

Tomorrow Is Thanksgiving—the Family Day

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving—a day imbued with more tradition, perhaps, than any other except Christmas. It is a family day.

The spirit of Thanksgiving is closely knit with the unity of the home, and all over the land relatives will come together, old friends will visit, students will come home from schools.

A special Thanksgiving recognition will begin here in the morning at 8:30 as a community-wide Thanksgiving service is held at the First Baptist Church. Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will give the sermon.

Members of the Pampa Ministerial Alliance, sponsoring this community-wide service, urged Pampans to meet for the religious tone of the day.

By attending the Thanksgiving observance, Virgil Mott, educational director of the First Baptist Church, will direct the choir in "Thanks Be to God," and other special music will be given.

For those who find it impossible to attend the 45-minute service will be broadcast over KPDM.

Thanksgiving is also a day of traditional rivalry. The top attraction in this region will be the Pampa-Borger game, and although the district race is already settled, it is probable a record delegation from Pampa will arrive in Borger for the outstanding entertainment of the day.

Many Pampa organizations are planning special dinners and other entertainments both at noon and in the evening. The holiday buying rush has been on since the beginning of the week, and while fewer families may serve the traditional holiday bird this season, most budgets will come in for a beating as families over the area make an attempt to strain the festive board.

Thanksgiving has been an American tradition since the Pilgrims first landed in 1620. See THANKSGIVING, Page 2

French Expel Reds For 'Interference'

PARIS—AP—The Ministry of the Interior announced today the expulsion from France of 19 Russians for "interference in French affairs" during the current labor crisis, which erupted in new violence as police and strikers battled in the streets of Lyon.

The announcement identified the Russians as members of the "Soviet Patriotic Union" and said they included the president, the treasurer and two secretaries-general of the organization.

The 19 were taken by bus to an unstated frontier and put across the border, the ministry said.

In Lyon police used tear gas to break up a strikers' march on the prefecture after a mass labor rally called by the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT).

National security police inspectors swooped down on the homes of the Russians Tuesday morning and a few hours later drove them by bus to an unstated destination, believed to be the Soviet Zone of Germany.

The action came as the new government strove to end the spreading strikes in France.

Eugene Thomas, secretary of state for communications, said the Communists have "launched a violent offensive" to force Paris postal employees to strike. He said "Communist elements are using intimidation and menace and trying to create an atmosphere of terror."

The interior ministry said the four expelled officers of the Soviet Patriotic Union were President Katchava, Treasurer Krivosheina and Secretaries General Dmitri Kobalev and Alexander Palevoy. The announcement said most of the group formerly were White Russians who became Soviet citizens after France was liberated.

A Paris newspaper reported that inquiries at offices of the patriotic union elicited this reply: "Our president is away on a trip. We know nothing about any arrests."

The order came a few days after police raided a Russian repatriation camp outside Paris, seized a small quantity of arms and removed a woman and her three children.

In Lyon, several persons were reported injured in fighting which broke out between police and demonstrators. Eye-witnesses estimated the number of strikers participating in the demonstration at approximately 20,000.

When strikers decided to march on the prefecture and pressed their grievances. They found approaches to the prefecture blocked by police barricades and attempted to charge police with Communist banners flying in the van, Lyon dispatches said.

The strikers retired when police fired into the crowd with tear gas but a second melee broke out 20 minutes later when a score of policemen, going off duty tried to march through the center of the demonstrators.

Several policemen were reported beaten up in this struggle.

The five great powers again failed to show unanimity on the issue, but there was the rare spectacle of a U. S.-Russian agreement. China and France joined Britain in abstaining. The partition scheme generally was hailed as a "Soviet-American" plan mainly because the two big powers were notably in agreement.

In the final draft passed by the committee the partition plan provided that Britain, the mandatory power under a continuing League of Nations arrangement, would be of the Holy Land by Aug. 1, 1948. Independence for the two proposed new countries would come by Oct. 1. A five-nation U. N. Commission, backed by the Security Council, would be responsible for administration in the interim period.

Morning, afternoon and night sessions of the assembly were scheduled in the drive to adjourn before Thanksgiving.

Banners and Ratings Given Scout Troops

Banners and ratings have been awarded to the Santa Fe Trail District troops participating in the recent Scout camporee.

Troops receiving an "A" rating were Troop 1, with 13 Scouts and 3 Scouters present; Troop 14, with 11 Scouts and 2 Scouters present; Troop 16, with 10 Scouts and 2 Scouters present; Troop 22 with 15 Scouts and 2 Scouters present; and Troop 80, with 20 Scouts and 2 Scouters present.

Two troops receiving a "B" rating were Troop 20, with 8 Scouts and 1 Scouter present; and Troop 21, with 11 Scouts and 1 Scouter present.

A total of 214 Scouts and 43 Scouters attended the encampment.

Book or Lunch Pail—Outcome the Same

DENVER—(AP)—Three jam-packed street cars passed up W. E. McDonald, 31, and then: "When that fourth car passed," he told Police Judge Frank Hickley, "something snapped. I didn't realize it, but I threw my lunch bucket at the streetcar." The missile shattered a window but no one was injured.

"You threw the bucket," the judge said. "I'll throw the book. You are fined $50."

PLENTY FOR THE U. S.—Senator Styles Bridges, right, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson discuss a point as the committee began inventory of U. S. grain supplies and crop prospects to prevent "short-changing" Americans through aid to needy peoples of other countries. Bridges opened the Washington hearing by charging President Truman with an infringement upon Congressional powers by demanding rationing and pricing authority along with a blank check for stop-gap aid to Western Europe.

Cabinet Officers Agree U. S. Should Have Say in Use of Aid

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two cabinet officers told Congress today that in view of the proposed foreign aid program the government should have power to say what use is made of the nation's steel output and grain crops.

Secretary of Commerce Harrison and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson testified before separate legislative committees in support of President Truman's economic program.

Both backed his request for authority to restore price controls and rationing, if he decides they are needed.

On allocations, Harriman told the Senate-House Economic Committee there should be "limited powers" to direct steel to the "most essential programs." And added that "more far reaching proposals" are being prepared.

Broadly, allocation would permit the government to say how much of any particular commodity is used for a certain purpose. How much steel, for instance, the automobile industry would be allowed to use.

Anderson was before the House Banking Committee. As to needed allocation in the farm and crop field, he told it:

"In order that we may be prepared for any serious emergency that might arise, such as failure of grain crops, it would be necessary to have authority not only for controlling exports but for limiting inventories and directing use of grain domestically through the most essential channels."

"Authority for allocating the use of storage and transportation facilities and distribution of farm machinery and fertilizer would also be necessary."

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder yesterday urged controls over credits and Oscar L. Chapman, undersecretary of the Interior, said possible need is foreseen for price controls over petroleum and coal and perhaps for rationing of gasoline.

What the administration is asking is authority to use these controls but with the promise they will be used only if the foreign aid program creates strains making it necessary to use them.

Harriman urged granting of authority to control prices of export goods.

Mr. Truman had asked authority to control allocation and inventories of basic commodities affecting prices and industrial programs, but Harriman was the See ECONOMIC, Page 2

Big Four Cut Sessions to 3-Hours Each

LONDON—AP—Foreign ministers of the Big Four began the second session of their London conference today amid indications they would compromise promptly their current three-to-one split over Austria.

The new round of discussions at Lancaster House started at 3:30 p. m. (9:30 a. m. CST). Under an arrangement reached yesterday, the session was not supposed to last more than three hours.

The Austrian split arose from the fact that, though the Big Four agreed on a six-point program, they could not agree yesterday whether to give priority to Austrian or German problems.

Preliminary indications were that the United States, Great Britain and France technically might win their fight to give Austria the first place provided Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov got assurance that this would not prevent an early start on German discussions.

Secretary Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault might have agreed in turn, it was said, with Molotov's proposal for the order of items on Germans, giving priority to a discussion of peace treaty arrangements rather than to the economic and political unity of Germany.

This would get the conference quickly into a discussion of Germany and provide Molotov the opportunity the Americans and Russians believe he wants to deliver a speech critical of their occupation policies. In the Western view, the speech would be aimed at the German people.

Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands, neighbors of Western Germany, announced today they had asked to be heard by the foreign ministers on German problems, particularly on control of the Ruhr.

The familiar three-to-one split which became a pattern of the last conference of foreign ministers in Moscow developed at the opening session.

At their first meeting since then, France, Great Britain and the United States united yesterday to say that work on an independence treaty for Austria should be given priority over German problems.

Foreign Minister Molotov, speaking for Russia, said he thought the German issues were more important and should have priority.

Whether these widely varying points of view could be compromised with reasonable speed was the main question confronting the Big Four at their second meeting here today.

Yesterday's opening session in London's century-old Lancaster House was regarded as a virtual preview of developments in the days to come, diplomats present described the atmosphere as easy and free of tension, despite accusations recently exchanged between East and West.

There was agreement on some points, but also a foretaste of the disputes to come.

The major agreement achieved was on a six-point program of subjects which the foreign ministers will begin discussing as soon as they have decided which one to discuss first.

The points accepted for discussion:

1. Completion of a treaty for Austria.
2. Principles for economic unification of Germany.
3. Form and scope of a provisional German government.
4. The United States proposal for a German disarmament treaty.
5. The present state of German demilitarization.
6. Preparation of a German peace treaty, including frontiers.

Senate Passage of Aid Bill Seen Today

WASHINGTON—AP—The $597,000,000 (millions) European Aid Bill moved toward expected Senate passage today and a suddenly developing fight in the House.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee set the stage for the scrap when it voted late yesterday to slice $108,000,000 from the "minimum" amount the administration has said France, Italy and Austria need to survive through March 31.

A committee member told a reporter the ballot was 10 to 9. Both Republican and Democratic members said that margins means a hot floor fight, probably next week.

The committee also agreed to deal China in on the stop-gap aid program. It put her down for $60,000,000. The administration had mentioned that sum to be spent next spring, but apart from the emergency help for Europe.

The two big changes put the total okayed by the House group at $548,000,000 and sent State Department officials out of the committee room dejectedly shaking their heads. The action is not final until the committee formally approves a bill, but it hopes to do that next Monday.

Senators are steadily along meanwhile toward approval of a bill containing nothing for China and the full $597,000,000. President Truman recommended for the three European nations.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Republican Policy Committee in the Senate, sank the last traces of effective opposition. He told a reporter he would vote for the aid bill.

"We must do something now to help France, Italy and Austria," he said, "because this is a real emergency."

But the Ohio senator, who has called the $597,000,000 amount "too high," made it plain that he is reserving his decision on the long-range Marshall Plan for European economic recovery. President Truman is expected to submit this plan in detail within the next few days.

Secretary of State Marshall has estimated it will cost between $16,000,000,000 and $22,000,000,000 (billions) over the next four years. Sixteen Western European countries would take part in the self-help recovery drive, to follow the stop gap assistance for France, Italy and Austria.

Marshall said a total of $300,000,000 also might be asked to help China during the 15 months beginning next April.

Republican policy on the whole aid problem will be gone over at a meeting of the House GOP Steering Committee called by Speaker Martin for Monday.

The emergency measure before the Senate merely sets a limit that can be appropriated to fund the three European countries. The actual dollar outlay will be determined by Congress in a later appropriation measure, and Taft indicated that if he fights for a reduction he will do it then.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee forecast approval of the authorization bill by an overwhelming vote before tonight.

Before the Senate could act finally, however, it had before it a series of amendments offered by Senator Donnell (R-Mo.).

Chief of these was a proposal to spell out the amount to be provided for each of the three countries, an amendment Vandenberg said he opposes because it might "invite these countries to think that this would be a commitment."

Bond Set at $5,000 In Oglesby Case

Waiving an examining trial yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Charles C. Hughes, James Oglesby, 27, Pampa, was bound over to the Grand Jury under $5,000 appearance bond.

Still bandaged, the young man was led back to the county jail in default of bond.

Oglesby had been charged with murder with malice aforethought a few hours earlier by District Attorney Tom Braly in connection with the shovel slaying of Homer D. McIlvain in a brawl on Saturday night in front of a S. Cuyler cafe. The brawl sent both men to hospitals where McIlvain died about 16 hours later.

Tom Braly Heads Area's New Army Advisory Group

Tom Braly, 31st District attorney, was elected chairman of the newly formed Army Advisory Committee for the Pampa Area, at a meeting held at the Schneller Hotel yesterday, following a noon luncheon attended by about 30 persons from Pampa and surrounding communities.

There are 38 members on the committee from Pampa. Other communities represented are Miami, McLean, Leflore, Canadian, Shamrock, Wheeler and Higgins.

The group was addressed by Brig-Gen. E. W. Piburn, special representative for the Fourth Army.

Named as vice chairman of the committee was Vincent Lockhart, former Army officer and editor of the Canadian Record.

The program of Army Advisory Committees was recently launched throughout the nation to answer "the need for active interest and support of the Army by groups of representative citizens," it was stated. In addition, the committees will be used to assist the Army in keeping the public informed on Army activities, to provide solutions for joint Army-civilian community problems, and to advise the Army on public trends insofar as they affect Army matters.

About 100 such committees are to be formed in communities throughout the five-state Fourth Army area—Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma, it was announced.

Persons from various pursuits were present at this meeting and will form a permanent committee to assist in the dissemination of information regarding the Army. Among the group were ministers, oil men, representatives of women's clubs, lawyers, judges, editors, teachers, and others.

The civilian advisory committee, it was said, are being formed in the interest of national security.

Complaints Dismissed After Law Compliance

Nuisance complaints filed late last week against four local citizens for keeping hogs within the city limits were dismissed today by City Attorney Bob Gordon in Corporation Court.

Investigators in the Health Department made the dismissal recommendations after a survey yesterday showed that all four had moved their hogs and hogpens. One of the parties butchered several of his hogs.

There were no other cases heard by Corporation Court Judge Clifford Braly.

THANKSGIVING ECONOMIC

lean tradition from the first. After the Plymouth Colony's first dread winter, their hope was renewed during the ensuing summer, and when the corn crop was gathered, in the fall of 1621, Governor Bradford decreed a day of Thanksgiving. Great preparations were made for a feast and a score of friendly Indians were invited to the day of feasting and prayer. This first Thanksgiving Day was in December.

The custom soon spread to the other colonies, and in time each was issuing a Thanksgiving Day proclamation. But for many years there was no uniformity.

In 1859 the Protestant Episcopal Church announced the first Thursday in November as a regular annual day for the celebration, and the same year President Washington issued a proclamation for a day of thanks. In 1888 the Roman Catholic Church formally recognized the holiday.

A woman is credited with finally standardizing the date. Mrs. Sara Josepha Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, for 20 years sent out pleas in her columns and in letters for a nation-wide Thanksgiving. She wrote letters to each of the presidents during that period. Her efforts were rewarded in 1864 when President Lincoln set the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

first administration leader to say that steel controls are needed. "By use of limited priority and allocation powers," he said, a small proportion of steel could be diverted from less essential purposes to allocate supplies of tin, and said that "more far reaching proposals" are being prepared for submission to Congress later.

Prior to Harriman's testimony, two leading Republican senators—Taft of Ohio and Millikin of Colorado—predicted part of the Truman anti-inflation program may get Congressional approval by Christmas.

Taft and Millikin talked to reporters after Rep. Frederick H. Smith (R-Ohio) raised a cry of "socialism" against an administration proposal for price controls on oil and coal rationing of gasoline, if voluntary measures fail. The proposal was made by Oscar L. Chapman, acting secretary of the Interior, before the House Banking Committee yesterday.

Harriman told the Senate group that a grant of power to fix prices on goods shipped out of the country would enable the government to "strengthen the drive against profiteering in exports."

"Foreign purchasers are often willing to pay prices substantially above the domestic price of scarce materials," Harriman said, adding that sales by exporters at "excessive prices" have these effects:

1. They draw away goods from domestic use and bid up prices at home toward the level of "inflated world prices."

2. They cause a "more rapid depletion of dollar exchange reserves" of the purchasing countries, increasing cost of foreign aid and jeopardizing the United States' long term foreign trade interest.

Harriman emphasized that he did not "anticipate that under existing conditions" controls over allocation of additional materials would be as broadly exercised as they are over tin at this time. "Controls should be limited in character and applicable only to scarce commodities," he told the committee.

What this agreement on the agenda amounted to was an agreement that the foreign ministers would take up almost exactly at the point where they left off, in disagreement, at Moscow last April. The problem confronting them is whether they can go on from there.

Molotov agreed to discussion of the disarmament pact and of German frontiers only on condition that the three Western powers agree to discuss the current state of German demilitarization, about which the Russians already have expressed considerable dissatisfaction.

The Situation in Strike-Ridden France Is Grave

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

This is no time to rock the boat, but we should recognize that the situation in strike-ridden France is increasingly grave.

I am reliably informed that the French authorities, both governmental and military, are viewing with deepest anxiety the potentialities of the nation-wide strike involving a million workers belonging to Communist-dominated unions. Officials recognize that, as Elder Statesman Leon Blum warned last week, international communism has declared war on French democracy.

They are preparing for the worst, with the hope that it won't eventuate.

French military reserves have been called back to active duty and it is said that very shortly the army will be close to active war strength. These forces are scattered throughout the country.

The new cabinet under Premier Robert Schuman has got into action with a promise of energetic measures. This assurance came as the strike movement spread across the country and threatened disaster to the already chaotic economy. Schuman's task was to win back those million strikers and at the same time try to prevent other workers from leaving their jobs.

There were few bright spots in the gloomy picture, but one ray of light came from a vastly important—though perhaps wholly unexpected—quarter. General Charles de Gaulle, leader of the powerful new Right-Wing People's Rally, cancelled a speech scheduled for Thursday to keep from embarrassing the government in its conflict with the Communist-dominated Confederation of Labor. The general is the pet hate of the Bolsheviks, having captured a majority of votes in the recent country-wide municipal elections on a violently anti-Communist platform.

That is a highly interesting development and supports the suggestion of this column yesterday that Premier Schuman has chosen to adopt a course further to the right, rather than try to maintain a hopeless middle-of-the-road position between communism on the one hand and De Gaulle's extreme rightists on the other.

It is further significant that Schuman gave the portfolio of the ministry of economics to Rene Mayer who is an open supporter of De Gaulle.

The whole situation is suggestive of the hull before a gathering storm.

Work to Begin in December on New Community Center

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Work of tearing down the old Laycock building on West Second Street and converting it into a community center will get under way early in December, Chamber of Commerce officials have stated.

Requests for bids on raising the huge building which originally housed the Moore Lumber Company have been sent to all Shamrock contractors.

As soon as the old structure has been torn down, work will begin on the new building. The new building will be 100 feet by 120 feet in dimensions. The framework will consist of welded steel pipe, to be covered with lumber from the present building. It is hoped that galvanized iron roofing can be secured, but if not, corrugated aluminum will be used.

Twenty feet across the front of the community center will be devoted to office space with a portion of that being given over to the Chamber of Commerce. Offices will be provided for special meetings of the county agricultural and home demonstration agents and a permanent office will be set up for the Wheeler County Old Age Assistance department, operated by Miss Leona Crossland. Pointing out the need of the offices for special meetings, the Chamber of Commerce officials stated that there are 12 home demonstration clubs in Wheeler County, three of them in Shamrock. In addition there are several boys' and girls' 4-H Clubs.

Use of the building proper will be for the general promotion of agriculture and livestock. Plans will be worked out to hold poultry, hog, dairy and baby beef shows, climaxed by a county fair each fall. Plans are now being made for these competitive events by agricultural agents and vocational agriculture teachers of Wheeler, Collingsworth and Beckham Counties.

Tomorrow's Texas-Aggie Duel Means Much in SWC Football

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Texas meets Texas A. and M. tomorrow in a game meaning much in Southwest Conference football. Not only is it the deepest rivalry of all but Texas hopes for a possible championship tie and a spot in the Sugar Bowl ride on the result.

It is no secret that if the Longhorns get by the Aggies they'll be top-heavy favorites to grab the Sugar Bowl place opposite Alabama. And if Texas wins and Southern Methodist, the unbeaten leader at this time, loses to Texas Christian Saturday Texas and SMU will wind up in a tie for the title.

That Texas will win over A. and M. is predicted in every quarter. That Southern will lose to Texas Christian is not.

But Sugar Bowl glory and victory over an ancient foe would be enough salve for Texas anyway.

Four games are scheduled by conference teams in this final week of the campaign: Arkansas, unbeaten in inter-sectional play, will try to make it a grand slam against Tulsa at Tulsa tomorrow. Saturday Southern Methodist and Texas Christian mix it at Fort Worth and Baylor tackles Rice at Houston in final games of the season.

Rice can clinch third place in the standings by beating Baylor. The latter can finish out of the cellar by licking Rice. In that event Arkansas would be in last place and Texas A. and M. would tie for it if it loses to Texas.

We hit 'em all again last week. Let's see what the final round of selections will show.

Texas vs Texas A. and M. at College Station—the Aggies will fight hard but Texas should win by three touchdowns.

Arkansas vs Tulsa at Tulsa—Another inter-sectional victory for Arkansas.

Texas Christian vs Southern Methodist at Fort Worth—Southern Methodist is used to the toughest; SMU by two touchdowns.

Baylor vs Rice at Houston—Rice won't run them out of the park but they'll win by two or three touchdowns.

Even Little Red Hen Wants a Night Out

KANKAKEE, Ill. — (AP) — A little red hen, apparently tired of the prosaic everyday task of laying eggs, took a nocturnal jaunt.

It happened one night when the chicken's master, Zephire Richard, a farmer of near Bourbonnais, drove three miles into Kankakee. When Richard arrived in town, he discovered he had an uninvited passenger—the little red hen precariously perched on the back bumper. Richard says the hen rode back the same way.

Austria Gets Aid From U. S. Agencies

VIENNA — (AP) — Goods and services valued at more than $18,000,000 have been donated outright to the Austrian population by American voluntary welfare and relief agencies since the end of the war, says a report to headquarters of the United States forces in Austria.

The report pointed out that the entire amount consisted of voluntary contributions, represents in no way a debt to be paid, have been distributed throughout the four occupied zones on a basis of need without regard to zonal boundaries and has no connection with the Austro-German aid agreement which is operated by the United States government from government funds.

The supplies donated include more than 24,000 metric tons of food, more than 13,000 metric tons of clothing and more than 310,000 metric tons of medical supplies.

Sports Round-Up

By RICH FULLERTON, JR. GRENLOCH, N. J. — (AP) — The boarded-up amusement park at Grenloch probably never will be remembered as one of those famous fight camps whose fame comes down through the years.

It's a collection of small, painted buildings on a hilltop overlooking a golf course where young folks of Camden come to swing in summertime. One barn-like building, noted by a couple of coal stoves, is where a ring has been set up so that Jersey Joe Walcott can prepare to tangle with Joe Louis for the world heavyweight championship next month.

Another small, barn-like building, noted by a couple of coal stoves, is where a ring has been set up so that Jersey Joe Walcott can prepare to tangle with Joe Louis for the world heavyweight championship next month.

Maybe its symbolic of the fact that Walcott is what they call a "hungry" fighter—A guy who never had much and who is eager to earn wealth and security for himself and his family.

Old-Time Camps Enroute to this windswept spot, a group of boxing experts were recalling old-time training camps and the incidents that made them memorable.

There was Max Schmeling's camp at Speculator, N. Y., where some one started a rumor that a ferocious panther had been seen leaping from tree to tree around the hotel in that Adirondack village. The yarn drove one Broadwayite right out of town and back to his beloved pavements.

Then there was Connaut Lake, Pa., during prohibition days when a rumored raid by revenooers had everyone in a dither and where the scribes became involved in a morticians' convention with hilarious results.

Fetch A Dictionary Ever since Walcott first bobbed up as a challenger for Louis, the story has been going around about the time he served as one of Louis' sparring partners at Lakewood and was fired after he had the champ on the floor.

Mushy Jackson, the Mr. Malaprop of Jacobs Beach, discounts the yarn. "I was in charge of sparring partners there.

This guy comes in, nobody knows him; he was just another of those bums I hired for $25 a round. Louis was taking it easy when Boffo, he slipped over a right and staggered Louis up against the ropes. He wouldn't go more than one round and after two or three days when he wouldn't go back for the second and make $50, I told him to get out.

But some of the writers were there that time he hit Louis and they wrote all about this unknown that had Joe on the voyage of a knockout."

Why It's Foolish

To Run for Horse Car

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — In the days of St. Louis' horse cars, races between would-be passengers and the streetcar steeds must have been everyday occurrences. Rule 29 in the old drivers' manual of the Lindsey Railway Company was as follows: "After passing Fifth street going east do not stop for passengers to get on; trot your horses east of Fourth street, if necessary, to prevent passengers from catching the car."

Rev. and Mrs. Norris Give Program for DKG

"A Message to the Teachers of America" was the topic for discussion when the Rev. B. A. Norris, minister of the First Christian Church and former chaplain of the American Army Air Force, addressed the Beta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Saturday morning, Nov. 22, in the City Club Rooms.

Rev. Norris stressed the fact that only through education today can we achieve a better world tomorrow. "Through the processes of education, Christian religion has reached every part of the globe. No matter where the American soldier found himself during World War II, the church was there. If we care about other peoples of the world, we can have one world. Now is our opportunity to think about one world—or none," he said.

Mrs. Norris gave two vocal numbers in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme. "Now Thank We All Our God" and "The Blind Bowman." She was accompanied by Mrs. Roy Sullivan, Mrs. Sullivan, accompanied by Mrs. John I. Bradley, led the group in the singing of the club songs. Miss Pearl Spangh arranged the program.

Mrs. L. K. Strout, president, conducted a short business meeting preceding the program.

Old and New Books Is Subject of Talk to Members of Book Club

The program of the Pampa Book Club which met last Friday evening in the home of Miss Jewel Polk, 314 N. Gray, was on "Books, Old and New" and Mrs. Lee Harrah led the discussion. Mrs. Harrah stated that the major theme for books during the coming years will be inequality in American life.

The first American best seller, she said, was in 1662, "The Day of Doom." Today the best seller is "Gone With the Wind" and the best world-wide seller is Uncle Tom's Cabin. The speaker said that never a year in American history has there been a better seller than the Bible.

During the business session the club voted to donate 24 books to the Pampa Public Library. Books which have been put on the Pampa Book Club shelves are: The Moneyman, C. O. S. A.; Prince of Foxes, Shellabarger; House Divided, Williams; So Dear To My Heart, North; Nothing So Strange, Hilton; The Sure Hand Charm, Wakeman; Southwesterners Write; Firebird Book of Folk Songs; Alexandra, Schmitt.

The years of the Locust, Erdman; Gus the Great, Duncan; Too Many Women, Stout; The Proper Bostonians, Armory; East Side, West Side, Marcia Davenport; Hope of Earth, Rumbek; Stars in My Crown, Brown; Clarkston, Fast; Wet Black, Claude Arner; The Ring and the Cross, Fyler; Came a Cavalier, Keys; Yankee Pasha, Marshall; Proud Destiny, Feuchtwanger; and Woman of Property, Seeley.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Lee Harrah was presented with a copy of the book "The Years of the Locust," by Erdman.

Varietas Club Members Entertain Husbands

The members of Varietas Club gave a turkey dinner in honor of their husbands last Thursday evening in the Palm Room.

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Nov. 25—(AP)—Modest leanings toward recovery were exhibited by individual stocks today while many market leaders continued their drift into minus territory. The pace quickened now and then on the retreat and slowed during intervals when prices hardened a bit. Utilities again were in supply with this average edging to another 1947 low. Gains of fractions to a point or so persisted at the close but declines of as much held the majority. Transfers for the five hours were in the vicinity of 850,000 shares.

Another big batch of pleasing dividends was ignored by a number of stocks concerned but a fair response was made by American Rolling Mills, Bendix Home Appliances, Reynolds Metals, National Lead, Tinkens-Detroit Axle and South Porto Rico Sugar. Attracting bids were Goodrich, Shell Union Oil, Great Northern Railway, Union Pacific, International Harvester, J. C. Penney and Phelps Dodge. Steels and motors were narrow.

Bottoms for the year were recorded by American Can, Continental Can, American Power & Light preferreds and Bridgeport Brass (on an omitted dividend). Backward were Nickel Plate preferred, Mission Corp., Western Union (on a possible strike), American Electric Power & Light, Standard Gas & Light, Goodyear and Owens-Illinois.

Spanning Canyon Diablo

Another new bridge on the Santa Fe

A new double-track steel bridge now spans Canyon Diablo (a giant gash 225 feet deep in the tableland of northern Arizona) on the main line of the Santa Fe between Chicago and California. This new bridge, which replaces the old single-track viaduct, is 544 feet long, 32 feet wide at track level, and contains over 2,000 tons of structural steel. The heaviest trains can cross it in both directions at once, and it's built to handle anything in rail traffic the future may bring. Canyon Diablo Bridge is just a part of Santa Fe's continuing program of improvements—typical of the Santa Fe spirit of progress and initiative—to provide Santa Fe passengers with smoother riding, and Santa Fe shippers with more efficient freight handling. It is another good reason for traveling or shipping "Santa Fe—all the way."
