George Souders, Unknown Mechanic, Wins Race Classic

VETERAN EARL DEVORE TAKES SECOND MONEY

LOCKHART LEADS RACE UNTIL ACCIDENT PUTS HIM OUT

SOUNDERS HAS BEEN WORKING IN ABILENE GARAGE
ABILENE, May 31 (Special)—George Souders, winner of the Indianapolis Memorial day auto race has been an employee of a garage here for the past year. Overhauled and grinning he won the 25 and 10 mile events at the West Texas fair in 1924 and then returned in 1926 to repeat his performances. He has been the most popular of dirt track pilots to race in this vicinity.

(By Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, May 31—One of the most spectacular of the annual 500 mile races at the Indianapolis motor speedway passed into history yesterday with the winning of the long grind by George Souders of LaFayette, Ind., an unknown, the crowning climax. Souders, 27, and a former Purdue university student, had never raced in "big time" before and his victory was totally unexpected for.

Souders who won the five hour grand alone, drove a steady race, his average of 87.54 miles an hour comparing favorably with averages in other years. The record of 191.13 miles an hour was set in 1925 by Paul DePaolo, who was forced out of yesterday's classic which attracted a crowd of 125,000.

Lockhart's Victory

Souders' victory duplicated Frank Lockhart's win of last year. The latter youth, like Souders, flashed across the finish line first after being comparatively unknown. Souders won $20,000 of the $100,000 prize money. Earl Devore won second place, finished 7 1/2 miles behind the winner. Tony Curtis was third, Wilbur Shaw fourth, Dave Evans fifth, Peter DePaolo, relief driver for Bob Cunningham sixth, Eddie Hearne seventh, Ralph Hepburn, relief driver for Tommy Milton, eighth, Cliff Morgan, ninth, and Frank Elliott, tenth.

Lockhart, the favorite, threw a wheel after leading for 231 miles, and was forced from the race.

Many Veterans Quit

Many of the veterans were forced to quit because of mechanical troubles and accidents. The most terrific race that was ever recorded in the race featured the first half of the event.

John Ellingboe of Memphis was seriously injured in one of the accidents that marred the race. He received a crushed chest and internal injuries, when his car crashed into an inside turn and pinned him underneath. He will recover.

Charles Kohler of St. Charles, Ill., received a probable skull fracture and other hurts when he was thrown from his machine after it hit a retaining wall.

Chasman Batten was seriously injured in guiding his machine to the side of the track while it was a routing mass of flames.

An indomitable spirit and adaptability for driving enabled Souders to win the world's greatest automobile race classic after several years of dirt track racing. It was said he "staked his all" on the race. The former Purdue student gave his first winnings as a race driver to the mother of a fatally injured fellow driver. The driver was killed in the first of a series of races at Springfield, Ill. some years ago, and Souders drove recklessly in the remaining events to win prize money which he turned over to the mother who was in a hospital.

There is one thing about putting that I think most instructors fail to impress. That is the difference between firmness and rigidity.

There is such a thing as being too stiff in putting. That delicate touch that determines just how far the ball is going to roll is then lost.

This winter, while playing in the Texas and Los Angeles opens, I saw several old friends of mine who looked up time and again on their putts. When the strain is great and you nervously ask yourself if the ball is going to sink, you forget lots of times to keep the old bean DOWN.

In this picture my head is down, my elbows are loose but not too far from the body, my weight is comfortably back on my heels and the follow through shows the clubhead not too far off the green.

HUBBERS TAKE ANOTHER FROM PAMPA OILERS

FOUR VISITING BOXMEN FAIL AS LOCALS WIN, 14 TO 8

The Hubbers made it two in a row off of the Pampa Oilers by winning the first of a two game series yesterday afternoon at the Merrill park with a count of 14 to 8. Four pitchers were used by the visitors to check the slugging drives that went off of the Hubbers' bats—but the homeboys kept hitting and scoring. "Emmer" Gober, manager of the Oilers, used "Big Ose" Eckhardt for the first two frames, but the big fellow of pitches came up and down the handle while he was on the mound and nine hits during his stay on the mound. Eckhardt is a real pitcher—but was certainly off yesterday. He put the axate in too fat for the homeboys and they swatted it all over the lot. Big Ose gave up to "Hook" Shaw, veteran player of West Texas, who was but little better and soon was relieved by Emmer Gober. Gober got his slow ball to working and let the handling down for three hits while he was on the hill. The last pitcher used by Gober in the attempt to check the Hubbers was "Lefty" Reynolds, outfielder, who allowed two hits and as many runs in the eighth frame.

Jackson and Terry Pitch
 The Hubbers used Gilbert Jackson, favorite of the fans in Lubbock and on the South Plains, on the mound. Jack went good for five innings and not an Oiler reached second on him—but soon they slugged down on him and drove him off the mound. Terry, right hander, finished the game in excellent form.

Sunday, June 5, the Hubbers will clash with their ancient rivals of the national pastime, the Lamesa Lobos, at the Merrill park.

Paulino Can Meet Wills, Is Ruling

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Refusing to recognize Tex. Rickard's claim to the exclusive services of Paulino Uscudun, the New York State Athletic commission today approved the match between the Spanish heavyweight and Harry Wills, arranged by Humbert Pugny for June 29, at the Polo Grounds.

Approval of the Paulino-Wills match, however, is conditional on Paulino fulfilling a contract to fight Ed Keeley in Boston, the commission announced.

Potential Quarter-Mile Champ Career of "Bud" Spencer at Stanford Reads Like Familiar Alger Yarn

By NEA Service
SAN FRANCISCO, May 31—Some athletes simply refuse to be ruled out.

Such a person is "Bud" Spencer, Stanford's sensational 440-yard runner, whose athletic career reads like an Alger thriller and portends the spirit of an indomitable will to win.

Spencer entered Stanford in 1922 and in the annual Stanford-Chicago freshman meet he walked away with the low and high hurdles, the quarter-mile and the finishing lap of the mile relay. He scored 16 1/2 points that day.

As he started home that day—April 12, 1924—Spencer could not have been happier.

Then the blow came that threatened to end his athletic career—an automobile collision!

For three weeks he was near the point of death. The sight of his left eye was completely destroyed, his nose was smashed flat, other injuries included a concussion of the brain.

One year later he returned to Stanford, wearing a pair of glasses with one lens completely black and shielded for his left eye—and reported to Coach "Dink" Templeton for the 1925 Cardinal track team.

His efforts were successful. He placed third in the meet with California.

Running the hurdles seemed dangerous for the youth with defective vision so Templeton shifted him to the quarter-mile this spring. His success has been a sensation.

So sensational that he is hailed as the potential world champion in the quarter-mile event.

In his first meet he ran 440 yards in 48 1/4 seconds, just 4-5

JOHNSON PUTS WHITEWASH ON CRIMSON HOSE

OLD MASTER HURLS 3 HIT GAME IN FIRST TILT OF YEAR

(By The Associated Press)
 With Memorial Day past and pitching arms working their best under a warmer sun, with Walter Johnson back in the box for Washington, with the stirring duel between the Yankees and Athletics on again, the big league pennant race was gathering speed and zest today.

Quite fittingly the old soldier of the Senators, "Old Barney" Johnson, made his first appearance of his 20th season, in a Memorial day game. He proved himself as fit as the youngest of the leaguers by running his shutout total to 113 with a 2 to 0 three hit victory over the Red Sox in the opener of a double header.

Senators Take Two
 Perhaps inspired by the return of the veteran after absence from the lineup with an injury received in training camp, his mates put away the second game by a count of 12 to 5 on the hurling of Hawley, a recruit.

Only two other teams in the two leagues were able to match the Senators feat of cleaning up two games in a day although every club played a double bill. Brooklyn took two from Boston, 5 to 2 and 6 to 2, while St. Louis cards walked Cincinnati, 6 to 3 and 2 to 1.

Both league leading teams had an even break. The Pirates caught a tartar in the Cubs who broke their winning streak of 11 games by beating them in the morning tilt, 7 to 6, but the Buccaneers came back in the second with a 6 to 5 decision.

Mack Files Protest
 A protest by Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics followed the 11 inning victory of the Yankees, 5 to 5, after the A's had won the first game, 9 to 8. His protest hinged on the technical point of whether the rule applying to running on a balling falls into the dugout applies as well when a man catches it and falls in with the ball.

Collins and Ty Cobb were on base when Grabowski, New York catcher, fell into the home team's cave with the ball in his mitt after scooping in a skyscraping foul. The umpire let Collins score on the ground the ball fell into the dugout, but held Cobb on base where he did.

The closeness of the battle in both leagues was brought out by the number of even breaks in the eight pairs of games played. The Giants were 14 to 10 better than the Phillies in the first game, but 1 to 0 worse in the second; the Browns were going fast enough in the first to beat the White Sox, 11 to 2, but were knocked out of the picture with a 10 to 0 lacing in the second. Further proof that you never can tell about a ball game was given when the Indians nosed out Detroit, 3 to 3, then took a solar plexus wallop 11 to 3.

P.A. makes the slickest cigarette you ever rolled

MAYBE "slickest" isn't just the word, because there's no trick to it. But you know what I mean. Just get yourself some Prince Albert and a sheaf of makin's papers. Go ahead and roll the best little smoke you ever made yourself. I'll lay a bet that you'll check with what I'm telling you.

The minute you get a whiff of that P.A. fragrance, your mouth waters for a taste of it in a cigarette. You put a pinch in a paper and roll, easy as pie. When you light up and pull that cool, sweet smoke into your system, you're set on cigarette-makin's for life.

P.A. is mild and mellow as moonlight, with just enough body to satisfy that deep-down desire for a real smoke. You never get fed-up on a cigarette like this. Morning till midnight, you'll roll 'em and smoke 'em—and enjoy every one. Try this better cigarette-tobacco today.

The things you like about Prince Albert in a cigarette make it equally enjoyable in a pipe. No matter how fast you feed it, P.A. never backfires—never bites your tongue or parches your throat. If you have never tried P.A. in a pipe, you've got a real treat coming.

P. A. is sold everywhere. And always with every bit of bite and savor reserved by the Prince Albert process.

Flight Benefits

What is the value of a trans-Atlantic airplane flight? What is a successful flight worth to humanity? And if it has value what is the value of an unsuccessful flight—a flight such as Nungesser's that ends in disaster?

These are questions that many have been asking lately. It has been rather hard to reconcile the questionable benefits with the great risks involved.

Yet that feeling is a mistaken one. It is mistaken, wholly aside from the lessons that each flight teaches aviation.

For bravery, even in this well cushioned day and age, always has value. Hardly any price is too high to pay if we can realize once more that we still breed men to whom life is something that may be risked cheerfully, nonchalantly, gallantly.

An aviator may take off from the planet of our cheering multitude, head his plane out over the ocean, disappear in the mists and never be seen again. He is, as we say, lost at sea. His flight has failed and he has paid the great penalty. And it seems a terrible waste.

But it is not. Dying, alone in the rolling Atlantic, lost airman, had left something fully as precious as the memory of a completed flight. He has given his life for no material gain. We will not be able to travel faster, get rich quicker or live more easily because of what he did, but for a boon that is entirely spiritual, we have gained immeasurably.

The aviator has taken his place with the long list of those who have found death a thing easy to face and life a thing from which it is easy to part. And we—who live comfortably at home, sheltered from danger and alarms—are the gainers.

There is value in an ocean flight, even if it ends in death. We are all better for it. And to the fliers who risk their lives we might say, as Nietzsche makes Zarathustra say:

"That last made danger thy calling, and in that I find nothing unwholly."

Worth Knowing

Science, which all too often concerns itself with matters of great import that they do the average run of human beings little good, now and then does happen to stumble into the realm of the commonplace and discover something worth discovering. For instance, Mrs. Ercia L. Greim, expert dietitian, has just discovered that contented husbands are most easily obtained by feeding them tomatoes, corn and peas. Under no condition should husbands be fed heavy meat dishes, says Mrs. Greim.

Now this is worth knowing. Good wives have been following the wrong course since time immemorial if Mrs. Greim knows whereof she speaks. Too much emphasis has been placed on saive, soft soap, honeyed words, mince pie and beef steak as husband food in the past, and this incorrect diet has no doubt been largely responsible for the terrible increase in divorces. By all means, bring on the tomatoes, corn and peas.

A New Source

Students of taxation should watch with interest the workings of West Virginia's new $500 a year privilege tax on the proceeds of oil, gas and other mineral and natural resources produced within the state. The United States supreme court, in a test case, has just declared this new tax law constitutional.

This is interesting legislation. Mexico has declared that the federal government is the owner of all natural resources, and the taxes levied by reason of this doctrine have been the chief bones of contention between the United States and the southern republic. Now West Virginia's tax will be received and she will be seen.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

The nickname should be 'Plucky Lindbergh and not 'Lucky Lindbergh, the New York American claims—and, in The Plainsman's opinion, rightously so. The blonde-American has taken the stick—which in aviation slang means manipulated his plane—and with a series of aerial acrobatics thrilled all Paris the other day, giving even the hardened Parisians something to get excited over. Put this down in your little book—Lindbergh is a good flier—an extraordinarily good one. If he wasn't he would never have made the record he holds in the air mail service—he never would have made the lone stop jump from San Diego to New York he never would have made Paris as successfully and quickly and he never would have been able to thrill base France with his air antics. While we're on the subject of aviation and considering the success of Lindbergh, Chamberlin, Byrd and Acosta in recent stunts it doesn't appear that the good old U. S. A. is so far behind the rest of the world in aviation—even if the pessimists do claim that to be a fact.

In all fairness to the ladies it might be observed that there are just about as many 'men that girls forget' as there are 'girls that men forget' and judging from current conversation the girls are doing the best job of forgetting.

Six more American voices have been added to the Metropolitan opera. Pretty soon this may become an American institution.

Two men arrested in Detroit claimed they were robbers, and decried to be bootleggers. The police thought, at first they had caught some lawbreakers.

The next thing we expect to hear of is the autobiography of a baseball player running in one of the confessions magazines. We said "hear of," not "read."

Washington never went near a cherry tree, and Edison's five-hour sleep in the bunk, they tell us, we are expecting any day now to hear a protest from the White House about all this prosperity.

A young man who turned bandit in Kansas City really can't be blamed. He had hunted the town from top to bottom for a job for his wife.

WASHINGTON LETTER

SENATOR HEFLIN'S BARN-STORMING TOUR MEETS UNEXPECTED SUCCESS

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 31.—If the Hon. J. Thomas Heflin, senator from the state of Alabama, isn't adequately appreciated here in Washington, perhaps the country at large is making up for it.

Ever since Congress adjourned, Senator Heflin has been giving audiences a dose of the golden voice that they could otherwise never hear without coming to Washington.

Generally he speaks on Mexico and Nicaragua and belabors the Catholic hierarchy in the manner which brought the firing ramparts south and now faces tours through Pennsylvania and New England.

Hefflin's orator has compiled some of the effusive bursts of praise which his speeches have occasioned. Full reports aren't yet on the success of Hefflin's religious speeches, although those few who think as Hefflin does about things say that he is paving his way to the White House.

The compilation of comment on other addresses seems to indicate that those who have regarded Hefflin as a public nuisance must be all wet.

"It will be many moons before Shelby will forget Tom Heflin, and years before they say of another speaker 'He's as fine as Heflin,'" said the Shelby, N. C. Star.

"Davidson College may well boast of having one of the few treats of a lifetime that comes from the speaker's platform," echoes the Davidsonian of Davidson, N. C.

"Senator Hefflin is indeed a masterful speaker and held his audience as no other speaker, in Corning, has ever done," the Corning, Ark. Times-News is quoted as saying.

"Those who heard the masterly address of J. Tom Heflin, the distinguished senator from Alabama, here last Monday evening, could but return to their homes with a feeling of pride that the south was their home and birthplace," The Chairman News of Thomasville, N. C.

"The lecture was the finest ever heard in Lincolnton and we are all crazy about Senator Heflin,"—J. W. Mullins, president Lincolnton, N. C. Kiwanis Club.

"The business and professional men of this town are to be congratulated for bringing this great man among us,"—The Lonoke, Ark. Democrat.

"He will go down into history as the greatest story-teller who ever passed through this part of the country,"—Raleigh, N. C. News and Observer.

"No mere reporter can do justice to the man—his message and magnetic personality—they must be seen, heard and felt to be appreciated,"—The Barnwell, S. C. Peoples Sentinel.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING and down BROADWAY

NEW YORK, May 31.—Straw hats with bright bands... merry-go-rounds wheezing their topical tunes... coasters coasting... bigger and better breathless rides... garish colors and blaring voices... flirting maids and flirting shells... careless crowds, shivering just a bit in the sea dampness.

That's Coney Island. Hook just now. What you never heard of Coney Island? Well, it's our old friend Coney Island, but its real name was given by Dutch colonists and the transition from Coney to Coney can be understood without explanation.

The Indians liked it as a play ground, too, and called it Narayong. The Dutch colonists presented it to the town of Gravesend and, eventually, Brooklyn got it.

Coney has a regular list of Sunday callers, winter or summer. There's a club—small to be sure—that plunges into its leg waters once a week whatever the temperature.

There are girls and boys who have never missed it upon a hot day and, as the years have sped and they have grown older, return to the play ground of their youth as to a shrine, braving the frantic Sunday crowds and glorying in the smells, noises and hectic atmosphere.

Strangely enough there lies just behind all this noise and tinsel a quiet, home town from which thousands commute to New York daily. Home life is not generally associated with Coney, yet away from its board walk is a pleasant little town, the residents of which figure seldom in the board walk life.

In many of the Coney homes there are solemn sermons to growing daughters to keep away from the roller coaster of Sunday crowds and, when half of New York seems to be dumping itself upon the Coney sands, hundreds of the good folk of the town proper are preparing for church.

This season the pride of Coney is a new hotel where Governor Smith will have a suite of honor for the summer and other notables will be guests.

For all the world goes to Coney. Few distinguished visitors to America miss it. Authors, artists, opera singers, movie stars—the whole of Europe seems to have heard of it. Many a ship news reporter has been startled when, in the midst of an interview with some internationally known intellectual, his questions are halted suddenly by the request of "Oh, by the way, where is Coney Island?"

BOB HATHAWAY almost flung himself against the body of the yellow and brown taxi before he could halt in front of Hutchinson, who had so amazingly proved to be the passenger in the pursued cab.

about murder," Bob spoke calmly. "Phil, set into this taxi and lift up the cushions of the back seat. I can handle these two birds alone."

"You have no authority to arrest me," Hutchinson spluttered. "Let me see your warrant. I know you—you're Hathaway—"

"This is my authority!" Bob grinned as he prodded Hutchinson's stomach with the automatic.

"Oh, come clean, Hutchinson!" Bob urged him contemptuously. "You entered this cab two days ago at Lincoln Park as Phil the beggar, and again today—and many other days—and you left it as Brady W. Hutchinson, immaculate business man. You fooled me the other day. I lost sight of your taxi just long enough to fall for your trick, but not today!"

The taxi driver lunged toward Hutchinson, his face contorted with fear and rage.

"And I arrest you," he spoke to the driver in the same authoritative voice, "as an accessory before and after the fact. I have your number and if you manage to escape now you will be arrested within ten minutes. The police are instructed to pick you up within the next ten minutes if I do not bring you in."

"Don't try to make a getaway, Hutchinson, alias Phil Schultz, the supposed beggar!" he barked out.

"You're crazy! I don't know what you're talking about," Hutchinson replied for the first time, his ashen face suddenly going dark red with forced anger.

"Oh, yes, you do! I'm talking

SCOUT TOTAL RISES AGAIN

Last 24 Hours Sees Boost And Adds 40 Names To So. Plains Area

With two new troops just enrolled and six more applying for registration in the Plains scout council, growth of the scout movement here exceeds that experienced at any time in the past. There are now 24 troops registered, and about 750 boys belonging, reports Scout Executive A. H. Watts.

Just organized another scout troop under the leadership of scoutmaster Marshall Mason, which will have a good list of boys.

Frankham Chapel, a community near post, reports a new troop of scouts under Charles Tinney and Olin, in Lamb county, is organizing a troop to be headed by the Rev. C. L. Yarbrough.

Three At Floydada

Three troops are being organized in Floydada, with C. L. Seagraves, T. A. Prebble and Martin Brown as scoutmasters.

Wellfirth has just registered a new troop of scouts with about fifteen boys in it and Sand Hill in Floyd county has applied for registration of their troop organized by A. E. Brown.

Affairs of the council are in excellent shape now, and a trip is to be made to the proposed campsite at Pond by the executive board within the near future to consider plans for the scout lake which is to be built.

This lake will be about 20 acres in extent, will have a concrete dam 25 feet high and approximately 30 feet long. Expenses for which have been provided by Plains business men.

Practical Courses Offered

Lifesaving, boating, and water sports will be taught the scouts with competent adult instructors in charge, when it has been completed.

Examinations for first and second class scout ranks were taken by a large group of boys Monday night, and examinations for merit badges will be given Wednesday night.

There is still a shortage of scoutmasters for local troops, and the scout officials are on the lookout for competent boy leaders to take charge of one or two troops.

Special Meeting At Cumberland Church

Rev. A. A. Collins of Floydada will be with the Cumberland church at this place Wednesday evening, and will bring a report of the General Assembly as a representative of the Amarillo Presbytery. All members of the congregation are urged to be present and hear this report, and friends of the congregation are invited.

Wheat Harvest To Begin In Lubbock County Next Week

An average yield of from eight to ten bushels per acre will be had by wheat farmers of Lubbock county, who will begin harvesting next week, it is estimated by County Agent D. F. Eaton. There is approximately 24,000 acres of wheat planted in the county, Mr. Eaton reports.

While the wheat is ripe enough for binders to begin work now, most of the harvesting will be done with combines, which will start work the latter part of next week.

A better price than was received last year is anticipated by the farmers who hope to receive over a dollar per bushel net for their crops. Quotations at present are considerably higher than that.

Farmers in the Plainview and Canyon districts of the plains report fair crops in spots, some anticipating as high as 23 bushels per acre, while the average will run about 16 to 12 bushels.

A much larger acreage was planted to wheat this year than last, and according to farmers here the average will be again increased next year.

Tech Students Study NO WE'RE NOT JOKING This Is 'Exam Week'

Midnight electricity now burns in the vicinity of the campus instead of the midnight gasoline which possibly burned several days ago and the popular pastime of "gramming" holds the interests of the students of the Texas Technological college as they face their final examinations of the spring term. Saturday the second long session of the college will close, and once more Lubbock will be ready to receive a new group as the summer school students pour into town for a three months stay.

Coupled with the preparation for the exams comes the preparation for home-going. Thursday will find numbers leaving Lubbock for "home sweet home" with the college year behind them.

The fad of autographing the La Ventanas is popular among the students also and the campus is covered with studies carrying fountain pen and yearbook searching for friends here and there who halt and write a few words of farewell.

Officials of the college are elated over the work accomplished during the past session and are looking forward to greater achievements during the year to come.

But at present final exams hold the spotlight.

SAME OLD TALK

PARIS—The French barber, like the American, tries to sell his customer a full line of goods.

Good Old Days Gone LADIES ARE THE CHIEF BARBERS Confess It

"The good old days are gone," sighed J. R. Dickinson, local barber, as he sent the new porter dashing to another shop to borrow a "noodle" planter, which he alleged he needed badly.

"Time was when a barber shop was mostly a men's clubhouse and you could hear all the latest jokes and everything, but now with the women folks getting as many haircuts as anybody, it's nothing but a plain place of business," he said.

"They used to pull off some good ones here but that's all gone. Now that parlor will get sent to every place in town before he finds there isn't any such article."

"I remember one time when there was a competitor out here a ways that had a reputation for being tough. He had a whooping big mustache that was the pride of his heart. Some of the boys platted a few small steel wires in it that he had found while this fellow was asleep, and when one of the barbers went to trim that wondrous adornment, he raised a pair of scissors pulled out half of those whiskers, and like to have got shot, before the reason was discovered. But that's all gone, now. Next!"

There used to be a time when a girl churned the cream. Now she puts it on her face.

RIX WILL BE HIGHWAY HEAD

Lubbock County Good Roads Committee Organizes To Boost Better Highways

Jed A. Rix of Lubbock was elected chairman of the Lubbock county good roads committee appointed last Saturday by the Commissioners Court at the urgent request of a group of citizens, when the committee met in organization session here Monday evening. R. A. Baldwin, of Slaton, was elected vice chairman, and Spencer A. Wells secretary.

The committee, composed of representatives from every town in the county, is to meet again Thursday night, when data as to road costs and other information in connection with the proposed improvement program in this county will be offered by Major Pettus Hemphill, division engineer of the State Highway department, who has promised every assistance possible. The following men are on the committee, with one yet to be appointed:

W. A. Fincher, J. H. Brewer, R. A. Baldwin and P. G. Stokes, of Slaton; E. F. Hurston and T. Daniels, of Idalia; J. A. Rix, S. A. Wells, W. S. Posey and Dr. I. E. Barr, Lubbock;

First Tech Graduating Class Now Forms Alumni Association; Plans Laid To Aid In Bettering School

The first graduating class of the Tech college, in a farewell banquet Monday night, organized an alumni and ex-students association, with E. W. Camp of Lubbock as president. Other officers elected are: E. W. Rathke, vice president; D. H. Roberts, Esq., secretary; treasurer, and Mary Hope Westbrook, corresponding secretary.

Among the first undertakings of the association will be erection of a memorial to the memory of R. M. Chittwood, first business manager of the institution, who was a member of the state legislature when the college was created, and intentions and Fred Pitt, Shilohwater.

The committee will make a thorough survey of the situation, both as regards cost of various types of roads, and the possibility of the success of a bond election for $1,000,000, but will not make recommendations as to the type of road to be used, insisting only that some form of high type surface be applied, it was said.

Interested citizens of the county are urged to confer with one or more members of this committee at any time, and offer suggestions as to highway improvement.

now are that this memorial will be completed by the first of next year, members of the class said following the session.

Friends Are To Help

Many friends of Mr. Chittwood have pledged support toward erection of the memorial that is to be in the form of an archway across the west end of Broadway on the campus. Work on the memorial fund is to begin at once under supervision of the executive committee, headed by H. B. Carroll of Lubbock.

The association did not set a date for the first reunion, this being left to the executive committee, but various hopes were expressed that the reunion might be held during the football game between Tech and the Texas Aggies next fall.

The banquet formally closed the commencement week program, and the fourteen graduates on whom degrees were conferred Monday morning now turn to their various tasks in life pledged to unstinted support of the institution in future years.

Following the presentation of the degrees, President Horn announced the following students as winners of scholarships for the coming year: $100 to Horace Grady Moore of Floydada, a the best college citizen among the men; $100 to Miss Anna Belle Collins, of Channing, as the best college citizen among the women; $250 to Irvin Coleman, of Vernon, as the best orator of the school; $250 to Doyle Wallace, of Mount Calm, as the most worthy junior man student; $200 to Mrs. E. M. Barnett, Lubbock, as the most worthy junior girl student; $25 in gold from the Pan-Hellenic club to Miss Iola McPherson, of Amarillo, as the best student in home economics. Winners of the best all-round athlete, the highest ranking athlete in scholarship, the highest student in scholarship, the student making the best grade in English, the best agricultural student and the best textile engineering student, are to be announced at the close of the examinations, President Horn said.

STOCKS AND MONEY WALL STREET REPORT NEW YORK, May 31. (AP)—An exhibition of strength in the opening of the stock market today greeted Secretary Mellon's calling for recognition of the outstanding second liberty loan bonds. Nickel Plate opened 1 1/4 points and Reading, Wabash, American Water Works and International Nickel quickly rose to new highs for the year or longer.

Further broad buying developed as the session advanced. The treasury's June financing, with the low interest rate of 3 3/8, effecting a marked saving in annual interest payments, was regarded as a further indication of a protracted era of easy money. Jersey Central quickly rose five points to a new high price at 35 and A. M. Byers jumped 1/2, also attaining a new peak. General Outdoor Advertising Certificates also bettered its previous high with a gain of 2 points. Other new maximums were numerous, with gains ranging from 1 to 2 points and included Westinghouse, Air Brake, Detroit Edison, Simons company, and Texas and Pacific. Many other stocks scored early advances of a point or so, including such leaders as Baldwin and Dupont. Western Maryland, on the other hand, failed to share in the general advance, quickly selling down 3 1/2 points.

An "over-the-holiday" jump of 7 points to 28 cents was scored by Norwegian kroner. Foreign exchange on the whole opened firm, demand sterling ruling around $4.85 1/2 and francs about 2.91 1/2 cents.

Grain Market CHICAGO REPORT CHICAGO, May 31. (AP)—Wheat advanced sharply at the outset today, but failed to hold gains well. Heavy profit taking resulted from bulges due to advances at Winnipeg and Liverpool, while the Chicago market was closed. Opening 1.1-8 to 3/4 cents advance, wheat receded in some cases to about Saturday's finish.

With better weather, corn and oats were easy, corn starting 1.1-8 cents off, to 1/8 cent up, and subsequently showing a decided setback. Provision tended down.

HARD SURFACE ROAD PLANNED

Transcontinental Trail To Be Paved If Boosters Have Their Way

Efforts were renewed at a meeting in Stamford of representatives from practically all towns along the Texas Transcontinental Trail to have the entire route of the highway through Texas hard surfaced, according to B. Sherrod and G. O. Reeves, local men who attended the meeting. J. E. Thompson, banker of Brokenbridge, was elected president of the sponsoring association for the work, and other officers and directors were elected as follows:

Clifford B. Jones, Spur, vice president; S. W. Cooper, Crosbyton, secretary-treasurer; directors are: H. F. Spelman, Fort Worth; Judge Richard Dyess, Albany; Charles Strickberg, Leuders; Col. R. L. Penick, Stamford; W. D. Young, Sargent; H. F. Grindstaff, Aspermont; Reece Ward, Swenson; W. H. McKinley, Peacock; Thomas B. Johnson, Jay; M. A. Darden, Girard; Judge H. C. A. Brummett, Dickens; A. L. Winfrey, Falls; E. T. Daniel, Idaho; Fred Weise, Leueno, and S. E. Cone, Lubbock.

The session unanimously adopted a resolution asking that the cooperation of the State Highway commission be granted in promoting the proposed program, with all possible financial aid, particularly the Shafterford county, where bonds have already been voted to pave the highway through the county.

A resolution also was passed urging speedy decision on the designation of the route into Lubbock.

Progress Is Reported With road building on the Plains progressing at a rapid pace, and numerous counties now considering plans for improved highways, good progress is reported by George Linder, who is in charge for Crosby county on the caprock grade road over highway 53 and for Motley county on their new pavement program.

Thirty men and twenty teams have been employed in cutting down the grass at the Caprock and giving a straighter and more improved route up the plains there, where a new one-half mile approach is being built, on highway 53, running from Crosbyton to Dickens.

Plans and specifications on the proposed paved roads for Motley county are now being prepared and will be submitted to the state highway department in the next few weeks. Preliminary required before construction on the new roadways will be commenced will require three months. It was estimated, provided that the plans meet with the approval of the state highway commissioners.

The Motley county program includes 72 miles of cutting on routes 18 from Dickens to Estelline and number 28 from Vernon to Earwell, approximately one-half mile of bridge structure will be required over highway 18 where from 6 to 8 long bridges and approaches must be constructed.
