Boer Goat Cookoff set for Friday & Saturday

The trouble with most cooking contests is that the food smells great, but you can't get any of it if you're not one of the judges or cooks.

That problem has been eliminated for the World Championship Boer Goat Cookoff this weekend in Ruddick Park.

The Cookoff Association will have a booth at which goat meat burritos and goat meat plates will be sold to the public.

"We've had a lot of people want it, so we're going to provide it for them," said President Linton Ray Webb of Loraine Tuesday.

Webb said all preparations have been made for the Friday and Saturday event, but there were still openings for another 10 teams.

"We have 40 teams, and we'll let people in till we hit 50," he said.

"If they'd like to cook, tell them to get ahold of us or show up there Friday at 12 or any time after 12."

Entrants provide their own above ground pits, but the association supplies a half-goat to each team.

Webb may be reached at 737-2610 or 915-338-4899.

He also needs more judges.

Entries must be turned in by 3:30 p.m. Saturday for judging to begin at 4.

Dollar General store planned

A spokesman for the Dollar General Corp. in Nashville, Tenn., confirmed Monday that the company will put a store in the old Safeway Supermarket building at 524 Oak St.

Spokesman Andrea Turner said the C-City building has 8,320 square feet of floor space and that six to 10 people will be employed there, including the manager and assistant manager.

She said District Manager Alan Wagner of San Angelo was involved in choosing Colorado City.

Wagner was unavailable for comment on when the C-City store will be opened.

"Every Dollar General store is unique," said Ms. Turner.

"It takes three or four months to build one, but in an existing building, that varies."

The company carries cleaning products, health and beauty aids, foods, snacks and household goods like towels, washcloths and sheets.

The chain has more than 4,000 outlets in 24 states and will have opened from 575 to 600 new ones by the end of this year, Ms. Turner said.

"We'll have 3,000 items in a store, half of which are $1 or less," she said.

Safeway vacated the building in 1986, after which it became Hull's IGA Supermarket.

Then Raymond and Virginia Fuller, who had opened the new Fuller Foods Thriftway at 405 Hickory St. in 1985, operated it as The Venture Store for a year and a half before closing it in 1988.

Ms. Turner said Dollar General is observing its 60th anniversary this year, having started in Springfield, Ky., and moving its corporate headquarters

A-1 joins Hillcrest

The Hillcrest Addition housing development in the northwestern, or "Sands," area of Colorado City has won approval to amend its contract with the county and allow the installation of mobile homes.

Hillcrest General Manager Dell Toelkes told commissioners during a called meeting last Thursday that A-1 Homes of San Angelo will begin selling its homes there and buying the lots from Hillcrest.

Toelkes said more than 900 people have visited the development in the past two years and 22 signed sales contracts, but mortgages were ultimately approved for only eight.

He said Hillcrest, a division of Covenant Communities Inc. of Austin, tried more than a dozen mortgage companies in an unsuccessful attempt to streamline the financing process.

Hospital Board seeks "answers"

Mitchell County Hospital Board members agreed Tuesday night to form committees next month to decide what future course the hospital district should take.

Board President Kent Boyd said seven outside studies have been done for the district since 1983, and he said after the 6 p.m. meeting ended at 7:05 that the members now "need to find the answers ourselves.

"We're to the point where we have to make some decisions one way or another," he said.

Well water coming

If you notice a big difference in your tap water next week, it's because there is one -- the difference between well water and lake water.

The first phase of the City of Colorado City's historic $3.5 million project to supplant its Lake C-City water with well water from near Loraine has been finished, except for some testing.

"The quality of water is going to be extremely improved," said City Manager Steve Shutt Tuesday morning.

Six miles of 16-inch pipe were laid underground from south of the Wallace Center water tower in southeastern C-City to the five-well field just west of the County Road 404-Lucas Road intersection.

The pumping station at the field was reworked Monday in preparation for testing lines from the field, under South Hwy. 208 and north a few

Diabetic youth dies

Jeremy Everett

An 18-year-old Kermit man who had been living at Lake Colorado City was found dead in a pickup truck last Thursday night north of here off Hwy. 208 in Scurry County.

A Scurry County justice of the peace ordered an autopsy, but Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs said foul play or suicide was not suspected.

Jeremy Heath Everett had had diabetes since age 2, having to take two or three injections of insulin a day, and Sheriff Toombs said the disease could have caused his death.

He was reported missing to

A Colorado City policeman whose patrol car was hit by a motorcycle at 8:08 p.m. last Tuesday at 10th and Hickory Streets has been issued a traffic citation for failing to yield the right of way.

The motorcycle rider was ticketed for operating a motorcycle without a license, not having liability insurance and not wearing a helmet.

Sheriff Patrick Toombs said City Policeman Pete Torres, 28, had stopped at a stop sign and was eastbound onto Hickory off 10th Street, attempting to Toelkes said A-1 has a good reputation in the mobile home industry and has a greater variety of means to provide financing for its customers.

"It'll be good to get those folks in here and get them working, too," he said.

He said Hillcrest has erected 10 pre-manufactured homes and five are currently being occupied by families. One is the sales office, two were built on speculation and two have been vacated by previous owners, he said.

Sixty-one lots are still available for A-1 homes, Toelkes said.

A recreation park was to be constructed on the north side of the development and operated by the Hillcrest Homeowners Association.

But the City of C-City has asked that that part of the contract be abrogated because of the possibility that the park might one day have to be maintained by the city, the general manager said.

The commissioners court also approved that change in the city-county contract with Covenant Communities.

Toelkes said the park, which was to feature playground equipment, will not be built.

He said A-1's San Angelo branch sells 400 homes a year and Hillcrest will make a substantial contribution to county tax rolls when fully developed.

Bill Lee of Austin, president of Covenant Communities, said A-1 should be more successful because it routinely helps people with credit problems that were unacceptable to the financial institutions that Hillcrest was dealing with.

He noted that Fleetwood Homes, which was building the pre-manufactured homes Hillcrest was selling, has purchased A-1 Homes.

"Our objective was always to put people in houses," Lee said in a Tuesday telephone interview. "It didn't work our way, and hopefully it will work this way."

Other business in the 9 a.m. meeting included awarding a low bid to West Texas Equipment Co. of Abilene for a used 1998 Caterpillar Model 966-F front end loader to be used at the county rock quarry northeast of Loraine.

The loader will cost $157,000 and carry a five-year warranty, said Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston.

The quarry supplies crushed rock to the Col-Tex Refinery cleanup project and roadbase manufacturing plant southwest of town.

Sealcoating bids from two Odessa companies came up the same, for 65 cents per square yard of asphalt, and Pct. 1 Commissioner Ed Roach asked that the matter be tabled to give him more time to consider it.

The offers from Van Zandt Paving and the Jones Brothers Co. were to sealcoat 3.5 miles of County Roads 131 and 139.

Then at a 9 a.m. Monday called court meeting, Comissioner Roach's recommendation to accept the Van Zandt bid was approved after he explained that the company will be able to go to work immediately.

He said the county's being able to supply its own aggregate took 20 cents per square yard off the bid.

The job will cost $25,500 when it would have otherwise cost $32,000, he said.

Two miles of County Road 131 will be sealcoated south of C-City on the east side of Hwy. 208, along with 1.5 miles of 139 a mile north of town and a half-mile east of 208.

County Clerk Debby Carlock unsuccessfully sought approval Monday to hire a replacement for her chief deputy, Tina Williamson, who has resigned.

Commissioners Wendy Inman, Carl Guelker, Bill Preston and Roach questioned Ms. Carlock about the necessity for three clerks.

Ms. Carlock maintained her work load is so heavy that three are needed, even with the office's new $85,000 Apollo computer system.

She said it has been burdened lately with the state's new requirement for a summary index of births and deaths.

"Can you get by with just two clerks?" asked Inman.

"No, I can't," Ms. Carlock said.

"We don't, any of us, have all the help we want," Preston said. "We get by with what we've got."

Ms. Williamson's departure leaves the office with clerks Wanda Pietzsch and Sherry Chaney.

Auditor Susan Buckalew's audit of District Attorney Mark Edwards' drug forfeiture account was approved Monday.

She said Edwards, of Sweetwater, began 1998-99 with $21,484 and received $500,000 from the West Central Texas Crime Task Force's seizure of $9.9 million from a El Paso tractor-trailer rig east of C-City last April.

Ms. Buckalew said Edwards spent $18,687 to give each of his four employees a $2,000 raise and to buy equipment for Texas Department of Public Safety troopers in Mitchell, Nolan and Fisher Counties.

Interest earnings of $5,587 then left a balance of $508,384.

Her Thursday request was granted to amend the county budget and add $16,950 in new state funding to County Attorney Mark Piland's salary.

Legislation approved last spring raised his salary from $29,393 to $46,343.

With all members present, the court went into an executive session at 9:33 a.m. Thursday to discuss real estate with County Board of Economic Development officials Bobby Lemons and Windi Fuller.

It reconvened at 10:15, announced that no action would taken and adjourned.

The Monday meeting was adjourned at 9:15.

ROOFERS from the Lydick-Hooks Co. in Abilene were dumping debris last Friday afternoon from the Colorado High School roof, which they have been replacing on an emergency basis because of summertime hail damages. They have also re-roofed the school's gymnasium and weight-lifting room. The high school roof is costing about $360,000 while the gym work was $24,500 and the weight room $13,000. The Colorado School Board approved the work after Supt. Buddy Compton reported that a heavy rain would probably cause serious damages to the interiors of the buildings.

to Nashville from Scottsville, Ky., recently.

"We open our stores where there is a need in the community for these items at dollar prices," she said.

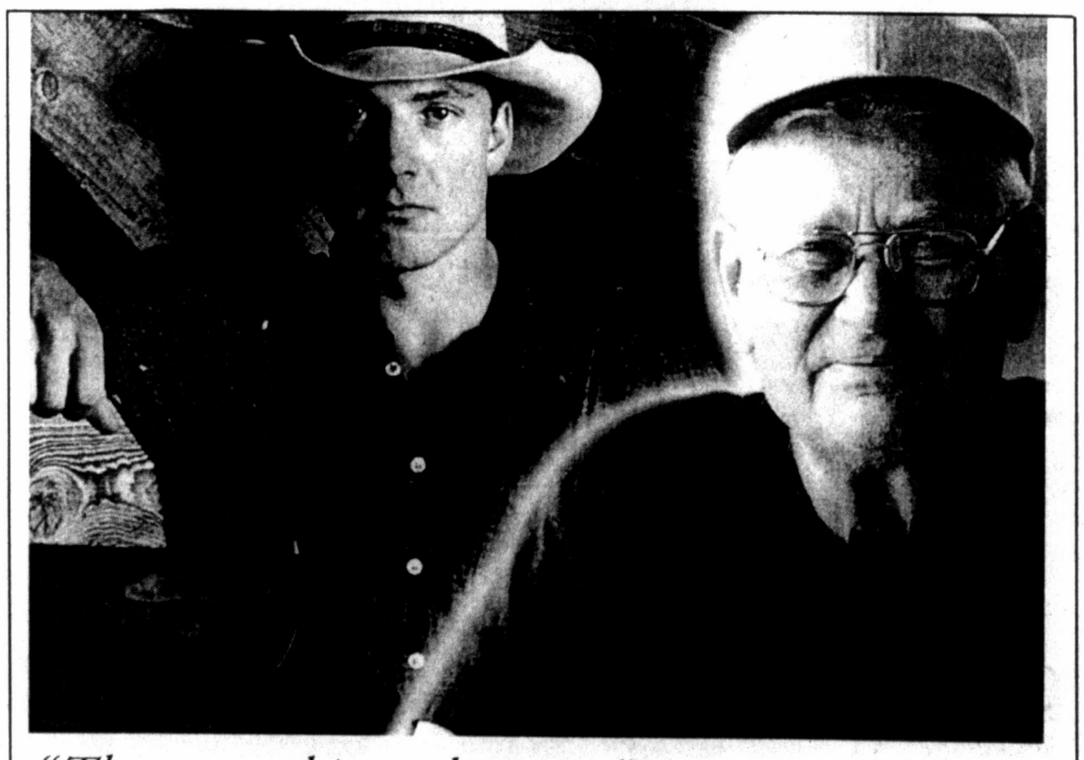

"Dollar General makes a point of going into communities where there are 25,000 residents or fewer, specifically because we know that members of the community who need those items don't necessarily want to drive to another town to get them.

"We think in terms of convenience. We try to make our stores as accessible as possible."

"The more things change..."

When we made our first ag loan many people were still plowing their field with horses. It was so long ago that it seems as if it were another time in another place. So much has changed yet somehow the they have remained the same. Back in those days we were making ag loans to your grandfather. He was buying seed to plant in the same fields that you're working. He did it with a team of horses, you have a modern tractor. We believe in agriculture. We're here for the long haul... from the days of your grandfather to the days of your great-grandchildren.

the Colorado City Police Department last Wednesday by his grandmother, Peggy Treadwell of 5460 Lake County Road 256, where he had been residing.

Mitchell County EMS personnel saw his white 1988 Ford pickup in the east barrow ditch off 208 near Scurry County Road 4138, north of Dunn, on the way to Lubbock Thursday and again on their way home Thursday night.

Physician's assistant Bill Everett, the young man's uncle, then went to the scene and reported finding him in the truck.

Sheriff Toombs said the northbound truck was still in "drive" and the key was on.

Deputy Sheriff Felix Pantoja arrived at 11:20 p.m. and summoned Scurry County Justice of the Peace Charlie Reynolds, who ordered an autopsy, the results of which had not been received Tuesday.

Everett was born on April 14, 1981, in Kermit, where he was a member of Belvue Baptist Church.

A family member said Monday that he had often been an inspiration to his relatives and to young people at the Kermit church for his Christian beliefs and the way in which he dealt with his illness.

He earned a GED diploma in Odessa two years ago and had applied for employment at two C-City stores on the day he died.

He is believed to have expired instantly because he was found still holding a soft drink that he had bought at a local convenience store.

He was on his way to Snyder to see a friend.

His funeral was held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Belvue Baptist Church, where Brother Gary Day officiated. Burial was at Kermit Cemetery under the direction of Cooper Funeral Home.

His family asks that memorials be in the form of donations to the American Diabetes Foundation.

HOSPITAL

The board has been wrestling since last spring with the question of whether or not to hospital, doctors' offices and possibly other facilities.

Boyd, Larry DeBusk and Kenneth Rogers are in favor of such a project.

With all members present, the meeting began with a presentation by Hospital Auxiliary officers Bonnie Farrar, Maxine Pierson, Dorothy Stovall and Gloria Erwin on contributions the "Pink Ladies" have made to the district since 1969.

Ms. Erwin said the group has bought equipment and financed scholarships worth a total of $260,633, including a $21,000 cell counter for the laboratory this year.

Ms. Farrar, its president, said it has worked 3,441 hours so far this year.

"We just wanted you to have this for your information," said Ms. Erwin, the treasurer.

Ms. Pierson is vice president and Ms. Stovall secretary.

The Pink Ladies have come down heavily in favor of a new hospital, although they did not mention it Tuesday night.

Ms. Farrar said the group has never had more than 30 members.

Other business included Administrator Rick Rickard's report that he had asked the district's licensed vocational nurses and nurse's aides to cut back to 32 hours a week to save money and offset overtime expenses.

He said they countered with other options and he agreed to consider them, including a flexible schedule under which they would get days off when the number of patients decreased.

"We have agreed that if they'll show me a better way, we'll work with them on that," he said.

"The simple way would be just to convert everybody to salaries, but the feds won't let you do that, either."

He said the hospital has a maximum load of 22 patients this week, however.

The board approved a new tax collection contract with the county tax assessor-collector's office to increase the district's annual fee from $5,000 to $18,000.

Rickard explained that the county set a rate of $1.02 per parcel when the Loraine Independent School District asked it to take over its collections this fall and the commissioners court then decided to charge the district the same fee, abrogating the annual $5,000 fee that had been in effect for more than 20 years.

He said Texas Tech University's new contract to oversee the provision of medical services by county hospital personnel at the Wallace and Ware unit clinics will be increased by a penny per inmate per day.

The board okayed the new contract after Rickard said the increases from $2.48 to $2.49 at the Wallace Unit, $2.50 to $2.51 at the Ware Unit and $1.48 to $1.49 at the San Angelo, Big Spring and Sweetwater Work Camps will up the district's annual prison-related income from $2.2 million to $2.3 million, or about $100,000.

He said CableComm cable television company has agreed to have its monthly lease on the old Sun Oil Co. building it occupies on East Hwy. 80 increased from $500 to $750 a month to cover the county appraisal district's valuation increase on the building, which is owned by the district.

The building is valued at less than $100,000, he said.

Three opthamologists and a gastroenterologist were added to the hospital staff after being recommended by the medical staff.

Abilene Drs. Thomas Tilton, Mark Phelan and Paul Thames, the opthamologists, or eye doctors, and Dr. Sandip Mathur of Coleman, the gastroenterologist, or stomach and intestines doctor, were approved.

Crimestoppers offers reward

On or before Sept. 4, someone broke out the front windshield on a tractor in the county barn in Loraine. Inside the tractor was a piece of pavement that was used to break the windshield. A fuel line was also broken. Repair costs have been estimated at $500.

Crimestoppers will pay up to $1000 reward for information leading to the indictment of the person(s) responsible.Call 728-TIPS (8477). You will not be asked your name and no one will know who called.

Raincloudsare to be of very short duration

A chance of rain Tuesday night and Wednesday will disappear with the passing of a cold front, the National Weather Service in Midland reported.

Mitchell County weather Thursday through Saturday will be partly cloudy with daytime temperatures in the high 80's and nighttime lows in the low 50's, said meteorologist Susan Griffin.

The rain probability was 20 percent Tuesday night through mid-morning Wednesday as the front carried heavy clouds into West Central Texas, Ms. Griffin said.

The low Tuesday night was in the mid-40's as a gusting northeasterly wind puffed to 20 to 30 mph through 10 a.m. Wednesday.

However, the brunt of the rain-producing system would be concentrated east of here, the weatherman said.

Winds will shift from northeasterly and easterly Wednesday to south, southeasterly and southwesterly the rest of the week.

OBITUARIES

Mary P. Sturdevant
1920-1999

Mary P. Studevant, age 79, of Big Spring, died Thurs., Sept. 23, 1999, in a Big Spring hospital. Graveside services were held at 2 p.m. Mon., Sept. 27, 1999 at Trinity Memorial Park with Rev. Mark McMillian of Wolfforth officiating.

Mrs. Sturdevant was born on Feb. 15, 1920 in Memphis, Missouri and married Chester Sturdevant on Aug. 5, 1945 in Sacramento, California. Mrs. Sturdevant came with her husband to Big Spring in December of 1952 from South Dakota. She had worked as a bookkeeper and secretary for Midwest Welding Supply until she retired in 1977. She was a member of First Christian Church.

Play cast is announced

The new Colorado City Opera House production, "Don't Drink the Water," has been cast, and rehearsals have begun at the 337 Walnut St. theater.

Director Tandy Curlee had supervised two group "read-throughs" of the two-act comedy and was looking for the last two cast members, the Sultan of Bashir and his wife.

Six shows are planned on two weekends in late November and early December.

The leading roles are of Walter Hollander, a Newark, N. J.; caterer, his wife Marian and daughter Susan, played by Jim Baum, Marsha Moore and Audra Proctor; Ambassador McGee and his son Axel, Ed Blake and Richy Womack; and Father Drobney, George Womack.

Chris Myers plays Kilroy, Russell Benson Krojack, Tommy Baker Burns, Dylan Moore The Chef, Cade Carlock Kasnar and Sharon Gilbreath The Countess Bordoni.

Young Myers and Carlock are Colorado High School students.

"The story revolves around the Hollanders, who are taking a vacation in a small Communist country in the late 1960's," Curlee said.

"The Communists see them taking snapshots of some secret installations and think they're American spies. They start running after them, and the Hollanders hole up in the American Embassy.

"The rest of the play involves their trying to escape and get transportation back to the United States."

Curlee said people are also needed to print programs, sell tickets at the box office, design costumes, build the set, run the stage lighting and do the myriad of other tasks that are indispensable to a stage production.

He is available for more information at 728-2509.

Originating in South Africa, Boer goats were introduced in the United States about 10 years ago and have rapidly increased in popularity.

Spanish goats have been raised in Texas and the Southwest for over 100 years, and Boer goats have revolutionized the goat breeding and goat meat industries in part because they are twice the size of Spanish goats.

A male Spanish goat will usually weigh from 100 to 125 pounds, but male Boer goats reach 200 to 225 pounds.

Webb said goat meat is more popular in the North, California and the Midwest than it is in the Southwest, being all lean meat and relatively cheap.

The goats got their name from the South Africans of Dutch descent, known as Boers, who developed them.

Q & A
Substance Abuse Trends

In response to a growing concern among parents, educators and other members of the community, the Colorado City Record, in cooperation with Al-Anon support groups and the Snyder Area Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, is devoting this column to questions about the increasing threat of substance abuse.

- Cutting edge in alcoholism research

Genetic research at UT holds promise of better treatments for disease

A leading researcher on the genetics of alcoholism has joined the University of Texas at Austin as UT works to establish a center for alcohol and addiction research. The center's research could lead to a better understanding of alcoholism and better treatments, Dr. R. Adron Harris said. "One hope is the identification of genes for susceptibility," Harris said of his alcoholism research. "The goal here is to offer people better advice about their propensity for alcoholism."

Harris said there probably are multiple genes linked to alcoholism. "I think it's likely that not all alcoholics are the same." Different genetic reasons for alcoholism could lead to the development of treatments specifically geared toward different types of alcoholism. The genetic research also holds out the hope for better drugs to treat alcoholism. "I think there is a lot of potential here for much better pharmacotherapy for alcoholism," Harris said.

Harris emphasized that drug therapy alone probably would not allow an alcoholic to overcome addiction. "It's unlikely that pharmacotherapy would work without other treatment," he said. In much the same way, high blood pressure is treated with drugs, exercise and proper diet, alcoholism would be treated with drugs, counseling, and self help organizations. While research in the field is advancing quickly, Harris said, the multiple genes involved in alcoholism have complicated the identification process. He said he hopes researchers have identified at least one gene related to alcoholism within five years. He estimated that better drug treatment for alcoholism is five to 10 years away.

Harris is the first alcoholism researcher recruited to UT as a result of a $5 million gift from J. Virgil and M. June Waggoner to support research in the molecular genetics of alcoholism. The university is seeking to match the Houston couple's donation through other private fund-raising efforts. Virgil Waggoner has said the donation was in response to a close family member's struggle with alcoholism.

Federal support for alcoholism research is the lowest of any major public health problem, Harris said. "I think it was significantly impeded progress," Harris said of the lack of funding. He said the Waggoners' donation was quite unusual in the field of alcoholism research and could serve as a significant precedent.

Harris heads a research team investigating the molecular basis of nerve cell sensitivity to alcohol and anesthetics. He came to UT from the University of Colorado Health Science Center, where he was a professor of pharmacology. Harris received the Merit Award from the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism in 1989, and he has authored or co-authored more than 225 papers on alcohol and other drugs.

Costly Problem

- The economic burden of alcohol and drug abuse in Texas was $19.3 billion in 1997, according to research by the Texas Commission on Alcohol Abuse. Alcohol abuse alone was responsible for $11.7 billion of that total.
- Nationally, alcohol abuse is responsible for more deaths than cancer, AIDS or heart disease.
- One-third of all fatal accidents in Texas were caused by drug or alcohol use in 1997.
- In 1997, 12,702 deaths in Texas were attributed to alcohol and drug use.
- More than 85,000 arrests in Texas in 1997 were for driving while intoxicated.

Dr. Cooper joins OSU

The grandson of two Colorado City women is featured in the latest edition of the Oklahoma State University Ag Alum News magazine in Stillwater, Okla.

Dr. Steven Cooper, grandson of Bessie Cooper and Lorene Beasley Calaway, has been appointed assistant professor of equine studies in the OSU Division of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources' equine teaching and research program.

He is the son of Mickey and Nancy Cooper of Lubbock, who graduated from Colorado High School in 1959.

Dr. Cooper graduated from New Deal High School, north of Lubbock, in 1988 and earned a bachelor's degree at Texas Tech University in '92.

He took a master's degree at the University of Illinois in '95 and a Ph.D. at OSU last year.

He has been put in charge of equine related activities on campus, including teaching undergraduate courses, coaching the university's intercollegiate horse judging team, advising students and leading research.

"We have top equine students at OSU as well as a long standing reputation for excellence," said spokesman Dave Freeman.

"We had a strong pool of candidates, and after several months of interviews, we found the most qualified person for the position.

"Steve was already known to many state horse enthusiasts, having been active in various horse activities while earning his Ph.D."

Cooper's father is cotton production manager for the Delta & Pine Land Co., a division of Paymaster Cotton Seed Corp.

His mother is assistant superintendent of the New Deal Independent School District.

His brother Chris plays a cowboy in the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show at Disneyland Paris in Paris, France.

hundred yards to the Wallace Center tower.

The water is being chlorinated at the field and again at the tower.

Shutt said that when the system has been tested, a million to 1.2 million gallons a day will be pumped to the tower, which will feed the towers north of 17th Street on the north side of town.

During this transitory period, he said, water pressure will be best in the southeastern part of town.

The north towers will be fed somewhat slowly by the Wallace Center tower, and pressure in other parts of town will be by gravity from the north towers.

Bids will be let in two or three months for the second phase -- to pipe water across the south side of town to the municipal water treatment plant in southwestern C-City.

Shutt expects that work to begin in early January and be finished in April or May.

"We won't need any more lake water until next spring," he said. "I don't know what the percentage will be then. It depends on the demand.

"In the hottest part of summer, the ratio should be between two-thirds and three-quarters well water."

An above-ground storage tank is being used at the wellfield to get the new supply started, but it will be replaced by a permanent one million gallon tank on the north side of County Road 404 halfway between the field and town.

"We don't have any water coming in yet," Shutt said. "The system has to be pressurized for so many hours.

"We'll be revealing the system in the next few days for leaks and other problems."

He said the general contractor, Triple L Utilities of Dumas, will finish its 90-day contract on time.

Shutt said the five wells are "scattered all over that 180 acres" around the 404-Lucas Road area.

The city has options on another 400 acres southeast of there on which exploratory drilling is planned in the next few weeks.

The city manager said a minimum of two or three more wells and a maximum of four or five will be drilled south and east of the existing field.

Shell Poll analyzes teenagers

By Casey McRaney

HOUSTON -- In the Shell Poll, a national survey conducted annually for Shell Oil Co., high school juniors, African Americans, girls and students from single parent households are the likeliest teenagers to report having tough times.

More often than any other challenge, they mention "pressure."

Perhaps surprising to many, the top two pressures concern academics, not sex or drugs.

When asked to choose from a list of sources, 44 percent cite pressure to get good grades, 32 percent getting into college, 29 percent fitting in socially, 19 percent drug use and 13 percent sexual activity.

Despite concern among parents, educators and politicians over school violence, students generally felt safe as they began a new school year.

Asked to grade their schools on the issue of safety, 77 percent gave them an A or a B for "being a safe place, without violence."

African American and Mexican American teens are far more concerned, though, with 81 percent of white teens giving an A or a B while only 69 percent of Mexican Americans and 58 percent of African Americans agree.

Sixty-eight percent say the best thing about school is seeing their friends while only 21 percent say it is the classes.

In a look inside high school culture, 65 percent say honesty is the most important quality to them personally, 58 percent list the willingness to work hard, 49 percent mention being a good student and 39 percent say religious faith.

Having a lot of friends has 32-percent support while being a great athlete, having a lot of money and having a boyfriend or girlfriend trail with only 19, 18 and 12 percent.

Teens' lack of respect for one another is a serious problem because in their ranking of 16 aspects of school, "kids treating each other with respect" comes in last.

Seventy-two percent give their school an A or a B for racial harmony, but 37 percent say it does not have enough space for the students.

Parental support and guidance are more important than friends, teachers, siblings, girlfriends or boyfriends, and there is a strong correlation between parents' involvement and teens' motivation.

Sixty-four percent who say their parents follow their studies closely get A's and B's, but only 48 percent whose parents do not follow them do that well.

Seventy-five percent whose parents monitor their schoolwork say their approach is to "make the best effort."

Seventy-three percent whose parents read to them frequently as young children report confidence that they make the right choice of friends, but only 52 percent whose parents read to them infrequently have that confidence.

Girls feel worried more often than boys by 58 to 40 percent, and students with low grades are more likely to get depressed than those with high grades by 39 to 21 percent.

Only 14 percent say the best reason to work hard in school is that "it makes you a better person," and 53 percent have "no interest at all" in becoming a teacher.

The left front side of the 1997 Ford police car was hit by a southbound 1985 Kawasaki cycle owned by John Hill of 1116 Elm St. and driven by 28-year-old Mickel Morales of 833 Austin St., the sheriff said.

The left side of Morales' pelvis was broken, and he was taken to Covenant Medical Center, formerly Methodist Hospital, in Lubbock after being treated at Mitchell County Hospital.

He was listed in "serious but stable" condition after the wreck, and a hospital spokesman said he remained hospitalized Monday.

Riding behind Morales, Michelle Frano, 34, of 202 Manuel St. had minor injuries, the sheriff said. She was held overnight at the county hospital and released on Wednesday, Sept. 22.

"Pete was shaken up, but he was not injured," Sheriff Toombs said.

"Speed was not a factor. We will mail out a citation for failure to yield right of way at a stop intersection."

Chief of Police Pat Taylor said Officer Torres might also face administrative sanctions.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Mike Redwine was the lead investigator, assisted by Department of Public Safety Troopers Carlos Diaz, Shane Johnson and Jeremy Usener, all of C-City, and Rick Campos of Snyder.

A Champion Eater

By Tumbleweed Smith

Glenn Bumgardner of Tyler weighed less than three pounds when he was born. When his mother left the hospital, the doctor gave her three bottles of formula and told her Glenn would probably not finish them within a week. But the three bottles of formula were all gone before the baby got home. "Mother says I've been going strong ever since," says Glenn, who now weighs 330 pounds. His nickname is T-Bone.

At the peak of his big eating days, he would cruise through a buffet four or five times. "I could eat a whole pan of rolls with a meal," says Glenn. "My mother made cinnamon rolls for breakfast every morning and the wonderful smell made me want to get out of bed and go to the kitchen."

When he was in college, he and some fraternity brothers went to New Orleans for Mardi Gras. There was a national pizza eating contest going on and Glenn's friends urged him to enter. The object was to see how many pizzas a person could eat in one hour.

"I ate nine and a half of those giant pizzas in one hour," says Glenn. "I stacked them on top of each other and ate three pizzas at a time." He won the contest.

Later, he and some friends were enroute to Colorado and stopped in Amarillo to eat. They went to a restaurant called The Big Texan Steak House, which advertises a 72 ounce steak. If a customer eats all of it along with the rolls, baked potato and salad that come with it, it costs nothing. Glenn decided he would try one.

"It looked like a roast when they brought it out. It was on a platter instead of a plate. I finished it in about twenty minutes." The waitress came over and asked if he thought he could eat another one, that only a couple of people had ever eaten two of them. Glenn said he would try. On the second one, he didn't have to have the rolls, salad and baked potato. He finished it in record time.

The manager came over and told Glenn nobody had ever eaten two steaks in less than an hour. He asked Glenn if he was still hungry. Glenn said he could probably eat of little bit. His friends urged him on. The manager brought out another steak and told Glenn if he ate that, he would set a record that would last a long time.

About halfway through the third steak, Glenn felt he had reached his limit. The manager came over, gathered up everybody's check at the table and told Glenn if he finished the steak, their meal was on the house. Glenn continued to eat. He had one last bite and just couldn't stand the thought of any more eating.

The manager came over, laid a crisp one hundred dollar bill on the table and said, "That's for the celebration when you finish." He reached down and grabbed that last piece of meat with my hands, shoved it in my mouth and held my hands over my mouth to make sure I finished it. I nearly collapsed at the end of the meal." Right then, Glenn's friends started calling him T-Bone. The name stuck.

T-Bone is on a diet and has lost 50 pounds this year.

Mammograms encouraged

By Mary McMullen, CEA-FCS

This year more than 180,000 women in the U.S. will learn for the first time that they have breast cancer and more than 43,000 will lose their lives to this deadly disease.

In Texas more than 11,000 women will find out they have breast cancer. From 1990-97, the total mortality rate for Mitchell County women ages 25-65 was 55 deaths.

Cancer, leading cause of death, claimed the lives of 24 women and was responsible for 44% of all deaths during this time period. Of the 24 cancer deaths in Mitchell County, breast cancer was responsible for 12 or 50% of these cancer deaths. Breast cancer claimed the lives of 22% of all women, ages 25-65 who died Mitchell County from 1990-97.

That's the bad news, now here's the good news. When detected early breast cancer is highly treatable and the rate of breast cancer deaths could be reduced by 30% with annual mammograms for women most at risk. If breast cancer is localized, the five year relative survival rate has increased 25% from 72% in 1940 to 97% in 1998.

There are three methods for early detection: breast self exam, clinical breast exam and mammogram.

Women discover more than 80% of breast lumps through self examiniation. Breast self exam takes no more than 10 minutes and is a simple technique to help women learn what is normal for them and to recognize any changes.

Because a women lives with her breasts everyday, she's the best judge of what feels normal and looks normal and is often the best judge of any change.

If any change is detected, seek a clinical breast exam by a trained medical professional immediately. Breast self exam should start at the age of 20 and be done on a monthly basis. The best time for self breast exam is two days to a week after your monthly period. For older women, set a day each month and follow up on that date each month.

The second method for early detection of breast cancer is the clinical breast exam. This is a physical exam much like the breast self exam, but it is done by your health care provider. This exam is important for identifying changes in your breasts that you may not have found in self breast exam. Clinical breast exam should begin at age 20 and be done every three years for women who are at normal risks of breast cancer to age 40. At age 40, clinical breast exams should be done yearly and continue for the rest of a woman's life.

The final key in detecting breast cancer is mammography. Mammography is an x-ray that creates the image of the breast. Mammograms are typically done for the first time at age 40 to establish a baseline for comparison in identifying any changes. A mammogram should be done yearly beginning at age 40 then each year afterward.

During Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the Mitchell County Hospital District is offering mammograms for the reduced rate of $60. This is great savings and a great way to save lives. Call Sandra Smith at 728-5108.

Learn how to perform breast self exam at the second annual "Women's Health Day" to be held on Wed., Oct. 13, at the Wallace Community Education Center.

For more information on "Women's Health Day 99", call 728-3111. Individuals with disabilities who need special assistance to participate in Women's Health Day 1999 should contact the Mitchell County Extension Office at 728-3111 by Oct. 6. Every effort will be made to provide reasonable accommodations.

FSA seeks fire damage applications

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses due to damages and losses caused by extreme fire hazards that occurred on 8-1-99 and continuing, are being accepted at the Farm Service Agency (FSA) office located in Sweetwater.

Mitchell County is one of 227 counties in Texas recently declared eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the disaster.

Farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, which ever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lendors, the interest is 3.75 percent.

As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FSA emergency loan. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until May 1, 2000, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing.

FSA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The FSA office in Sweetwater is open from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Casey Merket

To All Parents

"I'll lend you for a little time a child of Mine," He said.
"For you to love while he lives and mourn for when he's dead.
It may be six or seven years, or thirty-two or three,
But will you, till I call him back, take care of him for Me?
He'll bring his charms to gladden you and shall his stay be brief
You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief.
"I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return,
But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn.
I've looked the wide world over in my search for teachers true
And from the throngs that crowd life's lane I have selected you.
Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain,
Nor hate Me when I come to call to take him back again?"
I fancied that I heard them say: "Dear Lord, Thy will be done!
For all the joy Thy child shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may,
And for the happiness we've known forever grateful stay;
But shall the angels call for him much sooner then we've planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understnad."

German girls at home here

Colorado High School foreign exchange students Sabine Knaute and Cornelia "Conny" Schindler have found few similarities between Colorado City and their German hometowns of Jena and Neutraubling.

C-City is much hotter in the summertime, the houses are mostly one story, pets are commonplace and school is less demanding.

Sports clothing is less expensive, but candy and makeup cost more.

You drive everywhere to things that are farther apart, and by European standards, Texans are startlingly friendly.

Sabine and Conny, both 17, have been delighted by the welcomes they received at CHS and other places around town.

"They are really friendly," said Sabine in a Friday interview at the school. "Everywhere you go, they say, 'Hi, how are you doing?'"

That welcoming attitude has been helpful because it is difficult to move halfway around the world and start school in a place where only a foreign language is spoken, even if you have studied it extensively.

The girls said taking economics and government in English is particulary tough, but American high schools are still easier than Germany's because they take 13 different courses at a time there and each day's classes are different.

School dismisses at 1 p.m., so the students have plenty of time for hobbies. The same schedule of classes is repeated each week.

Sabine Knaute (pronounced Sa-BIN-a Kah-NAU-ta) lives in Jena (pronounced YEE-na) in the State of Thueringen, north of Berlin in what was East Germany until the nation reunited with the fall of Communism on Oct. 3, 1989.

Sabine's father is a steel worker and her mother an engineer with a glass company. She has a 14-year-old sister.

A dedicated athlete, she will play varsity basketball with the Lady Wolves and has been enjoying lifting weights. Basketball is her primary sport, but she has also played volleyball and tennis.

She is six feet tall.

Sabine enjoyed working 10 days at a German television station as part of a journalism class last year and is considering sports journalism as a career.

She is fluent in Latin in addition to English and German.

Both girls are juniors.

Conny Schindler's father is an attorney with Catholic Family Services, and her mother teaches handicapped children. She has two brothers, 15 and 11, and is excited to be in the Fightin' Wolves Band -- an opportunity she never had in Germany.

She plays the flute and piano and has been part of a small jazz band in her hometown.

"I enjoy the band very much," she said. "I had never marched before."

She looks forward to the band's winter and spring concert season and University Interscholastic League band, ensemble and solo contests.

She is a good swimmer and has been training to be a lifeguard in Regensburg, seven miles south of Neutraubling in the State of Bavaria in mountainous South Germany, north of Munich.

Conny is also fluent in Latin and French.

The Danube River flows through her hometown.

She is interested in working with children or having a career pertaining to languages.

Jena and Regensburg and not big cities with between 100,000 and 200,000 in population, but they are quite different from Texas cities of the same size.

More people live in apartment buildings that may reach 20 stories high, and pets are never seen running loose on the streets, although people walk their dogs on "lines," or leashes.

"You don't hear about a shooting in a school or a church," said Conny, explaining that only soldiers, policemen and hunters who belong to hunting clubs and have passed instructional courses are allowed to have firearms.

Germans drive a lot less than Americans because a city the size of Jena or Regensburg will have five or six shopping malls and everything is within walking distance.

Sabine is living with Robert and Joanna Austin and their children, Danny, 11, Darek, 10, Shelby, 8, and Hunter, 22 months.

Conny stays with Warren and Rose Stiles and their children, Steve, 11, Samantha, 7, and Jonathan, 6.

The girls' sponsoring agencies, GIVE and IST, required a small town because of concerns about their safety in an urban setting.

Two German boys are also going to school in Mitchell County this year, Maximilian Loerchner at Westbrook High School and Gregor Hiepler at CHS.

Principal Mark Smith did a double-take recently when he passed Sabine and Gregor in the hall and heard them speaking German.

"As an administrator, you've always got your ears open for anything unusual," he said, laughing.

Texas is twice the size of Germany with 268,601 square miles to Germany's 137,830. It had a little over 19 million citizens in 1998 to Germany's 84 million.

Population densities are 65 people per square mile in the State of Texas and 610 per square mile in the Federal Republic of Germany.

ALL THE WAY FROM GERMANY, Conny Schindler, left, and Sabine Knaute have had no trouble fitting in at Colorado High School, where the other students have given them a royal welcome.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CONDUCT WEATHER MODIFICATION OPERATIONS IN THE STATE OF TEXAS

Date of the first of three weekly publications of this notice: September 26, 1999, in the Colorado City Record, published in Mitchell County.

1. Notice is hereby given that the Colorado River Municipal Water District, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 79721-0869, has filed an application with the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission for a State permit to conduct weather-modification operations to change, or attempt to change, the natural development of clouds for the purpose, objective, period, and by the method summarized herein below.

2. The Colorado River Municipal Water District has a valid Texas weather-modification license that was originally issued in 1975 and has been renewed annually. The most recent license renewal was granted by the Commission on October 16, 1998 and expires on August 31, 1999. An application by the District for renewal of its license for 2000 was filed by the CRMWD on June 15, 1999 and is now being considered by the Commission.

3. The purpose of weather-modification operations is to increase rainfall to affect the inflow of fresh water into the J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence reservoirs located in Borden, Coke, and Scurry Counties of Texas. The requested period of the permit is four years from the date of issuance by the TNRCC.

4. The proposed weather-modification operation is to be conducted by and on behalf of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas 79721-0869.

5. The proposed weather-modification operation is to be carried out in both an "operational area" and a "target area" . The operational area is that area described by being between an outer boundary, defined by a line that encompasses the block of counties of Lynn, Garza, Kent, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Sterling, Glasscok, Martin and Dawson, and an inner boundary which is that of the target area.

6. The area to be affected by the proposed weather-modification operation is the target area. The target area is that area described as bounded by a line beginning at a point of origin at Big Spring, in Howard County, and running along Highway 87 in a northwesterly direction to Lamesa; thence, northnortheast on Highway 87 to the north border of Dawson County; thence, east along the northern boundary lines of Dawson, Borden and Scurry Counties to Highway 84, thence, southeast along Highway 84 to Roscoe, in Nolan County; thence, south-southeast to Maryneal; thence, southerly to Robert Lee, in Coke County; thence, westerly to Highway 87 at a point approximately thirteen miles northwest of Sterling City, in Sterling County; and thence, northwesterly along Highway 87 to the point of origin at Big Spring, Texas. That is, the target area includes all or part of Howard, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Nolan, Mitchell, Coke and Sterling Counties.

7. The methods and materials to be used in conducting this operation include a licensed meteorologist who will select cumuliform or other appropriate clouds for seeding, using a weather-radar display, standard meteorological analyses, forecast techniques, surface weather observations, and pilot reports. The licensed meteorologist will direct one or more aircraft equipped with flare racks or generators to dispense either glaciogenic or hygroscopic seeding material into the updraft portions of selected clouds to perform seeding operations.

8. Persons interested in knowing more about the technical aspects of the proposed operation should contact George Bomar, MC-160, TNRCC, P.O. Box 13087, Ausin, Texas 78711-3087, (512) 239-0770.

9. A public hearing on this application may be called by mailing a petition that requests a hearing to the Executive Director, Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087. The petition must contain (1) the signature, full name, address and phone number of each person requesting the hearing; (2) a statement that each person is at least 18 years of age and resides or owns property in the operational area; and (3) a description of each person's interest and how that interest would be adversely affected. Requests for hearing must be received by the Commission within 30 days of the last date the Notice of Intention is published in week one of the mandatory three-week period required by 289.17 (j) of Commission rules. If at least 25 eligible persons make written request, the Commission shall hold a public hearing on an application prior to issuance of a permit.

Individual members of the public who wish to inquire about the information contained in this notice, or to inquire abut other agency permit applications or permitting procedures, should call the TNRCC Office of Public Assistance, Toll Free, at 1-800-687-4040. For more information concerning citizen participation, contact Blas J. Coy, Jr., Public Interest Council, MC-103, TNRCC, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087, (512) 239-6363.

Prior to joining the faculty at Texas Tech University, she served five years as Assistant Professor of Flute at New Mexico State University at Las Cruces, New Mexico.

Dr. Garner holds a Bachelor of Music degree from West Texas State University, a Master Music degree from Florida State University and a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from The Shephard School of Music at Rice University. She has studied privately under Carol Wincenc, Charles DeLaney and Sally Turk as well as in master-classes with Louis Moyse, Paula Robison and Leone Buyse.

Her experience includes performances as principal flutist with the Opera Co. Inc. of El Paso, Ballet El Paso, El Paso Pro Musica Chamber Orchestra, Sun City Chorale, Baroque Ensemble of El Paso, and as a member of the El Paso Symphony.

This past 98-99 season, she was invited to perform with Sante Fe Pro Musica. As an avid performer of chamber music, Dr. Garner will collaborate with several Texas Tech music faculty for her chamber music debut recital at Weill Hall at Carnegie Hall this coming June.

As a teacher, Dr. Garner has served as adjudicator for All-Region Auditions, All-State auditions, Solo and Ensemble Contests and is in demand throughout the Mid and Southwest as an instructor of flute clinics and master classes.

As a member of the Nor' Easter Wind Quintet, Dr. Garner has traveled, giving recitals and in-school concerts in Wyoming, Idaho and Utah. She spent the 1999 summer on the faculty of the Lutheran Summer Music Program in Decorah, Iowa where she served as flutist of the Movere Wind Quintet, offered private instruction and coached chamber music.

Additionally, she was invited to perform at the 1998 National Flute Association Convention in Pheonix on the "Celebrating the Commissions of Carol Wincenc" and "Flutists of the Southwest" programs.

Recent research and pedagogical articles by Dr. Garner have been published in The Flutist's Quarterly and Flute Talk Magazine.

Wolves press Clyde to the maximum

Whether you attended the game in Clyde last Friday night, or listened to a friend's account, you knew that the Wolves have turned the corner and started to play with intensity and heart.

The 16-15 loss to the Bulldogs was secondary to the strides the team made in its last non-district contest of the season.

There are still some bugs to be worked out in the next two weeks, but execution of the kicking game and a few offensive and defensive kinks will be a part of the preparation for the Denver City game October 8.

Against Clyde, quarterback Chase Phariss and his offense moved the ball well.

Phariss was 12 for 23 passing with two interceptions, one touchdown and 219 yards. Phariss punted only once, but blasted a 45-yarder.

The Wolves rushed for 68 yards, including 36 yards on 16 carries for Phariss, 21 yards on nine tries for running back Tony Leanos and 11 yards on two runs for tight end Kevin Wright.

Receiver Andrew Spear had a solid night with 96 yards on three receptions, nearly making a beautiful over-the-shoulder catch in the endzone.

Wide receiver Danny Torrez caught three balls for 50 yards, all for first downs, including a clutch 41-yard reception in the Pack's final drive, and returned two kickoffs for 37 net yards.

Lee Ybarra, injured and unable to practice for the first three days of the week prior to the game, caught two passes for 27 yards.

Receiver Marquise Lenard caught one pass for 28 yards to move the chains in a first and 15 situation, taking the ball from a Clyde defender, and also returned a punt for 11 yards.

Kevin Wright, wearing the number 29 jersey and stepping in at tight end for the first time, caught two balls for 12 yards to go with his 11 yards rushing, and returned a kickoff for 13 yards.

Senior Michael Atkins, giving 110 percent and making things happen every time he steps on the field, scored nine of the Wolves' 15 points in the contest. Atkins caught a six-yard touchdown pass midway through the second quarter to put the Pack ahead 12-7 and split the uprights with a 20-yard field goal midway through the third period to give C-City another lead at 15-13.

The Wolves' defense did not force any turnovers, but held the Bulldogs to only 311 total yards, second-best of the season after allowing Ballinger only 214 yards total yardage.

It was a close game in many regards.

Each team had nine possessions. The Wolves earned 16 first downs to Clyde's 15. there was only a 24-yard difference in the two teams' offensive output.

There were some definite differences in certain statistical categories.

For instance, the Pack lost the ball twice and Clyde did not turn the ball over. Though the total offensive output of the teams was basically the same, Clyde's attack was more balanced with 134 rushing and 177 passing yards compared to the Wolves' 219 in the air and 68 on the ground. Clyde was penalized eight times for 58 yards and the Wolves got flagged only four times for 40 yards.

The end of the game, and possibly the outcome of the game, was tainted by a bad call on the part of the officials.

With 2:29 left in the game and the Wolves trailing 16-15, Phariss and company had advanced the ball 35 yards to the Bulldog 18-yard line.

On third and 11, they called Andrew Spear's number and he got open in the back of the endzone. The defender's only choice was to tackle him before he could make the catch, committing pass interference in the endzone.

After several minutes of discussion, having moved the ball three times, officials ended up giving the Pack a first and goal from the eight-yard line.

The ball should have been placed on the three-yard line.

The incorrect placement could have been the difference in winning or losing for the Wolves, whose fourth and one field goal attempt was blocked and recovered in the endzone by Clyde with 40 seconds left in the game.

Head Coach Gerald James received two calls Monday morning from both the secretary and president of the Abilene chapter of the SFOA (Southwest Football Officials Association) offering their apologies for the bad call. However, just like a haircut, once its done - its done.

The young 0-5 team has learned a great deal about what the coaches expect from them, and the coaches have learned a great deal about their players and their abilities.

The adjustments that James and his staff are making seem to be working, as each week shows significant improvement on both sides of the ball.

The preparations for Denver City began Monday afternoon and as Coach James says, "we will know them (the Mustangs) pretty well by October 8."

Lady Wolves fall to Maidens

The Colorado High School Lady Wolves varsity volleyball team opened district 4-3A play last Saturday at the Pit with a disappointing two-game loss to the Seminole Maidens.

The 6-15, 1-15 defeat was very much a "50-50" experience for the Lady Wolves in that about half of the things they did were good, the other half bad.

Also, the team was without setter Margaret Ann Jameson, who accepted an invitation early last week to attend a national rodeo roping event. The only returning starter on the team, Jameson's leadership was missed.

As a team, the ladies had a great match serving, missing only two in a 17 of 19, two ace effort.

However, on the flip side, the ladies serve returns suffered through the match as they were only able to return 50 percent of the Maidens' serves.

Another bit of good news, Vanessa Quintero and Alison Lopez did a good job of blocking and deflecting shots from the Maidens.

As a team, the Lady Wolves made five blocking errors.

The teams' attack stats were not what they needed to be, going eight for 14 with no kills.

The Lady Wolves hustled for nine digs in the contest though, never giving less than 100 percent.

Individually for the Lady Wolves, Leiza Rivera was four for four on serves.

Kassi Redwine went four for four also, was nine of 13 passing with only one passing error and had one dig.

Quintero was two for two on serves with two assisted blocks, five attempted blocks and two blocking errors with one dig.

Terri Phariss went two for two on serve, was two for three on sets, two for four on attacks with two blocks and two digs.

Lopez was one for one on serve, two for three on serve reception, three for five on attacks with two assisted blocks and three deflections.

Lacy Dockrey went three for five on serves with two aces and was two for four on attacks with two digs.

Kim Rivera was one for one serving, three for five on serve reception and hustled for three digs.

The loss gives the Lady Wolves a 5-12 record overall and a 0-1 district mark going into Tuesday night's match against the Phillies in Denver City.

The Phillies opened district play against the Lady Tors in Lamesa and were beaten in three games, 15-5, 5-15, 15-13.

The tenacious Phillies will be gunning for C-City after the loss, and will have the advantage of being in their home gym.

The next game for the Lady Wolves will be against Lubbock Cooper at the Pit Saturday, October 2 at 11 a.m.

The Cooper team has turned some heads in the district already, compiling a 13-11 record overall and taking Brownfield to the wire before losing to the Lady Cubs in their district opener Saturday.

Ball wins it all

It was an exciting week of football, locally and across the nation. It was an equally tough week for jackpot football contestants, who have yet to pick a perfect "24 of 24".

This week's first place winner, Phil Ball of Colorado City, missed four of the 24 games listed and will take home the $50 in football bucks.

C-City's Robert Bracy was one of seven contestants tied for second place with five misses. Bracy gets dinner for two at Nix's Barbecue by winning the tie-breaker.

This week's games could be more difficult than last week, so take your best shot and go for the flawless 24 of 24 entry and win $100 in football bucks honored at any of the contest's many sponsors.

WOLVES' RUNNING BACK #30 Fidel Silva leads the way for ball carrier Jacobie Russell as #72 Ivan Rodriguez and #41 Archie Goodman help clear a path in last Thursday's 10-6 eighth grade loss to the Bulldogs in Clyde.

Middle school Wolves lose to Clyde in defensive battles

The Colorado Middle School seventh and eighth grade Wolves football teams traveled to Clyde last Thursday and both teams were defeated in hard-fought defensive battles.

The seventh graders lost to the Bulldogs by a narrow 10-8 margin, prompting Coach Jerrold Epperson to cite the efforts of both teams.

"(It was a) defensive battle for both teams. They scored late on a safety. I thought our kids played hard the entire game against a much bigger Clyde team," Epperson said Monday morning.

The lone Wolf touchdown was scored by Erick Martinez on an 18-yard run.

The eighth grade Wolves were also narrowly defeated by a 10-6 margin.

Running back Jacobie Russell got out of the chute for a 60-yard punt return, setting up a three-yard scoring plunge by Chris Spear. The Wolves' PAT attempt was no good.

Clyde scored a safety late in the fourth period to bring their point total to 10.

"(This was) also a defensive battle between two good teams," said Epperson.

The teams host Sonora this Thursday, September 30 in Wolf Stadium.

The seventh grade game begins at 5:30 and the eighth grade follows at 7 p.m.

Wildcats punish Pirates

The Westbrook Wildcats earned their first victory of the season in convincing style last Friday night in Paint Creek as they demolished the Pirates 46-0.

The Wildcats adjusted their offense to a "deep set" and running back Roland Matos flourished in the formation, scoring four touchdowns on runs of 38, 15, 35 and 61 yards.

Matos made Honorable Mention in the San Angelo Standard-Times weekly honor roll for outstanding football performances.

Coach Jim Hill finally got his wish - hard-hitting football.

"The kids played hard. We finally got physical and started sticking people," Hill said Monday morning.

"When you hit people, they take their eyes off the ball."

The Pirates coughed up five fumbles.

"The defense did well. The corners turned the ball inside and we were able to contain their speed," he added.

Offensively, the Wildcats started to click and played smart football.

"We made some tough catches in the spread and Roland chewed them up from the deep set.

"Trey Roemisch made good reads on his primary and secondary receivers and they made some great catches," Hill said.

The 'Cats needed a win badly, with only one more non-district contest before they begin their quest for a playoff berth in tough six-man district 6.

The Wildcats are faced with state-ranked Borden County and Sands, not to mention the surprising Ira Bulldogs, who are sporting a 4-0 record so far.

However, all pre-district records may as well be scrimmages because they mean nothing in the race for the playoffs.

First things first though, the Wildcats host the Moran Bulldogs this Friday night in their 1999 Homecoming game.

Moran is 0-3, but field a fairly strong team. The Bulldogs are playing a "non-sanctioned" schedule because they are fielding ineligible transfer players.

The Bulldogs were beaten 56-6 last week by the powerhouse Rule Bobcats, ranked in the top ten in the state.

The homecoming battle with the Bulldogs begins in Westbrook at 7:30 this Friday night.

Lady Wolves fall to Big Spring

The seventh grade Lady Wolves volleyball team traveled to Big Spring Monday, September 20 and played their hearts out against the Lady Steers in a three-game loss.

Coach Jeran Gatlin noted the girls' effort.

"Even though we were defeated, we played three great games," Gatlin said.

"It was our first time to go three games. That really taught the girls a lot."

Coach Gatlin applauded the girls for a "tremendous" effort.

The Lady Wolves lost the match 0-15, 15-10, 3-15.

Jamie Bonner scored nine points for the team.

Tommie Bocanegra scored three points, while Felicia Flores and Lauren Anderson each scored two.

Lady Wolves hooked by Lady Longhorns; prepare for district

The Colorado City Lady Wolves volleyball team is sporting a 5-11 pre-district record going into Saturday's district-opening match against Seminole's Lady Maidens at the Pit.

Last Tuesday, September 21, the Lady Wolves traveled to Bronte to tangle with the Lady Longhorns and lost in two games, 8-15, 9-15.

The match was the last non-district contest for the Lady Wolves who have been struggling, losing their last eight matches.

As a team, the ladies had an excellent serve percentage against Bronte. At 90 percent, the improved statistic shows great promise for that important part of the game.

The Lady Wolves served up four aces in the match, another good sign for the young team.

Another key aspect of the game, serve reception, has shown steady improvement over the last few matches. Against Bronte, the girls missed on eight of 59 serve return attempts, giving them an 85 percent receiving efficiency as a team.

The team's roster includes three seniors, two juniors, two sophomores and two freshmen.

Of those nine players, only one has played varsity volleyball, two-year letterman Margaret Ann Jameson.

Jameson, a 5-4 senior setter, is an energetic team leader whose set percentage has stayed in the high nineties since taking the position last year. Jameson wears the #4 jersey for C-City.

Leiza Rivera, a 5-4 senior wearing #5, is the team's defensive specialist and also a setter.

Jennifer Petty, wearing #13, is a 5-7 senior who plays middle blocker for the Lady Wolves.

At 5-8, junior Lacy Dockrey wears #14 and also plays middle blocker for the team.

Kim Rivera is a 5-7 junior playing outside hitter for the Lady Pack. Kim wears the #24 game jersey.

Kassi Redwine is a 5-5 sophomore outside hitter wearing #3. Redwine played for the CHS freshmen volleyball team last season.

Vanessa Quintero also played on the freshmen squad last season. Quintero is a 5-8 sophomore middle blocker who wears jersey #21.

Terri Phariss is a 5-7 freshmen who plays outside hitter and suits up in the #10 jersey.

Alison Lopez is also a freshman outside hitter and wears #22.

The team lost letterman Blaine Connor at the end of last school year as she moved to Benjamin, Texas.

Bonner bombs Lady Tigers in two-game v'ball victory

The seventh grade Lady Wolves hosted Snyder last Monday, September 27 and won decisively in a solid two-game defeat of the 4A Lady Tigers.

The 15-4, 15-0 clobbering was highlighted by a game-two 15-point exhibition by Jamie Bonner.

In game one, Evan Jackson scored seven points for the Lady Wolves and Bonner scored four.

April Fox scored three and Teresa Molina scored one point in the game one victory.

But game two of the match was dominated by Bonner, who is credited with all 15 points in the shutout win.

The next game for these exciting ladies will be Saturday, October 2 during the Sweetwater tourney.

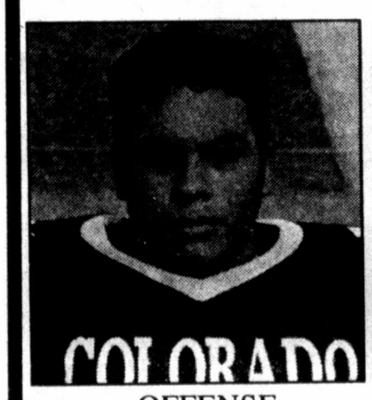

Their next match will be Monday, October 4 at Crane for a 5:30 match.

Any team that is interested in Snyder Football League, contact Earl Ware at 915-573-0800 or Chad Welch at 915-573-6058. Entry fee is $200.00. TFAA rules.

Jr. High Bulldogs smother Hornets

The Loraine Junior High Bulldogs football team evened their record to 1-1 on the season with a solid 37-16 victory over the Highland Hornets last Thursday evening in Loraine.

The Bulldogs took an early 6-0 lead with 3:01 left in the first quarter and never looked back, scoring twice more before the Hornets could put points on the board in the fourth quarter.

Anthony Esquivel started the Bulldog onslaught with an 11-yard TD run. The PAT failed, but Esquivel kicked three PAT's later in the game to bring his point total to 12.

The Bulldogs' second score came with just 21 seconds left in the first quarter as George Davila plunged in from one yard out. Steven Wooddell added another point with the PAT run to make it 13-0 Loraine at the end of the first.

Quarters two and three went scoreless as the two teams had a defensive battle, however Loraine scored three times and Highland scored twice in the fourth quarter.

With 5:49 left in the game, the Bulldogs pulled a "trick" play out of the books and increased their lead.

Ryan Lucas hit Cameron Smith with a 33-yard pass at the goal line. Smith fumbled into the endzone and Wooddell recovered it for six points. Esquivel's PAT kick was good and Loraine had a comfortable 21-0 advantage.

Both young teams got "goal-line fever" during the last three minutes of play, scoring twice each.

The Hornets got on the board with 3:41 left, scoring on an 11-yard TD pass and converting the PAT kick to make the score 21-8 in favor of the 'Dogs.

At 3:22, the Bulldogs scored from 30 yards out on a Davila to Lucas TD pass. Once again, Esquivel's two-point PAT kick was good and the Bulldog lead increased to 29-8.

Twenty-two seconds later, the Hornets hit paydirt again with a 57-yard rushing TD and a good PAT kick to make the score 29-16.

Loraine's Davila finished the game's scoring with a seven-yard run across the goal line with 1:22 left. Esquivel's PAT kick was good and the final margin was 37-16 Bulldogs.

The statistical summary for the young Bulldogs was quite impressive.

Davila had 11 carries for 84 yards, including two rushing touchdowns. Davila was also three for four passing for 42 yards and a touchdown.

Defensively, Davila had eight tackles for Loraine.

Esquivel rushed five times, netting four yards, including an 11-yard TD run. Along with his three PAT kicks, Esquivel also had two punts for 36 yards and eight tackles on defense.

Junior Delgado led the Bulldogs with nine tackles in the game.

Lucas was two for four passing for 43 yards, including the 33-yarder to Smith, and caught three passes for 42 yards including a 30-yard TD reception.

Lucas had six tackles for the Bulldogs.

Wooddell caught one pass for 10 yards, had three tackles and recovered the endzone fumble for a TD. Wooddell also scored a point on a PAT run for the 'Dogs.

Pedro Pineda had three tackles in the game.

Smith had two tackles and a 33-yard pass reception.

Michael Walker, D.J. Vanderpool, Anthony Briseno and Andres Calderon all had one tackle in the contest.

The next game for the Bulldogs will be Thursday, September 30 at 6 p.m. in Trent against the Gorillas.

In game two, Bassham scored two points as did Ashley Wright.

loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings. I hope you had a good week with something interesting to do and not so many crickets this week.

Everyone is gearing up for school homecoming, seeing old friends and having fun.

Be sure and fill your wallets with the kids and grandkids' pictures. It wouldn't hurt to have some of the kids standing in front of your new car or in front of your nice home.

You also might mention traveling abroad and talk about the stock market a lot.

If you really want to be popular, keep your mouth shut and let everyone else do the bragging.

The Loraine Improvement Program had its community meeting last Tuesday evening, Sept. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Building.

President Bill Crockett presided and once again the meeting was in session.

After opening remarks, the scheduled program was turned over to Windi Fuller, head of the Economic Development Board of Mitchell County. She gave an informative program on grants, which was very well received.

In the regular session, street edging and a covered pavillion to be erected at City Park, were discussed.

A board meeting is scheduled for Tuesday and the next general meeting will be held the third Tuesday in October. The meeting time has been changed to 5:30 p.m. since it gets dark earlier.

Joyce and Dub Bruington of Petersburg, Tx. were guests in the home of Gus and Iva Armstrong last Friday.

We met them when the foursome ate lunch at the Center.

Maylan and Peggy Beaty of Abilene were here last week visiting with Maylan's mom, Elba Mae Evans.

Troy and Jean Keagans of Arlington came to Loraine last Friday. They came to help Syble celebrate her 96th birthday.

They took her out to dine at Collums. Since Syble's sister, Juanice Butler had a birthday in September, the celebration was also for her.

Our local parks are looking good. The young trees, shrubs and roses have come to life and growing fast at the mini-park. We need to say thanks again to the mayor and his wife for working the mini-park.

Clyde and Etta Parnell from Grand Prairie were here this weekend to visit Virgil and Geraldine Parnell. Saturday evening Clyde took his parents out to eat.

Beverly and Chester Collier from Westbrook, Jimmy, Jodie and Hudson Collier of Silver were all in Loraine Saturday to visit Nell Doyle.

They all went out to eat at Garcia's and helped Nell celebrate her birthday.

Little Hudson Collier sang "Happy Birthday" to her while at Garcia's. They later enjoyed birthday cake. Her other children and grands called to say Happy Birthday.

Doris and Theran Henderson hosted a family birthday party for their granddaughter, Morgan Henderson who is now eight years old. Also present were Brad and Penny Henderson of Midland, Jay Henderson of San Angelo and Pauline Smiley of Loraine.

Mary McMullin, County Extension Agent - FCS, came to the Senior Center to give a nutritional report on calcium and its importance in one's diet.

Senior Center

We had a very large crowd at the Center last Friday. People seem to love green enchiladas.

We know turkey or chicken and dressing is popular also. Our birthday dinner will take place on Wednesday.

Line dancers from Sweetwater livened things up Friday. The dancers' music is lively and the ladies always do a great job.

Coming over to dance were Maudie Evans, Sue Cerrick, Betty Letz, all of Sweetwater and from Roby were Neva Hall and Evelyn Dawson.

We want to give a special thanks to Yvonne Sadler and her granddaughter, Amy Hudgins of Roscoe, for the beautiful wreaths placed along with the swags on the north wall at the Center.

While thanking people, we need to recognize Iva Armstrong, Julia Green and Mr. Dub Bruington for items that were donated and auctioned.

Last Wednesday, music was provided for us by Dexter and Dorothy Norwood, Charles Dunn and Gus Armstrong.

We are always glad to have them play for us.

Mr. Jess Owens and Mr. Loyd Wright of Sweetwater visited with us Friday for the first time. We hope they make it back.

Sheriff Patrick Toombs came by to say hello. We hope he comes back over next Wednesday to eat since September is his birthday month.

We are fortunate to have Patrick for sheriff in Mitchell County. He is a good and able man.

Bryan Butler visited with his parents this past week. He brought three college chums with him. I think everyone knows that Danny and Pam Butler are Bryan's parents.

Tommie Jean (Riden) Atchison and her husband, Charles from South Texas, were in Loraine last week to visit sister Chrystene Hall.

While in town they also visited another sister, Iris Preston.

The Kilpatricks with their son and daughter of Abilene, came Saturday to visit their mother, Betty Chandler. Also visiting was Chrystene Hall, and Barbara and Jim Hall.

They had a cook-out and later enjoyed homemade ice cream. Chrystene enjoyed it all.

Loraine homecoming scheduled

The Loraine Bulldogs come off of a week's rest and face a Victory Christian team for their 1999 homecoming game.

The 3-0 Bulldogs hold first place in the pre-district standings in district 10 and have this game and one more before the district race begins on October 8 against the tough Trent Gorillas.

The Bulldogs homecoming begins at 7:30 this Friday at Bulldog Stadium.
