Westbrook - CED suit to be heard Nov. 19th

The suit brought by 25 taxpayers of the Westbrook against the Mitchell County Education District (CED) and its officers has been scheduled to go before the Texas Supreme Court on Nov 19.

The case is scheduled to be heard on the same day as is the Edgewood case.

Briefs for the case are due by Oct 23 and the state's response is due by Nov 6, said Tom Davis, lawyer for the firm of Graves, Dougherty, Hearon and Moody, which represent the 25 Westbrook taxpayers.

When the case is brought to the Supreme Court for argument on Nov 19, the lawyers will be limited to 45 minutes to present the legal arguments.

No witnesses will be presented in the case before the Supreme Court.

Because of the issues involved in the case - constitutionality and an injunction type of relief - the appeal process could hop over the District Court of Appeals and be brought to the Supreme Court, Davis said.

The process of getting a case to the Supreme Court can sometimes take years with the different courts of appeals and the time involved with each case.

Davis noted that due to the two-fold issues involved and the great deal of public interest that the case has brought from around the state the case is being heard in Nov.

If the Supreme Court rules that Senate Bill 351 is unconstitutional, it is unlikely that the system will be affected this year, Davis said.

He mentioned two prior decisions that had struck down the constitutionality of school systems. In each case the court provided a deadline for the legislature to provide an alternative.

It was noted that if the bill was declared unconstitutional, the same type of guidelines are expected.

HOUSE EXPLOSION: Firemen look on at the Doug Chitsey residence, 1405 Eastover, that was destroyed by an explosive blast at approximately 6:45 p.m. Friday evening. The cause of the incident is under investigation.

Explosion demolishes home; family suffers minor injuries

A house explosion Friday afternoon completely demolished the Doug Chitsey residence at 1405 Eastover.

The Chitseys, Doug, Judy and Amy, were in the house at the time of the explosion. They were all taken by ambulance to Mitchell County Hospital, where they were treated and released with minor injuries.

The explosion was heard throughout Colorado City. Reports from different areas of the city, downtown and Interstate 20 included, tell of the large blast. Glass and debris were scattered for almost half a block.

The south and east walls of the house were blown down and the roof had collapsed. The cargo adjacent to the home was left standing.

The blast occurred at approximately 6:45 p.m. Upon arrival of fire department personnel, Amy and Judy were in the backyard and Doug was in the process of freeing himself from the debris.

Fire department officials said an investigation is underway as to the cause of the blowout.

Lone Star Gas officials were to arrive Saturday morning to conduct their own investigation into the explosion.

Berman Building renovations to be started on October 21st

Renovations at the Berman Building - 440 East 2nd - to prepare the building for state/county offices will begin on October 21.

The project has been stalled since late August as approval of state funding for the renovations was waited on.

The funds were released on Monday, Bob Mehaffey, regional business officer for the Department of Human Services said.

The Texas Department of Human Services and Mitchell County are partners in the project to provide office space for both state and county.

The building, when completed, will house the offices presently located in the Community Care Center - Walnut and 3rd - and the Mitchell County Tax Collector's office.

The state offices require approximately 4400 square feet of space on the east side, while the county will use about 2600 square feet of space on the west side of the building.

The bid of Ash and Summers Building Contractors of Abilene, in the amount of $165,000, received the nod for the buildings renovation package.

The state will fund $104,000 of the package and the county will pay $61,000 towards renovating the building.

Representatives for Ash and Summers have indicated that the renovations would be completed within 100 days after work began.

The vacancy became available after the resignation of Ronald Bruce from the position after serving the bank for 31 years.

"The bank is in good shape and is in a competitive position," Humphrey said.

Alford speaks to retired teachers

Wendell Alford, Mitchell County Hospital Administrator, was the featured speaker at the regular meeting of the Mitchell County Retired Teachers Association held at the Wallace Center on Tuesday.

Alford gave a brief overview of the Mitchell County Hospital in relation to expenses and available revenue.

The Medicare program under which hospitals operate was first set up in 1966. At this time the government agreed to pay a reasonable cost for an illness.

By 1983 the cost of such a program became too great. Illnesses were then divided into Designated Related Groupings.

A flat fee is paid for different groupings.

The hospital tax set by the hospital district helps to bridge the gap between cost and revenue.

This hospital is well equipped for a rural hospital. Good diagnostic equipment including a cat scanner, laboratory facilities, trained nursing staff and qualified physicians are available.

Cheryl Fleming is supervisor of cardiac and surgery. When a patient is under instructions from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, he is on line with the hospital and monitored by it.

The Mitchell County Hospital has in the future a possibility of setting up a Rural Health Clinic.

Those attending included: Mamie Lou New, Eddie Barclay, Lonnie Pruitt, Clorine Wiman, Tom Moore, Minnie Lee Moore, Fern Coon, Fanny Fay Feaster, Frances Godwin, Marian Craddock, Betsy Lee Aycock, Frances Cooper, Earline Sellier, Peggy Ratliff and Mabel Merriitt.

Loraine PTO plans festival on Nov. 16th

The Loraine PTO met in a regular business meeting Tuesday, October 8, and voted on several items. Our Fall Festival will be on Saturday, November 16th from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the Loraine Ag Barn. PTO will have the "Cake Walk" as our booth and all classes are invited to sign up for a booth on a first come, first serve basis. The sign up sheet will be available in the school office on October 14.

PTO chose two programs to be presented to us at general meetings during the year. One program will be presented by Ray Carnathan. He does a program to make parents aware of the methods satanic cults use to attract our children. We also voted for Mr. Foshee to present a program on the subjects available to students through the TI-IN Program.

PTO also voted to give top priority to the following projects: 1) $200 scholarship to a graduating senior, 2) complete the playground equipment, 3) provide money to the school to feed the UIL participants, and 4) have a Santa for grades K-3.

We have added a new project this year. Students will earn a coupon from their teachers on a weekly basis. They can earn the coupons by having perfect attendance during the week, good citizenship, grade improvement or maintaining their grades. After earning their points, they can bring the coupon to the "PTO Store" and redeem them for an item such as a pencil, eraser or other fun things. We will open the store for grades K-6 on a trial basis within a month. If anyone would like to donate some small items to the "PTO Store", we would be glad to accept them.

Coach Loy presented some great ideas to build our playground equipment within the budget that we have set. PTO decided to let the committee of Coach Loy, Catarina Martinez and Brenda Martin pick the plans and present them to us. A special work day may be called to begin work.

Twenty-two interested parents were present at the meeting. Let's continue to show our support to our school, teachers, and most important, our students!

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

DEAN WILLIAMSON

We American's have a lot of traditions that are marked by the kind of food that is eaten at the occasion.

Turkey is eaten at Thanksgiving, ham at Easter, barbecue on the 4th of July, cotton candy at the Fair, cake on birthdays, candy canes and fruitcake at Christmas, popcorn at movies and hot dogs and peanuts at baseball games.

Maybe that's one of the reasons why I have a soft spot for baseball. I've never been to a pro game without eating at least one hot dog or buying at least one bag of peanuts.

I like the hot dogs heaped with everything - chili, cheese, pickles and onions.

About the only time I eat hot dogs and peanuts at the same time is when I'm watching a ball game.

I brought the tradition home with me and during the magical month of October -- I have them a lot as I sit in front of the television and watch the play-off games unfold.

In the movie Field of Dreams, the man is told that people love baseball because it represents everything from the past that is good.

That may be so, but baseball has hot dogs and underdogs that keep us watching.

If it wasn't for the Cinderella syndrome - I wouldn't, as most of us, even watch.

But baseball is exciting because one swing of the bat can change the complexion of a game - and an underdog always has a shot at winning the series in October.

I've been in love with baseball since 1968, when the Tigers went to the series - and did in 7 games what everyone said they couldn't.

I was living in a suburb of Detroit that year and experienced the shock of the city when the World Series victory became a reality.

That feeling of elation, sweeping over everyone and lifted so many spirits - just months after the Chicago 7 incident at the national convention - was as addicting as the hot dogs.

Since that time I've bought a pickup load of hot dogs at Ranger stadium as I wait expectantly for them to make it to the big show.

This year they did the next best thing -- they sent Steve Buchele.

I haven't found a favorite around town in the Atlanta/Pittsburgh series; the Braves have the possibility of playing the surprise team and the Pirates have the former Ranger third baseman.

Minnesota/Toronto is a different situation. If the game was decided by a poll of Mitchell County voters -- Toronto wouldn't have time to throw in the towel.

There seems to be something unnerving about a Canadian team winning the American League pennant.

So the tension has been created, which creates the interest, which gets us involved to the point that we sit on the front of our seats and stay up late to root and holler.

And we do it because it's the game we love.

It's been said that American's love baseball so much because it represents the only good that is left of our culture.

But others claim that baseball has been distorted the same as everything else.

I'm enough of a sports fan that I'll be doing the same as millions of American's this month -- I'll camp out in front of the television and root for whoever turns out to have the least chance of winning.

Whatever the reason is for our love affair with the game -- October magic has returned and that means we're all the 'boys of summer' once again.

We remember when 'we' played, all those dreams of becoming a big league player, and enjoy the simple pleasures of life, like hot dogs!

THE WOLF PACK CHARGE: Mark Smith takes the handoff on one of his 9 carries Friday night in action against the Crane Golden Cranes as the front line fights to make him a hole.

Wolves lose district opener

The Colorado City Wolves opened their district campaign with a disappointing loss to the Crane Golden Cranes by the final score of 19-14 at Wolf Stadium on Friday night.

The Wolves led by the score of 14-13 in the fourth quarter until a fumble gave the Golden Cranes the opportunity to score on a 30 yard drive with less than 6 minutes left in the contest.

The game started with Crane receiving the ball. They moved from their 35 yard line to the Colorado City 42 in four plays.

On first and ten from the 42, Crane quarterback Danny Stafford through his only interception of the night.

The Wolves took the ball but were forced to kick it back to Crane on fourth down.

The Golden Cranes started a 59 yard scoring drive with 7:56 left in the quarter.

On a 8 play drive consisting entirely of running plays, Crane moved in for Ricardo Garza's first touchdown of the evening and he then turned around and kicked the extra point.

With almost 5 minutes left in the first half and Crane in the middle of a drive, they faced 4th and 1 from the Colorado City 42 yard line.

They went for it and were stopped by the Wolf defense which strung Garza out to the sidelines without letting him advance upfield.

With possession of the ball, the Wolves matched the 59 yard drive of the Cranes on a ten play drive that mixed both passing and running.

On 3rd down and 9 early in the drive, quarterback Kelly Ramsey completed a 13 yard pass to David Castillo.

Three plays later the Wolves were faced with 3rd down and 6. This time Ramsey hit Mark Monroe for a seven yard gain.

Mark Smith took over with the running attack and on second down and three from the three he pushed across the goal line.

The extra point failed and Colorado City trailed by the score of 6-7.

The Cranes tried to mount one last drive before the half ended, but were stalled at the 22 yard line and failed to convert a field goal attempt.

On Crane's second possession of the third quarter they moved 46 yards on 8 plays for Garza's second touchdown of the night.

The extra point failed and Colorado City trailed by the score of 6-13.

On the kick-off after the touchdown, Crane received two penalties - a 5 yard offside and a 15 yard unsportsmanlike conduct - and ended up re-kicking from the 20 yard line.

The Wolves took control of the ball at Crane's 45 yard line.

On first down the Wolves lost 6 yards, second down was an incomplete pass.

Facing 3rd down and 16, Ramsey drew back from the line and let the defenders chase him back, then lobbed the ball over their heads to the waiting Kevin Green who rambled 51 yards on the screen pass for a touchdown.

The Wolves went for the two point conversion and made it with Ramsey throwing a pass to Monroe to put Colorado City in the lead, 14-13.

Crane took the ball at the 34 yard line and made two yards, on second down they were stopped at the line of scrimmage, then the quarter ended.

The ball was spotted wrong at the opening of the fourth quarter. Instead of being 3rd and 8 from the 45 it was 3rd and 3 from the 40.

It ended up not mattering as the Cranes went for it on fourth down and were stopped.

The Wolves took control of the ball on their own 41, but coughed the ball up on the first play and had to send the defense back out.

Three plays later Crane returned the favor and fumbled the ball back.

The Wolves offensive unit returned to the field and ran three more plays before fumbling the ball back to the Golden Cranes on their own 37 yard line with 8:18 left in the game.

It took Crane six plays - 5 of them to Garza - for Garza to rack up his third and final touchdown of the game.

Crane attempted to go for a two point conversion, but failed.

The Wolves had one last attempt, getting the ball with 2:32 left in the game but Crane's Tim Wilson grabbed a Ramsey pass with 1:20 left to seal the Wolves fate.

Colorado City falls to 2-4 on the season with the loss and 0-1 in district.

AWARD WINNER: Marrison Espinosa, 4th grader at Hutchinson Elementary, is congratulated by Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department Chief Tommy Guelker for being recognized as the district winner of the Fire Prevention Week poster contest.

Local organizations help landfill with recycling

The community project of rounding up recyclable items keeps items from reaching the local landfill, but is costing the sponsoring organizations who help provide the service.

The program which is sponsored by Brownie Troop 148 and Texans' Against Pollution (TAP) is not a fund raising project, Troop leader Bambi Hill said.

"Due to the amount that is paid for the items to be recycled," she said, "we can only hope to break even. Most months it ends up costing TAP about $15 to sponsor the service."

Brownie Troop 148 takes the glass and cans that are turned in at the monthly Tuesday night roundups to Abilene.

"We took over a ton of glass in the past year," Hill said, "which kept that from ending up in the landfill."

The group also averages taking between 60 to 70 pounds of aluminum cans to the recycling center each month.

Two horse trailers are used to transport the items to Abilene.

"It costs us approximately $17 to get the items to Abilene," Hill said. "We average receiving between $15-17 dollars a month for what we turn in."

TAP sends a truck and a gooseneck to Odessa loaded with plastic, computer paper, cardboard, tin, rags and paper to the recycling center.

"Last month they took over 400 pounds of plastic to the center," Hill said. "But plastic only brings 2 cents per pound."

It costs $25 to take the two vehicles to Odessa. The average return for the trip is traditionally less. Last month TAP received a total of $10.68 for their trip.

"We are not in this for the profit," Hill said of the organizations involved in the recycling effort. "We are doing it for the community."

Wheat farmers invited to submit essays

Young Texas wheat farmers are eligible to enter an essay contest to compete for two leadership development awards of which 40 will be awarded nationally. The program of the Texas Wheat Producers Association and National Association of Wheat Growers is sponsored by Monsanto Agricultural Products Company and the Production Credit Associations of Texas. The awards are designed to acquaint young wheat farmers with the wheat association's organizational structure, leadership development, policy development, and the education aspects of attending wheat organizational meetings, according to Cagle Kendrick, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association.

The awards which total more than $1000 each are to defray the cost for the winners to participate in their choice of either the National Association of Wheat Growers 1992 Annual Convention, held January 29-February 1, 1992, Reno, Nevada; or the NAWG Summer Leadership Conference July 13-16, 1992, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Any Texas wheat farmer between the age of 20 and 35 years, who has not previously participated in either of the NAWG meetings mentioned above is eligible to enter. The winners are selected based upon completion of a short questionnaire relative to their perception of the current greatest needs of wheat farmers, how they are or would be utilizing their leadership abilities, along with a brief 50-word essay, explaining why they would like to receive the educational grant.

Entry forms may be obtained by either writing or calling Rodney Mosier of the Texas Wheat Producers Association office (803 Texas Commerce Bank Bldg., 2201 Civic Circle, Amarillo, TX 79109 - Tele # 806/352-2282).

The deadline for entering the contest is November 10, 1991.
