Athletic director title given coach

Head Tiger Football Coach Dennis Tomlin was given the additional duties Friday of athletic director for the system.

The decision was a unanimous board vote during a noon meeting of the school board. With it, Snyder returns to the approach of one man for both jobs — a system it followed through the 1975-76 school year.

Since 1976, the two positions have been separated, beginning that year with the appointment of Roy Carter.

He was followed by Athletic Directors John Gary and, most recently, David Noble.

Noble resigned the post this fall in order to return to the coaching ranks. He has since moved back as track coach for Angelo State University in San Angelo.

The last man to hold the position of both head coach and athletic director was Maurice "Mo" Hodges.

Tomlin's experience before coming to Snyder included the role of assistant athletic director in Plainview.

Principal selected for TEPSA honor

Frank Miller, principal at West Elementary, was honored Thursday by the District 14 Texas Elementary Principal's and Supervisors Association (TEPSA).

Miller was named the district's "TEPSAN of the Year" during the fall district conference for the group, conducted for the first time this year on the campus of Western Texas College.

The honor is given to recognize administrator's work in the education field. Other considerations include outside work involving the community, church and civic organizations.

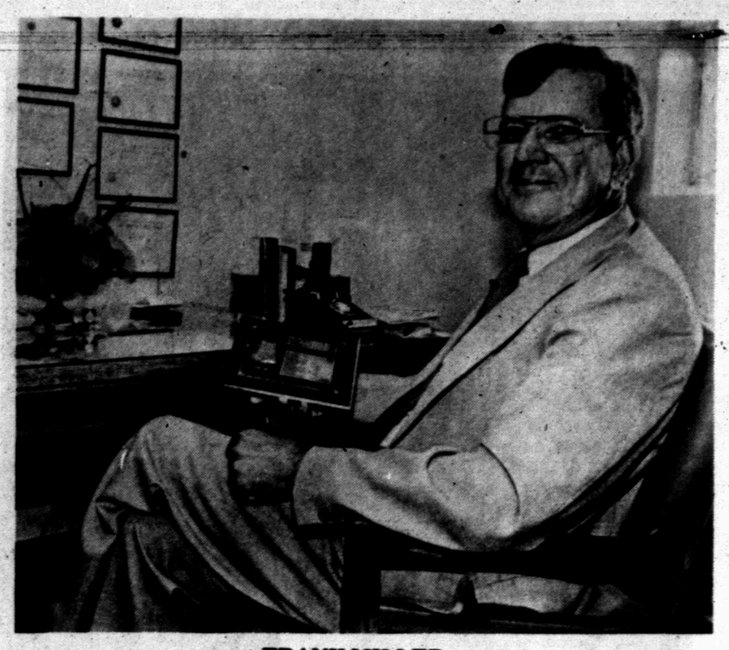

The statewide organization of TEPSA involves 20 districts, and Miller now becomes eligible to be named the state "TEPSAN of the Year."

This selection will be announced during the organization's state convention in Houston Dec. 6-8.

The district which includes Snyder is comprised of 12 other West Texas counties.

President of District 14 this year is Gerri Parker, principal at Northeast Elementary. As president, she serves on the executive committee which nominated Miller for the honor. Other members of the executive committee — all elementary principals in their respective cities — are: President-elect Barron Bird, Sweetwater; First Vice President Bill Calvert of

Cogdell adds malpractice liability level

The Cogdell Memorial Hospital Board of Managers approved a new liability insurance plan for the local facility Thursday — and as a requirement of the plan voted to add malpractice insurance levels for hospital staff physicians.

The board voted unanimously to apply for membership in the Texas Hospital Insurance Exchange (THIE) as of Nov. 1 to provide hospital malpractice insurance coverage.

Previously, the hospital had carried the liability insurance through a local agency representing the U.S. Fire Insurance Group. That company recently notified Administrator Cy Miller that they would not renew Cogdell's insurance after Oct. 31 this year.

Miller told the board no specific reason was given for the cancellation of the existing policy.

In the past year, U.S. Fire — which insured the hospital against court judgments up to the maxiumum legal limit of $100,000 — had not paid any damage claims against the institution.

The company had paid out some $47,000 in legal fees for the defense of the hospital in several lawsuits, however. In all these cases, Cogdell has never been found at fault.

The new insurance approved Tuesday also provides the $100,000 coverage and will pay legal fees for the hospital's defense in future lawsuits.

THIE is a non-profit cooperative composed of several hospitals in Texas established specifically to provide malpractice insurance for its member institutions.

The new program will result also in a cost savings to the hospital with yearly premiums for Cogdell set at some $18,000. The previous insurance premium had been approximately $23,000.

In conjunction with the new insurance program, the board approved an amendment to the operating by-laws of the hospital which stiffen insurance requirments for those individuals practicing medicine at Cogdell.

A condition of the hospital being accepted into the THIE insurance program is that every person practicing medicine in the facility carry individual malpractice insurance of at least $500,000 "per occurence."

This includes weekend emergency doctors, physician assistants and dentists using the hospital for treatment of patients.

Effective Nov. 1, every doctor with staff privleges at Cogdell

'Buffalo Day' slated Saturday

Eleven hours of activities and entertainment are planned Saturday for Snyder's 4th Annual White Buffalo Day's Celebration.

Focus for the event will be the Scurry County Coliseum and its adjacent grounds and ag annex.

The annual event, sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, officially gets underway at 8:30 a.m. with the start of the Buffalo Stampede.

The starting line for both a two-mile "fun run" and a 10 kilometer run will be at the Western Texas College Physical Education Building. The 10-K event will finish at the coliseum.

Runners may enter up until 8:30 a.m. A $5 fee is asked which includes a Buffalo Stampede T-shirt. For more information, individuals may contact Lee Burke, WTC physical education instructor who is coordinating the event.

Spectator activities begin at 10 a.m. with the White Buffalo Days Parade through downtown Snyder.

Parade participants are asked to assemble at the chamber of commerce office on Ave. R at 9 a.m. with the parade to begin at 10 a.m. It will proceed down Ave. R to the square, then back south on College Ave.

Float entries in the parade will be competing for $300 in cash prizes to include $125 for first, $100 for second and $75 for third.

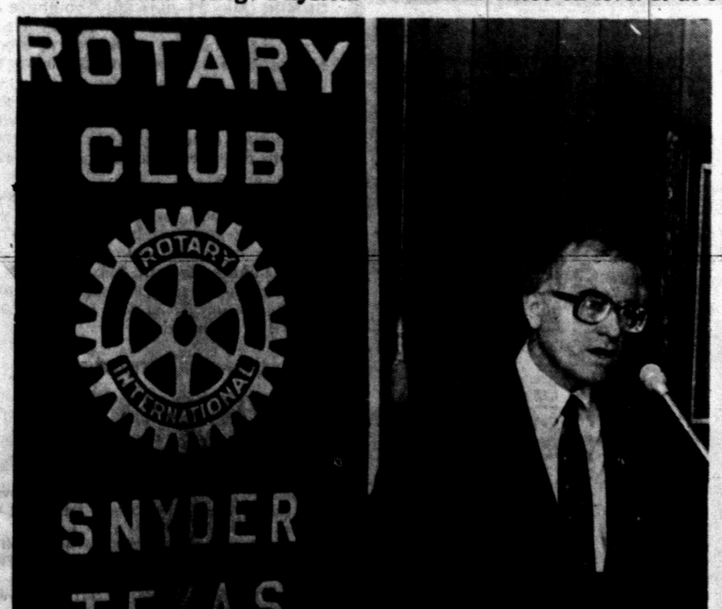

Activities at the coliseum will begin at 10 a.m. as the ABWA-sponsored Arts and Crafts Fair will open for an all-day run. Table setups will include a variety of homemade items which will be for sale.

Food and activity booths sponsored by various organizations will open for business at 10:30 a.m. in the ag annex.

Some 18 organizations are expected to offer a range of food items. These include hamburgers and fries, frito pies, hot dogs, burritos, tacos, sandwiches, tamale plates, chalupas, beef tacos, pizza, baked breads and pastries, candy applies, homemade ice cream, popcorn balls, caramel corn, cinnamon rolls, cookies and brownies, slices and whole fruit cakes and homemade candy.

O. G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, has a gal in the office who repeated a conversation that occurred at dinner the night before.

The couple's young son refused to eat. The father, whose temper had grown short, yelled, "Twenty years from now you'll be telling some girl what a great cook your mother was. Now eat your dinner!"

Walter Buckel, in the Lamesa Press-Reporter, commented on the presidential debates and expressed thanks that there won't be nine like the Democrats wanted.

"Isn't it funny that 10 to 20 years ago when conservative speakers running for office were being drowned out by the shouts of demonstrators, the TV news people called it 'protesting.' They even gave the impression it was honorable protesting.

"Nowadays when liberal speakers are being drowned out, the TV people are calling it 'heckling,' and the impression is that heckling is not honorable.

"It's sort of amusing how the liberal TV news people carry on. When their chickens come home to roost, they squeal like a pig caught under the gate."

George Dolan wrote about Nacogdoches speaker Bob Murphey who likes to tell about his coon dogs. Murphey was a speaker out at WTC about a year ago.

Hunters take their dogs out at night and turn 'em loose. "Then they hunker down and listen to the dogs' voices."

It is said the men can tell when the dogs are on a hot trail, and they know the dogs have a coon treed. Murphey went out one night with a friend who claimed his dog was the fastest in East Texas.

They hunkered, listen and before long the dog's far-off cries told them it had a coon treed.

They homed in on its voice and found it standing on its hind legs, front paws on the trunk of a tree, looking up and barking. But were was no coon in the tree.

"Your dog has just treed an empty tree," Murphey observed.

"Naw, he's just fast," the hunter explained. "The coon ain't got here yet."

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — With the goals of their flight achieved, Challenger's astronauts were to take some final radar pictures of Earth and pack up to come home today, hoping Florida's changeable weather will permit a landing near their launch site on Saturday.

Following their "most outstanding day" on Thursday — highlighted by a productive space walk — the five men and two women were to devote much of today to stowing experiments and equipment and checking flight control systems in preparation for the return to Earth.

Gunman suspected of string of heists

DALLAS (AP) — An elusive robber who wears a three-piece suit, drives a sports car and is polite to the bank tellers he is robbing, may have pulled as many as eight heists in this North Central Texas City, police say.

Wednesday, he did it again — twice — and managed to slip through authorities' fingers again, police say.

While police were searching for the man who wore a gray pinstriped suit to hold up the Love Field National Bank, the calm, dapper gunman was robbing the Forestwood National Bank several miles north.

In both heists, he escaped with an undisclosed amount of money, authorities said.

In both robberies Wednesday, police say the man jumped into the teller areas, took money from the cash boxes and placed it in a briefcase.

"He always does it the same," said Sgt. Tom Sherman.

FBI spokesman Udo Specht said the man has eluded authorities through 10 robberies in the Dallas-Fort Worth area dating back to September 1978.

4 Texas projects fall victim to cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Texas congressmen are bemoaning the loss of water projects for their districts that had, for the first time in years, seemed close to becoming reality.

The House-Senate conferees trying to thrash out an emergency spending bill that would meet President Reagan's specifications have dumped four Texas water projects.

Reagan had threatened to veto the bill if the water projects were in it, and Congress was eager to get out of town by Thursday.

Texas delegation dean Jack Brooks, D-Beaumont, called it a "tragedy" that he lost funding for the Clear Creek flood control project.

Congressman Jake Pickle, D-Austin, was described as "disappointed" by his aides that the Boggy Creek flood control money was cut. Pickle has been working for flood control in the low-income area of East Austin since 1967, his press secretary said.

Jack Hightower, D-Vernon, felt like "the fish was in the net and almost in the boat," according to his spokesman, Steve Cotton. But the Wichita Lake-Holiday Creek flood control project in his district was one of the victims of the ax.

Freeport Harbor, a project originally proposed in 1968, is temporarily something of an orphan. It is in Rep. Ron Paul's district, but Paul is losing his seat after running unsuccessfully for the Republican Senate nomination this year.

Modest Swimwear Is There For Those Who Know Where to Shop

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: "Mad in Madison" wrote: "If you know where a woman can buy a modest one-piece bathing suit, please let me know. I am a senior citizen whose doctor has recommended swimming as a healthful exercise, but I am no Venus in a bathing suit," etc.

I told "Mad" I would have to search far. Hundreds of readers sent pages from the catalogs of Sears-Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, J.C. Penney and National, all featuring beautifully styled, modest bathing suits such as I have not seen in many years. There were one-piece (some skirted), not-too-revealing swimsuits, available in all sizes for women of all ages. And the prices were right, too.

Another surprise: The Lane Bryant stores, known for dressing the larger woman, carry stylish, conservative bathing suits from size 14 and up.

Many readers suggested shopping at medical supply shops. They said the bathing suits designed especially for women who have had mastectomies are good-looking, have built-in bras, and were purchased by many women who have not had mastectomies. (Look under "Prosthetic Appliances" in the Yellow Pages of your telephone directory.)

All maternity shops feature modest, non-revealing swimwear, some with matching cover-up jackets, suitable for non-pregnant women.

Another idea: Leotards, now popular for exercise and dancing classes, can double for swimwear. They're comfortable, good-looking, modest and reasonably priced.

And last but not least, make your own. Stretch-and-sew fabrics and patterns are available in shops and department stores.

So, women, we need not be slaves to fashion. The abbreviated bikini is only for the lean, the young, the hairless and the brave. But fortunately, we do have some choices—when we know where to look.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I were going to take our grandchildren, ages 8 and 10, to the movies last Saturday, and we ended up having ice cream and going home without seeing a movie.

Do you know why? I will tell you why. There were nine movies playing, and not one was a family movie. They were all rated PG, PG-13 and R.

Abby, the movies used to be a family pleasure. Why doesn't the movie industry make family entertainment anymore? We have to see reruns of "Snow White" and "Bambi" until we have them memorized.

We need some good, funny, clean, old-fashioned movies. Abby, whatever happened to Laurel and Hardy?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I want to start a family. Twelve years ago, when I was 17, I had an abortion in the early stages of pregnancy. There were no complications.

I do not want it on my medical record. My husband does not know about it, and if he were to find out, the consequences could be devastating.

Can my gynecologist tell if I've had an abortion?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: No. If yours was a routine, complete abortion with no complications, there is no way a gynecologist can detect it.

Estrogen offers many benefits

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — WHy does my body require estrogens and progesterones? What causes the hot flashes when I don't take them? What are the risks of cancer from taking them?

I am 30 and had a complete hysterectomy two years ago. I've been taking the two drugs since then. My doctor says I'm young and need them, but he offers no other explanations. I need some answers before I decide whether to continue taking these drugs. Is there any literature on them?

DEAR READER — Better listen to your doctor. These are not "drugs" in the sense I think you mean, but are hormones that are naturally produced by your body. They are responsible for your female characteristics. Estrogens, in particular, help to develop breasts and secondary sexual characteristics and to maintain a moist vaginal lining. These hormones induce the changes at puberty that cause a girl to mature into a young woman.

Regardless of how it happens, a shortage of female hormones causes you to lose secondary sexual characteristics. Your body's thermostat may be upset, leading to hot flashes. Even cells at the outlet of the bladder may change in such a way that a woman is more susceptible to urinary tract infections, and her bones will degenerate early.

You are the type of woman who greatly benefits from taking estrogen, according to a recent study sponsored by the National Instututes of Health. Women who have lost their ovaries from surgery and did not take replacement hormone therapy had a death rate, from all causes, that was more than eight times as great as that of women who took estrogen.

Your letter suggests that you badly need more information on the menopause, so I am sending you The Health Letter Special Report-22, Understanding the Menopause. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — It is a common practice for high-school wrestling coaches to encourage weight loss so boys can wrestle at a lighter weight. They are coaxed into minimizing food and fluid, in addition to frequent expectoration, to keep their weight down. Won't they suffer from dehydration and malnutrition? No one listens to me, since I am just a mother, but maybe, for the sake of the team, they will listen to you.

DEAR READER — It might impress them most to know that a good study showed that teams did not do as well in competition if they employed such practices. Wrestlers who didn't try to get below their correct weight with such practices did better even if they wrestled at a higher weight class. Therefore, the practices are costing them in competition.

Why is this so? Muscles are significantly weakened by loss of water, salt and inadequate glycogen stores. The muscle glycogen is the main source of energy during the match.

It is particularly bad to follow such unsound practices during the growth and development phase, which certainly applies to most high-school students, since they usually have not yet reached physical maturity.

Ferraro qualified for post

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Ronald Reagan might turn out to be the Thomas Dewey of 1984, U.S. Sen. Ted Kennedy predicted during a campaign swing through Texas for Democrat Walter Mondale.

Kennedy, in San Antonio Thursday to watch the Geraldine Ferraro-George Bush debate, made the remark before a wildly enthusiastic crowd of about 1,500 Democrats.

The Massachusetts senator was referring to Reagan's large lead in the polls. Dewey had been expected to win the 1948 election, but Harry Truman won the presidency instead.

"Actually, I think Ronald Reagan might turn out to be the Dewey of 1984," Kennedy said at a rally after watching the debate.

Kennedy, who is on a multi-state campaign trip for Mondale, was to travel to Carrizo Springs for a breakfast early today, then appear in Harlingen before leaving Texas.

He said Ms. Ferraro won the tilt with Bush.

"Geraldine Ferraro not only demonstrated tonight she is qualified to be a vice presidential candidate, she also demonstrated she is qualified to be president," Kennedy said to a screaming, sign-waving crowd.

Kennedy used baseball terminology to describe Thursday's debate.

"In baseball you learn in three strikes you're out," he told reporters after watching the debate at a downtown hotel.

NEWTON FALLS, Ohio (AP) — When May Byers saw a Victorian mansion in a television advertisement she told her husband, "I want one."

Charles Byers took up the challenge and five years later the house is nearly complete. But it's not just your ordinary luxurious Victorian domicile.

Byers' house is a miniature. From the basement to the peak of its gabled roof three stories up, the house is 5 feet, 5 inches tall.

MINIATURE MANSION — Charles Byers of Newton Falls, Ohio, inspects his handiwork, a 5-foot, 5-inch mansion he designed and built of plywood. Mrs. Byers, who collected furniture and accessories, served as interior decorator. (AP Photo)

Mrs. Byers has collected furniture and accessories for it and is its interior decorator. There are still a few things to do, like laying some carpet, wallpapering three rooms and putting drapes on a few windows. But the pewter tea service, the bearskin rug and the needlepoint fire screen are in place.

This is the third miniature house Byers has built. The first was based on plans in a magazine and the second was made from a kit. Byers said building the minimansion had been therapy for him. He was recuperating from multiple heart attacks and cardiac surgery and his doctor wouldn't permit much physical activity.

"Since I was the architect, the contractor and the subcontractor, it was easy to find the guy at fault when there was a mistake," said Byers, now retired after 48 years as a volunteer and executive with the Boy Scouts of America.

Byers spent three months designing the house on a scale of one inch to one foot. He has a notebook filled with blue prints, a building plan and a diagram of the electrical system.

The house has a generating plant with three transformers. Two transformers power the lights and one provides power for the doorbell. Wiring is concealed behind the exterior chimney, and beneath flooring of the house.

Byers built his house in the basement of his home and getting up and down stairs to do the work was one of his more difficult tasks, because his doctors restricted his exercise.

"I was only allowed to walk up three steps, stop, count to 10, and then go up three more steps," he explained. "It took forever to get upstairs."

Outer walls of the house are made of plywood and covered with beige siding. The eaves, doors and all 41 windows are trimmed in chocolate brown.

Among features in the house are a clothes chute, linen closets, walk-in closets, and a pass-

Nineteen members of the Martin Preuitt, Jr. Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met Oct. 9 in the home of Mrs. John Fagin. Hostesses for the event were Fagin, Mrs. G.B. Clark, Mrs. G.D. Hinton and Louise Thompson.

Thompson opened the business meeting with prayer. Mrs. Clyde Hall, Jr., regent, led the group in the pledge to the American flag and in the American creed.

Mrs. Joe T. Alexander gave the treasurer's report and Hall reported on committee duties and special events for the coming year. Mrs. H.F. Clark reported that a memorial page for Delila Baird will appear in the October issue of "DAR Magazine." The Snyder chapter, the Rotan chapter and other interested persons shared in this memorial. The group, led by Mrs. Bernhard Bartels, discussed the programs and the meeting times and places for the year.

Once is not enough

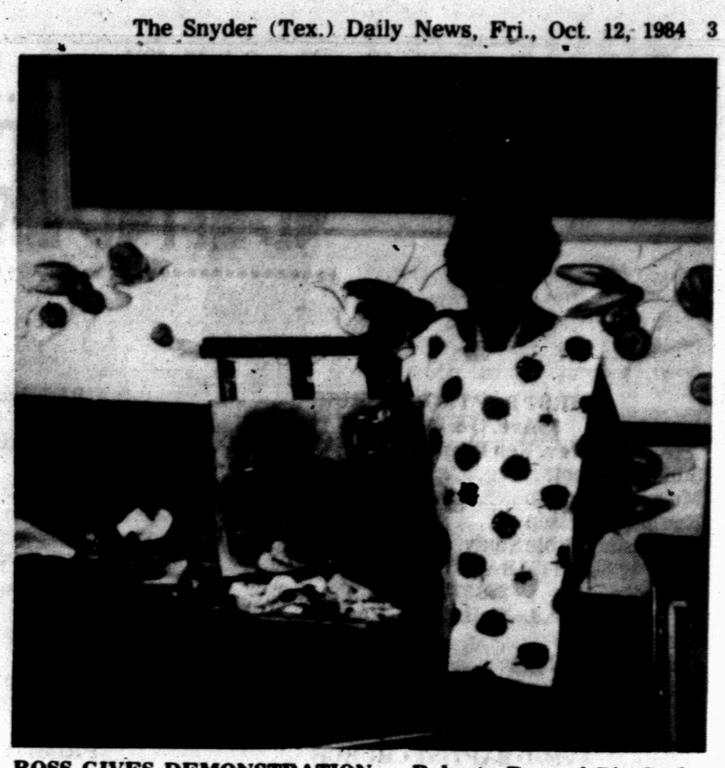

By James Jacoby

Avoidance does not just happen when a crashing bore heads your way at a social gathering. It also occurs more than a little at the bridge table.

South became declarer in four spades after a routine auction. He covered the opening lead of the jack of hearts with dummy's queen. When East played his majesty, South remembered about avoidance — he ducked. He certainly didn't want West to get on lead and play a club through dummy's king. South won the heart continuation and played a spade to the ace. If East had played the queen or jack, declarer would have returned to his hand with the diamond ace to play another trump toward dummy's K-10. Since an honor had not appeared, South played the spade king. West now was able to gain the lead by trumping the third round of diamonds. His club lead allowed the ace and queen of clubs in the East hand to set the contract.

South had the right idea, but he needed to extend his caution to greater lengths. On the first lead of spades, he should play dummy's 10. This will probably lose the trick, but it will enable declarer to draw trumps without allowing West to gain the lead. The reward for exercising such caution will be two overtricks, since declarer's losing clubs go off on the long diamonds, and a heart loser can be ruffed in dummy.

Aalto's contributions on display

NEW YORK (AP) — Alvar Aalto's contributions to 20thcentury design are the subject of an exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art.

"Alvar Aalto: Furniture and Glass" examines the Finnish architect-designer's industrial design work in depth and is the first exhibition ever to present the full range of his furniture.

The exhibition closes Nov. 27.

Colonial Hill plans revival

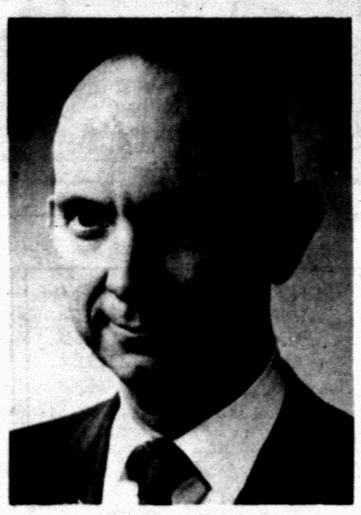

Colonial Hill Baptist Church is planning a revival for Sunday through Wednesday. Dr. Leray Fowler, pastor of the West University Baptist Church in Houston, will be the featured speaker and Dr. Euell Porter, professor emeritus of choral music and director of musical activities at Baylor University will provide the music.

Sunday services are slated for 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Week nights services begin at 7:30 p.m. A noon service is also planned for Monday through Wednesday. A light meal will be served as well.

Special emphasis Sunday will be for children; Monday, senior citizens; Tuesday, family night; and Wednesday will be youth night.

Dr. Fowler has served the Houston church for 22 years. Formerly he was pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ballinger and Sweetwater. He is a member of the Administrative Committee of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Dr. Porter has served as director of choirs at Baylor University from 1955-1980. He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons, Texas A&M, and the University of Texas. He has served as minister of music at 7th and James Baptist Church in Bryan and the First Baptist Church in Abilene. He is currently serving as interim minister of music at Western Heights Baptist in Waco.

JUDGES ATTEND SEMINAR--Ninety-six justices of the peace attended a 20-hour Texas Justice of the Peace Training Center seminar last month. The training center is based at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. The seminars are held in compliance with Article 5972, Section B, of the Texas Revised Civil Statutes. Among the judges attending were, left to right, Dee C. Justice of Post, Garza County, Precinct 4, Place 1; Shelia Melton of Post, Garza County, Precinct 1; Lewie Hilton of Jayton, Kent County, Precinct 4, Place 1; and Dan E. Callaway of Snyder, Scurry County, Precinct 1. (SWT News Service Photo)

Opening remarks revealed

NEW YORK (AP) — A rising young producer and a top network correspondent for CBS News had no incentive to distort the truth when they accused America's commander in Vietnam of misleading his superiors about the progress of the war, an attorney for the network says.

But a lawyer for retired Gen. William C. Westmoreland said the CBS broadcast of "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception" distorted facts because the producer "needed a story, a big story."

The clash came in opening arguments Thursday in Westmoreland's $120 million libel suit against CBS, "60 Minutes" correspondent Mike Wallace, producer George Crile and Sam Adams, an ex-CIA analyst who was a CBS consultant for the program.

Spectators, lawyers and reporters packed the Manhattan courtroom of U.S. District Judge Pierre N. Leval and spilled into the corridor as the trial began.

Dan M. Burt, Westmoreland's attorney, charged Crile used dishonest editing, selective interviewing and other techniques to "fabricate" a case against Westmoreland.

Burt said the broadcast on Jan. 23, 1982, depicted the general at the center of a "conspiracy" to tell top Washington officials — including President Lyndon Johnson — that enemy strength in late 1967 was less than 300,000 troops, when the CIA actually believed it was close to twice that level.

Defense lawyer David Boies said the broadcast's premise was true — and that more importantly, CBS and its employees believed it was true at the time. To win a libel verdict, Westmoreland and other public figures must prove someone knowingly broadcast a defamatory falsehood about them or broadcast it in "reckless disregard" of the truth.

Boies was to complete his opening arguments today.

Burt charged that by failing to interview key figures, dropping interviews that contradicted the show's thesis and using improper editing techniques, CBS wrongly accused Westmoreland of misleading the president and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

File lawsuit in federal court against 5 railroad companies

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Executives of two of five railroads named in a $2.8 billion federal lawsuit deny they conspired to defeat a coal slurry pipeline project that lobbyists say would have put the railroads out of business.

Investors canceled the project in July, citing difficulties in obtaining financing and rights of way.

In the suit filed Wednesday here, Burlington Northern, Union Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Kansas City Southern and Chicago North Western railroads were charged with conspiring to defeat the project.

But Burlington Northern spokesman Mike Wenninger says the charges are "baseless."

"Our railroad company is certain that everything we did regarding any of the slurry pipeline projects was all done properly and above-board," he said.

The pipeline project, planned by Energy Transportation Systems Inc., would have transported coal slurry from the coal-rich Powder River Basin in Wyoming and Montana to Texas and other Midwest states — a route currently served only by the railroads.

The Texas Railroad Association publicly opposed the pipeline in 1976, when the Texas Legislature considered a bill that would have given pipeline developers the power of eminent domain.

Lobbyists said pipelines would mean economic ruin for railroads, which earn more than 25 percent of their revenues by transporting coal, and would cause environmental hazards because of leaks and spills.

Spokesmen for other railroads could not be reached for comment Thursday.

Superpowers are building up arsenals

LONDON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union are building up their submarine missile capability, and weapons tests indicate both superpowers are planning to increase their nuclear arsenals, the International Institute for Strategic Studies said today.

International economic troubles and the rising costs of high-tech hardware have forced a "significant slowing down of the arms race on a global scale," the authoritative London-based research center said in a summary of its 1984-85 Military Balance report.

Nevertheless, it said, the pattern of new weapons systems testing indicates the United States and the Soviet Union plan "further expansion later in the 1980s."

Noting the emergence of weapons with improved accuracy, mobility and concealment, the institute said: "It is a trend that will make it very difficult to negotiate verifiable constraints in future years" and that "will undoubtedly complicate future arms-control negotiations."

The institute, founded in 1958, is widely respected for its studies of international security issues. Its analysts come from the United States, Europe and Asia.

The report said NATO has, for the most part, lost the technological edge it had over the Warsaw Pact, while the Soviet bloc has boosted its numerical superiority and its arsenal of ew fighter-bombers.

The report said in an analysis of the conventional-weapons balance in Europe: "The West has largely lost the technological edge in conventional equipment which allowed NATO to believe that quality could substitute for number."It noted that major Warsaw Pact reorganization at the operational level has given the Eastern bloc "more firepower, flexibility and mobility."

The report said the Soviet submarine force now has about 40 operational SSN-20s, which are naval versions of the land-based medium-range SS-20 missiles. The report also said the Soviets have the first multi-warhead, or MIRV, weapons deployed in their boats.

These weapons, replacing older SSN-5 and SSN-6 systems, are carried by two Typhoon-class subs, the biggest submarines ever built. The institute said the Soviet navy is planning to build three or four more of the 25,000-ton vessels.

The Soviets' submarine-launched megatonnage "has increased significantly," the Military Balance report said. "It's interesting that the Soviets see this as an area where they should put increasing emphasis," institute director Robert O'Neill said.

Governor not fond of wagering, lottery

AUSTIN (AP) — Although the state may need extra tax revenue next year to make ends meet, Gov. Mark White says he doesn't want the Legislature to legalize parimutuel betting to help do it.

Besides, he told his weekly news conference Thursday, he is not among those who think any tax increase will be needed.

"I think there are ways in which we can meet the service needs of the people of our state, hopefully without any additional tax," White said.

The governor says a number of moves are being taken to avoid another tax increase, which would come on the heels of a $4.6 billion, three-year hike approved during a special legislative session this summer.

The state is facing a potential budget shortfall, and on Wednesday a top lawmaker predicted that the Legislature will approve parimutuel wagering on horse racing next year rather than vote for more taxes.

3 Snyderites receive degrees

Three Snyder students at Angelo State University were among 242 students to receive degrees during summer commencement at Angelo State University.

Phyllis Dianne Brown received a bachelor of science degree with a major in elementary education. John Drew Erwin received a bachelor of science degree, magna cum laude, with a major in distributive education. Susan Louise Farrar received a master of education degree with a major in reading specialist.

Christopher Columbus sighted Santo Domingo Island in 1492.

Union Baptist slates revival

Sales, sweepstakes are planned here

In time for fall home spruce-ups and pre-holiday decorating, consumers can take advantage of significant values in home furnishings, as the furniture industry holds its annual National Sale and Sweepstakes here and across the country.

Landes Home Furnishings in Snyder joins other manufacturers and retailers who will be offering special values Sunday through Oct. 22.

"Consumers can also win major cash and vacation prizes in the National Furniture Sale's $250,000 Sweepstakes," said Gary Landes, of Landes Furniture. "To enter, consumers need simply come into a participating store and register. No purchase is necessary."

Fair housing course planned

Fair housing practices will be studied in a three-hour Continuing Education course scheduled Monday night at Western Texas College.

The class will meet in room 110 of Building 2B from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Students will register in that room starting at 6:15 p.m. and are to pay the $5 registration fee at that time.

All applicants for real estate licenses must complete at least three classroom hours of course work on federal, state, and local laws governing housing discrimination, housing credit discrimination and community reinvestments or at least three semester hours of course work on constitutional law.

Truck blaze here said only smoke

Snyder firemen were dispatched to a reported truck fire at the Plaza Truck Stop in north Snyder at 6:50 p.m. Thursday.

According to reports, the fire call was prompted by smoke coming from the brakes of an 18-wheel tractor-trailer rig at the truck stop.

Firemen reported that no fire was found and damage to the 1981 Hobbs trailer, owned by Flint Construction of Gail, was minor.

The driver of the rig was listed as Charles Lieb.

Items said stolen

Snyder police are investigating a misdemeanor theft reported Thursday night involving items said taken from a local residence.

Edward Broker of 100 23rd St. called police at 8:11 p.m. He told investigators a quantity of make-up and clothes belonging to his wife and daughters had apparently been stolen from their residence.

No value was estimated for the missing items and investigators are unsure of the actual time of the theft. It was discovered earlier Thursday.

Parked car hit

A single minor traffic mishap was reported in Snyder Thursday afternoon.

It occurred at 1:24 p.m. in the 2100 Block of 27th St. According to reports, a 1980 AMC driven by Sandy Ann Dodd of 2611 Ave. U struck a parked 1972 Pontiac owned by Sue Ann Howell of 2701 Ave. U.

TEPSA honors local principal

Breckenridge; and Second Vice President Pat Poole of Abilene.

Registration for Thursday's event began at 10 a.m. at the WTC campus. The administrators heard two speakers during the day, including an afternoon session offered by Snyder Superintendent Bob Hawes.

He offered background information on implementation of H.B. 72. He also offered his own criteria on "excellence" in schools.

The morning speaker was Dr. Virginia Sowell, assistant vice president for academic affairs at Texas Tech University in Lubbock. She discussed "Focus on Excellence: Administrative Challenge."

Approximately 45 members of TEPSA registered, to include all six local elementary principals, who also assisted with local arrangements.

While in Snyder, the group also toured the campus of WTC, the Western Texas College Museum and the Diamond M Museum.

At 10:30 a.m., the Historic Scurry County Inc.'s Cornelius-Dodson House, located on the coliseum grounds, will open for a book signing party.

It is planned to be reminiscent of a high school annual signing party for those who purchased the local family history book "Footprints Across Scurry County." It will continue until 1 p.m.

Day-long entertainment events in the coliseum ag annex will begin at 11 a.m. with a performance by the Colonial Hill Baptist Church Hand Bell Choir and Puppetters.

At 11:30 p.m., a high intensity aerobics demonstration by Patric McKinney, physical education instructor at WTC, is slated in the ag annex breezeway.

From noon until 1 p.m., the Snyder Junior High School choir will entertain in the ag annex.

Other activites scheduled through the afternoon include the annual Mayor's Cup Race set for 12:30 p.m. in the ag annex.

This race, a yearly feature of the Buffalo Day's, will pit Snyder Mayor Rod Waller in a race with County Judge Preston Wilson. Both men will be carrying cups of water on their heads with the winner being the racer who spills the least water during the course.

The First Annual Scurry County Turtle Race will begin at 1 p.m. and organizers of this event say that racing turtles will be available for rent.

Youngsters five to eight years old will have the opportunity to participate in the first-ever Buffalo Kids Stick Horse Rodeo at 2 p.m. in the annex arena.

Competitors will be divided into 5-6 year old and 7-8 year old divisions for competition in stick horse barrel racing, stick horse flag racing and goat ribbon grabbing.

A demonstration of break dancing is expected at 3 p.m. in the ag annex also.

In addition, entertainers are scheduled to perform through the day to include the Hoss Clayton Band of Snyder from 1 to 4 p.m.; Jazz and classical guitarist Dave Nystel of Denton from 4 to 5 p.m.; singer Glenda Hollingsworth from 5-5:30 p.m.; and the Western In-Betweens of Snyder, who will perform from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. during the annual barbecue.

Advance tickets for the barbecue dinner, catered by George Gann and Jerry Baird, are priced at $6 for adults and $4.50 for children.

Tickets will also be sold at the door for $6.50 and $5 respectively at the door.

Advance barbecue tickets can be purchased at the Merle Norman Studio, American State Bank and the Scurry County Museum.

Immediately following the barbecue, the White Buffalo Day activities will conclude with an auction beginning at approximately 7:30 p.m. in the ag annex. Tommy Marricle will serve as auctioneer.

Items and services will be sold and these have been donated by local individuals.

Items to be auctioned include:

—"Old Reliable" — a 45-70 buffalo gun, numbered with a certificate of authenticity.

—A handmade quilt with original design featuring Scurry County and made at the Senior Citizens Center.

—A weekend for two at the Dunes Hotel in Las Vegas compliments of West Texas State Bank and airfare compliments of Southwest Airlines.

—A canteen from the Texas A&M dining hall donated by Mr. and Mrs. John Bullock.

—A ladies vest made from an antique quilt, handmade and donated by Anna Mae Perry.

—A 45-minute singing performance by Cindy Hataway.

—A weekend for two at the Granada Royale Hometel arrnaged through Snyder Travel.

—A 4X6 hand-loomed rug, an original design made from all virgin wool, donated by the chamber of commerce.

—A "simple will" donated by Gary Terrell.

—A 45-minute singing performance by Glenda Hollingsworth.

—A four-piece silver-plate Gorham tea service donated by Cox Jewelers.

—A handcrafted Incolay stone plate limited edition entitled "Taj Mahal Lovers," donated by Glover's.

—A personal color analysis by Betty League.

—A pair of buffalo horns with scrimshaw carving donated by Robert and Karen Carmichael.

—A 4X6 fringed area rug donated by Teal Carpets.

—A first edition of the family history book "Footprints Across Scurry County."

Tomlin accepts added AD post

In line with his additional duties, he will receive a $2,000 salary supplement. Also, effective with the spring semester, he will be relieved of teaching responsibilities at SHS, where he currently teachers a course in U.S. history.

Superintendent Bob Hawes commented he felt the board based its selection of Tomlin "because of his genuine interest in the entire sports program.

"He also expressed an interest in the position when the job came open," he said.

The offer to accept the AD's post was made earlier in the week, and Hawes said Tomlin did not reach a final decision regarding it until Thursday night.

must be able to furnish proof of the insurance coverage.

In a third action related to the malpractice insurance issue, the board also voted to purchase what is called "tail-end" liability coverage from its old insurance company, U.S. Fire, "if possible."

The "tail-end" coverage would provide insurance to cover the institution in claims arising from events prior to October 31 that have not yet been filed.

No figures were available Thursday for the possible cost of the added coverage.

Board members in attendence at Thursday's meeting were Rex Robinson, John Jarrell, A.Z. Glover, Leon Autry and Dan Cotton. Ex-officio members Preston Wilson, county judge, and Dr. James Howell, staff representative, attended also. Board member Sam Cross was absent.

Mixer said stolen

Scurry County Sheriff's investigators are investigating the theft of a cement mixer from a rural residence reported Friday.

According to reports, the mixer was apparently stolen from the Tom Collier residence five miles east of Snyder sometime over the past month.

No value was estimated for the missing item.

William Marcy Tweed, the boss of New York City's Tammany Hall political organization, escaped from jail in 1875 and fled to Spain.

IRA claims bomb blast was theirs

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — An IRA bomb exploded early today at a hotel where Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher was staying, killing two people and injuring 24, including a Cabinet minister and a member of Parliament. Mrs. Thatcher was not hurt.

The Irish Republican Army, in a statement issued in Dublin, claimed responsibility for the blast and said it was an attempt "against the British Cabinet and the Tory warmongers."

Mrs. Thatcher, at the seafront Grand Hotel along with most of her 22-member Cabinet for Conservative Party's annual conference, said the explosion blew out the windows of her second-floor room. She was taken to a police station in this English Channel resort and told reporters: "I'm very well, thank you."

The injured included Mrs. Thatcher's trade minister, Norman Tebbit; the Australian ambassador to Britain, Alf Parsons; and the Conservatives' whip in the House of Commons, John Wakeham.

Mrs. Thatcher said she was still awake when the blast occurred at 3:10 a.m., working on a speech she planned to deliver to the conference today. Her husband Denis was in bed. "All the windows went, and the bathroom was extremely badly damaged. We were very lucky," Mrs. Thatcher said.

Six hours after the blast, Mrs. Thatcher kept her eyes firmly closed as the conference convened on schedule with a prayer for the dead and injured.

"We intend to continue with our conference ... because those who wish to intimidate democracy must be shown that whatever means they use, those means will in fact fail," party chairman John Selwyn Gummer said, his voice breaking with emotion.

The delegates then went on to the scheduled debate on strife-torn Northern Ireland.

Home Secretary Leon Brittan told a news conference that police officials determined the explosion was caused by a bomb containing 15-20 pounds of explosives. "It is clear that the incident was caused by an explosive device from inside the hotel," he said.

The explosion blew out a huge section of the eight-story hotel's front wall, with the hole rising upward from the fifth floor.

Emma Nicholson, a vice chairman of the Conservative Party who fled from the hotel in her dressing gown, said: "There was an enormous explosion, then the smell of acrid smoke. It was horrid."

Stab wound noted

Police officers transported a 23-year-old Snyder man to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment of a stab wound Thursday evening.

Friday morning, no charges were expected to be filed in the case.

According to reports, police were called to a reported fight at the Daniel Perez residence at 2011 Ave. K at 11:46 p.m. Perez was taken from the scene to the local hospital where his injury was treated at the emergency room.

He was released and jailed on a public intoxication charge early Friday morning.

Bank robbery suspect in custody

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — A man indicted in Nevada on charges of robbing a bank and fleeing in a private plane is being held here in lieu of $500,000 bond, officials say.

FBI spokesman Bill Jansen said 38-year-old Charles Ray Holden surrendered to police in Hemphill, Texas, late Wednesday and was advised of the charges against him by U.S. Magistrate Harry McKee on Thursday.

Court clerk Susan Alvarez said McKee scheduled an Oct. 17 hearing for attorneys to argue Holden's extradition to Nevada.

Holden is the second suspect to surrender in the Sept. 7 robbery of the Valley Bank in Overton, Nev.

Russell Earl Auzston, 36, of Conroe was arrested in Las Vegas Friday.

Holden and Auzston were indicted by a federal grand jury in Las Vegas Wednesday on charges that they robbed the bank of $114,680, then fled in a private plane.

Middle Eastern dance course planned at WTC

A Continuing Education course in Middle Eastern Dance for women is scheduled to begin Monday night at Western Texas College.

Classes will meet from 7-8 p.m. on Mondays through Dec. 10. Class times may be rescheduled at the convenience of class members.

Jean Harrison, who has studied belly dancing with Edwina Hudson at Odessa College for six years, will be instructor for the course. She recommends it as an effective means of losing weight, toning muscles and gaining confidence and coordination. Instruction will begin with the basic movements and students will follow a self-paced program.

To pre-register call 573-8511, ext. 240.

Karen Ward earns honors

Karen Thomas Ward has been named to the seventh annual addition, 1983-84, of the National Dean's List.

This award is reserved only for students who have achieved Dean's List recognition or comparable academic honors at their college or university. All selections are made by deans and appropriate college officials.

Ward is the daughter of Wendell and Corene Thomas of Snyder.

Ragin' Tigers test Panthers; looking for first district win

Last week's 48-7 loss to Sweetwater was a humbling experience, but instead of tucking tail, the Ragin' Tigers are more determined than ever, said defensive coordinator Coach Kevin Wiseman this week.

The Tigers were gearing up for their second District 2-4A game, to be played this evening at 8 in Fort Stockton.

"Our attitude has improved this week simply because we were embarrassed last week. We didn't play well and we know it," said Wiseman. "This is a chance to redeem ourselves. The kids are anxious to prove to everyone and to themselves that they are a better football team than that.

"The attitude has been good. The kids haven't been feeling sorry for themselves. When this happens, all you can do is pick yourself up by the bootstraps and go on."

The loss left Snyder 0-1 in district play, and obviously still in contention for the playoffs. The first goal along that line is to defeat Fort Stockton.

"As a staff and a football team we face a big test. We're still in good shape in the district. I've seen some very positive things this week. We're working real hard to get that first district win. We're hungry. It makes you hungrier when you get beat as bad as we did, probably moreso than if we had just gotten beat by one point," the Wiseman said.

Head coach Dennis Tomlin echoed those words.

"We want to go down there to Fort Stockton and compete. We haven't competed with those folks in several years. We're going down there to win the ballgame. We want to play well. That's the only way we can make up for the past," Tomlin said.

The Panthers have won all four games between the two teams, frequently pouring on the coals. Scores were 57-0 in 1980, 21-6 in '81, 42-15 in '82 and 37-7 in '83.

Snyder will likely be without junior lineman Jake Menix, who is out indefinitely with a herpia. Also injured is Bobby Velasquez, who suffered a strained knee in workouts. Velasquez's playing status was unknown Thursday afternoon, but he will miss tonight's ballgame.

James Powell, who suffered a jammed toe and missed Monday's workout, returned Tuesday and should be full speed by this weekend.

The coaching staff has also made a few changes in the starting lineup. Chris Garrett will move to inside linebacker and Trey Tippens will take his spot at defensive end. Willie Greathouse will move to left defensive back. In one other change, Craig Kimbler will move into the offensive quick tackle slot.

"These are just some changes we're trying to see how players work together," said Wiseman. "If they do a good job, they may stay. If not, they won't. But that doesn't mean that no one else will play those positions, either."

Texas-OU shootout key college contest

by The Associated Press

From the start of the season, Texas football Coach Fred Akers has been talking about "balance" in his offense, and the Longhorns have lived up to his word.

The top-ranked Longhorns, who meet No. 3 Oklahoma in one of the top college games Saturday, have mixed the run and the pass almost to perfection in defeating Auburn, Penn State and Rice.

"Our scheme is to take advantage of what the defense is giving us," said Akers of an offense that has averaged 181 yards rushing and 190 passing a game. The Longhorns will be tested by one of the nation's toughest defenses in Oklahoma. The Sooners are ranked second in the nation in rushing defense and have allowed only 38 points en route to a 4-0 record.

In other action Saturday, it's No. 2 Washington at Stanford; Temple at No. 4 Boston College; Wyoming at No. 5 Brigham Young; Missouri at No. 6 Nebraska; No. 7 Southern Methodist at Baylor; Illinois at No. 8 Ohio State; No. 16 Auburn at No. 9 Florida State and No. 10 Miami, Fla., at Cincinnati.

Also, No. 11 Penn State at Alabama; Vanderbilt at No. 12 LSU; Iowa at No. 14 Purdue; Mississippi at No. 15 Georgia; Pitt at No. 17 South Carolina; No. 18 Florida at Tennessee; No. 19 Kentucky at Mississippi State, and No. 20 Georgia Tech at Virginia.

The Longhorns and Sooners go into Saturday's game ranked close offensively. Oklahoma is averaging 378.8 yards a game, Texas 371.3; Texas has averaged 33.7 points, Oklahoma 29.7.

But, where last year Texas was the nation's top defensive club, this time the Longhorns are only 43rd, yielding 326.7 yards a game, while Oklahoma ranks second at 229.7. And while the Sooners are second in rushing defense at 64.0, Texas is 38th at 138.3.

"I've been involved in these for 19 years now and it really and truly is what a football classic is all about," says Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer.

Alabama Coach Ray Perkins, fresh from an expression of confidence from the school's president despite the team's 1-4 record, said the game with Penn State will be special for his players because of the way their contest ended last season.

In that game, Penn State jumped to a 34-7 lead before Alabama rallied for 21 points in the final quarter to lose 34-28. Walter Lewis hit Preston Gothard for what would have been another touchdown for the Crimson Tide, but he was ruled out of bounds, a decision that rankled the Alabama players.

Cat defense paves win over Panthers

Snyder's junior varsity allowed two big plays but otherwise set up a defensive wall to block out Lubbock Dunbar here Thursday night and win, 27-14.

The Cats, now 3-2 on the season, will travel to Lamesa next Thursday.

Snyder scored first on a two-yard run by Tony Romero. Mitch Page kicked the conversion.

Dunbar retaliated quickly, taking the kickoff and running it back 90 yards to score. A two-point conversion run put the Panthers in front, 8-7, and it stayed that way until the third quarter when the visitors added more points.

The Panthers scored this time on a 35-yard punt return. The ensuing conversion run was stopped short.

Snyder pulled within a point with 9:16 to play in the fourth quarter as Joe Martinez scored on a 1-yard run. The run for two failed and Snyder trailed 14-13.

With 6:30 left, the Cats took the lead on a 35-yard punt return by Martinez. The conversion run failed.

The Cats added insurance with 1:30 left to play when Martinez crossed over on a one-yard run. John Rhodes hit Todd Odom on the two-point conversion.

Snyder had 90 yards rushing and hit one of six passes for seven yards. The Cats lost two fumbles and had one pass intercepted. They also had 20 yards in penalties.

Dunbar had only 47 yards rushing and none passing. The Panthers were hit for 13 penalties for 97 yards. Snyder's Odom intercepted one Dunbar pass. Jon Traylor and Martinez each recovered a fumble. Doug Smith blocked a punt.

"We pretty well held them in check," said Coach Larry Scott, who cited three-techniques Brad Gambrel and Tony Romero, and outside linebackers Traylor and Cotton Merritt as standout players. "The defense pretty well won the game for us. We kept them (Dunbar) in a bind most of the time."

Martinez had 62 yards on 22 carries.

Cats shutout 'Stangs, 16-0

Snyder junior varsity Cats got a solid defensive and offensive effort to shutout Sweetwater here Thursday, 16-0.

The Cats, now 2-2, will entertain Lamesa for their next outing on Oct. 18.

Lawrence Barrera scored first for Snyder on a two-yard run in the second quarter. He also took a pitchout on an option play for the two-point conversion.

The score stayed 8-0 until the fourth quarter when Barrera shook off several would-be tacklers and scampered 38 yards to the 2-yard line to set up another touchdown. The Cats tallied on a quarterback sneak by Roland Romo from there.

The conversion was a swing pass from Romo to Barrera.

Barrera had 138 yards rushing on 31 carries.

"Our defense played great all night. Every defensive player deserves credit," said Coach Ricky Howell. "We defensed Sweetwater's option as well as we ever have on the freshman level. I thought we played together as a unit and that was the key."

Brad Gartman and Galen Price made key interceptions for the Cats.

On offense, "Roland Romo played great at quarterback. It was his first start because Brad Gartman had the flu this week and just played defense last night," said Howell who cited David Martinez, Shannon Fontinella, Thance Springer, Bryant Mitchell, Dan Krenek, Terry Garza, Wade Spencer, Pete Madrid and Brad Newman as doing a good job of blocking on offense.

7th-8th teams vie Andrews Saturday

Bears square off against Mustangs

by The Associated Press

If his Baylor Bears hope to beat Southern Methodist Saturday in Waco, they must keep the Mustangs' offense on the sidelines, Coach Grant Teaff says.

"We have to get them off the field offensively. Hopefully it won't be two plays and a touchdown, but three plays and a punt," Teaff said.

SMU, the nation's No. 7-ranked club, is off to its sixth straight 3-0 start, after beating Louisville 41-7, North Texas State 24-6 and Texas Christian 26-17.

"We'll be severely tested in every area, but I'm sure this team will respond to the challenge of playing a great team like SMU. We're well aware of how good they are," Teaff said.

Baylor is 1-3 after losing to Houston last weekend, 27-17, in a rain-drenched game that the Bears lost after taking a 10-0 lead. Teaff said the loss "hurt about as much as any loss we've had the last couple of years."

Las Vegas oddsmakers have made SMU an 8½-point favorite.

In other Southwest Conference games Saturday, Arkansas is favored by 7 over Texas Tech at Little Rock, Houston is favored by 3½ points over Texas A&M in the Astrodome, and TCU is favored by 21 over Rice in Fort Worth.

In an important non-conference game, longtime rivals Texas and Oklahoma clash in the Cotton Bowl. Texas, seeking to hold onto its No. 1 national ranking, is a 2½-point favorite over No. 3 Oklahoma.

Arkansas was shocked by TCU 32-31 in Fayetteville last week, while Tech upset A&M in College Station 30-12.

TCU's Horned Frogs, off to their best start in a dozen seasons, host a Rice team that was beaten 38-13 by Texas last weekend in Houston.

SMU boasts the league's No. 2 rusher in junior Reggie Dupard, who is averaging 128.7 yards a game. That's ahead of the 113.5-yard pace that won him the rushing title a year ago.

He'll be tested by the league's best defense against the rush. Baylor has yielded only 99.2 ground yards per contest.

At the same time, the Bears rank last in the SWC in passing defense, giving up 236 yards a game.

The Mustangs haven't been a serious threat in the air thus far. While SMU has had the league's second-best rushing game so far, at better than 302 yards a game, the Ponies rank last in passing, averaging only 145.7 yards a game.

Likewise, Baylor's Ron Francis is fourth in rushing with 91.5 yards a game, but the Bears have no one in the league's top 10 in either passing or receiving.

Baylor's two losses before Houston were by 34-15 to Oklahoma and 47-13 to fifth-ranked Brigham Young. The Bears beat Texas Tech 18-9 for their only win.

"We're very, very close to being a good football team, maybe a really good football team," Teaff said. "We've worked to improve, and we've done just that in most areas."

Tigers dump Maids; get ready for 'Stangs

Snyder High School's spikers have a week's rest before finishing out the season with a three-match flurry that includes Pecos and Monahans but the Tigers won't looking ahead, said Coach Penny Bane.

The Tigers, 10-1 in District 2-4A play after a win over San Angelo Lake View here Thursday night, face an unimpressive Sweetwater team next.

"We're going to take it one game at a time," stressed Coach Bane, whose Tigers play the Mustangs in Sweetwater on Oct. 18. "Sweetwater can beat you. We're going to prepare for them. In a roundabout way we'll be preparing for Pecos too, because they do a lot of the same things," she added.

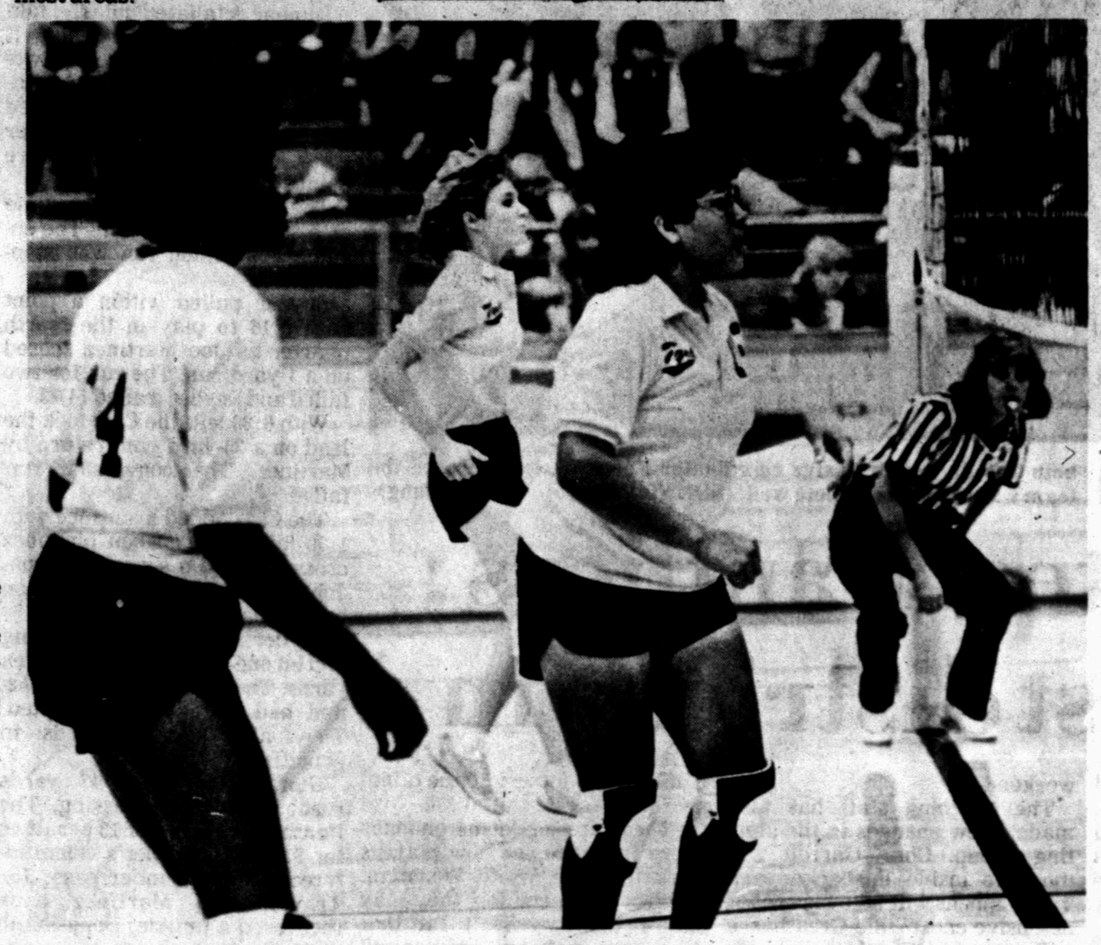

Snyder goes to Pecos on Oct. 20, then hosts Monahans on the 25th. The schedule calls for the Snyder-Monahans match to be played here on the 27th, a Saturday, but the date has been changed to a Thursday.

Meanwhile, the Tigers had little trouble with Lake View, winning 15-3 and 15-12. Sabrina Sullivan served up seven points in the first game. Donna Anderson had six in the second game.

"The girls played real well in the first game," said Bane. "they kind of set back on their heels in the second game and let Lake View catch up."

Snyder had taken leads of 10-5 and 12-6 before the Maidens rallied. Lake View got within two points late in the contest, but never closer.

The win leaves Snyder still deadlocked for the district lead along with Pecos and Monahans. The Tigers are 15-8 on the season.

Snyder junior varsity volleyball team ripped San Angelo Lake View here Thursday evening.

The Cats, who play in Sweetwater for their next outing, won 15-8 and 15-6.

Monica Hinojos served nine points in the first game. Tammy Williamson recorded eight in the second.

"The girls played real well tonight," said Coach Penny Bane. "They are improving every week and it is beginning to show."

The Cats travel to Sweetwater on Thursday, Oct. 18 for a 6:30 match.

Freshmen zip past Lady Steer spikers

Snyder freshmen spikers rolled off their tenth win here Thursday, defeating Big Spring 15-9, 15-5.

"Everybody played a good match. They played hard in both games," said Coach Patty Grimmett.

Scoring on serves for Snyder were Yolanda Rivers 7, Brinda Gonzales 6, Kelly Walker 5, Melinda Tucker 4, Becky Becerra 3, Merideth Goodwin 2, Holley Page, Barbara Chapman and Patricia Casias 1 each. Also playing were Denise Overton, Hayley Vineyard, LaFon Williams, Rachel Everett, Andrea Garcia, YoYo Anderson, Jennifer Alarcon and Paula Caldwell.

The Cats will play at Sweetwater on Oct. 18, then host the Snyder Tournament on the 20th.

Snyder's record is 10-3.

In Detroit...

Series continues tonight

DETROIT (AP) - The Detroit Tigers say they have the San Diego Padres right where they want them - and the Padres would like the chance to drag the Tigers back to San Diego.

"We'll go back and get 'em in our ballpark," Detroit right fielder Kirk Gibson said, looking forward to the next three games in Tiger Stadium, starting tonight.

"It might go seven games; it might go five," added Tigers catcher Lance Parrish. "Who cares? We're going back to our park now and we've got a good ballclub. I still like our chances."

"Obviously they're tough when they're at home," chipped in John Grubb, a former Padre. "Now we'll see how they play at our ballpark."

For a while, at least one of the Tigers was beginning to believe it might go only the minimum four. Detroit won the opener 3-2 and before the Padres even came to bat in the second game, the Tigers led 3-0.

"We were naturally thinking 'sweep,' said Darrell Evans, Detroit's cornerman (first base on Tuesday night, third base on Wednesday night). The Padres rallied on Kurt Bevacqua' three-run homer in the fifth inning to win 5-3 and tie the Series at one victory apiece.

"They came back and won it with some of the best relief pitching I've ever seen," Evans said.

Tonight, Tim Lollar (11-13, a 3.91 earned-run average and only three complete games among 31 starts) goes for the Padres.

Dick Williams, the San Diego manager, was asked if he was concerned that the lack of effective starters might ultimately catch up with the Padres - particularly with the bullpen.

"I have to be," he said.

"Then again, we only have a maximum of five games left, with two off-days."

A five-game Series would end matters Sunday night.

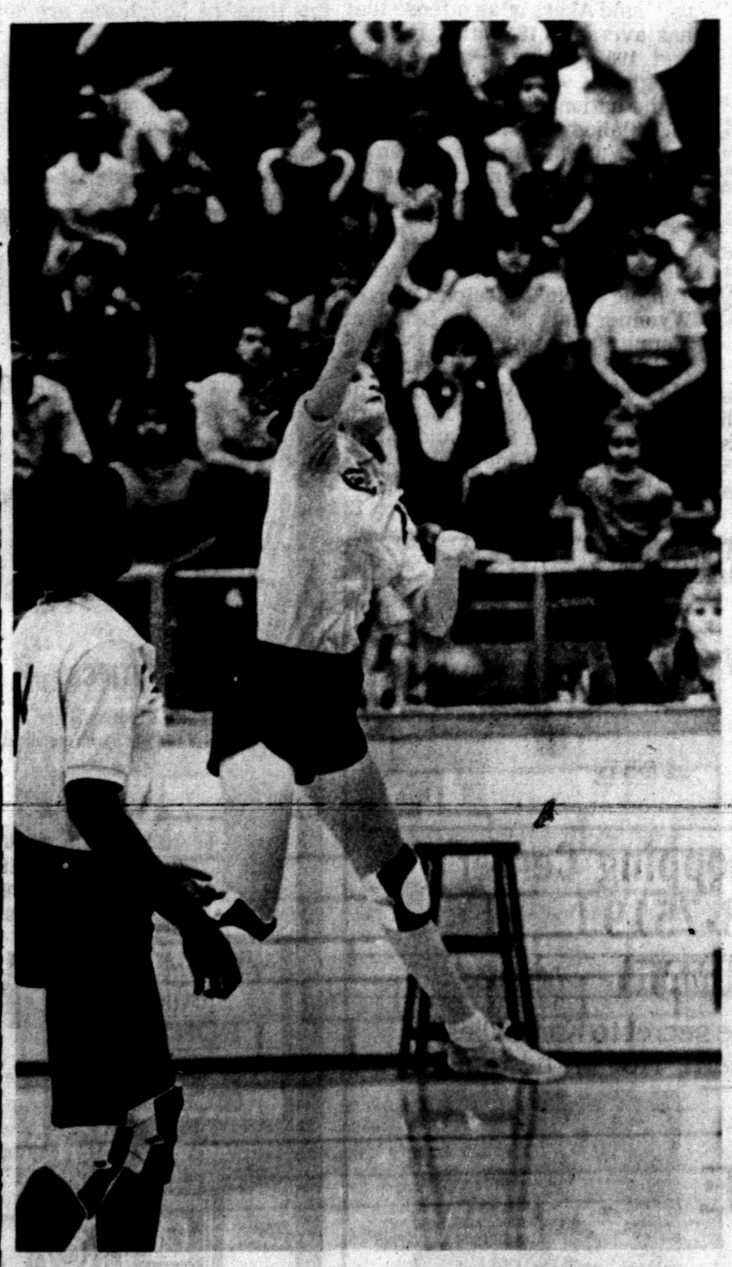

"Our main concern right now is just taking it one game at a time," said Tony Gwynn, the Padres' right fielder and National League batting champion. "But we'd like to get the Series back to San Diego. That's our overall goal."

Gwynn will be in right again when the Padres take the field tonight - which pleases him greatly.

There had been some speculation, fueled by Williams, that he might shift Gwynn (batting .400 in two games) to center field, install Bevacqua (.571), the designated hitter in the first two games, in right field, bench center fielder Bobby Brown (.000), and turn the DH job over to former Tiger Champ Summers, a left-handed batter who could shoot for Tiger Stadium's short right-field fence.

"I promise you that Kurt's bat will be in the lineup - and maybe his glove," Williams said when asked whether he contemplated any major changes for tonight's game against Milt Wilcox (17-8, a 4.00 ERA and no complete games in 33 starts during the year).

With left-hander Lollar pitching for San Diego tonight, Tigers Manager Sparky Anderson said he will revert to the lineup he used in Game One

WTC to compete at 54-hole event held in Acapulco

ACAPULCO, Mex. – Western Texas College will compete in the 54-hole Acapulco Princess Intercollegiate Golf Tournament here, beginning Sunday.

Players will be Bob Stangby, Ryan Heller, Bo Kay, Jack Fallin and Pat Fitzpatrick.

The tournament is a pro-amateur format. College players will play with a sponsor.

Playing sponsors for WTC are Alton and Cheri Patterson, Joe and Belva LaRoux, Phil and Betty Fortune, Jamie Boren and Bob Hargrove.

"This would not possible without the help from them and from Dalton Walton, Glenn Patterson, Joe Fowler and Danny Lunsford," said Coach Dave Foster. "We'd like to express our thanks to all of these people for helping make this trip possible."

Among the schools competing in the three-day tourney are the University of Arkansas, Rice University, Sam Houston State and Northeast Louisiana. From the WJCAC will be Western Texas, Odessa College, South Plains, Midland and New Mexico Military.

The Westerners and their sponors will leave this weekend and play through Tuesday before returning.

From 1959 to 1965, Tommy Davis of the San Francisco 49ers kicked 234 consecutive points-after-touchdown, a pro football record.
