LINGLE MURDER CAR DRIVER MAKES CONFESSION

'We'll Win Today,' Lubbock Backfield Aces Promise On Eve Of Coyote Battle

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Wichita Falls this early in the season has hung up a mark for the other cities and towns in Texas to shoot at in reaching its community chest budget. It is true that as this is written the fund is a few hundred dollars short of the goal but enough subscriptions are in sight to assure the full amount of $69,600.

As a rule not one of a dozen cities obtains the full amount of the budget set for community chests. A few weeks go when Wichita Falls Community Chest budget was set at nearly $70,000 there were very few who expected the amount could be subscribed. He was an optimist who believed much over $55,000 could be obtained.

But Wichita Falls had a duty and an obligation to meet. As earnest a bunch of workers as were ever recruited in the city went to work and there was a response from all classes of the citizenship that filled the chest within the limit set for the campaign.

Maybe our building permits have fallen off and other indices of business show a decline, but in the community chest campaign the citizens of Wichita Falls joined together to perform a duty in the manner of Wichita Falls' best traditions. There will be many a city in Texas during the next few months that will look to Wichita Falls and wonder how it was done. Our example will be at once a wonder and an inspiration.

This community chest campaign may well mark a turning point in Wichita Falls. Up to this point we had been accepting defeat in a number of things. Now we have an example of cooperation and victory that ought to be an inspiration to our own people.

About the next thing Wichita Falls will be called on to do will be to make provision for the continuance of the Junior college. When the college was started several years ago it was supported by taxes from the Wichita Falls independent school district. Later an interpretation of the law made it illegal to devote any of the school funds to the Junior college and for the past two years it has been maintained by fees charged its students.

The increase in the number of high school students now makes it mandatory to provide a separate building for the Junior college and it is recognized that if the Junior college is to be continued it must be supported in large part from taxation.

A committee from the chamber of commerce appointed some months ago is nearly ready to submit a plan calling for the annexation of territory to the present Junior college district which is co-extensive with the Wichita Falls independent school district and the voting of taxes to provide for a building and maintenance of a Junior college.

It is important that early action be taken on this matter in order that provision may be made for the continuance of the college during the 1931-32 term. The college has already lost something of its morale through the likelihood of its discontinuance.

The Lubbock Westerners are here for the first conference football game of the season. A special train is en route from Lubbock bringing several hundred Westerner fans. At least 5,000 spectators are expected to pay admission to the game. A conference high school football game in Texas draws as big a crowd today as a big college game did 10 years ago.

In some cities football games are being played at night because they will draw bigger crowds. Such a proposal for high school football teams has been turned down at Waco, Houston and some other Texas cities, as being too great a step in the direction of commercialism.

COACH FRNKA DOLEFUL—HIS PUPILS AREN'T

'If We Lose Fighting Hard I'll Be Satisfied,' Says Holton

TEST FOR COYOTES

Wichita's Place in Title Race Hinges on First Big Game

The Lubbock Westerners banded together last night and dedicated today's game with the Wichita Falls Coyotes to their coaches, Henry Frnka and W. H. Keeling. Dub Lawson, Moody Smith and Mina Watkins, backfield men who acted as spokesmen for their team, said:

"We lost last week—to Pampa. It was through no fault of our coaches. Each and every one of us love our coaches and we will vindicate them today by winning."

By FRED D. THOMPSON

The burly Lubbock Westerners, whose football championship hopes were given a shock last week when Pampa rode over the Cowboys in the opening conference game, will run bang up against the Wichita Falls Coyotes this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the contest at Athletic park virtually will decide the problem whether the Lubbock entry is destined to reap top position gridiron laurels this year.

A second defeat would all but put Coach Henry Frnka's huskies out of the race, and would establish the Coyotes as the team likely to give championship contenders no little worry the rest of the season.

Very, Very Doleful

On the eve before sending their charges into action, coaches of both outfits blossomed with apprehension. Neither would predict victory. Both, however, promised a bone-cracking scrap.

Coach Frnka came up with the startling announcement that two of his most outstanding workmen, Watkins and Smith, backfield men, who were the driving force in last week's Pampa game, will not take part in Saturday's game owing to injuries sustained at the hands of the Pampans. Although it would be well to take such an announcement with a huge grain of salt, if not indeed a barrel, Coach Frnka apparently was sincere, and even named his substitutions, Scoggins, he said, will replace Watkins, while Corruth will replace Smith.

Watkins, stellar left half, renowned punter, and driving ball carrier; and Smith, line-plunging fullback, make up the very life of the Lubbock offense, and the announcement that Frnka will leave these two experts on the sidelines brought nothing less than a horse-laugh from officials in the Coyote camp. Especially in view of the fact that the Lubbock outfit has a chance to maul down the Pack in the latter's first conference game of the season, and so spoil their morale, if possible, for the remainder of the season.

Possible Lineups

But even if Watkins and Smith are in the starting lineup Saturday, Coach Frnka wished it to be thoroughly understood that he has no team composed of 11 letter men, as was announced in our afternoon contemporary Friday. Thus, said Frnka, even if his two stars perform, he has no cinch of victory such as he would have if it were true that 11 veterans make up his regular team.

"I have only six letter men on the entire squad," said Frnka, "These are McGehee, Browley, Martin, Lawson, Smith and Watkins, and the latter two will not see action in Saturday's game."

"I know our boys will give the Coyotes a scrap tomorrow," he continued, "but I look for it to be a close battle. The game with Pampa

You'll Find It Kinda Tough . . . Running Over This Fellow

There will be 11 obstacles in the way of the Lubbock Westerners today when they go out to prove to their coaches they can win a game, and one of the toughest is a 180-pound block of brawn, brain and steel who goes by the name of Charles "Chick" Holden. Veteran guard of last year's team, Chick bears down on the left side of the line, and when he's not doing that he's reeling off dazzling punts. He will be there—all 180-pounds of him—when the Coyotes clash with the Westerners at Athletic park at 2:30 p. m. today.

12 SKELETONS FOUND IN PIT

Gravel Haulers Unearth Old Mystery

DALLAS, Oct. 3. (AP)—Twelve skeletons, believed to be those of persons massacred by Indians more than 100 years ago, were found by workmen in a gravel pit 10 miles northeast of Mesquite today. They included both adults and infants.

The bones were found in three heaps, stacked one on the other, on a hillside, a circumstance which led Dallas and Mesquite undertakers who went to the scene to believe a cemetery had not been unearthed. They lay in a gravelly formation nine feet beneath the surface of the ground.

Undertakers brought some of the bones to Dallas for intensive examination and said they would be sent to Baylor university and the University of Texas for inspection by archeologists. They stated the bones appeared to have been petrified and some were crumbling and turning into dust. They hardened when exposed to sunlight.

It was pointed out that cemeteries seldom are placed on hillsides and even victims of accidents are not buried in the position in which the skeletons were found. J. F. McCullough, Mesquite undertaker for 20 years, said he had never known of a burial ground in the vicinity of the hillside.

The workmen were getting gravel for a road when the skeletons were found. They believed they would find more bones as they continued their work.

The theory was advanced that the 12 were killed by Indians around 1800 and their bodies were hastily interred.

Mother Jones Alive But Growing Weaker

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—"Mother" Mary Jones remained alive today largely because of her will to live.

Dr. H. H. Howlett, attending the 100-year-old labor protagonist, said she had continued to grow weaker until she would fall asleep in the midst of a conversation.

Little nourishment is necessary to keep alive a person of her age, he said, but she has not been able to assimilate enough food to gain strength.

REUBEN CLARK APPOINTED NEW MEXICO ENVOY

Salt Lake Man Succeeds Dwight W. Morrow In Important Post

HAS WIDE EXPERIENCE

Ambassador Tellez Bespeaks His Government's Satisfaction on Clark

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—J. Reuben Clark of Salt Lake City was appointed late today to succeed Dwight W. Morrow as ambassador to Mexico.

Announcement of the appointment at the White House filled a vacancy which has existed less than a week. Morrow resigned Tuesday to conduct his campaigns in New Jersey for the senate.

Tellez Pleased

Clark, who served as counsellor for the embassy under Morrow, is a former under-secretary of state. He is credited with having a wide knowledge of Mexican affairs and his appointment was described tonight by Ambassador Tellez of Mexico as a "happy one."

The choice was regarded as in line with the announced policy of President Hoover of seeking men with wide experience in Latin American affairs for those posts. Clark has been mentioned widely as the likely choice for several months.

Gathered Revolt Data

Secretary of State Kellogg named Clark under-secretary of state in 1928. On March 3, 1929, the eve of President Hoover's inauguration, the last revolution broke out in Mexico. Clark, who was in Washington, gathered the press dispatches describing the Mexican revolt, and worked all night to prepare a memorandum on Mexican conditions which during his first day of office aided President Hoover in the task of defining a United States policy toward the revolution.

Three months later, Clark gave up his work as under-secretary to become personal advisor to Ambassador Morrow. In that capacity he gained an intimate knowledge of Mexico and the problems of that republic.

CLARK DECLINES TO MAKE COMMENT

'Baering' Down On The News

With ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Henry Ford says we are lazy. Blame it on that old model T.

It ran on combustion. Its radiator fed on the dew. It took you there and brought you back. And shook up your sluggish liver on the way.

It bedded itself down at night like a faithful hoss. During the heat waves it fanned you with its fenders and rocked the baby to sleep.

Its gears required no more gressing than a dab with a lipstick. It had a natural nose for detours. It never developed mechanical troubles that a Pullman porter couldn't fix with a whisk broom.

It improved with age like an old habit. It would mow the lawn, run the pump and do everything around the farm but lay an egg.

Then they made Lizzie a lady and she's difficult to handle. The change arrived too late. Of all the ruts that man gets into the ones made by the old model T are the hardest to get out of.

BUCKINGHAM ESCAPES BOMB

Infernal Machine Explodes In Mail Van

LONDON, Oct. 3. (US)—Police tonight expressed the belief that a bomb which exploded this afternoon in a mail truck was contained in one of several bags of mail destined for Buckingham Palace and the Whitehall region where the government offices are located.

The explosion occurred just as one of several mailbags received today from the Irish Free state was thrown into the van outside the Mount Pleasant postoffice. Four postoffice employes narrowly escaped death as metal pieces of the bomb were blown in all directions. The mail bag was destroyed and the van wrecked. Postmen standing about the van were thrown to the ground by the force of the explosion.

From metal remnants of the bomb, Scotland Yard agents have determined that it was a carefully constructed infernal machine, but it is believed their investigation will be unable to disclose where the package was addressed.

All the bags in the truck were destined for the southwestern section of the city and police expressed the theory that the one containing the bomb was to be sent either to Buckingham Palace or the government offices.

Both King George and Queen Mary returned to Buckingham this week from Balmoral castle, Scotland. Had the explosion of the bomb been delayed an hour, police declared, it would have occurred at its destination.

NAMES OF TWO SLAYERS GIVEN BY CHAUFFEUR

Indiana Gang Accused In Statement Given By Frank Bell

GEISKING NAMED

Detailed Account of Every Movement Made By Quartet Given

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (US)—Without warning a confession in the Alfred J. Lingle murder came tonight from a surprise witness, himself an admitted accessory.

Frank H. Bell, describing himself as a racketeer and stick-up man, told in circumstantial detail his professed part in the crime whose details are known the world around and named members of notorious Traum gang of Indiana as the murderers.

Two of the men he designated by name—Joe Traum, leader of the gang bearing his name, who for months spread terror through the state of Indiana, and Richard Sullivan, an ex-convict.

Not Sure of Third

He was less sure of the identity of a third man, but told authorities he "looked like Ted Geisking," a gangster and hijacker recently arrested in Kentucky in the Lingle case. Geisking could not be identified at that time, but was taken to Indiana where he was wanted on hijacking and other charges.

Investigators of the Lingle murder were in a state of excitement late today as it became known what Bell would testify. Coroner Herman N. Bundesen hastily summoned the coroner's jury for a late session tonight, saying that an important revelation was to be made in the Lingle case, but declining to say what it was.

Drove Murder Car

Brought before the jury, Bell declared outright he had driven the car in which Traum and Sullivan rode to the entrance of the Randolph street pedestrian tunnel where Lingle was shot to death June 9. At the entrance, he said Traum and Sullivan met the man who resembled Geisking, and Traum took from the car a snub-nosed revolver like that left beside the dead body of Lingle.

Bell related first to the coroner's jury a hold-up in which he had participated, then told of how he became acquainted with Traum and Sullivan, Traum asking him if he wanted to "get in on this job" which would mean "a grand" ($1,000) to him.

His testimony then proceeded as follows:

"On June 9—the day of the murder—I met Sullivan at 8:30 o'clock. We went to a cigar store at Division and Dearborn streets and met Traum.

Pistol Tested

"We got in Traum's tan sedan and drove south in State street. Traum told me to turn into an alley. In there he took the snub-nosed revolver from the back of the car and fired it into the ground to test it.

"We drove over to Michigan and south to Wacker Drive and around to Randolph street, at the lower level.

"Traum said, 'what are you fellows doing?' and I said 'on the heist.'

"He said he would get us in on some real money. Then he said to wait a minute, he had a telephone call to make to put a bet on a race horse.

"Traum came back, we ate lunch and drove to the Outer Drive at Randolph street.

Fourth Member

"Traum told me to drive him and Sullivan to the Illinois Central station. After that he told me to go to the Outer Drive and Jackson street and wait for them.

"After they got out of the car up stepped the fellow who looks like Geisking's pictures. Then Traum came back and said, 'this is my man' and he took the revolver from the car. I drove back to the Outer Drive."

It was while this trio was absent in the tunnel, presumably, that Lingle was killed if Bell's story is found to be authentic. Bell said he later drove back and picked up Traum and Sullivan.

Tear Bombs Rout Texas Cowboys Wrangling Over Rodeo Saddles

EL PASO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Tear bombs effectively put to rout an opinionated group of Texas cowboys this afternoon, suddenly ending an argument at rodeo over what type of saddle should be used in a bronco riding contest.

The argument arose shortly before the grand entry was to begin in the second annual Southwest Range Stock and Show and Roundup here. The bronc riders threatened to withdraw from the exhibit unless permitted to use a narrow seat saddle which would permit riders to get a better seat on the pitching animals.

W. T. Johnson, millionaire Texas ranch owner and director of the rodeo, insisted they use a wider saddle, more generally used in roundup work on the range and which had been accepted as the official rodeo saddle.

The cowboys struck and congregated about the chutes where roping calves were being ushered into the arena. Johnson appealed to a policeman to disperse them.

Irritated at Johnson's refusal and his having called the officer, the cowboys threatened the policeman. Sergeant James W. Fitzgerald rushed to his subordinate's assistance with two tear gas bombs which quickly cleared the arena, not only of the cowboys but also of judges, attendants, newspapermen, photographers.

The rodeo was delayed half an hour until fumes of the bombs cleared away.

The cowboys admitted that the standard saddle had been used here previously and that it was more difficult to stick on the hurricane deck of a pinto using it than with the saddle demanded.

MOODY DENIES SESSION PLEA

Cotton Reduction Up To Entire South

AUSTIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—Insisting that all southern states should join in any program of reducing cotton acreage, Gov. Dan Moody today declined to call the Texas legislature into special session to enact the McDonald cotton acreage reduction bill.

He consented, however, to act as intermediary for a group of legislators and farmers seeking the reduction program in obtaining the sentiments of governors in all the Southern states on acreage reduction legislation.

Although the governor did not definitely promise, members of the committee which visited him felt sure he would consent to the special session if governors of other states in the area would agree to convene their respective legislators.

The governor, at a long conference at which all angles of the proposition were discussed, reiterated the belief that the federal farm board should take the lead in any such attempt. He said he was convinced that if the matter was placed before farmers of the South as a unified measure in which all cotton farmers were parties, a substantial reduction in the land planted in cotton would be brought about without the need of specific legislation by each state.

In any event, he said, the regular session of the legislature in January could deal with the problem soon enough.

Terrors of the Big City, or Why Bill Spink Stays Home

Villager in Detroit Has Record Run of Very Tough Breaks

HARBOR BEACH, Mich., Oct. 3. (AP)—Local news item: William Spink, of this village who went to Detroit yesterday to buy a suit, has returned. Bill says he is going to buy his suits at home in the future.

And this is what the editor left out.

Arriving in Detroit, Bill bought a natty suit, pocketed $35 change, tucked his flivver in a garage, and set out to "do" the city.

Three blocks from the garage Bill looked into the muzzle of a big black automatic, while a tough guy with hard eyes opened his mouth wide enough to say "hands up." In a fraction of a second Bill's $35 disappeared along with the holdup man.

Penniless, Bill returned to the garage to get his car, the unfeeling garage man demanded payment for storage. Under great mental stress, Bill remembered a $5 bill hidden in his vest pocket. He bailed out his car, and started for Harbor Beach.

A movie advertisement caught his eye, so he parked his car, locked the doors and for two and a half hours forgot his troubles.

When Bill strolled out of the front door of the movie palace, he saw a cop sitting on the running board of his car. One glance was enough. The window was broken, and his natty suit was missing from the back seat.

"My new suit," yelled Bill. "It's been stolen."

"I dunno anything about the suit," said the officer, "but here's a ticket for parking overtime on this street."

Bill broke down then, sobbed out his story to the cop, and got his only break in a bad day. The officer, visibly moved, tore up the ticket.

Bill Spink is back home in Harbor Beach today, to stay.

Bishop Cannon Still in the Dark As to Nature of New Accusations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., said today he has given careful consideration to "the new attacks" made on him by four ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, but that he had not been informed of the specific nature of the accusations.

The 65-year-old Methodist churchman said he had conferred yesterday with Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, with whom the charges were filed, but he declined to discuss the conference. Ainsworth, who left immediately for Birmingham, was understood to have decided to appoint a committee of 12 clergymen to investigate the complaints.

While the nature of the charges have not been made public, they are understood to include the bishop's political and stock market activities as well as new accusations. Dr. Forrest J. Prettyman of Baltimore, one of the accusers, has said the charges include "all that has been in the newspapers, and more."

Cheerfully attending to his duties as chairman of the church's board of temperance and social service, Cannon reiterated that the method employed by the four ministers in bringing the charges was contrary to the church law. This has been denied by at least two of the ministers.

Bishop Cannon said the conference with Ainsworth was "official" and that "naturally" he would not discuss it. He added that Bishop Ainsworth had not brought with him a copy of the charges.

"I do not know what they are," he asserted, "but naturally I am giving careful attention to the new attacks."

Sheriff Holds Two Men In Party Shooting

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Jim Greenway, 20, who was shot while attending a party in Temple Thursday night, is in a critical condition and has never gained consciousness, according to attendants of the hospital in Duncan where she was taken following the shooting.

Bert Jones and Joe McCarthy, who were arrested and placed in the Cotton county jail following the shooting, are being held until it is determined whether Mrs. Greenway lives. Jim Greenway, husband of the wounded woman, was released Friday morning.

The shooting took place at the home of J. W. McCarthy at Temple late Thursday night while a party was in progress. Questioned by Sheriff C. O. Hooper, guests said that Jones, John McCarthy, brother of the man in whose home the party was being held, and Greenway became involved in an argument. McCarthy and Greenway ejected Jones from the house, it was said.

A fusillade of bullets entered the house shortly after, one of them striking Mrs. Greenway in the right temple. No charges had been filed pending the outcome of physicians' fight to save Mrs. Greenway's life.

The Jones Family Decides

The Jones family held a conference last evening. And here was the question at issue: "Shall we continue to trade at our independently managed store or shall we patronize the chain store?"

The conference was short. The independent grocer won by a unanimous verdict. Here are the reasons each member of the family advanced:

FATHER—I've known Smith, the independent grocer, since we were boys together. He is a real Wichita Falls booster; he's interested in Wichita Falls progress and Wichita Falls folks. He does business with a local lawyer, insurance man, banker, realtor. We should do business with him.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER—When we shop at Mr. Smith's store we know that he is interested in us as PEOPLE . . . AS FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS . . . not merely as buyers. We know his family, too. It pays to do business with friends!

KELLEY STANDS OFF OIL QUIZ

Land Office Employe Raps Investigator

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. (AP)—Ralph S. Kelley held a justice department investigation at arms length today while he convinced the chairman of the senate public lands committee he was "quite thoroughly justified" in his charges of maladministration of Colorado shale lands.

The former chief of the Denver federal land office sent Assistant Attorney General Seth W. Richardson a letter refusing to lay his charges before that official, saying he believed Richardson had prejudged his case. Nevertheless, the justice department determined to go ahead with the investigation.

The refusal of Kelley to go before Richardson brought a statement late in the day from Secretary Wilbur expressing belief that Kelley had fallen "into designing hands of those who could use him to their advantage" and was permitting himself to be exploited. The secretary several days ago refused to accept Kelley's resignation and suspended him pending an investigation.

Senator Nye, chairman of the lands committee, after an hour's conference with the former Denver official, said he believed Kelley was "quite thoroughly justified" in his charges. He added he was equally convinced, however, that Secretary Wilbur was not responsible for the alleged errors.

"Kelley's charges do not go to the door of Secretary Wilbur," Nye said. "There is a door to which his objections lead, however, and this door should be opened.

"I can't help but be impressed with the spirit moving Kelley at this stage. I think he is entitled to a thorough hearing."

The senator added that if the department of justice did not proceed with a thorough inquiry of the case he himself would introduce a resolution in the senate calling for an investigation.

In his letter to Richardson, Kelley said he had declined to lay the facts and details of his charges before him because he believed "the public interests require an investigation of these charges by an impartial body."

Freak Tasks Await Mr. X

style of a fashionably dressed woman of today. Owing to the heat in the show window, Mr. X had great difficulty in keeping the face powder on, and naturally he used a liberal supply. But when Mr. X had completed his transformation, it was agreed that he makes a better looking mother-in-law than he does a man.

In the display window of the Hub store, Mr. X turned a girl into a fashionably dressed young man. Dressing the girl up in the best of men's attire, he made a complete disguise for the lady.

A very good looking suit of clothes of an approved brand topped off the transformation, and as the lady stepped from the window many of the girls present looked upon her with envious eyes, and would have liked her for their especial boy friend.

Today Mr. X will start off by painting a picture in the show window of the Wichita Hardware store. He has been challenged to do this in order to show what can be done with ordinary house paint. Mr. X does not to use artist's oil colors, but ordinary house paint. The picture, when finished will be presented to one of the patrons of the store. At Montgomery Ward store, Mr. X will dress a living model in ladies' hose. He says that he will design an evening gown on a lady and will use no needles or pins to keep the hose together.

After this demonstration Mr. X will wash 100 one dollar bills and iron them in the show window of the Sears Roebuck store, using the "Kenmore" washing machine, with the electric ironer attached.

The last task for Mr. X today, will be to make a man in the display window of the Nathan Lynch store, Mr. X is to use what material he cares to choose, but the man, when completed must be a good looking man, and in keeping with the high quality of the store.

GROSS PLANS OPEN HOUSE

I. O. Boosters Join Veterinary in Invitation

Closing of the first year's practice in the veterinary hospital and boarding kennels of Dr. Fred Gross, 113 Indiana avenue, and opening of an extensive program of community "boosting" by business men of that section will be celebrated Saturday night from 7 to 11 o'clock in the form of an open house party for the public at the Gross hospital.

Visitors to the "pets' home" Saturday night will be shown through an establishment luxuriously and scientifically equipped to treat the ailments of pets and other animals, and to afford them first class boarding accommodations while their masters are absent from the city. Musical and other entertainment will be provided for the event, and favors will be given those visiting the hospital.

Saturday night's open house at Dr. Gross' hospital inaugurates a series of events of various kinds which will be staged by business men of lower Indiana and Ohio avenues in the future in line with the purposes for which they recently organized the "I. O. Boosters Gang." Numerous members of the organization will coperate with Dr. Gross in welcoming the public Saturday night to one of that section's outstanding instjtutions, and will follow later with similar events.

Persons who have not had the occasion to have pet animals treated in a modern veterinary hospital will probably be much surprised upon visiting the Gross hospital to see how closely its equipment resembles that of hospitals for the treatment of human beings. Constructed of brick and concrete to be immune to fire, the building represents a modern, sanitary plant for surgical and medical relief to animals of every kind.

Easy cleaning and disinfection of all cages in which animals are housed is made possible by their metal construction. Aside from these metal quarters for patients, there are 10-foot individual indoor runways for boarders, and outside 10-foot individual cages and large exercising pens.

Aloofness Respected

Native aloofness of cats where other animals are concerned has been respected in the arrangement of the "Our Pets" home, for a separate ward, with small individual cages for inmates, has been provided for feline patients or boarders.

Animals who have been through the operating room of the Gross hospital will have quite as many wonders to describe to their friends at home as the average human who has had a major operation. It is equipped with most of the appurtenances of modern clinics and operating rooms for man. Therapeutic rays, such as infra-red, ultra-violet, and others are available for the removal of canine pains, and should one of them swallow too large a bone, there is the X-ray equipment to photograph its location. Sanitation has not been overlooked. There is the electric sterilizer to make safe all instruments to be used in operations; an appliance for making injections upon small animals, and an adequate-looking operating table.

Animals brought as patients to the hospital are put in a receiving cage, pending examination and diagnosis, after which they are assigned to the proper wards. Accommodations are provided for the isolation of contagious or infectious disease cases.

Dogs who aspire to social distinctions avail themselves of the beauty parlor facilities afforded at the hospital. Medicated baths reduce the flea and other annoying insects to unpleasant memories, which are dispelled under the electric dryer. Toe nails are properly clipped and an electric clipper quickly lops off the shaggy hair of certain dog-breeds for relief from summer heat.

The hospital occupies a full-sized lot a half-block long, and includes a spacious outdoor promenade where boarding or convalescent animals may stretch their legs at will during the day.

24-Hour Service

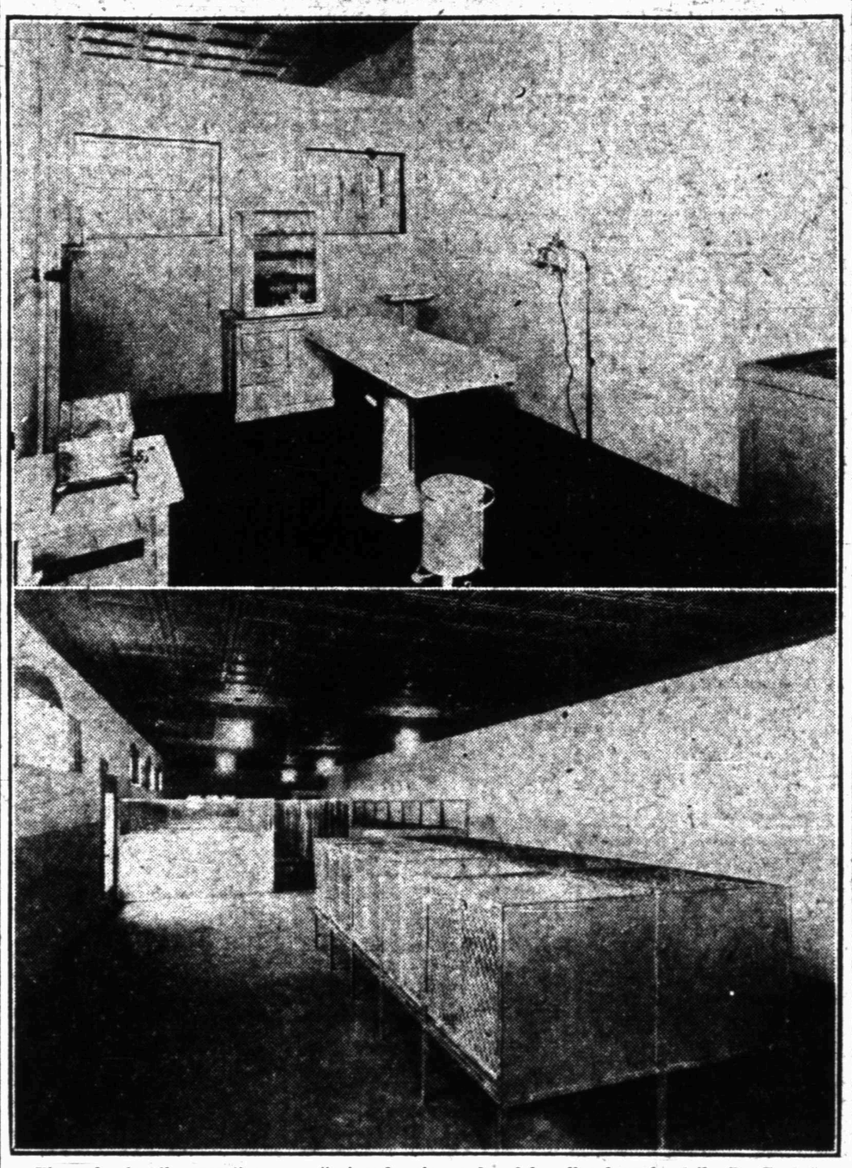

Completing its equipment, the Gross hospital maintains a small animal ambulance, bearing the blue cross and veterinarian's insignia against a field of grey. Twenty-four hour service is maintained every day for the service of pets in need of treatment or a temporary boarding place.

Practice of the hospital, and of Dr. Gross, is not limited to small animals, such as are used commonly for family pets. The hospital is prepared to render either medical or surgical aid to any kind of animals in this section of the country, and is one of the most completely equipped institutions of its kind in this section of the country.

Before coming to Wichita Falls two years ago, Dr. Gross was assistant veterinarian with the live-stock commission of Texas at Fort Worth, and was assistant laboratory director in the same service. He resigned that position to begin private practice here.

Favors will be given to guests of the hospital at Saturday night's open house, it was announced, and orchestral music will be furnished throughout the evening. From the roof of the building, early in the evening, scores of balloons will be released, each bearing a tag which will entitle the holder to a gift from Dr. Gross when returned to the hospital, it was announced.

The I. O. Boosters' gang, which will aid Dr. Gross in putting on the anniversary party, consists of business men located on Ohio and Indiana avenues north of Sixth street. More than 30 established business institutions already have been enumerated as eligible to inclusion in the group, and most of them already are actively aligned with the movement, it was said. It is purposed to bring about business and civic improvement in that district, one of the oldest in the city.

Six veal chops.
One egg.
Two tablespoonfuls milk.
One cupful dry bread crumbs.
One teaspoonful salt.
Few grains of pepper.

Austrian Potatoes

Two pounds potatoes.
Six tablespoonfuls butter, melted.
One tablespoonful lemon juice.
Three-fourths teaspoonful salt.
Paprika.
Pepper.

Wash, pare, and cut potatoes in one-eighth inch slices. Parboil two minutes in salted water. Drain, put in dripping pan to depth of about two inches. Bake one hour, or until soft, pasting with butter which has been mixed with lemon juice, pepper and paprika.

Tart Tomato Salad

One package lemon Jell-O.
One pint stewed tomatoes, strained.
One and one-half teaspoonfuls lemon juice.
One-half cup chopped sweet pickes.
Dash of salt.
One teaspoonful Worchestershire sauce.
One-half cupful diced celery.

Dissolve Jell-O in boiling tomato juice. Add lemon juice, salt and Worchestershire sauce. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in celery and pickles. Turn into molds. Chill until firm. Serve on lettuce leaves, garnished with mayonnaise and wedges of fresh tomatoes. Serves eight.

One and one-half cupfuls sweetened apple sauce, a little lemon juice added.
One egg white.
Two tablespoonfuls cinnamon candies.
One cupful cream.

Heat apple sauce and add cinnamon candies. Stir until the candy is thoroughly dissolved. Cool and chill on ice. Whip the cream until stiff. Combine with the apple sauce and fold in the beaten egg white. Place in a mold and freeze using three parts of ice to one part of salt or place in the pan of a mechanical refrigerator for three hours.

Walnut Molasses Bars

One-fourth cupful butter.
One-fourth cupful lard.
One-fourth cupful boiling water.
One-half cupful brown sugar.

Chicken Cutlets, Parker House Style

Prepare a croquet mixture, using the formula given below. (The sweetbreads may be omitted). Form the chilled mixture into cutlet shapes, dip into a yolk of egg, beaten and diluted with one tablespoonful of melted butter to each yolk of egg, then into fine bread crumbs, dispose on a buttered baking dish, some little distance apart. Pipe a duchess potato mixture on the edge of the cutlets, brush with beaten yolk of egg and reheat in the oven; fill the open centers with buttered peas or asparagus tips. The asparagus tips may be mixed with Hollandaise sauce. Note that the yolks of eggs only are used in egging and that the cutlets are not double-breaded.

One-half cupful flour.
One cupful milk or
One cupful of chicken stock.
Seasoned with vegetables and herbs.
One-third cupful cream.
One egg.
Salt and paprika.

If a richer flavor than the stock gives be desired, cook a slice of onion and a mushroom or two in the butter to be used in making the sauce. Add the egg, two yolks are better than the whole egg, just before the meat, and do not boil the sauce after the egg is added. Melt the butter, add the flour, salt and pepper and stir until smooth. Add milk or stock and cream and cook until very thick. Add the egg and lemon juice and meat. Chill. Shape in any desired manner; roll in bread or cracker crumbs, in egg and again in crumbs. Fry in fat until a golden brown.

Three egg yolks, slightly beaten
One baked nine-inch pie shell.
One cupful double cream

Combine flour, sugar and salt; add cold milk and mix well. Add scalded milk gradually, place in a double boiler, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Pour small amount of mixture over egg yolks, return to double boiler, add 1 cup cocoanut and cook three to four minutes longer. Cool. Pour filling into pie shell, cover with jam, pile whipped cream lightly on top, and sprinkle with one-half cupful cocoanut. Serve immediately.

APPLES

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away." "An apple at night makes the dentist's bill light." These are familiar saws that suggest that apples should be eaten not only because they taste good but also because they are healthful.

The chief value of the apple as food lies in the presence of acids, salts and vitamins which are most important to the body and which are very scarce in most foods. These acids and salts furnish the alkaline elements which help to keep the blood in the proper condition, and together with the cellulose or fiber of the apple, have a mild laxative effect which is very beneficial. Apples combine well with proteins, such as meat fish, eggs, and oysters as they neutralize the acids formed by such foods. Some authorities advocate four parts of alkaline-forming foods to one part of acid-forming foods for a normal individual.

When eaten cooked or raw apples provide vitamines B and C. While they are not as high in anti-scurvy vitamines as oranges, lemons, and tangerine, they are yet a good anti-scurvy food.

Apples—even sour ones—contain a large quantity of sugar. The sugar is of a kind that is most useful for energy, and chiefly because of its presence one medium sized apple furnishes about 75 calories.

The flavor of the apple aids in digestion, since appetizing foods are more easily digested than unpalatable ones. The addition of apples in some form may increase greatly the palatability of an otherwise somewhat tasteless meal. Most people prefer bread and butter and apple sauce to plain bread and butter. Thus for the flavor alone the addition of apples to the diet is justified.

The apple has numerous qualities that appeal to the thrifty housewife. It is comparatively cheap, does not spoil quickly, has a very long season and has a great variety of uses. Only ripe apples should be eaten raw and cooked ones are recommended for invalids and small children.

The choice of apples for cooking purposes is important. If they are to be pared, the outward appearances of the raw fruit is not of great moment, but if the apples are to be baked in their skins, a bright red variety of good flavor and very firm texture is best.

Every housekeeper serves baked apples occasionally, but seldom realizes that there are many other equally as appetizing apple dishes.

Just because coffee is brown

How careful you are to have your coffee just right. The taste, the body and all the fine touches of quality that go into a cup of coffee—all these are so much more important than the mere fact that it is "brown." There are many things that make coffee brown. But taste is the thing that counts.

Shortenings, too, even though they may be white, can be quite different. They are made differently. The Wesson Oil people, when they make Snowdrift, use an oil as choice as a fine salad oil. And a little extra care sends it to you pure, fresh and sweet . . . good to eat all by itself. Free from animal fats, Snowdrift comes to you sealed pure and fresh in an air-tight can. Until you break the seal on that can, no other hands have touched it.

And remember that you need something pure and good to cook with, because in baking or frying, you really eat the shortening you use. It comes to your table as an important part of the food. And nothing can be too good for you to eat.

Snowdrift is at its lowest price in years.

TATTOO TO END BABY MIXUPS

Mercury Lamp Makes Invisible Mark on New Infants

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—A 15-second shot of artificial sunshine that will tan an identification mark on a baby is advocated to prevent hospital mixups by the scientific journal American Medicine.

As the doctor hands the new born infant to the nurse she lays a stencil appropriately on its bare skin and holds it for 15 seconds under a water-cooled mercury lamp, which gives intense ultra-violet radiation.

The identification mark can be a number, or just as readily a symbol or an aristocratic coat of arms.

The Journal suggests putting a selected mark upon each mother upon arrival at the hospital and then placing the same mark upon her baby, or babies.

This tan is harmless. Although it may disappear from ordinary sight after a few days, it can be read at any time within six months by use of black light. This is ultra-violet light with the visible rays filtered out.

When the seemingly invisible symbol is placed under the black rays its characters are as plain as if made of dark paint.

The Journal credits Dr. Herman Goodman of New York city with originating the idea of thus making a tan record indelible for months.

Experimenting with the durability of this identification, Dr. Goodman in April this year tanned a spot the size of a quarter upon the forearm of a man.

This man played tennis with bare arms all summer, swam frequently in the surf and spent many hours with arms bare while boating until his forearms were very dark with sun tan.

In September Dr. Goodman turned the black light upon the place that had been artificially tanned, and under the invisible rays the round spot was distinctly outlined despite the months of sun tan covering it from eyesight.

Trio Held in Fraud To Waive Hearing

ENID, Okla., Oct. 3. (UP)—Arrangements were made today by attorneys for Ben F. Fields and Mrs. A. D. Belcher of Tulsa, whereby they will waive preliminary trials in justice court here on charges of fraud in connection with operations of the Anglo-American Royalties corporation.

The formal order will be made Saturday.

F. H. McIntyre, president of the company, is held in Tulsa under $10,000 bond and was unable to appear. Although his attorney asked for a continuance, he also will waive preliminary hearing.

Fields is named in two criminal charges of fraud and McIntyre and Belcher in one each. Bonds will be $2,000 in each case.

The charges alleged obtaining money under false pretenses in promoting sales of more than 168,000 shares of Anglo-American royalties in Enid alone. Charges were filed on complaint of six Enid residents who claimed their life savings had been swept away in the alleged fraudulent manipulation.

143 Arrested For Game Law Infraction

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 3. (UP)—Rangers of the state game and fish department arrested 143 persons during September, for alleged violations of the state game and fish laws, the department's monthly report showed today.

Seining, grabbling and trapping fish led in the list of violations with 57 while 20 arrests were made because of persons fishing without licenses.

Total revenue to the department from fines assessed the past month was $451.25, compared with a revenue of $256.25 during August.

SEIZED NITRO IS EXPLODED

Police Set Off Explosives Found in Barn

FORT WORTH, Oct. 3. (AP)—Approximately 16 pounds of dynamite and a half gallon jar of residue from which the nitroglycerin had been "boiled" were set off Friday morning by police in the Trinity river bottoms. The explosives were found Thursday afternoon in the barn at the home of Nathan M. Martin.

Martin was killed Aug. 9 in the explosion at the Stock Yards National bank.

The explosives were found by members of Martin's family who called police. There was one 10-pound package from which about four pounds had been removed, and the half gallon jar containing the residue.

The packages were removed to the vault at central police station Thursday afternoon. The problem of disposing of it puzzled police Friday and it was finally decided to explode it. Two employes of the City garage who had handled explosives in the oil fields volunteered to aid in the work and the packages were taken to a spot on the river bank.

The packages were set off separately and each one tore a large hole in the ground. The force of the blasts was felt several blocks.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3. (AP)—District Attorney Eugene Stanley today brought about the arrest of Lucius Gunter Sr., a telephone company employe, on charges brought by the Louisiana Childrens bureau that Gunter had brutally whipped his 10-months-old son, Lucius Jr., because the infant cried.

The baby was brought into juvenile court in a serious condition from beatings, its body revealing welts and discolorations.

The father is alleged to have repeatedly beaten the child while his wife was ill in bed.

Officers of the bureau agreed to care for the child until arrangements should be made. Meantime Mrs. Gunter was removed to Charity hospital for treatment.

APPLES FIT IN MANY MENUS

Mrs. Dawson Gives Variety Of Recipes

sugar and one cup water with thin shaving from rind of a lemon. Remove lemon, add enough apples to cover bottom of saucepan, watch carefully during cooking, and simmer until soft. Continue until all are cooked. Strain remaining syrup over apples. The apples may be mashed with a potato masher or pressed through a seive. Corn syrup may be used in place of half of the sugar if a transparent sauce is desired. If the apples are well flavored, very little additional flavoring will be needed. A small amount of lemon juice may be used in a white apple sauce and ground cinnamon of nutmeg in a brown one.

Baked Apples

Wash and core apples and place in a baking dish. Fill the cavities with sugar mixed with cinnamon using about one-fourth teaspoonful cinnamon and one tablespoonful sugar for each apple. Pour boiling water into the baking dish to the depth of one-half inch. Bake in a moderate oven until the apples are soft but not until the skin has burst. About 30 or 40 minutes is required, depending upon the size of the apple. Baste the apples occasionally with the syrup in the dish. Serve with a bit of whipped cream or jelly on the top of each apple or with the syrup from the dish. The recipe may be varied in many ways:

a. Use a small amount of grated nutmeg in place of the cinnamon.

b. Add a small amount of lemon juice to the above recipe.

c. Fill the cavities with bread erumbs mixed with raisins or currants, maple sugar or chopped nuts.

d. Press a marshmallow on top of each apple during the last few minutes of baking.

Frosted Apples

Core and peel tart firm apples, roll each apple in melted butter and afterwards in granulated sugar, then in grated coconut; place them in a baking dish and fill the centers with chopped dates, raisins and nuts in equal quantities; add one cupful of boiling water mixed with one cupful of sugar and bake the apples in a slow oven 350 degrees F. till tender. Remove from the oven; sprinkle with coconut and serve with whipped or plain cream.

Apple Relish.

One quart vinegar
Two teaspoonfuls salt
Eight medium-sized apples
Four green peppers
One cupful chopped celery
Two and one-half cupfuls brown sugar
Two tablespoonfuls mixed spices
Four medium-sized onions
One cupful seeded raisins.

Make a syrup by mixing together the vinegar, sugar, salt and mixed spices that have been tied up in cheesecloth. Peel and core the apples. Remove seeds from green peppers. Peel onions; chop celery to make one cup; wash raisins. Put all through the food chopper using the coarse knife. Remove spice bag and cook for about one hour, stirring to prevent scorching. The relish should be quite thick, so cook longer if necessary. Pack in small jars and seal while hot.

Apple Salads

Many attractive salads are made with apple for the foundation. The famous Waldorf salad is a combination of apple, celery and English walnuts. Apples and chopped peanuts is another good combination. Peanut butter mixed with cooked salad dressing while it is hot and combined with apple cubes, makes a delicious salad.

A pretty salad cup is made by scooping the apple and filling it with a salad mixture. In case it is necessary to prepare the apple some time before using, lemon juice should be sprinkled over it to keep it from turning dark.

a. Chevy Chase Apple Salad

Three-ounce package cream cheese
Four tablespoonfuls cream
One-fourth teaspoonful salt
Three apples
Two tablespoonfuls orange juice
One tablespoonful grated orange rind.

Mash cream cheese thoroughly and blend with cream, orange juice, grated orange rind and salt; beat until smooth. Pare, core and cut into eighths, then slice the apples. Pour the dressing over the apples. Mix lightly, place in lettuce cups and garnish with finely sliced kumquats, allowing one kumquat for each serving. Serves six.

b. Apple Carrot Salad

One cup diced carrots
One cup diced celery
One cup diced apples
One-half cup chopped nuts
One package lemon Jell-O
One tablespoonful vinegar or lemon juice.

Dissolve Jell-O in one pint boiling water; add vinegar. Pour thin layer in mold. Chill until firm. Combine apples, nuts, celery and carrots and place in mold. Add remaining Jell-O to mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Garnish with mayonnaise.

EXTENSION OF RATES SOUGHT

Farm Bureau Moves For Longer Drouth Help

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Directors of the American farm bureau federation today adopted a resolution looking to extension of the voluntarily reduced rail rates in drouth affected areas.

The resolution which followed a report from O. W. Sandberg, director of transportation for the federation, asked that the federal drouth relief committee appeal to executives of the carriers in the affected territories.

The railroads agreed in August to reduce their rates until October 31, but the directors of the federation point out that the most urgent need for reduced rates, especially as to the rates on feed, occurs after snow is on the ground.

Western railroads are carrying feed to the drouth areas and livestock from them at two-thirds of the normal rate. Eastern and Southern railroads reduced the rates to one-half of the normal. The farm bureau directors would have the reduced rates extended to such time as full relief has been accorded to the drouth stricken farmers.

Rights of Women
McNeish, Unsung Hero
AE and Prohibition
The "100 Best Books"

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Those who believe in the rights of women will welcome Col. Theodore Roosevelt's suggestion that no woman should lose her nationality automatically through marriage, as the law now rules.

Marriage, in fact, should deprive neither party of any of the rights and privileges each enjoyed previous to the union, whether the advantages be political, economic, intellectual, social, or moral.

Many married women today retain their maiden names. Many hold on to their pre-nuptial jobs, pay rent, and sleep in their own beds. Not a few entertain privately in their own homes, just as they did when they were single.

True, it's a far cry from the days of "Pride and Prejudice," but it might as well be a good rousing emancipatory shout also. The progress of man is coincident with the emancipation of woman.

Harry McNeish, who explored the Antartic with Scott and Shackleton, dies penniless in Wellington, N. Z. He was one of the five volunteers who accompanied Shackleton from Elephant Island to South Georgia as a rescue crew to 22 members left there after the vessel had been crushed in the ice. The trip is considered one of the most daring in all South Polar exploration.

Heroism that is not exploited dies unsung and unrequited. The same holds true, unfortunately, in all things. The artist who refuses to turn his talent into money or lend himself to the exactions of publicity, eats humble bread in obscurity. The same with the poet and philospher. The world pays eagerly and handsomely those who serve its immediate needs. But those who dare to ignore the world know only too well the tooth and nail of its cruelty.

"In this country," says AE, visiting Irish poet, "they tried to make people good by forbidding them by law to drink whisky. In Ireland they tried to improve them by forbidding them to read bad books. As a result, in this country you have bootleggers, and in Ireland we have bookleggers."

Forbid anything, anywhere, and there will immediately arise a group who will provide the prohibited commodity—at an exaggerated price. Censorship, in a word, puts a premium on its interdictions, making them more desired (if not actually more desirable) and always more costly. Nothing ever divised has so well defeated its own ends. A bad book, a bad play, a bad cocktail, have naturally a short life—unless they are turned into forbidden fruit.

Professor William Lyon Phelps of Yale, who has been guilty of previous compilations, now comes out with a new one. This time it's the "world's 100 best books." Dickens is placed at the top of the list, with five books. Seventeen American novels are represented, several of them the work of living authors.

The omission of D. H. Lawerence, Aldous Huxley, Alexander Kuprin, Jacob Wassermann, Theophile Gautier, Marcel Proust, Alphonse Daudet, all of whom wrote indisputable world masterpieces will cause consternation, among those who take the professor seriously, especially as they are displaced by such dubious first magnitude stars as Lewis, Wilder, Barrie, and Blackmore.

As for ranking Dickens first, there are at least a dozen authors who will dispute this primacy. Hugo, Thackeray, Tolstoi, Turgeney, Balzac, were far greater. The one volume of "Anna Karenina" is worth all of Dickens.

Exports of merchandise from Alabama during 1929 were valued at $59,236,706, an increase of $13,343,199 over 1928.

Abe Martin

(Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

So many folks seem to be gittin' so much out o' ther unemployment that I expect they'll be sorry when times pick up. Women are about the only simpler things o' life that still attract us.

Ordinarily, folks would turn up their noses at such a gathering, but in France, we read, the annual Garlic fair this year was more widely attended than ever.

If the bicycle vogue comes back with the bang as some predict, expect our national cry to be "Let tandemonium reign."

A Hoofer on the Air

PRACTICALLY anybody can tell you that this is an age of miracles.

Unfortunately, however, the miracles sometimes seem to get a little bit perverted.

The other evening, for example, a radio chain threw a program through the air to cities all over the country. Eager listeners tuned in, becoming participants in this most amazing of modern miracles—and were rewarded by hearing some quite invisible hoofer perform a tap-dance, far off in the confines of a New York studio.

Now tap-dancing, of course, is very fine in its way; but there is something rather incongruous about the thought of thousands of radio listeners, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, sitting in their arm chairs, drawing upon one of the greatest inventions of the age, and listening to the meaningless click-clack of a pair of shoes rapping on a wooden floor.

It suggests, in fact, that our marvelous inventions are doing us no good for the simple reason that we don't know how to use them.

To have the faith that could move mountains would be magnificent; but it would be something less than magnificent if the possessor used this great force, let us say, merely to raise bunkers for a miniature golf course.

In the same way, the invention of the radio hardly seems worth while if its net result is to enable the frantic thumpings of a tap-dancer to go on the air from coast to coast.

Very likely this is worrying too much about nothing. Yet the whole business is a symptom, and symptoms are often important.

With the discoveries and inventions of science during the last few decades, mankind could almost completely remake the world, reform human society and eliminate a tremendous proportion of the misery and discomfort that has been humanity's lot since time began.

Instead of making the most of these things, however, we are complacently perverting them to uses that are either dangerous or downright silly.

The lore of the chemist is turned into an instrument by which we are very apt to exterminate ourselves in the next big war that comes along.

The conquest of the air is diverted into the same channel, and given a sideline of useless "stunts" to keep us amused between times.

The printing press reaches its apotheosis in tabloid newspapers, cheap magazines and idiotic best-seller fiction.

The moving picture camera permits us to watch overpaid actresses in vapid stories suited to the minds of 12-year-olds.

And so it goes. Our inventions have left us too far behind.

Signs of the Times

WHILE business men of Ohio and Indiana avenues are not moved entirely by patriotic motives in banding together for the civic and industrial improvement of the area from Sixth street north, their program will react to the benefit of all of Wichita Falls. These gentlemen have no plans of taking something away from any other part of the city, but hope to improve what they have and to add to it as time goes on.

The Record News thinks it is quite a commendable piece of work, and an example that might well be followed by other sections of the town. We never have heard of an industrial or business section being harmed by being attractive, clean, efficient and orderly. We have seen quite a few sections and towns gradually attract other businesses to their areas by the very fact that the original developers of the space had been efficient and business-like in their work.

It's a good sign when a group of Wichita Falls business men get together to undertake to build up their section and their business. Progress and prosperity usually reward such areas or communities, and seldom does Lady Luck present a "natural" to those who sit back and wait for an industrial or civic miracle to transform their property.

$500,000,000 for Travel

THE close of the tourist season brings the estimate that American travelers this summer spent no less than $500,000,000 to visit Europe. That is a rather big piece of change; one wonders just what the American tourist got for his money.

In some cases, probably, he got nothing at all. The man who goes to Paris only to infest the American bar and exchange home-town reminiscences with some other compatriot might just as well be staying at home. But for the most part, very likely, the tourists got their money's worth. In crossing the ocean they got a glimpse of a civilization that is quite unlike their own.

Even granting the contention that many tourists remain quite impervious to the effects of this exposure of old-world culture, it is obvious that the effect on America as a whole must be considerable. Provincialism cannot live when people go traveling on such a scale.

A Move Against Stunting

FIFTY of the nation's leading airplane makers, convening at Washington, have passed a resolution aiming to outlaw the stunting of airplanes except for necessary test work. The movement is a step in the right direction.

In routine army and navy work stunting is essential. It is also essential, as the airplane manufacturers point out, in certain test flights. It is entirely out of place, however, at public exhibitions. Lives of innocent bystanders can too easily be endangered.

Furthermore, it is bad business—which, probably, is what hit the makers of airplanes. It does little good to tell the public that flying is safe when a quadron of stunters can go out and, by doing a dizzy series of flip-flops, persuade the average man that aviation is after all a game for daredevils.

Ben Bernie, now a Hollywoodenhead, wires me that since the influx of so many Broadway stage notables, most of the pre-talkie Hooeywoodmen have elevated their eyebrows to an acute angle of 45 degrees . . . The J. Livingstons are anticipating a blessed eventually . . . The Dudley Wards, she was Frieda Birkin, are telling it to a London judge, which reminds me that the Prince of Wales, who is admired much by many ladies, does not care about any of them so much as he does about a certain lady who will be unattached soon, but who has been indifferent to him . . . That is why you see him looking so glum in so many of his photos.

Add Sense of Humors

Warden Lawes of Sing Sing recently told how some condemned men still laugh on their way to the chair. And there was a fellow, said Lawes, who was gassed to death in Nevada whose last request was for a gas mask. Lawes' best, however, was about the convict at Ossining who was being strapped in the frying pan. He turned and said: "This world is a big joke. Nobody comes out of it alive!"

Youthful Impatience

Donna's dress was more than a dinner frock, really. It was also of taffeta, black and white, a robe de style, and she had never worn it before. And if Frank Gardner's head had cooled a trifle in the half hour that he took to go home, change, and return, its temperature rose instantly at sight of her again.

"You mustn't ruin my lips," she told him.

"Ruined lips are de rigueur when a girl's engaged," he reminded her.

But she became earnest. And that possessiveness which had instantly come to him, had not endured long enough for him to feel able to oppose her now. He contented himself with kissing her gently upon the forehead, though she was fully awsre that it was only by the exercise of great restraint that he took so little.

"You aren't going to turn out to be one of those long-engagement girls, are you?" he demanded.

They were in his car now, headed for the Curlews.

"Don't you think that would be wiser?" she asked.

"Wiser? What's wiser about a long engagement?"

"You don't know anything about me," she reminded him.

"What's there to know?" he demanded.

She pretended to pout.

"Oh, really, you feel that way about me? Meet me three times and know all there is to know?"

"Donna! You know I didn't mean that. What I mean is—you're so darned lovely that a man could only find out that there was more loveliness than he'd dreamed of."

"I'm frightfully bad-tempered," she said.

"I don't believe," he told her.

"And sulky and sullen and surly—"

"Don't those things all mean about the same?" he inquired. "And you aren't any of them. You're—I can't find the word to describe you. I expect to be at a loss for adjectives 20 years from now."

"By that time you'll want words that are exactly opposite to what you want now," she laughed.

"Don't believe it, don't even think it," he said. "Donna, I tell you—but I can't. Abusing yourself, calling yourself names—I don't know you, you say. But what about yourself? You don't know me."

"So you're arguing for a long engagement in order that I may find out about you?" she laughed.

"I should say not. You know," and his voice became ashamed, "how vicious I am. But you've forgiven that. I want you to marry me before you discover more of my faults. Donna, why need we wait?"

"What do you mean by 'wait'?" she evaded.

"I mean—the usual round of things. Donna, you won't want a big wedding; all that tiresome sort of thing?"

She shook her head.

"Why can't we—just we two—oh, your mother if you want—"

"My mother's dead," she told him.

"Well, an aunt—any one you like to make it—well, not look like an elopement—"

"I have no relatives at all," she said.

His expression was blank.

"No relatives? You mean to say that—that you're all alone in the world?"

"That's what I mean," she said.

He chuckled.

"Gosh, I'd like to give you 15 or 20 aunts and uncles and cousins of mine. Well, get some friend then—let's—let's just be married. Right away."

"Right away?"

"Why not? If you haven't any family to consult—"

"Are you sure you want to marry a girl who—has nobody?"—

"Why, what's that to do with it? After all, a man marries a girl don't he? He doesn't wed the whole darned family. What on earth are you trying to do?"

"I think," she answered, "that I'm trying to let you know that—you're engaged to—well, to a nobody."

"Now, you're talking like a darned snob," he cried. "If you're a nobody, what on earth am I? What's anyone in this country? Somebodies, perhaps, because they have money. But that's all. You're the girl I want, the girl I've got—and that's that. And I want to be married right away."

"Well see," was her answer as the car stopped before the Curlew home. And, the elevator containing other passengers, he could not press the matter now.

The Fairleighs were there when they arrived. Also the Cameron Colts, and Mrs. Curlew had not been able to contain the secret even until Donna and Frank arrived. Mrs. Freddie Fairleigh was more than cordial and Fairleigh voiced a passionate regret that his years, his marriage, and the precious bestowal of his affections elsewhere, combined to prevent him from endeavoring to cut Gardner out.

The Colts were people whom Donna remembered having barely met, but that was all. But they, too, were obviously old friends of Gardner, and they rose happily to the occasion.

Dinner was a blur. Kindly old Jacob Curlew proposed numberless toasts, and despite the evident anxiety of his wife, drank every one of them. Bridge was also blur. Donna and Frank bid recklessly, played stupidity . . . But the evening, for all save Donna, was a great success. Mrs. Curlew got her alone for a moment, when they both cut out at the same time.

"My child," she said, "how could you deceive me so? All the time knowing that Frank was mad about you—I mean, of course, that was obvious. But pretending to me that you didn't love him. Ah, my eyes are shrewd, aren't they? I knew, even though you denied it—Donna—I'm going always to call you Donna now—you can make or mar him. He's been spoiled, but not too badly.

"My husband thinks he has a brain. And he's lovable, generous—Donna, he's hot-headed, impetuous, rash. You—you'll have to be the one to curb him, to make him become the great man he ought to be. Don't let him be just a millionaire. Make him—do something. When are you going to announce it?"

"Why—why—I hadn't thought about that. I—I ought to have some one—he just wants to get married."

"And there are worse ideas than that," smiled Mrs. Curlew. "And to think that we were worried today—Donna, does Ran Granby know?"

Donna shook her head.

"Donna, he—he wouldn't tell Frank, would he? I mean about—what he did for you?" Donna whitened. So sure had she been of Granby's innate decency that such a thought had never occurred to her.

"My dear, he must be told. He—Donna, this will hurt him."

Donna wondered if it really would hurt her benefactor, but did not wonder aloud.

"Why, he doesn't care—"

"No man gives a girl what he gave you—without asking anything, unless he cares. Donna, he—he wouldn't tell Frank, would he? I mean about—what he did for you?"

Donna whitened. So sure had she been of Granby's innate decency that such a thought had never occurred to her. But men were strange. Who, looking at the boy, would have thought that Frank Gardner would have gratuitously insulted a girl who had not harmed him? Last night Granby had wanted to marry her. She had impulsively kissed him. Then, in a defense of himself that he might justifiably also consider a defense of her, he had been almost killed.

Why shouldn't Granby feel proprietorship toward her? He was a gentleman. If she fell in love with another man, he would hide his feelings, whatever they might be. Gardner professed to believe that Granby bore no malice for last night's occurrences. But if Gardner's engagement to the girl whom Granby had befriended, fought for, were announced . . . Of course, she could tell Granby what she intended doing to Gardner. . . . There was a queer tightening about her heart.

Would she do to Gardner what she had planned to do? Would she be able to do it? Would she want to do it? To be his wife, mistress of his fortune—that was temptation. But the boy himself, hot-headed, even vicious—was he more attractive than she had thought? Hate so readily turns to love. Would it do so in her case?

"Of course, Mr. Granby wouldn't do that," she said. But she said it without conviction.

Gardner had done an incredible thing last night, hadn't he? She was planning an incredible thing. Why couldn't Ran Granby exercise his right to do the incredible also?

And if he did—if he told Frank Gardner that he had financed Donna? What then?

Write your question clearly and briefly, enclose two-cent stamp for return postage and address the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Why was the large tract of land in America given to William Penn?—J. C.

A.—The father of William Penn had loaned large sums of money to the British crown, part of which was paid by the granting of large proprietary interests in the state of New Jersey. As a further liquidation of the debt by a council of June 24, 1680, there was granted to William Penn a tract of land in America north of Maryland bounded on the east by the Delaware, on the west limited as was Maryland by New Jersey, northward as far as plantable (this Penn claimed to be three degrees northward). The tract comprised 300 miles by 150. There was some dispute over the matter but royal signature was obtained March 14, 1681.

Q.—How many Salvation Army children's homes are there?—M. B. T.

A.—There are 100 such homes, accommodating 5,080 children.

Q.—How is the name of the town Strathaven in Scotland pronounced?—M. R.

A.—Locally it is pronounced Strevn, short e.

Q.—Please give me some recent statistics on the Panama canal.—G. M. H.

A.—The number of transits of commercial vessels during 1929 totaled 6,430—exceeding by 106 the record figure of 1928, and raising the daily average to 17.62 transits. The amount of tolls collected during 1929 was $27,592,150, or $1,280,000 more than the record figure of 1928. The daily average was thus raised to $75,596.

Q.—What is our unpaid indebtedness for the Spanish-American war?—A. B. McI.

A.—During the Spanish-American war, a loan was authorized for $400,000,000, but only $198,000,000 was borrowed. Of this amount $64,000,000 has been paid off. The remaining sum has been refunded into 2 per cent consols of 1930. This is not considered a war debt, but rather a currency debt.

Q.—Who discovered the process of making Sheffield plate?—B. L.

A.—Such articles are made of copper and coated with silver by a process of fusion. About 1762 Thomas Boulsover discovered accidentally that an application of heat would fuse the two materials so that they could be worked as one. Joseph Hancock, a relative of the inventor, soon applied it to the making of candlesticks and other articles for domestic use. The first factory for production on an extensive scale was founded in 1760 by Tudor and Leader.

Q.—How many farmers hatch their chickens with incubators?—R. J. S.

A.—There are about 6,000 commercial hatcheries throughout the country where custom hatching is done for farmers. However, the bureau of animal industry has no figures on the number of individual farmers who use incubators in hatching chicks. The number of farmers who still use their hens for hatching is probably not very great, since this method takes longer and is more expensive when there are any number of eggs to be hatched.

Q.—Who first had the idea of colors graduated on a music scale?—S. E. B.

A.—The bureau of standards says that graduation of colors on a musical scale was first suggested by Sir Isaac Newton and has been followed by a multitude of others. . .

Q.—Was Longfellow's Hiawatha written for any particular purpose?—B. G.

A.—Under date of June 22, 1854, the poet wrote in his diary: "I have at length hit upon a plan for a poem on the American Indian which seems to me to be the right one and the only. It is to weave together their beautiful traditions into a whole."

Q.—Please give directions for making a simple Aeolian harp for a window.—M. E. H.

A.—There are various methods of preparing an Aeolian harp, one of the simplest of which is as follows: A thread is held taut above the opening at the middle of a window by two wedges pressed down firmly between the upper and lower sashes. The thread should be from 18 to 30 inches in length and fastened by means of a knot in each end. Enough air will come through an opening 1-16 of an inch wide to operate the harp. Any thread may be used or for a louder tone fine wire may be substituted. There is no need to use any particular kind of wood.

Q.—How many stars and stripes are there in the flag about which the Star Spangled Banner was written?—I. M. A.

A.—The flag was the garrison flag of Fort McHenry at Baltimore, and in accordance with the time, had 15 stars and 15 stripes.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Daily Menus

(Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Oct. 5.)

Sunday

Breakfast—Grapefruit upon arising, coddled eggs, Melba toast, stewed raisins.

Lunch—Fresh fruit, all desired of one kind.

Dinner—Roast pork, baked stuffed tomatoes, salad of cold cooked asparagus on lettuce, applesauce.

Monday

Breakfast—Cottage cheese, sliced pineapple, fresh or canned.

Lunch—Baked potatoes, cooked greens, salad of chopped raw cabbage and cress.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, baked ground carrots and beets, salad of stuffed celery, ice cream, small portions.

Tuesday

Breakfast—Glass of orange juice upon arising, stewed apricots, well-browned waffle, crisp bacon.

Lunch—Large glass of tomato juice.

Dinner—Roast mutton, spinach, squash, salad of head lettuce, Jell-O or Jell-well.

Wednesday

Breakfast—Melon, eggs poached in milk, toasted Shredded Wheat biscuit.

Lunch—Corn, string beans, raw celery.

Dinner—Cream of tomato soup, broiled chicken, eggplant, buttered beets, salad of shredded spinach leaves, apricot whip.

Thursday

Breakfast — Wholewheat mush with cream, stewed prunes.

Lunch—Melon a la mode.

Dinner—Roast beef, okra, small green peas, salad of sliced cucumbers, pear sauce.

Friday

Breakfast—French omelet, Melba toast, stewed figs.

Lunch—Fresh fruit, one kind, such as grapes, apples or peaches.

Dinner—Celery soup, baked white fish, spinach, buttered turnips, salad of sliced tomatoes, no dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast—Baked stuffed apple with cream.

Lunch — Cornmeal muffins, squash, avocado salad.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, sliced yellow cheese, one-fourth pound portions, steamed carrots, escalloped celery, McCoy salad, lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers, melon.

Applesauce should be prepared without the addition of sugar. It is quite sweet if cooked without water in a thick aluminum pan. The apples should be thinly sliced, and the pan should have a close-fitting lid and be placed over a slow fire. This makes an excellent dessert to be used either with a protein meal or with breakfast. Baked apples should be likewise cooked in an aluminum pan and no sugar or water added.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Hair Dyes

Question: N. D. asks—"Will hair dye injure the eyelashes and brows and is it permanent when once applied.

Answer—The hair of the eyelashes and brows is constantly growing and, therefore, no dye will permanently cover the hair completely. Most of the hair dyes are harmless insofar as your general health is concerned, but usually injure the hair follicles after being used for some time.

Acid and Alkaline-Forming Foods

Question: Mrs. W. writes—"Please print a list of both acid and alkaline-forming foods."

Answer—Such lists are too long to be printed in this column, but I will be glad to send you some articles giving you this information if you will forward a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Reducing Bust

Question: Mrs. G. writes—"I am taking the orange juice fast, and wish especially to reduce the bust. Are there certain exercises I could take? Also, please tell me why one should not take a tub bath during the orange fast?"

Answer—After the orange fast use a non-starchy diet and proper physical culture exercises to reduce the bust. Here is an especially good exercise: Try lifting with stress, imaginary objects from the floor; also try to pull down the ceiling, as it were, keeping the muscles rigid. Tub baths are too enervating during a fast, and better results are obtained from shower or sponge baths.

RETURN OF WILSON RENEWS CARDS' DETERMINATION TO STOP A'S

MITTMAN TO PLAY TODAY

Mack's Crew Arrives For Third Clash

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Just when the clouds looked the darkest over the Cardinal world series horizon today, a rainbow burst through that sent Redbird chins up and fired players and fans alike with renewed determination to halt the march of Connie Mack's Athletics.

The rainbow was the announcement by Manager Gabby Street that Jimmy Wilson, first string Cardinal catcher, would be back on the firing line tomorrow when the third game of the fight for the baseball championship of the world opens at Sportsman's park.

Wilson, considered one of the best handlers of pitchers and batters in the National league, has been out of the game several weeks and his absence has been mentioned as one of the big reasons for the poor showing of the Cards in the series so far. His return, even the dejected Cardinal fans insisted, promised a return of the fighting Cardinal spirit that enabled them to come from far behind in the National league race to victory. In addition to a smart catcher, Wilson owned a reputation for hitting in the pinches, one of the outstanding shortcomings of the Redbirds so far. His average stood at .320 this season, until he was incapacitated by an injured leg in the final series with the New York Giants.

ATHLETICS REACH CARDS' STRONGHOLD

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3. —The rampant herd of white elephants, under the command of Connie Mack, rumbled truculently into the enemy's stronghold late today, confident they will continue their wild charge toward another baesball championship in the third game of the world series tomorrow at Sportsman's park.

The Pennsylvania special bearing the Athletics rolled into St. Louis after a 21-hour trip from Philadelphia. With two straight victories packed away, half the number needed to clinch the winner's money for the second successive year, the Athletics feel certain they will end the battle in St. Louis, despite efforts of their veteran leader to discourage any spirit of over confidence.

To Try for Record

The A's would like to make it four straight to celebrate the third clean sweep of National league forces in a four-year span and at the same time square accounts for the trouncing the old white elephants absorbed at the hands of the Boston Braves in 1914. They will be satisfied, however, if they manage to take two out of three contests scheduled here.

Mack has decided definitely not to attempt to win the series by relying solely on the two pitching aces who have beaten the Cardinals so far—Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw.

There was much speculation on the train today as to Mack coming back with Grove for the third game and Earnshaw in the fourth but those closest in the veteran's counsel understood he had decided not to run the risk of sending Grove back to the mound after only two days of rest.

Shores May Pitch

As a result the A's will gamble on taking their third straight game tomorrow behind one of the lesser lights of their twirling staff, probably Bill Shores, a strong young right-hander; possibly George (Swede) Walberg, a fast left-hander, Eddie Rommel, Leroy Mahaffey and even old Jack Quinn are possibilities, if Mack starts casting about on the day of battle for a surprise choice, but the odds are strongly in favor of Shores or Walberg. Depending on how the game goes, both may get into action.

The A's expect to face Wild Bill Hallahan in the third game. Hallahan has been Manager Gabby Street's selection right along and it is altogether possible that the speedball left-hander may be the man to turn the tide of Cardinal fortunes, at low ebb as they went away from Philadelphia last night. He has a world of fast stuff.

FANS EAGER TO BUY SERIES TICKETS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3. (AP)—The waiting line of baseball fans eager to see a world's series game began to form this morning when L. C. Bradley, 28-year-old electrical worker, was joined by four others outside the pavilion box office at Sportsman's park.

Equipped with a tarpaulin, a grocery goods box and an extra flannel shirt, Bradley arrived at 8:30 o'clock last night, determined to be No. 1 in line. At 11 a. m. he was joined by Leonard Roberts of Dearborn, Mich., Frank Lock, Springfield, Ill., and Ed Johnson, Houston, Texas, and V. D. Edwards, Denver, Colo.

Tipton Tigers Trounce Olustee Eagles, 13 to 0

Special to The Record News.

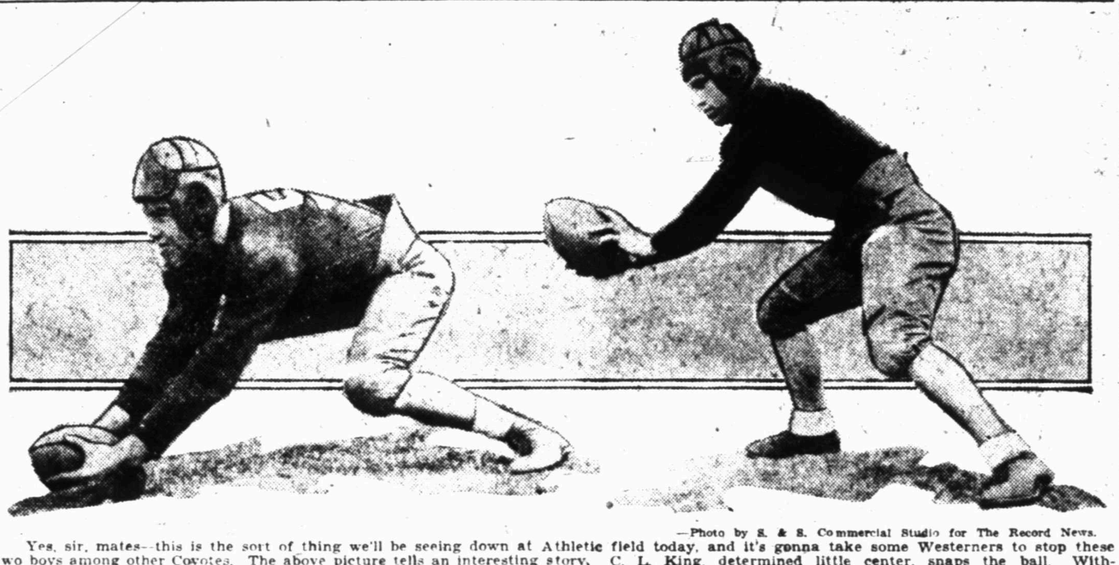

TIPTON, Okla., Oct. 3.—In the first conference game of the season, the Tipton Tigers defeated the Olustee Eagles here today, 13-0.

Tipton's first touchdown came in the first three minutes of play after a consistent drive down the field after Olustee fumbled the first play of the game. Newson took the ball across for the count.

In the second quarter Olustee opened up a fast passing attack and threatened to score, but the Tipton defense tightened and held the visitors, and later opened a attack of their own to net another touchdown when Southall carried the ball over after a 25-yard run.

Lubbock Stars May Not Play; Starting Coyote Lineup Uncertain

And Here's Two More, Among Others, Who Will Be Hard to Stop!

Yes, sir, mates—this is the sort of thing we'll be seeing down at Athletic field today, and it's gonna take some Westerners to stop these two boys among other Coyotes. The above picture tells an interesting story. C. L. King, determined little center, snaps the ball. Withrow, Cox, Holton, Ray or White, might receive it, but in our picture above it's Bennett Withrow, flashy halfback, who gets it—and watch him go!

BALL LUGGERS ARE INJURED

Starters in Line Positions Worry Pack Mentor

left our boys bogged up with injuries. Nevertheless, we are going to give those Coyotes all we have."

If he sticks to his story about Watkins and Smith, the Lubbock's lineup at the start today will look something like this:

Watson at left end, McCasland at left tackle, Grigg at left guard, Crawford at center, McGehee at right guard, Browley at right tackle, Martin at right end, Lawson at quarterback, Scoggins at left half, Corruth at right half and Teal at fullback.

Grigg, left guard, would do the punting in case Watkins does not play, Coach Frnka said.

After naming his warriors, Coach Holton, like Frnka, was loath to make any kind of statement regarding the probable outcome of the fray. "It is our first big game of the year," said Holton, "and probably will be our greatest. You can count on the Coyotes fighting. If they lose fighting hard I'll be satisfied."

Both teams went through a final drill on Athletic park's gridiron Friday afternoon, the practice consisting mainly of a final rehearsal of signals. Both stayed at it about an hour.

The gates will open at the park at 1:30 o'clock, it was announced.

A Lubbock delegation of some 300 students and fans is due here shortly after noon today, it was announced, with a band probably accompanying the group.

Students of the Wichita Falls High school, head and heart behind the team, rollicked through the final pep rally Friday night at the high school auditorium.

HIGH SCHOOL SQUADS SHOUT DEFIANCE

Coyote supporters yelped defiance at Lubbock's powerful Westerners Friday night in the final pep rally before the all-important game Saturday, and heard assurances from civic leaders of the city that the town is behind the Coyote team win, lose or draw.

P. B. Cox, local attorney and John Boswell, manager of the chamber of commerce, were the principal speakers, and promised 100 per cent support of the Coyotes from the Wichita Falls business men.

Jerre Elliott and Thomas Beaty, ex-students of the high school and former stars for the Coyotes, gave inspiring pep talks, urging Coyote fans to support the team.

Betty Jane Schmann, Dorothy Hartmann, Barney Ashton and Bill Loevy, newly-elected yell leaders, led the yells; and music was furnished by the high school boys' band, under the direction of Leo M. Underwood.

LUBBOCK FANS TO ARRIVE HERE AT NOON

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 3.—Three hundred Lubbock High school students and faculty members and other Westerner fans will board a special train early Saturday for Wichita Falls, arriving there on the Fort Worth and Denver special at 12:30 p. m. Word from the "faith" city indicates that the Coyote fans are anxious to extend every possible courtesy. Dope on the game here gives the Westerners a little edge which everyone recognizes as of practically no value in view of the defeat the Coyotes suffered in Lubbock last year.

Coach Henry E. Frnka and Coach Billy Keeling took 26 men to Wichita Falls. The Westerners left Lubbock with more of a determined rather than an optimistic attitude. The eleven is still thinking of their defeat at the hands of the Pampa eleven. They will go into the game at Wichita Falls with a grim determination to keep their slate clean the remainder of the season, realizing that another defeat would absolutely wipe out championship hopes.

Electra Tigers Vindicate Olney Defeat by Trouncing Grandfield

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 3.—Behind the brilliant broken field running of Captain Aubrey Smith, the Electra High school Tigers today completely overshadowed their loss to Olney last week by defeating the Grandfield, Okla., gridsters by the score of 19-0. The ball-carrying combination of A. Smith, C. Smith and C. Sandefer rpoved too much of a burden for the Sooner squad.

Numerous substitutions throughout the game slowed the play and prevented the Tigers from piling up a much heavier score. At several intervals of the game, the locals carried the ball within scoring distance only to be halted in their drive by a substitution. At the end of the first period the Tigers landed the pigskin on the seven-yard line but the substitution of the second string halfback and almost an entirely new line slowed the play and they were held for downs.

Curfman Leads Attack

Leonard Curfman led the attack in the Tiger forward wall smashing up plays; also having a great day in punting the ball, averaging approximately 40 yards. Monty McDannald again turned in a good game at center, but was hard pressed to beat Adams, Roy Curman and Joe Smith to the tackles.

Creighton was the only member of the Grandfield team that could pierce the Tiger line to any extent but never netted over a five-yard gain. Beavers and Captain Pierce showed up well in the line.

The Grandfield team only pierced the Tigers' 40-yard line twice during the entire game, both being made on fumbles. They fell five yards short of a touchdown when Smith fumbled on the Tigers' 20-yard line and was recovered by Grandfield and after a few short gains by Creighton and Jones which accounted for their only first down of the game, the Tiger defense bolted and held them for downs. Electra made 17 first downs.

Electra Scores Early

Electra netted their first counter in the first few minutes of play after Grandfield kicked off and Cloyd Smith returned the ball 20 yards to the 40-yard line. Spectacular runs by C. Sandefer and A. Smith, the former netting a 22-yard run and Captain Smith broke loose on an end play and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. Roy Curfman kicked the goal for the extra point. Captain Smith accounted for the second counter in the third quarter after a series of first downs from the 50-yard line. Curfman failed to kick goal. The final score was made in the third quarter with only one member of the first string backfield, Cloyd Smith, on the field, who carried the bulk of the attack through the Grandfield line. Curfman again failed to kick goal for extra point.

Following is the starting lineups

ELECTRA (19)	Pos.	GRANDFIELD (0)
C. Smith	F. B.	Spradling

Graham Piles Up Its Biggest Score In Bellevue Game

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 3.—Coach Rhone's Graham high Steers smothered the Bellevue high team to the tune of 150 to 0. That's the biggest score Graham ever made. The Steers only used for simple plays but scored at will. The features of the game were long runs by Jack Wheeler, Parsley, Turner and Wignall. The first quarter ended with the score 46 to 0 and the first half ended with score 94 to 0. Coach Rhone played his third and fourth stringers in the last half but still the score piled up. It would be hard to pick the stars on the Graham team but they all looked great.

The Steers scoring touchdowns were Jack Wheeler, six; Wignall, five; Parsley, four; Harley, two; Nichols, Shafer, one; Johnnie Wheeler and Starbuck, one. Graham scored a total of 21 touchdowns.

OLNEY MAULS THRIFT, 65 TO 0

Powerful Home Team Too Much for Visitors

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 3.—Olney high school's well-oiled and powerful aggregation of football specialists put on an impressive demonstration of steam-rolling this afternoon, flattening out the Thrift high school eleven under a 65-0 score.

Opening the game with second-stringers comprising the lineup, Olney removed all doubt as to the ultimate outcome by rushing over two touchdowns in the first half. With the regulars taking up the assault in the second half, the Thrift goal line was crossed repeatedly with Duckworth and W. Gilmore contributing sensational long runs. While the Tiger second team was on the field, Wright at end and Rue Goldsmith and Hamilton in the backfield were stellar performers. Bryarly, left tackle for Thrift, was the sole impediment to Olney's advance. He made most of his team's tackles and stopped every play directed at his post.

Olnye made a total of 27 first downs, their opponents scoring two.

The starting lineup:

OLNEY (65)	Pos.	THRIFT (0)
West	R. E.	Watson

WALTERS, Okla., Oct. 3.—The Walters Blue Devils defeated the Comanche Indians here today, 16-6, in the second south central conference game of the season.

Walters' first touchdown came in the first quarter when Musgrove from the 2-yard line pushed the ball across for the count. Walters again counted in the third quarter when Rutledge received a punt on his own 20 yard line and ran 80 yards through a broken field for a touchdown.

Comanche made its single score within three minutes of the end of the game, when a pass from the 10-yard line was completed.

Jacksboro Plays K. P.'s to 6-6 Tie

Special to The Record News.

JACKSBORO, Texas, Oct. 3.—Playing almost the entire game in the center of the field, the Jacksboro High school here today played the Knights of Pythias of Weatherford to a tie, 6-6.

Jacksboro came through with the first touchdown of the game in the first quarter when Turner took the ball around the end for 10 yards.

In the third quarter, the K-P team tied the game by scoring when a 15-yard pass, Letts to Waldrop was completed. Attempts of both sides to kick goal failed.

Both teams were evenly matched, making about the same number of first down and yardage.

SEYMOUR LOSES TO STAMFORD

Visitors Score on Fumble To Win, 6-0

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Oct. 3.—Stamford high school eked out a narrow 6-0 victory over Seymour high here this afternoon in the most evenly contested football game ever played on the local gridiron.

With less than two minutes remaining to play, Seymour fumbled in the shadow of her own goal, the ball rolled across the line, and was covered by a Stamford player for the only score of the game.

Seymour twice penetrated Stamford territory to within the 20-yard line, but lacked the punch to reach the goal. Each team scored six first downs during the struggle. Hooser, star backfield performer for Seymour, played brilliantly for the local squad. Seymour's best advances were accomplished by means of forward passes, while Stamford specialized in the use of the lateral pass. A huge crowd witnessed the contest.

Buckaroos Defeat Mineral Wells

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 3.—The Breckenridge Buckaroos, 1929 co-champions, were forced to play heads up football all afternoon here today to defeat the stubborn and battling crew of Mineral Wells Mountaineers, 26 to 0. The game counted as a district contest. Boyce Magness, Buckaroo quarterback, made one touchdown in each of the first three periods. Adams made the fourth in the final period after a blocked punt had been recovered on the Mineral Wells one-yard line. The Mountaineers started a dangerous passing attack in the final period but lacked scoring punch, and put up a stubborn defense throughout the entire game.

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Oct. 3.—Archer City High school football warriors completed their practice season this afternoon with a 25-13 victory over Alvord High school in a loosely played game before a small crowd.

Both teams relied chiefly upon straight football, and were fairly matched in both weight and experience. Durrett of Alvord carried the brunt of the attack for the visitors, while there were no outstanding performers for Archer City.

The local team will open its conference season next Friday with Thrift. The team is in first class condition with the exception of Kinder, who is out with a bad ankle.

Crowell Sets Record for Big Scores, Mauling Throckmorton High, 82-0

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, Oct. 3.—Coach Grady Graves' Crowell High school Wildcats rolled the largest score ever recorded in the history of the school's athletics this afternoon when they smothered Throckmorton High school on a slippery field by a score of 82 to 0.

Completing their fourth 1930 game without being scored on, the Crowell eleven depended largely upon straight football to amass a total of 22 first downs. Such forward passes as were used, however, contributed heavily to their frequent advances on the Throckmorton goal.

Guy Todd, quarterback, was the most consistent ground gainer for the victors, and crossed the goal line three times during the melee. Lanier, halfback, and Cooper, fullback, chalked up four touchdowns each, while Mullins, halfback, scored once.

Throckmorton's two first downs were accomplished through the use of well-executed forward passes. Both teams were of about equal weight. The game was a non-conference affair.

Crowell will meet Munday next Friday, Oct. 10, and on the following Saturday will fill a return engagement with the Knox City high school team, which recently held the locals to a tie score.

CHILLICOTHE DOWNS BURK

Eagles Roll Up 53 to 0 Count

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, Oct. 3.—The Chillicothe Eagles shoved the Burkburnett Bulldogs from their seat among the leaders of class B, district No. 3 here today when they larruped the visitors, 53 to 0, in a one-sided affair.

Before today's joust Burkburnett ranked along with Seymour and Chillicothe as the only undefeated members of the class B district.

The Burk squad somehow could not get started, and before they could collect themselves the Eagles, led by W. E. Ramsay, fullback, and Julian Hughes, quarterback, had piled up an impressive score. Hughes starred as a ball carrier, while Ramsay specialized in trick plays and in passing.

Frederick Is Victor, 16 to 0

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 3.—The Frederick High school team defeated Altus, 16 to 0, here today in their first conference game of the season.

Neither side scored in the third quarter, but in the last period the Frederick team, led by Byrnes, flashy backfield star, scored two touchdowns. There were many substitutions toward the last of the game on both sides.

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Oct. 3.—Haskell High school remained in the running for class B championship honors in this district by squeezing out a 7-0 victory over Munday High school here this afternoon.

The lone touchdown of the game resulted from a long forward pass hurled by Kimbrough into the arms of Gilstrap, who eluded Munday's backs to continue across the line. Sherman and Kimbrough furnished the outstanding performances of the day for the winners, while Pruitt, shifty backfield star of Munday, thrilled the large crowd repeatedly with long runs in midfield.

Woolsey of Waurika blocked a Dundee punt near the opponents' goal line, paving the way for the safety which accounted for the only score of the game. Leo Pryor, brother of Coach Dick Pryor, was the outstanding performer for Waurika throughout the game.

A large crowd from Dundee, Coach Pryor's former home, accompanied the visiting team, and contributed a high degree of rivalry to the contest.

Waurika high school's second team won a 12 to 0 victory Thursday afternoon over the second team of Chickasha high school, Mitchell and Fincher crossing the line for touchdowns.

SOUTHWEST TEAMS IN NORTH TO FURNISH BIG THRILLS TODAY

ONLY 3 TEAMS PLAY AT 'HOME'

Pony-Notre Dame Battle Center of Interest

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 3.—Except for a fortunate few hundred who accompanied the forces North, Southwest conference grid fans will have to get most of their thrills for the current week by remote control.

With the Southern Methodist Mustangs playing Notre Dame at South Bend, Baylor tackling Purdue at Lafayette, and the Texas Aggies engaging the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Lincoln, only three members of the "Big Seven" remained behind to entertain the home folks.

Frogs Meet Simmons

The champion Texas Christian Horned Frogs were out at Breckenridge, a neutral field, for their annual bout with the Simmons university Cowboys of Abilene. The University of Texas Longhorns faced a fairly formidable foe in the Centenary college Gentlemen at Austin, and the Rice Institute Owls were to entertain the St. Edward's university eleven at Houston. Of the three tilts, that between the Longhorns and Gents promised the most fireworks.

University of Arkansas, the lone out-of-state entrant, was scheduled to face a reputedly powerful Tulsa university eleven, at Tulsa. The Razorbacks' success this week will be of import, as they are due to meet the Horned Frogs in the conference opener next Saturday at Fort Worth.

Ponies in Spotlight

While all three of tomorrow's "make or break" intersectional battles will be watched with intense interest by Southwest partisans, the conflict at South Bend will command the spotlight. It pits what many regard as this section's strongest team against the Ramblers, who, year in and year out, establish a claim to the national title. A play-by-play description of the tilt will be radioed by a Dallas station.

Reports sifting back from the Mustang entourage as it reached the battle site today indicated that Coach Ray Morrison and his men were not exactly bubbling over with confidence. The Methodist mentor feels his first team will prove a match for any combination Coach Knute Rockne, sends against it, but is fearful lest the horde of Notre Dame reserves wears his regulars down. To add to the gloomy aspect, it was announced that Bob Gilbert, Pony quarterback, had developed a sore shoulder and probably would not be able to start.

Aggies Confident

The Aggies, as they passed through here yesterday, were rather confident they would give the Nebraska eleven all the football it could handle. It is a well known fact that Coach Matty Bell would rather lick a team tutored by Dana X. Bible than any other, and he has imbued his squad with something of the same feeling. Incidentally Bible, while coaching the Texas Aggies, was able to gain only one decision over Texas Christian, coached by Bell, in five engagements.

As a result of its disappointing showing against the Denton Teachers last week, the veteran Baylor eleven was given only an outside chance against the Purdue Boilermakers, 1929 Big Ten champions. In defeating the Teachers, 33 to 0, the Bears displayed no offense calculated to worry Coach Kizer's huskies. They had to turn to the air to score on the Denton crew when their running attack was ineffective.

MANY BIG TEAMS ARE CARDED TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—Some of the biggest intersectional football games ever staged on an early October Saturday are on tap tomorrow as the big fellows of the gridiron lose no time tackling foes of their own size.

Knute Rockne's latest Notre Dame creation opens against the galloping Mustangs of Southern Methodist university at South Bend Ind., in a game that is sure to hold a major share of the spotlight.

Some idea as to how much of a chance Rockne's 1930 entry has to duplicate its unbeaten performance of 1929 will be gained from its showing against the formidable eleven from Dallas, a team, incidentally, which was barely nosed out for the championship of the Southwest conference last season.

Others Take Road

Several other strong teams from the Southern part of the country are sallying forth to seek their fortunes in intersectional combat.

Among them are Tulane, Southern conference champion last year, which tackles Northwestern at Evanston; Vanderbilt, opposing Minnesota at Minneapolis in another interesting test of Southern conference football against the Big Ten variety; Baylor, a powerful Southwest conference outfit which has high hopes of beating Purdue, the Big Ten titleholder, at Lafayette, Ind., and Maryland, one of the less highly rated members of the Southern conference group but a thorn in the side of Yale in recent seasons.

One of the best games in the Middle West brings together Ohio State and Indiana at Columbus, a pair that battled to scoreless tie last year. Illinois entertains Iowa State; the Wolverines of Michigan get a chance to show their mettle against Michigan State; and Iowa plays host to Oklahoma A. & M., in some of the other games involving leading teams.

Harvard Plays Two

Harvard has booked a double-header with Vermont and the U. S. Coast Guard academy. Princeton, however, is not at all certain of beating little Amherst.

The Army and Navy both meet Southern antagonists, the Cadets playing Furman and the Middies making their debut against William and Mary.

Dalhart Wolves Beat Texhoma Tigers, 13-0

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, Oct. 3.—Dalhart Wolves won their second victory of the season today by defeating the Texhoma Tigers 13 to 0. The Wolves clearly outplayed the visitors throughout the first three quarters, the Wolves line play featuring the game.

Austin College Eleven Whips Denton Teachers by Lone Touchdown

DENTON, Texas, Oct. 3. (AP)—The Austin college eleven defeated the Denton Teachers, 6 to 0 today. The scoring touchdown was made by Kelihor, end, who took a 15-yard pass from Brice in the second quarter. Denton threatened in the third quarter to retaliate, when it got the ball on the 11-yard line, but could'n't put it over.

Flewharty and Henderson were mainsprings of the Austin college offensive. Kelihor, end, and Davis, tackle, did outstanding work in defense plays.

Walker carried the brunt of Denton's attack and with Poole, Kilpatrick and Smoth, stood out on defense.

TEXAS TECH BEATS NEW MEXICO AGGIES

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 3. (AP)—Showing decided improvement over last week, Pete Cawthon's Texas Tech Matadors wore down a heavier and more experienced New Mexico Aggie team today, scoring two touchdowns in the last six minutes of play for a 14 to 0 victory. The game was played on a very muddy field.

Both teams displayed excellent defensive work. Neither was able to gain through the line in the first half. The ball was in Aggie territory, within the Aggie 10-yard line twice, but the powerful forward wall held.

For the Aggies, Lee, Ing and Selby played a good offensive game, with Sanders showing up well at guard, while Meachem, end, was the offensive and defensive star for the Aggies.

PORKERS LEAVE FOR BATTLE

Team Crippled for Joust With Tulsa

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 3. (AP)—Twenty-five University of Arkansas Razorbacks, headed by Coach Fred Thomsen, left today for Tulsa, Okla., where the Porkers will meet the Tulsa University football eleven tomorrow in a game dedicating the $300,000 Skelly stadium. The Arkansas squad made the trip by bus.

Due to injuries, Holmes, quarterback, and Dale, fullback, the Razorbacks will enter the fray weakened by the loss of a pair expected to furnish the brunt of the attack against the Golden Hurricanes.

Several hundred Arkansas fans were expected to leave tonight and early tomorrow to attend the game.

Thomsen refused to make a statement on the eve of departure concerning the injuries of his star players, saying only "it should be a great game."

Fire Destroys Uniforms Of Teachers' Gridsters

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 3. (AP)—The San Marcos Teachers' football squad was forced to work out in street clothes and with a borrowed ball today as the aftermath of a fire which destroyed both of the school's gymnasiums at an estimated loss of $40,000.

All athletic equipment and records of the department were consumed, as well as the personal clothing and valuables of several players. A hurry call for new uniforms was put in today in order that the Bobcats may play their scheduled game with Howard Payne here Saturday. The equipment lost was valued at several thousands of dollars.

White Bimbough and Wendell Bell, student caretakers of the main gymnasium, barely escaped in the blaze, dropping to the ground through windows a moment before the roof collapsed.

Ticket Sales For T. C. U. Game Spurt

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct 3.—Fans will come from many distant points to attend the annual T. C. U.-Simmons grid tilt here Saturday, M. E. Daniel, one of the local sponsors of the game, said today.

Daniels said that he had received orders for tickets from parties in Tulsa, Okla., many far-flung sections of Texas and from numerous cities within a radius of 100 miles of Breckenridge. He added that more than 1,200 tickets had already been sold for the game.

Large parties of fans will attend the game en masse from nearby cities, such as Graham, Albany and other places within 50 miles of the scene of the battle, Daniel said. In addition, coaches of Oil Belt high school teams had notified that they would bring their charges over in a body to witness the college contest.

A move was being made today to get local stores to close during the game time. The question of closing will be left up to the Retail Merchants' association and the merchants themselves. The chamber of commerce under the supervision of John Z. Martin, secretary, will decorate the city streets before Saturday morning, it was announced.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Oct. 3. (AP)—Tony Butler of Corpus Christi this afternoon won the annual tournament of the Texas Professional Golfers' association and first prize of $200 by turning in a card of 69, two under par, on the last round of 72-hole medal play at the San Angelo country club, making his total 287. He shot a 71 in the morning.

Bridgeport Veterans Trounce Newcastle

Special to The Record News.

NEWCASTLE, Texas, Oct. 3.—Bridgeport High school invaded Newcastle Friday afternoon with an experienced team of veterans and administered a 26 to 0 trouncing to the local high school team.

Stricken apparently with nervousness because of lack of experience, the Newcastle eleven allowed their opponents to take a 13 to 0 lead in the first quarter. Improving as the game progressed, the locals held the visitors to one touchdown in the second quarter, and one touchdown in the last half.

Straight football was the favorite form of attack, although each team used several passes with some success. The game was witnessed by a record crowd, all stores here closing for the game. Both teams are class B contenders in district 4.

Cubs Defeat Sox In City Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Bud Teachout held the White Sox to four hits in the third game of the Chicago city championship series today, while the Cubs slammed three pitchers for 18, and a 12 to 1 victory. The triumph gave the Cubs a two to one lead in the series.

Teachout, however, sagged in the seventh and the Sox managed to score a run out of singles by Cissell, Kamm and Autry who replaced Tate behind the bat.

The Cubs grabbed two more in their half. Bell was hit and scored on Blair's double, and the latter counted on English's single. One hit was needed for two more Cub runs in the eighth. Walsh hit Stephenson after walking Wilson, and Hartnett tripled to center to drive them in.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—An early decline in cotton here today was followed by recoveries. But the demand which was attributed largely to covering, tapered off after the advance from 10.50 to 10.72 for December contracts and prices eased again later under increased southern and local selling. The new December closed at 10.58 or 14 points off from the best, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 6 to 14 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 13 to 19 points and the more active positions showed net losses of some 18 to 22 points during the first few minutes under overnight selling orders and in sympathy with the relatively easy Liverpool cables. The trade seemed to be paying comparatively little attention to the weather news or the current progress of the crop. Part of the demand on the early afternoon advance was attributed to rebuying by sellers of yesterday and a renewal of pre-bureau covering.

Liverpool cables said that continental buying in that market had been supplied by hedging and realizing and reported a moderate demand for cotton cloth for the home trade and South America but a slow business in yarns. Export today 15.678, making 1.339.428 so far this season. Port receipts 119.028. U. S. port stocks 2.-722.827.

Futures closed barely steady, 6 to 14 points lower; spot, quiet; middling, 10.50.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3. (AP)—A weakened technical position and lower Liverpool cables than due were responsible for an easy opening of the cotton market today, prices losing 15 to 17 points in the early trading. The technical weakening was attributed to the heavy covering of shorts late yesterday.

The market soon rallied owing to an improvement in stocks and a bullish construction of President Hoover's address eventually advancing 20 to 22 points with heavy trade and speculative buying. The advance attracted hedge selling and weekend profit taking in the late trading, prices easing off 12 to 13 points from the top. The market closed barely steady at net advances for the day of 7 to 12 points.

The opening was 6 to 10 points down in sympathy with Liverpool which came in 2 to 5 points lower than due and continued to ease off. December dropped to 10.46 and January to 10.58, or 15 to 17 points below the previous close.

Later the market rallied with stocks and due to good trade and speculative buying and all the early loss was recovered, December advancing to 10.63 and January to 10.72, or 14 to 17 points up from the lows.

The advance continued in early afternoon until December reached 10.68 and January 10.78, up 20 to 22 points from the early lows. There was a late reaction of 12 to 13 points on hedge selling and week-end realizing. December closed at 10.55 and January at 10.66, up 7 to 8 points net for the day.

Port receipts 119.820, for week 561.231, for season 2.620.752, last season 2.027.494. Exports 16.878, for week 30.748, for season 1.312.592, last season 1.061.930. Improved Sentiment Influences Higher Price Level in Stocks

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (US)—Stocks were favored today by an improved sentiment which found reflection in generally higher prices. No single development overnight or during the market was sufficient to stimulate undue optimism. But the combination of President Hoover's reassuring remarks and the sharp decline in speculative loans, combined with the stronger tone in the grain markets induced a more friendly feeling toward stocks. Gains were generally moderate in size, but except for a few specific issues under pressure, the advance was general throughout the list. The improvement in wheat and corn was the chief factor in the notably better sentiment prevailing in speculative circles, even though the betterment in the grains may have been purely a reflection of internal conditions within those markets. Business news of the day was of the usual recent type, with a sharp decrease in Montgomery-Ward's September sales and cut in tinplate prices the features. There were intimations that somewhat more favorable developments may occur in the near future, but the market awaits concrete proof of such promises.

Most impressive feature of the days' market was the quiet firmness in the best-grade issues, including Steel Common, American Can, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone and others of similar caliber. Steel's improvement was scored despite the tinplate reduction and evidence of additional weakness in scrap prices, the latter a development which would assume greater importance if the stock had weakened on the news.

Generally speaking, technical conditions warranted some further betterment in quotations, even large-scale bear operators conceding that point. Most of the necessitous liquidations had been completed with results on prices recently witnessed. It will take aggressive and persistent demand for stocks to sustain price improvement and this presumably will not develop until actual business betterment occurs. Nevertheless, considerable such buying will hardly be delayed until the turn actually is publicly recognized. Thus it was reported that considerable scale buying orders had begun to appear in the Copper shares. This group is in great disfavor in the market, but undoubtedly has gone a long way in discounting the worst that can happen.

Montgomery-Ward slumped to a new low for the year on the sales report and natural concern over the dividend, danger of which is indicated by the 11 per cent yield. Although the company is strong in cash resources, its directors are still undecided whether or not to continue the $3 dividend. A possible compromise was suggested through lowering, rather than omission entirely, of the payment.

Fox was another weak spot. The stock was heavily sold by the same bear crowd which recently broadcast unfavorable but unfounded rumors concerning the company's balance sheet. Attempt was made to explain the selling as coming from England, but it was definitely ascertained that no block of Fox shares is held in that country. The sponsors for Fox are fully aware of the source of the selling and are financially capable of overcoming any bear pressure.

The greatest influence in the more cheerful sentiment was the strength displayed in the grain markets, leading to hopes this may mark a definite turn in these commodities. Maintained firmness in the commodity markets would be a prime factor in establishing a strong base for renewal of active industrial activities.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 3. (AP)—Demand continues good for wheat on the cash grain market today with mills bidding 92 to 93 for No. 1 hard delivered Texas common points. Corn, oats and barley were fairly well taken but sorghums were slow sale.

Estimated receipts: Wheat 16 cars; corn, 5; oats 1; barley 2; and sorghums one.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 97@98c; No. 2 white 99c@$1.00; No. 2 yellow $1.01@1.02.

Oats—No. 2 red 50½@51½c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 49½@50c, to which add one cent for delivery group three.

Barley—No. 2 nominally 67@68c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally $1.75@1.78; No. 2 kaffir $1.45@1.47.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (AP)—Buying on a big scale took place in wheat future delivery contracts today and lifted all grain values much higher. A notable stimulating influence was a statement from a government sponsored corporation that in view of extreme shortage of corn and pasturage an advance in grain prices was to be expected. Besides, unofficial estimates were current that feedstuff losses other than corn have reached a staggering amount, and that the direct drouth loss in corn coupled with the corn equivalent of hay and sorghum decreases make an estimated aggregate of 933,000,000 bushels.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled but at nearly the day's top level 1⅞-2⅛c per bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1⅜-2c up, oats 1-1⅛c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20c.

Only for a brief time at the opening did the wheat market here show a distinct downward trend. This exception was ascribed to forecasts of rain in Australia, where the wheat crop has been deteriorating because of drouth. However, offerings on the declines here were readily absorbed, and the Chicago market soon began to soar, notwithstanding lower quotations at Liverpool.

Corn and oats prices surged upward with wheat, and met slight opposition. The strength of the wheat market appeared to be all that was needed to make corn buyers aggressive.

Provisions although inclined to sag early owing to lack of buyers rose later with grain and hogs.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, December 81⅞-82, 85⅝; March 85½, 89½; May 88⅝, 92⅛-¼. Corn, December 84⅛-¼, 87⅛-⅜; March 85⅝, 89; May 87⅝-½, 90⅝-½.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Oct. 3. (US)—Surprising strength of the wheat market, with a recovery of practically eight cents in four days, left traders rather uncertain at the close tonight. Those assuming the market had definitely reversed its trend were prone to look for a possible reaction following such an advance.

Candian country deliveries of wheat were 2,395,000 bushels Thursday, compared with 3,895,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago.

The knowledge that France needs considerable foreign wheat for mixing and to make up actual requirements made the report that Russian imports had been barred exceptionally bullish in North American markets with Argentina out of the export column until the first of the year.

Rumsey and company say: "The fact that in the face of weak cables our market made its fourth day gain, indicates to our mind an additional reason for regarding the wheat market as stabilized after having reached its low levels."

Ward President Points Way To New Prosperity

The full page message of Montgomery Ward and company to the American public which appeared in 650 of the nation's leading newspapers on July 10 is still the subject of much discussion among national business leaders. The text of the message announced the lower prices which would prevail in all Ward stores and mail order houses during the remainder of 1930.

One of the principal features of this advertisement was the letter written by George B. Everitt, president of Montgomery Ward and company, explaining the price reduction on all commodities handled by Ward's. Mr. Everitt pointed out that the over-production in staple industries was the cause of the unemployment situation and that unemployment could be relieved only when consumer buying power was materially stimulated. The situation being acute, lower prices was very evidently the only effective stimulant to sluggish consumption that remained to be applied. Ward's chose to take the initiative in a nation-wide price reduction move.

Mr. Everitt's Message

Mr. Everitt said of Ward's lower lower fall prices. "We consider it a constructive move (one of the very few that have been made thus far) to stimulate consumer buying. Even a small upturn in demand will start orders to factories, wheels turning, unemployment lessening and a resultant upward trend to our general business structure and prosperity.

"Many will praise us for this move, some will criticize us. I hope that other institutions, large and small, will follow with their constructive plans to persuade the public to use its paying power. In his first daily newspaper article of July 1, Calvin Coolidge said, 'My countrymen, it is time to stop criticizing and quarreling and begin sympathizing and helping.'"

Big Firms Join Movement

This movement, to lower prices and lower cost of living inaugurated by Ward's, has since been joined by most of the country's outstanding merchandising firms. The outlook at present is very optimistic. The public is buying more. Additional people are being employed in many basic industries to supply the new demand. The increased buying power of these people who are returning to work creates demand for even more commodities and is "making jobs" for those as yet out of employment.

Ward Week-Culmination

The swing to lower prices reaches its climax this week in Ward Week conducted in the 575 stores of the organization which started the movement. Ward's prices which, since the appearance of Mr. Everitt's message have been the lowest in years, are now lower than ever. Consumer buying promises to increase tremendously all over the country as people come to the realization that Ward Week presents a remarkable opportunity to buy both luxuries and necessities and at the same time to practice thrift.

ALTUS BRIDGE WORK STARTS

Two Structures Under Way In Jackson County

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 3.—With construction of a free Red river bridge between Texas and Oklahoma in Jackson county starting today, two major bridge projects are now under way in this section of the state.

Test pile driving started today on the Red river bridge at the Eldorado and Quanah crossing on a highway designated as a subsidiary to Carlsbad Cavern federal road. Six test piles will be sunk before the structure is actually started.

The bridge will cost approximately $70,000 and is the first provision for free interstate crossing in this section of Oklahoma. The bridge will connect Jackson and Hardeman counties.

Concrete for foundation was poured today for the Turkey creek new county highway bridge. This structure, costing approximately $30,000, connects the Red river bridge and federal highway No. 62 at a point five miles west of Altus.

Kidnaped Doctor Rescued by Police

DETROIT, Oct. 3. (UP)—Police today rescued Dr. Frank L. McPhail, who was kidnaped last night, after he had attracted attention to his plight by throwing notes out of the window, asking for help.

One of the alleged kidnapers, Frank Sabino, who was guarding Dr. McPhail, was arrested when police entered the supposedly deserted house where Dr. McPhail was held prisoner.

Dr. McPhail, according to police, was kidnaped last night by three men when he answered a call in Highland park. As he stepped from his car the three stepped forward with drawn guns and forced him into their automobile.

He was forced to write a note, asking for $4,000 ransom. It was directed to his father, Dr. Malcolm McPhail.

HOTEL CLERK ENDS LIFE

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 3. (UP)—Homer E. Gothard, 30, hotel clerk, was found shot to death in his room today. Investigators said Gothard took his own life. He has been despondent because of financial matters. The widow is in Los Angeles.

TAMMANY MEN AGREE TO TALK

Officials Accede to Order Of Mayor Walker

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—The seven Tammany district leaders whom Mayor Walker ordered, as city office holders, to waive immunity and testify before a special grand jury, informed Special Prosecutor Todd this afternoon that they would accede to the mayor's demand.

Todd received word from a spokesman for the group a few minutes before 4 o'clock, the deadline which the mayor had set for the men to waive and testify or resign their city jobs held under his appointment.

The seven, however, does not include John F. Curry, Tammany's chief, who also has refused to testify under a waiver of immunity. Curry does not hold a city job and therefore was not affected by the mayor's ultimatum.

It was regarded as likely Todd would recall the district leaders before the grand jury when it convenes again to continue its investigation.

FURLOUGHS EXTENDED

AUSTIN, Oct. 3. (AP)—Clemencies announced at the governor's office included:

Furlough extensions: O. G. Prince, Jefferson county, burglary, 30 days; Wallace Anthony, Howard county, operating a gaming house, 30 days; Joe Valentine, McLennan county, forgery, 30 days.

Federal Court To Settle Case Of Murder Suspect

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3. (UP)—Federal court will be the scene of the next round in the battle to return Joseph R. Adkins of Glendale to Oklahoma as Robert Atchison, escaped murder convict of 33 years ago when an order to remove the man is scheduled to come before Judge William P. James next Tuesday for confirmation.

Removal of Adkins to Oklahoma was ordered Wednesday by United States Commissioner David B. Head after Henry Atchison took the stand and identified the man as his own brother and the widow of Joseph Coontz pointed him out as the murderer of her first husband.

The order must be confirmed by Judge James, who late yesterday set the hearing for Tuesday.

In a right about face, attorneys for Adkins announced they will fight removal on grounds that return of the suspected escaped convict was ordered because Oklahoma was an Indian Territory in 1897, at the time of the murder. State courts took over work of the federal courts when the territory became a state, they continued.

Taking the reverse stand that federal court had jurisdiction because Oklahoma was an Indian territory when the offense was committed the attorneys successfully battled their way out of the state courts some time ago.

SIX NAMED IN STOCK FRAUD

Texan Indicted With Five Easterners

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. (AP)—Six defendants, including a member of the New York stock exchange, were named in an indictment returned today by a federal grand jury which investigated the Manhattan Electrical Supply company stock sales drive of last spring.

The defendants are Howard Boulton, member of the stock exchange and specialist in Manhattan Electrical stock; Charles Woram, customers' man for the stock exchange house of Prince & Whiteley; Charles F. Petree, manager of Prince & Whiteley's branch offices in Reading, Pa.; Richard H. Brown, former president of the Manhattan Electrical Supply company; Charles H. McCarthy, a stock trader, and Normal B. Ross, a Texas oil operator said to be a minor officer of the Ross Petroleum company.

Robert E. Manley, acting federal attorney, said Prince & Whiteley were not involved in the alleged wrongdoings of their employes.

According to the evidence, between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000 was lost to brokers and investors as a result of the manipulation of the so-called Brown McCarthy pool.

The indictments charges a pool was formed by the defendants to manipulate the market artificially and to advance and sell stock of the electrical supply company without regard to its real value.

Collapse of Scaffolding Causes Injury of Six

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 3. (AP)—Six men were injured today in the collapse of scaffolding on a Santa Fe trestle at Big Blue junction northeast of here and quick work of one of the group probably saved them from death under the wheels of a fast train.

A train due to pass in a few minutes, Chester Ballard, Winfield, Kan., one of the lesser injured, ran down the track and flagged it. The other men lay on the track with broken arms and legs.

Twelve men were working on the scaffold. Five clung to the ropes and were rescued. One landed without injury.

Quarrel Over Load Of Coal Costs Man's Life

MILES CITY, Mont., Oct. 3. (AP)—A quarrel over a $5 load of coal last night cost Joe Gantner his life and Jack Jackson his liberty. The men were partners in a coal mine on Sunday creek.

Jackson gave himself up after reporting his partner's death. He said he killed in self-defense. An inquest will be held.

C.-C. LUNCHEON HONORS ALLRED

Nominee Gives Pledge Of Service in Address

Promising a conscientious execution of the duties of his office with the statement that he "would go straight down the middle of the road sawing wood and letting the chips fall where they may," James V. Allred, Democratic nominee for attorney general, was honored Friday noon at the Kemp hotel at the largest luncheon ever held by the Junior chamber of commerce here.

Martin Chief Speaker

Judge P. A. Martin, in whose court the attorney general-elect has probably practiced as an attorney and as district attorney more than in any other court, paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Allred's record.

"He has done a wonderful work on behalf of the people of his community," Judge Martin said, naming an early instance in the career of Mr. Allred, when he had charge of the prosecution in the case of the flogging of 26 men in 1923. Although no indictments were obtained a recurrence of similar cases has never happened here.

"There is no telling just what the future will hold for this young man if he steps into the office of attorney general with humility and gratitude for the great confidence the people of his state have placed in him. By surrounding himself with assistants of integrity, honesty and ability and by doing all in his power to make the office of attorney general a powerful agency in protecting the vast interests of the state, this young man of whom we are so proud, will go far."

Mr. Allred, in his response to Judge Martin's tribute, thanked his many friends for the confidence placed in him and told of his coming to Wichita Falls 11 years ago when he was 20 years of age and of his entry into law at that time.

"You never saw a more important lawyer than I when I landed my first job in a law office," he said.

Charter Member

Jerry Vinson, president of the Junior chamber of commerce, in introducing Judge Martin, stated that Mr. Allred was a charter member of the organization and former director, and that the luncheon was being dedicated as a testimonial to the attorney general nominee.

Following the invocation by E. F. Bohmfalk, entertainment was furnished by Miss Martha Withers in dialog and songs. Cleo Graniham's KGKO studio orchestra furnished music for the luncheon.

Carter McGregor, chairman of the chamber of commerce athletics committee urged that support be given the Wichita Falls-Lubbock football game to be played here Saturday. J. L. Jackson announced the opening of fire prevention week Oct. 5. J. H. Durnal announced plans of the goodwill tour to be made to the Haskell county fair Oct. 16.

STRAND: Jeanette MacDonald and Jack Buchanan in "Monte Carlo." Laurel and Hardy comedy, screen song and sound news.

MAJESTIC: "General Crack" with John Barrymore. Short subjects and news.

STATE: Edmund Lowe in "Born Reckless." Short subjects and news.

The last 15 minutes of "Monte Carlo" are gorgeous. Maybe there'll be time Saturday to see the rest of it, and if it's as good as the ending, there'll be time next week to see it again.

Jeanette MacDonald is as charming as in "The Love Parade," and Jack Buchanan is truly the English Chevalier. He can say, "Yes, madame!" like Chevalier and he can say "Yi dun't nao" instead of "I don't know" like an Englishman.

Both sing "Beyond the Blue Horizon" delightfully and Miss MacDonald still has the same delicious habit of singing the second chorus two or three miles higher than the first and getting a spine-tingling high C without wrinkling her forehead.

The Lubitsch touch is there. It is evidently a second "Love Parade" with enough changes to avoid repetition.

"The Birth of Texas" will be filmed soon, and a number of scenes will be shot in and around Wichita Falls. Just the bare announcement doesn't sound particularly propitious until it is learned that James Cruze will be the director, that John Boles and Bebe Daniels will take parts, that Texas mind and money went into the making of it and that it will really portray Texas and Texans as they are.

Miss Betty Blount, charming young beauty whose family name is synonymous with important events in Texas history and who has already done some rather notable work in writing for the movies, wrote "The Birth of Texas." She is in Wichita Falls this week on business for Texas Pictures, Inc., which she organized among leading Texas business men for the purpose of making "The Birth of Texas" a success.

Rather than sell her story to a Hollywood company to cut, change and make into a picture that Texas wouldn't recognize, Miss Blount took the longer, harder route and is only now beginning to be rewarded for her lone struggle. The picture should be one of the best of 1931.

Y. P. F. Cabinet to Meet With State Secretary

Miss Rachel Summers, executive secretary for young people's work in the Episcopal diocese of Dallas, will meet with the cabinet of the Y. P. F. Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hunter, 2005 Arthur street. The cabinet consists of all officers, sponsors and group leaders. Miss Jean Hunter is the president of the Diocesan Fellowship organization.

Miss Summers' engagement with the entire fellowship and their friends will be at the Episcopal parish house, Sunday evening at 6:30.

Miss Summers is the guest of Mrs. Kenneth Bebb, 508 Filmore, while in the city.

LUNCH STAND BURNS

Fire destroyed a lunch stand at 104 Ohio avenue early Friday morning, according to J. L. McClure, fire chief. Flames had completely enveloped the structure when the fire was discovered. The stand was owned by W. C. Cox.

DRAINAGE AREA VOTES TODAY

Bonds to Guard Land Against Seepage

Whether or not Wichita Falls Drainage District No. 2 shall be formed and bonds for more than $26,000 voted to provide funds for ditch construction will be decided in an election to be held Saturday.

The Ballew store on the Lake Wichita road at its intersection with the Rosemont cemetery road will be the polling place for all qualified voters in the proposed district, and will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m., it was announced.

The election was ordered by the county commissioners after their receipt of a petition circulated by Solon Downing and after a public hearing on the matter late in August.

AUTO STOLEN

While the driver was in the Panhandle building, a new Chrysler "8" sedan, belonging to the Davidson-Hamilton company, was taken from in front of the showroom Thursday night, according to report made to police Friday.

The car was left in front of the building by an employe of the company, returned to find the machine gone. Thinking that another member of the company had taken the car, the theft was not discovered until Friday.

SIX TEAMS IN DANCE GRIND

Marathoners Show Strain After 15 Days

Down at the marathon dance Friday night it looked like the beginning of the end. After more than 15 days and nights of continuous dancing, only six teams were left in the contest, and these appeared weary and fagged by the long grind. All were in good physical condition, however, it was said, and may surprise the dance fans in their ability to keep on at the present pace.

Of the teams left in the contest, Wichita Falls, Iowa Park, Olney and Vernon are represented. Three of the teams will come into the finals to cut into the $1,000 prize money, while three will be finally conquered by fatigue to drop out of the contest after their long fight.

A new novelty was added to the dance Friday night when Mr. X, the man of 1,000 trades, took part in the dance. Receipts at the dance Monday will go to a fund to provide special medical attention for Cecil Bivins, crippled former football player. A special program is being arranged for the night, and also for the entertainment of fans Saturday night.

Here's Reason Why Second Week in October Is for Fire Prevention

Carnival Reporter Explodes Story About Mrs. O'Leary's Famous Cow at Chicago Fire

Why is the second week in October "fire prevention week?"

One may ask this question of many others without getting the right answer. But had you met Beverly White, press agent for Beckmann and Gerety's World's Best shows, when he was in Wichita Falls this week, you would not alone have learned the reason, but also more about the Chicago fire than almost any other man in Texas could tell—unless it be Mr. Edsel Kiest, of the Dallas Times-Herald.

The latter was within sight of the fire, but Mr. White was not then born. Such a thing as destruction of a city by fire is something no one will forget. But some of the details soon will be forgotten.

Mr. White for many years was a reporter in Chicago. His especial work was with the fire department. That was in days when the men who fought the fire of 1871 were alive and always willing to compare notes on that disaster. Every year Mr. White was called on by his city editor to review the fire.

According to Mr. White the fire started the night of Oct. 8, 1871. The night of Oct. 7, 1871, the fire department was out all night fighting a lumber yard fire. This property, strangely enough, belonged to the father of Fred Foltz, long since retired as a fire alarm office operator. It was Fred Foltz, who sounded the alarm from the tower of the old county building and city hall, where the fire alarm office was located.

At 2 o'clock the following morning he escaped and ran through a blazing lane to cross the Lake street bridge and put the stream between him and the fire. Mr. White also knew intimately the late Michael Ahern, for many years city editor of the old Inter Ocean.

Before his death Mr. Ahern told his side of the fire. He covered it as a reporter. On the 50th anniversary of the blaze he "kicked over" the story about Mrs. O'Learys cow kicking over the lamp that started the blaze.

He said the idea occurred to another reporter and himself and they "sprung it." It spread as fast as did the flames. For 50 years he was afraid to disclose it was just a reporter's yarn.

For this reason the week in which Oct. 9 falls is designated as "fire prevention week." It also serves a double purpose, this week. It arouses many careless from lethargy and leads to removing many obstacles that might lead to fire and speed it in its way.

It was through Chicago's lesson with fire that "fire prevention week" was originated. It was "just a bit of the calendar" for many years, but since the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago in 1903 the fire prevention bureau has been established. Now, all the year, if a fire inspector finds one violating the fire ordinances after once being warned—well, that fellow tells his story next morning to nearest judge.

Usually these conversations help the fire department pension fund, as half the fines assessed, go to that cause.

County to Auction Equipment at Farm

Farm implements, equipment, and livestock used in raising of crops on the county farm in recent years will be sold at public auction for cash at that place Saturday morning, Oct. 4, at 10 o'clock, according to plans adopted two weeks ago by the commisisoners' court.

County commisisoners are expected to be present at the sale, it was announced Friday. County farm land under cultivation by the county in recent years will be rented to outside parties hereafter, according to action taken recently by the commissioners' court.

About half a million yards of athletic field tarpaulins are in use in the United States.
