Patton Was A Roaring, Cussing Tankman--His Job Was War And He Liked It

(By The Associated Press)

Gen. George Smith Patton, jr., warrior for more than 30 years, post with the tongue of a mule-skinner, elegant disciplinarian of the "spit-and-polish" school, was a legend long before his spectacular job was done in Europe.

His job was war, and he did it with a skill that often amazed his colleagues. But as a diplomat the hell-for-leather cavalryman who brought tank warfare to a peak of perfection failed completely. He was constantly in hot water.

The story of Patton in World War II is the story of a lightning series of Allied victories from Africa through France and Germany to Austria and Czechoslovakia.

The Patton legend flowered in the African campaign, when the roaring, cussing tankman, two pearl-handled six-shooters swinging from his hips, led American forces in the conquest of Tunisia.

To Showman Patton, danger was the privilege of an officer, and he was constantly at the front.

His doctrine was expressed pithily: "We shall attack and attack until we are exhausted, and then we shall attack again."

He carried out this doctrine with spectacular success in Europe, when his Third Army was born after the invasion. He led the Third across the Seine, the Loire, the Moselle, the Saar, the Rhine, the Danube and a score of lesser rivers. His men stormed the Siegfried line at will, took Metz, Coblenz, Trier, Frankfurt and countless other cities. They alone liberated or conquered 80,000 square miles of territory. They fought in France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Austria. They captured more than 750,000 Nazi soldiers, and killed or wounded at least a half million others.

Patton himself narrowly missed being a casualty on a number of occasions. Once, when a huge railway gun was being employed by the Germans, a 700-pound shell landed within eight feet of him. It was a dud.

On another occasion a German 11-inch shell landed 30 yards from a house in which Patton had taken shelter. The windows of the house were knocked out and a guard was injured, but Patton was unscathed.

Once Patton's little command plane was nicked by the bullets of a German craft, but Patton escaped then, too.

Patton's legend was built upon

Housing Program Will Start Jan. 15

Veterans Will Get First Call For Dwellings

Top Rent Set At $80; Ratings To Go To Applicants

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. —The government's program to spur home construction will go into effect Jan. 15, John D. Small announced today.

The chief of the Civilian Production administration ordered that dwellings costing $10,090 or less be offered first to veterans and told a news conference that the top rent of these dwellings will be $80 a month.

400,000 To Be Built

Small estimated that at least 400,000 homes will be built under the program in 1946.

"We expect," he added, "that a substantial number of these will sell at considerably less than $10,000."

This means, Small said, that a great many of the new dwellings will rent for under $80 a month.

The CPA chief outlined a new regulation restoring 10 kinds of critically scarce building materials to a priority system and announced that the Federal Housing administration will handle applications for these through its 52 field offices.

Ratings To Be Assigned

Beginning Jan. 15, home builders who qualify will be assigned a so-called "H.H." rating for these materials.

Ratings will be awarded either to individual veterans who wish to build for themselves, or to builders desiring to erect one or more buildings.

Housing already underway may be brought within the program, Small said, if it meets the $10,000 price limit, is offered first to veterans, and meets other standards outlined in the regulation.

Available To Vets

All applicants for priorities assistance in obtaining materials must agree to make the housing

Two Gunmen Debate Shooting Robbed Man

HOUSTON, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — Two long-haired youths who robbed F. L. Garner of $90 of his Christmas savings last night debated whether to shoot him, he told police today.

Garner, 60-year-old engineer, said the pair approached him and, sticking a gun in his side, demanded his money.

"Shall we plug him?" asked one.

"No, let's slug him," replied the other. They then knocked Garner down, kicked him and fled.

Seventy Persons Are Buried In Landslide

ALBACETE, Spain, Dec. 21 (A.P.) —A landslide buried 70 persons sleeping in 20 houses of Alcala Delucar, a town of 4,000 persons, two days ago.

Six dead and 40 seriously injured were taken from the houses. Little hope remained for the others. The landslide occurred after intense winds and rain.

Tire Rationing To End Jan. 1

Warning Given That Shortage Will Continue

Plentiful Supply Not In Sight For Several Months

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Tire rationing ends January 1 after four long years of thin treads, but it will be months before pent-up demand is met in full.

The decision of OPA and Civilian Production administration to lift controls is based on their "considered opinion" that there no longer is any danger of a transportation breakdown.

Still Big Shortage

Both agencies emphasized, however, that despite a big increase in tire production, all motorists will not be able to walk in and buy new casings for some time.

"A plentiful supply of tires is not in sight for several months, perhaps all of 1946," said CPA Administrator John D. Small.

OPA Chief Chester Bowles urged dealers not to sell complete sets "to those who can get along with one or two tires during the next several months."

Termination of tire rationing New Year's day will leave only sugar on a ration list. No ea ly end to sugar rationing is in sight.

Outlook Is Bright

In announcing yesterday that tire output now warrants an end of the rationing program, Bowles said production currently is at the rate of about 4,000,000 casings a month.

The outlook for production of truck and bus tires was described as even brighter than for passenger tires.

Tire rationing certificates in the hands of motorists will continue to be honored by dealers through December 31, but no new certificates will be issued after today except in emergency cases.

OPA said new cars still will come from the factory without a spare tire, and tire export restrictions will be maintained.

Relief From Season's Frigid Weather Is Promised South

Cold Wave Over Nation Blamed For 90 Deaths

(By The Associated Press)

Relief from the season's first cold weather, which has touched nearly every section of the country in the last two weeks, was in prospect for the south today, but sub-zero temperatures continued to chill parts of the northern plains and northeastern states.

Federal forecasters in Chicago said chilly weather prevailed over most of the southern states early today and temperatures of near freezing and below were reported in widely scattered areas except in Texas and Florida. Miami's early morning reading, however, was under 50 as compared to a high of 68 yesterday.

Blamed For 90 Deaths

The current cold wave has caused at least 90 deaths in 18 states.

Forecasters said temperatures in the south would moderate "quite rapidly" today, especially over the western half of the Gulf states and over the remainder of the area tonight and tomorrow. Readings were expected to be back around normal over the southern tier of states by tomorrow.

No such relief, however, was in the immediate offing for the country's cold belt. Early morning temperatures in the Dakotas and Minnesota, as for the past several days, remained below zero.

Some of the lows were 12 below at International Falls, Minn., -9 at Pembina, N. D., -8 at Minot, N. D., and -8 in Duluth, Minn.

Cold Wave From Canada

The new mass of cold air from central Canada halted in those states, however, and no sub-zero readings were reported in either Montana or Nebraska. From eastern Nebraska to Illinois, outside the sub-zero area, temperatures ranged from around 15 above to a low of five below in Springfield, Ill.

The weather along the eastern seaboard was not abnormally cold, forecasters said, but a low of -2

Car Strikers Hurl Challenge At GM

(By The United Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 21—The second month of the 175,000-man General Motors strike began today with a challenge of the corporation's right to demand that non-strikers cross picket lines of the CIO United Automobile Workers.

The UAW acted on behalf of Miss June Kragh, a salaried GM employe, in flinging down the gauntlet on this issue. Union attorneys charged that GM had been guilty of violating the National Labor Relations act in discharging Miss Kragh for refusing to go through a UAW picket line.

First Legal Answer

This petition on file with the Detroit NLRB was the first legal answer to anti-picketing court orders sought, and in some cases obtained, by the corporation. General Motors was attempting to open its 93 strikebound plants to office, maintenance and supervisory employes.

The union charge came as one part of the jockeying for position on all fronts in the "war of nerves" between the UAW and major automobile producers.

With most major negotiations here delayed until after the holi-

Forrestal To Fight Merger

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal will delay his planned resignation so he can fight to the finish against the administration plan to merge the armed forces, it was learned today.

He had planned to quit his cabinet post or or soon after Jan. 1 to return to private business in New York. Navy officials said he now plans to continue for "a couple of months."

In opposing the merger proposal now before Congress, however, Forrestal will speak as a private individual and not as an administration official.

Speak For Themselves

President Truman told his news conference yesterday that his merger recommendation did not prevent anyone in the government from objecting to it. But, he pointed out, government personnel who oppose it should make it clear they are speaking for themselves and not the administration.

Mr. Truman was asked if he thought his merger message — which embodied principal points of the Army's unification plan — would speed up Forrestal's plan to resign.

He noted that Forrestal had been trying to resign ever since he assumed the presidency. He expressed the hope, however, that the secretary would not press for an early release.

VICTIM IN CRASH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — The Coast Guard said today that Lt. Vaughn E. Salsbury, of Warrensburg, Mo., was the sixth victim of a Coast Guard plane crash near Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 18.

The other victims were indentified previously. Salsbury was the pilot of the plane.

Three Die Of Gas Poisoning

FLOYDADA, Dec. 21 (Special)—A triple funeral service for Mrs. Leland Woodward, 23, and her two daughters, Patsy, 3, and Nancy Beth, three months, who died of carbon monoxide poisoning Wednesday and Thursday, will be conducted here today at the First Methodist church with Grady Pricer, Church of Christ minister, officiating.

The family lived near Campbell which is seven miles east of Floydada. Leland Woodward, the husband and father, left home early Wednesday on a business trip and when he returned home shortly after 4 p. m., he found the family in various states of unconsciousness. The victims were rushed to the Floydada hospital but Mrs. Woodward and the baby were dead upon arrival. Patsy died about 11:55 p. m. Thursday in the hos-

Thousands Of War Veterans To Spend This Christmas In Bed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. — More veterans will spend this Christmas in hospital beds than ever before in American history and the capacity for caring for them has reached a near crisis.

Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, acting surgeon general of the Veterans administration, told a reporter today there are approximately 90,000 veterans, of all wars, under treatment in hospitals or at homes.

Thousands Are Expected

The peak of World War I veterans is expected within a year or two. The peak of World War II will not be reached until 1975, experts have predicted. They say as many as 250,000 veterans may become patients.

Meanwhile the influx of patients at veterans hospitals sets new records daily with barely enough doctors, nurses and other attendants available to attend them.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Veterans administrator, said the Veterans administration medical reorganization bill, now awaiting the president's signature, may help in staffing an additional 4,500 beds in veteran hospitals.

Slaton E Bond Drive Has 'Gone Over Top'

SLATON, Dec. 21. (Special)—The rest of the nation may be lagging in the purchase of E bonds in the Victory Loan campaign, but not Slaton.

Slaton has gone over the top in its E bond quota, just like it has in every bond drive in the past. This time Slaton is again leading Lubbock county with its E bond purchases more than $7,000 in excess of its quota.

Total purchases in the Victory Loan for Slaton now stand at $79,124.25 compared to a $69,000 quota.

Of the total bonds purchased, $25,800 were issued by the Santa Fe to its employes in their payroll plan; $13,912.50 were purchased at the Slaton postoffice and $36,411.75 were issued by the Citizens State bank.

"And with our quota already exceeded, they're still buying bonds here today," Bill Sewell, Slaton banker, said today.

Truman And Solons Near "Open Break"

New Tension In Relations With Congress Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—President Truman's relations with Congress took on a new air of tension today, particularly among southern Democrats.

Some of the latter declared "an open break" now exists between the chief executive and themselves.

"RIGHT TO BE PROUD"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (A.P.) — The House of Representatives adjourned at 1:11 p. m. (CST) today for a Christmas recess.

The Senate still had to act on adjournment.

The House will reconvene with the Senate on Jan. 14 for the second session of the 79th Congress.

In a brief speech to the score of House members who remained until the end, Speaker Sam Rayburn reviewed accomplishments of the year and said:

"We have a right to be proud of ourselves."

They told a reporter they saw little hope for improvements in the situation when legislative work is resumed next year.

Reasons For Discord

The note of discord was prompted by these three White House developments yesterday as members began heading home for the holidays:

1. Mr. Truman's news conference assertion that he would express himself forcibly soon on legislation calling for returning of the U. S. Employment Service

Be A Goodfellow And Help Deliver Christmas Gifts!

Want to really get the Christmas spirit?

Well, all you have to do is call J. C. Hilton of the B. & H. Transfer company today or tomorrow, before 6 p. m., and list your name as one who will report for duty Christmas morning for delivery of Goodfellows packages to the less fortunate children of Lubbock. The phone number is 7112.

Hilton has been designated by Chief Goodfellow to head up delivery of the packages and he'll need a lot of help for about an hour Christmas morning.

Those who will aid in the delivery of approximately 1,400 gift packages will report at 7 o'clock Christmas morning at the American Legion home, 910 Texas avenue.

It "Makes" Christmas

Chief Goodfellow says all one needs to get the Christmas spirit is to see the cheery faces of the youngsters as they receive the gifts from the Goodfellows. It's a good way to start off Christmas day.

With only packaging and delivery of the packages ahead of them, the Goodfellows could look back on their financial campaign with much pleasure. Donations continued to come in today, however, and at noon the total had reached $2,409.37.

Two Prisoners Break From Ft. Worth Jail

FORT WORTH, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — Two men battered their way out of the county jail early today and escaped by lowering themselves to the ground by using ropes made of blankets and wire.

The men, Jacob Allred, 32, a parolee from the Texas penitentiary, and Jesse Coy Kimbrough, 20, of Eastland, under conviction in three counties for theft, used bars taken from their cell cots, pried the ceiling bars loose and dug their way through the concrete floor to the sixth floor, where they made their escape.

Suggestion For Your Holiday Menu---Nice Frisky, Live Eel

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (A.P.) — Have you bought a frisky, live eel for your Christmas dinner?

Well, thousands have.

This cheery Christmas touch is supplied by the Department of Interior's eel man, William H. Dumont, who today gave a reporter this picture of the industry:

Fetch Premium Prices

Many Italian immigrants can't bear the thought of an eelless Christmas. That's why an eel caught during the fall is almost certain to be pampered along until the holiday season. Then she (the eels don't count) will fetch premium prices.

Special containers and boats are used to keep the eels alive and slithering. And now, with Christmas just around the corner, they're as popular as a nylon salesman at a sorority house.

Dumont said eels are caught from Nova Scotia to North Carolina, 200,000 to 250,000 pounds are sold each season, and most of the customers live in New York.

Gets As Big As Arm

An eel, he said, gets as big as your arm, weighs three to four pounds, and sells for 25 to 35 cents a pound.

Crash Injuries Are Fatal For Noted Warrior

Heart Affected By Pulmonary Complications

(By The Associated Press)

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Dec. 21.—Gen. George S. Patton, jr., who led the victorious U. S. Third Army from the beaches of Normandy into Czechoslovakia, died at 5:50 p.m. (10:50 a.m. Central Standard time) today a dozen days after his neck was broken in a traffic accident.

The general's stout old fighting heart weakened during the day from effects of pulmonary complications which had beset his apparent recovery from the broken neck and partial paralysis.

Wife Was With Him

Mrs. Patton was with him.

The announcement of the general's death was made by Brig. Gen. John M. Willen of the U. S. Seventh Army.

The general was 60 last Nov. 11.

He was commander of the U. S. 15th Army at the time of his death. He had served briefly as acting commander of all American forces in the European theater a few days before his automobile and an Army truck collided near Mannheim on Sunday, Dec. 9.

"Hell Of A Way To Die"

Patton himself, when his condition was critical after the motor car accident, described it as "a hell of a way to die."

Heidelberg, an old university town, was one of the thousands of places which the Third Army captured in his rough ride over Germany.

By an ironic twist, Patton had gone unscratched through all his campaigns of the war. The peacetime accident left him paralyzed from the shoulders down.

Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. commander in the European theater, commented that it was his "painful duty to announce the death of a great fighter and a great man."

The official announcement said:

He Died Peacefully

"Gen. Patton died at 5:50 tonight it was announced by Brig. Gen. John M. Willen, chief of staff of the Seventh Army. The general died peacefully."

The expert at armored warfare who campaigned brilliantly in Africa, Sicily, France, Belgium, Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia in Allied drives that staggered Germany to her knees last spring had been making an amazing recovery until yesterday.

It was then that the respiratory condition developed. By morning today, doctors were gravely worried about the deterioration in his condition. As Patton's life ebbed away, his heart became affected.

Only two minutes before the general died, the 130th station hospital issued this bulletin on his

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (A.P.)—The administration laid down specific rules and policies today giving the government fact finding boards broad authority to recommend wage increases which may or may not result in price increases.

At the same time, the boards were cautioned that, in proposing any wage increases, any individual fact finding panel must "satisfy itself" that employers could or could not absorb the additional cost at prevailing prices.

Must Inquire Into Ability

In reaching its decision, the "panel must necessarily inquire into the issue of the employer's ability to pay," the fact finders were told. However, the policy statement pointed out, "ability to pay is a limitation on and does not necessarily constitute a measure of the amount of fai rincrease."

Shortly after the statement was issued by Secretary of Labor

Gun-Running Case Dropped By Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21 (AP) — Foreign minister Francisco Castillo Najera said yesterday that labor leader Vincente Lombardo Toledano had failed to substantiate his charges that United States "imperialists" were passing weapons across the border to foment a revolution.

As a result, the foreign minister said, the Mexican government would take no further cognizance of the charges. The War department also said Lombardo Toledano's assertion apparently was without foundation.

Two Crippled Ships Reported Off Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. (AP) — Two crippled ships were reported by Coast Guard headquarters off the California coast today, one of them under tow by a Coast Guard cutter.

The Army transport Imperial, which left here yesterday bound for Seattle, was reported without power off Cape Mendocino and being towed to San Francisco by the cutter Shawnee. The Coast guard said she was not in danger. She carried Army troops.

LST 224, which nearly foundered late yesterday 33½ miles west of the Golden Gate, also was reported out of danger.

Original Poems Recited At Pen Women's Meet

When Pen Women's club met Thursday with Mrs. Ethel Mauldin English, 1722 Thirty-second, members read original Christmas poems. A plate of salad, fruit cake and coffee was served.

Couple Is Married Here At Church Ceremony

A double ring wedding ceremony for Mrs. Lela Barton and M/S J. C. Morgan was read Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jordan, 2319 Fourteenth, by Rev. Alsie H. Carleton of St. John's Methodist church.

The bride wore a gray suit with navy blue accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses.

After a wedding trip to Mexico City the couple will return to Lubbock.

Mrs. Morgan is owner of Vogue Beauty shop. M/S Morgan has been in the Army Air corps for the past 25 years and is stationed at Lubbock Army Air field.

VFW Auxiliary Receives Five Into Membership

When VFW auxiliary met at First Presbyterian Fellowship hall Thursday night, five were received into membership. They were Mesdames Mamie Marbut, Clara West, Hilda Jane Nabors, Ida Oliver, and Hilda Terperton.

Mrs. Marie Harrell, senior vice president, presided.

It was announced that $8.40 was cleared on a basket drive and the auxiliary is making 24 pillows to be sent to a hospital in Kerrville.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a meeting with the VFW Jan. 3.

Coffee and cake were served to 25 members by Mesdames Wilda Fay Childress, Beatrice Pharr and Juanita Parr.

MacArthur Denies Threat To Resign

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Dec. 21.—General MacArthur today denied a broadcast report that his headquarters had become embroiled in arguments with the Russians over assignment of Soviet occupation troops to Japan and that MacArthur had threatened to resign.

"I am here to serve and not to hinder or obstruct American government," the supreme commander of the Allied powers said in a statement issued by his press relations office.

See The Thing Through

"It is my full purpose to see the thing through. The question of Russian participation in the occupation is a matter for other decision than my own."

The statement said that the broadcast report, "purported to have been made by Larry Tighe of the American Broadcasting corporation, has absolutely no basis in fact."

It concluded:

"If Tighe made the statment he is alleged to have broadcast from Tokyo, someone must have been feeding him a funny type of 'hooch' being peddled around Tokyo on the black market."

(Taking to the air after issuance of the statement, Tighe said "I reaffirm the story which I previously broadcast that the express desire of the commander of this area is that the Russian troops not be allowed to take over the Japanese island of Hokkaido."

(Tighe said he received his information "from a reliable and honest source and I still consider it both reliable and honest.")

Tighe, in the broadcast which drew the headquarters denial statement, set forth these reports:

1. Russia wanted to send in an Army of occupation to Japan; MacArthur insisted on only a division.

2. Russia wanted to occupy the northern island of Hokkaido, which is nearest Siberia; MacArthur suggested Kyushu, leaving American forces on Konshu and Hokkaido in between the Russians and Siberia.

3. MacArthur reportedly told the U. S. State department he would resign rather than allow Russia any further participation on occupation affairs.

Charter For Boys' Ranch Is Granted

BROWNSILLE, Dec. 21. (U.P.) A boys' ranch, patterned possibly after the famous Nebraska town for boys, was a step nearer reality today, following the granting of a charter by the Secretary of State.

It is planned to establish a Rio Grande valley Boy's Ranch to rehabilitate underprivileged and delinquent valley boys. A site for the ranch was still undetermined.

Heading the board of governors for the project was Conrad Broden of Harlingen, with Col. Frank Lockhead, U. S. Army, retired, as vice president. It was planned to have every valley town represented on the board.

Backers of the project hope to raise funds through an extensive subscription drive.

Big Three Brought Closer In Session

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Dec. 21 — The exploratory conversations of the foreign ministers of Britain, Russia and the United States appear to have brought the three countries closer together than they were before the meeting, informed foreign quarters said today.

Here's The Situation

On the sixth day of the Big Three foreign ministers' meeting and the 66th birthday of Generalissimo Stalin, this appeared to be the situation on the basis of reports from informed foreign quarters:

There is a strong feeling that some results will come from the meeting and these results may be better than originally expected, but every difference among the three is not likely to be settled at this meeting.

The foreign ministers of the Big Three have no desire or intention of dominating the United Nations organization or of bypassing it.

May Meet In U. S.

As a result of the current conference the Big Three foreign ministers probably will meet in Washington in the spring, as suggested by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Stalin, tanned and rested after his long vacation, was reported to be spending the day at his desk in the Kremlin, according to his custom of pursuing his regular schedule on his birthday.

The event, however, overshadowed the meeting of Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov, Byrnes and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin as far as public interest here was concerned, for Stalin in the eyes of millions of Soviet citizens is regarded as the greatest of all Russians.

Terms Are Cordial

It was evident at a reception given last night, as at earlier social functions, that the three foreign ministers were on extremely cordial terms. They drank a round of toasts to the friendship and collaboration of their three countries, and appeared to be in a jovial mood.

During the reception, Molotov approached Byrnes and said in Russian: "I suggest we go in and have something to eat and drink."

"What?" asked Byrnes, not quite catching the Russian translation.

"He says follow him," interrupted U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

"Tell him I have been following him around up to now, why shouldn't I keep on." Byrnes said laughing.

Federal Offices To Close For Holidays

If you have business with a government office it had best be transacted by 5 o'clock this afternoon, unless it will keep until Dec. 26—the day after Christmas.

The reason is that most local federal agencies will be closed as usual—(a 40-hour work week has been set for government workers) —Saturday. They will take off Monday, Dec. 24, and naturally Christmas day, Tuesday, opening again Wednesday.

These offices include the Office of Internal Revenue, the Agriculture Adjustment Agency, the Veteran's administration, the U. S. Employment Service, the Office of Price administration area rent office and the Social Security board.

The Farm Security administration will be open Saturday. The Post Office is closing only on Dec. 25.

COUNTY OFFICES TO CLOSE TODAY

County offices will follow the example set by local government agencies and close this afternoon at 5 o'clock, reopening again Wednesday morning, the day after Christmas.

This includes all offices in the county court house according to an announcement by County Judge Walter Davies.

The county agriculture agent's office at Fourteenth and Ave. Q will be open until noon Saturday, closing then until Wednesday, Jason O. Gordon, county agent, said.

STILL TRAIN CHILDREN

WITH THE SIXTH ARMY, Shikoku, Dec. 21 (AP) — Reports that Japanese school children still are receiving military training have been confirmed by reconnaissance patrols of the 24th division. Large stores of wooden training rifles, sabers, spears and bayonets were found in obscure corners of elementary school buildings.

Funeral services for James Edwin Mullings, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mullings, 3504 Ave. P, who died late Tuesday, were conducted at 10 o'clock this morning at the Tabernacle Baptist church with Rev. Ben D. Johnson officiating. Burial will be in Roswell, N. M., cemetery under direction of Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home.

J. W. Rust of 1710 Twenty-seventh reported theft of three tires and wheels from his sedan — which was parked in his own driveway. Thieves further showed their disregard for detection by going around to Rust's backyard and taking bricks with which to prop up axles and facilitate their work. Two tires and wheels were taken off a pickup automobile of W. C. Crossmore of 2311 Thirtieth —from his own premises.

Fines of $50 and court costs were assessed late Thursday against O. P. Harlan, 65, and John Henry Middleton, 36, a negro, after they had entered pleas of guilty of drunk driving, judgments filed by County Judge Walter Davies showed. Drivers licenses were suspended for six months.

Funeral services for Mrs. Letha Abney 59, of 2424 Fourteenth, who died Wednesday in an Austin hospital, will be conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Asbury Methodist church with Dr. C. A. Bickley officiating. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Thomas Brooks Dies After Heart Attack

Thomas Frederick Brooks, 57, of 1502 Ave. B died at 2:40 o'clock this morning in West Texas hospital following a heart attack suffered an hour earlier.

He worked at the Lubbock Auction and Commission company until midnight last night. He was stricken within a short time after going home.

The body will be sent to Graham today for funeral services and burial, Bryan McDonald and Son Funeral home reported.

Survivors are the wife; a son, Aubrey T. Brooks of Graham; two daughters, Mrs. Jewel Norton of Graham, Mrs. Mildred Dendy of Lubbock; a brother, William F. Brooks of Grady, N. M.; a sister, Mrs. Odessa Smithson of Grady; six grandchildren.

Carols Ring Through Capitol In Austin

AUSTIN, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — State department employees began to trickle away from Austin today for the Christmas holidays.

Christmas carols were sung in the rotunda of the State capitol by state workers late yesterday continuing a custom that was started when Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel was governor.

Jess Mansfield of the State Comptroller's department, originator of the plan, directed.

Armistice For China Sought

CHUNGKING, Dec. 21. (AP) — A Chinese Communist spokesman at Chungking today asserted his party would put officially into writing its proposal for an immediate, unconditional armistice in China's internal war, with both sides "frozen" in their present positions.

His assertion followed government comments that the proposal was merely "propaganda" because it had been made verbally at a social function.

Surprise Is Voiced

The Red spokesman, voicing surprise at this, declared that Gen. Chou En-Lai of the Chinese Red delegation had formally requested that the truce proposal be forwarded to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Chou made the proposal to Shao Li-Tzu, member of the government delegation to the forthcoming unity conference.

"We want an armistice," the Communist spokesman said. "We considered our proposal as official and formal, but as the government wants it in writing, we are going to oblige."

To Make Concessions

The verbal proposal was announced by Communists at the very moment General Marshall, the peacemaker, stepped from his plane at Shanghai yesterday, and there were indications that both sides are prepared to make genuine concessions in efforts to end the strife.

A government spokesman acknowledged today that if the Reds' truce offer were put into writing "it would be considered in a different light."

Fighting currently is raging on, "particularly fierce and heavy," in the north China border region of Hopeh, Chahar and Jehol provinces, a Red spokesman asserted.

From Shanghai, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyr, U. S. commander in China, meanwhile issued a flat denial of Chinese Communist charges that American planes had strafed trains and villages in their sectors of north China in November and December.

Rites For Victim In Fire Are Set

RANGER, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held Sunday for Mrs. Sally Olivia Daniell, 88, who died as a result of burns sustained Wednesday when her clothing caught fire from an open gas heater.

Survivors include one son, T. C Daniell of Dallas; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Surbrook, Ranger, Mrs. Ola Kennedy of Los Angeles, Calif., and one sister, Mrs. M. E. Corbin of Abilene.

Farm Committeemen Named By Delegates

County committeemen for the 1946 Agriculture Adjustment agency program were named this week by 12 delegates representing the AAA communities of Lubbock county, meeting at the AAA offices, Fourteenth and Ave. Q.

R. C. Pace, of Acuff community, was named chairman of the three-man group to succeed R. A. Boyd, retiring chairman. S. S. Allcorn, of Monroe, was named vice-chairman and N. A. Payne was the third member named. Payne lives on the Levelland highway just outside of Lubbock.

Boyd presided at the meeting. New officials will take office Jan. 1.

Walter Y. Wells, administrative officer of the AAA in Lubbock county, announced the election and reminded farmers that they must receive written approval for 1946 soil building practices before beginning this work.

Applications are to be made at the local AAA offices by farmers and then the county and community committees will pass on these requests at their regular meetings.

WHISKY GUARDED

LONDON, Dec. 21. (AP) — As a precaution against hijackers working for the black market, armed guards have been assigned to Scottish trucks bound for London with cases of whisky—which now sells for $15 to $21 a quart in this capital.

NOYES GETS POST

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP) — Dr W. Albert Noyes, jr., chairman of the chemistry department of the University of Rochester, has been elected president of the American Chemical society for 1947, when he will assume a post once held by his father, the late Dr. William Albert Noyes.

Spain sold the state of Florida to the United States in 1819, with this country gaining full possession of the area in 1821, for only $5,000,000.

Uncle Sam's Solons Need Lot Of Things In Christmas Socks

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Farewell senators and you, too, representatives and may you find what you want in your Christmas socks.

May you, come to think of it, find some socks. As Santa Claus' little helper, I'm passing the word along. You've been good boys (for the most part) all session and your wants, with a couple of notable exceptions, are not unreasonable. I know about this because I've been jotting 'em down as you mentioned 'em. Santa, give ear to your friends in Congress.

They Need Shirts

Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Homer Capehart of Indiana and Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska are ragged at the collar and frayed at the cuff. They need shirts. Sen. Taft'll take any old kind. Sen. Capehart wants a full dress shirt with a stiff front and a long tail Sen. Wherry asks for a white broadcloth shirt and he doesn't expect to pay $7 for it, either.

The gentleman from Nebraska also wants some furniture so he'll have something to fell in his furniture store and he'd like to buy a dress for a six-year-old child at something less than $76.

Rep. Adolph Sabath of Illinois pleads for (1) a good cigar at a reasonable cost, (2) location of United Nations headquarters in Chicago, and (3) a $3,000,000 apartment house for homeless lawmakers.

More Pink Panties

Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan pines for more pink panties for the men of Detroit, since they have no hope of buying their own kind of shorts. Chairman Carl Vinson of the House naval affairs committee wants nothing new; he just wants to keep the boats he's got.

Rep. Marion Bennett of Missouri hopes for a softer seat in the House; he's tired of his current chair putting his feet to sleep.

It's cold in New England, Santa, and Rep. Charles L. Gifford of Massachusetts is fresh out of long wool union suits; he'll take 'em white, or red, but he does want 'em now. He says if he has to wait until spring when the OPA gets 'em priced, it will be too late and he will be an icicle.

Wants Wages Raised

Rep. Louis C. Rabaut of Michigan, father of nine healthy children with good appetites, wants his wages raised. Rep. F. Edward Hebert of Louisiana, needs a place to park his car and if he doesn't get it, he'll write a law. That's a threat, Santa.

Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio wants some nylons and don't go raising the old eyebrows, Mr Claus; he intends to present 'em to Mrs. B. Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi, hopes to get rid of the pickets at his house. He also dreams about a stadium witn removable roof.

Sen. Glen Taylor, the Idaho troubador, wants a master of ceremonies for the U. S. Senate. He didn't say so, but I believe (after hearing him in concert) that he also could use some guitar lessons.

Sugar For His Tea

Rep. John M. Coffee of Washington wants some sugar in his tea; corn sugar, even. Rep. Harris Ellsworth of Oregon hopes to make sweetening of sawdust. Having struggled long with the big words in the full employment bill, Rep. Carter Manasco of Alabama wants a new dictionary. A big one.

Finally, Santa, there's Sen. Pass-the-Biscuits O'Daniel of Texas, who needs Lebenstraum. He bought an apartment house, all right; now he wants to evict his tenants so he can get possession of his 14 kitchenettes and 14 baths.

Merry Christmas, fellows, and I only hope your socks ain't got holes.

Texas Is 43rd In Bond Sales

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas today had bought 76.4 per cent of its E-bond quota in the Victory Loan drive.

But among the states, the performance still was not impressive. Long in 48th place in bond sale percentages, Texas has now pulled into a tie with Rhode Island for 43rd place.

Sales now total $68,781,438. The quota is $90,000,000. The deadline is Dec. 31.

Sixty-six counties are over the top and 188 have not reached the goal.

Tarrant Over Hurdle

The only Texas big city county over the hurdle is Tarrant. Fort Worth went to town Monday when Gen. Jonatham M. Wainwright came to town. It was Wainwright Day, dedicated to the sale of E-bonds. Fort Worth dug deep and passed the $4,500,000 quota.

Then Wainwright went to Dallas but at Dallas nothing spectacular happened. The General said he was surprised to learn that Dallas was lagging in its bond drive. Dallas still is lagging. Dallas county is 169th among Texas counties in sale percentages Only 69.6 per cent of the quota has been met.

Harris county (Houston), however, could give lessons in how not to set the world on fire. Harris is in 175th place among Texas counties. The percentage of quota sold is only 67.3.

San Antonio is in 96th position among the counties but there the goal is in sight with 96.4 per cent of the total sold.

Shinto Rites Held For Prince Konoye

TOKYO, Dec. 21 (AP) — Shinto funeral services were conducted today for Prince Fumimaro Konoye, pre-Pearl Harbor premier of Japan, with representatives of the Imperial household and several cabinet ministers attending.

Konoye committed suicide Sunday to escape trial as a war criminal.

"Buy A Victory Bond TODAY."

FOUND—Mrs. Hideki Tojo, shown in picture taken when her husband was still premier of Japan, was found at Fukuoka, Kyushu, Japan. She claimed she had fled the Japanese capital to escape "the unbearable pain of Tokyo where I was exposed to public glare."

Strike Crust Said Cracked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — President Truman put squarely up to industry today the question of whether it will permit its financial secrets to become a part of government fact-finding.

At the same time, it appeared possible Mr. Truman's decision that company earnings are relevant in wage disputes might have cracked the crust of the month-old General Motors strike.

At any rate his surprise announcement read to reporters yesterday sent the CIO-United Auto Workers and General Motors officials into a scheduled conference today to attempt a return to collective bargaining.

Urged By Garrison

The move was urged by Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison of the GM fact-finding board which, along with GM and the union, was caught napping by the White House decision. Garrison said the panel would have to recess until 1:30 p. m. today to consider implications in the presidential statement.

In the meantime, Garrison suggested, the union and the company could put the recess to good advantage by getting together on the issues in the strike deadlock. After a half-hour of spirited exchanges between Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice president, and C. E. Wilson, GM president, both agreed to meet this morning.

Threaten To Bolt

As for the latter fact-finding session, General Motors already has announced its intent to bolt the hearings if the board decides to make GM profits a part of the inquiry.

The union is demanding a 30 per cent wage increase.

Mr. Truman's statement that "ability to pay is always one of the facts relevant to the issue of an increase in wages" precisely supported the UAW argument.

In the oil industry's fact-finding board, which planned to resume hearings today, company spokesmen also threatened to quit the hearings if issues of profits and prices are introduced.

Pension Rolls Show Gain For January

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (UP) — Texas, the state with greatest number of people on old age pension rolls, will increase that number in next payment, Director John Winters of the State Public Welfare department sai dtoday.

The rolls will carry 175,804 names, a net gain of 1,355 over the rolls for the preceding month. Checks averaging about $24.62 will go out to them beginning Jan. 2. An expected 40 cents reduction in the average payment will not be effective until February.

For January, 1,838 new names were put on the rolls—nearly all because of changed conditions due to the end of war. Of these, 810 were reinstatements of persons who had temporarily been self sustaining. A total of 439 persons were dropped from the rolls, now being able to support themselves, and 854 have died since the last rolls were completed.

Monthly distribution to old age pensioners now has a limit of $4,400,000 less about 3 per cent for administration cost. The state furnishes half and the federal government half.

English Socialists Against Any Form Of Regimentation

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 21.—I have just had my first private conversation with the head of Britain's new Labor (Socialist) government, Prime Minister Attlee—and I like him.

Now of course this is a wholly unorthodox way of beginning our article, but it's deliberate. Naturally it doesn't matter a pot of small beans whether I like Mr. Attlee—except for one reason—an interviewer's first and most important task is to size up his personage. During the instant between crossing the threshold and shaking of hands, the reporter must have determined the character of his man. It's partly training but mostly intuition.

Received At 10 Downing St.

The prime minister received me in his office at No. 10 Downing street. The surroundings are blacked-out by your interest in the quiet, almost retiring man who is the leader of England's leftist swing. Bald, bespectacled, the paleness of his face accentuated by a black moustache, he looks like an intellectual—and is one.

Mr. Attlee responded thoughtfully but freely to blunt questions. Because he has made it a rule not to give interviews for publication, I can't quote him here.

The labor party has come out categorically against any form of totalitarian government. But what about regimentation of the workers under the nationalization of industry such as is being inaugurated?

Labor To Be Free

Well, I believe Mr. Attlee has said in effect on the floor of the House of Commons that there will be no regimentation—that labor will be free to pick and choose its jobs without dictation by the government. In fact, should the government attempt to dictate, the trade unions would block it.

As the anti-totalitarian British socialist sees it, England's ideas of Democracy are the same as those of America. Both set a value on the human being as a human being—not just as an instrument of the state. However, John Bull's economic ideas differ from those of Uncle Sam. Politically, the British socialist is with the United States, while economically he leans more towards Russia.

Britain feels there is a special need for Anglo-American unity in the fact tha twhile their ideas of Democracy are alike, an increasing number of countries are experimenting with various shades of totalitarian government. John Bull and Uncle Sam should stand together to maintain their Democracy.

Rites Pending For Two Wreck Victims

HEREFORD, Dec. 21 (UP) — Funeral arrangements were pending today for Mrs. H. E. Wester and her daughter, Wilma Faye, 8, victims of an automobile collision near Nocona Wednesday night in which five other Wester children were injured.

Mrs. Wester was killed outright, the daughter died in a Wichita Falls hospital yesterday.

The Westers were en route to Sherman for a Christmas visit.

War Veterans Receive Better Break; Benefits Are Widened

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 — War veterans get a better break. Congress has widened their government benefits. President Truman is expected to sign all this into law shortly.

The benefits involve education, loans, amputees, disabled veterans, and any future bonus. The big changes are in the so-called "G.I. Bill of Rights." Here are the main ones.

1. Amputees — The Veterans administration (VA) had no authority under the old law to pay a veteran's travel expenses when — through difficulty with his artificial limb — he had to go to a veterans' center for a new limb or more training with the one he had.

Can Pay Expenses

As soon as the bill becomes law VA can pay the travel expenses.

2. Education — To get schooling at government expense, a veteran had to start it within two years after his discharge from the service or two years after the war's official end, whichever was later.

Now he can wait four years to start.

3. Education — To get schooling at government expense, any veteran who entered the service after he was 25 had to prove his education had been interrupted by military service.

This is no longer necessary.

4. Intensive courses — VA pays up to $500 a year for a veteran's education. It used to do it this way: It figured a year's school term at nine months. It broke down the payments to so much a month.

Now VA will pay up to $500 for a short intensive course even if — although this would be a rare case — it was for only one week.

5. There had been no provision for government pay for correspondence courses except extension courses at regular universities. Now the government will pay for correspondence courses, within certain limits.

School Pay Boosted

6. Pay at school — Subsistence pay (money for living expenses) for a veteran going to school was $50 a month, if single; $75 if married. Now it's $65, if single; $90, if married.

7. Disabled — Vocational and rehabilitation training for service — disabled veterans had to be completed within six years of war's end. Now it is nine. The limit on such a course of training was four years. Now it can run longer, depending on VA's decision.

Living allowance for disabled veterans was also increased.

8. Loans — The VA guarantees loans to veterans by banks, individuals or accredited lending agencies.

The guarantee in all cases used to be 50 per cent up to a total guarantee of $2,000.

It's still only up to $2,00 on all business loans, but for loans on real estate — like homes or farms —the guarantee under the new law is up to $4,000.

9. Bonus — The old law said any benefits received by the veteran in the form of money — like unemployment pay or while going to school — would be deducted from any future bonus he might receive. This has been wiped out.

Texas Colonel Gets Award From Mexico

MARSHALL, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Today Col. William W. Lake possessd the Mexican military medal of merit, awarded him for his services in developing friendship and cooperation between the United States and Mexico during his service as commander of Fort McIntosh at Laredo, Tex.

Lake, a Marshall druggist, retired from the Army two years ago to end 44 years of military service. His career in uniform began with the volunteer guards of Texas in 189b.

The medal was presented him by three Mexican Army officers who flew from Laredo to Barksdale field, La., and then drove to Lake's home. They were Col. Luis De La Sota Riva, Maj. Rafael L. Suarez Peralta, and Lieut. Leoncio Montemayor.

In World War I Lake commanded the First battalion, 143d infantry, 36th division in the Meuse, Argonne and Aisne Marne offensives. At his retirement, he commanded the 36th's 144th regiment.

Monkeys and apes, of all the earth's creatures, most nearly resemble man, yet they attract the largest crowds of all zoo animals.

OFF TO SCHOOL — Little Claude Blanche (left) takes smaller Josette Zagarian by the hand as they make their way to a nursery school in Meudon, a Paris suburb.

Escapee Abandons Prison Dump Truck

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 21 (U.P.)—The State prison at Santa Fe had its dump truck back today, and it was in good conditoin, thanks to a thoughtful fugitive.

According to Warden Howell Gage, the dump truck was the one used by Laster King, a trusty who escaped from the prison clay gang on Dec. 11.

The load of clay was still in the back of the truck when it was found about a half mile off the Las Vegas highway, near the Lamy turnoff, and the radiator had been drained.

On the seat was a note which said, "No water. I hate to do this. Please don't blame Bud."

Bud Mann was the guard of the work gang from which King escaped.

Meanwhile, the hunt for King continues.

Midget Newlyweds Needing Furniture

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—All that Mr. and Mrs. Waylon H. Galloway needed today was furniture. It may not be easy to find, however, since it will have to serve the needs of a couple who measure 45 inches in height each.

Waylon married Rose Mary Copeland Thursday night in the Texas Senate chambers at Austin, where some 300 persons attended, including Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and the bridegroom's boss, Secretary of State Claude Isbell.

The ceremony was read by six-foot Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist church. It was a size 2 double ring ceremony.

Was Too Scared

Waylon didn't kiss Rose Mary during the ritual. "I was too scared," he said. Rose Mary admitted not the slightest trace of fright.

After the wedding, the scene was reacted for photographers and newsreel cameramen.

There were many children in the audience, and they joined the adults in leaning far forward in their seats to witness the ceremony, which was like something clipped from a picture book.

Waylon is a messenger in Secretary Isbell's office. Long before the ceremony he bought a house in Austin. He said the furniture could wait, but it looked today as if the time were right for him to begin thinking about it.

HOPE TO DO BETTER

FORT COLLINS, Col. (U.P.)—Colorado hotel proprietors know well what a headache inexperienced help can be. When the state hotel association held its convention here there wasn't much delay in passing a $1,000 appropriation to support a University of Denver program for training hotel and restaurant employees.

Rastus Davis To Be Paid For His Melons

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — Rastus Davis is going to get paid for his watermelons.

The Senate has voted to pay $100 for 300 melons which soldiers liberated from Rastus' patch at Winona, Tex. The House already had approved a claim which Rastus filed when he discovered his choice watermelons had disappeared. All he could find was a lot of rinds.

After an investigation last June, then Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson reported that a 500-yard path between Rastus' farm and the Camp Fannin military reservation was littered with rinds. He said paths between the melon patch and the military reservation were "well-beaten."

All of this led the Senate claims committee to conclude that "the melons appear to have been taken surreptitiously." But since Stimson had ruled that the soldiers were not acting "within the scope of their employment," the Army could not be held financially responsible.

Congress went to the aid of Rastus, and as soon as President Truman signs the bill, the agrieved watermelon planter will get his $100.

Buffet Supper Will Delight All Ages

It would be hard to say just what we like best about the holidays. Certainly one of the greatest joys of the season is the gay succession of festivities, ranging all the way from Christmassy teas to after-the-theater buffet suppers.

Buffet suppers are a delightful way of entertaining both young people and the older crowd. They're the easiest of all meals to plan, prepare, and serve, whether you have a big home or a small one—a maid or no one but yourself to put on the whole affair. And they're a fine solution for handling a good sized crowd.

Decorating the holiday buffet table can be a lot of fun. One idea for decoration is to use a white or pale green linen cloth with a centerpiece of figurine candles. Arrange three or four figures in the center of a table mirror, sprinkle artificial snow in a circle around them and stand little Christmas trees in the background.

Once you've decided on the meat dish for the buffet meal, the rest of the menu seems to shape up by itself. For that important main dish you'd probably love to highlight baked ham, but if you must pass up this favorite choice until another year, there are other appropriate meat dishes with which you can easily team up a vegetable, salad, and dessert. Here are some buffet supper main dish suggestions: Casserole of sweetbreads and dried beef; veal a la king in patty shells or on crisp noodles; scalloped ham, chicken and mushrooms; beef tamale pie; ham, macaroni, mushroom casserole; curried lamb in rice ring; chop suey on rice; veal birds; smoked tongue; meat balls in Italian sauce on spaghetti; scalloped veal and spaghetti.

Nesselrode Pie Said Sure Family Treat

Nesselrode pie is sure to sate the family appetite. It is easy to make. Try it and make your family say you are wonderful when dessert comes in.

One package prepared vanilla pudding 1½ cups milk, 1 egg white, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries, ¼ teaspoon rum flavoring or rum, 1 baked 8-inch pie shell or graham cracker crust.

Prepare vanilla pudding as directed on package, decreasing milk to 1½ cups. Cool. Beat egg white until foamy throughout, add sugar gradually, and continue beating until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Fold in pudding. Fold in cherries and rum flavoring. Turn into pie shells. Decorate with halved maraschino cherries and leaves cut from citron. Chill.

Holiday Eggnog With Fragrant Port Wine

1 cup Roma Port, 2 cups milk, 2 tbsps. sugar, 2 eggs.

Separate the eggs and beat the whites and yolks separately. Retain half of beaten egg whites for a "float." Combine remaining egg whites and yolks. Bring milk to boiling point, preferably in a double boiler, and slowly stir in wine, at the same time adding sugar. Continue to stir while adding beaten eggs. Serve in preheated cups or glasses. Top with a "float" of beaten egg white and a fleck of nutmeg. Serves 6.

The recently-losed Heart Mountain, Wyo., relocation center, converted some 2,000 acres of sage brush land into a high state of cultivation.

For that Christmas supper "snack"—sliced turkey, pears stuffed with whole cranberry sauce, and a pot of baked beans.

It's Not Christmas Unless You Have Turkey And The Fixin's

FOR THIS, our first peaceful Christmas in so long a time, we all want to have a really perfect dinner. There's plenty of turkey. All we have to do is to provide the trimmings. Here's a suggested menu:

CHRISTMAS DINNER MENU

Clear Soup
Roast Turkey
Chestnut Puree
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Green Peas
Hot Rolls — Cranberry Sauce
Olives and Celery
Plum Pudding
Salted Nuts — Candies

Holiday Turkey

Pluck, wash and draw a 12-to-14 pound turkey. Rub inside and outside of bird with a mixture of salt, poultry seasoning and pepper. Stuff lightly with prepared stuffing (see below). Sew up openings or secure with skewers. Truss the bird so that wings are held back tightly against the body. Place, breast up, in roasting pan. Brush melted butter or margarine over the whole surface. Roast, uncovered, in 300 degree oven, 25 minutes to the pound for a bird of 12 pounds or less, on a slightly less time per pound for a larger bird.

For Festive Dessert

For a small Christmas dinner or holiday party for a crowd, try Chocolate Peppermint Refrigerator cake for a festive dessert.

Two squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 1-3 cups sweetened condensed milk, ½ cup water, 3 drops oil of peppermint, 24 vanilla wafers.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water 5 minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and oil of peppermint. Line narrow, oblong pan with wax paper. Cover with chocolate mixture. Add layer of vanilla wafers, alternating in this way until chocolate mixture is used, finishing with layer of wafers. Chill in refrigerator 12 hours or longer. To serve, turn out on small platter and carefully remoxe wax paper. Cut in slices. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Fifty-Eight Counties Top Quotas On Bonds

(By The United Press)

To prove that it can be done, 58 Texas counties have reached their E bonds sales quota and more in the Victory Loan drive.

But the 196 counties who haven't are the ones that count. They've kept Texas from reaching another of its records. The state is still down in 43rd place in the nation, tied with Rhode Island, and the accounting period runs out Dec. 31.

"Show your gratitude for a victorious Christmas; give victory bonds," says Nathan Adams, chairman of the War Finance committee of Texas.

E bond sales have reached 73.5 per cent of the $90,000,000 quota, Adams revealed. That leaves almost $34,000,000 Texas is short.

Texas Traffic Deaths Feared

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (AP) — Heavy threat of traffic deaths will cover Texas highways during the Christmas holidays this year with six reasons to make the season the most costly in Texas Yule records.

Col. Homer Garrison, jr., director of the State Department of Public Safety, predicts that 60 persons will die in Texas traffic accidents between Saturday and Tuesday because of:

Reasons Are Given

1. Increased traffic not possible during war years.
2. Careless driving, possibly in bad weather.
3. Worn-our cars.
4. Bad tires.
5. Excessive speeds.
6. Driving while under influence of alcohol.

The largest number of traffic fatalities ever recorded on Christmas day were 18 in 1940, Garrison said. He anticipates this Christmas to equal or exceed that total.

Increase In Drinking

He noted that strain of war years has encouraged more widespread drinking and expressed fears that alcohol will be one of the highway safety's worst enemies during the Christmas season. Already state highway patrolmen have observed a noticeable increase in drinking drivers on the roads, he reported.

The department expects a 50 per cent increase in auto thefts during the holidays, he said. Many such thefts can be avoided if drivers will remove the keys from their cars when leaving them.

Garrison urged drivers to do only necessary driving during the Christmas season, to drive carefully, to stay within speed limits and not to force worn-out cars even to those limits, and positively not to drive while under the slightest influence of alcoholic beverages. He emphasized that double precautions should be taken in bad weather.

Meet The People— San Antonio Girl Is Wrestling Boss

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — Meet a girl wrestling promoter.

Meet brunette, good-looking Dorathy Livengood, the one-time secretary who took over the boss' job when he died.

Wrestling with percentages and the other business details of her business is her big worry, Miss Livengood says. The bone-crushers themselves don't give her much trouble.

"On the whole, they are a nice bunch of boys," says the feminine promoter, one of the few in the nation.

Starting out as a secretary to Westling Promoter Ralph Hammonds at the age of 19, Miss Livengood stayed with the business when Harry Coffman took over. Then Coffman died and she joined with Mrs. Coffman in running the show. Now she is sole owner.

A busy chore, this promotion game, Miss Livengood makes out the contracts, argues with the grunt-and-groan artists about their percentages, sells tickets, handles her own publicity, and is a sort of hostess on wrestling nights.

A secretary? The ex-secretary is her own.

Doctors Study Polio Spread In Epidemic

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (AP) — Evidence that an infantile paralysis epidemic may start months before any cases are recognized was reported today in the journal of the American Medical association.

Investigation conducted at Chicago also failed to produce any evidence that flies or other insects "played a major role in the spread of the disease" in the neighborhoods studied "once the disease had been introduced."

A study of infantile paralysis in the Buffalo, N. Y., area during an epidemic last year was reported by Dr. Martha L. Smith, Dr. Edward M. Bridge, Helen E. Underwood and Grace E. Dale of the University of Buffalo School of Medicine and the Statler Research laboratories of the Children's hospital of Buffalo. They said:

"Evidence has been accumulated which points to the conclusion that the disease was prevalent in the initial community long before the first case of paralysis was recognized.

"This evidence is based on studies of the illnesses among contacts, both direct and indirect, of the first three cases of paralysis and on a knowledge of the minor illnesses, many of which were undoubtedly caused by the virus of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) which occurred in the school population during the months preceding the outbreak."

Taxpayers Kissed In Houston Tax Office

HOUSTON, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—The mistletoe hung in the city treasurer's office at City Hall today and for 15 minutes the secretaries kissed all comers.

After that, city treasurer W. B. Collier took it down and put them back to work, turning thumbs down on suggestions to make the kissing a daily practice. Advocates had argued the custom would bring in more taxpayers.

"It would bring the taxpayers all right," Collier conceded, "but we still wouldn't do much tax business."

Surprised Young Woman Editor Is Given Big Party Right In Her Dallas Office

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Between news stories yesterday, the Dallas Associated Press bureau threw a surprise party—right in the office—for a very surprised young woman editor who plans soon to swap a pencil for a rolling pin.

To most newspaper readers the Associated Press is just a couple of bold letters surrounded by a pair of parenthesis, to wit: (AP).

But we have a hunch that from now on, when Evelyn Edwards sees (AP), it will remind her of an unexpected assortment of kitchen utensils that appeared all over and around her desk when she went to lunch one day.

Came From McAllen

Evelyn came to the AP from the Valley Evening Monitor of McAllen. She has worked several desks—the relay, the Mexico wire, the big city desk, the pony.

She quickly became a favorite, for despite her skirts she asked no quarter from the few remaining male editors.

She's going to marry Capt. Don Delaney of St. Louis, a returning war veteran, and today is her last day at the AP. The staff decided togive her a surprise shower.

Sports Editor Harold Ratliff escorted her to lunch to see she would not get back too quickly. Editor Dorothea Lyle swung into action, aided by others of the staff.

On clotheslines strung in front of the desk appeared kitchen gadgets of all sorts. The desk was cluttered with things still strange to most men.

Plenty Do Signs

Signs read: "For editing potatoes," "when you brush your pots and pans, shed a tear for AP," "rolling pin—use on soft dough or on hardened husband."

Another read: "Six assorted cooking aids." It was attached to six can openers.

Another read: "Advance material—for future use." It had pictures of a baby on it.

Well, Evelyn came back. She blushed, stammered, gasped.

To complicate things further, Marvin Brau had put an urgent message on her desk, saying Chapultepec castle had collapsed in Mexico City, and something had to be done quickly to get the story.

Evelyn hasn't fully recovered yet.

Medical Association To Resume Sessions

FORT WORTH, Dec. 21 (AP) — The Texas State Medical association, which held its last general session in 1942, will resume its annual sessions "with all the trimmings" next May 6-9 at Galveston, Dr. H. F. Connally of Waco, president, announced here yesterday.

Since 1942 only sessions of the house of delegates and regional meetings of sections have been held.

Things Would Look A Lot Brighter If We Could Just Forget All About 1946 And Maybe Skip Right Along To About 1950

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 — Let's look into the crystal ball today with the government's swamis and see what kind of a year 1946 is going to be.

If we could toss it over our shoulders, forget it, and start the new year with 1947 we might escape the shudders. Or we might not.

"It's a nasty six months ahead," announced A. F. Hinrichs, acting chief of the bureau of labor statistics. "After that I hate to talk too definitely."

Figures Cost Of Living

He's the government's virtuoso of the adding machine, the card index, and the weighted sample. His job is to try to keep tab on the cost of living, which he claims has gone up only 33 per cent. A couple of senators insist he's talking through his fedora, but if we can't believe our own government's figures, who'll be our Diogenes? All right:

"Just when," asked Sen. Homer Capehart, the Indiana phonograph man, "do you figure the cost of living will come down?"

That started it. Hinrichs said the price of food would drop, beginning about next July. Only don't you start feeling cheerful about it. As your grocery bills get smaller, the cost of clothes and bed sheets will go up. So will house rent and the net result will leave the cost of living next year about where it is now.

Better By 1950

The government's sooth-saying crystal, however, is one of those de luxe, long distance jobs and Hinrichs said that by 1950 things should be better. A lot better. A whole lot.

"Between now and 1950 with present prices I can say with absolute certainty that wages will go up very substantially," Hinrichs added. "That is because the productivity of the average worker by then will be about 30 per cent greater than it was in 1940."

Capehart said, yeah, if the workers go back to work.

Yeah, said Hinrichs. He said better machinery would start speeding the average man's production by the end of next year and have him going full tilt in 1947.

"Unless we get production quickly," insisted Capehart, "we're either going to have a bad deflation, or a real, extreme inflation. That's as certain as the sun rising in the east and setting in the west."

There Are No Houses

The Senate small business committee called in Hinrichs to tell about house rentals, which he said had gone up about four per cent since 1939. That's good, he said, but it's not important.

"Dammit," he said, "the people wanted houses and there weren't any. What's the use of a low rent ceiling, if there's no house to rent?"

Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Neb., said the 33 per cent figure for the rise in the cost of living was ridiculously low. Sen. Capehart said no housewife could be forced to believe it. Hinrichs started to say something, but Sen. Wherry drowned him out with the statement that the OPA's job on clothing prices was ridiculous.

"I mean simply lousy," he said.

"Yes," said Sen. Capehart, adding that last Saturday night he had to buy a hard-boiled shirt to go to the Gridiron club's dinner. He tried 12 stores. He finally got a shirt that looked like lace.

"It had so many holes in it you could whistle through it," he said. "And the tail was too short."

The solution is obvious: Abolish 1946.

REFUND AFTER 2 YEARS

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.)—Herb Elliott of Indianapolis is a confirmed admirer of the OPA's efficiency. He recently received a check for $1.10 from a hotel in Boston, with a note explaining that the OPA had discovered an overcharge and ordered it refunded. Elliott stayed at that hotel two years ago.

SADDER, WISER — Teddy, South Bend, Ind., cocker spaniel, tried to snare a squirrel perched on a 12-foot high tree limb, and broke both front legs in the resulting fall. However, a veterinarian fixed him up with crutchcasts, above, and Teddy manages to limp around a sadder but wiser pooch.

Gregory Peck Sliced Four Ways And He's Getting Along Fine

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21—Gregory Peck is sliced four ways and likes it.

There have been reports that Greg was disgruntled about an odd contractual arrangement whereby four diffirent producers share the use of his face. But he tells me "tain't so.

"The system has worked out very well," he said. "So far I've worked hard, but luckily they have all been good pictures."

They have been good — and expensive. "Spellbound," "Keys of the Kingdom" and "Valley of Decision" cost plenty and netted plenty. And "The Yearling" and "Duel in the Sun," in which he has been working simultaneously, are among the costliest pictures ever made.

"With those kind of pictures, how can I lose," he asked. "Some people say I'm making too many, but as long as they're good, I don't worry."

Peck's only beef with the setup has been the lack of vacation time. But soon he'll get six weeks, which he'll probably spend in Arizona.

Ayres Is Undecided

I hear that Lew Ayres is still undecided about the future. He has no commitments with MGM, contrary to common belief, so it is doubtful if there will be any more Dr. Kildare pictures. Lew does not want to do any film unless it has a serious nature. The subject need not be evangelical, but it must have a purpose.

Lew is greatly interested in the 16 mm. field and may go into production of serious pictures. He directed at Republic some years ago. So far, he is concerned with getting readjusted to civilian life. Friends have noticed a notable difference — Lew now smokes and has an occasional drink, which he never did before he went into the service.

Shipyard Sued For Withheld Overtime

HOUSTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Suit for $1,433,000 in alleged unpaid overtime, plus penalties and attorneys' fees of $75,000, was filed here yesterday against the Todd-Houston Shipbuilding corporation by 326 former employees.

The district clerk's office said that it was the largest such suit ever filed locally under the Fair Labor Practices act, which permits workers to sue for double the amount of overtime pay allegedly withheld.

The workers, all former foremen, said in their suit that although they were docked for time missed on an hourly basis, they did not receive additional pay for overtime work.

Company officials made no immediate statement.

East Meets West In Hong Kong As Whites And Chinese Mingle

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HONG KONG, Dec. 21. — The East and West are meeting in this British crown colony, and seem even to be blending at times.

The classical picture of the Englishman carrying his white man's burden has him sitting down alone in a full dress suit to his evening meal while outside throb the tempting native drums.

But today English and American sailors — officers as well as men—are romancing about the place with pretty Chinese girls and squiring them to teas and dances and Hong Kong's leading night club, the Paramount. The girls are welcome in the Allied officers' club.

Racial Bars Lowered

The other night at this club with two British officers, I remarked the racial bars in the colony appeared to have been lowered enough so that one could climb over from either side without falling on one's face, and that this must represent a considerable change from the old days.

"Ah, well," said the captain, "things are still turbulent. Wait until the colony women return from England and Australia, where they have been repatriated to rest. Let's see then." You have it wrong, old boy," objected the major. "It isn't race so much as the kind of girls."

Social Relations Eased

From that I gathered that the Empire never had strong objections to its sons linking up with daughters of Chinese stockholders in the Hong Kong Power company, but did not see eye to eye with diplomatic or consular representatives who padded around colonial society arm in arm with coolie offspring.

There is a general feeling among the British here now that social relations will be easier. Their rigidity was somewhat shaken by three years of communal life in the Stanley Bay internment camp.

The Chinese will be more inclined to believe this, however, if a restriction which bans them from building and dwelling on "the peak," the colony's elite district, is removed.

Court OKs Contract Of Screen's 'Amber'

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21 (AP)—Peggy Cummins, 20-year-old Irish actress who is the leading candidate for Amber in the screen version of Kathleen Winsor's amorous novel, obtained court approval today of her contract with 20th Century-Fox studio.

The contract provides for a starting salary of $750 weekly with optional semi-annual renewals increasing to a maximum of $6,000 a week.

Birds of prey usually wear "pantaloons." These feathered pants confuse the prey at which the bird is striking with its feet.

Soldier Comes Home To Stricken Son

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 21. (AP) — Cpl. Howard D. Bishop was home from Tokyo today to be with his three-year-old son, Douglas, stricken with leukemia.

Granted an emergency furlough, Bishop flew from Japan to the West Coast in 30 hours.

His child has been given a second blood transfusion.

Big Wheat Crop Seen For 1946

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Another billion-dollar wheat crop in 1946 stood out as a possibility today on the basis of an Agriculture department report on winter wheat planted for harvest next year.

The report estimated that 51,940,000 acres have been seeded to this major bread grain. This acreage is 3.6 per cent more than the 50,123,000 acres planted for this year's crop. Seedings for the 10-year period (1934-43) averaged 46,757,000 acres.

Less Winter Wheat In '46

The department said that on the basis of conditions existing December 1, the winter wheat production next year shoull be about 750,739,000 bushels. This would be about 9 per cent less than this year's 823,177,000 bushel crop, but 28 per cent more than the 10-year average of 585,994,000 bushels.

No forecast was made of spring wheat. Nevertheless a spring crop approaching this year's 263,946,000 bushel harvest is quite possible.

The greatest increases in acreage were in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, California, Oregon and Washington. No increase was reported for Kansas, the major winter wheat producing state.

The reported condition of 1945 winter wheat on December 1 was 82 per cent of normal compared with 87 per cent a year ago.

Little Relief Looms As Rationing Ends

When tire rationing ends Jan. 1 a good many people will still be unable to get tires as demand will still considerably exceed supply, according to the opinions of Lubbock tire dealers.

All dealers questioned agreed that elimination of the red tape connected with rationing would be the biggest relief as burden of filling out applications has fallen mostly on them.

No Big Rush Expected

Stocks of automobile and truck tires, particularly the popular sizes, are low, although factores are promising increased deliveries. No sudden rush for tires is expected by most of the dealers. As one retailer put it, "a lot of people who think they must have tires now, won't want them near as bad when rationing is off." He said that tractor tire sales had dropped considerably since the large casings were dropped from the rationed list.

Another dealer predicted a greater shortage of tires during the next 90 days than during any previous period as the tire-hungry public would keep the retailers' racks cleaned out between shipments from factories or jobbers. He said it would be six months or a year before supply would catch up with demand.

Dealers anticipated that most persons holding certificates would use them before the Dec. 31 deadline.

"After that," one said, "we can start the new year with bare shelves."

Grade Schools Vote For Consolidation

Consolidation of all grade school work of Wolfforth, Foster, Hurlwood and Carlisle schools at Frenship school received topheavy approval in a consolidation election Thursday.

The vote in the four communities was 41 for the plan and two against, G. L. Farrar, superintendent at Frenship, announced last night.

This means that all grade school activities now will be handled under an outright consolidation at Frenship. Activities previously had been grouped at Frenship for high school work. The vote was the first such for grade schools in the county. The breakdown of voting showed Foster, seven for, none against; Wolfforth, 13 for, none against; Hurlwood, nine for, two against, and Carlisle, 12 for and none against.

Noted Voice Teacher Is Claimed By Death

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (U.P) — Oscar Seagle, 68, internationally known voice teacher and concert baritone, died after a heart attack yesterday at the home of Glenn Booher, a former pupil.

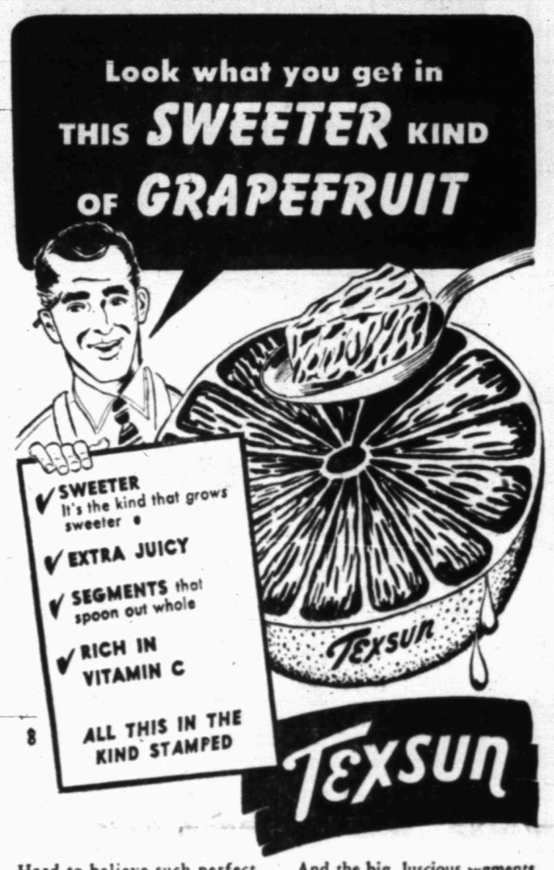

Seagle came to Dallas from New York last Saturday to avoid the severe winter weather there and also to establish classes in music. His wife, the former Nell De Wees of Chattanooga, Tenn., accompanied him.

Born in Chattanooga, the son of James and Mary Seagle, he studied at the University of Tennessee and with Jean De Reszke, famous Polish tenor who sang in Metropolitan Opera for many years. Later he became assistant to De Reszke for twelve years in Paris, then was associate teacher with the famous Pole in the De Reszke-Seagle school.

Funeral services will be held in New York and burial will be in Schroom Lake, N. Y., his home, next spring when Mrs. Seagle returns to their home.

Surviving are his wife and son, John Seagle, radio and television baritone, of New York and Schenectady, N. Y.

Highland Park And Waco Favored

Large Crowds To See Games

Both Tilts Are Rated A Tossup

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Schoolboy football slashes a trail through the middle of Texas tomorrow with two teams within 100 miles of each other favored to survive the semi-finals and meet in the state championship final next week.

This means Higland Park of Dallas is the general choice to beat Wichita Falls at Fort Worth and Waco is picked to tumble Goose Creek's Ganders at Houston.

Others Feel Differently

However, there are plenty who look at it the other way and forecast that the finals will be between a team from the far north and one from the south.

Nevertheless, the largest crowds of the season are predicted with 25,000 turning out at Fort Worth and the same at Houston—each the greatest throng ever to see a schoolboy game in either city.

There is little on which to base selections in tomorrow's games. Highland Park and Wichita Falls boast similar records and when they met in mid-season in a non-conference game the result was a 7-7 tie.

Given Even Chance

Waco and Goose Creek did not play. Waco beat Marshall, which won over Lufkin, which downed Goose Creek. But there's a lot of difference in the Goose Creek team of today and that which took a 7-6 defeat from Lufkin. It has come on with a rush, is sound physically again and should be given at least an even chance of victory over Waco.

Indirectly, Waco and Goose Creek can be compared as to virtually even strength. Jeff Davis of Houston beat John Reagan of Houston 34-19. Waco beat Jeff Davis 26-12. Goose Creek beat Reagan 25-0. Those comparisons would indicate Waco and Goose Creek to be about the same. However, these games also were played in early season and can offer nothing tangible now.

Defense Featured

Both games appear to feature defense. All four teams have fine lines. Wichita Falls and Highland Park's forward walls fought to a stand-off. Waco's line has been going great while few teams have been able to score through Goose Creek's forwards.

Individual offensive stars, however, stand out in all backfields. With Highland Park it's Bill Moxley, with Wichita Falls it's Lindy Berry, with Waco it's Cotton Lindloff and with Goose Creek it's Ted Hunt.

Hitting all four games last week on the nose, your correspondent is rather brave in making his selections this week—brave enough to go against the general choice in one instance. Here they are (anticipated attendance in parentheses):

Highland Park vs. Wichita Falls at Fort Work, 2:30 p.m. (25,000) — Flipped a coin but it rolled into a crack in the floor; have to make a choice on our own since that was the last dime—Highland Park by a touchdown.

Waco vs. Goose Creek at Houston, 2:30 p.m. (25,000) — Waco will fall out in the semi-finals the second season in a row; Goose Creek by a touchdown.

Top Garden Bout On KFYO Tonight

Tony Janiro (above), the Buckeye boy from Youngstown, and Humberto Zavala, the Mexican who trounced Cleo Shans recently, headline tonight's boxing show at Madison Square Garden in New York.

When these two met last April, they battled furiously on even terms until the contest was halted because of an eye injury suffered by Zavala in the fourth.

Zavala, strictly a slam-bang fighter who sails into an opponent with both fists flying, has been an ace attraction since he arrived in the East. He has a spectacular ring style featured by constant punching and a bewildering "switch stance."

Babe Zaharias Top '45 Woman Athlete

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias, who has been winning assorted championships for the last 15 years, today was named the outstanding woman athlete of 1945 by an Associated Press poll of 70 sports editors.

Mrs. Zaharias dethroned the 1944 champion, Ann Curtis of San Francisco, to reign beside Byron Nelson, the native Texan who was elected male athlete of the year for the second straight time. Mrs. Zaharias had 126 points to 104 for Miss Curtis.

MILDRED ZAHARIAS

Concentrates On Golf

Although Mrs. Zaharias first won fame as a track star and later competed in most sports as an amateur and professional, she now concentrates on golf. It was in that field that she was outstanding during the '45 campaign.

In addition to defeating Betty Jameson in a 72-hole challenge match at Los Angeles and San Antonio, Mrs. Zaharias became the first woman to capture three Western open golf titles. Although she was upset by Phyllis Otto in the Western amateur, she bounced back to cop the Texas open.

Miss Curtis swept the field at the national AAU swimming championships in Chicago and Los Angeles, but the 19-year-old beauty was defeated by Brenda Helser in the Western AAU championships at San Francisco when the Portland, Oregon ace established new American records in the 100-meter, 100-yard and 200-meter free style events.

Sarah Cooke Third

Sarah Palfrey Cooke, who returned to tennis competition and wrested the national singles title from Pauline Betz at Forest Hills, was third with 70 points.

In fourth place, completely outdistanced by the top trio, came Brenda Helser with 15 points, followed by Patty Berg and Pauline Betz, tied for fifth place at 14 points.

Also rans: Esther Williams 4, Phyllis Otto 3, Dorothy Germain, Sonja Henie, Nancy Merki, Alline Banks Pate, 2, Dorothy Kirby, Betty Jameson, Stella Walsh, Mildred Burke, Marilyn Phillips, Anne Lou Ballew and Helen C. Morgan, 1.

Mrs. Zaharias is a two-time winner in the poll. In 1932 she was chosen the woman athlete of the year for her prowess in track. Alice Marble is the only other woman named twice. The tennis star was elected in 1939 and 1940.

Sun Bowl To Be Sell-Out

EL PASO, Dec. 21. (AP) — It will be a sell-out, with 16,000 fans packed in the Sun Bowl Jan. 1 when New Mexico university plays Denver university's pioneers.

Officials reported today that all reserved seats are gone and that only a few hundred general admission tickets are left.

Comparative scores indicate that the two teams will be as evenly-matched as any of the 10 sets of rivals to play in past Sun bowl games. In the regular season Denver won 19-7 from Utah and lost to the same team 33-21. Utah in turn edged the New Mexico Lobos 21-20. Both principals defeated Colorado university by the same margin — Denver winning 14-8 and New Mexico 12-6.

First Team To Fly

The Pioneers will be the first college team to fly to the Sun bowl. They will arrive here Dec. 26. The Lobos will leave Albuquerque Dec. 31 and spend the night at Las Cruces, N. M., arriving here shortly before the game.

Denver's band and pep squad will entertain the fans in a between-the-halves show. The game will be a feature of the Sun carnival which will attract 34 southwestern Sun princesses and the Sun queen, Miss Barbara Price.

Canyon Buffs Will Meet Loyola Cagers

(By The United Press)

Those tall Texans from Canyon—the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes—will play in Kansas City's huge municipal auditorium tonight in the first half of a two-night stand. Their opponent will be Loyola university of New Orleans, last year's National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball champion.

Saturday night, the Buffs will play Valparaiso U. Both games are sponsored by NAIB.

Setting the pace for the Buffaloes has been 6-foot, 6-inch Hank Decker, center, who has netted 59 points in four games. Crowding him is Capt. J. W. Malone, All-American guard, with 57 points.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders, who have lost their last four starts—two each to S.M.U. and T.C.U.—are on a 16-day holiday, but Coach Polk Robinson said most of the squad would practice regularly during the vacation. Tech's next home game will be on Jan. 5 when the Raiders play New Mexico university.

While West Texas is battling one Loyola U. tonight, Texas Christian will be playing Loyola University of Chicago in the windy city. The Horned Frogs are matched against Bradley Tech at Peoria, Ill., Saturday.

Grid Fans Start Lining Up 28 Hours In Advance To Get Tickets For Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 21, (AP)—Today was the day for 7,500 of football's faithful followers. There were that many tickets on public sale for the Alabama-Southern California New Year's game. And more than that many of the faithful.

They started lining up at 5 a. m. yesterday—28 hours before the windows opened, and spent all day and night, sometimes in a drizzle, just waiting.

But it was an old story to customer No. 1 R. W. Tomlinson of Baltimore, Md., who said he once waited 72 hours in Philadelphia for World series tickets.

Some luxuriated in sleeping bags.

Remainder of the 90,000 odd seats are distributed chiefly through the two competing schools.

Today's Sports Roundup—

New Orleans Or Dallas To Be Selected As The 10th City In All-America Grid Conference

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 — Today's hottest tip right from the old feed box is that Bing Crosby has not bought a single big league club within the past 48 hours . . . Either New Orleans or Dallas, in about that order, is expected to be named within the next few days as the 10th city in the All-America football conference — to break the jump, someone suggested, between Los Angeles and Rio De Janeiro . . . Gus Lesnevich, the 175-pound champ, has begun yodelling for a shot at the winner of Louis-Conn. Says he taught 50,000 men how to box during the war and learned plenty himself.

"Nope," says Frank Hyde of the Jamestown, N. Y., Post-Journal, falling for the bait, "that 49-year (high school) grid rivalry between Menominee and Marinette isn't the oldest as far as we apple knockers up here in western New York are concerned. The records show Jamestown and Warren, Pa., have been playing since 1889, which would be 56 years if my school housin' is proving itself."

STIFF OPPOSITION

Noting that Larry MacPhail's assault trial is due to come up at Bel Air, Md., on Jan. 3, Jerry Mitchell of the N. Y. Post comments: "Only one thing is certain now — the John Law who slapped the boss Yankee into the clink will have stiff opposition in the coming election. MacPhail is backing the rival candidate for sheriff with everything at his command, including his celebrated vocal chords."

News from Detroit says there is an excellent chance that the champion Tigers' outfield next season will consist of the star trio which helped Beaumont win the Texas league flag before the war — Hoot Evers, Dick Wakefield and Anse Moore . . . Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons the horse trainers, has had the cast removed from his broken leg and is getting around again. After having spent most of his life ducking horses' hooves, with never an injury, Fitz cracked the "laig" in a scuffle with his dog.

McCloskey Vets To See Oil Bowl Game

HOUSTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—Twenty-five veterans from McCloskey General hospital, Temple, with their wives and sweethearts will see the Oil Bowl game here Jan. 1 from a special box.

They will be the guests of the Sports Writers activities committee.

ALEXANDER LEADS

MANILA, Dec. 21 (AP) — Stewart (Skip) Alexander of Durham, N. C., 1941 national amateur medalist, led the Philippine Army Olympic golf tournament at the halfway point today with a par shattering 57 which set a new record for the hilly Baguio course.

Johnny Harden, El Paso, Texas, was second with 59 and Joel Klar, Fort Worth, Texas, was third with 61.

Weather Is Clear Over North Texas

(By The United Press)

Cloudy skies prevailed over much of South Texas today with a light drizzle reported falling at Corpus Christi and Laredo, but clear weather predominated over north and west portions of the state.

Temperatures generally were about the same as yesterday's minimums, with freezing weather reported as far south and east as Houston and Beaumont.

New Cold Front

A new cold front moved toward the state and was expected to hit the Panhandle tonight and slip across the state late Saturday afternoon and tonight with temperatures tomorrow night ranging down to near the season lows recorded early in the week.

Minimums between 18 and 23 were forecast for the Texas Panhandle tonight.

Partly cloudy and near 50-degree weather was predicted for Fort Worth tomorrow when the state semi-finals football game between Highland Park and Wichita Falls will be played.

Rain At Houston

Possible rain was in store for Houston, where Goose Creek and Waco meet in the other playoff game.

Last night's minimum included 18 at Wink, 20 at Amarillo, 21 at Pampa, 26 at Texarkana, 27 at Big Spring, Wichita Falls, El Paso and Lufkin, 28 at Sulphur Springs, Gainesville and Pyote, 29 at Beaumont, 31 at Dallas, 32 at Fort Worth, Guadalupe Pass, Waco and Houston and above freezing elsewhere ranging up to 45 at Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

days, main attention in the union's industry-wide battle for a 30 per cent wage increase centered in Washington.

Board In Session

The top strategy leaders of the UAW were in the capital, where President Truman's fact-finding board for the General Motors dispute was in session.

Union officials remaining in Detroit were only moderately encouraged by Mr. Truman's statement backing the union position that the books of a company involved in a labor dispute should be opened to the government. They saw some hope in the agreement by H. W. Anderson, GM vice president, and Walter P. Reuther, UAW strike leader, to arrange further collective bargaining.

To Resume Talks

The union looked again to Ford Motor Co. to set a precedent for discussing wages in relation to profits and prices. John S. Bugas, Ford industrial relations director, said he anticipated "very serious negotiating" when talks with the UAW resume Jan. 8.

Bugas told reporters that Ford profits would be discussed "as much as the company is prepared to discuss them." But he emphasized that any final settlement of the wage issue "must depend on our ability to increase employe productivity and reach volume production."

Cold Wave

was reported in Albany, N. Y. Cold weather still prevailed in the New England states, with lows of -6 in Bangor, Me., and -5 in Portland, Me.

No Heavy Snows

No heavy snow falls were reported although snow was general over the Dakotas and western Minnesota, with a forecast of falls extending over the central plains states today and tomorrow.

Temperatures along the Pacific coast and in most of the mountain states were on the way back to near normal, forecasters said. They reported a reading of 42 above in Cheyenne, Wyo., today while a couple of hundred miles east in North Platte, Nebr., the mercury was 15 above.

Warmest city on yesterday's weather map was San Diego, Calif.,

Housing Program

available to veterans during the period of construction and for 30 days thereafter.

At the conclusion of that period it may be sold or rented to a non-veteran at the same price or rental applicable to veterans.

Building materials covered by the new regulation are:

Common and face brick, clay sewer pipe, structural tile, gypsum board, gypsum lath, cast iron soil pipe and fittings, cast iron radiation equipment, bath tubs, lumber and millwork.

Here are principal provisions of the new regulation drawn up at the direction of President Truman in a move to ease the acute housing shortage:

1. Applicants for the so-callel "H. H." ratings must submit specifications on homes to be built under the program, along with the price or rental at which the dwelling will be made available to veterans of World War Two, including merchant seamen. The FHA must be satisfied that the proposed price or rent is "reasonably related to the cost of the proposed accomodations."

2. Builders must show they will be ready to start construction within 60 days. They also must demonstrate that they have effective control of the land, that financing is assured, and that arrangements have been made for local building permits, utility services and the like.

3. In the case of a resale, veterans or other purchasers are pledged to the same 30-day waiting period during which the dwelling must be offered exclusively to other veterans.

4. The regulation also provides for conversion of existing construction where it can be shown trat this will result in increased housing facilities.

5. Building materials also may be channelled to dormitories or group housing for educational institutions for the benefit of veterans.

Authority for the new program stems from the second war powers act.

Patton Dies

condition:

"General Patton's condition is considered serious. There has been a pulmonary complication which has resulted in an accumulation of secretions in the lungs thus embarrassing respiration. Paralysis of one side of the diaphragm in the intercostal resulting from the spinal cord injury has made it difficult to get rid of these secretions by cupping. As a result of the pulmonary congestion, the heart has become embarrassed, however, the pulse is strong and the temperature only slightly above normal. The chief medical consultant for the theater has been in attendance."

British Chiefs Fly To Batavia

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 21 (AP)—British Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey and Air Chief Marshal Sir Keith Park made a flying visit to Batavia today as British forces campaigned against Indonesian troops east of Bandoeng, the summer capital.

Dempsey is the Allied ground forces commander and Park the chief Allied air officer for the southeast Asia theater. They took off after only a few hours and nothing authoritative could be learned about the purpose of their trip.

Dutch Troops To Be Used

(J. H. A. Logeman, Netherlands minister for overseas territory, told the lower house of the Dutch Parliament at the Hague today that full use will be made of Netherlands troops in the islands.)

Nine Batavia-based RAF planes blasted roadblocks and Nationalist strongpoints east of Bandoeng to clear the line of march for British ground troops.

One pilot said that the planes fired rockets and dropped bombs which "obliterated" all trouble spots.

(The Dutch news agency Aneta said in a dispatch from Singapore that several thousand Dutch Marines trained in the United States had arrived today off the Malayan coast aboard the Dutch steamer Noordam.)

Cussing Tankman

incidents like these.

Went Ahead Of Men

The Third Army was about to cross the icy Sure river in Germany, into a hail of enemy gunfire. Patton himself, ignoring the enemy bullets, leaped into the stream ahead of his men and swam across.

Once during the North African campaign he ordered a visiting major general to "get to the top of the hill so you can get shot at a bit."

His own tank in the African campaign had a yellow-striped turret with two metal flags in front—one the corps insignia, the other his major general's two stars. Patton would sit in the turret, head and shoulders protruding, scanning operations and spitting out dust and expletives. On his head was a shock helmet—not GI, but one of his own design.

Awed The Natives

Patton's pomp made him the awe of native populations. Besides the pearl-handled pistols, he often wore a leather-encased, needle-pointed French sword. He was garbed in fancy-cut riding breeches and puttees much of the time, and wore a shiny helmet.

Known as a lover of sartorial elegance himself, even in the field, he was the bane of those who were careless in such matters. Infantrymen who knew him as "Old Blood and Guts," "The Green Hornet," "Gorgeous George" or just ylain "Georgia," were well aware of the sharpness of his tongue. Said one of them, just fresh from the sound of Patton's high-pitched voice:

"Man, you haven't lived until you've been cussed by Old Blood and Guts."

"Put Your Leggings On"

Once in the heat of battle a young lieutenant was informed there was a message for him from Patton and, pleased, the officer asked what it was. The courier replied: "The General said for you to put your leggings on."

Patton cussed out enlisted man and officer alike. But his soft side showed often. Once, informed of the death of an aide at the front, he broke into tears, mumbling, "I'm acting like an old fool."

A sparkling success in war, Patton was constantly getting in difficulties because of his thunderous pronouncements, or his quick temper.

Made Some Enemies

The first big wave of criticism was the soldier-slapping incident in Sicily. Then, in the spring of 1944 in London he made a speech in which he said "it is our destiny to rule the world—we Americans and British and of course, the Russians." In Congress representatives got hot under the collar. The War department quickly disavowed the remark and said it was Patton's personal view. But later, after victory upon spectacular victory, Congress was to ring with Patton's praises.

He was removed from the command of his beloved Third Army and the eastern military district in Germany after his outbreak of Sept. 22, 1945, in which he expressed impatience with the denazification program. He was quoted as comparing "this Nazi thing" to the "Democratic and Republican fights back home."

Relieved Of Command

The wrath at home was prompt. In its wake Gen. Eisenhower ordered Patton to report personally on his administration and explain the statement. Subsequently Patton, on Oct. 2, was relieved of his Third Army command and took over the 15th, a paper Army whose duty was to prepare reports on lessons learned during the war and make recommendations for the future.

Patently the new job irked the swashbuckling Patton, and there was talk that he would retire from the Army soon. He declined to confirm or deny these reports, but said when and if he did retire he would devote himself to his favorite activities (besides war) — hunting, fishing and sailing.

Patton took over briefly in November, 1945, as commander of U. S. forces in the European theater in the interval between Gen. Eisenhower's departure and the appointment of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney to the post.

The Softer Side

The softer side of Patton's nature displayed him as a poet and an intensely religious man. His poem, "God of Battles," has been set to music. He was fond of Biblical quotations, liked to sing in church, and knew the episcopal order of morning prayer by heart.

Considered one of the wealthiest men in the Army, Patton could have retired to a life of ease after the European war ended. Instead he wanted intensely to fight the Japanese. He never had the opportunity.

Many military men believed Sicily would have taken much longer to conquer than 38 days without Patton's driving force.

PRESSURE RELAXED

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Pressure on the stock market relaxed today and, while many leaders continued their lower drift in another of the slow sessions for several months, scattered rails and industrials negotiated modest recoveries.

Year-end tax adjustments still provided a price brake. Bullish contingents also had to contend with labor-management stalemates and the wide latitude given fact-finding boards by the administration. Numerous customers got an early start on the long holiday.

Transfers of about 900,000 shares compared with 800,000 Thursday.

New highs for the move were posted for Cerro de Pasco, Panhandle Producing and Shamrock Oil. Resistant were N. Y. Central, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Autocar, Roan Antelope, Sunshine Mining, Silver King, Chrysler, Goodrich and Texas Co.

Bonds were spotty with rails in supply.

OPPORTUNITY BECKONS

DOUGLAS, Wyo. (U.P.)—Bachelors in Douglas either have found private laundries or are washing things out themselves now, following the closing of the Douglas Steam Laundry here for the second time because of help shortage. Owner George A. Ashland hinted that any young man interested in learning the laundry business "from the ground up" might see him for a good proposition.

Taxi Service Is Restored

Taxicab service to Municipal airport was restored today after the Texas Railroad commission entered an order revoking the permanent certificate issued Sept. 17 to W. L. Coker to transport passengers between the city and the air field, it was announced at the City hall this morning.

The commission, according to a copy of the order received by city officials, took the action after recognizing that the airport is within the suburbs of the City of Lubbock and therefore "has no jurisdiction under the motor carrier act to grant to a passenger service for hire."

Of Local Nature

The order thus sustained a bill of exceptions which the city filed with the commission contending that the airport was city-owned, that passenger transportation was of a local nature and, hence, the city, not the state, was the agency having rightful claim to jurisdiction.

Coker, a returned veteran, was granted an emergency certificate to haul passengers to the port last July 2, and was granted a permanent certificate Sept. 17.

The certificate, in effect, excluded cabs from making trips to the field, and the commission sent enforcement representatives here to see that the cab companies did not duplicate the service.

Officials said the order did not affect contracts, awarded on a competitive basis, under which Coker delivers mail and express to the field.

Fact Finders

Schwellenbach, the oil-wage fact finding board announced its adjournment until Jan. 7 at the request of several of the oil companies involved.

The recess was taken to allow the companies and the CIO oil workers union to resume collective bargaining, on a plant-by-plant basis, over the 30 per cent wage increase demanded by the union. Attorneys for Socony-Vacuum, Standard Oil of Ohio, and the Atlantic Refining Co., said they would use the time to bargain with the union and that in some cases the negotiations already were underway.

Plan For All Boards

Although the Schwellenbach fact finding rules and policies were given direct to the oil board, they were considered a blueprint for all federal fact-finding.

The panels were given specific permission to recommend either wage increases which employers could absorb without increasing prices or, when necessary, increases which might result in price advances.

Further, the fact finders will be allowed to suggest a broadening of wage-price stabilization standards now in force so as to extend possible price relief in specific cases.

WAR DADS AID VETS

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—American War Dads are doing their part in reconversion by operating a County Council and Open Service Bureau to help returning servicemen.

The office is open every day, and one night a week. Servicemen may visit there to get aid in obtaining employment, medical care, living quarters, or legal advice.

2. Release of letters to key lawmakers in which the President termed "unacceptable" a House substitute for the so-called "full employment" bill the Senate has passed.

Order Is Issued

3. Issuance of an order authorizing the Fair Employment Practice Committee (FEPC) to investigate and report on employment practices in private industry until next June 30.

Mr. Truman's actions were termed "a political blunder" by Rep. Gibson (D.-Ga.).

Talking to a reporter Gibson added:

"It was just like waving a red flag in our faces. He should have left well enough alone. Now we have an open break, just like with the late President Roosevelt."

Gibson and many other southerners were aroused particularly by the FEPC directive. They have been constant critics of the agency.

Large numbers of both Republicans and Democrats disagree with Mr. Truman about the employment service, which has been under federal control since early in the war.

The President maintained that too early a return of USES to the states would upset the government's reemployment program for veterans and former war plant workers.

In the months-old fight over employment legislation, it became known that even House Speaker Rayburn (D.-Tex.) is at odds with the President over what type of a bill should be adopted.

Several legislators quoted the speaker as saying he believed the House version to be "a good workable measure which has meaning and will help prevent mass unemployment in the future."

Lacks Main Features

The House bill, which Mr. Truman said "lacks essential features" of the legislation he wants, sets forth a federal policy of maintaining "a high level of employment."

The Senate bill called for a government program of "full employment," and also specified that all able-bodied Americans wanting jobs have the right to an opportunity for them.

The President declared that no bill containing "substantially less" than the Senate version can accomplish the desired purposes. His remarks were contained in letters to Chairman Wagner (D.-N. Y.) of the Senate banking committee and Chairman Manasco (D.-Ala.) of the House expenditures committee.

Gas Poisoning

Fourth Critically Ill

A fourth victim of the poisoning, Mrs. Doyle Woodward, 47, of San Diego, mother of Leland Woodward, is in a critical condition. She was here to spend the holidays with the family.

Neighbors reported that a gas tank had been installed last Tuesday and that the family suffered headaches, but thought their discomfort was due to fumes from paint on new stoves. Dr. Guthrie of the Floydada hospital attributed the deaths to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Mrs. Leland Woodward was the former Miss Marie Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Harrison of Floydada. She was born and reared in Floyd county. Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. Blanton Hartsell and a brother, Milton.

Burial will be in the Lakeview cemetery under direction of Harmon Funeral home.

Tulia Man Injured In Oklahoma Wreck

CLINTON, Okla., Dec. 21. (U.P.)—One man was injured critically and two others seriously when the car in which they were riding overturned on a highway 14 miles west of Clinton last night.

In critical condition at a Clinton hospital today was Harold Lloyd Pitts, 20, Tulia, Tex., who was hitch-hiking to Bristol, Ind., to spend Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Winifred Angele Myer. He suffered fractures of the skull and right arm and internal injuries.

Beer was made by the Egyptians 5000 years ago.

News Briefs

Condition of Mrs. Roxie Phillips, about 39, remained critical this afternoon in St. Mary's hospital, where she had been rushed late Thursday morning suffering of exposure. She had fallen on the floor of her residence, at 3104 Ave. H, and apparently had lain there for hours. A neighbor discovered her and called the sheriff's department. The woman several months ago was divorced from Buck Phillips, who then was in the armed service, relatives said.

James Lawrence of Wolfforth suffered a painful facial injury about 1 o'clock this afternoon when the cap on a butane tank blew off and hit him in the face. The accident occurred at the Lubbock Machine company where he is employed. He received emergency treatment in West Texas hospital.

A rash of tire thefts reported earlier in the day continued evident in the early afternoon, police said. Reports listed two tires and tubes taken from Mrs. Luther English of 1722 Thirty-second, two from B. C. Edwards of 1717 Twenty-seventh. Theft of 100 feet of garden hose was reported by O. L. Nislar of 1722 Thirty-third.

Campaign speeches were made by candidates nominated to fill American Business club offices during 1946 and ABC members contributed $26 (in addition to their gift of toys) for the Goodfellows fund when they met today in Hilton hotel for weekly luncheon. Members will vote, by secret ballot, next Friday for the following candidates: Lewis Kerr, Hobart Nelson, A. B. Watkins, and Gradie Bownds, president; J. D. Corcorran and Porter Garrett, first vice president; Bill Pittman and Cliff Widener, second vice president; W. D. McCarty, Bob Rose, Grady Knight, John Wilson, Harry Van Horn, and A. C. Sanders, sergeant-at-arms. Men nominated for board of governors are Douglas Adams, Henry Buell, J. O. Jenkins, V. L. Ellis, Hugh McKelvey, Carl Sutton, H. V. Horn, and Lester White. Luncheon guests were Elvin Matthews, Jarrell Brown, Cadet R. B. Hardin, Raymond Phillips, Ted Campbell, Alvin Griffin and Don King.

Muleshoe Youth Dies In Hospital Tuesday

MULESHOE, Dec. 21. (Special)—Wayland McCarty, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McCarty of route 2, Muleshoe, died about midnight Tuesday in a hospital here following an illness of only several days.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon here at the Primitive Baptist church followed by burial in the Sudan cemetery, Rix Funeral home of Lubbock reported.

Other survivors are four brothers, Loron of Spur, C. E. of Big Spring, Herbert of Denver, Colo., Dunane of Muleshoe; three sisters, Mrs. W. L. Pullen of McAdoo, Mrs. Joe D. Hinson of Ft. Stockton, Mrs. A. B Bilbrey of California.

Revs. W. L. Jackson and Jimmie Bass will officiate at the service.

George James, 72, Is Taken By Death

George H. James, 72, of 814 Ave. C, a Lubbock resident for 10 years, died at 6:20 o'clock this morning at his home following an illness of several weeks.

Services will be conducted at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Plains chapel with burial in the Lubbock cemetery.

Survivors are his wife; five sons, J. C. and Doyle James, both of Lubbock, F. E. James of Fresno, Calif., Orby James of the armed forces stationed in France, Paul James who in en route home from overseas; two daughters, Mrs. M. K. Eller and Mrs. F. B. Greer, both of Lubbock.

Flu Epidemic Is Increasing

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — Influenza threatened today to blight Christmas holidays of many Texans. The state health department reported 11,259 new cases in Texas for the week ended Dec. 15, and noted that the ailment is on the increase.

There was possibility also, a health department spokesman said, that there were even more cases than reported. The weekly total boosted the year's aggregate to 69,402 cases.

San Saba Highest

Health officials reported 305 new cases in San Saba county—highest in the state. Next highest was Falls county with 400 cases.

New patients in other counties with more than 100 cases numbered: Childress 150, Clay 170, Comal 129, Cooke 193, Deaf Smith 300, Dewitt 109, Eastland 131, Ellis 119, Erath 178, Gillespie 113, Grayson 254, Hale 64, Harris 117, Haskell 214, Henderson 110, Hockley 149, Lamb 366, Lubbock 113, McLennan 189, Midland 281, Motley 150, Nueces 293, Smith 218, Stephens 225, Sutton 128, Tom Green 315, Travis 182, Webb 340 and Wilbarger 156.

"The serious consequences of influenza are its complications: pneumonia and meningitis," the health department's bulletin said. "There is an increase of 128 cases of pneumonia over the number reported for the previous week. With cold, wet weather there will be further increases and every effort should be directed to prevent pneumonia.

"Health officers should warn persons recovering from influenza about complications and when such occur, physicians should be consulted immediately."

Eels are believed to do all their housekeeping in the Sargossa sea, a seaweedy portion of the North Atlantic.

Nobody knows why or how the eels find their way back to the Sargossa sea. And nobody knows why or how the kiddies make up their minds to strike out for places they never heard of, on both sides of the Atlantic.

Cooked On A Spit

But if they didn't, a lot of Italians would be most unhappy.

A girl at the Italian embassy said the eel-eating habit is confined chiefly to Naples and Sicily. She had no idea how it started.

Eels are cooked on a spit, she said, and are flavored with laurel leaves.

Did she plan to eat eel this Christmas?

"Oh, no!" she squealed.

Complete American Delegation To UNO Gets Senate Approval

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP) — The complete American delegation to the first formal session of the United Nations organization bore Senate approval today—after a two-hour scrap.

Four of President Truman's selections underwent sharp criticism from various senators yesterday, but it was obvious from the start that the entire group was going to receive overwhelming approval. It came by voice votes, for:

Stettinius Is Leader

Edward R. Stettinius, jr., former secretary of State, as representative on the security council and also to the first session of the general assembly to be held in London early in January.

Senators Tom Connally (D.-Tex.) and Arthur H. Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) and Mrs. Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, the late President's widow, as assembly representatives.

Rep. Sol Bloom (D.- N. Y.), Rep. Charles A. Eaton (R.-N. Y), former Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, John Foster Dulles of New York, and former Republican Senator John G. Townsend, jr., of Deleware as alternate representatives to the first assembly session.

Senator Langer (R.-N. D.) criticized Stettinius, member of a wealthy family, because of his associations with "high finance and big business." But he announced he wouldn't vote against him, because "the United Nations organization can never be placed into operation" and because the appointment, he said, would not amount to more than a recognition of the nominee's good citizenship.

Opposes Mrs. Roosevelt

Senator Bilbo (D.-Miss.) said he was certain 98 or 99 per cent of the people of "the sovereign state of Mississippi" would back him in opposing Mrs. Roosevelt's nomination. He said his reasons were based on her record "in the press and on the hustings and from her services in recent years."

Senator Fulbright (D. - Ark.) voiced objection to the Walker and Townsend appointments by saying the men who are sent to make such an organization function should be qualified by broad experience to make it function.

The Arkansas senator's statement brought a round of heated rebuttal from friends of the two, and also some support from the Republican side.

Fulbright said he didn't criticize the men's character or business ability. But, he added, as one of the original advocates of an international peace-keeping organization, he wanted to see it work, and believed an effort should have been made to obtain representatives with broader international experience.

Negro Centenarian, Former Slave, Dies

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—Andrew (Old Dad) Goodman, 108-year-old negro who came to Texas as a slave more than a hundred years ago, was dead today.

Born Andrew Goodman in Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 19, 1837, old dad, as everyone called him, was a familiar figure in his neighborhood.

Proud of his age and proud he had been a slave, he loved to talk of his life and the Civil war days when he followed his master, Bob Goodman, through the early battles of Gettysburg and then back to the final surrender at Richmond.

At the age of five he was brought to Texas by his master, whom he called "the bes' man what ever lived." Most of his childhood was spent on a Smith county farm near Tyler.

BIG BUILDING PERMIT

HOUSTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—A million dollar building permit was issued yesterday for a new nurses' home at Memorial hospital here.

Illuminating gas was first successfully manufactured in 1797, and by 1815, London had three plants engaged in supplying the gas to city lighting facilities.

Hero's Widow Christens New Ship Honoring Late Husband

ORANGE, Dec. 21 (U.P.)—The sad-eyed widow of Marine Sgt. John T. Basilone today christened a new gray destroyer the "USS Basilone" in honor of her 26-year-old husband, the first enlisted man of World War II to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor.

"I'm proud to do this for Johnnie," said Sgt. Elena Basilone, trim in her lady Marine uniform.

Although it was the first time she had swung the bottle at a christening the attractive sergeant recalled she had seen several christenings when she worked in a Portland, Ore., shipyard before joining the Marines in September, 1943.

Christening A Thrill

"As I watched the launchings I used to think what a thrill it must be to christen a ship," she said.

The dark-haired sergeant said she had never considered her courtship and marriage to Basilone, killer of 38 Japs on Guadalcanal, a thrill. "I loved Johnnie for what he was. He was fine and everyone liked him. He hated publicity and never seemed to think he had done anything more than anyone else."

She recalled that he refused a lieutenant's commission because he claimed he didn't deserve it.

Met In California

Six months after she enlisted in the Marines, to be assigned as a cook at Camp Pendleton, Calif., she met the silent, Cantor-eyed medal winner from Raritan, N. J., who was touring the country on a war bond campaign.

Her friendship for him soon ripened into love and in July, 1944, the two Marine sergeants—one a hero, the other a cook—married.

In another brief half year her olive-skinned husband was hitting the beaches of Iwo Jima where he was killed by an artillery burst while leading his machine gun crew on D-day.

'Pappy' Wants Lots Of Space

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) sought today to evict the second of three tenants who insisted on staying in the 14-unit apartment building he bought for a home.

With one verdict having gone the senator's way, a municipal court jury was called to hear his suit against Austin Patrick Fitzpatrick, resident of apartment No. 3 of "the Senate apartments" at 115 Second St., Northeast.

Through an attorney, Fitzpatrick has contended that the senator has ample space available elsewhere throughout the dwelling and doesn't need the particular rooms he occupies.

Located Near Capitol

The yellow brick structure which the Texas senator recently bought for $52,000 is located a block from the capitol grounds and directly behind the Supreme court lawn.

D. Haywood Hardy, a former Houston, Tex., attorney, who is O'Daniel's counsel, has asserted that the senator "requires and seeks in good faith" immediate possession of the complete building.

While the eviction cases are in progress—the other 11 tenants moved voluntarily — the Texas senator and his wife are living in one of the vacated apartments. One of their sons, Pat, spends part of the time with them.

Used To Many Rooms

During the recent trial in which he won eviction of an 80-year-old tenant, W. W. Brauer, the senator said that he was used to many rooms when he lived in the Texas governor's mansion in Austin before coming to Washington. Crowded in a three-room downtown (Washington) hotel suite, he bought the "Senate apartments." He plans to remodel it at a cost of about $20,000 for the sole use of his family.

O'Daniel stressed in the Brauer case the trouble he had gone to to see that his tenants were not thrown out in the cold. He told the court he had not only located more than one apartment of approximately the same rental for Brauer, but had actually gone so far as to lease one and offer it to the octogenarian. In addition, he agreed to pay the moving bill, he said.

Missing Money Bag Stirs Georgia Town

DALLAS, Ga., Dec. 21. (AP) — Thirteen thousand dollars in one package blew into this town and right out again, causing a stir among rail, mail, banking, police departments and the FBI.

The money, shipped from the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank to the First National bank here, was tossed off in a mail pouch. Wind swept the pouch under the train and the mail was scattered over the tracks.

Someone crawled underneath the train, found the money bag caught between a rod and a beam.

MISSION ENDS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (U.P.)—Montano A. Tejam came to the United States from the Philippines four years ago solely to study our customs service.

When he returned recently, he had completed his mission — and was wearing a gold discharge button in his lapel. Tejam, customs appraiser for the Philippine port of Cebu, was busily studying U. S. customs services in 1944 when he was drafted, and served six months in the Army.

ALL right! All right! Once again at Yuletide The Plainsman will bow to public desires and present for the edification of all interested those two classics of the season, "Visit From St. Nicholas," better known as "'T'was the Night Before Christmas;" and Virginia O'Hanlon's letter to the New York Sun back in 1897, and the Sun's answer, variously known as "Is There a Santa Claus?" and "Yes, Virginia."

The Plainsman started the Christmas presentation of these classics about a decade and a half ago with the idea of printing them once and letting it go at that. But on each Yule season since, people have asked for them in increasing numbers and it has become a tradition in numerous South Plains families to read them aloud on Christmas Eve as mothers and fathers, children and kinfolks gather for the big holiday reunions.

In keeping, then, with what is rapidly becoming a tradition, here is the 123-year old poem by Clement Clarke Moore, which has been printed and read upon countless millions of occasions wherever and whenever English-speaking people have gathered for Christmas observations. In our very next stint, we'll give you "Is There a Santa Claus?"

VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS
By Clement Clarke Moore

'Twas the night before Christmas,
When all through the house
Not a creature was stirring,
Not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by
The chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas
Soon would be there;

The children were nestled
All snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar plums
Danced in their heads;
And mamma in her 'kerchief,
And I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for
A long winter's nap,

When out on the lawn there
Arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see
What was the matter.
Away to the window
I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters
And threw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of
The new-fallen snow
Gave the luster of
Midday to objects below,
When, what to my
Wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh,
And eight tiny reindeer,

With a little old driver,
So lively and quick,
I knew in a moment
It must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles
His coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted,
And called them by name;

"Now, Dasher! now Dancer!
Now Prancer and Vixen!
On Comet! on, Cupid!
On, Donder and Blitzen!"
To the top of the porch!
To the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away!
Dash away all!"

As dry leaves that before
The wild hurricane fly
When they meet with an obstacle
Mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top
The coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys,
And St. Nicholas, too.

And then, in a twinkling,
I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing
Of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head,
And was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas
Came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur,
From his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all
Tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had
Flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler
Just opening his pack.

His eyes — how they twinkled!
His dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses,
His nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth
Was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard of his chin
Was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held
Tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled
His head like a wreath;
He had a broad face and
A little round belly
That shook, when he laughed,
Like a bowlful of jelly.

He was chubby and plump,
A right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him,
In spite of myself;
A wink of his eye and a
Twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had Nothing to dread;

He spoke not a word,
But went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings;
And turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside
Of his nose,
And giving a nod,
Up the chimney he rose;

He sprang to his sleigh,
To his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like
The down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim,
Ere he drove out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all,
And to all a good night."

SPEAKING further of Christmas, as who isn't these days, Lubbock's 1946 holiday season bids fair, at this early juncture, to be the jim-dandy-est of our city's history.

Already plans are under way to promote residential and business building lighting contests as most other leading cities do. And, on top of that, K. N. Clapp, chairman of the Lubbock Park board, says he and his co-workers on the board are toying with the idea of putting up a walloping big tree on the courthouse square, for everybody to enjoy next Yuletide.

In the Southwest, El Paso annually has something super-duper in the way of a community Christmas tree, traditionally put up in its downtown San Jacinto Plaza. Just before each Christmas season rolls around, the biggest, prettiest tree in the nearby mountains is cut down and transported into El Paso; there it is put up and beautifully decorated by the fire department and, for about a month, sheds its holiday aura over the entire city.

Since we don't have any mountains nearby, Mr. Clapp's idea is to "build" a big Christmas tree with a telephone post as its "trunk," and cover the whole shooting match with small trees — making the finished product look like one, big, beautifully symetrical Cristmas tree.

It's a great idea — and we hope the Park board carries through next year.

Hobbs had a community Christmas tree this year — and thereby hangs a sorry tale. Here's the picture.

For several years, Hobbs, like most other cities, has had little or nothing in the way of holiday lighting and decorations. But this year, with victory won and everybody feeling more Christmas-y, a nice-size tree was set up on the busiest corner in town, and, of course, was appropriately decorated.

Well, early last Saturday morning vandals — apparently using a truck — knocked the tree down and then ran over it several times, mashing and breaking it out of shape and smashing the decorations.

As the Hobbs News-Sun appropriately remarked, "all the vandals are not in Nazi Germany, or imperialistic Japan."

The vandalism of those responsible for the act detracted from the Hobbs Christmas spirit to an extent which can't be measured and while we realize that "it takes all kinds of people to make up a world," the world surely could do without a lot of them.

That Man on Avenue Q says now and then he wonders why the Straight and Narrow Road wasn't made as attractive as the Primrose Path!

* * *

A lot of people seem to make it a rule to do their Christmas shopping late, in the false hope that they won't be so pushed and jostled by the people who do their buying early!

IN a recent broadcast, Mr. James Fidler, the Walter Winchell of Hollywood, read an "open letter" to President Truman in which he asked the Chief Executive to ask the film industry to produce only pictures filled with sweetness and light. If the film industry would do that, Mr. Fidler said, children wouldn't have their morals contaminated, or get false social and criminal ideas, from watching the flickers flick.

Maybe Mr. Fidler is right. But it seems to us that if the President is going to be asked to take on the added burden of riding herd on the movies, he might better ask the parents to exercise some judgment and discernment regarding which pictures they permit their children to see.

After all, certain types of movies appeal to adults — who are presumed to know the score regarding the Facts of Life — while others appeal to kids.

We'd hate to look ahead to nothing more potent in the way of movie entertainment than a flock of pictures like "My Chum, Flicka," "Snow White and the 17 Dwarfses," and various and sundry other offerings which won't contaminate the minds of children —but which also are about as interesting to grown people as filmed nursery rhymes.

It occurs to us that Mr. Fidler, like a lot of other people these days, wants to "let George do it" when it comes to raising kids and relieve parents, whose real responsibility the job is, from all the details.

After all, neither President Truman nor the movie-makers are faced with the job of raising other people's youngsters.

MILLETT

PARENTS playing Santa Claus are a little disappointed with toys offered for the first peacetime Christmas. So far as Santa is concerned this Christmas looks about like last.

But the grown ups are the only ones who will be bothered by the situation. It will be a good Christmas for the kids.

Dad may be home—and if he isn't Mother is no longer worried about his safety — so the atmosphere for Christmas is right, with Christmas lights and Santa Clauses in the stores.

And kids, unspoiled by fancy gadgets and electrical toys, find simple playthings entirely to their satisfaction.

Maybe they aren't just what Mama and Dad would like to buy, but they are plenty good enough for the kids.

Besides, the grown-ups aren't holding back this year — feeling afraid to celebrate or apologetic about being happy. Anybody who feels happy this year has a free conscience.

So don't feel bad about the kids if you can't find an electric train or afford a pair of ice skates. They are going to have the best Christmas the younger ones of them have ever known—and the best one most of them have known—and the best one most of them have known for several years.

THEY'RE PLENTY LUCKY

THE Dads back from overseas aren't going to think the kids are gypped in any way. They are going to think they are, plenty lucky to be having Christmas in America, to have warm clothes and toys and to have a dinner with turkey and all the fixings.

And for their kids it will be too bad if there is anything left on their plates.

The vision of foreign kids standing in line, hoping for a bit of left-over food from an army mess, is still too bright a picture in their memories.

So don't worry. It's going to be a wonderful Christmas for American kids, a wonderful Christmas for America.

Today's Journal Editorial

TRUMAN AGREES WITH THE PEOPLE!

President Truman's request for merger of the Army and Navy just about clinches the case for unification. Doubtless the Congress, in which there is strong support for the union, will act favorably on his recommendation before another summer.

Mr. Truman dashed the Navy strategy of stringing the issue along, with hopes that it might eventually die by calling for immediate action, saying that further studies of the problem would serve no useful purpose.

The President asked for a new defense department to be headed by a single cabinet member operating with one undersecretary and several assistant secretaries, all civilians. There would be a departmental chief of staff, with a commander for each of the component branches—Army, Navy and Air.

To avoid dominance of the set-up by representatives of any one service, he recommended wisely that the post of Chief of Staff be rotated among the various branches, whenever practicable and advisable, and that key staff positions be filled with officers drawn from all the services.

Up to now, the Navy has advanced no valid reason why the unification should not be effected. Its arguments have been more vehement than factual. All the admirals and civilian naval men seem to be against it, but no one knows why.

The congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster has done the Navy cause little good. Testimony has revealed that a lack of coordination between the Army and Navy was a principal—if not the main cause for the costly defeat. The probe has demonstrated, more than all the arguments of unification proponents, the urgent need for single direction of land, sea and air forces. The advent of atomic warfare has made the need more urgent than ever.

The American people, who, according to Gallup polls, strongly favor one department of defense, will be glad to see that, at last, concrete steps are being taken toward settlement of the issue.

Company's Deals With Japan Revealed

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — Earlier this column revealed that in 1939 Douglas Aircraft had sold the DC-4, plus blueprints, to Japan, despite previous denials and despite the plea of Cordell Hull for a moral embargo against selling airplanes to the Japs.

The Douglas official who handled this transaction was V. E. Bertrandias, later promoted to be a Major General in the U. S. Army despite representations by the Justice department pointing to his past record of cooperation with the Japs.

PEARSON

This column is now able to reveal further evidence regarding the pre-Pearl Harbor cooperation of Douglas Aircraft and General Bertrandias —a letter from Bertrandias to Mitsui & Company, arranging for an inspection trip by General Terauchi, prominent Jap air commander, to the Douglas plant at Santa Monica, Calif.

This was at a time when Douglas was making important military aircraft for the U. S. Army. It was also two months after the war in Europe had started and when many U. S. newspapers were reporting that Japanese entry into the war was inevitable. The letter follows:

"October 23, 1939
"Mitsui & Company, Ltd.
350 Fifth Avenue
New York City
Attention: Mr. S. Kohno
Gentlemen:

We wish to acknowledge your letter of October 17, engineering department—M. Sasaoka, relative to the proposed visit of General Terauchi and party. Your Los Angeles office has already contacted us in regard to this matter, and we understand that General Terauchi and party will visit our factory on the morning of October 30.

"Please be assured that we shall do everything possible to make General Terauchi's visit a pleasure to him.

Very truly yours,
Douglas Aircraft Company, Inc.
V. E. Bertrandias
Vice-President"

OUTFOXING MacARTHUR

HERE is the inside reason why the Far Eastern advisory commission is going to Japan by boat instead of by airplane.

When the commission cabled General MacArthur for permission to come, he cabled back that he could handle the delegates only one or two at a time. MacArthur said there were no accommodations for the visiting diplomats, so he wanted them in driblets.

The ten nations on the commission figured this was a dodge to get them split up into small groups so they couldn't function as a unit. The ten nations on the advisory commission, therefore, took over a ship which they will use as headquarters anchored in Tokyo bay.

CHRISTMAS in New York — Shoppers chin-deep in packages strolling along Vth Ave. as the icy fingers of winter pinch their faces. . . Crowds at railroad depots coming and leaving on the Yuletide, composing a symphony of pell-mell melodies. . . Well - dressed Christmas trees in the windows of poverty-stricken neighborhoods, putting a little decoration around the edges of a tattered existence. . . A buzz-saw of a wind clipping the last few dead leaves from the wooden skeletons of trees in the park. . . The polar-bearrr atmosphere around waterfront sectors, where there are no buildings to stop winds from showing their muscles. . . Youngsters coming into drug stores from frigid streets and ordering ice-cream sodahs. . . Fur-bearing cuties rippling through the chilly Main Ste, giving street corner Casanovas something to warm their imaginations. . . The hack-robatics of cabbies zig-zagging through clogged thorofares. . . The annual gigantic Rockefeller Plaza evergreen tree — a Christmas-masterpiece.

Shop clerks doing their best to polish smiles sandpapered in the confusion. Tots playing in the streets as the cold gives their faces bouquets of rosy cheeks. . . Coughers in crowded subways stabbed with icicle stares by flu-conscious New Yorkers. . . Spirits sprinkled with stardust by the Yuletide season. It makes you wonder why that spirit when the holiday is over. . . A poodle out for an airing on uppity Park Ave., wearing a tiny mink coat.

JONES'S HIDDEN HAND

ONLY time President Roosevelt really got sore at anyone was when he fired Jesse Jones as Secretary of Commerce and Federal Loan administrator. Ever since Truman came into office, however, Harry has shut one eye to the fact that Jesse Jones, unofficially, is running the powerful Federal Loan administration by remote control.

Jones sits in room 450 of the Statler hotel, keeping two phones so busy his wife complains she can't talk to him. And since no one has been appointed to replace him, Jesse can do almost anything he wishes with the headless loan agencies. This also means that he has a lot to say about surplus property since it is largely handled by the RFC.

Meanwhile, Stuart Symington, though given the title of Surplus Property administrator, actually has little to do with its disposal. So Symington, fed up with getting the blame for the surplus property snarl, finally went to reconversion boss John Snyder and asked that he be given full responsibility by taking over the RFC, himself. Smyington didn't say so in those words, but he is tired of having the secret hand of Jesse Jones running Surplus Property and the loan agencies while he gets all the headaches.

Snyder, as usual, was noncommittal. Being an old pal of Jesse's, he isn't anxious to make a change. However, the final decision is not up to him—but Truman. If the latter does not clean house, you can write it down that his old friend Symington will not tarry in the headache-ridden job of Surplus Property administrator.

ARMY-NAVY DEATH BATTLE

THE Navy is leaving no stone unturned in its battle to the death with the Army. Watchful Navy sleuths recently noted an item in the New York papers reporting that General "Toughy" Spaatz, hard-headed Army ace, had entertained a dinner of 65 to 70 editors and publishers at the Waldorf, with the guest of honor Hugh Baillie, head of United Press.

Navy men, knowing the difficulty which any general or admiral has in meeting even the family payroll on a government salary, wondered how Spaatz was able to finance such a big shindig. They investigated, found that the dinner cost a thousand bucks, but it didn't come out of General Spaatz's pocket. It was paid for by the United Press, whose chief was guest of honor.

Naturally, the dinner was a good sounding board for Air force propaganda. The airmen, although staying in the background, have been the leading motivator of the Army-Navy merger. In any such merger, the Air forces figure they will get two votes (theirs and the Army's) against the Navy's one.

CAPITAL CHAFF

I'VE been reading the platforms of the two major political parties for the past 40 years," remarked Congressman Carter Manasco of Alabama, who did so much to sabotage the Full-Employment bill. "Well, if everything called for in those platforms had been carried out, the country would have been ruined now" . . . "Most significant thing about the Republican's Chicago convention to me," remarked "Cap" Harding, secretary of the Democratic congressional committee, "is the excellent planning by the Palmer House management. The other convention in the hotel at the time was of morticians and undertakers. Very appropriate." . . . The Navy has cancelled its plans to close up all ship-service stores by spring. Several officers who had known the plan was to be announced will be left holding the bag. They had quietly purchased land near naval bases in order to open up retail stores . . . The Dallas, Texas, Chamber of Commerce finds that even with the war over the federal government is still occupying 49 per cent of the good office space in Dallas. This means that more than 200 physicians and lawyers recently discharged from the armed forces are unable to find space.

Pearl Harbor Probe Turning Into Hunt For Scapegoat

Marshall Is Backed By American Good Will

By MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — General Marshall takes with him on his new and difficult assignment in China the good will of all of America. He goes as a soldier obedient to the order of his commander.

CHILDS

It would have been easy to have begged off. Certainly, no one has more nearly earned retirement than the man who is chiefly responsible for assembling America's armed strength in the war that ended last August.

What rewards we give our great men! Almost up until the hour that he took off for China, General Marshall was undergoing an ordeal by the Pearl Harbor investigating committee that sometimes made it seem as though he were a culprit in the dock.

SHARES RESPONSIBILITY

As a matter of fact, it sounded as though he were being tried for losing the war instead of winning it. Ordinarily a patient and even-tempered man, Marshall deeply resented the kind of quizzing to which he was subjected by Republican members of the Pearl Harbor committee.

He accepted his own share of the responsibility for the disaster. There was no concealment on that score. And yet, the baggling questions went on for six and a half days.

This, it appears, was what precipitated the resignation of committee counsel William D. Mitchell and the members of his staff. They saw that the hearing had degenerated into a futile hunt for a scrapegoat.

THE Republicans want to blame someone, and preferably President Roosevelt. They want to make political capital out of what was a national tragedy. They persist in this effort, even when it is obvious that it has backfired and even when younger members of their own party protest the stupidity of this approach.

Psychologists have an explanation for such behavior. If you have a sense of guilt yourself, then you are driven by an insatiable need to find someone else on whom the blame can be fastened.

At the very time that Marshall was struggling to build up America's armed forces, in the face of the peril which confronted this country, Republicans in Congress were voting against even the rudimentary measures necessary for our self-protection. Both Reps. Keefe and Gearhart on the Pearl Harbor committee voted against Lend-Lease.

VOTED AGAINST DRAFT

Rep. Keefe voted against extension of the draft one month before the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor. Extension of the draft carried by only a single vote, although its defeat would have been an announcement to the world that we intended to remain powerless.

If we had followed the lead of those who are now determined to find a scapegoat, America would have remained unprepared and helpless. As it was, our preparation was faulty and uncertain. Most of the moves that were made in 1940 and '41 were made against a wall of indifference, if not active resistance.

Now, once again, we are in General Marshall's debt. In going to China as ambassador, he may be able — out of his great prestige, his quality of fairness and justice, his modest desire to serve without thought of personal ambition —to help solve the Chinese problem.

HIS OWN knowledge of the Far East is distinctly limited. But perhaps in this instance, knowledge is not so important as ability to start anew, free of old prejudices.

The President's statement of policy in China would seem to leave the new ambassador ample scope to act within a reasonable framework. We do have an obligation to insure the surrender of the Japanese in liberated China to the only government in China that we recognize.

As the President made clear in his statement, this is not armed intervention in China's internal war. Even if we would intervene to end that war, we are not equipped to do so. Yet, at the same time, we have every obligation to use our good offices to bring about a peaceful settlement.

I believe that General Marshall can do as much as any American toward that end. The very fact the resident has sent him is a pledge of the sincerity of our desire to bring peace to a unified China.

BUNNIES RAISE HAVOC

HOBART, Ind. (U.P.)—Bugs Benny, the happy-go-lucky bunny of the funnies, never got in half the trouble his less known relatives did in Hobart. In fact, Mayor Fred Rose and the city council have worked themselves into a "rabbit fever" trying to handle the many complaints of irate residents, who claim wild bunnies are wrecking lawns, shrubs and even fruit trees. Mayor Rose thought of a rabbit hunt, but the city attorney reminded him: "No hunting inside city limits."

Of the record-breaking number of shipments by air express in the United States last year totaling 1,773,828, more than 35 per cent was handled at La Guardia Field, New York.

Lubbock Man, Captured With Wainwright, Tells About Imprisonment By Japanese

McCLOSKEY GENERAL HOSPITAL, Temple, Dec. 21.—The gallant defenders of Corregidor, termed "General 'Skinny' Wainwright's Warriors," were know as "General Wainwright's Skinny Warriors" after a few months imprisonment by the Japanese, according to Sergeant Junious F. Ricketts of Lubbock, who is convalescing at McCloskey General hospital, Temple, Texas.

Sergeant Ricketts, a member of the 60th Coast Artillery, was captured when Corregidor surrendered May 5, 1942, and although a Japanese prisoner for 3½ years, the sergeant is still an easy-going, good-natured Texan.

"I sure did like General Wainwright," said the sergeant, when interviewed at McCloskey General hospital. "We were working in an ordnance plant on Corregdor and he used to come around and shoot the "breeze" with the fellows. We could tell he was interested in us." The sergeant returned to the hospital yesterday after attending the General Wainwright banquet in Fort Worth.

Moved To Cabanatuan

Sergeant Ricketts was taken from Corregidor in '42 to Cabanatuan, Camp No. 3. The food and treatment was terrible. He was put on burial detail at Camp 3. At that time, fifty to sixty men were dying daily from malnutrition. His detail had to bury the dead, carrying them out to the burial "dump" on improvised litters, which usually were doors. The men were buried in a shallow grave, fifty or sixty feet long.

"One of my buddes died, and I had to bury him," said Sergeant Ricketts. "The morning he was buried, I said a prayer for him, but not aloud. The Japs saw my lips moving, and I was severely beaten for that."

The sergeant worked as a watchmaker, beginning that work in November, 1942. He was allowed to eat with the Japs, sharing the same food, and was carried with them as a Japanese soldier. "That way, I could help out my buddies," said Ricketts.

Worked On Kamikazes

"The next job I had was working in kamikaze plants." My training as a watch maker and repairman made me eligible for repairing bombing instruments. One of the plants was close to Nichols Field in Manila. The idea that the Japanese soldier volunteers to be a suicide pilot is definitely wrong. They are picked from ranks, and they hate to lose their life as much as anyone. I used to lie awake nights unable to sleep, thinking I was helping the Japs win the war."

Sergeant Ricketts was wounded three days before Corregidor fell. Shell fragments hit his leg, and because of the lack of medical care, the metal was never removed. When he left the Philippines in July, 1944, the metal in his leg worked into the nerve, causing Sergeant Ricketts to have convulsions twenty-four hours a day. He was also bothered with glandular trouble. When he was first taken prisoner, there was only one faucet for two thousand men in the prison camp. "We had to stand in line all day for one drink of water, and then probably would never get it." Therefore, his pores were clogged with dirt, perspiration, and oil.

Liberated In September

He was liberated the 14th of September. "The Japs saw the hand-writing on the wall three weeks before the surrender, and started treating us a little better." "I never lost hope while I was being held prisoner, but things looked dark many times. The brightest spot in our lives was when the B-29's came over. They bombed within one hundred yards of the hospital there at Fukuoka.

Sergeant Ricketts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ricketts, 429 Avenue M, Lubbock, Texas, and wears the Purple Heart with two clusters, and has three distinguished unit citations.

RENEWS VISIT

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — An unusual bird has been reported at Lake Sullivan near Indianapolis, visiting with ducks and geese. It's a cormorant, one variety of which is used by Chinese and Japanese for fishing. The bird stopped off at Lake Sullivan three years in a row, missed last year, but returned this year.

GI 'LOSES' BIRTHDAY

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Soldier Paul F. Cantwell was looking forward to a birthday celebration, even if it was to be staged on a troopship bound for the Pacific. He had to postpone the event, however. The ship crossed the International Datline on Sept. 14, the date of his anniversary, so he has to wait for his 19th birthday next fall to make up for the loss of his 18th.

Department, Apparel Sales Top Last Year

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (AP) — The Bureau of Business Research reported today that dollar value of retail sales in Texas department and apparel stores through November was up 13 per cent over the same period in 1944.

The bureau's report showed that sales dropped 0.4 per cent in November, 1945, from October, 1945, but that November recorded a gain of 11.6 per cent over November of last year.

Greatest gains, both for the month and year, were in San Antonio where sales increased 22.1 per cent in November, 1945, compared with November, 1944, and sales for the 11-month period climbed 22.0 per cent above last year's figure.

In none of the cities surveyed was a drop shown in the 1945 volume, although two cities, Beaumont and Bryan, declined in November from October, and in November, 1945, as against November, 1944.

Letter From Holland Reveals Hardships Brought By Winter

By LOUIS K. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

A picture of life in liberated Europe this winter is not pleasant for Americans to contemplate. The victors are suffering along with the vanquished.

The prospect of famine, disease, and death from lack of heat in large sections of the continent has been fully reported, both officially and by newspaper correspondents.

Sometimes a personal letter, written from the heart and not for publication, gives a better understanding of the reaction of the war sufferers than official reports. Such a letter is at hand, received by Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson, the English concert pianists now in this country, from a pair of friends in Holland.

Letter Speaks Eloquently

Conditions in the Netherlands are not as bad as in some sections of Central and Eastern Europe, but the letter speaks eloquently of the hardships endured even in that western country, so much closer to outside sources of supply than the transportationless regions of the interior. At the same time, it breathes a spirit of hope and confidence in the future. Its author is Mrs. John Beek, writing on behalf of herself and her husband, a prominent figure in the musical life of Holland. Extracts, quoted by permission, follow:

"It seems almost impossible that only a few months ago we were liberated. We are still alive, although you'd hardly recognize us, so thin we've grown, and so much older from worry and lack of food. Johnny is simply a skeleton.

"There is food now, but not enough. There is no gas to cook with, no telephone and no means of transportation. But it is a paradise compared to the time the Nazis were here.

All Sorts Of Blows

"Our poor country has suffered all sorts of blows. First, the oppression, the bullying, plundering, mass enslavery and deportation; the battlefields, bombardments, inundations and last but not least the famine, from which thousands and thousands died in the western provinces.

"Those last months we had to live on 400 grams of bread (a little less than a pound) and one kilo of potatoes (2.2 pounds) for a whole week. Sometimes Johnny left at daybreak and walked all day in the cold and rain to come home at night with some kilos of sugar roots. Sugar roots and tulip bulbs were our main food. Many of us lived on them the whole winter through.

"Our shops are empty and closed. There is not a thing to be had —no clothes, no shoes. We still wear our old rags from 1939.

Need Clothing

"We will be grateful for anything you can send us. It seems so beggarish, but you can never realize what our country has come to when you contrast it with the rich little country it was only five years ago.

"We are most in need of clothing, shoes and stockings. I could make excellent use of a length of material for a dress, or a ready-made one, even an old dress of yours from which I could make a blouse or a short frock. We desperately need any underwear you can spare . . .

"Now the darkest hours are past and our country is full of good spirits. It has been, the whole five years through, full of confidence in the victory of our allies, trying to ignore the Nazis and hoping, waiting, waiting. Now the tables are turned. Our patience has been rewarded and we are free, free, free! But if life is to continue, we must have help."

V-12 Continued By Senate Legislation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP) — Some 20,000 V-12 Naval Reserve students in 66 colleges and universities would be able to continue schooling at government expense until July 1 next under legislation passed by the Senate and sent to the White House.

Senator Walsh (D.-Mass.) told the Senate that unless the measure was approved, these V-12 students must quit their studies on March 1, in the middle of school terms, or pay their own way.

Senator McCarran (D.-Nev.) at first blocked approval saying it was unfair to Army students. After lengthy pleas from both Republicans and Democrats he withdrew his objection.

The legislation carried $10,000,000 to continue the V-12 program through next June. Senators said the funds were stricken out of a recent appropriation bill by mistake.

Hospital Ships Lost Through Jap Failure

TOKYO, Dec. 21 (AP)—Japan lost 19 hospital ships during the war, but none through Allied violation of the rules of warfare, Maj. Kei Shinohara told Kyodo news agency today.

Shinohara, repatriated former chief of a hospital transport, said Japanese authorities failed to properly identify hospital ships, refused to transmit their names to the Allies, insisted upon stationing hospital ships among combat vessels in action, and often used them as armed transports.

CONSTIPATION
Hazardous in BAD COLDS

Beware of sluggish elimination when you have a cold. If you are constipated you may be sure your intestines are retaining virus-laden mucus and other putrefactive waste matter. This condition may interfere with the treatment of the cold and lead to more serious complications.

Relieve this hazardous constipated condition promptly tonight with Calotabs. Calotabs are one of the most dependable of all intestinal eliminants. They pleasantly yet thoroughly act on every foot of the intestinal tract, thus helping to sweep out virus-laden mucus and other putrefactive material, enabling Nature to more effectively combat the cold. Get Calotabs from your druggist. Use only as directed on the labeling.

PLAN MEMORIAL CENTER

CUSHING, Okla. (U.P.)—The citizens of Cushing, Okla., have approved plans for a $420,000 post-war project which would include a spacious memorial recreation center.

The initial phase of the plan would cover two years, calling for the recreation center, football stadium, new city hall structure and fire station. Expenditure for the four projects would call for a bond issue of $420,000.

Marines Play The Game By Own Rules And Japs Are Not Molested In Occupation

By CAPT. WELDON JAMES
(Distributed By Associated Press)

NAGASAKI, Japan.—When the 20,0000 men of the battle-hardened Second Marine division poured into Nagasaki more than a month ago, it was a fair bet there would be trouble and not all of it would be caused by the Japanese.

The second had fought through bitter campaigns that meant thousands of white crosses and years of hate. It had had little time to pick up the virtues of kindness or restraint. As early as Tarawa, Tokyo Rose had dubbed its men butcher-boys, murderers, matricides, and gangsters, and she assured her Japanese listeners that if the division ever got to Japan, a telephone booth would be sufficient to hold what was left of the monsters.

Has Good Record

The fearful Japanese (those who didn't take to the hills) saw the Marines pour in, take over—and behave themselves. To date the division believes it has a record unequalled in Germany or Japan: Not one major crime (murder, rape, manslaughter, or looting) committed by any of its Marines after more than a month of occupation duty.

It isn't that the Marines have learned to love the Japanese. True, like most American outfits, they pat kids on the head, flirt with girls, pass out cigarettes and chewing gum (when the MP's aren't watching), and take kindly to civilians in general. But they reserve a hard and useful suspicion for officialdom and for demobilized sailors and soldiers.

Case Of Training

It's a case of American training, the oldtimers say, plus the old-fashioned discipline that first made the Marine corps famous. This was perhaps best expounded by a lecturing officer soon after the initial landing.

"Personally," he said, "I don't give a damn about the Japs. They don't count on my book. But our rules and regulations do, and they're the same here as back home or anywhere in the world.

"As long as the Japs obey our orders, you're not to touch 'em. You steal from 'em, or assault 'em, or molest 'em in any way, and you'll catch it—not because you've stepped on a Jap, but because you've broken our rules, and those things aren't in the book. That's the way we play it."

STATUE ASSISTS CUPID

BUFFALO, N. Y. (U.P.)—Favorite trysting places for lovers are the City Hall rotundas, where stand massive statues of Presidents Grover Cleveland and Millard Fillmore, but city officials are convinced that Cleveland has it all over Fillmore as a helpmate to Cupid. The Fillmore statue is bare of any inscriptions by love-sick couples, while the Cleveland statue is covered with amorous scribblings.
