Area Agriculture Picture Not Improved

By Paul D. Payne

The agriculture picture in the area has not improved this year. In fact, conditions probably went the other way as unprofitable situations remain in virtually all agricultural enterprises.

Low prices for all commodities is the number one problem. Farmers and ranchers are caught in the middle of low prices for their products and an escalating cost for all of the supplies they purchase. To complicate that picture, producers have seen their collateral base shrink as real estate values have continued to drop. All of a sudden their land is not worth as much, and the lender is unable to loan as much to make a crop, etc., etc., etc.

The agricultural situation is a complicated one and there does not appear to be an easy solution to the situation. Little by little the farm bill is taking shape in Washington, but no big improvements are anticipated by local agriculturalists.

One of the big problems is over production in this country and in other nations. This simply means low prices, to the producer. For years, our nation's best agricultural know how has been shared with other developing countries. They have utilized this knowledge and are now competing with the U.S. producer. Brazil is one such nation.

Not all producers are going broke even though a number in the area are cutting back on the size of their operation. Some producers are working more off of the farm and more and more wives have a job. Many property owners will have different tenants in 1986 and some will not have a renter at all, as farmers reduce the size of their operations.

1985 got off to a good start weatherwise as winter, spring and early summer rains were ideal for plant growth. In fact, too much fell in the early part of the year and reduced wheat yields to the 20 and 30 bushel range.

Wet weather also delayed the spring planting of corn, grain sorghum and early maturing soybeans. However, all of these crops came on and produced average to above average production. A bumper hay drop was harvested this year and cattle will have a surplus of hay to chew on this winter. Even though the amount of hay was up over last year's production, the income from the crop will not be up as prices have remained weak throughout the yar. In order for prices to be up, a drouth in the five state area must occur. This did not happen in 1985.

As we close out 1985, we can apparently expect to see a continuation of dispersals, bankruptcies and retirements of farm producers. We will see fewer and fewer people involved in the production of agricultural products. Those with no debts or low overhead cost and utilizing smart farm management practices will be able to survive.

Time is fleeting, there isn't any doubt about it. The old latin inscription on clocks of "tempus fugit" (time flies) wasn't put there for no reason.

School will soon have been in session for six weeks. Summer is only a memory, winter a coming fact.

Summer's colts, calves and lambs are big now, their fluffy cuteness replaced by a gangling clumbsiness almost as appealing.

Children, who take a little longer to grow up, are none-the-less doing their share of changing and growing.

Talking to a friend the other day, she mentioned just how incredible it was their middle youngster was five now.

And it's true, how int he world cna he be that old! He couldn't have been a baby five years ago!

For that matter, we have several old school mates whose youngsters are seniors in high school this year. Talk about time flying!

Looking around at ballgames, youngsters who were children not long ago are young adults today.

Favorite pets who were kittens or pups are growing gray and old, and articles of furniture that are still thought of as new are aging fast.

That television set can't be eight years old! The end tables couldn't possibly be fourteen years old!

At times it feels as if the worl dis spinning by and there isn't any way toc atch it. There surely is no way to slow it down.

Many people say that they didnt' feel this way until they got older, but for me, time has ben galloping in a dead run since I was fifteen or so.

Apparently it's normal, meant to be. Nothing drags slower than the bad times in life, therefore, if life is speeding along the old cliche must be true. "My, time flies when you're having fun." Think about it, perhaps it's true!!

Rebels Top Harleton With Strong Defense

By Diana Eudy

The Rivercrest Rebel defense held strong last Friday night as the Harleton Wildcats attempted a last-chance bid for the district win in Harleton. The Rebels held their 7-6 lead to claim the victory. Rivercrest stands 2-0-1 in district 19AA play and 2-3-1 overall for the season.

Coach Terry Giddens said, "I thought we looked fairly well, we played well enough just to win. Our defense held up well when it needed to, I still think we have a long way to improve and each week we show a little improvement. So far we are half a game out of a tie for the lead, Ore City and New Diana are tied for first, we're in second and Harmony is in third.

Bubba Simpson had another 100 yard gain and defensively I'd say they did a good job as a whole group. They were hitting hard, they just weren't wrapping up and holding on.

Jerry Belcher is doubtful for playing next week, his hand was injured in the first half Friday night, his fingers are still swollen pretty bad."

The Rebels will play Redwater at Johntown this Friday night and Coach Giddens continued "Redwater is playing pretty well, they are a good ball club." Kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m.

Neither team could generate any action during the first period of pplay until the Wildcats carried the ball sixty yards to put the first points on the board with 1:35 remaining in the first quarter. Wildcat tailback Anthony Williams carried in from the one for the score. The two-point conversion attempt failed and the Wildcats led 6-0.

With Bradley Woods at the helm of the Rebel offense, the Rebs marched 79 yards to hit paydirt as Woods took the ball into the endzone from the two on a quarterback keeper with 2:36 left in the half. Bubba Simpson led the Rivercrest offensive squad in rushing yards for the evening with 77 yards and Bradley Woods came away with 47. The extra pont was good, the Rebels led 7-6.

The remainder of the game was hampered by penalties and turnovers on both sides. The Wildcats were penalized four times for 35 yards and the Rebels six times for 59 yards.

Harleton fumbled six times while Rivercrest gave up the ball five times during the contestn.

The Wildcats made a last effort to win the match advancing sixty-one yards to the Rivercrest 4. The Rebel defense proved to be too much for the Wildcats as they stopoped them time after time. On fourth down and four yards to go for the score, the Harleton quarterback, Tracy Copeland fumbled the ball on the Rebel three.

The Rebels recovered the ball with :45 seconds remaining and simply let the clock tick away to claim the district win.

The Rebel defense held Harleton to 101 yards in the first half and only 79 yards in the second half.

Jerry Belcher, Rivercrest running back, was injured in the fourth quarter and had to leave the game. Ambulance personnel attended to the hand injury on the sidelines but Belcher was unable to return to the field.

Library News

Among the new books at the Red River County Public Library are three volumes by the popular inspirational writer Joyce Landorf--Irregular People, Mourning Song and Tough and Tender.

Also just received is Volume I of the Dictionary of American REgional Englihs, which has been praised as the publishing event of the year, even though it only covers words an dphrases beginning with A through C. Amuse yourself by the hour browsing through colorful Americanisms, some of them from our own neck of the woods. William Humphrey's books set in Red River County are frequently cited as authority for colloquialisms that need no explanation to local readers.

If your mood is a bit more hospitable to current issues, there's Illiterate America, by Jonathan Kozol, whose book is authoritative on the facts but contentious and controversial in the way it interprets and draws conclusions from them.

On the lighter side, is Retreads, a sequel to Thundering Sneakers, the charming book about mothering a hosueful of all-American sons. The author, originally a Texarkanan and now a Dallasite, has Clarksville/Red River County connections.

For readers not put off by language that is distinctly...er, contemporary, there is a fast-moving and comic thriller by Ross Thomas called Missionary Stew, in a Penguin edition.

Why does TNP Employee Gloria Sandoval weatherstrip her home?

Keeping your home comfortable throughout the winter months can be costly, especially when heated air inside is lost through the seams around your doors. This is why TNP Employee Gloria Sandoval, of La Marque District Office, prevents heat loss by weatherstripping her doors. Found at your local hardware store, the weatherstripping materials are inexpensive and you can easily install them yourself in only a matter of minutes. Sealing your home from heat losses will help make your home more comfortable. For more information on Energy Management, call our office today.

TNP Employee Gloria Sandoval knows weatherstripping doors and windows not only helps reduce drafts of cold air, but also helps keep the indoor comfort her family desires. Call our office for more details.

The Way We Were

Just a glance back into the past, from every now and again. This week is for the year 1957.

L.R. Miller had been named the new acting postmaster in Talco in January of 1957.

Southern Pacific Lines had purchased the remaining property and trackage of the old Paris and Mt. Pleasant Railway.

October 18, 1957: Mrs. E.B. Bardwell, mother of Deport resident C.B. Bardwell, had been injured in an auto accident.

Heavy downpours had saturated the area with 5.68 inches of rain. Take A Train Trip To Relax

By Nanalee Nichols

Looking for a pleasant, relaxing weekend away from home? Try the Rusk-Palestine steam train, and perhaps add a night at the Thomas J. Rusk Hotel for a little added appeal.

Right now, with fall colors just beginning to throw their last fling, temperatures nearly perfect and winter coming on fast, is a good time to slow down the pace of life and ramble around. The train provides a way to do just that.

There are four completely restored locomotives in operation on the Texas State Railroad, which plies its way between Rusk and Palestine on Saturdays and Sundays during the fall, and into November.

They all look as if they had just rolled off an assembly line weeks ago instead of at the turn of the century.

The huge machines crouch on the silvery rails breathing with a life of their own. Steam pours into the cool air, the fire roars with intensity, and for those who have never seen a functioning steam locomotive, the opportunity to inspect one is a treat. Children are fascinated by the big engine, and the railroad personnel, clad in overalls and peaked caps, are friendly and helpful.

Loaded into the seven or eight cars, passengers find the old vehicles spotless and fairly comfortable. There is the usual all-aboard cry, and a long, heart-trembling blast on the whistle.

Then the rocking motion of the old-time train begins, lulling passengers into a state of relaxation bordering on sleep!

"Butcher boys" hawk soft drinks, chips, ice cream and souvenirs up and down the aisles. There are restrooms available, and seats can be changed and the entire long conveyance explored while outside the open windows the woods roll by.

Meals of sandwiches can be obtained at the half-way point (either Rusk or Palestine, depending on which point you left from), but many experienced travelers bring picnic lunches, which are faster and less expensive. The sandwiches at the depot are fresh and good, however,

On the return run, the variety of trees passing by can be observed carefully. The run is one and one-half hours one way, with an hour to eat at the depot. The clicking rails and changing rhythms of the trestle bridges continue to be relaxing, and the dogwood, beauty berry and maples provide an ever-changing vista outside the widows.

After the journey, there are plenty of motels around Palestine to stay at, and in Rusk there is one motel and the hotel mentioned earlier.

The Thomas J. Rusk Hotel is inexpensive, restored and although the rooms are small, the atmosphere is pleasant.

The food in the dining rooms is excellent. Their biscuits are delicious, desserts fabulous.

The entire drive down through East Texas' piney woods is worthwhile by itself.

There are the Tyler Rose Gardens (the Rose Festival is this weekend) shopping, nurseries and vegetable stands, and flea markets to counterpoint the drive.

The trees are going to be at their peak soon, and the whole trip can make a relaxing, timeless weekend for young and old to enjoy.

Reservations for the train ride, and more information about it, and local attractions, can be made by calling toll free 1-800-442-8951. The helpful staff there will also provide phone numbers for lodging, camping or area attractions.

News for TEA LOVERS

SPORTS TIME SIPPERS

Warm weather sports can energize you, keep you fit and provide hours of fun. They can also give you a big thirst that calls for something special. The next time you take a break between swings and serves, break away from the usual soft drinks and serve up refreshing Strawberry Smoothie or Crimson Tea Cooler.

Strawberry Smoothie is an easy-to-make combination of Lipton® Lemon Flavored Iced Tea Mix Sweetened with NutraSweet®, plain yogurt and strawberries that mixes up creamy, rich and frothy in a blender. Crimson Tea Cooler is a colorful blend of iced tea, cranberry juice cocktail and fresh fruit that stirs up tall and cold in an ice-filled pitcher.

Lemon flavored iced tea mix with NutraSweet is a terrific refresher on its own, too. With just four calories per 8 ounce serving, the iced tea mix, sweetened with NutraSweet instead of sugar or saccharin, delivers that great tea taste you've come to expect. It will help keep you in shape to play your best game, whatever your favorite sport.

STRAWBERRY SMOOTHIE

1/3 cup Lipton Lemon Flavored Iced Tea Mix Sweetened with NutraSweet
1 pint (16 oz.) plain yogurt
1 cup sliced strawberries
1 cup ice cubes (about 6 to 8)

In 5-cup blender, combine all ingredients except ice cubes; process at high speed until blended. Add ice cubes, one at a time; process at high speed until blended. Garnish, if desired, with whole strawberries. Makes about 4 servings.

CRIMSON TEA COOLER

1/4 cup Lipton Lemon Flavored Iced Tea Mix Sweetened with NutraSweet
3 cups cranberry juice cocktail, chilled
1 cup water
1 medium orange, sliced
1 medium apple, cut into wedges

In large pitcher, combine all ingredients. Serve with ice. Garnish, if desired, with fresh mint leaves. Makes about 4 servings.

Highway Beautification Going On

More than fifty years of highway beautification efforts are coming to harvest this year and next as several new statewide programs get underway.

Lady Bird Johnson, who was one of the first to recognize the pioneering work in beautification by the highway department, initiated a new award last week for preservation and propagation of vegetation for fall color.

Meanwhile, the highway department has kicked off a new program which makes funds available to match local efforts to plant and install landscaping along roadways. Several communities and civic groups have already taken advantage of the new initiative.

Many communities have activities underway that will qualify them to enter the Governor's Community Achievement Contest and win a portion of $700,000 that the highway department has set aside to encourage cities and towns to clean up and develop litter reduction programs.

In addition to these efforts, a statewide litter reduction program will be unveiled later this year.

In a further effort to trim state expenditures, the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission voted to dedicate one percent of money designated for federally funded construction projects to low-cost landscaping projects that utilize native plants.

A spin off benefit of the litter-reduction and beautification efforts is in the tourism industry, which is getting redy for Texas' 150th birthday next year. All these efforts to spruce up Texas frontyard should be highly visible next year, in time for the state's special birthday celebration.
