Tickets Are On Sale Now For Annual Jaycee Installation Banquet April 10

"The banquet this year is going to be unique," Duncan said. "Unique because it is going to be short and sweet along the line of speeches and unique because the main dish is going to be a delicious filet mignon, cooked by Mr. and Mrs. Talley." Duncan stated.

The speaker this year will be Rev. Kenneth Wyatt, pastor of the Methodist Church of Paducah. Rev. Wyatt is known in the area as a "humorous speaker" and from reports extended the Jaycees there won't be a dull moment when he takes the floor.

She also thanked all those who helped in any way, such as writing letters, etc., which helped her be named the Texas Top Teacher and be recognized as a top 10 finalist in the national contest. "You were most kind to me," she said.

April Is School Board Month!

Texas Governor John Connally has designated April, 1964, school board month in Texas due to the many important events being scheduled for the month.

On April 25, school board members from all fifty states will gather in Houston for the four-day National School Boards Convention, marking the first time this convention has been held in Texas.

Also, during April, school board elections will be held (April 4); and throughout the month, the Texas Assn. of School boards and 19 Texas colleges and universities will co-sponsor a series of one-day conferences over the state. These conferences are designed to introduce newly-elected board members to their responsibilities and to provide all board members with opportunities to study and discuss the issues facing our public schools.

We heartily agree with the Governor when he states, "Public education remains a state and local responsibility of the highest priority, and it is fitting that a special observance be held in honor of those citizens who devote their time and energies to betterment of education through their service on school boards."

The Texas Assn. of School Boards has available (upon request) two booklets concerning the functions of school boards. One is entitled "So You're A School Board Member", and the other is a handbook entitled, "Local Leadership For Public Education."

The "Local Leadership" handbook was published for the 1964 School Board Workshop Series. These workshops will be held at West Texas State University at Canyon at 3 p.m. Thursday, April 16, in the Student Union Building or at Texas Tech Student Union Building at the same time. Also a workshop will be held at Midwestern University of Wichita Falls at 3 p.m., Thursday, April 9 in the Student Union Building.

Public education is an expensive and important big business. In 1962-63, public elementary and secondary education cost $19.5 billion, or about $433 per pupil. This total does not include the estimated additional $2.62 billion borrowed by school districts for school construction last year. During the past ten years, costs have been increasing. Teacher's salaries have increased 67.1 percent and spending for school construction has increased 74.6 percent, during the past 10 years. But even with increasing cost, the taxpayers are still able to educate our children at approximately 40 cents per student per hour. For this cost, the taxpayers provided the school house, the desk, the textbooks and other teaching aids, one qualified teacher for each 23.58 pupils, transportation, and all other services.

Another interesting fact is that three out of every four of Texas' 1,400 school districts have fewer than 1,000 pupils in average daily attendance.

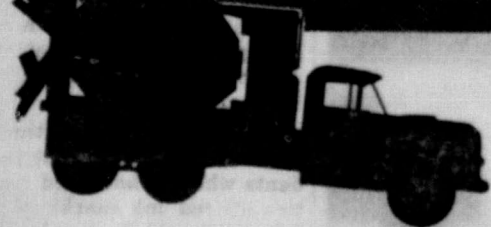

School Board members whenever they take office as trustees, have many problems handed to them. Many of these are problems that have faced the district for years, and many others are new problems, such as plans to expand the facilities, etc.

In order to cope with these problems, a trustee must work together with other members of the board, working out either temporary or permanent solutions to these problems.

Saturday, April 4, elections for school board members will be held in Memphis, Estelline, Turkey and Lakeview. This being school board month in Texas, Hall County Citizens should take an active interest in the local leadership of their school system, because at the heart of the sprawling network of the public school district is the purpose of the system—the pupil and the program of education available to him.

We citizens entrust to our school systems, our most prized possession, our children, to educate. Our children's future, and the future of our nation lie in the hands of our schools.

Texas Well-Rid of 'Sore Loser'

Regardless of how one feels about Jack Ruby, who was assessed the death penalty in the accused slaying of Lee Oswald, we must at this point take off our hats to the family of Ruby for their action Friday, when they calmly and efficiently dismissed the loud-talking California lawyer, Melvin Belli.

Belli's action on several occasions definitely fell outside the realm of genteel conduct and, we presume, far beyond the accepted ethics of his profession. This was especially true when he raged irresponsibly, terming the jury as "hogs", the district attorney as a "hog caller" and labeled Texas' justice as a "kangaroo, railroad-judge court". In addition, Mr. Belli further subjected the State of Texas and the nation to international disdain at a time when the U. S. image was already under critical scrutiny. Most of all though, Mr. Belli contributed tensely to the undermining of American justice—both at home and abroad—apparently forgetting that he is an integral part of the very system which he castigated.

These tactics have unfortunately long been with us on the political front, but they certainly have no place in our courts which have some 300 years strived to establish.

Those visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Pierce over the Easter holidays were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlett and son, Steve, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Crone and Ranya and Ricky of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bailey and Mary, Connie and Glen, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lambert and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waller, all of Tell.

To go even a step further, Belli's ranting and gnashing of teeth followed the verdict of the jury came much closer to qualifying under the insanity plea than did those of his client for whom the appeal was originally made.

Hereford Brand, and abroad—apparently forgetting that he is an integral part of the very system which he castigated.

DELPHIAN FRIENDSHIP DAY—The Delphian Club honored the new women to Memphis with a Friendship social on Tuesday afternoon. Featured on the program which was presented in the Methodist Church Sanctuary were two talented musicians, Mrs. Robert Sexauer, soprano, accompanied by Miss Lilly Larsen. Pictured above are four of the new residents enjoying refreshments in the Church Annex during the social hour which followed the program. From left to right are: Mrs. Ralph LaVarta, Mrs. Ronny Leach, Mrs. Jerry Carpenter and Mrs. Bill Lockhart.

Delphians Honor Newcomers With Friendship Tea Tuesday

Newcomers to Memphis were honored by the Delphian Club Tuesday, March 31, in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church. Honoring new women of Memphis is a custom of the club, and is suggested by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs as a phase of its Friendship Department. Two departments, Friendship and Fine Arts, were combined in the program "A Lifetime of Friendships in Song," with Mrs. Robert Sexauer as guest soprano. Mrs. Sexauer was accompanied by Miss Lilly Larson at the piano.

Guests were welcomed by the hostess, Mrs. W. C. Dickey. Mrs. Mildred Stephens brought an inspiring meditation, "Christ and The Fine Arts," which was followed by an invocation by Rev. J. B. Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The guest artists were introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Anisman, who stated that Mrs. Sexauer was known and loved by all of Memphis simply as Mary Helen. She expressed appreciation to Mrs. Sexauer for her graciousness in sharing her many talents in so many ways to so many groups in Memphis, and most especially for this occasion. Mrs. Anisman also stated that Miss Larson, who is a local music teacher, is a graduate of Juilliard School of Music.

Mrs. Sexauer developed the theme of "Lifetime" in her selections. The first group depicted babyhood, with a group of lullabies from different countries. Youth and romantic love were depicted in the second section. Adulthood, with its abstract thinking, was developed in the third section. The last section faced the realism of older age. Mrs. Sexauer added greatly to the occasion by interspersing remarks and explanations in her own inimitable manner.

By special request, Mrs. Sexauer presented her own daughter, Suzanne Sexauer, in the closing number, and "like mother like daughter," Suzanne sang beautifully. Her number was Deuis Le Jour, by Carpenter.

Guests then adjourned to the Church Annex for a social hour. The beautifully appointed tea table was laid with a cut work linen cloth and painted daisies in spring shades of yellow, pink and white. Other arrangements of daisies were noted at vantage points throughout the entertaining room.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by members of the Delphian Club. Newcomers honored at the Friendship tea included: Mrs. J. B. Lawson, Mrs. Robert L. Gordon, Nancy Osmont, Mrs. Loyd Elliot, Mrs. Bert Glascock, Mrs. Doyle Gilbert, Mrs. Jerry Carpenter, Mrs. Guy W. Smith, Mrs. Byron Adams, Mrs. Richard Myers, Mrs. Wayne L. Goodrum, Mrs. Jimmy W. Bennett, Mrs. W. L. Frazier, Mrs. Milton L. Miller, Mrs. Ronny Leach, Mrs. Ralph LaVarta, Mrs. Don Curl, Mrs. R. C. Holcomb, Mrs. L. Eual Robinson.

Former club members who attended included: Helen Boswell, Mrs. Kenneth Dale, Mrs. Geo. Greenhaw, Mrs. Gordon S. Giliam, Mrs. Clarence Stroebe, Mrs. Bob Fowler, Mrs. John Deaver, Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Bill Combs.

Herbert C. Martin Is Candidate For Assoc. Justice

To the citizens of the 7th Supreme Judicial District:

I ask you to elect me Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo. I make this request in the knowledge that the best interest of the Court and of the citizens of the district requires a change in the personnel of this court.

I am a graduate of Lubbock High School and hold an LL. B. degree from the University of Texas School of Law. I have been actively engaged in the practice of law 29 years—22 years in Lamb County and the South Plains area and 7 years in Amarillo and the Panhandle area. By diligence and loyalty to my clients interest, I have built an excellent law practice in both areas. My clients and my record in the Courts of this District are my best recommendations. I also served on the Court of Civil Appeals and as Associate Justice wrote 176 opinions with only 12 reversals. These opinions reflect the character of my judicial ability.

The Court of Civil Appeals is composed of a Chief Justice, a Senior Associate and a Junior Associate Justice. The Chief Justice and Junior Associate of the Court, no matter how diligent and capable, cannot carry the case work required of the Court if the other Associate devotes a large portion of his time to outside diversions. I served on this Court until December 31, 1956 and the docket was in good condition during that time. The Docket of the Court was not only kept up to date but the Court disposed of many cases transferred from the Amarillo Court from the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals. Although the number of cases before the Court have not increased, this condition no longer exists—thirteen cases were transferred from the Amarillo Court to the Waco Court of Civil Appeals on January 11, 1964.

More important than the mere number of cases disposed of by the Court is the type of justice under the law as reflected by the Court's opinions. In 1956 the majority of the Court, being the Chief Justice and the other Associate Justice, wrote an opinion styled "Stanley vs. Stanley, 294 S. W. 2d, Page 132". This case reflects that a 40-year-old career army sergeant married a former school teacher who had been successful in the finance business. The sergeant contributed nothing to the marriage but, the undisputed record discloses, in six years squandered $84,044.63 of the profits earned by his wife's business. He also squandered $41,911.13 of the wife's capital investment. On dissolution of the marriage, it was the sergeant's theory the wife had mingled her earnings, as community property, with her separate capital and through such commingling of her earnings with her separate capital, he was entitled to one-half of all remaining property owned by his wife. In the judgment of the divorce, the trial court awarded the sergeant an additional sum of $29,881.89.

The widow appealed from the trial court's judgment and on appeal the Chief Justice and other Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, such Associate Justice being now a candidate for election to the court, agreed with the sergeant's theory and affirmed the judgment of the trial court awarding him the additional sum of $29,881.89. This opinion of the majority of the Court was directly contrary to the undisputed audit of a Certified Public Accountant who traced all funds and proved that all the wife's earnings had been squandered by the sergeant and a large part of her original capital and that her earnings were not mingled with her capital. As an Associate Justice of the Court, based on this audit and the applicable law, I wrote a dissenting opinion holding that the sergeant was only entitled to his equity in a 1955 Station Wagon for which he had traded an old Station Wagon owned by his wife at the time of the marriage.

Other similar and equally inequitable opinions were rendered by the Court acting as a majority and on which I dissented, but the above opinion is discussed here because the same reflects clearly and unequivocally the opposite points of view on the duty of the Court as held by me and my opponent for Associate Justice. The most essential element of every judgment of the Court of Civil Appeals should be justice under the law and facts. If the citizens of this district will take a few minutes' time to go to a lawyer's office and read the Stanley opinion, I am confident I will be elected to the Court of Civil Appeals by an overwhelming majority vote.

As a member of such Court, I never have and I never shall subscribe to the proposition that justice under the law and a citizen's property rights should be bartered for political favors. No Court judgment should dissipate an elderly person's savings of a lifetime where the basis of such judgment is a strained and superficial ruling under a highly technical theory not supported by the evidence. The personal rights of ev-every citizen and the property rights of every citizen have always been a sacred trust of the Courts. This essential and vital element of our judicial system should not be lightly cast aside in order to favor a friend or political supporter.

I ask every citizen to support me on the principles enunciated herein. I particularly ask every client whom I have ever represented to give me in the coming campaign the same untiring loyalty and effort toward my interests that I have exhibited over the many years of my practice for their interests. I pledge to every citizen that their rights and property shall be secure under the law. It shall be my constant endeavor to write opinions of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals that shall be based soundly upon the law and the facts and shall reflect credit and honor upon such Court.

Sincerely,
Herbert C. Martin.

Seen By Lottie Kinard On Recent World Tour

Published below is a series of three articles written by Lottie Kinard, who recently returned from a month's tour around the world. Today's series takes up the story in a tiny island off the west coast of Malaysia and leaves us in Egypt.)

From Kuala Lumpur, a tiny island about 100 miles off the northwest shore of the Malay Peninsula. We found a beautiful view of the sea and the island. We took a ride on the Penang ferry to a station 2700 feet above the sea and the island. We flew from Kuala Lumpur to get the ferry flying into Bangkok in Thailand.

Bangkok is the capital of Thailand and is really a very different city with a population of over 1 million. It is modern and is called the "Venice of the East" because of its maze of canals and the city and the country-side. These canals are crowded with boats of every size and description. We took the early morning market tour and it is one of the most fascinating experiences in the world; you see hundreds of boats on their way to Bangkok, boats filled with vegetables, boats filled with flowers, others with bananas, coconuts, pineapples, papaya, oranges, garlic, onions, peppers, cauliflower and cucumbers; all of this is truly indication of a land of plenty and well-fed people. Along the way we saw how the people lived, healthy, brown youngsters tumble in and out of the water, housewives doing their family laundry on the canal steps, the children go to school by boat, everything is water borne and we visited the famous floating market and these were so very many interesting things to see along this endless stream of life. We also saw the Royal Barges used by the King and his household. We visited many temples in Bangkok: the Temple of the Dawn; the Temple of the Reclining Buddha; the Emerald Buddha Temple; and the Grand Palace nearby. The Palace is an architectural marvel and the chapel of the Emerald Buddha is magnificent. This Buddha is actually dark green jasper and about 22 inches high. Its costume is changed with the seasons, hot rainy, and cool and the King changes the costume on the Buddha. There are more than 400 of these temples in and around the city. The most popular national sport is Thai Boxing. We went to a boxing tournament and they use the elbows, knees, fists, feet and whatnot to the tune of weird music and dignified by prayers and dances to the Deities.

We went to a performance of the classical Thai Dances and the graceful gestures, magnificent costumes and the music they play is unchanged from ancient times. It was an unusually artistic performance.

Bangkok is one of the most colorful of all cities in Southeast Asia and it is one of the most interesting. The original Thai people came from China and Thailand means "Land of the Free". They are planning to get the name "Siam" back, it was once known by the name. The artisans of this country produce and merit such as antiques and silks. We loved Thailand.

From Bangkok, we flew to Calcutta, India, which is a center of commerce and India's biggest city, a flourishing metropolis of seven million people. You see a cosmopolitan population of many nations and countries all in colorful garb on its busy streets. It is a city of Temples, the most famous being the Jain Temple with its altar inlaid with diamonds and precious stones and the enormous Mosque one of the most impressive structures in the world. There is magnificence in some of Calcutta but such a vivid contrast in the poor people thronging the streets mingling with the cows which they consider sacred. There is great poverty amid the elegance of a great city. The streets are dirty, so many refugees from Tibet and East Pakistan roaming the streets and many of them begging for sustenance. Unless you can see these things I don't think you can even pretend an understanding of the horrible conditions that exist in Calcutta and other parts of India. We had an English speaking guide dressed in the men's native costume, the dhoti; the women's costume is called the sari. Both are very colorful and unusual.

Our next stop in India was at New Delhi, the capital city of India, where we visited the government buildings and many other places of interest. New Delhi is a much cleaner, better planned city and they do not have the squalid conditions found in other cities. Our trip of 127 miles down to Agra, the most important sight was the Taj Mahal well worth the journey to India. It is a dream in marble and was built by the Shah Jahan to enshrine the remains of his beloved wife, Mumtaz Mahal. This building was a mysterious fascination and lyrical beauty unequalled in the world. It took 22 years to build and it overlooks the Jamuna Rines. It has a great central dome surrounded by four smaller domes and on the four corners are four slender minarets. Under the central dome light filters through perforated marble where lie buried the Emperor and his wife. Inside the wall are inlaid with exquisite designs of semi-precious stones. The entire structure is in white marble and is surrounded by a lovely garden and the entire landscape seems to create a calmness and serenity. We saw the Taj Mahal bathed by sunlight and moonlight. The moonlight effect creates the illusion of a dream in stone. It is an incomparable masterpiece and perhaps the finest monument of love and fidelity in the world.

There are other interesting buildings in Agra, the Fort, which looks like a rusty, red battleship, is magnificent. There are other historical monuments of great beauty in Agra that have made it renowned and impressive to the visitor.

We couldn't leave India without a visit to Bombay, perhaps the most important city in all of India, being a great commercial city. Bombay is on the Arabian Sea and the Marine drive along the waters' edge is very interesting. We visited the Gateway to India which was across in front of our hotel, the Taj Mahal. It overlooks a large harbor and the city is well organized and very clean. We went to the Museum, the Aquarium, Malabar Hill, Race Course and the beautiful park and flower gardens. Bombay is a very cosmopolitan city; 12 languages are spoken there and 200 dialects, education is free and compulsory, and in their great university there are 60,000 students. We visited the home of Mahatma Gandhi when he was in Bombay. It is a small, 2-story building used to promote the Gandhi thought and ideology. On the second floor was the living room and the working place of this gentle man. It is preserved in its original setting.

We left Bombay by Air-India and flew via Aden in Saudi Arabia where we had a brief stop on our way to Nairobi in Kenya, Africa. Here we were in remote Africa and land so vast and varied you could do a lifetime of vacations. Nairobi is the capital of Kenya and is a bustling city and also the main city of this new and independent land. We drove by automobile from Nairobi to Arusha on paved road where we exchanged cars and boarded land rovers, four-wheel drive, British-made station wagons with doors in the top of the vehicle to shoot wild game either with a gun or camera.

From here followed an African Safari, one of the most vigorous and rugged of our entire trip. We spent the night at Lake Manyara Hotel near the 120 square mile crater of Ngorongoro with its enormous herds of animals in Tanganyika's wonderland. The next morning, after a pleasant night spent in a bed covered by a cocoon of mosquito net and the of luxury in safari living, we started forth in the land rover. We lunched, we jolted and we jostled in yard high golden grass to follow the trails of those wild, exotic creatures of the jungle in their natural habitat. Our ranger and driver were both intelligent and thoughtful and seemed to have a telescopic eye for any movement in the grass or trees. The plentiful thorn bush looked like animals and animals looked like the landscape. We saw the beautiful gazelle, the herds of wild beasts, the shining orange of the impala, the nervous zebra, the handsome waterbuck, the hideous warthog, tribes of baboons, wild dogs, lions, elephants curling their trunks upward for the juicier leaves, graceful giraffes, the hart beasts, the hyena and many other animals of the jungle, all plump as butter balls. Birds of every size and hue were abundant. Many different trees abound in this area; the acacia tree, which looks like an umbrella, and then the frankincense tree, which is very beautiful.

The second day, we journeyed back to Arusha and then to Mito Andel where we spent the night before entering Amboseli National Park. Over all loomed the towering, snow-covered Kili Manjaro, 19,560 feet audit, Africa's highest and most celebrated mountain. We found many varied wild animals here, such as the hippopotamus, the rhinoceros, and the most ferocious lions.

Our four day hazardous, off-beat safari was very tiring, but was well worth the physical effort. We saw many people of the Masai tribe who speak swahili language in Tanganyika.

We drove back into Kenya and Nairobi before leaving for Cairo, Egypt. Here we made an excursion to the Pyramids, visiting the beautiful zoological gardens of the Nile en route. At the Pyramids, we took a camel ride to the new excavations, and saw the Sphinx and the three great and famous pyramids of the Nile. We made a sight-seeing tour of the Citadel and from here is a most picturesque view of Cairo and the Pyramids in the distance. The mosques of Cairo and the tombs of the great Kings were visited and the many museum pieces taken from the tomb of King Tut were most beautiful and impressive. Many of these pictures were exotic and sparkling with jewels. Egypt is an old civilization, but vast changes have taken place in the Valley of the Nile and Cairo with its great University is one of the great modern cities of today.

'Devil's Pit' To Be Shown At Assembly of God

"Devil's Pit" is the title of the film to be shown during the Teen Challenge Rally at the Assembly of God Church, Memphis, at 7:30 o'clock, Tuesday, April 7.

This film was produced in actual teen gang infested territory. Stirring shots of baby-gang fights—teen-agers sniffing glue—drinking cough syrups—making and smoking marijuana cigarettes—drilling heroin into their veins—will be shown. Then see the Church in action as dedicated Teen Challenge workers, along with converted gang members and drug addicts, go into these crime ridden areas to preach, sing and testify of the saving power of Jesus Christ.

The guest speaker will be Evangelist Carl King, who has ministered among young gangsters, drug addicts and Beatniks in Chicago, New York and other cities. Rev. King began his career as a minister at the age of 16 and received his theological training at Central Bible Inst. and Seminary, in Springfield, Missouri. He has also traveled in several states as an Assembly of God Evangelist.

Teen Challenge is an active rehabilitation work of the Assemblies of God among teen gangs and drug addicts in their major cities of America. The Rev. David Wilkerson, director of Teen Challenge, is author of the best seller, "The Cross and the Switchblade", and was a guest on the Art Linkletter T.V. show during the summer of 1963.

Pastor Sparks extends a cordial invitation to the public.

'The Fandangle'

To Be Presented

Palo Duro Canyon

Some fifty officers and area chairman of The Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation attended a luncheon conference at The Trail Motel in Canyon Thursday noon, March 26. The meeting was called by Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the organization, to further plans for the presentation of "The Fandangle" in the Palo Duro amphitheatre during the month of June.

Since 1938, the little town of Albany, Texas (pop. 2500) has presented at intervals a dramatic spectacular of the community history complete with Indians, cowboys, and settlers with a musical background of original compositions. Under the able direction of Robert Nail, this production of local players has received widespread acclaim.

A concrete amphitheatre in the canyon was completed some months ago and Paul Green of Chapel Hill, North Carolina, is busy on the "shrine drama" manuscript. The Texas Parks Board, according to agreement, has supplied restroom facilities and water to the site but the lighting equipment and dressing rooms must be added.

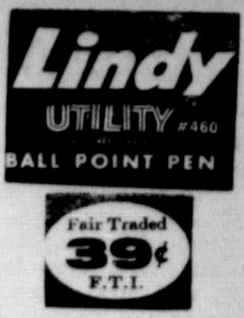

In the meantime, Mr. Nail, who has acted as an advisor for the project since its inception, has consented to bring his lighting equipment and forty of his trained actors to stage "The Fandangle" in the canyon. The Indians, cowboys and bit players will be had from the surrounding area and the speech arts department of WTSU under the direction of

Will and Margaret Moore.

The theatre will seat 1000 people. All seats will be reserved so that those coming from a distance will be assured of seating space. The dates of the performance will be June 11, 12 and 13 (the second weekend in June). The first eight rows of concrete risers will be equipped with chairs at $4 each. The remaining space will cost $2.50 (bring your own pillow). The show will begin at 8:30 each evening.

Tickets will be on sale soon through the area chairmen.

In 1920 there were 45,000 miles of electrified trolley tracks in the U. S.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS
Representative, 18th
Congressional District

Jim Langdon Gives Report On Crude Oil

Texas crude oil currently is selling for more dollars than any year since the Suez crisis in 1957, Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon reports.

Langdon said this should be welcome news to the people of Texas because the Texas oil and gas dollar pays for 42 per cent of the state's cost of public education, and almost 60 per cent of the state's cost of teacher retirement, old-age assistance, blind assistance and aid to dependent children.

He stated that oil production is up three per cent over the previous year and "an even more encouraging" jump is expected for 1964.

Langdon said the fact that the Texas petroleum industry was in such a healthy state after more than half a century of intensive development could be laid to two factors: (1) there was a lot of oil to begin with; and (2) it has not been wasted promiscuously.

Critics of the way the Railroad Commission has regulated the oil and gas industries disregarded the Commissioner's duty to guard the public interest. When they talked about allowances and production, they ignored the fact that natural gas has in recent years become an important energy source replacing to some extent oil; and that Texas was more dominant in gas production than in crude oil production.

Langdon is the newest member of the Railroad Commission, having been appointed last spring. Now he is seeking the voters' approval to serve the remaining four years of a six-year term. He resigned as chief justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals to accept the Railroad Commission sions all over the world. We must be prepared to meet military challenges in whatever form they develop. We are so prepared today and, while seeking economies where economies are possible, we will continue on the present course as the Cold War moves toward the end of its second decade.

1965, which begins July 1, calls for defense expenditures totaling $55.2 billion. Of every dollar of the proposed administrative budget, 55 cents is earmarked for direct defense spending. Other programs involved in preserving our security—the "indirect" defense costs—add billions of dollars more.

The Department of Defense carries out ten major programs which provide the military diversity and flexibility for our security. These are:

1. Strategic retaliatory forces, including manned bombers, intercontinental ballistic missiles, Polaris missile-launching submarines, and the facilities (such as communications) needed to control these forces.

2. Continental defense forces, which combine warning systems against missile or manned aircraft attack with the means to resist an attack, such as interceptor aircraft and ground-to-air missiles.

3. General purpose forces, which combine ground, air, and sea forces equipped and trained to cope with conventional or brush-fire wars.

4. Aircraft and seafight forces to move our combat forces quickly wherever they are needed.

5. Reserve forces to provide swift additional strength to the regular forces when needed.

6. Research and development activities on which continued military effectiveness depends.

7. through 10. General support activities, including training, intelligence, and security; retirement pay for military personnel; civil defense activities, including development of warning and fallout shelter facilities; military assistance, under which equipment training, and related services are provided to allies to bolster Free World strength.

Obviously, if the Nation's obligation for insuring security (and helping to insure that of other free nations) could be met by providing only a nuclear deterrent, we could do away with the "Enterprise," large numbers of other ships and aircraft and uncalculated tons of other military "hardware," and discharge hundreds of thousands of soldiers, sailors, and marines. Our defense budget would be reduced by many billions of dollars—and still we would be ready for ultimate war, the day when the military forces of Free and Communist nations traded nuclear destruction. Just as obviously, we cannot protect ourselves by this course alone, a course that would open the way for unchecked, piecemeal aggres-

Hall County Soil Conservation District News

Improved pasture is a good way to increase livestock production. With spring just around the corner, it is just about time for pasture planting. There are several types of grasses that can be planted for grass production. Some of these grasses are bermudagrass, switchgrass and Blue panic.

Bermudagrass is the only one of the grasses, which is planted for pasture, that is primarily restricted to irrigated pasture due to the amount of rainfall in the Hall County Soil Conservation District. The other grasses do well as dryland pastures but can also be irrigated. Bermudagrass needs to be sprigged or sodded in a clean, firm seedbed. Other grasses such as natives need to be seeded in a dead litter covercrop such as sudan or cane.

Management of improved pastures is very important in grass production. Both dryland and irrigated pastures need a certain amount of fertilizer. Proper grazing is also very important in pasture management as well as weed control.

Before moving to El Paso, Langdon was district judge for five West Texas counties. While on the bench and as a practicing attorney in a large oil producing area, he gained vast knowledge of the oil and gas industries, as well as transportation matters, which the Commission regulates.

Feed Grain Sign-In Sets New Record

Producers on 475 farms, who signed intentions to participate in the 1964 Feed Grain Program through Friday, March 27, 1964, set a new record for feed grain program participation in Hall County, said Lynn C. Davis, chairman, Hall County ASC Committee.

First year of the program, 1961, producers signed intentions to participate on 509 farms, but the acreage diverted was smaller with only $138,693 being paid under the 1961 program.

For 1964, farmers intend to divert 29,515 acres for $398,129 in diversion payments. With the support payment on the grain seeded and the ACP payment for establishing cover on diverted acreage, the total payments on feed grain will exceed one-half million dollars in Hall County for 1964.

The Hall County ASC Committee and office personnel wish to thank the community committee-men and each individual producer for the cooperation and assistance received in the 1964 sign-up. It is only through the cooperation of interested producers that make a program of this kind possible.

H. J. DuVall Receives Contract For New Lakeview Post Office Building

A contract has been awarded to Mr. H. J. DuVall, P. O. Box 445, Lakeview, Texas, to lease new quarters to the Post Office Department at the southeast corner of Main Street and Davenport Street in Lakeview, Texas. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski announced last week.

"We are continuing to build new post offices where they are needed," Mr. Gronouski said, "but we are constantly re-assessing our lease construction program to determine whether present buildings can be remodeled, or whether our postal needs can better be served by moving to an existing building at a new location. We now have about 45,000 post office locations throughout the country, handling a volume of 68 billion pieces of mail a year. By 1970 it is expected to rise to 90 billion. It is clear, therefore, that we must redouble our efforts, not only in expanding our capacity but also in devising new postal techniques to meet the demands of our growing population."

The new Lakeview Post Office quarters located at Main and Davenport Streets will be improved by Mr. DuVall according to departmental specifications and leased to the Department for a period of 5 years with one 5-year renewal option. The quarters will contain over 1000 square feet of floor space, air conditioning equipment and fluorescent lighting, and adequate parking and maneuvering.

Following the banquet, a social was held at the Memphis Country Club which was well attended.

President Combs stated he wanted to thank all those who helped to make the coffee, the social and the banquet a success and especially did he want to thank the mothers of the seniors for their delicious meal and beautiful decorations for the banquet.
