The 36th President of The U. S. A.

AN EDITORIAL

As a grieving nation began to recover its poise and purpose following the appalling assination of President John F. Kennedy, there was cause for confidence and faith in the continuity of the Presidency and there was assurance in the celerity with which a reliant President Lyndon B. Johnson took the oath as president and started to exercise the duties of his high office.

There is reason for hope and confidence in the strength, boldness and courage of the man himself. No vice-president in the history of our nation has come to the Presidency with such a background of training in government as Lyndon B. Johnson. When Harry S. Truman came to the Presidency he did not even know that the United States had the atom bomb. By contrast President Johnson has been privy to the innermost secrets of the government national defense, security, foreign relations and the host of other problems that confront the executive.

Thirty-five years of intense experience in the Congress and the Executive branch of the government lay behind him as he assumed the duties of his office. During that time he has demonstrated what amounts to a sixth sense about politics and a prescience of changing events that will stand him in good stead as he confronts the collossal problems that will be his at home and abroad.

President Johnson has a mind of his own. When he was asked to be the Democratic candidate for vice-president in 1960, President Johnson was majority leader of the Senate and was considered by many to be holding the most powerful position in the nation at that time. Such trusted friends as John Nance Garner, Sam Raburn and John Connally urged him to decline the nomination for vice-president and remain in his powerful post. Instead he risked political oblivion and accepted the post as running mate of John F. Kennedy. It takes a rare type of courage and foresight to go opposite to the advice of wise old proven friends.

President Johnson is a tough, bold realist who has an uncanny ability to persuade and impress others with the worthiness of the course he advocates. We believe these qualities will prove a blessing to this nation as he faces the task and the ordeal that lies ahead.

In this belief, Mr. President, we wish you God Speed.

As the nation's sorrow was focused on President John F. Kennedy, killed by an assassin Friday, November 22, he and his successor, President Lyndon Johnson are shown here in the happier mood by which America knew them.

Tribute Paid

President's Death Shocks County

Collingsworth received the news of the death of President John F. Kennedy first with disbelief, then with numbed shock, and finally with words of tribute to his memory, words that seldom could express the depth of feeling of the speaker.

Only the oldest here could remember when a president of the United States was assassinated. None under voting age had memory of a president's dying in office.

"You're kidding," was the response of many upon hearing the word—and a large segment of the population did hear it on television or radio during the noon hour.

Wellington high school students heard the president had been shot just as a pep rally was ending. In class they learned of his death and a few students became so ill they had to leave their rooms, teachers reported.

The Skyrocket football team heard the news just after they boarded the bus to play in the bi-district football game with Stratford at neutral Pampa. Someone brought along a radio, it was reported.

Even little children scarcely older than the president's children felt the tragedy, for Kennedy was a familiar face even to them, parents said.

Samnorwood students were told in their rooms by Supt. Orville Cunningham, who then called a short assembly program.

Much the same procedure was followed at Quail by Supt. Herman Moseley.

A number of Wellington merchants reported that business came almost to a standstill, and neither was business up to normal Saturday or Monday morning.

In Wellington Saturday morning was a former resident, Woodrow Stafford of Fort Worth, who 24 hours earlier was one of the thousands who had watched Kennedy drive by. At the closest point, he was only about ten feet away.

Final Rites on Sunday for Lloyd Harper

Lloyd Harper, long-time Wellington mechanic and a past Worshipful Master of the Masonic Lodge here, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday, Nov. 23, after an illness of about two years.

He was employed at Johnson Buick Company until ill health forced him to retire, and prior to that he was associated with other garages here.

Coming here from Childress, Mr. Harper had lived here 25 years.

He was born May 3, 1909, at Stuart, Oklahoma, the son of Mrs. Myrtle Harper and the late J. T. Harper.

His marriage to Miss Marie Harwell took place here July 19, 1941.

Mr. Harper became a member of the Baptist Church early in life.

He was a long-time member of the Masonic Lodge, and in addition to the office of Worshipful Master, he had held a number of other offices. He was especially active in the lodge and devoted himself to its work.

10,000 Foot Test Being Drilled in County

The latest development in the county's oil picture is the beginning of a 10,000-foot test now being drilled on Hubert Tindall land approximately 15 miles north of Wellington.

Described as a wildcat, it is designated as the Harold D. Park No. 2 Hubert Tindall and is located 330 feet from the south line and 1650 feet from the east line of section 68, in block 12.

The proposed depth is 10,000 or granite.

Drilling is under way and this is being drilled as a tight hole. The contractor is Frazier Drilling Company of Pampa.

This is the second time a 10,000-foot test has been proposed in this section, as such a hole was begun in June 1962 but was never completed. It was filed as the Harold D. Park No. 1 Hubert Tindall.

One other location in the county was announced recently by the Pampa office of the Railroad Commission, the Eldorado Oil and Gas., No. 10 Polk-Bradshaw, 2,310 feet from the north line and 2,310 feet from the west line of section 68 block 12.

Boys Do Repair Work

Rotary-FFA Open Toy Drive for Needy

The Rotary Club and the Wellington Future Farmers will join forces again this year to provide Christmas for the town's needy children.

The toy drive sponsored by the two groups is now open, according to Billy Joe Thogmartin, Rotary president, and parents are urged to go through the toys at their homes and give those that their children no longer use, in order that every child may have something from Santa Claus.

In this annual project, the Future Farmers repair all toys needing repair. This includes painting such things as wagons and bicycles, or putting in running order cars, etc. Every toy that needs repairing is put in good-as-new condition. Those that can not be repaired are used for parts.

The Rotary Club will pay for the paint and other costs of repairs.

Last Christmas between 2500 and 3000 toys were handled in the program, according to Danny Garcia, vocational ag instructor.

On Christmas eve, both the men and boys will distribute the toys.

Those having toys to give may phone Danny Garcia, vocational ag teacher at 5479; the high school, 5666; or any ag student or Rotarian, and the toys will be picked up.

Those wishing to may bring them by the ag building, located just south of the school gymnasium.

Rotary-Band to Sponsor Magic Show Dec. 12

An intriguing report is that an exciting evening of suspense is in store for the people of Wellington when The Great Virgil and Julie, lauded as Supreme Masters of Suspense, bring their spectacular production "One Fantastic Night," to the stage of the high school auditorium on Dec. 12 at 8:00 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club and the Wellington high school band.

Virgil and Julie recently completed a fantastic five-year venture taking a massive show completely around the world at a cost of over a quarter of a million dollars. Their "One Fantastic Night" has thrilled the peoples of the world from China to Great Britain and Tibet to Australia, and has won the unanimous acclaim of the press and public alike as a show guaranteed to hold any audience spellbound.

Among the many scenes of this production, presented with special costuming, scenic effects and music, you will see "The Great London Spirit Seance" which seems to prove the existence of life in a fourth dimension (a haunted house, poltergeists—a real live spook—catch it if you can!) "The Martian Execution" during which a marked bullet is fired

Mrs. J. E. Puryear, Here 64 Years, Dies Tuesday

Mrs. John E. Puryear, who had lived here 64 years, died in St. Joseph's Hospital early Tuesday, November 25. She had been in failing health several months.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday, Nov. 28 at 2 p.m. at First Baptist Church. The Rev. Glenn Hickey, pastor, will officiate, and burial will be in West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Puryear was the former Eva Camp, daughter of John T. and Margaret Jane Camp, who came to Collingsworth county in 1899, and during the period of county growth that followed, her father was active in its development.

She was born at Spartanburg, South Carolina, March 16, 1881, a member of one of the early families of that area. She came with her parents to Hunt county, Texas, in 1887, and lived there until the family moved here.

She was married to John E. Puryear October 26, 1904 in Wellington. From that time her life was closely identified with his interests and her greatest devotion was to her family.

While Mr. Puryear was a member of the 43rd Texas Legislature in 1933 and 1934, and in the following term, when he worked closely with the legislature, Mrs. Puryear accompanied him to Austin and knew well many of the key figures in state government as well as those who were then

Rockettes Strong

Basketball Season Opens for Skyrockets

WHS exchanged the gridiron for the cage court this week as basketball season got under way.

First games were played by the Rockets and Rockettes on Tuesday night, Nov. 26 at Quail.

The season is still too young for Coach James Stavenhagen to know what he has in the way of material. Almost all the boys on both the A and B teams are just coming out of football and it will be several weeks before they have smoothed down their playing.

"I feel the girls will do pretty well," the coach commented. "Potentially we have a good ball club. There are four starters back from last year and they have good ability and experience."

The four are Jane Orr, Betty Courtney, Carol Blain and Jan Glenn. Playing with them on the first string are Ann Orr and Karen Childress alternating with Wynona Jones.

The Rockets worked out for the first time Monday.

Spoke at Farm Bureau

The New President Twice Visited Here

The nation's new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, is the only one who has visited Collingsworth county, and certainly he is the only one who has been on a first-name basis with a few local residents.

Files of The Wellington Leader disclose two visits here.

In 1946, he spoke at a meeting of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau, with a large crowd attending. He discussed ed in detail a number of farm problems pertinent at that time and after the talk remained to visit with county farmers.

He returned in the summer of 1947 when he was running for the United States Senate. This was a campaign visit and Johnson spoke on the courthouse lawn.

Jake Tarter has known the new president probably as long as anyone here, with this friendship going back between 25 and 30 years.

At one point Johnson was instrumental in securing a land program for disabled veterans, in the early 1940s, as Tarter recalls, and it was the latter who appraised land under this program in Hemphill and Gray counties. The program did not operate in this county.

After Johnson's power became secure in the Senate and after he was elected vice president, a number of county men have been in contact with him, both in Texas and on visits to Washington.

Testing Team to Work Thurs.

The brucellosis testing team now at work in the county will work Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28, according to Cecil Regier, county agent. They will be off the following day, Friday, however.

Any cattle owner who would like to have his stock tested Thursday should contact Regier.

Four of the 12 also qualified to audition for the all-state band. They are Jane Orr, baritone sax, and Rei Schneider, clarinet, both first chair players; and Carol Blain, trumpet, and Graham Bowen, Tenor sax, second players.

Others in the all-regional band will be David Groves and Raymond Horton, trumpets; Charles Black, bass; Janyth Estes, French horn; Ann Orr, clarinet; Dan Warrick and Cleland Stallings, trombones; and Jackie Barton, baritone.

The 110-piece all-regional band will be presented in a concert Saturday night, Dec. 7 at Perryton, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Rehearsals will be held Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6 and 7, and auditions for the all-state band will be Saturday afternoon.

Larson served as one of the judges in the Saturday auditions.

Open Jail Bids December 2

Members of the Commissioners' Court will meet Monday, Dec. 2 to open bids on the proposed county jail, according to Paul Spillman, who is handling the legal details for the court.

The opening was scheduled originally for Nov. 19 but was postponed to await the setting of the wage scale on the project by the Department of Labor, he explained.

"They'll be awfully green and rough for two or three weeks," Stavenhagen said.

Only one starter from last year is back, Bobby Hudson.

"We have good little boys and if we can develop a big boy or two—can develop some scorers—we'll win a lot of games," the coach continued.

The season schedule is given on another page.

Two 4-H Gold Star Winners Get Honors

Glenda Lancaster and Joe Wood of Wellington were named the 4-H Gold Star Award winners at the awards program Saturday, Nov. 23. These are the highest honors offered by the Extension Service in the 4-H program.

Elks Take Bi-District from Skyrockets 39-6 Friday

By JACK FORD

A combination of fast backs and a fine passing attack, plus capitalizing on Rocket mistakes enabled the Stratford Elks to down the Wellington Skyrockets in the bi-district game 39 - 6 before an estimated 2500 fans at Harvester Stadium, Pampa, Friday, Nov. 22.

The Rockets stood their own ground during the first half, but the second half was all Elks. Immediately starting after the first kickoff, the Elks passed all over the field and in the last quarter, up to the end of the game, the Elks were still throwing.

Two of the touchdowns made by the Elks were from Rocket fumbles and two from intercepting Rocket passes.

During the game there were times that it looked like the Rockets were going to get rolling, but either fumbles or pass interceptions stopped good Rocket drives.

The closest the Rockets got to the Elks' end zone in the second half was the Elks' 41-yard line.

But you can't take away from the fine playing of the Stratford team.

The 1963 football season has passed into history, but to the Rocket fans who will remain behind when the boys graduate and leave, we will always remember the thrills and the great team effort in their drive to the District Championship.

Gifts Needed for Patients in State Hospital

A request has come from Bob Muckleroy, chairman of the Volunteer Service Council of the Wichita Falls State Hospital for help in providing Christmas items for 200 patients in that hospital.

Muckleroy pointed out that many of the patients have no families and their only remembrances at Christmas come from people of the area.

Several Wellington clubs regularly send gifts to this hospital at Christmas time.

Here are some of the items that Muckleroy listed as needed: cellophane tape, Christmas decorations for trees and tables, gift boxes and Christmas paper and ribbons; cakes, coffee, soft and hard candy, individually wrapped, instant coffee.

The gift items that may be used are about the same that would be given to any person outside the hospital at Christmas time, such as clothing, candy, Bibles and testaments, games, etc.

Other gifts may be given that can be shared, such as radios, framed pictures, plastic flowers, candy, cakes, games, etc.

Money donations are also needed.

Muckleroy said approximately 5,000 new gifts are needed in order that each patient may receive two presents. Gifts should be sent unwrapped.

All donations should be sent to Volunteer Services, Box 300, Wichita Falls State Hospital, Wichita Falls, Texas, and marked "Christmas Donations." They may also be sent to the Woman's Forum, 2120 Speedway, Wichita Falls, Texas.

These gifts are needed as soon as possible.

Holland, Mrs. Joe Tarver, and Chub White and their families. On the trip they also visited her sisters, Mrs. Orvel Clark of Fort Worth and Mrs. Bill McCarver of Hereford and their families.

When Buick builds a LeSabre -- Buick builds a high-priced car, and puts a low price on it.

Lots of cars are in LeSabre's price class, but that's where the resemblance ends. For instance: Does anybody else in LeSabre's class treat you to that gentle Buick ride or impressive Buick performance and new gas economy? No. And who else gives you 15-inch wheels, finned aluminum front brakes, extra cushioning for middle-seat travelers, and separate heat ducts and controls for the rear seat? Right again: Nobody in LeSabre's field but LeSabre. If all this makes you think a LeSabre would look awfully nice in your garage, you should see how nicely it fits a budget. You know who to see about it, of course: your Buick dealer. Who else? Above all, it's a Buick

Festive Calendar Tea Slated as Fund Raising Affair on Sunday

A "Festive Calendar Tea," will open the holiday season Sunday, December 1, given by the 1924 Study Club from 3 to 5 o'clock in the community building.

This is a benefit performance, and money raised will be used to buy a spotlight which will be used in the community building and by the high school speech department, according to Mrs. B. M. Sims, president of the sponsoring club.

"Each guest attending is to register at the table decorated for his or her birth month and contribute at least one cent for each year of his or her life. (For those who are coy about their ages, blank envelopes will be provided)," Mrs. Sims said.

Food specialties, prepared by the club members, will be served at a gaily decorated tea table, and recipes for these delicacies will be available from the recipe cashier, she continued. Order blanks will be provided for the guests' convenience.

"Youth and adult organizations are giving financial support to this worthwhile project," Mrs. Sims said. "By the second week in December it is hoped that all those wishing to contribute will have done so."

4-H Makes Fine Leaders

When boys and girls stay in 4-H Club work through their mid-teens, they usually make notable progress in one or more phases of 4-H activities, according to the National 4-H Service committee.

One of these categories is leadership development. In this program, members are actually helped by adult leaders to learn the meaning of responsibility, take on extra work and carry out special projects involving the entire club membership.

"The 4-H junior leader works under the guidance of the adult leader," explains Miss Emmie Nelson of the 4-H Service committee. "These two, with help from the club, jointly determine jobs for the junior leader.

"They begin with familiar tasks and advance to the more difficult ones. These jobs must be challenging, but within the youth's grasp," she adds.

Give Meat for Christmas

College Station.—As a novel and convenient gift this Christmas, give meat, advises Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University. Christmas shopping can be made easy and friends will appreciate this tasty gift, he says.

The National Livestock and Meat Board's Gift Certificate program gives you the opportunity to support the livestock industry and at the same time save time and effort during the Christmas season, he says.

Attractive gift certificates for all meat, or specifically for beef, lamb or pork, are available in any amount the giver wishes to purchase. These full color certificates are for all practical purposes a check that can be redeemed in the form of meat purchases at retail meat counters. The retailer clears the check through any local bank as he would any other check.

No storage, transportation, delivery or buying problems are encountered with this type of Christmas gift and it costs only 15 cents per certificate, says Uvacek.

For those interested in purchasing this uniquely modern type Christmas gift, write for an order blank to National Livestock and Meat Board, 36 South Wabash Ave., Chicago.

Compare U. S. to the Remainder of the World

If the world's population of 2½ billion were compressed into a community of 1000 people the following facts would prevail:

60 would be from the U.S.A.; 940 from the rest of the world; 300 would be Christian; 700 would not; 303 would be white; 697 non-white.

80 would be believing Communists with 400 under Communist domination.

60 Americans would have as much income as the 940 others combined.

The 60 Americans would have a life expectancy of 70; the 940 of 40. The 60 Americans would have—122 times the electric power as all the rest; 22 times the coal; 50 times the steel; 21 times as much oil.

"Family Farm May Be Misunderstood

The term "family farm" is often misunderstood.

To be a family farm. the farmer and his family manage and operate the farm, take the risks and reap the rewards, and also contribute most of the farm labor.

Farms that use less than one and one-half years of hired farm labor are classed as family farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith of Santa Anna, Calif., Mrs. Martha Fritz of Costa Mesa, Calif., and Mrs. Lenora Hammons of Redding, Calif., all visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith last week. Other visitors in the home during the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Herring and Cheryl of Midland.

A Shocked Community Grieves With the Nation and the World

This week Collingsworth county poured its mourning into that great and profound grief with which the United States buried its fallen chief of state, John F. Kennedy. Those who supported his programs and those who did not closed ranks behind him in our tribute to Kennedy the man.

President Kennedy was a man of his age, and it was this age and the communications systems it has produced that permitted us to be a part of the events of the 72 hours between his death by assassination and his burial.

It was with something more than mind and emotion that we stood in numbed disbelief in the street where the President was shot, and on the hospital lawn as the stark and final words came, and again as a man whom many of us have seen in person and some of us know became the new president.

John F. Kennedy did not travel those last hours alone, for all America was part of the cortege that in sad and simple dignity walked to the muffled drums up Pennsylvania Avenue, then stood in the capitol's rotunda for a last look at the flag-draped casket on the simple black catafaulk. With perhaps greater understanding we participated in the sacrifice of the Mass in cathedrals and in unrehearsed prayers in chapels.

By the same token, we saw with our own eyes some of the violence that followed in the wake of that first violent act.

In the past when a President died in office, only a few thousand persons in a limited geographic area could participate in the events surrounding it. This week end, all of us were the participants. VR

Two County 4-H Winners Honored Nov. 16

The county's two 4-H Gold Star winners were among the 41 boys and girls from the Panhandle honored at the annual 4-H Gold Star Awards Banquet in Amarillo Saturday evening, Nov. 16. They were Glenda Lancaster and Joe Wood.

The winners came from the 21 counties that make up Extension District 1.

Hosts were the four rural electric cooperatives furnishing power to farms of the area. Among these was the Greenbelt Rural Electric Cooperative, managed by George Henry.

Glenda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lancaster, while Joe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wood. Both are members of the Wellington 4-H Club.

Nancy Alexander of the Samnorwood Club is the county's delegate to the District 4-H Council and was one of those appearing on the program.

Each of the 4-H Gold Star winner received a framed certificate and a gift from the rural electric cooperatives.

Terry McCasland, chairman of the District 1 4-H Council, was master of ceremonies, and Jack Gressett, manager of the Dumas chamber of commerce was featured speaker. Jesse C. Cooper, member of the Texas Commission of Higher Education, presented the Gold Star certificates and R. L. Elliott, manager of the Rita Blanca Electric Cooperatice presented each winner with a gift from the four electric cooperatives of the district.

The hosts, besides the Greenbelt and Rita Blanca cooperatives, were Deaf Smith of Hereford and North Plains of Perryton.

Attending from here were the two honored guests, and Nancy Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Regier, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, and Mr. and Mrs. George Henry.

Texas bond sales to date amounted to $122,667,337, or 81.4% of the yearly sales goal.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia is promising to quit taking our free money, because we keep sending experts along with the stuff to tell him how to spend it.

Now you can see why the Prince is sensitive about this, as it shows we don't respect his royal high standing as a master spender in the Eastern Potentate League.

Trouble is, he just doesn't realize the world has moved forward, and even the most talented million-spender like the Prince, has got to take a back seat now that we have developed this prolific breed of high-frequency billion-spenders.

I see where it is being planned to set up numerous re-training programs, to help any workers who only know how to do jobs which not many people want done any more.

My horseshoe salesman neighbor says re-training for some other type job would sure help him to go on feeling wanted and paying taxes, now that his career has been wrecked by the jeep and the motor scooter.

But he is afraid society is taking on a big job, trying to keep up with itself everywhere. Like, for instance, some say the population explosion needs curbing, and this will call for re-training a lot of storks.

My statisticallous neighbor says he sees where it's figured there are more than two million different laws in force in the U.S.

And he says with all that many laws on the books, it just looks like we ought to have meanness under better control than it is.

But he reckons having so many laws may be doing more harm than good, as people wishing to transgress but kind of short on ideas, could be using our law books as a sin suggestion list.

I note that when there is federal pork available, most sovereign U.S. communities go along with the new National Motto: "If We Don't Take It, Somebody Else Will Get It."

Back in the old days, this sentiment might have been thought of as a form of selfishness, but nowadays we can see that it is merely enlightened good neighborship.

Like my social uplifter neighbor tries to drink up all the liquor at every party he goes to, so as to keep any of his friends from getting to be alcoholics.

Nine Wins for Quails

Quail Beats Mobeetie; Split Duo with Kelton

The Quail Quails and Bobwhites won both games from Mobeetie at the Quail gym on Tuesday night, Nov. 19, the girls winning 49-45 and the boys by the score of 69-49.

In the games played Friday night at Quail, the girls dropped the opener to Kelton 30-55 while the boys took their game from the Kelton boys 85-60.

Bobwhites vs. Mobeetie

The Mobeetie girls took an early lead until the final four minutes of the game. The Bobwhite girls were determined to win this game and scored 17 points in the last period to win by four points. In the game at Mobeetie the previous week the Mobeetie girls had won by five points.

High pointer for Quail was Lonetta Neeley with 21 points while Sue Saunders made 18. Mary Gudgel made 27 to lead the Mobeetie girls.

Score by quarters:

Bobwhites	11	21	31	49
Mobeetie	14	26	35	45

Quails vs. Mobeetie

The Quails had their troubles in the first half and left for half-time with Mobeetie leading by two points. However, the second half was all Quail as seven Quails hit the scoring column with Dale Morris scoring 28 points. High for Mobeetie was Corcoran with 29.

Score by quarters:

Quails	11	24	49	69
Mobeetie	12	26	35	49

Bobwhites vs. Kelton

The Bobwhites had their worst night of the season as nothing seemed to go right for them. Although trailing by only five points at half-time, the girls never got to rolling as the team they had beaten by 16 points earlier in the season really poured it on them in the second half.

Sue Saunders scored 15 points to lead the Bobwhite scoring, while Anderson had 35 for Kelton.

Score by quarters:

Bobwhites	5	15	25	30
Kelton	11	20	36	55

Quails vs. Kelton

The Quails jumped to an early lead and maintained it throughout the game as they rolled to their seventh straight win. Ten Quails scored points with four hitting double figures, as the reserves played a great portion of the game. Dale Morris was high pointer for Quail with 24, while Abernathy made 21 to lead Kelton.

Score by quarters:

Quails	20	44	71	85
Kelton	13	29	40	60

After losing the opening two games of the season to state champions McAdoo, the Quails have won seven straight games. The average points per game scored for the nine games is 75. The Bobwhites' record to date is four wins and six losses.

Economy, utility mark

New "Chevy-Van" Panel Delivery

Designed for low-cost operation and maintenance, the Chevy-Van has an economical 90-hp four-cylinder engine, flat load floor, large 211-cu.-ft. load area, and high corrosion resistance. On a 90-in. wheelbase, it carries up to 1,950 lbs. of payload. Rear and optional side openings are 49.7 in. wide and 48.2 in. high. Windshield is one-piece flat glass for relatively lower replacement cost. Fewer body joints and liberal use of anti-corrosion materials minimize rust and weather damage. A 120-hp six-cylinder engine and an automatic transmission are offered as optional equipment.

METAL MONSTER'S MEAL—A military vehicle is quite a diet for anything, but the Chinook Helicopter, known to the layman as a flying garage, eats it up easily.

UPHOLDS FARMER'S WATERWAY RIGHTS

Texas State Supreme Court upheld recently the right of a San Patricio county farmer to stop the flow of water through a drainage ditch on his land with a caliche block.

Walter Lebor's neighbors secured a district court injunction ordering him to remove the block and forbidding him from doing anything to stop the "natural flow" of water through the ditch.

But the Supreme Court held that the waters reached his ditch through man-made routes and said he is entitled to "self-help" to prevent damage to his land.

Alcoholism Rate Is High in Texas

AUSTIN. — Educating the public on alcoholism and trying to give aid to alcoholics is a very difficult job. But it is one to which the six-member Texas Commission on Alcoholism and its director, Macon W. Freeman, are devoted.

It is estimated that there are close to 6,000,000 alcoholics in the U.S. with some 300,000 of these in Texas.

Freeman says the alcoholic tries to hide himself. His family and friends try to shield him. Together they succeed so well that most people think he's buried on skid row.

"About three per cent are on skid row. But more than 90 per cent are your neighbors," said Freeman. "They have good jobs. But they are disturbed and their families are disturbed."

He said that for every 100,000 alcoholics who are rehabilitated ,another 250,000 get sick. Ministers, doctors, nurses, social workers, Alcoholics Anonymous and just plain interested citizens are working just that much harder to combat the disease. He said an estimated 50 to 75 per cent of "identified" alcoholics can be cured.

Texas Commission on Alcoholism works for education and rehabilitation through cooperation with other state agencies, and with some 30 community councils on alcoholism.

WATER EVERYWHERE

A tank truck caught fire in Avesnes, France, and was destroyed by flames, despite the fact it was transporting 600 gallons of water.

Farm Expansion Is More than Adding Acres

COLLEGE STATION. —Expanding the farm net income doesn't always mean adding more acres to the farm, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Operators generally think that increasing the farm acreage or adding more livestock is the only way to raise their income, says Bates. He admits that in some cases, this may be the only solution, but careful analysis of the present farm operation would probably point to other means of increasing the net income, he says.

Bates points out some factors to consider in deciding how to increase the net farm income. First, are the labor and equipment on the farm fully utilized? Some operators increase their profits by cutting back on machinery replacements. The high fixed costs of baling hay or other harvesting operations may be avoided by hiring custom harvesters. When such harvesting equipment is purchased, it must be used enough to make its operation economical, he reminds.

Could new enterprises or methods provide additional returns from the available land and labor? Sometimes added efficiency in several areas of the operation can materially increase the total returns, says Bates.

Are the present enterprises yielding maximum potential profits? Cases have been observed where additional capital used for fertilizer or fencing for rotation grazing have paid good dividends, he says.

Through better planning on his present acreage, the operator can often add to his income without buying more land says Bates. A good manager must seek the best way to do things and must make full use of the resources available to him, he concludes.

Chemical Used Against Pests Far Back in History

Chemicals have been used against agricultural pests since earliest times, says the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, Inc.

Homer described the use of sulphur to destroy crop pests more than 3,000 years ago.

Paris green and Bordeaux mixture were used in the mid 1800's to control pests.

A Soviet school mistress told a British Association that many Russian children learn English by playing Robin Hood games.

First Soybean Variety for West Texas Developed

History in the making has been the theme for soybeans at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. The Foundation, under the direction of Dr. Earl H. Collister, has bred the first soybean for West Texas. The bean, designated the name HINN, is expected to revolutionize soybean farming in West Texas.

The HINN soybean is a full-season soybean yielding from five to ten bushels per acre more than the other varieties currently being grown in West Texas. The beans are about 1/3 larger than Hill and Lee, the two beans previously grown in this area.

Production of the HINN bean has been under the supervision of Barry Love, associate agronomist at the Foundation. Barry states that he feels the HINN bean will be a producer that farmers can use to increase their income. Along with the other qualities of the bean, a high degree of shatter resistance is indicated as well as a high degree of tolerance for lodging. In the comparison with other varieties in regard to these qualities, the HINN bean by far outshines all other varieties.

The HINN soybean fruits higher off the ground than other varieties in such a manner that nearly all of the beans on each plant may be harvested. The eye of the HINN soybean is light in color, which food processors say gives a desirable flavor in food products.

Soybean farming gives not only a good yield in income to the farmer, but also due to the rooting system, leaves the land in very good shape for successive crops.

The HINN soybean, with its high yield productivity and income to the farmer, is believed to be one of the best soybeans ever developed. It has been approved by the Texas State Seed and Plant board.

If farmers in the area would like to receive more information on the HINN soybean, contact Barry Love, associate agronomist, High Plains Research Foundation, P.O. Box 1267, Plainview, Texas.

MILITARY COUPS

A popular Liberal cartoonist has shown the Latin equivalent of John Q. Public agitated fearfully by a military advisor who hovers over him pointing to a cocked revolver marked Castro's Cuba. The uniformed one holds it directly in front of the Latin's face, saying "Watch!" But all the while the military figure holds a dagger in the other hand, representing the military coup, ready to plunge it into the back of our Latin neighbor.

Apparent meaning to Americans: right extremists are as dangerous as Communists.

This oversimplification is graphic, but it is hardly adequate to describe the alternatives of our friends south of the border.

Warnings by Liberal Americans against military takeovers in Latin America are likewise hardly a bull's-eye. There is not always a choice between constitutional democracy and military rule.

In the Dominican Republic recently, for example, the choice apparently was either a Communist regime or a military junta. The assumption of power by the junta led our Senate Foreign Relations committee to vote a ban on foreign aid to any country which overthrows an elected government by force. This could create hardship on quite a number of members of the U.N., especially if the ban were retroactive.

Latin Methods Differ

It is understandable that we Americans abhor the military strongarm type of government, which for us would be unthinkable. Yet, military rule in the Latin countries may not be in every instance the outrage that unthinking U.S. observers consider it to be.

Our leaders in the State Department ought to have room for some broad understandings, even if the Senate Foreign Relations committee does not.

Military displacement of Latin constitutions actually can add up to an effort to preserve a nation's achievements in democratic pursuits.

The Latins do not enjoy checks and balances between branches of government and between political parties as we do, nor the more solid economic and social balance that we maintain.

Until stability can be achieved through the slow growth of democratic means and institutions, the vacuum draws up military action that sometimes seems required to restore discipline and order.

Such a system is less than ideal, for it ignores the rule of law and risks blood and destruction. But we shall have to be tolerant of it until the system is outgrown.

Struggles for Power

One use being made of military power is by the Betancourt government in Venezuela, where it is required to crush the Red terrorism and sabotage being launched from the Cuban staging point.

Such determined action by Communists to infiltrate and wage political warfare has been experienced that even President Betancourt has tried to bridge the constitutional gap by using force to protect his nation from the underhanded attack against it. In other words, it depends on whose ox is gored as to whether the militia offers protection or danger.

The Castro Communists are of course making their big effort in Venezuela. They hope to utilize enough sabotage and violence to prevent any democratic elections. If they can seize power, that will be all right with them. If not, then any sort of military dictatorship will suit them, for it might open the door for other opportunities to grab power. Trouble is their intent, and they are not particular just how they get it.

Support Red Fighters

During the summer in Cuba, the Russians, already in full control of the military potential of the island, took steps to tighten their control over the "people's militia." This was a move calculated to protect their puppet from popular revolt by disarming his own militia. This is of course a Red move to control military force in a Latin country.

Other efforts along this line are seen in the steady infiltration of Brazilian, Guatemalan, and other military components of various countries.

There have been seven coups by the military in Latin America since the Alliance for Progress was set up ,and there may be others. A blanket charge, however, that all military coups are against U.S. interests will not stand.

We would feel better if our government would explain more fully just what it wants to do in Latin America. And why a military coup in that area is per se bad, while a military coup in South Viet Nam has American blessing.

But certainly we must encourage all efforts, such as the present regime in the Dominican Republic, that are anti-Communist. It wouldn't be a bad idea for the U.S. to call for a revolution in Cuba, as was done in South Viet Nam, except that it seems a little late for that in Cuba.

SS Due With Semi-Retirement

Many people are not aware they don't have to retire completely to receive social security benefits according to Hal Geldon, Amarillo social security district manager.

Geldon stated that special provisions in the social security law make it possible to receive some social security benefits even though a person may have fairly high earnings. He explained that a person can earn $1200 a year and receive all of his benefits. And just $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 earned between $1200 and $1700.

Geldon pointed out that a full month's benefit is payable for any month in which the beneficiary does not earn over $100 in wages and does not actively engage in self-employment.

Geldon urged all workers to visit the social security office when they near retirement age to learn more about their benefit rights.

The district office is located at 1006 Adams Street, Amarillo.

More Language Teachers Needed

There's a shortage of foreign language teachers in Texas elementary and secondary schools. To help remedy this situation, the University of Texas this Fall is embarking on a pilot program to give intensified language and teaching preparation primarily to native speakers of French and Spanish.

The program is designed to tap a large reservoir of persons who have high competence in those languages and who can, through accelerated studies, qualify quickly for teacher certification.

Information about the program may be obtained from Dr. Joseph Michel, associate professor of curriculum and instruction, Sutton Hall 408, University of Texas, Austin 78712.

The live oak is most common in Texas on the coastal plains northeast of Corpus Christi.

Choices Explained

Cotton Quota Vote Set for December 10

Cotton growers will ballot Tuesday, Dec. 10 in the referendum on cotton marketing quotas, W. L. David, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has announced.

All farmers engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1963 will be eligible to vote.

David has explained the basic program this way:

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve the quotas, then the quotas will be in effect for the 1964 upland cotton crop. Also, marketing penalties will apply to any "excess" cotton produced on a farm, and price support at a level within the range of 65 to 90 per cent of parity will be available to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments.

On the other hand, if more than one-third of the growers who vote oppose the quotas, then there will be no quotas and no penalties applicable to the 1964 upland cotton crop. Then price support to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments will be available at 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law.

Allotments are not affected by the outcome of the balloting, David says. They will remain in effect, whether or not quotas are approved, as a means of determining eligibility for the available price support.

It was pointed out that while the Secretary of Agriculture is directed by law to proclaim quotas for the next crop when the total cotton supply exceeds normal, it is the growers themselves who decide whether or not quotas shall be used.

Allotments for individual farms will be made available to growers prior to the Dec. 10 referendum, the chairman said.

Open House Postponed

Norwood PTA Hears Panel on "Dropouts"

A panel of high school students and adults took the problem of school dropouts before the Samnorwood Parent-Teacher Association Monday evening, Nov. 25.

An open house, also scheduled for that evening, was cancelled due to the death of President Kennedy. It will be held later.

Ed Dwyer, high school principal, was moderator and the Rev. E. L. Rankin, pastor of Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Chruch, Dozier, was the other adult member. Student panelists were Nancy Hill, Bill Wischkaemper, Joyce Alexander and Jimmy Martindale.

Dwyer reminded that dropouts come at both ends of the scholastic scale, the under-challenged and the over-challenged.

For the former, the four students suggested flexible homework schedules, and more challenging homework.

Special assignments are needed for the over-challenged, or slow learner, the students agreed. Then they discussed the Rev. Mr. Rankin's suggestin that the bright students be permitted to work with and help the slow learner.

The boys thought vocational classes and athletics help to hold the interest of and help motivate potential dropouts.

Dwyer handed the students this thought for discussion: "What about the attitude of the school itself? Since I have come to Samnorwood it seems to me there is no doubt in the minds of the students that they will go to college. It is something that is handed down from class to class."

In answer to an adult inquiry concerning girls who marry and dropout of school, Nancy Hill, president of the Future Homemakers chapter, described the national and local program by which it is hoped that girls will postpone marriage until after graduation.

The PTA program opened with a silent prayer in tribute to President Kennedy. The Rev. J. B. North of Samnorwood gave the invocation and the seventh grade won the room count.

This grade also presented the program, a skit, "Willie Nillie and His Radio Ham." In the cast were Gene Glazner, Regina Glazner, Gary Oldham, Ken Wischkaemper, Karen Waters, Max Paschall and Doug Darrow. Helpers were Sandy Hankins, Betty Coleman, Ann Kirkland, Odessa Stice and Mary Helen Gonzales.

Approximately 60 attended. Presiding was Mrs. John M. Morgan, and Mrs. A. F. Wischkaemper was in charge of the program.

Double Per Acre Yields Now Possible

College Station.—It is possible to double the per acre yield and double or triple the returns from cotton and at the same time, maintain a high level of organic matter in the soil, John Box, extension agronomist at Texas A&M told those attending the Cotton Production Conference recently.

He outlined a program beginning with increased organic matter resulting from higher crop residues. This in turn would result in improved soil physical condition and better control of erosion. Balancing fertility by addition of fertilizer, based on soil tests would increase production, giving the higher crop residues to complete the cycle.

Box emphasized, however, that for such a program to work all of the steps necessary to good cotton production must be taken and at the right time. These include such things as insect and disease control, good seed and proper cultivating and harvesting practices.

Lone Star Gas Plans Summer Cooling Rates

DALLAS—A reduction in natural gas industrial summer cooling rates available to Lone Star Gas Company's industrial accounts in Texas has been announced by L. T. Potter, president. He said the reduced rates will make natural gas for cooling available to smaller industrial consumers at approximately the same price as large consumers have been paying.

"The company's policy of continued study of all areas of operation resulted in a recently completed analysis that projected potential additional earnings through increased use of gas air conditioning," Mr. Potter said. "The rate reduction was made because the study showed great potentials in the sale of gas under industrial rate schedules for cooling apartment houses, hotels, motels, dormitories and other large buildings used for living quarters, office buildings, nursing homes and hospitals, and other structures qualifying for such rates. Although use of gas by these customers for cooling has been available at special industrial rates, the new rate reductions will be substantial and will make the operating cost of gas air conditioning equipment even more economical. Public schools will also get a considerable reduction for summer cooling costs. Lone Star believes all school buildings eventually will be cooled as well as heated."

Local Manager B. J. Thogmartin said the new summer cooling rate will be effective in Wellington on March 1, 1964 and was announced at this time by Lone Star so that customers planning to install gas air conditioning for use next summer can estimate future operating costs now.

President

He recalled his surprise at the president's reddish hair—Stafford had thought it would be darker. There was a happy look on his tanned face.

Tribute was paid to the memory of the late president by churches, schools and the community.

First of these was the Requiem Mass said for the president at Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church Sunday morning by Father Patrick Burke.

In his sermon, he spoke out against the hatred which has spread through the county, like a cancer, from which the nation is dying—which could destroy it. This hatred must cease, he said, and asked for the prayers of the people for President Kennedy and President Johnson, as well as for the nation.

Our Mother of Mercy Church was filled to capacity for the Requiem Mass.

Mayor Hiram Cudd proclaimed Monday as a Day of Mourning, and the entire city closed from 10 a.m. to noon for the community-wide memorial service, held at First Methodist Church and sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance.

Approximately 150 saddened Wellington people heard the Rev. Jack Durham, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene describe President John F. Kennedy as "a world citizen as well as a statesman," and a man who could bridge the gap in race, color, culture and religion.

"A great man has fallen and each of us is the loser," he declared, then said:

"He stood tall in any nation, he seemed so right in the place he filled." Then Rev. Durham summed up his remarks a few minutes later by saying:

"A great man has fallen and each of us is the loser."

Mrs. Kelly Pigg was organist and the Rev. Davis Edens of First Methodist Church led the Pledge of Allegiance. Dr. Glenn Hickey of First Baptist Church gave the invocation and Father Burke read the scripture. Hiram Cassel, minister of First Christian Church gave the benediction.

Samnorwood

It was the decision of Samnorwood school administrators that the students of that large district could best honor the president by carrying on with their work, as his widow requested, with a memorial service Monday morning.

Supt. Orville Cunningham reviewed the historical background of the president, noting especially his work for peace, and his courage.

He observed that he felt that the fallen president would ask us not to carry hatred but to join efforts for peaceful means.

The Rev. J. B. North, pastor of Samnorwood Baptist Church told the group "This man in his time used Christian means to draw the world together."

Ed Dwyer was master of ceremonies, while John Dwyer gave the invocation and E. E. Darrow the benediction.

During the time of the funeral, students from the seventh grade through high school were taken to homes where they watched the rites on television. Elementary students listened to the radio accounts in their room, with teachers giving explanations.

Dodson

Dodson school also was in session, and a memorial service was conducted with the Rev. Howard Lester of the Church of the Nazarene as speaker and the Rev. Tillman Rodabough of South Baptist Church participating.

These students also went to homes to watch the funeral on television.

Quail

Quail students paid tribute to President Kennedy in an assembly program Friday afternoon, at which Supt. Herman Moseley was speaker.

Monday, during the time of the funeral, they listened to the Requiem Mass as it was broadcast.

Wellington schools were dismissed Monday for the day of mourning.

Mrs. Lucille A. Greer and her son, J. Murray Greer of Glendale, Calif., visited with friends and attended to business in Wellington a few days last week.
