Girls School At Gainesville Cut Off State Budget

COMMITTEE OF SENATE FAILS TO GIVE FUND

$144,000 Appropriation Is Stricken Off Board of Control's Estimates

UP TO COUNTIES

Unanimous Decision Is Reached In Hearing At Austin Tuesday

AUSTIN, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Funds for maintenance of the girls' training school at Gainesville, was denied by the senate finance committee at a hearing today.

The committee unanimously decided to refuse the entire appropriation of $144,140 for the next biennium on the theory that care of the school inmates should devolve up on the several counties and not upon the state itself.

The committee was considering appropriation for institutions as prepared by the state board of control. The board recommended the appropriation including $10,000 for the erection of a fence around the institution, which Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, superintendent of the school, just previously had urged the committe to omit. Instead the committee decided to eliminate the whole appropriation.

Dr Smith has been in charge of the school for a number of years. She refused tonight to comment upon the action of the committee.

Senator John Davis, chairman of the committee, announced that he would submit next Wendnesday the proposition to eliminate the appropriation to members of the committee, who were not present at the meting tonight. It was stated, however, the result of no other conference will change the attitude of the majority of the committee.

VARSITY CLUB HEARS ANGLES OF VINDICATION

Judge Townsend The Main Speaker On How to Whitewash Ferguson

Judge W. J. Townsend in a talk before the University club Tuesday noon at the Kemp, declared that there is only one way to restore James E. Ferguson legally to citizenship, and that is by constitutional amendment. The power of the constitution impeached him, therefore the power of the constitution must reinstate him, for no bill or law can be passed in contravention of the constitution, was Judge Townsend's insistence.

Has the legislature the right to grant Ferguson his citizenship and restore all prerogatives of citizenship to him, was the general theme of the club's discussion.

"I hesitate a little to express my views as to which course to pursue, for as you know, the legislature is preparing action on this question, and the course I suggest might not prove the one adopted," declared Judge Townsend. To my mind, however, "there are three ways in which Jim

HE WILL RISK LIFE TO HELP NURSERY KIDS

Plans Complete For Daredevil Lockwood's Straight Jacket Performance

AT WAGGONER BLDG.

Thursday Afternoon At 5 O'clock Determined As Time For Sensation

What's one life compared to taking care of 45 other lives?

Apparently that's the Koran, Talmud or Oshkosh of Daredevil Lockwood.

Under the auspices of the Federated Missionary societies of the city, Daredevil Lockwood, who last Saturday completed a 100-hour endurance run for the Fritz Motor company in one of their Reo touring cars, will appear Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock in another of his stunts, the entire proceeds derived from a collection which will be taken from the spectators to go to the Day Nursery.

At Waggoner Building.

The daredevil will be encased in a straight-jacket and with 45 strands of rope around his body will be hauled feet first to the top of the Waggoner building, where he will endeavor to make his escape while hanging head down in mid air. He will prove that he not only alone possesses endurance, but that science and skill also play a great part in his life.

Tuesday, the daredevil made this statement—that he always liked to help the other fellow, especially when the other fellow was too frail to help himself—so he has donated his services one hundred per cent for the benefit of the Day Nursery, which is so much needed in the city of Wichita Falls at this time.

For a Worthy Cause.

Lockwood said the other day in visiting the Day Nursery, while a guest of the Kiwanis club, that he would be glad to give his services so that in some way the deserving activities of the nursery may be carried on to greater success.

"I was a boy once myself," said Lockwood, "and I know that had I had a place such as the Day Nursery, my mother would not have had to let the neighbors take care of me when she went down town."

Inasmuch as Daredevil Lockwood is taking his life in his own hands on Thursday afternoon, it is his plea to the public that they all be present and see him perform this stunt of science and skill—for the Day Nursery babies.

Camp Fire to Aid.

Thirty Camp Fire girls in uniform will assist the Federated Missionary society by passing the collection boxes in which the offering for the Day Nursery is to be made by the crowds who watch the daredevil.

Physician Will Attempt To Amputate Man's Foot Pinned In Earth Slide

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—A Chicago surgeon left tonight for Cave City, Ky., to attempt the difficult medical feat of amputating the leg which is holding Floyd Collins pinned under a huge rock in the depths of Sand Cave.

He is Dr. W. H. Hazlett, surgeon on the staff of St. Luke's hospital and was commissioned for the task he said by a wealthy woman whose name he refused to reveal. Her sympathy, he said, had been aroused by newspaper stories of the man's plight.

"The operation would be unprecedented, if successful," Dr. Hazlett said before he left. "It would have to be performed under a local anaesthetic and because of the impossibility of obtaining freedom in which to work it would be extremely difficult."

SUPREME EFFORT IS MADE TO FREE HIM

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 3.—(AP)—What was considered a supreme effort was being made late tonight to rescue Floyd Collins, pinioned in Sand Cave since Friday morning.

A fresh crew of men, headed by William B. Miller, staff correspondent of the Courier-Journal, Louisville, formed a human chain from the imprisoned man to the mouth of the cave and laboriously passed out sand stone, scooped up by hand from around the body of the victim. It was estimated that two bushels of earth had been removed from around him late tonight, the object being to get at Collins' feet, where a boulder has held him almost motionless for more than 100 hours.

"I believe I would go to heaven," he told Miller when the little newspaper man went into the cave for the third time tonight to feed him, "but I can feel that I am to be taken out alive—and with both feet."

TECH CLUB IN TRAFFIC TALK

Whether or Not The Lights Are Operating as They Should Is Discussed

Members of the Technical club, meeting last night at the Wichita Club, digested a round table of tecnicalities, three-fold in subject interest, in which traffic control by the new signal system in Wichita Falls predominated, and softer city water and city planning held close secondary places.

Even the technicality of humor was expostulated by Judge J. S. Dickey.

Discuss Traffic Control

Practically the entire club participated in the discussion on traffic control as now administered in Wichita Falls, it appearing the sense of the membership that left hand turns were essential at places to proper and convenient navigation of the average autoist in the downtown section. This, it was pointed out, would eliminated circuitous travel by an autoist to gain his destination, it being shown that at present an autoist who desired to subscribe for the Record News immediately after buying some cough syrup at the Tenth street drug store would have to travel seven and one half blocks. Geographically the Record News is but two and one half blocks from the Tenth street drug store.

Some members of the club were of the opinion that traffic lights should only be used at times of congested traffic, naming these hours as Saturday afternoons, evenings and holiday occasions. To this opinion, however, strong opposition was voice by other members of the club, particularly W. F. Ivers, who insisted that traffic control was essential from early in the morning until night. Another interesting angle of the traffic discussion was the opinion expressed by some that police officers at light intersections would be necessary probably at all times for two reasons; first, tourists, who were ignorant of the traffic light control regulations and might run afoul of autos already given clearance by the green signal; and second: out-of-town visitors, whose felings might be hurt seriously by either a resulting accident or protestations of autoists who had clearance ahead of them. This latter situation, some members feared, might even keep visitors from coming to Wichita Falls to trade.

Need Lights Elsewhere

It was also brought out that if accident prevention is the essence of traffic control lights, then lights should be strung and operated at such intersections as Eleventh and Brook; Tenth Van dan Buren; Eighth and Brook and many other points out side of the business area.

The whole gamut of traffic control was indulged before this section of the evening's discussion ended. Members talked about the recent parallel parking order, pointing out that where three cars by angular placement could previously be parked, but one can now be halted. This, it was said, works a hardship on the autoist, because congestion results immediately and the driver must either go "out of town" to park his car, or pay twenty-five cents every once in awhile to leave his car in a garage, which ultimately amounts to something like $75 a year.

Angular parking, it was brought out in the discussion, could easily be continued safely on those streets of wide proportions provided regulation was established which prohibited backing out from a parking space

TEXAS PRISON BARBARISM TO BE LAID BARE

Unbelievable Inhumanity Alleged to Have Been Visited on Men

By W. BOYD GATEWOOD.
Record News Staff at Austin.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 3.—Testimony purporting to expose instances of incredible cruelty to prisoners, extending even to the worst form of mutilation, is expected to be offered Wednesday before the joint legislature prison investigatin committee, sitting in Austin.

The last of subpoenas for at least twenty witnesses was issued today for a man whose story of brutality suffered while a prisoner is expected to prove the sensation of the inquiry.

All on Hand.

All of the witnesses summoned, among them other alleged victims of inhumane prison practices, will be on hand subject to call at resumption of the hearing tomorrow, it was said today.

Cases scheduled to be laid before the committee are as varied as they are shocking. One such case is alleged in a letter forwarded to T. K. Irwin, a member of the committee, from a Houston attorney. Its contents are dumfounding and it will be laid before the committee for an exhaustive investigation.

Excerpts from the letter, made public by Irwin, include the following:

"Names are deleted."

"By all means get the statement of how X ..... of ....., a one-year bootlegger, was treated," the letter suggests, continuing:

Bread and Water.

"Dr. Y ..... said nothing was the matter with X's foot when the latter complained. X was put in the dark cell on bread and water for five days, charged with laziness and threatened with the leather (the bat).

"However, while Dr. Y was indis-

KLAN ANGLE IS INJECTED OVER DEFENSE PLEAS

Request For Abatement Of Criminal Libel Indictment Heard By Court

ROOM IS THRONGED

Tabernacle Church Divine Alleged to Have Hurt City Nurse's Character

WACO, Feb. 3.—This city—population 45,000—is but 8.1 miles from the center of human density in Texas.

Right close here came the first so-called "riot" growing out of klan and anti-klan strife, when a man or two was killed and several wounded at Lorena several years ago.

Once a negro was burned to the stake in the city square.

More recently the city became famous or infamous as a result of the wholesale human ravages and murders of a negro, Roy Mitchell.

Not a season passes but there's excitement of one form or another.

But leave it to a Baptist minister Rev. E. Reilly Copeland, to have created the sensation of sensations. Now he is on trial in district court on charge of criminal libel. He got out a circular about local officials; preached on it from his pulpit; and said all manner of things; said some things about a city health nurse; also, and she in the present trial will be the complaining witness. It has taken the town by storm. Never was there so much excitment; not even as was in the days of Camp MacArthur when the 24th infantry (negro troops) started a small riot.

His Charges Denied.

Charges made by counsel for defense in the trial of the case of Copeland who is pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church here, charged with criminally libeling Miss Adelaide Hague, city health nurse, were denied generally and specifically, in the answer filed Tuesday morning in the county court here by County Attorney C. S. Farmer.

The defense at this time is asking abatement of the indictment on the main charge that the indictment was obtained by a ku klux klan conspiracy and that the judge, grand jurymen and states attorney are members of the klan.

It is declared in the state's answer to the petition for abatement that the klan has nothing to do with the case on trial here, and that it has not had anything to do with any other case prosecuted in the county court or any other court of McLennan county.

The state's reply to the motion to abate the indictment asserts that Rev. Copeland has devoted much of his time since coming to Waco to attacking and denouncing Baylor university. It is also alleged that he instigated violent attacks against the Catholic church and the Jewish race; that he denounced the Waco pastor's association and that he has also attacked the Masons and the Knights of Columbus.

Klan Is Injected.

Claim is made in the state's answer that Rev. Copeland, until recently, invired the klan to meet in his church, and that he sanctioned the tenets of the klan.

It is alleged in the state's pleading that Copeland applied for membership in the klan and that he was rejected. What is claimed to be a photostatic copy of his application for membership in the klan is attached to and made part of the pleadings.

Counsel for defense, in filing the motion to abate the indictment, contend that some of the city and county officers, together with Judge R. L. Munroe, of the fifty-fourth district court, their friends, officers and certain members of the klan, conspired to have Copeland indicted. It was further alleged that the grand jury which indicted him, was illegal; that the greater part of it had been selected by klan jury commissioners, and that ten of the twelve members of the panel returning the indictment were klansmen.

The state's answer today provoked a lively legal tilt that consumed several hours this morning.

Objections To Answer.

Defense attorneys objected to much of the answer, and at their request Judge Jenkins ordered the newspapers not to print it, giving as his reason, that it would have the effect of impeding the selection of a jury.

At adjournment every plea except two made by the defendant to dismiss the indictment was denied and one grand juror had been placed on the witness stand. Judge James R. Jenkins, in the county court late today, adjourned the hearing until nine o'clock tomorrow morning.

The two motions to abate the indictment which the court did not overrule allege that County Attorney C. S. Farmer and W. H. Granberry, court reporter, were illegally present when the grand jury "was discussing the propriety of finding an indictment against the defendant."

The court room was even more crowed today than on the first day of the trial, approximately 50 per cent of the spectators being women. The audience remained orderly most of the time, but occasionally a ripple of laughter swept over the packed room, when the lawyers resorted to personalities.

The morning session was featured by a ruling from the court with-holding a part of the state's reply to the Copeland motion to dismiss the indict-

Uniform Dress For High School Girls A Subject For Council Of Mothers

By DESSA KEY.
Woman's Department Editor.

DO you realize that in this city there is an organization—the Mothers' Council—that is doing really big things; things that are helping our city schools? Why, I will have to admit that I didn't know that there was such an organization, and I know that half the people in Wichita do not fully realize what its scope of importance is. It all came up in such a nice way. Tuesday morning I called Mrs. E. S. Goodner, whom I can always depend upon for good school and church news.

Tells About Club.

"Have you any news this morning Mrs. Goodner?" and as it was a little sudden for her she answered, "Let me see, I should know something."

She thought for a minute and then answered:

"I know something that is going to happen Thursday that is important, would you care for that?" I told her that I sure would and she said, "Well there isn't much to tell you now but after the meeting Thursday I can tell you much more, but on Thursday afternoon at the Junior high school auditorium the Mothers' Council will meet. You see we only meet three times a year."

I asked Mrs. Goodner to tell me all about it and she did. She told me that the Mothers' Council had been organized for three years. It consists of the president and two delegates from every Parent-Teachers' association in the city. Every three months during the school year they meet and thrash out all the school problems. They are really an advisory board for the associations. Everything of importance goes to them before it is ever acted upon. Mrs. Goodner told me that they are striving towards having the same things for every school in the city. They are all being run on the same scale.

In Interest of All.

Isn't it wonderful to think of a group of mothers taking so much interest in all the schools. One should think that the mother is only interested in the things that her own child has, but instead of that they are interested in making things just as pleasant for the other child as for their own. It is remarkable to note the unselfishness that is brought out in such an organization. Every one is doing everything that they can do for the good of their child and for the other person's child. The big thing that the mothers are now trying to do is to standardize the high school girl's dress. Even up things for all the girls. The mothers think that there is apt to be an ill feeling among girls of the high school age, when one can afford to wear better clothes and therefore the one that can't feels badly about it. They hope to fix things so that all girls will feel free with the other one.

And so on Thursday afternoon—3 o'clock—they are going to meet—these mothers are; and the program will include: Devotional, Miss Dorothy Burk; vocal solo, Mrs. Hermione Vaughn; talks, "Proper Dress for High School Girls," Mrs. H. E. Wilcox and Professor H. A. Glass. All of the committees will make reports and there will be reports from the different schools.

These Are the Officers.

Mrs. Godoner told me the officers were: President, Mrs. E. S. Goodner; first vice president, Mrs. C. D. Shamburger; second vice president, Mrs. J. M. McFall; secretary, Mrs. D. J. White; treasurer, Mrs. William E. Huff; chairman of the extension committee, Mrs. T. M. Conrey, and chairman of the program committee, Mrs. W. D. Cline.

Members of the Kill Kare club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. George Coleman, 1411 Briton, as hostess. It is a 42 club and this game proved the deversion of the afternoon.

The valentine suggestion was carried out in decorations of the home, the season offering possibilities for attractive presentment of the Love God's annual birthday.

High score went to Mrs. Charles Morgan, prize for which was a hand-painted picture. To Mrs. A. P. Terrill took low score, receiving a boudoir cap asprize.Refreshment plates were passed to Mesdames B. P. Williams, Herbert Brown, Charles Morgan, Dan Blackburn, C. E. Naylor, John Barker, R. D. Parker, Jack Crosslin, A. P. Terrill, W. D. Bolding, T. W. Parker, and the hostess.

Mrs. W. J. DuBois was a guest of the club.

Mrs. Jack Crosslin, on Pearl street, will be hostess to the next regular meeting of the club.

She Danced to The Judge

Her husband was too expensive a luxury: she had to pay him $50 a week salary as her "manager," and support him besides, Olive Ann. Alcorn, actress and dancer, told a Chicago divorce judge. When she was awarded a decree she expressed her joy with a dance in the courtroom, but not in this costume, however.

Enthusiasm Shown In Bible School Work

The regular monthly meeting of the Bible School Workers' conference of the First Baptist church held in the church parlors was attended by one hundred forty-five workers, including about forty representatives of the men's Bible class.

After a luncheon served by the officers and teachers of the intermediate department the newly elected officers of the conference were installed including W. E. George, president; C. P. Mosely, vice-president, and C. D. Whitley, secretary.

Program Is Rendered.

Two special musical numbers rendered by Misses Adelle and Juel Ray were greatly enjoyed. The following special subjects were ably discussed, each discussion being limited to three minutes:

"How to Maintain a One Hundred Per Cent Class," Mrs. C. W. Roundtree.

"How to Get Home Co-operation, and Its Value in Teaching Pupils," Mrs. W. H. Davis.

"What the Post Graduate Courses Have Meant to Me," Mrs. Ralph Hines.

A short address by the pastor, Dr. O. L. Powers, on "How to Win the Lost in the Bible School," was an inspiration to all workers present.

Set Goal At 2000.

The goal set for Sunday school attendance to be reached by May 3, is the minimum of 2000, each department being assigned a definite quota. Under the efficient leadership of LeRoy Moore, the educational director, this goal is entirely possible. The banner awarded the school as a standard school for the year 1925, was displayed. The ambition of the entire school is to attain the advanced or "AA" standard before the close of the current year.

In the training school to be held February 9-13, Mrs. J. M. Kelly will conduct an evening class in the Bible division of the Sunday school manual, and LeRoy Moore will conduct afternoon and evening classes in building the Bible class.

Sponsor the Census.

The conference voted to sponsor a religious census of the entire city of Wichita Falls ,to be taken within the next few weeks. All Baptist churches of the city will be asked to participate in this work.

One of the momentous matters coming before the conference was that of the institution of a daily vacation Bible school, suggested by LeRoy Moore. A committee consisting of Mr. B. T. Adams, Miss Ida Moore and Mrs. Fred Barron was appointed to make recommendations at the next regular meeting of the conference.

Pennies To Make Miles In Contest

WHAT brings greater returns for a little time and thought than to get a group of children interested in something really worth the while?

When one really gets ot thinging about it, it seems only natural that children like to do big things as well as older people. No more enthusiasm can be created among a few children than a hundred grown people for somehow when people get a certain age they seem to loose part of the old feeling of enthusiasm, and have nothing left but the memory of what they did when they were children. Many look back and sigh, "Oh yes I remember when I was a child I felt the same way as my little Jimmy or Billy feels today."

Convincing proof of this is shown in the movement the Yale Avenue Evangelical Sunday school has on foot.

A penny drill has been organized.

Two sides have been formed— the red and the bue.

Each side is striging toward getting more pennies than the other.

Miss Bermah Arnold has charge of the blue side and is now ahead but at the rate the other side is going it can not be said just how long the blue will stay ahead.

Billy Entrekin has charge of the red and he feels confident that the red will soon be leading. The contest will be opened for a year, if at the end of that time one side doesn't have a mile of pennies then the contest will be continued for awhile, but if the mile has been reached then the loosing side must entertain the other side. The contest has been going for about a month and $30 worth of pennies have been turned into the treasurer. Every penny that the children get goes into the penny box. Wih this money the church is going to pay for their piano.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

"IT TAKES A BIG-SOULED WOMAN TO LOVE HER CHILDREN SO WELL THAT SHE DESIRES THEM TO LOVE THEIR HUBANDS AND WIVES BETTER THAN HER," SAYS THIS SOUL DOCTOR

"I have a wonderful wife and an adorable baby, and I'd be the happiest chap in the world if only my mother would abandon her martyr pose and consent to be reasonable and human about things," said a young man to me the other day.

"But she won't. She has never 'got over' my marriage, as she says. Not that she dislikes my wife or had any objection to my marrying the girl I did. Her grievance is just that I am married at all and have set up a home of my own.

"So she is always telling me, and everybody else who will listen, how she misses me and how lonely she is without me, and she bemoans the ingratitude of children for whom a mother sacrifices herself and who go off about their own affairs just when they have got old enough to be a comfort to their parents. And she is always seeing slights where none are intended, and getting wounded over trifles, and weeping because she says I do not lov her as I used to.

"And it keeps us walking on ice that we are continually afraid we will break through; and it makes a strained relationship, because we are always so afraid of hurting her precious feelings, which are strewn all over the place. It is darned uncomfortable and I am fed up with it.

"And it isn't as if mother had the execuse of my being the only thing she had in the world to cling to. She's got father, who is the best old scout that ever lived. He would be tickled to death just to pal around with her, and they might have all sorts of good times together if she would quit shedding sobs of tears over me and stop making herself miserable about nothing.

"For my part, I don't see where the weeps come in. Seems to me that any mother should think herself very lucky when she saw her son married to a woman who was lovable, and loving, and a real helpmate to him, and established in a happy home of his own.

"What else does she want? To keep him tied to her apron string until he becomes a selfish, grouchy old bachelor, and then, when she dies, for him to be left without a single human tie in the world?

"Why, I never see a lot of old bachelors sitting around in a club, boring each other to death and fussing over their food, with no interest left but the stock market and their golf, and with nobody to care whether they live or die, without thinking that they make as forlorn a spectacle as you can find and pitying them from the bottom of my heart. How any mother can want to wish this fate on her own son is more than I can understand.

"My mother complains that I don't love her since I got married as I did before I married, and that she has lost me. That's utter nonsense. In reality, she has found me, and I love her far more than I ever did before.

"Of course, I don't love my mother in the same way that I do my wife. The affection that you feel for your mate is of an entirely different brand from that which you feel toward your mother, and the two not only do not conflict, but each stimulates the other.

"But I doubt if any man ever fully appreciates his mother, and all she did for him, until he has a child of his own and realizes the endless sacrifices and attentions it requires, and feels his heart flooded with that divine paternal love that makes it a joy to give these services.

"Every woman is bound to know that the normal life is best for all of us, and that the man who is householder, and husband, and father is likely to be healthier, happier and more successful than the old bachelor who drifts around hotels, with nobody to work and struggle for, nothing to do but indulge his own desires, and only hirelings to care for him in his old age.

"So why should mothers wail and weep over their children getting married and starting out on the business of life on their own account? Why should they consider it a grievance that their children form new ties? Why should they act as if they had nurtured serpents in their bosoms who had turned and stung them when their children love their husbands and wives?

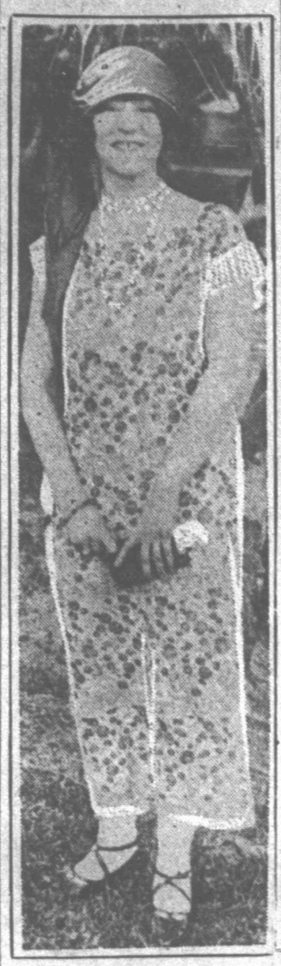

"It's nature for us to grow up. We can't stay little, prattling tots about our mother's knees. We can't remain perpetually golden-haired lads and lassies, hanging on to mother's hands as we walk. We develop into individual men and women, who must lead our own lives, and it seems to me that our mothers should encourage us to stand alone and speed us on our way instead of trying to hold us back.

"Yet I know dozens of mothers besides my own who have neve- 'got over' their children's marriages, and who make everybody concerned miserable by cultivating a sort of morbid, melancholy air, as of one who has been stabbed by the hand she loved. They make their married sons and daughters feel as if they had committed the unpardonable sin, and keep their in-laws in the humble and apologetic attitude of a half-forgiven criminal who has robbed them o ftheir treasures and whose offense they are magnanimously trying to overlook."

"There is no jealousy so bitter as mother jealousy," I replied, "and it takes a big-souled woman to love her children so well that she desires them to love their husbands and wives better than they do her."

EDITOR RECORD NEWS:

At the regular business session of the Young People's Council of the First Methodist church on Sunday afternoon a motion was unanimously adopted that we express to you our keen appreciation of the front page publicity given our work in connection with the first big social affair held at the Wichita Club. We hope to make our work a big force in community welfare and thank you for the fine "push-off" you gave us.

Yours very truly,

MARGUERITE HAYNIE,
Secretary, Young People's Council, First Methodist Church, South.

Bleakley will still head the organization but will now be chairman of the department, instead of the president. Mrs. J. A. Kemp will be first vice chairman, in the place of first vice president. Much enthusiasm was created at the meeting over the Forum and all members of the league are anxious to begin work in it.

Talks on Labor Law.

Miss Bezzie Dee gave an interesting talk on "Child Labor Law." She stated that only 37 per cent of all children in the United States are under 18 years old and at this time a boy or girl is old enough at 18 to know what they want to do. Miss Dee said that she thought that it was necessary often times for a minor to work and that it was almost impossible to make them overwork.

"Not many boys especially, pass the age of 18 without wanting to work," she claimed, "and it doesn't hurt them; chances are that it will help make their future."

Miss Dee thinks that the parents of Texas are capable of knowing whether it is the best thing for their children to work and whether they are able to stand up to what they must do.

Committees Are Heard.

Good reports were given from different committees. Mr. H. M. Larkum, who has charge of the tree sale, sponsored by the Civic league, reported that out of about 100 trees which they bought one-half of them have been sold. She was quite enthused over the ready sale of the trees and stated that after Tuesday they will have hedge plants for sale and requested every one interested to please call at the Moore-Richolt lot and see what the league has for sale before purchasing from any other source.

A representative was present from the colored district and gave a good report upon what the members of the Civic league are doing for that part of the city. There is a general cleanup going on there and plan forming to do some good things with the support of the league. They are asking for a new school, lighting and a sewerage system. Some of the women visited the colored school Tuesday morning and found that the children under the age of 12 years old have no source books of any kind to read. There are over 100 pupils in the first grade of the school with only one teacher.

Plan a Book Shower.

They have text books to study from but no others at all. Any child likes to read something a little different from the book they study from, it was pointed out, so the Civic league is starting a book shower for the school. They are asking every person in the city to support them in this movement. Any kind of a good book, mostly story books for children up to the fifth grade, Mrs. Bleakley says, will be appreciated. Every one is asked to have the books ready and sometime in the near future they will be collected. Announcement will be made as to the date early next week.

Cupid Will Be Supreme When Catholic Ladies Give A Benefit Bridge

By DESSA KEY.
Women's Department Editor.

DID you ever stop to think just what Valentine day means? Isn't it funny when it nears Valentine time all people begin making hearts; pretty red ones, large ones and small ones.

They make them to use as a decoration for some party or something pretty.

Hearts are so suggestive of love and sweethearts and everyone is so willing to use them.

At this time of the year you hear it whispered: "Did you know that young cupid has been shooting his dart around in the neighborhood of Mary or Martha or even Cynthia?"

Valentines have caused happiness galore and also they have caused pain. When one thinks of a pretty red heart they think first, last and always of love but it may be different; it may be perfect love without a crack in the pretty heart and it may mean a heart that is completely broken and battered.

When one is planning a pretty affair where red hearts predominate which of these are they thinking of?

Plan a Benefit

I wondered that when I attended the meeting held at the Catholic church hall last night where the Daughters of America were making their pretty plans for a benefit bridge party they are going to have at the church hall Thursday evening.

Every thought seemed to be of a pretty heart.

When speaking of the decorations one woman said:

"Oh we are going to have so many pretty red hearts. I never saw so many; they are every size and shape."

Another said: "Oh how perfectly lovely; they are so suggestive of lovely things;" a third turned to a dear little unmarried girl next to her who was looking kinda sad and said: "Now is the time my dear, if you are in love with someone bring him to the party and I am sure that before the night is over, and he is thinking of the lovely things he is seeing, and the many nice things he is feasting on he will surely tell you that you are the heart he wants and the only one at that; now wouldn't that be wonderful?"

It Will Be Some Party

Well, forgetting about the hearts for awhile, I am here to tell you that this is going to be some party. It is a benefit party and the money made from it will go toward charity. Isn't that a lovely thing to be working for?

To help those that can't help themselves in a time of need.

I am sure everyone would like to go who can play "500" or bridge. They are such lovely games and with everything so pretty, what would be nicer than to go, and you and all your friends have an invitation to be there.

There will be a friendly receiving line of nice women and they will take you just where you wish to go and they will see that all during the evening you have someone congenial to play with, and you will have an all around good time.

Those in the receiving line will be Mesdames F. D. Keim, A. W. Ayers, C. A. Steelsmith and Misses Violet Hess, Frances Oechsner, Margaret Howe, Viola McCullah, Mamie Sullivan and Catherine Sullivan.

THE Civic League voted to go into the Forum 100 per cent at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the Kemp library. The league will lose its identity as a whole but will go into the organization as the civic department of the Forum. Mrs. A. R.

Luther Hoffman and H. J. Bruce announce the removal of their law offices to 1023-24-25 Staley Building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

THE BAT.

A few years ago a youth named Martin Tabert was flogged to death by a vicious convict boss of a prison camp in Florida. The World, meaning both the New York newspaper and the civilized people on this side of the planet, was struck with horror.

Do you know what brought young Tabert to his cruel, humiliating end?

The Bat.

But since that time there has been no more Bat in Florida and no more deaths like Martin Tabert's. The resultant investigation scoured Florida of such ancient forms of punishment and torture.

Not Texas, however. In the largest state in the Union the whipping post is still a legally recognized adjunct of prison discipline and The Bat as thoroughly authorized as was the use of the cat-o'-nine tails in the days of the fierce buccaneer.

Thus it is over this issue that the legislature will likely find itself most bitterly embroiled and divided, for it appears today inevitable that a clash over T. K. Irwin's bill abolishing The Bat and Claude Teer's bill aimed to retain it, with modifications, will flare up early this week when the legislature starts on its fourth week of law making.

Irwin's bill is now in engrossment, having reached that semi-final stage after it had been subjected to a barrage of proposed amendments intended to trim its sails. Irwin's ready knowledge of all the tricks and curlicues of parliamentary procedure gave him a victory, but one out of which he emerged only temporarily enforced.

On Monday Claude Teer's cohorts are expected to start the bombardment of the Irwin anti-bat bill and it is not at all unlikely that the bill will go down to defeat, adding another blotch on the already gloomy record of Texas on the matter of prison brutality.

Irwin is prepared to fight, however. It is reported he will offer, if need be, a great deal more evidence of cruelty and barbarity than that so naively acknowledged in the latest official report of the prison board, when it advised proudly that:

"During the three years that the Advisory Board has been connected with the prison system, the following barbarous punishments have been abolished: hanging on chains, bodies placed in stretchers, hanging on windows and ladders, the dark cell, restricted diet and the horse.

"All that remains," the report goes on proudly, "is the bat and standing on the barrel. The law creating the bat says that some milder punishment must first be used, and thus standing on the barrel is considered milder punishment. If this is not effective, then the bat is applied."

Irwin, who is not celebrated as being a Yes Man, begs to differ with the report on one or two matters. First, he insists that the horse hasn't been abolished. Nor has the dark cell, more aptly termed in prison parlance, the Black Hole.

"Did the force of that paragraph from the prison report ever strike you?" Irwin asked, "Imagine civilized persons countenancing in the modern period of 1921 such medieval atrocities as hanging men up in chains to punish them, suspending them on window and ladders, starving them in the Black Hole.

"They only beat Martin Tabert to death in Florida and the world rebelled and drove such practices out of Florida's prisons. But many of our convicts have prayed for death to rescue them from further torture."

Irwin insists he has excellent evidence that the practice of making convicts ride the horse still prevails in some of the prison camps unknown to the prison board and contrary to its report.

And riding the horse is excruciating agony, what with the victim being compelled to straddle the narrow side of a two-by-four and remain in that position for hours at a time.

Yet he maintains that the horse is not the terror of the Bat. Few men can endure its torture for even a few lashes without slipping into unconsciousness, it is commonly understood.

To legalize its use in corporeal punishment in these advanced days of humane disciplinary measures is a disgrace to Texas, Irwin contends, asserting that the state is now trailing nearly every state in the Union in the matter of prison practices.

Therefore he is going to either survive or perish on the straightout fight for abolishment of the Bat without any strings or amendments attached to it. And it looks like a losing fight.

Opponents of the bill contend that the Bat's abolishment and the adoption of the Irwin bill would strip prison authorities of all power of punishment. Irwin contends it would not, still leaving the prison authorities various well recognized methods of enforcing discipline.

That there is a political consideration lurking in the background of opposition against the Irwin measure every one familiar with the situation here agrees. It is not so much that the abolishment of the Bat is opposed as it is that certain persons would get a kick out of squelching Irwin, who doesn't believe in being squelched without a struggle.

PLENTY OF GAS IN SIGHT.

There is plenty of gas in sight. Dr. W. F. Schaphorst of Newark, N. J., says those who have made a study of the matter are satisfied that the supply of petroleum is ample for hundreds of years. Now just who is Schaphorst? And how did he go about it to obtain this valuable information?

COTTON.

Now the national chamber of commerce has sounded a warning to the cotton growers of the country and declares the south must awaken to foreign competition. Well, the south produced 12,500,000 bales last year and the world crop was placed at 23,600,000 bales compared with 19,300,000 bales in 1923.

These officials of the national chamber of commerce are confident that the southern grower will be able to hold his own by making a big cut in production costs, this to be done by getting larger yields per acre. Regardless of this large consumption of cotton is expected by the trade in the closing months of the cotton year.

Exporters say that exports for the entire season should reach seven million bales. They say that with such exports in prospect and with American mills, especially southern mills, steadily increasing their activity, a total consumption of thirteen million bales for the season is not regarded as not unreasonable.

Edward E. Bartlett is the president of the New York Cotton Exchange. He is urging federal aid in the cotton industry. He says that in 1921-1922 and 1923 the gigantic sum of two billion dollars in raw cotton and cotton seed was destroyed by the boll weevil and that the two worst enemies of American cotton growing are the boll weevil and poor farming methods.

Furthermore it is his contention that every dollar invested by the federal government in a practical method of eradicating the boll weevil would be returned hundred fold in the tremendous economic saving which would eventually result. He demands immediate action by the congress to aid southern cotton planters and to save the American cotton industry from inroads by foreign competition in the American cotton market.

All these eminent gentlemen who grow cotton in the large cities of the world predict that the carry-over this season will not fall below five million bales and may reach nine million bales. If there is to be a vast surplus on hand then why an increased acreage and why a bumper crop?

American wheat farmers are prosperous because the Canadian wheat crop of 1924 was a failure. If the Canadian wheat crop of 1925 is not a failure then there will be another big slump in the price of American wheat, and should the American growers produce a crop of fourteen or fifteen million bales this year there is certain to be a slump in the price of cotton.

Speaking of wheat the United States and Canada are fierce competitors and Canada is a fierce competitor when it comes to flour. It is announced that the expansion of the flour mill industry of Canada has been one of the outstanding industrial features of the Dominion and the figures show that Canadian flour exports gained 218 per cent in value in a decade.

Canada is on the map, notwithstanding that the entire population of the Dominion is less than that of the entire state of New York. Thank goodness they cannot grow cotton in Canada or the southern grower would have a wide-awake competitor.

CASHING IN WITH COTTON.

Oklahoma is a cotton producing state. In 1924 the yield was large. More than eighty per cent of the crop had been ginned prior to November 15. According to an Oklahoma exchange figured on a basis of $125 per bale, which price prevailed most of the selling season, the Oklahoma crop carried a total value of about $163,000,000, not including the cotton seed crop which was worth $25,000,000 additional. There are no cotton mills in Oklahoma. If the people of that state had as many mills as they have oil refineries the entire crop would be consumed at home.

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE ENNOBLING TOUCH OF DEATH.

Death is the ennobler. Its touch raises us to royal heights. Human nature is instinctively kingly. There is something about every one of us that is divine and royal. We see too much of that which is commonplace and banal. It confuses our judgment and vitiates our relations with people.

Love is given to us as a sort of divine liquor by which to idealize our fellows. When we are in love with a person we see all of their virtues written large and cannot see their vices.

A mother idealizes her child, and no matter what he does nor how low he may sink her love follows him and her care enfolds him.

But the greatest ennobler is death. A woman whose child was sick and whose demise was feared said: "To think how I scolded her for little things! If she gets well from this sickness I will never complain again of her littering the floor or dirtying the windows or soiling her frock. What do all these things amount to compared with the life of my child?"

Our irritation at the actions of those we love speedily passes away if we let ourselves think that we are soon to lose them. There is something in the finality of death that makes us overlook faults.

It is commonplace to say that there is nothing but flattery carved upon tombstones. There is nothing else to carve. All a man's sins and weaknesses are buried in forgotten graves. We only remember his good qualities.

Samuel Gompers during his life had many active enemies. He was opposed all along the line. Many people thought him wrong. It is significant that at his death all criticism was silent and all, including friends and enemies, united in speaking well of him.

This idea is apparent in the proverb, "Speak only good of the dead." We feel it unnecessary to attack one who is forever beyond our reach.

It was said of John M. Siddall that during his life he was known as a brisk, alert and somewhat abrupt man, but when he was faced with certain death he became gentle and a curious note of kindness entered into all his correspondence. He was feeling the ennobling influence of oncoming death.

Dr. Holmes says that the human being is sometimes like a pear which mellows and ripens as its career is closing. We have often noticed that some old people lose their asperity and grow kind and gentle as their end approaches.

William Allen White during Mr. Wilson's lifetime was a vigorous opponent of the president's policies, but after the president's death he wrote a very kindly biography of him.

It will help us all in our dealings with others if we keep in mind that they are mortal, that they live with us but a few days and after they are dead their shortcomings will not matter.

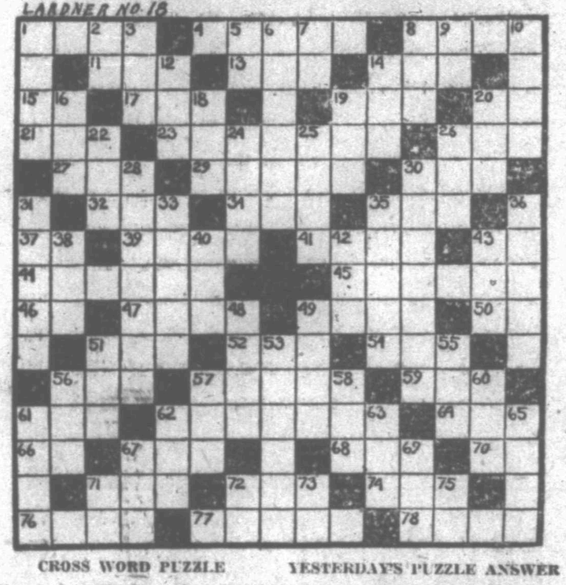

There is no one that has not some faults and there is no one that has not some good qualities. If we look for the latter we shall find them.

CROSS WORD PUZZLE

How to Solve the Cross Word Puzzle

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions.

Irrigation

RAINFALL AND IRRIGATION.

If you should ever visit a western irrigation project during a summer rain storm you would very likely see many of the farmers out in their fields irrigating just as though it was a clear sunny day.

The reason for this is that where a farmer has to pay according to the amount of water he uses, it pays him to irrigate during a rain. Evaporation losses are very much less than when the air is dry and the sun is shining.

You might think it is a great waste of water to irrigate during or right after a rain, but the fact is that few rains unless long continued will supply as much moisture to the land as even a light irrigation.

A three-inch rain is a heavy one in any man's country, but a three-inch irrigation is a light irrigation. It is only a quarter of an acre foot per acre. Most irrigations will run nearer half an acre foot per acre.

Dr. Youngblood in his address to the chamber of commerce seemed to fear that rainfall and irrigation might not mix so well here. We believe that during the summer months of July, August and September the future farmers will pay but little attention to any rains that may occur. They will irrigate just about the same as though no rain fell.

Of course a rain between irrigations will cause the good farmer to cultivate his land an extra time to stop evaporation, and rains at harvest time will be a nuisance.

The main effect of our rainfall in the average year will be to shorten the irrigation season so as to about equal that on other projects further north, because May and June will generally have enough rain to take the place of irrigation.

HOW IT STARTED

"Hokum."

This word, used more or less synonymously with "bunk" or "hocus pocus" is said to come to us from the parlance of the circus, an institution which is not obsolete but which may be said to have seen its best days. Is that because the entertainment offered there is based in some measure upon the supposition of human credulity and gullibility?

Be that as it may, we are all familiar with a circus in full glory, with its sideshows and the old "barker" whose business it was to "hook 'em"—a well known expression in circles where the type of entertainment is such that the audience must be inveigled in! It is from this expression, "hook 'em," we learn—and it is the most reliable and most logical explanation of the word—that we have hokum, applied to the entertainment to which it is was necessary to "hook 'em!"

MATTERS OF HEALTH

Down the valley,
A twinkling light;
A mother stares
Into the night.
The torrents poured,
The lightning flashed;
Down the valley
A doctor splashed.

Nature tolerates no useless thing, and, unless we make better use of our legs and arms, she probably make flippers of them. The whale and the seal are here exhibited in evidence.

They're better, far, who go and go,
When winter weather's four below.
That those who naught but sit and sit
In stuffy air, inhaling it.

Outlaws hold you up: inlaws get it by gentler methods.

The word of three letters meaning a beast of burden is "dad."

Your jack comes in handy to hold up your car or your reputation.

Every woman's heart is touched by a baby and a man with a button off.

What has become of the old-fashioned family man who worked too hard?

If only the declaration had said that all men are born equal to women.

Names mean little. An all-day sucker seldom lasts more than forty minutes.

More Truth Than Poetry

WANDERLUST.

As I sit on the porch of my vine-clad home,
In the shade of the old elm tree,
I look afar through the gathering gloam
To the land where I long to be.
I yearn for a sniff of the crisp dry air,
On the antelope-dotted veldts,
But I know of course, that if I were there,
I would want to be somewhere else!

I have threaded the jungle's darkling trail,
At the heels of a dusky guide;
I have heard the howl of the Arctic gale,
As it ruffled the polar tide.
My wandering steps I have boldly bent
Toward the lowering tiger's den,
But where e'er I was or where e'er I went,
I wished I was home again.

I have braved the storm in a rocking ship;
I have camped on a floating floe,
I have climbed to the mountain's topmost tip,
And gazed on the world below;
I have lived a month with the sun-browned Lapps,
In their houses of walrus pelts,
And found them cheerful and pleasant chaps—
Still, I wished I was somewhere else!

I am yearning today to be up and away,
Where the gannets and mallards skim
The sunlit seas in the gentle breeze,
Past the far horizon's rim,
But I'd soon look back on the homeward track
Where it followed the convex sphere,
And wish I'd stayed in the old elm's shade,
Which is why I shall stick right here.

OBSERVING.

A New York youth lately borrowed $1,300,000 which he never expected to pay back. He had probably been studying a modern history of Europe.

CORRECTION.

Soon Mr. Coolidge's line will be adapted to—
"As ugly as a sailless ship
Upon a sailless ocean."

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

What Today Means To You

By MARY BLAKE.

Aquarius.

Today's planetary aspects are very favorable, both materially and morally. It is an especially valuable opportunity for the launching of any enterprise or the inauguration of any new ideas, provided, of course, that they have, prior to this time, received at your hands careful deliberation and analysis. Forceful action of any description, excepting speculation and hazard, is favored in a marked degree by the signs, and if persistency and courage be shown, failure is almost unthinkable. It is also an excellent occasion for affairs relating to the heart, and especially for the solution of any difficulties that may have arisen, between, either lovers or married folks. The vibrations denote a magnanimous spirit and a desire for harmony and concord.

A child born today will enjoy better than normal health and be very vivacious. Just prior, however, to the period of adolescence it will in all probability experience a physical set back but given proper care and attention, this will not retard in any serious degree its future development. Its disposition will be a happy one and it will radiate sunshine wherever it may be found. It will not probably attain much material success, but this lack will be compensated for by the happiness which it will get out of life and, also, communicate to others.

If today is your birthday you possess very valuable traits. You are very conscientious, persevering, and endowed with a considerable amount of ability. You, however, have one disability which, if you so wish, can be easily remedied: you do not sufficiently appreciate the amenities of life to be, at all times courteous and polite especially to those who occupy a subordinate position.

A cheery word, of encouragement and hope invariably brings around better results to all concerned than either churlishness or a reprimand. The "well done thou good and faithful servant" is productive of better effort than all the criticism that can be given.

You have quite a number of friends who thoroughly appreciate your many good qualities and they are just as loyal to you as you are to them.

Successful people born on this date are:

Josiah Quincy, orator and statesman.
Mark Hopkins, educator and author.
Oliver Ames, merchant and manufacturer.
Thomas Hall, inventor.
Thomas J. Ducey, Catholic clergyman.
John Henry Wright, philologist.

The Story of a Social Climber

by Lucille Van Slyke

He seemed to see her glowing, ardent face lifted to his, almost he heard her voice murmuring: "I ought never to have gone anywhere with him again. I didn't even guess he would be—well, silly, again. And, Oh, I wanted the ride!"

"Poor child!" he thought compassionately, "she probably just wanted another ride!"

Inaction was intolerable. This time he called young Mrs. Adams.

"Perfectly silly affair," that impetuous young woman informed him. "It rained and the car broke down and Dicko had a bit too much. I don't know exactly what happened. Spud and I went to get trouble wagon to dig the car out and when we got back we found Dick smashed up a bit and the girl crying and Mary West perfectly furious. We got to Pen pretty late, it was after 3 o'clock, and Dick came around in the morning, with remorse with a capital R and dragged me over there but we couldn't do a thing with Mrs. Hartwell. She all is for dismissing the girl. And you can't blame her, Mr. Quimby. A thing like that looks bad, you know it does."

He tried to put the whole thing out of his mind—and couldn't.

AFTER an hour's pondering over it he called Mrs. Adams again.

"Sorry to bother you but I'm rather upset. You see, well, Dicko is a sort of connection of wife's family, I do feel responsible. Would you do something for me? Drive over to Pendleton and get Miss Blanchard and take her out to your house until I can get back tomorrow to straighten this mess out?

"Love to," said young Mrs. Adams impetuously. "Stupid of me not to have thought of that myself. You are a dear. You always do the perfectly right thing."

But he did the perfectly wrong thing the morning following when he let himself lose his temper on the start. Nannette's grandmother was never at her best at the breakfast table and she was much ruffled by the proceedings of the previous night. She had tried in vain to get Nannette to go back to the school but Nan had kicked and screamed and refused to go, especially after she discovered that her beloved Miss Rosalie had left there.

The child and her grandmother were bickering together when he walked in with his traveling bags and Nannette fled to his arms, letting out a torrent of explanations.

"All the years that I spent caring for her are as nothing!" her grandmother stormed. "Along comes this silly little school ma'am and completely turns her head! Dick flirts with anybody and you know it and you can't tell me that girl isn't old enough and shrewd enough to realize what's she about. Anyhow she's old enough to know better than to go flying about the country at all hours of the day and night and still expect to hold down her job in a school like Pendleton! She looks as demure as a dove and I daresay she coos like one when she's with you men—I noticed she did that Sunday that she was here. But I'll say it was high time that somebody clipped her wings a bit and I, for one, am glad that Mrs. Hartwell had the good sense to do it."

"It's hardly a proper time to discuss the matter," he raised significant eyebrows toward his daughter.

"And hardly a proper thing to discuss," Mrs. Perry's slipper tapped angrily. "Well, the trouble is over and done with and I'm left with this naughty child on my hands. I'm sure I don't know where we can put her next. This is the third school we've tried and you couldn't count on your two hands all the governesses we've had here, Nannette is so naughty that nobody can teach her anything!"

"Rosy Lee can teach me!" Nannette cried. "Daddy, please send for her! Please let her come here to teach me! I'll be as good as can be! I won't bite my finger nails! I won't be saucy! I'll get my 'rithmetic lessons first! Please, daddy!"

"Harrison!" stormed his mother-in-law, "you wouldn't be such a fool as that I hope!"

CHAPTER XXXVI
No References Required

PROBABLY if Mrs. Perry had not continued her slurring remarks anent the pretty Rosalie her son-in-law would have never given a second thought to Nannette's excitable demand that he engage Rosalie for her governess. Or if Mrs. Perry had stopped to remember that her usual method of managing her son-in-law was to oppose what she actually wanted done she would have discreetly stopped the argument. But she was thoroughly upset.

"A fine lot of gossip would go sweeping about the community if you did a thing like that!" she reged at him. "She is being dismissed from Pendleton's staff for good and sufficient reasons that preclude Mrs. Hartwell's giving her any sort of reference—"

"But great, Scott," interrupted Harrison, "how in the world is the girl to get another position if she has no reference?"

"She may take some sort of position that doesn't—er—require references—" sneered the older woman.

"Daddy, mayn't she come? Mayn't she?" Nannette begged.

He picked his little daughter up and kissed her slowly.

"Nannie," he said soberly, "I want you to go back to Pendleton and go through your classes just as though nothing had happened. Don't talk to anybody about it, don't talk to the other little girls or anybody at all. And daddy will do the best he can about it. Go up and dress yourself for school."

"Will we go get Rosy Lee—" her pleading voice was very sweet.

"Of course we won't!" snapped her grandmother.

The child went reluctantly.

"Will you go along to Pendleton with Nannie?" Harrison asked with frgiid courtesy.

"No, I'll phone them to send over for her," Mrs. Perry decided. "Really, Harrison, I can't understand why you are letting yourself get so excited about all this particular dumpus."

HER eyes narrowed thoughtfully when, to Nannie's delight he drive out of the yard with the child a few minutes later.

She telephoned Mrs. Hartwell.

"My son-in-law is rather upset over this Blanchard dismissal," she warned the astute school principal, "I—er—hope you will be tactful about it."

"My dear Mrs. Perry," the principal informed her shortly, "the situation requires no tact whatever. Unfortunately I have had to dismiss a member of our staff, something that has never before occured for just such reasons, I know that Mr. Quimby will thank me for having done so."

But Mr. Quimby did nothing of the kind.

"You're made a mountain out of a molehill," he assured her, after the reluctant Nannette had been sent to a classroom. "The girl is young, admittedly the party was chaperoned—"

"Admittedly we, none of knew the girl was going to any party. She went to New York early in the afternoon, supposedly to go shopping. She seems to have met these people accidentally and it was after three in the morning before she returned here. As I told you over the telephone last night, some of them were much intoxicated—"

"The girl wasn't—" he interrupted her earnestly, "I'll stake my life on that."

"No, she wasn't" she admitted. "But her escort was. And I cannot have that sort of thing going on, you can readily understand."

"But you might have given her another chance. Or you might have made it possible for her to get some other sort of position."

"Any further position she may take is not my concern," she told him frigidly.

"Well, by gad, it's mine!" he retorted and strode angrily out.

RIDING over the hills to the "Spud" Adamses' modest cottage he grew angrier and angrier.

"They're behaving like perfect cats, all of them!" he thought.

WOODWORK IS IMPORTANT IN HOME BUILDING

The first of a number of articles to appear in this column by The Architect's Small House Service Bureau of the United States on "The Woodwork for Your Home."

When a house is finished, it is a complete unit, a home ready to live in, but thousands of items have gone into the building of that home, and many people have shared one way or another in its construction.

It isn't any wonder that one and all—workman, salesman, manufacturer, and builder—should claim that his product has been the making of the building. When you come to the building of your house you will be urged not to neglect the heating, as that is all important, or the lighting, or the plumbing, or any long list of materials and appliances required or desired. In a certain way every bit of this advice is worthy, but after all it is the proper combination of these things that makes the building what is should be, and perhaps in this connection there is nothing more important than the woodwork.

The Cost of Woodwork

Do you know that from 10 to 20 per cent or more of the total cost of your home may be taken up in the cost of your woodwork? And there is such an extent of it. Try to imagine what the average house would look like without any woodwork. It would have walls and openings, but it would be like a skeleton without flesh. The doors, windows, stairs, baseboards, moldings, paneling, mantel, china closet, kitchen dressers, bookcases and floors are nearly always of wood. And these are details that give so much in architectural quality to your house.

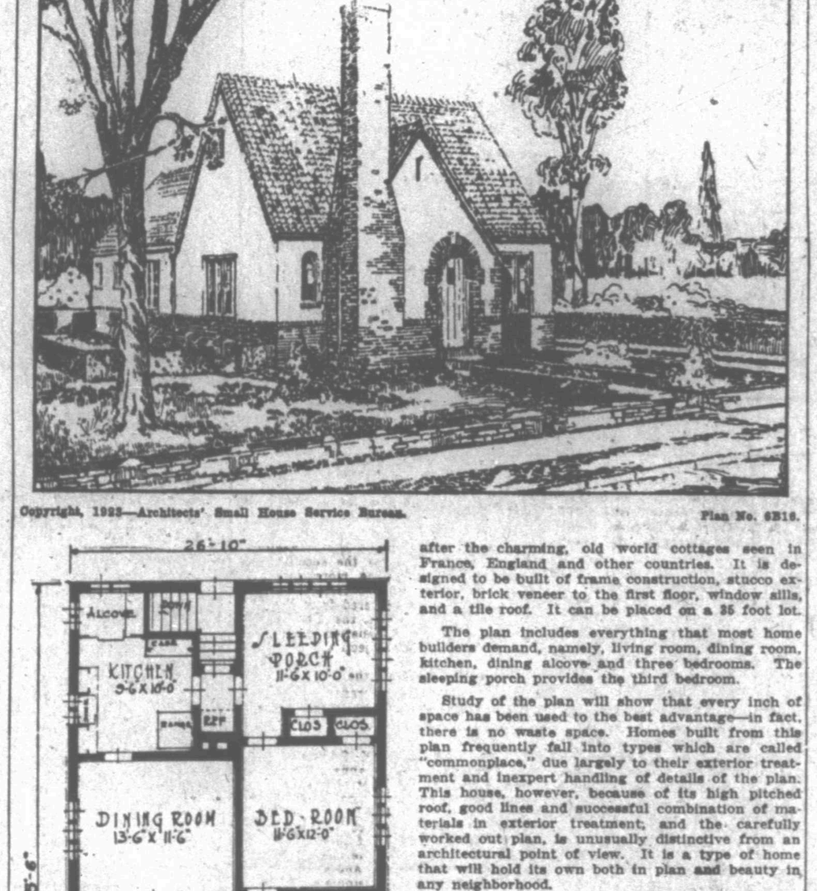

It therefore goes without saying that quality woodwork is one of the vital considerations of your home, and that it should be selected with the greatest possible care. Since this single item cuts such a large figure in the total cost of your home, economy here will be rather an important matter. Any attempt to save money which does not take into consideration the final appearance of the house and the satisfaction it is to afford over a number of years, is a mighty poor economy.

Stock Woodwork Satisfactory

In this respect, economy consists not so much in spending the fewest dollars, but getting the utmost value for the dollars you spend. Windows that are a few dollars cheaper, but which let the wintry blasts sing between the sash, increase your heating expense. Windows that let melting frost trickle down inside to rot wood unprotected by putty, cabinet drawers that pull apart or stick, corners where the unsightly edge-grain of the wood is exposed, doors and walls that warp, blister, crack and peel, stairs that squeak as you mount them or "give beneath the load,"—installation of this kind of equipment which may reduce the first cost of your woodwork a little is, in the long run, poor economy. It pays to use quality woodwork. It is the least expensive in the end.

Don't forget that it is perfectly possible to select quality woodwork from the stocks of many local dealers which will give you correct finish, service and architectural distinction, and this kind of woodwork may be purchased at a cost considerably less than "special woodwork."

POPULAR SIX ROOM BUNGALOW PLAN

Copyright, 1923—Architects' Small House Service Bureau. Plan No. 6B16.

THE plan for this six room bungalow is the most popular type of room arrangement for a home all on one floor. This house in style is patterned after the charming, old world cottages seen in France, England and other countries. It is designed to be built of frame construction, stucco exterior, brick veneer to the first floor, window sills, and a tile roof. It can be placed on a 35 foot lot.

The plan includes everything that most home builders demand, namely, living room, dining room, kitchen, dining alcove and three bedrooms. The sleeping porch provides the third bedroom.

Study of the plan will show that every inch of space has been used to the best advantage—in fact, there is no waste space. Homes built from this plan frequently fall into types which are called "commonplace," due largely to their exterior treatment and inexpert handling of details of the plan. This house, however, because of its high pitched roof, good lines and successful combination of materials in exterior treatment, and the carefully worked out plan, is unusually distinctive from an architectural point of view. It is a type of home that will hold its own both in plan and beauty in any neighborhood.

It is the kind of home, which, if built of sound construction, should maintain a high resale value—due to its "good looks" and "good plan."

The cost to erect this house complete will range from between $7,000 and $8,500, including heating, lighting, plumbing—ready to live in—but not including wall decorations. This variation is due to the fact that the cost of building depends upon materials, equipment and the price of labor. In certain sections of the country where costs are high, the highest figure here quoted will not be sufficient. In certain sections where costs are low, the lowest figure will be more than enough.

The plans for small homes are furnished by the regional Bureau of the Architects' Small House Service Bureau of the United States, Inc., controlled by the American Institute of Architects, indorsed by the department of commerce, United States government. The estimated costs of construction are based on general average for the entire country. The United States Bureau maintains an information department to answer home builders' questions. For information regarding the blue prints and specifications which are supplied at moderate costs, address the home building editor of this paper. Inclose selfaddressed stamped envelope.

Q—What Makes plaster crack?

A—Some of the more common causes of cracked plaster are inaccurate or faulty footings under bearing posts, wooden girders for the support of joists too small or not supported often enough, the joists themselves too small in size, partitions that do not coms over girders or other partitions not properly supported by double joists, wide openings not braced to prevent sagging, shrinkage of the frame of the house on account of not having been designed or constructed properly, chimney not built separate from the frame work of the house, pulling apart of wood partitions from masonry walls, and finally bad plastering methods or materials. In other words, the best job of plastering will crack if it is not on a good base. With a proper base, cracks can be avoided only if the plastering is of good quality and is put on properly.

Q—What is the difference between No. 1 and No. 2 lumber?

A—All wood timbers are graded on a basis of the number of imperfections which they contain. The size, condition, number and location of knots is an important matter. The extent of pitch streaks and pockets, the amount of bark, the number of splits and the extent of these all have a bearing on the grading. A piece of No. 1 lumber is generally classified as one which has no defects which would effectively reduce its strength. In other words it may have knots but they are in good condition, small in number and their position on the piece not serious, and so on for all the defects. No. 2 lumber is one in which the defects are of more consequence, and so on down through the various grades.

Q—What is meant by the nominal size of timbers?

A—In manufacturing small pieces of timber from larger pieces, a certain amount of wastage occurs due to the thickness of the saw blade passing through the wood. There is also a reduction in size from the subsequent dressing of the piece and a still further reduction due to shrinkage. By actual size we mean what is left of a piece of wood after these losses have occurred, and these losses may amount to anything from ¼ to ½ inch. The "nominal" size of a 2x4 measures actually about 1⅝x3⅝ inches, more or less.

See in your mind's eye the amount of extra work the task of keeping clean calls for in coal heated home. That will cause you to greater appreciate the great advantages of the natural gas service you enjoy.

RESERVED SEATS FOR ELMER'S SCRAP WITH DUKE SELL QUICKLY

Both Glovesters in Superb Condition, and Each Expects to Make Weight With Ease

Choice seats for the McMullen-Trammel fracas Thursday night in the Wichita theatre are sold out, according to Promoter Wofford, and the rest are going fast.

"You might tell 'em," said Wofford last night, "that those fans who want good seats and haven't reserved them yet, may be able to get a few fairly good ones if they hurry up."

At the rate tickets are going, Legion officials fear they will be forced to put in extra seats, especially another tier or two of ringside rows.

That the bout will go through in good order seems assured. Neither of the principals have received training injuries, and both are in the best of condition.

McMullen, working out here daily, has cut away enough surplus weight that he is now sure of making the required 147 pounds by 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

According to Wofford who was in communication with Trammel over long distance telephone to Fort Worth yesterday afternoon, Duke has already made the weight, is in fine shape, and will step on the scales Thursday below the 147-pound mark.

Trammel, said Wofford, has been working out at Fort Worth, and did not want to come to Wichita Falls to train as had been scheduled. All of which, of course, was o. k. with the promoter. Duke will arrive at 2 o'clock today, so he said.

Trammel will bring with him one or two preliminary boys, also. There are to be a quintet of four-rounders besides the six-round semi-final between George Storey of Oklahoma City and Benny Clark of Dallas.

Heavyweight Ruler Finds Going Rather Roughed Up These Days

By WILLIAM G. GAYCE.
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—Since he announced last Friday that he would retire from the equared circle when he takes Estelle Taylor, film actress, for his bride, May 20, or sooner if she will permit an earlier marriage, Jack Dempsey, king of 'things boxing" has had what might be called a tough time.

Then came Saturday when it was learned that the champion had appeared at the marriage license bureau after closing hours' Saturday night. Jack Kearns stated that Dempsey was probably after a permit to open a new gym.

But today came the word that it was reliably reported Dempsey was after a marriage permit Saturday and that he still wants to get one but is trying to keep it a secret.

But while Dempsey may be trying to get a secret license, Manager "Doc" Kearns is cogitating seriously over the four offers which have been made to match the champion with Tommy Gibbons.

One came from Tex Rickard who wants to match Dempsey with Gibbons either in Newark or Jersey City, the winner to meet Wills.

Another came from Charley Henderson, Brooklyn promoter, who is said to have wired Kearns to name his own terms and he would meet them. The other two proposals came from local promoters.

Gardner Would Boost Fight Bill Before Pastors

DALLAS, Feb. 3.—Those who oppose the legalizing of boxing in Texas, do not realize the vast difference between "boxing" and the old "prize fighting," Joe Gardner, who is fostering sentiment for a bill before the legislature, said today. He said he will ask to be allowed to appear before the Dallas Pastors' Association and other bodies opposing the proposed measure.

Since the world war 27 states have legalized boxing, and the game is encouraged and practiced by the army and navy as one of the finest of sports, he declared. Properly regulated as it would be under the proposed Texas law, nothing objectionable to it will be found, he stated.

PAAVO GOES AFTER RAY'S LAST RECORD SATURDAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Paavo Nurmi will attempt to erase the only remaining world's indoor record held outright by Joie Ray when the Phantom Finn competes in a two mile race featuring the Wilco A. A. games next Saturday night.

On the same track where Ray set his mark of 9 minutes, 32-5 seconds for two miles Nurmi will endeavor to cover the distance in 9 minutes flat.

Nat'l Continues Most Valuable Player Award

Umps Appointed, Schedule Adopted, And Jubilee Dates Set

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Continuation of the most valuable player award in its present state, adoption of the 1925 playing schedule, selection of Golden Jubilee celebration dates in each league city and the appointment of umpires for the coming season were the major matters of business transacted by the club owners of the National league at a special meeting here today.

The magnates elected to continue the most valuable player award without altering its provisions, although there was some discussion concerning a similar award for which pitchers alone will be eligible and barring pitchers from the original award. The league's purse of $1,000, which goes with the award, will be continued.

The schedule was adopted without discussion.

The following umpires were appointed:

Bob Emslie, chief of staff and instructor; Henry O'Day, William J. Klem, Ernest C. Quigly, Charles Moran, W. J. McCormick, Robert Hart, Charles Pfirman, James M. Sweeney, Charles Rigler, Frank Wilson and Peter J. McLaughlin.

The officials voted to raise the umpire fees for world series assignments from $2,000 to $2,500 and for city series from $500 to $750. The fourth place club will also receive a cut in the world series receipts, according to a resolution unanimously adopted.

Frogs Jump on Bears, 32 to 17

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3.—The Texas Christian University Horned Frogs defeated the Baylor Bears for the second time this season here tonight by a score of 32 to 17. "Long" Tom George, rangy Frog center, was the big thorn in the side of the Bruins, dropping in seven field goals and five free pitches for a total of 19 points.

Coach Bell of the Frogs used 11 men in the scrap while Frank Bridges used two teams. Chambless was high point man for the Bears with a field goal and four free throws. The Bear attack was never able to penetrate the Frog defense and five of the six field goals made by the invaders were the result of shots from outside the 15-foot line.

NATIONAL SEEKS PRISON TERMS FOR PARK BETTORS

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The National league took a definite step today to curtail gambling within its ball parks by adopting a resolution introduced by Judge Emil E. Fuchs, vice president of the Boston club, requesting legislation making such an offense punishable by a prison term.

Murchison Bids Farewell Saurday

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Lorin Murchison, blond flier of the Newark A. C. will make his farewell indoor appearance of the season next Saturday at the Wilco games. He leaves next week for the Pacific coast to join Charley Paddock, California for a world tour by way of the Orient.

TONY FUENTE ACQUITTED

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 3.—Tony Fuente, Mexican heavyweight fighter was acquitted here late today at his trial on the charge of having violated the then state law against prize fighting in his bout with Fred Fulton of Minneapolis at Culver City Calif., last summer.

Top O' the Mornin' Stuff

BLONDY CROSS

Just when and where the Giants will play the seven other National League clubs this year has now been announced.

Just as a matter of etiquette and form, the schedule makers also have listed the dates and locations on which those seven other teams play each other.

* * *

The schedule itself hasn't been increased, but the season is a week longer. That gives fandom in Brooklyn, Boston, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and Chicago a lengthier period over which to expand their hopes that some of the boys may do a to-the-rear-march, and on the last day of the marathon slip up and nose ahead of Jonathan McGraw.

* * *

All of which brings to mind that the Spudder slate of conquest will be with us soon. R. O. Harvey, J. Will Gray, and the rest of the Texas League mags will flock together this week-end in Shreveport to agree on a schedule.

* * *

Speaking of Shreveport, there emanates from Gasserville that no longer will that club attempt to hold up the rest of the league. The erstwhile cellar habitues are bolstered by winter deals to such an extent that Jacob Atx's Panthers rate already as one of the also rans.

* * *

And uh, the Cats will sprout out soon with the classiest slab artist who ever trod on a Texas League diamond, or words to that effect, chirps Paul LaGrave. The Panther secretary, however, has not divulged this phenom's monicker. But the deal's pending.

SO WILL WE.

Then arises R. O. Harvey of the Spudders: "We'll have one of those things, too," or more words to that effect.

* * *

The Spudder president plans a trip soon and somewhere for the specific purpose of coralling one more top-notch hurler. He did not declare his destination, but we gathered from his conversation that either the Pacific coast or American Association cities, or both, would be his objective.

* * *

"I'm going where the pitchers grow," — Harvey's utterance. He didn't say whether on trees, vines, or in potato fashion.

WILL WACO JINX CATS?

Jinx Tucker, that canny Waco scribe and sport prophet, brings to our attention that just as long as Waco was in the Texas League back there in the old days Fort Worth, of late undisputed topnick of the organization, ran away with the championship with the same speed and abandon that characterizes Philadelphia's Phillies in their annual massacre of the National loop.

Now Jinx asks since Waco's return to the league will the Cats' winning streak be broken?

* * *

We answer, YES. But not by Waco.

* * *

Ho hum, time to go to sleep again.

Giants Open 1925 Season in Boston Grounds April 14

Brooklyn Host To Phillies In Other Eastern Opener

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The National league will open its 1925 pennant race on Tuesday, April 14, and close its campaign on October 4, a week later than in 1924, according to schedule officially adopted at today's mid-winter meeting. There is no change in the corresponding time of opening the season, which last year was on April 15.

A variety of reasons, including the presidential election campaign, figured in the earlier ending last year but it was decided to go back to the longer season again in 1925.

The New York Giants four times champions, will start their attempt to make it five straight on a foreign battle field, opposing the Braves at Boston in the first game on April 14. Brooklyn's 1924 runner-up outfit will be host to Philadelphia in the other eastern corner.

In the west the opening guns will be fired at Cincinnati, with St. Louis as the visiting combination, and at Chicago, with Pittsburgh as the invader.

San Francisco Gets Pfeffer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Feb. 3.—Jeff Pfeffer, pitcher for the Pittsburgh club in the National league, has been signed to play with the San Francisco club in the Pacific Coast Baseball league, George Putnam, secretary of the local club, announced here today.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The New York state athletic commission today announced the selection of 16 lightweight boxers to compete for the title vacated by Benny Leonard in an elimination tournament starting February 23.

The outstanding contenders on the list include Sid Terris of New York and Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ills., who meet in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden, Friday; Sid Barbarian, Detroit; Jack Bernstein, Yonkers, N. Y.; Johnny Dundee, New York, former featherweight champion and Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo.

The others selected were R. O. Clyde Jeakle, Columbus, Ohio; Tommy O'Brien, Milwaukee; Eddie (Kid) Wagner and Alex Hart, both of Philadelphia; Joe Dundee and K. O. George Chaney, both of Baltimore; Charley O'Connell, Cleveland; Jack Silvers, California; Basil Galiano, New Orleans, and Benny Valger, New York.

NURMI BREAKS ANOTHER

Finn Scampers Away With Two And Quarter Mile Run.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Paavo Nurmi, middle distance champion, resumed his record-breaking at western union A. A. games in Madison Square Garden tonight, by traveling 2 1-4 miles in 10 minutes 19 seconds, 14 2-5 seconds better than the previous mark.

K. of C. Cagers Snap to Life and Wallop Parkers

Hudson-Essex Tramples On Landon-Hill Five, 40 to 21

To those who persevere, success will eventually come, is an ancient wheeze, but last night the old adage was resurrected, shined up and dragged into the limelight again by Manager Tim Collegan's Knights of Columbus five in the Commercial cage league. Ed Coffey led the hitherto muchly trampled on Knights out to meet the powerful little Iowa Park quint, and as many thought, for the usual massacre with the Knights serving as the victims. But Coffey and his mates displayed a surprising reversal of form, flashed up and down the court with a dazzling passing game, battled the Park lads every inch of the way, and won their first contest of the current loop season, taking a stiff tussle by a 16 to 8 score. That was the second game of the weekly commercial league double header.

Don Faichney and his first half champs," the Hudson-Essex team, mopped up on Landon-Hill, 40 to 21, in the opening contest.

Faichney flipped ten field baskets for a total of 20 points, something that is nothing unusual for this young man. Nobody on the court came close to duplicating his feat. Allen, a team buddy, came through for five floor tosses, and Shaw of the defeated quint hit the loop for a trio. The proficient defensive work of Daniel, Hudson-Essex guard, was a feature. Rice furnished almost a lone defensive battle for Landon-Hill.

Our Tabby, Mr. Levine the well-known featherweight fighter, was the scoring constellation for the victorious Columbus athletes. Tabby tipped a quartet of goals through for a total of eight markers. Coffey waged a mighty game at guard, and young Clarence Powell flashed at forward second only to Levine. VanHorn of Iowa Park chunked a couple of baskets, and otherwise made himself a nuisance for the rampaging Knights.

CHAMP WILL NEVER FIGHT AGAIN FOR JACK KEARNS, AVERS WALSH

Regardless of Present Ballyhoo Dempsey and Manager at Parting of Ways Says Critic.

I. N. S. Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Regardless of whether his retirement is on the plumb bob level or is merely an expression of the prevailing mode in cauliflower ears, Jack Dempsey, has fought his last battle under the management of Jack Kearns.

This statement was made today by way of confirmation of the reported estrangement between the pair by a man distinctly on the "inside" of nearly every big bout in this country.

"That part of the thing is 'in'," he declared. "You can bet your last cent on it. Unless something is done to bring them together, Dempsey and Kearns will go their seperate ways from now on."

He then went on to elaborate upon his statement by telling of an incident which occurred when the champion and his manager were last in the east. Dempsey, he said, was on his way past a famous restaurant in town when one of his party suggested going inside.

"Kearns is there," he explained. The champion's reply was to turn on his heel and walk in the opposite direction, after airing a few unflattering remarks about his manager, according to the story. It is not believed the gesture was the result of a passing grievance. Dempsey is not given to showing his resentment over trivial or temporary differences with members of his official family.

Not so Friendly.

Further significance is given the statement by the tone of Dempsey's recent announcement of his withdrawal from the ring. On that occasion, he made reference to Kearns as merely a business partner, never a friend. That remark came as a shock to those who have witnessed their amicable relations of nearly 10 years standing.

Furthermore no retraction followed the implied slight. Dempsey saw fit to repudiate his decision in part by suggesting he might make one more appearance in the ring but said nothing about Kearns nor did their stories bear the slightest suspicion of team work. While Dempsey was formally declaring himself for the simple life, Kearns steadfastly maintained that the thing was "the bunk." Their respective statements hardly smacked of mutual understanding.

Kearns After Walker.

If Dempsey's retirement was merely a publicity dodge, Kearns would have been yessing him yet.

Then there is the report of the hotel property in Los Angeles being up for sale. Neither of them are in immediate need of money, therefore the action in question is interpreted as a desire to divorce their interests.

The further fact that Kearns is said to be negotiating for another unpunched meal ticket in the person of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, adds color to the enstrangement story. Kearns has been after Walker for some time but the latter would have none of it because he cared nothing about running second to Dempsey in managerial esteem.

If Walker really signs up with Kearns, as he is supposed to do within a matter of weeks, the inference is broad that the Dempsey-Kearns commination is no more.

TRADITIONAL WEATHER

Even the Wintry Ripple Subsides in Wichita Falls Tuesday

Even the wintry ripple subsided Tuesday and Wichita Falls once more enjoyed weather of the sort traditional here. The sky was cloudless for the most part, the sun was warm, there was little wind and the thermometers hovered high enough to insure comfort for all and sundry. The expected cold snap, heralded for Monday night, was thus definitely routed.

Predictions for Wednesday were for continued fair and warm weather.

American's New Carson County Well Largest Yet For Panhandle

Flows 2,500 bbls. a Day from Usual Sand Around 3000

Well Did 750 Barrels In First Six Hours Of Flow

EARTHEN STORAGE

Well Looked Ordinary At First; Swab Started Flow

Information current in Wichita Falls yesterday regarding the American Refining company's No. 3, Burnett, in north Carson county, was to the effect that that well is by far the largest ever completed in the Panhandle, and is flowing at a rate better than 2,500 barrels a day from the usual sand around 3,500 feet.

The well gave every indication of making an ordinary producer at first filling up abotut 1,800 feet in oil. It was then swabbed and it flowed 750 barrels in six hours. It is flowing continuously now into earthen storage.

Refined Markets Highest Yet Here

Refined markets here are continuing a rise which has lasted through the past ten weeks and are now showing the greatest strength in possibly a year with 15 cents in the mind of refiners for 64-66 gasoline, although sales are actually being made at only 14 1-2 cents. Navy gasoline is ranging between 11 and 11 1-2 cents, fuel oil between $1.50 and $1.55, kerosene around 4 1-2 cents, and gas oil between 3 3-4 and 4 cents.

The advance in crude prices is given as a reason for the enchanced strength of these markets. The Standard companies posted an increase of one cent yesterday in their quotation, making it 17 cents.

MOODY KEEPS HANDS OFF

Will Render No Opinion On Lifting Impeachment, Tells Committee.

AUSTIN, Feb. 3—Attorney General Dan Moody Tuesday afternoon told the Price legislative committee investigating the ways and means for the vindication of former Governor James E. Ferguson that "a suggestion as to legislative policy or procedure is not only beyond the duties of the attorney general as prescribed by law, but that any attempt to make suggestions of policy or procedure would be presumptious and out of keeping with the fixed practice of the office."

Mr. Moody's opinion was sent to Senator Lloyd E. Price, chairman of the special senate committee of five at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

It was submitted by Moody following a request from the senate Saturday for an "opinion setting forth a lawful method or methods which, if followed, would restore to former Governor James E. Ferguson the political rights removed by the impeachment of 1917."

SOLICITOR IS INDICTED.

William Hobbs Charged With Receiving Stolen Checks.

LONDON, Feb. 3. — William Hobbs, a solicitor's clerk, who was one of the prominent figures in the recent suit involving the Rajah Sir Hari Sing and a so-called blackmailing plot against the Indian potentate, was indicted today by a grand jury for receiving stolen checks for 300,000 pounds sterling from the rajah.

When he was committed for trial recently the defendant denied he had ever attempted to blackmail the East Indian prince. Hobbs was arrested November 28 following the Robinson trial just as he was about to leave England.

SLAUGHTER MAKES ESCAPE

One of Texas' Most Noted Fugitives Breaks Out of Leavenworth

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3.—Coney C. Slaughter, former Texan and one of the southwest's most noted fugitives, has escaped from Leavenworth penitentiary, according to a circular received Tuesday by Sheriff Carl Smith.

The circular merely advised that Slaughter, serving a six year term for violating the federal banking laws in Colorado escaped from the federal prison on January 31. Local authorities are on the watch for him.

He was nephew of the late Colonel C. C. Slaughter, wealthy cattle man of Dallas.

TEXAS U. STUDENT BURNS

Simon Wise Fatally Hurt As Blaze Destroys His Rooming House.

AUSTIN, Feb. 3. — Simon Wise, student in the University of Texas, from Waco, was burned to death early Tuesday morning when fire from a sheet iron stove destroyed the second story of a university rooming house in which he was staying. The unfortunate young man was found dead in the bath tub after the fire was placed under control by firemen. Other roomers in the house escaped, unhurt, though their belonging were destroyed.

Gasoline Up Cent; 19 Cents a Gallon

Announcement was made yesterday by the Magnolia Petroleum company that their tank wagon gasoline price would be increased effective this morning one cent to 16 cents, making the retail price 19 cents. Other companies would not prophesy such an advance on their part for this morning although it is likely that they will follow during the day.

Magnolia led off Monday with a penny increase which put gasoline up to 18c yesterday, and the increase this morning is the second this week. It was reported over the city in several quarters that a price of 20 cents retail would be posted today, but this could not confirmed in any quarter.

News of the Field

Atlantic-Donohoe, Ward

Atlantic Oil Producing company and H. C. Donohoe were shut down yesterday awaiting casing on their No. 2, Ward, Tomlinson survey, abstract 452, south of Anarene, south Archer county, on the sand at a depth of 1,060-73 feet.

Moores-Kennedy-Douglas

Mooers-Kennedy and Douglas were drilling yesterday at one o'clock on their No. 1, 'Ieckert, located in the southwest corner of the Crawford pasture sub-division, block 17, southeast of the Harmel pool, past a depth of 1,170 feet. Formations have been running high in this well and it was intended to lower the casing again at 1,200 feet, with the expectation of picking up the sand at about 1,230 feet. The well is being drilled with cable tools.

Sun Company, Kunkel

The Sun Oil company is drilling on its No. 2, Kunkel, directly east of No. 1, Hardaway survey, abstract 164, Carey district and has erected derricks for No's 3 and 4, in a line south of the No. 1.

Gulf, Kunkel

The Gulf Production company is drilling at about 500 feet on its No. 1, Kunkel, a north offset to the Andrade-Harvey well on the Kunkel, east end of the Carey district, south Archer county.

Humble, Schlegel

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 3. — A deal has been closed here whereby the Humble Oil and Refining company takes over three casinghead gasoline plants from the Westova Oil and Gas corporation for a cash consideration of $1,125,000. The properties were transferred Feb. 1.

The Westova is the gasoline producing subsidiary of the Hope Engineering company. The property purchased consists of the Atlantic gasoline plant, located fourteen miles southeast of here in Stephens county, the Walker-Booster plants nine miles east, and the new Westova plant located seven miles north of Caddo, also in Stephens.

The capacity of the three plants totals 40,000 barrels daily, but these are running but 30,000 barrels daily at present.

Atlantic, Blewett

The Atlantic Oil Producing company started up yesterday on its No. 1, Blewett, in the Meade L. M. Pasture sub-division, just west of the Hobbs-Cheanalt well on the Lane, southwest Archer county, depth given as 1,212 feet.

Duke, McKee, Dipprey

Duke and McKee will start building the derrick on their No. 1, J. C. Dipprey, S. M. Burnhem survey, southeast Baylor county today. The well will be located 1,100 feet west and 150 feet north of the southeast corner of the survey, near Round Timbers.

Derricks	5
Total operations	27

The wells are divided as follows: Panhandle-Gwynn 1, Murchison and Fain 5, Gulf 1, Texhoma 1, and Texas company 1. Drillings are divided, Texhoma 2, Texas company 1, Gulf 3, Murchison and Fain 3. Rigs, Texas company 1, Murchison and Fain 2, Humble 1. Derricks, Texas company 3, Murchison and Fain 1.

NO LINE FIGHT FEARED

Big Lake Oil Controversy Won't Go That Far Says Producer.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3.—Talk of a lin fight between the Big Lake Oil company and the Texon Oil and Land company, the two producers in the Reagan county field, is absurd, according to Levi Smith, president of the Big Lake Oil company, while in Fort Worth today.

Here's a story about a strong man who raises a car without the jack. But he can't keep up a car without the jack.

Two New Carey District Wells Are Believed Largest Ever Completed There; Possibly 3,500 bbls. Output

An addition in a lump sum of 3,500 barrels to the production of the Wichita Falls district has been effected by the completion of White Brothers and Harvey and Andrade's wells on the Kunkel land, on the east end of the Carey district, south Archer county. The two wells stand out among completions of the past few months as the largest wells ever brought in in the Carey district and south Archer county, and rank among the best completions of the county for all time.

Pipeline Connections.

Actual guage on the White well from twelve noon Monday up to the same time today showed seven 150 barrel tanks filled. The well was flowing at the time in ten-minute heads, disgorging a large quantity of oil at each head, through a six-inch flow line.

A two-inch pipeline connection had been made with the least in expectation of making a 500-600 barrel well. Yesterday the Wichita Pipeline company was laying an additional three-inch line to the well to take care of production.

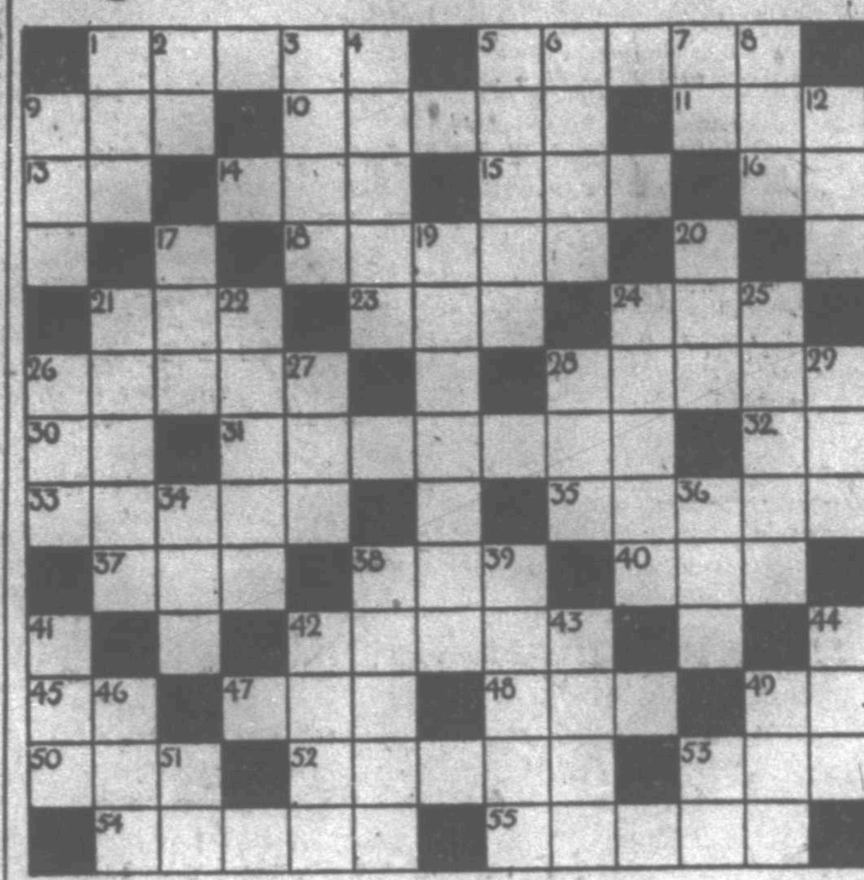

Andrade-Harvey.

The Andrade-Harvey well, two small locations west, early yesterday afternoon looed every bit as good or better than the White well, flowing a steady stream of oil with practically no let-ups through a four-inch flow line. The well had started off well yesterday morning with the hole only partially cleaned out. The swab was lost twice, and the big flow was not started until shortly before noon yesterday.

White Brothers yesterday had sidded their rig off of No. 1 a location north for No. 2, and had derrick timber on the ground for No. 3, a location further east.

Denton "Outlaws" Give Up To Ranger

DENTON, Texas, Feb. 3.—Webb Martin and Yancey Storey, who barricaded themselves in a house here yesterday following exchange of pistol shots with Tarrant county officers, surrendered today at 12:40 p. m. to Captain Tom Hickman of the Texas rangers and Sheriff Carl Smith of Tarrant county, upon the assurance that they would be protected and given an opportunity to make bond.

The men formally charged with assault with attempt to murder and were taken to County Attorney E. O. Hooper's office to await fixing of bonds.

Negotiations for their surrender were made by telephone with Captain Tom Hickman, following an interview with two friends of Martin and Storey this morning. Captain Hickman promised the men protection an ample time on which to furnish bond. He and Sheriff Smith entered the house at 12:40 and were inside for 15 minutes, waiting for the men to get ready to leave.

The officers took charge of rifles, shot guns and pistols found on the place.

Storey is reported to be wanted in Fort Worth, on a charge of automobile theft. One of two automobiles, Tarrant county officers seized here yesterday has been released.

STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Divergent price movements characterized today's stock market with the oil and railroad shares again developing several points of strength. Standard industrials were reactionary although the losses in most cases were held to fractions. The day's sales again approximated about one and a half million shares.

Another series of gasoline price advances brought fresh buying into the oil shares particularly the low-priced issues. Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil was an outstanding feature, rising three points to 21½, the highest price in nearly two years. Independent oil and gas moved up nearly two points to a new top at 26¼. The Pan-American issues, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Skelly and a few others also at their highest prices in a year or more, but some of the gains were cancelled on profit taking.

U. S. Steel fluctuated within a range of one point, closing ⅜ lower at 125¾. American Can suffered another loss of one point at 165¾ and Baldwin yielded ¼ to 131⅝. Studebaker was in active demand, closing 1½ points higher at 45½ on reports of large current earnings.

Strength of the railroad shares, particularly the non-dividend paying issues, reflected the continuance of heavy car loadings, large current earnings and favorable merger and dividend prospects.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 3.—The cotton market developed more activity and broader fluctuations in today's trading than has been the case for some time. Although prices advanced as much as 25 points for March in the early part of the session and then declined 35 points to a net loss of 10 points compared with the previous close early in the afternoon, a late rally carried the near months back to practically the early high for a final net gain of 18 points. The late positions from July on developed the most strength in the final rally and made new highs for the day, showing gains of 25 points on October.

At the start, as Liverpool was better than due, the market opened higher here, first trades showing gains of 5 to 12 points. The market continued to gain right after the start and was on the upgrade during the first half hour of the morning until March traded to 24.45 and May 24.74, or 22 to 25 points above the previous close. October on the first bulge of the day advanced to 24.44 or 20 points up. During the early afternoon prices weakened under liquidation and March dropped to 24.10, May 24.40 and October 24.15 or 29 to 35 points below the highs of the morning. A sharp upturn in the late trading caused the recovery of all the loss on near months while the latter months broke through the earlier highs to 24.99 for July and 24.52 for October or 35 to 37 points up. The close was steady at net gains for the day of 17 to 20 points on old crop months and 25 to 29 on new crop positions.

The reaction of the middle of the day was due to a desire of recent buyers to take profits and was helped by a long distance prediction of rains for Texas at the end of the week. The late afternoon rally was due to the continued urgent spot demand and to reports of better trade in the dry goods market. The trading of the afternoon was more active in the dry goods market. The trading of the afternoon was more active than had been experienced in some time.

Exports for the day totalled 22,468 bales.

TEXAS LIVE STOCK

FORT WORTH, Feb. 3.—Tuesday's cattle receipts included an unusually liberal quota of yearlings and heifers of fair to merium quality, and on that particular class the demand was at a low ebb. On steers, good yearlings, cows and bulls the market presented a fully steady appearance and the calf market was well in line with the week's opening advance of 25c. Receipts were estimated at 1,600 head of cattle and 400 calves.

As on Monday, steer holdings were eager. Two or three cars were offered, and the supply moved scaleward early in the session at satisfactory prices. Sales were within a range of 6.00 to 7.00.

Active trading developed in the cow trade but prices were only steady despite the fact that salesmen protected their wares to an advance figuring that they could turn the trick in view of the scanty rations. Most of the supply ran to canners and low grade cows, selling from 1.75 to 3.50. The only sales above the 4c basis applied to small drafts.

Cattle receipts, 2,000, including 400 calves; market steady; slow in yearlings; beeves 3.50@7.50; stockers 3.25@7.25; cows 2.50@5.50; cutters 2.25@2.75; canners 1.75@2.10; heifers 3.25@7.50; yearlings 3.50@8.50; bulls 2.50@4.50; calves 2.50@8.50.

Hogs receipts, 1,400; market 10c higher; nothing choice here; top 11.00; bulk 10.50 @10.90; best medium weight 11.00@11.15; good mixed 10.75@11.00¼ good light 10.50@10.75; fair mixed 10.00@10.50; fair light 9.75@10.25; common 6.50@8.50; packing sows 9.00@10.00; pigs 4.00@8.50.

Town Talk

WEST TEXAS, denied both the aestheticism and utility of the snow storms which blanketed this section of the state two weeks ago, is rapidly "drying out." A drought that has not yet assumed menacing proportions but which in a short time may cause tremendous damage to stockmen and farmers has a vast territory in its grip, according to Julian Montgomery, local civil engineer who has just returned from a week's business trip to Ralls, Brownwood and other localities.

"Residents out there are anxious," Mr. Montgomery declared, "not for what is but for what may be. They had but very little snow and have had no rain to speak of all winter. Grazing lands are in bad shape and farmers are unable to plow."

THEY tell the story of two Oklahoma officers who, down here last Sunday to claim a couple of negro prisoners wanted in Guthrie, Bristow, Coyle and other points on a variety of charges, stared in wide-eyed wonder at a bustling metropolis rather than the scrawny cattle town they had expected to see.

It seems that neither of the gentlemen knew Wichita Falls "as is" but were quite familiar with it "as was." In the preboom days and before Andy Volstead became prominent, they had visited here more or less frequently.

Some of the local officers escorted the visitors about the city, showed them the sky-scrappers, the miles of paved streets, and finally proudly demonstrated the new traffic signal system. Both men were visibly impressed but after watching for a time one of them drawled: "Well, bub, yer growin' right smart but yer won't have a taown 'till you folks learns to keep yer cars out 'o each other's way without a light."

THE colored federated missionary societies of the city have mixed religion, business and culinary art in a campaign to raise funds for welfare work for the coming year among the colored population here, it was revealed Monday when a big slice of "scripture cake" was presented to a local welfare council official.

It was explained that the "scripture" part was arrived at by reason of the fact that no ingredient went into the confection that was not mentioned in the Bible. Apples, figs, raisins and spices, all found in Holy Writ, were mixed in with the grain and sugar and worked into a delectable whole. Two cakes were made, it seems, at a cost of $5 each. One of them was auctioned off and the proceeds turned over to the negro welfare worker.

A poll of the persons having a hand in the baking revealed that highly prized cooks in several of the most prominent families here aided in some way or other.

Announcement made last night stated that Mrs. J. B. Nail, 1512 Hayes, who has been seriously ill at the General hospital, is now improving.

W. E. Campbell, Panhandle Refining company, returned yesterday from a short trip to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Jones announce the birth of a son yesterday morning at seven o'clock, at the Wichita General hospital. Mr. Jones is president of the Panhandle Refining company.

Julius F. Roten, New York, vice-president of the L. Sonneborn Sons company of New York, and Alfred L. Bromberg, assistant manager of Dallas, spent yesterday in Wichita Falls.

Erection of a new freight depot at the foot of Tenth street is to be started in the very near future, according to an announcement Tuesday by the Wichita Falls and Southern Railroad company. An investment of approximately $30,000 will be represented in the project.

Business picked up considerably Tuesday in the city police court, 17 cases of varying degrees of importance being docketed for the attention of Judge E. S. Whitlaw. Half-a-dozen were on vag charges, four for drunks and the balance for traffic violations. The usual bond forfeitures and imposing of minimum fines were the penalties assessed.

F. L. Mercer, manager and buyer for the men's clothing section of Perkin-Timberlake Co., left Saturday for New York on a buying trip.

Frank P. Timberlake, general manager of Perkins-Timberlake Co., of North Texas and Oklahoma, returned Monday from New York and other eastern markets.

Excavating started Tuesday morning for the sub-work of the new seven story office building to be erected behind the City National bank building on Eighth street by J. J. Perkins, C. W. Snider, R. O. Harvey and others.

Claude Miller of Miller-Ferguson returned Sunday from New York and other eastern markets where he has been buying new spring goods. Mr. Miller reports that the new spring gowns and dresses are prettier than those of last year.

Marriage licenses issued Monday by the county clerk's office were as follows: Johnnie Wright, Vernon, and Miss Marie Rogers, Vernon; J. C. Beaucamp, Electra, and Miss Frankie Stevens, Corpus Christi; C. L. Conklin, Wichita Falls, and Miss Amy Sarafield, Wichita Falls; Claybourn C. Waters, Electra, and Miss Josephine Cury, Electra; W. V. Smyers, Byers, and Mrs. Hallie Rexford, Wichita Falls.

John E. Hasbrouck, an attorney of Kansas City, was in Wichita Falls Monday on legal business.

So. Side League In Plea For Protection

A committee consisting of Mesdames W. D. Cook, Ralph Hibbs and W. R. Taylor, of the South Side Civic league met Monday evening with the city council and presented their petition, which was signed by about 250 people of the South Side, asking for protection of the things they have put in their park. The league has spent a large amount of money beautifying the park but with no avail for the things have immediately been destroyed.

The city council promised the league women that hereafter they shall have the best of protection and be aided in every way possible to make the playgrounds and park as pretty as any in the city.

Slowly and surely the Woman's Forum is making its way into Wichita. The executive board and chairmen of all departments are working hard upon completion of the public. Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin, president of the Forum says:

"We want the women of Wichita Falls to feel that we are really giving them something for their money and time before we announce anything definite, but I do think that by the end of the week we will have something really worth th while to announce."

The literary, art and writers departments have already met, elected their permanent officers and started real work. Other departments are thrashing out the obstacles that are now before them and hope to know before long just what can be expected of them. A massmeeting will probably be held next week.

ꕥ ꕥ ꕥ ꕥ

With the date of the meeting less than a month away, the finance committee is already shaping its plans and other committee appointments will be made within a few days for the annual banquet and business session of the Wichita Falls Ex-students association of the University of Texas. The banquet this year as it has been in the past will be held March 2, probably at the Wichita club. Roy Beidichek, head of the state interscholastic league and also of the extension department of the state university, has been secured as principal speaker.

The finance committee of which B. L. Morgan is chairman has been at work for the past few days and is whipping plans into shape for the ticket sales. Mrs. J. B. Hatchitt, president of the Texas Exes association here, will probably decide on the personnel of the others before the end of the week.

The Bowie Parent-Teacher association will met Wednesday afternoon at the school at 3 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged. Miss Glenore Fisk, campfire executive, will speak to the mothers. Every mother and others interested are urged to be present.

VARSITY CLUB

might win restoration; one by expunging the records concerning his impeachment; another by constitutional change, and the third by the election of his wife as governor," Judge Townsend stated.

Thinks a Bill Illogical.

"Some say, pass a bill expounging the records, but I don't believe that is logical. The legislature that impeached Ferguson might have reconsidered and taken some action along that line at that time, but now that eight years have passed if expungement were possible now, it might be possible 10 or 25 years from now in this or any other impeachment case, so for that reason, I think it illogical.

"A constitutional amendment takes a two-thirds vote of the legislature and ratification by vote of the people. This might be made to refer to any impeachment, stating that restoration be allowed after 7 to 10 years had elapsed.

"As to the election of his wife, this seems rather practical in Jim's case. Even though the courts don't take definite action, Ferguson will still have a good deal of influence in the governor's office from present indications."

Recalls Governor's Trial.

Judge Townsend pictured graphically the trial which impeached Ferguson.

"It was one of the most serious and impressive things I ever witnessed, with Attorney General M. M. Crane presiding over the 31 members of the senate which in that occasion became a court.

"Clarence Martin, former district attorney delivered a passionate and powerful appeal for Ferguson picturing the blot an impeachment would bring to Texas, and pleading in behalf of Ferguson's family. It was a magnificent speech, what we lawyers would call 'rabble rouser.'

"The solemnity of the hour was accentuated only by the stern face of James E. Ferguson as he sat, dignified, and expression unchanging, a man of strong conviction and nerve.

Calls It Strong Character.

"Such demeanor as his at that time takes a strong character. He sat solidly through the ordeal, and as the fatal vote was cast which impeached him, everyone in the house stirred but Ferguson. There was no sign of weakness after weeks and weeks of trial as he saw friend after friend forsake him.

"His attempt to resign and file his resignation with the secretary of state, maintaining that the impeachment did not apply to him because he was not in office, failed, and the punishment of removal from office as well as disqualification from future office was meted out to him. Whether or not he will now be reinstated is in the hands of the future."

Throwing the meeting open to three minute discussion several members expressed themselves.

Judge R. O. Kenley immediately took issue with Judge Townsend, affairming that a bill could be passed by the legislature giving the governor power to restore citizenship removed by felony, impeachment or other crimes. Other attorneys present protested this.

Harwood Stacy stated that he thought a constitutional amendment the only manner of reinstatement sufficient, but questioned even the use of that measure.

Sees No Hope in People.

E. E. Fisher declared that as long as the constitution had provided no way for removal of impeachment, that in his opinion, the house should present the bill of removal, to be approved by the senate, the reinstatement then being legal.

Judge Bass Sartin stated, "I don't believe that the legislature would have any power to pass a law pardoning constitutional punishment. I doubt if even an amendment to the constitution would be legal, and I don't think Jim Ferguson would have much hope if the matter was referred to a vote of the people which I think would be necessary.

W. R. Watkins pointed out legal technicalities which in his opinion showed that the legislature has no authority to repeal the impeachment action. Judge Joe Dickey, who was asked to express an opinion, declined.

W. P. Killingsworth, from the Rotary club, spoke, concerning the Rotary cup and expressed the disappointment of the club that more names had not been submitted by Wichita Falls citizens as men worthy of receiving the honor of the greatest achievement for the community during 1924. Urging the club to present names at the earliest possible date, Mr. Killingsworth pointed out the good being done by revealing the achievments of local men in this manner.

Wm. E. Young Heard.

Wm. E. Young, with his ability to tell an interesting story through his songs, entertained the club with three enjoyable eclections. This was Mr. Young's firs appearance before the University club this season and members heartily appreciated the visit from an established favorite. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. F. R. Collard, and Julian Bobo.

when the gren light was burning. A flash of red would permit the departure of the driver. His only danger would ensue where a right hand turn was permitted any oncoming car. Here, however, it was shown, the speed of the oncoming car, nine times out of ten, is diminished through the fact that he is nosing his way slowly through a pedestrian stream. Even if there was a possibility of a collision, the oncoming car's lessened sped, due to the pedestrian obstruction, would prevent an acident with the backer.

On Single Parking

As usual, ice wagons came in for their share of discussion along with express wagons and delivery boys. An average autoist cannot leave his machine double parked. Yet, club members said, an ice wagon or delivery truck, appeared to be privileged in this matter for no reason whatsoever. There was no ultimatum considered, however, in any of the discussions.

Soft water and what could be done with it in Wichita Falls was briefly outlined by Dr. A. H. Douglas and W. M. Priddy. It was brought out that Dr. Schoch, University of Texas scientist, who is expected here soon in this matter, has evolved an entirely new principle for softening water, and club members are looking forward with interest to the advent of his visit here. Mr. Priddy pointed out how the irrigated district had purchased the canals of the Highland Irrigation company and that Lake Kemp water could be diverted into this system. This would avoid passing the head water from Lake Kemp through Lake Wichita, leaving Lake Wichita exclusively for city use and supplying the city with soft water. He pointed out the double benefit of such a scheme in that the farmers would get Lake Kemp water which is better for their land and that the city folk would get Lake Wichita water which is superior for domestic use.

ment. The paper ruled out dealt with the personality and alleged activities of the Rev. Mr. Copeland and was the subject of bitter debate between the attorneys.

Call It Smoke-Screen.

It was charged by the state that the defendant's motion for abatement was nothing but a smoke-screen and after a lengthy debate the state's answer in its entirety was read to the court.

Constant interruption by attorneys for the defense to make objections to certain paragraphs marked the reading of the paper by Mr. Farmer. It was after the reading that Judge Jenkins ordered the major part of it eliminated.

Charles Vincent, member of the grand jury, the first witness to be heard, was called by the defense and questioned by W. L. Eason, regarding the allegation that Mr. Farmer and Mr. Granberry were present during the grand jury's deliberations. Following a brief cross-examination by the state, in which the witness testified neither Mr. Farmer nor Mr. Granberry was present as alleged, Mr. Vincent was excused. Mr. Granberry was, next called by the defense, but court was adjourned before he took the stand.

TEXAS PRISON

posed one day X got before a substitute doctor who was acting in Dr. Y's place. The substitute physician put X in the hospital. For three weeks thereafter Dr. Y refused to speak to the suffering prisoner, X. Finally his foot got so bad that Dr. Y cut the prisoner's leg off and threw it into a garbage can.

"A convict took the leg out of the garbage can and cremated it, out of sentiments of humanity."

Representative Irwin then exhibited another paragraph from the same letter but touching on another prisoner. It read:

"Dr. Y operated on prisoner W. . . . for varicocele. When W's operation was over he found that Dr. Y had . . ."

At this juncture the proprieties forbid exact quotation. The import was that prisoner W found he had been unspeakably mutilated.

He Will Testify.

"That prisoner will be here Wednesday morning ready to testify," Irwin announced today. "So will certain witnesses mentioned in the case of the prisoner whose leg was amputated. I shall see that the committee has the facts to enable it to go to the bottom of the scandalous charges."

Another witness, who will be ready to testify Wednesday, Irwin said, is a convict whose back "is scarred and corrugated with horrible welts from head to foot."

"That man lay in hospital one hundred and ten days after he had been subjected to the bat," Irwin added.

The investigation will not confine itself to "prison barbarities," it was explained, but will delve into the entire prison system, running down all allegations of graft, irregularities, incompetency, maladministration and cruelty.

Glaring discrepancies in prison accounts are to be investigated further. The so-called "cotton price" scandal is to occupy considerable attention. The financial phase of the system, a problem for two decades, is to be gone into.

Indeed, the surface of the task before the joint committee has scarcely been scratched, according to Irwin, who is fighting for public hearings and a policy of full publicity given to the committee's work.

The committee, appointed by Leslie Humphrey, president of the association, is composed of R. E. Huff, W. E. Fitzgerald, James V. Allred Jr., B. D. Sartin, B. Y. Cummings, C. C.
