Mattern Backtracks And Lands In Siberia Again After Hop Off For Home

Texan Returns To Khabarovsk After Eight Hours In Air; Bad Weather Responsible

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
Associated Press Correspondent

MOSCOW, June 13. — Jimmie Mattern backtracked on his globe-girdling flight and unexpectedly landed at Khabarovsk today eight hours and five minutes after he had left that Siberian town for Nome, Alaska.

The Texan returned to Khabarovsk at 6:20 a. m., Moscow time (10:20 p. m. Monday eastern standard time). No reason was given as to why he suddenly reversed his direction, but it was generally supposed he had bucked into stiff headwinds and heavy weather and found it impossible to make Nome safely.

He had left Khabarovsk at 10:15 p. m. Moscow time (2:15 p. m. eastern standard time) Monday. Weather reports at the time warned of heavy weather ahead, particularly in the region of Katmchatka peninsula, northeast of his starting point.

The Khabarovsk to Nome leg of Mattern's projected around the world solo flight is 2,500 miles long, largely over water.

Industry Measure Given Final Okeh

Opposition Defeated And Bill Is Sent To White House

BY HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 13.— Beating down a triple-threat opposition, senate administration forces today put final congressional approval upon the industrial revival bill and sent that king pin of President Roosevelt's plan on its way to the White House.

The vote was comparatively close, 46 to 39, but it was enough to overcome a combination of independent Republicans and regulars from both parties, despite that their favorite amendments had been greatly changed in conference without any help from the senate conferees. The senate passed the bill originally by 57 to 24.

Defense Is Given

Taking the floor just before the seven-vote victory margin was announced by Vice President Garner, chairman Harrison of the finance committee and head of the senate conferees, defended the bill against an all-day onslaught. He asserted the conferees "tried to carry out in good faith the wishes of the senate."

LaFollette (R., Wis.); Borah (R., Ida.); Norris (R., Neb.); and Clark (D., Mo.), had led the opposition with assertions the senate conferees were prejudiced and made no real effort to retain amendments for full publicity of income tax returns,

Belgian Diplomat Says Action Must Be Forthcoming Or The Small Nations Will Flock To Mussolini

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 13 — The small nations of Europe tonight turned longing eyes toward Rome and a possible bloc under Benito Mussolini's strong arm dictatorship as the big powers, squabbling over war debts, and stabilization, threatened progress of the world economic conference.

"Should the United States, Great Britain and France fail to point the way out of the economic morass at the world economic conference," Emile Francqui, the veteran Belgian diplomat told the Associated Press tonight, "the small nations of Europe will cluster about one sole statesman capable of leadership—Mussolini.

"Il Duce is fostering sensible ideas for United action while the great powers are talking about civilization dropping over the abyss, but doing nothing. The small nations, crying for leadership, will follow Mussolini."

State Launches Case In Murder Trial

Lubbock County Man Tells Of Intimacy With Mrs. Ballard; Discovery Of Poison Is Told

Judge Threatens To Clear Courtroom Unless Order Is Held; Testimony Of John Pettit Is Signal For Many Objections By Attorneys; Defendant May Take Stand To Testify

BY GORDON WEBB
Avalanche Staff Writer

JOHN PETTIT, 31-year-old Lubbock county resident, yesterday in 72nd district court testified of intimacy with Mrs. Julia Ballard, on trial for murder.

The afternoon session also brought out that approximately one-eleventh of a grain of strychnine was found in the viscera of Albert T. Ballard, husband of the defendant, and that Mrs. Ballard wrote a purported "suicide" note after Ballard's body was exhumed.

Order Is Demanded

A packed courtroom heard the trial; aisles were filled. Once Judge Homer L. Pharr threatened to clear the courtroom unless order was maintained. Twelve state witnesses were heard Tuesday, and the trial will continue at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Ballard may take the witness chair. The defendant, middle-aged and wearing a black turban style hat, a green coat suit with lace waist, and black shoes, watched the trial closely. She was wearing horn-rimmed glasses. Light brown hair curled from beneath her hat.

Object To Testimony

Defense attorneys unsuccessfully objected to much of Pettit's testimony, which also involved both defense and prosecution in purported statements made to the witness. Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, was leading the prosecution when Pettit took the stand. After establishing that the witness had stayed at the Ballard home in 1931, Burks asked:

"Did you ever have intercourse with the defendant?"

The witness indicated he did not understand the question. The query was phrased differently. Pettit again said he did not understand. Finally, Burs pencilled one word on his notepad, showed it to Pettit, who replied, "Yeah"

Once Made Denial

Previously Pettit had testified he had not had improper relations with the defendant.

"Is your mind affected?" W. W. Campbell, defense attorney, asked on cross examination.

"Yes, sir," Pettit replied.

"What caused it?"

"Falling off a 40-foot windmill about five years ago."

"This prosecution tried to get you to get the defendant drunk?" Campbell asked.

Whiskey Not Mentioned

"They asked me something, would I go out there."

"Was anything said about whisky?"

"No, sir."

"Did they ask you to get her under the influence of something, ravish her, and get her to tell where she got some poison?"

"Yes, sir."

Burks again took the witness.

"Has some one else been talking to you?" Burks asked.

"Yes."

"What did Lockhart tell you to do, John?"

Stopped By Objection

"He told me to—" Pettit began, and was stopped by objections of G. E. Lockhart, a defense attorney: The audience laughed. The objection overruled, and the question was put again.

"Well, he told me to get up and leave," Pettit replied.

"Did you tell him you were under bond to testify?"

"He said, well, the bond wasn't

President Of WTCC Gives Out Report After A Conference With Relief Officials At National Capital

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Walter D. Cline, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, reported tonight after conferences with various officials here that "no agency in Texas will have the exclusive right to secure or present application for the political subdivision of Texas" under the newly enacted public works-industrial control bill.

"I find that every political subdivision in Texas," he said, "has an equal right to prepare and present application for self liquidating loans through the federal administrator for Texas when appointed by the president or his agents and all applications will receive equal consideration.

No Agency Designated

"No agency in Texas has been officially designated to act for the federal administrator."

Cline's statement was made after a round of conferences with General Hugh Johnson, who has been selected by President Roosevelt to administer the huge act, and senators Sheppard and Connally of Texas.

Reports that he had stated that efforts to consolidate public works in Texas under Lawrence Westbrook, state relief director, had "failed" were denied by Cline.

Telegram Is Quoted

In a telegram sent to Stamford, Texas, he said in part:

Britain Offers Proposal For Settlement Of June 15 War Debt Instalment

Terms Secret Until American Reply Is Received Today

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 13.—Great Britain has sent to Washington a proposal for settlement of the June 15 installment which it believes acceptable to President Roosevelt, Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons tonight, arousing hope that the issue, which has acutely disturbed the world economic conference, would soon be amicably adjusted.

Declaring a full statement would be submitted late tomorrow night after the expected favorable reply from President Roosevelt, Mr. Chamberlain said he was not in a position to disclose at present the terms of the proposals.

Ten Per Cent Payment

In well informed quarters, however, it was asserted the proposed basis of settlement was by payment of ten per cent, with the understanding insisted upon by President Roosevelt that this ratio should not constitute a precedent for a final settlement of the whole problem

(A British note offering a partial payment of the $75,950,000 war debt instalment due Thursday was submitted to the state department at Washington today. An informal proposal somewhat to the same effect on the part of Italy also was presented).

"There has been a lengthy exchange of views between the British government and the United States government," Mr. Chamberlain told an acutely interested house, "and as a result the British ambassador at Washington today handed to the state department a note setting forth the British proposals concerning the June instalment.

Reply Is Expected

"We expect to receive the president's reply tomorrow.

"We have no reason to suppose that it will be other than satisfactory to us but as it has not yet reached us I am not in a position to state its terms."

Patching up of the Anglo-American debt issue was regarded in American delegation quarters tonight as of extreme importance for the success of the conference and American contribution to it.

Cordell Hull, secretary of state, who excited astonishment and anxiety by failing to appear at the plenary session today where he was scheduled to be the first speaker, expected tonight to make his opening declaration of American policy to the conference tomorrow. It was believed his central subject will be tariff reduction.

Massachusetts Joins List Of Repeal States

Delegates Pledged To Repeal Win Smashing Victory In A Contest For Seats; Eleven States Now Wet

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, June 13. — Massachusetts today joined the column of states committeed to repeal of the 18th amendment.

Delegates pledged to repeal won a smashing victory in the contest for seats in a constitutional convention to act on ratification of an amendment to repeal prohibition. It was the 11th state to ratify in effect by election of wet delegates.

Great Gains Made

In each of the 15 congressional districts, from which three delegates were chosen, the wets rolled up huge majorities. Great gains, as compared with elections in years past when prohibition was involved, were made by the wets in all sections of the state, especially in the rural districts.

4 TO 1 VOTE

BOSTON, June 14 (Wednesday) (AP)—Virtually complete returns in a special prohibition repeal election, tabulated shortly after midnight, showed a vote of more than four to one in Massachusetts for repeal of the 18th amendment. The figures for 1685 of the state's 1707 precincts, compiled from the vote cast for congressional district delegates gave:

For repeal, 434,062.
Against repeal, 97,733.

All but a few towns voted on the question of local license and in scores of small towns where in 1924 license was voted down the vote today was in favor of it.

In ratifying repeal, Massachusetts joined Wyoming, Illinois, Indiana, New York, New Jersey, Michigan,

Glass-Steagall Banking Bill Goes To Final Enactment And Is Dispatched To White House

Legislation Carries Plan For Insurance Of Bank Deposits; Is Called "Landmark On Road To Permanent Stabilization Of Banking Structure;" Carries Roosevelt's Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 13—Without a dissenting voice, the Glass-Steagall banking bill—the center of so much dispute in the senate in another session—went through that branch to final enactment today and was dispatched to the White House.

The measure, called by some the most important banking legislation since the enactment of the federal reserve act, came to the senate from a house that a little earlier in the day had given approval to the final draft of conferees by a vote of 191 to 6.

Fund Is Increased

Only a few minutes after passing the measure, the senate added $150,000,000 to the $3,500,000,000 deficiency reconstruction appropriation bill in order to take care of the government's subscription to stock in the bank deposit insurance fund.

The legislation, which carries a plan for insurance of bank deposits, as called by Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich) "a landmark on the road to permanent stabilization of the banking structure."

Designed originally to curb the use of federal reserve credit for speculative purposes, the bill has been enlarged to provide insurance for deposits and other features that its friends believe will bring a unified banking system.

Major Accomplishment

The controversial measure virtually was lifted from its deathbed to become one of the major legislative accomplishments of the recordbreaking special session of congress.

Three days ago it was abandoned by its friends and conceded to be dead, at least for this sesson.

The failure to adjourn Saturday night as planned gave it new life.

Conferees of the house and senate got together in a long meeting yesterday and came to a final agreement upon the wording of the measure.

F. D. R. Gives Approval

President Roosevelt's approval of the bill was foreshadowed during the final debate when Senator Glass (D.-Va.), who has fought unremittingly for the bill for more than two years, told the senate it represented a "complete accord" between the president and the conferees.

The bill provides for insurance of all deposits up to $2,500 beginning January 1, but contains a provision that the president may by proclamation fix an earlier effective date.

President Voices An Appeal To Creditors Of Small Home Owners To Halt Proceedings For Foreclosures

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 13—Voicing an appeal to creditors of small home owners to abstain from foreclosures, President Roosevelt today signed the bill making $2,000,000,000 available for refinancing mortgages.

"It will, of course," he said in a formal statement, "take a little while to set up the machinery necessary to carry the principles of the act into effect.

"In the meantime, I appeal to mortgage creditors and all others who have claims against home owners and ask them, until full opportunity has been given to make effective the refinancing provisions of the home mortgage act, that they abstain from foreclosure proceedings and that they abstain from seeking to dispossess the home owners who are in debt to them."

Vet Problems Are Blocking Plan To Quit

Partial Conference Report Is Sent Back To Committee For Reinsertion Of Amendment; Funds Are Involved

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Veterans' affairs, which have become inseparably mixed with adournment plans of the extra session of congress, prevented members from packing up tonight for the journey home.

On a vote that did not reach the vital point at issue, the senate sent the partial conference report agreed upon for the independent offices supply bill back to a committee of house and senate members for the reinsertion of an amendment affecting veterans which the senate had put into the bill.

Appropriation Involved

A one million dollar appropriation was involved. It would provide for turning over to sick veterans, regardless of the origin of their infirmities, any beds now empty in veterans' hospitals.

Leaders, who were driving for adjournment tonight, gave up all hope after the senate had voted, 48 to 31, to demand that the amendment be put back into the bill. They adjourned the senate until 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Still remaining to be settled was the row between President Roosevelt and the senate over whether veterans' compensations should be further liberalized.

Have Clear Slate

The house, after many hours of idling, waiting for the senate to wind up its work, was in session when the senate quit. House members had a clear legislative slate and were ready for school to let out.

Remaining to be settled, too, before the senate could call its session's work done, was an argument raised by senate Republicans over whether the presidential order to cut by 25 per cent the agriculture experimental work of the government should be put into effect.

Scholastic Gain Seen In Lubbock

Gain of more than 300 scholastics for 1933 over the 1932 total, was reported yesterday by Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of schools.

Scholastics this year will be 10,555, compared to 10,232 for 1932. The increase means several thousand dollars more to Lubbock county schools from the state school fund, based on the scholastic population.

Figures for the several districts, including Lubbock, Slaton and Idalou, the independent districts and the rural districts, were not announced.

State Demo Chairman Urges A Clean Campaign In Pending Repeal Battles

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, June 13. — Maury Hughes, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, urged the waging of a "clean campaign" in which the drys would refrain from accusing wets of being "in the pay of brewers" and the wets would refrain from calling the drys "fanatics," in addressing today the organization meeting of the Texas Liberal Legion for this senatorfal district.

Other speakers praised the repeal objective of the Legion in the August 26 election referendum on ratification of repeal of the eighteenth amendment and legalization of 3.2 per cent beer in Texas.

John M. Mathis, sr., of Houston, state chairman of the repeal organization, asked that repealists register such a majority in the election that "it will be many long years before the subect ever again is agitated in Texas."

Harry P. Lawther, Dallas attorney, was elected district chairman.

Rep. Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas was introduced as one of the authors of the repeal convention bill and in a brief talk, she said she was proud of the part she had in drafting the legislation.

Series Of Parties For Younger Set Continues; Club Party Is Given

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

HERE'S encouragement for the June brides who are disappointed because they can't start housekeeping in their own homes with nice furniture, plenty of money with which to buy household furnishings and all the rest.

The other evening I was talking to a bride of several seasons ago. She got married after that "crash" when salaries had been cut and everyone was feeling the pinch of hard times. Because money was so scarce she has been teaching school since she married in order to supplement her husband's salary. The couple has watched for bargains and considered long before investing in furnishings and other things. They now have their own furniture, including a radio and other luxuries, and many of the other things they wanted when they started housekeeping.

And, looking back now they believe that this working together for things has been the pleasantest part of their married life.

Most people long for a house of their own with a yard and garden. Most people want to use their own things they love but these things are not essential to happiness.

So this is passed along for the June brides. You may not have many things you have always thought you would treasure but you, too, may have the happiness this couple has had in working together for them.

THEY CAN'T WHISTLE

THERE is a general supposition that, while whistling women come to no good end, all men are endowed with the ability to pucker their lips and call forth musical notes. However, you might be surprised at the number of men and boys who will admit a bit shamefacedly that they do not possess this ability.

Having gone thus far in life without ever having been able to manage one whistle, I find it necessary to do my across-street signaling by proxy. When I want to attract attention of the woman who is strolling down the opposite side of the road, I call on a newsboy or some member of the staff to do my whistling. This happens several times in the course of a year and nine times out of ten the man can't whistle.

THOSE WHO SUFFER

THERE have been some sufferers during the financial panic of the last few years who have not inspired much sympathy, but there have been others, victims of circumstances, who have elicited much.

There are the old men, for instance, who should have been able by now to retire and live on the interest of their earlier earnings or to go to some son or daughter and expect a comfortable home in their declining years. Yet so many of these men have been forced to seek the hardest manual labor to do—digging ditches when their backs have become stiff and weak, helping with paving or making endless rounds of the city picking up trash.

There have been, too, the small boys who have peddled everything from ice cream to needles about from office to office, hoping to make a few dimes during the week.

Now that it is summer time, these little boys are making their rounds again. Many of them are selling candy that their mothers have made. One today is carrying a heavy can of ice cream from building to building. Before the end of the summer there will have been scores of these small salesmen in.

Some of the youngsters are making spending money. Others are trying to do their part in helping to buy groceries for younger brothers and sisters. If Presidents are made from such stuff as this, we should have a lot of men in a few years ready for the chief executive's office.

EVER HEAR OF A CONSTIPATED COW? NO — AND HERE'S WHY—

Goodbye harsh physics —injurious laxatives

Most people know that constipation is generally due to nothing but sluggish liver. The liver manufactures a liquid called the bile, which is Nature's own purgative. When not enough bile flows regularly into your bowels, you are constipated.

Yet ordinary physics and laxatives never touch the liver. They simply irritate the bowels into violent flushing. So scientists have studied to find a natural, non-poisonous liver aid.

Now the cow has given them what is needed. They have taken natural bile from the livers of healthy cattle. It quickly starts your own liver working right, banishing constipation.

This natural bile is now put up in convenient little tablets called Kompo and Bile Salts tablets, and if you want to end constipation and quit taking habit-forming physics and laxatives, get Kompo Tablets from your druggist today. Results guaranteed, or every cent back.

SPECIAL FREE OFFER: Clip out this offer and mail it to us with your name and address and a small trial package of Kompo Tablets will be sent you absolutely FREE. Kompo Company, Dept. R22, Atlanta, Ga.

Boxing Bill Signed By Governor; Prizefighting Legal On August 31

Dempsey Urged To Bring Next Bout To Texas

Boxing For Money Returns To Texas After 38 Years; Jack Flynn To Be Boxing "Czar" For The State

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 13.—Prize fighting, barred from Texas for almost two score years, will be legal again August 31.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today signed a bill legalizing the sport and placing regulation of boxing and wrestling under the state labor commissioner.

Exhibitions in which participants received money or other valuable considerations have been barred in Texas since 1895 when Governor Charles A. Culberson convened the legislature in special session to outlaw prizefighting. Governor Culberson acted to prevent a scheduled championship bout between James J. Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons and threatened to use his powers as commander of the militia if an effort was made to hold the fight in defiance of the law.

Recent Governors Upheld Law

The bill will permit matches in which the participants receive money or any other remuneration. Prizefighting had been permitted in many localities, however, in spite of the law. Former Governors Dan Moody and R. S. Sterling sent Texas rangers to several cities to stop ring exhibitions.

Jack Flynn, labor commissioner, who will be Texas' boxing "czar," said a proposition had been submitted to Jack Dempsey to hold the proposed Jack Sharkey-Max Baer bout in Texas. Flynn said he and Dick Griffin of Fort Worth had talked to Dempsey and hoped to arrange the bout for this fall.

Dempsey probably will come to Texas late in June or early in July to discuss the proposal, Flynn said.

"There is no reason why Texas, with 6,000,000 people, wouldn't be a good place to stage the fight," Flynn said.

Flynn had received approximately 100 applications for promoters licenses before Governor Ferguson signed the bill. He started immediately to prepare application blanks for promoters, managers and boxers and wrestlers.

Assurance From Dempsey

The bill was sponsored by Representatives George Butler, of Bryan and W. E. Clayton of El Paso and Senator Albert Stone of Brenham.

Butler said during debate on the proposed act that he had assurance from Dempsey that he would promote a championship match in Texas immediately after the act became effective.

The labor commissioner will have power to draft regulations governing ring matches, but will be required to make them conform to the rules prescribed by the National Boxing and Wrestling association. Violation of the rules would subject the offender to suspension.

Non-championship matches will be restricted to ten, three-minute rounds. Championship bouts may go 15 rounds. Mixed matches will be prohibited.

Boxers and wrestlers will be required to undergo a physical examination two hours before entering the ring by a physician licensed by the commissioner. A physician will attend every match.

Managers will be charged $25 for annual licenses. The annual license fee for boxers and wrestlers will be $5. Promoters license fees will vary according to the size of the city in which the promoter operates.

The state will collect a tax of three percent of the gross gate receipts.

The winning San Antonio run was unearned. Engle, on a fielder's choice, went to second on a bad throw and to third on interferences to score on Bejma's infield hit.

STRAIGHT ARMS HELP CLUB 'EM STRAIGHT

An old golf teacher once said, "Straight arms help to make straight shots." Straight arms throughout the shot are an assurance that the club will travel in the same arc ascending and descending. When the club is brought down you must attempt to swing it so the clubhead will travel in the same path.

Especially the left arm must be kept straight throughout the swing.

Any bend at impact will lessen the measured distance to the ball, causing half hit or topped shots.

Many golfers will argue the fact that some stars bend the left arm at the top of the backswing. This is true, but close observation will reveal that the arm has straightened before there is impact with the ball.

After impact, as the club follows through, later being carried around to the left, the left arm should be allowed to bend. The action of the right arm throughout the swing is identical with the left but reversed.

Washington Measures Athletics In 10-6 Win; Whitlow Wyatt Gives Up Lone Hit To Win For Chisox Over Browns

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, June 13.—Allen "Dusty" Cooke, who was once a member of the Yankees, paced the Boston Red Sox to a 6-5 victory over the New Yorkers today.

Cooke drove in four runs, including the winning tallies, as Lloyd Brown bested Denny MacFayden on the hill. Cooke's home run with Rabbit Warstler on base in the seventh inning was the deciding blow. He sent one mate home with a double in the third and another with an infield out in the fifth.

Lou Gehrig walloped his fourteenth home run of the season with Babe Ruth on base in the first inning to gain a tie with Ruth and Jimmie Foxx of the Athletics for the major league lead.

GROVE IS TOO LATE

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP) — Some prodigious ball pounding by a trio of Nationals against a pair of Philadelphia pitchers today gave Washington its second straight victory over the Athletics, 10-6, pushing the Senators a game nearer the league leading Yankees.

The famous Move Grove came in as a third Philadelphia hurler to put on one of his relief acts, limiting the Nationals to one hit in the inning he worked, but by that time the game was lost and his toil went for nothing.

Heinie Manush, "Goose" Goslin and Manager Joe Cronin stole the show. Manush enjoyed a perfect day, with five hits in as many attempts, two of his blows being doubles. Goslin was not far behind with a homer and two doubles in four tries, while Cronin had a double and a single.

Cramer for Philadelphia pounded out a triple, double and singlie in five tries while Johnson had two doubles, but the Athletics were outslugged and suffered the misfortune of that seventh inning.

INDIANS BLANK TIGERS

DETROIT, June 13 (AP) — A fine pitching duel between Oral Hildebrand and Tommy Bridges which saw but four men reach third base in the entire game, ended in a 1-0 victory for the Cleveland Indians in a series opener with Detroit here today.

The winning score came in the ninth when Vosmik tripled and scored on Pytlak's single. Hildebrand set the Detroit batters down with two hits.

It was the Indians' second consecutive shutout victory under Walter Johnson's management.

WYATT ALLOWS ONE HIT

CHICAGO, June 13 (AP)—A clean single by Ted Gullic after two were out in the ninth inning today cheated John Whitlow Wyatt, 24-year old righthander out of an o-hit game, as the Chicago White Sox defeated St. Louis 6-1.

Wyatt, obtained from Detroit recently in a straight trade which sent Vic Frasier to the Tigers, had yielded a run in the third, chiefly due to his own wildness, but as far as hits were concerned, there was nothing like one until the Brownie third baseman, with the count one ball, and one strike, laced one that was just too far away from Luke Appling to knock down, over second.

The White Sox, meanwhile, cracked Hank McDonald, Sam Gray and Rolland Stiles for 14 hits, with Gray the chief sufferer.

Spec Goldman Is Medalist In Dallas Invitation Play

DALLAS, June 13 (AP)—While Miss Alice Kenny, his future bride, followed him, David "Spec" Goldman, defending champion, shot even par today to win medalist honors in the ninth annual Dallas Country Club Invitation tournament. Goldman went out in 37 and breezed home in 35 for 72.

It was a day of high scoring. The rigidly trapped course, treacherous putting greens and a fairly strong wind sent scores extremely high. Johnny Dawson, crack Chicago amateur, carded an 80. Gus Moreland, Texas, Western amateur and Trans-Mississippi, registered a 77 and said he was glad to get it. Reynolds Smith, Dallas champion, barely made the championship flight with a 79. Louis Nowlin, tremendous hatting youngster who last week won the Fort Worth River Crest invitation with a 2-up victory over Elliott Hatch, qualified with a 75 to be one of the few who scored low.

AMONG the AMATEURS

BY ADAM DUBB

J. W. BYRNE, professional of the Lubbock Meadowbrook golf course says he wished that ALL golf players would play according to Hoyle and not according to him. This is no reflection upon Mr. Byrne's lessons in golf; he is referring to teeing up in rough, playing the best ball, etc. "Play according to the rules of the game and every golfer will be better off," Mr. Byrne concluded.

The C. C. professional, Paul Denson, asks the question: "Where is your hip when you hit your wood shots?" You answer that one—I am worrying about the ball (which is every dubber's privilege).

ONE, J. W. BRANCH, who started for the first time, playing golf at the Meadowbrook on March 5th, is now shooting in the neighborhood of 85 or better—how do some of you 10-year-old yokels feel? When they say golf is 90 per cent mental—that should make any 90 or 100 shooter mad.

Dave Slag says that he is now even with No. 6 at the Meadowbrook, which is one of the hardest par holes on the course. Don't quit, Mr. Slag, now that you have conquered what you thought was the inevitable—you know history repeats.

BILL McMILLAN has a four-man caddy team that he thinks can take the Country club team to a cleaning. How about it Paul? Do we hear a rebuttal from you?

Ladies' day is supposed to be observed at the Lubbock Country club tomorrow but from all the golf that the women have put in the past week—the turnout looks pretty slim.

THIS IS not supposed to be made public and I place it in this column in strict confidence. The talk around the buzzard's roost is that the Lubbock Country club is trying or going o try to get Gus Moreland to play an exhibition match here during the Invitation tournament July 1 to 4. It would be quite a publicity stunt, if possible.

Erwin Laxton, North Carolina's state amateur golf champion, has added the Southern conference golf title to his collection.

Braves Beaten By Leaders As Vergez Shines

Dizzy Dean Wins Seventh Of Season For Cards; Dodgers Lose Second Straight Tilt To Philadelphia, 15-4

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 13. — Johnny Vergez atoned for making three errors of the seven charged to the Giants today by walloping a double in the eighth inning to drive in two runs and give New York a 6-3 victory over the Boston Braves. He scored the third run of the winning rally on Gus Mancuso's third hit of the game.

Carl Hubbell helped keep the Giants out of trouble in spite of their wretched fielding.

CARDS TAKE CLOSE ONE

ST. LOUIS, June 13 (AP) — Dizzy Dean won a pitching duel with Steve Swetonic and the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates today, 4-3, in the third game of the series.

The Cardinals thus retained their second place position and gained a game on the Pirates who now are in third place a game and a half behind the Cards.

The victory was the seventh of the season for Dean against five defeats.

The game was tight up until the dramatic ninth inning, when, with the score 3-1 against them, the Pirates rallied. Lindstrom singled and Suhr hit a home run to tie the score.

It was Dean's safe bunt toward third that helped the Cards win the game in their half. Wilson opened the inning by drawing a pass, Durocher bunted to Suhr and both runners were safe when Suhr threw low to second. Dean then laid down a perfect bunt to fill the bases. Then Martin sent a long fly to Lindstrom and Wilson scored the winning run after the catch.

PHILS SMASH DODGERS

PHILADELPHIA, June 13 (AP) — The Phillies continued their assaults on the Brooklyn pitching staff today to make it two straight over the Dodgers with a 15 to 4 victory. The Phils piled up 20 hits against four Brooklyn pitchers. Chuck Klein hit four singles and his 19th double of the season in six trips to the plate.

Big Ed Holley never was in trouble after the Phils slapped Walter Beck for four runs in the first inning to give him a lead.

REDS NOSE OUT CUBS

CINCINNATI, June 13 (AP)—Lon Warneke encountered the old Red jinx that has followed him this season and the Cubs today lost a close game to Cincinnati by a score of 2-1.

It was Warneke's fifth loss this season and the fourth time the Reds have taken his measure. Paul Derringer kept the Cubs under control, allowing but six hits.

Cincinnati .... 101 000 00x—2 8 0

Baseball men declare that if Red Lucas of the Cincinnati Reds were pitching for a pennant contender opponents would be lucky to lick him five times a season.

Several members of the New York Yankees studied lip-reading this spring in hopes of being able to intercept some of the signals, or instructions, of opposing coaches.

Bobby Brown, freshman pitching sensation of the Boston Braves last season, is riding the bench this spring with a sore arm.

Will Turnesa Steals The Day As Amateur Goblins Pursue Professional Men

Hagen's Ryder Cup Outfit Loses In Exhibition Tilt

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 13—Still pursued, as it were, by amateur goblins, Capt. Walter Hagen and his Ryder Cup forces, already smarting under the setback administered to them by 23-year-old Johnny Goodman at Chicago in the Open championship, yielded the spotlight today in a series of charity matches to a 17-year-old high school lad, Willie Turnesa.

The professional team, mustering its full strength of ten home breds for the first time, won four out of five best-ball foursomes against a picked team of metropolitan amateurs led by Jess W. Sweetser, but young Turnesa stole the show. He shot the best round of the afternoon, an even par 71 over the 6800-yard Metropolitan club course, and paired with the home club champion, Howard Bergman, to beat Horton Smith of Chicago and Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del, 2 and 1.

Sarazen Shoots 72

Young Turnesa, four of whose brothers are professional golfers, shot spectacular golf. He was in only one trap, on the 15th hole, and then finished brilliantly to beat the best score made by any of the Ryder Cup aces, Gene Sarazen, and Densmore Shute of Philadelphia each posted 72; to dvide the $300 prize money offered the professionals.

The professionals had comparatively little trouble winning the other four matches, although Sarazen, the British open champion, and Olin Dutra, P. G. A. title holder, never had much working margin in defeating George J. Voight and Eddie Driggs, 2 and 1.

Hagen Is Winner

Two former champions, Max Marston and Jess Sweetser, fell before the steady shot making of Captain Hagen and Paul Runyan, 5 and 4. The professionals were 5 up at the turn and never threatened.

Billy Burke, newly named to the Ryder Cup squad, combined with Denny Shute to defeat the Yale pair, Sidney W. Noyes, jr., and John E. Parker, jr., 5 and 4, while Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., and Leo Diegel of Detroit, took the measure of Gene Homans and Leonard Martin, 4 and 3. Homans faltered after an out-going 35, even par.

The matches combined as a farewell workout for the professional team, which leaves Wednesday night on the Aquitania for England, and a benefit for the P. G. A. unemployment fund. Approximately $1500 was raised, including a $500 donation by the Metropolitan club.

Allen Calls For Hubber Workout This Afternoon

Sled Allen, new manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, who managed the Lubbock club before many of the present players were wearing spiked shoes, has called a workout for the local South Plains league team this afternoon. The drill, first of a series of three drills per week, will be held at the City Park field, North Avenue H, at 5:30 o'clock.

Manager Allen is particularly anxious for all the Hubber players to report this afternoon. He also welcomes all other players who desire to try out for the club. The Hubbers meet Tahoka, the South Plains League leaders, here Sunday afternoon.

Junior Baseball League Idea Is Encouraged Here

Potential organization of a junior baseball league in Lubbock was discussed and met with favorable indications last night when representatives of the four service clubs here met at Hotel Hilton and outlined additional work of organization.

Introduced by the American Business club and quickly encouraged by the Kiwanis, Rotarian and Lions clubs, the junior league idea will be definitely rejected or accepted when the committee of delegates meets again next Tuesday night for a final consideration.

According to the plan, each of the four civic clubs will sponsor a team of boys in a four-club league. Membership on the teams will be limited to local boys not over 17 years of age. The sponsoring organizations will provide each team with uniforms and playing equipment and be responsible for the conduct of the teams. The city would be divided into quarters, according to the distribution of eligible players, with each service club taking over a section and organizing a ball club in that division.

Utilities Team Beats Gassers In First Game

Winners Score Only In Second Inning To Win 4-1 Victory As Soft Ball League Season Opens At Fair Park

Scoring all their runs in the second inning, the Texas Utilities team defeated the West Texas Gas company outfit, 4 to 1, in the first game of the Lubbock Playground baseball league season.

The game was played at the Fair Park field and witnessed by approximately 200 fans.

Hack Galey, Art Chase, Ralph Brock and Smyer brought in the winning runs for the Utilities club. Leach scored in the seventh inning for the Gassers' only tally. Ralph Brock, pitching for the Utilities team, tossed them over in veteran fashion, and was supported by a crew of hustling fielders.

Roy McKinney tossed 'em over for the Gas company, and was airtight except in the second inning when the four runs were made.

The lineups:

Meinecke vs. J. and J.

In today's game, Meinecke Brothers Hardware company will clash with the J. and J. Sporting Goods team at 6:15 o'clock. The game will be at Fair Park and is free to the public.

In other games this week, the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company team takes on the Lubbock Auto company Thursday afternoon and City Hall meets Kuykendall Chevrolet company Friday.

In exhibition, or practice games yesterday, the Avalanche-Journal lost by a narrow margin to the Kuykendall Chevrolet company team and City Hall won over Lubbock Auto company.

The Utah Umpires' and Scorers' association and the Salt Lake Federation of Amateur Athletics sponsor an indoor baseball school at which youngsters are given text book baseball instruction.

Bob Ripley Returns To U. S. After A 24,000-Mile Jaunt; Has Many Oddities For Avalanche Readers

Adds 20 New Lands To List Which He Has Paid Visit

BELIEVE it or not, Bob Ripley, the famous "Believe It or Not" artist whose drawings are a feature of The Morning Avalanche, has journeyed 24,000 miles in the last year in search of the incredible, using every mode of both modern and ancient conveyance — 15,000 miles by airplane, 8,000 miles by boat, 1,000 miles by train and short hops on camels, donkeys, wagons, autos and on foot, trekking through jungle wilds.

His plump notebooks crowded with future astonishment for Morning Avalanche readers, his luggage bulging with motion picture film and "stills," his trunks loaded down with curios, Bob Ripley traveled from Cairo to the Cape in so-called "Darkest Africa," crossed over from Capetown to Buenos Aires, and winged his way northward over the South American continent.

Arrives In New York

His arrival in New York last week brings to a close the richest and most adventurous search for "queeriodities" of his entire career.

From Africa and South America Ripley brings home a collection of incredible facts he wouldn't believe himself if he hadn't seen them with his own eyes. His alert and candid cameras supply the proof which will silence all who doubt.

Although Bob Ripley has been nearly everywhere seeking the strange and the bizarre, during this journey he added 20 new countries to his long list of lands visited. To date, he has ransacked 151 different countries in all.

There are not many places left for Ripley to visit, but he is not at all worried about eventual dearth of queeriodities. Using the African and South American foray alone, he is confident he could go along being a little more surprising every day in his drawings for some years to come.

Cairo to Capetown, Africa, was fruitful for the man who tells you the truth whether you believe it or not. Rip encountered an African tribe where all the children's two front teeth must be pulled at an early age to permit them to learn their language, which would be unpronounceable with a normal set of teeth.

They Drink Blood

Ripley encountered the Massai in Kenya, the bravest and most bloodthirsty of all African tribes. The Massai tribesmen actually drink the blood from their living animals whose veins they tap for this purpose, believing that this drink gives them strength and courage.

In Elizabethville, Congo, he found ant hills so high they are used for garages. These ants are termites that build mounds 20 feet high. Some of the ant hills reached a height of 40 feet and extended the same distance underground.

Ripley encountered a tribe of natives, the Shilluks, whose average height is seven feet. He saw cockroaches the size of mice in Lualaba; sausages growing on trees in Mombassa, and women with tails in the Congo. Here the married women wear tails of grass instead of wedding rings. He also met the Kavirondi who spit on you by way of being respectful in greeting; Mugabe, the King of Ankole, only three feet tall but measured six feet around the waist; and the virgins of Mount Elgon who wear heavy armor around their chests during the period of their adolescence so that their hearts may be protected against the darts of their Love God.

Olympic games contestants and aspirants can well note the feat of a certain tribe encountered by Rip in the wilds of Africa. The modern Marco Polo visited the gigantic warriors of King Mazinga who can break by a generous margin the Olympic jumping records.

Ripley himself was amazed when he came across the chief of Kasongo who sits on a human throne. The chief is not permitted to sit on the ground. The twelve youngest of his harem women build a throne out of their own bodies for the chief to rest upon.

Africa, Ripley finds, is one of the strangest countries on earth, but he has no use for the so-called big-game hunters.

Attack When Wounded

"Big game hunting in Africa is about as exciting as riding in your own automobile and shooting cows," he said. "There is not an animal in Africa that will attack a man—unless wounded.

"Many people think the lion is the king of beasts. He is not. The bravest of animals is not the lion, but the buffalo. The only reason animals get the reputation of being wild and attacking people is that sometimes they get nervous and run the wrong way.

"And, as for the ferocious tigers of Africa—Believe it or not, the only tigers in Africa are in cages. The tiger's natural habitat is exclusively the continent of Asia. It can be found outside Asia only in a captive state."

Finds Large Jungles

Leaving Africa for South America Ripley found many natural curiosities in the continent below us—jungles as large as the state of Texas, waterfalls twice as high as Niagara, a village inside the volcano of Saba, and a lake of asphalt in Trinidad large enough to pave all the streets of all the capitals of Europe and America.

The starting point of the South American flight was Buenos Aires, the "Paris" of that vast continent. There Ripley visited the "City of the Dead"—Recoleta — a graveyard without graves. It is a crowded city of mausoleums of surpassing beauty that rivals the famous cemetery of Milan.

Devil's Island Beautiful

Ripley was a bit startled to find that there were only 6 prisoners on Devil's Island, in French Guiana, and that Devil's Island is a beautiful place—nothing horrible about it.

Ripley also found that there was no crime in the city of Cavenne and that one could leave a $5 gold piece on the sidewalk with his name on it and it would not be touched in any way. In the Penal Colony he found a daily newspaper written and bound and published entirely by hand, all by one man.

Believe it or not, the thing that surprised Ripley most was that his fame had preceded him to many of the assumedly out-of-the-way places on his itinerary. Of course the most remarkable discovery of the trip cannot be revealed now!

Can it be that he has found one of the lost tribes? Or has he discovered the secret of the Sphinx's silence?

LEFT: Believe-It-Or-Not, this highly decorated apparition is what answers your call for a cab in Durban, South Africa. Artist Ripley is seen lounging in the rickishaw pulled by this impressive cabbie. CENTER: In a remote region of Sudan, Ripley comes across the Shillikuks, a tribe whose members average 7 feet in height. Ripley, himself a six-footer, is shown with a medium-sized Shillikuk. RIGHT: Ripley observes the punishment of an African killer. His tribe has sentenced him to be chained to a heavy ebony log which he must drag with him for the rest of his life.

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

This week Friday the Ford Motor Company completes 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit——which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share——everyone must get it for himself——and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

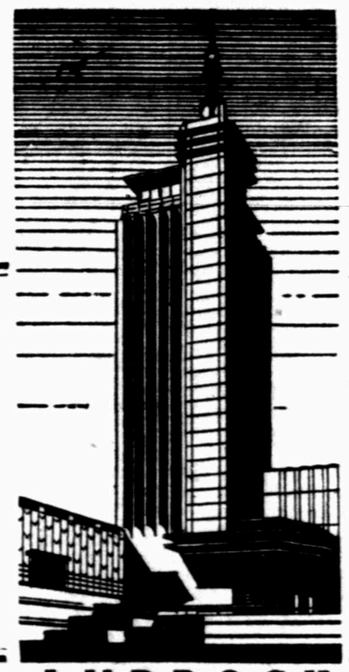

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive——their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.

Rising Prices And Wages

WILL wage advances keep pace with the rising prices of commodities is a question of vital importance to millions of workers in the United States—along with the thousands in Lubbock and over the South Plains.

Most wage earners and salaried employes who have suffered steep cuts in pay since the depression struck the country found some compensation in the fact that the prices of food and clothing and most other things which they had to buy declined along with their pay. The cuts, therefore, were not felt severely in many cases.

Now that prices have begun to rise, a cause for worry is presented.

It is an encouraging fact, however, that in many industries recognition has been taken of this situation and increases in pay have been given employees. This was made possible by the revival of business which manufacturers and others are beginning to experience. There are almost daily reports of from 5 to 10 per cent increases in pay being given.

William Green, president of the American federation of labor, takes a skeptical view of this situation and points out that where increases have been made the employees previously had suffered cuts ranging from 40 to 50 per cent.

He probably is right in this statement. Nevertheless, it remains a fact that few if any of the concerns which found it necessary to make such steep cuts could restore the old scales fully at this time by a single increase. Most cuts were made gradually. Restoration of the former rates probably will have to come by like stages.

The mere fact that many employers this early in what appears to be the beginning of business recovery have begun to raise wages must be taken as a very encouraging sign. It has come to be generally recognized that high wages are important to prosperity. The more money workers have to spend, the greater is the demand for products.

There may be some employers who will be slow in restoring former wages, but there are indications that generally this will not be the case. It should be remembered that many industrial plants still are in the red. These must have time to get back on a profitable basis of operation.

BOYCOTT THREATENED

A Chinese boycott of Japanese goods was one of the admitted causes of Japan's invasion of China.

Now Japanese spinners are threatening to boycott Indian cotton in retaliation for the action of the British government in canceling the Indo-Japanese trade agreement as preliminary to increasing tariffs on Japanese cloth.

The Tokyo government has given no indorsement to the proposal. The foreign office says if the spinners carry out their threat it will be without the government's consent. But will the government take any steps to prevent it? Apparently not.

The Chinese boycotted Japanese goods because they believed Japan was pursuing an unjust policy toward their country. The Japanese spinners are threatening action against Indian cotton because they think the British government has acted unjustly.

Should the boycott threat be carried out, would Japan consider Great Britain justified in sending any army into Japan and seizing part of the latter? Hardly. Yet, the British would be doing what the Japanese are doing in China.

OLD CARS A PERIL

There is little surprise in the finding of the Travelers Insurance company that the number of automobiles with defective brakes, tires, lights or steering mechanism in fatal accidents increased 40 per cent during the first four months of the present year.

The insurance company based its conclusion on an examination of automobile fatality figures covering this period.

The situation, of course, reflects one of many phases of the depression. Persons unable to buy new cars have continued to operate their old ones and without having needed repairs made. The insurance company's figures showed an increase of 29 per cent in the number of cars with defective brakes involved in accidents causing one or more deaths, 33 per cent in the number of those having wornout tires, 60 per cent in the number with defective lights and 25 per cent in those whose steering mechanism was faulty.

There are signs that replacement of old cars is beginning to be made, but it will be a good while before the process is completed.

Faith still lives in the world: Otherwise the umpire would wear another mask on the top of his head.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

FEW people can out-talk Mr. Roosevelt. He is at his best when he meets his opponents face to face.

The way he put over the labor amendments in the Railroad bill without saying a public word about them is a good illustration of how he works.

There was strong opposition to those amendments. The railroads were fighting mad. More important were the objections lodged by Chairman Sam Rayburn of the House committee and Joseph Eastman who is to administer the law. Rayburn could have killed the bill. He instigated a private meeting with the president. Eastman was present. They were to persuade Mr. Roosevelt that the labor amendments were unfeasible.

Fifteen minutes later they came out of the conference pledged to the Roosevelt plan.

Little birds who sat in the window during those meetings say Mr. Roosevelt let Rayburn talk. He was pleasant and did not argue.

When Rayburn had concluded the President threw up his hands saying in effect: "You fellows better get together behind those amendments." Rayburn was required to champion the amendments on the floor of the House. He is a very capable man and did his job thoroughly, if somewhat reluctantly.

Eastman was not as strongly opposed to the amendments as Rayburn. It was easier for him to swallow the pill.

The railroads did not feel any better about it when they lost their fight against the bill. They may cooperate with the administration and then again they may not. Their spokesmen whisper they will probably go along with Eastman only when it is to their advantage to do so.

Increased traffic is already encouraging them to cease mourning about the legislation. Loadings last week were 541,000 cars. That is astounding. Usually business drops off the last week in May on a summer decline. This time it increased. Movements of grain, lumber and manufactured products is largely responsible. People are buying out of season now because they fear prices will be higher later on.

But no matter how happy the railroads get, you may be sure they will not bend any ties to help the program along.

The prospects now point to some measure of success of the program, but not very much. Economies will be wrought but nothing like the economies Mr. Roosevelt had in mind six weeks back.

BRITAIN: New York hears that British political circles are wondering whether Prime Minister MacDonald will be eased out by way of a "promotion" to the House of Lords. It is freely predicted that there will be some reconstruction of the government before the end of the year.

Reports have been received here that Britain's seasonal trade improvement is three times normal. The number of ships passing through the port of London is said to be higher than it has been for years. The net tonnage of vessels leaving British ports for abroad in March showed a gain over the corresponding month a year earlier for the first time in three years.

The inside reason for England's determination not to stabilize the pound is her fear of a wholesale withdrawal of the gold which American, French and other hoarders have stored away in her vaults. Administration circles here have been privately told that British reluctance to stabilize cannot be overcome without assurance that the pound will not be left at the mercy of such withdrawals.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE New York banks had it all figured out how to get around the Vandenberg amendment if it had gone through. The insurance fund was to have been raised by direct levies against accounts of less than $2,500. Several banks actually had announcements printed and ready to send out that deposits below $2,500 were no longer acceptable. That would have let them out of contributing to the fund and they would not have minded losing the small business.

National banks are cooperating with the government by using the note issue privilege much more freely. Circulation of national bank currency has increased sharply in the past few weeks.

HARRIMAN: An R. F. C. loan to the Harriman bank to pay off 50 per cent of deposits was practically set a week ago. Then it occurred to the lawyers who are really running the bank's affairs that something should be tacked on to the loan to meet expenses of contesting lawsuits—especially the suit to undo the merger with the Liberty National. The R.F.C. couldn't see it. That's why the depositors still haven't been paid a nickel.

TAMMANY: New York Democrats will be treated to a surprise. According to intimates of John McCooey, the powerful Brooklyn boss, alderman "Tommy" Ryan is about to receive the choice Federal plum of Appraiser of the Port.

This is no help and comfort for Tammany Hall, because Ryan recently has been designated privately as crown prince for the Brooklyn leadership by McCooey himself. Power piles up on that side of the river.

BRITAIN: Financial leaders here have figures to show that there is more money on deposit in English banks today than there has ever been before.

London financial circles say that a great part of this money is "bad money," in the sense that it is foreign hoardings which may be withdrawn at any moment. It is arriving daily by sea and air.

GOLD: Confidential reports from Holland, Belgium and Switzerland show that as a result of gold hoarding the amount of gold per capita in those countries has risen from a normal level of about ten dollars to fifty dollars.

GERMANY: The index of the new German secret political police is filling rapidly with names of "suspects." Anyone who is considered "unreliable" in his attitude toward the new regime can be sure to get special attention from Goehring's G. P. U. Many American names are in this file, especially newspaper publishers and editors.

A Nazi deputy recently made a speech proclaiming that the party would not rest "until the German flag floats in every corner of the Reich, on the royal chateau at Poznan, at Kattowice, at Danzig, in the cities of Alsace and Lorraine, in Schleswig and in Austria."

Substantial German business men visiting New York will tell you the same thing quite gravely, if occasion offers.

SIDELIGHTS: The Security bill has cramped the style of the boys who write brokerage house market letters. . . . Some houses are considering cutting them out entirely. . . . Brokers' branch offices which cater largely to women have been especially active lately. . . . The ladies line up to watch the board as they did in '29.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE STANDARD POWER OF A HORSE.

When Watt and Boulton were making observations to aid them in the indication of the power of their steam engines, they found that the strong dray horses, employed by the London breweries, were able to work 8 hours a day, lifting 22,000 pounds, 1 foot high per minute. To this quantity the two inventors arbitrarily added another half, or 11,000 pounds, creating the standard horsepower unit of 33,000 foot pounds a minute. Thus the actual power of Watt's horses was in truth 2-3 of a horsepower. The record lifting power is held by a team of Iowa horses each of which proved capable of 13 1-2 horsepower in a minute.

Several Members Of 43rd Legislature Are Described As Being Adept In Art

AUSTIN, June 13 (AP)—The membership of the 43rd Texas legislature contained several well versed in the arts.

Reps. W. E. Jones of Jourdanton and George W. Winningham were capable writers of verse. They, with Rep. J. C. Duvall of Fort Worth, were named on a committee to select the state poet laureate who will serve the next two years.

Rep. J. Manley Head of Granbury, who resigned as school superintendent in a small town to run for the legislature, is an accomplished singer. He worked his way through teachers' college by singing in choirs and at entertainments.

One of the three blind members, Rep. Lon E. Alsup of Carthage, is a good pianist and often was in demand to play after the day's work was over.

Rep. Emory B. Camp of Rockdale surprised his colleagues when he borrowed a trumpet and made an impromptu appearance with the University of Texas Longhorn band at one of the house ceremonies. By request of the house, Camp was "spotted" as a soloist in one of the numbers. He received voluminous applause.

Given a sharp knife and a piece of wood, Rep. Howard C. Hartzog of Port Lavaca can carve almost anything. Many members prevailed on Hartzog to carve initials in their pipes.

Brother Of Mrs. Mitchell Seized With Heart Attack

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—Joseph P. Rend of Chicago, brother of Mrs. Charles E. Mitchell and defense witness in the trial of her husband on charges of income tax evasion, was seized with a heart attack last night and unable to return to the witness stand when court convened today.

Last night Rend, on the stand only about five minutes, testified he was a "man of means" and Max Steuer of defense counsel, told the court and jury that he intended to prove that Mrs. Mitchell had at her disposal the resources of her brother, had she been called upon to pay cash for 18,300 shares of National City bank stock she purchased from her husband in 1929.

After several 75-year-old royal palms had been felled at Hilo, Hawaii it was discovered that an architect's orders had been misinterpreted.

Delays Explained

It was explained that postpone- nt of the presentation of the erican viewpoint was due to me- anical delays in the transmission revisions to Washington and com- ications involved in simultaneous ess releases on both sides of the lantic.

It was first thought that Secre- ry Hull would take the floor in convention tomorrow but a ten- tive slate of Wednesday's speak- s appearing tonight included only hancellor Dollfuss of Austria, Nev- e Chamberlain for Great Britain, ul Hymans, Belgian foreign min- ter, and Maxim Litvinoff, leader the Soviet delegation.

Some members of the delegation pressed satisfaction that the Am- ican position was not presented at early meeting since it might be ade the target for succeeding ad- esses. Others also were not un- eased at the delay until the prob- le passing of the debt crisis.

Great Britain is regarded as the ader in the bloc which is seeking force immediate debt considera- n. With General Smuts and Sig- r Jung following Premier Mac- nald's lead, three of the first four eakers had brought up the sub- ct which the American govern- ent had insisted should be ex- uded from the London conference.

Although Premier Daladier sur- rised some delegates by avoiding ference to the war debt question, member of his delegation said lat- that the debt situation had made profound impression on the con- rence and threatened to change its ntire complexion.

France appears to be the outstand- g leader of the bloc opposing nited States monetary policy and as far has prevented the selection an American to chairmanship of monetary committee.

he chief controversy in the sta- ation discussions, however, ap- ed to be between the Americans the British regarding the ratio he dollar and the pound, and as reported in well-informed ters that the British opposed nation of an American as man of the monetary body first ring to approve Mr. Cox for sition.

MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP) — Financial markets showed signs of weariness today, and closing prices in many directions were lower.

Stocks stumbled into selling during the last hour coincident with a rally by dollar exchange. Wheat and rye, after touching new highs, also slid off while cotton and bonds joined the general easing.

Rail shares offered a helping hand to other stocks for a time in the afternoon, but their independent strength failed to draw much response; pivotal industrials, in fact, were noticeable laggards, nor did the utilities exhibit much courage. The dollar's advance, gaining momentum as the day wore on, apparently was a signal for heavy profit-taking toward the close and there was a long list of 1 to 4 point net losses in all stock groups. Sales totaled 6,304,940 shares.

Past movers of Tuesday's market slid back appreciably, though all of the previous day's gains, on the average, was not quite lost. U. S. Steel was off nearly 3. Rails also turned sogsy; Union Pacific, which had been up half a dozen points, held about a sixth of its rise, while most other carriers showed moderate losses.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 13. (AP) — Cotton was only moderately active today and prices fluctuated mainly with the course of the stock market, closing 8 to 10 points net lower.

The first bale of the new crop was reported today from Mission in South Texas much earlier than usual.

The market opened easier as Liverpool cables came in lower than due and sterling declined.

Later in the morning the market rallied with stocks and in expectation of a bullish May 25 domestic consumption report tomorrow. October advanced to 9.61 or within 2 points of its 1933 high and December to 9.75, a recovery of 13 to 14 points which carried the price level 2 to 3 points above yesterday's close.

The market turned decidedly easy in the late trading in sympathy with a break in stocks. Prices made new lows for the day at 9.45 for October and 9.60 for December 11 to 14 points down from the highs. There was a rally of 3 points at the end and October closed at 9.48 and December at 9.63 both down 10 points net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 penny point down.

Port receipts 17,400, for week 39,372, for season 8,435,364, last season 9,885,638. Exports 7,212, for week 63,559, for season 7,348,019, last season 7,999,394. Port stock 3,699,784, last year 3,727,297. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 99,526, last year 96,643. Spot sales at southern markets 14,449, last year 3,071.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP)—While there were a sprinkling of activity, general business in cotton today was less active with the trade apparently inclined to await definite developments with reference to acreage curtailment. After selling off to 9.51, October rallied to 9.68 but eased off to 9.49 late and closed at 9.52. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 7 to 13 points.

The opening was 4 to 9 points lower.

Later the market steadied on trade buying. This was sufficient to encourage a renewal of local support which was further stimulated by the mid-day rally in the stock market, but after selling up to 9.59 for July and 9.80 for December or 1 to 3 points net higher prices eased to the lows of the day under renewed liquidation.

Negotiations for a Russian credit for the purchase of American cotton, as reported in Washington dispatches, was a matter of considerable interest in the trade, but without much effect on the market.

Closing quotations were 10 to 14 points off from the best.

Industry Bill

prohibitions against price-fixing and combinations in restraint of trade, and removal of tax exemptions from government securities.

Broad Powers Given

The measure vests broad powers in the president to promote self-regulation of industry under federal control to halt over-production, sweatshop wages and unduly long hours.

It seeks thereby to increase prices and recreate employment for millions of jobless.

As a supplement to this broad program, which would be encouraged through a two-year suspension of anti-trust laws wherever they interfere with the objectives of the bill, a $3,300,000,000 public works project is provided to be financed by a federal bond issue with interest and sinking fund requirements taken care of by new corporation taxes and a boost in the gasoline levy.

Immediately upon learning of passage, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States issued a statement appealing to industry to take immediate advantage of its provisions.

Forty-five million persons crossed the Canadian boundary in 1932.

Abernathy Table An Unusual One

There are 2,998 pieces of wood in this table, hand-made by Harlow Iverson, Abernathy carpenter and farmer. Sixteen different kinds of woods, from all over North and South America, were used by Iverson who made the table in spare moments during the last two years. It has a beautiful natural gloss, no paint or polish having been used. Hexagons, rectangles, triangles and squares are all found inlaid in the complicated design. The pieces were glued to a base of white pine. Iverson is making a second table, using more than 50 kinds of wood from all over the world, and which he expects to take five years at odd moments to make. The second table will be made similar to a small office desk, with four legs and a rectangle top.

Soviets May Seek Credit To Purchase Cotton In America

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The Soviet Russian trading organization, Amtorg, has discussed with Reconstruction Corporation officials of the possibility of obtaining a credt with which to purchase American cotton.

It was said at the corporation that no definite figure was named during the discussion, but from other sources it was learned the credit sought was $5,000,000.

Corporation officials expressed a willingness to receive some concrete proposal from Amtorg but gave no indication that the loan would be granted.

Reduction Of One-Third In Oil Production Is Ordered

AUSTIN, June 13. (AP) — The Texas Railroad commission today authorized a reduction of one-third in the East Texas oil field production allowable. For the past several weeks the production has been approximately 820,000 barrels daily.

The new allowable was estimated to be approximately 550,000 barrels daily. The new order will be effective at 12 o'clock tonight.

It was provided that no well should "produce less than twenty barrels per day of the limit fixed by statute for marginal wells."

FIRE AT FARM HOUSE

TAHOKA, (Special)—A residence on the T. J. Bocell farm and occupied by W. R. Stokes, was destroyed by fire. The family had gone out to do the chores and left the oil stove burning, presumably low, when an explosion occurred. The farm is five miles north of town.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, June 13. (AP)—Good demand was reported today for all offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market. Estimated receipts included wheat 54 cars and corn 4.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard 85 21-@87 1-4. Barley, No. 2 nominally 45@46; No. 3 nominally 44@45.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.10@1.15; No. 3 milo 1.05@1.10; No. 2 kafir per 100 pounds 1.05@1.08; No. 3 kafir 1.03@1.06.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 57 1-2@60 1-2; No. 3 white 62@63; No. 3 yellow 60@61.

Delivered Texas common points: Corn, No. 2 red 37@38; No. 3 red 36@37.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 13. (AP)—Despite transient upturns to fresh high price records for wheat and rye, all grain values averaged lower today.

Augmented selling developed on every advance, and proved to be a handicap impossible to overcome except during brief intervals. The selling was largely ascribed to profit-taking on the part of eastern speculative holders, and in some quarters was partly ascribed to complaints credited to the secretary of agriculture that recent price advances had interfered with plans to effect acreage cuts.

Wheat closed nervous, 3-8 to 3-4 under yesterday's finish, corn also 3-8 to 3-4 down, oats 3-8 to 5-8 off, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 15 cents.

Corn prices were inclined to lag owing to continued liberal receipts, with the corn visible supply the largest since 1928. Oats lagged with wheat and corn.

Provisions were easy as a result of scattered selling.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, July 75, 77 3-4@1-4; Sept. 77 3-8@1-2. 80 1-4@3-8. Dec. 80@80 1-2. 82 1-2@5-8. Corn, July 44 1-2@45 5-8@3-4. Sept. 47 3-8@1-2. 48 3-4@7-8. Dec. 50 1-4@3-8. 51 5-8@3-4.

Banking Bill

will go into effect July 1, 1934, for members of the reserve system and non-member state banks, but the latter must become members of the system by July 1, 1936, or drop out of the insurance system.

To Operate Branches

The bill will permit national banks to operate branches in states which specifically permit their own state institutions to do so.

Great power is conferred on the reserve board to regulate credit, by refusing to extend it where it is being used for speculative purposes deemed unwise by the board.

Other banking changes include the divorcement of national banks from their security affiliates application of a similar principle to private banks; and a prohibition against loans, by member banks to their own officers.

The bill also will prevent payment of interest on demand deposits.

Corporation Provided

The insurance system will be administered by a corporation headed by the comptroller of the currency and two members appointed by the president.

The corporation will receive $150,000,000 from the treasury; half the reserves or $175,000,000 from federal reserve banks; and one half of one per cent of the deposits under insurance.

In addition, it will have the power to borrow up to twice its capitalization, which it is estimated will give t total resources of about $2,000,000,000.

After July 1,1934, deposits up to 10,000 will be fully insured; those from 10,000 to $50,000 insured up to 75 per cent; and those above $50,000 insured 50 per cent. On January 1 deposits up to $25,000 will be insured 100 per cent.

With 973 precincts out of 1,707 tabulated the wets had a combined district high vote of 239,686 to 61,020 for the drys. This, however, included none of the 362 precincts in the city of Boston where the count was slow.

Poultry Firms Named In Suit

Half Million Dollars Damages Sought By Plainview Firm; Creation Of A Monopoly Is Charge Lodged

Three poultry concerns, with branch houses in Lubbock, were named defendants in a half million dollar damage suit filed in 99th district court yesterday. The petition alleged that the local concerns created a monopoly of the poultry produce business in the Plainview trade territoy and forced the plaintiff, the Plainview Poultry and Egg company out of business, by paying excessive prices to producers.

Swift & Co., of Chicago, having R. F. Humphrey as its Lubbock agent; Wilson & Co., of Chicago, and the Lubbock Poultry & Egg Co., a subordinate corporation, with Richard White of Lubbock as Texas manager, and Tittman Egg Co., of Lubbock, of which W. T. Johnston of Lubbock is manager and secretary, were named as defendants. L. B. Platt of Plainview is president of the plaintiff company.

The several defendants conduct a similar business. They invaded the trade territory and competed there with the Plainview Poultry & Egg Co., and "about the last of October, 1931, in violation of the anti-trust laws of this state and the United States . . . confederated together to capture . . . the . . . plaintiff's . . . business . . . and thus to . . . establish for themselves a monopoly . . ."

Excess Prices Claimed

Establishing agencies in the Plainview Poultry & Egg company's trade territory, the rival firms sometimes paid producers and sellers prices in excess of market values, according to the plaintiff's petition, "to raise the price of such commodities so much above the market price . . . as to take away all profits from such trade for the dealers during that season, thus forcing this plaintiff, who was an independent dealer, to quit the business entirely."

The petition continues:

"Having done so and destroyed competition the defendants would lower the price to be paid for such products to an arbitrary figure to be fixed by themselves, whereby they recouped their losses previously made in such course of dealing. Said defendants also refused and declined to trade with this plaintiff or to buy from or sell to it. . . ."

The Plainview firm was "forced out of business, and . . . it lost the profits which it would have made during the seasons of 1931 and 1932." Its building was sold at forced sale at public auction at "an actual loss to plaintiff of $50,000."

S. L. Carlton and W. L. Clary, of the Fort Worth law firm of Carlton & Clary, represent the plaintiff.

State Opens Case In Murder Trial; Intimacy With Defendant Described any account, or something like that."

Burks then asked Pettit about the proposition which had been charged against the prosecution.

"You all asked me to get her to tell where she got the poison," Pettit said.

"Was anything said about whisky?"

"No."

No Rough Treatment

"Anything said about any rough treatment?"

"No."

"John, do you know what ravish means?"

"No, sir."

The courtroom tittered, and Judge Pharr threatened to clear the courtroom if order was not kept. Lockhart took the witness for further cross examination.

"You told me Friday Dan Blair (the district attorney) tried to get you to take some whisky, have intercourse with her, and to find where she got some poison?" Lockhart asked.

"I didn't say anything about the whisky," Pettit said.

"If they hadn't threatened you, you wouldn't have made a statement?"

"Yes."

Pettit is under bond as a witness in the case.

Married In 1932

On cross examination by Mr. Campbell, Pettit said he was married Jan. 9, 1932. Albert T. Ballard, husband of the defendant, died near Shallowater March 19, 1932.

The afternoon session began at 1:15 o'clock with Dr. W. T. Ballard, a veterinarian and brother of Albert T. Ballard, on the stand.

The veterinarian, of Mt. Pleasant, told of coming to Lubbock about a week after his brother's death, of a conversation with the defendant, and of disinterment of the body.

"I asked her how the boy (his brother) died," Ballard testified. "She said with intense pain in his stomach. I told Julia the family and the community thought he was poisoned because of 'your intimacy with John Pettit.' She said 'I bet John Pettit has told something'."

Exhuming Protested

On examination by Campbell, Ballard said Mrs Ballard had protested exhuming the body.

Technical testimony, regarding analysis made of the viscera of Ballard, was given by W. B. Wardlaw, chief state chemist, of Austin. He testified six milligrams, or about one-eleventh of a grain of strychnine was found in the stomach and a trace in the liver. Wardlaw described symptoms of strychnine poisoning.

Lockhart objected when Wardlaw was asked to estimate the amount of poison which was taken into the stomach of Ballard. The objection was overruled, and Wardlaw replied:

Half Grain Taken

"If death was due to strychnine poisoning, and one-eleventh of a grain remained in the stomach, we would assume at least one-half grain had been taken."

Later, on cross examination, he said the statement was based on a guess. "You can't tell how much has been absorbed into the body unless you know the amount taken or given," he explained.

T. C. Hutchings, special prosecutor, of Mt. Pleasant, queried Wardlaw.

Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer, who performed the autopsy removing Ballard's stomach, liver, and one kidney, May 28, 1932, testified that the stomach readily absorbed strychnine. Burks set out evidence offered in the case, and asked the doctor what, in his opinion, caused Ballard's death.

Death By Poisoning

"Strychnine poisoning," the witness said.

"If one-eleventh of a grain of poison was recovered, how much had been received in the stomach?" Burks asked.

"I would say not less than two grains."

Campbell took the witness. "As a matter of fact, you don't know what was the cause of death?"

"No, sir."

Pettit, who followed Doctor Baugh on the stand, testified the Ballards had been living on land owned by the Pettit heirs. The purported intimacy occurred in Pettit's bedroom at the Ballard home, the witness said.

In objecting to Pettit's testimony, James P. Stinson of Abilene, a defense attorney, said, "We submit the state has not offered any evidence to show Mrs. Ballard is connected with the death of her husband."

Burks Last Witness

Burks, the last state witness offered yesterday, told of a visit to the Ballard home, of the reported finding of a suicide note by Mrs. Ballard in her husbands' trousers, and of a statement by the defendant that she wrote the note herself.

Both the "suicide" note and the statement were offered as evidence. Mrs. Ballard, in the statement, said she believed she would be blamed if poison were found in the viscera. The "suicide" note was reported after the body was exhumed and before the state chemist's report was made.

"You tried to get her to confess?" Campbell asked Burks.

"I did."

"You told her she'd be the first woman to go to the electric chair in Texas?"

"I probably did."

Denies Accusation

"Did the district attorney's department tell John Pettit to get whisky, get her drunk, and find where the poison came from?"

"Positively not."

Eight witnesses appeared yesterday morning, most of whom testified regarding the discoloration and position of the body when they saw it the night after Ballard's death. The witnesses were:

Mrs. J. E. Timms, her husband, both of Shallowater; G. C. Jenkins, a farmer of Brownfield; E. H. Grant, Shallowater farmer; H. J. Brock of Shallowater; B. W. and Earnest Eaves of Shallowater, and Albert McCarty, a Lubbock embalmer.

Mrs. Ballard, through her counsel, pleaded not guilty.

Cleanup Group Sounds Appeal

Lubbock Citizens Are Urged To Cleanup And Paintup All Residences; Report Is Made On Activities

Another appeal was sounded to Lubbock citizens to cleanup and paintup their residences, when the chamber of commerce committee, headed by Altus Sansom, met yesterday afternoon.

A complete report of activities and accomplishments since the campaign opened June 4 was studied by members of the committee.

Reports Are Made

Inspection reports made by representatives of the Federated women's clubs and the Boy Scouts indicated that front yards, as a rule, are in satisfactory condition, however many vacant lots, back yards, and alleys are full of weeds, junk, trash and other rubbish.

Little change was noted in the second inspection, which indicates that property owners and tenants at the places that were found needing attention at the first inspection have done nothing to correct the situation.

"The committee is anxious that those who have not yet cleaned their yards, cut the weeds around the place and in the alley, and remove all trash and junk, will join with the others and clean up," Chairman Sansom announced after the meeting.

Laborers Available

A number of unemployed men, registered with the City County Welfare association, are available at a very reasonable cost to do this type of work, it was announced. Citizens desiring to secure a laborer, and at the same time help the local employment situation, may contact one by telephoning the welfare office, telephone 209.

Weeds should be cut, raked up and, when dry, burned. All junk and trash should be raked up in a pile in the alley and preferably put in boxes or other containers for the city trash wagon to carry away.

Other members of the cleanup and paintup committee include: W. B. Atkins, T. R. Prideaux, J. A. Hodges, John Spikes, Walter Alderson, Mrs. Clark M. Mullican, and Mrs. Frank Winn.

TARZAN OF THE APES No 9

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

A hasty examination of his wife revealed no marks upon her, and Lork Greystoke decided the huge brute had died the instant he had sprung toward her. Gently he lifted his wife's still unconscious form and bore her to the little cabin. Fully two hours later she regained consciousness.

Her first words filled Greystoke with vague apprehension. For some time after regaining her senses she gazed wonderingly about the interior of the little cabinet, and then, with a satisfied sigh, said: "Oh, John, it is so good to be REALLY home. I have had an awful dream, dear."

"There, there, Alice," he said, stroking her forehead. "Try to sleep again and don't worry." That night, while a leopard screamed before the door and the deep notes of a lion's roar sounded from beyond the ridge, a little son was born in the tiny cabin beside the primeval jungle forest.

Lady Greystoke never recovered from the shock of the great ape's attack. She was never again outside the cabin nor did she ever realize that she was not in England. But she took joy and happiness in the possession of her little son and the constant attentions of her husband.

So that year was a very happy one. Greystoke had long since given up all hope of rescue. With unremitting zeal he had worked to beautify the cabin. The tiny life that had come to cheer them little knew that amazing experiences lay ahead of it in the depths of the African jungle.

Printing Bill Is Given Veto

Three Other Bills Also Vetoed By Governor Ferguson; Says Deficit Facing State Cause For Her Action

AUSTIN, June 13 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today vetoed a bill that would have permitted the Texas prison board to bid on state printing, the contracts to be executed by prison labor.

She also vetoed three other bills. They would have provided for a non-residence hunting and fishing license: set the state ad valorem tax rate at not to exceed 67 cents on the $100, and established a central mailing bureau.

Obection Given

The governor said the bill that would have permitted prison officials to enter competition with outside labor in furnishing state printing, binding and other supplies, would have placed the state "in the commercial printing business in competition with free labor."

The non residence hunting and fishing license bill would have increased licenses from $2 to $3 and, the governor said in her veto note, have "placed a tax on those who fish with natural bait."

The out of county license would have been $1.10 except for persons under 17 years old.

Deficit Is Cited

The message stating reasons for vetoing the ad valorem tax rate reduction bill stated the bill "seeks to reduce the advalorem tax rate from 77 cents permitted by the constitution to 67 cents in face of the already astounding deficit in our state revenues."

The message said it would require a rate of $1.50 per $100 property valuation to meet the obligations of the general revenue, Confederate pension and school funds. The bill also provides that a rate be set that will be sufficient to yield a per capita school apportionment of $17.50, the message stated and to do this would require a rate of 73 cents alone.

Must Face Conditions

"The bill undertakes to reduce the tax rate when provision has not been made for payment of obligations already incurred," the message said. "We had just as well face our condition. We can't have our cake and eat it too. The legislature ought not attempt to reduce the tax rate until it had made provision for payment of the debts of the state."

The 42nd legislature had set a maximum of 69 cents on the state ad valorem tax rate. The 43rd legislature had proposed to lower this to 57 cents, but finally agreed to reduce it to 67 cents.

In vetoing the central mailing bureau bill, the governor said its cost would not offset its advantages. The bill had been passed to prevent private use of state stamps.

"The mailing bureau would cost $7,500 a year, which would not result in any apparent economy," the message stated. "There is only a fractional misuse of stamps which would not begin to equal the extra appropriation."

The message pointed out that each department had porters that could easily carry mail to and from the capitol postoffice.

Vienna In Uproar After Explosions

VIENNA, June 13. (AP) — With Vienna in an uproar over a new series of bombings which Chancellor Dollfuss' government unhesitatingly attributed to "the brown terror," Adolf Hitler's homeland became an unsafe place today for his Nazi followers.

All Nazi headquarters which were not closed yesterday were raided and shut up by federal police today, and hundreds of Nazis, including a score of German citizens, were jailed.

Among the latter was Theodore Habicht, a member of the German reichstag who has been active in advising the party here.

Over the week-end a series of bombings resulted in the deaths of two persons and injuries to at least five others.

Army Airplanes Expected To Land At Local Field Today

A training flight of ten U. S. army airplanes from Kelley Field, San Antonio, is expected to arrive here starting about 7:30 or 8 o'clock, from Fort Sill, Okla., W. C. Breedlove, manager of the municipal airport, said last night. The planes had been expected yesterday morning but for some unknown reason did not arrive.

Request from Fort Sill last night for a weather report indicated the flight was to be made early today. The ships will return to San Antonio by way of Fort Bliss, near El Paso. Cadets are flying pursuit planes.

Three other groups of army airplanes are due here during June. On Friday 25th observation planes are to visit the municipal field, and on Sunday, another on Friday, June 23.

Witherite was recently discovered in a mine in Durham county, England; it is four or five times as valuable as coal and both minerals are now being mined at the same time.

Railway Petition At Morton Denied

MORTON, June 13 (Special)—The Cochran County commissioner's court declined to grant a petition of the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad to dissolve the townsides of Bledsoe and Lehman, and to list the land as agricultural land.

When the railroad was built through Cochran county about 1925 the townsites were laid out and platted. Neither town has ever been incorporated.

The court decided to reduce the railroad's valuation through the county from $8,000 a mile to $8,000 a mile. The Bledsoe branch crosses Cochran county from Whiteface on the east to Bledsoe on the west, about two miles from the New Mexico line. The town was named for Samuel T. Bledsoe, new president, who was general counsel for many years.

A production of 200,000 motor vehicles during June has been predicted.

Kentucky has invested an average of $62 for every child enrolled in school buildings.

Jake Morrison Is Held To Grand Jury On Charge Here

Waiving examining trial on a charge of burglary, Jake Morrison, 18, of the 1900-block on Sixteenth street, was held to the grand jury in $1,000 bond by Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell yesterday. Up to late yesterday afternoon Morrison had not made bond after being remanded to the county jail.

The charge is an outgrowth of the robbery late Friday or early Saturday of last week of the Gulf Refining company, 1512 Fourth street, in which a safe was stolen from the oil company.

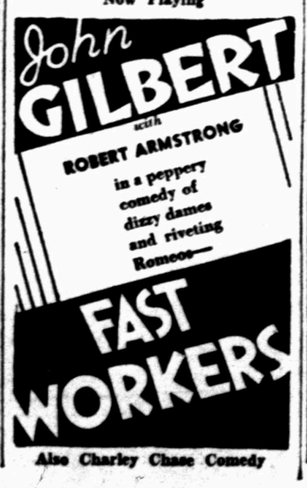

Morrison, with another man and woman, was arrested by city police early Sunday as suspects. He was transferred to the county jail. Charges had not been filed late yesterday against the other suspects. Will Earnest, city policeman, signed the charges and Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, filed the case.
