The architects drawing by William C. Townes and Associates of Amarillo shows the two buildings proposed in the school bond issue to be voted on Saturday, May 12. At top is the gymnasium, which will include a band room and offices for instructors in the athletic and band departments, as well as dressing facilities for teams. It will be located on the high school campus. The Cafetorium, in the lower drawing, will be on the elementary school grounds and will combine the features of a cafeteria and an auditorium, complete with stage, to seat 350. There will also be modern kitchen facilities with all equipment to handle the cafeteria.

Election May 17 to Decide Proposed Low Income Housing Project for Wellington

Wellington voters will determine whether the Wellington Housing Authority is to be continued when they vote in the special city election Thursday, May 17, and at the same time decide if the city is to receive its low-rent public housing project.

The election will be held in the city hall during the usual election hours of 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Any qualified voter living in the city limits is eligible to vote, N. M. Higdon, chairman of the Housing Authority, said. Property ownership is not required.

The wording on the ballots will

Mrs. Mattie Dorsey Dies at Home of Son in Shamrock

Mrs. Mattie Dorsey, a Wellington resident for 36 years, died at the home of a son, Arlin Dorsey in Shamrock Thursday, May 3. She had been ill several months and about two weeks before her death went to her son's home.

Funeral services were held at the Kelso Chapel Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. Officiating was the Rev. J. E. Byers of Shamrock, and burial was in Victory Cemetery near Altus, Oklahoma under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Luther Sullivan, Billy Hatch, Joe Beard, Goat Hopper, of Wellington and Clell Gierhart and Clay York of Shamrock.

Mrs. Dorsey was born Mattie Burden in Mississippi July 1, 1871. Before coming here she made her home in Jackson County, Oklahoma.

Although Mrs. Dorsey was well known as a true friend to those about her, she was also known for her indomitable courage in the face of handicap. Although she had been crippled for about 40 years, she refused to let this keep her from carrying on the usual duties of her homemaking, nor did she ever complain of it.

Two sons survive Mrs. Dorsey, Arlin Dorsey of Shamrock and Ocie Dorsey of Wellington. There are two brothers, B. D. Burden of Albuquerque, N. M.; and C. C. Burden of Jenks, Oklahoma; one grandchild and one great grandchild.

Her husband, Thomas Hindman Dorsey, preceded her in death many years ago.

The voter will either mark out the issue he opposes, or he will put an X in the square beside the issue of his choice.

The Housing Authority was created earlier this year and was proceeding with plans to apply for the project when a petition was presented the City Council asking for the election to determine whether the Authority will be continued.

"The Housing Authority has already definitely rejected one section of town for the proposed housing units, and that is the area east and south of Ellison Park," Higdon said. "We have not selected a location as yet, and any location we pick will be subject to approval by the Federal Housing Authority."

The Wellington Housing Authority is composed of Higdon, Dr. Chas. B. Jones, Buster Hughes, George Shadd and Truett Thomas.

The Authority this week released this information regarding low rent public housing, with special reference to Wellington's situation:

The purpose of Public housing is to provide better and adequate housing for families of low income who are unable to purchase modern housing or able to pay rentals for modern housing as they exist.

To occupy one of the low-rent housing units, a family must be living in substandard housing or to be without housing or about to be without housing. The family income must be below the level needed to obtain adequate private owned housing. Special preference for admission is given low income families of servicemen and veterans and to families displaced by slum clearance, to young people starting in life on salaries that do not permit high rentals, and to aged people who are living from social security payments.

The average income of all families in low rent housing was only $29.84 per week in 1954.

Rents are established by the local housing authority at rates which are no higher than low income families can afford to pay, but sufficient to cover project operation expense. The rent charged is based on family income. Each family is required to pay not less than 20 per cent of its net income for rent including utilities. In 1954 rents, including utilities, averaged $34 monthly.

The low rent housing units are paid for through the sale of bonds by the Housing authority. The city pays nothing. The cost is amortized over a period of 40 years. Annual installments are paid from the rents are collected, after operating costs are deducted, reserves set up and repairs and improvements made, and a deduction up to 10 per cent is paid the city and other tax bodies in lieu of taxes.

If the Housing Authority cannot meet its installment, then the Public Housing Administration pays the difference.

The normal allocation of public housing units for a town the size of Wellington would be 30 units, 24 in the white section of town and 6 in the colored section or adjacent to it. The units will range from 1 bedroom to 3 bedrooms each at an approximate cost of $7,200 per unit.

The municipality agrees to eliminate within a five year period or such further period as may be approved by the Public Housing Administration an equal number of houses as per units received. Generally this is being done in other cities nearby with housing projects through normal home improvement and building programs.

The Wellington Housing authority estimates that of the 1273 dwelling units in Wellington, 41.8 per cent are substandard. Of the 1137 white dwelling units, 36.8 per cent are substandard, according to information released by the Housing Authority.

Collingsworth County Delegates to the State Democratic Convention will go instructed for Senator Lyndon Johnson, and they will carry with them a resolution asking that the Democratic Party sponsor necessary legislation to increase the personal exemption for dependents from $600 to $1,500 per dependent for income tax purposes.

Resolutions approving this action and the election of three delegates and three alternates took place in the county convention Tuesday afternoon in one of the shortest and briskest meetings of the type held here in recent years.

Delegates to the State Convention May 22 at Dallas are County Attorney Denzil Bevers, Buck Freeding and Judge R. L. Templeton. Alternates are Tom Cunningham, John Coleman and Zook Thomas.

The instructions were given the delegates in a four-part resolution: "that all Texas Democrats unite under the trustworthy Leadership of the Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson, recognizing him to be the standard bearer of our Party; and

Election Saturday To Determine School Gymnasium, Cafetorium

Voters of the Wellington Independent School District will vote Saturday, May 12, on the school bond issue in the amount of $250,000 for a proposed gymnasium on the high school campus and the cafetorium (combination cafeteria and auditorium) for Elementary School. If these bonds pass, it will be a big step toward giving the Wellington schools one of the finest plants in the lower Panhandle-West Oklahoma area. The election will be held in the county court room of the court house and the polls will be open between the regular voting hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m. Velman Warrick, president of the school board, and W. J. Townes of William C. Townes and Associates, Amarillo architects and engineers, have described the two buildings being sought for the system.

The buildings will be of semi-fireproof construction consisting of steel structure with masonry exterior and interior walls and partitions.

The gymnasium building will have these facilities:

1. A 48' x 96' playing court with seating space for 1,000 spectators.
2. Two shower rooms each for boys and girls.
3. Offices or men and women coaches.
4. A foyer with concession booth and public rest rooms.
5. A band room with the music director's office. There will be four private practice rooms and storage space for instruments and uniforms.

The cafetorium will contain a large kitchen area complete with all necessary food preparation equipment and dishwashing equipment. There would be a 20' x 40' stage and a dining room with seating capacity for 300 students. The dining area may be converted into an auditorium with seating capacity for 350 people.

The school board proposes this bond issue without raising property valuations in the Wellington Independent School District one cent. Financing would be arranged through a tax levy of 20c per $100 valuation above the present tax rate.

The taxpayers now pay $140 per $100 valuation for all purposes (for maintenance and to pay the principal and interest on current indebtedness). The new rate would be only $1.60 for all purposes.

Warrick again pointed out the simple procedure of the election Saturday, although it is different to those held in the past.

There will be three elections, at the same time, the same place and with the same election judges.

The ballot for election No. 1 will be printed on white paper, and there will be 4 propositions: (1) whether the school district shall adopt Senate Bill 116 passed by the Legislature last year. This is the new law pertaining to taxes for school maintenance and to pay off bonded indebtedness. (2) Whether the district shall be empowered to levy the $1.50 maximum tax or school maintenance. Actually further provisions of the law limit maximum for this district to $1.40, but wording of the election must be $1.50. (3) Whether the district shall issue the $250,000 bond issue. (4) This is a bond amendment provision growing out of a slight change in the school boundary line in 1948 and is to clear up a technicality before any new bonds can be issued.

Qualified property owning taxpayers of the district whose proposals

Heart Attack Friday Takes Life of Mrs. Lizzette Cudd Howe

Mrs. Lizzette Cudd Howe, prominent Wellington woman and a leader in work of the First Methodist Church, died unexpectedly in the Groom Hospital Friday May 4, at 4:55 a. m. Her death was attributed to a heart attack.

Her death came as a shock to her many friends throughout the area, most of whom did not know she was ill. She had entered the hospital Wednesday morning, and her illness was diagnosed as a light heart attack. She was thought to be resting well Thursday night, however, when she was stricken with a severe attack from which she did not rally.

Mrs. Howe came here 39 years ago, and except for two years, this had been her home since.

She was prominently identified with the work of the Methodist Church, and for a number of years Mrs. Howe had been a member of the church choir. She also participated in the work of the Sunday School and other church-sponsored activities.

She was also known for her thoughtfulness of friends, and her many kindnesses to people of every walk of life. These extended as far back as she had been active in Wellington's life.

Mrs. Howe was born Lizzette Harrison the daughter of the late J. D. and Martha Ann Harrison, at Koppell, Dallas County on January 10, 1898.

The family later moved to Hall County, and she received her education in the schools there.

She was married to Noel T. Cudd on November 22, 1914, and two years later they came here. During the years he was an oil and gas dealer here, she was closely identified with him in his work. Mr. Cudd passed away April 22, 1941.

On January 24, 1951, she was married to Claude Howe of Claude, and made her home in that town until his death April 2, 1953. Shortly afterward she returned to Wellington to live.

Funeral services for Mrs. Howe were held Sunday afternoon at

Arrest of Teen-Agers Clear Burglary Series

James Dyer, 17, arrested in connection with the burglary of the Samnorwood School will come before the Collingsworth County Grand Jury next week on charges of burglarizing a public building and also in connection with burglarizing the Wellington high school last month, when $90 was taken, Sheriff John Rainey said.

He was one of four boys arrested in connection with the Norwood burglary, which they have admitted. The other three are juveniles and were due to be brought before County Judge R. L. Templeton, who acts as juvenile judge, on Wednesday. Officers recovered $43.73 allegedly taken at Norwood.

The boys have also admitted the burglary of South Ward School in Shamrock, theft of a pickup and a car in which they drove to Samnorwood; and to burglarizing of the First Baptist and First Methodist Churches in Shamrock, Sheriff John Rainey said.

Dyer pled guilty before the Wheeler County grand jury which met last week and was sentenced to two six-year terms in the state penitentiary in connection with the Shamrock school burglary and that of a 1952 Chevrolet from Ann Hall of that town. The terms will run concurrently.

A youth living in the north part of this county, a juvenile, was also arrested in connection with the Wellington burglary and released to the custody of his parents, since the county jail here has no facilities for juveniles. For the same reason the other three boys are being held in the Wheeler county jail. Only part of the juveniles who participated in the Norwood burglary took part in the one at Wellington, Rainey reported.

Arrest of the four youngsters alleged to have taken part in the Samnorwood burglary appears to have broken up a teenage gang operating out of Shamrock. They were taken in custody as they slept in a shelterbelt near Samnorwood by Sheriff Rainey, assisted by Wheeler County officers and accompanied by Supt. Orville Cunningham and grade school principal Paul Young.

Sheriff Rainey named Dyer as head of the group and a former member of an Amarillo teen-age gang when he lived in that city.

Sheriff Buz Dorman was continuing to investigate the activities of the boys in connection with a group known as the "chain gang" in Wheeler county, Rainey said.

SOIL AWARDS WINNERS

It is work such as this seen on the farm of L. A. Gilmore that is gaining the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District recognition through the state as "the District of Winners". Two of this year's regional Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards winners are shown here—John Robert Henard at left the outstanding conservation farmer, and Gilmore, the outstanding comeback farmer. There were two other Regional awards winners, Mrs. W. R. Breeding, conservation homemaker, and Miss Virginia Robey, news editor of The Wellington Leader, the business or professional person who has done the most for agriculture. Approximately 50 farmers and business men and women will accompany the winners to Quanah Friday evening to attend the Awards Banquet where the presentations will be made.

VALUES that come with everything we buy at home

MONEY spent here at home . . . as it continues to circulate around among us and to build up trade volume . . . is the only source of LIFE and GROWTH for this community.

A living, growing community means better jobs, better business profits, better property values, better social facilities, and consequently better living . . . for all of us who live in it.

These are the EXTRA benefits that we get . . . at no extra cost . . . when we do our buying at home instead of away from home.

Any ONE of these advantages that come with greater trade volume in our own community . . . could well be worth MANY times as much as the actual goods that our money buys . . . and which is the only thing we get for it when we spend it out of town.

may be

Letters From The PEOPLE

Shamrock, Texas
May 1, 1956

Dear Editor,

The county officials of the Texas Farm Bureau owe it to their membership in the county to openly protest the Farm Veto.

They should send one to J. Walter Hammond, one to Charles B. Schumann, one to Secretary Benson, one to President Eisenhower, and they should publish the protest in The Wellington Leader.

The Local County organization will be betraying the trust put in it by its membership if it fails to take this step.

Yours truly,

The total number of farms participating in the 1955 program show an increase of 26 per cent over the 1956 program participation.

Alfalfa Aphids Damage Crops

The alfalfa yellow aphid is severely damaging alfalfa in the county, as well as in practically all alfalfa states, J. W. Thomas, county agent, said this week.

"You can kill him with malathion or parathion, but they are repopulated in 9 to 12 days and this is uneconomical," Thomas said.

In the heavy alfalfa producing areas, such as the South Plains, Arizona and California, many farmers are plowing up alfalfa fields, he explained.

Peach Prospects 40 to 60 Per Cent

Collingsworth County has prospects for a 40 to 60 percent normal peach crop, County Agent J. W. Thomas reports.

Vote For
The Gymnasium

Have you ever watched a play, a concert, a basketball game or a wrestling match at our combination Gymnasium and Auditorium? If you have you know why the students of WHS want a Gym.

The present Auditorium could be used effectively if it were used for that purpose only. It can't be used for two purposes satisfactorily.

It can't be used for basketball and other indoor sports satisfactorily at all. It is not even the right dimensions for a gymnasium.

So we respectfully ask you to vote for the bond issue.

Vote For
The Cafetorium

The young people in the Elementary School have no school programs that are satisfactory: because they do not have an adequate place in which to have recitals, song programs, and indoor recreation and athletics during bad weather.

They do not have a very attractive place in which to eat in the converted barracks. The new Cafetorium could serve both purposes most satisfactorily.

Vote For The Children

As we respectfully ask you to vote for the bond issue, we would like to add that we are the ones who will do a good part of paying off the bond issue. We are not dismayed at the small increase in tax rates. There will be no increase in valuation.

I Saw-

BY VIRGINIA ROBEY

Mrs. C. E. Owens of Dodson, in laying the recent Dodson bank edition of the paper reminded her of so many things about the beginning of the town. For one thing, her husband got the first hair cut in a Dodson Barber shop -- she thinks Z. McKinney gave it to him. Then she recalled they had just become engaged, and the day the first train ran, all the young couples walked down the track a piece and waited for it. And she and Mr. Owens made all the plans for their wedding as they sat there on the railroad dump, waiting for the train.

Cal Hurst saying he, Lyna and the children spent the entire night in the cellar the evening we had the storm warning ... they came out to find they'd locked themselves out of their house. There was nothing to do but go back to the cellar. Cal is guessing at least 90 per cent of Wellington was in the cellar that evening.

Pete Melton saying the dam on his farm washed out -- the pond he was going to irrigate out of this year ... He'll build it back.

Mrs. Millard Brown with her arm in a sling. She broke it recently as she was sitting down in a chair and it turned over with her. It's a right arm, too ... Heard Mrs. George Jones who lives west of town has a broken arm, too.

Mrs. F. O. Masten and Mrs. H. D. Jones of Quail out looking at Mrs. Masten's lovely yard ... Douglas Bevers ready to lend a hand distributing the Chamber of Commerce labor survey circulars. Mayme Terry, in town for a few hours, saying she and Joe were liking their new home at Grove, and folks there had been so nice to them ... but Wellington will always be home to them.

Scout Roundtable Here on May 8

The monthly Scout Leaders Roundtable for the Southern District will be held Tuesday, May 8 at 7:30 in the Wellington high school. This will be for Cub Leaders, Scout Leaders and Explorer Leaders.

The final information on the Cuboree will be given so the Cub Leaders are especially urged to attend. This will also be the last meeting of the Roundtable until August so each Leader and the committeemen are urged to attend, according to Bill Eller, Southern District worker.

May 15 Emergency Plowing Deadline

Farmers are reminded that May 15 is the final date for reporting performance on the listing or chiseling practice under the "Emergency Wind Erosion Control Program". A large per cent of the approvals recently issued under this practice cannot be made for the listing or chiseling practices unless the written report is filed in the county office by the final date. We urge that the report form be completely filled in and returned by mail or in person, Millard P. Brown, Office Manager, said.

Mrs. Ruben Martinez was admitted o St. Joseph's Hospital April 24, and discharged April 25.

Mrs. George White Long-time Area Resident Dies

Mrs. George C. White, 1109 Belton Street died, Thursday, April 26, after having lived in this area for more than 50 years. For 35 years, she had lived in the Shinnery community, and for the last few years, in Wellington.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Sunday, April 29, at 4 p. m., with the Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor, and the Rev. L. J. Crawford of Shamrock officiating. Burial was in the family plot in the West Wellington Cemetery, under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Bura Handley, Hunter Peters, Drury Lacy, Bill Reeves, Bill Tarter and Steve Owens. Flower bearers were Mrs. Inez Miller, Mrs. W. W. Peeks, Mrs. Stella West, Mrs. Beulah Gentry, Mrs. L. D. McMinn, Mrs. Newt Price, and Mrs. Jess White.

Mrs. White was born Lou Emma Jane Wooley in Sabine Parish, Louisiana December 4, 1879. She and Mr. White were married at Mangum, Oklahoma April 19, 1902.

She had been a devoted member of the Baptist church since she was 13 years of age, and she was a member of the First Baptist Church at the time of her death.

Two daughters and a son survive Mrs. White: Mrs. Lee Hughes of Wellington; Mrs. Mabel Barber of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Jack White of Vinson. A brother and two sisters survive also: Mrs. T. C. Smith of Hart; Mrs. Lon Taylor of Shawnee, Oklahoma;

Norman Partner in Lumber Yard

Reece Norman, manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Company, has resigned to become a partner in Red River Lumber Company in Grandfield, Oklahoma. His resignation is effective June 1, and he and Mrs. Norman and their children, Cindy and Jimmy, will move at that time.

Norman is entering business with his father-in-law, Earl Rinehart, who has been part owner for a number of years. They are buying the interest of two partners in the yard.

During 1953 and 1954, Norman was with that company as an employee, then returned here as assistant manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Co. He was promoted to manager in November 1955.

He was reared here and is the son of Rev. E. J. Norman of Childress. During World War II Norman was an Air Force officer stationed at Fredrick, Oklahoma, and married to Miss Gloria Rinehart of that city. They returned here at the end of the war and remained until 1953.

Thanks, Farmers For 50,000,000 Tons of PURINA CHOWS

On April 5th one of the 41 Purina Mills made the 50 Millionth Ton of Purina Chows. It is a glorious achievement and we are mighty proud. If it the 50,000,000 tons were here today they would fill a Checkerboard train over 21,306 miles long and reaching four-fifths of the way round the world!

So you profit-minded farmers have cast your vote for far more Purina Chows than any other feed.

And the real credit goes to you progressive livestock and poultry feeders. You kept asking for more and more and better and better feeds. You kept Purina Research busy making better Chows—Purina Mills humming to fill your needs—Purina Dealers working hard to keep you supplied.

So we say to all of you from the bottom of our hearts:

"Thanks a million for 50 Million Tons of business."

News of Men in Service

One of the most unusual assignments to come to a Wellington Air Force man has been given Airman 3/C W. L. Burkhardt — the study of the Russian Language.

Burkhart is now visiting his mother, Mrs. Ivan Burkhardt, and other members of the family, but he will leave this week for Syracuse, N. Y., for six months further study.

After completing his basic training at Lackland AFB, Burkhardt was assigned to what the military calls the "Pre-Lang" school at Kelley AFB, also in San Antonio.

"That's Pre-Language" Burkhardt explained. What his training is leading to is work in the Intelligence section of the Air Force.

He has found the Russian language fascinating, but difficult. In Pre-Lang school, the airmen learned the alphabet, the basic part of pronunciation, and something of grammar sentence structure.

This is comprehensive study, and the men attend classes six hours a day and study four or five hours.

"The Russian alphabet has 33 letters," he explained. A few are the same as the English letters, and others have the shape of an English letter, but mean another letter. The letter shaped like "R" is the Russian "E" for instance. "Some Russian letters have a name but no sound in themselves, but if they are placed in a word they modify the sound of the preceding letter," he continued.

After six months at Syracuse, Burkhardt will serve a three-year hitch overseas, then continue his language study.

This young Wellington Airman is a member of an Army family. His father, 1st-Sergeant Ivan Burkhardt, is now en route home after approximately 18 months in Korea, but the two will not get to meet.

When Sgt. Burkhardt was stationed in Germany, the family went too, and lived at Kaiserslautern, French Zone. Airman Burkhardt hopes to draw an assignment in Germany for his overseas duty, for he liked the country.

They lived at Fort Sill before Sgt. Burkhardt was sent to Germany. They also lived at Fort Bliss and he served in Alaska.

Mrs. Burkhardt is the former Virginia Crossland, who was reared in the Nicholson community. On three occasions they have lived in Wellington: When Airman Burkhardt was in the fourth grade; again while they were waiting for arrangements to be completed for them to live in Germany; and upon their return in January 1955. Burkhardt was graduated from Wellington high school last year.

He hopes later to enter cadet training or officer candidate school.

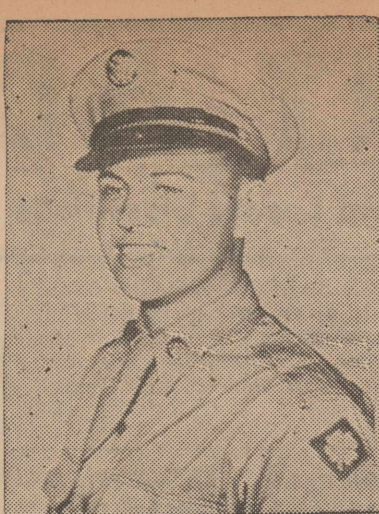

Airman 3/C Larry B. Jesse is now serving at Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, where he is awaiting on-the-job training in administrative work.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Jesse of Wellington, he took basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, and upon completing that was sent to Biggs AFB.

Jesse was graduated from Wellington high school last spring.

2D ARMORED DIV., GERMANY — Pvt. Beauford W. Shirley, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Shirley, 1008 N. Maddey, Shamrock, recently arrived in Germany and is now a member of the 2nd Armored Division.

Shirley, a tractor operator in the division's 17th Engineer Battalion, entered the Army in October 1955 and was last stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He attended Wheeler High School.

Guthrie Hite returned from Germany and received his separation from the Army at Camp Chaffee, Ark., on April 28. He reached Wellington the following day to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hite.

Hite was stationed at Zweibrücken, Germany 16 months in the 539th General Dispensary, working as a medical technician.

He left Germany Wednesday and the flight to New Jersey took only 18 hours. The following day he was in Camp Chaffee.

Hite plans to enter College in September, enrolling in a pre-pharmacy course.

Cecil Allan Duke, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Duke, left recently for Fort Chaffee, Ark., where he will take his Army basic training.

He is survived by his wife and seven children.

Relatives here include sisters-in-law, Mrs. Ed Ward and Mrs. S. B. Jackson.

From The PEOPLE

Perryton, Texas

To The Wellington Leader,

Dear Editor,
I have just read the "Old Timer" items of 45 years ago, 1911, and noticed the name of T. E. Rinard. T. E. Rinard, who passed away December 12, 1918, was my husband. T. B. Starkey was my brother.

Years and years ago, perhaps before 1911, I wrote an article to The Leader, subject: "The Church Member's Dream." Reading these I began to wonder if you could possibly have on file that number. If so I would be happy to see it.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Nannie Edmondson

Salt Fork SCD Has Built 2,975 Miles of Terraces in 9 Years

If all the terraces that have been built in the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District since it was organized nine years ago were stretched in one long terrace, it would start at Wellington and run past the Oklahoma oil fields, up through the Missouri Ozarks, cross the Mississippi at St. Louis, go on through the rich farm lands of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, pass the steel mills at Pittsburgh, cross the Appalachian mountains the Catskills, but by-pass New York on through history-making New England to Portland, Maine, and still another thousand miles through New Brunswick, toward the Atlantic Ocean.

Records of the Soil Conservation Service office show that 2,975 miles of terraces have been built since the first dirt was thrown up under Salt Fork Soil Conservation District co-operators program.

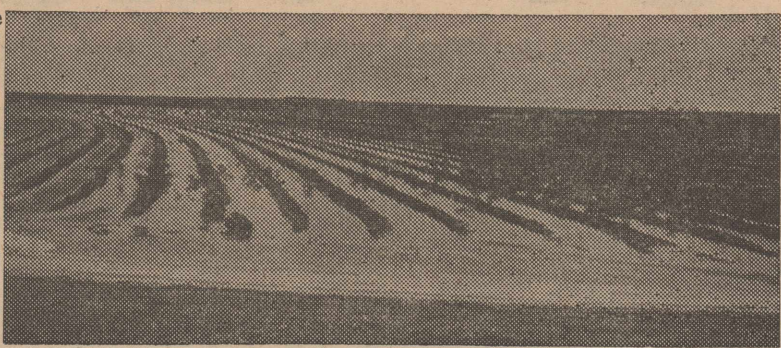

It's a long, long terrace, and it's going to be a bigger one. Farmers and ranchers have for the most part built these through the ASC program. Terracing enlarging was approved as a practice this year, and already a number of miles of terraces are being built taller and broader.

Fred Squyres, Lynn Courtney, and T. M. Tucker of the SCS office have figured the miles of terraces built each year since the district has been in operation.

Only 20 miles of terracing was done from the time operations began, July 1, 1947, until December 31 of that year. The following six months wasn't much better, 24 miles, but by the end of 1948, 215 miles had been built.

Terracing by years includes:
1947 - 20 miles.
1948 - 215 miles.
1949 - 550 miles.
1950 - 626 miles.
1951 - 448 miles.
1952 - 282 miles.
1953 - 199 miles.
1954 - 293 miles.
1955 - 213 miles.

To date in 1956 - 127 miles. Terracing is the Salt Fork District's answer to what is probably its biggest land problem, water erosion. An area that seldom has enough water, it gets such high intensity of rainfall in such short periods of time that only by a terracing program can this water

SYRUP PAN TERRACE SYSTEM

Ernest Nunnelley's syrup pan terrace system was running to capacity when this picture was made last year, and it is an outstanding example of how this type terrace works. This is a popular type terrace in the Salt Fork SCD and works to advantage where a field catches outside water. Nunnelley's farm is three miles south and a mile east of Wellington.

he held where it falls, and the top-soil with it.

This one conservation practice alone can be expected to increase production by about 30 per cent, Squyres said.

"A lot of our Salt Fork SCD farmers are quoting higher increases than that, but we consider 30 per cent about average," he remarked.

Herbert Bearden, for instance, terraced his land in 1954, and in 1955 harvested 11 bales of cotton on 25 acres of terraced and contoured land, while in an adjoining field not yet terraced he got only 17 bales on 60 acres. The fields were planted at the same time and cultivation was the same.

Cecil Shanks who farms a mile south of town, built a syrup pan terrace system in 1953 to hold runoff water from 160 acres, including part of the town section. All this goes on an 18 acres field, and in 1955 he harvested 11 bales of cotton. He estimates that without terracing, he would have harvested four bales on the same land.

Most of the terraces are the leveled closed end type. The ends are closed approximately two-thirds of the way to the top of the terrace, so that there is no runoff on 70 per cent of the rain that falls.

"Actually, the man with flat land benefits the most from terracing, because the water backs up farther," Squyres remarked.

Most of the terracing done on the steeper land of the Salt Fork District have been of the channel type.

A majority of the farmers plant their terraces, losing no land from cultivation by this most valuable practice.

The terrace rebuilding program, begun this year, came about for several reasons. Conservation agencies realize that there is a definite need for larger terraces--those that will hold up to 4 and 5 inches of rain, falling in a short period, without breaking or without runoff. That's the kind of rains the Salt Fork SCD often gets and its terraces have got to match them.

Changing types of farm equipment are another reason for enlarging terraces. More four-row equipment is found on farms, where even ten years ago it was of the two row type.

Under the present farm program, both the ASC and the SCS agencies work together on terracing. ASC gives its approval for building the terrace and does the paying after it is built and accepted. Soil Conservation Service personnel do the engineering work, that is, they run the lines and after the terraces are built check the work.

The rate of pay under the ASC program this year is $97.68 per mile for new terraces and $36.96

LET'S VOTE MAY 12, 1956 TO GET THESE BADLY NEEDED BUILDINGS FOR A SOUND EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM IN THE WELLINGTON SCHOOLS!

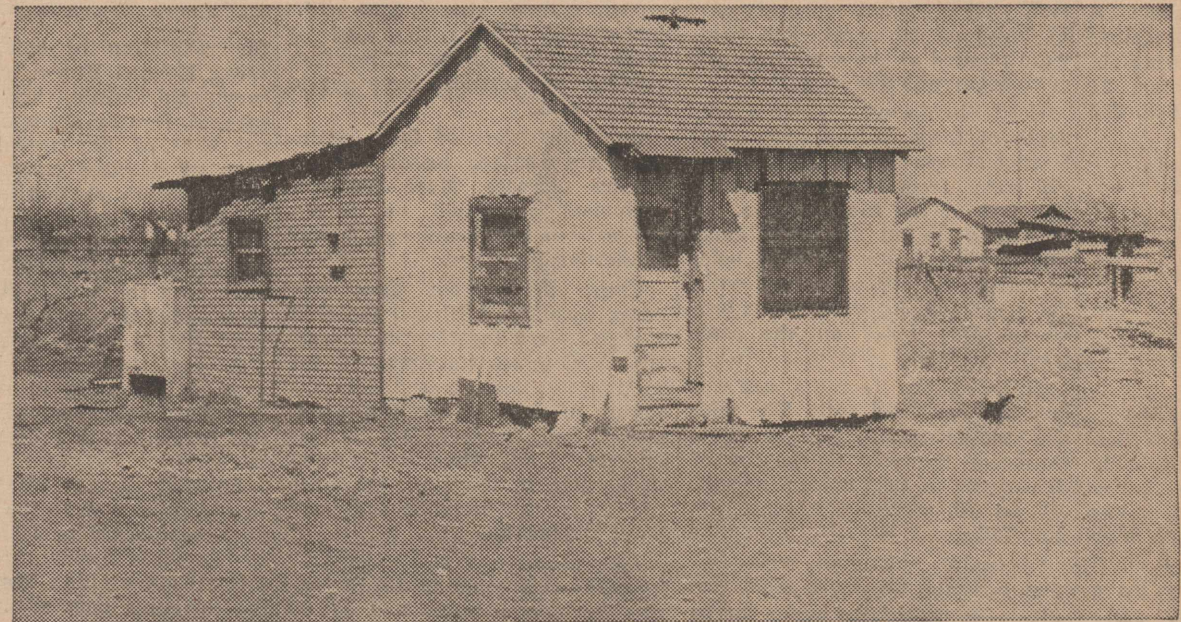

Are We Proud Of These Wellington "HOMES"?

Scene in white section of North Wellington. You only have to look around with open eyes to see that Wellington DOES need more and better housing.

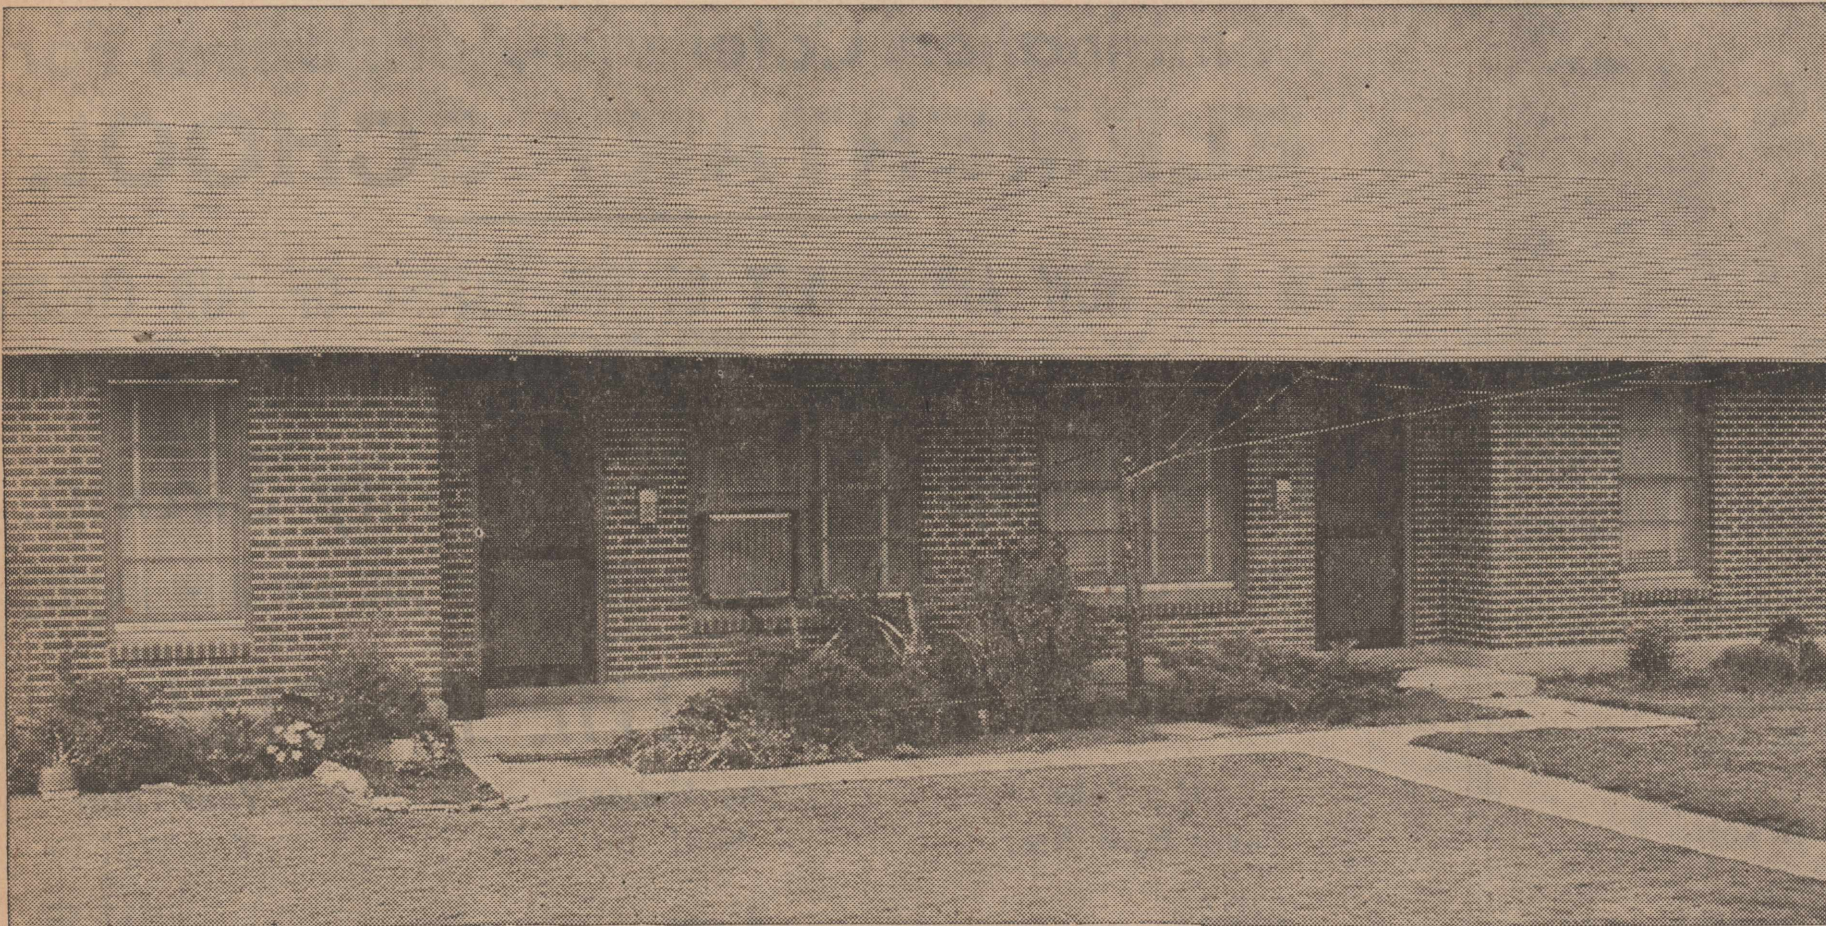

Some people — who do not have to live in places like this themselves—seem perfectly satisfied for others to continue living in these inspiring abodes. The low rent housing project approved by the Wellington City Council — if Wellington voters do not disapprove—will provide modern, safe and healthful 1-, 2-, and 3-bedroom apartments which will be within the financial reach of many of our Wellington neighbors who are now living in quarters similar to those pictured here.

Who among us has the right—for selfish reasons or because we have believed some untrue rumor—to deny these neighbors the decent housing they can have if we don't stand in the way of it?

Your vote is all it will cost you to make thirty modern living units available to folks now living in "homes" like those shown in this photograph.

Vote "For" The Low Rent Housing Project In Wellington ... Thursday, May 17

This is a typical low rent housing unit in Quannah. These decent and modern living units are being enjoyed by low income families today. They have not and will not cost the taxpayers of Quannah one cent. Quannah citizens did not begrudge their less affluent neighbors the opportunity to live in and bring up their children in as pleasant environment as they themselves enjoy.

It Will Not Raise City Taxes

The money for these housing units will come from funds already appropriated by Congress. This is money that WILL BE SPENT SOMEWHERE. Why not in Wellington.

Mostly local labor will be used on this over $200,000 project. Local business, local labor, and local property owners will benefit from it, as well as the many Wellington families who will be able to enjoy greatly improved living conditions for years and years after its completion.

Make your decision about how you will vote on this project by considering actual facts, and not on the basis of unfounded rumors.

STEVE OWENS

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Saturday the voters of The Wellington Independent School District will have the opportunity for voting for two urgently needed school buildings — one at the High School and one at the Elementary School. The lack of an adequate gymnasium has handicapped the athletic program for both boys and girls at the high school. The lack of an auditorium at the elementary school has prevented organized programs, recitals etc.

There will be three ballots. If you want the gymnasium and the cafeteria, you must vote yes on every issue on all three ballots. If a single issue on any one ballot fails to carry we will have no gymnasium for the high school and no cafeteria for the little folks. This gives quite an advantage to the opponents of the bond issue. The only hope is for those favoring the buildings to turn out in force. It is certain that the opponents of the issue will be at the polls.

In another part of the paper is a table showing how much it will increase your taxes. The increase is not nearly as large as some people believe. Go to the polls Saturday and vote.

The Ritz and Bronco and The Wellington Leader are co-operating in giving a free show ticket to every senior in the county and to every high school teacher. Just clip out the ad in this issue and sign your name to it when you present it at the box office. It is good for any show at either Theatre during May.

erty is rendered on the tax roll and who have a current poll tax or are exempt can vote in this election.

Election No. 2 is printed on a pink ballot and repeats the first proposition above: Shall the School District adopt the provisions of Senate Bill 116 so that it may have the authority and power to levy and collect taxes and to issue bonds as provided by the All issues of all three elections bill. Any qualified voter in the district can vote on this.

Election No. 3 ballot is blue. It is identical in wording to Election No. 2 and the first provision of Election No. 1. To vote a person must be a qualified property owning tax payer, whose property is rendered on the tax roll and who has a current poll tax or is exempt.

Voters on both sides of the Collingsworth - Childress county line will participate, providing they are in the Wellington Independent School District.

Community services are planned for Mothers Day, Sunday, May 13, according to Merritt Durfee, who is helping with plans.

"But Can It Be Found In The Bible?"

People often indignantly demand that Catholics prove their teaching from the Bible.

The Bible is their "rule of faith" ...and they argue that every man has the right and ability to discover for himself, by his interpretation of the Bible, what he must believe and do in order to be saved.

We do not question the sincerity of these people and we applaud all who strive earnestly to understand and observe the Scriptures. But—are they right in calling the Bible, privately interpreted, the sole source of Christian teaching?

"Hold the teachings that you have learned," wrote St. Paul, "whether by word or by letter of ours" (2 Thess. 2:15). He refers to Christian teachings, some oral, some written ...and demands that all be received.

Christianity did not begin with the Bible. It began with the coming of Christ. The Lord instructed His Apostles to "go forth...teach all nations"—and to insure that His truths would always be maintained, Christ established His Church, "...the pillar and mainstay of the truth" (1 Timothy 3:15).

The last part of the Bible...written by St. John...was not completed until 60 years after the Crucifixion of Christ. There was no Bible in anything resembling its present form until nearly 400 years after Jesus had died on the Cross. And the widespread distribution of the Bible as we know it today was impossible until the invention of printing, some 1400 years after the Savior's death.

By what "rule of faith" did the millions of Christians live during those 1500 years?

The answer is, of course, that the teaching of the Church was the rule of faith for the Christian world. And St. Paul reminds us that Christianity consists of "one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism" (Eph. 4:5). "God is a God of peace, not of disorder," St. Paul said further (1 Cor. 14:33).

Yet today we have nearly 300 different religious denominations, all calling themselves Christian...all professing the Bible as their rule of faith...and all differing to some extent or another in their understanding of what the Bible means. Could Christ have left a "rule of faith" that would permit such confusion? Would He have left the interpretation of His Word to the fallible and changing judgments of men—when our very souls depend on a correct understanding and observance of the things Christ has taught us?

Because it certainly does matter what a man believes, we invite you to examine the rule of faith of the first Christians—a rule that is still maintained by the Catholic Church. Because the Bible is God's Word, and because He gave it to us for a purpose, we invite you to see what this purpose is.
