"At Estacado High School" Junior Board of Directors

Michael Marquez and Tresa Brown, seniors at Estacado High School, are participating in a Junior Board of Directors program through the American Bank of Commerce in Lubbock.

They began their duty last January, 1990, and their term expires in December.

American Bank of Commerce selected two junior students from each city high school to represent their school on the Junior Board of Directors. The students meet once a month at the bank. They are assigned a mentor within the bank and they are given a free checking account. The meetings include programs on banking services and community involvement.

At the second meeting last spring, Michael was elected Vice President of the Junior Board and Tresa was elected secretary.

Estacado teachers Polly Kiker and Paula Weldon are campus sponsors for the program.

Community Spirit Alive And Well!!

Ronnie Calkins, manager of the 7-11 Store Parkway, is making a commitment to keep the spirit alive at Estacado High School. He believes that "getting parents and students to work together to promote excitement about school activities can make a difference in the effort to build a drug-free and gang-free society." And he's willing to back up his beliefs with goods and services to area high school youths and their parents.

Due to Calkins' efforts, the Parkway 7-11 Store provides cokes for the Estacado cheerleaders during home games, furnishes hot dogs for the Estacado Booster Club to sell, and donates friasbees and whistles to Estacado fans all in the name of School Spirit and a "let's get excited about school" attitude.

Mr. Calkins and the Parkway 7-11 Store plan to help make the Estacado Homecoming game even more special by providing hundreds of blue and white balloons to be released during half-time festivities. Aside from these perks, the Parkway 7-11 will be providing services in the form of a concession stand for the Junior Varsity football game held at Estacado Football Stadium beginning October 4.

Along with the 7-11 Corporation, Calkins is doing what he can to make sure that the dream of being able to provide $1,000 plus college scholarships to district high school students becomes a reality.

Three cheers to Calkins and others like him who accept the challenge and inspire us all to keep the flame of community and school spirit alive in Lubbock, Texas.

Speaking to Black Ministers: Aguero Questions Jones Vote On Skinhead Legislation

Bidal Aguero

"A person who votes in favor of not punishing skinheads who deface a church or community center should not be representing District 83 and especially the minority community," said Bidal Aguero candidate for State Representative at last Thursday's Ministerial Alliance meeting.

Aguero is seeking to be elected as a democrat to the District 83 representative seat against republican incumbent Delwin Jones. The seat was previously held by Froy Salinas and Ron Givens. District 83 covers most of Lubbock's north and east sides and including Slaton, Woodrow, Wolforth and Carlisle.

During his presentation Aguero pointed out Delwin Jones' vote on Hate Crimes bill (HB 1777). Aguero said that Jones had voted to table the Hate Crimes bill which was proposed in response to attacks against churches, temples, and community centers by skinheads and other extremists. "The Hate Crimes bill would have made damage or destruction of a place of worship or community center a felony; it also would have stiffened the penalties for any crime motivated by religious, ethnic, or racial prejudice," said Aguero.

"We, in District 83, must start to elect persons that are really going to represent our needs. It doesn't matter if they return calls and donate money. What really counts is how they vote in the legislature," said Aguero.

The democratic candidate has been recently running ads in the Southwest Digest pointing out his community involvement and participation in the community. In the ads he outlines his community involvement spanning 26 years which included receiving a Freedom award from the NAACP and being a plaintiff in the civil rights suit which enabled minority representation on the school board. He is currently involved in a civil rights suit which will bring minority representation to the Buffalo Springs Lake Board of Directors.

In an exclusive interview with the Digest, Aguero said that he would run a campaign based on his community involvement and on the issues. "We are not going to attack Delwin on any of his personal history but we are going to question him on how he voted and if he is truly representing the needs of the people of District 83."

Aguero said in the interview that he would expect mud to be slung in the upcoming campaign, "because we can expect that from republicans."

Trooper Kenneth D. Brown

Meet Our New State Trooper

Austin -- Trooper Kenneth D. Brown, 23, has graduated from the Texas Department of Public Safety Training Academy and has been assigned to the Highway Patrol Service in Plainview, Texas.

Trooper Brown was one of 100 cadets recently commissioned as Texas state troopers in graduation ceremonies at the DPS Administrative Headquarters in Austin. Trooper Brown, a native of Lubbock, Texas, assumes his new police officer duties immediately.

Colonel Joe Milner, DPS director, said he's very proud of the new troopers and is looking forward to their service with the Department.

These men and women received a comprehensive 22-week course extensively covering the many responsibilities of DPS troopers," Col. Milner said. "They have been well-trained to uphold the laws of this state in routine as well as hazardous law enforcement circumstances."

"A Texas trooper must perform a number of different tasks in addition to enforcing traffic laws. The trooper will assist in narcotics arrests and other felony cases as well as manhaunts and disaster situations," Milner pointed out.

The DPS training course included comprehensive instruction in traffic law, criminal law, arrest procedures, accident investigation, and numerous other law enforcement related topics.

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

The theme of last Sunday at New Hope Baptist Church was: "The wicked flee when no one is pursuing, but the righteous are as bold as a lion." Proverbs 28:1.

Rev. Billy R. Moton, pastor, gave his pastoral observation. Each Sunday, Pastor Moton does all he can to advise the congregation of important matters we all should be concerned about.

The message of the hour, preached by Pastor Moton, was entitled: "Sulkin or Power was entitled: "Power Can Be Dangerous." His text was II Kings 21:1. Everyone of the community needed to hear this message. So many in church needed to hear what he had to say. My Lord, what a wonderful message!

Our visitors were welcomed by Sister Celestine Kyle who always does a beautiful job making people feel at home.

CRAZY HORSE

by
Stephen C. McIntyre

They are trying to build a waste incinerator in Colorado City, Levelland and Lubbock. They are trying to dump waste in Roby. They are trying to open up the WIPP site in Carlsbad. They tried to turn Heretford into a nuclear waste dump. They know that West Texas lacks political clout in Austin and Washington. And they know that after the upcoming redistricting we will have even less political power. They have been listening to our elected political leaders and have heard silence. It looks like they are going to get away with it.

Last Friday we shut down our law office, packed up the kids and drove down to Ft. Stockton to hand out $30,000 to a group of farm workers. It was one of the more pleasant aspects of being a lawyer. Those workers will need the money to survive the upcoming months.

Friday night, I watched the late news from my Ft. Stockton motel room concerning the closing down of the Federal government by the Reaganistas. And Clayton Williams refuses to debate the issues with Ann Richards. Unfortunately, the possibility of electing another Bill Clements to head this state is upon us. The Texas education system has been declared unconstitutional again, the prisons are filling up, and on and on.... And we may have another goofy so-called businessman playing as governor in a few months.

The people, working people of this state and country, are entitled to better. We watch talking heads on the TV spitting out 30 seconds of smiles and fluff that is styled to convince us who to vote for in November.

Both parties are locked into the current electioneering system and all the polls say most of the public is fed up, tuned out, and won't be participating in the upcoming elections.

Obviously some is going to win the upcoming elections. And the winner will claim a mandate from the people. That is a joke.

The time is coming when things will have to change. Business as usual ain't working. There are simply too many important things to deal with to allow the current failing process to continue: negative campaigning, PAC's spending money, soft money, dirty tricks, millionaire's business political offices....

We have to do something about our environment pretty soon or it may be too late. We have to do something about our education system or we will slip into obscurity. There are complex problems concerning prisons, health care, infrastructure or our state, banking, taxes, oil....

This election may be the one that finally breaks the camel's back. We shall see.

Last Tuesday night Carlos Fuentes spoke at Texas Tech concerning the future of the Western Hemisphere. He is the former Mexican Ambassador to France, he wrote "The Old Gringo" which was made into a movie last year, and he was prohibited by the Reagan Administration from coming into this country for several years.

His speech was interesting. Quite clearly he has a view of the world that is different than the Reaganistas. All of us should make an effort to read and inquire more about what is going on in the world. We should not depend on the local newspaper or network news as our sole source of information. As amazing as it may be to some folks, there are points of view other than th it may be to some folks, there are points of view other than the official line of the Bush Administration repeated by faces on the TV screen.

"I Remember Well"

by
Grace Middleton Pierce

I remember well and the lesson was well taught!

I remember well the devastating delusion when we would take up: flight like Blackbirds as winter beckon; seeking a new way of life that another place promised.

I remember well the dark and shabby shack that stood beside some lonely and deserted road. The shack we labored to make clean, while our father talked to some white man about his crops.

I remembered well the early sunrise that crept across the fields as the smoky fog played along the earth. I remember the sadness I felt when my sisters and brother walked across the fields, their cotton sacks wrapped about their shoulders, leaving me and my mother alone with loneliness. I remember well the times I spent with my mother, because I was yet too young for labor....

In the picture of my mind I remember their long tired walk back to that shack we now called home, as the bleeding sun bid them goodnight at the close of the day.

I remember their cold rough hands cut and bruised from cotton stalks, backs stooped from the heaviness of their sacks, their shoulders rubbed raw and bleeding.

I remember well the forlorn faces of the people I love, representing emptiness and despair. And the quietness, the quietness that surrounded us all.

I remember so well the look of age on those faces.

I remember the promises my father made and dreams he dreamt, dreams that kept us alive. Dreams that helped us endure shabby shacks by lonely roads.

Now after years of pushing the past into the past, I look at my sister and brother who survived that lifetime and on their face I see wisdom, courage, and strength. And I remember so well the look of age on those faces.

So we give Great Honor to this woman, our mother, from their womb we were set free; my brother, my sister and me.

We give Great Honor to this man, our father, for the strength from within he shaped.

We give Great Honor to our parents, creating the closeness and love of a family stranger than the roots of any tree. My brother, my sister and me.

I remember well.

Ask Bob Bullock

Dear Bob Bullock:

I would like to offer dog obedience training along with my veterinary services. Is dog obedience training taxable?

D. L. B.
College Station

Dear D. L. B.:

Dog obedience training isn't taxable unless you're training guard dogs -- security services are taxable. But sales tax is due on anything dog owners buy to go with the training, such as a handbook or a leash.

Dear Bob Bullock:

If my husband and I rent Halloween costumes for our roles in the haunted house at our son's school carnival, do we pay tax? All proceeds from the carnival are going to buy computers for the kids.

R. P.
Austin

Dear R. P.:

Even though you'll be dressing up for a good cause, the costume rental is taxable.

Dear Bob Bullock:

My business partner and I have parted ways, leaving me running our business alone. Do I need to let your office know about the change?

C. A.
Houston

Dear C. A.:

Yes, you need to contact the Comptroller's office and apply for a new tax permit as the sole owner of the business.

Dear Bob Bullock:

I'm starting a new business and am confused about how often to file my sales tax return. I understand your office takes returns monthly, quarterly and yearly. How do I know how often to file my return?

J. W.
El Paso

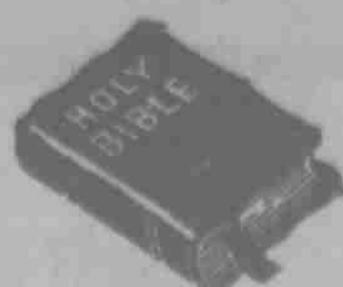

Dear J. W.:

When you apply for a sales tax permit, you will estimate how much state sales tax you expect your business to collect.

If your estimate is $1,000 a year or less, you may file yearly returns.

If you expect to collect more than $1,000 a year, but less than $1,500 per quarter, you must file quarterly returns.

If you think you will collect $1,500 or more per quarter, or $500 or more per month, you will be required to file monthly returns.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

Members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met in the lovely home of Mr. & Mrs. Ron Brooks at 9 a. m. last Saturday.

Devotional scripture was Psalm 55 and read by Sister Christine Burleson, president; prayer was offered by Sister Dorothy Nash and Sister Judith Stahl. The morning scripture lesson was taught by Sister Stahl. Her text was II Kings 20:18-19.

A few more words from prophesy of last week, 1990, the year of the suddenlies. She spoke of a few, the demolition of the Berlin Wall followed by a

So many things have happened. Just recently, you can go to the scripture to see just what's happening. We realize there's a lot of people don't believe in prophesy, but that does not stop it from coming to pass. The scripture will be fulfilled. Sister Stahl brought much information to this group. Come by and hear this Christian speak with power and authority.

Thought for the week: "We long for the day when worship services are not ordered and programmed and motivated by man only. But the Holy Spirit. You can't program the Holy Spirit. Jesus said he would send Holy Spirit. It's entirely in the hands of Jesus Christ, our Lord. You can't cool off the Holy Spirit. You can't shackle the Holy Spirit. I send its power. Is not limited to strength beyond the ordinary. It involves courage, boldness, confidence, insight, ability, and authority. If you believe in Jesus Christ, you can experience the power of the Holy Spirit in your life. You can witness with extraordinary results. We often try to reverse the order and witness by our own power and authority. Witnessing is not showing what we can do for God, but showing and telling what God can, and have done for us. It's not showing how great we're, but how great God is. Remember out of all our righteousness, we come before him as filthy rags. Lift Christ up for men to see, and he will lift us up. Stop trying to take the Glory for the good things that's happening. And not excepting no responsibility for the wrongs in this world. He said: "I give you the key. What you bound on earth, you have the key to present to them, the loss, the message of salvation. Think about it!"

Breakfast was served spiritual and physically. Come, you're invited.

We will meet in the home of Delbert & Dorothy Hood, 2132

East 30th, on Saturday morning, October 13th.

Thanks Lubbock, you're great people. Good meeting at Dunbar on last Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. Parents, try to get involved in these meetings. If your kids are not involved, that does not matter, Sister. You have to live in the community with that kid that is involved, and this affects you and your family. Sin has no light to see who it will strike.

We Thank God For Jesus

"Lord, The Rebels Have A Cause!!!"

Part I

Psalm 2:1-2 -- Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord.

* Lord, we know our forefathers prayed and worshipped only you, because you said you'd bless their seeds; and see them through.

While in the cotton fields, they'd sing unto you and pray. They kept your promises on their hearts, all day.

Exodus 20:5-6 -- The Lord said, thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.

Lord, it all started in the 60's; the nation said: "I wanna be free." It was that nation of cotton pickers' children, "wanted to leave thee."

Deuteronomy 30:19-20a -- The Lord said, I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live; that thou mayest love the Lord thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life.

Lord, it all started when one man said: "I have a dream, I have a dream," then everyone their rights, and the U. S. A. in is in a nightmare it seems. "There is now no law the country is trying to forget your name, we're heading down hill fast; "shame, shame, shame."

Jeremiah 23:16, 22, 25 & 27 -- Thus saith the Lord of hosts, hearten not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord, but if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings. Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off? I have heard what the prophets said, that prophets lie in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed. Which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers have forgotten my name for Ba'al. (The only rights a man has is: to love the Lord God; with all his heart).

(The lie that deceived this nation: Black rights, White rights, Gay rights, Women rights, Run Away rights, A rights, Gay rights, Women rights, Run Away rights, Abortion rights, No School Prayer rights, Drug rights, No Spanking rights, Suicide rights, Shacking rights, Kill the Family rights, Just in!!!)

Lord, the leaders of the Churches: "Let one Jez'bel take prayer out of school." "Now the streets are wild with hethens; I ask who the fool?"

Romans 1:21-22 -- Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools.

God is not through with us yet. So let's pray for one another always.

Your Brother In Christ Jesus Always!!!

FROM THE OF
PARSON D. A. SMITH

Arthur Tonne tells the story of a "Remembered Kindness": It was a stormy night. The wind blew in all directions; the rain came down in torrents. An elderly man and his wife sloshed up to the desk of a small hotel in Philadelphia. Half in apology he asked: "Can you possibly give us a room? All the big hotels are filled." "Every room is taken, Sir," replied the clerk, "but I can't send a nice couple like you out in the rain at one o'clock in the morning. Tell you what: you can sleep in my room." "But where will you sleep?" asked the guest. "Oh, I'll make out," replied the young clerk. "Don't worry about me."

Next morning as the guest paid his bill he told the young man who had given up his room: "You are the kind of manager who should be the boss of the best hotel in the United States. Maybe someday I'll build one for you."

Two years later, the young clerk received a letter with a round-trip ticket to New York and a note from the guest of that stormy night asking the clerk to meet him in the big city. The old man led the young man to the corner of 5th Avenue and 34th Street. Pointing to a towering new building, the old gentleman declared, "There is the hotel I have built for you to manage."

Almost speechless, the young man, George C. Boldt, stammered his thanks. His benefactor was William Waldorf Astoria. The hotel was the most elaborate of that day, the original Waldorf Astoria.

Life is a boomerang. What we are and do comes back to us: "Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days." (Ecclesiastes 11:1). Our bread is to be cast upon the waters. We are to render services -- service that often cost much -- to thankless people. We must be content in helping others when our help is unacknowledged, and unappreciated -- even despised.

For life is the mirror of king and slave,

'Tis just what we are and do;

Then give to the world the best you have.

And the best will come back to you!

He'll make Texas great again.

Clayton Williams will create opportunities for all Texans. He's proved it:

- He is a businessman who created 26 companies and over 100,000 jobs for Texans.

- He will improve education for all Texans. Better pay for teachers. Two years free tuition to a Texas college for students who stay drug-free, make their grades and need the help.
- He is a man of his word who will bring fresh ideas and sound leadership to state government. And you can count on that!

With your help, we've got our best hope for Texas - more jobs, better education, safer streets and neighborhoods and more efficient government for those who need it most.

What African American Leaders Are Saying About Bidal Agüero

Bidal has continually helped the Rainbow Coalition in working toward empowerment of impoverished and disenfranchised people.

Rev. Jesse Jackson

When I was in Lubbock, Bidal helped to get my message to the Hispanic voter. It is important that all the Democratic Party get our community's vote and support in the upcoming election starting October 17.

Judge Morris Overstreet

Bidal helped me when I needed help. In working with him I can see his real concern for the poor people of Lubbock and a concern especially for our youth. I know that our community would be well served by a State Representative who will be able to really relate to African Americans in Lubbock. In the upcoming legislative session we are going to need a true representative that will look after our needs for a better education for our children, that will work toward a better economic well being for the minority community. We cannot afford to elect persons who will just give us lip service yet vote against us in Austin. I have confidence that Bidal will continually work for the betterment of the lives of many in our community. He has proven his commitment.
