Do you know how to manage your weekly pay check? Few people actually do. Those who don't sooner or later find themselves up to their necks in debt.

Even if your income is above average, if you don't regulate the outgoing flow, you're liable to end up living below average.

One of the most damaging habits to the weekly paycheck is impulse buying. This is when you go into a store for one or two items and walk out with an armload.

When you are shopping, make a list and stick to it. If you see a necessary item at a bargain price, go ahead and buy it. But don't go wild.

Jack Riley Is Slated To Speak To Hart Lions

Hart Lions have a special treat in store Monday, Oct. 26 when Jack Riley of McLean is guest speaker.

Riley, an enthusiastic Lion, has served his local Lions Club in every capacity and has been president two years. Twice named "Lion of the Year", he has held various district offices.

He has served as deputy district governor, zone chairman, regional Leo chairman and has helped charter five area Leo Clubs.

Today's Leo Clubs are tomorrow's Lions. Riley loves youth and believes youth and Lions are vital to each other. Youth, Riley believes, needs guidance of Lions, from the grass roots level to the international.

Superintendent of schools in McLean, Riley has served in the US Army and completed his reserve with the rank of captain. He has, since that time, served in many leadership capacities in the realm of educational associations, local and area civic projects.

Rich Shares Trip Highlights

Lion Boss Bill Rich shared highlights of his recent visit to the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville with fellow Lions at the regular meeting Monday.

Camp personnel work in training the blind during the winter months, Rich said. Summer months are spent in working with crippled children.

Lions are urged to attend the next meeting and are reminded to wear their Lions vests. They meet each Monday noon in the Community Room of Farmers State Bank.

C. T. Cunningham

Dr. Carradine, in his book, "The Sanctified Life," relates a story of a church member who had been careless about his spiritual life. This resulted in the member's acquiring a habit of fretting and fault finding. He saw very little good in anything and was skeptical as to the sincerity of bright testimonies of God's grace; he was given to arguing about non-essentials.

Hearing his pastor preach one Sunday morning on "Heaven", the skeptical spirit arose again within him. After the service, he said, "You speak of Heaven, but can you give me any idea as to the location, whether in the center of the universe or close by us in our own solar system?"

His pastor replied, "I will give you my views at another time, but let me speak to you about something else just now.

Do you see that little house yonder on the hill?"

"Yes", replied the member.

"Well, in there lives a woman, poor, sick and helpless. She needs coal, food and consolation. I wish you could drop in a few minutes some time and see her."

That very afternoon, the member, who had some means, went to the cottage, taking with him fuel and provisions. He spent a half-hour by the side of the invalid, read a chapter in God's Word, sang a hymn, and kneeling down he prayed with her. On leaving he placed a five-dollar bill in her hand.

The next day the man met his pastor on the street, and calling him aside said, "I asked you yesterday where heaven was. Well, I found out. It's in that little cottage on the hill, and now it's in my heart!"

FACT & OPINION

The Portland, Oregon, Journal reported: "It has become all the more plain in recent months that the action of Congress in boosting its members' salaries 41 percent was a catalyst that stimulated an endless round of inflationary pay increase demands by unions. Farwell Steers Sta

By Davi

The Farwell Steers had a happy Homecoming last Friday night at the expense of the Hart Longhorns as they soundly trounced the locals, 80-7.

The Steers scored 4 touchdowns before the Horns could even make a first down, and with those kind of odds against them the Horns found it tough to get started.

The game began with the Steers receiving the ball. Randy Chandler took the ball and marched 22 yards on a naked run to the right side of the field.

Then the Steers took command of the game. They marched 50 yards down to the Hart one yard line where Randy Chandler took the ball over to put the Steers into the lead. The kick for the extra points was good and Farwell led 7-0.

The Steers kicked off to Hart who could not move the ball at all and had to punt. The Steers then proceeded to march down their own side of the field where, from the 41 yard line, Gary Erwin broke loose for a 59 yard run and a score. The kick failed and Farwell led 13-0. Again the Horns could not move the ball after the kickoff and punted again. The Steers could not be stopped again as they again marched to the Hart 1.

This time it was Barry Williams who scored. The kick was good and the Steers led 20-0.

When the Horns got the ball again, it led to nothing but heartache as the Steers jumped on a loose ball in Longhorn territory. The Steers advanced to the Hart 5 yard line and it was Barry Williams scoring again for the Steers. The kick for the extra points was good and the Steers led at the end of the first quarter by the score of 27-0.

After the kickoff in the second quarter, the Horns began to move the ball. Johnny Ethridge got things going with a 25 yard scamper into Farwell territory. Then with the aid of some big third down plays the Horns found themselves on the Farwell one yard line with first and goal to go.

On fourth down and about an inch, Ethridge broke through standing up for the only Horns' touchdown. Ethridge also kicked the extra point making the score 27-7 for the Steers. But the Steers came right back. They worked the ball down to the Horn 3 yard line where Barry Williams scored again. The kick for the extra points was no good but the Steers led 33-7.

After an exchange of interceptions the Steers found themselves with the ball again on the Hart 49 yard line. From there, Brett Hargrove passed 22 yards to the goal line. The kick for the extra points was good and Farwell led at half by the score of 40-7.

The Horns received the ball to begin the third quarter. But they could not move the ball and had to punt. The Steers took the ball again and marched down the field to the Hart 16 yard line where Barry Williams scored his fourth and last TD of the night. The kick was good and Farwell led 47-7.

A costly fumble by the Horns gave the Steers the ball on their next set of downs. Again it was Brett Hargrove passing to Randy Chandler for 35 yards and a score. The kick was good again and Farwell remained in the lead by the score of 54-7 at the end of the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, the Horns started again, but Gercepted a pass a for 30 yards ar for the red-hot failed making. The Horns agai their next set Steers marched for another sco moving the ball and Farwell took over again. With the starting backfield still on the field, the Steers moved down to the Longhorn 3 yard line where Brett Hargrove blasted over for six more points. But the pass for the extra points failed and Farwell led by 74-7.

But if this wasn't enough, the Steers got the ball again in the waning seconds moved to the Hart 30 yard line where Brett Hargrove passed to Gary Erwin for 30 yards and the last Steer score.

This happened with only 21 ticks showing on the scoreboard clock. A run for the two extra points failed and the final score stood at Farwell Steers 80 and the Hart Longhorns only 7. The loss dropped Hart to an 0-3-1 record in season play and an 0-1 record in district play. It was Farwell's first win of the season.

put on a pretty face

BY

Aubrey McDonald

Every woman desires a smooth, glowing complexion with youthful loveliness. From the middle twenties on, the first revelation of a woman's age are tiny lines around the eyes and throat caused by dehydration, and special gentle daily care must be paid to revitalize skin dryness.

To prevent or retard lines, the tissue-thin skin area surrounding the eyes, and the skin at the throat, must be massaged tenderly with special oil. Fashion Two Twenty has created a special Eye and Throat Lotion, made of the rarest oils, that blends with water and carries moisture to the skin.

Apply a drop of this rich lotion around the eyes, and without pulling, gently pat it into this most delicate area of the face. Begin under the eye, from the outside, working toward the nose, over the upper eyelid, then down and round the eye again. Now dip fingertips in water, and go over the same area with continuous gentle patting motion.

At the throat, smooth a few drops of Eye and Throat Lotion with upward molding strokes toward the chin, using the fingers and cupped palm of the hand. Dip fingers in water and coax the oil into the skin with continuous upward massaging strokes. You will be surprised what remarkable improvement our Eye and Throat Lotion brings to the crepey neck, smoothing it out and moisturizing dryness.

Formulated for day and nighttime wear, this lotion will moisturize the skin and soften aging dryness.

The Cheering Squad

Energy and exuberance are trademarks of youth. You can see it clearly when a group of cheerleaders go into action.

Quick reaction is a mark of youth. If the team wins, these girls will be on top of the world. If it loses, they will go home with shoulders slumped. They haven't really learned "to take it". Withstanding both success and failure is a mark of maturity, and finding the strength to go on becomes an act of faith.

Have you grown up? Do you have that kind of faith? If not, the first steps toward finding it might be a walk to the church door.
