Stanley Hughes Called to Ft. Worth Riverside

The Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor of First Baptist Church, has been called to become senior pastor of Riverside Baptist Church in Ft. Worth.

Hughes's last Sunday in Wellington will be July 1 and he will begin duties in Ft. Worth on July 15.

Hughes came to Wellington's First Baptist Church, his first pastorate, in 1978, after he and his wife, Jean, served two years as journeyman missionaries to Hong Kong.

He is a graduate of Wayland Baptist College and holds a master of divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

At Riverside, whose congregation is about twice the size of the Wellington church, Hughes will supervise 3 assistant pastors. Riverside is located in the downtown area of Ft. Worth.

Hughes and his wife, Jean, and children Sarah, 7, James, 5 and Jared, 2, will move next week.

A pulpit committee will be appointed within the next two weeks at First Baptist.

Softball Tourney July 13-15

The annual Wellington Softball League invitation tournament will be held July 13, 14, and 15, Richard Sims, league president, announced.

This also marks the end of the first half of the softball season in Wellington.

During the second half of the season, twice-a-week games are planned, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, beginning on Monday, July 16.

Play would probably continue through the end of July and that would end the season, Sims indicated.

As it is, each of the four teams, Oldtimers, Players, Craig's Team and Arnold's Team has two more games this half, and they will be played on Monday, July 2 and Monday, July 9.

Thomas Nursing Center Merges with Sr. Care

Thomas Nursing Center announced this week a stock merger with Senior Care, Inc. of Plano.

Both the Wellington and McLean nursing centers owned by Thomas Nursing Center will become part of Senior Care.

The transaction has been submitted to the Texas Health Facilities Commission for their approval.

The four members of the Thomas family, owners of Thomas Nursing Center, will follow different career paths after the merger. Tommy Thomas will continue to serve as administrator of the Wellington facility. Beatrice Thomas will take a seat on the board of directors of Senior Care,

NEW SWIMMIN' HOLE

Swimming pool committee members at the Wellington Country Club take the first dips in the new club pool which opened this week. The pool was built with volunteer labor such as the group roofing the new pool house at left. On the house are Gary Brewer, Steve Davis and Randy O'Hair. Standing beside the house is Billy Wilkerson, and at right are Jackie Wilkerson, Katy Davis, Linda Brewer and Margaret Wood.

Ronny Williams Goes to 4-A McKinney

Ronny Williams has resigned from the coaching staff of Wellington High School to accept a similar position with 4-A McKinney High School.

He and his family will move to McKinney this weekend.

Williams has completed four and one-half years in Wellington, four football seasons and 5 tennis seasons.

In McKinney he will fill the position of assistant football coach and teach physical education.

Ronny Williams has been first assistant football coach and defensive coordinator under his uncle, James Williams. During this period The Skyrockets had a total record while he was here of 29-12-1. They went to regional in 1982, the year their record was 10-2-1, and this last season the Rockets went to the district playoffs.

Williams has built Wellington's high school tennis program, as well as the summer invitational tennis tournaments.

His WHS boys were district champions all 5 years he was their coach and for two years boys and girls teams have won the district championships. This year, he had both boys and girls as runners up for the regional championship and qualified 5 players to state. "We have had regional qualifiers every year but this year is the first time to have someone at state.

His junior high tennis teams won district all 5 years also in both boys and girls divisions.

Ronny Williams feels that working under his uncle has been "a great learning experience for me and I received a lot of knowledge from him that I will carry on with me." He also considers the support he received from Junior High principal Bob Allen has been valuable.

His wife, Dena Williams, R.N. received her nurses training at Angelo State University, San Angelo. She has worked at Collingsworth General Hospital and is now a floating supervisor at Childress General Hospital. In McKinney she will hold a similar position at North Texas Hospital, a 175-200 bed facility.

The couple has two children, Leslie Ann, 6, and Joseph Ryan, who will be three in July.

Deadline for News, Ads 5 p.m. Mon.

With the July 4 holiday coming at mid-week, the Wellington Leader deadline for turning both news and advertising will be at 5 p.m. Monday, July 2.

The paper will be on the newstands on Tuesday afternoon.

History Deadline June 30

Saturday, June 30, is the final day to turn in family histories for the County History Book project, Evelyn King, chairman reminds.

"If we feel that there is a large number yet to be turned in, we will request an extension of time, although this cannot be assured, and insofar as we know now, Saturday is the last day,"

Mrs. King declared.

Because many people no longer have black and white pictures of themselves and their families, the Chamber of Commerce has arranged to have black and white prints made off the colored pictures. The pictures may be taken to Margaret Vines at the CC office. A small fee will be charged. This does not harm the colored picture.

Many people have inquired if others of their family have sent in histories. "Next week we hope to have a list of family histories at the Chamber of Commerce office and you can check there," Mrs. King added.

Memories have come alive as people are preparing. --See History, page 2

Ex-Students Meet at Samnorwood

Samnorwood Ex-Students Association will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Samnorwood School when they gather for their reunion Saturday, June 30.

This is expected to be the largest reunion ever held at Samnorwood, with 500 or more ex-students, their families and guests attending, said Kenneth Martindale, president.

It will be held at the Samnorwood School.

Several new events within the general reunion are scheduled.

Three couples will hold an open house in Wellington Friday, June 29, beginning at 7 p.m. and continuing as long as anyone wants to visit.

On Saturday night, the classes of 1962-63 will hold a class reunion at the Quail Booster Building in Quail, beginning about 7 p.m.

If there is enough interest, several trips by school bus will take the visitors to the sites of some of the schools that consolidated into Samnorwood Rural High School District (now Independent School District).

A dance will be held on campus for the ex-students, their spouses and guests. Outsiders will not be admitted.

Regular features will include the short business meeting about mid-afternoon, followed by a program.

The barbecue will be served, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Most of all, there will be plenty of time for visiting and reminiscing, Martindale assures.

For the first time in several years, a school directory will be given those registering and paying dues.

Registration will begin at 10 a.m., Martindale said and continue into the afternoon, as long as people are still registering.

The ex-students dues are $5, and this will include the cost of the Samnorwood Ex-Student Directory.

Others may obtain a directory for $5.

Those paid their dues early were able to give pertinent information about themselves and their families to be included in the directory.

If enough interest is shown in the bus trips to the sites of some of the earlier schools, the first bus will leave Samnorwood about 11 a.m. "We're playing this by ear," Martindale commented.

Again, the interest will determine the number of buses.

Members of the Samnorwood junior and senior classes will operate the concession stand with pop, hamburgers and possibly other foods so those already at the reunion will not have to go into town to eat lunch.

Most of the school classes will be selling souvenir cushions or other souvenir items as money-raisers.

The short business session will begin about 3 p.m. with the president, Martindale, presiding.

A "Remember When" program will follow, when a number of former students get up and tell amusing or serious incidents relating to the school.

In charge of this program are Rudie Tate, Wayne Johnson of Lela, and Charles Shields.

Any members of the first graduating class, who are present will be recognized. They started to the new Samnorwood High School in 1934 and graduated in the spring of 1935 and are: Elsa Wischkaemper, valedictorian, Dr. Jack H. Walker, Orville A. Young, Vernon Crossland, Catherine Jolley, Lloyd Fritts, Jewell Rushing, Juanita Wariner, Erma Rhea Clements, class president, Lois Fritts, Abner L. Murry, Dorothy Preuitt, Laney Sweat, Fred M. Thompson, vice president; Tommy Lou Whitson, reporter, Jewell Lowe, Leona Deger, Leota Ammons, Ruby Honeycutt, Robert McWhirter, treasurer, and Finis Hall. One member of the class, Alma Sechrist, died in a school bus accident before the end of school.

After this ends, there will be some free time until the lines begin forming for the barbecue. Serving will start at 5:30 p.m. The barbecue will be catered by Carroll Williams of Dumas.

When this is over, ex-students, their families and guests will be free to stay at the school and visit or attend the dance or carry out their own plans.

It is possible that there will be other class reunions besides those announced and anyone interested should check at the registration desk.

OPEN HOUSE WELLINGTON

The Friday night open house in Wellington will be hosted by three couples: Lee and Emily Roark, Velton and Billye Lee Roark Sargee; and Cal and Lyla Hurst.

It will be the first of the Samnorwood reunion events and will be in the Sargee home at the corner of Dalhart and 15th Streets.

It will begin at 7 p.m. and continue as long as anyone wants to stay and visit.

Kelso Honored for 50 Years As a Mortician in Texas

The Texas Funeral Directors Association on June 13, honored Jimmie Kelso as a licensed mortician 50 years. The ceremony took place at the annual convention of the association in Houston.

Seventeen Texas morticians were eligible to receive the honor; Kelso was one of the 10 who were present.

He received a plaque, and the presentation address was given by Alex Broussard of Beaumont whose family already owned funeral homes when Kelso got his license.

The only other man in this part of the state to be honored was Raymond Lunn of Olney.

Present with Kelso were his wife, Lucille, his two daughters and sons-in-law and three of his 5 grandchildren: Robert and Mary Beth Fleming, Tom and Anna Kay Lockridge with Eric, 11, Lacey, four and Michael, three. The two older grandchildren, could not be present.

Kelso noted a number of major changes that have taken place in this business.

ex-students calling will be from the classes of the early 1940s, it is emphasized that all groups are invited.

One purpose is to give Wellington area friends or any others who are not Samnorwood graduates, the opportunity to visit with Samnorwood ex-students or others from the Samnorwood area.

Light refreshments will be served.

EARLY '60s REUNION

On Saturday night, following the barbecue the classes of 1962-63 will meet at the Quail Booster Club building, on the campus of the old Quail School.

Mack Shields, of Quail is in charge of arrangements. This will be the 20th anniversary reunion for the classes of the early 1960s.

Those attending are asked to bring light refreshments.

EX-STUDENTS DANCE

Young Country, an Am-arillo orchestra, will play for the ex-student dance which will be held on-campus, in the new Vocational Agriculture building, or on the new tennis courts, depending on the weather, said Clifford Oldham, dance committee chairman.

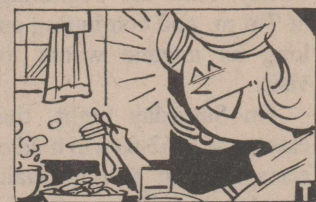

It will be the first public event to be held at the new 40' x 50' building.

The dance will start at 9 p.m. and refreshments will be available.

On the committee with Oldham are Karon and Rudie Tate, Pat and Jimmy Breeding and Stan Tate.

Officers of the Samnorwood Ex-Students Association with Martindale are Clifford Oldham, vice-president; Kay Purkey Martindale, secretary-treasurer; and Connie Roberts Dwyer, reporter.

"Many others have helped. They've come to our meetings and volunteered to do what they can. We've even had offers from Ex-students living away from here who said they would handle such work as typing, if we'd let them know," Martindale said.

Mangoes are an excellent source of vitamins and minerals, including "A" and "C". Most people love mangoes for their sweet, juicy flavor, but the fruit is also a favorite of dieters, who enjoy it peeled for "anytime" snacks or with cottage cheese for a "local" lunch!

Ray Goodson, whom he soon bought out. Dewey Ellis was operating Ellis Funeral Home (Now Frankie Sue Campbell's residence), and remained until 1953, when he and Mrs. Ellis returned to their former home at Rome. Guy Owens opened Guy Owens funeral home in 1977, and then both men sold their businesses to Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors and retired April 15, 1983.

Kelso was one of the organizers of the Wellington Cemetery Association and is still a member of the board. In 1971 he also helped to set up the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service and donated one of his ambulances to the organization. Prior to that he had operated the ambulance along with his funeral home business.

He is a past president and "past nearly everything else" of the Kiwanis Club and will be on the board of directors next year.

His hobbies are fishing and hunting, and this year he is farming his own place northwest of town.

ing their family histories, Mrs. King emphasized, adding that each generation has a different set of memories.

The oldest residents are telling of walking several miles each way, every day, to attend School. Some remember the first car scarring their horse.

The entire gamut of family life in Collingsworth County has been remembered in these stories.

"All these stories wind up with a comment on the wonderful life they remember, and the friendly places they knew in Collingsworth County."

LITTLE LEAGUE

NEWS AND NOTES

ATHLETICS-A's

The Athletics of the Wellington Little League Association won their first of the season Tuesday, June 12, defeating the A's 19 to 15.

The Athletics trailed by 5 runs in the 5th inning when they set up a rally, scoring 7 points. At that point the A's led 13-8.

The winning pitcher was Johnny Shaver, who came on in the 3rd inning after Heath Neeley had started.

Lamont Sterling relieved Shaver in the 6th.

The losing pitcher was Stephen Hale, who came to the mound in the second inning. Billy Culpepper started and Marvin Lynch relieved Hale in the 6th.

The Athletics scored 5 runs in the first inning, one each in the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, leading up to their big 7-run 5th inning. This made four runs in the sixth inning for the total of 19.

The A's made three runs in the first inning but none in the second, then four in the 3rd and 6 in the 4th. They failed to score in the 5th and added two runs in the 6th.

ASTROS-BRAVES

Little League Astros defeated the Braves 13-10 Thursday, June 14.

The Braves played a good game and were leading through four and one-half innings. The Braves left 11 men stranded on base, while the Astros left only two.

The winning pitcher was Reggie Jones, who came to the mound in the 5th inning. Brent Duncan started the game and was released by Doug Darton in the third.

Scott Hankins, the losing pitcher, played through the 4th inning and was relieved by JoAnn Outley.

The Braves had one run in the 1st inning; 5 in the 2nd; and two in each the 4th and 6th innings.

Astros had two runs in the first inning, 4 in the 3rd and 7 in the 5th.

A'S-ATHLETICS

The A's ran up a total of 32 runs while the Athletics came up with 11 Friday, June 15.

Marvin Lynch was the winning pitcher and Stephen Hale came on in relief in the 5th.

Bugs Remain in Irradiated Foods

The "bugs" may have been worked out of the process to protect food using low levels of radiation, but bugs still remain in the food, says a Texas A&M University food scientist.

In reaction to recent controversy over the use of irradiation instead of pesticides like ethylene dibromide (EDB) to protect consumers from food-destroying insects, Dr. E.E. Burns pointed out the drawbacks for killing insects with irradiation is that no one has developed a process for removing the bugs.

Organization of Samnorwood RHSD Recalled

“Collingsworth County now holds the distinction of having the largest rural high school district in the entire state of Texas.”

That proud announcement was made when Samnorwood Rural High School District No. 2 was only three months old, and after the previously largest Al High School district in Texas. Valley View near Whita Falls had ceded that honor in a letter.

The Samnorwood district was also just three months old when The Wellington Leader's Silver Anniversary Edition was published July 1934. It told the Story of those three months of Samnorwood Rural High School.

The election was held April 24, 1934 to determine consolidation of the original 7 common school districts, each with two to four teacher schools, into one large rural high school district.

The election carried more than 10 to 1 and here is the vote by districts:

District	For	Against
No. 1 Plymouth	58	4
No. 6 Luttie	48	0
No. 2 Aberdeen	34	5
No. 20 Prairie View	22	1
No. 29 Abra	18	0
No. 40 Nicholson	31	0
No. 4 Dozier	40	12
TOTAL	251	22

People of the north parth of the county, from the line to Salt Fork and Aberdeen to Abra, up the mechanics of the Samnorwood School.

The April 26 issue of the Wellington Leader stated “that the county school board would establish the district in the near future and appoint 7 trustees for the newly created high school district. One trustee to be selected from each of the 7 school districts which voted for the high school district.

“Under the new plan grades up through the 6th will be taught in the present schools and the 7th to 11th grades will be taught in the high school in a 9-months term. (At that time Texas schools had only 11 grades) The location of the school building will also be determined by the county board.

“This will be the largest rural high school district in Texas. It will contain 155½ square miles. This district will be 20 miles east and west and 10½ miles north and south. The high school district is composed of 7 rural school districts and will have about 600 pupils within said district. It has a present valuation of $1,102,408.

On May 3, 1934 The Wellington Leader announced that the county school board had created and named The Samnorwood Rural High School District No. 2. It was named for the late Sam W. Norwood, pioneer rancher and county builder, for whom the town was also named.

“Trustees were also named for the district and will serve in this capacity until the next election, in April 1935. Trustees named were E.W. Miller, Aberdeen; F.W. Thompson, Luttie; Richard Wischkaemper, Nicholson; Theodore Parker, Plymouth; J.M. Morgan, Prairie View; Frank Coleman, Dozier; D.A. Kincannon, Abra.

Lois Simpson Publishes Book About Samnorwood

Lois Ruffin Simpson, a teacher's aide at Samnorwood Schools and the wife of John Simpson, of Luttie, has told the story of the district that went together to form the Samnorwood Rural High School District—just in time for the July 23 Samnorwood Ex-Students reunion marking the 50th anniversary of the organization of that school.

Her book, a handsome hard-back edition, is “The Samnorwood Saga,” will be on sale at the reunion.

Mrs. Simpson had only 500 copies printed—200 are already sold.

Sketches of the schools are listed alphabetically and an amazing number of pictures, from the first graduating class in 1935 to those of the current school year, are included.

There is a list of every student who has graduated from Samnorwood High School, and a list of all the teachers and the boards of trustees for the first 50 years.

One chapter tells of the organization of the town, through the farsighted

“The county school board selected the location for the new rural high school. The site for the building was selected on H.S. Cook's place, which is as near the geographical center of the district as the board could place the same. Mr. Cook made a deed for 10 acres of land for the site of the school which will be located approximately 150 yards east of Samnorwood.”

A second election was reported in the newspaper of May 31, 1934 in which residents of the district approved by 177 to 10 issuance of $25,000 in bonds for erecting and equipping the central high school building.

In the June 21 issue announcement was made that Davis Robinson had been hired as architect, and building superintendent. A visit had been made to Austin, the $25,000 bonds sold and plans had been accepted in accordance with the state suggestions in constructing the school. Announcement was made that bids for construction would be let by the school board on July 5, 1934, in a meeting of the board to be held at the Plymouth School, with $22,000 to go for constructing the building and $3,000 for equipment.

The late E.G. Sanders was hired as superintendent of schools.

The building was to be 121' x 71' with an auditorium to have a seating capacity of 560, in addition to the 7 classrooms and two offices.

There was some disappointment that vocational home economics and agriculture would not be offered the first year, but they would be offered the following term.

“Samnorwood is getting started with more state-wide publicity than any other school ever started within Collingsworth County, and possibly more than a large majority of the large city schools started with.” Great things are expected from this school during the next 12 months and during the next 5 years.

OIL AND GAS

Potomac Enegries Co., of Edmond, Okla., has taken the following oil, gas and mineral leases in Collingsworth County, which were filed in the office of Helen Gollighugh, county-district clerk on May 17. Total acreage recorded was 5,492.35.

The landowners and legal description of the leases, are:

-Denzil Lacy and wife Sue leased the following tracts, in separate leases: 418.18 acres in Sec. 18, blk 16; 156 acres in Sec. 42, blk 11; 676 acres, begin sec 42, blk 11; and SW/4 sec 41, blk 11 (160 acres).

-Jimmy L. Forrester and wife, Judy: NE/4 sec 97, blk 15.

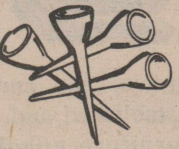

is available from Mrs. Simpson, Route 3, Shamrock, 79079 or from the Stice Store in Samnorwood, 79077. The price is $20.

Mrs. Simpson has done this county, especially that part north of Salt Fork, a valuable service.

Golf With The Swingers

BY MARY SANFORD

The lady golfers of Wellington Country Club met Wednesday evening June 20. Can you believe they changed the meeting date again after all the trouble I had getting Tuesdays and Thursdays straightened out.

Also due to bad weather, this meeting was a week late, so that was not the right day either. And they wonder at my confusion!

Well, right or wrong, the meeting date for the rest of the summer will be THE SECOND WEDNESDAY OF THE MONTH -- if it's not changed.

The meeting this month followed a 9-hole scramble. The winners begin:

Louise Mabery, Betty Cochran and Margaret

Wood. Then sandwiches of special cold cuts and cheeses from a specialty meat shop were served by the hostesses, Katy Davis, Margaret Wood and Linda Brewer.

Lyna Hurst reported at the business meeting that the garage sale was quite successful, netting over $300.

It was also reported that the kitchen carpet donated by Dward Parker was much appreciated and enjoyed.

Two possible projects were discussed by the members, a steel awning for the patio, and new carpet for part of the lounge. The project committee, Margaret Wood, Virginia Williams, and Beth Lennon will do more checking, then a special meeting will be called so the association can decide on the final presentation for the Country Club Board.

The Ladies Golf Association is very proud of the progress the Country Club has made this year. We are proud to be a part of the whole organization.

One of the biggest achievements recently is, of course, the new swimming pool.

The swimming pool committee has worked long and hard to achieve this goal. It is now a reality.

Now we can play a round of golf, then cool off in the pool. They promised me that the shallow end is not over my head, so I won't have to go to the kiddie pool.

The best diamonds are colored blue-white.

Raines Pastor at Samnorwood

Terry Raines, formerly of Amarillo, is the new pastor of Samnorwood Baptist Church, and he and his family have moved there.

This is his first pastorate. Twenty-nine years old, Raines was in law enforcement work before he entered the ministry two years ago. He is a graduate of the Amarillo Police Academy and was an investigator with the Amarillo Police Department 7 years.

Raines is also a graduate of the Southwestern Baptist Extension of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary which offers its extension work through Amarillo College. He has been active in the Southern Baptist Association.

Born and raised in Amarillo, Raines is a graduate of Palo Duro High School.

His wife, Vickie Raines, is also an Amarillo girl. The couple have four children: Paula, 12; Lynette, 7; and identical twin boys, Jason and Justin, 5.

“I'm awfully impressed with these people,” Raines said of his new congregation. “They are a loving fellowship and I look forward to working with them.”

Norwood ISD Has Science Opening

Floyd Foster, science teacher at Samnorwood school, has resigned to accept a similar position at Allison, according to Supt. Garland Cavitt.

The Samnorwood School board is now accepting applications for the science position and those wanting additional information can contact Cavitt at his office in the school, 806-256-2039.

Extended Coverage By Betsy Lemons

Women alone need to be extra careful on the road, at home, even in the street. They are generally more vulnerable to attack by robbers and other miscreants.

In the car, keep doors locked and windows up. If your car breaks down, stay in it and wait for the police. If someone offers to help ask that person to call the police, but don't get out of the car.

Secure locks for doors and windows can help protect a woman if you use them! Install double-cylinder dead-bolt locks on exterior doors, plus peepholes so you can inspect caller. Don't count on chain locks to protect you—they're easy to force open.

It is smart to stay on busy, well-lighted streets, walking with a friend where possible. Keep handbag close to your body, with clasp or opening facing in. If you think you're being followed, head for a public place fast.

It's smart to protect your person and your belongings every way you can and back it up with insurance. Talk to the experts at 1st Wellington Agency.

Mrs. Lillie E. Laycock, who lived in the Abra community 72 years, died in Pampa Tuesday, June 19, at the age of 91.

Since 1978 she had made her home at 816 South Madden in Shamrock.

Funeral services were conducted in the First United Methodist Church in Shamrock Thursday, June 21, at 2 p.m., with the Rev. C.R. Hankins, of Wellington, pastor of Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church Dozier, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Todd Dyess, pastor of First United Methodist Church, Shamrock.

Burial was in Dozier Cemetery under the direction of Richerson Funeral Home, Shamrock.

Pall bearers were her 5 sons and her son-in-law.

Mrs. Laycock was the former Lillie E. Moss, daughter of the late George W. and Sarah Agee Moss, and was born Nov. 24, 1892, in Fannin County. She came with her family to Abra in 1906 from Fannin County.

She was married to Wayne Laycock on Dec. 12, 1909 at Abra. He, too, had come to that community from Fannin County in 1906.

Mrs. Laycock was a member of the Missionary Baptist Church at Abra until it disbanded and of the Abra Home Demonstration Club.

After her family was grown, she and a friend established and operated a furniture upholstery business, in which she took pride. Another talent which her family and friends admired was her skill at carpentry.

Mrs. Laycock is survived by 5 sons: Hueylyn Laycock and Dr. Kenneth Laycock both of Canyon, Dr. Raymond Laycock of Pampa, Robert Laycock of Shamrock and Dr. Royce Laycock of Dallas.

She was preceded in death by her husband on June 16, 1947 and by her daughter, Mary Thompson on Nov. 24, 1962 and one son, Guyron Laycock April 21, 1936.

Services at Post for Mrs. Cartwright

Nelda Kim Cartwright, 25, of Amarillo, the wife of Jeffrey Cartwright, died June 18 at Post, her former home.

She had lived in Amarillo four years.

She was the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John Cartwright of Claude and the granddaughter-in-law of Mrs. Gladys Cartwright of Wellington.

Funeral services were conducted at First Baptist Church, Post, with burial in Hudman Cemetery. She had visited in Wellington many times.

Survivors include her husband; a daughter, Sarah Anne, four, and a son, Joshua Adam, three.

Mrs. Gladys Cartwright attended the service from Wellington.

Mrs. Reddoch, Former County Woman, Dies

A former Wellington woman, Beatrice Reddoch, of 811 North Hayes, Amarillo, died Wednesday, June 20, after a lengthy illness. She was the wife of A.E. Reddoch.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, June 23, at 10 a.m. in Blackburn Shaw Martin Road Chapel with the Rev. D.M. Newton, pastor of Olson Park Baptist Church officiating.

Burial was in Llano Cemetery under the direction of Blackburn Shaw Funeral Home.

Mrs. Reddoch was born at Wellington March 8, 1916, the daughter of the late Jacob Linville (Jake) Black and Molly Denny Black. She grew up in the Fresno community and attended Fresno grade school and Wellington High School.

She was married to Oran Reddoch in October 1933. He died July 21, 1952.

She was married to A.E. Reddoch in 1956.

The Reddachs built the Green Gables, a rock building in which she operated a restaurant through World War II, while her husband was in the armed forces.

Mrs. Reddoch was a member of Olson Park Baptist Church.

Survivors are her husband, A.E. Reddoch; one son, Wayne Reddoch of Santa Barbara, Calif.; three daughters: Lara Jan Whitworth of Denton, Jeanette Blasingame of Mobile, Ala., and Sherry Carol Roock of Amarillo; one brother, Clarence Black of Dodson, and two sisters, Dorothy Green and Maricarol Popwell, both of Wellington.

Relatives and friends going from here to the service were Leo and Maricarol Popwell and

Players Win Tournament

The Players team went through the Wellington Softball inter-league round robin tournament without losing a game and emerged with the championship Saturday, June 23.

The Old Timers finished second; Craig's Team was third and Arnold's Team fourth. Each will receive a team trophy.

The tournament also saw the first over-the-fence home run and before the evening was over, six home runs were on the books, reported Richard Sims, president.

The Players had the largest number of veteran players, and the Oldtimers had the next largest number.

Craig Darter's team was about evenly divided between young and veteran players, but Arnold Fincher's team had the smallest number of experienced men, and some of his players had never played a game of either softball or hardball until they came out this year.

In the first game, Players defeated Arnold's Team 22-2. June Bug Thomas was the winning pitcher and Shane Cobb the losing pitcher.

Oldtimers defeated Craig's Team 19-18 in the second game. James Hale was the winning pitcher and Brent Long the losing pitcher.

The Oldtimers had a 19-13 win over Arnold's Team in the third game, with Dickie Johnson the winning pitcher and Shane Cobb the losing pitcher.

In this game, Randy O'Hair hit a three run home run over the fence—the first of the season. It is O'Hair's first year to play softball.

Craig's Team lost the next game to the Players 27-19. Long was the losing pitcher and Thomas the winning pitcher. Teenie Powell hit a home run with no one on base.

Craig's Team next defeated Arnold's 13-17, with Long as the winning pitcher and Jerry Neeley the loser.

In the last game the Old Timers gave out and lost to the Players 25-7. Jessie Davis, Teenie Powell and Dickie Johnson each hit a home run. Trinidad Cantu was the losing pitcher and Thomas the winning pitcher.

DEVELOP LANDSCAPE TO CONSERVE WATER

With water supplies declining in Texas, homeowners and others should be interested in landscape development to conserve water.

Concern over impending water shortages has stimulated interest in reducing water use for turf and garden areas.

Water conservation can be practiced in all areas of landscape development and maintenance, including plant selection, irrigation practices and equipment, and soil preparations. These practices can be aesthetic as well as practical.

Homeowners can lower their landscape water usage in several ways:

--Using native and adapted plants. Native plants often thrive on existing growth conditions and reduce the need for extra irrigation. Many plants have been introduced that show adaptability to soil, rainfall and temperature conditions.

--Taking advantage of innovations in irrigation practices and equipment.

The landscape irrigation business is experiencing a revolution, with new timing devices, low pressure systems, drip irrigation and other highly specialized water devices focusing on more efficient water usage. Irrigation systems and small ponds and fountains also can effectively use water and an aesthetic addition to a landscape.

--Using mulches for insulation. By providing an insulating layer between the sun and soil, mulches prevent rapid drying and lower soil temperature in hot weather, which keeps the top soil from crusting or hardening. Low-cost materials such as hay and grass clippings, are excellent for mulching and can add appeal with texture and color.

--Properly preparing the soil. When soil has been loosened and improved with plenty of organic material, such as peat, or compost, it will hold significantly more moisture and release it over a longer period of time.

However, organic materials break down over time and need to be supplemented. A compost pile can be a good source of these materials, allowing the homeowner to recycle leaves, grass clippings and other waste to improve the soil.

These are just a few practices that homeowners can use to significantly reduce water usage in their outdoor environment.

Although the U.S. consumes about one-third of the world's coffee crop, the Swedish people outrank us as per capita drinkers of coffee.

PARCHED EARTH

The long summer months come and with them the dry season.

All growing things begin to feel the heat and show the effects of thirst. Plant life begins to wither and fade away.

When one leaves God out of his life there is the same fading and incompleteness as the plant without water.

This Sunday put God into your life, Attend church.

"If any man thirst let him come unto me, and drink."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Janes

COLLEGE STATION - Nutrition-conscious grocery shoppers often read product labels to determine the RDA's -- or Recommended Dietary Allowances -- of various nutrients contained in the food they buy.

But shoppers should understand that RDA's don't tell the entire nutrition story, says Marilyn Haggard, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service foods and nutrition specialist.

RDA's represent averages that do not necessarily reflect a person's individual nutrient needs, she says.

Nutrition requirements differ with age, sex, body size and physiological state, explains the specialist. So the National Academy of Sciences National Research Council established RDA's which are adequate to meet the nutritional needs of practically all healthy persons according to their age and sex.

To figure out the precise amount of nutrients each family member needs using RDA's requires juggling a lot of numbers.

What consumers see on a food product label is actually the USRDA, which is set at the highest RDA for all the different sex and age groups, Haggard says. The amount of a nutrient in a food is stated as a percentage of the USRDA on the label.

LANNA KAY LANGFORD- OTTIS LEE

Langford-Lee Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Ray Langford of Lubbock are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lana Kay, to F. Ottis Lee, III of Fort Worth.

The bride-to-be is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Wilma Gibbs and the late Milbern Gibbs and Mrs. Geneva Langford and the late Henry Langford. She is the great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.F. Tarver of Vernon.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ottis Lee, Jr. of Aledo, Texas.

The formal ceremony will take place at Monterey Baptist Church in Lubbock on Saturday, July 21, at seven thirty in the evening.

Miss Langford was a 1982 graduate of Monterey High School and attended Texas Tech University and South Plains College in Lubbock. She is employed by Kelley Cole and Company.

Her fiancé is a May graduate of Texas Tech University with a B.S. degree in Civil Engineering. He is employed by Yandell and Hiller, Inc. in Fort Worth.

Mendy Morgan Weds Johnny Smith in First Baptist Church Chapel

The chapel of First Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Mendy Carolyn Morgan and Johnny Joaquin Smith of Childress at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 17. The Reverend Stanley Hughes, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Morgan of 804 Dalhart Street. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Muri Smith of 1211 East NE Street, Childress.

For the ceremony, the bride wore a floor-length dress of white sheer silk organza over white satin.

The neckline was cut low in front and back and the bodice was covered with rows of lace and satin cording, and was laced up the front with a satin cord. The sleeves were a large puff of organza with a wide lace cuff at the elbow. Sheer organza formed a bustle at the back of the skirt.

She wore white daisies and baby's breath in her hair and carried a bride's bouquet of yellow roses and daisies tied with satin streamers.

The bride was attended by Gina Davis as maid of honor.

She wore a white street-length sun dress. Lace and pearl buttons accented the bodice and matching lace formed the jacket. Her skirt was made with three ruffled tiers. A yellow ribbon sash accented the waist.

She wore yellow roses and daisies in her hair and carried a single long-stem yellow rose tied with yellow streamers.

Ronnie Portwood of Childress was the bridegroom's best man.

Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Morgan entertain with a reception in their home.

The bride's table was covered by a lace cloth with yellow underlay. The tiered wedding cake was separated by tiny pedestals, with a miniature bride and groom at top and an arrangement of yellow and white flowers atop the lower tier.

Yellow and white daisies, carnations and baby's breath surrounded the base of the punch bowl, and crystal and silver appointments were used. The centerpiece was the bride's bouquet and four long-stemmed yellow roses with satin streamers. The roses were later presented by the bride to the mothers and grandmothers of the couple.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hall, Eddie and Morgan Lacy, all of Mangum, Okla.

The bride and groom will be at home at 1211 East NE Street, Childress.

The bride is a senior in Wellington High School and after graduation she plans to attend Western Oklahoma State College in Altus.

A graduate of Childress High School, the bridegroom is a sophomore at Vernon Regional Junior College. He will enter the Air Force Community College in August, where he will major in one of the sciences.

Surprise Going-away Party Honors Nell Poteet Monday

Mrs. Nell Poteet, a life-long resident of Collingsworth County, was honored with a surprise going-away party at the Senior Citizens Center Monday, June 25, from 4 to 5 p.m. to Pampa, where she will be near her two daughters, Mrs. Billie Killough and Mrs. Ruby Nell Killough.

Her son, Buddy Poteet, lives at Stamford.

Refreshments were served and two plaques and a gift of money were presented to Mrs. Poteet.

She was employed by St. Joseph's Hospital and Collingsworth General Hospital for more than 15 years. She was also active in the Assembly of God and was a volunteer at the Senior Citizens Center.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Mecca Manuel, Mrs. Jean Reynolds, Mrs.

Delma Jesse and Mrs. Myrtle Stallings.

Those attending were Mrs. Poteet and her daughters, also Mrs. Ola B. Hunter, Mrs. Modene Horton, Mrs. Geneva Langford, Mrs. Georgia Bartlett, Mrs. Florence Tingle, Mrs. Ruby Havron, Mrs. Jesse, Mrs. Stallings, Mrs. Edda Phipps, Macy and Ruby Sanders, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Manuel, Mrs. Lee Beall, Mrs. Florence DeArmond, Mrs. Dottie Haralson, and Mrs. Tommy Murdock.

On Sunday, June 23, Mrs. Poteet was honored with a dinner in the home of Mrs. Delma Jesse. Besides the honoree, those present were her daughters, Mrs. Billie Killough and Mrs. Ruby Nell Killough, Mrs. Mollie Sasser of Amarillo and Mrs. Wilma Gibbs, and the hostess, Mrs. Jesse.

Straight Talk

Many people have questions about caskets and casket prices.

We want to answer those questions.

Caskets are no different than most merchandise items---they come in a variety of qualities, styles and prices. The more features a casket contains, the more you can expect to pay.

It's A Fact by Don Lacy

The total calorie content of a typical American daily diet is about twenty-eight hundred calories, more than four times the amount needed for normal activity.

It is also a fact a twelve ounce can of soda pop contains seven teaspoons of sugar.

It is also a fact that in laboratory tests, rats died sixty percent faster on a diet of sugar and water than on a diet of water alone.

Over ninety-nine percent of Americans do not get the minimum daily requirements of vitamins and minerals for optimum health.

We offer the world's number one nutritional-health supplements to help make you feel better and have better health.

We also have the best personal care and household products available, all derived from nature for better health and also very economical. Come by and see us or call Don or Shelba for further information, 447-2415 day, 447-2255 night.

Thank you!

Thomas Nursing Center is announcing this week its stock merger with Senior Care, Inc. of Plano, Texas.

We want to take this opportunity to thank each of you in the community for your support over the past quarter century.

Your interest in our residents has made it possible for us to provide better activities and a better quality of life for them.

And we want to say a special word of thanks to all of the organizations who have donated their time and effort.

We will continue to play an active part in the Nursing Center and we look forward to continuing to work with everyone in the community.

Jennifer Cavitt and David Malleck Wed in Ceremony at Amarillo

MRS. DAVID JEROME MALLECK

Jennifer Kaye Cavitt and David Jerome Malleck, both of Amarillo, were married in Polk Street United Methodist Church, Amarillo, on Saturday, May 26, at seven in the evening.

The officiant was Dr. Clifford Trotter, senior minister of the church, who christened the bride when she was an infant.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cavitt of Samnorwood, while the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Malleck of Amarillo.

The altar was flanked on either side with two 15-branch brass candelabras with greenery. Two formal church arrangements in brass urns, each contained white gladioli, white carnations, greenery and baby's breath. Twisted roping draped the family pews.

Susan Hinrich, organist, and Arva Reyna vocalist both of Amarillo furnished the wedding music.

Mr. Cavitt gave his daughter in marriage.

Her wedding gown was of ivory bridal satin designed with a Queen Anne neckline. Alencon lace and seed pearls enhanced the bodice and skirt swept into a chapel length train, edged in lace. Her veil fell to chapel length, was edged in lace, and attached to a pearl and lace cap. She carried a cascading bouquet of ivory roses, minuet roses, greenery, and baby's breath, tied with ivory satin ribbon streamers.

Kelly Griffith of Morton, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Cindy Dryden of Wichita Falls and Melanie McGuier of San Angelo, Debbie Dalrymple of Amarillo, sister of the bridegroom, and Julia Stewart of Amarillo, a cousin of the bride.

They wore floor length dresses of teal bridal taffeta, with ruffled off-the-shoulder necklines. They carried yellow roses accented with greenery and baby's breath.

The best man was Lenard Malleck, brother of the bridegroom and groomsmen were Donald Malleck, another brother, Bruce Ford Gary Bengel and Danny Messer, all of Amarillo.

Ushers were Barry Dowell of Sunray and Tommy Hill of Amarillo, both cousins of the bride.

Amy Dowell of Amarillo lighted the candles. She wore a tea length dress of yellow taffeta with off-the-shoulder neckline.

The flower girl was Amy Dalrymple of Amarillo while Greg Layton of Lubbock was the ring bearer.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Cavitt entertained with a reception in the Polk Street United Methodist Church parlor.

The bride's table was covered with an ivory draped chiffon cloth with crystal and silver appointments, centered with fresh cut flowers.

Members of the house party were Vickie Rice of Morton and Jamie Dowell of Sunray and Janet Hill of Amarillo, both cousins of the bride, and Sally Good of Amarillo.

Since they have returned from their wedding trip to Colorado Springs, the couple is at home in Amarillo.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Angelo State University with a BBA degree in marketing. Her sorority was Delta Zeta.

She is now employed at First Federal Savings and Loan, Amarillo.

The bridegroom was a May graduate of Amarillo College with an Associate Degree in business administration. He will enroll at West Texas State University, Canyon, in the fall. He is employed at Amarillo National Bank.

Scoopin'

"If you want a title for a story about this special session, I'd call 'Nightmare in Austin,'" State Senator Bill Sarpalius said this week.

"Many school districts will have to raise taxes 25 percent or more this year if the current Senate bill is passed, and I think some form of it is going to pass," Sarpalius said.

"We've got some people down here who need to learn to use bailing wire like our farmers do, and live within their means," State Representative Foster Whaley said. "This is the most chaotic session I've been involved in and it's the most unpredictable. I feel the final vote will be very close."

Those are a few of the comments from our state legislators on the special session of the Texas Legislature that was supposed to improve education by raising teacher salaries and equalizing funding between rich and poor school districts.

What the session was supposed to do, and what it is doing, to the surprise, I suppose, of no one, are two different things.

According to Sarpalius, the education bill being considered will mandate many programs but won't provide the money to pay for them. Result? Local school districts will have to foot the bill.

On teachers' salaries, for instance, Sarpalius said the version he had seen would mandate about a $4,000 per year raise for beginning teachers, but after the state pays for all the other things it will be requiring, it only leaves about $25 per month per teacher to be used for raises. The local districts would have to come up with the difference.

"This bill benefits Dallas and Ft. Worth schools, but it's a nightmare for rural school districts, and it might even force some very small districts to close their doors," Sarpalius said.

Some examples of items included in the current proposal that would be tough on rural districts:

*Mandatory pre-kindergarten for 4-year-olds if you have as many as 15 economically disadvantaged students in the district. There's no requirement that 4-year-olds attend, however, so you might wind up with a class of 1 or 2 requiring a full-time teacher.

*20-student class size in lower elementary grades. 21 students in the class would require hiring a second teacher and providing a second classroom, although the state is unlikely to fund the second teacher.

*Tutorial services for students not passing a course. Any child that makes below 70 must have tutorial services offered twice a week after school. No additional money is provided in the bill to pay the tutors, and the problem of children staying after the bus runs in rural areas is not addressed in the bill.

There are a few bright spots, however. Whaley said that Rep. Betty Denton of Waco had succeeded in incorporating an increase in teacher retirement benefits in the bill, and Sarpalius said special funding for vocational programs had been saved.

At press time, the bill was in conference committee, and the final version, and whether or not it will pass, is still in doubt. The only sure bet on the outcome of this special session is that the "reforms" will need reforming when the legislators meet in regular session next January.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Near the end of last week, one veteran reporter characterized this special session as "the most confusing mess anyone has seen in years." No one disagreed.

But two days later, the House rallied behind its leadership to pass the Texas public school reform bill, and the ball is rolling, indeed.

Since this is a tax session, the House is calling the shots more than in ordinary sessions. The House will not act to approve a tax bill, until after the Senate has passed the school reform bill and the governor has signed it, its leaders have said.

The bill sent to the Senate last week included a temporary appointed State Board of Education, perhaps the most dramatic of this year's proposed reforms and probably the most politically sensitive.

Other reforms approved were competency testing for all teachers, a salary schedule recognizing teacher longevity, a career ladder for teachers, and pre-kindergarten programs for four-year-olds with language or learning disabilities.

The pre-kindergarten portion was one item that had been struck down by a committee that had "gutted the bill," according to one legislator.

Lewis Takes Over

House Speaker Gib Lewis expressed his dismay at the gutting, but after the bill reached the floor for debate, House members were too split to reach a majority.

Even the agreed points seemed to be falling apart.

Finally, Lewis took over and began working for daylight. On the long day of passage, Lewis pushed through a compromise reform bill, gaveling the votes sections by section until final approval was reached 15 hours later.

"Lewis is getting everything he wants," one labor leader was overheard saying.

The Speaker was aided by at least two other factors: the legislators' desire to avoid dragging out the session, and his own power to make new committee assignments next January, when the Legislature convenes again in regular session.

"Gib took an extra interest in the (reform) bill, and it's hard for a member to ignore his request for support when Gib has the power to make or break him on committee assignments just down the road," one senator said.

Teachers Lobby

The groups representing teachers gave their approval to the compromise, at least outwardly, even though they opposed some of the control measures placed on the profession.

But when Lewis agreed to leave their salary schedule intact, they gave their support. That schedule gives raises for experience and provides for some merit raises.

Senate Action

Across the rotunda, senators were laboring over their version of the school reform bill, sticking fairly close to the proposals of the select committee.

But it had already rejected some of the reforms which the House approved.

The biggest question remaining on the issue was whether the Senate would go along with the House bill, or whether it would act to significantly alter it. With time running out on the 30-day legal limit of the session, the Senate appeared willing to maintain the House reforms in order to bring up the tax bill which will pay for the whole thing.

Earlier, the Senate voted to confirm 448 of the governor's appointees.

Farmworkers Insurance

Meanwhile, waiting in the wings is a bill providing for workers compensation insurance to migrant and seasonal farm laborers.

Governor Mark White has indicated he may open up the special agenda to include this issue, if enough time remains near the end of 30 days, and the bill's sponsor is not taking any chances.

Last week the bill by Sen. Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville, passed out of committee and is now poised for floor action, should the agenda be opened.

Jim Mattox

A newspaper investigation revealed last week that Texas Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox has hired nine staffers to aid special prosecutors, which is three times the number allowed by state law.

Six of the nine reportedly are carried in the budget of another division of Mattox office. Fund transfers between division is not authorized by state law.

The probe reported that Mattox hired 17 more staff than authorized by law. A Mattox spokesman disagreed with the interpretation of the statutes.

THOMAS' ROLL CALL REPORT

Your Congressman's Votes Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON -- Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes June 14-20.

HOUSE

IMMIGRATION By a vote of 216 for and 211 against, the House passed and sent to conference with the Senate a landmark bill (HR 1510) that is the first overhaul of federal immigration law in 32 years.

Members voting yes favored the immigration bill.

Jack Hightower, D-13, Kika De la Garza, D-15, Charles Stenholm, D-17, Kent Hance, D 19.

STUDY The House adopted, 247 for and 170 against, an amendment requiring that illegal aliens receiving temporary resident status under the amnesty section of the immigration bill (above) make an attempt to learn rudimentary English and educate themselves about American history and citizen ship. Also, they must place their children in schools and demonstrate they are free of a criminal record and unlikely to become a ward of the state.

Members voting yes favored the amendment. Hightower, De la Garza, Stenholm, Hance.

AMNESTY By a vote of 195 for and 233 against, the House rejected an amendment to eliminate the section of the immigration bill that legalizes the residency of millions of undocumented aliens now living in the U.S. The amnesty would be granted to illegals who have lived continuously in the U.S. since Jan. 1, 1982 and are attempting to meet certain assimilation requirements such as learning English. Members voting no favored the amnesty section. Hightower, Stenholm, Hance, De la Garza.

SENATE

COMBAT By a vote of 63 for 31 against, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment to prevent President Reagan from sending U.S. troops into combat in El Salvador or Nicaragua without the prior approval of Congress. This occurred during debate on the fiscal 1985 defense authorization bill (S 2723).

Senators voting no favored prior congressional approval of any U.S. combat action in El Salvador or Nicaragua.

TX Lloyd Bentsen, D, voted no. John Tower, R, voted yes.

MX By a vote of 49 for and 48 against, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment to sidetrack and possibly kill development of the MX missile. Vice President Bush cast the deciding vote.

This vote preserved $2.6 billion earmarked for production of 21 additional MX missiles in 1985. President Reagan had requested 40. The House version of the bill funds only 15 copies, and withholds that money for several months to see if the Soviets will resume arms-control talks.

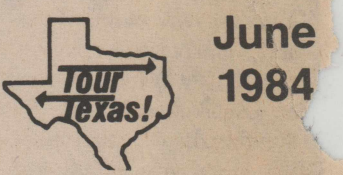

Senators voting yes favored continued development of the MX missile. TX Bentsen did not vote. Tower voted yes.

EUROPE By a vote of 55 for and 41 against, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment to begin pulling U.S. troops out of Western Europe unless NATO countries contribute more to their own defense. This victory for the White House occurred during debate on the fiscal 1985 military authorization bill (S 2723), which later was sent to conference with the House.

Senators voting no wanted to force NATO members to spend more on their own defense.

TX Bentsen voted no. Tower voted yes.

Wind Damage Near Normal in SWCD

Tommy Powell of the Soil Conservation Service in Wellington says that SCS estimates of local wind damage were near normal for the 1983-84 season.

"Windstorms were worse than usual in late spring this year, but winter and early spring damage was less than normal," said Powell. "The almost complete lack of rain in winter and spring had at least one benefit in that it caused clod-forming tillage to hold up well without re-plowing, and that controlled wind damage somewhat during that period," Powell continued.

The SCS estimated that about 40,000 acres, or one-fifth of local cropland, received at least some wind damage this year.

However, wind damaged a record breaking 5.7 million acres of land in Texas from November through May.

Billy C. Griffin, state conservationist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service, said wind damaged more than three times as much land this year than during the 1982-83 blow season when 1.8 million acres were damaged.

"The 5.7 million acres damaged breaks the record for the 30 years we have been keeping wind erosion records," Griffin said. "Previous highs were 2.77 million acres in 1970-71, 2.72 million in 1955-56, and 2 million in 1964-65 and 1973-74."

No records are available for land damaged during the Dust Bowl days of the 1930's.

Some 4.5 million acres of cropland and one million acres of rangeland were damaged. About 7 million acres are in condition to blow and much of this land could be damaged if wind velocities increase during the next few weeks.

Counties reporting the most cropland damaged were Gaines, 595,000; Dawson, 415,000; and Terry, 300,000.

The major contributing factors to wind erosion were lack of moisture and high winds, Griffin said. Lack of protective cover from last year's crop residues was also a factor.

Griffin said, however, cropland protected with cover from conservation tillage farming systems or wind strips had little or no damage despite the drought and high winds.

SCS rates land as damaged if enough soil has been removed or deposited to subject the land to further erosion hazard or to impair its productive capacity. A bi-monthly report is compiled from 147 counties in Texas from November through May.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Wellington Girl Scouts held Day Camp at Pioneer Park May 28 through June 1.

Lashing classes were conducted by Lameda Black, assisted by Leslie Black and Robin Burnham. They taught the girls how to lash a table.

Major John Coleman came out Monday afternoon and gave the girls a talk about Memorial Day and told of some of his experiences as a prisoner of War. He helped lower the flag during the closing flag ceremony.

Tuesday featured Chief Deputy Sheriff Ray Ake-mon, who gave the girls information on what to do when approached by strangers, what harm drugs do to one's body, and a display of drugs and drug paraphernalia.

On Wednesday, Marshall Peters, talked to the girls and adults about first aid.

Paula Goff visited the camp, coming from the Quivira Council office in Pampa on Wednesday.

Thursday the girls prepared fires and cooked their own lunch.

During the week, bird feeders were made from oranges, sage candles containing sagebrush and sandcasting with plaster or paris. The older girls made small clay pots assisted by Katy Davis.

Friday the girls met at the Elementary School at 3 p.m. to plant the fruitless mulberry tree they donated to the school as a project to improve their meeting place. The tree was donated to the Girl Scouts by Godfrey Nursery in Memphis.

The girls prepared their craft projects to be viewed by their parents coming out Friday. All brought picnic suppers and enjoyed a meal together Friday night.

Those attending camp in Unit 1, the Sunshine Group were Robin Henard, Toni Vassey, Julie Clements, Stormy Throne, Kristy Hankins, Jamee Jackson, LeeAnneFrasso and leader Barbara Clements and her assistants, Cassie Marple, Kimi Henard, Rena Vassey, Dianne Frasso and Debbie Henard.

Misty Clements and Becky Vassey were also in the group.

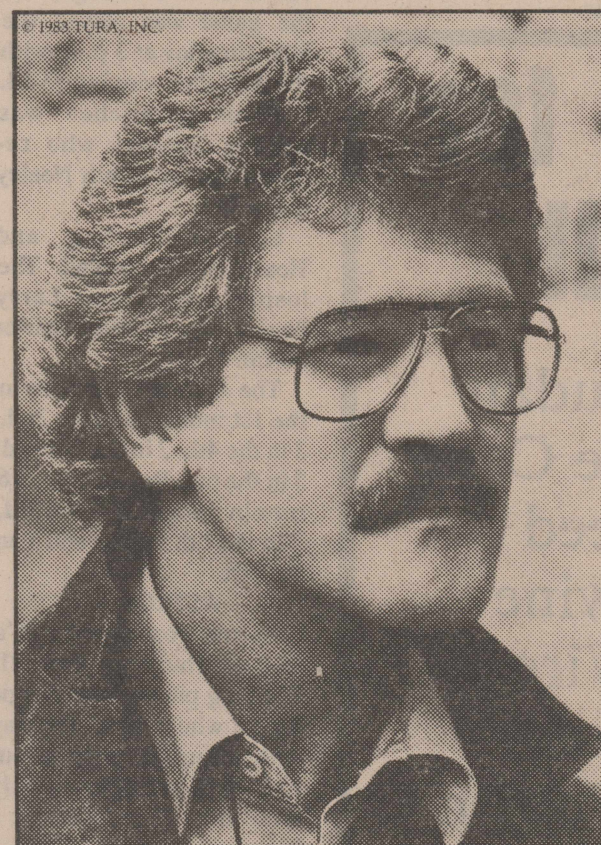

Those attending from Unit 2, The Strawberries, were Tiffany Cooper, Heidi Lewis, Tyra Vassey, Jennifer Long, Nicole Williams, Donita Black, Katie Johnson, Marnie Spillman, Danielle Flowers, Kerrie Marple, Tracy Cannon, Roxanne Cantu, Monica Torrez, Kristen Spillman, Tara Cooper, April Vassey, Micki Leah Vassey and the leader, Donna Black and Norma Spillman. Their assistants for the week were Teresa Cooper, Della Lewis and Mary Johnson.

Those attending from Unit 3, the Bluebonnets, were Shonda Colson, Paige Davis, Jill Owens, Jennifer Thomson, Lesi Gray, Amber Ford, Leigh Ann Cantu, Shamara Moore, Kristen Gray, Ashley Spillman, Beth Gray, Tracy Hankins and the leader, Gayle Hankins. Her assistants for the week were Katy Davis and Linda Gray.

The camp director was Rhonda Colson and assistant director was Leigh Ann Vassey. The camp nurse was Irene Torrez, who also watched after the younger children of mothers helping. Injuries were minor--bug bites, a few scrapes and removing stickers.

Schwinds Win Guys-Dolls

A relaxed and happy crowd gathered for Wellington Country Club's annual Guys and Dolls golf tournament Saturday and Sunday, June 23-24, for they also celebrated the opening of the club's new swimming pool.

This was realization of a goal set about the same time the country club was established in its present location east of Wellington. The 36 hole tournament was played on a course many agreed was as beautiful as it has ever been.

Winners of the championship flight were Sherree and David Schwind of Memphis with 131-13 under par on the 36 holes.

Second place went to Danny West, Wellington pro, and Jean Hassell of Childress, who took second place in a playoff with Willie Gragson of Wellington and Linda Foxhall of Memphis. Both teams scored 132, with West and Hassell winning the playoff, Gragson and Foxhall went into third.

The top two places in the first flight were also determined by a playoff.

Winners were Tony and Charlotte Stephens and second went to Benny Brown and Joyce Brown of Stinnett. Both teams shot 142.

Former Wellington golf pro Teddy Martin and Billie Holton shot a 143 to take third place.

A playoff appeared again to determine first and second place in the second flight. But this time it took 6 holes to learn who was winner.

Danny and Alicia Jackson of Amarillo had tied with Ed Robinson and Marge Jones of Hollis with 154, and at the end of the 6-hole playoff, it was the Jacksons who were in first place and second went to Robinson and Jones.

Taking third place was Gary and Linda Brewer of Wellington with 151.

Winning for getting the ball closest to the pin was Patsy Martin, while Nelda Keys of Childress won the longest drive contest.

Free Cheese Given Away Here Friday

Free government cheese will be given away Friday, June 29, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Senior Citizens Center, 702 East Avenue.

Those coming should have their yellow cards to present at the time the cheese is picked up.

"Do not expect to pick it up until 9 a.m. We need time to unbox it and put it out on the tables," say those in charge.

LITTLE LEAGUE NEWS AND NOTES

BRAVES-ATHLETICS

On June 19, the Braves-Athletics game was rained out after two innings, but the game was played the following day at 3 p.m. with the Athletics winning 15-14.

Winning pitcher was Johnny Shaver, who relieved starter Heath Neeley in the 5th.

Lamont Sterling and Heath Neeley tripled. The losing pitcher was Larry Lewis, who relieved starter JoAnn Outley.

The Athletics had 1 run in the 1st inning, 6 in the 2nd, 3 in the 4th, 2 in the 5th and 3 in the 6th. Braves scored 6 runs in the 2nd, 2 in the 3rd, 5 in the 5th inning and 1 in the 6th.

ASTROS-A'S

Astros won over the A's 23-0 on Thursday, June 21. Winning pitcher was Peggie Jones, who went all the way with a shutout, striking out 15 batters and allowing only three hits. Jones also hit a home run.

The Astros scored 7 runs in the 1st inning, 5 in the 3rd, 3 in the 4th, 7 in the 5th inning and 1 in the 6th.

BRAVES-ATHLETICS

The Braves defeated the Athletics 23-3 Friday evening, June 22.

Winning pitcher was Larry Thomas, who went all the way. Thomas also hit for the circuit, getting two singles, a double, a triple and a home run.

Scott Hankins, Larry Lewis and Jason Clark also homered. The losing pitcher was Brad Helton.

The Astros scored 7 runs in each the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th innings. The Athletics scored their 3 runs in the 5th inning.

BRAVES-A'S

Monday, June 25 the Braves won over the A's 12-11. The Braves trailed 11-10 but came back in the bottom of the 6th to win.

Winning pitcher was Clifton Curry who relieved Larry Lewis in the 3rd. Scott Hankins relieved Curry in the 6th.

Losing pitcher was Marvin Lynch, who went all the way.

Braves made two runs in the 1st inning; 1 in the 2nd; 4 runs in the 3rd and 5th innings and 1 in the 6th.

The A's had one run in the 1st and 2nd innings, 2 in the 3rd, and 7 runs in the 6th.

ASTROS-ATHLETICS

In the final game of the week, Tuesday, June 26, Astros won over the Athletics 12-11. The Astros, one run behind, came back to score two runs in the bottom of the 6th to protect their perfect record. Winning pitcher was Reggie Jones, who relieved starter Brent Duncan in the 5th. Losing pitcher was Brad Helton.

The Astros made 7 runs in the 1st inning and 3 in the 4th and 2 in the 6th. Athletics also had 7 runs in the first inning, 3 in the 3rd and 1 in the 5th.

Education May Not Influence Politics

A college education may not have the impact on political attitudes and values that many pundits believe, A Texas A&M University study suggests.

"For years there has been the truism that education has a big impact on people's political values," said Dr. Arnold Vedlitz, a political scientist and associate dean in the College of Liberal Arts, who conducted the study.

Vedlitz said that while it may be true there is a change in students' political values and attitudes from the freshman to the senior year, there are more influences impacting on students during that time than just their educational experience.

"There are movies, wars and a number of other factors that would affect one's values," he said.

Excitement Picks Up in League Play

Wellington Softball League turned in the liveliest performances of the season in the double header played Monday, June 23.

In the first game, the Oldtimers showed their skill and won over Craig's Team 15-14.

"It's the most exciting game we've had," declared Richard Sims, league president.

In the top of the 7th, with the 14-10 score in favor of Craig's, Trinidad Cantu came to bat with three players on base and one out. He hit a grand slam inside the park and tied the game.

Mike Hughs got on base and was eventually knocked around and into home base to put Craig's one ahead.

With Craig's team at bat again, and with two out, and the tying run on second, Dean Devoss had a base hit to the outfield and tried to score the runner from second base.

The play was from Cantu to Hughs to John O'Rear the catcher, who tagged Devoss out and that was the end of the game.

"It was the most exciting game so far this year," the crowd agreed.

In the second game of the double header, Players won over Arnold's Team 17-4. June Bug Thomas was the winning pitcher, Jerry Neeley the losing pitcher.

This puts the Players No. 1 in the league.

The first president to drive his own car was Warren G. Harding.

Scientists think that the house mouse originated in Asia

The first formal rules for baseball required the winning teams to score 21 runs.
