42 Crewmen Killed, Scores Are Wounded

By DON CARLSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Friday, April 22—A furious duel between the eight-inch guns of the British cruised London and Red artillerymen on the Yangtze yesterday left 42 seamen dead and four British ships damaged in two days of fighting.

(At Nanking, the U.S. embassy warned American residents of the imperiled city to flee while 'normal commercial' routes were still open. All American nationals, except those prepared for an "emergency" were urged to leave Nanking as soon as possible.)

Communist casualties on the north bank of the Yangtze, near the scene of heavy fighting in the Chinese civil war, were not known. British sailors who took part estimated at least eight Red guns were knocked out.

(The State department in Washington reported approximately 200 Americans are connected with the embassy in various capacities, with another 87 U. S. citizens in Nanking on private business.)

Crippled by the Red shore batteries, the 10,000-ton London, the sloop Black Swan, and the destroyer Consort were all back in Shanghai tonight. Total wounded may reach 100.

Try To Rescue Sloop

All three had tried to go to the rescue of the sloop Amethyst, which Communist artillerymen fired on Wednesday and drove ashore while on a peaceful voyage to Nanking.

The Amethyst, which managed to refloat itself despite heavy damage and casualties, still awaited rescue today. It was anchored on the Yangtze about 60 miles east of Nanking.

All four ships returned the Red fire and inflicted damage on the attacking Red batteries, they reported. Seamen trying to swim to shore from the Amethyst reportedly were machinegunned by the Communists.

Fire Without Warning

A British embassy source in Nanking charged the Communists fired without warning upon the London although in addition to British flags it flew a white flag 16 feet square.

The source said the London and the Black Swan were proceeding cautiously up the Yangtze to the rescue of the Amethyst.

About two miles from the sloop, he continued, Red artillery batteries on the north bank opened up without warning and poured a salvo into the cruiser. Then a second salvo hit the London.

At this point the London's gun crews got the order to return fire.

"We cut loose with everything we had," a crewman was quoted as saying.

Members of the crew declared the London was only 300 yards from the north bank when the first shells hit it. They reported three

Americans Told To Flee Nanking

NANKING, Friday, April 22 (AP) — Chinese Communist troops slashed across the Yangtze today at a point near Nanking and Americans were warned to flee the tottering capital while there is time.

A Red crossing about 25 miles east of Nanking, coupled with a previous beachhead planted 80 miles to the southeast, threatened the city with imminent encirclement.

The U. S. embassy, telling Americans to consider quitting Nanking "now," raised the possibility the cit, soon may become a battleground. Chinese officials already were leaving the city by every plane.

Escape Routes Threatened

The latest crossing on the east threatened to sever quickly the main railway and highway to Shanghai, about 240 miles by the Yangtze route to the southwest. This is the normal route Americans and other nationals would use in quitting Nanking.

The embattled river front already cuts off use of the Yangtze for such evacuations.

The American embassy directed its warning to citizens not prepared to remain through an "emergency." The embassy said there is no assurance the capital would

Defense Takes Stand In Slaying Trial

Two Witnesses Say McGee Is 'Insane'

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

"RICHARD W. McGee has been insane since July 24, 1947."

This statement was voiced by Dr. Paul L. White, psychiatrist at the University of Texas since January 1938.

Dr. White made this statement Thursday as part of his testimony in the defense of McGee who is charged by indictment with the murder of R. L. Alliston, 42-year-old Lubbock grocery executive on the afternoon of July 7, 1948.

The attorneys for the state rested their case shortly after the 72nd District court reconvened at 1:30 p. m. yesterday. The defense counsel, Burton S. Burks, Lubbock, former district attorney, and Col. E. A. Simpson, Amarillo, called Dr. White as the first witness for the defendant and then brought in another doctor, M. M. Stephens, Borger.

Incident Is Related

"I warned people in 1942 that Richard McGee was crazy and that someday he would kill someone," Dr. Stephens told the jury.

In examining the two witnesses the defense sought to bring out that McGee had been an abnormal boy from childhood.

"On the evening of July 24, 1947, I was called to the gymnasium on the campus of the University of Texas," Dr. White testified. "I went to the shower room and there I found Richard W. McGee sprawled out on the floor of the shower-bath, nude and with the water running."

Dr. White said he was unable to get a clear statement from McGee at that time as to what his trouble was. All answers he said were mumbled in such a way he could do nothing for the boy.

Sent To Hospital

"I was with him for 30 minutes at that time," Dr. White said. "The boy kept trying to brush me aside."

According to Dr. White, McGee remarked at that time;

"'I am Jesus Christ. I'm here for a special purpose.'"

"McGee would then be pleasant for a few minutes and then would become belligerent," the psychiatrist said in answer to questioning by Col. Simpson. Dr. White said he then called the VA office for help in getting the boy to a hospital for special care. When the VA could not aid Dr. White called McGee's sister, Mrs. A. C. Holcombe who was living in Austin at that time. She has since moved to Dallas. The sister was not at home.

The following day, Dr. White

Hope, Crosby Hold Part Interest In Scurry Oil Venture

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 21—Singer Bing Crosby and funnyman Bob Hope have a part in "the hottest oil play in Texas," says the Dallas News.

The News says they have a quarter interest each in 1,626 acres in the middle of Scurry county, where oil fever has hit a high pitch. Their partners in the venture are veteran Texas oilmen W. A. Concrief of Fort Worth and Paul C. Teas of Dallas.

The four have started a wildcat exploration on their holdings, two miles southwest of Snyder, county seat. They plan other tests if developments warrant.

Purchase of acreage has been under way for several weeks. Some lease instruments already have been filed at the Snyder courthouse in the name of Harry L. Crosby and Lester T. Hope.

"Early purchases were at $50 an acre, but the last one made was at $300 an acre cash plus $250 an acre to be paid out of any oil production—a cash sum of $48,000 for the 160-acre tract," the News says.

Atlantic Pact Arms Plan Is Given Solons

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 21. —Secretary of State Acheson gave senators a $1,130,000,000 proposal today for military aid to North Atlantic defense pact nations in the coming year.

Another $320,000,000 would be set up for other nations in America's effort to dam off Communism. The total $1,450,000,000 program of foreign arms aid in the year beginning July 1 was outlined before the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Senator Smith (R-NJ) and other committee members said they understood that about $400,000,000 of the funds needed are already included in President Truman's budget. Smith told reporters:

Smaller Cost Seen

"About $1,050,000,000 will be the additional amount needed to carry out this program. This means the rearmament program will cost less than we had anticipated." Previous estimates had assumed the whole new arms program would be piled on top of the present budget.

Smith added that part of this sum would be in cash and part in arms, equipment and raw materials.

Chairman Connally of Texas, who announced the program after a five hour closed committee meeting, said the overall program includes aid for Greece and Turkey.

Arms, Pact Discussed

"I want to emphasize that this is the total amount contemplated for all military assistance programs including Greece and Turkey," he said.

Connally said the relationship between the Atlantic treaty and the military aid program was discussed.

"The benefits for peace and security already achieved, and to be further won by the ratification of the pact, cannot be over-emphasized either abroad or in this country," he said.

He added that Acheson had pointed out the arms program would be necessary whether there is an Atlantic alliance or not.

The bulk of the money would go to strengthen European nations

Banking Group Elects Officers

Bruce Zorns of Brownfield State Bank and Trust company was elected president, and Lubbock was chosen as the 1950 conventino site as 425 bankers of the South Plains Bankers association concluded their business session Thursday.

Attendance at the day-long session far exceeded the anticipated number of 350.

Other officers elected were B. T. Cardwell, vice president of First State Bank of Odessa, vice president; and C. A. Hollingsworth, vice president of Lamesa National bank, secretary.

Banking Problems Discussed

Joe A. Clark, vice president of the Fort Worth National bank, admonished the bankers against becoming "machine-minded" in personal dealings with customers. He emphasized the importance of the "personal touch" in banking activities.

Tom Collins, publicity director of the City National Bank and Trust company of Kansas City, Mo., followed Clark's theme in a humorous talk. Interspersing his remarks with frequent anecdotes, Collins commented that he is satisfied with the machines of today, with the airplanes and automobiles and typewriters. The improvement he wanted to see was in human relations and he commented that the progress of banks will depend on people, not banks.

He emphasized the importance of public opinion, right or wrong, in determining the success of banks or anything else.

Royall Quits Defense Post

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 21—President Truman today announced the resignation of Kenneth C. Royall as secretary of the army, effective next Wednesday.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he had made no decision as to who would be named to succeed Royall.

In asking to be relieved of his official duties, Royall informed the President:

"My recent personal inspections in the overseas theatres have shown the Army everywhere to be in excellent condition and have confirmed my belief that war is not imminent."

Bruce Appointed

In an exchange of letters made public by the White House the President told Royall that he had "no choice but to acquiesce" in Royall's expressed desire to return to private life.

The President announced that David K. E. Bruce had been appointed as ambassador to France succeeding Jefferson Caffery who is returning to the United States to be given another post.

Caffery has been mentioned as prospective U. S. ambassador to Egypt but the President gave no intimation as to what his new assignment will be.

Meanwhile, ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman appointed Barry Bingham, president of the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Times, to succeed Bruce as ECA mission chief to France.

Clark Not To Resign

Hoffman said Bingham is to take up his new duties after the Senate acts on Bruce's nomination. Bingham will be given a brief indoctrination course at ECA headquarters in Washington before going to Paris.

Bruce, 49, served as assistant secretary of commerce before assuming the ECA post in May, 1948.

The President declared emphatically that Attorney General Clark will remain in his post. There have been rumors that Clark would resign.

The President declared that he accepted Royall's resignation "with

Outstanding Lubbock Woman Is Honored

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

RECOGNIZED Thursday night as Lubbock's Outstanding Woman of 1948, Mrs. J. D. Lindsey, of 1520 Avenue M, received tributes at the birthday banquet of Altrusa club in Hilton hotel for her various contributions to Lubbock life.

Miss Mary Boyd, Altrusa president, presented a loving cup to Mrs. Lindsey for "having been such an outstanding citizen, for having influenced the lives of so many people, and for setting such a fine example and presenting such a challenge to those who are to follow in your footsteps."

Pioneer Area Resident

Mrs. Lindsey was nominated by Lubbock Business and Professional club for the honor. The board of directors of Altrusa club, service club for business and professional women, chose Mrs. Lindsey from candidates chosen by various clubs in the city.

Mrs. Lindsey has lived in Lubbock county since coming by covered wagon with her husband and children in 1901 from near Albany. They moved to a ranch, the Cottonwood ranch, west of Lubbock, on which cattle then roamed in large numbers and which since then has been the sight of wartime flight training.

Sold Land For Base

Lubbock Army Air field was established on a portion of the ranch. Mrs. Lindsey sold 1,400 acres as site for the air base for $35 an acre, the amount set by appraisers as reasonable, making no effort to gain higher price. Two hundred additional acres later were sold for $47.50 an acre. Tribute was paid to her unselfish manner in those transactions Thursday night.

In her tributes to Mrs. Lindsey, the Altrusa president said "Mother Lindsey has actively supported Milam's orphans home with her time, her self and her money; she has been active in the work of the Red Cross; from time to time she has made it possible for students to go to school; she has employed Tech students in preference to other people so that they might earn an education; she is a life member of the Tech museum and has actively supported it since it was first started.

Supported Many Causes

"She has for years furnished the Downtown Bible class a meeting place, thus indirectly influencing the lives of thousands of people; she is an active member of the Business and Professional Women's club; she was one of the first to recognize the need of a club house for the women of Lubbock, bought a life membership in the club and is one of its largest donors; she has given free-

Solons To Hear Health Program

WASHINGTON, April 21 (INS) — President Truman will send a special message to Congress tomorrow morning requesting enactment of his multi-billion dollar compulsory health insurance program.

The White House announced the President's decision and disclosed the message will be long—probably about 3,500 words.

Mr. Truman told a news conference he may follow up the message by taking his health program to the people in a nationwide radio address.

The President's proposal is expected to smash head-on into opposition from powerful Republican-Southern Democratic coalitions in both the Senate and House.

Passage My Be Delayed

Sen. Murray (D-Mont) a leading proponent of the administration's "pay the doctor" health plan conceded that "passage of compulsory health insurance may be delayed until next session."

Murray and Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) are drafting a bill to carry out the President's proposals.

They are co-authors of a measure now before the Senate Labor committee providing mandatory health insurance through federal

Convict Is Caught After Gun Battle

INDIANAPOLIS, April 21 (INS) —Sharpshooting FBI agents tonight seriously wounded and captured Clyde Milton Johnson, 30-year-old "Public Enemy No. 1," in a running gun battle through crowded Indianapolis streets.

The gun battle sent scores of passersby on Indianapolis streets scurrying for cover but no one was injured. Two cars were damaged by gunfire.

Basic Science, Chiropractor Acts Passed

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 21—Both the basic science and chiropractor licensing bills passed the Senate tonight in a compromise ending probably the longest filibuster in Texas legislative history.

The bill setting up a board to license and regulate chiropractors was approved 23 to 3. It went to the governor for signature.

The basic science bill as amended passed 25 to 1. It went back to the House for concurrence in the amendment.

The Senate adjourned at 9:55 p.m. until 10:30 a.m. Monday, ending the longest continuous session any oldtimer could remember.

Compromise Called Fair

The filibuster had kept the Senate in continuous session since 2:30 p.m. yesterday — 31 hours 25 minutes.

The compromise agreement to end the filibuster had called for the immediate passage of both the basic science bill and a bill to license and regulate chiropractors. Chiropractors have fought the basic science bill but have advocated the chiropractor licensing legislation.

Just before final passage of the basic science measure Senator Fred Harris of Dallas declared: "It's the spirit of compromise, the democratic form of government and the way of life we have in the United States that puts this bill up for passage now. We have reached an agreement we think is fair."

Senator Walter Tynan of San Antonio, sponsor of the bill who had had very little chance to say anything during the filibuster, said: "It's been a proposition of trying to get good legislation to help protect the public health.

"I hope now that the various branches of the healing arts will quit their politics, go back home, set up their own boards, clean up their houses and get back to the business of working for the health of the people."

The State Medical association has pushed the basic science bill.

Slaton Resident Is Charged Here

W. T. Wyatt, 32, of Slaton, who officers alleged had forged checks totaling at least $53, was charged late Thursday with forgery and was placed by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn under $1,000 bond in binding him over to grand jury investigation.

Wyatt's arrest Thursday afternoon at S & Q Clothiers resulted from a telephone-radio hookup from the store to the police department to a radio patrol car, officers said.

Listens To Conversation

While store employes talked with Wyatt in the store, Sidney Smallwood, acting desk sergeant at the station was listening to the conversation over an open telephone circuit. He, in turn, was in communication with a radio patrol car which was parked outside the store. Patrolmen J. D. Atchison and Glenn Fletcher made the arrest when Wyatt left the store.

Detectives Leroy Boling, jr., and Robert West said Wyatt was investigated in connection with two $10 checks at the clothing store, a $23 check at Dunlaps department store and a $5 check at J. C. Penney Co. and John Halsey's drug store.

Kate Adelle Hill, registered at a local hotel, told police a wardrobe trunk and its contents, valued totally at $87, was missing from the hotel's check room where she had left it March 13. Value of the clothing and other articles in the trunk was assessed at half their original price, the owner indicated.

Senate Approves Plan To Build 810,000 Public Housing Units

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 21 — The Senate tonight passed the long range housing bill providing for a vast slum clearance program and construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years.

The vote was 57 to 13. The bill now goes to the House.

The measure also calls for a farm housing program and research to cut building costs.

The vote came shortly before midnight after a long, wrangling session in which tempers frequently exploded. Once Senator Taft (R-Ohio) angrily accused Democrats of making a "deal" with Senator Langer (R-ND) to induce Langer not to launch a filibuster.

(International News Service reported that when Langer threatened to stage a one-man filibuster, managers of the bill rushed to his side to dissuade him. Sen. Russell (D-Ga) suggested that he and the North Dakotan could work out an amendment to increase aid to farm housing.

(Langer then offered and the Senate approved, 41 to 28, an amendment increasing from $12,500,000 to $25,000,000 the total in

By JERRY HALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE 17th annual Texas Tech Engineering show and the 13th annual Home Economics Open House will open at 2 p.m. today at Texas Technological college, the first of four events on the campus this weekend expected to attract several thousand visitors from over West Texas.

High school students, teachers and visitors who will be at the college in connection with the annual Region 1 Interscholastic League literary and athletic meet and the annual high school Vocational Agriculture judging contests are expected to add to the large crowds who visit the show annually.

The regional meet and judging contests are slated Saturday, with the exception of one-act play contests in the league meet tonight.

High school students from more than 200 West Texas high schools will have an opportunity to visit the college during the two-day program, one of the highlights of the spring session at Texas Tech. In addition, numerous townspeople and area residents visit the show.

Francis Miller, general chairman of the Engineering show, said final plans had been completed and the public would see the largest display of exhibits and demonstrations which have ever been presented in connection with the event. Eight departments in the Engineering division and the departments of physics, geology and Military Science have combined in an effort to show the public what an engineer must do to obtain an education.

Members of the R.O.T.C. unit at the college will direct traffic. Visitors will find the exhibits of the Engineering show in the en-

Rabbit Show Judge Finds Raising Bunnies Makes Profitable Hobby

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

There will be many a rabbit enthusiast in Lubbock today, but there'll be none more enthusiastic than "Boots" Schutze of Houston.

Rabbit breeders from seven states have registered 350 entries in the rabbit show sponsored jointly by West Texas-New Mexico Show circuit and the South Plains Rabbit and Cavy Breeders association. The show is being held at the fairgrounds today and Saturday. Visitors are welcomed.

"Boots" Schutze—his real name is L. A. Schutze—probably devotes as much time and effort to encouraging rabbit breeding as any man in the nation.

Schutze Judges Shows

A quick-witted, friendly man with lots of laugh-wrinkles, he travels 50,000 to 60,000 miles a year attending and judging rabbit shows all over the country. And mind you, rabbits are strictly a hobby with him.

Last year he judged at 17 different shows, traveling thousands of miles from his Houston home, usually at his own expense, to do so.

And a short talk with Schutze will leave the listener ready and eager to eat rabbits fried, barbecued, baked with dumplings, in sandwiches or in lots of other ways; or willing to buy his wife a genuine rabbit-skin fur coat.

Edible Quality Praised

"People haven't been educated as rabit eaters in this country," h commented. Backing him up, word for word, was Guy L. Trow, president of the South Plains group.

"Rabbit is a more edible meat, pound for pound, than chicken," Schutze explains. "The buyer doesn't buy the head or feet, for one thing. Eighty-two per cent of the rabbit is edible meat and only 58 per cent of chicken is edible."

He commented that on the West C. ast rabbit is frequently used in "chicken salad."

What kind of rabbit makes the best eating? Schutze won't commit himself. "Let the grower pick the kind he likes best," he suggests.

Rabbit Growing Is Hobby

Most rabbit growers make a hobby, not a business out of it. Schutze himself is a Houston bookbinder, as he shows you by his stained fingers. But it's usually a profitable hobby.

There's a double market—one for the meat, the other for fur which is sent to tanneries for processing and conversion into stylish fur wearing apparel.

Schutze raises 800 rabbits on an interesting basis—he farms out three does and a buck to individuals, then takes back one rabbit ou' of each litter in payment. It's profitable.

After 38 years of rabbit breeding and 28 years of judging in shows, he still shows boyish enthusiasm for the subject.

Barbecue Scheduled

This show in Lubbock, the official annual show for this area, is under direction of Kenneth Smith of Hurlwood, show superintendent; and L. E. Settle, 2110 Twenty-ninth, show secretary.

Judging starts at 10 o'clock this morning. A rabbit barbecue will be held at the party house in Mackenzie state park Saturday night.

Seventy-five per cent of class entry fees will be paid as class premium money as follows: First place, 35 per cent; second, 25 per cent; third, 15 per cent. Business firms and individuals have contributed many special prizes. Fifteen breeds of rabbits will be judged.

Cavies are also entered in the show. Schutze points to one of them and makes this startling announcement: "If you hold them up by the tail, their eyes will fall out."

The catch, of course, is that cavies don't have tails.

Radio Industry Oscars Awarded For Outstanding Contributions

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) — Ten radio "Oscars" and three special citations, known in the network industry as George Foster Peabody radio awards, were distributed today.

For the first time in the nine-year-old history of the awards, a special salute was paid to an "outstanding contribution to the art of television."

This went to the American Broadcasting company's "Actor Studio."

The Peabody prizes are given annually for disinterested and meritorious public service to the broadcasting industry. Founded to honor the memory of a native Georgian who became a leading New York banker, the awards are administered by the University of Georgia's Henry W. Grady School of Journalism.

For the second time, Edward R. Murrow, CBS commentator, received the award for "outstanding reporting of the news." He won a Peabody plaudit in 1943.

Only once in the past has an individual been a two-time winner of a Peabody prize. That was in 1940 and 1948 when Elmer Davis was judged outstanding in the same classification as Murrow.

High School Driving Competition Planned

High School students may be able to compete soon in a contest to determine the boy and girl safe driving champions of Texas.

Such a contest will be proposed to officials of the Interscholastic league at a statewide meeting of delegates May 7 in Austin, it was announced Thursday by George Berry, Lubbock attorney.

Berry is regional vice-president of the Texas Safety association, which actively sponsors driver training in the schools throughout the state. The contest is being proposed jointly by the Safety association, the State Department of Education and the Department of Public Safety.

Jester Praises Program

"Teaching safety to your people gives the schools one of their greatest opportunities for service," Berry said. "Governor Jester recently described the driver training program as 'The greatest safety stride of all.' A safe driving contest would stimulate greater interest in driving skill and would promote the spread of driver training to schools not now offering it."

The goal of the school safety program, Berry said, is for every high school graduate to get a crisp new driver's license along with his diploma. About half the secondary schools are now teaching safety courses, but only a part of these give actual behind-the-wheel training.

Students or graduates of approved courses, holding valid drivers licenses and never having been involved in a collision or a moving traffic arrest, would be eligible for the contest

The competition would follow the usual pattern beginning with the local school and continuing through district regional and state competition. Cars would be furnished to the schools by the Texas Automotive Dealers association.

PAINTER APPLIES

Divorcee's Appeal Receives Answer

SALT LAKE CITY, April 21 (AP) — "My name is Cedric Younger Von Rolleston. I'm a painter. I've come to marry you."

With those words a self-styled mural artist from Havanna, Ill., greeted today Mrs. Elena Lebaron, husband-seeking mother of eight children.

He flew to Salt Lake City after the divorcee appealed last week for a man to marry her, help her pay for her house and feed all her children.

"I'm the first suitor on the spot in answer to your appeal," he told Mrs. Lebaron at an airport.

(Actually, she's had other offers, made in person.)

"My heart," he continued, "grew wings when I read about your plight. I think we should consider ourselves engaged, don't you?"

Mrs. Lebaron didn't say yes and she didn't say no.

They both gave 30 as their age.

Priceless Silver Cleaned With "GLASS WAX"

Only Cleaner Trusted For Historic Pieces

The nation's finest privately owned collection of rare drinking vessels is cleaned exclusively with "GLASS WAX". According to its owner, Francis W. Fowler, Jr., the amazing Gold Seal pink chemical provides the quickest and easiest method of maintaining the 500-odd items in the gleaming condition necessary for their display. The crystal-clear film that "GLASS WAX" leaves to protect lustre aids greatly by prolonging the period between cleanings.

Absolute Safety A Must

Most important, of course, is the fact that "GLASS WAX" is safe—entirely free of any harsh abrasive that might even minutely scratch these precious surfaces. Dangerous brushing, too, is eliminated in the chemical cleaning action afforded by "GLASS WAX". Mr. Fowler's choice of cleaner for his remarkable collection is supported by many leading silversmiths who recommend "GLASS WAX" for all plate and sterling.

This unusual hobby has been exhibited across the country and has been the subject of many newspaper and magazine articles as well.

400 YEAR-OLD SILVER CUPS CLEANED WITH "GLASS WAX"

Letters Hail "GLASS WAX" Speed, Ease

From all over the country, letters praising "GLASS WAX" flow into Gold Seal Company offices every day. Here are excerpts from a few recent unsolicited tributes:

"I have never found anything before like 'GLASS WAX' that would clean windows, mirrors and not leave a smear . . . I sure think it is grand."
Mrs. C. A. Wright
Detroit, Michigan

"I thought 'I'll use 'GLASS WAX' for my windows and see how it works,' as I had never had much luck with other window cleaners. Well, I can honestly say I never saw such gleaming windows before."
Mrs. Eileen Neidringhaus
Creve Coeur, Missouri

"SO EASY AND NEAT A CHILD CAN USE IT . . . AND FIND IT FUN!", WRITES ONE WOMAN

"'GLASS WAX' worked wonders. There is no sign whatsoever of those persistent streaks on my mirrors, and the mirror stays clean so much longer than from any other glass preparations on the market."
Mrs. Ruby M. Frain
Los Angeles, California

"I never used such a good cleaner as 'GLASS WAX' that made things shine, and I do mean shine, with such little effort."
Mrs. R. O. Hebert
Norwell, Massachusetts

"Comparing the costs of various other products to do the things which this one chemical does, plus the saving in time and labor, 'GLASS WAX' is truly the most economical and efficient cleaner I've ever come across."
Mrs. Virgil Oliver
Studio City, California

"When I first tried 'GLASS WAX', I thought I'd have to use as much as I did with other cleaners to get my grimy windows clean. Imagine my surprise when I found that so little 'GLASS WAX' was needed to do a superlative job. Besides, using a small amount never leaves any dust to be cleaned up later."
Mrs. H. F. McGinnis
Chicago, Illinois

"My pewter is at last clean—it sparkles—the very first cleaner that has done the trick."
Mrs. Gladys F. Andersen
North Quincy, Massachusetts

"Wherever possible in my housecleaning work, I use 'GLASS WAX'. It has everything else on the market beat."
Mrs. Mary Kohl
Bronx, New York

"As you can imagine, I've tried every cleaner ever marketed—powder, paste, liquid, and spray. But now, thanks to 'GLASS WAX', I tackle the job with nary a frown, and keep 944 small window panes bright and clean with just a weekly dusting."
Mrs. Frank G. Matthews
Spokane, Washington

"Glass Wax" Sold Coast to Coast

Holland Tunnel Cleaned With "GLASS WAX"

"From wedding rings to the Holland Tunnel" is a broad claim for any cleaner. Yet, that statement is actually true of the capabilities of "GLASS WAX".

To keep the mile-long tile-walled tube clean, a specially constructed truck shoots water at high pressure on the walls. However, while rinsing off loose dirt, this method fails to remove stubborn stain that mars the tile.

27% Brighter

After experimentation, engineers found that "GLASS WAX" offered the quickest and easiest way to keep the tile walls glistening. Moreover, they discovered that the hundreds of lights and lenses that illuminate the tunnel give off 27% more light after "GLASS WAX" cleaning.

Now the Holland Tunnel sparkles like your kitchen, protected by the famous "GLASS WAX" film that keeps surfaces clean longer.

6. Brightens tile and enamel bathroom fixtures as it cleans. Brings dazzling beauty without scrubbing, or scarring.

Economy, Variety of Uses Make Quart Size Popular

Experienced "GLASS WAX" users are elated to discover that so little of this cleaning marvel does so much. Not only does sparing use mean increased economy, but after-dust . . . the result of using too much "GLASS WAX" . . . is also eliminated.

Another important advantage is that "GLASS WAX" goes right on working for weeks after cleaning, by leaving its crystal-clear protective film to guard the glistening, immaculate finish from future soil and smudge.

"GLASS WAX" Saves Steps

By cleaning such a variety of surfaces—glass, metals, porcelain, plastic, and others—"GLASS WAX" saves hundreds of tiresome steps about the house. For "GLASS WAX" replaces the variety of cleansers formerly needed for household care, and lets the user carry only the one pink can, two cloths, from room to room. In addition, since "GLASS WAX" requires no water, furnishings may be cleaned where they are used, rather than lugged to and from the kitchen for washing.

Chemists Find 30 Kinds of Dirt on Glass

While developing "GLASS WAX," Gold Seal chemists collected and studied sample window panes from homes in many states. Analysis revealed 30 different kinds of dirt and discoloration.

- Greasy soot streaks and salt water minerals dirtied glass in eastern mill towns.
- Sticky pollens, lime dust and tars dulled midwestern windows.
- Stubborn silica deposits stole the gleam from southern and western panes.

Even minute amounts of certain rare minerals were found killing the sparkle of glass in some areas.

Gold Seal chemists found that "GLASS WAX" removed every one of the stubborn grimy films with one easy, streakless application!

Guarantee Backs "GLASS WAX"

Laboratory proof of "GLASS WAX" superior quality and results enables the Gold Seal Company to guarantee satisfaction to the user. If you are dissatisfied for any reason, your dealer will gladly refund the full purchase price upon receipt of the unused portion of "GLASS WAX."

The Woman's Angle By Ellen Miller

A MOST thought-provoking article appeared in a national magazine recently, stating that the entire social strata of the United States is being re-organized.

Henceforth, the article declared, men and women will be judged less by what they have (proper ancestors or money), or what they do, and more by the way they think. In other words, the social position in the nation will be determined on an intellectual level.

For convenience, the magazine classified everybody into low brow, middle brow and high brow groups. Because so many people are middle brows, that group was further sub-divided into upper and lower middle brow folks.

Lob brows and high brows have in common that they are very sure of what they want—but with a difference. High brows make their own standards of excellence . . . while low brows give no thought to "good taste" but want good, solid comfort.

Middle brow folks are unsure of what they want—the upper section will accept any trend coming into vogue among the high brows, while the lower middle brows want to wait until everybody has it.

For instance, when jazz was new in New Orleans and along the Mississippi river, it was a strictly low brow movement. The musicians and those who listened liked jazz because it made them feel good clear down to the marrow of their bones.

Then here came the high brows, who decided that this was genuine folk music, and therefore worthy of attention. Then the upper middle brows decided that if the high brows liked the music, it must be worthwhile. And eventually the lower middle brows decided that if everyone else liked Dixieland music, they should like it too . . . and the rhythm was here to stay.

WE DOUBT that the people who compile the social register will be much moved by this new theory . . . at least for awhile. But advertising men seem to recognize it.

And if any one is interested in testing the elevation of her own brow, reading advertising is the simplest way to do it.

If an ad implies that the product is the only one of its kind, it is probably for high brows. If it includes a testimonial from a New York debutante, it is for the upper middle brows. If the blurb implies that everybody else has it, and you should too, it is for lower middle brows. And if it says nothing about the product except that it is good, sturdy, comfortable stuff, it is for low brows who don't worry about fashion.

Could be.

Studio Program Presented Here For Movie Exhibitors Of Area

Movie exhibitors from throughout West Texas attended an all-day entertainment program presented here Thursday by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, on the occasion of the company's silver anniversary.

The program featured advance "trade showings" of two new M-G-M pictures, "The Stratton Story" and "The Secret Garden," and a luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

At the luncheon, more than 50 guests heard LeRoy Bickel, branch manager of M-G-M's Dallas office, state that a recent trip to company studios in California had convinced him that "we're in for at least two more years of good movies." He said that he felt future productions would measure up to a high standard established by past pictures of the studio.

Opinions Sought

Bickel heartily welcomed exhibitors and their wives who attended the local program.

"We're always anxious to get the first-hand reaction of the public to our pictures," he said, as he explained that at the afternoon showing of "The Secret Garden" all persons attending would be given "comment cards" on which to state their opinion of the film.

Also at the luncheon was V. L. Smith, West Texas representative of M-G-M with offices in Dallas.

The luncheon guests earlier had attended a showing of "The Stratton Story," a baseball story based on the life of Monty Stratton, former Lubbock Hubber manager. Showing of "The Secret Garden" was screened in the afternoon. Both movies were shown in the Plaza theatre.

Those attending included Ernest Lindsey of Lubbock, P. W. Cloud of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Anderson of Stanford, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ferguson of Hobbs, Mrs. John Stewart of Hobbs, Mr. H. H. Carlisle of Dimmitt, Mrs. J. L. Layton of Childress, R. J. Cordill of Childress, Mrs. Hertha Walker of Muleshoe, Mrs. M. Weller of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cook of Lubbock, Mrs. W. O. MOVIE OFFICIALS CONFER—V. L. Smith, Ernest Lindsey, and LeRoy Bickel, left to right above, were among a party of more than 50 movie exhibitors and studio officials who took part in Thursday's "A Day With M-G-M" program here. Both Smith and Bickel are representatives of the movie firm which was host for the event. Smith is West Texas representative for M-G-M, and Bickel is manager of the Dallas M-G-M branch. Lindsey is a partner in Lindsey Theaters, Inc., local theater chain. Thursday's program here was one of more than 100 staged across the nation in observance of M-G-M's 25th anniversary. Texans Observe San Jacinto Day

(By The Associated Press)

Texans celebrated the 113th anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto Thursday.

It was San Jacinto day, a legal holiday in Texas, a day set aside to remember the battle which gave Texas independence from Mexico.

Members of the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas took part in a day-long program near Houston under the tall spire of the monument on the San Jacinto battle ground.

Aggies Hold Muster

At College Station, as over the world where they could get together, Texas Aggies observed their annual Muster. San Antonio, site of that Texas shrine, the Alamo, paid a merry tribute with its Fiesta De San Jacinto.

For many employed in state and county offices and banks there was a day off. Some schools put on special San Jacinto Day programs. The legislature kept on working at Austin.

Drizzles dampened the ceremony at Houston and the fiesta at San Antonio. Hugh Roy Cullen, Houston oil man, spoke at the battleground ceremony.

San Antonio's fiesta hit a high spot Thursday in the selection of a queen.

Ed Killman, editor of The Houston Post, spoke to the annual San Jacinto Day luncheon of the Dallas County Historical society at Dallas.

Bitter 106-Day Battle Of Words' Finally Ends In Colorado As Legislators Adjourn

DENVER, April 21 (INS)—A hectic, 106-day "battle of words" at the Colorado capitol ended today and weary members of the state legislature headed homeward to reflect on their accomplishments or omissions.

The final meeting of the 37th General assembly came to an end in the early morning hours, after a session marked by bitter political wrangling between the Republican Senate and the Democrat-controlled House.

Three lengthy night sessions, plus an outbreak of name-calling and heated debate which approached the stage of physical combat, climaxed the endeavors of the Colorado lawmakers.

Police Intervene

In one instance, Denver police were called to the capitol to maintain order as Democrats and Republicans wrangled over a "stolen" bill.

Despite dissension which mainly followed party lines, the legislators reached agreement on appropriations totaling more than 50 million dollars, leaving a cushion of three million dollars or more in the general fund for 1951.

State institutions and agencies were granted the largest allocation of money in history, though budget requests were slashed.

The assembly also:

1—Approved two important water compacts — for the Arkansas river and the Colorado River upper basin.

2—Extended the higher state income tax rates originally proposed as an emergency plan by the 1947 assembly.

School Measure Approved

3—Approved a program for school consolidation.

4—Approved additional state aid for schools—amounting to 18 and one-half million dollars for the next biennium.

5—Increased workmen's compensation and unemployment benefits to a maximum of $22.75 a week.

6—Passed a program to reorganize all state agriculture functions into one department.

7—Increased salaries of state employes and abolished one agency —the division of aeronautics.

Toll Roads Authorized

8—Authorized construction of toll roads with 30 per cent financial backing by the state. (Specifically, a super highway between Denver and Boulder, to cost about $5,300,000.)

On some major points of legislation proposed by Democratic Gov. Lee Knous, the Republican Senate proved an immovable force.

Measures killed included the governor's four per cent severance tax on oil production; a bill to re-organize the State Highway department along lines suggested by the National Research council, and fair employment legislation.

Both the Highway department and the Game and Fish departments were investigated at length by the lawmakers, but no legislation to change practices of either department was adopted as a result.

Democrats and Republicans blamed each other for the shortcomings of the session. But both parties conceded the actions of the assembly will neither wreck the state nor cure all of its problems.

Excavation of Oklahoma's new football field is completed. Workmen have lowered the big rectangle seven feet from it's last year's level. Soon as a sub-surface drainage system is installed, the topsoil and Bermuda sod taken from the old field and stock-piled, will be replanted on the lowered field.

Suspect Held In Dallas Forgeries

DALLAS, April 21 (AP)—A 27-year-old timekeeper for a railroad was arrested today by police who identified him as a forger they had sought five years.

Henry Lemond, chief of the "hot check" department at police headquarters, estimated the young man had netted $25,000 or more from worthless checks presented to Dallas banks and stores in the period.

Lemond said the suspect was a timekeeper for the Texas & Pacific railroad. His operatives arrested the man at a parking lot this morning.

Rubber Stamps Used

The forger's technique was clever and fairly simple, Lemond said, and it followed one of two patterns.

"Number one was to pick the name of a fellow worker—say, for example—R. J. Doe. He would forge a check using almost but not quite, the identical name—say, J. R. Doe—and present it at a store," Lemond said.

"This was not his most lucrative operation, for most of these checks were small."

It was the banks who got the "heavy touches," Lemond said. He explained that the forger lifted rubber stamps from some companies, which he had duplicated with variations that only close examination would disclose, and had new stamps devised for bogus companies that were of his own invention.

'Tip' Leads To Arrest

Checks bearing these official-looking company stamps, Lemond said, were presented exclusively to banks, in sums ranging up to $500.

Lemond said his men found several rubber stamps and bank deposit books in the suspect's new-model automobile this morning, but the man protested that he was broke and the total of his various bank accounts came to $4.85.

"We don't know where the money went," said the officer, who admitted he would still be looking for a clue to the forger's identity save for an "inside" tip —presumably from a T & P fellow-worker of the suspect—yesterday.

Scientific Evidence Shows Cockroaches Able To Smell Color

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, April 21—Don't laught at the person who says he can smell colors.

Scientific evidence that cockroaches can smell black was presented to the American Philosophical society today. No other colors were tried, because this was not a study of the life of a cockroach, but of what smell really is.

Lamp Black Used

The roach work was presented by Dr. Walter R. Miles, professor of psychology, Yale university, and Lloyd H. Beck of Yale.

They placed large roaches in a cage, whose floor readily passed heat rays. The cage was hung half an inch above an aluminum checkerboard. There were inch wide squares of polished aluminum alternating with squares of lamp black.

The lamp black was a year old, and without smell. The cages were in total darkness. Roaches, crawling on the floor of the cage, half an inch above the checker board, concentrated directly above black squares. They were scarce above the aluminum.

The explanation is that heat, or infra-red rays, flowed out from the roach smellers toward the lamp black, because black absorbs heat. No such outflow occurred over the aluminum squares, because the aluminum reflects infra-red rays. The heat travelled from these shiny squares toward the insects smell organs, instead of away.

This supports Mr. Miles new theory that smell is partly a loss of heat from the organs of smell. He said the roaches actually smelled the black because of this nose heat loss whenever they got over a black square.

A sheet of glass, thick enough to stop heat rays, was placed between the checkerboard and cage, and then the roaches quit all signs of smelling the black color.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Experts See Danger Signs On Nation's Economic Horizon

By RAYMOND H. WILSON
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 21—Government and industrial economists agreed today that some danger signs have cropped up in the nation's economy.

They warned that the economic forces behind these signs could develop into a definite long-range threat to continued prosperity. Unless industry prepares to meet these forces, they said, the result might be declining production and unemployment.

Some "Clouds" Noted

Although the economists said the industrial outlook for the immediate future is good, they noted some clouds on the economic horizon in these developments:

1. The Agriculture department said farm income may drop as much as 10 per cent from the $17,400,000,000 of 1948, with production costs dropping only about five per cent.

2. The Labor department reported that the average factory wage dropped $1 a week last month to $53.37—one of the largest declines since the war. It also said that non-agricultural employment was off 150,000 for the month. Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said these developments had hurt the nation's purchasing power.

Business Loans Drop

3. In Pittsburgh, three coal and iron industrialists warned labor that there can be no fourth-round of wage increases this year because industry must lower costs to meet the return of competitive markets.

4. Federal Reserve board figures showed that business loans between mid-December and mid-April registered their sharpest decline since records have been kept.

Louis H. Bean, an Agriculture department economist, advised businessmen that they must change their present plans if the nation is to enjoy continued prosperity.

Speaking last night in New York, he said that the long-range economic outlook depends on two highly unstable factors--agricultural prices and industrial capital expenditures.

Steps must be taken, he said, to insure "that farm prices and income do not collapse under abundant production." Business, he added, should abandon its reported program of reducing its capital expenditures by 40 per cent in the next five years.

PITCHERS APPEAL

ST. ALBANS, Vt. (U.P.)—Eye-appeal rather than intrinsic value has been the basis of Mrs. Howard J. Johnson's collection of some 500 pitchers. Favorites among the pitchers she has collected in 18 years are two vessels shaped like busts of Winston Churchill and Neville Chamberlain.

Four French kings were born in the old Chateau of Fontainebleau, still standing near Paris.

Instrument To Detect Cancer Perfected At Columbia University

NEW YORK, April 21 (INS) — Columbia university announced today the development of a new instrument designed to detect cancer of the womb, second most common malignancy in women.

The university described it as a simple, cone-shaped curette which operates painlessly and requires only a three-minute examination.

Any general practioner can use it, Columbia said, and credited the instrument with having located cancerous lesions long before any other symptoms were evident.

The curette was designed by Dr. Saul B. Gusberg, obstretician and gynecologist at Columbia's College of Physicians and Surgeons.

It will be made available to doctors throughout the country within a few weeks.

Army Fliers Unable To Locate 'New' Texas Port Site On Maps

EL PASO, April 21 (AP)—Biggs field fliers today checked their maps and shook their heads.

They had been ordered to fly B29's over "Port Mansfield," in the Rio Grande valley Saturday. But they couldn't find it on the map.

The El Paso Times wondered, too, wiring the Associated Press: "need exact location of Port Mansfield or monument or whatever it is."

The answer is, Port Mansfield is a brand new port, 28 miles east of Raymondsville. A new turning basin connects it with the Intra-Costal canal. Formerly, Port Mansfield was known as Redfish Landing. It was renamed for the late U. S. Rep. Joseph J. Mansfield.

Saturday the port will be dedicated by Gov. Beauford H. Jester. The dedication will be a high point of Raymondsville's three-day onion fiesta, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

New Firm To Build Texas-Ohio Pipeline

CLEVELAND, April 21 (U.P.)—Organization of a company to construct and operate a 1000-mile crude oil pipeline from Texas to Ohio was announced here today.

William Kinsolving was chosen president of the newly formed Mid-Valley Pipeline corporation which was organized to build and maintain the pipeline from Longview, Tex., to Lima, O.

The line, for most of its 1000-mile length will be 22-inches in diameter and have a capacity at its Lima terminus of 140,000 barrels a day. The project includes construction of seven main pumping stations, two spur-line pumping stations and four terminals in addition to 1000 miles of pipe which will cross both the Mississippi and Ohio rivers.

The new pipeline will require an investment of $56,000,000 to be financed in equal part through stock purchases by the Standard Oil company and the Sun Oil company and by additional funds borrowed from banks and insurance companies, spokesmen said.

The proposed $56,000,000 pipeline will be one of the largest crude oil lines in the country and is scheduled for completion in 1951, officials said.

Confiscated Pinball Machine Parts Given To State Agencies

AUSTIN, April 21 (INS) — They say there's a use for everything and an Austin judge is doing everything he can to prove the axiom.

Confiscated one-ball marble machines are being put to use in state institutions in Austin rather than destroyed.

Judge Mace Thurman jr., of County Court-At-Law has ruled that the electrical equipment from a seized pinball machine from the University of Texas will be given to Texas School for the Blind.

The wooden cabinet will also be put to use at that institution.

Money found in the tables is turned into the county treasurer.

State law allows a judge to give machines to state agencies if they are not strictly gambling equipment. Written requests are necessary from such agency.

All parts of a machine are not given to any agency to avoid resurrection of the gambling mechanism.

Hubbers Absorb 18 To 3 Licking At Hands Of Clovis

Fowler Slams Long Homer

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Batting practice was enjoyed, literally, by the Clovis Pioneers last night at Rosenthal Field, Paul "Daffy" Dean's club lambasting four Hubber hurlers for 16 hits and an 18 to 3 victory.

The only bright spot in the night, from a Hubber standpoint, was Chick Fowler's home run over the centerfield fence in the fourth inning. That blow drove in all three Hubber tallies and kept them, momentarily, in the game.

No Hits After Fourth

But Mel Kramer, in his eleventh year in organized ball, was a pretty stingy gentleman last night. The Pioneer pitcher tightened after Charles Willis had reached him for a double in the fourth and let the Hubbers down without a hit over the remaining distance.

Kramer whiffed 11 batsmen last night and gave up only one walk, to Mike Dooley in the fifth. He was the only Hubber to reach base after the fourth frame. Kramer had a world of stuff last night, catching the corners repeatedly and having the Lubbock team eating out of his hand.

Mills Treated Roughly

Things weren't going so well with Hubber hurlers in the meantime. Southpaw Herby Pitts didn't have his usual control or stuff last night and the Pioneers began teeing off early. Jess Jacinto opened the game with a single, his only hit of the night, and from that point on it was Katie bar the gate.

Hubber hurlers hurt their own cause with nine bases on balls, while Clovis put together 16 hits, of which four were doubles and one a home run. Ray Bauer slammed the circuit clout in the sixth with two on, giving Royce Mills a rude greeting. Mills came in to take over Bob Covington's job with two on. After Bauer unloaded the sacks, Mills put out the fire.

Hubber Infield Performs

The game might as well have been called in the first inning, when Clovis pushed over four runs. The slaughter went like this: Jacinto singled to center. Jim Sinovick walked. Wiley Moore walked. Chuck Novotney plated two with a single to right. Bauer strolled. I. B. Palmer, only hitless Pioneer, flied to center to score Moore. And Earl skied to right to send Novotney home.

In only one inning did Clovis hits outnumber the runs, the second, when three hits, including a double, scored only one run. But the Hubbers could thank some sleepy Clovis baserunners for their failure to make more off their hits in that frame.

One reassuring factor last night was the Hubber infield, which came up with a pair of double plays. To offset that, Clovis pulled the ancient double steal in the second, with Sinovick scoring and Moore taking second.

Tonight Borger comes to town, with Cotton Russell, scheduled to chuck last night, taking the mound for the Hubbers.

Four Runs In Ninth Win For Red Sox

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP) — The Boston Red Sox "walked" to a 4-0 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics today to salvage the series final after dropping two games.

Phil Marchildon blew up in the ninth with two out as the Sox scored all their runs. Ted Williams single opened the frame but he was forced at second.

Marchildon then issued a pass to Bobby Doerr but appeared to be out of danger when he retired Stan Spence.

But the Philadelphia righthander gave successive walks to pinchhitter Bill Goodman and Birdie Tebbetts, forcing in one run. Mel Parnell, Boston pitcher, promptly singled two more home.

ST. LOUIS, April 21 (AP) — Two home runs, by Jack Graham and Dick Kokos, were the only hits off Steve Gromek as the Cleveland Indians trampled the St. Louis Browns 8-2 today.

The Cleveland extra-base assault included homers by Joe Gordon and Larry Doby, the latter's coming with two on base.

LUBBOCK WINNER PAST FIVE YEARS

Region One Track And Field Meet Will Qualify 80 Boys For State

If it sounds as if a battle is going on at Texas Tech Saturday morning, the shots will only be those fired by the starter at the Region One Texas Interscholastic league track and field meet.

With 18 districts represented in the meet, more athletes will be attracted than at any other time this year. And the South Plains Relays had more than 325 entrants.

Preliminaries get underway at 9 a. m., and the finals start at 1 p. m. with three separate divisions represented. Finals in AA, A, and B will be run off in each event in that order. The first two places in each event will qualify for the state meet in Austin May 6-7. Approximately 700 athletes are expected for the big show from nine TIL regions over the state. The Region One should provide approximately 80 boys.

Lubbock, which has capitalized the team honors for five years, is not expected to win this year, but some of the team members should be in the runner-up spots.

The Westerners have been undergoing little practice this week because of the soggy condition of the track at Chapman field, but Thursday the boys managed to warm up slightly.

Preliminary events and the finals will be run at Tech, and a charge of 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children will be made for the finals.

The Region One records follow:

120-yard high hurdles: Howton, Plainview. Time 14.3.

100-yard dash: Mayes, Pampa. Time 10.

440-yard dash: J. Johnson, Lubbock. Time 52.6.

200-yard low hurdles: Howton, Plainview. Time 22.5.

440-yard relay: Pampa (Keith, Wilson, Davis, Mayes). Time 44.1.

Shot-put: Curry, Lubbock. Distance 46 feet, 9 inches.

880-yard run: T. Rogers, Childress. Time 2:07.6.

Pole Vault: Davis, Lubbock. Height 10 feet, 6 inches.

220-yard dash: Mayes, Pampa. Time 21.5.

Hartung's Four-Hit Mound Work Wins

BROOKLYN, April 21 (AP) — Overhauled by Manager Leo Durocher, the New York Giants finally stopped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-1, today behind Texas Clint Hartung's steady four-hit pitching.

A pair of two-run homers by Sid Gordon and Mickey Livingston brought the Giants from behind after they had been blanked for five innings by Preacher Roe.

Gordon, switched from third base to right field, smacked his four-bagger into the upper left field stands in the sixth after Bobby Rhawn had walked.

Livingston, catching for the Giants in place of Walker Cooper, duplicated the stunt in the seventh frame, scoring behind Jack Lohrke.

Best Keglers In State Expected

Bowling Tourney Set To Begin Saturday

Some of the best bowlers in the state will pass through Lubbock Bowling club before the fifth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling tournament is completed in slightly more than three weeks.

Scheduled to begin Saturday with team matches at 5 p. m. the tourney will last three weekends and be completed May 8 with the final singles and doubles games. All team play will be played on Saturday of the three weekends, and doubles and singles will be rolled on Sundays.

Ben Brown Entered

Seventy-two teams will participate in the kegling tourney and all pin-toppling will be done at Lubbock Bowling club. E. A. Christensen has been working for many weeks to get the tournament organized and the weekend schedules completed, and he has finally finished the job. But keeping the tournament moving along on schedule will be another big headache.

One of the better bowlers from Lubbock will be Ben Brown, Texas Tech student. The slender kegler has bowled 289 scores on two different occasions in city league competition, and he has posted several 700 series in the leagues. It could be said that he is working his way through college splintering wood for Brown has placed in the money in several tournaments recently.

Three Divisions

The trophies will be presented by The Avalanche-Journal, sponsor of the tournament, and 10 such trophies will go to various winners. The bowlers are divided in three divisions—A, B, and C. The better bowlers go in the A division; those with averages from 150-170 in the second bracket; and those with averages below 150 are in Class C.

Three winners will be named in each division—team, doubles, and singles. An all-events winner will also be recognized. The aggregate score from team, doubles, and singles will go into the all-events score. In addition to the trophies money prizes will go to the top bowlers in each event, but the amount of the prizes have not been made known.

Seeded Netmen Lose At Houston

HOUSTON, April 21. (AP)—Two seeded players were eliminated today as eight nationally known stars moved into the quarter-finals of the River Oaks Tennis tournament.

Byran (Bitsy) Grant, Atlanta Ga., vetcran, and former Davis Cup player, upset Art Larsen San Francisco. Irvin Dorfman, New York City, defeated Nick Carter, also of San Francisco.

Larsen and Carter had been seeded seventh and eight. Grant, three times a River Oaks champion, was unseeded.

Most other favorites won their fourth round matches with ease.

Joining Grant and Dorfman in tomorrow's quarter finals are Richard (Pancho) Gonzales national champion from Los Angeles; Ted Schroeder Las Crescenta, Calif.; Bill Talbert, Wilmington, Del.; Bob Falkenburg, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Sam Match, Los Angeles, and Earl Cochell, San Francisco.

Grant lost the first set to Larsen, 4-6, but rallied beautifully against his younger opponent to keep the second and third sets 6-3, 6-4.

Dorfman was in the lead most of the way while defeating Carter, 6-4, 6-3.

Gonzales, holder of the national championships for clay indoor and grass courts, ran into more trouble than exected before defeating Bobby Curtis, Denver, Colo., 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Westerners Take Baseball Opener, Downing Plainview 11 To 6

Thirteen Errors Spoil Six Hit Pitching Of Hamilton, Howton

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lubbock High School's Westerners defeated Plainview, 11-6, Thursday in the first District 1-AA baseball contest for the locals.

Pitcher Jimmy Hamilton turned in a steady performance on the mound for the Westerners after giving up two walks and a hit in the first inning. He allowed a total of six hits while striking out eight and walking only two. J. Howton was the losing pitcher, and he also allowed six safeties.

Errors afield kept both teams in hot water throughout the game, but Lubbock, got the edge in the second inning when they scored six runs on three hits and four miscues by the visiting Bulldog nine. And from that point they were never threatened.

The game was poorly played, and sloppy fielding marred what could have been a tight ball game since both teams had the same number of hits. The Plainview pitcher whiffed five Westerner batters.

A home run in the seventh inning by Howton into left-center field highlighted the hitting. His blow came with teammate Randall Cooper on base, but the next man flied out to Garnet Reeves to end the inning and the game. The long hit traveled on the ground all the way, scooting through shortstop and through the hole in the field.

Charles Galey slammed a triple into left-center field in the second inning with no one on base and two outs. Neil Sikes walked, but Morris Turner struck out to end the inning.

Hitting was led by the Bulldogs' John Long with two hits in three trips to the plate, and no Westerner got more than one hit.

In the big second inning the Westerners batted around. Scoring runs were Sikes, Turner, James Burgess, Reeves, Hamilton and Bobby Brown.

Brown knocked in Burgess and Reeves with a single into center field and the other runs came on errors and one run walked in.

The Westerners are scheduled to play a doubleheader with Brownfield today at Chapman field diamond, beginning at 3:15 p. m.

The Westerners played without the services of Jimmy Sexton, center fielder, who was sidelined because of illness, and Powell Hinson did not start the game for the same reason. However in the sixth innin., Hinson relieved Sikes at third base and finished the game.

Very few hits went into the field, and most of them were scratch hits over the heads of the infielders.

A costly fielding error by Dale Scott in the third inning cost Plainview two runs. Reeves and Brown got on base on error, and with two outs Richards hit a long fly ball to left-center field which Scott missed, and the two runs crossed the plate.

Morris Turner turned in a good game at catcher for the Westerners, as did Hamilton on the mound, Fullerton at first base, Galey at second, and Brown at shortstop.

Starters today will probably be Richards and Lefty Bennie Day on the mound for Lubbock. Both games will be seven-inning tilts.

Wilcox Optioned To Kilgore Nine

Jackie Wilcox, regular Hubber shortstop last year, yesterday afternoon was optioned to Kilgore of the East Texas league subject to recall.

Wilcox, a veteran, had been taken off the active playing list on the eve of the opener last night. He was one of four veterans on the squad that had to be disposed of to get down to the West Texas - New Mexico league's playing limit of six veterans.

WILCOX

Lloyd Pearson, a veteran outfielder, was held over an additional day pending investigation of Al Duarte's leg condition. Had Duarte been found in no shape to play for the next few days, Pearson would have been placed on the active list. He will leave in the morning for Corpus Christi, to whom he has been optioned by the Hubbers.

John Alvis, who did not report last year and was placed on the restricted list, yesterday was reinstated at the request of the Hubbers. At the same time, Alvis was given his unconditional release. He was a third baseman.

Duarte was examined yesterday by the club physician, Dr. J. H. Stiles, who said that the outfielder should be ready to play again in three days. X-ray pictures disclosed that the ankle break of last year is healed thoroughly and that light exercise is all Duarte needs.

Joe Wisniewski, outfielder, is making rapid strides toward recovering from his flu and should be discharged from the hospital within the next three or four days.

George Schepps, Hubber general manager, yesterday was informed that the vote taken by the league to raise the veteran limit failed to produce a majority. As a result, the Hubbers can retain only six veteran players.

Qualifying Rounds To Begin In Houston Brae Burn Tourney

HOUSTON, April 21 (U.P.)—Qualifying play starts today in the seventh annual Brae Burn Country club golf tournament with defending champion Wilford Wehrle of Louisville, Ky., expected to be hard pressed to keep his title.

A fast field of Houston amateurs and others from throughout Texas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma will seek the 32 championship flight berths in today's medal round.

In the early spring more than 20,000,000 young tomato plants raised in southern Georgia are shipped by air and rail express to widely scattered regions throughout the United States for replanting, according to Railway Express.

If natural controls keep their number down, grasshoppers do little harm.

The 20,000 lineside gardens bordering British Railways, averaging 1/16 of an acre each, report a record crop for 1948, having raised over one million dollars worth of vegetables.

Approximately 30,000,000 automobiles are owned by about 29,000,000 families in the United States.

FISH STORY—WITH PROOF—Pictured above are members of a Lubbock fishing party who returned Saturday from Sugar Lake, Mexico, 35 miles south of Roma, Tex., with 225 pounds of channel catfish caught on a four-day fishing trip to the Mexican lake. Johnny Mize Keeps In Marvelous Condition Because Of Rigid Self Discipline He Obeys

By JOE KING
NEA Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) — Lon Warneke, the new National League umpire who is breaking in with the Giants, remarked that John Mize kept in marvelous shape for a man of his size, and that it could hardly be an easy job to do.

Not easy at all, unless you are Mize and have many years of self-discipline behind you. As you might suspect, the recipe is a strict diet and lots of running.

Mize weighs in at 235 each day, and scales about 229-230 after his workout. If he ate what he liked he would balloon up to 250 and out of the league, in a short while.

Johnny takes only two meals.

At breakfast he drinks a large glass of citrus juice, eats three soft-boiled eggs, and has coffee with cream but no sugar.

At night, say about 7:00 p.m., Mize orders roast beef or steak, sometimes with a baked potato, and iced tea and lemon. He never eats dessert, soup, bread and butter, sugar or fried foods.

So you can see it takes willpower to be a homer king at 36.

Frank Bowman, club trainer, claims Mize is just about down to playing weight now, and that he is in better shape—regarding suet-shedding—than some of the younger men.

Meets Ball In Training

Johnny hopes to put this fighting weight to use in breaking the two-year home run tie he holds with Ralph Kiner.

"I would like to go for homers," he says, "unless the pitchers all pitch me outside, and then I have to go with them. There is no percentage trying to pull outside pitching."

Mize tries only to meet the ball in training.

When the season opens he likes to feel that he is ready to "handle the ball," that is, put wood to it and come around on it.

John uses a 36-ounce bat most of the season but he has stowed six of his best 33-35-ounce models of '48 at his De Leon Springs home in Florida.

The lighter bats are used against extremely speedy pitchers, or in intense heat when muscles drag, or in the second games of double-headers.

Mize is eager to hook up with the Indians to see how well Joe Gordon and Ken Keltner retained the tips he gave them a year ago, and which may have helped in their '48 averages.

"Both had a very common fault," Mize revealed.

"When they ducked away from inside pitches they would turn their back to the pitcher, and twist toward the catcher. Well, they couldn't see the ball from that position.

"I got them to duck outward, so they could get away from the ball without losing sight of it. Then, if it did curve in over the plate, they could swipe at it and at least foul it off.

"A little habit, like that can make a whale of a difference in the season."

Mize will pass the 300 mark when he hits his third homer this season.

Kansas Relays To Begin Today

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 21 (U.P.) — A fine field of track and field stars will compete in the Twenty-fourth annual Kansas Relays here Friday and Saturday. The bulk of the events are due for Saturday afternoon.

Power And Speed

A total of 304 athletes from 20 universities, another 355 from 28 colleges, and 65 from nine junior colleges round out the weekend field.

It was a field with power and speed and five relays records appeared to be under heavy pressure. Those marks are in the university two-mile relay, the college class sprint medley relay and the pole vault, discus throw and mile run.

No less than four 14-foot vaulters will shoot at the 14-feet 2-inch record for the meet here, set by Beefus Bryan of Texas 10 years ago.

Mile Run Strong

In the mile run there will be Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin, who has been hitting under the current meet mark of 4:10.1 set in 1940 by Blaine Rideout of North Texas State. Jerry Thompson, former Texas runner, will compete unattached in the mile and he should push Gehrmann.

The field includes 15 of last year's 21 relays champions in the university and colleges classes. Among those returning champions are four individuals—Cy Perkins, Illinois AAC, in the mile; George Kallas, Wisconsin, broad jump; Bateman and Cooper in the pole vault, and Frank Guess, Texas, javelin.

Lamesa Scores Seven Runs In First

Dukes Edge Lamesa In Wild, 8-7 Game

LAMESA, April 21. (Special)—The Albuquerque Dukes evened the two game series here today with the Lamesa Loboes, winning an 8-7 victory over the local nine in a West Texas-New Mexico league game.

After scoring seven runs in the first inning on three singles and seven walks, the Loboes could not find the range as Marv Christensen took over the Duke mound duties and handcuffed Lamesa. He retired the batters in order four straight innings. The relief pitching of the 19-year-old rookie righthander was the whole show.

Albuquerque scored its tying runs in the sixth inning, and both were unearned. Albuquerque made two hits, and two errors by Shortstop Walter Buckel and Manager J. Haney, center fielder, allowed the runs to score. Haney dropped an easy fly ball which would have been the third out but instead allowed the run to cross home plate which tied the game.

Frank Okrie, shortstop, scored the winning run in the seventh after leading off with a double. He went to third on an infield out and came home after Len Attyd flied to left field.

Larry Williams was the losing pitcher for Lamesa, and he gave up two hits for one run in three innings. Haney was the hero and the goat of the ball game. He dropped an easy fly ball, but in the third inning he made a sensational catch of Dave Steger's long drive in left-center field to aid the Lobo cause. Haney injured his right hand in the fifth going after a fly ball when he crashed into the fence.

A homer by Allen Maul, Duke first baseman, was the longest blow of the day, and it was one of two hits he got. The other was a double. He hit his homer with one on.

Leading Lamesa hitting was E. Mellilo with two hits in five trips to the plate.

Clifford McClain, Duke right fielder, was ejected from the game in the sixth by base umpire Fisher after he argued that rightfielder Rheingans trapped instead of catching his line drive to right field.

Tomorrow the Loboes play Amarillo with game time at 8 p. m. Lefty Bill Jones will pitch the first of a two-game series for Lamesa. A crowd of 400 attended the afternoon game today which was played in ideal baseball weather.

The official attendance at the opener Wednesday was 1,717.

Texas University Downs A&M In SWC Baseball Game, 14-4

AUSTIN, April 21. (AP) — Texas battered two Aggie pitchers for 15 hits today as Tom Hamilton led the Longhorns to a 14-4 victory over A&M.

Hamilton banged out a home run and three singles while Murray Wall pitched 10-hit ball for the Longhorns. Wall, winning his fourth Southwest conference game as Texas remained unbeaten had a five-hitter going into the ninth.

Hamilton lofted his three-run homer over the right field fence in the first inning, hitting the first pitch he saw off lefty Bruce Morisse. In the third inning Texas batted around and scored eight more runs off Morissee via five singles, a double by Jim Shamblin and a triple by Bob Brock.

Two Defense Witnesses Claim McGee Insane; Trial Continues

related, he signed papers committing McGee to the VA mental hospital at Waco for a 90-day observation period. The boy was released at the end of that period.

Talked To McGee Here

Dr. White next saw McGee on March 6, 1949, when he was called here by Attorney Burks to make an examination of the boy's mental condition.

"He was insane in my opinion at the time of that examination," Dr. White declared.

Dr. White further stated that McGee's peculiar type of insanity is known as "schizophrenia" or split-personality. When asked by Special Prosecutor George Dupree to further clarify the term, White said persons so affected had delusions of grandeur, divided and disconnected activities and in general were not wholly competent in their behavior.

Attorney Dupree asked the specialist if he was assuming a lot when he based his opinions on a single examination of three hours duration. Dr. White said he was able to get enough data from such an interview and from the records to show that, "in my opinion the boy has been progressively insane since he was quite young."

"He is incurably ill in his mind and in my opinion he will grow steadily worse. There is no cure for him," Dr. White asserted.

Opinion Is Given

To most of the questions put by the state in their cross-examination, Dr. White gave a single stock answer that McGee might have been sane except "where he was under the influence of his delusions." This answer was repeated to a score of questions without variation.

Dr. Stephens was only on the stand for a few minutes. He too made a positive statement that McGee was insane and that in his opinion the boy had always been "abnormal."

Dr. Stephens said that years ago in Borger the boy's mother, Mrs. H. H. Stull, had come to him seeking help in getting the boy adjusted to a normal way of life. He cited such incidents as running away from home, camping out in the canyon and fits of anger as signs of the boy's insanity. These were not in his opinion "normal."

Was Adjudged Sane

"In 1942," Dr. Stephens said, "a sanity trial was held at Stinnett during which I testified that the boys was insane and should be committed to an institution."

McGee was acquitted at this trial and adjudged sane. At that trial young McGee was making every effort to prove himself sane, it was brought out.

Dr. Stephens then said that he had warned everyone at the time they would be doing the wrong thing in letting Richard go free.

Other witnesses called during the afternoon by the state just before they rested were Aubrey White and Sgt. Bill Sterzing, both of the Austin police force at the time McGee was arrested the day following the killing. Det. Capt. Pat Davidson and Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank, Lubbock, also took the stand briefly to testify that they had brought McGee back to Lubbock. During the seven hour ride back, they said, McGee was rational at all times and in a friendly and talkative mood.

During the questioning of Sgt. Sterzing, the attorneys for both sides clashed over the method of questioning and the type of testimony that was being brought to light. Col. Simpson objected to questioning on the use of liquor by McGee. Croslin pointed out that the questions had to be asked to bring out a matter of "condition." Burk then objected to "leading questions" on the matter of drinking. At one time the argument was quite heated and Judge Blair warned both sides that they would have to proceed along legal lines and refrain from clashing.

During the morning the state called eight other witnesses.

The first to be called was the widow, Mrs. Ethel Allston. Her testimony was substantially the same as that of her daughter which was given yesterday. The victim's mother, 70-year-old Mrs. W. M. Allston, was next on the stand. She told the jury and the court of hearing the conversation between McGee and her son which preceded the slaying.

Standing At Kitchen Door

The two men were standing at the kitchen door of the Allston home, she said. McGee stated that he wanted to see Betty Jane, with whom he had been keeping company.

"I don't want you to see Betty Jane anymore," Mr. Allston said.

"Does that mean that I am through?" Richard asked.

"Yes, Richard it does," Allston replied. It was then that the shot was fired and the wounded man staggered into his living room and slumped into a chair.

Both women stated that the victim was bleeding profusely at the time and that they were hysterical. In addition to the victim, the mother and the widow, Sue Allston, 14, the younger daughter, was also present at the dining table.

Revolver Is Identified

B. H. Beaird, owner and manager of Beaird's Loan Shop on Broadway, and Blanche Kligman, 19, 3215 Twenty-seventh, who was employed by Beaird about the time of the shooting, both identified the revolver which the state introduced as the murder weapon.

Miss Kligman identified Richard McGee as the man who had come into the loan shop on July 6, 1948 to look over some guns. Beaird identified him as the man who came in on the following day and made the purchase. The record of the sale was introduced as evidence.

The gun, an Ivor-Johnson .38 calibre revolver, number 87666, was entered as a state exhibit over the objections of the defense attorneys who stated that they were not going to deny that it was the weapon or that McGee was the man who fired the shot that killed Allston.

The courtroom was crowded by spectators who brought along babies, popcorn and magazines. Several times Judge Dan Blair threatened to clear the 72nd District court room if the audience did not refrain from laughter or comment on the testimony.

Two Texas Tech students, O. B. Freeman, jr., Sweetwater, and Max Sturdivant, Abilene, told the jury that McGee had approached them on the day of shooting at a time which was just after the act was alleged to have been committed and requested transportation to Levelland. They told him they had to go to class and could not leave town. Neither had seen McGee before or since that time.

Student Tells Story

Bill Garrett, 24 year-old Texas Tech student who is also employed at the Hilton hotel, next told the court how he had been forced at gun-point to drive McGee to Brownfield. He described McGee's dress at the time which conformed to the testimony given by all other witnesses.

Garrett said that McGee told him all about his affairs with Betty Jane Allston and how the parents had disapproved of the marriage plans of the two. Garrett said McGee had no hesitancy of giving names and places and even described how he had shot Allston.

When it was necessary to get gasoline for the car, McGee ordered Garrett to pull into a filling station and remain in the car.

Gun Trained On Him

"Don't try to be a movie hero," McGee is alleged to have said. "If you do I'll plug you." Garrett said he kept the gun trained on him at all times even though he spoke friendly enough. Garrett admitted he feared for his life during most of the ride and when McGee left him in Brownfield he said he was so nervous he couldn't call the police.

The final witness in the morning session was Roy Cates, Austin police officer, who was one of three who apprehended McGee on a city bus and arrested him. At the time he was carrying a loaded revolver in a holster under his left arm and next to his skin.

Judge Blair adjourned court at 5:46 to reconvene at 9 this morning.

News Briefs

Uncertain weather conditions have forced postponement of the Boy Scout Camporee and Eagle Court of Honor scheduled today and Saturday at Mackenzie State park, W. R. Postma, Scout executive, announced Thursday. The event will be held May 6-7 at the park, Postma said. Representatives of all Lubbock county troops will participate.

J. A. Fortenberry, of Levelland road, prominent Lubbock business man, late last night was in critical condition in Lubbock Memorial hospital, a hospital attendant reported. He entered the hospital April 4 after suffering a heart attack. Lung complications later set in, and several days later, he suffered another heart attack.

be spared civil disturbance or military assault.

River Blockaded

Citizens not prepared for such an emergency should leave while "normal commercial transportation is available."

The embassy noted that the river is blockaded; that an American naval vessel cannot be stationed at Nanking; and that all Marine guards at the embassy have been removed to Shanghai except for six inside.

The latest Communist crossing of the Yangtze was reported by ministry of national defense sources at about 25 miles east of Nanking. There were no other details.

This apparently-doomed Nationalist capital could hear artillery fire and see fires across the river on the north bank, where the Reds gained new, threatening footholds.

Government Officials Flee

The skies over Nanking roared most of the night with the passage of transport planes, taking government officials to refuges in the south.

Four British warships had been drawn involuntarily into the great battle of the Yangtze. The cruiser London, destroyer Consort and sloops Amethyst and Black Swan all were damaged and had 42 dead from persistent fire by heavy Red artillery.

The Chinese government officially announced that the Legislative Yuan and other government branches were moving tonight to Canton and Kweilin and the island of Formosa, while the defense ministry and the presidential office were going to Shanghai.

Fiery Command Broadcast

It was not disclosed whether acting President Li Tsung-Jen also would flee, but it was believed he might stay on in Nanking a while longer.

From Peiping the Communists broadcast a fiery order of the day by Chairman Mao Tze-Tung and Gen. Chu Teh, Red commander-in-chief.

It charged the government with bad faith and told the Communist armies to "annihilate" anyone who dared to resist, "liberate the people of the whole country' and try to capture Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek alive.

Official sources in Nanking disclosed that 37 of the 43 U. S. Marine guards at the U. S. embassy were being flown out to Shanghai.

South Africa's recent ban on imports of cosmetics may cause the biggest black market the Union has ever wnown, observers in Johannesburg predict.

Two modern kitchens, one equipped with gas implements and the other with electricity, will be featured by homemaking students. A style show in which high school students of this area will model clothes they have made in class will be given Saturday. Tech students will act as commentators for the style show.

Two other movies, one on "Saving Steps in the kitchen," and the other entitled, "Freezing Fruits and Vegetables at Home," are also on today's program. The films will be shown in annex G beginning at 4 p.m.

Late visitors will be able to see all of the exhibits and demonstrations as the doors for both events will remain open until 10 p.m. Both the open house and the Engineering Show will continue through 10 p.m. Saturday.

David Pinkston, an employe of the station for the past two years, has been named temporarily in charge, it was said. Smith said he had no immediate plans for the future.

Yangtze River Duel

Chinese government gunboats were not 200 yards away at the time.

They said the gunboats were not fired upon and did not fire a shot themselves.

The cruiser arrived in Shanghai with 12 large holes in her hull. She was scarred by shrapnel and machinegun fire. Aboard were 15 dead and 20 wounded.

Meanwhile, a British embassy representative was reported trying to make contact with the Communists near Pengpu, across the Yangtze from Nanking. He hopes to obtain a cease fire long enough to rescue the Amethyst.

The British consulate announced the London, a 10,000-ton cruiser with eight 8-inch guns, had withdrawn, "as all signs of peaceful intent have been disregarded and heavy fire opened from batteries near Bates Point and on the southern end of Beaver island (both in the near vicinity of the Amethyst).

"This fire was effectively replied to, but under such conditions it was clearly impossible to bring the Amethyst down river."

Aboard the London was Vice Adm. A. C. G. Madden.

The London had 15 dead and 20 wounded; the Black Swan five wounded; the Consort 10 dead and 16 wounded; and the Amethyst 17 dead and an undetermined number of wounded estimated at more than 40.

The only aid that has reached the Amethyst since the sudden attack Wednesday morning was a doctor put aboard today by a Royal Air Force flying boat.

The British embassy in Nanking announced that a U.S. Navy doctor, Lt. Cmdr. James W. Packard, and the British assistant navy and military attaches, Lt. Cmdr. J. S. Kerans and K. V. Deware-Durie were trying to reach some of the Amethyst wounded, believed to have been put ashore somewhere near Rose island. These officers left Nanking with a jeepload of medical supplies.

It also announced that Edward Youde, first secretary of the embassy had volunteered to cross to the north bank opposite Nanking and try to get the Reds to stop firing. A previous attempt to get a cease-fire through Pieping got no response.

(A communique issued in London early Friday morning said previously grounded Amethyst "has now moved up the river to get clear of shore batteries and has anchored off Chang Sang Chau island just before moonrise. All the badly wounded have been landed.")

Two Suffer Minor Injuries In Auto Collision In City

No serious injuries were received in a two-car collision in 3200-block Nineteenth about 8:45 p.m. Thursday. A light 1939 vehicle driven by Edward Leverett Payne, 44, of 3711 Twenty-first, and a 1949 Mercury automobile driven by Donal Latimer Hamill, 18, of Levelland route 2, were badly damaged, investigating officers of the Texas Highway patrol reported. The Highway patrol said that Payne was driving west on Nineteenth street and attempted to turn off the street onto a side avenue. The lights of oncoming cars apparently blinded him, and he turned in front of the heavy automobile driven by Hamill.

The Hamill vehicle hit Payne's car on the right front, the impact causing Payne's car to turn completely around from its original direction.

The drivers were treated for minor scratches and bruises at Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Two Air Force Airmen Are Killed In Crash Near Austin

AUSTIN, April 21. (AP) — Two Air Force pilots were killed today when their Mustang fighter plane crashed and exploded about 12 miles northwest of here.

Bergstrom field officials identified the pilot as Capt. Orrin D. Rawlings, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Rawlings of DePue, Ill.,

Slaton Man Charged

Mrs. Ruby Bomar of 1623 Eighteenth and the taking of a $52 wrist watch and clothing valued at $8 was reported to police late Thursday. Entrance to the house was through the front door which was not locked, she indicated.

Melvin Dean Barton, 24, of two miles northwest of Pep, was released from county jail to custody of Terry county officers Thursday afternoon, so that he may face trial of a forgery charge filed in Brownfield.

Barton is under two forgery indictments here, the sheriff's department said.

He was arrested March 22 after an area-wide hunt for a person fitting his description who had purchased by worthless checks ranging as high a $2,500 a quantity of farm implements and other goods.

Cookies Reported Stolen

He will be returned for trial here after Terry county officials have disposed of his case there, it was explained.

Theft of two electric drills, total value $57.87, from the truck of R. C. Hay of 1807 Sixth was reported Thursday to police.

Ten dollars worth of assorted cookies was stolen from the truck of John Siebole of 2003 Tenth Wednesday night when the truck was parked at the baseball park, officials were informed.

A bike valued at $20 was reported stolen from Billy Simpson of 1403 Ave. E.

Police said Homer Harrison and Doyle Clark, patrolmen, arrested a 22-year-old business student upon request of Chief of Police Jack Peabody of Memphis, who telephoned Lubbock police that his department would accept custody today. The charge, Chief Peabody said, is theft of a bicycle.

Racer Is Stolen

Theft of a Soap Box derby racer from 2910 North Second was reported Thursday to the police department by Mrs. Hugh Busby.

The small vehicle was described as having a flat bed, red wheels and no steering gear. Presumably it was being readied for the approaching derby here.

Beaumont Cooley of West Hall, Texas Tech, reported theft of two hub caps.

A rear door of State theater, at 1316 Texas Ave., was pried open sometime Wednesday night, police were informed. George Hall and Pete Hubbard, patrolmen, investigated. Nothing apparently had been taken from the theater, they said.

Housing Bill Okayed

federal grants to rundown farms for such improvements as modern toilets and roof repairs.)

Drop Segregation Ban

Earlier in the day the Senate rejected, 49 to 31, a proposal to bar segregation on the basis of race, creed or color in the renting of public housing.

It was sponsored by Senators Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash), who also offered unsuccessfully a sheaf of other amendments.

The fight against the Bricker amendment was led by advocates of President Truman's civil rights program. They said they regarded the amendment as a move to kill the housing bill.

On the other hand, those for the amendment said it provided an opportunity for those really in favor of civil rights to demonstrate it.

Several amendments were adopted. Senator Taft won acceptance of one limiting to 200,000 the number of subsidized housing units that could be built in one year. He said the bill would have permitted 250,000 a year. He expressed concern that completing the program too quickly would "take supplies and labor away from private builders."

Sens. Connally and Johnson of Texas and the six senators from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana all voted against the amendment.

Under the proposal, discrimination or segregation on the basis of race, creed or color would have been prohibited by law in the renting of public housing.

Members Of 707th Air Force Reserve Squadron Hold Meet

The 707th Bomb Squadron reserve met Thursday night with over 70 attending, Capt. Cecil E. Jennings, assistant operations officer, reported.

Capt. Jennings announced that paychecks are now coming through and an expansion program for the squadron is set to get under way.

Training flights are now being made, and it is expected that activity will be stepped up if the air base at Lubbock is re-activated, Capt. Jennings said.

Lubbock Club Hears Financial Discussion By New York Expert

Harry C. France of New York City, investment counselor, last night told members of Lubbock Knife and Fork club that "money has become a problem in America; it is like a good boy who develops bad habits."

The occasion was the regular monthly dinner meeting of the club, held in Hilton hotel.

France explained that these "bad habits" that money has acquired are inflationary and deflationary forces, which, he said, can easily engulf the United States unless carefully forestalled.

'Panics' Largely Eliminated

In reviewing briefly the economic history of the United States, France said that yesteryear's "money panics" have largely been eliminated since the passage of the Federal Reserve act and establishment of Federal Reserve banks. The Federal Reserve act and the banks provided therein "gave us an elastic currency," he said.

He pointed out, however, that in 1930, "the United States government spent a great deal more money than it took in," and that it continued this practice for sixteen consecutive years.

France declared that "the United States has been borrowing and borrowing," with the result that future generations will have an "economic heritage" that is not pleasant to contemplate.

Danger To Incentive Cited

"Today we are spending more in Washington than everybody in the United States made 30 years ago," he said, adding that "present tax schedules are killing incentive." France pointed out that "when you kill incentive, you kill everything."

In a brighter vein, the speaker said that the three big types of money today are, first, currency in circulation, or "floating money." He pointed out that in 1929, four billion dollars in floating currency was in circulation, while 28 million dollars is in circulation at present.

A second type of money, he said, is checking account money, of which 85 billion dollars worth is in circulation at present, as contrasted with 22 billion in circulation in 1929. A third type of money is Series E bonds, which was not in existence 20 years ago. Some 30 billions of dollars are in such bonds today, he said.

Prosperity Period Seen

"Add it up and you have a pile of money that will promote the greatest period of prosperity ever in the United States," the speaker said.

At last night's meeting, Lubbock Knife and Fork club members elected three new directors to replace as many whose terms are expiring this year. Elected were Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Dr. A. G. Barsh, and Dr. H. I, Robinson. They will replace Mrs. R. B. Luker, Dr. R. E. Garlin, and Cecil Cale.

The speaker last night was introduced by James L. Quicksall.

Filibuster Ends

quirement was written into the bill that the University of Texas would offer all the basic science cources required, and completion of 60 semester hours of college work including those courses would exempt anyone from taking the examination.

An amendment by Senator Searcy Bracewell of Houston to that effect was adopted by a voice vote as the filibuster collapsed.

The basic science bill would require all practitioners of the healing arts to pass examinations in six basic sciences before they could be licensed.

Victory Is Claimed

Filibustering forces claimed the compromise was a major victory for them.

Basic science bill backers previously had refused to give any quarter. The provision requiring the University of Texas to offer the courses was virtually the same as one which proponents turned down yesterday.

Three shifts of opponents had carried on the filibustering which held the Senate in session since 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. It was definitely the longest filibuster of the 51st legislature and oldtimers could not remember a longer one in recent Texas legislative history.

Senator Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo took up the talk against the bill at 4 p.m.

Set For Long Talk

He offered an amendment requiring the board of examiners to be made up of three practitioners from each of the healing arts. Those taking examinations would take them from board members from the branch of the healing arts they wished to practice.

"This is entirely fair," Hardeman declared. "By actions of the proponents of this bill on this amendment we will ferret out the real purpose of this bill."

Then Hardeman set in for extended discussion.

Senator Hill D. Hudson of Pecos held the floor for three hours and 10 minutes earlier.

"It is sponsored by a selfish, monopolistic group of medical men who are a durn sight more interested in your bankroll than your billiousness," Hudson said.

He popped a mint in his mouth and opened a four-inch thick volume on oral pathology to page 39.

That's where Hudson was at 9 a.m. when the filibuster was sidetracked momentarily. The breather lasted three hours while the Senate passed uncontested 91 bills, and two resolutions giving permission to sue the state.

Senator Fred Harris of Dallas started in at 4:37 p.m. yesterday and talked for 11 hours and 3 minutes. It was the longest one-man stand this year.

At 3:50 a.m. Harris tossed the torch to Hudson and went back and flopped down on a hard committee table.

"That's all I could find at the time," he said. "All the couches were taken."

Rumors Of Berlin Blockade Lifting Draw Soviet Fire

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, April 21.— Speculation in Western Berlin about a lifting of the Soviet blockade subsided considerably today after Russian-controlled newspapers denounced such reports as inspired by the West.

The Soviet army's official Taegliche Rundschau set the pace for the attacks. It said the recent flood of rumors that Russia would lift the blockade was started by "the western imperialist reactionaries and their German agents, who are trying to create a tense atmosphere in Berlin."

Mrs. Lindsey Honored

ly of her services and furnished food and clothing to those in distress; she acted in a most unselfish manner and was instrumental in locating the west air base at Lubbock, and she has supported many other causes.

"One might say briefly that Mother Lindsey has been for everything that has been for Lubbock, not only during the year 1948, but during every year from 1901 up to the present time."

The Lindsey family lived on the ranch west of Lubbock about seven years.

The late Mr. Lindsey built the first Lindsey theater in Lubbock in 1916, and he and a son, Clifton, operated the theater. They later added other theaters to the Lindsey group.

Mr. Lindsey died March 9, 1927. Clifton Lindsey died in 1936. Two sons of Mrs. Lindsey live in Lubbock. They are Ralph Lindsey of 2019 Fifteenth and Ernest Lindsey of 2004 Seventeenth.

Mrs. Lindsey is president of Lindsey Theatres, Inc. She formerly went to the office regularly and now conducts business which requires her attention at home.

Concerning her selection as outstanding woman for 1948, Mrs. Lindsey said, "It is an honor and I really appreciate it, but it is such a surprise."

Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson gave the invocation at the dinner. Mrs. Asher Thompson presented two vocal selections, with Mrs. James Atcheson as piano accompanist. Mrs. Mary Moore presented history aims and purposes of Altrusa.

The club was founded 32 years ago in Nashville, Tenn. The name Altrusa was taken from the word altruism, meaning "regard for others," Mrs. Moore explained.

Approximately 35 persons attended the dinner.

Women who previously have been chosen for the annual outstanding woman award are Mrs. W. T. Milam, 1946, who received the award because of her work in Milam's orphanage; Mrs. Lila Lenning, 1947, who was selected because of the endowment fund she set up at First Methodist church to finance a visiting nurse's program, and Mrs. C. R. Cagle, 1948, chosen because of her work with Lubbock Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Milam and Mrs. Cagle were among special guests at the dinner.

which joined in the Atlantic treaty now awaiting ratification. It proclaims their intentions to act in mutual defense in case of attack.

President Truman told a news conference no peace feelers from Russia have come his way. This was his reply to a question about recurrent rumors that Soviet overtures to resume four-power talks on Germany are about to be made.

The State department moved on a broad front to bolster diplomatic and military defenses against Communism in trouble spots abroad.

These were highlight developments in the capital:

The department assailed the "world peace conference" in Paris as another in a series of Communist moves "to make people think that the Soviet Union alone favors peace."

The department's press officer, Michael J. McDermott, added in a statement: "We are confident that this conference like the one in New York will expose the position of those who, while claiming to be free men, follow a dictated party line."

Top State department officials pressed new consultations with the British and French foreign offices on what to do if the Western Germans reject the three-power proposals for a separate West German government.

The talks opened yesterday after the powerful German Socialist Democratic party spurned allied restrictions on a new constitution for the federal state. American officials made no secret of their concern at the turn of events which they said might play into the hands of Russia.

bankers for their integrity and Christian principles, comparing the solidity of economics in this country with that in the Orient.

He reported briefly on economic conditions in China, which he had heard about during his stay in Hawaii.

The meeting adjourned shortly before noon and was followed by a luncheon at Lubbock Country club.

Covers Wide Area

The association's district encompasses an area from Plainview on the north to the Texas and Pacific railroad on the south, and from Spur on the east to the New Mexico boundary on the west.

Registration began at 8 o'clock Thursday morning in Hilton hotel although early delegates had arrived late Wednesday. Practically all of the early arrivals were from "big city" banks or from banks on the outskirts of the district.

Three Convictions Are Recorded Here

Earl Taplin, 30-year-old negro of Lubbock route 6, was fined $25 and costs Thursday in the justice court of C. E. Lynn after he pleaded guilty of a charge of making a false statement in an effort to obtain a driver's license.

Taplin, Lynn pointed out, had written to Austin and said his driver's license had been burned along with his car. In reality records at Austin showed the negro's license had been suspended Jan. 1 for six months in connection with a drunk driving conviction in Brazos county, Lynn said.

Richard Irwin Baccus, 19 of Lubbock, was fined $1 and sentenced to one day in jail after he pleaded guilty Thursday before County Judge Walter Davies of theft March 25 of two fender skirts valued at less than $50.

Theft convictions involve a mandatory jail sentence, but Judge Davies added a notation to his judgment that credit should be given for time "already served" by the defendant. The youth had spent Wednesday night in city jail following his arrest.

Marvin Clifton Arnold, of Ralls, was convicted of a drunk driving charge in county court and assessed a fine of $75 and court costs and his driver's license revoked for six months.

Arnold, who had pleaded innocent on March 25 and posted $500 bond, appeared in court Thursday, waived trial by jury and his right to be represented by council. Immediately after the judgment was assessed by Judge Davies, Arnold gave notice of appeal from the conviction.

Royall Resigns Post

deep regret."

In his letter to Royall, the President said "in war and in peace you have served your government faithfully and well.' He added:

"For your part in all of these activities of such paramount importance to the national security, I tender you this assurance of heartfelt gratitude and appreciation."

No Other Major Shifts Seen

Royall's letters to the President revealed that he had repeatedly tried to resign and that the President had attempted to dissuade him.

The President told reporters that he did not anticipate any other major changes in the defense establishment in the near future.

He indicated, however, that there may be some delay in naming a successor to Royall.

He said that the demands on a government official are such, and the pay so low, that it takes an iron man with an elephant hide to stand it.

In response to a question, he declared that Louis Johnson has been doing a good job as defense secretary. He said he thought he would when he appointed him.

Royall, 54, a native of Goldsboro, N. C., was named secretary of war by President Truman July 18 1947. He became secretary of the army in September, 1947, upon unification of the armed forces.

Served In Two Wars

A lawyer, Royall served overseas in the first world war as a lieutenant with the 317th Field artillery.

He retired to civilian life after the first world war and practiced law in Raleigh and Goldsboro, N C. He was elected president of the North Carolina Bar association in 1929.

Royall served in the North Carolina state senate in 1927 and was chairman of that bodys banking committee.

In April, 1945, he became special assistant to the secretary of war and advanced to undersecretary of war in November, 1945, after he was relieved of active Army duty.

Health Program

payroll tax of three per cent, to be shared 50-50 by employers and employes.

The estimated cost of the current Murray-Pepper bill would be around $4,500,000,000 a year.

Postponement Possible

Murray said he "presumed Mr. Truman's message will not differ much from our original bill." He added:

"Sen. Pepper and I will immediately submit a substitute bill carrying out Mr. Truman's recommendations."

Murray said he is "hopeful" that legislation providing compulsory insurance "can be passed at this session.'

He pointed out, however, that a logjam exists in both the Senate and House which may force postponement until next session of all the President's program.

Mr. Truman is believed certain to recommend a sweeping program of federal aid to hospitals, physicians and medical education in addition to the health insurance.

Two Other Bills Proposed

Murray said these additional proposals "probably would pass without any trouble."

In addition to the Murray-Pepper measure, the labor committee has before it two other major health bills. These are:

1. A Republican measure, sponsored by the Senate GOP policy leader Taft, Ohio, and others, providing federal grants in aid to the states in helping furnish medical care for those who cannot afford it.

2. A bill by Sens. Hill (D-Ala) and Morse (R-Ore), making federal health insurance a "voluntary" matter with employes.

Foes of compulsory health insurance gained strength last weekend when three potent Catholic organizations opposed the Truman plan as "not the business of the state."

Southern Democrats in the Senate, led by Sens. George, Ga., and Russell, Ga., have openly opposed the President's plan.

Republicans in both houses have denounced it as "a big step toward state socialism."

Greek Newspaperman Sentenced To Prison For Killing American

SALONIKA, Greece, April 21 (AP)—A three-judge court sentenced Greek newspaperman, Gregory Staktopoulos, to life imprisonment today and two fugitive Communists to death for killing American radio correspondent George Polk.

The Communists, Adam Mouzenides and Evangelos Vasvanas, were tried in absentia. The prosecution said Mouzenides was the trigger man. Greece's Communist-led rebels have contended Mouzenides and Vasvanas were killed in action before Polk was slain.

Staktopoulos, a former Communist, was convicted of being an accessory to the murder. The verdict said he was innocent of premeditation.

His 68-year-old mother, Anna, was acquitted at the request of the prosecution. She also had been charged with being an accessory.

Polk, 34, was a CBS correspondent. His trussed-up, bullet-riddled body was pulled from Salonika bay last May 16.

A few days earlier he had begun an attempt to make contact with Markos Vafiades, then head of the Communist rebels, to get a news story from the guerrillas' side of the line in the Greek civil war. Markos since has been purged from the guerrilla leadership.

Polk, a native of Fort Worth, Tex., had spent two years in the Middle East as CBS chief correspondent. Before the war he had worked as a newspaperman in Alaska, Shanghai and Paris as well as in the United States.

BRITISH SLOOP SHELLED BY CHINESE GUNS—The British naval sloop Amethyst, above, was shelled by Chinese guns as it moved through the Yangtze river between Nanking and Shanghai. The British destroyer Consort, and two other vessels which went to the aid of the sloop, drew fire from Communist shore guns, according to foreign airmen. British quarters in Nanking reported there were 20 casualties aboard the Amethyst. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London.)

JEWELS IN HOTEL

Gems Found After Salesman's Death

ALICE, April 21. (AP)—Several hours after a jewelry salesman was killed in a highway crash early today police found an estimated $500,000 in diamonds he had left at a hotel desk.

The salesman, James A. Counts, 31, of Houston, arrived last night, and went out with friends. He was injured fatally when a pickup truck overturned on the San Diego highway after collision with a larger truck. Two others in the pickup truck were injured.

That was at 2 a. m. Alice Chief of Police George Bill Clegg said that at 6 a. m. the Salas company of Houston, which employed Counts, phoned asking whereabouts of the diamonds.

Officers searched the pickup truck and Counts' room, then later found a black bag containing the jems in the back of the hotel desk where Counts had left it, Clegg said.

Bailey F. Rankin, 31, operator of an Alice cleaning establishment, and Mrs. Lucille Bowers, 24, of Alice were injured in the collision, but not seriously. The driver of the big truck, Angel DeLeon of Laredo, was not hurt.

Peggy Cummins To Make Picture In Rome; 20th Century-Fox Schedules Marine Drama

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 21—Gregory Ratoff was just here for a few days—but long enough to make arrangements with Peggy Cummins to go to Rome and make another picture for him after she finishes with the King brothers. He also signed Constance Bennett for the lead in his next picture.

I don't wonder Greg wants Peggy Cummins. I had dinner with Virginia Zanuck on her birthday—just about eight of us—and Greg showed us his picture, "The Case Of Lady Brooke." Peggy has never looked so well, nor given such a performance. It is Richard Greene's best too, and Myrna Loy is, as usual, good. I prophesy that Greg has a box-office hit. After the story actually gets going it is exciting. The shots of Capri are beautiful.

Marine Drama Scheduled

Anne Baxter, who was the only girl in "Yellow Sky," will again be the only girl in "Halls of Montezuma" surrounded by a cast of good looking males in this 20th picture. Well, few gals would squawk about such a fate.

My neighbor down the street, Sy Bartlett, is the co-author of this original with Harry Kleiner. It is a thriller involving the Marine landing on Iwo Jima and other islands in the South Pacific during the war.

I hear Bill Lundigan is in the setup, but Robert Bassler, the producer, isn't saying which male gets the top spot—but you can take it from me, it's someone off the lot.

Actress Gets Role

A transatlantic call went to Jean Wallace, who is in Paris, from producer Robert Sparks asking her to come home for the femme lead with George Raft and Pat O'Brien in "The Bail Bond Story." Jean has just arrived in Paris to do some added scenes for "The Man On The Eiffel Tower," and she says she is sick. If she feels better, and is able to get here, she will do it.

I am sorry that Jean and Franchot Tone didn't make up, because Jean told me before she left that she wanted a reconciliation more than anything else.

If she comes back to do "The Bail Bond Story" she will have Ted Tetzloff directing her. Well, his direction of "The Window" was excellent.

Studio Rift Hinted

Is it a coincidence that every photograph of Alexis Smith has been taken down at the Warner lot?

Russ Arms, the actor, who was formerly under contract to Warners, is marrying singer Jean Palmer in June. She has been in the road company of "Make Mine Manhattan."

Tom Brown had his nose smashed while he was making a picture. He never liked the shape of his nose anyway, so now he has a brand-new one.

Actress Gets Gift

Joan Bennett is wearing a beautiful new pair of pyramid-shaped diamond earrings, the gift of Walter Wanger because he is so pleased with her work in "Blank Wall."

Virginia Zanuck has gorgeous pearl earrings and matching ring, the gift of Darryl Zanuck on her birthday.

Mrs. Jerry Lewis, wife of the comedian, goes into the hospital over the weekend for an operation.

Wonderful of Jeanette MacDonald to sing at the Snow White ball at the Tennis club in Palm Springs Saturday, and then to turn over her check to the United Jewish Welfare fund.

A gorgeous silver mink stole was raffled off at the Around The Town Charity luncheon, and everyone of the four hundred-odd women had their eyes on it, hoping to draw the lucky number.

At our table, Maureen O'Sullivan, Mrs. Louis B. Mayer, Joan Fontaine, Ann Rutherford, Diana Lynn, Mrs. Edgar Bergen, Mrs. Henry Ginsberg, and Mrs. Frank Seaver all bought tickets for the raffle.

Well, it was for a good cause and over $4000 was raised for the St. Teresita sanitorium in Duarte.

Rod Cameron and Marie Windsor, who were in "Brimstone," a movie, together, are continuing their dates off screen at the Vine street Brown Derby.

Gary and Rocky Cooper, who have been in Colorado, get home Monday.

Push Button Flying Era Believed Near

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 21 (U.P.)—Push-button flights through all sorts of weather and air traffic conditions will become routine within 15 years, a civil aeronautics official predicted today.

George Kriske, chief of the air route traffic control section of the Fifth CAA region, said the automatic air navigation system will become possible through improvements on equipment which already is available.

"The technique and methods involved," Kriske told the air transport division of the American Society of Civil Engineers, "are already known to science and merely require adaptation."

Kriske said equipment already available includes the OMNI-range device which shows a pilot how far and in what direction off course he is, "DME" or distance measuring equipment, instrument landing systems and radar.

"Traffic control in the ultimate system will be accomplished for the most part by a series of automatically functioning, electronic devices . . . electronic brains will automatically analyze and handle the majority of problems concerning the spacing and routing of aircraft."

ACTRESS SEEKS STATIONS

WASHINGTON, April 21 (INS) — Actress Mary Pickford filed an application with the Federal Communications commission today for permission to build television stations at Durham and Winston Salem, N. C. The silent film star who previously has confined her investments largely to the movie industry, asked for 18.5 kilowatt power in each city, and stated that no television stations are serving the areas.

Possibility Of Diplomatic Post Hinted For Texas Demo Leader During Washington Visit

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 21 — Wright Morrow of Houston, present holder of the Texas democratic national committeeman's post, continued today his conferences with Washington officials and friends as to his course in the future.

Morrow has two alternatives. One, which is being considered at White House level, it was reliably learned, concerns his probable appointment as an ambassador or at least a minister, in a boost upstairs.

Several men close to the president have been urging this of late.

Morrow Denies Talk

Later Morrow denied that he had received any "feelers" about an ambassadorial appointment. He said that "was mere talk in Washington" before he came here.

Morrow said he had long talks with both Senator J. Howard McGrath, national chairman, and William Boyle, jr., executive vice-chairman, of the Democratic party.

"We brought in $55,000 in Texas thus far," he said. "I believe both men think we are doing a good job for the party and about as well as anyone could."

He said more funds are expected from the May 7 dinner in Lubbock at which Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan will speak.

"We have an excellent committee in Lubbock," he commented.

No Call Made

Getting back to Morrow's future, the other alternative involves his chances with the Democratic National committee to retain his present post. No one denies that Morrow was duly elected and certified to the post. But a majority of Texas state committee members have twice stated that they wanted him replaced by Byron Skelton of Temple and on another occasion they appointed a committee of three pro-Skelton people to go to Washington to make sure that Morrow was unseated. As yet, they have not appeared.

No call for a Democratic national committeeman's post has gone out.

Morrow conferred with Senator McGrath, national party chairman, shortly before that official left town. McGrath could not be reached for comment. Morrow also called on Boyle but found him out of town.

New State Of Israel Feels Pinch Of High Living Costs, Shortages

By ROBERT C. MILLER
United Press Staff Writer

JERUSALEM, April 21—Having cost of living troubles? In imagination, grab your shopping bag and plenty of cash for a little shopping in Jerusalem. It'll make you feel better.

If you want meat for dinner, the line forms on the right and extends down the street about half a block from the butcher lucky enough to have a few cuts. It's rationed, of course, to half a pound per person per week and will cost you around $2.50 a pound.

A little bit of cheese for a midnight snack will run around $1.25 a pound, with less than half a pound per week allotted each person.

Butter is for children only and at 65 cents per rationed quarter of a pound. Margarine, however, is only about 55 cents a pound but is limited to quarter pound handouts weekly.

Scarcity Amid Plenty

Israel is just like California and Florida. They raise oranges all over the place but to buy the best ones you have to go to New York or Boston. Even the culls are expensive and a good orange costs about four cents even in the middle of the growing season.

Baking runs into money with flour selling for twenty cents a pound and restricted to a pound per person weekly. Rice is for children only at 25 cents a pound.

Apricot growers will be interested in knowing that their dried products retail here at a $1 a pound. They are imported from Persia and are rationed.

You couldn't buy a can of tinned milk if you wanted it, as the supplies are being withheld until summer, when the supply of fresh milk becomes scarce. Canned fruits are also being withheld for the same reason.

Housing Expensive

Apartments are like wives. The initial cost and the maintenance are both terrific. A two-room apartment will cost you $8,000 to $10,000 "key money" and about $150 a month rent. You pay your own utilities, and how! Even with stringent economy on light and radios, you can expect the bill to be at least $25 a month.

Unlike other Middle East and European countries suffering from shortages, there is no black market. The prices are high and the rationing often meager, but it is just and equal. Heavy fines and long prison terms have convinced everybody that profiteering is an unprofitable business.

And if you think you can go out in the country and buy a dozen eggs or a chicken from a farmer, forget it. He won't sell it to you.

All produce is channelled into legitimate margets and buying from the source is considered unpatriotic and black marketing to both seller and buyer. What the threat of punishment doesn't halt in black marketing the scorn of being labelled an Israeli traitor does.

Dallas Pastor Boosts Collections By Giving Congregation Money

DALLAS, April 21 (INS)—An idea rather off the beaten path for today's thinking—but not entirely new or original—is doing wonders for Greenland Methodist church in Dallas.

The church's pastor, 23-year-old W. Harry Vanderpool, borrowed $450 and had it exchanged for one dollar bills. Then Mr. Vanderpool, started what was perhaps the greatest talent search in the history of Dallas.

Dollar Bills Mailed

He sent mimeographed letters to all church members and their families and attached a crisp one dollar bill to each message.

"Don't read any more until you have read this passage in the Bible: Luke 19:12-6.

"You have seen the dollar bill by now," the letter continued . . . It is being sent to you by your pastor. You are asked to invest the dollar in any way you see fit. Multiply it as many times as you can and see how good we are as users of our talents.

Members Plan Projects

Rev. Vanderpool told his congregation "even if I lose all of those dollars, I have at least given you a chance to see how well you measured up to the expectations of Our Master."

Results were terrific. Sunday school boys and girls, their parents and grandparents started searching their minds for ideas.

One woman spent the dollar for cake ingredients and started a home cake-baking business which she hopes will net $35 for the church by the April 22 deadline.

Projects range from buying and selling junk to landscape gardening and manufacturing hand-painted Easter eggs.

Rev. Vanderpool says the "talent search" has increased Sunday school attendance and made people more church conscious.

Texas Newspaper Offers Prize To Biggest 'Flop' At Farming

TAYLOR, April 21 (INS) — It just seems to be common sense that the farmers who really need the awards are the ones who have bad years—but the Taylor Times is the first newspaper to translate that precept into action.

Twenty-five dollars will be awarded to the Williamson county farmer who made the biggest flop in 1948, and another $25 goes to any farmer outside of Williamson county—anywhere in the country—who submits proof of the most successful 1948 season.

Certificates will also be awarded to first, second, and third place winners.

The Times explains the equal prizes for such unequal districts by commenting that it's much easier to make a flop outside of Williamson county than in the rest of the United States.

"Lots of farmers make flops, and the Times believes it's time some recognition went to them," the newspaper said. It maintained that this will be the first time in history farmers are rewarded for succeeding in flopping.

The flops need not be year-long, but may be in one venture during the year. Deadline for entries will be April 30.

"The contest is open to any farmer in the United States," the newspaper said. "We would have included the world but it would be unfair to some countries, for example, Russia, where no farmer fails and lives to tell it."

HAIR-SETTING MADE EASY

GARY, Ind. (U.P.)—An inventive husband who thought his wife spent too much time putting up her hair at night has patented a new gadget said to cut hair-setting time in half, according to the National Parent Council. The device is patterned after a miniature assembly line. It holds 40 bobby-pins which are pulled off the holder cartridge in rapid-fire order in the exact position for insertion into the hair.

Construction To Start Soon On Washington Office Building With Built-In Parking Space

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Some day, the man said, you'll be able to drive to work and park your car a few feet from your desk.

The man who hopes you will is Leroy L. Werner, architect for the Cafritz construction company.

"Roy," as the folks around his office call him, is about to break ground here for an office building which will cost up in the millions. There will be a parking lot about every half floor from the ground up. Werner hopes the idea will catch on around the country.

Werner is pretty proud of his drawings which he hopes in about 18 months to see blossom into a 10-story building; parking space attached.

To Hold Numerous Cars

The architects didn't intend it to be that way, but the "Cafritz building," which it will be called, may be one of the few in Washington free of the starling and pigeon nuisance.

Most of the government buildings are dolled up with Gothic or other old-fashioned fancy columns which provide nesting places for the pests.

Werner wasn't exactly thinking of keeping the birds away when he designed the building. But the first floor is going to be granite and the rest of it smooth stone. No starling or pigeon with any sense will try to roost on a straight-up building!

Tenants of the "dream" building will drive right inside and wheel up a ramp to a private parking space within a few feet of their own desks.

The offices will form only the outer shell of the edifice. The core will be separated from the offices by fire-resistant walls. The garages will hold a total of 450 cars on 25 levels—roughly one every half floor. There will be a ramp, 20-feet wide, in the center to keep you from knicking the fender of the man coming up if you happen to be going down.

Delay Is Seen

The garage, it says in the plans, will be equipped with a ventilating system, which will carry the gas fumes from the cars into somebody else's back yard.

The attendants of the parking business (no tips, maybe) will use what Werner described as a mechanized version of the brass pole firemen skid down for a four-alarm. It's a sort of vertical escalator, a moving belt with bars a man can grab a hold on. Foot rests will carry the hired hands up and down between parking levels. Moving from one level to another, the boys just jump off the belt.

Maybe it sounds fantastic and the time is not yet here. But as I said, the ground won't be broken for a day or so.

There will be 200,000 square feet of office space to take care of a lot of lawyers and other people who can't find a place to hang a shingle. Plus all the comforts a busy man needs in a hot town like Washington. Air conditioning and indirect lighting among 'em.

Maybe Werner has an idea, right there. About parking, I mean.

If you had driven around the capital during the past weekend with folks from all over trying to get a gander at the cherry blossoms, you would get the idea.

There wasn't a square inch of parking place anywhere in town.

Internationally-Known Scientist Reports Explosion Of Star

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 21 (AP)—The explosion of a star with the force of a billion Hiroshima-type atom bombs was reported last night by an internationally-known Harvard scientist.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of Harvard college observatory, said the explosion must have occurred six years ago. The flareup, however, was reported on earth for only 20 minutes last Dec. 7.

The discovery was made by D. Willem Luyten of the University of Minnesota.

San Antonio Girl Has Dentist 'Mount' Set Of Baby Teeth

SAN ANTONIO, April 21 (INS)—It's a trifle early in life for false teeth, but a 13-year-old San Antonian recently had a set made—of the baby teeth variety.

Junior high school student Marian June Jones was told she'd receive a nickel for each baby tooth she shed and left under her pillow.

She made 20 nickels that way but kept the teeth.

Recently she visited the family dentist. It seems she wanted the teeth mounted just like a set of false teeth.

The surprised dentist complied, commenting:

"It's the first time I ever had anything like this happen to me. In fact, I never knew anyone else who saved a complete set of baby teeth."

LINCOLN DID BUSINESS THERE

Historic Notes Are Discovered In Files Of Washington Bank

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 21. — Just about the closest thing we'll ever have to a bank of the United States is located a block from the White House and across the street from the treasury — the Riggs National bank.

It began operations in 1836 and has since held the deposits and cashed the checks of presidents from Tyler to Roosevelt. It advanced the $7,200,000 (in gold) that bought Alaska from Russia, cashed a $50,000,000 check for the Lend-Lease administration, stopped Daniel Webster from withdrawing $1,200 from his balance ($364.77) and took care of Douglas MacArthur's foot-locker after his flight from Corregidor.

Tyler Was Borrowed

Abraham Lincoln banked at Riggs and, among the other cancelled checks of his on hand, is one of five dollars made out to "colored man, with one leg." Another five buck check of Lincoln's was made payable to "Mr. Johns, a sick man." A Lincolnian predecessor, Tyler, borrowed $1,195.48 from Riggs on February 4, 1843, to pay his pressing debts, and assured the bank in a plaintive note that he would repay the loan as soon as he got his salary check.

Lincoln had $1,373.53 in the bank the night he was shot. Dolly Madison, who became a kind of public charge in her later years, had an account at Riggs to which a number of public-spirited citizens, including President Polk's Secretary of Navy Mason contributed. Gen. Pershing was a director of the bank in his hermit-like years of retirement.

Historic Notes Found

These and a thousand other historic and interesting notes about the bank were dug up by an old classmate of mine at George Washington university, Roland T. Carr, now assistant vice president of the remarkable cache.

It took a bit of salesmanship on Carr's part to persuade the conservative organization to tell some of its lustrous history.

A vigorous and proud prospector, Carr is still unearthing a wealth of material in the prosaic-looking records of the old banking house. Some of his dust-laden excavations have made advertisements which have become first class exhibits at banking conventions. To wit:

John C. Freemont, explorer, scientist, soldier, statesman, underwrote his 1845 expedition from St. Louis to California (which led to the inclusion of that state in the union) with a $6,000 check cashed at Riggs. He hired a hand named Carson and his guide — Kit Carson — and returned east in 1850 as one of California's first two senators.

Many Notables Represented

Francis Scott Key, a song-writer of some prominence, did business with Riggs. President Buchanan's letter, asking Riggs "please to send my tin box by the bearer" is still in the files. Henry Clay was a Riggs customer when Washington was a city of 56,000 people. Stephen A. Douglas differed with A. Lincoln on many points, but agreed on A. L.'s choice of banks. Sam Houston banked at Riggs. So did George Bancroft, founder of the naval academy while secretary of the Navy in 1845. Bancroft's many messages are still on hand, including one which starts, "will you have the goodness to collect the coupons on the bonds of mine in your custody?"

Brigham Young, writing to Riggs from "Great Salt Lake City" on August 9, 1864, began, "I herewith send you my draft for 850 pounds upon my agent, Liverpool, which please sell and place to my credit." Gen. Winfield Scott always made out his personal checks to "W. S." Among other cancelled checks at the bank are those of Jefferson Davis and the Confederacy's vice president, the crippled Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia.

Was Former Tavern

The bank is a classy place today, with discreetly pink checks and the hush of a cathedral. But it doggedly retains some of what must have been its original flavor. Its president, Bob Fleming, is one of the least hostile bankers in captivity. Its vice presidents sit in the open, exposed to the public and have been known to okay loans for such personal reasons as a loanee's known proficiency at poker. More than 110 years ago the bank, after existing somehow through the crushing depression of 1837, moved to one of the most renowned buildings in Washington, a small structure at the corner of 15th and F streets which still stands. It had been Suter's tavern and in delousing it to fit it for banking, the Riggs people had to dispose of the chairs on which British officers who had ordered the burning of the presidential mansion (in retaliation for some atrocious arson on the part of U. S. troops in Canada) watched the blaze. Now the place is a cigar store, which may be significant.

Harry S. Truman is one chief executive whose name is rarely mentioned around Riggs. He doesn't bank there, which may account for the fact that President Fleming is a staunch Republican.

Accident Veteran Has Advice For Drivers---Check That Auto

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 21 (INS) — The best way to avoid automobile accidents says a man who has made a career of inventing them, is to take care of your car.

The man who should know is Billy Sinks, Tulsa, Oklahoma, famed stunt and race driver.

Sinks, 44, has been driving for 25 years with one arm. But he advises the average motorists to keep both hands on the wheel. Sinks can't because he left his left hand in an airplane crash in Nicaragua when he was 19.

About the family automobile, Sinks says anything might happen if the vital working parts aren't in good order.

Many Perils Cited

The brakes, if they need adjusting, may freeze without warning; a worn tire may blow; defective wiring may cause a short circuit, and the steering key, if any, if not properly checked, may give at 60 miles an hour.

Sinks said he is in favor of a law that would require all motorists to have their brakes, lights, tires and steering apparatus examined every three months.

"Call it the law of self-preservation," he said.

Sinks can't recall how many auto races he has driven in. He said he has raced on almost every track, dirt and paved, in the country.

14 Years As Stunt Man

He also has spent 14 years in Hollywood as a movie stunt man, driving cars through fires, plate glass and brick walls. Aside from a few scratches, he always has managed to pull through to face the camera again.

During his career he has "set up" at least 1,500 fake accidents and never had a serious injury.

"There must be a better way to earn a living," he observed, "but this is the only one I know.

Fund To Provide Texas Schools With 'Visiting Teachers' Set Up

AUSTIN, April 21 (INS)—A foundation fund to provide Texas communities with "visiting teachers" has reached $3,250.

Dr. R. L. Sutherland, director of the Hogg foundation for mental hygiene at the University of Texas, says that school administrators interested in applying mental hygiene to education are able to put theory into practice through training scholarships in the field of visiting teacher work.

"A visiting teacher is a trained case worker who can help the classroom teacher understand family and community factors which underlie child behavior," he explained.

The scholarships are awarded in sums of $500, which must be matched by the school board employing the teachers selected for the special training. The funds are then used under the direction of the school superintendent.

Persons selected to take the training must be eligible for graduate work.

School systems which have already taken advantage of this scholarship include Houston, Corpus Christi, Orange, Brazosport, Victoria, Beaumont, Tyler, and the Andrews Independent School district.

Denver Real Estate Offered For Purchase Price Paid In 1887

DENVER, April 21. (U.P.) — In 1887 William Raine was high-pressured into buying 10 lots about one mile and a half south of the present Denver city limits.

He paid a total of $400 for the lots and paid the taxes on the land, about 60 cents a year, for 12 years.

Then he deeded the property to his son, William McLeod Raine, a well-known author.

Like his father, the younger Raine kept up the taxes. A few years ago, though, they jumped to about $2 yearly.

So now Raine has the 10 lots up for sale—for $400.

Motor Vehicle Production To Hit New Postwar High

DETROIT, April 21 (AP)—Motor vehicle production in the United States this week will set another postwar high mark, automotive news reported today.

The trade paper estimated this week's output at 128,250 cars and trucks. Last week's 126,648 units was the previous postwar high.

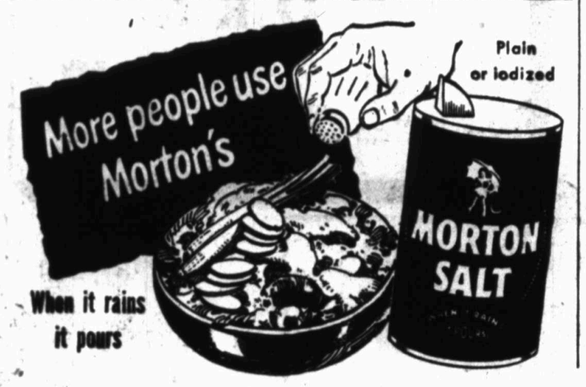

Utah Dentist Cites Worry As Large Factor In Tooth Decay

SALT LAKE CITY, April 21 (U.P.) — Modern dentists are now warning: don't worry about losing teeth, or you probably will. In fact, don't worry! Many persons are losing teeth because of excess worry.

Dr. Merrill Swenson, professor of dentistry at the University of Oregon, told the Salt Lake District Dental society to take it easy.

The dental professor explained when people worry they grit and clinch teeth. That, he said, weakens surrounding bone and leaves space for decay.

But Swenson said he wasn't going to worry about other people losing their teeth. He wants to keep his.

SAN ANTONIO, April 21 (AP)—Robert Lee Miller, 7, of San Antonio, was killed when an auto crashed into a group of 11 pedestrians, police reported today.

Seven other persons were injured, one critically.

Police said the child was dead on arrival at a hospital shortly before midnight.

The group was on the way home from a theater. Traffic investigator Albert Turegano said the driver told him he did not see the pedestrians because of mist and mud on the windshield.

Prematurely-Born Louisiana Twin Boys Found To Be Blind

NEW ORLEANS, April 21 (AP) — There was new adversity today in the short, dangerous lives of Kenny and Denny Hoffman.

Doctors said the seven-month-old twins were blind.

The boys overcame their first peril by living at all. They were given scant chance of survival when born last September, two and a half months prematurely. They weighed about two pounds each.

Around Christmas they pulled through another danger—pneumonia.

Their mother, Mrs. Andrew C. Hoffman, 24, expects them to overcome the present affliction too.

She said "I'm praying for them and I have every hope and faith that they'll see."

Doctors at Tulane University Medical school said a hardening of the retina had caused the children to be blind from birth.

The Tulane physicians advised a trip to a New York specialist, connected with Columbia university. A few such cases have been helped by surgery, they said.

Saturday the Hoffmans plan to fly to New York with the babies.

Body Of Man Found Hanging By Belt In Jacksboro Hotel Room

JACKSBORO, April 21 (AP) — The body of an elderly man was found hanging by a belt yesterday in a hotel, Sheriff Lee Roberts said today.

The sheriff said the man had been tentatively identified as a resident of Stephenville. A man named Ed Rankin left Stephenville April 15, the same day the elderly man registered here. Roberts said the man registered as [illegible] Scotland but a memorandum showed the name of Ed [illegible] of Stephenville.

COMFORT COMES FIRST

FORT WORTH, Tex. (U.P.) — M/Sgt. W. O. Worthey served two years in Newfoundland, Greenland and Iceland, then got his discharge at Carswell Air Force base here. The sergeant re-enlisted, but went to Albrook Air Force base, Canal Zone, to do it. "Some place that's warm," he explained.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE

GAINESVILLE, April 21 (AP)—Kay Blackburn, 3, fell from a speeding automobile and survived with only minor injuries. Many Advances In Aerial Might To Be Shown Soon, Official Says

By DON JENNINGS
United Press Staff Writer

BALTIMORE, April 21—Glenn L. Martin held back the details, but the pioneer airman's annual report to his stockholders made it clear that breath-taking advances in aerial armament are forthcoming at the Martin plant.

"Some of the most advanced jet-powered developments and most significant applications of high-speed aircraft design are taking place in Martin drafting rooms and experimental assembly shops," said the 63-year-old flier-designer-manufacturer.

These projects, he said, include creation of an Air Force bomber "involving revolutionary design principles."

Martin already has produced a six-jet bomber, the XB-48, which he said was the first of its type to fly, and his Martin Mauler is hailed as the largest and most powerful attack plane to qualify for aircraft carrier service. The Mauler carries four 20mm. cannon and a 9,000-pound load of rockets, torpedoes and bombs.

In the field of ram-jet-powered pilotless aircraft, Martin said, the company is working on a still-secret project "which is expected to provide the Air Force with an important step forward in missiles vital to national defense."

Martin's report also disclosed that the armed forces soon will make the first tests of the Martin Viking rocket and will try to set a new rocket altitude record of 200 miles. The Viking rocket was designed for the Navy.

Martin revealed developments in two other phases of aeronautics. He said the company is working on a "radically new electronic gun turret which maintains our history of leadership in that field." He said Martin chemists have also developed a permanent flame-proof compound for airplane interiors.

"Few people appreciate the sizable percentage of present-day aeronautical research activity which is being invested in special weapons—pilotless aircraft, guided missiles, rocketry, electronic devices, servo-mechanisms," Martin said.

"Because of military restrictions, few of these projects can be discussed publicly. But I can state that they included many startling developments."

HOW TO AVOID HAIRLESS PIG

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.)—Farmers can avoid having hairless pigs this spring by feeding iodized salt to brood sows during the winter, says a veterinarian. Dr. M. E. Mansfield of the University of Illinois says the birth of pigs with little or no hair is an indication that the farm lacks iodine in the soil.

BLOOD HOUND—If there is a dog heaven, Butch has more than paid his way there. The Spitz-type dog has donated four gallons of blood during the past three years to save the lives of fellow canines. Butch lives at a Cleveland, Ohio, veterinary hospital where he leads a life of ease and eating. Here, he consumes one of the big meals that keep him in trim.

Leading U. S. Indian Portrait Artist Started Career As Hobby

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21 (U.P.) A 90-year-old painter who never bothered to take time to retire is recognized today as one of America's foremost Indian portrait painters.

What is now E. A. Burbank's profession began as a hobby in 1897 when he was commissioned to do a portrait of Chief Geronimo. He found the famed Apache chief at Fort Sill, Okla., and the two be came fast friends before Burbank had completed seven portraits of the frontier warrior.

Burbank lived and painted among the Indians until 1920, completing portraits of representatives of 128 of the nation's 300 Indian tribes. Forty of his portraits hang in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Burkank's brush and pencil work are distinctive because they depict the Indians as they were. He refused to glamorize them in portrayal of their tribal costumes.

Cafe Owner Provides Student 'Help-Yourself' Loan Service

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 21 (U.P.)—William Donnegan, an Ann Arbor restaurant proprietor, is convinced University of Michigan students are honest.

For several months he has hung $5 bills on strings in his window for loan to anyone in need. The hard-pressed student merely signs a card to get the loan.

Donnegan then hangs the card which bears the student's name on one side and the due date on the other, up in the window with the due date showing. Donnegan planned to reverse the card so the student's name would show if he didn't pay the loan, but he says he hasn't had to reverse a card yet.

Dallas Dance Instructor Teaches Fox Trot To Sightless Students

DALLAS, April 21 (INS) — "Recreational therapy" is a high-sounding phrase that means some blind folks in Dallas are being taught how to dance.

Sam Bernard, a Dallas dance instructor, has taught a group of students at the Lighthouse for the Blind a good fox trot.

Bernard says that the sightless students took to dancing "like a duck takes to water." He began the class by telling them that dancing was easy, and they evidently took him at his word.

The students lined up, each with his right hand on the right shoulder of the person in front of him. Then without music they took two steps forward, one to the left, close with the right foot to the left. . . .

Next with music.

Then, with partners.

Decline Noted In Meat, Vegetable Prices; Dairy Produce Unchanged

(By The Associated Press)

Retail pork, lamb and veal prices started edging downward this week. Nearly all vegetables were lower. Dairy products were about unchanged.

Consumer meat buying at Easter time was "disappointing" in several cities, trade spokesmen said. When sales failed to come up to expectations, many sellers were left with larger than usual stocks on hand, and wholesale buying has dragged ever since.

Pork and lamb were affected most. Market spokesmen said many retailers were expected to feature pork this weekend, and that pork prices at Chicago this week reached the lowest level since October of 1946.

Lamb Prices Decline

Increasing receipts of spring lambs were putting competitive pressure on the winter crop, forcing prices slightly lower. And veal prices eased in what an agriculture department source described as a delayed reaction to the arrival of spring vealers. "Veal should have started downward a couple of weeks ago when the new supplies began reaching good volume," he said.

Beef also was headed downward at wholesale early this week but the reductions were not reflected at the retail level today in most markets. Choice beef cuts were still a penny or two a pound higher than a week ago in some cities.

Vegetables Generally Lower

On the produce counters, only broccoli was reported generally higher in price this week.

Biggest price drops among the vegetables this week were in iceberg lettuce and asparagus.

Tomato prices were described as "extremely variable with a wide range."

The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index declined this week to $5.68 from $5.71 a week ago—and was only a penny above the index of February 8 which was a 28-month low. This index represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Army Recognizes Need Of Special Diversion For Teen-Age Recruits

SAN ANTONIO, April 21 (INS)—The Army's self-styled "atomic-age-kids"—the teen-aged recruits of the ranks are demanding corner drug store type entertainment.

Because of this Captain Frances Rice, chief of the Fourth Army service club section, is conducting a "new thought school" for area service directors.

Captain Rice terms the change "radical." The peace-time teen-age soldier wants his entertainment patterned after that of his community, she says.

Their most difficult problem, she explained is getting high school age girls for their dances.

Capt. Rice says some of the new recruits complain that the "junior hostesses" are old women. She checked up and found that the junior hostesses were those who volunteered in 1941 and now are out of the soldier age group.

Capt. Rice says the new programs can not be something that the young soldiers can just watch.

"They are complete extroverts. They want to get up before a mike, stage their own shows, participate in athletic events and carry on like any normal high school boys."

U. S. Occupation Of Veracruz In 1914 Observed By Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 21 (AP)—Mexico observed today the 35th anniversary of the U. S. naval occupation of Veracruz.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Thurston and the diplomatic corps attended the unveiling of an inscription "to the defenders of Veracruz in 1914" in the chamber of deputies.

Naval organizations also held a ceremony at the monument for those who tried to defend the city against the U. S. Marines. The Marines landed there to prevent a German ship from delivering ammunition.

San Antonio Woman's Intuition Trips Up 'Hot Check' Artist

SAN ANTONIO, April 21 (INS)—The keen eyes and intuition of Mrs. Mary Hill spell trouble for the hot check artist who chooses a certain San Antonio store to pass a bouncer.

Mrs. Hill, the credit manager of a San Antonio department store, distrusted the faces of two men who tried to cash checks in her establishment.

They are both facing charges of swindling.

The first man asked her to cash a $30 check. She detained him long enough to contact the hot checks department of the Retail merchants association. The man was wanted in a number of places for passing hot checks.

Mrs. Hill also disliked the "looks" of another man who later in the day tried to cash a check. Again she checked, and again the records showed he was wanted, too.

TO PRESENT PLAN

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—President Truman will send to Congress tomorrow his plan for a national health program, including compulsory government health insurance.

Drug Used With Electric Shock Treatment For Mentally Ill

DETROIT, April 21. (AP)—Electric shock treatments for mental ailments are made safer with a drug that relaxes muscles.

The drug is myanesin, a newcomer with spreading uses. Its value in treating mental illnesses was announced today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by Drs. Klaus Unna and A. Kaplan of the University of Illinois.

Electric shocks help many people with some kinds of mental illness, often restoring them to normalcy. But the shocks can throw them into violent movements or convulsions, with danger that they will break bones or otherwise injure themselves

Myanesin prevents or minimizes the convulsions from the shocks and other nerve stimulants, the two pharmacologists said. It also prevents the stoppage of breathing that often occurs during electro-shocks. It was tested on patients at Mantenno State hospital in Illinois.

It acts on the brain stem and spinal cord. It can relax muscles so that doctors can learn more about the causes of troubles. It appears to block the abnormal volleys of nerve impulses producing jerking movements of muscle rigidity, bringing temporary relief. It does not appear to be harmful to human beings and can be given by mouth.

Weather Bureau Pieces Together Factors Causing 'Weird' Winter

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 21 — The astounding story of one of this country's weirdest winters is just now being fitted together as late reports flow into the Weather bureau's Washington headquarters.

Not since records were started in the 1890s have Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah Idaho and Montana icicled their way through such bitter and persistent frigid conditions.

Yet on Jan. 31, height of the east's normal snow season, Maine was the only New England state with a snow-cover The east had its third warmest winter.

Unusual Conditions Prevail

The weather pattern which produced this phenomenal winter started forming early this fall. Known in the weather trade as an "extensive ridge and trough pattern," it persisted from October until mid-February.

Ridges and troughs are north-south deflections in the normal west-to-east airflow around the North Pole.

To weathermen, a "pattern" is the flow-path of air in the upper atmosphere (10,000 feet and above). This air always travels in a general west to east direction. The greater its north-south deflections the more chaotic will be the weather on the earth's surface

Deflections this past winter, says Philip F. Clapp, acting chief of the bureau's extended forecast section, were "remarkable in their intensity and persistence."

How remarkable can be gleaned from some of the fantastic statistics.

San Antonioians read "zero" on their thermometers for the first time ever.

California's San Diego had snow on two consecutive days. Residents couldn't believe their eyes.

Here's how R. A. Dyke, Nebraska's chief meteorologist, describes the greatest snow storm of the season, the blizzard of Jan. 2-5:

"In no previous blizzard in our records was the wind so high or the snow so heavy, and none lasted longer."

Low Temperatures Recorded

It was that and subsequent blizzards which brought death to an estimated 80,000 cattle and calves and 97,000 sheep and lambs. The Army and Air Force spent millions in "operation snowbound."

In Cheyenne, a man left home at the height of that first January blizzard to walk the block to his corner grocery store. He lost his way, cried out for help and stumbled in the snow. Seconds later he was found, his eyelids, hands and feet frozen.

January brought El Paso its lowest temperatures for any month in its history. At the same time Montgomery Ala., and Atlanta, Ga., set all-time highs.

Corona, Calif., 90 miles east of Los Angeles, had nine inches of snow on Jan. 11. On the same day, Buffalo, N. Y., usually a winter wonderland of deep snows, had none at all.

In the middle of February the patic[illegible] The trough [illegible] New Mexico and Texas moved west. The vast ridge to its east followed.

This meant no more Gulf Coast air for the east coast, no more polar air for the west. The result is a colder-than-normal spring for the east and an above normal spring for the west.

Health Officials Trace Spread Of 'Q' Fever Carried By Cattle

SAN FRANCISCO April 21 (U.P.) —California health officials have reduced to three the routes by which the widespread influenza-like "Q" fever may be transmitted from infected livestock to humans.

Analysis of hundreds of fever cases in southern California showed that the victims either used raw milk, worked in contact with livestock or their products, or lived near a dairy or stockyard.

The disease has been under close observation by state health department investigators since it was first recognized in Los Angeles County two years ago.

Severe cases of "Q" fever closely resemble pneumonia, health officials said.

Sentiment For Registration Of Communists Grows, Poll Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
(c. Institute of Public Opinion)

PRINCETON, N. J., April 21—Should members of the Communist Party be required to register with the Federal government?

Representative Richard M. Nixon of California, co-author of the Mundt-Nixon bill in the last Congress, has long advocated a law requiring members of the Communist Party to do this.

This idea has wide support among voters questioned in a national poll by the American Institute of Public Opinion. The support has increased during the last year.

The trend of sentiment follows: "Would you favor or oppose a law requiring all members of the Communist Party in this country to register (file their names) with the Justice Department in Washington?"

	Today	Last May
Favor	83%	77%
Oppose	9	12
No Opinion	8	11

Would such a requirement be a violation of democratic rights, since the Communist Party is one of the political parties of the nation?

The legal points involved in that issue are points on which the average voter is not qualified to pass judgment. But the reason why so many favor the registration of Communists is not hard to find. Previous polls have repeatedly shown that most American voters consider American Communists loyal to Russia, not to the United States.

Today's poll reveals some difference of opinion among educational levels as to the desirability of requiring Communist registration.

	College	High Sch'l	Grade Sch'l
Favor	78%	86%	82%
Oppose	18	9	6
No opinion	4	5	12

One effect of the registration law would be to enable the government to keep tabs on Communists seeking to infiltrate industries that might be important in wartime.

The issue of what to do about Communists in industry was put to voters in the Institute's survey with the following results:

"Do you think all Communists should or should not be removed from jobs in U. S. industries that would be important in wartime?"

The vote:

Should	87%
Should not	7
No opinion	6

An Administration anti-spy bill has been introduced in the Senate one of the purposes of which is to root spies and saboteurs out of important industries.

Among the bill's provisions is one that would require registration of agents of a foreign country or a "foreign political party."

Kansas May Lack Grain Storage Space

HUTCHINSON, Kan., April 21 (INS) — Kansas grain operators were warned today that unless relief storage is provided immediately more grain might be piled on the ground after this year's harvest than in any year since 1942.

The warning was voiced by J. J. Mahoney of Topeka, a Santa Fe railroad representative, at a meeting in Hutchinson of more than 100 grain men, elevator owners and federal officials.

The Kansas harvest, which is to start in about two months, is expected to be 245 million bushels.

Storage Space Crowded

According to an official report, an estimated 62 per cent of the grain storage capacity is filled as compared with 42 per cent at this time last year.

It was estimated the government would take over 80 million bushels of wheat by May 1. Officials said a major factor in solving the problem would be for the government to move its wheat to other storage facilities.

An official said the government loan date expires April 30. He said the loan price now is higher than the market price.

Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas presided at the Conference.

TO TAKE NEW DUTIES

SAN ANTONIO, April 21 (AP)—Gen. Charles F. Born, commanding the indoctrination division, Air Training command, Lackland Air Force base, is being transferred to Wisebaden, Germany. His successor will be Brig. Gen. Charles W. Lawrence from Keesler Air Force base, Miss.

PUBLIC BOW

Grady The Cow In Oklahoma Parade

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 21. (AP) — Grady the silo cow made her first public appearance today.

The white-faced Hereford, immaculately groomed and riding in an aluminum trailer, was the feature of the '89er day parade which wound through Oklahoma City today.

The parade celebrated the opening of Oklahoma to white settlement in 1889.

Thousands lined the six-mile parade route to stare at the cow, which had an escort of about 75 mounted horsemen.

Grady appeared bored and only occasionally nodded at the crowd.

Her owner, Bill Mach, brought Grady here from his farm near Yukon.

Grady was the cow which jumped through an incredibly narrow opening into a silo in February after she dropped her calf.

An aroused nation learned of Grady's plight and set about planning and plotting her liberation.

UN Bloc Forms Against Spain

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 21—Franco Spain's chances of getting into the good graces of the United Nations this spring dwindled today.

The United States, Britain, France, Australia, and many other nations including those of eastern Europe let it be known they would not support a plan of several Latin American nations to allow UN members authorization to return ambassadors and ministers to Madrid.

Early Debate Planned

This strong front against modification of a key UN action against Spain was disclosed in the face of a move to bring the Spanish question up for early debate, possibly today, in the UN's political committee. Chairman Fernand Van Langenhove said he would recommend initial study of the Franco problem during an expected lull in debate on the former Italian colonies.

In another UN arena, the UN's special political group scheduled hearings intended to end in a vote on the Balkan church trials. Indications were that the committee would only voice its concern over the recent trials in Hungary and Bulgaria, meanwhile awaiting the outcome of American and British plans to first invoke peace treaty machinery against the two satellites.

Bitter Fight Foreseen

The Spanish issue, regardless of the attitude of the major powers, was certain to touch off a bitter fight in the UN. Heading 13 Latin American nations, Brazil, Colombia, Peru, and Bolivia plan to ask the UN to allow member nations "freedom of action" to return top-flight diplomatic envoys to Spain. Several nations already have accredited envoys to the Franco government notwithstanding a 1946 UN ban on such action.

Mexico, Guatemala, Panama, Cuba, Chile, Uruguay, and Haiti were understood to be willing to join the nations opposing the joint resolution when it is offered. The 1946 UN resolution censured the Franco regime, asked member nations to withdraw their envoys, and prohibited Spain's entry into specialized agencies of the UN.

American and British sources said their governments strongly favor retention of the censure features of the three-year-old resolution, and that they would abstain from voting on the type of resolution expected to be offered regarding return of diplomats to Madrid.

The United States, however, would favor Spain's participation in certain specialized agencies if the issue comes up.

Belgium had built up its electric power output to a postwar high, in January.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER' THEN AND NOW—Some 12 years ago, a young-looking actor named Robert Young played the father of a tot named Shirley Temple in the movie "Stowaway," top. Today Robert Young, although 42 and the father of four daughters in real life, wears special make-up in order to appear old enough for his screen paternal role with Shirley Temple in "Adventure in Baltimore," below. Shirley, who will be 21 this month, also has a daughter of her own.

TRACTOR PAYS OFF WELL

Washington Veteran Pushes Wheelbarrow On Tour Of Nation

AUSTIN, April 21 (INS) — An ex-cowpoke and veteran of World War I passed through Austin this week with the mileage indicator on his wheelbarrow indicating 9,339 miles.

Larry Hightower of Washington state is a gentleman who believes in doing things differently.

He said he began pushing the wheelbarrow from Ellensburg, Washington, in July, 1946.

"I was in a hardware store one day, and I was thinkin' about travelin'," he explained to curious Austin citizens. "I looked up and seen a wheelbar' for sale, and the idea hit me like a lightnin' bolt. It said, wait a minute. They've made it around the world in an airplane. Now, what about a wheelbar'?"

Hightower was greeted by one woman who asked him what he was going to do when he comes to the ocean. He answered more like a Texan than a Washingtonian:

"Why lady, that ain't no problem. I'll just push this here wheelbar right up to the edge, then I'll take a bucket, and bail that ocean dry. Then I'll just keep on walkin'."

The visitor claimed that his wheelbar' and he had been in Life, Look, Popular Mechanics, and Bob Ripley's "Believe It Or Not"; that he had appeared on "We The People" along with Al Capp and Boris Karloff; that he had been on 17 television shows, nine newsreels, and lectured at 264 colleges and schools.

When interviewed, he had just returned from a "chat" with Gov. Beauford Jester.

The wheelbar' that's causing all the ruckus has a rearview mirror, a single headlight, and a mileage indicator. Two bicycle generators are attached to the wheel. A radio aerial was attached to the forward end.

A small "Old Glory" flies from the end of the wheelbar', and the stickers of 36 states are pasted on its body.

COMMUNISM IS CLAIMED 'STOPPED IN TRACKS'

ECA Director Declares If U. S., Western Europe 'Stick Together' Another War Can Be Avoided

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 21—Marshall plan administrator Paul G. Hoffman declared today that if the United States and Western European nations "stick together and work together there won't be a third world war."

Hoffman told the American Society of Newspaper Editors at its annual convention that the European aid program has "stopped international Communism in its tracks in western Europe." he said:

"The tide has been turned back."

Kremlin Called Evil

He declared that Russia is driving in two directions toward "world conquest"—through its fifth column and by military aggression. He said:

"Not since the days of Genghis Khan has there been as evil a force in the world as this drive of the Kremlin."

Erwin D. Canham, president of the ASNE and editor of the Christian Science Monitor, warned in an address at the opening session of the convention that there is "danger" the United Nations may vote new restrictions on the free interchange of world news.

He declared that the cause of "freedom of information has come to a new and grave crisis" in the current UN General Assembly at Lake Success, N. Y. he said:

"We have got a bear by the tail, and it is not yet certain in which direction he will run."

Fears News Bans

Canham is U. S. representative on the UN committee seeking to work out three conventions to promote world freedom of information.

He explained that some UN members want to use the treaties as "a means of imposing new controls and limitations on the press."

Canham added:

"The danger is that at this stage in world history, international law may be written on the subject of freedom of information which will leave us farther back than we started.

"It is too early to say that this will be the unavoidable result . . . if we are defeated . . . there is of course no compulsion on the United States to sign and ratify any of these conventions.

"The United States can step right out of the picture, if controls are voted which we cannot support."

Urges Defense Program

Hoffman said that people in the United States do not sense the world-conquering ambitions of the Soviets the way people do in Europe and Asia.

On trips to these countries, he said, "you feel it in the air" and "it gets into your bones." he added:

"You can't help being emotional about it."

He expressed the belief that by adequate military preparation in the U. S. and western Europe Russia can be persuaded not to plunge the world into another war to achieve her world conquest aim.

Hoffman said he believed the best hope of peace lies in "the developing sense of unity" among the U. S. and cooperating nations. This sense of unity, he declared, produced the Atlantic pact.

Fifth Columns "Successful"

He expressed the belief that one of the reasons military aggression has not been a great threat thus far has been the "amazing success" of the Soviet fifth column.

This success, he added, has been the more remarkable "when we know how little Russia has done to help its own people." He said:

"The Russian people are still underfed and in a sad state."

Two years ago, he declared, "it looked as though nothing would stop the march of the Kremlin." Its highly successful fifth column, he added, had bowled over a number of countries, making them satellites within the Russian orbit.

The Marshall plan stopped the march, he said, not by going out to fight a "cold war," but by concentrating on a drive against "hunger, poverty and chaos" and on creating conditions "in which men can live together in decency and dignity."

Michigan Solon To Serve Cold Water From Lake Huron At Washington 'Cocktail Party'

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 21 — I have been invited to—ahem—a cocktail party.

That's not supposed to be shocking, but it is, rather, this time. In Washington, hoe-downs, with the booze flowing freely—for free—are a dime a hundred every afternoon from 5 to 7. Free, that is, unless you're the sucker who has to pick up the tab. In that case, it runs anywhere from $2 a head to $15, $20 or more depending on whether you serve crackers with a drop of cheese on top or a turkey dinner and hire bouncers to fend off the free loaders.

Party To Be 'Different'

But this is a different kind of cocktail party.

There'll be nothing but water in the shot glasses—with water on the side. Pure aqua from Lake Huron.

The host will be Rep. Fred Lewis Crawford of Saginaw, Mich. He plans to hold the party in room 1124 of the new House office building. The guest list will include as many notables as will accept invitations. A lot of them from Michigan, naturally.

There is a method in the apparent madness of the congressman. And the story behind the story is interesting. It's like this:

City Relied On Pumps

Saginaw, now a city of 100,000 for many years was without its own water supply and became known as the "city of pumps." There was a pump, handle attached, every block or so. People would go to the nearest pump with buckets and pitchers and stand in line to get water for drinking and tub-soaking.

In 1929, the Dow Chemical company, which had a motherly interest in Saginaw, piped water 20 miles from Midland to serve the folks. It worked all right in the bathtub, but the natives said it tasted like a drug store smells—no fault of the Dow people. Among others, a couple of sugar beet refineries and some oil wells dumped stuff into the river. The pumps remained and about 130 of them still do.

Pipeline Constructed

At long last, a pipeline was strung from Whitestone Point, some 60 miles away. Water comes from the chilly depths of Lake Huron. It's a four-foot pipe, anyone from Saginaw will tell you, and the "finest drinking water in the world."

Bay City, part of the Saginaw valley, which also includes Midland, gets in on the deal, too. Midland has its own supply.

Saginaw is so proud it's going to have a water festival, lasting three days, May 20-22. You can bet there'll be a water queen and big-wigs all over the place what with Fred Wirstowsky of the Saginaw News on the publicity committee.

Newsman Handles Publicity

Fred talked water to me for half an hour. When the new supply came gushing like an oil well "coming in," he said, "you could tell it was good drinking water just by looking at it."

Congressman Crawford is all set for his "cocktail" party. He has the water on hand and is keeping it chilled in the ice box in his office. It was fetched to Washington in six half-gallon jugs by Virgil J. Noble of Saginaw and his wife when they escorted a bunch of school kids here for an annual Easter holiday outing. Virgil is a physical education director and coach in the junior high school.

As I say, I've been invited to the party. Right now, I'm trying to make up my mind whether to take along a shot glass or a bar of soap and a turkish towel.

Clint Formby, student body president at Tech, Margaret Clark, secretary to the Student council, Lamar Jackson, student council member, Curtis Sterling, recently elected student body president for 1949-50 and Marshall Gettys, student council vice-president for next year, will represent Texas Tech.

Mass Burial Services Held In Tennessee For Army Airmen

NASHVILLE, April 21 (AP) — Relatives from seven states gathered under leaden skies today for the mass burial of nine American airmen killed in a crash in England during the war.

None of the nine airmen, killed in a bomber crash at Cambridge, England, June 8, 1944, was from Tennessee. Nashville was selected by their relatives from a "logical" list of burial places.

The crash victims included S-Sgt. Richard Ray, jr., Palacios, Tex., and S-Sgt. Curtis A. Reynolds, Houston.

The Natural Gasoline Supply Men's association meeting in conjunction with the NGAA, named J. N. McClure, Tulsa, as president. Other officers all from Tulsa, were L. L. Dresser and Dallas S. Deem, vice-presidents; M. E. Duncan, treasurer and William F. Lowe, re-elected secretary.

New directors for the NGAA will be selected from a list of oil firms designated at the convention here.

New directors named for two-year terms by the supply men's group include: M. W. Conn, Bartlesville, Okla.; Ray E. Miller, Wilmington, Del.; J. N. McClure and E. P. Shelton, both of Tulsa; George L. Gudenrather, M. H. Kotzenbue, R. D Ricketts, and M. H. Roths, all of Houston; J. A. Mussler and E. C. Wise, both Dallas; J. L. Tullis, Shreveport; W. H. Edwards, Amarillo; and Ray T. Chiang May Establish Nationalist Stronghold On Island Of Formosa

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Strong indications are that Chiang Kai-Shek is retiring to Formosa with practically all of Nationalist China's air force, money and many soldiers, intending to establish a redoubt as Red armies sweep the mainland. It seems he will receive no more U. S. military aid.

Attacks on British warships lead to the conclusion the Communists have launched their final all-out offensive, ignoring everything except the determination to wipe both Nationalists and foreign interests from all China.

Mainland Stand Unlikely

Some observers believe if the Nationalists had used the past three months of peace-making gestures to unify their forces there would have been a good chance of cutting off Communist spearheads across the Yangtze, creating a long delay which might have rallied international opposition to the Reds.

Chiang seems to have decided to let the Nanking government stand only as a peace front while he made his own plans.

The former president may use some of his forces for a time to keep the Communists out of Shanghai, Amoy, Fuchow and other South China ports, but there is no prospect of any real Nationalist stand on the mainland south of the Yangtze.

Failure of compromise peace efforts are accepted as a disaster, a "Dunkirk" for American policy in China, but not as a catastrophe.

Western 'Blackout' Predicted

American policy for some months appears to have been based on two beliefs:

That nothing could be gained by throwing good money and war materials after bad in aiding the Nationalists.

That the Communists would have everything their way for two or three years to come. After that China's ancient troubles are expected to return to plague her. There will be an opportunity then for renewal of historic ties with the United States.

The decision to abandon Chiang was based on increasingly pessimistic reports over a long period. It might have come earlier but for his record as a wartime ally. He has been accused by American officials of ignoring all friendly advice, of bungling, and of failure to make worthwhile use of American military aid.

The odds all seem to be that western influence in China is due for a long blackout.

U. S. Court Takes Jewelry, Pole Is Ordered Deported

LAREDO, April 21 (AP) — Jacob Wiseburg, a Pole, won't be allowed to keep $10,000 in jewelry and watches he says he found in a New York City garbage can.

In federal court here yesterday, he was denied recovery of the valuables; now in custody of the Immigration department.

Wiseburg was arrested in this border city by Immigration agents last November. They said he threw a bag containing the jewelry and watches into a vacant lot while he was headed for the Rio Grande river.

At a federal hearing in November, on a charge of attempting to smuggle merchandise into Mexico, Wiseburg said he lost a job as dishwasher in New York City and found the valuables in a large garbage can while he was wandering about the streets.

Officers throughout the east vainly attempted to trace ownership of the jewelry.

Yesterday, a federal court jury denied Wiseburg possession. The jury held he was headed for the Rio Grande river at the time of his arrest, to export valuables to Mexico in violation of the export control act.

Today Wiseburg remained in the Webb county jail here, awaiting deportation to Poland.

Dutch Barber Claims Discovery Of Preparation To Cure Baldness

EEN, Holland, April 21 (U.P.)—Jan Van Rooyen, barber, who claims to have discovered what men have searched for for centuries, a cure for baldness, has made this village famous throughout Holland.

Small, bespectacled Van Rooyen has invented a mysterious white liquid which he claims will grow hair on the baldest pate. After only a few weeks' treatment, the first soft hairs appear on the previously bald heads of his clients, he said. But the complete treatment takes eight months.

The procedure is simple. Van Rooyen rubs the scalp with some drops of his liquid, sometimes adds artificial sun ray treatment, a massage and a good brushing. That is done two or three times a week for eight to ten months. The price varies between 50 and 300 guilders ($20 to $120).

Van Rooyen is not prepared to tell about his secret. You may touch the bottle, but you mustn't even smell the liquid.

His clients come to him from all over the country. Even women come, but they are treated more discreetly than in the common barber shop. His son soon will open a business in Amsterdam, using his father's preparation. Van Rooyen announced that before long he will put his knowledge at the disposal of barbers throughout the world.

HOME NOT SAFE, EITHER

DETROIT (U.P.) — Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Michigan health department commissioner, said of the 638 Michigan children under 15 who were killed in accidents last year, 327 died as the result of accidents in their own homes.

Appropriation Urged For Mental Hospital

WICHITA FALLS, April 21 (U.P.)—Wichita Falls grand jury today urged the state legislature to appropriate funds immediately to improve conditions at the Wichita Falls State hospital.

The grand jury reported yesterday the findings of a two-day investigation it had conducted at the hospital.

The report cited inadequate medical attention because of a lack of doctors and an incompetent nursing staff.

Brutal Treatment Charged

It also charged that abuse and brutal mistreatment of patients by attendants "either was or should have been known by the the hospital authorities."

The report, which was returned to 30th District Judge Frank Ikard, called to the attention of the governor, the State Eleemosynary Board of Control and legislators from this district conditions reportedly existing at the hospital.

An investigation was ordered after two former attendants at the hospital were indicted for the slaying of Thomas Houston Gibbons of Sulphur Springs shortly after he was admitted for treatment.

In the murder indictment, the jury said T. C. Saucier and David Beck, the attendants, had "stomped and beaten" Gibbons to death last March 4.

Spraying Seen As Answer To Clearing Major Rangelands

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 21 (U.P.)—Air-spraying was seen today as the answer to clearing rangelands for the farmer "who just doesn't live long enough to clear a 10,000-acre range by hand."

The method was described by D. W. Rentzel, Washington, administrator of the Civil Aeronautics authority, who addressed the opening session of a two-day meeting of the National Agriculture Aviation committee.

The meeting is sponsored by the national Flying Farmers association, in cooperation with national and state agencies. It has attracted some 300 leaders of farm flying.

Rentzel said 400,000 acres of forest will be sprayed this year, with an increase in acreage expected yearly.

He said he hoped "federal advice, education and cooperation" in the crop-treatment phase of aviation could eliminate the necessity for state legislation on spraying.

Second G-A Bill Stalled In House

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 21.—The House recessed until tomorrow night without final decision on the second of the stubbornly-fought Gilmer-Aikin public school bills.

Backers of Senator Ottis Lock's minimum foundation measure generally held their own as opponents hacked at it with amendments through six hours of debate. The bill will be at the top of the calendar again next Wednesday.

Proponents apparently were unable or unwilling to attempt to force the House to reach a final decision. The House has defeated the revolutionary school proposals for four weeks. It has approved the first of the Senate-passed bills.

Walkout Is Scored

Bitter words were exchanged over yesterday's walkout in which a group of opponents sought and failed to break a quorum and block action on the first of the school bills.

Rep. Sam Hanna touched it off with an amendment specifying that the principal duty of supervisors under the Lock bill would be to "supervise schools while teachers, principals and superintendents were busy lobbying in Austin."

Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso tartly interposed: "I would like to amend that so it would not apply to those lobbying in Austin when there is a walkout in the House."

Hanna was leader of the walkout movement. He shouted to Isaacks he walked out and had no apologies for it.

"It's the first time I ever heard it was a sin to try and beat a bill," he said.

New Issue Raised

Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas raised a point of order against the Hanna amendment as not being pertinent. It was sustained.

There was sharp conflict on the issue during the morning about whether or not the Lock bill would work a hardship on districts where there are many parochial schools.

In the afternoon session, backers of the bill raised no objection to an amendment providing that the central education agency to be set up under the measure would not discriminate against school districts where there were parochial schools.

An amendment to count average daily attendance of parochial

Agriculture Students Compete Saturday

1,000 Expected For Contests At Tech

Over 1,000 high school Vocational Agriculture students from Area 1 and 2 will participate in the annual official high school judging contests which will be held at Texas Technological college Saturday, according to Dean W. L. Stangel, head of the agriculture department at the college.

The agriculture education department under Prof. Ray Chappelle will be the over all supervisor of the event. Seventy-two high schools had entered one or more judging teams in the contests late Thursday. Deadline for entries is at 5 p.m. today.

Barbecue Slated

The boys will be special guests of the Plains Co-Operative Oil Mill at a barbecue held in Aggie Grove on the campus Saturday evening. Roy Davis is in charge of the barbecue.

Teams will be composed of three boys. They will judge in seven contests. Judging will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday and continue until 3:30 p.m. Contests which the boys will enter are, livestock, dairy cattle, dairy products, poultry, meats, crops and cotton classification. Results of the judging will be announced at 5:15 p.m. in the Aggie Judging Pavilion at the college.

Three highest teams in each contest will receive banners and the three highest individual winners in each contest will be awarded medals. Ribbons will also be given to the five highest boys in each division.

Tech Faculty To Aid

A grand sweepstakes prize will be awarded to the school with the most winning teams. Schools must have at least three teams entered in the judging in order to compete for this prize.

Tech students and faculty members will aid with the contests. The animal husbandry department under the direction of Prof. Ray Mowery will be in charge of judging livestock, meats, poultry and dairy cattle. Other faculty members who will aid in these contests are Stanley Anderson, Hubert Mathews and Koy Neely.

Plant Industry under Dr. A. W. Young will handle the judging of crops, cotton classification and seed identification. Jud Morrow and Earl Burnett, of the faculty, will help with these contests.

Dr. J. J. Willingham, head of the dairy manufacturing department, will be in charge of judging of milk, cream and ice cream. Some of the poultry judging and the meats judging will be held at the Keeton Packing company. Cotton classification will take place in the Government Cotton office.

Students who attend the contest will also have a chance to visit the Engineering Show and the Home Economics Open House which are also being held on the campus this weekend.

Railroad And Town Of Electra Set For Court Showdown

ELECTRA, Tex., April 21 (U.P.)—The Fort Worth and Denver railroad today made clear that a town's "pleasure" is secondary to making a paying business out of trains.

Faced with legal threats by Electra civic officials following announcement of a new schedule which would convert the town into a "conditional stop" on the route of the crack Zephyr streamliner. Robert L. Hoyt of the railroad company said:

"We don't want a fight with Electra or anyone else. But if it comes to making a choice of keeping the railroad going or pleasing this city, I'm afraid we have no other choice."

City Attorney John McKelvey reiterated that Electra refuses to become a "whistle stop" and told Hoyt, "we'll meet you in court."

Last November, when the railroad first planned its "conditional stop" here, city officials threatened to invoke city laws forcing trains to halt at all grade crossings in town and at the station for an inspection of restroom facilities. The railroad took no further action until this week.

Six other towns affected by the revised schedule, set to start May 1 and designed to speed up service for transcontinental passengers, would be Decatur, Henrietta, Bowie, Chillicothe, Clarendon and Claude.

SOUNDS RATHER CARELESS

CLEVELAND. (U.P.)—Police arrested Joseph Barbera, 25, after he allegedly crashed a red light, passed 10 cars while exceeding the speed limit, drove 45 miles an hour iin a school zone, passed a street car on the left and stayed on the left side of the street to pass 15 other cars. He was charged with reckless driving.

RAIL GROUP VISITS SOUTH PLAINS

Better Freight Service To Area Pledged By Burlington Officials

Better freight service and more cars for movement of grain and other farm products from the South Plains area were promised by officials of the Burlington Lines at a dinner given by the railroad officials Thursday night, closing out a day's inspection trip to the area.

L. R. Capron of Chicago, vice president in charge of traffic of the Burlington; and W. O. Frame of Fort Worth, general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver, a subsidiary, made the pledges of better service and more cars in brief talks at the dinner, attended by approximately 50 Lubbock business and professional men.

Praises Industrial Growth

Other railroad officials here on the inspection trip included: R. Wright Armstrong of Fort Worth, vice president of the Burlington in Texas; C. S. Edmonds of Fort Worth, freight traffic manager; M. G. Monaghan, assistant general manager; and W. M. Gray, general agent, both of Amarillo.

"Everything I have seen on this trip has pleased me greatly," Capron, who visited here two years ago, declared in his talk. "From all I see and hear, you're assured of crop conditions which approach those of two years ago when you raised bumper crops all over the area.

"Lubbock is certainly the bright spot on our railroad and its industrial growth since the war has been phenomenal. We want to do everything we can to promote Lubbock's growth and that of West Texas. If we don't we wouldn't be entitled to the job we're doing."

Frame said the boxcar situation looks better this season and revealed that several hundred cars had been stored to take care of the grain movement from this area.

"We hope to have enough cars to serve the area," he said.

Homer D. Grant, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, presided at the dinner and introduced Armstrong, who introduced the other railroad officials.

Guy Victory, local general agent of the railroad, was host for the occasion. The officials left last night for Wichita Falls.

Three Injured In Mishap Near Hobbs

HOBBS, N. M., April 21 (AP)—Three young musicians on tour from Southern School Assemblies of Dallas, were injured when an auto overturned.

A 200-year-old Galliano violin belonging to one of them was destroyed.

Injured 12 miles south of here Tuesday were Miss Beverly Reynolds, 20, Geneva, N. Y.; Miss Marguerite Gillette, 22, Miami, Fla., and Miss Mary Nell Snok, 24, Rockwall, Tex.

Miss Reynolds underwent an emergency operation last night for a broken back. She appeared to be improving after a transfusion.

Miss Gillette received a fractured right ankle, and Miss Snow cuts and bruises. The violin belongs to Miss Gillette.

Envoys of Britain and seven Dominions met at Melbourne, Australia, to discuss establishment of Empire defense zones.

Officers Named At Aggie Muster Here

Strains of "The Spirit of Aggieland" echoed from the stock judging pavilion at Texas Technological college Thursday night as approximately 75 former students of Texas A. & M. college gathered for their traditional Aggie Muster, held each year on April 21.

In election of officers, Jack Christian, Littlefield wholesale oil dealer, was named president; Leon Ranson, Levelland, vice president; and L. O. Buchanan, Lubbock, secretary-treasurer.

D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, retiring president was master of ceremonies at the Muster, featured by a chicken barbecue and an informal meeting.

Wide Area Represented

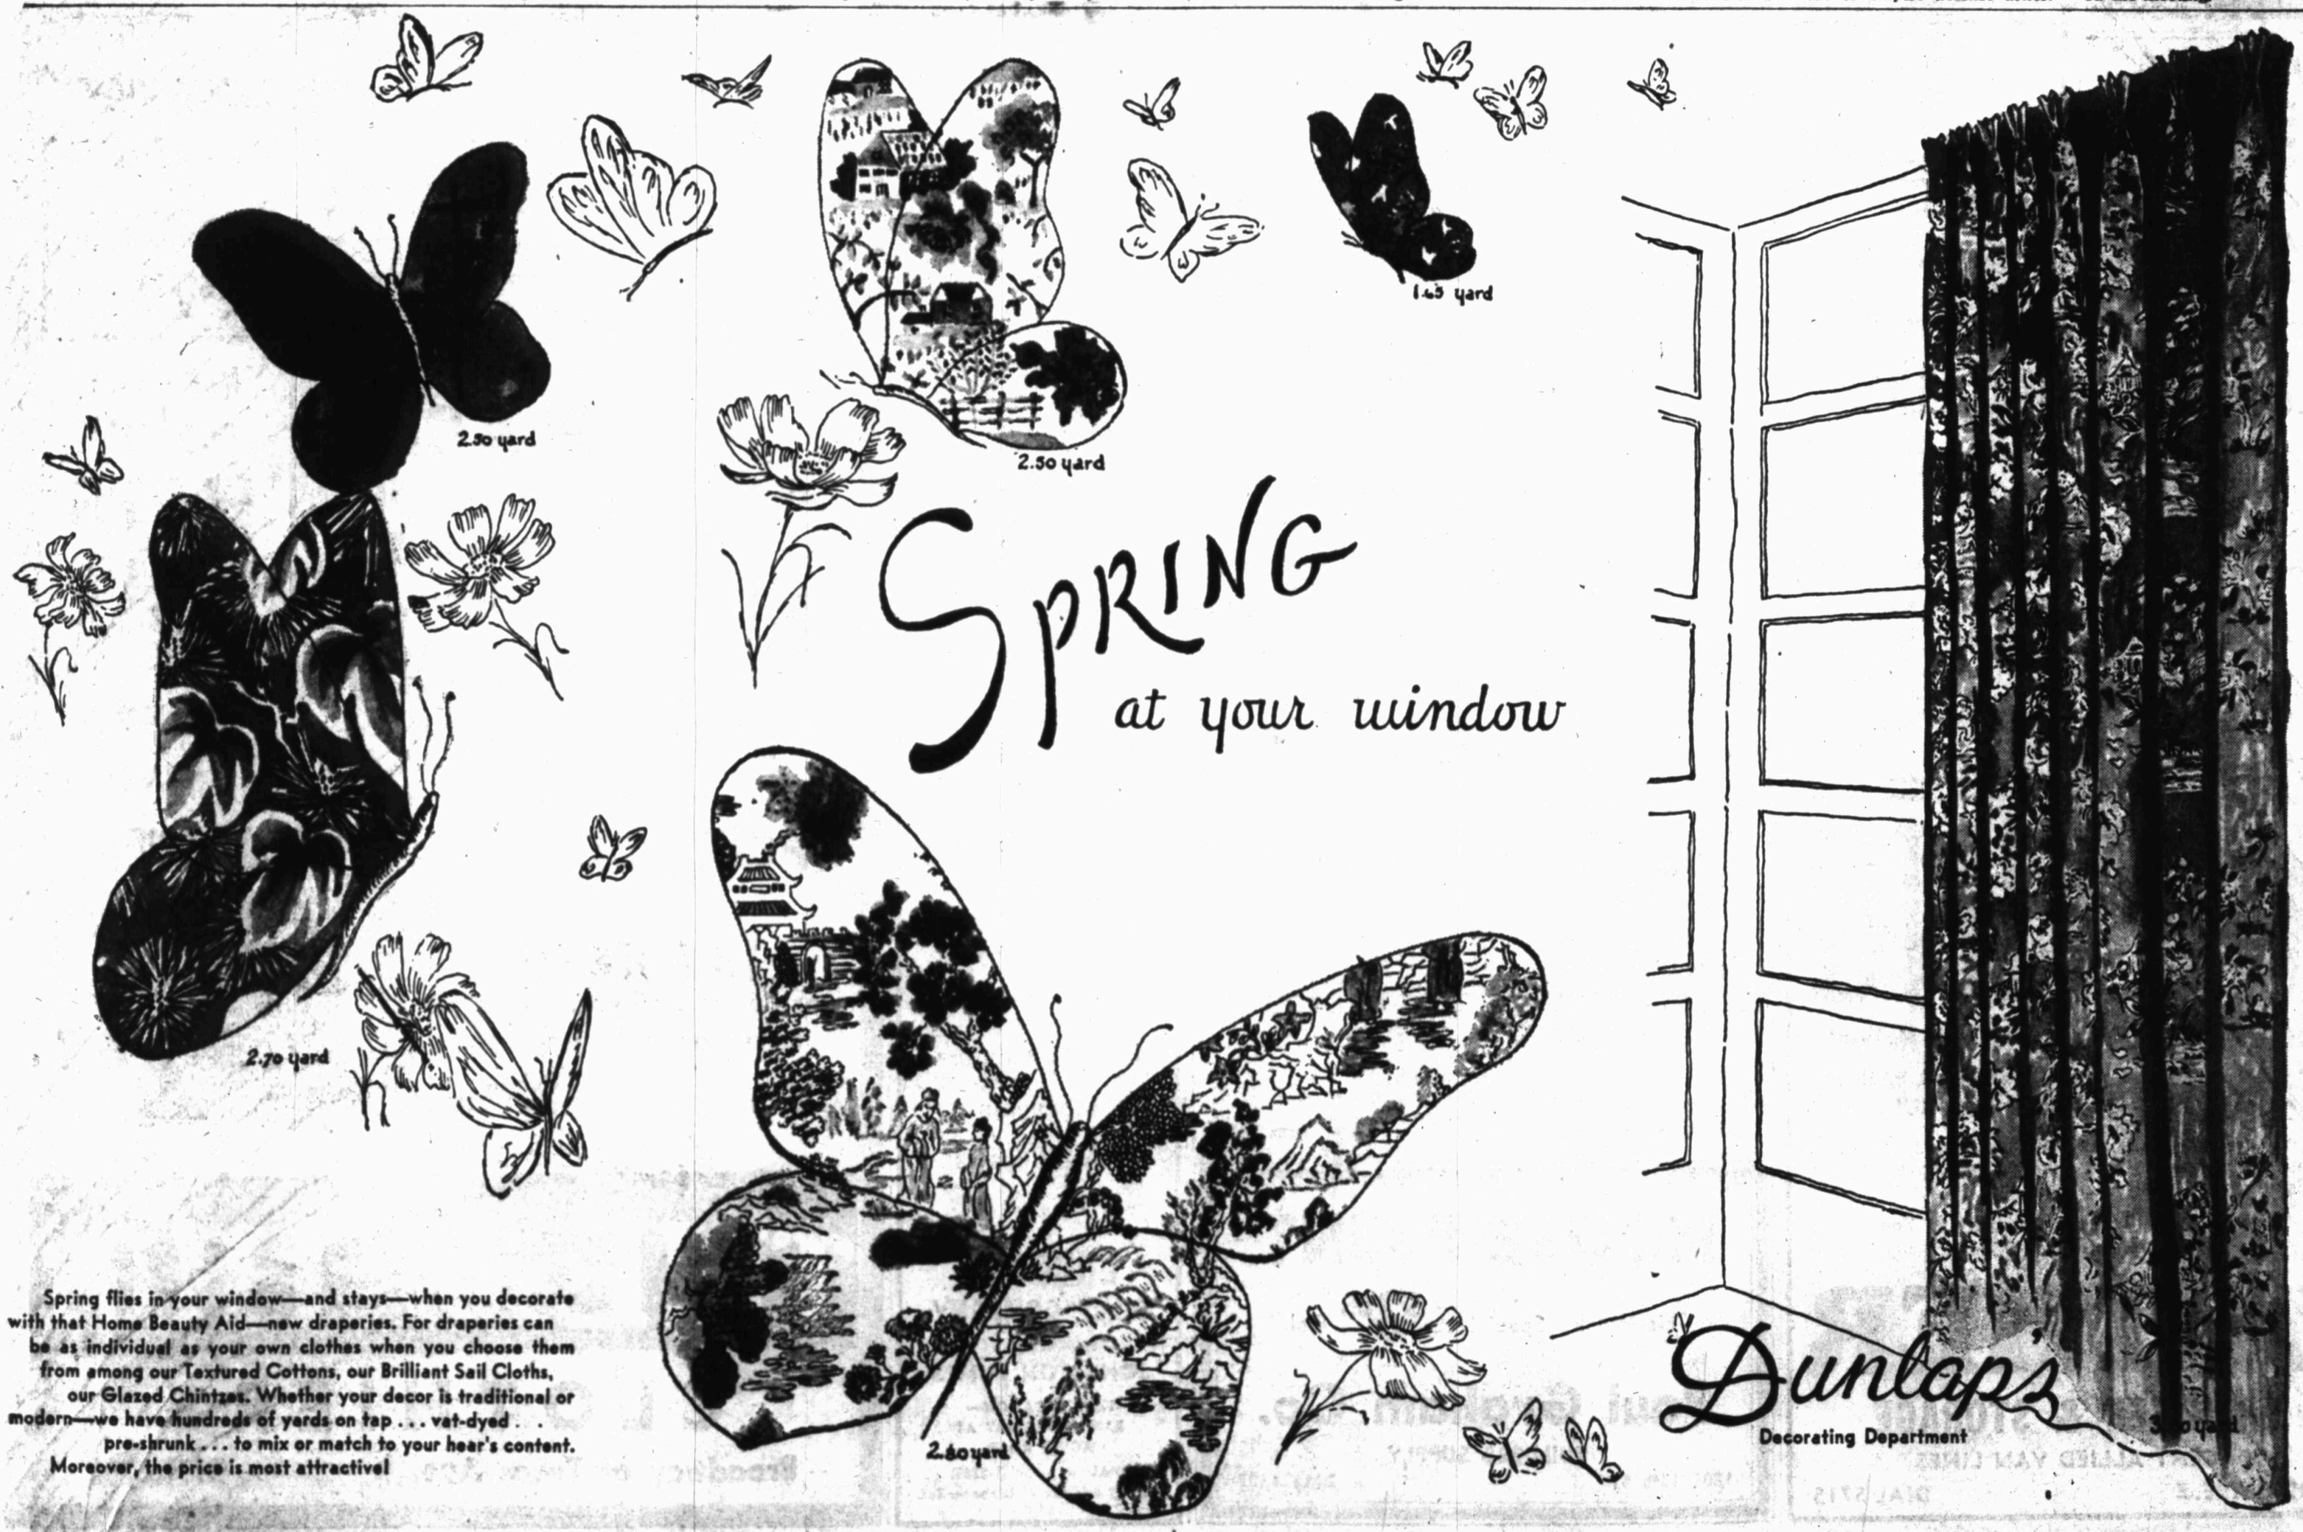

C. W. Whitfield, 2408 Twenty-ninth, member of the 1913 class was the oldest Aggie present. Others attended from Morton, Ralls, Amherst, Plainview, Sundown, Levelland, Littlefield, Wichita Falls, Whitharral, Abernathy, Dallas, Brownfield, Amarillo and Floydada.

In the short program, W. G. McMillan, local contractor, reported on the group's efforts to get Tech in the Southwest Conference, declaring that improvement of the college's physical plant was one of the barriers keeping Tech out of the conference. Pressing Tech's application was one of the group's objectives during the past year and will be continued.

Dr. J. J. Willingham, head of Tech's dairy products department, read the traditional roll call and Prof. Ray C. Mowery, animal husbandry department head, dismissed the Muster.

The group voted to hold its next meeting on the occasion of a visit here of Coach Harry Steitler of A. & M., date to be announced.

WARNING GIVEN REPUBLICANS

GOP Workers Report Party Is Split; Taft Scores Solons

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Republican workers returning from around the country report the party split over policy—highlighted by the recent lecture Senator Taft of Ohio gave his colleagues—is showing up all over.

Taft told his Republican Senate mates, in effect, that if the GOP doesn't show an interest in low income voters by supporting housing, education and state-grant health measures it will lose the 1950 congressional elections.

Opposed Housing Project

As an example, Taft was reported to have said in the closed meeting that 10 prominent real estate men in Cleveland would support him if he opposed housing legislation but that any such stand would cost him 50,000 votes in Cleveland in 1950. Taft is backing the pending housing bill.

Taft's assertion sent Senator Bricker, his Ohio colleague, off on a vigorous defense of the free enterprise system. Bricker is against the federal government's invasion of the housing field and opposes many other welfare measures supported by Taft.

GOP scouts who have been feeling out the temper of the country report that many Republican leaders seem to believe with Bricker — and others — that the time has come to attack the whole of President Truman's legislative program.

Ohio Tradition Hit

These scouts attribute a measure of this feeling to a big residue of anti-Dewey sentiment. They say local leaders blame Dewey for losing last year's election by putting on a "sweetness and light" and a "me too" campaign.

Taft apparently went a long way, however, toward averting a threatened split between him and New England Republicans who class themselves as liberals.

Some of these had been mumbling about what they called the "Ohio tradition." They claimed privately that too much attention was being paid to efforts to reelect Taft at the expense of others they thought represented a more forward-looking Republican viewpoint.

But now they are thumping Taft on the back while the "conservatives" sulk in the corner.

Demos Seek Agreement

Southern Democrats are angling —without too much hope of success — for an agreement with party leaders for submission of a constitutional amendment to bar state poll taxes in federa. elections.

That would be a way—though probably not a very satisfactory one to the administration—out of the stalemate that is likely to face any attempt to bring President Truman's civil rights program to a vote in the Senate.

A constitutional amendment requires approval by two thirds of those voting in Congress and ratification by three fourths of the states. The 11 southern states thus couldn't block its adoption.

The southerners say they don't care too much about the poll tax issue, but don't want to give in on the principle that Congress can't invade the rights of the states without a constitutional change.

In Alabama, a typical southern state, only a small fraction of the voters pay poll taxes. Exemptions for war veterans and other groups permit a large share of the populace to vote without coughing up taxes.

South Dakota Solon Proposes Solution To Tidelands Dispute

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Rep. Case (R-SD) says he can solve the argument over who owns submerged coastal oil lands such as those off Texas.

He proposes dividing the lands between states and the federal government, and using the federal share for school aid.

Case said he would introduce legislation Monday which would:

Give th states submerged coastal lands less than one statute mile seaward of the mean low tide line, and all lands beneath navigable waters.

Create a federal water lands reserve for submerged lands outside th one-mile coastal area.

Set aside all money up to $500,000,000 from sale of petroleum and other minerals in the federal reserve for allotment to states for current expenditures for public schools.

Since the Supreme court ruling against state claims to submerged coastal lands there have been a flood of congressional bills to restore title to states.

Secondary Oil Recovery Program Started

Government Hires Detective To Solve 'Case Of Lost Oil'

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 21 — The government borrowed New York City's only detective with a Ph. D. degree today and sent him looking for lost oil.

The oil was lost before it ever got out of the ground, which creates a first class scientific detective problem.

When it comes to scientific gumshoeing, William Fox, 35-year-old, six-footer with wavy red hair, is a past master.

Being from the Bronx, he never saw an oil well.

Once Solved Slaying

But he once solved a slaying with a shoe sole.

That was in January, 1947, when Fox, a detective third grade in the police chemical research laboratory, wanted to get some police experience and was assigned to a precinct.

He was investigating the fatal beating of an unidentified man in a hallway when he found a shoe sole under the corpse. He was making a chemical test on the sole to find where the owner had been walking when a 17-year-old boy entered the hallway. Fox noticed that the sole was missing from one of the boy's shoes. He arrested him.

But Fox is a hard worker who knows his chemistry, and that's why the Federal Bureau of Mines borrowed him for some work at the petroleum experimental station at Bartlesville, Okla.

Expert On Fluids

He started making his own way peddling fruit and vegetables as a youth. He joined the police force in 1940 to help pay for his education. He received a Ph. D. degree in chemistry from Columbia university five years ago.

He's written a number of scientific papers on fluids, particularly what happens when liquids are spread on liquids. The particular problem at the petroleum experimental station is to find a way to get more oil from the rocks in the ground.

"It's an aggravating situation when you drill a well and take the oil out," Fox said, "to find that 50 to 75 per cent of the oil remains in the ground. That's why the petroleum and gas division of the Department of Interior is engaged in a secondary oil recovery program. It's of national and international importance."

When he finishes his oil experiments, earning $5,323 a year he plans to go back at being a cop at $4,191 a year.

"There's a real need for scientific work in crime detection," he said.

Rites Set In Huntsville Today For Diplomat Killed In India

HUNSTVILLE, April 21 (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for John W. Thomason III, who died March 27 in an airplane crash in Calcutta, India where he was serving as American vice-consul.

Services will be held at 4 p. m. at the home of the 28-year-old diplomat's father-in-law, Gibbs A. Wynne.

Young Thomason, a Houston newspaperman before the war, was a son of the late Col. John W. Thomason jr., author and Marine hero of World War one. He followed in his father's footsteps to win the Silver Star for gallantry as a Marine during World War Two.

Catholics Give New Stand On Policies Of Church In U. S.

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 21—"Salvation outside the church" was explained today in a new Catholic catechism expected to reach more than ten million Americans.

The book is the first revision of the famous Baltimore "Penny Catechism" which was first published in 1880 and is now standard in nearly all dioceses of the country.

Its advanced text states that persons may be saved outside Catholicism "if they do not know that it is the true church" and if they "make use of the graces God gives them."

Revision of the catechism has been in progress for twelve years. The text was completed before four teachers were expelled from Boston college for teaching "no salvation outside the church," but it amplifies points quoted in the Boston dispute.

Scores of other revisions and additions have been included in an effort to meet modern conditions and answer questions which have been raised since the first edition appeared nearly 80 years ago.

The book for the first time bans cremation, except to combat plague. It bans attendance of mass by radio or television, excludes "mercy killings," and touches on labor-management relations.

Without naming Communism, it in effect bans membership in the Communist party by stating that it is a sin to plot against "legitimate" government.

However, sections have been added which recognize the citizens' right to "defend themselves against tyranny" and to resist governments which "claim . . . rights that belong to God alone or those that are proper to the individual, to the family or to the church." The book states:

"The state exists for the common good of men, and not man for the state."

The catechism says that citizens must serve in the armed forces if commanded to do so "unless they are convinced from adequate and unquestionable evidence that the war is unjust."

A "just war" is defined as one "necessary to defend the rights of the state in a serious matter" after all other means have been exhausted.

The book says employers who fail to pay "a just, living wage" are guilty of a "grave injustice," and employes who do "careless work" violate the Seventh commandment.

The revision was prepared by the confraternity of Christian doctrine, with hundreds of Catholic experts participating and with the Episcopal committee consisting of seven bishops and archbishops as final authority.

The new version includes the statement that "all are obliged to belong to the Catholic church in order to be saved," but takes the position that a well-intentioned person "belongs in some manner to the Catholic church" even though not a member of it. The book says:

"Persons who make use of the graces God gives them, even though they are not members of the true church, actually have the desire to become members inasmuch as they wish to use all the means ordained by God for their salvation."

The phrase "outside the church there is no salvation" is said to apply only to "those who through their own grave fault do not know that the Catholic church is the true church or, knowing it, refuse to join it." The book adds:

"'Outside the church there is no salvation' does not mean that everyone who is not a Catholic will be condemned.

"It does mean that no one can be saved unless he belongs in some manner to the Catholic church, either actually or in desire . . ."

Klan Losing Power In South As Southerners' Attitude Changes

By BEM PRICE
Associated Press

ATLANTA, April 21—The attitude of many southerners, white and negro, toward the Ku Klux Klan has changed.

The Klan isn't what it used to be.

At Gainesville, Ga., 50 miles north of here, a negro woman eyed a Ku Klux Klan parade from her porch rocking chair.

A dozen hooded heads turned as she sang out, "send us yo' sheets, white folks, we'll wash 'em." The negroes lining the road grinned broadly and as the parade moved on, a flock of giggling negro children fell in behind, drumming loudly on tin pans.

Opposition Is Seen

Last February at West Columbia, S. C., Dr. Samuel Green, Grand Dragon of the Association of Georgia Klans, told a crowd of Klansmen and curious that unless "white supremacy" was maintained, "the day will come when a black buck negro may ask for your daughter's hand in marriage."

A voice on the outskirts drawled, "well, she can always say 'no,' can't she?"

The terror or respect—take your choice—which the Klan once inspired is diminishing.

When the Klan held its big "Klanvocation" for the initiation of new members into "citizenship" near Stone Mountain, Ga., last fall, a negro minister said he was pressed to keep his people from taking a few pot shots.

At Mumford, Ala., Feb. 20, a 12-year-old boy kicked over a burning cross and doused it in a water hole.

Politicians Oppose Klan

The time has passed when politicians were afraid to speak out against the Klan.

Irate city councils in half a dozen states have passed anti-mask ordinances on the heels of Klan parades.

Many southern governors have denounced the organization and demanded laws against it.

Robed Klansmen have appeared in churches in Atlanta, Miami, and Chattanooga to offer prayers and make substantial contributions. In two cases congregations forced the resignation of pastors.

One Southwide Baptist group condemned such practices as "bribery." They were supported by a Methodist ministers' organization.

Some Violence Still Reported

Within the pattern of change, however, there were still hangovers from the days of direct violence and intimidation.

At Trenton, Ga., Sheriff J. W. Lynch reported robed men took seven negro prisoners from him, carried them to Hooker, Ga., and there flogged the lot.

April 6 in Chattanooga, a 38-year-old railway worker said five unmasked white men invaded his house and beat him severely.

The Klan came into being after the Civil War as a political movement to restore the franchise to ex-Confederates and to wrest control of the south from carpetbaggers and scalawags.

Just before the last Yankee soldier moved north in the 1870's the original Klan disbanded, mission accomplished.

Another Klan did not reappear until the 1920's and then, for nearly two decades, it rode to political power, preaching "white supremacy" and hatred for Catholics and Jews.

This Klan succumbed to internal squabbles, scandals and trouble with the federal government over income taxes.

In 1946 it began to emerge again. This time the Klan denied hatred for any religious group. Dr. Green said the purpose of the Klan is to fight against Communism and for "the southern way of life."

Funds Urged For Citrus Fly Fight

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—An appeal for $150,000 a year to aid Mexico in wiping out an infestation of the citrus blackfly was sent to Congress today by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

He said in a letter that in one area of 4,000 citrus trees where production was 7,500 boxes of fruit in the 1946-47 season, only 15 boxes were harvested last year.

The nearest known infestation, he said, is 250 to 300 miles from the important citrus growing sections of Arizona and California.

Congress also was asked today to provide funds for the Agriculture department to combat the oriental fruit fly, which already is damaging crops in Hawaii.

Pacific Coast Threatened

The plea was made by Rep. John Phillips (R-Calif.) and the American Farm Bureau federation before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee. They said the pest is "a serious threat to the agriculture of the entire Pacific Coast."

Don Parel, associate director of the federation's Washington office, asked that not less than $100,000 be provided to speed research work in Hawaii in hopes of developing a control program. He said no method of control is known now.

Phillips said he understands that agriculture officials of Hawaii and California will ask the committee for $2,000,000 to combat the pest.

A committee aide said under a House-passed money bill for the department $100,000 would be available for the program in the coming year. Phillips said he favors a larger amount.

Phillips also asked restoration of a House cut in funds for Guayule rubber research at Salinas, Calif.

The Agriculture department asked $382,000 for the program and the House cut this to $209,000.

Absence Of Women On Texas Grand Juries Is Challenged

DALLAS, April 21 (INS)—The absence of women on grand juries as provided for by the Texas Constitution, has been challenged by a Dallas attorney.

G. H. (Bud) Crane asked Judge Henry King of a Dallas criminal court to dismiss a forgery indictment against a woman because there were no women on the grand jury that indicted her.

(Once in Dallas history a case the U. S. Supreme court because no negro served on the indicting grand jury.)

Crane asked that he be allowed to prove a contention that woman's rights were being violated by being allowed to call 30 or 40 women witnesses.

He included in his list, "Mrs. Governor Jester," "Mrs. Pappy O'Daniel," and the wives of many other Dallas and state officials.

The judge said he would not subpoena the witnesses unless Crane would give an indication of anticipated testimony.

ADMIRAL HEADS UN PLEBISCITE

Nimitz Expected To Get Quick Action In India, Kashmir Dispute

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 21—Western delegations at the United Nations are gleefully anticipating some head-knocking when a tough old sea dog named Chester W. Nimitz goes into action soon on the diplomatic scene.

The C.W.N. in point is the retired admiral who formerly commanded the U.S. Pacific fleet and served as chief of naval operations.

Plebiscite Poses Problems

Nimitz is about to leave Lake Success for Kashmir, to begin his task of preparing and supervising a plebiscite in that princely state. His official title is UN plebiscite administrator for Kashmir. The vote will decide whether Kashmir is to join Pakistan or India, the two states which fought over the territory last year and finally accepted a UN-negotiated cease-fire.

But the Kashmir hillsmen are themselves a tough collection of gun-toting people. And there has been a good deal of Communist agitation among them.

Then the usual hotheads in both India and Pakistan have to be reckoned with.

Plots Course In Advance

The "old man," as the admiral is referred to by his aides, is fully aware of the pitfalls which await him in Kashmir. Like an old salt smelling dirty weather ahead, he has stayed at Lake Success for some weeks sizing up every angle of the situation and plotting his course.

He has made no secret of the fact that he accepted the job of UN plebiscite administrator for Kashmir only after receiving assurances that he is the boss and that there will be no political medling. Nimitz has never been known for mollycoddling the Navy boys—or for being an unjust taskmaster.

Forcible Methods Used

One of his close friends thinks he has the answer as to how the admiral will deal with any agitating mobs from the hills. He said the admiral will simply do what he did when sent to take over a naval ship where the captain had gone soft and treated the boys with motherly love.

Nimitz briefly explained his mission to the erring captain and granted the latter's request that his "sons' be assembled for a farewell address. It seems the captain had turned life aboard the battleship into a comfortable home, where the lowest-ranking sailor boy and the gold-braided engineer were all "sons" to the old boy. He told the assembled bunch he was leaving them but that each and all remained his "sons."

Then Nimitz took over the microphone and said:

"I am now in command. Okay, you sons of so-and-sos, get forward. On the double and shine, swab and rub."

Aides Accompany Admiral

Nimitz is taking with him to Kashmir some former aides who know him well and who take orders only from "the old man." There are at his command also some seventy-five military officers assigned as observers by the western members, who have privately assured Nimitz that they are on his side.

Nimitz sat around with some of us at Lake Success and indicated that his first guiding principle is: "Attack is the best defense." He does not intend to proceed with guns at his hips but he does intend to poke his finger right into "grass roots" of the country. Nimitz is going to visit every tribe in the hills, snipers and bad boys notwithstanding.

Meetings Scheduled

From Lake Success next week he will fly to Karachi and shake hands with all the dignitaries of Pakistan. He considers such deck-clearing on the diplomatic side highly important to his strategy. Then off he'll go to New Delhi, where he will repeat the hand-shaking formula with the government heads of India.

In both capitals, Nimitz will have long conferences and hear each side of the Kashmir case from the quarreling factions. This despite the fact that at UN he had conferences with Foreign Minister Zafrullah Khan of Pakistan and Chief UN Delegate M. C. Setalvad of India.

Ex-Red Gives Advice

Another consultant Nimitz gave ear to was Dr. Josef Korbel, the former Czech member of the UN conciliation team. The Prague government fired Dr. Korbel some months ago because he is out of sympathy with the Communist party.

All four members of the UN group have said that Dr. Korbel during the time he served in Kashmir was chiefly responsible for negotiating successfully the present cease-fire status. Although technically an iron curtain delegate, he received and would have accepted no orders from the Prague government. At present he is seeking sanctuary in the United States. The new Czech member proceeding to Kashmir is Dr. Ing Oldrich Chyle.

So, as they say in the Navy, the hatches are battened down for a storm.

LIFT THE SHADE

Let Us Have Truth!

INDIVIDUALS are rare and unusually well informed who are aware of the existence of a group known as the Social committee of the United Nations General Assembly. Yet it is engaged in an undertaking of inestimable importance to hopes of enduring peace among men.

Composed of representatives of 45 nations, the committee is attempting to devise a code which will limit censorship and guarantee freedom of information concerning what goes on throughout the world.

The committee has received little publicity during its several months of work. But it has been a matter of general knowledge that the group is finding its task exceedingly difficult, because those in power in the various nations are extremely reluctant to surrender the varying degrees of control they exercise over news pertaining to them and their regimes. Their attitude —and the offenders include the United States and Great Britain—is ample proof that they fear the political consequences to themselves if their people are given access to the unvarnished truth about their doings.

But reports are that the committee is making progress.

In the course of time it will submit recommendations to the U.N. General Assembly. It is entirely too much to expect that the recommendations and the code finally adopted will eliminate the evils and dangers of selfish censorship.

But it seems reasonable to expect that the results of present work will mark definite progress toward the time when wars cannot be hatched in complete secrecy and when corrupt administrations can keep absolute gags upon those who would expose their corruption. Progress seems likely to be discouragingly slow for a long time but it is, at least, in the right direction.

Worth Attending

RECOMMENDED without reservation to every person who can arrange to attend them are the 17th annual Engineering show and the 13th annual Home Economics Open House at Texas Technological college today and tomorrow.

The events should be of particular and special interest to boys and girls, as well as their parents, who are approaching college age and who are undecided as to the school they may attend.

A visit to the Engineering show and/or the Home Economics Open House—both are well worth seeing—may help many of these young people make one of the most important decisions of their lives.

Naturally and properly, in choosing a college they will want the very best available to them. Those who hope, or expect, to specialize in engineering or home economics can see for themselves during the next two days some of the reasons why Texas Tech is ranked with the best in the nation and world in these fields of higher education.

It would be difficult to imagine any person who would not be interested, out of sheer curiosity if for no other reason, in the two events. Visits to the show and the open house will be well worth the time of anyone. If the visitor happens to be interested in Texas Tech —as every resident of Lubbock and the South Plains should be—he will have special reasons for trips to the Tech campus during the next two days.

The Engineering show will be open from 2 until 10 p.m. today and tomorrow; the open house from 2 until 10 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. tomorrow. Admission, of course, will be free.

JOHN HENRY squinted at the luminous dial of his wrist watch. It was nearly four hours since they'd left the Bar C Ranch. The moon was directly overhead now, melting the shadows at the bottom of the tortuous canyons.

He stood up in the stirrups and tried to find a more comfortable position.

Sin twisted around on her horse, her tired face pale in the moonlight. "Something wrong, honey?"

"I was just wishing this horse and I would have a meeting of minds," he called. "We've met every place else."

Beyond her, Trim halted his horse and said, "Not so much talking please. If Barselou hears us—"

John Henry lapsed into moody silence The constant prospect of sheer canyon after sheer canyon was monotonous He punched a knee into his horse and it stopped. "I meant giddap, Nightmare," he said wearily and tried a heel. He came up alongside the other two riders.

"You do think we must be nearly there, don't you, Mr. Trim?" Sin was asking anxiously.

The Federal agent was indefatigable. He sat erect and alert in the saddle, apparently as fresh as when they had ridden away from the ranch house. His narrow shoulders shrugged under the blue buccaneer coat. "I hope you can answer that better than I can, Mrs. Conover. How many more numbers are there?"

Sin pushed her eyes shut and put her hands to her cheeks. She felt wrung dry. "I don't know," she confessed finally. "Two or three, I guess. They just seem to come one at a time."

Trim pushed his cocked hat back farther on his bald head and grinned encouragement. "Didn't mean to hound you. Guess I'm getting a little worn down myself. I keep worrying over what the office would say if they could see me now. What's next?"

TRIM flicked his reins and began to move toward the next gap in the high stone corridor. The Conovers trailed after him. Sin drooped in the saddle, her hair bouncing at every lurch of her horse. Her husband put over a comforting hand and stroked her shoulder. She lifted her head and smiled wanly at him.

For a while after they made the turn into a new chasm, there was no sound except the clip-clop of hoofs and the occasional swish of a tail. A spark enlivened the gloom now and then as an iron shoe glanced off rock. The walls, oddly carved by the wind, towered almost 100 feet over their heads.

Trim reined in. He lifted his pug nose upward, sniffing. Sin whispered, "What is it?"

"We're getting close," Trim muttered.

"How come? Whoa, Nightmare!"

"Do you smell anything?" The Conovers sniffed tentatively. "I caught a whiff of smoke just then. Campfire."

"Barselou?"

"Maybe." Trim sucked air over his teeth. "Or Mr. Jones."

John Henry's sleepiness disappeared as excitement hit him like a cold shower. Sin's eyelids quit drooping. "I'm scared," she said needlessly.

"The horses make noise enough. I don't have to warn you two to be quiet from now on."

"I'll say you don't."

The FBI man straightened in his saddle. "What's the next one, Mrs. Conover?"

Sin squinted studiously. The number seemed to elude her. "Left —left—two" she said doubtfully.

Trim's horse plodded forward.

THEY passed the first gray mouth of a canyon on the left. Sin caught her first scent of burning wood. Despite the danger it presaged, the familiar fragrance abated her nervousness. There was other human life in all this desolation.

She frowned suddenly. They had passed the second left-hand canyon. Sin cupped her hands beside her mouth and called after the little pirate softly. Trim wheeled his mount around and rode back. John Henry caught up with them once more.

"What is it, Mrs. Conover?"

"You've made a mistake," Sin explained. "We passed the second canyon just then."

"Oh, that," deprecated Trim. "You were the one who made the mistake — not I. Your memory's phenomenal, Mrs. Conover. But that last direction should be 'left three,' not 'left two.'"

He dropped his reins on his saddle horn and opened his fist. Lying in the palm was a strip of oiled paper, a narrow curling strip of directions which began, R-1, L-3, R-2 . . .

Sin's lips moved but no sound came out. John Henry's mouth hung open loosely.

With his other hand Trim plucked the wooden pistol from his belt. He let John Henry stare at the cork on the string that was stuck in the muzzle. "Please be sensible, both of you. The cork is laughable but it comes out—followed by a very real bullet."

John Henry saw his world reeling around his head. He spoke and didn't know what he said. "Mr. Jones," he croaked, "I presume?"

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

A dowager of my acquaintance looked at me through her lorgnette and said:

"It seems to me that in that column of yours you glorify failure. Why don't you glorify success?"

I changed the subject, but when I got home I looked in my dictionary to find the real meaning of the word "failure."

BRANDEIS

On the way to "f" I stopped at "d" and "dowager."

Here is how "dowager" is defined:

"1. Eng. Law. A widow enjoying some property, esp. a title coming from her deceased husband. 2. Colloq. An elderly woman of dignity."

And both definitions fitted by critic, the latter one probably because it is always easy for a woman to be dignified when she has been left a lot of money by a deceased husband.

So, on to "failure" I went in my dictionary.

There are several definitions:

"A deficiency, lack; omission to perform; deterioration; decay; a becoming insolvent; bankruptcy."

Is that what I "glorify" in my column?

Is deterioration and decay what my dowager acquaintance and thousands of snobs consider the simple, decent, normal lives that millions of their fellow humans lead?

When I glorify what the dowager calls "failure," it certainly is not sour grapes.

My wife and I have enough —acquired by hard work and saving— to enjoy many of the little luxuries that are so enticingly advertised in the so-called snob magazines.

But do we want them?

Well, let us see. I have one of those magazines right in front of me.

"A belt buckle in solid silver with your initials in gold, $45. Belt to go with it, $12.50." No, thank you.

"A tea and coffee service complete with tray and hot water urn, $1800." $1800, invested at 4%, brings $72 a year interest. We have a tea and coffee set that cost less than half of one year's interest on $1800, and the tea and coffee taste just as good.

"L'Heure Bleue, a celebrated perfume at $27 a bottle." I can have many an "heure bleue" (meaning blue hour, in case you forgot you French) by just thinking how much money I wasted before I came to my senses.

"Neckties, $8.50 and up." One of my joys in life is being able to go around without a necktie.

"Give her DIAMONDS in April!" I shall do nothing of the kind.

Now here is something! "A Parisienne, bill and zipper compartment $10. A gold Cigaretiere only $6 and $7.50. A Poudriere, inner door for loose powder, $5. A Petit Checkfold, about $10." Frenchified names but American money.

And so it goes. Page after page of nonsense, of sucker bait, of suggestions that to be successful you must be a wastrel.

OVER LONG DELAYS

Solons Clash Again

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Although the Senate has taken steps to abolish filibusters at this session, the 81st Congress threatens to develop into a legislative filibuster that will necessitate a summer sitting or a presidential demand for a special session early in the fall.

Both sides are exchanging recriminations over the "do nothing" state in cloakroom arguments. The Republicans cite their opponents' insistence on bringing up the Civil Rights issue and the allied problem of cloture immediately after the gavel fell in January.

TUCKER

In view of the knowledge that action was almost impossible, and that the ensuing debate would make for delay, they charge the leadership with a deliberate attempt to stall.

CHARGES: The Democrats, on the other hand, point to the Republicans' insistence in dragging out discussion of the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Pact and the proposal that the United States should rearm the western European nations and other signatories.

The Barkley-Connally group will try to wind up Foreign Affairs Committee hearings as quickly as posible, but they will find it difficult to shorten the floor debate.

In making their charges, the Republicans suggest that President Truman is not too willing to keep the Congress here for the hot months, or to bring them back after a short vacation. Such a situation would leave him in a position—again—to place blame for inaction on the opposition. It would at least serve to dramatize the indictment.

THEORY: But the Republicans, as well as some Democrats, doubt whether the White House would be able to make the charge stick a second time. They feel that failure to translate his 1948 campaign pledges into law might react against him on the theory that he did not provide forceful or effective leadership.

Several groups which voted for him, particularly racial minorities interested in Civil Rights legislation, have already begun to criticize him.

TRAIL: Republican bigwigs have made tentative plans to trail President Truman around the country if he makes good on his threat to take to the stump to arouse the people against Congressional inaction. And it may be that a few Democrats will answer him, if and when he assails them for their role in blocking his program.

The G.O.P.-ers will not let the President win an oratorical victory this time, as they feel that Governor Thomas E. Dewey did last fall.

Unless the men on Capitol Hill show unexpected activity before they call it a legislative day, the Taft-Vandenberg-Wherry group believe that the record of the 80th Congress will compare more than favorably with the accomplishments of the current session.

They will also make the point, which Mr. Dewey did not dare to emphasize because of the "me too" nature of his own campaign, that Mr. Truman knew it would be impossible to redeem all his promises, and that he advanced such a comprehensive program only to win votes.

TARGET: John L. Lewis' unexpected attempt to gain a thirty-hour week for his miners in May-June contract negotiations has made him the target of salesmen for mining machinery. They do not look upon him as an actual buyer, but they think he may use his influence to force the operators to install even more of this kind of equipment.

The president of the United Mine Workers, in discussing the economic aspect of the shorter work-week, has been quoted as saying that miners could produce fully as much coal in thirty hours a week as they do now in thirty-five. So the salesmen seek a chance to demonstrate how it can be done.

FAME: What is James A. Farley up to now?

That is the most frequently heard question in Democratic political circles at the present moment. The activities of the former National Chairman and Postmaster General have provoked suggestions that he still entertains White House ambitions.

The soft drink executive has been making speeches at the rate of about two a month, and he talks on domestic and world questions rather than on business matters. His seemingly most popular address, with himself as well as with his audiences, lists the qualities which, in his opinion, make a successful political leader.

It has received excellent editorial comment, most of which credits "Big Jim" with possessing the very virtues which he regards as essential in the field of party politics.

Another reason for the belief that Mr. Farley has not forsworn public affairs is that his friends on Capitol Hill usually insert his remarks in the Congressional Record, which is a sure way of keeping his name and fame from being forgotten.

Women are persistent cusses. In California the other day a woman hunter wounded a deer, and failing to finish it off by hitting it in the head with a club, pushed it into a river and drowned it.

"Time and space are at war," asserts a relativist. Well, we hope space will win as we believe we could get along without time easier than without somewhere to keep ourselves and other things.

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 21 — Something has been said here before about the double-barreled campaign of big industry and finance against progressive measures and progressive government policies in the public interest.

There is, first, the legislative arena in Congress where they are more active than ever, as daily events demonstrate. There is, second, the much-less-publicized field of government commissions created by Congress to administer, as agents of Congress, laws enacted by Congress to protect the public interest in one way or another. These commissions are servants of the public, not of special interests.

STOKES

Appointment Is Noted

In this second field, big industrial and financial interests are alert today, as always, to try to mold these commissions on their particular and special viewpoint. This they do by bringing pressure on the Senate for or against confirmation of appointments to such commissions by the President. Now, in two notable current cases, they are in opposition, for President Truman has been conscious of the public responsibility of these commissions in his appointees.

One, discussed here before, is his nomination of Thomas C. Buchanan of Pennsylvania to the Federal Power commission, which is delegated to protect the public and consumer in electric and gas rates. Electric and natural-gas utilities have been able to bottle up his nomination in the Senate Interstate Commerce committee for months. Mr. Buchanan aroused their enmity by his stand for the public interest, rather than their special interest, as a member of the Pennsylvania public utilities commission a few years ago.

Now the big special interests are starting to roll out their thunder through all the avenues of propaganda available to them against the President's appointment of John Carson to the Federal Trade commission, the agency created by Congress in the Woodrow Wilson administration to administer statutes against monopoly and unfair trade practices, and thus protect the public and honest business.

Many of us have known John Carson for years — as an able and thorough newspaperman with a passion for facts; as secretary to the late Senator James Couzens (R-Mich) for whom he was a strong right arm in effective and courageous service; as consumer's counsel to the Bituminous Coal commission, in which he was zealous for the public interest; and in recent years as director of research and information for the Co-operative League Of the United States, representing the now-well - established co - operative movement that has proved so successful for farmers and consumers.

John Carson's major crime seems to be intellectual curiosity which, it is true, is rare enough to arouse envy and suspicion, though it is the quality that has made our nation great and strong. Another crime seems to be that he has been a public servant, in one capacity or another, all of his mature life. In that capacity he has learned the facts of our economic life, how inequalities are created and who creates them. He knows too much for some of the big interests, which prefer that the public not know too much about some of their operations.

Statement Is Quoted

Some of his enemies have dug up against him, out of context, a statement he made before a special Senate committee on economic planning in 1945 to the effect that "the world of competitive capitalism began to have its death rattles in 1929 and it has been in convulsions ever since." Without attempting to speak for Mr. Carson, who is quite capable of speaking for himself, it might be suggested that he was merely stating a fact.

Our people and our Congress recognized this grim fact by numerous measures to readjust our capitalistic economy to modern conditions during the 1930's, in which John Carson had his part, though always with an independent mind and with criticism of some things that were attempted to rescue our economy. We are still readjusting our economy, but against considerable opposition from those who now are fighting John Carson, as their kind have fought the John Carsons through all history.

When he left the bituminous coal commission he chose as his field of continued public service the co-operative movement which was sanctioned first in the farm field early in the 1920's by a Republican Congress as a means of helping the farmer to meet some of his problems by common organized effort and has now developed in other fields, including that of the consumer, as a means of adapting our capitalistic economy to changing needs.

John Carson is just the sort of eyes, ears, mind and conscience the public needs on the Federal Trade commission. He is a symbol about which the public can rally in the continuing battle for economic justice. He is a fine symbol because he is a scrapper in the best tradition of old-fashioned American progressivism, and his battle is all of ours.

Wall Street

MARKET IN SHARP DROP

NEW YORK, April 21. (AP)—The stock market broke out of a narrow price range with sudden violence today.

Prices dropped fractions to 3 points. Pivotal stocks and those with a speculative tinge were equally affected. The year's all decline was one of the largest of the year.

The general level of prices was forced down to the lowest since Feb. 28.

The day's business of 1,300,000 shares was the largest since 1,850,000 shares on March 30.

The market made its move without warning.

Here is a sampling of some recent developments that Wall Street does not like:

Price reductions, failure of Congress to produce satisfactory labor legislation, a long decline in business loans, the strikingly unfavorable report on first quarter earnings issued by American Woolen Co., curtailment of operations by some businesses and the Chinese incident.

Down a point or more were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, Goodrich, Firestone, Boeing, United Aircraft, Lockheed, American Smelting, Dupont, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, American Woolen, International Paper, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, Amerada Petroleum, and Phillips Petroleum.

American Telephone stood out as one of the few steady spots; the closing quotation was unchanged at 144.

In the curb declines were posted for Kaiser-Frazer, Creole Petroleum, American Maracaibo, Cities Service, Electric Bond and Share, Imperial Oil, New Mexico, Arizona Land, and Technicolor.

Moderate declines were general in the bond market.

Boys Who Admitted Trying To Wreck Train Placed In Custody

AMARILLO, April 21 (AP)—Two youngsters who admitted trying to wreck a Fort Worth and Denver passenger train last month were placed today in the custody of the U. S. attorney general's department.

Federal district Judge Joe B. Dooley ordered Weldon Ray Clapper, 14, in custody of the department for three years, and Jimmy Coy Johnson, 12, for five years.

They pleaded guilty to attempting to wreck a streamline zephyr near Tascosa, Tex., on March 27. Both lived at Boy's ranch, on the Canadian river, near the scene of the attempt.

Renewal of guerrilla attacks has recently increased business gloom in Greece.

Opera Singer Is Slain In Atlanta

ATLANTA, April 21 (AP) — A handsome Metropolitan opera tenor died today on the sharp note of a pistol with a cindery alley for a stage.

He was identified by City Detective J. M. Pack as Hans J. K. Gareis, 35, who sang under the name of John Garris.

So far as police were concerned there was not a single clue as to who killed the rising young star, a native of Frankfurt-On-Main, Germany, or why.

While police here set about the routine job of tracing Garris' last movements—a baffling job—two detectives left in a chartered plane for Memphis, Tenn., to intercept the train carrying the opera company.

The company had just completed a three night stand in Atlanta and was slated to make a single appearance in Memphis.

The first news of Garris' death reached the opera's general manager, Edward Johnson, when reporter Carolyn Breaux of the Tri-Cities Daily boarded the train at Sheffield, Ala.

Miss Breaux said a porter told her that he had checked Garris aboard the train but that he left, saying he was going to play cards with friends.

The case broke when a negro porter, Love Thomas, came upon Garris' body.

Detective Pack said Garris' body was laid out carefully, almost as if he were resting between acts. The blond singer's feet were crossed casually, and his hands thrown back as if asleep.

Pack said the man's identification papers, money and watch were untouched.

For Garris it was an ignominious end for one who had followed the footlights across Europe to Greece to America. Born in 1913, Garris had been a singer, concert pianist and conductor until Hitler rose to power and the war began. He fled to Greece and subsequently to the United States, arriving in 1941.

CONFERENCE CLAIMED STAGED

Speakers At Red 'Peace' Meet Continue Attacks Against U. S.

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, April 21 — Speakers at the Communist-dominated world peace Congress today denounced war, the U. S. State department and "Yankee imperialism." They praised peace, Stalin and Russia.

The State department in Washington placed its own label on the conference. A department statement said the meeting is one of a series designed to "make people think that the Soviet Union alone favors peace."

The statement pointed out that many of those participating were active in a similar conference in Ney York last month.

French Group Assail Meet

A group of non-Communist French leftists in Paris assailed the peace Congress as one-sided. They banded together as the democratic revolutionary rally and developed plans for a world peace organization of their own, beginning with a double mass meeting here April 30.

At the Communist-inspired Congress speaker after speaker attacked the North Atlantic treaty, the Marshall Plan for European recovery and American policy in general. There were a few kind words for the "American people" as distinguished from their government.

Konni Zilliacus, leftwing British legislator, said the "workers of Britain will not fight or be dragged into fighting the Soviet Union."

Mexican Hails Charges

Once Zilliacus, a member of the Labor party, veered far enough to remark that the blame for the Berlin crisis was "mixed and distributed on both sides." There was no applause then.

The delegates also failed to applaud when Zilliacus said American economic aid had done "some good things" in Europe. He declared this aid was "too much mixed up with military policy."

Vicente Lombardo Toledano, Mexican leader of the leftwing Latin American Labor Federation (CTAL), said "Yankee imperialism" now is reaching its zenith after a century of growth beginning with the war against Mexico. Now this "imperialism" wants to dominate the world, he said.

School Bill Stalled

and other private schools along with public school attendance in dishing out extra state cash under the program to school districts was killed 72 to 50.

Bill Gives School Blueprint

Backers of Lock's bill did not consider any of the adopted amendments crippling. They accepted several, and knocked down others.

The Lock bill is a detailed blueprint of educational standards. It proposes to help finance the public schools by application of a formula to balance what each school district would pay in relation to its economic ability and that of all other districts.

Under the Lock bill, the state would continue to pay regular per capita aid to schools on the basis of the number of children shown in the school census. If local support and this per capita should not be enough to guarantee the minimum program, the district would receive additional aid. The additional help would be figured on the basis of average daily public school attendance.

Rep. R. B. Spacek of Fayetteville proposed the amendment which would have counted private school pupils in alloting this extra aid in district having 2,000 or fewer school age children. It was strongly supported by Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake Rep. William A. Miller, jr., of Houston and others.

Amendment Rejected

McLellan said if the amendment were not accepted it would deprive children in districts where there are many parochial and private schools of their constitutional rights.

Rep. George Nokes, House sponsor of the Lock bill, countered that the amendment was unreasonable.

After the House tabled Spacek's amendment, McLellan moved to have the bill sent back to the education committee for a ruling by the attorney general on constitutionality of this provision. Acting Speaker William S. Jameson of El Paso ruled it would not be in order until

New Oil Development Underway In North-Central Scurry Test

A new Canyon-Pennsylvania discovery has been developed in North-Central Scurry county. About six miles north of the town of Snyder, oil flowed on two drillstem tests at Ryan, Hays & Burke No. 1 R. B. Brown, wildcat.

The venture topped the Canyon reef at 6,530 feet, drilled ahead to 6,594 feet and drillstem tested for 15 minutes with packer at 6,540 feet.

Gas reached the surface in three minutes, drilling mud in eight minutes and oil flowed at the top in 10 minutes. The well flowed to pits and there was no official estimate or gauge on recovery. However, observers say it flowed at the rate of approximately 25 barrels of oil per hour.

A second test of the reef was taken at 6,593-6,644 feet, with the tool open two hours and 25 minutes. In two and one-half minutes after the tool was opened, gas reached the surface. It was followed by drilling mud in 47 minutes and oil in 53 minutes.

The well flowed to tanks for one hour, producing 16 barrels of oil. Gravity of the petroleum was 42 degrees. Gos-oil ratio was 570-1. There was no water.

Operation of this development has been taken over by Sunray Oil Corporation. A string of 5½-inch casing has been set at 6,535 feet, leaving open hole to 6,644 feet, total depth. The new operator is to make production tests and complete the project.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 8, section 20, J. P. Smith survey.

Nearest production to this strike is about three miles to the north, where pay is from the Canyon in the North Snyder field. Whether the development is a new discovery or a long south extension to the pool can be determined only by further exploration.

C. L. Norsworthy, jr., of Dallas is starting operations by April 25 on a 7,300-foot, rotary tool wildcat in West-Central Scurry county as his No. 1 E. H. Williamson.

The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of the E. H. Williamson tract in section 256, block 97, H&TC survey, which puts it eight miles west of Snyder and in the general area of the Diamond M field.

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware drillstem tested a deep lime and shale formation in East-Central Gaines county with its No. 1 Doss, wildcat 10 miles southwest of the Cedar Lake field.

The tool was open 30 minutes at 12,281-12,337 feet, using a 2,900-foot water blanket. A slight blow of air held at the top for 15 minutes.

Recovery was the water blanket and 40 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water. More hole was being made below 12,346 feet in lime, shale and chert.

Standard Oil Company of Texas has completed two more commercial oil wells from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian in the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county.

The concern's No. 3-2 Brown, 1,960 feet from north and 680 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey, flowed 555 barrels of oil per day through a 10/64-inch choke on a 24-hour potential.

Gas-oil ratio was 830-1. There was no water. Production was natural from the open hole at 6,557-6,877 feet.

The other new Canyon producer is Stanotex No. 3-3 Brown, 1,960 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 449, block 97, H&TC survey.

Flowing natural from the open hole pay zone at 6,536-6,846 feet, it was finished for 498 barrels of oil daily, with no water and a gas-oil ratio of 893-1. The flow was through a 15/64-inch choke.

Drilling was continuing at two deep widcats by Sinclair Prairie Oil Company.

The company's No. 1, Lindly, extreme South-Central Lynn county venture, one mile north of O'Donnell and 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 47, block 8, GL&RR survey, was below 7,630 feet in lime.

In Northwest Borden county, 11 miles northwest of the town of Gail, Sinclair No. 1 Sterling Williams was beyond 7,276 feet, penetrating lime and shale.

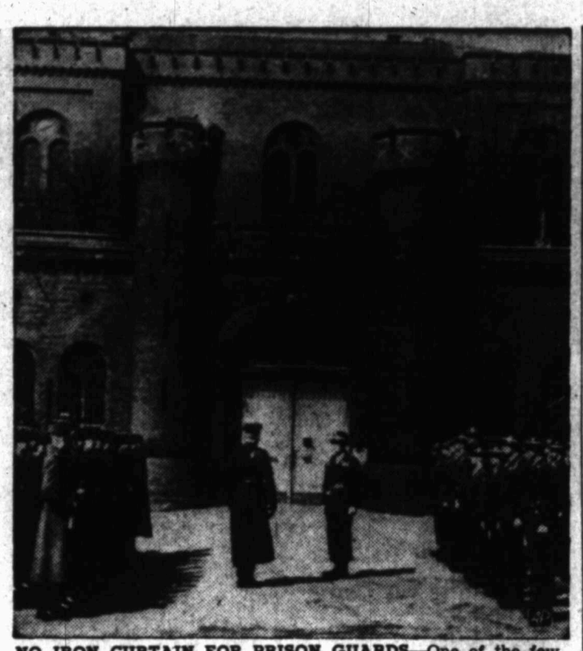

It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, T-6-N, TP survey.

Maryland City Commemorates First Religious Toleration Act

ST. MARY'S CITY, Md., April 21. (AP)—A world beset by warring beliefs was remined today by the free state of Maryland that religious toleration was written into law here 300 years ago.

Representatives of various faiths, civil and political leaders gathered in this old community to commemorate the act of toleration, passed April 21, 1649.

Schools and churches all across the state joined in remembering the work of a group of lawmakers who were among the world's leaders in lending force to the view that different religious convictions may exist amicably side by side.

The speakers, headed by Governor William Preston Lane, jr., and former U. S. Senator George L. Radcliffe, hailed the act as a triumph in the long battle for freedom of conscience.

Some were quick to point out that the battle is not everywhere won. This was underscored by the presence of State department representatives, with its Voice of America planning to beam abroad an account of the ceremonies.

The main observance this morning was before the yellowed parchment original of the act in St. Mary's seminary, a stone's throw from the ancient state house grounds.

Detroit Youth Admits Brutal Slaying Of Six-Year-Old Boy

DETROIT, April 21 (U.P.) — A 19-year-old youth today admitted slaying a six-year-old Detroit boy whose body was found brutally slashed, beaten and burned in a Detroit garage basement.

Theodore Hilles, object of an intensive search after the body of George Counter was found early today, was arrested by state police 1½ miles west of Pinckney, Mich., 45 miles northwest of here.

State police said the youth, described as mentally dull, admitted the sordid slaying. Hilles was taken to East Lansing until Detroit authorities arrived.

Lamesa Cleanup Drive Scheduled

LAMESA, April 21. (Special)—The annual Clean-Up campaign for Lamesa will begin this year on May 8, and an intensive drive on a block and zone basis will be waged for a week throughout the city.

Dates and plans for the drive have been set by the civic improvement committee of chamber of commerce, which is headed by Ernest L. Moody. J. R. Earnest has been named chairman of the clean-up campaign

Meetings Scheduled

A number of meetings will be held before the drive outlining plans and procedure. All civic clubs here have pledged their cooperation to help make the drive swift and successful.

Zone chairman and block chairman will be named as in past successful campaigns, and every individual will be urged to take a part in ridding Lamesa of all unsanitary elements.

Lamesans will be spurred in their efforts by the threat of polio, and the desire to keep the dread disease to a minimum as in recent years.

City manager J. D. Willson reported that alleys would be sprayed at frequent intervals again this summer, and that an ordinance requiring closed garbage cans would be enforced.
