Claud Fawver, president of the Floyd County Pioneers Association, this week issued a call for a meeting of his officers and directors to meet on Saturday, April 10 to start plans to rolling for the annual re-union. The meeting will be held at the county court room at 2 o'clock p.m.

The county was organized and began to function on May 28, 1890, and May 28 is the date usually set for the re-union.

Mr. Fawver is anxious to have all members of the board and the officers present at the April 10th meeting, together with any others who would like to be present and help in the plans.

County-Wide Vote Will Name Trustees

Saturday, April 3, is School trustee election day in Texas.

In Floyd county the day will be observed by the selection of four county school board members, one of them at-large; also by the election of members of school board members in six common school districts and two independent districts.

Only Commissioners Precinct in the county with a hold-over member of the county board is Precinct No 1. in which M. P. Goen is incumbent. Residents of this district will have to vote, however, on the member-at-large of the county board.

Two Candidates in No. 3

Names have been petitioned on the county-wide ballot for:

R. M. Battey (incumbent) to succeed himself, as trustee-at-large;

Leslie Ferguson and Ewald Quebe for trustee of Precinct No. 2 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Robert W. Smith;

Bill Beedy (incumbent) in Precinct No. 3 to succeed himself as trustee from Precinct No. 3;

And F. M. Covington (incumbent) in Precinct 4 to succeed himself as trustee of that precinct.

In Precinct No. 2, Leslie Ferguson is a resident of Lockney. Ewald Quebe a resident of Providence district.

A campaign to drum up interest in the election in Floydada and adjacent areas is being carried on currently by the Floydada Junior Chamber of Commerce. President J. M. Willson, jr., points out that his organization is committed to the proposition that every citizen has a duty to vote in every election. A citizen helps choose his officials either by default or by voting. The responsibility and the right go together, claims the young men's organization.

Common School Districts

In the six common school districts of the county each had a new trustee or trustees to select. At South Plains three trustee's terms expire. They are Shelby Calahan, Kendall Cummings and Ursel Taylor.

Dougherty district has two trustee terms expiring, those of H. H. Hines and H. J. Cage. At Providence a successor to S. J. Jones is to be chosen.

In Sand Hill district the term of Fred Jackson as trustee expires, at Lakeview L. W. Johnson and at Lone Star D. J. Phillips.

Petitions circulated last week here called for the names of Guy W. Ginn and Gene Collins, sr., to go on the ballot for trustees of Floydada Independent school district to succeed themselves in office.

In Lockney independent school district the terms of Connie O'Brien and Alvin Wilson expire. The names of O'Brien who lives at Aiken, and Wilson, who lives at Pleasant Valley, will appear on the ballot, along with Oscar Golden of Aiken and Clark Harris of Pleasant Valley.

City Council Starts Procedure On Water and Sewer Expansion

Floydada taxpayers gave the municipal waterworks and sewer revenue bond debt proposals a majority of almost nine to one, in Saturday's vote. Count of the ballots made Monday night by the city council showed 188 for the bond issue, 23 against, with about 20 percent of the taxpaying population represented in the balloting.

The council is proceeding with the details of preparing the bonds for placing on the market. The probable rate of interest that will have to be paid was discussed with bond house representatives at Monday night's meeting.

The $300,000 bond issue will represent an obligation of the water and sewer systems revenues of the city. Fifty-nine thousand dollars of the total represents a refund of a 1948 issue, the remaining $241,000 to be expended in an ambitious water and sewer expansion program which the council hopes to carry out this summer.

A largely expanded sewer disposal plant, a new water well larger water mains in the mercantile district, more water mains in residential areas, a second, larger elevated storage tower, and several blocks of sewer line extensions are included in the plan which the council adopted. Northeast and southeast areas which have been long neglected with sewer service are included in the plan.

South Main Paving

The council Monday night also considered the paving on South Main street, which is a project for this spring. Property owners and the city are working on a voluntary basis to get street-wide, curb to curb paving done on this street, which is the business route of Highway 70 through the city.

Only other paving project which has a prospect of early development is on South Fifth street, where some property owners look upon paving as an urgent matter. The city is being urged to take action.

REVISED RULES FOR 1955 JUNIOR LIVE STOCK SHOW ANNOUNCED; DATE SET FOR MARCH 9-10

Some important changes have been made in the show classes plus some clarifying rules for the Floyd County Junior Live Stock show next year.

The changes in the classes and rules were adopted at an organization meeting held last week in the county court room.

The changes made affect all three classes — swine, sheep and cattle— and rule out all breeding stock except open classes, and dairy cattle.

The plan is to make the show a fat stock show in fact as well as in name, giving the breeding stock a chance to be shown in the fall at the county fair.

Reporting on the changes adopted county agent Bill Rodgers, said that in the swine division open gilts may be shown in a weight range of 160 to 250 pounds, and that a top weight of 250 pounds has been set for the heavy division in each breed.

In the fat lamb division the lamb class has been divided to provide for a fine wool competition and a medium wool, the two types of animals to compete for the grand and reserve championship. Only ewe lambs to be shown will be in a new class added — ewe lambs with lamb teeth.

Representatives of Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Floyd county board of development, the Extension Service and Vocational Agriculture were represented in the meeting.

Nice To Be a Winner, It's Evident

When Randall Jones won first prize with his heavy Hampshire shoat at the Junior Fat Stock show in Lubbock he found he had hit the jackpot. Here he is surrounded by two young beauties, who rewarded him with a kiss. Planting the buss on the right cheek is Miss Jenny Lou Reddman, sweetheart of the Post 4-H club. On the left is Miss Patsy Mills, sweetheart of Abernathy FFA.

Randall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones, of Floydada.

Also showing at the Lubbock junior live stock men's competition was Norman Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis of Starkey. His animal, a heavy Duroc, placed tenth.

The boys were accompanied to Lubbock by their vocational agriculture teacher, James Carroll of Floydada high school. He coached them in getting their animals groomed and ready for the competition.

The boys report the trip was both educational and entertaining.

32 Paintings Will Be Shown In Art Exhibit

An art exhibit of thirty-two paintings from the Texas Fine Arts Association of Austin will open in Floydada on Wednesday for a weeks show. Every section of the state is represented.

Everett Spruce Landscape

The Texas Fine Arts Association says that Everett Spruce of Austin is probably the most widely recognized contemporary Texas artist. His oil, "Western Landscape" which will be seen in Floydada, won the $500.00 purchase prize in the Association's 1953 spring show.

The exhibit also contains pictures by Toni La Selle, Denton, Mrs. Charles Ravey, Austin, David Brownlow, Fort Worth, DeForrest Judd, Dallas, Dorothy Bryan, Lubbock, and others.

Latest thing to get surveyed is the raindrop.

Seems we've always believed raindrops all look alike, a sort of artist's model version of the real thing. Recently, in Illinois — where they're lucky enough to find 200,000 of them to survey — scientists made a detailed study of raindrops. The report shows they come in all shapes and sizes.

It has been a long time since we've done any serious thinking about raindrops, hence we have to rely on recollection for our impressions. But we've never doubted their variety in sizes. From the fine, needle-like ones that prickled our face as we walked to school, to the huge, splatter type that plopped into hot dry sand around bare feet, raindrops impressed this on us early. Pinned down, however, we'd admit an entirely unscientific notion that winter raindrops were tiny, summer ones larger.

Although we're no wetter for it, we now know they may be as small as one-one hundredth, or as large as four-tenths of an inch in diameter.

As to shape, we would have visualized the sand-ploppers, and those observed from beneath a tree during a sudden mountain shower, as pearshaped —maybe because they're pictured that way so often. Now we're told this "ideal" raindrop is rare. Instead, the small ones are likely to be round, the large ones probably resemble a fat mushroom.

We're no better off, of course, for acquiring scientific information about raindrops, since the little critters, in any shape or size, in these parts are hard to come by. But we do hope while they're surveying, meteorologist find out how speed and temperature affect shape. (How for instance, can a thing that feels like a frozen pinpoint be perfectly round?)

We view with alarm this wrapping up the subject in a tight little survey. Whassa matter? Is the raindrop, like the dodo, becoming extinct?

IN APPRECIATION

I want to express my love and gratitude to the many friends who were so nice and thoughtful to me during my recent illness and stay in the Medical Center hospital at Plainview. Also during my convalescence at home.

The gifts, pretty cards, flowers and all the lovely deeds will never be forgotten. May God's richest blessing be upon each of you is our prayer.

Mrs. Wade Warren and family.

LIBRARY NEWS

(by Mrs. Roy Hollar)

The past week has brought a number of gifts to the library. A box of books from Mrs. Leslie Stringer of Wichita Falls is among our donations.

A goodly number of our friends have brought in magazines which are being used to complete our files and to help our young borrowers who are making notebooks when we have extra copies. We were also given a hand-hammered copper ash try for our desk.

An addition many people will use as reference is "The Christian Science Monitor." This paper has an interesting and outstanding editoral policy. We are especially glad to have it for the book reviews which are in the Thursday issue.

We trust that you saw the display in the window of the J. C. Penney Store in Floydada. We are indebted to a number of people — as usual— for this nice display. Mr. Reue, manager of Penney's let us have the window and helped to plan the exhibit and the costumes. Mrs. Corine Barber and Mrs. Margaret Springer of the library committee of Andrews ward PTA, worked on the arrangement and Mrs. Barber's students' made the posters.

In Lockney Mrs. H. H. Mills who directs the activities of our branch in Lockney made the poster and put up the display there in the window of the Lockney Beacon office. We are grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Hayes for their help.

Our new signs in both locations should help guide folks to the library. Jim Rodgers put up the sign in Lockney and Mr. Green put up the sign in Floydada —again we had help in the preparation of these signs.

The new issue of the "Texas Library News" has information on each Texas county. We keep the magazine on file and will be glad to show you the location of all Texas libraries and other educational facts about our counties.

The American Heritage group will meet tonight (Thursday) in the library reading room at 7:30 o'clock.

Pictures picked up at random from the camera shots of Donald Skaggs at the 1950 study club style show Monday night are presented here. The crowd of 600 persons saw scores of models as they presented all types of apparel styles for the spring and summer offered by nine establishments in Floydada. The models, styles and showmanship, as well as the entertainment won acclaim from the capacity house at high school auditorium. Shown reading from left to right are Mrs. Tom Bob Jarboe in a casual dress; a daughter-like-mother denim with Mrs. A. L. Wylie, jr., and Marilyn; third panel Jo Ellen Reue in a dressy dress; fourth, Mrs. Jack Meredith modeling a sport ensemble. Little Miss Suzanne Guthrie has on a fussy Easter frock as she views the audience and hears master of ceremonies Bryan Collins reading from his notes.

It was Easter time in the high school auditorium Monday night when the 1950 Study club presented their sprh_ style show to a capacity crowd.

The stage was a perfect setting for the models in their lovely apparel. It carried out the Paris theme, with a side walk cafe and a dress shop making a background. Two French poodles, a yellow, and pink one added to the decoration. A brick background helped complete the setting.

Mrs. Gene Collins, jr., in a stunning black formal greeted the audience on behalf of the 1950 Study club.

Bryan Collins acted as narrator for the presentation of the models.

The antics of the children in the Easter parade was something to be long remembered — the cute little girls in their full skirts and frills, and the adorable little boys in their short pants. Some were rather bashful, even a little timid, while others enjoyed the bright lights and thrills.

Myron Kattner sang, "I Love Paris" in a rich baritone as he strolled casually in front of a sidewalk cafe and dress shop in Paris, and Miss Wren Patterson sang "I Believe."

Miss Barbara Perry gave a monologue, "Essie at the Station." In a loud dress and with a hat that had one red flower that bobbed with her every move she finally succeeded in getting "Essie" on the train, only to find out at the last minute it was the wrong train.

A quartette composed of Bob Copeland, Al Brian, Myron Kattner, and Dr. Bill Greer sang several numbers in good old barber shop harmony. In their dark suits and tow ties they looked very much in character.

Dr. and Mrs. James Wester danced two numbers. Mrs. Wester in a flowing black formal trimmed in white and the doctor in a dark suit made a perfect center for the spotlight in which they danced.

Don Barber completed the entertainment with his solo, "April in Paris."

Mrs. Bob Copeland was at the piano, playing softly as each model entered and showed the apparel chosen.

Sixty-nine lovely models paraded more than 200 new spring and summer ideas before the audience.

This fifth annual style show has proved another success for the 1950 Study club.

Also, the proportion of new to old names does indicate a healthy condition."

Two Hospitalized As Bus Overturns

A Ralls school bus overturned and plunged into a dry lake bed in the Farmer community Monday. Two of the school children are still in the hospital.

Annette Sawyer who was pinned under the bus, is in the Crosbyton hospital and is reported as doing fine by attendants there. She suffered a broken ankle and shock in the freak accident.

Jane Price remains in the Spikes-Holmes Clinic in Ralls with face lacerations. She is reported Tuesday as doing good. Another victim of the mishap Kerry King was discharged from the hospital Tuesday morning.

The other six or eight school children aboard the school bus were examined but were found in a good condition except for severe bruises.

Failure of the brakes on the bus to function is credited with responsibility for the accident.

C of C Delegates Go to San Angelo

Floydada Chamber of Commerce manager O. M. Watson, jr., in company with Mrs. Watson, and Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Watson, sr., were Floydada representatives at the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in San Angelo Sunday afternoon through Tuesday. Watson, sr., is West Texas Chamber of Commerce director for Floydada.

Many executives of business from over more than half of Texas covered by the West Texas organization were among those present and active in the two and a half days of the convention, Watson, junior, said. It was a heartening experience for him to see the "older men" still active boosting and working for the advancement of the area, he said.

The Floydada party returned home Tuesday night. While in San Angelo the senior Watsons were guests of his brother and family, the R. C. Watsons.

Basic Rules Outlined For Tractor Efficiency

When you step into the tub for a cooling cleanup after a hard day, remember your tractor or truck. Heat and dust can make them balky.

A few basic rules for humans, if applied to your equipment, can mean greater efficiency. The rules: drink plenty of liquids, stay clean, go on a light diet and don't work too hard.

Here's how they compare:

Frequent drinks are needed by the radiator because heat hastens evaporation of water. If radiator water is muddied with rust, drain and flush system, then add rust inhibitor when you refill.

Cleanliness, inside and out, will make an engine run cooler and better. Keep the ignition system free of dust and grime. And don't forget air filters.

Light diet is comparable to a leaner carburetor mixture. You don't need rich food in hot weather, neither does your engine. A fat carburetor "diet" in hot weather can build up carbon and heat, not to mention wasting fuel.

Less exertion means cutting down on friction and watching your driving habits.

Mrs. Thelma Jones spent Friday night with her sister, Mrs. Virgil Martin of Hale Center.

Good carbon paper goes further. Try Suite-Rite.

Band Campaign For Hesperian Opening Today

The Band Boosters and Floydada high school band members will hit the trail looking for Hesperian subscribers this afternoon at 3:45. They will gather at the high school at the closing hour, get instructions and start out from there.

They are not sure how much they can get done the first afternoon but are laying their plans to cover the area completely just as fast as they can. The plans are being made by a committee composed of Burl Huckabee and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Word, according to W. J. Wilks, president of the Band Boosters.

"It may take us several days but we want to organize to give everybody a chance to subscribe for The Hesperian. We need to make a lot of money to pay for those 20 suits that are waiting for us," said Mrs. Word of the committee late yesterday.

The band parents and the band members plan to take both new and renewal subscriptions. Only in-the-county subscriptions will count in the campaign, according to the rules. Papers sent to parties out of the county have been ruled out because of increasing postage rates.

The subscription price of the paper is $2 per year. The band will get 50c out of each $2 they collect, either for new or renewal subscriptions. The band is talking it up in the hope that they get several hundred names for one or more years.

Since most every body is going to take the paper anyhow, they expect to get out and see them all before the campaign is over, including residents on all the rural routes out of Floydada. The limit for subscriptions during the campaign is five years.

This morning W. J. Wilks, president of the Band Boosters, and one or more members of his committee, together with Homer Steen, publisher of the newspaper, and John Horn, band director, are due to be on the air for several minutes on Mrs. Holmes' 9 o'clock broadcast to whoop it up for the band and the newspaper over KFLD.

The Band Boosters will have their monthly meeting on April 5, at 7:30 o'clock in the band hall.

Roughage Is Called CheapestDairyFeed

According to the Dairy Herd Improvement Association of Nebraska, the cheapest feeds for dairy cows are roughages.

The association reported recently that its records show that roughages last year supplied about 70 to 75 per cent of the nutrients at 46 per cent of the total costs. The concentrates supplied about 25 to 30 per cent of the nutrients at 54 per cent of the feed cost.

The D.H.I.A. records also indicated that a balanced ration should be fed according to a cow's producing ability. The cows producing 34-00 pounds of milk consumed $26 worth of grain feed. The cows producing 8092 pounds of milk consumed $75 worth of grain feed. The difference in the value of the product over the feed cost was $149. The cost of the roughage was the same in both cases.

The average production of all the cows was 9073 pounds of milk and 344 pounds of butterfat. The average feed cost per cow was $168 and the returns over feed cost averaged $231.

One cow producing 11,873 pounds of milk and 460 pounds of butterfat was more valuable from the standpoint of production than 3 cows producing one-half as much milk and butterfat.

Don't know why they call'em slacks when there's never any slack in them.

Center News

(by Mrs. J. E. Green)

CENTER, March 30 — We've had some soft, hazy, beautiful days but last night we had ice. We hope it did not finish the fruit.

There has been some sickness around. Mrs. Walter Sims and Mrs. C. W. Denison have severe colds. Bro. Hodges was back with us Sunday. Mrs. McEvers, Mrs. Hodge's mother, is home from the hospital after a seige of pneumonia.

Monday of last week, Imogene Noland of Wayland college had a severe attack of flu and was taken to a Lubbock hospital. She was dismissed Wednesday and brought home to recuperate. She returned to school Sunday. Her mother, Mrs. T. R. Noland suffered the same ailment but is about recovered now.

Bro. and Mrs. Hodges and Jerry were Sunday dinner guests in the Frank Dunn home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Teeple and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell visited in the C. W. Denison home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Denison spent Thursday night in Brownfield visiting their son, C. W. Denison, jr., and family.

Patricia Robertson was sick Sunday with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and Mr. and Mrs. Ross attended revival services at the Calvary Baptist church Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Green went to Plainview Friday where they visited the Victor Greens and went to the Plainview hospital where Mr. Green received treatment.

P. M. Noland and daughter, Nelda of Hamilton visited relatives in this locality last week. Nelda was a Sunday dinner guest in the T. R. Noland home.

Mr. and Mrs. Green visited the D. I. Boldings Monday evening. The Boldings returned Saturday afternoon from a trip to Alabama where they, accompanied by the Grady Edelmons and Zolan Melton, went to attend funeral services at Red Bay, Alabama, for Mr. Bolding's brother, I. J. (Jack) Bolding. They went by Leonard, Texas, where they picked up another brother, J. A. O. Bolding.

The Fairview Baptist church revival will be held over this weekend. Let us cooperate with our neighbor church and attend services.

All enjoyed the craft meeting of the home demonstration club at Mrs. Woodrow Wilsons Friday.

Let us get ready for the pre-Easter offering for our orphans homes. Grown-ups bring money for eggs and general maintenance and young folks bring money or clothes.

A Tribute

We understand that we are about to lose Mrs. Angus from our town and the Hesperian staff.

The first time Mrs. Angus was brought to our notice was about twenty-eight years ago in our Sunday school class at First Baptist church, Floydada. She had stepped out of the room to take her secretary's report, or something. Just then the Sunday school superintendent came and said to our teacher, 'We'd like your class to contribute something to our re-assembly program this morning.' Just like that, extemporaneously. When he withdrew our teacher said, 'What shall we do?' Soon one member spoke up, 'Let's have Mrs. Angus sing a solo.' 'Fine,' said the teacher. 'Mrs. Angus always helps out.'

And that is what we've noticed she has done ever since. Be it in church, Red Cross, in a hospital, a neighbor in trouble, a story for The Hesperian, Mrs. Angus cheerfully dives in and 'helps out.'

Who will take her place? We regret losing Mr. and Mrs. Angus, but bid them Godspeed and wish them happiness in a new home.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincese thanks for the many kindnesses shown us in our deep sorrow. The beautiful florial offerings, food, and kind deeds were deeply appreciated. May God richly bless each of you.

Committee Seeks Way to Make Improvements at Country Club

At Stansell-Collins store Thursday night of last week the committee appointed by President Rex Brown, met to study, discuss, and exchange ideas of how to raise money to repair and make improvements at Floydada Country club.

At the present time a sum of $2,500 has been set aside in available funds for remodeling the club house; however a larger sum than is available at the present time will be required to complete the work planned.

This meeting concerned 30 members and associate members who are thinking of getting the club to offer regular memberships to 50 associate members. If this plan is followed an associate member may pay $100 and then have a voice in the Country Club's activities. An associate member doesn't have any voting privileges. Also at this time only Floyd county residents are allowed to have a membership in this club; however if this plan is adopted 50 associate shares may possibly be sold to persons out of this county, says Gene Collins.

In the meeting held Tuesday night, the committee discussed and made further plans for improving the club and of getting water to the golf course. At the present time sand greens are being used. If a watering system could be arranged it would be possible to have grass greens.

Carl Minor, jr., said Wednesday that the committee plans to have a definite plan to present to the members in the near future. Those on this special committee by appointment are Aaron Carthel, E. M. Collins, sr., J. R. King, James H. Word, Claude Weathersbee and A. L. Sparks.

The directors of the Country club are Rex Brown, president; W. E. Brown, jr., J. R. King, James H. Word, B. K. Barker, B. B. Henry, and Carl Minor, jr.

WEATHER FINE, FISHING GOOD ON COLORADO RIVER

W. E. Garrett and son Donnie spent Friday to Monday last on Buchanan and Inkes lakes on the Colorado river, in the vicinity of Llano and Burnett.

They were guests while in that area of Mr. Garrett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Garrett.

Fishing was good with white bass, black bass and croppie taking the lure. The weather was fine and the bluebonnets in bloom in the vicinity of Llano and Burnett, Garrett said.

Sun., April 4, Is Hospitality Day

The Nazarene church plans Hospitality Day for Sunday, April 4. This day will be celebrated with a basket dinner at the church after the Sunday morning service. The church is preparing for Easter and everyone is invited to come and bring your friends.

Mr. Wood, the pastor of the church, was called out of town on Thursday. He is expected back for the basket dinner and Hospitality day.

Captain W. O. Garrett, of Dallas, with American Air Lines, stationed in New York, was here over the week-end, guest in the home of the Roy Holars. Mrs. Garrett and son, who have been here 10 days, left Tuesday night after their visit in the Holar home, returning to New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dunn of Littlefield was here Monday through Wednesday visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Bob Copeland.

Conservation District News

Indications are that the acreage of intra-planted cowpeas with grain sorghum will be much greater than last year.

In discussing this practice, an excellent and convenient way to improve your soil's fertility and structural condition, the members of the board of supervisors state that they felt the limited supply of cowpea seed and planting equipment might hinder the acreage planted to this crop.

Paul Cooper grew cowpeas in grain sorghum last year. He reported finding earthworms in the soil around the roots of the cowpeas. This is one of the best indications of a soil in good physical condition.

Paul also stated all the seed he harvested from his 1953 crop of cowpeas are spoken for by his neighbors.

The members of the Floyd county Board of Supervisors have made arrangements for their seed and urge you to do the same as soon as possible.

Whirlwinds Will Defend Title At Caprock Relays Saturday

The Whirlwind track team which last year took first annual Caprock relays at Slaton will try Saturday to defend their title.

In the meet last spring all first place winners scored for the records and the 'Winds piled up some 36 2/3 points to walk off with the team trophy. In the runner-up spot were Anton and Olton who scored 20 points each in the competition. There were some 20 team entries.

This year's field of entries at the Slaton meet is expected to be larger and the competition somewhat stiffer according to reports from earlier track and field meets. The 'Winds will have to go all out if they are to retain their first place slot.

Levelland, O'Donnell, Slaton, Abernathy and Olton have impressive records this season and are all regarded as first division material. Andrews, which last week took the West Texas relays at Odessa would be a heavy favorite if they enter this year at Slaton.

One record set last year that is likely to stand for some time is the 9.5 in the 100-yard dash which was set by Frank Daugherty of Olton. The mile mark of 5:03.0 set by Beckam of Crosbyton is likely to be broken as several better times have been turned in this season.

Preliminaries are scheduled for Saturday morning with the finals to be run off beginning at one p.m. in the afternoon. Many track fans are planning to follow the locals to Slaton for the event if the weather is at all favorable.

The district meet will be run off here one week later on Saturday, April 10.

'Winds Take 4-Way Meet

Yesterday afternoon at Wester field the Floydada track team added another victory to their string taking first place in a four-way meet.

The 'Winds scored 68 5/6 points followed by Muleshoe with 48, Tulia 19½ and Amherst 16.

Floydada Cast Placed First In One-Act Plays

Dr. P. M. Larson, head of the speech department at Texas Tech, judged Floydada high school's students and their play "number one" on his list and winner of District 4-A Interscholastic League drama contest Friday night.

This made the tenth time for Mrs. J. T. Graves, director, and her various casts to win this award.

The play that the cast presented was the third act of "The Little Foxes." Mrs. Graves and her cast will take this play to Amarillo April 14 to compete with other winners to represent this area April 24 at Texas Tech when the regional play contest is scheduled.

Spur cast presented, "My Lady's Lace," and ran a close second place and will be the alternate play for the area contest if Floydada should be unable to go. Tulia was placed third, with their presentation of "The Balcony Scene."

Members of the Floydada cast include Fontaine Fowler, Dale Redd, Roy Nell Hammonds, Lewis Head, Barbara Perry, Melvia Lorance, Bobby Rainer, Joyce Hammonds and Don Barber.

All-star cast members, awarded blue ribbons, were Roy Nell Hammonds, Barbara Perry, Lewis Head, Floydada; Carolyn Kelley, Ralph Gibson, Spur; and Robert Aycock, Tulia.

Ralph Gibson, who made his stage debut, was selected as best actor.

Barbara Perry, who was a member of the all-star cast last year, was selected best actress.

The three other schools entered in this contest included Paducah which presented "Which Is The Way to Boston," "This Night Shall Pass" which Ralls drama class presented, and "The High Window," presented by the Lockney high school.

Both the Floydada and Spur plays were presented Friday night while Tulia's play was viewed Thursday night. The plays were viewed by a large and interested crowd both Thursday and Friday night.

Automobile Goes Out Of Control; Two Girls Injured

Miss Betty Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes of the Irick community and her little niece, Patti Cannon, were both injured Sunday afternoon when the car Betty was driving left the road just west of Sand Hill and ran up the bar ditch, striking several concrete retainers. The car is reported to be a total loss, however it did not turn over.

Betty is in the Medical & Surgical hospital in Lockney where she is suffering from a brain concussion and a bad cut over her eye. The concussion was caused when a portable sewing machine in the rear seat of the car flew up and hit her in the back of the head. Relatives said Wednesday that her condition is much improved.

Little Patti Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cannon of the Sand Hill community, bit her tongue in two but it was sewed back and she is now at home and doing fine.

Tile Bathrooms Are Not So New

WASHINGTON —Tile bathrooms are not as new as many people believe. In fact, they were features of Greek homes as far back as 432 B. C.

Archeologists report they have not only found tile bathrooms, but individual home designs closely resembling present-day ramblers. In a typical Olynthian dwelling, the single, ground-level floor was divided into three or more rooms opening on a long portico, which in turn opened on a court.

The bathroom was much larger than present-day models and differed further in that it provided only those facilities which the name properly implies. A terracotta tub, shaped like a Victorian hip-bath, was built in the floor. At its foot a circular depression held water to be dripped over the bather. Tiling surrounded the tub, and a drain carried off the water.

Private homes in Olynthus were fashioned from adobe brick, temperature— and sound-proof. The city's streets were straight and broad, intersecting at regular intervals to enclose blocks 300 feet long by 130 wide. Each block contained ten houses, five on either side, divided by a narrow alley. Each house with patio, was about 60 feet square.

Civilian Pilots Number 580,000

WASHINGTON —There are more than 580,000 civilian pilots in the United States today, 18 times as many as there were before World War II.

In fact, there are more airplanes registered in California and Texas alone than existed in the entire United States when World War II broke out.

The growth of civil aviation in the United States since World War II has generally gone unnoticed—with thousands of Americans learning to fly, buying utility aircraft, using these planes in business, and contributing to the national defense transportation potential.

Today, the nation's more than 580,000 civil pilots outnumber the combined population of Delaware and Nevada. They man a vast fleet of 88,000 civil aircraft, 54,000 of them active, according to Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Association.

They use a total of 6,237 airports — an average of 130 airfields for every state in the Union. In 1939, the U. S. had only 2,280 airports, or an average of 47 per state.

Yesterday afternoon, with nine districts incomplete or not reported, the total funds turned in had reached $3,296.75 lacking only $4.25 of the total of $3,300 sought, said Mrs. Virgle Shaw, chapter treasurer.

The reports outstanding are sure to bring the total to a figure above $3,300, Mrs. Shaw said.

Chapter officials are anxious for all membership canvases to be completed this week and the final reports in by Saturday night.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

The general understanding is that Floydada needs all the improvements included in the revenue tax bond issue which carried last Friday by a nearly nine-to-one vote in the city election. There is every reason to assume that the governing body has good advice in their engineering plans and also in their arrangements for financing. The vote might have been more than a thousand had there been any considerable division among the people over the matter. Our guess is that of the 23 who voted against the indebtedness — and the improvements — last week, most looked at it that there isn't any way of getting your money's worth at the time and that we ought to worry along until such a day comes that you can make your dollars do your bidding. There are two way of viewing the matter. One is that there is a condition of "easier" materials now and a slightly less arrogant working populace. The other is that the federal government may be forced into another fling at inflation. Should this latter occur, you haven't seen anything yet.

Every Drop Precious. Floyd county irrigation farmers are reminded that every drop of the water they are using is precious. A folder issued recently by Southwestern Public Service Company, points up this fact. Relatively irrigation on the high plains is new. It is quite new to many users of underground water. This fact calls for thoughtful use of the water, care to get all the possible information on its most efficient application. Everyone concerned admits there is much to be learned for efficiency and profit from this expensive source of water supply.

Noteworthy in this department of the weekly compendium of useful knowledge is the fact that the cold of mid-March did not "set" all the peach blossoms and that there will be a few peaches in Floyd county orchards this season unless another belated cold spell takes the remainder of the tender fruit. Since it is days and days until Easter and the season has been late and uncommonly warm there is every reason to think that another cold period or two would be due to plague us. Against this conclusion are the flights of high-in-the-sky geese which, after they come into the range of sound and sight from the south, are still flying toward their summer homes.

The north has retreated many a mile since Admiral Perry and Dr. Cook made their breath-taking dashes toward the north pole in the early nineteen hundreds. Ships are plying further into the frigid zone earlier in the season every year nowadays. One explorer noted in a yarn recently appearing in the public prints that once so'idly frozen seas are now open for weeks at a time in the summer and that the distance which one travels to reach the glacial formations has been a bit further north year after year. The weather has played checkers since time began, the heat against the cold, on this planet, the players taking a half-century, an eon, to a move.

The high cost of being sick is pointed to in a responsible quarter as giving doctors — and hospitals — an undeserved black eys. Doctors need to combat this condition — this almost evil condition. Among other things it contributes largely to the continued demand from the people for socialized medicine. One of its bad sides is the "specialist." The country is full of men who have gone through school, served their internships and hung out their shingles, but don't know how to doctor sick people. The faithful, hard-working practitioner has to go along with this type because people demand to have the "best." It is an affliction the doctors have allowed to attach itself to their profession, aggravated by hide-bound ethical attitudes.

Another thing which people have begun to realize is that you can carry all the insurance in the book and still go broke paying doctor bills. One of the outstanding insurance plans that offered the Group Hospital Service is an instance of this. Calling attention to this in re sickness and hospital bills, and insurance against them, points up a part of the problem the doctors have to face. This is also a problem of their patients. Socialized medicine refuses to down so long as average people continue to want something they think they are entitled to but can't afford.

Rites Held Monday For Wm. P. Wall, Calumet Iowa, Man

Funeral service for William Powell Wall, 62, of Calumet, Iowa, was held in the First Batplst church of Floydada, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Dr. R. Earl Allen, pastor of the church, officiated. Interment was made in Floydada cemetery.

Mr. Wall died Thursday morning of last week at the Illinois Central hospital, Chicago, Illinois, and the body reached Floydada Saturday. His death was due to coronary thrombosis. He had been sick for three months and hospitalized for three weeks.

His wife, the former Prudie Mae Hamilton, two sons, Eddie, in the navy stationed at Norfolk, Virginia, and Earl, of Troutville, Virginia, and three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Fikes and Mrs. W. A. J. Ankney, of Las Vegas, Nevada, and Miss Juanita Wall, of Oklahoma City, two brothers and two sisters, and five grandchildren, are listed as survivors. Four of the five children were here for the last rites. The daughter in Oklahoma City could not be here.

Mr. Wall and Miss Hamilton were married in Floydada on January 2, 1908, and left immediately for Calumet where he was employed with the Illinois Central railroad and where they made their home until the time of his death.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Wall was a native of Mississippi, where he was born October 1, 1891. After separating from the service he went to work for the Illinois Central and had a 40-year record with that company.

He was stationed in Minnesota for 13 years before going to Calumet. He was railway agent and operator at Calumet at the time of his death.

Pallbearers at the Sunday afternoon funeral rites and interment were Clarence Guffee, H. O. Cline, Henry G. Barber, J. D. McBrien, C. L. Minor, sr., J. G. Wood, J. C. Wester and Edell DuBois.

STYLISH AND ECONOMICAL

COLLEGE STATION — When the Sherman county farm women went home recently with 30 new hats and $180.40 saved, we'll bet they found men who could smile at the thought of their wive's new hats — when such a saving went with the bonnet beautiful!

These women were graduates of a millinery workshop taught by Kathleen Lucile King, Sherman Home Demonstration agent. Estimating each hat at a value of $7.00 the women spent only $39.60 for all materials — thus the $180.40 savings.

Stratford, Texhoma and Spurlock communities took part in the two-day course offered.

Latest fashion ideas influenced the designing, and materials used included buchram frames, vilvet ribbons, rhinestones, veiling, faille, taffeta, linen, net and feathers.

DROUTH EMERGENCY ROAD CONTRACTS BEING PLANNED

MATADOR — Road contracts totaling in the neighborhood of a half a million dollars are being planned for Motley county, according to a letter received this week from Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby of Plainview. The letter is in reply to the approximately 60 copies of letters mailed last week by members of the Matador Lions club requesting highway construction to relieve the drouth emergency.

Matador Veterans Making Try For 9-Section Ranch

MATADOR — One of the most original ranching plans ever conceived in this ranch country has passed the talking stage and taken shape here. Approximately 30 veterans have agreed to buy a 9-section ranch about ten miles of Channing, on the Rita Blanca creek.

During a recent meeting at the court house in Matador the proposed purchasers drew lots for the various quarter sections. One section on which is located a valuable ranch house was kept out of the drawing and will be purchased by the group outright without the aid of a veteran's loan. The ranch is watered by the living water of Rita Blanca creek.

One of the more fortunate of the veterans who took part in the drawing was Raby Webb. The 160 acres assigned to him has an active potash mine which brings an annual revenue of approximately $500.00. Others received choice parcels of land which is crossed or bordered by living water. Ray Sims, a veteran, familiar with the area in which the land is located, presented the plan. Other veterans have visited the property and all are enthusiastic with the possibilities.

Need for Water Conservation Action

Water conservation is an acre-by-acre, farm-by-farm proposition.

No half-way measures are going to solve the water problem which now plagues Texas. The recent scourge of dust has been a nuisance over the eastern half of our state But it speaks of tragedy to our soil in West Texas.

These storms are just the beginning. Worse is yet to come unless we get water and soil saving projects underway on a state-wide basis immediately.

Dams will be useful in this program but they, alone, are not the final answer. Although we waste 85 percent of our annual water supply by downstream floods and field run-offs, we need more than dams to hold back the tide.

The practice of every known water and soil conservation measure on the farm level is the first step. Then we need some practical laws which would help control underground and surface supplies in the critical areas of the state. This would help assure a fair distribution of what we have.

In building dams, three types may be necessary; small check dams in the upper tributaries, larger storage dams to furnish municipal water and irrigation, and huge duel-purpose storage and power dams on the major rivers.

All these steps should be considered in seeking a solution. But it would be futile to consider the steps separately. If only the large dams were built, they would soon be clogged with upstream silt due to the lack of other conservation methods.

Our future water supply will determine whether we continue our industrial development in Texas or succumb to economic stagnation.

At least one major industry locates in the Dallas-Fort Worth or Houston areas every day — and a minor industry every hour. But for every one industry we gain, two others turn down Texas as a possible site because of the lack of water.

We must take action on our water problem.

Moving VA Office Dallas to Denver

County service officer Darnell G. Ayres has been advised that the Dallas Veterans Administration office is in process of being moved to Denver, Colorado.

Ayres has been advised that county and post service officers that insurance mail addressed to the Dallas district office Friday, March 26, or later will not be processed but will be forwarded direct to Denver, unopened and in bulk. Similar advice has been received as to letters regarding claims service. Mr. Ayres reports that:

All files in the District Office, and access to the records, will be frozen on Friday, March 26, and all records must be in the hands of the VA not later than Monday, March 29. From March 29 through March 31, the service officers can work on what they already have in their office, and on Tuesday, March 30, the VA will start boxing and preparing all records for shipment to Denver. The service officers can continue to receive mail, and it will be stamped in, up to and including Thursday, April 15, which mail will then be forwarded to Denver.

After Thursday, April 15, the VA will no longer sort mail, but will forward same to Denver, unopened and unsorted. After Monday, April 22, the Dallas Post Office will forward all mail addressed to the VA district office, direct to the VA district office at Denver, and we are advised by the service officers of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in the District Office, that all mail received by them, will be stamped in and forwarded to their offices in Denver after those dates.

According to Phillips research authorities the new gasoline, designated "Flite-Fuel for your car," offers important performance advantages. It provides increased power, higher anti-knock quality, greater fuel economy, and freedom from stalling.

Equally important, says Phillips authorities, are the clean burning qualities of the new gasoline. Use of natural gas components, which leave scarcely any carbon residue, eliminates the necessity for special gasoline additives to combat engine deposits.

Distribution of the new gasoline has already begun, and it will be available in the near future at all Phillips 66 service stations.

John Nay says: —

Had quite a scare this morning. I was sitting on the couch, having my morning coffee. I casually looked over the bed and jumped up with a start — it was empty and me wasnt there. Biting my nails, I feverishly imagined all the things that might have happened as me no doubt did not come home last night. I looked all over and couldn't find me. So I knew I must start out and look before calling the hospitals and police because I had known me for a long time and wouldn't be too surprised if I found me wandering around doing nothing. I got in the car and drove only a few blocks when I spied a brown 1950 Dodge going around a corner and knew it was my car. Gee, I thought, I hope that is me driving it. But I lost sight of it somehow and finally came home very dejected. I walked in the apartment, over to the dresser, looked in the mirror, and melted with joy— there was me. I shouted, "Where have you been all night?"— but guess I'll never know — me wouldn't tell I but just kept mimicking I and repeating everything I said. But the biggest puzzle of the whole thing is — since I could tell the bed had been slept in — who slept in my bed last night?

Planning Annual Meeting

The annual meeting for the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc., will be held, Saturday, April 24, at the Graves gymnasium in Floydada.

The Co-op is divided into seven voting districts; there is a director from each of these districts. Each director named a couple from his district to serve on the annual meeting planning committee.

It is their job to plan this meeting in detail. They are working on a full day's program that will be well worth everyone's time to attend. So be sure and start planning now to be here on that day — all day — for the full program. Attendance prizes will be given. Bernie Howell of Lubbock, well known radio and TV entertainer will be on hand with his organ to furnish music throughout the day. Ned Bradley will be master of ceremonies.

Increased Dividends on Farm Bureau Member Policies Paid

Chester Carthel, president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau, announced that the Southern Farm Bureau Casualty Insurance Company began returning 50 per cent of the premiums paid on automobile casualty insurance policies as dividends, effective April 1.

The first individuals in Floyd county to receive the benefits of the new 50% refund are W. E. Lackey of Cedar Hill community and Carl F. Lemons of Route 2, Lockney.

Mr. Carthel says there will be about 400 farmers and ranchers in this county who will draw the new dividends as policies come up for renewal. The automobile dividend, as declared by the company, amounts to $1,700,000 to Texas Farm Bureau members during the next 12 months.

"To our knowledge, no company in the history of legal reserve insurance has paid dividends as large as 50% on automobile insurance," Carthel said. "This news will be welcomed by the Farm Bureau members of this county."

The Farm Bureau organization also operates capital stock legal reserve life and fire insurance companies, which are currently paying dividends to their policyholders. The Farm Bureau companies write fire, farmers comprehensive personal liability, life, equipment floater, polio and automobile insurance.

Bell Telephone Tells Business Men Its' Woes

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's woes in Floydada were presented to 50 of the business men of the community at a luncheon held in the American Legion dining room Friday. Bell Telephone company was host.

In addition to two films depicting the strides which modern telephone is making to speed communications, C. H. Cale, district manager, related the story of the company's business experience here, using figures based on 1952 values and operations to show a net loss at Floydada exchange of $35,459 per year.

Answering questions the manager said the company has only one other exchange in Texas where a heavy expenditure in rural lines was made, the same as in Floyd county. He said the company does not have in mind putting into effect any increase in charges for telephones in the rural areas served out of Floydada.

Mr. Cale expressed the hope that an adjustment would not be delayed so long that the allocation for a dial system exchange in Floydada would be cancelled. He said that if the telephone company and the city council could reach an agreement the telephone company would build its own plant here instead of using rented quarters.

Two of six members of the city council were present at the luncheon.

The telephone company has been unable to reach an agreement in negotations that have been extended over a period with the council of a year, and is carrying its side of the argument to the business people. The council's last increase allowed the company here brought the charges up to $7.50 for business telephones, $4 for one-party residence lines, $3.50 for two-party and $3 for more than two-party lines inside the municipal boundaries. To these charges are added federal excise tax.

The rates sought are $9 for business telephones, $5 for one-party residence phones, $4 for two-party service and $3.25 for more than two party lines. To these charges would be added federal excise tax.

Present replacement value of the plant does not represent its fair value, in the eyes of the city council, according to their running arguments with the telephone representatives. The council has indicated they are unwilling to accept the company's figures as fair and have told the company that further talks are "a waste of your time and our time," under present conditions.

The company's move last week indicates it is their intention to take their case to the telephone users.

J. C. Oakley, local manager, Plainview, accompanied Mr. Cale to Floydada. He opened the discussions following the luncheon.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(by Nellie Witt Spikes)

Bells of the Past, whose long-forgotten music
Still fills the wide expanse,
Tinging the sober twilight of the Present
With color or romance!

For he lives twice who can at once employ
The present well, and e'en the past enjoy.

* * *

Look not mournfully into the past. It comes not back again. Wisely improve the present. It is thine. Go fourth to meet the shadowy Future, without fear, and with a manly heart.

* * *

So today let us enjoy the past with some old newspapers I found among my keepsakes. This week we will take a look at the Ralls Banner, April 20, 1934, Mrs. A. C. Hyatt and Sons, Editors.

"In events of the Week" we find this: John Dillinger, who broke out of jail a few weeks ago with a wooden pistol, is well-armed now, according to reports from Indiana police .....

Altho it is not by-lined, I think Jimmie Rankin wrote this column. Ralls Will Have 2nd Annual Dairy Show ..... Fire Department is To Sponsor Show ..... Tax Penalties Are To Be Assessed ..... Ralls Judging Team Wins Second At Meet ..... C of C. Will Have Free Auction Sale May 19th..... Rain and Hail Fall Over Territory ..... Dr. H. F. Schab Will Leave Saturday To Attend Dental Association ..... Mrs. Spikes Tells Of Early Days At Emma ..... Meeting To Start At Cone .....

Now for the news: P. B. Ralls returned Thursday from a three week's tour of southern California and Arizona. Perce states that it was one of the most enjoyable trips he ever had.

J. E. Taffender, formerly of Hillsbora, arrived in Ralls this week and is now working as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce ..... Mr. Taffender seems to be an industrious chap, and is making a good impression with both farmers and business men .....

Miss Juanita Smith, princess from Ralls, her maid, Ardell Taylor, and Ray Watkins, their escorts, and J. W. Thomas were visitors to the Plainview dairy show Tuesday of this week.

But now to the ads: Bruce Spencer Rexall Store ..... Let us have your order for mother's day candy, we are glad to prepare and mail for you. Always eager to serve you day or night.

Rally Is Huge Success; Sand Hill Pleased

The Sand Hill Home Demonstration club's box supper and candidate rally, held at Sand Hill school house Thursday night, was a huge success.

The club made enough money to carry out their plans for improving the lunch room and also to keep the club running for the next year.

Mrs. James Jeffress, club president, gave the opening address and led the group in several songs.

Speeches were heard from the following candidates: G. C. Tubbs, John B. Stapleton, Earl Cooper, Alton May, Margaret Collier, C. O. Spence, Keller Holmes, Kenneth Bain, Troy Willis Stansell.

Besides the number present letters were received which contained donations from the following candidates who were unable to attend: W. E. Grimes, T. T. Hamilton, and Pat Sterling.

Edd Holmes acted as auctioneer for the night. Mrs. H. F. Jackson's box was sold for the most money and Mr. Holmes matched it for the same amount, thus making the box sell for $33.00.

Refreshments were served to those not buying boxes. The club made these and served them in the lunch room.

Mrs. Jeffress wishes to thank everyone for making this rally the success that it was.

'The Glenn Miller Story' Is Booked For Run at Capada

"The Glenn Miller Story," coming to the Capada Drive-N theatre for four days, Saturday through Tuesday, April 3-6, is a grand entertainment experience.

So declares word that has preceded the showing of the technicolor production of the great band leader's life story. The praise is for a story stamped with honesty and crackling with excitement.

James Stewart and June Allyson give a performance that is warm with affection and infectious with humor. The Glenn Miller music is as alive through the magic of the movies as it was when Glenn Miller rendered it "in person."

Nine of the all-time Miller masterpieces are presented in the picture, played in the style established by the distinctive Glenn Miller arrangements. They include the signature song "Moonlight Serenade," "String of Pearls," "Pennsylvania 6-5000," "Tuxedo Junction," "In The Mood," "American Patrol," "St. Louis Blues March," "Chattanooga Choo-Choo," and "Little Brown Jug." Other song-hits that through the years were musical moments in Glenn Miller's emergence are well represented.
