German Tension High As Nazi Drive Opens

TOTALITARIAN CAMPAIGN FOR YOUTH NOTED

(Copyright 1936 by United Press)
BERLIN, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — Increasing internal tension was believed today to be responsible for a new nationalistic drive which, it is indicated, has only begun.

An effort to incorporate all youths into the Nazi "totalitarian" scheme — at the cost of such youth organizations as that of the Roman Catholic church — was believed a primary motive of the drive.

But there were signs too that Jews would receive attention. Germany is outwardly quiet but internal tension seems increasing. Especially the wholesale arrests of Catholics in the Rhineland and the Berlin area show a recurrence of Nazi radicalism, which is more surprising because it was believed the Nazis would restrain themselves to the utmost during the Olympic games.

A sudden outbreak of Nazi activity seemed to be explained by widespread dissent.

Members of the working class and Nazi radicals particularly are disgruntled because of repeated and severe shortages in certain foods, such as now prevails in Berlin. Party circles, it is understood, believe that the nation again needs a stimulant to revive faith in the Nazi regime.

Governor Commutes Galvan's Sentence

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — The death sentence given Raul Galvan convicted of killing Border Patrolman Ivan Scott in a fight near Paso in 1929 today was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor James Allred.

In announcing his decision, Allred said he was not much impressed by a recent application for clemency on the ground of newly discovered testimony. He said that did not enter into his decision.

Scott led a party of officers who were ambushed after seizing a load of liquor. Galvan was not arrested until 1933.

Allotment Approved For Dredging Job

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — The war department today approved allotment of $150,000 for maintenance and dredging at Brazos Island, Texas, to restore the completed sections of the channel to Brownsville to the authorized project depth of 25 feet.

Saxophone Quintet On Rotary Program

R. L. Maddox's saxophone quintet was presented on the program at the Cisco Rotary club luncheon today. The quintet consisted of Howell Stubblefield, Louise Lawson Kessler Thomas, Spurgeon Parks, and Maddox.

An appeal was made to Rotarians and other Ciscoans to support the high school bands trips to nearby communities by their presence. The next trip will be next Thursday night at 7:15 to Scranton, where a concert will be given.

Ciscoan Back From Funeral of Sister

Mrs. P. P. Shepard has returned from San Antonio where she was called Sunday to the death bed of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Steinfeldt, 62, who died at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mrs. Steinfeldt, prominent club woman, was first vice president of the San Antonio Music club. She is survived by her husband and four children, three boys and one girl.

Mrs. Shepard was accompanied by Mr. Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepard.

No More Frozen Noses for Flyers

Zooming through the air in an open cockpit these winter days is a good way to turn nose into an icicle, which doesn't improve the morale of a flyer. Therefore Uncle Sam has ordered heavy woolen helmets like this for his aces. It tucks under the collar of the coat. The eye slits are covered and nose and mouth ingeniously protected.

OPENING SHOT IN TOWNSEND'S DRIVE TONIGHT

Pushing their forces with the announced determination of completely organizing Texas for their cause, Townsend old age pension workers were preparing to fire the first shot in their campaign here tonight.

Dr. William Smith of Boston and New Hampshire is scheduled to deliver the first of a series of addresses at the city hall this evening at 7 o'clock.

The Old Age Retirement Plan workers have established their congressional district headquarters in Cisco and will be here for the next 12 months, it has been announced by E. G. Kemper, Townsend organizer. From Cisco the pension planners will branch out over this congressional district, Kemper announced.

Extensive organization has been going on along the West Coast and in other parts of the nation, Kemper said yesterday.

He urged all citizens of Cisco, men and women, young and old, to attend the Townsend rallies and learn what the $200-a-month plan really means.

SQUIMMEL HUNTER TREED MAMMOTH SPRING, Ark. — (U.P.) — Charles McElroy, 32, chopped down a tree to get a squirrel he had shot. The tree fell on him. He suffered a compound fracture of the leg.

Livestock and Ranges of Texas Good Agriculture Report Shows

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 — The condition of livestock and ranges in Texas remains favorable with only slightly above average deterioration during January, according to the monthly report of the United States department of agriculture. There is a surplus of feed crops remaining in most areas, with very little supplemental feeding necessary so far this winter. Contracting of wool has been very active. Prospects are favorable for good lamb and calf crops.

Extreme cold weather during January injured winter ranges and caused the condition to deteriorate more than average during the month. However, moisture conditions are more favorable than for some time, and prospects are favorable for early spring and summer range feeds. Portions of the North-Western and Western districts still have insufficient moisture to insure summer range feeds, but the balance of the state is adequately supplied. Grain fields are furnishing some grazing in portions of the plains area of northwest Texas, but in several counties, in the western and extreme northern portion of this district, growth has not been sufficient to allow much grazing.

The condition of ranges at 77 per cent of normal is 5 points below the condition reported a month ago, but is one point above the 10-year average, and 30 points above the condition a year ago.

The condition of cattle on February 1 is reported at 81 per cent of normal, compared with 83 per cent a month ago, 58 percent a year ago, and 78 percent the 10-year average condition on February 1. The reported condition of sheep at 84 per cent of normal is 4 points below that of a month ago, but is 22 points above a year ago and 2 points above the 10-year average February 1 condition. The condition of goats has followed that of sheep closely. Brush is furnishing an abundance of feed now in most areas, and the condition of goats is good. There is a good local demand for goats at this time.

Nun Saves Lives Of Many in Fire

MONTREAL, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — A nun who saved many lives in a convent fire last night was in a critical condition from burns today. She is Mother St. Alphonsus, 49, and largely because of her heroism no lives were lost in the fire that destroyed a wing of Villa Maria convent.

OFFICERS ARE SEEKING CLUE IN EXTORTION

KILLEEN, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — Federal investigators and state rangers joined today in attempting to solve an alleged extortion plot against Earl Massey, 38, Works Progress Administration supervisor here, after capture last night of a man alleged to be a member of "the Five Black Widows."

Tom Farmer, 22, former relief worker on a project supervised by Massey, was captured as he and a companion were surprised in the act of retrieving a decoy package left where Massey had been instructed to leave $1,500. Farmer's companion escaped.

Farmer, held today in the county jail at Belton, had been charged with extortion but refused to make any statement.

"I've tried to help him for several years but I guess he was just hard up for money," Massey said. Notes left for Massey Saturday and Tuesday threatened him with death and the kidnapping of his two small sons if he did not comply with the demands for $1,500.

Rebekahs Planning Party for I. O. O. F.

The Goodwill Rebekah Lodge will entertain the Oddfellows, their families and friends with a Valentine party tonight at the I. O. O. F. hall at 8 o'clock. All Oddfellows and Rebekahs are urged to attend.

Chaplin Film Causes More Than Riot of Laughter

Charlie Chaplin's movies have long been famous as riots of laughter, but his new one caused a real riot. In the mad scramble for autographs and a glimpse of celebrities arriving at the theater in New York where the film was unveiled, the crush of 3000 persons bowled over and trampled on many of their own number. Victims of the jam that blocked Broadway traffic are shown on the sidewalk as police try to clear a path for an arriving car. Riot squads were called when the mob got out of hand.

POULTRY SHOW FOR EASTLAND BEING PLANNED

Plans for a county-wide poultry show, to be staged in Eastland early in March, are to be discussed at a meeting of poultry men of the county to be held in the Eastland Chamber of Commerce offices Monday night at 7:30, it has been announced here.

The co-operation of all poultry raisers in the county has been urged in order that the show might be made a success, and poultry men from over the entire county have been urged to attend the meeting so that plans might be formulated.

Tentative dates and plans call for the show to open in a store building in Eastland on March 6 and to continue for two days. It was pointed out today that these dates were tentative, but that they were expected to be accepted at the meeting Monday night.

All poultry entered in the show will be carefully cared for during the two days, with competent men in charge of the pens. Entries are invited from all over the county in order to make the show a success and to promote a wider interest in the poultry business in this section.

Women are especially invited to attend the meeting, and to enter their fowls in the show. Those desiring additional information on the meeting or the plans for the prospective show have been invited to correspond with H. C. Davis, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, or with J. R. Boggs of Eastland, both of whom are actively engaged in promoting the show.

WEATHER

EAST TEXAS — Partly cloudy tonight and Friday, slightly warmer northwest and north central tonight.

COALITION OF DEMOS, GOP IN CABINET TALK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — Chairman Henry Fletcher of the republican national committee told questioners today there had been "a good deal of talk" about a coalition presidential cabinet if the New Deal is defeated next November.

Fletcher, receiving newspapermen after the nationwide GOP observance of Lincoln's birthday, was asked whether he would favor inviting bolting democrats into a republican cabinet.

"I don't care to express myself on that," he replied.

He added that the matter had been discussed casually in connection with the campaign but had not been presented to him.

"I think it's too early to talk of that," he told questioners. The questions were raised in connection with the suggestion made last night in a Lincoln day speech by Senator Arthur Vandenberg, R., Mich., one of the GOP presidential possibilities. Vandenberg mentioned Al Smith by name and said:

"For myself I welcome Jeffersonian cooperation not only in the battle line but subsequently in the council chamber after next November's victory is won."

HOOVER LASHES AT NEW DEALERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — Former President Herbert Hoover delivered what many regarded as his strongest, most forthright attack on the New Deal at a Lincoln day dinner last night.

Where before Mr. Hoover had concentrated on individual points, his attack was broad and included most of President Roosevelt's views. He entitled his speech "The Confused State of the Nation."

To Buy Historical Papers, Paintings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — The Texas Centennial commission and government departments were authorized today to purchase historic papers and paintings for use in the exposition.

The authorization came after President Roosevelt signed a joint house resolution amending the original measure providing for creation of the commission.

Wilbur Hawk Rites To Be Held Friday

AMARILLO, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — Funeral services for Wilbur Hawk, 55, general manager of the Amarillo Globe News Publishing company, will be tomorrow afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church.

DEEPENING OF TEST WELL IS DUE TO START

"Wildcat" drilling in the Wisdom and Parsons number one Wende test was scheduled to start tomorrow morning, following the work of swabbing out the well yesterday and today.

A. A. Wisdom, operator, somewhat gloomy over the present showing, told the Daily News this afternoon that he would drill the well deeper after oil in the hole could be measured.

"This will be pure wildcatting," Wisdom said. "We don't know what we have below the present depth."

The well has already been drilled deeper than the Schoor well in the area and the strong gas pressure found in the Schoor stratum has been caused off, he announced.

The hole has been drilled into the Marble Falls lime. It was inferred deeper in the hopes of reaching a new oil pay. Whether the well would be shot was not known definitely.

Large crowds visited the well yesterday and today. Ciscoans and oil men alike were interested in the showing of the test and it was believed that the well might cause a considerable amount of drilling in the area south of Cisco in the next few months.

Pioneer's Funeral Held Here Today

One of Cisco's oldest settlers, Mrs. T. D. Freeman, died Tuesday at the home of her son, in Clarksville, Texas, after an illness for almost a year.

Mrs. Freeman was a resident of Cisco and near Cisco for 48 years having been here during the time of the first big cyclone and when the Texas Pacific railroad entered. T. D. Freeman died in Rome, N.Y. January 1935.

Funeral services were to be held today at 2:30 at the Green's Funeral home with Rev. Preston Broxton officiating. The body arrived early this morning from Clarksville. Survivors are: C. H. Freeman, Erick, Oklahoma; R. O. Freeman, Ansonia, Tex.; Mrs. Maud Owen, Cisco; Dallas; Mrs. E. T. Pope, Plainview; and T. D. Freeman, Seminole, Okla.

GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN TO VISIT TEXAS

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 — What the governor of Wisconsin will say to the student president of the University of Texas will be a matter of concern for the seven thousand students at that institution when Governor Philip La Follette visits the campus on February 29. Governor La Follette will address the student government conference to be held at the university February 28 and 29. He will be introduced by Governor James V. Allred of Texas, and will be a house guest at the governor's mansion through March 2, Texas Independence Day. On that day he, Governor Allred, and Governor Hill McAllister of Tennessee will attend the Washington on the Brazos celebration in Huntsville.

Only 38 years of age, Governor La Follette is peculiarly adapted to address the youthful collegiate officials, it is believed. When he began his campaign for governor in 1930, he was termed "the boy candidate."

Debate Develops Over Army Use In Mob Suppression

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 — (U.P.) — Bitter debate over right to use the United States army in suppressing mobs and strikes broke out today as the house continued stormy discussion of the record-breaking $543,341,000 war department supply bill.

The new issue was raised by fiery little Representative Vito Marcantonio, R., N. Y., one of a group of congressmen seeking to reduce the total of the war bill. He charged the army manuals advocated obtaining information regarding strikes from strike breaking agencies.

February 14, Important to Texans

Friday of this week will be an important date in the history of Texas. It will mark the beginning of two extensions of government to care for and provide for the safety of the people of the state.

First of all comes the old age pension plan. The people of this state have voiced their will in calling upon the legislature to provide a form of old age assistance or pension. The legislature has done that and the act becomes effective February 14, which is Friday.

On Friday for the first time old people, those more than 60 years of age, may fill out application blanks for the pension. The blanks may be obtained at any court house, city hall, or chamber of commerce. The blanks are simple and require no expert guidance for a person who can read and write to fill them out. They may be secured Friday.

For the first time in its history also the state of Texas requires all automobile drivers to secure driving licenses. The license costs nothing and may be obtained by anyone who is not a menace to traffic. It is secured at the county tax collector's office.

But the license may be hard to keep. When a driver is convicted of a traffic violation a part of the license is taken away. The same is true on the second offense. On the third conviction, however, the license is revoked and such a motorist is barred from driving an automobile.

Like the old age assistance law, this one was passed upon popular demand of the people. Unlike it, however, it is not a constitutional law but a statute passed by the legislature. The two are similar, though, in the fact that they are aimed at providing for the welfare of the people who need such provision in a fast changing age that is outgrowing the letter of some of the old laws, if not the principles back of them.

Narcotic Ring Smashed

There appears to be smuggling of narcotics as well as illicit sellers of drugs in the lower coast area of Texas as well as on the Rio Grande border and the upper tier of western counties. Federal operators smashed what they described as "the biggest narcotics ring in the Southwest." According to federal operators, the ring was powerful in the major cities of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Three big acts of the ring are in jail in Galveston and many sellers for the ring are under arrest. Six noted smugglers are in custody and $10,000 worth of narcotics has been seized—"the climax of the six month underworld investigation by the government agents."

Smugglers of narcotics are slimy creatures. They should be handled without gloves. They should be given justice but a justice that does not call for the stuff that the sentimental call "mercy." There is a place behind the bars of federal prisons for these creatures who make tainted money by preying upon society.

Administration's New Financial Plan

President Roosevelt is taking the bull by the horns. His new deal has determined to clear the decks of more than one billion worth of "borrowing power" which has not been used and is now declared obsolete. In other words the billion no longer needed will be applied to other purposes by the administration. At a press conference the scrapping of powers was discussed by the president. F. D. R. mentioned specifically the HOLC, the Farm Credit administration and the Reconstruction Finance corporation. He emphasized that the HOLC (set up to lend money in aid of distressed home owners) was authorized by congress to expend $4,750,000,000. He said that most of the loan applications received before the deadline fixed by law have been passed upon and that the corporation will be "able to stop $500,000,000 to one billion dollars short of the authorized outlay." On Thursday, the president discussed with his advisers the government financial need. He said nothing new had been decided for paying the bonus, for which he has asked congress for a $2,249,000,000 appropriation.

All the republican aspirants for the presidency are demanding that the budget shall be balanced. A majority of republican senators and more than a large majority of the Republican representatives voted for the bonus bill and demand its early payment. Four republican presidents vetoed bonus bills. President Roosevelt has to his credit two vetoes. Now all the people, regardless of party, as well as the congressional representatives of men and women of all parties are reminded that the bonus has been voted and it calls for the appropriation of almost $2,500,000,000—"and quick payment."

SOIL CONSERVATION

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(UP)—A 71,000 pound steel door was dropped into place with a clang this week, completing the state treasury's new vault.

The vault is to be placed in a room of more than $100,000,000 in cash and securities. The door literally was dropped into place. A caterpillar tractor, dragged it to the state capitol from a railway siding.

It moved slowly, workers laying a temporary track for rollers as it was dragged along foot by foot. The door was maneuvered to a spot just over an opening left when the vault walls were constructed. There it was lowered and centered into the walls.

The huge doors will swing open only at fixed times and only when operated by officials with the necessary information.

Soon grass will grow over the portion of the state capitol lawn that was excavated for the vault, removing the last outward indication of the treasure's site. It is reached from a passage within the capitol, through the 71,000 pound door.

Discovery of an error in the official copy of the state penal code has led all state employees to redoubled vigilance in handling other documents.

Miss Dorrae H. Connerly, legislative reference librarian, checked copies of the state constitution before each word and page of the latest for issuing the 10,000 ordered for distribution in Texas Centennial year.

One error was found. A wrong date was given for the adoption of one of the amendments. November 3 was used instead of November 4.

It was Miss Connerly's suggestion that the state distribute copies of its constitution in Centennial year. Copies of it seemed to be scarce, judging from the many inquiries that came to the state library. Having suggested the issue, she decided it was up to her to see that the copies issued were correct.

Slowness of the allowance for administering old age pensions has driven the pension commission to rigid economy. One economy move was to select headquarters for district administration only in places that furnished free quarters. From cities offering free rent, the district headquarters were selected. As a result only eight of the 20 proposed headquarters could be fixed immediately.

Announcement of those eight and the omission of others had a marked effect. Chambers of Commerce, mayors and other officials were startled and telegraphed offers of space.

Governor James V. Allred isn't worried, but he doesn't intend to be lulled to sleep in his candidacy for re-election. He is a firm believer in the advice of State Democratic Chairman Myron G. Blalock, Marshall, that a scared rabbit runs fastest.

Asked by a friend what he thought about chances of his opponents, Governor Allred responded with a story. It was about a negro assured that ghosts from a supposedly haunted house couldn't hurt him.

"I know they can't hurt me," the negro said. "But I don't want them runnin' me."

National Youth Administration workers get an average monthly wage of approximately $8 a month, but that doesn't prevent some of the ambitious youngsters from building high hopes.

"What are you going to do with your money," one red-headed maiden was asked at Houston recently.

"Well, I'm going to save it until I get enough for a bedroom suite."

The $8 is paid for six days work. NYA has staggered schedules arranged to pass the work around and almost 15,000 needy young men and women will be employed when the program reaches its peak.

Frank Gilder, one of the State's S-Men, has a tiny but deadly pistol. It is small enough to be carried in a vest pocket or can be cupped in the hand, but it shoots a .41 caliber bullet and is described as accurate at 100 yards. Like the aviator's parachute, if it doesn't work, the maker probably will replace it. Gilder's pistol, however, is a gift. It was sent to him by the Mexican General Juan A. Almazan.

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—Jim Ferguson, chief Texas game warden, set out to prepare a collection of Texas game and wild-life specimens for an exhibit in the Centennial.

The people who offered to mount the specimens for him offered to prepare a deer for $400, and a Texas longhorn steer for the modest sum of $1,400.

Ferguson is debating now whether he should buy a herd of 50 live longhorns and exhibit them and save some money.

There wouldn't be any exhibit of stuffed animals and birds at any time like those prices, Ferguson let it be known.

Law clerks in state courts have checked up and found that all of the statutes in the missing 32-page folio of the criminal law are listed in the index of that volume.

This may have an important bearing on the way the case is disposed of that challenges a conviction under one of the statutes missing from the official volume.

Further, the legislature has amended at least half the statutes missing from the book. If there was no statute to amend, obviously the amendment would be null also as an amendment changes only a part and not the entire substance of a law.

There are two dates of prime importance in the Texas Centennial celebration and two chief Texas shrines to which they pertain.

Governor James V. Allred, as the executive head of the government that official honors those dates and places, will take part personally at the places and on the days marking two foremost Centennial events.

He will take part in exercises at Old Washington-on-the-Brazos on March 2, anniversary of the signing of the declaration of independence. Then, on April 21, he will participate in ceremonies on the San Jacinto battlefield, where the independence was won in one of the world's decisive combats at arms.

After the Old Washington exercises March 2, Governor Allred will go to Huntsville to welcome Governor McAlister of Tennessee in tributes honoring Sam Houston, ex-Tennesseean and accepting the Sam Houston house, tendered the state by house-spirited J. E. Josey of Houston.

ranges continued at about average levels on February 1, in the 17 western range states. A heavy covering of snow in the states of Montana, Wyoming, and the Dakotas prevented use of range feed. In the states of Nebraska and Colorado, fairly open weather permitted general grazing and conservation of the already abundant feed supplies. In western Kansas and Oklahoma, and southeastern Colorado, grass and hay supplies are rather limited. The supply of grain feed is scanty in this area. The condition of ranges and pastures in Arizona, Utah, Nevada, and New Mexico is above average and good range feed was available during January. A marked improvement in range feed conditions occurred in northern California, but in the southern portion continued lack of moisture caused a rather sharp decline.

Gains Foreseen

While it is yet too early to draw any definite conclusions regarding calf crop prospects, the good condition of breeding herds and ample feed supplies indicate that calves should arrive in sturdy condition and that the percentage calf crop in 1936 should be average or better.

Early arrivals in some states already indicate this as being a likely development. Cattle and calves in feed lots have made good gains. Stock water is ample in nearly all sections except in some of the northern areas where low temperatures have frozen stock ponds. In general, the financial condition of the cattle industry is the best in several years.

Lambs in feed lots have made splendid gains and death losses have been held to a minimum. Death losses in range bands have likewise been smaller than usual.

In Arizona, early lambs are being moved rather liberally and prospects for the early lamb crop generally are good. The present good condition of breeding herds points to a good lamb crop in 1936.

Japan's Asiatic Policy Welds More Chinese Nationalism; Peace Distant

By JOHN MORRIS

United Press Staff Correspondent
HANGHAI, Feb. 13 — (U.S.)—The patience hitherto displayed by the Chinese government and people in meeting situations created by Japan's aggressive Asiatic policy is wearing thin. In spots, it has worn through altogether, and sparks of indignation have given significant hints of the smouldering resentment which seems certain eventually to break into a conflagration.

Signs that the Chinese attitude toward Japan is stiffening are apparent everywhere. Chinese officials, bankers, merchants, servants—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek down to the elevator boys in Shanghai hotels—reflect the awakening of a national feeling that the country's very existence is at stake. Chiang's address to the Kuomintang Congress, circular telegrams, signed by Peiping's intellectual leaders, published memorials of merchants and tradesmen's guilds and the private conversations of individuals Chinese all are indicative of the new trend.

Officials of the government have been careful to preserve diplomatic courtesy, and even in conversations they reiterate endlessly their determination to persist in the search for a peaceful settlement of questions disturbing relations with Japan. Their sincerity is not to be doubted by any impartial observer well acquainted with their policies or with their limited means of meeting Japanese forces with forcible resistance.

Fight as Last Resort
The Chinese in their present mood would fight Japan only as a final desperate resort against policies which they feel to be threatening their existence as a nation. They would fight without hope of winning unless aided materially by foreign powers, and the failure of the League of Nations to save the North-eastern Provinces from the Japanese four years ago leaves them little cause for anticipating effective help from abroad.

to understand why Chinese tread lightly in any matter likely to arouse the ire of the Japanese military leaders. Even in the case of the Autonomous Anti-Communist Council of Eastern Hopei, which the Japanese declared to be the spontaneous creature of discontented Chinese, the government's measures to suppress the rebellious Yin Ju-keng were restrained by the knowledge of Yin's close relations with Japan and the certainty that a punitive expedition into the demilitarized zone would precipitate a war.

Chinese officials share the conviction that Japanese agents inspired Yin Ju-keng to establish his autonomous government at Tungchow and defy the Nanking government to attack him. For the time being, China continues to seek a solution of the question by peaceful and diplomatic means. In order which the Executive Yuan at Nanking sent to Governor Shang-cheng of Hopei Province, to dismiss and punish Yin Ju-keng obviously implied the use of military force to capture the rebellious official and his associates but apparently it was designed merely to keep the record straight and without any serious intention of attempting immediately to enforce it.

Limit Almost Reached
Informed observers believe the so-called autonomous movement in the north is rapidly approaching the limit to which it can be pushed without forcing the Nanking government to fight for its life. Chinese officials generally feel that the Chinese are responsible for the movement and that the Chinese nominally leading it are their puppets. If that is true, they fear it is a certainty that any effort to suppress the movement by force will embroil them in a war with Japan.

History of Texas To Be Dramatized

DALLAS, Feb. 13 — Six thrilling episodes in the history of Texas will be dramatized on Captain Henry's Maxwell House Show Boat program on a nation wide radio broadcast Thursday, February 20, according to announcement made here Tuesday by officials of the state department of information.

The entire hour-long program, broadcast over NBC stations from 8 until 9 o'clock, Central Standard time, will be devoted to the Lone Star state and its Centennial celebrations. In addition to the dramatic episodes, the program will feature forming gradually in the national consciousness. The nation still is far from united as to just where the line should be drawn, but differences of opinion are beginning to melt in the atmosphere created by the emergency.

CHAPTER I

JANE WESTON heard the cold wind and sleet beating against the panes as she dialed the Central Employment Bureau again. She said in a tired monotone, "Miss Weston calling," and glanced at the office clock.

It was 11:55. Every day for 28 days, while she was at this temporary job in the Oceanic Magazine office, Jane had called the same number. Regent 2600. Regent 2600. The ringing refrain buzzed in her mind.

And each time, as now, she had received the same reply. "Sorry. No call for you yet, Miss Weston." Jane sighed and put down the telephone. She began to type again. It was a relief from thinking about herself.

Or was it? It was maddening, counting off the hours from eight to six. A good, steady job that absorbed her was what Jane wanted. For more than a year she had taken anything—typing, holiday clerk, switchboard work, anything she could get. She couldn't admit defeat; she couldn't go back to that little middlewestern town until she had found what she had been looking for when she set out alone for the city.

Back in Indiana Jane had been a girl of high, keen spirit. She was the middle child in a family of five and had neither the intense self-reliance of the firstborn or the home-loving content of the last-born. She wanted to see things and do things that were beyond the ken of her companions in the town. And Jane was practical. When she wanted a thing, she went after it.

In the midst of the final letter to her wire basket, she looked up and saw Dickie Landon gliding at her. Dickie was no more than a glorified office boy, at his first job. He had tried to date her every day for a month.

"Have you ever been to Coney Island in the winter?" Dick asked. "That's the best time. No crowds, no hot dogs, just the long sweep of the ocean and—"

"And a breeze to hold 'til frozen the marrow in your bones," she replied. "No, thank you. I'm taking a cruise to the South Seas on a luxury liner."

She smiled knowingly, for she had just typed a letter to a very wealthy woman who had written the travel editor of the magazine, asking about cruises to the South Seas.

"Aw, come on," Dick begged. "Just this time. You're so killer for looks, Jane, but you knock the shine off the others in this building. I ought to know. I've tried to date them all."

Jane flushed a little, but she smiled at Dick's naivete. He was as open and frank in his observations as a child.

NEVERTHELESS she paused in her work long enough to glance at her image in the wall mirror. She had dark-brown eyes and a pert, cushioned mouth. Her red dish hair was set in smooth waves away from a high, white forehead. She had never thought of herself as being especially pretty, but there were plenty of young men who turned around to look after her when she passed on the street.

At this moment there came the faint sound of a ship's horn from the river. Jane glanced quickly toward the window which overlooked the wharves and the boats. For down she could see the tug boats pulling a giant liner, like a sleek greyhound, out into the water.

Jane dreamed of far-off places, romantic nights under a southern moon, starlight, the scent of jasmine, and a handsome baritone murmuring nonsense—

THE buzzer on Jane's desk brought her back from her reverie. Dickie Landon said, "Hey, wake up! Jerry, the boss, is calling you."

But Jane had heard. She had already picked up her dictation pad and was on the way, smiling and alert.

She found Jerry Seal hunched up at his desk. He was tussling his brown hair and when he looked up, his eyes seemed tired.

"I'm sorry to spring this on you," he said. "As I told you when you came, the job was temporary. To day I'm forced to tell you the magazine is suspending publication until today your services will no longer be required. Nor will mine."

Jane thought about Jerry Seal's wife and two youngsters and for a moment didn't think about losing her own job. Tears came to her eyes. They were the tears she had been holding back all day. She gripped her chair hard, but she couldn't keep Jerry from seeing her wet eyes.

He smiled at her friendly, robust way. "I know it's tough. Look here—take some time off this afternoon and scout around the agencies for a new job. I'm going to lunch now with the publisher."

Jane stood up and thanked him. Then she went back to the outer office, put on her hat and coat and left the building.

A COLD wind was blowing in from the river and instinctively Jane drew her coat closer about her. She turned up her collar and began to walk. "I've got to save carfare," she confided to herself. "Besides, most of the employment agencies are close together in the downtown business district."

But she soon found the walking difficult in the slush. The icy wind cut her face and her gloves were sodden and heavy. From a corner drug store, she called her roommate at the walk-up room with cooking facilities they shared.

"I'm down town making the rounds of the agencies," Jane said. "I'm through at the office; there isn't any more job. Won't you come down and share my misery this afternoon?"

Alice said, "Have you had your lunch?"

"No."

"Well, you little idiot, go to Kramer's on Canal street and order some hot food. And wait for me there."

Jane left the booth and entered the little white-table-top restaurant with its pleasant smells of vegetable soups and pastries. She sat at a table before the window and ordered a bowl of clam chowder.

She and Alice had often made the rounds together. Alice wanted a steady job, too, but had found nothing except spare typing jobs to do. There was something disheartening about entering a crowded employment bureau slosh, but, together, Jane and Alice sailed into the agencies, one after the other, with chins up and spirits soaring.

Employment managers liked to see them come in. The harassed managers always said, "Nothing for you two girls today. But I'm looking out for you. Come again tomorrow."

Someone had left a newspaper at the table and Jane picked it up to look at the "help wanted" section. But with a sigh, she put it down. It was the same old story, nothing in her line.

But a headline caught her eye. "Sardine Prince Visits America." Below was a picture of a blond, smiling, personable Scandinavian youth, aged 21, who was making his first visit to the United States. He was the son of a wealthy packer of—curiously enough—sardines.

He was in this country to make a study of his father's business interests. He was too handsome, Jane thought idly, scanning his features. The young man was quoted as saying, "I'm crazy about American girls. I might marry one before I go home. Who knows?" And for moments Jane stared at nothing.

She transferred her thoughts to words as her roommate, Alice, sat down at the table, ordering a cup of coffee.

"Where do girls meet men like that?" Jane asked, pointing out the smiling male personage. "Certainly not in an office! There's Jerry, who's worried sick about his own wife and two kids, and Dickie, the office boy, and—"

"Dreaming again!" Alice commented drily. "Why must you pick out a sardine prince to yearn after? What you want is a job!"

When Jane didn't answer, Alice went on pitifully, "You meet men like that on shipboard—taking a cruise to here, there and yonder. There and the fishes don't inhabit dry land. That's how close we'll ever get to you."

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JANE WESTON loses her job as secretary to the business manager of Oceanic Magazine when the magazine suspends publication.

JERRY SEAL, her sympathetic employer, tells her to take the afternoon off and hunt for another position. Jane telephones her roommate, ALICE, and asks her to come along to make the rounds of the employment offices. Neither girl has been able to secure anything except temporary work for months.

Waiting for Alice, Jane goes to a restaurant and orders lunch. She picks up a newspaper, sees a picture of a rich and handsome young man beneath the caption, "Sardine Prince Visits America." Alice arrives and Jane shows her the picture. "Where's Jane's luck," she girls meet men like that?"

"You meet them on shipboard," Alice answers, "taking cruises."

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER II

JANE came back to earth with a start. "Let's get going," she said. "We have to make the rounds before dark."

The two girls were systematic in their job hunting. They knew the short-cuts on foot and subway from place to place. They stepped into an elevator and were carried up several floors. As the elevator approached the employment bureau, the steady hum of feminine voices could be heard, rising crescendo.

When the elevator doors were open the pulse of the waiting room almost knocked one back into the wall. Low voices, shrill voices, bustle-like calls and shrieks of laughter.

It takes a little steel in one. Jane thought, to advance cheerfully into such a picture of hubbub and excitement, but she managed it today. She and Alice stood in line, adding their chit-chat to the volume of noise about them. As they advanced, and applied after an older, toward the harassed manager, their hopes soared until, when at last it came their turn to be spoken to, the answer came, resonant and clear, "Sorry, nothing for you today."

After they had visited 10 agencies Jane's spirit flagged. "It's no use," she said. "We've done this so often it's like a dance routine. And still we never find jobs! What's the use?"

They were standing before a brilliantly lighted show window. It was the office of a steamship company and there was a gorgeous display of color in the advertisements. There were signs which glorified the islands set in tropical seas. Bermuda. The Bahamas. The Isle of Pines. "Spend your winter in Sunny Spain." "The roses bloom in Venezuela in winter." Port au Prince. Guy Havana. "Take a cruise."

There seemed to be magic in the names and magic in the red and gold and green tints. In the middle of the display was a giant ship model—a white cruise ship. A sign underneath said, "This is your home throughout the triangle cruise, sailing tomorrow. Nassau, Bermuda, nine days of glorious romance underneath a tropic moon."

Jane was so absorbed that she did not notice the blond young man who stood at her side, looking at the same display. She said to Alice,

Suddenly he turned and said, "Well, tub, isn't it?"

"All of us islanders have our paradise set on islands in the southern seas. I wonder why it is—"

TURNING suddenly, she saw a young man. He was smiling and Jane realized—with a shock—that sent a deep blush to her cheeks—that he was the handsomest man she had ever seen.

Glancing away, she made mental note of his blond hair and blue eyes and a face that was tanned to the color of russet brown. Evidently he didn't belong to the work-a-day canyons of the city. His hair and tanned face were proof of that.

Jane began to talk meaninglessly to Alice about the inclement weather, and took her arm.

But the young man didn't notice. His eyes were on the ship model, taking it all in from bow to stern. Now Jane had a chance to watch him. He seemed to be making up his mind about something. Suddenly he turned and, without much ado, said, "Well, tub, isn't it?" He smiled and, with that friendly gesture, he was gone. He went up the steps into the steamship office and Jane saw that he limped slightly on one leg.

"Masher!" Alice murmured. "No, I don't think he was the type at all!" Jane said. "He was too clean looking—"

Jane watched the young man talking to the clerk inside. The latter pulled down a booking chart, indicated a stateroom on the cruise ship, and the young man nodded his head.

Jane sighed. "And he ups and buys a cruise just like that. Do you know, he looked like a man from out of town who was lonely. A city can be the loneliest place in the world, I know. But what is it about a city that keeps people from more bad news for you." Jane's heart leaped to the p. She listened, wide-eyed.

Jerry went on, "I feel like a foot heel, Miss Weston. In case I have to let you go—don't let me know how hard things haven't a job now, either. But here, it's just this—"

Again Jane's sympathy went to him. He was such a hatted individual, as he sat there, hunched up over the desk, his wan from worry.

"There's no money to pay off," Jerry went on. "Oh, you're in time, in the course of—dation. But there isn't a penny anybody now. I can't get either. The publisher is tied up," Jane said. "But I haven't a penny to go on with! And no what'll I do?"

The business manager was "How would you like to be on the cruise?" he asked. "One of the singular affairs. First to the Bahamas, then to Bermuda and let it give you a chance to be stock—"

Was the man mad with his riles? What was he talking about a cruise?

"I know it's not a job," she went on, "but you might enjoy a breathing spell. You see, rest. This cruise, starting tomorrow, isn't half bad. How do you like to forget all your troubles—and go?"

Jane stared at him without comprehension. "I'm afraid I don't understand the way it is. The retires in our magazine—ship companies—have been put us off in scrip. We have a lot of cruise passages in the stacks of them we sell for the face of a $600 cruise nets us only $100. Some of them we can't sell. If you say you want to go on cruise tomorrow, I'll take the and make you the present of a cruise. I'll charge it against salary we owe you, and all will square."

Jane's eyes widened with prize and delight. "You can call on that cruise ship now!" she said, whirling in a delightful circle about him. "I'd love to adore it."

Jerry felt embarrassed at exuberant spirits. He said, "All right. Here are your papers. A cruise to—nowhere. Get out of here and let me clear this jam—the whole business—"

She picked up the tickets, grabbed him for one fervent embrace. Jerry sat back in his chair and eyed her smilingly. "To lady, this handsome guy does with the cruise. You'll have your romance aboard. Goodbye, voyage and all that."

Jane went to the door with last words on her lips. Boy! At this time tomorrow she'll be on the high seas, sailing away from all that tedious life—to romance in waters! What adventures would befall there?

Canada Is Urged To Offer Scholarships

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13 —(U.P.)—A proposal to establish national scholarships to provide university education for 1,000 penniless Canadian boys and girls is to be introduced in the Canadian Parliament.

A. E. Corrigan, of Ottawa, who is sponsoring the plan, points out, in support of his plea for the education of the rising generation, that more than 80 per cent of the political leaders in Canada were produced from less than one percent of those who attended universities.

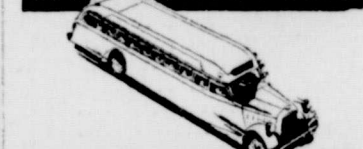

Corrigan proposes that 1,000 national scholarships, valued at $400 each, be awarded by the Canadian government. The scholars would be chosen for their mental and intellectual gifts, character and temperament. He hopes to obtain the support of 23 universities in this scheme.

We are getting up a plan for a world without money. We see one of those floating trailers swung on a good looking car with a prosperous appearing driver. . . . We have a hankering to travel over the United States and see what is to be seen. . . . The trouble is always, where are we going to get the money to buy fuel and food. . . .

Here comes Dr. F. E. Clark with a claim to cure corns so that they won't come back. . . . Ed Keough, J. F. Anderson and others think we might start out with a trailer and Dr. Clark as the old time corn doctor. . . . That's an idea anyway. . . .

Here comes a very nice letter from the Parent-Teachers Association. . . . Mrs. H. J. McArdie, president and Mrs. Hubert Seale, secretary, thanking us for cooperation through publicity for the past year. . . . Editors usually hear frequently from those who are not pleased, but it is real news when someone tells them that they like the way they do. . . .

The Cisco Daily News has started on a new year. . . . Seventeenth year yesterday. . . . Successor to the old Roundup, a weekly that had been hammering away at local Cisco news since 1881. . . . Feeling the need for a weekly paper, the Roundup was continued until it was consolidated with the Cisco American. . . . In 1924, since which time this weekly has been known as the American and Roundup. . . .

The circulation of these papers continue to grow despite the years of depression, a fact that compensates the staff for its untiring effort.

GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN TO VISIT TEXAS

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—What the governor of Wisconsin will say to the president of the University of Texas will be a matter of considerable interest when Gov. Philip La Follette visits the state on February 29. Governor La Follette will address the student government conference to be held at the university February 28. He will be introduced by Governor James V. Allred of Texas. He will be a house guest at the governor's mansion through March 3, Texas Independence Day. On that day, the Governor Allred, and Governor Hill McAllister of Tennessee will attend the Washington-on-the-Brazos celebration in Huntsville. . . . Only 38 years of age, Governor La Follette is peculiarly adapted to address the youthful collegiate of fields. It is believed. When he began his campaign for governor in 1926, he was termed "the boy candidate."

Swanson Reported In Bad Condition At Navy Hospital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Secretary of Navy Claude Swanson was in serious condition today as a result of pleurisy developing in his left side after a fall in which he suffered a broken rib, the naval hospital announced. . . . Swanson's condition was pronounced "serious but not necessarily hopeless" by attaches. They said his condition at noon was better than it had been yesterday. . . . Development of pleurisy was announced today in the 73-year-old Swanson's condition. Swanson fell from a chair at his home several days ago and fractured a lower rib, struck a chair.

German Tension High As Nazi Drive Opens

TOTALITARIAN CAMPAIGN FOR YOUTH NOTED

(Copyright 1936 by United Press) BERLIN, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Increasing internal tension was believed today to be responsible for a new nationalistic drive which, it is indicated, has only begun.

An effort to incorporate all youths into the Nazi "totalitarian" scheme—at the cost of such youth organizations as that of the Roman Catholic church—was believed a primary motive of the drive.

But there were signs too that Jews would receive attention. Germany is outwardly quiet but internal tension seems increasing. Especially the wholesale arrests of Catholics in the Rhineland and the Berlin area show a recurrence of Nazi radicalism, which is more surprising because it was believed the Nazis would restrain themselves to the utmost during the Olympic games.

A sudden outbreak of Nazi activity seemed to be explained by widespread dissension. Members of the working class and Nazi radicals particularly are disgruntled because of repeated and severe shortages in certain foods, such as new prevails in Berlin. Party circles, it is understood, believe that the nation again needs a stimulant to revive faith in the Nazi regime.

Governor Commutes Galvan's Sentence

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—The death sentence given Ralu Galvan convicted of killing Border Patrolman Ivan Scotten in a fight near Paso in 1929 today was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor James Allred.

Allotment Approved For Dredging Job

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—The war department today approved allotment of $150,000 for maintenance and dredging at Brazos Island, Texas, to restore the completed section of the channel to Brownsville to the authorized project depth of 25 feet.

Saxophone Quintet On Rotary Program

R. L. Maddox's saxophone quintet was presented on the program at the Cisco Rotary club luncheon today. The quintet consisted of Kessler Stubbfield, Louise Lawson Kessler Thomas, Spurgeon Parks, and Maddox. . . . An appeal was made to Rotarians and other Ciscoans to support the high school bands trips to nearby communities by their presence. The next trip will be next Thursday night at 7:15 to Scranton, where a concert will be given.

Ciscoan Back From Funeral of Sister

Mrs. P. P. Shepard has returned from San Antonio where she was called Sunday to the death bed of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Steinfeld, 62, who died at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. . . . Mrs. Steinfeld, prominent club woman, was first vice president of the San Antonio Music club. She is survived by her husband and four children, three boys and one girl. . . . Mrs. Shepard was accompanied by Mr. Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepard.

CHINATOWN TUNNELS. MONTREAL.—(U.P.)—An elaborate system of underground tunnels, linking 15 buildings, in Montreal's Chinatown was found by police during a raid. The tunnels were used to hide stolen goods.

No More Frozen Noses for Flyers

Zooming through the air in an open cockpit these winter days is a good way to turn nose into an icicle, which doesn't improve the morale of a flyer. Therefore Uncle Sam has ordered heavy woolen helmets like this for his aces. It tucks under the collar of the coat. The eye slits are covered and nose and mouth ingeniously protected.

OPENING SHOT IN TOWNSEND'S DRIVE TONIGHT

Pushing their forces with the announced determination of complete organizing Texas for their cause, Townsend old age pension workers were preparing to fire the first shot in their campaign here Thursday. The Old Age Retirement Plan workers have established their congressional district headquarters in Cisco and will be here for the next 12 months, it has been announced by E. G. Kemper, Townsend organizer. From Cisco the pension planners will branch out over this congressional district, Kemper announced. . . . Extensive organization has been going on along the West Coast and in other parts of the nation, Kemper said yesterday. . . . He urged all citizens of Cisco, men and women, young and old, to attend the Townsend rallies and learn what the $200-a-month plan really means.

HISTORIC SCENE CARVED. PORTLAND, Me.—(U.P.)—"George Washington Bidding Farewell to New York" is the title of a carving which Lewis Carles has fashioned from a 150-pound block of wood. Home-made knives, a chisel and a wooden mallet were his only tools. Altogether he chipped away about 50 pounds of wood.

Livestock and Ranges of Texas Good Agriculture Report Shows

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—The condition of livestock and ranges in Texas remains favorable with only slightly above average deterioration during January, according to the monthly report of the United States department of agriculture. There is a surplus of feed crops remaining in most areas, with very little supplemental feeding necessary so far this winter. Contracting of wool has been very active. Prospects are favorable for good lamb and calf crops. . . . Extreme cold weather during January injured winter ranges and caused the condition to deteriorate more than average during the month. However, moisture conditions are more favorable than for some time, and prospects are favorable for early spring and summer range feeds. Portions of the North-Western and Western districts still

MIXUP ARISES OVER PENSION LICENSE DATE

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Authorities differed today on whether the effective date of the state old age pension law and the driver's license act is yesterday, today, or tomorrow. To John Citizen it will make no difference.

Old age pension administration will begin tomorrow. It was organized with Feb. 14 as the starting date. Pension payments may not begin for some time. Drivers have until April 1 to get licenses. A few county tax collectors still were failing to accept the duty of issuing drivers licenses. If they do not wish to accommodate their constituents, L. G. Phares, director of the state safety department will assign patrolmen to these counties to do so. Legislators said collectors might issue them when there was protest that it would be a hardship on drivers unless they did so.

Dispute over effective dates is arithmetical. Neither of the acts received enough votes for immediate effect when passed. Such acts must wait 90 days adjournment of the legislature. . . . In commuting the 90 days some include the first and last day. Some include one and not the other. Some include both.

LICENSE APPLICATIONS HERE: NO PENSION BLANKS

While officials of the state were awaiting a clarification of the date that Texans may secure applications for old age pensions and driver's licenses, Ciscoans were informed that the application for the licenses may be had today but that the pension blanks have not yet arrived.

It was believed that the pension application blanks would likely be here Friday and that they could be obtained then from the city hall or Chamber of Commerce in Cisco, or at the county courthouse. . . . County Tax Assessor, Collector Tom Haley today informed the American that he had placed license application blanks at the Daily News, A. G. Motor company, First National Bank, and Nance Motor company. . . . The applications must be filled out, but not cashed. They likely will be presented at the tax collector's office where they will be issued free. He urged Ciscoans to make their license application as soon as possible, beginning today, in order to avoid a congestion of work as car licenses are sought. At present he said, he cannot station a deputy collector in Cisco to issue licenses.

Nun Saves Lives Of Many in Fire

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—A nun who saved many lives in a convent fire last night was in a critical condition from burns today. She is Mother St. Alphonsus, 49, and largely because of her heroism no lives were lost in the fire that destroyed a wing of Villa Maria convent.

Chaplin Film Causes More Than Riot of Laughter

OFFICERS ARE SEEKING CLUE IN EXTORTION

KILLEEN, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Federal investigators and state rangers joined today in attempting to solve an alleged extortion plot against Earl Massey, 38, Works Progress Administration supervisor here, after capture last night of a man alleged to be a member of "the Five Black Widows."

Tom Farmer, 22, former relief worker on a project supervised by Massey, was captured as he and a companion were surprised in the act of retrieving a decoy package left where Massey had been instructed to leave $1,500. Farmer's companion escaped. . . . Farmer, held today in the county jail at Belton, had been charged with extortion but refused to make any statement. . . . "I've tried to help him for several years but I guess he was just hard up for money," Massey said. . . . Notes left for Massey Saturday and Tuesday threatened him with death and the kidnapping of his two small sons if he did not comply with the demands for $1,500.

FOREIGN OLIVES OPPOSED. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—(U.P.)—California olive growers have decided to oppose all reciprocal trade treaties that would place Mediterranean country olives in competition with the California product. They will back a bill designed to recompense producers for losses due to tariff reductions.

POULTRY SHOW FOR EASTLAND BEING PLANNED

Plans for a county-wide poultry show, to be staged in Eastland early in March, are to be discussed at a meeting of poultry men of the county to be held in the Eastland Chamber of Commerce offices Monday night at 7:30, it has been announced here. . . . The co-operation of all poultry raisers in the county has been urged in order that the show might be made a success, and poultry men from over the entire county have been urged to attend the meeting so that plans might be formulated. . . . Tentative dates and plans call for the show to open in a store building in Eastland on March 6 and to continue for two days. It was pointed out today that these dates were tentative, but that they were expected to be accepted at the meeting Monday night. . . . All poultry entered in the show will be carefully cared for during the two days, with competent men in charge of the pens. Entries are invited from all over the county in order to make the show a success and to promote a wider interest in the poultry business in this section. . . . Women are especially invited to attend the meeting, and to enter their fowls in the show. . . . Those desiring additional information on the meeting or the plans for the prospective show have been invited to correspond with H. C. Davis, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, or with J. R. Boggus of Eastland, both of whom are actively engaged in promoting the show.

COALITION OF DEMOS, GOP IN CABINET TALK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Chairman Henry Fletcher of the republican national committee told questioners today there had been "a good deal of talk" about a coalition presidential cabinet if the New Deal is defeated next November. . . . Fletcher, receiving newspapermen after the nationwide GOP observance of Lincoln's birthday, was asked whether he would favor inviting bolting democrats into a republican cabinet. . . . "I don't care to express myself on that," he replied. . . . He added that the matter had been discussed casually in connection with the campaign but had not been presented to him. . . . "I think it's too early to talk of that," he told questioners. . . . The questions were raised in connection with the suggestion made last night in a Lincoln day speech by Senator Arthur Vandenburg, R. Mich., one of the GOP presidential possibilities. Vandenburg mentioned Al Smith by name and said: . . . "For myself I welcome Jeffersonian cooperation not only in the battle line but subsequently in the council chamber after next November's victory is won."

HOOPER LASHES AT NEW DEALERS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Former President Herbert Hoover delivered what many regarded as his strongest, most forthright attack on the New Deal at a Lincoln day dinner last night. . . . Where before Mr. Hoover had concentrated on individual points, his attack was broad and included most of President Roosevelt's views. . . . He entitled his speech "The Confused State of the Nation."

To Buy Historical Papers, Paintings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—The Texas Centennial commission and government departments were authorized today to purchase historic papers and paintings for use in the exposition. . . . The authorization came after President Roosevelt signed a joint house resolution amending the original measure providing for creation of the commission.

Wilbur Hawk Rites To Be Held Friday

AMARILLO, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Funeral services for Wilbur Hawk, 55, general manager of the Amarillo Globe News Publishing company, will be tomorrow afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church.

DEEPENING OF TEST WELL IS DUE TO START

"Wildcat" drilling in the Wisdom and Parsons number one Wende test was scheduled to start tomorrow morning, following the work of swabbing out the well yesterday and today.

A. A. Wisdom, operator, somewhat gloomy over the present showing, told the American this afternoon that he would drill the well deeper after oil in the hole could be measured.

"This will be pure wildcatting," Wisdom said. "We don't know what we have below the present depth." The well has already been drilled deeper than the Schoor well in the area and the strong gas pressure found in the Schoor stratum has been caused off, he announced. . . . The hole has been drilled into the Marble Falls lime. It was in fact deeper in the hopes of indicating that it might be drilled reaching a new oil pay. Whether the well would be shot was not known definitely. . . . Large crowds visited the well yesterday and today. Ciscoans and oil men alike were interested in the showing of the test and it was believed that the well might cause a considerable amount of drilling in the area south of Cisco in the next few months.

Pioneer's Funeral Held Here Today

One of Cisco's oldest settlers, Mrs. T. D. Freeman, died Tuesday at the home of her son in Clarksville, Texas, after an illness for almost a year. . . . Mrs. Freeman was a resident of Cisco and near Cisco for 48 years having been here during the time of the first big cyclone and when the Texas Pacific railroad entered. T. D. Freeman died in Romey January 1935. . . . Funeral services were to be held today at 2:30 at the Green's Funeral home with Rev. Preston Braxton officiating. The body arrived early this morning from Clarksville. Survivors are: C. H. Freeman, Erick, Oklahoma; R. O. Freeman, Annona, Tex.; Mrs. Maude Owen George, Dallas; Mrs. E. T. Pope, Plainview; and T. D. Freeman, Seminole, Okla.

SCHOOL GETS MORE CREDITS, NEW MACHINES

Purchase of new equipment and the award of additional credits to the list offered by the Cisco high school were announced by Superintendent R. N. Cluck this week. . . . Superintendent announced that 24 new typewriters, recently purchased for the high school commercial class, were delivered. . . . An extra half unit for typing was announced at the same time. The extra credit was not due to the purchase of new machines, however, the superintendent said. . . . The home economics department has been placed on a 10-month basis, which will allow one and a half units of credit instead of a single unit for each year, up to four credits, Cluck said. . . . Placing the work on a 10 month basis, Cluck said, is giving the home economics the same opportunity to do project work in the home or elsewhere, that the vocational agriculture department now has. . . . Another teacher doing part time work in the home economics department was recently shifted to the high school faculty.

Debate Develops Over Army Use In Mob Suppression

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Bitter debate over right to use the United States army in suppressing mobs and strikes broke out today as the house continued stormy discussion of the record-breaking $543,341,000 war department supply bill. . . . The new issue was raised by fiery little Representative Vito Marcantonio, R. N. Y., one of a group of congressmen seeking to reduce the total of the war bill. He charged the army manuals advocated obtaining information regarding strikes from strike breaking agencies.

February 14, Important to Texans

Friday of this week will be an important date in the history of Texas. It will mark the beginning of two extensions of government to care for and provide for the safety of the people of the state.

First of all comes the old age pension plan. The people of this state have voiced their will in calling upon the legislature to provide a form of old age assistance or pension. The legislature has done that and the act becomes effective February 14, which is Friday.

On Friday for the first time old people, those more than 60 years of age, may fill out application blanks for the pension. The blanks may be obtained at any court house, city hall, or chamber of commerce. The blanks are simple and require no expert guidance for a person who can read and write to fill them out. They may be secured Friday.

For the first time in its history also the state of Texas requires all automobile drivers to secure driving licenses. The license costs nothing and may be obtained by anyone who is not a menace to traffic. It is secured at the county tax collector's office.

But the license may be hard to keep. When a driver is convicted of a traffic violation a part of the license is taken away. The same is true on the second offense. On the third conviction, however, the license is revoked and such a motorist is barred from driving an automobile.

Like the old age assistance law, this one was passed upon popular demand of the people. Unlike it, however, it is not a constitutional law but a statute passed by the legislature. The two are similar, though, in the fact that they are aimed at providing for the welfare of the people who need such provision in a fast changing age that is outgrowing the letter of some of the old laws, if not the principles back of them.

Narcotic Ring Smashed

There appears to be smuggling of narcotics as well as illicit sellers of drugs in the lower coast area of Texas as well as on the Rio Grande border and the upper tier of western counties. Federal operators smashed what they described as "the biggest narcotics ring in the Southwest." According to federal operators, the ring was powerful in the major cities of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Three big aces of the ring are in jail in Galveston and many sellers for the ring are under arrest. Six noted smugglers are in custody and $10,000 worth of narcotics has been seized—"the climax of the six month underworld investigation by the government agents."

Smugglers of narcotics are slimy creatures. They should be handled without gloves. They should be given justice but a justice that does not call for the stuff that the sentimental call "mercy." There is a place behind the bars of federal prisons for these creatures who make tainted money by preying upon society.

Administration's New Financial Plan

President Roosevelt is taking the bull by the horns. His new deal has determined to clear the decks of more than one billion worth of "borrowing power which has not been used and is now declared obsolete." In other words the billion no longer needed will be applied to other purposes by the administration. At a press conference the scrapping of powers was discussed by the president, F. D. R. mentioned specifically the HOLC, the Farm Credit administration and the Reconstruction Finance corporation. He emphasized that the HOLC (set up to lend money in aid of distressed home owners) was authorized by congress to expend $4,750,000,000. He said that most of the loan applications received before the deadline fixed by law have been passed upon and that the corporation will be "able to stop $500,000,000 to one billion dollars short of the authorized outlay." On Thursday, the president discussed with his advisers the government financial need. He said nothing new had been decided for paying the bonus, for which he has asked congress for a $2,249,000,000 appropriation.

All the republican aspirants for the presidency are demanding that the budget shall be balanced. A majority of republican senators and more than a large majority of the republican representatives voted for the bonus bill and demand its early payment. Four republican presidents vetoed bonus bills. President Roosevelt has to his credit two vetoes. Now all the people, regardless of party, as well as the congressional representatives of men and women of all parties are reminded that the bonus has been voted and it calls for the appropriation of almost $2,500,000,000—"and quick payment."

SOIL CONSERVATION

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(UP)—A 71,000 pound steel door was dropped into place with a clang this week, completing the state treasury's new vault.

In it will be placed a buried treasure of more than $100,000,000 in cash and securities. The door literally was dropped into place. A caterpillar tractor, dragged it to the state capital from a railway siding.

It moved slowly, workers laying a temporary track for rollers as it was dragged along, foot by foot.

The door was maneuvered to a spot just over an opening left when the vault walls were constructed. There it was lowered and centered into the walls.

The huge doors will swing open only at fixed times and only when operated by officials with the necessary information.

Soon grass will grow over the portion of the state capital lawn that was excavated for the vault, removing the last outward indication of the treasure's site. It is reached from a passage within the capital, through the 71,000 pound door.

Discovery of an error in the official copy of the state penal code has led all state employees to redoubled vigilance in handling other documents.

Miss Dorance H. Connerly, legislative reference librarian, checked copies of the state constitution by each word and page of the latest issue of the 10,000 ordered for distribution in Texas Centennial year.

One error was found. A wrong date was given for the adoption of one of the amendments. November 3 was used instead of November 4.

It was Miss Connerly's suggestion that the state distribute copies of its constitution in Centennial year. Copies of it seemed to be scarce, judging from the many inquiries that came to the state library. Having suggested the issuance, she decided it was up to her to see that the copies issued were correct.

Slowness of the allowance for administering old age pensions has driven the pension commission to rigid economy. One economy move was to select headquarters for district administration only in places that furnished free quarters. From cities offering free rent, the district headquarters were selected. As a result only eight of the 20 proposed headquarters could be fixed immediately.

Announcement of those eight and the omission of others had a marked effect. Chambers of Commerce, mayors and other officials were startled and telegraphed offers of space.

Governor James V. Allred isn't worried. But he doesn't intend to be lulled to sleep in his candidacy for re-election. He is a firm believer in the advice of State Democratic Chairman Myron G. Blacklock, Marshall, that a scared rabbit runs fastest.

Asked by a friend what he thought about chances of his opponents, Governor Allred responded with a story. It was about negro assured that ghosts from a supposedly haunted house couldn't hurt him.

"I know dey caint hurt me, boss," the negro said. "But I doan want them runnin' me."

National Youth Administration workers get an average monthly wage of approximately $8 a month, but that doesn't prevent some of the ambitious youngsters from building high hopes.

"What are you going to do with your money," one red-headed maiden was asked at Houston recently.

"Well, I'm going to save it until I get enough for a bedroom suite." The $8 is paid for six days work. NYA has staggered schedules arranged to pass the work around and almost 15,000 needy young men and women will be employed when the program reaches its peak.

Frank Giber, one of the State's S-Men, has a tiny but deadly pistol. It is small enough to be carried in a vest pocket or can be cupped in the hand, but it shoots a 41 caliber bullet and is described as accurate at 100 yards. Like the aviator's parachute, if it doesn't work, the maker probably will replace it. Giber's pistol, however, is a gift. It was sent to him by the Mexican General Juan A. Almazan.

GIRLS STUDY COOKING
QUEBEC, Que.—(UP)—More young girls are learning to cook in the province of Quebec. Alphonse Desjardis, chief of domestic science service of the Department of Education, reports that 4,181 received courses in domestic science during 1935.

Law clerks in state courts have checked up and found that all of the statutes in the missing 32-page folio of the criminal law are listed in the index of that volume.

This may have an important bearing on the way the case is disposed of that challenges a conviction under one of the statutes missing from the official volume.

Further, the legislature has amended at least half the statutes missing from the book. If there was no statute to amend, obviously the amendment would be null also as an amendment changes only a part and not the entire substance of a law.

There are two dates of prime importance in the Texas Centennial celebration and two chief Texas shrines to which they pertain.

Governor James V. Allred, as the executive head of the government that official honors those dates and places, will take part personally at the places and on the days marking two foremost Centennial events.

He will take part in exercises at Old Washington-on-the-Brazos on March 2, anniversary of the signing of the declaration of independence. Then, on April 21, he will participate in ceremonies on the San Jacinto battlefield, where the independence was won in one of the world's decisive combats at arms.

After the Old Washington exercises March 2, Governor Allred will go to Huntsville to welcome Governor McAlister of Tennessee in tributes honoring Sam Houston, ex-Tennessee and accepting the Sam Houston house, tendered the state by public-spirited J. E. Josey of Houston.

GOVERNOR BEGS GUM
COULEE, Wash.—(UP)—Governor Clarence D. Martin wanted a stick of gum a short while before he was to deliver a speech here.

Twelve-year-old Blaine Madden had the only gum in the crowd, and offered it to the governor.

Several days later, Martin sent this boy an autographed photo.

ranges continued at about average levels on February 1, in the 17 western range states. A heavy covering of snow in the states of Montana, Wyoming, and the Dakotas prevented use of range feed. In the states of Nebraska and Colorado, fairly open weather permitted general grazing and conservation of the already abundant feed supplies. In western Kansas and Oklahoma, and southeastern Colorado, grass and hay supplies are rather limited. The supply of grain feed is scanty in this area. The condition of ranges and pastures in Arizona, Utah, Nevada, and New Mexico is above average and good range feed was available during January. A marked improvement in range feed conditions occurred in northern California, but in the southern portion continued lack of moisture caused a rather sharp decline.

Gains Foreseen

While it is yet too early to draw any definite conclusions regarding calf crop prospects, the good condition of breeding herds and ample feed supplies indicate that calves should arrive in sturdy condition and that the percentage calf crop in 1936 should be average or better. Early arrivals in some states already indicate this as being a lively development. Cattle and calves in feed lots have made good gains. Stock water is ample in nearly all sections except in some of the northern areas where low temperatures have frozen stock ponds. In general, the financial condition of the cattle industry is the best in several years.

Lambs in feed lots have made splendid gains and death losses have been held to a minimum. Death losses in range bands have likewise been smaller than usual. In Arizona, early lambs are being moved rather liberally and prospects for the early lamb crop generally are good. The present good condition of breeding herds points to a good lamb crop in 1936.

SILVER FOX SHOT IN OHIO
FINDLAY, O.—(UP)—The silver fox is rare in Ohio, but Richard Kill cornered one in his backyard and shot it. He believed the animal a descendant of several which escaped from a fox farm near Findlay several years ago.

MILLION PROFILES CUT
TOLLEDO, O.—(UP)—Over a period of nine years, Judd Budd-Jack has cut the profiles of 1,200,000 Americans. With scissors and paper as tools he requires only 30 seconds for each silhouette. He goes around the country "snipping" for a living.

DESDEMONA

By MRS. W. C. BEDFORD

W. C. Bedford is beginning to think to old settlers that a reunion should be held at Eastland in July. He thinks the test as to whether or not one is a pioneer should be "Do you remember Joe Schovell?" He would like to hear from others who could like to have such a gathering.

Mrs. Melbie O'Rear was brought home Friday from the West Texas State hospital at Ranger and was sitting along nicely until Sunday when she developed a severe case of the flu.

Mrs. C. C. Walker drove over to Herman on business Monday.

John McKim and Charles Lee are working on the deep test in Hamilton county came home to visit their families Saturday and Sunday. Then on Monday J. E. Heeter, a driller on the same well, came home for a short visit with Mrs. Heeter and his mother-in-law, Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass who is now able to walk about the house after an extended stay in bed on account of her burns.

Frank Kirk, of Gorman, was here Thursday on business and also visiting friends.

Mrs. B. J. Krapp and family, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Key and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Key, Sr., were among the many of Desdemona people who came to the Will Rogers picnic at "Old Kentucky", at Gorman, on Monday and Tuesday nights of last week.

Gene Lookingbill of Stephenville came over Wednesday to visit his mother, Mrs. Louise Lookingbill, who is ninety-four years old and who makes her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover. She is still well preserved for her age.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker and their son, John, left Wednesday for Lake, Miss., where they will make their future home and where Mr. Walker and John will work in a lumber mill. Mrs. Walker's brother-in-law is Superintendent of the mill. The Walkers have been among our substantial citizens for several years and their many friends regret to see them leave. They were to stop at Longview for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. Cutting.

People of Desdemona feel that they are putting on big town "airs" since their only exclusive dry goods store, the Davis Dry Goods Store, is putting on a February Sale with prices to meet those of mail order houses. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis who call their place "The Biggest Little Store in Texas" are to be commended for establishing the store which meets a long felt need in our town.

A. B. Henslee, formerly of Desdemona but now of Freer, came in early Saturday morning to look after business and also to visit with these many old friends. He reports that Freer is growing by leaps and bounds and that an election has been called to vote as to incorporating about five thousand with about seventy-five being former Desdemona people. Oil wells are being brought in all around the town. Wages are high and almost any one who really wants to work can get a job there. Mr. Henslee was accompanied by his son-in-law, Minor Wallace, and Minor's little son.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Culppepper of Ranger were here Friday selling Magic Quick Clean for windows and all kinds of glass ware. Mr. and Mrs. Culppepper lived here from last April until a few months ago when they bought a home about two miles from Ranger on the highway toward Strawn.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover drove over to DeLeon on business Wednesday.

At the close of the regular meeting of Desdemona Eastern Star Chapter Tuesday night of last week a surprise handkerchief shower was given to Mrs. Fred Walker who was to leave the next morning for Lake, Miss., to make her home. Mrs. Walker has been serving as associate of the chapter since last year. Mrs. Andy Matron, the highest rank in this coming June. Members of the Chapter regretted very much that business affairs caused Mrs. Walker and her husband and son to decide to move to Mississippi.

Mrs. W. H. Davis and Mrs. Clayton Williams went up to Eastland on business Thursday.

Stanley Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Clayton, has been seriously ill at his home suffering from pneumonia.

Mrs. J. E. Heeter drove over to Stephenville Friday to visit Miss Ruth Crenshaw who is specializing in voice at John Tarleton college.

Miss Lois Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Clark has been at the hospital at Ranger, being treated for a severe attack of pneumonia. Dr. F. M. Kuykendall of Ranger, was here on professional business Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Abernathy of Freer, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Abernathy, Saturday.

day and Sunday. They also visited a number of old friends who were delighted to see them.

The Senior class of our high school with their English teacher, Miss Frances Battle, went to Gorman Monday night to see the picture—Shakespeare's "Mid-Summer Night's Dream" one of the most elaborate productions of the year. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barron and son, Billy Jack, formerly of Desdemona but now of Olney, were welcome visitors to our town for a short time Sunday afternoon. They had come to Ranger to spend the day with Mrs. Barron's mother, Mrs. R. K. Ganton and her sister, Mrs. J. W. Harrison and family. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison and their two little boys and Mrs. Ganton came with them down here to visit their many friends and former neighbors. The Barrons are well pleased with the town of Olney which is quite a good business place and they are also well pleased with the many new friends they have made there.

Dr. M. L. Stubblefield of Gorman was here on professional business Monday.

Mrs. John Alvis drove up to Eastland on business Monday.

Mrs. C. W. Maltby and son, Glenn went to Gorman Monday night to see the picture, "Mid-Summer Night's Dream."

The Methodist Missionary Society met at the church Monday afternoon for the regular monthly Bible study. The devotional was led by the president, Mrs. Charles Lee, after which the Superintendent of Study, Mrs. W. H. Whitworth took charge and conducted a most interesting study of the prophets, Zechariah, Malachi and Joel. Much ancient history was brought into the study which added much to the lesson.

Desdemona Masonic Lodge members went to Mt. Pleasant Sunday at noon and conducted funeral services over the body of J. A. Gentry, 78, who had died at his home five miles northwest of Desdemona. He had lived in this county more than 50 years and was highly respected by all who knew him. A large crowd of relatives and friends and Masons from several towns attended the funeral.

We have a lot of sickness in our community at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Julius Walkins visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vernon Wednesday evening.

Mrs. J. T. Harris visited her brother, C. M. Shock and family of Arlington, Wednesday and Thursday.

Ervin McGee spent Monday night near Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shock and son, Vernon of Hennessy, Okla., and Fred Elliott of Arkansas City, Kan., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harris Sunday.

Mrs. Ben Edwards of Okra is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Stanfield who is sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vernon and children, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harris, Mrs. S. W. Fountain and Miss Lucile Weathersby all visited Robert Vernon Sunday afternoon. Robert is still improving.

John Starkey received the news that his sister, Miss Maggie Starkey of near DeLeon was real sick with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harris visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Weathersby Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Harris and little son, Scotty, visited relatives at Blanket Sunday.

Mrs. S. M. Lamberth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Fountain Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Elbert Dugan and little son spent a few days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harris.

Blake Forchard had the misfortune of losing one of his fingers while roping a cow last Friday.

Uncle Alfred Harris of the Hallmark community is spending several days with his brother, J. T. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Shock of the Crocker community spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harris.

History of Texas To Be Dramatized

DALLAS, Feb. 13 — Six thrilling episodes in the history of Texas will be dramatized on Captain Henry's Maxwell House Show Boat program on a nation wide radio broadcast Thursday, February 20, according to announcement made here Tuesday by officials of the state department of information.

The entire hour-long program broadcast over NBC stations from 8 until 9 o'clock, Central Standard time, will be devoted to the Lone Star state and its Centennial celebrations.

In addition to the dramatic episodes the program will feature Texas songs and Texas music. It will be broadcast on the Show Boat's mythical visit to Houston, scheduled for Thursday evening, February 20.

Invitations Mailed For Band Concert

ABILENE, Feb. 13 — Invitations to the eleventh annual high school band contest to be held at Hardin-Simmons University April 19-21 have been mailed. West Texas' largest high school band contest last year attracted more than twenty-five high school organizations.

Marion B. McClure, conductor of the Cowboy Band, and director-general of the event, is already receiving reservations from bands through this section of the state.

Events will include four divisions and solo numbers.

Canada Is Urged To Offer Scholarships

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13 —(U.P.)— proposal to establish national scholarships to provide university education for 1,000 penniless Canadian boys and girls is to be introduced in the Canadian Parliament.
E. E. Corrigan, of Ottawa, who is sponsoring the plan, points out, in view of his plea for the education of the rising generation, that more than 80 per cent of the politicians in Canada were produced by less than one percent of those who attended universities.
Corrigan proposes that 1,000 national scholarships, valued at $400 each, be awarded by the Canadian government. The scholars would be port of 23 universities in this scheme.

Blimp Is Equipped With Sub-Cloud Car

ELIEVILLE, Ill., Feb. 13 —(U.P.)— A sub-cloud car is a feature of the TC-14, largest non-rigid airship in the U. S. Army Air Corps, which has just been accepted by the army's largest lighter-than-air base at Scott Field, here.
The sub-cloud car may be lowered 3,000 feet below the airship, with an observer in it who can communicate by telephone to the ship, far above the obscuring clouds.

Three 300-horsepower engines drive the TC-14 at a top speed of 85 miles an hour. The ship carries a crew of eight on long flights, and six on short trips.

Starring in 'Page Miss Glory'

Exquisite Marion Davies, greatest comedienne of the screen, is shown above as she appears in her latest laugh-hit, "Page Miss Glory." Miss Davies is supported in this Cosmo-politan Production released by Warners, by 12 of the brightest stars and featured players in Hollywood. Included among these are Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien, Mary Astor, Lyle Talbot, Frank McHugh, Allen Jenkins and Patsy Kelly. The film opens at the New Theatre on Sunday for a three day run.

'Page Miss Glory' Gives New Screen Triumph To Beautiful Marion Davies

Excelling in hilarious fun and in beauty of setting, anything that Marion Davies had previously pre-sented, "Page Miss Glory," her first Cosmopolitan production released by Warner Bros., which starts at the New Theatre Sunday for a three day run.
Many splendid comedies stand to the credit of the beautiful, blonde Miss Davies, who is rated as the queen of screen funmakers. "Page Miss Glory" will add to her triumphs.

It has an altogether new and dif-ferent story, an outstanding all star supporting cast, and gives the star unending opportunities to dis-play her laugh-getting abilities and at the same time to reveal her dazzling good looks in the most gorgeous of gowns.
While "Page Miss Glory" is es-entially a comedy, it has its mo-ments of tense drama and of pathos which Miss Davies portrays with great artistry. Naturally, it has a delightful romantic love story.

It has one song — "Page Miss Glory"—which has already swept the country as a hit number. Dick Powell sings this, but in certain parts it is a duet and Miss Davies' delightful voice blends with Dick's.
"Page Miss Glory" was adapted from the successful Broadway stage play of the same name. It's funny and it's exciting. Above all, it is Marion Davies at her very best.

Mervyn Le Roy, one of Warner Bros.' ace directors, caught the spirit of the stage production and made a wonderful picture of it. The picture is based on the play by Joseph Schrank and Philip Dun-ning, the adaptation being by Del-mer Daves and Robert Lord.

COUNTY MEET HERE SET FOR MARCH 27-28

The Eastland County Inter-scholastic meet will be held in Cisco March 27 and 28. It was announced Saturday following a meeting of the executive committee to lay plans for the annual event.
Cisco was selected as the county meet site some time ago but the date was not decided immediately.
Superintendent R. N. Cluck of Cis-co is director general of the meet.
Four new events will be added to the county meet, it was announced after the meeting. They include:
New Events
1—A negro track meet with Pro-fessor Evans of Eastland as di-rector general.
2—A high school band contest with G. W. Collum of Eastland as director.
3—Story telling for the first grade with Mrs. Cassie Williams as di-rector.
4—Sub-junior declamation and grammar school debate with the di-rectors of the senior events having charge.

Debate March 21
It was decided that eliminat-ions in debate will be held in Eastland on March 21. Finals will be at the general county meet.
Ward school debate contests will be held two weeks after the county meet. They are not a part of the statewide county meet program but have been included in the East-land county contests for the last two years.
The junior track and field events will be held on April 4, a week af-ter the senior meet.
All schools which wish to enter the typing contest may do so re-gardless of whether the course is affiliated. If a school without an affiliated typing course should win any place in the contest, no points would be given to the school and it would not be eligible for district competition.

Officials
E. C. Pennington is secretary of the League for the county. The following directors were named for the various divisions of the meet:
Declamation, Ed Layton; debate, A. W. Warford; extemporaneous speaking, Henry Collins; athletics, B. B. Brummett and Clyde Van Sickle; spelling, W. T. Hughes; ready-writers, H. D. Thomason; arithmetic, O. L. Stamey; music memory, Mrs. Cassie Williams; story telling, Mrs. Cassie Williams; rural schools, J. T. Weaver; rhythm band, Miss Virginia Champion; choral singing, B. R. LaMance; picture memory, Oleta Connelley; band, G. W. Collum.

In the various divisions of ath-letics the following were appoint-ed:
Volley ball, E. T. Dawson; ward baseball, M. E. Evans; rural baseball, J. T. Weaver; fifth grade baseball, T. C. Williams.

DATE DUE TO GIVE LICENSE FOR DRIVERS

GORDON K. SHEARER
Press Staff Correspondent.
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Texas is to give away something valuable and is worrying how to get it to accept the gift. Beginning in 1937, any person old enough to drive an automobile and physically able to do so can get a three-year license absolutely free.
There are no strings to the gift.
The state is an "Indian giver" only in the extent that it takes back the license if it is abused. It is revoked, only after a driver has had court convictions.
Smith, living anywhere in the state, can get the license if he has arms and legs to operate an automobile and isn't so obviously drunk or deaf that anyone can tell that he is a road menace.
The license law of the last session of the legislature will become effective on Feb. 14. At any time before that date and April 1, anyone can go to his county tax collector and ask for an application.
He also can get applications from other members of his family. The application specifies the driver's name, age, residence and physical description, including weight, color of hair and eyes. He also must reveal whether he has held a driving license in any other state. If he has, he must state the license was revoked, and if so, why.
Sign Own Application
An application can be signed by any official authorized to issue an affidavit. A notary can sign it but this is not necessary. There are no charge fees.
A signed application is then sent to the tax collector who issues the driver's license. Each license must sign his own application with the affidavit. One member of a family can present the signed application and obtain license for all.
If this will be without cost,
Director L. G. Phares of the State Department thinks the Smiths should attend to it themselves and not swap tax collector's license business in March, when there will be a rush for automobile licenses.
Two million drivers' licenses are granted with the expectation there will be that many drivers among the state's estimated 6-million population.
Revoking License
The licenses will be printed yellow, perforated into three sections. They may be folded on the lines and will fit easily into small card case or pocket book.
If a driver is convicted of one of the law violations, a first section of the license will be torn off, just as part of a railroad excursion ticket is taken by the first conductor. A second section goes for the offense and conviction. The revocation takes all and with it to drive on Texas highways.
2,000,000 licenses will be issued. They will be filed alphabetically and in effective date. In effect, the licenses will be aggregated by counties by numerical brackets.
Automobile licenses are distributed to motorists wishing to avoid delay waiting to get both the license and the 1936 license for beginning Feb. 14. In fact, automobile licenses were sent out ready for issuance on Feb.
The drivers' license law is not effective until Valentine Day. Both license and drivers' licenses must be secured before April 1.

Life of Grace Moore

STAR OF
LOVE ME FOREVER
by Frank Roeder
COLUMBIA PICTURES

Chapter One
Nestled close to the northern boundary of Tennessee is the mining town of Jellico, birthplace of one of the world's favored children.
A sedate, earnest hamlet of few pretensions, it is perhaps deserving of the glory that has come to it within the last several years.
Twenty years ago there was no
hint in Jellico of its impending heyday.

Colonel R. L. Moore was a leading citizen of the town. A banker and a merchant, he also owned
and managed cotton
mills and coal mines. Prosperity
had not yet
faded modestly
around the corner. Things were well with him
and his family.
His wife was prominent in social life and church work. Although she did not ignore the requirements of
her five children,
the eldest needed little attention. Endowed with hair
so golden it shone like the morning sun-
eyes of a brilliant hue and an imagination that can smother more than most.
Grace Moore felt
a self-sufficient
then as she does
now, with most of the world at her feet and the rest justing to get there.

Rated Among Greatest
More than in terms of miles has
this southern girl traveled far from Jellico. When Grace Moore lifts
her voice the world picks up its ears.
She has attained a fame comparable to that of Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, whom she impersonated in a film during screen
years. Through years of musical comedy, opera, concert, operetta and radio
singing, Grace has risen to a plane
of lofty preeminence.
Today she is the idol of every ambitious youngster who sings or thinks he can. What she does, can
she has done, can he spoken only with a feeling of genuine awe. A few weeks ago, at the height of her career, the venerable Society of Arts and Sciences stood on its tiptoes
and handed her a fellowship. Since its foundation by Herbert Spencer
more than half a century ago this body has ignored such ephemeral
trifles as films, devoting itself to recognizing in perpetuity Americans who have made outstanding contributions of art, science, literature to humanity. The award to Grace Moore included the Society's
gold medal, and the citation
described both to distinguished public service in raising the standard of motion picture entertainment
through "One Night of Love."

Sang Command Performance
King George V of England commanded her to sing "La Boheme"
for him at Convent Garden, London, in celebration of his Silver Jubilee; so enormous was the acclaim that she was forced to sing
two additional performances within
the next few days.
Editorial writers forgot their gray
hair and rheumatism when they saw "One Night of Love" and filled
their conservative columns with praise for Grace Moore and the film itself.
She has perhaps become the most famous Metropolitan Opera singer
since Caruso.
All in all, the little girl from Jellico has come a long way. In that little town she went to school, engaged in domestic and religious activities, and...

Cisco Boys Win Journalism Honor

Two members of the Lobo staff on honorable mention in the annual group journalism contest sponsored by Quill and

All Because of A Woman

The woman in the case is five year old Sybil Jason, who is to capture Ciscoan's hearts just as she did the hearts of Robert Armstrong and Edward Everett Horton, with whom she is to appear in Warner Brothers' "Little Big Shot" opening Cisco's
New Theater.

Life of Grace Moore

STAR OF
LOVE ME FOREVER
by Frank Roeder
COLUMBIA PICTURES

Chapter One
Nestled close to the northern boundary of Tennessee is the mining town of Jellico, birthplace of
one of the world's favored children.
A sedate, earnest hamlet of few pretensions, it is perhaps deserving of
the glory that has come to it with-
in the last several years.
Twenty years ago there was no
hint in Jellico of its impending hey-
day.

Colonel R. L. Moore was a leading citizen of the town. A banker and a merchant, he also owned
and managed cotton
mills and coal mines. Prosperity
had not yet
faded modestly
around the corner. Things were well with him
and his family.
His wife was prominent in social life and
church work. Although she did
not ignore the requirements of
her five children,
the eldest needed little attention. Endowed with hair
so golden it
shone like the morning sun-
eyes of a brilliant hue and an imagination that can smother more
than most.
Grace Moore felt
a self-sufficient
then as she does
now, with most of the world at her feet and the
rest justing to get there.

Rated Among Greatest
More than in terms of miles has
this southern girl traveled far from Jellico. When Grace Moore lifts
her voice the world picks up its ears.
She has attained a fame comparable to that of Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, whom she im-
personated in a film during screen
years. Through years of musical comedy,
opera, concert, operetta and radio
singing, Grace has risen to a plane
of lofty preeminence.
Today she is the idol of every ambitious youngster who sings or thinks he can. What she does, can
she has done, can he spoken only
with a feeling of genuine awe. A few weeks ago, at the height of her career, the venerable Society of Arts
and Sciences stood on its tiptoes
and handed her a fellowship. Since
its foundation by Herbert Spencer
more than half a century ago this
body has ignored such ephemeral
trifles as films, devoting itself to recognizing in perpetuity Americans who have made outstanding contributions of art, science, literature to humanity. The award to Grace Moore included the Society's
gold medal, and the citation
described both to distinguished public service in raising the standard
of motion picture entertainment
through "One Night of Love."

Sang Command Performance
King George V of England commanded her to sing "La Boheme"
for him at Convent Garden, London, in celebration of his Silver Jubilee; so enormous was the ac-
claim that she was forced to sing
two additional performances within
the next few days.
Editorial writers forgot their gray
hair and rheumatism when they saw "One Night of Love" and filled
their conservative columns with praise for Grace Moore and the film
itself.
She has perhaps become the most famous Metropolitan Opera singer
since Caruso.
All in all, the little girl from Jellico has come a long way. In that little town she went to school, engaged in domestic and religious activities, and...

Roadside Parks To Attract Tourists
AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—An improvement in highway development—park-sized roadside parks to enliven the weary traveler to rest and recreation—will be found along Texas' splendid highway system by motorists this year.
State officers of the National Youth Administration, working in conjunction with the state highway department, have started work on development of the first of approximately 200 such parks, which will be found on all main highways before summer. The project is planned definitely as a Centennial year development and the parks are expected to add to the pleasure of the thousands of motorists who will drive through the state of Texas to observe the 100th birthday of the state.
Low stone walls will separate the park from the highway. Stone benches and tables will be placed under trees, as will a stone barbecue pit. Trees and shrubs will be set out and drives will be graveled. Most of the parks will vary from three to six acres in extent, with a few, however, less than an acre in size.
The NYA will employ several thousand Texas youth to help carry out the plan, which is said to be strictly a Texas development.

Tour Is Planned By Glee Club of TCU
FORT WORTH, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—

High School Senior Day Planned at HSU

ABILENE, Feb. 12.—April 23 has been set as the date for the annual Hardin-Simmons University High School Senior day. Plans for the day were rapidly formulated for the annual event. Dr. R. N. Richardson, university vice-president, has announced. Last year more than 5000 West Texas high school seniors were attracted to the colorful attraction, leading in making arrangements for the 1936 affair are Baptist women's organizations through West Texas. Climaxing the 1936 day was an intra-squad football game and a 200 piece massed band concert in the Hardin-Simmons stadium. A marching contest for West Texas high school bands was also held. Definite program will be announced within a short time. Dr. Richardson said.

Concrete Flooring Due for Penney's

Workmen were busy today tearing away flooring at the rear of the J. C. Penney building, preparatory to putting in a concrete floor. A. G. Tuttle, manager of the firm said that condition of the flooring would determine the distance toward the front of the building the concrete floor would be laid.

Christian Groups Meet Jointly For Session Tuesday

Groups One and Four of the Woman's Council of the First Christian church held a joint meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. Scott with Mrs. Harold Farquhar as co-hostess. An interesting program was heard. Mrs. H. V. House sang a lovely solo accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jack Elkins. The devotional leader, Mrs. Ira L. Guffey, brought an interesting devotional. Mrs. J. F. Benedict closed the program with prayer, after which a short business meeting was held. Following the business discussion the society sang in unison "The Star Spangled Banner".

Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. B. Cate, J. F. Benedict, James Mobley, A. V. Osborn, David Tyndall, Oscar Chitt, C. R. West, Roy Wilson, Ira L. Guffey, J. B. Elkins, C. A. Farquhar, H. V. House, M. E. Groce, Troy Powell, Lennie Shockey, Hubert Caudle, Joe Bob Winston, James Latimer, Adrian Lucas, E. H. Burnie, Jack Elkins, Miss Dixie Bills, and Miss Ethel Mae Wilson.

Japanese Leader Is Studied by Circle

Mrs. Hubert Seale was Tuesday afternoon hostess to members of Circle Three of the First Methodist W. M. S. in her Humboldt home where fifteen members heard a program under the leadership of Mrs. John Shertzer. Mrs. W. G. Powell began the program with a talk on the Japanese Missionary, "Kagawa", his life history and poems written by him. Mrs. W. H. Cole was presented in one of Kagawa's poems, "Underneath the Moon". Mrs. Shertzer led a word of prayer closing the program for the afternoon. Following the program a few minutes social hour was enjoyed at which time the hostess served a refreshment plate carrying the Valentine theme.

Texas Centennial Is Party Feature

The Texas Centennial was emphasized in party arrangements last evening when Miss Laura Lu Waring entertained complimenting Mrs. J. W. Holleran of San Antonio and Mrs. Charles Hale, Jr. of Kilgore.

In games of bridge which were played at three tables, Miss Catherine Cunningham won high score, Mrs. A. D. McGinnis, low score, prize, Mrs. R. N. Cluck, cut, and Miss Ida Mae Collins, Texas History prize. The motif was repeated in prizes awarded. A cleverly arranged refreshment plate of sandwiches in star and the state of Texas shaped were served with salad formed as a cowboy hat. Favors were miniature cowboys, cowgirls and Indians.

Present were Mesdames Arthur Cunningham, A. O. McGinnis, R. N. Cluck, J. W. Holleran, Charles Hale, Jr., Willard Miller, and Misses Ida Mae Collins, Ester Hale, Titia Belle Simmons, Lucine Lewis, Viola Lamunyon, Catherine Cunningham, and Blanche Van Horn.

Mrs. Frank Walker Is Circle Hostess

Mrs. Frank Walker was Monday afternoon hostess to members of Circle Three of the First Baptist W. M. S. in her Tenth street home.

During a business session plans were made for the social for the Y. W. A. of which the Circle is a mother. Also plans were made for the entertainment in the future for the Seniors of the church. Mrs. L. A. Harrison taught an interesting lesson on the "Life of David." A social was enjoyed, at which time the hostess served a refreshment plate of heart shaped individual pie. Members present were: Mesdames J. E. Spencer, M. A. Wright, O. J. Russell, L. A. Harrison, W. H. Hayes, C. A. Farquhar, H. J. Mc Ardle and the hostess.

Billie Robinson Is Party Honoree

Billie Robinson celebrated his fourth birthday this week at the home of Mrs. J. A. Smith, with a party.

Games were played and a Valentine box was held. Guests were engaged in a treasure hunt of red candy hearts for the remainder of the afternoon. In the dining room a cake centered the table from which punch and cake were served to Pansy Pay Hager, Patsy Joe Cleere, Billie James, Howard Barton Robinson, Clydell Wilkins, Billie Faye Robinson, and the honoree, Mrs. I. W. Robinson assisted in serving and directing the games of play.

APPLICATIONS FOR PENSIONS READY FRIDAY

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Applications for old age assistance will be available in every courthouse, city hall, and chamber of commerce office in Texas on Friday, State administrator Orville Carpenter said today. Two hundred thousand blanks will be distributed then, including the total expected to ask for pensions of $15 per month. Federal approval of the Texas pension setup was expected to be a formality. "Our law will not be accepted by the social security board until February 14," Carpenter said. The state old age assistance commission has been assured federal approval will be given them. Carpenter said the application blanks carrying space for information required by the pension act will be available to all who desire them. He explained in detail the process through which the applicant must go.

Blanks may be taken home and filled out in duplicate. "Anyone who can read and write can fill out the application. No expert assistance is necessary," Carpenter said. Twenty-five blanks for the 20 administrative districts will be sent out.

Pierce Brooks Is To Oppose Allred

DALLAS, Feb. 13.—On a platform which proposes free license plates for passenger automobiles in Texas, immediate payment of pensions to Texas men and women 60 years old and above, elimination of wasteful sessions of the Texas legislature and other measures seeking reforms in state government, Pierce Brooks, Dallas business man and real estate broker, Saturday night announced his candidacy for the office of governor of Texas. The announcement was made at a dinner tendered by friends and business associates. Several states have inaugurated a nominal tax rate for auto licenses but Texas would be the first state to supply the plates free of cost to owners of all passenger cars, the Brooks announcement said. Unfair burdens of direct tax on Texas small car owners for license, gas, and other materials is cited as the reason for the proposed exemption from tax.

In his announcement Mr. Brooks played the present Allred regime at Austin, characterizing it as "that motion picture outfit down there, with its dizzy director." He charged the state administration with "carelessness, inefficiency, extravagance, waste and in certain quarters extreme unfairness."

Texas Exes Banquet Is at Breckenridge

The annual banquet of the Oil Belt Texas Exes Association will be held at Breckenridge March 2. It was announced this week by Coach

Dexter Shelley, who said a large number of Ciscoans likely would attend.

Jack Chevigny, head coach and athletic director at the University of Texas, will be the principal speaker of the evening. The rest of the program will be furnished by the Breckenridge group.

Shelley, who is vice president for Cisco, said he would be able to furnish tickets for the banquet or information concerning it.

Record Year Shown For Maytag Company

Maytag Southwestern Company, distributors of Maytag Washers in Texas, reports that 1935 was the record year in its existence, having sold washers in retail value of close to one million and a half dollars. Also January sales for 1936 were 332 units ahead of January 1935.

As indicative that Texans are interested in quality merchandise Walter Rogers, president of Maytag Southwestern company, points out that 8 per cent of the sales in 1935 were the aluminum or best washer, and only 13 per cent were the lower priced models. Texas is the leading state in the country in this respect.

The champion dealer organization for the month of January is Maytag—S. R. Wood company, dealers in Eastland county, which sold 81 washers for the month, all of which were aluminum or the quality model. This is considered an outstanding achievement inasmuch as Mr. Wood's organization only has a population of 34,156.

That farm purchasing power is rising is indicated by the fact that 62 of these sales were on the gas models, which is the washer gasoline engine equipped for farm homes without electricity.

GAMBLING TO TEST
MODESTO, Cal. — (U.P.) — The legality or illegality of gambling debts will be settled in the superior court here. R. Fisher has sued Walter B. Galvin to recover $1,050 covered by checks allegedly given in settlement of a dice game.

TOWN SELLS LAST HORSES
MANSFIELD, Ohio — (U.P.) — The city severed all connection with the horse and buggy age when it sold its last team of horses to a farmer. Sold with the horses were two sets of harness, two dump wagons, two plows, and a harrow, and hay and straw.

HOG CAUSES NEAR RIOT
KELSO, Wash. — (U.P.) — A runaway hog, snorting and puffing as it ran through business streets, caused a minor riot here. Women screamed and ran for safety, while dozens of men joined policemen in pursuit of the beast. It finally was caught in a garage.

WELLS ON WANE
DEADWOOD, S. D. — (U.P.) — With artesian well water level dropping seven feet a year, South Dakota faces a loss of this source of water supply within 30 years, the state geologists here predicted. They based their report on a survey made last summer.

TREACHEROUS WEEKS

Reports from health authorities advise that "colds" are widespread and especially severe this year and urge citizens to arm themselves against this insidious illness. Health-wrecking sickness is all too prevalent during this bad-weather season and it is vitally important to take special precautions against the attack of the common cold germ which has become America's Public Health Enemy Number One. Beware the dangers of the treacherous weeks ahead. For your health's sake keep your entire house comfortably warm!

Uneven and inadequate indoor temperatures are a constant danger to health during the treacherous winter months. Sudden changes of temperature, such as those experienced in passing from a warm room to a cold one, appear to be harmful to the tissues of the nose and throat which are the starting places of health-wrecking respiratory diseases. Quick chilling of the body lowers resistance and invites attacks from cold germs.

According to government statistics, diseases of our breathing apparatus are responsible for more deaths than any other single cause. While respiratory diseases often start seriously, they are closely related to "colds" and in many instances are directly traceable to catching cold. There is good reason, therefore, why physicians advise extra care in protecting health during the threatening winter months.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure when your family's health is concerned and you can reduce the possibility of "colds" during the treacherous weather ahead by the simple precaution of proper ventilation and adequate heat in every room of the house. Try it for your health's sake!

... Community Natural Gas Co.

Don't gamble with America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ. Fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold." If you do catch a "cold" consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

Going to town with Luckies A LIGHT SMOKE of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

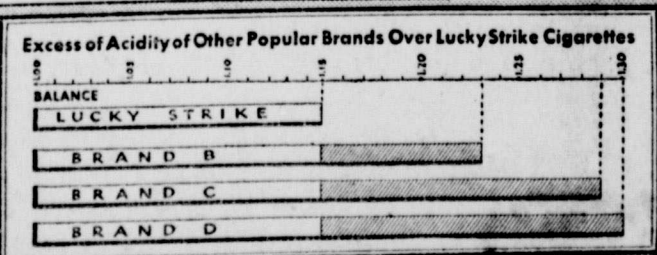

They include preliminary analyses of the tobacco selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("Toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

Asking Election To County Bench

W. S. Adamson of Ranger, candidate for the office of county judge of Eastland county.

W. S. ADAMSON SEEKS JOB AS COUNTY JUDGE

RANGER, Feb. 12 — (Special) — Judge W. S. Adamson, prominent Ranger attorney, has announced his candidacy for the position of county judge of Eastland county subject to the action of the Democratic primary of July 25.

Judge Adamson is well qualified, both by training and experience, to hold the position he is seeking. For the past 20 years he has been actively engaged as an attorney and for four years he was county judge of Scurry county.

For the past three years Judge Adamson has been a city commissioner of the City of Ranger, and during his regime many constructive measures have been brought forward and enacted, saving the taxpayers of the city many thousands of dollars, and at the same time putting the city in the best financial condition it has enjoyed since the boom days.

In announcing his candidacy Judge Adamson stated that he was in favor of a conservative and economical administration of the county's affairs and was in favor of a reduction in taxes.

He will wage an active campaign later, at which time he hopes to contact every voter in the county.
He has not, as yet arranged his speaking itinerary, but will arrange it so that it will carry him to every portion of the county.

CISCO ROTARY ATTENDANCE IS NEAR THE TOP

The Cisco Rotary club ranks among clubs of Rotary International, it was learned this week following a letter from District Governor James Wilson, who congratulated the Cisco organization upon achieving twenty-sixth place in this dis-

The Cisco club's average was 91.7 per cent for the first six months of the current Rotary year.

The Northwest Texas District 41, which includes the Cisco club, was fifth in the international attendance contest, in which the districts of Canada, the United States, Newfoundland, and Bermuda achieved a record of more than 70 per cent.
There were 2,505 clubs reporting in the contest, according to the current "Rotarian," official magazine of the organization.

The Western Oklahoma district was first with an average of 93.38 per cent. Next in order came Ari-

Here's Real Help In Avoiding Many Miserable Colds

Unique Medication Designed to Aid Nature's Defenses in Nose and Throat, Where Most Colds Start.

PROVED IN USE BY MILLIONS

In the exclusive formula of Vicks Vapo-rinol has been found a unique and successful aid in preventing many colds—winter's threat to our comfort and health.

Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. It aids and stimulates the functions provided by Nature—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off head colds in the early stages. Used in time—at the first nasal irritation, sniffle, or sneeze—just a few drops up each nostril—Va-tro-nol helps to avoid many colds.

Where irritation has led to a clogged-up nose (a stuffy head cold or nasal catarrh) Va-tro-nol reduces swollen membranes—clears clogging mucus—brings comfort, relief.

For Fewer and Shorter Colds
Note to mothers—who guard the family's health: Vicks has developed, especially for you, a practical Plan for Better Home Control of Colds. VENIRE DRAWN FOR SKELETON MURDER TRIAL

EASTLAND, Feb. 13—Names of 75 persons in a special venire from which a jury will be selected for the trial of Raymond and Della Henry, charged with the murder of H. L. McBee May 1, 1933, were drawn Saturday. The cases are set for trial beginning Monday, Feb. 17, in 91st district court.

Applications of state and defense attorneys for issuance of subpoenas to compel the attendance of 87 witnesses has been made to District Clerk P. L. Crossley.

The McBees have employed separate counsel. Frank Sparks is attorney for Mrs. Henry while Frank Jenkins, also of Eastland, is the husband's attorney. Grady Owen, criminal district attorney, is in charge of the prosecution.

The defense made application for 36 witnesses while the state has requested issuance of 51 subpoenas to compel attendance at the trials.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry were charged with murder in 1934 after the skeleton of the former highway worker was found hanging from a tree in a wood near Rising Star. Identity of McBee was ascertained by a metal tag of the type issued to highway department workers, and recognition of dental work by an Eastland dentist.

The couple are each charged with two counts in connection with the McBee death. One alleges McBee was killed by a sharp instrument and the other count alleges he was killed by hanging.

Defense Witnesses
While minor exceptions, the witness list of Jenkins and Sparks is substantially the same.

Witnesses who reside in Eastland county for the defense are: Raymond Fenwick, Okra; Charles Fenwick, Okra; Claud Harris, Rising Star; Mr. and Mrs. Ford Atwood, Rising Star; Terry Clark, Rising Star; Mrs. Valley, Rising Star; Opal Valley, Rising Star; Speck Valley, Rising Star; Glen Gray, Carbon; Dr. Dill, Rising Star; Will Favors, Rising Star; Duke Morris, Rising Star; Clyde Evans, Rising Star; Ann White, Rising Star; Herman Courtney, Ranger; Odds Courtney, Carbon; Mole Berg, Flatwood; Carl Martin, Rising Star; Mark Pelfry, Rising Star; Ed Bucy, Rising Star; Tom Montgomery, Rising Star.

Settlement Given Approval by Court

EASTLAND, Feb. 13—Settlement of $2,400 by Casualty Underwriters Insurance company to Mrs. Emily Tune and Athelyn and Irma Lee Tune, widow and children of Benjamin Franklin Tune, who allegedly died from injuries received Sept. 22, 1935, while in employ of E. F. Bucy & Sons & C. T. Child, was approved recently by 91st district court. The Bucy and Child company is a construction firm with offices at Rising Star.

The court apportioned one-half of the award to the widow and one-fourth each to the minor children. It also ordered the insurance company pay $231 to a Rising Star undertaking company and $10 to Frank Sparks, attorney and guardian ad litem.

The suit was instituted by the insurance company as an appeal from a decision of the Industrial Accident Board of Texas on January 6, Mrs. Tune and children, however filed a cross action.

County probate court had previously approved of the settlement.

G. C. DANIELS ASKS ELECTION
AS CONSTABLE
G. C. Daniels Saturday announced that he will be a candidate for constable in precinct six, which office he now holds, subject to action in the July democratic primary. The Daily News is authorized to publish the following statement from him:

"I announce myself as a candidate for constable of precinct number six, subject to the democratic primary in July. I am now serving the unexpired term of J. B. Hicks, having been appointed by the commissioners court when he resigned. I have lived in Eastland county over 50 years, 17 years in Cisco. My record is before you. I have had four years experience as a peace officer and I feel I am qualified for the place and if the voters see fit to elect me to the office, I assure my best efforts will be to serve the people. I earnestly ask for your vote and influence."

WITNESS LIST FOR SKELETON TRIAL NOW 114

EASTLAND, Feb. 13—Number of witnesses due for the trial of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henry in 91st district court starting Feb. 17 increased to 114 Monday afternoon when Frank Jenkins, attorney for the man made application to District Clerk P. L. Crossley for issuance of 27 subpoenas.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry are charged by indictment with connection in the murder of H. L. McBee, May, 1933. Mrs. McBee is a former wife of the late highway worker.

The couple were charged after the skeleton of McBee was found hanging from a tree in a wood near Rising Star, December, 1934.

A special venire has been summoned for the trials, one of which is scheduled to begin Monday. Criminal District Attorney Grady Owen has made application for issuance of 51 subpoenas for witnesses at the trial. Previous to Jenkins application Monday, total defense witnesses totaled 36. The list of Jenkins and J. Frank Sparks, attorney for Mrs. Henry, is substantially the same.

Other witnesses for Jenkins are as follows:
E. B. Cheneweth, Brownwood; E. F. Walker, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Edwards, Wink; E. B. Pennington, Finnis Pennington, Mrs. E. M. Pennington, Wink; J. L. Man Held for Theft And Fence Cutting

One man was in jail facing five different charges and a farmer living near Cisco had recovered his stolen property Tuesday, following quick work by the Cisco police department Monday.

Boyd Stewart was charged, with petty theft and four separate counts of fence cutting in connection with the alleged disappearance of five sides of meat and one jawl belonging to Vin Gambelin, who lives three miles south of the city on the Rising Star Highway.

City police, informed of the loss of the meat Monday morning, had recovered it Monday afternoon and made the arrest. They reported that fences had been cut to form a trail to the Gambelin residence. Stewart was awaiting action of the grand jury in connection with the fence cutting charges.

Program Given By Cisco Music Club

The Cisco Music club presented a program Sunday afternoon at one o'clock at the Twelfth Street Methodist church.

Elbert Ezzell had charge of the program, which began with several songs sung in unison. Quartet and duet selections were given by members of the club, after which Jim Flores was presented in several Spanish songs.

Following the program a business session was held in which Mr. Ezzell presided. A program committee was named as follows: Mrs. Ruby Rouse, Mrs. Era Sutton, Mrs. H. Barron, and A. A. Coats. The chairman encouraged the congregation to be present at all singings, also to attend each class period in the afternoon and each night in the home of Fred L. Chunn, East Eleventh street. The session was closed with a song. The next program will be announced at a later date. An invitation was extended the public to attend the classes of Rev. Mr. Chunn.

18 SOUGHT ON INDICTMENTS IN DISTRICT

EASTLAND, Feb. 13—Eighteen persons—indicted by district court grand jury from Jan. 31, 1935, to Feb. 1 this year—are sought by Eastland county officials.

Indictments returned during that period totaled 173.

The 18 persons, possibly less since some individuals not placed in the custody of officials up to Tuesday may have been charged by several indictments, are classified according to the "true-bills" as follows:

Forgery, two; theft of money, two; theft by bailee, one; selling mortgaged property, one; driving intoxicated, two; theft, two; theft over $50, three; burglary, four; and aggravated assault, one.

Man Is Jailed In Theft of Chickens

EASTLAND, Feb. 13—Jimmy Curtis of Eastland was held in county jail Monday afternoon following filing of a theft charge by Deputy Sheriff Steele Hill in Justice of the Peace Milton Newman's court.

Twelve chickens allegedly stolen from Marvin Hood Wednesday were recovered at a farm seven miles northwest of Eastland by Deputy Hill from a man who assertedly stated they were obtained from Curtis on a trade.

Curtis, Hill said, was on a parole from a sentence given recently on his conviction in connection with an assault on Jim George, Eastland cafe operator.

as traffic clogs the street from curb to curb. Nerves quiver with fatigue. Feel those stomach muscles tighten? Light a Camel for digestion's sake.

Smoking Camels Found to Ease the Strain and Promote Well-Being

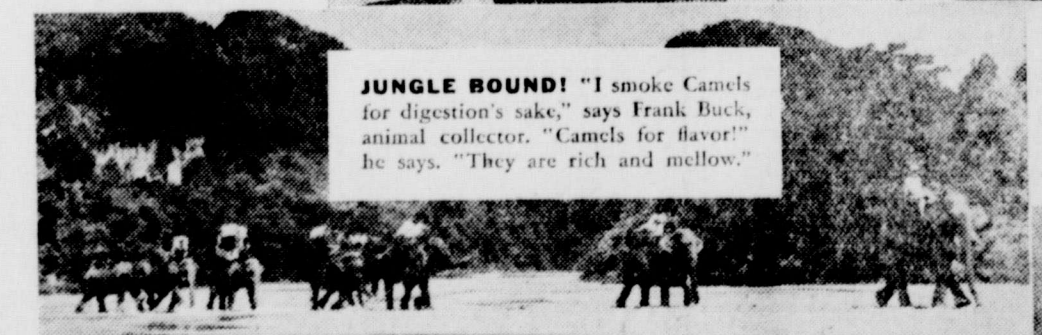

Life gets more complex. The pace grows faster. People live harder. Where do we see the effects? Frequently on digestion, so often overtaxed by the busy whirl! Smoking Camels is of definite aid in promoting good digestion. Turn to Camels yourself. They have a mildness and delicacy that never grow flat or tiresome. Make the pleasant experience of smoking Camels part of your daily life, and see how much more zest you have for smoking and how your digestion is measurably improved. Camels set you right.

And now we come to one of modern life's most gracious privileges—dining at Keen's English Chop House in New York, as shown at the right. Like the Mermaid Tavern of Shakespeare's day, Keen's is famous as a gathering place of congenial spirits.

"We've noticed that patrons who appreciate fine foods also appreciate fine tobaccos," says William (above), of Keen's. "Camels are a favorite at Keen's English Chop House. We've noticed that our guests who smoke Camels during and after meals seem to find more pleasure in dining."

JUNGLE ROUND! "I smoke Camels for digestion's sake," says Frank Buck, animal collector. "Camels for flavor!" he says. "They are rich and mellow."
