State Sues Milk Companies

Producers Are Defendants In Monopoly Suit

Companies Agreed To Hike Price Of Milk At Houston

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 22—A court restraining order was issued today by Judge Charles O. Betts in 98th district court against the South Texas Milk Producers association and six Houston milk plants and distributors charged with anti-trust law violations.

Attorney General Price Daniel brought suit alleging that the South Texas association, operating in 50 Southeast Texas counties, has created a monopoly with the milk plants of Harris county.

Milk plants named as defendants are Carnation company, Foremost Dairies, Inc., Lone Star Creamery company, the Phenix Dairy, the Borden company and Sanitary Farm dairies.

Price Hike Agreed

Daniel said his department took quick action after learning that the producers association, managed by B. E. Stallones of Houston, and six distributors met Sept. 10 in Houston and "agreed to increase the price of raw milk to $7.15 per 100 pounds."

The attorney general said this was a 25-cent increase, and the distributors agreed that the retail price would go up one cent, making pasteurized milk 24 cents and homogenized 25 cents in the area served by the South Texas milk producers and plant officials acted in collusion to fix the prices at the highest rate to the consumers in the state.

The temporary restraining order will be effective pending a hearing on a temporary injunction Sept. 30.

The suits previously filed by the attorney general alleged anti-

Judge Claims Stevenson Is Due Hearing

Johnson Backers Say Fraud Claims Are All Fictitious

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Sept. 22—Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson today overruled for a second time a motion by Lyndon Johnson to dismiss an injunction suit brought by Coke Stevenson.

The judge quoted the North Carolina bill of rights as saying "there must never arise a wrong for which there is not a tribunal wherein there is a remedy."

TESTIMONY ORDERED

FORT WORTH, Sept. 22 (AP)—Federal District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson ordered today that testimony be presented in Coke Stevenson's suit for an injunction to keep Lyndon Johnson's name off the general election ballot. He called for testimony to begin at 1:30 p. m.

Davidson said "we would have preferred in ruling on this motion to have had the facts before us."

Must Accept Allgeation

"When you file this motion to dismiss without any facts before the court," the judge said, "the court must accept as true the allegation and the complaint.

"If these allegations be true, then the complainant has been wronged. He has had a seat in the Senate of the United States Senate taken away from him, or, at least, he has had the right of a nomination taken away from him.

"And counsel says 'what can you do about it? We have no remedy.' Here we are admitting that he has been wronged and laughing at him in his face, as it were, because he has no right."

Motion Is Overruled

After Judge Davidson ruled on the dismissal motion, James V. Allred, attorney for Johnson, presented a motion to witdraw Johnson's bill in opposition to the Stevenson complaint. It was overruled.

Court then recessed until 1:30 p. m.

One attorney gave the opinion that the move by Allred was an effort to expedite the matter to a higher court.

The Stevenson suit seeks to keep the name of Johnson off the general election ballot as Texas' Democratic nominee for U. S. senator. Johnson sought dismissal on grounds the federal district court did not have the jurisdiction.

Hurricane Is Still Packing Stiff Wallop

Worst Is Over In Miami But Other Areas In Danger

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22.—A powerful hurricane that has lost none of its punch pushed through Florida today toward the east coast and one of the state's richest citrus belts along the Indian river.

Two persons have been killed so far and many have suffered minor injuries.

The storm raked the Florida keys with 160-mile gusts yesterday and pounced on Miami with 75-mile winds last night.

Biggest damage is expected to be done to crops.

Rains Are Torrential

Miami and the keys were still being hammered by gale winds and torrential rains today as the storm moved north. A weather bureau table showed 8.34 inches of rain for Miami in a 24 hour period ending at 7 a. m.

Forecasters said the hurricane center would pass near Melbourne, 160 miles north of Miami on the east coast. about 6 p. m. today and enter the Atlantic near Merritt island, a few miles northeast of Melbourne, about 8 or 9 p. m.

The hurricane passed through Florida's sugar cane belt and over Lake Okeechobee during the morning. The town of Clewiston on its south end was cut off and many of its streets were reported under water. Army engineers reported 85 mile winds as the center approached.

Communications Down

The hurricane center hit Everglades City, 70 miles west of Miami, headon, and communications have not been established with the town. It is a fishing village made famous by the visits of such personalities as General Eisenhower and baseball's Ted Williams.

A Red Cross check showed 8,300 persons spent last night in Miami's 53 shelters. The shelters were stocked with enough food to feed 25,000 persons for two days.

Other than a good scrubbing, Miami and Miami Beach came through the storm practically unscathed. The winds brushed off the summer dust and the rain did a good cleaning job.

No Light Or Power

With the exception of the downtown area, all of greater Miami was without light or power. Broken power lines caused company officials to pull the main switches shortly after midnight. Telephone company officials estimated 8,000 or 9,000 telephones were out of service due more to the heavy rain than wind.

Chief Forecaster Grady Norton quickly dubbed the storm the "ox cart special" hurricane because of its slowness.

Power in many homes was off—either caused by failure or deliberate cutting to keep people

Hard Fighting Is Brewing In Legislature

Lubbock Man Blasts Proposed Control Of Water Resources

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Sept. 22 — The "free grass" wars of pioneer days will seem like a pillow compared to the row brewing over Texas' underground water, William O. Fortenberry of Lubbock declared here.

He told the Texas County Judges and Commissioners' association yesterday:

"This state would be in the darndest mess you ever saw if the vicious legislation proposing state ownership and control of underground waters had been passed in the 50th legislature.

"And we understand that bills just as vicious are being written for presentation to the 51st legislature."

Fortenberry is president of the High Plains Waters Users and Conservaton association, an organization which includes 4,500 irrigation farmers.

"If that bill had passed giving the state ownership of Texas underground water," he said, "we of the Plains country would, among other things, be making a gift of $300,000,000 to the govern-

Lubbock And Amarillo Are To Split Cost

Lubbock and Amarillo city officials have agreed to share equally the cost of a survey designed to show the financial feasibility of a $26,000,000 dam and water reservoir on the Canadian river north of Amarillo.

This announcement was made today by Mayors Lawrence Hagy of Amarillo and W. H. Rodgers of Lubbock.

Conferences Held

The agreement followed conferences attended by city and chamber of commerce officials of the two cities, Rep. George Mahon, of Colorado City, congressman from the 19th Texas district, and Rep. Eugene Worley, of Shamrock, of the 18th congressional district.

J. E. Cunningham, president of Southwestern Public Service Co., representing Amarillo, and Mayor Rodgers were named members of a committee to interview engineers to be considered for the making of the survey. Their first consultation, Mayor Rodgers said, is to be with B. C. Blanton, consulting industrial engineer, of Dallas.

Cost estimates of the survey ranged from $1,250 to $2,500.

Purpose Is Explained

The purpose of the information, the officials explained, is to establish whether sales of water and other benefits from a dam on the Canadian would pay for the project within a maximum of 40 years. This showing is necessary, they said, before there can be any hope of obtaining federal funds with which to build the project.

Reps. Mahon and Worley assured the participants in the conference of their cooperation in attempting to obtain approval of the necessary funds if the evidence indicates the undertaking to be financially feasible.

Advocates of the project see in it a possible solution of the domestic water needs of Lubbock, Amarillo and numerous other cities of

DRIVER OF TRUCK IS BLAMED

Five Persons Dead In Highway Mishap

(By The United Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—Five persons were dead today in one of Oklahoma's worst traffic tragedies—and two deputy sheriffs blamed it on the failure of a truck driver to observe a stop sign.

The truck driver, Roy Woods, 47, and a family of four, including a two-months-old baby, were killed when a gasoline transport struck a 1937 Ford sedan at an intersection southeast of here.

Pushed For 135 Feet

The impact was so great that the truck pushed the sedan 135 feet down the road and turned over on the smaller car. Fifty-four hundred gallons of gasoline poured out over the road but fortunately did not catch fire.

Deputy Sheriffs Bob Ewing and Bill Miskel of Oklahoma county said that the truck could not have stopped at the stop sign and picked up enough speed to cause such a terrific impact. The belief that the truck did not obey the traffic sign was echoed by State Patrol Trooper Carl C. Snook.

List Of Victims

In addition to Woods, whose home is listed as both Stillwater and Enid, the dead are:

Cecil V. McClure, 28, filling station operator at Moore, Okla., and driver of the sedan.

Mrs. Blanche Schwartz McClure, 24, his wife.

Sherry, 3, daughter of the McClures.

Dorothy Jean, two-month-old daughter of the McClures.

San Antonio Cafe Closed

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22 (U.P.)—One restaurant was closed today and charges of serving unfit meat were to be filed against two others as the result of a city-state health department investigation disclosing horse meat being sold for human consumption in the cafes.

Dr. A. E. Wharton, veterinarian for the city health department said that evidence had been obtained from samples of meat served in the three establishments and that tests of the samples were made jointly by his department with the aid of State health department representatives.

Charge Denied Previously

The disclosures followed early denials that horse meat was being sold here for human consumption.

One of the cafes, all of which are located on the city's west side, was closed by the health department immediately after the discovery, while charges were being prepared against the other two.

Dr. Austin E. Hill, city health officer, denied that any legitimate packing houses were involved in the processing of the horse meat.

Fair Opened With Parade

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 22 (Spcl.) Opening with a gala parade at 10 o'clock this morning, Lamb county's first post-war annual county fair moved rapidly into high gear as visitors from a wide area converged on the town to watch the busy program and see a variety of exhibits.

The opening parade was under direction of the Littlefield Junior Chamber of Commerce headed by its president, Rhenard McCary.

FLOAT WINNERS NAMED

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 22 (Special)—Littlefield High school's float captured first place in today's parade opening the first annual Lamb County Fair. The Jayettes were second and the Parent-Teacher association float third with the REA entry receiving honorable mention.

Several thousand people lined the streets as the parade made its way through the downtown section as the opening event of the fair.

Over 30 floats and miscellaneous displays took part in the parade.

Parade Led By Band

It was led by the Littlefield High school Wildcat band, and it was officially started by Cong. George Mahon.

Five new buildings have been added to the fairgrounds plant, bringing the total number to six. Included are the merchant's exhibits building, agriculture building, women's exhibit building, two cattle barns and a horse barn.

Record entries have been reported in every department.

A highlight of the fair will be the first annual Lamb County

15,000 Draftees For December Requested

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—The Defense department said today it has asked selective service to provide 15,000 draftees for the Army in December. This is an increase of 5,000 over the first call for November.

The increase is in line with a previous announcement that monthly quotas would start at about 10,000 and rise to about 30,000 by next year as the Army builds toward its authorized strength of 870,000.

The Air Force and Navy are not asking for draftees at present. They are relying on volunteer recruiting to meet their needs.

The Army has notified selective service to begin giving pre-induction physical examination on Oct. 4 to registrants who have been found otherwise acceptable for induction.

8 Chosen On Dillard Jury

Eight jurors had been chosen from the first 23 veniremen examined in the murder trial of Brewster E. Dillard in 99th criminal district court here, when Judge G. V. Pardue recessed court for lunch today.

Six of the prospective jurors of the 23 examined had been stricken by the court, six by the defense counsel, and three by the state.

To Start Testimony

Selection of the jury started shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, and counsel on both sides, expressing surprise at the lack of contest in the jury selection, gave indications that the testimony stage would be reached in the trial shortly past 'mid-afternoon today.

Dillard is charged by indictment with murder in connection with the fatal shooting last Nov. 1 of Garlon Douglas Weaver, at a filling station toward the south end of Texas Ave. in this city. A previous trial last April resulted in a hung jury, and most of the challenges and striking out of prospective jurors at the current trial hinges on opinions or information expressed by members of the venire in connection with that trial.

Airways Radiomen Threaten To Quit

(By The Associated Press)

A threat of a strike by nearly 300 radiomen on Pan American World airways and a possible settlement of a wage dispute involving some 25,000 telephone workers highlighted the nation's labor picture today.

The 296 radio officers on the Pan American's Atlantic, Latin American and Pacific-Alaskan routes will strike at 9 a. m. tomorrow unless the alleged layoffs of 50 radiomen are cancelled.

R. S. Taylor, secretary of the flight radio officers section of the CIO Transport Workers union, who announced the threatened strike, said the other air and ground employes of the company might join the walkout.

Contract Violated

The dismissals of the 50 radiomen last May and June, Taylor said, violated an existing union contract.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company has offered wage increases ranging up to $6 a week for 25,000 telephone workers in 42 states and the District of Columbia. Plant craftsmen would get pay hikes up to $6 and operators and clerical employes boosts up to $4, the company said.

The offer is being studied by the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers. A union spokesman said it "appears to be highly unsatisfactory," but he added the union "is continuing to examine it."

In Ottumwa, Ia., five departments of the John Morrel and Company packing firm were closed and 550 workers were made idle after a breakdown in com-

WCTU Leader Claims Kansas Vote To Decide Liquor Issue

(By The United Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 22. The Kansas vote on the liquor issue next November will decide whether the U. S. will revive national prohibition, Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, said today.

The WCTU opened its 74th convention today with 2,000 delegates attending.

Mrs. Colvin said Kansas was the most critical point in the fight to ban liquor from the country. She said distillers also admitted that point.

Mrs. Colvin said television was having an adverse effect on the dry cause because "the programs are slanted for the saloon trade." She admitted, however, that she had not witnessed many tavern television shows.

But, she said, it would be bad tactics for drys to be angry with bartenders.

"I always smile," she said. "The wets are the ones who get mad."

She said the film "Lost Weekend" had a reverse ef-

Western Powers Ask Decision On Berlin

PARIS, Sept. 22. (AP)—The three western powers today drafted a joint note to Soviet Russia asking a clearcut decision on the Berlin currency issue, a French foreign ministry spokesman announced.

The spokesman said the note would be delivered, possibly tonight or tomorrow, to Soviet Ambassador Alexander Bogomolov for transmission to the Kremlin. He said that since the note is addressed to the Kremlin rather than to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, it might come directly to Prime Minister Stalin's attention, if Stalin has returned from his Black sea area vacation.

The western powers, according to informed French sources, had decided to give Russia another week to come to an agreement on the Berlin crisis before the matter would be placed before the United Nations assembly here.

Editors And Publishers From Germany Making Study In U. S.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Fifteen German editors and publishers are in this country for six weeks to learn how Americans put out newspapers and magazines.

The fifteen—14 are men, one is a woman—are not husky-looking people. The Nazis kept five of them in concentration camps for periods ranging from months to years for speaking out against Hitler.

A number served in the German army and wound up as American prisoners of war in this country or Germany. Most of them since the war have worked closely with U. S. agencies in Germany.

Visit Is Right Push

Since the Western democracies are anxious to see Germany become democratic, it was decided a right push in that direction would be aided by bringing over here the editors who can help shape German thinking.

The idea started with American editors who visited Germany after the war and talked with German newspapermen.

The Rockefeller foundation became interested and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university, got a grant of some thousands of dollars to bring the 15 German editors here.

Expense Paid From Grant

Their expenses to and from this country and while they're here are paid out of that Rockefeller grant.

They are housed at Columbia university and for at least two weeks are sitting in daily sessions at the American Press institute held at the university.

This institute was set up in 1946 with the support of American newspapers which have been sending their own editors there in a steady stream for stays of a week to three weeks.

The Germans at the institute are getting pretty much what the Americans have had there:

Sit Around Table

They sit around a huge oval table. Men from various fields of American newspapering—editors, writers, special reporters, photo experts, and others—come and speak to them.

They question the speakers, argue back and forth, try to see how they can apply what is said to their own problems. At night they sit around the Columbia dormitory exchanging ideas and going over the day's talks.

Morning Coughs Often Due to Bronchial Asthma

Do you cough and cough, especially mornings and at night? At times you feel like you were tearing yourself to pieces trying to get rid of strangling mucus and still you choke, gasp for breath, wheeze and often can't sleep? The cause of these devitalizing symptoms may be recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma. In such cases, the very first dose of Mendaco, a physician's prescription, usually starts almost instantly to help relax that clogged up stuffy feeling in the bronchial tubes, then helps Nature loosen and remove thick, strangling phlegm. This helps you get good fresh air into your lungs and promotes restful sleep. Mendaco is not a smoke, injection or spray, but is a tasteless internal medicine which works thru the blood, thus reaching the bronchial tubes and lungs. Mendaco must satisfy in every way or your money back is guaranteed. Ask your druggist for Mendaco today, and take exactly as directed.

Russian Teacher's Condition Is Good

NEW YORK Sept. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, the 52-year-old Russian school teacher who leaped from a third floor window of the Soviet consulate on Aug. 12, was reported in good condition today.

She slept well last night and her temperature early today was 99.6 degrees—only slightly above normal—officials at Roosevelt hospital reported.

Mrs. Kasenkina was to have been questioned today by a subcommittee of the House un-American Activities committee, but the session was postponed last Monday because her temperature had risen.

Her physician, Dr. Grant B. Pennoyer, said Monday that because her temperature was up to 101 he thought any questioning by the subcommittee should be deferred a week or ten days.

Mrs. Kasenkina, who had avoided returning to Russia, has said she jumped from the consulate to escape from the Soviets. The un-American Activities committee has expressed interest in what she knows of Soviet activities in this country.

Men Held In Big Robbery

COLUMBIA, N. C., Sept. 22. (AP)—Five men were in custody today in connection with the $60,000 holdup of the eastern North Carolina bank at Columbia.

More than $58,000 was recovered in the capture of three negroes in a nearby swamp last night, according to Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Charlotte division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

White Men Arrested

Two white men were arrested earlier yesterday a few hours after the bank was held up shortly before noon.

Brown identified the two white men in custody as Harry Everett Morrison and Aubrey Whitt Tarkington, and the negroes as Christopher C. Ward, Willie Milkins and Jessie Bynum. All gave Norfolk, Va., addresses, Brown said.

Ward was wounded as he shot it out with officers of a posse who closed in on him in the swamp. State highway patrolmen, sheriff's officers from Columbia and FBI agents continued to beat the swamp during the night for three more men sought in connection with the holdup.

Heat On In Germany For Lubbock Seaman

It's hot in Germany in more ways than one, according to a letter Mrs. Ed Bear of 1513 Ave. E received from her grandson, Delton Walker, 18, former Lubbock High school student and Avalanche-Journal carrier boy now in the Navy.

He formerly lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bear. He is now stationed on the U.S.S. Tolovana, a Navy supply ship and was recently promoted to the rate of seaman first class.

He expects to be in Houston Oct. 1 en route to Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Bear said she hopes to be able to go to Houston and see him there. He joined the Navy about a year ago.

Mothers Advised How To Burp Baby

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 22. (AP)—Don't, says the Connecticut state health department, "burp" the baby by holding him over your shoulder. Do you want him to get a sagging stomach and have poor posture when he grows up?

In a pamphlet called "let's keep them straight" the department says to do it this way:

"Hold baby across mother's lap with his head higher than his feet, his lower abdomen resting on mother's knee, and gently stroke his back."

450,000,000 Units Of Penicillin Given Girl

NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP)—Physicians at Beth-El hospital, Brooklyn, administered 450,000,000 units of penicillin in less than two months to a 19-year-old girl suffering from a type of heart infection which generally has been fatal.

William Friedman, president of the hospital, said yesterday the treatment was "one of the greatest if not actually the greatest quantity given to an individual in a concentrated period of treatment."

The girl, a charity patient, has been released from the hospital.

Jewish Gang Turns In Guns

JERUSALEM, Sept. 22 (AP)—Irgun Zvai Leumi, the hard-fighting Jewish extremist group, has turned in its guns and closed up shop.

The Israeli government ordered the dissolution of Irgun and continued its crack-down on the Stern gang, a similar outfit, as crushed both forces in the wake of Friday's slaying of Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. mediator, and Col. Andre Serot, his French aide.

Ultimatum Accepted

Moshe Dayan, Israeli Jerusalem commander, told newsmen last night that Irgunists who refuse to join the Israeli army will be treated like ordinary draft dodgers.

Irgun accepted the ultimatum unconditionally. Its guns were taken to Israeli army arsenals in army trucks and Israeli troops went into the Irgun compound in suburban Katamon to keep order. Jerusalem was the only Palestine city where Irgun had continued as an underground force in recent months.

Dayan received the underground organization's capitulation a few hours after Israli troops had barricaded all streets leading to the Irgun compound.

UN Proposals Presented

Irgunists helped load their own weapons on army trucks. Many still wore the emblem of their organization.

Reaction of the underground fighters was mingled. Some took the attitude "What does it matter, it's orders." One glum Irgunist told a newsman: "You haven't heard the last of us."

In Tel Aviv Israeli newspapers stirred public resentment against the last proposals by Bernadotte for the U. N. imposed settlement of the Arab-Jewish struggle in Palestine.

Newspapers of all political shades demanded rejection of any concessions suggested by Bernadotte.

Costing more than $125,000, the building contains 15,250 square feet of floor space and will house the display rooms, parts department and service department of the company. An adjoining body shop contains 2,000 square feet of floor space and the used car and parking lot is 117 by 125 feet. The building, of brick, tile, concrete and steel, is being constructed by the G. & G. Construction company, the motor company's present location is 1009 Ave. J. (Staff Photo.)

The Hancock farm is located on the first road north of the municipal airport. It is one-half mile east of the Plainview highway.

Jap General Faces Charges In Manila

MANILA, Sept. 22. (AP)—Responsibility for the murders of President Elpidio Quirino's wife and three of their children was among 58 charges filed today against Lt. Gen. Shizuo Yokoyama.

Yokoyama was Japanese commander in Manila shortly before its liberation in Feburary, 1945. He is the first general to be tried by the Philippines war crimes commission. He will be arraigned next month

Yokoyama is charged also with responsibility for the Japanese raping and killing in St. Augustin church, where more than 6,000 Filipinos were imprisoned, and in old Fort Santiago, where about 4,000 were killed.

The prosecution charges that Mrs. Quirino and two of her daughters, Fe, two, and Norma, 17, were machine-gunned Feb. 8, 1945, as they fled from their Colorado street home during an American artillery barrage. Armando Quirino, 19, was killed three days later by a Japanese rifleman.

Quirino, his wounded son, Tomas, and another daughter, Victoria, escaped through American lines.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Woman Told By Doctor She Is Mortally Ill Is Wondering If She Should Tell Her Husband

DEAR Mary Haworth: Married 27 years, the mother of four children, ranging in ages from three to 19 years, I am the 47-year-old "only child" of sixtyish parents; and theoretically I married "far beneath" myself, but my husband is the kindest, wisest man I've ever known.

In youth I had every advantage that two doting extravagant parents of considerable means could bestow upon me; every advantage except responsibility, that is; and my husband's fondest expression is that he "brought me up." I never so much as selected my own clothes until after marriage.

Now the situation is reversed. My parents ask me what to do, and my husband gives me the deciding vote, as do my children, even though they have been taught all their lives to think for themselves. I think I can say without bragging that I am the family pivot.

My husband has always traveled, and due to babies, measles, schooling, etc., I've seldom gone with him. Mostly I have stayed home and kept things running smoothly, although Dan's absences were sometimes of five-year duration. He is in South America now, due home in November.

REGAINS COMPOSURE BUT NEEDS GUIDANCE

SO MUCH for background. Now for the problem. Three days ago my physician gave me the verdict: I have, at the outside—with all sorts of care—two years to live. At first I reacted in a distraught manner. In privacy I wept, railed against fate, pitied my family, my husband, etc.; and until the red haze lifted I was incapable of coherent thought.

To the children, "mother had another spell," but finaly I came out of it. I am still at a loss, but calm, after praying day and night for guidance. I realize that no one lives forever and actually I am fortunate to be forewarned. I have time to put my house in order and make peace with my God.

But what to do? Should I write this to my husband? I cannot tell my parents. They are old and life sometimes frightens them now, and I don't want to be a wet blanket. I don't want the children to be afraid; to hate to laugh or enjoy themselves, etc. Perhaps you sense my half-formed decision, but what would you do?

CONFIDE IN HUSBAND, TALK TO SPECIALISTS

DEAR L. R.: Your decision to spare your parents and children knodledge of the doctor's verdict is altruistically fine and praiseworthy; but in my opinion, your husband should be told.

You will be sparing him remorse in after-years by doing so; and a burden shared is lighter by half. The next two years may be the most precious of all you've had together, if he is given opportunity to companion you in spirit through the final trial; and as the "wisest, kindest man" you've ever known, he will feel privileged to consciously serve as "thy rod and they staff" in the last miles together. Of this I am sure.

SHE'LL GAIN POISE BY SHARING BURDEN

MORE than that, you will need quiet fully understanding moral support in months to come, such as he is best qualifide to give, if you are to cope with enroaching illness and retain composure in concealing its significance from others mentioned. So let him hear, without delay, the substance of the doctor's findings and prognosis; and pledge him, word of honor, not to divulge it to the family.

If he sees fit to return from South America immediately, arguing that he will be happier here than there, regardless of business scrapped or shelved, don't protest; give him his head. However, whether he comes or not, the next orderly step is to get a consensus check from specialists, to weigh against the doctor's verdict; and get it immediately. His views may be unduly pessimistic, and science, roused in time, might move to the rescue yet; and in any event, for the sake of certitude, more wise heads than one should be consulted in this case.

Miss Bessie Baker, retiring president, was installing officer.

The new officers were dinner hostesses. Fall flowers decked the table.

High School Youth Is Playing Organ At Style Shows

Gerre Hancock, 14-year-old sophomore at Lubbock High school, is providing a musical setting at an electric organ for the Junior Welfare League style shows, presented at a 12:30 o'clock luncheon at Lubbock Supper club and to be repeated at a dinner hour at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Youthful Gerre began taking piano lessons when six years old, but began studying organ only a few months ago, after school had ended in May.

With his background of music instruction, and liking for music, however, he soon began to play selections on the organ. During the summer, he appeared a few times as organist in the Hilton hotel coffee shop, taking no music with him but simply a list of selections he planned to play.

When Gerre, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hancock of 2504 Thirty-third, was two years old, he would sit near the radio and sing. When he was about four, he began picking out tunes on the piano, although he had studied no music up to that time.

Dean Paul Van Katwyck, head of the music department at Southern Methodist university, described him as having unusual talent when Gerre was 11 years ago. The boy studied under Mrs. Van Katwyck six weeks. A voice teacher in Dallas who sang to Gerre's accompaniment at a wedding in February praised his accompaniment as the best she had heard.

He studies piano with Miss Mary Dunn and organ with Miss Imogene Webster here.

The tall, black-haired and blue-eyed boy, who lists Frederic Chopin as his favorite composer, has definite leanings toward music as a leading interest, but it is not his only interest. He likes to play basketball and baseball, too.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Garden Ceremony Read At Sunrise

In a sunrise service read at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kelley in the Gordon community, Miss Wanda Kelley of Lubbock became the bride of Billy Ray Griffin of Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs A. L. Griffin of Trenton. The ceremony took place Sept. 4 with Lloyd Moyer, Slaton minister, performing a double ring service.

Vines, fern, garden flowers and large baskets of cut blossoms provided a background for the vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gunmetal gray gabardine suit with pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. She carried a white Bible.

Miss Joan Griffin, sister of the bridegroom and maid of honor, wore a black dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

Billy George Kelley served his brother as best man.

At a reception that followed, Mesdames Billy George Kelley, Grady Woodward and R. W. Barton presided at the refreshment table which was centered with a three tiered wedding cake decorated with pink and white rosebuds and topped with a miniature bridal couple. Pink flowers and fern embanked the cake.

The couple is employed in Lubbock.

Tech Enrollment Is Short Of Estimate

A total of 6,130 students had registered for the fall semester at Texas Technological college Tuesday afternoon.

The total thus far falls short of the most conservative prediction, 6,500, but exceeds last fall's record enrollment of 6,114. A total of 6,503 permits to register were issued and approved, and surprise was expressed by Registrar W. P. Clement that the actual number to register was so much short of that figure.

Friday will be the last day to enroll for the semester.

Locations Made For Exploration Wells

Honolulu Oil Corporation has made locations for three more explorations in the recently opened West Smyer field in East-Central Hockley County, about three miles north and slightly west of the town of Smyer.

Police Siff Clues In Brutal Murder Of Couple In Maryland

GLEN BURNIE, Md., Sept. 22 (AP)—Police sifted dozens of clues today in the brutal double murder of 18-year-old Mary C. Kline and her date; but said none of them gave any indication of a possible suspect.

A road worker stumbled onto the bruised bodies of Miss Kline and John H. Mahlan, a 25-year-old postal clerk, Monday. That ended a dramatic search of the surrounding countryside by authorities and hundreds of volunteers which had begun when Mahlan's bloodstained car was found Saturday.

Autopsies showed that both had been shot through the head.

Face Beaten In

Mary's face had been beaten in. Long scratches were on her thighs. Police said a formal report from the medical examiner sometime today would tell whether she had been raped.

Clues were numerous—but they did not point to a definite person or persons. They did not even show for certain where the Glen Burni couple had died.

Police said three flattened bullets may show whether one or more persons took part in the killings, which police chief John H. Souers termed the county's "most brutal in many, many years."

One bullet was found in Mahlan's car. One was taken by doctors from the dead girl's skull. The other was found embedded in the World War II veteran's brain.

Seemingly conflicting bits of evidence as to where the fatal bullets were fired were being studied.

Stains were found on the linoleum floor of a tumbledown, abandoned house along Marley creek. On analysis, they proved to have been made by blood of the same type as Mahlan's. Two bullet holes pierced the front windows of the sedan the young couple drove off in Friday night. Signs of conflict were found at the spot along the dead end lane where the bodies were discovered.

Chief Souers advanced the the theory that one or both were alive when they were taken to the abandoned shack.

Circus Clowns Know Skits Are Good If They Can Win Spontaneous Laughter From Children

Clowns are students of human nature, and they spend much time weighing the reactions of children to their fun skits and exaggerated mannerisms. If they can win a spontaneous laugh from a child, they know they have something good.

The star funsters among the hundred chalk-faced joeys with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, coming to Lubbock Wednesday, Sept. 29, for performances at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. with doors open at 1 and 7, know that when a child laughs heartily an adult joins in; in fact, about four grown-ups chortle with each youngster, as that is about the ratio of age to sub-adolescence in the average circus audience.

The 1948 performance of the circus, star-studded and crammed with sensational features, are presented under the world's largest big top. Hundreds upon hundreds of renowned artists and hosts of trained animals participate. Climaxing this tidal wave of thrills, beauty and laughter is a $290,000 super-spectacle, entitled "'Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Terrific too are the physical improvements of the Big Show—the four new railroad trains of double-length cars, silver enameled and streamlined in Ringling Red, with the finest all-steel sleepers to be seen anywhere, their great glass and venetian blind windows, greyhound lines and smart interiors the talk of the nation's railroad men. But pre-eminent are the new portable unit grandstands, all-steel and unfold—into a vast bowl of 10,000 cushioned and rubber-padded chairs and seats, the whole magic engineering plant carried on less than 30 trucks, each a complete section of seats in itself.

End Jack McConville is the lone Ohio representative on the Villanova football squad. He is from Bridgeport.

HOW FUNNY CAN YOU GET?—That's the problem that Emmett Kelly, famous pantomimic funster, and Jack LeClair, veteran star, are discussing as they go over the technical angles of a newdust laugh skit for the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus which comes to Lubbock for two performances next Wednesday.

Harvest Is Off To Good Start

AUSTIN, Sept. 22 (U.P.)—Except for some upper coastal counties, cotton harvesting progressed at a rapid rate last week throughout the state, the United States department of agriculture reported today.

Wet fields, following heavy general rains, slowed the harvest in the upper coastal counties, and some delay was caused by morning dews and scattered showers in north-central counties.

In its weekly crop and weather bulletin, the USDA reported that cotton was mateuring rapidly on the high plains where pulling was expected to be in full swing in a few days. Prospects there, the report said, were "unusually good."

East Texas Yield Good

In central and East Texas, good yields had been realized and the harvest in those areas had passed its peak.

General harvesting operations over the state were aided by open weather.

Prospects for South Texas fall and winter vegetables continued good with favorable moisture conditions.

In the southern counties, late feed crop prospects had been improved by recent rainfall.

As rains added further to the moisture reserve, adequate fall range and pasture feed was virtually assured, the report said, in most southern, south-central and all coastal counties.

Steam pieces of frying chicken before broiling, then serve with broiled apricots and sliced sweet potatoes. Accompany this main dish with a tossed green salad mixed with French dressing and serve cheese and crackers for dessert.

Between . . . The Lines

—By JOE KELLY—

If they won football games on points given for effort, we believe Texas Tech's Red Raider eleven would walk off with the Texas Aggie contest this week end. No one can criticize this year's Raider squad for lacking in hustle and spirit. Seldom have we seen more drive, more determination than is being shown by the Raider players now. It showed up to good advantage Saturday night against an even more determined Buffalo eleven and it was apparent in yesterday's really rugged scrimmage.

That wasn't a gentle session in the rain yesterday afternoon, with the coaches sending the squad through a session that seemed even rougher than a regulation game. There was plenty of give and take, with vicious tackling and blocking. If the Raiders hit the Aggies as hard Saturday night as they were hitting each other yesterday, it wouldn't surprise us if the Raiders gave the Aggies all they wanted. We don't look for them to play above their heads in San Antonio, but we do look for them to play a rough, tough game. And advance reports indicate that the Aggies can be beaten — by Tech.

We like the hustle this year. It's a refreshing change from the usually lethargic eleven that took the field for Tech last season. There were spirited scrimmage sessions in 1947, that's true, but yesterday's showed far more drive and power than last year's Border Conference champions displayed. This year's group of players seem to want to win and win badly, which is a good way to start a rough season. They'll lose a few, sure, but they give every indication of a team that will make it rough on the opposition.

Going back to Saturday night, we realize that maybe we were a little rough on an eleven just starting the season. The Buffs wanted to win from Tech the worst way. They were keyed up for the game far more than the Raiders. They also had one game under their belt. They honestly thought that they could—and would—win. And with Aggie scouts in the press box, Tech didn't want to cut loose with anything tricky in a game they also thought they could win. As a result, they ran mainly straight plays the first half, looking sluggish in doing so. In the second stanza, they opened up just enough to score without giving anything away. And they were a vastly improved team that final canto, far more trained than last year's eleven.

We feel that KFYO has a jinx on us. We say that with no malice towards DeWitt "Judge" Landis and company. But twice coming back from baseball games in Amarillo we ran out of gas. And both times we were in KFYO's station wagon. The first time was following the Hubbers' first loss to Amarillo. We got to Plainview and Judge looked at his nearly half-full gas guage. "Plenty of gas to get to Lubbock. We don't have to stop here. And if that isn't enough, by golly I'll walk into Lubbock," Judge declared. So what happened? Just as we got to the outskirts of Monroe, sppft, splutter, putt-putt. No gas. P. S. Judge didn't walk in.

Then Ray McNally, Bill Ward and this writer were about to come back after that final game. Ward and this writer politely, then forcibly, suggested getting gas before leaving Amarillo. Said McNally, "Plenty of gas to get to Plainview, plenty of gas." So what happened? We ran out of gas just before we got to Plainview. Fortunately, we had seen Larry Larsen in Tulia and he followed us in, going to a gas station to get a can of gas for us. Those are only some of the dangers of knowing and travelling with radio men.

THE ROUNDUP: Bob Clodfelter, Chick Fowler and Frank McAlexander all are job hunting. If you have something for any of them, let the Hub Clothiers know. . . . Bobby Hart of Levelland paced the H-SU freshmen to victory in their first game, scoring both TDs . . . Earl Pribble of Lubbock recently caught an 11½ pound yellow cat at Lake Brownwood . . . Thanks, Lawrence Stone, for the letter. Hope you understand a little more about the case now. There's a lot that can never be printed, ever . . . Listen to KFYO Saturday nights for the Lineman Of The Week award, which will be given to one Tech and one Westerner player . . . Glad to see the Quarterback club coming back into action . . . The Boston Braves can clinch their first pennant in 34 years today but the baseball spotlight will be centered on Cleveland where the Indians tackle the Boston Red Sox with first place in the American league at stake.

Billy Southworth's Braves, who have had the National league pennant virtually sewed up for weeks, can mathematically win it today by beating the St. Louis Cardinals providing the runer up Brooklyn Dodgers bow to Pittsburgh.

Take Twin Bill

The Braves virtually killed off the remaining pennant hopes of both the Cards and Dodgers yesterday, taking a twin bill from the Red Birds, 11-3 and 4-0 while the Dodgers bowed, 12-11 and 6-3 to Pittsburgh.

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by seven and one half games. Both teams have nine games left to play. The Cards are eight games back with 10 to go and a loss today will knock them out.

However, the main attention will be riveted on the Red-Sox-Indian clash under the lights at Cleveland's municipal stadium.

Only Game Ahead

The league leading Red Sox are only a game in front of the runner-up Indians who have won their last six starts. A Cleveland victory would put the two teams in a flat footed tie for the lead. A Boston triumph would jump the Red Sox two games ahead with only eight games left to play for each team.

Bob Feller (16-14), who has been pitching great ball since late August, will start for Cleveland against Boston's Joe Dobson (16-8).

The Red Sox trounced the Detroit Tigers, 10-2, yesterday in the only game played in the American league. Lefty Mell Parnell, although rapped for 11 hits, coasted to his 14th victory. The Red Sox opened with two runs in the first inning and iced the decision with six more in the third.

Johnny Sain, the Braves' star righthander and rookie Vern Bickford, turned back the Cardinals on nine and four hits resoectively. Sain's victory was his 22nd—top mark in either league.

Clinched Second Early

The Cards nicked Sain for two runs in the first inning but the Braves came back with one in their half and drove Red Munger to cover with four more the second to win going away. The Braves clinched the nightcap triumph early, scoring three times in the opening frame to rout lefty Howie Pollet.

Pittsburgh's 12-11 win over Brooklyn completed a game that began in Pittsburgh on Aug 25 when a ninth protest by the Pirates was upheld.

The game was resumed with the Pirates at bat, three runs behind, two out, runners on first and third, Ed Bockman up with a 3-1 count and Carl Erski pitching. Erskine walked Bockman to load the bases and Hank Behrman took over. Stan Rojek then broke up the game with a base clearing double.

In the regular scheduled game that followed little Vic Lombardi held his former Dodger mates to five hits in picking up his ninth victory.

Mize Gets Homer

The New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs divided a day-night doubleheader by identical 3-2 scores. Johnny Mize clouted his 38th homer with two on.

Andy Pafko's three-run ninth inning homer enabled the Cubs to grab the nightcap and end a 10 game losing streak.

The Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phillies also split a day-night twin bill. The Reds won the first game, 6-5 and the Phils took the nightcap, 6-1.

District 3-B Tilts Are Set

The coming week end in District 3-B will be one of killing competition, as eight of the nine conference teams get their conference seasons underway in four games.

Only Friona fails to boot the lid off the conference schedule, which Friday night sends Petersburg's Golden Buffaloes to Olton, Dimmitt's strong Bobcat eleven to Amherst, Anton's Bulldogs into Hale Center and Whitharral's eleven to Earth for a game against Springlake.

In the only District 4-B conference game, Whiteface's Antelopes invade New Deal for a game with the strong Lions.

Cowhands Invade Meadow

Thursday night the Meadow Bronchos will meet the Lubbock Cowhands in Meadow and the odds favor the visiting team. But the Bronchos have a good squad this year, putting up a strong fight in losing to O'Donnell 6-0 Friday night, when the winning touchdown was made in the closing minute of play.

The Bronchos also boast a 13-0 victory over the Ropes Eagles and Coach Lloyd Hunt, at Sundown in 1947, has the makings of a strong team. Last year's Cowhand eleven beat the Meadow team only 19-7 and another strong fight in this annual rivalry is anticipated.

Over at Idalou Coach W. Lloyd Johnson, a graduate of WTSTC, has a strong eleven that is being touted as one of the two strongest in District 4-B. The Wildcats didn't lose too many men last spring and they have come up with a strong line and backfield. The forward wall averages about 170, with Don Seale, Alvin Joiner and Leon Jarrett, all fast, pacing the backfield. In the line Johnson has three three-lettermen including W. K. Mullinox at center, Billy Ross Armstrong at right tackle and Sidney Scoggins at left tackle.

Cooper Team Inexperienced

Junior Jackson, a reserve guard or tackle, weighs 204 pounds and is being counted to help fill in for J. N. Sowder, a left guard, or Bill Wilbanks, right guard. David Reddell and Lloyd Allen are capable ends and the Idalou mentor has come up with a rugged eleven. They will be given a great test by Kress this week.

Cooper High school is undergoing a rebuilding and building experiment and Coach Ray Bailey, new on the job this year, after coming from Silverton, is not optimistic. Cooper was hit heavily by graduation and the starting eleven is light and inexperienced. Bailey is shifting players a good deal and expects to open with a freshman at quarterback, Don Green. Bobby Dodd, another freshman, probably will start at one halfback post. John B. Allen, a fine player, is one of the holdovers who will be at the fullback spot.

Cooper already has taken one severe setback from the strong Idalou eleven and this week tackles Abernathy of District 4-A at Abernathy in another killer. The team has two open dates, Oct. 29 or 30 and Nov. 4 or 5, which Coach Bailey would like to fill. Any team interested in games on these dates can contact him at the school.

Fort Worth, Tulsa Square Off Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Tulsa and Fort Worth square off in Fort Worth tonight in the opening game of the championship series for the Texas league title.

Tulsa handed Houston a 7-1 licking last night to advance to the finals against Fort Worth, which eliminated Shreveport last Sunday.

The victory was Tulsa's fourth in the series against two for Houston.

Houston lodged a protest after a freakish play in the fifth inning, but League President J. Alvin Gardner disallowed it.

The protest came when the Tulsa park's lighting system failed while a batted ball was in the air.

Johnny Lane was under the fly hit by Solly Memus when the lights failed. The ball dropped safe and one Buff runner reached third and Hemus took second.

Umpires ruled Hemus should take his time at bat again. He did, but the Buffs eventually were retired without scoring.

Houston used four pitchers trying to stop the Oilers, who banged out eleven hits. Bud Lively scattered nine Houston hits.

The first two games of the series will be played in Fort Worth, the next three in Tulsa and if more are needed the last two will be in Fort Worth..

Quarterback Club Will Meet Monday

The first meeting of the Lubbock Quarterback club, which functioned every Monday night last year, will be held Monday night at 8 in the Hilton hotel's main ballroom under new direction this year.

Mule Dowell will be in charge of the first program, at which time Coach Dell Morgan and Coach C. R. "Pat" Pattison will speak on the games their teams have played.

In addition, the entire Texas Tech, Lubbock High school and Dunbar High school coaching staffs will be guests of the club.

After Coach Morgan and Coach Pattison have finished describing their impressions of their first games of the season, the meeting will be thrown open to members. They will elect program chairmen for the year and discussion will be open for suggestions on how to improve the club. One suggestion already made is inviting area coaches in, as well as area Quarterback clubs.

Hot Scrimmage Session Held

Lubbock High's Westerner gridders completed most of their "rough work" in preparation for their non-conference clash with the powerful North Side Steers Friday night at Fort Worth with a full-dress scrimmage session, including kickoffs, punts, first downs and extra points, Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field.

The "White" team held a 27-13 margin at the close of the hour and a half tussle, but the score didn't mean much since many of the squad members played for both teams before the head-knocking was completed. The "Golds" were outmanned during the first half of the period, but picked up strength in the last half of the setto.

Both teams were impressive on offense, with Backs Malcolm Young, Bobby Brown, Donald Decker, Bill Bridge and Wayne Stroud romping for long yardage, but both elevens made numerous defensive errors. Young, who has been running from the fullback slot, turned in two long touchdown gallops for the white team, and Wingback Decker tallied once on a brilliant run.

Brown, who has turned in outstanding performances in both the Westerner games this season, slashed through the White line for consistent yardage, but he shared the spotlight with the power smashes of Fullback Bill Bridge.

Several of the Westerner linemen turned in good performces, with Guards Morris Moyers and Jack Hensley. Tackles Billy Bohner and Billy Brazell and End Ted Vaught attracting attention of the mentors.

Coach Pat Pattison reported that the Westerner gridders will be sent through a lighter drill this afternoon, then the squad will leave Thursday morning for Wichita Falls. The Westerners will work out at Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon, spend Thursday night at that city, then move on to Fort Worth Friday morning.

The Lubbock school boys will clash with the powerful Steers, representatives of the City conference of the Interscholastic league, at 8 o'clock Friday night at Farrington field.

E. J. Lowrey, athletic department business manager, has announced that tickets for the Westerner-Steer tilt will be on sale today and Thursday at his Senior High school office. The ducats will cost 60 and 40 cents if purchased here, but will be priced at approximately 90 cents if fans buy their tickets at Fort Worth

Raiders Plan For Defense

Three days remain in which to get ready for Texas Tech's invasion of San Antonio and the battle against the Texas Aggies and Coach Dell Morgan didn't let a little matter like rain interfere with his rugged training program yesterday.

Coach Morgan sent the varsity and reserves through as rugged a scrimmage session as has been seen in a long while. The varsity and first reserves were kept for only about 30 minutes, during which time they had a short, intensive clash. They looked improved, too, both on offense and defense. Contact was hard throughout, with tackling and blocking as hard as any in a game.

When they had had enough to show their sharpness, they were sent over to Jones Stadium, where they ran dummy scrimmage against Aggie plays operated by the freshmen. The frosh were working under the direction of Coach Polk Robison, who scouted the Aggies last Saturday.

Rough Scrimmage Drill

Meanwhile the promising reserves making up the third and fourth teams went through as rough a scrimmage session as has been seen on the old Tech football field in a long time. Milton Rathbone, quarterbacking one eleven, tried play after play, some of which worked for long gains. But much of the time the backs, Herman Bailey, Bill White, Jim Hatch, J. W. Thompson, Zac Henderson and Charlie Reynolds, were running into a stone wall.

Particularly outstanding on defense was Fullback Keith "Bobo" Butler, the big back from Rising Star. Butler, backing up the line, was vicious on defense, crashing the interference, breaking up plays repeatedly and making bone-cracking tackles. He gave one of the finest performances of the scrimmage.

Bob Hix at guard also was a tower on defense, along with Center J. B. Mahler. Most of the yardage gained by the offensive team was over the tackles and around the ends. Bailey got off several long jaunts with the ball, once or twice going all the way. Thompson also turned in a fine performance offensively, running hard and well, while Hatch showed occasional bursts of intelligent, elusive running. Henderson consistently ran hard.

Blocking Is Improved

One thing that pleased coaches was the downfield blocking, which was hard and furious. Backs and linemen both were hitting hard and knocking the defensive men down. Actual game blocking and tackling couldn't be much more intense.

But in the Aggies Tech will be facing a big team that is rugged all down the line and the Raiders will have to go all the way on every play. Wray Whittaker and Charles Wright, ends, weigh 204 and 200 respectively; James Winkler and James Flowers, tackles, weigh 210 and 225; Odell Stautzenberger and Max Greiner, guards, weigh 215 and 190; Center Herbert Ellis tips the beam at 205.

In the backfield, Quarterback James Cashion weighs 175 pounds; Halfbacks Robert Goode and James Boswell weigh 205 and 175; and Fullback Bobby Goff hits 190. It's a heavy team and one that can dish out a lot of punishment.

Zale Knocked Out By Marcel Cerdan

JERSEY CITY, N. J., ept. 22 (AP) Marcel Cerdan, a laughing Latin from Casablanca, is the new middleweight champion of the world, because he took Tony Zale's body bombs and kept punching.

In the fourth round of last night's title fight at Roosevelt stadium, it looked as though Zale was about to tear apart the 32-year-old tiger of France. Cerdan winced and blinked his eyes as Tony landed a blockbuster under the heart. But he didn't go down.

Where Zale Lost Title

That was where Zale lost his title and Cerdan, a product of wartime France, saw the way clear to realizing his lifetime ambition.

Once Zale had shot his heaviest artillery he had nothing left. Cerdan hooked to the head, led with right, feinted the fading champ into schoolboy errors and trussed him up for the kill.

Zale was a tired old man of 34. Dead on his feet and with no zip left in his punches from the sixth round on. Only the fierce pride of a champion kept him off the floor until he collapsed—as the New Jersey official physician said "from exhaustion"—just after the bell ended the 11th round.

Frenchman Surprised

The Frenchman seemed a bit surprised to see him tumble. For the last few blows to the head had been no harder than a hundred others he had thrown during the chilly evening. Co-Manager Art Winch and trainer Ray Arcel dragged Zale to his corner like a sack of potatoes. Then Winch and his partner, Sam Pian, signalled referee Paul Cavalier he could not continue.

Under New Jersey rules they went through with the formality of ringing the bell for the 12th and announcing that he had been knocked out in 12, but it didn't matter. Tony could do no more fighting that evening—and maybe never.

Tony All Through

Although Zale and his managers hesitate to make it official, asking for a few days to "make up our minds," it was apparent to most of the crowd of 19,272 which paid a sub-par gate of $242,870 that Tony was all finished.

Next in line for Cerdan is supposed to be a return bout with Zale, but that may never happen. The Frenchman's contract for last night's scrap included a little "gimmick" that called for him to defend his title, if he won it, in either Chicago, New York or New Jersey before October, 1949. Zale was to be given preference as the foe.

Texans Continue To Pace Skeet Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 22 (AP) —Texas shooters continued to pace bird busters at the Ntaional Skeet championships.

Grant Ilseng, Houston, took the sub small title yesterday with 98 out of 100.

Lucretia Hammon, Dallas, won class E competition with 97, and Janice Jenkins the women's title with 93 out of 100.

Marvel Is To Tackle Getz

The Masked Marvel, never dedeated in a Lubbock ring, will take on the durable Dutchman, Al Getz, at Sled Allen's wrestling arena tonight in the featured main event.

Getz and the Marvel headline a card that brings together Rex Mobley of Borger and Sailor Parker in the semi-final and Bennie Trudell of Montreal, Que., against Sammy Kohen of New York City in the preliminary.

Marvel Never Defeated

The Marvel never has lost a fight in Lubbock, although he has had to resort to some questionable tactics to win in the past. He's a big, rugged, far from handsome individual who doesn't like to follow the referee's instructions. And if a little dirty work will gain him a fall, he'll take the chance.

But Getz is no sissy in the ring either and is just as ruthless. He may be the man to pin the Marvel for the first time and a good crowd is expected to see the match.

Mobley and Parker should be a good semi-final go, with Parker making another of his visits to the Hub City where he always has done well.

And Trudell and Kohen appear to be another fine attraction for the prelim.

Tickets go on sale at Wylie's Drug store this morning. And fight time for the first match has been moved up to 8:15 p.m.

Black Hubber Night Set Here Thursday

Black Hubber night has been declared at Sam Rosenthal field here Thursday night, when Lubbock's negro baseball team plays the Midland Black Indians, it was announced today.

Since the game is a benefit performance for members of the team, use of the park has been granted on payment only of miscellaneous expenses, and all park and box office help will be furnished by the ball club.

Game time is 8 o'clock, and whites were extended a special invitation to attend and see what James Roy Lewis, Black Hubber manager, believes will be a good ball game.

Texas Ranked Tops Among Grid Powers

By DR. E. E. LITKENHOUS

With Michigan, Notre Dame and a few of the other football bigwigs delaying their debut until this weekend, Texas steps out in first place in the season's first issue of the Litkenhous Difference by Score System.

The Longhorns of Blair Cherry, impressive in their 33-0 romp over L. S. U. last week, notched a rating of 106.2 to head Southern California by 9.3 power points. In third place is another Pacific Coast Conference eleven, U. C. L. A., at 93.7. California is fourth with 91.9 and Texas Christian fifth at 86.3.

Right behind the Horned Frogs is the club which they edged by one point last week—Kansas. Arkansas, an easy winner in its opener, holds down seventh with 85.5, and Oregon is eighth at 85.3. Rounding out the first ten are Villanova, which shocked the Texas Aggies, in ninth at 83.2 and L. S. U. tenth with 75.8.

The first week's ratings include teams which probably will drop out of the top 25 after the bigger "name" combinations go into action.

The top 25 (including only teams which have played games):

Baugh To Set New Records

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Next Sunday afternoon a comparatively old gentleman, name of Samuel Adrian Baugh, will limp out on the football field at Griffith stadium.

Before the day is over, Sammy probably will have set seven new National Football league records.

This isn't as difficult a chore as it sounds.

For Baugh, starting his 12th year as a pro player with the Washington Redskins, has now reached the stage where he can hardly touch a football without breaking a record—his own record, of course.

At Grandfatherish Age

And even though he is 34, an age considered grandfatherish among the pros, and has a leg that's bothering him, Baugh is expected to get away to a record-breaking start.

Look at the records Slingin' Sam holds:

He has tried more passes (2,093) than any other man in the business, completed more (1,202) for the best average (.574).

This has enable him to gain more yards (15,197), or around eight and a half miles) than any other passer. His average gain (12.64 yards) is also the best. And his passes have meant more touchdowns (128).

Even when Sam is off form he's off form in a record-breaking way.

If some member of the Pittsburgh Steelers intercepts a Baugh pass Sunday, that, too, will be a record. So far, 139 Baugh passes have gone astray.

This 26th Year

This will be the 26th fall that Baugh has busied himself with football.

"I started in the third grade," he explains.

Back in junior high school Baugh was considered a pretty fair end. The team got beat by something like 58-0, and Baugh was moved to the backfield. He reports that things got better immediately. The next week the team lost by only 55-0.

Last year, working behind a so-so line, Baugh had his greatest year. He completed 210 passes (a season's record) for 2,938 yards (another record). If he's about to the end of the football trail, the record books haven't noticed it.

The Gold Sox won the class C loop's title last night by beating Pampa, 9-7, to win the final playoff series, four games to one.

KILGORE NEEDS ONE WIN FOR PENNANT

(By The Associated Press)

The Drillers edged the Texans, 5-4, last night to take a three games to nothing lead in the championship series.

The fourth game of the series will be played tonight in Longview.

Kilgore's big inning was the fifth. The Drillers scored four runs this frame, offsetting three garnered by Longview in the fourth.

BIG STATE TITLE TO BE DECIDED TONIGHT

The Big State league baseball championship will be decided tonight in Sherman.

Wichita Falls tied up the series, three all, last night by nosing out Sherman-Denison, 7-6.

A ninth inning run and the brilliant relief hurling of Ed Cole paid off for the Spudders.

Frank Pawlik's high fly scored Rip Van Winkle with what proved to be the winning run.

But Cole made sure the Spudders stayed ahead by striking out Glen Snyder, Joe Smaza and Mario Diaz after Don Stokes had tripled to put the tying run on base for the twins.

Cole came in the game in the eighth inning and got the first three men he faced on pop outs to left field.

The score was tied three times. Frank Pawlik blasted a home run for Wichita Falls in the eighth.

FINAL GAME TO BE PLAYED AT MIDLAND

(By The Associated Press)

Midland and Vernon settle the Longhorn league championship tonight.

The Midland Indians squared the final playoff series at three games each last night by coming from behind to take a 3-2 decision.

Twin Simons' two-run homer in the first inning accounted for all of the Dusters' scores.

A single by Eddie Melillo scored the tying and winning runs for Midland in the bottom of the ninth inning.

The championship game tonight will be at Midland.

Matador Club Will Launch Fund Drive

The annual fund drive by the Matador club, composed of former Texas Tech students, is now underway and full cooperation is being requested by Spencer Wells, newly elected president.

Wells said that the Matador club this year would make a short, intensive drive designed to raise funds to avoid having another drive later in the year. If this drive is successful, the funds raised will be enough to meet requirements for the year.

Any person not reached individually by a Matador member, and who wants to join the fund drive, may contribute by mailing a check payable to the Matador club. The envelope should be addressed to Post Office box No. 981.

Funds raised by voluntary contributions around town are used to provide athletic scholarships for athletes at Tech, including football, basketball, track, tennis and other sports. A good athlete who might be unable to attend Tech otherwise, thus is enabled to have part of his education cared for without embarrassment.

Wells asked merchants called upon for contributions to co-operate in the program, pointing out that Texas Tech is one of the largest business firms in the city and directly responsible for much of Lubbock's growth.

Most base hits during a season was George Sisler's 257 with the St. Louis Browns in 1920. Lefty O'Doul, 1929 Phillies, and Bill Terry, 1930 Giants, both made 254 hits.

BOWLING SCORES

The McFarland-Maisen and Walton's Men's Store each swept four points from their opponents last night, while the Mission Orange five won three of four points from Hemphill-Wells in Major Bowling league play.

Waltons turned back the defending champions, Hub Clothiers; McFarland-Maisen took the Westerner Cafe; and Mission Orange beat Hemphill-Wells.

Several high games were rolled, with O'Keefe setting the pace on a 245, although he was tied by Brown. Other high games were rolled by Ken Kimble, 219; Welch, 214; A. E. Christensen, 213; Struve, 211; Jim Buckner, 210; Reed, 208; and George Tate, 204.

Heavyweight Dies From Head Iniuries

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22 (AP)—Bill (Chicken) Thompson, 21-year-old Philadelphia heavyweight, died last night of head injuries sustained last Thursday in a "comeback" fight against Johnny Haynes of New York.

Thompson, the fifth fighter to die of ring injuries this year in the United States, was knocked out by Haynes with only three seconds remaining of their scheduled eight-round bout at Toppi stadium.

GOP's Cautioned By Leader In Maine

BOSTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—Republicans were cautioned today by Maine's Senator-elect Margaret Chase Smith (R) that the Democrats might win the November election unless they "roll up their sleeves."

On the basis of past performances, she said, the recent Maine gubernatorial voting indicates a national November Republican vote of 45.6 per cent against 54.4 per cent for the Democrats.

"This," she said, "would mean a Democratic victory of percentage proportions great enough to take not only the White House but also both houses of Congress unless the Wallaceites and States Rights Democrats can take away enough votes."

Mrs. Smith—the second woman ever elected to the Senate—told the Business and Professional Women's Republican club last night that the Truman administration had "undermined the confidence of not only the United States but of all nations trying to be all things to all men at all times."

She charged that the national administration is "dangerously deficient in leadership and woefully inadequate for making decisions."

Romania Gets No Equipment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—A Romanian request for American oil equipment has been turned down by the United States government.

Officials disclosed that an order by the Communist-controlled nation for $9,500,000 worth of machinery from an American firm was blocked several weeks ago by the State department.

The department's action came in the form of a note to the Romanian minister, who had protested the Commerce department's refusal to grant an export license for the equipment.

Machinery Shipped

The American firm—the International Derrick and Equipment Co., of Dallas and Columbus—had shipped $1,500,000 worth of the machinery to Romania before government export license regulations went into effect March 1.

Officials said that while the company violated no laws, it sent the shipment despite State department disapproval. That was denied by a company official, R. E. Reimer.

Official Is Quoted

"We have cooperated 100 percent with the Commerce and State departments," he declared. "At one time they told us to go ahead and take all the orders we could in Romania because it would help trade."

Romanian oil production goes exclusively to nations in the Russian bloc in eastern Europe.

Senate Dispute

ments on the jurisdiction of his court, Davidson said:

Maze Of Decisions

"There is a maze of decisions here, most of which bear in mind the right of a man to vote.

"In our opinion if there were no statutes on the books this man (Stevenson) would have a hearing in this court.

"Under the circumstances I am going to have to overrule the motion."

After court convened at 10 a. m., today, John Cofer of Austin, attorney for Johnson, concluded his argument against the federal district court's right under the law to try the injunction suit brought by Stevenson.

Then Judge Davidson gave Dan Moody of Austin, attorney for Stevenson, brief rebuttal time.

Stevenson sought an injunction to keep Johnson's name off the general election ballot in November as the Texas Democratic nominee for U. S. senator.

Arguments Continued

Judge Davidson yesterday overruled a motion by Johnson's attorneys that the case be dismissed. The attorneys claimed in that motion that the court lacked jurisdiction.

But after the judge had overruled the motion, Johnson's attorneys asked for, and obtained, Davidson's permission to continue their arguments on the jurisdictional question.

After Cofer had finished the judge said that the defense had consumed more time on the dismissal question than the plaintiff. Moody then took the floor for Stevenson.

Stevenson's legal advisors were hoping to back their charges of South Texas ballot stuffing with some South Texas witnesses today.

Corer, in his concluding argument, asserted:

"This is an effort to build up a smoke screen based on fictitious claims of fraud, an effort to delay this matter for four days so this young man (Johnson) cannot be certified."

Then, waving his arms at Stevenson's attorneys, Cofer, stated: "They had rather have a Republican as senator from Texas than have Lyndon B. Johnson certified."

He challenged Stevenson's forces to find any similar case on which a federal court had heard testimony.

Moody said that Stevenson had been delayed in the injunction suit because information on Jim Wells county voting had not been obtained by Stevenson until Friday before the state Democratic convention.

He said that the Stevenson action had been further delayed by a district court injunction that prevented a recanvass of the Jim Wells county votes.

Johnson obtained such an injunction in district court at Alice on September 13, the day before the state Democratic convention met in Fort Worth.

the Panhandle and South Plains. They believe also that the impounded water can be used to generate electric power and some of it for irrigation.

Have About Six Months

The interested cities have approximately six months in which to collect and present evidence in support of the project, Mayor Rodgers said.

Army engineers, he explained, have agreed to withhold that long an unfavorable report on the financial practicability of the dam as a self-liquidating undertaking.

Lubbock and Amarillo officials contend that the Army engineers' report considered only the flood control advantages which would result from construction of the dam.

It is their further contention that, if the value of the water impounded for domestic, industrial and irrigation purposes and the recreational advantages should be considered, the financial feasibility of the undertaking will be established.

It was the opinion of the municipal officials that the project would pay for itself in half of the 40 years allowed by the government for the liquidation of such undertaking.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

MARKET GOES HIGHER

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP) — Stimulated by a demand for rails, the stock market moved higher today.

The volume was about 750,000 shares.

In quiet trading the railroads turned up by as much as 2 points with oils and steels following along for gains up to a point.

Early dealings were so quiet that trends in various groups were difficult to ascertain. However, only in a few cases were prices higher than major fractions in late trade.

The best performers were Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Standard Oil (NJ), Sinclair Oil, American Smelting, Electric Power & Light and Montgomery Ward.

Motors as a group were steady as were utilities. Chemicals were mixed.

The rise was a continuation of yesterday's recovery. The follow-through, however, was accompanied by small volume, a disappointing element to brokers on the bullish side of the market.

Republican Speaks Of "Straight Lane"

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (AP)—The Republican candidate for governor, Alvin H. Lane, told Texans last night about "the straight lane" he has mapped out for the state.

In a radio speech here, Lane said:

"I shall call my path 'the straight lane' in order to distinguish it from the meandering vacillating path followed by my opponent, which would up last week with a complete turn to the left."

Lane asked Texans to vote the straight Republican ticket.

"Just how devoted are you to the cause of states' rights?" He asked. "Enough to be willing to vote for a Republican president in order to preserve your freedom?"

Lane said a governor of Texas could find no better principle to defend in national politics than that of states rights. He said he had the utmost respect for those "stalwart Texans who have refused to sacrifice their principles to set up their own States' Rights party.

"I do, however, most respectfully differ with them as to which is the best course to follow."

Florida Storm

from being injured or killed by live wires.

Gusts Hit 160 MPH

Winds in gusts as high as 160 miles an hour were recorded by the Navy yesterday at Key West. On the Florida mainland, the little fishing village of Everglades City, where General Eisenhower and baseball's Ted Williams go for the sport, was hit by 125-mile an hour winds.

The storm offered a grave threat to the vegetable farming area on the southern and eastern shores of Lake Okeechobee. Evacuation trains went in to take out refugees, but reports indicated most residents preferred to stay and take their chances, confident that the great levee around the lake would hold.

William John Evans, 46, engineer at the Tatem Surf club on Miami Beach, was killed when blown from the roof of the five-story building.

Mrs. Ben J. Kincaid, 56, was electrocuted when she touched a live wire in the yard of her home in Coconut Grove, a Miami suburb.

Streets Are Flooded

Damage to Miami was limited to uprooted palm trees, broken power lines, smashed windows and billboards. Streets were flooded by torrential rains. Transportation was disrupted, schools remained closed and business suspended.

Miami Beach reported some show windows blown in, trees uprooted or snapped off by the gusty, twisting winds, and aluminum shutters torn off. A wall of a night club, being rebuilt, was flattened.

Rough water undermined a span of the MacArthur causeway connecting Miami and Miami Beach and the bridge was closed to traffic.

Reports of damage trickled in. Thirty privately owned boats were sunk, three Navy craft damaged and two Coast Guard boats driven ashore at Key West. Houses were unroofed and water rose to a depth of three feet on the east side of the island.

Docks Washed Out

All docks at Tavernier, midway down the keys, were washed out. The overseas highway from Miami to Key West was flooded and closed to traffic.

A small tornado, spawned by the hurricane, tore a path through a farming section near Homestead. It demolished a farmhouse, unroofed another and damaged several others. No persons were reported injured there.

The Miami weather bureau on the 17th floor of the Technical High school, developed leaks that caused Chief Storm Forecaster Norton to grab a mop.

He said he based these figures on a government estimate that there are three million acres on the Plains that will some day be irrigated. Fortenberry estimated value of the underground water on this land at $100 the acre.

Fortenberry said a U. S. Geological survey had found no critical underground water shortage in Texas.

John S. Simmang, Giddings, county judge of Lee county, was elected president of the association, succeeding E. C. Grindstaff, Ballinger, county judge of Runnels county. That was the concensus of a football roundup of prospects for Texas Tech's Red Raiders and the Lubbock High school Westerners given by Joe Kelly, sports editor of the Avalanche-Journal, at the luncheon program of the Exchange club at Hotel Lubbock today noon. Kelly reviewed the WSTC game Tech played Saturday night and declared the collegians showed a greatly improved spirit this year over last season. "The A. & M. game Saturday night will go a long way toward determining the kind of team we are going to have this season," he said. He declared sports writers were unfair in rating the Westerners in No. 4 spot after tieing Odessa and said this was possibly a factor in their defeat by San Angelo. Kelly was introduced by Bedford Raley, program chairman.

First showing of post-war Brit-ish automobiles will be held tonight for Lubbock residents, it was announced today. Three models will be displayed. They are a Rolls-Royce limousine, a Jaguar sportsman convertible and an "MG" runabout. They will be shown at Hub Lee Tire company, Seventeenth and Ave. H, which was recently appointed dealer for this area.

Sternists Threaten Palestine Mediator

HAIFA, Israel, Sept. 22 (AP)—Reliable sources said today members of the outlawed Stern gang have made at least indirect threats against the life of Dr. Ralph J Bunche, acting United Nations mediator in Palestine.

Bunche, an American, has taken over the duties of Count Folke Bernadotte, assisinated last Friday in Jerusalem. The Israeli government has accused Sternists of Bernadotte's slaying.

Prominent Resident Of New Mexico Dies

John S. Eaves, 74, prominent resident of Lovington, N. M., died of a heart ailment at 7:50 p. m. Tuesday in Lubbock Memorial hospital.

He was a banker and stockman. He had been a patient in the hospital since Sept. 12.

The body was taken to Rix Funeral home and later sent to Lovington, where services will be conducted Thursday under direction of Yarbro Funeral home.

Sweden Will Honor Mediator's Memory

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 22 (AP)—Sweden prepared today to honor the memory of her Red Cross leader, Count Folke Bernadotte.

The funeral of the assassinated United Nations' Palestine mediator will be held Sunday in Gustav Vasa church here. Swedes from all walks of life will attend, including his kinsmen, members of King Gustav's royal house.

Bernadotte's body, brought by plane from Jerusalem, arrived last night at Bromma airfield, outside Stockholm, American-born Countess Estelle Bernadotte, grief-stricken but without tears, received the remains of her husband.

The countess, her two sons, Folke and Bertil, and the count's father, Prince Oscar, met the two planes that came from Paris on the last stage of the trip with the body and Bernandotte's staff.

Members of the royal house, government and military officials, boy scouts, Red Cross officials and private citizens also were there. As a choir sang a hymn, the flag-wrapped casket was carried to a hearse.

Milk Monopoly

trust violations by 12 milk companies in El Paso, Dallas and Fort Worth.

The Borden company is a defendant in four different suits now pending.

Companies distributing more than one-half the milk consumed in Texas are now involved in anti-trust cases, Daniel estimated.

Since the last previous raise in milk prices by the South Texas association in December of last year, feed prices have gone down 10 to 15 per cent by the association's own admission, contained in a sworn affidavit, the attorney general commented.

Shortage Is Seen

He said the association explained it went up on the price in order to attract milk into the Houston area in view of a possible milk shortage this winter.

Daniel's suit alleges that a monopoly has been formed in Harris county resulting in price fixing of retail and wholesale milk to consumers and elimination of competition in the milk producing and distributing industry.

The restraining order enjoins the association of milk companies from making and enforcing price fixing agreements and restrictions on competition in Harris county and restrains the South Texas Producers association from entering similar agreements with milk distributors in other parts of the state.

State Operation Planned

Daniel said this would apply to the association's activities in Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Lufkin, Waco, Longview and other cities in which the association operates.

The association has been proposing to make its operation statewide in nature, and this would give it control of the entire milk supply of Texas, the attorney general observed.

The state's suit will not interfere with or challenge the right of the milk producers cooperative to work together in marketing milk produced by members of the association, Daniel added.

The petition alleges that the association and Houston plants control 97 per cent of all the milk purchased, processed and sold to consumers in Harris county and that the association is planning to create similar monopolies in other sections of the state.

The suit charges that anti-trust laws have been violated since Oct. 3, 1947, and asks penalties of $50 to $1,500 for each day since that date.

Dillard Trial

panel of 200 called for the trial, was accepted as the first juror. Geo. L. Henzler, third name on the list, a Slaton business man, was taken as the second one.

Other jurors, in the order of their acceptance, were John V. Shropshire of Lubbock, J. C. McClellan of Lubbock, Arlie T. Arnold of Shallowater, E. L. Beever of Lubbock, J. W. Burleson of Lubbock, and Frank Henry of Lubbock.

Defense counsel questions in qualifying the jurors indicated that Dillard's defense will be built around a self-defense plea. Counsel for both sides were questioning prospective jurors closely on the laws of self defense.

Trial Was Delayed

The trial had been delayed from Monday, when it was originally docketed, when Judge Pardue granted a defense motion for delay based on an amended report by the sheriff's department concerning service (notice) to the original 200 on the special venire jury panel.

A total of 91 from the special panel answered the court's call this morning, and one of those was excused, leaving 90 from which to select the jury.

The others had been excused for various reasons, such as occupational exemption, over age, and emergency matters.

The defendant is represented by Burks and McNeill, and Vickers and Vickers. Assisting District Attorney Lloyd Croslin with the prosecution are L. A. Howard and Victor H. Lindsey.

In the courtroom with Dillard this morning was his wife, who was with him also at the Monday hearing when the trial was delayed until today, and his mother, Mrs. Alma Dillard.

pany-union negotiations.

Striking CIO longshoremen are handling Army cargoes at Pacific coast ports under contracts between the Army and two stevedoring firms not connected with the Waterfront Employers' association. The association has refused to negotiate with maritime unions who have not signed non-communist affidavits.

Pickets were expected to be withdrawn from the Oakland port under an agreement for the removal of commercial cargo piled on the docks. The loading or discharge of struck ships is not involved.

The strike started Sept. 2 after a breakdown in negotiations over hiring halls and a longshore wage increase demand from $1.67 to $1.82 an hour.

Imagination Got Best Of All Parties

Fast Talker Facing Swindle Charge Has One Complaint

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 22.—Bald-headed Harry Zable imagined today what it would be like in the county jail facing charges for his well-devised Gulf coast real estate swindle.

The 53 year-old promoter, a graduate of Canada's Magill university, had already used his imagination to ease some $8,000 away from investors in a fictitious $10,000,000 hospital-industrial development at nearby Pasadena.

Zable, ready for removal from the city jail to the county jail today had but one complaint.

"They didn't give me time to get the plan going—now they've ruined everything," he said, and added, "it was only about $800, anyhow."

But that figure held no water with William Oncken, the chief complainant, who told the district attorney's office he gave Zable $90 for a lot in the Pasadena delevolpment sector. Oncken claimed his parents and three other investors had entrusted their life savings to Zable, amounting to $8,000.

Zable allegedly told "interested" parties he represented the Achilles syndicate of New York City. The syndicate's address, which he gave as 120 Broadway turned out to be the New York Better Business Bureau.

Oncken told police he became suspicious when he learned that Zable planned to leave town.

Meantime, Zable's bride of nine months flew into Houston to assemble legal batteries for her husband's defense.

"I'll stick by him until hell freezes over," she commented.

Violet T. Black, the WCTU treasurer, charged that the armed forces, especially during the peacetime draft, "are schools for future alcoholism in selling beer to enlisted men and allowing liquor in officers clubs."

She said 10,000 cases of alcoholism were treated in veterans hospitals in 1947.

Building Permits For Month Tops Million

Permits for two residences costing a total of $36,623 today made September the sixth month of 1948, a record total, during which new construction exceeding $1,000,000 in value has been authorized.

The permits were issued to W. B. Gates, owner, and J. R. Thomas, contractor, frame residence at 3202 Twenty-second, $22,623, and Wade Walker, brick veneer dwelling at 2831 Twenty-fourth, $14,000.

The permit total for the month was increased to $1,055,400, as compared with $909,571 for the whole of September, 1947. The building total for the year was boosted to $10,566,888, as compared with $8,743,233 for the first nine months of last year.

Heirs To Fortune Want Part In Food

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22. (AP)—American dollars may be green but they're not edible. So Yugoslavian heirs to a $100,000 estate have asked court here to convert some of that into food.

In a strange petition filed yesterday, Fred W. Axe, executor of the estate of Dimitri Popov, made this request on behalf of the parents, Darja and Ivan Popoff, both in their eighties.

Axe said he was told by the Popoffs that money is worthless in Belgrade because of the scarcity of food. The executor said he found the aged couple selling their household items to buy food and they asked him to convert part of the estate.

The son, known as Ivan Dennis, died last May in Pasadena, leaving a fortune in stocks and bonds.

Superior Judge Newcomb Condee will hear the petition Oct. 15.

Jeschke, who was born in Germeny, worked for the Western Electric company for many years before retiring on pension in 1909 at the age of 62.

Louisiana Solons Called To Consider HST Ballot Listing

BATON DOUGE, La., Sept. 22. (AP)—President Truman's chance to try on even terms for Louisiana's ten electoral votes today was in the hands of the state's legislators, gathering here for a suddenly summoned special session.

Gov. Earl K. Long called them on one day's notice to consider restoring Mr. Truman's name to the state ballot from which it was stricken by the Democratic state central committee on Sept. 10.

The suddenness of the summons and the hour set for convening—10 p. m. tonight, reminded Louisianians of the urgent special sessions that marked the regime of the governor's brother, the late Huey P. Long.

The governor said legislation would be submitted permitting the national Democratic party "if they have no overwhelming objection" to qualify elector candidates for Mr. Truman as the candidate of the national party.

The state central committee, top governing body of the Democratic party in Louisiana, has declared the states' rights Democratic candidates, Gov Strom Thurmond of South Carolina for president and Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi for vice-president, the Louisiana Democratic candidates. The governor, though he is a committee member, did not participate in the action.

National Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath said in New York yesterday he had telegraphed Governor Long protesting against listing the President on the Louisiana ballot in any way except as the official Democratic nominee. The governor said he hadn't received the telegram, but that the national party would be given "plenty of time" to qualify elector candidates as nominees of the national party "if it chooses to." Without legislative action, Truman elector nominees would have been at most write-in candidates.

Other Purposes Listed

"I most respectfully protest," McGrath had telegraphed, "any effort to compromise the right of these nominees (Truman-Barkley) by any scheme to shunt them off into a column other than that always accorded nominees of the Democratic party. The regular members of the Democratic party of Louisiana are entitled to have the Truman-Barkley ticket presented to them as the regular nominees of the Democratic party."

The formal call for the special session, listing the purposes for which it is convened, was still being prepared today. Legislators were alerted by telegram last night.

There was speculation that the call, or later supplementary calls, might also include proposed modification of some of the record taxes imposed by the legislature on the governor's recommendation at this year's regular session. Other possible legislative objects figuring in speculation were supplementing school lunch funds to provide hot meals completely free to all pupils and repeal of the state civil service law, already considerably amended.

ROSES ALL GONE FROM RUTH'S CHEEKS

*Maybe Ruth's got a Borderline Anemia

There are thousands like Ruth—women whose pale faces and listless, languid ways make them wallflowers at dances, duds on a date.

These pale, tired people seldom know what's wrong but, in many cases, faded red blood cells are holding them back. They may have a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this tiring blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. Minor Changes At Schools Announced

Four elementary schools of Lubbock were affected by minor changes announced Tuesday afternoon by Superintendent R. W. Matthews.

Since it was found possible to equip one room at Dupre school with rest room facilities, the School for Exceptional Children has been moved to that school. Mrs. Josephine Ballenger is teacher of the 12 handicapped and crippled children who attend this special school.

During the first two weeks of the school year the exceptional children had been attending at the Cottage school, so the change allowed fifth grade students in the Cottage zone to be moved from K. Carter to the Cottage school. This alleviated a crowded condition at K. Carter which necessitated using the school cafeteria as a classroom during a portion of the school day, Matthews said.

At East Broadway where 97 students are enrolled in the third grade it was necessary to put these students on a half day session. The superintendent explained that he could arrange to have a school bus transport one room of third grade children from the East Broadway school to another school building each day, and should enough parents approve this plan the half-day session for the third grades would not be necessary. It would be possible to pick up the students at the Broadway school campus to take them to another school should parents approve such a plan to avoid the half-day schedule.

Russian Withdrawal In Korea Is Old Shell-Game Exhibition

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

That's an interesting though not particularly adroit exhibition of the old shell-game given by Russia in announcing that she will withdraw her troops from northern Korea by the new year, and calling on Uncle Sam to pull out of the south.

On the face of it this is a big-hearted gesture of amity, and is calculated thus to impress the unwarry. However, we may be quite sure that if American troops did withdraw from southern Korea, the Bolshevists would move to take over quicker than you could lose a silver dollar by trying to guess which shell the elusive pea is under.

Dish Still On Fire

This isn't to say that the United States might not decide to withdraw. That's a dish which still is on the fire. There are two schools of thought on this subject of withdrawal. One holds that it would be a strategic error to pull out. The other maintains that it's a mistake to stay since there is such a thing as spreading your strength too thin, and furthermore America has military forces in neighboring Japan.

Whether Russia will indeed withdraw if the United States does not, remains to be seen. The Muscovites might pull back across the frontier into Manchuria in any event. And why not? Northern Korea has been thoroughly communized. A Soviet government has been established, and it's an open secret that the country is overrun with the Bolshevist armed secret police which spearhead the setting up of any Soviet regime. We've seen the ruthless efficacy of such police in countries like Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Reds Equip Big Army

Moreover the Russians have organized and equipped a big Korean army in their northern zone and, judging from past events, we may be sure this force is heavily officered by Russians. Thus even if the Muscovites did pull back into Manchuria, there still would remain a big "Korean" force of soldiers and police which could be used to invade southern Korea with the idea of overthrowing the new republic there and consolidating the two zones under the Communist regime of the north. As a matter of fact, the Red government has broadcast its intention of smashing the southern republic.

Korea is small, but strategically she is a mighty atom. For centuries the Korean peninsula, which projects down between the sea of Japan and the Yellow Sea from Manchuria and Siberia, stood between Japan and her continental ambitions. No wonder Japan complained that Korea was "a dagger pointing at her heart." Controlled by Communism, Korea would be a dagger pointing at the heart of peace. Certainly it enters into the picture of the great new Red offensive to overrun the Orient.

U. S. Response Givtn

Washington's response to the Russian announcement about withdrawal is that American troops of occupation will remain in Korea until the United Nations general assembly considers the Korean situation at Paris. The State department said the United States has no intention of withdrawing troops forthwith.

Whatever action the assembly may take, one assumes that it will represent the views of the anti-Communist states, since they are in the majority.

Fold grated cheese or finely-chopped parsley into a puffy omelet for a flavor change. Serve with crisp potato sticks (packaged) and a green salad. Add hot biscuits, homemade preserves and coffee for a delicious easily-prepared supper.

TEACHERS GET IN ON TRINKETS—Lubbock business men boosting the Panhandle-South Plains fair always remember the teachers when they visit schools on their trips over the area. In the picture above, Ernie St. Clair and Joe Bob Johnston are shown handing souvenirs to Miss Carolyn Brunnier, Mrs. Fred Dorman and Mrs. W. J. Griffith at Lockney Tuesday. Mrs. Dorman was a mother visiting the school. (Staff Photo.)

FREDERICKSBURG, Feb. 22. (AP)—Tom Martin, lawyer, newspaper columnist and state representative, died here yesterday after a long illness.

The 56-year-old lawmaker had been ill four months.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of a son, Clarence, from California.

Other survivors include his wife and his mother, Mrs. Clarence Martin of Stonewall, Tex.

Elected to the state legislature in 1917, Martin resigned to enter the army in World War 1. He served overseas as a captain and won the Croix De Guerre, one of France's highest military decorations.

Served As Columnist

Martin practiced law in California after the war but returned to Texas in 1934 and established his home at Stonewall.

He was elected again to the legislature in 1946 and was reelected

Diplomats Suspect Secret Red Meeting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—American diplomats think there may be a secret conference of top Soviet bloc officials under way in Russia.

Reports from several capitals that a number of leaders in the satellite countries appear to be out of circulation indicate to U. S. officials that such a strategy meeting either is in progress or has just ended.

One eastern European leader is known to be in Russia on "vacation." Officials here speculate that the others might also have been there—for a meeting of the Cominform, or conferences with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

Molotov Not In Paris

Molotov was the only one of the big four foreign ministers who did not go to Paris for the United Nations general assembly session.

Communist officials reported to be absent from eastern European capitals include Anna Pauker, Romania's foreign minister, and George Dimitrov, Bulgarian prime minister.

Czechslovakia's President Klement Gottwald has gone to Russia, ostensibly for a vacation at a Crimean Black Sea coastal resort. But responsible officials here said there have been unconfirmed reports he has been seen in Moscow.

Also missing for a time was Mathew Rakosi, Hungarian deputy prime minister and a leader in the communist overturn of last year. But a dispatch from Budapest said he was seen there in public on Monday.

Topics Plentiful

Officials said they are not sure whether a meeting has been held, and if so they do not profess to know what took place. But because Russia's major moves often have developed from secret conferences, they were keenly interested.

It was a meeting "somewhere in Poland" that issued the announcement of the new Cominform (Com-

PROGRAM TO START THURSDAY

Field Days For Farmers And District 4-H Pig Show Set

Two field days for farmers of the area Thursday and Friday, and the annual district pig show for 4-H club boys to be held Saturday at the fair grounds, were announced yesterday by W. N. Williamson, district agent of the extension service.

The field days, similar to the one held recently for Lubbock county, when farm and stock demonstrations of various kinds are inspected, were planned in two sections for the convenience of farmers. It is believed that more benefit will be derived by those attending if smaller groups attend each of the two days instead of one large group on the same day.

16 Counties Included

Thursday has been set primarily for farmers in Hale, Dawson, Swisher, Terry, Yoakum, Floyd, Castro, and Parmer counties, and Friday was designated for Lynn, Hockley, Cochran, Lamb, Garza, Crosby, Bailey and Gaines counties.

Williamson explained that farmers or others interested may atten either or both days if they desire, and that Lubbock county was not included in either group on account of the recent field day for them. He said, however, that Lubbock county farmers and others are welcome to attend any or all of the meetings.

The day's program is to start at 10 a. m. at the experiment station, where various crop production and irrigation methods will be observed.

In the afternoon, the group will visit individual farms where soil conservation or other outstanding farm practices are being carried out, then will go to Texas Tech college, to inspect farming methods there.

At the college much emphasis is to be placed on livestock, particularly dairying and the artificial insemination program.

Farmers throughout the area were invited to participate in the field days, designed to inform them on the latest developments in crop production.

The district 4-H club pig show, to be held in the swine barns at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon, is expected to bring entries from at least 12 counties in the annual awards contest sponsored by the Sears Foundation.

Winners in this county are to be selected at the Lubbock county show Saturday morning. Other county shows have already been held, or will be held before Saturday, and county winners over the area compete that afternoon in the district show here.

BATTLE WITH BLURBS

MADRAS, (AP)—Three Madrasi barbers who had made a fortune in Malaya returned home and started shops of their own in one of the busiest streets of the city.

The first called his: "The best saloon in India." And the second, to excel his rival, called his: "The best saloon in the world.'

The third simply styled his shop: "The best saloon in the street."

In India, saloon means barber's shop.

Week's Wages For Rent Is Twice Average Renter's Payment, Reserve Board Reports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—If you're paying the traditional week's wages for one month's rent, then it's costing you twice the average rent-payer's outlay, a government report shows.

Some 17,000,000 Americans were paying out an average of 12 per cent of their monthly income for rent at the start of the year, the Federal Reserve board said. The median rent was $30—which means half the nation's renters paid more than that, the other half less.

The reserve board also disclosed that the number of home owners has risen to a record 18,500,000 total. And it indicated that many of these wish they were renters instead.

Rental Units Short

"The acute shortage of rental units has no doubt forced many families to buy homes, often at inflated prices and somewhat beyond their means, simply in order to obtain shelter," the report said.

The survey, which did not cover people who own or rent farms, also showed:

1. Some 2,000,000 families were sharing other families' quarters rent-free.

2. Families with low income paid out a bigger slice for rent, with a top of 21 per cent for those with incomes under $2,000. Families earning $5,000 or more, averaged only nine per cent for rental payments

Owners Fewer In Cities

3. "Two-person families with no children seemed to have paid somewhat higher rents than any of those with children." And families with one child "usually paid more rent than did those with two or more children."

4. Two out of three families with incomes under $3,000 owned their own homes—at least, they had the titles plus a mortgage on them. Among families with over $7,500, three out of four were home owners.

5. Ownership rose in pace with age. It also was much more fre-

Movie Studio Keeps Recorded Noises For Short Notice Use

By JACK QUIGG
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22. — A short burp, the plaintive whistle of a distant train, a cougar's cough and a gallows' clatter are a few of thousands of odd noises that are the daily concern of movie sound men.

The noises, recorded on the sound tracks of standard movie film, are kept ready for short notice use. Thus, if Mickey Rooney's sneeze comes out off key, sound men merely bud in one of hundreds on file in the library.

MGM's collection is typical. Sounds from airplanes to zippers are carefully catalogued and stored in fireproof vaults. This "library" consists of four walk-in vaults, each holding 2,000 cans of film.

Plane Sounds Listed

Under airplanes, for example, are listed sounds for planes idling, taxiing, taking off, landing and diving, as heard from both inside the draft and on the ground. One card even reads: "old bi-plane, fairly hot, circling."

Most animals found in zoos, and many that aren't have had their vocalizing immortalized on celluloid. On hand are a bull elephant's bellow, the chatter of a squirrel and the unmistakable warnings of rattlesnakes and bumblebees. Camels are classified as barkings, growling or crying. Dogs are listed by breed.

"Our sounds are 99 per cent authentic," says Mike Steinore, in charge of the library. "It's easier to record the real thing than it is to invent a substitute."

MGM Adds To Files

MGM has been adding to its files since 1926. Occasionally a film will require a noise that calls for the mixing skill of an expert chef.

The "Green Dolphin Street" script called for an avalanche. By blending the sound of thunder with the crash of falling trees, tearing timber and falling glass—done inside a glass greenhouse for greater resonance—an avalanche was achieved.

For the atomic bomb explosion in "The Beginning Of The End" the sound men simply amplified and extended their biggest explosion, a 16 inch cannon blast.

Peanuts and peanut butter can be used in many ways in cooking everything from soup to desserts. Peanuts go well with such vegetables as cabbage, celery, eggplant, onions and potatoes.

SOME CALVES AND A SHINN MAKE PRETTY PICTURES—If you're interested in calves, you might like the one at left, above—no, not THAT one—the four-footed one. It's a pedigreed Jersey calf, named Annabelle, and is an entry in the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona, Calif. The other calf belongs to comely Gwen De Voli, Princess of the Livestock. Maybe you're not interested in calves. For you we present Diana Shinn, at right, San Francisco night club dancer, leading contestant for the title of Queen of the forthcoming Portola Festival. The festival celebrates the third discovery of San Francisco Bay by Don Gaspar de Portola in 1769.

Russia Has No Atom Bomb, General Says

PARIS, Sept. 22 (AP) — Russia probably has not yet produced an atom bomb, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said last night. He indicated it might take the Soviets another five years to make one.

McNaughton, Canada's representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy commission, said in an interview that "we are quite certain Russia has not yet produced an atomic bomb."

"The United States, Britain and Canada have leadership in atomic energy developments despite feverish Russian attempts to produce a bomb of their own," he said.

"There is no cause now for hysteria. We have a short time — perhaps five years—in which to reach a system on international atomic control before a time for hysteria really arrives."

Freshmen At Tech Given English Tests

Freshmen English students at Texas Technological college this fall are being sectionized according to their present knowledge of English fundamentals, Dr. Truman W. Camp, head of the English department has announced.

"Grades made on entrance examinations will be combined with the grade which each student will make on a theme which his present instructor will assign to determine just how much of the basic principals of English the student knows, and how much must yet be taught to him, and he will be sectionized accordingly," Dr. Camp stated.

Ten sections have been kept open to allow students to be sectionized according to their averages, he said.

"This method, it is hoped, will enable those students who have slight knowledge of English to receive more instruction on the basic principals, and eliminate, to some extent, repetition of material that students already know," Dr. Camp said.

Nominees Set In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 22 (AP)—A 59-year-old drug chain owner and a 34-year-old former army sergeant will fight it out for Wisconsin's governorship in November.

The odds will be overwhelmingly in favor of the drug executive, Oscar Rennebohm, the present chief executive and the Republican party victor in Wisconsin's primary election yesterday.

His opponent will be Carl W. Thompson, young Stoughton attorney and hope of the Democrats.

The Republican primary produced only one upset, the unseating in his race for renomination of Rep. William H. Stevenson, third district representative for eight years. He trailed former congressman Gardner Withrow by 1,300 votes with only five of the district's 372 precincts missing.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, who with eight of the state's 10 congressmen had opposition, was being pressed by Charles Madsen in the tenth district. With 336 of 404 precincts reporting, O'Konski's lead was 1,800 votes. Other incumbents were renominated easily.

Rennebohm won the nomination by beating Ralph M. Immel, of Madison, a former Progressive state adjutant general and an army general in the European theater during the second world war.

On the basis of incomplete reports Rennebohm's margin may reach 70,000 votes. Unofficial returns from 2,517 of the state's 3,140 precincts gave Rennebohm 202,063 to 156,487 for Immell.

Thompson, leader of a group of young Democrats who hope to rejuvenate their party in the state, defeated a self-termed "conservative Democrat," William D. Carroll of Prairie Du Chien, by some 25,000 votes. In 2,436 precincts Thompson had 43,279 votes to 21,265 for Carroll.

Thompson faces a herculean task, however, as his party polled less than 20 per cent of the total vote in the primary. In Wisconsin's 100 years of statehood there have been only two Democratic governors.

The state, birthplace and graveyard of one Progressive party, also apparently gave notice that it will provide little help to Henry Wallace's organization under the same name.

Henry J. Berquist, of Rhinelander, Wallace's candidate for governor, polled only a little more than one vote to a precinct in the primary. His total in 2,167 precincts was 2,759. Berquist had no opposition, however, so the vote can not be conclusive.

Worst Yet To Come For Man In Boston

BOSTON, Sept. 22 (INS)—'Twas truly a bad day today for at least one man in Boston—and the worst is yet to come.

Judge F. W. L. Miles doffed his judicial robe in Roxbury court and hastened to the First National bank.

There he confronted a man who had tried to cash a $300 check which allegedly bore the "signature" of the jurist.

Judge Miles pointed out that in the first place the check was dated Sunday, which automatically made it void; in the second, that he didn't know the man, and in the third, that he never signed the check anyhow.

The man was taken away. Tomorrow he is scheduled to appear in Roxbury court. Judge Miles will be sitting on the bench.

Panama Canal Defenses Have Inadequate Check On Workers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—Rep. Rees (R-Kas). said today Panama canal defenses are "needlessly jeopardized" in inadequate U. S. loyalty checks on Panamanian workers.

"In view of the importance of the canal to our national security," he said, "such employes should be investigated by the FBI."

Rees is chairman of the House civil service committee.

He said the committee "has been concerned" because a 1947 presidential order opened classified civil service positions to citizens of Panama. Rees said the Civil Service commission has agreed to investigations of Panama workers but on no stricter basis than applied to American citizens.

Citizenship Easily Obtained

This, he said, was done despite public testimony before his committee "that Paramanian citizenship was easily acquired and could be used as an avenue for the infiltration of subversives."

Rees added in a statement:

"In my judgment, under the circumstances, the security of our Panama canal defenses is being needlessly jeopardized because the civil Service commission will not insist upon a more careful check of non-U. S. citizens who will be given civil service jobs and will have access to confidential information about the canal defense and security."

Ensign Charles Kiser, former Navy tackle, is helping coach the junior varsity linemen at Annapolis.

Man In Canada Is In Pretty Pickle

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 22 (AP)—Alphonse Letendre, 21, is in a pretty pickle.

He told a local court yesterday he stole a 40-gallon barrel of tomato pickles from a warehouse. Not liking their flavor, he said, he returned to exchange them for a barrel of dills. Nabbed on the second trip, he was sentenced to six months in jail.

SOMETHING'S GONE TO THEIR HEADS—If you like 'em, you can have 'em, girls—at $30 a copy. They're the latest hair-do's by New York designer Mark and they come in six different colors. At left, Doris Dean models "Noah's Ark," with top hair shaped like a boat containing tiny animals. Ball fringe in French blue circles the forehead. At right, Ann Louise Kitts shows the "Bird's Nest." It features a diamond-shaped bang over the forehead and a coil of braided hair around the crown. From the center of this coil a heavy six-inch shock of hair shoots upward. That is the body of the "bird." Jutting out from the right temple are the "bird's" neck and head.

Air Field For Largest U. S. Bombers Is Built In Alaska

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 22. (AP)—At least one air field capable of handling B-50 bombers and several large enough for the smaller B-29s, are ready in Alaska.

Lt. Gen Nathan Twining, Alaskan commander, revealed the existence of the fields as he came here for a conference with navy officials.

Twining, a veteran of the south Pacific aerial war, expressed the opinion American fliers were as adept at arctic flying as the Russians.

"We know the Russians have the same problems as we have," he said. "They put on their pants one leg at a time the same as we do."

Observe Siberian Approaches

The newly completed Eielson field near Fairbanks is capable of maintaining an aerial offensive with the big B-50 bombers, General Twining said. He described the new field as "a big one."

American fliers training in the hight north country observe the limits of the approach to Siberia, the general said.

"We would like to know more about what's going on in Russian territory," he concluded. "We are using all means we can to find out."

Labor Squabbles At New Low In Texas

AUSTIN, Sept. 22 (AP) — Labor disputes sank to a new low in Texas during August, the Texas Employment commission reported today.

Workers involved in labor controversies totaled 1,339 at the end of August compared to 1,438 at the start. Five disputes involving 216 workers were ended.

The TEC also reported new lows in claims for unemployment insurance and more workers being employed in new industries as business activity continued upward.

Operations were begun by 50 new firms which hired 1,854 workers. Dallas claimed 23 of the new companies, and Fort Worth 10.

Unemployment insurance was claimed by 10,261 non-veterans, with 7,000 actually receiving benefits, the lowest number since the end of the war. Unemployed veterans numbered 13,699 with 11,000 drawing readjustment allowances, the lowest total since September 1945, the commission said.

Network Of Military Air Transport Service Could Be Converted Quickly In Case Of War.

BY WILLIAM McMENAMIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—The Military Air Transport service, born of desperation in the last war, may prove this country's ace-in-the-hole if war should come again.

It proved itself in World War II.

Then, there were two air transport units—the army's Air Transport command (ATC) and the Naval Air Transport service (NATS). Under last year's unification act, they became the Military Air Transport service—MATS.

It is proving itself right now in the "cold war" with Russia, serving as a magic carpet that keeps Soviet-blockaded Berlin provisioned with the necessities of life.

Normal Function Given

Normally, the peacetime function of the Military Air Transport service (MATS) is to carry mail and supplies to U. S. outposts all over the world. It does so on regularly scheduled flights over established routes.

Therein lies its greatest value in case of future tsouble. For it flies a far-flung network of inter-locking bases that could be converted quickly into offensive and defensive bastions.

This system of bases forms a ring around the northern hemisphere. Inside that ring lie nearly all the major countries of the world—including Russia.

Transport Bases Named

The big transports of the MATS fly from Westover, Mass., to the Azores, Paris, Frankfurt, Rome, Tripoli, Athens, Ankara, Dhahran in Saudi Arabia and on to Karachi, India. From there, they fly to New Delhi, Cadcutta, Bangkok, Manila, Shanghai, and Tokyo. Then they roar northward to the Aleutian Islands, Alaska and down to Seattle, Wash. Domestic routes stretch across the United States to complete the circuit.

The route is vulnerable in spots. The line of flight from Japan to the Aleutians, for example, comes perilously close to Russian-held Kamchatka peninsula.

But there is an alternate route across the Pacific from Shanghai or Tokyo—Okinawa, Guam, Kwajalein, Johnston Island, Honolulu and then to the mainland.

Alternate Atlantic Route

There also is an alternate route across the Atlantic—vio Stephenville, Newfoundland; Goose Bay Harbor, Labrador; Greenland and Iceland.

The northern reaches of the western hemisphere are dotted with MATS air weather and airways communications stations and smaller bases.

These bases stretch from Shemya and Adak in the Aleutians through Fairbanks and Anchorage, Alaska; Kittigazuit, Resolute Bay and Eureka Sound on the Arctic circle; Thule, Greenland, and over to Iceland. They form the nucleus for further expansion of the Military Air Transport service in case of war.

For good measure, the MATS also has a route that goes as far south as Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, via Jacksonville, Fla., and Mobile, Ala., the Panama Canal Zone and the Caribbean Islands.

AIRLIFT FOR BRITAIN—An airlift operation similar to that over Berlin is being operated by the British government in an effort to overcome Great Britain's serious milk shortage. Above, some of the 50,000 gallons of milk flown from Ireland every day are being unloaded from a plane at Blackpool, England.

quent in smaller communities than in metropolitan centers, where many are "cliff-dwelling" apartment renters.

6. The group or persons who own their own businesses or manage somebody else's—the nation's top income group—had the highest proportion of home owners. Renters in that class also paid higher sums than persons in other occupations.

7. About half of all home owners spent something on repairs and additions during 1947, with $270 the average sum.

Pitcher Herman Wehmeier of the Cincinnati Reds filled in at every position with the exception of shortstop and catcher while a member of the Columbia team in the Class A Sally League in 1946.

Molotov and officials of the lesser Soviet nations would have plenty to talk about just now:

The Cominform feud with Yugoslav Marshal Tito, the campaign in the satellite countries to give up collectivization of farming, the Berlin crisis, and possibiliy—American officials said—the idea of absorbing some of the satellites into the Soviet Union.

Martin for some years was a columnist for the Austin American-Statesman and other newspapers. He also broadcast a daily radio program from Austin which he called "Sage of the Sage Hills."

He was attorney for the Texas Angora Goat Raisers association.

Program Controls Tightened By NBC

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, Sept. 22 (AP)—Tighter controls will apply to give-away programs over the National Broadcasting company next year.

NBC officials at the network's annual convention announced the new code imposing a form of economic sanctions on the gift programs.

The new code, which becomes effective next Jan. 1, contains all essentials of the standards of practice adopted by the National Association of Broadcasters. A number of stricter provisions have been added by NBC officials.

Indirect controls will be applied by the code which doesn't prohibit give-aways as such. However each mention of a product's name on the prize list will be counted as part of the sponsor's time allowance for commercials on the program.

The practice of breaking into a news program with a "middle commercial" is eliminated by the new code. The sanctions continue NBC's policy adopted last year of prohibiting crime and mystery type shows during early evening hours.

"That Girl on Broadway says most wives will listen to reason, but they hate to hear the same one so often!

If you want to get up in the world, start out by wanting to get up in the morning.

* * *

FOUR young boys with an "open afternoon" on their hands went out to Wagner park, in the southwest part of the city, the other day and were kicking a football back and forth between them.

A police car rolled up and a policeman stepped out.

"Sorry, boys," said the gendarme, "but you'll have to quit playing with the football here. It's against the law."

The boys, 17 and 18 years old, were dumfounded. "When," they asked, "did it become against the law to play on a park?"

"It's been the law," the policeman answered, goodnaturedly, "since before any of you were born."

* * *

And so it has been, if not against the law, against the ruling of the Lubbock Parks board, which insists that no game may be played with a ball on a Lubbock park — except where there are croquet grounds, tennis, or volleyball courts.

The boys caught in the heinous crime of kicking a football pointed out to the policeman that no one else was on the park at the time; that they weren't disturbing anybody.

But the policeman had his orders. There was nothing he could do but tell the kids that if they wanted to enjoy Wagner park, they'd better get themselves some books, or some knitting needles, and engage in a pastime not likely to bend a single, precious blade of grass upon the greensward.

* * *

THE Lubbock Parks board has had no better booster than we since those early days when its members began work on what now has become a parks system of which the whole city may be proud.

Many good citizens have worked on our parks project. Good citizens still work on it. They've done a fine job; they're still doing one.

But it will occur to those of us who haven't read learned treatises, written by aesthetic "experts" on parks, that public parks aren't worth their salt unless they can be and are used.

The average citizen finds that it doesn't make sense to spend tax money on open plots of ground which can only be looked at—or, at the best, used for story-telling hours once or twice a week; or free picture shows occasionally given as an advertising stunt.

We realize, as will everyone else, that parks can't be turned into football kicking, or baseball tossing, areas all of the time.

There should be some sort of schedule worked out so the parks can be used by the greatest number of those who wish to use them.

But to look upon a park as something too fragile to be used for good, old fun is pretty hard to justify—at least in our book.

LUBBOCK has a pretty well rounded and expensive recreational program which especially functions in the Summer time.

We have boys clubs, Boy scouts, Girl scouts, various other organizations to "combat juvenile delinquency." Right now there's a plan on foot to build a sort of municipal "juke joint"—again in the sacred name of "combatting juvenile delinquency."

But what profiteth a city to run itself ragged "combatting juvenile delinquency" the hard way and then close its parks to kids looking for a little fun?

"Keep the kids out of the street," the safety people bleat—and then close to the kids the only places off the street, the public parks!

It's all very difficult to rationalize.

Lubbock has one park—located on Nineteenth street across from Senior High—that isn't worth a hoot except for "looking-at" purposes.

It costs a good deal of money to keep up and perhaps the expenditure is worthwhile.

But it seems to us that Lubbock cannot afford more than one park just for "looking-at" purposes; that the rest of them should be operated on a utilitarian basis.

We know a little about the theory of parks; of the lofty ideas of the professional park people in the North and East that parks should be "beauty spots" and not playgrounds.

But phooey on the North and East. Let 'em run their parks as they see fit.

Let's have a new policy here—and make the parks more useful than ornamental.

* * *

THERE is on foot a quiet movement on the part of a number of oldtimers to induce the Lubbock School board to name one of its next new buildings for George C. Wolffarth.

That is a good idea and one which many people wholeheartedly will endorse.

Mr. Wolffarth is a real pioneer. For many years, he was one of the WASHINGTON. — When President Truman got out to Iowa on his present campaign trip, he put in a long distance phone call to Gov. PEARSON

"I can tell you how to carry Iowa, Mr. President."

"How?" asked the President.

Mr. Truman chuckled.

U. S. Hesitates

Future historians may chalk up a certain moment of American indecision last July alongside the indecision of the French on March 6, 1936, when Hitler invaded the Rhineland.

At that time, the French army could have stopped Hitler cold. Later it became known that Hitler had even given his military chiefs orders to retreat if the French army moved. But the French hesitated, debated, did nothing.

Last July when the Russians first clamped down the Berlin blockade, the U. S. likewise hesitated. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, commander of America's political corregidor, proposed sending an armored train loaded with supplies through the blockade.

He was convinced the Russians would not fight. All intelligance reports indicated that the Kremlin had given firm orders to the Red army not to shoot. Moscow could not, Clay was convinced, afford a war.

His proposal was ok'd by the joint chiefs of staff and the national security council, but the State department and later Truman, himself, said no. Whether they were right or wrong is for history to decide. But the Berliners are wagering that Clay's strategy would have called Russia's bluff.

Now, however, Russia has brought more divisions of the Red army into Germany, has its prestige at stake with the entire world, and, according to many experts, would fight.

THE big airlines and aircraft manufacturers are promoting Congressman Carl Hinsaw of California to be secretary of air in case Dewey is elected.

It was Hinshaw who got Congress to pass heavy subsidy increases for the "big five" airlines. One of the five even sent a mainliner all the way from New York to Washington to take a party of Hinshaw's relatives and friends on a sightseeing trip over the capital.

* * *

Brig. Gen. "Buck" Lanham, the G. I.'s friend, was locked in conference with a colonel when his secretary broke in:

"Sergeant Johnny Davis is waiting to see you, sir.'

"Send him in," replied the general.

The sergeant entered meekly.

"Is this personal?" asked Lanham, "or can the colonel stay?"

THERE IS NOTHING likely to lose more votes among doctors than compulsory health insurance. Yet the other day, President Truman, conferring with representatives of the American Hospital association, went right down the line for compulsory health insurance and seemed to have some pretty good arguments to back him up.

Both sides got a little hot under the collar about it.

Hospital association president Graham Davis started the argument by warning Truman that compulsory insurance would "inhibit the activities of voluntary hospitals." Half of the $6,000,000,000 spent annually on American hospitals, Davis warned, is contributed by philanthorpists.

Rev. George Lewis Smith, president of the Catholic Hospital association, backed Davis up on this, adding that one of every four patients goes to a Catholic hospital.

Mr. Truman listened patiently, then lit into his callers.

One-third of the men who reported for the wartime draft were turned down for physical and mental reasons, the President told the private hospital representatives.

"It is outrageous that that sort of condition should exist," Truman exclaimed.

Right in the nation's capital, the President continued, there is such a shortage of hospitals and beds that members of his own White House staff have trouble getting medical attention.

Davis retorted that the United States is the healthiest nation in the world. Then, playing his trump card, he flashed a letter which he had received from the President himself.

"Nothing in the plans I have in mind or in the recommendations I have made to the Congress looking toward a national health program," Truman had written Davis, "would interfere in any way with the 3,000 or more of our voluntary hospitals which supply so large a part of the hospital care for our people."

"Compulsory health insurance," protested Davis, after reading the letter, "would interfere with the free operation of voluntary hospitals and tend to bring them under government control."

"The Federal Reserve system hasn't takep over control of the banks," snapped Truman.

Compulsory health insurance, he added, would help rather than hinder their work.

By this time, the allotted 15 minutes calling time was up. And with both sides getting hot under the collar, the hospital authorities departed.

Note—Most doctors who have tried compulsory health insurance praise it highly, claim it gives them a steadier income and their patients better health. People with health insurance, they say, come in to see the doctor regularly because it's already paid for, don't put it off until too late.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The Democrats need only four more seats to capture senate control from the Republicans. Yet Sen. Lucas, chairman of the Democratic senatorial committee, has been so busy touring Europe he has had time to call only one meeting. . . . President Truman has assigned his running-mate, Senator Barkley, a very special job: reading the record of Tom Dewey's speeches in the 1940 and 1944 campaigns. Barkley will try to smoke Dewey out into an open fight. . . . Former secretary of commerce Jesse Jones, who deserted the Democrats to plug for Dewey, donated the table around which Truman's cabinet still meets. A plaque in front of Truman's seat reads: "Presented to Franklin D. Roosevelt by Jesse Jones, 1940." (That was a long time ago.) . . . Former Flying Tiger ace Bob Prescott has been seeking a CAB certificate for his air freight line ever since he got back from China. He applied for the certificate about the same time his baby, French Steele, was born. Baby French is now 20 months old.

Incidentally, the community now called "Wolfforth" originally was named for George C. Wolffarth. And thereby hangs a tale of a two-way error which never has been corrected.

Some way or another, the postoffice department and the Santa Fe got crossed up on the spelling of the name. One got it "Wolfforth;" the other got it "Wolfarth," neither having it correctly, as "Wolffarth."

The Postoffice department finally won out, even though incorrectly, and the community was mis-named—as it still is—"Wolfforth."

If and when a school is named for the "Colonel," let's hope the spelling is right in the first place—and kept right!

Witness this, from the Midwest:

The manager of a picture show in a smallish city noticed a young woman going in and out of his theater several times each day. Wondering what was up, the manager followed her into the auditorium one afternoon, saw the girl sit down and then moved in beside her.

A few moments later, the girl fumbled around, finally found the manager's hand. She gave it a squeeze and he squeezed back.

Then she leaned over and whispered:

"Give me $10, or I'll scream—and tell the manager you were molesting me!"

"Sister," said the manager, "you've got the wrong guy."

He called police and filed against her a charge of disorderly conduct.

No one knows how much money she got off her "victims," but it must have run well over $100 in the short time she worked her racket.

"Hey, Somebody's Dragging Their Feet!"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

A WIFE can relieve her husband of too many responsibilities, and many wives do just that.

There are some duties she should never shoulder for him, for his own sake. Such as:

Taking on the duty—when she marries him—of being responsible for keeping in touch with his parents. A man stays closer to his own family if such jobs as writing and gifts are his responsibility.

MILLETT

Handling the family's finances. The quickest way for a woman to make a man irresponsible about money matters is to take over the family purse strings herself.

Shielding the children from their father's disapproval. The mother who is always promising the youngsters that she won't tell their Dad that they did this or that, is actually putting herself on their side, and pushing their father out of the family circle. It may make everything smoother on the surface, but it's not fostering a really close father-child relationship.

LET HIM THINK

DECIDING all household matters without consulting him. The men who are really interested in their homes are those whose homes express some of their own ideas and preferences.

Taking over all the duties connected with entertaining. The wife who doesn't encourage her husband to assume a host's responsibilities makes a house and its hospitality seem hers alone. In such cases, it is Mary's house, not Mary's and Jims.

Today's Thought

Woe to him that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil!—Habakkuk 2:9.

* * *

Covetousness teaches men to be cruel and crafty, industrious and evil, full of care and malice; and after all this, it is for no good to itself, for it dares not spend those heaps of treasure which it has snatched—Jeremy Taylor.

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Independents Of Two Parties May Be New Force In Senate

WASHINGTON.—In the effort to whip up interest in what seems to be a most unequal race, a great deal is being written about the struggle for control of the Senate next year. Much of this speculation is mere wordage, since the fact is that neither party has exercised control over the Senate, in the broadcast meaning of the word, for many years.

CHILDS

The Senate is a collection of individualists, ofter rugged individualists. These individualists do not take to party discipline and fairly frequently they thumb their noses at party whips.

In a limited sense, of course, a Republican administration would have an advantage in a Senate majority, however slim the margin. It would mean that the Republican majority could organize and name their own ranking senators to committee chairmanships.

The chairman exert a powerful influence over the machinery of the Senate. They can block legislation or push it through at high speed if they so desire.

Exten Of Advantage

This, however, is about the extent of the advantage. Party disciplinarians cannot enforce party regularity in the Senate in behalf of a program. When the word control is used in that sense, as it often is by pressure groups anxious to have a Republican administration go down the line for their own highly specialized objectives, it is simply a fiction.

It is when the margin between the parties is narrowest that the independents exert their greatest influence. What that means for the Senate that will sit in January is not hard to foresee.

A more or less coherent group of Republican independents have on numerous occasions defied party regularity to vote with the opposition. This group includes Senators Wayne Morse of Oregon, George D. Aiken of Vermont, Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire and William Langer of North Dakota. All four will return, since their terms do not expire this year. And they are not likely to have their views changed by a Republican victory.

OFTEN voting with this group is another independent Republican, Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. Reported to be in a close race with his Democratic opponent, Cooper has a good record and he won wide respect on both sides of the aisle for his integrity and courage.

These men have much more in common with certain Democrats who consistently vote their own convictions than they do with standpatters in the Republican party. Incidentally, two troglodytes from the Republican side will be absent when the roll is called in January, Senator Albert W. Hawkes of New Jersey and Senator Ed Moore of Oklahoma, both having decided to retire.

On the Democratic side, the retirement of Pappy O'Daniel of Texas is a decided gain. He will be replaced by Representative Lyndon B. Johnson, who made an excellent record in the House. The defeat in the primary of Senator Tom Stewart of Tennessee was likewise a gain. It is probably that he will be succeeded by Rep. Estes Kefauver, who gave the first trouncing of his life to Boss Crump of Memphis. Even though the Dewey-Warren ticket should carry Tennessee, there is a good chance that enough voters will scratch the ballot to vote for Kefauver on the basis of his liberal record.

Independent Republicans and Democrats working together may be a kind of third force in the new Senate. A great deal will depend on the course the new president steers.

Would Oppose Lobbyists

Such a third force, composed of independents and liberals in both parties, would certainly oppose the lobbyists now counting on a Republican sweep to get what they have long wanted. The interests that hire these lobbyists will spend big money in the coming campaign to get a Congress they believe will be compliant.

By pouring hundreds of thousands of dollars into a few key states they may win a technical victory and the Republicans may have a majority of one or two enabling them to organize the Senate. This could prove to be an empty victory.

When Republican bigwigs go into states other than their own to tell voters in those states what representatives to send to Congress, they will find themselves on delicate ground. And that goes for candidate Thomas E. Dewey. In the west and in the south, particularly, there is a spirit of independence easily affronted by any attempt at dictation or even advice from the countryside. If they believe in a man, they will vote for him regardless of party labels or slurs cast by the opposition.

"SUCKER PLAY" IN KOREA

Americans naturally are looking for the Ethiopian in the woodpile of Russia's announced plan to withdraw Soviet troops from Korea, with the expressed "hope" that the U. S. will do likewise.

The announcement rather obviously is intended to put Uncle Sam on the spot. If Russian troops are withdrawn and those of the U. S. are not, Washington's position before the world may be difficult.

But the Russian announcement is under suspicion on several counts. One is that Moscow does not hesitate to break pledges when self-interest is served thereby. Another is the probability that uniformed troops merely would be supplanted by those who would be garbed in civilian garments. A third is the certainty that Communist agents left in Korea would waste no time in attempting to gain power in that entire land, making all of it another satellite of the Soviet, if the restraint of American forces should be removed.

If evidence should be convincing that Russia, for once is on the up-and-up in this offer, it certainly will demand consideration. But, in the light of many experiences, the only present presumption must be that Moscow is attempting to play Uncle Sam for a sucker.

Comics Must Stick To Comedy Subjects

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22. (AP)—Comic books should stick to comedy, the Los Angeles county board of supervisors have decided.

The board adopted an ordinance yesterday banning all so-called comic books which deal with such unfunny subjects as murder, burglary, kidnaping, arson and assault with deadly weapons.

The law sets up a fine of $500 or six months imprisonment for violators.

The ordinance was drafted, explained County Counsel Harold Kennedy, to prohibit the sale of such magazines to children.

Inspections of homes and stores for fire hazards frequently reduces the number of fires in a city by as much as 50 per cent within a few weeks.

Progressive Leaders Disagree On Points Of Party Strategy

NEW LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace and his campaign manager let it be known last night that they don't see exactly eye-to-eye on some of the fine points of party strategy.

However, Wallace said there was no real clash, but that he "just thought it desirable" to add some "undertones" to his campaign manager's "melody."

Both spoke at a fund-raising dinner, held as a preliminary to Wallace's departure tomorrow on a national campaign tour.

The campaign manager, C. B. Baldin, spoke first. He outlined and defended a policy of giving Progressive party support to "liberal" Democrats.

Example Is Given

For example, he said he had urged Rep. Helen Gahagen Douglas, (D-Cal) to file on the Progressive ticket—though she declined.

He said the party was willing to support such Democrats as Chester Bowles, candidate for governor of Connecticut.

When Wallace came to the platform, he smiled at Baldwin and said:

"Maybe that's all right," Wallace added, "but when guys go in two directions at one time I just wonder where you are going to end up, because some day you are going to have to build a party."

Wallace said that if Bowles "doesn't think enough of peace to stand up, I just wonder how good he is going to be. I don't think we ought to wax too enthusiastic about the situation."

Not Sure Of Douglas

So far as Mrs. Douglas is concerned, Wallace said he wasn't sure of how she stands on the Truman doctrine, which he opposes. He said it was "important" that she be elected, but added:

"But it comes hard when she doesn't want our support—or does she want our support?"

About joining forces with Democratic candidates generally, Wallace said:

"While Beanie (Baldwin) may go along with them this year, the time comes when we've got to stand up straight and strong and cut clean."

Speaks Extemporaneously

Speaking extemporaneously, Wallace termed President Truman "the most demagogic candidate for president in our history." He said there is "a chance" that Gov Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP candidate, will win.

But the election of either the Democratic or Republican candidate might "lead to a terrific depression," he said.

Regarding his campaign tour, which will take him some 8,500 miles with speaking engagements in 15 states, Wallace said "all kinds of openings will come and we will take advantage of them."

"I don't know where we would have gotten without our enemies," he added.

Area Rotary Meet Set For Thursday

A total of 500 to 600, including probably 400 from the area outside Lubbock, are expected to attend an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs of the South Plains, to be held at the Texas Tech college gym Thursday night, it was announced yesterday by Irving L. Jones, president of the host club here.

Members of the club here voted at last week's luncheon to dispense with this week's regular luncheon, scheduled at the Hilton hotel today.

The inter-city business session will be preceded by a barbecue dinner Thursday night, to be spread on the lawn east of the college gym, with the program and business session to be held in the gym. It was announced that in event of bad weather, the barbecue will be held under the stadium.

Jones said last night that a total of 337 out of town guests already had notified the local committee, headed by W. P. Clement, they will be here and notices from other groups planning to attend were still arriving.

SPEC-TACULAR — Both gal and specs are something special. The gal, Ruth Woods, is "Miss Specs of 1948." She's wearing $15,000 glasses — worth that much because of solid gold frames studded with eight emerald-cut diamonds.

The Senior High school band was on the stage in uniform to assist in the demonstration. In charge of the meeting were Paul Brannom Senior High director; Harry S. Born, J. T. Hutchinson Junior High band and orchestra Slaton Junior High director; Benjamin F. Herring, Carroll Thompson Junior High; and J. H. Penn, Senior High orchestra director.

Following the demonstrations, the meeting was broken down into various school groups for further demonstration and discussion.

Before the demonstrations, Joe Haden and Dr. D. O. Wiley, of the music department at Texas Tech, spoke briefly.

Classes in band are to be given Monday and Wednesday afternoons and in orchestra, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Directors in the three junior high schools in the city will give instructions in both band and orchestra.

Children in elementary grades may choose the junior high school in which they will receive such instruction.

Reds Have Not Tried Japs On War Crimes

TOKYO, Sept. 22. (AP)—The Russians have not tried any Japanese caught in Manchuria on war crimes, Col. Hidetaka Yanagi, a repatriate, said today.

Most of the high ranking Japanese officials and Henry Pu Yi, puppet emperor of Manchuokuo, are leading easy lives in Russian prisons in Siberia, the colonel said.

He added the puppet emperor is held at Khabarovsk in a two story house where he spends his time whittling out pipes and playing mah jong.
