Burglars take items

More than $9,000 in household items was taken during a burglary last Sunday near Loraine.

Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant said that the home of David and Nina Finley, who live seven and one half miles south of Loraine on Farm Road 644, was broken into sometime between 11:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. that day when no one was at home.

Entry was gained through the front door by kicking it in. When Finley returned home, he found the front door standing open and all of the lights in the house off. Once he entered the house, he noticed a video cassette recorder and stereo missing.

Other items taken included two mink coats, eight silk sweaters, assorted jewelry including men's and women's rings, a rifle, a pistol, and an original cloth faced Cabbage Patch doll.

Witnesses hunting in the area observed a pickup truck parked in the driveway of the home about 4:30 p.m., said Bryant

The case is still under investigation by the sheriff's department.

THURSDAY'S weather can only be described fit enough for the ducks. Despite the fog and drizzle, these ducks at Ruddick Park seemed to be enjoying themselves as they swam in Lone Wolf Creek. Thursday night's weather saw fog so dense, visibility was almost zero at times. Before the night was over, a storm moved through the area, bringing rain, lightning and thunder.

Watch out! Here come headhunters!

"We just received a special news bulletin that six of the most qualified headhunters in the United States will be turned loose on Mitchell County for a one-day intensive search," announced Penny Solomon, manager of the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce.

Headhunters specialize in finding the most talented and qualified people in the United States to fill executive level positions for major organizations.

"These men will spend only seven hours in our county on Wednesday, Jan. 21, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.," explained Solomon. "They are searching for the most far-sighted, progressive, and successful business and professional people in Mitchell County to join their expanding and trend setting organization."

The bulletin stated that there are a large number of vacancies in this organization and these specialists have determined that Mitchell County is their target area for the type of talented and dedicated individuals they are looking for.

"The Chamber of Commerce will be the headquarters for these men," says Solomon. "We have no further details at this time, but we will certainly keep you informed as soon as we have more information available."

Girl receives minor injury when struck by car

A five-year-old Colorado City girl received minor injuries Tuesday when she was struck by a car.

Police Chief Bobby Sparks said Shanta Ross, a student at Kelley Elementary School, was struck by a car about 12:30 p.m. on Elm Street as she was going to school. The child had just been let out of a car and apparently darted in front of a car driven by Etta Lee Gibson of Colorado City.

Sparks said Mrs. Gibson was going north on Elm at a slow rate of speed when the incident occurred.

The child was taken to the emergency room of Mitchell County Hospital where she was treated and released for a cut lip.

Parent, teacher group good idea

A parent-teacher organization is certainly not a new idea, but none-the-less, we applaud the concerned group of parents and citizens who have agreed to form such an organization in Colorado City.

When parents get involved in their children's education, something good is bound to happen - whether it's a closer bond between parent and child, between parent and teacher or between citizens and the school system. The end result, we all hope, will be a better education for our children.

There were between 40-50 people who met Monday night to discuss problems they have encountered in the school system. We're glad to see that rather than a vigilante group being formed, an organized group with a positive attitude at working with the school system to solve these problems evolved.

Sure, we know there are problems in this school system, just as there in every other school system. There is growing concern of alcohol and drug abuse among students, something that should be met head-on. Others have gripes about various school policies.

We think the best way to solve these problems is already underway in the form of communication between citizens and the school district. A representative of the concerned parents will meet with the school board Monday night to ask for its input in organizing an effective force.

We think it is obvious to anyone who has ever attended a school board meeting that its members as well as school administrators are dedicated to providing the best education possible for our children. They do not take their jobs lightly.

Just as whatever problems facing the schools were not made overnight, the problems cannot be solved overnight, either.

We sincerely hope that the school system and concerned parents can work together to achieve those solutions.

Dearen hosts Baptist women

The Susan Evermon Baptist Women of First Baptist Church met Jan. 5 in the home of Betsy Aycock. Virginia Dearen was hostess.

Jessie Mae Merket opened the meeting with a prayer. Earline Sellier reported she had been notified that the W.M.U. centennial quilt kit would be delayed. However, centennial chairman Billie Harrison urged all members to choose one of the 29 quilt blocks when the kit arrives.

Mrs. Sellier distributed prayer seals from the Foreign Mission Board to be used in correspondence and other ways. She next demonstrated the story of Annie Armstrong from the magazine "Mission U.S.A." The magazine correlates with other W.M.U. work in the Royal Service now.

Catharine Morris reported that the "Week of Prayer programs with tea" was well received in the church.

Mary Lloyd reported that 75 Christmas boxes for 75 families were distributed from the Helping Hand.

The program was presented by Jo Ann Staley, Jean Edwards and Margaret Bodine. It was entitled "Women in Christian Missions". It was a history of the role women have played in a growing mission concern in the Southern Baptist churches. It also cited several outstanding women such as Juliette Mathers, Marie Buhlemaier and Annie Armstrong who pioneered home missions in the United States.

Louree Upton gave a comprehensive report on the group's projects for 1986 and projected plans for 1987.

A calendar of prayer was presented by Catharine Morris in closing.

Refreshments of hot punch, coffee, hors d'oeuvres and breads were served to Betsy Aycock, Margaret Bodine, Virginia Dearen, Jean Edwards, Billie Harrison, Mary Lloyd, Jessie Mae Merket, Catharine Morris, Joy Piland, Billie Roenfeldt, Earline Sellier, Jo Ann Staley and Louree Upton.

LOUIS AND ALTA MORGAN, owners and operators of Morgan Boot and Shoe Repair, 13th and Hickory Streets, cut the ribbon marking the new location of their shop as Chamber of Commerce ambassadors look on. The store is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

Smoke warning issued

The American Heart Association issues a new warning to all Texans: exposure to second-hand smoke may be hazardous to your health.

The Heart Association's warning matches similar findings released by the U.S. Surgeon General late last year. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop, M.D. presented scentific evidence on the harm to non-smokers of breathing exhaled smoke or the smoke coming from the tip of a burning cigarette.

The Heart Association says pregnant women should not smoke, and parents who smoke should avoid exposing their children to the harmful effects of involuntary smoking.

"The evidence on smoking or health has been air-tight for years," says Addison A. Taylor, M.D., president of the Heart Association in Texas. "But recent evidence strongly points to a connection between second-hand smoke and increased risk of heart disease." This is the first time the Heart Association has commented on the risk of cigarette smoke in the air around non-smokers.

"The Surgeon General's report is the most comprehensive collection of scientific evidence on the hazards of passive smoke," says Taylor. "The implications are alarming. The health of non-smokers must be protected. The most logical way is to restrict smoking in public places."

The most recent Texas Poll shows an overwhelming majority of the public agrees with the Heart Association position. Legislation to limit smoking in public places was favored by 77 percent of Texans surveyed in November. Asked if employers should be required to establish policies to accommodate non-smoking workers, 67 percent of Texans said yes. Support on both questions cuts across lines of education, age, occupation, ethnic background, income, political party, and region.

"We want to change the status quo in this state," says Taylor. "Right now, smokers can light up anywhere, unless they see a sign telling them not to. We want smoke-free air to be the norm. Most public places, if smoking is permitted at all, should have specific areas designated for smoking. Then, smokers couldn't light up unless they saw a sign telling them it was okay."

"Smokers jeopardize their own health," according to Taylor.

Here we go again.

Another joker is pounding his chest between punches to the mid-section of the nation's press. You'll never guess what medium he's using to carry out his attack.

They want to destroy every decent citizen so that only scum will survive, he is saying. It doesn't take long to see he's irate over the attention the press is giving the Iran-Contra affair.

"Get off the president's back," the guy says. "This whole mess has been trumped up to sell newspapers. You've been after Ronald Reagan for years. Now you think you've got something on him and you're not going to let up."

The guy admits he doesn't know the facts behind the arms scandal, but he's confident it was for a good cause and that Admiral Poindexter, Col. North and the president will emerge as heroes.

If they do, of course, it'll be due to the facts carried to the people via the press. But don't expect this guy to figure out where he's getting his facts.

The president, to this man's thinking, should not be subjected to the inquiries or personal opinions of any kind from the uninformed masses.

Only he and the president know what's best for your country.

The president is the president. We elected him, after all - by a landslide. Now we must trust him - even when he works in strange and mysterious ways - or at least when his subordinates operate in mysterious ways.

Nobody is denying the president credit where it's due. He's been an effective communicator and a successful statesman. He's also been given the right to exercise those talents by a couple of hundred million bosses who employ him.

On the whole, they have given him overwhelming support - not to mention the best press of any president since Franklin Roosevelt.

Now comes a scandal with a bag of unanswered questions and the bosses are raising questions of competence and honesty. They expect answers from their employees. And that makes this guy angry - the one who is convinced the press is conspiring to destroy honorable men.

Obviously, you don't speak out against a divine right king and risk losing your head before he loses his. But elected officials, like U.S. presidents, are supposed to be servants. Our servants. They work for us. All of us, whether we voted for them or not. We got the right to be boss when we whipped the stuffing out of the red coats.

Now that we're boss, we'll ask any question of our employees we jolly well please. And if we don't like the answers they come up with, we might just fire the whole bunch. Probably won't. Probably shouldn't. But if we chose to do it, consider it done.

That doesn't just go for President Reagan. It went for President Carter, whom we fired; for President Ford, whom we fired, and for President Nixon, who quit before we got the chance to fire him.

All were terminated because we didn't like the way they were running our business, i. e. government.

Like most bosses, we demand morning reports - reports which have been supplied by the press daily for just over 200 years. As bosses we get all sorts of data. Some of it supportive of the president, some of it critical.

It doesn't offer directives, merely data and recommendations which the boss is free to ignore. It's when he ignores the directives from other sources - like certain branches of the government - that the trouble starts.

But this is not good enough for some people. They say the reports are too critical, and sometimes disrespectful.

Well, nobody forces anybody to run for this high pressured, sometimes thankless position. You go to work for somebody, you agree to answer them when they have a question. If you choose not to answer, you quit. If you do answer, your questions had better be truthful if you intend to hang around long.

You take the good with bad, though. The presidency never runs short of applicants. Remember too, the Reagans have enjoyed a lot more of the former than the latter.

Once it's out - the truth - the only way we're going to know what it is if the press gives it to us in our daily reports. You'd think the guy would have figured that out by now.

Depression follows over-spending

By Debbie Christian County Extension Agent

As the bills for holiday expenses come rolling in this month, many consumers will be feeling a good case of "buyer's remorse."

That's simply a fancy term for the depression that follows overspending. For some, overspending may be an occasional problem, but for others, it can become compulsive.

Compulsive spenders usually have the sense of being out of control and often hide their purchases out of embarrassment. A poor-self-image is worsened by more buying because the underlying need for approval or excitement often is not met.

Impulse buying, or buying that is not a part of an overall plan, affects virtually everyone at one time or another. For example, have you ever gone to the grocery store to pick up a gallon of milk and walked out with two bags of groceries, personal care items, magazines or other merchandise?

Impulse buying is not automatically "bad." But it does add up, and can mean that important items cannot be purchased because the money has already been spent in other ways.

The marketplace contributes to both compulsive and impulsive buying. For some people the attraction is the pleasant activity of shopping and buying. Others "can't pass up a good bargain."

If your New Year's resolution involves improving your family's financial management, examing spending habits can be a good place to start.

"Buyer's remorse", or feelings of depression that can follow overspending, may be relieved with some thought and action.

Know when you have shopped enough. Since shopping takes time, effort, energy and money, it makes sense that you should spend the most time shopping for the most expensive items.

Avoid shopping for items you know are too expensive for you to afford.

Driving course set

Letters to the Editor

To the editor:

My name is Patsy Ritchey, and I am writing in response to Mr. Mayo's coverage of the meeting last Monday night. I do not feel that Mr. Mayo accurately covered the meeting.

I know that what I said in that meeting was not quoted correctly. I did not say that I was concerned with the racial imbalance that exist over all. I know "that is life." I stated that I personally had had a problem in one kindergarten class that started the year totally off balance compared to the other kindergarten classes and that my husband and I went through a three week period of being told every other day that something was being done that day or by the end of that week etc..., and we never got "our" problem solved. I stated that my primary concern for being at that meeting was that no matter what problem you have or who has it, we can't seem to get any solved. When you approach the administration or school board you feel as though a door is shut in your face. This was agreed on by many at the meeting and was discussed as one of the main problems.

I am not after anyone personally. I stated that had I been in their profession as long as they have, I might be tired of trying to help people solve their child's problem, but at that time I feel I would need to sit back and thoroughly review why I chose that profession.

All I want to see done is that when parents have a problem or a child has a problem whether they be five or sixteen that something is done to really solve that problem, that they don't have to learn to just live with it.

I think we need a parent-teacher organization. I appreciate the teachers that were at Monday night's meeting and would love to see more concerned enough to be at the next.

Thank you,
Patsy Ritchey

To the editor:

On Sunday afternoon, October 5, 1986, my husband and I were enroute from Montezuma, New Mexico to Corpus Christi, Texas. Somewhere between Robert Lee and Colorado City our car slid off the road and stuck in the ditch. We want to thank all of the very kind and generous people who stopped and offered their services. Particularly, we wish to thank the men in the two pick-ups who pulled our car from the ditch and firmly refused any money. Also, we owe our gratitude to the three men in another pick-up who went to get a chain but did not return before we were pulled out.

It is really too bad that the people in all parts of our country are not as courteous, caring, and resourceful as those in West Texas.

This letter is belated due to the fact that we arrived home on October 7 and our daughter fractured two vertebrates on October 9. She has been ill ever since, but we do want all of you to know that we shall always be grateful.

1987 is proclaimed "Year of the Reader"

On October 16, 1986 President Reagan signed Public Law 99-494, designating 1987 as "Year of the Reader" in the United States.

This year, millions of Americans will get a head start on the road to success at the library. An estimated 15.5 million people use the library's resources each week-for consumer information, tax forms, government publications; to plan their careers, vacations and retirement; to scheme, dream, prepare, hope and ponder.

Americans borrow more than 1.1 billion items a year from public libraries alone. They borrow videocassettes, feature films, records and audiocassettes. Some libraries are now loaning microcomputers and software.

Many libraries across the country offer less traditional items such as instant cameras, auto jacks, sanders, garden and power tools, typewriters and sewing machines. One even loans prom dresses. Of course you can still borrow books, paperback best-sellers along with the classics.

The library's resources benefit all ages. Newborns benefit when parents borrow books on child care. Toddlers can attend story hours and check out picture books. Students use the library for homework assignments. Seniors find a variety of books and programs to serve their information and entertainment needs.

What about the people who can't read? Many libraries across the country have established literacy programs with volunteer tutors.

America's libraries are urging us to get a head start at the library.

Your local public library is located at 340 Oak St.

Sweetwater PCA elects nominating committee

One incumbent director was re-elected to his position during the 52nd Annual Stockholders' meeting of Sweetwater Production Credit Association, held Friday, Dec. 19 at the Scurry County Coliseum in Snyder. Elected for a three-year term was Buster Haggard of Stanton.

After 24 years on the board of directors W. J. (Dub) Harvey Jr. of Roby chose not to seek re-election.

A. K. McCarley Jr. chairman of the board, called the meeting to order. McCarley appointed Bill Yoakum as chairman of the meeting and Linda Fluitt as recording secretary. McCarley gave the report to the board and Yoakum gave the financial report.

Members elected to serve on the 1987 nominating committee were Dale Froman and Teddy Stewart from the Stanton office, Ricky Bowman and Billy Hamner from the Sweetwater office and R. L. Drum and C. W. Henderson from the Snyder office.

Chairman of the board for 1987 is A. K. McCarley Jr. of Colorado City, and vice chairman is Othell O'Kelly of Trent.

A RESOLUTION FOR 1987

Travis Monday - Pastor — Calvary Baptist

By now most of us have already made resolutions for the coming year, but allow me to share another one with you:

New year turn into old ones;
they quickly fade away,
but lives are touched for good or bad
on each and every day.
Let's touch some folks for Jesus,
within the coming year.
Then when it ends and we look back,
we'll be glad that we were here.

Vasquez leads Bulldogs

Joe Vasquez scored 18 points to lead the Loraine Bulldogs to a 46-40 win and a split of basketball games at Lueders-Avoca Tuesday night.

Lueders-Avoca led 14-12 after one period and 24-22 at halftime before the Gold and Black were able to take a 31-30 lead going into the final quarter.

"We got a five point lead there at the end," said coach Tommy Meredith. "We were able to work our delay game with two minutes left and got some easy baskets off of it. We didn't shoot that well. We were lucky to stay in the game."

The Bulldogs made 20 of 67 field goals and 6 of 12 free throws. Also scoring were Eddie Benitez 10, Freddie Benitez 7, Roger Henderson 4, Shawn Finley 4 and Luis Leija 3.

Vasquez and Henderson led the rebounding with 16 and 14, respectively. E. Benitez made 3 steals and 9 assists.

David Lofton led Lueders-Avoca with 14 points.

The Loraine girls were edged 33-30 despite taking a 28-16 lead into the final quarter.

The hosts got back into the game when Loraine's leading scorers Beverly Griffin and Michelle Williams began the fourth period on the bench with foul trouble.

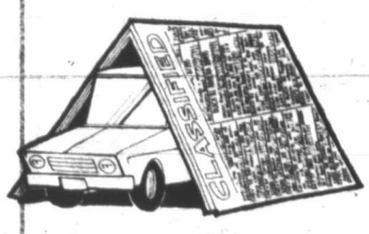

"We played real good defense especially in the first half," said coach Jim Nau. "We rebounded a lot better."

Griffin and Williams led the Bulldogs with 12 and 10 points. Also scoring were Terry Munoz 4, Jolinda Troutt 2 and Amy Vasquez 2.

McCarter led Lueders-Avoca with 11.

Rebounding for Loraine were Williams, Troutt, Griffin and Cheryl Alvarez with 15, 11, 11 and 9. Williams and Griffin made 5 and 2 steals, respectively, and Alvarez had 5 assists.

The Loraine boys and girls stand at 5-9 and 6-7, respectively.

Clyde Bulldogs sweep

The Colorado City Wolves were swept in four district ballgames at Clyde tuesday that included a 74-39 5AAA opener for the varsity boys.

The Wolves trailed only 13-10 after one period, but found themselves down 28-19 at halftime. Clyde increased its lead to 46-32 after three periods and held the Wolves to seven fourth quarter points while pumping in 28 for their cause.

Clyde held a definite height advantage over the Wolves and just as clearly was the better shooting team. The Bulldogs controlled the boards, hit shots from all over the field and made an incredible 12 of 13 free throws.

Elliott Park led the Bulldogs with 21 points–including two on a fast break punctuated with a slam dunk. Also scoring for the Bulldogs were Shane Shewmake 16, Bryan Hall 11, Warren Herndon 8, Joe Taylor 8, Ronnie Edwards 6 and Tommy Scott 4.

Leading scorer for the Pack was junior Ken Woods, who scored 12 points and added another team high with 11 rebounds.

Also scoring were Pat Ridge 6, Marty Cleckler 5, Dane Hoover 4, Paul Ausbie 4, Bubba Bailey 2, Terry Jackson 2, Darvin Jackson 2 and Guy Compton 2. Ausbie also made 5 rebounds.

The Wolves committed 22 turnovers to only 4 assists. From the free throw line, Colorado City made 5 of 14 shots for 36 percent and 17 of 63 field goal attempts for 27 percent. Jackson graded the highest defensively.

The loss gave the Wolves an 0-1 record in district play and a 2-11 season mark. Clyde stands at 1-0 and 13-3. In other games Tuesday, Ballinger defeated Sonora, 77-53 and Merkel beat Coahoma 72-62 for other 1-0 records. The Bearcats own a 16-1 season record while the Badgers stand at 14-4.

Early favorite Wylie owns a 13-4 record and began district play against Ballinger Friday. Sonora and Coahoma own 8-10 season records and are 0-1 in 5AAA play after Tuesday's losses.

The second and final periods of play made the difference in the girls varsity contest.

The teams were deadlocked at 10-10 after one period but the Lady Wolves managed only four points in the second period as the Bulldogs took a 21-14 halftime lead. Colorado City outscored Clyde 12-8 in the third period for a 29-26 Clyde lead.

After the Wolves scored the first goal of the fourth period to pull within one at 29-28, the Bulldogs scored 17 straight points to lead 46-28.

Denise Lowrance led the Wolves with 12 points–including all four of Colorado City's second period points. Also scoring were Amy Chitsey 8, Monica Hamilton 6, Cami Redwine 4, Holly Tarter 2 and Misty Strain 2.

Guylari led Clyde with 21 points.

Lowrance and Hamilton led the Wolves rebounding with 8 each. Tarter and Chitsey added 5 and 4, respectively. Tarter made two blocks and she and Hamilton recorded three steals. Redwine, Tarter and Hamilton made 2 assists.

The Wolves committed 22 turnovers while making 2 of 8 free throws to Clyde's 11 of 26. The Bulldogs outrebounded the Wolves 36-27 and made 19 of 57 shots from the floor to 16 of 50 for Colorado City.

The loss dropped the Lady Wolves to 0-3 in district play and 1-16 for the season. The victory was Clyde's first in three district games. In other games Tuesday, Sonora beat Ballinger 48-32 for a 2-0 record. Ballinger fell to 2-1. Also at 2-1 is Coahoma, who defeated Merkel 55-36.

Colorado City's junior varsity boys team fell 48-41 after leading 10-8 after one period, 26-23 at halftime and trailing only 35-34 after three periods.

The Wolves made only 1 of 9 free throws and 21 of 53 field goal attempts. Scoring were Chris Perkin 14, Ismael Silva 6, Mark Alvidrez 5, Duane Jones 4, Brandon Fuller 4, Tracy Ausbie 4, George Rivera 2 and Hal Morren 2.

Lane and Rorie led Clyde with 23 and 13 points, respectively.

Rivera and Alvidrez graded highest for the Wolves defensively and rebounding were Alvidrez, Rivera and Jones with 5, 4 and 4 rebounds, respectively.

Stacie Smith and Stacy Miles scored 6 points to lead the Lady Wolves in a 44-24 junior varsity girls loss.

Also scoring were Melissa Rivera 4, Mendy Conner 2, JoAnn Ornelas 2, Mandi Farris 2 and Brittany Bridgford 2.

Leading scorers for Clyde were Kingsley with 14 and McKinely with 12. Colorado City made 0 of 2 free throws and 12 of 50 shots while Clyde made 8 of 18 from the line and 18 of 41 from the field.

Bridgford and Miles made 5 and 4 rebounds, respectively, and Miles, Conner and Ornelas made 3, 2 and 2 steals.

Highland beats Westbrook

The Highland Hornets took boys and girls victories at Westbrook High School basketball games Tuesday by downing the Wildcat boys 59-53 and beating the girls 47-25.

The Westbrook boys found themselves down 16-7 after one period but caught the Hornets for a 25-25 halftime score and led 41-39 going into the final quarter.

"We didn't play any defense the fourth quarter," said coach Jim Hill. "We let them score 20 points. Normally it's our better quarter."

Scoring for the Wildcats were Frankie Fuentes 21, Ramiro Fuentes 12, Scooter Hines 11, David Blauvelt 7 and Clayton Cannon 2.

Patrick Malone led Highland with 9.

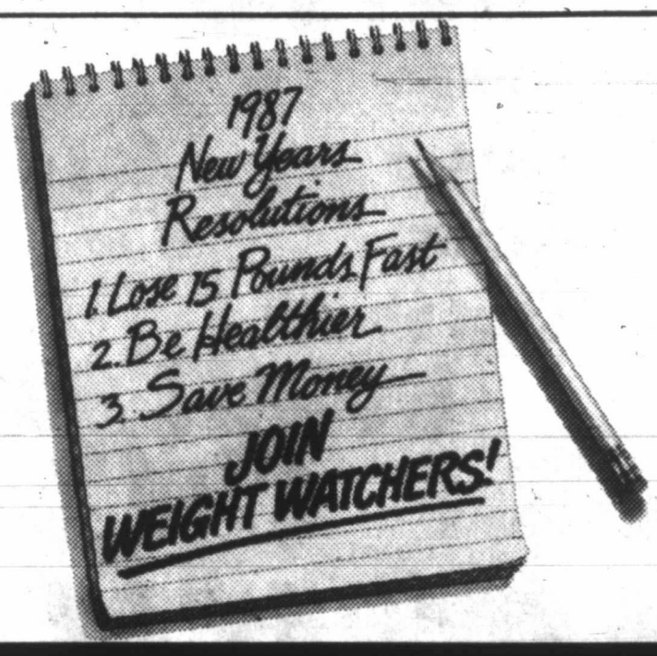

Scoring for the Wildcat girls were Stephany Pierce 15, Kerri Baker 6 and Rachael Simon 4.

T. Hills led the Hornets with 17.

Snyder tops Freshmen

The Colorado High School freshmen boys lost 58-48 to Snyder here at "The Pit" Tuesday and got a team high 22 points from Ray Rivera.

Also scoring were John Phariss 7, Rene Silva 6, Stan Bradbury 4, Tracy McElvaney 4, Ricky Westbrook 2, Abel Arellano 1, Ray Sutton 1 and Sammy Contreras 1.

Cornutts celebrate 60th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cornutt of Loraine were honored with a family dinner and reception on Dec. 27 at the Holiday Inn banquet room in Sweetwater in observance of their 60th wedding anniversary. The event was hosted by the couple's eight children who were all present.

Local Sonic to sponsor Child Safety program

Parents and children in Colorado City are invited by their local Sonic Drive-In to take part in the Sonic Child Safety Saturday on Jan. 17.

This will be the first of three such Saturdays in 1987. The others are scheduled for June 20 and November 21.

A major part of the year-long effort, known as Sonic Operation K.I.D., will be a program to identify youngsters. Sonic will furnish a card for fingerprints to be taken and preserved. The card will have space for other vital information, such as the child's name, height, weight, sex, blood type, eye and hair color, birthdate and a recent photograph.

Tommy Meeks, manager of the Sonic Drive-In at 2128 Hickory, said the program will be free of charge. "It is Sonic's effort to show that we care about the children in the community," the manager added.

Sonic Operation K.I.D. will be conducted from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Jan. 17. All parents are urged to take their children, the Sonic manager said.
