Allied Fleets Of 137 Ships Steam Toward Africa

Huge Shipping Move Follows Departure Of Warship Armada; Allied Naval Units Renew Attacks On Pantelleria Island

BY ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Dispatches from La Linea, Spain, today reported a huge movement of Allied shipping from Gibraltar, leaving the harbor at the Great British stronghold virtually deserted.

Two convoys totalling 137 ships—troop transport, freighters, merchantmen, tankers and a hospital ship—steamed westward into the Mediterranean at dawn yesterday en route to North African ports, it was reported.

Previously, an Allied armada of three battleships, three aircraft carriers, several cruisers and destroyers was said to have left "the rock" for destinations unknown.

No aircraft carriers or battleships, the dispatches said, now guard the rock. The harbor is more deserted than at any time during recent months, with scarcely a score of freighters, of which four are under repair, at anchor there, it was reported.

No Explanation Given

Allied headquarters gave no inkling of explanation for these reports.

Premier Mussolini's high command reported today that Allied warships had renewed the assault on Pantelleria island — the third attack in four days on the "Italian Gibraltar" — even as German army experts again manifested nervousness over a possible Allied invasion of southern Europe.

The Italian communique gave no details on the new bombardment of Pantelleria, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said only that Allied bombers attacked the island yesterday, along with sweeps over San Antioco island off Sardinia and over the Aegean sea.

Strategically Important

Pantelleria lies 45 miles southeast of Cap Bon, Tunisia, and is strategically important as a potential stepping-stone for an invasion of Sicily or the Italian mainland.

A Berlin broadcast, discussing two invasion articles in the German army organ Die Wehrmacht, stressed the possibility of Allied thrusts into Europe from several directions, and declared:

"An Anglo - American expeditionary force might perhaps succeed in crossing the Mediterranean and landing somewhere in southern Europe, but it would not have the slightest change in battle against Axis continental armies with their millions of well-train-

Strike Bill Kept Alive

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP) — The House refused by an overwhelming vote today to kill the Smith-Connally anti-strike bill outright and proceeded to consideration of amendments.

A motion by Representative Celler (D-NY) to strike out the enacting clause, thus to kill the measure, was defeated on a standing vote of 133 to 37.

Celler complained that the labor committee had not had a chance to consider the legislation and that the military committee had not given labor an opportunity to be heard on the measure.

Lewis Accused

Opposing Celler's motion, Representative Whittington (D-Miss) accused John L. Lewis, union mine head, of hating President Roosevelt "with such vehemence" that "his patriotism has been destroyed."

"In a contest between labor and the government, I stand for the government," Whittington added.

"Is this sedition, or isn't it?" Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) asked the House today in regard to the coal mine walkout, as the lawmakers took up a bill to outlaw strikes in government - operated war plants.

Opponents Hurl Charges

Opponents of the measure charged Chairman Andrew J. May, (D., Ky.,) of the House military affairs committee has been "unreasonable, arbitrary and discourteous" in refusing to allot them sufficient time to speak.

The accusations were voiced by Rep. Michael J. Brabley, (D., Pa.,) when May moved to extend the time for general debate one hour and then heatedly withdrew the offer. Though general debate expired during the afternoon, much additional discussion was expected on numerous amendments.

May Replies

"I have done everything in my power to allot this time fairly and I've had to exclude some of my own committee members," May said.

Other members, including chairman Mary Norton, (D., N. J.,) of the House labor committee, protested to Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts

Social Security Plan Offered

WASHINGTON, June 3. (U.P.) — Sen. Robert F. Wagner, D., N.Y., today introduced a bill to set up a cradle-to-the-grave post-war social security program comparable to the plan submitted in Great Britain by Sir William Beveridge.

Wagner, one of the sponsors of the present social security act, proposed amendments to the act to create a "unified system of social insurance." He would provide protection against loss of income through unemployment, illness, temporary or permanent disability, and old age, and would provide medical care and hospital service for everybody.

Would Include Servicemen

The bill would extend social security benefits to about 15,000,000 persons not now covered by law, including farm workers, domestic servants, employes of non - profit institutions, independent farmers and professional and small-business men. Servicemen and women would be included under the bill's provisions on their discharge from the armed forces and would receive unemployment compensation immediately for a limited period

20,000 Stop Work At Packard Plant

DETROIT, June 3. (U.P.)—More than 20,000 employes were reported to have walked out at the Packard Motor Car Co. today, forcing closing of the plant, but a union spokesman said the number of workers involved was "not that high" and that some divisions were working.

A company representative said the strikers, members of the United Automobile workers (CIO), walked out early today to protest the upgrading of three negro workers whose seniority and training entitled them to higher positions.

He said the entire plant was shut down as a result of the stoppage, which followed sporadic walkouts last week in a number of the factory's departments.

Chiang's Army Circles 4,000 Jap Invaders

Chinese Advance Sweeps Near To Big Enemy Base

(By The Associated Press)

CHUNGKING, June 3. — Chinese troops have driven to the right bank of the Yangtze opposite Ichang in an air-supported counter - offensive against the Japanese and have surrounded 4,000 of the invaders farther down the great river, the high command announced tonight.

A Chinese army spokesman said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces yesterday recaptured the town of Changyang, 12 miles south of Ichang, and also occupied the port of Chihkiang, 35 miles downriver from the Japanese base.

The high command issued a special communique to keep abreast of developments in the counter-thrusts against the routed enemy shock troops.

Jap Base Surrounded

It said Chinese driving northward from Hunan province crossed the border into southern Hupeh and surrounded Kungan, another of the bases for the abortive Japanese push against defenses of the upper Yangtze. Kungan lies 70 miles southeast of Ichang.

Dispatches said Gen. Chiang's forces were sweeping on to spectacular new triumphs after winning a "Chinese battle of Stalingrad" around Chihpei, where the Japanese had orders to resist to the last.

Chinese quarters apparently believed the battle might mark a turning-point in the six bloody years of war with Japan.

Tokyo Confirms Claims

Obliquely confirming the Chinese claim of victory, a Tokyo broadcast tersely declared that Japanese operations in central China had been "successfully concluded and all Japanese forces have been brought back to their bases."

Tokyo said the 10th Chinese army and other forces had been annihilated in battles extending over a 190-mile front from Tungting Lake to the Yangtze river stronghold at Ichang.

Nearly one-third of 100,000 Japanese troops engaged in the offensive, aimed at China's vital "rice bowl" lands, were declared to have been killed or wounded as Gen. Chiang's armies displayed a surprising resurgence of power.

Japanese troops are being driven back toward the south bank of the river on the whole upper

Pacific Aerial War Renewed

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP) — Renewed aerial activity in the south Pacific with American bombers pounding Japanese positions in Bougainville was reported by the Navy today in a communique which told also of bombing raids on Kiska on the Aleutians and a continued wiping out of small enemy groups on Attu.

Large fires were started at Tinputs harbor and Numa Numa harbor by the bombers which struck the northeast coast of Bougainville. Two small enemy vessels off Tinputs were bombed and one was beached.

The communique raised the known Japanese dead on Attu in the Aleutians to 1,791, and said that on June 1st, on Attu island,

United Nations Food Conclave Ends Sessions

World Authority On Food Matters Is Recommended

(By The Associated Press)

HOT SPRINGS, Va., June 3.—The United Nations food conference wound up its 16 days of deliberations today by formally approving resolutions calling on the 44 participating countries to join in post-war planning for a world freed from want.

It recommended the creation of an international agricultural authority to secure collaboration on programs to increase the production, distribution and consumption of food.

Stronger Unity Seen

The work of the conference was hailed by A. D. Krutikov, chairman of the Soviet Russia delegation, with the words that it "has laid a firm foundation for the future collaboration of nations in the field of food and agriculture" and "has brought nearer the victorious termination of the war."

Chairman Richard K. Law of the British delegation, in moving adoption of the conference resolutions, declared it was a remarkable fact that, under the stress of war, the participating delegations were able to discuss post-war problems.

Demonstrates Confidence

"It shows complete confidence," he said, "in the outcome of the war. That confidence is well founded. We shall win this war."

Law declared, however, that "after we have won our victory there is still work to be done, work that we must do together."

Conference Chairman Marvin Jones, summing up results of the parley, said the United Nations had discovered facts of "profound and lasting significance for the entire world — for each nation — and for every man, woman and child upon the earth.

Shows Cooperation

"What we have found," he added, is this:

"First — Compelling confirmation of a united purpose to make effective the pledge of the Atlantic charter and of the mutual aid agreements for a peace "that will afford an assurance that all men in all lands may live out their lives in freedom from fear and want.'

"Second — Overwhelming evidence that we have in unity the strength to make our purpose effective in peace as we are making

Stepson Confesses He Slew Racketeer

ST. LOUIS, June 3 (U.P.) — William Ralph Grasswick, 16, today confessed to the murder early yesterday of his stepfather, Joseph (Buck) Newell, notorious St. Louis labor racketeer.

Newell was business agent for local 513 of the AFL hoisting engineers and for years had been known as "czar" of that union.

Newell's body was found at his Pevely, Mo., home last night. He had been shot five times with a 38 caliber revolver. Newell's own 45 caliber revolver, fully loaded, was on a table in a room adjoining the bedroom in which his body was found.

Two years ago Newell and his wife separated because, she said, he wanted to run his home on the same basis as the union.

Newell was involved repeatedly in jurisdictional disputes and as a rule his hoisting engineers came out on top. The most recent flare-up was in a strike called at Illmo, Mo., where construction of a pipeline to transport high octane gasoline to the east coast was delayed because of Newell's efforts to organize non - union workmen from Oklahoma and Texas.

THIS IS MY WORK—Charles Hartman, 51, veteran miner dressed in his working clothes approached crowd of strikers around the mine entrance here and said "This is my job and I am going to work!" No one attempted to stop him when he and five others entered the mine and worked the full seven hour shift. His 17-year-old daughter, Beatrice in picture checks his dinner pail before going to work. Hartman's son, Sgt. Jas. Nelson Hartman is in the Air Corps in North Africa. This scene took place at Uniontown, Pa. (NEA Telephoto).

French 'Liberation' Committee Set Up

Giraud, De Gaulle Are Joint Heads

(By The Associated Press)

ALGIERS, June 3.—The French executive committee was formally brought into existence today and given the name of the National Committee of Liberation.

The committee's personnel is the same as previously agreed upon with Gen. Henri Giraud and Gen. Charles De Gaulle as joint heads alternating in presiding.

Following the meeting at which the organization was formalized as the governing body for liberated French territory, political quarters reported important changes would be made in the leadership for Algeria and French Morocco.

Changes Announced

They said General Georges Catroux, who was liaison officer between Generals Giraud and De Gaulle, would succeed resigned Marcel Peytouron as governor-general of Algeria and Gabriel Puaux, former high commissioner in Syria, would succeed Gen. Auguste Nogues as resident general of French Morocco.

The members of the national committee of liberation besides Generals Giraud and De Gaulle are:

Gen. Alphonse George and Jean Monnet as members selected by Giraud;

Rene Massigli and Andre Philip as members selected by De Gaulle.

Gen. Georges Catroux, accepted by both Giraud and De Gaulle.

The meeting at which the committee was brought formally into being broke a two-day deadlock during which no meetings were

Point Values Of Beef Hiked

WASHINGTON, June 3 (U.P.) — Housewives will have to pay from one to four points more for beef steaks, roasts, hamburger and dried beef beginning Sunday, the Office of Price administration said today.

Fewer points will be required for certain cuts of pork, lamb and veal, however, and for sausage and variety meats.

Beef steaks of all cuts except chuck or shoulder are up three points on the new table, with boneless sirloin and all round and flank steaks going to 12 points. Chuck steak is up one point. All roasts are up two points, except round tip, which increased in value from eight to 11 points. Stews are up one point and hamburger is quoted at six points, an increase of one point.

Lower Production Is Factor

Increases in the point values for beef, officials said, are prompted by lower production and larger consumer demand. The beef slaughter from March 26 to May 21 was 10 per cent less than was forecast for the period, which will

Former Official Of Bell Telephone Dies

DALLAS, June 3 (AP)—F. M. Hoag, 63, vice president of Southwestern Bell Telephone company for 10 years before retiring in 1938, died today.

As southwest division plant superintendent at San Antonio, Hoag supervised communication facilities required in this area by the armed forces in World war I.

He served as general plant superintendent, engineer and assistant general manager for Oklahoma after the war, returning here in 1921 to become general manager for Texas.

In 1926 he was named head of the commercial department of Southwestern Bell in St. Louis and two years later was made vice president.

Ethiopians Want To Spearhead Invasion

LONDON, June 3 (AP) — A spokesman for the Ethiopian legation here suggests that picked Ethiopian commandos now in training be chosen to lead the Allied invasion of Italy.

The Ethiopians, he said, are eager to gain revenge on the Italians for their invasion of Ethiopia in 1935.

FDR Expected To Take Action In Coal Crisis

Plan Of Drastic Action Reported Held In Reserve

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Roosevelt was represented by informed quarters today to be prepared to order John L. Lewis' striking coal miners to go back to work on Monday, with a program of more drastic action in reserve if his first demand goes unheeded.

The back-to-work order may come late today or tomorrow, believe trustworthy persons, whose identity may not be published.

The plan, as these informants understand it, contemplates full use of the commander in chief's wartime power and his authority under the selective service act, literal enforcement of all laws governing aliens, of whom there are thousands among the mine workers, and the use of troops in force, finally if necessary.

Order May Still Stand

There was evidence that the White House and James F. Byrnes, new war mobilization director, were working behind the scenes to bring the coal strike to a conclusion.

Nevertheless, Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said that he assumed that the War Labor board's order that negotiations between the operators and miners be halted until men are back in the coal pits still stands.

The members of the combined labor war board meet periodically with the president to consider all matters pertaining to labor in the war effort. There was no specific indication that the chief executive would bring the coal dispute before it, although chances appeared to be good that he would go over the coal problems with the CIO and AFL leaders. The United Mine workers have no representative on the board.

At the conclusion of the conference, however, spokesmen said

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP) — Top men of the AFL and CIO formally asked President Roosevelt today to "intervene" in the Office of Price administration, contending that Administrator Prentiss Brown is unable to deal with "the requirements of the situation" arising from increased food prices.

Members of the combined labor war board said they did not ask for Brown's removal but that they did protest the appointment of Lou Maxon as deputy price administrator on grounds that his policies run counter to rolling back prices, stabilization of prices and

Five From Airliner Reported Rescued

LISBON, June 3. (AP) — A radio Roma message from Madrid said today a Spanish fishing boat had rescued five Britons from the Britain-bound air liner shot down Tuesday over the bay of Biscay.

Liquor Stock May Last Four Years

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Allied Liquor Industries, Inc., today announced that a study of liquor supplies throughout the country disclosed normal stocks now aging in bonded warehouses were adequate to last three to four years on a rationed basis.

The concern, a trade organization representing both distillers and consumer outlets, said consumers would have available in the next 12 months about 130,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits, plus inventories of wholesalers, retailers and taverns estimated in excess of 25,000,000 gallons and hoarded stocks placed at 10,000,000 gallons.

Tax Bill Goes To President

'Forgiveness' To Aid Large Group

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The pay-as-you-go tax bill—a bill that forgives approximately $6,533,000,000 in income taxes but still will raise $3,006,000,000 more revenue in the next 13 months than the present law—was on President Roosevelt's desk today awaiting his signature.

The greatest amount of forgiveness benefits the largest single taxpaying group in the nation—those with incomes ranging from $1,000 to $2,000 a year.

Long, Bitter Fight Ended

It is estimated that there are 17,363,000 taxpayers in that income bracket and the forgiveness for them amounts to $1,650,000,000. The forgiveness for the 60 individuals who made more than $1,000,000 each in 1942 is estimated at $56,000,000.

The bill passed its last legislative hurdle late yesterday when the Senate approved the House-Senate conference committee compromise by the wide margin of 62 to 19. Thus ended a long, bitter congressional fight that had its inception last summer when Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the New York Federal Reserve bank, went before the Senate finance committee to propose that taxpayers be put on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Wards Off Windfalls

The compromise provides 100 per cent forgiveness for all taxpayers owing up to $50 on one year's earnings—either 1942 or 1943, whichever is lower—awards a $50 flat abatement for those owing up to $66.67, and grants 75 per cent forgiveness for those owing more than $66.67.

The bill contains two anti-windfall provisions. One captures the difference in taxes where an individual's 1943 earnings are less than 1942 income. The other applies to taxpayers whose 1942 or 1943 earnings exceed a so-called "normal" year by more than $20,000, reflecting war profits. In that eventuality only 75 per cent of a

Airmen Blast Japs' New Guinea Base

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, June 3. (U.P.)—Allied planes, in their attempt to break up Japan's chain of New Guinea coastal bases, dropped 24 tons of bombs on Wewak yesterday, a communique said today.

The raid brought the total number of bombs dropped on the three major northeast coast bases at Wewak, Lae and Madang in a single week to 156 tons. Sixty-six tons hit Wewak alone.

The communique said the latest raid, made just before dawn, caused fires and explosives, possibly in parked planes and munitions dumps, at Wawak, which the Japanese are trying to build into a base rivaling Rabaul, New Britain.

The Rockefellers use the old electric, originally property of the late John D. Rockefeller, on the 102 miles of paved highway on their Pocantico Hills estate, and for necessary trips into town.

Reds Score Big Aerial Victory

MOSCOW, June 3 (AP)—A force of about 500 German planes attacked the Russian base at Kursk yesterday afternoon and at least 123 were shot down, the Russians announced today, signalizing a new and growing phase of the bitter aerial battle on the eastern front.

The Nazi air fleet represented the largest single mass the Germans have concentrated in any sector for months and their reported losses marked one of the biggest single day's bags in any theater of aerial war.

A Moscow broadcast said 93 of the raiders were brought down by Soviet pilots and that anti-aircraft guns shot down 30 more, after some planes got through to the city "and haphazardly dropped bombs which inflicted material damage and casualties."

Reds Lost 30 Planes

The Russians said they lost 30 planes and declared the tally of Nazi victims was incomplete.

(The Soviet noon communique as recorded by the London Soviet radio monitor said 37 German planes were shot down northeast of Novorossisk yesterday. Land action was minor except on the Kalinin front, where 2,000 Germans were killed in a two-day battle.

(Today's German communique asserted that the Germans were engaged in heavy defensive fight-

Bull Fighting Urged For Training Troops

LOS ANGELES, June 3. (AP)—The U. S. Army Training command may have, upon request, the expert services of Rafael Palomar.

Senor Palomar, retired matador whose career embraced the dispatching of more than 60 bulls, said in making this offer yesterday:

"Every soldier should be given the advantage of instruction in bull fighting. Bull fighting calls not only for skill, but it teaches quick thinking in the face of danger. A man's heart quickens as the bull comes toward him; he must do the right thing at the right moment—or the results are painful and dangerous."

Landlady Says Mrs. Dempsey, Woodall Were Tight Together

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 3 (AP)—Despite a barrage of legal objections, a deposition from a Los Angeles apartment house manager was read today by an attorney for Lieut. Commander Jack Dempsey, saying that Mrs. Dempsey, another woman, Benny Woodall and his sister, Mrs. Jackie Griffin, were together and intoxicated there sometime in November, 1942.

Dempsey, the former world's heavyweight boxing champion, is suing his wife for divorce. This is the fourth day of the hearing before official supreme court referee J. Addison Young.

The deposition was from Mrs. Lyda Hallen, manager of an apartment at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hallen, in the deposition, said that in October, 1942, Mrs. Griffin took an apartment in the building and lived there with Benny Woodall and his two children. Woodall, a boxing trainer, has been named by Dempsey as a co-respondent.

The deposition brought out that Mrs. Hallen identified a picture of Mrs. Dempsey and said she saw her, Woodall and Mrs. Griffin and

Nazis Believed Gunning For Churchill In Airliner Attack

LONDON, June 3. (U.P.)—Belief prevailed in some quarters here today that the Germans were gunning for Prime Minister Churchill when they shot down a Britain-bound airliner bringing Leslie Howard and 12 other passengers from Lisbon Tuesday.

Reports said there was a greater concentration of Nazi planes over the Bay of Biscay—where the liner was last heard from while under attack—than at any one time in many months, and they were said to be pouncing on every aircraft they spotted.

German controlled radio stations had put out various stories about the prime minister's whereabouts during the past week.

On Sunday one Axis report said he had been in Gibraltar for several hours. The next day a dispatch from La Linea, Spain, said he was reported "somewhere in Africa" after spending 24 hours at Gibraltar.

The Axis assumption apparently was that Churchill would return to England over the Bay of Biscay.

The missing British airliner was

Texan Credited For Best Grub And Java In Far Eastern Area

BY ALBERT V. RAVENHOLT
United Press Staff Writer

A U. S. AIR DEPOT IN CENTRAL INDIA, June 3. — If you would like to sample what Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell considers the best grub and "java" in his China-Burma-India theater, come sit with me at the spread laid out here by Tech. Sgt. Abe Lafonte.

Lafonte, formerly of Beaumont, Tex., and his mess are famous from Karachi to Chungking.

When he arrived here in mid-May last year he inquired from the commanding officer where the mess hall was.

Cowshed Is Mess Hall

"Well, here's a cowshed we moved the bullocks out of the day before yesterday. I'm afraid you'll have to see what you can make of it."

The brick and thatch cowshed was cleaned out and white-washed and a cement floor filled in. The parachute department sprayed burlap with designs for curtains and Indian workmen hewed tables out of local wood.

Hardest of all was the problem of cooks. Abe, who in the course of his seven years in the Army had spent 17 months as cooking and baking instructor at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., scouted around. Finally for the salary of 100 rupees a month (the equivalent of 30 dollars) he managed to hire an Indian cook, formerly with the British army.

British Eat Differently

But, as Abe puts it, "The British don't eat at all like we do. I had to teach him all the tricks over again from the beginning."

Gradually as more planes and personnel moved into the theater, more men were hired, most of them Hindus, starting at the bottom as sweepers. Today there are 45 in all, of various castes, serving up Boston baked beans, hamburger steaks swimming in gravy and well creamed pies.

A pilot sitting next to me at the table remarked, "It's almost as good as being back in Omaha."

Most Supplies Local

Most surprising of all, 90 per cent of the supplies are local and the food is being turned out for about 32 cents a man daily.

Despite his achievement, Abe Lafonte's not satisfied. "Here I am, seven years in the Army and still a technical sergeant. My wife joined the WAACs a year ago with a commission and now she's running 24 messes at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga. It's hell to be out-ranked by your better half."

Abe also has another gripe. "You know," he told me, "the general was through here several weeks ago. I wish the old man would return my thermos bottle, but I don't suppose it would do much good to write him."

Soldier's Wake-Up Scheme Goes Awry

FORT KNOX, Ky., June 3 (AP) —A soldier in the armed force replacement training center walked into a telephone booth and called a Louisville number collect.

The soldier waited a few moments, smiled and started to hang up. Then he listened attentively, frowned and dropped 30 cents into the coin box.

"Why'd you answer the phone?" he growled. "It cost me my last 30 cents!"

He left the booth and disgustedly told another soldier, "I call my wife this time each morning to wake her up in time to get to work. You see, we don't have an alarm clock—can't buy one any place.

"She's not supposed ot answer the phone. And I always hang up after the operator tells me nobody answers. That way it doesn't cost anything. But this morning that sleepy-headed wife of mine answered and the operator told me to deposit 30 cents!"

Bull Calf Resents City's Blackout

LOS ANGELES, June 3. (U.P.) — James Brown, 48, had the misfortune to be driving through the city with a Holstein bull calf in the luggage compartment of his car when a blackout suddenly came on. The latter decided there could only be something sinister in a man driving through a blackout with a bawling bull calf in the baggage compartment of his car and booked them both on suspicion.

Filming Of SPAAF Short To End Today

Pathe news cameramen are to finish today the shooting of scenes for a special short subject dealing with South Plains Army Air field, according to announcement Wednesday.

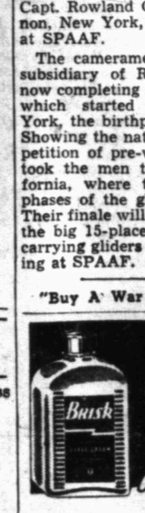

Coming in the wake of page stories in the New York Mirror and New York Times, Coronet and other magazines last month, the Pathe men are filming the feature angles of a story which shows the development of the glider from a sports attraction to a military weapon.

The three men here are Joe Walsh, director, Anthony Caputo, head cameraman, and Assistant Cameraman Savitt. They are being aided in actual flight work by Capt. Rowland O. Mosher of Vernon, New York, director of flying at SPAAF.

The cameramen, representing a subsidiary of RKO pictures, are now completing the special feature which started in Elmira, New York, the birthplace of the glider. Showing the national gliding competition of pre-war days, the film took the men to 29 Palms, California, where the basic training phases of the glider were filmed. Their finale will be concerned with the big 15-place cargo and troop-carrying gliders in advanced training at SPAAF.

New Livestock Tax Plan Is Opposed

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP) — The Treasury's new method of placing an assessment on livestock for tax collection purposes has drawn fire from Texas cattle raisers, who argue it is an unfair levy in regard to breeder animals.

It was attacked by Joe Montague of Fort Worth, counsel for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, who said he would plead with internal revenue officials for a return to the older inventory methods.

The new regulations mean an average increase of slightly more than $5 a head on the assessment of cattle, said Montague. The "unfair" aspect of the order is the fact that it applies to breeder stock while having been prompted primarily because of an increase in beef sold for slaughter, he added.

No Income Increase

A rancher's breeder stock may have increased slightly in value during the past two years, Montague said, "but inasmuch as he isn't selling those animals there has been no increase in income to him from them."

The internal revenue bureau sent to Representative Fisher (D-Tex) a letter explaining the new order. The congressman declared the explanation was technical and needed clarification.

West Criticizes Order

Representative West (D-Tex) also criticized the order, saying that the letter from the bureau, a copy of which he received "may have been a clarification of policy but the clarification needs clarifying."

He declared the new order appeared inequitable in that it seemed to make no distinction as to the value of individual animals, providing a flat increased assessment equally on stock of the poorest and most valuable breeds.

Fisher said the new order also applies to sheep and means an average increase of over $1 in the assessment on that form of livestock.

VFW Urges Halt To Rubber, Coal Strikes

Use of force, if necessary, to put a stop to strikes within the coal and rubber industries was advocated in a resolution adopted at the semi-monthly meeting of Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars in the basement of the Myrick building Wednesday night.

Members also decided to end their smokes - for - soldiers drive Saturday. The campaign is now in its third week.

The post admitted eight new men to membership: Warren Jack Spence, Wayne B. Groce, Lee R. Monte, Jimmy Hinsley, R. H. Griffin, W. L. Griffin, J. B. Stone, and H. W. Baum. With the exception of the last two men, all of these are now overseas, and were admitted to membership under the new rule which permits the VFW to enroll as members all soldiers in our amred forces as soon as they go overseas.

Princess Elizabeth Is Swing Convert

LONDON, June 3. (AP)—Royal tastes in popular music were expressed at a recent party at Windsor honoring Princess Elizabeth, who must wait, however, for her real coming-out celebration until the end of the war.

The royal family showed a keen interest in American swing music, and obviously enjoyed its interpretation by one of Britain's favorite orchestras.

Princess Elizabeth's enthusiasm for popular music has not waned since, as the report goes. The score of a musical show particularly excited her fancy at a command performance two years ago, prompting her for some time afterward to croon bits from songs such as "This Can't Be Love" and "Sing for Your Supper."

Extra Work Of New Tax Plan Likely To Be Called Needless

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, June 3, (AP) — The pay-as-you-go income tax plan calls for an extra report from certain individuals who probably will figure it's a lot of needless work.

These are married men whose income from wages or salaries is $3500 or over but who have enough deductions and exemptions for dependents to bring their surtax net income down to the first bracket—under $2000.

Among the many provisions of the pay-as-you-go plan is a requirement that persons whose wages or salaries are above certain levels — $2700 for a single person, $35000 for a married man (with or without children)—must file estimates of their 1943 income on Sept. 15.

Must Estimate Taxes

At that time and on that basis they must estimate their taxes for the year, subtract the amounts they already will have paid in the March and June 15 installments and will pay during the year through the pay roll check-off collection system — and pay any difference still due, in installments Sept. 15 and Dec. 15.

But in some cases we have in mind, certain married men who have to file this estimate won't have any difference to pay.

The idea behind this particular provision of the plan was to collect upper bracket surtaxes—since the check-off is designed to approximate the normal tax and the first bracket surtax which hits all taxpayers (up to $2000 of surtax net income).

But in fixing the $3500 level as the point at which extra reports must be filed, the tax writers set this for all married men, without regard for number of dependents.

Statewide Proration Hearing Set June 18

Series Of Parties Honoring Miss Scoggin, Bride-Elect

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

Things we women gave up just in time.

The upswept hair-do that was almost as much trouble to care for as a baby.

False eyelashes. (They wouldn't be practical for the woman who is learning riveting or for the one who is spending her idle hours underneath a car learning what makes it go.)

Long, long, fingernails. They aren't very handy for working in a defense plant.

Two-thread silk hose. They aren't so hot walking or riding a bicycle.

Gooey desserts. They don't "fit in" with war.

Corsets. Wouldn't we look cute wearing, under our slacks and overalls, those ultra-feminine horrors they tried to push off on us a few seasons ago?

AND THERE ARE PLENTY MORE

Afternoon bridge clubs, "culture" clubs, and other such organized methods of killing time.

That line that was supposed to make men beam, "I guess I'm old-fashioned—but I think a woman's place is in the home."

The grasshopper attitude, "I don't read the papers any more It's just too depressing."

The slap-happy notion that the more things a woman admitted she couldn't do, the more appealing she was.

All that—and there are still some left-overs from the good old days that will have to go

Forty-one students and faculty members of Morton High school arrived in their school bus about 8 o'clock this morning to spend the day on a sight-seeing tour of Lubbock.

Most of those in the party are members of this year's graduating class. Mrs. J. B. Nicewarmer, wife of the superintendent and a member of the faculty, is in charge of the group.

A visit to South Plains Army Air field and a number of industrial plants this morning was followed by lunch in Lubbock hotel. A visit to Lubbock Army Air field is on the afternoon schedule. The visitors were greeted by staff members of the chamber of commerce who assisted in arranging their itinerary.

Here's How To Waist-Away

By BETTY CLARKE
Associated Press Beauty Editor

DEAR HOUSEWIVES: If you've been rolling Red Cross bandages or have a war-job requiring you to sit most of the time, remember, even patriotic bulges won't do in a streamlined era. Extra pounds can slow up the war effort. So, here's an exercise that will help keep you relaxed, limber and on the job.

WAIST-SLIMMER: This exercise should help war work sitters get rid of excess waist baggage: Lie flat, feet pulled up to buttocks, hips on floor. Twist left.

Planes Soon To Equal Volume Transported Over Burma Road

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP) — Wings over the Himalayas soon will equal in effectiveness the delivery of military supplies by way of the Burma road — but the Allies still want the Burma road back.

Sources that cannot be quoted reported today that on the basis of information direct from China cargo planes now are flying army goods from India in a gross tonnage amounting to about one-third of that which was trucked over the highway before it fell to the Japanese.

Return Considered Vital

In a month or so they will be carrying nearly two-thirds of the Burma monthly average. And that, it was explained, will mean virtual replacement of the old Burma road volume as far as military value is converned because it's all army supplies now, whereas much of the old truck shipments were commercial goods.

Return of the Burma road to the United Nations is regarded as vital to the Allies as a supplementary route for guns, ammunition, bombs and plane supplies to be used against the Japanese.

Much more can be expected of the air transport system, it was said, when the present problem of inadequate airfields is overcome.

Substitutes In Use By Candy Makers

CHICAGO, June 3. (AP)—War is forcing candy manufacturers to cast about for new and alternate ingredients for their product, James A. King, vice-president of a New York City confectionery firm, said today.

Agar-agar, or "Japanese gelatin," is being replaced by a vegetable colloid and by a sea weed extract known as irish moss, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the national confectioners' association conference at the Palmer house.

Characteristics of dried egg whites or powdered albumen can be approximated by the use of powdered soya protein derivative, King said, which is "highly nutritive." Simulated cocoa powder is obtainable, he added, consisting of combinations of roasted barley, wheat flour, oils and simulated chocolate flavor.

OPA Questions Duke, Duchess And Madame

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP) — Madame Chiang Kai-Shek and the duke and duchess of Windsor were among those stopped and questioned by OPA inspectors in the Memorial day weekend drive against violators of the pleasure driving ban in the metropolitan area, Mitchell Jelline, chief OPA district enforcement attorney, disclosed today.

He said that all three had valid reasons for driving and were questioned as a routine procedure in the enforcement drive. Both parties, he said, were occupants of hired automobiles.

SCHOOL GETTING SISSY

Crops Damaged By Recent High Winds

Farmers on the South Plains suffered severely in many communities from high winds during the last several days.

Cotton and other tender vegetation was badly burned by the high winds and driving sand which swept the entire western part of the state Wednesday. Virtually all cotton is planted, and most of it is up, but there will be considerable re-planting to do.

In fields where seed had been planted but not yet up, there will be another re-planting job because the wind has driven what surface moisture there was entirely away. June 20 is about the deadline for replanting cotton in West Texas, so there are several days yet remaining in which a crop is possible.

In Hockley and Cochran counties it is reported here today damage from the several days of strong winds is much heavier than it is around Lubbock. A tour of the western part of Lubbock county during Wednesday afternoon, when the wind was at its highest, revealed considerable damage in the making. Farmers were busy everywhere trying to stir the soil, either by harrowing the listed beds, or in other ways sought to retard the moving soil by providing freshly plowed dirt.

The population of Hunan and Hupeh, two provinces in China, exceeds one third that of the United States.

Aerial Experiment Stated Progressing

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Anglo-American "experiment" of trying to bomb Corporal Hitler into near impotency is said in well-informed quarters to be proceeding splendidly according to plan, and it shouldn't be long now before the wear-and-tear begins to show in his fighting machine.

The effect of such bombing is, of course, cumulative. That's to say, Hitler naturally has reserve supplies which are considerably in advance of his immediate requirements. Thus even if all his war-production were halted at one time, it wouldn't necessarily stop his fighting-machine forthwith.

More Bombers Said Needed

One of the results of this bombing already evident is that the Nazis are having to increase the manufacture of fighter planes in order to defend their industrial centers from bombing.

A Royal Air force commentator in London yesterday said that greatly increased numbers of USAAF bombers are needed for operations from Britain. He paid high tribute to American daylight bombing and said it contributed greatly towards making May the most successful month of the aerial offensive.

The point he had in mind undoubtedly is this: to bring the bombing drive to its peak of efficiency there must be constant day and night operations with big fleets.

Nazi Army Being Weakened

This round the clock bombing keeps the Boche constantly on the defensive at all points.

In order to give warplane and gun crews adequate rest, it would be necessary to have three crews for each ship and each anti-aircraft battery. Hitler just hasn't got 'em.

The general theory upon which the efficacy of all-out bombing of Germany is based is being well substantiated. Hitler's army is his strongest remaining weapon, and his is being deprived gradually of its striking power by the Allied aerial assault.

The deterioration will proceed more rapidly with passing time. That is, it will if the slowing down of war production here at home doesn't cripple the great offensive.

Hope Revived For Claiborne's Rescue

The rescue of three of his missing companions revived hopes late Wednesday for the rescue of Ensign Carol Claiborne, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Claiborne, of Lubbock.

Ensign Claiborne and the other fliers were reported missing Tuesday after they were forced down somewhere at sea when they ran out of gasoline. They were operating from an airplane carrier.

An extensive search was opened by Navy ships and three of the fliers were found on their rafts. The search was continuing for the Lubbock flier Wednesday.

Ensign Claiborne's father has gone to the coast by plane in hopes of obtaining further information.

Young Claiborne was graduated from Lubbock High school and attended Texas Tech before being appointed naval aviation cadet. He completed his training early this year.

His parents recently moved back to Lubbock from Oklahoma City, where they had lived several months. They are living temporarily at Lubbock hotel until their residence at 2210 Fourteenth street is vacated.

Murder-Suicide Is Verdict In Deaths

HOUSTON, June 3. (AP) — J. L. Primeaux, 45, killed his wife, Mrs. Mazie Primeaux, 43, with a razor and then slashed his own throat here yesterday, according to verdict by Justice of the Peace Tom M. Maes.

Investigators found papers on Primeaux's body which indicated that he had been granted a five-day parole from Texas state prison on June 1 to attend the funeral of a three-year-old grandson at Kemah, a fishing village on Galveston bay.

No motive was established for the murder-suicide.

Any Old Port In A Storm; Attu Yanks Take Jap Quarters

BY WILLIAM L. WORDEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

CORIES LAKE, Attu Island, May 25 (Delayed)—(AP)—On the theory that any port in a storm is better than the cold, soggy ground, American troops have occupied the occasional huts and tents which were not wrecked when the Japanese were driven out.

The platforms give them a chance to keep their sleeping bags fairly dry. Bags spread on the soggy tundra of Attu get wet on the under side in a few minutes and are very chilly before morning.

It's an old fact that most soldiers here stay in their sleeping bags 10 hours if battle conditions allow. They do not actually sleep, but find it takes that much time to provide sufficient rest. It takes nothing less than a direct order to get them out.

When it rains, they simply pull a coat or part of a pup tent over their heads.

There was an earthquake in the middle of last night, and nobody in all the area where this correspondent was sleeping so much as got out to look around. Similarly, a heavy tractor, trying to get across a valley, fell into a stream about four feet below the tundra. Its snorting and roaring made a terrific racket. Soldiers who were sleeping within a few feet of it didn't even stir.

Personally, I stuck my head out of my sack, saw the tractor wasn't going to run over me and went back to sleep.

Workers Needed To Mail Ration Books

DALLAS, June 3. (AP)—A manpower shortage developed today in the work of distributing ration book 3 to 10,725,000 persons in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, and the city-county defense council asked for more volunteers.

At two of the centers where the work is being done there were about half enough workers to keep the books moving at the rate that must be maintained if all the copies are to be in the mails by July 15, the council said.

An automobile driven at 60 miles an hour could cross the Duchy of Luxembourg in 34 minutes.

Oil Executives Out To Live A Day With Soldiers At Camp

FORT BELVOIR, Va., June 3 (AP)—Greeted by an Army band playing "This Is The Army, Mr. Jones," 72 oil industry executives arrived at this Army post Wednesday night to don fatigue outfits and live a day with the soldiers who are fighting a war powered largely by the gasoline they produce.

The group, including 13 company presidents and four vice presidents, rode down on the train from Washington after, Army officials said, the Office of Price administration refused to allow gasoline to bring them here in busses.

Led by William R. Boyd, chairman of the petroleum industry war council, the oil men were greeted by Brig. Gen. Edwin H. Marks, commanding general at Fort Belvoir.

Regular Army Activity

He told them they would eat, sleep, maneuver, and go through field exercises with regular enlisted troops of the engineer replacement training center.

"But," he warned, "we are not any of us as young as we once were, and I don't want you to do anything unless you feel up to it."

The visitors then got their fatigue uniforms, learned to say "sir" to commissioned officers, and partook of a hearty dinner in regular mess halls.

As they marched into a recreation hall to view a movie on fighting tactics, a young second lieutenant looked them over.

Stay In Step

"No kidding," he muttered, "those birds are in step — better than some of our boys here after nine weeks of drilling."

After more close order drill, they took part in night maneuvers, using night compasses.

Today they arose at 5:45 a. m. for a day that won't end until 12 hours later. They'll get a sample of physical exercises, instruction and firing of machineguns, building steel and wooden bridges, and setting up barbed wire entanglements.

Those who are still on their feet will then return to Washington.

Peak Enrollment Marks New Term

Enrollment records have been broken for the summer school which started Wednesday in city schools, according to R. W. Matthews, acting superintendent.

When 215 students showed up for enrollment at Senior High, another teacher, R. T. Groves, was included in the faculty; another course, solid geometry, was added to the curriculum. Male students expecting to see service in the armed forces had made general demand for solid geometry, since that is one of the subjects especially suggested by the Army. Plane geometry and three courses of algebra also are being offered.

The summer session, which will extend through July 17, also attracted 18 students for Junior High, 63 for grades school work.

All high school students are attending classes from 7:30 o'clock until noon each day at Senior High, grades schools students at Dupre school, six days weekly.

Elementary schools are offering reading, language, arts, arithmetic, Spanish, art and recreational activities.

Junior High's curriculum is made up of reading, English, social science and mathematics, each to be offered in both seventh and eighth grades.

Senior High offers Texas history, second semester freshman, sophomore, junior and senior English, second semester freshman albegbra, second semester sophomore plane geometry, second semester senior physics, first and second semester junior algebra, commercial arithmetic, second semester typing and, as said, solid geometry.

Elementary and Junior High students will study for strengthening and make-up work, no half-year subjects for purpose of promotion being offered. Senior High students, however, may take work for half-year promotions.

Other members of the summer school faculty: Miss Linioel Hilliard, Miss Christine Peek, C. C. Cox, Miss Aline McCarty, Miss Mattie Clark, Rogers Orr, and Groves, all of Senior High; Miss Eula McCorkle and Mrs. Ray Brown, both of Junior High; Mrs. Ruth Carter, Mrs. Iris Bergholm, Miss Lois Hale, Mrs. Reuby Rhodes and Mrs. Josephine Ballenger, of the elementary grades. Mrs. E. M. Lovelace will be librarian at the high school, G. N. Atkinson as book custodian.

Britain Providing Hill-Billy Bands For U. S. Soldiers

LONDON, June 3. (U.P.)—Give a soldier a song he can sing—and a band that he can dance to.

This, at the moment, is one of the major morale problems being tackled by the British Army and by American Army forces in the United Kingdom. So far, on a reciprocal lend-lease basis, Britain has recruited and turned over to the U. S. forces 14 hillbilly-bands (similar to those of amateur-hour fame) and four dance orchestras. Plenty more of both are scheduled.

Songs are a different matter. As yet this war has not produced a solid, universal song hit such as "Tipperary" or "Pack Up Your Troubles," so Yank and Tommy still sing these old favorites. Meanwhile, the search goes on for new hits, with words to keep up the fighting spirit and rhythm to stimulate marching feet.

Instruments Scarce

Each hill-billy band consists of ukelele, guitar, violin, drums and one or two piano accordions. Each dance band has two saxes, a clarinet, trumpet, trombone, guitar, drums and a piano accordion (a good substitute for the piano).

Instruments are scarce, and a constant search is made for them, with Americans getting a fair share of the crop.

Once the band is formed comes the question of furnishing it with music. To help solve this problem the British War Office puts out a monthly publication called the "Army Dance Band Journal," sent to all commands at home and abroad as well as to U. S. and Canadian forces.

The Journal gives the score of one song for all-piece band. The sheets can be cut so that each musician has his own part. Publishing both British and American song hits, the paper has doubled its circulation since its inception in 1941.

American songs most popular with British soldiers are "South of the Border" and "Roll Out the Barrel." Although both are dated in the United States they retain their popularity in England. The British soldier, of course, includes in any songfest his own regimental ditty, often including topical (and sometimes unprintable) additional verses of his own invention.

Favorite songs with the American troops in England are "You Are My Sunshine" and "God Bless America." They have also adopted the RAF hit, "I've Got Sixpence," which has a rollicking tune guaranteed to chase the worst case of blues.

A song contest has been started by the music officer of the U. S. Army's European theater of operations. He has also organized more than 40 music groups among the men.

"Whereas, British troops have a growing love for classical music," he said, "most of our men prefer lighter stuff, because they are far from home and great music unlooses their emotions. We want to keep them happy, and popular sing-songs are what they like best."

MUSH DIET — Meat rationing somewhat cramps the dietary style of Cheeta, movie chimpanzee, but Constance Weiler, film starlet, comes to his rescue. That's a dish of banana mush (unrationed) she's feeding him on a Hollywood picture lot.

FISHMERMEN NEED BOY

WATERTOWN, Mass., June 3 (U.P.)—With the advent of the fishing season, this "ad" appeared in the Watertown Sun:

"WANTED: Energetic boy to dig worms and night walkers for unenergetic fisherman. Write Box 8815."

Medicine By Plane Saves Child's Life

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 3. (U.P.) — Ten-months-old Margaret Mortz, by placing a live electric wire in her mouth, causing a burn which might have proved fatal, caused a demonstration of what can be done in the matter of first-aid relief. The necessary ointment for such an injury could only be located at San Francisco. A telephone call resulted in the police breaking open the door at night of a wholesale drug warehouse where the ointment was stored, placing it on a plane and rushing it to the bedside of the child in time to save a life.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

THESE two important steps may help you overcome the discomforts or embarrassment of sour stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, underweight, disgestive complaints, weakness!

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

So with ample stomach digestive juices PLUS rich, red-blood you should enjoy that sense of well being which denotes physical fitness . . . mental alertness!

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need as it is especially designed to promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach and to build-up blood strength when deficient.

Build Sturdy Health so that the Doctors may better serve our Fighting Forces

Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health—makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. ©S.S.S.Co.

Doddering Dodgers Determined To Win

Bums Beat Birds To Extend Lead To Game And Half

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals may be the world's champions, or, as Manager Billy Southworth calls them, the world's greatest ball club, but the Brooklyn Dodgers have to be rated as the most dogged, determined gang of diehards in the major leagues.

This spring the Cardinals have sparkled and glittered and won the admiration of all their rivals in the National league.

Under Doctor's Care

The Dodgers haven't looked good, a collection of old geezers with aches and pains. No fewer than four of them were treated on the same afternoon this week by Dr. Robert Hyland.

Yet the Dodgers have held first place since the first day of the season.

Last night they seemed ready to fall. The Cardinals had humiliated all the Dodgers' strongest, fastest pitchers and were within half a game of taking over the lead. Southworth had Max Lanier ready, a southpaw who had beaten Brooklyn five times last year and once this spring.

Macon Comes Through

Leo Durocher had to take a chance on the only lefthander he has on his staff, Max Macon, who couldn't dent a custard pie at arm's length and who hadn't pitched a complete ball game all season.

Macon still hasn't pitched a complete game, but he beat the Cardinals to even their four-game series and restored Brooklyn to a game and a half lead. The score was 3-2 and the raging Redbirds who had made 20 hits the day before, who had obtained Danny Litwhiler from the Phillies and installed him as clean-up hitter, were limited to seven safeties.

Sens, Yanks Chummy

Meanwhile, the American league scramble for first place became even closer than the National as the Chicago White Sox whipped the New York Yankees 2-1 and the Washington Senators squelched the Cleveland Indians 13-1 in a night game. This lumped the Yanks and Senators in a virtual tie for the lead, although New York had the benefit of a few percentage points, .576 to .568.

Detroit held onto third place by beating the Philadelphia Athletics 7-2 behind five-hit hurling by Frank (Stubby) Overmire and the St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox divided another pair of extra inning games. The Browns took the first 7-2 in 12 innings and the Red Sox retaliated in the nightcap 3-2 in ten innings with Yank Terry pitching four-hit ball.

In the National league Cincinnati and Pittsburgh continued in a tie for third place. The Reds walloped the New York Giants 13-6 with an 18-hit assault on five pitchers after the Giants themselves had batted Bucky Walters off the mound with five runs in the first two innings.

The Pirates came from behind in a night game to beat the Boston Braves 3-2 with three runs in the ninth inning. Two of them came on a homer by Elbie Fletcher.

The Phillies nosed out the Chicago Cubs 6-5 for Schoolboy Rowe and now have beaten the Bruins seven times in eight games.

Grant Meets Mabry Today

SAN ANTONIO, June 3. (AP)—Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, former U. S. tennis champion, and Clarence Mabry, Alice, are matched in the third round of the men's singles today in the state tennis tournament.

Grant, seeded No. 1, disposed of Tom Broad, Dallas, 6-0, 6-1 in yesterday's feature match.

De Llano, Bost Finalists

George Ball, who downed Mendell Porter, 6-3, 6-1 yesterday, will play Lieut. Tom Gordon today.

John Hickman and George Dullnig, who won their second-round matches Tuesday, will oppose Ed Ray of Taft and Jim Daniel, respectively.

Rod De Llano, Laredo, and Carol Bost, Robstown, meet for the championship of the boys' singles play. By winning the opening matches and advancing on default, De Llano and Bost moved into the doubles' final against Bobbie Martin and Herbert Karren.

Bartzen Beats Levinson

Bernard Bartzen, state high school champion from San Angelo and seeded No. 1 in junior singles, won his third round match from Jack Levinson, Fort Worth, 6-0, 6-1. Mabry lost to Chick Harris, Corpus Christi, 9-7, 6-4.

Ethel Norton, San Antonio, No. 1 women's player, moved into the second round on a bye. Shelby Frizzell, Austin, seeded No. 2 won her opening match by defeating Patty Nixon, San Antonio, 8-6, 6-0.

Auxiliary Policeman May Carry Pistol

AUSTIN, June 3 (AP) — If an auxiliary military policeman carries his pistol in strict accordance with defense plant corporation rules he is not violating the state law, District Attorney Traylor Russell of Mount Pleasant was informed today in an opinion by the attorney general.

In his letter requesting an opinion, Russell said a member of the auxiliary police in Morris county had been arrested while traveling to work, and charged under state law prohibiting carrying a pistol.

HE'S HITTING HURLER

LEXINGTON, Va., June 3. (AP)—Who says a pitcher can't star in the batting department? Jay Cook, of Swarthmore, Pa., Washington and Lee's No. 1 flinger, belted the ball for an average of .500 the past season. He hit so handily that when he wasn't on the mound, Coach R. A. (Cap'n Dick) Smith used him at second base or in left field, and Cook played every inning in all of the Generals' games.

Hey, Rube!

Post-War Recreation Haven Planned Along Rio Grande

McALLEN, Texas, June 3 (AP)—The Rio Grande valley is taking advantage of the lull in hunting and fishing to build up a post-war recreation haven in the tip of Texas.

When tires are obtainable, gasoline rationing no more and hunting and fishing equipment plentiful at the corner store, the valley will be ready to entertain the nation's sportsmen in the style to which they want to be accustomed.

Tree Duck Given Impetus

Already more than 100,000 acres have been given over to bird conservation, in addition to wildfowl and fish preserves already established.

The black-bellied tree duck is almost extinct in America. There are not more than 300 in the entire nation, well, down here along the lazy Rio Grande the tree duck is getting a fresh start.

And the bird conservation program includes what is probably the largest acreage set aside in the United States for preservation of the white-winged dove. The legislature created a restricted area of more than 100,000 acres as a sanctuary for the whitewing and chachalaca.

State Game Warden Charles G. Jones of Weslaco, an authority on valley wildlife, estimates the sanctuary has resulted in an increase of 75,000 whitewings during the past year.

The newest bird sanctuary is the 2,200-acre Santa Ana ranch which the United States fish and wildlife survey bought for $30,000. One of the largest concentrations of chachalacas, once a famous bird in South Texas, now occupies the ranch. There also are rare red-billed pigeons, hooded orioles, rare white-fronted doves and derby flycatchers.

Another great area will be added to the valley's game refuge soon when the Willacy county water control and improvement district completes its program of converting the 3,000-acre Delta Orchards lake into a recreation site. The lake already is classed by fishing experts as one of the finest black bass grounds in Texas.

Green island, off the Gulf coast, is the oldest bird refuge. The 20-acre island was leased by the Audubon society 21 years ago. It is not for hunters, however, being reserved exclusively for plumage birds and at the season's height accommodates 15,000.

Whirlaway, Count Put Off

Henry Armstrong 7-5 Over Angott

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 3.—A whirl on the sports-go-round:

The first meeting of Count Fleet and Whirlaway probably will be delayed until the Jockey club gold cup ($22,000 added) at Belmont park in October. Meanwhile the Count is expected to concentrate on rich three-year-old events, and to pass up the less lucrative Saratoga cup, which will be shifted to a metropolitan track.

Quotations from the cauliflower patch:

Fewer Brawls In National

Chalky Wright is favored at 2-1 to beat Phil Terranova in their featherweight challenge bout at Madison Square garden Friday night. Willie Pep is 7-5 over Sal Bartola for their feather "title" tilt at Boston June 8, Jimmy Bivins is 9-5 over Lloyd Marshall for their Cleveland return June 8. Henry Armstrong is 7-5 over Sammy Angott at Madison Square garden, June 11.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, notices that players in his circuit are having fewer brawls with umpires and others this season. "One reason for this may be found in the stiff penalties we are handing out when such incidents do occur," he adds.

Clay Can Lob 'Em

Harry Mendel, former six-day bike-race tycoon, writes that he is doing "just swell" with his new Colonial Inn at Paterson, N. J. Mendel says, "for the first time in my life, I have the customers going round and round." . . . Ival Goodman, Cubs outfielder, recently joined his father-in-law, Herman H. Hunt, in purchasing a movie theater in suburban Cincinnati.

Dain Clay, the Rochester outfielder whom the Phillies obtained in their five-player deal with the Cards, has a great throwing arm. Last season, with Houston, Clay won a throwing contest by hurling the ball from home plate over the right field wall, at a point 322 feet from the plate.

Freddie Corcoran, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers association—now on leave with the Red Cross in Great Britain—writes that golf still is being played in the British Isles, particularly in the early evenings and week ends.

Rites Arranged For Former Grid Star

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3. (UP)—Funeral arrangements for Major William A. (Navy Bill) Ingram, one of Navy's greatest gridiron stars, were being made today.

A Marine corps procurement officer, Ingram, former Annapolis and University of California football coach, died of a heart attack yesterday at his Los Gatos home.

The 220-pound Ingram was a veteran of active naval service in the last war. He left a business career built after retiring from football coaching in 1934 to enter the Marines in January.

An all-America player in 1918, Ingram starred also for navy teams in 1916-17.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 3.—"Speed-up" baseball sounds like a good idea to a lot of folks, but Prexy Will Harridge of the American league doesn't think it will work very well . . . . For one thing, the umps' can't do much but hurry the players along between innings and if they try to cut short the pitchers' antics on the mound they're liable to hear a lot of pointed ear-burning questions from the managers about whether they have a date that night . . . As for Billy Evans' plan of making a flinger who is left on base go right to the mound without visiting the bench, Will thinks that when the weather gets really hot, Billy will find the boys need the breathing spell . . . Besides, Harridge adds, "we played a night game in an hour and 29 minutes recently and the fans didn't get enough. They had to flick the lights a few times to start them moving out."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Gil Godds, Boston's triple-threat theologian, has it all figured out that Gunder Haegg already has reached this country and is "out in the woods somewhere training for his race." . . . Charley Jones, Sammy Angott's manager, reports that he has six promising yearlings on his Goshen, Ky., hoss farm and one of them, a son of Johnstown, has just the same markings as his pa. . . . Wonny Horne, the Niles, Ohio middleweight, was born only 60 feet from the birthplace of President McKinley . . . Herb Kopf, Manhattan's volatile football coach, complains that the hardest thing about being in the midst of the football doldrums is just sitting still. "It's terrible for a guy who likes to move around the way I do," says Herb . . . A "tip" relayed by Buck (Louisville Times) Weaver is that the Charlestown, W. Va., race track is about to close because of gas restrictions. The next big baseball announcement will come from St. Louis—probably today.

SERVICE DEPT.

Pvt. Art Passarella, former American league umpire who's now calling them for Camp Grant, Ill., says that GI shoes are the best things he's ever found to wear behind the plate . . . Those loud moans from Lieut. Hobbs Adams of the Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air base are music to the ears of some other grid coaches. Adams lost three quarters of his regular backfield when Chief Specialist George McAfee was transferred to Michigan. Vic Fusia to Cornell and Fred Gloden to Bucknell in Connection with the Navy V-12 training program . . . Joe Ruetz, who resigned his commission in the Navy physical training department to become an aviation cadet, says his three months at the Delmonte, Calif., pre-flight school will be well spent because "I'm a little soft after spending eight months as an ensign and need to get back into condition."

A. A. U. Secretary Dan Ferris says track and field performances are sub-par this year.

CASE HISTORY No. 379. Lady age 59 who had trouble in the small of her back, severe constipation, had to diet, hemrrhoids, nervousness, dizzyness from stooping, cramps in legs, did not have an appetite, and was losing weight. As a last resort she came to a chiropractor. In a few months time after her first adjustment all symptoms had improved and she felt like a different person. She was so pleased and relieved with the adjustment, and so determined to keep the bones from pressing on any nerves, that she comes regularly for her check-ups.
CASE HISTORY No. 1144. Lady age 28 who had nervous spasms, indigestion, drawing and pulling of muscles. After her adjustment she became so much better that she has been coming regularly for fear that the bones would again get displaced and she might have the same sickness.
HOW TO SECURE CHIROPRACTIC BENEFITS. Persons who are clearly suffering from some ailment or whose bodies are in some part functioning below normal good health, and also those who have become conscious of soreness in the region of the spine, should immediately seek a competent Chiropractor and request an examination. It is equally important for well people to protect their present good health. Just as most reasonably careful persons now visit their dentist at regular intervals, it is easier and less painful for the denist to fill a small cavity than a large one and certainly it is much better than extracting the tooth. Likewise it is much easier to restore to normal position a vertebra which has been displaced only a short time, and it takes less time to remove the cause of the trouble.

It's up to you whether or not to believe that the walls of Jericho were blasted down by the notes of a trumpet.

But you'll have to admit that if the trumpet were played as some of our modern musicians play it that perhaps the citizens of Jericho tore the wall down to escape the racket!

A DAY or so ago, The Plainsman was one of a group of several score persons who saw a preview of a moving picture called "Ravaged Earth." We can honestly say that the picture, taken of the Jap assault on Shanghai and later on Nanking, by Mark L. Moody, an American resident of China for 23 years, is the most shocking we've ever seen. Yet withal—shock and horror not withstanding—we must say it is a picture which every ADULT American should see, even if seeing means suffering.

Mark Moody took the picture, which is without continuity, on a 16 millimeter film, later brought it to this country for private showing. But after Pearl Harbor, Moody, once a Shanghai automobile salesman, thought Americans should see the Japs as they really are. So he took his film to Hollywood and there it was "blown up" to standard theater size and is now being shown around the country just as more prosaic films are shown.

In his reporting days, The Plainsman, like all other reporters, frequently saw burned bodies, beaten bodies, stabbed and crushed and bullet-ridden bodies, therefore thought he was immune to any sort of shock along that line.

But we are telling the truth when we say we turned our head, not once but several times, during the preview of "Ravaged Earth." Some of the scenes are too horrible to describe, yet as we continue to marshall our strength against the brute force of Japan, we Americans need to know the Japs as they were in Shanghai and as they are everywhere on their fighting fronts today.

"Ravaged Earth" is strong medicine, but we Americans, now at war, need some strong medicine to increase our power and determination.

EDITOR ED POOLEY, of El Paso's Herald-Post, saw in the border city a similar preview of "Ravaged Earth," and we note by his account, in his column "Side-Bar Remarks," his reaction was identical with our own—therefore is likely to be identical with the reactions of Lubbockites who will see "Ravaged Earth" at the Palace next Sunday through Tuesday.

Reports Editor Pooley, in part:

"Moody's movies have become the most telling propaganda yet put out by our side. . . . Moody's picture, on its face and on the record, is the truth. . . . Moody's most horrible scenes are not isolated instances (of unbelievable Jap brutality) but are only examples of the general horror.

"All the things in it—the indiscriminate shelling and bombing, the herding and starving of the refugees, the murder of men, the mutilation of children, the rape of women, are but signs reading 'The Jap passed by here.'

"There (on the screen) you see, but for the steel of our machines and the flesh of our fighting men, America. It's a preview of what would happen to our cities once the Jap set foot on our shores. . . . Go yourself, meet your enemy face-to-face, and harden your hearts for the task which lies ahead."

Continues Mr. Pooley: "Especially should those people who are inclined to excuse the Japanese and blame their warlords for the bestiality of the race see the picture. Warlords can't make people murder 40,000 innocents or rape thousands of women from 12 to 70. Given permission, and even urged by their commanders, no decent people would commit the crimes of Shanghai and Nanking. No, the Japanese soldiers were only giving play to the natural instincts of their race, one which combines the brains and cunning of the 20th century with the morals and ethics of 2,000 years ago.

"Go see 'Ravaged Earth' and realize what it is that our fighting men are shielding us from. You will be horrified and stunned. You may even be sick. But you'll know what a war with Japan is, and why we must not lose."

IF The Plainsman had the authority to do so, he would force every member of the national House and Senate to view "Ravaged Earth." He would have it shown in every mine, in every war plant in the land and require that all those connected with our war effort see it from start to finish.

As a deterrent to home-front "griping," the writer would make seeing "Ravaged Earth" mandatory for every individual who cries about rationing and other little inconveniences brought about by the war and would show the film to every employe of every government bureau in the land.

There's nothing pretty about "Ravaged Earth." It's tough. But its message is so powerful that it should reach as many of our people as is physically possible.

WELL, well. We live and learn! At a recent convention in Detroit, psychiatrists learned about the therapeutic value of music from Dr. Ira M. Altshuler, a Michigan specialist who is experimenting with what he calls a "new science"—that of "music therapy."

According to the good doc, music can reach a patient through the thalmus—the seat of emotion and "feeling" of the brain. The thalmus, he says, admits the tones of music directly, unlike the spoken word which must travel to the cortex to evoke a response. Thus the patient, deeply withdrawn from the outer world, may respond to music by the tap of the foot, a swing of the body, or a drumming of the fingers in tempo with the music.

Doctor Altshuler says music can change a patient's respiration, his blood pressure and the endoctrine secretion. He does not predict that music will replace medicine, or that surgery will be supplanted by song. But he says it will help in some cases; that the field of "music therapy" is scarcely scratched.

That "music can soothe the savage breast" has long been a copybook maxim, but what most laymen do not know is that certain types of music soothe a surgical patient who is being operated upon under spinal anaesthetic which does not produce unconsciousness. At least one Lubbock surgeon has been operating to music for several years and says it helps patient, doctor and worrying relatives, as well.

For your next operation, may we suggest:

War Comes Home to the Philippine Islands

Chapter 4

Rus Brines was already in the office with Cronin, and we discussed plans for covering the war. We debated whether we should enlist, but decided we would be more useful in our own jobs.

When Manila bestirred itself and awakened, shortly after sunrise, the people of the city would not believe their eyes when they read the newspaper extras nor their ears when their radios repeated over and over, "Japan attacks America."

They had known how intolerably tense the situation had become, they had known that the United States and Japan were deadlocked with no solution in sight, but it was incredible that the lightning had struck so soon.

From our office we telephoned the cable companies. Up to eight-thirty in the morning they still had contact with Guam. The Guam manager reported: "Many Japanese planes are attacking us. We have been in and out of our shelter since six o'clock. Our small forces are still fighting but the Japanese have landed and are advancing. This can't last long."

I knew that the Japanese were very well acquainted with Guam. Two years before, at a press conference in the Navy office in Tokyo, smiling Rear Admiral Kanazawa had contested the statement by American correspondents that Guam was of no military value. That was during the controversy in the American Congress over whether Guam should be fortified or not. Congress was afraid of offending Japan, so the project was dropped. Kanazawa had taken his pencil and rapidly sketched the principal harbor of Guam. "It is an ideal harbor," he said. "The depth here is fifteen fathoms, there thirty fathoms. By simply blasting the coral heads here—" he pointed to a place on his map—"there will be ample room for ships of all sizes."

The cable companies got a few brief messages from Hong Kong. The Japanese were attacking overland from Kowloon and bombing the Hong Kong waterfront.

A message sent by Jimmy White came in from Shanghai. It ended abruptly in the middle of a sentence. It said, "Japanese seized International Settlement U.S.S. Wake captured in Whangpoo stop heavy machine-gun firing audible from Bund British gunboat went down with guns blazing under—"

An urgent press message came from Davao. Japanese planes were bombing the city, the most important on the southern Philippine island of Mindanao. One Japanese plane had been shot down. An American Navy PBY had gone down in flames. The ancient aircraft tender Langley had been attacked.

The attack on Davao had been long planned by the Japanese and carefully prepared. No less than twenty-five thousand Japanese had settled there, prior to the pre-war immigration restrictions, and some seven thousand of them were said to be of military age and Japanese army reservists. They were rumored to have been armed.

When we learned that the Japs had also bombed Singapore we realized for the first time the magnitude of the attack.

Then, in midmorning, the war suddenly came closer. Our correspondent telephoned from the mountain resort and summer capital of Baguio, only 125 miles to the north of Manila. Japanese planes had bombed Camp John Hay, which they evidently thought was a big barracks but was actually a recuperation camp. An American woman and her baby were among the nine victims.

MacArthur's headquarters telephoned. The general issued a message of "serenity and confidence" to the people of the Philippines. His forces were on the alert and prepared to fight off attack.

The spokesman arranged to meet the press at 11 A. M., so I went over to headquarters at Fort Santiago in the Walled City. MacArthur's spokesman met us in a small room. He was Major LeGrande A. Diller.

Diller arranged for two daily press conferences, and for the issuance of credentials. There was not much news as yet. He told us to come back at 4 P. M.

War came home to most Manilans that morning when the air raid siren blew for the first time.

Until the first bombs dropped the following night everybody was more curious than scared when the air raid alarm sounded. The police and street partols had difficulty in keeping people from poking their noses out of doorways and windows.

Throughout that first day of the war, press telegrams kept pouring in to the Manila Bulletin office. The first Japs set foot on Philippine soil in the Bataan Islands north of Luzon. They first landed at Aparri on Luzon two days later and quickly overcame units of the Philippine constabulary, which withdrew to the south. Even when the Japs landed at Aparri, which was 250 miles from Manila over rough country, nobody worried very much.

There was not much fear because everybody thought the Jap planes would come over Manila and our boys would knock them out and it would be pretty as hell to watch. We said to each other: "The minute that first bomb fell on Pearl Harbor the United States got moving. From all over the United States those big bombers are flying to San Francisco. They'll hop to Hawaii and then on down to Australia and up here. They'll be here within a week. The aircraft carriers will ferry pursuit planes out from Hawaii."

At 4 P.M. that first day I went back to USAFFE headquarters. Major Diller looked serious. He said, "Japanese planes which bombed Aparri this morning and later bombed Tuguegarao continued on the way to Manila. They were met and turned back at eleven this morning by fighters from Clark Field.

"However, at about one this afternoon Clark Field was badly bombed. Many planes were destroyed and it appears that casualties were heavy."

We asked for further details.

"I don't have any," he said. "There is only one telephone line to Clark Field and that has been cut."

That disturbed me. I said to Mel Jacoby of Time, "Haven't these people ever heard of the radio or the automobile? Can't they send up there and find out what happened?" Of course, the fact was that MacArthur and Diller and the others at headquarters knew the truth, but it was too grim for public dissemination at that time.

At six in the evening a very scared Manila physician came into our office at the Bulletin. He had been driving past Clark Field. "I saw planes diving through the sky and heard explosions. I thought it was practice. Then I saw planes blazing on the ground and a wounded man ran past me and crawled into a ditch and a plane came down and sprayed the road with machine-gun bullets. Santa Maria, I was terrified."

His story precipitated our first skirmish in what was to be a three weeks' battle with the Navy censorship. The censorship had been set up early in the morning, after news of Pearl Harbor, and was operated by naval reservists who had no experience in their jobs.

We wanted, especially, to report that our soldiers were clamoring for planes and to tell the people back home that without planes the Philippines would be lost. Then and later in the war the correspondents objected not to the idea of censorship as a means of keeping military information from the enemy, but to the inefficiency, inconsistency, and lack of under-

POSTAGE FOR RATION BOOKS

Of course, it is a small thing. The money involved isn't enough to hurt anyone.

But it is likely to strike a great many people as being plain "chinchy" that they are required to place postage on their application cards to the Office of Price Administration for Ration Book No. 3.

These cards pertain to official business. They affect every person in the nation. They are intended to simplify the job of a government agent as well as to serve the convenience of the individual. They are official government business—yet postage must be paid to move them through the mails.

Probably the postage requirement in this instance would be less irritating if there were not such flagrant abuses of the free mailing privileges by individuals and agencies connected with the government. Anything on earth they might want to send through the mail is sent, unblushingly and without hesitancy. This sort of junk helps to keep the waste baskets in the nation full and running over. Yet when something really important comes up and petty officials see an opportunity to sock the taxpayer for a few extra cents, they don't hesitate to do it.

Fortunately, the cost of a postage stamp isn't going to bankrupt anyone. But let's hope that this incident does not encourage the bureaucrats to start sending out their tripe COD. Let's hope the OPA doesn't try to make people pay, in one form or another, for their new ration books.

War Labor Board Has Its Back To The Wall

By PETER EDSON

Journal Washington Correspondent

ANYTHING constructive obtained from the War Labor board from here on in should be considered strictly as so much windfall gain, on borrowed time. For the sad fact is that the poor, battered board, since and conscientious as it is, hard as it has tried, has been backed against the wall by a combination of internal and external forces tending — to put it prettily — to impair its effectivness. How it can last much longer in its present form is hard to figure.

Twice recently, and several times before, the board has threatened to resign in a bunch. First crisis was on jurisdiction over railway labor disputes. The board's own threatened "strike" on this issue got results, and the President did award to Director of War Mobilization Byrnes authority to deal with railway labor National Mediation board panels to make their decisions in keeping with WLB policies. The board thereupon assumed jurisdiction over all labor cases.

EDSON

In other words, the War Labor board went out begging for trouble in insisting that the railroad labor wage cases be tied in with its efforts. And so, shortly, the $700-million-a-year-pay-increase demands of over a million railway employes will be brought to Washington. And if John Lewis' United Mine Workers don't completely wreck the Little Steel formula and the Stabilization act of October, 1942, the railway labor brotherhoods may.

SURPRISE!

SECOND threatened walkout of the War Labor board was over the President's "hold-the-line" order of April 8. This order came with as much surprise to WLB as it did to the country.

Lawyer Ben Cohen, of the old Tommy Corcoran-Ben Cohen team, is generally given credit for having drafted the order. Cohen is now counsel for Director Byrnes. WLB, Manpower and War Food administration chiefs were not consulted on any of its provisions, though the order affects all three.

WLB, being particularly stymied by the wage freeze in section two, was ready to throw in the sponge and quit. Pressure was applied to keep the board functioning, but ever since the order, the board has been trying to establish what the "going rates" are for work in all occupations and all labor market areas, so that limits could be determined for raising sub-standard wages, as directed by the order. Much more time will be required to make those determinations, and in the meanwhile, the backlog of unsettled cases piles up and strikes are tending to multiply in protest over the inability of the board to get out from under.

REGIONAL WLB offices have a backlog of some 17,000 voluntary cases waiting to be handled. These are the cases in which employer and employe agree to an increase within the Little Steel formula. Dispute cases in the regional offices number about 1000 waiting for action.

In Washington the backlog may be 8000 cases, but that will include 7000 or so voluntary cases already handled by regional boards and merely sent to national board headquarters for review by economists. The board itself seldom handles over 100 dispute cases a week. The whole works is, conservatively, a month or more behind its calendar.

John L. Lewis has succeeded in defying the board, and that one thing has backed it to the wall. Maybe it is wrong for one citizen to defy his government and back it against the wall, but that is an accessory after the fact, as the lawyers say. If Lewis can refuse to accept the board's orders, why can't others? The rubber workers in Akron did it, in their protest strike against the WLB wage decision in their case.

If others — like the railway brotherhoods, for instance — should follow suit, that would be wrecking the board for good.

Programs For Tech Air Unit Planned

Plans for a series of recreation programs to be presented by the 309th Aircraft Training detachment at Texas Technological college were announced Wednesday.

The first of this series, directed by Sgt. Thomas Lentini, is to be held Saturday night, and one will be held each Saturday thereafter at 8:30 p. m. on the green south of the administration building on the campus. Everyone is invited, according to Sgt. Lentini. Purchase of a recreation ticket is not necessary for students to attend the show.

The script is original with Joseph Ruffner III, and while part of the music is merely arranged by the pre-flight cadets, a large part of it will be original. Sgt. Lentini promises dramatic narration and gags that will keep the audience in an uproar.

About 150 cadets will participate in the show, a large number of whom have professional background in the show business. Most of them are from the west coast, Sgt. Lentini pointed out, and many have worked in movies and on the stage.

The show is to be a play depicting the life of Private Herman. The first of the series shows his induction, then his training, his classroom activities, calisthenics and a scene on the battlefront. Finally, in the sixth and last of the series, Private Herman is discharged for lack of ratings because he has gone so high he can no longer be promoted.

CHICKENS-TURKEYS. Star Sulphurous Compound—given in drinking water or feed destroys the intestinal germs and worms that cause most all diseases as they enter the fowl in feed, preventing most all diseases. Also rids them of blood-sucking lice, mites fleas, blue bugs and red bugs that kill many of your chicks. Cost very little to use. Money back if not satisfied. Mark Halsey, Drug Stores.

Western Prolfics

Most popular cotton in West Texas because its earliness and prolific fruiting has made more dollars per acre.

Has thin rind bolls that open early and its lightweight burs make high gin turn outs from snapped cotton.

Not a long staple cotton but its ⅞ to 15-16 staple has made $5 to $10 per bale more than cotton from Georgia seed.

Stays in the boll better than most cottons which is an advantage that saves lots of cotton if hands are scarce.

On R. D. Holmes land in 1942 Western Prolific planted 13 days after Hybreed opened at some time and made more cotton per acre.

These seed have been Kemgas delinted and graded and then dusted with Ceresan to protect the seedlings from disease germs in the soil.

HALF & HALF PEDIGREED SEED FROM SEED FARM NEAR VERNON, CERESAN TREATED, GERMINATION 94%

This is the thin rind, tight burr, high linting, early strain of Half & Half kept pure by a prominent seed grower who commenced working with Half & Half when its originators switched to Hybreed.

An average of 1,600 pounds of snapped cotton made 500 pound bales. It is not unusual to get a strict middling 500-pound bale from 1,500 pounds of snaps.

This is short cotton 13/16 and ⅞ inch staple but it went in the Government Loan at better prices than staple cotton because it made higher grades.

Recleaned and graded fuzzy seed in new bushel cotton bags at $6.80 per bag.

Kemgas treated-tested seed at $11 per 100 pounds.

Mail check and we ship freight prepaid to your railroad station and you save time and tires. We allow freight if you call for seed.

Coal Stoppage

the coal strike was not discussed nor even mentioned.

Green, Murray Present

Those going to the White House included President William Green of the AFL; Phillip Murray, CIO president, Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the CIO electrical workers union; R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO automotive workers union, and George Meany, AFL secretary.

Meanwhile, soft coal operators and United Mine workers representatives resumed their joint wage conference this morning although both groups of operators have advised the War Labor board they will obey its order not to negotiate the coal contract issues while production is interrupted.

What the conferees discussed was not disclosed but persons familiar with the conference rules said that final adjournment could not be taken without the consent of both sides.

Confident Of Backing

The War Labor board, after a prolonged White House conference yesterday, is authoritatively reported as satisfied that the president is prepared to back it up all the way. If this proves to be the case it would seem to bar any direct compromise between Lewis and the president or any agency of the government.

The board has insisted that the fate of the government's machinery for settling wartime labor disputes is at stake, and that any departure from normal procedure would constitute a surrender by the government to economic pressure.

What would happen if a presidential order or appeal went unheeded by the miners is speculative. Some persons high in the administration are reliably, but unquotably reported to be willing to take the risk, believing that the miners under public pressure would eventually respond, even if two weeks' coal production had to be written off in the process.

A gradual break in the miners' solid front probably would mean picket lines for a time, it is believed, and picket lines would mean troops to enforce order and protect those who wanted to work.

Warships Sink Axis Merchant Vessels

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 3. (AP)—Allied destroyers sank two Axis merchant vessels and an escorting torpedo boat and drove an enemy destroyer ashore burning Tuesday night in an attack on a convoy off Cape Spartivento, Italy, it was announced today.

"Our force suffered no casualties or damage," said a communique issued from the headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in chief.

One of the sunken merchant vessels blew up after being set afire by the destroyers' guns, the bulletin said. Among the attacking force was one vessel of the Royal Greek navy.

United States war planes swept over Pantelleria almost at will yesterday, blowing up one building in the port area and damaging others, and shot up radio installations and bivouacked troops in southern Sardinia.

Attack On Airliner

manned by a Dutch crew of four.

Besides Howard, the following were listed among the passengers:

Mrs. Rotha Hutcheon and her daughters, Petra, 11, and Caroline, aged 18 months. Mrs. Hutcheon was returning to England from Canada, where she had been living for the past two years, to join her husband, Lt. Col. A. G. Hutcheon of the British army.

Alfred T. Chenhalls, 43, London accountant and company director, a friend of Howard.

Kenneth Stonehouse, Washington correspondent of Reuters news agency, and his wife.

Mrs. Cecilia Amelia Paton.

Tyrell Shervington, a Shell company executive at Lisbon.

Ivan James Sharp, a London official of the United-Kingdom corporation returning from a business mission in Portugal.

Francis German, Cowlrick.

Gordon Thomas MacLean.

Wilfred Jacob Berthold Israel.

Israel, a Londoner, had been in Portugal several weeks.

Cowlrick was returning from a business trip to Spain for a London engineering firm.

It was not known whether any of the passengers had a chance to take to rubber life rafts, but if they did it was regarded here as doubtful that the boats could have remained afloat in Tuesday's rough seas.

another woman on a Saturday in November.

Bellhop Tells Of Visits

Woodall, slight and blond, sat in the front row of the spectators' seats and looked bored during the reading of the deposition.

Dempsey, dressed in navy summer whites, sat stoically at his counsel table.

Mrs. Dempsey, whose attorneys said she was suffering from a nervous complaint, was not in the court room. The court, in ordering resumption of the trial yesterday, said her condition was insufficient cause for postponement.

A former New York bellhop, Michael Sidoriak, 23, testified yesterday that Mrs. Dempsey was a frequent caller at a hotel suite occupied by Woodall and Mrs. Griffin.

French Committee

held and during which tension was evident in Algiers.

An agenda had been agreed upon in conversations among members yesterday, but by this morning, it was reported, several additional points which were opposed by Gen. Charles De Gaulle had been put on the program. This was believed to have caused the delay.

Compromise Reached

Details of the compromise reached between De Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud on the former's demand for a purge of officials who formerly were of pro-Vichy tendencies were revealed by wellinformed persons who cannot be identified by name.

De Gaulle had insisted that the housecleaning take place before the committee was formally established, they said, while Giraud demanded that the committee be set up first and that it then consider each case on its merits.

These persons said that De Gaulle had yielded to Giraud's demand for selection of the committee first and that it was agreed the consideration of individual cases would begin immediately.

The names on De Gaulle's ouster list would be taken up in turn and De Gaulle was assured that no meeting would be held without dismissing at least one official, it was said.

15 Names On List

The Fighting French leader was said to have 15 names on his No. 1 ouster list, including Marcel Peyrouton, governor - general of Algeria, who resigned two days ago; Pierre Boisson, governor-general of French West Africa; Gen. Auguste Nogues, commander of French Morocco; Gen. Jean Marie Bergeret, commander of the French West African Air force; and Gen. Rene Prioux of Giraud's general staff.

He wants to see the 15 go first. Then he has list No. 2 and list No. 3 and possibly others. These contain names of others considered by the Fighting French leader as less important offenders.

De Gaulle's view is that the committee will have no moral influence unless it cleans out those officials whom he described as not "worthy" to lead the French in war.

It is known that De Gaulle was displeased by Giraud's appointment of Vice Admiral Emile Muselier yesterday as deputy commander in chief in charge of public order in the Algiers area, but it is not yet known whether he has added Muselier's name to his ouster lists.

Red Aerial Victory

ing in their Kuban bridgehead and that "thrusts and attempts at piercing the German lines, made by Soviet infantry and tanks, collapsed in concentrated fire or else were smashed before the troops were deployed for attack."

Nazis Hit Rail Units

(Nazis air attacks on railway installations near Kursk were extremely heavy, and German shock troops blew up numerous Russian dugout positions, the Germans said. They also asserted 83 Russian planes were shot down yesterday. The communique was recorded by the Associated Press from a Berlin broadcast.

(The Russian communique announced three towns were recaptured by the Russians in fighting around Sevsk, 80 miles northwest of Kursk.)

(The Finnish communique, broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press, said three bombers and three fighters were shot down out of a Russian formation of 14 bombers and a like number of fighter planes in a clash east of Suuarsaari yesterday.)

Kursk was recaptured by the Russians in their winter offensive last Feb. 8, along with Belgorod, 80 miles south. Its capture preceded the winning of Kharkov, 120 miles south. When the Germans surged back into the Donets valley in mid-March, they were unable to regain Kursk, although they took Kharkov and Belgorod and fanned down the curve of the Donets river to the southeast.

Chinese Offensive

Yangtze front, the Chinese Army spokesman added.

He said that the Japanese had used altogether about 100,000 troops in the battle and that they had suffered about 30,000 casualties.

Yanks Strike 10 Blows

A communique from the headquarters of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced that 10 counteroffensive blows were struck by the 14th U. S. Air Force May 30 and 31 in support of the Chinese army in the Lake Tungting area.

B-24 Liberator bombers were credited with destruction of 20 Japanese fighter planes and probable destruction of five others during bombardment of Ichang air fields and Chinese fighter pilots led by Lt. Col. John Alison of Gainesville, Fla., destroyed three Zeros and probably wrecked three others.

Five Jap Planes Smashed

At least five enemy planes were destroyed on the ground, a Japanese gunboat was set afire, four river boats were sunk or burned and the locomotives of four trains were knocked out. In addition, numerous casualties were inflicted on Japanese troops.

Two American planes were lost and several others were damaged.

Recapture of Changyang would represent an advance of about 20 miles for the Chinese troops since they regained Yuyangkwan last Saturday.

Tax Bill To FDR

so-called "normal" year's taxes is forgiven. The "normal" year is 1937, 1938, 1939 or 1940—whichever is higher.

Under the old law the Treasury had expected to collect $9,815,000,000 on 1942 incomes.

Stock Market

MOTORS MOVE UP

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Motors and other selected peace stocks moved up in today's market although many leaders elsewhere lingered in the losing column.

Transfers topped 1,000,000 shares.

At peaks for 1943 or longer were General Motors, Chrysler, Yellow truck, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, American Can, American distillers and International railways of Central American common and preferred. The last named reflected gossip concerning a possible bond refunding operation.

Supported were U. S. Steel, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Great Northern, Oliver farm and Texas company. Leggards aircraft, Anaconda and U. S. Gypsum.

Pepsi-Cola softened in the wake of the Mexican embargo on exports of sugar and sugar products. The company recently organized a syrup manufacturing enterprise in that country. The embargo, conversely, aided some Puerto Rican and Cuban sugar shares.

At Chicago wheat was up ¾ to ¾ of a cent a bushel. Cotton, in late trades, was off 5 to 15 cents a bale.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 3 (AP)—Rye paced an upturn in grains today, moving up more than a cent to new six year highs on aggressive commission house buying and covering by previous short sellers. Strength in rye was reflected in other pits, wheat and oats recording fractional advances.

Buying developed on the basis of a private crop forecast estimating lower production of wheat and rye than the government's May 1 forecast.

At the close wheat was up ⅝-¾, July $1.44 ⅛-¼, July $1.44 ⅝-½, corn was unchanged, July $1.05, oats were ½-⅝ higher and rye advanced 1 ⅝-1 ⅞.

Pacific Aerial War

United States army troops combed scattered areas and by noon had eliminated minor groups of Japanese troops encountered, while that same day formations of Army Mitchell and Ventura medium bombers, Lightning and Warhawk fighters bombed and strafed Kiska. Hits were scored on the Japanese main camp area, runway and gun emplacements. A number of Canadians piloting Warhawks participated.

Jap Installations Hit

During the evening of May 31st, Liberator heavy bombers attacked Japanese installations at Tinputs harbor and Numa Numa harbor on the northeast coast of Bougainville island. Numerous fires were started. In addition, two small Japanese vessels off Tinputs were bombed. One of these was damaged and beached, the communique concluded.

The Ventura bombers participating in the raid on Kiska never before had been mentioned in Navy communiques, they were described only as high speed, two-engine bombers.

Tinputs, raided for the first time, is on the northeastern coast of Bougainville in the northern Solomons and is 289 miles from Henderson airfield on Guadalcanal.

SMARTER SOLONS SOUGHT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 3. (U.P.)—A bill submitted to the state legislature would require that all Illinois legislators have a grammar school education. Rep. J. S. Mundy, author of the bill, said that in the past 10 years two members of the legislature could neither read nor write.

Axis Holds 17,083 Americans Captives

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP) — The enemy now holds at least 17,083 American soldiers captive, Secretary of War Stimson reported today, and 11,307 of them are in the hands of the Japanese.

These figures are incomplete, he said, including only those whose names have been reported through the international Red Cross. On this basis, Germany holds 3,312 prisoners and Italy has 2,464.

Stimson, in a press conference at which he also mentioned that the virtually-completed conquest of Attu puts American forces "in striking distance of Japanese territory," said that food packages are being sent regularly to the prisoners in Germany and Italy but the Japanese have not yet agreed to such an arrangement.

Asked for elaboration on his hint of future operations from the western Aleutians against the Kurile islands of Japan less than 800 miles away, Stimson smiled and said "it's a pretty long distance."

Agreed Settlement Is Effected In Suit

Agreed settlement was effected this morning in the damages action of Elmor Cecil Gray and others against J. H. Fortenberry and others, doing business as Lubbock Bus company, in 99th district court.

Judge Alton B. Chapman of the 110th district, sitting in the vacant 99th district, signed an order stipulating $343.40 to parents of Elmor Gray, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gray, and directing that amount be paid to physicians and hospitals as itemized in plaintiff's petition to have been contracted in indebtedness; further that Elmor be paid $1,856.60 and attorney's fees of $15.

Elmor had set out in pleadings he was permanently injured Dec. 20, at Seventh street and Avenue K, when a bus driven by H. L. Howard was in collision with a car driven by Surman Young of Post. He was a guest in the Young car.

Judgment totaling $4,343.40, exclusive of attorney's fees and costs, had been asked.

Hitler Orders List To Duty In Balkans

LONDON, June 3. (AP)—A Tass dispatch from Istanbul said today Hitler had ordered Field Marshal Gen. Siegmund Wilhelm List back to the Balkans, apparently in an effort to tighten defenses and to quell defections among wavering satellite nations.

List, who led the invasion of Yugoslavia, Greece and Crete in the spring of 1941, was last reported to have replaced Field Marshal Gen. Fedor Von Bock on the southern front in Russia. Tass said List was reported to have joined Heinrich Himmler, German police chief, and Marshal Erwin Rommel in the Balkans.

Hanging Assessed In Child's Death

WICHITA, Kan., June 3. (U.P.)—Walter Ray Severms, 37, Wichita house painter, today was sentenced to hang Sept. 18 for the "punishment murder" of his eight-year-old niece, Inez Viola Burling, last February in a bathhouse operated by Severms and his wife.

Principal witness in the trial was John Burling, six-year-old brother of the slain girl, who testified that Inez was whipped to death and her head battered against the floor when she "talked back" to Severms after John had burned a rug in the trash.

Mrs. Severms also faces a first degree murder charge but won a separate trial. Inez Burling was the daughter of a war plant worker, who found it impossible to keep her five children together in her own home. She said the Severms had asked to be allowed to keep Inez and John.

during which they might be seeking peacetime jobs.

Wagner estimated that the proposed changes in the existing social security law would cost $5,000,000,000, which would come from the wages of workers themselves.

The bill calls for a contribution by an employe of six per cent of his pay, with a matching six per cent by his employer, on all wages and salaries up to $3,000 a year. These contributions would begin after next Dec. 31.

Beef Values Raised

make June a month "short on beef."

Pork, officials said, is now coming to market in relatively greater quantities than beef, and as a result, most pork cuts will represent better point buys for some weeks to come.

Whereas sliced ham is up one point on the new table, all other pork cuts, as well as pork variety meats, are down one point. Veal chops and steaks are up one point, and all other veal cuts are down one point. Lamb chops are up one point, and all other lamb cuts are down one point.

Effective Through July 3

Semi-dry sausage, such as cervelat, pork roll and martadella, are down one point.

OPA said that the values contained in the new table will be effective from June 6 through July 3, and that no changes will be made during this period barring unforeseen emergencies.

In addition to the changed point values, the table includes the newly rationed evaporated and condensed milk, with a one-point per pound point value. A new group of cheeses also has been included to cover creamed soft cheeses, which have been added to the list of rationed products.

Four categories of canned fish have been dropped from rationing, mainly to lessen the paper work for retailers, OPA said. These include crabmeat, sea-herrings, sea-mussels and a half-dozen miscellaneous types grouped under "all others." Oysters were raised one point per pound.

School Men Speak At Kiwanis Meet

R. W. Matthews, acting superintendent of Lubbock schools, and H. D. Bearden, supervisor of the war industries training school on the campus of Lubbock Senior High school, spoke before Kiwanians at Hilton hotel today. Each told of the part the city schools have taken in the war effort, and some of the effects the war has had on the schools.

Matthews said of an approximate 225 teachers in the city schools in one year 28 men and 52 women have left, most of them going into the armed services, into war work, or followed their husbands to training camp locations.

Bearden said more than 1,000 persons have been trained in aircraft sheet metal work, welding, or other courses in pre-training for war jobs since the school was inaugurated here about a year ago.

Both speakers said the student body had sold bonds, participated in salvage drives, gone into war training, military drill, learned the preliminary work of entering trades, and otherwise aided the war job in a splendid manner.

ed and well-equipped troops."

Foothold Chance Conceded

Coupled with this boast of Axis invincibility, the broadcast conceded that the Allies "might perhaps succeed in obtaing a foothold at some points on the Norwegian coast for some time."

"It cannot be denied, of course, that the Anglo - American occupation of Tunisia created a new situation in the Mediterranean," the broadcast added. "It would be foolish to ignore the fact that the Anglo-Americans now are in a position to use the bases in Tunisia for offensive operations against Europe."

Berlin previously had named June 22 as "der tag" for the Allies' grand assault on Europe.

The broadcast suggested that Allied forces striking northward across the Mediterranean would face transport difficulties similar to those that made "the Axis occupation of Tunisia an extremely risky action," ignoring the obvious advantage that strong British fleet units and growing air strength would give the Allied attackers.

Trains Hit Head On, 9 Are Hurt Slightly

VINITA, Okla., June 3. (AP) — Eight passengers and the conductor of a northbound Missouri-Kansas-Texas passenger train were injured slightly early today as the train collided head on with a freight train here.

Railway officials said the collision occurred after the passenger train headed onto a passing track on which there was a southbound freight. The engines were badly damaged, but the crews of both locomotives jumped just before the crash and escaped injury. Two mail cars of the passenger train were derailed.

The injured suffered cuts and bruises and were treated on the train by a doctor summoned by the railway. All continued on the train, which was delayed six hours.

The injured included Conductor (initials not given) Riley, Parsons, Kas., and passengers H. W. Summa, Sherman, Tex.; Thomas J. Higgins, Sherman, Tex., Mrs. M. L. Drinkuth, Monticello, Ark.; F. W. Howard (no address given); Mrs. Julia McDrier, Austin, Tex., and Miss Elizabeth Smith, San Antonio, Tex.

Stevenson Receives No Word From FDR

AUSTIN, June 3. (U.P.) — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson of Texas has had no word from the White House in regard to President Roosevelt's failure to invite the Texas governor to meet him on his recent trip through Texas to Mexico.

The omission caused much comment and recently Washington Columnist Drew Pearson said that failure to include Stevenson among governors met on the trip was not intended as a slight to the Texas governor.

Edsel Ford's Will Is Filed

DETROIT, June 3 (AP) — The will of Edsel Bryant Ford was filed for probate today and, because it bequeathed the greater part of his Ford Motor company stock to the Ford foundation, attorneys estimated estate inheritance and transfer taxes might not amount to much more than $12,000,000. Earlier reports, based solely upon conjecture, had placed the possible tax at as much as $200,000,000.

Attorneys said the estate itself probably would amount to $200,000,000.

Edsel Ford, only son of Henry Ford and late president of the Ford Motor Co., died last week at the age of 49.

For Educational Purposes

The Ford foundation, a non-profit corporation, was organized in 1936 for educational and other purposes. Gifts to organizations of its type are not taxable.

That portion of the Ford stock not bequeathed to the foundation is left in equal shares to Mrs. Eleanor Clay Ford, the widow, and each of the four children—Henry Ford II, Benson Ford, Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford II and William Clay Ford. The widow is made executrix.

The Ford Motor Co. is capitalized at $100,000,000—20,000,000 shares at $5 a share, of which but 3,452,900 shares were outstanding as of September 1, 1942. Ninety-five per cent of the company stock, known as "class A", is non-voting; five per cent, known as "class B" is voting stock.

Had Majority Of Bank Stock

Latest available data indicate Henry Ford held 55 per cent of the stock; Edsel Ford 41 1/2 per cent and Mrs. Henry Ford 3 1/2 per cent. Each held "class B" stock in proportion to his or her holding of "class A" stock.

Edsel Ford also owned or controlled a majority of the stock in the Manufacturers National bank of Detroit. This bank stock as well as the family estate on Lake Shore road, Grosse Pointe shores, and all the deceased's personal effects are left to the widow.

All other real estate in Michigan held by Edsel Ford and several other pieces of property go to the foundation, while a mansion at Seal Harbor, Maine, the White Hart Inn in New Hampshire and a residence in Florida are left to Mrs. Edsel Ford.

Wreckage Of Japs' Ambitions Is Seen

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 3 — The ultimate wreckage of Japan's ambitious scheme to smash American power in the Pacific and dictate peace in the White House is seen by authorities here in the history of 12 months of warfare following the enemy's decisive defeat in the battle of Midway island, which was joined a year ago today.

Not since that battle has Tokyo been able or willing to launch a major new offensive, and now the initiative has passed so thoroughly into American hands that no other enemy drive of similar proportions seems possible in this war.

The reconquest of Attu island, which also dooms the enemy base on nearby Kiska, already strips the Japanese of the minor gains they made from the grand strategy that resulted in their defeat at Midway.

1,500 Die On Attu

On Attu more than 1,500 of the foe have been killed, according to an actual count of bodies.

Japan's uncompleted airfield on Attu and all the useful terrain and anchorages are under American control and it is believed that installation of American equipment is going forward apace.

The first Japanese attack on the Aleutians came three hours before the beginning of the battle of Midway 2,000 miles to the south. Bombs fell on Dutch Harbor about 6 a. m., June 3, and American planes spotted the armada approaching Midway at 9 a. m.

Gigantic Pincers Move

The enemy had thrown his main armada of great and small warships and transports at Midway and his secondary force of aircraft carrier groups and transports at the Aleutians. It was a gigantic pincers movement.

The battle of Midway reached its height on June 4, when the enemy ships were turned back and many of them sunk or wrecked by Army, Navy and Marine Corps warplanes. The enemy counted four of his best aircraft carriers sunk, three of his battleships damaged, 275 aircraft destroyed and 4,800 officers and men killed or drowned. A total of 63 of his ships were sunk or damaged.

Yorktown Lost

American forces lost the aircraft carrier Yorktown, the destroyer Hammann, an unreported number of planes and 92 officers and 215 men.

Midway broke the southern arm of the pincers, but the northern arm was merely thrown back several hundred miles. The result was that the Japanese, instead of taking Dutch Harbor, took undefended Kiska and Attu.

In August U. S. Marines launched the invasion of the southeastern Solomon islands, which after six months of bitter fighting, secured the air base on Guadalcanal.

Costly Defense Fighting

From August to February the Solomons campaign occupied the Japanese in costly defensive fighting. Allied forces in Australia drove into northeastern New Guinea.

The fighting in the Solomons and New Guinea was followed by the American offensive in the north Pacific and it is considered noteworthy that not once in more than three weeks of fighting there have the Japanese risked any of their warships and but few of their planes to support their beleaguered garrisons.

Midway, military and naval authorities agree, marked the turning point of the Pacific war. But they emphasize that most of the fighting remains to be done. American forces are still a long way from regular bombings of Japan itself.

Value Of Attu Base Stressed

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, June 3—American forces on Attu island, where all organized Japanese resistance has ceased, are "now within striking distance of Japanese territory," Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson declared today.

Stimson did not elaborate other than to admit that the distance to Japanese territory is fairly long. He declined to say whether the Attu landing strip might be employed for aerial operations against Japanese territory.

"All organized Japanese resistance has ceased," Stimson said of Attu, "except for a few isolated groups of the enemy garrison which are being annihilated."

He said the final decisive action came on May 28 and 29.

Captured Heights

On the 28th American forces captured the heights overlooking Chichagof harbor. The following morning the Japanese infantry launched a desperate attack and penetrated American positions as far as an advanced command post. Thereupon American reserves went into action and crushed the Japanese attack.

Stimson said success of the Attu operations in less than three weeks was due to the dogged fortitude of ground troops assisted by naval gunfire, plus support by Army and naval aircraft when the weather permitted.

Stimson also said heavy losses have been inflicted on enemy bases in the Mediterranean as the result of the continuous pounding by allied air forces.

"Allied shipping now moves almost unmolested from one end of the Mediterranean to the other," he said.

DALLAS, June 3. (AP) — Mrs. Jessie Hodges Raspaskuy, 64, charged with the slaying of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruby Case, is free under $15,000 bond.

Bond was furnished following an examining trial yesterday before Justice of the Peace W. L. Sterrett. O. O. Dickerson, a customer in a cafe operated by Mrs. Case, testified he saw Mrs. Raspaskuy fire at Mrs. Case. Dickerson ran out of the place after the third shot, he told the court.

Real "ships of the air" weighing 200 tons and more are being planned.

standing with which censorship was administered.

The Manila censors kept our work pretty closely limited until the last week before Manila fell. Then they relaxed the censorship completely and everything went through. Those last days the censors were urging us, "Get the people of the United States to wake up and get going and send some airplanes out here. Tell them we must have help or we'll go under."

The telegrams that were coming into the Bulletin office sent us scurrying for maps. The Japanese had bombed Vigan, San Fernando, and Iba Field, and a number of other places in northern Luzon. Most of us had never heard of them. But the messages in each case said the enemy concentrated on the airfields, and in that way we learned for the first time that our Air Force had built and was building a number of outpost and dispersal fields down the eastern coast and in the north central areas of Luzon. In another ten days the fields would have been completed and our planes dispersed from Clark Field and Iba. The Japs had obviously known about it all along.

That night a blackout was ordered in Manila.

Early Rush Heavy At Swimming Pool

The biggest early season rush in history continues at the city swimming pool in Mackenzie state park, according to report at the city hall this morning.

Opening day attendance totaled 760, of whom 179 were adults and 581 were admitted on the 11-cent tickets available to those under 18 years of age. Pool receipts the first day approximated $181, of which $55 was merchandise sales. The crowd also was large Wednesday, although the sandstorm cut down the attendance.

Complete personnel at the pool was announced as being: Russell Wimberly, physical education instructor at Junior High school, manager; Billy Wright, assistant; and Tom Pirtle, J. D. Milner, Howard Lanford and Leslie Morrisset, lifeguards.

The manager announced that the annual learn-to-swim classes and life saving instructions are planned during the summer. Dates have not been set.

He reminded also that the pool is open from 8:30 a. m. until 10 p. m. on week days and from 1 until 9:30 p. m. on Sundays. Prices for use of the pool are 25 cents for adults and 11 cents for minors under 18 years of age. Both prices include tax. Swim suits are available for 20 cents and towels for five cents.

Jeffers Visits Borger Today

HOUSTON, June 3. (AP) — Borger, site of a synthetic rubber plant, is on today's itinerary of Rubber Director W. M. Jeffers, who said here yesterday that the rubber problem would be solved by the autumn of 1944.

Jeffers said that after an inspection of the Phillips plant at Borger, he would proceed to Los Angeles. Traveling with him are Col. Bradley Dewey, deputy rubber director, and Frank Creedon, assistant rubber director.

In an interview here yesterday, Jeffers said Texas and Louisiana plants were counted on for from 40 to 45 per cent of the nation's synthetic rubber production.

Jeffers and other officials, including Under-Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Under-Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal and Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies, had made a tour of Louisiana plants.

Patterson told interviewers "it is going to be a great task to keep up with the requirements of aviation gasoline, but I am confident it can be done."

With reference to crude production, Davies asserted "our inventories now are comparable to normal times and we are moving all the oil possible." He said that the P.A.W. had requested the drilling of 4,500 wildcat wells, "but so far the results are disappointing." Davies explained that the P.A.W. had no authority to increase the price of oil.

At a dinner last night where the visitors were welcomed by Gov. Coke Stevenson, Forrestal praised Texans' part in naval history.

JEFFERS TO STAY TILL RUBBER PROGRAM JELLS

HOUSTON, June 3. (AP) — Rubber Administrator William Jeffers will not leave his job and Washington on July 1 as he previously had announced he hoped to do, he said today.

"I'm not setting any date as to when I will leave," he said. "I'll stay until I get the rubber program wrapped up."

"I want to see this program wrapped up and handed back to the industry where it belongs and then get the hell out of Washington," he added.

When he is able to do that, he will return to his job as president of the Union Pacific railroad.

Tech Registers 902 For Summer School

A total of 902 students had registered for the first summer term at Texas Technological college shortly before noon today.

Classes opened this morning following official registration day Wednesday. Late registration will continue through Tuesday, with students reporting to the registrar's office to begin the procedure. Monday will be the last day for registration without payment of a late fee.

Three Days Left In VFW Cigaret Drive

Only three days remain if you want to have a part in the smokes-for-soldiers drive now being conducted by Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Since the drive started nearly three weeks ago, the post has raised $1,058.89, according to report this morning by J. R. Potts, commander of the post. One $5 contribution was received today.

This will buy almost 25,000 packages of the more popular brands of cigarets at the tax-free price of 4½ cents per package at which they are available to the VFW.

This price includes all costs—packaging, shipping and delivery to soldiers serving outside of continental United States—most of them in places were cigarets cannot be bought. They will be given to the soldiers free, and such precautions have been taken that there need be no fear that any one individual will have a chance to "hog" the supply. Each case will be shipped to some unit of fighting men somewhere, and they will be distributed equally among the men of that unit. Precautions are taken in shipping to insure that no single unit will receive more than a fair share.

But the campaign will close next Saturday. Every dollar mailed in by that time will mean 22 packages of smokes for fighting men. Mail your gift to Lubbock post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, P.O. Box No. 1, Lubbock.

City Health Group On Inspection Tour

Three officials of the city health department left this morning on a tour of inspection of laboratories and health departments in a number of Texas cities.

In the party are Gerald Jarvis, director of the city laboratory, Glynn T. Hudgens, special city and county health officer, and Sam McMillin, an inspector of food establishments. Their itinerary is to include Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Austin and perhaps other points.

The trip is being made with the approval of the city commission in an effort to continue the improvement of those services in Lubbock. They plan to return the latter part of next week.

MARTHA RAYE COLLAPSES

HOLLYWOOD, June 3. (AP) — Film Comedienne Martha Raye was under a physician's care here today following her return from New Orleans, where she collapsed after her first show on an army camp itinerary.

Dr. Lloyd Tainter, her doctor, said she was suffering from anemia, an aftermath of yellow fever which she contracted in Africa during a tour of army stations.

The three leading causes of accidental deaths in 1941 were motor-vehicle accidents, injury by fall and drowning.

Davies On Last Leg Of Trip Back Home

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3 (AP) — Joseph E. Davies, President Roosevelt's special envoy, left here by plane shortly after 9 a. m. today on the last leg of his journey enroute back to Washington from Moscow where he delivered a letter from the president to Premier Josef Stalin.

Davies, who arrived here late yesterday from Seattle, would say only he was on his way oo Washington to report to the president. It was not announced whether he would make any further stops before reaching Washington.
