ONE IS KILLED; ANOTHER IS DYING AND A WOMAN IS HURT IN CAR WRECK TODAY

CAR REGISTRATIONS SLOW IN COUNTY

Automobile registrations in Kimble County have been slow this year according to Frank Patterson, tax collector for Kimble County. Only 275 passenger vehicles have been registered. There should be approximately 1,000 registered from this county. January 31 is the last day upon which this tax can be paid without penalty. After the last day of the month 20% more will be charged for the license for the year. Thirty trucks have been registered. Two chauffeur licenses, 4 trailer licenses and one motorcycle license have been issued. After banking hours the side door to the bank will remain open in order that those wishing to buy licenses may enter the tax collector's office.

Girl's Basketball Team to Play Game

The Junction High School girls' basketball team will meet the Rocksprings team in a game to be played on the local court Saturday afternoon, according to Mrs. Grady Kindrick, coach. Rocksprings was to have played the Junction team last Friday but illness in that city caused the game to be postponed.

Definite arrangements have not been made, but it is thought that the boys' team of Rocksprings will also come for a game with the local team. The boys have been practicing for a week and are getting into fair shape. Coach Earl Bowers predicted a fair season.

The girls will play Center Point here next Saturday. Admission for the game with Rocksprings Saturday will be twenty-five cents.

Marshall Alexander Is Hurt in Accident Today

Marshall Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander was injured today when he was struck by an automobile. The accident occurred on the O. S. T. highway six miles west of Junction.

It is said that the boy was standing by the side of the road working on a motorcycle when he was struck. He suffered two broken ribs but is resting fairly well according to reports received from his mother.

Why Kimble County Should Have A Fair And Stock Show

As a tribute to the livestock industry of Kimble County, a stock show should have an annual fair and livestock show. There are numberless ways in which a fair and livestock show would aid the ranchers and farmers of this county.

Stockmen would be given a common show place where they could sell and buy good livestock. They could display to the public their achievements in the industry.

Members of the 4H Clubs of the county would be given the opportunity of publicly displaying the results of their efforts. The projects of the 4H clubs of this county would be exhibits worth traveling many miles to see.

Practically every county of note in Texas has a fair and

Tom Ivy of Menard is Victim of Unusual Accident

One man was killed, another is dying and a woman is critically injured as a result of an automobile wreck which occurred this afternoon at 12:45 on the Menard road eight miles from Junction.

The dead man is Tom Ivy of Menard. His mother and father were riding in the car with him. His father, Henry Ivy is lying in the Standifer Hospital, and attendants give small hope for his recovery. Mrs. Ivy is critically injured but hope is held for her recovery.

Roland St. Clair, who was the sole occupant of the other vehicle involved in the wreck, received a small cut on his hand but was otherwise unhurt.

The accident occurred when Roland St. Clair of Junction was driving a truck loaded with feed towards Junction. The Ivy family were going towards Menard, and according to witnesses, the car driven by Ivy struck the truck in the side of the body. The car driven by Ivy was totally wrecked, while the body of the truck was torn off and feed scattered over the ground.

A small dog belonging to the occupants of the ill-fated car, came out of the wreck without a scratch.

Inquest is being held at the scene of the wreck.

Kimble County C. of C. Adopts 1930 Program

At the regular monthly luncheon of the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce held at the Baptist Church last Friday night, the 1930 program of the organization was adopted by the members. Approximately 58 were present for the banquet.

The Junction Fire Department and the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce Band were guests at the banquet. The band furnished music for the occasion.

The Rev. G. W. Crabb delivered the invocation. After the banquet Mr. C. T. Holekamp, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided. Five committees were appointed during the evening. They are: Railroad committee—W. H. Baker, Geo. R. Pepper and A. G. Farmer; Advertising committee—E. Mc-

F. O. LANDRUM WILL SPEAK HERE FRIDAY

Directors of the American Mohair Producers' Co-operative Marketing Corporation with headquarters at Uvalde will be in Junction Friday, January 17, for the purpose of presenting a plan to the mohair producers of this section whereby the producers of mohair can demand a fair price for their product.

Mr. F. O. Landrum of Uvalde and a prominent man of this section, will be the speaker at the program which will be held at the Texan Theater at 2 p. m., January 17.

Every mohair raiser in the county is urged to attend this meeting and become acquainted with the plan which this association is attempting to put over. A large attendance is hoped for at this important meeting.

AMERICAN LEGION ELECTS OFFICERS

The American Legion met January 11, at 8 o'clock, in the Chase building for the purpose of electing officers.

The following officers were elected: Mr. J. W. Browning, Commander; Mr. Joe Gardner, vice-commander; Dr. L. E. Standifer, adjutant; Mr. E. O. Lowgren, finance officer; Mr. Guy Wynne, sergeant at arms; Mr. A. W. Browning, historian; Rev. G. W. Crabb, chaplain.

LOCAL BOY IS HONOR STUDENT AT SUL ROSS

Reuben Loeffler, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Loeffler, has been elected a permanent member of the Sul Ross chapter of the Scholarship Societies of the South. He was elected junior, senior and permanent member of the society.

Loeffler is taking Master's work in Texas University at present.

While attending Sul Ross, he was editor of the Sul Ross newspaper, the "Skyline." Besides working on the college publication he was a letter man in tennis.

Misses Dillia and Ida Belle Sykes are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Simon on the Chas. Simon ranch.

Highway Dept. Is Petitioned For New Bridge

The Commissioner's Court and Kimble County Chamber of Commerce have petitioned the State Highway Commission of Texas for a new bridge across the North Llano River at what is known as the Roosevelt crossing. This petition was signed by the Commissioner's Court of Kimble County and the officers and directors of the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce. The building of this bridge, if the state complies with the request of these two bodies, will close the last hazardous, wet gap, along the Old Spanish Trail Highway, and will eliminate one of the longest, black slippery hills on this route.

This is a gravel crossing and it is impossible to maintain, due to it washing out, and the automobile tires continually digging it deeper.

It is unfair to the towns along the Old Spanish Trail for this gap to remain in its present condition, as it has a tendency to divert traffic over other highways, that would ordinarily wish to travel over the O. S. T.

HULL SCHOOL WILL HAVE SOCK SUPPER

The Hull school will have a sock supper at the Hull school house January 24 at 7 p. m., according to Mrs. Mary Frances Hodges, teacher.

Everyone is invited to attend the supper. The proceeds will go towards the improvement of the Hull school.

WEATHER REPORT

Kimble County has experienced a week of cold weather. The ice was not as bad here as in many parts of Texas and the automobile accidents were not as numerous as in other sections. The sun is shining and warmer weather is expected.

George Cavaness and A. Hackney of Runge made a business trip to Big Lake the first of the week.

NO POLL TAX—NO VOTE—NO POWER

No poll tax—no vote—no democracy. In order to vote in the elections this year your poll tax must be paid by January 31, according to Tax Collector Frank Patterson. Only 350 people in Kimble County have paid their poll taxes. There should be more than 1400 polls in the county. This is a good year to pay your poll tax because practically all state and county officials will be elected this year. A governor will also be elected. Everyone should secure their poll tax this year. Property taxes are coming in slowly also, stated the tax collector.

Lions Club Will Be Host To District Clubs

With 19 members and four guests present the Lions Club had a good meeting at the Baptist Church at noon Wednesday.

The guests were Messrs. Tom Henderson, Rocksprings; A. L. Silver, Dallas; J. S. Munn, Junction; R. C. Skillman, San Antonio.

Plans were made for the entertainment of those who will attend the district meeting of Lion Clubs which will be held in Junction February 12. President G. H. DeLano appointed a committee composed of Lions P. C. McLenis and B. L. Smith to arrange the program for the day. A large crowd of Lions from the cities in this district will be present for the meeting.

A large crowd was present at the Ladies' Night given by the Lions Club last Thursday evening. A banquet was served and an interesting program was arranged.

BROADWAY COMING

The one and only Broadway is coming to the Texan Theater next Thursday and Friday, January 23 and 24. This is the outstanding dramatic hit of the year, presenting such stars as Glenn Tyrone, Evelyn Brent, Merna Kennedy, Thos. E. Jackson, Otis Harlan, Robt. Ellis and Paul Power.

The Texan Theater is always on the lookout to bring the best to Junction. This is one of the greatest shows on the screen and deserves the patronage of the people who enjoy good pictures.

McCulloch And Tom Green Counties Are Admitted

MENARD IS HOST

Next Quarterly Meeting Will Be Held in Mason

On November 29, 1929, representatives from the fire departments of Mason, Menard, Sonora, Rocksprings and Junction met in Junction to consider the advisability of a district organization of the Hill Country. The proposition was considered favorably and a temporary organization was perfected at that time.

At that meeting the following officers and directors were elected:

Officers—John M. Hankins, president, Junction; Lamar Thaxton, Mason, first vice president; Oscar Vehle, Menard, second vice president; Frank Holliday, Sonora, secretary-treasurer; Rev. J. N. Coker, Mason, chaplain.

Directors—W. H. Franks, Menard; Ray E. Aldwell, Sonora; F. J. Donaldson, Rocksprings; W. B. Buster, Junction; Henderson Doell, Mason; Blair White, Eden.

Menard was agreed upon as the place for the first meeting, which should be held in January. The directors announced later that the meeting would be held on January 14 and a good representation was present from Brady, Mason, Eden, San Angelo, Junction and Menard. The officers and directors met in the afternoon and drew up a constitution and by-laws which were presented and adopted at the night session which was held in the Menard station.

Tom Green and McCulloch Counties were admitted into the organization at the meeting Tuesday night. Kimble, Mason, Menard, Concho, Edwards and Sutton Counties were charter members of the temporary organization perfected in Junction, November 29. The organization will meet on the first Tuesdays in February, May, August and November. February was designated as the time when the officers and directors shall be elected to serve for the ensuing year. The February meeting will be held at Mason.

The climax of the meeting was the banquet served by the Rebecca Lodge of Menard at the Firemen's Hall at 7:30 p. m.

Our School Situation

An Editorial

A petition was presented to County Judge J. B. Randolph Wednesday of this week asking for an election on February 5, 1930, to determine whether the Junction Common School District should be incorporated into an independent school district for school purposes only. The school board for the past few years has done all within its power to maintain the school and keep pace with the progress of the town, but after exhausting every resource finds that it is not able to maintain the school with the finances available under the present organization.

The school board and others interested in the growth and development of the Junction School feel that the only way to economically maintain the standing of the school is to incorporate for school purposes. The present building is filled to overflowing, and with all six year old children admitted to the school next session more teachers will have to be added and there is no room in the building.

A greater interest is being shown in the school than at any time in the past. Those charged with the responsibility of maintaining the school are asking everyone to familiarize himself or herself with the actual conditions at the school. If this is done it will be an easy matter to incorporate the district for school purposes only.

With the natural growth of the school and the six year-old pupils being admitted next year, at least three additional teachers will be needed. There are thirteen teachers at the present time and most schools as large as the Junction School have from seventeen to twenty teachers. The only feasible solution is to incorporate for school purposes.

Plant Roses, Lilac, and Cannas Now for Spring Beautification

Every family homestead should have about the place a number of nice fruit trees of various varieties. Trees planted now will do much better than those planted later in the season. Trees planted during this season should come into productivity the second growing season. Fresh fruit and home canned fruit are never in abundance in this section and a small surplus is always in demand.

Homes that are homelike, are those well kept with nice yards, made so by ornamental shrubs, flowers and trees. Now is the time to think of a planting scheme for your home. Native flowering shrubs are inexpensive and make the home attractive. This is one way that you as an individual may assist in making your town a beauty spot. Think it over and plant out a few roses, cannas, crape myrtle, lilac, mock orange, honeysuckle, bridal wreath, queen's crown, and the like. A few native pecans set out now can be budded in the spring and these trees in a few years will afford nice shade as well as fruit.

A little work on your lawn now may aid you in winning one of the prizes which will be offered by the Parent-Teachers' Association and Chamber of Commerce in the Yard Beautiful Campaign which will be conducted this year. Beautiful grounds about a home reflect the civic pride of the owner.

LONDON LOCALS

You who say there is nothing in farming: Did you ever stop to compare what the other fellow is doing with what you are doing?

Mr. Oscar H. Pearl informs the writer that he sold over $500 worth of eggs alone last year, 1929. This is just one item of Mr. Pearl's income. He is now selling $50 worth of eggs per month. With his home-raised meat, fruits and vegetables, I am sure that amount is sufficient to pay his living expenses—this from eggs alone. Mr. Pearl raised some turkeys, pigs, frying chickens, he has a small flock of sheep, and adds to this a few pounds of butter every week, and as a side issue for ready change or extra saving this man raised 15 bales of cotton on the side. And yet, you tell me there is no money in farming? I see differently. But when Mr. Oscar Pearl attends to business at home and lets the other fellow attend to the business of the highway. See! There is the secret of successful farming. It can't be done by keeping the car in operation and the marble game going.

A great many people have good intentions. They intend to do something worth while tomorrow, but say, friend, did you know "tomorrow" never comes? It is always now, today. And what you do, you will do now, today, or you will never do it at all.

Another considerable per cent of the people seem to just be waiting for something to happen that will put them on "easy street" and wheel them up in the show window. I believe if this class would exercise themselves diligently to force something to happen they would have a higher opinion of themselves, besides getting a real kick out of the effort.

Every community has these three classes: Those who are doing, those with good intentions and really intend to do something, and those who are just waiting for something to happen that will give them the opportunity to do something. The first is commendable, the second is hopeful, the third is pitiable.

Mr. E. I. Cummins was in from the ranch quarreling with the writer Friday. Eph says the rough weather is drawing the livestock considerably.

Mr. Chas. Boher and Ernest Nichols were in from the Boher ranch Friday buying stamps and other supplies.

Messrs. E. H. Kothmann, C. E. Weaver and other representative men of our section made a trip to Brady last week to confer with the Southwestern Telephone Company, trying to make arrangements for better telephone service.

Mr. Rex Lavelle was an interesting and pleasant caller Saturday. It is indeed interesting to hear Mr. Lavelle explain how he and his son will realize 100% each from his son's connection with the 4H Club. His son has bought two registered billies and is feeding them for the fair and Mr. Lavelle has figured out nicely how he expects his son and the entire family to reap a large percent on the investment. Ask him to explain it to you. It will be worth it you, especially if you have a son.

Those present inform me that there was some disturbance at the dance Friday night. Report has it that one young man was given his choice of going home and going to bed or going to jail. Of course he chose the bed. Anyone would have made that choice. Way back down the line, when I was a rube boy, and once in a while violated the law, old Justice of the Peace "Day" of DeLeon, Texas, proceeded at once to file a complaint against me and send me word to come in and settle off. After I had satisfied the law the old Judge would laugh and declare he would rather collect a fine from me than anyone he knew because I paid off cheerfully. Why not? I knew it was pay day, and I knew after the fine was paid I was at liberty to go home and go to bed. See? Those fines made a believer of me. They were too expensive for my income.

For fear someone will think

Accidents To Hunters Show Big Decrease

Austin.—Hunting accidents to date have fallen considerably under the record of the previous season, it was announced at the Game, Fish and Oyster Department Tuesday. A total of 60 accidents represents a decline of 25 per cent of the 80 accidents reported the year before. The number killed in the present season was 37 and 23 were injured. There were 19 boys of an average age of 15, killed or injured, as compared to 29 the year before, a drop of 34 per cent. Ten boys were injured and nine killed, including two that drowned. Of the 49 accidents only 40 were the result of shooting, 23 persons having shot themselves and 17 were shot by others. Of these 22 were fatally shot and 18 non-fatal. Three were killed by auto upsets, and four were hurt. Six were drowned, two froze to death, three died of heart failure, one was killed by a train and a plane crashed while duck hunting, though no report of injury was obtainable. Several were lost and nearly perished before they were found.

Whether these figures will stand as a comparison of the two hunting seasons will depend on accidents for the short period remaining of the duck and quail season, it was said. Some tragic accidents early in the season together with cautionary suggestions by William J. Tucker, executive secretary, are believed to have resulted in more carefulness and reduction of hunting misfortunes.

MALDEN'S MANIA

Again the influence which superstition exerts upon many people who are supposed to be intelligent has been illustrated in striking fashion at Malden, Mass., where tens of thousands have flocked to a grave where healing miracles were reported to have occurred.

The grave is that of Father Powers, a Catholic priest, dead sixty years. Someone started the story that visitors to the spot had been cured of various diseases. Credulous crowds swarmed to the cemetery. One night about 10,000 stood for hours in the rain in the hope of being healed of their ailments. Sensational newspapers encouraged the foolishness by pretending to take the matter seriously. Finally the cemetery was closed to end the farce.

Doubtless many really believed that they had been benefited by a supernatural power, and the imagination of some may have been vivid enough to bring a temporary feeling of relief. But it was all imagination. Not the slightest evidence is forthcoming to prove that anything happened which was in any degree miraculous.

Two actors went for a weekend's fishing. Towards evening, as they were wending their way towards the hotel where they proposed to stay, they made the discovery that neither had any money.

"Oh, never mind," said one. "I'll be all right, won't it. They know you at the hotel."

"Yes," said the other in a mournful voice, "that's what's worrying me."

He (hopefully): "I've never seen such dreamy eyes."

She (fed up): "That's because you've never stayed so late before."

I was a real tough. I want to explain just here that I never paid a fine for drunkenness, I never paid a fine for staggering, swaggering and swearing in the presence of ladies. My violations were along different lines. I believe in the near future, if the Eagle will allow it, I will have something to say of prohibition, its lack of enforcement, the bootlegger and his crime. Should I decide to mention these things it will be from a general standpoint and not a reflection on home people. Though I may refer to our London people, it will be for the purpose of illustrating the general condition. And should I mention this question, it will be to the point. I will call white white, and black black.

FAME OF SARGON IS NOW SPREADING OVER WORLD

People of This Country Sending Famous Medicine to Relatives and Friends in England, Ireland, Scotland, France Canal Zone, Norway, Sweden, Cuba and Many Other Distant Lands.

If you had found a medicine that was of such benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of sending it to relatives and friends in distant countries, you would have to be convinced in your own mind that it possessed real merit, wouldn't you?

That's just what thousands of people throughout the United States have been doing with Sargon.

From all over America and wherever Sargon has been introduced, thousands of letters have been received from grateful users telling of the gratifying results that have been accomplished by this celebrated medicine.

THOUSANDS EXPRESS GRATITUDE

On November 27th, a letter dated November 23rd, was received at the Sargon office advising that in one week one drug firm alone had received orders for Sargon to be shipped to Cavite, Philippine Islands; Coca-Sola, Canal Zone; Belem, Brazil; and Paris, France.

Only recently a well-known resident of Denver, Colorado, who had been restored to health by Sargon, sent a full treatment to London, England, to his sister, who is the wife of an executive of one of the greatest retail drug firms in the British Empire.

During the past month there appeared in the Toronto papers the statement of a well-known World War veteran whose health had been greatly impaired while in the service, who stated among other things, that he owed his restoration to health to two bottles of Sargon sent him by a friend in Minneapolis.

LETTERS RECEIVED FROM THE NORTHWEST

From the Northwest, many letters of this kind have been received advising that users of Sargon are sending it to relatives back in their old countries of Norway and Sweden.

Many such letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence, including former governors, business and professional men, mayors, state and county officials, and even Ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

These are only a few of thousands of such cases and not a day nor a week passes that does not bring hundreds of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing and reciting case after case that would convince the most skeptical.

Sargon's fame is built on actual results—not empty promises, and only those who have put it to the test know its real powers.

Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. No wonder it is now called the medicine with a million friends.

Jackie: There! I knew there was something I had forgotten!

BABY MARRIAGE RUSH IN PARTS OF INDIA

London.—The Daily Express in a dispatch from Bombay recently said infant brides were being rushed to the altar by the hundreds in some parts of India to forestall the law prohibiting child marriage which becomes effective in April.

Several child marriages have been solemnized in Bombay the last few days, while in Surat it was estimated 2000 such marriages have occurred recently. Brides and bridegrooms of between 5 and 12 years have been a common sight. Even marriages between babies have been arranged.

MOTHER SELLS CHILD TO PLEASE HUSBAND

El Paso.—Because her husband threatened to leave her if she kept their child, Guadalupe Romo, 18, signed with him, Jose Calderon, a contract selling the two-year-old boy to Isidoro Gonzalez. The transaction was affected in Juarez.

In return, the girl-mother received 44 pesos, or $22, from Gonzalez, and relinquished her rights to the child.

With tears in her eyes, Mrs.

Luisa Flores, the boy's aunt, begged Juan B. Rosales, state district attorney, to do something to recover the child. But Gonzalez and his wife had come to love him, and declared they would fight any attempt to reclaim the child.

FINDS DEER DEAD; HORNS LOCKED

August Kirchoff, a prominent ranchman of the Devil's River section, brought quite a curio to town Thursday, in the form of two deer heads locked together in such a way that they could not be dislodged. Mr. Kirchoff found the two bucks heads, with horns locked, in his pasture. One was a twelve point buck and the other had eight points. He found the carcasses after the heavy snow in December and expressed the belief that the smaller deer had died of wounds received in mortal combat and that the large buck, being unable to get loose from the horns of the dead deer, perished from the severe cold.

The heads locked together in such a way is an unusual condition and Mr. Kirchoff was on his way to a taxidermist to have them mounted.—Harper Herald.

Victor Hugo tells us that,— "God took his softest clay and his purest colors and made a fragile jewel, mysterious and caressing,—the finger of woman, and then fell asleep. The devil awoke and at the end of that rosy finger put—a nail."

Old Vic must have been indulging in the pastime of holding hands,—to his discomfiture, as, in another line, he declares that "God created the coquette as soon as he had made the fool."

HILL COUNTRY

m. to ninety persons. It was a good banquet acceptably served by the ladies. Rev. J. N. Coker, chaplain of the organization, acted as toastmaster. Jim Callan made the address of welcome and County Judge Joe Matthews delivered an enthusiastic address which was followed by talks from the following chiefs: John Parker, San Angelo; John Hankins, Junction; Blair White, Eden; Oscar Vehle, Menard; and Lamar Thaxton, of Mason, who represented the chief of that city. Jack Moser, mascot of the Menard department, rendered a good number. Editor Warren of the Menard Messenger and several others made enthusiastic talks.

Chief John Parker of San Angelo was the key man in the meeting. He gave many valuable suggestions in both the afternoon and evening meetings. He has been connected with the San Angelo fire department for about thirty years, the last sixteen years as chief. He is president of the state convention of firemen. San Angelo has a key rate of only 23 cents and is recognized as a model department. The Hill Country Association feels honored to have Chief Parker as a member and to have the benefit of his wise counsel. He added interest and enthusiasm to the Menard meeting.

The Menard Band rendered several numbers preceding the banquet which were enjoyed by everyone.

The following attended the Menard meeting:

Eden—Blair White and Alfred Gromatzky.

San Angelo—Chief John Parker and Hubert Windrich.

An old country farmer who had been a teetotaler all his life died. In the course of a kindly obituary notice, the Parish Magazine concluded with: "In his later years he might often have been seen on the steps of the Congregational chapel, drinking in the sun." His relatives have been informed that there are scarcely grounds for a libel action. At least he was no secret drinker.

CHAPTER VII
Opposite the ruins of the Palm Beach hotel, the Minerva was moored. At the concrete dock of the Royal Danelli waited a motor-boats.

"We was to take the lady aboard, ma'am," said Modane. "But I don't think we need to wait around to explain to her."
"Nor do I," said Lucy, dryly.

She stepped into the motor-boat and five minutes later she was aboard the Minerva. She heard a step upon the deck behind her. It was a feeble, somewhat uncertain step, but there was dominance in it just the same. As though one old Roman emperor, unfeebled, stalked his palace, stronger in his age than his subjects in their youth.

An exclamation sounded in the scented air:
"What the devil are you doing here? You got my message?" She turned and looked at him. Lanterns on the deck illuminated her face.

"Lucy!" he said.
He sank heavily into a chair; she felt a swift pity as she saw his weakness. He would not be strong, really for months.

"Tim," she said quietly.
He put a hand upon his heart. "You were always stimulating, Lucy," he said, "but now you've become exciting. May I ask what you are doing here?"

"Must a wife explain her presence upon her husband's property?" she retorted.
"A wife needn't," he said.

"Well?" she hinted.
"Lucy! There was something almost savage in the way he uttered her name.

He rose and moved awkwardly until he stood towering over her. "I don't ever intend to let you play with me again," he threatened.

"Suppose I weren't playing," she replied.
He turned away from her, and sank into another chair, but closer to her.

"Lucy, I can't believe—" "Why did you tell me that Modane saved my life, when it was you who did so?" she asked.

"Why should I say anything that might win your gratitude?" he evaded.

"Isn't my gratitude worth taking?" she demanded.

"Who would take gratitude when he wanted love?" he snapped.

"Did you expect me to wait you, to make love to you, Tim?" "Is it love that brought you here, Lucy?"

"What else could have done it?" she cried. "Tim, you're making me wonder . . . Tim, you don't want me?"

There was pathetic bewilderment in her voice, the hurt of a child who cannot comprehend why pain is dealt out to it.

"Want you? Is that the question?" "If it isn't, what is?"

"Do you want me? That's it," he stated.

"Must I say so?" she asked. "Is this a punishment, a humiliation for . . . what I may have done for you?"

"Your mind seemed to change before, Lucy. I want you to be sure. And before you answer—could you love a thief, Lucy?"

"I do," she made reply. And with the words she felt a surging pride in her surrender. A thief, and she loved him.

Ab, but her love should redeem him, should cleanse him, should ennoble him. . . . And then, as he leaned above her, as his great arms, momentarily restored to the strength that was normally his, swept her from her chair until she lay crushed against his breast, she felt ashamed.

Who was she melodramatically to think of cleansing, of ennobling Tim? She put such thoughts away from her for ever. They were not merely prideful, they were unworthy. For where she loved, she must love without reservation. It didn't matter what Tim had been. She knew what he was now. And she loved him for the now.

Ah, incredible! she had loved him in the past! Unknowingly, she had thought that hate had led her on, when bruised love had been the impelling force behind her actions.

And then, as her eyes met his, she knew something. Tim wasn't a thief, any more than he was a brute. She knew now why she had thought him a brute; because she, who wanted to be all-sufficient to herself, had subconsciously realized that this man was her mate and master, without whom she must remain uncompleted all her days. Maiden resentment, the defiance of the soul that is unwilling to blend its identity with another, had made her shrink from him, even as every fiber in her body had called to him.

He wasn't a brute. Equally he was no thief, for a thief didn't have eyes like his, couldn't have eyes like his, couldn't have eyes like his, candor, decency, was in them for all the world to see. He might be overbearing, he might be slightly vain—God bless him, he shouldn't have his little vanity if he wanted?—but dishonesty never!

She placed her hands swiftly against his face and held her against his face and held his "Tim," she breathed, "you didn't steal!"

His eyes twinkled with mirth. "Of course not, silly. But do you think I would have told you? Darn it, Lucy! You have pride enough to understand pride! But Leeson's client was certain that he'd been swindled. And I . . . I was so darned angry with him for doubting me that . . . Well, it was my first business venture. Not really a business venture, at that. He and I had bought a patent, and I'd told him that I'd guarantee it. I meant I'd guarantee the validity of the patent and he maintained I'd guaranteed the practicability of the invention—a new motor valve. He had letters that supported his contention, although I had letters which proved my side. But I'd gambled and lost. And so, to pay him, I mortgaged everything I owned and then you believed Leeson—who ought to be careful what he says—and I . . . well, I loved you, Lucy. I'd almost killed myself because of what your thoughts of me had led to, and . . . I took your check and let you think the worst. And then, I swore I'd pay you back not with my own money that I'd raised by selling stocks and mortgages, but with money that I'd earned."

"Silly boy! But I like your pride. And you had the money all the time, you child?"

"Of course I did! I was writing a check for Leeson when you came, with your bundle of money and your bundle of emotions, and . . . I swore I didn't care whether you thought me a thief or not. I'd make you love the thief, and then, if you loved the thief, what might you not think of the honest man?"

She shook her head.

"No more than I thought of the thief, Tim. I couldn't love you any more than I did ten minutes ago, when I didn't know that you were as silly—"

"As Devil-May-Care sometimes is?" he suggested, smiling.

"As she was," she corrected. "For she isn't—not any more."

"Never again?" he chuckled.

"I'm a married woman," she reminded him, "and no married woman has a right to be silly."

"No? And why not?" he inquired.

"Because men are always silly, and someone has to be the balance-wheel to keep the machine on its course, to keep it from tipping over."

"Devil-May-Care in a new role—the sober matron," he jeered.

"I can be that Tim. The night that you . . . the night of Mrs. Clary's party I was talking to someone—was it Mr. Leeson?—and I said that I was an old-fashioned girl. Well, old man, I am exactly that."

"You can hardly make me believe that, Lucy," he mocked.

"Oh, yes, I am," she insisted.

"And I can prove it. I'm so old-fashioned that, having my husband's arms around me, I want to kiss him. I don't want to say another word; I want to be kissed. New-fashioned girls want to talk, but I . . . want to be kissed."

"Well, that's one little thing I can do for you, Lucy," he smiled.

His lips crushed against hers. Ah, who wanted freedom, when she could have this? Blessed old Fate! Dear old Fate, who'd guided Lucy Harkness Stevens straight to where she belonged—to her husband's arms!

JOURNALISM CLUB TO HAVE MEET TODAY

The Journalism Club of Junction High School will have a meeting Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 14. Everyone interested in Journalism and the success of the "Eagle Screams" is urged to be present for the purpose of discussing the future of this section.

The time has come when improvements must be made if the section wishes to enjoy the success and prestige which it should have. Unless the section can be made better, the school would benefit more by its discontinuance.

Several matters of importance will be brought up and every member of the staff as well as others interested in the work should be present. The future of the "Eagle Screams" lies in the outcome of the meeting Monday. Be present and have your suggestions and plans ready to present.

SPEECH ARTS DEPARTMENT

On Thursday afternoon before the holiday season began, Mrs. Conde Hademan held a meeting of the Speech Arts pupils in her study. As each pupil arrived, a number was pinned on his back. After everyone arrived, Mrs. Hademan produced a sack filled with boxes which she said Santa Claus had left for her pupils. Each pupil walked by the sack and took a package. Each package had a tag with a number which corresponded to another person's number. The packages contained candy and small little gifts.

Monday, the 6th, the Speech Arts Department resumed their classes when Mrs. Hardemtn returned from a holiday visit in Dallas.

Harry Ethel Hubbell gave a reading at the Epworth League Sunday evening.

Mrs. Forrest Weldon told a Christmas story at the Christmas program Sunday evening.

Pairalee Lynn read "Betty at the Ball Game" at the Lions Club banquet Thursday evening.

Ruth Rankin read Mary E. Wilkins' "The Gift That None Can Be" at the Methodist Church Sunday evening.

DOMESTIC ART

At last the girls of the second class have finished their ensembles, but the next project will not be started until after the mid-term examinations. During the last few days class periods have been spent taking notes on "Art and Designing" by Trilene and Williams. This is a very interesting subject which is profitable too.

A change in the schedule is being made to be put into action after the "mid-term" which is profitable to both classes. As each class will have one period every day for sewing, we hope we will make use of the change and will use all of that time.

The first year class who have finished their present projects are working on their note books.

The classes have not met any this week on account of the "mid-term" exams. The first year class will have their examination Friday afternoon. The second year class will not have one as they have not had enough note book work.

Are we regretting it? No! We just sympathize with the first year class.

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

The Juniors seem to have changeable minds. At a meeting prior to the one they had last Friday, they decided to get their Junior pins. After talking the matter over among themselves, the majority of the class voted to get their Senior rings. The rings will be ordered this week.

The review for the mid-term examinations came to a close Monday afternoon, and everyone is proving how much he has learned during the first semester.

Everyone seems to be pleased with the method by which he is taking the mid-term examinations. Everyone likes to get off from school every chance he gets.

Raymond Schneider was absent Friday. He attended his uncle's funeral at Eden.

Harry Witt was absent from school several days last week. He missed a great deal of the review work, but perhaps he is so bright that he does not need much reviewing.

QUESTION BOX

If you wish to test your knowledge of the most common animals found in this community, try answering these questions which will appear in this section each week.

1. Name two senses that are well developed in the crayfish?
2. Describe motion in the crayfish. Explain the adaptations of the appendages?
3. Describe the gills and tell what their function is?
4. Where is the gastric mill located? What is its function?
5. Carefully describe the circulation and assimilation in the crayfish?
6. Describe the life history of the crayfish?
7. How does the crayfish protect itself from its enemies?
8. Discuss the economic importance of the crayfish?
9. Explain the following: carapace, decapods, crustaceans?

SPANISH CLASS GIVES PLAY FOR CLUB

The second year Spanish Class organized a Spanish Club.

The officials are: Pairalee Linn ..... president
 Tempie Boone ..... vice-president
 Norma Hendricks ..... secretary
 Ruby Davis ..... reporter
 The meetings are held in the music room on every other Wednesday. The question of a name for the club has not been decided.

The president appointed Norma Hendricks, Kaleta Taylor and Ruby Davis as a program committee.

The second meeting of the club was held the eighth of January. Pairalee Linn and Tempie Boone presented a play, "El Barbero de Sevilla."

The club is learning the song "La Paloma."

One goal to look forward to is that school will regularly be dismissed at four o'clock, beginning Monday. How about it?

Open up your joy-gates, and let God's sun shine in!

Native Pecan Groves Should be Top-Worked

Now is the time for those interested in pecan improvement to clean out all foreign brush and trees in pecan bottoms. Trees up to 8 and 10 inches with limbs 2 to 6 inches in diameter should be top worked.

The new growth made this season may be top worked in July and August and improved nuts should be grown the following year, according to County Agent R. E. Homann. Little interest in pecan work in Kimble County is contributed to the fact that other industries have always been a good source of income.

A start now towards the development of native groves in Kimble County should make it an outstanding county in the production of pecans.

Much excitement and uneasiness was caused Tuesday afternoon when Tempie Boone, while playing basket ball, threw the ball out of bounds with considerable force. The ball hit Muriel Warren just behind the right ear, causing her head to be jolted backwards. Witnessing students immediately applied wet cloths to her head and took her home. The accident proved not to be serious.

COTTON

Over one hundred years before the birth of Christ, Herodotus, a Greek historian, wrote about a land in Asia that travelers told about. They said that a tree grew here that bore wool. It was called the "fleece-bearing" tree. This wonderful plant was the cotton plant, from whose fibers much of the clothing of today is made, and whose seeds furnish food for beast, man and soil. It is often called "King Cotton" which is a very suitable name. The southern speaker, Henry W. Grady, said: "What a royal plant it is! The world waits in attendance on its growth; the shower that falls whispering on its leaves is heard around the world; the sun that shines on it is tempered by the prayers of all the people; the frost that chills it and the dew that descends from the stars are noted; and the trespass of a little worm upon its green leaf is more to England than the advance of a hostile army on her Asian outposts."

The cotton plant is a member of the mallow family, and the first cousin of the roadside mallow and hollyhock. It is grown within the thirty-fifth parallels north and south of the equator, reaching its highest stage of development in the belt between twenty degrees and thirty-five degrees north latitude.

Ella Simon was absent from school last Wednesday.

Wynona Cabbler was absent from school Friday.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., nationally famous Rupture Appliance Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unexcelled method at the NIEMITZ HOTEL, FREDERICKSBURG on Friday, Jan. 31, from 2 to 6 p. m., on Saturday, Feb. 1, from 10 to 4.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says, "The 'Perfection Retention Shields' hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkable short time."

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

Doctor J. W. Seaver, for many years in charge of the Physical Education of the students of Yale College, has recorded 75% cures with this system.

Junction Trade Notes

(By G. G. Co.)

Junction C. of C. has adopted a comprehensive and constructive program for 1930, embracing vocational agriculture thru efforts of the capable County Agent, advancement of pecan industry, irrigation projects in the valleys of the Llanos, railroad, et cetera. It is a program in which every citizen of the community is directly or indirectly interested and should have the support of all. Street paving, intended to allay the dust nuisance and advance civic pride, appears as one of the major efforts. "Junction and the Llanos" is one of the country's favorite playgrounds—its natural attractions appeal to vacationists—and the vacationist is an asset to the community. He returns year after year because he likes the environment or that vague quality called local atmosphere. Many visitors become investors in the town or community, and they are worth cultivating.

The State Game Dept. has appointed a committee to locate establishment of a game propagation farm to supply the various State game preserves. The committee is composed of Gus Schreiner of Kerrville, Gene Howe of Amarillo and three members of the Commission. Deer and turkey would be the two main kinds with which the farm would be stocked.

Coffee prices throughout the country have taken a considerable decline, attributed to the situation in Brazil, which has led to dumping of large quantities of coffee on the market. Due to liberal receipts, egg quotations in San Antonio have dropped to 89 cents, or 20 dozen. Post's Whole Bran is a new breakfast cereal, now in stock. Gann Grocery Company.

Junction, keeping step with the march of progress, will soon have talking pictures. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones have planned a modern ranch home for the Jones ranch east of Junction. Citizens of the 16th congressional district, who possess voting qualifications, will have the opportunity this year of voting for one of three candidates for Congress, viz: C. C. Belcher of Del Rio, R. E. Thompson of El Paso, E. E. Murphy of San Angelo. District Court of Kimble County will hold its February sessions in the moving picture theater, while the new court house is under construction. January 31 is the last day for obtaining motor license and likewise the last day for tax payments without penalty.

Something else to worry over: Texas Legislature is called to meet in extraordinary session January 20. Baked chicken in sanitary sealed tins, ready to serve cold, or warm in oven. Gann Grocery Company. Baked ham, small family size, in sanitary sealed tins, ready to serve.

Ranchment of Southwest Texas will protest the application of railroad rates to commodities hauled by motor trucks, as directed by State R. R. Commission effective March 1. Ranchmen see in the order the possibility that motor trucks hauling from ranch to wool concentration points, or hauling livestock to market, may be put under same ruling, thus raising the price of trucking approximately 50%.

The weather is an interesting subject wherever one happens to be. Old timers of Kimble County say the present winter has been the most prolonged and severe within their memory of 40 years. Even so, won't everything be fine when grass rises.

Unmarried women are said to appreciate fiction more, probably because the married ones are so used to it.

State News

STATE LEGISLATURE TO MEET JANUARY 20th

Austin.—The legislature will be convened in special session on January 20. Governor Moody announces. He had previously tentatively set the date for January 15.

He said that he had delayed the session at the request of W. S. Barron of Bryan, speaker of the house of representatives, who had advised him he had some engagements for the week of January 15 that would preclude his attendance on the legislature.

This will be the fourth session of the 41st legislature, which has more than 150 days' work to its credit. The main subjects to be submitted are prison concentration and regulation of remuneration officers under the fee system.

Fight Truck Rate

San Angelo.—Ranchmen of Southwest Texas headed by the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas will protest the application of railroad rates to commodities hauled by Class A truck from one town to another in Texas. The Railroad Commission has issued an order effective March 1, 1930, that such trucks shall carry the railroad rates, and the ranchmen, acting with the Livestock Traffic Association of Fort Worth, will enter exceptions and attend a hearing to be held in Austin the middle of February, at which time the ranch industry will seek the abrogation of the order of the Railroad Commission.

Laredo Port to Open

Laredo will be re-established Friday as a port of entry and the consulate reopened under instructions issued Tuesday by the Minister of foreign relations in Mexico City.

Enrique Santibanez, Mexican consul general at San Antonio, received orders to proceed with the opening of the consulate and to re-establish Laredo as a port of entry into Mexico after it had been closed for about four weeks following the attempt of John A. Valls, district attorney, to arrest Plutarco Elias Calles, former Mexican president.

The staff of the consulate will be ready for business Friday, according to Santibanez. He explained that the files and furniture of the consulate remained undisturbed when the post was ordered closed.

WOOL GROWERS MEET

A meeting of the sheep and goat raisers of this county was held at the courthouse at Fredericksburg last Saturday. The meeting had been called by Rev. J. Davenport, the president of the American Mohair Producers' Corporation. The corporation is one of the charter members of the National Wool Marketing Corporation organized under the direction of the Federal Farm Board. The purpose of the meeting was to organize the sheep and goat raisers of this county in a co-operative group for the purpose of selling their wool and mohair in lots.

Forty growers were present, a number of whom joined the organization. Another meeting has been set for Saturday, January 18.—Fredericksburg Standard.

BIG ARMY PLANES IN JUNCTION THIS WEEK

Lieutenant T. V. Decker, controlling officer of 98th Corps area covering the states of Texas, Arizona, Colorado and Oklahoma, was in Junction this week looking over the situation in regard to a proposed loop for cadets from Brooks Field. As we understand this loop would run from San Antonio to Dallas, and other points north and west to Big Springs and via Junction to San Antonio.

Lieutenant Foster was forced down here for some repairs and in talking with Mr. Denman stated that Junction should by all means get a landing field and filling station for planes. The planes that came out here had to return to Kerrville for gasoline.

Tomorrow's man of importance is today's man of deep study.

NEW FORD GIVES UTILITY, BEAUTY, AND COMFORT

Observers can easily see that the 1930 Model A Ford is really just an improved automobile. Practically all chassis parts are interchangeable on the earlier models. Most of the improvements in beauty are evident but much has also been added to its utility and comfort.

The Tudor sedan is now 2 1/4 inches longer with all of the additional space utilized in the back seat. The coupe roof is 1 1/2 inches lower without sacrificing any head room. The open car windshields fold flat making a real sport car. Front seats in closed bodies are adjustable and by the turn of a hand screw can be made to move a total of three inches. This contributes greatly to the comfort of the driver and front seat passengers.

Greater safety and riding ease for all is given by smaller wheels and larger tires. The smaller wheel is stronger, even than the old wheel and brings the car closer to the ground. The larger tires hold more air and provide a larger cushion, making riding easier. The chassis itself is now 1/2 inch lower than before. The new car now stands just as far from the ground as does the old Model T, the world's champion conqueror of all bad roads. These smaller wheels give an ever snappier acceleration.

The new radiator gives 14 more inches cooling surface. All cars are already wired for cow lamps. The rear fenders now extend two inches below the bumperettes, thus eliminating back-splash. The gas tank holds over 11 gallons of gas and is set in the body so as to get rid of all squeaks. Improvements in the steering apparatus enables the new cars to have a steering wheel 1/2 inch less in diameter.

The cars are practically the same mechanically, the only changes being made to give the mechanics more ease in servicing the car.

Mrs. Mary McQueen is Buried at Menard

Mrs. Mary McQueen died Sunday, January 5, at 10:30 o'clock, at the home of her brother, Mr. George Cooper. She leaves three brothers, George Cooper of London, Ed of California, and Henry of Bayfield, Colorado. Mrs. McQueen was born in Burnet County December 31, 1856, and resided in that county until about 22 years ago when she moved to Menard where she had a host of friends who loved her as a mother and sister.

Mrs. McQueen lived a Christian life since 17 years of age, when she joined the Church of Christ, was a great church worker and gave a lot of her time to visiting the sick and helping wherever she could help and set an example for the young folks to follow.

She leaves nephews and nieces who did everything that was possible but the Death Angel summoned her to take her place on the right hand of God where he had prepared a home for her soul.

Her remains were buried in the Menard cemetery and Bro. Glen Wallace conducted the services.—London Graphic.

What a tribute to genius when, in commenting upon the life and career of Mozart, Elbert Hubbard said:

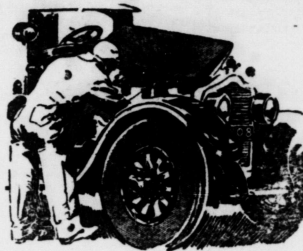

"His best monument is his work. The melody that once filled his soul is yours and mine. By his art he made us heirs to all that wealth of love that was never requited. And the dreams that for him never came true, are our precious and priceless legacy."

Paved streets are better.

ICE PROTECTS FLAVOR. It maintains proper atmospheric balance of cold air (easily 45 degrees) in the milk compartment, dry air, moist air and pure air to preserve food juices and flavors. There is less drying out.
