Wilson Section Hit By Storm

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

WILSON, June 4.—An automobile accident in which a youth was severely injured and property damage estimated today at several thousand dollars were the results of cross-fire blasts of sand-laden gales which lashed Wilson community late last night.

Raymond Kolociejczyk, residing three miles west of Wilson, received numerous lacerations when the automobile he was driving crashed into a ditch and overturned several times six miles northeast of here. Blinding force of the gale he reported when brought here for treatment, snatched the car out of control. The machine, he said, was demolished almost completely. He was driving alone at the time, according to his report here.

Damage Is Reported

Items of damage reported as result of the wind today included:

Destruction of approximately half the fence and stands at the baseball park.

Collapse of portions of the high line of the Texas-New Mexico Utilities company.

Upsetting of three large storage tanks at the Conoco oil station here ranging in capacity from 500 to 2,000 gallons. One of the tanks, of 1,000 gallons capacity, was found more than a mile from its foundation.

Destruction at the C. A. Coleman farm, four miles south of Wilson, of two brooder houses, the roof of a barn and two windmills.

Cash Is Issued And New Jobs Being Opened

Average Of 2,800,000 Persons Will Be Given Employment Within Next Seven Months

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The administration has started its lending-spending attack on the depression although congress still has a week's work on the $3,723,000,000 bill that will supply most of the ammunition.

Officials disclosed today the WPA was using funds already on hand to create additional work relief jobs at the rate of approximately 30,000 a week.

Many To Receive Work

If congress finally approves the $1,425,000,000 which the lending-spending bill now carries for WPA, they said, they expected an average of 2,800,000 persons to be given work relief employment in the next seven months.

Most of the additional jobs provided since May 28, it was said, were in large industrial communities where the unemployment situation was most acute.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace also has taken steps to put the administration's relief program into effect without waiting for congress to finish action on the big lending-spending bill.

Needs To Be Canvassed

He directed the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation yesterday to canvass needs for food and clothing among persons on relief. With funds already available, the corporation is to expand its purchases of surplus farm products for distribution free to the needy. If the pending bill goes through in its present senate-approved form, $50,000,000 more of new WPA money may be used for such purchases.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation already is receiving applications for long-term loans for business and industry, and officials of the Public Works administration are getting ready to start new WPA projects swiftly as soon as the pending appropriation bill becomes law.

To Recommend Projects

PWA engineers said they intended to recommend allotment of funds for more than 2,000 projects, estimated to cost in excess of $650,000,000, at the outset of the new program. Only $300,000,000 in federal grants and $60,000,000 in federal loans would be required for these projects, the remainder of the cost being met by local contributions.

The engineers explained that the projects they favored for immediate action were among 2,714 previously approved by PWA but held up when its activities were curtailed.

A joint conference committee is expected to meet Tuesday to begin adjusting difference between the senate and house bills.

Representative Rayburn of Texas, the Democratic house leader, told newsmen he saw no reason why congress could not complete its work and go home by the end of next week.

Expansion Plan Of Schools Outlined

OUTLINE of the contemplated elementary school building expansion program which will form the basis of application for Public Works administration grants was announced here Saturday by officials of Lubbock independent school district.

Carrying out of the complete program, it was announced, would involve expenditures totaling, in round figures, approximately $260,000, toward which a PWA grant of $117,000 will be sought. Remainder of the financing must come from the school district.

Individual Projects

Individual projects for which the total grant would make provision include, according to the announcement:

A new elementary school building of 12 to 14 rooms.

Two eight-room structures which would be the first units of two other new elementary buildings.

Addition of four to six rooms and the remodeling of Junior High school building.

Building of the equivalent of two-room additions to K. Carter and Sanders schools.

The possible erection of an assembly room at the negro high school.

Addition of a combination agricultural, arts and band room to Senior High school.

Minor repairs to other buildings designed to put them in first class condition.

Tentative And Elastic

Announcement of the contemplated program was accompanied by the statement from school officials that it is both tentative and elastic.

Ex-Students Of Tech Assemble

If the decision were in the hands of the Texas voters, Texas Technological college would be admitted to the Southwest conference by a 99 per cent vote, L. L. Steele of Mexia told approximately 200 members and guests of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of the college assembled in an annual banquet Saturday night in the women's dormitory.

Steele is a member of the Tech board of directors. A. J. Folley of Amarillo, justice of the court of civil appeals of the seventh supreme judicial district and principal speaker at the banquet, told of circulating three petitions in Amarillo last fall asking Tech's admittance to the conference. Folley's address theme was "Footsteps."

Fairly Named President

Fred Fairly of Lubbock, 1935 graduate, was elected president of the association in a business meeting after the banquet. He served as first vice president during the last year. Other officers elected were: First vice-president, Marshall Formby, Dickens county judge; second vice-president, Foy Pribble, Hobbs, N. M.; three-year director, J. E. Speer, Amarillo.

Miss Margaret Turner, a graduate, welcomed this year's graduating class into the association. Paul White, president of the class, responded. Dean James M. Gordon presented the invocation.

Homan, who had practiced medicine in this county many years, died of a charge of shot through the heart, from a 12-gauge single-barrel shotgun.

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP)—An effort to withdraw the name of Vernest O. Thompson as a candidate for governor failed today.

China Defense Is Crumbling

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, June 5. (Sunday)—Reports through foreign sources at Hankow said today Chinese resistance along the Lunghai railway in Central China had collapsed.

A general withdrawal of Chinese troops was said to be under way.

Japanese were reported in occupation of Kaifeng, ancient capital of Central China.

Japs Near Junction

It was predicted Japanese troops would enter Chengchow, junction of the Lunghai and the Peiping-Hankow railway, with 48 hours.

Kaifeng, 40 miles east of Chengchow, had been the objective of Japanese troops stalled temporarily at Lanfeng.

The Japanese plan has been to occupy Chengchow, then drive south along the Peiping-Hankow, approximately 300 miles to Hankow, one of China's provisional capitals.

During the protracted engagement about Lanfeng a division commanded by Lieut. Gen. Kenji Doihara had been encircled by

Texas Interest In Politics Is Being Fanned

Monday Is Final Day For All State And District Candidates To File; New Names Added

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 4.—Meeting growing interest of the electorate, candidates' voices boomed through Texas today in quest of votes for the state's first big election show of the year, the Democratic primary July 23.

With a few late comers yet expected to lay money on the barrelhead, 11 aspirants to the governship and about 35 seekers of other state officers had paid the 100 filing fee.

Many Have Filed

Four had filed for lieutenant governor, five for attorney general, seven for railroad commissioner, two for comptroller, three for land commissioner, two for comptroller, three for land commissioner, two for treasurer, three for state superintendent of public instruction, two for commissioner of agriculture, three for associate justice of the supreme court and four for two places an the court of criminal appeals.

While Monday was the final day for candidates for state and district offices to file, those running for county and precinct jobs had until June 18.

Most Recent To File

Most recent to file were John Lee Smith of Throckmorton for lieutenant governor, Gerald C. Mann of Dallas for attorney general, Bascom Giles of Austin for general land commissioner and W. H. Davidson of Beaumont for associate justice of the supreme court.

Their applications trailed by a few hours those of Thomas Self, 69-year-old grain merchant of Crockett, candidate for governor, and Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin, after the attorney generalship.

Interest Picking Up

Reports generally were that voters' interest in politics was picking up, possibly because it was becoming plainer for whom they would have opportunity to vote, election day was drawing nearer and, some because the weather was getting warmer and candidates were delivering hotter speeches.

In the race for governor, William McCraw had an open date today but tomorrow he was to speak near Bellville in Austin county.

Earlier in the week he spoke in a number of West Texas towns, receiving a warm reception in Coleman from Walter Woodward, his 1934 opponent for attorney general. At Waco last night he further explained his proposal for an expert to help prepare the state budget.

End Of Mottled Teeth From Drinking Water Said Near

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

TUCSON, Ariz., June 4.—Bone treated so that it cannot get "bone-dry" promises to end the last, great unconquered drinking water malady, the chalky bones and mottled teeth caused by fluorine.

The bone makes a filter which completely frees water from flourine. It was developed by Prof. H. V. Smith and his wife, Dr. Margaret Cammack Smith, of the University of Arizona. They described recent developments today.

Numerous attempts have been made to find satisfactory chemicals to filter flourine from water. Professor Smith thought that the bones which fluorine attacks might make the best filter.

By baking bone in an oven at about 1000 degrees Fahrenheit Professor Smith alters its surface. Thereafter water wets it easily. For filter purposes it is ground to resemble coarse sand.

Fluorine is a poisonous yellow gas. It does not exist as free gas but in a combined form. It comes mainly from flourite.

Kidnapings Over Nation On Increase But Lush Days Of Huge Ransoms Disappear

(EDITOR'S NOTE: It was in June, 1932, that congress passed the so-called Lindbergh law, making kidnaping a capital offense. Many states also have strengthened their statutes applying to the crime, yet the number of kidnapings has increased. An Associated Press reporter who has covered several of the important cases, including the Lindbergh crime, gives interesting facts and figures relating to the kidnapings of recent years.)

By JOHN FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 4.—Sensational as the Peter Levine and Jimmy Cash abductions are, the big money days of kidnaping, the $100,000 and $200,000 snatch days, which followed the collection of $50,000 ransom in the Lindbergh crime, have declined.

The crime itself, however, has increased since congress, shocked like the rest of the world by the murder of the Lindbergh baby, passed a federal statute in June, 1932, designed to lessen the number of abductions.

Only Three Unsolved

This increase has continuel although the federal bureau of investigation lists as unsolved only three of the 117 kidnapings, regarded as violations of the Lindbergh law, and hence within the bureau's jurisdiction.

In those lush days ransom like the $10,000 paid by James Bailey Cash, of Princeton, Fla., this week in a vain attempt to have his son safely returned, would have been chicken feed.

The trend then was toward dizzy sums and the victims of the biggest cases were, with few exceptions, adults, who were easier to handle than children.

Work Of Gangs

The sums demanded were high for the simple reason probably that bootlegging had brought big profits to the underworld, and kidnapings then were usually the work of gangs and the split made high ransom necessary.

For the safe return of William A. Hamm, jr., wealthy St. Paul, Minn., banker, $100,000 was paid to the Karpis-Barker gang. The same amount was paid to the abductors of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, of Chicago.

The release of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, abducted by Machine Gun Kelly, his wife, Katherine, Harvey Bailey and others, cost Urschel $200,000 in 1933.

The family of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, paid $200,000 in January, 1934, to Karpis, Doc and Ma Barker and others.

Ransom in the kidnaping of Charles Boettcher, Denver investment banker, in February, 1933, was $60,000.

Loss Heavy In Storm Zones

(By The Associated Press)

Weather disturbances which centered in the southwest subsided Saturday leaving heavy damage and killing five persons.

Tornadic winds roared into the Wichita Falls, Texas, area late Friday night, injuring at least 20 persons, toppling derricks in the big KMA oil field, and doing an estimated total damage of about $90,000.

Moves Into Oklahoma

Then the storm moved across the state line into Oklahoma. At Grandfield five brick business houses and from 20 to 30 homes were wrecked.

A boy was electrocuted at Lawson Okla., when he contacted a clothesline charged by a broken live wire. He was gathering clothes for his mother.

That was the only death reported in the Wichita Falls section. Two men were killed and a third seriously injured when an oil tank ignited by lightning exploded at Boling, Tex., near the gulf coast.

At Kansas City, two spectators watching play in the Kansas City open golf tournament were killed by lightning.

Billion Dollars Worth Of Silver Will Be Unguarded

WASHINGTON, June 4. (AP)—Ordinary trucks, virtually unguarded, will haul a billion dollars worth of silver from New York City to West Point in the next few weeks.

Treasury officials say silver is so bulky and difficult to dispose of that there is slight chance of an attempt being made to steal it.

The treasury's hoard was gathered from the far corners of the world, attracted to New York by the United States treasury's world high bid. The metal has overflowed the vaults of the treasury and federal reserve buildings.

On the edge of the military academy campus at West Point the treasury has built a $528,000 concrete warehouse to hold the silver. The metal is being prepared now for shipment about July 1.

Permanent Injunction Will Be Sought In County Seat Fight

BARSTOW, June 4. (AP)—The Barstow city council withdrew today a petition asking a district court temporary injunction against the removal of county records from Barstow to Monahans.

The council said it would seek a permanent injunction in October.

Representatives of Barstow and Monahans have agreed no attempt will be made to remove records until the case is settled in court.

Socialist Chief Denied Chance To Make Talk

Eggs And Cucumbers Fly And Band Plays; Thomas Receives Good Share Of Ammunition

(By The Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., June 4. — Tall, gray-haired Norman Thomas, long-time leader of the socialist party in this country, was shelled by rotten eggs and cucumbers late today when about 100 men and a brass band broke up a socialist rally in mid-city Military park.

Marching four abreast through a crowd of about 500 persons, the anti-Thomas contingent shouted Thomas down with the help of the band's blaring instruments and finally forced police to escort the former presidential candidate from the scene.

Fists Fly In Fight

Many of the marchers wore war veterans overseas caps and carried American flags. Others bore signs assailing "reds." Fists flew as Thomas sympathizers and foes clashed. Mounted police uniformed patrolmen and detectives wielded night sticks to break up the melee. The temporary American flag-draped platform, on which Thomas stood, was smashed.

Thomas, his hair and face streaked with egg yolks, stood on a park bench during a drama-packed half hour and pleaded for a chance to speak. Whenever he started, the band played louder, the yells increased. Finally, Deputy Police Chief Phillip Sebold stood up beside Thomas inside a cordon of police and announced:

"On my advice, this meeting is

Wage-Hour Bill Is In Deadlock

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 4. — The joint congressional committee trying to reconcile differences between the house and senate wage-hour bills recessed tonight for the week-end, apparently still deadlocked.

Still in dispute was whether uniform minimum wage standards should be applied to the whole country or different standards for different sections.

Measure Of Support

Two compromise proposals, based on the house theory of making wage-hour regulations uniformly applicable in all sections, won a measure of support.

But southerners, intent on getting a varying scale which would permit lower minima in the south, blocked both.

They warmed somewhat to a proposal by Chairman Mary T. Norton (D-NJ) of the house labor committee, who suggested a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour be required uniformly at first and that it be increased gradually. When the minimum reached 30 cents, an administrator would be empowered to grant exemptions from provisions requiring that the wage be increased further at the rate of three cents a year.

She proposed to extend to five years the time for attaining an ul-

RALEIGH, N. C., June 4. (AP)—Senator Robert R. Reynolds stepped out in front of Rep. Frank W. Hancock, jr., in returns tabulated tonight from the Democratic primary for U. S. senate, a contest between two avowed supporters of the Roosevelt administration.

With 742 precincts reported of 1,860, Hancock had 72,104 votes against 103,743 for Senator Reynolds.

In the only other state-wide race, Stanley Winborne, incumbent utilities commissioner, had a substantial lead over Paul Grady, of Kenly, a former legislator.

John Darrouzet Dies Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, June 4.—John L. Darrouzet, 60, assistant general counsel of the American National Insurance company, and long prominent in Texas legal and political circles died at his home here early today after a sudden stroke. Darrouzet represented a number of corporations in legislative matters and was widely known among Texas legislators and state employees. He was a prominent lay member of the Catholic church.

Death Of Darrouzet Mourned In Texas Political Circles

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP)—The death of John L. Darrouzet, chairman of a committee seeking federal funds to match a legislative appropriation for a $1,000,000 state courts building, was mourned in capitol circles today.

Governor James V. Allred praised Darrouzet as a "man of the finest character, the cleanest moral habits and a devout church man."

"All who knew him will mourn his passing," the governor said. "He made several trips to Washington at his own expense in the interests of obtaining funds for the proposed courts building. His work was deeply appreciated by me and many others."

A conservative in governmental matters, Darrouzet also was active in all efforts to improve the Texas bar and courts. Many legislators knew him as a champion of the underprivileged of all classes.

Seldom appearing before legislative committees Darrouzet was known principally as an unobtrusive observer of the legislature who encouraged the passage of laws he thought would benefit the poor.

Young Donald Carroll Is Freed After Inspection At Hospital

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Donald Carroll, jr., 16, who was acquitted "by reason of insanity" of slaying the girl he loved, was reunited with his parents today after examining physicians at Bellevue hospital reported to Queens County Judge Thomas Downs that the youth was "not suffering from a psychosis."

Judge Downs signed an order for Carroll's release shortly after he received the physicians' finding.

His mother said she was "going to take Donald to the country for a short time, but where we are going, we are keeping a secret to prevent intrusion."

Carroll shot and killed Charlotte Matthiesen, 18, last March because, he said, she preferred death to unmarried motherhood.

Fears For War Are Subsiding

LONDON, June 4. (AP)—Subsiding of war fears and apparent cooling of European tempers inspired hopes among British statesmen today for success in the drive for continental appeasement.

Cabinet ministers were optimistic for settling some of the more urgent problems threatening peace.

Offers To Mediate

In the forefront were the dispute between Czechoslovakia and her autonomy-demanding Sudeten German minority—which threatened to flare into an armed conflict two weeks ago—and the Spanish civil war.

Great Britain offered to mediate in both.

United States Secretary of State Hull's assertion yesterday the United States was ready to cooperate in broad moves toward better international understanding was cheering.

Assist In Solution

British diplomacy was directed chiefly at assisting in solution of the Sudeten German minority question and smothering the Spanish war by reducing foreign intervention and then by seeking a truce.

The next step likely would be a renewed attempt to reach an understanding with Germany.

British leaders believed tension in central Europe had relaxed sufficiently over the Sudeten German demands that a peaceful settlement was possible.

Prospects Improved

With the Spanish struggle virtually at a halt in eastern Spain and an early insurgent victory discontinued, prospects were improved for evacuation of foreign volunteers.

Soviet Russia agreed to a British plan for removing 10,000 volunteers from each side but other issues remained to be settled and the subcommittee of the 2-nation "hands-off Spain" group is scheduled to confer again Friday.

Tension between France and Turkey as the result of pre-election rioting in the Sanjak of Alexandretta brought reports of displays of military strength on both sides of the border.

But Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet of France and Suad Davaz, Turkish ambassador to Paris, conferred in the French capital and reported that their differences were near settlement.

Turkey has demanded the creation of a separate state in the region France rules.

Cardenas Sends Radio Appeal

MEXICO CITY, June 4. (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas told his people tonight that "this government has stretched out its hand to the humble and will triumph or fall with them."

In a nationwide broadcast Cardenas acknowledged the gravity of the country's present economic difficulties and said development of Mexico's natural resources was necessary to meet them.

He spoke from San Luis Potosi where he went May 17 to direct military operations against the rebellion led by General Saturnino Cedillo.

Tells Of Friendship

The champion of the "Mexico for Mexicans" program reasserted the government's "open friendship for labor" and called upon the working man, commerce, industry and property owners to contribute to the creation of new "sources of production" in Mexico.

He repeated attacks on foreign oil companies whose $400,000,000 properties he expropriated March 18.

The chief executive called upon all labor organizations to help provide funds for the establishment of new industries.

The army drew the praise of the president who said its loyalty in quickly quelling the Cedillo rebellion "saved the social program" upon which the government is launched.

A new air mail route was recently opened from Prince George to Germansen Landing in northern British Columbia, Canada.

Czechs To Enforce 'Neutrality' On War Gas

With the German annexation of Austria as a warning, and the shadow of the swastika inching toward their borders, Czechoslovakian cities are making every effort to immunize themselves against air raids. Above is a scene in Prague, the capital, where a "decontamination" squad, garbed in steel helmets and gasproof clothing, covers the street with a chemical intended to neutralize poison gas.

Cupid's Honey-Tipped Arrows Find Their Marks As Month Of Brides Progresses

With only four of its days gone, June in Lubbock county has seen and felt enough tremors at the altar for a man-sized earthquake.

And apparently Mr. Dan Cupid, the archer son of Venus, is in best form this June, the month of brides, and of course bridegrooms. And as an almost unusual thing in any season, he is outstepping the knot-untying district judges seven to one.

Fourteen Find Marks

Already 14 of Archer Cupid's arrows have found their mark, despite high winds and other weather conditions unfavorable to the best archery, according to the marriage licenses records at the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk.

On the other hand, two persons have asserted that in past months Cupid's arrows were mistakes, that they were struck by stray arrows, possibly affected by wind, according to district court dockets, where divorce actions are filed.

Back to June's weather, one philosopher has it that rain is more romantic than rheumatic.

Smiling At Antics

But district judges, court officials, and attorneys are smiling at Cupid's antics, because they know that, by the law of averages, all is not well that begins well.

Furthering the idea that not a few of cupid's arrows may have a little gall mixed with the honey, on police records and in criminal courts have been found reports of black-eyes on onetime brides and desertion charges involving children and hungry mothers.

June is the month of the anniversary of the birth of the author of "Home, Sweet Home," John Howard Payne, a homeless wanderer.

All Is Not Peace

But to prove that all things that happened in June are not about love and peace, glance over these things revealed in June's history:

June 13, General John J. Pershing and his staff reached Paris in 1917; June 16, George Washington accepted his commission as general of the American Revolutionary army in 1775; the next day the battle of Bunker Hill was fought, not to mention battles of other Hills, Smiths, and Jones; June 19, war was declared against Great Britain, 1812; June 21, summer, the hottest of the seasons, will begin; June 23, Battle of Springfield, N. J., 1780; June 27, British naval attack on Charleston, S. C., was repulsed, 1776; June 28, Battle of Monmouth, N. J., 1778; and June 29, British under Howe arrived at Sandy Hook, 1776.

And so, June is a favorite month of poets, not to mention county clerks; and neither do attorneys and district judges frown upon it for well they know that it starts many things in which they may later have a hand in culminating.

Eight-Year-Old Explains He Just Wanted To Converse

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 4. (AP)—The telephone bill received today at the R. E. Luten residence carried the following perplexing charges:

"Call to Governor White, Jackson, Miss., 95 cents. Call to Governor Browning, Nashville, Tenn., 90 cents. Report charges, call to White House, Washington, D. C."

Eight-year-old Earl Luten, called in for questioning by his parents, quickly cleared up the mystery. "I just wanted to talk with them" said Earl, explaining that while he did converse with the governors, he was unsuccessful in his attempt to speak with the president.

PENSION ROLLS MOUNT

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP) — Old age pension rolls increased 204 to a total of 112,204 from May to June, the old age assistance commission announced today.

The present strength of the Royal Canadian air force totals 167 officers and 1489 men in other ranks.

disbanded."

Thomas said later the adjournment was at the police direction—not his.

Escorted by a big squad of police on horseback and foot—they marched down the middle of the street—Thomas went to socialist headquarters and there lashed out at the police and charged the opposition force was mobilized through the influence of Mayor Frank Hague of nearby Jersey City with whom he is engaged in a "free speech" controversy.

Police Are Assailed

The police, he charged, were "either indifferent, or inefficient or in collusion with the small mob."

The signs, he added, "came from Jersey City and I think the inspiration and money for the band came from Jersey City or perhaps allies of Jersey City."

Sebold brushed aside Thomas' statements regarding the police and said the whole thing was "handled properly" by the 400 men rushed to the scene. He also declared it was Thomas' idea that he call off the meeting.

Several were injured in the main conflict or in various side fist fights. Four men were arrested, including one who was taken to city hospital with a severe eye injury.

A delegation of representatives of a number of veterans organizations sought in vain today to have a city rescinded on the ground it would "incite riot and create bloodshed and disorder."

In introducing Thomas bout 100 feet away from a veterans' memorial statue, Miss Clara Handelman, Essex county socialist party secretary, pleaded for "the maintenance of order" and said: "I urge you to demonstrate, not only to Mayor Frank Hague but to the forces of reaction throughout the United States, that the citizens of Newark do not believe Americanism means hoodlumism."

When Thomas tried to address a street crowd in Jersey City recently, he was seized by police who took him in an auto and placed him aboard a New York-bound ferryboat.

Field For Romance

Although no date has been set for the wedding of Marshall Field, Jr., and Miss Joanne Bass, pictured above, whose long rumored engagement was recently officially confirmed by Miss Bass' parents, it is understood that it will take place in June after commencement at Harvard, where Mr. Field is a senior. Miss Bass is the daughter of former Governor Robert Perkins Bass and Mrs. Bass of Petersborough, N. H. Her fiance is a great-grandson of Marshall Field, founder of the famous Chicago dry-goods firm.

Wage-Hour Bill

timate minimum wage goal of 40 cents an hour. Southerners objected that no definite time for reaching the goal should be fixed.

The house bill, starting minimum wages at 25 cents, would increase them uniformly to 40 cents in three years. The senate bill provides for a 40-cent minimum immediately, but would create a board to grant exemptions.

One conferee said he believed the southerners might agree to Mrs. Norton's proposal, with some modifications to permit the administration more discretion in granting wage differentials.

Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate labor committee said the committee appeared agreed to accept a proposal of Senator Pepper regarding freight rates, if the senate theory of establishing an agency to grant wage differentials were adopted finally.

depth of approximately three inches. Some of the stones were as large as hen eggs of ordinary size. Rainfall was negligible.

The wind struck almost without warning and attained velocities estimated up to 40 miles an hour. Its destructive force was increased by the fact by frequent shiftings of direction which in some cases, came so abruptly as to give the effects of a cross-fire, residents of the community said.

Damage Is Reported Over Lubbock As Result Of Storm Late Friday Night

Lightning Hits To Cause Fires

Trees were uprooted and broken off, plate glass was broken, communications lines were crippled and various lesser damage done in Lubbock by a 42-mile wind that sprang up and brought rainfall in Lubbock Friday night and Saturday, reports showed.

A tree was leveled in the federal lawn, near the postoffice, and another was found down in the park just west of city hall.

Several Are Damaged

A tree on the courthouse lawn was "topped out" and several trees in vicinity of the city swimming pool were damaged badly, said members of the city parks board.

Spray driven by the wind caught in heavy foliage over a great section of the city, causing big branches to be sent flying into paths of automobiles.

Water drained swiftly in gutters.

Lightning struck a house, the last one on North M, at 10:40 o'clock, but Mexicans organized a bucket brigade and assisted the fire department and the occupant, W. E. Green, in extinguishing it. The southeast corner of the house was ripped out, but no person was injured.

Was Last Of Four

The fire was the last of four. A 9:15 o'clock alarm directed firemen to Prideaux Lumbor company, where fire spread from a shingle house and was believed to have done damage of several thousand dollars. Nine hundred fifty feet of hose was spread and six streams of water put the fire out in approximately 20 minutes.

Had the fire been several minutes later, when the strong west find blew up and then veered around from the north, several block to the southward of the lumber company, at 1515 Avenue H, might have been leveled, said firemen.

Alarms were turned in at 9:40 and at 9:45 o'clock, but trash and scrap lumber were the only property affected.

Dust Causes Damage

The dust accompanying the storm did more damage than the rain, dust falling on newly planted crops and covering feed and cotton just up, farmers said Saturday. In some places there was enough rain to further delay replanting of cotton.

Rains of the past week were enough in many sections to wash down ridges onto recently planted crops covering them. A heavy proportion of the entire acreage will have to be replanted as a result of the rains and storms.

Texas-New Mexico Utility company crews were working Saturday on trouble caused by lightning Friday night. Damage was not very serious.

Local circuits in Lubbock, especially cables, were put out of service when rain leaked into breaks in cables and caused short circuits, Southwestern Bell Telephone company officials said. Crews were working all day to repair damage.

Toll Lines Out

Toll lines of the Southwestern Association Telephone Co., were likewise put out of commission by lightning. There was a considerable amount of wire work for crews Saturday.

Railroad and telephone companies were delayed somewhat by wires being shorted due to electricity. Repairs were made quickly.

Santa Fe dispatches report the following reports: Tulia, one-tighth inch; Kress, one-sixteenth; Floydada and Lockney, one-sixteenth; Amherst, one-quarter; Littlefield, inch; Shallowater, one-sixteenth; Slaton, half; Southland, third; Post, one and a half; Crosbyton and Ralls, one-half; Lorenzo, eight; Lehman, shower.

Fort Worth and Denver reports included: Dimmitt, eighth; Hart, half; Quitaque, quarter; Sterley, quarter; Lockney, shower.

COLLEGE STATION, June 4.—Artist's conception of the 12 new dormitories and mess hall to be constructed at Texas A. and M. College with $2,000,000 loan granted by R. F. C.

The new construction will house and feed approximately 2,500 more students on the campus.

Construction is expected to be completed before the opening of school in 1940.

Candidates In The Field Now And They're All Just As Busy As A Bunch Of Bees

Over there to the right a tractor is stopped and a son of toil is in conversation with a well-dressed and freshly shaved fellow in a straw hat.

The fellow under the straw hat is a candidate—else he wouldn't be out there in the field ankle deep in sand.

They're Industrious Now

Go any direction and you'll find cards and piscards or candidates and those at work for them.

They've got as industrious the last few days as termites.

All are watching the political horizon with jittery concern.

Whether they get opponents or not—they're hooked.

If opponents enter the lists they face extinction at the polls.

Have To Pay More

If they are fortunate enough not to have opposition they must pay more in primary assessments. The more in a given race the less cost for the individual candidate entered.

Every guile known to politics is being practiced, says those best informed. The fellow with the consuming passion to be something or other that affords him a tax-paid public office knows (or it's safe to say he will learn) how many kids Old Man Green has or has agreed that dry farming has irrigation methods beat all hollow (despite the fact he had decided recently he would become an irrigation farmer with the proceeds of the office if he were elected).

Reporters read into questions some lively cases of jitters that will not be cured until June 18, deadline for filing by aspirants for county and precinct offices.

Deadline Is Monday

For district offices comprising more than one county, the filing deadline is Monday.

June 20 will be the big moment for aspirin. It is then county democratic committees meet to make primary election cost assessments against candidates. Entries will have five days in which to turn in the money.

No payment—no possibility of getting a name on the ballot. The ballot, two days later, will be prepared in the form it will be presented to the voter in the first primary July 23.

Slightly more than 50 candidates had announced through Saturday. Almost all are expected to pay assessments, the mortality rate among candidates in recent years having been relatively low.

One of the transport planes used by a major airline may be readily converted into a bomber in time of war. The ship, as a passenger plane, will carry 14 persons, as a bomber it would carry a crew of four.

Alteration Of Texas Speed Law To Allow 60 Miles Per Hour Is Considered Likely

FORT WORTH, June 4. (AP)—A program which would modernize and simplify Texas traffic laws will be proposed by the governor's traffic safety committee in its second annual session here June 15, C. J. Rutland, committe chairman, said today.

He said many of the present statutes were enacted a decade ago and, with major advancement in highway construction and safety development of motor vehicles, a number of the acts needed to be brought up to date.

To Discuss Speeds

Special attention will be given present speed limitations, Rutland said.

Under the proposed recodifying, speed limitations may be given a maximum of 60 miles on the open uncongested highways during the day and 45 miles at night.

Governor George Earle of Pennsylvania will be the principal speaker, and Gene Howe, Amarillo publisher, will preside.

Oil Workers Union Will Open Meet In Houston On Monday

The convention sessions are expected to last until Friday, closing with the election of officers. H. C. Fremming, president, will preside at the sessions.

Sweeping Changes In Interior Of City Hall Proposed In Remodeling Project

Tentative Plans For Work Made

Sweeping changes in the interior arrangements of City hall are provided in architect's drawings completed Saturday which will form part of the application for a PWA grant in financing the project.

Blueprints, which were described as wholly tentative and subject to revision, were prepared by O. R. Walker, Lubbock architect, by request of the city commission.

Major Changes Listed

Major changes in the interior layout as provided in the specifications are:

1. Additional space for the police department, including cell block for approximately 40 adult offenders and separate and private wards for women and juveniles.

2. Removal of utilities, tax, auditing and service departments from the second floor to the first floor into the space now occupied by the fire department, so as to eliminate the necessity for step climbing by those who call at the city hall to pay light and water bills, render property assessments, pay taxes or for other similar business.

Other Space Is Provided

3. Provision of additional space for all other city departments now housed in the city.

Estimated total cost of the improvement was placed at $59,800, for which a grant of 45 per cent, or $26,910 is sought.

That application follows one already filed for fire department expansion to cost an estimated $205,820 and involving as major features the construction of a new central station, a new suburban station and the purchase of a site. PWA grant of $92,900 is asked in that application.

Would Give Police More Room

Most drastic of the proposed city hall changes, should tentative plans be carried out, would be in the police department. One criticism of the present arrangement for the department there has been the lack of adequate facilities for the keeping of prisoners. Space now available is designed to care for only 16 prisoners, with absolutely no provision made for the separation of negroes from whites, nor for the privacy of women and juveniles. All are housed in one room, separated only by thin metal partitions which extend to a height of only about eight feet. There were occasions last winter when as many as 80 men, many them wildly drunk and some of them sick were confined there at the same time.

The first draft of plans also proposes to give to the department the space on the first floor now occupied by the Retail Merchants association. Desk sergeants would be on duty there and it also would serve as the corporation courtroom. The merchants association now rents the space from the city for $300 per year.

On the second floor, if the plans should be finally adopted, the meeting room of the city commission and the city manager's office would remain as they are. The chamber of commerce quarters also would remain on the front of the north side of the building, but the plans propose to take from the chamber a director's meeting room. The city engineer's office would be moved across the hall from the north to the south side of the building and would be given a considerably enlarged space. This shift would provide additional room for the health department, the city laboratory and for city building, plumbing and electrical inspectors.

Sixty-Five Cops Are Required To Capture This Robber

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—It took 65 policemen and four trolley motormen to capture Joseph Scaffa, suspect in the $2,100 holdup of a Brooklyn poultry market.

As Scaffa fled from the market yesterday, he fought a running gun battle with police, who cornered him in a street car barn.

There were 39 trolley cars in the barn. The motormen methodically backed out 38, and police found Scaffa hiding under the last car. They recovered the $2,100.

Police said Scaffa, 29, alias Joseph Fulgiere, was paroled two months ago from Great Meadow prison at Comstock, N. Y., where he had been serving a term for robbery.

Identity Of Man Who Died With $10,000 In Pocket Is Sought

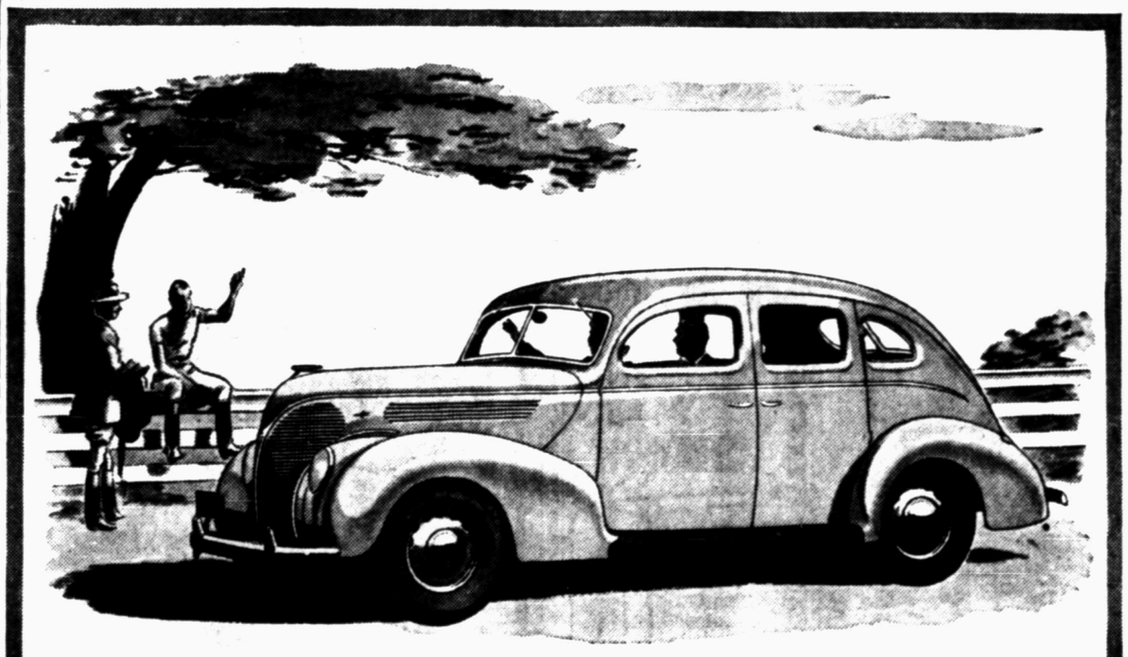

LAPORTE, Ind., June 4. (AP)—The identity of "Mr. X," who had $10,000 in his pockets when killed by an automobile near here August 16, 1937, remained a mystery to officials today as Coroner Daniel Bernoske filed a verdict of accidental death and closed the case.

Bernoske said he had not recorded a verdict until now because he had been hopeful the man could be identified. The coroner said the $10,000 would be held in the county treasury for a year and if it is not claimed by that time, it would be turned into the school fund.

8 Cylinder Quality

ALL THE WAY THROUGH!

The De Luxe Fordor Sedan

ONE important measure of a modern motor car is the number of its cylinders. Two cylinders were enough in the early days. Later on, most people were satisfied with four cylinders. But today, America's best cars have 8 cylinders or more.

8 or more cylinders mean a smoother flow of power, and more alert performance. They usually mean more money too. Only Ford has been able to build a fine 8-cylinder car at a low price — with low operating costs.

The extra value of its 8-cylinder engine is reflected all through the Ford V-8. In riding comfort and driving ease. In handy instruments and handsome interiors. In gentle, positive brakes that win warm praise from owners. In clean, honest design from radiator to rear deck. In dozens of other details that you discover as you live with the car.

You'll like the Ford V-8—whether you choose the De Luxe for its added bigness and beauty—or the Standard "60" for its greater gasoline mileage. Both are priced low. And both are built on the same chassis—with 8-cylinder quality all the way through!

Somber Lines Of American Drama Are Written Upon 148,000 College Diplomas

Fight For Jobs Being Launched

By JOHN LEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 4.—The somber lines of an American drama are being written today on 148,000 new college diplomas.

They tell the story of war between fathers and sons—a war for jobs.

On the one hand, boys under 25 years old, just out of school.

On the other, men from 40 years on, veteran workers thrown out of jobs by the depression and never taken back.

Boys Who Need Jobs

Boys who need employment if they are to marry and rear families and take their rightful part in the American tradition.

Men who need jobs if they are to meet the responsibilities of families already acquired.

Unemployment is not among these two groups alone.

Youth and age always have competed for employment, but the line of struggle never has been so clearly marked. There are three reasons for this, labor students say: first, the current recession; second, industry's increasing demand for specialization; and third, the crystallization of "age group" consciousness.

Discouraging Outlook

A survey of college plament bureaus throughout the country reflects the discouraging outlook facing the 148,000 graduates the U. S. education office says will leave college this June.

The 148,000 is 3,000 more than last year.

Compared to this increased supply, the college estimate a decrease in job demand as low as 5 per cent under last year. Many schools do not even attempt figures.

Harvard, for example, says there are "not many" jobs waiting for its 700 graduates and that "no" type of employment is "plentiful." Massachusetts State has work ahead for "not more than half the class." Cornell reports its 900 seniors are finding opportunity "the lowest in four years." The University of Pennsylvania says industry is "slow in signing up" its 1600 prospects. Carnegie Tech speaks of "promises on the basis of fall business." The University of Virginia says jobs there are "20 per cent under 1937."

Cheery Exceptions

Notre Dame has jobs for 65 to 75 per cent of its men. Iowa State expects to place "70 per cent by September 1." St. Louis university has work for "mostly all" its grads. Things at the University of Colorado are "almost as bright as last year." But those are cheery exceptions.

At the University of Missouri, things are "steadily worse."

Knowing that their age group represents 38 per cent of all the men on WPA rolls, workers over 40 years old are forming "protective" groups from New England to California.

The "over forty project" has been incorporated in New York, under the sponsorship of such successful people as Playwright Channing Pollock and Producer Brock Pemberton, for the purpose of persuading employers to fill at least 40 per cent of their jobs with men over 40.

Leagues Are Formed

The "Life Begins at 40 League," has a similar purpose, as do the "Forty Onward League," "Over 40," and "The Foundation for Americans of Mature Age." The American Legion has added its voice in behalf of aging war veterans out of work.

This agitation has been effective to some degree, at least.

The Massachusetts legislature has passed a law banning any contract which forbids employment of persons over 40.

The New York legislature has forbidden discrimination because of age in civil service jobs.

Just as the "over 40's" are organized, so are the "under 25's."

The American Youth Congress, which directly or indirectly reaches over a million youth of college age, carries on a continuous program in congress and elsewhere in support of the labor movement, social legislation and "betterment of economic conditions of American youth."

Active In Same Field

The American Student union is active in the same field, carrying on pertinent surveys and distributing information to its members.

The National Student Federation of America has a full time office in Washington, where it has helped set up the national institute of public affairs as an "on the spot" training school for promising students interested in government and allied problems.

Partly because of these organizations, the man who leaves college now has no rosy illustrations about how far his diploma will carry him.

He knows that many diplomas before his in recent years have led only to the WPA rolls, 14 per cent of which are made up of persons under 25 years.

Knows He Is Green

He knows that because of his "greenness" he has little hope of ousting older men from jobs. But he also knows that where he competes with a man over 40 who is out of a job (there usually is no competition between the two in highly skilled work due to the college graduate's lack of experience) he has an edge due to his youth, his health and his adaptability to change—the three big arguments industry is using in refusing to re-employ "over 40's."

He entered school at what he thought was the beginning of a new upturn, and now is emerging in the dark of a new recession. He expected to find jobs plentiful; he is finding, according to the survey, these avenues offer the best outlook:

Selling. Business needs salesmen, and apparently is taking on all the commission men it can get.

Education. Teachers are always needed.

Accounting.

The corner drug store. They sell everything there now from soda to bicycle tires. Drugs are a minor item, but someone must dispense them. The colleges say there is a definite scarcity of registered pharmacists.

Ernest Thompson Will Not File Protest Over The Filing Of "Vernest Thompson"

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AUSTIN, June 4.—Ernest Thompson will not protest to the Democratic executive committee over the inclusion of the name "Vernon O. Thompson" in the list of gubernatorial candidates against him in the July 23 primary, he declared today.

In a statement issued from his headquarters here, Thompson said he had "no fear that the intelligent people of Texas will be fooled by such trickery."

Inspired By Statement

His statement apparently was inspired by the recent assertion of another opponent, William McCraw, that the executive committee would be justified in ruling out the candidate whose name was so suspiciously similar to that of Ernest Thompson.

Thompson's statement follows:

"As far as I am concerned, the state Democratic executive committee can put the name of Vernest O. Thompson, or any other person, on the ballot. I have no fear that the intellegent people of Texas will be fooled by such trickery.

"The attorney general has now issued a statement deploring and disclaiming any responsibility for the filing of this other Dallas county candidate's name. I am glad the attorney general has done this. While I have no doubt my political enemies are responsible for this effort to deceive the voters, it is all right with me for the state committee to go ahead and put this man's name on the ballot, and I shall not protest to the committee."

Terry County Attorney Goes To Dallas For Treatment On Eye

Unfavorable change in the condition of the right eye of Burton Hackney of Brownfield, Terry county attorney, caused his departure for Dallas Friday night for consultation with specialists there. Mrs. Hackney accompanied him.

A scratch on the eyeball, believed by Hackney to have been caused by sand, resulted in an infection for which he had been undergoing treatment here the past month. The operations were performed and early this week he expressed the belief he could resume his duties as county attorney at Brownfield within a few days. The condition changed for the worse, however, and the trip to Dallas followed. Fears were expressed that removal of the orb may become necessary.

Hackney is the brother of Mrs. G. H. Nelson, 2120 Seventeenth street. Mrs. Hackney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tarrance, 2113 Ninth street.

Carl Benz first connected a gas engine to a vehicle and drove it on the streets of Munich.

Hope For Lost Boy Abandoned

PRINCETON, Fla., June 4. (AP)—A week ago tonight kidnapers snatched slumbering James Bailey Cash, jr., from his bed. His father, commenting publicly for the first time, said today he and his wife had abandoned hope they would see their only child alive again.

Agents of the federal bureau of investigation, with Director J. Edgar Hoover personally on the ground, doggedly pushed examination of clues.

M. F. Braxton, 50-year-old Princeton carpenter who was taken by G-men from a crowd near the Cash home Wednesday, had not returned to his bungalow here and his son-in-law, Ray Rayburn, was absent from homestead. It was presumed they still were being held.

Willard Campbell, one of those questioned and released, told the Miami Daily News in a copyrighted interview that "the Braxtons figured they were being held because they had a little difficulty with Bailey Cash—it was something about a debt they owed Bailey."

Subjected To Tests

Campbell also said all those questioned were subjected to lie detection tests.

Hoover emphasized that all persons questioned had been "voluntary witnesses," that no arrests had been made and no charges filed.

Search for the body and for possible clues went forward in the area north and south of here.

Planes and boats were used in addition to ground crews. Divers descended into rock pits and coastal waters.

The Cach boy, a blond, blue-eyed lad who would have been six years old Aug. 2, was stolen from his bedroom by abductors who let themselves in the back door after splitting a screen. The father received three notes in which $10,000 ransom was demanded and paid the money on a solitary drive Tuesday morning over a route mapped in a note.

Baby Falls From Her Mother's Arms And Plunges To Death

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—Vexed by her maid's announcement she was quitting, Mrs. Lillian Jacobs wept.

Then, because her eyes were red, Mrs. Jacobs was ashamed to take her 7-month-old daughter, Karan, out for her usual day's airing.

Instead she took the child to the roof of her Riverside Drive apartment.

The baby, attracted by a glistening radio aerial dangling above her at the roof's edge, grabbed it and tugged strongly. The sudden movement jerked her from her mother's arms, and the baby tumbled 16 floors to death.

Endorsed For Post

At least three of the five districts comprising the fifth division of the Texas department of the American Legion have endorsed Larry L. Daniel of Abilene, pictured above, for national committeeman from Texas, friends were advised here Saturday. Among endorsements was that of the recent 19th district convention in Lubbock, which Daniel attended.

More Than 1,000 Delegates To Attend Wildlife Meet

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP)—More than 1,000 delegates are expected to attend the Texas Wildlife federation convention in Galveston next Friday and Saturday, Manager J. W. Chapman said today.

The program lists Carl D. Shoemaker of Washington, D. C., secretary of the National Wildlife federation, as principal speaker.

Other speakers include: President Henry W. Flagg of Galveston; G. A. Bone of Waco, sports magazine publisher.

At 230 fet under water, pressure is more than 99 pounds to the square inch.

Hearing Of Criminal Cases In 72nd Court Scheduled

Hearing of criminal cases in the 72nd district court of Judge Daniel A. Blair will feature court activities here this week.

All cases in which arrests have been made and which were returned by a grand jury at the opening of this term will be subject to call, in addition to "three or four" carried over from the last term.

Judge Blair will call his criminal docket at 10 o'clock Monday morning and a jury will report at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon to begin the week's work, court attaches said.

The 99th district court of Judge E. L. Pitts will be devoted to the hearing of jury civil cases. Several cases are subject to call in that court this week.

Criminal cases are docketed for hearing before Judge J. J. Dillard of county court and a jury. Jurors will report at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, authorities announced.

Deadline Nears For Candidates

Monday midnight will be the deadline for filing by candidates for district offices if they wish their names printed on the official ballots to be used in the Democratic primary elections.

The candidates must file their names with L. C. Ellis, Lubbock county Democratic chairman, whose office is at the Lubbock National bank building.

Deadline for filing candidacies for county and precinct offices is June 18, he announced.

Ellis also pointed to a new ruling relative to moving from one precinct to another.

In towns of 10,000 or more population, voters moving from one precinct to another since obtaining poll taxes must obtain transfers from the office of the tax collector at least four days before the election.

Liquor Law Violation Charges Filed Against Three In City

Three charges of liquor law violation were filed Saturday in the county court of Judge J. J. Dillard.

Marie Rodriquez, on a plea of guilty, was sentenced to serve a day in jail and assessed court costs. Jim Gallegos was given a similar punishment.

Aurelia Aragon late Saturday was held in lieu of bond.

John T. Willis, inspector for the Texas Liquor Control board, swore to the complaints against Rodriquez and Aragon. The complaint against Gallegos was sworn to by Ragan Reed, constable at Slaton.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Sigmund Freud Leaves Vienna

LONDON, June 4. (AP)—Sigmund Freud, world-famed founder of psychoanalysis, is coming to London from nazified Vienna, determined at the age of 82 to complete his phychoanalysis of the Bible.

Friends said he was virtually penniless and "had a great shock" with Germany's absorption of Austria. They said he has remained in the seclusion of his Vienna home, "dreading insults if he emerged—because he is a Jew."

Live With Daughter

In London Freud intends to live with his daughter Anna and work on his partly completed Biblical analysis. This, it was said, explains "the sub-conscious wishes and fears of the people" of Biblical times.

Freud left a Vienna which had been his home since childhood, a city which he helped make famous as a center of modern scientific thought.

He left Austrian Germany to the accompaniment of nazi press attacks against his work. Brief notices of his departure referred to his famed psychoanalysis school as "a pornographic Jewish specialty."

Money Confiscated

Freud's publishing house and "all his "money" were confiscated, and although he was permitted to keep his own library, all new books in his Vienna publishing office were destroyed, riends said.

Freud left Vienna imploring journalists not to write of his departure until he had crossed the German border, fearing difficulties.

He was due in London Wednesday or Thursday.

son of a Tacoma, Wash., lumber man, was seized in May, 1935, held seven days and then released unharmed when his father paid a gang $200,000, of which $157,319 was later recovered.

Girls Freed For $30,000

Mary McElroy, of Kansas City, was released on payment of $30,000 ransom to Walter McGee, later convicted.

Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, of Louisville, Ky., was freed on payment of $50,000 to Thomas H. Robinson, jr., now a lifer at Alcatraz.

There were numerous other kidnapings, of course.

The three checked by the FBI as unsolved are the kidnapings of Peter Levine, 12, of New Rochelle, N. Y.; Charles Mattson, 10, of Tacoma, Wash., and Arthur Fried, 32, of White Plains, N. Y.

The Levine boy disappeared February 24 last while homeward bound from school. Last Sunday the boy's headless body was washed up from Long Island sound.

Ransom Efforts Spurned

The Mattson boy vanished December 26, 1936. The kidnaper spurned efforts to pay a $28,000 ransom. The boy's body was found sixteen days later.

The Fried case lacked sensational elements. Office manager of a sand and stone company in Manhattan, Fried disappeared December 4 and is still missing. Figures on the ransom demanded vary from a low sum to $100,000.

Most recent of the big money kidnapings was that of Charles S. Ross, 72, wealthy Chicagoan, who was seized last September 25. Ransom of $50,000 was paid. Later Peter Anders disclosed he had killed Ross and his confederate, James Atwood Gray, and buried their bodies in Wisconsin. He is now awaiting execution.

With exceptions here and there, the trend seems to be towards children if the Levine and Cash cases and some others can be taken to mean anything.

School Expansion

fication of the building program would be necessary at an election at which citizens of the school district would decide whether bonds should be voted to provide funds matching the grant.

If the grant should be approved and bonds should be voted, it would not be the plan, officials said, to plunge immediately into the entire building program.

Built As Needed

Building and additions would be built as needed, and if changing conditions should remove the necessity for any or all of the projects, they would not be built at all.

The tentative program, however, was prepared, officials said, with the thought that should scholastic population of the district continue to grow as it has in the past, all of the contemplated facilities, and perhaps more, will be needed within a very few years.

Recognition of the probable need for expansion even beyond that provided in the program was explained as having dictated the provision for the two "first unit" buildings in the tentative program.

Each of those units, when erected, will be a building in itself. Each, however, will be of such architectural design that it can easily enlarged to conform with needs created by future development.

Joe B. Bates Wins Congress Seat Vacated By Fred Vinson

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 4. (AP)—Joe B. Bates, Democrat, won by 2,400 majority from Dr. James Cecil Sparks, Republican, today in a special election to fill the vacancy in the eighth Kentucky congressional district according to unofficial returns complete from all but one of the 20 counties in the district.

The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Fred M. Vinson who became judge of a District of Columbia court.

Americans in Paris seeking dawn excitement hie to "Les Halles", famous gay, noisy marketplace. So when society folk from New York's silk-stocking section arranged a benefit party, they decided on a visit in the wee hours to slum-surrounded Washington Market. Here some of them are pictured having an 18-carrot good time among the vegetables. The monkey business going on at left, above, is Chairman Rosemary Cox, with an organ-grinder's pet on her bean. Firing Starts Monday In Lubbock's Battle Of The Cow Pens; Club Women Are To Open Drive For Approval Of Livestock Zoning

The firing will start Monday in Lubbock's approaching battle of the cow pens.

First shots of the verbal barrage are scheduled to follow a meeting Monday morning of women opposed to the keeping of livestock within residential zones of Lubbock. The city referenda on livestock zoning are set for Tuesday, June 14.

Scene of the meeting will be the home of Mrs. J. E. Hartley, 1518 Avenue O, and the time 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Hartley is president of the Garden club and has been one of those most active in demanding the elimination of cow lots from residential districts.

Committee Members Invited

Especially invited to attend, Mrs. Hartley announced, are members of committees from nine clubs which have endorsed the livestock zoning proposal. Assisting Mrs. Hartley in preparations Saturday for the meeting Monday morning were Mrs. George D. Dupree and Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw.

Clubs for which committees were announced as having been appointed included: Garden — Mrs. Clark M. Mullican, Mrs. W. S. Posey, Mrs. George Q. McCarty and Mrs. J. C. Rigney; Forum — Mrs. H. J. Bingham, Mrs. G. W. Watkins and Mrs. F. L. McRee; Athaneum — Mrs. Irving L. Jones, Mrs. W. W. Yocum and Mrs. F. V. Brown; Sorosis — Mrs. A. W. Evans, Mrs. C. B. Powell and Mrs. R. T. Campbell; and 20th Century—Mrs. C. M. Ballinger, Mrs. M. C. Overton and Mrs. R. E. McDonald.

Clubs listed as having endorsed the movement but for which committees were still to be named included the Junior 20th Century, 1933 Study, Shakespeare and Between-the-Pages.

Planned activities by the women's committee included tentatively broadcasts over KFYO, personal appeals to voters and newspaper space.

There had been no organized opposition to the livestock zoning proposal apparent Saturday, but observers said there had been undercover activity which undoubtedly will gain momentum with the nearer approach of the poll. The proposed ordinance would forbid specifically the keeping of milk cows, horses, mules, jennies, jacks, goats and sheep within those zones where the majority of the resident citizens are opposed continuing to that privilege.

Zones in which elections are to be held are bounded by the following streets: Zone 1—Sixth and Twenty-sixth street, and Avenue H and Q; zone 2—Sixth and Nineteenth streets and Q and College avenues; and zone 3—south of Nineteenth and west of Avenue Q, in each case to the city limits.

Ballots for the election were delivered Saturday to the county clerk's office where absentee votes may be cast up to and including next Friday, city officials announced.

Under-The-Hood Inspection Will Probably Be Routine Task For This Motorist

CHICAGO, June 4. (AP)—An under-the-hood inspection probably will be a routine task for Oscar Strauss every time he uses his automobile henceforth.

After five minutes of driving yesterday he pulled up at a garage and complained that the motor was missing fire.

A mechanic lifted the hood, blanched, and switched off the ignition.

Taped to the steering column were six sticks of dynamite. Two wires ran from a detonator on the sticks to two spark plugs. But there was no ground wire to complete electrical connection. That, said police, undoubtedly saved Strauss' life.

Strauss, known to police as "Little Germany," said he had no enemies.

cryolite and apatite. Less than one part of flourine in a million of water is enough to attack bones and teeth.

The public knows only one of its effects, mottled teeth. This happens to children who drink the water while their teeth are forming. There is no visible effect on adults except their wisdom teeth.

But experiments on animals show that fluorine water affects all bones.

Until about two years ago fluorine waters were believed confined mostly to the southwest, some mountain states and the far west. But now public health surveys are finding more of the troublesome water. It is widely distributed over North America and much of the United States.

The bone filter costs in laboratory manufacture one to two cents a pound. Two pounds will filter the flourine out of nearly 500 gallons of water.

The University of Arizona scientists have made small filters for private homes. Experiments with these indicate that the bone keeps drinking and cooking water entirely free from fluorine.

"Back-To-The-Land" Project Of Henry Ford May Become Nationwide In Scope

Results Shown In Experiment

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, June 4.—On a site of some 300 acres of land in nearby Dearborn, not far from the farm on which he was born nearly three-quarters of a century ago, Henry Ford has under way a "back-to-the-land" project which he hopes may become nation-wide in scope and furnish the impetus for an "out-of-the-depression" movement.

"This is no mere experiment," Ford said today, shading his eyes with his hand to look far across the many acres of small plants pushing up through soil cultivated by nearly three score needy youths. It is, Ford said, the result of many experimental efforts carried on under his direction over a long period. There are wax beans and potatoes; radishes and melons—"every crop that will grow in this region."

Named Camp Legion

"We will establish very definitely, with the cooperation of veterans' organizations," Ford added, "that an individual can live from a relatively small piece of land if he properly works it." A group of American Legionnaires have taken an interest in the present undertaking at Dearborn and the youthful farmers have named their community "Camp Legion."

Ranging in age from 17 to 20 years the youths work the farm for eight hours daily. For this they receive $2 a day in addition to their food and shelter, but, more important to them and to Ford, is the partnership they have established. Under this arrangement, the young farmers will divide the profits to be derived from the sale of their product.

Plants Are Visible

As far as the eye could see from the mess-hall of boys' camp or the tents in which they sleep, tiny green plants of wax beans, green beans, soy beans and other varieties of farm products were visible in criss-crossing rows, all apparently in excellent shape to produce maximum crops.

Seemingly not one of the many thousands of Ford acres is idle. Ford's idea is that every foot of land should be devoted to some productive purpose. Apparently he proposes to realize that objective with his own land and hopes that the result obtained will spread the idea to other acres idle, he explains, "because the farmer hasn't had the incentive for greater production."

Much of the food consumed by the young agriculturalists was produced on the Ford farms, in the Dearborn area. Currently, milk, butter and eggs come from the dairy farms; bread is baked on the spot and includes about 28 per cent of soy bean meal—one of Ford's favorite "all purpose" crops.

"If people only knew," said Ford today, "how simple it is to make a living from the soil, there would be no hunger anywhere."

Texas Politics

today reiterated his stand against new taxes and for frugality in state spending, complimenting opponents for assertedly coming around to his views.

He also announced he would not protest to the Democratic executive committee, which meets June 12 probably in Austin, against including the name of Vernest O. Thompson on the ballot. He expressed opinion the people would not be deceived by the similarity of names.

During the week other places included Sinton, Kerrville, Lockhart and Temple.

Touring East Texas, Karl A. Crowley demanded at Henderson and Jacksonville regulation of oil monopolies and chain stores to enforce a "just" payment of taxes. Previously he had spoken at Kaufman, Terrell, Commerce, Mount Pleasant and Sulphur Springs.

Advances Campaign

Tom Hunter advanced his campaign with a speech at Hillsboro today after addresses in South Texas towns, including Hempstead and Houston. Reform and retrenchment in government headline his plea.

P. D. Renfro also has been campaigning in South Texas, having started the week with visits to Baytown and Goose Creek and subsequently working through Harris county. Hempstead, Brenham, Navasota, Bryan, Madisonville and Huntsville.

Clarence E. Farmer's schedule route him to Marlin today and to Waco tomorrow for speeches to old folks. He said in advance he would charge Crowley with improperly using a congressional franc, would criticize campaign contributions to Ernest O. Thompson and would discuss Attorney General McCraw's interpretation of the pension law.

James A. Ferguson planned to open his campaign in Corsicana June 11.

Chinese troops. A Japanese communique said today, however, that the division had broken through the Chinese ring.

Earlier today, Japanese declared that Liuho, betwen Kweiteh and Lanfeng, had ben captured.

Foreign military sources here had no information on the reported Lunghai developments but said they believed the reported Japanese occupation of Kaifeng possibly was correct since the invaders had been threatening the city for several days.

MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND

LIFEGUARDS

Would you drive a car without four-wheel brakes? Would you choose a car without an all-steel body? — or safety glass? Of course not! . . . You should feel exactly the same way about Goodyear LifeGuards! LifeGuards are reserve tires within your tires. They take the danger out of sudden tire failures at any speed and are motoring's fourth great safety achievement. When your tires fail, LifeGuards remain inflated and carry you to a safe, normal, controlled stop, no matter how fast you are traveling.

In spite of millions spent in research, neither Goodyear nor any other tire manufacturer can eliminate the possibility of sudden tire failure. No tire is blow-out proof. No tire is puncture proof. Therefore, no motorist is safe from the dangers of tire failure.

The conventional tubes in LifeGuards are made to the exact size of the casing, of 10 layers of laminated rubber, and do not split when blown-out or punctured. They may be vulcanized or patched repeatedly and their long life is amazing.

The LifeGuard has a 2-ply reserve tire inside the conventional tube. Both are inflated through the same valve. If casing and tube fail, this inner tire holds enough aid to support the car until it can be brought to a smooth, controlled stop without ruining the tire.

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JUNE 5, 1938

Visiting Golfers Are Eliminated In Semi-Finals Of WTGA Tourney Saturday

Allen, Bihl Meet In Final Match Today

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

The championship trophy of the fourteenth annual West Texas Golf association tournament will belong to a Lubbock young man along about 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Last of the "foreign" threats was removed yesterday afternoon when Joe Bihl, slender young Meadowbrook star, defeated Billy Bob Coffey, 22-year-old Texas star from Fort Worth, on the 18th green of their quarter-final match. The score was 2 up, as Bihl chipped up for a "gimme" par and Coffey missed a par putt.

Allen Eliminates Smith

Contesting Bihl for the laurels today over 36 holes will be Manson Allen, returning to tournament form after a couple of years of mediocre due to foot trouble. Allen came through with a fine 1 up victory over Glenn D. Smith, who should be set down, perhaps, as the tournament hotshot. Smith had removed the tournament medalist, Foy Fanning of Abilene, and the tournament favorite, J. T. Hammett of Rising Star, and Smith was THE man they were talking about.

But along came Allen in the afternoon, after defeating Paul Gore, a trusty Amarillo representative, in the forenoon, to swap out hole after hole with Smith, and finally win with a birdie on the 18th. Manson was one over par for the round.

Finals Start This Morning

At 9 o'clock this morning, Allen and Bihl will tee off for the biggest golf honor west of Fort Worth and east of Los Angeles. To the winner will go the most expensive and elaborate trophy ever presented a golfer in these parts, along with the honor of being topmost in a field of 200 players.

A total of 252 golfers registered for the West Texas tournament, setting an all-time record for the event. Of that number, 52 failed to qualify or withdrew, leaving the 200, still a record for players, to compete in six full flights and an 8-man seventh flight.

Championships in all seven flights, and consolations winners in each, will be recognized late this afternoon at Country Club, where prizes will be awarded.

Glenn Smith Surprises

Following stormy weather Friday night, the Country club was a golfer's delight yesterday, and in the quiet, hot weather the big field went to work most industriously.

Glenn Smith, springing his first of three surprises by defeating Bob Hale in the first round and then taking out Foy Fanning, the medalist, in the second round, all of this on Friday, faced the favorite, long-driving, careful-playing Hammett, yesterday morning. Smith had two strikes on him when he started. The match drew a large gallery, local fans pulling for Smith but foreseeing the inevitable. But it was a case of the inevitable never happening. Cool, Smith worked on Hammett with par golf, and held the tanned yougster down on a level plane through 17 holes. He won the 18th and the match, and it was probably the outstanding triumph of the tournament. Hammett was tournament favorite by numerous dollars, having sold for the highest price at the Calcutta Thursday night.

Allen Beats Gore

Meanwhile, Manson Allen, back in the thick of tournament wars after two seasons of off and on play, was taking out John Bell, the Lubbock lad who had defeated another high-priced favorite, Obie Bristow, Big Spring, in the first round, and Paul Gore of Amarillo, the Panhandle city's choice.

Allen had defeated Grover Austin of Pampa, runner up in the recent Green Belt tournament, in the first round, 3 and 1, while Bell was taking out Bristow. Allen was one over par in beating Bell. He was just about even yesterday morning in beating Gore, who had won by default from Joe Dick Slaughter on Friday. Slaughter was called from the tournament, after playing one hole with Gore, because of the death of a relative in Dalhart.

In the lower bracket, Coffey, another favorite who wore a fancy price tag, had trouble with Owen Crump, steady Crosbyton veteran, in the quarter-finals, but won, 2 and 1.

Coffey Ousts Crump

Crump had won from Ed Doherty, Lubbock star, in the second round, 1 up in 19 holes, and has been shooting great golf. He first defeated Jake Morgan of Big Spring, while Doherty, one of the local favorites, was taking out G. A. Chesswell of Abilene, 1 up. Coffey and Crump had a battle, both playing close to par golf. But Coffey's dead approach shots did the business and the Fort Worth lad had himself a victory on the 17th green.

Bihl and Coffey swapped holes like "you hit me and I'll hit you" after halving the No. 1, and came in off the out nine, all even. The first was the only hole they halved. One or the other won every other hole. Bill really won the match on the 13th, by holing out for a half from the froghair after two "unlucky" shots down the side of the fairway. After that, Bihl was willing to make his own "breaks" and young Coffey found a competition too hot to handle.

Some of the second and third flight battles were as tough as the championship flight. Numerous top notch players failed by several strokes to make the top bracket, and they made it tough going in the lower sections.

Douglas Jones, Big Spring star and generally a championship contender, who failed to make the top bracket with his qualifying score of 80, progressed and prospered through the upper bracket of the second flight, reaching the finals yesterday with a 3 and 2 victory over Stayton Bonner of Wichita Falls. Jones had defeated Josh Billings of Sweetwater, 7 and 6, in the quarter-finals, and today he meets Alfred Holton, Lubbock hotshot whose 79 failed to place him in the first 32. Holton came through with a 1 up morning victory over the stout lefthander, H. G. Agnew of Ballinger, and in the afternoon he defeated M. R. Tripp, 2 up. Tripp had won from E. T. Daniel, 1 up, in the morning.

Frank Kimbrough, generally recognized as a first flighter, advanced to the finals of the third flight and will meet Francis Finberg of Lubbock in the finals today. Kimbrough defeated Morgan Neill, veteran contender from Odessa, 4 and 3, in the semifinal round, after taking out Bill Roden of Glen Rose, 5 and 4, in the morning battle. Finberg beat Dr. J. N. Arvin of Brownwood, 1 up, in the semi-final, following a 5 and 4 victory over C. J. Quinlan of Lubbock in the morning. Arvin had won from L. H. Creager of Mineral Wells, 6 and 4, in the morning.

Americans Lose Walker Cup To British After 16 Years Of Monopoly; Score, 7-4

By SCOTTY RESTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 4. —An ancient St. Andrews caddie, his blue eyes swimming with tears, carried America's Walker Cup into the historic front room of the Royal and Ancient Golf club tonight and set it up triumphantly.

For sixteen years Great Britain had tried to win the trophy. Today it did—7 matches to 4.

The facts of this victory—and it was decisive—can be dismissed summarily.

Ward Squares Count

The British led at the end of Scotch foursome play yesterday by 2 to 1, having halved the other match.

Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash., squared it today by playing 25 holes in five under par to beat Frank Pennink, English amateur champion in 1937 and 1938, 12 and 11. Scotland's Hector Thomson thumped what was only a strange shagow of Johnny Goodman, 6 and 4, but irrespressible Charley Yates, who won the British Amateur just a week ago, came back with a 2 and 1 victory over Jim Bruen, 18-year-old Irish prodigy, to tie it up again at 3 to 3.

Then, for a brief and brilliant period, the United States led at 4 to 3 as Johnny Fischer, playing one of the most heroic games of his life, reeled off sixteen holes in six under 4's to make up a four-hole deficit and beat a much-astonished Leonard Crawley, 3 and 2.

Texan Loses Match

After that, however, America's resistance collapsed. Reynolds Smith lost six of the first nine holes on the afternoon round to go down before Scottish Gordon Peters, 9 and 8; Charles Stowe, a surprise winner, came from behind to nip Charles (Chuck) Kocsis, 2 and 1, and Alex Kyle's 5 and 4 victory over Slim Fred Haas, jr., ended the struggle.

Cecil Ewing's splendid one-up triumph over Ray Billows, which brought the final count to 7 to 4, was oxer-looked in the rush to see Britain at last get the trophy.

The presentation ceremony, made in front of the club-house with the great gallery of 10,000 spilling down over the first tee and onto the eighteenth green of the old course, really was historic.

Yates Calms Crowd

Francis Ouimet, the U. S. team captain, told them of his sincere happiness over their winning the cup and, when he sat down, they called for Yates, who, by his infectious good nature, has won their hearts.

When they calmed down, Charley said, "Let's everybody sing a little song here." The crowd laughed and Yates started singing an old Scottish air. In a minute the entire crowd was following him.

That was the end, and a fitting end to the day's work.

CHICAGO, June 4. (AP) — Three horses reached the finish line of the $6,550 Steger handicap at Lincoln fields today virtually in the same fraction of a second, but the camera gave the decision to the Milky Way farm stable's Mountain Ridge.

Trouble Seen In National Open

DENVER, June 4. (AP)—A week from today that big shiny cup will be handed to the 1938 National Open champion.

But from now until then there will be little relaxing among the parchasing brigade on Cherry Hills' deceptive stretches, battleground for the first open ever held in the west.

They figure to be too busy worrying beginning Thursday, when the firing starts, about the trouble that threatens nearly every wandering shot.

They Shake Heads

From Defending Champion Ralph Guldahl of Madison, N. J., to the darker of the darkhorses it has them shaking their heads.

After two vain attempts to catch up with par, Guldahl said "286 will be good enough to win."

To other early arrivals besides Guldahl—Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, 1934 champion; Dick Metz, Lake Forest, Ill.; Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, L. I. and Ky Laffoon of Chicago—the toughness of the course came as something of a jolt.

Vic Ghezzi Surprises

Two early favorites in the eyes of local sports writers and galleryites are the sandy-haired Hines, two-times Metropolitan Open champion, and big Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J.

Ghezzi, who has been surprising even himself with his distance off the tee in the thin air, had reported the lowest practice round to date—a one-over-par 72. "Accurcay will pay off," Ghezzi said.

Possibilities Of The Louis-Schmeling Match Are Discussed By Associated Press Editor

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 4.—Maximilian Otto Siegfried Schmeling, the German with a pugilistic purpose, plans to add a brand new chapter to ring history on the evening of June 22, when he faces the dusky champion, Joe Louis, in the most widely-discussed match for the world heavyweight title since Gene Tunney retired ten years ago.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Alan Gould, general sports editor of the Associated Press and one of the leading sports authorities of the country, in the following story discusses the strong and weak points of Joe Louis, the world's heavyweight champion, and Max Schmeling, former champion who holds a knockout victory over the negro.)

Schmeling plans to become the first fighter to regain the heavyweight crown, which he originally won on a foul in a 1930 match with Jack Sharkey to decide Tunney's successor and lost, in 1932, to the same antagonist.

The German, as everyone knows, knocked out Louis in 12 rounds two years ago. The negro was not the champion then.

Now, at long last, Schmeling is within sight of the objective for which he had methodically and patiently prepared himself. The German is a difficult man to discourage.

Schmeling will be the fifth ex-champion to take a shot at the ultimate come-back target.

Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries and Jack Dempsey—a quartet of the all-time greatest—made the attempt and failed.

The match requires no artificial "build up." If the fight does not draw gate receipts of $1,000,000 it will chiefly be due to the high tariff ($30 ringside).

An International Brawl

There's also the theat of an anti-nazi boycott.

From all angles the fight involves an international argument that has fans sharply divided and the experts more cautious than they have been in years. You can start a debate anywhere.

There is sound logic for figuring about equal chances of victory, without hedging.

The German was generally rated a has-been when matched with Louis two years ago. But he fought

Lubbock Is Victor Over Spuds, 9-6

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

WINK, June 4.—Lubbock turned on the big guns tonight when hits counted to beat Wink in the second straight contest of a two-game series 9 to 6.

The game spotted with excitement furnished by both clubs was never in danger of getting away from the Hubbers but once when the Spudders tied the count in the fourth.

Mal Stevens started the barrage in the first with a circuit blow over the right field wall scoring Johnny Taylor who had drawn a pass. In the third Stevens gathered his second four-bagger of the night to score Taylor and Joe Gedzius. The latter had got a life of Red Roberts' error. Taylor had doubled ahead of Gedzius.

In the fifth Jack Cheeves misjudged Gedzius' long fly to right field and the ball bounced out of his hands and over the fence for a fluke home run.

The Hubbers scored again in the sixth, eighth and ninth chapters—once each—to ice the game away. Wink's first scores came in the third when Weekley and Bates who had walked, scored on a single, a fielder's choice, Gedzius fielding mistake, and a double. The Spudders scored three in the fourth.

One more run in the eighth on a fielder's choice, an error and a single finished the Spudders' tallies.

Stevens took batting honors with his two homers and a double in four official trips to the plate. Those were his thirteenth and fourteenth homers of the season and placed him in a tie with Al Carr, his teammate.

Barons And Boosters Break Even In Doubleheader

HOBBS, N. M., June 4. (Special) —Two long games consumed most today and tonight as Hobbs and Big Spring split even in a twin bill.

The Boosters took the 15-inning game under the lights, 6 to 5. Big Spring went on a wild spree this afternoon to bombard Hobbs, 19 to 7. Hank Henderson and Marshall Scott, starting hurlers, went the route in the nightcap.

LeBaron started the first game with a home run, and after Beecher Twitchell had passed three Jo-Jo Saparito parked one for four bases. The Barons counted 12 times in that inning.

Scott went about winning his own game in the 15th inning of the night game by doubling. Hogan singled him across. Dick Hobson tied the score at 5-all in the ninth on a homer with one on. Manager Neal Rabe also hit for the circuit.

Pasteurized Outruns Dauber At Belmont

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—The three year old championship picture was turned topsy turvy today when Dauber, winner of the Preakness and second in the Kentucky derby, bowed to the flying hooves of Mrs. W. Plunket Stewart's Pasteurized in the 70th running of the classic Belmont stakes.

Dauber, flying the silks of William DuPont, jr.'s, Foxcatcher farms, had held to 1 to 3 to whip five others, however, the end of the mile and a half found him a half-length back of Pasteurized.

National Bridge Champ Enters Fort Worth Net Tournament

FORT WORTH, June 4. (AP) — Entrance of the national contract bridge champion and eight University of Texas stars increased interest here tonight as entries for the Texas sectional tennis tournament whirled past the 100 mark.

The tournament starts Monday and runs through Saturday. Wilmer Allison of Austin, the former Davis Cupper, had chosen the meet as a vehicle to launch a come-back. From here he will start an eastern campaign.

Oswald Jacoby, Number 1 nationally among contract bridge players, entered the tournament tonight.

The maximum length of a combination of attached vehicles in New York state is 50 feet, including load and bumpers. This applies to all vehicles, registered in New York or of foreign registration.

Revolta Takes Tourney Lead

KANSAS CITY, June 4. (AP)—The birdies sang for black thatched Johnny Revolta of Milwaukee today and he scored a sparkling 68, five under par, for the first 18 holes of Kansas City's 54-hole $5,000 open golf tournament to tie "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper.

Needing birdies on the last two holes to deadlock Cooper, whose putter twice sang Eagles, Revolta came through like a champion. He sank an eight-footer on the final green to come in with a sizzling 32, four under par, after going out in 36.

Earlier Cooper, wilder than a rumor off the tee but deadly on recovery shots and putts, and combined two 34's.

Finals Carded Today

Hillcrest's par took a thorough beating despite the upsetting events of yesterday when lightning killed two spectators and caused cancellation of the first 18 holes. The final 36 will be played tomorrow.

Twenty-one of the approximately 120 entrants scored par or better. Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex., was alone in the 69 bracket, four were tied at 70, three at 71 and a half dozen at 72.

Horton Smith, Tony Penna, Floyd Mangrum and Willie Goggin shot 70. Leo Mallory, Darien, Conn., Gene Sarazen and Warren Reipen, St. Joseph, Mo., professional were bunched at 71.

Kopecky Meets Ex-Soldier

Canny old Joe Kopecky, the panther man of the wrestling ring, returned to town last week and made such a hit in the preliminaries at the Auditorium that he will get a shot in the main tussle this week.

Logical choice as his opponent is Soldier Thomas, who made ruffian John Nemanic's "uncle" shouts ring to the rafters last week in the main. The ex-soldier from the west was at his best against Nemanic.

With Kopecky the same rough-stalking Kopecky of old and Thomas one who can get rough at provokation, the match should be well worth witnessing.

'Andsome Andy Tremaine will have some rough sledding in the semi-final with Blacksmith Pedigo, too. The Arizonan can care for himself but the swarthy Pedigo is experienced in the rougher tactics of the game.

Gust Johnson, the big Swede, meets another toughie, Dizzy Dilly Davis, the Houston battler.

Three Players Climb In Batting Averages

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—Cecil Travis of Washington, in the American league and Enos Slaughter of St. Louis, and Chuck Klein of Philadelphia, in the National created the major disturbances in the big league hitting races this week, although last week's leaders still were out in front today.

Hal Trosky of the Indians, boasted a 18-point bulge over his nearest rival in the American league race, with a .388 batting average to date, and Cookie Lavagetto of Brooklyn, had a narrow edge in the senior circuit, with .361 mark.

BEAUMONT, June 4. (AP)—Buck Luce, state junior champion, and Tom J. Ahearn, veteran Houston River Oaks star, will meet tomorrow in a 36-hole match for the Beaumont Country club invitation golf championship.

In the quarterfinals Luce defeated Walter Emery, Houston, 4 and 3, Ahearn won from Ed Herron, also of Houston, 2 and 1, Riegel downed O'Hara Watts, Dallas, one up and Schumacher defeated Chet White, Houston, one up.

Lubbock Semi-Pros Defeat Amerada Oilers Saturday, 7-2

Second Contest Starts At 3:30 This Afternoon

By TOM MILLER
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

The Amerada Oilers and Lubbock semi-pros meet again at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at Parris field, the locals having captured the first game of the series Saturday 7 to 2.

The semi-pros reeled off the fastest game of season at the Lubbock orchard. Only one hour and 32 minutes were required for the local nine to pound out ten sound base hits and a win off R. D. Prather, regular Amerado third baseman. Doss Wright, veteran of many baseball seasons hereabouts, was not so stingy with hits either, but fast fielding by his mates thwarted every Oiler attack after the second chukker.

Amerada Takes Lead

Doubles by Shieko Greer and Manager Alex Blair helped the visitors to a one-run lead in the opening frame, and it appeared that they would shell Wright too hard for his comfort. Burks opened the second with another two-bagger and scored on Prather's single to left.

Tonky Marsh followed with a single and Jim Addison walked, but Wright forced Greer to sky out to Bill Holloway in right field.

A single by Bobby Holmes, fleet Lubbock short stopper, was all the locals could muster off Prather during the first two sessions, but a third-inning uprising iced the game away.

Lubbock Gets Hot

Eddie Wapp opened with a bingle through the box and proceeded to third on two wild heaves by Prather, during which time Wright grounded out, Addison to Lefty Barrett, and Win Breedlove lofted to Burks. Holmes pasted a triple to left center to count Wapp, then scored when Jimmie Simmons barely missed a shoestring catch of Holloway's liner to left. Holloway took three bases.

Jack Thompson batted Holloway across with a three-ply swat to right, then scored on Prather's balk. Rosy Crites ended the rally by whiffing.

Charley Presley opened the fourth with a mighty blow over the left field barrier for a home run. Cy Lingle and Wapp followed with singles, but a double play nullified other efforts.

Locals Score Again

Lubbock concluded scoring in the seventh when a pair of Oiler errors and Holloway's single proved effective. Barrett mishandled a bounder from Holmes' bat, took third on Holloway's safety, and scored on Marsh's miscue of Thompson's grounder. Holloway counted while Thompson stole second.

Crites, Presley, Lingle, Wapp, and Wright struck out sucessively to end the seventh and start the eighth.

Amerada threatened in each the sixth, seventh and eighth innings, but each time snappy field work by the Lubbock infield stifled scoring chances.

Southern California Runs Off With 1C-4A Track And Field Meet; Records Fall

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 4.—Rain and records fell today as Southern California's Trojans spread-eagled the field in the 62nd Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. championship meet at Randalls Island stadium.

Three meet marks were shattered, among them the classic one mile record that has stood for 25 years.

Dean Cromwell's Trojans tallied in 10 of the 15 events, nearly doubled the point score of their nearest rivals, Michigan State, and won the championship for the eighth time since 1929.

Woodruff Wins Twice

Southern California tallied 47 1-2 points, Michigan State 24 and the University of California 22 1-2 to make it 1-2-3 for the invading forces from the west. Pittsburgh, 1937 victor, led the eastern brigade by finishing fourth with 20 1-2 points. Manhattan was fifth with points, Harvard sixth with 12 points, with the others scattered behind.

Double triumphs for long John Woodruff, Pittsburgh's great negro runner, and Michigan State's crack hurdler, Harvey Woodstra, shared the individual spotlight with the record-breaking mile victory of Edgard Howard Borck slender Manhattan college star.

Borck came from behind in the mile with a beautifully-timed finish to beat Alex Northrop, Harvard's favorite, by 20 yards, and wipe out the record of 4:14.4 set by John Paul Jones of Cornell at Cambridge in 1913. Borck clipped a half-second from the long-standing mark.

Time Equals Record

Borck had enough stuff left to run a 1:53 half-mile and give Woodruff his only serious challenge. Long John pulled away to a two-yard victory over Borch in the 880-yard final, time in 1:52.5s after equalling the meet record of 47 seconds in capturing the 440-yard race.

Woodruff's time for the 440 equalled the meet record set in 1932 by 'Little Bill" Carr of Pennsylvania.

Woodstra's timber-topping double was marked by a record-equalling performance. He upset Southern California's favorite, Jim Humphrey, to capture the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.4 seconds. This equalled the meet record set by Earl Thomson of Dartmouth in 1920. Woodstra came from behind to take the 220-yard low hurdles final in 23.8 seconds, beating George Anderson of California by a stride.

New High Jump Mark

The remaining two record-smashers were Delos Thurber, Southern California's Olympic high-jumper, and Joe Moclair, who added to Manhattan's laurels by a whirlwind dash to victory in the two-mile run.

Thurber cleared 5 feet, 6 5-8 inches, set by George Spitz of New York university, in 1933.

Moclair's two-mile time of 9:21.2 erased the former record of 9:22, established in 1929 by James Reid of Harvard.

Photo finishes marked both sprint finals. The judges gave Adrian Talley of Southern California the nod over Wilbur Greer of Michigan State in the 100-yard race as they hit the tape together. Pittsburg's Edgar Mason, titleholder in 1936, was picked over Talley in the 220 yard final, in another thrillingly close finish. Motion pictures of both races will be examined, officials announced, to determine if any changes in the placing order are justified.

The dashes otherwise featured the downfall of Columbia's negro ace, Ben Johnson, who won both events last year. An attack of measles put Johnson out of competition this spring and he failed to return to top form.

Strained Religious Relations In Tabasco State Heightened

MEXICO CITY, June 4. (AP) — Strained relations between Catholics and the anti-religious regime of Tabasco were heightened today by the expulsion of a priest and a church leader from the capital of the southern Mexican state.

An interior department source said Father Pilar Hidalgo and Attorney Juan Abascal were escorted from Villa Hermosa in an effort to quiet tension.

State authorities charged them with responsibility for last Monday's demonstration which led to a clash with police in which six persons were slain.

50 Years Of U. S. Golf

BECAUSE there were no public links, and because the cost of maintaining private links had mounted rapidly, golf in 1895 was a rich man's game. In keeping, many players "dressed"—wearing scarlet melton coats with knickers, gaiters and plaid hose. But the red coats were only a passing fad.

Plainview Here To Play Local Poloists Today

Lubbock's polo club will ride into this afternoon's 3 o'clock game with Plainview's No. 1 willow busters with impaired strength.

Claude Hurlbut who plays at No. 1 position is suffering of a cracked rib resulting from several spills of Lubbock and Lamesa players in the hectic game of May 22.

Mad races after the ball caused several hard falls for men and horses before Lubbock emerged 8 to 5 victor of the Blacks.

Others Take Falls

Bo Hester, Lubbock banker, was left counting his chance in the first and fifth chuggers; Hurlbut went down in the third with Murphy May, their mounts churning and threshing about on the ground with them, and Sol Cleveland, Lamesa's No. 4 man took a cropper at one stage.

Most falls were due to over-reaching for the ball.

Fans are increasing since the Lubbocks have evidenced a tendency to spot the goal. Superbly mounted, they have had to concede speed and endurance all season. After a poor start, when they lost to the Blacks and to the Lockneys, the home club has showed improvement in taking not only the Blacks but the El Rojos of Plainview, 10 and 5.

Teamwork has improved, as shown by division of goal shooting. In the El Rojo game, May shot 3, Charley Smith 2, Guy Smith 1, Hester 4 and Hurlbut 1. May pounded in 2, Hurlbut 1, Cooper 1 and Hester 1 in the Lamesa game, Lamesa having a 3 handicap.

Field Is Oiled

Hurlbut apparently will be out of the lineup two weeks.

The infield of the fairgrounds, where the games are played before the big grandstand, will be oiled, fair directors last week having granted that permission. Nine thousand gallons of crude will be sprinkled on the playing expanse, which will keep down dust to spectators and players, keep vegetation from growing and make for a cushion beneficial to legs and hooves of mounts.

Lockney will meet Lubbock next Sunday, Lamesa's crack Whites the following Sabbath.

Louis-Schmeling

himself back into condition and climaxed his return to form by masterful execution of Louis.

On two vital counts Schmeling was under-estimated in 1936, first, his combined physical and fighting condition, and, secondly, his determination to recapture lost prestige. Schmeling also has patriotic as well as personal objectives.

Schmeling's fistic equipment still features a deadly accurate right hand. He can take it too.

Louis can offer by way of rebuttal two years of additional experience. Two years in which Joe has gained greater poise as well as the championship.

Louis unquestionably was over-confident and under-trained for his first match with Schmeling.

What of the mental hazard, namely the knowledge Louis will be up against the man who put him down and out.

The answer to that is that Louis, like Schmeling, is fired by strong personal motives.

He is imbued with a desire for revenge. He's the champion now, idol of his race, and he's anxious to furnish conclusive proof that he belongs on top of the heavyweight heap.

Finally the salient fact remains that Louis is the better two-fisted fighter.

All things considered the bout can be what the customers hope for, another sensation, or it can drag through 15 dull, cautious rounds.

Shriners Gather In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, June 4. (AP) — Religious services will provide interludes tomorrow in pre-convention gaiety and celebrations for thousands of nobles of the mystic Shrine, here from all parts of the nation, including Hawaii.

The national shrine convention opens Tuesday.

Noble Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, Texas, eventually may become imperial potentate of all Shrinedom. Calhoun is a leading candidate for the office of emperial outer guard. This is the only annually contested office of the imperial divan, which is a sort of "cabinet" of high Shrine officers, and the noble who becomes outer guard automatically becomes imperial potentate nine years later under the Shrine's rotative system of succession.

Calhoun's candidacy has been endorsed by nobles of San Francisco's Islam temple, which will be on of the largest delegations at the convention. Shrine political experts say this means Calhoun probably will be elected.

Revenue passenger miles flown by the airline of the United States during January, 1938, totaled 27,110,800 miles.

19—Livestock For Sale

We had a very satisfactory week, selling about 1600 or 1700 cattle at Tuesday and Friday sales. Our market seems steady with all the major markets.

If you have any stock on hand you are going to sell, we believe we can sell them for you as high as on any market, and will help you all we can.

We still have plenty of buyers for all the cattle that might come in, so you need not be afraid of bringing too many cattle for we have buyers who will purchase more butcher cattle than they are now doing. If we can get them in for the auction sales.

W. M. Ross Makes Formal Statement On His Candidacy For Commissioner, Precinct 1

W. M. Ross of Southwest ward community, candidate for the office of county commissioner of precinct No. 1, subject to Democratic primaries, Saturday made the following statement:

"I have been a citizen of Lubbock county 33 years, I am a life time democrat, and at present, precinct chairman, and a member of the county executive committee of the party. I have always stood for the things I thought were right. I have assisted in every way I could in the development and improvement of our county and city.

"It has always been very gratifying to me to watch our city and county stay in step with progress. I will continue, whether elected or not, in every way that I can, to assist in making this county more prosperous and a better place to live.

First Time To Seek Office

"This is my first time to ask the voters of the county to place me on the pay roll, believing that I am qualified to handle the affairs of this office in a creditable manner. As I feel that a majority of the voters of this precinct know me, and my record is open for investigation, I do not deem it necessary to give detailed reasons as to why I am qualified to make you a good commissioner.

"The people should select their county commissioners with the same care they would choose some one to manage their own private business. The prudent citizen and voter would inquire into the qualifications of an applicant, whether he is honest, capable, knows the problems of the people and would be loyal to their trust. I invite this inquiry of my record and experience. I know the necessity of conserving our soil and the benefit of terracing our fields. I believe in having good roads where it is practical, not only as a convenience to the farmer, but in my opinion, good roads are one of the greatest assets to the cities and towns.

"I know that I will not have the time to see all the voters in this precinct before election day, but will see all I can, and to those who I cannot see, I want you to know I will appreciate your vote and support, and I sincerely and earnestly solicit your serious consideration of my candidacy for commissioner of precinct No. 1.

"If elected I will pledge my full time and exert my utmost ability to conduct the affairs of this office in an economical, fair, just and impartial business-like manner."

Warning Given To Bicyclists

Police traffic officers Saturday issued a final warning to bicyclists to "comply with traffic rules and regulations or else. . ."

Lewis Kittrell, police traffic sergeant, and S. O. Boyd and Ralph Goldwater, traffic patrolmen, said that bicyclists would be prosecuted under the law when found violating traffic rules.

"Since bicycles are vehicles, all measures in the city's traffic ordinance are applicable to riders of bicycles," it was pointed out.

Must Observe Signals

"Cyclists must observe traffic signals, including left turns, running red lights, turning left out of alleys, and others," Kittrell said.

Among the laws affecting bicycles, in addition to standard traffic regulations, are: cyclists must obey all traffic rules and regulations; they must ride in a straight line and not weave in and out of traffic; have a white light on the front and a danger signal on the rear for night riding; have a satisfactory signaling device to warn of approach; give pedestrians the right-of-way; look out for cars at crossings and pulling out of parking spaces; they must not carry other persons on their wheels; and they must not hang onto cars or other vehicles.

Suggestions were: keep bicycles in good condition; and always ride carefully.

Specifically, the week's figure rested at $107,434.75. The June total jumped to $73,177.75 and the year's to $1,064,765.57.

Dallas Man Is New Candidate

DALLAS, June 4. (AP)—Clarence R. Miller, 54, Dallas textile manufacturer, announced his candidacy today for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Executive head of the Texas textile mills, with plants at Dallas, McKinney and Waco, Miller devoted part of his 18-point platform to proposals for improvement of the cotton industry.

He proposed a substantial tax levy on the retail sale of articles made in whole or in part of silk or rayon.

Industry Is Favored

He favored legislation to encourage the erection of cotton mills and canning factories.

Sale of liquor by the drink under rigid regulation, subject to a high license fee, was advocated in his platform. He would place such sales on a local-option basis and would make sale of liquor to a minor a felony offense.

Miller said he would use the Texas rangers to outlaw methods of CIO sitdowners.

Four-Year Terms

Four-year terms of the offices of governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general were proposed, with an inhibition against these officers succeeding themselves. Corporations and their officers, Miller said, should be required to file sworn statements showing contributions to candidates.

Other proposals in Miller's platform were the elimination of billboards along highways by taxation; payment of pensions in full without increasing present taxes; regulation and examination of mutual assessment insurance companies, and establishment of a strict state budget system.

Automotive exports from the United States to Colombia rose from $199,243 in 1932, to $3,489,860 in 1936—an increase of 1,652 per cent.

QUIET RALLY STAGED

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—Buying of industrials touched off a quiet but substantial rally in today's stock market and enabled the list to end the 5-day jaunt well up on the week.

Advances ran to more than 2 points at the best, although a little profit selling chopped down best marks.

The turnover of 306,930 shares was the largest for any short session since May 7.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up .7 of a point at 38.4. On the week this composite showed a net gain of a full point, the first after three consecutive weekly set-backs.

Several factors entered into the 2-hour come-back, brokers said. Among these was a mild revival of inflationary psychology engendered by senate passage of the administration's pump-priming bill giving the president free spending powers, expected to result in a quick flow of funds to districts where needs are pressing.

In addition gossip continued to be heard in Wall street of a possible further devaluation of the dollar, although this talk was scouted by most banking quarters.

Short covering was believed to have had much to do with the upturn, trading forces apparently being impressed by the failure of the recent decline to dislodge large blocks of stocks.

Climbing tendencies of major commodities was also seen as a factor in propping sentiment.

Saturday share favorites included U. S. Steel at 41¾, Bethlehem 43⅛, Chrysler 41⅝, General Motors 28⅝, Anaconda 23½, American Smelting 33⅝, U. S. Rubber 26½, Sears Roebuck 53⅛, International Harvester 51⅝, Douglas Aircraft 44½, Standard Oil of N. J. 46¼, Westinghouse 73⅝, General Electric 33½, Du Pont 95½, Allied Chemical 146 and Eastman Kodak 149.

Utilities and rails were up moderately, but these were far from buoyant.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 4. (AP)—Cotton future prices, which dropped below eight cents a pound on all months early in the week, closed the period with strong recoveries.

The biggest gains, almost $1 a bale, were made yesterday, but net advances of 2 to 3 points were added in today's short session. July closed at 8.19, Oct. at 8.20, Dec. at 8.24, Jan. at 8.24, March at 8.28 and May at 8.31-bid@8.32-asked. Spots were quiet as midding advanced 3 points to 8.22 cents a pound on sales of 903 bales.

Today's opening advance was on overnight buying orders. Gains of 8 to 10 points were registered on good demand but the rally was shaded near the close on some profit taking.

Some traders regarded the buoyancy in the absence of dominant factors, as a natural rebound from the precipitate drop during recent weeks.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 4. (AP)—Cotton advanced further today but after gains of more than $2.00 a bale from recent lows, realizing developed toward the close. October, which had sold up from 8.07@8.16, ended at 8.11, with final prices 3 to 5 points net higher.

The market opened 1 to 3 points higher in sympathy with higher Bombay cables and on trade and foreign buying, and on a moderate demand the list extended its gains to net advances of about 8 to 10 points later in the morning. Some of the buying was attributed to Wall street sources. When late week-end selling appeared however, prices eased 4 or 5 points from the best.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, June 4. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.11 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days was 8.49 cents a pound.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 4. (AP)—Indications that rust infection was spreading northward through the domestic wheat belt, combined with other bullish factors, touched off a buying spurt that lifted wheat prices two cents a bushel today.

A report from Norfolk, Neb., said a farmer had exhibited a sample of wheat headed very short and covered with black rust. Other messages from Kansas City said wheat was not filling satisfactorily. Another report from Enid, Okla., said rust was developing rapidly south of here.

The rust talk coupled with advances in stocks and passage of the pump priming bill gave the market enough buying support to extend wheat price recoveries to around four cents from the recent five year lows.

Wheat closed at the high point, 1½ to 2¼ cents above yesterday's finish, July 71⅞@72, September 73@73⅛, December 74⅛@75; corn ⅜ down to ⅛ up, July 97⅛@97¼, September 58⅛@58¼, December 56½; oats ⅛ up, July 27⅛; rye 27⅛; rye ⅜ to 1¼ higher, July 51⅜; provisions unchanged to 5 up.

FORT WORTH REPORT

Noticeable Unrest Reported Among Troops Of Franco

GIBRALTAR, June 4. (AP)—Travelers arriving from Seville today reported noticeable unrest among insurgent troops and high officials in Generalissimo Francisco Franco's southern Spanish insurgent stronghold.

The high officials mentioned were said to be attached to General Gonzalo Queipo De Llano's staff. Queipo De Llano is one of Franco's principal aides.

Thousands of leaflets inscribed, "Down with fascism! Long live the republic!" were seen scattered in the streets of La Linea, just within insurgent Spain, north of Gibraltar.

Several persons had been arrested there and were reported doomed to the firing squad at dawn tomorrow in the courtyard of the military barracks.

Bride And Brides-Elect Are In Week-End Social Spotlight Here

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

Education isn't worth much if it has taught you how to make a living and hasn't taught you how to live.

YOUTH GOES FORTH

THERE are vast fields for exploration for the youth who leave institutions of learning within the next few days. The world awaits new ideas, new methods, new things. The laboratory is making great contributions to civilization; so is engineering and if out of this grows more unemployment, it is merely a challenge to youth.

It is safe to predict that youth will bring more intelligence, more social consciousness, more spirituality into its attack upon world problems than any generation that preceded it. Untainted with prewar complacency, unsatisfied with things as they are, they will take up the banner of social justice in a spirit of brotherhood, moved less by selfishness, because men do grow in spirituality, despite apparent lapses.

That is what the great educational system of the country has been striving for, what the nation's parents have been hoping for: To prepare the youth better to solve our problems than the older generation was prepared. It is well for youths to remember that patience is one of the greatest virtues, for it will find that the world can not be made over in a day.

SCATTERINGS

MARY ELLIS MAEDGEN it is now instead of Mary Alice. The young girl has always wanted to have all of her grandmother Mary Ellis' name and last week presto, it all happened that suddenly! . . . In setting a table the Pennsylvania Dutch place the knife and fork on the plate. . . . Lowell Thomas describes Howard Hughes, millionaire flyer and movie producer and former Houstonian, as "the most successful man I know." He can repeat verbatim a conversation of as many as four years back. . . . The dowdiness of certain English women was accounted for last week by a native as "they are too interested in the 'cause' to care about their appearance." Which is just the opposite view taken by most American women. . . . Bobby Meiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Meiser has completed seven years of school work without missing a day or being tardy.

SPEEDS LAGGARD GUESTS

"I have a theory that parties should end when everybody is still apparently having a good time, so, at 1:30 'Good Night Ladies' was played and everyone bade me goodnight." That sentiment and the practical application of it comes from the First Lady and we agree with her wholeheartedly. So do thousands of women all over the country.

Every woman, it is safe to bet, who has ever seen the party she planned go on beyond the point of exhaustion or found to her sorrow she had guests who were indisposed to go home "after the party was over" are thoroughly in accord.

What if the ordinary hostess took a tip from the mistress of the White House and slipped a record of "Good Night Ladies" on the phonograph? Would guests arise and go home without being angry? We doubt it. No hostess we know would go to such extreme measures and so they will continue to stifle yawns, smile until their faces hurt and stretch hospitality hours beyond the limit.

So while Mrs. Roosevelt has solved the Great American Problem for herself, she has not helped other hostesses.

TALE OF A HAT

MOST ridiculous tale of the past week concerns the visit of a Lubbock woman to a downtown shop for the purpose of trying on a perky hat temptingly perched in the window. Taking the hat from the pedestal, she noticed an elastic band, worn by many women to keep on their hats but which she never wears. Turning to an employee, the only one in sight, she asked if she would mind removing the elastic.

Glancing at the hat, the woman answered that she could not do so because the task would take at least five minutes.

Upon seeing that the milliner was not joking, the other woman, in acid tones perhaps, said while placing the hat back on the rack, "Well of course if it would take five of your valuable minutes and since you are busy with other customers I won't detain you."

Guess what the retort was? "Well, is there anything else I could show you."

This experience, reliably told to us, might be used as an example of how NOT to treat customers. Especially as in this case when we happen to know the potential buyer is not a "just looker" but goes in a store for the express purpose of purchasing.

ONE MAN'S POLICY

AS our thoughts turn toward Gettysburg as veterans of the Blue and the Gray prepare to hold a joint reunion, comes announcement from Senator Vandenberg of his policy for America in times of war, in a Memorial Day service: "I hold we should mind our own business and keep out of other people's wars."

Parties Are Given In Lubbock And Slaton

Charming Miss Crystelle Scudder is the inspiration for a series of parties given almost daily in Slaton, her home town, and in Lubbock. She is to become the bride of A. C. Sanders, jr., of this city June 12.

One of the most unusual of prebridal courtesies to any bride this season was a seated tea given for Miss Scudder at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Misses Mary, Myrtle and Beulah Dunn at their home, 1811 Ninth street.

On this occasion Gordon Gaines, talented Lubbock baritone who has just returned from a year's study in New York City, was presented in the following program:

"Arm, Arm Ye Brave" from "Judas Maccabacus" (Handel); "I Attempt From Love's Sickness To Fly" (Purcell); "The Pretty Creature" (arr. by H. Lane Wilson); "Der Lindenbaum" (Schubert); "Dank Sei Dir Herr" (Handel); "Wohin" (Schubert); "O du Mein Holder Abendstern" from "Tannhauser" (Wagner); "Bid Me To Live" (Hatton); "When I Have Sung My Songs" (Charles), and "Shoes" (Manning). Miss Myrtle Dunn played piano accompaniment.

The 75 guests were greeted by Miss Beulah Dunn who presented them to Miss Mary Dunn and the honoree, her mother, Mrs. K. L. Scudder of Slaton, and Mrs. A. C. Sanders, mother of the bridegroom-elect. Mrs. George Walton presided at the bride's book.

Ten Are Hostesses

Larkspur and roses decorated the hall. Upon arriving guests were served punch by Mesdames Essie England and Loveless. The table was spread with a lace cloth over pink satin. Pink candles in crystal candelabra were on either side of a crystal bowl of mixed flowers. Gifts brought by 140 guests were placed on lace covered tables.

Nectarine frappe and white individual cakes were served at the conclusion of a humorous program that depicted the life of the honoree since babyhood. The women, most of whom have known Miss Scudder all of her life, had practiced for weeks on the skit, and no details were overlooked. Taking part were Mrs. Peavy as Mrs. A. C. Sanders, Mrs. Ragsdale as Mrs. Scudder, Mesdames Nick Carter, C. W. Taylor, Bruner, Misses Martha Lou Loveless, Doris Peavy, Wayne Catching, Frances Crowther, Marian Bechtal, Elizabeth Stokes, Glenna Williams.

Mrs. W. B. Williams presided at the bride's book.

"Tell it to Louella"

DEAR Louella: I hardly know where to start in today, as I don't know a soul who isn't head-over-heels in interesting things to do. I think I'll just skim lightly over some items that you might not hear from another source.

Canon Clements is coming home from England in July, I think. He has been at Oxford the past two years on a Rhodes scholarship.

An item from Camp Waldemar, near Kerrville, informed me that three Lubbock girls were enrolling there today. Two of the girls are Carol Ann Krueger and Doris Mae Levine, I couldn't learn the name of the third one. The Levine family left several days ago on a little trip through that part of the state. This is their second summer at the camp.

Enjoying Life In New York

Mrs. Al Ray Cooper (Rouble Triplitt) wrote from New York City the other day that she is "still happily married and having a grand time. Since we have moved closer to New York City we come over almost every week-end. We sure do like it."

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Speight are moving to San Antonio after having lived here five or six years. He is a retired army officer, and both are mighty fine people.

Mrs. R. C. Hopping has gone to Las Vegas, N. M., to see a granddaughter get married. I won't know any of the details until her return Monday.

Lillian Hopping left Friday to spend two weeks on a ranch near Borger. From there she will go to Ann Arbor where she and Margaret Cooper, who leaves here about June 19, will study at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. W. C. Barnett returned Saturday from a vacation somewhere.

MRS. E. S. Tom and daughter, Nylah, who are living temporarily in Austin, will be through Lubbock Wednesday en route to San Francisco where Nylah will attend a national convention in connection with the American Medical association. From there, they will go to Pyramid Lake dude ranch, near Reno, Nev., and then visit in Salt Lake City and Denver. Nylah is secretary of the Texas Society of Medical Technologists.

I don't mean to set myself up as any one person's publicity agent, but I can't resist when my friends do interesting things. So I hope Virginia Smallwood will forgive me if I write just one more piece of news about her.

She is here on an extended visit and Saturday morning she was honored at a coffee given by Mesdames Milton Jones and Arno Dalby in the latter's home.

There's a bunch of parties being given for visitors to the city. I'll be writing of those from time to time. I haven't room now.

Lucy wrote again, and I was really relieved to know that she hadn't objected to the nickname. That gal has me puzzled because she writes as though we are close associates and I'm sure we are, but I can't imagine which of my three friends she is. She says:

"Had the pleasure of meeting the business man from Fort Worth that I told you about in one of my letters. His last name is Allen and he plans to open a business in Lubbock this fall. Dear me, but he's handsome!

"I WONDER if Tech students D. P. and D. M. (that's dangerous ground for Lucy) will marry before they finish their senior year in Tech, or if they're already married. Gee, I wish I knew.

"Did you see the local girl who did everything but get on the orchestra stand trying to attract Herbie Kay's attention? I wonder if she knows by now how foolish she looked? (Nope, I weren't thar. The b. f. wouldn't go because Dorothy Lamour wouldn't be thar).

Warning Is Given

"Say, watch for the approaching wedding (dangerous again) of one of our friends soon. She will call you. I'm sure. I promised not to mention any names.

"You are going to have a nice young man call on you, soon, so look your best (sounds like a fortune teller). Don't say I didn't warn you." (Goody, goody, goody).

Yours, Lou.

Cattle Grazing On The Contour

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 4. — Federal soil conservation authorities say cattle are grazing on the contour in the Texas Panhandle this spring because they are finding the grass greener and thicker along thousands of miles of furrows.

The officials say contour furrowing, which winds around rangeland slopes on the level, is one of the basic principles of the soil and moisture conservation program for range improvement.

Nine Demonstrations On

The service reports hundreds of farmers outside these areas have learned the value of contour furrowing and are so treating their own rangelands.

The experts point out contour furrows, ployed at regular intervals depending upon the type of soil and degree of slope, retain most of the water where it falls and allow the moisture to soak into the ground where it is available for grass growth.

First Grass Appearing

This spring, the officials say, farmers observed the first green grass appeared along the furrows where additional moisture had been available. Where the practice was in use last year, they report, the grass growth was much heavier along the furrows and remained green longer than that on untreated areas.

Official tests made on a contour furrowed portion of the C. E. Weymouth ranch near Amarillo revealed moisture penetration had increased 100 per cent and the buffalo and blue grama grass yield increased 189.2 per cent by weight.

Density Is Doubled

Density of the grass was reported to have doubled and tripled on treated areas near Vega, Channing and Memphis.

Tests near Perryton showed a moisture penetration of 52 inches in the furrow and 13 inches three feet below the furrow while on adjoining untreated areas it was only eight inches.

Service officials say various types of tillage implements are being used in pasture furrowing. Excellent results are being obtained from the three-row lister with the middle bottom removed, a practice which leaves a strip of undisturbed sod between the furrows and hastens their resodding.

Conservation experts say grazing control on contour furrowed land is essential to obtain a good vegetative cover. Where pastures are contour furrowed not only is a heavier growth of grass developed but a seed crop is matured which may be expected eventually to develop thicker and heavier sod.

PLANT IS PURCHASED

SHERMAN, June 4 (AP)—A group of former owners, including James A. Fant and Ford Moore, has repurchased the Fant Flour Milling company here from a milling corporation that bought it nine years ago. Fant will continue as general manager and Moore again will be active in the company, which was organized under the old name.

The plant is a seven-story and basement concrete building erected in 1921 and equipped to produce 1,400 barrels of flour and 600 barrels of meal daily. Its products are distributed in the Southwest, along the Gulf coast and in Atlantic seaboard markets.

PAYS FILING FEE

AUSTIN, June 4. (AP)—Thomas Self, 69-year-old grain merchant of Crockett, Houston county, today became the 11th candidate for governor to pay the required $100 filing fee for a place on the Democratic primary ballot.

Northwest Extension To Seminole Pool In Gaines, West Extension To Denver In Yoakum Among Oil Developments

By JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Completion of a northwest extension to the Seminole pool in central Gaines county and a west extension to the Denver pool in southwestern Yoakum county were among principal West Texas oil developments this week. A new producing spot west of the sand wells in the Kermit field in northern Winkler county was in prospect and preparations were being made to acidize a promising oil showing from the Palo Pinto lime in a Runnels county wildcat.

New drilling assumed more normalcy, locations being staked for 41 field tests and two wildcats in nine counties after dropping the preceding week to a new low for the year of 24 locations for field tests and one for a wildcat in seven counties. Thirty-five producers and four failures were completed in 11 counties compared with 32 and five, respectively, in 11 counties the week before.

Wildcat Location Is Staked

Skelly staked a location for a wildcat in southeastern Hockley county on the W. L. Ellwood estate ranch three miles southwest of Smyer, 2,348 from the north, 3,980 feet from the east line of league 15, Howard county school land, and awarded contract to C. J. Davidson. Gulf No. 1 Mallett, two miles southwest of the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county, pumped all water and no oil on three successive 24-hour gauges of 82, 96 and 31 barrels, at a plugged back depth of 5,034 feet, after shooting and acidizing. It is in the northeast corner of section 6-X-psl.

J. L. Frick and Osage Drilling Co. No. 1 T. S. Riley, four-mile northwest extension to the Seminole pool in Gaines county, flowed 135 barrels of 32.4 gravity oil, with 383,000 cubic feet of gas, on an official 24-hour test for completion at 5,098 feet. The gauge was through a one-half inch choke on 2-inch tubing set at 5,093 feet. The well is 1,980 from the north, 660 feet from the west line of section 294-G-WTRR, on an Atlantic 80-acre farmout. Amerada has the offset lease on the south and Ohio on the west and expiration within the next few months of other leases in the area promises considerable drilling.

Flows 425 Barrels

Gulf No. 1 Futch, one mile west of the discovery well in the Denver field in Yoakum county, flowed 425 barrels of oil with 302,000 cubic feet of gas in 24 hours for completion at 5,170 feet, having been shot and treated with 8,000 gallons of acid. It is 990 feet out of the southeast corner of section 796-D-John H. Gibson. Two locations staked by Skelly on its Thomas lease, the south 200 acres of the north half of section 864, were the first in the field on a staggered spacing pattern, continuing, however, the plan of a well to 40 acres.

Magnolia No. 1 J. D. Webb, Yoakum wildcat two miles southwest of Plains, in the northeast quarter of section 267, bailed only one barrel of oil hourly at a plugged back depth of 5,400 feet following treatment with 2,000 gallons of acid and was to rig up standard tools. It is four miles north and slightly east of Bond and Bohago No. 1 M. M. West, a small discovery well eight miles north of the Denver pool opener.

Test Is Abandoned

Wiggins, Hyde and Lawson's No. 1 Dean, four miles northwest of the Duggan field in southeastern Cochran county, completed several months ago at 5,076 feet for 102 barrels of oil daily, appeared a separate when Honolulu No. 1-91 Dean, 1 1-4 miles to the southeast, was abandoned at 5,067 feet. It tested two bailers of sulphur water hourly, probably encountered from 5,063-67. Upper oil shows were estimated to total two-thirds of a barrel a day. The test was 440 from the north, 12,204 feet from the east line of section 91, Lipscomb county school land.

Devonian No. 1-B17 Duggan was completed as the most southerly and sixth well in the Duggan pool, flowing 222.08 barrels of oil in 24 hours at 5,060 feet after treatment with 7,500 gallons of acid. It is in the northeast corner of labor 17, league 55, Oldham county school land, offsetting two producers. Helmerich & Payne No. 1 Westheimer & Daube, west central Cochran county wildcat in the southeast quarter of labor 14, league 147, Stonewall county school land, was abandoned at 5,205 feet in lime, having shown no oil or gas.

Sulphur Water In Hole

George Etz and others' No. 1 Enochs, Bailey county wildcat in the center of labor 66, league 132, Floyd county school land, shutdown for orders with 2,500 feet of sulphur water in the hole from 4,295 to 4,306 feet, the total depth.

Frank S. Perkins and others' No. 1 E. W. Cowden, wildcat in the southwest corner of Andrews county, was perforating 5-inch casing cemented at 8,004 feet, eight feet off bottom, to test zones indicated by a Schlumberger survey to be oil saturated. It is in the northwest quarter of section 14-A55-psl.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Paul Moss, 2 1-2 miles southwest of the Harper pool in Ector county but separated from it by a dry hole, pumped off in eight hours, yielding 17 barrels of oil after cleaning out following a shot from 3,880 to 4,110 feet. It is in the southeast quarter of section 40-22-2s-T&P.

Becomes Largest Well

H. L. Lockhart No. 1 Bob Scott became the largest well in the northwest extension to the Chalk pool in Howard county by pumping at the rate of 1,520.40 barrels daily at 2,865 feet after shooting with 760 quarts. It is in the northeast corner of section 86-29-W&NW.

E. L. Gelder No. 2 R. D. Kessler, east of the Kermit sand pool in northern Winkler county, headed oil at 3,170 feet, drilled to 3,203 feet and prepared to shoot. It is in the southeast quarter of section 14-B3-psl.

Homer Price and others' No. 1 J. C. Beddo in Runnels county, four miles northeast of Ballinger and about the same distance southeast of the McMillan pool, was cementing 6 5-8-inch casing to acidize Palo Pinto lime from 3,498 to 3,515 feet that yielded 10 sixty-foot bailers of 40 gravity oil daily. It is in survey 51, quarter mile southeast of Watchhorn No. 1 King, an old gas well.

SERVICE DISRUPTED

CORSICANA, June 4.(AP)—Electric service in a greater part of Corsicana was disrupted for 16 minutes today when an interurban car jumped the track at the north city limits and knocked down several poles. No one was injured.

At the village of Rattvik, Sweden, there is an interesting church service which can be attended only by persons over sixty.

Discrepancies Of Taxing On More Than 100,000 Acres In Area Are Revealed

Data Is Shown In WPA Survey

BY DAN TARPLEY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

A final report on the Works Progress administration-sponsored tax survey showed discrepancies of taxing on more than 100,000 acres of land in 14 counties of the 17th WPA district which includes 24 counties.

In several counties of the district the project did not operate, and in others complete reports were not available according to information from the district offices here.

66,181 Acres Not Rendered

In the 14 counties in which records had been completed, the WPA employes, supervised by state-employed men in cooperation with the offices of the counties' tax collectors and assessors found 66,181 acres of land had not been rendered for taxation on the 1936 rolls and in nearly every case had not been rendered in recent years.

The employes further found that a total of 37,859 acres in those counties had to be rendered twice, or over-rendered.

Counties which had reports completed were Kent, Jones, Lynn, Cochran, Floyd, Hale, Dawson, Motley, Garza, Dickens, Terry, Lubbock, Fisher, and Crosby.

Work Not Completed

Figures were not available for Hockley, Bailey and Scurry counties. The work in Lamb and Cottle counties had not been completed.

The project, district-wide and state-wide, was concluded in this district May 28. In several districts of the state it had been ended a few days earlier and in other districts it has not been completed, but authorities said it "gradually was being closed throughout the state."

Board Sponsors Work

The work was begun in December, 1935, in this district under the sponsorship of the Texas State Tax board.

Specifically, the official description of the project was: "Analysis of all real property in the 19 counties of the 24 counties of district 17 for the purpose of supplying complete and accurate information to the state tax board, the Texas legislature, and the commissioners courts of district 17. This analysis consisted of a personal inspection of all property with results analyzed in typewritten and platted reports as to: acres, soil classification, improvements, ownership, lienholders, liens, accessibility and desirability and rendition records. The data collected will be used by the above agencies as a basis of remedial legislation in an effort to equalize taxes."

Information Merely Released

It was not the purpose to take any corrective methods after the results of the survey were found, it was explained officially, but the information was released to the county tax assessors and collectors, so that they may make the corrections.

As described in the official purposes, the employes did much more than simply obtain records on the unrendered property and that which had more than one rendition.

Garza Has Largest Amount

According to the report from Garza county, the employes of the tax survey found 24,594 acres of unrendered, hence untaxed property. That report showed the largest unrendered acreage of the 14. The county also showed the largest amount of acres with double renditions with a total of 9,195 acres.

Second among the 14 in unrendered acreage was Fisher county with 10,089 acres. That county also was second with double renditions with 7,232 acres. In the unrendered land column Kent and Terry counties were third and fourth, respectively, each with more than 7,000 acres of unrendered land. Terry was third and Kent fourth in the double rendition tabulations.

Lubbock Has Only 27 Acres

Showing the least amount of unrendered land among the counties with reports was Lubbock county with only 27 acres. The county showed not an acre rendered twice.

According to the reports at the district offices from the 14 counties the following results were shown:

County	Unrendered Acres	Double Or Over-Rendered
Kent	7182.39	3978.53
Jones	2037.40	814.03
Lynn	1569.725	404.37
Cochran	1060.28	1218.746
Floyd	32.17	21.53
Hale	772.89	749.719
Dawson	5412.1644	3357.838
Motley	1669.585	1367.782
Garza	24.594.832	9195.314
Dickens	4142.818	2311.432
Terry	7107.575	7076.795
Lubbock	27.00	None
Fisher	10,089.88	7232.18
Crosby	483.65	131.24

Sampson County's Supervisor

Lubbock county's supervisor of the project was J. W. Sampson. When the project was begun more than two years ago, Edgar Hutchins was district supervisor. After his resignation last year, however, W. L. Taylor was appointed and continued as the district-wide supervisor until the close of the project last week. A. W. Holden is the state-wide director of the project.

J. O. Jones, administrative officer of the district, pointed to the value of the project to both employes and the counties, legislature and tax board.

"It has given the employes invaluable experience through their association with the county offices and has given them a more thorough understanding of the operations of the taxing system," he said. "As many as 180 persons have been employed on the project in this district and the work has been of much worth to them in addition to furnishing them with a living wage.

"Many have been placed in private employment simply through the experience obtained through the work on the project," he said.

County officers, especially the tax assessors and collectors, have heartily approved the work of the employes, have made use of the information they obtained, and have taken steps to correct the discrepancies.

FOUND IN WISCONSIN

BALSAM LAKE, Wis. (AP) — A shark's tooth found in a gravel pit near here has been identified by the University of Minnesota geology department as belonging to the Tertiary era of about 55,000,000 years ago.

The tooth was 4 1-2 inches long and 3 1-2 inches wide. Geologists estimated it came from a shark 80 feet long with a mouth five or six feet wide.

THE JOB'S TAKEN

TOWNSEND, Mont. (AP)—Varick Doig was swamped with applications after eastern newspapers published a story about his school district's one-pupil problem. The child can go to school only in the summer because of winter storms in the mountain country where he lives, and he's the only child in the district. He wants the world to know the vacancy has been filled. A Montana teacher took the job.

ON A FANCY DIET

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Last year a woodpecker hammered a hole in a tree owned by A. W. Friday and Friday nailed a sheet of slate over the hole to protect it. This spring the woodpecker returned and started hammering at the slate.

"Apparently the bird went south last fall and has just returned," Friday said. "He must like the taste of my tree."

TOILERS FOR FAITH

WOLSETH, N. D. (AP)—Members of the Nidaros church believe in working for their religion.

When the church coffers ran low, one farmer donated the use of a quarter section of land, others provided teams and tractors, and all turned to and seeded the fields to wheat. When it is harvested, the money will go into the church treasury.

Tech's Health Workers And Sanitarians Short Course Is Widely Commended

Forty Speakers Will Be Heard

One of the most publicized and widely commended courses ever offered at Texas Technological college will be the public health workers and sanitarians short course that will open Thursday and end Aug. 20.

List of 40 speakers invited to participate was announced by J. H. Murdough, head professor of civil engineering and chairman of the arrangements committee.

Dr. Cox To Be Speaker

Dr. George W. Cox of Austin, state health officer who has recommended the course, will be one of the speakers. Numerous other city, state and national officials have commended the course, which will offer the first opportunity for instruction of that type in Texas.

Registration will open at 9 o'clock Thursday morning in room 110 of the engineering building and classes will open at 8 o'clock Friday morning. Aim of the course is to offer practical training in the field of applied public health to persons engaged in actual sanitation work in communities of the state. "We think that the dissemination of practical information ought to go a long ways toward lowering the ravages of any disease which may come from improper methods and means of sanitation," said Murdough.

Other Agencies Aiding

Tech will offer the course in cooperation with the Texas state department of health and vocational division of the Texas state department of education. It will consist of lectures, laboratory exercises and demonstrations and field inspection work.

Bullen, head professor of electrical engineering; G. W. Parkhill, assistant professor of civil engineering; J. Q. Sealey, assistant professor of biology; Robert I. Bridge, Red Cross field representative.

Tech Divisions Cooperating

The Tech engineering, arts and sciences, and agricultural divisions are cooperating in conducting the course. Administration was placed in the engineering division and Dean O. V. Adams appointed Murdough chairman and Dr. R. A. Studhalter, head professor of biology, botany and zoology, as the other member of the arrangements committee. Oliver and Baugh of Floydada, of the health department, and G. W. Parkhill and J. Q. Sealey have cooperated in arrangements.

The speakers will be present at various times during the course and not all at the same time. Sealey will be the instructor in charge of the first term consisting of the first half of the course and Parkhill of the second term. Classes to be offered in the first term are in communicable diseases (26 hours), sanitary bacteriology (90 hours), medical zoology (7 hours), milk and food sanitation (21 hours), and miscellaneous subjects (21 hours). Second term classes will be in elementary water works and sewerage (38 hours), miscellaneous sanitation problems (32 hours), elementary surveying (24 hours), drawing (16 hours), concrete (19 hours), public speaking and seminar (17 hours), unclassified varied subjects (8 hours); and field inspection trips (24 hours). New Radio Chain Being Organized

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, June 4.—A fifth nation-wide broadcasting chain, now being organized by William L. Gleeson, native of Lancaster, Dallas county, plans to begin operation about Oct. 1 next.

The announcement was made by Frank A. Freeman, Dallas manager for the Western Newspaper union which is backing the organization to be known as the Western Radio union. Gleeson, formerly engaged in telephone work at Dallas, has been identified with broadcasting on the Pacific coast for several years.

To Have 300 Stations

Freeman said the chain would be composed of approximately 300 stations in the 100-watt classification and limited to about 25 miles in primary coverage. More than 100, he said, had affiliated with the new enterprise and 200 more expected to become associated with it before operation begins. The object of the undertaking is to reach small and rural areas with 18-hour daily broadcasting service.

"Dallas will be headquarters for the southwestern division, comprising all of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and part of Arkansas with a total of 51 stations," said Freeman, who will be in charge of it.

Operations Center At Chicago

Operation of the proposed network will center at Chicago, with studios at New York, Washington and Hollywood. Herbert L. Wilson, New York radio consulting engineer, will have charge of the technical division, and about 7,000 miles of commercial wires will be required to serve the affiliated stations.

Freeman said the names of the stations that have joined the organization, and contemplated members were not ready for release.

Witness Vanishes

Dr. Ignatz T. Griebl, above, said to be the U. S. Government's key witness in the spy hunt revolving around the recent arrests of a woman hairdresser, two soldiers and an airplane mechanic, all of German extraction, is being sought after a sudden disappearance. Griebl, World War officer of the German army, leader of an American Nazi group and now reserve lieutenant in the U. S. Army, was reported to have sailed from New York to Germany.

"Three Comrades" Take Top Billing On Week's Film Menu

Hollywood On The Loose..

Pick-Ups In News And Gags In A Leisurely Tour Of The Leading Studios

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 4.—For their vaudeville tour together, Jackie Coogan and Bob Hope are working into their patter the story about a movie mother who led her gangling daughter into the office of the head of a studio. "Of course, she IS a little LARGE; we just HAVEN'T been able to keep her from growing," the parent gushed apologetically. Then she added, triumphantly, "But we HAVE kept her MIND back!"

The secretary of a conceited actor telephoned the set the other morning and said that the player couldn't report for work because he was suffering from indigestion.

"What did he do," barked the director, "—swallow his pride?"

Tyrone Power is having dates with June Wilkins, a bit player with a stock-company contract. Such a romance would be precedent-shattering if it led to marriage, because in caste-conscious Hollywood no star ever has married so far below his rank.

Illustrious Try-Out

TWO celebrated actresses, Maude Adams and Dorothy Gish, were tested by David Selznick for the part of Ellen Fortune in "The Young in Heart," and neither was accepted.

The role goes to Minnie Dupree, 63, who was a stage favorite 20 years ago and who never has appeared before a movie camera. Incidentally, this was Miss Gish's first visit to Hollywood in 19 years.

Darryl Zanuck, warned by doctors that he'd have to take that long-delayed vacation, planned a quiet trip to Europe. Then he decided to take a couple of people along to help handle business matters which inevitably would pop up. Next he decided to add a few others for consultation on stories. So now the Zanuck "rest" cruise includes a group of 25.

Keys, Nails, Chest

HOLLYWOOD 5-and-10 stores have been selling souvenir gold keys since that Simone Simon testimony convulsed the town . . . Paulette Goddard wailed when she had to cut off those inch-long talons to play her role as a secretary in "The Young in Heart." . . . And in the same picture, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., was indignant when make-up men shaved his chest before a scene in which he appears in pajama trousers. Sometimes they put chest-wigs on villains, but handsome heroes mustn't be so hirsute.

From a Paramount call-sheet, giving the next day's shooting schedule: "Weather permitting, if sun shining, no clouds and not too windy on location, leave studio 6 a. m. In event of bad weather, Stage 9—dust storm."

Off Again, On Again . .

J. EDWARD Bromberg, the character actor, was offered a choice part in a picture scheduled for June if he could take off at least 25 pounds. He agreed, dieted, exercised, and had dropped 26 pounds which he was called in the other day to go to work. The picture he had expected to enter had been postponed indefinitely, so he was cast as a plump prince in "Suez." For this part he has to wear padding that makes him look about 50 pounds heavier.

Mostly He-And-She

SALLY Rand has been signed by an independent company which is not under the jurisdiction of the Hays Office . . . Cary Grant probably will be Marlene Dietrich's first leading man at Columbus, but in a heavy romance, not a comedy. . . . Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers have opened Pickfair, figuring they might as well live in it if they can't sell it. . . . Robert Donat still refuses to come to Hollywood, but he has signed for six Metro flickers to be made in London. . . . Exhibitors have protested Universal's plans for romancing Deanna Durbin on the screen. But she and Jackie Moran are off-screen puppy-lovers. . . . Mary Maguire's ex-pugilist papa is resenting, with his fists, all comments about his 19-year-old daughter's romance with wealthy, 55-year-old Joseph M. Schenck.

Broadway Has 'Awful Truth'

LOVE and loyalty, vengeance and valor, pathos and comedy—all the human emotions are sharply drawn in an excellent story of post-war Germany and the chaos which three ex-soldiers meet and defeat in the top attraction at the Palace theater today.

The picture, "Three Comrades," boasts of four stars, Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone, Robert Young and Margaret Sullavan.

Tone Earns Acting Laurels

Taylor, in the most important role, is more at ease than ever before, but it is Franchot Tone who earns the acting laurels with his most intelligent work to date. Miss Sullavan is the only woman in the film.

The current vehicle at the Broadway is one of the best of the society comedy types, "The Awful Truth."

Irene Dunne, fast becoming one of the screen's best comediennes, is the girl and Cary Grant and Ralph Bellamy are "the boys" who vie for her favor.

New Detective Series

A new detective-melodrama series is being launched at the Lindsey today in "The Saint In New York."

Based on the well-known "Saint" stories by Leslie Charteris, dealing with the outside-the-law adventures of a modern Robin Hood, this provides an abundant share of fast action, gunplay, laughs and a touch of romance.

Louis Hayward fits the "Saint" role like a glove and Jonathan Hale, Kay Sutton and Paul Guilfoyle all do well in supporting roles. The "Saint" is called into action by a New York civic committee to clean up marauding gangsters, which he does at great risk to his own life and limb.

Old Story Of Sacrifice

"Madame X" which opens a two-day run at the Lyric today, is the old story of a woman's sacrifice for those she loves.

Gladys George gives an excellent portrayal in the title role, while Warren William and John Beal give fine supporting performances.

The story is one of a woman who lived a life of sin, but with a spark of decency and honor. Because she refused to hurt those she loved, she paid the supreme sacrifice and went to her death an unknown.

A vivid story of the race track, with paddock intrigue, a great race, unusual characters, in which a delicate romance is woven is "Saratoga," starting today at the Tech theater. Clark Gable and Jean Harlow are the stars.

Never was Miss Harlow lovelier than as the spoiled daughter of the millionaire horseman, Gable provides a virile partner as the gambler who was her father's best friend and in whose care she was placed when the father died. Frank Morgan and Una Merkel are seen as a new comedy team.

Henie And Ameche Back

The lovely and graceful Sonja Henie is the star of the Texans current attraction, "Happy Landing." And with her in this picture is her sweetheart of former attractions, Don Ameche.

Two fliers, Ameche and Cesar Romero, start across the Atlantic. Romero is an egocentric orchestra leader who falls for every girl he meets. They are forced down in Norway and there Romero becomes entangled with Sonja through a misunderstanding. Don, sincere in his interest, tries to keep matters on an even keel, but there is the matter of another girl of Romero's back in the states.

It's another musical comedy at the Cactus today. Lily Pons, Gene Raymond, Jack Oakie and Mischa Auer provide a whole bundle of laughs in "Girl From Paris."

The boys are members of an orchestra in Europe. Lily is a prima donna who falls in love with Raymond. But she brings them all kinds of trouble and they try to escape. When they sail for New York she follows and from the time they land in Gotham it's one mad and merry chase until Gene finally realizes his love for her.

"Three Comrades," showing at the Palace today, brings together these four stars, Robert Taylor, Margaret Sullavan, Robert Young and Franchot Tone.

"That Girl From Paris" is full of comedy and music. Opening today at the Cactus, it stars Lily Pons, Gene Raymond and Jack Oakie.

BUILDS AND FLIES 'EM

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—Last March young Harvey Blue, jr., of Dale stayed aloft for 4 1-2 hours in his home-made glider. Now he has graduated to a newly completed, home-made airplane which took him two years to build. On its maiden flight the monoplane climbed to 8,200 feet.

Breadborough, England, is two miles southwest of Crumbville, England.

At The Theaters

There's many a laugh in "Josette," coming to the Palace Friday. Stars of the film are Robert Young, Simone Simon and Don Ameche.

Here is a scene from "The Saint In New York," a detective thriller which features Louis Hayward and Kay Sutton.

Stage Wedding Is Scheduled For Palace Thursday Night

Observing an annual custom of several years standing, the Palace theater management will present its official June wedding Thursday night on the Palace stage. Plans have been made for an elaborate affair.

Names of the bride and groom will be kept secret until they appear on the stage although they have already been selected. The bride is a former student of Texas Technological college and the groom is an employe of a Lubbock department store.

The wedding is to be strictly formal with attendants, flower girls, ringbearer and all. The father of the bride will give her away on the stage. The ceremony will be performed in a garden stage setting.

Minister to perform the ceremony has not been named.

The couple will spend a brief honeymoon at Carlsbad, N. M., where they will visit Carlsbad Caverns and be guests of the Crawford hotel there through courtesy of the hotel and theater management. A number of gifts will be presented the couple by Lubbock merchants.

The wedding ceremony is scheduled to take place at 8:30 o'clock.

PRODUCTION IS REPORTED

AUSTIN, June 4 (AP) — The railroad commission reported daily production in Texas in April averaged 1,967,483,000 cubic feet of dry and 1,085,338,000 cubic feet of casinghead gas.

Distribution included 36.95 per cent to pipe lines for light and fuel 26.23 to carbon black plants, 15.53 to lease operations, 12.91 vented to the air, 4.55 extraction loss in gasoline plants and 3.83 for repressuring.

ONIONS ARE SHIPPED

McKINNEY, June 4 (AP) — The first carload of 1938 Collin county onions moved May 26 to southeastern markets. The onions, comprising 510 sacks of United States No. 1, were raised by Joe Hawthorne, John Snapp and Tom Hines. Market prices here range from 75 to 80 cents a sack.

SEVENTH OF FAMILY

McKINNEY, June 4 (AP) — Miss Lois Commons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Commons, is the seventh of a family of eight to receive a diploma from the McKinney High school. She was a member of the 1938 graduating class.

FAVOR AGREEMENT

COLLEGE STATION, June 4 (AP) —Texas potato growers favor continuing the potato marketing agreement which would prevent interstate shipment of cull potatoes, R. S. Miller, district agent of the extension service, said this was indicated by incomplete returns from the referendum held May 9-14.

With 23 of the 27 counties involved in the referendum reporting, the vote was 315 for and 177 against. An extremely light vote was cast as more than 3,000 farmers were eligible to participate.

Wealthy members of the Dutch West Indies company, who received a charter of "privileges and exemptions" to settle anywhere in New Netherlands except on Manhattan island, were known in colonial days as patroons.

A Laudable Work Begins Here; New Deal Slips In Colorado Senate Race Selection

Tech Leads In Another Field

Public Health Study To Be Instituted Here

APPRECIATED by comparatively few is the fact that Texas Technological college is about to become the scene of the setting of another milestone in education not alone for this area, but for the entire state of Texas.

Reference is made to the first annual summer course for public health workers and sanitation officers opening at Tech Thursday and continuing through Aug. 25. Never before, say those in charge, has a short course of the kind been attempted in the entire Southwest.

Without attempting detail here, the importance of the course should be apparent from these facts: The Texas Department of Health and the vocation division of the State Department of Education are to cooperate; visiting lecturers will include authorities internationally famous; and the courses will deal with almost every phase of the science of public health—which means, to mention a few, such things as pure water, pure milk, control of communicable diseases, control of flies and mosquitoes, disinfection, nutrition, hygiene and numerous others.

The need for just such courses will not be disputed even by the most casual observer of present public health conditions, even though those standards are relatively high in the United States when compared with most other nations.

It is a tribute and an honor to Texas Technological college and those who have made Tech what it is that the school should be chosen for this beginning of an endeavor possible of an expansion to proportions which cannot even be visualized at this time.

It's Graduation Time Again

ON Monday morning, Texas Technological college will release approximately 320 trained young men and women to the occupations of the world.

Past records indicate many of those graduates will encounter no unusual difficulty in finding and holding their places in many and various fields of work. One may find graduates of the Lubbock college in China, in South America, in various countries over the globe competently filling positions available only to trained men and young women with thorough educational background.

Particularly significant is the fact that many departments already have placed every graduate and that leaders in various technical fields are asking for more Tech-trained persons. Students may enter many fields of work at Tech with the certainty that if they complete degree requirements they will find a desirable position waiting.

Each year, a few more students receive degrees. By studying records of the nearly 3,000 degrees awarded in past commencements, one is awed by the surety and rapidity with which the growing, baby institution is climbing upward and outward.

We are proud that even late Saturday we could not learn with certainty the definite number of graduates. No better indication may be obtained of the strict requirements for graduation than the fact that leaders of the college turn deaf ears to pleas of doubtful candidates for graduation, although sympathetically waiting until the last hope is exhausted by the student attempting to meet requirements.

Northeastern Cities Are All In The Same Boat; They're All Trying To Figure Out:

What's Behind The Relief Crisis?

THE story of the mounting cost of relief from 1933 to date, as shown by a study of the Social Security Board, is depicted in this chart, with expenditures tabulated month by month. Note that as 1938 came in, expenses began to mount toward the highest total monthly cost since 1932. Note the rising burden assumed by "special types of public assistance" which include old-age benefits, and those for children and for the blind. Try to imagine, also, what would happen if the huge WPA total at top were dumped down in the general relief section below, and what that would mean to cities already hard-pressed financially.

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 4—The drama surrounding acute relief crisis in great cities like New York, Cleveland, and Chicago has somewhat obscured the fact that the condition is general in large cities throughout the industrial northeast.

Mayors of 60 large cities have joined in a plea to Washington for PWA extension, united by the fact that their communities cannot, without such help, carry the burden of direct relief. The crisis in the various cities is a matter of degree, not of kind.

The general breakdown of city finances under the sudden strain of greatly-increased relief demands is opening up the whole subject of city-county-state relationships. The Council of State Governments, the American Public Welfare Association, and the Municipal Finance Officers' Association, all with headquarters here, are studying changing relationships between these governmental units.

FUMBLING TACTICS MAR ADMINISTRATION

STUDY of the current series of relief crises which run from city to city like a train of gunpowder, shows that the most immediate trouble in nearly all cases is a fumbling of the ball between city, county and state administration. The line of responsibility is not clearly marked between them. The result is a running fire of accusations back and forth between state legislatures and city councils.

Carl H. Chatters, executive director of the Finance Officers' Association made up of city treasurers and financial officials of cities in the United States and Canada, unearths roots of the immediate crisis by not-

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ROOSEVELT liberals in Colorado—and Washington—have apparently stepped on their own political feet. In choosing Supreme Court Justice Benjamin Hilliard to oppose anti-New Dealer Alva Adams, they have selected a severe critic of the President's philosophies.

The Colorado legislature, like so many state bodies in the early bloom of the New Deal, enacted numerous measures corresponding to and incorporating F. D. R.'s ideas. Mr. Hilliard, as a member of the state court, upset several of the key laws designed to effectuate Washington's program within Colorado. Many years ago he was a bitter opponent of the President's erstwhile boss—Woodrow Wilson. It is probable that Senator Adams can provide mathematical proof that he has been a more loyal Rooseveltian than his opponent.

The situation precisely pictures the administration's difficulty in the present purge of Congressional Democrats. Mr. Roosevelt aches to defeat the politically living disloyal, but he is having trouble in unearthing powerful candidates who sympathize with his views. He'll probably have just as much legislative trouble with the new crop—that is, if he can remake Congress nearer to his heart's desire.

STERLING: The comparative calm on Capitol Hill over Harry Hopkins' relief remark testifies to the deep affection which affronted politicos have for him. Not a single critic, including the savage Burt Wheeler, didn't preface his retorts with the introduction that he had a "high regard for Harry Hopkins"—a most unusual tribute.

The answer is that everybody appreciates and admires the relief administrator's innate honesty and conscientiousness. More than that, he is one of the most delightful individuals at the Capital—boyishly ebullient, a brilliant conversationalist and so sincere that it hurts. Perhaps it shouldn't be told, but at the very moment when he was handing out billions for America's needy, he was so burdened by private expenses that it wasn't funny. Yet you never heard Harry grumble or grouse.

Even his weaknesses lean to virtue's side—frankness, impatience, intense loyalty to the President, a deep conviction that government owes a part-time meal to the hungry. He is what Washington—Democratic and Republican, reactionaries and revolutionists—calls a "swell fellow."

MASTER: Pat Harrison heaped hot coals upon the President in his tax speech, but most people missed it. It's simply further evidence of the Mississippian's astuteness when he is aroused.

Mr. Harrison, of course, was replying directly to President Roosevelt's Arthurdale castigation of Congress. Yet the Senator wanted to observe all the urbane and parliamentary rules. He did. More times than it seemed necessary—and more times than he usually permits himself—he referred to Vice-President Garner as "Mister President." The latter's secondary title is "president of the Senate." Thus, without appearing too brusque or brutal, the Senator hurled his answer directly at the man in the White House.

The answer may be that Pat's birth name was "Byron"—the poet who was a master of lyrics and philippics.

DESCENT: A well known Washington lawyer—Neil Burkinshaw—revealed himself as a master of understatement during a recent discussion in chambers with a well known judge. Said Mr. Burkinshaw, in referring to a certain shady person!

"He is the lineal descendant on the female side of the celebrated dog in the manger!"

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE amateur Warwicks are at it again. They have tentatively selected another heir-apparent to the Roosevelt throne for 1940—Harry Hopkins, the master dispenser of federal largesse. Their previous selection, Robert Jackson, the youthful solicitor-general, was to have been made governor of New York this year as a prelude to the presidency, but the bubble burst almost as soon as the blowers started to inflate it.

Undismayed, a group of inner New Deal planners—including Tommy Corcoran, Ben Cohen, Jerome Frank and Morris Ernst—are mapping the same route for Hopkins. The selection has of course no endorsement from the President, but Hopkins has long been popular with the head New Dealer. He has the vivid, volatile, enthusiastic sort of personality which Mr. Roosevelt most admires. His promoters look upon him as a reasonable compromise behind whom the conservative Democrats may fall in line for the sake of party unity. He would be accused, they admit, of buying the election. But so would any other New Dealer.

The Democratic nomination for the governorship is the chief stumbling block. Governor Lehman and Jim Farley are almost certain to oppose Hopkins. But the governor can stop him, say the planners, only by becoming a candidate himself. The proposal is sure to set off fireworks in New York's complex Democratic tangle, even though they may fizzle out as did the previous batch.

FIGHTER: One hurdle which the Hopkins boosters will have to surmount is John J. Bennett, jr., New York state attorney-general. Bennett has declared publicly that he will fight anyone except Lehman for the gubernatorial nomination. His backers claim that he has Kings, Queens and Manhattan sewed up and that he can split the Democratic party wide open if he doesn't get his way.

Recently Bennett sent a confidential message to Congressman James M. Mead, who also has been mentioned as a candidate, to "keep out of this—or else." The "or else" meant that Mead would get no backing for the House or Senate in 1940 if Bennett secured the governorship.

Bennett is self-made, energetic, an effective public speaker. His dramatic expose of big-dealer monopoly in the state's milk industry has done him no harm politically. A product of the Brooklyn Democratic machine, he likes nothing better than a fight.

DOCILE: Judge Arthur James, who defeated Gifford Pinchot by a surprisingly decisive margin in the Pennsylvania Republican gubernatorial primary, is already being touted in high conservative quarters as a G. O. P. white hope for 1940. If he wins in November, he is bound to become conspicuous in the national Republican picture.

This is all the more likely since he is a personal protege of the Sun Oil magnate, Joseph Pew. Mr. Pew is reliably reported to have spent well over half a million dollars—including a substantial personal contribution—in his successful campaign to nominate James. The oil man has a far more potent voice in the Republican national committee than is generally realized.

As and when James comes to the fore, an effort will be made to build him up as a man of the people on the strength of an early job in a coal mine. Actually his emergence would represent a G. O. P. reversion to the McKinley-Mark Hanna tradition. He is an ultra-conservative machine politician with a rather negative personality—a docile product of the old Vare organization. He once promptly withdrew his announced candidacy for the state supreme court when he found that it did not meet the late William S. Vare's approval.

Faithful Picture Of The Southwest

"Brazos" Is Robust Yarn Of The Pioneer Cattle Country

"BRAZOS," by Ross McLaury Taylor; (Bobbs-Merrill, Indianapolis).

SOME day the historian is going to make real use of the current crop of historical fiction. For the most part none of it is essentially great writing, but it does preserve all the color and the vitality of pioneer America.

A book doing just this is Ross McLaury Taylor's novel of the pioneer southwest, "Brazos" the story of a cattleman's son who set out on his own after the Civil War to find out what life is made of and who found aplenty.

Brazos Bolton got his first job at $20 a month, with board, delivering horses in Griffin; after that riding trail herd to the railroad and Dodge City. Constantly he moves against the raw backdrop of the cowtown frontier, of cheap saloons and honkey-tonk women, cattle thieves and card sharps, and in the end he learns that which his father once told him, that killing a man leaves no easy feeling.

But the story of Brazos Bolton is not really important after all. What Taylor has contributed here with faithful integrity is the old Southwest itself. In dialog and setting he has put the cattle country down on a sweeping canvas. The result is that vitality which the historians might some day very well appropriate.

There have been better novels of the southwest than "Brazos," but few have been better drawn.

"FLATTERY'S FOAL" by Peter Shiraeff brings to life the horsey set, but not in England as you might expect. The setting is Russian, the time both before and after the Revolution, and the types are familiar in essence, but rather curiously slanted because of their racial background. You'd probably like it even though you don't ride or own a stable.

Harvesting Of 1938 Wheat Crop Expected To Get Under Way Soon Over Area

Weather Is Hard On Production

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Harvesting of the 1938 South Plains wheat crop, which has undergone probably one of the severest and most varied weather tests known, should get under way some time this week in widely scattered sections, although it will be mid-June probably before much actual harvesting can be done.

Fields are rapidly turning from green to straw color, but with combine harvester-threshers used for the greater part, there is delay to be had in harvesting. Lateness of the crop will probably throw the bulk of starting operations into the last ten days of the month, with the peak coming in July rather than in late June.

Rains Cause Delay

Rains of the past week may cause some delay in getting into fields for early harvesting. Likewise the grain will probably remain green a little longer.

Loss of acres by hail has taken a good toll, especially in Floyd and Crosby counties, with some losses in Dickens and Briscoe. Earlier hail was not destructive. Accurate check has not yet been completed, but it is probable that around 50,000 acres or more, were damaged.

Farmers and grain men in the past two weeks have been inclined to admit earlier low yields were probably too pessimistic. Averages now are believed to be higher than first thought.

Yields Of 20 Bushels Seen

Some yields up to 20 bushels are now predicted, depending on moisture and weather conditions.

As a matter of fact actual returns will not be in until mid-July. Even losses by hail may come during actual cutting.

Some late reports of wheat conditions and estimated yields show the following:

Dimmitt, condition excellent, best prospects and should have between 750 and 1,000 cars, depending on conditions from now on out.

Hale Center, 10 to 15 bushels average expected, cutting should begin late in the month, about June 20, shipments should exceed 100 cars if conditions right. Peak of the movement should be about July 1.

Floydada, loss now estimated 10 to 12 per cent; average may run 12 to 20 bushels per acre; hail damage was east of town. Crop is ripening fast.

Amherst, acreage small but will yield from 10 to 12 bushels.

Lockney, crop ripening fast, condition of dry land wheat a little better than last year, no hail losses.

Post, in many sections not enough wheat for seed expected to be harvested.

Harvesting To Be Late

Kress, wheat heading out well, grains filling.

Crosbyton, loss by hail estimated at 250,000 bushels. Harvest may start by June 10; average indicated from 10 to 12 bushels. Chief loss on East Plains.

Plainview, wheat heading out, heads well filled, crop better than average.

Happy, harvest to start about June 25-30; some grasshoppers reported, wheat generally improving.

Better Than Anticipated

Idalou, wheat doing better than farmers anticipated, harvest to start about June 15-20; yields may run better.

Abernathy, losses placed as high as 20 per cent. Harvest will be late.

Tahoka, small acreage may run 12 bushel average.

Lorenzo, first estimate of 6 to 12 bushels now placed at 12 to 15 bushels.

Tulia, crop to move and at least 100 cars more than last year expected.

ing that city budgets for 1938, generally made up in late 1937, did not allow for rapidly-rising relief costs.

With this, of course, came a decline in city revenues which began in July of 1937. This decline was not enough to hold the 1937 total under 1936, but it is continuing and bodes no good for municipal finance in 1938.

MUST RAISE MONEY, BUT CAN'T RAISE TAXES

"THE ability of cities to raise revenue is completely under the control of the state," Chatters emphasizes. "Yet the cities face a financial problem complicated by rising labor and material costs, encroachment of state and federal governments on local revenue sources, tax limitation, homestead exemption and other tax exemption laws."

Chatters believes that cities beset by mounting financial problems need two things.

First, an end to planless batting of the relief problem back and forth between city, county, state and federal governments, so that cities may know clearly what share of the relief burden they must carry.

Second, a system of relief administration that will place a premium on good administration instead of a prize for poor administration, which is often the way it works out in practice today.

MUST LOOK BEYOND THE END OF THE NOSE

BY the latter, Chatters means that when a city's relief program breaks down entirely, the state or federal government is forced to step in, and dumps outside funds into the city instead of making it necessary to raise them by local taxation. This eases the tax burden locally, but it is short-sighted and results in a chaos of administration like that which so many cities face at present.

Since it is almost too much to expect local city administrations to seek voluntarily any arrangement which would tend to put more of the relief burden on local taxes, Chatters believes the federal government should take the lead in seeking new relief arrangements whereby higher governments would contribute to a city relief situation a fixed sum. Then the additional amount the local administration would have to raise in taxes would depend on the efficiency of local administration of relief.

HOW SOME STATES ARE HANDLING PROBLEM

THE city relief problem, after dominating the 1937 sessions of the legislatures of 10 states, now has the almost exclusive attention of those of Louisiana, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio and Illinois.

In both the latter states, revision of the relations between state and city relief burdens and the extent of state control over city finance and taxation are under discussion. Neither Cleveland nor Chicago has yet been given by the state enough latitude in tax-levying to permit them to meet their relief situations with special levies.

California is reimbursing counties for social security payments. Kansas has made an emergency welfare fund available to counties. Georgia has authorized its state welfare department to bear part of county welfare expenses. In New Jersey a waiver of municipal debt limits is being considered.

And in the meantime, new relationships between city, county and state are gradually being forged on the hard anvil of the relief crisis that faces most large American cities today.

War On Grasshoppers Being Speeded Up

Hundreds of these "Big Berthas" were loaded up as northeast New Mexico and northwest Texas speeded up the war on grasshoppers, hoping to kill the pests while they are young and before extensive damage can be done. This machine is being loaded near Dalhart, with poisoned mash, which it will spread over infested areas.

Snyder has completed his pens, which are prepared to handle from a truck load of cattle to a car load and more.

"We will begin receiving cattle Sunday," said Snyder. "It is our plan to hold two auctions a week, Mondays and Thursdays."

Stocker and feeder cattle will be sold, as well as butcher, he said. Snyder added he had been assured by some of the large buyers that they would be represented regularly at the sales.

East Texas Tomato Growers Look To Government For Aid

JACKSONVILLE, June 4. (AP) — East Texas tomato growers looked to the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation today for a possible purchasing program which would lift tomato prices out of the doldrums.

Harvesting here, center of a 15-county producing area, started eight days ago with prices of 1.50 to 1.75 cents per pound. Within a few days the price had plummeted to 1 cent, and less. At Carthage today growers were receiving half-a-cent, lowest price in history there.

Meanwhile at Tyler, Travis Smith, an attorney, said he had received a telegram from Senator Morris Sheppard that Joseph P. Hatch, FSCC representative, was enroute to Texas in connection with the tomato crop.

Smith said Hatch would first contact Senator Joe L. Hill at Henderson, who disclosed he had received assurance a federal purchasing program would be put in effect.

New Federal Agency For Aviation Planned

WASHINGTON, June 4. (AP) — A joint congressional committee agreed today on terms of legislation setting up an independent federal agency to regulate commercial and civil aviation.

The senate and house conferees decided on a five-member civil aeronautics authority which would centralize controls now scattered among half a dozen federal agencies.

The bill provides that all scheduled lines on May 14 of this year will be recognized. Senator Copeland (D-NY) said although existing airmail contracts technically were canceled, contract holders would continue to operate under the proposed authority.

The New Yorker said eight new air mail routes and two extensions, on which contracts had been let and funds provided although actual operations were delayed, would be given preferred status by the measure and recognized, in effect, as existing air routes.

The new routes and extensions included those from Wichita, Kas., to Pueblo, Colo.; Bismarck, to Minot, N. D.; Brownsville to Houston-San Antonio; Phoenix, Ariz., to Las Vegas, Nev.; Yakima to Portland.

Thomas Jefferson Randolph, oldest grandson of the third President of the United States, in 1829, introduced a bill in the Virginia legislature for the gradual abolition of slavery, but the proposal was defeated.

TARZAN UNDER FIRE No. 25 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

For a while the boys walked along in silence, then Dick stopped quickly. "I'm scared," he whispered; "I've got a queer feeling we're in danger." "Maybe we'd better take to the trees again," Doc advised. Dick signified agreement by leaping to a low bough.

They proceeded with caution, their eyes and ears alert. And the motion they imparted to the branches could not be distinguished from the stirrings of the wind. Then Dick, who was in the lead, halted suddenly, raising his finger in a gesture of warning.

Without a word he pointed downward through the foliage. Doc saw something that moved, something black amidst the greens and browns and yellows of the brush. Presently it resolved itself into a head of hair, tangled, unkempt. Then he saw another, and another.

These were heads — human, but somehow bestial. And now the boy began to see hands on both sides of the trail, hands grasping cudgels. Evidently these creatures, whatever they were, had heard the boys approaching, and were waiting now to pounce upon them!

Radio Party Is Being Planned

McDavis Clothiers one of the most exclusive shops for men's furnishings in West Texas, will be opened formally from 8 to 9 o'clock Monday night, with a radio party. A staff orchestra from KFYO will play.

The building, located at 1108 Broadway, is modernistic, has the finest furnishings Grand Rapids could supply and furred walls are trimmed in silkwood birch with dark cornices. Inlaid coverings on the floor, indirect lighting, air-conditioning system, novel plan and other factors stamp it one of the prettiest stores in this section of the state.

Name Is Explained

The name McDavis is a contraction of the names of Paul E. Davis, manager, and of R. I. McArron of Breckenridge, one of the three partners. P. W. Pitzer of Breckenridge, owner of Chemical Process company of Breckenridge, the largest in Texas, and Davis are the others.

Davis said the most exclusive lines of nationally-advertised merchandise would be sold in the store, which will cater to men and boys only.

Personnel has been selected carefully to offer maximum in service and courtesy, said Davis. L. A. Burdine, assistant manager, formerly acted in that capacity for Barrier-Durham of Lubbock. He has lived here approximately 11 years.

With Breckenridge Store

J. P. Blinker, head of the advertising and display department, has been with the Breckenridge store, Hub Clothiers, eight years. He is married and has one child. He lives in Lubbock hotel. Last year he won two national display prizes and had won four earlier, through his ideas in decorating windows.

D. V. Matheny, in the hats and furnishings department, is well known in Lubbock, having been graduated from high school several years ago here. He joined the army and spent five years in New York, San Antonio and in Panama City, C. Z. Later he traveled out of St. Louis for a pants manufacturing company.

Other employes are L. L. Latham of Stephenville, who will do tailoring and alteration work, and Jack Brown, student in Texas Technological college.

The Monday night opening will be public.

Exclusive Store To Be Formally Opened Here Monday Night

Above is a view of McDavis Clothiers, model air-conditioned structure that will be opened formally with a radio party Monday night. The interior of the store, at 1108 Broadway, is in silkwood birch, inlaid floor surfacing and modernistic furnishings—one of the most beautiful and modern structures in the city. The opening will be public.

Store Manager

Paul E. Davis, above, manager of McDavis Clothiers and partner of R. I. McArron, manager of Hub Clothiers and of P. W. Pitzer, both of Breckenridge. He is a former North Carolinan who attended the University of North Carolina and Catawba. He is not married, and lives in Lubbock hotel.

Self-Styled "Boiler Kid" To Go Places During Summer

CHICAGO, June 4. (AP)—Fred Snite, jr., the self-styled "boiler kid," is going places this summer in a specially built automobile equipped with a periscope.

It will enable him to be taken on pleasure drives, and to ball games and other outdoor events which have been denied the 27-year-old infantile paralysis victim since he was stricken in Peiping, China, two years ago.

Young Snite was in high spirits when he arrived yesterday from his Miami, Fla., winter home. The journey from Miami brought to 12,000 the number of miles he has traveled in "iron lungs."

SOUTHWESTERN PIONEER DIES

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 4. (AP)—Edward Herbert Eikler, 84-year-old Southwestern pioneer who drove the second herd of cattle down historic Chisholm trail, died here today. Death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Eikler played a colorful part in early Oklahoma history. He was a lieutenant under Capt. David L. Payne, the famous Sooner who sought to force the issue of white settlement in Oklahoma by moving in without government authority.

Since 1935 Australia has imported American aircraft worth $1,750,000. Delivery of at least four more planes is expected within the next six months.

Board Of Directors Of Texas Tech To Gather In Annual Meeting Here Monday

Important Items To Be Studied

Business of supreme importance to Texas Technological college will be considered by the board of directors in an annual meeting that will open at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in President Bradford Knapp's office and at which the budget for next regular session will be approved and request for state funds for the 1939-1941 biennium considered.

Several resignations are to be presented to the board and appointments made to fill the vacancies and likely to fill two new faculty positions.

All Members To Attend

Clifford B. Jones of Spur, chairman, will preside and as far as was known Saturday by the secretary, W. T. Gaston, no members will be absent. Members have been invited to arrive early to attend baccalaureate and commencement services Sunday night and Monday morning.

Confronted with the problem of stretching next year's funds to cover the needs of a rapidly growing college, directors are expected to convene in a long session during which much time will be taken in considering petitions of departments and routine business.

Only $496,353.45 Available

Only $496,353.45 state funds are available for next year, the same amount as for this session. Other funds available will be those obtained from tuition and from the state board of vocational education and any surplus from this year.

President Knapp will report to the board that the cost of education per student was only $147.19 to the tax payer during the 1937-38 session.

Policy Is Cited

A policy on appropriations for educational institutions which would allow a considerable increase in Tech funds was voted in the last session of the legislature. According to the policy, appropriations from state funds to state institutions of higher learning would be based upon the number of full-time students in attendance.

Dr. Knapp's budget recommendation for the 1939-41 biennium would involve a substantial increase in the amount requested for salary and maintenance. The request to the next regular legislature will no doubt be made on basis of enrollment and semester credit hours, it was announced.

Payment Basis Given

According to the policy adopted by the legislature, $175 would be appropriated for each full-time student registered in the lower levels, consisting of freshmen and sophomore years; $225 for each full-time student in the upper and graduate levels, consisting of junior and senior years and graduate work; and $25 for each full-time student in technical courses.

Board members, other than Jones, are: Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock, vice chairman; Mrs. John A. Heley, Midland; Joe T. Sneed, Amarillo; James M. West, Houston; Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie; Tomas G. Pollard, Tyler; L. L. Steele, Mexia; Charles C. Thompson, Colorado; and Gaston, ex-officio member.

Ropes Students Are Back Home

Twenty-seven seniors of Ropesville High school were home again Saturday from a 15-day tour in chuck wagon style which carried them to points of scenic interest in four states and old Mexico along an itinerary of more than 3,000 miles.

The students, tanned and healthy, made Lubbock the last stop of their journey. Accompanying them were Supt. and Mrs. A. K. Krause.

Students Saved Money

Cost of the journey, Krause reported, was approximately $300 which members of the class had saved through the year from plays, other benefits of various kinds and from pulling bolls one day last cotton picking season. The boll pulling added $64 to the total.

Members of the party traveled by bus and kept traveling costs to a minimum by preparing their own meals and camping out.

Points Of Interest

Points visited included Carlsbad ceverns, Davis Mountains, Balmorhea lake, Fort Davis, Del Rio, Via Acuna, Mex., San Antonio, Austin, Huntsville, Houston, Galveston, New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., Vicksburg, Miss., National park, Shreveport, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Students in the party are Elizabeth Copeland, Kidy Lu Harris, C. A. Turner, Jim Zorns, Charlie Mike Merry, Billy Gibson, Allen Gamble, Lou Allie Boone, Syble Moore, Arlene Redman, Olean Brownfield, Coy Alley, Hazel Wheeler, James Snyder, Juanita Flowers, Tom Archie Cate, Emma Katherine Rainwater, Monroe Payton, Eulis Baugh, Farris Tomlinson, Novel Peazel, Faye Brown, Evelyn Latham, Clayton Evans, George Westover, Claud Young and Keith Barnard.

Fort Worth Civic Leader Is Taken By Death Yesterday

FORT WORTH, June 4. (AP)—F. W. Axtell, 75, windmill manufacturer and Fort Worth civic leader since 1891, died in a hospital this afternoon.

He had been critically ill of pneumonia several days.

Axtell was born on a farm in Morrow county, Ohio, in 1862.

He is survived by his widow, four sons, Dr. Earl C., Jay M., Herbert and F. W. Axtell, jr., and two daughters, Miss Helen Axtell and Mrs. Charles C. Mitchell. All except F. W. jr., live in Fort Worth. He lives in San Angelo.

The paper made in one year in the world would make a path a mile wide around the earth.

Perryton Couple Will Receive Degrees At Tech Monday; Must Rush Home For Harvest

A versatile couple—Mr. and Mrs. Spencer P. Whippo from Perryton.

Three years they have attended college together. Monday morning they will receive degrees in the commencement service at Texas Technological college, then they will rush to their Ochiltree county ranch home to harvest their one and one-half sections of wheat.

Studied While Wheat Grew

The last three years, they have gone collegeward after their wheat was in the ground. They studied while the wheat grew, then returned home shortly before reaping of their crop.

In addition to their other activities they find time each summer for extensive vacations. They have vacationed in Canada, visiting at the Dionne home in Callander where they saw the quintuplets, and in most states of the union. They plan a Mexico trip next winter. They recognize travel as an important part of one's education.

Taught School Together

Ten years, they taught school together in Perryton. Then they decided to further their college education. They went to West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon in 1935-36 and Whippo received a degree in education there in 1936.

They then came to Tech, where Whippo continued studies, this time in agronomy, and Mrs. Whippo in education. Whippo will receive his second bachelor of science degree Monday and will have completed part of his work toward a master's degree.

Maintains Good Average

Mrs. Whippo has maintained an "A-minus" to "A" average during her studies at Tech. She has been honored in the last two annual women's recognition services. Whippo represented Tech as a member of the grain judging team at an international contest last fall.

Whippo plans to continue study at Tech. He hopes sometime to do agronomy research work.

Whippo's father was a pioneer of Ochiltree county. He built the three-story ranch home in which the couple lives near Perryton.

Six States And Approximately 3,000 Miles Of Travel Included In Itinerary For Boy Scouts Journey To Yellowstone Park

BY H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

At least six states and approximately 3,000 miles of travel were included on the "elastic itinerary" announced as having been completed Saturday for the Boy Scout motor trip to Yellowstone National park June 27 through July 17.

J. A. Raley, jr., is chairman of the tours' committee for South Plains Scout council, sponsor of the trip.

All other arrangements for the tour have been virtually completed, his announcement added.

Buses To Be Used

The arrangements include provision for two new and modern school buses of latest design, two trucks purchased within the last two months and the construction of a trailer kitchen in which food will be prepared. Buses and trucks will be rented.

Earl M. McClure, council executive, reported that 12 of the 48 scouts who can be taken on the trip already have made reservations, as have 12 adults who will serve as leaders. Not more than 15 adults will be taken, he added. Total cost of the tour will be $47.50, which will include transportation, meals, sleeping accommodations, entrance cost to Yellowstone, fishing permits and guide fees. The only expense to which members of the party will be put will be their spending money and the cost of bedding and clothing.

Travel 300 Miles Per Day

More than 90 per cent of the traveling will be on paved roads and the remainder on all-weather highways, Raley said. Travel will be at the comparatively leisurely pace of 300 miles per day, which has been decided upon as a safety measure.

Night stops en route to Yellowstone will be Raton, N. M., Denver, Colo., Wheatland, Wyo., and Thermopolis, Wyo. Returning, members of the party will camp a week in the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming, described as one of the world's most magnificent scenic spots. It is the nation's largest game preserve and offers the finest of fishing, McClure said.

To Visit Royal Gorge

Returning through Colorado the itiniary will be adjustable to time, weather and road conditions. If practicable, the motorcade will be routed through the Royal Gorge of Colorado where the boys will be given opportunity to see and cross the world's highest suspension bridge. Other side trips are planned at various other points along the route.

Definitely included on the returning schedule will be Santa Fe, N. M.

TROOP CAMP TO OPEN

Second of the summer troop encampments will open at Camp Post this afternoon with an indicated enrollment of 100 to 125 boys, according to Marshall Mason of Post, council camping chairman.

Participating will be scouts from troops Nos. 2, 4, 6, 7, 8, 10, and 13 of Lubbock; 23 and 80 from Lamesa; 39 from Sudan; 45 and 49 from Brownfield, and 81 from Abernathy.

First of the encampments ended Saturday afternoon.

LEAVE FOR FORT WORTH

Four members and the skipper of the Lubbock Sea Scout ship left Saturday for Fort Worth to participate in the two-day regatta at Lake Worth there. It will be the first such event in which the Sea Scouts here have participated.

Those making the trip were James C. Irvine, skipper, and Bedford Raley, Allan Nelson, Joseph Bell and Russell Myrick. Irvine was skipper of a ship in Fort Worth until his removal recently to Lubbock.

TAKEN BY DEATH

DENTON, June 4. (AP)—J. N. Rayzor, 79, former operator of a flour mill here, and a prominent Baptist layman, died today.

Summer Term To Open Thursday

Regular session students will scarcely leave classrooms after conclusion of final examinations Tuesday afternoon at Texas Technological college before summer school enrollees will throng into Lubbock.

The last examination of the 1937-38 session will be conducted from 2 to 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, but many students will complete examinations earlier and will leave for out-of-town homes.

Registration Is Thursday

Registration for the first term of summer school will be conducted from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 1:30 to 5 p. m. Thursday and classes will open at 7 a. m. Friday. The first term will end July 16. The second term will be conducted July 19 to Aug. 25.

Enrollment for the two terms is expected to exceed the total of 1,695 for last summer, said President Bradford Knapp.

All students will begin registering in the administration building, before going to the buildings in the divisions in which they will be registered.

Visiting Professors Coming

In addition to regular faculty members on the summer staff, there will be several visiting faculty members the first term: Lewis B. Cooper of Fort Worth, director of research for the Texas State Teachers association, who will serve as lecturer in education; L. H. Moore, associate professor of philosophy and education at Texas State College for Women at Denton, lecturer in education; Miss Mina Marie Wolf of Columbia university, instructor in foods and nutrition; Gabriel Engerrand, University of Iowa, instructor in foreign languages; Mrs. Floy F. Hooper of Portland, Ore., instructor in architecture and allied arts; and Miss Leonore K. Alway, instructor in physical education at the University of Nebraska, women's physical education staff member.

Course In Traffic Safety Will Be Offered In Summer Term

A course in traffic safety will be offered the second time during the summer school opening at Texas Technological college Thursday.

In the first term, the characteristics of the driver, driver and pedestrian responsibilities, sound driving practices and society's responsibilities will be studied and emphasis will be placed on methods of teaching traffic safety in public schools. The course, for teachers, will offer three hours credit. A second term course also will be offered.

Annual Band School Will Be Opened At Tech On Thursday

The annual band school at Texas Technological college will open with registration Thursday and will end July 16. D. O. Wiley, director, will have charge.

R. A. Dhossche, director of the Beaumont High school band, will direct the intermediate band. Dhossche is a graduate of Royal Belgian conservatory at Ghent.

Instrumental directors will be Col. Earl D. Irons, director of North Texas Agricultural college band at Arlington, cornet; Dhossche, flute; H. A. Anderson, director of Lubbock High school band, clarinet; Milburn E. Carey, director of Phillips university band at Enid, Okla., oboe instructor July 4-16; Clyde H. Rowe, director of Slaton High school band, clarinet and saxophone; Chas. Sanford Eskridge, director of Wink High school band, brasses; Walter S. Dickenson, director of Stinnett High school band, cornet; Joe Haddon, Lubbock, brasses; James Nevins, band major from Abilene graduating from Tech this year, clarinet.

Mark H Hindsley, assistant director of University of Illinois bands, will serve as guest conductor July 11-16.

Tech To Cling To Old-Fashioned Custom Of Individual Recognition Of Its Graduates; 'Streamlined' Procedure Won't Be Used

Although many colleges and universities have gone "streamlined" in their graduation procedure, Texas Technological college will cling to the old-fashioned manner of offering individual recognition to graduating students.

In many institutions, degrees are passed out to a group from an entire division as the graduates stand on the floor.

Will Walk To Stage

Graduates of Texas Technological college again will walk to the stage after their names are called and will shake hands with the college president upon receiving their degrees Monday morning.

Many graduates have told President Bradford Knapp that the recognition they received when their names were called and they walked to the stage was the phase of their graduation they most valued.

The old custom will be continued here on the theory that a graduate deserves individual recognition after he has spent four years working for a degree, Dr. Knapp said.

A group of seniors recently visited the president and told him they were willing to receive their degrees without going to the stage if shaking hands with the approximately 320 students would be too great a strain on Dr. Knapp, who returned to the college recently after a long illness.

The procedure will be changed slightly, in that students of each division will be presented to the president in a body before going to the platform. Heretofore, candidates for degrees were presented according to their major.

Extension Course In Popular Astronomy Will Be Offered

An extension course in popular astronomy at Texas Technological college will be offered the first term of summer school provided 10 or more students enroll, J. F. McDonald, director of extension, said Saturday.

The course, to be taught by Dr. R. S. Underwood, professor of mathematics, is cultural and non-mathematical in character. The only prerequisite is college standing. Two semester hours will be given for completion of the course. Classes have been set tentatively for 7 until 9:30 o'clock two evenings a week, which will allow breaking up of the long sessions into periods for lectures, quizzes and observation of the sky. A three-inch refracting telescope is available for observations, and a set of lantern slides will be used for one or more lectures.

Regular summer school students can enroll for the course with an additional fee of $5. Other persons can register in the extension office for $10. The summer session opens Tuesday.

WEATHER OUTLOOK
