60TH YEAR — NO. 101

8 PAGES

COLORADO CITY RECORD, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1965

$5 Per Year in Mitchell County — 10c Per Single Copy

Finished Product

A TRUCK LOAD of freshly-ginned cotton is seen at the loading dock of a local gin await hauling to the compress. Gin manager Ross Hargrove checks over the cargo prior to shipment. All gins in Mitchell County are seeing increased activity as the cotton harvest begins and gets ready to move into full swing in the near future.

Cotton Crops Await First Killing Freeze

Ginning On Rise In Area

Majority of Mitchell County cotton farmers are counting the days until the first killing frost in the area at which time the year's harvest will get into full swing.

Last year's first killing frost hit the county on Nov. 10 and according to some weather reports the 1955 version could strike a year and about the same time.

A few farmers, who had earlier-planted cotton, have defoliated their crops, but the larger majority are waiting for their later-maturing plants to have more open bolls.

In most instances dryland cotton into the same moisture open before it is defoliated and irrigated plants should be 80 percent open.

However, the unusually high amount of rainfall in Mitchell County this year has put most cotton into the same moisture range as irrigated crops. Thus, most farmers will wait for an 80 percent open crop before defoliating.

The cool nights in the county are delaying maturity of the cotton, but the warm and sunny days are offsetting the effects somewhat.

There is no insect problem in the county as the boll weevil population has reached its peak and is declining.

The boll weevil is now entering the diapause stage wherein he goes into a hibernation-like existence throughout the cold weather period. The insects crawl into trash and dirt to wait until warmer weather arrives next spring.

Predictions on the number of bales to be produced in Mitchell County this harvest season continue to range between 35,000 and 45,000 bales.

Depending on the date of the first killing frost, the county's bale number will probably go under the 40,000 mark though it could exceed this figure slightly.

Gins throughout the county are seeing more and more cotton come into their yards at an increasing rate.

Of course the real busy time will come as soon as the first killing frost hits Mitchell County in the next few weeks.

Defoliated Cotton

COUNTY FARMERS are beginning to start defoliating work in some of the earlier planted cotton in the area. County Agent Buddy C. Logsdon checks over a defoliated patch east of Colorado City on the Noble Walker farm.

SIX THROUGH TEN

Proposed Amendments

The following is a statement and explanation of the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution nos. six through ten.

Amendment No. 6

Proposes the authorization of not more than $50 million of general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in order to provide money for loans to students at participating institutions of higher education in the state.

Explanation

The Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, would administer the program. Any non-profit institution of higher education, either public or private, in Texas, including junior colleges, may participate in the program providing it complies with the rules and is recognized or accredited by the Texas Education Agency or the Coorordinating Board, Texas College and University System, in order to qualify for a loan, a student must comply with the following things:

1. Be a resident of Texas.
2. Show financial need.
3. Be recommended by reputable people in his home community.
4. Be accepted for enrollment in a participating institution.
5. Meet the school's minimum academic requirements.

Interest begins at the time the loan is made, but payment of interest is postponed until the student leaves college.

The student must repay the loan and interest monthly, starting not later than four months after he leaves the college or not later than five years after the date of the first note he executed for a loan. The Board may authorize a longer period of time for students seeking graduate or professional degrees.

Also, the time for beginning repayment for unusual financial hardships, subject to approval by the Attorney General.

If six monthly repayments are not made, the remaining principal and interest become due and payable and suit for collection shall be instituted.

Amendment No. 7

Proposes to provide tax exemptions to certain hospitals giving free hospital and medical care to indigent citizens of Texas.

Property belonging to hospitals meeting the qualifications set forth in the amendment is exempt from all ad valorem taxes levied by any taxing entity except the state itself.

Explanation

This amendment provides for the exemption from local taxes including city, county, school and special district levies of charitable organizations spending over $1.5 million annually on free medical care for the indigent in Texas.

The organization must continue to provide the services after the taxes are waived and the following year increases the amount spent for indigent care to $1.8 million.

The amendment would apply only to counties over 124,000 population and presently applies only to the Hermann Hospital Estate of Harris County.

Amendment No. 8

Proposes to provide for the automatic retirement of District and Appellate Judges for old age; for their removal from office for misconduct; and for their forced retirement for disability; and it establishes a Judicial Qualifications Commission to administer some of its provisions. It does not repeal existing laws.

Explanation

Under this proposal, Texas District and Appellate Judges must retire at age 75 or some age between 70 and 75 as prescribed by the Legislature.

Close to one-half of the states have similar legislation.

Present law does not require any judge to retire for any reason. About 10 percent of the state judges affected by the amendment are 70 or over.

It also adopts new procedures for retiring and removing judges during their term of office.

It authorizes the Supreme Court of Texas to order forced retirement or removal for misconduct upon recommendation of the Judicial Qualifications Commission.

The commission would have nine unsalaried members composed of four judges (not Supreme Court Justices), two attorneys and three non-lawyer citizens.

The commission would review complaints of judicial unfitness, and, if warranted, investigate and hold hearings, and recommend removal or retirement to the

C-CITY OUTSTANDING

Wolf Backs, Line Vault Past Hamlin

Colorado City used a tremendous running attack led by Donnie Higginbotham and David Way to smash the Hamlin 28-18 on the Pied Piper's home turf.

Higginbotham battered the Hamlin line for a total of 123 yards in 20 carries including scoring dashes of nine and 37 yards.

With 1:10 left in the first period, Higginbotham thrilled the chilly crowd as he picked off a Hamlin aerial and galloped 90 yards to paydirt.

David Way came through with needed yards all during the contest and toted the pigskin 17 times for 79 yards.

Halfback Artie Butler tallied the Wolves' first TD with 4:35 in the first quarter on a 45-yard scamper.

After getting away to the 140 first period lead, the Wolves found a strong Hamlin comeback in the making as the home team scored twice in the closing four minutes of the first half.

Sammy Ferguson drove seven yards for the first score after a Wolf fumble on the 17-yard line.

With only a minute remaining in the half, the Pied Pipers again tallied on a five play series topped off by a five-yard scoring jaunt by Paul Long.

The Hamlin drive was highlighted by pass completions of 36, 22 and nine yards that momentarily put the Wolves on the run.

A rejuvenated unit of Wolves took the field as the second half opened and most gateways through the C-City line were sealed off tight.

Passing again hurt the Wolves in the game as Hamlin completed nine for 115 yards.

Jerry Franks played an outstanding game from his defensive end position, but the names were numerous that continually hit hard at the Hamlin running attack.

Larry Currie, Robert Stewart, Ronnie Lamb, Way, Ascension Bonilla, Larry Paul, Doug and David Aycock were among the steady stream of Wolf tacklers.

After an exchange of downs in the opening period, the Wolves again took over on the 49 yard line, but found tremendously rough tackling and were forced to punt for the second time. However, a Hamlin clipping penalty gave the Wolves a first down on the home team's 45-yard line. On the first play Artie Butler slanted through the line and rammed to paydirt for the Wolves. A pass attempt for the extra points was incomplete.

Hamlin got a good drive going on the next series and quickly wound up on the Wolf 19-yard line. On the next play Doug Aycock and Ronnie Lamb stopped the Piper ball carrier for no gain setting the stage for Higginbotham's timely interception.

After the ball was deflected once in the air the fleet Wolf halfback nabbed the pigskin on the spectacular 90-yard run on which he completely crossed the gridiron before scoring.

Glen Nix nailed Larry Currie in the end zone on a two-point pass for the bonus try and C-City led 14-0 as the first quarter ended.

Hamlin's two TD's put them back in range as the halftime score stood at 14-12. Hamlin took the opening second half kickoff, but the fierce defensive charge of the Wolves forced them to punt just three plays later.

Jerry Franks roared through to partially block the punt that only went 16 yards as C-City took over on the Hamlin 37 only to be forced to punt.

Hamlin took over, but the stout defensive play of Franks Bonilla and Currie again stymied the Pied Pipers.

Higginbotham brought the Hamlin punt back on a nice return and the Wolves were

Airstrip Paving

FINAL WORK on the new paved landing strip at the City-County Airport has been underway since last week. City and County crews, working jointly, were expected to have the strip and also the newly-paved hangar area ready for use by today.

Amendments

Supreme Court, which following another hearing could act.

All proceedings against judges would be in conformity with due process of law.

The new procedure would not abolish the present removal methods nor do they change retirement benefits for judges retired for age or disability.

Amendment No. 9

Proposes to permit the Legislature to set an annual salary for the Lt. Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The amount of the salaries is not specified.

The amendment would also increase to $20 per day the per diem allowance paid to all Senators and Representatives while the Legislature is in session.

Explanation

At the present time the Lt. Governor and the Speaker plus all Representatives and Senators are paid a $4,800 annual salary plus $12 per day for the first 120 days of a regular legislative session and for the first 30 days of each special session. Also, they receive 10 cents per mile for travel directly to and from Austin.

Under the proposed amendment the amount per day would be raised to $20 and the regular session time extended to 140 days.

All other benefits would remain the same.

Amendment No. 10

Proposes to increase the terms of members of the Texas House of Representatives from two to four years.

Members would be divided into two classes so half would be elected every two years as is now the case in the Texas Senate.

Explanation

Traditionally, terms for members of the House have been two years. The proposal to provide a four-year term for the Governor and certain state officials and the fact that the members of the Texas Senate now have four-year terms is probably the reason for this amendment.

A provision is included in this proposed amendment which prohibits a House member with more than one year remaining of his term from becoming a candidate for any other legislative office.

Had this provision been omitted, a member of the House could become a candidate for the Senate in an election year without losing his membership in the House.

Achievement Tests

Achievement tests for fourth, fifth and sixth grade students at Hutchinson will be given Tuesday and Wednesday according to Walter Black, school principal.

Group Hears Martin Talk

A group of 22 voters was on hand Tuesday night at the Church of God on Mulberry St. to hear County Judge Elmer Martin tell of the necessity of voting in the upcoming balloting on 10 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

CONVERSATION CORNER

READ somewhere the other day that the average American adult spends at least one-third of all waking hours bored.

Well, now, there have come to a pretty close in this country if that estimate on boredom is anything like accurate.

I let's see. Say you stay awake 18 hours each day. That would leave you, then, that for six whole hours of that time would be suffering from that same old human condition — boredom. Not necessarily at one stretch, but bored in little bits and pieces.

What an awful way to waste an awful lot of time! Doesn't make much sense, does it?

TO BE or not to be bored depends, of course, almost, on you. Nobody else can be bored for you, or can be bored in you if you won't let it be so.

To be bored is the most exhaustive experience there is. It is more, because than hard work. More depressing.

What does it do, anyway? Ever try making a list? Not for watch it. If the list is too long, it could turn out that you're mostly bored with yourself. And don't need much assistance start to yawning in life's face.

IN THIS marvellously stimulating world there really isn't time enough to stay bored. Hours, days and years are far too short to get around to all life's delightful treasures.

So long as there is one good book in the world you haven't read, so long as there is music to hear, so long as there are seasons to change, leaves to turn gold, rooms to rise and stars to stay.

So long as there are children to love, friends to greet, family to feed, places to go, new clothes to buy, how can anybody find time to get bored?

WELL, like everything, sometimes boredom is thrust upon you. Like those long and lonesome TV commercials with women circling around in an observation balloon to check up on the neighbor's watch.

Like people who get too low-winded with details of all symptoms when you just ask "How are you?" as a polite greeting.

Like anybody, anywhere, who tries to trap you into a religious argument.

Like all the publicity still in print about Liz Taylor and her fifth husband, what's his name.

Like long hair on singing groups of young men. And comedians who laugh at themselves.

STILL, if you want to be technical about it, there is a solution — unless your boredom threshold is too low to be normal.

One can always read during any and all commercials, start saying "Hell," or just "Hi, there," to chronic complainers, refuse to discuss creed or creeds, skip the love life of Liz, leave the room when the ydunester tune in the Beatles etc. etc. too, and raid the refrigerator when the furry man stops being funny.

FURTHERMORE, one can always practice laughing at one's self and all those personal frustrations and reactions. Ever strike you how completely ridiculous it is to let yourself be bored or be annoyed by a soap salesman in the first place?

There's no law in this land that says you have got to be bored to anything, except maybe your lawfully wedded spouse.

IT'S BEEN a fine week. Looked up to see one F. P. (favorite person) named Ish (Mrs. Jim) Watson with one perfect rose in a bud vase for this desk.

Had the pleasure of seeing Bonnie Rogers (Mrs. Nell) and her new son P.bble, plus her second son Mark. Bonnie was saying that she and her husband Rev. Rogers are moving to Sweetwater, Tuesday. Nell will pastor the Lamar Street Baptist church there and they'll be living just a few blocks from Joe and Kaye Wallis, Calvary Baptists and C. City will miss the little Rogers family.

SEEN LATELY have been Willie Landau, Judge Austin McCloud, Jake Merritt, Jay Craddock, Sims Palmer, Earl Brock.

Saw Amorla Lee (Mrs. Fielding Jr. Rusty) and her little son John together, headed for a sandwich lunch celebration. Glenn Thomas with plans to see Texas Tech play Elce at Lubbock, Saturday. Caddo Matthews and his wife planning to take in Baylor vs. TCU. Ditto Artie Butler of the Wolf squad.

FAMILIAR FACES, here and there place, included that of Setten Fickens. Asked about his brother Virgil to find that he lives in Aurora, Illinois, and fathers three children.

Office visitors were Dale Roberts, Vicki Adams, Waver (Mrs. Joe) with 1949 Study Club news, Ann Alice Cook (Mrs. Bill) another little blond Maltuch for Wallace, Ida Kirschbaum (Mrs. Maurice), who played 1949 and 1950 Finalists in the State S&PW annual contest.

CAUGHT a glimpse of James Hull and his Mrs. Mary Sue. He's manager out at Lane Wolf and she's employed by Frontier Electronics. Steve Birdwell (the Rex) looked for All Saints church.

Mrs. J. W. Hill brought greetings from an old acquaintance Tackle Bush of Odessa. Saw Peggy Bagwell (Mrs. Helen) in the bank. George Womack, too, back from vacation trips which included a fling in New York City.

Saw pretty Jane Pickens Wells, wife of Max. Fred die Watson Guitler (Mrs. Don). Robert Kelly. Charlie Freeman, and Buddy Logsdon.

HEAR TELL that Westbrook High School plans a Homecoming Day for November 18. Class of 1956 is to try for a special class reunion at the same time. Say, Cuck Butler.

Hear, too, that the Arnel B. Smiths had a weekend guests their son Rev. Barton Smith, of Perkins Theological School at SMU in Dallas, and the Smith daughter, Fred and her husband Don Conroy of Arlington.

Again in business on the Piper's 37 yard line.

On the first play of the series Higginbotham weaved and larded the entire distance on a beautiful bit of broken field running with 7:04 left in the third quarter.

Nix again found Currie in the end zone on a pass for two points.

Doug Aycock recovered an attempted handoff on the ensuing kickoff on the Piper's 12 yard line, but the Wolves had a hard time with the Hamlin defense and the ball went over.

As the final period opened, the Wolves hooked up for the start of a 55-yard scoring drive that took only eight plays, sparked by the smashing runs of David Way.

The Wolves got a five-yard motion penalty that made it first and 15 after one play. Higginbotham then slammed for seven and Way broke through the middle behind tremendous blocking for an 11-yard gainer and a first down on the 43 of Hamlin.

Way was tossed for a one-yard loss, but on the next play Higginbotham shot through the line for 16 yards and another first down.

On three straight carries Way gained eight, seven and three yards to the Hamlin nine yard line from where Higginbotham, led by the fired up offensive line, romped for nine yards to put Colorado City further out in front 28-12.

Hamlin took the kickoff and immediately went to the air only to see their first pass picked off by an alert Larry Currie.

CC City again met stiff opposition and the ball went back over to Hamlin.

Riding the crest of a tremendous passing attack, the Pied Pipers scored their final TD with the scoring play a five-yard pass to Danny Warner.

Wolves controlled the football the rest of the way and held on for their third District SAA win of the year.

Early Federation Study Featured By 1949 Club

Members of the 1949 Study Club met Thursday afternoon, Oct. 21, in the home of Mrs. Sharon Henderson, 536 Locust St.

Mrs. Gwan Strange was leader for the program of the day, "Early Federation," with the theme "Let's Learn of Federation in Texas and in the U.S.A."

A&M-Tech Frosh Slate Next Battle

Texas A&M and Texas Tech play the second freshman football game in the history of the schools at Sweetwater's Mustang Bowl on Saturday, November 13 and 7:30 p.m. under the auspices of Sweetwater's Chamber of Commerce Athletic Events Committee. Tech won last year's game 27-17 at Midland.

Plans are underway for a meeting of A&M and Tech alumni before the game, including a barbeque dinner. A large crowd is expected from West Texas alone to the alumni meeting and game. Arrangements are under the supervision of Ed Aiken, Jr. and Walter Maloney of Sweetwater, co-chairman of the committee and Tech Alums.

A&M will reach Sweetwater the morning of November 13. Tech's team will arrive later in the afternoon. Mustang bowl, which will hold 7,000 football fans, is expected to be full for the game. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, 75c for students (Both High School and College). Officials are members of Sweetwater Officials Association.

Coaches of high school teams in a 100 mile radius have been invited to bring their teams to Sweetwater for the game. High school teams will be admitted free when accompanied by their coach.

Texas Tech, by a flip of the coin, was selected as home team for the event. Tickets for the game go on sale November 1. Tickets will be sold by section with no reserved seats. Center sections will go on sale first. There are 2,300 center section seats.

Texas A&M Exes Association are tentative, former graduates to attend the event, as are Texas Tech Exes groups. Final plans for alumni group seating and barbeque will be made as former students are contacted.

In her introductory remarks Mrs. Strange stressed the work, disappointment and happiness that goes into organizing a new club. She praised the pioneer club women who organized the first study clubs while men were still saying "A woman's place is in the home and that's where she belongs."

The treatment gave her the idea of a club just for women, to represent as far as possible the interests of women and create a bond of fellowship between them," Mrs. Strange said of Mrs. Cory.

On the first Monday in March, 1898, five women joined Mrs. Cory at her home to develop plans for such an organization. In May, 1897, "The Association for the Advancement of Women" was founded. The association stimulated the forming of many women's clubs, Mrs. Strange pointed out.

"There is no question as to the first personality which left an imprint on the General Federation of Women's Clubs — its founder Mrs. Jane Cunningham Croly," said Mrs. Strange, "the newspaper woman whose pen was Jenny June. Her husband was managing editor of the Daily World in New York."

Mrs. Cory organized the Woman's Press Club in 1889 and was its president as long as she lived, Mrs. Strange told 1949 members. She served the General Federation as recording secretary during its first four years and became the first president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs. The pioneer of women's clubs movement was author of "The History of the Women's Club Movement" in 1898. She died in 1903.

"Texas Federation of Women's Clubs was organized in Waco May 14, 1897, Mrs. Strange said. First annual convention was in Tyler in 1898. Five districts had been created by 1901.

Hesperian Study Club, organized in 1892 and federated in 1897, was mentioned by Mrs. Strange as the oldest (still active) club in Colorado City. There are now nine active study clubs in this town and one study club in Loraine the leader noted.

Refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Henderson to Mrs. Donnie Benham, Mrs. Bob Chalk, Mrs. Wayne Griffin, Mrs. Trevelyn Kelley, Mrs. Arlene Morris, Mrs. Truman Nix, Mrs. M. A. Smith, Jr., Mrs. H. Jene Steakley, Mrs. Dwight Tomb, and Mrs. Joe Weaver.

Next club meeting will be Tuesday evening, Nov. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Kelley, 644 Chestnut St. Mrs. Weaver will present the program, "Famous Texans."

WESTBROOK Mrs. Charles Ranne was in Midland Monday to visit with her sister-in-law Mrs. Leeman Jones who underwent major surgery Monday morning at Midland Memorial Hospital.

INSTALLATION NIGHT

FHA Chapters Entertain For 'Ma, Pa, And Me'

Future Homemakers of America chapters at Colorado High School entertained with a "Ma, Pa, and Me" party Monday evening in the Medallion Room at Lone Wolf Cooperative building, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Attending the two-chapter party were 160 students, parents and friends of the FHA. Highlight of the evening was an installation ceremony for chapter officers.

Kay Palmer was mistress of ceremonies for the evening. Sally Pritchett presented the devotional theme, "Building Blocks for the FHA." A quartet sang "In the Garden" with Sarah Harris as accompanist. Singing in the group were DeLynn Grisham, Peggy Robertson, Carolyn Moore, Glenda Graham and Vickie Cotton.

Mrs. Curtis Latimer conducted the installation, using as her theme "Keeping-Lit the Lamps of FHA." As installation officer, Mrs. Latimer charged recreation leader Christy Stubblefield to "keep the window swept." Parliamentarians of the chapters, Ann Palmer and Mattie Lee Crabtree, were charged with "keeping the table dusted and the cloth draped neatly at all times."

Jackie Rich, reporter, and Lucille Owens, student council representative, were charged with "keeping oil ready for the lamp." As historians, Sarah Harris and Dana Craddock were urged to "keep the bowl of the lamp clean."

Tina Love and Barbara Cupp, Sally Smith and Sandra Sweatt, secretaries and treasurers, were told to "keep the wick turned up." Charged with "cleaning the chimneys" were the vice-presidents June Brown, Karen Holman, Kay Palmer and Gloria Merket.

Presidents of the two chapters, Mary Beach and Jean Compton, were assigned to the duty of "lighting and keeping the FHA lamp lit."

Mrs. Latimer also installed chapter mothers and sponsors. They are, for the freshman-sophomore chapter, Mrs. Grady Beach and Mrs. W. W. Holman, chapter mothers, with Mrs. Caddo Matthews, teacher, as sponsor; for the junior-senior chapter, Mrs. Sidney Compton and Mrs. Stanley Merket are chapter mothers, Mrs. J. S. Craddock, Jr., teacher, sponsor.

A skit was presented by Christy Hammond, Julia Erwin, Janet Blum, and Linda Recreation was directed by Christy Stubblefield and featured a singing contest, a spelling bee and bobbing for apples.

Refreshments of crackers and dip, cookies and punch were served.

Colorado Sand & Gravel

DRIVER JOHNNY COX stands by one of the trucks used for transporting ready-mixed concrete to the firm's customers for use in building sidewalks, buildings, curbs and gutters.

Local Firm Expands From Small Beginning

In the 13 years since its beginning, Colorado Sand and Gravel has grown into a sizeable business distributing its products over a wide area of West Texas.

It was back in March of 1952 when Bill F. Carter and Owen L. Montgomery formed their partnership in the sand and gravel firm.

Talking with the two business partners, they reminisced how they had started out with two dump trucks, an old loader, a World War I vintage dragline and "a lot of ambition."

Today, the firm operates 10 sand and gravel hauling trucks, three trucks carrying ready mix concrete, three loaders and a more modern dragline.

The firm employs nine full-time workers the year around and up to 15 workers during the year's peak business periods of the spring and summer.

Office facilities for the firm are now housed in a new and modern building just completed last February.

Their plant and pit is located on a 35-acre tract just south of Colorado City.

The office is their base of operations and is equipped with a two-way radio setup for talking to the trucks that have receiving sets to utilize in giving better and faster service to their customers.

Two huge pieces of machinery at their location take care of the processing necessary before the ready-mixed concrete, sand and gravel is ready for the many uses utilized by various customers.

One of the machines is to mix the concrete while the other handles the raw material from which the different grades of sand and gravel eventually come from.

This machine washes and screens the raw material and separates it into masonry sand

I strongly recommend that the people of this area support and vote for Amendment No. 2 on November 2nd which authorizes the continuation of the Veterans' Land Program.

The program has not only benefited the State of Texas, but it has greatly helped the economy of our local area.

There have been 166 veterans who have purchased 16,154 acres of land in Mitchell County for $1,139,258.00. This program has been highly successful and has given Texas veterans a chance to own a tract of land that they fought to protect. It is a program that is not only self-sustaining but is making a profit for the taxpayers and people of Texas of over $2½ million a year. While making this profit for the taxpayers and people of Texas and helping Texas veterans, it is boosting the economy of the state, something that we all want.

Counting the rotating money there has been $236 million invested in land and to date there has been 34,800 tracts of land bought for veterans in the State of Texas. 6,100 of these veterans have paid their tracts off in full. 8,200 veterans have transferred their contracts after three years. 6,000 have executed oil and gas leases and approximately 500 tracts have produced oil and gas wells on them.

Every individual in the State of Texas is benefited and affected by the Veterans' Land Program. Many veterans daily are asking to purchase land through the program. If the vote on Amendment No. 2 on November 2nd is favorable, then the Veterans' Land Program will continue to purchase land.

Land Commissioner Jerry aggregates used in road building and to make concrete.

The ready-mixed concrete is used for construction purposes in building sidewalks, driveways, curbs and gutters and concrete structures.

The aggregates are primarily used for work in road construction and repair.

Montgomery got his start in the gravel business at the "ripe old age" of 14 while Carter got his start just after the war in 1945.

PETE'S A GOOD FARMER ...BUT A POOR BUYER

Pete knows how to plow, cultivate and harvest his crops. He's a good farmer in almost every respect
... except ... he "saves" money in a very expensive way.

Pete shops for "deals" when he needs equipment.
Now, that's not a bad idea at all if in making the "deal" he is assured of:

SERVICE when he needs it
PARTS when he needs them
WARRANTY backed by a reputable dealer
Pete's "deal" didn't include these three essentials and now he's just plain mad ... at his tractor ... at himself.

We'll bet from now on, he'll check for good service, parts availability and reliable warranty service before he buys.
