Tom Wilson, Area Rancher, Dies Feb. 19

A.M. (Tom) Wilson, 85-year-old rancher whose family has been a part of the cattle industry in Western Collingsworth County 70 years, died Feb. 19, after being in ill health several years.

He and Mrs. Wilson had moved from the ranch into Wellington in August 1981, living at 1506 El Paso Street.

Mr. Wilson was living with his family at Memphis when he graduated from high school in 1914. He came almost immediately to the ranch and that was his home for the next 67 years.

Ranching went farther back in the family than that established in Collingsworth County. His father, Jodie Jay Wilson, had ranching operations in Navarro County, while the family lived at Corsicana, before he bought his first Tract of land about 5 miles West of Quail in 1910. He bought the second half in 1912, and the ranch extended to the Donley County line. The family moved to Memphis, the nearest large town, reaching there July 25, 1912, after making the trip by train.

Tom Wilson was a member of the first football team in Memphis High School, and recently he added a footnote to that School's football history. The team had only one substitute, and they could play teams only along the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad--Childress, Clarendon, Goodnight, Claude, for the team traveled by train.

He enlisted in the Army in 1917, and served in France and Germany through World War I.

For many years he raised registered Hereford cattle, which were his pride, along with his commercial herd.

A.M. (Tom) Wilson was born June 3, 1896, in Corsicana, the son of Jodie Jay and Willie Cole Wilson. He was married to Bessie Ruth Duke on August 27, 1927, in Pampa.

They built the Wilson ranch home in 1929. Mr. Wilson was a member of First Baptist Church in Memphis; the American Legion Post at Hedley, Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars in

SECOND BACK BOARD

Bob Watson, vice-president of the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service, receives a second cardio-pulmonary resuscitation back board for use with patients whose heart-beat and breathing must be restored. It was bought and presented by Charles Harvey, Collingsworth General Hospital laboratory director, and LaVonda Hartman, laboratory assistant. This will provide a back board for each of the ambulances.

School Will Observe Public School Week

The State Board of education has designated the period of Monday through Friday, March 1-5, as Texas Public School Week, Supt. Kenneth McKay has announced.

"During this period, parents and other citizens are encouraged to visit the schools of the Wellington Independent School District," he invited.

On Thursday, March 4, at 7 p.m. the Junior High School Speech Department will present two plays under the direction of Barbara Williams, high school speech instructor. This will be in the high school auditorium, and again the public is invited and encouraged to attend.

"The school board, superintendent, principals and teachers encourage members of the community to visit our schools during Texas Public School Week," McKay emphasized. School hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Junior High speech class will feature "A Night of Melodrama," said Mrs. Williams. Announcers for the two melodramas will be Dennis Hayes as Set 'Em Up Joe, while Amanda Massey will appear as Miss Kitty.

The first of the presentations will be "The Innkeepers Daughter (Or Dirty Deeds at Stagecoach Inn)".

The cast will include Fargo Fink, played by Shawn Sango; Harry Dove, by Johnny Branch; Marian Dove, Ardia Seeley; Violet Dove, Debora Benton; Granny Wilde, Brenda Molina; Tracy Jones, Tracy Day; Chief Standing Bull, Kendall Harris; and the Whoopee Warriors, Max Kellison and Ruben Cantu.

Between plays, James and George Reynolds will present "Cowboy Serenade."

The second production will be "The Great Bank Robbery (Or Tillie the Trouble Teller)."

Stacy Chandler takes the role of Suzie, while Tillie Forsythe is played by Penny Wilkins; Peter Strongvault, Kenny Peeks; Aunt Gertrude, Shelly Blades; Oliver Wheedle, Pepe Martinez; James Jessie, Benny Encinia; Frank Jessie, Maugro Villanueva; Hilda Marchbanks, Heather Hendrix; Dwilda Marchbanks, Ashley Williams; and Twilda Marchbanks, Tonya Cannon.

This is the first year that speech has been offered as a regular subject in junior high, Mrs. Williams explained, and added that the goal is to prepare these students for the comprehensive speech program offered in high school.

Public School Week is planned to pay tribute to Texas Schools who for more than a century and a quarter have provided free education.

Junior High Students Develop Reading Speed

Sixty-two Wellington Junior High School students have completed a speed reading course which has enabled them to read up to 400 words per minute under controlled classroom conditions.

Mrs. Barbara Williams, who is teaching the course for the first time in the school, explained the program to the Wellington ISD school board in a recent meeting.

Materials put out by the Educational Developmental Laboratories was used with the controlled reading machine, which is often used in local remedial or Title I programs but with more difficult material.

Classes were held three days a week for approximately 30 minutes a day on 42 sixth graders and 20 seventh graders enrolled in the regular reading classes.

"The results before and after speed reading seems to indicate a distinct advantage in offering speed reading for the middle and upper IQ students," said Mrs. Williams.

"A small percent did find this curriculum difficult, but most of these came voluntarily for extra help on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 8:05 a.m."

"Likewise there was another small percent ready to read faster than our 400 word per minute stopping point."

The students read not only for speed but also for comprehension.

Rated on a basis of 70 percent comprehension, the sixth graders were reading 158 words per minute when they began the program, but this rose to 292 words after training--an 85 percent increase in reading speed.

The seventh grade, began

Attorney General OKs Precinct Realignment

The reapportionment of commissioner and justice of the peace precincts and realignment of election precinct boundaries has received pre-clearance from the office of the Attorney General, County Judge Bob Watson has been notified.

This amounts to a final approval of the voting precincts and commissioner and justice of the precinct boundaries, as drawn by the county judge, commissioners court, and a board made up of all ethnic groups which was appointed for the purpose.

It indicates, also that these boundaries are in compliance with Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended.

Working with the county to redraw the boundaries were two professors of Baylor School who specialize in this type of work, Richard D. Morrison and David Guinn. They met with the commissioners and citizen groups at hearings earlier last year.

Boundary line maps and other documents were received by the Attorney General's office December 18.

"The Attorney General does not interpose any objection to the reapportionments and the realignment of election precinct boundaries," Gerald W. Jones, chief of the voting section of the Civil Rights Division of the Attorney General's office said in a letter to Morrison and Watson.

"However, we feel a responsibility to point out that Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act expressly provides that the failure of the Attorney General to Object does not bar any subsequent judicial action to enjoin the enforcement of such changes," the letter continued.

At the same time, the Attorney General's office was asked to determine the July 9, 1973 consolidation of Election Precincts Nos. 5 and 6 and the elimination of

Banquet Ticket Sale Continues

Tickets are on sale for the Friday, March 5, Chamber of Commerce Banquet, Margaret Vines, secretary, reminded this week.

Banquet time is 7:15 in Bura Handley Community Center.

Tickets are available at the chamber office, from officers and directors, at the two banks and at several business houses. These are going at a rapid rate.

Tickets are $6 each, and this will be a western style banquet with barbecue and all the trimmings.

There will be beef prepared barbecue style but without the sauce for those who may not want the spicy addition.

This is an opportunity for county people to hear about the funny side of the energy crisis as Wiley Wingnut describes it. The speaker will be Bob Jett, Lone Star Gas Company official who travels the country bring humor on a serious subject.

Norwood Lions Slate Volleyball Tourney

Samnorwood Lions Club is sponsoring its annual volleyball tournament from Thursday through Saturday, Feb. 25-27 with 16 teams entered.

Play will start at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday nights. Four games will be played in the women's division, to be followed by four men's games each night.

Saturday night games start at 7 p.m. when there will be three women's and three men's games, all in finals brackets.

Consolation winners will be named, to be followed by play for third place. The final games will determine the champions and second place winners.

Individual trophies, 48 in all, will be presented to players in these categories.

Teams, 8 in each the men's and women's brackets have entered from Briscoe, Wheeler, Shamrock, McLean and Samnorwood. This is one of the earliest tournaments to be played, and several teams which usually play are not yet ready.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students each night.

Leon Myers, Lions Club president, is overall chairman, and proceeds from this tournament will go for community projects.

The concession stand will be open and hamburgers, home made ice cream, rice crispies, brownies, pop and coffee will be sold, so that the spectator may come and eat supper or snack during the evening.

For communities where volleyball is a late winter-early spring sport get together each year in late January to set admission prices and work out rules and these apply to all tournaments sponsored by the four, Samnorwood, Wellington, McLean and Shamrock.

"Money raised is used to help the community in which the tournament is played, and all of it goes back to the school in some way," said Kenneth Martindale of Samnorwood.

"It's lots of fun to go out and watch these teams play. We have quite a lot of good volleyball players in this area. They've been playing quite a number of years now, and they're experienced."

Wellington, Norwood School Candidates File

One candidate filed during the last week to have his name placed on the ballot for the Wellington School board election, and two candidates filed in the Samnorwood School Board election.

There have been no filings in for places on the hospital board, and no new candidates for city council.

Reed Souder, who farms near Wellington, became the second candidate to file for a place on the Wellington School Board, according to Tommie Watts, school tax assessor-collector.

Carroll Nunnelle, who also farms, is a present member of the board and filed for re-election at the time the election was called.

There is still one opening on the board, as neither Benson Long nor Jim Ingram, whose terms expire, are running.

Two places will be filed on the Samnorwood School Board and both incumbents filed for re-election late last week, said Kay Martindale, tax assessor-collector.

They are Tommy Lindley and Gary Oldham. Both farm near Samnorwood.

Wednesday, March 3, is the final day for candidates to file for places on the ballot in the school, and city elections.

The three incumbents have filed in the city council election and include Lyndon Crelia, Willie Gragson and Gary Brewer.

Hospital board candidates are reminded that their names are placed on the ballot by petition, which they may circulate or which may be circulated for them. Those interested should contact Mrs. H.H. Bowen, secretary of the board, for additional information.

SPEEDING

Turkeys Trapped for Far West

One hundred and fifty-three wild turkeys, trapped by biologists from the Texas Parks and Wild Life Department in Collingsworth County north of Salt Fork, will find new homes in three western states, California, Idaho and Colorado.

Part of the birds traveled by air; those going to Colorado were picked up by two members of the Colorado Parks and Game Department, who drove to Canyon.

"There are too many wild turkey in the areas where we trapped. They have become a depredation problem for the landowners," explained David Rideout, a P&WL Department biologist stationed at Childress.

Others participating in the trapping were David Dvorak of Clarendon, who headed the group, Chris Wheaton, Richard Cranford, James Heffernan and David Sierra.

From Colorado, the Texas P&WL Department is due to receive some Colorado anelope for stocking in areas able to carry more of these animals. None is due to come here.

Explaining Collingsworth's overstocking problem, Rideout said that for "the last three years you've had a good hatch and survival. You have good turkey habitat here."

The 153 turkeys taken this year is a few more than the department trapped in the county last year for resettlement in Colorado. Antelope were also received in this swap, but they were for another part of the state also.

New nets were used in the trapping operation this year, Rideout said. These are approximately 70 feet square with a pole at each corner and one in the center. A cap is also placed at each corner where a rope holds the pole and net together. When this cap is detonated, the rope is blown in two and the net falls on the feeding turkeys, he explains.

Traps are baited with milo for several days before the trapping date, and the birds learn to come here to feed.

Biologists remain in a blind several hundred feet away until the net falls. Approximately a week is required for each trapping operation.

The turkeys are shipped in cardboard boxes 18 x 18 x 30 inches.

REV. LARRY DUCKWORTH

Nazarenes to Hear Missionary From Samoa

The Rev. J. Larry Duckworth, missionary for the Church of the Nazarene in Samoa, will be at the Wellington Nazarene Church Thursday, Feb. 25, at 7 p.m.

This is one of a series of deputation services he is holding across the United States and Canada, explained the pastor, the Rev. Don Bland.

Rev. Duckworth, born in Iowa, attended Pasadena College and graduated from Northwest Nazarene College with a B.A. degree.

The Nazarene denomination has 8 fully organized churches, a Bible school and several village outreach points in Samoa.

He and his wife, Francine and their four children were in American Samoa four years, where he was pastor and overseer of outreach for three, then for the last year was mission director of both Western Samoa and American Samoa.

His talk at the church here will cover traditions, and language of the people, and work the church is doing there.

Little Miss to Be Chosen March 1

Little Miss Wellington will be selected in a contest to be held Monday, March 1, at 7 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

The contest is sponsored by the high school chapter of Future Homemakers of America.

Tickets can be purchased from any FHA member or at the door and the price will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12.

Contestants are in the first through fourth grades of Wellington Elementary School. The little girls will wear their dress-up or Sunday dresses.

This is an annual event with proceeds to be used for Future Homemakers projects.

Torrez Ochiltree Co. Investigator

A former Wellington deputy sheriff, Julian Torrez, Jr., is the new Ochiltree County investigator. He formerly was with Perryton police department since 1980. One of his major priorities in his new work will be investigation of Perryton's illicit drug trafficking. Announcement of his work was made by County Attorney Bruce Roberson.

"It is an excellent opportunity for me to expand my law enforcement career," said Torrez, 29. "It has been a very rewarding experience to work for the present Perryton police department. In my opinion we have one of the best, if not the best, police departments in the Texas Panhandle."

Ultimately Torrez will be responsible to the county attorney's office, but he will be working with all law enforcement groups, the police department, sheriff's office, Department of Public Safety and probation department, Roberson said.

Torrez has had experience as a deputy sheriff and also experience with Perryton police department. "He is bi-lingual and with Perryton's increase of Spanish speaking people, this is extremely important," said the county attorney.

Torrez was born in Uvalde and raised in Collingsworth County, where he graduated from Quail High School in gator Ochiltree has had.

1971. He attended Clarendon Junior College two years in its law enforcement program. He began law enforcement work as a deputy under Sheriff John Rainey in 1977, and moved to Perryton two years later. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Torrez, Sr.

"A significant percentage of our Spanish speaking community feels alienated from the legal system because of the language barrier," Roberson said. "Julian may be able to make inroads in this direction. A good number of our cases also deal with Latinos and it certainly is easier to work a case when you can talk the language."

Reregister Livestock By Feb. 28

Collingsworth County Livestock owners are reminded that Feb. 28 is the final day to reregister marks and brands in the office of the county clerk, Helen Gollighugh.

All earmarks and brands presently on record in Collingsworth County that are not reregistered this month will be opened to the public, and anyone who wants to pick up these brands and register them for their own use can do so.

Persons who use a brand in several counties will have to register or reregister the brand in each county in which the livestock owner uses the brand.

Benefit Game to Be Played Fri.

Basketball winds down in Wellington, Friday, Feb. 26, with a fast moving game that will see Wellington all-stars against one of the top non-scholastic teams of the Panhandle, KIXZ, Amarillo. This is a benefit game for the Wellington Satellite Center.

But there's more to it. Preceding the feature game, a group of 6th grade basketball players will give a series of exhibition games, all short, to give an introduction of what Skyrocket basketball fans may expect a few years from now.

At 7:30 p.m. the sixth graders will take over the court. There will be a girls game and three or four boys games, before the All Star-KIXZ game starts at 8:30.

"The all-stars are practicing hard and gearing up for this game. It's a good way to end the basketball season in Wellington," said Susan Murphy, a staff member of the center.

The concession stand will be open with sandwiches, nachos, brownies, rice crispies, and drinks, so those attending can come and eat supper if they wish. In charge of concessions are Barbara Reynolds and Bernice Needham.

After the game, the Satellite Center directors, will host a dinner for the players and their families who come from Amarillo. Mrs. Cecil Masten is in charge of this and the meal will be in the Heritage Room.

Former County Resident Dies

A former resident of the Lillie area, Robert "Pop" D. Garvin, 80, died Feb. 10 at his home at Abernathy.

A farmer and stockman, he was born in Collin County and moved to Abernathy in 1922 from Collingsworth County. He was a member of Lillie Baptist Church.

He married Frances Watts Sept. 7, 1924 in Hale Center. Garvin was a life member of the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs.

Services were conducted at First United Methodist Church, Abernathy, on Thursday, Feb. 11 with Rev. Tommie Beck, pastor, and Rev. H.C. Coggins of Lakeview officiating.

Survivors are his wife; a daughter, Joy Jones of Dimmitt; a son, Eugene of Harlingen, 5 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren.

Services for Eula L. Scott Held Monday

Mrs. Eula L. Scott, 79, died at 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 19. The family home was 1201 Belton St., but she had been a resident of Thomas Nursing Center about two years.

Funeral services were conducted at 1:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 22, in Faith Baptist Church, with the Rev. Nathan Mulder, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Fairview Cemetery, under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were R.B. Lucas, Johnny Mote, Gene Mote, Walter Needham, Lonnie Needham and Gene Morrow.

Mrs. Scott was born August 27, 1902, in Bowie, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E.M. Hobbs, who were old timers here. They had lived in a number of communities in the county.

She was married August 5, 1922, to Ray W. Scott in Wellington. He preceded her in death.

Mrs. Scott was a member of Faith Baptist Church. Survivors are two sons, Winford Scott of Morton and the Rev. Dale Scott of Granada, CA.; three sisters, Mrs. Louie Holt of New Home, Miss Faye Hobbs of Weatherford and Mrs. Bob Sexton of Mineral Wells; two brothers, Gentry Hobbs of Seagraves and Alton Hobbs of Lubbock; 8 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Harriett Powell Retires After 24 Years at Hospital

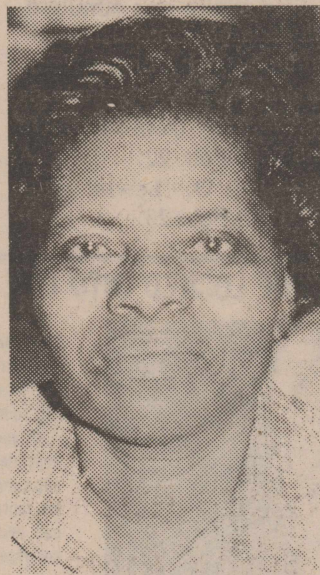

Mrs. Harriett Powell, a hospital employee here for 24 years and 7 days, retired from her work on February 16. She was employed in the dietary department.

"God bless those that are there now," she mused as she ended her work.

At the time she retired, three generations of her family worked at Collingsworth General: Harriett Powell, her daughter-in-law, Beulah Powell, and a granddaughter, Mary Elizabeth Thomas.

Mrs. Powell went to work February 8, 1958, when this was St. Joseph's Hospital and she was under the direction of Sister Margaret Marie. She remained after it became a county hospital.

First she worked as an aide, then transferred to the dietary department.

HARRIETT POWELL

"Sarah Young and I were the two cooks, and we worked until we got through," Mrs. Powell said. "There are 5 in that department now." Only one staff member has worked longer than Harriett Powell, and that is Ella Mae Jones.

Succeeding Mrs. Powell is LuWana Sain, who began work in the department while she was in high school, under the VICA program. She remained in this work after she graduated.

Mrs. Powell came to Wellington from Tenaha in 1947 to pull bolls for G.K. Patterson. They returned the next year to live. She was raised at Deberry.

She is the wife of Howard Powell, and has one daughter, Bessie Mathis of Wellington; and two stepsons, Robert Powell and Horace Powell of Wellington; and a step-daughter, Patsy Edwards of El Paso. She has 5 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren.

Quail Class of 1942 Needs 11 Addresses

Present addresses, and married names of the girls, are needed for 11 members of the Quail Graduating Class of 1942, which will hold its 40th anniversary reunion on Saturday, April 10.

Information concerning 19 members has been received since announcement was made of the reunion.

Those whose addresses are needed include Lowell Davis, Iris Blevins Connelly, Clio Allen, Orville Atkinson, Willie Mae Walters, Lester Thomas, Ethel Bernice Stephens, Erma Lee Bell Smith, Howard Blevins, Whit Pate and Morene Walters Thole.

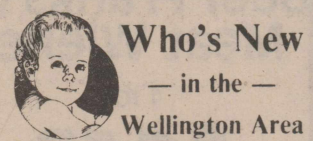

As no members of the class are living in this area, the get-together plans are being made by the mother and sisters of Addierene Clay French of Avila Beach, Ca. These are Mrs. Mary Clay of Hedley, Ava Clay White of Quail and Mildred Clay Langley of Wellington.

All correspondence should be addressed to: Mrs. Loyd Langley, Route 1, Box 92, Wellington, TX. 79095.

The reunion will be in the east room of the Quail Booster Club Building on the old school campus. Hours will be from 4 p.m. until banquet time.

"We are asking the ex-students to bring family and guests, along with mementos of Quail school days. If you cannot attend, please send information concerning yourself since leaving Quail, which we will share with your classmates," said Mrs. Langley.

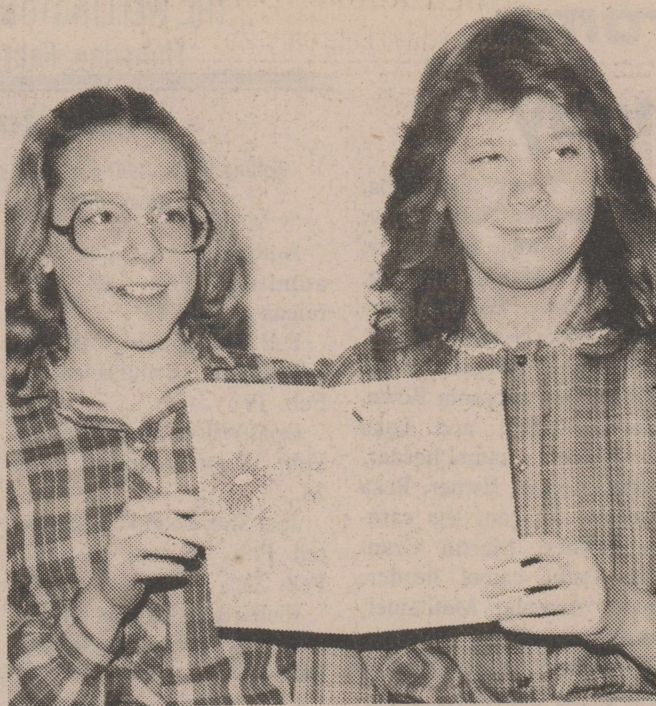

She has located and talked by phone with one member of the class who plans to attend, Nina Mae Thurman, now Mrs. Harold Robb, of Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. J.W. French, Avila Beach, Ca. will be here.

HEATHER HENDRIX - MELODY FULFER

Spelling Bee Winners Named

Heather Hendrix, 7th grade student in Wellington Junior High, is the county's champion speller, senior division, as determined in the annual spelling bee held Friday, Feb. 19. She will represent Collingsworth County in the Regional Spelling Bee when it is held at Amarillo in April.

The junior winner is Melody Fulfer, 6th grade student at Samnorwood. She will be invited to attend the Amarillo Bee and the luncheon which will honor the county winners, but junior level winners do not compete.

Two other students participated in the bee. Donna Dickson, 7th grader, represented Samnorwood in the senior division and Eric Harvey, a third grader in Wellington Elementary School, competed in the junior division. He is one of the youngest students to enter the spelling bee here in recent years.

Eleven-year-old Heather is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Don Hendrix, and this is the first time she has entered the spelling bee.

Heather attended Kindergarten and first grade in Germany, where the family lived while her father served as an Army officer. She has one sister, Angell, 9. Her favorite studies are Speech and English. Heather is in the GATE program for gifted and talented students.

Her hobbies are riding horses, roller skating, ice skating, and collecting stuffed animals and posters, and reading.

Melody, who is 11 years also, is the daughter of Robert D. Fulfer of Route 1, Shamrock. She entered Samnorwood School this year, after attending Bradford Elementary School in Wichita Falls. She participated in spelling bees there.

Her hobbies are horseback riding, reading, and collecting stuffed animals, while her favorite studies are math and history.

The youngest of four children, she has a sister, Chris, 14, and brothers Robin 13 and Doug 18.

Angel Vasquez Dies of Heart Attack Thurs.

Angel Vasquez, 49, died Thursday, Feb. 18, in Collingsworth General Hospital of an apparent heart attack. He was stricken while working southeast of Wellington a short time before he died.

Vasquez had lived in Collingsworth County 10 years and was a farm laborer. For the last two years he was employed by Carthel Lewis.

Graveside services were conducted at 10 a.m. Monday, Feb. 22, in Fairview Cemetery, with the Rev. Harold Wayne Moore, pastor of the Wheeler Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Arrangements were by Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Ten Compete In Tascosa Speech Tourney

Ten Wellington High School students participated in the Tascosa High School speech tournament in Amarillo Friday and Saturday, Feb. 19 and 20.

Wellington was the only AA school taking part, with others ranging up to class 5-A, said Mrs. Bob McAlister, speech instructor.

Competing in poetry were Valerie Van Pelt and Allison Neeley; prose, Leigh Myrick and Todd Roberson; persuasive speaking: Barry Bowen and Lynette Spillman; and humorous interpretation: Donna Blades. Two teams were in the duet acting competition, Camille Smith and Roberson, and Scott Shepard and LucyAnne Hayes.

Sponsors were Mrs. McAlister and Mrs. Don Van Pelt.

Mother of Bill Beall Dies Feb. 19

Mrs. Lela Schell, 65, of Clarendon, died Friday, Feb. 19, in the Memphis hospital. She had suffered a heart attack two weeks before her death.

Mrs. Schell was the mother of Bill Beall, former president of Wellington State Bank, now president of Western National Bank, Amarillo.

She lived in Collingsworth County in the early 1930s.

Services were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday in Schooler-Gordon Colonial Chapel in Amarillo. Dr. Jim Pickens, pastor of St. Stephen United Methodist Church in Amarillo officiated and burial was in Llano Cemetery.

Mrs. Schell was also a former resident of Amarillo, Artesia, N.M. and Aztec, N.M. She had lived at Clarendon about five years and was owner and operator of It'll Do Motel in Clarendon.

She was born at Mallette, Oklahoma. Mrs. Schell was a Baptist. Survivors include her husband, Tom P. Schell of Clarendon; her son Bill Beall; a sister, Lorene Josey of Lubbock; and five brothers, Cecil and Glen Urquhart both of Lubbock, A.D. Urquhart of Dallas, Luther and Thurman Urquhart, both of Amarillo. There are two grandchildren, Jeanie Workman and Rex Beall, both of Amarillo; and two great-grandchildren, Stephanie and Mitchell Workman, both of Amarillo.

Arizona is now our leading cotton growing state, followed by California.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENTS REPORT

by Don Reeves

World supplies of nitrogen, phosphate, and potash fertilizers should be adequate to meet expected demand through 1985-86. Nitrogen supplies will likely be tighter than other nutrients during 1981-82 through 1985-86. The Food and Agriculture Organization/United Nations Industrial Development Organization/World Bank Fertilizer Working Group recently forecast that a marginal deficit in the world nitrogen balance could appear in 1982-83 and become larger in subsequent years.

The supply capability of phosphates for each of the forecast years, up to 1985-86, is expected to be more than adequate to meet the deficits projected for most regions other than North America, Western Europe, and Africa. In 1985-86, the surplus will likely be small, and the world supply and demand for phosphates would be nearly in balance. Potash supplies are expected to increase and result in a comfortable surplus by 1983-84. The surplus will likely become larger the following year but will start to decline in 1985-86.

GAS DEREGULATION

The major shift in feedstock costs, initially as a result of the OPEC embargo of 1973, will continue to have a major impact on the chemical industry in general. However, it seems clear that the additional complication of domestic natural gas decontrol is signaling a major fundamental change in the feedstock and energy cost of fertilizers, with a major impact on ammonia production. The ability of the U.S. ammonia industry to maintain a competitive long-term position is an import concern. Natural gas decontrol will cause a major increase in ammonia manufacturing costs.

Natural gas as a feedstock for anhydrous ammonia is expected to increase from the present average industry cost of $3.00 per mcf (about $120.00 per ton) in 1982 to $6.00 to $8.00 per mcf ($240.00 to $320.00 per ton) by 1985-87 after natural gas is deregulated. Natural gas constitutes about 75% of total production costs making up a ton of anhydrous ammonia.

GREEN CLOVERS

The Green Clovers met Thursday, Feb. 18, in the home of Mrs. Glenn Thomas. Nancy Bigby, the new extension agent for home economics, talked to the girls about method demonstrations.

Valerie Noakes and Lynda Forrester demonstrated how to tie a tie. Dione Moore, Jonny Settle and Stacy Barton showed the group how to wrap the cord around a hair dryer correctly.

Carrie Langford and Rachelle Ford demonstrated how to separate the white and yolk of an egg and Raquel Neeley and Shelly Thomas demonstrated how to peel a carrot.

Refreshments were served by Dione Moore.

Masons Honor Past Masters February 11

Seven past masters of the Wellington Masonic Lodge were present for the meeting held Thursday, Feb. 11, in their honor.

Weather conditions prevented the guest speaker, Will Chamberlain of Clarendon, from being here. He will be the speaker at the meeting of the lodge on Thursday, March 11, according to Paul Davis, worshipful master.

All past masters and all members of the lodge are urged to attend and hear him.

Filing Slow in Local Elections

Lyndon Crelia, member of the City Council, has filed for re-election to that office, Nell McKinney, city secretary said.

Earlier two other council members whose terms expire had filed for re-election. These are Willie Gragson and Gary Brewer.

Only one candidate has announced for a place on the Wellington School Board. Carroll Nunneley filed for re-election during the school board meeting Monday night, Feb. 18.

Others whose terms expire are Benson Long and Jim Ingram. Ingram has announced that he will not be a candidate, as he is running for Justice of the Peace for Precinct 1.

There had been no filings for a place on the hospital board, Tuesday afternoon, said Mrs. H.H. Bowen, secretary.

These elections will be held Saturday, April 3 with the deadline for filing slated for Thursday, March 4. Other elections held at that time will be the Samnorwood School Board and Dodson City elections, and possibly an election to legalize bingo on a local option basis.

Group Attends Wilson Rites

A group of out of town relatives and friends attended the funeral of Tom Wilson, which was held Sunday, Feb. 21, in First Baptist Church, Memphis.

These included Jimmy Duke of Ft. Worth, Phyllis Duke Martin and Janelda Duke Garb of Dallas, Dell O'Neil of Lubbock, Linda Leathers of Olton, Fred Bourland of Ennis, Dick Shelton and Doc Johnson of Clarendon, Richard Bailey of Nocona, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brock of Portales, N.M., and Mr. and Mrs. Tim Hatch of Lubbock, and Walter Johnson of Amarillo.

Rites Held at Dodson for Anna Hare

Graveside rites for a former Dodson woman, Mrs. Anna Binkley Hare, 83, were conducted at Dodson Cemetery Saturday, Feb. 20, at 3 p.m. Bob Garton, Church of Christ minister, officiated.

Mrs. Hare, whose home was 1001 Wallace Blvd, Amarillo, died Tuesday, Feb. 16.

Amarillo services were at 10 a.m. Saturday in Schooler Gordon Colonial Chapel with Gene Shelburne, minister of Anna Street Church of Christ, officiating.

Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

The Binkley family were early residents of the Dodson area. Her husband, A.H. Hare, died in 1969. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors are a step-daughter, Vincil Hare; three sisters, Miss Charlie Binkley of Lovington, N.M., Mrs. Gladys Lance of Waco and Mrs. Hazel Hodel of Bristol, Tenn., and several nieces and nephews.

Kedron Mitchell Reviews 34 Year Teaching Career

Kedron Mitchell of Quail, past president of Collingsworth Retired Teachers Association, is the organization's Retired Teacher of the month.

I can almost remember the rainy Friday, June morning that I was born. My three-year-old brother fell off the back porch into a tub of rainwater. I was the first daughter of Noah Adolphus and Maud Smith Grace.

My great grandparents, John and Delilah Cox King were the first family in Denton County, pioneer settlers in the Little Elm Community in the southeast part of the county.

I entered C.I.A. (College of Industrial Arts) at Denton to major in Home Economics and Home Demonstration, with a minor in science. I received the bachelor of Science degree from Texas State College for Women. (The name of the college was changed in my senior year). When I was working on the master of science degree, the name was changed again so I graduated from Texas Woman's University.

My first school teaching adventure began in Burleson, where many funny and interesting experiences happened. The Future Homemakers of Texas (it was this instead of FHA) met during the hour lunch period. The girls brought lunch and ate together. The day before one meeting, plans were made what each would bring. A French girl said she would bring grape juice.

I was in another room when I heard the girls ask: "Maxine, how do they make grape juice?"

I immediately went in to taste and smell the grape juice. Then I had the school superintendent come taste the grape juice. He told me to put lots of water in the grape juice, and as far as I know, no one got a buzz from the wine.

After one year in Burleson, I went to Ft. Bend County as assistant county home demonstration agent with the Extension Service. I worked with 4-H girls in 40 or more clubs with a membership of from 800 to 1,000. After two years, I became the county home demonstration agent, working with women in 35 to 40 clubs with membership around 800.

The women were so eager to learn, as some were from the old country or were first generation Americans of German, Polish, Bohemian, Czechoslovakian, French and Italian backgrounds. Many more of the women came from other states, many the "old Southern" types: "Miss Janie," "Miss Sarah," etc., even though married. Mrs. Janie Wessandorf, who used to be a member of the Texas Education Agency board of directors was one of the women. I learned much helpful information about the customs and more of these nationalities. I never could learn many of the Czech words and the only one I can remember is "poopeek," to us "belly-button."

I learned some big lessons working with women, and the biggest was to earn the respect and trust, and they would take me into their hearts.

After the Extension Service changed its policy so that home agents could be married and work, I was one of the first three agents to marry.

Next, World War II came along and Monty was gone overseas for 33 months. I continued my work in Ft. Bend County. Monty came home and after two months I joined him in Sacramento, Calif. Our son, Mike, was born in the fall and while I was in the hospital, Monty received his discharge papers from the Air Force.

After two months at Quail with Monty's parents, we moved to Canon City, Colo., where he was to work.

While visiting with Monty's parents at Christmas 1947, Noah Cunningham hired me to teach Homemaking in the Quail High School, where I taught for 17½ years. These were good years that gave great joy and satisfaction in teaching.

In the early 1950s I taught boys in homemaking classes for three years. The girls thought that I enjoyed teaching boys better than girls. I finally convinced them that girls were best to teach.

The boys wanted to learn to sew. That was fine with me and I taught them to make western shirts. When one boy was speaker at an area meeting, he wore the shirt he had made. I also saw to it that they learned to take care of and to repair the sewing machines.

My students thought that I was too hard on them. New classes were told that I expected respect from them even though they might not like them. I always had this respect with no discipline problems.

I felt that I was hired to do the best teaching that I was capable of doing in order for students to learn, develop and mature into God-fearing, good, law-abiding citizens.

I doubt if there are many teachers who have enjoyed working with girls as much as Mrs. Lowell Wells, Quail music teacher and I. We have talked of writing a book on all the trips we have taken with the girls, some to national meetings, where the Quail Girl's Chorus sang. This chorus was made up of FHA members. It would be called, "Tripping with Girls." We might have revealed a few secrets that would make girls catch their breath and wonder.

When a boy that I had in homemaking class had been in Texas A&M University a year or two, I asked his mother to write and ask him why he put a raw egg and a fork in the old flue in the Homemaking cottage. The reply came back: How in the world did I find out he was the one that did this? A teacher soon learns the character of a student and the tricks he or she would pull.

Quail girls were very active Future Homemakers of America members. Five girls served as Area I officers with one being president. Twenty-one earned degrees of achievement at the state level.

In September of each year, FHA had formal initiation followed by fun initiation. One of the girls said she could floor me in a wrestling match. After about 5 minutes, we were laughing so hard that we fell down in chairs. The contest was never finished.

Another time a snake in a jar was used. One girl was not afraid of anything pulled on her until the snake accidentally got out of the jar. Then she was the first one out of the room.

Again, at a FHA slumber party I told the girls to turn off the record player around 2 a.m. About an hour later the record player came on. With a house shoe in my hand, I slipped in the room to see a girl crawling in bed behind another girl. I gave her a swat and got the wrong girl. I have never learned which girl I should have swatted.

Samnorwood was the next school where I taught. I will always remember the students but especially the boys as being the most mannerly students. If the boys were near the door, they would open it and then carry my numerous boxes, groceries, etc., to the homemaking department.

JEANNE MORRIS-CARL TAYLOR

Morris-Taylor Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Jerol D. Morris of 1209 Amarillo Street are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Jeanne, to Carl Lewis Taylor, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Taylor, 1601 Amarillo Street.

Both Miss Morris and Mr. Taylor are juniors in West Texas State University, Canyon.

The couple will be married at the end of the present school year, having selected Saturday, May 29 for their wedding day.

The ceremony will take place in First Christian Church.

principals, helpful fellow teachers, understanding parents and interesting students.

May I express my appreciation, gratitude and thanks to Supt. Noah Cunningham, Herman Moseley and David Haynie; principals W.C. Risinger, Ralph Bradley, Paul Young, Howard Perkins, Wm. C. Smith, Isla Mae Morris, Loyd Stephens, Max Jenks and Albert Mosenbocker; the wonderful teachers in Quail, Samnorwood and Estelline schools and most of all to the Great boys and girls of these schools. I am proud of you.

I taught the next four years in Estelline. A new experience was added—sponsoring a 35-girl pep squad. As a teacher, if you have not sponsored a pep squad, then your teaching experience is not complete.

Teaching in Amarillo College for three years was a delightful way to complete 34 years of teaching. To teach mature students who really want to learn is a challenge that requires the best of a teacher. This was the grand finale of my teaching career.

The many blessings in teaching were the leadership of superintendents and

Wellington Business and professional Women's Club has selected as its B&PW Woman of the Year Mrs. L.C. (Rufus) Sweat, a member since 1959 and a past president.

In making their selection, the business women considered not only her activities in B&PW, but her contributions to the teaching profession, to her church, her family and her community over a long period of years.

L.C. Sweat looks back on her term as president, 1961-62, with pleasure.

"One of the most enjoyable things to me was when our B&PW Chorus sang at the National convention in Dallas and at a state convention in Abilene," she recalls.

But she is as keenly interested in the club's present work, especially in its help in funding research at M.D. Anderson Hospital and Cancer Institute in Houston.

There is local involvement, too, with Red Cross and Red Cross Bloodmobile drives, and others.

Volunteerism, that notable Wellington quality, is strong in the 1982 Woman of the Year, beyond her involvement in B&PW Club. One involvement is the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

"Music has been one of my loves," she says. "Mitt (her sister) and I have sung together for 65 years. I now sing with two different quartets, The Lighthouse and Pioneer Quartet. I go each Friday evening to Thomas Nursing Center to sing with the Lighthouse Quartet. This is a delight and joy to sing for this group of people," she says.

She belongs to First Baptist Church. Each Sunday morning for 24 years, since Mission Bautista Mt. Sinai was organized, she has helped with its activities. She is an associate member of the Deborah Class and attends the Women's Missionary Union.

A longtime member of the Texas Extension Homemakers Association, she belongs to the Samnorwood Club and in 1952 was chosen Texas Conservation Home-maker of the Year in the Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program.

Through her teaching, she belongs to Delta Kappa Gamma and now to the Retired Teachers Association.

L.C. Sweat began her teaching in the Plymouth School in Sept. 1928, and on Dec. 15 she married Rufus Sweat. For 10 years, until she earned her degree, she and her sister, Mitt Lowry (Mrs. Jack) taught during the school terms and attended West Texas State University in summer.

Both then taught at Nicholson School 8 years, as part of the Samnorwood District. She did not teach when her children were growing up, but returned to the classroom in Wellington Junior High.

Mrs. Sweat was the 8th of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Young, and grew up in the Lutie community.

"In this large family, we were taught many things. Our parents were unable to continue their education, but insisted and encouraged each of us to do that. We were all taught to work.

Lutie School was only half a mile from their home, and she attended there 9 years, after skipping second grade because she was the only pupil in it.

Through the last two years of high school, she and Mrs. Lowry drove a Model T Ford to Wellington, where they graduated in 1926. This was before the highway was paved.

She pays tribute to some of her early teachers, Alma Alexander Crawley and Bess French Alexander, both now living in Wellington, and the late Loeva Pierce.

Mrs. Sweat has three children, Doris Clo, of Irving, a librarian in Euless Independent School District; Chesta VaRue, of Richardson, vice-president and cashier in the United National Bank, Plano, and Don Paul, vice president with Anylex Leasing Corp., which has headquarters in New York City. This is a lease financing company primarily in the IBM computer area. He lives in Houston.

Lillie Club Has Meeting

Lillie Extension Homemakers Club met Feb. 11, with Nancy Bigby, new extension agent, meeting with the group for the first time. The meeting was in the Heritage Room with Mrs. Elmer Haralson and Mrs. Dudley Phipps as hostesses. A valentine motif was used in decorations and refreshments.

Mrs. Rufus Sweat was the program speaker, telling of the state extension home-maker meeting which she attended in Austin.

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, president, appointed standing committees.

Attending were Mrs. Sweat, Mrs. Barjenbruch, Mrs. Russell Yates, Mrs. Clinton DeArmond, Mrs. Zook Thomas, Miss Bigby, Mrs. Bill Hill, Mrs. Earl Hunter, Mrs. Mack Horton, and the hostesses.

1924 Study Club Elects Officers for 1982-84 Term

Mrs. R.R. Crawley was hostess in her home when the 1924 Study Club met for a regular meeting Thursday, February 18.

In the business session, conducted by Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, president, a new slate of officers was elected for a two-year term.

Mrs. B.M. Sims is president; Mrs. Truett Holland, vice-president; Mrs. Chester Fires, treasurer; Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, secretary; Mrs. R.R. Crawley, telephone chairman. Serving on the nominating committee were Mrs. Fires, chairman, Mrs. Sims and Mrs. Holland. These officers will be installed the last meeting in May.

Mrs. Gorman Owens gave a program on ecology, "You are a Child of the Universe". Ecology was defined as a science dealing with mutual relationships with living things and their environment.

It was pointed out that the roll of man in the universe is dominion over the land and keeping balance with nature.

"Stewardship both for the present and for future generations depends on man's understanding of nature and inter-action between man and all living creatures and plant life," said Mrs. Owens. "There are three major points to consider," she said, "restraining, quality of life, and reverence for all life."

Much of her material was taken from the book by Dr. Granville T. Walker, entitled, "Go Placidly Amid The Noise and Haste".

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Owens, a guest; Mrs. Fires, Mrs. Derryberry and Mrs. Crawley.

The next meeting will be on March 4, at the Wellington High School auditorium with Mrs. Billy McAlister and her speech class presenting a program of drama.

Autograph Party Here to Honor Childress Writer

An autograph party honoring Jean Burchett, Childress columnist-humorist, on the publication of her new book will be held Saturday, Feb. 27, from 10 to 11 a.m. in the Heritage Room. The 1954 Study Club is the sponsor and the public is invited.

The book, published in December, bears the name of her popular newspaper column, "Daze of Our Lives."

With humor and high spirits, she examines the problems of bringing up her three children, or she looks back to her own childhood. Still other columns are a commentary on day to day happenings.

Mrs. Burchett is the niece of Mrs. Ben Ratliff and has spoken before a number of Wellington groups. She also has Collingsworth ties, for her grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. C.Z. Ratliff lived at Cottonwood. The writer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P.F. Ratliff, grew up in Quanah and graduated from high school there.

She is also the author of a religious column which appears regularly in a Chicago newspaper.

Her speaking engagements have taken her to Dalhart in the northwest corner of the state and next month she will be the Town Hall speaker in Corpus Christi and another engagement will be at the Lubbock B&PW Club.

After devoting her full time to writing and speaking for several years, Mrs. Burchett now is employed in the office of the Ft. Worth and Denver Railway, Childress.

She is the wife of Hugh Burchett. Her son, Tim Starnes, who lives near Denton, did sketches for his mother's book. Her daughters are Mrs. Roy Cary (Tanya) and Mrs. Dale Bently (Tracy, both of Vernon). She has three grandchildren.

The Problem Agriculture Is Facing Today

The problem agriculture is facing today actually began when President Ford decided to put an embargo on grain shipments to the Soviet Union in 1975. The reason he gave was that we had high food prices in the U.S. Later, President Carter decided to use the shipment of food and grains to the Soviet Union as a weapon against their invasion of Afghanistan. Reagan is now using the shipment of these items to Poland as a weapon. So it's small wonder that other countries have decided that if U.S. can use the shipments of those commodities as a club over the head of someone, why can't they do the same thing.

For example, Mainland China has told us if we continue to sell military planes to Taiwan, they will not honor the five year contract they have with us for the purchase of various grains. India has also decided they could use it as a weapon against us by threatening to cut off the purchase of various grains from the United States if we continue to sell weapons to Pakistan. Can we criticize them when we are doing the same thing? Also, can we fault the Russians when they indicate they would rather not have us as their main source of supply?

Another tragic example is Japan. It is the largest single importer of U.S. agricultural products. The volume of purchases from the U.S. exceeds 7 billion dollars, about 15% of the total U.S. agricultural exports. Two-thirds of the dollar volume is grain - primarily corn, soybeans and wheat.

At Chicago in July of last year, a panel discussion was held between the U.S. and Japanese concerning the future of U.S./Japan agricultural trade. Secretary of Agriculture Block as well as Ambassador Yoshio Okawara of Japan were in attendance.

The most interesting point made by the panel members - from Japan - and in particular Mr. Eishi Ueno, Agricultural Attache, was the point about U.S. grain embargo against Russia. The Japanese viewed this quite negatively and openly stated that as a result of this action they, the Japanese, would work to become less dependent on U.S. agricultural commodities. The point was made emphatically and repeatedly that the percent of Japanese purchase of grain from the U.S. will decline. They did not consider us a reliable source of supply because we use grain shipments as a weapon in cold war diplomacy.

Somehow or another the United States Department of State and the Department of Agriculture must get their act together. Surely, they realize what a tragic blow to the farmers of this country their actions and in some cases inaction is causing. And the farmer's plight in this mess is only the tip of the iceberg. Obviously, nothing happens until the farmer grows or raises something, be it wheat, corn, soybeans, rice, cattle or hogs. But that is only the beginning.

I don't think most people realize that agriculture is this country's largest industry. It's assets today total nearly one trillion dollars. That amount is equal to almost 90% of the total assets of all manufacturing corporations in this country.

Also, agriculture is this country's largest employer (outside the government itself). Around 15 million people work in some phase of agriculture - the growing, the storing, transporting, processing, merchandising and marketing of all farm commodities.

Also, I think we're all aware that agriculture makes a tremendous contribution to the U.S. balance of payments. Farm exports last year totaled over 45 billion dollars, giving us a surplus of 26.7 billion in agriculture products. That went a long way toward helping us pay for the imported oil bill.

We are constantly hearing and reading the economists of our country proclaiming that the U.S. has fallen behind Japan, West Germany and other countries in productivity. They have completely overlooked the fact that the productivity gains of the farmers out-strip those of any other type of industry in this country or in any other country. This current generation of U.S. farmer produces over 757 more crops than their fathers did on the same number of acres. An hour of farm labor in 1981 produced 14 times as much food as it did only 60 years ago.

As a result, food in this country is one heck of a good buy. That's something that most people overlook when they are grumbling about high prices. The United States families now spend approximately 14% of their incomes for food. This compares with 34% in the Soviet Union, 23% in Japan, 59% in India, 41% in Brazil, 60% in Mainland China, 41% in Mexico, 20% in France, 19% in England and on and on. The people of United States spend far and away the lowest percentage of their spendable income for food than any country in the world.

Due to better productivity on the farms, an hour of factory wages today buys four times as much chicken as it did 30 years ago, three times as many eggs, 70% more milk, and so on.

I don't think we should forget that farmers are also large consumers. For example, the annual purchases for farm machinery, farm tractors, trucks and other vehicles total 14 billion dollars. For fuel, lubricants, maintenance of vehicle and equipment, the farmer spends over 13 billion dollars a year.

Agriculture uses about six and one-half million tons of steel every year. That is enough to account for 40 thousand jobs in the steel industry. Farmers use a tremendous amount of electricity, 33 billion kilowatt hours in a year. That's more than is used in homes of New England, Maryland, Kentucky and Washington D.C. combined.

Incidentally, farmers also pay an enormous amount of taxes. Last year they paid over 8 billion dollars.

The farmers today are one of the last vestiges of the independent entrepreneurs. As such, they're not very good at banding together and making their needs and desires known in the political world. They are better now than they used to be, but it's difficult to get a group of farmers to all agree on the same thing. That's why there's more than one farm organization. The interest of the wheat farmer may not be (and in many cases cannot be) the same as a rice farmer, a peanut farmer, a cotton farmer, or a corn farmer. As a result, it's difficult for them to get together and agree on a course of action.

But in this country today if you have no political clout, you have no clout at all. Thus, the farmer and those who are dependent on what happens to the farmer are at the mercy of the Congressmen who come from the center of the big cities and whose interest seems to be pointed only toward having the lowest possible food prices for their constituents. What they have forgotten is that as the farmer is pushed back, some of the people they represent can also be hurt (such as steel workers and auto workers).

I think it's time for all of us to let our national and state representatives know that, whether they are willing to admit it or not, the farmer is now and always has been the backbone of our country. Stop using them as a "whipping boy" and stop "playing games" with them in the operation of their business. Instead, help them to do what they do well and that's FARM.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In Wellington

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects, modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For Wellington this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The three-judge federal panel hearing legal challenges to the Texas legislative and congressional redistricting plans moved a step closer to postponing the May 1 primary elections by delaying the filing deadline in 16 of 27 congressional races to March 19.

The panel, composed of U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Sam Johnson and U.S. District Judges William Wayne Justice of Tyler and Robert Parker of Beaumont, took that action after the U.S. Justice Department refused to reconsider its objection to the Texas congressional redistricting plan.

The court, which previously had postponed House and Senate filing deadlines to the same date, had given Attorney General Mark White's office about a week to win reconsideration of the plan. When that did not occur, the court enjoined the state from holding any elections under the contested plan.

But the court reserved its criticism not for the state but for the Justice Department, which it said had "frustrated" the election process in Texas.

Judge Johnson blasted the Justice Department for waiting until just two days before the original Feb. 1 filing deadline before objecting to the plan. The Justice Department's action has impeded the election process in Texas because of "unseemly delay, inattention and inactivity," Johnson said.

The court now will hand down its own plan under which 1982 congressional elections will be held. The state and several other parties in the case are seeking to have the court affirm the state plan, but black and Hispanic civil rights groups would like to see some Dallas and South Texas districts drawn more to their liking.

Legislative Spending
While the federal court was contemplating redistricting, the State Auditor's Office was handing out the figures on how much our lawmakers spent to run their offices in fiscal 1981.

As he has for several years, State Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, led among the 31 state senators in spending, while Beaumont Rep. Al Price, a Democrat, was the top spender in the House.

Mengden, a fiscal conservative, spent $162,275 during the period from Sept. 1, 1980, to Aug. 31, 1981. That total was almost twice the amount spent by fellow Sen. Grant Jones, D-Abilene, who was the lowest spender among senators who were in office for the full year.

Jones spent $68,887 for operation of his offices—nearly $2,000 less than the amount Price spent in the House. Price's expenses totaled $70,779.

Other top spenders in the Senate included Sens. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, $151,708; and Dee Travis, R-Garland, $138,353.

In the House, Price was followed by Corpus Christi Rep. Al Luna, a Democrat, who spent $67,616 and Rep. Senfronia Thompson, D-Houston, who spent $67,504.

LULAC President

Members of the League of United Latin American Citizens met in Austin to observe National LULAC Week, and Tony Bonilla, national president of that organization, took the opportunity to criticize both President Reagan and Gov. Bill Clements.

Bonilla blasted Reagan for being "insensitive" to the needs of the poor, elderly and disadvantaged, and he opposed Reagan's "new federalism" program.

The LULAC president said poor, elderly and disadvantaged persons can expect little improvement in social conditions if the federal government transfers social programs to state and local governments.

He added that those groups can't count on much sympathy or assistance from local governments that will have to administer the 40 or so programs Reagan wants shifted to the states.

Directing his criticism toward Clements, Bonilla said the Republican governor has been courting public officials in Mexico in order to further his oil drilling business.

Bonilla said Clements' frequent visits to Mexico and meetings with Mexican officials have served "to feather his own nest," and he challenged Clements to deny that the trips haven't furthered his business interests.

A spokesman for Clements term the charges "ridiculous."

And while Tony Bonilla was criticizing the incumbent governor, his brother Ruben Bonilla, a former LULAC president, was endorsing the gubernatorial candidacy of Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple, D-Diboll.

Temple has said he expects even more minority support.

Property Taxes

Abolition of the state ad valorem tax has been a hot issue during both the 1979 and 1981 sessions, and now State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, a Democratic candidate for land commissioner, says he'll oppose any attempt to restore part of that tax for college construction.

Kubiak said he opposes a proposal to impose a 3 cent property tax to finance construction at state colleges and universities that do not share in the Permanent University Fund. He criticized his Democratic opponents, Midland Sen. Pete Snelson and former State Democratic Party executive director Garry Mauro, for supporting the idea.

Snelson, in fact, was the main proponent of the proposal during last summer's special session, and fought passage of any property tax repeal legislation that did not address the college construction funding issue.

The tax, which was virtually eliminated in 1979, had financed construction at 17 public senior colleges and universities that are not part of the University of Texas or Texas A & M University systems.

Kubiak wants a higher education fund financed with surplus revenues and general appropriations.

Extension Homemakers Hear Mrs. Godfrey on Landscaping

The Wellington Extension Homemakers met Thursday, February 18 in the home of Mrs. Ledale Beaubouef. Mrs. Amy Godfrey of Memphis was guest speaker for the group.

Mrs. Godfrey spoke about outdoor landscaping and described the use of fruit producers as a means of providing beauty to your yard plus the added bonus of available fruit.

She described shade trees as being thirty feet in height. Excellent examples of this type are pecan, walnut, and apricot trees.

Ornamental trees reach about ten to eleven feet. They stay small, bloom nicely, and have color. Fruit trees that do exceptionally well are the dwarf cherry, crabapple, and the all red plum.

The use of larger trees such as those reaching twenty feet in height are perfect for the edge of a lot or corner of a house, said the speaker. Yellow apples and pears are nice larger trees. Cherry trees look well placed along a back fence. Fruit trees need plenty of sun and this must be taken in consideration during planting.

Grapevines are good to run along a fence but take care not to mix seed and seedless grapes together. They will cross-pollinate.

Blackberries and bosenberries make excellent hedges. Strawberries are perfect for ground cover and may be planted underneath rose bushes provided both have adequate sun. They also need rich, well-drained soil.

Herbs such as mint, chives, rosemary and thyme work well in flower gardens as well as small pots or hanging pots.

In caring for fruit trees, pruning is very important. It shapes trees and prevents them from being overloaded with fruit. If you thin the fruit out you will have much larger fruit. With a quantity of fruit the tree runs out of energy and produces smaller, less desirable fruit. About two weeks after a fruit tree blooms the extra fruits need to be pinched off.

Moths in pecan trees and worms in peaches are taken care of by spraying at the time of blooming. Mrs. Godfrey said that it is much better to water trees in the early morning or late evening. She said that if you did water your tree during the day to be careful not to wet leaves.

A question and answer session ended Mrs. Godfrey's discussion during which refreshments were served to those attending.

Mrs. David Hall with Karissa and John, Mrs. Billy Colsen and Kelly, Mrs. Eddie Hankins with Tracey and Christy, Miss Nancy Bigby, County Extension Agent, Mrs. Randy Motesenbocker and Mrs. Beaubouef. Attending as guests were Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. Godfrey.

Renee Lacy Pledges

ABILENE - Renee Lacy, daughter of Edith Lacy of Wellington, is a Spring 1982 pledge of Alpha Psi Alpha women's social club at McMurry College.

The social clubs are locally established and operated "sororities" at McMurry, a four-year liberal arts college owned and operated by the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences of the United Methodist Church.

After a short pledging period, the young women become full-fledged members of the organizations. McMurry currently has six active women's social clubs, each with approximately 25-30 members.

Excelsior Hear Child Placement Worker Feb. 17

Excelsior Club met Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 17, with Mrs. Lowell Wells as hostess and Beth Motesenbocker of the Texas Department of Human Resources as guest speaker.

Mrs. Motesenbocker presented information on the work of that department, and her work as a child placement worker. "Help is what the Department of Human Resources is all about," said Mrs. Motesenbocker. "We supply help every year to about one out of every six Texans, people of all ages and races, with all sorts of problems, who otherwise would have nowhere else to turn for needed social, medical or financial services."

"To accomplish this, we have about 30 major programs of all types, involving some 160 interrelated services. Each year we modify some programs, drop some or add new ones according to changing needs of the client population.

In recent years, for instance, we have increased the scope of our social services, combatting child abuse and neglect, ensuring better child care facilities and exploring ways to protect the rights and well being of our aged population. We are strengthening and expanding programs to help the elderly remain in their homes and communities."

Turning her attention to children, Mrs. Motesenbocker said:

"A sizable block of our social services is designed to benefit children. All children eligible for financial assistance are eligible for these social services. And some children, regardless of family income, such as any who are abused or neglected are also eligible.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans New Services for Patients

Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary met in the Heritage Room Tuesday, Feb. 10.

Mrs. Lynn Wright, president, conducted the business meeting. Following the reading of the minutes, and the treasurers report, the members discussed the new morning shift working hours. The hours are now from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. This later time enables the volunteers to help serve the lunch trays to patients.

Members also discussed and shared working experiences and needs that can be met now and in the future to better serve. New magazines for the patients and their families is an immediate need. Mrs. Ben Ratliff reported that the Garden Club will do some planting in the patio. The Auxiliary voted to work with them in accepting the responsibility of seeing that the plants are watered and cared for.

A dessert plate was served to Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. Melvin Kiker, Miss Marie Shadid, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Mrs. Russell Yates, Miss Hattie D. Wells, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Miss Rose Shadid, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. Motesenbocker and the hostess, Mrs. Wells.

PERSONAL

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hill over the weekend were his sister, Mrs. Laura Crabtree of Albuquerque, N.M., and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hill of Shamrock. Other guests were Mrs. Crabtree's daughters and a son-in-law, Mrs. O.C. McCord of Arlington and Mr. and Mrs. Spud Williams of Albuquerque. She and her family formerly lived at Lela.

Members also voted to furnish tray favors on the holidays that churches and civic clubs do not provide for.

The auxiliary decided to use stick-on name tags until the permanent name tags are ready. These tags will be put in the Auxiliary's locker at the hospital.

Twenty members were present.

THANK YOU

My sincere thanks to each of you who visited me and were so thoughtful of me during my recent illness; for each kind deed I am truly grateful.

C. Michael Gives Program

Charles Michael discussed "Estate Planning" for Midway Extension Homemakers when they met in the home of Mrs. David Peters Wednesday, Feb. 17. She also presided at the meeting and read the devotional.

"We must prepare for death," Dr. Michael reminded the women. "We must prepare to meet our God and our family must account to the government," he said.

He reminded the group that "we spend 50 years putting an estate together. We should spend a few hours making a will." Fifty percent of the people who die don't have wills, he said, urging that his listeners make sure your house is in order.

Miss Nancy Bigby, new extension agent, home economics, discussed the year's programs.

Refreshments were served to these visitors and members, Mrs. Mae Wadley, Mrs. Clifford Christian, Miss Bigby, Mrs. Annie Caison, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Gertrude Mayhugh, Mrs. Edna Rudy, Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. Emil Kersten, Mrs. Donald Curry, Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. Cecil Masten, Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Mrs. Deloyce Savage, and the hostess, Mrs. Peters.

Clinkscale Joins Wellington State

Jackie D. Clinkscale of Ballinger has joined the staff of Wellington State Bank as assistant cashier and auditor. Billy Moseley, president, announced Monday, Feb. 22.

Clinkscale lived here while he was attending college.

He was graduated from Southwestern Oklahoma State University at Weatherford at mid-term 1981, with a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting and business administration. He belonged to the Accounting Club and the Economics Club. Previously, he had attended Clarendon College a year and Western Oklahoma State College at Altus one semester.

He was an accountant for Rita Blanca Electric Co-operative, Dalhart, before joining the firm of Tom Hamner, accountant, of Winters.

Clinkscale is eligible to sit for the next Certified Public Accountant's examination for certification.

He married the former Beverly Orr, daughter of Mrs. V.K. Orr, Jr., and the late Mr. Orr, June 1, 1979.

"I had been looking for opportunity to come back to Wellington, and when this offer came, it was too good to turn down," said Clinkscale. "You can live here, but you don't realize what a good town it is until you get away."

In Dalhart, he belonged to the Lions Club.

"I like to rope steers," he reminded, for he worked with summer rodeos here, and the riding club, and at Western Oklahoma he was on the rodeo team. He plans to be active in community work.

Mrs. Clinkscale completed almost two years of work at Southwestern, where she was a drama major and recipient of the Alpha Psi Omega Drama Society scholarship. She appeared in College dramas. She plans to continue her studies.

The couple attends First United Methodist Church.

Clinkscale is the son of Jack Clinkscale of Ballanger, formerly of Wellington, and Mrs. Leo Tyson of Hollis.

He graduated from Perryton High School in 1976, before coming here.

Martha Reeves Longtime Area Resident, Dies

Mrs. Martha Reeves, 82, a longtime Collingsworth County resident died at 6:55 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 21, in Thomas Nursing Center, where she had been a resident 12 years.

She and her family farmed for many years in the Quail area before moving into Wellington.

The former Martha Long, she was born in Mills County Sept. 2, 1899, the daughter of Robert D. Long and Rose Maud Boulter Long. The family came here in 1919 from Childress County.

She was married to George Bennie Reeves July 5, 1939 in Hollis. He died July 6, 1960.

She was a member of Faith Baptist Church.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, Feb. 24, at 2 p.m. in Faith Baptist Church, with the Rev. Nathan Mulder, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Independence Cemetery a few miles east of the Oklahoma State Line, under the direction of Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Donald White, Dennis Pepper, Donald Langley, Loyd Langley, Billy Moseley, and Fred Maxwell.

Survivors are two sons, Bennie Ray Reeves and Clifford Dale Reeves, both of Wheeler; four sisters, Mrs. Mellie Savage of Watsonville, Ca., Mrs. Annie Funderburg of Sweetwater, Mrs. A.C. Pendergrass of Wellington and Mrs. Doris Fisher of Arlington; 6 brothers, Cheever Long of Rattan, Ok., Edward Long of Laton, Ca., J.R. Long and Burl Long of Athens, Lawson Long of Arlington and Iris Lee Long of Dumas. There are 7 grandchildren.

Some bristlecone pines in central Arizona are known to be more than 4,000 years old.

Despite the length of its neck, the giraffe has only 7 neck bones, the same number that man and most other mammals have.

GIRL SCOUT News

BROWNIE TROOP 73
Brownie Troop 73 participated in the 1982 Tacky Party held Friday, Feb. 19, at Bura Handley Community Center.

The girls each brought a sack of old clothes which were mixed with those of the other troops. The girls then bought a sack of clothes for 50 cents, not knowing the contents, which each girl then put on.

Awards were given by each troop to the girl who was thought to be the "tackiest." Two girls of Brownie Troop 73 received "awards." Mindy Watts was given a pair of old, dirty, greasy gloves with pieces of bush sticking in a hole, and Shawn Roberts received a cow chip placed on a wooden plaque.

Other girls participating were Kristi Peeks, Amber

Texas Flag Day Is March 2

March 2 is Texas Flag Day. Over 10,000 flags are expected to be flying for this official Texas Heritage Day.

Around Texas, organizations and individuals are taking this opportunity to pay tribute to their state and its flag by flying the "Lone Star" on their homes and public buildings. Local activities will include flag raisings, proclamations by mayors and county judges, speeches and special programs by service clubs, historic organizations and patriotic groups.

The Texas flag was adopted in 1839 as the official standard of the Republic. It became the state flag after the Treaty of Annexation was signed in 1845.

There were several designs for a national flag prior to 1839, but each of them incorporated a single star. The star signifies that Texas was alone in the Mexican Confederation and that the star of liberty was rising.

This gave Texas its nickname, "The Lone Star State."

Texas Flag Day is a Texas Heritage Project of the Texas Historical Foundation. For more information about this and other programs, contact the Texas Historical Foundation P.O. Box 12243, Austin, TX 78711, 512-472-6784.

"The" is the most commonly used word in written English.
