COLORADO GINS FIRST TO REDUCE

REDUCTION IN GINNING RATE MADE HERE PRIOR TO LUBBOCK DROP

"The gins at Colorado were the first in this section of Texas to announce a reduction in the price of ginning," A. D. Hodges, manager of the Williams & Miller Gin, stated to representative of the Record Monday. "We reduced the rate from $1.20 to $1.00 per hundred weight several days before the announcement from Lubbock that gins there had made a reduction in the price."

Mr. Hodges made this statement in commenting on an article appearing in the Record last week in which an Associated Press dispatch from Lubbock, stating that ginning there had been reduced from 50 cents to 40 cents per hundred pounds, (see cotton.)

The price of $1.00 per hundred pounds, lint cotton, now in force at the Colorado gins is equivalent to from 35 to 40 cents per hundred in the seed. This shows that ginning prices in Colorado are even lower than those prevailing at Lubbock. In addition to the price of $1.00 per hundred for ginning, a charge of $2 per bale is made for wrapping.

MANY VISITORS EXPECTED AT COLORADO RODEO MEET

"Booger Red, Jr." manager of the Rodeo and Cowboys' Meet at Colorado Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, stated Wednesday that he had just returned from an extensive tour of this section of the State advertising the event and was assured that hundreds of visitors from many counties of West Texas would attend and scores of them participate in the various contests.

Horses, steers and goats from the Hunter Looney ranch, in addition to a solid carload of these animals owned by Booger Red will be available for the riding and roping contests. The management stated that a fence would be constructed around the arena as a safeguard from injury to the public.

DAMAGE RESULTS FROM HIGH WINDS

WINDMILLS AND OUT HOUSES BLOWN DOWN; COTTON DAMAGED

A severe windstorm swept over Colorado and this section of West Texas Friday night. The gale blew from the South and for a time assumed the proportions of a small hurricane. Early in the night indications were that the storm would be accompanied by rain but the clouds were blown away.

Six windmills in Colorado are reported as being blown down during the night. Some of these were wrecked and may be a total loss. A few outhouses and barns also suffered damage, among them being a horse barn belonging to Chester Thomas. This building stood across the street north from the county jail and was turned completely over by the storm. It was here that Mr. Thomas kept his drayage teams but none of the animals was injured.

A section of the roof on one of the buildings at the Williams and Miller Gin Company plant was torn away. Damage to buildings and other property in the country surrounding Colorado was slight, according to reports brought to the city during the first of this week. Cotton, however, was damaged by being blown from the stalk and wasted. It could not be ascertained Wednesday the approximate extent of this damage.

A severe hail storm is reported to have developed in one or two communities in Scurry County. It is reported that one farmer living a few miles north of Snyder suffered the loss of 100 acres of cotton from hail.

Aid Meeting

The Christian Aid Society met with Mrs. John Daniel last week. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Ed. Jones, after which the regular business was transacted. Mrs. Dickerson was received as a new member. At the social hour hot chocolate and cake were served.

A. B. Hines, returned home Friday after a visit in Houston, Galveston, Dallas, Fort Worth and Abilene.

DESCRIPTION

of 640 acres of land

Located Fourteen miles Northwest from Big Spring and Eleven miles Northeast from Stanton in Martin County, Texas, this section of land is 100 per cent fine agricultural land and lays as near perfectly level as any tract that size and is covered with a fine coat of needle and mesquite grass. The soil is a dark chocolate loam with good clay foundation; no grubbing to do to put same in cultivation. Located just six miles north from a deep test for oil that is now drilling. Water can be had around 100 feet. There is no better section of land in that or adjoining counties. Price, if sold as a whole, $17.50 per acre—$20.00 if sold in quarters. Will want $750 cash, balance in long time notes, cheap rate of interest.

There is a State debt of $1.00 per acre which can be assumed and come out of the above price. This is a rare chance to get a fine tract of first class agricultural land and any one will do well to look into this, who needs a cheap piece of land to build a home on and stay with. This tract is not leased for oil.

COTTON RECEIPTS ARE 6680 BALES

LOCAL MARKET IS UNCHANGED; SEED DECLINE $1.50 PER TON

J. M. Helton, public weigher, reported Thursday morning that cotton yard receipts at Colorado had totaled 6,680 bales up to Wednesday night. The cotton yard on West Second St. was filled Saturday and during this week weighing has been done on vacant lots on Oak street near the Court House. These lots, comprising almost one-half block, were practically filled with cotton Thursday morning.

The local cotton market has remained practically unchanged during the week, quotations averaging 20 cents, middling basis. Most farmers continue to sell their cotton as ginned, local buyers state.

The seed market, which earlier advanced from the low ebb of $20 a ton to $25, was again declining as the week passed and Thursday morning were selling at $23. Crushers announce a slump in the cotton oil market, which is attributed as causing the present decline in offerings for seed.

Pickers are still in demand throughout the county and the scarcity of labor together with heavy rains last week have contributed to retard moving of the crop.

SECOND LYCEUM NUMBER COMES ON ARMISTICE DAY

The second number of the Dixie Lyceum course will appear on Thursday evening, November 11, at the High School auditorium, according to announcement given the Record Wednesday by Prof. E. Frank King, director of the course at Colorado. In this number the "Virginia Girls" will appear and Mr. King stated they were coming recommended as one of the best of the lyceum companies ever visiting West Texas.

A total of $820 had been realized from the sale of season and box office tickets, Mr. King stated. Contract price for the four numbers on the lyceum course was $675. The balance after expenses have been deducted, will go to a fund for the school library and laboratory.

COLORADO BAND TO FURNISH MUSIC AT RODEO MEET

It was announced Wednesday afternoon that the Colorado Band would furnish several concerts during the Rodeo and Cowboys' meet at Colorado next week.

Director J. Lee Jones states that the band members are playing well and he expects to see have one of the best Concert bands in West Texas.

RECEIVERS GENERAL OIL CO. WILL CONTINUE OPERATIONS

Arthur W. Palmer returned Tuesday from Big Spring where he had gone on business in connection with his oil leasing and contract offices in Colorado and stated that receivers of the General Oil Co. properties in the Big Spring territory would continue development. One of the General wells, McDowell No. 1, 25 miles south of Big Spring, Glasscock County, was brought in several weeks ago and another the Reed well near the Mitchell-Howard County boundary in Howard County was on the sand when the company passed into receivership.

Operators in the Colorado field are very much interested in the Reed well, since a producer there would prove an extension of the field west from Westbrook. This well is two miles northwest of Foster No. 1 at Irtan, also into the sand.

ADDITIONAL TEACHER ADDED COLORADO SCHOOL FACULTY

E. Frank King, superintendent of schools in the city, stated Wednesday that Prof. W. A. Turner, recently of Scurry County, had been employed by the school board and would teach a division of the 6th and 7th grades. Mr. Turner will assume his duties on the school faculty at once.

Mr. King stated that fifty of the pupils desks, ordered some time ago, had been received and were being set up in class rooms of the Intermediate department this week. Some of the class rooms will continue to be crowded, even with the use of the additional equipment, Mr. King stated.

MEN CONFESS TO THEFT CHARGES

OPERATIONS EXTENDED FROM FORT WORTH TO ROSWELL FIVE CARS STOLEN

J. T. Smith and J. N. Smith, arrested Monday of last week in Colorado by Sheriff W. J. Chesney and Deputy Franklin, on suspicion of automobile theft and burglary, made a confession to the officers following their arrest, according to information given the Record Saturday. In addition to admitting theft of the Dodge car they drove to Colorado which was stolen at Roswell October 20, and several hundred dollars worth of loot from Price's dry goods store at Abernathy October 22, the men stated that four other automobiles had been stolen by them during recent months.

One of these cars, a Ford, was stolen in Fort Worth, driven to Roswell and sold for $200.00, they stated. They admitted theft of two Dodge and one Ford automobiles at Roswell. One of these cars, they stated, a Dodge, was stolen at Roswell August 18, driven for thirty days and abandoned near that town. A Ford roadster was stolen at Lubbock, driven out from town a few miles, stripped of its casings and abandoned.

Mr. Price was here from Abernathy last week and identified the loot found in possession of the two men here as that taken from his store on the night of October 22, 1920. Several silk shirts, men's trousers, overcoats, dress shoes, silk hosiery, handkerchiefs, etc., were included in the assortment. The Dodge car was identified as that taken from Roswell Oct. 20th.

C. A. Rector, sheriff of Chaves County, New Mexico, came to Colorado for the prisoners and left Friday morning with them for Roswell. The two waived extradition and were returned to New Mexico without protest.

METHODISTS PRESENT BASDEN WITH SOUVENIR WATCH

John Basden, for the past twenty years superintendent of the First Methodist Sunday school, was presented with a beautiful watch Thursday night of last week as a token of appreciation from the membership of his work. The presentation speech was delivered by Hon. W. H. Garrett, who paid a tribute to Mr. Basden as a religious worker and a public spirited citizen of this city.

On the program for the evening were addresses, song by male quartet and reading by Miss Dryer. Mrs. Dryer gave a reading from a clipping by Mrs. Josiah Allen, which was very interesting. Refreshments were served.

FARMERS URGED TO HOLD COTTON

COUNTY FARM AGENT BELIEVES BETTER PRICES ARE COMING

W. A. Dulin, County Farm Agent, stated Wednesday that he would urge the farmers of Mitchell County to withhold as much of their cotton as possible and all the seed from the market for the present, at least, until a more favorable market was available. Mr. Dulin is of the belief that better prices for the seed and staple will be realized within the near future.

"I do not desire to be understood as advising farmers to hold all their cotton," stated Mr. Dulin. "They should sell enough of the staple to pay for picking, ginning and current expenses and to pay their debts and hold the remainder until an equitable price is offered, which I am confident is coming. I do not consider the prices being paid for cotton seed at all representative of the worth of this commodity," he continued, "and my advice to cotton farmers would be to haul them home to be either fed to cattle or withheld from the market."

Mr. Dulin said that farmers of Mitchell County had recently pledged their intention of reducing the cotton acreage next year and devote more attention to growing grain and sorghum crops and produce more hogs and livestock for market. Such a plan, Mr. Dulin believes, will mean much to the farmers.

"Most farmers of this county who plant cotton another year," stated Mr. Dulin, "will plant pure bred seed and cooperate with my department in the effort to eliminate the mixed breeds of cotton here, as is now the case." He outlined that almost every cotton field in Mitchell County contained from two to half a dozen varieties. Three cars of pure bred cotton seed have already been bought for distribution among the farmers and the shipment is expected to arrive at an early date.

A district meeting of county farm agents will be convened at Sweetwater November 11, Mr. Dulin stated, and one of the problems to be solved by the delegates in attendance will be adoption of a practical program for material reduction of the acreage devoted to cotton, the universal use of pure bred seed and to encourage more attention to hog and other livestock raising on the farm.

ping by Mrs. Josiah Allen, which was very interesting. Refreshments were served.

BRIDE 13—"THE TORTURE CHAMBER"

Synopsis of Episode Five

Winthrop, fiancé of Ruth, the thirteenth bride, and secretly a leader of the pirate band, rescues Ruth from her perilous position in the sea, in which she was suspended from a rocky cliff by the pirates. Zara, one of the band, sees the rescue from the villain's submarine and is further incensed at Winthrop, whom she loves. Bob Norton, also in love with Ruth, sees her in Winthrop's arms, and a fight ensues. As they battle on the rocks the Mahdi has his pirates fire at them, and sends out small boats to capture them. Winthrop is stunned by a bursting shell, and Bob and Ruth are captured. Meanwhile the twelve other kidnapped brides are undergoing mental agonies in the castle dungeon, where they are joined by Bob and Ruth. Winthrop, recovering consciousness, is taken prisoner by the Mahdi, who threatens him with death. Winthrop declares he had to save Ruth, and asks what ransom the Mahdi would have obtained had he succeeded in killing the girl. He adds that now is the time to force the thirteen brides to write for ransom. The Mahdi enters the dungeon and insists that the girls write to their fathers for the millions demanded for their release. The girls offer to write the letter, but Ruth seizes the paper, tears it up and flings it in the face of the Mahdi, exclaiming: "We are American women, and we will die as American women rather than yield." Zara asks to handle Ruth. She takes the thirteenth bride to the torture chamber, where Ruth sees Bob stretched on the rack. Bob urges Ruth not to yield as Zara demands that she write. Ruth again refuses, and Zara has her bound upon a second rack and tortured.

Millions for a New Stomach

One of the greatest American millionaires said to his physician, "A million dollars, doctor, spot cash, and no grump. I want a new stomach, and then the sick man groaned and turned away." "An' his wife said, 'Don't make him groan, or contented. For his health, I'll give you a Cardui.'"

Dr. Pierce's Cardui is a tonic, a blood purifier, and a general health builder. It is a form that could be easily prepared at the drug store (liquid or tablet). It is called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This discovery gives no false stimulation, because it contains no alcohol or any narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. It gives the blood the strength and vitality that is needed for the body.

DON'T BLAME THE CHILD

Don't scold your children for lack of control over the kidney secretions. It is not always the child's fault. In many cases it means weak kidney and that is the mother's fault. Read this Colorado mother's story.

Mrs. R. L. Spalding says: "About three years ago my boy was troubled with kidney secretions. He was too active and the secretions passed too freely. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and can gladly say that one box regulated his kidneys and cured him entirely."

SEVEN WELLS

Through the handiwork of nature, Mitchell County has been presented with an asset of exceptional worth should the city of Colorado and contiguous communities make use of the opportunity for having as theirs one of the most inviting and picturesque parks within the State. At Seven Wells, 7 miles south of Colorado, is to be found the setting, where nature through the application of the elements and erosion in the sandstone, has many times excelled the genius of the landscape expert in the open or the artist in his studio.

Since coming to Colorado I have often heard of the scenic grandeur of Seven Wells but did not realize its potential worth to those who would live close to nature until a visit there Thursday of last week. After walking over the broad expanse of sand stone above the wells, or falls, and climbing from one cliff to another, descending into one of the caves, which has been fashioned by nature, and to see upon its mate walls those Indian characters carved more than half a century ago and which are today in a good state of preservation, I was made to experience some of the thrills as told by Bob Taylor, in his "Fiddle and the Bow."

Returning to the horizon, I was again attracted by the level stretch of sand stone extending like adamant before me. Here a miniature fort stood high on the apex of a mountain, whose overhanging walls stood emboldened to hold in subjection the valleys and hillsides below. Here, there and everywhere, small rills, merging into creeks, sought their way to the valleys below and into mighty rivers, rushing in a mad sway through fertile valleys to the sea. These and many other thoughts passed through my mind as I looked upon the handiwork of nature in her mimicry of a beautiful continent.

Leaving these for a further visit of the picturesque surroundings I soon found myself standing near the brink of a bluff in a trail chisled into the sand stone by hoofs of the buffalo as they climbed to and from the water holes below many years ago. To many who visit Seven Wells this old buffalo trail proves the most interesting of all to be seen. The imprint of their hoofs, fashioned in the stone as though by the hand of man, with a chisel and sledge, stands out as plain today as fifty, or perhaps, one hundred, years ago. Since bones from the hundreds of buffalo carcasses left strewn at Seven Wells and vicinity, in Bone Hollow and other places frequented by these animals in Mitchell County have disappeared, this trail made by them remains as the only local memento to these animals that prior to half a century ago roamed the Plains of Texas in almost countless numbers. Being in the presence of the place tends to lead one back into happenings of the past and view hurriedly a scene in which is featured the marvelous development of West Texas.

The historical value of Seven Wells is augmented by the greater present value of furnishing the location for one of the most attractive parks and playgrounds in the Southwest. Leaving the immediate location of the Wells and looking around us, we find on every hand the natural surroundings to be sought by the landscape expert in laying out such a park. To the west the stone breaks off abruptly and disappears into the earth, from which an attractive wood emerges. Here we find that the left hand of nature has fittingly supplied the topography for stone steps there; a rustic bridge here, meandering driveways around the hill side and the cove and secluded recess for those benches over which Cupid would preside over conquests of the conquerer and the defeat of the vanquished.

Looking to the south and southwest our eyes meet the beauty of rippling water passing contentedly over the pebble-covered creek bottom in its course from the fountain of springs toward the river. Looking off into the distance, one would be quick to realize the horizon in every direction, broken here by a projecting hill, there by a mesquite forest in the distance, combine in adding enchantment to the view. There is nothing to be seen that would discredit the place as being fittingly fashioned by nature as an ideal site for a park.

To one of the large cities, Seven Wells would be an asset without price. Many of the larger cities of Texas have expended thousands and thousands of dollars in landscaping and making of their parks a place of real civic beauty, but few have been able to make one that would compare with Seven Wells, if the property was improved. To convert this picturesque spot into a public park should be the ambition of the people of this city and county and the writer trusts that he will some day realize prima facie the scenes of his pipe dreams

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mitchell County—GREETING:

You Are Hereby Commanded to Summon Jim Culipher by making publication of this Citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Mitchell County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Colorado, Texas, on the 4th Monday in November, A. D. 1920, the same being the 22nd day of November, A. D. 1920, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 16th day of September, A. D. 1920, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court, Number 3752, wherein Annie Bell Culipher is Plaintiff and Jim Culipher is Defendant; the nature of plaintiff's demand being as follows: Suit for divorce, Plaintiff alleging that she and the Defendant were legally married in Van Zandt County, Texas, on May 21, 1918, Plaintiff then being a single woman by the name of Annie Bell Tankersly; that Plaintiff and Defendant lived together as husband and wife until May 25th, 1918, when Defendant abandoned Plaintiff, since which time they have not lived together. That during the time they lived together, Plaintiff at all times conducted herself as a dutiful wife and performed all her obligations as such, and continued to do so until Defendant's conduct made same impossible; that on May 25th, 1918, the Defendant entered the military service representing to her that such separation was temporary and that he would return to her as soon as his term of service expired, but that Defendant immediately commenced a studied course of neglect and treated her with eversion and contempt; represented himself as a single man and tried to deprive her of the allotment and allowance made to dependants by the government; that Defendant made no provision for her support and left her dependent upon the charity of relatives; that during the time the Defendant was in the service he never wrote one word to Plaintiff, and she was compelled to learn where he was from the military authorities; that he was discharged in February, 1919, but did not advise her of this and she had to write the War Department before she could ascertain what had become of him. That she wrote Defendant, asking him to return to her, and, in July 1919, Defendant wrote her that he was without funds and that he would come back and live with her as her husband if she would send him the money to come home; that, at great sacrifice, she did so, and Defendant appropriated the same and never returned to her. That during all this time Plaintiff loved her said husband and was at all times ready, willing and anxious to live with him and be a true wife to him but Defendant callously and cruelly refused to have anything to do with her; that all during the time Defendant was in the Army, he never contributed one cent to her support, except as he was compelled to by the military authorities, and has never done so since. That, on December 26th, 1919, Defendant wrote Plaintiff a letter, stating that he never intended to live with her, that he only wrote her for money to fool her; that said letter further contained insulting reflections on the Plaintiff's character, too vile to repeat here, all of which Plaintiff avers were untrue and known to be so by the Defendant; that such accusations evidenced an utter disregard of the sanctity of marriage and of common decency on the part of Defendant; that Plaintiff has at all times conducted herself as a true wife should. That such treatment and such false and malicious accusations on the part of Defendant constitute such cruelty as to render their further living together insupportable, and that said marriage relations still exist. That Plaintiff has no property nor income and is forced to depend on her father for support; that Defendant earns good wages and is able to pay the costs and attorney's fees herein; that Plaintiff has employed an attorney to bring this action and has agreed to pay him Fifty Dollars therefor, which she avers is reasonable, and that the Defendant is bound and obligated to pay the same. Plaintiff prays for judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between herself and the Defendant, for restoration of her maiden name, for her costs and attorney's fees and for such other and further relief, etc., as she may be entitled to.

Herein I fail Not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my Hand and Official Seal at my office in Colorado, Texas, this 26th day of October, A. D. 1920.

TANLAC DISPLAY MAKES GREAT HIT

Unique and Attractive Display of Celebrated Medicine Attracts Much Attention.

An advertising display which has attracted unusual interest has been placed in the show window of W. R. Charters, on corner of Oak and 2nd streets, in this city, the local agency for the well-known and highly successful proprietary medicine, Tanlac.

The display is not only interesting from an advertising standpoint, but is educational, combining in an attractive and artistic manner beautiful scenes from many foreign countries where the ingredients of this preparation are obtained.

It has occasioned such favorable comment in the city that the proprietor of the store states that it will remain in his window several days longer.

Work of Great Artist

The display is the work of one of America's greatest lithographic artists and the manufacturers of Tanlac state that the total cost will exceed sixty thousand dollars, which is said to be a record price for window displays. It is in ten distinct and natural colors, and presents scenes from the Rocky Mountains, as well as from Europe, Asia, Peru, Egypt and other foreign countries.

The natives are seen in their natural habitat and environment, gathering the roots, herbs and barks that form the medicinal ingredients of Tanlac, packing them upon the backs of camels, elephants, llamas and other beasts of burden for transportation by land and sea to the immense laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada.

One of the most striking features of the display is the reproduction of the magnificent laboratory at Dayton. Here the artist has very effectively and impressively portrayed the popularity of Tanlac by introducing a group of people in all walks of life who are looking at the Tanlac laboratory with expressions of confidence plainly indicating their belief and faith in the medicine.

Another distinctive feature is the bulletins accompanying the display. They tell briefly and concisely of the marvelous growth and development of Tanlac until today it has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world. These bulletins also quote various standard medical authorities as to the therapeutic value and physiological effect of the medicine.

60,000 Bottles a Day.

From these bulletins one also learns that the New Tanlac laboratories at Dayton and Walkerville have a combined daily capacity of 60,000 bottles and that the medicine is now selling at the rate of approximately 10,000 bottles per year.

That Tanlac is a preparation of exceptional merit has never been disputed, which accounts for its tremendous popularity and large sales throughout the country. It is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder and has a far reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Many strong local endorsements, from those who testify as to the benefits they received, have appeared in the columns of this paper.

The manufacturers of Tanlac are firm believers in newspaper advertising and have forcibly presented to the public the merits of their products in this way. Their total annual appropriation for newspaper space exceeds one million dollars. Their copy appears in practically all of the leading daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States and Canada.

NEW PASTOR WILL FILL PULPIT AT SUNDAY SERVICES

Rev. C. L. Browning and Mrs. Browning arrived Saturday afternoon from their former home at Wellington, driving through the country in an automobile. Rev. Mr. Browning is sent to Colorado as pastor of the First Methodist church during the ensuing conference year and he and wife are at home at the parsonage on Church street.

Rev. Mr. Browning did not preach for this congregation Sunday on account of being tired out from the effects of the two-hundred-mile drive from Wellington to Colorado over muddy roads. He conducted his first services here Wednesday evening at the mid-week prayer service.

The new pastor of the Methodist church comes to Colorado with the distinction of being among the best ministers of Northwest Texas Conference. He came to the Northwest Texas conference a few years ago from Fort Worth where he held pastorates at some of the large churches of that city and in Polytechnic. He was at one time a member of the faculty of Polytechnic College.

It was announced Sunday that the pastor would preach Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and at night. The general public is extended a cordial invitation to attend these services.

Sunday school will be convened at the First Methodist church promptly at 9:45 o'clock. An increase in attendance was registered last Sunday. A special feature of the Sunday school music is in renditions by the male quartette, recently organized.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE TO BE CONVENED HERE NOV. 15

The Mitchell County Teacher's Institute will be convened in Colorado Monday, November 15, according to County Judge J. C. Haas, ex-officio superintendent of public instruction and who will preside at sessions of the meeting throughout the week. The institute will hold sessions in the auditorium of the high school building.

The Monday morning session, which will be convened at 10 o'clock, will be given over to an informal program and organization for the week. Following a song, "America," the invocation will be spoken by the Rev. J. W. Pearce, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The address of welcome will be delivered by Hon. L. W. Sandusky and the response by Prof. Gray Dean Foster.

Judge Hall stated Monday that the 1920 session of the Mitchell County Institute promised to be the most interesting and beneficial in the history of the organization. Much care and research were expended in preparation of the program and practically every subject dealing with the public school will be discussed from one or more angles. The program will not be confined to educational and instructive subjects, Judge Hall stated, but throughout the week readings and musical numbers will be given.

Why Not Stabilize Cotton?

Ninety seven million pounds of prunes were sold by California prune growers to buyers who did not even know the price they were going to pay for the prunes but who agreed to accept any price the growers might ask, according to Aaron Sapiro, attorney for a score of California farmer's cooperative organizations who addressed members of the Texas Farm Bureau during the Dallas Fair. The prune growers borrowed $10,000,000 at 4-3-4 from the big banking interests with which to move their crop.

Sapiro says that the reason prune growers are able to do what cotton growers cannot do is that the prune market has been stabilized by the growers marketing organization. The organization has contracts with farmer members that will stand in the courts and because of the stability of this organization one of the big gest banks in New York city sent the assistant to its president to California to try to lend the prune growers $2,000,000 at 5 per cent. You don't hear of any New York bankers sending their big men to Texas in an attempt to lend cotton growers a million or more dollars, do you?" said Leslie Elliott, president of the sixteen hundred members of the B. County Farm Bureau in discussing Mr. Sapiro's Address.

"Stabilize cotton prices and you can tap the money markets of the world for the cotton growers," says Sapiro who claims that cotton is far easier to handle than prunes. He says that Texas is the key to the cotton industry and that the whole cotton marketing problem can be solved by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

"They are talking about the spinners losing money by being idle," observed the master mind of the California fruit organizations, "but for every penny lost by idleness the spinner gains a dollar by the slump in the price of cotton over the present marketing scheme. Out in California we say that we have the system but in the South you have the commodity. Cotton is ten times as easy to handle as prunes. We have not done a thing with prunes that you cannot do with cotton. The world needs cotton. Stabilize the price and you can tap the money markets of the world. If a farmer makes money under the present system it is incidental with the speculator, and more often the farmer loses."

Mr. Sapiro explained the problems of the prune growers before they organized and had the word cotton been substituted for the word prunes the description would have been almost identical with the description of the cotton man's troubles in the South today.

The prune buyers, he said, used to come around early in the season and tell the farmer what a "whale" of a prune crop was being raised that year. A week later the buyers would come and offer to take the prunes off the farmers hands as a matter of personal friendship at a price of about 2c per pound. The average price for the 10 years preceding the organization was between 2 and 3c. Growers in the organization this year received 11c per pound. Growers outside the organization were unable to sell their crop.

Speculators tried to break the prune growers association by offering 14c per pound to a few independent growers, but when the association set its price the speculators turned down their contract with the independents.

Some of the public spirited citizens of Colorado may attempt to vote an additional tax on you next year for municipal improvement of some kind. Better pay your poll tax and thus preserve your suffrage.

With the development of an oil field in Mitchell County will follow new railroad construction. We wonder if Colorado will enact a sequel of the past when opportunity for additional rail outlets are presented.

It is fitting that the Fourth Roll Call, American Red Cross, should open on Armistice day, November 11, and end on Thanksgiving. These are two momentous days in history and the Red Cross well merits the distinction, "Still the Greatest Mother." Renew your annual membership in the Red Cross.

Nebraska farmers may use corn as coal substitute—Newspaper headline. Come to Mitchell County, in the new oil field, where you can divert your corn into big dividends through marketing fat hogs and where the fuel problem becomes a household pleasure—that is, when we commence to burn gas. We have an abundance of the artificial variety now and expect a strong flow of the natural blend before long.

Less new building is being done the country over, although the needs for additional housing accommodations in any sections is still acute. A Cisco contractor who visited Colorado last week stated that he had visited all towns enroute from Cisco to Big Spring and found as much new construction in Colorado as in all the others combined. There are a number of attractive new homes under construction in this city and plans have been drawn for many more.

Governor Edwards of New Jersey a year ago promised to make his state as wet as the Atlantic ocean. Now the Republicans have nominated seven drys as their congressional candidates, and the Democratic women of New Jersey eliminated a plank from the Democratic platform. Leaders of the women voters of New Jersey promise to make the state as dry as the Sahara desert. Gone are "the good old days."—Fort Worth Record.

Of course farm implements do not cost anything at the present prices and you are perfectly satisfied to have them remain out in the weather all winter exposed to the rain and cold. It will be so nice when you need them to have to hunt all over the farm and discover that they are rusty and unfit for use. The hardware man will be glad to sell you new ones next spring provided you have the money to pay for them. We know you are so busy mowing over the low prices of farm products and cursing the profiteers that you have not got time to properly house your farm implements and of course the merchant needs the profit on new implements next year.

The congregation of the First Baptist church has voted an appropriation of $10 per month to be expended in buying publicity through the local press. Advertising drafted in the form of an invitation to the general public to attend the Sunday school and church services will be run from week to week. In this the Baptists are to be commended. The action shows them to be alert in the various activities of the church. It was the judicial execution of such a plan that had much to do with making for the First Baptist church at Fort Worth the wonderful religious organization it is today. For several years the public of Fort Worth received the invitation each week to attend the Sunday school and hear Frank Norris preach at the First Baptist church, and they accepted.

It has now become that hardly a day passes but that beggars are to be seen on the streets of Colorado, some of them spending two or three days here, while most of the unfortunates—if all of them are really unfortunates—arrive and leave during the same day. The continued appearance of these objects of charity some of them mangled and torn by fire of the enemy during the recent war causes us to ponder on the question as to why the State or Federal government does not adopt measures of relief. That portion of humanity who through the fate of nature or circumstances have become indigent and thrust out upon the public for a livelihood through appeals for charity should be provided for through some other source than the present plan. Personal

MITCHELL COUNTY, TEXAS, LOOMS UP AS OIL REGION

According to information obtained here Mitchell County, 150 miles west of the Ranger district, this State, is likely to thrive in the near future as an oil area of importance.

Mitchell County has two wells in, something like a half dozen drilling and location and contracts let for the drilling of probably a dozen others.

The pioneer oil company in the county is the Underwriters' Producing & Refining Co., a New York concern. The first well completed in the county was the Underwriters on Texas & Pacific Railway acreage. This well got more than 100 feet of very hard tight sand, which after a small shot is producing around 100 to 125 barrels of oil daily on the pump. The well is between 2,400 and 2,500 feet deep.

The second well to hit the sand in Mitchell County was the Foster No. 1 of the Colorado-Texas Petroleum Co., which is generally known as thelatan well. This well is showing for production, but has not yet been completed. Indications are it will probably be a smaller producer than the Underwriters well, at least this is the opinion of operators who have watched operation closely.

Among the interesting drilling wells in the County is the Travelers' Oil & Development Co.'s Landers No. 1, eight miles southeast of the town of Colorado.

The Underwriters Co. has just spudded in on its Morrison No. 2, a half mile east of the discovery well, the same company's No. 1 on the T. & P. acreage. The Morrison No. 1 of the Underwriters is also drilling. This is a shallow test, an offset to the T. & P. well. At a depth of 142 feet the T. & P. well got a good showing of oil and the shallower test is for the purpose of developing this sand.

The Underwriters has let the contract for two other deep test wells, one on the Smith farm, and one on the Dorn farm. Active drilling will start on these wells as soon as derricks can be erected. Two strings of tools for the drilling of the wells have already been shipped to Colorado.

Ten miles southwest of Colorado the Renotex Oil & Land Corporation has let the contract for a well on the Conaway lease.

The Texasavada Oil Co. has made a location on 9,000 acre block of leases in the southwest part of the county. It is reported that drilling will start on this location soon.—Tulsa Oil & Gas Journal.

Week of Prayer

The week of prayer for Home and Foreign Missions was observed by the Methodist Missionary Society in Colorado this week, Tuesday and Wednesday being set aside for it. The special subjects studied were Mexican School for Girls at Saltillo, and the Veshti Industrial School at Thomasville, Ga. On Tuesday Mrs. Everett Winn led and Mexico was the subject studied. On Wednesday Mrs. Sam Wulfjn had charge and the Veshti School was the topic. On Thursday the Young Peoples met with Mrs. Boyd Dozier as leader and both schools were studied. The offerings for both days went for the improvement of these schools.

Colorado Boy Matrices

Carl Phenix has his Record renewed at Basin, Wyo. Carl has taken unto himself a wife but still wants his home paper. He married Mary Starrett, a prominent and charming young lady of Wyoming. Carl was born and raised here, so Colorado still considers him one of her boys.

The Record, with its other numerous friends, extend heartiest congratulations.

ALBURTUS AND ARZULLIA HERE 1 WEEK COMMENCING MONDAY, NOV. 8

Since the wave of spiritualism has spread all over the world and many of the world's greatest scientists and philosophers have endorsed it and declare under oath that they have received communications from the unseen and unknown it will interest the people of Colorado to learn that the Opera House will have as an attraction for all next week, Arzullia a spirit medium who has been a real sensation over the big Barbour Circuit for the past several months. Six months ago it is stated Arzullia was a normal young lady without anything about her actions or personality that indicated the unusual, when suddenly it became apparent to herself and friends that she could picture in her mind scenes being enacted many miles away and hear strange voices coming from seemingly nowhere. She attended a performance at a theatre where Alburtus the Hypnotist was giving his exhibitions and related her late experiences. At the solicitation of the Hypnotist, she permitted herself to be placed in a trance and it was found she could answer absolutely correctly any question asked her and receive messages from the departed at will.

As an exhibition of his powers, Alburtus, will place a young lady in a thirty hour hypnotic trance by long distance telephone at 4 p. m. Sunday afternoon in the window at the Price Auto Company, to be awakened on the stage of the Opera House at the first performance Monday night.

TEXAS & PACIFIC PROMISE RELIEF IN CAR SHORTAGE

A. P. Smirl, assistant general freight agent of the Texas & Pacific railway, with headquarters at Dallas, and A. E. Pistole, divisional superintendent, with headquarters at Big Spring, will endeavor to relieve the car shortage at Colorado for moving sand and gravel, according to information received this week by the Chamber of Commerce. Local contractors could lead from 175 to 200 cars of this material per month, if cars were available, but under present facilities only a few cars are available each month and their men and teams are idle most of the time.

Mr. Pistole states that under a recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, coal cars may be used for loading sand and gravel, provided they are billed for points within location of mines, and gave assurance that he would endeavor to have these cars destined for the mines at Strawn and Thurbesspotte d at Colorado for loading, provided the shipment was for points between Colorado and these points.

OUT BUFORD WAY

"The Rains fell and the Storms Came" left part of our cotton hanging scattered about over the stalks, the other part on the ground; plenty to open yet, though.

Some feed was blown down, but not enough to damage if harvested any time soon.

After all, we think we live in the best portion of the best county in Texas. Come out to see us; spend a Sunday in our midst—we'll fill you to "over-flowing" with snap-eyed peas, yellow legged chickens, pumpkin pie and other good things—Oh we'll prove it.

We have the best rural Sunday school in West Texas (still room for improvement, however) 120 enrolled and live organization; meets every Sunday morning at 10 a. m. We have recently purchased a new piano-cased Crown organ, and we expect to have a big box supper and community entertainment Saturday night, Nov. 6th, at Buford school house. Judge W. P. Leslie will address the gathering on "What It Takes to Make a Good Community." This by itself will be worth hearing. We expect to have a stringed band render several numbers, and the following young ladies will sing a number of songs:

The Misses Lois and Sallie Adams, Vera and Vivian Curry, and Bessie Lindsay and others.

We cordially invite everybody to come, and assure you that you will be treated right and that there'll be plenty to eat for everybody. So come buy a box of chicken and ham, sandwiches of all kinds, cakes, pies, fruits, etc., and eat supper with a pretty girl—"Oh, boy! It's a grand and glorious felling."

Bro. A. D. Leach has accepted the call of the Baptist church and will preach here every second Sunday each month. He is a splendid preacher and a Godly man, and came at the invitation of every man, woman and child in the community.

Bro. H. S. Wasson from Dunn community, will preach for us one Sunday two services a day throughout the year. We have yet to meet him, but we welcome him to Buford.

If the Record prints this letter we will try to write one each week because we want folks to know that Buford is on the map.

Manse Pink, one of Colorado's old and respected colored citizens, died Tuesday after a few days illness, and was buried Wednesday. His team ran away with him one day last week mauling him and blood poison set up which resulted in his death.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Mitchell, Texas, to be held at Colorado on Nov. 13, 1920, to fill the position of rural carrier at Colorado and Cuthbert, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily route of 24 miles is $1,800 per annum, with an additional $30 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 24 miles. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointments unless they are widows of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines, or the wives of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. Form No. 1977 and application blanks may be obtained from the office mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

SPOOKS VISIT COLORADO ON NIGHT OF HALLOWEEN

Following their custom, the spooks were in evidence Sunday night during the occasion of Halloween but apparently those who came to Colorado this time were more considerate of the property rights of others than in the times past. But few street signs in the business district were molested and, with few exceptions, no yard gates, fences, outhouses, etc., were in the wrong location following an inspection by the spooks.

Reports from Coahoma, however tell a different story. Street gossip in Colorado Tuesday morning related that officers at Coahoma were called upon to quell the riot there Sunday night when a party of celebrants paraded the main street of the town, discharging guns and otherwise disturbing the populace.

The Judge Was Stumped

Police Judge Cohen, quizzing John World, accused of assault and battery, asked, "Why did you hit this man?"

"Wha' judge," the negro began, "Wha' would you all do if some one called ya a 'kinky headed loafer'?"

"But I haven't got kinky hair," said the Judge.

"Well," drawled World, "wha' would you all done if he called ya da kind of headed loafer dat ya is?"

TRIP OF U. S. ARMY CONVOY PROVES WONDERFUL SUCCESS

J. A. Rountree, Director General of the Bankhead National Highway Association and director of the Bankhead Highway Transcontinental Army Convoy, after nineteen weeks absence conducting the Convoy from Washington to Los Angeles, Calif., has returned home, according to a letter received by the Chamber of Commerce.

Director General Rountree was appointed by the War Department as well as the Bankhead Highway Association to accompany the Convoy, to deliver addresses, arrange the public meetings and entertainments and to act as spokesman for the Convoy. The Convoy traversed more than forty-five hundred miles of road through the States of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. The highway passes through Colorado, but on account of bad condition of the road across Roscoe Flat and Indian Flat, the Convoy detoured from Sweetwater via San Angelo and Fort Stockton.

The trip was a wonderful success from every standpoint. It demonstrated the fact that the Bankhead Highway is a feasible route the year round, for the Army to transport troops across the continent; it also demonstrated the fact that commercial trucks and automobiles can travel over the Bankhead highway. Notwithstanding the fact that unprecedented rains fell in the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas during the months of July and August, that still the Convoy traversed the roads in those states, with comparatively small mileage of detouring off the Bankhead Highway.

Director General Rountree is quite enthusiastic over the trip. He states that it was an ovation from start to finish. The people in every city, town and village, as well as along the highway in the country, vied with each other in extending courtesies giving banquets, dinners, barbecues, luncheons, soft drinks, water melons, fruits, etc., to the Convoy. One of the duties of the Director General was to explain the object of the Convoy and return thanks for the courtesies. He delivered more than two hundred and fifty addresses to more than 500,000 people during the past nineteen weeks. In token of his services, when the Convoy reached San Diego at a banquet largely attended, he was presented with a magnificent loving cup inscribed on one side "Presented to J. A. Rountree, Secretary Bankhead National Highway Association on behalf of its members and admiring friends in recognition of his splendid service in conducting the Bankhead Highway Transcontinental Convoy." On reverse side is engraved an excellent map of the Bankhead Highway showing the route of the Convoy.

Mr. Rountree will remain at headquarters for the next few weeks to write his official report, when he will

CONSERVATIVE POLICY IMPRESSES PROMINENT FT. WORTH JOURNALIST

Silliman Evans, of the editorial staff, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, spent two days of last week at Colorado and vicinity collecting data for articles he is now contributing to the Star-Telegram on the development and progress of West Texas. Mr. Evans came to Colorado from Aspermont where he spent several days making stories on the "empty grave" case recently coming into public prominence in Stonewall County following the finding of an empty grave near Aspermont that was supposed to have held the remains of a farmer named Cochran, who "died" last March following a brief illness. Following the supposed death of Cochran his wife collected $10,000 insurance. Later they met and moved to the country near Sterling City where he purchased a ranch. He was arrested and delivered to the sheriff of Stonewall County and tells a weird story of how he was doped by a Mexican, supposed as dead by his family, buried, then dug up and carried into New Mexico only to be released from his captors.

One of the first expressions to be made on Mr. Evans following his arrival in Colorado was surprise at the unusually large commercial interests here. He found Colorado the market for a much greater amount of agricultural products than an optimist would have thought, he stated. Mr. Evans came to Colorado expecting to find conditions so prevalent in the smaller West Texas county seat towns, two or three gins, small competition in street buying, small crowds of country patrons in the stores, etc., but these expectations failed to materialize.

The busy scenes of activity in every part of the city foretold to him that Colorado was among the live-wire towns of West Texas. Instead of finding two or three gins here, he found a total of six, and in some of them he noted as good gin plants as are to be found south of the Mason & Dixon line. One of these plants last year occupied second place in the amount of cotton ginned during the season, according to statistics of the Federal government. And the fact that in 1919 a crop consisting of 32,000 bales was produced in Mitchell County came as another agreeable surprise to the journalist, since he did not expect something out of the ordinary for this county in the way of cotton or other farm production. Mr. Evans was interested in the office of the Government cotton classifier at Colorado and praised the progressive spirit of Mitchell County farmers for having fostered an organization making possible the beneficial services to them of this office and its affiliated offices. But few counties in this section of the State have such facilities, Mr. Evans stated. The Colorado office is the first one in the State west from El Paso.

When shown photographic farm scenes of Mitchell County, Mr. Evans was reminded of former days when he had visited in some of the "garden spots" of Texas, "Down East." He was shown that in this county farmers are producing June corn to the tune of 40 bushels to the acre, in rows alternated with other crops, that melons from the farms of Mitchell County are to be compared with those of Parker, and—well, it would take too much space here to enumerate them all.

Thursday, in company with representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Evans made a visit to the oil fields west of Colorado, visiting the Smith No. 1, Texas & Pacific No. 1, Morrison No. 1 and 2, of the Underwriters Company and Foster No. 1, of the Colorado-Texas Company. And the surprise that came to him in the volume of business at Colorado was in store again when he visited these wells. He found every indication there of a field of potential values and a development program as good as and in the country. At some of the rigs he was impressed with the modern equipment to be found throughout. "I have visited in many of the oil fields of Texas," he stated, "and I have not found better equipment in the way of rig construction and tools than you have at some of these locations." When questioned as to the commercial value of Texas & Pacific No. 1, Mr. Evans gave as his reply the suggestion that this writer "figure it up." Under a production of 100 barrels of oil a day this well, at the present quotations of petroleum, is commercially worth $10,500 per month, or $126,000 per year. The well cost approximately $40,000.

Mr. Evans expressed his appreciation for the ultra-conservative policy of the Chamber of Commerce, the business and professional men of the city and the developers in the Colorado field. It is frequent, he stated, that interests will seek to encourage publication of fabulous stories on the possibilities of the community in which they live, or have interests in, but at Colorado the journalist found that such a condition did not exist. He was impressed more than once of the fact that this city and county desired no publicity dealing with the oil development, the agricultural and livestock interests of Mitchell County and the commercial interests of Colorado that would not be borne out by facts upon investigation.

It was the desire of Mr. Evans to visit the Seven Wells while here but because of having to leave Colorado Thursday night this feature had to be abandoned. He expects to see this picturesque spot, however, and stated that he would come to Colorado next summer during vacation and spend week in this section, reviewing the country and the people from every angle as seen by the critic. He also plans a fishing trip out of Colorado to the Concho.

The impression made on Silliman Evans by the citizenship of Colorado should be worth much, since he left for his office in Fort Worth with the knowledge that this town and county desired nothing in the way of publicity except that of merit. His association with us for two days made indelible the fact that here we have no place for fostering a mushroom boom, but that we desire to grow and develop along the lines of substantial stages, having sufficient insight into the future that would eliminate any reason for retrograde. After all, such a policy is the only policy to be followed by any community that would eliminate the embarrassing surroundings of being continually called into question and asked for explanations as to this claim and that claim not based on authenticity.

Mr. Evans was given a collection of photographic scenes of Colorado, Mitchell County and of the oil fields and stated that in addition to running a collection of them on a full page of their Photo-Gravure section Sunday edition of the Star-Telegram, it was his intention to reproduce some of them in connection with news articles carried by the paper.

Silliman Evans is one of the leading newspaper writers on the press of Texas today. He will be remembered as having accompanied Joseph Weldon Bailey during the gubernatorial run-off campaign. He also represented his paper at the National Democratic convention at San Francisco.

Thanksgiving Dinner

The S. D. Dunnahoo home was a scene of social pleasure on Tuesday, when old friends of the early days of Loraine met there to visit with them and renew old friendships.

A huge, home-grown turkey was served along with many other good things that go to make up a good dinner.

The guests were: Dr. J. A. Copeland and family of Lingleville, Wyse Cooper, Miss Irene Gayland, Mrs. Barma Haney and daughter of Roscoe.

Philomath Club

Mrs. John Johnson was hostess for the Philomath Club on Friday last. The usual numbers attended and a very interesting lesson completed the course in the first magazine. After which a social time was spent and refreshments enjoyed. Mrs. J. S. Jackson, one of the first charter members, was a guest. Miss Malcolm Blackley will be hostess this week.

The Parent-Teachers' Club

The Parent-Teachers' Club held their regular meeting at the school house on Tuesday afternoon. All the teachers were present. A good report on finance was turned in; the ladies netted $55 which they made on subscriptions to Holland's magazine. They also made $50 picking cotton. They voted to pay 25c dues monthly; also to give to the room having the most mothers represented at the Club, a book which will go to the library.

Mesdames A. C. Pratt and G. A. Hutchins were elected delegates to the State Convention which will convene Nov. 8, 9, and 10. All mothers are urgently requested to join the Club and attend regularly.

Hallowe'en Carnival

The young ladies of the W. M. S. Jr., held a carnival on Saturday evening at the residence of Mrs. T. R. Bennett and, while the night was a dark one and the wind blowing at a high speed, the spooks went forth and were seen on the streets and in the neighborhood. At the door the spooks served free punch to the guests, and also waited on them at the booths and fish ponds. They also served hot chocolate and cake which netted a nice little sum which will aid the girls in their work. The house was interesting in its decorations of jack 'o lanterns, black cats and other symbols of Hallowe'en.

School Notes

A very patriotic and interesting crowd of school children, numbering about three hundred, marched from the school house to town Monday afternoon, led by Supt. Jordan and the other teachers. They carried banners bearing the words, "Vote for the Amendment—Save the Texas Children," and as they stopped at intervals they sang songs which asked for the vote, in a very impressive manner.

A fair sized crowd of voters heard the children and we feel sure that all who have read the amendment did their duty as a true Texan on Nov. 2. At the close of the exercise the children were treated to apples by Guss McGee and chewing gum by W. L. Edmondson.

Entertained

The members of the "42" Club were most delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. L. W. Rhodes on Wednesday afternoon. More than the usual number of members were in attendance. Hallowe'en decorations were much in evidence and a refreshing course was served. Mesdames Harry Cranfill, C. M. Glack and R. L. Elwath were the guests.

J. S. Rives has returned from Eastland and reports Mrs. Rives improving from an attack of influenza.

The many friend of Mrs. R. B. Pratt will be glad to know that her health is much improved since going to Corpus Christi.

Floyd Kennedy, A. T. Courtney, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Clyde Wilson motored to Sweetwater Tuesday on business.

Manager Alexander of the Travelers Oil Co., south of town, states that he recently killed two rattlesnakes, one having nine buttons and the other eight.

A FLOWERY TALE

How ever it be true, let us prove it to you; listen to the tale I tell—

For sixteen years I've known it well, it is all about a pretty Belle whom to you I'd like to sell a trial sack of Wichita Belle.

Her normal weight is just forty eight and she is fluffy, brittle and light, and of the delicious crusts you would like to bite.

Listen to my sweet refrain, I want her to be the Belle of Roscoe, Colorado and Loraine. And into every home she will go for W. L. Edmondson will sell her so. And this very best Flour, O ladies fair, with you I wish to share, and do not buy any elsewhere until you buy of this just what you need for satisfaction is guaranteed.

So won't you let this Wichita Belle come in your home to dwell, so that you can have light bread, sweet cake, biscuit and all made well.

In every home we want you to tell of this beautiful Wichita Belle whom none can excel.

In addition to the above, our entire stock of dry goods, clothing, ladies ready-to-wear; blankets and comforts, bolt goods, hosiery, men's and boys' clothing, shoes, all must be sold regardless of cost, at least some reductions as per cotton.

Also a special on groceries, on many items such as pre-war prices. Don't hesitate but let your wants be known, we will try to meet your expectations and requirements.
