Champlin Attorney Declares Corporation Commission Is Following Dictation of Major Operators

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 19. (AP)—Wirt Franklin, independent oil man and minority member of the governor's special oil committee, today told the house oil and gas committee that Harry F. Sinclair, proration foe, held a private "nose counting" conference in Tulsa in an effort to destroy state proration laws.

Franklin asserted he was present only by accident at a meeting of majority members of the governor's committee in conference in Sinclair's Tulsa office after the committee had been named by Gov. W. H. Murray, but before a group meeting had been held.

He had not been invited to attend, he said.

"My participation was mostly listening," Franklin said. "I had been in Tulsa two days and had called at Sinclair's office on a business matter."

He counted noses.

"Sinclair told me I probably would be interested in the meeting that was going on."

"The discussion immediately went to who would vote for repeal of the conservation laws. Mr. Sinclair began to count noses."

"He went down the list of committee members, saying 'Walley, for us, Howard, for us, Ramsey for us. He counted five until he got to me and then he said, 'Franklin for us, and that makes it six.'"

Franklin's statement came at the close of discussion of the Champlin bill to abolish proration. He was called by Dave Logan, Oklahoma, committee chairman, who explained that C. C. Owens, chairman of the governor's committee, had complained of reports which omitted Franklin's name from the list of those present at the conference with Sinclair. The statement started an open dispute in the committee hearing with C. C. Peppers, of the Champlin Refining company, who declared "I must have been asleep at the meeting if that's what happened."

Charges Plot

Before the committee adjourned at noon today, Horace G. McKeever, Champlin attorney, advised the group that "the oil companies who promulgate proration orders and get the corporation commission to sign them... under the guise of enforcing a law could be criminally prosecuted for violation of the anti-trust law if it wasn't for that statute."

He referred to the present conservation laws which the Jones bill would supersede.

Mystery Plane Falls and Pilot Dies In Crash

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Feb. 19. (AP)—Barry Davis, designer of a mystery plane, took his ship into the air today for the first time and was killed when it crashed. Carl Nelson, his co-pilot, was slightly injured.

The ship, a tandem monoplane with an odd, square-shaped fuselage and front and rear wings of equal length, was being towed by an automobile when it nose-dived 50 feet to earth. Davis, a man of 30 who came here a couple of years ago and refused to tell anyone the details of the airplane innovation he was tinkering with, was instantly killed.

Davis had been carrying on his experimental work in a hangar, the doors to which were always locked. Curtains covered the windows to prevent curious persons from seeing anything that was going on within.

Field officials estimated that during the last few weeks the inventor expended about $100,000 on his ship.

Little was known about him except that he lived at a hotel near the field and had no intimates.

MARRIED OR NOT

RAYMONDVILLE, Feb. 19. (AP)—Numerous residents of this section were wondering today whether they were married and, if so, to whom.

The court of civil appeals at San Antonio, yesterday, ruling on the case of E. L. Rosecrance vs. Edna Rosecrance, held the civil district court of Judge A. M. Kent without authority to try divorce cases. Since the creation of the court here, it has granted a number of divorces and in several cases one of the parties divorced has remarried.

THE CRIME IN THE DUTCH GARDEN

Chapter 1
INFERENCES

Jimmie Haswell was tired. He had spent the whole day in the law courts and was by no means sure that he was winning the cause on which he was engaged. As he walked toward his chambers in Nichols Inn the young lawyer was asking himself what the chances were that the case would be finished the next day, while dimly contemplating the prospect that the wretched affair might have to be adjourned or begun all over again.

It was no wonder that his annoyance increased when, upon reaching his chambers, his clerk told him that a lady and gentleman were waiting to see him.

"Who are they?" he asked impatiently.

"They said you wouldn't know their names. They came from your cousin, Mr. Donald Wade."

Not feeling too amiable towards his cousin, Jimmie washed his hands, brushed his obstinate dark hair, and asked for his visitors to be shown into his room.

A girl entered. She was fair and decidedly pretty. Her eyes were blue and her coloring good. He put her age at about 23. The man who followed her apparently was a few years older. He was tall and not bad-looking. His features were regular and his hair was rather long, being brushed back from his forehead without a parting, in the style sometimes affected by artists and actors.

"I am Evelyn Blake. We ought not to trouble you, but I live at Walford near Bradford and your cousin, Mr. Wade, is our nearest neighbor. He said as I was coming to London I must consult you on a matter that is worrying us quite a lot."

She had a pleasing voice and she smiled as she spoke. Jimmie glanced from her to her companion. She added with a slight blush, "This is my fiancé, Mr. Duckworth. He is a singer."

"Donald was so sure you could help us, added the girl eagerly. I have known him all my life, and he and his wife came to live near us when they were married, six months ago. He has told us of the mysteries you have cleared up."

"My cousin is young," he remarked, "and full of strange enthusiasms. You must not take all he says seriously."

"But he is quite sure if we told you the facts that are worrying us you would know the right inference to draw from them."

"One should not rely too strongly on inferences," Jimmie countered. "For often there are several explanations for the little things we observe. For instance, I might suggest

CEDARVILLE, KAN., BANK IS BURGLARIZED OF $6,000

Two Men Blow Vault After Cutting All Communications to Town.

INDEPENDENCE, Kans., Feb. 19. (AP)—Two men blew the vault of the Citizens National bank at Cedarville, Kan., 50 miles west of here, and obtained loot estimated at $6,000 about midnight last night.

All telephone wires out of Cedarville were cut and the burglars abducted the telegraph operator at the Missouri Pacific railroad station and the Santa Fe railway engine tender. The two railroad men were forced to accompany the burglars to the bank. After the vault was blown open they were compelled to carry the loot to a cemetery nearly a mile away.

There the robbers entered their automobile and drove away with the captives. The railroad men were released later unharmed.

A. N. Shaver, president of the bank, and James Miller, cashier, reported the burglary to the sheriff's office about 3 a. m. Telephone communication with Cedarville was still interrupted this morning.

Cub Batterymen Do Much Posing

AVALON, Cal., Feb. 19. (AP)—Having taken care of much posing for photographers and talking for the talkies, Chicago Cub batterymen today settled down to prepare for the National league championship season.

Manager Rogers Hornsby said that conditioning would be from the ground up, that is, the Athletics will get their legs in shape before doing anything else. Hornsby has listed three games for Catalina Island, two with the Los Angeles Pacific Coast league club, and one with a team of movie actors headed by Joe Brown.

TEXAN DIES IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 19. (AP)—H. L. Lawson, known here as an oil man of Mercedes, Texas, died here during the night in his room at the Hotel Regis, apparently from a heart attack. He had been registered at the hotel since last September. The American consul has taken charge of the body.

ROUND-UP OF SUSPECTS IN HIJACKING IS FRUITLESS

Two Young Bandits Obtained Fifty Dollars in Bold Raid Last Night.

Round-up and subsequent grilling of about 30 possible suspects by the sheriff's department last night in connection with the robbery of the Standard Oil and Center company, 622 West Foster, at 8:30 p. m. afforded no clues that led to the identity of the youthful bandit pair who at the point of a gun took $50 from the cash register.

Sheriff Lon L. Blawett and his deputies combed the city and its immediate section until 3 o'clock this morning. The possible suspects were released after questioning.

One of the robbers held a gun on Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Brown, owners, and J. M. Sturkey of the Plains Roofing company, while the other rifled the cash register. The three

MAYOR RACE IN CHICAGO IS GROWING HOT

Parade of Jackasses and Display of Gang Weapons At Rally Mark Progress of Republican Drive.

AN OPEN DISPUTE

Lyle And Albert Strongly Contesting Power of "Big Bill" Thompson, Colorful Old Politician.

By VICTOR H. HACKLER
CHICAGO, Feb. 19. (AP)—A parade of jackasses, a display of gang weapons, a bitter exchange of personalities, and the world tunes in on Chicago again.

This time the attraction is the three-cornered race for the republican nomination for mayor. Mayor William Hale Thompson, older and hoarser but still vigorous, is opposed by Municipal Judge John H. Lyle and Alderman Arthur F. Albert in a contest that combines all the old-time theatricals with ultra-modern campaign methods.

As it turns the dial to Chicago and sits back to listen, the world knows it is in for a good show. Chicago is an old, familiar station; it has entertained, amused, sometimes shocked those on the receiving end for many years.

The gang wars, Dion O'Banion's dramatic death, the shooting of Tony Lombardo on a loop street, the Valentine day massacre of seven gangsters, the slaying of Alfred Lingle in a pedestrian tunnel, the activities of Al Capone, all have been exploited to the far corners of the earth.

In a less spectacular but still impressive way, Chicago's news has told of industrial progress, enormous factories, the stockyards, great building projects, the glory of a world's fair and the hopes of another.

But the political life in the mid-west metropolis has always attracted attention, especially since the entry of the master showman, William Hale Thompson.

"Big Bill the Builder" has staged many of them, vote-getters and side-shows. He campaigned in 1915 on the resurged slogan of "a full dinner pail," argued among other things for home rule for Ireland in 1919 and astounded the world in 1927 by promising to "crack King George in the snoot" if he ever came to Chicago.

This time Thompson has found someone closer home to campaign against. He vows with gusto daily that he "wears no man's halter" and attempts to show that his opponents do—that their backers led to newspaper offices.

For once Thompson has an opponent willing to engage him at his own game. Lyle, who became a national figure while in the usually inconspicuous office of municipal judge, relishes the fight and has no objection to histrionics or to strong language.

Thompson started using a jack-ass parade, depicting Lyle on a mule and Albert on a burro. Lyle, vicious foe of gangdom, responded by bringing machine guns, sawed-off shotguns, bludgeons, and pistols to his meetings and charging that the men who used such weapons were all for Thompson. Starting from "the nutty judge" and "that big clown," the two worked up to a name calling contest that got too strong for print.

Albert, backed by the faction headed by Senator Charles S. Deneen, has pointed to the anticapitalist opponents and asked the voters, "Is that the kind of a mayor you want?"

Anton J. Cernak, with no organized opposition for the democratic nomination, asks merely that his party members stay out of the republican primary Tuesday and prepare for the big contest two months hence.

Lions to Sponsor Plan to Finance Public Library

Pampa Lions today decided to sponsor a plan to finance the public library, and possibly to propose a half-mile taxi for the purpose.

A committee composed of Judge J. V. Duncan, A. M. Teed, and John B. Hessey will report its findings and recommendations to the club next week. The proposed city tax would give an operating fund of about $3,500 annually.

Mrs. James Todd, librarian, told the Lions that the institution has 4,123 volumes, compared with 600 books contained at the opening two years ago. More than 500 volumes are checked out, and the patronage exceeds the facilities. Children are making much use of the books.

The library is sponsored by local clubs and supported by donations. It is without funds at this time. A membership drive is under way.

Murray Summons Oil Executives

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 19. (AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray today called executives of all companies purchasing oil in the city field for an afternoon conference at the capitol to discuss "certain conditions."

Further explanation was not given, but speculation generally was that the governor intended to seek to reach the truth of complaints of discrimination in proration and the taking of oil from wells of small producers with town-lot wells.

MAY END IMPOUNDING

AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (AP)—A bill to abolish the impounding of automobiles for violation of state and city traffic laws has been voted out favorably by the house committee on municipal and private corporations.

The bill would make the person impounding a vehicle liable to a fine of from $25 to $500 and would make the city subject to a penalty of $50, payable to the vehicle owner.

Lucy Will Give Program Tonight

Washington, Lincoln, Lee, and other noted characters will be impersonated by Thomas Elmore Lucy in an entertainment to be sponsored by the Mothers club of Horace Mann school this evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall auditorium.

Songs, illustrated with sketches, also will be included on the program.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of "Pop" Frazer, will play from 7:30 to 8.

GETS SEND PRODUCER

JOINVILLE, Feb. 19. (AP)—The Joinerville oil field has its 23rd producer today, after the Deep Rock Oil company's No. 1 Camp came in yesterday for an estimated production of between 10,000 and 15,000 barrels daily.

The well is located about 700 feet north of the Consolidated Oil company's No. 1 Camp, which came in good for 3,000 barrels or more, three weeks ago.

Managers of a Jacksonville, Fla., employment bureau doubted L. F. Braly of 114th district court would render beyond appeal a judgment on J. L. Noel's petition for an injunction to restrain the commissioners from paying Tom Jackson a $3,840 gravel bid he was being considered by the commissioners today.

INJUNCTION STATUS NOW ADMITTEDLY IS "MUDDLE"

Both Sides Considering Legal Angles Today; Right to Build Road at Issue.

A possibility that Judge Clifford Braly of 114th district court would render beyond appeal a judgment on J. L. Noel's petition for an injunction to restrain the commissioners from paying Tom Jackson a $3,840 gravel bid he was being considered by the commissioners today.

Following Judge Braly's announcement that he would restrain Miss Mabel Davis, county treasurer, from paying the bill, Mr. Jackson from collecting it, the commissioners voted to take an appeal on the judgment rendered by the court.

A new angle to the situation recently developed when attorneys in the case questioned the commissioners' right to appeal if the court did not enjoin them. Both Mr. Noel and the commissioners court now hold that the question of whether the commissioners had the right to build the road without advertising for bids is the only issue at point. Mr. Noel contends that the commissioners had no legal right to build the road without competitive bidding since it cost over $2,000, and that the court should enjoin the commissioners.

Attorneys of both sides were conferring with Judge Braly on the judgment today. A proposed judgment submitted by Mr. Noel's attorneys, Chas. C. Cook and William Smith, which enjoined the commissioners, was rejected by the court. That the case at present is "in muddle" was agreed to by both sides.

STUDENT FLIER AND PILOT DIE

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 19. (AP)—Lieut. Paul B. Thompson, pilot, and Andrew Herman Minko, student flier, were killed instantly today as their lead training plane went into a spin at low altitude and crashed just outside the city limits and a short distance from the naval training station.

McGee To Plead Guilty Friday to Looting of Bank

A plea of guilty to an indictment charging him with robbing the Alameda State bank, and to another charging him with assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of Jim Bryant, brought Roy Stephenson two 15-year sentences in 114th district court yesterday.

The same jury assessed the penalties in both cases. District Attorney Raymond Allred did not demand the maximum penalty but left the question of deciding the length of term to the jury.

Roy "Shorty" McGee, co-defendant, will go to trial tomorrow, it was announced last night. The court appointed Bill Willis to represent McGee. It has already been announced that McGee will plead guilty to the charge. Mr. Allred said that he would ask the jury to be as lenient as possible. Not less

Joinerville Pool Boasts Its 22nd Well in 5 Months

JOINVILLE, Feb. 19. (AP)—A new oil well, the second completed here in two days, was giving up the golden fluid at a rate of between 10,000 and 15,000 barrels daily today, bringing the number of producers for this five-month-old field to 22.

The Deep Rock Oil company's Cook's No. 1 W. Camp was yielding what experts said was an extraordinary sweet, high-gravity oil. In fact, all the oil coming from the red-clay-covered hills of east Texas has been analyzed as of a higher grade than usual.

Until this year, Joinerville was merely a wide plain. In the road beyond Arp, a railroad station on the Missouri Pacific about 17 miles below Tyler, now it could aptly be described as "a long place in the road." A regular oil boom town has sprung up here and it still is growing. Large piles of lumber dot both sides of the highway, and buildings are going up at a rapid rate. The pine groves are being cleared to make room for wagons and teams bringing oil drilling machinery. Replacing the pines are derricks.

The latest completion was the second in two days, the Ball and Malone No. 1 Bradford having come in Tuesday, making an estimated 4,500 barrels through a two-inch choke. Its showing has since improved, however, operators estimating today that it would produce at least 6,500 barrels.

Development in the field shows no let-up. Railroad facilities at Arp have been enlarged to care for the ever increasing shipments of rigs and materials, and still congestion continues.

The Sinclair interests are building a pipeline rack that will permit filling of 65 cars at one time and are laying a pipeline to the field.

Pirates Off To Paso Robles, Cal.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19. (AP)—The advance squad of the Pittsburgh Pirates left here today, bound for their spring training camp at Paso Robles, Cal.

The party was headed by Manager Jewel Ems and included Pitchers Swetonic, Spencer, and James Dempsey, the latter a Pittsburgh semi-pro star; Catchers Hemsley, Phillips and Bird, and the club physician, newspaper men and others.

Pitcher Brame will be picked up when the squad reaches Chicago tonight.

DAISY DE BOE IS DENIED BAIL

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19. (AP)—Release of Daisy De Boe on bail pending outcome of an appeal for a new trial of the charge that she stole $825 from the actress, Clara Bow, was denied by Judge William Doran today.

A motion for the release of the young woman, convicted and granted probation from a prison term of five years on condition she serve 18 months in the county jail, ended abruptly when the court interrupted the plea of Miss De Boe's counsel.

"Filing of these technical motions," Judge Doran said, "costs the state hundreds of thousands of dollars in court time and the struggle to keep convicted persons incarcerated is turning justice into a monumental joke. The motion was denied. I sent Miss De Boe to jail for 18 months and there she will stay."

Miss De Boe accepted the court's judgment without a show of emotion and was led back to jail, where she exclaimed with sarcasm as she was about to enter a cell door: "Is that a laugh?"

FRED MYERS WILL DEMAND NEW TRIAL OF HIS CASE

Absence of His Wife Due to Illness Held Material To His Defense.

Attorneys for Fred Myers today prepared a motion for a new trial, based on the ground that his wife was a material witness for the defense and that she was too ill to testify in his recent trial.

Myers was found guilty of possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale by a 114th district court jury yesterday and was given a one-year term in the penitentiary.

When the case was called for trial Tuesday, the defense asked for continuance, claiming that Mrs. Myers was a material witness but was too ill to appear in court. A physician's certificate which stated that she was too ill to appear in court was offered to the court. Mr. Myers further asks for a new trial, alleging that there were defects in the court's charge and irregularities in the search warrant. It also claimed that District Attorney Raymond Allred argued improperly to the jury, discussing evidence regarding search warrants introduced in two previous trials of Mr. Myers.

If the motion for a new trial is overruled, the defendant announced he would appeal his case.

On the first ballot, the jury stood 9 to 3 for conviction. Two hours before the verdict was returned, the jury stood 11 to 1 for conviction.

In the motion for a new trial, the defendant alleged that his wife was present at the time of the search and during certain conversations. Mrs. Myers testified, she would have corroborated the testimony of her husband, it was stated.

'RAILROADING' IS CHARGED BY ONE SENATOR

Bingham of Connecticut Is First to Oppose Measure And to Cite Democratic Editorial Opposition.

VETO EXPECTED

Advocates of Relief Plan in Drive to Put It to Vote Before Adjournment; Debate Limit Is Blocked.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—Prediction was made in the senate today as it neared a vote on the veterans loan bill, the measure was urged by its advocates to speed it to a vote before night-fall.

Senators Couzens, republican, Michigan, and Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, pleaded for quick action to get the measure to President Hoover, whose veto is regarded at the capitol as certain.

However, an attempt by Harrison to get a limit on debate was blocked by Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, an opponent of the measure.

The galleries were packed as the senate prepared to jam the bill through over the expressed opposition of President Hoover.

Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, one of the small minority band opposing the legislation, opened the debate, recalling his own war record.

"I would regret for congress to imply that the veterans are insatiable in their demands," he said. "I have the sympathy with this legislation that is being railroaded through congress."

Bingham stated the opposition of the president and read editorials from some democratic newspapers supporting that position.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—The veterans' loan bill would allow World war veterans to borrow up to half the face value of their bonus insurance certificates.

President Hoover and the treasury estimate approximately $1,000,000,000 will be borrowed, if the measure becomes a law.

Veterans Administrator Hines believes 2,500,000 veterans of the more than 3,000,000 holding the adjusted service certificates would avail themselves of the loans.

Interest on the loans would be charged at 4-1/2 per cent instead of 6 per cent as now.

Veterans are now allowed loans up to 22-1/2 per cent of value of bonus certificates.

The average loan available to a veteran would be $500.

President Hoover and the treasury estimate approximately $1,000,000,000 will be borrowed, if the measure becomes a law.

Veterans Administrator Hines believes 2,500,000 veterans of the more than 3,000,000 holding the adjusted service certificates would avail themselves of the loans.

Interest on the loans would be charged at 4-1/2 per cent instead of 6 per cent as now.

Veterans are now allowed loans up to 22-1/2 per cent of value of bonus certificates.

The average loan available to a veteran would be $500.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—The veterans' loan bill would allow World war veterans to borrow up to half the face value of their bonus insurance certificates.

City Planning Can Prevent Errors That Have Proved Costly Elsewhere
Pampa will, within the next few weeks, be operating under the provisions of city planning ordinances which have been drawn up during the last year. This is one of the first cities in West Texas to start plans for effectively guiding its growth.

There is nothing arbitrary in the method devised for securing uniformity in building up the community. The ordinance applies to all alike. Property will be stabilized in value rather than retarded.

The city will have the power, henceforth, to prevent encroachment of industry and commerce in residential sections. It will be able to prevent placing of unsightly signs and shacks where they will detract from the good appearance of a street or endanger traffic safety. The building code, furthermore, will remove fire hazards and will bring about a lowering of the insurance key rate.

Without the city planning ordinances, Pampa would continue her haphazard growth, with hot-dog stands cropping out here and there and junk yards littering up main thoroughfares. The new laws cannot be retroactive; that is, they cannot remedy what already has taken place, but they can prevent expansion of such concerns and stop installation of others.

A city without control of its growth is like a business without a head. Many cities are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars to correct errors that city planning would have prevented. Pampa citizens can bring credit and honor to their city by cooperating with the planning commission in following the provisions outlined by competent engineers.

Insurgents Killed. In Nicaraguan Fight
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—The navy department was advised today that 25 insurgents were killed by marines Feb. 16, near El Tule, in the northern part of Nicaragua.
Col. F. M. Bradman, commanding the second marine brigade, reported a 20-minute contact was made by a guardia patrol, commanded by Capt. Gregory A. Williams, of San Diego, Calif.
A group of 35 insurgents were routed with five known wounded. Their camp was destroyed.
Lieut. Floyd M. McCorkle, of Wilmar, Calif., was sent in pursuit with a patrol unit and made a long range contact with the fleeing group, inflicting 35 known casualties.

NOT A BIGAMIST EITHER

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19. (AP)—Miss Jessie Jones, of Glenolden, a suburb, got married last night. Without committing bigamy, she wed the chief of police, the fire chief, the building inspector, the director of street cleaning, the dog catcher, the head of the bureau of licenses and the highway engineer of the adjoining borough of Milbourne.
To do this she merely married Sam Taggart, who holds all those jobs with a couple of others.

License Bill Is Opposed in Hearing

AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (AP)—After a public hearing of more than two hours last night on a bill by Representative Keller of Dallas, proposing a drivers license for operators of motor vehicles, the house highway and motor traffic committee planned to go into the matter again today.

Representative Farmer of Fort Worth, in speaking against the bill, said the right to operate an automobile was a personal privilege and charged that legislators were attempting to place burdensome legislation on the people. He charged that officers were not enforcing other laws and said he wanted to know how they could enforce additional ones.

Representatives Bradley of Houston and Keller of Dallas, led 13 lengthy discussions of the bill.

Marathon Bridge Is Latest Stunt

CHICAGO, Feb. 19. (AP)—Gentlemen, pick a good restaurant for the marathon bridge game is here. Four women started it at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and were still going on today.

Their husbands, arrived at their respective homes for dinner last night, found nothing but the breakfast dishes in the kitchen sinks. Telephone calls brought the information there would be no more meals this week.

The marathon started at the home of Mrs. Ralph Ford and might have gone on there indefinitely if Ford hadn't imported their poker playing husbands and started a card game of his own. The women thereupon summoned automobiles and departed—still playing—for the home of Mrs. Charles Quinn, where they were still playing today.
By midnight one woman had a high score of 16,021, by reason of seven grand slams and other good playing.
"It suits me fine," said the delirious shop owner on a nearby corner.

Kidnaper's Trail Believed Found

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 19. (AP)—San Diego's officers today picked up what they believed to be a trail of the kidnap of Virginia Brooks, 16, who disappeared Feb. 11 while on her way to school here.

Sheriff Carl Klindt of Escondido reported an automobile driven by a man about 30 years old had been seen twice yesterday near San Marcos, Calif., and that the car contained a girl resembling photographic likenesses of the Brooks girl.
Two Escondido merchants told Klindt the first time the car passed them the man was sitting on the girl's feet holding her down with his hands. The second time, the merchants' automobile was stuck in the mud on a narrow road. They told the deputy that when they tried to halt the other car it increased its speed and struck the front fender of their automobile.

In both instances the man was said to have been holding the girl down on the seat.
Six deputy sheriffs were dispatched to the San Marcos area.

GOES TO WASHINGTON

AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (AP)—Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general, left last night for Washington to represent the state in the Supreme Court in the case of Group No. One Oil corporation against the collector of internal revenue. The suit involves collection of income taxes. The oil corporation leases oil lands from the University of Texas.

WILL HOLD HEARING

AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (AP)—C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, left today for Sweetwater to hold two hearings tomorrow, one on application of the Texas and Pacific railway to discontinue one of its trails and to consolidate two others between Sweetwater and Dallas.

College President Is Under Charge

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 19. (AP)—Both the president and a department head of a state educational institution were slated to appear in police court here today to answer to drunkenness charges filed against them after an automobile in which they were riding figured in a collision yesterday.

Dr. H. H. Cherry, 46, president of Western Kentucky Teachers college at Bowling Green, Ky., was charged with operating a motor vehicle while drunk. W. M. Pearce, 51, director of the college's extension department, was charged with being drunk in a public place.

DEPUTY IS ACQUITTED

LONGVIEW, Feb. 19. (AP)—A jury here late yesterday acquitted V. B. Shoffner, 35, former Panola county deputy sheriff, on a charge of murder in the slaying of Thurmond Wall, 21-year-old farmer, who was killed last summer in Carthage. Shoffner pleaded self-defense.

Harry Brands made a recent business trip to White Deer.

Mrs. J. C. Collins and Mrs. E. W. Shewmaker spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Matysuk of Noellette.

Plane That Lands Without Pilot's Help

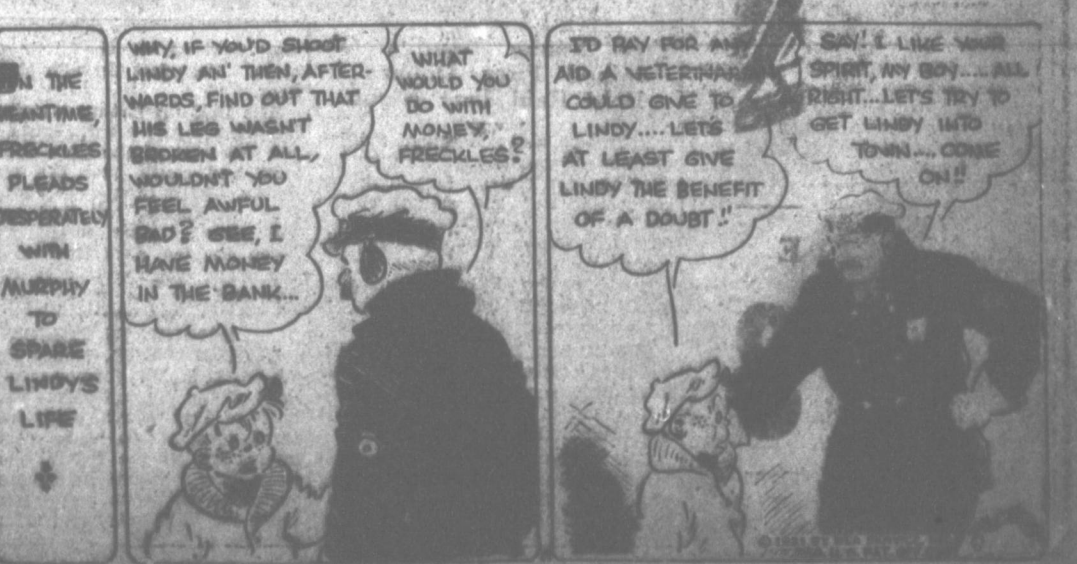

Here's a plane that lands itself! Aircraft experts from many parts of the country watched the unusual experiment pictured above at Glenn Curtiss Airport, New York, when Pilot Henry White made a perfect landing while his hands (as indicated by arrow) were up and off the controls. Movable wings, which are set at the correct landing angle by the pilot in flight, are the secret of the spectacular stunt. It is with operating a motor vehicle while drunk. W. M. Pearce, 51, director of the college's extension department, was charged with being drunk in a public place.

Major William B. Harrison paroled them on their own recognizance to appear in court today, and former Mayor Huston Quinn, an acquaintance, took them to a hotel. Dr. Cherry issued a statement describing the accident and said "I was not intoxicated" and did not have a bottle of whiskey in my pocket. Mrs. Pearce did not comment.

"New Birth" Is Revival Subject

Importance of the new birth as a Bible doctrine was discussed by Rev. Whitley at the First Baptist revival last night. A crowd of approximately 250 people heard the visiting minister.

Taking as his text a portion of the third chapter of John, the minister explained the meaning of the new birth, and its importance to the individual. "Everything in the Bible is important," said Rev. Whitley, "but there are some things in the Bible that are more important than others. And I come tonight to say that the doctrine of the new birth is more important than any other doctrine in the whole Bible. You may miss many doctrines, you may miss many scriptures, and you may misunderstand many doctrines and still remain a child of God; but if you miss the doctrine of the new birth you have missed all. No other principle in the scripture surpasses it in importance; it is the most important of all."

The minister emphasized the fact that the new birth is a change in the heart of men. "Religion," he said, "will change a man's life; if you see a church member who is doing many things that come outside the church are even ashamed to do, you may put it down that he is a hypocrite on the road to hell. If a man's religion has not changed his life and heart from what it was before he received it he has no religion. There must be a change. 'Ye must be born again,' was the admonition of Christ to Nicodemus, the Pharisee who came to him by night enquiring about the new birth."

The minister stressed the need of God in the individual's life. "Any man," he continued, "who leaves God out of his life is not what he should be. And to leave God in one's life is to have the new birth; to have God in one's life is to be changed by the new birth."

The next thought expressed by Rev. Whitley indicated some things that the new birth is not. The minister indicated that there are some things mistaken for the new birth which in reality are not the new birth according to the doctrine taught by Christ. "I see many people as I go about the country," said Rev. Whitley, "who mistake church membership for the new birth. In this revival we are not trying to get people to join the church; we are trying to get people to accept Jesus Christ as savior."

"Another thing the new birth is not," he continued, "is reformation. A man may turn over a new leaf, so to speak, and still not be affected by the new birth as Jesus Christ taught it. A

COTTON CABLES STRONGER

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19. (AP)—Cotton had a steady opening in sympathy with improved Liverpool cables. First trades showed gains of four to five points. The market continued steady after the start on moderate trade buying, but as Liverpool was easier at the close of that market and recent buyers showed a disposition to liquidate, prices eased off gradually, losing four to five points from the top with May at 11.43 and October at 11.35, about even with yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market was a shade easier with ring traders showing a disposition to sell.

GRAIN SLOWER

CHICAGO, Feb. 19. (AP)—Moist weather benefiting domestic winter crop regions eased grain prices down early today. Lower quotations on wheat at Liverpool acted as an additional bearish influence, together with forecasts of enlarged shipments from Argentina. Opening unchanged to 1-4@3-8 off, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 lower and subsequently held near to the initial limits.

Governor Emerson of Wyoming Dies

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 19. (AP)—Gov. Frank C. Emerson of Wyoming, weakened by a five-day illness, died of a heart attack last night. He was 46 years old.

The governor left his office last Friday because of a mild attack of influenza, which developed into pneumonia Sunday. A. M. Clark, secretary of state, said today he would declare himself acting governor until a successor is chosen at the state election in 1932. Clark is a republican, as was his chief.

Gov. William B. Ross died in office in 1924.

Cattlemen To Meet At Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 19. —The convention program for the 55th annual gathering of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association has been practically completed, according to E. E. Spiller of Port Worth, who was here a few days ago conferring with local committee men.

"Although there will be a number of serious addresses," he said, "it is the association's aim to make the gathering of real help to the cattlemen by treating many of the sessions open to discussions from the floor, thereby giving delegates an opportunity to express their views, and to learn the views of others."

Mr. Spiller said that a number of the southwest's prominent men had been invited to attend the convention, and that many have accepted. The scenes of many of Texas' colorful dramas are laid in the south Texas field, still regarded as the state's foremost cattle country. Near here, in Kinney county, is one of the world's largest and most productive ranches, Santa Gertrudis, founded by the late Capt. Richard King, whose name is indelibly woven into the history of the south Texas empire. His grandson, Richard C. King, served the association as president for three terms. Such other names as John G. Kenedy, Jim Wells, Cyrus B. Lucas, Jim Hogg have become institutions in south Texas and furnish inspiration for many true tales that are the pride and the glory of the basic industry of cattle raising.

Cities May Build Gas Systems If Rates Not Lowered

ABILENE, Feb. 19. (AP)—Representatives of more than 30 towns meeting here yesterday adopted recommendations that west Texas cities adopt forceful means in an attempt to obtain reduction of gas rates.

Resolutions urged that cities of the district endeavor to obtain competition in the sale and distribution of natural gas and that if this means was not practicable, that municipalities band together for construction of their own pipelines and take steps toward municipal ownership of distribution systems.

A committee of three was named to compile and submit reports of the last five years of gas companies filed with cities and of company reports filed with the state railroad commission. Another committee was appointed to draft plans for a permanent organization.

Capone Angered By Butler Speech

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19. (AP)—Al Capone is wrathful because of published remarks that Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler had said the Chicago "public enemy" would be deported when public opinion is aroused.

"The general is ill-informed," Capone said in a statement published today. "He should know the laws of this country protect an American-born citizen and prevent the deportation of any one who, like myself, was born in this country."

General Butler says I am a criminal. The only charge that I know of, or any law abiding authorities know of, is of my being charged with vagrancy. "I have been feeding between 2,500 and 3,000 people daily in Chicago for the last six months. If this is an act of a vagrant, I want to be classed as one."

"I leave the American people to judge as between General Butler and myself, and I am satisfied to abide by their verdict."

Kansan Killed by Fire in Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 19. (AP)—J. M. Schlitz, Wichita, Kans., was burned to death today in a fire which destroyed the southwest wing of the Madison hotel here.

Loss to the building and contents of the historic old hotel was estimated at approximately $50,000. The cause of the fire was not determined, but hotel attendants expressed a belief that it originated in Schlitz's room on the third floor from a lighted cigarette setting fire to bedclothing.

About 100 guests were routed from the building shortly after discovery of the fire. Many left the burning structure in night clothing.

Officers Puzzled By Queer Actions Of Jailed Woman

Police were wondering today about the unknown facts in the life of a handsome, well-dressed woman who after she was arrested and jailed on charges of intoxication and disturbing the peace, stopped up water outlets in her cell and filled it with six inches of water, while she sang blues songs in the whole-souled manner of a Bessie Smith. She gave a fictitious name.

This morning when the woman appeared in police court, officers got a surprise. She pleaded guilty to the charges in a cultured, fast-

Nine-Year-Old Boy Bowls 210—Rolls Regulation 3-Hole Ball

OMAHA, Nebr., Feb. 19. (AP)—Jimmie Drexel knows more about strikes and spares than most children know about nursery rhymes.

Jimmie, who is 9 years old and in the fourth grade at school, demonstrated his knowledge by bowling 210 in one game. Attendants at a local alley, where he bowls every Sunday with his father, said he averages about 150. He rolled his first game last October.

Chief J. I. Downs remembered this morning that she visited Pampa six months ago, when she was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace. Placed in jail, she tore the sheets and mattress in shreds, set them on fire, broke out the window lights, wrecked the bed and then stopped up water outlets and flooded her cell. She left Pampa soon afterward and was not seen until yesterday. This morning she received ample funds to pay her fine by telegraph from her mother in a north Texas city.

N. Y. Woman Lost 14 Pounds of Fat

One 85 Cent Bottle of Kruschen Salts Did It

"I am starting on my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and am real pleased with results. I take it for reducing and so far have lost 14 pounds and I think it is doing wonders for me. I do not feel tired evenings when I get home from work."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at Richards Drug company, Inc., Fatheree Drug Store, Patterson-Wilson Drug Company, Pampa Drug Company, or any drugstore in America—take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Before the bottle is empty, surplus fat is leaving your system—changes to activity—you'll feel younger—eyes will brighten—skin grows spry. Millions know this—you ought to know it. Kruschen Salts is the ideal treatment for constipation, indigestion, headaches, nervousness and acidity.

Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily dose that does it—if not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back. adv.—

Spain Is More Quiet As New Cabinet Formed

By CLARENCE DUBOSE
MADRID, Feb. 19, (P)—After four days of political turmoil and uncertainty, Spain today had a new monarchist cabinet, avoiding revolution on the one hand and dictatorship on the other.

Either of those possibilities had seemed imminent, but now it is believed that the tense atmosphere of the past week will be cleared and that the situation is once more tranquil, at least for the time being.

The fundamental causes of all the trouble of the past year still exist, however, and opposition to the monarchy probably will be renewed when the time is ripe.

Admiral Juan Bautista Aznar, the oldest ranking officer in the Spanish navy and generally regarded as a neutral in politics, succeeded where Jose Sanchez Guerra and Melchior Alvarez had failed. This after he brought a new cabinet to the royal palace and its members were sworn in before the king.

The members of the new cabinet are: premier, Admiral Aznar; secretary of war, General Berenguer; public works, Juan de la Vierva; treasury, Juan Ventosa; economy, Count de Bugallal; labor, Duke of Maura; interior, Marquis de Hoyos; justice, Marquis Alhucemas; foreign affairs, Count de Romanones; minister of marine, Admiral Luis Rivera.

This list leaves vacant only the ministry of instruction. The new government marked a right about face in the attitude of King Alfonso, who in his selection Monday of Sanchez Guerra as premier designate gave tacit consent to a constitutional convention which would have sworn the throne to much of its power and perhaps changed the form of the Spanish government altogether.

The new government, while its program has not been announced, probably will seek constitutional revision but to limited degree. Like its predecessor, the ministry of General Berenguer, who resigned Saturday, an attempt will be made to restore parliamentary government at the earliest possible time.

that you have just been having a birthday, but I may be entirely mistaken."

The lovers exchanged a look of surprise. "Why do you say that?" asked the man.

"Your gloves are new, your tie is new, and your cuff-links have the peculiar brightness of the jeweler's shop. We all wear new things sometimes, but several new things together suggest a celebration."

"I gave him the cuff-links," said Evelyn, the rosy color showing again on her cheeks.

"Today is my birthday," declared Duckworth. "It proves that Donald Wade was right to send us to you."

"Yes," added the girl. "After that Mr. Harwell, you cannot refuse. May I tell you?"

He bowed and she began her story. He watched her attentively. She was not exactly beautiful, but her features were good and there was considerable firmness in her small mouth. She was undoubtedly a girl who would persevere with whatever she undertook. Failure and discouragement would not daunt her. Yet there was anxiety in her tone, though what she had to say seemed at first hardly to justify it.

"My sister and I live with our aunt, Miss Querdling. She is a wonderful woman, with a very strong nature. She has great determination and is entirely different to the opinions of other people. Consequently she is not exactly popular, though she is really very kind and does a great deal of good. Perhaps she has enemies. Anyway she has been receiving threatening letters, anonymous ones of course. They are what we are worrying about."

"What exactly do you mean by threatening letters?" asked Jimmie.

"At first they were vague," answered the girl. "They said that she was to be punished for what she had done. Then they grew more definite and said that she was to be killed."

Her voice dropped as she repeated the terrible words. It seemed that they had undoubtedly shaken her.

"For what she had done," echoed

Jimmie. "What had she done?"

"Nothing—I mean it just said that—as though she had wronged somebody."

"There was no demand for money? No suggestion of exposure of revealing secrets—unless payment was made?"

"Nothing like that."

"Have you the letters with you?"

"No my aunt has them."

"How does she regard them?"

"She does not take them seriously. But we, my sister and I, feel that a real danger threatens her and she ought to be protected."

"What have you done about it?" inquired Jimmie.

"We have been to the police, although Aunt Annabelle would not at first allow us to do that. Of course we have also consulted our friends, Donald Wade and others. It was Donald who told me to come to you."

"How long has your aunt been getting these letters?"

"For two months," said Evelyn.

"They come at intervals of a week or 10 days. There have been six at the present. They are printed in rough characters and are all posted in the neighborhood, though apparently at different post-offices or pillar-boxes."

"Have the police no suspicions at all as to who sends them?"

"At first they thought they might come from a young fellow called Joe Allen. He was an undergardener whom my aunt discharged shortly before she began to receive them. He had been heard in the village to say he would get even with her. But he denies everything, and nothing can be proved."

"Why was he discharged? Had he any reason for resentment?"

"Well," said the girl, "the color came again to her cheeks, and he might think he had. My aunt caught him love-making with one of the maids, and that is a thing she will not allow."

"Does she not approve of love-making?" asked Jimmie with a smile as he looked from one of them to the other.

"No," answered Evelyn, "she does not."

"She certainly does not approve of me, if you mean that," added Duckworth.

"That is bad luck," said Jimmie, "but I cannot quite see why Donald sent you to me. What can I do?"

"He thought," said Duckworth, "that you would be able to suggest something like that."

"Have you the letters with you?"

"No my aunt has them."

"How does she regard them?"

GORDON STORE

Is still holding their Big Price Slashing Money Saving Sale. We are cleaning this store of every dollar's worth of merchandise regardless of cost or quality. We are almost giving this merchandise away to keep from moving it into our new store which is under construction at this time. When our new store is opened it will be opened with a brand new stock now being purchased.

We still have hundreds of bargains so low in price that you can't resist buying them, in fact, we are selling them at less than we are paying for the same merchandise for our new store. We mention only a few of our numerous values. All goods will be sold at Sale Prices until sold.

RADIO DAY by C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Time is Central Standard)
NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—Radio, with its public program, requires more from its attendants—the men behind the scenes.

And it gets it. Brad Browne, he of the CBS nitwit, is a good example. Browne, who also teams up with Al Lewin in a dilly series, turns out on the average of five series a week.

He does it, too, week in and week out almost without fail, first writing the lyrics, and then sitting down to the piano to thump out a tune that will fit.

His other duties include the script for the nitwit, with series of a half dozen or more characters, each week. When he gets pressed he can turn out this copy in an hour.

A recital in which the Theremin, the instrument which produces music by putting the fingers of radio tubes to work, is to be given on WABC and stations at 2:30 p. m., Feb. 26. The player will be George Goreff, Russian musician.

Try these on your radio tonight: The crime club, WABC and stations at 5:45.

Rudy Vallee's orchestra, playing from Chicago, WEA and network at 7.

The birthday party, with Galileo as the re-incarnated guest of honor, WEA and stations at 3.

The B. A. Rolfe dance orchestra, WEA group at 9.

Koch's Eidel and concert orchestra, WABC and chain, at 9:30, changed from previously announced time.

Radio round-up, including Annette Hanshaw, Roy Atwell, Eddie Connors, Charles Ross Taggart and Fred Monroe, WABC and network at 10:30, a new time.

EUROPEAN ART TREASURES COLLECTED AT PALM BEACH

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 19. (AP)—A rapidly increasing collection of art treasures is finding its way from Europe, to costly homes and clubs of Palm Beach.

Adrian M. Manner, architect, is credited with having one of the largest collections of Spanish antiques to America. A fountain of the Louis XIV period brought from a ducal palace in France recently was assembled on the grounds of Lagomar, Palm Beach villa of Mrs. Henry B. Rea of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Other large collections here are owned by the Hughes Dillmans of Detroit and New York, the George Luke Messers of New York, the William G. Vardens of Germantown, Pa., and the George North Willys of Toledo and New York.

BUTLER WILL RETIRE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 19. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Snodley Butler plans to retire from the marine corps next September to become a lecturer. He announced his intention to forsake his military career, for the buttings last night when he arrived here to deliver an address, explaining that he had signed a contract to deliver a series of lectures beginning next October.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crescote that is pleasant to take.
Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs crescote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritation. Creomulsion contains, in addition to crescote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the crescote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, reaches the seat of the trouble

Specialist Will Give Important Success Secrets

In business and in science, in art and in politics, in education and in society, there exists a competitive spirit undimmed of in the days of the Gibson Girl, the wood stove and the mustache cup. And, in her business of being a wife and mother, as well as in her social and business adventurings beyond her doorstep, woman has been drawn into the competitive contest. Success for her, even as success for man in his endeavors, can only be attained by recognizing the situation and whetting her own efforts upon the keen blade of competition.

So declares Nancy Earle, who is coming to Pampa to give a series of five free talks on charm, health, personality, homemaking, and happiness under the sponsorship of the News-Post in the city hall auditorium from Feb. 24-27. "Any woman who wants to retain first place in the interests of her family," says Nancy Earle, "and who wants to make a success of her social or professional life, has to learn to meet severe competition, meet it skillfully and constantly."

Explaining her statements, Nancy
Earle, whose interesting Charm Chats have in recent weeks been appearing in the Morning Post, said that "many women, though thoroughly aware of the altered conditions under which we moderns live, seem to believe that their personalities can continue to wear leg-o-mutton sleeves and still command the interest and attention of their husbands and friends."

"We might as well face the facts," this practical person contends,
"and cease deluding ourselves with romanticity. Husbands and children have too many attractions outside the home to pause long within its confines if charming mother does not offer stronger competition. And her acquaintances are too busy devoting themselves to women who conform to specifications to linger long with one whom they dismiss as 'nice, but behind the times.'"

"And who," Nancy Earle asks,
"wants a husband to sit placidly by the homefires just because of duty? And what more doubtful compliment can be paid a woman than to have it said, with the inflexion which the word always carries, that she is 'nice'?"

It is pathetic to see hundreds upon hundreds of such women earring their hearts out because, finding themselves in this situation, they are at a loss to know how to combat it. Particularly pathetic since the answer, like the answer to so many problems which appear so monstrous and complicated because we are so close to them, is simple indeed.

"So much of the unhappiness and failure which women suffer is just a mischievous little gnome who blows himself up into a big frightful ogre. The clever woman knows how to stick pins in the naughty little sprite, and make him be himself."

"She knows how to make herself so interesting, so ever new, so charming, that her family, now so easily attracted by the multitude of diversions that beckon and call, is held in willing thrall, while her friends seek her out to bask in her personal charm. She creates in her home a something so enchanting that the home will be a haven sought after, rather than a base of operations to be avoided except for refueling and repairs."

"She begins with herself. And little by little, she acquires that elusive irresistible something that draws those whom she would attract, turn to her, without urging and solely as a matter of enlightened self interest, for that companionship and stimulation they crave and are surely going to seek somewhere and in somebody."

How? It is this that Nancy Earle will disclose to the women of Pampa when she comes to conduct the News-Post Charm school.

Women Discuss Development of Scenic Places

DALLAS, Feb. 19. (P)—In line with their diversified interests, women have been given places in the deliberations of the national drainage, conservation and flood control congress, meeting in twentieth annual session here.

The personality of an alert business woman, Mrs. Loretta M. Howard, of Jeffersonville, Ind., was injected last night. As she described navigation conditions on the Ohio river, between Cairo, Ill., and Pittsburgh, Pa., Mrs. Howard, secretary-treasurer of a shipyards and dock company, conjured up a picture of a rejuvenated boating traffic, for pleasure as well as business, reminiscent of the steamboat days of the Mississippi.

Tourists boats, sumptuously furnished to compete with accommodations on railroads, would be built in the near future, she asserted, and would attract a trade, in no hurry to get some particular place, but seeking the quiet beauty of a river tour through points of scenic interest.

Mrs. Rhodie K. Warner of Gladie, Texas, chairman of the general federation of women's clubs committee on rural cooperation and federal extension, had a place on today's program, with the subject of conservation and development of scenic wealth.

Announcement Made of Marriage of Mrs. Grace Higgins and Glen Pool; Couple Is To Reside in This City

RECENT BRIDE

Above is shown Mrs. Glen Pool who, before her marriage Sunday, was Mrs. Grace Higgins, prominent business woman of Pampa.

Announcement was made this morning of the marriage of Mrs.
Grace Higgins and Glen Pool, the ceremony having been read in Arnett, Okla., last Sunday.

The couple returned to this city on the day of the wedding to make necessary business arrangements before leaving next Wednesday for a trip to Austin, San Antonio, and other points in Central Texas. They are making their home at 608 W.
Francis.

Mrs. Pool is secretary-treasurer of the Stuckey Construction company and has the honor of being the first president of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's club, serving from the time of organization in 1929 to July, 1930. Last summer she made a good-will tour of Europe with business and professional women throughout the United States.

Mr. Pool, who has made his home in Pampa for the last three years, is connected with the Phillips Petroleum company.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19. (P)—Duquesne university has concluded that its football coach is under-emphasized.

While taking a neutral stand in the discussions as to whether the game itself receives too much stress in college circles, the institution has moved to increase the influence of the eridiron mentor in determining athletic policies.

Duquesne's coach is none other than Elmer Layden of Notre Dame
"four horsemen" fame.
Not only is Layden head coach,
but director of athletics as well.
Still convinced that the representative of the most attractive sport in the athletic repertoire should exert more power, Duquesne officials now have named Layden as chairman of the athletic council.

"This policy of strangulation, to the advantage of other fields, is the real source of the trouble. Observing the stubborn adherence to this policy, plainly destructive of the oil industry of the state and fostered by those not interested primarily in Oklahoma, the public will I am sure, draw its own conclusions as to where and by whom any undue influence has been used."

The statement, said Governor
Murray apparently based his accusation on the Sinclair Refining company's offer to buy 50,000 barrels of crude oil daily in the Oklahoma City field at a price of 67 cents a barrel.

Little Stories of Little Stars

Muriel Kirkland

Muriel Kirkland is a "Yankee,"
but it is a southern drawl that won her fame on the stage.

When a girl with a Mid-issipol voice was sought to play the lead in "Strictly Dishonorable," the producers went to New Rochelle, a suburb of New York City.

There they found Mrs. Kirkland and her drawing voice was one

Recently she took her drawl and her flaming red hair over to play the lead in "The Greeks Had a

CAPITOL NOTES

By HARRELL E. LEE

Associated Press Staff Writer.

AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (AP)—Proponents of the so-called "butcher bill," which has been before two previous legislatures, believe it will be enacted into law this session.

In the fourth and forty-first legislatures, the butchers and cattlemen were unable to get together on a proposal. This year the two groups agreed on the bill which was introduced by the two Stevensons, Senator J. W. of Victoria and Representative Coke of Junction.

The purpose of the bill is to curb cattle stealing. The cow thief is probably as active now as in the olden days although he rides a trick instead of a horse.

Rep. Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg thinks the annual prison report showing only 472 state liquor law violators in the penitentiary at the close of 1930 is a good argument for his bill lightening the penalties of the Dean law.

Petch said 750 Dean law violators were in the penitentiary at the end of 1929 and the decline showed that juries were becoming more and more reluctant to mete out the severe penalties mandatory under the state statute.

Some of the prohibitionists, differing from Petch, probably will argue that the decrease shows that observance of the prohibition law is becoming more widespread.

They Have Piano

Members of the house of representatives now have a piano at their disposal. The instrument was placed in the house chamber by an Austin music concern. The piano is being used with "forty-two" as a means of entertaining the lawmakers during their spare hours.

The renewed appeal of the Texas Prison board that a central industrial prison be built near Austin seems to have fallen on deaf ears.

So far, no bill to that effect has been introduced in either house. Senator Holbrook of Galveston, who pressed the proposal at the regular and special sessions of the forty-first legislature, said he did not think there was any use to try again this time.

Prison centralization near Austin was one of the things closest to former Governor Moody's heart. Notwithstanding that, the legislature would not go with him. Ross S. Sterling, the new governor, has never taken any stock in the idea of moving the penitentiary.

The legislature's policy of reducing appropriations to the minimum because of existing economic conditions would make it doubly hard to push any such legislation through at this session.

Another Controversy

Texas lawmakers were given a sample of the courtesy for which James Hamilton Lewis, United States senator-elect from Illinois, is famed.

Senator George Purl of Dallas phoned Mr. Lewis in San Antonio that he had been invited to address the legislature and asked him what time he desired to come. "I will come tonight, tomorrow morning, tomorrow afternoon or tomorrow night, or will stay over another day to get to be there," Senator Lewis replied.

Two recommendations of the Texas prison board have been embodied in bills offered in the legislature. One would make it a felony for a convict to escape or for an outsider to aid an escape. Another would allow purchases for the prison system to be made by the prison management. The board of control now makes prison purchases.

An easy way for a legislature to kill a bill if he doesn't want to be recorded "in black and white" either for or against the bill is to vote not to print it, in case the bill has a minority report from a committee.

If one of his constituents favoring the bill jumps on him, he can reply that state and federal law-making bodies, from time immemorial, have been following the decisions of their committees in the vast majority of cases, and that he merely voted to follow that precedent.

Once in a while, however, the state house or senate does print a bill on a minority report, which saves it for future consideration. An example was the bill to repeal the three-day marriage law, which was printed in the house notwithstanding an adverse committee report.

SPORTS WRITER RECALLS HOW TUNNEY WON CONFIDENCE

BRONSON IS MAN WHO IS GIVEN CREDIT

Former Champion Doubts That He Has Two Real Friends in Whole Fight Fraternity.

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—Gene Tunney was stretched on a rubber table in his training quarters at Stroudsburg, Pa., resting while Lou Fink kneaded his muscles. His first duel with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship was still a month away.

Old Bill McCabe, kindly, paternally, stuck his fuzzy white head thru the half open door. He glared at the newspapermen crowding around. "Jimmy Bronson's here, Gene," he said.

How-Tie Jim from Joplin, one of the finest characters in the fight business, walked over to the big machine and shook his hand. He had come to help Tunney prepare for the title bout. Alone of the small crowd in the dressing room he thought Gene could whip Dempsey.

"The Almighty," he said, looking down into Tunney's face, "molded you to lick Dempsey. You are the champion."

Tunney looked up at Bronson, serious faced, earnest. For a moment he thought he was being kidded. He realized he wasn't. He gripped Jim's hand tight.

Man of Destiny
There are just two men who believe that, he said, and at that moment the man of destiny of the prize ring came into being.

Tunney never doubted after that that he would beat Dempsey. He fled to the scene of the fight in Philadelphia.

"If I changed planes twice in this alone the way," he told Bronson, "I'll nothing could happen to prevent my winning the championship."

He slept in his dressing room, waiting to be called into the ring before 100,000 deriding faithful for the biggest opportunity of his life. The only plan of battle he had was one sentence from Bronson:

"The first time Dempsey cocks his left hook, break your right arm if you can on the first punch to the chin."

In the first round Dempsey drew back the left. Tunney threw everything he had into it. It landed high on the side of the man mauler's head. Tunney's knees sagged. Two inches lower and it might have been a clean knockout.

The bell rang and Tunney returned to his corner.

"I didn't break my arm," he said. "I broke my own arm."

Hates Fight Ring
Tunney loves boxing but hates the fight game. He is headed for Asia with an exploration expedition, partly because he was being tempted to come back. He doesn't believe he has two real friends among the people connected with the boxing business.

He shuns publicity but he gets a mass of correspondence daily at his small office hidden away in the business quarters of a friend. He answers all letters himself. He has no business connections and he wants none.

Tunney never had a manager though many had the title. He really loves books and friends among the class of people who can add something to his life. He dislikes parties and social affairs. One of his sisters is a nun.

Tunney grew up in a hardy neighborhood on the west side of New York but always ran with the "white collar" boys. He was deeply religious and ambitious.

He paid the guarantees of two preliminary fighters who had been banned from the Heeneey card because they had been his sparring partners. He refused to foot a $200 check foisted upon him by friends who summoned him to their livery in a Miami cafe for the sole purpose of handing him the bill.

GULF GETS WELL
LIBERTY, Feb. 19. (AP)—The Gulf Production-Boat No. 12 at Hankamer, on the northeast side of Dome, came in yesterday making 500 barrels of pipeline oil from a depth of 3,710 feet. The Gulf company announced that the No. 13 was being rigged on a nearby location.

NOTICE WATER WELL CONTRACTORS
Sealed proposals will be received by the City Commission of the City of Pampa, Texas, until 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 3, 1931, for the drilling and equipping of one water well in the City of Pampa, Texas. Some requirements are as follows: The well should be drilled to penetrate the water-bearing stratum found at an approximate depth of 335 to 400 feet and shall be developed with gravel placed between the outside of the casing and the wall of the well, and shall be equipped with turbine pump, brick pump house and various and sundry other equipment.

Full specifications and form of proposal may be obtained at the office of the City Manager in Pampa, Texas.

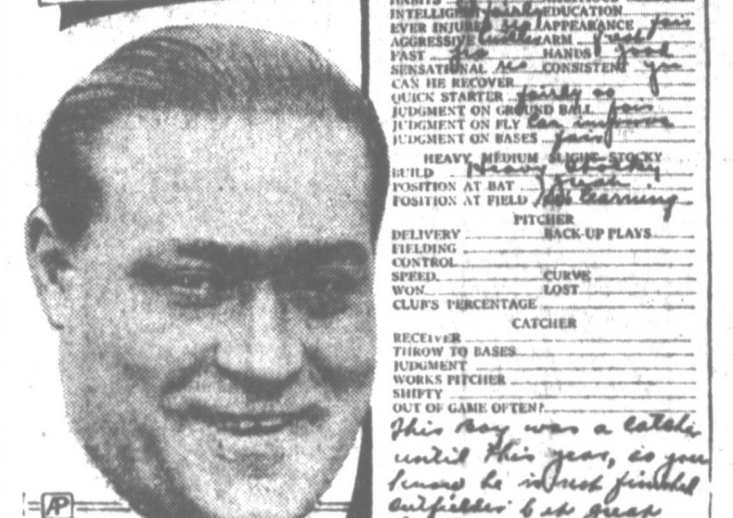

Proposals should be addressed to the City Manager of the City of Pampa, Texas, and must be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $500.00 to guarantee execution of required contract. The check is returned to reject any and all bids.

This boy was a catch until this year, as you know he is not finished outfielder's as great hitter.

A scout's prospectus dug out of the files of the Birmingham baseball club reveals that in 1923 Back Wilson already had displayed hitting power that foreshadowed his rise to the home run championship of the major leagues.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 19. (AP)—Back in 1923 a "wonderfully looking boy" of good habits, fairly intelligent and a hustler, was playing centerfield for Portsmouth, Blue Ridge league.

He caught the eye of Harold Ireland, dug out of the files of the Harpers.

Last year the boy copped the home run championship of the major leagues by whacking out 55 circuit clouts. The player was Lewis Robert Wilson, better known to fans as "Back" Wilson, Chicago Cub outfielder.

A prospectus filed by Scout Ireland, dug out of the files of the Birmingham Baseball association, showed the Barons were interested in Wilson. Interest, that cooled, however, when investigation revealed a $10,000 price tag attached to his 195 pounds of "all muscle."

BASKETBALL LAST NIGHT
At Waco: Southern Methodist university 28; Baylor university 34.
Canyon: Texas; Texas Tech 43; West Texas Teachers 50.

Frank January Bruen is filling the sails of the old Ballyboob boat with plenty of wind these days in an effort to put over the return bet between Primo Carnera, altitudinous Italian, and Jimmy Maloney, of the Boston Irish.

Primo must win this one in Madison Square Garden's big bowl in Miami March 5 or the legs will be kicked out from under one of the twin heavyweight features scheduled for the coming summer. If Max Schmelling and Young Stribling ever find a place to settle their tide fuss in June, the winner has agreed to tackle Carnera in September.

Naturally the Italian Moby Dick must beat Maloney, who cuffed him around in Boston, or the dreams of a manmuffin fade abruptly. If tendence and gate receipts will help Primo's cause any Bruen intends to give him all the encouragement possible.

The former general manager at the Garden, disclaiming all present connection with his former associates, still has Frank Albertanti, of the Garden staff, as his publicity man. Garden ticket men will be at the gates and his secretary comes direct from the New York punca palace.

Bruen has hired the Garden bowl for a one night rental of $15,000. But of course it mustn't be hinted that the Garden itself is running the show because the New York State Athletic commission then would have grounds for a suspension. Carnera mustn't be dealt with by New York promoters. He is still very much under suspension by the solemn solons.

The new clown prince of fist-

Murphy's actions were so ludicrous, his pantomime so comical, that the fans belittled for more of him. He became known as "We Want" Murphy, the cry of the crowd. He never aspired to more than the $50 emergency spot. But the Garden gave him another match—against a murderer.

Murphy's humor disappeared under a flood of right hand smashes to the chin. He went out fast and for a long time. And he never came back again.

All for $100. $2.00 bottle of perfume, $1.00 box of face powder and pair Chiffon hose free. Morris Drug, Thursday, Friday, Saturday.

LOCAL TEAMS TAKE 2 TILTS OFF VISITORS

Mobeetie High Is Barely Nosed Out As James Sinks Free Throw In Last 20 Seconds.

An accurate free pitch by Charles James, Pampa forward, won the game with Mobeetie high school last night for the Harvesters. There were 20 seconds of play left when James broke the tie to win by a 38-36 score.

The two teams fought on even terms with first one and then the other buying a two-point advantage. The half ended with the Harvesters in the lead, 18 to 16. After the second half opened Mobeetie went to the front but was soon overhauled by the fighting Pampa boys.

Martindale and James handled the scoring for Pampa in the first half and Moore and James took over scoring in the last session. Owens scored most of the Mobeetie points in the first half with the same player and Tarvin continuing the shooting in the last half.

Charles James was high point man of the game with 18 points. Owens of Mobeetie was a close second with 16 to his credit. Martindale scored six field goals and was going strong when he left the game for personals in the third quarter. Kennedy replaced him. Moore was third high man with nine points and Dycart, elongated Mobeetie center, followed with seven.

The guarding of Don Saulsbury was sensational, especially in breaking up the Mobeetie bullet passes. Five times in a row the Pampa guard captured the ball and passed out. Tanner, Mobeetie guard, played a stellar game.

In a preliminary encounter between the Pampa Harvester reserves and the Mobeetie reserves, the Pampans made a march on the Mobeetie basket that could not be halted. The Harvester reserves winning, 36 to 7.

Ralph Fee led the scoring with 13 points and Ray Chastain was one behind. Bartram of Mobeetie made three points to be high for his team.

The Pampa reserves who saw action were Poe, Kelly, Chastain, Marbaugh, Kennedy, Ayres, Voss, Brunley, and Schmidt.

Mobeetie used Brack, Bartram, Marable, Tarvin, Dycart, Hurst and Goodnight.

HOUSTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—Sixteen men who emerged from two days of qualifying play as the pick of the field came to grips today in the beginning of match play for the championship in the 17th renewal of the Houston Country club's annual golf tournament.

Jimmy Manion of St. Louis, former trans-Mississippi champion, was paired with Clyde Cunningham, a local player, to start things going. Manion was medalist with a score of 146 for the 36 qualifying holes—three strokes better than the 149 made by Gus Moreland, 19-year-old Dallas boy.

Moreland and Manion led their partners in yesterday's threesome, Orie Carlton of Houston, a fast and hot pace, but the older man who had slipped a trifle in his first round and had come in with an 80, did not falter and was only two above Manion's par 71 round.

With the exception of the failure of the veteran George Rotan of Houston and the spectacular Bud McKelney, Del Rio youth, to make the first division, there was no upset, favorites all coming through. It will be the first time in 17 years that the Rotan clubs have been stilled in the match play.

The first fighters and their unalloyed scores:
Manion 146, Moreland 149, Roy Smith of Dallas 152, Howard Greel of Pueblo, Colo., 153, Cunningham 153, Allen Kyle of Houston 153, Johnny Goodman of Omaha 152, Gaston Peck of Galveston 154, Leonard Atwell of Houston 153, Glen Crisman of Orange 155, Carlton 153, John De Forest of Surrey, England, 152, Charles Dexter of Dallas 164, Preston Moore of Houston 153, W. C. Hunt of Houston 152, Del Rio youth, and Cunningham the others follow in this order:
Cecil Hunt, De Forest-Atwell, Kyle-Goodman, Carlton-Peck, Dexter - Moore, Moreland - Crisman, Smith-Dawson.

"STEVE ANDERSON" SHOE SOLD IN FINLAND CITY
SEATTLE, Feb. 19. (AP)—A shoe manufacturer in Helsinki, Finland, has named a trackshoe after Steve Anderson, former University of Washington hurdler who tied the high stick record of 14.4 seconds eight times.

Anderson bought a pair of shoes in the Finnish city last summer and stepped out and tied the world's record the first time he wore them. Upon leaving Helsinki for the manufacturer asked Anderson permission to name the type of shoe the "Steve Anderson."

Approved conference reports on legislative and agriculture appropriation bills.

Finance committee approved house bill to double loan value of veterans' compensation certificates.

Former Postmaster General New defended his administration before committee investigating postal leases.

Clark Is Willing To Promote Fight As Charity Event

Chicago, millionaire sportsman and a vice president of the Sinclair Oil company, is willing to serve as promoter of the world's heavyweight championship match between Max Schmelling and (Young) Stribling at Soldiers field June 19, provided certain conditions are fulfilled.

Clark said today that if the profits of the match were devoted among Chicago charities, he would be willing to support it, but under circumstances would he associate himself with the venture if the profits were devoted to the New York milk fund.

Clark, a large stockholder in the Chicago stadium, and one of the judges of the Tunney-Dempsey fight in Soldier field in 1927, is not positive Chicago will get the bout. At least one other city, he said, has an equal chance.

"I'm naturally anxious to have the fight in Chicago," he said, "it would stimulate business. I wish the Chicago Stadium corporation could put it on, but the New York interests have the fight sewed up, and there is no chance of the stadium getting it."

MORE RECORD TRYS PLANNED BY NATIONAL

Confident New Ball To Aid Pitchers and Add Much Interest.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19. (AP)—The National league, having broken all attendance records last season, expects an even bigger and better pennant race in 1931, according to President John Arnold Heydler.

Mr. and Mrs. Heydler have come to Miami on a vacation.

"Not only will the new ball and its effect on the big hitters serve to increase interest this year generally," said Heydler, "but so far as the National league is concerned, we look for a race in which at least six clubs should play a decisive part."

"It is nothing for our league to be well balanced, with four and five clubs figuring in the pennant fight. It has almost become a habit. I expect teams like Philadelphia and Boston to continue their sensational development, especially if the former team develops several winning pitchers. Pittsburgh had tough luck most of last season and is always dangerous. Cincinnati still is in the reconstruction age."

"Of the first division group of last year, Brooklyn has tremendous possibilities, in every respect, and is a big drawing card. The Cubs can be counted on for a great fight under Hornsby. St. Louis has shown what it can do by winning three pennants in five years and the Giants are strengthened for what should be a sensational contest."

"Baseball as a whole is coming through the period of business slump very well. Like everything else, however, it has had to face the facts and take steps to keep the public confidence and support."

Tilden Attracts Large Following

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—Big Bill Tilden, professional tennis player, apparently is just as much of an attraction to followers of the game as Tilden the amateur ever was. Big Bill, the 38-year-old veteran, was the main attraction when drew 14,000 fans, who paid $38,000, to Madison Square Garden last night.

Tilden, who opened his professional tour by beating Marcel Kozeluh of Czechoslovakia.

The dispute will be continued in at least six more matches as the troupe organized by Jack Curley tours across the country.

MAILS PLAYS CATCH WITH SAN QUENTIN BOOMED MEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14. (AP)—Walter Mails, who twirled and clownish his way through the big leagues, has one of the most curious diversions of any ball player on the Pacific coast.

Mails, now on the roster of the Portland club, and the newly appointed "Bullseye" coach at Santa Clara university, during the winter plays catch with condemned men in the corridors of "death row" at San Quentin prison.

Mails lives just outside the gates of San Quentin and is one of the few outsiders allowed the freedom of the walled city. He refuses to divulge any of the remarks passed with the prisoners.
