Lindbergh Says Americans Must Work Together

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh asserted tonight that the defens of the United States should be constructed with the "cooperation of all American countries," but that "we must insist upon military bases being placed wherever they are needed for our own safety, regardless of who owns the territory involved."

He embraced this idea of Western hemisphere defense in an address prepared for radio delivery in which he also asserted that "we must stop this trend" toward involvement in the European war and cease "these gestures with an empty gun."

Tonight's address by Lindbergh was the second of the same nature within a month On the last occasion he condemned "meddling with affairs abroad" and denounced "hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion"—a speech which brought criticism from various members of Congress and praise from some others.

Tonight he reiterated this viewpoint in these words:

"Dabbling" Criticized

"This dabbling we have been doing in European affairs can lead only to failure in the future as it has in the past. . . . We demand that foreign nations refrain from interfering in our hemisphere, yet we constantly interfere in theirs. . . . We have been doing to England and France what they did to Abyssinia, to Czechoslovakia, to Poland, To Finland, and to Norway—we have encouraged them to hope for help we

FDR Says U.S. To Rush Effort To Aid Allies

No Commitment Of Military Help Is Made By Chief

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Roosevelt, replying to the "last appeal" of Premier Reynaud for further aid for France, pledged redoubled efforts today to supply munitions, but told him that only Congress could make military commitments.

As long as the French continue to fight "in defense of their liberty," Mr. Roosevelt said, they can be assured that increasing quantities of airplanes, artillery and munitions will be sent them from this country.

Congress Must Decide

And the United States, he said, "will not consider as valid any attempts to infringe by force the independence and territorial integrity of France.

It was after making this pledge that Mr. Roosevelt referred to the question of military aid.

"I know that you will understand," he said, "that these statements carry with them no implication of military commitments. Only the Congress can make such commitments."

It was the first time in any of his public communications with heads of the Allied governments that Mr. Roosevelt had referred to the question of American military aid.

Plea For War?

Reynaud directed to the president last Thursday a message which the French premier described in a radio address as "a new and last appeal." In his address, Reynaud referred to the aid already received from America, declared that the French knew "what a high place ideals hold" in the life of the American people, and asked:

"Will they hesitate still to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"

This question was interpreted by many as a plea for the United States to declare war on Germany.

In making public Mr. Roosevelt's reply, Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said that the premier's communication was not being given to reporters because it was the same as his radio address which had been published.

Details Not Disclosed

Mr. Roosevelt's message was made public in the late afternoon. Earlier, the chief executive had conferred for 70 minutes with the British and French ambassadors, Lord Lothian and Count De St. Quentin. White

Committee Approves Defense Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—A $1,007,000,000 defense tax bill carrying a requirement that President Roosevelt cut 10 per cent from all non-essential appropriations was approved today by the Senate finance committee.

The bill would create 2,190,000 new income tax payers by lowering existing exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons and from $1,000, to $800 for single individuals. It also would increase corporaton and so-called "nuisance" taxes (levies on gasoline, theater tickets, automobile tires, etc.), would raise all personal income levies by a flat 10 per cent, and would increase the federal debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000.

In an unexpected move, the committee also wrote into the bill legislation by Senator Townsend (R-Del) to end treasury purchases of foreign silver.

The Public Demanded Action—And Got It!

Officers Deserve Praise

A FEW HOURS after the bombing of the home of District Judge E. L. Pitts here last Wednesday, The Lubbock Evening Journal, undoubtedly voicing the opinion of the community as a whole, called for quick action on the part of local officers in solving the case.

In a front-page editorial, The Journal said that the bombing demanded quick action on the part of city, county and state officials and if they couldn't furnish that action, outside help should be brought in.

Now all Lubbock knows that the officers here—working in unison and co-operating to the nth degree—furnished that quick action.

Within an hour after the bombing the chief suspect, was in jail. From the time the chief suspect was taken into custody until his confession on Saturday noon, officers worked long and hard to solve the case and they did it in double-quick time.

Again voicing undoubted public opinion, The Avalanche-Journal commends the officers for their work and the intelligent, co-operative methods which brought success.

They did a fine job and they deserve the praise of the law-abiding public.

Drunk Driver Sorry But That Did Not Reduce $138 Fine

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 15.—The charge against William C. Roberts, 27, was driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

Officer Bruns McCarroll testified in city court today that Robert hit 11 cars and a pedestrian, almost hit a policeman, slammed his car door on the fingers of another cop, and knocked down seven concrete posts.

"I'm sorry I did that," said Roberts, then added, with a glance at the stern faced judge, "I guess that doesn't help much."

Soviet Russia Sends Troops To Lithuania

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, June 15. — Soviet Russia gained by ultimatum today "free passage" into Lithuania—the little country bordering Germany on East Prussia—of an unlimited number of troops of the red army.

So far as was disclosed officially this force was ordered stationed in the most important centers only in "sufficient" strength to provide for the "implementing" of the Soviet-Lithuanian mutual assistance agreement.

Moscow To Decide

(Russia thus was left with a free hand to put a wall of troops as big as she pleased very close to the Far Eastern Nazi frontiers.

(Berlin dispatches reported that upon acceptance of the ultimatum, men of the red army began marching into Lithuania this afternoon, meeting no resistance.

It was on the basis of the mutual assistance pact—signed on Oct. 10, 1939, after Russia's seizure of eastern Polish territory while Germany was occupying its western sections, that Moscow moved suddenly today.

Prosecution Asked

Accusing the Lithuanians of kidnaping Soviet airmen, of the "murder" of a member of the Soviet army, of entering a Lithuanian-Latvian-Estonian military alliance hostile to Russia and of preparing an attack on a Soviet garrison in Lithuania, Russia demanded the right to send troops unmolested across the frontier.

She also demanded successfully that Lithuania replace its existing government with one "willing" to restrain "the enemies" of the pact, and that the Lithuanian minister of internal affairs and the director of political police be prosecuted "as those directly responsible for provocational actions against the Soviet garrison in Lithuania."

The Lithuanians were given a deadline of 10 o'clock this morning; at 9 o'colck, Moscow announced, they gave in.

Mothers Claim Same Infant After Raid

THE HAGUE, June 15. (AP)—Two tearful mothers, each claiming a baby boy whose parentage was obscured in the confusion of a bomb explosion in a maternity home during the conquest of the Netherlands, asked a local court to make a "judgment of Soloman" today.

The plaintiff said that on May 10, when a bomb struck the home, she handed her 10-day-old baby out a window to a pedestrian who took it to an air raid shelter. She accused the defendant of taking possession of it there.

The defendant contended that the baby, now seven weeks old, was her own.

Policeman Comes Up With New Answers

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 15 (AP)—An applicant for a job on the Asheville police force gave these answers to questions in a civil service commission questionnaire:

Q—Distinguish between larceny and embezzlement.

Q—What is meant by incendiarism?

A—The state of being on fire.

Fate Of France May Be Known By World Today

No Hint Of What Was Decided By French Is Given

As The Allies Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 15.—British authorities expressed "sincere gratitude" tonight for President Roosevelt's promise of aid to the Allies as long as they "continue to resist," while reports were published in this capital that Sunday might decide the fight for France.

It was said that Allied commanders in the field had made a fateful decision which might tell the tale across the channel, but there was no hint as to what it was.

The French cabinet, having met today without announcement, will meet again tomorrow. Then it can consider the Roosevelt message.

Mr. Roosevelt's response to French Premier Paul Reynaud's "final" appeal for help was called here a "generous" one.

May Arm Civilians

His "assurance that the United States will redouble its efforts to send planes and munitions to the Allies as long as the Allied governments continue to resist," these sources added, "is especially welcome and his explanation that this assurance carries with it no implications of military character and that only Congress can make such commitments is fully understood and appreciated.

Britain summoned a new class of 300,000 to the colors, called for volunteers for the air force, and reached into her home defense reserve to back the exhausted armies in France.

A group of members of Parliament was called to meet next Tuesday to consider "arming the population" against invasion—the spokesman for the move, M. P. Clement Davies, declaring that the people, even women and any boy "who can throw a ball" should be given "hand grenades, bombs, pistols, anything."

Spokesmen at London declared

Two Are Injured In Automobile Mishap

Jackson Craig, 21, of Forsan suffered a severe laceration of the right hand early Saturday night when the coupe in which he was riding collided with a pickup four miles north of Tahoka.

He and two other occupants of the car, John Burton Barber, 19, of Forsan, driver of the car, and Eugene H. Tongue, 21, of Denver, Colo., were brought to Lubbock sanitarium by W. H. Glimp of Lubbock.

Craig was treated and dismissed. Tongue suffered a minor laceration on the neck. Barber was not injured.

Barber told B. L. Wooddell of the Texas Highway patrol, a defective steering mechanism on the car he was driving probably was responsible for the accident. Craig bought the machine Friday in Big Spring.

Hitler's Invading Army Pushes Over Rhine Into Alsace

(EDITOR' NOTE: The movement of the French government and communications facilities to the Bordeaux region has cut the news from France to a mere trickle. In London it is stated authoritatively that little military news from France may be expected until this transit is effected. Rhine—plunged over the Seine and touched the heights of Chaumont some 135 miles southeast of Germanengulfed Paris.

The government met "somewhere in France." President Lebrun, Premier Reynaud, Generalissimo Weygand, Admiral Jean Darlan, the navy chief, and General Joseph Vuillemin, the air chief, were there.

In their grave position they dealt with the results of Reynaud's "final" pleas for American help, for "clouds of airplanes."

No Peace Seen

The semi official Havas agency said there would be no separate French peace with Hitler. Its dispatch was from London.

Official reports, the only ones available, said "a few detachments" crossed the Rhine after the most violent of bombardments.

The armies of Paris fell back "in the best of order."

The German armies of Champagne, seeking to engulf the French and to render the Maginot line helpless from the rear, were forced to fight one great battle after another.

Tonight these German armies had crossed the Seine at Romilly, some 65 miles southeast of Paris had in-

LITHUANIAN PRESIDENT IN FLIGHT

BERLIN, June 16. (Sunday)—Reports spread among Lithuanian correspondents here early today that Lithuanian President Antanas Smetona, fleeing before invading Russian troops, had crossed the border into Germany.

He was said to have been accompanied by several high officials of the Lithuanian government, which was forced out by Russian pressure.

FRENCH FAIL ON RHINE

BASEL, Switzerland, June 15.—French efforts to flood the Germans out of the foothold they had secured on the French side of the Rhine, 40 miles north of Basel, were reported tonight to have failed.

The French dynamited a great dam a few miles from Basel, apparently hoping the flood waters would frustrate the German attack across the river, but the Nazis retained their position.

TURKISH POLICY UNCHANGED

ANKARA, Turkey, June 15.—The government informed all foreign envoys tonight that Turkey's foreign policy remains unchanged and that for the present she will continue her non-belligerent status.

The notice was given after Soviet Russia, informed sources said, had made known to Ankara that Moscow would prefer that Turkey not enter the war on the grounds that extension of the war to the Balkans was "undesirable."

FDR'S AID TO BE TOO LATE

BERLIN, June 16. (Sunday)—The opinion of informed quarters in Berlin today was that President Roosevelt's promise of further aid for the French and British held out "little prospect of effective help to the Allies."

It was pointed out here that the continuance of material aid from America was conditioned by the president on continued resistance by the Allies against Germany.

Europe's War At A Glance

(By The Associated Press)

BORDEAUX—Germans cross Rhine into Alsace; advance guards of another Nazi army reach Chaumont, 135 miles southeast of Paris; retreating French fight valiantly; Reynaud cabinet meets again Sunday to consider Roosevelt reply to "final" appeal.

WASHINGTON—Roosevelt informs Reynaud that U. S. will redouble efforts to send planes, guns and munitions as long as Allies resist, but cautions "no implications of military commitment" go with this promise.

LONDON — British foresee Sunday decision in battle of France; reiterate solidarity of Allies. Appreciate Roosevelt's "generous response."

BERLIN — Germany claims capture of Verdun and break through Maginot line "in broad front;" sees no reason to halt hostilities.

MOSCOW — Soviet Russia sends tanks and more troops into Lithuania as Baltic nation bows to ultimatum.

STOCKHOLM—Foreign sources speculate that Russia also may move into Estonia and Latvia in fear of Germany's expanding power.

ROME — Italians claim their troops have pushed into France; fight off French naval attack on Genoa.

Swastika Flags Wave In Paris

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PLACE DE L'OPERA, PARIS, (By Courier Plane To Berlin), June 15 — The swastika banners of Nazi Germany, unfurled by the Austrian vanguard which Adolf Hitler significantly sent as the first of his troops to occupy Paris, floated today from atop practically every prominent and historic structure in this German-captured capital of France.

It is recalled that last Jan. 30, in a speech commemorating the seventh anniversary of the Nazi rise to power, the fuehrer twitted the premier of France for having expressed "pity" for Hitler's native Austria, and warned:

"Oh, Monsier Daladier, you're going to get to know my Austrians. You're going to make their acquaintance."

Hurry On To Battle

I, myself, an American correspondent, find myself in Paris as the guest of the German army even before the main forces of that army have arrived.

Only the Austrian vanguard is here. Other divisions have passed through the city, hurrying on to battle without pause. The bulk of the army of occupation is not here yet, but is expected to start arriving before this cable is received in America.

(The cable was written at 9 a. m.

Doubling Immigration Border Patrol Talked

EL PASO, June 15. (AP)—Doubling of the U. S. immigration border patrol was projected today along with preliminary steps for establishing a training school to provide 800 new border patrolmen along the Mexican and Canadian borders.

Local immigration authorities conferred on doubling the border personnel here with James E. Ruffing and Daniel McGrath, assistant U.S. attorneys general, who were ordered here by the justice department to study methods of intensifying border patrol activity.

Training of the 800 new border patrolmen will be undertaken in the ensuing eight months, it was stated, in details of 100 trainees at a time.

Hitler Machine Storms Allies

Plans For Victory Are Being Made By Nazi Chiefs

As The Germans Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 15 — The famous fortified town and citadel of Verdun, reduced to virtual ruins in one of the bloodiest battles of the last war yet never taken by the imperial German army, fell today before the smash of Adolf Hitler's armies, the German high command announced tonight.

South of Saarbrucken, the high command also declared, the Nazi war machine has broken through the Maginot line on a "broad front" in its drive westward toward the conquered city of Paris.

Verdun, too, stands within the Maginot zone of forts, on the line's northwest.

No Occasion To Halt

An authorized spokesman, reflecting German reaction to the unprecedented successes of the men and machines in the field, said there was no occasion now to halt hostilities.

The spokesmen made the statement in commenting on reports that France, facing one of the most terrible defeats in her history, might seek a separate peace.

"France and England wanted this war," he said, "now they have it, and at present there is no occasion to stop."

Touching on the same subject, the authoritative news commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, said:

Victory Within Reach

"In view of the fact that victory already is within closest reach, there is hardly an occasion on the German side to approach the question of French capitulation."

This reflected the official German view that the vast Maginot line is a thing of the past, crumbling and indefensible, and that there is no military hope now for France.

The Germans now are not only attacking the Maginot frontally; they are within it and behind it.

Both statements were made while all of Germany still was hailing the capture of Paris and the high command's announcement that "the Reich's war flag is waving over the palace of Versailles where in 1871 the German destiny was established.

Prisoners Taken

In that earlier communique, the high command asserted the Germans had taken more than 200,000 prisoners in ten days of blitzkrieg and an "inestimable" amount of war materials.

The Germans tried to take Verdun, secure behind its related forts, in February, 1916. By September Germany's offensive had failed.

The French numbered their dead and wounded then at 350,000, the Germans at 330,000.

The storming of Verdun was a tremendous rear attack or a flank-turning movement against the line of steel and concrete fortifications which for long have been a symbol of French security—the Maginot line they thought was impregnable.

Italy Is Stronger

The other attack—south of Saarbrucken—was a frontal assault near the middle of the German-French frontier.

The Berlin newspaper "Nachtausgabe" commenting on the German victories, outlined three tasks facing the French high command:

Royal Air Force Planes Meet Italian Aircraft

Little Damage Is Reported

BY J. H. YINDRICH
United Press Staff Correspondent

CARIO, Egypt, June 15. —Royal air force planes battled Italian aircraft attacking a British base in Egypt today and were officially reported to have driven them off after severe fighting.

A communique issued from royal air force headquarters in the Middle East said that the Italian planes attacked Salum, on the Egyptian coast, near the Libyan frontier.

"The attack was without material damage and was in retaliation for R.A.F. raids on Libya," it added.

Enemy Driven Off

The Italian attack was the first air attack on a British base in Egypt.

But the Italian warships, he said, have not come into the open to take up the challenge and the British and French ships have to content themselves with protecting merchant shipping, attacking marauding submarines and sweeping up mines.

In Cario today, police appeared on the streets with helmets and gas masks following a police conference in which the security of the city was discussed.

Passport Received

Traffic Commissioner Lieut. Col. Mahamed Choukri was ordered to requisition taxis and place them at the disposal of the military in the event of an emergency.

It was reported that the Italian Minister Serafine Mazzolini had received his passport but discussions were continuing concerning 60 other Italians for whom Mazzolini claimed diplomatic privilege. This group included Italian magistrates, bank managers and business men.

"Naturally, Egypt will not let the Italian minister leave before assuring herself that her own minister is safe," the newspaper Egyptienne commented.

South Dakota Ghost Town

MOBRIDGE, S. D., June 15. (U.P.)—Born as a frontier trading town, fostered by the booming cattle trade, and killed chiefly by the railroads that built elsewhere, the community that was LeBeau offers the typical case history of a ghost town.

Once faro wheels clicked in saloons where gamblers, gun-toting cow-punchers, Indians and land speculators "name their pizen" and drank it, each to his own health. Now, LeBeau remains a victim of the evolution of commerce.

In 1875 Antoine LeBeau, a French fur trader, pushed up the muddy Missouri from St. Louis to Swan creek and established a trading post. In 1883, a Captain Strong and a pioneer merchant named Pudor bought land from LeBeau, plotted it into a townsite and christened it LeBeau.

The location, they believed, made the site ideal as the "future commercial, agricultural, railroad and mining metropolis of central Dakota." (Dakota was not divided and the halves admitted to the union until 1889.)

Boomers Spread Word

LeBeau was believed the logical gateway to the Black Hills. Two hundred pioneer residents boasted to others of the surrounding "millions of acres of finest wheatland and rich timber stock," lauded its importance as a port of river traffic and prophesied railroads would converge upon it to transport gold —from mines, from grain fields and on the hoof—to markets.

Stage coaches rattled to Pierre, Aberdeen and Bismarck. Stores mushroomed and three hotels flourished. Three lumberyards, a newspaper and a bank swelled the building until it reached a total of 60 structures.

Great cattle outfits — the Turkey rack, Diamond A and Matador— had headquarters within a comfortable radius of LeBeau.

Railroad Skipped Town

Then civilization caught up with and passed LeBeau. The government opened the range to homesteaders and they fenced the rangeland. The Milwaukee railroad, which ran through nearby towns, but not LeBeau, beat the Minneapolis & St. Louis line into western territory and the latter decided not to fight an established road.

The "never-failing" body of water in Swan Lake began to dry up. Two suspicious fire destroyed much of the town.

The population with not much to live on except itself, dwindled faster than the saloon's supply of liquor.

Texas Pistoleers Are Downed By Kansans

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP) — Texas pistoleers have tasted defeat — defeat by a bunch of harmless looking Kansas City cops.

It happened yesterday on the target range here.

Five Kansas City policemen stood among the tall border patrolmen from the roaring Rio Grande country and experts from the pistol conscious Panhandle. They blazed away, shot for shot.

When the smoke cleared the Kansas City men had the prize — the coveted Colonel H. H. Carmichael trophy for the five man team.

The Kansas City team rolled up a score of 1271 points.

Normally, more than 4,000 trading ships anhually visit the harbor of Alexandria, Egypt's leading port.

Two South Plains Youths Soon Will Be Wearing Wings In Nation's Air Force

Nineteen Texas men soon will be wearing wings in Uncle Sam's rapidly expanding Army Air corps.

Tow of them, Brooks A. Lawhon of Levelland and Jimmie W. Britt of Welch, are from this area.

A total of 7,000 pilots is to be trained annually, according to a recent statement by Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the air corps, hard on the heels of the president's defense message to Congress.

To Transfer To Kelly

Flying Cadets Lawhon and Britt are among the 215 student pilots slated to complete their basic flight training at Randolph field, the "West Point of the Air," today. They will be transferred to the advanced flying school at Kelly field for another 10-weeks period of flying instruction before joining either a bombardment, pursuit or observation squadron of the air corps.

Every five weeks thereafter, another class of student pilots will complete its basic training either at Randolph or at one of the other tarining schools soon to be announced, and will go into the advanced period of flight schooling before receiving their wings.

Program Is Expanded

When the first air corps expansion program was announced last spring, plans were laid for an air army of 5,500 airplanes, and a comparable number of highly trained pilots. Today a training program envisioning 7,000 pilots and 3,600 navigators and bombardiers annually is getting under way.

Under the air corps pilot training plan approved early in June, flying cadets will be transferred into military pilots in slightly less than a year. Ten weeks of elementary training on rugged 200 horsepower biplanes will be followed by a second 10-weeks period of basic flight training on 450 horsepower low wing monoplanes.

A third 10-weeks period of advanced flying training at one of three advanced flying schools will prepare the future birdmen for a final five-weeks course in specialized aviation, such as pursuit, bombardment, attack or observation. In all, approximately 265 hours of flying time will be logged by each flying cadet during the training course.

Every Maneuver Taught

Every maneuver in the veteran pilot's bag of tricks is taught the future airmen of the air corps. Within a few days after the flying cadet arrives at one of the many elementary flying schools, he is making landings and take-offs under watchful eyes of his flight instructor.

Within eight hours flying time he has soloed, and is mastering the intricacies of the chandelle, lazy eight and pylon 8, all training maneuvers. Before completing the first 65 hours of the 265-hour course, aerial acrobatics such as loops, rolls and Immelman turns are executed as a matter of course.

Successively, the flying cadet puts in time in the BT-9s or BT-14s, low wing monoplanes, developing aerial gyrations and first tastes of night flying; formation flying, wing tip to wing tip, navigation, more aerial acrobatics and advanced instrument flight training; and, in the final phase, in diving and zooming in 300-mile-an-hour pursuit or giant twin engined bombers, all climaxed by graduation day, awarding of wings and a commission as 2nd lieutenant in the air corps reserve.

Information received by the Avalanche-Journal from the war department public relations office at Randolph field said applications for appointment as flying cadets in the air corps are being received in greatly increasing numbers. It was pointed out that flying cadets who also receive $75 a month during the training period later get $205 a month after graduation and appointment as officers in the reserve.

Berlin Paper Says United States Could Not Help The Allies To Win The War

BERLIN, June 15 (U.P.)—The newspaper Hamburger Fremdenblatt said today that even if the United States wished to help the Allies win the war it would not be able.

And, the newspaper said, if the United States wishes European recognition of the Monroe Doctrine it must recognize the doctrine of Europe for Europeans.

Is Another World

"America is another world," the newspaper said. "Its isolationists—the real Americans, peaceful conquerors of the continent who for years were for the peaceful well being of their farms in the middle west, the Pacific ocean and the Gulf of Mexico—are absolutely right when, by their natural attitude, they always maintain that it is a matter for Europeans to put European affairs in order. To their way of thinking recognition of the American Monroe Doctrine by Europe is predicated on recognition of the European Monroe Doctrine by America."

Lubbock Men Attend Optimist Gathering

Dr. A. W. Young, president of Lubbock Optimist club, and S. E. Marbut, chairman of the board of governors, left saturday for Kansas City to attend the annual convention of Optimist international which will continue through Wednesday.

Mrs. Young and Mrs. Marbut accompanied them.

With them they took reports, including pictures, on numerous activities of the local club in behalf of youth, including sponsorship of a Boy Scout troop and of the scouts' participation in the recent city-wide cleanup campaign.

En route home they expect to visit in southeastern Missouri, where Marbut was born and reared. They expect to return Friday.

Man Takes A Liking To New Testament

OLATHE, Kas., June 15 (AP)—Until six years ago, says 77-year-old George Baucom, he had never read the Bible.

Since then he has read the New Testament 490 times—and he's starting all over again.

Idaho Extends Silicosis Fight

BOISE, Idaho June 15. (U.P.)—The latest in modern medical equipment, housed in a 6,000-pound trailer, is cruising throughout Idaho to gather statistical material on the extent of silicosis. This is Idaho's answer to the nation's silicosis problem.

Dr. A. F. Galloway, director of the bureau of industrial hygiene, and H. C. Claire, engineer for the bureau, are in charge of the hospital on wheels, officially known as the Idaho industrial hygiene mobile X-ray unit.

The unit with its built-in equipment was designed so that it may be towed to various sections of the state and used by doctors in making physical examinations and taking X-rays of industrial workers.

Based On 1938 Study

The mobile unit was built jointly by the state industrial accident board and the state division of public health after a preliminary study in 1938 indicated silicosis and lead poisoning—the scourge of workers employed in industries where dust abounds—were prevalent.

State health officials hope that use of the unit will serve to indicate accurately the extent of the disease and determine methods for its control.

Industrial workers who are exposed to a silica dust hazard will be examined and X-rays taken. It was believed that in the process of gathering data, many cases would be uncovered and those exposed could be advised on treatment.

Not For Treatments

Except where specific requests are received for special industrial hygiene services, the unit is to be used only for gathering data for statistical purposes. It is not intended that the use of the unit or the services of the doctor and engineer are to replace or do the work of a company or private physicians and engineers, public welfare department official said.

In addition to equipment for X-ray studies, physical examinations can be made in the mobile unit, blood tested for syphilis or lead poisoning and sputum examined for traces of tuberculosis infections.

Dental Unit To Be At Tech Wednesday

State department of health has been in habit of sending its mobile dental unit to schools and teaching students how to correct dental defects, but the department has gone a step further, as evidenced by a Wednesday program at Texas Technological college.

Whereas, during the regular term of school, the traveling unit has set up and regularly-licensed dentist has done work free for children of indigent parents, the unit Wednesday will be with a view to instructing teachers here for the summer term how to get across to their students the necessity for caring for teeth.

The unit will be set up between the library and the chemistry building. Miss Mayme Alexander, visiting teacher of Lubbock schools, will cooperate in obtaining several children to submit to dental repairs.

The program will begin at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and be concluded at 5 o'clock that afternoon, said Dr. J. B. McCorkle, in charge of Lubbock arrangements.

Five Features Slated At Tech This Week

This week's summer recreational program at Texas Technological college will include five features, four of which will be open only to students and one to the general public.

The program open to the public will be presented Thursday night by Mrs. Jed Rix, pianist, and Mrs. Eloise Snyder, coloratura soprano, both of Fort Worth. Admission will be 50 cents, except to holders of season tickets.

Holders of summer recreational student tickets may attend the following, in addition to the concert: Tuesday night, motion picture show, "My Man Godfrey," with William Powell and Carol Lombard; Wednesday night band concert, directed by D. O. Wiley; Friday night, dance, women's dormitory; Saturday night, motion picture shorts.

All programs will be presented on the lawn south of the administration building.

Strain Of European War Is Being Felt By Mexican People And Governm

Tension Mounts Over Country

MEXICO CITY, June 15 (AP) — Mexico's presidential campaign, economic outlook and foreign policy today bear the stamp of the strain that the European conflict has imposed on the Mexican people and government.

The world-wide impact of the Nazi sweep across Europe, with its special significance for the western hemisphere, has not escaped this republic. Rather, the social, political and economic landscape here has been modified under the shock. Tension has been deepened.

Want U. S. Friendship

1. The growing belief here that a German victory is imminent and constitutes a threat to progressive democracy in this hemisphere has created strong sentiment among government officials, military authorities, labor elements and the general public close collaboration with the United States. This collaboration would be military, economic and political.

2. Declarations that Mexico must choose between democracy and totalitarianism have shared more and more with discussion of internal issues in the speeches of the presidential candidates.

3. Loss of world markets, particularly for petroleum, has placed a severe burden on the republic's economy, causing an increase in the cost of living, creating unrest and accelerating modifications in several aspects of President Cardenas' revolutionary program.

Uneasiness Is Stirred

4. The battle of German and Allied propaganda here, with the United States an anxious spectator, has stirred uneasiness among the people and the government. The situation was only clarified in the past few days when the government instituted drastic action against the leaders and organs of Nazi propaganda and of suspected "fifth column" activity.

5. The government has privately become anxious for a settlement of the petroleum controversy with Great Britain in the belief that it would help the Allied cause.

In the opinion of responsible government circles, the German successes have brought nearer every day the entrance of the United States into the war and, thus, the direct involvment of the western hemisphere in the struggle.

Seek Full Collaboration

The prevailing sentiment seems to be for the fullest collaboration with the United States in defense of democracy in this hemisphere.

This was given public expression yesterday by General Rafael Sanchez Tapia, one of the republic's three presidential candidates.

General Manuel Avila Camacho, official government candidate for the presidency, and General Juan Andreau Almazan, principal independent standard-bearer, have spoken out more and more for democracy against any form of Nazism, Fascism or Communism in Mexico and for stronger ties with the U. S.

With entrance of Italy into the war, Mexico's major petroleum markets were closed. Germany, an important barter partner, was lost with outbreak of the conflict. Other Mexican exports to Europe have suffered likewise.

Cost Of Living Rises

The result of this shutting down of markets, government financial authorities asserted today, has been a marked rise in the cost of living, the necessity for President Cardenas to curtail part of this revolutionary program and an increase in public dissatisfaction because of the economic hardships imposed.

They asserted, however, that the government is meeting these problems successfully.

In the midst of the political and economic fermentation associated with the presidential campaigns and dar disruption of markets came the bid by the Germans and the Allies for Mexican sympathy.

Efficient propaganda machines were established here by the French, British and German governments.

Discord Is Fomented

With this propaganda came widespread reports of Nazi-Communists "fifth column" activity that intended to distract the United States from its growing concern with the European conflict and the plight of the Allies by fomenting discord below the Rio Grande.

Official and public opinion in the United States was becoming alarmed by increasing publicity of the extent of these activities, particularly by the German agents here.

Finally Mexico, disturbed by the attitude of the United States, took action.

Arthur Dietrich, press attache of the German legation and director of Nazi propaganda in Mexico, was notified by the foreign ministry this week that he no longer was "persona grata" with the Mexican government. He was requested to leave as quickly as possible.

Timon, an elaborate propaganda magazine published by Dietrich's office, was suspended. It was reported that the German propaganda newspaper, "Diario Aleman" would be closed.

The French and British propaganda agents, who have engaged in no political activity apparently, were left undisturbed.

WORK ON SUNDAY

CARDIFF, June 1. (AP) — Welsh miners will work on Sundays for the duration of the war in an effort to counterbalance the loss to France of its northern coal fields, it was decided in a meeting here today.

Learn-To-Swim Classes At City Pool To Start Monday; Many Enrolled In Course

(Pictures On Page 8, Section 1)

Learn-to-swim classes are ready to start.

The first of the 10 lessons comprising the complete course is scheduled Monday morning at City swimming pool in Mackenzie state park where the classes will be conducted for the second successive year under sponsorship of Avalanche-Journal publications and the local chapter of the Red Cross.

Every person 7 years of age or older who cannot swim or who does not swim expertly is invited to enroll. A coupon for that purpose accompanies this article.

Mast In Charge

In charge of instructions will be Clarence Mast, manager of the pool, with Marvin McLarty his chief assistant. Both are senior water safety instructors, which is the highest award of the kind made by the Red Cross. Assisting them will be Ralph Cocanougher, J. A. Blackwell and Max Walthall, all expert swimmers.

It is important, Mast emphasized, that those enrolling join the classes at the beginning. Late enrollments cannot be accepted because enrollees will retard those who start at the beginning.

Last year, approximately two-thirds of the more than 300 persons enrolled earned Red Cross swimming certificates. Mast believes the ratio will be higher this year because the course consists of 10 lessons instead of seven.

There is no reason, he declared, why any person who really will make the effort cannot learn to swim. They won't be expert swimmers when they finish the course, he explained, but they will have learned the fundamentals and they should be able to swim enough to get themselves out of almost any trouble they are likely to find themselve in in the water.

Suits May Be Rented

The only charge to be made of those enrolled will be 5 cents each day for use of the pool. That money goes to the city. Mast, McLarty and the other instructors, though employes of the pool, receive nothing for their instructional services. The Avalanche-Journal and the Red Cross, of course, receive nothing.

Those enrolling must supply their own swim suits and towels. Both, however, may be rented at the pool if desired, the charge being 20 cents for suits and 5 cents for a towel.

The schedule of classes follows:

6:30-7 a. m., business men.
7-7:30 a. m., business women.
7:30-8 a. m., no class.
8-8:30 a. m., and 8:30-9 a. m., housewives.
9-9:30 a. m., boys, ages 7 to 10 inclusive.
9:30-10 a. m., girls, 7 to 10 inclusive.
10-10:30 a. m., boys, ages 11 to 14, inclusive.
10:30-11 a. m., girls, ages 11 to 14, inclusive.
11-11:30 a. m., boys, ages 15 to 20, inclusive.
11:30-noon, girls, ages 15 to 20, inclusive.
1-1:30 p. m., young men, aged 21 and over.
1:30-2 p. m., young women, aged 21 and over.

GRADY TO SPEAK

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP) — Assistant U. S. Secretary of State Henry P. Grady will speak on "Economics of Pan-American countries in a world preparing for war" at the University of Texas July 2, university officials announced today.

LEARN-TO-SWIM ENROLLMENT BLANK

This coupon is provided with the request that it be filled out by those desiring to enroll so that an advance idea may be obtained of the number for whom provision must be made in learn-to-swim classes. It should be brought or mailed to The Avalanche-Journal 1211-13 Texas avenue, or be left at the city swimming pool in Mackenzie State park.

Weygand's Efforts Are To Protect Hinge Of Defense

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

General Weygand's efforts to resist Germany's new offensive of annihilation are concentrated for the moment along the eastern flank of his battlefront. The Germans are centering their attack in the vicinity of St. Didier because here is the hinge of the French line which turns northward passing through Verdun and running to the northwestern corner of the Maginot line, sixty five miles away. If this hinge can be broken, and the main French line flung backward toward the new fighting area south of Paris, the Allied forces will be cut into three sections.

The first section, comprising most of Weygand's strength, will have to retreat southwestward. The second section will comprise the French forces between St. Didier and the northwestern pivot of the Maginot line, including Verdun and the Argonne. The third section will include all the rest of the Maginot fortifications, which will then become isolated and rendered useless for any major purpose.

Lines Still Intact

Weygand's lines, however, are still intact and there is no indication as yet of the St. Didier hinge breaking. Nevertheless, only lessening of German pressure it would seem, can prevent continuation of the slow Allied retreat. If Weygand is forced to abandon Verdun, that part of his line may have to swing southeastward, himself pivoting on or near St. Didier. Should the retreat become extensive, he would have to consider abandonment of the Maginot line between Montmedy and Strasboug using the Vosges mountains to protect his right flank.

The problem of giving up at least part of the Maginot forts is associated with the direction of the French retreat. If they were abandoned successfully their heavy garrisons would be added to Weygand's mobile force, and it may be that some abandonment already has taken place to give Weygand reserves which he badly needs. The Maginot line has lost its principal purpose of preventing a German invasion of France, but it still serves as a long distance protection of Weygand's right flank. If the battlefront changes its course, however, part of this protection, north of Strasbourg, would become unnecessary.

Posts Are Occupied

Italian claim that some French Alpine posts have been occupied do not specify details. Earlier reports, however, said there were Italian operations in the Galisia Alpine region and it may be here that the Italians are beginning to show their strategic objective. The Galisia pass, a small defile, is too narrow and isolated to serv as an area for serious military operations. It is south of the Swiss border and is very near the French province of Savoie, formerly belonging to the resent Italian royal family.

The annexation of Savoie is one of Mussolini's prime reasons for entering the war. About forty five miles south is the important Mount Cenis pass, leading into Savoie. The present Italian Alpine thrust, it seems, may thus have preliminary significance of a late operation to be aimed on a wider scale toward Savoie.

ROTC At Texas U. Is Studied

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP)—Whether there shall be a Reserve Officers' Training Corps at the University of Texas has been referred to the board of regents President Homer P. Rainey has notified State Rep. Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg, sponsor of a bill in the last session of the legislature to establish such a voluntary training unit.

Protests from students, professors and others were lodged before the legislature and the bill was not passed.

Would Abolish Opposition

In view of the present threatening world situation Petsch this week wrote President Rainey asking that opposition to establishment of such a unit be withdrawn.

Dr. Rainey replied that the University of Texas has already notified the federal government that the university will co-operate in any way the government may desire and suggesting that its scientific equipment can be helpful. Dr. Rainey also notified Petsch, a former university student and a major in the last World war, that his suggestion would be presented to regents at their meeting today.

Regents had not completed their session. Announcement from their morning conference contained no reference to military preparedness.

Branding Of Lobbyists In Louisiana Proposed

BATON ROUGE, La., June 15 (AP) — A proposal to require all lobbyists to wear red uniforms, green caps and yellow shoes "so we'll all be on our guard against them" was suggested to the Louisiana Senate.

Action on the resolution was deferred.

Stanley W. Foran To Speak Here Twice Monday On Americanism

STANLEY W. FORAN

Members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Lubbock Lions club and Allen Bros. Post of the American Legion were making final plans Saturday for the appearances here Monday noon and night of Stanley W. Foran of Dallas in two Americanism talks.

Foran is to speak Monday noon at the Hilton in a joint luncheon of the Jaycees, Lions, Optimists and American Business clubs and again at night at the First Baptist church auditorium.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Technological college, will introduce Foran at the night meeting.

Has Made Many Speeches

Foran, an advertising man, has been conducting a "one-man crusade" in the past twenty-four months to awaken Americans to the value of the American Way of Life—talking to more than 400 audiences totaling 180,000 visible people to say nothing of the millions reached by the broadcasting of more than 70 of these talks plus versions of his speech printed in millions of copies of newspapers, magazines, house organs, etc. Score of these talks have been before Lions clubs of Texas.

Foran is vice president of the Downtown Lions club of Dallas, chairman of the Americanism committee of Hella Temple Shrine of Dallas, department of Texas American Legion Americanism committee, and member of the military affairs committee of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Expect Capacity Audience

A capacity audience is expected for the night speaking at the Baptist auditorium, officials in charge said Saturday. Bruce Collier is chairman of the Jaycee arrangements group and Grady West of the legion.

A number of members of junior chambers from Brownfield, Littlefield, Pampa and Amarillo plan to attend either the noon luncheon or night meeting, Collier said Saturday.

Full Slate Of Legion Officers To Be Named

A mistaken belief that only a commander and three vice commanders of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion will be chosen at approaching elections was corrected Saturday by A. I. Glassman, post commander.

Nominating committees which are scheduled to report the night of June 24 have been instructed to nominate full slates of officers, according to the commander. Opportunity will be given for further nominations from the floor, he said. The election will be held in July.

Glassman explained that the executive committee of the post has recommended an amendment to the post constitution under which only the commander and three vice commanders would be elected. Other positions would be appointed. He added, however, that the amendment will not go into effect unless it is approved by the post membership.

Texas Chiropodists Invited To Lubbock

Lubbock Retail Merchants association joined Saturday in the invitation to the Texas society of Chiropody to hold the 1941 convention of the society in Lubbock, according to Mrs. Gladys Workman, association secretary.

Previous letters to officers and members of the society to meet here next year were sent from the chamber of commerce and city officials.

The 1940 convention will convene for a three-day session in San Antonio Friday. Dr. Marshall Harvey will represent Lubbock. Tuesday afternoon so meeting of the state ropody before the conv

Drive By Red Cross Launched

Appointment of a chairman for a Lubbock county Red Cross drive for war relief funds and plans for immediate and intensive efforts to raise the county's quota of $4,040 were announced Saturday.

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson accepted request of a committee to serve as chairman of the drive. The committee, comprised of Mrs. C. E. Slaton, A. C. Jackson and Glen Hess, was appointed at a reorganization meeting of the chapter Friday night.

"In time of distress the American people always look to the Red Cross for help, said Dr. Hutchinson. "With the European conflict has come a need for help for the relief of suffering among the wounded and civilian populations of the stricken countries.

Plea Is Made

"To finance this work the American Red Cross is seeking to raise twenty million dollars for this cause, he continued. "Lubbock countys quota is $4,040. In assuming responsibility for the raising of this fund in Lubbock county I am asking the citizens of Lubbock county to send in their contributions without delay. No donation is too small and none too large."

Donations may be taken or mailed to Charles E. Maedgen, jr., at the Lubbock National bank, the Lubbock county treasurer, or to Hess at his office at 1009 Texas avenue.

"We trust that the people of Lubbock county will respond as they have always done in the past and that our quota may be reached at once, the drive chairman said.

It was explained that 85 per cent of the amount raised would be forwarded to the American Red Cross to be sent abroad for relief of persons suffering because of the war. Fifteen per cent will remain in Lubbock county to be used for making bandages, for sewing and for other work directly connected with war relief needs.

In case of needs in this country for similar relief, the funds may be diverted for use in the United States.

Many counties already have completed their drives, raising quotas set for them.

The Lubbock county chapter will seek to raise its quota by June 30. It was announced that $248.75 had been sent to the chapter for the purpose even before announcement was made of drive plans. An itemized list of donators will be published later.

Dr. Sam C. Arnett, jr., was elected temporary chapter chairman Friday night.

Death Follows Row Over Radio Playing

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Moy Poy, 18, who worked in the Chinese laundry owned by the father of Chin Mehum, 15, wanted to listen to the radio.

But Chin Mehum wanted to sleep. He jerked out the radio plug, stopping the music. For two days Moy Poy brooded.

Chin's father heard pistol shots last night in the rear of his laundry and ran for the police. They found Chin Mehum, shot twice, dead in bed. Moy Poy, a bullet through his chest, lay dead on the floor, clutching a gun.

The radio was playing.

London Fashion Shops Growing Gloomy; Even Mannequins Are In Uniform Now

LONDON, June 15. (U.P.)—London fashion establishments have been hard hit by the war and are anticipating even more difficult times ahead.

There is a lack of skilled labor. Many mannequins have deserted the fashion salons of Bond street to cover their slinking hips with the brown corduroy trousers of the Women's Land Army. The swift fingers of seamstresses are employed milking cows.

The war also took many women from the drawing rooms of Park Lane and into national service and therefore into uniform. A campaign has been waged to get the women back into evening gowns, but night clubs and restaurants are still sprinkled with girls who prefer the tailored blue of the W. R. E. N. or the khaki of the A. T. S.

Finally London expects no normal "season" this year. The "season" in London is in the summer, because the weather is more kind at that time to racing, the concert stage and the theater.

This year there will be no Courts, no racing at Ascot, no Royal Garden Party and probably few concerts. Large public gatherings are frowned upon by air raid precaution authorities.

The theater probably will continue its current boom but "dress-up" parties are not the rule, but the exception.

Labor and women in uniform is not the only problem confronting fashion designers. Every inch of available shipping space is demanded for the necessities of war and so-called luxury products no longer are imported.

Sequins for trimmings and other accessories cannot be obtained. Greater and greater quantities of wool are needed for uniforms. Eventually it may be necessary to ration silk.

News Briefs

The monthly art exhibit which will remain in a show window at Sansom Paint & Paper company, 1219 Avenue K, this week is comprised of "Lotus Leaves," a pastel, and two charcoal landscapes and a pewter fruit bowl by Miss Erma Stokes. Mrs. W. D. Girand chooses the exhibitions.

Dr. R. P. Reeds left Saturday for Kirksville, Mo., to visit relatives and friends and will continue from there to St. Louis, Mo., to attend a national osteopathic convention. His wife has been visiting near Kirksville. Dr. Reeds will visit Lucian Thomas, who is in Laughlin hospital in Kirksville, following surgery performed in efforts to correct paralytic condition of his legs. Although no feeling has returned to his lower limbs, friends here have been informed Thomas is improving in condition and he was not expected to regain feeling immediately. Dr. Reeds will return about July 1.

Lubbock County Bar association prbably will charter a bus for going to Fort Worth in early July to the state bar association meeting, it was announced after 26 members had gathered for luncheon Saturday in Lubbock hotel. Other business considered was described as "routine." Vaughn E. Wilson is president.

L. C. Garrett, formerly sales manager of Bowman Lumber company, has moved his family to Carlsbad, N. M., where he has been made manager of the yard recently acquired by the Bowman company, it was announced Saturday.

The textbook supply for the summer session at Texas Technological college has been affected by the war in Europe. The foreign languages department has received no information concerning books ordered in February from France and Spain.

William Stitt, graduate of the mechanical engineering department of Texas Technological college, has accepted appointment as project engineer for a flight of new stratoliners of the Boering Aircraft corporation to be made from Miami, Fla., to Colombia, South America.

Several Lubbock persons probably will go to Amarillo for this afternoon's address of Dr. Frances E. Townsend, author of the widely-known old age pension plan. The address will be in Amarillo's Municipal auditorium.

Harley Schulz, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Schulz of 10 miles northwest of Tahoka, was "resting well," it was said Saturday at Lubbock sanitarium. He was taken to the sanitarium late Friday after he suffered a severe knee laceration when a two-row lister on which he was riding upset.

Marlin Woodward, son of Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Woodward of 2006 Eighteenth street, will return about July 1 to March field, Riverside, Calif., where he is studying airplane mechanics in Curtis Wright Tech. He came here to attend funeral rites for W. R. Woodward, 23, a brother, who was in a car crash near Shallowater June 8.

Hale Center Planning Fourth Of July Party

HALE CENTER, June 15. — Free fireworks, a band concert and lots of concessions offering the public plenty of action for their money, are planned as a part of the Lions club Fourth of July carnival here, according to Dr. R. S. Knapp, general chairman of the group planning for the affair.

The Lions club will operate six concessions, and the American Legion, the Parent-Teacher association, the local chapter of the Future Homemakers, as well as 4-H club boys and Future Farmer groups of Hale Center and Cotton Center are also planning to have concessions at the carnival.

It will be held on the ward school lawn here, and is to open at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon and operate until about 10:00 o'clock, with fireworks climaxing the event.

New Industries For Australia

ADELAIDE, Australia, June 14 (U.P.)—Australia is rapidly developing new industries, being stimulated by the need for coping with restrictions on imports, owing to the war, increased freight charges and difficulties of exchange.

The state of South Australia has appointed a research officer, S. H. Richardson, a government auditor, to help promote new industries and develop the old ones.

Announcing this decision, Premier Thomas Playford declared that if South Australia were to take advantage of the opportunity for expansion provided by existing conditions, the appointment of such an officer was essential.

Awaits British Machinery

British machinery is being used to equip a big factory at Kilkenny, in South Australia, for producing textiles. If war conditions permit the arrival of the machinery, the factory will be in operation soon.

Demand for items in Australia is in excess of supply, and probably the capacity of these new works would have to be doubled in future, declared F. Coop, a director of the firm owning the plant. Owing to the war, cotton goods were difficult to obtain from Britain or the rest of Europe.

The plant would concentrate on making tenting and light duck. The need for Australia to grow more cotton and flax growing was emphasized by Coop. Australia needs about 14,000,000 square yards of canvas and duck annually. Supplies of flax from Russia might be cut off at any time.

Textile Expansion Planned

The commonwealth minister for customs, J. N. Lawson, also has announced extensive plans for extending the textile industry in Australia involving a capital outlay of $6,000,000 and providing work for more than 2,000 men. This involved the formation of a company to produce tire and cord fabric for tires and for making flax fabrics.

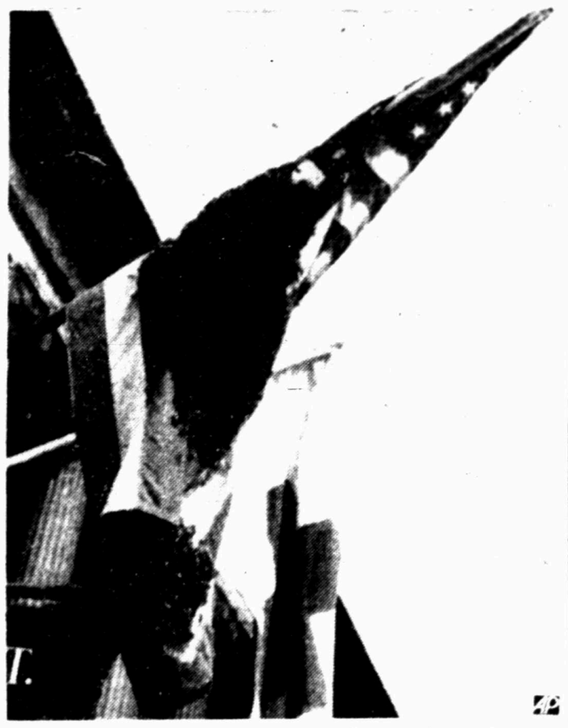

Progress made in the steel tube industry was emphasized by Playford, when he visited the mills of British Tube Mills, Ltd., at Kilburn, South Australia.

The premier said that it was a tribute to South Australian workmen who a year ago hardly knew that a steel tube industry existed, that they should now be turning out goods equal to anything of their kind.

OLD TIME SPELLERS HOLD OWN

BISBEE, Ariz. (U.P.)—Proud Bisbee fathers went down to the high school to watch their sons and daughters in a spelling bee. The parents were challenged by the students to an unscheduled spelling match. When the contest ended the dads found they were lucky to get a draw with the youngsters.

Belgium is the most densely populated country in Europe. There are about 710 persons to the square mile.

OLD GLORY IS ATTACKED—A swarm of bees all but made away with an American flag (at right) at the main entrance to the Treasury department in Washington, as a cop looks above. Bee-seed officials unsuccessfully attempted to rescue the flag, kept there in a case behind glass doors. A Red Cross flag next to Old Glory was left undisturbed.

Mighty Battleship Launched Thursday

NEW YORK, June 14 (U.P.)—As the first [illegible] since 1921 when the major naval [illegible] agreed to limit the size and power [illegible] the United States today launched the [illegible] battleship to be added to the navy since the beginning of the European war.

It was christened the U. S. S. North Carolina and was launched by Miss Gertrude Ashe, granddaughter of the late governor of the state, as a christening gift of the people of North Carolina to the United States navy.

The North Carolina, 35,000-tons and 750 feet long, is a sister ship of the Washington which was launched at Philadelphia on June 1, and of four others of the same class now under construction. The first battleships launched by this country since Europe was plunged into war.

Speaks Firm Language

"I speak a language that even a dictator can understand," said Gov. Clyde R. Hoey, shortly before his daughter, Isabel Young Hoey, smashed a bottle of French champagne across the ship's bow. "It represents another effort of our great nation to provide an adequate defense.

"The North Carolina, 35,000-tons and 750 feet long, is a sister ship of the Washington which was launched at Philadelphia on June 1, and of four others of the same class now under construction. The first battleships launched by this country since Europe was plunged into war.

It will be another year before the Washington and North Carolina are completed, and in that time three more, after the Delaware will be completed. Work already has been started on four 45,000-ton monsters.

Some 10,000 persons viewed the ceremonies but all were under wartime restrictions. To guard against sabotage and espionage hundreds of police patrolled outside the navy yard walls, hundreds of marines and sailors were on duty inside and federal agents and naval intelligence officers mixed with the crowd.

Lindbergh Says Americans Must Work Together

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh asserted tonight that the defens of the United States should be constructed with the "cooperation of all American countries," but that "we must insist upon military bases being placed wherever they are needed for our own safety, regardless of who owns the territory involved."

He embraced this idea of Western hemisphere defense in an address prepared for radio delivery in which he also asserted that "we must stop this trend" toward involvement in the European war and cease "these gestures with an empty gun."

Tonight's address by Lindbergh was the second of the same nature within a month On the last occasion he condemned "meddling with affairs abroad" and denounced "hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion"—a speech which brought criticism from various members of Congress and praise from some others.

Tonight he reiterated this viewpoint in these words:

"Dabbling" Criticized

"This dabbling we have been doing in European affairs can lead only to failure in the future as it has in the past. . . . We demand that foreign nations refrain from interfering in our hemisphere, yet we constantly interfere in theirs. . . . We have been doing to England and France what they did to Abyssinia, to Czechoslovakia, to Poland, To Finland, and to Norway—we have encouraged them to hope for help we

FDR Says U.S. To Rush Effort To Aid Allies

No Commitment Of Military Help Is Made By Chief

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 15—President Roosevelt, replying to the "last appeal" of Premier Reynaud for further aid for France, pledged redoubled efforts today to supply munitions, but told him that only Congress could make military commitments.

As long as the French continue to fight "in defense of their liberty," Mr. Roosevelt said, they can be assured that increasing quantities of airplanes, artillery and munitions will be sent them from this country.

Congress Must Decide

And the United States, he said, "will not consider as valid any attempts to infringe by force the independence and territorial integrity of France.

It was after making this pledge that Mr. Roosevelt referred to the question of military aid.

"I know that you will understand," he said, "that these statements carry with them no implication of military commitments. Only the Congress can make such commitments."

It was the first time in any of his public communications with heads of the Allied governments that Mr. Roosevelt had referred to the question of American military aid.

Plea For War?

Reynaud directed to the president last Thursday a message which the French premier described in a radio address as "a new and last appeal." In his address, Reynaud referred to the aid already received from America, declared that the French knew "what a high place ideals hold" in the life of the American people, and asked:

"Will they hesitate still to declare themselves against Nazi Germany?"

This question was interpreted by many as a plea for the United States to declare war on Germany.

In making public Mr. Roosevelt's reply, Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said that the premier's communication was not being given to reporters because it was the same as his radio address which had been published.

Details Not Disclosed

Mr. Roosevelt's message was made public in the late afternoon. Earlier, the chief executive had conferred for 70 minutes with the British and French ambassadors, Lord Lothian and Count De St. Quentin. White

Committee Approves Defense Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—A $1,007,000,000 defense tax bill carrying a requirement that President Roosevelt cut 10 per cent from all non-essential appropriations was approved today by the Senate finance committee.

The bill would create 2,190,000 new income tax payers by lowering existing exemptions from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons, and from $1,000, to $800 for single individuals. It also would increase corporaton and so-called "nuisance" taxes (levies on gasoline, theater tickets, automobile tires, etc.), would raise all personal income levies by a flat 10 per cent, and would increase the federal debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000.

In an unexpected move, the committee also wrote into the bill legislation by Senator Townsend (R-Del) to end treasury purchases of foreign silver.

Drunk Driver Sorry But That Did Not Reduce $138 Fine

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 15—The charge against William C. Roberts, 27, was driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

Officer Bruns McCarroll testified in city court today that Robert hit 11 cars and a pedestrian, almost hit a policeman, slammed his car door on the fingers of another cop, and knocked down seven concrete posts.

"I'm sorry I did that," said Roberts, then added, with a glance at the stern faced judge, "I guess that doesn't help much."

It didn't. He was fined $138.

Soviet Russia Sends Troops To Lithuania

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, June 15. — Soviet Russia gained by ultimatum today "free passage" into Lithuania—the little country bordering Germany on East Prussia—of an unlimited number of troops of the red army.

So far as was disclosed officially this force was ordered stationed in the most important centers only in "sufficient" strength to provide for the "implementing" of the Soviet-Lithuanian mutual assistance agreement.

Moscow To Decide

To Moscow alone, however, was left the decision as to how many men would be sufficient.

Russia thus was left with a free hand to put a wall of troops as big as she pleased very close to the Far Eastern Nazi frontiers.

Berlin dispatches reported that upon acceptance of the ultimatum, men of the red army began marching into Lithuania this afternoon, meeting no resistance.

It was on the basis of the mutual assistance pact—signed on Oct. 10, 1939, after Russia's seizure of eastern Polish territory while Germany was occupying its western sections, that Moscow moved suddenly today.

Prosecution Asked

Accusing the Lithuanians of kidnaping Soviet airmen, of the "murder" of a member of the Soviet army, of entering a Lithuanian-Latvian-Estonian military alliance hostile to Russia and of preparing an attack on a Soviet garrison in Lithuania, Russia demanded the right to send troops unmolested across the frontier.

She also demanded successfully that Lithuania replace its existing government with one "willing" to restrain "the enemies" of the pact, and that the Lithuanian minister of internal affairs and the director of political police be prosecuted "as those directly responsible for provocational actions against the Soviet garrison in Lithuania."

The Lithuanians were given a deadline of 10 o'clock this morning; at 9 o'clock, Moscow announced, they gave in.

Mothers Claim Same Infant After Raid

THE HAGUE, June 15. (AP)—Two tearful mothers, each claiming a baby boy whose parentage was obscured in the confusion of a bomb explosion in a maternity home during the conquest of the Netherlands, asked a local court to make a "judgment of Soloman" today.

The plaintiff said that on May 10, when a bomb struck the home, she handed her 10-day-old baby out a window to a pedestrian who took it to an air raid shelter. She accused the defendant of taking possession of it there.

The defendant contended that the baby, now seven weeks old, was her own.

Policeman Comes Up With New Answers

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 15 (AP)—An applicant for a job on the Asheville police force gave these answers to questions in a civil service commission questionnaire:

Q—Distinguish between larceny and embezzlement.

Q—What is meant by incendiarism?

Fate Of France May Be Known By World Today

No Hint Of What Was Decided By French Is Given

As The Allies Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 15.—British authorities expressed "sincere gratitude" tonight for President Roosevelt's promise of aid to the Allies as long as they "continue to resist," while reports were published in this capital that Sunday might decide the fight for France.

It was said that Allied commanders in the field had made a fateful decision which might tell the tale across the channel, but there was no hint as to what it was.

The French cabinet, having met today without announcement, will meet again tomorrow. Then it can consider the Roosevelt message.

Mr. Roosevelt's response to French Premier Paul Reynaud's "final" appeal for help was called here a "generous" one.

May Arm Civilians

His "assurance that the United States will redouble its efforts to send planes and munitions to the Allies as long as the Allied governments continue to resist," these sources added, "is especially welcome and his explanation that this assurance carries with it no implications of military character and that only Congress can make such commitments is fully understood and appreciated.

Britain summoned a new class of 300,000 to the colors, called for volunteers for the air force, and reached into her home defense reserve to back the exhausted armies in France.

A group of members of Parliament was called to meet next Tuesday to consider "arming the population" against invasion—the spokesman for the move, M. P. Clement Davies, declaring that the people, even women and any boy "who can throw a ball" should be given "hand grenades, bombs, pistols, anything."

Spokesmen at London declared

Two Are Injured In Automobile Mishap

Jackson Craig, 21, of Forsan suffered a severe laceration of the right hand early Saturday night when the coupe in which he was riding collided with a pickup four miles north of Tahoka.

He and two other occupants of the car, John Burton Barber, 19, of Forsan, driver of the car, and Eugene H. Tongue, 21, of Denver, Colo., were brought to Lubbock sanitarium by W. H. Glimp of Lubbock.

Craig was treated and dismissed. Tongue suffered a minor laceration on the neck. Barber was not injured.

Barber told B. L. Wooddell of the Texas Highway patrol, a defective steering mechanism on the car he was driving probably was responsible for the accident. Craig bought the machine Friday in Big Spring.

Hitler's Invading Army Pushes Over Rhine Into Alsace

As The Allies Tell It

BORDEAUX, June 15—Germany's armies threw a battering ram across the Rhine and into Alsace tonight in the face of the guns of the Maginot line.

(EDITOR' NOTE: The movement of the French government and communications facilities to the Bordeaux region has cut the news from France to a mere trickle. In London it is stated authoritatively that little military news from France may be expected until this transit is effected. The following story, however, has been received by wireless fro mAssociated Press men in Bordeaux):

Rhine—plunged over the Seine and touched the heights of Chaumont some 135 miles southeast of Germanengulfed Paris.

The French fought back with the fury of men in anguish.

The government met "somewhere in France." President Lebrun, Premier Reynaud, Generalissimo Weygand, Admiral Jean Darlan, the navy chief, and General Joseph Vuillemin, the air chief, were there.

In their grave position they dealt with the results of Reynaud's "final" pleas for American help, for "clouds of airplanes."

No Peace Seen

The semi official Havas agency said there would be no separate French peace with Hitler. Its dispatch was from London.

Official reports, the only ones available, said "a few detachments" crossed the Rhine after the most violent of bombardments.

This was at Neuf Breisach, some 40 miles south of Strasbourg.

The armies of Paris fell back "in the best of order."

The German armies of Champagne, seeking to engulf the French and to render the Maginot line helpless from the rear, were forced to fight one great battle after another.

Tonight these German armies had crossed the Seine at Romilly, some 65 miles southeast of Paris had in-

Great-Grandson Of Thomas Lubbock Dies

ABILENE, June 15. (AP)—Ellis K. Douthit, 37, Abilene attorney, died late today, a week after undergoing emergency surgery.

Funeral will be held here Sunday afternoon. Douthit was a member of a pioneer West Texas family. He was a great grandson of Thomas Lubbock, early-day governor, for whom the county and city of Lubbock were named.

Europe's War At A Glance

(By The Associated Press)

BORDEAUX — Germans cross Rhine into Alsace; advance guards of another Nazi army reach Chaumont, 135 miles southeast of Paris; retreating French fight valiantly; Reynaud cabinet meets again Sunday to consider Roosevelt reply to "final" appeal.

WASHINGTON—Roosevelt informs Reynaud that U. S. will redouble efforts to send planes, guns and munitions as long as Allies resist, but cautions "no implications of military commitment" go with this promise.

LONDON — British foresee Sunday decision in battle of France; reiterate solidarity of Allies. Appreciate Roosevelt's "generous response."

BERLIN — Germany claims capture of Verdun and break through Maginot line "in broad front;" sees no reason to halt hostilities.

MOSCOW — Soviet Russia sends tanks and more troops into Lithuania as Baltic nation bows to ultimatum.

STOCKHOLM—Foreign sources speculate that Russia also may move into Estonia and Latvia in fear of Germany's expanding power.

ROME — Italians claim their troops have pushed into France; fight off French naval attack on Genoa.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PLACE DE L'OPERA, PARIS, (By Courier Plane To Berlin), June 15 — The swastika banners of Nazi Germany, unfurled by the Austrian vanguard which Adolf Hitler significantly sent as the first of his troops to occupy Paris, floated today from atop practically every prominent and historic structure in this German-captured capital of France.

It is recalled that last Jan. 30, in a speech commemorating the seventh anniversary of the Nazi rise to power, the fuehrer twitted the premier of France for having expressed "pity" for Hitler's native Austria, and warned:

"Oh, Monsier Daladier, you're going to get to know my Austrians. You're going to make their acquaintance."

Hurry On To Battle

I, myself, an American correspondent, find myself in Paris as the guest of the German army even before the main forces of that army have arrived.

Only the Austrian vanguard is here. Other divisions have passed through the city, hurrying on to battle without pause. The bulk of the army of occupation is not here yet, but is expected to start arriving before this cable is received in America.

(The cable was written at 9 a. m.

Hitler Machine Storms Allies

Plans For Victory Are Being Made By Nazi Chiefs

As The Germans Tell It

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 15 — The famous fortified town and citadel of Verdun, reduced to virtual ruins in one of the bloodiest battles of the last war yet never taken by the imperial German army, fell today before the smash of Adolf Hitler's armies, the German high command announced tonight.

South of Saarbrucken, the high command also declared, the Nazi war machine has broken through the Maginot line on a "broad front" in its drive westward toward the conquered city of Paris.

Verdun, too, stands within the Maginot zone of forts, on the line's northwest.

No Occasion To Halt

An authorized spokesman, reflecting German reaction to the unprecedented successes of the men and machines in the field, said there was no occasion now to halt hostilities.

The spokesmen made the statement in commenting on reports that France, facing one of the most terrible defeats in her history, might seek a separate peace.

"France and England wanted this war," he said, "now they have it, and at present there is no occasion to stop."

Touching on the same subject, the authoritative news commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, said:

Victory Within Reach

"In view of the fact that victory already is within closest reach, there is hardly any occasion on the German side to approach the question of French capitulation."

This reflected the official German view that the vast Maginot line is a thing of the past, crumbling and indefensible, and that there is no military hope now for France.

The Germans now are not only attacking the Maginot frontally; they are within it and behind it.

Both statements were made while all of Germany still was hailing the capture of Paris and the high command's announcement that "the Reich's war flag is waving over the palace of Versailles where in 1871 the German destiny was established.

Prisoners Taken

In that earlier communique, the high command asserted the Germans had taken more than 200,000 prisoners in ten days of blitzkrieg and an "inestimable" amount of war materials.

The Germans tried to take Verdun, secure behind its related forts, in February, 1916. By September Germany's offensive had failed.

The French numbered their dead and wounded then at 350,000, the Germans at 330,000.

The storming of Verdun was a tremendous rear attack or a flank-turning movement against the line of steel and concrete fortifications which for long have been a symbol of French security—the Maginot line they thought was impregnable.

Italy Is Stronger

The other attack—south of Saarbrucken—was a frontal assault near the middle of the German-French frontier.

The Berlin newspaper "Nachtausgabe" commenting on the German victories, outlined three tasks facing the French high command:

Officers Deserve Praise

A FEW HOURS after the bombing of the home of District Judge E. L. Pitts here last Wednesday, The Lubbock Evening Journal, undoubtedly voicing the opinion of the community as a whole, called for quick action on the part of local officers in solving the case.

In a front-page editorial, The Journal said that the bombing demanded quick action on the part of city, county and state officials and if they couldn't furnish that action, outside help should be brought in.

Now all Lubbock knows that the officers here—working in unison and co-operating to the nth degree—furnished that quick action.

Within an hour after the bombing the chief suspect was in jail. From the time the chief suspect was taken into custody until his confession on Saturday noon, officers worked long and hard to solve the case and they did it in double-quick time.

Again voicing undoubted public opinion, The Avalanche-Journal commends the officers for their work and the intelligent, co-operative methods which brought success.

They did a fine job and they deserve the praise of the law-abiding public.

LITHUANIAN PRESIDENT IN FLIGHT

BERLIN, June 16. (Sunday)—Reports spread among Lithuanian correspondents here early today that Lithuanian President Antanas Smetona, fleeing before invading Russian troops, had crossed the border into Germany.

He was said to have been accompanied by several high officials of the Lithuanian government, which was forced out by Russian pressure.

FRENCH FAIL ON RHINE

BASEL, Switzerland, June 15.—French efforts to flood the Germans out of the foothold they had secured on the French side of the Rhine, 40 miles north of Basel, were reported tonight to have failed.

The French dynamited a great dam a few miles from Basel, apparently hoping the flood waters would frustrate the German attack across the river, but the Nazis retained their position.

TURKISH POLICY UNCHANGED

ANKARA, Turkey, June 15.—The government informed all foreign envoys tonight that Turkey's foreign policy remains unchanged and that for the present she will continue her non-belligerent status.

The notice was given after Soviet Russia, informed sources said, had made known to Ankara that Moscow would prefer that Turkey not enter the war on the grounds that extension of the war to the Balkans was "undesirable."

FDR'S AID TO BE TOO LATE

BERLIN, June 16. (Sunday)—The opinion of informed quarters in Berlin today was that President Roosevelt's promise of further aid for the French and British held out "little prospect of effective help to the Allies."

It was pointed out here that the continuance of material aid from America was conditioned by the president on continued resistance by the Allies against Germany.

Doubling Immigration Border Patrol Talked

EL PASO, June 15. (AP)—Doubling of the U. S. immigration border patrol was projected today along with preliminary steps for establishing a training school to provide 800 new border patrolmen along the Mexican and Canadian borders.

Local immigration authorities conferred on doubling the border personnel here with James E. Ruffing and Daniel McGrath, assistant U.S. attorneys general, who were ordered here by the justice department to study methods of intensifying border patrol activity.

Training of the 800 new border patrolmen will be undertaken in the ensuing eight months, it was stated, in details of 100 trainees at a time.

Royal Air Force Planes Meet Italian Aircraft

Little Damage Is Reported

BY J. H. YINDRICH
United Press Staff Correspondent

CARIO, Egypt, June 15 —Royal air force planes battled Italian aircraft attacking a British base in Egypt today and were officially reported to have driven them off after severe fighting.

A communique issued from royal air force headquarters in the Middle East said that the Italian planes attacked Salum, on the Egyptian coast, near the Libyan frontier.

"The attack was without material damage and was in retaliation for R.A.F. raids on Libya," it added.

Enemy Driven Off

"Our fighters immediately engaged and drove off the enemy."

The Italian attack was the first air attack on a British base in Egypt.

But the Italian warships he said, have not come into the open to take up the challenge and the British and French ships have to content themselves with protecting merchant shipping, attacking marauding submarines and sweeping up mines.

In Cario today police appeared on the streets with helmets and gas masks following a police conference in which the security of the city was discussed.

Passport Received

Traffic Commissioner Lieut. Col. Mahamed Choukri was ordered to requisition taxis and place them at the disposal of the military in the event of an emergency.

It was reported that the Italian Minister Serafine Mazzolini had received his passport but discussions were continuing concerning 60 other Italians for whom Mazzolini claimed diplomatic privilege. This group included Italian magistrates, bank managers and business men.

"Naturally, Egypt will not let the Italian minister leave before assuring herself that her own minister is safe," the newspaper Egyptienne commented.

Egypt severed diplomatic and commercial relations with Italy shortly after Italy declared war.

South Dakota Ghost Town

MOBRIDGE S. D., June 15. (U.P.)—Born as a frontier trading town, fostered by the booming cattle trade, and killed chiefly by the railroads that built elsewhere, the community that was LeBeau offers the typical case history of a ghost town.

Once faro wheels clicked in saloons where gamblers, gun-toting cow-punchers, Indians and land speculators "name their pizen" and drank it, each to his own health. Now, LeBeau remains a victim of the evolution of commerce.

In 1875 Antoine LeBeau, a French fur trader, pushed up the muddy Missouri from St. Louis to Swan creek and established a trading post. In 1883 a Captain Strong and a pioneer merchant named Pudor bought land from LeBeau, plotted it into a townsite and christened it LeBeau.

The location they believed, made the site ideal as the "future commercial, agricultural, railroad and mining metropolis of central Dakota." (Dakota was not divided and the halves admitted to the union until 1889.)

Boomers Spread Word

LeBeau was believed the logical gateway to the Black Hills. Two hundred pioneer residents boasted to others of the surrounding "millions of acres of finest wheatland and rich timber stock," lauded its importance as a port of river traffic and prophesied railroads would converge upon it to transport gold—from mines, from grain fields and on the hoof—to markets.

Stage coaches rattled to Pierre, Aberdeen and Bismarck. Stores mushroomed and three hotels flourished. Three lumberyards, a newspaper and a bank swelled the building until it reached a total of 60 structures.

Great cattle outfits — the Turkey rack, Diamond A and Matador—had headquarters within a comfortable radius of LeBeau.

Railroad Skipped Town

Then civilization caught up with and passed LeBeau. The government opened the range to homesteaders and they fenced the rangeland. The Milwaukee railroad, which ran through nearby towns, but not LeBeau, beat the Minneapolis & St. Louis line into western territory and the latter decided not to fight an established road.

The "never-failing" body of water in Swan Lake began to dry up. Two suspicious fire destroyed much of the town.

The population with not much to live on except itself, dwindled faster than the saloon's supply of liquor.

Texas Pistoleers Are Downed By Kansans

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP) — Texas pistoleers have tasted defeat — defeat by a bunch of harmless looking Kansas City cops.

It happened yesterday on the target range here.

Five Kansas City policemen stood among the tall border patrolmen from the roaring Rio Grande country and experts from the pistol conscious Panhandle. They blazed away, shot for shot.

When the smoke cleared the Kansas City men had the prize — the coveted Colonel H. H. Carmichael trophy for the five man team.

The Kansas City team rolled up a score of 1271 points.

Normally, more than 4,000 trading ships annually visit the harbor of Alexandria, Egypt's leading port.

Two South Plains Youths Soon Will Be Wearing Wings In Nation's Air Force

Nineteen Texas men soon will be wearing wings in Uncle Sam's rapidly expanding Army Air corps.

Tow of them, Brooks A. Lawhon of Levelland and Jimmie W. Britt of Welch, are from this area.

A total of 7,000 pilots is to be trained annually, according to a recent statement by Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the air corps, hard on the heels of the president's defense message to Congress.

To Transfer To Kelly

Flying Cadets Lawhon and Britt are among the 215 student pilots slated to complete their basic flight training at Randolph field, the "West Point of the Air" today. They will be transferred to the advanced flying school at Kelly field for another 10-weeks period of flying instruction, before joining either a bombardment, pursuit or observation squadron of the air corps.

Every five weeks thereafter another class of student pilots will complete its basic training either at Randolph or at one of the other training schools soon to be announced, and will go into the advanced period of flight schooling before receiving their wings.

Program Is Expanded

When the first air corps expansion program was announced last spring, plans were laid for an air army of 5,500 airplanes and a comparable number of highly trained pilots. Today a training program envisioning 7,000 pilots and 7,000 navigators and bombardiers annually is getting under way.

Under the air corps pilot training plan approved early in June, flying cadets will be transferred into military pilots in slightly less than a year. Ten weeks of elementary training on rugged 200 horsepower biplanes will be followed by a second 10-weeks period of basic flight training on 450 horsepower low wing monoplanes.

A third 10-weeks period of advanced flying training at one of three advanced flying schools will prepare the future birdmen for a final five-weeks course in specialized aviation, such as pursuit, bombardment, attack or observation. In all, approximately 265 hours of flying time will be logged by each flying cadet during the training course.

Every Maneuver Taught

Every maneuver in the veteran pilot's bag of tricks is taught the future airmen of the air corps. Within a few days after the flying cadet arrives at one of the many elementary flying schools, he is making landings and take-offs under watchful eyes of his flight instructor.

Within eight hours flying time he has soloed, and is mastering the intricacies of the chandelle, lazy eight and pylon 8, all training maneuvers. Before completing the first 65 hours of the 265-hour course, aerial acrobatics such as loops, rolls and Immelman turns are executed as a matter of course.

Successively, the flying cadet puts in time in the BT-9s or BT-14s low wing monoplanes, developing aerial gyrations and first tastes of night flying, formation flying, wing tip to wing tip navigation, more aerial acrobatics and advanced instrument flight training, and, in the final phase, in diving and zooming in 300-mile-an-hour pursuit or giant twin engined bombers all climaxed by graduation day, awarding of wings and a commission as 2nd lieutenant in the air corps reserve.

Information received by the Avalanche-Journal from the war department public relations office at Randolph field said applications for appointment as flying cadets in the air corps are being received in greatly increasing numbers. It was pointed out that flying cadets who also receive $75 a month during the training period, later get $205 a month after graduation and appointment as officers in the reserve.

Berlin Paper Says United States Could Not Help The Allies To Win The War

BERLIN, June 15 (U.P.)—The newspaper Hamburger Fremdenblatt said today that even if the United States wished to help the Allies win the war it would not be able.

And, the newspaper said, if the United States wishes European recognition of the Monroe Doctrine it must recognize the doctrine of Europe for Europeans.

Is Another World

"America is another world," the newspaper said. "Its isolationists—the real Americans, peaceful conquerors of the continent who for years were for the peaceful well being of their farms in the middle west, the Pacific ocean and the Gulf of Mexico—are absolutely right when, by their natural attitude, they always maintain that it is a matter for Europeans to put European affairs in order. To their way of thinking recognition of the American Monroe Doctrine by Europe is predicated on recognition of the European Monroe Doctrine by America."

Lubbock Men Attend Optimist Gathering

Dr. A. W. Young, president of Lubbock Optimist club, and S. E. Marbut, chairman of the board of governors, left Saturday for Kansas City to attend the annual convention of Optimist international which will continue through Wednesday.

Mrs. Young and Mrs. Marbut accompanied them.

With them they took reports, including pictures, on numerous activities of the local club in behalf of youth, including sponsorship of a Boy Scout troop and of the scouts' participation in the recent city-wide cleanup campaign.

En route home they expect to visit in southeastern Missouri, where Marbut was born and reared. They expect to return Friday.

Idaho Extends Silicosis Fight

BOISE, Idaho, June 15 (U.P.)—The latest in modern medical equipment housed in a 6-wheel trailer is cruising throughout Idaho to gather statistical material on the extent of silicosis. That is Idaho's answer to the nation's silicosis problem.

Dr. A. P. Gallivan, director of the bureau of industrial hygiene, and H. C. Coats, engineer for the bureau are in charge of the hospital on wheels officially known as the Idaho industrial hygiene mobile X-ray unit.

The unit with its built-in equipment was designed so that it may be towed to various sections of the state and used by doctors in making physical examinations and taking X-rays of industrial workers.

Based On 1938 Study

The mobile unit was built jointly by the state industrial accident board and the state division of public health after a preliminary study in 1938 indicated silicosis and lead poisoning, the scourge of workers employed in industries where dust abounds, were prevalent.

State health officials hope that use of the unit will serve to indicate accurately the extent of the disease and determine methods for its control.

Industrial workers who are exposed to a silica dust hazard will be examined and X-rays taken. It was believed that in the process of gathering data many cases would be discovered and those exposed could be advised on treatment.

Not For Treatments

Except where specific requests are received for special industrial hygiene services, the unit is to be used only for gathering data for statistical purposes. It is not intended that the use of the unit or the services of the doctor and engineer are to replace or do the work of a company or private physicians and engineers, public welfare department officials said.

In addition to equipment for X-ray studies, physical examinations can be made in the mobile unit, blood tested for syphilis or lead poisoning, and sputum examined for traces of tuberculosis infections.

Dental Unit To Be At Tech Wednesday

State department of health has been in habit of sending its mobile dental unit to schools and teaching students how to correct dental defects, but the department has gone a step further, as evidenced by a Wednesday program at Texas Technological college.

Whereas, during the regular term of school, the traveling unit has set up and regularly-licensed dentist has done work free for children of indigent parents, the unit Wednesday will be with a view to instructing teachers here for the summer term how to get across to their students the necessity for caring for teeth.

The unit will be set up between the library and the chemistry building. Miss Mayme Alexander, visiting teacher of Lubbock schools, will cooperate in obtaining several children to submit to dental repairs.

The program will begin at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and be concluded at 5 o'clock that afternoon, said Dr. J. B. McCorkle, in charge of Lubbock arrangements.

Five Features Slated At Tech This Week

This week's summer recreational program at Texas Technological college will include five features, four of which will be open only to students and one to the general public.

The program open to the public will be presented Thursday night by Mrs. Jed Rix, pianist, and Mrs. Eloise Snyder, coloratura soprano, both of Fort Worth. Admission will be 50 cents, except to holders of season tickets.

Holders of summer recreational student tickets may attend the following, in addition to the concert: Tuesday night, motion picture show, "My Man Godfrey," with William Powell and Carol Lombard; Wednesday night band concert, directed by D. O. Wiley; Friday night, dance, women's dormitory; Saturday night, motion picture shorts.

All programs will be presented on the lawn south of the administration building.

Strain Of European War Is Being Felt By Mexican People And Governme

Tension Mounts Over Country

MEXICO CITY June 15 (AP) — Mexico's presidential campaign, economic outlook and foreign policy today bear the stamp of the strain that the European conflict has imposed on the Mexican people and government.

The world-wide impact of the Nazi sweep across Europe with its special significance for the western hemisphere has not escaped this republic. Rather the social, political and economic landscape here has been modified under the shock. Tension has been deepened.

The most important efforts of the war may be summarized as follows:

Want U. S. Friendship

1. The growing belief here that a German victory is imminent and constitutes a threat to progressive democracy in this hemisphere has created strong sentiment among government officials, military authorities, labor elements and the general public close collaboration with the United States. This collaboration would be military, economic and political.

2. Declarations that Mexico must choose between democracy and totalitarianism have shared more and more with discussion of internal issues in the speeches of the presidential candidates.

3. Loss of world markets particularly for petroleum has placed a severe burden on the republic's economy causing an increase in the cost of living, creating unrest and accelerating modifications in several aspects of President Cardenas' revolutionary program.

Uneasiness Is Stirred

4. The battle of German and Allied propaganda here with the United States an anxious spectator has stirred uneasiness among the people and the government. The situation was only clarified in the past few days when the government initiated drastic action against the leaders and organs of Nazi propaganda and of suspected fifth column activists.

5. The government has privately become anxious for a settlement of the petroleum controversy with Great Britain in the belief that it would help the Allied cause.

In the opinion of responsible government circles the German successes have brought nearer every day the entrance of the United States into the war, and thus the direct involvment of the western hemisphere in the struggle.

Seek Full Collaboration

The prevailing sentiment seems to be for the fullest collaboration with the United States in defense of democracy in this hemisphere.

This was given public expression yesterday by General Rafael Sanchez Tapia, one of the republic's three presidential candidates.

General Manuel Avila Camacho, official government candidate for the presidency, and General Juan Andreau Almazan, principal independent standard-bearer, have spoken out more and more for democracy against any form of Nazism, Fascism or Communism in Mexico and for stronger ties with the U. S.

With entrance of Italy into the war, Mexico's major petroleum markets were closed. Germany, an important barter partner, was lost with outbreak of the conflict. Other Mexican exports to Europe have suffered likewise.

Cost Of Living Rises

The result of this shutting down of markets, government financial authorities asserted today, has been a marked rise in the cost of living, the necessity for President Cardenas to curtail part of this revolutionary program and an increase in public dissatisfaction because of the economic hardships imposed.

They asserted, however, that the government is meeting these problems successfully.

In the midst of the political and economic fermentation associated with the presidential campaigns and dar disruption of markets came the bid by the Germans and the Allies for Mexican sympathy.

Efficient propaganda machines were established here by the French, British and German governments.

Discord Is Fomented

With this propaganda came widespread reports of Nazi-Communists "fifth column" activity, that intended to distract the United States from its growing concern with the European conflict and the plight of the Allies by fomenting discord below the Rio Grande.

Official and public opinion in the United States was becoming alarmed by increasing publicity of the extent of these activities, particularly by the German agents here.

Finally Mexico, disturbed by the attitude of the United States took action.

Arthur Dietrich, press attache of the German legation and director of Nazi propaganda in Mexico, was notified by the foreign ministry this week that he no longer was "persona grata" with the Mexican government. He was requested to leave as quickly as possible.

Timon, an elaborate propaganda magazine published by Dietrich's office, was suspended. It was reported that the German propaganda newspaper, "Diario Aleman" would be closed.

The French and British propaganda agents, who have engaged in no political activity apparently, were left undisturbed.

WORK ON SUNDAY

CARDIFF, June 1. (AP) — Welsh miners will work on Sundays for the duration of the war in an effort to counterbalance the loss to France of its northern coal fields, it was decided in a meeting here today.

Learn-to-swim classes are ready to start.

The first of the 10 lessons comprising the complete course is scheduled Monday morning at City swimming pool in Mackenzie state park where the classes will be conducted for the second successive year under sponsorship of Avalanche-Journal publications and the local chapter of the Red Cross.

Every person 7 years of age or older who cannot swim or who does not swim expertly is invited to enroll. A coupon for that purpose accompanies this article.

Mast In Charge

In charge of instructions will be Clarence Mast, manager of the pool with Martin McLarty, his chief assistant. Both are senior water safety instructors which is the highest award of the kind made by the Red Cross. Assisting them will be Ralph Cocanougher, J. A. Blackwell and Max Walthall, all expert swimmers.

It is important, Mast emphasized, that those enrolling join the classes at the beginning. Late enrollments cannot be accepted because enrollees will retard those who start at the beginning.

Last year approximately two-thirds of the more than 300 persons enrolled earned Red Cross swimming certificates. Mast believes the ratio will be higher this year because the course consists of 10 lessons instead of seven.

There is no reason, he declared, why any person who really will make the effort cannot learn to swim. They won't be expert swimmers when they finish the course, he explained, but they will have learned the fundamentals and they should be able to swim enough to get themselves out of almost any trouble they are likely to find themselve in or in the water.

Suits May Be Rented

The only charge to be made of those enrolled will be 5 cents each day for use of the pool. That money goes to the city. Mast, McLarty and the other instructors, though employes of the pool, receive nothing for their instructional services. The Avalanche-Journal and the Red Cross, of course, receive nothing.

Those enrolling must supply their own swim suits and towels. Both however, may be rented at the pool if desired, the charge being 20 cents for suits and 5 cents for a towel.

The schedule of classes follows:

6:30-7 a. m., business men.
7-7:30 a. m., business women.
7:30-8 a. m., no class.
8-8:30 a. m., and 8:30-9 a. m., housewives.
9-9:30 a. m., boys, ages 7 to 10 inclusive.
9:30-10 a. m., girls, 7 to 10 inclusive.
10-10:30 a. m., boys, ages 11 to 14 inclusive.
10:30-11 a. m., girls, ages 11 to 14 inclusive.
11-11:30 a. m., boys, ages 15 to 20 inclusive.
11:30-noon, girls, ages 15 to 20 inclusive.
1-1:30 p. m., young men, aged 21 and over.

Weygand's Efforts Are To Protect Hinge Of Defense

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

General Weygand's efforts to resist Germany's new offensive of annihilation are concentrated for the moment along the eastern flank of his battlefront. The Germans are centering their attack in the vicinity of St. Didier, because here is the hinge of the French line which turns northward passing through Verdun and running to the northwestern corner of the Maginot line, sixty five miles away. If this hinge can be broken and the main French line flung backward toward the new fighting area south of Paris, the Allied forces will be cut into three sections.

The first section, composing most of Weygand's strength, will have to retreat southwestward. The second section will comprise the French forces between St. Dizier and the northwestern pivot of the Maginot line, including Verdun and the Argonne. The third section, which includes all the rest of the Maginot fortifications which will then become isolated and rendered useless for any major purpose.

Lines Still Intact

Weygand's lines however, are still intact and there is no indication as yet of the St. Dizier hinge breaking. Nevertheless, only lessening of German pressure it would seem can prevent continuation of the slow Allied retreat. If Weygand is forced to abandon Verdun, that part of the line may have to swing southward, ward himself pivoting on the point St. Didier. Should the retreat become extensive, he would have to consider abandonment of the Maginot line between Montmedy and Strasbourg, using the Vosges mountains to protect his right flank.

The problem of giving up at least part of the Maginot forts is associated with the direction of the French retreat. If the were abandoned successfully their heavy garrisons would be added to Weygand's mobile force, and it may be that some abandonment already has taken place to give Weygand reserves which he badly needs. The Maginot line has lost its principal purpose of preventing a German invasion of France, but it still serves as a long distance protection of Weygand's right flank. If the battlefront changes its course however, part of this protection, north of Strasbourg, would become unnecessary.

Posts Are Occupied

Italian claim that some French Alpine posts have been occupied do not specify details. Earlier reports, however, said there were Italian operations in the Galisia Alpine region and it may be here that the Italians are beginning to show their strategic objective. The Galisia pass, a small defile is too narrow and isolated to serve as an area for serious military operations. It is south of the Swiss border and is very near the French province of Savoie formerly belonging to the house of Italian royal family.

The annexation of Savoie is one of Mussolini's prime reasons for entering the war. About forty five miles south is the important Mount Cenis pass leading into Savoie. The present Italian Alpine thrust it seems may have preliminary significance of a big operation to be launched on a wider scale toward Savoie.

ROTC At Texas U. Is Studied

AUSTIN, June 15. (AP) Whether there may be a Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Texas has been referred to the board of regents, President Homer P. Rainey has notified State Rep. Allen Pendley of Fredericksburg, sponsor of a bill in the last session of the legislature to establish such a voluntary training unit.

Protests from students, professors and others were lodged before the legislature and the bill was not passed.

Would Abolish Opposition

In view of the present threatening world situation, Pendley this week wrote President Rainey asking that opposition to establishment of such a unit be withdrawn.

Dr. Rainey replied that the University of Texas has already notified the federal government that the university will co-operate in any way the government may desire and suggesting that its scientific equipment can be helpful. Dr. Rainey also notified Pendley, a former university student and a major in the last World war, that his suggestion would be presented to regents at their meeting today.

Regents had not completed their session. Announcement from their morning conference contained no reference to military preparedness.

Branding Of Lobbyists In Louisiana Proposed

BATON ROUGE, La., June 15. (AP) A proposal to require all lobbyists to wear red uniforms, green caps and yellow shoes "so we'll all be on our guard against them" was suggested to the Louisiana Senate.

Action on the resolution was deferred.

STANLEY W. FORAN

Members of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Lubbock Lions club and Allen Bros. Post of the American Legion were making final plans Saturday for the appearance here Monday noon and night of Stanley W. Foran of Dallas in two Americanism talks.

Foran is to speak Monday noon at the Hilton in a joint luncheon of the Jaycees, Lions, Optimists and American Business clubs and again at night at the First Baptist church auditorium.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Technological college, will introduce Foran at the night meeting.

Has Made Many Speeches

Foran, an advertising man, has been conducting a "one-man crusade" in the past twenty-four months to awaken Americans to the value of the American Way of Life—talking to more than 400 audiences totaling 180,000 visible people to say nothing of the millions reached by the broadcasting of more than 70 of these talks, plus versions of his speech printed in millions of copies of newspapers, magazines, house organs, etc. Score of these talks have been before Lions clubs of Texas.

Foran is vice president of the Downtown Lions club of Dallas, chairman of the Americanism committee of Hella Temple Shrine of Dallas, department of Texas American Legion Americanism committee and member of the military affairs committee of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Expect Capacity Audience

A capacity audience is expected for the night speaking at the Baptist auditorium, officials in charge said Saturday. Bruce Collier is chairman of the Jaycee arrangements group and Grady West of the legion.

A number of members of junior chambers from Brownfield, Littlefield, Pampa and Amarillo plan to attend either the noon luncheon or night meeting, Collier said Saturday.

Full Slate Of Legion Officers To Be Named

A mistaken belief that a slate of commander and three vice commanders of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion will be chosen at approaching elections was corrected Saturday by A. I. Glassman, post commander.

Nominating committees which are scheduled to report the night of June 24 have been instructed to nominate full slates of officers, according to the commander. Opportunity will be given for further nominations from the floor, he said. The election will be held in July.

Glassman explained that the executive committee of the post has recommended an amendment to the post constitution under which only the commander and three vice commanders would be elected. Other positions would be appointed. He added, however, that the amendment will not go into effect unless it is approved by the post membership.

Texas Chiropodists Invited To Lubbock

Lubbock Retail Merchants association joined Saturday in the invitation to the Texas society of Chiropody to hold the 1941 convention of the society in Lubbock, according to Mrs. Gladys Workman, association secretary.

Previous letters to officers and members of the society to meet here next year were sent from the chamber of commerce and city officials.

The 1940 convention will convene for a three-day session in San Antonio Friday. Dr. Marshall Harvey

Drive By Red Cross Launched

Appointment of a chairman for a Lubbock county Red Cross drive for war relief funds and plans for immediate and intensive efforts to raise the county's quota of $4,040 were announced Saturday.

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson accepted request of a committee to serve as chairman of the drive. The committee, comprised of Mrs. C. E. Slaton, A. C. Jackson and Glen Hess, was appointed at a reorganization meeting of the chapter Friday night.

"In time of distress the American people always look to the Red Cross for help, said Dr. Hutchinson. "With the European conflict has come a need for help for the relief of suffering among the wounded and civilian populations of the stricken countries.

Plea Is Made

"To finance this work the American Red Cross is seeking to raise twenty million dollars for this cause, he continued. "Lubbock countys quota is $4,040. In assuming responsibility for the raising of this fund in Lubbock county I am asking the citizens of Lubbock county to send in their contributions without delay. No donation is too small and none too large."

Donations may be taken or mailed to Charles E. Maedgen, jr., at the Lubbock National bank, the Lubbock county treasurer, or to Hess at his office at 1009 Texas avenue.

"We trust that the people of Lubbock county will respond as they have always done in the past and that our quota may be reached at once, the drive chairman said.

It was explained that 85 per cent of the amount raised would be forwarded to the American Red Cross to be sent abroad for relief of persons suffering because of the war. Fifteen per cent will remain in Lubbock county to be used for making bandages, for sewing and for other work directly connected with war relief needs.

In case of needs in this country for similar relief the funds may be diverted for use in the United States.

Many counties already have completed their drives, raising quotas set for them.

The Lubbock county chapter will seek to raise its quota by June 30. It was announced that $248.75 had been sent to the chapter for the purpose even before announcement was made of drive plans. An itemized list of donators will be published later.

Dr. Sam C. Arnett, jr., was elected temporary chapter chairman Friday night.

Death Follows Row Over Radio Playing

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Moy Poy, 18, who worked in the Chinese laundry owned by the father of Chin Mehum, 15, wanted to listen to the radio.

But Chin Mehum wanted to sleep. He jerked out the radio plug, stopping the music. For two days Moy Poy brooded.

Chin's father heard pistol shots last night in the rear of his laundry and ran for the police. They found Chin Mehum, shot twice, dead in bed. Moy Poy, a bullet through his chest, lay dead on the floor, clutching a gun.

The radio was playing.

London Fashion Shops Growing Gloomy; Even Mannequins Are In Uniform Now

LONDON, June 15. (U.P.)—London fashion establishments have been hard hit by the war and are anticipating even more difficult times ahead.

There is a lack of skilled labor. Many mannequins have deserted the fashion salons of Bond street to cover their slinking hips with the brown corduroy trousers of the Women's Land Army. The swift fingers of seamstresses are employed milking cows.

The war also took many women from the drawing rooms of Park Lane and into national service and therefore into uniform. A campaign has been waged to get the women back into evening gowns, but night clubs and restaurants are still sprinkled with girls who prefer the tailored blue of the W. R. E. N. or the khaki of the A. T. S.

Finally Lohdon expects no normal "season" this year. The "season" in London is in the summer, because the weather is more kind at that time to racing, the concert stage and the theater.

This year there will be no Courts, no racing at Ascot, no Royal Garden Party and probably few concerts. Large public gatherings are frowned upon by air raid precaution authorities.

The theater probably will continue its current boom but "dress-up" parties are not the rule, but the exception.

Labor and women in uniform is not the only problem confronting fashion designers. Every inch of available shipping space is demanded for the necessities of war and so-called luxury products no longer are imported.

Sequins for trimmings and other accessories cannot be obtained. Greater and greater quantities of wool are needed for uniforms. Eventually it may be necessary to ration silk.

Commission Asked To Deny Petition Of 60 Railroads

ABILENE, June 15.—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce and its freight rate equality federation today urged the railroad commission of Texas to deny a petition of 60 railroad companies, filed with the commission Tuesday of this week asking it to vacate its order of May 15 further reducing intra-state class rates in the state.

A telegram addressed to Lon Smith, chairman of the commission, and to Jerry Sadler and Ernest Thompson, members, said:

"We note petition of 60 railroads largely owned and controlled by official zone interests requesting the commission for vacation of your May 15th order lowering our Texas class rates. Commission's leadership in striving for freight rate parity for Texas is applauded by all interested in general welfare and prosperity of our state, and we urge commission to continue its good work by immediately denying railroads' petition and we offer services of West Texas Chamber of Commerce and freight rate equality federation in fighting to a successful conclusion your recent orders for freight rate equality."

Signed By Heads

The telegram was signed by J. S. Birdwell, president of the WTCC; J. M. Willson, president of the FREF, and D. A. Bandeen, secretary and manager.

The order of May 15 prescribed reductions both on first class rates and on articles moving in transportation taking a percentage of first class rates. Jerry Sadler, member of the commission delivered the order in person, May 16, to the WTCC in its Big Spring convention. The order was the commission's second directed at equating the Texas class rate level with more favored territories east and north. Last October the commission ordered the abolishing of all rate differentials in Texas with an end to rate surcharges based upon differential territory. Twenty-five railroad companies enjoined the order, and it is in litigation.

News Briefs

The monthly art exhibit which will remain in a show window at Sansom Paint & Paper company, 1219 Avenue K, this week is comprised of "Lotus Leaves," a pastel, and two charcoal landscapes and a pewter fruit bowl by Miss Erma Stokes. Mrs. W. D. Girand chooses the exhibitions.

Dr. R. P. Reeds left Saturday for Kirksville, Mo., to visit relatives and friends and will continue from there to St. Louis, Mo., to attend a national osteopathic convention. His wife has been visiting near Kirksville. Dr. Reeds will visit Lucian Thomas, who is in Laughlin hospital in Kirksville, following surgery performed in efforts to correct paralytic condition of his legs. Although no feeling has returned to his lower limbs, friends here have been informed Thomas is improving in condition and he was not expected to regain feeling immediately. Dr. Reeds will return about July 1.

Lubbock County Bar association prbably will charter a bus for going to Fort Worth in early July to the state bar association meeting, it was announced after 26 members had gathered for luncheon Saturday in Lubbock hotel. Other business considered was described as "routine." Vaughn E. Wilson is president.

L. C. Garrett, formerly sales manager of Bowman Lumber company, has moved his family to Carlsbad, N. M., where he has been made manager of the yard recently acquired by the Bowman company, it was announced Saturday.

The textbook supply for the summer session at Texas Technological college has been affected by the war in Europe. The foreign languages department has received no information concerning books ordered in February from France and Spain.

William Stitt, graduate of the mechanical engineering department of Texas Technological college, has accepted appointment as project engineer for a flight of new stratoliners of the Boering Aircraft corporation to be made from Miami, Fla., to Colombia, South America.

Several Lubbock persons probably will go to Amarillo for this afternoon's address of Dr. Frances E. Townsend, author of the widely-known old age pension plan. The address will be in Amarillo's Municipal auditorium.

Harley Schulz, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Schulz of 10 miles northwest of Tahoka, was "resting well," it was said Saturday at Lubbock sanitarium. He was taken to the sanitarium late Friday after he suffered a severe knee laceration when a two-row lister on which he was riding upset.

Marlin Woodward, son of Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Woodward of 2006 Eighteenth street, will return about July 1 to March field, Riverside, Calif., where he is studying airplane mechanics in Curtis Wright Tech. He came here to attend funeral rites for W. R. Woodward, 23, a brother, who was in a car crash near Shallowater June 8.

Marlin Woodward was graduated in 1928 from Idalou High school.

Hale Center Planning Fourth Of July Party

HALE CENTER, June 15. — Free fireworks, a band concert and lots of concessions offering the public plenty of action for their money, are planned as a part of the Lions club Fourth of July carnival here, according to Dr. R. S. Knapp, general chairman of the group planning for the affair.

The Lions club will operate six concessions, and the American Legion, the Parent-Teacher association, the local chapter of the Future Homemakers, as well as 4-H club boys and Future Farmer groups of Hale Center and Cotton Center are also planning to have concessions at the carnival.

It will be held on the ward school lawn here, and is to open at 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon and operate until about 10:00 o'clock, with fireworks climaxing the event.

Policies Of West Texas Chamber Of Commerce Declared For Area's Produce

Goals Set Out In Publication

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

ABILENE, June 15 — The voice raised in support of area producers by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at its annual convention in Big Spring is echoing throughout the section this week with release of a declaration of policies by the regional organization.

The declaration, in pamphlet form, has been mailed to WTCC officers, chamber of commerce managers, newspaper editors, legislators and other public officials, and the 250 WTCC directors and committeemen named on ten major commissions to carry out the work program.

Bridwell Writes Preamble

"Policies of the organization reflect the voice of the producer, seeking parity and his rightful consideration in state and national economic affairs," declares WTCC President J. S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls in a preamble to the declaration. He added: "The declarations of the Big Spring 22nd annual convention reflect only our regional thinking on matters which at the moment seemed to require most attention. Due to the factual information contained in these resolutions, and in order to show the thinking and reasoning upon which our policies are based, we are publishing herein the most important of these resolutions."

The release is in two sections, the declarations of the Big Spring convention, and a brief summary of the long range policies of the organization previously adopted.

Resolutions For Legislators

Among the first are resolutions directing legislators to Article 8 of the federal constitution requiring the specific authorization of Congress to borrow money on the credit of the United States; recommending that local governments be checked and appraised by taxpayer committees in accordance with the WTCC plan of organizing local public expenditure committees, exhorting Senators and Congressmen to oppose to the fullest degree any proposals for any extension of federal control of the petroleum industry, and proposing a moratorium on further natural resource taxes Federal control of the oil industry is opposed.

Another resolution — stressed at the Big Spring session — calls upon the Texas delegation in Congress to either secure administrative rulings or to amend the agricultural act for the purpose of requiring all states to share equally in the national cotton production quota in accordance with each state's normal ability to produce cotton. A separate Triple-A administration is sought for the Southwest. The WTCC charges West Texas and Texas have contributed more than their proportional share to cotton reduction.

Praise for the Texas Railroad commission as accomplishing more in the past year than in all the years since the establishment of that body through orders lowering intrastate freight rates and abolishing differential territory is contained in a resolution to the Transportation commission. The last order by the Railroad commission, brought to the WTCC convention by Jerry Sadler, prescribes a 13 per cent reduction on Texas class rates with estimated saving of $10,000,000 to producers, shippers and consumers.

The accumulative long range policies of the West Texas chamber are summarized in 13 groupings.

Organizational Set-Up Announced

Public Expenditure, Taxation and Debt: James D. Hamlin, Farwell, general chairman; Sinking Fund and Investment Commission: W. J. Fullwiler, Abilene, chairman; and central Budget Analysis Staff, John B. Allred, Wichita Falls, chairman.

Conservation: C. C. Small, Amarillo.

Natural Resources: Jay Taylor, Amarillo.

Cooperative Activities: Houston Harte, San Angelo.

Organization, Public Relations and Finance: headed by the officers committee, executive board and ten district directors, and composed of all WTCC directors formed in district organizations. The ten district directors are active heads of these groups.

Training For Defense Jobs Gets Underway

DALLAS, June 15 (AP)—Dallas school officials took further steps today to begin training students for jobs in defense plants.

Superintendent of Schools Norman R. Crozier said he had asked the state department of education to approve a Dallas expenditure of $183,000 for defense training. He has also asked nomination of a chamber of commerce committee to act as a "tie-up" with North Texas industry.

Under the Dallas plan, Doctor Crozier says, technical high school will be able to turn out 1,620 students ready for jobs in defense plants within a year. Not only students of high school age but unemployed men will find classes available.

Funeral Rites Read For Sammy Hatcher

Funeral rites for Sammy Hatcher, 20, of 2134 Nineteenth street, who was fatally injured when struck by an automobile in front of the residence Friday afternoon, were read Saturday afternoon in the First Christian church.

Burial was in Lubbock cemetery.

The mishap in which Hatcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Floyd Hatcher, was killed was termed unavoidable. He was struck by an automobile driven by Firman Williamson, 22. He evidently was alarmed by approaching vehicles and leaped back into the path of Williamson's car.

Williamson sought to avoid the collision by pulling into the curb but struck the youth, a sophomore student in Texas Technological college.

Army Bomber Makes Record Round-Trip

MARCH FIELD, Calif., June 15. (AP)—A four-motored army bomber landed shortly after midnight at Daggett, Calif., after having made a round-trip flight to Macdill field at Tampa, Fla., in 16 hours and 55 minutes flying time.

The plane, with a crew of eight under command of Lieut. Richard S. Freeman, was prevented by fog from returning direct to March field.

Lieutenant Freeman described it as "an ordinary practice flight and uneventful."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Wheat prices closed ¼ to ¾ cent higher today near the best level of the session after swinging erratically over a range of about 1½ cents.

Strength of stocks and prospects of substantial government purchases of flour over the week-end stimulated most of the buying. Selling was attributed to dealers evening up accounts for the week-end. Favorable crop reports also had a bearish effect.

Closing prices were 80¾@73¼ for July and 80¼@80⅝ for September. Corn finished ¼ to ⅝ lower after having been off as much as ¾ to 1⅛ cents at one stage. July finished 61⅛ and Sept. 60⅝. Oats lost ¼ to ⅝ cent, rye ⅛ to ¼, soy beans ¼ to 4¼ cents and lard closed 5 lower to 2 higher.

Commission Is Granted Appeal

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—Federal Judge R. J. McMillan today granted the Texas Railroad commission's petition to appeal to the U. S. supreme the second Rowan and Nichols company case in which the commission was restrained from enforcing a proration order on the company's East Texas lease.

A three-judge court had granted the company's petition enjoining the Dec. 20th commission order as it pertained to the company's holdings.

The supreme court recently reversed the lower court decision in the first Rowan and Nichols case and ruled the court had no right to substitute its judgment for that of a governmental board of experts.

The tribunal's ruling was interpreted here as an affirmance of the commission's power to regulate the oil industry.

U. S. To Rush Aid

House attaches said, however, that the message had been dispatched prior to this conference.

Details of the president's talk with the two envoys were not disclosed, but Lord Lothian said the question of further aid to the Allies was discussed. Certain points were cleared up, he said, but no decisions reached.

Both Lord Lothian and Count De St. Quentin emphasized that no formal communications were presented to the president. They said, too, that the White House had not been in communication with the French government during their conference.

To Survey Needs

At the Capitol and in government departments, this country's own defense program was pressed ahead.

The navy announced award of a $5,489,308 order for airplane engines to the Ranver aircraft engines division of the Fairchild Engine and Airplane corporation.

The Federal Power commission announced that on instructions from President Roosevelt, it would survey power needs and, in cooperation with other agencies, work out plans to protect the power supply against hostile acts.

The Senate approved and sent to the White House a bill intended to expedite warship building. It provides for consolidation of the navy's bureau of engineering and its bureau of construction in an effort to cut red tape.

Bill Wins Approval

The Senate finance committee approved a $1,007,000,000 tax defense bill.

The Senate passed a measure giving the Reconstruction Finance corporation broad powers to finance production of war materials. The House approved the bill yesterday. It now goes back to the House for action on minor Senate changes.

Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, told reporters that as soon as the legislation became law he would make funds available for certain aircraft production needs.

It was indicated that another early action would be purchases of reserve stock of strategic war materials such as rubber, tin and manganese.

To Oppose Changes

While the mechanics of the program have not been worked out, it was said that one corporation might be established to carry out the purchasing program, or there might be several, one for each industry.

Congress members displayed interest in reports that shipping men had sounded out officials here on the question of amending the neutrality act to permit American ships to carry supplies to Allied ports.

It was apparent that if the proposal reached Congress there would be a bitter controversy over it. Senator Austin of Vermont, the assistant Republican leader, said he favored striking the entire "cash and carry" section from the law. But Senator Nye (R-ND) said he and others would oppose any change in the neutrality act.

Haskell Ford, 26-Year Old "Beer Joint" Owner, Confesses Pitts Home Bombing

about that bombing," the district attorney said.

The district attorney credited the "persistent and cooperative effort of every law enforcement agency in Lubbock" with having brought about the solution of the Pitts bombing case.

Investigation Continues

He added that investigations into the bombing still are continuing, and reported last night that other complaints growing out of the outrage may be filed.

Substance of Ford's written and signed statement was that, out of anger because Judge Pitts had imposed fines and jail sentences on beer dealers, he stole two sticks of dynamite belonging to the city of Lubbock, drove in a taxicab to the Pitts home at 2911 Twentieth street, placed it on the front porch there with cap and lighted fuse attached, and then returned to his home north of the city with such speed that he did not hear the noise of the explosion.

Had Gone To Sleep

He was asleep, his statement said, when officers called at his place by the district attorney's direction about an hour after the blast to place him under arrest.

Among those held in custody last night said the district attorney, was Roy E. Jeffers, who was quoted as having admitted being the driver of the cab in which Ford was taken to and from the Pitts home. Jeffers denied, however, all knowledge of the bombing, Burks said.

Although Ford had been held in custody since about an hour after the dynamite blast had caused heavy damage to the Pitts home, the "break" in the case came unexpectedly Saturday morning, according to information given by Burks.

Witnesses Hear Statement

Until Saturday, he said, Ford persistently had denied all knowledge of the crime. However, the investigations in which state, county and city officers participated revealed discrepancies in stories told by the suspect, and he weakened in his denials.

Saturday he asked to see Judge Pitts, with whom he conversed at length. Information to officers was that he told the judge the same story he later dictated to the district attorney and signed.

After talking to Judge Pitts, according to officers, Ford asked to see Burks. The suspect was taken to the district attorney's office. Burks and Lindsey invited several citizens to be present as witnesses to what transpired.

Suspect Is Warned

The district attorney was emphatic in telling Ford that any statement of his had to be made voluntarily and that it could be used against him but not for him. He told him also that he would refuse to make any promises to recommend leniency if the statement should be made. He added, however, that the entering of a plea of guilty usually is taken into consideration by courts in assessing punishment.

"Now it's up to you, and no one else, whether you want to make a statement," Burks told Ford.

The suspect hesitated momentarily.

Thought Of Bombing

He related that he is the owner of the "V-8 night club" north of the city from which he has been receiving $50 per month rental.

The place was closed by injunction proceedings recently.

"When the injunction suits were brought," Ford's statement to the district attorney said, "that cut me out of the rent money. I felt like the judge had done me unjust because he was more powerful than I was, and there was nothing I could do about it.

"I had been thinking for some time about placing a bomb at the judge's house. I figured he had knocked me out of my support, and I decided to do something about it.

Dynamite Is Stolen

"There is a city caliche pit north of town, and I knew they had been doing some blasting. So I decided to try to get some dynamite at that place.

"On the afternoon of Tuesday, June 11, I went to the caliche pit and I stole two sticks of dynamite, one cap and about five or six feet of fuse. I hid it near the railroad until that night."

Late in the night, he continued, he secured the explosives, rode into the business district from the Ramona night club north of the city with a man he did not know, and went to a taxi stand.

"I got into the cab and honked the horn and the driver came out," Ford said. "His name (the driver) is Roy E. Jeffers. I was carrying the dynamite wrapped in paper. . . . I told the driver I wanted to go out on Twentieth street, and we started."

Didn't Hear It

The suspect explained he had obtained Judge Pitts' address from the telephone directory. After reaching the residence, he said, he checked the street number to make sure it was the correct address.

"I had him (the driver) stop the cab two or three houses east of Judge Pitts' residence, and told the driver to wait there a minute. I got out of the cab and walked to the judge's house, and placed the dynamite on the front porch. . . . I lit the fuse and went back to the cab and had the driver take me home. That happened on the early morning of June 12, 1940. I did not hear the explosion and don't know where I was when it went off.

"After I got back home, I went to bed and I was there a pretty good while before the officers came for me. I had gone to sleep by the time they got there. . . .

Only Two At Home

"As to why I put the dynamite there, I wasn't after no one. I was just trying to blow up his (Judge Pitts') front porch."

The dynamiting of the Pitts home came as the aftermath to numerous cases which had come before him as Judge of the 99th district court and in which defendants were cited for contempt of court. They were accused of having violated a court order forbidding them to engage in the sale of beer. Jail sentences were imposed on several defendants, including L. L. Ford, who was serving such a penalty at the time of the explosion.

Only two people were in the residence at the time of the blast. Miss Dorothy Alley, a business college student and a roomer in the home, was sleeping in her room adjoining the porch. The explosion shattered windows in the room. Judge Pitts was sleeping in an upstairs room. Mrs. Pitts and their daughter were away on a vacation trip.

Procedure Uncertain

Burks and Lindsey were among numerous other officials and officers who reached the residence soon after the blast. The district attorney immediately directed that Haskell Ford be taken into custody for questioning, along with several others linked with or suspected of connection with the illicit beer business in and near Lubbock.

Uncertainty was expressed Saturday as to what procedure will be followed in the case against Ford. Judge Pitts, as a witness in the case, will be disqualified as a trial judge. That will mean a transfer of the case to 72nd district court, of which Judge Daniel A. Blair is presiding magistrate.

There can be no disposition of the case in court, however, unless and until a grand jury indictment is returned.

Candidates To Speak At Becton, New Deal

Lubbock county and district candidates are scheduled for campaign speeches this week in two places, W. A. Fincher, program chairman, announced Saturday.

Office seekers will speak in Becton schoolhouse Tuesday night and in New Deal Rural High school at Monroe Friday night. Other speaking dates, except those in Lubbock, Slaton and Idalou, have not been arranged.

Fellowships Given By Texas Regents

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—The board of regents of the University of Texas today awarded fellowships and scholarships for the 1940-41 term.

Advanced fellowships, valued at $500 each, went to Joseph M. Nance of Kyle, Thomas E. Conter of Dallas, Eastin Nelson of Austin, Alfred W. Nolle of San Marcos, Marian F. De Shazo of Hillsboro and Peyton Cleark Teague of Austin.

Fellowships of $300 each were awarded James F. Crow of Austin, Margaret A. Weaver of Austin, Joseph M. Logue of Denton, Raymond Esten of Austin, Ethelbert C. Barksdale of Lancaster, Elmer S. Wynne of Austin, Weldon W. Gee of Sulphur Spring, Hamilton P. Easton of Austin, Theodore L. White of Corpus Christi, Roscoe C. Adkins of San Marcos, Donald R. Larson of Austin, Leo Broussard of Austin and Edwin H. Styron of Cleburne.

Scholarships of $200 each were awarded George W. Delavan, jr., of San Antonio, Ivan C. Belknap of Corpus Christi, James E. White of Fredericksburg, Frank P. Wipff of Eagle Pass and Richard N. Lane of Austin.

District Court Terms To Be Concluded

Terms in both 72nd and 99th district courts will be concluded this week with civil hearings.

A jury will report to Judge E. L. Pitts in 99th court Wednesday to complete jury action. Judge Daniel A. Blair will have no jury in 72nd court.

Next term in each court will open Sept. 2, when Judge Blair will go to Levelland for a four-weeks term. His other terms this year will be: Sept. 23, Crosbyton, Oct. 21, Morton, and Nov. 4, Lubbock.

Officials said, however, there was likelihood the 72nd district grand jury would be reconvened this week and possibly the term would be extended. Recent criminal developments make expedient investigation of cases before Judge Pitts impanels another grand jury Sept. 2.

Neil H. Wright is foreman of the 72nd grand jury.

Morrison Supply Co. Announces Opening

Opening of the Morrison Supply company at 1949 Avenue H for business was announced Saturday by C. E. Hogan, branch manager. The company, with headquarters in Fort Worth, has branches in Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Sweetwater and here. Formal opening of the business is planned at a later date.

W. A. Hogan, 1633 Eighteenth street, who represented the company in this area 20 years is a vice president of the company.

The company is wholesale distributor for Cran- plumbing, heating, water well supplies and transite pipe.

Eight people are employed by the company, six in the office and warehouse and two in the territory. A stock of approximately $50,000 will be carried by the company in its warehouse.

C. E. Hogan recently moved here from Amarillo. He is married and resides at 1506 Avenue U.

Speaking Is Planned At Hale Center

HALE CENTER, June 15—State, district, Hale county and Hale county precinct 3 candidates are to air their platforms and views in a candidate speaking scheduled here Thursday night, sponsored by the Band Booster club.

Pies will be auctioned, and money from the sale will be used to purchase much needed band equipment, according to P. L. Pollard, president of the booster club. T. A. Greenwood is to contact district and state candidates, inviting them to appear here.

The auction will be conducted by O. D. Kisor of Iowa Avenue community, and Vic Lamb, local editor, will introduce the visiting candidates.

O'Daniel Is Rapped By Col. Thompson

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AUSTIN, June 15. — Those who want nothing done will vote for W. Lee O'Daniel and those who want something don will vote for someone else, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, candidate for governor, said here today.

The World war colonel made this statement upon his return here after a whirlwind campaign tour this week.

"O'Daniel has proved he can and will do nothing," Col. Thompson said. "The legislators will go to Austin next January instructed to vote against a sales tax. O'Daniel is backing a sales tax."

"With this situation, there will be an impasse. There won't be anything done. That's why I repeat—those who want nothing done will vote for O'Daniel and those who want something done will vote for someone else."

Red Cross Ship For France Sets Sail

NEW YORK, June 15. (U.P.)—The freighter McKeesport chartered by the Red Cross to carry $1,000,000 worth of food and medical supplies to France sailed today for Bilbao, Spain, a last minute change from Bordeaux because of the rapid advance of the German armies.

Red Cross officials said the supplies would be transported overland from Bilbao to southern France. Their last minute change in plans led seamen to demand a month's pay on the ground the new destination broke the original articles under which they had signed. After an hour-long conference, however, the sailors signed on for Bilbao for the normal boat bonus of $40 each for the crew of vessels going into the war zone.

Greater London now covers 6,689 acres of parks and open spaces.

Methodist Ministers Will Meet Monday

BILOXI, Miss., June 15. (AP)—The Methodist ministers of the Mississippi conference will meet Monday for a six-day session at the seashore assembly ground, Biloxi, for the annual pastors' school.

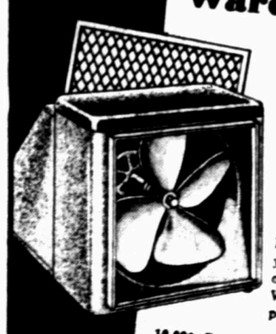

Courses to be taught this year include the church serving shifting populations, by Mrs. W. B. Landrum, Tyler, Tex.

Hubbers Down Clovis, 9-8 For 6th Victory In Row

Pioneers Worry Three Pitchers In Slow Game

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

The Hubbers won one the "hard way" last night to stretch their winning streak over six games in a row.

Twice they almost gave it away to the plodding Clovis Pioneers and had to call on their reserve power, none too strong at the outset, to overcome and stay ahead of the New Mexicans.

The score was 9 to 8, and while there was little question as to Lubbock's native superiority, it was just about that close in the long run. And it was a "long run," a slow two-and-a-half hour game, played before a ladies night crowd of nearly 3,000.

Manager Charlie Engle first played "take a chance" ball, then spared not his pitchers in the valiant fight for a sixth straight victory, first such extended winning streak of the season for the defending champions.

Kramer Knocked Out

Mel Kramer started for the Hubbers, struck out six while retiring the visitors almost in order in the first three innings. Counting the last eight innings of his Tuesday night performance against Amarillo, Kramer pitched his eleventh consecutive shutout inning when he closed the Pioneers out in the third last night.

In the fourth, he walked Hack Harrison for his first pass. He also walked Cecil Smyly, former Hobbs outfielder and the league's batting king in 1938 who has returned to the league via the free agency route. Then Kramer settled down and fanned Johnny Stone and Dick Adkins. But Mel Steiner rapped a long double to center, scoring Harrison and Smyly. Walter Schmidt singled to left, scoring Steiner, and Jake Christie doubled to right, scoring Schmidt with the tying run. Up came Secondbaseman Otis with the fourth straight hit of the rally, scoring Christie and putting Clovis ahead—and out came Kramer, in favor of Ray Stine.

Hubs Take Early Lead

Lubbock had scored four times in a weird first inning, Niedziela and Drake leading off with singles against Christie, who walked Hajduk, then Watkins to force in a run. Ray Sparr singled to left, scoring two more, Schlereth, taking over the catching duties in place of the injured Castino, walked, and Mahan was hit, forcing in another run.

To catch up in the last of the fourth, Niedziela cracked out a single, his second, stole second, scored on Drake's single. Schweda walked and Hajduk moved the runners up with a fine sacrifice. Watkins grounded to Taylor at first, driving

Gold Sox Thump Loboes, 4 To 1

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LAMESA, June 15. — Manager Claud Jonnard's Gold Sox tonight snapped a four-game losing streak that knocked them out of the loop leadership—taking a 4 to 1 decision from Lamesa's Loboes to salvage the final tussle of the three-game series.

Russell "Kid" Crider was the downfall of the Lamesa crew. The young Amarillo sensation hurled scattered six-hit ball, striking out 13 batters during the game. Crider kept the Loboes popping up all night, the lone tally coming on a belated ninth innning rally.

For the Gold Sox Bill Altenburg homered with none aboard in the third stanza. Denorio duplicating the feat in the eighth, none aboard.

Babe Anxious To Fight For Entire Purse

By The Associated Press

EL PASO, June 15.—Replying to a challenge issued by Babe Hunt last week, Babe Ritchie, Texas heavyweight champion, asserted tonight he is anxious for return match with Hunt that he will meet him on a "winner take all basis."

Ritchie and Tony Herrera, his trainer, said that thus far they have been unable to get Hunt to come to terms for a return match.

Arnovich Goes To Cincinnati

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Gerry Nugent, president of the Phillies, announced tonight the club has traded Outfielder Morrie Arnovich to the Cincinnati Reds for Outfielder Johnny Rizzo.

"It was a straight deal with no cash involved," Nugent said. "We feel that Rizzo is faster and has more power than Arnovich."

Arnovich led the National league in batting for more than half of the 1939 season, and finished the year with a .324 average. This year he has been an a slump. His present average is 198.

Should Boost Both

"The change should do both a lot of good," Manager Doc Prothro declared.

Rizzo broke into the National league two years ago with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Prior to that he played with Columbus and Houston. He was traded to Cincinnati early this year by Pittsburgh's new manager, Frankie Frisch.

Prothro earlier announced that Hershel Martin, outfielder, and Del Young, infielder, had been sold to Jersey City of the International league.

Gassers Nip Cowboys In Tenth, 11 To 9

MIDLAND, June 14. (Special) — Byer's Gassers gained revenge tonight for the 12 to 3 licking they suffered Friday night, squeezing out a 11 to 9 triumph over the Waddies in the tenth frame.

Rightfielder Short, who paced the Gassers at the plate, stepped to the plate in the tenth and belted out his second homer of the night, sending in Bobby Decker for the tying and winning runs.

Previously the Gassers had tied the score in the ninth after two men were out.

Jameson Drops Berg For T-M Links Crown

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, June 15—Betty Jameson, women's national golf champion of San Antonio, burned up the Glen Echo course in 8 under par today to defeat Patty Berg, the defending champion, 2 up in a thrilling 36-hole bout for the Trans-Mississippi championship.

It remained anybody's game to the seventeenth hole, where Betty won with a par 4 after Patty was forced to recover from a trap for a bogey 5. All the Texan had to do was halve the home green but Patty's resistance was then completely broke and she overrode the green with her third shot for another bogey 6 while her opponent was in nicely for a par.

Great Shot Does It

The match see-sawed all day and Betty was downhearted coming up to the fifteenth one down.

But here she cracked in the most spectacular shot of the day—a chip-in from a foot off the green. She aimed for nearly two minutes then threaded the needle for a birdie three on the 351-yard hole.

Second Over Patty

The nip-and-tuck battle is best described by the fact the girls halved only 15 of the 36 holes. The other 21 were see-sawed back and forth.

It was Miss Jameson's second tournament victory over Miss Berg duplicating her triumph in the 1937 Trans-Mississippi event.

Mrs. Van Ryn Reaches State Tennis Finals

DALLAS, June 15. (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn, of Austin, and Edith Fordtran, Galveston, were the only contestants to reach the finals of the women's state tennis tournament here today.

They are scheduled to clash Sunday for the singles championship.

Tomorrow's schedule is indefinite due to weather conditions.

Mrs. Van Ryn, who has gained the finals with the loss of only one set, today defeated Marjorie Murray, the Galveston star, 6-0, 6-0.

ALL SET: Miss Bernice Cocanougher, 16-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cocanougher, 1926 Twenty-third street, adept swimmer and diver, poises on the high board at City swimming pool, all ready for a dip.

Kegling Tourney On Here Today

Men keglers of the city take over at 2 o'clock this afternoon when the annual City Bowling tournament field opens, five in three team double and single divisions over Jake Hancock's gleaming alleys.

Champions in all divisions will be awarded cash prizes with medals additional for singles winners.

Plan All Events Award

Indications as the entry deadline neared were that the team competition would be comparatively light with a majority of the pinsmashing in the doubles and singles divisions. The latter two will get under way immediately after the teams have cleared the floor.

In addition to the regular class titlists awards, a $5 free bowling prize for the all-events winner will be presented.

Classes Listed

Class A teams, 815 and up; Class B teams, 750 to 815; Class C teams, 799 and under.

Class A doubles, 326 and up; Class B doubles, 300 to 326; Class C doubles, 299 and under.

These Trout Did Good Turn For Boy Scouts; Catch Themselves!

By The Associated Press

PORT ARTHUR, June 15 — No hook! No line! No bait! But Scoutmaster Clem Wall and four of his Troop 74 boy Scouts insist they caught 28 trout "from 10 to 14 inches in length."

While at their summer camp on Village Creek, near Silsbee, the fishermen relate, the four boys pulled their boat up a small stream, swinging backwards, it chanced to corner a sizeable school of trout in shallow water. Desperately attempting to get back to deep water, the fish jumped over and into the boat and up on the bank.

Answering the boys' excited cries, Scoutmaster Wall hurried to the scene, aided the scouts in picking up the fish—and, of course, aided in eating them later!

H-SU To Play Arizona State At Tyler Fete

TYLER, June 15. (AP)—The Texas Aggies gathered plenty of roses of their own last football season and for the first time in four years will not play in Tyler's Rose Festival game, October 5.

Rose festival officials announced today, however, that the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys of Abilene will play the Arizona State college Bulldogs of Tempe.

Originally, the game was scheduled for Phoenix but was switched to Tyler to round out the annual all-day festival.

Kamrath To Make Bid Today In Net Meet

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP) — Helen Bernhard of New York, only seeded player in the women's or men's divisions to see action, advanced easily today to the second round of the National clay courts tennis tournament at the River Forest club.

Training The Sports Sights On Fall—

Ponies Loom As Summer's Best Bet To Top Aggies' 'Cream Puff' Campaign

By RICHARD MOREHEAD
United Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, June 15.—Southwest conference football teams will travel to both coasts this fall to defend this section's fine record in intersectional games.

The Texas Aggies, unbeaten, untied, and winners in the Sugar Bowl last season, frankly are shooting for greater honors next fall— another undefeated season, with a Rose Bowl bid at the end. Coach Homer Norton has his great 1939 team almost intact, including All-American Fullback John Kimbrough, and is hoping for two "firsts" to be the first school to win two Southwest conference titles in a row and to be the first over to play both in the Sugar and Rose Bowls.

Schedule Is Softer

Supporters of the other six conference teams have called the Aggie schedule a "cream puff" affair, although it includes six league games, the University of California at Los Angeles, Tulsa University and Texas A. & I.

Compared with some of the others, the Aggies do have less impressive non-conference games. Southern Methodist also will journey to Los Angeles to meet U. C. L. A., opening the season in a night game Sept. 27. S. M. U.'s schedule also includes Pitt at Pittsburgh, just two weeks after U. C. L. A., as well as Auburn and North Texas Teachers.

Coach Matty Bell's Methodist team, incidentally, is considered one of the best prospects to upset A. & M. it has a dozen first-caliber backs and excellent material for linemen.

Down at Austin, Coach Dana X. Bible has quietly given notice that 1940 may be the year for the University of Texas to regain its place in the gridiron firmament. The Aggies play at Austin Nov. 28 (the Thanksgiving Day observed in Texas), and the home team—one of the best in a decade at Texas—will be striving to protect its undefeated

Track Improved For Auto Races

Promoter N. C. Gaither has had a crew of men working over and remodeling his new auto speedway north of town, and hopes to present a faster, better show this afternoon.

One serious turn on the track which is just off the Plainview highway about a mile and a half from the courthouse, has been banked to permit faster traveling. An improved public address system is being installed, and the track will be wet down before race time to eliminate considerable dust.

Benson Vs. Childers

Dave Childers, the local daredevil, again will pit his speed and endurance against Corky Benson, the Wichita Falls demon; Bun Gaither of Lubbock, Ed Morrison of Amherst, Clint Branham and Charles Pendergrass of Lubbock. In addition, a new comer, Cortez Lack, will be in the race today.

Four or five events are on tap, starting at 2 o'clock.

Gaither said a special racing program was being arranged for July 4.

CUCCINELLO TO GIANTS

BOSTON, June 15. (AP)—The Boston Bees announced tonight that Infielder Tony Cuccinello would be sent immediately to the New York Giants in exchange for Infielder Al Glossop and righthand pitcher Manuel Salvo, now at Jersey City.

Players Resume Fire Vitt Drive

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 15. — Pitcher Bob Feller, breaking his silence on the "fire-Vitt" campaign of a dozen Cleveland Indians, said today he had "nothing personally" against Pilot Oscar Vitt, but—

"Sometimes it seems he'll drive us all nuts. Maybe it's just his nervous condition."

Vitt himself already had admitted "nervousness" in the dugout, adding: "What do the fellows want? A manager who doesn't care whether they win or lose?"

Sewell Is Favored

Should Vitt be discharged, Coach Luke Sewell, longtime Cleveland catcher who is the preference of players, probably would be named at least acting manager.

Observers believed officials' investigation of players charges would include a search for possible "fifth column" activity within the Tribe, on the premise one or two persons disgruntled about Vitt's management agitated the others.

Complainants Listed

Among the 12 complaints were Pitchers Feller, Mel Harder and Al Milnar, first Baseman Hal Trosky, Third Baseman Ken Keltner, Outfielder Jeff Heath, utility Infielder Oscar Grimes and Catcher Rollie Hemsley, a Vitt favorite.

Trosky Says Indians "Need New Manager"

DES MOINES, Ia., June 15. (AP) — The Register tonight quoted First Baseman Hal Trosky as saying in a telephone interview that:

"The Cleveland baseball team needs a new manager."

Trosky added, the Register said, that, "Oscar Vitt has more nerve than any man I know in trying to to stay in power when he realizes that every man on the club feels a change should be made."

Trosky, one of 12 players who asked President Alva Bradley for a change in managers, returned to Norway, Ia., to attend funeral services for his mother.

Players Fear Bradley Won't Heed Demands

CLEVELAND, June 15. (U.P.)—Protests against Manager Oscar Vitt were renewed today by important members of the Cleveland Indians who fear that President Alva Bradley is weakening and will allow the situation to drift to some sort of a settlement.

"Everything was fine at the ball park yesterday and we won a game," said Bob Feller. "But all the boys still feel something has to be done.

"I don't wan anybody to think I'm tempermental. I'm not. I always gave everything I had. But there is too much nervousness on this team right now."

The attitude of the players seeking Vitt's removal and his refusal to quit left the case wide open.

"It isn't a matter of persecution with us," one of the players said. "We feel this team has a chance to win the pennant and we want that chance. With things as they are it's a cinch to finish third or worse."

It was believed that Bradley may be marking time until the return of Hal Trosky from Norway, Id., where he attended his mother's funeral yesterday. Trosky was one of the more outspoken members of the group which demanded Vitt's removal.

Oilers Count Early To Defeat Barons

BIG SPRING, June 14. (Special) — Scoring four runs in the first frame for a lead they never relinquished the Pampa Oilers took the series finale from Big Spring, 8 to 6.

Playing errorless ball, the Pampans held the Barons well in hand until a brief rally in the final three frames threatened.

SOUTHPAW TOURNEY PLANNED

SEGUIN, June 15. (AP) — Southpaws will converge on this hospitable Texas city for the state left-handers' golf tournament starting Thursday on Max Starcke park's well-kept and scenic nine-hole layout.

The defending champion is Roy Ribelin of Dallas.

Pogi To Tangle With Detton In Wednesday's Main Event

The twist and tug boys take over again at the Sportarena come Wednesday night.

After a one week's respite during which the leather slingers took over, the wrestling profession makes its second bow on its comeback campaign, having attracted a good turnout of more than 1,000 for its first showing.

The main event on Promoter Sled Allen's program will send the smoothie of yesterday's gala grunt and groan attractions—Gorilla Pogi—against a still popular favorite—Dory Detton, who took a close two to one fall decision from Wildcat McEuin in the opening bill nearly two weeks ago.

Pogi has been giving the boys a little trouble around Amarillo and should provide an interesting eventing for the much traveled Detton.

But it is the prelim that may steal the show. In the 20-minute or one-fall attraction, two "toughies" mix it up. Rod Fenton, the Canadian flash who gained his greatest attention while cracking ribs with cham-

Bomber Plans Rough Party For Godoy Thursday Night

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 15 — Joe Louis is throwing a party in Yankee Stadium Thursday night to celebrate the end of the third year in his record reign as king of the fight world.

He'll have no cake to carve. So the bomber figures he'll carve Arturo Godoy instead.

He meets the crouching Chilean for 15 rounds or less in his 11th defense of the world's heavyweight championship—an all-time total which already has doubled the "high" for successful title defenses by any of the 15 previous heavyweight champions.

Joe tangled with Godoy last February and, although coming off with a 15-round split decision, he was subjected to considerable ridicule for the way Godoy's crouching, "squat-tag" boxing baffled him.

"He made me look bad," Louis has explained, and, hurt as always when his pride has been touched by an opponent's unorthodox tactics, the one-time Alabama cotton-picker has wheeled out his big guns.

City Softball Forces Primed For Stretch Drive—

Promising Tussles On Tap For Softballers; Hub Laundry, Lumbermen, Sash-Door Lead

With the halfway post passed in the June campaign, the top divisions in the Lubbock Softball Association pennant chase are becoming increasingly crowded.

Only in the Class C group has a team pulled away to anything like a comfortable margin, and that of only two and one-half games.

Big noise of the past week's play at Fox Park was furnished by the Robinson Grocery crew, which managed to get the men there and do something about the situation, having forfeited more than any other ten in the setup previous to last Monday.

Lumbermen Advance

The Grocers won their only two games of the week, setting the strong Dalby aggregation down in their latest effort, a 13 to 6 affair on Murff's four-hit twirling. The Freighters bit the dust on another occasion during the week, Hub Laundry, the Class A leader, tumbling then into the cellar by a 7 to 5 count.

In the Class B circuit, Home Lumber edged ahead of Borden's on the top rung by a narrow half-game margin. In the Class C division, it is the Sash and Door machine which is planing everything down for smooth sailing into what probably be a berth in a higher classification come the end of the month.

Hot Games Carded

The week's schedule lists several promising engagements half of which, or with one exception, one each night being of enough importance to change or threaten seriously the position of the current leaders.

Top attractions of the week from this distance appear to be the Dalby-Central Labor 8 o'clock clash of Monday night's triple bill; the Good Eats-Home Lumber and Robinson-Hub Laundry battles on Tuesday's triple header; the Dalby-Hub Laundry engagement Friday night and the Robinson-Central Labor, Southwest Products-Home Lumber frays Saturday night.

It appears that there is going to be plenty of action at Fox Park this week as the following standings indicate.

Hubs Get "In The Groove"

By Collier Parris

FROM TONY SLAUGHTER, our Odessa Bulletin friend and contemporary, comes this telegraphic communication last night:

"A ticket sales campaign was well under way here today to sell 1,500 tickets to guarantee transfer of the Big Spring baseball franchise of the West Texas-New Mexico league to Odessa.

"Owner of the franchise is Tony Rego, Big Spring club president and manager. Reason for the change, subject to approval of other league members, was said to be because of poor attendance at Big Spring. The tickets are being sold for June 26 as opening day.

"Odessa was a charter league member in 1937 but withdrew because the city was without a plant for night games. Today the city has one of the finest lighted plants in the Southwest."

* * *

THE above communique from the southern front of the WT-NM battle zone bears out the rumor advanced in this column several days ago. Big Spring originally one of the finest clubs of the league this season, has not been drawing enough at the gate to pay the bat boys. One night last week, fifteen paid admissions were in the park.

We gather from Hank Hart of the Big Spring Herald that one of the chief reasons fans are staying away from the park in such large numbers is the increasing unpopularity of Rego himself. His policies in fashioning a ball club and in operating same do not jibe with the popular attitude, it seems.

• • •

We had always considered Rego one of the better qualified skippers in the league, and while we have been very agitated with him at times, due to his bickering with umpires and his slowing of the ball game, we had admired him as a manager who tried to pass along baseball knowledge to his boys and get the best performances out of his players. He has had difficulty getting together his "ideal" team, having looked over some 50 to 60 youngsters this spring, giving them a chance, sending them on their ways if they didn't produce.

• • •

We should hate to see Big Spring drop out of the league, and there is still nothing definite about it. Big Spring also is pushing a campaign for fans, we note in the Herald, and hopes to fill the park Monday night. Failing in this, the town may give up the ghost.

If Rego had his way, the team probably would have been in Odessa before now, but there seems to be a bit of a hitch regarding the franchise. While Slaughter, in his telegram, mentions Rego as the franchise owner, it has been pointed out to us by another authority that the City of Big Spring held the franchise. Naturally, Rego could not up and move it away unless the city officials, if they are the franchise holders, were agreeable.

• • •

AND HOW ARE YOU liking your Hubbers these days?

Sure looks like they've had a fine shot in the arm. Maybe Uncle Billy Webb had something to say to the lads. Or maybe Skipper Engle and Bus. Mgr. Joe L. Brown have been making some pep talks.

• • •

We prefer to believe, however, that the Hubbers themselves have come to the conclusion they might as well get down to business and play some ball. For a fact, they're hustling a lot harder, bearing down more, and making hits count for something. It's a vastly improved team, for some reason or another; we think the boys have decided it's much more pleasant to win than to lose, that they've developed more confidence in themselves, upon discovering they actually can win several games in a row.

There's no getting around the fact the Hubbers CAN win, if they will. They showed that in knocking off three pretty good clubs—Big Spring, Amarillo and Clovis—in a row.

• • •

Best individual improvement on the club is Elvin Mahan, shortstop, since his return from the bench. The lad is beginning to look like he did in the Jonesboro camp; he's taking his cuts, getting his hits, and he looks natural doing it. His fielding has improved 50 per cent, because he's hustling. Too, he's got the chip off his shoulde and has eliminated some of his prima donna business.

HOLT WALDROP

Ray Sparr has been playing that second base lik a real hand, too, of late, and hitting the ball better. He's a bit slow for the position, but he's using his head and playing the batters better, getting in the way of more balls, covering more ground.

• • •

Holt Waldrop, star guard for the Texas Tech Red Raiders since 1937, stepped up and got his sheepskin the other night, and has stepped right into a job of work.

The only senior on the 1939 Red Raiders varsity to be graduated "on time," Waldrop, whose home is at Slaton, has decided against a coaching career in favor of a white collar position with a growing life insurance business, the Fidelity Union company of Dallas with a big office in Lubbock.

• • •

The Union Fidelity company is represented here and in West Texas by C. M. "Chick" Trout, agency supervisor, who also plays a fine game of golf.

Trout brought in the handsome Waldrop and proudly introduced him as his new "hand," saying that Holt would be a solicitor in and around Lubbock.

Holt's the type of guy who ought to get along in that business, too. He has a fine personality, is a most agreeable young fellow and well liked "on and off the football field." We wish him the best of luck in his profession. For other details concerning approaching events in the life of Holt Waldrop, keep an eye on the society page.

Twilight League Paced By Tech, Lions, Jaycees

Nearing the completion of the first half, both divisions of the Business-Professional twilight softball league have seen their respective campaigns jump from what appeared to be runaways to real "hoss" races.

Biggest surprise of the past week's play was the sudden nose dive the Tech Faculty crew took, losing two games to then lower division clubs. Now, only one-half game behind, are the Federals, who for the first part of the season were neck and neck with the collegians.

Lions, Jaycees Tie

Third place is dominated by Horn Bible class, six wins, four losses. The Lawyers, with a five-five standing hold undisputed possession of fourth while the Doctors and Courthouse are tied for fifth, four wins and five setbacks. The Baptists, boasting a quartet of victories and six defeats and the Christians, who have lost nine while winning none come next in order.

In the six-club National division, the Jaycees and Lions are deadlocked for the lead with six triumphs, two defeats. Asbury, which snapped out of it after an early season slump, is second with six victories, four losses. Public School faculty, with five won, four lost, Union Carpenters, with four won, six lost, and A. B. C., with one won, eight lost trial.

The American division schedule follows: Monday, Field No. 1—Christians vs. Tech Faculty, Field No. 2—Federals vs. Lawyers; Tuesday, Field No. 1—Courthouse vs. Baptists, Field No. 2—Doctors vs. Horn; Thursday, Field No. 1—Doctors vs. Tech Faculty, Field No. 2—Christians vs. Lawyers; Friday Field No. 1—Federals vs. Baptists, Field No. 2—Courthouse vs. Horn.

National division schedule: Monday, Field No. 3—Lions vs. A. B. C., Field No. 4—Jaycees vs. Union Carpenters; Tuesday, Field No. 3—Asbury vs. Teachers; Thursday Field No. 3—A. B. C. vs. Jaycees Field No. 4—Union Carpenters vs. Asbury; Friday, Field No. 3—Teachers vs. Lions

Southwest Products, Hub, McIlhaney Win

Three fast softball games were reeled off at Fox Park last night, Southwest Products trimmed Borden's, 16-6, in the opener. Second game saw Hub laundry bounce Central Labor, 9-4. In the finale, McIlhaney eked out a 9-8 win from Citizens.

Clark furnished hitting power for the Products ten with two homers in as many times at bat. Herring hit a four-bagger for the losers.

Appling Leads Hitters

W. Bumpass and Branch, each with two safeties, led the Laundry lads at the plate. Branch, Hub twirler, limited the Laborites to four hits.

Citizens batting punch was furnished by Appling with a double and single. Deering collected a double and single for the milkmen.

Line scores:

Southwest Products 131 83—16 10 3
Borden's 210 03— 6 3 4
Geron and Reed; Herring and Deaton, Pharr.

Hub Laundry 213 011 1—9 8 2

Council Of Netherlands East Indies Takes Steps To Protect "Status Qu

Aid For Allies Is Extended

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, June 15 (U.P.)—(By Telephone to Manila)—The East Indies people's council at a brief, dramatic session today, empowered the colonial government to take all measures necessary to preserve the present status of the Dutch empire in the east.

A. W. L. Tjarda Van Starkenborgh Stachouwer, governor general in accepting the powers, said that all native leaders had assured him of their eagerness to cooperate and he urged the 60,000,000 people of the empire to continue their lives normally.

Galleries of the colonial parliament were crowded for the meeting, with consuls of friendly powers attending. Thousands of persons, including colorfully garbed Javanese, thronged the streets surrounding the building.

In his speech the governor general said:

"We are doing everything possible to keep the status quo of the East Indies, meantime giving all material aid to the Allies without in any way damaging or infringing the interests of the United States or Japan in this part of the world."

The people's council is a colonial legislature which was given a measure of self-government in internal affairs in the Netherlands Indies constitution of 1925. Its members, some appointed by the government, some elected by the local councils, include Europeans, natives and foreign Orientals such as Chinese and Arabs.

pion Danny McShain, and the Wildcat have been signed by Allen. And the results should be terrific.

Tangling in the 30-minute semi-windup will be Bob Cummings, another of the top notchers of the circuit, and Chuck Powell, who has been challenging the more prominent wrestlers hereabouts of late. The match is for one fall or 30-minutes time limit. The main event is for two hours or the best two out of three falls.

The Sportarena, new wrestling and boxing open air auditorium operated jointly by Allen and L. D. "Pup" Thomas, is located on North College avenue, just northwest of the Hubber baseball field.

Big Business Finds It Embarrassing In Making Movie Star Of Elsie The Cow

"MOST POPULAR DAD"—"Galveston's most popular Father," L. W. E. Badgett, father of the nation's youngest quintuplets. The four, Mr. Badgett, Jeanette Joyce, Joan and Jeraldine, romp, the fellow who always foots the bill, in their house preparatory to honoring him on Father's Day.

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 15 — Big business entered embarrassing territory today in its efforts to make a movie star of Elsie, the glamorous cow who lives in a chintz upholstered boudoir at the New York World's fair.

She perfines day long on her chaise lounge. She munches chocolate drops and gazes indolently upon the human scene. It must be a laugh to Elsie while mere man works himself into a multi-million dollar lather about her personal affairs.

Trouble Is Started

The trouble started last week when Gene Towne, the R-K-O producer, began casting a cow for the part of Buttercup in Louisa Alcott's "Little Men." He inspected numerous cows, but they all had bumpy hips or wrinkled brows, or horns. They wouldn't do.

Then he saw Elsie's picture in the paper. She was svelte. She had langorous eyes, and legs that were beautiful. She was his cow. There was no doubt. To A. W. Ramsdell, vice president of the Borden company in New York, he dispatched the following telegram:

"Please advise whether Elsie is available for motion picture work in Hollywood. We need a cow with glamour and personality for Kay Francis to milk."

You can imagine Ramsdell's emotions. Was it a press agent's stunt? Did Hollywood really want his Elsie as an actress? And come to think of it, what of Elsie herself? Ramsdell wired this carefully worded reply:

Available In August

"We are very much interested and Elsie is undoubtedly your cow. But because she is in an interesting condition, she won't be available until late August. When would you need her and for how long?"

Towne looked up that word "interesting" in the dictionary, but this was of much help. He had to figure it out himself. Then he dispatched Ramsdell a message which would have made Elsie blush.

"My congratulations to Elsie," he wired. "My partner, Graham Baker, and I are sorely tempted to wait until August. But as we are spending a fortune (movie makers invariably are modest) on this production, we must start filming the story July eight. We will have to get a standin for Elsie until she is available."

Treated As Star

"We will explain her with Kay Francis, Jack Oakie and other top names. In fact, we will treat Elsie in the same manner as we do our own star."

Towne suggested it would be nice if milk wagons all over the land carried Elsie's picture on their sides, as Buttercup and continued:

"We might even arrange to have Elsie's footprints made in the forecourt of the Chinese theater with Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford's and other movie immortals. Please wire me date of Elsie's accouchement."

Ramsdell received that message yesterday. He couldn't ask Elsie the date, but he did the next best thing. He sent a veterinarian to make an examination and then he got Towne on the long distance telephone.

Elsie will have her baby on August 7, he reported.

"Can't she hurry?" demanded Towne.

Ramsdell said he didn't think so, but that Towne had better ask her himself. Towne said he would. He will. He arrives in New York today by plane to interview Elsie, the glamorous cow.

Lubbock won the game in the sixth when Drake doubled to center, scoring Mahan and Stone.

Finocchiaro Finishes

Clovis worked on Stine for a couple of walks in the seventh and Manager Engle moved the chunky little righthander out, sent in Roy Finocchiaro, who was greeted by a booming home run by Johnny Stone, good for three runs. Finocchiaro settled down then and got the side out with nary a hit, striking out three.

The Hubbers move to Midland today, and maybe a double header. Kramer and Hejna may do the pitching.

Byrd Expedition Fund To Be Up Next Week

WASHINGTON, June 15 (U.P.) — The House appropriations committee expects to decide next week whether additional funds will be granted to keep the Byrd expedition in the Antarctic for another year.

A $250,000 fund was denied when the House considered the interior department appropriation a month ago. Chairman Clifton Woodrum, D., Va., said the deficiency appropriations sub-committee is considering the request that the appropriation be placed in the final deficiency bill, expected to be reported next week.

Winners Named At Seminole

SEMINOLE, June 15. (AP)—The Third-of-a-Century celebration closed here tonight after two days of the roughest of the rough in West Texas.

Nearly 5,000 persons again crowded Seminole streets today to witness the rodeo and participate in other events. Dancing continued until late tonight.

In one of the feature attractions, Bobby Harris was declared winner in the cowgirl contest. She was trained by Tebbe by Elizabeth Patton and Pauline Dennon.

Judges in the rodeo were Dick Dunagan, sheriff of Andrews county; Yate Hassell of Seminole and Buck Standefer of Odessa. Stock was furnished by Cecil Dawkins of Odessa.

Winners announced tonight by the judge were:

Fingerprinting All Aliens Is Approved

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Legislation requiring registration and fingerprinting of all aliens was passed by the Senate today.

The bill is designed to tighten federal laws aimed at subversive elements. It now goes back to the House for consideration of numerous Senate amendments.

The measure would provide for deportation of certain aliens by amending the immigration laws.

Henderson Group Asks Declaration Of War

HENDERSON, June 15. (AP) — Twenty-five Henderson citizens today petitioned President Roosevelt, Senator Connally and Sheppard and Rep. Beckworth of Texas for war against Germany.

The petition, circulated by Henry Smith, an accountant, read:

"A declaration of war may cost us all our natural wealth but this wealth and every civilized value we enjoy can not stand against a world mad with force."

Members Of Midland Group Favor War

MIDLAND, June 15. (AP)—The 75 members of the Midland defense council adopted a resolution today asking Congress to immediately declare war on Germany and Italy and "any other enemies of the Allies."

The resolution asked that England and France set up temporary governments in North America and that the French, British and United States fleet and merchant ships be coordinated.

Swastika Flags Wave In Paris

Saturday.

That Hitler himself is due here soon is taken for granted.

The Tribune de Geneve of Geneva, Switzerland, carried a special Paris dispatch tonight saying that German troops are now preparing the Palace of Versailles for the arrival of Chancellor Hitler.

Population Gone

We arrived last night in this city that seems dead. I say do not recognize Paris again. Seventy per cent of its population has fled.

From the Hotel Crillon, where once President Wilson of the United States addressed French crowds, the swastika is flying.

Skies Red And Black

It all seems unreal, like an Arabian night tale come to life.

This dispatch went out from here at 9 a. m. (2 a. m. CST).

Our first view of Paris last night, as dusk fell, was of the Arc de Triumphe, the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in the twilight.

As we passed the Arc De Triumphe, the sky was outlined by an enormous cloud of smoke emanating from the region around St. Germain.

That suburb apparently was in flames from artillery fire.

It was about 9 p. m. and the Arc was bathed in a molten reddish light.

"Touching Scene"

Before the tomb of the Soldat Inconnu were standing old women, young women, bearded old men and boys in their teens. Many of the older women were sobbing softly.

Never could one forget that deeply touching scene.

As we approached the tomb in company of our guide, from the army, their looks hardened for a moment. They appeared to relax somewhat however, when the German officers removed their caps, stood still, then saluted the symbol of the brave French soldiers buried there.

To countless American tourists who know Paris it is probably incomprehensible as it was to me that the old Paris was a host city when I entered.

Ahead Of Troops

Under arrangements made by Prof. Karl Boemer, chief of the foreign press department of the ministry of propaganda in Berlin—incidentally, a man who has travelled up and down the United States and Mexico and knows America well—we foreign newsmen reached the French capital on the same day the first German troops did.

Vanguards of the German army had reached the city on Friday at 7 a. m.

At their head was a former member of the Austrian cabinet, General Glaise-Horstenau, who generally is credited with having made the Nazis' entry into Vienna possible.

In fact, we correspondents arrived even ahead of the officer appointed commandant for the occupied capital.

That meant no regulations had yet been issued for the conduct of citizens, for the hour of their retirement in the evening, or for a division of powers between local authorities and the occupation forces.

Policemen Uncertain

Along the Champs Elysees only one cafe was open—all else was deadly silent.

At the busy Place De L'Opera I counted exactly 11 persons, two of them policemen.

A preliminary tour of the main sights of beautiful Paris indicated that no damage had been done anywhere.

I visited the Louvre, Notre Dame cathedral, the Invalides, the Quai D'Orsa, the Place de la Concord, the museum, the Chamber of Deputies, Place Vendome, city hall and the Sarah Bernhardt Theater—nowhere any damage.

From the American embassy the Stars and Stripes were displayed. Nearby the swastika waved on the flag staff on the Crillon hotel.

Airport Wrecked

We approached Paris from the coast via Amiens, Saint Just, Clermont, Creil and Le Bourget, then detouring to Saint Denis.

Le Bourget, the great Paris airport, was a shambles. It had been singled out, especially for German bombers for destruction.

Creil, too, was badly shelled.

Amiens afforded a strange spectacle in that the German bombers there had given one of their best exhibitions of marksmanship.

All around Amiens' priceless cathedral—the largest ecclesistical edifice in France—everything had been blows to bits, including the bishop's residence.

Cathedral Untouched

The cathedral itself, however, was entirely untouched.

Throughout the 80-mile drive from Amiens to Paris, I had plenty of occasion to note evidences of the vigor with which the retreating French had fought.

When the Germans started from Amiens against the so-called Weygand line June 5, they ran up against a system comparable in many respects to Germany's own Siegfried line, which differs from the Maginot in that it is not linear and massed but is carried far to the rear on a stagger principle.

General Weygand's plan, which the Germans themselves admit was cleverly conceived, lacked time for realization. Hence, the Germans said, it did not constitute a real hindrance to their forward dash.

Demonstration In Rio De Janeiro Broken-Up

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 15 — (AP) A demonstration on the steps of the Municipal theater, which authorities had permitted on the grounds it would be purely a pro-United States manifestation, was interrupted by police today when it turned into a pro-Allied manifestation.

Brazil has remained neutral in the war and as a neutral has prohibited public manifestations for one side or the other.

According to the Army Air Corps, 400 cadets will be needed every six weeks until the class entering late in September, 1940. Traveling Flying Cadet Examining Boards will soon start on a tour of various corps areas to enroll candidates.

General Motors-CIO Agreement Reached

DETROIT, June 15. (AP)—Negotiators for the CIO's United Automobile Workers and General Motors corporation reached a "tentative agreement" tonight in their contract dispute which had threatened complications for the national defense program.

John R. Steelman, director of the Federal Conciliation bureau who came to Detroit when the impasse began to be regarded as "serious," announced that "all essentials of a tentative agreement have been completed" and "an agreement on wages has been reached."

The CIO union, dominant in the automotive industry, had demanded a general increase in wages. The corporation had offered a counter proposal of vacation pay of 2 1-2 per cent of the employe's yearly earnings, and pay boosts in certain plants.

Steelman said details of the agreement would not be made public until ratification by union locals, probably next week.

He contended that it was "useless to talk of sending American troops to Europe now for we would need months of preparation before we could train and equip even a small army."

If Germany wins, he argued, Europe would be dominated by "the strongest military nation the world has ever known" and if we entered the war we "must be prepared to attack that nation."

He charged that an "organized minority in this country is flooding our Congress and our press with propaganda for war, spending large sums" "pushing us closer and closer to the edge."

Stand At Crossroads

This nation, he said, "stands today where the road divides at the signpost of war and peace."

Should it choose war, he added, it would mortgage "the lives of our children and grandchildren," and "every family in the land would have its wounded and its dead."

Now that we have become one of the world's greatest nations, shall we throw awa that independent American destiny which our forefathers gave their lives to win?" he asked. "Shall we submerge out future in the endless wars of the old world? Or shall we build our own defenses and leave European war to European countries?"

In the west, the high command said the situation was unchanged.

There was violent fighting west of Louviers, a city 50 miles southeast of the German-taken port of Le Havre.

But, it seemed, the French were holding this German push toward the rest of the channel ports. South of Louviers, another battle went on in the region of Evreux.

Finland Insists On Paying War Debt

WASHINGTON, June 15. (U.P.) — Finnish Minister Hjalmar Procope today paid his country's semi-annual war debt installment on time despite a congressional resolution giving it the option of postpone payment.

As he handed a check for $159,398 to assistant secretary of the Treasury Herbert Gaston, Procope said he was grateful for the congressional "tribute."

However, he said, Finland felt constrained to maintain its record of never defaulting on its debts "in spite of the hardships of the war we passed through." Finland was the only one of 12 European war debtors that mets its maturing obligation.

their "beaten and scattered forces" below Paris. At the same time they must greatly strengthen the Maginot line unless they intend to carry out a "retreating fight" there. And third they must try to meet Italian pressure which, the paper said, was naturally growing stronger daily on the Alpine border.

The German press, as well as officialdom, stressed the news of the German capture of Paris but gave no hint of whether Hitler intends to go to the French capital.

Maginot Attacked

While the Germans were establishing themselves in Paris, German Stukas were dive-bombing the steel and concrete forts of the Maginot line and artillery was throwing tons of high explosive shells into the French defenses.

"The pursuit between the lower Somme and the Meuse everywhere is in full force," the morning communique said. Dissolution of the defeated French armies is progressing. At several points the enemy troops have surrendered without fighting."

The communique noted that the French, in the past few days, had "hastily put up new divisions from remainders of defeated divisions and reserves," but added that yesterday south of the Argonne forest the enemy was thrown southeastward and forced off the line of retreat."

Troops Bombed

With application of heavy pressure on the Maginot line, it became increasingly apparent, the Germans were trying to repeat the strategy which successfully led to the envelopment of thousands of Allied troops in northwest France.

In the attack on the Saar front, Bunkers, artillery and infantry positions, as well as columns of French troops were bombed and shelled by Stukas and heavy artillery.

The high command said that this attack, opening Friday, resulted in the capture of numerous defenses, including a strong Bunkers group at Saar-Alben west.

Air Force Used

Air attacks in the region of Verdun, Metz and Belfort, preceded the capture of the fortified town of Verdun. In the World war it was mainly artillery and infantry. Today the Germans used their air force against troop concentrations and movements, against rail lines and roads.

Verdun lies about 135 miles east of Paris and about 25 miles south of Montmedy, northern anchor of the Maginot line.

An authorized source, speaking of the German occupation of Paris, said some kind of a civil administration probably will be organized, as it was in the other capitals taken by the Nazis—those of Denmark, Norway, Luxembourg, Holland and Belgium.

Quiet Reigns On Seminole Law Front

SEMINOLE, June 15. (Special)—Quiet was reported on the Seminole law front for the Third-of-a-Century celebration, following two knifings here earlier, it was reported.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Price said Norman Evans, 28, of Seminole had shown improved condition in Scroggie hospital. He was admitted to the hospital after suffering serious knife wounds Thursday night. A charge of assault was filed today against Flynn Deaver in justice court of J. P. Mahan.

Robert Maybery, about 25, was held under $2,500 bond, Price said, after assault to murder charges had been lodged against him in the knifing of Sheriff John Sartin Friday afternoon. Judge Mahan accepted the charge.

Sheriff Sartin's arm was severely slashed but his wounds were not expected to prove serious.

Vacation Period Finds Many Lubbockites On Way To Four Corners

WHO'S WHO IN THE PICTURES—Typical of the fathers who are elevated to a post of honor and showered with gifts and best wishes today are these Lubbock men who were snapped in informal poses last week by Reeves photographers. Getting set for a motor jaunt that is taking them to Yellowstone National park, San Francisco and Los Angeles, are Roy Furr of 3120 Twentieth street, his son, Don, 13, who is assisting in packing the luggage, and Roy junior, (Corky), 6, who seems concerned with saying goodbye to the dog. Upper right pictures A. C. Sanders of 1420 Main street, sitting in the front yard of his home with his sons who are associated with him in business. Reading from left to right, Cecil, Gordon, Mr. Sanders, A. C. junior and Loyd. The yard of the Clay E. Thompson home at 2702 Twenty-third street provided the setting for the lower father-son picture. At Mr. Thompson's right is seated his namesake, Clay Edward, and Bud's at his left while the youngest son, Aubrey, is perched on the arm of the swing. Bobby Joel Walker, who is half-past three, is entertaining his father, Bob Walker, who lives at the Hilton hotel. A frequent Lubbock visitor, Bobby Joel, makes his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barton, on a ranch near Sterling City.

Lecture Of "Plain Dirt Gardener" Expected To Interest Many South Plains Flower Lovers

THE lecture visit of Harry R. O'Brien of Worthington, O., "The Plain Dirt Gardener," to Lubbock on June 24 under auspices of the Lubbock Garden club and the South Plains Dahlia society is expected to draw numbers of South Plains flower lovers.

Weather and space permitting, Mr. O'Brien will lecture in the W. P. Clement backyard at 2606 Twentieth street at 8 p. m. His subject is "Seven Keys to Dirt Gardening." This is a practical talk about the most important elements to success in home flower gardening and in care of lawns and shrubs. A dirt garden talk is especially suited to folks who do most or all of their own work.

Mr. O'Brien will tell where and how to buy seeds and plants, soil preparation, plant food and humus, cultivation and watering, spraying and dusting to control pests, home propagation with time allotted for questions and answers.

Reservations Being Made

Reservations may be made by telephoning either Mrs. C. S. Mast of the Garden club or Mrs. Roberta Doughtie of the Dahlia society. The tickets are thirty-five cents.

Mr. O'Brien who has been a staff writer for the Country Gentleman for 20 years is best known to Lubbockites for his Diary of a Plain Dirt Gardener in Better Homes and Gardens which grew out of his hobby of gardening. He is coming to Lubbock on a reporting trip to gather material for an article for the Country Gentleman on agricultural conditions in West Texas. He is to be extended courtesies by the chamber of commerce while he is here.

The writer-lecturer's garden at Worthington has become a laboratory to supply material for his magazine writing. He has a large collection of roses, peonies, iris and other flowers and many nurseries, seed firms and plant hybridizers send him their new things to try out.

In connection with his work as a magazine writer, he has traveled extensively over all sections of the country, visiting leading nurserymen, seed farmers and speaking to garden clubs.

He lectures on journalism in the school of journalism at Ohio State university during the winter, teaching a technical course. He belongs to a number of national plant societies, including the American Rose Society and American Dahlia Society.

In his luggage on tour is a collection of Kodachrome lantern slides of new flowers. He is coming here from Childress where he is slated to lecture. A later visit to Amarillo is included in his itinerary.

Miss Ramsel To Wed Monday

The wedding of Miss Melva Ramsel, daughter of William R. Ramsel of Alpine, Ariz., and George T. Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Huff of San Antonio, will be solemnized Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. L. Hawkins, 1909 Main street, with Dr. W. F. Fry officiating. Dr. Fry is a life long friend of the Huff family.

Vows will be exchanged beneath an archway of fern, rosebuds and sweetpeas. Mrs. Frank Barclay will sing preceding the ceremony.

Bride Chooses Navy

The bride will wear a navy and white frock with bolero jacket that is fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves. She will wear a white sombrero style hat with white gloves, navy bag and shoes. She will wear a corsage of yellow roses.

Miss Mae Brady is to be maid of honor. She will wear a navy and white dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple will leave for San Antonio where they will make their home.

Brother Is Attendant

Curtis Ramsel, brother of the bride, is to be best man. He is a student at Texas A. & M. college at College Station.

The couple are former students of (Turn to Page 2, Column 1, Please)

Camp Life Of Interest To Youngsters

BY LOIS MARIE DANIEL
Of The Woman's Staff

Couple Plans Trip To Western Coast

WINK, June 15 (Special)—Miss Bunnye Lois Dow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Dow of this city, and Jay Edmond Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gordon of Lubbock will be united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the Gulbeck Memorial Methodist church, Rev. Ernest Roper of Wink will perform the service.

Vows will be repeated before an arch banked with woodwardia fern and spring flowers. A white satin prayer bench will be placed beneath the arch.

Mrs. Dosie McAdoo will play the wedding music and Mrs. Alma Holmes will sing "Because of You." The traditional marches will be played.

Bride To Wear White

The bride's father will give her in marriage. She will wear a diaphanous white silk marquisette and lace over taffeta frock which is fashioned with fitted bodice, full sleeves caught in tight fitting cuffs at the wrist and banded in lace. The skirt is bouffant. The finger-tip length veil of bridal illusion will be fastened with pearls of lilies-of-the-valley and she will carry a bouquet of roses and lilies.

Miss Ina Faye Gordon, sister of the bridegroom, will be maid of honor. She will wear a dress of blue marquisette and lace and carry a bouquet of sweetpeas.

Melvin N. Dow, brother of the bride, will be best man. Melvin Gene and Don Frank Dow, nephews of the bride, will serve as ushers.

Reception At Brother's Home

For traveling the bride will wear a [illegible] suit trimmed in white with navy and white accessories. She will wear a blue taffeta [illegible]. They will leave for a two weeks' tour of the West coast and a visit to the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco, Calif., and then to Los Angeles where both will enter the University of Southern California. Miss Dow will begin work toward her master of arts degree and Mr. Gordon will continue work on his doctor's degree.

Miss Dow attended school in Lubbock from the first grade. She is a graduate of Lubbock High school and received her B. S. degree from Texas Technological college. She has been teaching physical education in the Lubbock Junior High school.

To Return In August

Mr. Gordon is assistant principal of Lubbock Junior High school. He received his B. A. and M. A. degrees from Tech. The couple will return to Lubbock in August.

Out-of-town guests will include parents of the bridegroom, Jack Gordon, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Olen Puckett and son, Phillip, of Abilene, Miss Dorothy Huber of Port Arthur and Mrs. A. J. Dow of Seminole.

Floydada Marriage To Be Said Today

FLOYDADA, June 15 (Special)—The marriage of Miss Virginia Stovall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stovall of this city, and Tucker Teutsch of Floydada, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Teutsch of Dodson, will take place Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the First Christian church. Rev. Gordon Voight will officiate.

Mrs. J. V. Daniel will play the wedding marches. Miss Mary Leda McAdams of Lockney will sing, "Because" preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Daniel will play "Souvenir" during the service.

Baskets of roses, larkspur, delphiniums and greenery will form the background. White tapers in wrought iron holders will be on either side of the scene. A cluster of roses and a lighted taper will mark each pew.

Brother To Accompany Bride

The bride, who is to be given in marriage by her brother, Richard F. Stovall of Floydada, will wear a wedding gown of white net with long fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, full skirt and puffed sleeves outlined with lace. The skirt is fashioned in a circular train. The illusion veil of net will fall from a tufted net halo and tiara of orange blossoms. She will wear a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and lace mitts.

Her bouquet will be of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Dorothy Dell Stovall, sister of the bride, is to be maid of honor. She will wear a lime green net frock over taffeta with full skirt and sweetheart neckline. She will wear a nosegay hat outlined in pleated yellow net and will carry a bouquet of pastel gladioli.

To Have Two Bridesmaids

Miss Emma Louise Smith, bridesmaid, will wear a blue net dress and hat and will carry gladioli. Miss Joanna Williams of Roswell, N. M., niece of the bride, will be junior bridesmaid. She will wear an orchid net hat and frock and carry gladioli.

Miss Mary Lynn Williams of Roswell, N. M., another niece of the bride, is to be flower girl. She will wear pink net and carry a basket of white satin and tulle filled with rose petals.

Floyd Teutsch of Dodson is to be best man. Ushers will be Hugh Jeff Avers and Dale Strickland, both of Floydada.

Reception To Be Given

Mrs. J. P. Williams, Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. M. O. Gilbert, Lockney, sisters of the bride, will serve at a reception to be held at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ainsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Logan of Lubbock are to be among the out-of-town guests.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Technological college where she was a member of Las Vivarachas social club. For the past year she has taught at Roswell.

The bridegroom attended the University of Oklahoma and is now assistant cashier at the First National Bank at Floydada.

Mrs. Rufus Rush is to review, "Their Own Country."

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: I received an interesting letter from a friend the other day. She combined news for you with news for me. Parts of the correspondence follows:

"Sophie Alice Hardgrave is home from Lefors where she has been teaching. She is recovering from a tonsillectomy. Mrs. R. B. Cantrell of Houston is visiting here and is prettier than ever. You will remember her as Charles Cox when she went to Tech. Another former Tech student, Beverly Chamblee, is married to Sam Robinson, and is living in El Paso. I have also been hearing some interesting news about Mary Jo Bledsoe, who is studying at the University of Colorado toward her master's degree. She has a heart interest there, too, I am told."

Moving Going On

Persons who have lived in Lubbock for the past several years are leaving to make their home in other towns. Lieut. and Mrs. H. J. Skidmore and son, Jimmy, are moving to Florida. Dr. and Mrs. Maynard Knight are to live in Cleveland, O., next year. Dr. Knight will leave here July 1 and Mrs. Knight will join him in September. By the way they celebrated their second wedding anniversary last week. Congratulations!

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burrow, who have lived here since their marriage two months ago, are moving to Amarillo. Mr. Burrow received a promotion.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Roper and baby are moving to Brownwood.

I was talking to one of my friends the other morning and she told me that Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Leonard are visiting in Wichita, Kan.

* * *

MARY BETH TOMLINSON is relaxing after graduation from Tech. This week-end she is going to Las Vegas, N. M., for a visit. She will be back in a few days. This summer she plans to visit in Temple and Slaton and with her mother, who is living in Lubbock now. Mrs. Tomlinson certainly is a charming person.

Ruth Mildred Rylander is to teach in Wichita Falls next year. We saw it in a paper from that city and confirmed the story by calling her family.

Visited In City

Miss Dollie Elliott visited her sister, Miss Virginia Elliott, and friends here last week. She accompanied Mesdames Wallace Bingham, Al Bingham and Bill Davis here from Spur. Miss Elliott has lived in England for 14 years and would like very much to return. She and her aunt, who is now in Spur, attempted to go back but were refused passage in New York.

George Bain, Tom Prideaux, Jack Williams and Daniel Steen have returned from a trip to the Old South.

MRS. M. W. HORNE

Miss Shelton Weds Mr. Horne In May

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Oleta Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shelton of Nocona, to M. W. Horne, son of Mrs. E. R. Barbee of Quanah, which took place May 18 in Plainview at the home of Rev. L. B. Reavis, pastor of the First Baptist church, who officiated.

The bride wore a white dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations tied with blue ribbon. Her hat was topped with blue cornflowers.

Mrs. Horne is a former student of Texas Technological college. She is secretary to Thomas B. Duggan, jr., and Walter E. Beeson.

Mr. Horne is a student at Tech and will continue his studies in September. He is employed at the Varsity bookstore. He is a licensed pilot, having received instruction under the Civil Aeronautical Authority flight instruction course at the college.

The couple will be at home at 1806 Avenue L.

Mr. And Mrs. Izard Are Party Honorees

Mrs. H. H. Jons of 602 Avenue W. and Mrs. J. E. Turner entertained with a party Friday night to honor Mr. and Mrs. Jim Izard. Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames John Miller, Turner; Mesdames K. A. Wood, H. L. Thompson, Sid Clark; Misses Maurine Jons, Wynona and Laveto Izard and Mr. Jim Bill Clark.

Gifts were sent by several who were unable to attend.

Silvio Scionti To Teach In Lubbock

Silvio Scionti, internationally known concert pianist and teacher, will begin his classes for professional and talented pupils of all ages in Lubbock this week. Mr. Scionti taught in Lubbock for a six weeks term last summer and his return is due to the success and interest developed during that class. He has been engaged by the Musical Arts Conservatory at Amarillo as the guest artist instructor during the summer term and his weekly trip to Lubbock is to accommodate those students who wish to pursue their work with him.

Information regarding fees, schedules and scholarships may be obtained from Mrs. E. F. George, 2401 Twentieth street. Mr. Scionti will give private lessons, class lessons in technic and class lessons in repertoire and interpretation. Students may attend his classes either as performers or as auditors.

Covered Dish Meal Is Planned By HD Club

The Monroe Home Demonstration club met in Mrs. Ada Kelly's home recently for a program conducted by Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent. Broiled steak and broiled quartered tomatoes were cooked.

"Veal does not make good broiled meat for it is not fat enough. Cured ham or bacon may be broiled," she said.

The club will have a covered dish luncheon at Mrs. E. J. Exum's home Thursday. The group will quilt. The next regular meeting will be June 27 with Mrs. J. L. Moore.

Mesdames R. R. Jennings, J. W. Shipman; Misses Effie Fay Jennings and Jerry Kelly were visitors.

Members present were Mesdames John Harrell, John McGuire, W. O. Fortenberry, A. L. Faubion, W. H. Emery, Moore, T. C. Hudson, E. J. Abney, Erby Norman, Exum and Kelly.

DAR Flag Day Picnic Is Held On Friday

Approximately 45 members and guests of the Nancy Anderson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, attended a Flag Day picnic at 7 o'clock Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Dingus, 2502 Twenty-first street.

Arrangements had been made by the program committee consisting of Mesdames Roscoe Wilson, chairman, Robert J. Allen and W. L. Baugh.

The organization voted to change the meeting day from the third Saturday of each month to the third Wednesday. Meetings will be resumed in September.

two weeks vacation through South Texas and to Santa Fe, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. Mackey, 1914 Avenue N, left Saturday for a trip to San Francisco, Cal., and the Golden Gate Exposition. They will visit Mr. Mackey's brother.

Mrs. R. M. Chitwood of 2607 Twenty-second street, is going by train to Marquette, Mich., for two weeks.

Mrs. Redding Is Visiting

Mrs. Russell Redding of LaGrange, Ga., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ratliff, 2413 Nineteenth street. Mr. Redding will join his wife later in the month.

Mrs. A. W. Evans, 2309 Sixteenth street, is visiting her daughters, Misses Anna Cecil and Marion Evans, in Houston. She will also visit in Austin.

Mrs. R. E. McDonald and daughter, Miss Mary Louise McDonald, 2517 Nineteenth street, are leaving Monday for a six or seven weeks tour of the states between Maine and Florida. They will visit friends in Rockaway, N. J., and commute from there to the World's Fair in New York. Mrs. J. B. Heitchew of Abilene and Mrs. W. P. McDonald of Stamford will accompany them.

To Attend Conventions

Misses Alma Rhea Eades, Hazel Ann Wilson, Ernestine Story and Geraldine Clewell of Texas Technological college, are leaving this morning by automobile for Cleveland, O., where they will attend two conventions.

The thirteenth biennial concave of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics fraternity, will be held in that city June 20 to 22. Miss Eades is president of the local chapter and the other three women are to be delegates.

June 22 to 27 the annual American Home Economics association convention will be held in that city. Miss Story is president of the College Clubs of Texas. Miss Wilson is president of the Tech home economics club. Miss Clewell is sponsor of the local club and Miss Eades is a delegate from that organization.

Contest On Texas And Demonstration Given

Mrs. W. A. Caraway led the Hardy Home Demonstration club members and visitors in a game on Texas counties at a meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. A. Ballard.

In the demonstration on broiling steak, Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, told the members to use tongs to turn the meat. If a fork is used, delicious juices are lost, she said.

Members attending were Mesdames Clyde Fowler, J. E. Timms, Caraway, Berch Scott, A. C. Woodruff, J. A. Brown, F. Y. Henderson, J. N. Burnett, George Blackmon and Reynolds, a new member.

Visitors were Mesdames Eva Karlen of Columbus, N. M., Lola Mullins, Hub Brock, T. J. Ballard and Misses Josephine Timms and Hallie Hunter.

Publicity For Fair Received Saturday

Evidence that another Panhandle-South Plains fair is not too distant in the future was supplied Saturday by the delivery of a supply of small stickers which will help to publicize the approaching event, according to information given by officials of the fair association. Dates of the fair are Sept. 30 through Oct. 5.

The stickers measure one by two inches in size. The colors are red, gold and black. Noted along with the dates of the fair on the sticker are the words, "Coronado Cuarto Centennial," which is a reminder that the centennial cavalcade will be the night grandstand attraction during the fair.

Those already delivered are not for public distribution. Officials of the fair association said, however, that those desiring to order supplies for their own use may obtain information at the chamber of commerce. A supply already has been ordered for Hilton hotel.

Pamphlet On Cleanup Drive Is Prepared

So numerous have become inquiries concerning Lubbock's methods of conducting cleanup campaigns that a seven-page mimeographed pamphlet has been prepared at the chamber of commerce, according to information given by officials of the chamber of commerce.

Inquiries concerning the campaigns which have enabled Lubbock to win the title of "cleanest city in Texas" through 10 consecutive years have come during the past year from every state in the union, several cities in Canada and one from New Zealand.

An initial supply of 500 of the pamphlets has been prepared, chamber officials said.

Broken Records In Assessed Valuations For Taxation In Lubbock Assur

Large Increase Shown In City

Broken records are certain in assessed valuations for taxation this year in Lubbock independent school district and in Lubbock county, according to information given by official Saturday.

A large increase in valuation with the city rolls also is certain but estimates were not available as to what that might be.

Far Above 1939 Total

In Lubbock independent school district A. C. Jackson business manager estimates that the increase will be approximately $1,500,000 or $2 million above the total of $28,643,[illegible]

Nazarene Session Will Open Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 15.—(AP)—The 10th quadrennial general assembly of the Nazarene church convenes here June 16 bringing delegates from every state in the nation and a dozen foreign countries.

More than 7,000 persons are expected to attend the conference which may continue 10 days. The 600 official delegates will select one new bishop and perhaps two.

Dr. J. G. Morrison, senior general superintendent, died in Kansas City, Mo., last year and the senior superintendent, Dr. J. W. Goodwin, Pasadena, Ca., has resigned the retirement age.

Dr. Goodwin, Dr. R. T. Williams, Kansas City, Mo., and Dr. C. B. Chapman, Kalamazoo, Mich., will preside at the session.

Church officials estimate that more than 350 new churches have been organized since the last general assembly.

Farewell Sermons To Be Delivered Today

Farewell sermons will be delivered by Envoy and Mrs. V. M. Vansyckle who have been in charge of Salvation Army work here the past two years at services Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the hall 1120 Seventeenth street, according to announcement Saturday.

A special Fathers day program will be part of the service they announced.

Subject of Envoy Vansyckle's sermon will be "In Spite Of."

They plan to leave Tuesday for Dallas where they are to be placed in charge of Compton citadel.

Subjects Of Sermons At Morton Revealed

Subjects of sermons to be delivered by J. D. Thomas in the Church of Christ at Morton Sunday will be, "The Great Confession," at the morning service and "What it Means to Believe," at the night service, he said Saturday.

Thomas, employed in the business department of the city of Lubbock, accepted an invitation to become minister of the Morton church about two weeks ago.

Sunday school will begin at 10 a. m., the morning service at 11 o'clock and the night service at 8:30, he said.

A Hazardous Feat

If Hitler pursues his idea of actually invading England with troops he will be undertaking a feat which at the best would be extremely hazardous. However, after the way in which he has overrun a large portion of Europe in a few weeks of fighting time, there aren't many observers who would want to gamble their lives that he hasn't some chance of success.

Such an adventure calls for a great deal of preparation. The German position in Flanders and along the channel coast would have to be thoroughly consolidated. The channel ports — destroyed during the battle of Flanders — should be rebuilt and got ready for transports.

One would think Hitler's logical procedure would be not to attempt an invasion at once, but to devote his energy to trying to destroy English industry and shipping by bombing, and thus to starve the little island into submission. The great majority of Britain's food supplies are imported, of course.

May Make Gamble

Hitler may take that line. However, there are considerations that might persuade him to make another of his long-shot gambles which have been coming off with such regularity.

There are two reasons why the fuehrer might want to strike quickly. One is that England is still suffering from the Flanders upheaval. The other is that material help from America is increasing rapidly and the British home defense will improve steadily.

It is a fair guess that Mussolini enters largely into Hitler's strategy for this attempt to tear apart the British empire. One thing which certainly would tend to block any scheme of invasion would be the presence in home waters of the bulk of the British navy. Unfortunately for England, she is forced to keep a huge fleet in the Mediterranean to take care of Hitler's ally.

To Keep Fleet Busy

It will be Mussolini's business to keep that fleet busy while Hitler is emulating Julius Caesar and William the Conqueror. That might not be so difficult if the French should have to surrender their ships to the Germans.

We have heard a good deal about the French and British navies sailing away to other waters and carrying on the fight, if the homelands should have to capitulate. I must say, however, that when one sits down and thinks the thing out in cold terms, the idea begins to show weak spots.

Suppose France should have to surrender because of the destruction of her armies, but refused to turn over the navy. You and I know perfectly well that the Nazis would threaten a penalty which would leave the French little choice but to acquiesce.

And I'm not sure that we shouldn't be in exactly the same position if Hitler should succeed against England.

TO LECTURE — Harry R. O'Brien of Worthington, O., who is known to thousands of nature lovers as "the Plain Dirt Gardener," will lecture here June 24 at the W. P. Clement yard under auspices of the Lubbock Garden club and the South Plains Dahlia society.

Typical American Girl For 1940 Is Blue-Eyed Brunette

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., (U.P.)—The typical American college girl is a blue-eyed brunette, 5 feet 5 inches tall, who tips the scales at 116 pounds, and likes her boy friends tall, dark and handsome, with brown eyes.

That data was the result of a survey by College Greetings, weekly student newspaper at MacMurray college for women here. The survey was made through a system of questionnaries to the 610 students at intervals throughout the college year.

The average college girl, the survey showed, wears both books and cardigan sweaters and likes tan and navy reefers. For footwear she prefers brogues and saddle oxfords and this spring wore a crew hat or porkpie headgear.

Her boy friends are preferably tall and dark with brown eyes, and should send corsages for all important occasions. Unless they are good dancers they needn't bother to call.

"Gone With the Wind" is tops in movies so far as the typical college girl is concerned, but Bette Davis takes first place as favorite feminine star. She swoons over Clark Gable. The MacMurray girls were evenly divided, however, between Kay Kyser and Glen Miller as their favorite dance band leaders.

Contracts On Camp Are Let

DALLAS, June 15 (AP)—Construction contracts for the Farm Security administration's camp community for migratory farm workers at Harlingen has been awarded to two Rio Grande valley contractors, District Engineer Karl Buster said today.

The M. R. Nelson company of McAllen received the general construction contract with a bid of $114,730. Contract to build 224 wooden shelters was awarded to John Lockhart, Harlingen, for $57,792. The Nelson company did the major construction work on the FSA migrant camp at Weslaco, recently opened for occupation.

For 224 Families

The camp community, to be built on a 120-acre tract a mile and a half south of Harlingen, will accommodate 224 familes.

The Harlingen camp will be the third located in the Rio Grande valley and the fifth in Texas. Camp communities are now in operation at Weslaco and Raymondville in the valley, and Sinton and Robstown in the Corpus Christi area. Bids have been taken on camps to be located at Crystal City, Zavalla county, and at McAllen. Land has been bought for a camp at Princeton, Collin county, in North Texas, and bids for its construction will be received June 21.

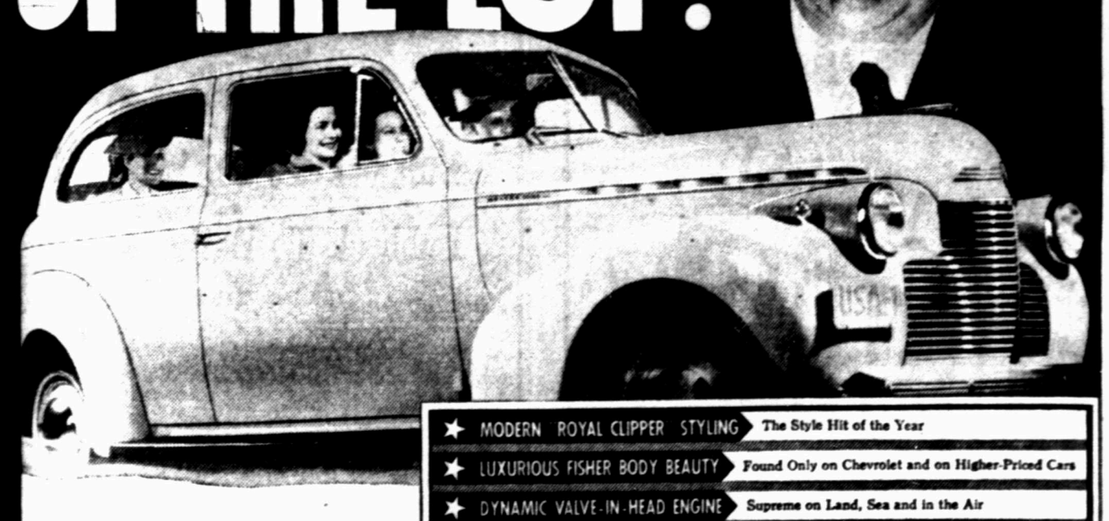

The National Resources board reports 811,725,000 acres of land in the United States "essential incapable of tillage."

Camera Visits With Lubbockites—Dr. C. J. Wagner, Pioneer Surgeon

Dr. Charles J. Wagner chief of staff of West Texas hospital, at his desk.

Mrs. Wagner and a nephew, John D. Bickham, look on as Dr. Wagner seines a lily and fish pool, one of the beauty spots at the Wagner home.

Dr. Wagner packs in the bags and Mrs. Wagner stands by ready to take off on one of their numerous travel trips.

Dr. Wagner, medical director of a Texas Tech Yaqui expe listens to the heart beat of a member of the tribe.

* * *

Dr. C. J. Wagner Loves His Profession, Home, Travel And Wide Circle Of Friends

PAY the Lubbock Rotary club a visit in one of its regular weekly luncheons and you'll find a kind-faced soft-spoken man wielding the president's gavel and using the editorial "we" in all his personal references.

Should you chance to drop in at West Texas hospital you'll probably find the same man moving about the halls stopping here and there to greet patients cheerfully.

The man is Dr Charles J Wagner pioneer Lubbock surgeon president of the Lubbock Rotary club and chief of staff of the hospital.

For 27 years Dr Wagner has administered to the people of Lubbock and the South Plains in their many ills and legion are the close personal friends among his former patients. While this interview was being obtained, the telephone rang in his study and a patient on whom he had operated in 1918 called and chatted briefly. She now lives in California and just wanted to say hello.

Has Seen Changes

Dr. Wagner has seen the development of his profession and the growth of Lubbock and the South Plains go hand in hand. In the early days of his practice here he walked on many calls, later rode in horse and buggy, still later in automobiles and more recently by plane. He performed operations by candlelight by lamplight and later by electric light and now sees the use of fluorescent lights as a great boon to the surgeon in intricate cases.

Educated especially for surgery, he was the family doctor for many years after arriving in Lubbock but later was given the opportunity to work wide in the phase of the profession for which he long prepared.

Came Here In 1913

Coming to Lubbock, Sept 1913, Dr. Wagner joined Dr M C Overton, another pioneer physician in the Overton sanitarium, formerly the old Lubbock hotel on the site just north of the Hilton hotel. Dr. Overton had visited in Chicago and asked Dr. A J Ochsner, under whom the young surgeon was studying for a recommendation of a young surgeon and Wagner was his choice.

The young surgeon found Lubbock a far different place from what he expected but he soon became a part of the community in which he has made his home ever since. He fought the roads by horse and buggy and car to travel far and wide in his practice. He operated in homes, used kitchen tables for operating tables and had many other trials in his practice but today there's sort of a gleam in his eyes for having gone through it all.

The second and third fingers of his left hand are missing, the result of X-ray burns but Dr. Wagner explains "we trained the hand so that it could be used even better than before." In early years he did all of his X-ray and laboratory work.

Recalls Operation Out Of Doors

He recalls one operation which he performed out of doors it being the more sanitary than the shack in which the negro suffering from strangulated hernia lived. Other negroes shooed off the flies with branches and several days later he called up Dr. T. J Land of Lorenzo, with whom he worked on the patient, to learn of his condition. The negro was back at work having removed the stitches with his own knife, Dr. Wagner was informed.

Charles John Wagner was born in Bell Center Ohio Nov 28 1878, one of three children of Mr and Mrs. Frederick Wagner. His father was a cabinet and wagon maker. When Charles, the youngest, was four years old his father died and the mother worked to keep them together, give them a good training and education. Charles Wagner sold vegetables in the home community from the time he was old enough to carry a basket. During summer vacations and high school years, he worked as a carpenter.

Valedictorian Of His Class

On graduation from high school as valedictorian of his class, young Wagner taught in district school four years earning money to go to college. In 1905 he graduated from Monmouth college, Monmouth, Ill., with a bachelor of arts degree and thereafter for three years he taught sciences in Bellefontaine, Ohio, High school. As was customary for a science teacher in those days, the young pedagogue coached all athletic teams including football and baseball and also directed the destinies of the debate teams.

In 1908, he enrolled in medical college in Chicago for a five-year course and in June 1912 he received his degree of doctor of medicine from Illinois University College of Medicine. In college he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, Nu Sigma Nu, oldest medical fraternity in the U. S. in medical school. In his junior year he received the degree of master of arts from Monmouth college and in his senior year he was chosen for membership in the national honorary medical fraternity, Alpha Omega Alpha.

Married In 1912

His internes service and an additional years work in surgery were in Augustana hospital, Chicago, where he assisted in more than 4,000 operations under Dr. Ochsner.

While a student in Monmouth college young Wagner met Miss Janette Tinker and the college friendship soon turned to romance. Their engagement continued seven years while he was teaching in Bellefontaine, she taught in Monmouth and while he was in medical school she taught in a girls' school in Cairo, Egypt. They were married in Monmouth, Ill., Christmas day, 1912.

They have two daughters, Mrs. M. M. Laing of Decatur, Ill. and Miss Helen Wagner who is studying voice and piano in New York City. Both girls have attended Monmouth college, alma mater of their parents and in 1937 Dr. Wagner was honored with a doctor of science degree during his eldest daughter's graduation.

Joined Hospital Group

In 1920 the partnership of Dr. Wagner and Dr. Overton was dissolved and Dr. Wagner became associated with a staff of other physicians in the organization of the West Texas Hospital association, a group of 350 citizens of this area. Dr. Wagner was president of the association from 1920 to 1929. In 1922, they moved into the present West Texas hospital building. The fourth floor was added in 1924 and now a $70,000 clinic building is being constructed and the entire hospital air-conditioned.

When the hospital was erected there were five staff members and now there are fifteen. A nurses training school has been conducted from the start and now there are 35 to 45 nurses on duty.

Dr. Wagner is a charter member of the Lubbock Rotary club of which he is now president. He is a past president of the West Texas Museum association; an elder in the First Presbyterian church; and member of the Lubbock-Crosby Medical society, the Texas Medical association and the American Medical association. He is a former director of the Texas Tech YMCA board.

He has had a part in the development of Lubbock and is a member of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Loves To Travel

He is a member of the Metropolitan Museum association, New York City, the American Travel club, Texas Geographic society and the Texas Good Roads association.

In 1925, Dr. and Mrs. Wagner were members of a group of 700 physicians and their wives which visited Canada, the British Isles and countries in Europe. He was with the Texas Tech Yaqui expedition into Mexico with Dr. W. C. Holden in 1932, 1938 and 1940.

Home and travel are his main hobbies. His home at 1644 Broadway is one of the most livable in Lubbock and he maintains a cabin at Cuchara, Colo., 50 miles west of Trinidad in the region of the Spanish peaks. He and Mrs. Wagner and Misses Margaret Weeks and Mabel Irwin left Friday for a weekend visit there and during the summer, the Wagners have many guests. Trout fishing is found in abundance in the area.

Only a brother, E. J. Wagner of Topeka, Kans., survives Dr. Wagner's family; a sister, Mrs. Clifford Bickman having died several years ago. A nephew, John D. Bickman, lives with Dr. and Mrs. Wagner here and is a freshman pre-medical student at Tech. Charles Bickman, another nephew, also attended Tech through the kindness of his uncle. He now resides at Antwerp, Ohio.

Youth Is Willing To Pay This Fee

AUSTIN, June 15 (U.P.)—James L. Malone, University of Texas graduate from Carthage, who made a test case contesting the "union fee" charged university registrants today had paid another union fee with pleasure.

It was $1.50 for a marriage license to wed Miss Vivienne Conners of Austin today.

Malone won his suit against the university fee in district court. The case recently was reversed by the third court of civil appeals and university regents meeting today will consider whether the fees will be available next term for operation of the student union building.

British Ironclad Cavalry Is Outgunned But Not Outfought; Hold Wide Front

EDITOR'S NOTE—Drew Middleton, New Yorker and Syracuse university graduate, has gone to France from the Associated Press London bureau on his second assignment with the British expeditionary force since the German blitzkrieg on the Western front began May 10. His previous assignment ended when the B. E. F. sent all war correspondents back to England shortly before the Allied withdrawal from Dunkerque.

By DREW MIDDLETON

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, In France June 14 (Delayed)—(U.P.)—British ironclad cavalry, outgunned but not outfought, ranged along a front a mile wide as all France turned combatting Germans who were driving southward from Paris in the new natural line of defense the river Loire.

Tanks and armored cars are moving out of the French towns to fight—as they have for months—against the Nazis' new technique.

Flaming Spirit Lives

This simply put consists of a first wave of bombing and machine-gunning airplanes, then a wave of tanks and finally motorized infantry equipped with new mortars of deadly accuracy and firing high explosives which are rushed to the flanks by infantry and support tanks.

A cavalry officer of one of Britain's armored divisions told me today now he and his men had fought this flood of iron and death for two weeks. The old flaming spirit of the cavalry still lives encased in armor plate.

"The men call the biggest German tanks 'snarlers'," said the captain. "Our tanks are light but we do damned well against their cruisers."

About 85 Tons

The best estimate of the snarlers' weight is 85 tons.

The biggest attack yet launched by a British armored division was at a German bridge head on the river Somme, in which two light tank regiments smashed and battered throughout an entire day against glittering German columns.

They drew off, badly mauled, as the heavy tanks of the tanks corps proper sifted through and threw the Germans out.

AMBULANCE TRAINS AWAIT THEIR TRAGIC FREIGHT—Freighted with tragedy, ambulance trains are streaming from British channel ports as "the world's greatest battle" in France produces casualties in unprecedented numbers. Typical of scenes now being enacted in grim reality is this preparedness drill in southern England. Ambulance drivers from Southampton and Portsmouth are practicing transfer of wounded onto ambulance trains.

direction of Shanghai and Hongkong. The latter is a mountainous island about 12 miles long and six miles wide which serves as Britain's Gibraltar off China's southern coast, and which is even more vulnerable than Britain's fortress at the entrance to the Mediterranean. Hongkong is the police headquarters for defending British interests in South China, but since the police force is occupied in another part of the globe, and since Japan controls Canton, Hainan and the Pearl river, Hongkong could not be defended from a Japanese attack by land and sea.

May Seize Shanghai Sttlements

Unlike Hongkong, which is a British Crown Colony, Shanghai is a region in which are involved the interests of other powers. Yet Shanghai means the International Settlement and the Settlement is dominated by the British. The second most important power in the Settlement is the U. S. When the other nations joined their concessions together in 1863 France remained outside and maintains her interests in what is known as the French Concession.

It is the combined prestige of these three powers which has maintained these islands of extraterritoriality in the midst of what has now become Japanese territory. The two tiny enclaves, whose security has depended entirely on the power of the British fleet, have long been thorns in the side of the Japanese. When the Japanese drove the Chinese out of Shanghai in 1937 they greatly enlarged their stake but did not seize the Settlements because such action would have increased their foreign entanglements. Japan knew if she waited for the right moment Shanghai would fall in her lap like a ripe plum. That moment is almost at hand.

Solution Of Problem Postponed

Solution of the problem of the Netherlands Indies has been postponed for the moment, according to advices from Tokyo. It is not that the Japanese expansionists have abandoned their designs on the Dutch possessions but is a question of which step shall be taken first. Japanese leaders, says an American source in Tokyo, see the U. S. so involved with the Allies in Europe that Japan will have a free hand in seizing Shanghai and Hongkong. Increasing demands for American assistance to the Allies have made a profound impression in Tokyo. The enthusiastic support given by Americans to such movements as the "Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies" substantiates the Japanese belief.

Meanwhile, Japan would like to patch up some kind of an armistice in China in order to consolidate the present conquests and to prepare for future ones. So far the Wang Ching-wei regime has not accomplished any useful purpose and Japanese home opinion demands immediate results. Confidential reports from Chungking say that the air is thick with rumors of Japanese peace terms offered to Chiang Kai-shek. Even Japanese army leaders are talking about peace terms on the grounds that Japan can't afford to overlook territorial advantages offered by German victories in Europe.

Result Of Wishful Thinking

These overtures are the result of wishful thinking because the only power in China capable of making peace is Chiang Kai-shek. Private advices from the Generalissimo's inner circle state that there is no chance of Chiang's accepting a truce on any other terms than the status quo of 1937. Such terms are wholly unacceptable both to the Japanese government and to the Japanese public. Even though it is definitely known that Chiang's intermediaries are listening to Japanese offers, China's strong man remains adamant and refuses to make counter-proposals.

Inducements to peace which Japan is offering China now are the daily bombardments of Chungking and increased pressure on the Central China front. The bombs are supposed to destroy Chiang Kai-shek or change his mind. In Central China the biggest battle in the Orient since the Wuhan engagement has been fought. Half a million men were blasting away at each other and almost no one in the U. S. knew it. With hundreds of tanks, some 8,000 trucks, planes and a large army, the Japanese launched two drives on the twin cities of Fancheng and Hsiangyang which lie northwest of Hankow. Military experts believe that whoever controls these river towns actually maintains control of Central China. The Chinese claimed a great victory, which was somewhat substantiated by Tokyo's silence and the presence on the scene of General Itagaki, Chief o the Japanese staff.

Chinese Not Giving Up

Chinese officals in Chungking regard the battle as encouraging. It indicated that the Chinese are not scared or ready to give up. However, the real fear is that a prolonged stalemate in military affairs might result in a deterioration in morale. The Chinese army still is incapable of launching an offensive, and as a neutral observer in Chungking puts it: No settlement is possible until the European war is over and by that time people are likely to come to feel that the Japanese more or less belong in China.

These divergent moves and policies show that Japan is moving forward to her ultimate goal. Briefly stated, the Japanese objectives (the so-called new order in Asia) are the establishment of a hegemony over the Far East, the total exclusion of all foreign influence, and the maintenance of a Japanese Monroe doctrine for East Asia. The European war makes possible the next step toward the achievement of the Japanese dream of conquest. The seizure of Hongkong and Shanghai will close the last ports in China to Western trade and, at the same time, bring Japan immense military advantage and economic treasure. Such a situation would leave Singapore as the last and lonely outpost of Western influenc in East Asia. American involvement in the European war would put Hongkong, Shanghai and even Singapore at the mercy of Japan.

Norris Rebukes Baptist Group

FORT WORTH, June 15 (AP)—Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of First Baptist church here and Temple Baptist church in Detroit, Mich., today issued a statement in which he took the Southern Baptist convention to task for passing a resolution Friday in which President Roosevelt was criticized.

"It would have been more fitting for the Southern Baptist convention to pass a resolution following the admonition of the apostle Paul to pray for the 'powers that are ordained of God'", Rev. Mr. Norris said. "The resolution criticizing the president is like playing doodle-bug while the world is going to destruction. Southern Baptists should pass a resolution calling upon the president to set aside a day of prayer, humiliation and confession to Almighty God, and that justice and righteousness be established throughout the earth.

Send Vote Of Thinks

"Hitler and Mussolini will send the Southern Baptist convention a vote of thanks.

"I doubt if any other minister opposed and criticized the Roosevelt administration as much as I did from the beginning up until the outbreak of the war last September. I voted against the present administration twice. I went into my pulpit, on the radio and in the press opposing the dangerous tendencies of the New Deal.

"But with civilization, democracy, freedom and Christianity trembling in the balance this is no time to throw stones at the commander-in-chief of our army and navy and the president of the United States."

Six Weeks Of Campaigning Face Candidates In Texas

BY GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, June 15.—Six weeks of campaigning remains for candidates for governor.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel had planned to start his campaign Monday. Uniforms, including those for two girls, had been ordered and indicated another hill billy band campaign.

Suddenly he announced that duties and assistance in national defense plans had caused him to abandon a campaign for the present. He added that the people at this time are in no frame of mind for politics.

Thompson Hurls Query

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, late in entering the race, jumped into the campaign with a radio query to the governor about what his service had been in the last war.

Effects of this campaign were still being waited. Governor O'Daniel said he had no' heard Colonel Thompson's broadcasts and was "too busy with defense plans to consider politics."

Thompson's campaign headquarters a few blocks from the state capitol was a hive of industry. Posters picturing Thompson's career from boyhood, to war service as youngest lieutenant colonel in the A. E. F., his utility rate reductions as mayor of Amarillo and work on the state railroad commission were displayed in the windows. Inside a dozen workers at desks were busy with campaign literature. A number of speakers have gone out over the state in behalf of Thompson's candidacy.

Sadler Pushing On

Jerry Sadler dropped into Austin near the week end and reported his campaign going steadily forward. With him wa. the Aggie football star, John Kimbrough, looking almost as big in civvies as he does on the gridiron.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferugson was so busy with her campaign that she forgot that Thursday was her birthday until kinfolks sent her presents.

R. P. Condron continued his "trailer" campaign. Albert L. Derden stopped off in Austin, eating cornbread dunked in buttermilk, as he continued his swing over the state. Harry Hines will interrupt his campaign for a road letting by the highway commission on June 25 and a commission hearing on June 29 and July 1. Then he will be free to continue his drive for governor for the remainder of the first-primary period.

News Briefs

Joe Penner Gives Up His Cigar For Rosemary Lane

BY BILL PORTER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 15 — Short takes: A huge cigar has always been a Joe Penner character prop, but in "The Boys From Syracuse" Joe's use of a cigar will be cut down considerably. The reason—he appears with Rosemary Lane and cigar smoke makes her ill.

Joe made the sacrifice willingly, but couldn't resist the gag. One day just before lunch he presented Miss Lane with a beautiful box of what appeared to be candy. But she opened the box to find a fine collection of snipes — well-used cigar butts. She screamed, tossed the box of butts in the air and completely broke up the company.

When Louis B. Mayer, M. G. M. production chief, was a little boy chicken soup was a luxury beyond his wildest dreams. And later when he could afford chicken soup he found that most chicken soup was very short on chicken and long on broth.

Consequently, when he and Marcus Loew planned the M. G. M. commissary 15 years ago he worked out a recipe with the chef for a chicken soup which was to be kept on hand at all times. Today it is a studio institution and is listed on the menu of the studio commissary as "Louis B. Mayer's Chicken Soup." More famous movie personalities have eaten that chicken soup than probably any other concoction of food in Hollywood.

Not War Dancers

MOST of the Indian actors from California and Arizona are working in C. B. DeMille's "Northwest Mounted Police." The other day, Dance Director LeRoy Prinz called for volunteers to do an Indian war dance which he had dreamed up.

Overwork and the hot sun of the Universal back lot caused Eric Blore to faint during his first day's work on "The Boys from Syracuse." He was taken to the studio hospital and then sent home to rest. The next day he returned to work on the very same set in the very same scene. As he walked into the first scene he remarked, "Hmm, this is where I went out."

On "The Sentence" set the stage was all set. Richard Barthelmess, George Brent and Virginia Bruce were seated in Brent's office awaiting the arrival of Bill Lundigan.

"Okay, action!" yelled Director Vincent Sherman. "Hey, wait a minute!" Bill Lundigan shouted from the other side of the office door. They waited a minute. "All right, let's go!" said Sherman. Again Lundigan's voice came from behind the door, "Hey, hold it!"

Sherman was burned by this time so he stormed around behind the set and there sat Lundigan with a sheet over him having his hair trimmed. It was his first day away from "The Sea Hawk" and he had to have his haircut modernized.

"Typhoon Love"

DOROTHY LAMOUR called the Paramount publicity department from Hawaii to announce that she has been made a genuine Hawaiian princess. In an elaborate ceremony the Hawaiians named her "Alohi Lani" which means "Heavenly Love."

When the publicity man who handled her last picture, "Typhoon," heard the announcement he remarked, "The stupes must be playing it straight. They should have called her 'Typhoon Love' It sweeps you off your feet." This is a fitting climax to her years as the sarong princess.

Errol Flynn received a copy of his dad's book "Monotramata," a biological treatise which had taken 12 years in the writing. He looked through the book and remarked, "It took dad 12 years to write this book. It would probably take me 12 years to read it. And I most likely would never understand it." Flynn's father is a professor of biology in Bristol, Ireland.

Raft, Bennett Star At Texan

THE fine stage play written by Rachel Crothers, "Susan And God," emerges as an even greater motion picture and it opens a three-day engagement at the Palace theater today.

The picture co-stars Fredric March and Joan Crawford.

As the rattlebrained and self-centered Susan who adopts a new social movement as a fad and tries to convert all her friends to it, only to see them antagonized and her own life develop into a seemingly hopeless tangle, Miss Crawford attains a high dramatic assurance.

Makes Brilliant Return

And as the inebriate husband, Barrie, who wins the final victory with himself and Susan, March makes a brilliant return to the screen which he temporarily deserted to star in the stage hit, "The American Way."

Highly Emotional Drama

The story deals with women whose husbands cross the law and leave them behind while they serve prison sentences. The picture spotlights the plight of these women, beautiful, exposed to temptations, but trying to be faithful to their men behind the bars.

Others who contribute include Gladys George, Walter Pidgeon, June Knight and Lloyd Nolan.

Comedy At Cactus

With James Stewart in the leading male role, the two head a great cast. Such prominent favorites as Mischa Auer, Charles Winninger, Brian Donlevy, Irene Hervey, Una Merkel, Warren Hymer, Allen Jenkins, Samuel S. Hinds, Billy Gilbert and others are included.

As the star entertainer in the Last Chance Saloon, Miss Dietrich has a role that marks a drastic change from her recent performances, but is in many respects similar to the memorable character she portrayed in "The Blue Angel," the picture that made her a star.

Marlene sings to the cowboys and miners such tunes as "Little Joe," "You've Got That Look" and "The Boys in the Back Room." She cheerfully connives at crooked card games, dances the Virginia reel and makes violent love to Stewart, and climaxes it all by a fist-fight with Una Merkel.

Outstanding Performances

Stewart's work in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" is equalled if not surpassed by his performance in "Destry Rides Again."

Mischa Auer, as a Russian cowboy, Charles Winninger as the town drunk, Brian Donlevy as the domineering gambler, Una Merkel as the henpecking wife of Auer, and Irene Hervey as the winsome girl, are worthy of special mention.

NEVADA COUNTS AUTOS

"Green Hell" W Be At Broadway

HOLLYWOOD has made a jungle picture in which the jungle is not the star, but rather the background for good acting. It is the story of seven men and one woman pitted against nature and, at times, even against each other.

That's "Green Hell," the new Douglas Fairbanks, jr.,-Joan Bennett production which is currently at the Broadway theater.

To Battle Against Love

Young Fairbanks comes through with a forceful characterization of the woman-hating bachelor who battles with himself to keep from falling in love at the same time he is battling the jungle to keep alive.

Crosby Is At Lyric

Louise Platt Now Is About Immune To Hardest Luck

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 15—Louise Platt is a leading lady who doesn't own an evening dress. That should give you some idea of her seriousness, but it omits the important fact that Miss Platt also laughs a great deal—and usually at herself.

She worked in most of the cowbarn theaters and stock companies from Maine to Virginia to Minnesota, serving variously as wardrobe mistress, ingenue, janitress, and as the somnambulist in "Silent House."

She got into a number of Broadways plays, all of which flopped like fish stranded by low tide. In Richmond, a member of the company absconded with everything except the heavier backdrops. Once in Manhattan, her leading man died at the dress rehearsal.

In 1935, when Warners sent a company back to Annapolis to make "Shipmates Forever," Miss Platt, the pretty daughter of a navy surgeon stationed there, was asked to select cadets for bit roles. Being very young and stagestruck, she went hoity-toity when a part was offered her and affirmed her loyalty to the theatuh. After that, Director Frank Borzage and his crew assured her that Hollywood was panting for her talents, and that she'd be another Gaynor. For amusement, they'd put her in scenes full of the hammiest histrionics, and under the sardonic eye of a flimless camera she'd kiss the boys goodby.

Flunked Her Test

Of course, the company returned to Hollywood without her, and she began her conquest of the little theaters. Even after she had progressed to the extent of winning a chance to audition for the lead in "Pride and Prejudice" she was so excited that she wept all through the lines of that light comedy. Impressed by such a torrent of tears, they let her read progressively smaller roles until she found one that better suited her mood.

She made a brief photographic test for the top part in "Gone With the Wind" and showed up favorably, but then flunked her audition before George Cukor.

After striking an attitude to begin a scene, Miss Platt stalled on the first syllable. The impatient Cukor snatched the lines from her still open mouth and rambled through them himself. She congratulated the director sweetly, saying she knew he'd make a perfectly darling Scarlett. Then she walked out, never dreaming that she actually had begun her movie career.

Gave Her Feminine Lead

But Producer Walter Wanger later happened to see her silent screen test. He brought her here for the second feminine lead in "I Met My Love Again." Next she was assigned to "Stagecoach."

After "Stagecoach" she went into "Tell No Tales." Now, for Hal Roach, she's co-starring with Victor Mature in "Captain Caution." They will tell you on the lot that she's a strange gal, serious and earnestly argumentative, and unfortunately too busy for romance. But swell.

Louise Platt . . . She laughs a great deal—at herself.

Elimination Of "Nut" Drivers Advocated

NEW YORK, June 15 — The lives of 15,000 persons killed in traffic accidents each year might be saved if "nut" drivers were eliminated with mental tests, the American Medical association was told at its closing meeting today.

Agreeing with popular opinion, Dr. Lowell S. Selling of Detroit, Mich., reported that mental examinations of traffic offenders in the recorder's court of his city showed that many of them had just about enough sense to turn a steering wheel and step on the accelerator.

The tests made of persons haled into court include a physical examination and tests of reaction time, judgment of speed and distance, and color blindness. In addition the offenders are submitted to mental tests, he said, and required to give their entire history in order to obtain their intelligence rating.

Noise travels approximately one foot faster each second for every degree increase in temperature.

Your Screen Test

1. Frank Craven has been signed for a role in "City of Conquest" similar to the one he played in Sol Lesser's "Our Town." What type of role is it?

2. A well-known player has appeared with Greta Garbo in six pictures, including "Queen Christina," "Susan Lenox," "Romance" and "Desire." (a) What's his name? (b) In what picture series has he been appearing?

3. Why are so many film actors and actresses now available for appearances in the "straw hat" circuit, or summer stock?

4. Robert Montgomery, the American actor, has joined the Allied cause as an ambulance driver. In what picture did he play an American gangster who found himself a member of British nobility?

5. The actress in the picture made her screen debut at the age of three with William Farnum in "The Miracle Child." She appeared in more than 50 features before reaching stardom in "Anne of Green Gables." (a) She's which of these three: Anne Shirley, Dorothy Lamour, Rita Johnson? (b) Under what name was she known as a professional model?

Count 20 points for each question correctly answered. A score of 60 is good; 80, excellent; 90 or more, colossal.

"Secret Four" Offer Thrills

Set Out To Save Nation

Feared, admired, respected and unknown, these four patriots set out to save the very soul of their nation. When they are about to break up the conspiracy which is undermining the government, a beautiful blonde reporter steps in and nearly ruins the work of months.

The story moves with speed and decisiveness. From the opening sequence when one of the secret four is about to be decapitated, to the final shot of four champagne glasses, there is tense excitement combined with an atmosphere of patriotic loyalty.

Members of Cast

Others outstanding in the cast are Anna Lee as the beautiful and bewildered newspaper reporter, Francis Sullivan as the French couturier, Hugh Sinclair whose impersonations are remarkable, and Basil Sydney as the tool of the conspiracy.

GOP Candidates Have Reserved Hotel Space

PHILADELPHIA, June 15. (AP)—Candidates seeking the Republican presidential nomination at the national convention June 24 have reserved hotel space here ranging from a double room for utilities executive Wendell L. Willkie to 102 rooms for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft backers, exclusive of Ohio's voting delegates, have accommodations in at least six hotels and have already opened headquarters in one.

Next to Senator Taft on the room reservation roster comes Thomas E. Dewey of New York with 78 in two hotels.

Meaning Of German Victory Forecast

BENNINGTON, Vt., June 15. (AP)—Secretary Wallace predicted today that a German victory in Europe probably would result in division of the world into four great spheres of economic and political influence.

He listed them, in the order of their power, as follows: German-controlled areas of Europe and Africa, plus Asiatic territories which once were British and French colonies, North and South America, with possibly Australia and New Zealand included, Russia and Japan.

"If Germany wins," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at Bennington college, "she will have the complete resources of the European and African continents and a slave population of 400 million people."

"Susan And God" Tops Film Bill At Palace This Week

Hollywood On The Loose..

Joe Penner Gives Up His Cigar For Rosemary Lane

BY BILL PORTER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 15 — Short takes: A huge cigar has always been a Joe Penner character prop, but in "The Boys From Syracuse" Joe's use of a cigar will be cut down considerably. The reason—he appears with Rosemary Lane and cigar smoke makes her ill.

Joe made the sacrifice willingly, but couldn't resist the gag. One day just before lunch he presented Miss Lane with a beautiful box of what appeared to be candy. But she opened the box to find a fine collection of snipes—well-used cigar butts. She screamed, tossed the box of butts in the air and completely broke up the company.

When Louis B. Mayer, M. G. M. production chief, was a little boy chicken soup was a luxury beyond his wildest dreams. And later when he could afford chicken soup he found that most chicken soup was very short on chicken and long on broth.

Consequently, when he and Marcus Loew planned the M. G. M. commissary 15 years ago he worked out a recipe with the chef for a chicken soup which was to be kept on hand at all times. Today it is a studio institution and is listed on the menu of the studio commissary as "Louis B. Mayer's Chicken Soup." More famous movie personalities have eaten that chicken soup than probably any other concoction of food in Hollywood.

Not War Dancers

MOST of the Indian actors from California and Arizona are working in C. B. DeMille's "Northwest Mounted Police." The other day, Dance Director LeRoy Prinz called for volunteers to do an Indian war dance which he had dreamed up.

One chief stepped up followed by a group of braves.

Not one of them could do an Indian war dance. Prinz solved his problem by hiring some professional Hollywood dancers and making them up like Indians.

Overwork and the hot sun of the Universal back lot caused Eric Blore to faint during his first day's work on "The Boys from Syracuse." He was taken to the studio hospital and then sent home to rest. The next day he returned to work on the very same set in the very same scene. As he walked into the first scene he remarked, "Hmm, this is where I went out."

On "The Sentence" set the stage was all set. Richard Barthelmess, George Brent and Virginia Bruce were seated in Brent's office awaiting the arrival of Bill Lundigan.

"Okay, action!" yelled Director Vincent Sherman. "Hey, wait a minute!" Bill Lundigan shouted from the other side of the office door. They waited a minute. "All right, let's go!" said Sherman. Again Lundigan's voice came from behind the door, "Hey, hold it!"

Sherman was burned by this time so he stormed around behind the set and there sat Lundigan with a sheet over him having his hair trimmed. It was his first day away from "The Sea Hawk" and he had to have his haircut modernized.

"Typhoon Love"

DOROTHY LAMOUR called the Paramount publicity department from Hawaii to announce that she has been made a genuine Hawaiian princess. In an elaborate ceremony the Hawaiians named her "Alohi Lani" which means "Heavenly Love."

When the publicity man who handled her last picture, "Typhoon," heard the announcement he remarked, "The stupes must be playing it straight. They should have called her 'Typhoon Love' It sweeps you off your feet." This is a fitting climax to her years as the sarong princess.

Errol Flynn received a copy of his dad's book "Monotramata," a biological treatise which had taken 12 years in the writing. Flynn's father is a professor of biology in Bristol, Ireland.

Raft, Bennett Star At Texan

THE fine stage play written by Rachel Crothers, "Susan And God," emerges as an even greater motion picture and it opens a three-day engagement at the Palace theater today.

The picture co-stars Fredric March and Joan Crawford.

As the rattlebrained and self-centered Susan who adopts a new social movement as a fad and tries to convert all her friends to it, only to see them antagonized and her own life develop into a seemingly hopeless tangle, Miss Crawford attains a high dramatic assurance.

Makes Brilliant Return

And as the inebriate husband, Barrie, who wins the final victory with himself and Susan, March makes a brilliant return to the screen which he temporarily deserted to star in the stage hit, "The American Way."

Sparkling performances by all members of the cast are given. Ruth Hussey is seen as Charlotte, friend of the family in love with Barrie. Rita Hayworth is cast as the glamorous young actress, Leonora, in love with actor John Carroll but married to businessman Nigel Bruce.

Rita Quigley as Blossom, neglected daughter of Susan and Barrie; Rose Hobart as Irene, hostess at the house party where the action gets under way; Bruce Cabot as sportsman Mike O'Hara, in love with Irene; and Constance Collier as Lady Wigstaff, leader of the movement, all give lift to the production.

Highly Emotional Drama

Highly emotional drama and honest-to-goodness thrills are in store for theater fans when they witness the picture, "The House Across The Bay," which opens today at the Texan.

The story deals with women whose husbands cross the law and leave them behind while they serve prison sentences. The picture spotlights the plight of these women, beautiful, exposed to temptations, but trying to be faithful to their men behind the bars.

Others who contribute include Gladys George, Walter Pidgeon, June Knight and Lloyd Nolan.

Comedy At Cactus

A new Marlene Dietrich, vastly improved and bearing little resemblance to her previous appearances except in beauty, returns today at the Cactus theater in the showing of "Destry Rides Again."

With James Stewart in the leading male role, the two head a great cast. Such prominent favorites as Mischa Auer, Charles Winninger, Brian Donlevy, Irene Hervey, Una Merkel, Warren Hymer, Allen Jenkins, Samuel S. Hinds, Billy Gilbert and others are included.

As the star entertainer in the Last Chance Saloon, Miss Dietrich has a role that marks a drastic change from her recent performances, but is in many respects similar to the memorable character she portrayed in "The Blue Angel," the picture that made her a star.

Marlene sings to the cowboys and miners such tunes as "Little Joe," "You've Got That Look" and "The Boys in the Back Room." She cheerfully connives at crooked card games, dances the Virginia reel and makes violent love to Stewart, and climaxes it all by a fist-fight with Una Merkel.

Outstanding Performances

Stewart's work in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" is equalled if not surpassed by his performance in "Destry Rides Again."

Mischa Auer, as a Russian cowboy, Charles Winninger as the town drunk, Brian Donlevy as the domineering gambler, Una Merkel as the henpecking wife of Auer, and Irene Hervey as the winsome girl, are worthy of special mention.

"Green Hell" W Be At Broadway

HOLLYWOOD has made a jungle picture in which the jungle is not the star, but rather the background for good acting. It is the story of seven men and one woman pitted against nature and, at times, even against each other.

That's "Green Hell," the new Douglas Fairbanks, jr.-Joan Bennett production which is currently at the Broadway theater.

To Battle Against Love

Young Fairbanks comes through with a forceful characterization of the woman-hating bachelor who battles with himself to keep from falling in love at the same time he is battling the jungle to keep alive.

Miss Bennett has a strong emotional role.

Crosby Is At Lyric

A lively piece of joy and hilarity is offered at the Lyric today in "Road to Singapore," starring Bing Crosby, Dorothy Lamour and Bob Hope. They are ably supported by such players as Charles Coburn, Judith Barrett, Anthony Quinn and Jerry Colonna.

The story serves as a [illegible] which is woven a series [illegible] incidents such as Bing's [illegible] trick of playing "Patty-Cake" [illegible] socking offensive part[illegible] Colonna's singing session[illegible] gan, and the time the boys [illegible] face so that they can get [illegible] to eat at a native party [illegible] naturally involved plenty [illegible] ing of five new tunes, [illegible] dancing by about two hundred [illegible] ical maids.

Louise Platt Now Is About Immune To Hardest Luck

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 15.—Louise Platt is a leading lady who doesn't own an evening dress. That should give you some idea of her seriousness, but it omits the important fact that Miss Platt also laughs a great deal—and usually at herself.

She worked in most of the cowbarn theaters and stock companies from Maine to Virginia to Minnesota, serving variously as wardrobe mistress, ingenue, janitress, and as the somnambulist in "Silent House."

She got into a number of Broadways plays, all of which flopped like fish stranded by low tide. In Richmond, a member of the company absconded with everything except the heavier backdrops. Once in Manhattan, her leading man died at the dress rehearsal.

In 1935, when Warners sent a company back to Annapolis to make "Shipmates Forever," Miss Platt, the pretty daughter of a navy surgeon stationed there, was asked to select cadets for bit roles. Being very young and stagestruck, she went hoity-toity when a part was offered her and affirmed her loyalty to the theatuh. After that, Director Frank Borzage and his crew assured her that Hollywood was panting for her talents, and that she'd be another Gaynor. For amusement, they'd put her in scenes full of the hammiest histrionics, and under the sardonic eye of a flimless camera she'd kiss the boys goodby.

Flunked Her Test

Of course, the company returned to Hollywood without her, and she began her conquest of the little theaters. Even after she had progressed to the extent of winning a chance to audition for the lead in "Pride and Prejudice" she was so excited that she wept all through the lines of that light comedy. Impressed by such a torrent of tears, they let her read progressively smaller roles until she found one that better suited her mood.

She made a brief photographic test for the top part in "Gone With the Wind" and showed up favorably, but then flunked her audition before George Cukor.

After striking an attitude to begin a scene, Miss Platt stalled on the first syllable. The impatient Cukor snatched the lines from her still open mouth and rambled through them himself. She congratulated the director sweetly, saying she knew he'd make a perfectly darling Scarlett. Then she walked out, never dreaming that she actually had begun her movie career.

Gave Her Feminine Lead

But Producer Walter Wanger later happened to see her silent screen test. He brought her here for the second feminine lead in "I Met My Love Again." Next she was assigned to "Stagecoach."

After "Stagecoach" she went into "Tell No Tales." Now, for Hal Roach, she's co-starring with Victor Mature in "Captain Caution." They will tell you on the lot that she's a strange gal, serious and earnestly argumentative, and unfortunately too busy for romance. But swell.

Louise Platt . . . She laughs a great deal—at herself.

Elimination Of "Nut" Drivers Advocated

NEW YORK, June 15 — The lives of 15,000 persons killed in traffic accidents each year might be saved if "nut" drivers were eliminated with mental tests, the American Medical association was told at its closing meeting today.

Agreeing with popular opinion, Dr. Lowell S. Selling of Detroit, Mich., reported that mental examinations of traffic offenders in the recorder's court of his city showed that many of them had jnst about enough sense to turn a steering wheel and step on the accelerator.

The tests made of persons haled into court include a physical examination and tests of reaction time, judgment of speed and distance, and color blindness. In addition the offenders are submitted to mental tests, he said, and required to give their entire history in order to obtain their intelligence rating.

Your Screen Test

1. Frank Craven has been signed for a role in "City of Conquest" similar to the one he played in Sol Lesser's "Our Town." What type of role is it?

2. A well-known player has appeared with Greta Garbo in six pictures, including "Queen Christina," "Susan Lenox," "Romance" and "Desire." (a) What's his name? (b) In what picture series has he been appearing?

3. Why are so many film actors and actresses now available for appearances in the "straw hat" circuit, or summer stock?

4. Robert Montgomery, the American actor, has joined the Allied cause as an ambulance driver. In what picture did he play an American gangster who found himself a member of British nobility?

5. The actress in the picture made her screen debut at the age of three with William Farnum in "The Miracle Child." She appeared in more than 50 features before reaching stardom in "Anne of Green Gables." (a) She's which of these three: Anne Shirley, Dorothy Lamour, Rita Johnson? (b) Under what name was she known as a professional model?

Count 20 points for each question correctly answered. A score of 60 is good; 80, excellent; 90 or more, colossal.

"Secret Four" Offer Thrills

Set Out To Save Nation

Feared, admired, respected and unknown, these four patriots set out to save the very soul of their nation. When they are about to break up the conspiracy which is undermining the government, a beautiful blonde reporter steps in and nearly ruins the work of months.

The story moves with speed and decisiveness. From the opening sequence when one of the secret four is about to be decapitated, to the final shot of four champagne glasses, there is tense excitement combined with an atmosphere of patriotic loyalty.

Members of Cast

Others outstanding in the cast are Anna Lee as the beautiful and bewildered newspaper reporter, Francis Sullivan as the French couturier, Hugh Sinclair whose impersonations are remarkable, and Basil Sydney as the tool of the conspiracy.

GOP Candidates Have Reserved Hotel Space

PHILADELPHIA, June 15. (AP)—Candidates seeking the Republican presidential nomination at the national convention June 24 have reserved hotel space here ranging from a double room for utilities executive Wendell L. Willkie to 102 rooms for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft backers, exclusive of Ohio's voting delegates, have accommodations in at least six hotels and have already opened headquarters in one.

Next to Senator Taft on the room reservation roster comes Thomas E. Dewey of New York with 78 in two hotels.

Meaning Of German Victory Forecast

BENNINGTON, Vt., June 15. (AP)—Secretary Wallace predicted today that a German victory in Europe probably would result in division of the world into four great spheres of economic and political influence.

He listed them, in the order of their power, as follows: German-controlled areas of Europe and Africa, plus Asiastic territories which once were British and French colonies; North and South America, with possibly Australia and New Zealand included; Russia and Japan.

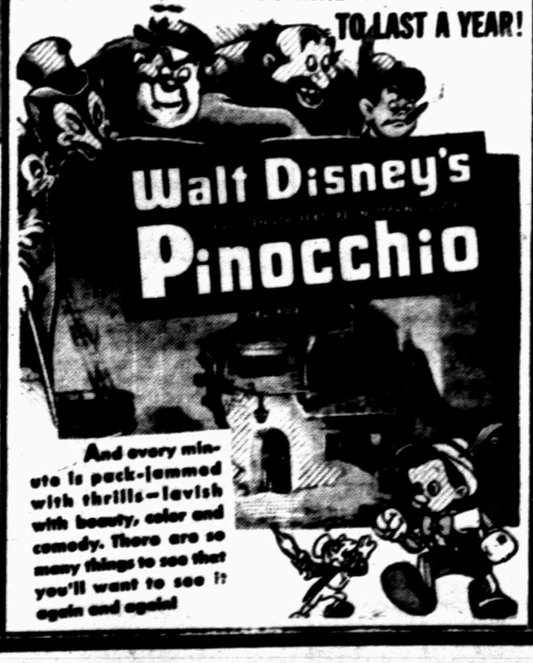

"If Germany wins," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at Bennington college, "she will have the complete resources of the European and African continents and a slave population of 400 million people."

The secretary declared Hitler looked upon the western hemisphere as Germany's "eventual happy hunting ground."

Let Congress Stay On The Job! Army Chiefs Keep Up With War Improvemen

We Mustn't Take Chances

Now Is The Time For Caution

GROWING opposition, in which the American Legion has joined on a national scale, to indicated early adjournment of Congress does not propose any hardship on the individual congressmen.

This statement does not suggest that convenience of representatives and senators should be considered if there is reason why they should stay on the job. If they desert their posts when needed, they are guilty of something not far short of treason. And the more fact that the nation faces perhaps the greatest peril in all its history seems positive evidence that if ever there was a time when Congress should keep its nose that time is right now.

As it happens, there is a method by which Congress can have all the benefits of adjournment without incurring any of its risk. That method is by taking recesses so as to enable those facing fight for reelection to get back to their home districts. The desire to hold onto their jobs is about the only reason why 90 per cent of the Congress don't want to get away from the capital.

If the members recess, they are the judges of when they resume session and of the matters they may consider.

If they adjourn, they are out of session entirely until the next regular session begins in January, or until the President calls a special session, or until they go through the process to force a special session. The President might refuse to call Congress back into session, and the President could not force it into special session; they would be committed to consider only those matters specifically referred to them by him.

During the period of adjournment, Mr. Roosevelt would, in effect, exercise all the powers both of President and of Congress. There would be no check-rein upon him. No one can say how dangerous that might be to the nation, especially when one considers the well-founded suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt wants the United States to enter total war on the side of the Allies immediately. Of course, he has no power to declare war. That is a power vested solely in Congress. But if he were left without restraint, he might get us into trouble so deep that neither Congress nor anyone else could pull us out.

No serious objections are likely if congressmen arrange their work so they can put in a few licks at home in the effort to keep their jobs. With modern methods of transportation, every last one of them could get back to Washington within less than 48 hours. But there will be terrific objection—and perhaps a lot of ex-congressmen next November—if they adjourn and lend color to any suspicion they are putting selfish political interests ahead of sworn and patriotic duty.

An Essential Committee

NEED for the local national defense committee authorized by directors of the chamber of commerce is too obvious for extended comment.

This community and every community need a local agency which knows local conditions to be the contact with the federal government for anything and everything which might be required of it in any emergency which may arise. It requires an agency to coordinate energies and efforts, to guard against confusion and hysteria, to be on the alert against subversive activities.

Likewise, Lubbock would be foolish not to recognize that billions of government dollars are going to be spent within a very short space of time. We may wish that it was unnecessary to spend that money. But it is going to be spent. We would be the poorest kind of business people if we didn't try to get what we can of it.

Getting any of it is going to be difficult because competition for the business will be terrifically keen. Organization will be essential. The chamber committee should provide the nucleus for such organization.

OTTAWA, June 15.—Canada has cracked down on fifth columnists, virtually turning the Dominion into a no-man's land for Communists, Nazis, or anyone else considered likely to disrupt the war effort.

A little red book called "Defence of Canada Regulations" was the trick swung by Royal Canadian Mounted police and provincial authorities to smash the Communist party in Canada and the Nazi-inspired National Unity party. The regulations, in terms so broad they can fit any situation arising from the war, confer on the government power usually associated with a dictatorship.

Disclosure of the treachery of subversive elements on the European battlefields and how they paved the way for German troops to invade the Lowlands brought an insistent public demand that the Canadian government round up riders of the Trojan horse. Secret agents supplied the evidence and the Mounties swung into action.

• • •

COURT ORDER BROKE BACK OF COMMUNISM

FIRST to feel the power of the little red book were the Communists. A test case here convicted three young Reds of actions inimicious to the war effort. They were sentenced to terms ranging from two to three years plus fines from $1,000 to $2,000. Immediately on their conviction, Cecil L. Snyder, deputy attorney general of Ontario, received from Supreme Court Justice E. R. E. Chevrier an order declaring the Communist party illegal.

That court order broke the back of Communism in Canada. Defence of Canada Regulations stipulate that when an organization has been declared illegal "every person who thereafter continues to be or becomes an officer or member thereof or professes to be such, or who advocates or defends the acts, principles, or policies of such illegal organization shall be guilty of an offense against this regulation."

Next on the list came the blackshirted members of the National Unity party. A raid on their Montreal headquarters netted three truck loads of pamphlets, letters and documents. Most of the evidence was anti-semitic propaganda, but Quebec's Attorney General Wilfrid Girouard found grounds to lay charges under the regulations against Ardien Arcand, self-styled fuehrer of the N. U. P., James Parr, national organizer, and other Fascist leaders. They will be tried in Montreal shortly.

VETERANS' HOME GUARD PROTECTS INDUSTRY

BUT sending known Communists and Fascists to cover was not enough to appease the public. The unknowns, the real fifth columnists, were more dangerous because they could not be watched. What the country feared were saboteurs, whisperers of treason and underminers of morale. Defence Minister Norman Rogers had a partial answer to the public demand.

A Veterans' Home Guard, 5,000 strong, was organized from the Canadian Legion. Armed, uniformed and stationed at vital war industries, electric utilities, the guards took care of any saboteurs.

As for the rest of the fifth columnists, Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe assured the House of Commons that Canada be guarded against subversive elements that [illegible] be continued.

The law and the regulations [illegible] stand cover all possible eventualities. Persons of enemy origin suspected of Nazi activities have been interned. Persons of potential enemy origin are known and being closely watched. All military precautions

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE army General Staff—the brainiest this nation has ever had—has devised an amazing scheme for grafting European improvements in weapons and battle technique on our war machine. It is privately known at GHQ as the "shuttle system."

The army, as recently revealed here, has a handpicked corps of observers with the Allied armies in France, had them in Flanders until the crackup. Their task is to obtain information for the benefit of our own fighting folks. Ordinarily, they would write down their observations in formal documents, and forward them to the appropriate authorities at Washington. Their reports might be pigeon-holed or perhaps misunderstood. The lessons they had learned would, therefore, have no—or a lagging—influence upon our own preparations. That was the system employed during the World war before the United States entered.

Now, however, we have a score of experts operating in the thick of the armies—Air, Artillery, Tank, Infantry, Signal Corps, Engineers. But instead of dictating their reports, they catch the swiftest boat to the United States, make a brief visit to Washington and then dash to the plants or arsenals which are turning out the weapons they have watched in actual operation. They submit their reports to superintendents, foremen and mechanics, and the modernistic changes they suggest are installed right in the factory. This method has two advantages: (1) It saves time and (2) no damaging commitments are placed on paper.

QUESTION: A bi-partisan coalition of senators—and many House members—will compromise with the President over the question of adjournment of Congress if he will accept their scheme for warding off the crucial imposition of a military or industrial dictatorship in their absence. Here is the situation:

Mr. Roosevelt wants the Congress to pack up and go home. Otherwise, he says, they "will simply stay here and make speeches." But the legislators do not want "to entrust vast emergency powers in him during this crisis and their absence. Therefore, they suggest that the Knudsen National Defense committee, instead of being a presidential creation, as it is now, be invested with authority by a specific act of Congress. It would then be the creature of Congress rather than of the White House. When the emergency disappears, it could be legislated out of existence and power.

Otherwise—and history proves it—the Executive department will acquire authority under the stress of an emergency which Congress will never be able to recapture. Also—and this is important—new personnel capable of being welded into a political machine will be created, and a large percentage will remain at the Capital permanently. They did so after the World war, and history would probably repeat. It may be a futile debate for the President has a majority of the votes, but here is how it shapes up in Congressional minds—Shall the Congress or the President have the final say in this grave national and interhational crisis?

ANIMALS: Those grand old and heroic weapons of war—the horses and the mules—will still have their day of glory. Despite terrifying stories of Hitler's motorized and mechanized columns, these four-legged animals will still die, as bravely as their human masters, pro patria.

Hitler used 200,000 horses in his victorious dash across the plains of Poland. Five-sixths of his artillery is still horse-drawn. The French have placed large orders in this country for Missouri mules and horses, especially for use in Alps terrain against the Italians. Should the United States ever be forced to engage in hemispheric defense—and under Presidential plans we will, if threatened—horses will serve better than tanks, combat cars or motorcycle troops in the jungles of South America, the mountains of Mexico and the fastnesses of Canada.

The American army now has a cavalry force employing 25,000 dobbins. And instead of being cut down, the force of animal flesh will soon be increased. So don't sell the plugs short.

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

THE drive to junk the war loan laws and give credit to the Allies is getting its biggest shot in the arm from Canada. War financing to the North is in such a bad way that Canadian bankers no longer bother to deny the reports issued by the Wall Street banks.

The crisis is building up as a result of abnormal industrial commitments undertaken as a war emergency—without the money in sight. The single aircraft item loads the budget with a first cost of 200 millions. The European call on Canada is no longer confined to the nominal orders of the first six months of the war. The Dominion is tooling up for a serious contribution of munitions, chemicals and the growing possibility that Canada will provide the new British navy yards.

This financing cannot be shunted onto the mother country because of money's role in deciding the final fate of the empire. Part of the planned reserve for the Allies' comeback is the gold backlog. To keep it intact the dominions are asked to provide war material and for the sake of the empire to finance it somehow. The Canadian attempt under these conditions is spreading credit thin. The answer, as Wall Street reads the signs, lies in the heavy pressure for American loans to the Northern neighbor.

DOUBTS: Henry Ford took the first nick in his industrial reputation with the statement that the Detroit plant can produce 1,000 planes daily within six months. New York's aviation executives wish him well—and simply don't believe that he can do it. This judgment comes from aircraft heads who rate Henry Ford as one of the six industrial geniuses of the country.

When it comes to making the particular model submitted by the army—the P40—the air people scoff openly. They insist, in fact, that it will require a minimum of one year before the combined skill of the Ford technicians can deliver the first P40 to the government. Thereafter, and as soon as minor defects are ironed out, there is no questioning that Ford can produce 1,000 a day, or if need be, even the mentioned 5,000 units very 24 hours.

Air chiefs are frankly riled at what they call technical naivete of the army in thinking the P40 can be duplicated by machine, and of Ford in saying he can do it. As it stands the model is essentially a hand-made job; it would require redesigning even before the engineers could be told to invent the tooling equipment for the redesigned version. Given a blank check on the Treasury, the plane people say they themselves couldn't tool up the plants in less than a year—and Ford's edge on the aircraft people is production, not tooling.

LOAN: The Latin-American Fifth Column scare is being fed by bona fide fears of Southern industrialists who are trying to line up advance help from Uncle Sam. Brazil's President Vargas recently took stock, and in so doing appeared to show an amazing ignorance of the stuff that has been filling U. S. headlines for weeks. His "New World Order" address followed.

The situation was placed before Washington in the way of a request for an immediate loan of 50,000 troops to guard against possible German action. The call came about the time Congress suddenly discovered the U. S. was shy an army and an air force—and during the first weeks when the Republicans tried to make something of it. In the double emergency the White House reply was that the situation wasn't propitious for any U. S. expedition to the South.

Desolate Resort Springs To Life In Novel

Edith Robert's "Tamarack" Is Real With Jagged

"TAMARACK," by Edith Roberts; Bobbs-Merrill, Indianapolis).

THERE'S something about "Tamarack" by Edith Roberts that will remind you nostalgically of Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street." Miss Roberts' novel is the story of a resort town in winter. Deserted by tourists between "seasons," Tamarack is left to its own devices which turn out to be pretty much what you'd expect them to be: a paradoxical mixture of malice and the milk of human kindness.

With shrewd insight into the characters of the people she uses, Miss Roberts brings together the principal residents of desolate Tamarack. The feuding Rayburns and Pfeiffers are the pillars of the village, but the Rayburns have an edge over their rivals by virtue of their ostentatious and stuffy respectability. Only Addie Rayburn, widow of the outcast Benny, blots the family name with her reputation of wickedness. And even Addie finally attains social position of a sort under Tamarack's own peculiar moral code.

Grandma Iron-Fisted Ruler

Iron-fisted ruler of the Rayburns is Grandma, who reigns not only over her own family, but over the whole town. Interwoven in each other's lives are Georgie Pfeiffer, genial tavernkeeper whose amours with a wealthy summer tourist and a blond from Minneapolis are tolerated by the town because they are regarded as prerogatives of his calling; Ole Olafson, the garage-keeper, who wants to paint and who seeks to instill some social conscience in the snowbound town, even while he is dying; Inez LaMarr, whose chaste affection for Art Ryerson, the guide, is regarded with horror by those who suspect [illegible] because Miss LaMarr is a teacher. D. M. Carrell Of Plainview Accepts Offer To Become Tester For Lubbock County Cow Testing Association; Work Starts July 1

D. M. Carrell of Plainview, graduate of Texas A. and M. college and for more than a year herdsman of the Central Plains Dairy Improvement association, has accepted an offer to become tester and herdsman for the recently formed Lubbock County Cow Testing association, Clayson Fuller, secretary, announced Saturday.

The Lubbock county group, with more than 375 cows to test, most of whom are members of the Central Plains group, decided to form a county association and to employ a tester. R. L. Burdette, former vocational agriculture teacher in Lubbock High school, was named chairman and B. C. Wells, vice chairman. Glen Blackmon and Sam Paschall were named directors.

To Begin Work July 1

Carrell, in a letter to N. C. Fine of the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college, said he would be prepared to begin his work July 1. Negotiations were opened with him several days ago.

The association plans, according to Fuller, to have about 15 herds in the group and for Carrell to devote a larger portion of his time to working on rations, feeding, etc. Members believe that by preparing for each member a scheduled ration and supervision feeding and other work, that it will be more profitable than for simply a testing program.

Laboratory Is Planned

It is planned, among other things, to have a laboratory, probably in connection with Texas Technological college, where tests of milk can be made. Also members of the department of animal husbandry and the tester will have an opportunity to work out different feeding formulae and rations.

The Central Plains association had members in Swisher, Hale and Lubbock counties. Seven dairymen from this county had 330 animals on test, the larger portion of the entire group under test.

One of the new members is the college herd. The officers have been working as a committee to secure a tester, in cooperation with Fine of the college faculty and County Farm Agent C. C. Jobson.

SEMINOLE, June 15. (Special)—Work was begun Thursday on a new supply house of Guiberson Tool company, on the east side of Main street just north of Acme Lumber company.

Bethlehem-International Supply company has placed materials on the ground for a supply house at intersection of the Hobbs and Denver roads. A steel and sheet iron building will go up on property owned by the company several months. The company operates in all principal oil fields of this country and in several foreign nations.

More than 20 car loads of pipe have arrived here and been stored at the new Magnolia camp just west of the city limits. There is more than 1,000,000 feet of the pipe.

Sewage work has begun, a carload of tile has been unloaded and machinery for digging ditches is arriving daily, said A. J. Payne, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce.

Sergeant Learns That Trooper Won Race

LONDON, June 15. (U.P.)—The following conversation which ensued between a sergeant and trooper "somewhere in France" has been vouched for by a soldier:

Sergeant (watching horses being led out): "Well, my lad, do much training in England?"

"I don't know, Sergeant, but I did win the Grand National."

The other man was Bruce Hobbs of Grand National fame. He won it on Battleship.

More Land Is In AAA Program

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

COLLEGE STATION, June 15.—With an estimated 40,000,000 acres of cropland and 85,000,000 acres of rangeland signed up under the AAA for 1940, officials here believe participation in the program will be the largest of any year since the program began.

Latest reports indicate that more than 414,000 Texas farms will operate under the agricultural conservation program in 1940, an increase over the 1939 participation of nearly 4,000 while approximately 1,200 additional ranches will practice range-improvement measures under the range conservation program, bringing the number of ranches cooperating to 26,100.

State To Get $89,000,000

To these farmers and ranchmen will go the greater portion of the $89,000,00 available to Texas for full participation in the AAA program, George Slaughter, chairman of the state committee, pointed out. Full cooperation requires planting within soil-depleting acreage allotments and earning the maximum available for soil-building and range-improvement work by adopting specific conservation practices.

In the range program the entire payment is made for conservation work done, while in the farm program part of the payment is made for soil-building work and part for taking a portion of the cropland out of soil-depleting crops.

Old French Quarter Is To Be Preserved

NEW ORLEANS, June 15. (AP)—The protection of a city ordinance designed to restore and preserve New Orleans' French quarter today was thrown about the famous landmark, known to tourists throughout the world.

The ordinance—forbidding any midernization, paining or modification of any edifice in the quarter without specific permits—climaxed a long fight by civic groups seeking to preserve the quaint old world atmosphere of the quarter, also widely known as the "Vieux Carre" (old square).

Stiff fine sand jail sentences for each violation were provided in the new city ordinance. It stipulates that within three years all neon signs and others out of keeping with the quarter atmosphere must go, along with flood lighting of building fronts and all except one sign to a building.

Short Course To Draw Hundreds

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

COLLEGE STATION, June 15.—Although the annual Farmers' Short course on the campus of A. and M. college is still nearly a month distant, indications are that previous attendance records will be broken this summer. Dates for the 4-H Club short course are July 8 and 9 while the adult short course is scheduled for July 11 and 12.

Expected to be especially outstanding this year is the attention of an unusually large number of men. This was assured when B. F. Vance, assistant administrative officer in charge of the state AAA office, announced that approximately 750 AAA secretaries and county agricultural conservation committee men would be present for the short course as well as to attend group meetings of their own.

Committees to Send Delegates

In addition, county land use planning committees are being asked to send two men and one woman from their number, according to Director H. H. Williamson of the A. and M. Extension service.

Apparently there is no question about the presence of women, for in recent years heavy attendance of home demonstration club women has necessitated assignments of quotas for counties and districts. Attendance figures this year have been placed at 1,002 girls, 187 sponsors and 1,478 women.

Annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration association during the short course is expected to draw 740 delegates and officers who will represent the body's membership of 40,000 rural women. Mrs. A. J. Brown, of Nederland, president of the association, estimates that approximately a thousand women will attend the sessions of the meeting.

Aggregate for both sections of the short course are expected to reach nearly 3,000 boys and girls and 2,600 men and women, predicts Roy W. Snyder, extension supervisor of specialists' work, who is general chairman in charge of short course arrangements.

CROPS SAID EARLIER

LITTLEFIELD—With more than half of the crops up in this area, and all with a good stand, prospects generally are at least 20 days earlier, according to reports.

J. C. (Curtis) Heald Named County's Master Farmer

J. C. (Curtis) Heald, a resident of Southwest Ward community, was chosen by a committee from the county Land Use Planning committee as the county's master farmer, according to an announcement from the committee.

Mrs. J. R. Harmon, Mrs. W. A. Martin, George E. Eklund and A. P. Reese, comprised the committee, visiting those nominated. A total of 14, representing the four commissioner precincts, were named.

To Compete In District

Heald will be entered in the district 2 contest of the state extension service. Winner of the district will compete in a state-wide contest sponsored by Progressive Farmer of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Heald live on a quarter-section farm about a mile from Southwest Ward school. They have recently built a modern farm home, with a bathroom and other conveniences. On three sides of the farm a windbreak has been planted.

The Healds have never used a tractor in their farming operations, preferring horse power. Cotton and feed are produced as well as a garden, poultry, etc. The Healds have a nice dairy herd and have a steady income from their farm throughout the year, according to C. C. Jobson, county farm agent.

A "live at home" program is followed, with a substantial garden. The family raise most of their own food. The farm home has an attractive setting, with a good lawn for an out of door living room, flowers and shrubs and a well-kept home. The Healds are active in extension service groups.

"TOPS" IN JUNE WEDDINGS—Outstanding among June's society weddings will be the marriage of Henry Ford, 2d, and Anne McDonnell in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York. He is the son of Edsel Ford and grandson of famed motor magnate Henry Ford. This new picture of the couple shows them at Southampton, L. I.

Crop Prospects Ahead In Area

Crop prospects for the South Plains are said to be from one to three weeks ahead of last year, at mid-June, as reports indicate replanting of cotton and feed crops washed out or hailed out, is less than for several years.

Generally it is considered from 20 to 25 per cent of the crop acreage has to be replanted, due to weather conditions. Frequently crops are replanted as often as three to four and five times.

Replanting Is Smaller

This year, it is indicated, not to exceed 10 per cent of the acreage has been replanted. Largest acreage so far damaged by hail has been in Lamb county where a territory north and west of Littlefield and Amherst, said to be from five to seven miles wide and 12 to 15 long was damaged during the mid-week.

Lorenzo and Ralls lost wheat acreage from hail. Grassland lost some crops this week from hail. There have been reports of scattered hail or heavy rains from other sections.

Cotton Up To Stand

Cotton is up to a good stand generally. Many fields are eight and 10 inches high, it is said with a good growth. Even late planted cotton has two or four and five leaves. Very little acreage has failed to come up.

Probably 90 per cent of the cotton acreage is seeded. Dry spots have delayed planting, as well as washing by rains.

Early planted feed is up and sudan is about ready to be pastured. Not as large a percentage of late feed has been planted as cotton, due to dry weather.

June rains have been generous in many sections, aiding crop growth. Farmers have had to knife weeds and otherwise keep the crop land clean. This type of work is progressing nicely, it is said.

ALFALFA IS CUT

TULIA—Farmers cutting alfalfa report the first cutting is averaging a ton per acre. It is a little under normal, they say. Freezing weather in April did injury to the crop, but only when harvesting started did the damage show up. Alfalfa is being stored by farmers.

CROP NOT SUFFERING

LAMESA—Although central Dawson county crops are not suffering for moisture, farmers report there is need of rain. Crops are in good shape and farmers have completed nearly all of the planting except late feed.

Land Use Committee To Meet On Monday

Regular monthly meeting of the Lubbock County Land Use Planning committee will be Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the courthouse.

Henry Mahoney of Shallowater is chairman and C. C. Jobson, county farm agent, is secretary. Meeting will be in the district courtroom on the second floor.

The important meeting is planned with an interesting program, said Jobson. The committee is composed of representatives of cooperative and other agricultural groups of both men and women over the county.

Lubbock And Hale Counties Separated In Soil Districts

Lubbock and Hale counties have been separated by the state soil conservation board into two separate districts, V. C. Marshall, Temple, secretary, has advised C. C. Jobson, county farm agent, and C. B. Martin, Hale agent.

Decision of the board was made at a hearing when the proposal to call a district election was presented by W. G. Kennedy, of Muleshoe, district member. At Abernathy April 22 a two-county hearing wa held, presided over by Kennedy, when Plainview business men protested the inclusion of the two counties in the same district.

It was understood that further objections were filed with the board by Plainview business men. Objection was based on the difference in types of soil and in crops, Hale being classed as a wheat county and Lubbock as a cotton county.

Jobson has written to Kennedy to ask if another hearing would be necessary in order to form a one-county district. At the Abernathy hearing every farmer in both counties favored the proposed district, the only opposition being voiced by Plainview business men.

In the event another hearing is not necessary, it is expected the board will announce date for an election along with other counties, including Crosby, Swisher and Briscoe, where preliminary hearings have been held and elections asked.

Negro Scouts To Hold Camp

A total of 391 Boy Scouts and leaders were enrolled in various of the one-week encampments included in the South Plains council summer program at Camp Post according to information given Saturday by Jack O. Stone council executive.

The last of the four encampments for white scouts closed Saturday. Of those enrolled in the four camps according to the report, 334 were boys and 57 were adult leaders.

Negro Scouts To Camp

During the week of June 24-29, Stone announced the camp will be made available to negro scouts. Two negro troops are located in Lubbock and one each in Slaton and Spur. About 50 are expected to enroll. The charge will be $1 per boy for use of camp and equipment. They are to provide their own food and leadership. Oscar Lee is in charge of preparations.

Meanwhile, Stone said preparations are continuing for the 10-day trip to the Big Bend area, July 1-10, which will be the climaxing event of the council's summer campaign program. At least one scout every day is assured for the boys, the executive announced. The cost of $15 will cover all expenses except spending money. Scouts asked those planning to make reservations to do so without delay.

Snappy New Army Jacket Designed

BALTIMORE, June 15 (AP)—A snappy new army jacket, designed by a major general, may save Uncle Sam thousands of dollars and much valuable time in outfitting his troops.

Third corps area headquarters announced that the new field jacket, designed by Maj. Gen. James K. Parsons, area commander, would be issued to one division for experimental purposes.

Made of water-repellent cotton twill and lined with flannel, the jacket weighs only about half as much and is just as warm as the present cold-weather field coat which it would replace.

It would cost $5.50, compared with $7.65 for the coat, and officers estimated the army would save $32,000 by outfitting a streamlined division of 15,000 men with the jacket.

Production could be stepped up because the jacket would come in only five sizes, as compared with the 32 sizes required now, and as shirt factors could make it.

Duggan Southeast Extension Highlights Oil Activities Of South Plains Fields

By JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

A southeast extension to the Duggan pool in southeastern Cochran county and coring of lime showing saturation and proposity by a southwestern Gaines county wildcat and a three-quarter mile east outpost to the south extension to the Foster pool in Ector county featured West Texas Oil developments this week. The Jordan pool in Ector county was extended a short distance east.

Magnolia No. 1 Mallett Land & Cattle Co. Cochran county test three-quarters of a mile northeast of Atlantic No. 1 Boyd, southeast extension to the Duggan pool, swabbed 63 barrels of oil in seven hours on a natural test after coring from 4,986 to 5,008 feet, the total depth, and running 2 1-2 inch tubing. After the first swabbing with 1,500 gallons, the well swabbed and headed 70 barrels of oil in four hours. It was retreated with 44,000 gallons of acid and without being gauged was retreated with 6,000 gallons. Location is 580 feet out of the northwest corner of labor 11, league 58, Oldham county school land.

Hockley Test Is Staked

Magnolia staked No. 1-B Mallett in southwestern Hockley county on the trend between the Slaughter field in that county and the Duggan pool in southeastern Cochran county. It will be in the center of labor 13-50-Scurry, 11-2 miles southeast of Magnolia No. 1 Mallett and 2 1-2 miles northwest of production in the western part of the Slaughter pool.

The Texas Co. No. 1-P Mallett in extreme southeastern Cochran county, 580 feet out of the southwest corner of league 21-11-Scurry, had drilled past 5,325 feet in lime. Gulf No. 3 Mallett, east offset to Terry county field producer, Geo. P. Livermore No. 1 Jacobson, a south extension to the Slaughter pool in Hockley county, had drilled below 4,317 feet in anhydrite.

Two Locations Started

Two locations were started during the week in the Slaughter field in Hockley county. Oxwell No. 4-A Davis, 490 from the north and 440 feet from the west line of labor 31-30-Maverick, and Delta No. 2-A Slaughter, 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 21-41-Maverick. The Delta test cemented 10-inch casing at 286 feet and had drilled below 871 in redrock.

Plymouth-Amerada No. 1 A. M. Brownfield, Yoakum county wildcat, with elevation of 3,501 feet, topped the anhydrite by samples at 2,530 feet, 971 feet above sea level, and stopped at 2,588 to run 8 5-8 inch casing as a precaution against possible air in the salt section. The anhydrite top was correlated by some 39 feet higher than in Uscan No. 1 Brownfield, a dry hole in southwestern Terry county five miles to the east, and 46 feet lower than in Shell No. 1 Waples-Platter, a small producer 4 1-4 miles to the west and slightly north. Location is 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 620-D John H. Gibson.

Richmond Drilling Co. and others' No. 1 G. R. Brumley, southwestern Gaines county wildcat in the northeast corner of section 17-A12-psl, cored lime between 4,405 and 4,431 feet showing some saturation and porosity and drilled ahead below 4,570 feet in lime.

Flows 746.54 Barrels

Stanolind No. 2 J. B. Rayner, 1,881-foot northeast extension to the Cedar Lake pool in northeastern Gaines county, flowed and jetted 764.54 barrels on a 24-hour completion at 4,800 feet. It is 660 from the north, 1,991 feet from the west line of the south half of section 3-C30-p.l.

Atlantic and Helmerich & Payne No. 1 University, promised pool opener in southwestern Andrews county, in the northeast corner of section 11-11-U, swabbed 40 barrels of oil in 15 hours when bottomed at 4,425 feet, drilled to 4,475 feet and was scheduled to shoot.

Ray Albaugh No. 2 John Robinson, Dawson county wildcat in the northwest corner of section 5-M-EL&RR, encountered sulphur water from 4,983-91, with increases below 5,010 feet. Contract was completed at 5,050 feet but drilling continued under a contract to go an additional 200 feet. Magnolia No. 1 M. H. O'Daniel, three-quarter miles southwest outpost to the Snyder pool in Howard county, in the southwest quarter of section 40-30-1s-T&P, had slight oil shows from 2,726-38 and from 2,766-75 feet and drilled ahead below 2,836 feet in lime.

East Extension Marked

Gulf No. 2-N State, marking a short east extension to the Jordan pool in Ector county, flowed 358 barrels of oil on a two-hour natural test, when bottomed at 3,546 feet in lime. Deepened to 3,575, it flowed naturally 920 barrels of oil in seven hours. Location is in the southeast quarter of section 9-35-U.

Oilwell Drilling Co. No. 1 Moss, half mile plus 990 feet east of Forest No. 1 Moss, new producer one mile east of the Addis pool and 1 1-2 miles south of the Foster field, showed streaks of saturation and porosity in drilling to 4,225 feet and prepared to run an oil string. It is in the northwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 42-42-2s-T&P.

H. D. Lewis, F. L. Graham and others' No. 1 Noelke Livestock Co., second well in the first pool in extreme western Crockett county four miles southeast across the Pecos river from the Yates field in Pecos county and an east offset to the discovery Soma well, flowed 112 barrels of oil by heads on an unofficial 24-hour gauge through open tubing bottomed at 1,100 feet. Later, through choked tubing, it flowed 72 barrels of oil in 24 hours.

Moore Exploration Co. No. 1 A. C. Hoover, about 10 miles east of the Lewis-Graham well and five miles east and two miles north of Moore-Olson's earlier strike on the Noelke ranch, cored and drilled by porous, oil saturated lime below 2,046 feet, had reached 2,140 and was to stop around 2,150 to 2,160 feet to shoot. It is 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 16-1-H&TC.

Page, north outpost to the Page field in Schleicher county, was rebuilding the steel derrick, which was pulled in while efforts were being made to dislodge stuck drill pipe with the total depth 5,435 feet. The lower Pennsylvania lime that produces in the area—Strawn or Bend—was topped at 5,215 feet, 2,935 feet below sea level, 150 feet higher than in the nearest gas well, one-half mile to the south.

DIES AT AMARILLO — Judge A. B. Martin, widely-known Texas jurist, died at his home in Amarillo Friday night after a long illness. He was 61 years old. Funeral services have been tentatively set for Monday. Judge Martin practiced law at Tulia and Plainview a number of years before his appointment on the criminal appeals court in 1927.

FDR's Defense Plan Backed By Hurley

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 15 (AP)—Patrick J. Hurley believes the time has come for all political factions to work in unison to speed completion of President Roosevelt's defense program.

Hurley, appointed by the late secretary of war, President Hoover, declared yesterday:

"I believe that we've got to stop cussing one another and get together and cut out a lot of this political ballyhooing. In the present posture of world affairs we must be prepared to defend our national existence and I am in favor of the armament program outlined by President Roosevelt.

Damage Of $20,000 In Clovis Flames

CLOVIS, N. Mex., June 15 (AP)—Fire that swept through four business establishments early today caused damage estimated at $20,000.

Investigators believed the blaze originated in a beauty college, probably from over-heated electrical equipment. It then spread to a cleaning and dyeing company, a barber shop and a beauty shop.

Several weeks ago the $125,000 Clovis junior high school was damaged to the extent of $50,000 by fire.

Ex-Van Zandt People To Picnic, June 23

South Plains newspapers please copy.

The "Free State of Van Zandt" will swing its annual picnic in an all-day session June 23 in Mackenzie state park.

Early Daniel is president, Mrs. J. M. Peel secretary of the former residents' organization. Tom Wages, John Benbey and Malcolm McEachern are arranging for a program.

Approximately 200 attended last year's picnic, which was enlivened by a versatile program. More will be expected this year, from numerous Texas counties.

A basket lunch will be spread at noon. All former residents of Van Zandt county are asked to fill baskets and attend, Daniel said.

BUILD GRAIN STORAGE

TAHOKA—Burleson Grain Co. here is building a storage warehouse 100x150 feet in which the company will store grain. Crop prospects are said good in this part of Lynn county.

CROPS WELL PLANTED

SEAGRAVES—An estimated 75 per cent of the crop land in this part of Gaines county has been planted. Wind has done some damage to crops in sandy soil.
