VOLUME XXIII NUMBER 29 2

Lubbock, Texas, July 28, 1972

August to see 85 enlisted promotions

Promotions for 85 enlisted Reese personnel have been released to become effective Tuesday according to information received by local personnel officials.

John F. Selden, 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS); Lynwood J. Brock, 3501st Student Squadron and Kenneth E. Peterson of 3500th Supply Squadron have been promoted to the grade of senior master sergeant as a result of their cycle which began in December of 1971.

Cycle 73-A promotions for technical and master sergeants have named 44 NCOs for upgrading.

To Master Sergeant

Donald R. Apsley, Floyd H. Chambers, Richard A. Depriest and Jerry F. Higginbotham of 3500th Air Base Group (ABGp); Billie D. Brower, Hollis R. Duke, Grant Grisham, Richard H. Humphrey and Brooks A. Benford of the 3500th Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS); Richard G. Woodward of the Reese USAF Hospital; and Billy F. Meeks of the 3501st Student Squadron.

Also named for promotion are: James B. Burger and Aaron L. Collins of Field Training Detachment 429 (FTD); Kenneth C. Bredahl, Richard L. Dodge, and James C. Felkel of the 3500th OMS; Allan F. Connor and Oscar E. Tice of the 2053rd Communications Squadron; and Billy A. Alexander of the Reserve Officers Training Corps detachment at Texas Tech University.

To Technical Sergeant

Named for upgrading to E-6 are Alexander L. McLeod, Ronald L. Moreland, Howard M. Smith and J. W. Teutsch of 3500th ABGp; Billie J. Forney, Patrick M. Forrest, Charles R. Fullenwider, Larry D. Hines, Edward W. Holbrook, Fred T. Kamper, Carl S. Kovacs, Paul E. Lewis and Thomas R. Schaffer of 3500th FMS.

Also, Arthur C. Donley, Raul Sanchez and Francis D. Tyrrell of the Reese USAF Hospital; Ronald D. Funk, Robert E. McLaughlin, William C. McNeil III and Glenn H. Petersen of 3500th OMS; Benito R. Perez of the 3500th Supply Squadron; Anthony D. Benson and Roman B. Smeiles of the 3501st Student Squadron; and Gayle L. Hayes and Bass J. Shelton of 2053rd Communications Squadron.

The monthly increment list for promotions to the grade of staff sergeant has named 12 Reese personnel for upgrading and 26 more will be promoted to E-4.

To Staff Sergeant

Glen C. Galloway, Larry W. Garrett, Sherman A. Siah and William B. Taylor have been promoted in 3500th FMS; Richard D. McCulley and Billy D. Montis

"The Air Force Chaplain is one who has answered the call to minister within...the military."

By Chaplain (Captain) Dick Knowles

"We are living in a time of radically accelerated change. As we consider Family—Community—it is critical that we avoid the natural tendency to build upon an idealized or sentimentalized memory of yesterday. Things never were as they seemed to be. Neither can they ever again be just as they really were. Life is process. Change is inevitable."

The above words of the Chief of Air Force Chaplains, Roy Terry, effectively indicate that the Air Force Chaplaincy in the 70's faces the very real challenge of ministering to the spiritual needs of the NOW man and his family amidst the ever-present face of change.

The scope of the chaplain's ministry must be comprehensive yet compassionate, at times both tough and tender, provocative yet penetrating. It is a ministry which focuses on persons and not programs, on human need rather than answers to unasked questions.

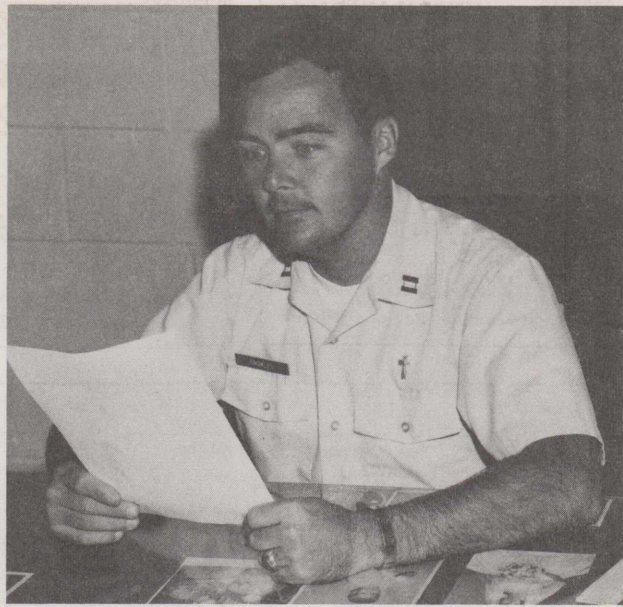

In order to meet the needs of the airmen and their dependents, the chaplain must first know them, and to know them, he must be where his people are. Reese chaplains are actively visiting the people they are privileged to serve. You have seen them on the flight line, in the gym, at the clubs, in your homes, riding night patrols with the Security Police and periodic sorties with the "Pedro" air rescue crews. They live, work and play with the NOW man, where he is.

The chaplain's ministry is one of presence, of persons and of pride. The Air Force Chaplain is one who has answered the call to minister within the context of the military. He is a free soul, preaching as his heart dictates, and conforming only to the principles of his conscience. He wears rank because it is expedient. He wears the cross over the source of his commitment, the human heart. He lives, plays, works, worships, laughs and cries with those whom he serves 24 hours a day, the NOW man and his family.

The chaplain's mission is as timeless as Scripture: Bring man to God and God to man—EVERY MAN.

I will close as I began, with the words of our Chief of Chaplains: "The Chaplain must be a 'bridge over troubled waters'—an enabler, a reconciler, a humanizing agent whose ultimate requirement is to do justice, to love commitment, to walk humbly with God."

To the Roundup:

In early June, while stationed at Reese, I received notice of a death in my wife's family in England. Though I was scheduled for a PCS (permanent change of station) to England, the notice meant an early departure for which we were not yet prepared.

I requested and received help from several agencies on the base, in Washington, D.C., and in New York.

Since I cannot thank those at Reese personally, I would like to publicly express my appreciation for the speed, efficiency and courtesy with which so many people responded to my situation.

The Air Force does take care of its own.

Sincerely,
MSgt. John J. Horne

To the Roundup:

A most colorful and successful Sixth Annual Odessa Invitational Softball

Tournament was conducted July 7, 8 and 9, and your team's participation was one of the major factors of this success.

This was definitely the most successful tournament to date and the caliber of play was by far the best we've had. We are already looking forward to 1973!

I assure you that Reese AFB was represented by a fine group of men and it definitely was a pleasure having them participate. They provided the fans of this area with some very exciting softball and we hope to see them back next year.

We thank you for permitting the Reese team to enter our tournament and sincerely hope they will be entered in the Seventh Annual Odessa Invitational Softball Tournament to be held July 6, 7 and 8, 1973.

Sincerely,
J. H. Tschauner, Director
Parks and Recreation Department,
Odessa, Tex.

DoD emphasizes voting responsibility

The Roundup is an unofficial newspaper published in the interest of personnel at Reese AFB under contract with Boone Publications, Inc. 4007 Ave. A, Lubbock, Tex. Mailing address: P.O. Box 883, Lubbock, Tex.

Publishers Statement

"Everything advertised in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, national origin or sex of the purchaser, user, or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection

(An AFNS Editorial)

Great emphasis has been given voting this election year by Defense Department and Air Force officials. Hopefully, the message is coming across and eligible members will discharge their voting responsibilities.

Officials want to greatly improve the record set two years ago when only 26.9 per cent of eligible Air Force voters cast absentee ballots in the 1970 general elections. Members have varied reasons, according to a Defense Department survey, for not voting. Some went so of this policy of equal opportunities by an advertiser will result in the refusal to print advertising from that source."

News for the Roundup should be delivered to the Information Division, Building T-1, no later than noon Tuesday prior to the Friday publication date. Classified ads of a non-commercial nature may be placed free of charge and must be in to the Information Division by noon Monday. Other advertising matter is handled exclusively by the publisher.

far as to request an absentee ballot, but failed to take the few minutes needed to choose their candidates and return the free ballot. Others didn't bother at all.

As Air Force members we are servants of the people. We represent American democracy to the world. We insure its survival as comrades in arms.

As democracy salesmen and sentinels it is our moral obligation to vote in all elections. Failure to vote implies a lack of faith in the form of government we have sworn to uphold.

HISTORICAL AIRCRAFT—The Boeing P-26 Peashooter, designed to meet the increasing performance of the new bombers, was the first all-metal, low-wing fighter delivered in numbers. During this period, many thought the pursuit ship obsolete. Bombers were becoming so much faster that it was difficult for fighters to keep up with them. The P-26 was the first major attempt by the Air Corps to modernize its fighter force, departing from designs based on outdated fabric-covered biplanes. Quite advanced for its time, it was still not the answer pursuit pilots sought. (U. S. Air Force Photo)

Drama is the dominant theme for this week's slate of feature films at the base theater with current hits and return favorites planned for movie entertainment.

All evening performances at the base theater begin at 8 p.m. unless otherwise noted. The Saturday matinee begins at 2 p.m. and there is no longer a late show Saturday evenings. The base theater is open Tuesday through Sunday.

Tonight

"Skyjacked" stars Charlton Heston and Yvette Mimieux. It is the story of a hijacking of a 707 jetliner to Anchorage, Alaska and the events and suspense that highlighted that detour. It is rated PG, all ages admitted, parental guidance suggested.

Matinee and Tomorrow Evening

"The Boyfriend" is a Busby Berkely-type musical starring Twiggy and Christopher Gable. Twiggy portrays an assistant stage manager for a Broadway play. When the female star of the play becomes injured, Twiggy is forced to replace her where she finally gets the chance to be with the man she loves, the star of the play. It is rated G, all ages admitted.

Sunday

"The Man" is based on the best selling novel by Irving Wallace. It involves a black man moving into the Presidency through succession of death and two powerful senators' attempts to overrun his mind for their own evil ends. It is rated G.

Tuesday and Wednesday

"Frenzy" is the Alfred Hitchcock thriller about a former Royal Air Force pilot's framing for a series of sex murders. He escapes from prison to seek revenge in this shocker that is rated R, under 17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian.

Thursday

"Love Story" is the current classic starring Ali McGraw and Ryan O'Neal. This film about a young couple who must make it on their own since they were cut off from family wealth is a "tear-jerker" and it is rated PG.

Music to highlight Open Mess schedule

Entertainment this week at the NCO Open Mess will feature dining and dancing for the enjoyment of mess patrons.

The Dinner Special will be offered tonight and tomorrow night from 5 until 10 p.m. Jake Miller and his western band will perform tonight and the dancing music tomorrow will feature the Nivicos. Discotheque Night with Gerald Lewis has been slated for Sunday and Thursday nights.

The sandwich bar is open daily at noon for those with a short lunch break who would prefer a hot sandwich.

tweety topics

By Capt. Charles M. Thrash

This past week was highlighted by nothing. Thursday the 73-08 class summed up the events of the week when they wrote on the blackboard of E flight—Weathermen 4, Aviators 0.

It is not that we mind a break now and then, but when everyone starts building model airplanes it is time to start flying again.

B Flight provided most of the flying excitement this week. They launched 21 planes during a night period and sure enough the mobile controllers had as much as they could handle. Most people decided it was time to call it a night when they heard the following radio transmission, "Every other aircraft in the final turn, go around."

There have been numerous personnel changes in the last couple of weeks, and it gets harder to try to keep up with where everyone is coming from or going to. However, some of the bigger moves have Capt. Phil Rees becoming chief of academics; Capt. John Block moving to the DO shop; and Capt. Dan Pettyjohn taking over as D Flight assistant flight commander.

Our Gee-Whiz-Sir department features 2nd Lt. Pete Balizli of Class 73-06. He discovered (to his instructor's dismay) the control lock, when in the locked position, neutralizes the rudder which also centers the nose wheel. However, he found this out while his IP was making a sharp turn into their parking space. It seems Pete is now spending a few extra hours reviewing the operations of the Cessna T-37 aircraft systems.

For your information . . . the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron averages better than three Air Medals per IP.

Commemorate Medal Available

BALTIMORE (AFNS) — Air Force has been invited to help restore America's first warship, the frigate Constellation, through purchase of commemorative medals. Launched in 1797 the Constellation is the oldest ship continuously afloat. Copper medals, newly minted from parts of the famed ship, are available at $2 each from The Frigate Constellation, Constellation Dock, Baltimore, Md. 21202.

NCO Wives install new officers in ceremonies set for tonight

Formal installation ceremonies for the new officers of the NCO Wives Club will be held tonight beginning at 6 p.m. in the Red Room of the NCO Open Mess.

The evening will begin with refreshments and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Music for dancing enjoyment will be provided by Jake Miller's Band.

The newly elected officers for the club's next six-month term are: Mrs. Fred Schulz, president;

Mrs. Irvin Reigner, vice president; Mrs. Jerry Boudreau, recording secretary; Mrs. Raul Martinez, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Lee is the new treasurer and the assistant treasurer is Mrs. Lee Armour.

Other new officers are Mrs. Haze Gilkey, parliamentarian; and the Board of Governors members are: Mrs. Robert Fisher, Mrs. Charles Ratliff and Mrs. William Vanderbrink.

New pep club seeks members

Young ladies age 10-13 are being sought to begin the first pep club to be organized at Reese.

The pep club will lend vocal and moral support to the 1972 edition of the Reese Chiefs, the youthful football team.

An organizational meeting will be held tomorrow for all who are interested at the home of Mrs. Warren Spanyard, 322 Arnold Dr., Reese Village. The pep club will be open to all dependents.

Anyone interested in participating in the pep club but unable to attend tomorrow's meeting should call Mrs. Spanyard at 885-4661.

airman of month Sergeant gains honor

Sgt. Richard C. Dickerson, a Special Actions Clerk in the Consolidated Base Personnel Office (CBPO) has been named Airman of the Month for July by the 3500th Pilot Training Wing at Reese.

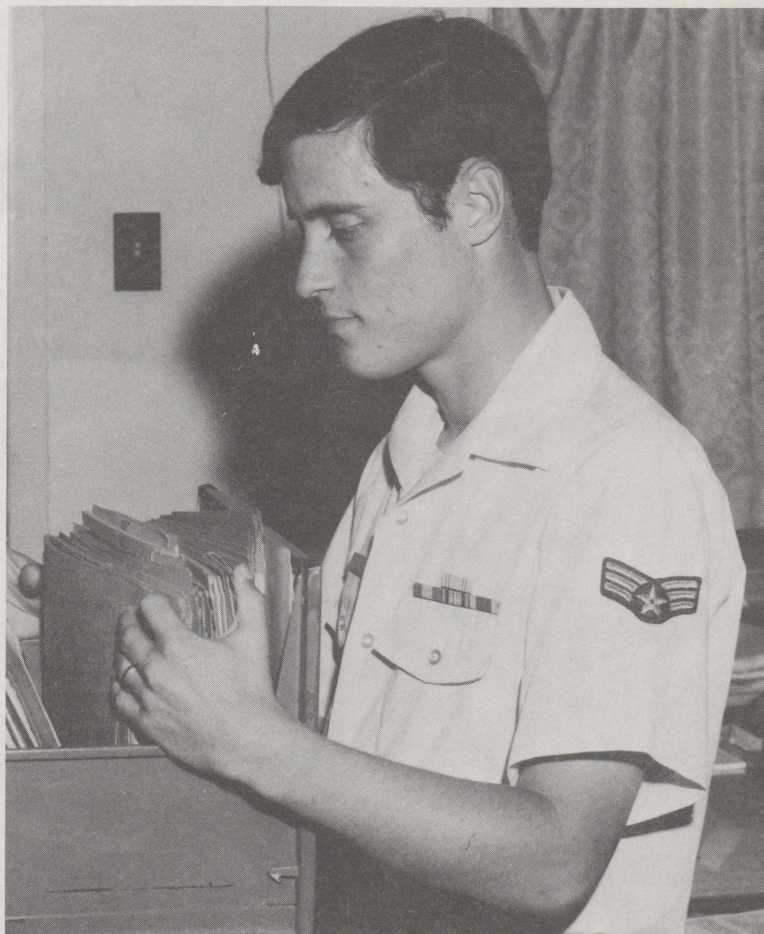

Nominating Sergeant Dickerson for the honor, CBPO Chief, Capt. Ronald E. Hoch said, "Sergeant Dickerson has transcended the horizons of a young gentleman of his background and experience. His synchronous and precise execution of his duties are exemplary to his peers. In our highly computerized personnel system today, complete competence and ability are demanded to intersect the challenge. Sergeant Dickerson encountered and surpassed the challenge through his quality efforts and initiative.

"This young man's devotion to duty, subordinates and superiors; his pride in himself, his work and his studies; and his dedication to the Air Force and his country all qualify him as highly deserving for the selection of Airman of the Month."

Sergeant Dickerson is enrolled in South Plains Junior College during his off-duty hours. He has earned 44 hours toward an associate in science degree. He was on the Dean's List last year. "The obvious expenditure of time and effort to his studies in no way hampered his productive, thorough and exacting work within the CBPO," said Captain Hoch. Sergeant Dickerson is the son of Mr. Richard N. Dickerson of Reisterstown, Md. and Mrs. Shirley Crane of Houston, Tex.

Sergeant Dickerson is 23 years old. He and his wife, Matilda, have five children. The Dickersons live at 2020 5th St. in Lubbock.

Reese pools offer sun, cooling off, or...

Reese personnel and dependents alike can be seen daily at the airmen's and officers' pools.

Summer is here and the recent beautiful weather being enjoyed on base has brought out all the sun worshipers to enjoy the cooling waters and to "catch a few rays".

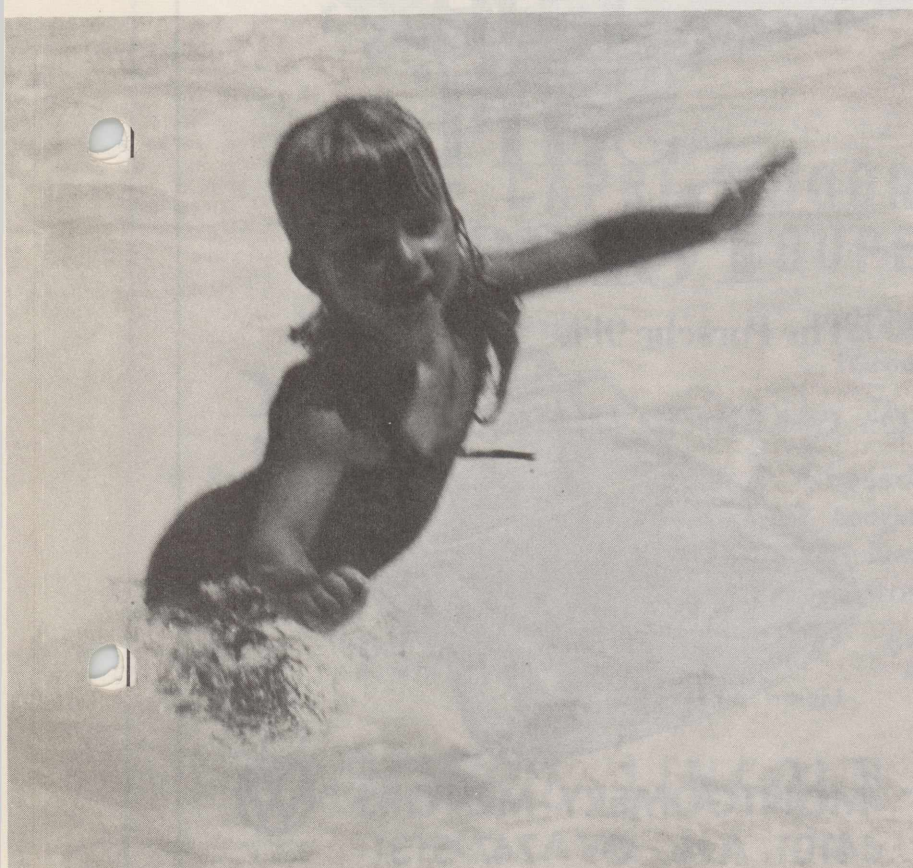

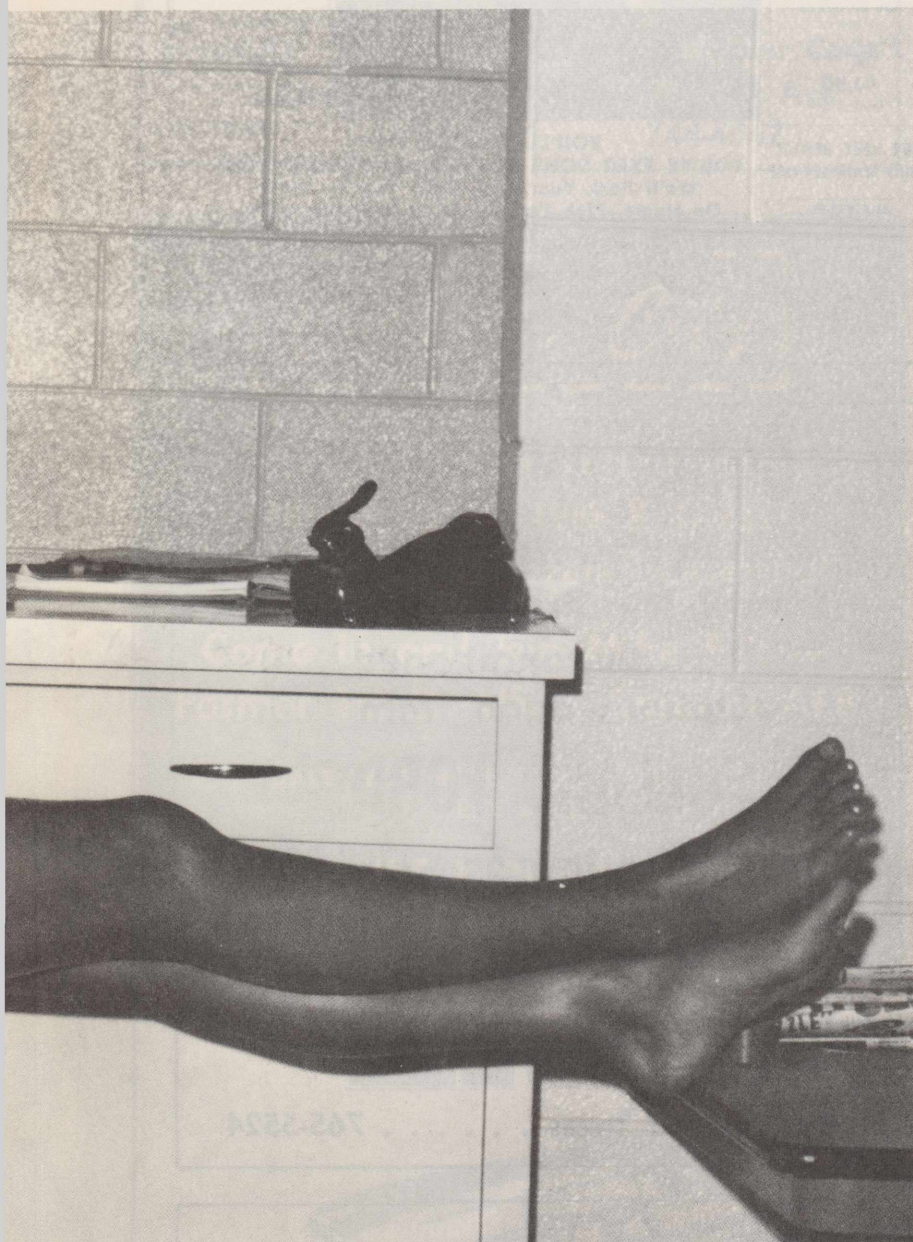

...just a good spot to do some serious girl-watching

The airmen's pool is located behind the base gym across from the airmen's dormitories. The officers' pool is behind the Officers Open Mess near the flight line.

High diving boards, low boards, a slide and lots of room to splash offer an inviting atmosphere for anyone who wishes to take advantage of the local facilities.

All in all, the pools at Reese feature fun, a chance to cool off, or just a place to do some serious girl-watching—what else could anyone ask for? (U.S. Air Force Photos by SSgt. Mike Henning)

New international signs

In an effort to help reduce the number of traffic accidents and fatalities, the United States is changing to international road signs. Adopted at the 1968 United Nations Conference on Road Traffic held in Vienna, the signs became standard throughout European nations and other major countries of the world. These pictorial signs are easier to understand than present signs.

People comprehend symbols faster than words, and this factor could be a life saver on the roads. The new signs should completely replace present signs by the end of 1974.

Safe driving is not a matter of luck. Experience shows that there is a sound and practical method of driving—the Defensive Driving Concept—that will enable you to stay out of the majority of accident situations. Driving is a skill that is improved by training, practice, experience, and by attitude. People with top skills continue to practice. The professional bowler or golfer will practice for hours even though he is at the top of his game. Why don't drivers practice too!

Accidents DO happen, of course. But it is people who make them happen. Many of them need not have happened—if the driver had observed safe driving practices—if the driver had adapted his driving to suit local conditions. Nor is it always the "other guy". Remember, for him YOU are the other guy.

Ecology-minded ATC tries hand at recycling

HQ. ATC—ATC is into recycling to save money and the environment.

While organizations at many bases, including Reese, collect clear glass, clean paper and aluminum cans, Sheppard AFB is one of several bases running an Air Force-directed, basewide test of recycling those items. In addition, silver and oil are being recycled at all ATC bases.

18 Dumpsters

Eighteen dumpsters are located around Sheppard for the people to contribute their recyclables. Ten are for paper, four for glass and four for aluminum cans. In the six months that the test has been running, 230,000 pounds of paper and 460 pounds of aluminum cans have been collected. The paper was sold for $600 and the aluminum cans for $46. Although the program does not make a profit, it pays for its own way according to an ATC redistribution and marketing spokesman. It also contributes to saving the environment.

Lot of Glass

The glass has not yet been sold because the purchaser requires that 34,000 pounds be collected first. And that's a lot of glass.

In addition to the basewide test program at Sheppard, the airman's club has been earning about $300 a month for the past eight months recycling aluminum beer cans. And that's a lot of beer.

Silver Recovered

Silver is the next part of the recycling story. For four years, all military departments and defense agencies have been recovering silver, a program begun by the Navy in 1954 to save money in the production of torpedo batteries. In the first three years the Air Force turned in 3.6 million pounds of scrap silver, which produced a savings of more than $800,000.

Today, ATC recovers silver from such diverse sources as batteries, amalgam used in dental fillings and chemical solutions used to develop photographic film and paper.

From sources other than film, Lowry, Moody and Sheppard Air Force Bases recovered 197 pounds of 90 per cent pure silver last fiscal year. The other ATC bases, using a different method of recovery, saved 8,424 pounds of 30 per cent pure silver sludge. They also recovered 150 pounds of amalgam, 25 per cent of it at Sheppard where dental technicians are trained.

Film Usage

In addition, ATC bases transferred 82,158 pounds of film, including X-rays, to centers across the nation for processing. The film yielded about 1,026 pounds of silver. All recovered silver is stored in the Navy's silver bank for use as needed by the government.

Recycled Oil

Although there seems to be little market for oil originally used in aircraft and ground vehicles, it also can be put to a second use through recycling. However, oil can be easily contaminated by small amounts of a foreign substance like carbon remover or paint thinner. With present equipment, it cannot be recycled if contaminated.

Token Sum

Columbus, Moody and Sheppard Air Force Bases sell the uncontaminated oil for recycling. The sale price is often a token sum, such as $1 a month at Sheppard. The contaminated oil is removed from those and other bases by a contractor.

Keesler and Laredo Air Force Bases turn oil over to local fire departments for practice in fire-fighting. Keesler also transfers oil to the Navy for mosquito control.

Reese Helping

Reese AFB turns some oil over to the county highway department for spraying on roads for dust control.

Recycling by ATC is its acknowledgement that the limited resources of the earth must be kept unpolluted and that its limited resources must be preserved. After all, the earth you save may be your own.

palace flicks

This week's review of the Palace Flick program available at the Consolidated Base Personnel Office (CBPO), bldg. 815, centers around the film entitled "The Road Ahead: Airman Promotions".

The eight-minute sound-on-film cassette is aimed solely at enlisted personnel in the Air Force. It deals with the Fiscal Year 1972 airman promotion program, significant changes in the program and promotion system, and the influence of the FY 72 program on promotion opportunity and programs of future years.

The film explains that the Air Force promotion management philosophy calls for fair, equitable advancement opportunity for all airmen regardless of specialty. This philosophy calls for sufficient program visibility to arm every promotion candidate with an understanding of the system and the way it works.

CHAMPUS notes

Under CHAMPUS successive inpatient admissions for similarly recurring procedures or for treatment of the same condition will be considered as one admission for the purpose of computing the CHAMPUS beneficiary's share of the charges, provided not more than 30 days elapse between the successive admissions.

Two-year Red Cross vet chosen Volunteer of Year

Mrs. Wesley Cox has been selected Red Cross Volunteer of the Year at Reese as part of a program established by the USAF Hospital here.

A two-year veteran of volunteer service with the Red Cross, Mrs. Cox has a total of 903 hours accumulated service for the 1971-72 year.

As a volunteer Mrs. Cox has worked in pediatrics, the surgical clinic, general therapy, records, pharmacy and the base library. In addition she has served as chairman of pediatrics and is currently chairman of general therapy, pharmacy and records.

As a unit chairman she has been hostess for several Red Cross coffees, and according to Lt. Col. Clare M. O'Brien, chief of Nursing Services, "She (Mrs. Cox) has provided excellent training and guidance for the volunteers working in her area. Linda's enthusiasm for volunteer work and her willingness to go beyond the duties expected of her have made her a valuable asset both to the Red Cross and to Reese Hospital."

When asked about donating so much of her time to the volunteer program, Mrs. Cox merely replied, "I thoroughly enjoy helping people."

Mrs. Cox is a native of Lubbock, Tex. and is married to TSgt. Wesley Cox, Field Maintenance Squadron. They have two children, Tammy Renea and Wesley Scott.

Metal drive set for tomorrow

Ecology Action Group at Reese will sponsor another metal collection drive tomorrow in an effort to preserve the American environment.

A truck will be parked across from the commissary on base from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. for those wishing to deposit cans and other metal items for recycling.

According to members of the Ecology Action Group, response to these drives has been excellent in the past. However, the group itself is in need of new members

Instructor's Journal ceases publication

HQ. ATC — The USAF Instructors Journal, a quarterly professional journal for Air Force instructors, will cease publication with the summer 1972 issue.

The final issue, which highlights communicative skills, will be distributed shortly.

Demise of the journal is due to cutbacks in the Air Force printing budget.

Individuals or organizations who wish 1963-1972 issues of the journal for reference use can obtain them through ATC/XPTIJ, Randolph AFB, Tex. 78148.

SPORTS

By Jim Comeaux

Patrons of the game of golf at Reese were overjoyed to hear that Air Training Command had come up with funds for a new clubhouse at Reese. This came in the immediate wake of the news that a new watering system had been approved for the course.

The watering system was the most sorely needed. The old antiquated system has been "shot" for several years now but recently has become an impossible thing, springing leaks, causing water bubbles all over the place and refusing to deliver water where it was needed. The old iron pipes will give way to the lasting plastic type, and, while water is no particular problem at the moment at Reese because of heavy rains, it will be a blessing in the future.

The clubhouse has similarly outlived its usefulness. At best it was a patchwork of additions. Its face doesn't look so bad, but it covered a world of woes inside. The air conditioning and heating left much to be desired and the roof had been patched up more than Aunt Hattie's blanket.

Its only good point was the covered patio and barbecue pit which has furnished golfers and their families many fine Sunday afternoons of pleasure. And, if the current plans are carried out, that patio and barbecue pit will be retained. Those plans call for moving everything from the north end of the building (the pro shop, club storage, office and snack bar) into the big room itself while the north end of the building is torn down. The new building will then be erected between the south part of the old clubhouse and the new cart shed.

The new clubhouse will be built of concrete blocks and will feature everything the old one had—and more. Retained will be the patio, putting green and even more parking area than now available. Plans call for a snack bar, but these could give way to automatic vending machines.

Naturally, all this will not be without a lot of inconvenience to golfers. The replacement of the watering system will call for digging up the fairways, and the lounge area of the clubhouse will be crowded as a New York subway.

If this keeps up no one will have anything to gripe about.

RUN FOR YOUR LIFE—Even as dramatic as that sounds, jogging is an excellent way to strengthen the heart muscles as 2nd Lt. Bruce R. Ferrell will attest. The joggers club on base has totalled more than 2,000 miles on the road to good health. (U. S. Air Force Photo by SSgt. Mike Henning)

Prigmore takes golf tourney by 3

Brian Prigmore survived a horrendous 10 on the 71st hole to win the Reese AFB Golf Tournament by three strokes over Neal Venters.

The month-long tournament established Prigmore as the base champion and served to name four others to represent Reese AFB in the Air Training Command Golf Championships' open division next month at Randolph AFB, Tex.

Prigmore put together rounds of 73-76-69-82 for a 72-hole total of 300. Venters, who led at the half-way point with back-to-back rounds of 73, faltered in the second half adding rounds of 78 and 79 for a 303 total. Third place went to Charles Thrash with a 307, opening with an 82, then scoring progressively better with rounds of 76-75-74.

The strongest finish in the tournament was recorded by Bob Doty who stepped up on the par 3, 165-yard 14th hole and stroked a five iron into the cup. Witnesses said the ball hit the center of the green, kicked right and disappeared behind the slope of the green toward the cup. When the foursome reached the green, there the ball was—in the cup. Doty went on to birdie 16 and 17 for a great finish. He had rounds of 75-78-82-76 for a total of 311.

Fifth place in the tournament—and the last spot on the open division team—went to H. J. Fry with rounds of 81-76-78-79 and a total of 314.

Only four other golfers finished their rounds. They are Jim Nickel, 319; George Holland, 328; Ken Payne, 339 and Jim Finley, 363.

By winning the tournament, Prigmore will have his name engraved on the big perpetual trophy to be displayed in the golf shop and which will serve to remind golfers that he is the champion golfer at Reese. A smaller trophy will be given him to keep. Presumably, too, he will captain the Reese golf team at the ATC tournament at Randolph in August.

Base champion rackets to third in ATC contest

Sgt. Bob Murio, base tennis champ, placed third in the men's open singles during the Air Training Command (ATC) tennis tournament at Randolph AFB, Tex., recently, according to a Mathis Recreation Center official.

This gave Sergeant Murio a berth on the ATC tennis team and paired him with Brian Cheney from Williams AFB on the ATC doubles team. Cheney took the number one slot in the men's open singles during the competition.

Williams AFB was the overall winner at the tournament with 22 points; Keesler AFB was second with 14 points; and Randolph AFB took third with 13 points.

Williams will represent ATC in the worldwide tennis tournament being held at Randolph AFB this week.

Other individual winners besides Cheney include:

Men's senior singles, James Cantrelle, Keesler AFB.

Men's open doubles, Brian Cheney and Ken Lang, Williams AFB.

Men's senior doubles, Albert Alder and Fred Mayer, Randolph AFB.

Women's singles, Cynthia Bramlett, Chanute AFB.

Women's doubles, Eleanor Skinner and Karen Davis, Lackland AFB.

Wives announce weekend scores

Lopsided victories highlighted this week's Wives Softball League action as the Red Hots and the Better Half rolled to easy wins.

Julie Spence was the winning pitcher in the first game that saw the Red Hots smash the hapless Dusty Devils by a 30-9 landslide. The loss went to Patsy Bredahl. The second wipeout of the day was even worse as the Better Half, led by Helaine Harris, crushed the Blue Diamonds by a healthy margin of 34-9. The losing hurler in that bout was Kathy Hiddenfelter.

The wives play their games each Sunday afternoon on the intramural ballfield located on War Highway behind the Reese USAF Hospital.

Captain Stein honored

Capt. Gary R. Stein has been named Instructor Pilot of the Month for July by the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron at Reese.

In selecting the captain for this honor, Lt. Col. William O. Walker, squadron commander, cited the "outstanding performance and significant contributions" which Captain Stein has made during his tour at Reese as an IP.

A member of F Flight, Captain Stein has served as an IP for two years. He has performed the duties of flying training records officer, flight navigation officer and student dispatch monitor in addition to his regular activities as an instructor. He has also served as the squadron personal equipment officer and as liaison to the local Civil Air Patrol.

His flight commander commended Captain Stein's high degree of maturity and initiative and noted that the captain's outstanding leadership ability has been demonstrated by "efficiently controlling and directing others, assuring timely and high quality results."

A native of West Texas, Captain Stein attended high school in Wichita Falls, Tex., and was graduated in 1964. He then entered North Texas State University in Denton, Tex., and was graduated in 1968 with a bachelor of science degree in industrial arts.

Upon completion of his college work, Captain Stein was awarded an Air Force commission through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

The 26-year-old Vietnam veteran is married to the former Miss Freeda Nell Overby. They have one child, Jeffrey Robert, age three-months. Captain Stein is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Stein of Alex, Okla.

Capt. Gary R. Stein

New concept for C-E Course

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Officers attending the Communications-Electronics Systems Staff Officer Course at Keesler AFB, Miss., will graduate simultaneously from that course and the Air Command and Staff College (ACSC) nonresident seminar program.

The new program is designed to provide communications-electronics officers with modern management techniques, better equipping them to manage large, highly technical command, control and communications systems throughout the world.

The new concept will add eight weeks of professional military education (PME) to the length of the present course.

Delay seen in six-year re-up program

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The optional six-year reenlistment policy for first-term airmen in critical specialties that Air Force officials announced in June, has been delayed. It was originally announced as effective July 1.

Personnel officials said that the revamping of its variable reenlistment bonus has stalled the starting date. Some airmen skills now on the VRB list could possibly either drop off or fall to lower rates.

Instructions to field personnel offices said: "Until officially advised otherwise, the maximum reenlistment contract for first-term airmen remains at four years."
