

TOWN TALK

By MAC MCKINNON

"It's a shame and a disgrace," said Don Benson.

And he was right.

Benson was making reference to the condition of the area west of Wolf Stadium that is supposedly a parking lot, and the so-called road from Cherry Street to the football field house.

After rains of Thursday, cars and walkers treading that ground had a most difficult time getting anywhere and in a number of cases ended up stuck or leaving shoes behind.

To add insult to loss of shoe is the fact that Cherry Street isn't paved although the County, school and city have embarked on a cooperative effort to pave the Cherry Street and a portion north of the athletic fields on 13th.

The two streets and the entire area that is a parking lot for spectators, football boys, their parents and coaches should have been paved long ago.

Now that the streets are going to be paved would seem like the best time to proceed with paving the entire parking lot. And the paving of the parking area just east of the football field should also be considered for paving.

School Superintendent Lloyd McKee said he would bring this matter before the school board at its meeting in November.

McKee added that he believed the paving could be done as the cost would not be excessive.

The Superintendent also noted that Colorado City probably will drop back to AA status in 1974 after the board on such matters meet next fall. However, if the schools of Mitchell County are consolidated, this may not be possible.

A number of people have been wanting Colorado City in Class AA instead of AAA so that the schools here could be better able to compete on an equal basis in athletics and scholastic events rather than compete with schools that are almost AAAA.

While on the subject of school See TALK Page 7

DO YOU WANT UNITED FUND?

A survey is being conducted to determine if there is sufficient community wide interest in organizing another United Fund to take the place of most fund drives conducted here each year. Please fill out this form and mail it to P.O. Drawer 92 or bring by the Colorado City Record or Chamber of Commerce.

Survey To Determine Interest

A move is underway in Mitchell County to reactivate the United Fund organization here which has not conducted a campaign since the middle and late 1960's.

A survey is being conducted through the Record and Chamber of Commerce to determine if there is sufficient interest to get a United Fund Drive Underway again.

United Fund was active in Mitchell County for about 10 years and was successful in all but the last few years of the campaigns.

According to those involved, interest in United Fund dropped to a very low level in the mid 1960's and the results of the campaign began to suffer.

Different funds began to conduct their own drives, particularly in United Fund was low and after a number of meetings which were attended by only about a dozen people, it was decided to let the issue lay dormant for a few years.

Now a number of people believe it is time to reactivate the United Fund as those involved in fund raising campaigns say it is too difficult to conduct a different drive for each worthy cause.

A number of residents and businesses have also said they are hit by fund drives, particularly in the spring, with a regularity that is devastating to their budget.

Don Benson, who is still head of the United Fund organization here, said the United Fund here is still in tact and that Dick Wistrand, secretary-treasurer, is still bonded.

The United Fund still has a small amount of money out of which the bond for the secretary-treasurer is paid each year, Benson said.

However, Benson said that before the United Fund can be resurrected here, it will be necessary for more than just a few agencies to want to get their funds through a united, one-time a year fund drive.

The purpose of the United Fund is defeated if there are only a few agencies participating, he noted.

The last fund drive had a goal of $22,000 which was 60 per cent achieved, Benson noted.

The accompanying form has places to be checked for those interested in having a United Fund, for those who would be willing to work through United Fund and for those who would attend a meeting to reorganize a United Fund.

The form should be sent to P.O. Drawer 92 or brought by the Colorado City Record or Chamber of Commerce.

Jury Hands Out 17 Indictments

The Mitchell County grand jury met this last week in Colorado City and returned 17 indictments including one for rape against 22-year-old Ernest Luera.

Luera, now being held in Mitchell County jail in lieu of $15,000 bond, is accused of raping a 22-year-old Colorado City woman Oct. 10.

Police say the woman was attacked by a man who ripped open a screen to gain access to her residence and was waiting for her when she returned home about 9:30 that night.

A witness to the rape was the woman's young child.

There were three indictments handed down for the possession of narcotics (marijuana). Those indicted were David Lee Green, 18; James William Ausbie, 17; and Edward Miles, 17, all of Colorado City.

Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) indictments were handed down against Simon Martinez, 42 of Locknew; Robert Castro, 22, of Loraine; Joshua Cato, 61, of Big Spring; Jose Gonzalez, 20, of Roscoe; David Vernon Tate, 59, of Westbrook and Clyde William Jarnigan, 43, of Colorado City.

William H. Tryon, 17, and Fred Biggers, 39, both of Colorado City were indicted with the July 10 burglary of $52.78 in pennies from an auto and John Berry Jackson, 25, of Colorado City and Biggers were indicted with receiving property (pennies) stolen from the car.

Terry Dean Hull was indicted for a June 23 burglary, and Paul John Rivos, 22, indicted for theft of a rifle from a car owner by E.S. Miles of Colorado City.

Deer Tags To Be Issued

Special antlerless deer tags will be available to Mitchell County landowners Tuesday at the county courthouse in Colorado City.

The special antlerless deer tags will be issued here in lieu of permits.

The difference between a permit and a tag is that permits are issued in limited quantities based on overpopulation of deer, carrying capacity of land in ratio to the proportion of land having surplus deer.

Special tags are used where either sex hunts are approved.

There are no limitations on the number of tags a landowner may obtain since the hunt is designed to allow full landowner control of deer harvest.

Special Antlerless Deer Tags will be issued in Robert Lee for Coke County beginning Wednesday; in Sweetwater for Nolan County beginning Oct. 30 and in Sterling City for Sterling County beginning Thursday.

Revenue Sharing Raises Questions

Mitchell County towns and county government about Dec. 1 will receive about half of about $200,000 under the federal revenue sharing bill signed by President Nixon Thursday.

Generally, there seems to be a great lack of information and a lot of misinformation about revenue sharing.

County Judge Bill Carter says he is not making any plans on See REVENUE Page 7

Between now and then, Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook and Mitchell County officials will be attempting to learn just how they can spend the money.

Guidelines are expected to be issued sometime in November but for now any determination on how to use the money would be strictly a guess.

The Record has learned that the money given states, counties and towns must be used only for "priority expenditures."

Under revenue sharing guidelines already received, Mitchell County will receive a total of $120,043. Colorado City will receive $60,055 and Loraine and Westbrook will split $11,466.

There has been a great debate about just how the money can and will be spent.

Some people believe that the money can be used to lower taxes; others say it is only to be used to make permanent capital improvements, some believe it cannot be used to give salary increases.

TESCO Quarter Century Banquet Wednesday

Texas Electric Service Company employees in this area will honor members of the company's Quarter Century Club at a meeting in Civic House here Wednesday night.

Members of the club from Colorado City are A. D. Graves, G. W. Messagale, A. L. McSpadden, L. E. Petty, E. G. Smith and S. R. Wilkinson.

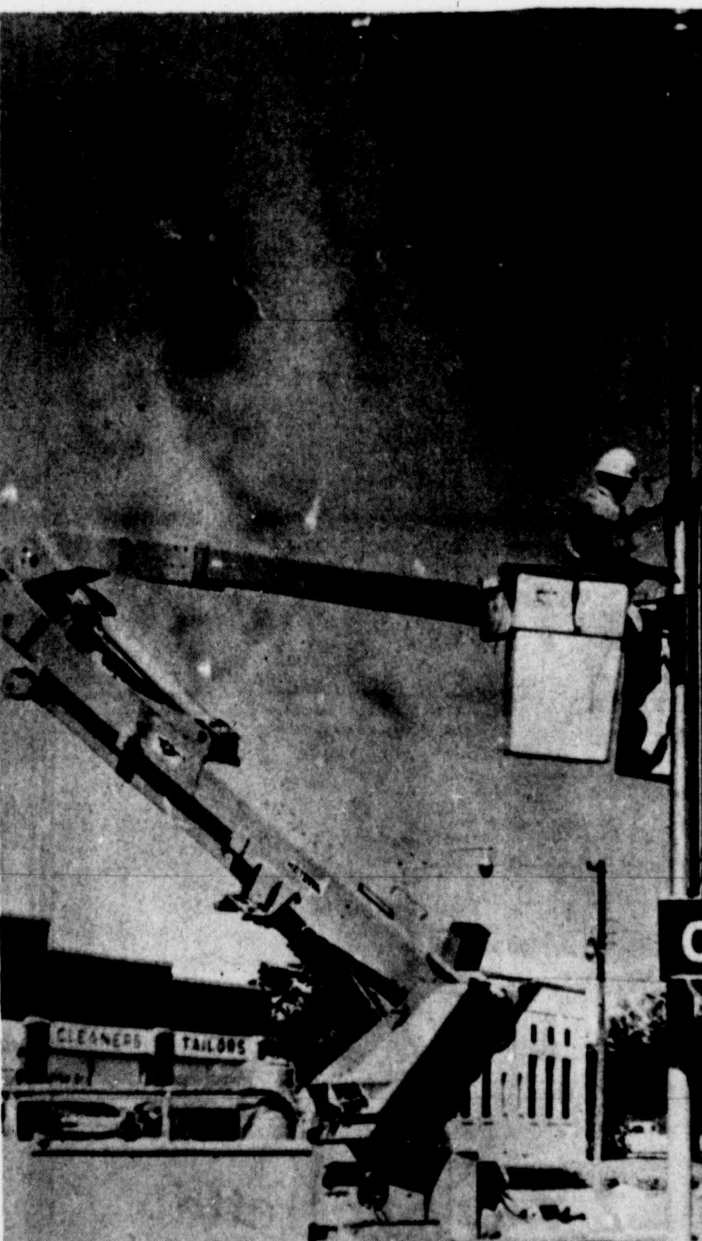

Farm Bureau

Officers Elected

The Mitchell County Farm Bureau board of directors has elected Murrell Blassingame to another term as president of the organization.

Elected vice president was Alton Raschke and Tommy Fuller was named secretary-treasurer.

Those going to the state convention in the Rice Hotel in Houston Nov. 12-15 will be Mr. and Mrs. Blassingame, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Heston Redwine.

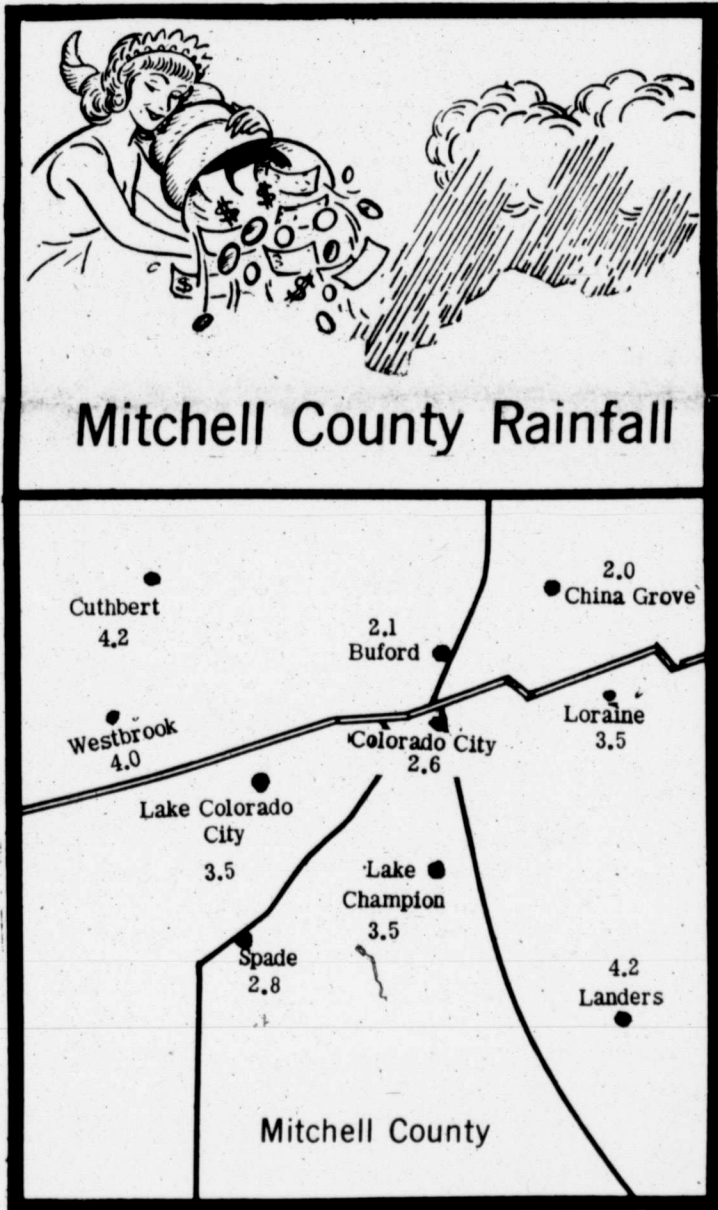

Downtown Beautification

Here are two improvements that are being planned to spruce up the downtown Colorado City area. On left is Japanese Black Pine that will be planted in the wooden container pictured and put out along downtown streets and in front of Colorado City businesses. On right, the downtown street lights are getting a coat of black paint. The knobs and brace of the pole are to be painted gold. Both of these efforts are aimed at giving Colorado City the look of a modern town at the turn of the century.

Bank President

Trevlyn Kelley, a Colorado City city councilman and vice president of City National Bank, will become president of Roscoe State Bank Nov. 1. He has announced he will resign from the city council here and resign his position at City National Bank effective on that date.

Estacado 14-0 Over Wolves

Perennial District 3-AAA Champ Lubbock Estacado returned to their winning ways Friday night as they scored two touchdowns in the first half and then held on to win over the Colorado City Wolves, 14-0.

The loss was the third in three District 3-AAA games for the Wolves. Their seasons record is now three wins against four losses. The Wolves now have a week off before they travel to Sweetwater to face the Mustangs Nov. 3.

For the Wolves, the game played on a muddy field in a constant drizzle was basically a good defensive effort. But on offense, the Wolves couldn't get anywhere against the stingy Estacado Matador defense.

The Wolves had a total of See WOLVES Page 7

Workshop On 'Carrascolendas' Presented To Kelley Teachers

"Carrascolendas" is a make-believe bilingual land where everyone speaks Spanish and English.

And the television program is being used by teachers at Kelley Elementary in their bilingual program as an instructional part of their teaching agenda.

John Martinez, representative of the Education Service Center, Region XIII in Austin, was at Kelley Elementary Friday afternoon to provide in-service training to those teachers to explain the use of individual teacher packets that are used with the program to provide bilingual instruction to their classes.

In his presentation, he used songs, games, supplemental activities and explained the proper utilization of the television program in the classrooms.

The segmented program, with segments lasting from 20 seconds to 3 minutes, introduces the concepts of science, health, Spanish language skills, English language skills, history and culture, self concept and reading.

The instruction is achieved by the use of puppets, marionettes, songs, dances and a bilingual lion named "Agabito".

The program is produced by the education service and is co-produced by station KLRN, an educational station in Lubbock. The show has been in production for 2 years and this year will be televised nation-wide on 218 educational television stations. It is also televised in Guam.

Martinez is originally from Odesa and is married to the former Corine Rivera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rivera of 625 Jefferson Street. They have one son.

Martinez received his Bachelor's degree from Texas Tech and is presently a doctorate student at the University of Texas in Austin.

He was previously with Region XVIII in Midland where he was Director of Migrant Programs.

The Mitchell County Community Action Office will be closed Monday only in observance of Veteran's Day, according to Mrs. Jon Shamburger.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The hills sleep beneath their blankets of grass as they have through the centuries, rock-ribbed with rims of gypsum and clay that hold pockets of alkali. The silence is heavy, clear and rippling in the sunlight, as if time had just started. The tracks of the vanished herds of cattle are gone; bawling, hungry and cold cattle, hoofs that broke the sleet and snow to get a mouthful of grass are long perished, as are the generations of cattle that followed them. Flesh produced from grass on the same valleys has sustained generations of people who have also passed. The hills and the prairies remain with their eternal willingness to grow beef to fill the mouths of generations yet unborn.

Often the beauty of a sunset is so intense that the heart must have relief in the gradual passing to be followed by the soft hands of twilight.

Truth is never more important than in that hour it sustains the honor of a friend.

An acquaintance has come up with an idea that there is a conspiracy between the postal service and the telephone companies. He points out that more urgent messages are being transmitted by long distance, but on the other hand he is satisfied to have his Social Security check delivered by the mails.

Our society has changed to obscure the formerly wayward child in the behavior of youth in general. There still remains, however, a wholesome attitude of young people that defies the outrages of change and restores confidence that the future will be as secure as it has ever been.

Freshly-ground coffee boiled in a pot on a kitchen stove had its own fragrance and taste that still remain to be equalled. Of course convenience has been improved which has become the all important factor in merchandising.

Fame is not always associated with wealth but under proper light they make a charming couple.

Time is sanctified in that hour when a man kneels to pray.

Variety Is The Choice

Root Home Features Six Different Decors

By Jeanette Chamness

Front Spanish Brick Wall Added To The Home In 1971

Variety.

That's how Mr. and Mrs. Charles Root of 204 East 8th Street like it.

They built their home in 1947 and in 1965 redecorated it and added "their touch" by combining several different styles of furniture.

They have decorated each room of their home in a different style of furniture with emphasis on variety, luxury and spaciousness.

In their home you find Victorian, Spanish, French Provincial, Gothic, Oriental and Modern.

The Spanish front wall was added to the home in 1971 completing "their look".

The brick wall features the traditional Spanish arch windows and gate with heavy wrought iron.

The front gate opens into a covered entrance way featuring a lovely ivy garden running the length of the outside wall. The entrance way is highlighted by a large multi-colored hanging candle and several light fixtures in the Spanish motif.

The large front door opens into the elegant entry, with the formal living room and a wet bar on either side.

Off to one side is a small hallway opening into a large combination informal living room, dining room, music area and breakfast room.

The formal living room is decorated in Victorian style furniture upholstered in a soft rose pink contrasting with the stark white walls. A large pink bubble lamp, various colored hanging lamps and beads pick up the color scheme and harmonize with the blue carpet.

The picture window is covered in a white sheer gathered curtain and draperies of off-white.

Down the small hallway you step into a very modern informal living room with dark walnut cabinets in the dining area.

Blue and pink are the colors used in the room which boasts blue carpet and an angle couch mauve seat cushions and blue and mauve floral print back cushions.

Large potted ferns flank

either side of a large stereo that stands in front of a picture window draped in off-white draperies.

Facing the couch is a fireplace flanked by a large modern gold chair that is backed to another opening to the bar that can be closed off with white shutters.

Mrs. Root's all electric kitchen is decorated in Gothic design and permits Mrs. Root to easily be the hostess and the chef at the same time.

The cabinets in the kitchen are alternately painted blue and green decorated in large white rope trim. The blue carpet in the room highlights the vari-colored cabinets.

The long hallway, which opens into the large master bedroom, displays pale blue carpet and matching cabinetwork.

The first bedroom down the hall is very Spanish in its decor.

The room is decorated in blue and white and features heavy intricately carved furniture. The room is "home" to Mrs. Ray Dillard, the former Anna Lee Root.

Mrs. William J. Hubbard Jr.'s (Judy) room is very femininely decorated in French Provincial and is next as you travel down the hallway.

At the end of the hallway is a spacious master bedroom featuring a glass wall (with sliding doors) that opens into the lush back yard that features a swimming pool.

The decor of the room has been carefully blended into a mood that is strictly Oriental.

The bed is laid with a red velvet bedspread and overhanging the bed is a large ornately carved wooden block. Falling from the wooden object is a large flowing black drapery that blends into the matching carved headboard.

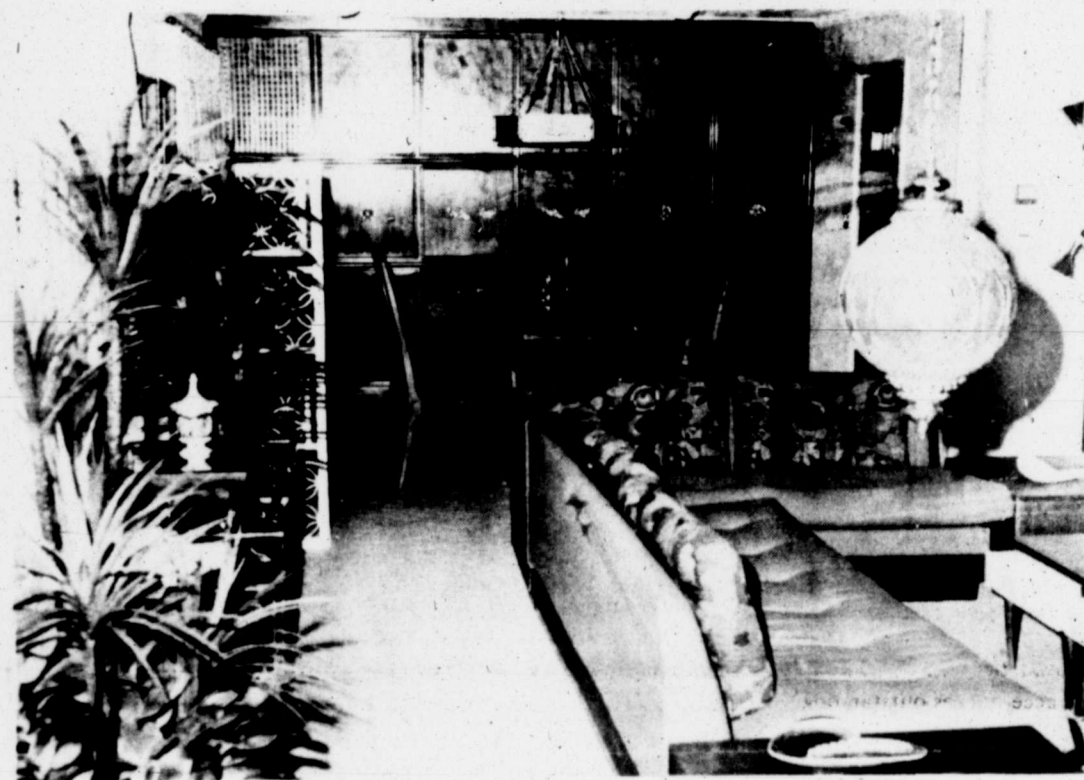

The glass "wall" is draped in black velvet draperies and is topped by a white carved valance.

Statuettes and various Oriental objects complete the mood for the room.

"We've tried to make a variety", Charles Root said. And they have in a lovely bewitching way.

A VETERAN is a man who loves his country — without reservation.

A VETERAN is a man who is willing to lay down his life to uphold the freedoms of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

A VETERAN is a man proud of his flag. He will fight to his death to protect the country for which it stands from those who would dare to dishonor it.

A VETERAN is a man who cherishes his freedom, passionately; serves his country, honorably and supports her willingly.

A VETERAN is a man well-deserving of our appreciation, our love and our prayers, 365 days a year.

A TIME TO HONOR

Those who have served our country in its greatest time of need, without reservation; honorably and willingly — those who have faced death in foreign places and returned to the country they valiantly protected — the freedoms of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. It is these men we honor today and should honor 365 days a year.

Amendment 9 Endorsed

A statewide campaign in support of Amendment 9 has been launched by the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation District, headquartered in Temple.

The Mitchell District is one of 192 districts that make up the Texas Association.

Amendment 9 on November General Election ballot would exempt soil and water conservation districts from the constitutional ban-on dual office-holding.

Directors of soil and water conservation districts receive no salary. They are persons with farm or ranch interests elected by landowners to manage district affairs. They do, however, receive state per diem payments when on district business.

This reimbursement for expenses brings the office of soil and water conservation district director under the constitutional prohibition against dual office-holding and dual compensation for state employees.

Travis Turner, Chairman of the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District, points out, "Our directors, who are leaders in their communities, are ineligible to serve on school boards, city councils or any other unpaid elective position."

"This often denies a community--particularly smaller communities--the services of its best and most qualified people."

Passage of Amendment 9 would not violate the spirit of the common law principle that no person should hold two or more public offices which pose a conflict of interest, Turner said.

Directors of the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District are Travis Turner, Warren Anderson, Jimmy Harrison, D.M. Smith and Morgan Wright.

These directors urge Texas voters to pass Amendment 9. The directors also join in support of Amendment No. 12, which would allow state employees, as well as soil and water conservation district officers, to serve on school boards and city councils without forfeiting their state salary.

As other supporters have pointed out, 350,000 Texans have been barred from the 22,504 elective non-paying positions in the state.

"I agree that this is disenfranchisement of thousands of our best people," Turner said. "It works against the best interests of all Texans to unfairly limit governmental and conservation leadership."

Girvin Cattle Win In Show

L.S. Girvin of Colorado City, this week showed the champion and first place Hereford Steers at the Special Stocker-Feeder Calf Sale.

The Sale was held at Producers Livestock Auction Co., in San Angelo and was co-sponsored by the Concho Hereford Association and the Texas Angus Association.

Girvin's pen-of-10 steers averaged 510 pounds each and brought $50.30 per hundred weight.

The champion and first place Hereford heifers were also consigned by Girvin, weighing 483 pounds each and selling for $44.60.

Fagan Quits Club

Clay Fagan, manager of Colorado Country Club, has resigned his position to accept the job as manager of the Sweetwater Country Club.

Fagan has been manager of the Club here since early this year.

SCS Clues

One of the fastest growing grazing systems is the "short duration" system or the "high intensity-low frequency" system said George Willis, Range Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

For this type of grazing system, the rancher must divide the particular area to be grazed into several pastures numbering at least five, but six to eight is more desirable.

The entire herd that can be handled on the area is then placed in one pasture and grazed for a given period of time, as determined by the grazing capacity of the area and then rotated to the next pasture.

This method would be repeated until all pastures were grazed. The grazing system resembles that grazing which large herds of wildlife did in the past.

Due to the high concentration of animals within a small area, they utilized the highly palatable forage as well as that less palatable.

The number of days and pastures are adjusted so that each pasture will be grazed at different corresponding times in the ensuing years. For example, if the first pasture is grazed from June 1 to July 15 of 1973, it is not desirable to graze that pasture at the same time in 1974.

The object of the system is to have resting periods at different times every year. It becomes quickly apparent that some auxiliary pastures may be needed for weaning calves, keeping bulls, keeper heifers or other such needs.

Registered breeders spread all the herd into all but two of the pastures for a 90 day breeding period. At the end of that time, the herd is then placed on one of the two rested pastures, the bulls separated, and the cycle continued.

This system is highly flexible.

The sectional meeting began at noon at the American Restaurant in Snyder with Mrs. Dona Reed as program chairman for the Retired Teachers Association meeting.

CHS Class of 1947 Has Homecoming Reunion

The Colorado High School graduating class of 1947 gathered for a reunion during recent CHS homecoming activities.

The group met Friday night in the high school cafeteria for a cake and coffee session and gathered again Saturday morning in the cafeteria for a coffee and donut revelle.

During the Saturday morning session the group took pictures and looked at "back when" issues of the school annual, the Howl.

At noon a turkey dinner was served in the cafeteria by cafeteria ladies and they toured the school following the noon meal.

They then journeyed via autos to tour the Opera House, museum, police station and the Mitchell County Public Library.

Saturday night the group reassembled in the party room of the Villa Inn Restaurant for the final gathering and a banquet.

An arrangement of large glittered white mums and red carnations, with "47" noted, centered the head table. Seated at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Bruce, Miss Gladys Miller and Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Barber Jr.

Invocation was spoken by Dayton Bruce of Arlington and Dr. Barber was master of ceremonies.

Each graduate gave a short summary of themselves and introduced their spouse or guest for the evening. Each one also gave a verbal tribute to Miss Miller by "recalling what you remember most about Miss Miller".

Miss Miller, former English and speech teacher and class sponsor for the class, spoke to the group reminiscing on their senior year and their graduation trip to New Orleans, La.

Interest was expressed in the graduates gathering again in 1975 for an all school homecoming which was previously planned for every five years by the Ex-Student Association.

Local class members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Turner, Wann and Flo Gurnels Sparks, Yvonne Mickle Sadler, Frances Miles Brooks, M. and Mrs. Billy Hammond, George Womack, Ray Anne Hamm Carlock and Vivian Smith Riddick.

Attending from out-of-town were Elsie Robertson Harvell of Big Spring, Charlou Thomas Satterwhite of Lubbock, Geraldine House Campbell of Stanton, Ruth Taylor Lee of Odessa, Marilyn Erwin Tarr of Lorraine, Anna Taylor Bruce of Arlington, Nell Bloodworth Turner of Snyder, Dr. Ivan J. Barber Jr. of Lubbock and Doyle House of Odessa.

Drop-in-guests were Ivan Barber, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lester, Mrs. H.L. Crout of California, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Bo Merket and Mr. and Mrs. Linden Solomon.

Pledges Fraternity

Roy Banta, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.K. Banta, has pledged the Alpha Kappa Psi, national business fraternity, at West Texas State University.

Banta is a junior student at West Texas State majoring in management.

Attend Reunion

revenue sharing until he learns more about the program. A meeting of county judges will be held in Fort Worth Tuesday at which revenue sharing will be discussed and Carter, although unable to attend the meeting, hopes he can find out information on revenue sharing after the meeting.

City manager J. A. Sadler Jr. is sending city tax assessor-collector Mrs. Nick (Bonnie) Farrar to Houston Oct. 30 to a meeting of municipal officers finance association to see what she can find out about revenue sharing.

The government has issued a number of basic guidelines including the meaning of priority expenditures for which money in the revenue sharing program can be used. This guideline stipulated that the money can be used for ordinary and necessary maintenance and operating expenses for:

--Public Safety (including law enforcement, fire protection, and building code enforcement).

--Environmental Protection (including sewage disposal, sanitation, and pollution abatement).

--Public Transportation (including transit systems and streets and road.

--Health.

--Recreation.

--Libraries.

--Social Services for the poor or aged.

--Financial Administration.

The funds also can be used for ordinary and necessary capital expenditures authorized by law.

If the money is not all used in percentages as prescribed by guidelines to be given out later, local governments will have to give unused portions of the funds back to the federal government.

and the football field. I've been wondering out loud for the last two years just why Colorado football fans are separated from the pep squad and band.

The Colorado City fans are seated on the home side while the band, pep squad and cheerleaders are on the opposite side of the field, in the visitor's stands.

It seems that spectators never really get into the spirit of the game, probably because the young people who help generate this spirit are across the field. If people could get involved in the spirit of the game maybe the low attendance would increase.

I've yet to find anybody who can explain just why the band and pep squad are on the other side of the field. There isn't a lack of room on the home side. Rarely are the stands even half full.

Bill Ellis

Student Profile.....

By CORNELIA HELM

Wherever tall, rangy Bill Ellis goes, he gets there in a hurry.

He doesn't run. It's just that his smooth, easy walk of long ground eating strides take him any where fast.

He conducts business in the same easy, smooth manner. That becomes evident to anyone who watches him preside over meetings of the student council, of which he is president.

Leadership was in the making during Bill's five years of Boy Scouting activities. His efforts were rewarded when he received the Eagle Scout award.

A Colorado City native, Bill has lived here all of his life except one year when he and his parents moved to Long Island, New York. He loves his home town and says it is the greatest and his high school is the best.

This busy senior who says he is conservative politically, is captain of the tennis team and member of the Wolf Band.

He was chosen by faculty representatives to attend the Texas Science Symposium at Austin last summer. He plans to be a high school teacher after attending West Texas State University at Canyon.

"I like all sports," Bill says, "but tennis is my speciality." It pleases him that tennis is becoming more popular all of the time. He and other tennis team members attended a special camp in Abilene this past summer where he learned a great deal about the game.

Watching the filmed action of the tennis campers, he realizes areas of play he needed to improve on.

Bill is employed at the Community Center as custodian. In his free time, besides tennis, he enjoys music and swimming.

Bill resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ather Ellis, 1531 Dallas Street.
