C-City Battery Ends Training, Cops Top Rate

Two weeks of rigorous military training will end Sunday for Colorado City's C Battery of the 648th Armored Field Artillery Battalion which received an excellent rating from a Fourth Army evaluation team at North Fort Hood.

Sixty-one members of the local battery were among 9,200 men of the 49th Armored Division, who moved into Central Texas' hill country this week for a four-day bivouac.

Lt. Forrest Yancy, commanding officer of the local battery, reported that Battery C achieved "good results" and an "excellent rating" from the evaluation team.

The locals were the only firing battalion to qualify four gunners in special tests. Battery C also took top honors in recruit training with individual battalion honors going to Pvt. Robert (Bud) Williams.

Much of this week was spent firing howitzers and undergoing tactical training, Yancy said.

The Colorado City battery also took part in the Governor's Day Parade last Saturday, when 1,200 armored vehicles of the National Guard division paraded past top Texas dignitaries.

Slum Clearance Program May Get Thorough Study By City Council

Opportunity Cited for Community

City Council may delve into the possibility for a slum clearance program in Colorado City.

That's the indication from the council's regular meeting Monday night in City Hall.

Slum clearance topic came before councilmen with information that enabling legislation by the last Texas Legislature now allows Texas cities to participate fully in the urban redevelopment program of Federal Housing Act.

And City Manager Rollin K. Snethen told councilmen that he believed a slum clearance program with federal government funds paying most of the bill could be a benefit to Colorado City.

* * *

City officials almost a year ago began looking into the possibility of improving some areas of the city through low rent housing under the Federal Housing Act.

A citizen's committee was named by council to study the matter and report back if there was a need for public housing.

But the matter was never pushed, apparently because of the reluctance for constructing public housing units and still leaving slum areas.

But Monday night R.W. Akridge, representing the Houston architectural and engineering firm of Matkin & Fitch, told of new state legislation that allows for full participation in urban renewal phase of the National Housing Act.

In the renewal phase, definite slum areas are completely eradicated torn down and removed. And public housing units are provided for only those persons who are displaced by the slum clearance and who are unable to pay for usual housing.

"I believe it could be a benefit to Colorado City," spoke the city manager in regard to slum clearance.

"My conception, however," he explained, "is that the prime interest should be slum clearance.

"But we must have some low cost housing to take care of the people who have moved out.

"And the low cost housing should be undertaken only for

HOMER G. JEFFERSON, coaching addition.

GRID ASSISTANT NAMED, TO

Caldwell Mentor New Cage Coach

Homer Gene Jefferson, head coach at Caldwell for the last three years, has been named basketball coach at Colorado High.

The 29-year-old former Sul Ross athlete is one of two additions announced Thursday for the local public schools athletic staff.

The other is Dean King, two sport letterman and 1957 graduate of West Texas State in Canyon, who will coach seventh graders in Colorado Junior High.

Jefferson, in addition to his basketball duties, also will be an assistant football coach.

Supt. Frank Wilson and Athletic Director Bob Reily, who announced school board approval of the two coaches, said the pair have fine recommendations.

Jefferson, who has bachelor and master degrees from Sul Ross, led his Caldwell High basketball teams to two District 2-AA championships in three years. His 1955 team lost by one point to San Marcos, a club which lost to state champion Seminole in the state tournament semi finals at Austin.

Caldwell football teams in the same three year period won 20 and lost 9. Prior to his tenure at Caldwell, Jefferson coached single years at Barstow and Eutopia.

Jefferson, who is married, majored in physical education with minors in social science and biology at Sul Ross. He also attended Weatherford Junior College in his hometown, Weatherford.

His teaching assignment here probably will be world history, according to the superintendent.

King, the new seventh grade coach, is a graduate of Spur High, where he was outstanding in football, basketball and track. At West Texas State he was an end on the grid squad, a javelin thrower and 440-yard runner in track.

The coaching assignment here will be the first for King, who is married. He majored in physical education and minored in social studies at West Texas.

King's teaching assignment here will be social studies, according to Wilson.

AT DOWNTOWN SUPERMARKET

'Pro' Burglars Strike Here In Early-Morning Safe Raid

Safecrackers struck early Tuesday morning in downtown Colorado City, taking an undisclosed amount of cash and other items from the Piggly Wiggly super market, 203 E. Second St.

Local police were called at 6 a. m. by Carl Gary, owner of the store.

Investigating officers from the city police department, the sheriff's department, and a Texas Ranger from Sweetwater found that burglars had entered the store by prying the bars up on a rear window which opened onto an alley.

One burglar apparently entered the building by crawling through the rear window, then jimmied the door at the west side of the building, allowing one or more accomplices to enter.

Police called the safecrackers "professionals," and virtually ruled out any possibility of the burglary being staged by amateurs.

The safe, which was located in front of the building, near a large window facing onto Highway 80, had the tumbler knob knocked off, apparently by one deft blow.

A punch was then used to drive the tumbler open.

Investigating officers said that tear gas, concealed inside the safe door in the metal tumbler combination box. The gas was contained in a glass tube, which was automatically broken when the safe door was forcibly opened.

A ceiling fan was used to blow the tear gas away, police said. However, one of the men may have breathed enough of the gas to burn his throat, they added, since officers found that one had spit frequently on the floor near the safe.

The safe was slightly tilted backward when authorities found it. It was dusted for fingerprints.

Most estimates set the time of the robbery at sometime between midnight and 6 a. m. Patrolling officers checked the building shortly after 8:30 Monday night.

The safecrackers entered the store through the same window burglars used about eight years ago, before Gary had opened the Piggly Wiggly store at that location.

After emptying the safe, the burglars left the building through the side door on Elm St.

Besides cash, a man's yellow gold wristwatch, a pen and pencil set, a tie bar and cuff links, and about a dozen cartons of cigarettes were taken, Gary said.

The loss was not insured.

Police Chief Leon Yeager, Sheriff Gregory and Patrolman Selma Q. Dickson investigated the raid, along with Texas Ranger Gene Graves.

The Tuesday break-in was the third in a series of simular crimes committed within this area during the last week. Firms in Lamesa and Big Spring also have been burglarized.

According to Chief Yeager, there was little doubt that the safe was cracked by professional criminals, who were probably passing through the city.

It was the first safe burglary in Colorado City since 1951.

FOR SAVINGS BONDS

Mitchell Hits Top In District Sales

United States Savings bond sales in Mitchell County hit $37,072 in April, according to J.C. Pritchett, executive vice-president of the City National Bank and County Savings Bond Sales chairman.

This figure pushed the total 1957 sales to 40.5 per cent of the yearly goal of $306,890, and placed Mitchell County in the top spot in sales for District 14.

The district includes Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Gaines, Howard, Martin, Scurry, and Mitchell Counties.

In the entire El Paso Area, which includes five districts and 34 counties, Mitchell County was third percentage-wise. Schleicher County with 50.4 per cent of its 1957 total, and Presidio County with 43.5 per cent of its goal are the only two counties in the area with a higher sales percentage than Mitchell.

However, Pritchett said, Mitchell County has collected $121,319 while Schleicher and Presidio have collected only $33,668 and $37,938 respectively.

Total Texas sales for April amounted to $13,577,045, representing an increase of $461,000 over the March figure, state savings bond committee officials announced this week.

Because of improved interest rates, new bonds are better than ever, County Chairman Pritchett said.

"Series E and H bonds purchased currently will yield three and one-fourth per cent compound semi-annually, when held to maturity. This rate is effective for all Series E and H bonds purchased on or after Feb. 1, 1957," Pritchett added.

New Preacher Finds City 'Very Friendly'

Rev. Clarence Collins, who has succeeded Rev. Jack Ellzey as pastor of Colorado City's First Methodist Church, describes his new location as a "very, very friendly city."

The 36-year-old pastor, a native of Abilene, preached his first sermon at the First Methodist Church last Sunday. He was previously the pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church in Midland, which he helped organize in 1952.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from McMurry College, where he served as both editor and business manager of the college newspaper, The War Whoop.

He graduated from Perkins Theological Seminary of Southern Methodist University with a bachelor of divinity degree in 1947.

DOUBLE RING CEREMONY

Sara Ann Norman, J. Rodney Lee Exchange Vows In Church Rites

Miss Sara Ann Norman became the bride of J. Rodney Lee of Waco Sunday afternoon in First Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Norman of 128 West 10th Street. Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph Lee of 427 Vine Street.

Rev. O. B. Herring, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Tulia, read the double ring ceremony at 3:30 o'clock.

Church altar was centered with a cathedral arch covered with huckleberry and white majestic daisies. Baskets of white stock and daisies flanked each side of the arch. Palms served as a background for the setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore an original wedding gown of white imported Chantilly type lace and nylon tulle over ruffled net and satin. The moulded bodice was designed with a high neckline, framed with an outstanding Queen's collar of lace, and a sheer yoke enhanced with lace appliques. Long fitted sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Bodice terminated to a point at the center front of the waistline.

The voluminous floor length skirt was made of tulle with fully shirred lace yoke featuring an escalloped lace band appliqued at the lower hipline. Fullness of tulle over ruffled net and satin was emphasized by hoops and crinoline.

Her veil of silk illusion was joined to a coronet of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses tied with white and white rose corsage.

The couple was honored at a reception in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. Bridal table was covered with a white Madeira cloth and marked by bridal attendants' bouquets.

Miss Phyllis Moore of Lubbock. For something blue, she wore a garter which she received from a McMurry College club. The traditional something new was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. W. C. Hooks, organist, presented traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. J.C. Garrett as she sang "Oh Promise Me", and "I Love Thee" by Grieg.

Mrs. Barney Popnoe of Coleman, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Irene Norman, another sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

They wore floor-length dresses of blue nylon chiffon. The identical frocks were fashioned with high drape necklines that formed a V in the back with wings that fell to the hemlines.

Bridal attendants carried cascading bouquets of white daisies, tied with blue ribbon.

James W. Robertson of San Antonio served as best man. Ronald Biggerstaff of Pampa, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman.

Ulrich Boessenroth of Arlington, brother-in-law of the groom, and Barney Popnoe of Coleman, brother-in-law of the bride, and Eddie Davis of Lubbock served as ushers.

The couple will reside at 1100 North 17th Street in Waco where the groom is an attorney with Naman, Howell and Smith.

The bride was graduated from McMurry College in Abilene and taught in Snyder schools for the past two years. She did graduate work at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Mr. Lee attended Texas Christian University in Fort Worth and Baylor Law School at Baylor University in Waco. He also served as a second lieutenant in the Infantry.

FRONT LINE OF FREEDOM

JUST a Newsstand? No.

It is a battleground.

It is a front line.

There is another battle going on around a newsstand, more far-reaching than the competitive rivalry of paper against paper, magazine against magazine. For there are always people—yes, even here—who dislike to see opinions freely expressed, and who attempt to bring all sorts of restraining pressures on those who champion the Press's freedom.

But those who write and print and publish the free opinions of America, they see a threat to that freedom as a threat to all freedoms, and vigilantly hold back pressure-wielders from closing in on the newsstand.

For the newsstand is freedom's front line.

those who are in the slum clearance.

In one area alone he said, he had counted upward 60 houses that are classified "strictly as slum housing."

"The housing would cost the city nothing (financing is loaned to the local community by the federal government and paid back by rents from the housing units)," Snethen said, "and it certainly would not interfer with anybody's rentals."

* * *

The city manager estimated that about 90 housing units could be utilized here if a slum clearance program was carried out.

However, he stipulated that the estimate was based on a sight survey and could not be definite until a survey of families to determine how many families are living in actual slum housing.

Cost of the program including construction of housing for displaced families from the slum cleared areas would be only one third of the cost of tearing down slum building, the city manager said.

* * *

"As far as I'm concerned," stated Councilman L. J. Taylor, "I'd like to see us follow up on this."

"But the people haven't shown much interest," said Mayor Trevor Crawford.

"I believe there has been no interest before the people are not informed about the program.

It was pointed out then by Snethen that when the program was presented previously to councilmen it was only for low rent housing.

"But now it is a slum clearance program," Snethen said "and that is a definite gain."

Research scientists have now prefected some chemical re-agents that enable physicians to make a positive diagnosis of certain diseases. Often the cause of a sickness still has to be determined by skillfully eliminating what it cannot be. Sometimes more than one visit is necessary to accomplish this.

To impatiently rush from one physician to another is unwise. You can usually get well much more quickly if after choosing your physician, you give him the necessary time to find out what is wrong, so that he can help you most.

WHITE SOX COMING UP STRONG

Card, Athletics Duel For Pony League's First Place

First place in the Pony League was to be decided Thursday night when the Athletics and Cardinals squared off at League Park.

Both teams were tied for first place with identical 6-3 marks prior to the game.

The first place tie was set up Monday night when the Cards fell before the White Sox 6-5, and consequently lost sole leadership of the League.

After the Cards were beaten by the Sox, the Athletics edged past the Braves 9-8 to climb into a tie for first.

The White Sox have shown tremendous improvement in the past week of play. They whopped the Athletics 12-3 last week and then came their narrow win over the Cards.

Their win over the Cards Monday was probably the most thrilling of the season and went a full ten innings, a record of long play this year.

It was a run in the bottom of the tenth frame that finally clinched the game for the Sox.

And going across for that decisive run in the tenth, was Don Vest, strong-arm hurler for the Sox, who went the entire route on the mound.

Vest allowed only eight hits during the ten-inning stint and marked up a home run in the second frame.

Cardinals leaped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, touching Vest for two hits. Lonnie Robertson and Jerry McKay did the scoring with help from Clifton Lee's double.

Vest socked his long home run in the Sox's second frame to whittle the lead to 2-1.

Then the Sox took a 3-2 lead in the third inning when Edwin Wiley and Kenneth Beasley scored.

Vest scored the Sox's fourth run in the fourth inning, for a 4-2 lead.

McKay gave the Cards new hope in the fifth with a booming home run that cut the Sox lead to 4-3.

The teams rocked along scoreless until the top of the seventh when the Cards rallied for two runs to go ahead 5-4. Daniel Garcia singled to reach first and then Robertson powered a home run over the fence for the runs.

The Sox pushed across a "do or die" run in bottom of the seventh when Wiley walked and scored on Beasley's single. That tied the score, at 5-5.

The eighth inning was scoreless with the Sox almost scoring Vest, but the firey blond was called out at home plate.

Both teams threatened in the ninth, but still no scores.

Then in the tenth, Vest walked, stole a base and scored on Harold Hendley's clutch single that broke up the game and gave the Sox a well-earned victory.

Sox got only three hits the entire 10 innings off Card hurlers McKay and Lee.

Athletics fought off a last-inning rally by the Braves to win their close 9-8 decision in the other game Monday.

Athletics were leading 9-6 going into the bottom of the sixth inning.

The Braves' Melvin Williams reached first on an error, Felix Salmeron used a fielders choice to reach first and then Jerry Williams hammered out a triple to score the runners for a 9-8 count.

C. Miles walked with he and Williams representing the tieing and winning runs on base.

But Athletic hurler Curtis Scott tightened down and struck out Braves' Douglas Hodges to end the game.

And then in the third, four more Athletic runners — Scott, Archie Biggers, Lowell Martin and B. Lloyd—placed runs in the scorebook for a big 7-0 lead.

Braves came alive in the bottom of the third for two runs with McShan and Don Thomas racking up runs.

Stewart gave the Athletics an 8-2 lead in the fourth when he doubled and scored on an error.

Braves came back for three runs in their part of the fourth inning with Hodges, McShan and Melvin Williams doing the scoring.

Then the Braves, behind 9-6, put on their last inning rally that fell short and gave the win to the Athletics.

Alton Currie was the losing twirler.

IN LITTLE LEAGUE

Yankees Smash Indians, 9-1 Threaten Pirates For First

Yankees were the big news in the Little League this week, as they thrashed the Indians, 9-1, Tuesday night and climbed into second place.

They now threaten the league leading Pirates and will get a crack at them Tuesday night in the first game.

If the Yanks beat the Pirates next week, they will be tied for top spot in the league.

Pirates kept their lead by licking the oft-beaten Giants, 6-4, in the other game.

Yankees pushed across one run in the first inning in their game with the Indians with Barney Barnett doing the scoring.

Jimmy Surratt, Ray Free and Barnett crossed home plate in the second frame as the Yanks mounted to a 4-0 lead.

Willie Joe Smith, the Yank hurler who held the Indians to two hits all night, helped his own game by socking a home run in the third inning with Luis Franco on base.

The defending league champ Yanks kept up their torrid attack in the fourth with two more runs, mainly on Indian errors.

The Indians managed one run in the fifth inning with Robert Galey scoring on two Yank errors and a double by Thomas Costillo.

Surratt finished the Yank scoring in the fifth after he socked a single to reach base.

Pirates racked up four runs in that inning. Charles Houston opened the frame with a walk. Moires Garcia singled, Earl Biggers walked, David Salter walked and Charles Sweatt walked to provide the scoring power.

Giants pecked away at the Pirate lead, scoring one run in the fourth and one in the fifth.

SCREW-WORM PROJECT

Farmers May Profit From Florida Tests

By JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner.

Texas stockmen will be keenly interested in a new procedure for eradicating the screw-worm now being tested in the Florida cattle country.

In a joint Federal-state operation, a project is now underway involving the use of male screw-worm flies hatched under laboratory conditions and sterilized through radiation exposure to cobalt gamma rays.

It is believed that when the sterile male flies are released in a screw-worm infested area, a marked decrease in reproduction will result when many eggs produced by female flies in the area fail to hatch.

The Florida experiment, which is being directed by R. C. Bushland of the Entomology Research Division at Kerrville, is not an attempt at eradication of the screw-worm but merely a test to see if it can be accomplished.

The research project grew out of a similar operation held on the Caribbean Island of Curacao in which a complete eradication was accomplished. In the Curacao project, 400 male screw worm flies per square mile were released. The Florida experiment will employ a release of 500 males per square mile each week for four months. This will require a total of about 2,000,000 lab-reared flies a week when operations reach their peak in the area to be treated, which is 40 by 50 miles.

The screw-worm is the larvae or maggot, of the fly Callitroga hominovorax which develop from eggs laid on open wounds on animals. The screw-worm has been known to exist in Texas since 1842, probably coming up from Mexico.

Because of the heavy Mexican infestation which migrates northward through Texas, the time eradication measure being tested in Florida presently would not be too effective in the Southwest.

However, if tests should prove successful in the Southeastern project, Texas cattlemen can look forward to a time when the ever-present screw-worm problem is relieved.

Ticklers — By George

BIBLE COMMENT

Building Includes Spiritual Activity

How frequently in various communities the problem has arisen of whether churches or schools shall have the proper place or the place of pre-eminence.

People say, "We ought to have a better church," or "We ought to have a better school building, but we can't afford it," or "The time is not right for action."

Yet, how often in modern times is it those who speak this way who have been most zealous in caring for their own comfort and in spending upon themselves?

This was precisely the situation that the prophet Haggai faced in ancient Israel. The people who were saying that it wasn't the right time to build the Lord's House were living in their own well-built and comfortable homes.

Haggai asks them very plainly whether this is wise building. He represents Jehovah as saying to the people that this is not the way of real prosperity. "Go up," says Jehovah, "to the mountains and bring wood, and build the House of the Lord."

It is only in cooperation with the Lord that there can be in any society true and permanent building. Man must work with the forces of God in nature. But he must also work with the God of grace and righteousness and truth.

Consider the communities that have given the proper place to religion and worship. Almost invariably they have been prosperous places. The Puritans in New England came to a region of the country much of which was barren with rock and great stretches of which were in marshes.

Yet they built with permanency as they built faith and the recognition of spiritual values into their communities. It was this spirit of devotion which enabled them to make the best of all they had.

This is the story of what has taken place in regions where men and women have given the primary place to religion.

SENTIMENT FOR AND AGAINST

Discussion Centers on Governor's Plans For Special Legislative Session in Fall

By VERN SANFORD,
Texas Press Association.

Though still four months off, Gov. Daniel's plan for a special legislative session in the fall is already generating lively discussion around the Capitol.

There is sentiment both for and against.

A "memorandum" was reportedly circulated asking persons to write the governor and ask him not to call the special session. It predicted the bills the governor wants would fare no better then than before. A long-time House member was believed to be the author of the memorandum.

But if the session is held, Rep. Tony Korioth of Sherman says he hopes the governor will submit small loan regulation as an emergency measure. Korioth's "loan shark" control bill died in committee last session.

New States Formed

While Texas lawmakers take a break, some probable leaders of the future are trying their hands at government in Austin.

They are nearly 1,000 high school students from over Texas who came to the Capital City for Boys State and Girls State Texas Department of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary sponsor the "states" annually as citizenship laboratories for outstanding youngsters.

Participants hear talks by top officials from the governor down, then form political parties, nominate candidates and elect officials of their own.

Aim is to give the students a first-hand understanding of politics and government.

Road Building Speed-up

Texas State Highway Commission is moving swiftly to take advantage of new laws designed to speed up highway construction.

A meeting of the Commission and key personnel was to be held in Houston this week. Objective: to hasten the day when heavy traffic can move safely and smoothly along multi-laned super highways with no crossroads.

Principal legislative changes are (1) provision for the state to go 50-50 with cities and counties on land buying costs and (2) new authority for the state to obtain land for and have control of super-roads through cities.

Goal for 1970, according to Highway Engineer D. C. Greer, is 900 miles of expressways linking Texas' population centers.

First of the new laws means car and truck owners will pay 10 per cent more for their next license plates. Second means state will set speed limits on state highways through towns—no local speed traps.

Tougher for Teens

Law enforcement officers will, in effect, have a new hickory stick for teenage troublemakers after Aug. 22.

New laws to go into effect then provide:

1. Youngsters 14 and over can be fined $100 for speeding, DWI or driving without a license.

2. Parents will be liable up to $300 for property damage by minor children.

3. Drivers licenses for youngsters under 16 will be harder to get. Department of Public Safety, rather than local county judge, will have say-so.

4. A special "license" will be needed for driving motor bikes and scooters.

Taking a more optimistic view of the same subject were the more than 100 experts, educatotrs and parents in Austin for the Texas PTA's youth development workshop.

Today's youth seems to be "staling along," they opined, but suggested more interest by fathers might help.

At Least It's Wet

More and more rain and less crops is the farm report from many parts of the state.

Besides flood damage, losses are expected to mount high from wind, hail, rust and insects. And continued heavy rains have washed out more fields, delayed much-needed work in others.

Any more rain will mean complete loss of North Texas grain crops, according to observers. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported weather too wet and cool for cotton in all areas but South Texas.

Even so, the stored-up moisture makes farmers generally hopeful. With some clear weather now, some say they might yet get the best crops in years.

For ranchers outlook is even better. Hill Country Hereford Association reported record-breaking sales as grass grows higher, cattle fatter.

Building Bogs Down

Building authorizations for the first four months of '57 were one per cent higher than last year, reports the Bureau of Business Research. But actual construction was 4 per cent less due to the weather.

Increase in the authorization totals was attributed to higher costs rather than more building.

Business Activity Up

Almost all indicators show Texas business moving slowly, but steadily, ahead of what it was in 1956.

University Bureau of Business Research reported April, 1957, was 6 per cent better than April, 1956. Retail trade was up 8 per cent over last year with family clothing stores showing the big best jump—39 per cent.

Bureau analysts foresee "good retailing for the rest of the year, but with "fierce competition" and a "ruthless squeeze on profits and margins."

Short Snorts

Virgil T. Seaberry of Eastland has been elected president of the State Bar of Texas, according to Austin headquarters. He will take office at the bar's annual convention in Fort Worth in July. First high state official to announce for the 1958 elections is Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson. He has been on the Commission since 1941. Cotton planting deadlines have been extended until June 20 for farmers in 69 East and Central Texas counties, Agriculture Commr. John White said the extension was "against my better judgment" as far as pink bollworm control is concerned, but that farmers should not be deprived of a good cash crop.

Loraine Group in Midland for Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Lee and daughters, Annette and Janie, and Mrs. D. R. Smith, all from Loraine, were in Stanton Friday to attend the wedding of Mrs. Lee's neice and Mrs. Smith's granddaughter, Miss Glenda Smith to Darrell Quaid of Stanton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, former residents of Loraine and the granddaughter of Mrs. D. R. Smith, pioneer resident of the Loraine area.

Buttons were first put on men's coat sleeves by Frederick the Great, to keep his soldiers from wiping their noses on their sleeves.

PERSONALS

I AM NO LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR MY WIFE'S ACTIONS

(Since she got her new kind of Ford)

"If she is unbelievably happy at 7:00 A. M. every morning, I now hold her 1957 Ford responsible. If she is off for the day at 7:02 A. M., I suggest that it is the power of Ford's Thunderbird V-8 engine. If she appears vastly more style-conscious, it is the longer, lower lines of her new kind of Ford that have made her so.

"If she arrives home remarkably refreshed, I refer you to the lower, more comfortable seats, the wider wrap-around windshield and the other peace-of-mind features of her new "Inner Ford." If she's just a bit more spoiled, don't blame her. With optional power steering, power brakes, power windows and seat—who wouldn't be?

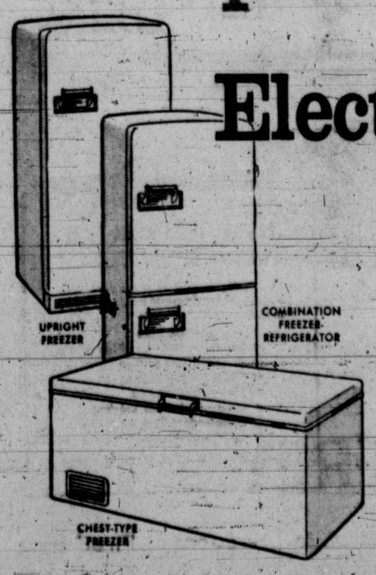

"And if she is constantly raving about the savings her new car brings her, she's merely confirming what I've been telling her about Fords for years! Sure, we're a two-Ford family now. But even having one Ford in the family was more fun than you can imagine! Try a new '57 Ford at your house. It's Terrific!"

The evening was spent playing kid games and visitation, and refreshments were served.

Bruce has been a member of the Methodist Church for more than 65 years, and was Sunday School superintendent here for 10 years. He also taught a men's Bible class, which is now named in his honor.

The annual bean feed, started by Bruce more than 30 years ago, has been held every year, with one exception during World War II, and is still a yearly event.

Bruce and his family first moved to the Loraine area in 1907, settling in the China Grove community, some 15 miles north west of Loraine.

His first wife died in 1912. He was married again several years later to Miss Minnie Beaty, who died in 1934.

In 1936, he married Mrs. Bessie Askins, his present wife. They have both been active in the Methodist Church during recent years, but Bruce for the past few months, has been unable to attend services regularly because of failing health.

Plans Complete For June Rodeo At Big Spring

The Big Spring Rodeo Association has announced that plans are complete for the 24th annual performance of the Big Spring Rodeo, June 12, 13, 14, 15.

Everett Colburn and Gene Autrey, veteran producers, will again be at the helm of this show, with their usual fine array of rodeo stock, tops in announcers, clown acts, specialty acts, etc.

Wilmer Pfluger, the clown, and his assistant, and Jay Sisler with his two specialty acts will furnish the fun and entertainment.

Jay Sisler and his Australian shepherd dogs—Stub, Shorty, and Queen — are well known entertainers in rodeo arenas. New this year is an additional act featuring "Blondie" an educated greyhound. This act consists of spectacular jumping and balancing feats with clever comedy bits.

A big parade will proceed through the downtown section of Big Spring at :00 p. m., o'clock on June 12th. Attractive prizes are offered the first three winning floats in the amounts of $50, $30 and $20.

Sheriff's posses from the neighboring towns and counties have been invited to march in the parade. An appropriate trophy will be presented the outstanding posse at the first night's performance.

After the parade the posses will be honored with a barbecue at the city park with the rodeo association and the Big Spring Mounted Patrol acting as hosts.
