5-AAA Title Winner Named Head Coach

Weldon Brevard, coach of the year with his champion Boswell High team in District 5-AA, comes home to West Texas as athletic director and head coach for Colorado High.

The former Ballinger High School football standout signed a $13,200 per year contract Wednesday here in Colorado City.

Board members of Colorado Independent School District voted last week to hire the 35-year-old coach but awaited official contract signing until Brevard had obtained his release from a three-year contract at Boswell.

Brevard, who coached champions at Ballinger High before moving to Boswell, will begin duties here Jan. 25.

He will succeed Truman Nix who after the 1970 football season resigned effective at the end of the current school year.

Brevard is credited with an impressive athletic record at Boswell, a school only 10 years of age serving the Saginaw-Eagle Mountain Lake area on the northern outskirts of Fort Worth.

When he went there in 1967, the school was in the cellar end of sports. Three years later his football team had its first undefeated season and a district championship.

His Pioneers were defeated 6 to 42 by Plano in state bi-district playoffs.

Brevard, a graduate of McMurry College and the father of two sons, was selected for the Colorado City position from a field of 40 applicants.

He was recommended along with several other top candidates to the board by a special screening committee of Tom Rees, school board president, and board members O. B. Trulock Jr. and Ed Thrift.

Board decision to offer the position to Brevard was by unanimous vote.

The 40 applicants for the athletic directorship here came from a wide area of Texas and included head mentors in AAAA, AAA, AA and A classification. Several had title winning seasons during the fall.

Keeping a policy established with previous head coaches and athletic directors, Colorado City school board gave Brevard authority to name his own staff of coaches.

The new athletic director, after conferring here Wednesday with coaches on the current staff of Nix, said he was not ready to announce his full coaching staff, indicating the staff will not be completed until June. However, he said the full coaching line-up next year will include some from Nix's staff and "some brought in from outside."

Brevard has been in coaching for 12 years--since 1958 when he became an assistant to his McMurry College coach, Wilford Moore, when Moore became mentor at Port Neches - Groves Independent School District.

He was assistant there until 1962, when he returned to his hometown, Ballinger, as an assistant under Bob Wright, who now is assistant to the head of Texas High School Coaches Association.

After two years, he moved into the head coaching post at Ballinger and developed district champions two of those three years.

His overall record as a head coach at Ballinger was 22 won and 8 lost. Two of these losses were in state playoffs at the bi-district level.

He was hired at Boswell specificially to build an athletic program. His first two seasons there were 3 wins against 7 losses followed by the unbeaten 1970 season.

It all adds up six years of head coaching, 37 victories, 23 defeats and one tie.

Brevard was graduated from Ballinger High in 1953, then went to McMurry for four years of football lettering as a running back.

He has two degrees from the

'Honor Roll' For Blood Campaign

Sponsors of Colorado City's successful blood donor campaign have listed their "honor roll" of volunteers.

The roll includes all of those citizens who contributed their blood for the 181 pints collected in the one-week drive in mid-December.

With the campaign, Colorado City jumped ahead of many communities within the state who are sponsoring blood calls during the current period from Jan. 4 to Jan. 10.

"Our community is fortunate to have been successful with its blood campaign ahead of so many. . .and should be sincerely thankful for these concerned citizens who donated their blood to serve someone else in a time of emergency," stated officials of Root Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Women of the auxiliary, the Pink Ladies, sponsored the campaigh with the cooperation of Root Memorial Hospital and its staff.

Here are the "honor roll" of donors:

James A. Hayden, Robert D. Stubblefield, Albert Thomas Morris, Albert Preston Morris, W. K. Dykes, Murrell G. Blassingame, Robert S. Reily, Sefton A. Pickens, Ralph A.

★ Wolves, Lakeview Here Friday

Colorado High Wolves bring their young basketball season back to the home folks Friday night.

They'll meet Lake View here in varsity and junior varsity contests, beginning at 6:15 p.m.

Coach Caddo Matthews club opened their District 3-AAA schedule here last Saturday, losing 42-60 to Lamesa Tornadoes.

Then, on the road Tuesday night, the Wolves dropped their second district encounter, this time in Lubbock to Dunbar, 67-77.

So, when they tangle with the Chiefs here Friday night, the Wolves will be striving to break into the district win column.

Jerome Hopkins was the sharpshooter for C-City against Dunbar. He hit for 23 points with 10 field goals and 3 free tosses. Nearby was Larry Williams with 19.

He Built Champion Team In 3 Years

Weldon Brevard doesn't overpower you with size.

He's only 5 feet 11 inches with 175 pounds, all lean.

But he has a hefty appetite-for winning.

He got the idea for eating on the winning side early in life. When a senior running back at Ballinger High, his team won everything in its AA path until finally losing in the Texas schoolboy championship final to Huntsville.

To synchronize your football thinking, that was in 1953, one season before Dillard Adair piloted Colorado High to bi-district championship before losing in a regional sandstorm to Phillips.

Brevard's taste for victory has stayed with him in the coaching ranks: district championships at Ballinger High and District 5-AAA title a couple of months ago at Boswell (Saginaw).

Now, he will come to Colorado City with an aim to success here in 3-AAA, one of the toughest districts in the entire state.

Like every coach, he has his own particular pattern for coaching and leadership. He has a knack for adjusting it from season to season to fit his personnel and his opposition.

"I've always had an excellent staff," Brevard emphasized here Wednesday on a speedy visit to perfect a contract as athletic director and head coach.

He gets the point over quickly that his coaching isn't an "I" job, but a "we".

"The fact that I've always had an excellent staff is the biggest factor to the success I've had.

"I don't put my coaches down. I let 'em coach.

He and his staff have used variations of the wing T or power I for their teams.

When the 1971 edition of Wolf football comes around next fall, you can bet there won't be much change from that.

"I don't like to be bound to any set formation," Brevard explains.

"It will depend upon our personnel. . .what we have. . .what our talents are.

"It will be some form of those two.

"On defense we will probably use mostly the Texas 6. But again it all depends upon our personnel.

"We'll decide on that after I see all the boys this spring."

Brevard's move to Colorado City isn't quite the usual. At the Boswell Independent School District on the edge of the sprawling Fort Worth metropolitan area, he already was in AAA competition. He had a winner, a larger school and three years to go on a contract as lucrative as the one in C-City.

The school, officials and fans wanted him to stay.

Two factors turned his eyes toward Colorado City.

One: the challenge to build.

Playhouse Final

Curtain Completes Project

One of Colorado City's finest projects in nearing completion.

It started 20 months ago, progressing from dream to reality with dedication and back-breaking work.

Now, to finalize completion of the Colorado City Playhouse, the community can extend a helping hand to the few handsful who have toiled since May 1968.

"Our last major cost will be $1,250 for stage curtain," said Kent Womack, new president of Colorado City Playhouse Association.

"Bids already have been taken for the installation," Womack said, "and we are inviting contributions to help us."

There have been thoughful citizens all along the way who have given financial support to the project. But the only other major fund-raising project for the Playhouse was a year ago when citizens subscribed for the theater's seating.

Playhouse members, through rain and shine, heat and cold, have accomplished most of the actual work that has transformed the city's old opera house into a community stage theater.

Only hired work was for a new roof on the building that was used as a rooming house and hotel before it was obtained by the Playhouse Association. Tearing out of the old, converting to the new with carpentry and paint and remodeling--all has been free will labor mostly by a hard core group of Playhouse enthusiasts.

"We are gearing for a 1971 opening," Womack said, reminding citizens they can donate to the stage curtain fund at City National Bank or any Playhouse member.

First donation, by the way, was $10 check this week from Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

"We welcome any individual, organization or firm to contribute toward this final major expense," Womack emphasized.

Womack will be president of the association as the new playhouse is completed. He took office Jan. 1 along with a group of working officers and directors.

Vice president is Mrs. Morris (Sharon) Hammond. Two other women are in top offices-Mrs. Dwight (Betty) Tomb, secretary, and Mrs. Dick (Gwen) Wistrand, treasurer.

Directors serving with these officers at the helm of the theater group are Bob Newman, Mrs. Arnet Smith, John T. Merritt and Bob Reily, who was president during 1970.

Joe Earnest is legal advisor for the association.

Serving as membership chairman for '70 will be Tandy Curlee. Also in a key post will be Mrs. Curlee, director of publicity.

Law Net Near

Dispatchers To Class

Police and sheriff dispatchers will go to class Friday preparing for the new teletype equipment which will be installed here soon.

The teletype network will be speed law enforcement communication for 22 area cities and counties in West Central Texas Council of Governments.

Colorado City and Mitchell County both are participating in the new network.

Going to the class Friday in Snyder to learn operating proceedure for the new equipment will be Mrs. Louis O. Schafer, Mrs. Bill Erwin and Mrs. Robert Bracy, police dispatcher, and Mrs. Bill Martin, woman's deputy and dispatcher for the sheriff's office.

The non - voice teletype equipment will be installed in the 22 participating communities later this month. It is made available by a $39,857 grant awarded in August by Texas Criminal Justice Council to establish the state's first regional law enforcement teletype network.

It will provide police and sheriff's department with direct communication with member units, Texas Department of Public Safety patrol units, Department of Public Safety headquarters in Austin, state and federal crime information centers in Austin and Washington, D. C.

The area network also will include a hookup with other regional council networks as soon as those systems are developed statewide.

The machine is a print out model and will operate on a 24-hour basis, sending out messages at rate of 100 words per minute.

First class for this area was Tuesday in Brownwood, followed by Breckenridge Wednesday, Stamford Thursday and Snyder Friday. Instructors are from Department of Public Safety and Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

WINTER is wonderful. But no two ways about it, winter is more wonderful inside than outside. It is more wonderful riding than walking. It is even more fun staying than going.

Winter is that time of year when almost any woman had rather go to the kitchen than go to a party. . .make a pot of vegetable soup than make a grand slam.

Winter is wonderful. Wonderful for reading and listening to music. Winter is wonderful for cultivating contentment. . . the unspoken appreciation for things like warm walls, central heat, a telephone that works, another cup of coffee, and the second layer of the final Christmas box of candy.

* * *

WINTER is wonderful for wondering. . .wondering how Indian women and early American pioneer women survived the cold without electric gadgets and warming ovens, running hot water and weather-stripping.

Winter is for wondering how the ancestors on the distaff side ever found time for "just being" with all the carding and weaving and the knitting and the bread kneading and cradle rocking and quilting by the firelight.

Winter is for wondering how come modern women in their right minds feel fit to fight over being "liberated" from warming bottles and deciding on detergents.

* * *

WINTER is wonderful for remembering . . . remembering helping to bring in the wood because your little brother was a charming persuader. . .going out to the back porch to see if your mother's fresh batch of boiled custard was frozen yet.

Winter is for wondering if your daddy really didn't know you slept with the kitten cold nights when he wasn't looking.

Winter is for remembering black sateen bloomers over long stockings and ankle-length union suits. . ."stocking caps" with bright tassels. . .petticoats and outing flannel gowns.

Heck. Winter is for remembering how liberated you felt every Easter which was the legal time for leaving off the "unions" and the extra petticoat.

Winter goes better wearing slacks for remembering things like that.

* * *

WINTER is always the time for remembering Daddy and his Model T. Ford. He could be best friends with the car all year long--until winter brought the draining of the radiator. Then he fairly hated it.

Can still see Mother handing him the kettle full of boiling water, after breakfast. After that, the garage was off limits to Daddy's brood because he was given to what Mother called the "use of profanity" when his Model T got too cranky to crank.

Winter is for wondering if men ever think just how lucky they are for things like anti-freeze, paved highways, and heaters in automobiles. They were long ago liberated from so much as cutting off the water and draining all the hydrants every night, come winter, too.

* * *

WINTER has now come to be the time for listening to weather reports. . .and isn't it funny how much colder it gets once you hear the prediction for ten degrees in the morning?

Then, and only then, the way things are now that we're all liberated, it is time to turn up the thermostat, plug in the electric blanket, turn off the lights after the late news and hibernate until morning!

FAMILY of Pint and Bea Richards has been weather-conscious for days now because their son Roger Richards, stationed with the Navy at Pearl Harbor, got snow-bound in Iowa.

Roger forsook sunny Hawaii for a Christmas vacation at home, arriving at Midland air port Dec. 22. He and his parents met his friend Shiela Rasmussen of Exira, Iowa, at Love Field Dec. 23, for a visit here. Dec. 27, Roger and Shiela flew to Iowa. He could not get back here via plane and took a bus to Des Moines, then Kansas City.

Last report Roger was expecting to fly from Kansas City to Dallas and on to Abilene for a few more days here with his parents.

According to news accounts, many airports in America have been looking like the Cotton Bowl on sell-out days, since the winter blasts.

H-SU Scholarship Honor To Carlene Hammack

Miss Carlene Hammack is one of 30 students at Hardin-Simmons University receiving honor scholarships for the fall semester.

Miss Hammack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hammack of 1844 Locust Street, is a senior history major at the Abilene University.

Honor scholarships are offered for four semesters to the valedictorian and salutatorian of high school and junior college graduating classes.

If neither the valedictorian nor salutorian of a class attends H-SU, two graduates in the top 10 per cent of the class are eligible for scholarships.

Value of the award is $400 with one-fourth of the amount given each semester that students maintains a 3.0 grade point average. Effective June 1 the total value of the scholarship will increase to $500, according to Charles R. Richardson, director of public information at Hardin-Simmons.

CARLENE HAMMACK . . .gets honor.

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Change. That's what it's all about this year. And that's what we mean by putting you first.

These are uneasy times.
There are major concerns. About pollution. About safety. About the economy. About your hard-earned dollar. We know.
For the past 10 years Chevrolet research people have questioned thousands of people on every subject from rising taxes to the size of the glovebox in their cars.
We've found that price and maintenance costs, trade-in value and quality have become tremendously important.
Your car has to work. It has to last. And each new model must have more built-in value.
At Chevrolet, we understand.
You want meaningful change. And our aim is to give that to you, as you'll see in the 1971 Chevrolets.

Caprice. The biggest, most luxurious Chevrolet ever. A complete change.

Bigness in itself is nothing.
But if it allows you to lengthen the distance between the front and rear wheels (which we did), then you've got something.
You've got a smoother ride.
The idea in the 1971 Caprice was to give you the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, without asking you to pay anywhere near that much for it. And above all, to build in as much dependability and security as possible.
So we changed the body structure for 1971, too. We made it stronger. And we made it quieter by putting a double layer of steel in the roof.
Caprice, as you can see below, is a lot of luxury at a Chevrolet price.

Vega. The littlest Chevy ever. It wasn't changed from anything.

Before building Vega, we read everything we could get our hands on about little cars. We talked to owners. We studied little cars up one side and down the other and, literally, tore them apart. We found out what made them tick, or why they didn't tick.
What ticked were gas economy and dependability. What didn't were underpowered engines, cramped quarters and getting blown around in the wind.
In our little Vega, everything ticks. It's not just another little car. You didn't want that. It's one little car that does everything well.

Honored At Party

Martin Weaver, Root Valley Fair Lodge administrator, presents Christmas corsages to Mrs. Lula Coles and Mrs. Mabel Cooper, honored at the Lodge's annual Yule party. Mrs. Coles, 91, is the Lodge's oldest resident and Mrs. Cooper has been a resident the longest period of time. She moved into the Lodge about three months after it's opening in 1962.

Dockrey Is President

New Officers For Council

Bill Dockrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dockrey, heads Mitchell County 4-H Council for 1971.

He was elected president in mail balloting by members of Mitchell County's Lone Wolf and Westbrook 4-H Clubs.

Dockrey, named a Mitchell County Gold Star award winner during annual achievement program last fall, is also president of his sophomore class at Colorado High School.

A member and co-chairman of Lone Wolf Club, he is active in crop and swine 4-H projects. At CHS he is a member of Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Key Club, Student Council and Wolf football team.

Serving with him as Council officers will be Sandy Anderson, member and co-chairman of Westbrook Club, elected vice president and Marsha Brownfield, co-chairman of Lone Wolf Club and a Gold Star award winner last fall, secretary-treasurer.

District Council delegates, who will attend their first district meeting Saturday in Lubbock, are Bruce Hill, Lone Wolf treasurer, and Joyce McKenney, secretary of Westbrook Club.

Named as district council alternate delegates were Tim Oden, Westbrook delegate to county council, and Susan Blassingame now secretary of Lone Wolf Club.

* * *

Both clubs were honored at holiday parties.

Westbrook High School was setting for that club's Yule fete attended by 30 4-H members and guests.

Mrs. Rex McKenney read a Christmas story, "The Other Wise Man". Group sang Christmas songs, played games and exchanged gag gifts.

Lone Wolf 4-H'ers traveled to Sweetwater for a skating party.

Forty-nine members and 11 adults donated canned food items which were given to Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance for use in Christmas baskets.

Howdy Hack Greets 4 New Families

Four new families were welcomed to Colorado City last month by Hospital Auxiliary "Howdy Hack".

One family, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Chamblee, moved to 644 East 16th Street from Cortez, Colo.

Chamblee is employed at Hammond's Foam-Tex. They are Baptists.

Joining the Colorado City police force here last month was Larry Titsworth who moved here with his family from Paint Rock. Mr. and Mrs. Titsworth and one child live at 1224 Locust Street. They are Baptists.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hill and children reside at 2146 Chestnut following their move here from Hamlin. They are Baptists. He is employed as a pumper.

Highway Patrolman and Mrs. Robert Kent Cearley and two children are living at 428 East 8th Street. They came from Anson and are Baptists.

Birds Visit Parents

Petty Officer First Class and Mrs. Russell Bird Jr. and family are visiting this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard of Colorado City and Russell Bird Sr. of Westbrook.

The family, who are moving from Tennessee to Dallas, are also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hines.

Other guests of the Hines was their son, Sp/4 Johnny Hines who was en route to a new assignment at Fort Hood.

County Proof

We are all proud of the youths who brought their livestock before judges Friday and Saturday in Mitchell County's Annual 4-H & FFA Livestock Show.

They have worked for months and months feeding and grooming their animals in supervised projects.

Their show resulted, also, from dozens of foresighted adults who raised the funds, did the work and handled all the show assignments.

But there should be special pride, too, for the splendid lines of livestock bred right here in Mitchell County. For the second year the grand champion steer came from A. K. Treadaway's stock farm, a line of the champion lambs were from Renderbrook Ranch and the champion heifer was bred at the Charles C. Thompson ranch.

Here is good proof of the quality developed by Mitchell County livestock breeders. And that's good agricultural business benefitting all of us.

Their Own Santa

"Santa Clauses came in all shapes and sizes last Christmas, but clearly the favorite of Sheryl and Caren Prewitt was their little brother, 11-week-old James Alan, who greeted his first Yule holiday in a red suit, complete with white trim and a "look-alike" Santa cap. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prewitt of 843 Cedar Street.

Lone Wolf 4-H'ers To Hear Thompson in Monday Meet

Charles C. Thompson will be a guest speaker for a Monday night meeting of Lone Wolf 4-H Club in Lone Wolf Electric's Medallion Room.

Thompson, recipient of National 4-H alumni recognition and Miss Lou Alice Mathis, a Snyder 4-H Congress delegate, will report on activities of 49th National 4-H Congress last month in Chicago, Ill.

Guests are invited to the 7 p.m. meeting to hear convention reports, according to Mrs. Stanley Moore, home demonstration agent here.

Thompson, an attorney, rancher-farmer and banker, was one of eight outstanding former 4-H members recognized and presented Alumni Key awards in special ceremonies during congress activities.

President of City National Bank since 1938 and board chairman since 1955, he received the "Man of the Year", award in Texas agriculture in 1969 from Texas County Agricultural Agents association and was also named "Top Citizen" of Colorado City.

The 4-H alumnus has been chairman of Farm Credit Board of Houston since 1952. He is also a member of the select commission of agricultural and financial leaders and in 1957 he chairmaned a credit committee appointed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to survey drought conditions in the Great Plains.

Thompson was instrumental in organizing Mitchell County Agricultural Credit Corporation in 1932 and has served as chairman of Mitchell County School Board.

He is a member of board of directors for Texas Electric Service Company and served 19 years on board of Texas Tech College, 15 years as board chairman.

He was Mitchell county judge from 1924 to 1931, when he entered private law practice.

For many years, Thompson was a Methodist Church trustee and steward and also served as president of the Lions Club and the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

Thompson operated 5,700 acres, half of which are in cultivation and the other half in pasture. He was the first in his county to try irrigation and now has some 300 acres under irrigation.

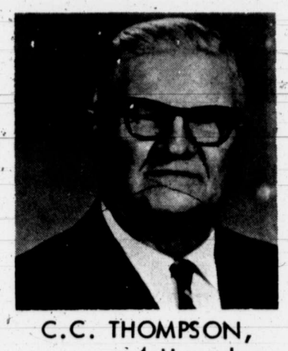

He has helped many 4-H members by financing projects and giving them animals to feed. His bank provides cash and trophies for the Mitchell County 4-H Show. He was of the charter members of the first 4-H Club in Mitchell County and was one of the first 4-Her's to attend 4-H Club Roundup. He carried livestock and garden projects.

He is married to the former Emabeth Pittman Towery.

Officers of Lone Wolf 4-H'ers conducted a training session Dec. 19 in Medallion Room.

Studying duties and responsibilities of their office and planning 1971 programs were Marsha Brownfield, Janet Brownfield, Bill Dockrey, Bruce Hill, Leslie Anderson, Susan Blassingame and Pat Barker.

Programs scheduled for coming months included method demonstration, 4-H Congress, food show, summer safety, 4-H records, civic tour and picnic, county eleminations, dress revue, communium study, achievement program, films and holiday parties.

C.C. THOMPSON, . . .4-H speaker.

Pre-Nuptial Dinner Compliments Bridal Pair

Villa Inn Restaurant was setting for a rehearsal dinner honoring Miss Brenda Chambers and Robert Truman Henderson prior to their marriage Dec. 19 in First Baptist Church.

Hosting the affair were the bridegroom parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Henderson.

Bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Centering the head table was a permanent arrangement of green and blue carnations in a birdcage. Blue love birds and streamers tied in love knots accented the decoration. Greenery extended the length of dining tables.

Attending were the bridal couple, Miss Donna McKinney, Mrs. Dwayne Stubblefield of Lubbock, Miss Marsha Nance, Sheryl Prewitt, Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Roenfeldt, Randy Chambers.

Randy Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambers, Wayne Parham.

Also, Sammy Parham, David Aycock, Richard Chambers, Richard McKinney and Dale Morris.

Visit Mrs. Wells

Holiday guests of Mrs. Vada Wells were her sons, John Morris Wells of Sacramento, Cal., and Jack Wells, his wife and children, Doug and Terry of Richardson.

Duplicate Winners

High winners in Monday Evening Duplicate at Community Center were Mrs. Johnny Grubbs and Mrs. Dick Wistrand.

Mrs. Noey Smith and Mrs. Fran Thomson were second high; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Coon of Loraine, third.

Tying for fourth place were Mrs. Billy Joe Hudson, Mrs. A. G. Furlow Jr. and Mrs. Tex Keel and Mrs. Nita Erwin.

Something of the task that he faced at Boswell when he turned away from AA championship seasons at Ballinger.

The other: small town living. The Brevards, Mr. and Mrs., know the kind of life a smaller West Texas town offers and they like it for their family.

Brevard's Boswell team in '71 faced four non-conference and six district opponents along the path of their unbeaten regular season.

His team, which had counted up 3-7 records in Brevard's first two seasons, opened with a 6-0 win over Lewisville.

A 6-6 tie with Keller was followed with 23-13 competition with a 36-0 triumph over Fort Worth's Como. Five more district success followed against Burleson (32-0), Brewer (15-9), Azle (15-8), Fort Worth Diamond Hill (38-6) and Emerson (30-0).

Brevard doesn't hide his displeasure at the defeat to Plano in state bi-district playoffs.

"We had 'em 6 to nothing for two and a half quarters. . .and it ended 6 to 42".

A half dozen of that winning team were named to the 5-AAA District team. Two were selected second team all-state.

The all-state pair were Steve Stookey, 6-2 and 205 pounds, who was guard on offense and tackle on defense, and James Murphy, 5-11, 200 pounds, who gained 1,600 yards rushing in 10 games.

"Our coaching here at Colorado High will be conservative." At lease that is his appraisal in comparison to what a lot of teams are used to.

He talks like Darrell Royal at this point.

"I like for other teams to make mistakes."

"We try to stay in there defensively. . .until the other team makes more mistakes.

"We will throw. . .all right. We will be able to throw, too.

"But we are defensively oriented."
