Judge Voids Calley Conviction

Release Ordered But Army May Appeal Decision

COLUMBUS, Ga. AP) — A federal judge today overturned the My Lai murder conviction of former Army Lt. William L. Calley Jr., ruling that Calley "was not accorded due process of law" and ordering him freed.

U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott said Calley should be released immediately, but his decision may be appealed by the Army, which had no immediate comments on its plans.

Elliot based his decision on three key constitutional contentions :

—That Calley was denied a fair and impartial trial because of massive, adverse pretrial publicity.

—That he was denied his right of confrontation with witnesses and was denied compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor.

—That he was denied due process by being convicted on charges and specifications which were improperly drawn and illegally used by the prosecution.

Army lawyers could seek an immediate stay of Calley's release by filing a brief with Elliott, or by filing directly to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Calley, 31, has been confined to the disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., since Elliott took his appeal under advisement June 25.

The heart of Calley's plea was that he was a victim of unequal justice when convicted by military tribunal in March 1971 for the slaying of 22 Vietnamese civilians.

The judge's ruling says "Calley was originally painted as a mass murderer involved in the unlawful killing of some 567 Orientals whose number included men, women and children."

Elliott said that by the time Calley went on trial for the March 1968 My Lai slayings, Calley had been described as "everything from a mass murderer to a ghoul."

He continued: "The American public — including all prospective jurors — and, indeed, the entire world had ... been so impregnated with the thought

CHANCELLOR FIRES SPURR—

Woman Interim President Of UT

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas Chancellor Charles LeMaistre appointed Dr. Lorene L. Rogers as interim president of the Austin school today after firing President Stephen H. Spurr Tuesday.

LeMaistre's office issued a statement saying Dr. Rogers is the first woman ever named president of a major coeducational university in America.

She began her duties at 8 a.m. today.

Dr. Rogers was a vice president of the university from September 1971 until Aug. 31 this year. She has been on leave.

The new president also is a professor of nutrition in the Home Economics Department.

Dr. Spurr was fired from his $49,000 job in what one UT regent called a personality conflict and what LeMaistre termed a generally uncooperative attitude.

Dr. Rogers issued a statement today saying she had no part in actions preceding Spurr's dismissal and knew nothing of them until LeMaistre called her in Washington to ask her to accept the presidency.

"I am deeply devoted to this institution and my acceptance was for the sole purpose of trying to move the university forward until such time as a permanent president can be selected," she said.

LeMaistre said tersely that Spurr had a "generally uncooperative attitude" and had attempted to discredit the chancellor and his administration with the powerful board of UT regents.

LeMaistre, who said Spurr has refused to resign, said he would have no more to say until he made a full report to the regents.

Spurr said he knew nothing of the move to oust him until Monday and would have no more to say until he knew further particulars.

Other university officials had no comment.

In a brief released through his administrative office, LeMaistre pointed out that the chief administrative officer in each of the institutions in the statewide UT system "is responsible to the chancellor and has access to the board of regents only through the chancellor."

"My action is based upon this unquestioned authority," LeMaistre said.

The chancellor said he asked Spurr's resignation in an effort "to resolve this matter in the manner least disruptive of the university ... he has refused and my action is in consonance with my best judgment as to the proper course of action."

LeMaistre said his "confidence in the ability of Dr. Spurr to administer the affairs of UT-Austin in an effective and efficient manner has been severely eroded over the last few months. This erosion has been accelerated by a generally uncooperative attitude on the part of Dr. Spurr, and an effort on his part to discredit the chancellor and system administration through direct contact with members of the board of regents."

LeMaistre asked Spurr for his resignation Monday, a regent said, and gave him a deadline of 11 a.m. Tuesday. Spurr refused and asked "for a full opportunity for a review of my stewardship as president."

NO SERIOUS INJURIES — Roger Nicafederry and Judy Callery, both of Cincinnati, Ohio, were both treated and released from Midland Memorial Hospital Tuesday following this one truck turnover. The wreck occurred at the east exit ramp of Interstate 20 and FM 1788. The wreck site was covered with produce that spilled from the truck.

Rain Streak Is Extended To 11 Days

The National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal recorded a trace of rain after midnight last night to officially extend Midland's longest rainfall streak in history to 11 days.

The 11-day total measured by the Weather Service is 6.16 inches, a record fall for a September here.

The weatherman said the forecast for today, late tonight and early Thursday calls for cloudy skies and some fog. The two-day forecast, today and Thursday, did not make any mention of rain.

The gauge atop The Reporter-Telegram measured 9.1 inches of rain for the 10-day period, with .60 inch falling from 11 a.m. Tuesday to late in the afternoon.

Cities throughout the West Texas area reported clouds breaking up.

Forecasters at Air Terminal said that a record may have been set for the Tall City in the

Ventures Set In West Texas

Ventures have been staked in Garza, Runnels and Gaines counties.

Joseph W. Aidlin of Los Angeles, Calif., plans to drill an 8,500-foot wildcat in Garza County, 10 miles northeast of Post. It is No. 1 Gordon.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 19, block 8, H&GN survey, 11 miles northwest of the Barron Ranch (Strawn and Ellenburger) field.

Runnels Searcher

Dallas Oil & Gas, Inc., intends to drill a 4,600-foot searcher in Runnels County, 10 miles north of Winters, as No. 1-24 Erwin Schroeder.

Drillsite is 2,610 feet north of the northeast corner of section 104, block 64, H&TC survey, thence 467 feet east to location in Jim Mitchell survey 342.

It is 1½ mile southwest of Capps lime production in the Audas-Graham field and 2¾ miles south of the depleted Audra (Fry) field, both in Taylor County.

Gaines Project

Shenandoah Oil Corp., Fort Worth, has scheduled No. 1-A H. A. Newsom Estate as a northwest twin to and replacement for the firm's No. 1 H. A. Newsom, a 7,100-foot Clearfork wildcat.

Drillsite is 2,900 feet from north and 2,000 feet from west lines of section 1, block AX, PSL survey, 5½ miles southwest of Seminole.

No. 1 H. A. Newsom, 3,100 feet from north and 1,800 feet from west lines of the same section, has been junked and abandoned at an unreported depth.

New Mexico Areas Draw Field Tests

Field projects have been scheduled in Eddy, Roosevelt and Lea counties, in Southeast New Mexico.

Texas Oil & Gas Corp. plans No. 3 Williamson-Federal as a ½-mile northeast and southeast stepout to the five-well Morrow sector of the Burton, North field of Eddy County.

It has a projected depth of 11,850 feet, and spots 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 9-20s-29e, 10 miles northeast of Carlsbad.

Coquina Oil Corp. plans No. 1 O'Neill-Federal as a 1½-mile northeast and southeast outpost to Morrow production on the south side of the Carlsbad, South field of Eddy.

Drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 1-24s-26e, three miles northeast of Black River. Planned depth is 12,200 feet.

Roosevelt Try

Coquina Oil Corp. intends to drill an undesignated San Andres test, No. 1 KEF, 1½ mile southwest of the one-well Milnesand, West (San Andres) field, but separated by failures, in Roosevelt County.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 29-8s-34e, four miles southwest of Milnesand. Depth objective is 5,000 feet.

Israeli Planes Hit Targets In Lebanon

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel's air force bombed and strafed targets in southern Lebanon today less than seven hours before the start of the fast of Yom Kippur, the holiest day in the Jewish year and the anniversary of the 1973 Arab-Israeli war.

The Israeli military command said the pilots attacked Arab guerrilla concentrations for half an hour, and all the planes returned safely.

The purpose of the raids, and of similar strikes Tuesday in the same area, was to break up any attack the Palestinian guerrillas might be mounting for the Jewish Day of Atonement commencing at sundown today and ending at dusk on Thursday.

Twelve months ago Thursday by the Jewish lunar calendar, Yom Kippur was in its 20th hour when Egypt and Syria launched the fourth Arab-Israeli war in 25 years with bombing raids along the Golan Heights and the Suez Canal.

The attack caught the Israeli government and its armed forces off guard, resulting in heavy casualties. This year the troops and airmen along the frontiers were on a sharp alert.

The chief military chaplain instructed the forces they could break the fast if war came again, but they should eat and drink "only to preserve their ability to fight."

Police urged the public to be on the lookout for suspicious objects. Civilian guards were assigned to protect synagogues.

Israel will come to a virtual standstill at dusk, and stay that way for 24 hours.

Offices, shops, public transport and the international airport will be closed and the streets and roads empty of automobiles.

Television and radio stations will be off the air. But the broadcasting authority announced that a special team would be on hand to broadcast mobilization orders in case of an Arab attack.

Thousands were expected to spend the day at the Wailing Wall in Old Jerusalem, Judaism's holiest site. Special prayers were to be said for Israel's war dead.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plans to recess Oct. 11 for the November elections and the House a few days later. This timetable was disclosed today by Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., after a meeting with House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon has a blood clot in his right lung "which is a potentially dangerous situation," his doctor said today.

AUSTIN (AP) — Dr. Stephen Spurr told newsmen today he has hired a lawyer and is considering filing a lawsuit if the regents uphold his dismissal as The University of Texas president.

School Consolidation Plan Shelved

By LUANNA CROW

Midland public school trustees shelved a proposal to consolidate the city's high schools, discovering in the process Tuesday afternoon that they are not in agreement as to whether redistricting action should be taken at this time.

Meeting in the board room of the administration building for the Midland Independent School District, trustees for the third consecutive meeting discussed possible ways to equalize enrollment at Midland and Lee high schools.

After lengthy discussion on the pros and cons of uniting the city's sophomores at Midland High School, with the juniors and seniors at Lee High School, the trustees decided to put the idea "on the back burner" and move on to other possibilities.

They further agreed the crux of the matter was whether the two schools are equal in quality and opportunity offered to students. But they could not agree on whether, indeed, the schools are equal.

While board members had previously voted to investigate redistricting possibilities, they have yet to vote that any action must be taken on any plan.

Calling for a vote at the Oct. 8 meeting, trustee President C. Wallace Craig said, "We need to decide finally if we need to do something. We need to decide whether to proceed or forget it."

Among the board business that did see action Tuesday was the approval of preliminary plans for vocational facilities at Lee High School and Austin Freshman School.

Charles Neuhardt of Neuhardt and Babb, architects, presented the plans and told trustees specifications would be available

Rocky Says Higher Arab Oil Prices Means More Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller said today it will be almost impossible to control the nation's inflation and balance-of-payments problems if Arab oil prices go any higher.

"With Arab oil prices so high and threatening to go higher it almost seems impossible to look down the road and see how this inflation and this balance of payments problem can be controlled," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller also declared on his third, and probably final, day of testimony at the Senate Rules and Administration Committee hearings on his nomination to be vice president that he thinks "it would be difficult" for the Federal Reserve to relax its tight money policy unless other action is taken "to increase the flow of funds into the capital market."

The chairman of the committee said, meanwhile, that the panel won't act on Rockefeller's nomination until it gets a report from another congressional committee on Rockefeller's taxes.

However, Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said he has asked the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation to expedite their report. He said he hoped it would be ready sometime next week.

"We certainly won't report it (the nomination) out until we get that back," Cannon told reporters.

The Joint Committee is looking at Rockefeller's tax returns with special attention to 1970, when he paid no federal personal income tax due to changes in investments held by trusts from

Independent Says Washington's Ideas On Energy Confusing

Lynn Walker of New York, president of Felmont Oil Corp., one of the nation's leading independent exploration and producing concerns, said here Tuesday Washington's ideas of meeting our energy needs are confusing.

"It is mystifying to try to understand why the Congress of the United States and to a great extent the public have adopted a punitive attitude toward the oil industry, especially the independents," Walker said.

Walker was in Midland Monday and Tuesday, along with Felmont board chairman Hadley Case, also of New York, and other officials of Felmont for the concern's September board of directors meeting.

The Midland Wildcat Committee, headed by chairman Robert L. Wood, was host for the Felmont officials at a reception Tuesday afternoon in the Petroleum Club of Midland.

Case joined Walker in expressing wonder at the "strange" attitude taken by our lawmakers.

"The free enterprise system is the greatest idea in the history of our country," Case said. "But now, the oil industry, and other industries as well, are becoming so over regulated that a free enterprise system is almost impossible."

Felmont this year is celebrating its 50th year as an independent.

Case is no stranger to West Texas. He came here in the early years of Permian Basin development and he organized the Moore Exploration Co. for the late brothers, John I. and P. D. Moore in 1939.

Walker said Washington is eliminating incentives that are necessary for the independent operator to continue exploring for oil reserves.

"It is common knowledge that the independent is the pioneer operator—that is, it is the outfit that goes into the real wildcat country and into the deeper offshore waters to find oil," Walker said. He added that it also is common knowledge that it is "costing more and more to find oil."

Case, using Felmont as an example, said "our company originated at Bradford, Pa., where oil was found at 900 feet. The company moved on to the Illinois Basin and to Oklahoma where the production came in from 1,200 to 2,400 feet. When the company moved to West Texas a lot of production could be found at the 4,000-foot level."

"Now, exploration to the 20,000-foot level is not uncommon. We just completed a drilling operation to 19,000 feet in the Gulf of Mexico that was a dry hole," Case said.

"There are some big oil companies that have a large net income, but what the public doesn't understand is that the profits are divided among hundreds of thousands of people," Case said.

Walker added that it is a conception among the public that all oil industry is big. "When a person thinks of someone being in the oil business, they immediately tie him in with the major companies."

Walker, pointing out that Felmont is a large producer of gas, said the price for interstate gas sales averages about 27 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

"We need a price of from 60 to 70 cents a thousand before we can even make ends meet," Walker said.

Family Argument Ends In Slaying

A reported family argument ended in the death of a Midland County man early today and the filing of murder charges against his widow.

Killed was Delmir Sheppard, 49, Rt. 3.

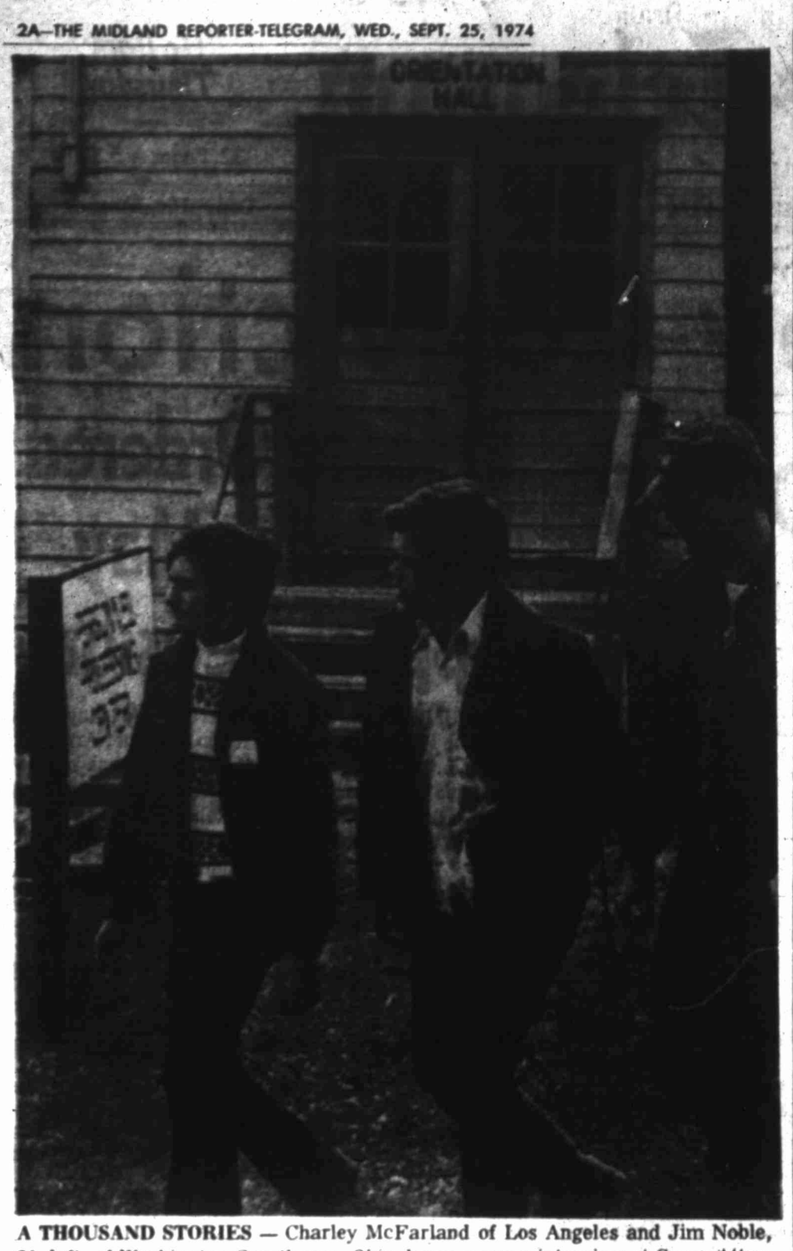

In Midland County jail charged with murder is Audrey McArthur Sheppard, 28. Justice of the Peace R. H. Pine set a $25,000 bond.

A .22-caliber pistol was turned over to officers.

Midland police were first notified of the shooting at 2:07 a.m. today. It was then turned over to the sheriff's office.

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind. (AP) — Charley McFarland spent his 25th birthday at the Camp Atterbury Amnesty Center today, with a chance of completing the process for an undesirable discharge before the day ended.

He and 228 other former soldiers, sailors and Marines were moving through the clemency procedures much faster than the military staff had expected.

When the center re-opened Monday, the staff thought it would take four days to process each deserter, starting with an orientation session and ending with an undesirable discharge from the military.

But Maj. J. Thomas Kallunki, Army public information officer, said Tuesday the process was working out to about two days — largely because the staff was working far into the night.

Maj. Larry D. Scott, Army chaplain who has talked to more than half the men at the center, said most of them deserted because of personal problems and not political beliefs.

McFarland, who lived in Los Angeles, was a fugitive from military justice from 1968 until his arrest by FBI agents on Sept. 9.

He said he was with the 71st Ordnance at Ft. Sill, Okla., when his father suffered a severe heart attack.

"I got emergency leave and just didn't go back," McFarland said. He married, had one son and worked on construction jobs in St. Louis and Los Angeles under his own name and Social Security number for six years.

Jim Noble, 24, Washington Courthouse, Ohio, also told an uncomplicated story. He deserted from Ft. Bragg, N.C., on Feb. 2, 1970, after basic training at Ft. Eustis, Va.

Noble, a farm worker, said, "I planned to desert from my first day in the Army. I just didn't like being away from home."

He went straight home and resumed work on two neighborhood farms. He said he turned himself in when he heard of the clemency program "because I wanted to clean it up. I'm trying for local alternative service."

City To Seek Post Office Property As Site For Park

City councilmen Tuesday agreed to file a formal application with the Bureau of Recreation, of the Department of the Interior in an effort to build a park on the old post office property in Downtown Midland.

The decision came after a morning session with county commissioners in which Midland County Judge Barbara Culver said the county would support the city's application to the General Services Administration (GSA) for the property. Judge Culver said the county's bonded indebtedness and the recent remodeling of the courthouse prohibited any further county tax expenses for such projects.

The property will be acquired by the city as a gift if the park proposal is approved by the GSA. However, actual acquisition procedures are handled by the Interior Department.

Joe Nuessle, city attorney, told the council that fair market value payment for the building on the property might be required by the GAS because the building would be torn down in order to develop the park.

Bob Thompson of the Midland Parks and Recreation Department said annual maintenance for the proposed facility could run as high as $17,000 per year. The city has asked that a fair share of the upkeep cost for the park be supplied by the county government.

If the GSA decides that a park is not the best use for the surplus property, the building could be sold on a bid basis at the appraised value — which ranges from $50,000-$100,000 by GSA valuations or $200,000 and higher by private valuations.

Nuessle also told the council if the property were given to the city, the GSA would retain a recapture clause. Under that provision, the property would revert to the federal government if the property were ever used as anything but a park.

The council agreed to submit its application for the property ahead of the Oct. 7 deadline set by the GSA.

$82.6 Billion Defense Money Bill Approved By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — An $82.6 billion defense appropriation bill, the largest single funding package ever enacted by Congress, has been sent to the White House for President Ford's signature.

The Senate completed congressional action on the bill Tuesday with a voice vote after a brief debate. The appropriation is $4.5 billion lower than administration requests, but $3.6 billion more than appropriated last year for weapons development and procurement and military and civilian payrolls of the Defense Department.

Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Appropriations Committee said the new appropriation may be skimpy in some areas, but is "adequate to insure maintaining the deterrence necessary to make a contribution to the peace of the world."

Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said in a speech Tuesday night that the cutbacks by Congress in aid to South Vietnam have "put an ally on the military equivalent of starvation rations."

Congress cut aid to South Vietnam by more than half, to $700 million. Schlesinger suggested, in effect, that the United States was running out on a promise to help South Vietnam.

PPG Industries Voices Support For Loop

By JOE GORDON

Construction of a north loop highway to link Midland and Odessa drew support Tuesday night from PPG Industries, Inc., which is considering building a plant at Midland.

The support was voiced at a public hearing by Martin Allday, a Midland attorney who represents PPG, which holds a purchase option on 700 acres northwest of Midland.

Allday read from a letter written by Robert A. McLaughlin, vice president and general manager of PPG's fiberglass division.

"The corporation supports the project on the basis that it would serve a proposed plant population of 1,500 employes," McLaughlin wrote.

He noted that most of the employes of the plant, if it is built, would be drawn from Midland and Odessa. The highway would provide "a means of access for them," he wrote.

PPG would "further indicate their support by offering to dedicate the right-of-way across their property, consisting of approximately 15 acres," McLaughlin wrote.

Another public hearing on the proposal is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Rare Books Room of The University of Texas of the Permian Basin Library on the South Campus in Odessa.

Bill Harral, highway department supervisory resident engineer in Midland, said the project would include a four-lane divided highway with two frontage roads. The frontage roads probably would be built first.

The latest cost estimate for the entire project, Harral said, is $13,640,000.

The proposed routes all go north of Midland Regional Air Terminal. Included are four interchanges expected to be located on Texas 158, F.M. 1788 between Loop 338 and the county line, and where the proposed route intersects Loop 338.

The final cost figures and route are to be revealed in 1975 and the work contracted by 1978. It is expected to take approximately four years for the first phase of construction to be completed, this being the building of the access roads. The project as proposed would be finished by the mid-1980s.

Phil Coleman, District 6 engineer, said Tuesday night that location of the PPG plant in this area should speed obtaining funds for the project.

Officials explained the three proposed routes, all of which begin at the intersection of Texas 158 and FM 1369 northwest of Midland.

The three routes then follow Texas 158 to the west for approximately one mile. At this point, routes A and B leave Texas 158 and extend to the west along section lines for approximately three miles. Both routes then turn to the southwest and proceed in that direction to an intersection with FM 1788.

At a point just west of FM 1788, Route A continues in a westerly direction to a point on Loop 338, which is approximately 1½ miles north of 42nd Street in Odessa. From that intersection, it proceeds in a southerly direction to the intersection of Parkway Boulevard and 42nd Street. It's length is approximately 14.7 miles.

Route B separates from Route A a short distance west of FM 1788 and proceeds in a southwesterly direction to an intersection with Loop 338 about a quarter mile north of 42nd Street in Odessa. Then on to an intersection with 42nd Street about .9 mile west of Loop 338. Its length is approximately 13.8 miles.

The third alternative, the most direct route, leaves Texas 158 and extends in a southwesterly direction to an intersection with FM 1788 at a point just north of the Baca Cattle Feeders pens. It then extends southwesterly for approximately five miles and turns to the west to the existing intersection of 42nd Street and Loop 338. Its length is 12.9 miles.

The route preferred by the Texas Highway Department is Route B.

A "no-build" alternative also was explained. After a route had been selected and the estimate of construction and right of way costs were completed, then all the agencies concerned would determine if they wanted to proceed with the project.

After the initial public hearings, the highway department will prepare more detailed maps for further hearings. They also are making disciplinary studies of the proposed routes to determine the effect on the environment.

A final public hearing on the project is expected to be held in 1975.

World Grain Crop Estimates Lowered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world grain supply has been reduced to the point where it is unusually tight because of harvest declines in the United States, Soviet Union and other key countries, the Agriculture Department says.

Officials said the situation as of mid-September indicates significant downward revisions from crop estimates made Aug. 20.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service said the revisions included declines in grain harvest for the Soviet Union, down 5 million metric tons; Western Europe, down 2.1 million; Canada, down 3.4 million; and other countries, down about 2 million tons.

Record Budget Okayed In Odessa

ODESSA — A record $12,226,561 budget was approved Tuesday by the Odessa City Council, which set the tax rate at $1.09 per $100 valuation for fiscal year 1974-75.

The new budget represents a 13.17 per cent increase over last year's total.

Sen. Buckley Wants Soviets Out Of Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States should get an agreement for the removal of Soviet military and intelligence forces from Cuba before entering into a more "normal" relationship with the island, says Sen. James L. Buckley.

The New York Conservative Republican expressed concern at a news conference Tuesday about intelligence operations in Cuba, which he said have led to political kidnapings and murders in Latin America.

Midland Women Attend DRT Meet In Lubbock

Five members of the Aaron Estes Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas of Midland attended the recent meeting of Districts I and X of the DRT hosted by the Gen. James Smith Chapter of Lubbock in Lubbock.

Those attending from Midland were Mrs. Evelyn Estes Melear, president of the Midland chapter; Mrs. John P. McKinley District I representative; Mrs. Lady Mueller; Rosemary Rankin and Mrs. Robert Turner.

Mrs. Roy B. Davis, president of the Lubbock chapter, gave the welcome address. Mrs. McKinley introduced the following officers general and chapter presidents: Mrs. Thomas J. Walthall, of San Antonio, fifth vice president general; Mrs. O. N. Joyner of San Antonio, chaplain general; Louise Vickery of Arlington, District II representative; Mrs. Hugh B. Lowery of Victoria, District XI representative; Mrs. Lucian W. Brooks of Abilene; Mrs. W. W. Bridges, Palo Duro Chapter, Amarillo; Mrs. Roy B. Davis, Gen. James Chapter, Lubbock; Mrs. Melear of Midland; Mrs. Hugh Lowery of the James W. Fannin Chapter, Victoria; Mrs. Luke Hodges, Rebecca Jane Fisher Chapter of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Faye Byrd of High Plains Chapter, Pampa.

Mrs. Robson discussed the reconstruction of the stables and carriage house at the French Legation building in Austin. Members of the DRT are custodians of the state property. She also reported on "The Cradle," which has been moved to a different location in Galveston. "The Cradle" is the birthplace of the DRT.

It was announced the District VII meeting will be held in Beeville Oct. 5, and Districts V and VIII will meet in Austin Oct. 26. Districts II and III will meet in Dallas Nov. 20.

Mrs. Brooks, director of the Children of the Republic of Texas, announced the CRT convention will be held in Victoria June 6-7. Mrs. Walthall reviewed the history of the Texas flag and discussed the proper use and display of the flag.

Nominations presented for approval by the 1975 state board of management included: Mrs. R. L. Walker of Fort Stockton, District I representative; Mrs. Turner, alternate District I representative; Mrs. McKinley, nominating committee; Mrs. H. H. Rowe of Tunal Creek Chapter, Fort Stockton, alternate to nominating committee; Mrs. Joe D. Mullis of Rebecca Jane Fisher Chapter of Wichita Falls, District 10 representative; Mrs. John W. Bishop of Palo Duro Chapter of Amarillo, alternate; Mrs. Otto Rea of Gen. James Smith Chapter, nominating committee, and Mrs. Hodges, alternate.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Cast Iron Skillet Casts Terrible Odor

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY—I hope someone can tell me how to get rid of an odor in a cast iron skillet. I have three new ones and cannot use any of them. When they get hot they smell so badly that I am even sick from it. I have tried everything from boiling them to scouring with powdered cleaners and nothing has worked. — MRS. W. L. H.

DEAR POLLY — I like to keep a record of all my expenses. This is a help in budgeting for household needs. My Pet Peeve is with stores that issue cash register tapes so dimly printed one cannot see the figures and then they are often smeared and sometimes even incorrectly dated.

Tape a large plastic bag to the underside of your ironing board for a handy place to store pressing cloths.

Save all those short ends of yarn left from your knitting and other hand work. When a sizable amount is accummulated tie the short pieces in little bunches to use as bows on gift packages. — JEWELL.

DEAR POLLY — My answer for I.C.G. who has trouble cleaning her chrome toaster-boiler that looks smeared and streaked is to use a spray window cleaner with ammonia in it. Spray, wipe and then shine with a paper towel or lint free cloth. I find this cleans any chrome. — L. C.

DEAR POLLY — I.C.G. can keep her toaster-broiler clean and shiny if she uses chrome cleaner that is sold to shine the chrome on cars. I use this cleaner to keep the rings around the burners on my electric stove bright and shiny. — MRS. B. L.

DEAR POLLY — Wear those rubber gloves that have sprung a leak when grating cabbage, onions, carrots, etc., and save your hands from the scraper. — JAN.

DEAR POLLY — A needle threader for yarn can be easily made with a safety pin and a length of No. 4.6 or 8 nylon fishing line. Make a loop of the line by tying into the small circle at the end of the safety pin. Place line through yarn needle and insert yarn through loop. Pull yarn through loop and pull back through the needle. The safety pin can be fastened to the work, for example, in your needlepoint canvas and, is always at hand. The line is strong and lasts for a long time. When it does break can be replaced easily.

A tip from a fisherman is to burn the leftover ends of the line after making the loop. This prevents the knot from slipping after making the loop. —BARBARA.

Party Courtesy For Recent Bride

Mrs. William C. Hammit Jr., the former Gay Lynn Dorsey, was honored with a miscellaneous gift shower recently in the home of Mrs. James H. Walker, 3102 Princeton St. The co-hostesses were Mrs. W. E. Hogsett Jr. and Mrs. Dee K. Ham.

The serving table had a fall arrangement in a crystal two-tiered container with crystal appointments.

Corsages were presented to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. C. Allen Dorsey. Also in the house party were Mrs. Joe Hewett, maternal grandmother of the honoree, and Mrs. Mary Katherine Mills, Mrs. Vickie Williams, Mrs. Chrystelle Estes and Phyllis Gifford.

Out-of-city guests included Mrs. Sherry Carter, Mrs. Stella Palmer and Mrs. Myrtle Wallis of Stanton, Mrs. Thelma Clark of Odessa, Mrs. Vickie Simmons of Wichita, Kan., Mrs. Johnice Dorsey of Austin, Mrs. Nan Dorsey of Abilene, Mrs. John W. Dorsey of Canyon, Mrs. Joe J. Hewett Jr. and Mrs. Harmon Burttram Jr. of Santa Fe, N.M., Mrs. Annette McCullough of Sparks, Nev., Mrs. Dolores Cooper of Carlsbad, N.M., Mrs. Gladys Sanders of Amarillo, Mrs. Carol Hilton of Lubbock, Mrs. Thelma Hammit and Mrs. LaTrice Hammit of Snyder and Becky Hodgsett of Dallas.

Midkiff Bridge Club Meets In Midland

Mrs. Fred Hill, 701 Ruby St., was hostess to the Midkiff Bridge Club in her home Monday.

High scorer was Mrs. Frank Midkiff with Mrs. James Curnow as second high. Low score was won by Mrs. Bill Murray.

Refreshments were served to members and two guests, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Curnow.

Rankin Bridge Club

Mrs. James D. Gossett and Mrs. Jim Neal were high and second high bridge winners respectively, when the Rankin Bridge Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Lewis Smith. Mrs. Dunn Lowery was a special guest.

Rankin Beta Sigma Phi Chapter To Support Cystic Fibrosis Drive

Mrs. Eddie Hyatt was chosen the chapter's valentine sweetheart.

Further plans were made concerning the chapter's presentation of the closing ritual at the area convention scheduled Oct. 11-13 in Midland. The group also voted to continue to sell cotton candy at all home football games.

Members voted to help conduct a house-to-house drive for the "Breath of Life" campaign beginning at 6 p.m. Sept. 30.

Contributions to this campaign will go to support patient care through the 100 Cystic Fibrosis centers maintained throughout the country by the National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The centers diagnose and treat six million youngsters who suffer from CF and other lung damaging diseases such as severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, and a condition call "childhood emphysema."

Funds also are used for research conducted throughout the world to find a cause and cure for more effective control for CF. Persons wishing to contribute may contact Mrs. Rusty Ratliff.

Air Force Man Salutes His Wife

By NICK ALLEN

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Air Force Sgt. Mark Weiss not only opens doors for his wife, Suzanne, he salutes her. That's because she is an Air Force lieutenant.

Six months after they were married Mark was sworn in. Suzanne had enlisted a month before. Soon they will split up for training, but within a few months they hope to be together at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. — she working as a nurse, he as an aircraft mechanic.

"Our friends are always teasing us about me outranking him, but it doesn't bother us," said Suzanne, 26. She is a registered nurse who has worked on and off at St. James Hospital here for the last three years.

"My mother had been pushing me to join the service ever since I got out of nursing school," she said. Her father, a retired Navy man, lives in Long Beach.

When Mark, 25, of Los Angeles, was graduated from the Northrop Institute of Technology in air frame and power plant mechanics, the prospects for an airlines job looked bleak, he said. Because he had served four years in the Air Force in Germany from 1968 to 1972, re-enlistment seemed a natural solution.

"I was kind of pushing him to join" because of the job security and early retirement, said Suzanne. "And I wanted to be able to work where he was stationed."

The two don't foresee any special problems because of their relative ranks.

"It makes it even better," said Mark. "I can go to her officers' club and she can go to mine." Besides, he plans to become an officer.

Suzanne signed up for two years, during which time she is pledged not to get pregnant. But after that she might seek maternity leave or leave the service altogether, she said.

Mark has signed up for four years and plans a career.

"I can retire at 41," he says.

Kappa Delta Pledges

The Midland Kappa Delta Alumnae Association announces the following new pledges from Midland: Susan Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Craig, 1709 Douglas St., pledged at Oklahoma University, and Melissa Pevehouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Pevehouse, 3110 Ma-Mar St., Cissi Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Falls, 3501 Travis St., and Deborah Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Nelson, 1011 Ainslee St., all pledged at West Texas State University.

Pledges Sorority

DALLAS — Nancy K. Self, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Self of Midland, has pledged Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority at Southern Methodist University.

Absorbs Grease

A lettuce leaf placed in a pot of soup will absorb grease. Remove the leaf as soon as it becomes coated.

Phi Sigma Alpha Banquet Held

The Permian Basin Area Assembly of Phi Sigma Alpha, international, women's sorority, had its 14th Founders' Day banquet and program recently in the Midland Woman's Club.

Approximately 70 members and guests attended. The program also marked the fifth anniversary of the Permian Basin Area Assembly.

The theme for the year will be "Soaring to New Heights."

The Founder's Day message was presented by Epsilon Eta Chapter of Lamesa. Doris Corley introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. R. L. Akens of Brady, who reviewed the book, "The Devil and Aunt Serena."

Mrs. R. E. Womack gave the closing prayer.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

More About Beau Who Is An Exhibitionist

DEAR ABBY: In your reply to "Scared," who was dating a young man who had been arrested for indecent exposure, you recommended that if the man claimed to have had therapy, she should ask to talk to his therapist.

As a practicing therapist, I must take exception to that advice. If I were confronted with such a request, I would have to explain that to do so would be violating professional ethics.

I know of one psychiatrist who was successfully sued for divulging information under similar circumstances. This is as it should be, since the therapist is the agent of the patient, not of others.

"Scared" should obtain information about exhibitionism in general from a professional in the mental health field (not from her boyfriend's therapist, if he has one).

NEW YORK PSYCHIATRIST

DEAR PSYCHIATRIST: I did not suggest that the young woman should attempt to get privileged information from her boyfriend's therapist without the boyfriend's consent.

It would seem that if the boyfriend had indeed had treatment and the girl was in no danger by continuing to go with him, he would be eager for her to talk to his therapist for reassurance.

If a patient asked you to talk to his girlfriend, would you then refuse to see her?

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the family who, when relaxing outdoors at a barbecue, or just sitting and visiting, were always "joined" by a neighbor, who stayed until they went inside, even when they were entertaining guests.

You advised the writer to either suffer the intruder's presence, or tell her that you'd like a little privacy.

May I add another solution? Why not build a six-foot fence?

AL CENTENO,
HOUSTON, TEXAS

DEAR AL: That's a pretty sneaky way to get a plug in for the fence business, but it's a good idea for those who can afford it. How about a moat stocked with crocodiles?

DEAR ABBY: I have had it! All summer long we ran a free hotel for my husband's relatives. His sister and her husband came for six weeks. His brother and his wife came for two weeks. (The brother used my car, so I had to take taxis the whole time!) Others took turns. We had company from June 1 until after Labor Day.

No one offered to give me a lift with the work, and my grocery bills were like, forget it. Nobody even picked up the tab when we ate out. (We are supposed to be "the poor relatives" compared to them.)

I've put up with this for three summers, and I'm sick of it. How can I keep this from happening next summer short of divorcing my husband? He's a soft touch.

HAD IT IN WISCONSIN

DEAR HAD IT: They're your husband's relatives. HE should tell them what the ground rules shall be for future visits. If he refuses, then YOU tell them. And if you don't, you can expect a return of the last three summers and every summer henceforth. And if it happens, don't complain. You're both a couple of soft touches.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Camp Mitre Peak To Host Leaders And Instruct On Outdoor Skills

Approximately 75 Permian Basin adults will spend Oct. 4-6 at Mitre Peak Girl Scout Camp working on outdoor skills. The camp, located near Alpine, will host area leaders preparing themselves for the most popular Girl Scout activity, camping.

These outdoor skills will be taught at various levels. Beginners will learn how to build a fire, use a knife, cook a one-pot meal and give first aid.

Intermediates will gain practice in the care and use of tents and will expand skills in Dutch oven cooking. Further instruction at this level will include water purification.

Trainers in advanced levels will learn gourmet meal preparation. Menus will include hay-hole ice cream and plank pork chops. A backpack unit also will be offered at this level.

While able to enjoy the fellowship of the traditional campfire ceremony, leaders also will be able to bring new and improved skills back to their troops. Interested Senior Scouts with considerable camping experience are eligible for advanced and back packing units.

Deadline for registration is Friday. Applications and $4 fee to cover the cost of meals should be sent to the Permian Basin Girl Scout Council, Box 1046, Odessa, 79760.

Salad Supper Held By Chapter

Midland Chapter No. 253, Order of the Eastern Star, met recently in the Masonic Temple for a "Garden of Friendship" salad supper.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Keith Mikeworth, worthy matron, and Keith Mikeworth, worthy patron.

Twenty-eight grand officers were recognized and introduced. Visiting worthy matrons and patrons were introduced and presented gifts by Mr. and Mrs. Mikeworth.

Mrs. Lella Wilson, representative from Arkansas to Texas of the Grand Chapter of Texas, OES, presented Mrs. Mikeworth with a gift.

Tables for the supper were covered with gingham and calico print cloths and were centered with floral arrangements.

An informal program of songs was directed by George Medley.

Miss Crane Award Presented

CRANE — Rhonda Griffin, age 14, was crowned Miss Crane at the recent Ice Cream Freeze-Off and Beauty Pageant sponsored by the Crane County and school recreation departments and the chamber of commerce.

Patricia Heath, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy R. Heath, was the first runner-up. The second runner-up was Charlotte Blue, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blue.

Surprise Party

Calley Ordered Freed After Conviction Overturned

of Calley's guilt that it could well have been assumed that all that would be necessary would be for the court-martial to convene and the judge to announce, 'bring the guilty rascal in and we will give him a fair trial.'"

He concluded his section on pretrial publicity by saying, "If there has ever been a case in which a conviction should be set aside because of prejudicial publicity, this is it."

In Washington, the Army said its lawyers would study the judge's decision "in order to evaluate various legal alternatives."

The Army automatically considers parole for Calley Nov. 19 — the date when he will have served one-third of his 10-year sentence. His original life sentence was reduced to a 20-year term by the Gen. Albert O. Conners, commanding general of the 3rd Army, and later reduced to 10 years by Secretary of the Army Howard Callaway.

Calley already has submitted his petition for parole to authorities at Ft. Leavenworth, and his lawyers say the request should soon be before the Army and Air Force Clemency Board in Washington.

Calley also has applied for presidential pardon, based on the issue of amnesty for draft evaders.

Elliott is the same judge who freed Calley last Feb. 27 after the former lieutenant had spent three years under house arrest at nearby Ft. Benning, Ga.

Three months later, the Army won reversal of Elliott's bail decision from the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. Calley appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, which refused to overturn the appellate court's decision on bail.

After Elliott took Calley's conviction appeal under advisement June 25, Calley was flown to Ft. Leavenworth where he has been working as a clerk-typist.

In his appeal hearing, Calley's attorneys said his trial was manipulated from the "highest positions in the Army — from Gen. (William C.) Westmoreland or possibly even higher."

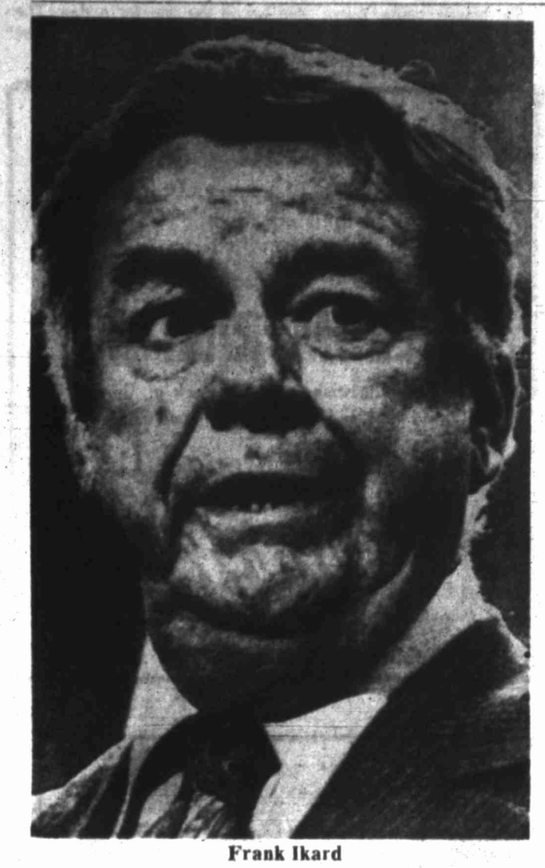

J. Houston Gordon, Calley's chief attorney, argued that Calley's constitutional right to call witnesses was violated when the military judge refused to subpoena Westmoreland, commanding general in South Vietnam when the My Lai massacre occurred and Army chief of staff when Calley was tried.

Gordon also said that if Westmoreland had appeared, defense attorneys would have sought to compare him to Gen. Tomayuki Yamashita, Japanese commander in the Philippines of an occupying army which massacred civilians during the closing days of World War II.

The United States hanged Yamashita because he failed to exercise effective control of his troops.

Calley's attorneys also charged that "command influence" resulted in the Army decision to charge Calley with murder rather than war crimes.

"If he had been charged with war crimes, the idea of command responsibility would have been opened and those higher up would have been charged," Gordon said.

Frank Ikard

Ikard Sees No New Embargo

DETROIT (AP) — The president of the American Petroleum Institute foresees no new oil embargo by the Arab nations this winter and says rising gasoline prices in this country have leveled off.

But Frank Ikard cautioned at a news conference on Tuesday that "all the ingredients that make up a crisis are still there."

Ikard, here to attend the World Energy Conference which has attracted some 3,500 delegates from 85 nations, said: "We're dependent for about 40 per cent of our oil from foreign sources. And we don't know what the weather holds in store for us.

"We are unquestionably going to have some interruptions in natural gas supplies in the Midwest and some portions of the East."

He said these would affect mainly industrial users.

He estimated that U.S. reserves of home heating oil and gasoline generally are about 10 per cent higher than they were a year ago.

He said he does not expect a new oil embargo to develop, but if one is imposed the nation is in better shape to cope with it now than it was last year.

"I think the price of gasoline has pretty well leveled off," Ikard said in response to a question. "I think you will see some ... reduction of price. But how widespread this will be would depend on what level our stocks are at."

Schlesinger Rules Out Military Action To Solve Oil Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger today ruled out military action to solve the problem of rising oil prices and said he expects a solution through amicable discussion.

Schlesinger told a news conference that "we regard the problem of oil prices as detrimental to the world economy."

But, he said, "we expect to have a solution through negotiations, through amicable discussion."

"It is not anticipated that there is going to be military conflict," he said.

At another point, when asked about the possible American use of force, Schlesinger said, "We are not contemplating any action of that sort."

The questions arose against a background of a U.S. government effort, spearheaded in speeches by President Ford and Secretary of State Kissinger, to pressure Middle East oil producers to restrain price increases.

Asked about huge U.S. arms sales to rich Persian Gulf, oil-producing nations, Schlesinger denied that the United States has been pushing costly weapons on these countries.

"We have attempted to temper the desire of those in that area for arms," Schlesinger said.

"My policy has been to encourage these nations to use their resources rationally and not to reach for highly sophisticated equipment."

The Defense Secretary said that the United States sells arms only in response to requests from purchasing countries and that "at no point has the United States attempted to induce the nations of this area (Persian Gulf) to purchase equipment."

At the same time, Schlesinger denied any intention to use military arms sales as a lever in negotiations over oil prices.

Iran, Kuwait, and other states in the Persian Gulf area have been the biggest customers of U.S. arms, buying about $4 billion last year alone.

which he receives most of his income. However, Rockefeller paid more than $814,000 in federal, state and local taxes that year.

Receipt of the Rockefeller tax report next week would enable the committee to meet its goal of approving the Rockefeller nomination so the Senate can act on it before an election recess scheduled to start about Oct. 11.

Earlier, Rockefeller refused to answer questions about whether he thought the White House decision to give former President Richard M. Nixon his tapes would hamper a full disclosure of the Watergate scandals.

Woman Injured In Auto Accident

Mrs. Tacoma Ribble Boler, 4611 Andrews Highway, was treated and released from Midland Memorial Hospital Tuesday afternoon following an auto accident at 3:45 p.m. just west of Andrews Highway and Midland Drive.

Mrs. Boler's car and an auto driven by Randy Ben Woods of Midland were in collision. Police said Mrs. Boler lost control of her vehicle after hitting some high water.

Rain Streak In Midland Extended To 11 Days Now

number of hours a temperature remained at the same level Tuesday and this morning. Weathermen said that from 3 p.m. Tuesday until 8 a.m. this morning the temperature stayed locked in at a 53-degree reading, for a total of 18 hours.

The 53-degree mark also was the high temperature recorded Tuesday with the overnight low only varying one digit to the 52-degree mark.

Skies here should become clear to partly cloudy Thursday with a warming trend this afternoon, the weatherman said. High temperature for this afternoon should be near 70 with the nighttime low in the lower 50s. Thursday's high will be in the middle 70s.

Other weather stations across West Texas were reporting 10-day rain totals from seven to 14 inches with clearing conditions today and only traces of moisture recorded after midnight Tuesday.

Stanton recorded 10 inches in the 10-day period while Sterling City got 13 inches, both under breaking and dry conditions today.

Rankin and McCamey received similar amounts in the 14-inch range measured on private gauges. Crane measured a 10-day total of 9 inches while Big Lake recorded 14 inches over the period.

Lamesa and Big Spring both measured eight inches during the 10 days of rain and Andrews recorded a total of 7.2 inches.

All weather stations reported dry conditions after midnight Tuesday.

Early morning temperatures in the 40s and 50s brought a touch of autumn briskness in most sections, but readings stayed well up in the 70s along the coast.

Clouds blanketed the state and light rain or drizzle fell at many points, with showers or thunderstorms occasionally heavy in South and Southeast Texas.

No Ne Flooding

After gradually shifting across the state into often dry West Texas, almost two weeks of persistent rainfall spread back toward the east. There were no new reports, however, of flooding in low areas as has occurred in one area or another almost daily.

Some of the heavier rains in the forenoon lay along a line from near Victoria to around Lufkin, and in a section embracing Austin, Del Rio, Cotulla and Alice.

Fog accented the gloom at many points, cloaking areas from Dalhart and Lubbock in the Panhandle-Plains sector southward to Corpus Christi and extending from there back toward the northeast. Visibility dropped close to zero along and near some points on the coast.

Temperatures near dawn slipped down to 43 degrees at Perryton and 45 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Galveston was the warmest spot at 78 degrees, according to The Associated Press.

Top marks Tuesday afternoon ranged from 89 at Alice in the south down to 49 at Lubbock on the South Plains.

Police Probing Burglaries, Thefts

Midland police Tuesday were investigating the burglary of the Regina Goodman residence, 1701 S. Mineola St., in which a television set and $123 in cash were taken.

Barbara Harris reported that four dozen wigs and mannikins had been taken in a burglary Tuesday at Deluxe Barber and Beauty Shop, 109 N. Lee St. The items were valued at $239.

A stolen pickup truck from the G.E. Corp., with approximately $2,500 worth of electrical components on it, also was reported. The light blue truck has been missing since Friday night and was taken from the company's parking yard.

Mrs. Norma Perry, 4519 Pleasant St., also reported the theft of a car stereo from her auto while it was parked at the Lee High School parking lot. The stereo was valued at $32.

Mrs. Miller, 69, Dies; Rites Slated

Mrs. Hazel Miller, 69, died in her residence, 1607 B N. Big Spring St., Sunday. She was found this morning by members of the family.

Services will be at 4 p.m. Thursday in the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel, the Rev. Billy Wilkinson of St. Luke's United Methodist Church, officiating.

Interment will be at Woodridge, Conn.

Survivors include a son, two daughters, including Mrs. Eddie Mee of Midland, and 10 grandchildren.

Three Persons Die On Gulf Shrimper

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP) — Federal and local authorities waited today for the hold of a Gulf shrimper to be purged of possible toxic gases before a medical examiner could determine the cause of death of three persons aboard the vessel.

Ben Cash, Port Aransas constable in charge of the investigation, said he saw three bodies in the refrigerator hold of the "Ethel O," which was found Tuesday drifting about eight miles off the Texas coast.

Early reports from the Coast Guard, which towed the boat here, said that one man had been decapitated and two others severely beaten on the vessel.

High School Consolidation Plan Shelved

at the Oct. 8 meeting.

Board members agreed to call a special meeting, at Neuhardt's request, for 4 p.m. Oct. 29 in the board room to take bids on the projects.

The trustees also awarded a total of $97,748.56 in contracts for equipment to furnish the two structures.

Also approved was a contract with the Human Relations Council (HRC) subject to approval by the 50-member council and the school district's attorney, Thornton Hardy.

The contract obligates the district to $19,100 in payment for services offered by HRC, which also is seeking funding through contractual services with the City of Midland and Midland College. The school district's contract would be void if both the city and college refute the proposal, but would be binding if one or the other accepts.

Also discussed was taxation of rural properties by Virgil Jones, tax assessor-collector. Jones was asked to attend the meeting after a contingent of rural residents appeared at the last board meeting to protest what they termed "excessive" valuations on their property.

In response to the citizens' complaint that the Board of Equalization did not meet long enough to accomodate individual schedules, he suggested that next year equalization board convene at 10 a.m. and continue through 7 p.m., allotting 10 to 15 minutes per appointment.

Norman Zachry, whose home is on the Rankin Highway, was a spokesman for the rural group. He reiterated their suggestion that a rural resident be placed on the equalization board.

Jones said he "wouldn't mind at all" seeing the suggestion put into effect, but said a legal opinion would be necessary because the city charter calls for board members to reside within the city limits.

In other business, board members awarded $22,907.80 in bids for band instruments, approved a request by Gideon International to make New Testaments available to fifth grade students and approved awarding permanent merit pay supplements to nine teachers.

The redistricting discussion began with a presentation of possible logistic problems which would be encountered if the two high schools were consolidated, which Craig proposed last meeting as a possible solution to enrollment declining at LHS more rapidly than MHS.

After hearing pros and cons on the matter, Trustee Ted Kerr suggested a vote be taken to ascertain whether enough support was present among board members to merit continuing studying that plan.

Only Craig favored the plan, although he stated it was "not ideal." Kerr opposed the combined school proposal, with the remaining five trustees expressing reservation on the idea but suggesting it not be completely scratched.

Joe Dominey said he could "now see this approach is not impossible" but noted there was no sign of support" from the community which should be considered.

Roger Robles favored "looking at the rest of the options we have and look at what's best for both schools. I don't know what's best for both schools at this time."

Jim Winget, who stated at the last meeting he saw no evidence to warrant redistricting, saw the proposal as "a rather drastic move. I don't think the community wants this."

James Ramsoure favored the Craig proposal's remaining "in the hopper as one possibility. Just put it on hold," he said.

Gilbert C. Tompson, former trustee president, observed "it would be nice in some ways if you never had to move boundaries" but stated there should be "nothing sacred" about them.

Dominey, while noting "minor differences" in student participation in some activities, said he feels "like we're considering challenging boundary lines because the community feels teams that face each other on the field and the bands are unequal."

Midlander Found Dead Of Gunshot

Salome Juarez, 1305 S. Jefferson St., was found dead in an automobile at 10:53 a.m. today with a gunshot wound in his head.

Detectives said his automobile was parked in front of an east Midland lounge. They said the victim was in the lounge shortly before he was found dead.

Justice of the Peace John Biggs ruled that death was due to a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Services are pending at Thomas Funeral Home.

Higher Mail Rate Urged For Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Transportation Department, citing the financial plight of the nation's two largest international airlines, has urged the Civil Aeronautics Board to quickly adopt higher rates for mail carried by U.S. international airlines.

Undersecretary John Barnum, in a letter to CAB Chairman Robert Timm, said the present international mail rates have been basically unchanged since 1968 and do not reflect the substantial increases in fuel costs brought on by the fuel shortage.

Texan Files Suit To Contest Non-Interest-Bearing Escrow

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Lucille Lollar of Red River County in Texas has filed a lawsuit here claiming a requirement that she maintain a non-interest-bearing escrow account for insurance and property tax payments as part of a mortgage agreement is a restraint of trade.

Defendants in the U.S. District Court suit are First Arkansas Bankstock Corp. (FABCO) and a subsidiary, Worthen Bank & Trust Co. of Little Rock.

Mrs. Lollar has filed a similar suit against L. E. Lay & Co., also a FABCO subsidiary, in U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.

The Little Rock suit recites these details:

Mrs. Lollar borrowed money from L. E. Lay against the security of a mortgage on some real estate.

To obtain the mortgage, she had to agree to maintain an escrow account through L. E. Lay. Each month she must pay a part of her annual insurance premiums and property tax payments into the account, which does not earn interest.

The suit alleges that the arrangement constituted an illegal tie-in because a borrower could not borrow any money from L. E. Lay without maintaining the escrow account. Tie-ins are prohibited by law on the ground that they constitute a restraint of trade.

Mrs. Lollar said if borrowers from L. E. Lay did not have to maintain an escrow account, business firms might develop that would compete for this money and, perhaps, pay interest on it.

Under the existing arrangement, FABCO and Worthen use the money until annual payments are due without paying interest, the suit pointed out.

The suit was filed in behalf of all persons who have borrowed money from L. E. Lay against a mortgage.

Ford To Speak For Candidates

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — President Ford will come here next month to give "a boost to everyone running" on the GOP ticket in Oklahoma, Sen. Henry L. Bellmon says.

Bellmon, who is opposed for re-election by former Democratic Congressman Ed Edmondson of Muskogee, said Tuesday that details for Ford's visit are being worked out by his staff with the Oklahoma Republican Committee and GOP gubernatorial candidate Jim Inhofe.

Carrasco Classification In Prison Said Defensible

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jerry Sandel says it is his personal opinion the state prison system has a defensible position on its classification of inmate Fred Gomez Carrasco.

Sandel made the statement Tuesday after hearing Texas Department of Corrections (TDC) officials testify before a grand jury investigating the August prison shootout that left Carrasco, another inmate and two women hostages dead.

Questions had been raised about Carrasco's classification in the Huntsville unit rather than one of the system's maximum security units because of his reputation as an underworld leader.

He predicted the grand jury would complete its investigation about Oct. 9 and added TDC director W. J. Estelle Jr. likely would testify next week.

Estelle will be questioned specifically about Carrasco's classification, Sandel said.

TDC public affairs director Ron Taylor said although Carrasco had a security risk classification, he also had a medical classification which caused his assignment to the Huntsville unit, where the hospital is located.

The grand jury was scheduled to hear testimony today from peace officers who were present the night of the shootout.

Leads In Minority Hiring

According to the U.S. Treasury, banking is the leading industry in minority hiring. A Treasury survey of major banks showed a 17 per cent increase in the hiring of blacks from 1966 to 1970, a 90 per cent increase for Spanish Americans, and 63 per cent for Orientals.

Council Okays FAA Grant

The Midland City Council Tuesday gave final approval to a Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) grant and announced that runway improvement projects will get under way within two weeks.

The runway program is being funded by $6 million from the FAA and $2 million from the city.

Wilson Banks, airport manager, told the council that money was also included in the FAA funding to help pay for the security fencing requirements.

Mayor Ernest Angelo noted that the idea of security fencing is an invalid concept, but directed councilmen Jim Kent and Bobby Holt to meet with the airport manager this week in an effort to supply a fencing design to the FAA for approval.

Councilman Kent submitted a proposed fencing plan during Tuesday's session, and it was the general opinion of the council that his plan would meet the FAA requirements with some minor alterations. The fencing must be constructed at the Air Terminal or airport certification can be denied by the FAA, according to Banks.

Again this week, limousine service at the air facility was discussed by the council but no action was taken. Taxi services from Midland and Odessa will continue to operate at the airport until a new franchise can be awarded.

One interested party has indicated interest in obtaining the limousine service but has not released details to the council.

In other airport business, three area architects addressed the council as to their capabilities in designing additions to the Terminal Building. But the council decided that those business dealings should be in a more private setting after asking each architect how much his firm would charge for the design work.

The architects gave an answer of seven per cent of the cost for the project under consideration, and noted that building cost figures were now running from $30 to $40 per foot.

The area under immediate consideration for expansion at the Terminal Building is the ticket selling area. The expansion would require an extra 3,000 feet of useable space at an approximate cost of $100,000.

Oil Nations Want Countries To Cut Cost Of Exports

By The Associated Press

The oil exporting nations are responding to the Ford administration's campaign to roll back the price of crude oil by demanding that the United States and other industrial nations cut the cost of their exports.

The tough new American line also brought a warning from France's foreign minister against trying to bully the Arabs. He said oil prices could be brought down only through a peaceful dialogue.

President Carlos Andres Perez of Venezuela, America's chief foreign supplier of oil, told President Ford in an open letter that the higher prices are a justified response to "economic oppression" by the industrial powers.

"We see no other way to confront the economic totalitarianism that has been coming to the fore in business and world trade," he declared. He added that for many years oil prices steadily declined while the cost of industrial machinery and manufactured goods from the United States increased.

Threats Cited

"Inflation did not begin with the increase in oil prices," a ranking official of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries said in Vienna. "It is rather because of inflation that oil prices have had to be adjusted. . . . however high the crude oil prices are, they account at present for no more than 1 or 2 per cent of worldwide inflation."

The assistant secretary-general of the Arab League, Sayed Nofal, said the threats by Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in recent speeches could have a serious effect on Arab-American relations.

The President warned the United Nations General Assembly last week that food could be used as a weapon against those wielding the oil weapon. On Monday, he told the World Energy Conference in Detroit that exorbitant or rigged oil prices can "threaten the breakdown of world order and safety."

Kissinger, meanwhile, told the General Assembly on Monday that the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries' high prices and production cutbacks could drive the world into a new general depression.

Both Ford and Kissinger urged global cooperation to solve the energy crisis and arrange a new system of oil prices acceptable to all. The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries official commented that the people of the United States and other industrialized countries should start such cooperation by sharing the oil countries' standard of livng.

There was no comment from Saudi Arabia, the largest Arab oil producer, or from Iran, which led the successful drive in the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to raise prices.

The president of the United Arab Emirates said his government would consider reducing oil prices only if other countries lowered their prices on "hundreds of other commodities and primary goods that have doubled several times."

Other West European diplomats at the General Assembly said that Kissinger had not consulted their governments before he and Ford launched their assault on the oil prices. One of them predicted the American campaign would fail.

Future Of GM's Rotary Engine In Doubt

DETROIT (AP) — The future of General Motors' rotary engine was in further doubt today after disclosure that the new power plant does not meet 1975 model emissions standards.

Plans to introduce the rotary engine next spring, made public just last week, suddenly were shelved indefinitely Tuesday when a GM study showed the engine's emission levels exceed government limits.

A GM spokesman said there was no way to tell when the rotary would be ready. The auto giant has been working on the engine for three years and has invested more than $100 million in its development.

"When the engine tells us it's ready, we'll go with it," said the spokesman. He said the engine now is saying, "Good fuel economy, but had emissions."

In a statement, GM President Edward Cole blamed tough 1977 limits on emissions of hydrocarbons and nitrogen oxides for the delay. He made no mention of the probability of meeting 1975 standards, which was confirmed later by a GM official.

"We are not sure the standards can be achieved even with current production engines," Cole said. "It makes it especially impractical to put into production any new engine that doesn't presently have the potential to meet those standards."

Cole, the chief proponent of the rotary at GM, is retiring next Monday, leaving its corporate sponsorship in at least some doubt.

GM officials said, however, that there are no plans to slow down development of the engine and stressed that tooling for the rotary "will remain in place."

Last week a Chevrolet Division executive said the firm would make 86,000 rotary-equipped Vegas in 1975, and would deliver the car to federal authorities for emission certification this week.

The rotary engine uses a triangular piston system rotating inside a figure-8 combustion chamber. It has no cramshaft or valves, and is considerably lighter and less complicated than the conventional engine used by all auto makers except Mazda.

For three years the rotary has been available in the United States from Mazda, a Japanese import which saw its sales slump dramatically last winter after indications the engine was poor in fuel economy.

A Mazda official said Tuesday that GM's announcement probably hurt Mazda sales, but indicated the firm envisioned no similar problems in meeting emission standards when its 1975 models debut in January.

Electric Rate Study Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee has taken a first step that could lead to lower electric-power rates for American consumers.

It approved a bill authorizing a three-year, $4-million study by the Federal Power Commission to determine whether and how the current pricing system should be changed.

The legislation is aimed at the "declining-block-rate" system under which the more power is consumed, the less is paid per unit. A key element of the FPC study would be the feasibility of a peak-pricing system. Under this method, a user would pay less for electricity at certain hours of the day.

Nomination Okayed By Finance Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has approved the nomination of Daniel Minchew to the U.S. Tariff Commission.

Minchew, administrative assistant to Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., has been nominated to fill the remainder of the term of J. Banks Young of Alexandria, Va., who resigned.

Sawhill Sees No Reason To Extend Emergency Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Federal Energy Administration says that the prospect of adequate fuel supplies makes it unnecessary for Congress to extend the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act.

In testimony Tuesday before a House subcommittee considering extension of the bill, the agency's administrator, John C. Sawhill, said, "The Arab embargo, thankfully, is behind us and our volume of imports has returned to near pre-embargo levels." The legislation expires in February 1975.

Auto Salesman Big Fan Of Elvis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley's purchase of five new Continental Mark IV's for $60,000 has made a lifelong fan out of the man who collected the commission on the sale.

The singer bought the cars — in aqua, silver, red, black and blue — Saturday and drove one of them off the lot on Saturday night, said Raymond Surber, a salesman for Schilling on Union, a local dealership.

"I recognized him the minute he came in the showroom and I didn't really have to do much of a sales pitch because he pretty well knew what he wanted," said the salesman.

"I did suggest some colors and he accepted at least two of my suggestions," Surber said.

"I was already a fan, but I have to admit, I even like him more now."

Debate To Start On Foreign Aid Authorization Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A foreign aid authorization bill, already sharply reduced by the House, is coming up for debate in the Senate where an effort is being made to cut it further.

Debate begins today on the bill recommended by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It calls for spending $2.5 billion, 22 per cent below the $3.2-billion program proposed by the administration.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, introduced an amendment to cut it another $400 million.

The House voted Tuesday to suspend military aid to Turkey until President Ford can certify "substantial progress" toward separation of Greek and Turkish forces on Cyprus.

The 307 to 90 House vote added the aid suspension amendment by Rep. Benjamin Rosenthal, D-N.Y., to a resolution to allow continued spending at last year's rate by agencies for which regular appropriation bills have not yet been passed.

The vote ignored a warning from Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger that the restriction would "be destructive of our negotiations" for a troop withdrawal from Cyprus.

The Church amendment to the Senate foreign aid bill would impose an overall $5-billion limit on U.S. foreign aid spending for the 12 months ending next June 30.

The limitation would apply to economic and military aid programs authorized in the pending bill, as well as food for peace, foreign military sales and military aid to South Vietnam funded under separate authorizations.

Other proposed amendments would cut off military aid to Chile, reduce aid to South Korea and prohibit covert foreign operations by the Central Intelligence Agency.

Committee amendments would phase out all military grant aid over the next three years and gradually abolish U.S. military aid missions now located in 45 foreign countries.

President Ford, in a message to Congress Sept. 12, protested foreign aid restrictions which he said "would reduce my ability to meet obligations to American security and that of our friends abroad."

450 Rotarians Attend Inter-City Meet At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — The approximately 450 persons attending the 47th annual inter-city Rotary Club meeting here Tuesday night were told that Americans should take more pride in their country and cease accentuating only the negative.

The speaker, Dr. Thomas J. Shipp, pastor of Lovers Lane United Methodist Church of Dallas, said, "We've talked so much about America's illness that we haven't contributed anything to its health."

Representatives from approximately 30 Rotary Clubs of West Texas and eastern New Mexico, including the two Midland chapters, attended the session.

"Nothing has ever been accomplished by only pointing out the wrong things," Dr. Shipp said.

"We should brag about the good things of this country for a change. The time has come for us to stop being ashamed of good things," he added.

Dr. Shipp, whose inspirational talk was interspersed with humor, emphasized the fact that because a person loves his country does not mean that he should not talk of its problems and offer solutions . . . trying at the same time to correct them. He suggested that perhaps each American is in some way responsible for the nation's ills.

"The world needs to be tied together today," he said, "and it's good to know that Rotary International has crossed the lines."

Kaline Surpasses 3,000 Hits In Old Hometown

Detroit's Al Kaline
. . . joins exclusive 3,000-hit club

Baltimore Fans Give Al Ovation

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Al Kaline achieved baseball immortality before the emotionally drained fans of his native Baltimore, but the Detroit Tigers' superstar was perhaps the calmest person in Memorial Stadium.

The 39-year-old veteran was given a rousing ovation by the slim crowd of 13,817 when he doubled in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's game to become the 12th player in major league history to reach the 3,000-hit plateau.

The game was halted for appropriate ceremonies honoring the occasion, but Kaline kept his cool. He delivered a run-scoring single in the sixth, forging a 2-2 tie with the Orioles.

After Baltimore rallied for a crucial 5-4 victory in the American League's tight Eastern Division race, causing another outburst by the fans, Kaline said the defeat was the only damper on the whole evening.

Referring to the reaching of his goal, Kaline said: "I'm happy it's over with, but I'm sorry we didn't win. That would have capped it perfectly."

The Tigers, last in the division, have seven home games remaining but Kaline said he didn't want to take a chance and wait until getting back to Detroit before going for hit No. 3,000.

The Midland Reporter-Telegram
SPORTS
1B—WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1974

Detroit's designated hitter, once one of the game's best outfielders, had said this would be his final season if he reached the exclusive milestone. He didn't want to risk having a freak injury stand in his way.

"I would have much preferred to have gotten the hit in Detroit," he said. "But since it couldn't be Detroit, I'm glad it was here. My parents, my sister, my wife's parents and a lot of friends were here."

Immediately after the game, Kaline telephoned his wife who was hospitalized in Detroit following surgery on Monday. She had listened to the game on the radio.

Kaline, who joined the Tigers out of Baltimore's Southern High School in 1953 at the age of 18, said he was most thankful of "being able to do exactly what I wanted to do since I was 12 — be a major league ballplayer. God knows I didn't expect to play 22 years."

Playing in his 2,827th game, Kaline rapped out hit No. 3,000 in his 10,080th time at bat. It was his 498th double and the 972nd extra base hit of his career.

He needs just one more home run to become the 16th player ever to hit 400 roundtrippers.

Bobservations By Bob Dillon

Another bad weekend in schoolboy picks in Class AAAA circles, drops the percentage to .703 after three weeks of action and the way this corner is going, it may get worse to say the least.

Last week the percentage was .689 in getting 37 correct, but 19 misses didn't help matters any.

One thing's for sure, all District 5-4A teams are open this week so they can't mess up the picks this time around.

On the season it stands 113 right and 47 wrong for the .706 percentage. Going out on a limb in 40 games involving the larger schools.

Yankees Drop Two As Birds Fly By

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

A tie-breaking suicide squeeze bunt by Andy Etchebarren, who doesn't get to play all that much and is asked to bunt even less, catapulted the Baltimore Orioles past the New York Yankees and into first place in the torrid American League East Tuesday night.

Etchebarren's squeeze bunt delivered Brooks Robinson with the winning run in the eighth inning and gave the Orioles a 5-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The Yankees, who started the day with a one-game lead, dropped a twi-night doubleheader to the Boston Red Sox 4-0 and 4-2 and slid into second place.

Etchebarren's squeeze and Baltimore's climb to the top of the AL East took some of the glamor away from Detroit's Al Kaline, whose fourth-inning double made him the 12th player in major league history to reach 3,000 hits for his career.

Elsewhere in the American League, Milwaukee nipped Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings, California defeated Kansas City 9-3 and Oakland trimmed Minnesota 5-1. Chicago's doubleheader at Texas was rained out.

Trailing 4-3 after seven innings, the Orioles tied the score on doubles by Don Baylor and Robinson in the eighth. Robinson moved to third on a wild pitch to set the stage for Etchebarren's bunt.

Etchebarren, who has played in just 58 games this year and had only one previous sacrifice, laid his bat on the high curveball from Tigers relief ace John Hiller and tapped the ball down the first base line. There was no play on Robinson, who scored with the winning run, and Etchebarren even beat it out for single.

Red Sox 4-4, Yankee 0-2

The New York Yankees were depressed and frustrated after being stopped on six hits by Luis Tiant in the opener and on seven hits by Roger Moret in the nightcap.

The Orioles have seven games to go and the Yankees six in the regular season, which ends next Wednesday. Boston, in third place, is 3½ games behind the Orioles.

A's 5, Twins 1

Gene Tenace's third grand-slam home run of the season helped the A's stretch their lead in the AL West to five games over the idle Texas Rangers. Oakland's pennant-clinching magic number is now four.

Angels 9, Royals 3

Nolan Ryan boosted his record to 21-16, scattering five hits and striking out nine. He now leads the majors with 352 strikeouts, and should have two more starts to try to match his record of 383 set last year.

Brewers 4, Indians 3

Dave May belted two home runs for the Brewers, but it was Bobby Mitchell's 11th-inning blast which provided the winning run for Milwaukee against Cleveland ace Gaylord Perry, 20-12.

OVER LSU STARTER—

Charley 'Mac' Ignores Fans' Boos

By GUY COATES

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Boo as they will, the fans are not going to decide who will be Louisiana State's No. 1 quarterback Coach Charlie McClendon says.

McClendon told newsmen Tuesday that senior Billy Brousard will remain with the first team despite a weak showing in last week's upset loss to then-unranked Texas A&M.

LSU was No. 7 but this week dropped to 17th. The Aggies jumped into the No. 9 spot.

"The coaches grade the players," McClendon said, adding that his staff sees a lot more in the game than do the fans.

Brousard failed last Saturday, for the second week in a row, to complete a pass and in the second half was booed each time he went into the game.

On the other hand, sophomore quarterback Carl Otis Trimble moved the ball for the Tigers and completed a pair of 12-yard passes in a last-minute desperation drive.

He was at the helm of the only sustained LSU drive, and a week earlier he gained 133 yards rushing to lead the Tigers to a 42-14 victory over Colorado.

"Carl Otis Trimble is an exciting football player," McClendon explained to newsmen. "... When he gets it all together, he will be No. 1."

McClendon said, however, that the team needs Brousard's experience, crediting him with a 46-yard touchdown run in the first half by Brad Davis.

"Billy had the experience to see a defensive weakness and call an audible for that play," McClendon said.

Bulldogs Anxious For Dry Weather

Midland High has an off date this week as it tries to prepare for the District 5-4A opener against Odessa Permian Oct. 4, but so far the Purple Pack hasn't gotten much cooperation from the weatherman.

Coach John Reddell, for one is ready for it to stop raining, and it isn't because he's worried about whether he tied his boat fore and aft to the dock down at Oak Creek.

"We've done about all we can do inside," Reddell said. "We've worked on weights and on the mats in the weight room and we've looked at film. If it rains again today, we'll work out in the gym, but most of all we need to get outside and work on some things. Right now, it's too sloppy and damp and we'd be risking illness, which we can't afford."

Both the Bulldogs and Panthers arrive with 3-0 records for the league opener, although the Purple Pack had to score in the last 10 seconds to preserve their unblemished status against Lubbock Monterey, 14-7, last Friday.

"Monterey has a good football team, particularly on defense," Reddell said, "They figured us well and their intent was to stop fullback Mike Gaddy by crowding us at the line of scrimmage and depending on their secondary to cover. And their deep backs were fast, and read well and were able to do it."

Reddell blamed the numerous fumbles which stalled the Midland attack in the last half on the wet ball. "We just weren't accustomed to getting both arms over the ball this early in the season, which is necessary on a wet field, and that combined with the hard tackling resulted in fumbles."

He went on, "Defensively, we had a great game. The defense was as strong and stout as needed to be, despite the long time on the field and this was a high point. In the past, usually the offense or defense decides they can't do it, but the defense never felt they couldn't hold Monterey. And the offense still thought it could win the game even with only 1:29 left.

"They still had faith and came off the ball harder in that last drive than any time previously in the game. It was a good game for us in those respects."

Even though the Bulldogs lost five fumbles and had an interception, Reddell noted the mistakes came at Monterey's end of the field.

When someone asked why the Bulldogs didn't go for the field goal on the last drive with time running short and the ball inside the 15, Reddell explained: "On a wet field, both the holder and kicker might have trouble with the ball. We should have gone for the field goal in the first half when we were close and didn't score, but I thought at the time there would be more scoring."

Perhaps the key play in the game came in the fourth quarter when Monterey punter Mike Anderson punted inside the Midland five, but a Monterey lineman made an adjustment just before the snap.

The play was wiped out and Steve Campbell blocked the next punt and linebacker Bill Sutton caught it and the Bulldogs retained advantageous field position from where they eventually launched the winning drive.

Permian Places Third In State AAAA Rankings

By The Associated Press

The tumbleweed and sandstorm flavor of The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll's Class AAAA rankings is giving way these days to a definite whiff of the piney woods.

West Texas, Dist. 5—4A long has been referred to as the "Little Southwest Conference" because of its rugged and fiercely competitive brand of high school football.

This week, the district has two teams in the top 10, No. 3 Odessa Permian and No. 8 San Angelo. The district's composite record is 21-3 so far this season.

But the West Texans must share the spotlight with Dist. 14—4A, which has three teams riding along unbeaten in the top 10 including No. 1 ranked Tyler, the defending state champion with a 23-game winning streak intact.

Also representing the district are No. 5 Texarkana, unscored on in three games, and No. 9 Lufkin, which last week upset No. 2 ranked Brazoswood, 15-0.

Tyler is joined in the No. 1 position by Brazosport in Class AAA, Coahoma in Class AA, Falls City in Class A and Big Sandy in Class B.

Despite its winning streak, Tyler has not won as impressively as Texarkana and Lufkin. A fourth team in Dist. 14—4A, Longview, has outscored them all; beating three opponents by a composit 81-0.

Texarkana, which meets Tyler in an East Texas showdown Oct. 5, has outscored its foes 77-0 while Tyler has won three games by one touchdown each.

Brazoswood dropped into a tie for 10th with newcomer Port Arthur Lincoln on the Class 4A list.

McKinney and Sinton were ranked losers in Class 3A. McKinney dropped from fouth to ninth after losing to 4A Greenville. Brownwood, 2-1, became the No. 10 team.

A Class 2A showdown between No. 1 ranked Coahoma and No. 2 ranked Cisco turned into a 51-8 rout for Coahoma last week and Cisco disappeared from the poll. Floydada, 3-0, was the numerical replacement at No. 10.

Third ranked Crowell and No. 9 Stanton were upset victims in Class A. Crowell dropped to ninth and Stanton disappeared to be replaced by No. 10 Dewyville, 2-0.

Sixth ranked Sabine Pass was the only Class B loser and it was replaced by Bronte, 2-0 as the No. 10 team.

Bean SWC Player Of Week

By Denne H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

It's a tribute to the confidence and poise of Texas A&M halfbacks like Bubba Bean that they even practice what to do AFTER they score a touchdown.

"Oh, I had a urge to spike the ball after I scored that touchdown against LSU but Coach (Emory) Bellard has worked with us on just politely putting it down in the end zone like pancake after we score," Bean said.

"Boy, did I want to spike it but the rules say that's a 15-yard penalty if you do."

Bean was referring to his 50-yard touchdown run in a 21-14 victory over LSU. The 127-yards rushing in 11 carries earned the junior from Kirbyville, Tex., The Associated Press Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week honors.

"I feel like I'm hitting the hole quicker this year and do we have a great offensive line," said Bean, who can run a 4.5 second 40-yard dash.

Bean, who gained 182 yards against Clemson last week, noted that "We had three backs gain over 100 yards against LSU. Now, we are capable of scoring from one-yard out or 99 yards away.

"We have such a good defense that the offense just relaxes and plays. We don't worry that much about field position."

Bean said an indication of the maturity of this year's A&M team is that they didn't panic after the Tigers had jumped to a 7-0 lead.

"We knew after the first series of downs we could move the ball against them," Bean said. "I didn't have to break a tackle on that touchdown run. I just zipped through a big hole."

Bishop May Get Okay For Odessa

By BOB DILLON

The Midland Lee Rebel Booster Club was introduce to the 1974 varsity football team Tuesday night and then sat down to view the film of last week's 13-0 victory over Plainview.

Coach Jim Acree was pleased with the team's defense again and likes being 3-0 going into District 5-4A play next week against Odessa High's big and burly Bronchos. "We will give a scouting report on OHS at next week's meeting," said a relaxed Acree.

Acree greeted the gathering with some cheery news in that Keith Bishop, 220-pound senior tri-captain and tackle, may be ready to play in the Odessa game. Bishop was sporting a fiber glass cast on his foot that was injured last week. He missed the Plainview game and if all goes well when the cast is taken off, he may be in the lineup Oct. 4 against OHS in Memorial Stadium.

After Acree introduced the varsity, the players were treated to punch and cookies and the Plainview film was shown.

About the only thing that was disappointing about the Plainview victory was the fact that the Rebels should have scored more, but Acree will take a 13-point victory anytime.

Both Blain Murray and Milton Jones received praise for their running at the tailback slot. Acree was also pleased with the play of quarterback Greg Rendall.

"We came out of the Plainview game injury-free and should be at full strength against Odessa in two weeks," commented Acree.

Odessa lost to Hobbs, N.M., last Saturday, 9-2, and the Bronchos are reported to have the biggest line in the district both offensively and on defense.

"Odessa has two great runners in Woodie and Derrill Shepherd. In fact, they can line up and run as well as Welton Cobb of Snyder," said Acree. Woodie is a senior and Derrill a sophomore and are brothers. Woodie plays tailback and Derrill is the starting quarterback for Dub Farris' Red Hosses.

With all the rain that has been falling, all of the coaches in the district are thankful they have two full weeks to prepare for the loop openers.

Lee takes on OHS in Memorial Stadium while Midland travels to Odessa and a date with Permian in W. T. Barrett Stadium while San Angelo plays Cooper in Abilene and Abilene plays Big Spring in Big Spring.

McClendon Ignores Boos—

McClendon said it didn't bother him but that it was a lot of pressure to put on Broussard.

"You know, quarterbacks don't win football games," he said. "Blocking and tackling win football games. Sometimes I think the quarterback gets a little too much credit."

He again asked fans to have patience with the new veer offense, which fell apart against the Aggies.

"The veer is very delicate, very delicate," he said.

McClendon changes his mind about the Tigers' effort against the Aggies, which right after the game he praised.

"Well, we didn't play nearly as well as I had thought," he said after viewing game films, "particularly in the line of scrimmage."

Stargell Plays Hurt

24th Homer Powers Bucs Over Cardinals

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Willie Stargell was playing hurt. But that was nothing compared to the pain he was inflicting on the St. Louis Cardinals.

"This time of the year, you've just got to play with pain and forget about it. There's no tomorrow," Pittsburgh's huge slugger said Tuesday night after his three-run homer helped power the Pirates past the Cards in more ways than one.

His 24th homer of the year not only contributed mightily to the Bucs' 7-3 victory, but it helped vault them over St. Louis and into a one-half game lead in the National League East.

In other National League games, Cincinnati beat Houston 3-1, Philadelphia downed New York 6-3, San Diego edged San Francisco 3-2 and, in a doubleheader, Chicago beat Montreal 6-4 before the Expos bounced back to romp 11-2 in the second game.

Stargell had been hit on the right wrist by a pitch in the sixth inning, when Dave Parker drilled a two-run pinch-single to give the Pirates what proved to be the winning run.

Dodgers 2, Braves 1

The Dodgers can clinch a tie for the West Division crown in their last home game tonight. "It would be great to do it at home," said Ron Cey, whose eighth-inning home run brought the Dodgers into a 1-1 eighth-inning tie.

Braves knuckleballer Phil Niekro had one-hit Los Angeles before Cey homered. Then, in the 10th, Steve Yeager doubled with two out, the Dodgers loaded the bases on two walks and Yeager dashed home when catcher Johnny Oates couldn't handle one of Niekro's fluttering pitches.

Reds 5, Astros 1

Johnny Bench signaled for a hit-and-run play, then did both, breaking a tie with a triple in a three-run fifth inning to help the Reds defeat Houston and keep alive Cincinnati's flickering pennant hopes.

Phils 6, Mets 3

Shortstop Larry Bowa banged out three hits and knocked in two runs while Greg Luzinski hit a three-run homer in the Phillies' victory over New York.

Padres 3, Giants 2

Pinch-hitter John Grubb's sacrifice fly in the seventh inning lifted the Padres over San Francisco.

Cubs 6-2, Expos 4-11

Willie Davis knocked in four runs, three wih a homer, and Gerry Carter drove in three to give Montreal a split after Rick Monday and Bill Madlock hit two home runs apiece in the Cubs' first-game win.

Strong College Field Enters MTC Tourney

The 14th annual Midland Tennis Invitational is scheduled to attract a top field of collegiate netters to the tournament this weekend at the Midland High courts.

On hand for the three-day event, which begins Friday, will be players from UT-Austin, Southern Methodist University, Trinity University, Texas Christian University, Oral Roberts U. of Tulsa, Texas Tech, Oklahoma State, Schreiner College and West Texas State.

SMU's racqueteers dominated the singles last year with Tim Vann beating teammate David Bohrnstedt in the finals 6-2, 0-6, 6-4. Bohrnstedt, now a sophomore, is back to challenge again.

The doubles finals provided the biggest surprise, however, when MCC tennis pro Keith Diepraam and Dan Haddox combined to beat Lee Merry and Dale Ogden of the University of Houston, 7-6, 4-6, 7-6.

Joining Bohrnstedt in the SMU contingent will be Adi Kourim, Joe Edles, and George Hardie.

PARENTS FILE ON SUSPENSION

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Parents of a Richland High School senior, suspended from the football team for smoking, have filed suit in Allegheny County Court to have him reinstated.

The suit was lodged Tuesday in behalf of James McMillen, 17, a 6-foot-2, 220-pound tackle from nearby Gibsonia.

The suit claims the suspension was "arbitrary and capricious" and that it jeopardizes McMillen's chances of getting an athletic scholarship. Judge John Hester will hear arguments on the matter Oct. 7.

Browns Acquire Chargers' End

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns acquired tight end Jim Thaxton from the San Diego Chargers Tuesday in return for a future draft choice, the club announced.

The acquisition puts the Browns squad over the 47 player limit, and one player will have to be cut. It appeared that back up tight end Ernie Richardson, a free agent who came to camp because of the National Football League Players Association strike, will be released.

LEE TO HOST STOCKTON—

MHS JVs Unbeaten

Odessa Permian, Abilene and Odessa have 3-0 records and the Midland Bullpups stand 2-0 in junior varsity football action after three weeks.

Permian, which has yet to be scored upon, shut out Odessa Ector, 20-0 while Abilene beat Brownwood, 14-8 and Odessa whipped Hobbs, N.M., 24-6. The Bullpups took a 28-6 win over Monahans while the Midland Lee JV beat the Snyder sophomores, 26-6. In other action, the Snyder JV handed the San Angelo JV its third loss without a win, 40-18. Big Spring was rained out with Andrews and Abilene Cooper open.

No less than four teams — Abilene, Big Spring, Permian and Odessa are open this weekend, but Midland travels to Snyder while Lee entertains Fort Stockton at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Stadium.

La. Tech Rolls To 14 Straight

By The Associated Press

Louisiana Tech football coach Maxie Lambright has two good reasons to be happy.

First of all, with 14 straight victories, his Bulldogs presently have the longest winning streak in the entire NCAA, and secondly, the team was voted No. 1 in the Associated Press College Division Poll.

"Our team worked hard to attain this ranking and I'm proud," said Lambright, cautiously adding that "I'm happy — even though it will give our opponents some additional incentive."

Louisiana Tech has not lost a game since it was trimmed by Eastern Michigan 21-19 in their 1973 season opener.

The Bulldogs won the NCAA Division 2 crown last December with a 34-point shutout of Western Kentucky in the Camelia Bowl and have captured three straight conference titles since joining the Southland Conference in 1971.

Louisiana Tech, who stomped Texas Arlington 42-15 last Saturday, collected 689 points and twenty-three first-place votes from the nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters.

The panel awarded 500 votes and eleven first-place ballots to runnerup Western Kentucky, idle last Saturday, which was the top-ranked school in last week's poll for the first time in its history.

Boise State held on to its third-place ranking for the second week.

Badgers' Mainord Hosts Cage Clinic

The highlight of the coaching clinic will be a game type scrimmage between McMurry College of Abilene and Sul Ross State University of Alpine at 7:30 p.m.

The clinic will start at 10 a.m. with lectures being given on different phases of the game. Lectures will resume at 1 p.m. after a noon break and registration fee for coaches will be $7, which will include the noon meal and a ticket to the game.

BUICK 1975: TO THE FREE SPIRIT.

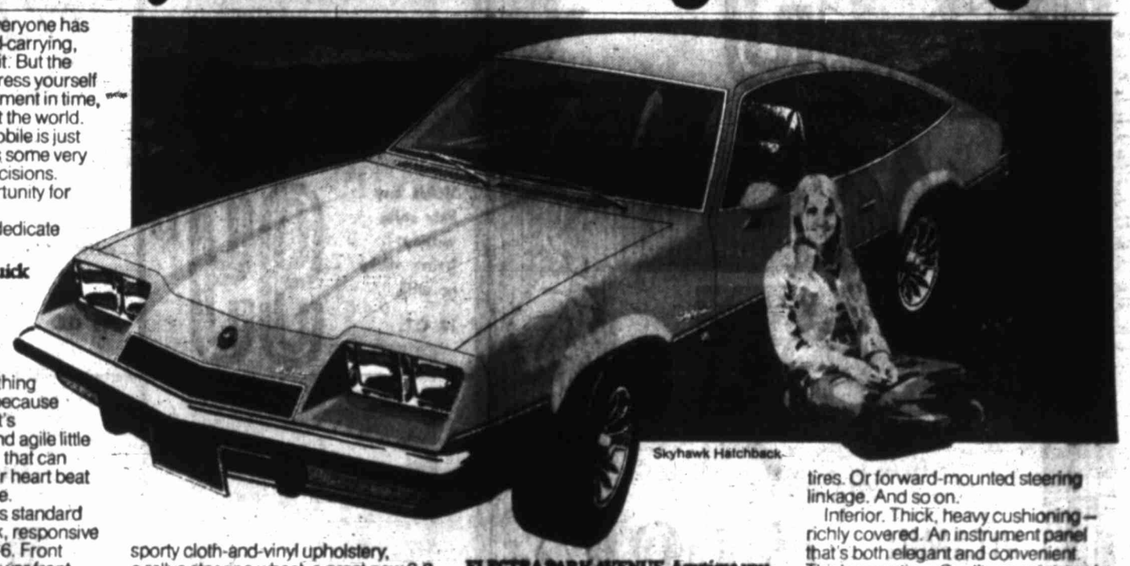

Free spirit. Just about everyone has it. Maybe not always a card-carrying, banner-waving sort of spirit. But the need, nevertheless, to express yourself in your own way. For a moment in time, at least, to be alone against the world.

The choice of an automobile is just such a moment. It involves some very personal and individual decisions. And it represents an opportunity for you to be a free spirit.

It is to that spirit that we dedicate our 1975 Buicks.

SKYHAWK. The smallest Buick in 60 years. And the sportiest ever, obviously.

To tell the truth, we at Buick just can't help chortling about the Skyhawk. Not just because it's something of a departure for us. But because it's so good at being what it's supposed to be. A small and agile little car, rakishly good looking, that can be practical and make your heart beat faster both at the same time.

Skyhawk Hatchback

Naturally, Skyhawk offers standard features dedicated to quick, responsive movement. Buick's new V-6. Front and rear stabilizer bars. Power front disc brakes. GM-Specification steel-belted radial-ply tires. A 4-speed manual transmission.

But let's not get into any lengthy lists.

Instead let's focus on the totality. A Buick with a 97-inch wheelbase that's reasonably priced, economical to operate, fun to drive, and so neat-looking it can turn the heads of at least two generations. Maybe three.

Skylark S/R Hatchback

THE NEW BUICK V-6. A six that we think even you V-8 fans will like.

It's time that we shook up your thinking a tad. Because, if you're like a lot of people, you think of a six as something just to save money with. Which is simply no longer true because of Buick's new V-6. Something altogether different from a straight-six.

The "vee" design incorporates a shorter crankshaft. The piston stroke is shorter. The engine weighs less than Buick's straight-six. And the horsepower is greater.

All in all, Buick's V-6 shares many of the design concepts of a Buick V-8, but with generally greater fuel economy.

One thing's for sure. This engine is going to change the way a lot of people feel about six-cylinder engines.

SKYLARK S/R. Skylark is back, with V-6 power, a European touring car-like interior, and a sporty new look. It joins other Apollo models as sort of the Executive's Economy Car.

What better way to bring back the Skylark name than with bucket seats (the passenger's reclines), GM-Specification steel-belted radial-ply tires, sporty cloth-and-vinyl upholstery, a rallye steering wheel, a great new 3.8 liter (231-cubic-inch) V-6 engine, center console, map pockets, and the like.

Listen, it's no accident that the Skylark S/R bears a startling resemblance to a European touring car. We wanted to show what could happen to an essentially practical car if essentially nifty things were done to it.

But even with the nifty things we've done to it, Skylark S/R isn't any less frugal with a gallon of gas.

And it's still reasonable in terms of price. It's just that it also happens to be fun to drive... most enjoyable to sit in... and more interestingly appointed than a practical, economical car is supposed to be.

You've already had the word on Buick's V-6. How peppery it is. How efficient.

Century Regal Coupe

It certainly won't hold Regal back. (Of course, our 5.7 liter V-8 is available on Century if you insist on those two extra cylinders.)

Standard equipment includes more than things like deep full-foam seats, carefully refined styling, GM-Specification steel-belted radial-ply tires, power steering, Full-Flo ventilation, a notchback front seat, and so on.

Also standard is a nit-picky kind of attitude toward sound-deadening. Riding smoothness. And toward the quantity and quality of Century's appointments.

That fussiness about things seen and unseen in the Century Regal is what distinguishes it as a Buick. And what makes it—we said it before but it bears repeating—one of America's most impresesive mid-sized cars.

ELECTRA PARK AVENUE. Anytime you can buy a Buick this spectacular, well, you needn't wander off looking for something better.

The Electra Park Avenue is the most elegantly appointed Buick ever built.

You get a hint from the special "halo" vinyl top that something special is going on here. But we'd have to say that the real story is on the inside (as it really should be in any luxury car worthy of the title).

In front, you have individual easy-chair seating for both driver and front passenger. And all the seating is covered with velour, loosely draped like on fine furniture, and very soft. Overhead, more velour—

Electra Park Avenue 4-door Hardtop

just as soft and just as rich looking. Even the extra-large console is covered with velour.

The carpeting is of the shag variety. Not so unusual in a fine home, but special indeed in an automobile.

Then there are the little touches. Like the impeccably designed instrument panel. The power windows. The super-accurate quartz-crystal digital clock.

LeSabre Sport Coupe

That's the nice thing about dealing with Buick. You don't find a lot of corner-cutting creeping into the scene.

So when you finally decide that the family car is going to be a LeSabre, the rewards are visible and immediate.

Performance. The 5.7 liter V-8 has High-Energy Ignition and several other refinements that help increase operating performance. (More on that a little later.)

The suspension is the kind that has given Buick its reputation for smoothness.

And let's not forget standard GM-Specification steel-belted radial-ply tires. Or forward-mounted steering linkage. And so on.

Inferior. Thick, heavy cushioning—richly covered. An instrument panel that's both elegant and convenient. Thick carpeting. Quality appointments abound.

Riviera Sport Coupe

RIVIERA. It's hard to believe that anything this well-built and richly-appointed can be so much fun to drive.

To really understand Riviera, you've got to take your eyes off the square headlamps, ignore all the luxury for a moment, and fix your attention dead-center on the following:

A standard 7.5 liter V-8 engine with High-Energy Ignition and other performance-promoting refinements. GM-Specification steel-belted radial-ply tires. Front stabilizer bar. Four coil springs. Highly readable and informative instrumentation.

Then you have to drive Riviera.

Only then are you allowed to savor the classic styling. The standard power windows. The standard notchback seating. The standard tilt steering wheel. And all the other creature comforts Riviera indulges you with.

The point is that you appreciate Riviera for the very special kind of car it is. Luxurious. Even a little snobbish. But more than prepared to hold its own in motion.

MAXIMUM MILEAGE SYSTEM.

We've provided every 1975 Buick with certain standard equipment that has collectively come to be called the Buick Maximum Mileage System, because it represents the most advanced engineering and technology Buick can offer for 1975.

It includes three basic elements.

One, a catalytic converter. Two, High-Energy Ignition. Three, steel-belted radial-ply tires. Now we could wax technical here and end up boring you, bewildering you, or both. So we choose not to. Suffice it to say that the System does much to make every Buick operate more efficiently. Spark plugs fire more dependably and last longer than in the 1974 Buicks. The engine is tuned for operating economy. And the tires offer lower rolling resistance.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Andy Yearns For Old Grind

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Andy Williams has this weird idea. He'd like to return to the grind of a weekly variety show on tv, probably do it in New York, do it live and not sing as much as he did during his old series on NBC.

The Iowa-born singer, lean and tanned at 43, discussed all this heresy while in Fun City to do an NBC special — it aired Sept. 7 — which the network says is a pilot for a possible midseason series.

Williams, who got into the singing business at an early age with brothers Bob, Dick and Don, had his own weekly muic show on NBC from 1962 to 1967, but since then has gone the NBC specials route.

Why go back to the old grind?

"Well," he grinned, "I think it'd be interesting to do it and I'd just like to try it. I don't think it'd be as hard as doing the old series where I had to rehearse all week."

Williams, still as casual and relaxed as a yawn, said the series he has in mind wouldn't resemble his old show. For one thing, it wouldn't have a staff of singers and dancers — "we'd hire 'em as we need 'em."

It should be as up-to-the-minute as possible — which is why he says he'd rather do it live instead of taping it several weeks in advance — in both song material, guest artists and comedy.

"I'd like to have the number one recording act of the week on and the comedy — I don't mean standup comedy, old routines — should be about what's happening in the newspapers that week, or the day before or even the day of the show," he said.

"I think that if it works out the way I'd like it to, and if we had the money to do it, I'd like to cut away during the show to different places.

"I'd like it if the NBC News department could possibly help us. If, say, the Rolling Stones were on tour in Cleveland and if we got permission to shoot a little of their concert, I'd like to get the NBC affiliate in there with a hand-held camera for the show.

"The whole idea of it is to catch the things people are talking about, and all of it should be new."

Doing the show live would be more of a hassle, he conceded, "but the immediacy of the thing would be more important than the fact it might not be as slick or smooth as it would be on tape."

Williams, who said he'd continue singing, but not as much as he did on his former series, said the new show "would be a combination of shows.

"It should have the quality of 'That Was the Week That Was,' talking about things that are in the news, what's happening today, and maybe a little bit like the old Jackie Gleason show, in that you do it in a big theater with a live audience."

Williams lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., but said he'd probably do the show here even though he used to think, "Why come to New York when you can do it in Los Angeles?"

"But since I've been here, I've found there's an aliveness to New York — the theaters, the music tours that start here. I'd rather be back in LA because my kids and Claudine (his wife) are there.

"But like I say, I feel like there's a vitality in New York that there isn't in Los Angeles. I think LA's a bit too laid-back."

The singer, who held forth in a suite that overlooked the summer greenery of Central Park, said he didn't know when or if he'd get word from NBC to crank up a midseason series.

The network has no music-variety shows in its current line-up, although NBC officials say they'd like one.

Williams said whether he commences the series partly depends on whether the new or returning series in NBC's fall lineup gets into ratings trouble.

"And then you have to decide whether you want to go in that trouble spot," he said. "If it's up against 'All in the Family' . . ."

His words trailed off and he laughed.

"When I was just starting out, I was offered a couple of shows. The first show I was offered was against 'Gunsmoke.' I just said, 'I have a destruction complex to a degree, but I don't want to just go in and get wiped out.'

"Same thing now. I think this show would be much better on a weekend, and if they gave me, like, a Monday night spot, I don't know whether I'd want to do it. And I don't care either.

"I don't have to have this show, but it'd be fun."

Inner Peace Movement Lecture Slated Tonight

Janet Sierer, traveling field representative for the fast-growing Inner Peace Movement, or IPM, will present a public lecture here tonight.

Miss Sierer's lecture will concern understanding psychic experiences. The 8 p.m. program in Sheraton Motor Inn will be open to the public, at $1.50 per person.

The visitor from Seattle, Wash., currently is on a swing through Texas presenting lectures on IPM, an organization with more than 400,000 followers in all parts of the world. She has presented lectures in recent days in Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Harlingen, Abilene and San Angelo, and will go from here to Lubbock and Fort Worth, thence to Tulsa. In her travels she teaches people how to "tune in to themselves," using IPM techniques for showing them how to work with their potential for extra-sensory preception. She says all persons have one of four types of psychic gifts: 1. Prophecy, being able to see into the future; 2. vision, preceiving particularly vivid mental pictures; 3. intuition, having highly developed ideas and an organized sense of direction, and 4. feeling, the making of decisions based on feelings.

However, it is vital that people be able to understand their own psychic experiences, she says. "People have to be able to interpret their own symbols."

Miss Sierer has been involved in the IPM for five years and in her work attempts to teach people how to be aware of their own particular gift and how to use it for increased sensitivity.

Tonight's public lecture will have a follow-up session immediately afterward in which Miss Sierer will be demonstrating various psychic techniques.

Goodman Speaks At Lions Meeting

Clyde Goodman, district conservationist with the Midland office of the Soil Conservation Service, presented the program Tuesday at the meeting of the Midland Evening Lions Club at the Ramada Inn.

The program was introduced by Jack Cross, program chairman. Jack Darden is the club president.

Goodman showed a special slide presentation, "Working for a Better Environment," which was in the area of land use planning.

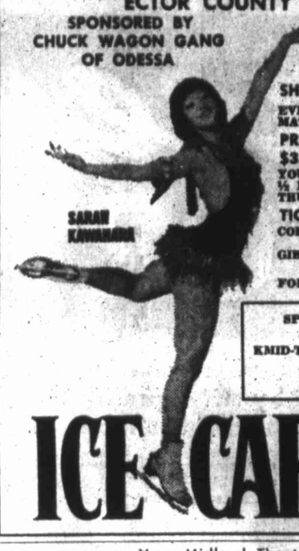

College Officials Attending Meeting

One of the highlights of the convention will be an address Thursday by Tom McCall, governor of Oregon.

Langford and Huff will return to Midland Saturday.

Abducted Girl Found Safe; Man Charged

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An unemployed parolee has been charged with the abduction of the daughter of broadcasting executive Charles S. Mechem Jr. The girl was found safe.

"Our little girl is back, and she's happy," Mechem said after 4-year-old Allison was found crying, but unharmed, in a locked motel room five miles from her home on Tuesday. She had spent 24 hours in the hands of her aductor.

Authorities said no ransom was collected.

Police said Tuesday night they had charged Frank Joseph Wiechman, 26, Cincinnati, with kidnaping. He was scheduled for arraignment in Hamilton County Municipal Court today on the state charge.

Police said Wiechman was unemployed and was on parole from an armed robbery conviction in Florida.

A second man arrested with Wiechman at a chili parlor about 15 miles from the Mechem home in suburban Mount Lookout was released after questioning, police said. He was not identified.

Wiechman surrendered to arresting officers without a struggle, police said.

Officers said they arrested Wiechman after receiving a tip that a man matching the description of the kidnaper, provided by witnesses to the abduction, was driving a white van. Police spotted the vehicle parked outside the chili parlor in Colerain Township.

"I always thought we overprotected her a little," Mechem, chairman of the board of the Taft Broadcasting Corp., said after his daughter was reunited with her family.

Police said Allison and a playmate were riding their tricycles in front of the Mechem home on Monday when a car pulled up and a male occupant asked about Allison's 16-year-old sister, Melissa.

Officers said that after the children identified Allison as Melissa's sister, the man pulled her into the car and sped away. The car later was found abandoned. A blue jacket and one of Allison's shoes were in the car.

The family received two anonymous telephone calls, and two money drops were made by Mechem to meet ransom demands, police said. They said the money was not picked up.

Police declined to reveal the exact amount of the ransom, but said it was more than the $2,000 originally reported. Police Lt. James Daley said the demand was near $40,000. The Cincinnati Enquirer said the ransom was $128,000, but police would not confirm the report.

Mechem shortly after Allison's return that said his daughter was not mistreated in any way.

"She's in there now eating suckers, and she's fine," he said.

Shakeup Of Economic Policy Organization Seen By Ford Adviser

WASHINGTON (AP) — His White House high command reorganized, President Ford now is looking to put his stamp on the balance of the administration he inherited from Richard M. Nixon.

One top adviser, Philip Buchen, said in an interview that a major shakeup of economic policy organization is under way, with longtime Ford associate L. William Seidman slated for a permanent, high-level post in that area.

Seidman, a millionaire accountant from Ford and Buchen's home town of Grand Rapids, Mich., is highly regarded by the President for his management creativity. He now is winding up a temporary job as architect of Ford's economic summits.

Buchen would disclose only that Seidman likely will inherit some of the duties of economic counsellor Kenneth Rush, who is leaving the White House for a diplomat post. Seidman would not comment.

At the same time, Buchen indicated, Ford will sharpen his scrutiny of the rest of the federal bureaucracy, looking for allegiance and initiative in departments and agencies that lost impetus in the waning months of the Nixon presidency.

Meanwhile Tuesday, Ford announced the appointment of Donald Rumsfeld, 42, a former House colleague who now is ambassador to NATO, as a presidential assistant responsible for coordinating White House operations.

Aside from the pending announcement on Seidman, Rumsfeld's appointment virtually completed reorganization of the White House staff. Now, of the six men closest to the President, each with an office near his, only one is a Nixon holdover, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Rumsfeld is to go to work Friday, succeeding Alexander Haig, but without either the title or the sweeping powers that Haig and his predecessor, H. R. Haldeman, once held as chiefs of staff.

Robert Hartmann, the speechwriter-counsellor who sits next to the Oval Office, said Rumsfeld's duties would be "more in character of an administrative assistant, a guy who runs the office."

"Nobody will be No. 1 on the White House staff," Hartmann said. "All six of us will be No. 2s, without any particular pecking order, all with free access to the President."

Sunday Closing Trial Set Friday

A complaint of violation of the Sunday closing laws against Gibson's Discount Center is scheduled for trial at 9 a.m. Friday in Justice of the Peace R. H. Pine's Court.

The complaint was filed by Laren Widener of Tulsa, Okla., an employe of the legal department of T.G.&Y. Stores, said County Attorney Jim Oglesby.

Widener alleged he purchased prohibited items on successive Saturdays and Sundays. He has filed similar complaints against Skaggs-Albertson.

Three-Year Moratorium On New Auto Safety, Pollution Laws Sought

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors has begun to flex its corporate muscle in support of a three-year moratorium on new auto safety and antipollution laws, calling them inflationary.

In his strongest criticism yet of federal regulations, GM Chairman Richard Gerstenberg also called for a joint government-industry review of the need for existing and proposed regulations.

"We question whether today's inflation does not make all the more necessary a complete moratorium on laws that disproportionately affect the costs of cars and trucks," Gerstenberg told the Citizens' Research Council on Tuesday.

"High prices cause inflation like wet streets cause rain," he said of the relationship between GM prices and the nation's inflationary spiral. "Cost without value causes inflation; rising prices are merely symptoms."

GM revealed Tuesday that Gerstenberg had written to President Ford early this month asking that Ford consider a moratorium. GM said Ford replied that he had sent the proposal to federal agencies for study.

In Washington, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, the author of the Clean Air Act, said he had told Mayor Thomas Bradley of Los Angeles in a letter Tuesday that there will be no further amendments to the act in this Congress, adding, "I personally feel that any change at this time would be premature."

The proposed moratorium has been endorsed by both the Ford Motor Co. and the Chrysler Corp.

In a recent interview with The Associated Press, Gerstenberg questioned whether some safety and clean air improvements have been worth the money they have cost the industry and the public.

Gerstenberg said government-mandated equipment since the fall of 1971 has cost GM about $1 billion — $300 million in 1974 alone — and added about $270 to the price of each GM vehicle.

During the same three-year span, however, the company has raised prices an average $1,200.

U.S. auto makers have vigorously opposed regulations requiring more stringent emission and safety standards for 1977-model vehicles.

They have argued that clean air regulations have prevented the companies from improving the fuel economy of their vehicles, and insist current standards are adequate.

Lambs Club Names Jackie As Director

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Onassis has been appointed a director of the financially pressed Lambs club. She is only the second woman member in the century-old theatrical group.

The first female member of the Lambs was Mrs. Theodore Newhouse, wife of the associate publisher of Newhouse Newspapers. She was inducted as honorary chairman last month after having pledged $25,000 to the club.

WT Chamber President To Speak At Symposium

ABILENE — Burl B. Hulsey Jr. of Fort Worth, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and president and chief executive officer of Texas Electric Service Co., will speak at a symposium on The Free Enterprise System in America October 4 and 5. Hulsey's topic will be "The Free Enterprise System and American Life."

The symposium is being sponsored by The American Studies Institute of the Southwest, an arm of Wayland Baptist College at Plainview.

A number of nationally known speakers will appear on the program which will open at 9 a.m., Friday, with a welcome address by Dr. Roy C. McClung, president of Wayland Baptist College.

Rep. James J. Kaster, Texas House of Representatives, will speak on "The State Legislature and Free Enterprise Education in Texas."

Other speakers appearing on the morning session will be B. V. Thompson, president, Texas Steel Corporation; and Dr. William Luker, director, Center for Economic Education, North Texas State University.

Dr. Luker will be the luncheon speaker, on the subject "Understanding the Free Enterprise System."

A panel discussion, "Communicating the Free Enterprise System to the Public," is scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday. Appearing on the panel will be Hulsey, Thompson, Dr. Luker, W. P. Shofstall, superintendent of education for the State of Arizona, and Dr. Leon Balir, executive director, Texas Bureau for Economic Understanding.

Shofstall will be the principal speaker at the dinner session at 7:30 p.m. Friday. He will speak on "Preserving the Free Enterprise System in America."

The following morning will be devoted to a workshop on "Teaching the Free Enterprise System in Our Communities and Schools." Dr. Blair will lead a discussion on "Resources" and the discussion on "Methods" will be led by Dr. Luker.

The symposium was planned after the Texas Legislature mandated that courses on the essentials and benefits of the Free Enterprise System be taught in every Texas high school. This is an opportunity for school administrators and civic leaders to become informed on the new program and be of maximum assistance to their local school systems.

OUT OF THE BUS — Mr. and Mrs. Marion Roberts of Omaha and their seven children have found rental housing after living in this school bus for two months. After their previous home was vandalized, the family moved out and the Roberts' said they were unable to find a house to rent because of the size of their family. The Omaha School District had not allowed the children to attend school because the family had no permanent address. (AP Wirephoto.)

Family Finally Finds House To Rent After Living In Old Bus For Two Months

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A two-month residency in a 12-year-old battered school bus has ended for Mr. and Mrs. Marion Roberts and their seven children.

The family had lived in their bus since vandals broke the windows of a house they were renting in Omaha and they decided to move out. Mrs. Roberts said the family was unable to find a landlord who would accept a family with seven children.

Roberts said government-assisted housing was unavailable because he made between $10,000 and $12,000 a year, and he could not afford the rent of places which would accept the large family.

After a newspaper published a story about the family's plight, offers of housing came from parts of Omaha, western Iowa and eastern Nebraska.

On Monday, the Roberts family rented a three-bedroom frame home owned by Mrs. Robert Bragg, widow of a former Omaha policeman. Mrs. Bragg said the rent terms were payment of $100 monthly with the second month free in exchange for maintenance work to be done by Roberts.

"All the children were just absolutely thrilled when they were going through the house," Mrs. Bragg said. "They were deciding who would sleep in which bedroom."

"I've been there myself, so I understand," Mrs. Bragg said. She explained that she and her husband had four children and were turned down in attempts to rent housing.

Lack of a permanent address had prevented the Roberts' six school age children, ranging in age from 7 to 15, from attending school.

Many Elderly Americans, Poor May Have To Choose Between Food And Warmth This Winter, Panel Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many older Americans may be forced to make choices this winter between such necessities as food and warmth, a Senate committee has been told.

"There is little question that the poor and the elderly face a winter of very serious hardship," Alvin J. Arnett, former director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, told the Senate Committee on Aging Tuesday.

He was part of a panel on the impact of rising energy costs on older Americans that predicted a long, cold winter for the elderly.

"Whether or not there are official national shortages of fuel this winter, you can be sure there will be shortages in the fuel tanks, the stoves and the furnaces of the poor and elderly," said Arnett.

"Without an emergency program of aid to the poor, there is an excellent chance that many persons in colder areas of this nation will simply be unable to heat their homes or apartments," said James L. Feldesman of the consumer Federation of America.

Although the poor use less energy than other Americans, they pay more for it per unit as well as a higher percentage of their income, panelists said.

Feldesman said the only federal agency that responded meaningfully last winter in aiding poor Americans with fuel problems was the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Arnett described one of the OEO programs that provided funds for winterization of homes and relief for people in emergency situations.

He said Project Fuel in Maine winterized between 5 and 10 per cent of the substandard housing in the state at an average cost of $100 per house.

Three-Year-Old Vietnamese Faces Long Road To Health

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston surgeons decided Tuesday that Tran Thi Het didn't need heart surgery, but it'll still be a long, long road to health for the three-year-old Vietnamese orphan.

Tran Thi Het was flown to Houston earlier this month for possible surgery on a heart defect.

But after extensive tests, doctors decided she could overcome the effects of a pinpoint-sized hole between chambers in her heart with good care and nutrition.

"No surgery is indicated at this time," said a Texas Children's Hospital spokesman. "The defect is not damaging her health."

Tran Thi Het caught worldwide attention 18 months ago after publication of an Associated Press photograph. The picture showed her asleep in a discarded American C-ration box on a Saigon sidewalk. Her brother was to one side and their begging bowl on the other.

The little girl, who was three years old last Friday, left Saigon Sept. 3, but she was hospitalized in Honolulu when she became ill during the flight to Houston. She arrived here Sept. 15.

Now in the custody of the Vietnamese-American Children's Fund (VACF) Tran Thi Het suffered from sores, infections, severe malnutrition and emotional disturbances, officials said.

Long Process

"Her teeth are rotting, she has a ruptured eardrum and she can't walk or talk," said Ben Cunningham, the U.S. director of the VACF. "It'll be a long, long process for her back to health."

The child will remain the hospital two or three more days. Then she'll move in with a Houston foster family for two more months before returning to Saigon. Cunningham said she'll eventually be placed in one of the VACF homes in Saigon.

"It caused her extreme pain on the airplane trip because of changes in the cabin pressure," said Cunningham.

The child weighed 14 pounds when she left Vietnam. She now is up to 19 pounds, about half the normal weight for a three year old, he said.

"Her ankles and legs are the size of two or three-month-old child's" he said. "This kept her from learning to walk."

Now that she has plenty of food, he said, "She'll eat anything and everything. She won't allow a crumb to be lost."

Two brothers are already under the care of the Children's Fund, said Cunningham. The girl's father is dead. Her mother is a Saigon beggar whose last known address was an alley behind a hotel.

Tran Thi Het couldn't talk when she arrived, but she may go home speaking English, said Cunningham.

"She's making more sounds now, like she's just starting to talk," he said. "She's just as sharp as a tack. She's really a little fireball."

Then he added: "She's tough. There's really no other way to put it. She may be just a frail piece of flesh and bone, but she's tough."

PREACHING ON "LOVE"

No student of Holy writ can find fault with preaching on the subject of "love." Without doubt it is one of the most profound subjects to be read and discussed on the pages of God's Holy Book. The grand old Book instructs us of God's love for sinful man. (Jn. 3:16) It also contains admonitions for man to love God. (Mt. 22:37) We learn that we are to love our neighbours as ourselves, (Mt. 22:39) to love our wives as our own bodies, (Ep. 5:23) and even our enemies. (Mt. 5:44) I doubt seriously that one could exhaust the subject in a whole lifetime because it is so comprehensive. This is substantiated by the fact that the subject of "love" is discussed, in its various ramifications, better than five hundred times in the Bible. Yet, when we listen to some preach on the theme week after week, we might conclude that love is something that drips from lips like drops of honey from the comb. We might conclude that a saint is to be so sweet and nice to everyone, even those living in error, that such loving saints must overlook sin.

Who could say that Jesus Christ our Lord and Master fell short of the perfect example of love in every act while on earth? Never has man loved as He loved. But even His love for His enemies (enemies of truth) caused Him to rebuke them sharply for their sinful doings. In reading Matthew 23 we hear the Master sounding scathing rebukes, using language that many SOFT church members would not allow in the pulpits of the land, thinking that such preaching as done by the Lord is beneath their dignity.

My friends, think not that we would confuse abuse with loving rebuke. Think not that we take pleasure in seeing others become hostile at sound and faithful gospel preaching. But we must not confuse the subject of love. Our pleasure comes in knowing that we have the truth that "makes men free;" the pleasure of knowing that unless we "reprove, rebuke, and exhort with all longsuffering and teaching," we cannot please our Saviour. (2 Ti. 4:1-5)

Preacher friend, what kind of love are YOU teaching week after week when you preach your SERIES on love?

State's Sugar Cane Industry Given Reprieve From Pollution Regulations

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The infant Texas sugar cane industry in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, whose upcoming harvest has assumed new importance because of weather elsewhere, has been given a temporary reprieve from state air pollution regulations.

The Texas Air Control Board, meeting here Tuesday, voted unanimously to allow the Rio Grande Valley Sugar Growers Inc. to be at variance with state prohibitions on open burning until June 1, 1975.

The growers' cooperative, which apparently comprises all the state's sugar cane industry, urged the move by the air control board and was backed by a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Jim Sessions, director of the Agriculture Department's administrative services, said the Texas sugar cane crop has become more important because a tropical storm wiped out much of the Louisiana sugar cane crop.

Using traditional methods, the sugar cane growers plan to begin harvesting in late October. According to the air control board's spokesman, the fields are burned first to remove the chaff and what is left is shipped to sugar mills for processing.

The traditional method of burning would be in violation of air pollution regulations but Jack Nelson, general manager of the cooperative, said new methods are still under research.

The board found that compliance by the growers with open burning prohibitions "with regard to the entire crop to be harvested this season will result in the practical closing and elimination of a lawful business without sufficient corresponding benefit to the people of Texas."

The board was told that the Texas sugar cane industry, now in its second year, has created 880 new jobs in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, which is unable to attract more sophisticated industry because of low education levels.

"The board is not going to starve anybody," said the board spokesman.

Bentsen Says Demos' Chances Depend On Ford's Performance

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., says the Democrats' chance of beating President Ford in 1976 depends on the job he does in office.

"His principal project is to correct the mistakes of the last 5½ years in the economy," Bentsen said Tuesday at a news conference.

"Without a new and different approach he won't change the course of the economy. I think we must start now with constructive, positive proposals."

The Texan has been mentioned as a top contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976.

"I've given serious thought to seeking the nomination," he said. "A number of leaders in the Senate have suggested that I run, but I haven't made a decision."

He said that with the withdrawal of Sen. Edward Kennedy "the race for the Democratic presidential nomination is wide open."

"A number of people are obviously interested," Bentsen added. "I am, Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.), Sen. Walter Mondale (D-Minn.), and others, I'm sure."

Bentsen said President Ford's pardon of former President Nixon "shortcircuited the judicial process, which had been serving well in Watergate."

"He picked up the buck before it reached his desk." Bentsen added. "He violated the principle of equal justice for everyone."

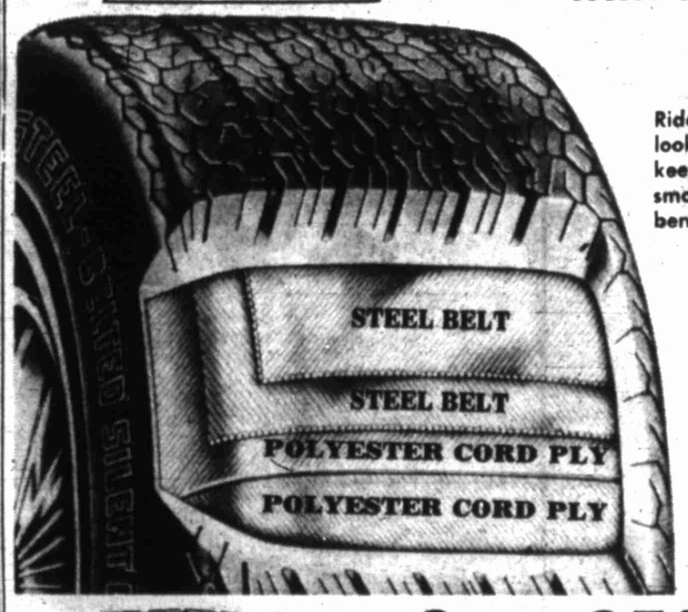

Bentsen, a member of the NATO subcommittee on mutual and balanced force reduction, said he believes the nation could "bring about some orderly reduction in our forces abroad." He said the United States has the highest proportion of support troops to combat troops of any force in the world.

Mother Calls Follower Of Evangelist Moon 'Puppet'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: After a controversial visit to New York City, a Korean evangelist, the Rev. Sun Myung Moon, has moved his million-dollar religious road show on to Philadelphia. Before Christmas stops are scheduled at six other major U.S. cities. This story is about one of Moon's young American followers.)

By PETER ARNETT

NEW YORK (AP) — "He's a Moon puppet!"

The mother's voice sounded bitterly unhappy. She had seen her son Tom Grabowski only once in two years and had been trying to phone him in New York City. But Tom was not available.

Not available to relatives either this past week were hundreds of other young people. They had assembled here with the avowed purpose of promoting a Korean evangelist named the Rev. Sun Myung Moon in skeptical New York.

So insistent was their poster, street-corner and television campaign that Madison Square Garden was filled to capacity to hear the Rev. Moon repudiate traditional Christian teachings and virtually proclaim himself the new messiah.

Similar campaigns will inundate Philadelphia, Washington D.C., Atlanta, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles before the year ends.

Religious leaders grow apopletic discussing the Moon people's religious philosophy, classifying it as the latest wrinkle in the myriad of offbeat religions that periodically sweep America.

The heretical Moon view of the Bible is that God did not intend for Jesus Christ to be crucified to atone for man's sin. It was all a ghastly mistake, and a new messiah will arrive soon to finish the job.

Hundreds of young Americans seem willing to believe this and lay their life savings on the line to prove it. Moon's Unification Church claims 20,000 American members, average age 23. One of these members, Tom Grabowski, paid $4,150 of savings and salary in the first few months of his Moon membership.

"The Rev. Moon is leading Tom down the garden path," said his mother who lives in the west side of Chicago. "I've had tickets to some of his rallies but I have torn them up. If I go I know I'll stand up and demand my son back."

Others Speaking Out

Other parents are speaking out as Moon's publicity campaign moves into full gear across the country. They charge that Moon's church deliberately alienates youths from their families, and insists on their asceticism, while senior church members live lives of luxury.

Tom Grabowski was outside the Public Library on Fifth Avenue two days before Moon's Madison Square Garden crusade.

Tom, tall and goodlooking, was enthusiastically handing out red, white and blue leaflets bearing the smiling face of the Rev. Moon and titled, "September 18th Could be your Birthday." That was the date of the New York rally.

Tom quickly agreed to be interviewed, readily admitting that his mother was concerned about his activities. But the interview would not be alone. "There are always two of us together," said an elder member of the group outside the library.

During a lunch of hot dogs in a nearby park it turned out that Tom was part of the eight-member South Carolina team working out of Columbia, S.C. They had been summoned to New York to assist in the campaign.

They were staying at a downtown Manhattan hotel that they declined to identify "because of security." Most of the conversation was dominated by an older team member, who said he was a former candidate for the Roman Catholic priesthood.

But later in the afternoon this reporter managed to get Tom alone in a Madison Avenue coffee shop. He talked freely about his upbringing in a Polish neighborhood in Chicago, his restlessness after he graduated from a Catholic high school at 16, his enlistment in the army at 18 and assignment to Thailand with a top secret clearance in the Army Security Agency.

Back home at Ft. Jackson, S.C., last year "I was looking for something, I don't know what." He met some Moon movement members, and soon agreed to turn over his Army pay checks to the cause. He turned over 10 monthly checks of $325 each until his discharge in March this year when he joined the movement full time.

Tom also sold his stereo equipment to give an additional $600, and withdrew $300 from a bank account of $1,500 that he had accumulated years earlier, and gave it to the movement: a total of $4,150.

It was then that his mother stepped in.

"I have his bank book, and I will not allow him to give another penny to the Moon people," she said. "There is $1,200 left, and he must have something to fall back on."

His mother says she is concerned less about his money than her son's health. "I know now that Tom is doing what he wants to do, but I do not believe that the Moon people are as concerned about him as I am.

"They eat poorly, they live in poverty."

Tom seemed proud of his frugality. "Sure we eat simply, and live simply. There are four of us to a hotel room here. We have been eating mainly cheese sandwiches all week, and hamburgers. And at Columbia we live commune-style, and need to do a lot of work on the house."

Tom seemed to see little inconsistency in eating at a Burger King on Lexington Avenue one evening, getting every cents worth of the less than $2 the group spent on food each day, while just seven blocks away the Rev. Moon was entertaining 1,650 guests to a free dinner at the Waldorf Astoria that cost $25 a head.

Moon Lives Grandly

Nor was Tom perturbed to know that the Rev. Moon lived grandly in a mansion on the 26-acre East Garden estate in Irvington, N.Y., purchased last year for a reported $650,000, along with $50,000 worth of its antiques. This while Tom and his South Carolina team lived in a broken down house on the wrong side of the tracks in Columbia.

Much of the Rev. Moon's money reportedly comes from industrial holdings in South Korea.

The South Carolina team keeps detailed books, entering even cokes purchased on the streets to slake their thirst. The books are sent monthly to the movement's headquarters.

Tom said his normal activities are aimed at gaining new recruits, fulltime workers like himself who devote themselves to spreading the word of Moon.

To spearhead his current cross-country campaign, Moon called upon hundreds of members like Tom to fund-raise and promote his appearances. They are a formidable, highly organized and dedicated group.

Tom agreed to talk again the following day, but it was not to be. Word of the interview had gotten out to higher headquarters, and Tom said next morning he was not permitted to speak.

A protest to the movement headquarters, which insists the Moon church is open to press scrutiny, brought the promise of an interview the morning after the Madison Square Garden Crusade. But not only was Tom not at the interview, neither was anything else. The Church headquarters on Fifth Avenue was completely deserted.

A doorman told this reporter, "They moved themselves and 40 pieces of furniture out early this morning."

This reporter had a message to Tom from his mother: "Tell him I love him, and I'll be waiting at home when he sees how useless this whole thing is."

Cher Bono To Star In Own Tv Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Cher Bono, whose "Sonny and Cher" television show and her marriage ended almost in the same stroke, will star in her own weekly variety series next fall.

A CBS spokesman announced Monday that Cher has been signed to a contract for a one-hour special in February and a regular variety show starting in the fall of 1975. Contract details weren't made public.

Industrial Waste Hearing Slated

Plans to improve the state's system of regulating industrial solid waste will be discussed Thursday by the Texas Water Quality Board in a public hearing in Midland City Hall.

The 10 a.m. session will be held in council chambers as one of 14 hearings slated by the TWQB in an effort to modify current waste product regulations.

Testimony developed at the Midland hearing will be presented to the board at its November session in Austin.

Prime Rate Cut Prompts Brief Stock Mart Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market responded to a major New York bank's decision to cut its prime lending rate with a powerful, but brief, rally today.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, down about 6 points at midmorning, surged ahead to a gain of 14, then settled back to 663.02, up 8.92, by noon. Gainers more than doubled the number of losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

The rally erupted immediately after New York's Morgan Guaranty Trust, the nation's fifth-largest bank, said it would cut its prime, or basic short-term charge on loans to large corporations, from 12 to 11¾ per cent Thursday.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up .54 at 66.54.

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

Dallas, staked site for No. 1 Edith-Federal, a Queen project, one location east of the Queen sector of the Querecho Plains pool and ⅜ mile southwest of the Shinnery (Queen) field of Lea County.

Contract depth is 4,300 feet, for the test which spots 2,310 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of section 23-18s-32e, eight miles south of Maljamar.

Eddy Prospector Gains More Pay

David Fasken, Midland, No. 3 El Paso-Federal, Eddy County, N.M., wildcat, was bottomed at 11,450 feet, circulating and conditioning hole, after taking a second straddle-packer drillstem test.

Tool was open 200 minutes on the test taken from 10,943-11,030 feet. Gas came to surface in 3½ minutes on a ½-inch choke, flowing initially at the rate of 10.730 million cubic feet per day, and increasing during the second flow period to 11.670 million cubic feet per day at the end of the test. Recovery was 90 feet of condensate and 180 feet of water.

An earlier straddle-packer test from 9,175-9,274 feet flowed gas at the maximum, daily rate of 725,000 cubic feet on a ½-inch choke.

A drillstem test from 10,851-11,080 feet flowed gas at the rate of 12.535 million cubic feet daily, and recovered five feet of condensate.

The project, slated to 11,400 feet, spots 1,664 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 1-21s-26e, six miles north of Carlsbad, and 2¼ miles northwest of Morrow production in the Burton Flat field.

Eddy Dual Gasser Testing Wolfcamp

Cities Service Oil Co. No. 1-Z Government, assured second Wolfcamp well and 1½-mile south extension to that pay, and sixth Morrow well and ¾-mile northeast extension to that zone in the Russell gas field of Eddy County, N.M., was shut in to await four-point testing on the Wolfcamp.

It flowed 3½ hours through a 1-inch choke and perforations at 9,219-9,303 feet, making gas at the daily rate of 630,000 cubic feet, plus 107 barrels of distillate.

On four-point test in the Morrow, through perforations at 11,313-11,320 feet, it flowed gas at the maximum, daily rate of 5.7 million cubic feet. Operator was calculating absolute, open flow potential.

Extension Seen For Roosevelt

Texaco Inc. No. 2-3 Roelofs-Federal, west offset to the four-well Todd (Wolfcamp) field of Roosevelt County, N.M., pumped 127 barrels of oil and 43 barrels of salt water in 72 hours.

Pool Extension Seen In Martin

Fifth Ellenburger producer and a one-mile west extension to that pay in the Lacaff multizone field of Martin County has been indicated with the recovery of 7,300 feet of 45-gravity oil and the 3,000-foot water cushion on a drillstem test at KCM Oil Co., Midland, No. 1-A Mabee.

Tool was open 1¼ hour on the test taken from 13,282-13,315 feet. Gas volume was too small to measure.

The project is bottomed at 13,315 feet, fishing, and preparing to run casing.

An earlier drillstem test from 10,997-11,020 feet, recovered the 1,500-foot water blanket and 180 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 39, T-2-N, G&MMB&A survey, 20 miles north of Midland.

Mobil Acquires Majority Voting Interest In Marcor

CHICAGO (AP) — Mobil Oil Corp. announced Tuesday it has consummated an agreement to buy 8 million shares of Marcor Inc. for $200 million.

The transaction also involved sale by Marcor of its interest in Pioneer Trust & Savings Bank in Chicago.

Ward Workover Continues Tests

Union Texas Petroleum Corp. No. 2-J West Caprito Unit, Ward County deepening operation in the Caprito field, nine miles northwest of Pyote, flowed 17 barrels of oil in 24 hours.

Flow was through an unreported choke and perforations at 6,004-6,030 feet. Testing continued.

A former Delaware oil producer in the Block 17, Southeast field, it was scheduled to deepen to 6,000 feet as a wildcat.

Stepout In Pecos Flows 1.36 Million

Texas Pacific Oil Co., Inc. continued production tests at No. 4 Montgomery-Fulk, ¾-mile south stepout to the Elsinore (Devonian-Fusselman) gas field of Pecos County, about 24 miles southwest of Fort Stockton.

It flowed an unreported time through perforations at 12,762-12,799 feet, at the daily rate of 1.360 million cubic feet, plus four barrels of water per hour.

The flow was gauged after the section was fractured with 60,000 gallons and 34,300 pounds, and jetted with nitrogen. Earlier, the interval had been acidized with 10,000 gallons.

Oklahoma Oil Allowable Still At 200 Per Cent

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Oil production in Oklahoma continued to decline in September and the State Corporation Commission continued the 200 per cent allowable for another two months.

Dan R. Dunnett, director of the commission's conservation division, testified Tuesday at the bi-monthly market demanded hearings that during the 14 days of September Oklahoma wells averaged 468,674 barrels a day.

A year ago, daily pipeline deliveries averaged 504,780 barrels a day. They dipped below the half-million barrel mark in December and exceeded that figure only once since then, in February.

In a related action, the commission ordered Norge field production cut from 5,000 barrels to 1,000 barrels a day. The action was taken until the State Supreme Court decides the legality of a unitization plan for the 4-year-old field.

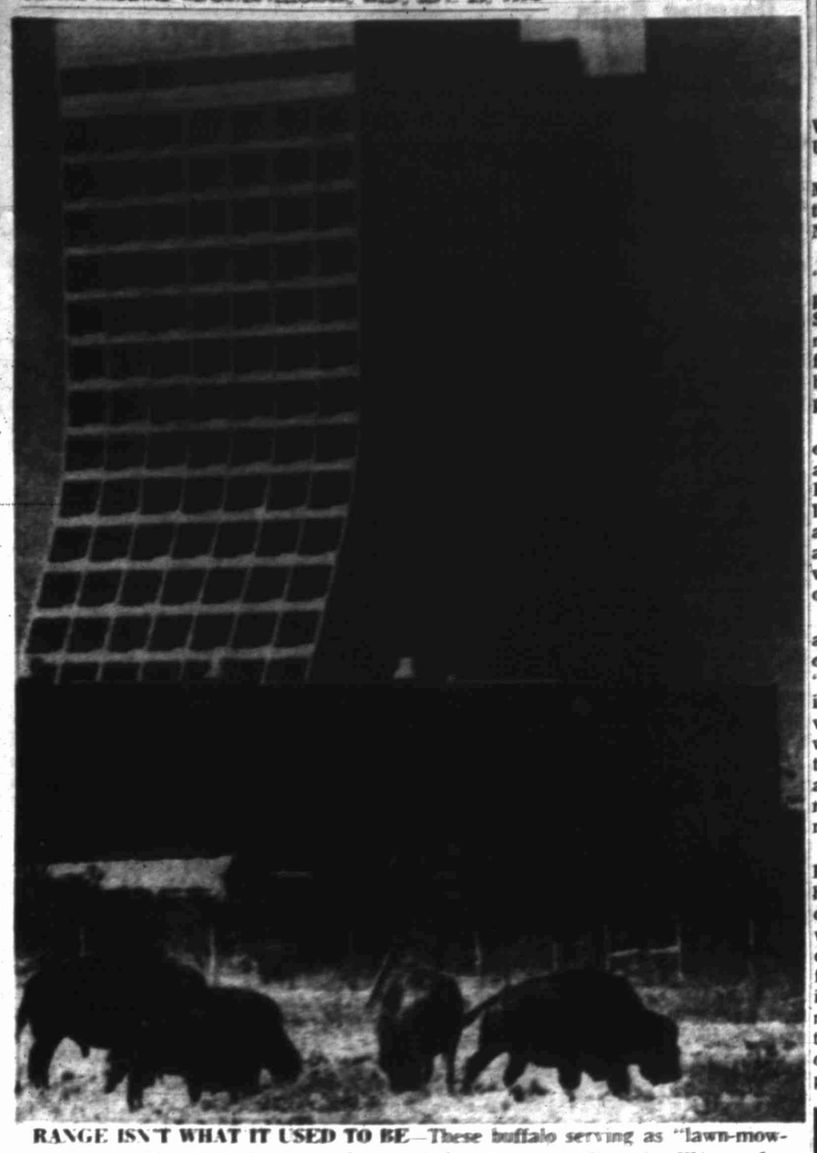

Nixon Responding Well To Treatment

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon is responding well to treatment of the painful phlebitis in his left leg, his physician reports.

Dr. John C. Lungren told newsmen on Tuesday in a written report on Nixon's condition that "anticoagulation therapy was begun after Mr. Nixon's arrival at the hospital Monday afternoon and so far he has responded well."

Lungren has refused to talk personally to newsmen, saying he will issue written reports daily at noon. He said each report will be approved by the former president. Lungren has said Nixon will be hospitalized for at least seven days.

RANGE ISN'T WHAT IT USED TO BE—These buffalo serving as "lawn-mowers" at the Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory near Batavia, Ill., are becoming a major attraction for visitors and the public. A herd of 38, brought here from the West, are part of plans to recreate the lush prairie which once carpeted the Midwest. The 900-acre ring above Fermi's 400-billion-electron-volt atom smasher would provide the nation's largest reconstructed prairie. (AP Wirephoto.)

Researcher Says 8 'Great' Presidents Were Ill

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Were the best presidents of the United States the sickest ones?

"Not necessarily," says Dr. Milton Plesur, professor of history at the State University of New York at Buffalo.

But, he points out, of the 11 "great" and "near great" U.S. presidents listed by the 1962 Schlesinger poll, eight had illnesses which affected their performance in office, and six died before their statistical life expectancy.

Dr. Plesur, who bases his conclusions on his research for a recently published book, "The Presidency Reappraised," believes that "although presidents are not 'great' because they are sick, illness tends to elevate the president in the eyes of historians."

Illness has been prevalent among the presidents of this century, he notes, but the "most arresting medical story" is that of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was plagued all his life with a sensitive respiratory tract, contracted polio at age 39 and it was rumored that he might have suffered several minor strokes in 1938.

"Despite the fact that the President was suffering from hypertension and fatigue, according to his last physician, he was able to perform his duties," adds Dr. Plesur, who feels that Roosevelt's "optimism in the face of severe economic depression and during the war years might have been due, in part, to his personal experiences in overcoming an illness that would have defeated a lesser man. Roosevelt was obviously ill, and this was known by many even before his return from Yalta."

However, asserts Dr. Plesur, the White House physicians insisted that Roosevelt was not even sick in 1944, and that the fatal stroke in 1945 was unforeseeable. "Roosevelt's case history raised many questions and highlighted the problem of presidential health," he observes.

And linked to presidential health is the problem of disclosure, the history professor points out. "When does a physician's responsibility to the community supercede the traditional patient-physician relationship?" he asks.

Would Franklin D. Roosevelt have acted differently at Yalta if he had been completely well? If Woodrow Wilson had not suffered from the after-effects of a post-stroke syndrome, would he have compromised during the League of Nations debate?

Historical Link

"The course of history is irrevocably linked with presidential disorders. An examination of the number of presidents who have been seriously ill, including as least six of 13 20th-century presidents, seems to uphold the public's feeling that it has the right to know more about presidential health than political bosses and White House physicians have disclosed," he continues. "This is especially true in an age when the future of civilization could depend upon a decision to use nuclear weapons. White House physicians and their presidential patients have too often maintained that health is a private matter."

Dr. Plesur says he does not mean to imply that a president must be in perfect physical condition. The leader is elected "for his ability to deal with the issues. If the president is in reasonably good health, that should be enough.

"Intimate details of health are not as important as the general implications of how that health problem might affect an individual's performance if he were president," says the author, who feels these implications ought to be interpreted by a bipartisan panel of physicians. He suggests one way to implement this might be to give candidates a health checkup, with any findings which the panel feels would affect the candidate's performance in office made public.

Poor health, by itself, should not be the determining factor, he maintains, but only as "one test of a candidate's will, ability to make decisions, initiative and determination, rather than a formative force." However, he notes, it would seem that "sickness and even a personal struggle to avert death enhance a person's strength of character and hence he becomes a better president, as in Roosevelt's case."

Dr. Plesur believes that, in the future, political parties should pay closer attention to the No. 2 spot and to the health of the vice presidential candidate.

More Die There

According to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, in both 1971 and 1972 more people died in New York state than any other state in the United States (185,238 in 1971, 182,570 in 1972).

Report Says Pay Will Be Up 177 Per Cent In Year 2000

CHICAGO (AP) — Salaries up by 177 per cent — sound impossible?

"And that is good news for the family budget custodian," says a recent report. Offering a glimpse of how 21st-century families will be living, the report from the financial services arm of Esmark predicts that income for a husband and wife with two school age children will average $38,041 — compared to today's $13,721.

Homemakers will delight in the fact that food costs will be down.

"Approximately 23.6 per cent of gross income will be spent on filling the family larder, as opposed to 25.3 per cent today. Modern, automated food processing technologies will help bring food prices down.

"Shelter will go up slightly compared to 1974. Americans today spend roughly 24.5 per cent of their income for housing — 25 per cent will be spent in 2000."

The forecast is for more of the family dollar going into savings, insurance and investments 25 years hence — 8 per cent. The probability of longer life for the average American will automatically trigger the need for meaningful retirement programs.

"With more leisure time and shorter work weeks families will earmark a larger share of the familial pocketbook — 5 per cent — to recreational activities.

"The family of 2000 will also have very definitive attitudes on where they live," the report emphasizes.

"Planned communities — now in their infancy — will be the futuristic life style. These new towns will feature one-stop living, work and play areas.

"Taxes will probably take a bigger bite from the income — simply because of an over-all increase. But, by and large, things look good for the budget of year 2000."

Publisher Outfoxes Book Moguls; Signs TerHorst For Ford Biography

NEW YORK (AP) — High above New York's Central Park sits the 31-year-old Nigerian publisher who outfoxed all the moguls of the book world. He signed Jerald terHorst to write a biography of President Ford.

"I've got them by the tails this time," says Joseph Okpaku, president of The Third Press — Joseph Okpaku Publishing Co., Inc. "It's very clear terHorst is somebody every publisher would like to have."

The biography by the President's recently resigned press secretary and longtime associate will be in bookstores on election day in November. Okpaku expects sales to be close to $1 million.

TerHorst, who resigned earlier this month in protest of Ford's full pardon of Richard Nixon, was given the largest advance Third Press has ever given, Okpaku said. He would not divulge the amount.

"The Jerry terHorst book was no accident," Okpaku said. "It always has been my intention to make Third Press an influential publishing house, no matter how small.

"Jerry's a very warm person and is extremely good to work with," said the publisher who said he first approached terHorst last year. "He's a far better book writer than he realized."

Okpaku, a soft-spoken man, came to this country from Nigeria in 1962. He studied civil engineering at Northwestern University and later received a master's degree in structural engineering from Stanford University in 1966.

"As an African, I was brought up with a certain sense of the future role in the development of the country," he said as he began to explain his journey from engineering to publishing.

"Although science and medicine are influential, policy determines what a scientist can do and policy is determined by public opinion. Public opinion is created by the media. There was no minority input in communications — objectivity was not here," he said.

Third Press puts out 30 titles each year. One of its best-selling books is "If They Come in the Morning," by Angela Davis, which has sold 20,000 hard-cover copies in the three months it has been out.

Alan Speed Named Head Of Rankin High Speech Club

Among the plans discussed were various money raising projects, the amount of dues, and consideration of duties and committees.

One money raising project discussed was collecting of old paper. It was requested that anyone living in the Rankin or Midkiff area save old papers and bring to the Post Office in either of the two towns where containers will be placed.

Warning: Wilderness May Be Hazardous

By TAD BARTIMUS

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — "This is the law of the Yukon, and ever she makes it plain: 'Send not your foolish and feeble; send me your strong and your sane.'"

The clean-cut young man was reading a poetic warning penned by Alaska visitor Robert W. Service more than 50 years ago. As he read the middle-aged men with the work-worn boots and tatooed arms and the long-haired young men with the pimpled cheeks and embroidered blue jeans slumped in their chairs and fiddled with their cuticles.

Class Dismissed

Four young women made no motion, staring wide-eyed at the instructor who was bidding farewell to the 62 pupils he'd spent the past six hours tutoring.

The "Class" was about to board a yellow bus for the short drive to Fairbanks International Airport for a two-hour hop into the wilderness. The men and women all were headed north for the same reason: Money. Lots of it.

So far this year nearly 6,000 workers have gone to the 12 camps which dot the 340-mile trans-Alaska pipeline route between the Yukon River and the Prudhoe Bay oil fields near the Arctic Ocean.

Each of them had to attend the half-day seminar sponsored by the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., and taught by Bechtel Co. personnel at the modern Alaska Career Development Center.

The briefing is divided into seven time periods for the various courses: the project's history; environmental issues; safety; cold weather indoctrination; human relations; camp life; the history of Alaska and its native people.

Five instructors and a small staff of office personnel under the directorship of Jim Kisselburg run the seminar six days a week, from 6 a.m. until 3:20 p.m. when the charter planes are airborne toward the North Slope.

Besides the classes, each employe who's been hired for a specific job on the recommendation of his union gets a thorough physical examination. Men and women over 40 years of age take electrocardiograms and intensive eye examinations.

Taking its cue from the Army, the service company conducts its preparatory operation according to the clock and the computer. There is a time to eat and a time to sleep, a time to smoke and a time for coffee. Threats of dismissal accompany disobedience of each rule.

Instructors tell their charges the environmental course has been written "almost word for word" by the U.S. Department of Interior in order to acquaint the workers with "the unique situation the environment plays in Alaska."

They also tell the drivers and cooks, welders and loaders, dishwashers and laundresses, that during the past two months two men have died up on that isolated North Slope in "accidents brought about by carelessness."

Among the taboos: avoid animals; leave the delicate tundra alone; don't bring any liquor, drugs or firearms; no horseplay; don't run; stay clean; be polite; no gambling; no private vehicles.

Next to protecting the environment, the heaviest emphasis is on personal safety in the deadly arctic winter.

Booklet Valuable

To reinforce the two-hour lecture on how to keep warm, the service company gives each man and woman an illustrated booklet entitled "Staying Alive in the Arctic."

It cautions pipeline road workers to "always prepare yourself for possible disaster," and urges them always to carry a sleeping bag, medical kit, emergency rations for five days, a knife and flashlight, area map, matches, and above all warm arctic gear.

"Carry this booklet with you whenever you leave camp," it adds. "Even if you know everything written herein, its pages can be valuable tinder for a fire."

Each employe is responsible for his own arctic clothing, and examples of the best were held up for class inspection. A good set of warm gear could run as high as $500, but when paychecks averaging as much as $1,500 per week are at stake, the investment usually is worth it.

But there are exceptions.

Alyeska officials cite a turnover rate of between 25 and 30 per cent, but union officials in Fairbanks put it much higher.

Kay Martin 31, of Fairbanks a secretary at the orientation course, told several stories of would-be workers who went through the seminar with trepidation, boarded the plane with a nagging fear, and finally refused to disembark when the aircraft landed amidst the beautiful desolation "up yonder."

"We had two guys from Florida who went up last month and absolutely refused to get out and stay" she said. "The pilot kept saying they couldn't make the return flight to Fairbanks because their names weren't on the return manifest, but they told him to 'go to hell, we ain't gettin' off and that's that.'"

TARGET OF THIEVES — Bronze cemetery vases similar to this one have become the target of thieves. One memorial park near Milwaukee had 802 of them stolen recently and authorities said they would cost about $21,000 to replace. (AP Wirephoto.)

Cemetery Vases Thieves' Target

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cemeteries, long the playground of juvenile vandals, have become the latest target for professional thieves.

The FBI and cemetery operators say thieves are after the bronze vases which hold flowers over thousands of graves in cemeteries across the nation.

The vases, which weigh about three pounds each, are sold to scrap metal dealers for the current going rate for bronze, up to $1 a pound.

Robert Toson of suburban Milwaukee's Pinelawn Memorial Park said thieves recently made off with 802 grave vases. He said the vases, probably sold for about $2,400 by the thieves, would cost about $21,000 to replace, at wholesale prices.

Spokesmen for two of the nation's largest bronze vase manufacturers, Matthews Bronze Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Gorham Bronze Co. of Providence, R.I., say, however, that they are making replacements for stolen vases free of charge.

Toson said the loss of the vases, which carry retail price tags of $50 to $75, is causing concern among relatives who bought vases.

He said the cemetery thieves generally find the profits high and the risks relatively low in stealing the vases late at night in quiet, unpatrolled cemeteries.

A spokesman for the FBI office here said the agency is investigating interstate shipment of stolen vases. He said cemeteries around the country have been hit, with the most robberies in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

Richard Kauppinen of Beloit, president of the Wisconsin Cemetery Association, said police in some areas are being asked to give more attention to cemeteries on their night patrols, but most cemetery managers fear publicity will only spark more thefts and vandalism.

However, the American Cemetery magazine, an industry publication in New York, says only 69 arrests resulting in 35 convictions were recorded nationwide for 3,500 cemetery thefts reported in the last five years.

Pornographers Say Business Slow Now

By BILL HELTON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — From the seedy bookstores of the Tenderloin to the garish night clubs of North Beach comes an unfamiliar lament from San Francisco's sex peddlers: business is bad.

There are no statistics, but a survey of operators of adult bookstores, movie houses and night clubs indicates sex may have lost some of its potency to attract crowds — and money — in a city once known as America's pornographic capital.

"People are getting used to the nude stuff," said Ran Jalan as he tended his J&B Adult Bookstore, one of many in the downtown Tenderloin area. "They are simply getting fed up with it.

"It is not like what it was a year ago. I think it is going to get worse in the future. Business is bad."

Jalan said magazine sales are down and he has had to cut the prices of such films as "The Playmate" from $35 to $10. "At this time last year, I made from $2,000 to $3,000 a month. Now, I'm making about $1,000."

Others are less willing to discuss their finances, but most agree that selling smut has lost some of its financial appeal. "No customers, no business," said a clerk at the empty International Bookstore.

It was the same refrain at some—though not all—of the city's theaters.

"It's down. It's not like it used to be," manager Bill Stein said of trade at the Art Theater, where "Deep Throat' and "The Devil in Miss Jones" were showing. "But we're stil' making a profit. We're stil open."

Vince Stanich, 32-year-old manager of the O'Farrell Theater, said his house still is doing well because "We strive for a quality hard-core product." The O'Farrell is one of five Mitchell Bros. theaters in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He said the firm operates on a "high risk, high gain" policy of turning out comparatively high budget films like "Behind the Green Door" and "The Resurrection of Eve." Four years ago, the O'Farrell grossed $460,000, compared to $424,000 last year, a spokesman said.

The current film at the Copenhagen Cinema didn't impress one patron. Tito Tiberi, 24, fell asleep in the darkened theater and awoke at 3 a.m. to find himself locked in. He had to call police to get out.

Business also is said to be down in the topless bars and night clubs of famed North Beach, though some operators contend they are doing well on tourist trade.

"Business is so bad that many topless places are closing," said Police Sgt. John Vanucci, who works the nude encounter parlors and movie houses. "For many people, it was a one-shot deal," he said. "Now they've seen topless, they've seen a pornographic movie, and they don't want to do it again. It has run its gambit. Business is getting progressively worse."

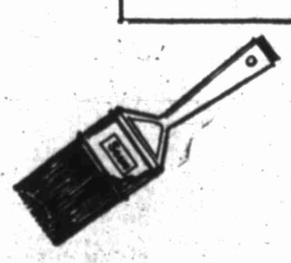

The city's nude massage parlors are faring even worse, Vanucci said.

"They were a fad, but the novelty's gone," he said. "Many places are closing in the day time because their girls are leaving. They work on a commission basis and they aren't making any money."

Congressman Optimistic On Free Seed, Plant Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Owners of home vegetable gardens will do next spring's planting courtesy of the U.S. government if Rep. James A. Burke gets his way.

Burke, D-Mass., has authored a bill that would direct the government to distribute free seeds and plants for use in home gardens.

"It's the cheapest form of helping people help themselves I know of," Burke says. He said that the $6 million worth of seeds and plants that would be distributed under his bill would blossom into an estimated $380 million of vegetables.

A vegetable patch in every yard would give the average family a chance to keep up with the rising cost of eating and would free food supplies badly needed in other parts of the world, according to Burke.

But perhaps even more importantly, he says it would start a "back-to-the-soil" movement, teaching Americans that this country is coming out of an era of "endless abundance and limitless waste into the new reality of scarce natural resources."

Burke admits that he was greeted with a slight grin when he first introduced his seed and plant bill more than a year ago. But now the measure is alive and well, moving right on track toward congressional approval.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 25, the 268th day of 1974. There are 97 days left in the year.

On this date in 1789, the first U.S. Congress, meeting in New York, adopted 12 amendments to the Constitution. Ten of the amendments became the Bill of Rights.

On this date:

In 1513, the Spanish explorer, Balboa, crossed the Isthmus of Panama and discovered the Pacific Ocean.

In 1775, the American Revolutionary War hero, Ethan Allen, was captured by the British and Indians as he led an attack on Montreal.

In 1926, the Ford Motor Co. made history when it established an eight-hour day and a five-day week.

Ten years ago: The United Automobile Workers Union began a nationwide strike against General Motors after efforts to reach a new labor agreement had failed.

Five years ago: Israeli Premier Golda Meir was in Washington conferring with President Nixon on a program of long-range military and economic aid for Israel.

One year ago: The three-man crew of the U.S. space laboratory, Skylab 2, made a safe splashdown in the Pacific after a record 59 days in orbit around the earth.

Today's birthdays: Prime Minister Eric Williams of Trinidad and Tobago is 63 years old. Former baseball star Phil Rizzuto is 56.

By WILLIAM R. LOG

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — "Buy now, pay later" sales, long the way of commercial life for Brazilian shoppers and merchants, is losing status in this business-oriented country.

Rio's Credit Protection Service says it has files on 1.5 million shoppers, and 900,000 of them are classified as poor credit risks.

The Credit Bureau, in nearby Niteroi, says it has 200,000 negative files among a listing of 500,000 installment buying customers.

In Sao Paulo, Brazil's biggest and richest city, the Credit Bureau says its negative responses to merchants' credit queries totaled 430,000 in the first six months of 1974—up from 331,000 in the first half of 1973.

"The increase in negatives is a result of the difficulties the people have in meeting their obligations," said Oscar Gimenez, coordinator of the conference. "The bad payer also exists to a large extent because of the ease of buying with credit, without planning the possibilities of paying."

Most Brazilian clothing, appliance, variety and department stores all advertise their prices broken down into monthly installments. About 70 per cent of all sales by such stores are made on credit.

Gimenez said this publicity often makes credit terms look easy, even to low-income shoppers. But he said when the buyer has to choose between meeting an installment and buying food, the installment goes unpaid.

Additionally, the Store Owners' Club of Rio reported that total retail sales in August were down nearly 10 per cent from August of the previous year.

Age Of Aquarius Feeling Cash Pinch

By ARTHUR HELMS

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Age of Aquarius, in which peace and love predominate, is feeling the pinch at the cash register.

According to a palmist, a phrenologist and an astrology businessman, the trade in the occult is slipping.

"When it comes down to the bucks, everybody's the same," said Steve Johnson whose wife, Mary, is known professionally as Sister Hope. She reads palms and playing cards in the front parlor of their home here.

Even at a $1 price for basic reading, customers are as thin as they have ever been during her five years in Stamford, said Sister Hope. But, like many of her colleagues, she doesn't depend on palm reading for her support. Right now, her husband said, the income from palm reading amounts to "a dozen eggs every now and then."

Besides the economic picture, the general outlook in the north is not very good for her trade, said Sister Hope, who hails from Mobile, Ala., where many more people believe in psychic powers, she said.

Several other readers and advisers in Stamford have closed up shop during the past few months. In West Haven, Betty Johnson, known as Sister Betty, said the phrenology business is at its lowest ebb in her 20 years of practicing in the New Haven area.

Thought to be the only person in the western part of the state with a telephone listing for phrenology — the study of the formation of the skull as an indicator of character — Sister Betty said she can't read the business downturn any better than anyone else.

"I guess my customers feel the pinch like everyone," she said.

Also in the business in New Haven is Thomas Sherwood, who runs an occult shop near the Yale University campus. Sherwood has been open a year and while trade is holding about even, his customers are starting to favor the tarot reading, at $10, over the $35 horoscope.

But Sherwood isn't looking to the cards or the stars for an answer. His plan is simply to increase his advertising budget.

HOROSCOPE

by Carroll Righter

(Sept. 26)

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Excellent day and p.m. to decide on your aims, the means of attaining them, and the friends with whom you can enjoy life. Be outgoing.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Good day to get together with as many pals as you can at social functions and have a good time. You can reach some (less personal aim thusly.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 May 20) Others are pleased today by the way you handle your job and they will give you the backing you need for some pet interest.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Meet with individuals who can give you greater understanding of how to develop more quickly, intelligently. See how to put ideas in action.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Rid yourself of tasks quickly. Use more up-to-date methods. Come to a better understanding with mate and avoid arguing about small things.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Listen to modern thinkers and get ideas for dealing more intelligently with others. Learn what ails one who opposes you and give help.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy at duties and forget dashing out on impossible tagents. Build up vitality. Big things are coming up for you in the future.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get together with persons who mean a great deal to you for accomplishments. Put amusement ideas to work early in the day. Avoid one who is jealous.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Forget self now and be more concerned with the aims of associates; this helps you indirectly. Entertain in p.m., but try to please guests more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) More communication with good friends makes the future brighter for all of you. Show you are more than willing to cooperate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Become more modern thinking and get your whole way of living more streamlined. Improve your budget by accurate figuring. Have fun instead of moping in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Planets are favorable for your personal and business aims. Get into the social affairs that really are appealing to you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Gain needed data from experts and don't confide it to others, but make good use of it quickly. Use your intuition. Don't let anyone monopolize you.

Skyline Terrace Plat Approved

By GEORGE MASSEY

Louis Rochester, head of the development effort, said construction would start "very soon."

Rochester's property contains 155 acres bounded on the east by Midkiff Road and the west by vacant land. The west boundary will be the proposed extension of Godfrey Street according to the new plat design.

Rochester noted that the loop road right-of-way requirements would delete a 150-foot strip across the north side of his development and possibly take another 500-foot section from the northeast corner if an interchange were placed there. However, Rochester said, "we have more than adequate room to complete the development of the shopping center complex even with these deletions."

The Skyline development calls for a shopping center of the mall-enclosed design housing 500,000 square feet of space. Rochester also noted that a major retail sales outlet has given positive interest in locating at the Skyline site.

In other action by the council the Public Works Department was given the go-ahead to add two units on Austin Street and Bedford Drive to the assessment paving program at a cost of $4,675.

Public Works Director Fred Baker told the council that 15 other units of the city's paving program were in the completion stages, with holdups caused by recent weather conditions and a shortage of asphalt. Baker noted, however, that asphalt requirments would be met after learning last week that more shipments were scheduled to come in.

Councilmen gave approval to five items under the Planning and Zoning Department including a specific use application to allow a day nursery at 3216 Park Lane. An on-premise consumption of alcoholic beverages specific use zone was granted to Robert Conner for a private banquet room at 302 Secor St.

Mayor Ernest Angelo requested that public interest groups or citizens give their ideas to city councilmen after the council approved an amendment to the city's zoning code to permit larger rear yard storage rooms and deleted the three-acre land area requirement for housing developments in planned districts.

The new storage area requirements will include additions of room up to 160 square feet, while the planned district acreage requirement deletion will allow for the development of vacant lots throughout the city, according to Don Johnson, Board of Adjustments chairman.

The council also approved a zone change to multible family for several lots north of the cemetery in the 1700 block of North Marienfeld Street. The zone change also authorizes remodeling of several old duplex units there.

Health Manpower Measure Wins Approval By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $2-billion manpower bill that would require one-fourth of all medical students receiving federal aid to work in volunteer medical service has been passed by the Senate.

Approved Tuesday and sent to the House, the measure would require each medical school receiving federal aid to set aside 25 per cent of its enrollment slots each year for students who would volunteer to serve in an area with a shortage of physicians.

A broader proposal by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was defeated after opponents denounced it as a domestic draft of all medical school graduates for national service.

Kennedy argued that Washington has poured billions into aid for medical schools and scholarships and loans for medical students.

Therefore, he said, it is fair to ask all of the graduates to serve for two years in a shortage area. If the Health, Education and Welfare Department found that not all were needed, a lottery would have been used to select those to serve under the Kennedy plan.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., contended this proposal was much too drastic. He offered the substitute, which was approved to finance training of doctors and other health professionals for the next three years.

The volunteers would get scholarships and pay for loans to pay for their education. They would perform one year of service for each year they received scholarship aid.

It would require that these physicians pass written and oral tests similar to those taken by American-trained doctors and that they be proficient in English.

It does not contain the provision for federal licensing of all doctors, which Kennedy had proposed.

The volunteer service would be performed in such areas as rural communities and inner-city neighborhoods.

Farris To Explain Handling Of Scandal

HOUSTON (AP) — Controversial U.S. Atty. Anthony J. P. Farris says he will be able soon to tell why he thinks he handled the 1971 Sharpstown scandal properly.

President Gerald Ford accepted Farris' resignation Tuesday in Washington "with great regret and with appreciation for his dedicated service." The registration was submitted last month.

Nixon nominated Farris for a second four-year term in 1973 but the appointment was permanently bottled up in the Senate Judiciary Committee By Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, D-Tex., who questioned Farris' handling of the Sharpstown scandal.

Asked if he felt Bentsen's complaints about his handling of the case were justified, Farris said, "I didn't at the time, I don't now and very soon I will be able to voice my reasons why I disagree."

The Justice Department has not said when a replacement will be named.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., who supported Farris' reappointment and who generally controls Republican patronage in Texas, has not decided who he will support for the job, according to Tower's administrative assistant, Elwin Skiles.

Farris' resignation is effective at the end of this year. He has jurisdiction over the entire 45-country Southern Judicial District of Texas, including Houston, Galveston, Corpus Christi and the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Skiles said Tower had received recommendations, had narrowed the list down to about four names and hopes to make a recommendation within a week or 10 days.

Downtown Lions 'Get Acquainted'

A reverse procedure also was followed, with the program preceding the serving of the meal.

The "get acquainted" program was directed by Duke Jimerson, program chairman, assisted by four section leaders and the club's tailtwisters.

As members arrived at the meeting place, they were directed to special locations, which later were alternated — and when it was all over, the members had "met" each other, at least once.

Bob Conner then served the food to the hungry but "better acquainted" Lions.

Mrs. Hart, 66, Dies; Rites Set

Mrs. Garfield (Nora C.) Hart, 66, died Friday in a Midland hospital following a long illness.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Ideal Baptist Church, with the Rev. I. M. Woodard officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Jackson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hart had lived in Midland for the past 26 years. She came here from Milam County where she was born Nov. 23, 1908. She was a cook.

Survivors include her husband; a sister, Mrs. Josiphene Hill of Louisiana, and two brothers, Frank Cookes and Willy Cookes, both of Houston.

Representation Separate

Byelorussia and the Ukraine, constituent republics of the USSR, have separate representation in the United Nations General Assembly.

Roy Daughtrey, 18, Dies; Rites Set Friday At Odessa

Roy James Daughtrey, 18, of Youngsville, La., and formerly of Midland, died Tuesday morning in a New Orleans hospital.

Memorial services were to be at 3 p.m. today in the DeLone Funeral Home in Broussard, La. Additional services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in the Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home in Odessa. The Rev. Ross Payne and the Rev. Glen Hood, both of Midland, will officiate. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Gardens at Odessa.

A native of Midland, Daughtrey had attended Alamo Junior High, Edison Freshman and Lee High schools here. He was a May graduate of a Youngsville high school. He was a member of the Westside Free Will Baptist Church here and had been active in Boy Scout Troop 384.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. W. R. Carver of Youngsville; his father, Tommy Daughtrey of Greenvalley, Ariz.; four sisters, Mrs. Robert Lang of Lafayette, La., Savanna Daughttrey of the home, Cindy Faye Daughtrey of Midland and Mrs. Kaye McAllister of Houston; three brothers, John Carver of the home, G. W. Daughtrey III of Dallas and Doyle Daughtrey, serving with the U.S. Navy.

Pallbearers will be Douglas Lunsford of Canyon, Jack Sotkovski of Manhattan, Kan., Terry Aycock of Odessa, and Larry Crouch, Terry Wiles and Nolan Ferrington, all of Midland.

Big Thicket Bill Okayed By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise measure that would create an 85,000-acre Big Thicket national park in East Texas was approved by the House Tuesday.

The Senate now will consider the bill which the House and Senate Interior Committees worked out as a compromise in conference.

Morgan Guaranty Cuts Prime Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's fifth-largest commercial bank, Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, cut its prime lending rate by ¼-point to 11¾ per cent today.

Morgan Guaranty thus became the first of the nation's largest lending institutions to lower its prime below the prevailing 12 per cent level.

Midlander's Kin Dies At Big Spring

BIG SPRING — Joe L. Burt, brother of George Burt of Midland, died early today in a Big Spring hospital following a lengthy illness. He was 72.

Burt, a retired bus driver, moved to Big Spring several months ago from California, where he had lived for many years. He was a Mason.

Funeral services will be at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in Rosewood Chapel of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home here, with interment to follow in Trinity Memorial Park of Big Spring.

Other survivors include the widow, and seven sisters.

Amnesty Decision Facing Draft Evader

HOUSTON (AP) — Donald Earl Watson, 25, the first known draft evader to return to this country has until Friday to accept or reject President Ford's amnesty program or remain a fugitive.

Watson, who has been staying with his mother in the Cloverleaf area since Saturday, arrived to talk with U.S. attorneys Tuesday. His lawyer, James Manley, said no decision was reached during a half-hour meeting with Asst. U.S. Atty. Carl Walker.

Walker gave Watson the additional time to decide if he will reaffirm his allegiance to the United States, accept an alternative work assignment of up to 24 months and waive his rights to trial on charges of draft evasion.

Watson went to the federal building with his wife and young daughter Donna and was visibly upset by the presence of cameramen and reporters. He told one photographer he would "stick that camera in your face."

She said her husband saw little of other American draft evaders or deserters in Canada.

"Most of them are a bunch of long-haired hippies," she said. "They should stay up there."

Highway Week In Texas

Some of you undoubtedly can remember how slick and muddy West Texas roads used to get with only a quarter- or a half-inch of moisture.

Just think what they would have been with the heavy rainfall West Texas has enjoyed the last 10 days or so. The roads of yesteryears, with anywhere near this much rainfall, became impassable for several days at a time.

Those were the days, you say? . . . Well, perhaps so with mud chains, plenty of time and an abundance of patience.

Today, however, one can breeze up or down the super highways, yes, even the paved ranch and farm-to-market roads criss-crossing almost every section of the state, with the greatest of ease and in a minimum of time.

• • •

A brief look to the past, however, brings to mind that it hasn't always been this way. In fact, this marvelous system of highways in the great State of Texas has blossomed to such great proportions only within comparatively recent years. Think about it!

Yet, most of us are so inclined to take such things for granted that we forget the muddy roads of yesteryears.

This, then, brings us to the realization that this is "Texas Highway Week," with the theme, "Better Roads, Better Living." And we realize anew that better roads really do make for better living in the Lone Star State. In fact, they are essential.

But getting and maintaining these fine highways hasn't been easy or inexpensive. If one only knew how much effort on the part of so many persons has gone into the Texas highway system, he would be amazed. But perhaps it is just as well that persons do not realize the time, expense and effort involved. They might cease seeking new and improved roads today. This would never do, since building and improving roads is a never-ceasing endeavor.

• • •

Texans, fortunately, have favored improved highways through the years, and Texas' excellent system of highways—the best in the nation—stands as a tribute to the good roads enthusiasts, past and present.

The Texas Highway Commission and the State Highway Department, through the years, have performed to perfection in carrying out the wishes of the people in building and maintaining the state's great and safe highway system.

The Texas Good Roads Association which long has supported the state's highway efforts, again has taken the lead in sponsoring the Highway Week observance.

This week is an excellent time to give some thought to Texas highways—and what it takes to build and maintain them.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON — It's going to cost the taxpayers well over $1 million a year to keep Richard Nixon in his accustomed style.

Rattling behind the scenes for this bountiful budget are two Nixon appointees, General Services Administrator Art Sampson and Budget Director Roy Ash.

The day after Nixon gave up the presidency and retired to San Clemente in disgrace, Sampson flew out to California to meet secretly with Nixon aides Ron Ziegler and Steve Bull. They talked about all the money it would take to set up the former president as a private citizen.

Then Sampson and Ash put their heads together and decided to request the royal sum of $850,000 for the transition. Routinely, President Ford sent their request to Capitol Hill with his blessing.

There was an outcry from members of Congress who complained this was too much money to lavish on a president who had resigned to avoid impeachment. Except for a timely pardon, they noted, Nixon might have wound up in prison where his keep would have cost the taxpayers considerably less.

A subcommittee headed by Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., now has recommended slashing the $850,000 transition money down to $393,000. This would include a $60,000 pension and a $96,000 staff, which Nixon will continue to draw for the rest of his life.

The generous Sampson has also exempted Nixon from paying rent on the government office space he is using in California. Sampson tried to tell us this merely avoids "double bookkeeping." But it also provides Nixon with $100,000 worth of free office space, which won't have to come out of his budget.

Secret Service Expense

In addition to all this, it will cost the Secret Service at least $622,000 a year to protect the former president. This figure doesn't include another $300,000, which now is spent to protect his estate at Key Biscayne, Fla. The bodyguards are expected to be withdrawn from Key Biscayne by the end of the year.

Sampson also doesn't like to talk about the entourage which is now serving Nixon at San Clemente. At least 32 persons are working directly for Nixon but are paid by assorted government agencies. Their salaries add up to a whopping $576,000. Because they are "on detail," they also can collect $40 a day for expenses.

On loan from the White House at a salary of $42,500, for example, is former press secretary Ron Ziegler. He brought along his favorite press assistant, pretty Dianne Sawyer, who makes $21,000. Yet there is no press office at San Clemente.

Nixon has gone into such complete seclusion that wiseacres have dubbed San Clemente "Elba West." Yet the nonspeaking Nixon is attended by speechwriter Ray Price at a $40,000 salary. A former Nixon attorney, Mike Sterlacci, is also on "temporary assignment" at San Clemente, drawing down $28,262 from the taxpayers.

Loyal Secretary

The ex-president's loyal secretary, Rose Mary Woods, still collects her $36,000 paycheck from the White House, and Steve Bull receives $34,000 as Nixon's chief errand boy. Seven other White House employes are "detailed" to Nixon.

The Defense Department has loaned him another five men, including three chauffeurs. Nixon's personal maid and valet, meanwhile, have been placed quietly on the National Parks Service payroll. And the loyal Sampson has assigned 11 maintenance workers from the General Services Administration to keep the Nixon estates in tip-top shape.

Congress has had so much difficulty getting full information on the Nixon spending that Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., has fired off a private letter to the budget chief demanding "a comprehensive and complete listing of all federal personnel detailed to the former president . . .

"This information," Montoya added, "must be delivered to the sub-committee's offices by the close of business September 23." The senator intends to take up the answers at public hearings today.

Footnote: Sampson defended the Nixon budget as appropriate and necessary. He contended that the Lyndon Johnson transition had cost $541,810, which didn't include the time spent cataloguing the Johnson papers while he was still in office.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: To combat inflation, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has proposed a 10 per cent salary cut for federal officials. He might set a better example if he gave up the $7,800 annual Air Force retirement, which he collects on top of his $42,500-a-year Senate salary . . . Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., will try to cut off military pensions to retired officers who collect federal salaries in excess of $36,000 . . . We recently counted 40 repressive governments which receive U.S. aid. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., using a different definition, tallied 57 authoritarian regimes on the dole.

All told, the American taxpayers have shelled out an astounding $164 billion in foreign aid since the end of World War II . . . A trouble young consumer advocate, named Larry Finkelstein, wrote us a note just before he leaped to his death. The note urged the press to fight the "inordinate influence of special interest groups" . . . A frustrated White House aide complained to us: "Everyone wants to stop inflation — at someone else's expense."

"Why didn't you double five diamonds?" roared North. "What's wrong with picking up 800 points above the line?"

"When you made that silly jump to four hearts it never occurred to me that you held an ace, king, jack and a useless queen. I thought you had some concept of correct bidding," replied South.

The argument may still be going on for all we know. We see merit on both sides. Certainly North should have bid three, not four, hearts and certainly South should have doubled five diamonds, but neither partner noticed that South should have made his doubled contract.

We won't go into the merit of South playing the king of hearts earlier. That didn't matter. What did matter is that when East showed out on the first heart, South conceded down one.

He didn't have to. He should have played all the high trumps and led clubs. If West didn't ruff South could throw him in with the last trump.

Whenever West gained the lead he would have to play spades. He could cash his queen then he would have to lead to dummy's jack of spades, which would have become good. If he trumped the fourth club South would have a trump remaining to get back to his hand to cash his fifth club.

Project Independence Runs Out Of Energy

When announced by former President Nixon, the goal was to increase U.S. energy production enough by 1980 to insulate the nation from the power of foreign oil cartels. The target date first slipped to 1985; now advisers talk of 1990, 2,000 and beyond.

Unless there's more progress soon than is now in sight, we may be open to price jacking or boycott by Arab nations and their petro-associates until the 21st century.

The advisers are competent — top-flight executives and researchers from industry, universities and the financial world. They pull no punches, sound more gloomy than the economists. They believe the independence goal is possible — eventually. But because Congress and the White House put energy on a back burner when long gas lines ended at the filling stations, the coming mid-term crunch is just as certain as it seemed last winter.

The board I sat in on ticked off these problems:

Finance: Some $600 billions, or $40 billion a year will be needed over the next decade and a half to reach the energy goals by 1990. Private corporations alone would have to raise $16 billion a year in equity capital in 1973 dollars. Even in 1972, U.S. corporations secured only $8 billion through new stock issues. By 1971 the figure dropped to $2.3 billion. This year $600 million is expected. That's for all corporations, not just energy firms. How then, the experts asked, can we raise $16 billion a year in equity capital for energy alone, even assuming a dramatic recovery in the stock markets?

Petroleum: The major prospects for oil discoveries are in the offshore oceans. These are little surveyed or geologically mapped. Not much is being done to remedy this lack.

Shale: Once a big hope, the shale-to-gasoline program is now beset with political and environmental problems. Some 80 per cent of the most likely shale is on government land, where holdings by law are so restricted that profitable development is unlikely without congressional action. The scientists have been somewhat turned off by the high energy cost of turning buried shale into usable gasoline.

Nuclear power: The experts are not at all certain there are sufficient high-grade uranium ore deposits to fuel a uranium industry of the size foreseen in Project Independence. Foreign ores are no answer. Worldwide, nuclear energy is expanding more rapidly than in the United States, and the demand for high-grade ore mounts monthly. Licensing red tape continues to severely delay construction.

Coal: Production is expected to decline slightly between now and 1977, unless something more is done than seems likely now. Output could be doubled by 1990 if bottlenecks are eliminated in transportation, and the supply of mining engineers and supervisory personnel is increased. Delays occasioned by rougher than necessary environmental restrictions would also have to be cut.

Electric power: This industry is in the doldrums. Money is so costly many companies are canceling expansion plans. Many state agencies are snail-like in approving rate raises to meet rising costs.

One adviser's joking solution to the energy bogdown: "I hope we freeze next winter. It will be the only way we'll get anything done. Crises shake us into action."

A Free Press And Fair Trial In The U.S.A.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Sam Sheppard case bobbed up again briefly the other day. The celebrated murder trial was obviously one of the things President Gerald Ford had in mind when he said that Richard Nixon could not obtain a fair trial anywhere in the United States "under governing decisions of the Supreme Court."

Commentators immediately recalled how the Bay Village, Ohio, osteopath, sent to prison in 1954 for the murder of his wife, had won a new trial from the U.S. Supreme Court on the grounds that adverse publicity had hopelessly prejudiced the minds of prospective jurors against him. In the second trial, held in 1966, Dr. Sam was found innocent.

No one is going to claim that the Sheppard story was one of journalism's shining hours. Looking back, it is obvious that the man was tried and convicted in the local newspapers.

Yet it was a matter of something more than a handful of editors hoping to sell newspapers at the risk of a man's life or freedom. They were reacting to what they perceived to be a gross injustice.

Aspects of Coverup

For days after the discovery of the murder, absolutely nothing was being done to attempt to solve it. Protected by his family, the prime suspect was not talking to police or anyone else. It had all the aspects of a coverup.

The newspapers demanded that Dr. Sam be interrogated and confronted with a long list of puzzling questions about the circumstances of his wife's death. Eventually, newspaper pressure forced Bay Village police to turn the investigation over to Cleveland detectives. The papers kept up a steady drumbeat of publicity until Sheppard was indicted.

By the standards that have been erected in the last 20 years, the newspapers behaved irresponsible. (No one has ever asked, of course, to what extent the publicity about the Supreme Court's decision or the fact that Sheppard had already served 10 years made it impossible for the state to find 12 unbiased jurors in 1964).

Possibly in another 20 years it will be thought that the press behaved irresponsibly in the Watergate affair. This seems unlikely, but should it happen, let it be remembered that in this case, too, the press was striking out at what it saw as a gross injustice being done to the people.

CAN MODERN MAN (and woman) find happiness back in the America of the 1830s? An Atlanta, Ga., company called Earth Services Organization (ESO), which marketed the first condominium in the United States, is betting on it.

ESO now is transforming 10 former farms in Shelby County, Ky., about 20 miles from Louisville, into a unique "return to earth" community called Plum Run. It is designed to be a self-sustaining, 1,000-acre residential-farm development.

To all outward appearances, Plum Run will look like a typical pre-Civil war community. Each home will have a "keeping room" complete with full wall fireplace, brick hearth, plank floors and kitchen.

Not many people want to go ALL the way back to the 19th century, of course. Thus the kitchen will be fully equipped, the baths will have indoor plumbing and a washer and dryer will be lodged in the "buttery" adjoining the keeping room, with space for a freezer.

Perhaps the most attractive aspect of Plum Run, which is scheduled for occupancy by the fall of 1975, is the fact that the community's 350-acre, professionally managed, non-profit farm and greenhouse will provide year-round vegetables and beef at very low rates. The saving in food costs is expected to be enough to pay the mortgages of the residents.

And for a change, Plum Run will be one development without a golf course, club house and tennis courts. The accent will be on nature — hiking, riding, watching the cattle graze or just enjoying the scenery.

Action Due On Nixon Tapes, Papers Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bills to assure that former President Richard M. Nixon's White House tapes and papers will be available for Watergate proceedings are headed for House and Senate action.

The House Appropriations Committee has deleted from a Nixon appropriations measure the money for a vault to store the tapes near San Clemente, Calif. And the Senate Government Operations Committee approved an agreement to supercede the Sept. 7 Nixon documents agreement and to prohibit destruction of any of the tapes or papers except as provided by Congress.

Meanwhile, one of the defendants in the cover-up trial said he plans to call 80 witnesses including Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and outgoing White House Chief of Staff Alexander M. Haig Jr.

In other Watergate-related developments Tuesday:

—U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica set a hearing for Monday on whether to allow transcripts of taped presidential conversations to be used in the cover-up trial. The accuracy of transcripts of 33 conversations is being challenged by defense lawyers.

—President Ford informed a House subcommittee that he will offer no further explanations of his pardon of Nixon.

Asks For Information

—California Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger asked Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski to give him any information that might be used in any state prosecution of Nixon.

Besides Kissinger and Haig, lawyers for former White House adviser John D. Ehrlichman said they plan to call former presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler and James D. St. Clair, an attorney who represented the former President.

Jaworski, meanwhile, released his own list of 44 witnesses for the trial that begins Tuesday, including former FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III and the foreman of the grand jury that indicted the defendants, Vladimir Pregelj.

Both Ehrlichman and Jaworski have subpoenaed Nixon to testify.

The bill approved by the House Appropriations Committee Tuesday includes $398,000 expense money for Nixon but none of the $110,000 requested for a vault near San Clemente in which to secure the tapes and papers.

The $398,000 approved for Nixon to wind down his affairs is a $452,000 cut from the $850,000 President Ford requested for him.

House Appropriations Chairman George H. Mahon said he expects House actions on the bill early next week.

The Senate bill, approved 9 to 0, would require that the materials be made available for subpoenaing for Watergate proceedings, with priority given to the needs of Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., chief sponsor of the bill, said it would revise the provision in the Sept. 7 agreement under which Nixon could destroy any of the tapes after Sept. 1, 1979, and which provided for destruction of all the tapes on Nixon's death or Sept. 1, 1984, whichever came first.

The Sept. 7 agreement requires that Nixon's papers be jointly held by himself and the government for three years and the tapes for five years for subpoena for judicial proceedings.

Kissinger Tells Russian He's Ready For Active Role In Cyprus Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko that he is ready to play an active part in resolving the Cyprus crisis.

Kissinger held separate meetings Tuesday with the foreign ministers of Greece and Turkey and then discussed the sessions with Gromyko at dinner Tuesday night.

Informed sources said Gromyko reiterated his government's proposal for an 18-nation conference on Cyprus. But the sources said Kissinger would press ahead with his own personal attempt to get the Greeks and Turks into negotiations on the future of the war-torn island.

Kissinger and Gromyko also discussed prospects for a Middle East settlement and the American's plans to visit Moscow late next Monday for negotiations on the limitation of nuclear arms.

State Department spokesman Robert Anderson said the question of more Jewish emigration from the Soviet Union did not come up.

There had been speculation that Kissinger's meeting with the Greek and Turkish ministers would set the stage for some Cypriot peacemaking during his visit to the Middle East in October.

But Greek Foreign Minister George Mavros told newsmen: "If the secretary wants to go to Ankara it might be useful, but Athens is not the place" for his personal diplomacy since "it is Turkish aggression" that is the problem.

However, he did agree to see Kissinger again Sunday evening when the secretary of State returns to New York for more meetings with foreign ministers attending the United Nations General Assembly.

As Kissinger stood smiling beside him, Mavros said they talked "in a very friendly atmosphere." After the Turkish invasion of Cyprus in July, the Greek government accused the U.S. government of favoring the Turks, and Mavros rejected an invitation to come to Washington for peace talks.

Gromyko in an address to the General Assembly Tuesday said the improvement in Soviet-American relations "has gone further than good wishes and verbal assurances."

He also had some unusually conciliatory words for Israel, saying: "The Soviet Union stands in favor of Israel existing and developing as an independent sovereign state." But he warned Israel against holding on to Arab territories captured in the 1967 war and called for speedy resumption of the Arab-Israeli peace conference in Geneva with the Palestinians taking their "rightful place" in the negotiations.

Next Meal Constant Preoccupation Of Hurricane Refugees

CHOLOMA, Honduras (AP) — Throngs of hungry Hondurans made homeless by Hurricane Fifi jumped up and down trying to catch bunches of green bananas donated by local merchants.

At the airport in nearby San Pedro Sula, there were cartons of clothes and medicine but not a tin of food or sack of grain left.

The constant preoccupation of more than 1,000 refugees who sleep in a park in the center of devastated Choloma is the next meal. At noon, cups of milk, rice and soya are spooned out to a long line of ragged children. In the late afternoon, adults get stew, meat and bean stew.

Arturo Castillo, president of the Independent Banana Producers Association, is heading the relief food program in the hard-hit San Pedro Sula-Choloma area. He says foreign countries haven't sent "that much food" and there are organizational problems to be straightened out.

Working Well

President Oswaldo Lopez Arellano flew over the devastated area again Tuesday and said the international relief operation was working well. But transportation is still a critical problem due to washed out roads and a shortage of helicopters, and 50,000 persons are believed still isolated. Relief officials feared an outbreak of epidemics unless medicine and vaccines reached them.

Two helicopters from the British army battalion in Belize joined four U.S. helicopters Tuesday in distributing food and rescuing flood victims. West German and Venezuelan jets flew in with emergency food and medical supplies.

Lopez Arellano said while the hurricane wrecked the export banana and cattle operations on the northeast coast, the storm missed most of the areas that produce the Hondurans' basic foods. Sources in New York predicted the price of bananas in American supermarkets would go up five cents a pound or more, perhaps to 30 cents a pound or more.

The National Emergency Committee's latest report put the estimated death toll from the hurricane at between 7,500 and 8,000. However, Foreign Minister Cesar A. Batres told newsmen at United Nations headquarters in New York it would be more than 10,000.

U.S. Ambassador Phillip V. Sanchez told a news conference in Tegulcigalpa only four of the 151 U.S. Peace Corps volunteers in Honduras had not been accounted for. He said two were on offshore islands and two in the Bruce Lagoon area.

Mondale Says He's Almost Certain To Be Candidate

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Walter F. Mondale says he is "99 per cent" certain he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976.

In appearances before the Minnesota AFL-CIO and the news media Tuesday night, the Minnesota Democrat stopped short of formally announcing his candidacy.

"I'm very strongly inclined to do it. I probably will do it," he told a news conference.

"I'm 99 per cent of the way there, but I have not yet decided . . . I'm not trying to be coy, but I have not yet decided to run," Mondale said.

He declined to set a date for making a formal entry into the race.

In a 30-minute appearance before the state AFL-CIO convention, Mondale referred briefly to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's announcement Monday that the Massachusetts Democrat would not be a presidential candidate in 1976.

OTHER BORDER TOWN SCHOOLS FACE SAME PROBLEM—

Eagle Pass Trustees Deny Admission To Illegal Alien Whose Mother Has Lived In Texas For Years

EAGLE PASS, Tex. (AP) — A decision by the Eagle Pass school board has brought to light a problem faced by border town schools—the burden on taxpayers for the education of illegal alien children or non-district residents commuting to U.S. schools from Mexico.

In a 4-2 ruling, the school board Tuesday denied admission to the public school system to a seven-year old illegal alien whose mother has lived in Texas for years.

The move was part of a series of measures that school board members said they are taking to make sure that only legal residents of Maverick County are allowed in what they described as already overcrowded school rooms.

Board members and school officials said there is a large number of children of illegal aliens and children of U.S. citizens living across the boarder attending public schools paid for by Maverick County residents.

"We are a border town and we have a special problem," said school board member Mrs. Gloria Bewley, who noted that many of the children attending school illegally commute from the Mexican towns or "rent" a phony residence in the county.

At the beginning of the school year the board ordered school officials to demand documentation of residence or proof of citizenship from the students.

Martinez said he estimates that each of the schools in Eagle Pass has anywhere from 40 to 60 pupils who should not be attending school in the district.

"Last week, I found out a girl attending school here was a resident of a Mexican town because I saw her picture in a Mexican newspaper. She was a candidate in a beauty queen contest," Martinez said.

"But it is hard to locate those cases and the children continue to attend school here, and we are going into debt," Martinez added.

Mrs. Bewley said many of the children are U.S. citizens whose parents live in Mexico and work in the United States.

"They should pay tuition because they are not residents of the county," she said.

Martinez said that it is hard for many of the families to pay for the tuition—$68 a month—so they obtain phony residences in the county or claim they are living with relatives.

Both Mrs. Bewley and Martinez said many of the students from across the border are children of Mexican citizens and pay the tuition.

Mrs. Bewley said the seven-year-old involved in the school board's decision had attended a pre-school program last year.

"The mother even appeared before the board and argued her case," she said. Mrs. Bewley said the mother now does not live with the father of the child.

"She has two other children who were born in the United States," Mrs. Bewley said.

Mrs. Bewley said the woman was now on welfare, and added the Border Patrol "has done nothing about the case."

A spokesman for the Patrol at Del Rio said "we have better things to do than to go knocking on every door looking for aliens. We don't know who this woman is. We would not deport her, anyway. Her case would be referred to the district office in San Antonio."

Demo Candidate Named In Lawsuit

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Democratic congressional candidate Bob Krueger of New Braunfels has been sued by plaintiffs who claim Krueger is trying to force them off 130 acres of ranch land.

The suit was filed Monday by lawyers for Dr. James Robertson and his wife Miriam. It names Krueger, his mother Faye L. Krueger and sister Arlen Krueger Seals as defendants. The civil action suit seeks $1 million in damages, claiming the Kruegers have tried to force the Robertsons off land which the Robertson sold to the defendants.

According to the suit, the sale agreement allowed the Robertsons to remain on a section of the Houston County ranch until they could arrange to move livestock to a new ranch in California.

The suit allege the Kruegers tried to defraud the Robertsons by seeking to have them removed from the land, "first by attempting to physically force them off, and if that failed, by fraudulent legal processes."

Krueger, a candidate for the 21st district seat, said "the matter concerned a legal technicality regarding grazing rights on a ranch our family purchased." He said the suit was politically motivated.

Send Ford Grocery Bill, Jordan Says

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex., has suggested that consumers send their grocery receipts to the White House to give economist Alan Greenspan "a view of the real world."

Greenspan, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said last week that inflation has hurt the Wall Street brokers proportionately more than the poor.

Study Shows Farmers Getting Little More Of Food Dollar Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers received a little more last month of what consumers spent for food, according to the latest marketing study by the Agriculture Department.

Officials said Tuesday that a market basket of U.S. farm-produced food cost a record annual rate of $1,751 in August, up $25 from July. Higher returns to farmers accounted for $22 of the increase, with middlemen getting $3 more as their share.

The report said farmers in August received an equivalent of 41.7 cents of each $1 shoppers spent in retail stores for U.S. farm-produced food, up slightly from 41 cents in July. In August last year the farm share was 51.9 cents of each food dollar spent.

Over a one-year span, the figures showed, it has been the middleman who has contributed most to higher food costs. In August 1973, the market basket was $1,653 on an annual basis.

That means the indicator has gone up $98 since then. But the net increase occurred this way: During the year the farmer's share of the basket dropped $134. Middlemen, who process and sell food in the farm-to-consumer pipeline, increased their margin by $232 on an annual basis.

Put still another way, according to USDA's market basket figures, the farmer's share of the year's food bill — computed for a theoretical household of 3.2 persons — went down 15 per cent since August 1973 while the middleman share increased 28.3 per cent.

The figures for last month showed farmers received $729 as their share of the August basket while the middleman portion was $1,022 at an annual rate.

Home Decoration Course Planned

Sam Blanck will consuct a home decoration course for adults beginning Oct. 2 at the Midland Parks and Recreation Building, according to Dave Maddox, superintendent of recreation.

Classes will meet from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. through Oct. 23.

Wallpaper hanging, interior and exterior painting, material use, surface preparation and practical application will be included in the course.

Registrants are now being accepted at the Parks and Recreation office, 300 Baldwin St. Fee for the course is $3 and the class will be limited to 35 students.

Recently, an association of colleges and universities sent out a press release bearing the tidings that only 50 of America's 1,500 institutions of higher learning have been forced to close their doors since 1970. This finding, based on a state-by-state study, was presented on a note of optimism.

Optimism? Sure. Because some educators have been predicting that soaring costs would drive as many as 200 colleges a year over the brink into oblivion.

During the 1960s, American colleges and universities had to make room for record crops of new students. Enrollment more than doubled in 10 years, from 4.8 million students in 1963-64 to 9.7 million in 1973-74. Expenses tripled in the same period, according to the Council for Financial Aid to Education, which stimulates corporate giving.

Today, while the rate of growth has slowed, total enrollment is still rising. And double-digit inflation has worsened the problems left over from the '60s.

For example, the private schools find it increasingly difficult to raise tuition, lest they price themselves right out of the market. They already charge so much more that more and more students are crowding the public colleges and universities. The result has been standing room only on some public campuses, and empty seats in many private classrooms. In any case, tuition never pays the full cost of a college education. It pays half, on the average, in private schools, and about 17-percent in the public ones.

So private colleges, in an effort to streamline operations, have eliminated programs, sold assets, lived off their principal, deferred maintenance, postponed salary increases, pooled resources—and, as noted, raised tuition drastically.

Government has gone about as far as it can. Public campuses have had to compete for tax dollars with welfare costs, urban renewal, environmental protection, health care, public housing, and a host of other social needs. Last year, 29 out of 94 multi-campus state schools received less than the 10-percent hike in state appropriations they needed just to stay even. Four took budget cuts.

What's the answer? It should be obvious. Increased giving.
