Demo Solon Opposes Any Tax Increase

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — Forecasting excellent business conditions in 1950, Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said today a tax increase not only would be a mistake but "a practical impossibility."

The Wyoming senator, who heads the Senate-House Economic committee, told a reporte he thinks the government can get more revenue by revising the tax system to give new incentives to business than by raising rates.

President Truman has said he sees no other way to balance the budget except to raise taxes.

Tax Raise Opposed

If O'Mahoney's views were followed, the Senate-House committee's economic report to Congress will urge elimination of wasteful spending but will point out the dangers and difficulties of too sharp cuts in the budget and oppose tax rises.

"It is a practical impossibility to increase taxes now," the Wyoming senator declared. "I think the need for additional revenue can be met from conscious and intelligent effort to promote our own resources and to create business.

"Our tax system is sadly in need of reform. It should be revised to provide incentives for business expansion which will produce new revenue for the government."

Business Prospects Good

O'Mahoney said committee studies indicate that general business prospects for 1950 are "excellent." He said that business and government spending, running at high levels, are continuing to create new markets.

The committee chairman said he had no doubt that some wasteful spending can be eliminated by Congress. But he added that as an appropriations committee member he had found it easier to talk about budget cuts than to make them.

"Any attempt to balance the budget by cutting off government expenditures for such things as highways and fighting stream pollution inevitably would reduce the opportunities for business and cast

Committee Sets Savings Probe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—So many thrifty Americans are said to be refusing to risk their savings in business investments that Congress is looking for the reason.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) announced today the Senate-House Economic committe will begin digging into the problem Tuesday in a series of public hearings.

He told a news conference there is a serious lack of venture capital for business in all the money markets—and the small businessman in particular is having a hard time borrowing.

"Safe" Investments Sought

People are putting their savings into government securities, insurance, and in other savings, he said. But he added they are not taking chances on new business ventures or business expansion.

The committee will seek to find, O'Mahoney said, whether Congress should step in with legislation to encourage more direct investments in business.

A reporter asked if this meant the committee might recommend higher taxes on undistributed business profits.

O'Mahoney said he would not jump to conclusions before hearing the evidence. But he added that many business executives "are beginning to wonder if it would not be better for them to distribute more profits.

Government Aid Sought

"In my mind one thing is certain," he said. "If we want to maintain the value of United States bonds, we've got to be sure income does not fall. And we've got to be doubly sure not to cut any government operation which helps business."

O'Mahoney said more and more

New Typhoon Rages Through South Central Philippines

MANILA, Dec. 4 (AP)—A typhoon with 85-mile-an-hour winds tonight swept into the south central Philippines, which never have fully recovered from two disastrous storms in November.

The Weather bureau said the storm, with a radius of 120 miles, should have crossed the northern tip of Mindanao, the big southern island, by now. In its path was the island of Cebu to the northwest. Cebu was hard hit by previous storms.

Neighbors Rescue Woman Trapped In Midget's Bathtub

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA., Dec. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Turnquist, about 65, is recuperating today from 60 hours imprisonment in a midget's bathtub.

Her hands were raw and blistered from her vain struggles to free herself, but she still could joke about her predicament. Her physician said she was in "surprisingly good condition."

Mrs. Turnquist was occupying the home of a friend, Mrs. Inez Bergant, a midget whose home is widely known for its doll-sized furnishings. Mrs. Bergant is wintering in Florida.

At 9:30 Wednesday night Mrs. Turnquist, whose family calls her "pleasingly plump," got into the tiny bathtub 36 inches long, 19 inches deep and 19 inches wide. She was held fast until Saturday morning when neighbors who had missed her broke into the house.

'Break' Seen In Coal Ranks

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 — John L. Lewis' 480,000 soft and hard coal diggers start a three-day work week tomorrow while their leader attempts to exploit a contract "break" among Kentucky operators into a general mine wage settlement.

In calling off the fourth coal strike of the year last Thursday, Lewis ordered the miners to work only on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays beginning tomorrow in a move to pressure the coal industry into granting his new contract demands.

At the same time, the United Mine workers president launched a company-by-company search to find some mine owners who would sign a new agreement with the union to replace the contract which expired last June 30. Apparently, he has succeeded.

New Agreement Reported

A small group of Pikesville (Ky.) truck mine owners, said to employ nearly a thousand miners in producing over two million tons of coal annually, reportedly have agreed to new contract terms providing another 15 cents a ton for the UMW welfare fund and a 95

Steel Company Head Indicates Price Hike

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 4 (AP)—The head of the nation's fourth largest steel producing firm today indicated steel prices are going up.

Admiral Ben Moreell, chairman of the board and president of Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, said production costs are rising.

He left little doubt that consumers ultimately will have to pay more for steel.

He declared in a statement:

"It becomes crystal clear that the increased costs for raw materials, for services and for labor which are now being imposed on us, must be balanced by corresponding increases in prices.

"What form this revision will take, the particular products to which it will apply, and the amount of the increases, should be determined only after the most careful study of costs and the present and prospective demand for our products."

There has been no general increase in steel prices since the recent nationwide steel strike which was settled on the basis of $100 monthly pensions which include social security payments and a five-cent hourly social insurance program, jointly financed by company and employe.

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY

ACCIDENTS near Justiceburg, Hale Center, and Lubbock during the day Sunday injured 15 persons to bring this weekend's casualty list in five accidents to four dead and 20 injured.

About 1:30 p. m., Sunday, five persons, including three members of a Lubbock family, were injured, one seriously, in an accident four miles southeast of Justiceburg.

In Snyder hospital Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Klein, and their three-year-old daughter, Mary Genevieve, 2414 Twenty-seventh, Lubbock. Two other men victims were taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital for treatment.

Child Seriously Hurt

Most seriously injured was the Klein child, who suffered a head injury. Klein, 32, suffered bruises, lacerations, and broken ribs, while his wife, Helen, 33, was suffering from shock, bruises, and lacerations.

Ray V. Britton, 32, of Kermit, and Charles Gunter, 21, of Wink, both suffered severe lacerations of the face and scalp, and possible back injuries. They will be x-rayed today for possible internal injuries.

Cars Collide Headon

Investigating highway patrolmen said Klein was driving a 1949 Buick toward Snyder when he was in a collision with a 1948 Chevrolet coach containing Britton and Gunter, which was heading in the opposite direction.

The left fronts of both vehicles were damaged in the crash.

Klein is co-owner of the Panhandle Machine company, 2214 Ave. H in Lubbock.

Youth Is Sought In Attack Here

Police and sheriff's officers were searching the city last night for a 19-year-old Latin-American youth charged with the rape earlier Sunday night of a 21-year-old Latin-American woman.

The victim of the assault told officials she was walking to her home in north Lubbock about 7:45 p.m. after attending a theater when she met the youth, a casual acquaintance, on a sidewalk on Seventh near Ave. S.

Forced Into Alley

The suspect forced her into an alley, the woman told a member of the district attorney's staff, and criminally assaulted her. Then the woman said, he ran down the alley and toward the downtown area.

A passing motorist carried the victim to Lubbock Memorial hospital where she was released after treatment.

Burglaries and minor thefts headed the list of offenses reported Sunday and late Saturdey officers said.

Property valued at $29.84 and $4.75 in cash was taken from the home of Cecil Walker two miles west of Hurlwood by intruders who apparently entered the house through an unlocked door.

Missing items included a portable radio, a yellow gold bracelet, gloves and a vanity set.

A second breakin was reported by Duel Hall, of 2111 Twenty-first. Stolen, he said were a Hamilton

Man Pumps Four Bullets Into Woman, Shoots Self As 24 Persons Watch

By HANK McKEE
Avalanche Staff Writer

A 23-YEAR-OLD Lubbock waitress died in a hail of bullets in a crowded East Broadway cafe about 7:20 p. m. Sunday as her estranged husband pumped four shots into her body, then fired a bullet into his own head and collapsed, fatally wounded, across her body.

The waitress, Velma Louise Aldrich, died almost instantly. Her 30-year-old welder husband, Roy Aldrich, was pronuonced dead nearly two-and-one-half hours later—at 9:55 p. m.—in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Ten customers occupying seats directly in the line of fire in the restaurant, Lee's cafe at 110 East Broadway, miraculously escaped injury. Others ran for doors and corners of the room when the shooting started. There were about 20 customers and four employes in the cafe at the time.

One Shot Goes Wild

Only one shot went wild, police said, burying itself in the ceiling over booths on the west side of the room.

Officers were summoned by an employe and arrived at the scene less than five minutes after the shooting.

Police found both Aldrich and his wife lying in a twisted heap in the area between the west counter and a pie case. The woman's body was hanging slightly from the back side of the counter, an arm locked at the elbow about an upright wooden brace. Blood covered the entire area from the point where the woman was first shot to where she fell dying. Several splotches of blood appeared on the West counter.

Witnesses said there had been no signs of an argument in the cafe, but that relations between the pair were obviously strained.

Divorce Suit Reported Filed

Friends of the family said later that Mrs. Aldrich had filed a divorce suit here, and that legal action was expected in connection with the case this week.

Bill Watson, a transient who was seated near Aldrich, said Aldrich had asked his wife to talk with him a moment earlier as she passed in front of him on her way to the coffee urn which is centrally located in the cafe.

The woman, Watson said, replied that she didn't have time and moved on.

Man Pulled Gun

When she passed again, the witness continued, Aldrich said "haven't got time, huh?" and rose to his feet, pulling the gun.

"He fired one shot which seemed to strike the woman in the neck," Watson said, "then jumped to the counter and fired twice more before leaping to the floor inside the counter."

Mrs. Aldrich, already mortally wounded, staggered to the inside edge of the west counter, then slumped to the floor as her husband levelled the gun and pumped two more shots into her body, witnesses told police.

Then, police were told, Aldrich placed the gun to his head and fired the final shot.

White Man Sought For Attack On Girl

ORANGE, Dec. 4 (AP)—A young man critically wounded an Orange High school boxer and raped a 16-year-old girl early today after surprising two couples parked on a lonely road near here.

All available officers were hunting the man tonight. Sheriff Chester Holts said they were up against a blank wall.

Because the man struck in darkness—rain had been falling from heavy clouds—the boys and girls could describe him only as a white man, apparently about 25 years old, and wearing khaki clothing.

The man wounded Don Hulsopple, 18, when he tried to protect his companions. After threatening several times to kill all four, he forced the girls to tie up the boys in a water-soaked rice paddy. Then he led the girls away, left one tied up and leaning against a fence, and raped the 16-year-old in another muddy field.

Both girls were hospitalized for shock and exposure but had been released tonight. Hospital attendants said Hulsopple was in critical condition from exposure and a wound in the stomach.

Philippine Rebels Refuse To Surrender

MANILA, Dec. 5 (Monday) (INS)—The head of a group of Philippine rebels was reported today to have rejected the government's surrender terms.

Rebel Chief of Staff Armando Real was quoted in the Manila Times as opposing the Philippine government's proposal to end the uprising in the mountains 50 miles south of Manila because it "contains no guarantee of amnesty and of nonmolestation of rebels after surrender."

Real—the son of a former major in the Philippine constabulary and himself a former constabulary lieutenant—granted a 45 minute long interview at his remote headquarters to a Time correspondent.

He declared that the rebel forces "do not intend to harm civilians," pointing out that the men have families and relatives among the country's civilian population.

Real accused the constabulary of using noncombatant civilians as a "screen" in one skirmish, making it impossible for the rebels to return the fire of government troops.

The insurgent chieftain recounted previous rebel efforts to end the fighting but said these were rejected by the government.

The interview with Real was cut short by low-flying government planes.

Sawyer Announces New Federal Drive

Anti-Trust Policies To Be Strengthened

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer today announced a government-wide campaign to unify and sterngthen federal anti-trust policies. He will direct it at President Truman's request.

A major goal, Sawyer said, will be to (1) Foster voluntary compliance, (2) Eliminate "unnecessary confusion" from existing laws, and (3) "Clarify for the businessman the line between what he can and cannot do legally."

Sawyer made public a report, the first of its kind since 1935, showing the extent to which the nation's production is concentrated in a handful of firms in each of 452 manufacturing industries.

Top Firms Rule

It revealed that in 46 industries —which do combined annual business of more than $10 billion—the top four companies in each industry produce more than 75 per cent of all the goods.

But the commerce secretary sought to dispel any impression that he is launching a new anti-monopoly crusade or brandishing the government's "big stick" against big business.

He told a news conference it is "certainly conceivable" that one result may be the drafting of voluntary "codes of fair practice" by advisory committees set up in each industry. However, some legislation may be recommended also, he said.

In a prepared statement, Sawyer said Mr. Truman has asked him to take the lead in coordinating activities of the Justice department, Federal Trade commission and other agencies which combat unfair competition, price-fixing combinations and monopoly.

Sawyer said he shortly will create an inter-agency committee, headed by himself. It will include representatives of the agencies named and probably also the treasury, Reconstruction Finance corporation and others.

It wil draft a broad program of recommendations for the President.

Mr. Truman also has stated he wants recommendations designed to "encourage legal and desirable

Child Facing Loss Of Hand Offers Unselfish Prayer

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 4. (AP)—An ill and trusting child bowed her head in a rural church today and murmured an unselfish prayer.

"Dear Lord," prayed 10-year-old Betty Lou Marbury, "Thank you for letting us come to church . . . bless all the sick people and help them to get well . . ."

Across the country thousands of others were praying specifically for Betty, whose faith touched a nation's heart.

Child May Lose Hand

These were the prayers she asked in a letter to the Memphis Commercial Appeal last week. Doctors had told her a malignant lesion might force removal of her right hand soon after Christmas.

Betty attended Sunday school and "preaching services" at the small Holly Grove Baptist church near here. She alternately choked up and smiled and grew solemn as friends offered encouragement and a special prayer was said.

To her Sunday school classmates it was a big occasion—a homecoming for Betty who has been away from the class for a month.

They sang "Jesus Saves" and "Silent Night," had a Christmas lesson and heard Betty offer the closing prayer.

"It was a mighty sweet little prayer. And she was so

RADIO GIVE-AWAYS HARD HIT

Listeners Beat Government To Punch On Deflating Quiz Shows

By WAYNE OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 4—The public appeared today to have beaten the government to the draw in deflating radio's giveaway boom.

While drastic anti-giveaway rules by the Federal Communications commission remain tied up in court proceedings, the public has knocked off a flock of jackpot shows simply by not tuning them in.

Four major giveaways have folded in the past few months, another is due to get the axe the first of the year, and still another may be pulled off the air in the next few weeks. Others have been revised or dropped entirely. And if any big new jackp ' programs are in the works, nobody's talking about them.

Industry officials discount the effects of the FCC's rules, scheduled to have gone into effect last Oct. 1 but held in abeyance pending trial of suits brought by the ABC, CBS and NBC networks in federal court here.

Rather the decline of the giveaway is attributed to the passing

RELIGIOUS FIGHT THREATENED

Catholic Leaders Refuse To Submit To Czech Church Curbs

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

PRAGUE, Dec. 4. — Czechoslovakia's Roman Catholic bishops have solemnly warned the Communist government they cannot submit to church control laws which destroy religious freedom in this country.

They even went so far as to suggest the possibility of a religious fight. (The Czech word the bishops used was "boj"—pronounced boy —which may be translated as fight, struggle or conflict.)

The bishops delivered the warning in a communication to government officials made public today.

It was dated Nov. 17—less than three weeks after the new church control laws went into effect on Nov. 1 making all clergymen civil servants paid by the state.

The Catholic prelates soberly declared that if a religious fight does break out as a result of attempts to enforce the church control laws by threats and violence, the government alone will be to blame.

If it comes to a fight—"and God prevent it"—the bishops said, "there are enough people in this

17 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Christmas Is Best Time In Year For Giving Parties

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

THERE are so many reasons for having a Christmas party. You can make it a Christmas Eve party when festivities begin late, when carols are in order and bacon and eggs are served just before the guests go home. Or you can plan a mid-day Christmas party or a party on Christmas night. It is up to you.

Your invitation to the party can be cut out of red mat paper that measures 12 by 3 1/2 inches. It is folded in half to form a booklet and the cover is pasted with a few attractive Christmas seals. Inside paste scattered snowflakes cut out from lace paper doilies. Leave room to write your invitation and use white or green ink if you want it to be effective.

If your guests are to sit at the table and be served a repast, you can make delightful place mats out of dark green mat paper. Make a pattern of a large, full Christmas tree roughly 16 inches wide at the broadest part and 12 inches high. Trace outline on green mat stock and cut out. Paste on tree snowflakes cut out from the doilies and little red dot seals that give the appearance of Christmas tree balls.

Little cone trees make wonderful centerpieces for table or buffet. You roll a piece of red mat stock into a cone about 9 inches high. (Four of them make a tree.) Fasten with paper clips. Then take a square 8-inch doily and cut it into four quarters. Around the outer edges, paste a narrow white crepe-paper ruffle. Then, holding the trimmed doily quarter like a triangle with the point at the top, past it over the cone. Four of these will make the main part of the tree.

The trunk is made by taking 4 pieces of spool wire, each 13 inches long. Hold them together with one wire held 1/2 inch above the other three. Wrap the wires with red crepe paper to form the tree trunk. Fasten narrow tips of the 4 red cones about 1/2 inch from the top of the tree trunk. To hide the place where the 4 cones are pasted to the trunk at the top, add a narrow white crepe-paper ruffle at the base of the tree trunk .Then put tree trunk through the open center of a roll of white crepe-paper streamers which serves as the base for the tree. Trim streamer roll with a narrow green ribbon tie in a lovely full bow.

Christmas Quis . . . Give each guest a pencil and paper. Tell everyone that you are going to quote a line from each of ten famous Christmas songs or carols. They are to identify the song or carol by its correct title. For example you might quote: "Laughing all the way." This should be associated with "Jingle Bells." Another line might be "Just like the one I used to know" which comes from "White Christmas". Still another one might be "All is bright" from "Silent Night,,; or pick a not too well known hymn to stump the experts. The person who has the greatest number of correct answers should get a prize.

Jingle Bells Dance . . . Give each girl a bracelet of jingle bells. String five or six merry little silver jingle bells on a piece of narrow red ribbon just long enough to go around a girl's wrist. Before the dance begins have each girl's partner tie the bracelet on her wrist. Appoint one person to serve as "Stop-the-Music Master." His job is to keep turning off the radio or phonograph at irregular intervals without letting the dancing couples know exactly when. Each time the music stops the couples are supposed to stop dancing instantly. The girl whose bracelet jingles the longest after the music stops is eliminated along with her partner. The prize is awarded to the last couple left—the couple with the best jingle control.

At every Christmas party there should be gifts. Naturally a teenage purse doesn't allow for luxury items. A good idea is a Christmas Santa pack. (Mom's laundry bag will serve the purpose) chock full of little inexpensive items. The boys can bring presents for girls and the girls can bring gifts for the boys. Make it a grab bag for Yule fun.

Light Your Homes At Yuletide

Have you ever thought of how much your outdoor holiday decorations express your personality?

Not only is a festive home an outward expression of your own holiday hospitality but when colorful lighting is part of the decoration, it can became a lighted greeting to all who see it.

Plan Early

Plan your lighting arrangements early for best results. If you're using lighted decorations for the first time, start with a simple theme and plan to develop it in succeeding years. Remember, imagination is an important part of outstanding Christmas decorations, so use it generously.

The four homes pictured above represent artistic and distinctive decorations that can be adapted to almost any home.

Here the interesting architectural lines of the house are accented by floodlighting the whole house in a soft blue light. Projector floodlights (150-watt) using blue glass covers are concealed in low shrubbery on the front lawn. Commercial outdoor holders are used for the floodlights but many homemade-type holders can be fashioned from large size tin cans or funnels, too. Notice how a small evergreen trimmed in a conventional manner with red, green and yellow outdoor tree lights completes the arrangement.

Another popular way to take full advantage of the architectural lines of a house is to outline roof or gables with strings of colored outdoor bulbs and garlands of greens as illustrated in the center photograph at the right above. Festoons and strings are sold in lengths up to 100 sockets or, you can make your own festoons with outside-type wire and pin-type sockets.

Use Cutouts

If you prefer a more whimsical note in your decorations, try placing colorful plywood cutouts of Santa, or other story-book characters on the lawn and spotlight them as shown in the inset circle at the left. Notice how the (150-watt) projector spotlight in its handy holder is mounted on the tree at the left. Almost any home can be transformed quickly into a fairy land of sparkling lights by stringing colored bulbs through shrubbery as shown in the lower right-hand picture above.

Choose regular outdoor tree lights and group them so that both color and light are balanced for the most pleasing effect.

Illustrated Lectures Given At AAUW Tea

Four Lubbock women who made European trips during the spring and summer appeared on the program of the Lubbock branch of the American Association of University women at a meeting attended by approximately 140 members and guests Saturday afternoon in Hilton hotel ballroom.

Following the program, tea was served. Miss Gertrude Herm, president of the branch, and Dr. Mina Lamb, program chairman, poured. The table was centered with an arrangement of greenery decorated with plastic foam stars and Christmas bells.

The zeauty of Europe was discussed by Miss Margaret Turner, woman's editor of The Avalanche-Journal, who visited seven countries last spring.

Miss Esther Sorenson, district supervisor of home economics education, spoke as slides showing European scenes were shown by Miss Mildred Boone. Miss Sorenson visited 10 countries during the summer. She visited the site where her mother and father had lived in Denmark and saw relatives in that country.

Lucille Ball To Go To Paris For Filming Of 'The Good Chance,' New Light Comedy

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4—Paris in the spring is what the crystal gazer sees for Lucille Ball. Lucille will co-star with Maurice Chevalier in "The Good Chance," a light comedy to be made mostly in Paris.

The reason Lucille listened with such an attentive ear to the offer made her by one Nat Wachsberger, is because Desi Arnaz is booked for a European appearance and that will give her a chance to be in Paris when Desi is there.

Bogart Plans Trip

Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall plan a European vacation in January. They will go by boat and fly back. I hope Warners, or whoever is in charge of Bogey's destiny at that moment, sends a press agent along so he won't say a lot of things he doesn't mean or believe.

I am not surprised that Rhonda Fleming has sent word that her doctor has ordered her back from the Selznick tour because she is so nervous and upset that it is affecting her health.

Rhonda was only given $300 for her entire wardrobe. She's been wearing her own clothes—and on top of that the stage material has been so bad she wrote her agent here and said she was coming back if the rewritten stuff wasn't better.

Actress Arranges Tour

Chit-chat: Nice little holiday Paulette Goddard is arranging for herself. She has written Evelyn Keyes and asked her to rent Mitch Leisen's yacht and crew, and invited Evelyn to make the trip with the yacht to Acapulco and pick up Paulette and friends.

They will spend four weeks cruising the Caribbean sea, taking in most of the islands—Trinidad, and so forth. But that can't be for another three weeks until after Evelyn finishes "The Killer That Stalked New York" for Columbia.

TWO UNITS PROVIDE DRIVE

New U. S. Engine Claimed To Be Most Powerful Of Type In World

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. — The United States today claimed the world's most powerful propeller gas-turbine engine for its size and weight.

It delivers two horsepower for each pound of weight.

With permission of the Navy, Allison division of General Motors Corp. made the first official release of information on the new engine, which is designated T-40.

The engine will first be used in the Navy's 70-ton partol flying boat, the XP5Y, designed for long-range day and night patrol against submarines and for rescue operations.

Much Equipment Carried

The big flying boats, built by Consolidated Aircraft Corp. at San Diego, Calif., will be able to carry depth charges, bombs, rockets and guns along with extensive electronic equipment for search and detection. They have been waiting on the new engines for months.

The T-40 comprises twin engines operating as a single unit with a common gearing to counter-rotating six-bladed propellers. For economy, either half of the engine may be used separately while cruising. Four of the twin units will be installed in the XP-5Y.

The T-40 delivers 5,500 horsepower, the Navy announced. Each separate power unit is 20 inches in diameter and seven feet long. The twin units weigh 2,500 pounds.

An engine designated T-38, which is actually one-half of a T-40 unit, was tested in flight for 25 hours while installed in the nose of a B-17 bomber. The engine has 1,700 hours of test stand time. Engineers say there has been no failure of the gearing between engines and propeller shafts.

The T-40 delivers one horsepower for an hour on just over 10 ounces of fuel. Engineers say its efficiency is the highest ever attained by a prop-jet approved for flight. The best piston engines do much better, however, while turbo-jets have a considerably higher fuel to power ratio.

A prop-jet or turbo-prop engine is similar in design to a turbo-jet. The difference is that most of the power from the combustion of gases is converted through turbine wheels into propeller shaft energy and little of it remains for tail pipe exhaust. In a turbo-jet, the airplane is driven solely by the thrust of the heated gases escaping from the tail pipe.

Engines of this type operate most efficiently at near peak power. That accounts for the twin design of the Allison unit, since after the plane reaches normal cruise stage one half of the unit can supply enough power. Substantial fuel economy is expected.

Boy Learns Mother Still Alive, Locates Father On Birthday

WICHITA, Kans., Dec. 4. (U.P.)—For his 18th birthday Saturday, freckled-faced Robert Davenport got two happy surprises—the father he had sought for many years and the mother he believed was dead.

He was to be reunited sometime today with his father, George whom he found after a 2,000 mile hitch-hiking search and endless appeals to police missing person bureaus.

Young Davenport sat up all night long waiting to greet his dad.

Mother Still Alive

He learned, only last night, that his mother—whom he thought had died when he was only eight months old—was alive and living in Harlem, Mo., under the name of Mrs. Pearl Lancaster.

Mrs. Lancaster, who remarried after she and George Davenport were divorced in 1935, sent a message to the boy last night through police channels.

She asked him to "come and live" with her, and said that she planned to 'phone or wire him today to arrange a meeting and to extend a mother's greeting on her son's birthday.

Youth Seeks Aid

Things started happening fast in young Davenport's life after he walked into the Wichita, Kans., police station and appealed to officers to help him find his father.

He said his mother died when he was a baby and that his family, which had been living near Diamond, Mo., has been split up.

He had remained with his father at Diamond, he said, until he was nine, and then he had been sent to Montana to live with relatives.

Six months ago, he related, he decided to try to find his father, with whom he had lost contact. He hitch-hiked to Diamond and Neosho, Mo., but found no trace of the elder Davenport.

A vague report finally took him to Wichita, and he went to police when that lead porved false.

Radio stations in Joplin, Mo., and Pittsburg, Kans., broadcast the boy's appeal.

The Joplin broadcast was heard by Mrs. Bernard Bryan of Sarcoxie, Mo., who identified herself as young Davenport's sister. She sent word to her brother through Wichita police that another sister, Mrs. Jess Duree, was living in Wichita.

Boy's Father Located

The Pittsburg broadcast brought a call from a Pitcher, Okla., resident who revealed that George Davenport was working for a construction company at Shidler, Okla.

Notified there, the elder Davenport became so flustered that he mistakenly hurried to Neosho, Mo., to meet his son. When he learned there last night that the youth was in Wichita, he immediately started on the 200 mile auto trip to see his son.

Davenport and his former wife both said they could not explain how the boy got the mistaken impression that his mother was dead.

German Ruler Declines Army

BONN, Dec. 4. (INS)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he favors creation of a "German contingent within a united European force" and not an independent German army if Germany is required to share in responsibility for European security.

He declared at the same time: "Germans shall not be used for service in non-German units, nor shall they be recruited for such units."

Statement Told Reporter

Adenauer's significant statement on the controversial subject of re-arming western Germany was made in an interview with a reporter for the German news service DPA.

He made the statement in denying a published report in the United States which quoted him as saying he favored resurrection of the German Wehrmacht.

Adenauer said:

"Once and for all, I do not want a new German Wehrmacht.

"We Germans shed so much blood in the last two wars and have so few people, we are totally unable to carry out such a project.

"I still say the security of Germany is an allied responsibility."

Adenauer in his statement underscored the western problem of how to use German manpower in the event of a new war.

He said the German contingent he envisaged if its creation became necessary should be under the command of an over-all supreme force for western Europe.

This appeared to be a bid for inclusion of western Germany in the Atlantic pact military machine, a move that has been argued back and forth by western circles.

Adenauer, touching on fears of France and other neighboring states lest the way be opened for new German aggression, asked this question:

"Where is the greater danger in Europe today, from the side of the Soviets or Germans?"

Shah Of Iran Sheds Imperial Dignity For Date With U. S. Girl

PHOENIX, Dec. 4. (U.P.) — His imperial majesty, the Shah of Iran, shed his imperial dignity when he had his first date with an American girl since arriving in the United States on Nov. 15.

Showing the good taste attributed to kings, the Shah chose willowy Joanne Frakes, 23, as his partner Saturday night at dinner and a square dance. The blonde, blue-eyed Oak Ark, Ill., girl wore a red rose, the national flower of Iran, in her hair.

The young Northwestern university graduate admitted she was thrilled.

"What girl wouldn't be," she said. "After all, I've never danced with a king before.

Shah Dances Well

"He's a good dancer—dances just like an American man."

Miss Frakes, public relations director for the hotel where his majesty stayed, received the dinner invitation through one of the Shah's retinue. The courier carried the added suggestion that his majesty would like very much to accompany her to the square dance thrown by the hotel in his honor.

Envious American males conceded he was smooth on his feet and seemed to have a snappy line of chatter.

Joanne said the Shah "talked about nothing in particular—about the murals on the wall, about what he liked and didn't like. Just the usual things you talk about."

Bankers Plan 'Grass Roots' Drive To Educate Americans

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Dec. 4. (INS)—The nation's leading investment bankers today planned a "grass roots" campaign to educate the average American with his stake in private ownership of industry.

Nearly 1,000 members of the Investment Bankers association and their wives arrived in Hollywood today on three special trains for the 38th annual meeting of the organization.

The keynote of the convention was adopted by the IBA's public education forum even before the first business session of the conclave began.

The forum suggested the so-called "grass roots" drive as part of the IBA program.

Class AA Football Championships Enter Quarter-Final Play

Littlefield Among Teams In Class A Quarter-Final Play

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas schoolboy football reaches the championship round in one division playoff this week and two other classes move into the quarter-finals.

One mighty upset was recorded last week, undefeated, untied Lubbock falling before Austin of El Paso, 37-12, in a Class AA Bi-District game.

Sunset of Dallas and Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio meet Saturday at Dallas for the City Conference championship.

Sunset Friday night squeezed past Paschal of Fort Worth, 26-25, and Thomas Jefferson Saturday nosed out San Jacinto of Houston, 7-6.

Port Arhtur Undefeated

Port Arthur, Marshall, Austin, Alice, Wichita Falls, Austin of El Paso, Highland Park and Abilene advanced to the Class AA quarterfinals.

Littlefield, Ballinger, Garland, Mineola, Mexia, New Braunfels, Uvalde and El Campo are in the quarter-finals of the Class A state championship chase.

Port Arthur, one of two remaining undefeated, untied teams in Class AA, meets Marshall Friday night at Port Arthur. The other perfect club in this division, Wichita Falls, takes on Austin of El Paso at Wichita Falls.

Austin and Alice decided that they would play at Alice next Saturday afternoon.

The Highland Park-Abilene game site will come off Saturday in Dallas.

Play At Odessa

Littlefield squares off against Ballinger at Odessa Friday and Garland and Mineola tangle at Greenville Friday. Mexia and New Braunfels play Friday night at Waco. Uvalde and El Campo meet Friday night at Uvalde.

These were the other results of last week's Class AA Bi-District games:

Wichita Falls 20, Pampa 12; Abilene 35, Breckenridge 0; Highland Park 33, Paris 0; Marshall 28, Conroe 7; Port Arthur 26, Galveston 7; Austin 33, Corsicana 19; Alice 12, Harlingen 6.

Second round results in Class A were:

Littlefield 26, Lefors 6; Garland 7, Bowie 0; Mineola 18, Atlanta 13; Mexia 53, Grand Saline 0; New Braunfels 21, Rosebud 0; El Campo 20, French (Beaumont) 6; Uvalde 19, Mission 7.

That Fourth Quarter

Austin of El Paso rammed over four touchdowns in the final quarter to rout Lubbock, the team that had been figured as one of two finalists in the Class AA race. Two of the touchdowns came on pass interceptions, both by George Clark on runs of 45 and 46 yards.

Port Arthur, doped as the probable state champion, came from behind to roll over Galveston.

Don Raybourn's extra point after S. M. Meeks' first period 45-yard scoring run sent Thomas Jefferson into the finals of the City Conference. Carl Johnson scored for San Jacinto on a 16-yard run in the second period.

Ballinger racked up 27 points in a wild second half to come from behind and wallop Wink.

Regional championships in Class B will be determined this week. It will end play for the season in this division. Eleven regional titles are on the line as follows:

Region 1—Kress vs. Olton, Regio n2—Marfa vs. Eden, Region 3—Rule vs. Rising Star, Region 4—Frisco vs. Van Alstine, Region 5—Lake Worth (Fort Worth) vs. Richardson, Region 6—Brownsboro vs. White Oak (Longview), 7—Elkhart vs. Academy, Region 8—Groveton vs. Tomball, Region 9—Smithville vs. Granger, Region 10—San Felipe (Del Rio) vs. Port Lavaca, Region 11—Taft vs. Benavides.

Cheers Greet Westerner 11

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

A hero's welcome awaited the Lubbock Westerner football team Sunday when the bus in which the team members were riding pulled up at Chapman fieldhouse at approximately 4:45 p.m.

Approximately 150 persons greeted the Westerners and broke forth in their school song, followed by yells, as the players filed off the bus with their equipment.

Among the throng were families, sweethearts and friends of the squadmen.

Long Ride Home

The Westerners left El Paso at 8 a.m. (MST) Sunday, ate in Carlsbad, N. M., and then made the last leg of the trip into Lubbock.

The ride back was a long one for the team, which dropped its bi-district tilt to Austin High of El Paso by a 37-12 count on Saturday and was eliminated from the state schoolboy playoff.

But the boys stood up well under the defeat after a lapse immediately following the contest, conceding the fact that El Paso had outplayed them.

For the Westerners it was the most successful season in a decade, when Lubbock won the state schoolboy crown by defeating Waco in the finals.

In 1941 the Westerners won their district after ending in a tie with Pampa, being defeated in the bi-district by Wichita Falls.

The loss to El Paso Austin broke a 12-game winning streak which began in 1948 with a 47-0 victory over Plainview. The last game of that season saw the Westerners thump Brownfield, 46-0, and then take 10 straight this year to win the district title and rank second in the state at the end of the regular season.

But Saturday the charges of Coach Pat Pattison ran into the equivilent of a football buzz saw in the form of Austin's Panthers and could never find themselves, although leading 6-0 and 12-6 on two occasions during the game.

Roberts Slightly Injured

Offensively the Westerners were stymied by the Panthers, except for one 70 yard burst by Fullback Malcolm Young and a 35 yard carry by Halfback Wayne Stroud, other gains being shorter.

Defensively the standouts were Quarterback Bobby Brown, who stopped several near touchdown gallops by Austin High backs and Douglas Wienke, fast moving Lubbock center.

Only serious injury sustained in the game was by Tackle Curtis Roberts, who received a bruised hip, but he returned to the sidelines late in the game after being taken by ambulance to a hospital for a check on a possible fracture. Roberts was feeling all right Sunday during the trip back.

French Middleweight Boxer Is Disqualified For Life By FBA

PARIS, Dec. 4. (AP) — French Middleweight Boxer Robert Charron today was disqualified "for life" by the French Boxing Federation.

Charron last Sunday refused to fight Koulder Jury, at Douai, after the spectators were seated.

Charron, who was French champion in 1944, lost to the late Marcel Cerdan on points in a 12 round bout in 1946.

TECH COACH OKAY

ATLANTA, Dec. 4. (AP) — The family of W. A. (Bill) Alexander, Georgia Tech athletic director, said he was "getting along just fine" today in a local (Crawford W Long) hospital. He suffered an attack of indigestion Saturday night.

Major-Minor Moguls Start Talking Trades

Player Draft Opens Minor League Meet

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 4. (INS) Baseball's big brass invaded Baltimore today for the annual Minor League winter meetings in the city that gave the game Babe Ruth and the fabulous old Baltimore Orioles.

Minor League executives faced a six-day agenda of business ranging from their annual player draft to random discussions of television, the bonus rule and, inevitably, the status of the Pacific Coast League.

At best, however, their business was expected to be only window dressing for discussions of more private nature by bargain-hunting Major League delegations.

The Minor League meetings signal the opening of the trade market which gives early indications of being active this year. Virtually every Major League club has its eye on a player — or on the cash rewards to be reaped from the hawking of talent.

Some of the delegations arrived as early as yesterday, and the New York Yankees' George Weiss was closeted last night with Calvin Griffith, son of Washington's 80-year-old owner, Clark Griffith.

Weiss is known to covet Pitcher Rae Scarborough and First Baseman Eddie Robinson of the Nats.

Sain Is Target

In the sentiment, Weiss is not alone. All the other contenders in the American League would be interested in Scarborough, as well as in the St. Louis Browns' Pitcher Ned Garver and Third Baseman Bob Dillinger.

The National League targets for this week are Johnny Sain, who had a disappointing year on the Boston Braves' mound last year, Cincinnati's brilliant young German Wehmaler and sundry others.

The Minor Leaguers will hold their draft Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday morning. Some 45 proposed revisions to the Major-Minor rules and National Association (Minor League) agreement will be discussed the rest of the week.

Bonus and television action will necessarily be limited as the majors exercise the final say-so on both subjects at their meetings, which come up a week from now in New York.

PCL Problem Again

The International League has an important problem in the disposition of two down-at-the-heels franchises, Newark and Jersey City. Both suffer from Major League television-itis, and all of National Association President Trautman's 58-league empire will be interested in what the IL does about the problem.

The Pacific Coast League's perennial plea is contained this time in a petition for exemption from the draft. Coast League President Clarence (Pants) Rowland intimates his circuit would forego for an amnesty of its own.

It isn't likely that other executives will be willing to make a separate entity of the PCL, any more than they were receptive to the idea of Rowland's loop becoming a third major league.

Williams Puts Title On Line

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4. (AP)—Ike Williams risks his lightweight boxing title for the fifth time tomorrow at Convention Hall— and some folks think it may be the slugger's last defense of the crown, win or lose.

The hard-hitting Trenton, N.J., negro, christened Isaiah, meets Freddie Dawson, 25-year-old Chicagoan who long has sought a title shot. They are scheduled to swing leather 15 rounds.

Have Met Before

Dawson and Williams have squared off three times, but the 135-pound title never was at stake. Five years ago, before Ike took command of the lightweights, Williams knocked out Dawson in the fourth round.

A year and a half later they battled ten rounds to a draw. Then after Wiliams became champion he outpointed Freddie in another ten—but it was so close that Dawson started immediately clammering for a title fight.

Ike 2-1 Favorite

The champ is the 2 to 1 favorite for tomorrow's fracas, which will not be televised or broadcast. But backers of Dawson, a natural lightweight, point out that Ike may be weakened by the task of getting down to the lightweight limit.

Then too, Dawson's style of infighting is the kind that Williams has found most bothersome in the past.

Fourth Title Defense

Ike likes nothing better than to stand toe to toe and slug it out. He is a sharp puncher with ability to make the most of an opening.

Since taking undisputed command of the lightweights by knocking out Bob Montgomery in 1947, Williams has defended his title against Enrique Bolanos, Beau Jack and Jesse Flores.

Ike twice outpointed Bolanos, the last time in July, and measured Jack and Flores for the full count.

Red Sanders May Go To Florida Position

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4. (INS)—Henry (Red) Sanders, head pigskin maestro at the University of California at Los Angeles, has received a juicy offer to take over football coaching reins at the University of Florida—and indications were that he would accept it.

A big wheel in the UCLA athletic set-up told International News Service today:

"Red has been offered $18,500 annually to take the Florida job on a four-year contract—and it looks like he'll be heading back down South."

Sanders himself, confirmed that the deal was pending, but said he was holding up his decision until he has talked to UCLA officials. He said:

"The Florida people have made me the kind of offer which is hard for a coach to pass up. But I told them I won't give them an answer until I've talked to the folks at UCLA, who have been as wonderful to me as anyone can imagine."

Sanders, formerly with Vanderbilt, made his West Coast debut this season at a salary of $12,500. If he stays, he is to get $13,000 next year and $13,500 the following season.

Those close to the situation said that unless the Bruins were able to up those figures considerably he undoubtedly would go to Florida.

SMU Defeat Finishes 1949 SWC Schedule

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The wildest, upsettingest Southwest Conference football campaign of them all has run its course.

The last shots were fired Saturday at Dallas as Southern Methodist surprised the gridiron world by fighting mighty Notre Dame—the national champion—to the last ditch and gaining the season's greatest glory for the conference by coming within one touchdown of the Fighting Irish.

Almost Reach Pinnacle

Battered, weary Southern Methodist, a fifth-place finisher in the conference race and in its worst season in years, almost reached the pinnacle college teams strive for. Notre Dame won 27-20, but it was the toughest game the Irish played this season.

The Southwest Conference closed out with an intersectional record of 14 victories, 7 defeats and one tie. The loss to Notre Dame, however, didn't detract from what is generally regarded as the greatest season in the conference's history. Playing Notre Dame like that was worth more than any intersectional victory this year.

Rote Top Carrier

Rice became conference champion a week ago and will play North Carolina in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2. Runner-up Baylor is expected to agree to a bowl game with College of the Pacific at San Francisco in late December. But all other teams have finished up until next fall.

Kyle Rote, the great Southern Methodist halfback, won the ball-carrying championship of the conference. He did it in his last game—and against, of all teams—Notre Dame.

Rote needed 82 yards to beat out Geno Mazzanti of Arkansas for the title. None of the other top men had a game left. Rote rolled up 115 yards against Notre Dame and went from fourth to first with a season total of 777 yards on 142 carries. Mazzanti finished second with 743, Gordon Wyatt of Rice third with 704 and Bob Smith of Texas A. and M. fourth with 694.

Rote Top Punter Too

Rote also won the punting championship, ending up with an average of 44.4 yards on 22 kicks. Teammate Doak Walker, who didn't play against Notre Dame because of an injury, was second with an average of 41.7.

Rote wound up third in conference scoring as he made three touchdown against Notre Dame. His season total was 74 points. Walker was first with 83 and Randall Clay of Texas was second with 76.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 4. (AP) — George Trautman, president of the National Association of Baseball Leagues, is ill at his home at Columbus, Ohio, and won't be here for the convention's opening tomorrow.

President Bruce Dudley of the American Association said the Minor League commissioner was undergoing treatment for ulcers.

Trautman is expected to arrive Wednesday for the leaegue president's meeting, Dudley added, but this still isn't definite.

REBELS LICK PANTHERS

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 4. (AP)—The Richmond Rebels, with Quarterback Paul Richards throwing three touchdown passes, overpowered the Patterson Panthers here today, 35-14, to win the championship of the American football League. A crowd of 8,600 fans watched the game.

TAAF Gains Trio Of New Entries

The TAAF Boxing tournament scheduled for Thursday and Friday at Sled Allen's arena, gained added momentum over the weekend with three new entries.

The three new entries are James and Douglas Forbes of Brownfield, and Ray Briscoe, also of Brownfield. James Forbes is 19 years old and weighs 147. His brother is 16 years old and weighs 127 pounds. Broscoe is a 116-pound fighter.

Plainview May Enter

While the three additional boxers swell the roster of pugilists to 44, indications were that a large group might come in from Plainview. Willis Hawkins, former West Texas State college student and state Golden Gloves middleweight contender for the past two years, said that he might bring a group down from Plainview. He is coaching boxers of that city.

Fight fans should see two jam-packed nights of action when the amateur fighters come together. The list of entries contains many names familiar to South Plains fans, along with several boys not so well known, but who are able.

Thursday Noon Deadline

Deadline for entries in the two-night fight tourney will be Thursday noon. Boxers will weigh in from 3 to 5 p.m. that day, with the first bouts scheduled to start about 7:30 p. m.

Winners will receive an all-expense paid trip to Fort Worth for the state TAAF finals.

The tournament is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2466.

STILL NEED STADIUM

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4. (AP) — The projected Press Bowl football game between College of Pacific and Baylor University Dec. 26 was still without a stadium today.

STOPPED SHORT OF GOAL — Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist back, is stopped in mid-air on the one-foot line as he smashed into left guard in a touchdown try Saturday. The play occurred in the second period of the game with Notre Dame in the huge Cotton Bowl at Dallas. SMU players in the picture are Guard Bob Welch (65) and Fullback Dick McKissack (38). Notre Dame won the game 27-20 to maintain its unbeaten record and end the season by winning its 38th consecutive game. But the Irish were scrapped all the way by the Mustangs, who tied the score 20-20 and threw a real scare into the South Bend, Ind., eleven.

Browns To Meet 49ers For Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)— The champion Cleveland Browns and San Francisco's 49ers advanced today to the final playoff for the All-America Football Conference title.

On a muddy, slippery field and before 17,270 spectators, the Browns captured a see-saw game from the Buffalo Bills, 31-21.

Yanks Are Eliminated

In the other semifinal playoff clash at San Francisco, where a crowd of 41,393 looked on, the 49ers eliminated the New York Yankees, 17-7.

The victors had defeated the New Yorkers a week ago to break a second-place deadlock in the conference standing. Cleveland was first in the regular season campaign and Buffalo fourth.

The championship game will be played in Cleveland next Sunday with the Browns seeking their fourth straight AAC title.

Come From Behind

The conference kings had to come from behind twice to oust the Bills, who tied the Ohioans twice this year, but never have beaten them in 10 clashes covering four years.

Passing dominated the game, with Cleveland's Otto Graham and Buffalo's George Ratterman providing a good show. A new league record of 85 tosses was set, while only 45 running plays were tried on the ground.

Texas Tech Plays Rice, Baylor On Road

Only Two SWC Cage Teams Undefeated

(By The Associated Press)

Six of the seven Southwest Conference basketball teams opened the season last week with only two of them going undefeated.

Southern Methodist beat East Texas State 53-28 and Centenary 51-48 in its two games. Texas Christian won over Abilene Christian college 52-35 and East Texas State 63-35.

Rice and Arkansas broke even while Texas dropped its only engagement and Texas A. and M. lost two.

Rice beat Sam Houston State 74-65, but fell before Southwestern Louisiana Institute 42-26. Texas lost to Oklahoma 65-48. Texas A. and M., on an eastern tour, was beaten by Long Island 66-52 and by Niagara 53-50.

Aggies Show Punch

The Aggies did better than expected even though going winless. They showed a scoring punch the hapless team of last season failed to reach by a long shot.

Arkansas licked the Kansas State Teachers, 59-41 and dropped a thriller to top-flight Oklahoma A. and M. 43-41. The Razorbacks showed enough that they are still rated the outfit to beat in the Southwest Conference.

Monday night Baylor, which tied Arkansas and Rice for the championship last season, swings into action against North Texas State at Waco. Texas Christian plays Howard Payne at Fort Worth.

Tuesday night Rice takes on Texas Tech at Houston and Texas engages Texas Wesleyan at Austin while Texas A. and M. continues its tour, clashing with St. Louis University at St. Louis.

Wednesday night the Aggies tackle Oklahoma A. and M. at Stillwater.

Tech Plays Baylor

Thursday night Southern Methodist opens an eastern tour against City College of New York at New York while Baylor plays Texas Tech at Waco and Texas Christian engages Abilene Christian college at Abilene.

Friday night Rice and Arkansas journey into the South, the former to play Tulane at New Orleans and Arkansas to engage Louisiana State at Baton Rouge. Texas is host to North Texas State at Austin.

Saturday night Arkansas plays Tulane at New Orleans and Rice takes on Louisiana State at Baton Rouge while Southern Methodist hops over to Buffalo, N. Y., to play Niagara, Baylor battles Stephen F. Austin college at Longview, and Texas plays another game with North Texas State.

Rams Beaten By Cards As Gun Sounds

Bears Win 30-21 To Stay In NFL Chase

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP) —The Chicago Bears staved off a last half Pittsburgh Steeler rally today to win, 30-21, and stay in the running for the Western Division National Football League title.

The Bear victory, combined with a last second loss by the Los Angeles Rams to the Chicago Cardinals, postponed a decision on the Western champion until the final Sunday games next week.

Los Angeles bowed to the Cards, 31 to 27, in a thriller at Los Angeles. The Cards, behind 24 to 10 going into the last quarter, spurted to victory with three late touchdowns.

Los Angeles still leads the Western division with a record of 7 victories, 2 losses and 2 ties. The Bears are right behind with an 8-3 record.

A Bear victory and a Rams loss would give the title to Chicago. The Bears play the Cards and Los Angeles is host to the Washington Redskins Sunday.

The divisional winner will meet the Philadelphia Eagles, Eastern champion for the National League title, Dec. 18.

Philadelphia trounced the New York Giants today, 24 to 3.

The Ram setback came as the gun sounded. Pitchin' Paul Christman's pass sailed 24 yards to End Billy Dewell in the end zone for the winning touchdown.

At Washington, Dick Poillon kicked three field goals and old Sam Baugh turned into a scatback in the Redskins' 30 to 0 whipping of the Green Bay Packers.

Baugh, the old flinging specialist, scampered eight yards for a touchdown. The ex-TCU ace also had dashes of six and eight yards.

In Detroit, the Lions crawled up from the National League cellar for the first time since 1945.

Bo McMillan's boys edged out the New York Bulldogs, 28 to 27, the margin being an extra-point kick blocked by the Lion's Les Bingaman.

New York's running attack never got going as it gained only 53 yards on the ground, but Bobby Layne more than kept his team in the game with his passing. He completed 25 of 40 tosses, three of them for touchdowns. End Ralph Heywood caught 14 of them for 151 yards to tie the league record set by Don Looney of the Philadelphia Eagles in 1940. Looney gained 180 yards against the Washington Redskins for his mark.

Man, Woman Die In Shooting Here

who investigated the death of Mrs. Aldrich, said four bullets entered her body. One, he said, went completely through her neck, a second entered her left chest while the other two struck her in the upper left arm and left wrist.

The bullet which claimed Aldrich's life entered the right temple and left the head through the left temple after ranging upward through the brain.

Lynn said he would withhold an official verdict on the woman's death until he had taken statements from witnesses.

Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson was called to investigate the second death.

Word of the tragedy was received at police headquarters at 7:21 p. m., and Patrolmen W. C. Johnson and W. C. Barnes were dispatched to the scene.

Target Pistol Found

Johnson said he picked up the gun near Aldrich. The weapon he said, was a .22 caliber target pistol.

Police Capt. Gilbert Newton and Sgt. J. T. Alley, jr., arrived with a newsman a moment later, and all patrons were kept in the cafe for questioning.

All, police said, described the tragedy in essentially the same way: that Aldrich had risen, fired one shot, then leaped to the counter fired two more shots and pursued the woman across the space inside the two counters to stand directly over her as he fired the final shots.

Three Customers Near Spot

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lamb of Thirty-fifth and Dixie drive and a companion, Jim Coffman, of 218 Thirty-first, who were seated immediately west of the spot where Mrs. Aldrich fell, said they heard the shots and ran to the rear of the room.

Lamb said the final two shots fired at the woman were directed toward the front of the cafe.

Seven persons were seated in two booths behind the Lambs and Coffman.

Another witness, J. D. Mincey, of 612 Seventh, told officers he had just walked into the establishment and was about to take a seat immediately to the left of Aldrich when the man stood up and drew the gun.

Mincey grabbed at Aldrich's left arm as he fired the first shot, he said, but Aldrich kept moving and leaped to the counter.

Only seconds elapsed between the time Aldrich started shooting and the time both he and his wife lay unconscious on the floor, police were told.

Rix ambulance attendants who removed both victims to the hospital said they detected signs of life in Mrs. Aldrich at that time. She was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital, however.

Blood Spattered Counter

Blood had spattered on the backside of the counter and the pie case, and on top of the counter where the Lambs had been eating. A large pool of blood remained on the counter walkway after the pair had been removed.

Annie Pigg, of 213 Seventh, a waitress at the cafe, said Aldrich had entered the place a short time before the shooting and ordered a cup of coffee. A five-cent ticket was lying beside his empty cup when officers arrived.

Relatives of the dead man and woman said the couple had been estranged for about six weeks. Mrs. Aldrich had been living at 210 Hub Homes, her husband with his mother at 505 Hub Homes.

Worked For Firm 11 Years

H. L. Phares, a partner in the Phares and Wilkins welding firm, said Aldrich had been in his employe for about 11 years, and had done some work for him a few hours before the tragedy.

A check of police records revealed that Aldrich had been arrested here Oct. 30 on charges of carrying a pistol. The gun was identified by officers as the weapon which he had in his possession at that time.

A complete list of survivors was not immediately available late last night, but it was reported Aldrich had three children by a former wife.

Mrs. Aldrich's body was taken to Rix Funeral home, Aldrich's to McDonald Funeral home.

A 46-year-old man being held for questioning at Houston was killed Saturday night in a plunge from the third floor of the central police station. He was Charles Richards. Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan ruled the death a suicide.

T. H. Duke, 51, of Texarkana was killed Sunday when his gun acidentally discharged as he was preparing for a hunting trip.

Mrs. Velma Louise Aldrich, 23, was shot to death Sunday in a Lubbock cafe. Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson said 24 persons saw Roy Aldrich, 29, her husband, shoot the woman, then kill himself. Robertson said he would rule the man's death a suicide. Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn said he would return a homicide verdict in the woman's death.

Los Alamos Offices Of AEC To Be Moved

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 4. (AP)—The Atomic Energy commission plans to move its regional headquarters, involving some 200 employes, to one of four southwestern cities.

Cities under consideration are Denver, Amarillo, Albuquerque and Santa Fe.

The headquarters, known as Santa Fe operations, now functions at Los Alamos, 35 miles northwest of Santa Fe. About 1,200 AEC employes are located there.

AEC Regional Manager Carroll Tyler said yesterday he plans to decide on the new location by Jan. 15.

Tyler said the purpose of the shift is to separate affairs of the Santa Fe operations office from those of the Los Alamos research laboratories project.

"A separation between problems, procedures and policies as they relate to Los Alamos and to the Santa Fe operations office as a whole might conceivably improve our over-all operations," Tyler said. He said about 10 field offices are under the regional headquarters.

One is Sandia secret weapons base at Albuquerque, where the atomic bomb is assembled.

Tyler said he would move with the headquarters. A new field manager would head the Los Alamos project.

"The move will not result in establishment of a new different position in the AEC," Tyler said, "but merely in the redefinition of about 200 positions already functioning on a regional level."

AEC division directors have been considering the move for about a year, but Amarillo was added to the list of possible sites only last week.

Official Beauties For Tech Chosen

Licia Albaese, Metropolitan opera singer, who is in Lubbock for a recital Tuesday, selected eight official beauties of Texas Technological college in contest finals Sunday.

But the selections will not be made public until the publication of the school yearbook in the spring in which each will receive a two-page spread, according to Roy Grimes, editor.

The eight girls were chosen from a total of 16 finalists who paraded before the opera singer Sunday afternoon in the campus recreation hall.

Campus-wide nominations placed 99 co-eds into the contest. Two preliminary judgings cut this number to 16.

The 16 finalists were Betty Wolcott, Dallas; Mary Ann Kelly, Colorado City; Pat Todd, Houston; Levora Manning, Amarillo; Jo Cole, Big Spring; Jane Wier, Brownfield; Pat Bennett, Dumas; Dotsie Stephenson, Fort Stockton; Jo Simmons, Lubbock; Janelle Reed, Crosbyton; Jeanine Ballew, Rising Star; Phyllis Jeanne Leach, Slaton; Betty Fillingim, New Home; Helen Ohlenbusch, Sweetwater; DeLois Utterback, Amarillo; and Connie Hopping, Littlefield.

Four Louisiana Forest Fires Brought Under Quick Control

SHREVEPORT, Dec. 4. (AP) — Only four small forest fires were reported in northwest Louisiana today. All were quickly extinguished, district forester R. L. McKillips, of Minden, said.

The largest fire was located in Clairborne parish, McKillips said. An area of 60 acres of woodland was burned before it could be extinguished. The other three were in Bienville Parish and totalled only 24 acres.

"The situation is still critical," the forestry officer said, "because the woods are still dry despite the light rain we had Sunday morning." McKillips warned hunters to be extremely cautious with matches and warming fires.

Elsewhere, Assistant State Forester W. C. Valentine reported fires in Vernon parish and in St. Tammany parish. Minor brush and swamp fires also were reported.

A major advantage of the Sunday rains, he said, was to clear up haze that had hindered fire detection by reducing visibility.

Valentine also warned that the rains had brought only temporary relief and that considerably more rainfall was needed to offset effects of the long dry period.

William Benton To Take Over Office Of Resigned Senator

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 4. (AP) —William Benton disclosed today that he is to be Connecticut's new U. S. Senator.

He plans to leave for Washington shortly after Christmas to set up his senatorial office and to find a place to live.

Official announcement of Benton's appointment is slated to come tomorrow from Gov. Chester Bowles.

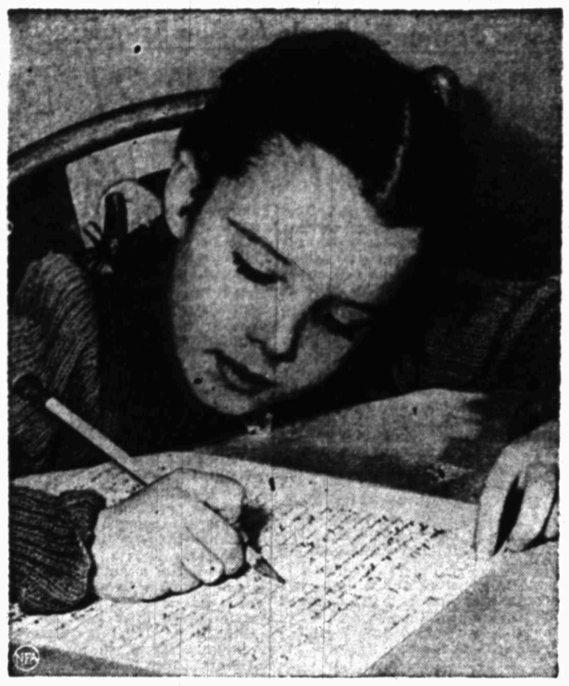

Benton is to succeed U. S. Senator Raymond E. Baldwin on Dec. 17. Baldwin, a Republican, has resigned to accept appointment as a Connecticut Supreme court justice.

The 50-year-old Benton served for two years as assistant secretary of state for public affairs, one of the biggest postwar jobs in the federal government. He was one of the originators of the "Voice of America."

In 1929, with Bowles, he founded the advertising firm of Benton and Bowles, where he remained until 1935.

Benton has been and is a close associate of Democratic Governor Bowles. He has described himself as an independent voter who is not registered with any political party.

cents a day pay boost for the miners.

In return, the Kentucky owners will be allowed to operate on a full five-day week.

It was reported that the Kentucky operators would come to UMW headquarters in Washington this week, perhaps tomorrow, to sign the contract that would drive the first wedge into the operators' united front of opposition to Lewis' 1949 wage demand.

Shotgun Wedding Cited

Joseph E. Moody, president of the big Southern Coal Producers association, charged immediately that the reported agreement represents "a shotgun wedding." He said the truck mine owners, running on thin financial reserves, could not stay in business on a three-day week and were forced to capitulate to the UMW's terms.

Moody said the development will not affect the position of the major industry groups which have told Lewis during a seven-month negotiating deadlock that the industry cannot afford any contract changes that would boost production costs and lose further coal markets to competing fuels.

Samuel Caddy, president of UMW district 30 in Kentucky, is understood to have carried on the preliminary talks with the Pikesville operators.

The contract reportedly boosts the operators royalty payments to the UMW welfare program from their present level of 20 cents a ton to 35 cents and increases the miners' daily wage from $14.05 to $15.00.

Lewis is said to have dropped his demands for cutting the work day from eight to seven hours but refused to modify a contract clause stipulating the miners will work only when "able and willing."

The reported agreement with the Kentucky group is in line with Lewis' tradition "divide and conquer" tactics.

Terms May Set Minimum

If the contract goes through, its terms undoubtedly will become the minimum peace terms which the hard-bargaining UMW chief will extend to all other segments of the coal industry.

A general settlement along the lines of the reported Pikesville contract will be a tremendous victory for Lewis in that it will provide a fourth-round pay boost for the miners.

In the recent steel dispute, a presidential fact-finding board denied a fourth-round wage increase as unwarranted. The CIO steelworkers' new contract provided only for a welfare program which the miners have had for three years and Lewis is now seeking to enlarge.

A burglary was reported to police about 11:30 p. m., Sunday by Floyd L. Strawn, 2826 Twenty-second. Strawn told police $325 in cash was taken.

He said he came home to discover the window in his back door shattered. Examination of the house showed that the money had been taken from a desk drawer in the den. Strawn said he thought nothing else was taken.

Storm Winds Sweep Through Germany; 10 Killed, 16 Hurt

BERLIN, Dec. 4 (AP)—Winds that ranged up to 80 miles an hour ripped across northern Germany today, killing 10 persons and wounding 16.

The death toll in Berlin was five.

Teacher Training Classes Set Today

Lubbock elementary school teachers today will attend two of four demonstrations of teaching methods scheduled for today and Tuesday, according to Ishmael Hill, assistant superintendent of schools.

The demonstrations, a part of the in-service training which teachers have planned for the year, will include art, arithmetic, handwriting, and reading teaching methods.

First grade teachers will meet at 3:15 p. m. today at the McWhorter school for the art demonstration by Mrs. J. Floyd Dunn. Third grade teachers will meet at 3:15 p. m., at the Roscoe Wilson school where Miss Murl Ratliff has prepared a demonstration of handwriting teaching methods.

Tuesday's program will have a demonstration for second grade teachers at 3:15 p. m., at Central Ward, by Miss Martha Mathis on arithmetic. A panel discussion on reading, with Mrs. Ruth Carter acting as chairman, will be held in the Brown school cafeteria for teachers in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades.

Chiang Pledges

after retiring from the presidency last January. He soon may resume the presidency.

Chiang received this correspondent at the commandant's residence in the Central military academy. It was the first interview he had granted to a foreign correspondent in five months.

The veteran Nationalist China leader wore an unadorned khaki uniform. He looked keen and alert. However, he seemed sadder and his close-cropped hair a little greyer.

Chiang's remarks were in the form of a written statement (he speaks very little English) in reply to a series of questions put by this correspondent.

The generalissimo said he had gone to Chungking at a time when the Reds threatened the city. He had gone at the insistence of acting President Li Tsung-Jen, he added.

Li Plans U. S. Trip

Li is in Hong Kong and this week will go to the nited States ostensibly for medical treatment. He has broken politically with Chiang.

"I expected acting President Li to return to Chungking to help cope with the critical situation confronting us," Chiang said. "However, he decided to leave the country.

"As a Chinese patriot and leader of the Chinese revolution it (defense leadership) is my responsibility — and I shall not shirk it."

The generalissimo conceded the fall of Chungking created a difficult situation for the Nationalists in southwest China.

Struggle Not Finished

"But the democratic peoples of the world," he added, "must realize that the anti-Communist struggle on China's mainland is not finished."

"The Chinese Communists at Moscow's bidding," he said, "are bent on conquering China and enslaving her 450 million people by brute force. But the Chinese people will never be subdued by force.

"We are now fighting in free China, fighting in Communist-occupied areas, fighting in villages and cities, fighting in schools and factories."

In order to rally support of the Chinese masses, Chiang said, "we are uniting all patriotic liberal and democratic elements in China for our common cause regardless of party affiliation, religious faith or profession."

Social Reforms Cited

The generalissimo declared effective social reforms, such as a rent reduction policy, already had been introduced on the island fortress of Formosa and in southwest China.

"The majority of the Chinese people," he continued, "will realize that they are fighting for their own economic well being and a free way of life. The terrorist rule has been the sad, bitter lot of our people in Communist areas."

Chiang said every effort was being made to provide a contrast between Communist territory and "free China by protecting human rights and introducing political and social reforms."

Great Increase In Plane Speeds Seen Within Near Future

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (INS) — Planes with speeds of 1,500 miles per houh were forecast tonight possibly by 1955.

S. Paul Johnston, director of the Institute of Aeronautical sciences, made the prediction in a paper prepared for delivery at Cooper Union forum in New York. He said:

"There is no doubt whatever that we now possess the know-how to build practical aircraft that will fly at speeds of 1,000-1,500 miles per hour or even faster."

Johnston added, however, that it is not yet known whether such planes will be practical militarily.

Therapist To Arrive In Lubbock Today

Miss Alice M. Billings will arrive here today to take over a position as occupational therapist with the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, Dr. Esther Snell, director, has announced.

As a nationally registered occupational therapist with a membership in the American Occupational Therapy association and a national registeration as an occupational therapist, Miss Billings represents the culmination of a long search for someone to fill the position at the center.

Miss Billings has worked with the physical medical department of the University of Colorado and Fitzsimmons hospital in Denver since her graduation from Western Michigan college in 1946 with a degree in occupational therapy.

Difficulty in locating an occupational therapist for the staff here has arisen from the fact that there is a shortage of approximately 10,000 occupational therapists in the nation.

Miss Billings will work in the functional training room at the center, teaching children the practical application of hand skills, beginning by teaching them to dress themselves and feed themselves.

Officials at the center, located at 1317 Tenth, still are seeking a speech therapist.

Then in the church services more than 100 persons had a moment of silent prayer for Betty and the Rev. H. B. Donnell offered this petition:

"Bless this little child and her life. And if it be in accordance with thy will, make her whole again."

Offers Word Of Hope

As the heads lifted he offered a word of hope to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Marbury:

"Folks all over the country are praying and worshipping with us this morning . . .

"We may have an instrument of God in our midst. It may be in the divine plan — we don't know — that Betty Lou's plea may bring a resurgence to God of people who have been away from Him."

Donnell told the congregation he wished "we all could have the simple faith of this child."

He referred to the trust expressed in Betty's scrawled letter to the newspaper:

"I want those who may read this letter to pray that I may not have to lose my hand and that I may soon completely recover. I beleave the Lord will answer their prayers."

a wet blanket over the economy," he said.

"The only substantial way of reducing expenditures beyond what the President has attempted is by further curtailing necessary outlays to contain Communism, to prepare for national defense and to meet obligations arising from past wars."

Another member of the committee, Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), said meanwhile that savings approaching $5 billion can be made in the federal budget. The deficit for the fiscal year ending next June 30 has been estimated at some $5,500,000,000 or more.

Flanders expressed belief that military spending could be lowered by $2 billion without weakening defense. He said notice already has been given that the Marshall plan would be shaved $1 billion next time. He figured that non-recurring veterans benefits would drop costs there $500 million.

Man Admits Slaying Girl On Elopement

CROFTON, Ky., Dec. 4. (INS)—The body of a 16-year-old Evansville high school girl whose intended elopement ended in her murder was found tonight in a western Kentucky ravine on information furnished police by a GI-student who they said admitted the slaying.

Evansville Police Chief Paul Bonham identified the body of the dead girl as that of Mary Ellen Harman, who disappeared eight days ago. The official, who was with the search party that discovered the girl's body, said that Franklin Thomas Slay, 22, a student at Florida State college, Tallahassee, admitted slaying her.

Slay is held in the Evansville jail, where he was returned last night from Athens, Ala., where he was arrested Nov. 26 on a hit-and-run charge following a collision of his car and a truck.

Chief Bonham said Athens police made a routine check with Evansville authorities following the youth's arrest and learned that he had visited in the Indiana city over the Thanksgiving holidays and had left with the girl.

Slay told Athens police that he and Mary had started to Florida, intending to be married there, but she had changed her mind and got out of his car near Hopkinsville, Ky., planning to hitchhike home.

Dissatisfied with the story, Evansville police went to Athens and planned to extradite Slay, who refused until last night to return with them. However, the youth changed his mind last night and arrived at Evansville at noon today.

Shortly after being placed in a cell, Slay asked for a pencil and spent 40 minutes in writing a confession.

practices, (and) to discourage and bring about voluntary abandonment of illegal or questionable practices." Sawyer observed:

"It is my observation, confirmed by my recent nationwide discussions with business groups, that while most business men want to obey the law and try conscientiously to do so, there is much unnecessary confusion at present as to what the law prohibits and what it permits."

Questioned whether the program was undertaken primarily because of alarm at the growth of economic empires or because of the need to clarify the laws, Sawyer said he believed that clarification was the major reason.

Then, asked whether "bigness as such" will be discouraged, the secretary said: "I am not commenting, but the problem of bigness will be on the agenda."

He voiced belief that voluntary action can do much to restrain even the tendency of big business to buy up smaller competitors.

"In many cases the incentive for such sales comes from the small business man, who wants to get out of business and pay only capital gains tax on the deal," Sawyer told reporters.

In this and some other connections, he said, some changes in tax legislation may be suggested.

Prior Efforts Noted

Thus far, he declared, government efforts in the anti-monopoly field have been limited mainly to prosecuting those alleged to be guilty or proceeding under the FTC act against those suspected of unfair trade practices.

"This is the first time this matter has been approached from a positive standpoint," he said.

One phase of the committee's work will be to dovetail the fact-finding activities of all federal agencies, Sawyer went on.

As part of that movement, he said, he released a study of manufacturing industries prepared at request of the House Monopoly committee headed by Rep. Celler (D-NY). It is a tabulation of findings made in the Census bureau's census of manufacturers, covering the year 1947.

Aluminum Tops List

Topping the list of manufacturing industries where production is concentrated in the hands of a few was aluminum. Three companies make the country's entire output.

In the field of telephone and telegraph equipment, four companies—out of 50 in the industry—do 95.7 per cent of the business; in electric bulbs, four firms out of 35 account for 91.8 per cent of all production; in cigarettes, four out of 19 do 90.4 per cent.

Other highly concentrated industries, as measured by the percentage of total output contributed by the leading four companies in each, include:

Small arms ammunition, 99.9 per cent; aircraft propellors, 98 per cent; aluminum rolling and drawing, 94.2 per cent; locomotives, 90.7 per cent; petroleum and coal products, 88.2 per cent; flat glass, 88.1 per cent; matches, 82.7 per cent; soap and glycerine, 79 per cent; tires and tubes, 76.6 per cent.

businessmen are turning to government for financial help.

"Something impels these people to turn to government," he added, "and we want to know what it is."

He noted that the Reconstruction Finance corporation loaned $349,000,000 in 3,509 business loans in the year ending June 30, 1949. Forty-nine businesses got half the loans and 3,460 businesses got the other half.

These loans were made, he said, only after (1) the businesses showed they could not get money from any other source, and (2) they proved there was no risk involved in their assets.

If businesses with such sound assets can't get private financing, O'Mahoney said, then the government's business in this field is bound to grow.

HST Hears Sermon By Naval Chaplain

U. S. SUB BASE, Key West, Fla., Dec. 4 (INS)—President Truman attended divine services today on his first Sunday in South Florida.

Mr. Truman heard Lieut. W. A. Rennie, chaplain of the naval station, voice a prayer for divine guidance in a troubled world.

He was accompanied to the new chapel by Rear Admiral Robert L. Dennison, his naval aide, and Capt. C. C. Adell, the naval commandant.

Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret went to services at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Key West.

The President, who slept a little later than usual, was up shortly before 9 a. m. He breakfasted, then took a brief walk, returned to his quarters and read the morning newspapers. He attended church services at 11 a. m. and went to the beach for a swim afterwards.

Mr. Truman lunched with his family and staff at 2:45 p. m.

He took a nap afterward.

The President swam despite chilly temperatures.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, commenting on a radio news broadcast report that United States atomic secrets had been given the Russians in 1944 on orders of the late Harry Hopkins, top assistant to President Roosevelt, said: "I never heard the story."

lege avenue when it skidded. Turner was not injured.

Turner told police that a truck, driven by E. L. Dickey, 1414 Ave. D, going north on College, made a left turn in front of him, and the motorcycle skidded when he applied the brakes.

Attendants at St Mary's hospital, where Miss Rogers was taken, said her condition was not critical.

Six Latin Americans suffered minor injuries at 8:45 a.m., Sunday, when the pickup truck in which they were riding overturned at the north edge of Hale Center.

An eyewitness to the accident said the pickup, a 1949 Dodge, went out of control, struck the barditch, and turned over three times. The truck was badly damaged.

Jose Delgado, 37, of Hale Center, was reported to have been driving the truck. With him were Domingo Sanchez, 30, of Pharr, and four Mexican nationals. They were Martin Vargos Herman, 30, Emilio Brecerra, 38, and Geronimo Castelazo Mayo, 28, all of Mexico City; and Felix Martinez, 21. They were under treatment late last night in Hale County Co-operative hospital in Hale Center for bruises, lacerations, and possible internal injuries.

The six men were taken to the hospital by a Lemons Funeral home ambulance from Plainview. All are working for Otto Steinberg, a farmer living near Plainview.

Negro Woman Injured

A Lubbock negro woman suffered a broken neck and two other negroes were injured when the car in which they were riding overturned about 7:45 p. m., Sunday, in the 2800-block, Old Slaton road.

Clara Pinson, 27, is in Lubbock Memorial hospital in critical condition with a broken neck. Johnnie Robinson, 23, received bruises and lacerations, and her daughter Johnnie Lee Jackson, 5, is in Chapman hospital with a broken leg.

The car, a 1936 Ford coach, was headed in a northwest direction when it struck an embankment and overturned three times. The driver of the car had not been determined. An unidentified negro man was believed to have been in the car also.

Rites Held For Victim

Funeral services for Henry Willis, 70, of Floydada, who died in the accident north of Plainview early Saturday, were held Sunday afternoon in Floydada. The bodies of the other three victims, Mrs. B. E. Robinson, 31; Charles A. Geer, 58, her father; and William Youngblood, 48, of Tucumcari, N. M., brother-in-law of Geer, were taken to an Amarillo Funeral home Saturday for funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Youngblood remained in Plainview clinic late Sunday night recovering from broken ribs, a broken wrist and internal injuries.

Two-year-old David Robinson, orphaned by the death of his mother, is in the clinic suffering from a broken leg and a broken arm. His father died in October. Attendants said they believed arrangements were being made for the boy to live with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Geer, who was widowed by the death of her husband in the accident.

Odessa Man Killed In Crash Of Training Plane In Illinois

DECATUR, Ill., Dec. 4. (AP)—A light training plane crashed near the Decatur airport today, killing John E. Glasco, jr., 27, of Odessa, Tex., and Levert E. Willmore of Decatur.

Willmore was the pilot. He and Glasco had been flying most of the day. They decided to go up once more at 4 p. m.

Fifteen minutes later, witnesses said, the plane failed to pull out of a loop and nosed into a field. The craft was demolished and both men were killed instantly.

Glasco was here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glasco. He was a veteran pilot, having flown 35 B-17 missions over Germany during World War II. Glascow was western field manager for the Disabled American veterans.

He is survived by his widow Bettye Jo, and a son, Jon, 2.

Salvation Army Yule Fund Reaches $314

A total of $314 toward a goal of $3,250 has been raised to date through the Salvation Army kettles on the streets of Lubbock, Capt. W. Tom Gregory, local commanding officer, has announced.

Capt. Gregory said that a steady stream of applications for help at Christmas have been coming into the Army offices since the annual drive began Thursday, and that they were expecting to provide Christmas cheer, dinners, and gifts for over 400 families this year.

Year around care of clients who appeal to the Army for "basic maintenance" is handled by the Army with funds from the Lubbock Community chest, Capt. Gregory explained, but the Christmas Cheer fund is needed to provide a little something extra for Christmas.

Several checks have been received by the organization, and Capt. Gregory said that people are encouraged to mail contributions to the office at 1112 Seventeenth.

One family in town, instead of sending gifts to friends this Christmas, has made a contribution for each of their friends, and has asked that the Army send receipts for the donations to these friends. "This truly exemplifies the real Christmas spirit of sharing our joys and happiness with others," Capt. Gregory said.

of a fad—a falling off of interest among radio listeners.

The giveaway has not disappeared entirely by a long shot. Some of the big ones still are around—including ABC's "Stop the Music," CBS's "Sing it Again" and NBC's "Hollywood Calling." But the casualties have been pretty heavy, particularly among those in which a listener is called on the telephone and receives a vanload of merchandise for answering a question or identifying a tune or voice.

Program Casualties Cited

Among those that have departed the scene are "Strike it Rich," "Beat the Clock" and "Spin to Win" on CBS, and that network's "Hit the Jackpot" is due to bow out at the end of the year. The radio version of CBS' "Winner Take All," once heard five times a week, also has disappeared although a television version is doing handsomely.

Kate Smith's Monday night show on ABC recently was cut nearly in half and its king size jackpot dropped. NBC's "Hollywood Calling," a late comer in the parade, has drawn disappointing audience.

"Stop the Music," which started in May of 1948 and is credited by many with touching off the giveaway craze, has suffered a drop of nearly 50 per cent in audience rating since last winter when it was topping all competition during its hour on the air every Sunday.

Mark Goodson, co-producer of "Stop the Music" and several other giveaways had been expressing concern for some time over the large number of giveaways on radio.

"Like anything else, there's a point of diminishing interest," he declared. "If you could hear Jack Benny five nights a week, you wouldn't be as anxious to tune him in as when he's on the air once a week."

Religious Fight

country of the holy martyrs who are willing to sacrifice everything for the right of God and religious freedom."

The Catholic church has 9 million members in a Czech population of about 13 million.

In a 2,200-word letter to the government, the bishop's demanded the fulfillment of paragraph 17 of the constitution, which says that "everyone shall be free to carry out the acts in connection with any religious denomination."

Church Freedom Restricted

They charged that "not even in countries where the church is not recognized by the state, has the freedom of the church been so restricted as in this coutry."

"We cannot render unto Caesar that which is God's," the statement declared.

The letter noted that the bishops had made a vain appeal to the government for revisions of the laws which gave the government complete control over all church appointments, finances and administrative affairs.

Appeal Brings Rejection

This appeal, the bishops said, had been answered by Communist Prime Minister Antonin Zapotocky with a blunt rejection and with "undisguised threats" to the bishops.

The bishops' warning to the government was signed by all members of the bishops' council, including the nation's primate, Archbishop Josef Beran of Prague, who says he has been interned in his palace here since mid-June.

President Klement Gottwald named his Communist son-in-law, Justice Minister Alexei Cepicka to enforce the new church control laws.

The bishops said they considered it their duty to protest against the laws because they are "against the law of God" which not even the church can change.

Soviet Celebration To Counteract Effect Of Compromise With China

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Moscow is staging one whale of a shindig Dec. 21, on the 70th birthday of Prime Minister Joseph Stalin.

Even if Russia were clearly winning the cold war, which seems far from clear, she could hardly be far enough ahead to justify the great pomp and circumstances Red Square will see on Dec. 21.

The fact is the world of communism itself has reached a stage of painful growing-up. At this adolescent point it can do with a good show to reassure itself. It needs some sign that it's destined to rule the world entirely because Moscow says so.

Power Previously Limited

We have to keep in mind that up until 1945 the world of communism was mostly just a Russian world.

His big problems were Russian problems. His big answers were tested Russian answers like the harsh demand for unswerving obedience to the "throne" at Moscow.

After 1945 Stalin tried to extend this principle of absolute subservience to the eastern European states which communism was absorbing.

In the case of Yugoslavia, Marshal Tito said nothing doing.

Came now one Mao Tze-Tung of China, delviering to communism one fifth of the human race on a silver platter.

Possible Compromise Seen

But if Joe Stalin saw promise in Mao Tze-Tung, he may have seen danger, too. In any case what looks like an historic compromise between Russian and Chinese communism has appeared in the past two weeks. It has been broadcast not once, but no less than four times by the Peiping radio.

The compromise is this:

The gospel according to Stalin will remain the guiding light of the Communist world. But the Chinese patterns(and you can put those two words in italics and underline them) is officially approved as the way for the rest of Asia to go Communist.

Peiping Sets Pace

Now, all this was announced from Peiping and is being repeated by Moscow, not vice-versa. The "liaison bureau" to carry it out will be in Peiping.

Here is possibly the most important Communist policy decision in many years, coming not from Moscow, but from China, at the other end of Eurasia.

The shift is eastward, away from Moscow, and in case any Communist wonders too much about it, the Stalin celebration on Dec. 21 would remind him that no matter what happens Moscow is still the true source of light for the Communist world.

Escaped Prisoner Killed By Patrolman After Wild Chase

RULO, Neb., Dec. 4. (INS)—William Dunkin, 36-year-old escapee from the Nebraska State penitentiary, was shot and killed today by a Kansas State policeman who pursued him across the Nebraska border.

Dunkin had been sought in four states since he was sighted in and around Omaha during the past two days. He was shot by Patrolman Woodrow W. Smith, who had chased him to Rulo from Robinson, Kans.

The fugitive's trail was picked up this morning by Missouri Highway patrolmen when he purchased gasoline for his stolen auto in St. Joseph. They alerted the Kansas officers and Smith sighted him driving near Robinson.

Smith said Dunkin's auto overturned during the high speed chase that followed and the escapee came out of the vehicle shooting. He was killed by the officer's return fire. Two of the convict's bullets entered a nearby farm house but did no harm.

Dunkin, who fled the state institution Thanksgiving eve, was believed to haye stolen the auto in Omaha last night. Police said it was used in a Tabor, Ia., holdup early this morning.

GOP To Be Offered Indian Vote For Pledge To Support Program

EMPORIA, Kans., Dec. 4. (AP)—The Republican party will be offered a bloc of 1,700,000 votes if it pledges support of the program outlined by the League of Nations of Pan-American Indians.

This action was approved at a secret business meeting of the league in its conference here today, W. C. Foster, Emporia, chairman of the league's national legislative committee, reported. Foster said the bloc represents the votes of Indians or persons of Indian descent in the league.

Foster reported also that the league adopted a resolution recommending that William Zimmerman, assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, Washington, be removed from office. The resolution, according to Foster, charged Zimmerman with inefficiency in handling Indian affairs because of antagonism toward the tribes.

The legislative chairman said the leeague consists of representatives from all Indian tribes in the nation.

In Burma, six men in Army uniforms ambushed a truck carrying the wages for a jail staff and got away with $4,800.

U. S. Warned Against Army Of Red Agents

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (INS) — The Congressional Library, in a defense report, warned Saturday that a "disciplined army" of Communist agents is prepared to sabotage the U.S. in event of war with the Soviet Union.

A public affairs bulletin issued by the library cautioned against complacency based on the fact that attempted sabotage by Nazi agents in America at the beginning of World War II ended in failure.

The Library pointed out that the Nazi spies were few, and their techniques and identifications easy compared with the disciplined army of Communists, many of them Americans who may be expected to work against the nation in event of war . . ." The report declared:

"Military leaders believe that an outbreak of war would usher in immediately a very extensive wave of subversive action intended to weaken the nation's will to fight . . ."

The report said that this would take place "by argument, and the spread of destructive rumors, by the efforts of agents infiltrated into the armed forces to undermine their morale . . ." the report cautioned:

"We should not be lulled into a belittling of this danger by the fact that similar efforts were unsuccessful when made by the Nazis in the last war."

S. Arthur Devan, national defense analyst of the library's reference service, prepared the report.

The report asserted that the guided missile is the weapon most likely to cause revolutionary changes in modern warfare, not the atomic bomb.

Parisian cyclist Lionel Brans, who set out a year ago to pedal to Calcutta, India, arrived there recently—and flew home.

Town In Heart Of El Paso Receives Election Setback

EL PASO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Ascarate, the embattled town surrounded by El Paso, received its first setback in two years yesterday when its voters rejected a home rule charter, 532 to 306.

A disincorporation election was set for Dec. 10.

Mayor M. C. Tracy and the city council said they will ask immediate disincorporation and annexation to El Paso.

The town has been a storm center ever since it beat El Paso to the jump by a few hours to block annexation. Three previous disincorporation elections have been defeated.

Mrs. Verstage, 101, of Margate, England, starting over again, had one candle on her birthday cake.

A new clause inserted in Swedish insurance companies' policies reads: "Damage by atomic blasts cannot be indemnified."

British Relief Ship Battles Gales, Ice In Seeking Rescue Of Uranium Hunters

PORT STANLEY, Falkland Islands, Dec. 4 (INS)—A British relief ship battling gales and ice packs has plowed its way nearly 800 of the 1,200 miles to rescue 11 uranium-hunting British scientist marooned for two years in the frozen wastes of the Antarctic.

Reports to Port Stanley in the Falkland islands said Saturday that the 1,200-ton ship John Biscoe reached Deception island in the first stage of the dramatic attempt to get through to Stonnington island in Marguerite bay, inside the Antarctic circle.

Deception is in the South Shetland island.. The expedition of the scientists led by Dr. V. E. Fuchs of Cambridge became more significant recently when President Truman announced that the Russians have exploded an atomic missile.

Results Kept Secret

The results of the trip—whether the scientists have struck the valuable uranium ore yields believed to be in the vast land below South America—naturally will not be made public.

A correspondent aboard the John Biscoe radioed that the ship accompanying the tanker, Gold Ranger, had been running perilously short of water after battling through miles of pack ice and gales by way of Nelson strait.

The first attempt to reach Deception island was through Boyd strait. That was abandoned when the Biscoe got stuck temporarily in the ice 40 miles from Deception.

The Biscoe, led by the tanker groped its way back through the mist and occasional snow. The ships followed the backward trail of red paint scraped from the Biscoe's hull.

Huge ice blocks crunched against the sides of the ships, but thus far without damage.

The John Biscoe is skippered by Commander Kirkwood. It failed last year to get through to the Southern Antarctic base at Stonnington island, off south-west Graham land.

This time the ship carrying 16 men also has two aircraft, a Norseman amphibian and an Auster.

The plan is to fly the amphibian Noresman plane from Deception island, where there is a runway, across 400 miles of ice .o Stonnington and then fly out the 11 stranded scientists in small groups.

The health of the marooned men has been reported good, and their supplies ample. It is hoped to remove all of them by next February.

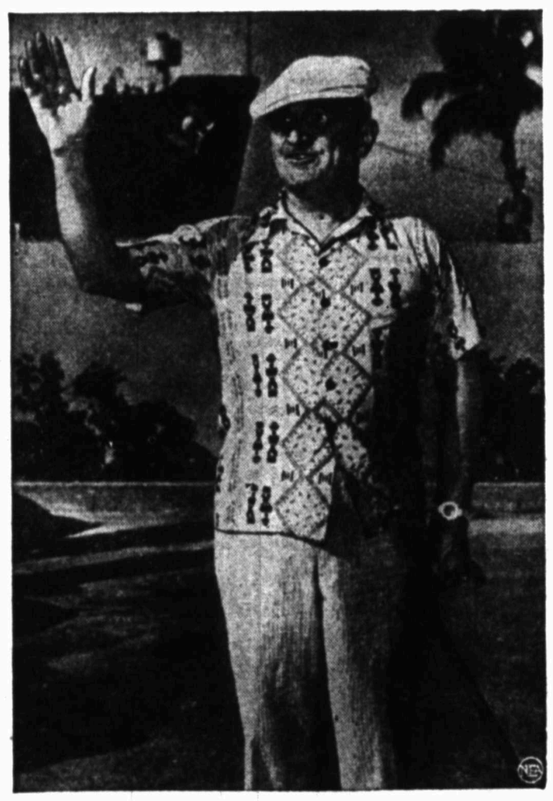

Solon Urges Federal Statute Against Sex Crime Offenders

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—Horrified by "ever-increasing" sex crimes against children, Rep. Chelf (D-Ky) today announced he will try to make it a federal offense to molest a child sexually.

Chelf would turn the FBI loose on offenders and set the penalties in a stiff range of 10 years to death.

Chelf, a member of the House Judiciary committee, said he believed such a statute would be as effective in curbing degenerates who prey on children as the Lindbergh anti-kidnap law has been in controlling kidnapping.

He wants penalties of 10 to 20 years in cases where an attacked child survives, and penalties of death or life imprisonment, as directed by the jury, if the child is slain. He would bar the defense of insanity to persons accused of attacks on children, but allow mental treatment of those convicted and sent to prison.

Cotton Ginning Laboratory To Be Dedicated On Dec. 17

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (INS) — The Agriculture department announced today that dedication ceremonies for the new U. S. cotton ginning laboratory at Las Cruces, N. M., will be held at New Mexico A. and M. college on Dec. 17.

The laboratory will deal with ginning problems of low rainfall and irrigated areas of New Mexico, Arizona, Texas and California.

Prayers Of Irish Orphan To End In Reunion Of Boys

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (INS)—An Irish boy's prayers for an orphaned chum ended happily today with the boys on their way to a reunion as foster sons of two Missouri families.

Charles Robertson of Marshall, Mo., was in a Dublin orphanage until last year when Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin Robertson adopted him and three other children.

Charlie loved his home in the new world but he missed his special pal at the orphanage, James Anthony Markey. Each night in his new home, Charlie would say a special prayer for "Tony."

Friends of the Robertsons, Mr. and Mrs. W. King Prior, who lived in nearby Jefferson City, heard about Tony. They were childless, wanted to adopt a boy, so —

Today Tony arrived by plane from Ireland to be greeted by his new parents. His new "Mum" was ecstatic.

"He is a typical Irish boy with freckles and everything," she said. "Doesn't he have wonderful Irish blue eyes."

The boys will be reunited for Christmas.

Teen-Age Fanatics Attack Top Briton

SINGAPORE, Dec. 4. (INS) — Duncan G. Stewart, British governor of diamond-rich Sarawak, was seriously wounded in the abdomen Saturday by two dagger-wielding, 'teen-age fanatics and flown to a Singapore hospital tonight in an attempt to save his life.

Police announced they arrested the would-be assasins, who were identified as opponents of British rule, after the attack in Sibu, in central Sarawak, Borneo.

Stewart was given several blood transfusions aboard the RAF flying boat which brought him out of Sarawak.

The doctor accompanying him reported on their arrival that Stewart was "cheerful" and had taken the trip well.

British Notify Wife

(In London, the British colonial office informed Stewart's wife of the attack and arranged to fly her to his side Monday.)

The would-be assassins used daggers in the attempt to kill Stewart. Police identified the pair who were seized as members of a nationalist organization opposed to the cession of Sarawak to Britain. Both were said to be 16 years old.

The attack occurred as Stewart walked toward the government offices in Sibu, in central Sarawak, during his first visit to the town. His assailants broke through the crowd and plunged their weapons into his abdomen before police could stop them.

Area Ceded To Britain

Sarawak was ceded to Britain in February, 1946, by Sir Charles Vyner, the "white rajah," a descendant of Sir James Brooke.

Sir James obtained Sarawak, a rich storehouse of gold and oil as well as diamond deposits and rubber resources, from the sultan of Brunei in 1841.

Under an agreement of 1888 Sarawak was recognized as an independent state under Britain's protection, until the 1946 cession. The cession to Britain was approved by the Borneo parliament on May 17, 1946 by the close vote of 18 to 16.

Farm States' Votes At Stake

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP) — Republicans are banking heavily on the Brannan plan to split the Democrats and help bring them 1950 victories in the farm states, Senator Young (R-ND) said today.

Young, runing for reelection to the Senate, told a reporter he is going to make the farm subsidy payment plan worked out by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan a major issue in his campaign.

"In this fight, we've got the Farm Bureau federation and the national grange on our side and we're going to make it a hot fight," he declared.

HST Backing Seen

The Brannan plan, snubbed by Congress in the last session, calls for payments to farmers if necessary to keep their incomes up while permitting certain perishable products to find their own market level.

There is speculation whether President Truman wil propose this plan in his state of the union message to Congress in January. He has endorsed it in public speeches and the party organiaztion has made every effort to bring it out as an issue in the congressional campaigns.

But Democrats are by no means unanimous in their support of the plan.

A Democratic senator from a farm state, who didn't want to be quoted by name, told a reporter he thinks the plan is gaining in favor among farmers in the middle west. But he fears that if it is pushed by the administration as a campaign issue it will split the Democrats in pivotal farm states.

He noted that the Brannan plan wasn't even mentioned by Senator Anderson (D-NM) in a recent important farm speech in Des Moines.

Anderson, former secretary of agriculture who heads the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, defended the compromise farm price suport bill passed by the last session of congress.

It's not much of a secret that Anderson and Brannan don't agree on price support systems. Most of Anderson's Senate colleagues go along with his views, including Senate Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois.

Scurry Oil Activity Continues Fast Pace

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Winston, wildcat one and one half miles east and one-quarter of a mile north of the initial producer from the Canyon lime reef in the Kelley field of Central Scurry county, appears to have discovered production from a lower Pennsylvanian lime, possibly the lower Strawn.

This venture is bottomed at 7,491 feet in a lime and is reported to be preparing to make production tests to try to complete.

Livermore No. 1 Winston topped the indicated producing zone at 7,400 feet and showed good signs of oil and gas in a drillstem test at 7,400-32 feet.

The tool was open one and one-half hours. There was a blow of air and gas at the surface for most of the period.

Recovery was 480 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, and 90 feet of heavily gas cut drilling mud, which was slightly cut with oil.

The venture drilled on down and continued to log signs of oil and gas in samples all the way to the current total depth of 7,491 feet.

The latest drillstem test was at 7,461-91 feet. The tool was open two hours and 30 minutes. Recovery was 2,000 feet of 43-gravity oil. The bottom 240 feet was slightly cut with drilling mud. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 150 and 300 pounds.

Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 950 pounds.

The development is 636 feet from south and 686 feet from east lines of the south half of tract 69, section 11, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

EXPLORATION PLANNED ON KELLEY FIELD EXTENSION

D. W. George and S. V. Guerin have planned a 7,000-foot exploration on the northwest extension to the Kelley field of central Scurry county.

The venture, No. 1 P. A. Wilkirson, will be 467 feet from south and west lines of a 60 acre lease in the northwest quarter of section 248, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it one location northeast of Newman Brothers and associates No. 1 Boren, which was recently completed as a northwest extension to the Kelly field.

The drillsite is four and one-half miles west of Snyder.

On the northeast side of the field Nelson Bunker Hunt has staked location for his No. 2 W. J. Coonrad.

No. 2 Coonrad will be 467 feet from south and west lines of section 251, block 97, H&TC survey.

That makes it three and one-half miles west of Snyder.

On the southeast side of the northeast extension to the Kelley field, William Hamm, jr., has planned his No. 2 J. A. Joyce. It will be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 16, block 1,

Christmas Buying May Reach Near All Time High

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP) —Christmas shoppers, now commencing to crowd the stores, are likely to spend almost as much as in record-making 1948—and get more goods for their money.

Checks with a number of government economists indicated today that concensus view. It is backed with arguments that:

1. Consumer income, the mainspring of retail sales, has been running only about two per cent under 1948's record high at an annual rate around $195,000,000,000.

Retail Sales Up

2. Overall retail sales averaged around $10,445,000,000 a month in the first 10 shopping months of 1949 and held within two per cent of last year's comparable period.

3. Prices are about three per cent lower than last year, in a general sort of way, so that the chances are that buyers are getting a slightly greater quantity of goods for their total outlay.

Some economists said this year's buying would get a boost from the $2,800,000,000 in refunds on GI insurance policies although refund checks won't start going out

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Solon

CHICAGO, Dec. 4. (INS)—Rep Martin Gorski (D-Ill), died today after collapsing from a heart attack in the kitchen of his sister's home at Chicago.

Gorski, who was 63, represented the Fifth Illinois congressional district which he had served continuously since election to the House of Representatives in 1942.

Complained Of Indigestion

The congressman's sister, Mrs. Clara Pronski, said he had spent the night at her home and complained of indigestion and chest pains this morning. He collapsed shortly after swallowing a spoonful of stomach medicine.

Mrs. Pronski said she had advised her brother to call a physician but that he refused to do so. She said he never had suffered a heart attack before.

Was Polish Immigrant

Rep. Gorski, a Polish immigrant who was brought to this country at the age of three, was educated in Chicago schools and admitted to the bar after receiving a degree from the Chicago law school in 1917.

Prior to his election to Congress, the Illinois lawyer was assistant state's attorney from 1918 to 1920. He later served as master in chancery to the Cook county superior court from 1929 to 1942.

During the seven years he served in the House of Representatives, Rep. Gorski was considered a friend of labor and his voting record indicated he favored most of the administration policies.

The congressman was a bachelor and lived on Chicago's south side.

New Courthouse Dispute Is Reported Shaping Up In Lamb

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lamb county may soon be embroiled in another election to change the county seat—this time from Littlefield to Amherst—if rumors circulating at Amherst prove correct.

While the suggestion is still in the rumor stage, The Sudan News indicates that something may come of it.

Olton once served as county seat of Lamb, but it was changed to Littlefield, and now Amherst seems to think they have a chance of getting the center of county government located there.

Here is the account as published in The Sudan News:

"And it wouldn't happen again in a hundred years—that is the theory of some progresive Amherst business leaders who, according to rumor, are preparing petitions this week asking that the voters of Lamb county go ahead and vote half-million in bonds for a new courthouse and jail building, but instead of building it at Littlefield, to change the location and name Amherst as the new seat of the county.

"Those involved in the movement point out that Amherst is located exactly in the center of the county and with some feeling of resentment still existing at Olton they feel they would get the votes from there.

"Earth, located in the back door of the town of Amherst, would surely turn in a good vote for the proposition, and the key to the situation of course would lie with the people of Sudan, who, many say, are not too happy at the present time with our neighbor and could posibly swing the difference in favor of Amherst."

Winding up the comment, Editor Preston Hawks, writes:

"Anyway, as a newcomer, it will be interesting to watch and see what happens."

"No other silence is related to the hush that fills a chruch like lead when the pews are no longer empty and the casket's arrival is pending. Awe, terror and grief press their faces to the windows of the soul and time beats slowly on the heart's muffled drums."

FOR THE WTCC:

A New Deal Needed

THOSE few South Plainsmen who have had reason in the past dozen years to pay any attention at all to the floundering, ineffectual West Texas Chamber of Commerce were not surprised last week to note reports in the papers that one staff member of that organization had been summarily discharged and another had offered his resignation in protest.

L. A. Wilke was the staff member discharged. Max Bentley was the one who resigned in protest over what he charged was unfair treatment to Wilke. Wilke, a former newspapermen and chamber of commerce manager at Sweetwater, has been with the WTCC for the past several years as its service director. Bentley, also a former newspaperman, has been one of the organization's most highly valued paid executives for the past dozen years. Prior to that, he was for another dozen years one of its principal and most productive volunteer workers and supporters.

It is no secret among West Texas Chamber of Commerce directors and officials of the past 10 years, and of the present, that the organization has been held in little respect by either its membership or the general public of the area it is presumed to represent. Its once tremendous influence in, and contribution to, better living in West Texas has dwindled to practically nothing. Within the past year what amounted to an outright revolt broke against it in the Panhandle section.

In short, the WTCC, under its present general manager, D. A. Bandeen, is a hollow shell of what it used to be and of what it ought to be. The internal troubles, climaxed by the discharge of Wilke and the resignation of Bentley, now have brought the whole, unhappy situation squarely before the public.

Regardless of whether, as Manager Bandeen put it, "Wilke doesn't fit into our plans," and regardless of whether members of the executive board will permit able Max Bentley to leave the organization, the flare-up has served a very good purpose. It has spotlighted the weakness of the WTCC, its lack of acceptable leadership in its professional ranks and the need—long felt by many who have worked within the organization in the past—for a new executive head.

In short, the WTCC can't be made into a vital, worthwhile, sectional organization merely by dropping one staffer and permitting another to resign.

The place to start rebuilding and revitalizing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is not in the lower echelons. It is at the top, with General Manager Bandeen, himself. If President Jim Willson, sr., of Floydada, and the members of his Executive board don't already know that, a survey of their organization's directors, past directors and members might prove it to them.

Worth The Cost

THE reconstruction and renovation of the White House has been started at last at a cost estimated at $5,400,000 and with 660 days allowed for its completion. The probabilities are—judging from most other governmental construction jobs—that the cost will run considerably higher than estimates before it is finished.

It is pretty generally agreed that a better Presidential mansion could be built at smaller cost by tearing down the present White House and starting from scratch. This has been suggested numerous times, invariably causing so many protests of such vigor that the proposal has been dropped instantly.

Americans have demonstrated beyond question that they have a sentimental reverence for the White House which is beyond the possibility of evaluation in dollars. It is a place beyond price and, it is to be hoped, always will be. America and Americans would not be the same if they ever should allow the historic structure to be razed because no building, no matter how fine and costly, ever could take its place. Keeping it in repair may be costly—but it is now, and always should be, worth whatever it may cost.

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Charlie Reddy, a young lawyer assisting Chief Peters' investigation of the Murder of Martin Falter, has called upon Stephanie Smith, employed by Hagar Blair who collects cameos and runs a gift shop. Reddy wants to find out about a missing cameo, which Falter was trying to sell and which Nell O'Neill, another suspect, claimed to own. Stephanie had earlier revealed to Hagar that she was Nell's niece and that Nell stole the cameo from her mother after it was sent to America by her father who was executed during the Russian revolution. Stephanie describes the cameo to Reddy, who does not know that someone placed the missing cameo in Hagar's collection and that it is now in Stephanie's possession.)

XIX

STEPHANIE made a little sketch of the cameo. Standing at her shoulder, Charlie Reddy let his eyes rest on the smooth shining wing of hair which fell forward across her cheek.

"You see," she pointed with the pencil, "the carnelian itself is carved with the figure of a weeping woman. Around the stone is a narrow gold frame set with tiny diamonds. This frame has what you might call a super-frame extending into little points, like a crown, and on top of each point is a small pearl."

He was noticing how blue her eyes were. "Those diamonds—in the pin, I mean—are they what make it valuable? Or the pearls maybe?"

"It's valuable because of what it is, because of what it represents. It has a history like something out of a story book. The locket was made for Isabella d'Este in the 15th century—"

"Did you say 'locket'? I thought it was a pin."

Her eyes averted, she spoke slowly: "Hagar and I have reason to believe it is a locket."

"Either it is a locket or it isn't. If it is, it opens, and usually reveals family photographs or a lock of someone's hair."

"But it won't open. Not unless you know how. And we can't—that is, we haven't had a chance to find out how."

Reddy's gray eyes searched her face. "I understood that you and Miss Blair only saw the cameo twice."

"But we looked at it very close the day Arnold Pfeiffer brought it here."

"Look, Stephanie Smith, how about breaking down and letting me be your friend—I have a hunch you could use one. I guarantee you can trust me with whatever's on your mind." He came toward her.

She backed away from him. He looked with surprise at the tears in her eyes.

"No," she said shakily, "no. I can't trust you! You're investigating this—this mess, aren't you? You're part of the police department, you're not interested in me except as a source of information." Her blue eyes flashed fire: "I'm not giving you any! I wouldn't, even if I could."

He shrugged, sighing. "Believe it or not, but I am interested in you! And as a person, not as a principal in this case. And I think we could be good friends. But, until this thing is all cleared up, we apparently haven't got a chance of establishing a personal rapport."

Her eyes locked with his. His grin returned and he released her: "Because you're one of the suspects," he said lightly, "it wouldn't be ethical for me to invite you out to dinner so we'll just put that in the Happy Anticipation department. But nothing in the books says I can't drive you home. Isn't it about closing time?"

STEPHANIE gave him a relieved smile. "It is," she agreed, "and I'd love a ride home." She moved around the shop, turning out lights, adjusting blinds. "I can't imagine what happened to Hagar. She said she'd be back around 4. Maybe she went directly to the house."

They locked the shop door behind them. Neither of them looked back. They did not see the black convertible which crept up in front of the shop and swung into the side driveway.

When they reached the house, Stephanie accepted Charlie's hand as she climbed from the car. She turned a grave face toward the dark house:

"I'm worried. I wonder if Hagar could have had an accident. She drives that little car of hers at top speed all the time."

"Tell you what," Reddy said, "why don't I come in and wait with you for a while. If she doesn't come back, we can drive around and hunt her up."

Stephanie nodded. "Come in then. I'll make a sandwich and some tea. Or, there's beer, if you'd like that."

• • •

HE walked toward the kitchen. "Look Stephanie Smith, this is after-hours, let's use first names. Mine's Charlie." He stopped in the doorway. "What's so interesting out the back window?"

Without turning, she said: "There's a light on in Hagar's studio. I was trying to see if she's walking around in there."

She leaned closer to the window screen: "Hagar!" she called, "Hagar, are you working?"

They listened. There was no sound except the rustle of the wind in the tall palm trees.

She unlocked the back door and switched on the outside light. They picked their way silently acros the damp grass. They found the door to the studio standing slightly ajar. Stephanie pushed it open gingerly. He followed her in and they looked about them in the cluttered studio.

Stephanie shook her head in puzzled fashion: "She never leaves this door unlocked, or the light on. Most of her cameos are in that case over in the corner—they're quite valuable, too. She always is careful about protecting them. See those bars across the windows? And that big window has a burglar alarm on the sill."

OFFICIAL SAYS OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

Reds Losing In West Germany

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Max Brauer, former American citizen now mayor of Hamburg, says Communism in Germany has dropped to its lowest level of popularity and success in 30 years. Brauer, who fled from Nazism to the United States following Hitler's rise to power, declares in the following signed article that Western Germany is today "immune to totalitarianism" as a result of its experience with the Nazis and the Communists.

The mayor, who returned to Germany in 1946 to study trade-union possibilities for the AFL and was persuaded to remain and "fight Communism on the front line," plans to spend some time with his son's family, American citizens, at Yonkers, N. Y. Herewith he describes the state of affairs in Germany.)

By MAX BRAUER
(Mayor of Hamburg, Germany, Written exclusively for INS)

CHICAGO, Dec. 4 — When I went back to Germany in 1946, they told me I was a fool.

My fellow-Germans thought America was a paradise of milk and happiness, and here I was returning to Europe—above all to demoralized Germany.

But if I had to fight for democracy, I had to do it in the trench, looking toward the Nazi past and the Soviet present.

That "Soviet present" in Western Germany is now of the past.

Communism Losing Force

Communism has never been on such a low level of popularity and success in the past thirty years!

Not more than 50,000 voters, among the 1,500,000 in Hamburg, voted for Communists in last month's election. Also, in the Ruhr, communists took striking losses in the last polling. We in Western Germany do not think nervously of Communism now.

In 1946, I was optimistic that such a turn of events could come about, but my friends called me a "funny bird"—under the conditions which then existed.

But then currency reform, better food and the Marshall plan came and the effects were wondrous. In a few weeks only, the black market was entirely gone, the demoralization had ended, life conditions were enormously better, and the output of labor and production grew immediately.

Mortality Rate Drops

In 1945, the baby mortality rate was 22.5 per cent. Four years later, it is only 4.9 per cent in Hamburg—and that is a lower percentage than the last pre-war Nazi year of 1938.

This happened, not only because of international aid, but because we Germans had a strong will and desire for self-aid.

Today, Western Germany is immune against totalitarianism because we have experienced loss of freedom, and we have seen our friends and kin in the East zone subject to Soviet totalitarianism.

We Western Germans are lon-

U.S. FILMS MAY HELP

Iron Curtain Break

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Hollywood ought to confer an honorary Oscar on Marshal Tito for the assist which the Yugoslavian dictator gave Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, in breaking the Kremlin's blockade against the showing of our movies inside Russia.

On November 25, more than a year after Mr. Johnston first discussed the proposition with Stalin, two representatives of the Motion Picture Association were given visas to enter Moscow and nail down the deal with the Soviet's Minister of Cinematography.

TUCKER

They were Irving Maas, general manager of the Johnston export corporation, whose main offices are in New York City, and Louis Kanturek, Central European manager, who headquarters in Prague.

TIE: But it is generally understood that the welcome accorded Hollywood's productions in Yugoslavia, where they have been shown at Marshal Tito's personal direction, is partially responsible for the Moscow surrender—a surrender which may nullify Russian propaganda to the effect that living conditions under Communism are infinitely superior to western standards of society.

Provided the year-old deal is consummated, and the only obstacle now appears to be the price for our pictures, movies will become almost the only tie between western and "iron countries."

Ordinary business men are now barred from communized areas. Western diplomats are guarded closely, as are newspaper correspondents. Foreign newspapers and magazines are kept out of the people's hands. The scarcity of radios and official jamming prevents the State Department's "Voice of America" from effective distribution of American propaganda.

As a result, our most effective representatives at Moscow are likely to be the Bing Crosbys, Cary Grants and Shirley Temples.

PRICE: It was more than a year ago that Mr. Johnston and his assistant, Joyce O'Hara, negotiated a preliminary agreement with Stalin's Minister of Cinematography under which Hollywood would ship 100 pictures to Moscow for selection of those which would be shown in that country.

When nothing more was heard of the arrangement, Mr. Kanturek visited Moscow early this summer. Early last month, to his surprise, Mr. Johnston received a letter from the Moscow movie bureau, saying that they would like to talk prices with his representatives. That led to the recent Maas-Kanturek mission.

After talking with Stalin, however, Mr. Johnston made a trip to Belgrade to see Tito. The marshal had broken only recently with Stalin, and Yugo underlings were not certain whether the split was strategy or a sure thing.

DEMAND: So, at first the Minister of Cinematography refused to talk business with Messrs. Johnston and O'Hara. But when Tito learned of the proposal, he overruled his subordinate. The demand for American movies is so great that natives buy tickets to overcrowded theaters on the black market, and the state-owned houses derive a tremendous revenue.

Since then, other "iron curtain" countries such as Poland and Czechoslavakia, have succumbed. Russian soldiers in occupied territory are enthusiastic theatergoers. Thus it may be that the Kremlin seeks to enrich the drab lives of its people by giving them a glimpse of the United States as portrayed by Hollywood.

It is probable,, though, that Stalin's propagandists will warn the Russians that life in America is really not like that, and that Hollywood is actually a propaganda annex of the Department of States.

AMERICA: The Russians have not yet made their selections of the 100 films already shipped, and it will be an interesting sidelight on Kremlin psychology to learn which they consider appropriate for Communist audiences.

According to the Johnston office, the pictures constitute "good American." They include such productions as "Mark Twain," "Madame Curie," "Going My Way," "State Fair," Walt Disney's cartoons and "Wintertime," a skating fantasy starring Sonja Henie.

"We didn't send any 'Grapes of Wrath' stuff!", explained Mr. Johnston.

REACTIONS: Actually, a showing of "Grapes of Wrath" in Belgrade produced the reverse of the expected reactions among the startled natives.

Instead of pitying the plight of the "poor Oakies," the audiences was amazed that the supposedly unfortunate owned jalopies, and, furthermore, that they could pick up and move freely from one section of the United States to another. To them the wretched of Steinbeck's epic were an enviable breed.

And when a newsreel of police roughhandling a mob of strikers in Detroit was thrown on the screen, the Yugoslavians were not excited over the alleged brutality of the cops.

They envied the prostrate victims because they wore shoes!

There may be another practical difficulty in exhibiting "Mark Twain" and "Madame Curie" in Moscow. Although the Kremlin does not claim to have "invented" the Mississippi River balladist and humorist, Stalin does insist that Russian scientists first discovered radium.

There seems to be an explanation for almost anything, except why a laundry puts three times too much starch in a white shirt.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, Dec. 5, 1929.)

Hundreds of Lubbock citizens are expected to pass through the open doors tonight to view the new home of the Citizens National bank, corner of Broadway and Texas Ave., when formal opening of the institution in its newly reconstructed building will be held.

With its slogan, "Lubbock County's Oldest Banking Institution," and with 23 years of service to the banking public behind, the bank can well afford to be proud of the progress it has made in the South Plains capital.

The institution has 18 officers and employees, including:

Sam C. Arnett, chairman of the board; France Baker, president; W. O. Stevens, vice president; C. F. Drexel, vice president and cashier; W. L. Ellwood, vice president; John Dalrymple, vice president; Paul Hardwick, assistant cashier; F. W. Groce, assistant cashier; S. G. Wilson, assistant cashier; Ruth Ford, assistant cashier; Ralph Bedford and Ray West, tellers; Jack Payne, A. G. Adams, Grace Stanley, and Blanche Burson, bookkeepers; Betty Joe Rush, stenographer; and L. B. Wright, collector.

Sam C. Arnett, France Baker, W. O. Stevens, C. F. Drexel, W. L. Ellwood, John Dalrymple, George R. Bean, E. L. Klett, Joe Boyd and S. G. Wilson compose the board of directors.

Believe It Or Not -

POLITICAL NOTE IS SOUNDED

'Ike's' Latest Talk Under Fire

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — General Dwight Eisenhower is talking more and more like a candidate for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination.

Lots of folks in the Republican party are looking for just what he offers—a military hero with an engaging and warm personality who has no previous political record at which to shoot and is tied up with none of the factions within the Republican party. In short, he is a man without a past, politically speaking.

STOKES

As suggested in his most recent speech, Ike's platform is attractively broad and sentimental—back to the virtues of thrift and independence and "the simplicity of our early days." In this oratorical effort he made the most direct attack thus far on the Truman administration and its social welfare philosophy when he declared at a dinner of the St. Andrews society of New York, a Scottish organization:

Spending Program Scored

"We recognize the degree of change when we come to see that the definition of a liberal has become a man in Washington who wants to play the Almighty with our money."

Here, obviously, he strikes an increasingly appealing note. Then he got caught up in his own flights of rhetoric by adding:

"We seek the illusion called security. We think too much of luxuries. We want to wear fine shirts, have caviar and champagne when we should be eating hot dogs and beer."

THE Spartan appeal.

It just happens in this case to be most parts fancy, but is perhaps pardonable hyperbole under the rule of political license.

The search for security is correct. It's real and comes from sad human experience. It may be illusory, of course. And there is, it is true, a natural and normal desire in most American families to enjoy a few luxuries. A large part of our mass-production business and industrial system depends upon that and encourages it—though it might be conceded that the advertising designed to lure us on is sometimes a little thick. Advertising, however, is a big business and hires a lot of people. All of this is what we call "the American free enterprise system."

The makers of fine shirts and the purveyors of champagne and caviar probably won't mind the general's remarks. Their business is a specialty for comparatively few and won't be hurt. He ought to get handsome support from the hot dog and beer people who are far more numerous.

The General probably didn't see the recent report of the Sparkman subcommittee of the Joint Congressional Economic committee which revealed that about one-third of the families of the country have incomes of $2,000 or less. They don't buy many fine shirts or eat much caviar or drink much champagne, nor do most people in income groups above them.

Not Wastrel Nation

As for thrift—the Treasury's savings bonds department, savings banks and life insurance companies might have a story here that also would be interesting to the General and might show that we're not yet a nation of wastrels and spendthrifts. In the traditional American way we are, of course, constantly caught between the tug of those who would sell us their wares and those who would have us save.

The "good old days" always have their nostalgic appeal. But we are no longer the agricultural nation with a rural handicraft industry of the "log cabin and hard cider" campaign days. We are a nation of great factories in which millions perform their allotted tasks at machines. It is a complex system, no longer simple, and it requires some concern about the individual so he won't be crushed in it, some protections not formerly necessary, some security, if you please.

IT IS, too, the greatest productive system in the world. The general should know that better than anyone else from the way it supplied his needs during the war. He praised that effort of a free people. He should know, too, that the boys who fought under him showed the old virtues of their forefathers in other wars, despite their liking for an occasional fine shirt, or a taste of champagne. They don't go much for caviar.

They were representative of our home and families. We haven't changed much in five years.

The General is talking a bit through his hat. Maybe he is running for something.

Greece's guerillas are on the run.

"HOUSE OF GIFTS" — A wide variety of Christmas gifts are available at Radio Lab, 1501 Ave. Q, and wise Santas of Lubbock will drop by soon to make their selections while stocks are complete. The sales staff at Radio Lab suggests an R.C.A. Victor radio or radio-phonograph as a perfect gift for the family or home. Another suggestion is a new International Harvester refrigerator, which is sure to delight any housewife and glamorize any kitchen. A complete stock of small electrical appliances also are available for your selection.

Radio Lab Has Wide Selection Of Gifts

Lubbock Santa Clauses, take note:

Stocks of radios, refrigerators, and electrical appliances are still complete at Radio Lab, 1501 Ave. Q. You're almost certain to find the answer to your gift problems there.

For a gift for the family, Radio Lab suggests an R.C.A. Victor home radio. There's a wide selection of R.C.A. Victor models, ranging from portable sets to the most deluxe radio-phonograph combinations, available at Radio Lab. All models, large or small, have that wonderful tone and clear reception for which R.C.A. Victor radios are famous.

Or, if the family already has a radio, the sales staff at Radio Lab suggests an International Harvester refrigerator — a gift that will be warmly received.

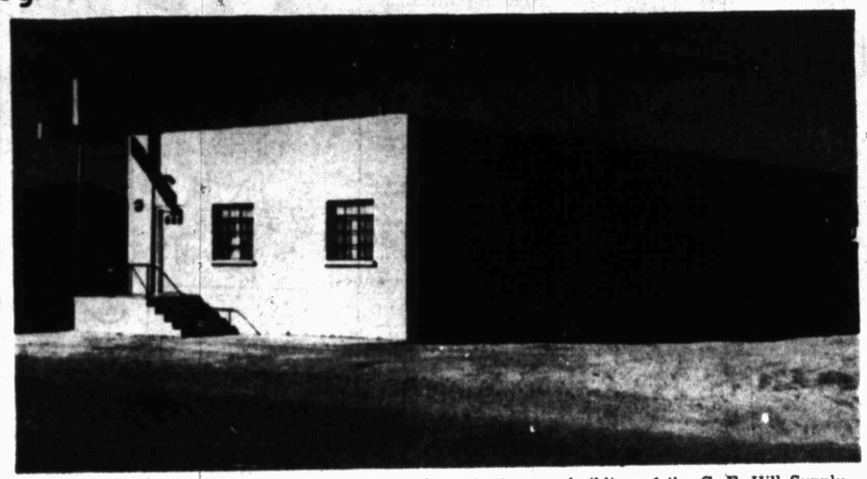

Made by the manufacturers of the famous International Harvester freezers and farm equipment, the I-H refrigerator is precision engineered for economy and long years of satisfactory performance. Several models and sizes are available.

And best of all, there's sure to be a model to suit both your budget and space requirements.

A wide variety of small electrical appliances are available at Radio Lab for gifts to relatives, friends and business associates. All are nationally-known brands and will give years of satisfactory service. All are modestly priced.

Since space prohibits naming all the gifts now available at Radio Lab, wise Santas will make a beeline to see all the items on display in the firm's showroom at the corner of Fifteenth and Ave. Q.

And since there's no parking meters there to bother with, Radio Lab invites you to brouse among the gifts as long as you wish.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

In the North Snyder field J. J. Nolan No. 3 Musgrove made a 24-hour calculated potential of 816.96 barrels of oil, flowing natural through a 20/64th inch tubing choke from pay between 6,657 feet and total depth at 6,800 feet. Pay was topped at 6,658 feet.

Gravity of the oil was 42.7 degrees, and the gas-oil ratio was 869-1.

No. 3 Musgrove is 467 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 21, block 1, J. P. Smith survay.

EXPLORATION TO SET STRING OF CASING

Sun Oil company, No. 2 Lemons, central-west Scurry county exploration which has indicated the possible discovery of production from a lover lime zone in the Pennslyvanian, after being low and dry in the Canyon reef, is preparing to set a string of 7-inch casing at 7,665 feet to test the 15 feet of section between that point and the total depth at 7,680 feet.

Located 853 feet from south and 1,787 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey, No. 2 Lemons is about five miles south and west of Snyder and is on the southwest side of the northwest sector of the Kelley-Canyon field.

It had its show for production in a drillstem test at 7,668-80 feet. The tool was open for one hour. Gas showed at the surface in 17 minutes. Recovery was 1,350 feet of clean oil, and no water.

The oil fill up during the drillstem test was calculated to be at the rate of 18 barrels per hour. The oil clean, high-gravity, dark petroleum. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 390 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 3,200 pounds.

STANDARD OIL STAKES LOCATION FOR STEPOUT

Standard Oil company has staked location for its No. 15-1 Mrs. J. W. Brown as a stepout to production from the Canyon reef on the northeast side of the North Snyder field of north central Scurry county.

No. 15-1 Brown will be 680 feet from south and 1,920 feet from east lines of section 496, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it 12 miles north of Snyder.

Standard also staked location for two other projects in the North Snyder field, both of which are to drill to 7,000 feet.

Standard No. 10-5 J. W. Brown will be located 680 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of the north half of section 450, block 97, H&TC survey.

The other exploration, No. 4-4 J. W. Brown will be 467 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 441, block 97, H&TC survey.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 3 L. N. Periman will be a new venture on the northwest side of the field, to drill to 7,000 feet.

No. 3 Periman will be 1,960 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 438, block 97, H&TC survey.

SCURRY WILDCAT CONTINUES DRILLING

M. E. Davis No. 1 Schattell, north-central Scurry County wildcat, five miles northeast of Snyder, and five miles southeast of the closest completed producers on the southeast side of the North Snyder-Canyon field, had reached 7,318 feet in black shale and was drilling deeper.

It has not found the Canyon reef or the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian. It has penetrated a few thin lime stringers but none of them have been the lime that the venture is looking for.

Elevation is 2,459 feet. At the present depth of 7,318 feet it has reached 4,862 feet below sea level.

The exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 90, block 2, H&TC survey. It may be continued until it reaches and tests the Ellenburger.

TERRY WILDCAT HITS PINK, WHITE LIMESTONE

Tide Water Associated Oil company No. 1 Nystel, southeast Terry county deep wildcat was drilling ahead below 11,500 feet in pink and white limestone, after logging a change in formations at 11,475 feet.

That point was picked from samples to be the base of the Woodford shale. Elevation is 3,171 feet.

Interested observers say that the current pink and white rock is either the Devonian or the Fusselman. Geologists have not decided the age of the section.

This exploration is 14 miles south and east of Brownfield, four miles east of the Adair-San Andres field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey.

This wildcat was originally started to go to the Ellenburger. It found a thin streak of lime on the Pennsylvanian which developed a little free oil, but it encountered water under that streak and it does not appear that there is much chance of making an oil well from that zone.

Credit Terms Are Easier

Installment credit terms, easier now than a year ago, when they were still under controls, were another factor seen as supporting 1949 sales, particularly when demand has been strong for such big-cost items as autos and television sets, both standard time-payment items.

Rated as another buoy to sales, particularly in the luxury goods lines which have had harder going this year than last, was availability of many imported goods at lower prices, due largely to the foreign currency devaluations of last September.

The record total of retail sales set last year was $130,042,000,000 by department calculations, and a fairly common forecast by economists was that this year will be "almost as much — but not quite."

Economists said one of the more important developments this year has been the increasing proportion of the retail sales dollar going for "hard goods" — household furnishings and appliances along with autos and a declining proportion going for clothing and other "soft goods."

Gin Smoke Complaint

Knowing that people always fuss at the Mayor, Editor E. A. Warren of The Post Dispatch, asked Mayor John Herd of Post what people are fussing about these days.

"And I could hardly believe what he told me. He said that several people have registered complaints about the gin smoke in town and wanted to know if the city couldn't do something about it.

"This amazed me," Warren wrote. "There's hardly a person in town whose livelihood isn't indirectly—if not directly—dependent on cotton and how anybody could object to smelling this money being made is more than I am capable of comprehending.

"Personally, this smoke smells wonderful to me. I wish there were enough cotton grown here to keep the one gin in Post blowing smoke in my nostrils the year around."

Editorial "We" Explained

Why does a newspaper editor call himself "we".

W. H. Curry, editor of The Crosbyton Review, wrote this by way of explanation:

"'We' notice where a writer wants to know why editors refer to themselves as 'we.' 'We' don't know but two other men who have that right—a king and a man with a tapeworm. 'We' surmise that away back yonder when the editor was always getting beat up by mad subscribers, the editor started calling himself 'we' in his paper in self defense."

Three Persons Killed In Auto, Truck Collision In New Mexico

LAS CRUCES, N.M., Dec. 4.— Two Mexican nationals and a New Mexico man were killed today in an auto-truck collision on U.S. 85 near Hatch.

Dead are Adrian J. Gonzales, 33, Garfield, N.M., Jose Trinidad Dorado, 37, and Augustine Flores, both of Zacatecas, Mexico

The collision involved a Kansas-Arizona express truck and Gonzales' auto. Jesus C. Dias and Ferrando Flores, riding with Gonzales, were taken seriously injured to an El Paso, Tex., hospital.

The driver of the truck, identified by state police as Virgil Myers of Holton, Kans., was absolved.

UN Government Plan Is Scored

DENVER, Dec. 4. (INS)—Clyde A. Lewis of Plattsburg, N. Y., commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, lashed out against a world government "which would take from the American people one iota of their sovereignty."

Speaking at a dinner commemorating the founding of the VFW in Denver 50 years ago, Lewis said the United Nations is "capable of dealing with world problems and maintaining peace."

UN Plan Sketched

He referred specifically to a proposal in Congress to amend section 109 of the United Nations charter to make the UN a world government, and charged that advocates of the plan contemplate a world government in which a nation joining "would forfeit the right of succesion."

He pointed out that such a world government would have power to levy and collect taxes over and above those paid to the United States government.

The VFW chief said any world government might "well be a Communist-dominated government."

Voices Bitter Opposition

He said:

"VFW members fought in two world wars to preserve free, democratic government and to safeguard the dignity of all peoples who cherish freedom and self-government. Through a resolution adopted unanimously at our national convention in Miami last summer, we have served notice that we will use every resource at our command to combat any adherence to any form of world government."

Lewis made a special plea for understanding among the peoples of the world, and added that by understanding, "there would be no need for world government."

Refugees Fear Reds

Thousands of Eastern German citizens are fleeing the oppression in the east zone. I have seen Eastern German refugees, desperate, wan, full of fear—being shipped to Russian slavery. Everybody who doesn't work, think or speak the official Red doctrine has to expect banishment from his country.

Nobody is allowed even to criticize. They cannot even read a western zone newspaper!

Our prices and taxes are very high. Higher production is just beginning to lower them slightly, but currency reform took away our working capital and there is a terrible need for new capital to finance the rebuilding of industries and destroyed cities.

There is even lack of capital to finance new German shipbuilding which of course we in a great port city think is most vitally important.

The new ideals of the German youth should not be armed ideals, but the ideals of mental rehabilitation and open minded service. German people have played too much with arms, and now they are ready to lay them down.

I see Germany's future as successful and hopeful if the European continent will learn to stick together and to act like a reasonable unit, with Germany as a working part.

Doctors To Study Latest Medical 'Miracles' At Washington Meeting

By GLENN M. GREEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.— More than 5,000 family physicians will assemble in Washington Tuesday to study the latest medical "miracles" in treating such widespread diseases as arthritis, cancer and diabetes.

One of the family doctors will be honored as the outstanding general practitioner of the year. The lifetime achievements of another will be broadcast on a surprise nationwide radio program.

The physicians will be briefed thoroughly on the medical drugs cortisone and acth with a review of their spectacular victories over crippling and heretofore virtually unconquerable arthritis.

TV To Show Operation

Actual operations originating at the Johns Hopkins School of medicine in Baltimore will be televised in full color—magnified on a bank of receivers.

Other operations originating at Washington's Gallinger hospital will be televised on giant black and white screens with a two-way system of communication arranged to permit questioning of the operating surgeon.

Lectures, movies and demonstrations will bring the home doctor up to date on treatment of such common maladies as diabetes, polio, virus diseases and obscure fevers and diseases of the heart.

Specialists To Talk

Batteries of specialists will explain latest developments on heart and kidney ailments, neurology and psychiatry, blood vessel disorders, dermatology and syphilology, X-ray diagnosis and treatment, liver disease and jaundice, chronic diarrheas and hematuria.

The physicians are expected to express opposition to the administration health insurance proposal when their 191 member house of delegates meets Tuesday and Thursday to draft medical profession policies.

The meeting, the third annual clinical session of the American Medical session, will continue through Dec. 9. Timed to occur midway between annual meetings of the AMA itself, the conclave is devoted primarily to the problems of the family doctor.

Each county medical society proposed a candidate for the outstanding general practitioner of the year, one of whom was selected from each state. The AMA board of trustees has reduced the number to three.

The name of the one to receive the coveted gold medal is a closely-guarded secret along with that of the doctor whose life will be featured in the flashback sequence radio program.

The doctors also will be shown exhibits of some of the more successful "mechanical quackery" gadgets by which "cure-all" operators have gulled an unsuspecting public.

Dr. Ernest E. Irons of Chicago, AMA president, will address the assembly and introduce president-elect Dr. Elmer L. Henderson of Louisville.

Proposed Chicago International Trade Fair Gets Truman Support

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (INS) — President Truman today welcomed the decision of Chicago business men to establish the first United States international trade fair in Chicago next year.

In a statement written for the trade fair brochure, the President said:

"The interchange of goods among nations is an important means of improving political and economic relationships throughout the world.

"The Chicago fair should be of significant help to this end—and the end, therefore, of establishing a firm peace in the world.

"I know that the businessmen of the world will find Chicago a gracious and warm-hearted host."

The Chicago fair also has the backing of Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and Foreign Aid Administrator Hofman as a means of helping Marshall plan countries to earn more dollars. The fair will be run from Aug. 7 to 19, occupying a million square feet in four of Chicago's largest exhibition halls.

Admiral Wilson Is Claimed At Hospital In Maryland

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)— Rear Admiral George B. Wilson, 57, retired, died today at the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md.

Prior to his retirement in November, 1946, he had been naval attache at the U.S. embassy in London.

A native of Norfolk, Va., Admiral Wilson served on the USS Delaware with the British grand fleet during the first world war, later with the bureau of aeronautics. He subsequently was assigned to the Langley, the nation's first aircraft carrier.

May To Begin Serving Term In Prison For Fraud Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (INS)—The Justice department said Saturday that former Rep. Andrew J. May will surrender to federal officers at Catletisburg, Ky., Monday to begin serving an eight to 24 months prison term.

May, former chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, lost a final attempt earlier in the week to obtain probation along with Murray and Henry Garsson. The Garsson brothers headed a wartime munitions combine

Weight Of Sentiment Is Against Outright Repeal Of T-H Curbs

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 4—The Taft-Hartley act is expected to be one of the first problems before Congress when it meets next month, with Administration forces renewing their battle cry of outright repeal of the measure.

Most observers see three courses of action to Congress: leaving the act unchanged, amending it, or doing away with it entirely. If it comes to a question of outright repeal, which Truman Democrats have been making the issue, where would the general public stand?

The weight of sentiment at the present time is against outright repeal, judging by the results of interviews with a balanced cross-section of the U. S. electorate. But the vote is close and there is a substantial group expressing no opinion.

Labor union members vote in favor of repealing the act by about the same ratio as business and professional men vote to keep it.

All persons questioned in the survey were asked:

"Do you think Congress should or should not repeal (do away with) the Taft-Hartley law?"

Should repeal act	30%
Should not	38
No opinion	32

Taking just those who expressed an opinion, the vote would be 56 per cent for keeping the act and 44 per cent for abolishing it.

'All Or Nothing'

In interpreting these results it should be borne in mind that not all those who oppose repeal think that the act should remain exactly as it is. Many Republican leaders, including Senator Robert A. Taft himself, have come out for amendments or modifications to make the measure work better.

Previous surveys by the Institute have shown that some of the voters who want the act kept on the statute books favor making changes in the highly complex omnibus measure.

The Democratic line, judging by recent election campaigning, is an "all or nothing" stand which calls for complete and total annihilation of the act — the stand which Senator-elect Herbert H. Lehman, for example, took in his recent campaign for the New York senatorial vacancy.

This stand obviously has strong appeal to those sections of organized labor who have fought and denounced the measure. The rank and file of labor union members, when questioned in today's survey, took this stand:

Labor Union Members

Should repeal act	51%
Should not	23
No opinion	26

Businessmen, on the other hand, oppose repeal by a big vote, and they are joined in this view by farmers and, to a lesser extent, by white-collar workers.

Here is the vote by occupational groups:

	Should repeal	Should not	No Opin.
Prof & Bus.	27%	51%	22%
Farmers	17	45	38
White-Collar	29	40	31
Manual workers	36	28	36

VA Simplifies Loan Guarantee Provisions On Home Building

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (INS)—The Veterans Administration announced today that some GI loan holders won't have to wait long before moving into their new homes.

The VA said it has simplified two of its loan guarantee provisions.

Heretofore it required certification that the home was completed before it issued its guarantee.

The new regulation will permit their issuance even though inclement weather delays putting in sidewalks, curbs, gutters and driveways or final coats of exterior paint.

But the VA said the loan applicant must request the permission to move in.

The other change allows the lender to charge, at his option, an amount equal to one percent of the loan for miscellaneous costs in connection with the loan. The minimu charge would be $50.

Previously, the VA required the lender to list such costs as appraisals, inspections and incidental fees separately.

The VA, under the first change, however, will place in escrow an amount equal to one and one-half times the estimates cost of the unfinished work to guarantee completion.

NEW USE FOR LIQUOR

CLOVIS, N. M., Dec. 4. (AP) — Sheriff Bill Collins finally has found a use for all that confiscated whiskey he's gathered up in dry Curry county. He uses straight bourbon to clean his fingerprint ink plate, his own fingers and those of the person being fingerprinted.

SAND'S FANTASTIC — What would you do if a windstorm blew so much sand on your front lawn that the grass wouldn't grow? Home-owner Nate Barkman of Bay City, Mich., had that problem. He solved it by borrowing a vacuum cleaner, sweeping the sand up and returning it to Lake Huron, where it belonged.

Noted Character Actress Dies After Receiving Burns In Fire

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4.(INS) — Maria Ouspenskaya, 68, noted character actress of stage and screen, died Saturday at nearby Woodland Hills from burns suffered in a fire at her apartment Wednesday night.

Madame Ouspenskaya came to the United States in 1923 as a member of the original Moscow Art theater. Ten years ago she moved an acting school from New York to Hollywood.

Considered one of the most adept actresses in the world, she was featured in a number of motion pictures, including "The Rains Came" and "Kings Row."

States Get Nearly Fifth Of Tax Revenue From Businesses

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. (AP)— The states have collected 19.1 per cent of their total tax revenues in 1949 from businesses, the National Industrial Conference board reported today.

Business taxes levied by states were up 1 percent over 1948 and were well above the 1941 figure when business taxes accounted for about 14.5 percent of total state collections.

An analysis of state taxes by the board showed the states now receive more revenue from the corporation income tax than from the individual income tax.

The 1949 state yield from corporation income taxes is estimated at more than $600 million—326 percent more than in 1940, when the total was $155 million.

Reporting on the over-all tax picture, the board said state and local taxes totaled $14,400,000,000 in 1948, a rise of almost $5 billion since 1942.

On a per capita basis, state taxes, including unemployment compensation, amounted to $57.43 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1949.

ADMIRAL HAS NO WORD

TOKYO, Dec. 4. (AP)— Vice Adm. Russell Berkey, commander of the Asiatic fleet arrived tonight but said he had received no instructions to help bring U. S. Consul General Angus Ward and his staff from Tientsin. Belief had been expressed here that a Navy destroyer might be used to help expediate the departure of Ward, who was ordered out of Mukden by the Chinese Communists.

Louisiana had the highest per capita taxes in that year, $92.19, followed by Washington with $90.07 and California with $83.41.

A recent loan of $34,000,000 to India by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, to develop its railways was the first loan granted by the bank to a member country in Asia.

New Zealand's drink bill last year was $73,269,960—highest ever—and consumption included 471,586 gallons of spirits, 258,207 gallons of imported wines and 33,845,272 gallons of beer.
