Tree" which served as the area's first news medium. Eventually the "Notice Tree" was replaced by newspapers, and rumor has it that the cottonwood was chopped into firewood. But today another tree stands in the same spot in Pioneer Plaza as a historic marker.

'Naming The Baby' Game Upsetting To Household

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—We have been playing a little game at our house called "naming the baby." I call it a game although it is more like an argument.

Any number can play, and occasionally do, but this is essentially a contest, or clash of wills.

In order to play, it is necessary for the participants to have deeply rooted, and sharply divided, opinions as to what constitutes a fitting name for an infant, sex as yet unknown.

Possibly because my parents tagged me with what is generally regarded as a nickname, I believe strongly in giving children distinguished, or distinctive or at least polysyllabic names.

Two To Admire

Two names that I have long admired belong to Outerbridge Horsey, a State Department employe, and Stringfellow Barr, a professor. In fact, I once resolved that if I ever had a son I would name him Outerbridge Stringfellow.

This philosophy of nomenclature conflicts, putting it mildly, with that held by my wife, who is a firm advocate of family names, or naming children for a relative.

Any relative, hers or mine, who has managed to stay out of the penitentiary is, in her view, worthy of this honor.

When our first daughter was born, we gave her a name that I thought was an acceptable compromise. But later my wife began claiming that she had been in a weakened condition and unable to bargain forcefully.

Negotiations over our second daughter bogged down completely. Finally, in desperation, we each picked out a name, unacceptable to the other, and put them down on the birth certificate.

Ever since, my wife has called the child by one name and I by another. This is confusing to the child and probably accounts for the fact that she falls down a lot.

Now, several months in advance of the anticipated event, we are at it again. We have even quit conversing and just spend our evenings hurling names at each other.

"Susan, Anne, Margaret, Elizabeth," my wife will say when I walk in the door.

"Desdemona, Lucretia, Eudoria, Fluvanna," I will retort.

The next night, we switch to boys' names.

Now and then, friends and neighbors will drop in to try to mediate the dispute, but both sides remain adamant — persevering on my part, obstinate on hers.

We will, I fear, wind up doing what some distant kinsmen of mine did in a similar situation. They finally agreed to go out for a drive and pick a name off the first billboard they passed.

As it happened, the first poster they saw was a "no smoking" sign, the last four letters of which had been torn off. And that is how a fourth cousin of mine got the name "Nosmo."

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Four women in one restaurant here have the middle name Mae — Verdie Mae McFadden, Edna Mae Mason, Doris Mae Hobbs and Bessie Mae Faust.

City 'House-cleaning'

VIDOR, Tex. (UPI) —The Vidor City Council began a long - range "house cleaning" program by ruling that hog pens hereafter will have to be 30 feet or more away from occupied homes in the city limits.

Nazarene Church Will Have Guest

Rev. Jimmy Bond who is now engaged in the Pampa Youth revival being held in the First Baptist Church, will preach in the Church of the Nazarene Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Every one is invited to attend the service. Mrs. Bond will also be present for the service. There will be special music offered by the choir and special singers of the church, A. T. Moore, pastor, announced.
