SOME IMMUNE

Mosquitoes Have Opened Annual Fray

The annual mosquito battle has started, and in the wake of recent heavy rains, the forays of these pests is expected to be heavy.

City fogging machines have been blanketing the city, public works director Ernest Lillard said this morning. "All areas of the city have been covered twice and some parts three times," he said. "In addition, all standing water has been covered with oil, in an effort to eliminate breeding places."

Lillard said the mosquitoes have shown some immunity to the chemicals being used, and his crews have changed brands of insecticides in an effort to cope with the problem. He explained the city has two machines, which operate between 7-11 a.m., and 4-9 p.m. daily.

He urged residents to check their property for breeding places and help eliminate them. The recent heavy rains are almost certain to increase the mosquito population and every breeding place that is eliminated will be a big help in control.

Barnes In Traction

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Ben Barnes, in traction at an Austin hospital, says doctors have told him surgery may be required to correct an old back injury.

Barnes was in "considerable pain" Thursday. Before entering the hospital Wednesday, he was bedridden for six days.

Barnes said he got the injury playing high school football.

Astroworld Mishap

HOUSTON (AP) — Workmen were affixing wheels to ready a 6,000-pound boat for use at a big new amusement park Thursday when it fell and crushed two of them.

The accident occurred at Astroworld, a $10 million facility adjacent to Houston's domed stadium where laborers have been struggling to meet a June 1 opening deadline.

Thomas I. Jarrell, 32, and William R. Jarrell, 27, brothers from suburban Pasadena, died under the 34-foot boat. It slid from a sling by which the craft was suspended from a 50-ton overhead crane.

Wheels were being attached to the hull for guiding the powerboat on the submerged tracks of an Astroworld ride. It was the first to be unloaded at the new park.

Echo I Dies In Fire

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Echo I, the balloon satellite that has offered a nightly show to millions around the world since its launching nearly eight years ago, fell to a fiery death Friday night off the West Coast of South America, the North American Air Defense Command NORAD said.

A spokesman said NORAD, which has been tracking Echo I in its dying days, estimated the time of decay at 7:47 p.m. EDT.

Consulate Bombed

QUEBEC (AP) — An explosion rocked the U.S. consulate building early today, shattering several windows and cracking the three-inch-thick front door of the two-story structure.

Police said no one was hurt.

The consulate has been the scene of several peaceful student demonstrations protesting U.S. participation in the Vietnam war.

The blast, believed caused by dynamite placed on the concrete front steps, ripped open the front doors.

Raging Forest Fires

SLAVE LAKE, Alta. (AP) — About 800 residents evacuated four towns on the southern shore of Lesser Slave Lake today as raging forest fires closed in on the communities.

About 190 miles north of Edmonton, a fire raced to within three miles of this town of 2,000 inhabitants on the lake's southeastern tip, but it veered away.

The towns of Faust, Widewater, Canyon Creek and Driftpile were evacuated as a precautionary measure, according to Wally West, information officer for the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests. Rangers said a fire was within half a mile of Faust, a community 40 miles west of Slave Lake.

There were no reports of death or injury in the series of fires that have so far consumed 230,000 acres of pine and spruce forest. More than 100 fresh firefighters, three more water bombers and two armed forces helicopters joined the fight against the flames.

There are now seven water bombers and about 800 men fighting the fire along the lake, officials said.

Downed In Paris

Police stand over clubbed demonstrators in Paris last night after new rioting turned the Latin Quarter into a bloody battlefield. The nightlong conflict sent some 50 persons to hospitals as students and police clashed. Another confrontation is feared today.

Expect De Gaulle To Offer Solution

PARIS (AP) — Premier Georges Pompidou summoned labor and business leaders to meet with him Saturday to seek a solution to the crushing strike wave paralyzing most of France's economic life.

More and greater turmoil threatened, meanwhile, as workers, students and farmers called a new round of demonstrations today a few hours before President Charles de Gaulle's address to the nation.

DeGaulle was expected to give his analysis of the situation and propose broad outlines for a settlement. The government then would try to reach an agreement with business and labor within these guidelines.

ACCEPTED

The Communist-led General Confederation of Workers, France's biggest union, immediately accepted Pompidou's invitation to meet but expressed that "24 hours are being lost." The French Confederation of Democratic Workers also accepted, but warned that the strikes would not stop.

Farmers stopped cars by the thousands in protest against a possibility the six-nation Common Market will order the limiting of government subsidies on dairy products at a meeting in Brussels next week. That would mean lower prices for such items as milk, butter and cheese. West Germany wants to curb such outlays.

Tractors and barricades were used to halt traffic on many roads in Brittany and south and central France. The farmers moved from car to car to explain their economic difficulties to motorists, then allowed them to proceed.

Premier Pompidou told newsmen Agriculture Minister Edgar Faure has been instructed to establish a French position of "extreme firmness on the organization of he agricultural markets" when he and his colleagues in the Common Market open the Brussels meeting Monday.

Complicating the situation, Belgium, which has a crisis of its own, asked its Common Market partners to postpone the meeting. Belgians were reported to want to avoid more trouble for their premier-designate, Paul van dem Boeynants, who is trying to form a new government.

Students rioted in Paris Thursday for the second night in succession, and authorities feared the violence would increase. Interior Minister Christian Fouchet warned that "armed extremists" hoped to use the demonstrations today to set off violence which would not be controlled.

FOUR POINTS

The National Students Union scheduled demonstrations at four points in northeastern Paris. The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Workers announced two marches across the southern half of the city.

In the provinces, organizations of farmers called demonstrations to show solidarity with the workers and students—and to demand that the government protect them in coming price negotiations with the other Common Market countries.

There was a strong possibility that the marching demonstrators would have Paris in an uproar by the time De Gaulle spoke on television and the radio.

The 77-year-old president gave no advance indication of what he would say in his first public statement on the two-week-old upheaval that has paralyzed French business, industrial and educational life.

N. Vietnamese Make Fresh Accusations Against U.S.

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam accused the United States today of intensifying the war in both North and South Vietnam despite the fact that "it speaks a great deal about peace and negotiations for peace".

The verbal attack on the United States came from a spokesman for Ambassador Xuan Thuy in Paris shortly after Premier Pham Van Dong in Hanoi claimed the Viet Cong forces in South Vietnam had scored great victories over allied troops.

STAND FIRM

Dong said Thuy would stand firm at Paris on his government's terms for peace. This could apply both to long-range settlement issues and to the immediate deadlock in the Paris talks over ending the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

It could exclude decisively any de-escalation by North Vietnam in order to get an end of bombing, but it could also be tough talk in general to cover an eventual compromise.

So far as the United States was the target, the attacks from Hanoi and Paris presumably are designed to increase world public opinion pressure on Washington to end the rest of the bombing and other attacks on North Vietnam without exacting any military scale-down from North Vietnam.

"The U.S. begins to use weapons which are condemned by the whole world, including chemical poisons," said Nguyen Thanh Le, North Vietnamese spokesman in Paris. "You know that beginning July 1 the United States is planning to use 10 million gallons of toxic products in Vietnam."

The United States and North Vietnam are moving toward a showdown on the issue of bombing the North, and there is no compromise in sight.

Each government is expected to increase its pressure on the other in the meetings ahead, with the threat of a breakdown in the talks, a weapon both are already using.

U.S. officials say they believe that North Vietnam's main aim is still to win the war by coordinated action on three fronts—trying to undermine the U.S.-supported government in Saigon, pressing the United States for concessions in the Paris talks, and striving for new military victories in South Vietnam.

SECONDARY

A long-range secondary aim, they say, may be to negotiate a compromise settlement, for which their bargaining position would be strengthened by whatever gains they can make in South Vietnam.

Waves Of Bombers Saturate Crossing

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of America's biggest bombers kept up one of the most concentrated saturation attacks of the war today against North Vietnamese troops reported crossing from Laos into the center of South Vietnam. The intensified air campaign was aimed at stopping any major enemy thrust across the country.

RAINED TONS

In 10 missions Thursday and today, at least 30 Air Force B52 bombers rained nearly 1,000 tons of explosives along enemy areas near the junction of the borders of South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

While the pressure mounted in the central highlands, U.S. Marines just below the demilitarized zone reported 203 North Vietnamese killed in a savage two-day battle. The Leathernecks said 23 of their men were killed and 86 wounded in the action Wednesday and Thursday two miles northeast of Con Thien.

Bombing of the central highlands was stepped up after North Vietnamese troops were reported crossing over the Laotian frontier in force. U.S. intelligence officers in the field said the Communist command might try to grab a large chunk of South Vietnam's central plateau to put more teeth into its demands at the Paris peace talks.

DRIVEN BACK

The first North Vietnamese divisions ever identified in South Vietnam tried to cut the country in half in 1965 but American troops drove them back during a fall of bloody fighting.

Flying at altitudes of more than 20,000 feet, the huge planes attacked staging areas, troop concentrations, bunkers, artillery positions and antiaircraft batteries between the Laotian border and Dak To.

U.S. outposts at the head of a valley that stretches from the Laotian border south to Dak To report heavy traffic nightly along the route which serves as the main north-south highway through the highlands.

REGIMENTS

Intelligence reports said two regiments from the North Vietnamese 325th Division have completed a 165-mile march south from near Khe Sanh to an area west of Kontum, possibly to reinforce another enemy division and four independent regiments along South Vietnam's western border.

In the DMZ action, the Marines took on two battalions—about 800 of the enemy—believed to be from the 320th North Vietnamese Division. Units from three regiments of the 3rd Marine Division got into the fray before the enemy withdrew Thursday night.

CREDITED

The Americans threw tanks, artillery and fighter-bombers into the battle, as well as helicopter gunships which were credited with a large percentage of the enemy killed.

Another Marine force launched a new operation, Mameluke Thrust, 24 miles southwest of Da Nang to seek out enemy forces in the rolling hills between the highlands and the rice-producing coastal lowlands.

Bogged Down In Mud

Residents of Resurrection City find the going rough as a 24-hour rain left the Poor People's Campaign shantytown a mass of mud and water.

Camp City Bogged Down, Some Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavy rains turned Resurrection City, U.S.A., into a sea of mud today and forced at least a temporary evacuation of most of the residents of the Poor People's Campaign shantytown.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, Resurrection City manager, said plans are being made to shift about 2,000 of the 2,400 residents to churches in metropolitan Washington.

ARRESTS

Meanwhile the campaign sustained Thursday its first group arrests after a Capitol Hill demonstration the movement's leader called unplanned and unfortunate.

But it also received its first federal response as Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman promised to expand federal food programs and 30 senators and representatives set up an informal unofficial liaison committee between Congress and the campaign.

Jackson said there also is danger of a flu epidemic sweeping the campsite at Lincoln Memorial.

Campaign leaders issued a call for thousands of boots and raincoats for the campaign demonstrators. It has rained heavily for 24 hours and more rain is predicted today and Saturday.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Jackson also said there is a need for more temporary accommodations outside the camp area to house inhabitants until conditions improve.

Jackson described the conditions as "rather deplorable." The mud is four to five inches thick, he said.

The planned evacuation will not interrupt the campaign's efforts to convince Congress and the federal government that more help is needed for the poor, Jackson said.

"We will evacuate as many as possible today, particularly mothers with small children," he said, "and once we've done that we plan to send some welfare mothers back to the Capitol and have a prayer vigil at the Department of Agriculture."

The 12 adults and six juveniles arersted Thursday for singing and kneeling outside a House office building—banned as unlawful assembly on Capitol Hill — were released without bond in the custody of a campaign official.

REQUIRED

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and leader of the Poor People's Campaign, said no SCLC official was with the group but that this will be required in the future.

"We are not quite ready to up the movement to mass arrests," one of Abernathy's lieutenants, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, told newsmen.

Jackson, "city manager" of the poor people's shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial, hustled to Capitol Hill after receiving word that arrests were being made.

STILL FACING OPPOSITION

Crime Bill Wins Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a crime-control bill that would undo controversial Supreme Court rulings that guarantee criminal suspects greater rights. The measure also would grant police new wiretapping and electronic "bugging" authority.

But while the Senate passed the bill Thursday night by a 72-4 vote, it was uncertain how much of it will become law.

OPPOSED

It still faces House consideration, and contains provisions strongly opposed by President Johnson and Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the influential House Judiciary Committee. Already, there is speculation Johnson would veto such a measure.

The prime concern of Johnson, Celler and other opponents involves the proposed controls on the Supreme Court. And some opponents say constitutional questions are raised by sections authorizing police wiretapping and electronic surveillance or "bugging" of suspects.

As passed by the Senate, the bill's chief provisions would:

—Establish a two-year program of $400 million in federal grants to improve the training and equipment of state and local police and for research to develop new crime fighting techniques.

The grants could help finance the war on organized crime and control the prevention of riots.

—Undo Supreme Court decisions restricting the use of confessions and police lineup identification in federal crime trials. The sole test of the admissibility of a confession would be whether it was given voluntarily.

—Authorize wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping by law enforcement officers, acting under court orders, in the investigation of specified crimes. This would be permitted by state and local police, as well as federal officers, in states that pass implementing legislation.

—Prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state and otherwise tighten federal firearms controls.

The House last year passed the "Safe Streets" part of the bill providing for federal grants to strengthen local law enforcement. The Senate grafted on all the other provisions.

Celler, in line to head the conference committee that will attempt to resolve differences in the Senate and House versions, already has said he would rather see the bill ditched than accept the section to undo Supreme Court decisions on the admissibility of confessions and lineup identifications.

TO VETO

Some senators reported they expect President Johnson to veto the bill unless these provisions are stricken.

But Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who steered the bill through the Senate, said he was determined to keep them.

Passage of the bill followed more than three weeks of debate.

$120 MILLION NEW TAXES ASKED

Budget Documents Filed

AUSTIN (AP) — Stand-pat state budgets that would still require more than $120 million in new taxes were recommended Thursday by Gov. John Connally and legislative fiscal experts.

Connally's men and Legislative Budget Board staff members were literally on one another's heels as they delivered the multi-billion budget documents to Capitol newsmen.

The budgets, and the taxes to balance them, will be considered by the legislature when it meets in special session June 4 to appropriate funds for the fiscal year starting Sept. 1.

MORE FRUGAL

Connally's budget would cost $2.6 billion from all sources, including federal aid and dedicated state taxes, and $465.2 million in general revenue.

A $2.5 billion budget recommended general appropriation bill, including $471 million in general revenue was issued by the usually more frugal budget board.

It would take $129.6 million in new taxes to balance the Budget Board's spending bill and $123.8 million to make Connally's conform with the state constitution's "pay as you go" requirement.

The comptroller's latest unofficial estimate of revenue during the coming fiscal year includes $341.4 million to the general fund. The fund, which gets most of the sales tax, is Texas government's main checking account and the one with the most flexibility for legislative decision-makers.

JOINT HEARINGS

Monday, the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees start hearings on agency budget requests. They may decide to conduct joint hearings. Chairmen and leading members of the two committees are on the Budget Board, along with Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Speaker Ben Barnes.

The Budget Board's recommendation tops current general revenue spending by $24.2 million, Connally's by $18 million. The present general appropriations act totals $2.4 billion, with $446.8 million from general revenue.

One big difference between Connally and the Budget Board is the board's proposed 3.4 per cent general pay raise for state employes under the position classification act. This would cost $4.2 million from general revenue and $13 million from all funds. Connally recommended no salary increases.

FACULTY PAY

The Budget Board also proposed a 5 per cent general increase in faculty salaries at state colleges and universities. Connally's budget included no faculty raises.

The tax bill will be so much larger than the proposed increases in general revenue spending because the legislature last year appropriated all of a multi-million-dollar surplus to balance the 1968 fiscal year budget.

Connally persuaded the legislature last year to depart from the traditional two-year budget and appropriate money for one year only, thereby avoiding a tax increase in 1967.

Here are budget highlights:

—The embattled Liquor Control Board asked $5.7 million, compared with $3.4 million currently appropriated, but the Budget Board recommended only $3.5 million and Connally $4.6 million.

—The Budget Board recommended $287,876 for riot control training and equipment for the National Guard, including 15 riot control companies, each with 171 men, "located strategically around the state."

—Two park items vetoed by Connally are in the board's budget — $5,000 for a feasibility study of putting a state park at Croton Breaks in West Texas and $500,000 for a state park at Mountain Creek Lake in west Dallas County.

—Connally recommended hiring of 215 more highway patrolmen; the budget board included funds to add only 58.

—The budget board recommended $171.2 million from general revenue for the 22 state colleges and universities, compared with $168.6 million in Connally's budget and $160.9 million currently appropriated.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 NT
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Six of ♡

Altho 11 high card points are sufficient to warrant a game undertaking when partner opens the bidding with one no trump, a suit contract may provide a safer haven when the responder holds an unbalanced hand.

North and South can make five diamonds on the above deal, losing one spade and one club. The proper response by North is three diamonds, a game force, which affords the partnership an opportunity to probe for the best contract.

West opened the six of hearts and declarer was obliged to play North's ace. East followed with the seven, assuming that the size of his spot would serve as a come-on to partner.

South could count five diamond tricks, two clubs, and one heart—for a total of eight. In order to develop a ninth, he would have to let the opposition in with the ace of spades, at which point they would presumably cash out their hearts. In order to apply pressure against the defenders, declarer decided to run the diamonds first.

East discarded two spades while West gave up two clubs and two spades. Declarer led a spade and West was in with the ace. A heart was returned and East cashed the king and queen, however, this was as far as the defense could go, for East was unable to reach his partner to cash out the rest of the suit. South regained the lead and claimed 10 tricks.

East could have defeated the contract by unblocking his heart honors at trick one. If he drops the queen under North's ace, West can put him in with the king subsequently and when the seven is returned—West is able to regain the lead with the jack of hearts and run the suit.

The winning play can be made by East with complete assurance. By applying the rule of 11 [subtracting the card led from the number 11], it is readily determined that there are five hearts outstanding that are higher than the six. East is looking at four of them between his own hand and the dummy. Declarer, therefore, has only one card that can top the six. It cannot be the jack, for that would give West a holding in hearts headed by the 10-9-8, from which he would surely have opened the ten.

West is, therefore, marked with the jack of hearts and East has nothing to lose by unblocking. The gain—in the present instance—is quite apparent.

Aid Training Idea Endorsed

The Chamber of Commerce public health and safety committee has endorsed a first aid training program for outlying communities with the cooperation of Bruce Frazier, manager of Bennett House.

Charles Weeg, committee chairman, told the group at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the chamber conference room that Frazier had offered to assist with the first aid program. Weeg said that there was a need for residents in communities such as Coahoma, Sand Springs and Forsan to be prepared to administer first aid in case of an accident or mishap when an ambulance would not be able to reach the scene immediately.

The long - range effort of the committee - sponsored "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Month" was discussed, and members were encouraged to create a "beautification concept" in the minds of area residents which could be tied in with the total community beautification program.

Columbia University Remains Tense, Quiet

NEW YORK (AP)—Columbia University was tense but quiet today after resuming evening classes without incident.

The evening session at the 214-year-old Ivy League school were cancelled Wednesday after riots in which about 170 persons were arrested and at least 68 persons were injured.

About 1,000 police took part in the mass arrests on campus early Wednesday, but only a handful, in their low library command post and at the two main campus gates, were visible early today.

Wednesday's police action marked the third time since the student protest began April 23 that patrolmen and detectives were called in by the school heads to eject demonstrators from university property.

The three police moves have resulted in about 1,000 arrests and 200 injuries. The first police assault came early April 30, when about 700 were arrested in the police evacuation of five campus buildings that had been taken over by student protesters. About 120 were arrested when police broke up a sit-in last weekend at a Columbia-owned tenement building near the campus. No injuries were reported in that incident.

Two Back Yarborough, 'Unfair' Letter Attacked

To the Editor:

I have been reading the columns of your newspaper concerning the governor's primary race; it appears that Preston Smith is trying to win on a negative campaign. He refuses to engage in a debate with Don Yarborough on the real issues facing Texans such as new sources of revenue, better regulation of insurance companies and their excessive charges due to state price fixing, better salaries for teachers, crime prevention, etc. All Smith says in his speeches is that he is against crime and evil and for everything good.

People should look at his voting record over the many years Texans have been paying his salary while in public office and especially while lieutenant governor and they will find him only lukewarm toward the teachers, no positive action for crime prevention and the fair-haired boy of the insurance lobby. The lieutenant governor appoints all committees in the Senate; Smith has always appointed people to committees that carried out his will to pass or kill a bill, so he must take full responsibility for the failure of the Texas Senate to act on needed legislation.

Smith recently announced he had just had a cordial meeting with Gov. Connally, and a few days later Gov. Connally announced the calling of a special session of the Legislature to raise new revenue and indicated he would ask for an increase in the sales tax and removal of the present exemptions on food and other items. This will place a greater burden of taxes on the poor and those least able to pay. It looks like Smith got Connally to wait until after the primary for the special session so Smith's anti-people record would not be exposed before the primary since he did support the original sales tax.

Yarborough is the only candidate who has been willing to discuss the issues of Texas and take a positive position and suggest a remedy. Smith is now attempting to engage Yarborough in mud-slinging. Look at the expenditures reported to the secretary of state; you see the five candidates of the establishment spending over $2 million and Yarborough only $162,854 which proves he is the candidate of the people, not the Big Money Crowd.

Texas needs a change from the old professional politicians controlling our state government. Texas lags behind too many states on too many items such as schools, per capita income, etc. We need non-professional politicians with fresh ideas and enough youth and vigor to carry them out without obligation to Big Money. Yarborough offers these qualities to Texas.

Sincerely yours,
STAN GRIFFIN

To the Editor:

While I am no great admirer of Preston Smith and would prefer to have Don Yarborough as governor, I felt that Mr. Brazel's letter to the editor (May 22) was unfair and needlessly inflammatory.

As an example, he rivals the far right in his insinuations about Mr. Smith. He refers to a "conspiracy," backed by mysterious "monied special interest groups" to destroy us through taxation. This is reminiscent of Mr. Welch's conviction that the Communists are in total control of the government.

He also refers to "mudslinging," but he chooses to ignore Yarborough's statements, of which many have been as personal as have Smith's. In addition, Mr. Brazel implies, intentionally or not, that John Connally deliberately planned for the special session to be held after the run-off.

Also, Mr. Brazel left this reader with the impression that labor unions do not support candidates. But it is hard to forget the great number of "AFL-CIO COPE for Johnson - Humphrey" buttons that were in circulation in 1964.

Finally, Mr. Brazel concludes with the unproven statement that Smith will not debate the real issues. All of these add up to a letter that contained the same types of half-truths of which he accuses Mr. Smith.

Simply, if the public thinks Smith is better qualified, they should vote for him, and deliberate attempts to becloud the campaign with emotion and insinuations such as those in Mr. Brazel's letter should be ignored.

Let the people vote against Smith because he lacks the personality that is a governor's only power, or because he will try to obstruct progress, but not because of the unproven and prejudiced charges that many of his detractors have been making.

Respectfully,
DAVID THOMAS

Claims Creative Person Reaps Greater Rewards

Fifty members of the Big Spring Personnel and Management Association heard a University of Texas professor urge them to "remove the obstacles to creative thinking and let your minds 'free-wheel.'"

Dr. William Schlender, chairman of the Department of Management at the University of Texas, told the organization that "the creative person takes greater risks and therefore reaps greater rewards . . . he is not so concerned with what everyone else thinks."

Installed as new president was Frank Caldwell, who succeeds Erven Fisher. Other new officers are Ed Fisher, vice president, replacing Jon Matthews, and T. K. Price, secretary - treasurer, who succeeds Aubrey Bryans.

The Personnel and Management Association was founded several years ago to promote better personnel and management practices.

Officials Probe Helicopter Crash

PARAMOUNT, Calif. (AP) — Federal officials pressed a search today in a pasture, in the Los Angeles County morgue and elsewhere for the cause of the worst helicopter crash in U.S. history.

All 23 persons aboard the single-rotor commuter Sikorsky S61 helicopter returning to Los Angeles International Airport from Disneyland were killed in the crash Wednesday evening. They included nine Ohioans on vacation and two prominent Californians.

Los Angeles Airways resumed its charter operations in the metropolitan area after a post crash suspension of flights.

The bodies of the 20 passengers and three crewmen were found in or near the charred wreckage in a pasture near a busy intersection of Paramount, halfway on the 32-mile hop from Disneyland to the airport.

The dead included Mayor John R. Trainor, 46, of Red Bluff, Calif.; Dr. Arden K. Ruddel, 43, professor of education at the University of California at Berkeley, and Morris Kromfeld, a New York investment banker from West Englewood, N.J.

Eight relatives of Mrs. Jack Garner of Columbus, Ohio, also were aboard. They were nearing the end of a vacation.

Puzzle of Thursday, May 23, Solved

Gold Prices Rise Slightly

LONDON (AP) — Gold prices rose slightly in Europe today but demand was modest. Dealers attributed the rise to some nervousness about currencies, especially the pound.

The price in London went up 35 cents to $41.75 an ounce. In Zurich the price opened unchanged after the Ascension Day holiday, then rose to the London level about an hour later.

London dealers said the rise was a normal market fluctuation and stressed that buying was at ordinary levels.

"But there was a bit of trouble on the selling side," one dealer said. "Some people wanted to cover themselves over the weekend, and whenever you get a little nervousness the sellers hold off."

There was no indication that today's rise would start a climb to another peak matching the one set at the outset of the French crisis a week ago.

The British pound was down to a new low in Britain and on the continent following a credit squeeze announced by the government Thursday night. Such measures usually are interpreted in money markets as a sign of weakness, and they turn buyers away from currency.

Nixon's Forces Profess Little Concern Over Bids

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, a proxy campaigning for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, moved into Oregon today, but the forces of Richard M. Nixon professed little concern.

Lindsay, who got financial assistance from Rockefeller in his campaign for mayor three years ago, has a day of appearances in Portland, Eugene and Corvallis to seek write-in votes for the absent governor in next Tuesday's GOP presidential primary.

NO DOUBT

But the battle was only of percentages, with promoters of Rockefeller and the organization of another absentee, California Gov. Ronald Reagan, acknowledging Nixon would win easily.

A Nixon lieutenant said the goal of the former vice president is to outpoll the combined total of Reagan and Rockefeller.

He said Nixon has been advised there is no doubt this majority can be attained. In past primaries, the Nixon showing has soared far above such announced goals, to 70 per cent in his last outing, the Nebraska primary.

Howell Appling Jr., chairman of the Oregon Nixon organization, said he does not think Rockefeller or Reagan will gain enough primary support to enhance his own presidential position.

Robert L. Ridgley, a lawyer and a leader of the Rockefeller effort, said that if the New York governor could capture 10 per cent of Tuesday's GOP vote, the showing would be a good one.

He got 5 per cent in Nebraska's presidential primary on May 14, while Reagan received 22 per cent.

CONTENDERS

Reagan is on the Oregon ballot, which lists all potential presidential contenders who do not disavow candidacy. The Californian left his name there on grounds that to remove it would be inconsistent with his position as a favorite-son candidate in his own state.

Reagan has not campaigned here but an Oregon campaign organization is working for his cause with a television barrage and with literature mailed to GOP voters.

Nixon is due in Portland tonight for a three-day campaign. He planned appearances near Portland, in Klamath Falls and on a statewide television hookup—all on a one-a-day basis.

Keep 'Your Cool' In Hot Weather Ahead

By MARY SUE MILLER

The skin is never free of perspiration. Hot weather and exercise increase the flow. In the process the body's temperature is regulated, among other things. And that's a comfort boon when the thermometer soars. But as everybody knows it's not exactly a boon to self-confidence.

There can be no doubt about the need for deoderants and anti-perspirants. What women question is the relative effectiveness of the many types on the market. Let's track down that information:

About Deodorants. The aim of all is to inhibit odor, not flow. The action is accomplished by antiseptics that retard bacterial growth induced by the action of surface bacteria on perspiration.

About Anti-Perspirants. These are formulated with varied kinds of aluminum salts, an ingredient that checks perspiration. They are designed for use solely in the underarm area. Because such products come under FDA supervision, active ingredients are included on labels. Not so, simple deodorants.

About Packaging. Underarm deodorants and anti-perspirants are similarly packaged: quick, convenient spray, roll-ons and sticks; liquids with applicators; emollient creams; disposable pads.

In addition, the overall protection of deodorant soaps and powders cannot be overestimated. The effect of both is long-lasting and sometimes accumulative.

YOUR GROOMING

Put aside your grooming doubts and worries! Send today for "Your Grooming — A to Z," a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and pedicure, use deodorants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal posers. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Melting Ice Cubes Will Water Plants

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever tried wafering a hanging basket that is in the house

I put several ice cubes periodically on top of the soil. This soaks into the planter slowly and I never have the drips on the floor.

This is also fine for all the other house plants. . . . La-Verne Waner.

• • •

Dear Folks:

When you want a few slices of onion but don't need a whole one; DON'T peel it before you slice it. Leave that peel or brown skin on the onion and go ahead and slice it.

HELOISE

Then . . .

Just take your fingernail or your fingers and lift off that OUTSIDE peel from those slices!

Twice as quick.

Also I've learned that you do not have that onion odor left on your hands! The dry peel protects your hands from odor.

If you only use half of the onion and still have the peel on the outside, all you have to do is put it on a saucer or a piece of plastic and lay it with the cut side down in your refrigerator.

God put that old dried skin on the outside of the onion for a reason, didn't he

I think I finally figured out what it's for! . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I was looking for something recently to wind thread on to carry on a trip. I came across a popsicle stick, which turned out to be an excellent solution.

I wound a yard or so of several different colors of thread on it. Then put all the loose ends on one side, a piece of clear tape over them and stuck a needle through the tape. I was ready for an emergency sew-up!

This could be easily carried in a purse, too, as it lies flat and doesn't take up a lot of space. . . . R. H.

• • •

For those who don't have popsicle sticks — try an empty pill bottle. Needles, pins, etc., can go inside. . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Here is a hint which helps my arthritic friend.

She takes food from the refrigerator and clears the table without walking around too much by loading the seat of a chair and then pushing it to wherever she wants to go in the kitchen. However, it must be a chair that slides easily.

By doing this, she saves lots of steps and her hands don't hurt from carrying the things. . . . Social Worker

• • •

Bless your good friend and she's lucky to have a pal like you. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

At last I've found a good use for those small plastic tabs that hold some bread bags together! They make fine wedges to insert in a window that rattles. . . . M. T.

Thanks for writing, hon. Has anyone else come up with some good uses for these little gadgets

If so, do let us hear from you. Just write to Heloise in care of The Herald. . . . Love, Heloise.

Dear Heloise:

I have found a good way to restring pearls or other beads which have small holes.

It is hard to get a strong, heavy thread into a small needle that will go through the hole in the bead. So I use the needle threader that comes with some of the packages of needles.

I just put the wire threader through the bead, insert the thread and pull it back through. Sure works. . . . Mrs. Eugene Bledsoe

Taxes-Spending Package Faces First Test Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of President Johnson's top economic advisers now appear willing to accept $6 billion in spending cuts as the price for higher taxes if that's the best bargain they can strike.

Of the top four, only Budget Bureau Director Charles S. Zwick is still firmly committed to no more than $4 billion in spending cuts—a position taken by the President.

The first test vote on the compromise package worked out by Senate-House negotiators will come next week.

Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., plans to offer a resolution Wednesday instructing House negotiators to resume meeting with their Senate colleagues and to insist on spending cuts of $4 billion.

The negotiators have already worked up a formula calling for $6 billion in cuts—which Johnson contends is too much—and the 10 per cent income tax surcharge requested by the President.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee said Thursday he expects the House to pass the compromise as it now stands "when all the fanfare is over." He thinks Burke's motion will fail.

COMPROMISE

Whatever the outcome, some key voices in the administration are now ready to accept Mills' plan just to get the surcharge.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler has already endorsed the compromise package.

And only this week, James S. Duesenberry, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said although $6 billion in spending cuts goes too far the over-all package would benefit the nation.

The other two members of the council reportedly feel much the same way.

Members of the Federal Reserve Board, the other major economic force in government, have persistently urged higher taxes and spending cuts.

Sen. Dirksen Loses Another Subversives Board Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has lost another round in his dogged bid to keep the moribund Subversive Activities Control Board alive beyond this year.

A desk-thumping, shouting speech in which Dirksen suggested he had backing from President Johnson and railed at Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark failed to rally enough Senate support for the Illinois Republican's cause.

TURNED DOWN

Dirksen had proposed a crime control bill amendment that would allow the attorneys-general of each of the 50 states to prosecute alleged subversive organizations before the board.

But amid opponents' complaints that the precedent-shattering approach went too far, the Senate turned him down, 49 to 27.

The board was the subject of widespread publicity last year with the disclosure it had not handled any business for nearly two years.

Its five members each draw $26,000 a year.

The agency was spotlighted in mid-1967 when it was learned that the latest appointee was a 29-year-old accountant, Simon F. McHugh Jr., who had married one of President Johnson's secretaries.

INACTIVE

That development prompted inquiries into the board's operations. When its inactive status was disclosed, cries arose in Congress for its abolition.

But Dirksen moved to preserve it. He finally won approval of a measure providing that it continue in operation provided at least one case was brought before it by next Dec. 31.

Otherwise, it would go out of business next June 30.

The agency was set up 17 years ago during the anti-Communist activity sparked by the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis.

Its original authority was to identify subversives and subversive organizations and compel them to register.

But Supreme Court decisions have stricken most of the basic authority of the agency.

Dirksen charged that Clark was "subverting and distorting" the intent of Congress by not bringing any cases before the SACB.

Cops Check Clock To Catch Robber

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Samuel Linder, owner of a pharmacy in St. Louis' West End, has asked police to keep an eye on the store at about 1:30 p.m. each day. That's the time a young robber has held up Linder three times within 10 days. Linder said the youth took $120 at knifepoint in the latest holdup Saturday.

Dear Abby

They Need A Frank Talk

DEAR ABBY: Last Saturday night my husband and I went to the movies. Upon arriving home earlier than expected, we found our 15-year-old daughter on the couch with her boyfriend. They were all wrapped up in each other in a most disgusting position.

We ordered the boy out of the house and forbade our daughter ever to see him again. She flew into an angry rage and screamed that when two people are "in love" anything they did was "beautiful" She threatened to leave home if we don't let her see her boyfriend again.

What's a mother to do?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Try to be more understanding. Your daughter obviously doesn't know the difference between "love" and a healthy, normal, adolescent physical attraction. If you do, try to explain it to her. (If you don't, ask her to write to me and I'll try.)

I think you made a big mistake in ordering her boyfriend out of the house and forbidding your daughter ever to see him again. You should have had a frank talk with both of them about the dangers of playing with fire. The boy should have been made to feel welcome in your home, but only on your terms (You make the "rules" as to how often he may come, how late he may stay, etc.) If you drive them to meeting on the sneak elsewhere you will create worse problems.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I was born and raised right here in this small town, so I know nearly everyone and they know me. My problem: I get an invitation to every graduation, wedding, baby shower, tea, and luncheon in town. Just name the occasion that calls for a gift, and I get a notice.

Abby, I am not cheap, and I don't mind sending gifts to my friends. But how about all these acquaintances?

Right now I am swamped with "invitations." I have a good name in town and don't want to ruin it. But I refuse to be a sucker to people I hardly know. What is your advice?

SWAMPED

DEAR SWAMPED: Every announcement and invitation is not necessarily a big broad hint for a gift. The best rule to follow is: If you would derive real pleasure out of sending a gift, send one. If you don't feel "close" enough to send a gift, send a card. If you feel like a "sucker," forget it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: How well I understand that poor newlywed girl who wants some freedom and time to adjust before being "rushed" into pregnancy.

She is absolutely right. We waited seven years before having a baby. We traveled, got solvent, entertained, and got to know and understand each other. Then we were relaxed and ready to care for a child.

Furthermore, we waited until our first child was five years old before we had another baby. They are four and nine now, and they really "like" each other. They do many things together, but she has her friends and he has his. They do not compete as brothers and sisters who are "nearly the same age" do. Pushing one child aside for another is unfair. I cannot say enough for planned parenthood.

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day to apply yourself to the business at hand and to be very materially minded as to just what you are going to do about money and possessions in the future. This is a day and evening when social affairs and even romance can be hard to get off the ground so arrange for such matters at a better time.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It is wiser to handle all practical affairs, even the personal, instead of going out for pleasure, since the latter could prove to be very disappointing. Show others that you are a very sensible person. Be efficient.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Doing whatever will make you stronger and more charming is best now instead of doing whatever is of an artistic or cultural nature. Take a good look at yourself. See where there are flaws to be gotten rid of.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A little while spent concentrating can reveal how to acquire more poise and be more practical, since the planets are favorable. Assist that person who is in great need. Be less self-centered.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A day for more serious persons and being with good friends instead of going out for fun and frolic. You can handle problematical affairs nicely, provided you are realistic and not visionary. Be happy.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good Saturday to talk over with a higher-up certain matters that are uppermost in your mind. Get right advice, ideas. Stop acting like the conquering Leo and be more concerned with the humanities.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Avoid the frivolous now and take advantage of those opportunities that present themselves to advance more quickly in your career. A letter you receive could annoy personally, but be a chance to advance practically. Be wise.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Some vital new arranging is necessary with partners now, so be precise and meticulous and all goes fine. Get rid of whatever is of little use now. Show loved one that you are practical and have good common sense.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be certain you do not get so bogged down with details that you and your associates fail to keep focused on the big issues at hand. Show all that you are operating on the highest ethical level. Be clever.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Face all of your responsibilities very intelligently and efficiently today and show others you are not a sluggard. Get ahead. Take time to have more personal comfort around you, also. Be good to yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Once you have hobbies perfected, get out with right persons and strut your stuff, as it were. However, do not spend too much money. If you can, try to earn some via such avenues instead.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take the time to make needed repairs around the house and doing whatever else makes kin happy. Think over what will improve security now. Stop dreaming and get right to work on what will give you added abundance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Ideal day and p.m. to correspond with others and be sure you know just how close you are to reaching mutual goals. See to it that your car indeed is in good running order, or there can be an accident. Plan some trip today.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be one of those young people who, early in life, has to be taught to be practical and then the chart becomes a successful one. Otherwise the habit of procrastination will be formed and little accomplished. The importance of first studying every aspect, detail should be stressed in early life, then reach right decisions.

Supe In Brooklyn Issues Ultimatum

NEW YORK (AP) — Schools Supt. Bernard Donovan has ordered officials of a Brooklyn experimental school district to allow all teachers to return to their classrooms today or face charges of insubordination.

Donovan issued the ultimatum Thursday in a message to Rhody McCoy, unit administrator of the Ocean Hill-Brownsville District, and through him to the principals of the district's eight schools.

McCoy, who has headed the Negro demonstration district since it was formed last summer, asserted later that the schools had been open all week and that "no one has stopped any teacher from coming in."

Albert Shanker, president of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, said that before he asked the teachers to return he wanted "assurances from McCoy that the superintendent's orders will be carried out."

'SABOTAGE'

The crisis in the district began May 9 when the local governing board tried to dismiss 13 teachers and 6 supervisors it accused in general terms of trying to "sabotage" the experiment in decentralization.

McCoy and the governing board, however, never submitted formal charges against the 19 educators as required by the city system's tenure laws. The citywide Board of Education branded the "dismissals" illegal.

Of the district's 556 teachers, 350 again stayed out of classrooms Thursday in support of the 19. Only 3,031 of the 8,800 enrolled pupils in the district showed up at school.

In Albany, attempts to pass a compromise school decentralization plan for New York City stalled. An aide to Speaker Anthony Travia said the delay may have been due to pressure from Shanker.

Vo-Tec Funds Hope Climbs

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, is more optimistic about increased help from the legislature for vocational-technical education as a result of the House committee hearing in Lamesa Wednesday.

Among those to testify before the committee headed by Rep. George Henson of Mineola, Dr. Hunt said that he felt that industry was not geared for educational programs as were secondary schools and junior colleges. He suggested $10 million as a figure necessary to help meet the present programs over the state. More will be needed for expansion, he said. Currently the appropriation is $2.9 million. He praised the committee for coming to the heart of West Texas for one of its hearings.

Among those attending from here were Carroll Davidson, Chamber of Commerce manager; Bob Dyer, from the Chamber's education committee; Dr. Marshall Box, dean of the HCJC technical - vocational division; Noel Read, representing the Big Spring schools.

A 1954 model car which was parked at Fourth and Gregg caught fire at 5:45 p.m. Firemen said the cause was unknown.

Waco Detective Testifies Body Of Young Coed Slashed

DALLAS (AP)—A Waco police detective testified today the body of Baylor coed Jill Brown bore deep slashes on the throat and chest.

Lt. Everett January said the chest slash was 11 inches long and four inches wide and "you could see three or four inches down into the wound."

January was the state's fourth witness as testimony began in the murder trial of Jackie Grider, 25, Waco bakery worker accused of Miss Brown's death.

January and fellow detective Dan Winkler said the body was found in cedar brushes near Lake Waco last Dec. 11. She was slain three days earlier.

The body "was unclothed and there was a great deal of blood" on the face and chest, January said.

TRACED SACK

The officer said he found a brown paper sack near the body and that it contained the woman's purse. He said he traced the sack to a Waco pawn shop and the owner reported it had been checked out to Grider.

The prosecution offered seven photographs into evidence, including five of the body.

Policeman John W. Crocker said he found Miss Brown's car at the Lake Air Shopping Center in Waco.

"I shined my flashlight through the window of the car and saw a dress and sweater folded up on the back seat," Crocker said. "I went through the clothes and then noticed other clothes on the floorboards."

DAD ALARMED

The state's first witness was Glenn Brown of Crawford, the victim's father.

"I became alarmed when she didnt show up after six, and I went to look for her," Brown said. He said he had had lunch with his daughter earlier in the day at the shopping center.

Grider did not look at Brown during the testimony.

Dist. Judge John Mead planned a session Saturday and anticipated some night sessions.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Alexander said he had no idea how long it would take the state to present its case.

Jury selection ended Thursday after 72 veniremen had been questioned. Latest jurors chosen were A. G. Ward, 34, an Irving shipping clerk; W. H. Goldsmith, 63 a Dallas Power and Light Co. employe; Raymond Coleman, 60, a West Chemical Supplies Co. employe; and Billy Veasey, 42, a driver for a freight line.

Most veniremen were excused for opposition to the death penalty. Others were rejected because they said they already had a fixed opinion regarding Grider's guilt or innocence.

Others were excused because they disagreed with the law concerning insanity.

Horsemen Show Date

The first in a series of three approved halter and performance shows will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. by the Howard County Youth Horsemen Club at the club arena, Garden City Highway.

Ribbons and rosettes will be awarded at the show, and points will be accumulated toward high point annual awards. The show is open to members of the Howard County Youth Horsemen Club only; however, anyone is invited to participate in the activities by joining the club, and the public is invited to the show, according to Kenneth Williams, secretary.

Each family is asked to bring food for the concession stand.

Junior show committee chairman is Perry Gamble and senior show committee chairman is Glenn Click.

Ector County Voting Tuesday

Several Hundred Flee Ohio Floods

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Flooding creeks and rivers washed scores of southern Ohio communities in a muddy bath today, forcing evacuation of several hundred persons from their homes.

There were no serious injuries as emergency workers moved quickly to take families from homes and pluck a few stranded persons from roofs and car tops.

Many highways and secondary roads were blocked. The high water was responsible for one train derailment.

The most serious flooding was at Circleville, Chillicothe, Logan and sections of Scioto, Clinton, Fayette and Athens counties.

About 80 families were moved from their homes at Circleville into two schools.

"If it weren't for the dam," said Circleville Police Sgt. Roderick List, "We'd be floating down the river."

Washington Court House 38 miles southwest of Columbus reported 4.73 inches of rain in the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. (EDT). Chillicothe was in its eighth consecutive day of rain and reported more than three inches in the 24 hours.

Dozens of communities closed schools.

The train derailment came when a 77-car Baltimore & Ohio freight, bound from Newark, Ohio, to Cincinnat, hit a washed out culvert in Fayette County. Seventeen cars derailed, some piled three high, but no one was injured. Most of the cars were empty.

At least 60 families were evacuated at Logan where Police Chief Roy Kelch said other families were being evacuated at Rock Bridge.

Drizzly, Noticeably Cooler In Sections Of West Texas

By The Associated Press

It was drizzly and noticeably cooler over much of the Panhandle-Plains sector in West Texas this morning.

Other sections stayed rather warm and skies were clear except for clouds spreading into the south central and southeast parts of the state.

Fog dropped visibility to one mile at Amarillo near daylight and the murky mist extended southward past Plainview. There also was fog around Lufkin in East Texas.

COOL FRONT

All of the moisture developed behind a cool front slowed to a crawl toward the south and east along a line from Wichita Falls past Lubbock to Tucumcari, N.M.

Back of this same front violent thunderstorms and a tornado or two cropped up in parts of Oklahoma during the night.

Forecasts held out a possibility of thundershowers tonight and Saturday across the northern half of Texas and a few scattered showers in the south.

Turbulence threatened to build up Thursday afternoon and the Weather Bureau kept six counties — Clay, Collin, Cooke, Fannin, Grayson and Montague — under a tornado watch for about eight hours. It was cancelled before midnight without word of any storm damage.

NATION'S HIGH

Temperatures climbed to summery marks Thursday afternoon in most sections. Presidio in the Big Bend of West Texas posted the nation's high of 103 degrees.

At Childress, behind the new cool front, the mercury rose to only 82 compared to a high of 101 degrees the day before. Dalhart was the coolest point with a maximum of 80.

Readings elsewhere reached 96 at San Angelo and Wink, 95 at Cotulla and Wichita Falls, 94 at Laredo, 93 at Abilene, 92 at Lubbock, Midland and Mineral Wells, 91 at Alpine and 90 at Dallas, Del Rio and McAllen.

Before dawn today temperatures ranged from 47 degrees at Dalhart and Perryton in the Panhandle up to 76 at Beaumont, Port Arthur, Galveston and Del Rio.

Those seeking master's degrees will receive $2,200 for the academic year, $450 for the summer, plus tuition and the same allowance for dependents as post-master's fellowships.

Smith Nixes Income Tax, Absentee Voting Spirals

By The Associated Press

Law enforcement received further attention Thursday in the campaign utterances of Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and lawyer Don Yarborough in their struggle over the Democratic nomination for governor.

There were unofficial reports, meanwhile, of increased absentee voting in the June 1 run-off compared to the number marking such ballots in advance of the May 4 first primary election. There were indications this was especially true in half a dozen of Texas' most populous counties.

AUTO RATES

Stumping efforts of the two rivals were marked also by a pledge from Smith that "there will be no income tax in our state as long as I am governor" and a vow by Yarborough to see that auto insurance rates are lowered.

Smith, swinging across East Texas and into Dallas, said he would stand ready to use full powers as the state executive to prevent or halt rioting, calling on specially trained state patrolmen if local authorities required help.

"I will do whatever is necessary to stop it before it gets out of hand," Smith said if trouble flares. ". . . I would not hesitate to call in the National Guard if it would save destruction of property and prevent loss of lives."

Yarborough, emphasizing his views on the subject at Wichita Falls and Amarillo in particular, asserted, "My opponent has done nothing about law enforcement. He talks a lot about it, but mere talk doesn't cut the mustard in a society as restless as ours."

SCHOOL FUNDS

Establishment of an academy to school peace officers in the best methods of coping with crime would be a part of a special plan which Yarborough said he would unveil within two days after taking office.

Smith's campaign day started in Tyler and took him also to Kilgore, Marshall, Texarkana and Paris before he conferred with supporters at Dallas in the evening.

In addition to voicing firm opposition to a state income tax, the lieutenant governor said, "I want to urge the passage of the constitutional amendment this fall that will phase out the state ad valorem taxes through 1978, except for the 10-cents-per-$100 levy for higher education.

"The ad valorem tax should be left in the hands of local governments where it can be more fairly and effectively administered. Because of the importance of higher education funds, I favor keeping that portion of the ad valorem taxes for colleges and university buildings until another source is assured."

CITES PROFITS

Yarborough, in the course of stops also at Texarkana, Greenville and Sherman, told backers that a growing number of business men support his candidacy. He scheduled visits today in Texas City, Galveston and Victoria.

In renewing a call for reduced auto insurance charges, Yarborough declared, "It is more than obvious to everyone but my opponent that something must be done to bring auto insurance rates down. Instead, my opponent pooh-poohs the matter and says it is all the fault of the drivers of Texas.

Yarborough said he proposed to act at once as governor toward reducing such rates "that the State Insurance Board has permitted by letting the companies use a dual bookkeeping system — that is, showing investment profits to their stockholders which are not even considered when insurance rates are set."

Ocean Harvesting Of Food Expected

COLLEGE STATION, Tex (AP)—Ocean harvesting of 400 million tons of usable animal protein annually is a "distinct possibility" believes Dr. John C. Calhoun of Texas A&M University. He is president of the Gulf Universities Research Association. "The first is simply as fish food," Calhoun said. "Another means is food in non-fish forms."

A third use is material for agricultural production such as feeding fish meal to chickens, he noted.

Nixon Moves Into Oregon, Rocky Lashes Out At RFK

By The Associated Press

Sticking to his easy-does-it strategy, Richard M. Nixon moves into Oregon today to do some unhurried campaigning for next Tuesday's Republican presidential primary.

The state is already alive with candidates and their outriders, both Democratic and Republican.

Tuesday's Democratic primary will be the third test between Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and Robert F. Kennedy, but as usual there will be quirks in the makeup of the ballot.

ATTACKS HHH

One of the candidates listed on the Democratic side, for instance, is President Johnson, an avowed noncandidate. Backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who became a contender for the nomination too late to file for the Oregon race, are spending heavily to spread the word that votes for Johnson will be interpreted by political observers as support for Humphrey.

Kennedy is taking the threat seriously. As he stumps the state he fires salvo after salvo at Humphrey, while his attacks on McCarthy have call but ceased.

On the Republican side, it will be the first time Nixon and California Gov. Ronald Reagan have been on the same ballot. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York hovers in the background as a write-in hopeful.

Nixon is regarded as almost certain to draw the most votes but he wants to keep either of his opponents from making too good a showing, even in a losing cause. Still fresh in the former vice president's mind is the way Reagan drew 22 per cent of the vote in the Nebraska primary, all on write-ins.

BACK AND FORTH

Rockefeller lashed out at Kennedy today, criticizing him for sliding back and forth from liberal to conservative positions.

"The junior senator from New York, campaigning hard for the Democratic nomination, seems able to change his rhetoric as fast as te wants to change his residence," Rockefeller said.

He made the charge in a speech prepared for delivery at Atlanta's Emory University while on a two-day swing through the South.

The Southern trip kept Rockefeller far from Oregon but he was represented there by Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City. Repaying past favors, Lindsay planned appearances today in Portland, Eugene and Corvallis to boost the governor's write-in campaign.

McCarthy rubbed shoulders with Hollywood's beautiful people Thursday, attending a fund-raising party at the home of actor Paul Newman, one of his supporters.

In appearances earlier in the day at three California campuses, he restated his determination not to yield to either the Kennedy or Humphrey forces.

"I intend to go all the way," he said. "I don't have it in mind to surrender. I haven't made any deals."

Two Texans Die In Viet Combat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department released Thursday the names of 68 servicemen killed in combat in Vietnam.

The list included two Texans killed in action:

Army Spec. 4 George O. Spangler, husband of Mrs. Paula J. Spangler, 1602 McFarland St., Baytown.

Marine Lance Cpl. David E. Padilla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Esequiel Padilla, 1308 Cooley Drive, Borger.

Gorman Receives College Degree

SHERMAN — Michael Shiloh Gorman was one of 160 to receive bachelor of arts degrees here at Austin College Monday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gorman of 803 W. 16th Street, Big Spring.

Allan Shivers, former Texas governor, was commencement speaker, and Dr. Harry M. Moffett, minister of the Preston Hollow Presbyterian Church in Dallas, delivered the commencement sermon.

Fair Practices

Rough-and-tumble politics is deeply in the American (certainly including Texan) tradition. It is no game for the thin-skinned or weak-hearted. Up to a point, that is healthy enough—testing the fighting spirit of candidates and enlisting the interest of voters—and most people discount familiar excesses in campaign rhetoric.

But there is a point beyond which hard-fought campaigning becomes dirty politics that soils the democratic process and distorts the functioning of free elections. Cynical rumor-mongering, malicious whispering campaigns, cruel character assassination, knowingly false accusations, these and other tactics must be discredited and discouraged if the American system of self-government is to operate satisfactorily.

To mark and guard the point where a hard-fought campaign becomes dirty politics has for some years been the self-assigned task of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization headed by Charles P. Taft. Its main effort has been to draw up a campaign code of ethics, to get presidential, congressional and gubernatorial candidates to sign a pledge of compliance, and to make fact-finding and public-informing investigations of alleged violations. It would be naive to suggest that the FCPC has succeeded in eradicating dirty politics, but it has been a tempering and constructive force for decent campaigning.

This year the general public should welcome the additional effort to be made in cooperation with the American Arbitration Association, with Ford Foundation aid. This will be to provide impartial arbitration boards to make expeditious judgments on an unfair campaign practices charge where both parties voluntarily agree to accept the findings of a public hearing and an arbitration decision. An unscrupulous campaigner may refuse to submit to arbitration, but if he does, the public can weigh that refusal in judging his fitness for office. This should be a substantial added pressure for fair campaigning, and the country needs as much pressure on that point as can be generated.

So There!

Rep. Don Fuqua, Florida Democrat, is a patient and long-suffering man. But his patience has finally been exhausted.

Fuqua has been taken aback on a number of occasions when members of Congress introduced bills to create wild-river, scenic-river and wilderness areas out of a part of his congressional district. What bothered him was that no one ever consulted him about setting aside portions of his district in northern Florida.

The breaking point came when Rep. James V. Smith, a Republican from Chickasha, Okla., presented another wilderness bill.

"Recently a measure was presented by a gentleman from Oklahoma that would make a part of my district a wilderness area," Fuqua said, giving expression to his loss of patience in a brief talk on the House floor. "Again, I was not consulted or informed. So, today I am joining the game in presenting a measure which would make the Sixth Congressional District of Oklahoma a wilderness area." The Sixth District includes 23 counties with a population of 405,003.

No Danger Of Epidemics

Several years ago, when I was a working newspaperman — not a Paste-Pot-Man — covering the El Paso County courthouse, there was a sign posted in the archaic elevator reading "Courtesy is Contagious."

Some smart aleck had taken his pen in hand and added one of the great truths of our time:

"There ain't no danger of no epidemic around here."

A NEWSBOY and I were comparing notes Thursday. He rides a bicycle in his work.

I recently completed a rather lengthy period without a car, and did a lot of walking.

Both of us had alarming narrow escapes because motorists apparently think anyone afoot or on a bicycle is a low form of life unworthy of consideration.

MAYBE IT'S the population explosion, maybe it's the pace of life, maybe it's a sign of the time, but can any of you say that courtesy is anywhere near what it used to be?

It is contagious — after people get over the idea that you've gone daft—so let's all try it for a week.

If you join this great experiment, I'd like to know how it turns out.

Bill Won't Change Much

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that the truth in lending bill has been passed by Congress, meaning that interest charges must be stated clearly, business will in all probability adjust readily to the new law and continue to thrive.

One never would have thought so a couple of years ago. The invective was torrid, the denunciations were loudly and angrily shouted, the forecasts were ominous.

BUSINESS JUST couldn't live with the bill, Congress was told. But business will live with it, just as it has lived with other "consumerism" measures for 60 years, beginning with the Pure Food and Drug Act.

Major changes in American business are resulting from recent consumer legislation. But the laws are having much broader effects also, as noted in the markedly changed attitude of some businesses.

Automobile manufacturers now are exceeding legal safety requirements in some instances, stock exchanges are keeping the public much better informed about securities, advertisers are far more aware of restraint.

THE THEME of self-regulation as the way to avoid government regulation is now well known to every industry. The Outdoor Power Equipment Institute, for example, publicizes the hazards of power mowers, although the mention of hazards by an industry once was considered taboo.

Various institutes and industrial associations now have special departments to serve the needs of consumers, among them the National Association of Manufacturers and the Association of Better Business Bureaus.

NAM has set up a consumer information service to help educate the public in the proper selection of purchases. The BBB association has worked up a program on better shopping procedures.

THE NATION'S credit bureaus, whose credit investigations often determine whether you can buy on time, are now setting up guidelines for the protection of consumer privacy in reporting records. The threat of legislation is goading them.

Wallace Ideology In The South

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The turn to the right is abundantly evident here. In a runoff election for a Senate seat Jim Allen and Rep. Armistead Selden Jr. each tries to out-Wallace Wallace. They denounce the octopus of the federal government, liberals, pseudo - intellectuals, Bobby Kennedy, the giveaway in foreign aid and about every program of the Johnson administration.

BY THE KIND of tragic irony that marks so much of the history of the South the Senate seat is being vacated by the retirement of Lister Hill. During his nearly 45 years in Congress Hill labored heroically for what was assumed to be the New South. It was the South that had left behind the rancors of Reconstruction and the politics of revenge.

The New Deal was for this South a magnificent opportunity to begin to redress the balance between the industrial North and the cotton and a mule - raw - material economy of the Old South. Central to that opportunity was the Tennessee Valley Authority. Hill was from the start one of TVA's progenitors and champions.

MORE THAN perhaps any single legislator he helped to bring into being the National Institutes of Health. The institutes' contribution to medical research is simply incalculable. Thanks to the Hill-Burton bill hospitals were subsidized on a federal-local basis so that while there is still an acute shortage of hospital beds it is not as critical as it would have been without a creative piece of legislation.

NOT ONLY in TVA and a host of other domestic programs but in the huge space agency operation at Huntsville the federal government has invested heavily in this state. The Wallaceites take it as no more than their just due while condemning the ogre of Washington, a bureaucratic monster determined to destroy Alabama's sacred folkways.

In Florida Leroy Collins, a former governor who gave the state one of the most enlightened administrations, is in a runoff for the governorship with Attorney General Earl Faircloth, who is taking a hard Wallace line.

THE OUTLOOK in neighboring Georgia is rather different. Gov. Lester Maddox, the apostle of the axe handle for solving race relations who recently said he would rather have Fidel Castro for president than Bobby Kennedy, has been squelched by the Democratic organization. An estimated 45 per cent Negro-liberal vote, most of it in Atlanta, tips the scales. A sign of the change is that Charles Weltner, who refused as a matter of conscience to take a loyalty oath supporting Maddox, is running for Congress again, with good prospects both in the September primary and the November election.

IN THE Wallace mentality cause-and-effect has no place. Disturbers of the peace are disturbers of the pace. The Poor People's Marchers are an affront, in this curious illogic, to those in the South who have tried to help the Negro.

A Curb On The Courts

WASHINGTON — The United States Senate has been considering a bill which would remove some of the technicalities in law - enforcement procedures that have permitted murderers and other criminals to escape punishment. Senator John L. McClellan of Arkansas, one of the veteran members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has issued a memorandum explaining the proposal that would permit a trial judge to decide whether a confession has been made voluntarily. It would leave it to the jury to determine how much weight shall be given to a confession.

THIS ATTEMPT to correct Supreme Court decisions has been denounced by other senators as an assault on the independence of the judiciary and on the Constitution itself.

But many of the critics either have not read the Constitution or have forgotten what it says about the power of Congress to limit the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. Article III of the Constitution reads as follows:

"IN ALL CASES affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state shall be party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned, the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make."

Congress has rarely utilized this power, but the crime crisis in America has focused attention on the part the courts have unwittingly played in giving freedom to criminals. Sen. McClellan in his latest memorandum, criticizes particularly three Supreme Court rulings — two of which were rendered by a five-to-four decision — and declares:

"THESE DECISIONS have set free many dangerous criminals and are daily preventing the conviction of others who are guilty. How can the freeing of known, admitted, and confessed murderers, robbers, and rapists by the courts, not on the basis of innocence, but rather on the pretext of some alleged, minor, or dubious technicality be justified? . . .

"Gangsters, racketeers, and habitual criminals are increasingly defying the law and flaunting duly constituted authority and getting away with it. As a consequence, public confidence in the ability of the courts to administer justice is being destroyed."

THE MOST MOMENTOUS opinion by the Supreme Court was handed down on June 13, 1966, in what is known as the "Miranda" decision. In that case, by a five - to - four ruling, the Court said that no confession, even if wholly voluntary in the traditional sense, could be admitted in evidence over the objection of a defendant in a state or federal proceeding unless the prosecution could show that certain warnings were given in advance. The prosecution also was required to prove that the suspect had voluntarily and "intelligently" waived his rights. In many instances, it was not possible to furnish such proof. This is why many senators are in agreement with Justice John M. Harlan, who, in a dissenting opinion, said:

"WE DO KNOW that some crimes cannot be solved without confessions, that ample expert testimony attests to their importance in crime control, and that the court is taking a real risk with society's welfare in imposing its new regime on the country. The social costs of crime are too great to call the new rules anything but a hazardous experimentation."

Thus many members of the Senate are reflecting the views expressed by the minority of the Supreme Court itself.

Fat Ladies Tip Better

NEW YORK (AP) —Jumping to conclusions:

More men than women today seem to want to learn how to cook well. The trouble with these kitchen cutups is that they think any dish can be made better by tossing in another spice, throwing in another herb. For the enduring welfare of one of our great natural resources, the American stomach, all male amateur chefs should be forbidden by law to use garlic in the preparation of any meal until they have been cooking for at least three years.

SHOW ME a human being who plants roses but tears up dandelions and I'll show you a person with a mixed-up sense of values. He is one who prefers gilt to gold, romance to honest realism. A rose offers scent and beauty but threatens you with thorns. A dandelion, however, is an example of beauty in serviceable harness. Every part of this lovely and democratic plant —root, leaf and flower—has a useful purpose. From it man can make food, medicines and wine.

A wife can always tell how many cocktail parties her husband has been to by the number of toothpicks she finds in the right-hand pocket of his coat when she sends it to the cleaner. The ordinary man can't think of any other place to dispose of them except his pocket. The usual ratio: five toothpicks for every party.

GREATER LOVE hath no woman than the woman who puts up with a husband who buys her a second-hand fur jacket from a thrift shop on her 25th wedding anniversary.

The fellow we feel sorriest for this time of year is the suburbanite who has to fight both dandruff and crabgrass.

We don't need economists to inform us that we are living in a period of inflation. Just check how many guys in your office are now carrying sandwiches to work in their briefcases—guys who bought their lunch only a year ago.

The odds are 3 to 2 that the next girl who asks you to help get a clinker out of her eye will have light rather than dark eyes. Girls with dark eyes get fewer foreign objects in their glimmers because they usually have longer, more protective lashes.

SOMETHING has died out of a marriage when — imitating their children — the wife starts calling her husband "father," and he begins addressing her as "mother." Both have unconsciously let go of their youth.

One of the differences between men and women is the reason why they put their hands on their hips. A man does this when he is overlooking a piece of work he is proud of. But when a woman claps her knuckles to her hips, elbows akimbo—look out: It's a sure sign she is angry.

Any cab driver will tell you that fat ladies tip better than skinny ones—not because they are more generous but because they are more grateful.

Nothing on earth makes a woman feel more important than having a baby—or a man than turning in a fire alarm.

A President Must Be Objective

WASHINGTON — Arthur Krock, whose sapient column, "In the Nation," ran in the N. Y. Times and elsewhere from 1932-1966, is soon to produce his autobiography and is equally concerned with America's future and past. He recently gave me a verbal opinion on the coming election, and I offer it as guidance to our countrymen.

KROCK WAS SAYING that a choice of fitness could be made between candidates Nixon (R) and Humphrey (D) on the basis of their separate reactions to the student riot at Columbia University. Richard Nixon called it "a national disgrace," and Hubert Humphrey said "it makes me sick at heart."

Dick Nixon reaction was objective and pro patria. He saw that violence, revolt and vandalism on the Columbia campus were a lot more than springtime high jinks by a band of adolescents, more even than unseemly protests against administrative decisions which could have been disputed in decency and order.

NIXON IN HIS brief phrase—"a national disgrace" — was expressing a judgment in depth and an opinion of broad, encompassing scope. He found it disgraceful to the country that such an event should take place and should be allowed to take place. Whether it distressed and disgusted him personally had little pertinence to other Americans. The Columbia student disorder, and by implication any similar disorder, was a disreputable way for Americans to behave. Such was Nixon's meaning.

HUBERT HUMPHREY'S reaction was nothing like that. The vice president uttered a response that was subjective and lugubrious. This is not to say that Humphrey's comment was not spoken like a rightfully angered man, in bold disregard for risking marginal votes, and in strong consonance with what is probably the majority opinion. But the vice president's comment was narrow, confined and egocentric.

WERE IT NOT that Humphrey is running as his party's successor to Lyndon Johnson, the edge of the matter would not be so sharply honed. The country has seldom seen the likes of Lyndon Johnson when it comes to subjectivity. He has told chatterbox visitors that he, LBJ, refused to be the first President ever to lose a war. He has said he would not cut and run from Vietnam. His decision in 1965 to reinforce the Kennedy commitment there could be the right move but taken for the wrong reason. His decisions to be remembered in history for the size of his programs in Civil Rights, education and anti - poverty warfare were less clearly the right thing to do. The wrongness of his reasoning in domestic leadership is lucid and distressing.

THE PRESIDENT has consistently read from the tablets of his heart and his heart's desires, and taken this scripture to be the will and the destiny of the nation. The divine right or rightness of kings does not translate well into the vulgate of democracy. A subjective president, trying to build historic monuments to himself, is not on the people's wave-length except briefly and accidentally.

Arthur Krock would have said it differently, but there it is. Nixon's and Humphrey's comments on an identical subject make a telling contrast, certainly between the men, probably between their parties.

Billy Graham

What did Jesus mean when He said, "Love the Lord thy God with all thy soul, mind and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself"? In other statements the Bible indicates that we are to hate ourselves. Now, are we to love ourselves, or hate ourselves? E.V.

When one is out of tune with one's self, one is out of tune with God and others. The thing that we must remember is that we have two "selves," as Christians. We have the old nature which is self-centered, and the new nature which is God-centered. These two are in conflict with each other. That is what the apostle Paul meant when he said, "When I would do good evil is present." It is the natural, or carnal, self that we must deny, and it is the spiritual, God-centered self that we are to love and nourish. Only when we have a right relationship to God can we have a right relationship to ourselves and to others.

It is said that St. Francis had a motto on the wall of his room, "God first, others second, and self last." But, the fact remains that the self has its place, and it should. After all, you were created in the image of God, and you are of great value. Self denigration or self-hatred can be as wrong as inordinate self-love, when we hate ourselves so much that we fail to seek self-fulfillment in Christ. This is the norm, the goal of living: to be all that God wants us to be. And it is the only pathway to inner peace.

Gets Differing Blood Pressure Readings

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read your article about how blood pressure is taken, since I had purchased a sphygmomanometer several months before.

I am puzzled by the different readings I get. The first one I get may be about 155 over 85, then when I pump up the cuff again it may be 140-75, and a third time 120-70.

Is this normal or am I doing something wrong? I notice when my doctor takes my blood pressure, he just reads it once and that is it.

None of the doctors I have consulted will give me a direct answer as to what is normal. I am taking medication for my blood pressure.—J.C.C.

You might better have invested your money in some new garden tools or taken your wife to a show. Trying to take one's own blood pressure (or pulse, for that matter) is not very accurate.

There is a psychological reaction which can cause a false reading. Some doctors have patients' blood pressure read at home, to see if there is any difference between such a reading and one taken in the office, and also to gain further insight into the effects of medication—but a member of the family should take the reading, not the patient himself.

The range you note, of 155 down to 120, may indicate true readings, the decrease being due to easing of nervous factors after the first reading has been taken. Such variation in readings is not unusual when a physician takes a series of readings, as is sometimes done.

Normal blood pressure? All of the readings you cited could be normal. If it is difficult for a patient to take his own blood pressure and get an accurate result, it is even more difficult for him to interpret the reading. I do not, indeed, know of any simple way to make an accurate estimation of the mere figures. There are too many related factors which have to be taken into consideration, so my advice to you is to let the doctor decide what they mean.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: Will you please discuss prostate gland surgery as to symptoms, seriousness, and procedure. Do you think it advisable for a 72-year-old man, having angina, to be operated on—A.G.B.

There are several different kinds of surgical techniques in use for different cases, so you'd best read my booklet, "The Pesky Prostate," for that information. Send 25 cents in coin and a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for a copy.

The age of 72 does not by any means prevent prostate surgery if it is needed. Whether the angina would have a bearing would very much depend on how serious the angina is, and for that answer there is no substitute for following your doctor's opinion.

Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, requesting the booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Miss Johansen Wins

Betty Johansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Johansen, was named Thursday as the winner of the outstanding Bible Class student award by the Big Spring Pastors' Association.

Presentation of the award, a pictorial Bible dictionary, was made by Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Robert T. Deming, wing chaplain at Webb AFB.

Betty Johansen and Chaplain Robert T. Deming

SURPRISE

The award came as quite a surprise to Miss Johansen and her mother, who happens to be the Bible class teacher, Chaplain Deming said. The selection was determined by a committee of the pastors' association, he pointed out.

Miss Johansen is a senior and hopes to attend Austin College at Sherman after her graduation. She has been a member of the band and was vice president of the Bible Club for two semesters. She has one of the higher averages in the senior class.

She is a member of the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship at the First Presbyterian Church, where the family attends service, and is organist at Wesley Methodist Church. She has two brothers, John, a freshman at Howard County Junior College, and Edward, a sophomore at Big Spring High School.

RUNNER-UP

Runner-up for the award was Linda Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lee, 1409 Aylford. Miss Lee is active in National Honor Society, Latin Club and the Bible Club and has played volleyball for the high school. Both she and Miss Johansen attended the summer honors institute last year.

Berea Sets Youth Revival For Sunday

Song leader will be Kenneth Chapman, Big Spring.

Services will be held daily at 7:30 p.m., and on Sundays, at the regular 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. worship hours. The revival will run through June 2.

Rev. Bill O'Dell, pastor said a nursery will be provided, and the public is invited.

Baccalaureate To Be Sunday

The Big Spring High School baccalaureate will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium, with this year's motto, "Life—A Matter of Choice," setting the theme.

The sermon will be given by Rev. Leo K. Gee, pastor of the First Methodist Church. The a cappella choir, under the direction of Kenny Sheppard, will sing "Once to Every Man and Nation."

Playing the processional will be Betty Johansen, and Ann Garrett will play the recessional. Linda Lee will give the Scripture lesson. Richard Macklin will word the invocation, and the benediction will be given by Dean Gilstrap.

Midland Man To Be Speaker

One of the featured speakers for the West Texas Regional Convention of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship, to be held in June in Midland, will be Dawson (Ace) McCoy, well known Midland businessman.

The convention is to open at 7 a.m. Thursday, June 13, at the Hotel Scharbauer and will end Sunday, June 16, at 2 p.m. with a fellowship meeting.

WALLY BULLINGTON

JOHN B. WHITE

Special Speakers Slated For Sunday Observance

Two guest speakers will teach special classes at the 9 a.m. Bible School hour at the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ Sunday in observance of the annual attendance drive.

They are Wally Bullington, head football coach at Abilene Christian College, and John B. White, superintendent of the Children's Home in Lubbock.

Bullington will speak to the combined high school and college age students on "Winning the Game of Life." He graduated from Athens High School in 1949, after being named to the all-state team for two years, all-southern for one year, and lettering in football, baseball and basketball. While a student at ACC, he made All-American, All-Texas conference and earned three football letters.

He was assistant coach for seven years at Abilene High School, later becoming head coach, where he remained for six years. He has served one year as director of the Texas High School Coaches Association.

White will speak to the combined adult classes in the church auditorium. His subject will be "Churches Doing Benevolent Work in the Twentieth Century." He serves as an elder in the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Perry B. Cotham, minister, invites the public to attend the special services.

Synod Takes New Stand On Drinking

FORT WORTH (AP)— Some 600 Presbyterian ministers and laymen have approved a modified version of a report designed to alter the church's inflexible stand on drinking.

Delegates to the Texas Presbyterian Synod voted 213-187 Wednesday night to modify the controversial report, which now reads:

"The Christian must make a personal decision as to whether he will use alcoholic beverages.

"In making such a decision, however, he should consider the following:

"1. The decision to drink incurs the danger of becoming an alcoholic.

"2. The decision to drink might encourage weaker persons to follow that example.

"3. A responsible decision to drink does not emerge from rebellion against the authority of parents, church or state law.

"4. A responsible decision to drink does not evolve from unquestioning conformity to social practices or advertising images."

The last-ditch effort to modify the report was successful in deleting statements that alcoholic beverages might be considered by some as "a pleasure of life given by God in his creation."

The report was aimed essentially at deleting the words "Thou shalt not" from the denomination's previously inflexible stand on the drinking question.

The synod also approved a report supporting legalized abortion when the physical or mental health of the mother is endangered, when there is risk that the child will be born with mental or physical defects or when the pregnancy results from rape or incest.

JOB'S PATIENT SUFFERING FOUND IN SUNDAY'S LESSON

It is a mistake for humans to try to decide what purpose is behind each example of suffering they see. While man can read of Job's trials and know there was a clear reason for the suffering, he cannot do that in every case. But man can know there are several reasons for suffering.

Writing from jail, Paul said, "Unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him but also to suffer for his sake" (Phil. 1:29). No person accepted Christ then without the knowledge that commitment to Him might mean his life. When His disciples confessed Him as Lord and Savior, they were saying they were ready to suffer for Him.

Some suffering is clearly the punishment of God upon particular sins. The suffering of Job himself was not a punishment for his personal sins but a testing.

Suffering came upon the world as a curse when man rebelled against God, but if man will accept whatever suffering comes his way by trusting the Lord for strength, he will be a better person.

So Paul concluded, "Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ will rest upon me." (II Corinthians 12:7-9.)

In The Bullring

Several members of the Big Spring High School football team, prepping for Saturday night's spring game, engage in a sort of rooster fight in the above picture. Wide-open fights loom in the bidding for several positions on the club, so the three weeks of workouts have been spirited. Tomorrow's contest, sponsored by the Quarterback Club, gets under way at 8 p.m. in the Junior High Stadium.

Spring Tilt Saturday Winds Up Grid Toil

The results of three weeks of spring labor will be revealed Saturday night in the Junior High Stadium here when the annual Big Spring High School spring football game will be unreeled. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

The contest is being staged under the auspices of the Quarterback Club, which will exact a $1 entry fee from grid buffs attending and use the money to finance fall activities.

The stadium seats only 600, although there were reports more pews would be borrowed and moved in. The contest had to be moved from Memorial Stadium because the turf there has been torn up and replanted.

The coaches have divided the team as evenly as possible. Quarterbacking the White squad will be two juniors, Gary Hughes and Gary Hinds.

Masterminding the Black contingent will be Johnny Cliff Patton, due to be the regular at the position next fall, and Lynn Cauley.

The White team will have such tried and true ball players as fullback Jimmy Wilson, center Roy Anderson, guard Gary Chrane, tackle Bill Henry and ends Lewis Switzer and Jimmy Farris.

The Black unit will go with boys like halfbacks Roy Lee Warren, Robert Domino and Johnny Rutherford, fullback Rocky Wooley, center Emmitt Miller, guards Danny Pulattie and Johnny Hedges, tackles Steve Russell and Billy Bob Spier and end Luven Flores.

Snake Tucker, destined to be one of Patton's favorite pass receivers next fall, will be held out of the contest due to an injured back. He suffered it in practice last week. The coaches are well aware of what he can do.

Boys destined to make up next fall's junior varsity unit will scrimmage along about 5:30.

The coaches have expressed themselves as being very pleased with the manner in which the boys have come on.

MEETING SET

Former lettermen at Big Spring High School are being asked to gather in the parking lot near the entrance to the Junior High School stadium at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for a short meeting prior to the annual Spring Game.

Local residents will greet out-of-town members of the Ex-Lettermen's Association at that time and lay plans for future activities.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It's understandable why club owners in the National Football League are balking over demands being made by the players' union when you consider the fact that over half of the teams are operating out of the red only because of the financial support offered by television.

The players have been demanding minimum wages of $15,000 a year, $500-a-game exhibition money and a $5 million annual contribution to the pension fund. The players are looking at things as they are now.

The owners look at things as they may be and that is not too promising. Any action they take now also is committing the AFL teams, when the merger becomes final in 1970.

The world is becoming pretty well saturated with televised football. For that reason, the price might come down. CBS makes no secret of the fact that it lost about $5 million last year on NFL games. If that trend continues, the next television contract may not be as juicy.

History has shown that television uses up a sport pretty fast and pro football may be no exception. Any money available after the merger will have to be cut up among 28 rather than 16 teams.

If the television well dries up just a little, a number of franchises are going to have rugged going.

Once the NFL-AFL merger is completed, a new television contract probably will be negotiated on a one-league basis, much as commissioner Pete Rozelle would like to see both NBC and CBS handling the games. One alignment with a network would mean the competitive factor for air rights would be eliminated.

Will CBS reappraise its position, in view of the losses last year? You can almost count on it. Will the money they offer for air rights be cut? It would certainly be unwise to bet against such a thing happening. The NFL and its players might soon be facing the awful facts of life.

Stormy Edwards, the one-time Big Spring fullback, sends word that his annual Cree Meadows Invitational Golf tournament at Ruidoso, N.M., will be held Aug. 5-6-7-8. Qualifying is scheduled the first day.

Winners will be determined in match play in all flights. All flights below the fifth flight will be nine-hole matches except the finals, which will be 18.

The field will be limited to the first 144 players to enter, according to Edwards. Entry fee is $25. A calcutta dinner is scheduled Monday night, Aug. 5.

The tournament usually attracts a sizable delegation from here.

Manager Alvin Dark of the Cleveland Indians, a pillar in his church back in Louisiana, recently charged the one-time Longhorn league umpire, Bill Valentine, over a decision and became so upset that Valentine asked him to take a rest in the clubhouse the rest of the evening.

Valentine was asked following the game what Dark had said to him, to which he replied:

"He charged onto the field and I was shocked at the language he used. He's supposed to be an elder in his church. He suggested I was unclean and there had not been a marriage in my family for three generations. He questioned my moral fiber. He said my supper had not fully digested."

Bucs Record Ninth Win

In the American Little League, the difference between the pace-setting Pirates and the rest of the circuit is even more pronounced following Thursday night's game.

The front-running Pirates remained undefeated after nine starts by measuring the Jets, 15-2. The Jets are now 4-4.

Ronald McKee helped pitcher Earl Reynolds by clubbing a home run and two other hits. McKee also had three hits.

The Jets wound up with only five safeties and no one on the team had more than one blow.

A nine-run inning settled the issue in the Pirates' favor for once and for all.

The Tigers are now 6-1 in the race while the Hawks are 4-3.

Reports Of Drug Rife In Bay St.

BOSTON (AP) — The medication, fit for a human but not for a horse, is manufactured elsewhere, but Massachusetts is becoming known as the home of the bute.

The casual race fan knew little about phenylbutazone, a pain-relieving medication, until Dancer's Image, owned by Boston sportsman Peter Fuller, was disqualified in the Kentucky Derby.

The trade name of Butazolidin helped the fan little. All he knew was that the first New England-owned winner of the Derby had been disqualified and placed last.

Reports, which filtered in later, said that such outstanding athletes as Sandy Koufax and Whitey Ford took bute to prolong their baseball careers.

Dancer's Image finished first in the Kentucky Derby, but was disqualified after traces of the medication were found in a routine urinalysis.

Now bute is plaguing the sports at Massachusetts tracks.

Traces of the medication were reported found in winners of three races at two tracks last Saturday.

Stewards at Berkshire Downs in western Massachusetts suspended two trainers whose horses won last Saturday.

Berkshire Downs, in Hancock, reported "a drug of the nature of Butazolidin" was found in Nashua Breeze and We Salute. Trainer Fred Elliott of Lakeville, Mass., was suspended Friday as a result of the finding after Nashua Breeze's triumph.

Ambitious Giants Climb Into Lead

By The Associated Press

There's nothing like a nice little winning string to give a baseball team a lift in the standings. Except, perhaps, a nice little losing streak by the guys directly in front of you.

San Francisco's ambitious Giants have won eight of their last 11 games and St. Louis' cooperative Cardinals have dropped eight of their last 11. Result: A five-game pickup for the Giants and a change at the top of the National League race.

San Francisco captured first place Thursday with a 5-4 victory over Atlanta while St. Louis was losing 3-2 in 11 innings to Los Angeles in the only NL games played. New York at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at Chicago were rained out.

In the American League, Cleveland battered California 9-2 and Chicago's game at Washington was rained out.

The other teams were not scheduled.

The Giants beat the Braves for the third straight time when Marty Martinez, a substitute catcher, let one of Cecil Upshaw's pitches get away with Ron Hunt on third base in the ninth inning.

Hunt had opened the ninth with a single and reached third on a sacrifice and a ground out before scoring on the passed ball.

The Braves had rallied to tie the game in the eighth inning on Joe Torre's fourth hit of the game which drove in Hank Aaron. Aaron had tripled, scoring Tito Francona.

The Cardinals lost their seventh game in the last eight when Bob Bailey's 11th-inning single scored Willie Davis with the Dodgers' winning run.

Davis doubled opening the 11th and moved to third on a sacrifice. After Ron Fairly was intentionally walked, Tom Haller fouled out before Bailey singled.

Manager Walt Alston tempted fate in the bottom of the 11th when, with two out and the tying run on second, he ordered Orlando Cepeda intentionally walked, putting the winning run on base. The move paid off when reliever John Purdin retired Phil Gaghano on a fly ball, ending the game.

Jose Cardenal smacked two singles, a double and homer leading a 15-hit Cleveland attack that carried the Indians past California.

Max Alvis, Tommy Harper and Jose Vidal also homered for the Indians, who moved within 1½ games of first-place Detroit.

Sonny Siebert scattered seven hits and won his sixth game. He also had a two-run single that got the Indians started in the second inning.

Skateland Tips Hospital Club For First Victory

Most of the fireworks occurred in the first inning of a City Softball league game played here Thursday night between VA Hospital and Skateland. Skateland counted a rally by the VA team with a three-run outburst to win, 4-1.

Gene Simpkins pitched the victory, surrendering only four hits to the hospital club. He fanned four and yielded one walk.

Skateland, evening its record at 1-1, made the most of six hits. Don Ritchey and Beauford Hodnett each had two blows for the winners.

The "big game" comes up Monday night in the circuit when its two undefeated clubs, Morton's Foods and Austin Enco, square off at 7:15 p.m.

Last night's second game between Austin's Enco and Webb AFB was postponed.

The Braves enjoyed a four-run second inning on their way to a 5-3 National Little League victory over the Cardinals here Thursday night.

The Braves are now 4-4 in the standings while the Red Birds are 4-5.

Ken Froman fashioned the mound win, although he was tagged for seven hits.

The Braves managed only two hits off Bruce Abbe but made them count.

PHILLIP STOVALL

Phillip Stovall Named Stanton Cage Mentor

STANTON — Phillip Stovall, a native of Howard County, has been named head basketball coach at Stanton High School.

The one-time Knott athlete played basketball at Howard County JC and Ranger College. He was a coach at Wellman for three years and will take his degree from Angelo State College in August.

Stovall also served in the U.S. Army for four years.

Stovall succeeds Vaughn Thomas as head coach mentor of the Buffaloes and will assist with football duties.

After one year on the job, Thomas decided to concentrate on teaching duties.

Stovall was also a well-known softball player in Big Spring several years ago.

Redman New Club Prexy

Larry Redman has been named president of the Mesquite Gun Club, succeeding Jimmy Felts.

The election took place at a business meeting conducted Monday night in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Company building, attended by about 15 people.

Felts will serve as club reporter for the ensuing year. Other officers named included David Barr, vice president; and Lynn Dale Stanley, secretary - treasurer.

The next shoot planned by the club will take place Sunday, May 26, in heavy varmint and sporter competition.

Each competitor will fire 10 shots at targets 100 yards removed.

Following the business session last night, two films dealing with African safaris were screened. Phil French presented that phase of the program.

PGA Is Icy In Attitude

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— Sharron Moran, a blue-eyed blonde with all the physical attributes of a New York model, is a prime weapon in the simmering feud between the Ladies PGA and the men professionals over the golf dollar.

The 25-year-old Miss Moran is among an increasing number of attractive, sharp-dressing young women on the tour who can give the galleries excellent golf.

"The galleries following me keep getting larger and larger and I must say most of them are men," said the deeply tanned Miss Moran.

Dressed in a striking orange sweater and charcoal-black slacks, the Batavia, Ill., native said the men pros are being less than gentlemenly in their attitude toward the LPGA.

"We should have some mixed tournaments," she said. "They (the PGA) aren't helping us as much as they could."

Miss Moran was in the strong field that teed off Friday in the 13th Dallas Civitan at Glen Lakes Country Club.

She discussed the high standards set by the LPGA for its members.

"We must present a good image," she said. "The girls stock and even have a belt with their Bermuda shorts. If sombody gets shabby, we let them know it."

She then chuckles and said "a day like today with the wind whipping around sure makes it rough on those hairdos."

"We are just trying to present an attractive package to the general public and let them choose who they want to see," she said.

A few admirers have apparently liked what they have seen. She has been presented several marriage proposals.

"Oh, I haven't had too many proposals," she said. "Some fellas write after they see my pictures in magazines and say they would like to meet me sometime.

"I'm not interested in marriage right now. It's not a good combination to be married and be on the tour. One of the two has to suffer."

Then Miss Moran strolled to the putting green. More than one head turned when she walked past the golf shop.

* * *

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The oldest member of the Ladies' PGA tour was in the field of 61 that teed off today in the $18,500 Dallas Civitan Open and Patty Berg already knew the score.

"Mickey Wright is the player we have to beat," said the 50-year-old Miss Berg, the first president and a charter member of the LPGA.

The likeable Miss Berg, who seems to always play well over Glen Lakes lush 6,177 yards, said Miss Wright was at the top of her game.

Goldsmith Leader

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Paul Goldsmith led the second day of qualifying for Sunday's World 600 stock car race with a four-lap average of 155.655 miles per hour in an untried Dodge Coronet.

Runnels Athletes Honored

The boys pictured here were among the athletes honored at Runnels Junior High earlier this week in an assembly ceremony. Front row, from the left, they are Mike Gamboa and Ricky Winters, doubles champions in badminton; Robert Garza and Ismael Hernandez, members of the winning doubles team in table tennis. Back row, Mike McCormick and Robert Phillips, second in badminton doubles play, and Rodney Imel and Mike Randle, second in table tennis doubles. Coach Ted Hicks supervised the program.

Memphis Leader Is Far From Pleased

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The fans who saw B. R. McLendon sink a 20-foot eagle putt to share the first-round lead in the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament figured he was happy as a lark. But his wife, Joan, knew better.

"He didn't say anything to me, but when I saw him go to the practice tee after coming off the 18th, I knew he wasn't happy with his woods and long irons," the pretty blonde said.

McLendon, 22, who won the 1965-66-67 Southeastern Conference golf titles, came into the Memphis Open Thursday virtually unknown to the gallery.

Jim Lunn, 23, of Sacramento, Calif., shared the first-round lead with McLendon as both came in with five-under-par 65s Thursday. Lunn finished the round three hours ahead of McLendon, a late starter.

McLendon's wife is touring with him, but she didn't see his 67.

"I figure this is a day of work," he said. "A doctor doesn't take his wife to the office. But she hasn't seen guys like Arnold Palmer play. I'd like for her to come out and see him."

Only one stroke off the lead going into the second round were R. H. Sikes, Dick Mayer, Jack McGowan and Larry Mowry.

Palmer, golf's all-time leading money winner, shot a 69 in what he called an uninspiring round for Arny's Army to watch. Jack Nicklaus, playing with him, had a 71.

TITLE AT STAKE

Dick Tiger Set To Face Foster

NEW YORK (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Dick Tiger spots towering Bob Foster age, height, weight and reach but not in heart tonight when they clash in a 15-round title fight at Madison Square Garden.

Foster's physical advantages and his punching power have combined to make the 29-year-old challenger from Washington, a 12-5 favorite over the 38-year-old defender from the Republic of Biafra. The odds could go down by fight time.

The bout is scheduled for 9:30 p.m., EDT. It will be telecast in some areas of the nation by Sports Network. New York will be blacked out of the telecast.

The Garden hopes for a crowd of 15,000 and a gate of $150,000 which would get both Foster and the promotion off the financial hook. Foster has taken 60 per cent of the net gate and television and guaranteed Tiger $100,000 out of his percentage. He may wind up fighting for nothing.

"It doesn't matter," said Foster. "The main thing is the title. It's make or break. If I blow this, I may never get another chance. I don't intend to blow it. He'll go in four or five rounds, or the first time I get him."

"The first four rounds will be the most dangerous," said Chickie Ferrara, Tiger's trainer. "If Dick gets by that he will come on. He has the biggest heart of any fighter I ever saw. He will chop Foster down with his body punches."

LEGAL NOTICE

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS, PROVIDING THAT THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS, BE AMENDED BY ADDING A PORTION COMPOSED OF SEVERAL SECTIONS, WHICH PORTION SHALL BE ARTICLE III OF CHAPTER 19 PROVIDING FOR REGULATION OF THE USE OF SHADOW RETREAT PAVILION LOCATED IN THE CITY PARK; PROVIDING FOR RESERVATION PRIVILEGES FOR INDIVIDUALS OR GROUPS; SETTING FEES FOR SUCH RESERVATION PRIVILEGES; PROVIDING FOR THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF SUCH PAVILION BY THE RESERVING PERSON OR GROUP; PROHIBITING THE INTERFERENCE OF SUCH USE BY OTHER PERSONS; PROVIDING FOR A PENALTY; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY:

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS:

THAT the Code of Ordinance of the City of Big Spring, Texas, be amended by adding a portion to Chapter 19 to be numbered ARTICLE III, Sections 19-22, et seq. to read as follows:

ARTICLE III

Section 19-22. Any individual or group may, upon advance payment of a reservation fee in the amount of Twelve Dollars ($12.00) to the reservation office in the City Hall, have exclusive use of Shadow Retreat Pavilion and its immediate environs and appurtenant facilities, for the purpose of picnics, outdoor preparation and serving of food and other lawful functions for which such pavilion should ordinarily be used during the time specified in the reservation receipt given by the City of Big Spring through its reservation office aforesaid.

Section 19-23. All reservations will be granted on a first-come, first-serve basis; however, no reservation will be granted for a time more than one year subsequent to the making of the request.

Section 19-24. It shall be unlawful for any occupant of Shadow Retreat Pavilion to fail to yield and vacate said pavilion, its immediate environs and appurtenant facilities, upon request of a person or group having a bona fide reservation provided for in Section 19-22 above; and no person may interfere by creating unusual noise or obnoxious behavior with the peaceable enjoyment of the pavilion facilities by the person or group having reserved the same.

Section 19-25. Persons or groups occupying and using the pavilion facilities shall observe all rules of behavior as any person using City Park facilities and shall not drive or park vehicles on any area except the roadways and parking spaces established for those purposes.

Section 19-26. Any person violating any section of this Article shall be punished by a fine of not less than Ten Dollars ($10.00) nor more than Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00).

THE FACT THAT the recently completed pavilion is at this time of year in great demand by individuals and groups for picnic and outing purposes and that an orderly system needs to be established for the reservation and use of said pavilion constitutes an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Charter Rule requiring that ordinances be read at three separate meetings of the City Commission be suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

PASSED AND APPROVED at a regular meeting of the City Commission of the City of Big Spring, Texas, on this the 14th day of May, 1968, with all members present voting "aye" for the passage of same.

CHARLES H. SMITH, City Secretary
J. ARNOLD MARSHALL, Mayor

If you're counting on a new VW you can stop at $1797.00

In fact, when it comes to money, a VW will save you a lot of counting after you buy it, too.

On gas bills, (it gets about 27 mpg.)

On tires. (They average 40,000 miles.)

It hardly ever needs oil between changes.

And since the engine is air-cooled, you never have to dish out to anti-freeze.

So if you don't like to count, buy a Volkswagen, it figures.

The Unbeatables prove:

If you can afford a Ford Pontiac or Chevy you can afford a Chrysler.

Compare the almost shamefully elegant Chrysler!

Chrysler Newport now priced about $3.78 a month more than Ford LTD or Pontiac Catalina*

Chrysler Newport now priced about $3.78 a month more than a Ford LTD* (which is still a Ford, a high price, low price car). Chrysler Newport now priced about $3.78 a month more than a Pontiac Catalina* (which is still a Pontiac, a light weight, heavy car.) Chrysler Newport now priced about $2.29 a month more than a Chevy Caprice* (which is still a Chevy, a high-price, low-price car.) That little more now moves you up into a big, full-size, almost shamefully elegant Chrysler—and that's an unbeatable deal. Afford a Chrysler? The way we're dealing, can you afford to pass it up?

*Based on comparison of manufacturer's suggested retail prices for Chrysler Newport, Ford LTD, Pontiac Catalina and Chevrolet Caprice 2-dr. hardtops, comparably equipped. With 3-speed automatic transmission, power brakes, power steering, radio, white side-wall tires, wheel covers. Comparisons are based on one-third down, 36 monthly payments excluding other optional equipment, destination charges, state and local taxes, interest and licensing fees.

Tricolor Flag Symbolizing Red Action

PARIS (AP) — The French Tricolor flies just below the red flag of communism on the flagpole above the Renault auto plant at Boulogne-Billancourt. The togetherness of the flags symbolizes the Communist party's cautious policy in France's grave crisis.

The massive, nationwide strike was begun spontaneously by rank-and-file workers demanding an end to a regime they say is based on privilege and capitalism. But cautious union leaders have turned the goals to bread-and-butter gains —higher pay, shorter hours and the like.

The leader in this move toward moderation has been the CGT, the General Confederation of Workers. It is the trade union arm of the French Communist party and the nation's biggest and most powerful union.

CGT Secretary - General Georges Seguy has sent down the word: "No adventures." At the Renault works, where the union represents 87 per cent of the 32,000 workers and the strikers have occupied the plant, CGT officials are doing their best to carry out this order in a sort of perpetual town meeting on the grim square in front of the factory's dirty gray facade.

Knots of curiosity seekers, workers, and students bent on revolution gather there arguing, seeking converts, explaining their viewpoints.

A typical exchange between a Sorbonne sociology student and a CGT official with red bandana around his neck went like this:

"We must go all the way," said the student.

"Can't be done," the Communist replied.

"Why not?"

"Because the working class would have to pay afterward, that's why. You and your revolution. You are playing the game of the regime. You make everyone afraid with your slogans."

The CGT's goals at Renault are a 1,000-franc-$200-minimum monthly salary, 48 hours pay for a 40-hour week and retirement at 60 instead of 65. The average wage for an assembly line worker is about 800 francs a month for a 45-hour week.

'Peyton Place' Plots To Bloom This Summer

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On "Peyton Place," they are scattering the seed for plots to bloom over the next few months.

Dorothy Malone and Tim O'Connor, who have been with the serial since its beginning, are packing for departure from both "Peyton Place" and ABC —at least until they are summoned back by the script writers.

Even that solid, substantial character Dr. Rossi is showing signs of disturbance. He was gnawing a finger in anguish Thursday night—finger gnawing is a sure sign of trouble—and maybe he'll leave too. Anyway, there are rumors there will be a new doctor in town soon.

SECOND TIME

Some new characters have started to turn up, and Barbara Rush, playing a newly divorced woman, was around this week. She has a bitter and unhappy teenager and they obviously don't understand each other's problems.

But at least there are fresh shows on "Peyton Place." Things are a lot duller elsewhere.

Jane Morgan used to sing a sad song about love being sweeter the second time around, but about the only thing that happens the second time around on television is that mannerism, techniques and poses reveal themselves with X-ray clarity.

Dean Martin, for example, has been the center of a popular informal variety show which, on first sight, has been particularly charming because of the star's unorthodox and highly relaxed manner. But Martin, on reruns, loses a bit of his spontaneous charm, and all the drunk jokes and boozy innuendos lose their shock value.

Thursday night's rerun on NBC presented the star at his boyish best, making eyes at the studio audience and acting like Huck Finn while working through a 1920s number with the very professional Florence Henderson. It was not as good as it seemed the first time viewed.

IRRITATING

Earlier, also on NBC, there was a rerun of the "Ironside" episode that months ago was a novel story about a Negro football idol with a no-good brother who got everybody into trouble.

The episode gave Don Mitchell, one of the supporting actors in the police action show, a chance to move into the center of the stage. Mitchell plays Mark Sanger, a rebellious, angry young Negro in the process of being rehabilitated by serving as the legs of the crippled hero of the series. One of the hallmarks of his role is his anger and cynical reaction to most situations.

The episode, seen for a second time, was still an interesting, off-beat story, but the steady barrage of hostile and rude remarks by Mark was artificial and irritating.

Well, it's only a few months until September. And all those political shows and conventions and beauty contests are coming up, too.

Changes Talked At Boston Meet

Three representatives from the Big Spring State Hospital recently returned from Boston, Mass., where they attended the 124th annual session of the American Psychiatric Association.

They were Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent; Dr. Frankie Williams, clinical director; and Chaplain Lee Butler.

The theme of the meeting centered about society's tremendous changes and why institutions cannot keep up with the changes, especially institutions such as the church, the university and colleges.

Elected Delegate At THA Meeting

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, attended the Texas Hospital Association meeting held in Dallas Sunday through Wednesday, where he was elected a delegate to the House of Delegates.

The House of Delegates handles all business of the body of professional people who make up the THA. Harrison's specific assignment was to a committee which examines the treasury report.

'Fisharama' Set

The "fisharama," planned by Pack 137 of Washington Elementary School, will be held the last Saturday in June, according to Julian Fisher, cubmaster.

Fisher reminded Cubs to bring their own equipment.
