Tahoka Schools Final Exercises Tonight

School Dedicates Roll of Honor At Impressive Service

Tribute was paid all former students of the Tahoka school now in the armed forces of the United States last Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when the Ex-Students Service Honor Roll was dedicated in a program on the High School campus.

The roster of ex-students is mounted on a huge board, each name on a separate panel, the board being surrounded by an American eagle, the United States and Texas flags, and flanked by red, white and blue panels. The names are in black on a white background.

Several hundred townspeople and school children attended the program, presided over by Supt. W. T. Hanes, who explained that the board was erected by funds raised from the student body at a cost of nearly $200.00. He gave special credit to two teachers, Mrs. Deck Dunagan and Tom Seay, for their work in providing the board.

The roll is not complete, though there were about 200 named already on it, he said. Anyone knowing of names of students who have attended the Tahoka schools at any time who are now in the service of their country should notify Supt. Hanes, Principal Hope Haynes, Mrs. Dunagan or The News office.

Fitting tribute was paid those in the service by representatives of five classes, George Maurice Small, representing the seventh grade; Irvin Lehman, the Freshmen; Alice Roberts, the Sophomores; Mary Beth Fenton, the Juniors; and Joan (Cont'd. on page 3)

C. W. Blackburn Dies Suddenly

Claude William Blackburn, 53, was found dead in his bed Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Scott in South Tahoka, with whom he has been residing the past five years. It is believed that he died sometime between midnight and daylight.

Mr. Blackburn was employed at the Frazier Produce on the south side of the square and was at work and seemed to be well up to the time the business closed for the day just before nightfall Monday. Early in the night he had a light attack of heart trouble and a physician was summoned, who left the patient apparently better. It is believed that the fatal attack came after midnight.

Mr. Blackburn came to Tahoka from Oklahoma about five years ago. He had been employed by L. F. Frazier in the produce business for the past year and most of the preceding year as well as at intervals theretofore. He was a good worker and was highly respected by those who knew him.

Mr. Blackburn's wife died in Oklahoma on December 24, 1929. He leaves three sons surviving him, but all of them were far away at the time of his death. One is known to be in the armed forces at some point in the state of New York; one is in California, and the other is either in the Navy or Marines and Mr. Blackburn had not heard from him in several months.

He also left some brothers and sisters but their names and places of residence are not known here. Two brothers of his deceased wife, who reside at Olton came to Tahoka Tuesday upon being informed of his death. Tuesday night his body was shipped to Elmore, Oklahoma, where his aged mother lives, for burial. Friends here deeply deplore his sudden and unexpected death.

JOIN ENGINEERS

Malcom Lowe and Maurie Pendergrast, both of Tahoka, last week enlisted in the U. S. Corps of Engineers as skilled workers, according to the Amarillo News of May 7. They are scheduled for immediate service.

MAN OF MANY JOBS—Brig. Gen. Julian S. Hatcher, Chief of Ordnance Field Service, has many "irons in the fire." The Field Service supplies the bombs so the bombardier may call "Bombs away!" It furnishes tanks for the Armored Force, sends the soldier his gun, allots the trucks he rides in, and even the little jeep, that most favored of all Army vehicles, comes from depots under Gen. Hatcher's control.

TDG Signal Unit Is Given Praise

The communications detail of Co. F, Tahoka, 39th Bn., Texas Defense Guard has received commendation from Lt. Colonel George D. Thomas, Austin, "by direction of the Adjutant General," according to a letter to Capt. E. R. Edwards this week.

The commendation says, in part: "Details concerning complete communication between American Legion and drill ground and in studied here. It is desired to commend Pfc. B. T. Smith and Pvt. V. N. Townsend and to commend you for the initiative displayed. This is the type of initiative that will win the war for America."

Smith and Townsend, assisted by Privts. Cary May and Sam Stone, are the inventors of an ingenious code blinker system used for signal communications by the Tahoka company. A few weeks ago Major O. H. Eryant of the state department was here and viewed the operation of the system, and the commendation was made on his recommendation.

KAHL BUYS HOME

Walter Kahl, who has resided out in the Edith community east of town for several years, has bought the former Ben King home, now occupied by J. W. Goodell, and expects to move into it in the near future.

Tin Cans Needed In Nation's War Effort

Tin cans are needed for America's war effort and Lynn County's Salvage Committee, headed by J. K. Applewhite and Chester Connolly, joins the National Committee in calling on the people of this section to join in the campaign now.

"The copper situation in the United States has become very critical," Joseph B. McAdams, associate executive secretary, Texas Salvage committee, has written Mr. Applewhite. "Due to this acute situation in copper, the demand for tin cans to be used in the precipitation mining of copper has likewise become critical."

Good solid tin cans, one gallon size or smaller, are needed. No badly rusted or oxidized cans can be used, but it is urgent that all good, clean tin cans be gathered up, the paper labels torn off. The ends should be cut out and stuck inside the can, then the can should be mashed flat with the foot, rock, or other means.

A place has been provided for the can collection on the Santa Fe right-of-way just west of Carmack's gin in Tahoka.

Though the cans are worth $6.00 per ton, freight and handling eats up most of this. Therefore, the profits, if any, will be donated to the Lynn County Red Cross and USO funds.

Applewhite and Connolly urge all citizens to look about their places and pick up all tin cans not badly rusted or rusted and bring them to this salvage pile.

7th Grade Program Held Last Night

Last night, beginning at 8:30, the Seventh Grade exercises were held in the High School auditorium. The class consisted of 52 members.

Nancy Ray Weathers was salutatorian and George Maurice Small was valedictorian.

Two songs were rendered by the class and Mrs. Marcus Edwards played the processional and the recessional.

County Attorney Calloway Huffaker gave the class address and Wynne Collier, a member of the school board, presented the diplomas.

Miss Ovel Warren and Miss Erma Anglin are teachers of the Seventh Grade.

LT. UNFRED HERE

First Lieut. Joe D. Unfred of Indianopolis, Ind., who arrived May 4 for a ten-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Unfred, of Petty, left Wednesday for his base. While here he and his parents and other members of the family visited relatives at Key and at Dallas and Groesbeck.

Rain Is Timely Aid To Crop Planting

Soaking rains fell Sunday and Sunday night over most of West Texas, according to newspaper reports. All the counties of the South Plains were included in the moisture belt. The rains throughout the Panhandle and the entire Plains region were greatly needed. They came just at the right time for planting the cotton and the feed crops in Lynn and neighboring counties, and they came throughout the Panhandle section in time to save the wheat crop from complete failure from drought.

Wheat throughout the North Plains and Panhandle section had suffered severely and no bumper crop can be expected this year, but with other rains in sufficient amount at the opportune time a fair wheat crop may yet be harvested. Little wheat is grown in Lynn county, and that chiefly for grazing purposes.

But cotton and feed farmers in Lynn and neighboring counties were beginning to become jittery over the continued dry weather, as the usual planting time was here. The rain therefore came just in the nick of time for this section, and already farmers are busy planting or were busy Thursday, but there were prospect for more rain. Three Negroes Are Inducted Into Army

Three Lynn county Negro registrars were inducted into the armed forces last week, one into the Navy and two into the Army.

Louis O'rening, who had been working in Tahoka, is the man who chose the Navy. Saul Gordon, another Tahoka man who recently had been working in Lubbock, and Johnny B. Washington, who had moved from here to Hobbs, New Mexico, were inducted into the Army. They will do their part in hitting Hitler and slapping the Japs.

Cpl. Elmer H. Hillin, who is with an artillery unit at Boston, Mass., came Saturday night and he and Mrs. Hillin, the former Miss Bobbie Grayson, left Sunday for Rosebud, where they will visit his parents.

Mrs. R. H. Turner and her mother, Mrs. L. E. Waldrip, have returned home after an extended visit to Hamilton and Erath counties, where Mrs. Waldrip remained with other members of her family while Mrs. Turner enjoyed a visit with her daughter at Brownsville.

Congressman George Mahon

Mahon Calls Lewis Traitor To Nation

Washington, D. C., May 12—Congressman George Mahon, in condemning John L. Lewis and the coal strike recently, said that Lewis was guilty of treasonable conduct and should have been shown months ago that he is not greater than the U. S. Government. The people are aroused, and they have every right to be, he said.

In a speech in Congress Mahon said that Lewis had in effect repudiated our government and joined our enemies and that this latest act against the government by Lewis had fully vindicated all those who had been fighting for legislation to prevent strikes in war time and for a firmer policy by the President against our enemies within the U. S. Mahon and many other members from the South have been demanding for months that strikes be outlawed for the duration. The President had secured a pledge from Lewis and other national labor leaders that there would be no strikes and had not favored legislation. A firmer policy against strikes is now thought probable.

Albert Morris Dies At Southland

Albert Morris, 84, of Southland, whose serious illness was reported early this week by our Southland correspondent, died at 11 o'clock Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. D. Landers, in Southland. He had been a resident of the town for many years.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday in the Southland Baptist Church, the Rev. O. E. McGaw, the pastor, officiating.

Deceased was well known throughout that section.

Guard Practices Extended Order

Extended order drill was practiced at Monday night's meeting of the Defense Guard company. The formations were made by both squads and platoons.

Following the drill period, an open forum discussion was held at the armory on work of the past few weeks.

According to Capt. E. R. Edwards, the 39th Battalion maneuvers are expected to be held some time early in June over one week-end.

Identification cards were passed out to all members present.

MRS. EDWARDS PRESENTS PUPILS IN RECITAL

In the home of Mrs. Jack Fenton Tuesday afternoon at 5:00, Mrs. Marcus Edwards presented the junior and senior music pupils of her classes in recital. Those of junior grade were Louis Allen Botkin and Geraldine Frazier. Seniors were Beth Shepherd and Rubie Greer of Groesbeck and Joann Edwards of Tahoka. Music lovers attending were delighted with the accomplishments shown by these fine young people.

Dr. J. A. Hill Will Be Speaker At '43 Commencement

Thirty-six students are to be awarded diplomas by the president of the school board at the commencement exercises in the Tahoka High School auditorium tonight, 23 of whom are girls and only 13 are boys.

This is a smaller class than usual. The paucity of boys may be attributed in some measure to the conditions that exist incident to the war, and it is possible that these same conditions have also reduced to some extent the number of girls in the graduating class.

The program tonight, Friday, will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Marcus Edwards, music teacher in the Tahoka school, will play the processional.

The salutatory address will be given by Peggy Fenton and the valedictory by Beth Shepherd.

Joann Edwards will render a piano solo, "Second Mazurka."

Hope Haynes, principal of the high school, will certify the candidates for diplomas, and Prentice Walker, president of the school board, will present the diplomas to the graduates.

Superintendent W. T. Hanes will introduce the speaker who is to deliver the address to the graduates, Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State College at Canyon.

Mr. Hill has been president of that institution for about twenty (Cont'd. on last page)

Hollowell Gives Sermon To Class

Despite the fact that heavy showers of rain had been falling and continued to fall during the services, a congregation that almost filled the High School auditorium assembled Sunday night to enjoy the baccalaureate program, which began shortly after 8:30 p. m. when the members of the Senior class, in caps and gowns, came marching slowly down the aisle to the strains of the beautiful processional, "March of the Noble," by Keats, rendered by Mrs. Marcus Edwards.

Directed by Miss Ruby Perry, the congregation sang that fine old hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy," and this was followed by prayer and Scripture reading.

Preceding the discourse of the evening, the High School Chorus of eighteen voices rendered that musical classic, "Ave Maria," and following the discourse the congregation sang "Love Divine."

The baccalaureate sermon, delivered by Rev. H. H. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church of O'Donnell, was one of the best prepared and most eloquent deliverances of its kind ever given here. He counseled the class of young people before him not merely to dream dreams but rather to see visions and seek to translate them into achievement.

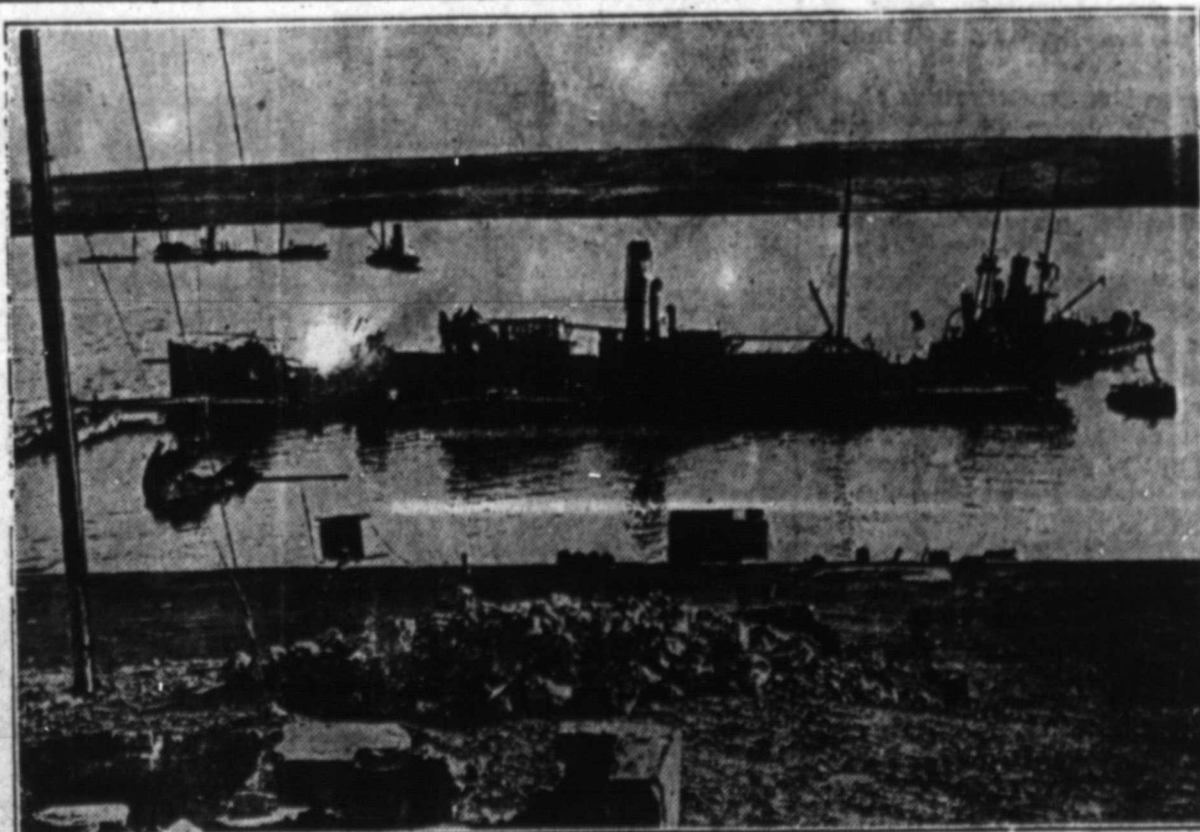

With the recessional and the benediction, the members of the class must have realized that they were about to convert into a reality one of their most cherished visions, the honor of being awarded diplomas of graduation from the Tahoka High School.

Two Tahoka Waacs, Sisters, Sergeants

It's Sgt. Waldrip of the WAACs, now Two of them!

Misses Beulah O. Waldrip and Cynthia L. Waldrip, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Waldrip of T-Bar, who enlisted in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps a few months ago, both have been made sergeants. They are stationed at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Sgt. Cynthia Waldrip has here three days of last week visiting her parents. She had a 10-day furlough but consumed most of it in coming and going.

President Roosevelt is to be commended for taking over the mines last week to be operated by the Government when miners, listening to the demands of their leader, John L. Lewis, went on a strike in the face of appeals and warnings given by the President and after being informed that a general strike of miners would greatly hamper our war effort. But is not certain that John L. Lewis has been completely whipped yet. There are so many officials in high position who are afraid of him and of the vote he controls that he may procure a compromise—a negotiated peace, as it were—between his organization and the Government yet. Whenever and wherever other vital issues are not involved, the people of the United States hereafter should make it a point to sit down on John Lewis hard at every election. In doing this, however, we should not condemn innocent men. Most Southern Congressmen and practically all Texas Congressmen have stood solidly against him and his methods from start to finish. Both our Texas Senators and our own Congressman Geo. Mahon have never wavered in their opposition to his dictatorial policies. Just recently George Mahon denounced him bitterly on the floor of Congress while Senator Connolly has been seeking the passage of his bill to put such men as John L. Lewis behind the bars when they instigate strikes in time of war. We should give these Texas Senators and Congressmen a pat on the back for the stand they have taken and the efforts they have made to put our own dictators out of business.

Pitiable has been the plight of Nazi soldiers in Tunisia since the crash came last week end. Driven here and yon only to find all way of escape barred, plunging into small boats in an effort to escape only to be bombed and sunk, or fighting from empty tanks and wreckage merely with the hope of giving some of their pals a chance to escape knowing that their own fate must eventually be unconditional surrender or death, these beaten and defeated men present quite a different picture from that presented when they and their comrades were marching triumphantly through Czechoslovakia and Poland, or through Holland and Belgium and chasing the English into the sea at Dunkirk, or around and over and behind the Maginot line into France, through the streets of Paris, while thousands of French civilians were leaving their homes and fleeing like hunted beasts before them. These Nazi soldiers were super-men then, out to conquer and enslave the world. Now, they are the hunted. They have met other men, who are prepared and eager to fight—British and American—and they are finding that they themselves are not super-men at all, just ordinary individuals, who must now reap what they have been sowing—disaster and death.

The war is not won yet by a long shot. The invasion of fortified Germany is going to be an almost super-human task. Even the landing of troops in large numbers any where on the shores of Europe will probably cost the British and the Americans many thousands of lives. So, we should not permit the marvelous success of our troops in Northern Africa to make us over-confident.

Nazi radio broadcasts and newspaper reports confess that German leaders were astounded at the fighting qualities of Americans in Tunisia. Until the German debacle there, they had regarded with disdain the Americans as soldiers. The Nazis are being shown.

As the days come and go that German disaster in North Africa grows and grows. The Nazis were not dealt so stunning a blow even at Stalingrad.

Mrs. Bernice Edwards of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Q. Dyess of Bryan, Mrs. C. C. Ellis of Dallas, and Mrs. G. A. Scott of Dallas came Friday to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards. All the visiting ladies are sisters of Mr. Edwards. They left for their respective homes Monday morning.

ODDS and ENDS

by Bee Eye, the Elder

The fall of Bizerte and Tunis into the hands of the British, Americans, and French is one of the finest pieces of news that have come to us since the War began. Furthermore, it brought ecstatic joy to millions of Frenchmen, consternation to Mussolini, and was calculated to give old Hitler another one of his fits of despondency.

Apparently it makes the invasion of Europe by the British and American armies a greater certainty. Whether that invasion is to come immediately or some time later, we do not know. We doubt if it comes as soon as some think. But in all probability, it will come. In fact, the stage-setting is already far advanced.

Nobody knows where landings will be attempted; that is, nobody except those who are directing the Allied strategy and those who are leading our armed forces. But before the invasion of the continent is attempted, the British and the Americans will doubtless drive the Germans out of all the principal islands of the Mediterranean, the largest of which is Sicily.

Politically, Sicily is a part of Italy and is separated from the main land only by a narrow strait. It lies at the toe of the Italian boot, and a look at any map of the region leaves the impression that somebody is giving it a swift kick on the nose. Well, in its long history, it really has had many a swift kick not only on the nose but on other parts of its anatomy also. From ancient times to the present it has been the pawn of empires and dictators, and in modern times at least it has often been harried by robbers from without as well as by pirates from within.

This condition has arisen partly from its situation almost in the middle of the Mediterranean and from the mountainous nature of the country. In our own day and generation it has been robbed and terrified by the Mafia, a notorious well-organized gang of black-mallers and robbers that preyed on the law-abiding people almost unmolested for years—a kind of Al Capone outfit. Al may have gotten his idea from the Mafia.

Right here we must give the Devil his due. The political thug that put the Mafia out of business and made Sicily a decent place in which to live was a man named Mussolini. Perhaps you have heard of him.

Sicily has become of interest to us by reason of the fact that it is a part of Italy and lies nearer to Tunis than any other Axis-controlled territory. It is only ninety miles from the tip of Cape Bon east of Tunis to the shores of Sicily, and furthermore the island lies immediately between Tunisia and Italy. Our bombers already have been blasting some of its air and naval bases and will doubtless proceed to blot them off the face of the earth just as rapidly as they can do so. We had scarcely finished writing that last sentence Monday morning when a radio news broadcast brought the information that the British and American bombers had just given Palermo, Sicily's largest city, a terrific pounding.

One thing is certain, if Italy doesn't cave in and surrender unconditionally pretty soon, our boys that drop those bombs certainly are going to mess up some very scenic country most frightfully. Sicily is one of the most beautiful spots in the Mediterranean.

In extent of territory it is about the size of George Mahon's congressional district. But it is not as flat as his district even if the Caprock does cut his district in two. Its largest city, Palermo, whose population at last accounts was considerably larger than that of Houston, is jammed in between magnificent Mount Pellegrino and the sea, the mountain rising to towering heights above the city. Guess it would put to shame old Captain and its neighboring notables out in New Mexico.

One of the most historic Sicilian cities is Messina, said to have been founded by pirates more than seven hundred years B. C., though it is like the boy's old knife that had a

Special Program At Church of Christ

Saturday night at 9:00 o'clock, Bro. N. W. Clinger of Las Vegas, New Mexico, will speak on the "Bloody Penitente Religion." This religion is a sect of Catholicism, and its horrors have not been fully manifested in many communities, but its most corrupted form is completely seen in Northwestern New Mexico. Here the Penitentes strive to reenact each Easter scenes similar to the crucifixion of Christ. In these bloody ceremonies, where hundreds are beaten and some die, few are permitted to attend. Brother Clinger lives in Las Vegas and has first hand information pertaining to this heathen religion of the Mexicans.

The entire public is invited to attend this meeting. Also at this meeting the dire needs of the Las Vegas church will be brought before the congregation here.

The elders and deacons of the local congregation have undertaken an extensive remodeling program of the meeting house. At this time a new roof is being put on, and a basement is being dug to accommodate two rest rooms and two class rooms. At the conclusion of this work the entire interior of the building and basement will be painted. When this work will have been completed, the Church will have a very nice, neat and convenient building in which to study and worship.

Remember the services throughout next Lord's day. At 8 p. m. there will be a meeting of all the young people of the Church, and others that will attend. At that time plans will be made for a study during the summer. Be sure that your boy or girl is present.—Garnie Atkinson.

PASTOR ENTERTAINS DEACONS AND WIVES

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Hardin entertained the deacons of the Baptist Church and their wives with a chicken barbecue on the parsonage lawn last Friday night.

Those present were: Burton Edwards, chairman of the board, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reddell, Dr. and Mrs. K. R. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goodell, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Vester Botkin, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Nurdyke, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Hill, and Mrs. McCord of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Caviness were unable to be present on account of his illness. Other active deacons not there for various reasons were Deen Nowlin, G. W. Hickerson, and Eugene Munsell.

Mr. Arthur Biggerstaff, known to everybody here as O'Ber Forrester, arrived Friday night from the West Coast, where she has been with her husband pending his call for service out on the sea. He was called last week and Mrs. Biggerstaff came back to Tahoka to remain with her mother, Mrs. R. C. Forrester, for the duration.

SENIOR CLASS IS GIVEN RECEPTION

One of the interesting Commencement Week events was the reception given the members of the Senior Class of the Tahoka High School Tuesday night by the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church in the Adult Sunday School assembly room.

The reception suite had been given a home-like appearance with furnishings, shaded lights, and a profusion of roses and Spring flowers. Miss Anita Reddell presided at a lace-covered refreshment table center by a bouquet of blue iris and gypsophila on blue reflector.

With Mrs. Garland Pennington presiding, a program of music and song, with an appropriate reading, was rendered, and a most excellent address to the class was made by Captain Aubrey C. Halsell, Post Chaplain at the Lubbock Army Air Field.

Instrumental music was rendered by Mrs. Marjorie Wells Kemp and a piano solo, "Rosary," by Miss Valerie Wells.

Two songs, "When the Lights Go On Again" and "Coming Home on a Wing and a Prayer," were sung by Dorothy Lee Carmack, Pat Hill, and Mary B. Fenton.

The reading, "Live to Make a Life," was given by Ray Fern Pennington.

Rev. Geo. A. Dale pronounced the benediction.

The reception was directed by Mrs. Jim Burleson, Education chairman of the W. M. U.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edwards of South Gate, California, came a few days ago to visit Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Martin and other relatives in Lynn county, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wright Edwards at Wolf-orth in Lubbock county.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith are the proud parents of a little girl, Barbara Louise, weighing seven pounds, born May 5th in Wichita Falls. Mrs. Smith is Mrs. Eual (Shorty) Lee's sister.

You have youth, confidence, courage, eagerness, vigor, and trained intelligence upon which a new world of peaceful living must be founded. Three Speakers At Rotary Club

Three speakers were heard at the Rotary luncheon Thursday.

Harley Henderson discussed briefly some of the economic problems to be faced following this war, and he gave statistics showing the national income last year as well as some data respecting expenditures, etc. The national income last year, he stated, was in excess of 82 billion dollars, and he urged financial support of the war effort to the extent of our ability.

Rev. H. A. Nichols had been assigned the task, as pertinent to our Good Neighbor Policy, of defining what is meant by the term "Neighbor," and he gave a very appropriate discussion of the subject in a broad, general way, calling attention to the definition of a Good Neighbor as set out in the Biblical story of the Good Samaritan.

The writer had been asked to discuss "Friendship," which he undertook to do in a general way.

Short talks were made also by Finis Connolly, home on furlough from an Army Air Force field in Georgia, and by Happy Smith.

Since Sunday is to be observed as "I Am An American Day," a motion was adopted asking the ministers of the town to speak on the subject of Americanism in the sermons next Sunday.

KINGS VISIT SAN ANTONIO

When Mr. and Mrs. J. O. King spent a week end with their son, S/Sgt. Wilson King at Kelly Field recently, they stayed in the home of Mr. King's sister, Mrs. Ann Simpson, whom they had not seen in 26 years, she having resided in a distant part of the country until recently.

Also in San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. King enjoyed being with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jordan, former teachers of the Dixie school. Mr. Jordan is doing government work of some kind and Mrs. Jordan is still teaching. They have a new home in the city.

The Kings returned by Fredericksburg, where they visited one of Mr. King's brothers.

As Wilson showed them over all the military fields at San Antonio, they spent a very busy and enjoyable week end.

Cpl. Charles McCommas, from Selman Field, Monroe, La., visited E. B. Gaither here Saturday. He went from here to Hobbs, N. M., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCommas. Cpl. McCommas is a mechanic.

Mrs. John Cearley and little daughter of Post was here Thursday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Allphin, and family.

Save Those Berries

By Carolyn Dixon

County Home Demonstration Agent
A. & M. Extension Service

Canning Berries: Fruit may be canned with a very little sugar. Some sugar is desirable for flavor, and it helps hold both the color and flavor. When berries, including strawberries, for canning are heated with just enough sugar to sweeten, they will provide their own juice. Add the sugar to the berries, let stand a short time until some juice is drawn out, then bring them carefully just to a boil, and fill jars boiling hot, allowing sufficient juice to cover. Then the jars may be processed in a water bath for 15 minutes.

When packing fruit raw, crush some softer berries, strain, and mix with the rationed amount of sugar (½ cup sugar per quart of canned fruit). Heat to boiling and pour over whole raw fruit that has been packed in jar or can. Steam 5 minutes. Press down, refill if necessary, and seal. Process 15 minutes in water bath.

Berry Juice: Berry juice, put up with a little sugar, is another possibility for saving the surplus. About a cup of sugar to a gallon juice is the usual proportion. Heat the juice almost to boiling, pour in hot jars, seal and process in water bath 15 minutes. Green bottles are best for putting up strawberry juice, as they cut off the light and help hold the red color of the juice. Home canned juice makes good drinks and ices, and holds its vitamin C very well.

Strawberry Jam: Allow 1 cup sugar to each quart of berries. Wash and hull the berries. Mash some or all of the berries to start the juice, and add some of the sugar. Cook quickly until quite thick, then add the remaining sugar and cook for 10 to 15 minutes longer. Pack in containers while hot and seal at once.

Blackberry Jam: Heat berries and press through sieve. For each pint of pulp use 1 cup sugar (or ½ cup sugar and ½ cup corn syrup). Boil until stiff. Pack hot into hot jars. Seal at once.

Strawberry Preserves: Usually 1 pound sugar is used for each pound of fruit. If ½ pound sugar is used, the preserves will make a nice product but the syrup will not be as thick. When less than the usual amount of sugar is used, or if corn syrup is substituted for sugar, it is necessary to seal the containers airtight to prevent molding or souring.

A standard Strawberry Preserve recipe:

Boil 2 cups sugar and 1 cup water together until it begins to form a thread.

Add 1 pint of strawberries and cook 10 minutes.

Add another pint of strawberries and 1 cup of sugar sprinkled over the top.

One tablespoon lemon juice added at this time helps retain color.

Boil continuously about 10 minutes, or until it reaches a jelly stage.

Remove them from the fire and shake the kettle gently until the foam collects in the center and can be easily removed.

Then pour into a flat container and let cool before putting into hot sterilized containers.

Cover with wax and seal at once.

Variations to Standard Recipe:

Use 1 cup sugar and ½ cup water in step 1.

Use 2 cups corn syrup and no water in step 1.

Use 1 cup corn syrup and ½ cup sugar and no water to make syrup in step 1. Add ½ cup corn syrup and ½ cup sugar in step 3.

Use 1 cup honey, ½ cup sugar, and ½ cup water in step 1. Then use ½ cup sugar in step 3. (Honey masks the flavor of strawberries so much that it is not as desirable.)

Mrs. Audie Mae Norman and Miss Virginia Nell Hamilton spent the week end with friends at Midland.

Lee Wayne Hardin, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Hardin is graduating from Post High School today, Friday.

James Connollys Have Family Reunion

For the first time in three or four years, the entire James (Skinner) Connolly family were together here last week end.

Billy Hill, who is serving on some kind of cargo vessel in the U. S. Navy, wired to his father from Long Beach, California, Monday stating that he had just arrived and might be given leave soon to visit home. He enlisted in the Navy in January, 1942.

Mrs. J. O. King visited her son, Rev. J. Paul King, and family at Jole, Okla., recently. Paul's wife had just undergone a serious operation at a hospital there but was brought home before Mrs. King came. Paul is pastor of the Methodist church at Noble.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Schulz of Dixie have as guests his parents from Hillsboro. The senior Mr. Schulz is following a long illness suffered during the Fall and Winter, and it is hoped that his stay on the Plains hastens his complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Waldrup of Wells had a pleasant visit with their son, J. J. Waldrup Jr., at Wichita Falls recently. J. J. Jr., who was confined to the hospital for a long time, is now back on duty, his mother reports.

Tom Hale Jr., now in the Merchant Marine, from whom his parents had not heard in some times, called his mother by telephone from New York City Wednesday night and told her that he was "doing fine," and that he hoped to visit home soon.

Mrs. Mary Brown of Gatesville returned to her home Thursday after visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. V. A. Botkin, and family since last Saturday.

Mrs. Margie Hogge and little son and daughter left Tuesday for a visit with her grandmother in Fort Worth and with her mother-in-law in McKinney.

TIN CANS WANTED!

Our Government asks that all good solid tin cans, not usable at home, be salvaged NOW for the War Effort. Lynn County has been asked to ship a carload of tin.

Gather up your tin cans, 1 gallon size and smaller (badly rusted or burned cans can not be used), mash them flat, and dump them on lot between Carmack Gin and Santa Fe tracks. Proceeds go to Lynn County Red Cross and USO funds.

This Space Contributed to the National War Effort by The Lynn County News

Chester Bairrington, Naval Petty Officer, Visits Home Folks

Chester Bairrington, petty officer third class of the U. S. Navy "Seabees," and wife of Norfolk, Virginia, have been here the past week visiting his sisters and brothers and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Laws, of Grassland.

Bairrington left Wednesday to return to his station, while Mrs. Bairrington, who is the former Miss Mona Laws, proceeded to California.

Chester thinks the "Seabees" is a very interesting and important part of the service. He says this branch of the Navy was originally conceived for older men who wanted in the service and who were skilled construction men. However, more lately the Navy has been taking younger men, down to eighteen years of age. Too, he says the training is more varied and possibly more complete than in some other branches. For instance, they are given combat training, and are expected to be able to fight with the roughest of them. In fact, he thinks his outfit will be able to take care of itself when it gets in the war zone, and he hopes that won't be long off.

Monday, Petty Officer Bairrington spoke to several rooms of the grade school students on the Navy training program.

Clyde King, Le Troy Lester James Field, and Paul Winterrowd are going to drive equal-important tractors instead of jeeps.

Truman Riddle plans to help on the farm until the crop is laid by, then he will visit relatives in Pennsylvania and join the Army or enter Defense work. Last year he worked for three and a half months in the Triumph Explosives Plant in Elton, Maryland, where incendiary bombs are manufactured. Last Thursday, an explosion in this same plant killed 17 people.

Hubert Faust of Hardin-Simmons College, Abilene, by Supt. I. J. Duff; address; benediction by Rev. Armstrong; and recessional.

McGaw; song, "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer," by Robert and Ann Russell; address to Seniors, Mrs. Calloway Huffaker, Tahoka; song, "Auld Lang Syne," group; recessional. Grandpa Morris III

Grandpa Morris has hardening of the arteries, which, according to the doctor, is not fatal unless some further trouble develops. This weekend has had a dryness in his throat, which is a severe impediment to his swallowing. His son, Slaton Morris, of Winters, was here last week end planned to return this week end after a business trip back to his home. His two sons, Wayne of Cleveland, Ohio, and R. B. and wife and daughter of Dallas are also here. His grand-daughter, Miss Ruth Lahders of San Diego, Calif., arrived Saturday, and her sister, Mrs. Herman Whitted and son of Odessa have been here for a week.

Roy Tolison Improving
On May 3rd and 4th, the doctor gave relatives of Roy Tolison no hope for his life. But, he had improved so much by the 8th that he was brought home from the Slaton hospital. His parents and brothers and sisters were here last week.

Mr. A. Wilke reported that the farmers near Austin were needing rain worse than we were. He visited friends and relatives in Bartlett before returning home.

Uncle John Parnell's baby sister in Dallas is seriously ill.

Mr. Henry Harris of Denton county is visiting his brother, J. C. Harris.

From Monday until Thursday of last week, Mrs. A. M. Timmons of Levelland visited her daughter, Mrs. O. E. McGaw. Wednesday, their son and brother, Donnel Timmons, spent the night here before returning to Baylor University at Waco for the summer session.

Thursday night and Friday the Estell McGaws and daughter, Patricia Ann, of Lubbock visited his brother, O. E.

Rev. Hubert Faust and family of Abilene were Saturday night guests of Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Harmonson, and Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. H. C. White and daughter and son.

The former Helen King arrived Saturday for a visit with her parents, the Ed Kings.

Mrs. Joe Childree (Pauline Gilliland) and the former Faye Draper were Sunday guests of the W. W. Gillilands. Mrs. Childress' husband is stationed near Austin.

C. T. Anderson spent last week end in Roswell, N. M., with three of his children. His youngest daughter, who was in Mississippi to wish her soldier husband "bon voyage," hurried home to see her father, but he had cut his visit short, so they missed seeing each other.

Friday a large feed stack on the J. T. Whitted farm was burned, probably because of careless smoking by his hired hand.

W. L. BANKS WRITES FROM FLORIDA

The News has received a communication from W. L. Banks asking that The News be sent to his address and indicating that he is just a bit home-sick, from which we quote:

"Here I am again, I would like to see all my friends in old Tahoka. I am far away. There are lots of good people there I sure would love to see. Maybe sometime, maybe in the near future, I will get to meet them. We are hoping and praying that the war will soon come to a close.

"Well, I am cooking for 147 soldiers in the service. I am in the Coast Guard and am stationed at Pompano, Florida. I like fine. We are on the east coast front. All you can see is well-trained men, and boats, and water, and airplanes; it is a sight to look at.

"I wish you all could come to Miami and also to Miami Beach. There are enough soldiers to whip all the world. It looks like I live 34 miles from Miami. Wife and I drive down quite often to see my grand-baby. You know she is the only baby, I think.

"I have four sons in the service now, and I am proud of them, and a son-in-law by my last wife in the service also—six of us. I think I am doing my part. Your friend, W. L. Banks, Sip Cook, 2/c."

Mr. Banks had been a member of the National Guard for many years preceding the war.

VISIT SONS AT SHEPPARD

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Driver and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McClintock went to Wichita Falls Saturday night to visit their sons, Buster and Duane, who are stationed at Sheppard Field. They were accompanied by Misses Maxine Lindley and Euella Dollins.

Mr. Driver states that Buster was to be sent to Chicago some time this week, where he will attend a radio school. Duane will remain at Sheppard Field.

Her husband, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hickerson, who is in the Army Air Corps, is in a hospital in Florida, and she had come after her car which was stored here in order that she might go to him.

PILES Oh! How They Pained and Itched!

Then this DOCTORS' Ointment Gave Relief That Amazed Him!

Mr. W. L. Banks, who is now in the Coast Guard and stationed at Pompano, Florida, writes: "I have four sons in the service now, and I am proud of them, and a son-in-law by my last wife in the service also—six of us. I think I am doing my part. Your friend, W. L. Banks, Sip Cook, 2/c."

It's really been a PROBLEM

IT SAVES A LOT of head-scratching to have facts instead of guesses, when you are choosing a motor oil to protect and preserve your car for the duration.

That is why we give you these facts. We produce a number of oils at a variety of prices to meet the differing demands of car owners. Some want a low-priced lubricant for very old cars, some want a medium-priced product, while to still others cost is no object.

Of all these oils, we have concentrated on one as our best. The crude which goes into it, the extra care in processing, the results it gives; all enable us to say frankly and simply, Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer to average motorists.

Never was it more important to use good oil. So it is good sense and good saving to ask for Phillips 66 Motor Oil when draining winter-worn lubricant, or when making the recommended every-two-months oil change.

Rain...

ing planted could be seen on every side and the cotton and some feed are expected to be coming up to fine stand all over the county within the next few days. Cotton was already up in a few favored spots in the county where nice showers fell three or four weeks ago.

Barring a few small localities, the rain Sunday was ample for all immediate needs. In Tahoka the rainfall measured 1.79 inches. John Heck of Wilson, who also has a government rain gauge, reports that the fall there amounted to 1.81 inches. The rainfall probably averaged fully that much for at least three fourths of the county, covering the eastern and northern portions. The News has received no report from Ben Moore at O'Donnell, who keeps the records there, but other reports are that that town and vicinity received an inch of rain or more. About an inch is reported at Three Lakes. A small area at Claud Wells' farm and vicinity received possibly not more than a half inch. The fall was also reported a little light at Petty. Another spot where the fall was not as heavy as in the surrounding territory lies south of Edith schoolhouse, according to reports given The News. Reports generally are that the rain was the finest possible.

Mrs. Alice Fortenberry left this week for Ogden, Utah, to spend some time there with her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Lawrence.

FLIGHT OFFICER THOMAS WEDS ODESSA GIRL

Friends here were much interested in news of the marriage of Flight Officer Pilot Samuel Walter Thomas Jr. of the Midland Flying Field, formerly of Grassland, to Miss Beth Ann Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor of Odessa, which event occurred in that city at 7:30 o'clock last Saturday evening, the vows being taken before an altar which had been erected in a beautiful flower garden.

Following a wedding trip, the couple were to reside, it was announced, at 710 W. 14th street in Odessa.

Flight Officer Thomas is the son of Mrs. S. W. Thomas of Graham Chapel, his father, who died several years ago, having been a brother of the well known Thomas brothers still residing at Grassland. He has many friends in Tahoka and in the Grassland community, who extend best wishes.

The couple visited friends here on Sunday.

Pvt. Brown F. Bradley of Midland Flying Field, and two daughters of Fort Worth were here this week visiting his mother, Mrs. Mattie Bradley, Don Bradley, and Mrs. N. W. Alphin. His wife is working in a Fort Worth defense plant and could not visit here at this time. Brown, who left Tahoka in 1926, had been a postal employee at Odessa several years prior to his induction into the Army, where he was placed in the Army postoffice at Midland.

When S/Sgt. and Mrs. A. M. (Dan) Daniel returned to Sherman a few days ago after spending his 15-days furlough here with his mother, County Treasurer Lois M. Daniel, the young son, Danny, remained for a longer visit with his grandmother.

S. J. Cowart and Mrs. J. L. Cunningham left by bus last Friday morning to visit their sister who had been critically ill at Okemah, Oklahoma. At Amarillo they learned that she had died and that funeral services had been conducted on the preceding Wednesday. After visiting relatives in Amarillo, they returned home Sunday afternoon.

The News had a card Wednesday from J. B. Nance written from Paris, where he had gone to visit a brother, and from there he was going to Barrington, Illinois, to visit a son who lives there. He gave no information as to how long he would be gone.

Mrs. Clyde Holcomb and daughter, Lindsay Kay, of Los Angeles, Calif., are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hardt.

HOW TO CONSERVE MOTOR OIL PROLONG CAR LIFE

"DON'T CHANGE YOUR OIL EXCEPT SEASONALLY. If you don't have an oil filter, get one installed. It will save your engine, oil bill and the nation's supply of oil." These are suggestions by Consumer Division of OPAES.

Yes, there's a job to be done in conserving our oil for planes, tanks, ships, Lubr-liner, a genuine oil refiner for your motor, is helping in that job. With valis, it adds thousands of miles to oil engine life, saves unnecessary oil drains and costly repairs.

Although Lubr-liner's efforts are all out for defense, increased production permits supplying the public needs also.
