North Texas Oil Prices Boosted 15 Cents To Match Oklahoma-Kansas Hike

CONOCO, TEXAS AND MAGNOLIA POST INCREASE

Top Price for Wichita District Crude Made 85 Cents

PANHANDLE HELPED

West Texas Quotations Are Raised but Left On Flat Basis

The upward swirl of oil prices caught the North Texas market last night.

Continental Oil company, the Texas corporation and Magnolia Petroleum company announced new prices which match the increase started in Kansas and Oklahoma Saturday by Continental. The new schedule boosts the top price 15 cents to 85 cents.

Increases also were posted for the Panhandle and West Texas fields.

Others to Follow

Other purchasers, both major and independent, were expected to swing into the new trend some time Tuesday.

Although the Wichita Falls office of the Humble Oil and Refining company has received no notice of an increase, Carter Oil company of Oklahoma, another Standard of New Jersey subsidiary, met the Oklahoma-Kansas raise late Tuesday. Similarly, the Stanolind offices here were awaiting instructions although the northern division was already paying the new price.

The Continental's new North Texas prices, which became effective as of 7 a. m. Monday, were posted as follows: Below 29 gravity, 61 cents; from 29 to 29.9 gravity, 63 cents with a two-cent increase for each degree of gravity to 85 cents for 40 gravity and above.

Panhandle Prices

Texas corporation's North Texas prices were the same. This purchaser posted Panhandle and West Texas crude as follows:

Carson and Hutchinson counties, 40 gravity and above 68 cents; Gray county, 73 cents; Winkler, Upton and Crane county, Texas, and Lea county, New Mexico, 50 cents flat; gulf coast, 86 cents; Dart creek 60 cents flat; Markham 67 cents flat. Prices were unchanged in the North Louisiana and Smackover.

Daily production in the Wichita Falls district is now approximately 56,000 barrels.

Despite lack of definite assurance that North Texas prices would be raised to conform with the new Kansas, Oklahoma and East Texas prices, oil men and other business interests here had been encouraged since the Continental's announcement of Saturday.

"FOLLOW THE LEADER" PLAYED IN OKLAHOMA

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 2. (AP)—Mid-continent oil purchasers played a merry game of "follow the leader" this afternoon and by night most of the biggest buyers of this area's production had posted an advance of 15 cents a barrel for Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas oil.

Of the major companies, only the Humble and Gulf held to the 70-

RINGGOLD, Texas, Nov. 12.—Jap Cromwell, night watchman, was wounded in the leg Sunday night in a gun duel with bandits who fled at his approach from the William Hawkins dry goods and hardware store.

Seven shots were exchanged as Cromwell pursued the intruders who escaped after wounding the nightwatchman. Cromwell's injury is not considered serious.

Earlier in the evening a typewriter was stolen from the offices of the Katy station here. Officers believed the same men responsible. The burglars had collected sacks of wearing apparel, weapons and other articles when they were surprised by Cromwell.

Jury For Negro Case Ruled Out

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2. (AP)—The trial of Carter Rollins, 19, negro, charged with the shotgun slaying two weeks ago of D. L. Reed, 60, Crowley farmer, definitely was postponed for a month here today while county officials faced the necessity for preparing an entirely new jury wheel.

District Judge Hosey, who sustained the motion of defense counsel to quash the special venire drawn for the negro's trial, Tuesday will submit to the four other district judges an order for a new jury wheel.

In the defense motion it was alleged that officials in charge of compiling the jury wheel arbitrarily and in violation of law had discarded the names of negroes.

Judge Hosey learned also that the jury wheel had been taken from the county poll tax list and not from the county tax rolls as provided by law.

Judge Hosey said it was the first time such a motion has been sustained in this county. A similar motion was granted not long ago, however, in a Sherman trial, the judge said.

GUNMEN ELUDE OKLA. OFFICERS

Stolen Texas Car Recovered In Running Fight

Special to The Record News.

WAURIKA, Okla., Nov. 2.—Jefferson county officers were searching tonight for two men who escaped in an exchange of shots this evening when two officers stopped to question them about the automobile they were occupying.

None of the shots fired in the chase took effect. After eluding the officers, one of the men commandeered an automobile occupied by a Waurika woman and a 10-year-old boy and forced the woman to drive him out on a highway. He disappeared when the woman told him the car did not contain enough gasoline to drive to Addison.

Officers Curt Gardner and George Tabor stopped beside the pair's parked car, a new, light roadster. The men fled, one drawing a pistol and shooting at the officers. The officers returned the fire.

One of the men darted through a store across the street, out into a vacant lot and across another street where he jumped on the car of Mrs. Hetty Bell Fewell. The other man ran down an alley and outdistanced the officers.

Mrs. Fewell said the man who leaped on her car pointed his gun at her and Jackie Coleman, 10, who was riding with her, demanding that she drive to Addison. The woman said she pleaded with him not to point the gun at the boy and when they reached the edge of town she told him she did not have enough gasoline to take them to Addison.

The man then asked her the shortest way to a railroad and left in the direction she indicated.

Searching the automobile abandoned by the men, officers found two complete changes of clothing and automobile license tags issued in Nacogdoches county, Texas. Later they learned the car had been stolen in Kaufman, Texas.

Court to Rule Today On Quinn Death Sentence

NEWKIRK, Okla., Nov. 2. (UP)—Whether or not Earl Quinn, convicted and sentenced to death for the murders of two Oklahoma school teachers, should have a new trial, will be decided here tomorrow by District Judge John S. Burger.

If Judge Burger overrules the defense motion for a new trial, Quinn formally will be sentenced to death and taken to the state penitentiary at McAlester. James Mathers, his attorney, said he would file for an appeal if the new trial is denied.

Quinn was found guilty of murdering Jessie and Zexia Griffith on Dec. 28, 1930.

Uncle Sam Starts Early in Annual Drive to Speed Christmas Shopping

The first reminders that Christmas is approaching will be seen in Wichita Falls Tuesday.

The "shop and mail early" placards of the postal system will be posted at the postoffice Tuesday, according to O. P. Maricle, postmaster here.

Preparations are being made all over the nation at this time for the floods of mail that will pour into postoffices during the Christmas season, Mr. Maricle said. Much extra help will be needed to handle the many parcels through the mails.

In order that the postal system may best serve its patrons, the following suggestions for mailing are made by local postal officials: 1. Shop and mail early. 2. Wrap parcels securely. 3. Address mail plainly.

Packages to go to foreign countries should be mailed not later than Nov. 15, to insure delivery before Christmas, Mr. Maricle said.

All Christmas mail for points in the United States should be posted with ample time for delivery before Dec 25, it was said, as all city, village and rural carrier deliveries and window service will be suspended Christmas day. Packages and mail posted without sufficient time for delivery on or before Dec. 24, will be delivered after Christmas day.

However, it was announced, special delivery service will be available on Christmas day. This type of mail will be delivered immediately after it is received at the postoffice of its destination.

Although some 40 or 45 extra workers will be employed during the Christmas season to facilitate the handling of mail, no applications will be accepted until Dec. 1, Mr. Maricle said. Extra employes will be needed about Dec. 15, it was added.

FARMER TAKES POISON AFTER BANK ROBBERY

Facing Capture, Headrick Resident Attempts To End His Life

MONEY TOSSED AWAY

Police Find Secondhand Gun Won't Shoot After Capture

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 2.—Sam Penny, 45, old and respected Jackson county resident, is near death here from a dose of strychnine swallowed a few seconds before his arrest in connection with the robbery of the Citizens State bank at Headrick early Monday afternoon. Headrick is 12 miles east of Altus.

Penny, a well known farmer and father of four children, was arrested a few blocks from the bank at Headrick by a posse of approximately 50 citizens. He threw $50 to the ground as the posse approached. Mrs. J. H. Brock, bookkeeper at the bank, had slipped $3,000 in cash into her blouse while her husband, manager, was stalling in resistance to a masked bandit's order to lock the bank door. Only $50 was taken from the bank.

Gun Useless

Although Penny was armed, no shots were fired as the citizens ran down the street after the fleeing man. Officers discovered later that Penny's gun had been purchased for $2.50 from a Headrick pawn shop and that it would not fire.

In agony from the poisoning and crying for his baby, Penny was put under a physican's care in the Jackson county jail at Altus. Physicians said his condition was very serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock were alone in the Headrick bank when a masked and armed man entered. the hijacker wore goggles and a handkerchief across the lower half of his face.

He commanded Mr. Brock to close the outside door. While Brock demurred, Mrs. Brock slipped toward the cash drawer, caught up $3,000 in currency and thrust it into her blouse.

Forced in Vault

Meanwhile, Dr. D. B. Spencer and J. A. Banks, customers, entered the building.

The bandit told Brock he would "blow him to smoke" if he didn't obey his command. Brock yielded and the intruder then grabbed $50, forced the three men and Mrs. Brock into the vault and fled without locking it.

The citizen's alarm was sounded at once and Penny, choking with strychnine, was arrested a few minutes later. The strychnine was purchased Monday morning, officers learned.

County Attorney Ross Rutherford announced he would file a charge of robbery with firearms against Penny.

Mr. Penny has been a well known farmer of Jackson county for many years. He has suffered financially during the last two years. This fall he has been engaged in cotton picking and other odd jobs. His wife and four children had not been told of his arrest and illness late Monday.

Blast Wrecks Section Of City's Water System

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2. (AP)—A dynamite blast roared through the narrow Owens valley today and ripped two sections out of the aqueduct that supplies Los Angeles with the major share of its high Sierra water. It was the tenth explosion in a series rife with court convictions, terrorism, and armed rebellion.

Two sections, about 12 feet long, were blown out of the grapevine siphon, 20 miles north of Jawbone canyon, near Mojave in the desert. Repair men flanked by deputy sheriffs and city police, were dispatched by the Los Angeles bureau of water and power to repair the damaged portion of the 250-mile long aqueduct that brings water to this city over mountain ranges.

Old-Time Wheat Men Wary Of Spectacular Rise In Price Level

By FRANK I. WELLER
Associated Press Farm Editor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Wheat regained some of its old magic to conjure dreams of wealth today as prices closed 20 cents above the season's low for a gain of almost 50 per cent in less than 30 days.

In some quarters the golden grain was hailed as the "leader" that might carry commodities back to profitable levels.

Upturn Too Fresh

The upturn is still too fresh to earmark its impelling force. It seems that professional traders suddenly stepped out on the bull side and found the public with them. Profit-sharing was absorbed without a tremor and deferred futures sold 3 cents higher than the close on Saturday. They fell back 1 cent as trading stopped.

December wheat soared up to 63¼ compared with 44⅝ on Oct. 5, while May changed hands at 68—almost 20 cents more than at the low.

Old-timers don't like these spurts. They prefer a market that backs and fills with sustained upward trend. They've seen it soar too many times to swoop back with clipped wings.

Russia Denies Report

The position of Soviet Russia in the world wheat market is expected to have a great effect upon future developments. A published report that Russia would export no more wheat this year nor next was denied through Berlin.

Behind the advance in prices lies a cognizance of the world trend toward reduced acreage, semi-failure of the American and Canadian spring wheat crops, reduced export stocks in Argentina and Australia, unsatisfactory crops in continental Europe and a reduction of 16,000,000 bushels in the world's visible supply.

Much comment was heard that the farm board may have reduced its holding more rapidly than generally believed. Recent pickup in North American exports and simultaneous declines in shipments from Russia and the Danubian countries were emphasized.

Russia Near 1930 Figure

The Berlin denial said that while the quality and quantity of the Russian crop was under average the supply is sufficient for internal demand and some export.

Russia exported almost 100,000,000 bushels last crop year and so far in this one has shipped more than half that amount.

Considering Russia produced 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1930 to again take the world lead and exported almost 100,000,000 some observers are not content to believe that out of a much larger acreage this year she will export only half as much.

Cargoes Cancelled

Lack of transportation facilities has caused some cancellation of cargoes. Russia never is a consistent shipper. Recurrent withdrawals from export last year led to numerous stories that she had quit but she came back to choke northern European countries with grain. She is currently said to be largely responsible for the fact that there are about 24,000,000 bushels of grain stored in the United Kingdom against 9,000,000 bushels this time last year. Much of this wheat was shipped unsold and is in position to reap a profit on a bull market, clearing the path for further consignments.

The importance of Russian withdrawal lies in the theory that her exports take just that much trade away from American grain. In 1928-29 when the world had a record shipment of 900,000,000 bushels of wheat North America accounted for 538,000,000 of it. That was before Russia got in the picture. By 1930-31 North American shipments dropped to 355,000,000 bushels.

So far this season American shipments have been only 79,000,000 compared with 107,000,000.

GARDEN WINS CITY'S HEART

Artist's Singing Captures Big Audience

By W. L. UNDERWOOD

Representing the Wichita Falls community and the United States at large, more than 1,000 persons accorded respect, then admiration, and finally adoration to a cherished American institution at the Memorial auditorium when Mary Garden, fiery apostle of joyous living, presented a brilliant concert in the opening event of the autumn music festival booked by H. C. Cheshire.

The vibrant, fervent woman to whom the tremendous growth of modern French opera is attributed depend not alone upon the subtleties of dramatic art, passionate depth of tone and ecstatic crescendos for her success Monday night. There was in the parade of musical modernism which she presented unusual entertainment, sufficient for the place which her recital held on an impressive series of concerts. But Mary Garden's singing, her impassioned out-pouring of deep feeling, was possessed of authenticity which called to her support all the glory of a quarter-century's reign as America's foremost operatic prima donna.

Personality Undimmed

The Garden personality is undimmed; the spirit blazes in every tone, every gesture; and the voice—never a great voice in comparison with the mechanical equipment of many other singers—served that unquenchable spirit Monday night to capture an audience which obviously lacked conviction at the outset of the concert.

To the credit of the courageous and fascinating Miss Garden, it may be recorded that she sang Monday night under the handicap of a severe cold. None within easy range of the stage could be unaware of the difficulty with which the throat was kept open, the interference with breathing, and the impediment imposed upon the upper voice. But with the indefatigable determination which has enabled Mary Garden to succeed when every star doomed her to failure, she produced an excellent study of the heavily-modern program arranged for the event.

First and foremost an operatic singer, because of her amazing capacity for living the assigned role, America's Mary has carried the same emotional dynamics into her DURANT, Okla., Nov. 2. (AP)—National guard troops were withdrawn late today from the Denison-Durant free bridge after Lieut. Col. John A. MacDonald, commanding officer, received new orders from Governor Murray.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 2. (AP)—An implied threat that federal troops might intercede in the Red river bridge war in Oklahoma was made here today by Federal District Judge John C. Pollock.

Taking cognizance of the use of national guardsmen by Gov. W. H. Murray who challenges the authority of what he terms "inferior federal courts," Judge Pollock said:

"The state militia is not bigger than the regular army."

"I know of a case in Oklahoma where the regular army was called out. It can be done again," the 74-year-old jurist declared with emphasis.

Action Delayed

The judge refused to act at this time on the request of the Red River Bridge company for an injunction to close the Oklahoma-Texas free bridge across the Red river near Durant, Okla., and to prevent interference by the state of Oklahoma with the company's toll span.

A detachment of troops which went to the martial law zone at the free bridge to keep it open was recalled by Governor Murray late today, since no action was taken by Judge Pollock to interfere with traffic. The soldiers were placed

VOTERS HERE TO DECIDE ON CITY SYSTEM

Emergency Measure Calls For Citizens to Give Their Preference

PROPOSALS HEEDED

Committee's Recommendation for Election Brings Action

An election will be held Dec. 5 to decide whether Wichita Falls shall own and operate its own gas plant and system of gas distribution.

The election was ordered Monday night by the city council on an ordinance passed unanimously on the first reading as an emergency measure.

Decision to submit the question to the voters follows the recommendation of the citizens' gas committee at a joint meeting last week with the council that an election be held.

The action to hold an election is the most recent move in the city government's efforts to obtain lower domestic gas rates here. The fight for reduced gas rates started last spring when the Municipal Gas company, now suppling gas to residents of Wichita Falls, was petitioned to reduce the gas rate from 75 cents to 50 cents.

New Schedule Submitted

The gas company submitted a revised schedule of gas rates at the end of 30 days. Upon examination by members of the city council the proposed schedule of rates was disapproved, because the graduated scale of rates provided reductions only to users of 20,000 cubic feet of gas or more.

Subsequently, the city council passed an ordinance, effective Oct. 1, reducing gas rates from 75 cents to 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. A counter action by the Mincipal Gas company resulted in that concern obtaining an order from the state railroad commission enjoining the enforcement of the city ordinance, pending the commission's investigation.

However, the Municipal Gas company was required to post $60,000 bond for rebates of overpaid gas bills in the event the city ordinance is sustained.

Other Cities Act

While the investigation of the railroad commission is incomplete, with no decision having thus far been rendered, similar action has been taken by other Texas cities to secure reductions of gas rates. It is reported that at Abilene the gas company there has gone to federal court with a petition for an injunction restraining the enforcement of a city ordinance lowering gas rates.

According to V. R. Smitham, city manager here, federal court action by utilities companies are to no avail where the gas system is municipally owned.

For this reason, the city council here Monday night took the action to determine the attitude of Wichita Falls toward a municipally owned gas plant.

Question at Issue

The question to be submitted to voter Dec. 5, for approval, as provided in the ordinance calling the election, is as follows:

"Are you in favor of the City of Wichita Falls owning and operating a plant, system or pipe lines, and properties for distributing natural gas to domestic and industrial consumers, providing the cost of said plant, system, and properties is paid out of the revenues derived from the operation of said gas properties and other utilities owned by the city and such cost is in no event to be paid from the proceeds of taxation?"

The ordinance states the reason for the calling of the election as follows: "Whereas, the mayor and board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls have endeavored to induce the furnishing of gas at rea-on duty early today in advance of the court hearing here.

Judge Pollock told attorneys for the bridge company and the states of Oklahoma and Texas to obtain a settlement in the state courts at Austin, Texas, of the company's $165,000 damage suit against Texas for alleged breach of contract, and then report back to him.

Murray Replies

Governor Murray, who opened the free bridge last summer under martial law, made a characteristic defiant reply to Judge Pollock's statement. He has contended throughout the bridge controversy that "inferior federal courts" do not have authority to enforce orders when state martial law prevails.

"Yes," Murray said at Oklahoma City, "I admit the Oklahoma national guard is but a part of the United States army and, therefore, a part is less than the whole. But until the president of the United States gives the command, the national guard is under the direct and sole command of the chief executive of the state."

"Luckily, we have a congress with power to impeach for violating the plain provision of the United States constitution."

Judge Pollock overruled a motion for dismissal by W. C. Lewis, first assistant attroney general of Oklahoma.

Suits Go On

Instead, he directed Joseph W. Bailey Jr., of Dallas, attorney for the bridge company, to proceed with damage suits against Texas, and Oklahoma, too, if the latter state is deemed liable for damage to the company's property through construction and operation of the free bridge by the two states. The judge ordered the attorneys to bring the injunction case back to him if the company's claims are not adjudicated.

Oklahoma did not enter into any contract to protect the company's property against competition by a free bridge, and, Lewis contended, had urged Texas not to do so.

By legislative act, Texas has granted the company permission to sue the state at Austin.

War Foolish

Judge Pollock added several caustic remarks about the manner in which the bridge war had been waged. "There is a lot of foolishnees about this case," he said, "and I am getting tired of it. In the end, what is fair will have to be paid. I want this matter of what the Oklahoma or Texas Highway commissions, or both, owe to the bridge company, settled in court."

"There has been too much monkey work about it," the judge added. He explained after the hearing that federal troops had been used at Oklahoma City several years ago during a street car strike.

Rites Held Here For R. J. Smiley

Funeral services for Robert J. Smiley, 74, employe of the Panhandle Refining company who died of a heart attack Sunday at his room in the Holt hotel here, were held Monday afternoon from the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Later in the afternoon the body was forwarded to Hannibal, Mo., where services again will be held. The Rev. W. D. Bratton, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, conducted the services here.

Mr. Smiley was found fully dressed and sprawled against the door of his room by a maid. He had been last seen Saturday afternoon, when he appeared well. He had been afflicted with heart trouble for a number of years.

He came to Wichita Falls from Missouri 12 years ago, and had been employed continuously by the Panhandle Refining company as a pumper.

He is survived by a son, Robert J. Smiley Jr., of Hannibal, and two daughters, both of whom reside in Arkansas.

Du Pont to Produce New Synthetic Rubber

AKRON, Ohio, Nov. 2. (UP)—Production of a new synthetic rubber, possessing several qualities not contained in natural rubber, was announced tonight by officials of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours company at a meeting of the American Chemical society's rubber division.

The primary raw material for the new rubber is acetylene, which requires for its production only coal and limestone, chemists explained.

Commercial possibilities of the product have been established so definitely that the Du Pont company has started building a plant at Deepwater Point, N. J., for its manufacture on a commercial scale.

WICHITA AREA CRUDE RAISED

Conoco, Texas and Magnolia Join Increase

cent top for Oklahoma and Kansas oil and 68-cent top for that of East Texas.

The day was one of extreme activity for the oil industry, with the larger companies holding first to a decision to stand pat, but later falling into line with the advance begun by the Continental Oil company Saturday.

Magnolia Joins

The first of the major companies to post a higher price today was the Magnolia of Dallas, a Standard of New York subsidiary. This company posted a 15-cent advance for East Texas oil to an 83-cent top, and a 13-cent advance to an 83-cent top for Oklahoma oil.

Sinclair followed quickly with a flat 15-cent advance for all midcontinent crude, and late today the two other large Standard subsidiaries of this section took similar action They are the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing company (Standard of Indiana, and the Carter Oil company (Standard of New Jersey).

After hope had been abandoned by local officials of the Texas corporation of Houston that they would be informed of a price increase by the home office the information came through. The Texas was one of the first companies to announce Saturday that Continental's increase probably would be met immediately.

Midcontinent Raises

The Midcontinent Petroleum corporation and the Tidal Oil company were late with their announcements also, word of the advance being issued just prior to closing time.

Other companies posting the higher price included the Empire company, Cities Service subsidiary and a purchaser of about 50,000 barrels of oil daily, the Skelly Oil, Derby and the Kanotex companies. Those that met the Continental increase Saturday were the Barnsdall and Wilcox, of Tulsa, and the Vickers of Wichita. Under the new prevailing price structure Oklahoma and Kansas oil of 40° gravity or above brings 85 cents. Similar East Texas grade is posted at 83 cents. The schedule scales downward to 61 cents for lowest grade Oklahoma and Kansas oil, and 59 for lowest grade East Texas oil. There is a differential of two cents for each degree variation in gravity.

KANSAS PROPOSE TRI-STATE PARLEY

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—Thurman Hill of the Kansas conservation commission proposing a tri-state oil conference at Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 30.

Terrell said he had not decided whether he would attend such a meeting. Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas would participate.

HIGHER GASOLINE PRICES PREDICTED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 2. (UP)—The major crude oil purchasing companies in the mid-continent area swung in line tonight in posting the 15 cents increase for crude oil.

As an immediate result of the increased price, higher gasoline prices were considered inevitable.

Lieut. Col. Cicero Murray, military chief of Oklahoma oil fields, predicted retail gasoline would increase one cent a gallon. The prediction was made on the strength of more than one cent a gallon rise in wholesale gasoline price the last few days. The new tank car wholesale price posted today was 4⅝ cents a gallon.

Oil men were optimistic about the amazing strides toward recovery of the industry which only last summer was in chaotic condition. Southwestern financial conditions were expected to be improved vastly by the increase which—when it becomes universal in the area—will add more than $200,000 to daily revenues.

Another bullish factor in the situation developed today. Many Oklahoma oil producers and royalty owners received checks for oil for the first time since Aug. 5 when Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray closed the flood of oil by military control, an act generally accredited with leading the industry to assert control of itself.

Venire Exhausted In Lawton Death Trial

Westberry, Fort Sill soldier charged with the murder of Homer McFarland, another soldier, Sept. 10. A new venire was ordered to report Tuesday morning. Elections Today Mark Party Crisis ing a state reforestation program. This was expected to furnish a test of the popularity of Governor Roosevelt, who is backing the amendment, and former Gov. Alfred E. Smith who is against it.

Votes Crucial

Politicians have their attention glued to the congressional races and also other races, for they expect them to furnish an indication of the trend for the 1932 presidential election. The Hoover administration and record of the Republican congress are on trial in the congressional contests.

In the old Longworth district the nominees are John B. Hollister, Republican, and State Senator David P. Lorbach, Democrat.

Embracing most of Cleveland, the district is normally Republican by upward of 18,000. In 1928, Longworth carried it by 31,000 majority and by 18,000 in 1926. But last November he squeezed through by a majority of only 3,500.

Prohibition is not an issue as both candidates are anti-prohibitionists. But the depression, Hawley-Smoot tariff and record of President Hoover are dominant.

Upset Expected

The eighth Michigan district, formerly held by the late Representative Bird J. Vincent, also is normally Republican by a large majority, but this year prohibition and the depression are the main issues upon which the democracy expects to make an upset.

Michael J. Hart of Saginaw, the Democratic nominee, is a bitter foe of prohibition. His Republican opponent, Fosso, Edred, is accepted as a dry and he lives in the rural town of Ionia.

In New Jersey the gubernatorial race is between former Gov. Harry A. Moore, Democrat, and former State Senator David Baird.

The nominees for governor of Kentucky are Mayor William B. Harrison, Republican, of Louisville, and Ruby Laffoon, a state circuit court judge.

In Mississippi, the election is a mere formality as Mike Connor won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination which is tantamount to election.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to Allison's Drug Store or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (double strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, cost little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

have a Clear Skin— rich, red blood cells will help you

"I WAS determined to have a clear skin."

"Some one told me of S.S.S. * * * now I am so glad the last pimple is gone."

Of course you want a clear skin. Everybody does. It helps you win and hold friends. It makes for greater popularity.

Whatever treatment you may use for your complexion, remember the important fact that skin health depends upon the right number of red-blood-cells.

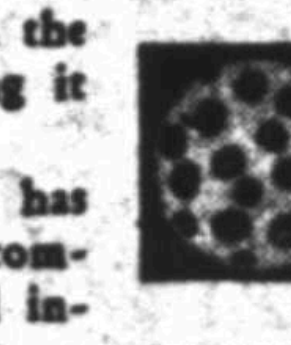
You cannot be low in strength and be happy—let's be happy.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

You should know that S.S.S. has the distinct advantage of being composed of fresh vegetable medicinal ingredients in concentrated form * * * it is Mother Nature's formula.

Why not start taking S.S.S. today?—the larger size represents a price saving.

Builds Sturdy Health



(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

"I have never bought or sold a share of stock speculatively in my life, except one small lot that I bought early in life. I determined to sell all my interests in every outside concern and concentrate my attention upon our concerns in Pittsburgh. Such a course should commend itself to every man. For a business man especially the rule would seem all-important. His mind must be kept calm and free if he is to decide wisely the problems which are continually coming before him. Nothing tells in the long run like good judgment, and no sound judgment can remain with the man whose mind is disturbed by the mercurial changes of speculation. It places him under an influence akin to intoxication. What is not, he sees, and what he sees, is not. He cannot judge of relative values or get the true perspective of things. Speculation is a parasite feeding upon values, creating none."

A DOG was crossing a brook with a bone in his mouth. Looking into the stream he saw, as he supposed, another dog with another bone. Desiring to possess that also he made a snap at it, when lo and behold! the bone he was carrying dropped into the water and straightway sunk to the bottom.

This dog "took a chance" (as some of us humans sometimes do) and lost all he had. Maybe you at some time have grasped at a shadow in the form of a get-rich-quick scheme that promised everything but became a total loss.

COUNTIES MAP ROAD PLAN

Oklahoma District Meets At Frederick

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Nov. 2.—In connection with the plan of the Western Oklahoma Chamber of Commerce to demand improvement of western Oklahoma highways, representatives from district No. 2 met at the Hotel Frederick to list highways they will recommend for immediate improvement.

Tillman, Comanche and Cotton counties compose the second district. These men represented the different sections: C. A. Holding, Tipton; Charles Langston, Walters; S. H. Fiske, Walters; Clarence Cameron, Davidson; A. G. Davidson, L. M. Wagnon, C. R. Chamberlain and J. L. Newland, Frederick.

Work Asked

Their recommendations include: Tillman—Completion of No. 14 from Frederick to Red river south through Davidson; No. 5 from east county line through Frederick and along a new survey, north of the Katy railroad, through Tipton, to cross the North Fork at a point northwest of Tipton; No. 36, from Chattanooga south through Grandfield to east county line.

Cotton—No. 5, across county, east and west; No. 277, across county from Comanche county through Randlett to Burkburnett bridge; No. 32, southeast from Walters, through Temple and Hastings to Waurika.

Comanche—No. 277, from Lawton to Cotton county line.

Road Extension

No. 5 highway will be recommended to be continued on west through Altus and Hollis to the state line, and be known as the Red River highway, unbroken from the east to the western border of the state.

A meeting of the Western Chamber of Commerce committee will be attended at Clinton Tuesday by officers of the district.

ALTUS LISTS ROAD FIGURES

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 2.—Figures demonstrating the shortage of highway funds suffered by Jackson county and nearby counties in comparison with other parts of the state have been compiled by C. W. Snyder, chairman of the road committee of the local chamber of commerce, and well known road enthusiast of western Oklahoma.

"At the present time there are 1,763 miles of paved roads in Oklahoma, of which 132½ miles are in the west third of the state," figures compiled by Snyder revealed. "This paving has cost from $22,419 to $36,247 per mile, the average cost being approximately $27,500 per mile.

"Multiplying $27,500 by 1,763 miles shows a total cost of approximately $48,482,500 spent in the entire state to date for paved highways, and out of this sum only $3,643,750 has been spent in the west third of the state, or a difference of $44,482,500 which has been spent in the east two-thirds of the state.

"The west one-third of the state has approximately one-fifth of the taxable wealth of the entire state, and had the west third gotten the one-fifth to which it certainly is rightfully entitled, there would have been spent in this west one-third $9,696,500 leaving the west third short on this basis of $6,052,750," his figures reveal.

Woman Reformatory Head Hailed as Unique In Post

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Nov. 2.—Heralded as the "only woman prison warden in the world," Mrs. George A. Waters, warden of the state reformatory at Granite, was the central figure at the American Prison congress held in Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Waters, who has 800 of the state's youthful prisoners under her control, believes that reformatory sentences should have no definite time limit, but should be determined by the prisoner's own actions after he is committed.

Mrs. Waters has weathered three turbulent political administrations. She says her aim is to make the prison as much like a normal home as possible, at the same time maintaining a strict discipline.

POULTRY SHOW PLANS LAID

Chillicothe Valley to Hold Exhibit

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, Nov. 2.—Chillicothe Valley association's second annual poultry show will be held in this city sometime during the month of January. This decision was reached at a meeting held at the office of the local chamber of commerce, and plans will be made to hold a show that should eclipse the one held last winter. At that time entries numbered 703, far surpassing in this respect any held in this territory.

Due to the fact conditions in this section of the state have been very unfavorable, the association's officials debated for some time as to whether it would be advisable to undertake a show of this sort, but they were reminded of the fact conditions last year were as bad, if not worse than this year. A great number of farmers were without home-grown feedstuffs, therefore, being forced to buy what they fed poultry in order to prepare them for the show.

This year conditions are better. Most of the farmers have the feed and this point had much to do with the decision. Premiums of about the same nature will be awarded, as that of last year, and farmers are urged to get their stock in readiness for the coming of the show.

Boasting Beneath Moon Upheld as Man's Right

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2. (AP)—A man has a legal right to boast to a girl under the spell of a romantic moon, Superior Judge Thomas C. Gould has ruled.

The judge made his ruling in denying the plea of Lotus Phillips for an annulment of her marriage to Stanley Phillips because, she said, he told her he was prosperous and could give her a number of expensive things, but never did.

"Every girl is promised all manner of things under a soft moon," said the judge. "Not that they expect to take such prattle literally, but they sort of expect the wooer to paint a rosy picture of the future."

HIGHWAY TAX LEVY URGED

Stephens to Join Farm-to-Market Plan

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Nov. 2.—Stephens county commissioners will ask for a special two-mill road levy to be used to match state funds for building farm-to-market roads, according to Commissioner J. B. Hensley of Duncan.

Preliminary plans for the road building program, designed to help relieve unemployment and to provide rural sections with all-weather roads, were outlined at a conference between commissioners and W. E. McGowan, contact man for the state highway commission.

The county levy would raise approximately $30,000 to be matched by the state. Routes will not be outlined until after an appropriation is made by the county excise board. Only Stephens county labor will be used and a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour per man and 50 cents for a man and team will be established. It is planned to shift crews every two weeks to give every one needing assistance a chance to work.

Mangum Kiwanians Elect Officers

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Nov. 2.—Fred W. Miller will serve as president of the Kiwanis club the coming year, having been elected to that office at the weekly luncheon. Mr. Miller, who has served as vice president the past year, succeeds Zearl Lowe as official leader of the club.

Rev. Dennis Pooser was chosen vice president; O. L. Goodman, secretary; Lacy Noble, treasurer and Rev. Nathan J. Salyer district trustee.

The club has accepted a challenge from the Rotary club to engage in a contest in the sale of Red Cross memberships.

Way to Get At a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close; perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like Cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold; whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime?—Adv.

PILES GO QUICK

No Salves—No Cutting

Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist with a rigid money back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and Allison's Drug store invites every Pile sufferer to try a bottle of HEM-ROID and guarantees to refund the purchase price if they do not end Piles in any form.—Adv.

First Methodist W. M. S. Has 'Fellowship' Program

The spirit of fellowship was stressed in the program enjoyed in the mission study meeting of the First Methodist Woman's Missionary society at the church Monday morning when Mrs. C. W. Snider directed the study and interesting talks on the home mission field were heard. Mrs. W. W. Silk gave an inspiring devotional on "Loyalty" and the devotional hymn was sung by Mrs. C. Y. Tully with Mrs. J. E. O'Brien at the piano. Letters were read from Mrs. Stanley Raub, who is ill and from Mrs. C. A. Spragins, who was unable to be present.

Mrs. C. W. Snider opened the meeting, giving an outline and explanatory talks on the new book "Challenge of Change" and presented Mrs. Curtis Atkinson, who was the speaker of the morning.

Mrs. Atkinson of the First Presbyterian church, made a beautiful talk on home mission work, stating that in the present and in the future it means more than else, evangelization, and the developing of the personal Christian character. She balanced the stories of starved personality against souls salvaged in home mission work.

The addition of people from the West Indies and of some 2,000,000 to America's population showed, she said, how evangelism is necessary as a home mission work and closely related to this is church extension. "A complete tabulation would show that all the greatest and influential churches in Canada and the United States began as mission enterprises," it was stated.

Child labor, economic problems, foreign speaking colonies were mentioned as challenges in the home mission field. "The variety of human need must be matched with diversity of mission operation," Mrs. Atkinson said.

Christian Fellowship

Mrs. Atkinson spoke of another work which comes under the field of home missions, the development of a Christian community life through schools, hospitals, homes for underprivileged children and Christian social centers. "Negro education," she stated, "is a drastice need now; 1,600 fully trained men are needed every year to fill negro pulpits. The challenge of change is shown in the work with the Indians. They too are affected by the age. Young people need help in making adjustments."

"The final objective of home missions is to bring the Christian impulse to bear upon broad social and civic questions of today. Home mission work is a human and Christlike relation. Every question of human life should be studied and universal fellowship is the basis of the work," the speaker concluded.

Mrs. J. R. Ogle gave interesting statistics concerning the number of churches in the city and a comparative analysis of work done by the larger missionary societies. The work of the First Methodist society in cooperation with the day nursery, jail, county farm and depot was explained.

Mrs. P. P. Langford took charge of the study session during Mrs. Snider's brief absence and closed the session with an appeal for the mountain people—people of pure Anglo Saxon blood who were not given the opportunity for education and development offered to immigrants.

Mrs. W. W. Cook announced that $1,093.91 had been spent in charity work in one month by the First Methodist Woman's Missionary society.

Luncheon was served by members of circle six in the dining room in the new educational building. The large airy room was filled with long tables seating approximately 150 members and guests. Orange candles burning in green holders, touches of orange in flowers and other decorations, clever menus fitted in book covers of orange adorned with oak leaves and Halloween motifs furnished a brilliant decorative scheme.

Mrs. W. W. Cook, president, presided and following luncheon at which the invocation was said by Mrs. W. W. Williams of Decatur, 19 guests were introduced. In the circle count, the hostess group with 26 members present was winner.

Business Meet

Mrs. John Marrs was chairman of the circle entertaining and Mesdames W. M. Moore and C. W. Snider were presented as chairmen of the dining room and kitchen respectively.

Among announcements made were those concerning the new pastors for Wichita Falls; Mrs. T. C. Anthony, chairman of circle one announced a dinner to be served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock Wednesday evening by members of her circle. Reservations will be made for tables of four or more and there will be tables for any number of individuals of smaller groups.

Mrs. Cook announced the gift of a stove by Mr. Moline of Bailey-Moline for the new kitchen and the loan of another until a large stove, given by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins is placed in the kitchen. She told of the large specially made sink that is the gift of Ray Arnold, the architect, which was inspected by members.

Announcement was made of a review to be given by Mrs. C. A. Spragins at Floral Heights Methodist church Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 3 o'clock when "The Good Earth" will be reviewed.

Regular reports were heard from all circle chairmen and officers in the afternoon business meeting and an invitation from Mrs. N. H. Martin to hold the week of prayer service on the fourth Monday in November at her home was accepted with a vote of thanks.

The meeting of the Federated Missionary society at the First Presbtyerian church Thursday was announced.

Mrs. Cook appointed the nominating committee to select a slate of officers to be submitted to the December meeting as follows: Mesdames C. W. Snider, Walter Daugherty, C. E. Basham, N. H. Martin and J. C. A. Guest.

Wilson Memorial Has Mission Study Lesson

Mrs. Perkins closed the morning session with prayer after which luncheon was served.

The afternoon session was opened with a song followed with responsive readings and devotional.

Baptist W. M. S. Meets For Mission Study Program

Circle 10 of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society sponsored an interesting program at the all-day meeting on "The Crucible of World Destiny." Mrs. E. S. Carter opened the meeting with prayer, and Mrs. Glenn Dixon gave the devotional.

Mrs. L. E. Wells in discussing the two countries, "Europe and Palestine" said that they are compared to a crucible. "For there are many people of various nationalities, different thoughts and different ideals. In these lands burn fires melting and mixing their people, changing their thoughts, testing their ideals and fixing their destiny. Europe and Palestine burn today with the fires of political, economic and religious unrest."

Mrs. A. P. Adams discussing the topic "Southern Baptist Fires," showed how the Southern Baptist European missionary work has spread through Spain, Jugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania and Ukraine. "Just 10 years have elapsed since Southern Baptists began their helpful work in these countries, and many marvelous stories of adventure, achievements, persecutions, perservance, trials and triumphs are told," she said. Mrs. S. E. Carter gave biographical sketches of a western girl in an eastern land, after which Mrs. O. H. Gideon told of a Baptist mother in Jesus' boyhood home. Mrs. Ray Wilhite gave special music.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 by circle nine to 151 members and visitors. The tables were decorated with autumn flowers and each circle displayed garments for the Buckner Orphans' home box except circle three, which had instead of garments, a check for $50. Visitors represented merchants who had contributed to the box and were introduced as follows: Mrs. Albritton, P. B. M. company; Mrs. Stratton, McClurkan's; Mrs. Lowry, Service Cleaners; Mr. Shepherd, Shepherd Dry cleaning.

W. E. Young and J. W. Marshall made talks urging each member to cooperate in the service of the church and especially in the "Every Member Canvass" movement in the week of Nov. 29-Dec. 6. The afternoon session was opened with a beautiful devotional given by Miss Virginia Ely. Splendid reports were made by all officers and circle chairmen.

It was reported that a box and cash offering sent the Buckner Orphans' home amounted to $847.49.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. W. L. Robertson.

Health and Diet Advice

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

The Treatment of Colds

The duration of a cold depends on the patient's vitality and the care used. Ordinarily unless a cold is overcome within the first three days it will last from eight to ten days, but complications such as sinus infections, infection of the middle ear, mastoiditis, or pneumonia may remain unless the proper care is used.

At the first start of the symptoms before the discharge begins it is often possible to avoid a cold by the application of an antiseptic or the ultra-violet light to the posterior nares. But one should also watch the diet carefully, avoiding starches, sugars and milk for a few days and living principally on acid fruits, non-starchy vegetables, and some protein such as meat or eggs. One should also obtain plenty of sleep. When retiring at night it is a good plan to have a glass full of water containing two level tablespoonfuls of soda near the bed. Take a swallow of this before retiring and a sip every time you wake up. If you have not yet developed a cold, you may be able to avoid one this winter if you will take care of your diet, avoiding most of the cereals, flapjacks, and heavy foods which are so often used during the cooler weather, and also avoiding being overtired.

If you already have a cold, the best plan is to assist the body in the elimination of toxins by opening up all of the channels of elimination. Large quantities of water may be taken in order to thoroughly flush the kidneys. One or two enemas should be taken daily to wash out food and toxins from the colon. The pores of the skin may be made more active by the use of several sponge baths daily or through inducing perspiration. The sweating treatment is very valuable in getting rid of toxins which exist during the cold. After taking an enema the patient should take a hot bath for 15 or 20 minutes, then get into bed and wrap the body in clean, woolen blankets. Hot water bottles should be placed at the foot of the bed and several woolen blankets used to cover the patient. The blankets should be tucked or pinned in so that no air enters around the shoulders or neck.

The patient should be given an infusion made by pouring hot water over an entire grapefruit which has been cut in small pieces, skin and all. A quart of water may be used for a middle-sized grapefruit. This steeping process should be done in a glass or china jar or an enamel pan. After the mixture has steeped for 30 minutes, it should be strained and the patient given from four to eight ounces at a time every 30 or 40 minutes. The patient should be induced to sweat during this treatment or as long as necessary until there is no abnormal temperature. As soon as the temperature is normal and the symptoms have subsided, the patient may be changed to warm, dry clothing and kept well covered for several hours.

A cold in itself is not necessarily dangerous unless complications arise, but it is distressing while it lasts. If you have a cold now, you will remember that you became unusually tired before the sneezing started. The unpleasant experience of having a cold should be a lesson to us. Remember that the first lesson of a cold is that you have overeaten and tired yourself too much. Every one has the privilege of making mistakes, but it is not necessary to abuse that privilege. Why not learn from past experiences and resolve to avoid those mistakes which bring on colds!!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Kidney Trouble

Question—Mr. Ed K. asks: "Would you kindly tell me what would be the correct treatment for a young man about 17 years of age who has a great deal of albumen. He has been advised to remain in bed."

Answer—The staying in bed will be of little permanent value to a young man 17 years of age who has such a serious disorder of metabolism as to show a great deal of albumen in a urinalysis. He needs diet and exercise to correct the faulty metabolism which is responsible for his trouble. Keep him on his feet and fighting to get well as this is his only hope. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my article on nephritis.

Articles on Meat

Question—Miss W. T. Y. writes: "I am studying the subject of diet and would be interested in knowing what you have written about the subject of meat. Have you any special pamphlets on this subject which I could obtain?"

Answer—Here is a list of some of the articles I have written on the subject of meat and which are mimeographed for distribution. Send a two-cent stamp for each article you wish and a self-addressed envelope. The Value of Meat in Diet, Health From Meat, Does Meat Cause High Blood Pressure? Lamb and Mutton, Pork Is Not Poisonous, Inexpensive Beef, Cost of High Living.

Soft Soled Shoes Best

Question—Mrs. I. asks: "Are the crepe soled shoes for children harmful in any way?"

Answer—I believe it is a good plan to have children wear any kind of soft soled shoes rather than the stiff soled ones. Their feet will remain stronger in these shoes because the child is forced to grip the ground with the toes more than in the stiff soled shoes. The jar from hard pavements is also lessened a great deal.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has almost a monopoly on the production of helium gas, the non-inflammable, lighter-than-air gas that has made dirigible flights safe from the danger of explosions. Texas gas filled the dirigible Akron in its recent test flights, coming from the plant at Amarillo where the U. S. bureau of mines has 52,000 acres of gas lands in fee or under lease. Cost of producing the gas, which used to be around $20 a thousand feet, is now reduced to around $6.

High School Football

THE football fan who travels long distances and pushes his way through huge crowds every Saturday to see his favorite college football team in action is really putting himself to a great deal of needless trouble.

There is a better game awaiting his attention right in his own home town—not matter where he lives. That game is the high school football game.

The college team, of course, plays better football. It is better drilled, more precise, abler in every department. But the high school game, after all, provides more real fun. There is more enthusiasm there, more excitement, and the casual spectator can much more easily get into touch with the vibrant, intense spirit of youth—which is, when all is said and done, the chief reason for going to any football game anywhere.

For the high school youngsters have not yet had time to become very self-conscious. They take their fotoball with a life-and-death earnestness. The rooters in the stands are not afraid to let a slightly hysterical note creep into their cheers. The players are not yet so well regimented that they are afraid to act naturally. The very band—which, incidentally, is invariably a little bit out of tune—toots with a frantic zeal that no harmonious collegiate outfit can hope to rival.

The high school crowd—to put the whole thing much more simply—is younger; and that, for the adult spectator, is the main thing.

For we who are fully grown do not really go to football games primarily to see football played. We go, even if we hardly realize it, to recreate our own lost youth; to see, once more, the likenesses of the gay people we used to be pouring out enthusiasm with the bright-eyed prodigality that only youth possesses. It is the atmosphere of the thing we want, not the game itself.

And the high school boys and girls have more of that than the collegians. The college lad, unfortunately, is already beginning to believe himself grown up. He is beginning to understand restraint, to think about the impression he is making. His younger brother and sister, in high school, are innocent of all of that. They move with the unconscious, graceful beauty of youth itself, made incarnate on the playing field and in the stands. They can give us more than the collegians can, because they do not know that they have it to give.

International Problems

DISPATCHES from Washington following the Hoover-Laval conversations indicate that certain senators are rather worried over the way in which reparations and war debts have been linked together as allied problems. The traditional American attitude has been that these problems are entirely separate and that there is no earthly reason why a discussion of lower reparations payments should be accompanied by a discussion of debt revision; and these senators are prepared to insist that this attitude be maintained.

Technically, probably, this stand is quite correct. But the developments of the last year have proved rather conclusively that all great international problems stand together. Revise one part of the international structure and you have to revise all. To insist that each issue occupies a separate, water-tight compartment is to serve the best interests of neither the United States nor the world at large.

New Business Era

AMERICAN industrial leaders, according to current economic forecasts, are going to face an entirely different sort of problem during the next decade than they have faced in the past.

For the past quarter-century domestic markets have been expanding at an amazingly rapid rate. Now, however, with immigration cut down, the birth rate lower and the development of the country largely accomplished, they will expand at a much slower rate. As one economist recently pointed out:

"The task of industry is going to be one of organization and correlation rather than one of limitless expansion. It is a task that will require the utmost in business ability."

All of this means that the man with real brains is going to prosper exceedingly during the next few years. The bluffer, the hand-shaker and the high-pressure artist, however, will find the going rather tough.

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear W. W.: Call Mr. Hackett, of Lord, Thomas & Logan, at 10 a. m. . . . If you hear anything about Grant Withers slugging any one at the Lido don't mention it in the col'm . . . Max Gordon and Sam H. Harris, the producers, had you on the pan for hours yesterday . . . Why don't you expose all those radio stars and other headliners who make song writers split royalties with them, and also put their names on the songs they never write—to get them to sing them? . . . Great story there—about this racket. It's a shame, too . . . The radio officials have finally broken up the Russ Colombo-Dorothy ("Follies") Dell romance for the good of the singer . . . Seems they told her that they want Russ to be seen with society debs and not Follies dollies . . . That's also a shame . . . She really loves Russ and he goes for her, too. . . . All I say is this: If he really cares about her he'll tell them all to go to youknowwhere . . . You talked too loud at the last broadcast, tone it down . . . George M. Cohan says be sure and be at the Madison Sq. garden Sunday night for the Friars' greatest carnival and wrestling show . . . I assured him you would be.

I was sitting at the table next to Lew Brown and Irving Caesar at Moore's last night, and did they have Harry Richman on the pan, oh, boy! . . . Lew said that he made Harry what he is today, etc. . . . That's Broadway, huh? . . . Understand Jimmy Walker danced so many fox trots with Jose Laval at the Casino the other night that the Ile de France was held up for hours . . . Jimmy said he accomplished more in two fox trots with Jose than her father did with Hoover in three days . . . Tell Rian James there is a glaring boner in his book, "Love Is a Racket" . . . He puts the Millionaires' club in the middle of Central park at 60th St. and 6th Ave. . . . You're invited to a party in Jack Oakie's honor tonight—two girls for every man! . . . Did you hear the gag:- "This week East Wind—next week Ed Wynn!"

Incidentally, they say that Ed Wynn has changed so many in his cast that he is considering changing himself! . . . There is a wild rumor around that Greneker of the Shubert press dep't is on the way out—this is untrue . . . This Ruth Judd, held for the murder of those two women, has a name similar to two other murderers—Ruth Snyder—Judd Gray . . . Oh, I'll improve, I'll improve! . . . When am I ever going to see you? . . . F. P. A. and others picked on the "illiteracy" that has crept into songs . . . They point out that in the ditty, "Life Is Just a Bowl o' Cherries," the song fashioners wrote it, "Don't take it serious" . . . This is not the fault of the song writer, at all . . . It is the fault of a Yale man named Rudy Vallee, who insists upon singing it in his own way: "Don't take it serious" . . . The lyric reads: "Don't make it serious." . . . Are you going to cover the Galsworthy play?

That Walter Lissburger, 54, who married that Wilson woman the other day is the same fellow who got influential friends to complain to the boss last year when you so predicted . . . One of the better-known advertising heads and the bride are plotting Renotoriety, and he hopped to Europe to be on the same ship with her and try to reconcile matters . . . No could do . . . Did Madame Wallace, the lion tamer thank you for being her press agent? . . . Your one line in diversion seekers Monday got her reams of space and pix the following day in nearly all the rags . . . What well-known comedian owes one-half million smackers to what trust company? . . . They say that Bert Lahr and Lou Holz are feuding—because Lou is supposed to have cracked that Bert is only a "situation comic" . . . The reason Lyda Roberti screeched so at the Mayfair was that Earl Carroll thought she could take it, having had so much experience in eight weeks at the Palace with Holtz . . . Lyda screamed so—that Earl got scared and apologized right then and there.

Police Dep't sore about you tipping that line about the youknowwhat—said they are working to round up the entire group of conspirators, so please lay off . . . EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE CIRCUS MAN WHO NEVER SAW A CIRCUS—Mr. Charles R. Hutchinson, now treasurer of the Ringling Brothers & Barnum Bailey combined shows, has spent the last 35 years traveling under the big top, but he has never seen the entire show. He explains that, being an official of the organization, he is never free even to take an afternoon off, and the most he has seen of the circus is an occasional act as he passed through the tent. The circus is now at the winter headquaters, Sarasota, Fla.

A FIRE THAT DID NOT MELT ICE—When the ice house at Big Lake, Minn., burned recently a strange sight was revealed. After the flames had died out, and the wooden wells of the building had disappeared, the thousands of ice blocks were found to be standing in frozen columns, only slightly rounded off at the corners. The reason the ice did not melt is because the heat, though terrific, was only momentary, and it takes considerable time for it to penetrate the sawdust insulation.

THE GIRL WHO WON

By May Christie

Young and vivacious Nollie Day, public stenographer at an exclusive New York hotel, is befriended by the wealthy Mrs. Judson, a widow. One evening, Nollie goes to the theater in place of Mrs. Judson, where she meets handsome Tony O'Brien. She reveals her own identity but Tony does not hear her. Later in the evening she refrains from repeating her explanation for fear that Tony would lose interest when he learned the truth. Next day, Tony telephones and learns Mrs. Judson has gone abroad. Disbelieving the report, he comes to the hotel. He looks at Nollie without recognition but she believes it is because he has discovered her masquerade. Before Nollie can reach him, he disappears. Nollie secures a new position as secretary to Jack Brilling of Galbraith & Co. Miss Galbraith, Brilling's fiancee is jealous when Brilling takes Nollie to dinner and warns Nollie against overstepping. Brilling tells Nollie he loves her.

Miss Galbraith enters the office just as Nollie frees herself from Brilling's embrace. Nollie is discharged.

Mrs. Judson gives Nollie a letter Tony had written her abroad. Intending to help Nollie and set the matter straight, she phones Tony to learn he has left on a vacation.

Mrs. Judson asks Nollie to become her secretary and visit her ranch.

Nollie accompanies Mrs. Judson to a garden party and meets Rhoda Vans.

CHAPTER

Tony O'Brien stepped ashore from the canoe with Nollie.

He wasn't pleased at the arrival of these people in his heart. But he hid his chagrin, agreeably.

He doffed the funny old fishing hat he wore. He said, with exaggerated bow: "Welcome to our city!"

"So this is your domain, is it?" Madeleine extended her hand to him, ignoring Nollie.

She said: "Ted White is beauing us around. Jack itsn't here, is he?"

"No. We haven't seen your bridegroom. Hello, there Ted? Hello Rhoda."

He turned to Nollie, said: "Do you know Jack Brilling's wife?"

Madeline bowed frigidly.

But Nollie's gaze wasn't on Madeline, disagreeable as it was to meet her again. Beyond her, Nollie was looking with a strange an almost frightened look at the man in the party.

Now Tony loathed Ted White. What on earth did the rotter mean by staring so impertinently, and with that strange smile on his lips, at Nollie?

"This young lady and I have met before. Perhaps in not quite such pleasant circumstances!" White was saying slowly and deliberately.

The drinks were in his head. They gave him daring.

It was the same young girl he had met some months ago in the apartment of the Broadway showgirl and cocotte . . . one "Daffy."

He had tried to kiss this child, to make violent love to her.

And she had struck him in the face. The bridgework in the front of his mouth bore testimony.

What a hell-cat she had been! He had tried to discover her name, her whereabouts, so as to get even with her . . .

For Ted White was vindicative, and was capable of harboring a grudge for months and even years.

How dare this chit repulse him so, and with such violence?

Now fate had let them meet again. This was his moment.

Would she acknowledge having met him?

Or would she repudiate it?

She had turned white. Her hands, as she pushed back the hair from her face, were shaking.

Like a trapped animal she looked. That was obvious to all of them.

"Don't you remember me? We were all having drinks galore in the apartment of Daffy Delatour on 50th and Broadway? Then you went in the bedroom—" —and Ted White broke off, smiling at her meaningly.

"Daffy Delatour? The woman Goldstein kept. The woman even the police couldn't protect, because the gangsters were after her?" shrilled Rhoda.

"Yes." Ted White kept his eyes fixed on Nollie. "Surely you remember meeting me in the Daffy's apartment?"

That leering face that she had struck! He had followed her into the bedroom and made as though to attack her . . .

And she struck out wildly, recklessly, terrified of the man and her surroundings!

But how explain it all? No one would believe it, least of all these antagonistic women . . .

The bridge-work in the front of his mouth that her blow had been responsible for . . . she could see those false teeth of his prominent in the sunshine.

But what would Tony think . . . believe? How could she possibly vindicate herself?

She loved him so. He knew so little of her, really. And he was wonderful . . . had such high standards.

When an Irishman falls in love—she'd heard it often and now she knew that it was, so—he sets his woman on a pedestal.

"Daffy Delatour on 50th and Broadway!" The very sound of it was incongruous . . .

She took her resolution. For the first time in her life she lied deliberately.

"You have mistaken me for someone else. I know no one of the name of Daffy Delatour," Nollie said slowly.

"But yes. You are the girl. And I can prove it too. Your first name is Lollie—or is it Trollie?"

"Trollop is right!" said Madeline, sotto voice.

Tony didn't hear this, luckily.

But Nollie did. She put her chin up and she faced her tormentors resolutely.

"You are mistaken in thinking you have ever met me before. New York is a big city and there must be many girls who look like me," she said cooly and levelly.

At 6 o'clock that day, Tony was in the sun parlor of Mr. Galbraith's hunting lodge, having pre-dinner cocktails with Rhoda, Madeline and Jack Brilling.

This had been absolutely wished upon him. They had been quite offended, they declared, about his desertion of the party the previous evening.

And Tony quite liked Jack, although in his mind there was still a jealous question about last night's denouement.

Nollie had worked as private secretary to Jack, only a few weeks ago . . . and hadn't said a word about it.

WHY?

"Because there was something to hide," an inner voice, whose jealousy he hates, told him.

How strange the bride had been, today! How haughtily she had regarded Nollie!

She was angry at this girl . . . resented something . . . that was obvious.

Then Ted White too . . . the Broadway rounder!

Nollie had denied ever meeting him before.

But it had been a strange, a frightened Nollie!

HAD the girl "a past."

Or were these people unwarrantably persecuting her?

What to think. After all, he knew so little about her!

Love . . . and marriage?

For days and weeks, his thoughts had run on marrying this lovely fragile girl with the sweet, flying charm . . . he had dreamed of the alluring beauty of her.

And how had fate sent all these people here, pointing the finger of contumacy at her?

He loathed Ted White. But he had come here because he simply MUST get to the bottom of this wretched mystery.

Archer County Youth Cleared On Charge of Shooting Step-Father

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Nov. 2.—The Archer county grand jury in a preliminary report Monday declined to indict Nick Willis, 19, on a charge of assault with intent to kill his stepfather, Buck Miller, near Holliday last September.

Physicians removed 48 shotgun shots from the body of Mr. Miller after the shooting which occurred in a pasture. The shooting followed a quarrel over the ownership of some cows, investigators were told. The young man claimed that the stock had been given to him by his mother and that the step-father was attempting to drive them away.

The grand jury was impaneled and charged by Judge Allan D. Montgomery Monday morning. District Attorney Sam Spence and his assistant, O. M. Wylie, are conducting the investigation which proceeded after the first report was made. J. C. Thomas of Holliday is foreman. Other members of the jury are W. O. Davis, Duren Bell, W. E. Arthur, G. W. Baker, G. A. Holloway, D. L. Bishop, Will Mankins, B. E. Cooper, Alvin Parrish, J. M. McCarty and O. M. Smith.

Legion Drive Opens In Altus Nov. 11

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 2.—Members of the James Monroe Roach American Legion post will meet at breakfast on the morning of Armistice day, Nov. 11, to start an intense membership campaign, Jess Cumbee, post commander, has announced.

Although details of the program for the day have not been worked out the post will probably have a memorial program on that day.

Of the 800 ex-service men in Jackson county only about 300 are legionnaires, according to the report of officials. An effort will be made to secure a much larger number as members of the American Legion for 1932, Cumbee said.

Tariff Bureau Urges Cotton Rate Slash

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—H. B. Cummins, assistant chairman of the Texas-Louisiana tariff bureau, predicted today the bureau would recommend tomorrow that substantial reductions be made in cotton rates from Texas and Oklahoma points to Texas ports.

Arkansas rates, which also were considered at hearings here last week, likely will not be altered at this time, Cummins said.

He expressed hope that the new rates, low enough to meet truck competition, will be put into effect "some time soon."

The Rambler's Corner

That Crowell Game

The Burkburnett boys were the sensation of district 3, class B, last week, when they held the powerful Crowell Wildcats to a single touchdown, losing 7 to 0.

Much speculation has been going the rounds ever since, for Crowell and Olney meet Friday at Crowell in the championship game of the district. The Crowell-Burkburnett game had much significance attached to it. Olney drubbed Burkburnett by a top-heavy score, running up over 50 points against the Bulldogs. If Crowell was able to beat Burkburnett by only a single touchdown, then on paper it looks as if Crowell had just as well forfeit to Olney, and cancel that game next Friday.

But the Crowell boys do not have any such intentions, and the comparative scores in the Olney-Burk and Crowell-Burk games mean exactly nothing. Several reasons have been advanced for Crowell's rather weak showing against the Bulldogs. It is perhaps true that Crowell entered that game a little over-confident. They had defeated Archer City and Chillicothe, two standouts in the district, and more than likely they were just a little too sure of mopping up on the Bulldogs.

But it so happened that Burkburnett was at its full strength last Friday, and the Bulldog team that went on the field was one of the most powerful Burkburnett teams in years. We get this dope not from Burkburnett, but from Crowell. Our private detective agency in Foard county reports as follows:

"As for the whole Burkburnett team, it seems that it has been generally underrated. I was told by Burk school officials that this was the first game that the team's full strength had been together. They stated that Bryarly was crippled in the Olney game, even before starting the contest, and was unable to play near up to standard. Ragsdale and one or two other regulars were also out of the contest. The Bulldogs have a real team."

The sleuth goes even further. "In justice to one of the best tackles in district 3, class B, I wish to say that Bryarly of Burkburnett was the outstanding star of this game. It is true that Ragsdale played a good game, and his recovery of a fumbled punt on Crowell's 11-yard line near the end of the game almost meant disaster until John Todd broke through to smear a passer for a 15-yard loss on the next play. Bryarly did all the punting. He punted nine times for an average of 42 yards. He has a remarkable side-wise manner of punting that is extremely difficult to block, in fact Crowell never came near blocking one. His punts are very accurate.

"Punting alone was enough to make this husky, good-natured boy a star of the game, however, he was just as valuable for his team on the defense, and broke up many Crowell plays, often throwing the Crowell backs for losses."

More power to Burkburnett! And we hope the Crowell boys learned a lesson. Burkburnett nearly did to Crowell what Megargel did to Olney in 1929, when the Bluebirds held the Cubs to a 6-all tie. After the Burk game, Crowell should be tougher than ever for the Cubs to whip next Friday.

That game next Friday, mates, will be one of the greatest games in the history of this district, and it will beyond a doubt decide the championship. If Crowell wins, then they will have only Munday and Megargel in the way. These two teams no doubt are capable of as much stubborn fight as Burkburnett, but Crowell, if they beat Olney, should not have much difficulty in beating them.

The game will not be a breeze for Olney's powerful Cubs, you can count on that. The contest will be a battle between a powerful offense from Olney and a powerful defense that Crowell has developed. Crowell has one of the strongest lines that was ever in the district. That line has an excellent chance to stop the Cubs' hefty ball carriers.

It will be the feature attraction of the week for this section, since no class A conference games are scheduled. A great crowd should be on hand. If I'm not knocked down by a car meanwhile, or suddenly thrown in jail, I expect to be present at that game. I have followed the championship drive of Olney's Cubs for a long time now, and I'm anxious to see what they'll do against Crowell.

From Olney last week came the news that Cleve Rue, regular halfback, was scholastically ineligible. He may have been restored to grace in the meantime, but if he has not, then his teammates ought to line up and give him successive boots in the pants. Rue is one of the mainstays of the Olney backfield, and if he is scholastically ineligible for the Crowell game, it will hurt the Olney cause considerably.

Dawgonnit, Rue, why don't you learn how to parse those equations and solve those sentences like I used to—har-umpf—and then you wouldn't be bothered by those profs. Here, I'll help you a little—just run up to your math teacher and say: "The square of the hypotenuse is equal to the centrifugal force involved when an adjective collides with an adverb and Mary Garden climbs the pentatonic scale." Boy, that'll get you over!

C-C PLANS TO START DRIVE

Waco Scribe Hints His City May Get Club

Support of the Wichita Falls Baseball club through a campaign that will start early in January and last until the final out of the season is made, will be one of the major projects of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce in 1932, it was learned yesterday.

Every agency of the chamber of commerce will be thrown into the task of rebuilding the attendance at Wichita Falls baseball games, in order that a season's total of 60,000 paid admissions at a minimum may be realized, and in order that Wichita Falls may feel that its franchise in the Texas league is here to stay.

The sports and recreations committee of the chamber of commerce reached this decision at a meeting yesterday. Plans are to be made immediately for a "boost baseball in Wichita Falls" campaign that will take in not only this city, but every neighboring city in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma, the chamber of commerce realizing that patronage from outlying points has contributed greatly to Wichita Falls' success in the Texas league in the past. While the chamber of commerce does not feel equal to guaranteeing an attendance of 50,000 next season—a guarantee that has been asked by the St. Louis Browns—officials of the organization nevertheless feel that the anticipated campaign will bring to Spudder park next season a total attendance even larger than the figure asked in the proposed guarantee.

Another Rumor

The decision of the chamber of commerce was announced Monday night simultaneously with the receipt here via the Associated Press of an announcement from Waco stating that L. C. McEvoy, business manager of the parent Browns, had obtained an option on the Waco ball park, the story hinting that the Wichita Falls franchise may be moved to Waco.

William E. Huff, Spudder president, pointed out that McEvoy in obtaining an option on the Waco park had done nothing toward removing the franchise from Wichita Falls; that the option probably was secured merely in order that the Browns would have first call on the Waco premises in case it was definitely decided to move the ball club from Wichita Falls. Such definite action has not been taken by the Browns, Mr. Huff said.

The Waco Chamber of Commerce, the story continued, had been asked to guarantee an attendance of 50,000 in case the Wichita Falls franchise should be moved there, and the Waco chamber, like the local organization, was unable to make such a guarantee.

Mr. Huff pointed out that if the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce is successful in its campaign for better attendance next year, there would be little danger of this city losing the franchise, since the Browns already own a model baseball plant in this city.

Jones Writes McEvoy

The sports and recreation committee at its meeting yesterday appointed Dr. Everett Jones to write a letter to Mr. McEvoy outlining the plan of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce to conduct the attendance campaign here, and to assure the Browns' business manager that not only Wichita Falls, but all of Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma will be backing the Spudders next year as never before. Although the nature of the campaign was not disclosed, leaders said that it would be of such an appeal to baseball fans of this section that it would practically amount to a guarantee of 50,000 paid admissions in 1932, and probably would exceed that amount.

The story from Waco last night quoted Jinx Tucker, sports scribe of that city, as saying that the Wichita Falls franchise is already "lost" and that Waco would probably get the St. Louis farm next year.

It was only a few weeks ago that The Dallas News announced that it was almost a foregone conclusion that the Spudders next year would operate in El Paso.

JINX NOW TAKES PEN IN HAND

WACO, Texas, Nov. 2. (AP)—Jinx Tucker, News Tribune sports editor, in a signed story tonight says L. C. McEvoy, St. Louis Brown representative, has obtained an option on Katy ball park here, the former home of the Waco Cubs.

Tucker said, in his personal opinion, that action signified Waco would return to the Texas league.

"It is an odd-on-wager that Waco will get the franchise Wichita Falls has lost, which means that the team here will be operated by the St. Louis Browns," Tucker says.

"The St. Louis Browns have asked the Waco Chamber of Commerce if it would guarantee 50,000 paid admissions for the season if St. Louis would put a team here. The organization answered it would back the project in every way, but the attendance depended on the kind of team St. Louis put here."

Tucker adds no official word was received from the St. Louis management, and President Gardner declined to "make a statement officially but does infer that it is probable."

Pup, Held for Observation After Biting Child, Stolen From Pound

A brindle bull pup which bit a Wichita Falls child last Saturday has been stolen from the city pound, Dr. J. M. Farrell, city health officer, announced Monday.

The pup was taken to the pound to be kept under observation for the protection of the child, he explained. Loss of the dog is a menace both to the victim of the bite and to the persons now near the animal, the physician added.

He asked that anyone having or seeing the dog call the police department. A member of the department will call for the animal and no charges will be filed, he said.

DEATHS

Ruth Lee Brown, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Brown, 413 Adams street, died at the family home late Monday morning following a brief illness of diphtheria.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the grave in Riverside cemetery. The Merkle Undertaking company is in charge of arrangements.

The child is survived by her parents, and a brother Melvin, 2.

Coyotes Start Work of Correcting Errors as New Practice Week Opens

It was a peppy gang of Coyotes, proud of their victory over Electra last week, that took to the practice field yesterday to start another week's training for another gridiron foe—this time the Gainesville Leopards of the class A district No. 7.

With the Electra jinx off their shoulders, the team was scrappy and full of ginger as the new week opened, but they well remembered the many faults of blocking, passing, punting, and running of interference that bobbed up consistently in the Electra game, and they went to work to correct these errors. Coaches Holton and Lindsey had blocking and more blocking, passing and more passing on the program for Monday afternoon's session, and throughout the week the team will be drilled in these and other fundamentals.

After the Gainesville game next Friday, the team plays the North Side High school team of Fort Worth on Armistice day. Then comes the Thanksgiving day battle with Vernon. The Pack has plenty of time in which to present a smooth-working defensive and offensive team in the Vernon game and the Coyote mentors are determined to waste not a minute of it.

The Gainesville game here Friday will be played at Athletic park, beginning at 3 p. m., it was announced by school officials. It was at first thought that the game would be played on the school practice field.

Unless the Coyotes let their enthusiasm get the best of them, and have to buy larger hats, they should have no trouble beating Gainesville this week. The Pack has a much better record to date than the Leopards. The latter team has not won a district encounter in two starts, their last defeat being at the hands of McKinney. McKinney won the game on its home field, 32 to 0 last week. The McKinney third stringers played in the last period of the game, according to reports from Gainesville, and even this combination was able to make a touchdown against Gainesville. The Leopards, according to reports, did not have a defense strong enough to stop the McKinney backs, and the tackling was below par. In beating Gainesville, McKinney registered its first conference victory of the season.

The Armistice day game with the Fort Worth Northsiders will not be such an easy matter for the Coyotes to handle. The Northsiders held Polytechnic of Fort Worth to a scoreless tie, and the Polytechnic bunch drubbed the Coyotes, 33 to 0, early in the season. Northside continued its powerful ways last week by defeating Mineral Wells, 18 to 12.

Waco Death Suspect Held

Youth Arrested Here After Killing Sept. 3

W. C. Beck, about 22, of Wills Point, Texas, was arrested here Monday by Sheriff Perry Browning in connection with the killing of O. L. Jones, Waco automobile salesman, near Waco Sept. 3.

The prisoner was turned over late Monday afternoon to Sheriff Leslie Stegall of McLennon county, who left here to return the youth to Waco.

Sheriff Perry Browning said that he arrested Beck as the latter was standing around an ice plant here. The young man, he said, had been in Wichita Falls two or three days.

According to information obtained from Waco, until now no suspect in the case had been apprehended. What connection Beck is suspected of having in the slaying was not divulged by Sheriff Stegall while here.

Jones was returning to his home in Waco from Dallas on the night of Sept. 3. His car was discovered abandoned three miles from Waco on the Dallas highway at 4 a. m. the following morning. At noon of the same day, Jones' body was found several hundred yards off from the highway. A small caliber pistol was beside him. He had been shot in the mouth.

Beck was planning to get to an Oklahoma town just across Red river Monday night to marry a Wichita Falls girl, according to information given by Sheriff Browning.

October Grand Jury To Report Late Today

The October grand jury for the 89th district court will make its final report late Tuesday, Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney conducting the investigations announced Monday night.

The jury was reconvened Monday to complete its work, with approximately 20 cases awaiting action. Will Daniel, Wichita Falls, is foreman of the body.

Have you ever stopped to think what a real clothing combination I have—a fine suit of clothes at $19.75 and a wonderful overcoat at $19.75, a total of $39.50—just about what you paid for that last suit by itself. All I ask is that you come in and see these values, then I know you will be a customer.

P. S.—Hurrah for the Coyotes—boys you're doing fine, keep up the good work.

REGULAR FROG TACKLE OUT

Boswell's Knee Injury Proves Serious

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2. (AP)—Learning this afternoon that Ben Boswell probably would be out the remainder of the season, Coach Francis Schmidt began making shifts that he feels will offset the loss of the Frogs' all-conference tackle. Only a few changes were needed, however, as Foster Howell again resumed practice and two of T. C. U.'s reserve tackles, Cy Perkins and Jack Shackelford have played such stellar games during the absence of the regulars that the loss of Boswell will not be greatly felt.

X-ray pictures showed today that Boswell's injured knee was even more serious than first thought. In addition to the torn ligaments, there is a broken bone and he isn't likely to get back into the game this season. If he should, it will not be until the final game of the season when the S. M. U. Mustangs come here.

Even though Boswell will be missing, the Frogs have plenty of strength at tackle for the Rice Owls here Saturday afternoon. Howell, after being out two weeks because of a knee injury in the Aggie game, returned to practice and showed no signs of a limp.

FIELD GOALS ARE REVIVED

Try From Field Gained Tie For Dartmouth

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—The fine art of booting the pigskin through uprights, pretty well submerged for the first month of the 1931 season, has been revived by a sudden epidemic of field goals.

October's last Saturday of college football resulted in at least three important victories being gained by field goals, in addition to which they played a big part in Dartmouth's riotous 33-33 tie with Yale.

In the closing minutes of play, needing three points to tie, Bill Morton, Dartmouth back, retreated to Yale's 15-yard line and placekicked the points. Earlier in the game he had booted another placement from Yale's 23-yard line.

Henry Cronkite, Kansas State captain, doubled up during the afternoon against West Virginia, setting the record for the season, a 45-yard boot, as well as making a 30-yard placement. To Bud Smith of Pennsylvania, Charles Barksdale, of Centre, and Bernard Masterson, of Nebraska, went the glory of winning games by way of the boot.

Second honors for the day as far as distance was concerned went to Ray Slack, one of the halfback twins in New Hampshire State's backfield, who placekicked 40 yards to score in a 9-0, victory over Tufts. His twin brother, Jimmy, who missed one earlier in the day, held the ball while Ray took his turn and scored.

Although the field goal itself came back as a scoring weapon, the old art of dropkicking for points was lost again. All of the important goals were placekicked.

Reagan to Play Henrietta B Team

With the annual Reagan-Zundy battle for the city championship less than three weeks in the offing, both teams are bearing down in practice sessions, and getting as much as possible out of practice and conference games that precede the annual classic.

Wednesday the Reagan Redbirds will play the B squad of the Henrietta High school here on Culbertson field starting at 3:45 o'clock, Coach Beck announced yesterday. The Zundy eleven beat the Henriettans here last Friday in a spirited game, 7 to 6.

Friday the Zundy team will go to Bowie for a conference game.

The Reagan-Zundy game will be played on Nov. 20.

Izaak Waltons to Hold Special Meeting Tonight

Members of the local chapter of the Izaak Walton league will meet tonight to make arrangements to entertain Dr. Preston Bradley of Chicago, head of the national organization, and to make plans for the annual winter banquet, it was announced Monday by President Ben G. Oneal.

The meeting will be held at the courthouse, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Bradley is to be the guest of the local chapter some time in December, it was announced.

'Overthrow' of Football in Next 10 Years Predicted by Yale Seer

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2. (AP)—The overthrow of football within the next 10 years as the "mighty monarch" of college sports was predicted today by Dr. William G. Anderson, director of the Yale gymnasium.

For four decades, Dr. Anderson nationally known organizer and educator in physical training, has watched football at Yale rise from a humble beginning to a sport which has brought more than a million dollars annually into the treasury of the Athletic association. And now Dr. Anderson predicts the very sports which football has nurtured and supported will spell the decline of this Croesus of athletics.

"Football," he said, "has its seven fat years and usually seven lean years to follow, you know. Like the Greeks and the Romans, the public likes spectacles. That's why football has grown so popular."

But with the widespread growth of interest among college students in athletics of all kind. Dr. Anderson said, football will be forced to share its popularity with the so-called minor sports. Development of good football teams by smaller colleges, he predicted, also will result in a reduction of gate receipts.

"How will these minor sports be financed if football ceases to draw million-dollar gates?" he was asked.

"As the minor sports grow in interest, they will become self-supporting," Dr. Anderson said. Expenditures for organized sports will also be less lavish.

"We are on the threshold of a new era in athletics. The future will see less emphasis on organized sports and more attention paid to the physical training of the individual student."

Dr. Anderson, pointing out the demand for tickets for football games has decreased, said this was one of the indications of the waning popularity of football.

Dempsey Denies He's Carded With Schmeling

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 2, (US)—Jack Dempsey denied today he had made any definite agreement to meet Max Schmeling, as reported from Berlin, but he said:

"He's the man I would like to meet if I decide I'm fit, for he is a fighter and, besides, he is champion."

A Word to all Contestants

We sincerely thank you for your interest in the "Hidden Quart" Contest and for your entry. Almost all of you understood that the "hidden quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil stays up in the motor, where it clings to, penetrates and combines with metal surfaces—and never drains away. You appreciated the extra advantages of the "hidden quart" to the motorist. And, because so many answers were good, the judges—Dr. Bizzell, Mr. Martin and Dr. Hunter—had a difficult time deciding which were the best.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Cotton was generally quiet today and after holding steady during the greater part of the trading with prices showing slight advances on trade buying and covering, eased off in the last hour.

January contracts declined from 6.76 to 6.67 and closed at the lowest, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 3@5 points.

The market opened steady 5@6 points higher on covering and trade buying promoted by steadiness in Liverpool and reports of a continued firm spot basis in the South over the week-end. The advance encountered considerable southern selling and brokers who frequently act for the cooperative interest were again credited with selling March. The offerings generally were not heavy but seemed sufficient to supply demand and fluctuations were rather irregular.

The strength in grain and the early firmness of stocks had a sustaining influence, however, and prices held generally steady until later in the afternoon when there was a renewal of southern hedging combined with realizing or liquidation. The easier tone of the later stock market also contributed to the reaction in cotton which carried the price of December down from 6.70 to 6.58 and March from 6.93 to 6.82 or about 3@5 points net lower. Closing prices were the lowest of the day.

The comparatively small volume of business was attributed partly to the proximity of the local holiday tomorrow, while the New Orleans market was closed today, and some thought there was a disposition to wait for a better line on the possible showing of the government crop report which is scheduled for publication on Nov. 9. Judging from comment in the trade, there is some uncertainty as to the showing of the approaching crop figures and the opinion was expressed in some quarters that the report my possibly be preceded by further evening up.

Liverpool reported continental buying and covering in that market on easier sterling and said there was a fair demand for cloths and yarns. Exports today 66,326, making 1,801,103 so far this season. Port receipts 66,136. U. S. port stocks 4,357,043.

Futures closed barely steady, 2 to 5 points lower. Spot quiet; middling 6.70.

Wheat and Oil Advances Brighten Day of Uncertainty in Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (US)—The stock market backed and filled but got nowhere today trying to interpret and capitalize for better or worse the between-holiday developments. Wheat continued to provide the sunshine by rising to a new high on market hopes that the Soviet definitely has been removed as a supply factor. That this may be premature judgment was not entertained by the markets in its enthusiasm. Coming on the heels of the revived optimism resulting from wheat's advance, news that crude oil prices in the mid-continent fields are being advanced was doubly effective on sentiment.

It wasn't until late in the session that Premier Laval came to the fore with the reports that he will insist upon a reduction in French payment to the United States corresponding to any possible lowering of German payments to France.

In any event, profit-taking developed on the early advance, since even small profits look attractive these days to the day-to-day traders.

Volume held up somewhat above expectations.

Bonds closed firm, but a sharp break in sterling was rather unsettling to sentiment which had been built up to expect few disrupting developments.

The oils held firm on the price advance. That one of the largest factors in the mid-continent sees fit to advance prices was accepted by the market as convincing evidence of a decided turn for the better, even though the oil trade is not unanimous in agreeing that a price rise at this time is fully warranted. However, the crude oil upturn added fuel to the rising hopes that commodities will lead the march out of depression. Certainly, no lasting improvement will occur unless commodities strengthen. Too many raw commodities are below cost of production.

Railroad stocks continued soft, although the spread of wage-reduction talk is generally interpreted by the markets as a hopeful sign, since it brings into the open the question which has been paramount behind the scenes in investment consideration of the railway securities.

Some of the issues particularly favored by improvement in agricultural conditions were among the strongest performers. Case, after a rally of a few points, closed fractionally up on the day, as did also International Harvester. Both companies will benefit substantially through liquification of the farmer's condition, since both have large agricultural claims which today are badly frozen.

The mailorder companies and the fertilizer concerns also will benefit from maintained betterment of agricultural circumstances.

On the largest turnover for the day Radio-Keith-Orpheum slumped to a new low and its weakness spread to Radio, which is interested in R. K. O.'s affairs. The R. K. O. selling seemed to be of necessitous character and was inspired in part by talk of new financing. It is understood that the company secured temporary credit from General Electric company, which is also interested in the R. K. O. activities.

It was reported that new bull activities are being planned in the oil stocks, as a result of the upturn in crude prices. Standard of California, for example, has won new market sponsors, according to reports, and Standard of New Jersey will share in this sponsorship if the oil market maintains its cheerful developments.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. (AP)—An amazing new record breaking advance in wheat prices today followed reports Russia openly admitted she had somersaulted out of the world wheat market. Russia's withdrawal as an export wheat competitor was asserted to be both for this year and next.

Denials by Russia through Berlin that Russia had withdrawn from the world market were not known until after trading here had ended.

In a series of steam roller rushes to buy, wheat advanced almost 3 cents a bushel, despite immense selling to realize profits, with the market showing a rise of more than 20 cents since the season's low point Oct. 5, a gain of about 40 per cent in values during less than one month.

Wheat closed uncontrolled, swinging wildly, 1⅛@2c above Saturday's finish, corn ½@⅞c up, oats ⅜@¾c advanced, and provisions showing a rise of 2@30c.

Most professional traders were dumbfounded by the overwhelming forward movement of the wheat market. They had failed to gauge beforehand the extraordinary buying which came into action. Such traders had been correct only in anticipating that the volume of profit taking sales would exceed anything witnessed since the market recently began to climb. It had been seemingly impossible, however, for veterans of the pit to divine even an approach to the stunning development that actually confronted speculators, apparently authentic advices that Russian ambassador in Paris said his country had decided to quit dumping of wheat abroad.

Transient incredulity as to the truth of the Russian reports proved costly to numerous bear traders who soon found themselves pinched by the execution of stop loss orders as the market rose higher and higher, with the day's top not reached until the final hour. The major portion of new buying was generally ascribed to outside sources that seldom take a hand in the grain trade. The assumed incentive for this buying was widely expressed belief that European importers had no place at present to turn to for good quality wheat except this country and Canada.

Contributing to the upward momentum of the wheat market were authoritative unofficial estimates that domestic winter crop acreage had been reduced 15 to 20 per cent, and that the crop was in decidedly low average condition. Under these circumstances, the companion breadstuff, rye, emulated wheat.

Provisions reflected the upward course of cereals.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. (US)—There was a general tendency to look for a technical reaction in the wheat market at the close today. While this has been the case several times in the steady advance of 20c from recent lows and locals have gone out of their wheat from time to time, the demand continues unabated and sold out longs have had to replace lines at higher levels.

Siebel C. Harris says: "We, like most everybody else, have been surprised at the power shown by the present market. The whole trade has become accustomed looking for indifference on the part of foreign buyers on advances and a tendency to await reactions before following up with additional purchases. This is the first time in many months that the foreigner has seemed willing to buy on bulges. It is somewhat difficult to adjust one's mental viewpoint to this abrupt change in conditions. There is still a widespread feeling that a normal reaction is overdue. Perhaps we are all under-estimating urgency of foreign requirements."

Rye continued to attract considerable attention. Many European nations are in need of substantial quantities of rye and while it was thought for some time that Russia would supply much of this rye there are reports that the Soviet will sell but little of this grain.

HOOVER NAMES 'APOLOGY JURY'

Committee to Study Ignorance Charge Picked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (US)—President Hoover tonight announced the personnel of the committee which will decide whether he is "abysmally ignorant" of naval affairs as charged by William Howard Gardiner, president of the navy league.

The committee announcement followed swiftly upon the issuance of a surprising statement by Secretary of the Navy Adams, defending Mr. Hoover against the Gardiner charges.

An unusual feature of the "apology committee" appointed by Mr. Hoover was the fact that three of the five members are now associated with the administration. The commission is composed of:

Admiral Hugh Rodman, retired.

John Hayes Hammond, noted engineer and mining authority.

Eliot Wadsworth of Boston, now connected with Mr. Hoover's employment organization.

Undersecretary of State William R. Castle Jr.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ernest Lee Jahncke.

The navy league members on this committee are Hammond, Wadsworth and Jahncke.

The White House announcement said the committee was appointed "to examine the accuracy of such statements of President Gardiner of the navy league as may be readily determined from departmental records."

Adams was particularly severe in denouncing the statement of William Howard Gardiner, president of the navy league, that Mr. Hoover is abysmally ignorant of naval matters. He described this as a personal attack upon the commander-in-chief.

The Adams outburst was considered surprising in view of the fact that the navy league has been the only organization to wage consistent warfare in favor of an adequate navy and to combat the pacifist organizations.

Parade, Barbecue and Football Game On Program for Armistice Day

Legion Arranges Full Program for Memorial Services; 100 Stores Agree to Close for Day

Plans for a full day's celebration of Armistice day on Nov. 11 are now being completed by members of Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion, according to Milton J. Gaines and Post Commander Roy J. Daniel, who are in charge of preparations.

More than 100 local merchants already have signified their intention of closing their places of business at 10:30 a. m. for the remainder of the day, it was said. Efforts are being made to have all remaining business houses join in the agreement to close for the occasion.

Observance of the 13th anniversary of the ending of the world war will begin here with a parade in the downtown section at 11:05 a. m., the hour at which the armistice was signed. Ex-soldiers, sailors, national guardsmen, Spanish war veterans, Boy Scouts, and other uniformed groups will participate in the parade, it was announced.

Women of the legion auxiliary will serve a barbecue dinner at the Memorial auditorium at noon to all legion members having 1931 or 1932 membership cards, and their families.

In the afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, the Wichita Falls High school football team will engage the Northside High school of Fort Worth at Athletic park in one of the feature games of the season.

The day's program will be concluded at 8:30 p. m. with a dance, to be held at a ballroom yet to be announced. Preparations are being made to entertain many out-of-town legionnaires and their ladies.

LEGION TROPHY

Silver Loving Cup Won By Wichita Post Placed On Display

The Danforth Membership trophy, an immense silver loving cup for which all American Legion posts in Texas strove during the past year, arrived in Wichita Falls Monday afternoon to become the property of the Pat Carrigan post following its formal award at the El Paso convention last August.

The cup was given by Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth for presentation to the first legion post in Texas attaining a membership of 1,000 during the statewide membership campaign of last spring. The local post, with J. F. Friberg in command of the drive, pushed its membership to 1,000 in March, and two months later showed a membership of 1,250 ex-service men.

The trophy which was received Monday by Post Commander Roy J. Daniels is on display in the show window of the Gaines Motor Sales company, 700 Scott avenue.

Council Orders Gas Election

sonable rates to the citizens of Wichita Falls: and,

"Whereas, it appears that in order to reduce such rates and furnish natural gas to the citizens of Wichita Falls at a reasonable rate, it is necessary that the city own and operate a plant, system, and properties to distribute natural gas to the citizens of Wichita Falls."

Passage of an ordinance imposing a license fee of $100 upon any person or firm who brings farm produce into this city for wholesale distribution was urged by a group of local wholesale dealers and growers of produce. The measure, it was pointed out, would promote development of the irrigated valley lands near Wichita Falls through protecting local growers and dealers against sub-standard produce from without. The dealers were asked to have their attorney cooperate with City Attorney Thelbert Martin during the coming week in the preparation of a proposed ordinance providing adequate relief. The ordinance will receive the attention of the council next Monday night.

GARDEN WINS CITY'S HEART

infrequent concert programs. Monday night's recital afforded striking examples of the pinnacles of feeling to which she soars, and will be remembered long for that reason. That the kind but hard years inevitably are passing was poignantly sung into two phrases with a fervency which reduced the listeners to breathless silence. The "ghost of memory" which closed Claude Warford's introspective study, "Ghosts," was painted with touching witsfulness in tones of tender reverie. But in the closing number—the Charpentier aria in the opera "Louise"—the singer revived vividly the undaunted young artist who 24 years ago brought Paris to her feet with this same number. In no other phrase was there so much of tenderness, so much of mellowed recollection of countless joys and triumphs, as in the almost plaintive, "Oh, souvenir charmante!" In that short phrase, the whole cycle of Mary Garden's art and life was crystalized.

The characteristic Garden capacity for depiction of mood was admirably revealed in two songs by Gretchaninow—particularly in "The Steppe." That she is not incapable of quiet, reminiscent feeling, however, was ably demonstrated in the flowing legato of Moret's "Reverie."

A piano which served delightfully for accompaniments was provided by Sanford Schlussel. The atmospheric elements of modern compositions, of which the program so largely was composed, were beautifully produced through a polished technique and excellent feeling for the singer's mood.

Pianist Handicapped

In the several solo numbers, however, Mr. Schlussel was materially handicapped by an instrument which refused to voice his interpretations with a satisfactory volume. There was no lack of vigor nor force to support the obvious adequacy of his technique and feeling; but a seemingly muted instrument robbed the pianist's performance of its deserved brilliance.

The second of the autumn festival will be presented on Wednesday night, when Clare Clairbert, Belgian coloratura soprano, assisted by Carl Achatz, flutist, will be presented. They will be followed on Friday night by Doris Kenyon, lyric soprano, and San-Malo, Panamese violinist.

Rites for Vegetable Man Set for Today

The body of Jim Childress, 57, vegetable peddler here for the past seven years who died at his room near the north end of Ohio avenue shortly after noon Monday, was forwarded early Tuesday morning by the Hines mortuary to Sipe Springs, Texas, where funeral services will be held.

Mr. Childress was found dead in his bed. He had been dead about an hour. Judge R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, returned a verdict of death from natural causes. The man was injured about three weeks ago when his horse ran away. He had been ill since that time. A heart attack, however, was said to have resulted in his death.

He came here about seven years ago from Sipe Springs. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. F. K. Staney of Cisco, and Mrs. J. C. Plott of San Benito, Texas. Two nephews, C. D. Staney of Aspermont, and O. L. Staney of Cisco, came from their homes here and accompanied the body to Sipe Springs.

DENVER SPUR RAILS SHIPPED

Officials Inspect Progress At Wellington

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Nov. 2.—Officials of the Burlington system who visited Wellington expressed approval of the progress which has been made thus far on the Denver's extension from Childress through Wellington and Shamrock to Pampa. F. E. Williamson, president of the Burlington lines, and E. P. Bracken, executive vice president, both from Chicago, were in Wellington while inspecting the entire route and are enthusiastic in regard to the project.

According to H. H. Durston of Fort Worth, executive general agent for the Denver, the company intends to push the work on the bridge spanning Red river south of Wellington as rapidly as possible, and it is probable this work will get under way within the next 30 days. Much of the machinery for building the bridge must be moved to the site by rail, Durston explains and for this reason the laying of rails from Childress north to the river will go forward at once. It is planned to complete the bridge by the latter part of January.

Grading Done

A large amount of the grading work along the entire route has already been completed, Durston says. Approximately 40 per cent of the grading in Collingsworth county has been finished, and contractors are also busy in Childress, Wheeler and Gray counties. The work of building bridges and of laying rails will be a much bigger item than the grading work, Durston says, and an even larger number of men will be employed when that work is started.

Durston estimates the major portion of the main line would be completed by July, although it would probably be necessary to complete spurs, etc., later in the summer.

Rail on Hand

Twenty-five cars of rail have already been received at Childress, while piling and bridge timbers from the state of Washington are beginning to arrive in Childress at this time. A total expenditure of $4,000,000 will be made in the construction of this line.

The exact route of the road through the city limits of Wellington, the location of the depot, stock yards, etc., will be announced within the next few days, Durston says. Engineers are now finishing their work in this connection, and the information will be made public just as soon as their work is completed.

Funeral Rites Today For Thomas Marcus, 4

Funeral services for Thomas Riley, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Riley, former residents of Wichita Falls, who died Sunday at a Paris, Texas, hospital after a brief illness of diphtheria, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the chapel of the Hines mortuary.

Services will be conducted by the Rev. J. W. Wright, pastor of the East Side Presbyterian church, in the absence of Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church, who was called away on the death of his brother.

The child's body will arrive here at 12 p. m. Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Riley had been residents of Wichita Falls practically their entire lifetime until six months ago. Mrs. Riley was living in Soper, Okla., while her husband was ill at an El Paso hospital. In addition to the parents, a younger brother, Billy, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Riley of Wichita Falls, survive.

Knob Knockers Take $150 From Safe Here

The vigilance of police went for naught here Sunday night when knob knockers obtained $150 from the safe of the Archenhold Auto Supply company, 1101 Indiana avenue, and failed to open the safe of the Freear Furniture company, 1100 Lamar avenue.

Intruders gained entrance through the window at the auto supply company, and after battering away the knob of the safe, took two cash boxes containing the money. The cash boxes were carried to the alley where they were forced open and abandoned after the money was removed.

Although the safe at the Freear Furniture company was damaged by the attempts to open it, the door refused to open even though the knobs were knocked off. Entrance was gained by way of a fire escape to the fourth floor after a window had been broken.

Public Barred From Nan Britton Trial

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 2. (US)—In the interests of "public morals," reading of Nan Britton's book, "The President's Daughter," was continued behind closed doors today with the public barred.

Federal Judge John M. Killits, who is hearing Miss Britton's libel suit for $50,000 damages, ordered the courtroom cleared, even to newspaper correspondents. He scored the public for its "morbid curiosity" in the details of her book which claims that the late President Harding was the father of her 12-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Ann.

SAFETY WEEK OPENS HERE

Junior C-C 'Vigilantes' To Patrol Streets

The Junior chamber of commerce "public safety week" campaign to decrease accidents was well under way here Monday.

Various methods were being used to call attention of the public to the enormous number of accidents occurring daily, and to impress upon motorists the necessity of careful driving.

Public safety week, Nov. 1 to 7, is being observed here, with the safety campaign being conducted by the Junior chamber public safety committee, composed of Leon Horn, chairman; Irvin J. Vogel, vice chairman; and J. D. Dale, Roy Carter and Howard Renfro.

The week opened here Sunday with announcements being made from the various pulpits of the city.

Members of a "vigilance" committee were stationed Monday at numerous points in the city to watch for traffic violations on the part of pedestrians as well as motorists. The committee will continue to function through the remainder of the week. The license numbers of automobiles violating traffic regulations will be taken by the committeemen, and the owner of the machine will be written a letter in which his attention is called to the infraction and urging him to cooperate in reducing accidents by observing traffic regulations more carefully.

Announcements of the week will be made daily at luncheon club meetings, Mr. Horn said. Efforts also will be made to make similar announcements at city schools.

Safety bulletins have been secured from the National Safety council and merchants of the city will be asked to display the placards in their show windows. Public safety talks will be made nightly throughout the week over KGKO.

A unique method of impressing importance of the week on the public will be in effect Tuesday at the corner of Eighth street and Scott avenue. A loud speaking device has been installed at the intersection and at certain hours of the day all persons or vehicles violating traffic ordinances will be hailed through the speaker.

A prize will be presented by the Junior chamber of commerce to the person naming the most dangerous point in the city, from the traffic standpoint, and with the best suggestions as to how the location can be made safe.

Ruth Judd Traces Life in Phoenix From Her Arrival to Tragic Evening

Incidents Leading Up to Her Meeting With "Sammy" and Anne Revealed in Slayer's Own Life Story

MY OWN STORY IN MY OWN WORDS
By RUTH M. JUDD
(Copyright, 1931, by Los Angeles Examiner and Universal Service)
Chapter V

I am back in Phoenix!

But, oh how different, was my entrance in the city this time from the other times I arrived here.

Thousands of curious-eyed persons were not standing about, waiting to peek at me when I first came to this town.

Thousands were not standing in the hot sun for hours, muttering threats and thinking evil things of me, when I first came here.

I was not then, as they call me now—"the tiger-woman," the "wolf-woman, the "killer"—

I was just a weak little woman arriving for the first time in Phoenix in June of last year, looking for a job and seeking health as do so many others in Arizona.

It happened this way—

My lung was in bad shape and I was afraid that if I didn't take pneumo-thorax that it would come back, tear open and just be hopeless.

In addition, my husband and I were in terrible financial straits—simply terrible.

Go to El Paso

So he and I came from Mexico, where we had lived such a wonderful happy existence—almost like the lives you read of happy English squires and their families—and went to El Paso.

Doctor stayed in El Paso and he wanted me to go home, but we just didn't have the money. I knew that I couldn't go home to my folks so I just took right out really on my way to Los Angeles because I had worked there before and I thought that I would be able to find work there again.

I got a ride with a girl in her automobile from El Paso. I didn't really have enough for train fare, to be frank.

This girl was just a "pick-up," a chance acquaintance. I do not care to mention her name. She is not a friend, you might say. Well, anyway, we got to Phoenix and she and I got a little apartment together that night.

Two days after my arrival there I got a phone call and it said for me to please come over to a certain office in the Westward Ho hotel.

I went right over, naturally, and it was the most beautiful suite of offices that I had ever seen in my life. They belonged to a financier, Mr. Leigh Ford.

His secretary talked to me and she said Mr. Ford's wife was ill—that she had tuberculosis—that she was in the Good Samaritan hospital and that they had heard of me through the registeries and the hospitals.

Hallorans Next Door

Incidentally, right next door to the Fords, lived the Hallorans—Mr. J. J. Halloran who figures so much in the later tragedy—Jack is one of the most decent men who ever lived! But that is beside the point!

I took the position with the Leigh Fords and they explained the background of the family to me—

There were three children in Chicago and Mrs. Ford was an invalid, absolutely bedfast and with tuberculosis. They wanted some one who could cook.

So I took care of Mrs. Ford and I never went in to talk to her or to bother her on any of those things. Whenever I was talked to, I talked. We were friendly. We discussed pictures and she was reading different books. We have always had a good library and I have always read good books.

I didn't bother her because I have had tuberculosis and I know—of course, she didn't know that! I kept checked up and I knew I didn't have any active trouble.

I kept that position with the Fords for five months and they let me stay in their house after I quit working for them.

I met Mr. Halloran through them. Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Halloran were close friends and Mrs. Halloran—I met her just before she went over on the boat and again when she came back—came over to the house often. Jack—Mr. Halloran—was over practically every day and when he wasn't in the house, he was outside, talking through the screened-in porch.

Takes Political Job

In the latter part of August, I heard about a position in the county doctor's office.

I worked there only a few days. It was a political job and when election day came—out I went! I lost the position.

On Armistice day, I applied for a position in the offices of Dr. H. J. McKewan. I got the position the next day so all in all, I was out of a job only four days.

This position was in his downtown office, as secretary and office nurse. It was really a joke, from getting $125 a month at the county doctor's office to only $75 a month here.

Dr. McKewan moved his offices—and that move brought to me the persons most heavily involved in this tragedy—Sammy and Anne!

The doctor is a chest specialist and he moved on Jan. 1 of this year to the Louis Grunow Memorial clinic. He took me with him. He told me, however, that he would have adjoining offices with the head examining man. I mean, rather, the man who did the general examining and he said:

"I don't know exactly what you are going to do. You are going to take shorthand, though. Learn shorthand and learn to take dictation."

"All right, doctor!" I told him.

Old Friend Helps

I didn't have enough money though for my first month's tuition so I borrowed it from a Glendale, Ariz., doctor I had known for about six years. His name was Dr. M. I. Leff and he is the one who wrote the very nice article about how I took care of Mexicans and it didn't make any difference how poor they were.

I was going to pay Dr. Leff back, of course; I think I told him in the next two weeks. But the next payday, I paid him back.

This is what I did—

I worked in the office all day, taking histories and assisting the doctor in the examination room because they always made me be present when they examined a woman patient.

I was working in sort of broken shorthand now. I had started at Lanson's night school. I went three nights a week. The other three nights, I did my uniforms.

There is no chance that I ever ran around with men the way they say. Here was my day—eight hours in the office, cooked my own meals, went to night school, and—in fact—caught up with a class of girls that had started six weeks before I did!

Meets Anne Leroi

Now comes the part of my story that to me is the most dramatic, the most vital, the most tragic—even more tragic than the story of what actually took place in the room when I killed the two girls!

It is the story of my meeting with Anne Leroi! It is the story of my meeting with Hedvig Samuelson. It is the story of our friendship and our happiness with those two girls. Now they call them my "victims."

I cannot think of them as "victims"—only as friends and only of our happy times together. But I shall tell everything—everything!

Even how Mr. Halloran entered my life and their lives and how he became entangled in this whole thing.

I shall tell all this in tomorrow's installment.

GRAFTON RITES SET TUESDAY

Church Leaders of Section To Attend Services

Funeral services for the Rev. L. D. Grafton, 60, brother of Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church here, who died Sunday at his home in Waxahachie, Texas, will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. from the residence.

The Rev. Mr. Grafton had held pastorates in Texas for the past 25 years. He formerly was the pastor of Presbyterian churches at Vernon, Electra and Chillicothe. Members of his former congregations at these places plan to attend services Tuesday.

The body will be forwarded after services to Hubbard City, where he once held a pastorate.

Mr. Grafton had been in failing health over a long period, and retired from active service in the ministry about a year ago, removing from Chillicothe to Waxahachie. He at one time was moderator of the Texas Presbyterian synod, and at another was moderator of the Wichita Falls Presbytery. He had preached here on a number of occasions.

He is survived by his widow; a daughter, Miss Ernestine, a student at Trinity university; a son, Frank Grafton; four sisters, Mrs. Lottie Brown of Midlothian, Mrs. A. T. Fitzgerald of Brinkman, Okla., Mrs. H. N. Nycum of Waxahachie, and Mrs. Annie May Tucker of Brady, Texas; and the brother, Dr. Nat F. Grafton of Wichita Falls.

College Assembly

Four extemporaneous speeches by Junior college students filled the program of the regular assembly Monday morning, after participants in the program arranged failed to appear.

Bernard Baxter gave a specimen of his work in his public speaking class, "Opportunity and Success." Miss Louise Ackerman fascinated the audience with a travelogue speech. Thomas C. Scott aroused the appreciation of the students with his talk on "Mother." Finally, Miss Willie D. Roye spoke in regard to the destiny of man.

Dean S. H. Rider of the college led a discussion relating to pronunciation in the various sections of this country.

Schools Escape Damage

The Halloween celebrations passed off without any damage at all to any of the school property was the report of W. W. Brown, secretary and business manager of the local board of education.

The business manager made the report Monday afternoon, adding emphatically "for which the school officials are grateful!"

Music Club

Music provided from student talent was heard by members of the high school Music club Monday morning.

The program was as follows: violin solos by Arthur Davis, "The City Maid," and "The Rosary;" trumpet solo by J. G. Dixon, accompanied by Marie Dollard; piano solos by Helen Smith; baritone solo by Wayne McReynolds, accompanied by Marie Dollard.

Miss Ruth Lucile Snyder was in charge of the program.

Suspect Arrested On Counterfeiting Charge

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Robert A. Stevenson was arrested here today and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Lockhart on a charge of conspiracy to circulate counterfeit money in connection with operation of a Colorado bank.

Stevenson testified before Commissioner Lockhart that he was approached in Juarez, Mexico, by representatives of a bank who wanted counterfeit money for use at the bank. He said he took $1,000 in American money from the men but denied he ever purchased any counterfeit money.

STAFF NAMED FOR ANNUAL

1931-32 Senior Workers On Coyote Selected

Selection of the active senior members of the 1931-1932 Coyote staff of the high school featured a meeting of the prospective members with Miss Louise Kelly, sponsor, Monday morning. The meeting was for the purpose of organization and introductory work.

According to Nathan Chenault, who is the reporter of the 1931-1932 Coyote staff, has been arranged as follows: Editor-in-Chief, Helen Greene; assistant editor-in-chief, Mary Brown Basham; business manager, Randolph McCauley; assistant business manager, James Lee; class editors, Paul Barnett; chairman, Eugene Harvey, Annette Beeman and Virginia Wiest; organization editors, Laurie Glenn Patillo and Clark Pollard; athletic editors, Bob Shelton and Beth Perkins; faculty editors, Ellen Newby and Beverly Calhoun; "favorites" editor, Joan Burlew; feature editors, Sally Bancroft, Paul Collins, Mary Elizabeth Smith and Nathan Chenault; art editors, Harry Ayers, Loneta Glidewell; humor editors, Billy Bancroft, Edwin Bebb and La Rue Simmons.

All the members so far selected are members of the senior class of the high school. Sophomore and junior assistants will be elected by their respective classes to serve with the seniors on the staff.

Work on the school yearbook starts immediately, Chenault stated. The coupons to be issued students to save on their annuals have arrived and by the time the distribution starts Wednesday, picture taking will have begun. Chenault voiced the opinion of the business manager in saying that this year the Coyote will have more pictures and interesting snapshots than ever before. The whole staff is looking forward to "a big year" and to the most successful Coyote ever published by any senior class of the Wichita Falls High school.

The Southwest will furnish the theme of the 1932 edition of the annual, and scenes characteristic of the pioneers and pioneer days in the Southwest will be typical of the latest local annual.

'Pigeon Dropper' Draws Fine For Theft of $400

Pleading guilty before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Monday morning to a technical charge of theft resulting from an alleged confidence game, a negro man was fined $60 and costs, according to Louis V. Abernathy, county attorney.

The defendant was charged with having obtained $400 from a negro cook recently through the ancient trick of "pigeon dropping." Accompanied by another negro, the defendant was said to have "found" a purse containing a large amount of money while in the presence of a third negro. The victim was permitted to hold the purse, upon his advance of $400 as security to be present when the two finders should return from a conference with a fictitious white employer. Neither the $400 nor the two negroes returned.

City Detectives Luke Hart and O. A. Roberson made the arrest of the man Sunday. They declared that in recent months a number of negroes have been taken in by the same scheme, and that losses probably have totaled $1,500.

SCHOOL TAX PAYMENTS DRAW WIDE ATTENTION

"Quite a few" out of town persons and firms responded with checks to the appeal sent out with tax statements to the taxpayers of Wichita Falls recently, when the crisis in financial conditions of the school system was reached, according to W. W. Brown, business manager of the local board of education.

Many letters from former residents stated they were glad to pay their school taxes to aid the board of education in solving its problems.

Letters and calls from out of town people, especially school officials, have asked "how it was done," in reference to the methods used to draw forth the tax payments from the people. Mr. Brown said that when he answers the questions, he usually replies that the loyalty of the people here saved the situation. He says that they made their homes in "The City That Faith Built," and they have faith enough to pay their taxes.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS PASTOR

Dr. Roy Snodgrass of Amarillo Gives Talk

People of today think too much in terms of things instead of personalities, and in terms of scientific progress without due attention to moral and religious progress, according to Dr. Roy Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian church of Amarillo, who addressed members of the Kiwanis club at the Wichita club Monday noon.

The speaker warned that it is more important that we know where we are going than to see how fast we can get there. The world war would not have occurred, he declared, if [illegible] and religious growth had kept [illegible] with scientific advancement and invention.

"We may be compared to the ancient Greek athletes who ran the torch race: to win, they must have their torches burning when they crossed the line first.

"I am reminded of a book I read recently which related that while the world had progressed in science and invention in geometrical progression, it has moved forward in religion, morality, jurisprudence and statesmanship in arithmetical progression. By that, it was explained, was meant that the advance in morality has been at the rate of 2-4-6-8 and so on. As compared with that progress, that in science and invention has been in the ratio 2-4-8-16-32, and so on. The author declares as long as that comparative rate of progress continues we may expect such catastrophes as the recent world war.

Such organization as the Kiwanis club, Dr. Snodgrass said, assist in bringing about a proper balance of interests by cultivating a spirit of local patriotism. He was introduced by Dr. H. T. Wood.

Jouette Bonner of Tyler, formerly president of the club, was a visitor.

Entertainment for the meeting included tap dancing by Mary Jane and Felix Payne, with Miss Pauline Fulcher accompanying at the piano.

"We'd rather have a Chesterfield and now we'll tell you why..."

Three Stars of
"Ziegfeld Follies of 1931"
Helen Morgan (on piano)
Ruth Etting (at right)
and
Harry Richman

Three mighty good reasons!

"MILDER"—smoke as many as you like! That's what every Chesterfield smoker knows... and it's not hard to prove, either. Just try this blend of milder, riper tobaccos!

"TASTE BETTER"—you'll like as many as you smoke! That's what more smokers are learning every day. Not over-sweetened, but just sweet enough for constant enjoyment. The mild, rich flavor of the finest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos.

"THEY SATISFY"—in every way! The tobacco, the paper, the package... everything about Chesterfield is the best that money can buy or that science knows about!

GOOD... they've got to be good!
