Love Laughs At Jailers

Relief For Debt-Burdened Towns Promised

Bankruptcy Act Branded Valid By High Court

Sovereignty Of The State Not Threatened; Other Decisions Are Handed Down By Court

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 25. — The supreme court, by declaring constitutional today the revised municipal bankruptcy act, opened the way for 3,000 distressed cities, towns and other political subdivisions to seek adjustment of their debts.

The revision law provides a bankruptcy system under which debts can be scaled down under certain conditions, if courts approve. It was enacted last year as a substitute for municipal bankruptcy legislation invalidated by the court, which in May, 1936, held the original act violated states' rights.

Especially Solicitous

Chief Justice Hughes, speaking for the majority in today's 6 to 2 decision, said congress, in enacting the new legislation, had been "especially solicitous to afford no ground" for this objection.

Federal officials estimated today 2,000 cities, towns and school districts—mostly small, or sparsely settled—plus an additional 1,000 or so special irrigation and reclamation securities.

These officials added chief value of the law probably would be to give municipal authorities a talking point in promoting voluntary settlements with creditors under threat of going through bankruptcy.

State Retains Control

Majority of the court found the revised statute had been "carefully drawn so as not to impinge upon the sovereignty of the state," and that "the state retains control of its fiscal affairs."

In another decision, the court invalidated a 1933 order of Secretary Wallace and criticized as "fatally defective" a department of agriculture proceeding which resulted in the order.

Wallace had reduced the maximum fees collectible by agents trading in livestock on a commission basis at the Kansas City stockyards. He was upheld by a three-judge federal court in Missouri.

Chief Justice Hughes said Wallace issued the order on the basis of findings by government prosecutors with giving the livestock agents any reasonable opportunity

Gotham's Mayor Silent On His Speech Plans

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, April 25.—Tight-lipped as usual since he came to West Texas, Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York gave little indication today as to what he would say in an address tomorrow before the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

He intimated he would not discuss the possibility a third major party would be formed, or the need for one, as gossip has had it he might, but observed he probably would make a few remarks on national administration policies.

Going To St. Louis

The speech, one of the principal reasons for his invading the southwest, will be delivered extemporaneously, after which he will go to St. Louis. He came to Wichita Falls Saturday from Oklahoma where he attended several pioneer celebrations.

The mayor, who described himself as an independent Republican, met Governor James V. Allred, a Democrat, at a dinner tonight, but little political significance was attached to the meeting. Allred who had met LaGuardia previously in New York, had come from Austin, the capital, to welcome him and sit in on the convention.

Trade Treaties Are Rapped At WTCC Meet

Federal Research Laboratory To Be Located At Lubbock Is Approved By Group

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WICHITA FALLS, April 25—Certain reciprocal trade treaties with foreign countries were sharply attacked at the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here today.

Albert Mitchell of Albert, New Mexico, nationally prominent cattle raiser, said the policy was injurious to the American cattle industry and a source of considerable apprehension to cattlemen.

Called Inconsistent

"Under the Canadian reciprocal trade agreement," he said, "a quota of 155,000 head of cattle and about 75,000 head of calves are permitted to enter this country at a reduced tariff.

"It is inconsistent to aid agriculture with one hand and in turn offset this result by lowering the tariff on cattle."

He criticized an agreement with Argentina which he said allowed importation of fresh and frozen meats from areas in that country free of foot and mouth disease.

Important Development

The Farm Credit administration was praised as an important development for the cattle industry in that it provided a source of cheap credit.

Sparks flew briefly in discussion of the government's soil conservation program as Chester Harrison of Brownwood, chamber of commerce manager, said development of a dairy industry to meet a need was being hampered.

He asked E. N. Holmgreen, AAA director for Texas, why farmers who planted feed as a soil conserving crop could not feed it to dairy cattle if the milk or butter was to be sold off the farm.

Children Need Milk

"In Brown county there are 4,000 school children who need milk and we have to import milk and butter to feed them," he said. "Farmers are afraid to raise dairy cattle for fear they will violate the agricultural adjustment act."

Holmgreen replied the restriction was because of fear in northern states the southwest would capture

Hobo Is Asking Presidency On Fun-For-All Platform

(By The Associated Press)

ASHLAND, Neb., April 25.—King David I of the hoboes, otherwise known as Farmer Harry C. Beetison of Ashland, wants to "step upstairs" to the office of president of the United States. He says he will run on an "all hobo" platform.

His highness, one of at least two claimants to the hobo throne, lists these personal qualifications:

Qualifications Listed

"Fifty years valuable experience as hobo and farmer.

"Can stand on head, something no president so far could do."

David I also intends to seek re-election as hobo king, a post he won at the national convention last year at Britt, Ia.

His campaign manager for the presidential race, he said, would be Zek.

Zek is a dummy that stands in front of the Beetison farm on U. S. highway 6 near here. Zek also is a hobo.

A large sign behind Zek reads: "Agents, salesmen, politicians and advisers of every description are welcome to this farm, but please

Swollen Rivers Drive Families Out Of Homes

Flood Of Major Proportions Expected By Red Cross And Relief Work Is Organized

(By The Associated Press)

VICTORIA, April 25 — Lowland families fled to safety late today as floodwaters from the rain-gorged Guadalupe river broke over levees above and below the city and crept into outlying residential sections.

County Red Cross Chairman Frank H. Crain, anticipating a flood of "major proportions," organized a disaster committee to expedite rescue and relief work.

Heavy Damage Caused

The Guadalupe rose swiftly to a 26-foot stage here following torrential downpours along its southern watershed. The heavy rains, ranging upward to 12 inches, destroyed crops, washed out numerous small bridges, swept away railroad tracks, and covered main highways in this vicinity.

The San Antonio river near McFaddin was above flood stage, and blocked the Houston-lower Rio Grande valley highway south of here. The San Antonio and Guadalupe rivers rose with sensational speed, and lowland residents fled before their onslaught. Livestock and household goods were abandoned.

Three Above Flood Stage

At Gonzales, the Guadalupe reached 23 feet, three feet above flood stage, and was still rising a foot an hour toward an expected 30 feet before dawn. The San Marcos, which converges with the Guadalupe at Gonzales, was 30 feet at Ottine, 12 miles to the north, and rising slowly.

Flood waters will begin pouring across highway 29 south of Gonzales when the Guadalupe reaches 28 feet.

County Agent O. W. Thompson of Gonzales said 30 feet on the Guadalupe would inundate hundreds of acres of river valley land, which would have to be replanted.

Engineers Puzzled

At Cuero, 30 miles northwest of Victoria, the Guadalupe puzzled river engineers by dropping a half-foot after reaching a top of 24 feet above normal. August Boldt, engineer at the Central Power and Light company dam near Cuero, predicted a crest of 30 feet. Such a rise would close all but two high-

Paris Opposed To Four-Power Pact

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, April 25—Premier Edouard Daladier tonight made known his government's flat opposition to any four-power European pact that would include nazi Germany.

The premier's stand was disclosed as he warned Frenchmen to unite in speeding industry or face dictatorship.

Idea Said Given Up

French officials said the foreign office "understood" the British government had given up its idea for a four-power pact linking France, Britain, Germany and Italy to guarantee European peace.

Such a pact many observers had thought would result from the new Anglo-Italian accord and pending French-Italian friendship treaty negotiations.

Informed sources said the British had abandoned the plan when they saw France was determined to back her Czechoslovak ally and and Adolf Hitler equally was determined to keep his hands free in eastern Europe.

Will Visit London

The premier's associates said a four-point plan for Franco-British discussion would be taken by Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet on their visit to London when they depart Wednesday.

The outline of discussions was said to call for:

1. Reinforcement of Franco-British military cooperation providing for joint purchase of certain war materials in event of war and further economic collaboration.

2. An attempt to get a more explicit statement from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain concerning British support of Czechoslavakia's independence.

Survey Of Questions

3. A survey of diplomatic questions—the new agreements with Italy, the Spanish war, and league recognition of Ethiopia.

4. Financial matters including the tri-partite monetary accord with the United States.

Daladier's dictatorship warning was disclosed by cabinet ministers after they approved his plans for pulling the nation out of economic and financial difficulties.

The "national defense" premier said the first decree carrying out the plant would be ready May 1.

FDR's Message Gets Approval

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Congress received with obvious approval today a message from President Roosevelt urging that future state and federal bond issues and salary payments be made subject to both state and federal income tax laws.

Opposition to the proposal was, in fact, so scanty leaders of both parties spoke of action at this session as a distinct possibility.

Would Overturn Decisions

In effect, Mr. Roosevelt asked the supreme court to overturn past court decisions which, he said, had encouraged "men with great means" to look up substantial portions of their funds in tax exempt securities. He said court decisions had led to a system of reciprocal immunity, under which income from federal bonds were exempted from state taxation, and vice versa.

But he added, more recent rulings indicated the courts themselves were questioning this position.

"Therefore," he said, "it is not

Officers Could See No Sense In Hen Sitting On Liquor

They could see no point in that, so they seized the liquor and arrested Bowsman. He paid a $25 fine for illegal possession.

Huge Air Liner Forced Down

(By The Associated Press)

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 25—A Pan-American air liner was forced down at sea near White Horses, 30 miles from Kingston, today and the 12 passengers and crew were rescued by a passing boat.

The tug Killerig was sent from Kingston to salvage the plane which was reported in a sinking condition.

The plane was enroute from Santiago, Cuba, to Kingston.

Pan-American officials in Miami said a radio message advised "the plane was under control but was forced to alight because of motor trouble."

The Elder and Fyffe steamship Cavina was in the vicinity and steamed immediately to the rescue.

The Cavina took the crewmen and passengers off and started with them to Bowden, in East Jamaica, about 40 miles from Kingston.

Spanish Loyalists Strike Furiously To Turn The Tables Upon Insurgents

Rebels' Attack Said Blocked

HENDAYE, France (At The Spanish Frontier) April 25. (AP)—Embattled government forces struck furiously to turn the tables today on the insurgent offensive in eastern Spain.

Reports from both sides told of a sustained government attack which halted the insurgent drive toward Castellon De La Plana, coastal objective of the insurgents.

Second Attack Launched

A second attack was launched on the northern front by government fighters in an heroic attempt to rescue their comrades of a "lost division," but off by the insurgents high in the Pyrenees.

Twenty-five miles north of Castellon, an insurgent Italian column operating along the seaboard still fought for possession of Alcala De Chivert, which the insurgents officially reported captured two days ago.

Air Raids Resumed

(Down the coast, 50 miles south of Castellon, insurgent airplanes resumed air raids on Valencia, former provisional Spanish government capital, killing 50 persons, including a British sailor. Two hundred persons were wounded, among them three British sailors.

(The dead sailor was a member of the crew of the Stanlake and the wounded were of the crew of the Celtic Star, British vessels in Valencia harbor.)

To the north, in fighting hampered by snow, the government reported the capture of a number of important mountain positions.

Camped In Mountains

The government's "lost division" was camped in mountain passes in the Pyrenees from Montolui, in the Aran valley, to villages northwest of Tor, a village near the Franco-Spanish border, due west of the tiny republic of Andorra.

While their comrades fought to reach them, the government 43rd, or "lost division," fighting with its back to the French frontier, carried on bitter guerilla warfare against the insurgent flank.

Two insurgent columns found themselves in much the same predicament as the beleagured government division. One column moved towards Seo De Urgel, at the juncture of the Serge and Valira rivers, while the other drove south along the Andorran frontier.

Both were constantly harrassed by government guerilla tactics.

The government "lost division" itself reported ample supplies of food and munitions to hold out "for a year if necessary."

for The Only Pair of EYES You'll Ever Have

Insist On Tillyer Lenses

Nature, unfortunately, gave us only one pair of eyes. Marvelously delicate and sensitive organs which, when normal transmit visual objects quickly and accurately to our nerve centers.

Eyes have been called "windows of the soul." The condition of the eyes is in most cases a true index of an individual's general health. Clear, sparkling eyes denote a healthy and alert mind and body. Inversely eyes that look tired damage the natural charm of a face in repose. Such tell-tale signs are indications of a drain of much needed nervous energy.

Be careful of the only pair of eyes you will ever have. Have them examined regularly by your oculist.

Turner Funeral Set For Today

Funeral services will be read at 10 o'clock this morning at Sanders Funeral home for John F. Turner, 66, former real estate dealer and advertising man who died at 11 o'clock Sunday night in a sanitarium at Lubbock.

The father of Miss Margaret Turner, woman's editor of Avalanche-Journal publications, died after illness of less than 24 hours, his death being ascribed to a cerebral hemorrhage. He lived at 920 Avenue M and had been in Lubbock 28 years.

The family lived briefly in Florence, Houston and then in Florence again, going from Florence to San Angelo, where Mr. Turner was advertising manager of the San Angelo Standard. From San Angelo, the family moved to Lubbock in 1919, where Mr. Turner became associated with James L. Dow in the publication of the Lubbock Avalanche, then a weekly paper. He remained with the Avalanche until late in 1918 when he retired from the newspaper business to enter real estate. He has been in practical retirement for eight years.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, are two sisters, Mesdames L. S. D'Spain, of Robstown, and Jesse Cannon, of Corpus Christi; four sons and three daughters. do NOT bother me. TELL IT TO ZEK. Zek will listen to you so long as you care to talk. Zek is my only adviser. What Zek advises me to do, I will do. I think the world of Zek, the wise old fellow. By taking advice from Zek only, the 240 acres of this dear old farm that I call my home and everything on it are free from debt. Thanks to dear old Zek. I wish our president had taken most of his advice from wise old Zek. Thank you, come again. Zek will be waiting for you."

King David plans to start campaigning as soon as his spring planting is done. His platform will be designed to help people "get more fun out of life."

Balance The Budget

He said he would promise to balance the budget, refrain from smoking, drinking, and eating hamburger sandwiches, to keep his temper and not throw bricks. He wants a program that will "stop all the benefit payment slush." A Republican, he plans to run as an independent.

King David has six-inch whiskers, hasn't shaved since 1931 "because of a girl." In 1933, he promised Ashland he wouldn't come up town as long as he wore a beard. He's kept his word, although his farm is scarcely a quarter of a mile away. A 13-year-old neighboring girl goes to the bank and store for him. He "bums" around the country spasmodically. He "got the habit because the railroad tracks ran too close to school when I was a boy."

Hobo "subjects" visit him frequently. The free Thanksgiving dinners he stages for them at an Ashland restaurant are like conventions themselves.

guson did not run, said he favored de-centralization of federal as well as state governments.

Mrs. King and Sanderford asked the audience to send letters or telegrams to Mrs. Ferguson asking her to become a candidate. Blank telegrams were distributed to the crowd.

The meeting was called by San Antonio's tax commissioner Frank H. Bushick, but Forrest Bennett, a San Antonio attorney, acted as chairman, explaining that Bushick had been called out of town.

REMOVES RUST

Rust stains may be removed from porcelain by rubbing with a wet cloth and whiting, which is inexpensive and can be purchased at any paint shop. If the stain is stubborn, try rubbing it with lemon rind dipped in the whiting. Rinse and dry. Avoid using strong acids or harsh abrasive powders on porcelain to keep the glaze in perfect condition.

Among those attending the round table discussion "Sounding out the Word," at the Petersburg Church of Christ Sunday, were Messrs. and Mesdames Arthur B. Watkins, C. W. Watkins, L. D. Cochran, A. L. Ferguson, John R. Freeman, Bob Paynes, Cline Nall, Fayette Cogburn, Paid Copeland, Leon Rasco, Preston Oden, Leonard Weir; Miss Dora Copeland, Sherman Scitern, and John and Pat Watkins. Charles W. Watkins of Lubbock, G. B. Shelburne, jr., of Abilene, Dodson J. Lewis of Ralls, and Van Banneau of Dodsonville were principal speakers. Representatives also were from Prairie Chapel, Lockney, Floydada, Plainview, and Ralls.

A 45-year-old Lubbock man was arrested at 7:30 o'clock Monday night for investigation into a complaint of assault. The man's wife swore to the complaint which was filed in corporation court. The man was committed to jail. Arrest was by O. E. Rush and Melvin Alvey of the police department.

First and second places were awarded in four wings and the college exhibit was in the north wing. Judges complimented the condition of the exhibits.

Parker county's peach crop apparently was uninjured by the early April freeze, P. C. Blazi, grain inspector for the Lubbock Grain exchange said Monday on his return from Fort Worth. He said he observed peaches the size of his thumb, on many trees around Weatherford.

Mrs. M. L. Williams, 77, has been removed to her home at 2604 Twenty-first street from West Texas hospital, where she had been a medical patient.

A county court jury will report at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon when that court is scheduled to open hearing of a two-year-old probate case. The B. C. Spooner probate case probably will require several days before completion, said Judge J. J. Dillard. Ten other civil jury cases are scheduled for hearing this week. No court was held in that chamber Monday because of a regular semi-monthly meeting of the commissioners court at which Judge Dillard presided.

Roosevelt chapter of the Grange will meet Wednesday night at the school, said Mrs. H. M. Vardeman, secretary. All members are asked to be present.

Roosevelt community singing was held Sunday at the school house with a large attendance. Visitors were present from nearby counties and as far away as Fort Worth. Next regular meeting will be the fourth Sunday in May, at Roosevelt.

a frame original handbill advertising a benefit performance 100 years ago at the old Bowery theater in New York to aid the struggling "Texians," then battling for independence from Mexico. Mayor LaGuardia presented the memento to Texas during the state's centennial celebration in 1936.

It was the traditional postman's holiday for the mayor in one respect as he visited members of the city council and chatted about their problems. Most of the day, however, he simply rested at the home of Dr. O. B. Kiel, a world war buddy, napping, puffing a corncob pipe and dictating letters.

Trip Called Off

A scheduled trip through the KMA oil field, about 15 miles from Wichita Falls and in a very active stage of development, was called off although the mayor had never seen a big-time oil field.

"I'll look at it on a blue print," he opined.

Although he presides officially over the most congester metropolitan population area in the world, he indicated there were some advantages to the "wide open spaces."

"A fellow has plenty of elbow room and fresh air out here," he said. Standing on the front porch of the Kiel residence, a stiff breeze whipped his shirt sleeves and tangled his coal-black hair.

The principles of mass production were seen and practiced more than a century ago, and have been in continuous use ever since.

The court of honor ladder favored troop 21 of Taholoa. Troop 16 of Post won a tug-of-war contest.

Announcements relative to the annual scout circus at Lubbock May 6 were made by John Shewmake, staging director.

Seven boys received second class awards; one, first class; 19, merit badges; and 13, tenderfoot rank.

had gone into the house, leaving Robert Lloyd playing in the yard. First time his mother called, he answered, and the second time when he did not answer the two women went to find him.

In shock of discovering the child injured, they did not notice whether any object which might have fallen upon him lay near, said Mrs. Bell. Haddock and Adams were in a field and a passerby took the wounded child and mother to Shallowater and then to the hospital here.

No livestock were in the fenced yard, said relatives. Mrs. Bell said a physician explained the severe fracture could have been caused by only an extremely forceful blow and that only a sharp object could have caused the injury. If the child fell from the windmill, he apparently had struck against the tower before he hit the ground or cement foundation.

He was active and could have climbed up the steel steps of the windmill, said Mrs. Bell. He would have been three years old in September.

Starting at 6:30 o'clock, at the high school athletic field, a barbecue will be served from the U-Lazy S chuckwagon. There will be beans, son-of-a-gun, coffee, fruit and doughnuts served with the meat. Plenty of beef will be on hand.

Dr. Davis is a brother of Cyclone Davis. A Post quartet will sing several numbers and Rev. Bilberry will give a toast to the departed cowboys. Mrs. Jay B. Slaughter will sing "Empty Saddles."

Rev. Winston F. Borum of Altus, Okla., a former Midland Baptist pastor, has been secured to give an entertainment. A humorist and entertainer, well known over the Southwest, he and Mrs. Borum, a pianist, will present a half hour of fun.

Dancing Is Planned

Word from the territory down below the caprock, as well as on top, indicates a record attendance for the occasion. Early day cowboys from 100 to 150 miles are expected to attend.

the dairy industry although "this would not be the case."

Soil conservation policies of the government, including "nailing down" by growing winter cover crops, summer legumes, terracing and planting sudan, perennial grass, alfalfa and clover were pictured as of lasting benefit.

Under farm and range programs of the government, Holmgreen said, 190,000 farms in Texas, representing 4,700,000 acres, were "nailed down" in 1936.

Foot Woun On Taxation

The chamber, kingfish of such organizations, put its foot down hard today on the subject of taxation.

It declared by resolution ad valorem taxes for state purposes should be abolished and there should be a cessation of taxes tending to stagnate business development in general and the oil industry in particular.

It likewise took a stand for:

Apportioning public school funds on the basis of attendance instead of scholastic census.

Trying land vacancy suitts in counties where the land is located instead of the state capital and permitting present posessors to have prior right to purchase if a vacancy is discovered.

Park Is Favored

Establishing a great international park in the Big Bend of the Rio Grande.

Creating a government agricultural research laboratory to be located at Texas Technological college in Lubbock.

Interesting capital in establishing industry in West Texas.

Promoting soil and water conservation by a contest among counties.

Three new directors were chosen and seven re-elected to compose the executive committee of the chamber.

New directors named were J. J. Gallaher of Graham, who succeeded Ray Nichols of Vernon; James D. Hamlin of Farwell, who succeeded H. S. Hilburn of Plainview, and C. E. Casebier of Fort Stockton, who succeeded J. E. Casner of Alpine.

Re-elected were C. H. Studer of Canadian, Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth, Tate May of Hamlin, B. Reagan of Big Spring, Hamlin Y. Overstreet of Texico, Dr. L. H. Webb of Kerrville and J. Thomas Davis of Stephenville.

TRIPLE SIFTER

Most cooks agree that sifting the dry ingredients of their cakes several times makes a smoother lighter product. A new sifter, sturdily constructed, sifts three times in one operation, thus saving time and eliminating the possibility of scattering the flour. The sifter is operated by squeezing the handle, so that the cook's other hand is free to stir the batter at the same time.

Two highways, the Cuero-Gonzales-Austin road northward and the Cuero-Cheapside road northwestward, were blocked. A washout at McCoy creek closed the Gonzales highway. Rainfall from 7 a. m. Sunday until 7 a. m. Monday totalled 4.24 inches, and continued rains today added another inch to the figure.

Worst Flood In History

Heavy rainfall continued at Victoria. River observers said the worst flood in history was in prospect if the Guadalupe continued its upward surge.

At Yoakum, 12 inches of rain fell in 24 hours to cause heavy crop damage and flood business houses in the downtown area. The Southern Pacific railroad track was washed out and train service suspended. The approach to one highway bridge was washed out and numerous small bridges were gobbled up by creek waters. Yoakum is several miles from the Guadalupe river, but lowlands to the west were covered with water.

This entire section of South Texas received drenching rains. Gonzales had 3.33 inches, Columbia 1.70, Wharton 1.55, San Antonio 2.55, New Braunfels 3.30, Luling 5.02.

Tax Problems Are Studied At East Texas C Of C Meet

Possibilities Of Region Traced

LONGVIEW, April 25. (AP)—East Texas Chamber of Commerce delegates studied tax problems and heard leaders trace the industrial possibilities of their vast region at their twelfth annual convention here today.

Public indifference is responsible for the state of government today, Curtis Morris, director of the tax department, told a group meeting.

Discussion Is Held

John Crosswhite, Dallas county auditor, led a discussion after Morris presented a tax survey.

"Citizens fail to attend public hearings on county budgets," Crosswhite said. "But at a later date when nothing can be done officials receive many complaints on the manner in which public money is being spent."

Crosswhite lauded the work of the chamber's tax department, saying it probably would arouse the public interest necessary to work reforms in government.

Tax Rates Raised

Morris stated that little effort was made to collect delinquent taxes in East Texas counties. Collections average about 75 per cent of assessments, he said, and as a result rates are raised in following years to penalize those who do pay their taxes. He suggested that much of the failure to push collections of delinquent taxes was due to the fact that tax collectors must run for office every two years and naturally were unwilling to alienate their constituents by pressing claims.

At least partial confirmation of his theory, he said, is the fact that cities, where collectors are appointed, have better records of collection than do counties.

Others expressed opinions that taking this office out of politics would do much to assure better collections on assessments.

The salary system of paying county employes was discussed, many officials saying they thought it an unsatisfactory method. Others pointed out it had meant a saving to the taxpayers, as the fee system was the basis of much corruption.

Crosswhite insisted that the salary system had resulted in a different kind of graft, with some officials making no effort to collect fees due counties, knowing they would receive their own money just the same.

Judge C. E. McGaw pointed out that public officials who neglect their duty may be ousted and that grand juries may investigate any officer. This method, he explained, had been used effectively in Gregg county.

Col. E. O. Thompson, member of the railroad commission, was introduced and spoke briefly.

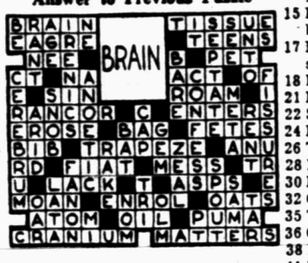

An estimated 15,000 persons thronged the city today as the convention swung into general sessions.

Pirates Defeat Cubs 8-6 For Eighth Straight Win; A's Stop Yankees, 6-1

X Marks The Spot Where They Fall

When things don't pan out well in baseball, there's always a fall guy to catch the blame. As the new season gets started quite a few chaps already are on the spit:

CASEY STENGEL at Boston has an acute case of worriment. The Bees finished fifth last season and Casey'll have to answer "Why?" if the Bees tailspin cellarward.

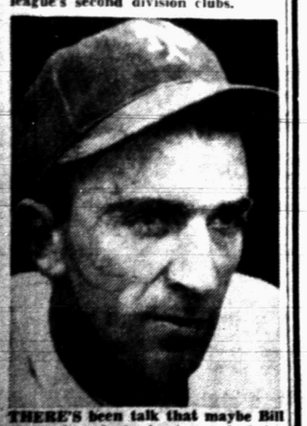

MAYBE Diz Dean's concern over the condition of his tossing arm, hurt last season, has had something to do with his quiet modesty this spring. Diz must put the Cubs into the National league pennant fight.

THE MANAGER always is wrong in Cleveland. Oscar Vitt knew that when he took the job. Maybe even peppery Oscar has some private doubts about the Indians' ability to threaten the Yanks.

VAN LINGLE MUNGO's arm gave him trouble last season. He'll have to go strong this year if the Brooklyn Dodgers are to top the National league's second division clubs.

THERE'S been talk that maybe Bill Terry has just about punched his meal-ticket out. If Carl Hubbell (above) does slip this year the New York Giants hardly will win a third pennant.

Bucs Come From Behind Twice To Stay High

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 25—Exploding two four-run drives from behind, the Pirates defeated the Chicago Cubs today in the first clash of the two clubs this season. The score was 8 to 6. Pie Traynor's club thus recording its seventh straight victory in the new season.

The home team had a two-run deficit when they unleashed a four-run drive in the fifth inning. The Cubs lashed with a four-run offensive in the seventh, when Tony Lazzeri, making his National League debut in Pittsburgh, drove a long homer over the left field wall with Augie Galan on the bases, the score tied and two out.

Ten Pirates went to the plate in the fifth and nine more went up in the eighth as they won the ball game.

Lubbock Westerners Play Exes At Tech Grid Thursday

Coach Weldon Chapman's 1938 Lubbock High school Westerner grid hopefuls make a public appearance Thursday night at the Tech Stadium, testing themselves against a team of ex-Westerners in an annual spring feature here.

The game begins at 7:30 o'clock. The Westerners, now in spring training, loom as a possible favorite over the exes, who will not have had the advantages of weeks of preparation. The exes will, however, be more or less "in shape," many of them now playing at Texas Tech and others having worked out with the Westerners this spring.

As a special attraction, a one-mile relay race between track teams of Lubbock and Muleshoe will be run between halves.

Muleshoe finished second to Lubbock in the district and regional meets here and at Canyon, Lubbock winning both races. The Westerners, now pointing to the state meet at Austin on May 6 and 7, have been challenged by the Muleshoe quartet since last Saturday's race at Canyon. Muleshoe was running even with Lubbock until a Muleshoe lad dropped the baton between the third and fourth laps. He had to go back to recover it, and Lubbock sailed on to win.

The race should provide an extra thrill to a football show.

Rollie Told To Go Home And Think

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, April 25.—Oscar Vitt, genial manager of the Cleveland Indians, thinks Rollie Hemsley "a fine fellow," but he isn't going to let his personal feelings interfere with the general welfare of the team now leading the American League.

Vitt, today diagnosed the newest case of "Hemleyitis" to plague his club—the suspension and fining of Catcher "Rollicking Rollie" Hemsley for breaking training.

"We're going along fine and then this Hemsley thing has to bob up again," sighed Oscar.

"I fined Hemsley $250 and ordered him to return to Cleveland last night in Detroit. And I hated to do it. I like him personally and he's one of the finest fellows in the world—but what would happen if I continually overlooked his outbreaks? Why, the team as a whole would suffer, and I can't let that happen.

Up To Rollie

"I told Rollie to go back, think it over and let me know how he felt."

At Cleveland today, C. C. Slapnicka, general manager of the Indians, threatened Hemsley with indefinite suspension, and was backed up by the club president, Alva Bradley. The Indians' "Peck's Bad Boy" lost $5,000 in payless suspensions and fines as a St. Louis Brown last year.

"I'm standing in a hotel lobby last night," Vitt continued, "and Rollie walks by me. It was obvious he hadn't been observing training regulations.

"Now what are you going to do with a fellow like that? He felt awfully bad at the train and promised he wouldn't do it again. It makes a fellow feel sorry for him but I know that three hours after he promises he's liable to go right out and do it over again.

"There Is A Limit"

"I'll go as far as anyone but it's had me lying awake nights ever since I had to send him home from training this spring. There's a limit."

Frank Pytlak will do the catching in the absence of the Indians' playboy star.

It's A Boy At The Galentos And Tony Collects—But Lad Won't Be A Boxer

ORANGE, N. J., April 25. (AP)—Tony Galento was a proud father today.

It was a boy, and "Two-Ton" Tony won a lot of bets thereby.

"Girls is out—it's gonna be a boy—just like me too," the rough-and-tumble heavyweight fighter has been proclaiming. And he always had a five-spot to back his prognostication.

Today the boys started paying off on the 6 1-4 pound son born yesterday to Mary, Tony's pretty wife and helpmate at his spaghetti palace.

"That kid ain't gonna be no fighter or no dope like me," said Tony.

"He's gonna go to school, learn lots and be real smart."

Hubbers Rest Here Today Before First League Game At Clovis On Wednesday

A final limbering up and a session of picture snapping this afternoon at the home park will mark final preparation of the Lubbock Hubbers for the opening tomorrow of the West Texas-New Mexico professional baseball league campaign.

With the fullest blessing of Lubbock fans, who have taken the Hubbers to their hearts, Skipper Harry Faulkner and Field Manager Hack Miller take the heavy hitting Hubbers to Clovis where they open the season against Josh Billings' and Dick Ratliff's entry.

After two games there, both teams move to Lubbock and it'll be "opening day" in Lubbock Friday!

Fans Encourage Team

It is planned to make it an opening day proper, with possibly a pregame parade, bands, cheer leaders and everything. The game itself is to start at 3:30 o'clock.

If the fans stay by the Hubbers as they indicated Sunday when the club rose to gallant heights and knocked off one of the strongest semi-pro clubs of the country, then the club management should not lack for support.

The new grandstand, including boxes, will be ready for opening day. Box seats, sold for the season at $25 per each, each box containing four comfortable chairs, will be available almost immediately. To make box seats possible, it is necessary that the infield be moved out about eight feet, to allow the same room behind the plate that is now the case. But the right, left and center field walls will still be more than 300 feet away, and a ball that goes over them is a real homer.

Tickets At Bargain

The Clovis grandstand, one of the newest and largest in the league, is pretty certain to contain numerous Lubbock supporters tomorrow in the league opener there.

Opening Day tickets for the first Lubbock professional game in ten years are on sale now by members of the American Business club, which is sponsoring the sale, and at six places in town—Pinson Drug, Jarrett-West Drug, Hotel Lubbock and Hilton Hotel cigar counters, Clark's Drug and Bowen Drug.

The tickets cost $1 each—but the same ticket admits the buyer to three games—the first, on Friday, and any other two games during the season except on Sundays and holidays.

Regular admission price during the season will be 40 cents per game.

The Hubbers showed they had plenty of power at bat, and prospects of becoming a nifty defensive team when they stood off the Hubbers of Borger and batted three pitchers for 17 safeties to win a thrilling 11 to 7 game Sunday. There had been some doubt regarding the hitting ability of the boys, but they cleared up a lot of that by going to town in a big way when runs were needed.

Blanchard To Pitch

Lefty Jerry Blanchard, slated to toe the rubber Friday when the Hubbers open with Clovis, was a bit wild Sunday, but did very well behind the lead his peppery mates gave him. He gave up but three hits in the first seven innings, pitched eight shutout frames, struck out nine men. But he also walked nine men, and about four of them scored.

The count was tied at 3 all in the second inning, Borger hopping off to a lead with a triple after Blanchard had walked a couple, but the Hubbers began to display a terrific batting power, tied the score in that frame, and spurted ahead from then on. Blanchard weakened in the eighth to allow four runs to trickle in, but the Hubbers added two in the eighth to keep far ahead.

Manager Miller, catcher, and Johnny Taylor, third baseman, had perfect days at bat. Al Carr, center fielder, and Joe Gedzius hit the tomato to all parts of the field.

Both sides turned in nice fielding efforts, four double plays featuring defensive work. Three of them were executed by Borger, for whom Al Summers played and batted a great game at second base.

BORGER, April 25.—The Huber Carbons evened the count with the Hubbers from Lubbock tonight under the lights and amid a roaring wind clouded with sand in a scoring free-for-all, 23 to 22.

Despite protests from the Lubbock management, the game went the full nine innings and was over five minutes after midnight. The game started at 8:45 o'clock.

Many Pitchers Used

Both aggregations called upon practically all their pitching power as no less than 13 men either pitched or caught in the fracas. The Hubers chalked up 25 hits, the Hubbers, 19; but the visitors led in errors, six to four.

The Hubbers took the lead in their half of the first inning; saw the score tied three-all at the end of the first, then scored three more in the first of the second. The Hubers tallied only twice in the second.

Ten Score In Third

The big inning for the Lubbock club was the third when 10 men trotted across home plate. With two or three scores each half inning, the count mounted until it was 22 to 19. Borger, at the end of the sixth after the Borger bunch scored nine and six respectively in the fifth and sixth.

Lubbock scored two and one in the eighth and ninth, respectively, but the Borger tally in the eighth was the margin that won.

Less than 50 persons braved the game until it was over.

Called upon to pitch for Lubbock were Wilson, Hoffman, Blanchard, Goldman, and Gramly. McEwen and Miller caught. Tossing for Borger were Coburn, Carithers, Dreis, and Llair. Courtney and Ross caught.

Tide Turns In Fifth

After Lubbock's big lead of 16 to 3 at the end of the third, the tide turned in the fifth. Borger's batters touched Blanchard and Hoffman for nine runs on seven hits. In the next frame, Wilson, Borger centerfielder, tripled to score Dingman and Summers to tie the score at 19-all. Before the sides were retired Borger had crossed the plate three more times.

Borgers winning run was scored by Wilson on Leftfielder Littrell's double in the eighth.

Wilson was the batting star of the night with a home run, triple, three doubles and two singles in seven trips. The bizstick for Lubbock was wielded by Taylor, third, who made four for four with a triple, double, and two singles.

Score by innings:

Lubbock	33(10)	300	021	—22	16	6

Goldthwaite Is Medalist In State Tourney

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, April 25—Mechanically shredding par with a stout game from tee to green, Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, edged five stroke in front of her field to win medal honors of the Texas Women's Golf association tournament today with a 74—two shots better than women's par.

Lowest medal score in the tourney's 22-year history, Mrs. Goldthwaite's round over a rain-sodden Houston Country Club course could have been at least two shots lower but for putting lapses.

Jameson 5 Strokes Back

Member of the 1936 United States Curtis Cup team, Mrs. Goldthwaite, striving for re-nomination on the '38 squad, was five strokes better than Miss Betty Jameson, University of Texas co-ed seeking her third consecutive title. Miss Jameson, Trans-Mississippi champion, is an almost certain nominee for the American women's team.

The day's best comeback was from Mrs. E. R. Hurv, San Antonio's distance hitter, who floundered from rough to rough on a first nine 45 before suddenly getting her game together for a two-under par 36 and a total of 81.

Deadlocked with her was Mrs. George Rohrer of Galveston, who fashioned nines of 43 and 38.

Alone at 85 was Mrs. M. M. Vanwormer of Beaumont, while the 86 bracket included Mrs. John Parnell of Dallas, former state muny champion.

Mrs. H. R. Stroube, Corsicana, 50-51—101.

Mrs. Frank Wolfin, Amarillo, 53-50—103.

Mrs. J. W. Ross, Amarillo, 46-48—94.

Mrs. Jess Rogers, Amarillo, 46-49—95.

Mrs. Otto Armstrong, El Paso, 44-45—89.

Miss Hilda Urbantke, Austin, 43-46—89.

Mrs. Paul Gore, Amarillo, 57-58—105.

Eternal Guard Must Be Kept!

AMONG those rights which the American people accept with matter of fact complacence are those of a free press and free speech. They have never known anything else; they can imagine nothing else.

For those reasons, they fail to become excited or alarmed when warnings like that of Alfred H. Kirchhofer, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, are sounded. About the only reaction to his statement that the "black plague" of newspaper censorship is spreading to the American continent was in the unspoken thought, "It can't happen here."

Probably it can't and won't happen in our own nation, at least for a long time to come. But the chief reason for that has been and will continue to be eternal alertness on the part of those who would be the first to feel the effects of censorship. It will be due to the fact that the newspapers, sensitive to any attempts to abridge their freedom, become raging bulls of indignation when the red flag of censorship is waved before them.

The dangers of a censorship are always present. There always are strong minorities who would like to control by whatever power necessary what the newspapers do or do not print. Some of them actually attempt to dictate to the publications, seldom with any success. There have been rare instances here and there of attempts to enact laws which would gag newspapers as effectively as any Hitler or Mussolini could desire. But not one of those attempts has gotten very far. One of the extreme instances was supplied by a police official in Phoenix, Ariz., a few years ago who sought to persuade legislators to sponsor a law which would forbid the publication of anything relating to any crime until the criminal had been arrested and the officers announced their investigations were complete.

Newspapers, of course, will continue to be watchful for things which might curtail the freedom of the press. Selfish reasons, if there were no other, will cause them to roar in indignation when they discover those attempts. But it is a matter about which the individual citizen should be more concerned. They are the ones who will suffer most should they be deprived of a champion and a rallying force against oppression.

It Won't Solve The Problem

ALTHOUGH most persons will agree that there should be more restraint upon public works spending, the proposal by Senator Burke of Nebraska that congressional approval of such projects be required is, on the face of it, impractical.

If that should be done, the various projects naturally would fall into one of two groupings—the more important and the less important. In most cases, politics and not the merits of the project, would decide whether it was to be approved.

In the case of the larger and more important projects, the delays of congressional procedure would be the great danger. Most of them would be talked to death which, taken by and large, might be a good thing. But the few desirable projects would suffer along with the many having little to commend them.

Small projects likely would be handled on the theory of "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours." One congressman likely would be swayed in his vote by his liking for or need of another congressman, without real knowledge of the merits of the project.

We agree that something should be done if public works spending is to continue. But the plan proposed by Senator Burke would, if such thing is possible, be less satisfactory than the present system.

With Our Contemporaries

"Evidently," surmises Mrs. Oran McClure in the Texas Spur, "those Frenchmen aren't particularly pleased with thoughts of another 'wholly Roman Empire'."

Be ye therefore very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, that ye turn not aside therefrom to the right or to the left;

That ye come not among these nations, these that remain among you; neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor cause to swear by them, neither serve them, nor bow yourselves unto them:

President Roosevelt's Story Of The New Deal

Article No. 25: The President On The Good Neighbor Policy (No. 1)

Editor's Introductory Note

(A Good Neighbor is "the neighbor who resolutely respects himself and, because he does so, respects the rights of others—the neighbor who respects his obligations and respects the sanctity of his agreements in and with a world of neighbors."

(The definition is the President's own, uttered in that momentous inaugural address of March 4, 1933. On that day the United States was sadly contemplating bankless business, jobless workers and sagging spirits. The world was equally absorbed in vague disquiet over international affronts, distrusts and jealousies.

(Not long after inauguration, the administration encountered the first test of its new Good Neighbor policy in Latin American affairs. In four articles beginning today, comprising his notes to his "Public Papers", President Roosevelt describes in his own words, never before published, the events of the period and their underlying philosophy.)

THE Democratic National platform of 1932 contained this provision: "We advocate a firm foreign policy, including peace with all the world and the settlement of international disputes by arbitration; no interference in the internal affairs of other nations; the sanctity of treaties and the maintenance of good faith and of good will in financial obligations; . . . International agreements for reduction of armament and cooperation with nations of the Western hemisphere to maintain the spirit of the Monroe doctrine."

In my first inaugural address I stated that "In the field of world policy, I would dedicate this nation to the policy of the good neighbor."

Starts In On Job

The first opportunity which I had further to develop this thought was at a meeting of the governing board of the Pan-American union, at which I made an address which was broadcast in English, and rebroadcast in Portuguese and Spanish.

I sought there to express in simple terms my conception of what the relationship among the 21 republics on the Western hemisphere should be.

(Editor's Note — In the address, delivered April 12, 1933, the President said: "The essential qualities of a true Pan-Americanism must be the same as those which constitute a good neighbor. . . . In this spirit the people of every Republic on our continent are coming to a deep understanding of the fact that the Monroe doctrine . . . was and is directed at the maintenance of independence by the peoples of the continent. . . . The independence of each Republic must recognize the independence of every other Republic.")

The policy and conduct of the administration has from its inception been that of the good neighbor to the other American nations. I think I can say that our neighbors in Central and South America had formerly regarded us with resentment and suspicion — resentment because of some of our armed activities in the past often actuated by dollar diplomacy, and suspicion because of our supposedn imperialistic designs based upon our supreior size and strength. There was a barrier between us of antagonism, misunderstanding and prejudice.

Changed Attitude

I BELIEVE that after nearly three years, I did not exaggerate when I stated in my message to Congress on January 3, 1936: "At no time in the four and one-half centuries of modern civilization in the Americas has there existed—in any year, any decade or any generation in all that time—a greater spirit of mutual understanding, of common helpfulness and a devotion to the ideals of self-government than exists today in the 21 American republics." . . .

The change between the attitude of our neighbors on this continent in 1933 and their attitude today was caused by a series of acts, treaties, conferences and interchanges of views which proved to them that the United States had no desire to intervene in their affairs, that it was intent upon respecting the rights of the other nations on this hemisphere, and that its conduct toward those neighbors would never be anything which could not be justified under the law of nations or approved by the conscience of America.

In no part of the world has this policy been carried forward more vigorously, and nowhere has it brought more gratifying results. There has resulted on the Western hemisphere a new era among nations, characterized by confidence and mutual helpfulness.

The first opportunity which was presented to put the words "good neighbor" into practice occurred in the summer of 1933, during the trouble in Cuba.

Cuban Revolt

WHEN I took office, there had been continued hostility for several years to the presidency of General Gerardo Machado in Cuba. This had been heighthened by the prolonged depression in the sugar industry.

About 80 per cent of Cuba's national income was derived from the sale of sugar in foreign markets. These markets had begun to fall off since 1924, and dwindled very rapidly during the depression. To add to that, the Smoot-Hawley Tariff act presented an almost insurmountable hurdle to the import of Cuban sugar to the United States.

Hostilites had broken out, and the state of Cuban affairs was cause for deep anxiety to the new administration. The question of the responsibilities and obligations of the United States Government to Cuba involved a consideration of the Platt amendment to the Treaty of 1903 between the United States and Cuba, by which the United States had been granted the right by Cuba to intervene in Cuban affairs for the purposes of maintaining "a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty".

I did not believe that the conditions in Cuba constituted a just basis for the exercise of our right to intervene. Besides, intervention in the domestic affairs of other countries was decidedly contrary to the good-neighbor policy which I had determined upon with respect to foreign nations, and particularly the other American Republics.

Hoped For Agreement

I had hoped, however, that our ambassador, Mr. Welles, might be able to work out an agreement between the government of President Machado and the political groups opposing his continuation in office, which might bring about a new free election of a president.

Ambassador Welles immediately upon his arrival in Cuba attempted to bring about such an agreement, and during June and July of 1933 held several "mediation conferences" for that purpose.

A message from me was read to the first of these formal meetings on July 1, 1933.

(Editor's Note — The message assured all factions "that the moral support of the American people will be behind these attempts at the peaceable adjustment of Cuban problems through the orderly procedure of constitutional government.")

Much progress was made. Political prisoners were released by the government; existing censorship of the press was abolished; a general amnesty law was passed and constitutional guarantees were restored.

Machado Flees

UNFORTUNATELY, however, this progress toward a successful conclusion of the "mediation conferences" was stopped by a series of concerted strikes, which led to renewed bloodshed and to the sudden revocation of constitutional guarantees by President Machado.

Finally, a conspiracy of the officers in the Cuban army resulted in an ultimatum to the president on August 11, 1933, demanding his immediate resignation. The president was forced to resign on August 12, 1933, and fled from the country, bringing to a close the mediatory efforts of the ambassador.

Continued fighting and bloodshed in Cuba made it necessary to send several small warships and coast-guard vessels to certain harbors near which American citizens were living.

The important item in connection with this action, and throughout the entire Cuban disturbances, was the fact that armed intervention by the United States in Cuba was unequivocally forbidden. The vessels were sent to protect American lives, if necessary; but I made it clear that there could not possibly be any intervention by us in the internal affairs of Cuba.

Same Policy Followed

This was a definite statement of our fixed policy of non-intervention since March 4, 1933; and it has been followed throughout my administration in connection with all of the American Republics.

The foregoing incident was the first of a series of acts which justified the statement made by me in my address before the Woodrow Wilson Foundation on December 28, 1933, that "the definite policy of the United States from now on is one opposed to armed intervention."

(Tomorrow: End of the Platt amendment; Relations with Panama; the Montevideo conference.)

Cities Are Restrained From Enforcing Gas Reductions

FORT WORTH, April 25. (AP) — Federal Judge James C. Wilson today restrained temporarily the North Texas cities of Quanah, Memphis and Wilson from enforcing ordinances reducing natural gas rates.

Hearings for the cases were set at 10 a. m. Wednesday, May 4, at Fort Worth.

The United Gas corporation, which serves the cities, filed separate petitions and posted $2,000 bond in each case.

Judge Wilson's orders said the injunctions had been granted because "immediate, substantial, irreparable injury, loss and damage will result to the plaintiff before notice can be served and hearings held upon the application for interlocutory injunction."

But how can a nation's honor be injured when a dictator is the nation and hasn't any honor.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT Roosevelt tried hard to minimize the importance of his written invitation for Henry Ford to visit the White House. He didn't think he was sure of the date or details of the conference with the billionaire industrialist who disrupted the N.R.A. and N.L.R.B.

Actually the presidential unbending reveals how deeply Mr. Roosevelt must feel about economic conditions. For three years he angled for an interview with Mr. Ford through senatorial and family relatives, but the latter held out for a formal request until he got it. The auto magnate is the opposite of all the men from whom F.D.R. has been taking advice—both brain trusters and conservatives in the family. If the President can wrest a promise of cooperation from the auto maker, or even a few kind words, it will mean more for recovery than the new inflationary program.

It's probably true, as White House aides hint, that Mr. Roosevelt hopes to charm this big buyer of steel, glass, rubber, etc.,—to win him over to New Deal theories as to overproduction, installment buying, excessive profits, being the cause of recurring depressions. Anyway, the White House thinks it's worth a trial.

DIVISION: President Roosevelt insists that his mail reflects a public sentiment of 7 to 1 for his new inflationary move, but he can't sell that theory—or ratio—to members of Congress. The returns from outlying Congressional districts are preponderantly hostile and critical.

Vice-President Garner's correspondence was never heavier in all his 35 years in Congress. From all sections and all classes he has received congratulations for his off-the-record defiance of the White House. Few days after Mr. Roosevelt said he had got 700 letters supporting his plan, the V.P. snorted: "Hell," he said, "I've got so many I can't open them, but of those we've read, only one guy approves this new orgy of spending." Other legislators remarked that 700 letters to the White House was only a scratch of the pen; they said they received 700 a day during the reorganization fight.

Constituents' letters, however, don't count for as much as they once did at Washington since the high-pressure boys were exposed. Those who still love F.D.R. write to him, while those who don't write to Mr. Garner. That's a more significant development than the number of epistles written, or how the writers stand on the inflationary proposition. They're dividing up into Roosevelt and Garner schools.

UPSTAIRS: State department auditors saw more significance in Paul McNutt's request for a $10,000 travel allowance (in case he resigns during the coming year) than anybody except a few inside politicos. The sum checks almost to a penny with the amount spent by Norman H. Davis when he served as roving ambassador.

It wouldn't surprise those in the know if the presidentially ambitious Hoosierite were named to the wandering diplomatic post within the next year. He has already fallen in with a White House suggestion that, when he quits his Philippines post, he return home by way of Europe, visiting foreign capitals and reporting the lowdown to F.D.R. Mr. McNutt confided the details of this pilgrimage to friends soon after he saw the President a few weeks ago.

Politicos more keen on domestic than foreign wars regard the prospective appointment as a subtle method of keeping Indiana's candidate out of the country during 1940 presidential preliminaries. Neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Farley sympathizes with the machinations of the McNutt-for-President machine.

CHILLY: A lively controversy over the administration's attitude toward dictator nations—Italy, Germany, Japan—has flared up behind the diplomatic scenery. It marks the first break between the White House and State department on a major issue.

On the day after the British-Italian pact was signed, Under-Secretary Welles rushed to the White House. He begged the President to issue a formal pronouncement hailing the agreement as another step toward amicable settlement of world problems. Then the Under-Secretary dashed back to the State department to tip off correspondents that the White House "would break a big story" in a few minutes.

But when the reporters trooped in for the press conference, Mr. Roosevelt didn't mention the matter. Not until the last minute did he admit, cross-examination, that he had discussed anything but routine questions with Mr. Welles. Then, after considerable search, he dug out a penciled memorandum which he obviously had not seen before, and haltingly read a cold, cumberson statement approving the treaty. But it had to be pried out of him, and his heart wasn't in this friendly gesture toward the nation whose conquest of Ethiopia he does not recognize.

LAG: President Roosevelt's own economic recovery experts are privately fearful that the new P.W.A. spending may not stimulate recovery by providing fresh employment and reviving purchasing power. Harold Ickes inadvertently revealed these doubts at a recent press conference.

The explanation for this unadvertised skepticism lies in the official ignorance on the subject of industrial inventories. It is obvious that if the manufacturers of steel, cement, bricks, lumber, machinery, etc., have piled up tremendous stocks on their shelves, it will be these goods which will first be moved by any demand based on the proposed P.W.A. projects. Under such circumstances no factories now dark would be thrown into operation, and men now laid off would not be recalled to the pay roll. Government would simply consume the "hump" which industry has accumulated—a necessary preliminary to any recovery, of course, but not an immediate economic lifesaver.

Mr. Roosevelt's advisers have frequently urged him to make a study of stocks on hand, but the problem has never been attacked except in a small way by S.E.C. or Federal Reserve experts handicapped for funds and facilities. Now it looms up as a big question mark!

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE New York Stock exchange will be under brand new management after May 16. A renovated board of governors—purged of all traces of "old guard" influence—will take charge on that date. A new president will become executive head of the institution and the "private club" era will be only a memory.

But a recent mysterious development indicates that the "old guard" has one last shot in its locker. Howland S. Davis, present chairman of the Business Conduct committee, has publicly announced that he is ready and willing to take over the same job in the new regime as a paid official of the exchange. His brokerage firm, Blake Brothers, is being dissolved, so he will be eligible. His statement was an odd piece of self-advertisement in itself. Even stranger is the evident intention of the outgoing management to appoint him before it quits office. This is much as if President Hoover had tried to name Franklin Roosevelt's Attorney General a month before his successor's inaugural.

Mr. Davis' record is clean enough. He has not been tarred with the Whitney brush. In fact, it was his committee which originally forced Whitney's suspension. But the unusual procedure outlined above has aroused curiosity—and some resentment. The S.E.C. may stage a private inquiry to discover why the old regime is so anxious to perpetuate Davis in office.

FORCE: The left-wing element in the United Automobile Workers has gotten out of hand again. That's the real story behind the picketing for dues payments that forced several General Motors plants to suspend operations.

The union's urgent need for cash provided the excuse. But the real purpose of the radicals who promoted the picketing was to make things so uncomfortable for non-members that they would be compelled to join the union. The company promptly interpreted this as an attempt to bring about a closed shop by force—and as such a violation of contract.

Side Glances---By George Clark

"Will somebody on the top floor ask Mrs. McCoy when she's going to pay this cleaner's bill?"

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a false friend and a shadow are with us only when the sun shines.

GOODNATURED George Garrett, Highway Department Division 5 boss here, reports that progress is being made toward the eventual hardsurfacing of the highway from Brownfield to Plains and over to the New Mexico line at Bronco. When the work is completed—probably within a two-year period—New Mexico likely will meet Texas at Bronco and give this section of the Lone Star State another paved shoot into Hobbs via Tatum and Lovington.

We can use it — and so can our New Mexico neighbors.

* * *

Somebody sent this in:

It is not the harbor at sunup
Nor the mountains that kiss the sky,
Not a wonderful dance with a touch of romance
Not a thing that money can buy.
In Rio, or Paris, or Cairo,
A palace, a home or a shack—
But where there is a friend,
We try in the end
In some way, to some day come back.

No truer words were ever spoken. Most of us fail to appreciate our friends until we really need them—or until we mistreat them to the point where they are forced to desert us in self-defense.

TUESDAY night The Plainsman plans to be in Post, in attendance at the Post Rotary club's 13th annual party for the oldtimers of the section.

The Plainsman is no oldtimer, but the generous, hospitable people of Post always see that he has an invitation to the oldtimers' party. That he appreciates, because he has a world of admiration and respect for the pioneers who laid the foundation stones of this great country so that we younger ones could come along and enjoy life without the drawbacks which faced the early settlers.

It has been more than a decade since the writer attended his first oldtimers' party at Post.

Since then he has been at several.

And with many another, he can't help but notice that many of the pioneers who used to be regular attendants at the Post Rotary club's annual affair are no longer to be seen there.

Many of them—too many of them—have answered the call to the Last Roundup.

HOWEVER, that must be expected, no matter how hard it is to face.

And for those oldtimers who still remain, it must be said that they are still holding up their end and that for them, as well as for so many of their admirers, the annual gathering at Post is a great occasion.

The Post Rotary club is doing a great work in remembering the pioneers and the affair has become such that it takes the aid of almost the entire population of the Garza county capital in putting it over.

It is a fine, fine gesture and one which doubtless will be carried on as long as there are pioneers left among us.

That Man on Avenue Q says Mr. Garner probably wants to stand by the President but just isn't quick enough on his feet.

SHORTLY after Col. Ernest O. Thompson announced his platform in his race for governor, the esteemed Dallas News came out with the suggestion that the Amarillo redhead was "in favor of everything that will catch a vote."

Now Attorney-General Bill McCraw, the other important candidate for governor, has announced his platform, and the same can be said of it.

But, what of it?

What does the Dallas News expect?

Any man smart enough to be governor of Texas is too smart to come out with a platform which will hurt him with an appreciable number of voters.

We may not like the idea of fence-riding on the part of candidates, but whether we like it, or not, a candidate has to do that sort of thing, or beat himself before the voters ever go to the polls.

The Plainsman doesn't blame Ernest Thompson, Bill McCraw or any other candidate for being in favor of the things he thinks most of the voters are for, and against the things he has reason to believe most voters are against.

If he followed any other plan, he'd be a sap—and not worth anybody's vote.

SOME people collect stamps. Others collect old coins. Still others collect pottery, china or other knicknacks.

But over in Matador G. S. "Doc" Craven, who along with genial Fred Simpson has the drug business sewed up in a sack, collects autographs. That is, autographs on checks which have been bounced back from various and sundry banks.

Posted in a conspicuous place in his pill-rolling emporium, "Doc" has something like 120 checks totaling in the neighborhood of $350 to $400, which have been sent back to him as souvenirs. Some of them bear the well known "insf.", meaning insufficient funds. Others are marked "no acct.", meaning that the giver had no account in the bank on which the check was drawn. And several are marked "forgeries."

The checks cover about a 10 year period and most of them are small. None is over $10 and many are for $1 or even less.

The display is quite interesting to Matador folks as well as to visitors there. And it also serves as a warning to "Doc" and his employes when a strange — or a too well known — customer says "Lemme give you a check."

Habits at first are cobwebs, but they often grow into unbreakable chains.

* * *

THE other day a critic of the Texas Department of Public Safety remarked that he had driven a great distance—almost from one end of the state to the other—and had not seen a highway patrolman.

Perhaps he was telling the unvarnished truth.

Last fall The Plainsman drove from Lubbock to Laredo, which is 535 miles via Del Rio, without seeing a state patrolman.

But as we see it, that fact is no argument against the Department of Public Safety.

Instead, it is an argument for a better appropriation for that work, so there can be more patrolman hired and trained.

The Plainsman wouldn't be one bit surprised if, in 25 years, Governor Allred looks back upon his two terms in the capitol and says something like this:

"Of all the accomplishments of my administrations, installation of the State Department of Public Safety was No. 1."

And we wouldn't be surprised if the people of Texas honor the governor for making possible that organization.

The State Department of Public Safety is young. It's barely started.

But it's going to be a big thing some day, unless peanut politics sidetrack it.

BANKS AND BANKERS

Editor, The Avalanche: I have noted carefully the after-banking hours at two banks in Lubbock where you can place your surplus funds any time day or night, whether bank is open or not. It will be safe and you will be relieved of the trouble and danger of carrying it around on your person. This is a very clever arrangement on the part of the banks solely for the convenience of their customers.

After a careful study of this device for some time I concluded that what I needed was a device where I could get money out of a bank. It was always easy for me to put money in a bank. Any time anywhere. There are windows, clerks, tellers, cashiers, or even the president who would gladly receive your deposit.

But this getting money out of a bank was always a hard job for me. I looked for a place at these banks where you could draw money out. A place where, when you found yourself broke, you could go and draw money out day or night. But no place could I find.

I then strolled down the street. On one side every few steps was parking meters where you could place your money. On the other side every door was open to receive your cash. In fact all over town was places to receive your cash, but I found no place where I could draw out a dollar.

I had a bank once. That is what the banker told me when I made my first deposit. We want you to make this bank your bank. Even the president would joke with me. This was my bank for about 12 years. I was making good then and made many substantial deposits in my bank. Had money then.

They used this money and drew interest on it, but what did I care. I had money in my bank and, by golly, I was Mr. Shaw. But there came a time when I could no longer make these deposits in my bank. Conditions became such that I actually needed money right now.

All right, I will arise and go around to my bank and draw out a few dollars and joke with my banker friends. I noted a changed condition had come over my bank. They no longer laughed at my jokes. I tried every window, every clerk and cashier, and finally resorted to my bank's president whom I knew would not refuse.

But he did. He looked away off and said, "no." No way for me to get any money out of my bank.

I am proud to say that surely we have no such bankers or banks in Lubbock.

Yours truly,
Smith Shaw, sr.
Idalou.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 86 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When, near dusk, the procession reached the border, Tarzan announced that he would go on to visit some chiefs in the west. "In a few days I shall rejoin you; and I shall punish any of you who has done evil." He glanced significantly at Spike and Troll.

Tarzan gave the great diamond to van Eyk, to be handed to the Kaji couriers next day. And to Stanley Wood he gave the giant emerald in trust for Gonfala. Then, after he had directed the party in making camp, he vanished into the thick jungle night.

The exhausted fugitives retired to rest from their weary march and to gather strength for the next day's journey; but there were some who did not sleep. Wood, for example, was thinking of Gonfala, and his thoughts were alternately happy and melancholy.

He was enraptured when he recalled that for the past twenty-four hours she had been so sweet, so gentle; but at any time, he knew, she might burst into one of her fiendish rages. Stanley Wood sighed. By marrying her, he would be inviting a life of torment.

Wall Street . .

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Stocks slipped their mooring in today's market and leaders drifted lower by fractions to around a point, with a handful of inactives down as much as 4 or so.

No special importance was attached to the set-back inasmuch as the turnover of 395,880 shares was the third smallest for a full day in nearly four years.

Paint buying support appeared now and then and enabled many issues to finish well above low marks for the session. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .6 of a point at 39.8.

Trade news was hardly of a character to encourage speculative forces and the Washington scene produced little in the way of stimulation.

The cloudy outlook for the steel industry depressed stocks in this category.

Motors were behind throughout as labor troubles confronted this field.

Rails acted fairly well on word Senator Wheeler had called a joint congressional conference to map out emergency relief for shaky carriers.

Allied Chemical, along with a number of other corporations, disclosed a substantial drop in profits for the first three months. Allied stock was down 4 points at 142.

Prominent on the retreat were U. S. Steel at 45, Bethlehem at 48¼, General Motors 31¾, Westinghouse 76, Montgomery Ward 32, Standard Oil of N. J. 47⅞, Texas Corp 38¾, Public Service of N. J. 28, Eastman Kodak 151½, Air Reduction 46 and Union Carbide 67.

Such stocks as N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Erie, New Haven, Great Northern and Southern Railway were unchanged to off only ⅛ of a point. New York and Harlem was up 8 points on the transfer of 40 shares.

Cotton . .

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 25. (AP)—Cotton prices sought lower levels today under liquidation and other selling induced by unfavorable foreign markets, better crop weather in the belt and lower securities. The close was steady at net declines of 5 to 9 points.

Around mid-session prices rallied moderately under trade buying on the scale down and covering by shorts. The demand was supplied at recoveries of 4 to 7 points and prices weakened again in response to declining stocks.

May contracts closed at 8.93-94, Jly at 9.00-01, Oct at 9.09, Dec at 9.12-13, Jan at 9.15 and Mch at 9.20.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under May liquidation and in sympathy with generally heavier outside markets. July recovered from an initial low of 8.85 to 8.92 and closed at 8.87, with final prices 9 to 11 points net lower.

The market opened 9 to 11 points lower influenced by lower foreign markets, and under selling from abroad. Trade buying absorbed May offerings in advance of first notice day tomorrow. Selling orders otherwise were balanced by scattered local, New Orleans and commission house buying and prices rallied partially. May liquidation and exchanging became heavier in the late trading, however, and prices eased back to within a few points of the earlier lows.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—Auspicious conditions for both domestic winter and spring crops facilitated 1⅛ cents a bushel tumble of Chicago wheat prices today.

Contributing was a downward trend of other commodities and of the stock market, together with scantiness of export demand.

Something of an offset were Texas reports of black rust and muggy weather likely to accelerate development. The infestation was asserted to be dangerous enough to do major damage further north if a wide spread of spores ensued.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1 cent to 1⅛ under Saturday's finish, May 82 ¼-⅛, July 80 ⅝-¾, corn ¼-½ down, May 58⅞-59, July 60½-⅝, oats unchanged to ¼ off, rye showing ¾-1¼ setback, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents lower.

One Killed In Car Collision

Several persons were injured and Jess Morton, 46, of Lamesa was killed in an automobile accident Sunday morning on highway 34 near Fort Worth.

Higginbotham Funeral home of Lamesa said funeral arrangements had not been announced late in the day.

A pickup truck driven by Morton was in collision with an automobile driven by R. V. Hyatt of Midland. The machines met squarely in the middle of an intersection. Mrs. Morton, 46, was able to climb from the window of the truck after the accident, and was the only person in the two vehicles conscious.

Occupants of the other car, all of Midland, and injuries were: Hyatt, 47, an insurance man, head lacerations, back and leg injuries; S. T. Cole, 72, retired, head lacerations, dislocated shoulder, broken left wrist, possible internal injuries; Tom S. Hollon, 62, merchant, chest and other internal injuries; J. C. Hudman, 35, city secretary of Midland, possible internal injuries, head and leg lacerations and bruises. All were suffering from shock. They entered Fort Worth hospitals.

The Midland party was en route to Corsicana, where they were to hear a sermon by Rev. E. T. Miller, who had been recommended as pastor of the Midland First Baptist church.

Morton and his wife were en route to Italy.

"Miraculous"; Says Of Gly-Cas Action

Constipation, Stomach Disorder Made Him Miserable, Rheumatic Pains Unbearable; Gly-Cas Again Unfailing

"Little did I realize any medicine could be as wonderful as this new Gly-Cas," said Mr. Abran Costante, 3015 San Agustin Av., Laredo, Texas. "For years I had been badly constipated, system filled with poisons and my stomach simply refused to digest foods properly. After every meal my foods would sour, gas formed in abundance and I bloated dreadfully. I became terribly nervous, couldn't sleep and felt miserable. Then rheumatism settled in my arms and limbs, often crippling me until I could hardly get around. I was most miserable and could hardly get around. I was most miserable and could find no way to get relief—until finally persuaded to give Gly-Cas a trial—it went to the very source of my health troubles as if made for me alone.

MR. ABRAN CONSTANTE

"Never before was there a medicine like this new Gly-Cas," continued Mr. Costante. "It is the first medicine that did not disappoint me. I am now feeling fine in every way, stomach and bowels are regulated, eat and sleep good and new strength and energy has been given me. Even those dreadful rheumatic pains have been eliminated. After what this new remedy has accomplished for me is it any wonder I say Gly-Cas' action is 'miraculous'?"

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns. Adv.

Permits Totaling $33,755 Issued Here Monday

April Figures Reach Higher

After issuing 10 permits Monday for construction and repairs estimated to cost nearly $34,000, Jim Reid, city building inspector, predicted the April total would reach $200,000.

The exact total for the day was $33,755, sending the April figure to $181,824. The 1938 total shot to $725,790 and predictions included the possibility of the aggregate climbing to three-quarters of a millions before May 1.

Plan Business Building

A $15,000 permit went to Chas. Bacon, owner, and Sampson Bros., contractor, for a one-story brick busines building at 1205-7-9 Thirteenth street. B. F. Brewer, owner, and J. B. Maxey, contractor, obtained a permit for a brick addition on the rear of and an additional story above the building at 1312 Avenue K, $12,700.

J. A. Fortenberry was authorized to construct a service station at 1647 Nineteenth street at a cost of $2,500. Ray Givens was named contractor.

None of the other seven permits were for more than $1,000.

Totals Are Given

The Lubbock total for the year of 1938 of $725,790.72 compared with $700,178 for Amarillo, which owes approximately half that amount to one large permit. Lubbock's largest permit for the year was $30,000.

Only cities in Texas ahead of Lubbock are Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, Galveston, Corpus Christi, and San Antonio, all substantially larger population than Lubbock.

Only $122,094 worth of permits were issued in April of 1937. This year's figure is only $2,000 less than for the first half of last year.

Suspects Held In Frome Case

(By The Associated Press)

HOBBS, N. M., April 25—Suspicion in the three-weeks old slaying of Mrs. Weston G. Frome of Berkeley, Calif., and her daughter, Nancy, near Van Horn today centered at Lovington where a man and a 20-year-old girl were held in the county jail.

They were held by local authorities pending arrival of officers from El Paso, Tex., to question them.

Arrested in one of the city's leading hotels after officers became suspicious, the girl, a "peroxide blonde," became hysterical when questioned about the Frome murders.

They gave their address as Bakersfield, California, but their car carried Texas licenses and various articles and identification cards in their possession indicated that they had spent the past several weeks in or near El Paso.

Dark, slim and bearing a tattoo mark on his left forearm, the man had hurriedly packed his clothes and was ready to leave when Sheriff Will Kerley entered his room in a cheaper downtown hotel.

Graduate Of Texas Tech Gets Job As Assistant Agent

AMHERST, April 25.—W. T. McKinney, 1932 graduate of Texas Technological college, who has been for several years an assistant in the county agent's office at Brownfield, in charge of agricultural conservation, has been promoted to assistant county agent here. McKinney graduated in animal husbandry at the Lubbock school.

Recently the commissioner's court voted to reinstate the assistant county agent's office, after it had ben discontinued last summer. D. F. Pounds was then assistant.

McKinney has been in extension service about three years. He was in charge of 4-H club work in Terry county while there.

New Gunboat Charleston Will Visit At Three Texas Ports

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) — Navy officials informed Senator Connally (D-Tex) the new gunboat Charleston would put in at three Texas ports during May and June on its shakedown cruise.

Connally said the Charleston would be at Galveston May 17-25; Brownsville, May 25-June 2, and Corpus Christi, June 2-6. Its stop at the latter port will coincide with the local "Buccaneer celebration."

Couple Charged For Forgery

Theft of two automobile tires valued at $15 was charged against two men who Monday night had not been reported arrested. The tires belonged to L. E. Grimes of Grimes Tire company, according to the complaint, which was sworn to by Jess Hardy, police patrolman. The alleged theft was March 11.

has something to say about how different cigarettes can be!

"Any all-cigarettes-are-alike talk doesn't jibe with my experience. There's a big difference. I've smoked Camels steadily for 5 years, and found that Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me, in a lot of ways. Good taste. Mildness. Easy on the throat. And Camels don't give me jumpy nerves. Like a lot of other people I know, 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!'"

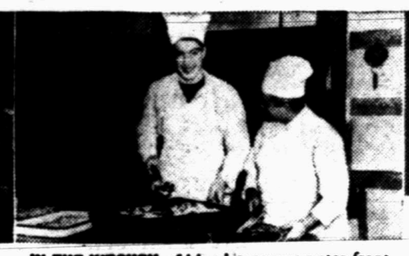

BILL GRAHAM, seeing Joe DiMaggio pull out his package of Camels, asked his opinion on smoking. Joe came straight to the point: "There's a difference, a big difference, between Camels and the others." You, too, will find in Camels a matchless blend of finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic.

PEOPLE DO APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS

THEY ARE THE LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA

JOE KEEPS his hand in on mending nets. His family are fisher folk. DiMaggio is 6 feet tall—weighs around 185 pounds. His nerves are h-e-a-l-t-h-y!

IN THE KITCHEN of his picturesque water front restaurant, Joe says: "I eat pretty much what I like all season long and smoke Camels with my meals and afterwards, 'for digestion's sake.'"

CLOSE-UP OF JOE'S GRIP. "Ball players go for Camels in a big way," he says. "I'm a steady smoker myself. Camels have real mildness all right—don't irritate my throat."

ONE SMOKER TELLS ANOTHER "Camels agree with me"

"TOBACCO GROWERS FAVOR CAMELS FOR THEIR SMOKING!" —is the majority opinion in a survey of well-known tobacco planters

"When Camel says 'costlier tobaccos' I know it's right," says Mr. Edward Estes, capable young planter, who knows tobacco from the ground up because he grows it. "Take my last crop, for instance. Camel bought all the best parts—paid me the most I've ever gotten. The men who grow tobacco know what to smoke—Camels!"

"Last year I had the dandiest crop ever," says Mr. Roy Jones, another experienced planter who prefers Camels. "I smoke Camels because I know they bid higher and pay more at the auctions for the choice lots of leaf tobacco. They paid the highest price I ever got from anybody. Considering that Camel uses finer, costlier tobaccos, it's not surprising that Camel is the leading cigarette with us planters."

Mr. Harold Craig, too, bases his preference for Camels on what he knows about the kinds of tobaccos that go into the various cigarettes. "I get the check—so I know that Camels use more expensive tobaccos. Camel got the best of my last crop. That holds true with most planters I know too. You bet I smoke Camels."
