Junior Rodeo Officials Buy Calf, Plan Ex-Citizen Days and Quarter Horse Show In August

Officials of Post's "Southwest-n Championship Junior Rodeo" his week made two announce-ents important to junior rodeo ns.

At the recent South Plains nior Fat Stock show at Lub-ck, the association bought the rst place light weight Aberdeen ngus steer. Carter White will ed and fit the steer which will shown at the state fair in allas in October. All proceeds om the sale of the calf will go to the building fund for Garza unty 4-H clubs.

Second important announcement by the association was that four prominent former citizens of Post will be honored on the four days of the rodeo, Aug. 9-12. Three men have been selected and will be here for their day.

First day of the show will be "Delbert Dalby Day," honoring the former Garza citizen who is a prominent Amarillo business man and president of the Range Riders. Second day will be "Congressman Ed Gossett Day" honoring the former citizen who is now a congressman in Washington.

Final day of the rodeo will be "Floyd Tillman Day," honoring the western recording star and song writer who grew up in Post. The third day of the rodeo still has to receive a name. Suggestions from the general public are invited, officials said.

Other plans for the rodeo are progressing at full speed. A quarter horse show is to be added. Since it will folow the Top O' Texas Rodeo and Quarter Horse show at Pampa, rodeo officials here expect some of the top quarter horses in Texas to be entered.

Opening parade of the rodeo promises to be one of the most colorful ever held in the South Plains, officials report. Riding in the parade will be some 60 to 65 members of the Will Rogers Range Riders of Amarillo, the Gaines county Sheriff's Posse of Seminole the Lubbock county Sheriff's Posse and the Post Stampede Cowboys.

Special awards for winners of the rodeo are already being received and more than 200 junior cowboys and cowgirls are expected to compete in the five performances this year. Last year, businesses from many sections of Texas and the United States gave awards. They are pledging their support again this year.

Plans have been drawn and approved for the first construction under the 4-H building program sponsored by the association. They are for 40 horse stalls which well be started in the near future in order to get rental from them during the Post Stampede in May, officials said. Rental fees will go into the building fund and roof will be built over the stalls at a later date.

Space is being left for a judging arena in the center of the stalls and when the structure is complete it will be the most modern club exhibit building in West Texas. It can be used for showing any kind of livestock.

More than half the available funds have been earmarked for a girl's and women's exhibit building and community clubhouse, association spokesmen said. These funds will not be used until enough money is available to complete this project.

"The Junior Rodeo association tries to render a community service," said Alvin Davis, manager, "whenever possible and it welcomes the advice or criticism of any citizen of Post or Garza county. In like manner it welcomes any assistance that anyone might wish to give. However, it's policy is to do things in such a way as to get unsolicited support and help and not to have to get out and ask for aid."

Longtime goal of the association, Davis reminded is to build one of the best county 4-H and FFA exhibit setups in Texas; to finance these county shows without having to ask any local merchant, civic organization, chamber of commerce or anyone else for prize money. The association plans to build a community center that can be used for any worthwhile community gathering; and to put on one of the most unusual and entertaining rodeos in the world, he concluded.

Seven Enumerators Named for Garza County Force To Take 1950 Rural and Urban Census Next Month

Garza county's seven enumerators this week attended a school of instruction in Tahoka and will begin actual work on the enumeration Saturday, J. B. Howell, director, announced.

Rural enumerators are Mrs. Lee Davis, Mrs. R. A. McLaurin, Mrs. Alvin Young and Mrs. Thelma C. Dobbs. Urban enumerators for Post are Albert C. Thomas, Mrs. Ralph Welch and Mrs. J. E. Parker.

"We want to urge the farmer to complete the agricultural questionnaire that was received through the mail," Howell said, "before the enumerator calls. This cooperation will expedite rural census work."

In many cases, the farmer may need to consult the enumerator before completing the form, Howell said. In that case, he urged filling in as much as possible before the enumerator arrives.

"The cooperation of everyone is asked," Howell concluded, "and the information given cannot be used for regulation, taxation or investigation and is treated in a confidential manner by the enumerator and the Bureau of the Census."

Less than One-Half Inch Rain Falls Here this Year

Only .49 inch of rainfall has been recorded in Garza county during 1950, records kept by the Double U company showed yesterday.

This is the third year since 1908 that there has been less than one-half inch of rain during January, February and March.

This is the 10th year in the 42-year recorded history of rainfall in Garza county that there has been less than an inch of rain during the first three months of the year. Heaviest rainfall for the first quarter was logged in 1941, 7.09 inches.

Only 3.71 inches had fallen this time last year. Total rainfall for the year though was 26.96 with the heaviest rain, 6.26 inches falling in June. February and March were light months last year but April and May showed quite an increase. Rainfall was sufficient for the second largest cotton crop in Garza history.

Rainfall for the quarter during the last 10 years has been 2.09 inches in 1940; 7.09, 1941; 1.76, 1942; .28, 1943; 3.06, 1944; 2.42, 1945; 1.86, 1946; 1.52, 1947;2.02, 1948; and 3.71, 1949.

Low for the first quarter of the year was .28 inches recorded in 1943. The years 1910 and 1943 the the only other ones in which rainfall has been less than a half-inch.

Subsoil moisture is very low in Garza county, Lewis Herron, county agent, reports and the drouth is becoming serious. Oldtimers are not worried yet—"as long as we get a rain before planting time." There has been no appreciable rain here since October's 2.10.

Funeral Services For C. W. Bullard Are Held Tuesday

Funeral services for Curby William Bullard were conducted at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in Hudman Funeral chapel. The Rev. R. E. ## Claremont Wildcat Flows Oil Show in Pennsylvanian

Garza county operators are keeping quiet about drilling progress while Kent county continues to hold the area spotlight with the wildcat No. 1-A Percy Jones flowing oil from a Pennsylvania lime.

The well, being drilled by General Crude Oil company, is one mile southwest of Claremont. Oil was still flowing on the last report but had not been guaged nor estimated. Testing at 6,740 feet, gas surfaced in three minutes, mud in 11 minutes and oil in 11½ minutes, according to a report in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

A small pumping discovery two miles southeast of the Polar-Ellenburger pool was officially completed this week.

Drilling and Exploration company and Nelson Bunker Hunt No. 1, it is potentialed for 12 barrels of 33-gravity oil plus 85 per cent water in 24 hours. Production is in the San Andres strata. Pay is from a plugged back depth of 2,340 to 2,350 feet. This venture bottomed in the Ellenburger which showed no production possibilities. All other sections shed void of production except the San Andres.

Information is being withheld on the Caroline Hunt No. 1 Young which was reported yesterday testing in the bottom of the reef at 6,385-6,645 feet. The well was said to be swabbing five per cent oil and 95 per cent water.

Southwest of this well and 11 miles west of Clairemont, Lewis Lohman et al No. 1 Young was still swabbing and testing Strawn section at 7,353-59 feet. Last gauge reported was 91 barrels of oil plus 70 per cent water in 24 hours, according to the Dallas News.

The Ted Wiener et al, No. 1 Carriker was reported unchanged at 7,525 in lime and shale.

A shift in location has been reported by L. M. Glasco and Spartan Drilling company No. 1 Emery Trust, placing it in Garza county. It is a 7,900-foot test in the old Swenson area in northeast Garza, the Dallas News said in Kent county.

Robbery, Burglary, Thievery, Knifing Busy Officers Here This Week

Sheriff E. M. Bass and his three deputies were busy this week with a major robbery, a burglary, a knife fight, and tire-stealing juveniles.

Quite a few suspects have been questioned but as yet no trace has been found of the two men who held up Bode Brothers Service station and escaped with more than $100 here Saturday night.

The two took about $60 in change and bills out of the cash register and W. R. (Bud) Bode's wallet with some $40 to $60 in it as well as a $100 Gruen wristwatch, Bode reported. As they left one of the robbers jerked the phone receiver off the hook and tore the phone from the wall. It was found later near Humble Grocery.

Bud Bode described the men yesterday to a Dispatch reporter: One was small, about 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighing some 155 pounds. He wore a pearl gray hat and light khaki colored clothes with a light tweed coat. His complexion was very light and he had a scar across his nose.

The other man was more than six feet tall, Bode said. He wore glasses. Bode was unable to remember how this man was dressed. The smaller one held the gun.

The two walked into the Gulf Service station, located on the north side of the Lubbock highway in northwest Post, while Bode and the former operators of the station, Mr. and Mrs. George Rodriguez, were talking together. Rodriguez leases the station to Bode and his brother, Roy.

Bode was standing and the Rodriguezes were sitting down. "Get up and get across the room," the smaller man is reported to have said to Rodriguez. His gun was described as a .32 or .38 calibre pistol. "Give me your wallet," he demanded of Rodriguez.

Rodriguez told the man he did not have his wallet with him. The small bandit then ordered him to open the cash register. Rodriguez told him he was not the owner.

Bode was then ordered to open the register. The smaller man scooped up the cash in it, then asked for Bode's wallet. The larger bandit took Bode's watch which has an engraving on the back signed, "Pat."

Throughout the holdup, which lasted three or four minutes, both men were very nervous, Bode said. He described them as being between 23 and 28 years of age.

Minutes after the holdup, the trio in the station walked to the Rodriguez residence near the station and called Sheriff E. M. Bass. The bandits fled to the north on foot. Bode said that he was sure they had a car parked around the corner.

Charlie Brown's house on the plains was burglarized this week. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown's coats, a radio, boots, a ring and other personal belongings were taken.

Three boys were held in Garza county jail yesterday for questioning in the tire-stealing. Several tires were recovered by the sheriff's office yesterday and others were found Tuesday.

Eight Mexicans were involved in a brawl at the Mexican dance hall Saturday night. Three were released to the Border Patrol and five remain in the hospital in Lubbock. One sustained 30 cuts. Another was stabbed in the back piercing a lung and a third was cut twice in the stomach. One was taken to the hospital in a Hudman ambulance.

GETTING OUT On the LIMB by EDDIE the EDITOR

One of the redeeming features about old-time newspaper work was the free tickets and samples the advertisers were always eager to palm off on you.

I haven't got anything free for a long time except occasionally some toy tractors but the other day I got a bottle of this famous product which I am now advertising.

I kept forgetting to take it because if it is as wonderful as I've been told I want to save it for an emergency. I figure if the press ever breaks down, I can pour a quart on it, and it will probably then operate twice as fast and efficiently.

Then I though I might package it up in small bottles the size of a ten-cent lipstick tube and let my bookkeeper take it around and present it to all my customers when she goes to collect on the first.

The ad says, "It matters not who you are . . . it matters not where you live . . . don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many people who have suffered or waited for 10 to 20 years or longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives . . ."

Bob Wills, the famous band director, says all his fans are getting wonderful benefits from it. If that is true, in a few years they'll be able to understand radio programs, I figure, and might even win a quiz contest by answering a difficult question like "When was the war of 1812?"

This product seems to cure everything from and including a hangover and old age. I just can't decide whether to save mine for a rainy day or go ahead and drink the whole bottle and be 20 years younger.

I can remember when problems of health were much simpler and people were doctored at home about once a year and never knew they had all these deficiencies and frustrations.

Every spring, in a number of homes, the sarsaparilla appeared with the first sandstorm. When I used to complain of getting tired early and plan to sneak off and go fishing, all I would get was a calculating look and a purgative.

In fact, in the old days, what a good session in the woodshed wouldn't cure, a good through of medicine would.

Back when I was growing up, when you took a spring tonic, you knew you were taking it. None of this candy-coated stuff for me. I think the theory was the bitterer the medicine, the quicker the cure.

I know I ean remember a complete and miraculous recovery after one tablespoonful of Granmaw's Spring Purifier.

Another old-time remedy that really was worth while was the idea of wearing a dirty sock around your neck for protection against sore throats. It seems to me if a dirty sock is good for the throat, it is better for the feet, which is where socks belong anyway.

Under this plan, I don't see any need in changing socks all winter because if a dirty sock is good, a dirtier one is bound to be better. This is economical because it saves on the washing. There is no need, that I can see, in a child's changing socks, all winter—just let him wear the same ones until it is time to go barefooted.

Some friends of mine used to have nosebleed all the time and they got to wear strings around their necks with pieces of lead on them. Too, when they had an attack of bleeding, someone always gave them a nickel or dime to hold in their mouths until the bleeding stopped. This always looked like an easy way to raise money to me.

Now the doctors are giving all kinds of shots for things like that—or else vitamins.

Modern day kids seldom get stung by ants or wasps and I guess it's a good thing. Nobody chews tobacco much anymore and people don't keep any around the house to chew up and spit on a big bump like that.

In case anybody does get stung, they have to get a prescription for some sickening sweet medicine that is pink. It just shows what sissies people are getting to be.

I don't know where kids get frogs to play with now but you see a few with warts occasionally—always going to the doctor's office to have them cut off.

It was less expensive to cure warts in the old days. All you had to do was steal your mother's dish rag, rub it on the warts and bury it under the house. Then when the rag rotted, the warts went away. I am wart-free today and I stand here and now giving testimonial to this cure.

I am willing to stand examination at any time and if anyone finds a single wart, I will gladly go and dig up my mother's old dish rag that I stole and see if it has all rotted away yet. They made good sturdy dishrags in those days, not these dinky little crocheted outfits you can buy now in the dime store.

Another sign of the decadence of the times is now everybody depends on the weather report on the radio to find out if the wind is going to blow or if it is going to be hot.

In the old days, you could rely on your corns. If they hurt, it was going to rain. People out here had very little trouble with their feet.

I remember some concoction which was useful for a spring tonic or a sick horse that used to be sold by a traveling tent-show.

A tall, skinny man blacked his face and painted on some real wide dead-white lips and played a guitar. He cracked some corny jokes about like Bob Hope and sang some hillbilly songs. They called him Flapjack.

The "doctor" would come out between acts and tell all about how good his medicine was for every all known to man or beast. Flapjack and some of the women would travel around among the people and sell bottles of the stuff for a dollar, two for a dollar and a half and six for $3.

The large $3 economy package was for farm families and took care of all the stock, except chickens and turkeys.

When the tent show came to town, all the bootleggers were really hard hit and temporarily went out of business. The booze-heads seemed to suffer from everything from lumbago to varicose veins because they always bought Flapjack out.

Every time somebody says "I have a lady in the balcony, doctor," on the radio, I can just hear old Flapjack sing out, "Sold out, doctor."

They always did a booming business on Saturday night and the medicine always seemed to last until the spring revivals when everybody got happy in a different way.

Employers Should Advertise Free Enterprise System to Workers

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK:

Washington, D. C.—Private ownership has lost the support of millions of workers. Why? Because management has never taken the time to bridge the gap between the front office and the shop with the romantic story of the American free enterprise system.

The Workers' Attitude

We have assumed that the schools have been giving our youth an understanding of various economic systems and then pointing out the advantages of American free enterprise. The schools have not done the job. Ask a few simple questions of any one in your own family and you will see what I mean. They have failed in this as in teaching spelling and arrithmetic.

Get your ear to the ground in your own shop and I will warrant you will be plain scared when you find how many workers believe management is just raking in the dough. They will even quote you figures: "The boss gets seventy-five cents of each dollar and we poor suckers get a miserable twenty-five cents!" And wait until you hear what they think about profit reserves! They are convinced that stockholders have only one interest: to grow rich by exploiting the workers. Down with all stockholders! Talk about advertising—that is a foolish waste of money. If the company was really interested in the worker, it would give him the money it spends for advertising! In short, too many wageworkers honestly believe that stockholders rob them of a rightful living; they think that the government should take over and do away with profits.

Management's Attitude

Can responsible free business survive with an antagonistic working force? The answer to this question is an emphatic, "No." Management has too often looked upon the worker as a "hired man." With this attitude management must defend its prerogatives, or "good-bye" to American supremacy.

I wonder how many businessmen have recognized the significance of what General Eisenhower said about the "inseparability of all the freedoms." If you really believe that some of our freedoms cannot be kept while others are flung to the winds, then you believe that all our personal, political, and social freedoms can survive only with the survival of our economic freedom—which includes freedom to work, to own, to save, to sell, to buy, to compete, and to bargain honestly without the use of force by either side.

Sell America

If you are really enthusiastic about the American way, a system that enables six percent of the world's population to produce the other ninety-four percent, why have you kept it a secret? Why haven't our employes learned that the American system provides more goods and services for the wageworkers themselves than any other system in the world—in spite of its imperfections.

The time is now to sell America. Dig up the facts. Toss out some comparative statistics. Bring in D. P.'s who have lived under Communism and Socialism to tell how they fared as workers. Use your PA system, house organ, posters, supervisors to give the worker information he wants and needs. Let him know what it costs to own and maintain a factory, repair and replace equipment, provide power, labor and materials, the cost of waste—and don't forget taxes!

What About Profits?

There has been a lot of loose talk about profits. We should show wageworkers how company reserves mean protection for their jobs, how they should encourage venture capital. A few statistics on advertising should be helpful reminding workers that the fellow on the next machine got his job as a result of the company spending more on advertising.

It won't be hard to prove that the fellow who thinks it is OK to soak the employer with taxes is just soaking himself in the long run. Every employe should know how much capital it takes to provide him with his job. ... have faith in the intelligence of our employes: but management must build a friendly bridge between the front office and the back shop. The free enterprise system succeeds when the white and blue collars work together.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Washington Service.

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Some 100 Texas congressional aides have decided they ought to know one another better.

Taking a leaf out of the book of their bosses, who hold delegation luncheons, they met last week in a large room just off the Senate chamber in the Capitol.

With the amiable and quiet-mannered Arthur Perry of Austin presiding, they heard an interesting talk by Assistant Secretary of the Air Force Harold C. Stuart. Perry is administrative assistant to Senator Connally.

The AF official got off to a good start by saying he felt he was almost a Texan, having been born in Oklahoma, and that his father practiced law in Gainesville, before becoming a federal judge in what was then Oklahoma territory.

Stuart said the Air Force felt particularly close to Texas because of its numerous bases there, plus the fact virtually all the top ranking officers have at one time or another been stationed in San Antonio at Kelly or Randolph fields.

The idea of the luncheon was suggested by Warren Woodward, of the staff of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. The former Coleman resident sounded out a few of his co-workers and found they favored such a meeting once a month.

"You know we're all acquainted," laughed Mary Cowles of Corpus Christi, "but only by telephone. It's nice to know the face that goes with the voice—and to know another Texan."

Each secretary is continually calling other Texas offices to carry out some request. Often constituents don't know just who is their congressman.

"The newer ones among us get a lot of helpful suggestions from the old timers at these meetings," commented Latham Ables of Brownwood, secretary to Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo.

"There's Jules Leverett of Galveston. He's secretary to Rep. Clark Thompson and has been secretary to the congressman from that district for 30 years. What he doesn't know isn't worth knowing."

Around the Capital:

Odessa grammer school youngsters don't like the idea of another state larger than Texas, which Alaska would be if admitted to the union.

Fifteen of them wrote their views in separate letters to Senator Connally. Apparently most were sixth graders.

Leland Young had this to say: "It wouldn't be fair to Texas because it has been the largest all this time. Many of our songs would have to be changed and so would books and many other things."

Kay Donald Baker observed that Texans had had to fight Mexico to win independence and that all Alaska had done was "to sit up there and freeze."

Several suggested that if Alaska is admitted, it be divided into three states.

Big, jovial Congressman Frank Boykin (D-Ala) has closer ties with Texans now than ever.

Oil has been struck on parts of his vast tract of land in Alabama, which somewhat compares in size with the King ranch, so he is one of the leaders in the fight to prevent a reduction in the 27½ per cent depletion allowance on income tax returns of oil operators.

A lot of South Texas folk will remember Boykin from the trip he made about four years ago with a congressional committee inspecting waterways. Wherever he went his jolly voice called out the slogan with which he is identified here: "Everything is made for love."

On that particular inspection trip Boykin took a liking to Brahma bulls, so near Corpus Christi he bought a car load on the spur of the moment and sent them to 4-H clubs in Alabama as a gift.

Recent visitors included Mrs. Chester A. Easley of Beaumont, her daughter, Mrs. Walter R. Taber of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Emmett Fletcher of Beaumont. The three women, en route to New York for a visit, were shown about the Capitol by Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont.

Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, author of the law repealing federal taxes on margarine, has no fear that the measure will harm milk producers. He has just gone into the dairy business himself in Waco.

Minute Editorial

Handling of the Red Cross campaign which ends here this week is an object lesson in how to conduct a community enterprise. It also gives the lie to complaints about lack of civic spirit in Post. The six or eight men handling the drive here collected 80 per cent of the quota during the first week of the campaign. About the only criticism that we could offer is that the remainder of the campaign was not organized earlier so the whole drive could be completed at once. The Red Cross has fallen into disrepute because of certain of its activities during the war and too, the local need for its program is not obvious. In spite of these handicaps, the people connected with the drive in Garza have done a bang-up job. Rural communities have been worked by home demonstration clubwomen who have sponsored entertainments and conducted canvases. Schools and businesses have done their part. We really think that the Red Cross chapter, Post and Garza county owe a vote of appreciation to the men who took time off from their business to conduct the drive. Both the county Red Cross chairman and the drive chairman are to be congratulated on the efficient way they organized the whole thing. Let's remember this the next time we in Post have an opportunity to put over a community project. This is the way it's done.

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

HALF-MILLION DOLLAR SCHOOL—A spade of dirt turned Monday morning by Mancil Hall, president of the school board, launched actual construction of Littlefield's new half million dollar high school plant.

Shortly after Hall scooped up the dirt in a public ground-breaking ceremony, a score of workmen started excavation work on the foundation of the new building.— Littlefield County-Wide News

JOINER SEZ HERE—Over at Hale center citizens are in a fever pitch of anger over an outbreak of dog poisoning. Seventy-two of the canines have been bumped off to make room for the spring crop, and dog-lovers don't like it. Cash rewards are being posted, and mob action against the offender is a possibility. Frankly, we've never been overly irate at a citizen who takes it upon himself to do a dirty job which the law refuses to do. Stray dogs are a menace to public health in a hunderd ways. All one has to do in Ralls to lose his social standing is to boot one out of his doorway or sprinkle the cur with buckshot for mauling our kids. We think there is a definite tie-in between the American love of dogs and the American way of handling foreign affairs. We love anything or anybody who will lick our hands or wag a tail in protestation of friendship. To the ingratiating dogs we throw our kids; to the conniving and cunning people we toss our bankroll. But we're happy with what's left—rabies and rubble. —The Ralls Banner

A WOMAN'S WORLD—Easter will soon be here— and that means that the wives will start trying to get a little foldin' money out of their husbands. The women, it seems, have got to have a new Easter outfit to wear on Easter Sunday to "show off." And this is probably the reason there are more women at the churches on Easter Sunday than men. The men have to be contented with the same old suit they've had the past five years. It's a woman's world—The Lorenzo Tribune

A WORLD OF WORDS AND WACKINESS—Newspaper people live in a world of words. And occasionally they lapse into wackinness, as for instance the advertising man who threw some words together for a customer's advertisement in which he had the customer saying:"Roses are red, violets are blue, come in cash, the mortgage is due." Further down in the advertisement came this line: "Why drive away down town to get gypped. Come to blank's. We're closer." Perhaps it tickled the reader's funny bone, too.—The Floydada Hesperian

THOMASES LEAD LYNN—Thomas Bros. gin at Grassland may have set the 1949-50 ginning record for Lynn county with a total of 9,275 bales turned out from the 1949 crop, according to J. T. Cunningham, employe.—The Lynn Co. News

WE WONDER TOO—After a number of our recent sandstorms, we're wondering why, but:

The sun has riz,
The sun has set
And Here We is In West Texas Yet.

WHITE FRAME RAMBLING RANCH-STYLE—

Guy Floyd House Features Convenience for Entire Family

The white frame rambling ranch-style house owned by the Guy Floyds in west Post was built to be lived in.

"It was built for convenience, especially the kitchen," said Mrs. Floyd. "Another thing, we wanted the girls to be able to bring anyone and everyone—as many as they want—home."

The house faces west. The front door opens off the porch into the ell-shaped dining-living room. In front of the door is a coat closet.

Walls, ceiling and woodwork in this room are pale gray. A picture window overlooks the front porch. Draw draperies on it and the corner windows in the dining area are rose, green and yellow floral on a beige background.

Carpets were left off the living room floor for Nell and Am to entertain their friends. The radio-phonograph is opposite a couch upholstered in blue, wine and gray stripe. A three piece beige sectional sofa is also in here. A round tier-table is in front of the picture window.

Blue Carpet

A blue carpet is on the floor of the dining area. In here are a modern dining room suite with a waterfall buffet and a china closet. A lace tablecloth covers the table.

Mrs. Floyd makes ceramics as a hobby and her collection fills the china cabinet. Currently she is making a set of demitasse cups for one of her daughters as well as several figurines for herself.

The kitchen is behind the dining room and has east windows. The original cabinets were removed and the Floyds put in their own things for ultimate convenience, since Mrs. Floyd works.

Green inlaid linoleum is on the floor and pale green tileboard wainscots the walls. Walls above the wainscoting and ceilings are painted an even paler green. The kitchen area proper is 12 x 12 feet. There is no wall between it and the breakfast area which is furnished with a bright yellow and chrome dinette set, 8 x 6 feet.

"We put our whole attention on the kitchen," said Mrs. Floyd. All her appliances are electric. They include a dishwasher, ironer, range with automatic oven and refrigerator. Bottom cabinets are steel but wood cabinets are built in at the top. Corner space is made more usable by a special corner cabinet.

Storage Closet

In a 4x4 feet hall, Mrs. Floyd has a large storage closet. In here is the hot water heater, the water softener, can opener, brooms and cleaning equipment.

The hall opens onto a small porch which leads to a concrete terrace bordered in flowers.

The backyard reflects Mrs. Floyd's main hobby, flowers. Phlox, tulips, larkspurs, crocuses, rosebushes, irises, chrysanthemums, and cannas are arranged about the huge backyard. Many of the flowers are already blooming. The Floyds plan to add a backyard fence.

Back Bedroom

Am, the Floyd daughter who is attending West Texas State college in Canyon, has the back bedroom. Walls are pale yellow. White priscilla style curtains cover the venetian blinds at the window.

Dimensions of the room are 12 x 14 feet. Am has a bed, dresser and large, comfortable lounge chair in the room proper. In her Extra-large closet, there is room for a chest of drawers, as well as all her clothes and still space left for storage.

Another small hall connects Am's bedroom with Nell's. The bathroom opens off it, at the back of the house. Green inlaid linoleum is on the floor here. Peach tileboard goes half way up the wall.

A big utility closet with a number of shelves is built in above a large clothes hamper. Bathroom fixtures are white. The room is about 10 x 10 feet.

Nell is the Floyd's youngest daughter, still attending high school. She has the other back bedroom, 12 x 14 feet in dimension. Her bedroom suite is ranch style in a natural finish. Walls, ceiling and woodwork are beige.

Large Double Closet

Twin beds, a small double chest and dresser are included in the furnishings. This room boasts a large double closet with numbers of shelves, in the center and at the sides.

The hall bends around and extends to the master bedroom at the front. Walls and woodwork in the hall are gray. A large closet is in the back of the hall, containing a large number of shelves.

The master bedroom is 14 x 16 feet. Walls, ceiling and woodwork are palest blue. Furnishings are blond waterfall. They include a large chest, dresser with an enormous round mirror a sewing machine in a matching finish and the large double bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd use their bedroom as a sitting room when their daughter's have company. Two large leather-covered platform rockers add to their comfort. One is upholstered in blue, the other in rose.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Floyd have a separate closet.

Window Walls

On the opposite side of the house, connecting the dining area with the garage is a breezeway. East and west walls are entirely of windows. These windows may be removed in the summer, leaving only the screen for extra coolness.

Mrs. Floyd is using the breezeway for storage space, too, at present. Her automatic washing machine and deep freeze are here permanently.

Wallace Barnett drew the house plans and the Floyds bought the house from him after construction was underway. They had been planning a new house for some time.

Mrs. Floyd chose the colors and appliances. "We made one mistake," she says. "We really should have another bathroom. We have tried to figure out a way to build one, but I believe it is too late now. If we had thought, it could have been done earlier, with no trouble. Now if the girls beat Guy to the bathroom, he just loses out."

Lawn Well Sodded

The Floyds have lived in their new home about a year and a half. The lawn in front it already well-sodded. They used clover and blue grass for a quick cover and to be green all winter. A hedge was planted for a border.

A panel-ray heater is in the living room. All rooms are heated individually. The living room light fixture is unusual. A chandelier-type, it features brass with painted milky glass bowls.

Rooms are spacious and the large amount of storage space enables Mrs. Floyd to keep her house clean and work downtown at the same time. The kitchen is especially convenient for one who works.

H-SU Invites Post Class to Senior Day

Students of Post high school are among more than 4,000 students of Texas who have been invited to the 27th annual senior day program to be held April 29 on the Hardin-Simmons university campus in Abilene.

"Senior Day has been held on the campus for a number of years in order to acquaint graduating high school students with life on a college campus," Prof. W. C. Ribble, faculty chairman of the program said. "All training and recreational facilities of the university will be open for the inspecton."

Visitors will be conduted on tours through the various departments and schools of the university and will be given the opportunity to view exhibits prepared by the campus organizations and units. Dormitories will also be opened to visitors during the day.

Mrs. Malcolm Bull Teaches First Aid

Mrs. Malcolm Bull taught first aid and showed how to pack a first aid kit to take on a hike when Troop 1 of the girl scouts met Wednesday night at the city hall.

Plans were discussed for a hiking trip to be made soon. Glenda Rose Pierce reported on the all-camp roundup at Las Leonitas some of the scouts attended.

Girl scout membership cards were issued each girl and the troop certificate issued by the national office was examined. After playing games, the girls closed their meeting by singing "Taps."

Boy Scout Troop To Present Pledge

Troop 16 of the local Boy Scouts plan an assembly program where they will present a conservation pledge badge to each grade in school, John Lott scoutmaster, announced.

As a community service, the scouts will present the badge to local business men who will display it. The pledge and design has been adopted by the government and is supported by several national agencies.

Text is: "I give my pledge as an American to save and faithfully to defend from waste the natural resources of my country—its soil and minerals, it forests, waters, and wildlife."

FROM THE.. GRANDSTAND

by WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

"I'm gonna twist a curve."

"A drop is better. The signal's for a drop."

"I'm gonna twist a curve."

This is just a fanciful conversation between Dizzy Dean and Mickey Cochrane and there probably won't be a bit of argument between the nine greats of baseball's past when they gather as a "one batter" team in Dallas April 11.

Oilman Dick Burnett, who aims to see his Dallas Eagles break the Texas League opening day attendance record, has come up with a dandy idea, one that will probably bring out the greatest crowd in the class AA circuit will ever see.

With special permission of the powers that be in the Texas league and baseball, Dean, Cochrane, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Charley Grimm, Home Run Baker, Duffie Lewis, Travis Jackson, and Charley Gehringer will start for Dallas in the opening game against Tulsa. This team will play one batter.

Most of us know these men only from the record books and from the countless stories still told of their deeds. All were stars in the major leagues, some shortly after the turn of the century, others not too long ago.

While there probably will be only good-natured banter between the greats, it would be a wonderful experience to listen in on a locker room pep talk by a manager telling each how to play his position.

For instance:

"You Cobb, I want you to choke the bat and pull your hits.

"And you Speaker, let's move around a little in the field.

"Baker, you'll bunt the first time up.

"Jackson, the position is shortstop. Stop those short drives.

"Cochrane, keep Dean mixing his pitches.

"Gehringer, you and Grimm split the distance between second and first. I want every foot covered."

You can imagine the deep silence that would greet these directives.

But who can you imagine as the manager.

Tuesday's Play Is Last Football Game This Spring

Tuesday night's football game marks the last game to be played on the local gridiron this spring. Eighth and seventh grade players will comprise the evenly matched teams.

The high school band will be on hand for the game and the public is invited and urged to attend. Proceeds will go to the Junior athletic fund. Admission is 25 and 50 cents. The band will lead a downtown parade before the game.

Miller Workout Set Again Sunday

Another workout has been set for 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Dan Altman, player manager of the Post Millers, announced.

At this time, afternoon practice for next week will be set. Workouts will probably begin at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Junior Athletes Get Good Donation

Donations totaling $132.10 for the junior athletic fund were received at the three basketball games played in the local gym Tuesday night, G. R. Day reported.

The first game was between faculty men and high school boys dressed as girls and playing the game by girl's rules. "It was a scream and no score was kept," Day said.

Members of the faculty participating in the game were Bing Bingham, Vernon Ray, Merle Jenkins, E. F. Schmedt, Jess Wright and C. D. Lee.

High school boys who played were Rex King, W. O. Fluitt, Don Brown, Ronald Joe Babb, Norman Cash, Pat Stephens, Curtis Williams, Ross Self, Buddy Caylor, Giles Dalby and Leon Miller.

The faculty won over the trustees 15-9 in the second game. All the members of the school board played. They are Raymond Redman, Monta Moore James Minor, Dowe Mayfield, Earl Rogers, Paul Jones and George Tillman.

The faculty team was composed of L. H. Welch, Leonard Tittle, Glenn Foley, Vernon Ray, C. D. Lee and G. R. Day.

In the last game of the evening the Senior girls won over next year's team, 18-11. Betty Mills, Bonnie Gary and Joy Stewart, forwards, Cletta Buster, Janie Shepherd and Barbara Lusby, guards comprised the senior team.

"I played 13 of my next year's girls during the game," Coach G. R. Day said. They were Mary Nell Bowen, Gay Pierce, Geraldine Ethridge, Joyce Short, Tinker Beauchamp, Jeanette Storie and Mary Jo Williams, guards, and Jaunella McClellan, Glenda Young, Jaunita Williams, Nelda Floyd, Anita Kennedy and Lora Johnston.

"This event may become an annual affair," School Coach V. F. Bingham said.

NEW COACH—Garvin V. Beauchamp, (above) line coach at Midland high school, has been named head coach of Abilene Christian college. He succeds A. M. (Tonto) Coleman, who went to the University of Florida as freshman coach. Both Beauchamp and Coleman are graduates of Abilene Christian college.

PHS Tennis Group Goes To O'Donnell

Post high school tennis players will journey to O'Donnell Saturday to participate in a district south-half playoff. Cletta Buster will represent the local school in girls singles; girls entry in doubles is Mildren Boren and Glenda Young.

Norman Johnson will play in boys singles for Post and Charles and Bobby Jones are entered in doubles.

Volleyball Gabes Being Played Here

O'Donnell, Tahoka, Slaton and Post are playing for volleyball district south-half honors in a playoff which began last night, in the local gym. Two winners of the south half, who will be determined here tonight, will attend a district tournament at Sundown April 7 and 8.

Fight Night To Be Held Here April 11

Tuesday night April 11 will be annual fight night at Post high school. Names of those participating in the bouts will be available for next week's paper. The public is urged to keep this date in mind.

New York State Farm Values Lower

ITHACA, N. Y., Mar. 30. (AP) —Farm land values in New York state declined three per cent from July to November, 1949, according to a Cornell university agricultural economist.

Dr. C. A. Bratton, extension economist at the State College of Agriculture here, said November land values last year were one per cent below those of November, 1948.

How About a Neon Hawaiian Wiggler

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 30. (AP) —Fish, like moths, are attracted by light.

Taking advantage of this weakness, Henry R. Burkey has invented a lighting system to prevent newly hatched river fish from sommitting suicide by entering irrigation ditches or power diversion channels. Every year millions of fish, particularly fingerling salmon, are lost this way. Burkey has developed a system of moving lights which fish follow.

"We were amazed," Burkey says, "to find how powerful a lure the lights created. Not a single fish appeared immune to the lure of the glow which piloted them safely past the danger area."

Dr. J. W. Edgar, newly-appointed commissioner of education, will speak in Lubbock Tuesnight at a meeting of the county school superintendents and supervisors of this area, Dean Robinson announced.

The meeting will be preceded by a banquet at $1.50 the plate in the Lubbock hotel at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night. All interested teachers, school supervisors and school board members are invited, Robinson said.

He asked that those from Garza county planning to go get in touch with him not later than Monday so he can send in their reservations for the banquet.

Chinese Refugees Annoy Kashmirians

SPINAGAR, Kashmir March 29 —(AP)—Some 600 persons who trekked through 18,000-foot mountain passes to escape from Sinkiang pose several problems for Kashmir authorities.

Officials say the refugees are unwilling for the present to return to their homeland, now controlled by Chinese Communists, and do not wish to go to Formosa, held by Chinese Nationalists. The government of India originally proposed to repatriate the refugees in October, but Kashmir officials asked a postponement.

Meanwhile, many refugees have become destitute. The Indian Red Cross plans to give relief and refugee leaders are trying to get aid from the United Nations.

Smog In Los Angeles Is 75-Year-Old Tale

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 29, (AP) In recent years Los Angeles has fought smog. It is a combination of smoke and fog and sometimes dust that cuts visibility and irritates citizens.

Now comes Dr. Clifford Zierer, University of California geographer. He has found an 1868 newspaper report that a similar condition was found there then. It continued for at least six days in 1868. There were no industries to blame for it then so it was blamed variously on a Guadalupe Island volcano and forest fires in Washington and Oregon.

Australia Worries About Radio English

CANBERRA —(AP)— The Australian Citizenship convention has urged the government to purify "English as she is spoken" in radio serials.

Speakers said that standard of colloquial English presented as Australian speech in radio serials was no advertisement for the purities of English. They said it savoured of Cockney, was quite un-Australian and entirely unsuited to teaching new Australians how to make themselves familiar with the English language.

Fish Breeder Uses Milk Delivery Method

TAMPA, Fla. March 29. (AP) —Fish Breeder Herbert Woolfe has built up a big tropical fish business in the north by using milk delivery methods. He loads a big plane with 30,000 little fish twice weekly.

His pilots drop off cans of fish at airports along the route and pick up containers left before. The Woolfe plane goes once a week to the larger cities in the east and delivers fish to the midwest on another run.

Woolfe has a 40-acre fish farm with 300 outdoor breeding pools. Such little fellows as guppies, swardtails, wagtails are raised in the pools. Temperatures and feeding conditions are checked as carefully as they are at a hospital nursery. The fish are loaded into cans equipped with hundreds of rubber tubes through which air is pumped. Losses are negligible.

Wholesale tropical fish dealers are the largest purchasers of the air-shipped fish. The fish are re-sold to aquariums and retail dealers.

St. Louis Cardinals Schedule Many Floodlight Games to Boost Home Gate

by FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 29—When you think of night baseball you think of crowds and money. When you think of money being generally accepted as the root of all evil you wonder how all those night games will effect the national pasttime.

Some baseball men think the time is just around the corner when most big league ball games will be played at night. Look at the St. Louis Cardinals. They have 80 of their 154 National League games on their after dark schedule. Fifty-four of their 77 home games are asterisked for floodlights.

A weekday game without lights in Sportsman's Park this season will be just as much a rarity as a flea circus without fleas. Exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and a July 4th twin bill with the Cubs, the Cards will play only three daylight games in St. Louis.

Hard working Cardinal owner Fred Saigh, who answers rapidly almost any question pertaining to legal matters or baseball, appears to have sound reasoning behind his nightmare of night games.

"We drew 1,430,586 fans last season, a new record for our park," says the bespectacled Red Bird president. "More than half of our fans were from out of town. We don't have a leisure or floating crowd like they have in Chicago and New York. We have learned from experience that it is better to play night ball in St. Louis.

"I've talked to Marty Marion, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter and I know how they feel. They all realize we have the biggest payroll. I believe it's 40 per cent higher than Brooklyn."

The Cards, of course, start out with Musial who is drawing $52,500 this season.

Musial is against playing too much night ball despite the fact that he hits bettter at night.

"I can't explain it," says the trimly built (175 pounds and six feet) slugger. "I know I hit better at night but I don't like it, especially the next day. Did you ever try playing a day game after a night game? Ask the fellows. Why a lot of us feel washed out and I know we can't do our best playing. Just watch any team after it has played the night before. The late hours upset everything, your eating and sleeping habits. However, we all realize we've got to go along with night games because that's where we draw the crowds."

Manchurian Gas Is Cheaper than U. S.

HONG KONG, Mar. 30., (AP)— Gasoline made in Manchuria is underselling the U. S. made product in Tientsin, recent arrivals from that north China city report.

The gasoline, produced by the Fushun Mining administration sells for 30 per cent less than American gasoline. A Communist press report from Tientsin says that the Manchurian gasoline is heavier and produces more smoke but otherwise it "compares favorably with imported gasoline."

Bacteria Growth Is Halted by Pressure

LA JOLLA, Calif., March 29, —(AP)— Bacteria usually die when put for very long in pressure zones much different from their own, says D. Claude E. Zobell of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

He put 83 species of bacteria under pressure up to 9,000 pounds per square inch. None were injured by a few minutes of such pressures. Nor were they hurt by sudden release of the pressure. But after a few hours or days most of them died. On the other hand bacteria taken from the deep sea where pressure is high lived and multiplied under such pressures.

Nevada is the sixth largest state but has the smallest population.

Communist Interest In Asia Increases

MOSCOW March 29 —(AP)— Russians have always been interested in Asian and South-East Asian affairs. But the chief attention of most Russians in the field of international affairs was directed at Europe. Now this has changed.

Soviet newspapers have not abondoned their coverage of what goes on in the United States and Western Europe. But the prominent places in foreign affairs pages are now devoted to news dispatches from China, Vietnam, Indonesia, Japan, India and other Eastern nations.

LEMON TREES LIVE IN NORTH

CHILLICOTHE, Ill., Mar. 30— The Fred Gauwitz family has been picking lemons off the same lemon tree for 23 years. They tote the tree and the tub it's rooted in down to the basement each November and up to the yard each May.

Miss McClellan Weds Bill Stone

Miss Melba Rose McClellan, ghter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clellan, became the bride of Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Stone Saturday in Lubbock. The Rev. A. O. Graydon, Meth- st minister, performed the ce- mony at 2 o'clock in the after- on in his home at 2205 20th eet, in the presence of mem- rs of the family of the couple. The bride wore a pink gabar- e suit, pink hat and navy oes, bag and gloves. Her cor- ge was an orchid. She carried white Bible. She also carried t the tradition of something new, borrowed and blue. r something borrowed, she wo- a watch belonging to her mo- ther.

Miss Joy Mason, maid of hon- or and cousin of the bride, wore a navy suit with navy and white accessories and a flame glamalia corsage.

Roy Robinson attended the bridegroom as best man.

The couple left after the cere- mony for a trip to New Mexico. They will be at home here after April 1 in the Colonial apart- ments.

The bridegroom is employed by Comanche Oil corporation.

Mrs. Stone, a 1948 graduate of Post high school, was formerly employed by Thaxton cleaners.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Southland high school.

Plant Variety of Flowers in Garden o Be Certain of Sustained Blooming

By Cynthia Lowry
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's all very well to be de- oted to certain flowers. It's an- ther thing to overdo enthusi- sm. A garden is only as pretty s its blooms and the gardener's b is to make a wise selection spread the blooming from ear- spring to beyond frost.

Chrysanthemums are a joy to behold—when they finally blo- m. But the gardener who plant- d only chrysanthemums would ave a dull garden indeed for ost of the spring and summer onths. The same is true of the arden containing only tulips, or y other specialty.

The important thing is to plan r succession of bloom, arrang- g plantings so there are al- ays a number of different co- rful faces. This is done by sta- ting with the early spring bulbs nd carrying through with the rilliant flowers and bright ber- es which survive the chilly ights.

Talking about succession is lot easier than doing some- hing about it, for the gardener as a number of things on his ind when plotting a new gar- en. He must think of colors, eights of plants, likes and dis- ikes of types of soil, and re- uired sunshine.

And there's always the ques- ion of combining annuals and erennials in the garden. One ompletes the cycle of life from eed to seed in a few months— nd blooms later in the season. The latter remain quietly situat- d, blooming and resting year fter year.

Ignoring other considerations n this article we'll pick a nu- mber of popular and easily rown plants to provide season- ong color for the average gar- en. The list of possible annuals s seemingly endless.

I've arbitrarily selected a do- ble handful of both which will loom around the early spring o late fall segment. All are asy to grow and not fussy.

If you are starting from cratch on perennials, a good umping off place would be with eony, iris, coral-bell, phlox, daylily., columbine, bledding eart, oriental poppies, platy- odon and chrysanthemum. Don't orget the bulbs, either: crocus, ulip, grape hyacinth and gladi- olus. Many of them have long, ong periods of bloom Most bloom well for years and need little or no attention beyond oc- casional feeding and cultivating.

With a sensible beginning of these perennials, the gardener can go ahead experimenting with his taste and interests, ad- ding lupine, foxglove, holly- hocks, roses and everything else that interests him.

The field is even broader where annuals are concerned, ex- cept that the blooming time is slightly more limited. But as suming that the gardener is growing annuals for the first time, here's a practical begin- ing:

June and early July flowering: Phlox drummoni, petunia, scab- iosa, alyssum, California poppy, larkspurs, marigold, nasturtium gaillardia.

Mid-July to frost: calendula, cosmos, portulaca, zinnia, stock, centaurea, sunflower.

August or September to frost: aster, snapdragon, nicotiana, morning glory and moon flower. saliglossis, verbena.

The double selection most as- uredly would provide a hand- some show from early to late. Assuming the selection were made, the next problem—and just as important—will be ex- actly where to place them in the garden, to assure their being seen, and to have the colors set off to greatest advantage. Every beginning gardener—not to men- tion absent-minded veterans— has had the upsetting experi- ence of seeing what was put in as a low edging plant grow tall enough to obscure the plants behind it.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE NEW TESTAMENT:

The New Testament begins with the Four Gospel Narrat- ives, which give the life and te- achings of the Lord Jesus Christ from four different points of vi- ew.

MATTHEW wrote for the Jew and shows Christ as the Messiah and King, in whom, as God's anointed, were fulfilled the pro- phecies of the Old Testament and in whom, as His Royal Law-gi- ver, David's kingdom is revived.

MARK addressed the Romans and exhibits Christ as the migh- ty God, the Man of divine power, the miracle-worker.

LUKE, who wrote for the Gre- eks, shows Him as the Son of Man and Servant of God, the divine Teacher and Friend of the race.

JOHN especially dwells on the divine nature of Christ as the Son of God, who gives eternal life to every believer.

The object each writer had in view largely determines the con- tents of his narrative, what it includes and excludes, and thus many differences are explained. There is unity in diversity.

Matthew is especially rich in the public discourses of Christ and His parables; Mark, in His doings; Luke, in His gracious ministries; and John, in His pri- vate conversations or interviews with disciples.

Matthew is the gospel of the Messiah and His Kingdom. Mark dwells upon the mighty deeds of Christ. Luke shows the Divine Man, the Last Adam, and John reveals Him as the Lord of Life, the Divine Word made flesh.

DESSERTS AND MAIN DISHES ARE TOPS—

Officers in Local Parent-Teachers Association Give Recipes

Mothers and others who find their houses sometimes full of children get to be accomplished cooks along with their many other activities.

Several Post matrons, all executives in the local Parent-Teachers association, this week are sharing their favorite recipes with Post Dispatch readers.

Mrs. Paul Jones is president of the Post Elementary High P-TA. A dessert she has found most popular is brown sugar cake. Her recipe calls for

½ cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup sour milk
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup nuts

Method: Cream shortening and brown sugar. Add beaten egg yolk. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk. Add egg whites beaten stiff, and nuts. Bake in greased, floured pans, at 275 degrees for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Jones has a special icing she makes for this cake. It calls for

2 cups brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons butter

Cook slowly until it forms a soft ball in water. Beat thoroughly, then spread on.

Mrs. Walter Boren is vice president. Her children are in a number of activities and she cooperates in all of them. One of her favorite main dishes is chop suey.

"Chop Suey is a simple way to feed a crowd," she says. "In fact, it is my favorite dish for a large bunch. At our house, we have it as practically a one-dish dinner, serving it with a salad and dessert."

Ingredients include

1 tablespoon fat
1 pound diced round steak
½ pound diced lean pork
½ pound diced lean veal
2 large onions, diced
½ bunch of celery
1 can mixed Chinese vegetables
1 can bean sprouts
2 tablespoons chop suey sauce
1 tablespoon butter

Mrs. Boren uses a cooker to cook hers. She browns the meat in the fat, seasons with salt and pepper to taste. Next, she says, cover cooker and cook until tender.

Brown fresh vegetables in butter, then add all vegetables to meat. Cook only until vegetables are tender, or about 10 or 15 minutes.

Mrs. Glenn Kahler replaced Mrs. Custer as treasurer for this year. She dresses up a ham steak with the wollowing recipe, called "tropical ham slice:"

1 1-inch smoked ham slice
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup drained, unsweetened cooked dried apricots
No. 1 can crushed pineapple
¼ cup liquid in which apricots were cooked
¼ cup pineapple juice

Setting for a spring day—a juicy broiled ham slice surrounded by plump fried apple wedges. Corn meal biscuits are included in the menu.

Place ham slice in roasting pan. Spread top and sides with mustard and sprinkle with brown sugar. Force apricots through a coarse seive. Add pineapple and liquid to apricots and mix thoroughly. Pour over ham slice and bake in a slow oven (300 F) for 1½ hours. It makes four to six servings.

Mrs. B. E. Young is recording secretary of the P-TA. Until recently she has worked with the scouts. She teaches a Sunday school class in the Methodist church and has numerous other activities outside her home.

"A number of people have asked me for my cheese souffle recipe," Mrs. Young remarked. "Would you like to have it?"

Ingredients are

2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mustard
½ teaspoon paprika
1 cup milk
1 cup grated cheese (American)
3 eggs

Melt butter over low heat. Add flour. Stir to a smooth paste, then add seasonings and milk and cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thick.

Add cheese and beat until smooth. While cooling beat egg yolk until thick and whites until stiff. Add yolks to cheese mixture, then fold in whites. Pour into ungreased casserole and set it in a pan of warm water.

Cook 45 minutes in a 325 degree oven. When done, it should be light brown. Test by pressing with finger, lightly. If the souffle rises back, it is done.

Mrs. J. D. McCampbell is P-TA historian. Her husband is cubmaster for the local pack She helps him with this as well as her other activities. Their favorite dessert is pineapple cake made from the following recipe:

1 cup shortening
1 3-4 cups sugar
3 cups cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
4 eggs
1 cup sweet milk
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon extract

Cream butter and sugar well, add beaten egg. Alternately add milk and dry ingredients sifted together. Bake in three layer pans in a moderate oven about 25 to 30 minutes.

Icing for the cake calls for

2 cups sugar
4 tablespoons flour, heaping
4 egg yolks or two whole eggs
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple.

Beat eggs, add sugar and flour. Then add pineapple and stir well. Add a lump of butter. Place on stove and cook as slowly as possible for one hour. Then spread on cake.

Mrs. Victor Hudman is a working partner in her husband's business. In addition to caring for three small sons, Mrs. Hudman is program chairman for the P-TA. Her recipe for Auesgood pie is given below:

4 egg yolks and 4 egg whites
1 cup raisins
1 cup nuts
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 tablespoon butter

Combine all ingredients except egg whites. Fold in after beating stiffly. Pour mixture in unbaked pie shell and bake in a slow oven an hour or and hour and a half.

Mrs. Mike Custer was treasurer of the P-TA until she resigned recently. Her family especially likes Swiss steak the way she fixes it. Ingredients are

2 pounds beef steak either round or chuck
1-3 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons fat
1 sliced onion
½ cup water
1 cup tomato juice

Cover steak with flour, salt and pepper and pound. Brown in hot fat in a frying pan. Add onion, water and tomato juice. Cover and cook one hour on top of stove or in a moderate oven until tender. Turn occasionally. This recipe serves six.

Former POWs May File Food Claims

Former prisoners of World War II are being assisted by the Red Cross in filing applications for food claims from the War Claims commission. Homer McCrary, chairman of the Garza county Red Cross chapter announced.

The War Claims commission has determined that German and Japananese prison camps were substandard in terms of international law. Claims currently are being paid for food allowances only.

HD Club Members Submit Recipes For Brownies, Egg Custard, Pudding

Dessert recipes are popular with home demonstration clubwomen this week, who are continuing to turn in some of their favorite cookies, pies and puddings.

Mrs. Elmer Hitt of the Pleasant Valley HD club has a recipe for Brownies that is delicious. It includes

1 cup butter
2 cups granulated sugar
4 eggs
1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup pecans
½ teaspoon pure vanilla

Cream the butter and sugar. Add the well beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients and blend the entire mixture. Spread thin in a greased paper-lined pan. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees F., about 15 to 20 minutes.

Mrs. Sid Cross of Justiceburg has a recipe for egg custard that is given an unusual flavor by the addition of grated orange. It call for

1¾ cups milk
½ cup sugar
3 eggs (beaten)
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon lemon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon grated orange

Mix ingredients well. Pour into unbaked pie shell and bake 30 minutes 350 degrees F.

Mrs. George Evans of Justiceburg submits a recipe for caramel pudding with a brown sugar sauce. Ingredients are

½ cup brown sugar
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
pinch salt
1 heaping tablespoon butter
½ cup sweet milk
2-3 cup raisins mixed into dough

Cook as usual for pudding.

1 cup brown sugar
1 heaping tablespoon butter
3 cups boiling water

Mix and bring to boil, drop batter by spoonful into sauce then place in oven and bake ½ hour. (This is good served hot or cold).

D AGENT GIVES TIPS ON CHOOSING CLOTHES—

Wardrobes Should Consider Basic Costumes or Accessories

Garza county 4-H club girls d home demonstration women e busy these days getting their esses ready for the dress re- e in May.

Club members make these esses and winners in the co- unty eliminations are sometimes entered in the state meets—the 4-H Roundup at College Station and the Texas Home Demonstration association convention.

Besides the savings in money and the valuable experience the girls and women get in making these clothes as part of their club work, they also have an opportunity to obey one of the cardinal tenets of extension service work—that of sharing their knowledge with someone else.

Mrs. Jewell Strasner, county home demonstration agent, reminds competing club members of the following points about planning and achieving a wardrobe which she also passes on to all those who make their own clothes—whether for purposes of economy, correct fit or just as a hobby.

Basic Plan First

"First," says Mrs. Strasner, "one should start with a basic wardrobe plan."

Some women have a seven-year plan for their wardrobe. They do not try to completely outfit themselves each season but collect a wardrobe over the years that suits their personalities and activities. They find a becoming style and length and generally stick to it.

"It is interesting to note," said Mrs. Strasner, "that one of the topranking women in the 10 best-dressed for last year, claimed to have added few if any new clothes to her wardrobe during the year."

Planning is of chief importance, she reminds, and grooming follows a close second. Shoes should always be shined and clean. Stocking seams should be straight. Slips should end about an inch and a half or two inches above the bottom of the skirt—never swag down below it.

Neatness And Fit

Hems should be in all times—a dress with a small rip in the hem should not be worn. Skirts should be fitted at the waist and not too tight elsewhere. Blouse collars and cuffs should always be clean.

Hair should always be clean and attractively arranged.

Mrs. Strasner suggests the following plan to use in thinking through an individual's clothes problem:

First check the clothes you have, at least twice a year, including your accessories. Select those you want to keep and give away those that you don't use. Make necessary alterations of the clothes you keep, bringing them up to date or putting them in first class condition. This, Mrs. Strasner says, will extend your clothing budget.

Next, think of all the places you went last year. Decide where most of your time was spent then plan your clothes for your activities. Functional clothes and comfortable shoes are desirable for household activities.

Supplement Present

Third, Mrs. Strasner says, make a plan for clothes supplementing your present wardrobe, keeping in mind your activities. She offers two different plans for keeping a wardrobe wearable year after year.

One is the basic dress with accessories for interest and color. The other is the basic accessories plan which calls for different clothes to express a mood or personality.

The first plan is probably the more practical. It calls for buying a good basic costume for each season, filling out the wardrobe with carry-overs. Numorous accessories are reguired for accent.

"This is a particularly good year for accessories," Mrs. Strasner pointed out. "Scarves, beads, flowers and trimmed blouses are all being worn."

The second plan calls for a good set of basic accessories each year, complemented with a number of different costumes.

Think on Accessories

Give more thought to your accessories at the beginning, says Mrs. Strasner, and there will be less to worry about while they are being worn.

She gives four pointers for choosing. First decide wether the effect of the costume is to be tailored or dressy, then buy corresponding accessories.

Plan the color before you buy and then stick to your decision is the next tip the agent offers. Decide whether the color is to match, blend or contrast with that of the garment. Matched accessories should be exact.

Third, look over your wardrobe and plan for a color that can be worn with the majority of your clothes, matching some, while blending or contrasting with others.

One accessory article may serve as the accent of the ensemble while others supplement the costume, Mrs. Strasner remarks. This requires a great deal of thought concerning the individual's most attractive features.

Positive Attitude

"Treat the problem positively, not negatively," Mrs. Strasner says. "Accent your most interesting feature. You can't build up a personality around your defects. Corrected, they are just normal."

Hats, she says, accent the face; gloves, the hands and shoes the feet. Care must be taken, she reminds, not to have too many brilliant accessories. It is not good taste to use brilliant color accents with a costume which is in itself, bright.

"It is always good taste to select rather simple designs in shoes, handbags and gloves. Fashion trends are much more gradual in these three accessories than they are in hats. Since they carry over from season to season, it is profitable to buy the best you can afford," Mrs. Strasner advises.

Shoes and bags are most advantageously matched to the basic color of the wardrobe—such as black, brown, or blue—and should be selected of the same leather or type of leather.

Gloves should be the same color as the bag and shoes, or a lighter or darker value of that color. They may be planned as the sole accent of the ensemble. Gloves should be selected for their simplicity of design and for quality.

White Gloves Correct

"Don't forget, Mrs. Strasner reminds, "that white gloves are always correct. However, they must always be white and always clean. The most economicals are those which are washable or easily cleaned."

Scale the handbag to your own size, even while following the dictates of fashion, Mrs. Strasner tells her clubmembers. Large bags are for large people, smaller bags for smaller people.

Shoes, she says, should be selected for their comfort. A well-fitted comfortable shoe makes a material contribution to one's poise. The occasion and the garments with which the shoe will be worn—heels for dressy occasions, sturdy shoes for slacks of tailored clothing—must be considered.

"Shoes should also be in proportion to one's size," Mrs. Strasner reminds. "Choose hose in a darker value than the costume you are wearing. Sheer hose are worn with dressy outfits while service weight is more practical for other occasions."

Avoid "Stuck-on Look"

Mrs. Strasner cautions the wearer of jewelry and beads to avoid the "stuck-on look." It is important, she says, that jewelry worn should fill a need. Ask yourself if the jewelry adds to the appearance of your costume. If in doubt, leave it off!

Button earrings add to the apparent width of the face, while pendant earrings add length to the face and neck. Oversize earrings dwarf a small face.

Long necklaces add apparent length to neck and face but if they hang low enough to end at the largest part of the bust, the bust is emphasized. Short necklaces are best on slender necks—they add width and roundness to the face, Mrs. Strasner says.

Clips, Pins, Useful

Clips and pins, she remarks, are useful in creating length and width in the costume effect. Shiny jewelry emphasizes skin imperfections when worn near the face or arms. Jewelry also should be scaled to one's size—the small person avoiding oversized pieces.

Blouses should be considered basic items by those who wear a number of suits. A softly draped blouse should be worn with a dressmaker suit and a tailored blouse with an open or high collar goes with a tailored suit, the agent reminds. Fabric and color should be right for the entire costume. A scarf or dickie may serve the same purpose as a blouse.

Hundreds Tell Bob Wills Of Hadacol's Numerous Blessings

Hundreds of folks, who are benefiting every day from taking HADACOL meet at the Trianon Building in Oklahoma City where Bob Wills, famous band leader, and his Texas Playboys broadcast each noon for HADACOL.

"It looks like all my fans are getting wonderful benefits from HADACOL," said Wills. "It is a real pleasure to broadcast for HADACOL because the folks taking HADACOL are so enthusiastic that I feel like I am performing a real service for mankind."

Hundreds have told Wills of the blessed benefits of HADACOL and the following statement by Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany, a well known singer, is a good example.

"I was tired, run down and lost my appetite. I suffered with gastic disturbances. I had tried almost everything but it didn't seem to help me. I had heard about the wonderful results HADACOL had been bringing to so many of my friends. Soon after taking HADACOL I was feeling much better, had no gastric disturbances and had a wonderful appetite. I am no longer nervous. I am sure that HADACOL has helped me a great deal and I recommend it to my friends."

Miss Lobb suffered with a deficiency of B Vitamins and important Minerals which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances. . . . Your food will not agree with you. . . . You will have an upset stomach. . . . You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and the Minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

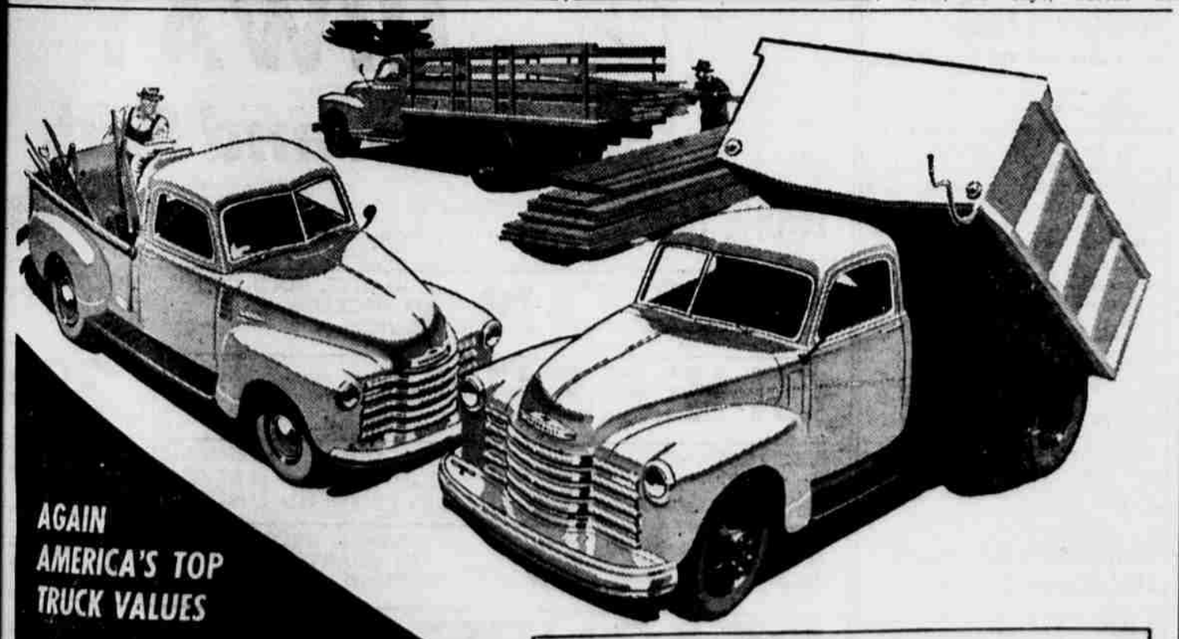

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

So, it matters not who you are . . . it matters not where you live . . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

Bob Wills Hears About HADACOL'S Blessings

Bob Wills, famous western music band leader, loves to talk with his fans at the Trianon Building auditorium in Oklahoma City about the blessings of HADACOL. In the picture above Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany Okla., a very promising young singer, tells Bob how HADACOL has helped her. Hundreds of folks who are obtaining rich blessings from the precious B Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL visit Wills each week for his network broadcast, which is originated from KBYE, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma's western music station, and sent over a leased wire to stations, KRMG, Tulsa; KWHN, Fort Smith; KGLC, Miami, Oklahoma; KLYN, Amarillo, and KWFT, Wichita Falls.

TEXAS TODAY—

Hospital Board Tries New Method Of Getting Efficient Use of Taxes

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff

AUSTIN, March 30. —(AP)—A new approach to the problem of getting the most out of a tax dollar is being tried in Texas.

The State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools has hired a firm of experts to put big business efficiency methods into a political institution.

The interesting thing will be to see how this experiment works out.

Many times in the past government agencies have employed outside help tomake specific studies of some operation. Usually the reports are heard and filed to catch dust in the nearest convenient pigeonhole.

But never before in the memory of anyone in Austin has a state agency employed experts to make recommendations, then followed through by hiring those experts to set up the system they recommended. That's what the hospital board did.

The auditing and management studying firm of Ernst and Ernst is known over the nation. It has offices in 47 North American cities. It conducts audits, surveys management procedures and takes on almost any kind of job related to industrial methods.

The hispital board, impressed with the magnitude of the task it faced in analyzing business management of the mental institutions and other hospitals and schools,paid Ernst and Ernst $5,000 for a quick preliminary study of what was wrong. The industrial engineers, after a three-month look, found plenty and reported back to the board.

Among other things it found the hospitals were not doing as good a job as they might in curing people of their mental ills because the medical superintendents had to spend too much time on business management details. These superintendents are doctors, not business men. In some cases they might be both, but they are not hired primarily to check reports on egg and hog production on hospital farms.

So the hospital board gave Ernst and Ernst another assignment.

They will recommend a man to direct the business affairs of all the institutions in the 20 millon-dollar-a-year enterprise. The board's executive committee will do the actual employing of this man, who will be paid around $9,000 a year.

He in turn, with the advice of the effeciency experts, will put business managers in each institution. The Ernst and Ernst firm will also continue to use its own men to supervise installation of their recommendations. The pay will be $7 per hour for each topflight man, and less for others—the exact total amount not yet known.

Chairman Claud Gilmer of the board said that whatever the figure might be, it should be worthwhile. The board expects the new system will result in ultimate savings that will greatly overbalance the money paid Ernst and Ernst.

The firm will continue to supervise until the board considers that its services are no longer needed—in other words, until they get their plan of handling the business affairs of each institution and the entire eleemosynary system going.

Board member H. B. Zachry of San Antonio, who in private life is a big time contractor, said he thought the new plan out to help take some of the politics out of running the institutions.

Just what the reaction of the Legislature will be to this unique method of running a tax-supported agency remains to be seen. Thus far lawmakers have taken it pretty calmly, but the action was taken after the special session ended and they haven't had much opportunity to pop off.

Apparently the board hopes the thing will be so obviously economical that the legislators won't be in a position to say much the next time they meet.

Zachry told the board that when business institutions run into problems they hire experts to solve them. He didn't see any reason why it wouldn't work in government.

Tourists to Israel Are Aided at Customs

TEL AVIV, Israel March 29. —(AP)— The Israeli government is trying something new to make things easier for tourists. Customs officials are being dispatched to various ports abroad to board all big liners bound for Israeli ports with hundreds of tourists.

They check over the passports of tourists who may be spending a few days or longer in Israel during a Mediterranean cruise. They tell passengers just what they can bring into the country, assess any necessary customs duties and hand over Israeli pounds in exchange for American or other foreign currency. The Israelis have found this system part of the voyage with incoming tourists relieves congestion.

Singapore Moslems Get Many Divorces

SINGAPORE March 29 (AP)—Fifty per cent of Moslem marriages in Singapore over the last 28 years have ended in divorce. The rate of revocation-of-divorce has been 10 per cent, statistics reveal. An authority on Moslem marriages said the high rate of divorce was due to:

Husband and wife tiring of one another. Failure of the husband to maintain his wife and children. Incompatibility due mainly to age differences. Lack of moral restraint on the part of the husband.

Hamilton Is First 'Philadephia Lawyer'

PHILADELPHIA Mar. 29 (AP) The term "Philadelphia lawyer" generally implies shrewdness and sharpness of Quaker City attorneys. But Arthur Littleton, chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar association, says few people know the term's exact origin.

He says it goes to pre-revolutionary war days in 1735 when Alexander Hamilton, a Philadelphia lawyer, successfully defended John Peter Zenger of libel charges in New York City. Zenger was a poor printer who published the New York Weekly Journal. He wrote exposes of New York's graft-ridden administration and incited the ire of the governor. Most New York attorneys, fearing disbarment, refused to defend Zenger. So Hamilton—America's first secretary of the treasury—was hired to defend the printer.

"Without a shred of law with him," Littleton says, "Hamilton carried on one of the most magnificent defenses ever conducted before a jury." And in earning acquittal for Zenger, Hamilton earned an enduring tribute to the sagacity of the Philadelphia lawyer.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight"

Our ten o'clock curfew lasted for 56 years, but the town council voted it out. I dropped in at the meeting in Town Hall last week just in time to hear Smiley Roberts.

"The curfew is old-fashioned," says Smiley. "We ought to be grown-up enough by now to behave like grownups. Seeing to it that our kids get to bed is the responsibility of each family." Then Judge Cunningham adds, "Most of us are in bed when the curfew horn blows anyway. It wakes me up just when I'm getting to sleep!"

What the Judge said was good for a laugh, but Smiley just about summed up how folks think in this town: We believe that the democratic tradition of "live and let live" is the only way to live.

From where I sit, it's not the American way to regulate your life by a horn—anymore than it's right to criticize my caring for a temperate glass of beer now and then. Think what you wish, say what you wish, but don't ask your neighbor to do exactly as you do!

Bored Policemen Pick Up Robber

LOS ANGELES March 29. (AP)—As officers James Appel and Frank Dyjor tell it, they captured this thief because they were just plain bored. Cruising along at night in a patrol car they spotted a lone pedestrian.

They tailed the man. When he turned into a home, they questioned him. They found more than $1,500 in the man's possession. The bewildered thief admitted robbing a cafe but couldn't understand how the cops got wise to him.

The sap of the cocoanut palm, called toddy, is a favorite drink in many Pacific Islands, according to the National Geographic Society.

Now Is Time to Defrost Deep Freezer By Different Method From Refrigerator

Mrs. Jewell Strasner, local home economist, says defrosting a home freezer is a vastly different job from defrosting any automatic refrigerators.

She suggests that at this season, the freezer may be emptier than usual and reminds the homemaker that the freezer probably needs defrosting before putting new foods in it.

She gives some recommendations for removing both powdery frost and solid ice.

"Defrost before more than a half inch of frost forms over a considerable area of the refrigerated surfaces," she cautions. "Once a year is probably often enough in dry West Texas."

She thinks it is better to remove frost not mixed with ice by scraping with the freezer in operation. If the freezer is relatively empty, packages may be moved about, rather than taken out.

It is better to use scraping tools sold for the purpose, says Mrs. Strasner, but a broad, stiff spatula or a putty knife will do. Frost can be caught on papers or cloths as it is scraped off or removed from the bottom with a dustpan.

"If ice is mixed with frost or a complete cleaning job is needed, disconnect the freezer," the agent advises. Put the food packages on trays that have already bee well-cooled in the freezer. Pile packages compactly and covered with chilled blankets or other insulating material."

Then, she says, scrape as much frost as possible from the surface, to lessen need for mopping melted ice. If freezer has a drain, speed melting by using cold water. Do not use hot wate.

Placing an electric fan so it blows room air into the freezer is another aid to defrosting while ice and frost melt, keep the water wiped up with cloths and clean the non-refrigerated surface of the freezer.

When defrosting is done, the freezer should be reconnected and run 30 minutes before the food packages are put back in.

"This is a good opportunity to take inventory and to mark older packages for first use," Mrs. Strasner concludes.

Ferry Fare Hiked On Commuting Pets

NEW YORK March 29 (AP)—Transportation costs have gone up for everybody—including camels and elephants commuting on the Weehawken Ferry. This ruling was announced by the Interstate Commerce Commission recently.

Officials of the West shore Ferry Line which traverses the Hudson River between Weehawken, N. J., and New York City could remember only one time in recent years when an uncrated animal crossed in one of their boats. That was about a dozen years ago when a man was exhibiting an elephant in New York. He commuted every morning with the animal and returned every evening. This continued for two weeks but neither the man nor the elephant has been seen on the Weehawken Ferry since.

The ICC decided to prepare against a return, however, It increased the cost of ferrying elephants, camels and other "uncrated wild animals" to 42nd street from $1.40 to $2.80 per animal.

Mrs. George Evans went to Amarillo Tuesday to be with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Evans who underwent surgery at St. Anthony's hospital.

Justiceburg school now has 41 students enrolled. Because of the increase the school has been assured of two teachers for next year. They will be Mrs. V. A. Lobban and Mrs. F. J. Byrd.

Children in school who had perfect attendance records last month were Michael Ray, Weldon Reed, Jerry Ray Key, Don Greer, John Vincent, Don Liles, Sara Lu Ray, Eva Lou Key, Rodger Sullenger, Betty Jo Witkins and Charlotte Bland.

The 4-H club boys met at the school at 9:30 Monday morning and L. C. Herron, county agent, discussed plant and poultry insects and their control. Mrs. Jewell Strasner, 4-H girl agent met with the girls and taught the correct and easy way to set a table and also variations of muffins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole and baby of Post were Sunday guests in the Cecil Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. Happy Bevers and daughter of Hackberry visited in the Sam Bevers home over the weekend.

A large crowd attended the pie and cake supper and 42 party at the school Friday night to raise funds for the Red Cross drive.

A trustee election will be held at the school building Saturday. Mrs. V. A. Lobban will be election judge. Names appearing on the ballot will be Henry Key (reelection) Don Robinson (reelection) Raymond Key (reelection) and Lee Reed. Everyone eligible is urged to vote.

Mrs. Jeff Justice spent several days last week in Lubbock with her daughter, Mrs. Joe Griffis who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scott of Slaton were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans.

Mahon Reports Sorghum Support Action Favorable

Congressman George Mahon reported to the Post Dispatch this week that his mail from the district indicated concern over the failure of the Commodity Credit corporation to announce a loan support for the 1950 grain sorghum crop.

Over a period of months Mahon has urged such support, indicating his belief that a support program would be announced.

In his report this week, which was also sent to the office of the county agent and the county PMA office, Mahon stated that no one could guarantee that a support program for grain sorghum would be provided but that every indication pointed in that direction. The support program on grain sorghum last year was announced on March 14. In conferring with officials in Washington, Mahon has insisted that it is most important that a support program be announced as soon as possible and at a level not below lastyear.

On March 23 the House of Representarives passed a measure strengthening the Commodity Credit corporation and increasing the capital stock. Favorable action by the Senate is anticipated. Mahon said that indicatons are that after this measure has become law an early determination on the grain sorghum support program will be made. He is hoping for favorable action.

Former Resident Sees Fumagalli Play

Mrs. C. I. Dickinson of New York City wrote Mrs. J. C. Fumagalli of seeing Bill Fumagalli play polo with the New Mexico Military Institute team against Yale, recently.

Mrs. Dickinson said the teams were tied several times but Yale won by two points. Mrs. Dickinson is a daughter of Mrs. J. H. Babb. She formerly lived in Post.

Barnum Springs home demonstration club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Floyd Hodges for an all-day meeting and a covered dish luncheon.

Each member brought a pie and quick bread to be judged. Mrs. Jewell Strasner, agent, attended the afternoon session as judge. A cake walk will be held at the Barnum Springs Union church Friday night to raise money for the Red Cross.

Mrs. Avery Moore will be hostess to the next meeting April 13. It will last all day.

Eight members and two visitors, Mrs. B. W. Pennell and Mrs. Hodges were present. A Dutch girl quilt was quilted for the hostess.

High Winds Slow Terrace-Line Runs By SCS Workers

Soil Conservation technicians assisting the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district wish to say to cooperators who have asked for assistance in getting their terrace lines run that they have been slowed up a few days lately because of high winds. They will progress with terrace line runningas fast as possible.

Several cooperators are on the schedule for contour guide lines. Others who are wanting these lines should contact the Soil Conservation technicians at once in order to get his name on the list. These lines will be run just as soon as the terrace lines are finished.

Terraces were checked for completion last week on Bob Thomas and Glen Mathis farms in the Garnolia groups; on the Floyd Hodges and Charlie Morrow farms in north Post group, on A. M. Lucas and Giles McCrary farms in the Verbena group, on Pat Blacklock farm located in another North Post Group. These terraces were constructed with elevator graders and county maintainers.

Ott Nance Finds Weather Balloon

Flying sauceers or other strange objects seen in the air in this area are in reality government weather baloons being used in an experiment now in operation at Reese Air Force base in Lubbock.

Ott Nance recently found one of the ballons about five miles from Justiceburg and brought it to Post Saturday.

It was described as a large white rubber baloon with a red parachute and a small specialized radio transmitter attached. Air force officials said that the balloon is filled with hydrogen and transmits weather data as it ascends. The data is received by a specialized set on the ground and is recorded in a van type truck.

The balloon climbs until it bursts. Officials said the parachute was placed on the apparatus to protect those on the ground. Anyohe finding one of the balloons may keep it, the Air Force said, as they no longer want them after the readings are made.

Pasture Deferment Of Last Season Pays Off Now

Last season's deferment of pastures over much of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district is now paying dividends, say local soil conservationists.

"Pastures were rested during the spring and summer growing season, allowing plants to increase in size and vigor," said Merle Britton, range conservationist. "This produced more grass as well as producing a good seed crop to assist in reseeding."

With very little moisture during the winter and spring, cool season grasses such as Texas wintergrass, Canada wild rye have made only limited growth. Annual grasses and winter weeds such as Rescue grass and filaree have made little growth. Pastures are slow in greening up. Because of deferment during last spring and summer, there is still cured grass available for feed. This extra grass will be able to help retain more moisture in the ground as well as make the rain "walk off the land" instead of run-off.

Mrs. Minnie Pace of Electra is visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee Bowen here. The two went to Seminole this past weekend to visit their cousins, Jewell Cobb and Pearl Rankin.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Henderson, jr., and son of Monahans arrived early this week to spend two weeks with his mother, Mrs. B. C. Henderson, sr.

Dust Storms Here Take Good Topsoil

Dust storms of the past week, say soil technicians here, are sweeping away valuable topsoil.

"That is the portion we can least afford to lose," said Merle Britton, head of the Post work unit of the Soil Conservation service here, "as it contains the necessary minerals and nutrients for the production of abundant crops."

Lack of crop stubble on the ground, or stubble worked into the surface of the ground leaves the soil exposed to the action of the wind, he pointed out. Tiny particles of soil begin to move, acting as an abrasive and cut more particles of soil loose, freeing it to blow away.

This top soil piles up in fence rows, bar ditches, along roads or other places not available to the production of crops, but ideal spots for weeds or other troublesome plants to grow.

Keeping as much stubble on the ground or leaving the surface of the soil in a cloddy condition helps prevent the loss of valuable topsoil, as well as prepare the land for better moisture penetration.
