Slaton Woman Crash Victim

Daughter And Husband Are Slightly Hurt

Oklahoma Mishap Is Fatal To Mrs. M. J. Grochowsky

(By The Associated Press)

EDMOND, Okla., June 22—One woman was dead and seven other persons were in an Edmond hospital today as the result of a single highway accident last night.

Killed in the crash near Edmond was Mrs. Marie J. Grochosky, 60, Slaton, Tex. Her husband's car collided with another machine that had gone out of control and was plunging across U. S. 77.

List Of Injured

The injured included:

M. G. Grochowsky, 60, her husband.

Barbara Grochowsky, 12, their daughter.

Mrs. David Hawk, Slaton, passenger in the Grochowsky machine.

David Hawk, jr., a son.

Andy Green, 27, Guthrie, Okla., driver of the other car.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ashworth, 22 and 18, Guthrie, passengers in Green's car.

Took Place In Rain

The accident took place in a torrential rain that accompanied the widespread storms over the state.

Mrs. Grochowsky's body is at the Baggerly Funeral home here.

Grochowsky had been employed by the Santa Fe in Slaton since July 24, 1926. He is a switch engineer. He began work for the Santa Fe in 1910 and was employed at Newton, Kas., and Chicago before moving to Slaton.

Funeral arrangements had not not been learned this morning.

Burglars Are Active In City

Burglary of the Cliff Hereford residence at 209 Eighteenth and theft of a bag containing three pistols and two women's purses were reported to police this morning.

One of the weapons was a S&W, the others .38 Colt pistols, officials said they were told.

A key was used to unlock a padlock, investigators found. They were told the name of a suspect.

Beating Investigated

Police said they were holding a 46-year-old man for investigation into the beating early today of Charlie Graves of 1502 Ave. F.

Graves told them that two men, one tall and stocky and the other tall and slender, came to his house about 1:20 a. m. and wanted to rent a cabin. He said he accompanied the men to the cabin, an apartment at rear of 1713 Ave. G, and that when the car was halted there one of the men, sitting in the back seat, struck him twice with what he believed was a hammer.

Mrs. Graves gave officials information which caused them to go to the suspect's residence. There, they said, they found a hammer much like that Graves had described, as well as a striped cap

National Guard Is Reported Swelling

Young Men Said Rushing To Join Reserve Army To Get Away From Shadow Of Draft

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 22—The ranks of the National Guard were reported swelling today with young men trying to get away from the shadow of the draft.

National Guard headquarters reported a rush of new recruits. Officials said they expect it to continue until President Truman signs the draft bill into law. Those who are members of the guard or other active reserve groups at that time will be exempt.

Mr. Truman has until a week from today to sign the measure. There was some speculation that the President, himself a former national guardsman, might delay signing to let the guard's strength build up.

After the draft becomes law, the President may put it into effect within 90 days, if thearmed forces so recommend. The first call is expected in September.

Here are some pertinent draft facts:

These men must register: Those 18 through 25, except (a) members of the armed forces and armed forces reserves and; (b) diplomats and their families. Registration may start any time after the bill is signed, provided the draft achinery is in operation.

Of those who register these will be drafted: up to 606,882 men, 19 through 25, to serve hitches of 21 months each, mostly in the Army.

Of those who register these are exempt: (a) veterans with 90 days' service between Sept. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945; (b) veterans with a year's service between Sept. 16, 1940 and the day the bill becomes law; (c) ministers and those studying for the ministry; (d) conscientious objectors.

These registrants can be defer-

TORNADO DAMAGE TOPS $100,000

Small Twisters Hit Oklahoma, Kansas

(By The United Press)

A series of small twisters which dipped from heavy rain clouds to strike several points in Oklahoma and Kansas last night caused property damage estimated at well over $100,000, but no loss of life was reported.

The Wichita, Kan., area was hardest hit. At the Aero Parts plant near there, wind whipped away most of the roof of the main assembly building and damaged roofs of other structures. Walls in three sections of the plant collapsed.

Car Hurled Into Air

In the same area, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chambers and their six children were swept up when their car was hurled from the ground by a twister near Oatsville.

Numerous farm structures were damaged as two small tornadoes roared across the Wichita vicinity. Trees and shrubs in two of Wichita's best residential districts were heavily damaged and roofs were reported blown off several homes inside the city.

At Tulsa wind damaged seven planes and several hangars at a commercial airport.

Twister Hits Village

A twister which struck near the Barber county, Kan., village of Sharon caused some property damage and disrupted communications.

The federal weather service's storm warning service rolled into action with exceptional effectiveness.

Minutes before the tornado hit near Sharon, the government bureau at Wichita had issued tornado warnings for half a dozen points in that general area, including Wichita, where the storm hit several hours later.

Alderson Is Named Junior Ambassador

AUSTIN, June 22 (U.P) — Jack Alderson of Lubbock was named today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester as Texas' official junior ambassador to the National Baseball festival of the Ozark mountains, to be held at Van Buren and Fort Smith, Ark., July 11-18.

Jester said Alderson, a 1948 high school graduate, will present the governor and the state of Arkansas with a Texas flag and a letter from the Texas governor.

Five Killed In Nitro Blasts

PINOLE, Calif., June 22 (AP)—A terrific explosion obliterated a nitro-glycerin building at the Hercules Powder Co. plant yesterday, killing two workmen.

The blast, felt as far as 20 miles away and heard throughout the northern San Francisco Bay region, occurred at 2:43 p. m. (PDT).

Three Others Killed

It followed by four hours a series of three explosions in the same company's plant at Kenvil, N. J. Three were killed and six injured in that blast.

A company spokesman here said the widely-separated explosions were a coincidence. He dismissed any possibility of sabotage.

"Anyone who knows about such things understands that sabotage is improbable," he declared. "The explosion was in a building barricated with earthen ramparts and with steel doors. The men inside would not have committed suicide and there was no chance of it being set off from outside.

Just A Coincidence

"It was just a coincidence that there were explosions in two Hercules plants on the same day. We go along for years without an accident."

The New Jersey blast was heard as far as New York City, 50 miles away. Hercules superintendent A. R. Ely said the cause "is under investigation and there is nothing definite as to the cause at this time. The explosions were of an industrial nature."

Fifty-two persons were killed

Slightly Cooler Weather For Texas Is Forecast For Today

(By The United Press)

Slightly cooler weather was expected for Texas today, with high winds and cloudy skies combining to keep the mercury at a lower level.

The weather bureau in Dallas said the cloudy skies, however, would not produce much rain during the way. A possibility for a small amount of rainfall tonight was foreseen.

A few showers were reported early today at Wichita Falls, Abilene, Dallas and along the coast.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from 102 degrees at Laredo and Crystal City down to 85 at Guadalupe Pass. Overnight minimums ranged from 58 degrees at Amarillo to 81 at Beaumont and Brownsville.

Strong southerly winds throughout the state were attributed to a low pressure area in the middle west, causing the air from the Gulf coast area to the Panhandle to flow northward. Winds throughout the state were moving at about 30 to 35

Lewis Wins In Third Trip To Judge's Court

$100 Mine Pension Plan Called Legal In New Decision

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Justice T. Alan Goldsborough today gave John L. Lewis a legal goahead for his $100 monthly pension plan for miners.

Goldsborough dismissed a plea of Ezra Van Horn, trustee for operators on the United Mine Workers' welfare fund, for a court order to block payment of pensions for retired miners.

The judge said he found the proposal for payments "reasonable and proper."

Lewis' First Triumph

For Lewis, it marked his first triumph on three trips into Judge Goldsborough's court. Twice before he had been there only to be fined for contempt of court for failure to end walkouts in obedience to Goldsborough orders.

It was a dispute over pensions that brought about the costly six-weeks strike last spring.

The proposed system of payments was evolved by Lewis and Senator H. Styles Bridges (R-NH). Bridges became neutral member of the welfare board and sided with Lewis in setting up the plan.

Van Horn refused to approve the payments and went into court to ask that it be declared illegal.

Upheld By Judge

Goldsborough said the plan, which was only tentative and may be changed as experience dictates, does not violate either the 1947 coal work contract, made last July, or the Taft-Hartley labor act.

The plan provides $100 a month for UMW members who are 62 years of age or older and who have worked in the pits for at least 20 years.

Lewis and Bridges agreed to set aside $5,000,000 of the $45,000,000 fund to start the pension payments.

The question of pension payments had blocked negotiation of a new agreement to go into effect June 30, when the current pact expires.

Touched Off Strike

That same question touched off a six-week strike this spring. The miners returned after Bridges, neutral trustee for the fund, and miners' trustee Lewis agreed April 12 on a plan under which workers 62 and older with 20 years' service in the pits would receive payments.

The fund has been accumulated through a 10 cents a ton royalty levy on each ton of coal mined. This was provided in the 1947 contract.

Lewis has insisted that agreement be reached on the pension problem before he would go ahead with talks for a new contract to replace the one which expires June 30.

Goldsborough's decision thus helps to clarify the matter and possibly clears the way for resumption of contract negotiations to prevent a strike in July.

Child Injured When He Runs Into Car

T. J. Dunlap, jr., 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dunlap of 2433 Twenty-fourth, was injured early this afternoon when, police said they were informed, he darted from behind another car and into one driven by L. T. Rhodes, 25, of 3004 Thirty-eighth.

At Lubbock Memorial hospital, he was taken to surgery. Police said they believed he had suffered a broken leg.

Rhodes rushed the child and the mother to the hospital. He told R. O. Christenson, police patrolman who investigated, that he did not see the child until the victim had struck the left front fender of Rhodes' automobile—at College and Twenty-fourth. Impact caused the boy to fall so that his leg extended under the left rear wheel of the car, which passed over the member.

It was indicated that no charges will be filed, police said.

Leaders Claim Document Will Win Approval

Potent Military Machine, Civil Rights Included

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 22—Republican policy makers today completed a 1948 platform pledging internationalism, a potent military machine and civil rights for all.

The platform framers finally laid the text before the country after nearly a week of writing, wrangling, and revising.

The objective is to win as many votes as possible in November. The Democrats will write a platform next month for the same purpose.

Chairmain Henry Cabot Lodge of the GOP Resolutions committee will offer the 2,400-word document—shortest in the party's history—to the national convention tomorrow for approval. Conventions usually accept platforms without a fuss. Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece today predicted "harmonious action."

Lodge Describes Platform

The platform, adopted by the exhausted Resolutions committee at 12:10 a. m., today and made public later in the morning, was described by Lodge as broad enough for any of the main Republican presidential hopefuls to stand upon.

It deals with scores of highly controversial topics, among them public housing, Israel, prices, and anti-Communist legislation.

The foreign policy plank—dedicated to "the preservation of a free America in a free world of free men" and plumping hard for "collective security against aggression"—bears the unmistakable marks of Michigan's Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, a possible darkhorse contender for the Presidential nomination.

Foreign Aid Pledged

It pledges aid to other peaceloving countries on a basis of self-help (as in the present European Recovery Plan). But the platform writers inserted these words: "within the prudent limits of our own economic welfare."

The plank closely follows Vandenberg's ideas on strengthening the United Nations. For example, it calls for eliminating the big power veto in cases dealing with peaceful settlement of disputes. But it says nothing about junking the veto in cases where the use of armed forces is concerned.

It promises full recognition and economic aid to the new nation

Shaw Free In Forgery Trial

J. D. Shaw, 20, of 3000-block Walnut, was adjudged innocent of a charge of passing a forged instrument when a 99th district petit jury reported just before noon to Judge G. V. Pardue.

A jury was being selected early this afternoon for trial of Harrold Lee Smith, young Lubbock man charged with burglary. The indictment accused him of burglary of a well house of Franz Hettler, of two and a half miles west of South Plains Army Air field.

Guilty Pleas Received

Two pleas of guilty were accepted at the morning session. Barbara Roy, a negro woman, by agreement was allowed to plead guilty of a reduced charge of aggravated assault, and was fined $100 and court costs. The indictment had charged her with assault with intent to murder her husband.

Le Homa Thompson, 18, a college student, pleaded guilty of forgery, and was granted suspension of a five-year sentence.

Blair Hears Action

The law firm of Brummett and Brummett, and H. A. C. Brummett of Dickens represented Shaw. Ben Kucera is counsel for Smith.

Plaintiff continued to present evidence in the 72nd district specific performance action of F. T. Northington against Millie Putty. The jury was selected Monday, but Judge Dan Blair recessed court so that jurors, witnesses and principals, as well as court officials, could attend a cornerstone-laying service of Lubbock Masonic bodies.

TAXATION? VET BONUS? — "NO COMMENT," SAYS BEAUFORD

Jester's On "Hot Spot;" He Is Busy Lad Ducking Issues

AUSTIN, June 22 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester was in a "no comment" mood today on the controversial subjects of taxation and a veterans' state bonus.

Asked whether abolition of 30 cents of the state ad valorem tax might lead to a sales tax, Jester replied:

"I'm running for reelection, and taxation is a very unpopular subject to discuss."

He said there will be some discussion of taxation prior to the primary election July 24.

"Will you ignore other candidates' criticism of your statement that it would 'un-Texan' for veterans to want a state bonus, or will you defend your stand on this issue?" a reporter asked.

"Is it an issue?" Jester parried. "If it is, it's theirs, let them have it."

He said the bonus question is part of the subject of veterans affairs, and added: "I will make mention of it at the proper time."

"Is there any change in your attitude on the bonus since a year ago or six months ago?"he was asked.

"No comment," Jester said.

Dewey Gets First Big Break; Martin Pledges His Support

BY JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 — Thomas E. Dewey got the first big break of the Republican national convention today when Pennsylvania's favorite son, Senator Edward Martin, suddenly withdrew in Dewey's favor.

Martin announced further that he would place Dewey's name in nomination before the delegates tomorrow.

How many of Pennsylvania's massive 73-vote delegation Martin can carry with him was the big question. Asked this question, Martin said:

Makes No Estimate

"I do not know. I have made no estimate."

Seventy-two of the delegates have been pledged to Martin.

The chairman of the delegation, Gov. Duff, is reported to be for Senator Vandenberg first and then for Senator Taft of Ohio, if Vandenberg seems unlikely to make the grade.

The Martin statement came as a big surprise. The Pennsylvania delegation, in a widely-heralded caucus Sunday night, had decided to stick with Martin indefinitely.

Harmony Is Sought

The Martin swing to Dewey came after a two and a quarter hour session of the convention, devoted to speech-making denouncing the Democratic administration.

Martin said his withdrawal was in the interest of Republican harmony in this national convention —which is locked in a terrific struggle for the grand prize—the presidential nomination.

This third convention session—the first of the second day—got underway at 9:22 a. m. (Lubbock time) 22 minutes late. It recessed at 11:37 until 7 p. m.

Demonstration Staged

It produced the first thing resembling a demonstration. The Nebraska delegation grabbed its banners and marched after Senator Kenneth Wherry got off a

Unable To Support Them, Man Gives Away Seven Children

(By The United Press)

MIAMI, Fla., June 22 — A 36-year-old radio announcer who gave away his seven children to seven different Florida families through a want ad said today he couldn't make enough money to support them.

William W. Harvey offered his family for adoption in a classified advertisement in a Miami newspaper June 15. It took only six days to find takers among the 21 answers, he said.

Harvey earns $75 a week as an announcer for a Miami radio station. He said that wasn't enough to take care of his children ranging in age from eight years to nine months, and his sick wife.

"I got tired of ducking bill collectors," he explained. "Besides, my wife and I felt it wasn't good for the children to have to move around and not know where their home was"

Harvey told of constant moving around the country in search of a job that would pay enough to feed and clothe his family and care for his wife, who has been ill almost constantly.

When he saw he couldn't make it, he decided the only thing to do was give his children away.

CIVIL WAR THREATENS ISRAEL

Arms Importation Causes Outbreak

(By The Associated Press)

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 22 — A clash between Irgun Zvai Leumi and the army of Israel over the landing of an Irgun arms ship threatened today to plunge the new Jewish state into civil war.

Shooting developed when the arms ship, an LST, sought to land its forbidden cargo on the beach at Natanya, 18 miles north of this city. The ship was moved overnight into Tel Aviv bay and grounded within a block of the waterfront headquarters of the United Nations.

Importation of arms is barred under the U. N. four-week armistice.

An Israeli communique reported the clash with Irgun, a former underground fighting force. An Irgun broadcast said "some of our people have been killed and wounded" and threatened a "blood battle between Jews" if the attacks on Irgun did not cease.

Censorship Imposed

The Israeli government imposed censorship for 24 hours on news about the ship and its landing. United Nations officials said truce observers were sent at once to the scene of the beaching.

The government version, read to correspondents by an information officer, said Irgun's leaders were asked to recognize the authority of the new state and called the landing of arms "especially at the time of the truce, a very serious breach of the laws of Israel and a violation of international obligations."

"When it was learned that the boat approached the coast of Israel," the statement continued, "an order was issued to the army to prevent the unloading of arms and, if necessary, to use arms to enforce the order."

An Irgun broadcast said:

"Great numbers of Israel soldiers have been concentrated and they have not hesitated to open a new front in Palestine.

"Already armed encounters have taken place and some of our people have been killed and wounded.

"We feel compelled to make public the facts and to warn the Israel army that if it does not immediately put an end to these shameful acts, then in a few hours, and possibly while we are broadcasting, this moment, there will be opened our blood battle between the Jews."

Ministers Ask Draft Defiance

NEW YORK, June 22 (U.P) — Three hundred Protestant ministers and leaders urged the youth of America today to refuse to register for the draft and if already in the armed services to resign.

The statement was issued under the address of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, which binds its members to refuse to participate in any war. Many of its members were conscientious objectors in World war II.

"Means Disaster"

"As the early Christians refused to offer a pinch of incense to Caesar's image, so we believe that Christian youth in the United States today should refuse to grant even the token recognition of registration to this contemporary evil, which means disaster for their country and their church," the statement said.

The statement was in the form of a letter urging mothers, fathers, sisters, girl friends and spiritual leaders to support those who refused to register. It said the signers were acting as individuals and not officially for their organizations.

Prejudice Against Acting Is "Slush," Paramount Star Says

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 22 — The old cry of "I didn't raise my girl to be an actress" doesn't go with Betty Hutton. 'That's a lot of slush," says she.

"I've heard a lot of stars say they wouldn't want their daughters to be actresses," the irrepressible Betty exclaimed in her Paramount dressing room. "What's the matter with them?

"I've 'had a ball' being in show business all my life. I've met the President of the United States and I could meet the King and Queen if I went to England. In what other line of work could I do that? and why shouldn't I want my daughter to get as big a kick out of life?"

Children Not To Be Forced

Betty said she doesn't intend to force her children into the acting profession. The desire has to come from within them, she feels.

So far, Lindsay, 19 months, has shown theatrical tendencies, but Candy, six weeks, hasn't yet displayed much acting talent.

"I don't intend to give them all kinds of singing and acting lessons," Betty declared. "Nobody can teach them to be great. The big stars in the business have all found talent within themselves That's the way my girls will have to do it."

Betty started in the hard way—dodging vegetables at amateur nights in Detroit 3.2 beer gardens. "It's too bad that youngsters nowadays don't have amateur nights and other ways to break into the business," she said. "But if they want to act, they'll find a way."

No Finishing School Planned

"One thing I won't do," she added, "and that's send my girls to finishing schools. I wouldn't let them within 18 miles of a finishing school. Girls that come out of them may be finished, but they don't know what to talk about. They're just plain bull."

"Dream Girl" Hutton envisions co-starring with Lindsay in a movie musical "Wouldn't that be great?" she enthused. "It's never been done before."

I asked when she might let Lindsay break into show business.

Stars Doing Seventh Film

Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray are doing their seventh film together, "Family Honeymoon." It hasn't always been a winning combination Claudette observed, citing "Maid of Salem," one of her two flops (the other: "Zaza.") "It was awful," she said. "I remember how Fred and I danced the minuet in an apple orchard, looking like a couple of jerks." . . .

Mary Astor gets a twinge of nostalgia playing Marmee in MGM's "Little Women." Her first job was a lead in the same opus for a Chicago stock company . . Ray Bolger, who dances with Marilyn Miller (June Haver) in "Silver Lining," never appeared with the great dancer, but he recalls practicing a few steps with her in her kitchen years ago. They were going to appear in "On Your Toes" together. Three days later she died.

Davis, whose death came after a long illness, had been a resident of Yoakum county since 1906. He died only a few minutes after being admitted to the Brownfield hospital.

Says Man Has Strange Powers That Work While He Sleeps

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power-mind, has within him the mind-power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy-power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind-powe. when awakened, can make man capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth to success in many fields. Strangely, he says that this power works best while we sleep, when proper methods are used.

The author states the time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9000-word treatise which reveals many startling results—to readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd. Dept. 513-G, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been printed.

How America Deals With Soviet Aggression Is Greatest Issue

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Foreign affairs should be very much in our minds these crucial days, for peace and economic rehabilitation depend on how America deals with Moscow's aggressive program of communizing the world.

We shouldn't forget for a minute that this is the great issue of our time.

The problem is to prevent Moscow from taking over any more of Europe and Asia, and to meet its challenge in the western hemisphere. If that can be done, there will be hope that Communism will lose its grip on its victims, for a political creed which deprives mankind of its bill of rights cannot survive.

Positive Methods Needed

However, there's only one way to deal with Communism, and that is by positive, rather than negative, methods. The democracies, under leadership of the United States, must counter the Red ism politically, militarily, economically and morally.

The 80th Congress which has just completed its Herculean labors, has given us what is calculated to be a positive program—a foreign policy capable of dealing with Bolshevism's attempt to subjugate the world. My colleague, John Hightower, AP diplomatic reporter in Washington, says the measures passed by the late Congress constitute a new foreign policy.

These measures include the Truman doctrine of helping protect the free nations of Europe and the Near East against Communist aggression, the Marshall European Recovery program, the resolution by Senator Vandenberg for regional defense systems, and the rearming of the United States in face of Russian expansion. Hightower sums up:

Democracies Gaining

"What the American government has now done, through its bi-partisan foreign policy leadership, is to lay the complete basis for a program of rebuilding as much of the world as possible without Russian cooperation. It is leaving the way open for an east-west understanding in the future if and when conditions develop which would make that possible."

The result of this new policy already is seen in the solidification of western Europe against further Communist aggression.

On the whole the democracies are gaining ground in their battle against Bolshevism. They possess the greater material strength, and are organizing it.

Sherman-Denison Is Off To Good Lead

(By The Associated Press)

Sherman-Denison is moving out to a comfortable lead in the Big State league by that unbeatable combination of winning while the challengers lose.

Last night the twins beat Gainesville 11-4 while the other three first-division clubs took lickings.

Second-place Austin succumbed to Texarkana 7-6, third-place Waco tumbled before Paris 9-6 and fourth-place Greenville took a trimming from Wichita Falls 11-9.

Sherman - Denison hammered out 15 hits in trouncing Gainesville.

Texarkana scored in the ninth to edge Austin with Vernon Washington, who starred afield with eight put-outs in right, lining a double, going to third on an infield out and scoring on Milt Schroeppel's bunt. Paris beat Waco the fourth time in a row, combing Tom Hodges' offerings for 13 hits.

Greenville rallied for six runs in the ninth but couldn't overtake Wichita Falls. The Spudders had grabbed a 11-1 lead in the first four innings.

Four Reasons Why the Monoplex All-Plastic Eye Is Superior....

1. LIFELIKE . . . Exclusive manufacturing processes are responsible for the amazingly lifelike appearance of Monoplex All-Plastic Eyes. Supplied by Broome Optical Company, they are available in a wide variety of colors and patterns for accurately matching their human counterpart.

2. COMFORTABLE . . . Unlike glass eyes, Monoplex Eyes can be cut, shaped and trimmed to eye sockets comfortably, as illustrated by the picture. From one of the basic shapes a completely new shape can be obtained. Because Monoplex Eyes can be fitted precisely, greater movement is made possible.

3. DURABLE . . . Due to their all-plastic construction, Monoplex Eyes, if dropped during the processes of cleaning or removing and inserting, will not shatter like glass eyes, as demonstrated by the picture.

4. SAFE . . . Monoplex Eye shown at the right of the picture is unaffected by eye socket secretions while the glass eye at the left has been corroded and pitted by secretions. The Monoplex Eye is also impervious to atmospheric temperature changes which sometimes cause glass eyes to explode in eye sockets.

For these four important reasons the Monplex All-Plastic Eye is recommended for those who prefer the finest in artificial eyes. Broome Optical Company specialists will be glad to arrange an appointment to give you further details.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Treatment From Fiancee Is Worse Hell To Man Than His War Experiences In Pacific

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Kathie and I were to be married this June, but a month ago she calmly broke our engagement, telling me she had met someone else for whom she cared more.

I am 24 and she is 20 and we had kept steady company for two years. Being neighbors, we saw each other nearly every day. I looked on her as part of my life, had full trust and confidence in her, and had built all my future plans around her. We never once quarreled.

My affection for her is entirely too deep to turn off like a water faucet; and the sight of her going out with someone else is almost maddening to me. I have a very responsible job and this worry is telling badly in my work. I find myself despressed and irritable.

This is getting worse, so how can I break it up? Is it advisable to resign my job and leave this part of the country? Or should I go out with someone else, in whom I'd have no interest? In my present state of mind I would be a poor companion.

THWARTING GALLED HIM IN CHILDHOOD

FOR background, I am the only son of rather wealthy parents. As a child if I wanted anything, I wanted it very much. If I didn't get it, I actually suffered. But I was willing to put up an effort to get what I wanted.

I remember as a boy of 10 I wanted to make a boys' baseball team and I had one of our servants bat me flyballs for hours under a hot July sun. Poor fellow, I can see him sweating yet. I made the team.

In high school I went out for the varsity basketball and football teams. I thought for a while I'd flop and the thought nearly drove me nuts. I made both teams. I decided we should win every game. We didn't, and I'd bawl like a baby when we lost. I was a senior and somewhat of a football hero when Kathie was a frosh. She wasn't my girl then.

I spent three years in the Marines. There you learn to control your emotions. I took plenty of hell in the Pacific but I've suffered more this past month than all my war experiences put together. I am no neurotic sissy and I am disgusted that a girl could do this to me. I've got to snap out of this, and it's the toughest job I ever faced. Please help if you can, and thanks a million for wading through this.

(Signed) G. C.

FEELS HE CAN'T AFFORD TO FAIL

DEAR G. C.: It seems to me you take everything too hard and always have; not getting much, if any, fun out of life even when things are going your way; and that your most keenly felt emotions are on the negative side.

Your bulldozer approach to life is that of a person who seems to feel he can't afford to fail at anything; as if total loss of self-confidence were at stake, in the event he misses out in any competitive situation.

Why is this? Did your affluent parents tacitly burden their only son from babyhood with the understanding that because he lived in clover, as compared with ordinary folk (or the general run), a world-beater performance on every score was duly expected from him in return? And did the little fellow feel in his bones that this was asking much too much of him—even while inwardly flogging himself to measure up to their vainglorious demands?

Your personality is pretty rigid, I gather, owing to serious contradiction between the inner self and the outward seeming. On the surface you strive to register courage, composure and competence, while underneath volcanic tremors of neurotic anxiety about prospectice "loss of face" are always rumbling.

GIRL'S DECISION BLESSING TO MAN

WHEN Kathie "calmly" broke the engagement, I bet you professed to accept the blow as nothing calamitous, by way of maintaining a customary pose of imperturbable superiority. And I daresay the relationship while it lasted was simply a case of your thawing slightly to her expression of hero-worship, without your feeling much (if any) sensitive devotional interest in her real potentials as an individual—which would leave her vulnerable to Cupid's darts from another quarter.

Her change of heart leaves you unstrung with humiliation and shock, hence discouraged, demoralized and wrothful; but all things considered, it is a blessing in disguise, I think.

For one thing, you need to work out good emotional integration, via short-term intensive psychiatric therapy, before marrying anyone. For another: among men who come from homes above average in income and education, the very happiest marriages are reported by those who marry at 30 or after, according to Dr. Judson I. Landis, sociology professor at Michigan State College, whose finding derives from a study of 409 marriages in that social group.—M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.)

After a wedding trip in Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stainbrook, who were married recently at the Reno, Nev., First Baptist church will be at home in Sacramento, Calif., where the bridegroom is employed.

The bride, the former Mrs. Stella Edwards of Lubbock, wore a blue crepe dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and for something borrowed Mrs. Stainbrook carried a hand-painted blue silk handkerchief which her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Taylor, had carried at her wedding. For traveling the bride chose a suit of white strutter cloth.

Mrs. Stainbrook is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Short of Long Beach, Calif., and the late Mr. Short.

RAIN-OR-SHINE HATS . . . A boon to the girl who doesn't like to carry an umbrella are these new highly styled plastic hats for summer wear, designed by Eve Tartar. Gay, cool and crisp, they keep their freshness through rain-storms, dust and city soot. They can be cleaned by wiping with a damp cloth and, says Miss Tartar, you can even sit on them and they'll spring back into shape. The hat worn by the model is inspired by the classic riding hat, done in sheer plastic and trimmed with black-eyed susans. In one arm she holds a daisy-trimmed white cloche, in the other a huge beret. All are safe to wear in any weather.

Brandau and his wife claimed the animal was destructive, and that it ate chickens and was in the act of killing a lamb when Brandau shot it with a rifle.

The owners claimed the dog, "Rags," was harmless—just a family pet.

Still mad, Brandau said he'd do it all over again if he had to.

New Clues Hunted In Orange Slaying

ORANGE, June 22 (U.P.)—Orange county officers searched today for new clues in the savage slaying of J. P. Hopson, 29-year-old cab driver, whose battered body was found Sunday on a country lane 18 miles north of here.

Deputy Sheriff K. A. Mitchell said today no suspects had been picked up, and that the murderer had carefully covered up his trail.

Hopson's body was found in a ditch, some two miles from his abandoned taxi cab. Nearby was a bloody, five-foot pole, which had apparently been used as the bludgeoning weapon. The man had also been shot twice, officers said.

Near the scene of the tragedy was Hopson's empty billfold. Several dollars in small change was scattered in the immediate area.

BRITISH PROPOSE REFORM TALKS

Money Conference Accepted By Reds

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, June 22.—The Russians accepted today a British proposal for four-power talks on currency reform in Berlin, the Soviet licensed German news agency said. The parley may decide whether the city is to have one kind of money or two.

The agency said Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, proposed that representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Russia meet at 2 p. m. (7 a. m. EST). It said P. Maletin, chief of the Soviet military administration's finance department, would attend.

Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor, had invited the Russians to confer on the monteary situation in Berlin, which now faces the prospect of having two currencies—that introduced by the allies in western Germany and money soon expected to be produced by the Russians

Robertson bluntly told the Russians they had no more rights in the four-power city than the western allies, although Berlin is an island deep in Soviet-occupied territory.

The news agency said Sokolovsky also had received letters proposing the conference from Gen. Lucius D. Clay the American military governor, and Lt. Gen. Joseph Koenig, the French commander.

Such a meeting would be the first four-power commanders' session since March 20, when the Russians stalked out of the allied control council.

Among other things for the four powers to discuss are the best methods of continuing trade relations between the western zones and Berlin and the Russian zone, following separate currency reforms, the agency said.

Berlin and the Soviet zone are in the grip of spreading economic paralysis as a result of the currency reform initiated by the United States, Britain and France in western Germany.

Naval Officer Arrives Here

Lt. Russell L. Gillis, regular Navy officer, has arrived in Lubbock to be inspector-instructor of the organized division of the Naval Reserve, which will be housed in the training center being completed on Texas Technological college campus.

Simultaneous with announcement of Lieutenant Gillis' arrival, removal of the Naval Reserve office from Lubbock federal building to the training center or armory, which is located at Eighth street and College Ave., was announced.

Hunter Is Assistant

Lt. Marvin Hunter, who has directed the organized division through its more than a year of operation, is assistant inspector-instructor of the division.

Lieutenant Gillis has been in the Navy 24 years. He came here from San Francisco from the ammunition ship, USS Paricutin, after 14 months on that ship as engineering officer.

His original home was in San Diego. He was in Europe two years prior to World war II. During the war, he was on the Atlantic coast, in the Mediterranean area and Southwest Pacific. Afterward, he went to the AGC 14, headquarters ship for amphibious landing forces, as engineering officer.

Will Be Instructor

He will be instructor for the organized division and will be inspector of the armory and its equipment seeing that proper equipment is available for training purposes, and overseeing progress of the division, and will serve as liaison officer between the commandant of the Eighth Naval district at New Orleans and the commanding officer of the organized division, Lt. J. E. Vickers. He also will have charge of Naval Reserve recruiting. His wife and 15-year-old daughter, now in San Diego, will join him later.

Need Is Emphasized

Need for Naval Reserve officers, both line and staff, other than aviation, for active duty for at least 12 months was announced this morning by Hunter. Particular need for officers who have had sea experience or junior officers who desire experience was expressed. Approximate maximum age limits are: Commander, 45; lieutenant commander, 40, and lieutenant and below, 36. The announcement stated that officers recalled may expect opportunities for further retention beyond 12 months, but definite commitments can be made only for the period for which appropriations are known. The call was the first such call made recently for more officers for active duty.

The new telephone number for the organized division office and Naval Reserve recruiting office was announced this morning at 6474. The mailing address still is Box 1558, Lubbock.

No date has been announced for completion of the training center. The move of officers quarters was effected last week, as soon as office quarters in the new structure were available for use.

Lions Family Night Is Set

Three vocal numbers by Mrs. Stuart Shafter, announcement of the club's family night picnic in Mackenzie park tonight, and notice that next week's meeting will include installation of new officers, highlighted the luncheon of the Lions club today at the Hilton hotel.

Mrs. Shafter was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Joel P. McConnell. The two were introduced by Ivan L. Little, program chairman.

Was Twice Postponed

The club's family night, twice postponed because of bad weather, is scheduled to start at 6:30 o'clock with distribution of free tickets for rides at the recreation center in the park. Tickets for the rides are available to club members and families without charge.

Following the rides, a picnic supper of hot dogs and trimmings is to be served at the barbecue pits in the park. Gene Quest is chairman of the committee arranging the event, and he urged good attendance. In event of rain tonight, the picnic is to be held tomorrow on the same schedule.

In recognition of long and outstanding service to the club, an honorary membership certificate was presented by Dr. Doyle D. Jackson on behalf of the club, to Frank A. Kennedy.

Charter Bus Filled

Two new members were introduced. They were Rev. Travis A. White, new pastor of First Christian church, a transfer from Little Rock; and R. L. Matthews.

Club Secretary Groves Denman announced that a charter bus for a trip to New York City to the club's international convention has been filled. He outlined schedule and expenses of a special pullman coach to the convention in event a sufficient number desired the service.

Club President J. Wm. Davis presided, with invocation by Rev. Mr. White.

Cotton Choppers To Be Controlled Here

The Lubbock office of the Texas Employment commission has been designated as the control point for cotton choppers for the entire South Plains area, according to James E. Marshall, manager of the local office.

At present, the supply of cotton choppers in the area overshadows the demand, Marshall said, partly because most cotton farmers do not yet need such labor, and partly because numbers of migratory workers—mostly Latin Americans—have come into the area of their own will, whether needed or not.

Under the new plan whereby the Lubbock office of the commission serves as control point for the area, the office will determine daily the number of cotton choppers needed here, and will contact the commission headquarters. Workers will then be sent into the area according to the demand.

South Plains farmers who need cotton choppers are urged to contact the offices of the commission here.

Houston To Start Building Project

HOUSTON, June 22. (U.P.)—A giant $5,000,000 housing project, containing 519 homes, will be started here tomorrow at ceremonies presided over by State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

The commissioner will fly here from Austin to officially open the large building area, designated by Houston realtors as "Oak Forest," where two other similar sections were opened recently.

The new section represents investments totaling $5,100,000.

BUSINESS FAILURES

Republicans Make Firm Bid To Capture Farm Vote In Election

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP)—Republicans made a bid for the 1948-election farm vote today with a promise of permanent price props, a "sounder" soil saving program, and support of cooperatives.

They also pledged intensified research to find new uses for possible future farm surpluses, and to encourage an agricultural system of family-sized farms as opposed to big units.

Must Be Approved

This farm plank was written into the platform drafted by the GOP resolutions committee. The entire document still must be approved by the national convention this week, but no opposition is expected.

The plank notes that the Republican-controlled 80th Congress already has passed a long-range farm bill providing for price supports. That measure continues present price supports, in a modified form, for another year. Thereafter, the supports drop to a slightly lower level.

The party policy makers did not forget the people who buy the things the farmers produce. The plank said the country must have a farm program which serves the interest of both the farmer and the consumer.

Details Not Given

It did not spell out details, but it said there should be effective protection of "reasonable market prices."

This price aid should be carried out, it said, through flexible price supports, loans to farmers holding price-depressing surpluses off markets, marketing agreements, and "such other means as may be necessary."

This pledge of flexible price supports was inserted at the last moment, largely on the insistence of farm-state members of the resolutions committee. The flexible system is favored by major farm organizations and would go into effect in 1950 under the farm bill passed in the final hours of last Sunday's adjournment drive.

Flexible supports are designed to help guide farm production. When supplies were short, supports would be raised to encourage greater production. When they were excessive, price aids would be lowered to discourage output.

Pledge Is Repeated

The plank repeated a 1944 pledge to support "bona fide farmer-owned and farmer-operated cooperatives." This promise had been opposed by business groups which sought support for a proposal to deprive co-ops of their present federal income tax exemption.

The Republican program matches in most respects recommendations made by President Truman in his message to Congress last month. This is expected, GOP leaders said, to deprive the Democrats of a farm issue.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., of Massachusetts, chairman of the resolutions committee, said some additional legislation will be needed to carry out farm pledges. In this category are provisions pertaining to soil conservation, broader outlets for farm products and more effective marketing agreement programs.

On the issue of forestry conservation, the plank declared for cooperation between timber owners and states on a program of sustaining lumber yield. The Democrats have advocated federal government control over timber cutting.

In drafting their farm plank, the resolutions committee declined to okay international crop-selling pacts.

Reds Reported To Be Meeting

(By The Associated Press)

Reports circulated widely in Europe today that the Cominform is meeting "somewhere in Poland."

Usually trustworthy sources said the top Communist leaders on the continent are attending, presumably from all nine countries in the International Communist "Information Bureau" organized under Russian leadership in Poland last fall. Cominform headquarters is in Belgrade.

Reviewing Tactics

The presumption is that the Communist leaders are reviewing their tactics in the light of the licking they took in Italy in April and the recent Western Power decision to set up a semi-independent government in Western Germany.

Such Communist leaders as Palmiro Togliatti of Italy and Jacques Duclos of France are known to be absent from their homes.

There are information in London that Togliatti had passed through Warsaw a few days ago in the company of A. A. Zhdanov, a member of the Soviet Politburo, under whose guidance Cominform was organized.

The nations whose Communists are represented in the Cominform are Russia, Italy, France, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Union Rejects Ford's Offer

DETROIT, June 22 (AP)—Emil Mazey, acting president of the CIO United Auto Workers, made it clear today the Ford Motor company's proposal for an uneven wage boost was not acceptable to the union.

The UAW objects to the Ford formula which would add 14 cents to the hourly pay of workers making less than $1.50 an hour and 11 cents to the wages of those earning more, Mazey said last night at Grand Rapids where he is attending a Michigan CIO convention.

Requirements Not Met

John S. Bugas, Ford industrial relations director who announced the offer yesterday, had suggested it would "erase many of the inequities in our present wage structure."

However, Mazey declared the proposal "does not meet our requirements."

"The union will insist on a flat rate for all workers with adjustment of inequities," he added.

He also said the Ford offer contained "two points to which we could not agree."

"One is the attempt by the company to broaden the incentive pay system," Mazey went on. "The other involves the effort of the company to water down overtime benefits."

The Ford offer also included revision of overtime and premium-pay provisions of the present contract, which it asked extended to July 15, 1950.

Negotiations between Ford and the auto union are recessed until tomorrow morning (9 a. m. EST).

The union had demanded a 30-cent hourly wage boost for 110,000 Ford production workers. It has settled with Chrysler Corp. and several auto firms for a 13-cent hourly raise, and accepted an 11-cent adjustable increase from General Motors Corp.

Negro Pair Sought In Truck Robbery

FORT WORTH, June 22 (U.P.)—Two negroes were sought today after a 29-year-old white truck driver reported he was robbed of $150 and left bound with adhesive tape in woods near Lake Worth.

Joel Brady Hill said a negro man jumped in the cab of his truck as he waited on a traffic light, and pulled a gun on him. A negro companion followed in a car, later joining the holdup man.

Marine Corps Office Distributing Medals

The Lubbock Marine Corps recruiting office has announced that medals for ex-Marines in this area have been received and are being issued.

Medals now being distributed are China Service, Asiatic Pacific, American Theater, American Defense, and Victory Medal.

The recruiting office emphasized that all ex-Marines entitled to any of these medals must have their original discharge with them before they can receive them. Distribution is being made in the Marine Corps recruiting offices in the Federal building.

Tyler Newspaper Endorses Johnson

AUSTIN, June 22 (U.P.) — Headquarters for Lyndon Johnson claimed the support today of the 20th daily newspaper for the U S. senatorial candidate — the Tyler Courier-Times and Telegraph.

Johnson's headquarters reported that the Tyler newspaper endorsed the 10th District Congressman in a page one editorial in which it asked:

"If Lyndon Johnson is outstanding enough to represent the entire United States on the nine-man Atomic Energy committee the world's most important, then wouldn't we be wise to have him represent Texas alone as United States Senator?"

Brick Union Strike Beains Second Day

ELGIN, June 22 (U.P.) — Members of the United Brick and Clay Workers of America (AFL) went into their second day of a walkout today from the Elgin Butler Brick company.

Only a handful of the 140 workers employed by the company remained on the job. C. G. Perez of Elgin, representing the union, said the union is asking a pay boost of 30 cents an hour.

The union claimed that only two workers came to work yesterday. Perez said the union gained bargaining right in a National Labor Relations board election on June 4.

Republicans Fire Broadsides At Broken New Deal Promises

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP)—Republicans trained new oratorical guns on the "New Deal party" today in the wake of a broadside charging broken promises at home, but fulfilled deals with Russia.

Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois and Clare Boothe Luce, former Congresswoman from Connecticut, leveled the charges at the Roosevelt-Truman administration in addresses last night to the GOP national convention.

Both spoke their certainty of a Republican victory in November.

And both lashed out furiously at administration foreign and domestic policy.

Green Defines Cold War

Green, the convention keynoter, said the "cold war" is the "lusty child of the New Deal's renedzvous with Communism."

The New Deal, he said, promised economy, jobs and efficiency and delivered "unproductive spending, unbalanced budgets, oppressive taxes, massive debt and bureaucracy."

"Apparently, the only promises that were really kept were those it gave to Joe Stalin," Green shouted.

Mrs. Luce charged that millions were "condemned" to death, exile or slavery by secret Roosevelt-Truman agreements with the Russians at Tehran, Yalta and Potsdam.

Presidents Quoted

Quoting the late President Roosevelt's statement that "I got along fine with Stalin" and President Truman's recent remark that "I like old Joe," Mrs. Luce said: "Of course they liked him. Didn't they give him all eastern Europe, Manchuria, the Kuriles, North China, coalitions in Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia?"

The speakers called the Democrats some new names.

Green said the party got its majorities in the last four presidential elections from "a fantastic partnership of reaction and radicalism held together by "bosses, boodle, buncombe and blarney."

Democrats Sized Up

Mrs. Luce sized up the Democratic party as a three-faction alliance:

"The extreme right, or the Jim Crow wing," led by "lynch-loving Bourbons, white shirted race-supremists of the Bilbo ilk;"

"The left, or Moscow wing . . . currently being master-minded by Stalin's Mortimer Snerd, Henry Wallace;" and

"The center, or Pendergast wing," run by "the wampum and boodle boys, the same big city bosses who gave us Harry Truman in one of their more pixilated moments."

Setting the theme of the GOP convention, Green said the heart of the Republican foreign policy "will be to check the spread of slavery in the world."

Sound America Is Answer

"Our best answer to Communism will be a sound America."

On domestic issues, he said:

"The Republican President and the Republican Congress will deal realistically with the problems of housing, of the strengthening of social security, and of the full protection of the public health without resort to the dreary and inadequate regimentation of state medicine."

Green said the Democrats cannot win the election with, or without, Mr. Truman. Mrs. Luce described the President as a "gone goose."

Youths Recruited For Summer Work

DETROIT, June 22 (AP)—The Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission launched a drive today to recruit hundreds of husky Detroit teen-agers for work this summer on southern Michigan farms.

There won't be enough outstate youths to fill the jobs, a commission spokesman said, because "they'll all be flocking to Detroit to work."

THE COLD GRAY DAWN—It was a lovely night in the enchanted forests of a Cleveland, O., park. Raymond Kvaternik, 8, and Sandra Wojciak, 9, had a red wagon full of bread, chocolate milk and bologna, and a yen to walk among the trees and lakes of the park at night. They didn't leave the park until dawn. Police had been searching for them through the night. When the youngsters reached home, they found this welcoming committee—Raymond's mother, and Sandra's strap-carrying father. It had been a night to remember, but the morning after was one to forget.

Gandhi Suspect Gives Evidence

DELHI, India, June 22 (AP)—One of nine men accused in the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi turned state's evidence today.

Judge Atma Charan said Digambar Ramchanddra Badge, the owner of a small arms shop in Poona, agreed to give a full confession in court and has been removed from the list of defendants who went to trial this morning before a special court in Delhi's old Red Fort.

Will Not Be Tried

The judge, who is hearing the case without a jury, said Badge had agreed to become a prosecution witness and "tell the truth" and therefore would not be tried.

The jaunty air which the other eight defendants have worn since legal proceeding started several weeks ago was noticeably missing today as the judge read the official charges. These charges say Narayan Vinayak Godse fired the shot which killed Gandhi on Jan. 30, that Madan Lal earlier planted a bomb in an assassination attempt which failed and that the other six defendants aided and abetted them. They all pleaded innocent.

All Said Near

Chief Prosecutor C. K. Daftari declared that all of the defendants except two were in or near Gandhi's prayer grounds armed with pistols or grenades the day Madan Lal exploded the bomb.

He said Gandhi was slain because he preached non-violence and communal peace and stood in the path of the communal hatred preached by Godse, a Poona editor, and the others, all of whom are Hindus.

Business Meet Held

Members of the string section of Lubbock Symphony orchestra and persons interested in playing with the orchestra attended a business meeting at Hilton hotel last night.

It was announced that rehearsals of the string section will begin Monday, June 28.

Charles E. Maedgen, jr., chairman of the board, and William A. Harrod, director, urged that musicians who play violin, cello, or viola and who are interested in playing with the symphony next season contact the director.

New Method Of Heart Surgery Uses Reinforced Blood Clots

BY HOWARD, W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP) — Reinforced blood clots, made on the same principle as reinforced concrete, and for use in getting inside of bad hearts to do remodeling, were shown to the American Medical association here today.

Concrete uses steel bars for reinforcement. The blood is reinforced by a gelatin sponge, a white fluffy substance. Blood seeping into this sponge clots and holds firmly in places where blood alone would never clot.

Work Confined To Animals

This new adventure in heart medicine has been confined to animals, but the usefulness has been confirmed by previous human uses of gelatin sponges. The new work was done by Doctors Hilger P. Jenkins, Howard Reiser, David S. Fox and Rudolph Janda of the University of Illinois College of Medicine and Woodlawn hospital, Chicago.

In animals hearts holes were opened as large as a finger. Such holes would be almost certain death.

The gelatin sponge sealed them. This sponge does not have to be removed, for the gelatin, a form of food, is absorbed by the heart in two months or less. Meanwhile, heart wounds healed just as if they had been cuts on a finger.

The gelatin patches also worked well on cuts in the arteries that supply the heart muscle with blood. The uses of these sponges are for people with hearts torn in accidents, and especially for surgeons who can remake bad hearts, but who have been handicapped by inability to stop the loss of blood.

Detection of cancer of the lungs by the sputum of victims was reported by Doctors L. B. Woolner and John R. McDonald of the Mayo clinic. They examined 2,188 persons in this way. The sputum indicated cancer in 200. In only four was this indication wrong. All the others had cancer, but four of them had it in the tubes that lead to the lungs.

T. O. HEALD
Candidate For Commissioner of Precinct No. 1

Issued a statement in regard to the raising of taxes on the city and county property of Lubbock. Heald makes this statement to the Avalanche-Journal Office: "I am absolutely against any tax raises at this time. Taxes are high enough now and I am 100% for Mr. Benson and his fellowmen in regard to the commissioner statement in The Sunday Morning News, and if I was sitting there in the court Thursday morning I would be against any tax raise whatever.

"I would like to know what is going with all the money that has been paid for taxes in the past recent years because in my opinion it is not being put to use on the roads of this state or on any other good project to benefit you.

"So if you good people of Prct. 1 will go to the polls July 24th and elect me as your Commissioner for the next two years I will stand up for your rights in every case that is brought before the Commissioner Court. It looks to me that the people are having something put over on them by the rises in the tax rates on farm and city property and I say again that I am absolutely against any further rise.

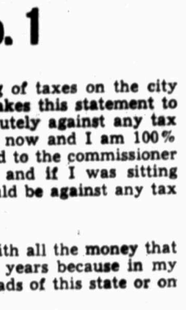

"Remember me July 24 and cast your vote for T. O. Heald, the man that will stand behind you, the man that is best fitted for your Commissioner, and the man that will stand up and fight for your rights."

So long for now,

T. O. Heald

Hubbers Come Alive To Trip Blue Sox 9 To 8 In 11 Innings

Between . . . The Lines

—— By JOE KELLY ——

The captains and the hosts have departed, leaving Rosenthal Field to its regular fans and habitues, but the visit of George M. Trautman, Milton E. Price, Hap Morse, Moe Berg, George Schepps and the others will not be forgotten for a long time. It is seldom the privilege of a city Lubbock's size to have so many outstanding visitors from the realm of baseball and their presence did much to enhance the Hubber games Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Every visitor was impressed by this year's team and found it hard to believe that they had been on an extended streak of losses. It all goes back to the old saw; when a team is winning, the players look great. But when they're losing, they all look terrible. It's no secret that they did look terrible much of the time they were dropping those games. A little better sound baseball, a little more hustle, a little more alertness, would have saved some of those contests. That they didn't put those things together is water over the dam. They are winning.

What a great many fans didn't know Sunday afternoon was that Jackie Wilcox played the entire game with a broken nose. In fact, he didn't know it until Monday morning, when the doctors looked him over. And it was all due to his getting help in his fielding from George Schepps. George had Virgil Richardson hitting grounders to Jackie, while George was giving him instruction. Finally he called that he would have just one more ball. The "one more ball" took a bad hop, bounced squarly in Jackie's nose and knocked him out.

They took him to the clubhouse, revived him, gave him first aid and sent him out to play. We saw him after the game and his nose was swollen and there were black patches extending under both eyes already. That naturally affected his vision and it took a lot of downright guts to go out there and play. Some other players might have begged off, but not Wilcox. And the remarkable thing is that he got two hits and accepted seven chances with only one error. He also took part in a double play. It's that kind of spirit that will win pennants. Incidentally, the Lamesa ball players all wish that Jackie still was playing with them.

Moe Berg, before Sunday's game, was expressing incredulity at the type of play in the West Texas-New Mexico League. He apologized for his lack of minor league experience, but as you know, Moe went directly from college in 1923 to the Boston Red Sox and remained with them as player and coach until 1939. He was amazed at the good, sound baseball played in Class C, as witnessed in Lubbock. He also could find little wrong with the fundamental play of the Hubbers. And he was greatly impressed with Manager Jackie Sullivan.

Berg said that Sullivan was terrific, in his book. He said that he hit the ball hard, that he ran the bases beautifully and had a really great arm. He was profoundly impressed with Sullivan's work as pivot man on double plays, said that it was Major League work. About the baseball in general, he thought one of the most impressive features was the way the teams ran the bases, advancing from first to third on singles and going from second to home. He enjoyed his visit to the ball park greatly.

In fact, he admitted that the baseball bug, once it gets under your skin, keeps boring and boring until you either go back to it or go crazy. He's been out of active touch with baseball since 1939, but he says that can't last forever. One of these days he is going back to his first love and the heck with the law career. That he'll keep for the winter, but about the time the snows start to melt and before the robins return, he hopes to be making the trek southward with a ball team. This isn't his visit to Texas, either, having trained and played in the state during his baseball days. He had that faraway look in his eyes and you know he was itching to get back on the diamond.

That's a wonderful piece of news about J. D. Kirkpatrick and his possible appearance on the Louis-Walcott fight card. We, for one, are hoping there are a lot of kayoes and that J. D. gets his chance to perform in Yankee Stadium. We have an idea that if the crowd sees him at his best, when he's slinging leather with that terrific punching he has, that they'll be wild to see more of him. Sometimes that's all the break a fighter needs to go from the unknown stage up to the advanced stages. An impressive showing on the Louis - Walcott fight could do much to make J. D. a piece of fame and fortune.

The Russian-United States' war of nerves has nothing on the Abilene-Lubbock war of nerves displayed at Rosenthal Field last night, where the Hubbers came from behind to win a 9-8 victory over the Blue Sox in an 11-inning affair.

The important victory widened the gap between the Hubbers and the Sox to a game and a half and left the Blue Hose deadlocked with Lamesa for fifth place. The Loboes tried to win a game from the Pampa Oilers, but Bill Jones was less than effective and the Loboes also fell a game and a half behind Lubbock.

Amarillo Cracks Up

Amarillo, showing signs of cracking after winning 17 of 22 games, dropped another contest on their present road trip, losing to the Albuquerque Dukes 12-3. The loss, coupled with Pampa's win, dropped the Gold Sox to three and a half games behind the league-leaders and left them only half a contest ahead of Borger.

Borger chose last night to lose to the surging Clovis Pioneers, 22-7, thus losing a chance to take over second place, and the Dukes moved back to within a game of the Gassers.

Pampa now leads by three and a half games, trailed by Borger by four games, Albuquerque by five games and Lubbock by six. The Hubbers have a game and a half advantage over Abilene and Lamesa while Clovis is buried in the cellar, ten and a half tilts out of the lead.

Fans Won't Forget

But that game at Rosenthal Field last night was one which 1,410 fans won't forget in a long, long time. Seldom does one team stake the other to an eight-run lead and then rally in four small doses to tie the count and win in extra-innings.

That's what the Hubbers did, after John Kelly kept them pretty well throttled through the early stages of the game. Indeed, Kelly gave up only six hits for three runs in the first seven frames and seemed to be well on his way to victory.

Then the Hubbers commenced to work. Manager Jackie Sullivan's triple had scored one run in the fifth and he scored two more in the seventh, when he hit a home run over the centerfield fence in the seventh. But a four-run eighth inning put a different complexion on the contest and brought in Ray Miller to protect the 8-7 margin.

Couldn't Stop Hubbers

He checked the eighth-inning rally, but he couldn't stop the Hubbers from deadlocking the game in the ninth. Chick Fowler, who got his 14th homer of the year in the seventh, led off with a double and Red Ramsey ran for him. Gene Hixson tried to sacrifice him to third and when he fouled off two pitches, had to hit. Which he did, drilling a double to centerfield to score Ramsey.

Royce Mills, who pitched 10 2/3 innings last night to keep the Hubbers in the game, fanned the Sox in order in the 10th and then, aftel they had men on first and third in the 11th, he got the dangerous Gus Stathos on an infield out, passed Manager Art Bowland intentionally and eliminated Ernie Fallpino on a force play at second.

He Booted It

Hixson slashed a grounder to Bowland and the Abilene manager probably unnerved by the Hubbers tying up the game, booted the ball. Cotton Russell, who had run for Floyd Walker in the ninth, laid down a perfect sacrifice and the stage was set for Mills. The little utility hurler, without a hit in five trips, singled to left and Hoxson went to third. When he saw Rocky Stone playing hot potato with the ball, the fleet fielder dashed home to score.

And that was all for last night. Mills on his sixth game of the year—and a deserved victory at that—and the Hubbers won their fourth straight. Tonight they'll go after their fifth behind the right-handed hurling of Ralph Ketcher.

Red Sox, ABC Gain Wins At Boys Club

The Red Sox nosed out the White Sox, 16-15, and the American Business club edged by the Methodist Men, 9-8, in clashes at the Lubbock Boys club diamond Monday afternoon.

Bobby Haygood and Glenn Higginbotham paced the Red Sox at the plate, each collecting two safeties, with Tommy Sewell leading the White Sox with a three hits in four trips.

Glenn Akin's double and two singles were the big blows for the ABC nine, although Bobby Tollison collected a double and one single during the setto. Jimmy Crawford and Dale Clark topped the Methodist men with two for four.

All four teams of the Junior loop are now tied in the standings, with three wins and three defeats.

Hank Sauer Is After Record

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hammering Hank Sauer, in his first full year in the major leagues, gave promise today of blossoming into the greatest home run hitter in Cincinnati baseball history.

The 29-year-old outfielder yesterday tied a club record for the most home runs hit by a right-handed batter when he blasted his 20th four-bagger of the young season. The blow enabled the Reds to nip the Phillies, 4-3, in a night game in Philadelphia. The victory, Cincinnati's second in its last 10 games, snapped a four-game losing streak.

Ties Their Record

Until yesterday, Ernie Lombardi, in 1939, and Frank McCormick, in 1944, were the only righthanded batters in Cincinnati's long history to hit 20 home runs in one season.

Alpha Brazle bested Warren Spahn in a brilliant southpaw pitching duel to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-0 victory over the league leading Braves in a night game in Boston. Brazle, who has pitched only one other complete game this season, thus become the first pitcher in the last 24 games to go the distance against the Braves. He allowed seven hits to six for Spahn.

The Braves, however, maintained their game and a half margin on the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates who were defeated by the Dodgers in a night game in Brooklyn 5-2.

Yanks Beat Tribe

Allie Reynolds pitched the Yankees to an easy 13-2 triumph over his former Indian mates in a night game in Cleveland. The victory cut Cleveland's first place lead over the Yankees in the American league pennant race to two and a half games.

The Yankees accumulated 18 hits including home runs by Joe DiMaggio and George Stirnweiss. It was DiMag's 15th to put him only one behind Ken Keltner of Cleveland for the league lead.

Three consecutive doubles after two were out in the last half of the ninth inning drove in four runs and gave the Browns a 9-8 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in a night game in St. Louis.

Kilgore Drillers In Lone Star Top Slot

(By The Associated Press)

The Kilgore Drillers were on top of the Lone Star league today because the erstwhile leaders — Longview and Tyler — divided a double-header.

The Drillers edged Bryan 4-3 to go into first place by a half game.

Tyler won the first game 2-1 in eight innings with Otho Nitcholas pitching a five-hitter to notch his enth victory of the season. Joe Pate hurled Longview to a 3-2 decision in the afterpiece with an eight-hit exhibition.

Kilgore splurged for four runs in the eighth with two out to nip Bryan. John Woods, the winning pitcher, fanned 13.

Gladewater beat last-place Marshall 8-3 with Valie Eaves scattering eight Marshall hits.

Roland Miller struck out 13 batters as the Henderson Oilers strapped Lufkin 10-2.

SWC Foes Say He "Didn't Have A Thing"

"Layne Complex" Is Credited In Bobby's College Victories

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, June 22 — Bobby Layne, the University of Texas athletic great, threw his sports writer pals a curve. In fact, it probably was a bigger one than he's able to throw now-in professional baseball.

Bobby had said he didn't intend to play pro ball—that he was going to concentrate on football. But the first crack out of the box he signed with Lubbock of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Would Not Interfere

Layne found it wouldn't interfere with his football since he can leave any time to join his pro gridiron squad.

Personally, we're glad Bobby did it. There has been a lot of talk about Layne's baseball ability.

Conference opponents contended he "didn't have a thing."

They shrugged off his undefeated conference record by saying there was just a "Layne complex" —they got so used to losing when Layne threw a baseball or football, they were licked before they started.

And He Had Trouble

Layne stepped into class C ball which isn't very tough compared to the general professional baseball picture. But it's a lot different from the college variety. Bobby had trouble aplenty in his first games. Even in his first victory, which came in his third start, he didn't last the game out.

But the more he pitches the better he looks.

Lefties To Play

The left-handed golfers of Texas are going to have their annual tournament July 7-11. It will again be at Max Starcke park in Seguin.

The entry fee will be $10.00 and for this each southpaw can bring his entire family. The entertainment includes the wives and children.

Mayor Roger Moore and his city commissioners of Seguin have arranged for free swimming in the pool adjoining the golf course club house.

Texas AAU Meet Entries Top 100

SAN ANTONIO, June 22. (AP)—More than 100 athletes already have entered the South Texas AAU Track and Field meet scheduled next Friday night.

Lackland Air base with its Army-Air Forces Olympics squad is selected to win the team championship with Austin AC, made up of University of Texas stars, a major contender.

Winners here will go to the National AAU in Milwaukee to try for Olympic berths.

Legion B Nine Grabs Victory

Lubbock's American Legion B nine, undefeated in conference play in District 2, Region 1, of the Legion state diamond organization, notched its third straight triumph Monday afternoon at Chapman field with a 13-1 win over Plainview.

Stocky Mack Taylor, rapidly developing into the top hurler in the league, went the route for the Hub city nine and gave up only one unearned run during his nine-frame stint. He struck out 13 batters.

Offensive Launched

The Lubbock hitters found the pitching of Plainview's Jackie Howton tough for the first four frames, garnering only a pair of runs, but when Howton was lifted in the fifth the home nine started an offensive that clinched the win.

In other District 2 contests Brownfield dropped Morton, 10-4, behind the hurling of Willis McNeil, and Muleshoe swamped Littlefield, 28-4.

A scheduled game between the Lubbock A nine and Tahoka was postponed because of high winds and dust.

The score by innings:

LUBBOCK B	0	0	0	2	1	7	1	2	x—13

Hemphill-Wells And Lions Cop Victories

Victories in the American Legion city Junior baseball league were chalked up by Hemphill-Wells and the Lions club nines Monday afternoon, the Hemphill-Wells crew clipping Furr Foods, 7-4, and the Lions pounding the Optimists, 8-4.

Tommy Yelvington and David Clark handled the pitching duties for the Hemphill-Wells representatives, to chalk up their second win in the South (or Chapman field) half of the loop, with Charley Hodges the winning hurler for the Lions in the North half setto.

Standings in the Chapman field division:

TEAMS	W	L	Pct.
Kuykendall	3	0	1.000
Hemphill-Wells	2	1	.667

Golfer To Enter British Open Tourney

Frank Stranahan Is Inspired By Meeting With Bobby Jones

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 22.—Inspired by an accidental street corner meeting with Bobby Jones, handsome Frank Stranahan, the Toledo muscle man, emplaned for England today with high hopes of adding the British open crown to his British amateur jewels.

Seeing that Jones, one-time emperor of the fairways, was the only American ever to win them both in the same year—during his 1930 grand slam—"Muscles" felt that their chance meeting was a good omen.

And to top it off, the heir to automotive millions expected to have his game sharper for the open than it was last month when he captured the British amateur.

In Groove Now

"I'm done being talked out of titles," said the sturdy 26-year-old who looks like a movie star and has muscles which run a quantity dead heat with his money. "Those pros gave me a bad time for a while but I'm in the groove now."

Dapper in a conservative blue suit, the weight lifting golfer explained that when he first hit the tournament trail the pros all helpfully gave him hints.

"But I kept changing my swing until I didn't know what I was doing," he laughed. "Then they told me that I practiced too much; that I left my game on the first tee. So I quit practicing. Suddenly, instead of finishing up there high where I had been, I started to lose my game."

Practicing Again

So Stranahan now has gone back to the practice grind, the endless hitting of shots which made mechanical masters of such stars as Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson.

That's why he feels he'll be better when the field tees off at Muirfield, Scotland, next Monday over the same course on which Walter Hagen won in 1929. The strong field includes American pros Claude Harmon, Lawson Little, Jimmy Thompson and Johnny Bulla, but Frank thinks he has a "good chance."

"I've been practicing hard with the little ball," he said, "and when I get over there I'll concentrate six or eight hours a day on my practice. My game should be even better for the open than when I won the amateur."

Has Fire In Eye

Stranahan under those conditions will be far from a long shot. He finished second last year to Fred Daly, missing a tie by only one stroke, and this time he's going there with fire in his eye.

A physical culture addict since he was 16, Frank is a fit 170 pounds, clean cut and clear eyed. He's quietly confident that he will duplicate Jones' 1930 'British slam"—and that chance meeting on a New York street corner may have provided the spark.

Redskins Creep Up Toward First Place

(By The Associated Press)

Midland's Indians were playing peek-a-boo with first place in the Longhorn league today.

The Redskins licked Sweetwater 3-1 yesterday and moved within a game of front-running Big Spring which took a 6-5 trouncing from Odessa.

A couple of double-headers were played in the league last night. Vernon swept its twin-bill with Del Rio 2-1 and 6-5. San Angelo and Ballinger split, San Angelo winning the first 15-3 and Ballinger taking the after-piece 4-2. The first game was a replay of a protested game and began in the top half of the fourth inning.

Cats Climb Up In Texas Loop

(By The Associated Press)

Rain cut the Texas league program in half last night but it rebounded to the benefit of the embattled Fort Worth Cats.

Leading Houston and second place Tulsa were idle and Fort Worth beat Beaumont 6-1 to advance within two games of Tulsa.

Dallas strapped Shreveport 8-5 to make the battle for fourth place very close. There is only one and one-half games difference between San Antonio and Dallas, with Shreveport in between, one game back of San Antonio.

Pitches Five-Hitter

Houston was to have played at Oklahoma City and San Antonio at Tulsa.

Dwain Sloat pitched a five-hitter in Fort Worth's win over Beaumont. The Cats bunched nine hits off Bob Revels.

Floyd Gobbell limited Shreveport to six hits then announced that he was quitting professional baseball. He said he was going to Greenville, S. C., to become athletic director at a big cotton mill.

There is no change in the schedule tonight with Houston at Oklahoma City, San Antonio at Tulsa, Shreveport at Dallas and Beaumont at Fort Worth.

Westerner Football Schedule Completed

Childress and Lubbock High school officials have signed a contract for a non-conference football game here Oct. 8, completing the Westerner grid slate for the 1948 season, Athletic Director C. R. Pattison announced Monday night.

Addition of Childress to the '48 slate gives the Westerners a full 10-game card, including at least six home tussles. Three of the tilts definitely will be played on enemy gridirons, but the site of the Lubbock-Brownfield game has not been determined.

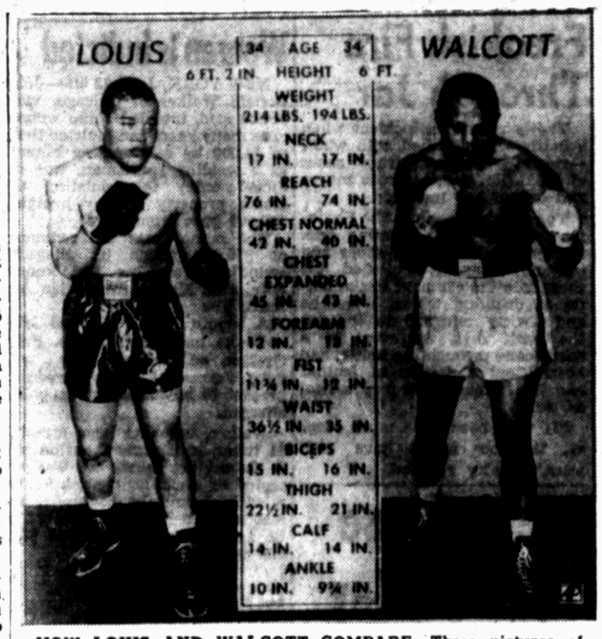

The full schedule:

Sept. 10—Odessa (here).
Sept. 17—San Angelo (here).
Sept. 24—North Side, Fort Worth (there).
Oct. 1—Austin (there).
Oct. 8—Childress (here).

Welterweight Fight Is Postponed Again

CHICAGO, June 22. (AP)—Champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson began another weight-reducing session today after his welterweight title bout with Bernard Docusen of New Orleans was postponed for a second time.

The fight, scheduled for Comiskey park last night, was reset for next Monday. Threatening rain and Robinson's failure to make the regulation 147 pound limit forced the delay. The match, originally was scheduled for last Thursday but rain forced postponement.

HOW LOUIS AND WALCOTT COMPARE—These pictures of Champion Joe Louis and Challenger Jersey Joe Walcott, made during their current training grinds, show how they will compare physically when they meet for the second time in Yankee Stadium. The weights are approximate. Both will weigh in officially at noon on the day of the fight. (AP Wirephoto.)

Louis Says He Will Get Walcott Quick

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—Confidence radiated from both camps today as Champion Joe Louis and Challenger Jersey Joe Walcott enjoyed a brief lull before their 15-round heavyweight title bout tomorrow night at Yankee stadium.

"I'll get him quick," was the cold prediction of the Brown Bomber, who announced this 25th defense of his crown will be his last ring outing.

Walcott Is Ready

"He's ready," was the tag handlers put on Walcott, the amazing come-backer who almost snatched the title last December.

Odds favoring the champion remained firm at 5 to 13.

The weatherman, meanwhile, gave the outdoor attraction a temporary blessing, promising a cloudy, humid day but no rain.

Ticket sales continued brisk but Promoter Mike Jacobs' hopes of a million dollar gate appeared certain to fall short. The Twentieth Century Sporting club is counting on a turnout of around 55,000, a gate of approximately $900,000.

Louis Has Black Eye

Louis put in his final training licks at Pompton Lakes, N. J., yesterday, turned up with a black eye and announced afterwards, "I think I'm 50 or 75 per cent better than I was for the last fight."

The discolored optic, not serious, was a parting gift of one of the champ's sparmates. The champion scaled 213 after his last drill but expects to hit between 214 and 215 when he weighs in Wednesday noon.

Jersey Joe finished tapering off Sunday. He will check in at around 195.

Two Action-Packed Games Set Tonight

Baldridge Bakery tangles with the Thomas Jewelers and Cloverlake Dairy clashes with the powerful Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers in two action-packed softball games at 8:30 tonight at Jumbo Webster park.

G. W Warden will probably start on the mound for the revamped Jewelers, now playing under a new manager, and big Loy Hubbard will handle the tossing chores for the Bakerymen. Hubbard has gained fame as a "hard luck" hurler this year, after a brilliant season in '47, but he remains one of the top pitchers in the South Plains circuit.

In the nightcap tilt of the twin bill veteran Cecil Hale is slated to oppose a new Sunbeamer hurler, Dub Kirkland. Hale has turned in some of the best mound jobs of the year, but little is known of Kirkland. If the newcomer shows any weakness, however, the Sunbeamers will have their ace, Jackie Neel, ready to take over the chunking duties.

The league standings:

Teams	W	L	Pct.
Bluebonnet	15	1	.937
Baldridge	8	7	.533
Cloverlake	6	8	.428
Thomas	6	9	.400
Golden Light	2	12	.143

Also in the upper bracket were Mrs. Zaharias, who meets Carol Diringer, Tiffin, Ohio, (84); Peggy Kirk, Findlay, Ohio, who carried a qualifying 79 against Betty Jameson of San Antonio (85), and another 79 shooter, Fort Worth's Polly Riley, pitted against Mrs. F. W. Zimmerman, Chicago, (85).

CHILD WIRE WALKER

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A neighbor happened to be watching one day as little Alice Schutz nimbly tiptoed along the top of her backyard fence and then scaled a nearby tree. The neighbor is a former circus performer and he was impressed by Alice's poise and sense of balance. The freckle-faced girl soon graduated under the neighbor's tutelage to tougher tricks.

Texan May Fight On Louis-Walcott Card

A chance to fight on the same card Wednesday night with Joe Louis and Joe Walcott may be in store for J. D. Kilpatrick of Petersburg and Cliffside Park, N. J., former regional Golden Gloves light heavyweight champion and now a professional boxer.

According to Bert Kahn, who is in New York to line up fighters for the Junior Chamber of Commerce fight card at Rosenthal Field on July 22, Kirkpatrick has been placed on an "emergency" fight status. If there are a lot of knockouts on the preliminary card, Kirkpatrick will be on as the preliminary to the main fight.

Kahn said that the promoters were tremendously impressed with Kirkpatrick and his ability and that they wanted the large crowd at the Louis-Walcott fight to see him in action. He would fight a six-rounder with an opponent as yet not named.

Nine Are Hurt In Car Crash

A 17-year-old Levelland girl, one of nine persons injured about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon when two automobiles collided at Smyer, 14 miles west of Lubbock, still had not regained consciousness at noon today in Phillips-Dupre hospital at Levelland.

The girl, Jo Ann Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Black of Levelland, was one of two occupants of a 1940 Chevrolet coach which was in collision with a 1948 Studebaker containing nine persons. The other occupant, Marjorie Jo Luck, 18, also of Levelland, was reported today by officials at the Levelland hospital to have suffered a broken collarbone. The two girls and one occupant of the other car were taken to the hospital.

Condition Not Serious

Three occupants of the second car in the collision were admitted to St. Mary's hospital, where none were reported in serious condition shortly before noon today.

Those hospitalibed at St. Mary's include Mrs. Plez McNurlen, 38, of Lubbock route 4, who suffered a fractured squll and a severe head cut, Beverly Jan Lawson, 8, who received a broken left leg, and Mrs. W. P. Mann, 28, of Richland Springs, who suffered laceration of the leg and possible internal injuries. The Lawson youngster's fracture was set at the hospital this morning, and reports on X-ray examinations of Mrs. Mann were not available.

Nine persons were in the 1948 Studebaker, which was driven by William Prentice Mann, 30, of Richland Springs. Highway officials indicated that the wreck occurred when the Levelland girls, traveling toward Levelland, did not have time to pull in after attempting to pass a truck, and collided with the Mann car, which was traveling in the opposite direction.

Others Are Treated

The other person admitted to the Levelland hospital is Mrs. Bessie Vardeman, 57, of Richland Springs, who suffered a compound fracture of the left leg and facial lacerations requiring several stitches.

Those treated but not hospitalized include Mrs. L. L. Lawson of Lubbock route 4, bruises; Luther Lawson, jr., 4, head cut; Mann, two teeth knocked out and cuts on the arm. Freddie McNurlen, 5, and Dewey Mann, 4, were not hurt.

U. S. Teachers Plan To Meet Elizabeth

LONDON, June 22 (AP)—More than 100 American school teachers gaily practiced the curtsy here today in preparation for a meeting with Queen Elizabeth later in the day.

The teachers have been in Britain for a school term, in exchange for British teachers engaged for a term in United States schools.

The group, giggling and presenting at times the appearance of a big awkward squad, held its practice in a large room overlooking Berkeley square.

Some got the curtsy right away, especially those who have been teaching the dramtic arts.

The meeting with the queen is the climax of social aspects of the teachers' stay in Britain.

Teachers on the list of those to be received included:

Miss Virginia Chaney, Orange, Tex.; Miss Catherine Smith, Wichita Falls, Tex.; Miss Essie Richardson, Orange, Tex.; Miss Lillian McElroy, Odessa, Texas, and Miss Willie Parr, San Angelo, Texas.

Women's Contests To Be Resumed At Fair

DALLAS, June 22 (U.P) — Mom can show off her tastiest jellies and fanciest embroidery when she comes to the 1948 state fair in Dallas next October.

The textile, culinary and antiques division will reappear after six years of war-induced inactivity, fair officials said today.

The new department will offer contests in embroidery, lace work, knitting and crocheting, quits, rugs, plain sewing, fancy handwork, layettes, elderly ladies work and antiques.

Culinary division competition will center around jellies, canned fruits and vegetables and pickles.

Meantime, the Texas Press association has chosen Oct. 9 as official press day at the fair. The action was taken at the association's annual meeting in San Antonio this week.

Nearly 2,000 Texas newspaper and radio representatives were guests of the fair on opening day last year.

OBERLIN, O., June 22 (AP)—The general council of the Congregational Christian churches today approved a basis of Union with the Evangelical and Reformed church to form a United Church of Christ with a combined membership of nearly 2,000,000.

With only 10 or 12 opposing votes, the 1,000 voting delegates to the council indorsed the merger enthusiastically.

By this action, the general council accepted the same basis of union which the Evangelical and Reformed churches' general senate approved at St. Louis last summer and later in 33 of 34 synods.

RAILS STAGE BULL MARKET

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP) — Railroad stocks staged a bull market of their own in today's trading.

While the rails raced ahead one to around five points, the rest of the market couldn't get anywhere in particular. Except for the carriers, closing prices showed a fairly even mixture of small gains and losses.

Volume expanded as buyers stepped up their flow of orders. Total for the day was around 1,500,000 shares.

Announcement late in the day that directors of Reading Co. had voted to double the 25-cent quarterly dividend paid since 1938 sent that company's stock up around 4 points in a last minute sprint.

Nickel Plate highballed in front of rail stocks with a 5-point gain at one time. Also in demand at higher prices were Reading, St. Paul, Santa Fe, Illinois Central, Northern Pacific, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, and Kansas City Southern.

Several of the offs that did so well yesterday maintained their momentum but at a slower pace. Richfield Oil, Panhandle Producing and Maracaibo all improved.

pear individually in a floor show revue, he said, for which date and time will be announced later.

Those interested in entering or those desiring to submit the name of a girl have been asked to do so promptly because of the fact that the state finals are to be held in Port Arthur on July 9. July 1 has been set as the deadline for entries.

Winners in the state finals will go to Atlantic City to compete in the original Miss America contest.

Winner of last year's Miss Lubbock crown was blond-haired Dorothy Rae Bivins, 18-year-old Texas Tech senior, who represented the city in the "Miss Texas" revue held in mid-June in Corpus Christi. Miss Bivins was expensively costumed by the Lubbock Jaycees and flown to the coastal city, accompanied by a chaperone, with all expenses paid. Similar plans are being drawn for this year's Miss Lubbock.

Fire Chief Twitty Recalls Similar Incident On Hunting Trip

Home Is Nearly Destroyed By Freakish Fire Started By Sun's Rays Shining Through Jar

Yesterday's first-day-of-summer produced a maximum temperature of only 96 degrees for most of us, but for Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Weed—well, it set fire to their residence at 2715 North Second and virtually destroyed it.

Ten degrees cooler than the June 15 record for the year, the temperature at the Weed place "built up" in a freakish manner. Firemen explained that rays of the sun shone through a gallon glass jug and set fire to a cardboard container. In the container was another gallon jug, in which was combustible paint-thinner.

Explosion Brings Fire

The paint-thinner exploded and fire was sucked by a draft of wind under the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Weed and his brother, Mrs J. T. Simmons, about 90, of Abilene, smelled smoke just before 3 p. m. Weed ran out, thinking his poultry house was afire. He looked back "and it looked like the whole house was afire underneath."

The four rooms and bath all were damaged badly, firemen said.

Such fires are not new to firemen, Chief W. E. Twitty said. Such a one happened three or four years ago at a lumber yard here. The bottle that set off the blaze concentrated the rays of the sun, as youngsters use magnifying glasses or watch crystals to start a fire or, in a playful moment, to single the hide of a playmate.

Twitty recalls an incident when a bottle—it was filled with water—ruined a pair of "dress" shoes of W. H. Rodgers, Lubbock mayor and former city manager.

The two had gone to the Southland section on a hunting trip. Rodgers pulled off his shoes and put on boots. He pitched the shoes into the car next to the bottle of drinking water. When he and Twitty returned to the car the sun's rays, narrowed to a sharp cone through the bottle, had burned out a section of leather and had almost destroyed a heel as well.

"If we'd been gone much longer, the car would have been afire," Twitty recalled.

Roy Wicker, jr., and L. W. Sailsbury, who have volunteered the service as a contribution to the campaign, tentatively set another attempt for Thursday morning.

Harvey said his wife suffered from rheumatic fever at the age of 11 and was bedridden with arthritis from 14 to 17. Recently she underwent a serious operation after the birth of their youngest child last September.

The children are Billie Patricia, 8; William, 7; Edith, 6; Virginia, 5; Diana, 4; Charles, 3 and Thomas, nine months.

to conceal their grave concern at the turn of events. Many regarded it as the long-expected showdown between the extremist Irgun, long an underground group during the British mandate, and the army.

Irgun Agreement Recalled

The government's statement recalled that only recently Irgun had agreed to disband as a separate military organization and become part of the regular army, and added:

"The provisional government and the army are not going to allow any attacks from inside, after the great effort of Jewish people against hostile forces from outside to build up their independence."

There are some indications here that clashes continued during the night. Roadblocks thrown up by soldiers stopped all civilian traffice in central Israel. There were extra guards on duty in Tel Aviv and carloads of infantry could be seen moving through the streets.

Robber Keeps His Victim Guessing

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP) — Joseph Veltri, 32, a cabdriver, reported to police today that a robber kept him guessing. After the gunman hired Veltri's cab, he:

1. Told Veltri "I'm going to kill you."

2. Took him to a restaurant for breakfast;

3. Offered to pay for Veltri's breakfast, and

4. Held up the restaurant cashier.

At that point, Veltri ran away. "That guy was unpredictable," he said.

hard-hitting attack on President Truman and the Democrats. Wherry is getting mention as a possible vice presidential nominee.

Many of the delegates who straggled into this big hall for the second day's sessions had been up half the night or more in who-will-itbe conferences.

Lines Draw Tighter

But from all reports, these meetings had served only to draw the lines tighter in the Dewey-Taft-Stassen struggle for the nomination.

The "favorite son" candidates, whose votes have got to be shaken loose to produce a winner, were sitting tight. They gave every indication they intended to play cagey and make no moves until there have been a couple of ballots on the nomination.

The heat was on for the big and little blocks of third ballot votes that might make or break Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Senator Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen.

Pull Into Shells

With this blitz whistling around them, the men who front for the hefty Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Illinois delegations pulled further back into their shells.

By unspoken consent they seemed to be agreed that — with the probable exception of an Illinois turn for Taft—there will be no big break for any of the top runners until a third roll call is reached sometime Thursday.

This development pleased Michigan delegates seeking to get Senator Arthur Vandenberg's candidacy off the ground.

It fit the plans of Gov. Earl Warren to keep California's 53 votes tucked in his pocket.

But it made painful going for Dewey and Taft—expected pace setters on the first ballot—in their row desperate efforts to line up the strength needed to hit the magical 548-vote nominating total.

In the day's speech-making, the delegates heard Senator Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska assert the German recovery is the key to stopping Communism.

As did Illinois' Gov. Dwight Green and Clare Boothe Luce before him, Wherry assailed the international agreements made by Franklin D. Roosevelt and President Truman.

Stand As Roadblocks

The Nebraska senator said in a prepared manuscript that these "short-sighted agreements" today "stand as roadblocks in the path we now have determined as the true course to world peace."

Rep. Frances P. Bolton of Ohio covered less ground in an address prepared for today's session. She appealed to women voters to use their power to help elect a Republican President.

Another speaker today was Senator Raymond Baldwin, Connecticut's favorite son, who pleaded with the delegates to take a strong stand against special privilege.

"This is our moral opportunity to open doors that are shut because of creed or race or color, to wipe out the last vestige of under privilege and the last vestige of special privilege," Baldwin declared in his advance text.

Would Support Taft

There seemed to be little doubt that if Stassen can't make the hill for the presidential nomination, he would throw support to Taft rather than Dewey if the choice lay only between the two.

The Taft-Stassen combine proposal was brought out into the open by Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

In a bluntly worded statement, the publisher said he is for Taft and has no second choice. He said Vandenberg "can't even carry Michigan." He predicted Dewey can't win more than the 12 states the New Yorker carried in his unsuccessful 1944 presidential campaign.

Of Stassen as a possible vice presidential nominee, McCormick said:

Strong With Young People

"Stassen is strong with the young people but mature people think he lacks maturity. In 1900, McKinley was nominated for his prestige and Theodore Roosevelt for his personal popularity. Therefore, it seems reasonable to nominate Taft and Stassen for the same reasons."

Stassen called it "a friendly statement." He said he is in the presidential race to stay. But he didn't slam the door on the second place suggestion.

Taft volunteered that he would be glad to "accept any vice presidential candidate the convention nominates."

Greeks Stage Squeeze Play

ATHENS, June 22 (AP)—A Greek army squeeze aimed at corking up 7,000 Communist guerrillas in a rocky pocket along the Albanian border appeared to be underway today.

Dispatches from the front said two army columns are moving toward an apparent juncture not far from the frontier, one from the Nestorion sector, the other from the region of Konitsa. Such a juncture would seal off the rebel escape route into Albania.

Advance 10 Miles

Frontline reports showed the Ninth division has advanced more than 10 miles in a northeasterly direction from Konitsa. Units of the First and Fifteenth divisions were reported six miles west of Nestorion. This would place the columns 10 miles apart.

Both were said to be meeting increasingly stiff resistance as the newest offensive, aimed at smashing the Communist revolution, entered its third day. The army threw approximately 70,000 men, backed by artillery and planes, into the operation at the jumpoff Sunday night.

The cry for rain was raised by farmers in East and Central Texas, where corn, tomatoes, and other green produce was reported endangered by drouth. No large-scale relief was forecast by the weather bureau, however.

Temperature of 98 to 100 degrees was forecast for today in Lubbock.

Winds velocity reached a maximum of 28 miles per hour this morning and averaged near 25 miles per hour for a several hour period, dropping to 16 m. p. h. at 9:30 a. m.

Monday's maximum temperature was 97 degrees. Strong hot winds carrying dust swept over the South Plains. Light showers were reported at Crosbyton and Lamesa. Lubbock received brief sprinkles.

Measurable rainfall was received in some areas on the South Plains. The Santa Fe received reports of two inches at Girvin and 1½ inches at McCamey in the 24 hours before 6 a. m. today.

Man Who Swindled Women Is Indicted

NEW YORK, June 22 (U.P)—John Donald Walker of Chicago, who, police said, married three women in as many years and mulcted them of $4,000 by representing himself as a wealthy sportsman, was indicted today for violating the stolen property act by bringing $49,500 here from Texas.

The money was the remnants of $55,000 which he allegedly swindled from his last known wife, Mrs. Mary Ashe of San Antonio, Tex.

A month before he wed Mrs. Ashe he had married Mrs. Sally Gresham of Louisville, Ky., who gave Walker $18,000 as a wedding present to buy race horses, police charged.

Walker, who has been arrested 11 times, is at present out on bail in Louisville, where he was arrested on a similar charge. Federal officials said the ex-convict had also married Mrs. Clara Duerr, of St. Louis, Mo., and obtained $21,000 from her.

GOP Platform

of Israel, "subject to the letter and spirit of the United Nations charter . . . with its boundaries as sanctioned by the United Nations."

Foreign Plank Debated

During yesterday's nine-hour debate in the Resolutions committee, a handful of delegates led by Senator C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois failed in repeated tries to make major changes in the foreign plank.

Lodge called reporters' attention to the national defense plank and said it is a strong and clear commitment for building up this country's armed forces.

The plank says "we propose" maintaining the army, navy and air force "to a degree which will insure our national security." Also: The achievement of "effective unity" in the department of national defense; "sustained effective action" to get "sufficient" manpower for the services, "recognizing the American principle that every citizen has an obligation of service to his country."

Draft Bill Not Mentioned

There was no mention, by name, of either the draft bill passed by Congress just before it adjourned last Sunday morning, or of universal military training, which Mr. Truman asked in vain.

On civil rights, the platform is not far different from President Truman's program which caused such an outcry from southern Democrats.

The Republicans called for prompt legislation to outlaw lynching and to abolish the poll tax. They opposed the idea of racial segregation in the armed forces.

The term "Fair Employment Practice commission" was knocked out of a preliminary draft, but the finished version favors enactment of "such federal legislation as may be necessary" to maintain the right of every individual "to work and advance in life," regardless of race or religion.

Housing Creates Battle

On another controversial domestic subject there was a battle in committee over public housing—and the public housing advocates won.

The plank finally written recommends "federal aid to the states for local slum clearance and low-rental housing programs," but only where there's a need that can't be met by private enterprise, states, or cities.

The plank is similar to the public housing provision in the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, which Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio drove to passage in the Senate but which met repeated rebuffs in the House.

Here in brief is what the platform says about:

Communism Dealt With

Communists—it pledges enactment of "such new legislation as may be necessary to expose the treasonable activities of Communists and defeat their objective of establishing here a Godless dictatorship controlled from abroad." There was no mention of the House-passed Mundt-Nixon bill which died in a Senate pigeonhole after stirring widespread controversy. Gov Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen engaged in a public radio debate on the issue.

Elections—It favors a change in the method of electing presidents in order to "more exactly reflect the popular vote."

Tidelands—It favors "restoration to the states of their historic rights to the tide and submerged land, tributory waters, lakes, and streams."

Farm Price Policy Stated

Farm—"Farm prices should be supported on a just basis," and farm co-operatives should continue to be encouraged.

Labor—It pledges "continuing study to improve labor-management legislation in the light of experience and changing conditions."

Inflation—It charges that the Democrats by their policies have "deliberately encouraged higher prices," and promises to combat inflation by cutting government waste, stimulating production, trimming the public debt, and maintaining a sound currency.

More people suffered attacks of infantile paralysis in 1946 than in any single year since 1916.

Burglars

the victim had said his assailant wore. Officials sought the other man.

No charges had been filed, but several negroes had been questioned, in connection with a Sunday night burglary and a subsequent recovery of valuable papers reported taken. Four of the six who had been questioned were juveniles, officials said.

A metal box containing two $25 war bonds, property deeds, insurance and other papers was found to be missing late Monday from the W. M. Sedberry cafe at 310 Seventeenth, police said. Earlier it had been reported that only a screen was torn and a pay phone damaged.

Papers Found

A 9-year-old negro boy had been suspected in the case. After several hours questioning, he alternately said that he entered the building alone and that other boys accompanied him. He told where the box could be found.

All the papers except the war bonds were recovered at the residence of a negro man and woman, who had been released after investigation. Three other juvenile negro boys were also questioned.

It was not known whether any of them were connected with the burglary of the cafe last Wednesday night when $7 in cash was taken.

According to records at the district attorney's office, Sam Davis, 32, negro, had been charged with criminal assault Saturday of a 32-year-old negro woman. The accused allegedly had threatened to kill her if she 'told.' Captain of Detectives Pat Davidson signed the complaint.

Motor Scooter Stolen

Theft of a $250 motor scooter, license YJ 1890, from Donnie McEntire of 1921 Fifteenth was reported to police.

Police said a negro had attempted suicide in 1700-block Ave. C, by drinking copper sulphate. An ambulance took him to a hospital, which released him after treatment, with orders to return today for further examination. Police quoted physicians as saying the black probably suffered from amnesia when he allegedly drank the solution, and officials said they had been informed he had been given a "section 8" discharge from the Army.

Midland Youth Held

A 19-year-old Midland man was held for federal officials for investigation into his alleged desertion of the Army. He had been living at a tourist camp here, it was said.

A 19-year-old youth who subsequently was charged with drunkenness was treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital for a cut on the arm, police said.

Officials were checking a license number of a man who lives on Twenty-seventh in connection with a charge that he fought with a woman in 2200-block Broadway about 9:20 p. m. Monday. Witnesses said he pushed her out of his car, then pulled her back in and drove away.

Security Pact Is Considered

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 22 (U.P) — Some United Nations diplomats are considering the idea of an "atomic security pact" among the western countries as a possible next step in the dispute over world control of atomic energy, it was reported today.

American officials said they had not formulated any such plan, but the United States was known to be considering some new approach to the east-west atomic stalemate for use when the UN General assembly convenes in September.

Some UN sources were certain that the thinking of American officials revolve around the concept of a loose treaty binding these nations which accept the principles of the American plan for atomic control.

Council Takes Up Problem

The UN Security council, with Russia threatening to invoke its 26th veto, convened in the afternoon to act on the first step in the U. S. plan for shuttling the atomic problem to the 58-nation assembly.

The plan was to force a formal Soviet veto of the American plan, formulated during two years of work by the UN Atomic Energy commission. Such a veto, in the eyes of the American delegation, would constitute a hard-and-fast symbol of Russia's opposition to the majority when the issue comes up at the assembly session.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

Coatless, Tieless Movement Is Being Pushed Again In Texas

BY WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

This summer, as usual, movements have formed over Texas to persuade men to go without coats and ties.

The argument is that summer heat in the Lone Star state makes such apparel ridiculous. This argument goes fine until it bumps into the professional groups—doctors, lawyers and such. They stolidly refuse to sacrifice appearances for comfort.

Sport Shirts Gain

Sportshirts do seem to be gaining favor for everyday wear and perhaps this trend has been stimulated by the little organizations that preach informal dress.

Usually such movements are fostered by newspapers and generally you will find a columnist or editorial writer sparking the whole thing.

Down in Corpus Christi, Bob McCracken, managing editor and columnist for the Caller-Times, has been crusading against coats and ties for at least a decade. For a time, his cogaworkers felt McCracken was merely trying to justify the gaudy sportshirts he wore, but as the years went on they finally realized he was serious. Bob now has quite a following, men with bronzed necks and arms, who write him lots of letters.

Others Push Plan

Pioneer exponent of the sportshirt in North Texas is Walter Humphrey, once of the Temple Telegram and now editor of the Fort Worth Press. Humphrey is a big man with plenty of poundage who really feels the heat.

A comparative newcomer in the field is Albert Nibling, managing editor of the Sherman Democrat and president of the Keep Cool club, an organization now in its second year. Nibling should get lots of credit for not spelling it: "Keep Kool club."

Anyway the club was quite a success last year and the otner day the mayor of Sherman needled Nibling into starting it again this year. Albert had 2,000 membership cards printed and spread his propaganda on the front pages of the Democrat.

Cards Are Passed Out

As a result, he disposed of several hundred cards. The cards stipulate several membership divisions: Class A—No coat, no tie. Class B—No coat. Class C—Carry the coat."

A verse on the card says: "Shuck your coat, shed your tie; "look at the girls—they don't fry."

When we interviewed Albert he was perspiring in spite of the fact that he wore a sportshirt.

"Our keep cool plan stimulates thinking," he said, "you can't concentrate if you're hot under the collar. And doffing your coat releases certain inhibitions. It's like a runner wearing trunks. You wouldn't set any track records in a full dress suit. And your hands can do something useful if they aren't engaged in mopping your brow."

He mopped his brow.

James T. Anderton, secretary-manager of the Retail Merchants association at Sherman thinks Albert's club should have a new membership classification. Class AA—No shirt.

Tass Tells Russians About GOP Meeting

MOSCOW, June 22 (AP) — A Tass news agency dispatch informed Russian readers today that secret deals by political bosses will decide the winner of the Republican presidential nomination.

The Soviet news agency, in a brief story on the opening of the GOP convention in Philadelphia, said there will be tough trading during which agreements will be concluded on "the distribution of government, diplomatic and other high official posts."

The dispatch made no reference to convention statements on Communism.

Mississippi Demos Choosing Delegates

JACKSON, Miss., June 22 (AP)—Democrats of Mississippi, birthplace of the states' rights movement, assembled here today to choose delegates for the national convention.

The 30 delegates and 30 alternates will cast the state's 22 votes at the convention which opens in Philadelphia on July 12.

The site of their selection was the city auditorium, meeting place of the Dixie conference of states' rights supporters on May 10. At that time, southern Democrats recommended that the Philadelphia delegates withdraw to confer in Birmingham, Ala., if the national party failed to repudiate President Truman and his civil rights program.

Gov. Fielding L. Wright, who launched the states' rights movement in his inaugural address here last January, was expected to address the state convention.

Opposition to the civil rights program was expressed at preconvention caucuses held last week in each of Mississippi's seven congressional districts.

Prior to today's meeting, Chairman Herbert Holmes of the state Democratic executive committee predicted that the delegates selected here would be in full accord with the recommendations of the May 10 meeting.

Dallas Cooperating To Conserve Water

DALLAS, June 22 (AP)—Water Supt. Karl F. Hoefle asked residents here to help conserve water. They did. By voluntary rationing they cut consumption 2,800,000 gallons the first day.

Dallas is not suffering from a water shortage but the city lacks mains large enough to supply outlying areas and sufficient elevated storage to keep up water pressure.

Take Tip From The FBI: J. Edgar Hoover Tells Vacationers How To Cut Summer Burglary Risks

By J. EDGAR HOOVER
Director of the FBI
(Written for AP Newsfeatures)

Last year, 373,450 burglaries occurred in the United States, 39.8 per cent of them involving residences. In other words, more than 148,000 American homes were burglarized. This is a rate considerably above 12,000 a month.

Every vacationer might well ask himself "Is my home one of the 12,000 that will be burglarized while I am away?"

The variations in structure, layout and location of individual homes make it impossible for anyone to lay down ironclad procedures that will guarantee the safety of any untenanted residence. Yet there are certain precautions which might minimize the risk that everyone takes when he laves his home deserted during vacation time.

Keep It A Secret

1. Don't let casual, unknown callers at your door or unidentified loiterers in the neighborhood know that you plan to go away.

2. Do not give anyone the impression that you keep in your home such valuables as money or jewelry or other properties that could be converted easily to the use of a thief. Such information as this can quite innocently leak through neighbors or tradespeople and become a strong temptation to someone who otherwise might never think of burglarizing your home.

3. Be sure that all door delivery services (such as milk and newspapers) are stopped in advance of your departure so that there will not be an accumulation of material at your front door to advertise your absence.

Forward Your Mail

4. Make arrangements to have your mail forwarded or held to avoid an accumulation noticeable to passersby.

5. Make arrangements with a neighbor to remove daily all circulars of announcements that may be left at your front door.

6. Be sure that a near-by neighbor (who will not be away at the same time you are)knows exactly when you leave and when you expect to return so that he can report to police any activity he sees around your place during your absence.

7. Let your neighbor know exactly where you are and how you can be reached so that if there is a burglarly the police can contact you if they need information to assist them in their investigation.

Lock Up The House

8. Be sure that all doors, windows, and screens are securely fastened (with special locks if necessary). A recent police survey in a large city revealed that over 100 doors to business establishments were left unlocked at

More Than 2,000 Persons At Masonic Ceremonies In City

An estimated 2,000 to 3,000 persons Monday afternoon saw Most Worshipful Horace K. Jackson, of Gatesville, grand master of The Grand Lodge of Texas, assisted by his officers, level the cornerstone of a $225,000 Masonic Temple under construction at Main and Ave. K.

More than 400 Masons crowded into the taxed space of the Masonic hall atop Citizens National bank an hour earlier to witness the grand master's opening of a representation of the grand lodge.

Barbecue Is Served

They marched in ritualistic order from the lodge to the scene of the cornerstone ceremony.

At 6 p.m. a barbecue was served in Mackenzie State park. Five hundred forty-four Master Masons registered—and numerous others there had registered earlier at the Masonic hall. Three hundred twenty-eight of those registered were from 72 Texas lodges. Sixteen persons attended from eight states outside Texas. There were 15 masters of Masonic lodges, 13 senior wardens, 10 junior wardens, and 17 past masters of lodges.

An even larger crowd would have attended the cornerstone laying except for three factors, police who patroled the area and the line of march estimated. The arrival at the Temple site was delayed a full hour because of the difficulty of handling the crowd in the lodge hall; it was exceptionally hot; and a sandstorm blew up about the time of the service.

High Officials Attend

At the service were others high in Masonic bodies of the state: Hugh H. Craig, of Fort Worth, deputy grand master; O. L. Cheaney, of Santa Anna, grand junior steward; Paul Turney, of Sonora, member of the committee on work of The Grand Lodge of Texas. From the Grand Commandery were W. L. Brown, of Amarillo, grand warder; Harry B. Tuer, of Dallas, grand recorder; and H. B. Bryan, of Lubbock, eminent grand senior warden. From the Grand Chapter were: Curtis B Hay, of Dallas, grand high priest; Frank Oldham, of Waco, grand secretary; Clarence A. Young, of Abbott, grand treasurer; and Hugh J. McClellan, of Lubbock, grand captain of the host.

Other notables included: Chauncey A. Egbert, of Dallas, secretary of the Dallas consistory; Fred H. Galle, of Amarillo, recorder of Khiva Temple; John McCarty, of Amarillo, past potentate of Khiva Temple; E. O. Feierabend, of Amarillo, secretary of Engineering Tests Scheduled At Tech

Pre-Engineering inventories for prospective freshman engineering students will be given to all high school graduates who desire them at Texas Technological college July 12, O. V. Adams, Dean of Engineering at the college has announced.

The inventory type tests are for high school graduates who plan to study engineering in any college, and results of the tests will be sent to any college in the United States that the student wishes to attend. Those who take the test and enter the engineering department at Tech will not be required to take the engineering entrance exams.

The tests are sponsored by the American Society for engineers, Carnegie Foundation for Advancement of Teaching, and the Engineering Council for Professional Development. They are designed to give the college faculty a knowledge of what the student knows, and what remains to be taught him. A $5 fee is charged for the examination.

Teamster Head Denies Aid To Either Party

INDIANAPOLIS, June 22 (AP)—The way was open today for both major political parties to seek votes of more than one million members of the AFL International Teamsters union.

Daniel J. Tobin, president of the union, said in press conference yesterday his teamsters may be forced to scratch their ballots to find desirable candidates next November.

"The workers have lost faith in the leaders of both parties," said the chief of the nation's largest labor union.

Will Not Aid Wallace

Tobin made it clear, however, that he would not support Henry A. Wallace's third party.

"He (Wallace) was a strong labor man when he was in the Roosevelt cabinet, but he's all wet now," Tobin said.

Tobin said neither he nor his union will give their support until candidates are nominated and platforms adopted. He said the union's executive board ordered that no endorsements be given until then.

Tobin said he has not "walked out" of the Democratic party, despite his refusal to attend the national convention as a delegate-at-large from Indiana. He said he merely is "too busy."

Tobin had been an Indiana delegate to Democratic national conventions since Franklin D. Roosevelt was first nominated. He was chairman of the labor division of the national committee during Roosevelt's last three campaigns.

The teamster president denied he has endorsed or opposed any major party candidate.

"I love Eisenhower, but that doesn't mean I'd endorse him," Tobin told reporters at a press conference. "It's untrue that I'm for Eisenhower or Dewey or opposed to any Democratic candidate."

Appeal For Prizes Made By Committee

With the first annual Avalanche-Journal-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby approaching, members of the Derby committee issued an appeal Monday for "heat prizes" for youngsters in the big race.

Approximately 60 heats will be run in the race before the final winner is announced and the committee hopes to be able to award each youngster who wins a heat some sort of prize. Four cars will be run down the East Broadway hill in each heat.

Merchants, business firms and individuals who wish to contribute one of these prizes may do so by calling Derby Director Roy Finley at Kuykendall Chevrolet company or Wayne Henly at the Avalanche-Journal.

Hotel Men Gather To Talk Problems

Five local and state hotel men, including three officials of the Texas Hotel association, held an annual district meeting here Monday at Hotel Lubbock to discuss problems of their particular industry and to review programs being sponsored by the state organization.

The meeting was headed by Tom Powell, president of the state association, secretar yof the American Hotel association and manager of Hotel Plaza, San Antonio.

Top Officials On Hand

Other state officials attending the session were Lee Hubby, vice president of the state group, at present manager of Alamo Hotel, Austin, and former manager of Hotel Lubbock, and Scott Hardy, executive vice-president and general manager of the state association. Ford Montgomery, manager of Hotel Lubbock, and Art Griffith, manager of Hotel Hilton took part in the meeting.

Hardy explained that the state organization was sponsoring an accident reduction contest scheduled to start July 1 in which the various hotels of the state will compete for awards in four designated groups. Prizes will be awarded to hotels showing the smallest number of lost time accidents during the year.

New Building Stalled

An industry-wide educational program, the feature of which will be a short course at Houston university in July, was explained and the value of hotel public relations reviewed.

Hardy pointed out that construction of new hotels was at a standstill because of prohibitive construction costs, and as a result the hotels were renovating and modernizing rather than planning new construction. Two of the few new hotels constructed since the war are in Texas, he said.

"Texas hotel business has been holding up better than in other parts of the nation," Hardy said, "partly because of the steadily growing population of the state, but in the north and east hotels are feeling a 'recession' in business. We hope our business will continue good and expect it to hold above the national average, however we are planning programs to step up employe efficiency and encourage more courtesy toward our patrons in an effort to better our service and keep our hotels prospering."

Counterfeiters Said Active With Bills

DALLAS, June 22 (AP)—Forrest V. Sorrels, chief of the secret service here, suggests you take a close look at your $5 bills—if you have any.

He said a gang of counterfeiters passed spurious $5 bills throughout North Texas last week.

$30,000 Fine Is Not Acceptable

LOS ANGELES, June 22. (AP)—Police received a $30,000 traffic fine today, but don't intend to keep it.

The money came from Harold D. Simpson, stationed in Shanghai, where the currency situation is somewhat inflated. Warrant officer Pete Zook said Simpson's letter read, in part:

"Regarding a warrant just received in forwarded mail regarding your desire of having me appear in court . . .

"Due to the uncertainty of my return to the U. S. A., I am enclosing 30,000 local dollars. You see, it is unlawful to send U. S. money from China."

Zook said it is unlawful to accept Chinese money here, so back it will go.

Tech Feeding Results Given

First reports on the eight yearling Hereford grade steers being used in the second year's feeding test of irrigated alfalfa and mixed grass pastures at Texas Technological college show that the steers have gained an average of 1.38 lbs. per head per day since the project was begun May 1.

The eight steers were divided into two lots of four each at the beginning of the project for experimental purposes, Dean W. L. Stangel, head of the Agriculture department said. Lot number one was placed on straight alfalfa pasture May 1, where they remained until May 29, when they were removed to a pasture of alfalfa and perennial rye grass. Lot number two was first put on alfalfa, brome grass, and perennial rye grass until May 29, when they were moved to alfalfa and brome grass. For this, the first period, lot one gained 21.25 pounds per head, while lot two gained only 5.25 pounds per head.

Better Results Noted

During the second period, May 29 to June 19, gains were much heavier. The steers in lot one gained 64.25 pounds, and those in lot two put on 46 pounds in the 19 day period. The average gain per steer per day during the second period was 3.6 and 2.19 pounds for lots one and two respectively. Stangel said the difference in gains of the two lots is explained by the fact that the

Presidential Candidates Have Plenty Of Things To Worry About As Race Goes On

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 — How would you like to worry about some of the things that fret the candidates who want to occupy the White House?

Like:

Taking your missus to a reception, like Tom Dewey did, and having to handle 6,000 hands in a single evening.

Other Problems

Thinking about doing the same thing the next night.

Seeing if you can outdo the next one in getting the fattest and smartest orchestra leader to entertain the folks at your elaborate headquarters, which'll cost you around $1,000 a day. Not including the fat man and his drummer, fiddler and guitar player.

Harold Stassen of Minnesota seems to have won that derby, if nothing else, this time with a 300 pounder named Bernie Berle. The man from the gopher state might even get a few nods on the slogan of his baton guy: "Whirl and twirl with Bernie Berle." How can H. S. miss?

Also, if you want to make $75,000 a year, which any President gets, you've got to think about badges. Little dinky things don't do. Dewey's people came out a six-inch across job. Saying not much more than just "Dewey."

College Yell

Well, those Taft people outdid him with a bobby pin that ran up to eight inches from enameled edge to enameled edge.

That gave the Ohio folks room enough for a little reading matter to think about on the way home—"America deserves the best."

The Stassen crowd came up this year with something that might give an old-timer the shimmers if he wasn't up to new-fangled stuff. Dinner guests at the Bellevue-Stratford, the GOP headquarters, dumped over their tomato juice, I suspect, when up blared a college cheering section with: "Stassety-Stass, Stassety-Stass, You eat the grass, we'll win with our Stass."

To his credit, Mr. Stassen wasn't on hand. And later, also to his credit, he had no comment.

Safe Water

Art Vandenberg of Michigan's boys thought up a good one. They passed out buttons, which seem to be more common than brotherly love in Philadelphia right now, that were white on red. Down there, where everybody could see, it said, 'the bell tolled two." You were supposed to chuck the delegate or Vandy fan under the chin and say, "what does that mean?" Almost everybody did — which was the idea. It means, the badger would say, "in ship signaling language—safe water."

Some said, "Oh, yeah," and walked away and others said, "That's what I told you," and also took a walk.

So you see. You've gotta be 35. A citizen of the U. S. for 14 years and native-born as well. Have a friend with a million. And a lot of other things. Harry Truman says it's worth the bother. Maybe it is.

Mrs. Smith Is Maine Victor

PORTLAND, Me., June 22 (AP)—Attractive Rep. Margaret C. Smith won a thumping victory over three men for the Republican U. S. Senate nomination yesterday.

GOP endorsement in the Maine primaries is almost equal to election.

Gets Big Majority

Only one woman—Mrs. Hattie Caraway, Arkansas Democrat—ever was elected to the Senate. She first was appointed to succeed her late husband.

Mrs. Smith, 49, polled more votes than all three of her opponents—Gov. Horace Hildreth, former Gov. Sumner Sewall and Albion P. Beverage.

Practically complete returns, unofficially tabulated, gave Mrs. Smith 63,629 votes, Hildreth 31,003, Sewall 21,788 and Beverage 6,557.

Only a few small and isolated precincts were outstanding.

Now In Fifth Term

Beverage, a political freshman, opposed the draft, universal military training, the Marshall plan and progressive tariff reduction—all of which Mrs. Smith voted for or favored.

The Democratic nominee is Dr. Adrian H. Scolten, Portland skin specialist. He was unopposed yesterday.

Frederick G. Payne, 47, a World War Two veteran and former state finance commissioner, win a five-man race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Louis B. Lausier, Mayor of Biddeford eight terms, will oppose Payne in September. Lausier beat former state Senator Leland B. Currier in the only major Democratic contest.

Rep. Robert Hale had little trouble getting renominated to a fourth term. He defeated three GOP opponents in the first district. Rep. Frank Fellows (R) of the third district was unopposed for a fifth term.

Likely successor to Mrs. Smith in the second district is Augusta's Mayor Charles P. Nelson, 40, whose father, John E., served in Congress 10 years. He topped a field of four Republicans.

U.S. Behavior Hit By Soviets

BERLIN, June 22 (AP)—Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky filed a formal complaint today against what he called the "coarse" behavior of Col. Frank L. Howley, U. S. commandant in Berlin, at the last meeting of the four-power Kommandatura.

In a letter to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American commander in Germany, Sokolovsky, the Russian commander, declared Howley "refused in a coarse and insulting manner to discuss proposals for improving the material and legal situation of the workers of industry in Berlin."

Reported By Soviets

The protest was reported by the Soviet-licensed news agency.

Howley left the meeting Wednesday night after a 13-hour sitting leaving his deputy to represent him. The Russian representatives immediately stormed out, crying insult and shouting "there won't be any next meting." The Kommandatura is the administrative agency for the city of Berlin, and was the last functioning four-power agency in Germany.

Marshal Sokolovsky said Howley's action was "contrary to the elementary rules of decency and working procedure for four-power organs."

The French chairman of the meeting, General Geneval, said at the time Col. Howley had acted properly and that the Rusians had acted illegally and rudely.

DALLAS, June 22 (AP)—A Houston construction company employe died of a broken neck here yesterday after falling 25 feet from a scaffold.

Ben Edward Heath was prepairing an oil tank at the Texas Refinery here when he fell.

Houston Meat Probe To End

HOUSTON, June 22 (U.P.) — Houston geared itself today for a quick climax in the grand jury investigation of alleged horse meat sales, as two key figures in the jury proceedings hinted indictments would be handed out before the week-end.

District Attorney A. C. Winborn and jury foreman Gus Dittmar said yesterday the last of called witnesses would appear today, and that the jury would likely take definite steps by Friday.

Inspection Avoided

The investigation started two weeks ago with a charge that horse meat had been dispensed in school cafeterias and in other public eating places after it detoured, or passed in disguise, through city inspection channels. The meat, so the grand jury was informed, was sold as beef.

Then, last week, the horse meat scandal was coupled with a charge that diseased cattle had also found their way to Houston markets. J. F. Lakey, head of the state department of food and drugs, said he had heard a "a rumor" that animals not sold on the Fort Worth market had been shipped to Houston outlets and disposed of.

Believed Only Rumor

The rumor was corrobrated when Fort Worth shippers described the animals as "lumpy-jawed and cancer-eyed," and when 45 of a shipment of 47 cattle failed to pass inspection here the following day.

Lakey, before a grand jury appearance yesterday, said he thought the rumor about the diseased animals was more than just "a rumor."

"Though my investigation is not yet complete, I feel sure that the information was correct. Fort Worth has much more federal meat inspection than we have here," he said.

Expedition Group Enroute To New Mexico

New Search For Fossils Set For San Juan Basin Deposit

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, June 22—An expedition is en route to New Mexico in a new search for the fossils of prehistoric animals that lived 60 to 200 million years ago.

Heading the scientific group is Dr. George Gaylord Simpson, Curator and Chairman of the Department of Geology and Paleontology of the American Museum of Natural History. Two field specialists have been in New Mexico since April, making further excavations and collecting at Ghost ranch, where a 60,000,000-year-old menisotherium and the fossils of numerous early dinosaurs were unearthed.

Deposit May Yield New Species

Dr. Simpson before leaving on the new expedition said that the huge deposit in the San Juan basin near Lindrith, N. M., may yield even more rare and perhaps previously unknown prehistoric species.

Previously, Dr. Simpson described the basin deposit as "the richest single deposit of early mammal bones ever found in the southwest and perhaps the richest of this age in the world."

He said that main emphasis of this summer's work would be collecting comprehensive data on the life of the significant Eocene age.

During last summer, about 50 diferent kinds of prehistoric animals were discovered. They included extinct species of snails, fishes, lizards, snakes, turtles, alligators and many of the earliest mammals among whom was the ancestral diminutive four-toed horse called eohippue, tiny hedgehog-like insect eaters.

Lemur Fossils May Be Found

The scientists may also turn up more fossils of the small lemurs. These have been described by Dr. Simpson as "relatives and forerunners of monkeys and perhaps of man himself."

Should it be proved that the lemur is a forerunner of man, then one of the "missing links" in the evolution of the human race may be identified.

Congressman Lands Craft Despite Wind

CLEBURNE, June 22 (AP)—High wind didn't keep Congressman Lyndon Johnson from filling a speaking engagement here.

He was scheduled to land his helicopter on the high school athletic field here yesterday, but the strong winds forced him to land in a vacant lot on the outskirts of town.

His followers hopped in cars and drove from the high school field to hear him.

It is said that two-thirds of all known kinds of creatures can glide or fly through the air.

Captain Holds Up Sailing For Woman

NEW YORK, June 22. (AP)—A gentleman always waits for a lady.

Even, as happened today, when he's the captain of a huge passenger ship and she misses the last gangplank.

Mrs. Marie Moysan, 68, of New York City was one of 747 passengers sailing for France today aboard the French liner De Grasse. She went back to the pier to say good-bye to friends. While she was looking for them, the De Grasse put out.

Line officials signalled the ship. Capt. Jean Le Manche gallantly held the vessel in the harbor half an hour while the frantic Mrs. Moysan rode to her in a special tug.

Annual Optimist Convention Opens

SAN ANTONIO, June 22. (AP)—The Thirtieth Annual Optimist International convention opened here today.

General business sessions made up most of today's program.

The convention will hold its first general session tomorrow. Lieutenant Governor Allan Shivers will make the welcoming address, and Lucien L. Renuart of Miami, International president, will make his annual address.

Charles H. Sharrick of Lincoln, Neb., chairman of the boys' work council, will discuss the boys' oratorical contest sponsored by Optimist international.

A pre-convention school of instruction was held yesterday for 26 members of the board of governors elected recently in sectional meetings.

Raymond Gerhardt, general chairman of the convention, said the chief purpose of the Optimist clubs is to promote realistic optimism as a philosophy of life and to aid and encourage youth through the Junior Optimist program. He said there are Optimist clubs in most states and in five Canadian provinces.

Fugitive Is Found Hiding In Grave

ROME, June 22 (AP)—Black-clad policemen carrying flowers and imitating a funeral arrested a fugitive wanted for attempted murder yesterday. He had been hiding for three weeks in a grave.

Palermo dispatches said the police, looking for Gioacchino Montesano on charges that he tried to kill his wife and sister-in-law, traced their man to a cemetery.

Day after day they visited the cemetery, dressed in mourning and carrying wreaths so as not to alarm the fugitive. Finally they decided he was hiding in a mausoleum. Yesterday they went to the cemetery again in the mourning costumes and with their flowers, and surrounded the burial chamber.

From 10 feet under the ground, where he had been reclining on the bones of some long-departed residents, Montesano emerged and surrendered.

"HELP YOURSELF FROM A SMILING SHELF" PIGGLY WIGGLY

Lyndon Johnson Refers To GOP Convention In Campaign Talk

(By The United Press)

The prestige of the United States in the eyes of the world will suffer if the Republicans nominate a man who caters to appeasers and lobbyists, U. S. Rep. Lyndon Johnson warned in a talk yesterday at Cleburne.

It was the first mention by a U. S. Senate candidate of the GOP national convention now in progress in Philadelyhia.

Others On Radio

Two other leading senate candidates, Houston attorney George Peddy and former Gov. Coke Stevenson, spoke by radio from Houston last night. The former governor said he would "continue to do throughout my public life—to deliver in dollars, in performance, not in promises."

Stevenson promised to fight for a clampdown on governmental purse strings and said "extravagance in expenditure of your tax money" must stop. He recited his achievements as governor, saying that his policies had built a sound highway system, a far-reaching farm-to-market road and had sought to improve the public school system and to secure higher pay for teachers.

"Machine Attacked"

Peddy asked Texas voters to demolish what he described as "the most ruthless machine that ever rolled across the political scene in Texas."

Without mentioning names, Peddy said "one of those candidates has been in public office for more than 30 years, and another has been a member of Congress for more than 11 years."

Sam Rayburn, House minority leader, opens his campaign for re-election to Congress at a free barbecue and homecoming rally in the Fannin county fair grounds at Bonham tomorrow. His talk is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m. and will be broadcast throughout the district.

March To Speak

In the governor's race, Caso March, Baylor law professor, has tentatively scheduled a broadcast from Corpus Christi Friday night. Ex-Gov. Pat M. Neff was scheduled to introduce the Waco candidate.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester issued another in his press releases outlining achievements of his administration. He pointed to the public health record of the state saying there had been a decline the past two years in a number of diseases.

Driver Complicates Transport Problem

RIDGEFIELD, Conn., June 22 (AP) — Mrs. Gladys Martin of Danbury was solving a vexing transportation problem with real yankee ingenuity today when an errant motor vehicle caused complications.

Mrs. Martin had driven about 15 miles from Danbury to Salem, N. Y., in her husband's automobile to return his truck to Danbury.

With only one driver, how to get both vehicles back at the same time posed a brief problem which Mrs. Martin solved ingeniously.

She first drove the truck several hundred feet, then stopped it and walked back for the car. Once she brought the car up to the truck, she repeated the process. It was slow but steady progress, said State Trooper John Jones, until Edward Lynch of Ridgefield Lakes, appeared on the scene in his car.

The Lynch vehicle appeared just as the Martin truck and car had been reunited. Lynch's car, said Jones, rammed into the Martin truck which, in turn, caromed into the Martin automobile. Both Mrs. Martin and Lynch were injured slightly.

Jones said he arrested Lynch for driving while under the influence of liquor.

Tribute Is Paid To S. Lamar Forrest

Tribute to the late S. Lamar Forrest, Lubbock lumberman, who died earlier this year, has been paid by the National Retail Lumber Dealers association in an impressive memorial brochure received by Mrs. Forrest.

The tribute contains an excellent etching of the late Mr Forrest's photograph and the following message:

"S. Lamar Forrst — A man whose creed was to serve his nation—his industry—his state—his community — his church — his friends and his family. His record of achievement—as president of the great Lumbermen's association of Texas—as Executive Committeeman from the Southwest—as Advisor to the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board—as president of the National Retail Lumber Dealers association—and his vision of the future—is a sacred trust—a heritage for those of us who will follow after.

The brochure is of white leather and decorated in gold.

Both Men, Women Have Wilted Look

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP) — The wilted look is already the leading convention style note, for men and for women.

With klieg lights raising convention hall temperatures, the dropping collar and the rumpled skirt are practically a uniform.

This year's lady politico is pretty dressy for convention sessions — even though dark colors mean she's going to suffer a little more.

Of all the women in the official crowd, more than 50 percent had gray hair, were on the plump side, and their feet hurt.

Male delegates favored lightweight, light colored suits (pants and coats matching) and wild, wild neckties. Only a handful affected ties with candidates' names on them.

Collegiate Tennis Matches Tighten Up

LOS ANGELES, June 22 (AP)—With the favorites still undisputed, play begins to tighten today as contestants in the national collegiate tennis championships swing into the third round of the tournament at UCLA.

Center court duels include matches between top-seeded Vic Seixas of North Carolina and Conway Catton of the University of San Francisco, Jim Brink of Washington against Heath Alexander of North Carolina and Herb Flam of UCLA against Jack Lowe of Washington.

Other feature matches include Jack Tuero of Tulane against Ronald Dunas of UCLA, Bob Curtis of Rice against Bob David of Notre Dame and Fred Kovaleski of William and Mary against Bob Lewis of Stanford.

Second-round doubles engagements list Flam and Gene Garret against Brink and Lowe, and Felix Kelley and Clarence Mabry of Texas against Tulane's Jack Tuero and Dick Mouledous.

Surprises were scant in yesterday's opening rounds. Marvin Beskin, No. 16, lost to unseeded Wade Spilman of Texas, 6-1, 6-3.

William and Mary's Bernard Bartzen defeated Jack Lanham, Houston, Tex., university, 6-0, 6-1.

China Charges Bring Denial

TOKYO, June 22 (AP)—William Sebald, chief of General MacArthur's diplomatic section and acting U. S. political adviser for Japan, firmly denied today that American policy is to rebuild a militant Japan.

In issuing this official denial, Sebald took cognizance of charges and anti-American demonstrations that have been inspired by certain student elements and other factions in China lately.

Called Absurd

In a 1,600-word note, Sebald emphatically declared that these charges are an "absurd falsification" and that the groups responsible for the charges are misinforming "a large segment of well-meaning people in the republic of China."

His note was sent to John Cabot, U. S. counsul general in Shanghai. Both Cabot and U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart recently criticized student agitation against American policy in Japan.

Stuart said the United States is undertaking to restore some measure of Japanese economy—with-cut laying and groundwork for her rearmament. He added that the American taxpayer can't support Nippon indefinitely.

Pursued Firmly

To that, Sebald added: ". . . The occupation of Japan is being pursued in accordance with allied policy, with firmness and with justice."

Accusations by the various groups in China, he asserted, are "misstatements . . . propaganda . . . and absurd falsification."

Amnesty Is Seen For Filipino Huk Leader, 50,000 Followers

MANILA, June 22 (AP)—Amnesty for the strawhatted, machinegun-toting Hukbalahap in turbulent central Luzon was approved today by the Philippine house. The senate is expected to concur tomorrow.

The presidential decree, issued Monday night after the voluntary surrender of Huk leader Luis Taruc, frees his 50,000 peasant followers of prosecution on charges of rebellion, sedition and possession of arms.

It requires the Huks to surrender their arms within 20 days after congressional approval of the decree. The peasants began arming themselves from the battlefields of Bataan, increased their arsenal during the Japanese occupation and acquired American weapons after the liberation. During the war, they fought the Japanese, guerrilla fashion.

May End Clashes

President Elpidio Quirino, to whom Taruc surrendered, has expressed hope that amnesty will bring to an end the sporadic, bloody clashes between the peasants and government troops, who frequently were joined by civil guards.

Fighting broke out after the election of the late President Manuel Roxas in April, 1946. Subsequent peace parleys failed and Taruc fled Manila in August, 1946. He had been in the capital to conduct negotiations and also to pursue a claim for his seat in the house of representatives. His election in April, 1946—from Pampanga province — was disputed by charges of fraud.

Taruc Outlawed

Roxas outlawed Taruc, the Hukbalahap and its affiliated National peasants union last March. The action was condemned by the minority in Congress, which did not act on the Roxar' decree. Roxas died April 15.

Amnesty comes at a critical time. The fertile fields of central Luzon ordinarily are planted with rice during the first heavy rains in June. But because of the disorders, and arguments over crop sharing agreements between landowners and tenants, the Philippines' richest rice producing acres have lain idle.

Taruc, in an interview, reaffirmed that he is a Filipino Communist. But denied having anything to do with international Communism.

Not Under Orders

"I am no more under Stalin's orders than I am President Truman's," he asserted. "I and my associates most emphatically are Filipino nationalists. We are aiming toward true Democracy within the framework of the constitution."

Taruc, under technical arrest, is staying in an annex of the president's home—guarded both by presidential guards and his own bodyguard of six tough Huks. He is permitted to see a constant stream of friends.

19 Men Are Enlisted In Army, Air Force

Ten Lubbock and nine South Plains men have enlisted in the U. S. Army or U. S. Air Force at the local army recruiting station in the postoffice building since June 1 to bring the month's enlistments near the one-a-day average, according to information released Monday morning by S/Sgt. L. D. Green. Sixteen of the 19 signed with the army.

Those signing include Charles G. Johnson of 2008 E. Ave. B., army; John L. Gafford of Lubbock route 6, army; L. R. Hall of 2811 E. Ave. F, army; Odines Jones of 101 E. Twenty-seventh, army; Herschel Freeman of Littlefield, army; Stafford Ross of Littlefield, army; Johnny A. Robinson of Levelland, army; Mitchel Sephus, jr., of Littlefield, army; Aubrey J. Coulston of Sudan, army.

Mathew Roberts of 1719 Ave. C, army; Sidney Robinson of 263K E. Ave. F, army; Guy N. Finley of Plainview, army; Don L. Johnson of 1724 Main, army; Augustine Sweed of 1724 Mian, army; Lyle O. McKnight of Muleshoe route 2, air force; Turner W. Jacobs of Littlefield, air force; John L. Sullivan of Seminole, air force; Billy G. Norwood of 2804 Edna, army; Alton Felder of 805 E. Twenty-fifth, army.

C Of C Assistant Begins Work Here

Jim M. Crook, 29, a staff member of the Corpus Christi chamber of commerce the past two years, assumed his duties as an assistant manager of the Lubbock chamber Monday.

Specific duties have not been assigned him by A. B. Davis, general manager, but his work initially will be chiefly with the membership. He is the second addition to the chamber staff recently, George Bond, then of San Angelo, having been appointed an assistant manager several weeks ago.

Crook, a native of Paris, Texas, has made his home in Corpus Christi the past 7 years. He was in his second year of junior college work there when he enlisted in the army air forces early in 1942. He held the rank of staff sergeant when discharged four years later. Most of his service was in the Southwest Pacific. He is unmarried.

Korea Commander Back From Visit

SEOUL, June 22 (AP) — Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, whose sudden flight to Tokyo roused much speculation, returned today and said he just had been visiting at General MacArthur's headquarters.

The U. S. occupation commander for southern Korea declined to discuss his Tokyo meetings, but said no pressing matter inspired his trip.

He added that he had wanted for months to talk with MacArthur and his staff. He had not visited MacArthur since March, 1947.

Modern Gadgets Help Little In Far East

MANILA, June 22 (AP)—When the mechanized west meets the man-powered east, the twain form weirdly wonderful results:

An American educated Chinese has just opened a Manila supermarket, the first in the Far East. It is identical with the best in the United States, except that each wire grocery cart is equipped with a Chinese boy to push it for the customer.

The Manila Overseas Press club has acquired an American automatic elevator—but the old operator is still on duty, punching the buttons for patrons.

Manila also has installed its first traffic light since the war. It is an object of civic pride, but it never has been turned on; a cop stands at its base and directs traffic as of yore.

Health Department Given New Offices

Offices formerly occupied by the Red Cross on the first floor of the city hall have been assigned to the city health department, City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., announced Monday.

They will be used chiefly in connection with the issuance of health certificates, which have been obtained in the past at the office of Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, in the Lubbock National building.

IN Lubbock and in other West Texas towns and cities, people are cleaning up their premises, dusting with DDT and, in other ways, trying to make certain that unsanitary conditions shall not be permitted to contribute to an epidemic of infantile paralysis, or other diseases.

That is fine.

In fact, only one criticism may be launched against the clean-ups in this area. That one criticism is that they are not co-ordinated.

Lack of co-ordination, area-wise, could—and very possibly may—thwart the efforts and energy of communities which are cleaning up and whose citizens are determined that their home towns shall remain that way.

If one or two communities, let alone more, decline to enter into the area-wide effor—or who work inefficiently—failure of co-operation could stultify all the good works in other places. In the "dirty towns," epidemics could start which would reach to other towns, regardless of cleanliness of the latter.

EAST Texans are "one up" on us West Texans in the clean-up campaign. Over on the far side of the state, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce is co-ordinating the cleanup campaigns as a part of its service to the communities which support it.

As a result, East Texas' fight against polio and other diseases is to be uniform. All communities are "in on the deal." Every community is as well coached and informed as to methods as every other community.

This is something the West Texas Chamber of Commerce may well file for reference when the next torrid season rolls around and polio, and perhaps other diseases, raise their ugly heads.

It would be better for West Texas to have a co-ordinated cleanup campaign. It would be good for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to have an active, helpful part in the over-all campaign.

THE West Texas Chamber of Commerce needs to get active in various undertakings which have no connection with Austin; or Washington, or big business in West Texas.

The organization's efforts in behalf of Austin and Washington political matters, and of the larger business interests of the area, are all right and we hope the WTCC will continue its work of that kind. But for its own good—and in the interests of its own public relations—the WTCC needs to "get down to the level of the man in the street" upon occasion. It needs to show the man in the street that the WTCC is interested in him, per se; that not all of its efforts are expended on what might be called "bigger things," yet things which do not directly touch the people.

For a long time we have been thinking that the WTCC needs to broaden its base of service if it intends, or hopes, ever to become the vital force it can and should be in the mind of the average West Texan.

Once or twice before, in a spirit of helpfulness, we have said just this— and have added that we West Texans could learn a lot from East Texans in some things of an area chamber of commerce nature.

However, our remarks have only served to make angry one or two officials of the WTCC — perhaps because what we said had some merit.

IT is entirely possible, perhaps even probable, that in some ways the WTCC has the ETCC beat to death. Maybe our regional organization is much better on the "big jobs." We wouldn't know about that.

But in the matter of being part and parcel of the life in its region; in being tied to every-day goings-on and to the man in the street, we are of the opinion that the ETCC has a big edge on the WTCC. It certainly is more "humanized." It certainly is closer to the grass roots.

WTCC can be that way, too, if its directors will direct its paid personnel along that line.

We think that should be done—and the area-wide cleanup drive is a good example among many of what the WTCC can do if it will.

THERE'S a story going around that sort of reminds us of some of our local prohibitionists, who talk and vote dry and drink wet.

It seems that an evangelist was having a field day with Demon Rum. He was loud in his praises of prohibition, but his face didn't quite bear out his words.

Toward the close of his dissertation, he squared his shoulders, raised his leonine head and shouted:

"I have lived in this city all of my life. In it there are 55 saloons and I haven't been in one of them!"

"Zat so?" hollored a skeptic on the back row. "Which one?"

QUOTABLE Quotes and Pertinent Comment: "We Americans have become expert in technology, in sales work, in production, in distribution, and in finance, but we are the greatest dubs in the world when it comes to the greatest of all arts — the art of how to live."—Dr. Norman V. Peale, New York preacher.

(Well, Doc, maybe so. But no people have ever learned the art of living faster, or over more territory!)

THE entrance of several drive-in movie theaters into the Lubbock field recently is pretty typical of what's going on the country over. This Summer sees 700 such theaters in operation over the U. S. — double the number of last year.

Smart promotion of some drive-in theater owners has the more prosaic movie men in a dither. Some drive-ins not only feature play-pens for little kids, but also playgrounds and even pony rides.

Look for movie theaters to begin meeting the drive-in competition by installing "children's rooms," under proper supervision, where Maw and Paw can park the brats while they are enjoying the cinema.

BY DREW PEARSON: TAFT KEEPS PRIVATE NOTEBOOK ON CERTAIN DEWEY DELEGATES

Republican Leaders Barter Southern Delegates

PHILADELPHIA — The Republican party has always flirted with the idea of breaking the solid South. It has also posed as the party of emancipation, the champion of a square deal for the South.

Yet when it comes to nominating the most coveted prize in the Republican party, it treats southern delegates as so many pawns to be bartered back and forth across the counter. These are the delegates traditionally bought and paid for, who can tip the scales for or against the leading candidate.

PEARSON

Once back in 1928 enough Republicans got so indignant about this barter of delegates that they held a Senate investigation of Herbert Hoover's southern purchases. According to the sworn testimony before that Senate committee, Ben Davis, colored G. O. P. national committeeman for Georgia, received $2,200 of Hoover money to pay the expenses of Georgia Republicans.

Prior to this payment Ben Davis was not for Hoover. Afterward he was.

Perry Howard, colored G. O. P. national committeeman for Mississippi, also received $2,000 of Hoover money. The Mississippi delegates voted for Hoover.

Rush Holland, former assistant attorney general for Harry Dougherty, was the Hoover bagman who toured the South and paid off the southern delegates.

Today, Perry Howard, the same G. O. P. potentate of Mississippi, is vigorously in the corner of Senator Taft. Taft has used a technique different from Hoover's. Some time ago he gave Perry Howard's son a job in the Senate postoffice.

John E. Jackson, chief Republican mogul of Louisiana, is also a Taft man. He is reported to handle some of the law business forwarded by the Taft family law firm in Cincinnati.

This year, however, Dewey has a slice of the southern Republicans, and the battle to carve them up is the chief backstage battle now being fought in Philadelphia.

Who gets them may be the next President of the United States.

Taft's Notebook

Leaves from Senator Taft's political notebook—as the bartering gets feverish, and the fingermen try to swing delegates over to their side, here are the private notes on delegates jotted down in the Taft political notebook:

"Florida—2nd district delegates: Mrs. Hattie I. James (colored) 1718 Myrtle Ave., Jacksonville. Doubtful. Be sure to call her Mrs. Garrison and Perry Howard should talk to her. Her husband Joe is a registered Democrat. She is an ardent churchgoer. Holds important position with negro Elks of Florida.

"3rd District—Mrs. E. B. Goode (colored) — 642 E. Wright St., Pensacola—doubtful. Garrison (Wesley E. Garrison of Miami) will see her in Phila. Her husband is a negro dentist. Friend of Perry Howard.

"5th District—Miss Jeane E. D'Agostino — 121 Wisteria Ave., Orlando, Stassen. Letter June 1 to R. T. 'Wishing you every success and looking forward to meeting you in Phila.' Feels 'civil rights' is most vital subject in South. Interested in flood-control appropriations for southern states. Catholic. Young.

"Delegate-at-large — Alex Akerman, jr., 209 S. Orange Ave., Orlando—Stassen. Taft 2nd choice if properly handled. Appeal to his ego. Lawyer. Originally from Georgia."

Note—The "R. T." mentioned above presumably refers to "Robert Taft." Although Miss D'Agostino is for Stassen, the Taft managers made careful notes aimed at swinging her over to their side.

THE TAFT convention notebook also gives some interesting advice to his campaign managers about Oregon, as follows:

"Oregon—Insomuch as Dewey won the preferential primary vote, all 12 delegates are pledged to vote for him so long as he has a reasonable chance for the nomination. It should be noted, however, that it is not up to Dewey to release these delegates at any given time, but is a matter for the judgment of each delegate.

"Delegate-at-large — Robert S. Farrell — 536 S. W. First Ave., Portland—Dewey, Taft 2nd choice close friend of Walter Tooze—father of the late Robert S Farrell, jr., former Secretary of State who was accidentally killed last fall. An elderly man — listens to Idleman, his alternate.

"Phil Metschan — 2028 S. W. Clifton St., Portland—Taft—was for Stassen over Dewey—elderly man—chairman of the delegation—former state chairman—defeated candidate for governor many years ago—hotel business.

"Lamar Tooze — 3814 N. W. Thurman St., Portland—was for Stassen—against Dewey, but will stay put on his pledge to Dewey until Dewey is out of it. What he will do then is anybody's guess—is a law partner of Ralph Cake. Cake is probably for Vandenberg and Tooze may follow him — friendly to Taft, Univ. of Oregon — Harvard Law Sch. — former president Oregon Republican club.

"2nd District—Carl Engdahl — 317 N. W. Bailey, Portland—Stassen—Taft probably 2nd choice — state senator — resolutions committee—will be Phila. June 15. Walter Tooze will meet him there that day.

"3rd District—Tommy Luke — 617 S. W. Sixth St., Portland — Dewey—Taft 2nd choice—not too dependable—florist — likes Taft very much—vice chairman of the delegation.

"Robert A. Elliott—4511 N. E. Prescott St., Portland (Bus. address: — c/o Conn. Mutual Life Ins. Co., U. S. Nat'l. Bank Bldg., Portland) — Stassen's local campaign manager—will be one of the first to break away from the Dewey pledge, will probably go for Vandenberg if that is the set-up. Very intelligent and likeable young man.

Mrs. James W. Mott — 1100 Chemeketu St., Portland)—Taft, Dewey 2nd choice—widow of former congressman — will arrive Phila. week before convention and will contact the Tafts—if not, they should contact her. Taft knew husband well—secretary of the delegation."

Texas contains 59 counties that are larger than the state of Rhode Island.

"You Say There's Another One Coming?"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

THE pretty little blonde beauty operator talked as she worked, mostly about her husband, a veteran student in the university. No, she hadn't had a chance to go to college herself. They couldn't both live on the GI allowance—not together, anyhow — so she was working so her husband could get the family's education.

MILLETT

Let's hope it turns out to be an education for the family. Let's hope that this ex-soldier whose wife is working long hours every day so that he can get an education will never feel superior to her because of his better education, never gets to the place where he thinks his wife isn't able to "keep up with him."

THIS CASE IS TYPICAL

THERE are thousands of girls in the country making the same sort of a sacrifice this girl is making. Either they are working long hours at routine jobs or they are pushing those dream houses out of their minds while they take care of a child or two in a trailer or quonset hut while their husbands spend days that add up to years getting an education.

It will be all right, and worth the wife's sacrifice and struggle, if the education turns out to be "for the family."

But if the education is just the husband's—if it isn't a family project for the benefit of all the family—then it will be a tragedy. And that, of course, depends on one thing—on the character of the young husband.

TWO STEPS FORWARD

Two great humanitarian movements will be made a more intimate part of the South Plains by the opening of the Lubbock County Blood bank on July 1, and the establishment of a cerebral palsy treatment center as soon as housing arrangements for the project can be made.

The blood bank will be sponsored by the Lubbock county chapter of the Red Cross at 1513 Avenue K and the palsy treatment center by the Lubbock County Crippled Children's council and the Rotary club.

The great services rendered by such projects and the logic of their location in Lubbock, an important medical center conveniently accessible to a large and developing area, are obvious. The need for both is readily apparent.

But both will require public support if they are to make the outstanding records for achievement which will be consistent with the Lubbock record in any worthy undertaking. This is a prediction that the support will be forthcoming when and as needed.

Experienced Observers Rule Out Stassen As GOP Nominee

WASHINGTON — Of the three leading contenders for the Republican presidential nomination, Harold Stassen is given the least chance to capture the grand prize at Philadelphia. Experienced observers rule out even the possibility of the No. 2 place for the big, broad-shouldered farmer's son from Minnesota.

For one of Stassen's burning ambitions this would be a bitter anti-climax to a campaign as remarkable as any in American political history. Few men have gone so far on so limited a career in public office.

CHILDS

Largely by his own heroic endeavrs, Stassen lifted himself to a point at which he threatened to run away with the convention. It was an achievement that took nerve, resourcefulness, endless energy, patience and great self-discipline. All these qualities Stassen has as a counterpoise to his vaulting ambition.

His ardent backers reject vehemently the view of the calculating professionals who deny Stassen a chance. They point to the passionate partisanship of the Stassen delegates. With this core of unflinching support, they insist that the Stassen managers can maneuver in a deadlock to bring about a victory for their hero.

In my opinion, Stassen's big chance for the nomination was in his original approach. That was to build himself up as an independent, taking a stand of his own regardless of the views of party regulars. In this way he might have accumulated such strength in popular and delegate following that the convention could not have turned him down.

That was the role he assumed when he returned from his service with the Navy in the Pacific at the age of 38. A delegate to the conference in San Francisco that shaped the United Nations, he increased his stature as a public figure of independence and integrity.

Made Remarkable Progress

Following a carefully plotted course to capture the Presidency, he made his voice heard throughout the nation. What he said about American responsibility to win the peace was in accord with what most Americans were thinking.

With only a small organization and paying his own way in part by lecturing and writing, Stassen made remarkable progress. Visiting western Europe and Russia, he showed his desire to learn at first hand the problems his country faced.

A year ago, he began a change in his tactics. This was shown in his declaration that no nation in Europe carrying out nationalization or socialization of industry should be given Marshall plan aid. He was thus to the right of Sen. Robert A. Taft, who recognized that such a provision would make the program unworkable.

In his discussion of public housing, Stassen was fuzzy, seeming to evade a stand on the part government should play. He catered to powerful grazing interests in the western states. On public power he said one thing in one region and another thing in another part of the country.

Now, of course, a politician running for office must be granted the right to a certain amount of double-talk. But Stassen's strength and his hope of success lay precisely in that he was an independent spurning the tricks and stratagems of the clever politician.

WHAT he failed to realize was that no matter how far to the right he turned, he could never win over the old guard regulars in his party. By publicly spurning Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and invading Taft's home state of Ohio, he alienated two men who would yield great power even though they themselves might not capture the nomination.

The momentum of Stassen's original approach, getting out and talking to the voters, answering their questions, carried him a long way. But as a quick-talking, changeable self-salesman he began to lose some of the support he had won from the mass of independent voters. He began to look more like merely another politician and less like the independent spokesman for millions of Americans who want to see an able leader in the White House, no matter what his political tag.

Regardless of the outcome of the convention in Philadelphia, the country will be in Stassen's debt. If it had not been for his ag-

Masons

Chapter and Council there; and Temple H. Morrow, of Lubbock, a 33-degree Mason.

Several of the special guests, for whom hotel accommodations had been made, were introduced at the area meeting in the park. Brief speeches of commendation of Lubbock Masonic bodies incident to fruition of plans for the Temple were made by Brown, Hay, Oldham and Pat Boone, worthy patron of the Order of Eastern Star.

Records Placed In Depository

Into a depository in conjunction with the cornerstone laying went valuable Masonic records; such as, monitors of the Masonic bodies; pictures of Masonic leaders and officers; the U. S. flag; petitions and blanks incident to membership of Masonic bodies; an Order of Eastern Star Holy Bible; by-laws of Yellowhouse lodge 841, AF&AM; a volume of Revision of Resolutions and Edicts of The Grand Lodge, 1897 edition, which was used by W. H. Flynn, five times master of Yellowhouse lodge; a November South Plains edition of Texas Eastern Star, with numerous Lubbock pictures; a Knights Templar manual of Asylum tactics; an official program of a triennial conclave of Knights Templar, held in 1946 in Houston, with newspaper clippings; pictures of commandery, chapter and council officials, past pictures and district deputies; a complete edition of the Sunday Avalanche-Journal, which carried the program of Monday's meeting; Yellowhouse lodge bulletins; proceedings of the Royal Arch Chapter; a brochure of the new temple as it formerly was planned; a centennial penny of the 100th anniversary of Washington Royal Arch Chapter No. 2, of Houston, donated by Grand Secretary Oldham, and other donations.

Burton S. Burks, former district attorney of the 72nd judicial district, was orator at the cornerstone service. He explained the history of the ritual of such services. Bryan was master of ceremonies at the park program.

The grand master's park speech called on Masons to assume their individual initiative in maintaining "the better of two philosophies of life": that which allows the individual the right of free public schools; to select his church and to worship as he pleases; freedom of speech and press; and the right to believe there is a God who has ruled the destiny of man from man's creation. By the same token, he asked that they take their place in fighting a subversive philosophy which is the antithesis of that way of life.

"Our own way of life can be maintained if Masons, Christians, civic clubs, chambers of commerce and such organizations dedicated to service will do their individual best," he said.

"We have a duty to perform. Texas Masons will do so."

gressive campaigning, we should have had even less opportunity than we have had to see the other contenders in action. He forced them to get out into the country and to say something about their views on national and international issues. That in itself is a real achievement and, ironically enough, it is one of the reasons why the old guard means to shut him out.

Used Car Dealer's "Steal" Is Stolen

DALLAS, June 20 (AP) — Used car dealer Gene Ross figured he'd get results when he wrote "a steal" across the windshield of an automobile on his lot. He did.

The car had been stolen when Goss arrived at work yesterday.

night. This kind of carelessness is repeated often in private dwellings.

9. Within the limits of plausibility, leave your home looking as normal as possible Try to avoid drawing your blinds and shades in such a way as to give your home a "shutup" appearance.

10. If at all possible arrangements should be made to have any particularly vulnerable areas of your dwelling illuminated at night. It should be noted that more than 81 per cent of the 373-450 burglaries occurring in 1947 were committed at night. If there is a rear door or cellar entrance located on a dark side of your house where burglars can prowl unnoticed, a small light might well be kept burning there at night. Few burglars will try to sneak through a lighted doorway or window.

Whether you can arrange to have these vulnerable areas illuminated while you are away will depend on your individual circumstances. In some homes such outside lights are installed with dual switches—one inside the house and one outside, near the garage door or on the outside facing of a rear door, for example. Under such conditions it might be possible to have a neighbor turn the lights on each night and off each morning.

Close Garage Doors

11. Be sure that all garage doors are closed. Open garage doors indicate your absence.

12. Do not leave notes to let callers know that you are away.

13. Do not leave your key in any of the conventional front-porch hiding places.

14. If you should return from your vacation and discover that your home has been burglarized, do not make an amateurish crime-scene search yourself. Notify the police at once and let them do all the searching inside and outside the house. Let no one touch anything in the house where the burglar may have left fingerprints, and do not walk around in the yard and destroy any footprints that he may have left. Leave everything exactly as the burglar left it and give the police a chance to make an intelligent investigation.

A decompression suit which can be worn like underwear and which not only will keep a man alive but enable him to move about freely at altitudes above 100,000 feet has been devised for the Air Force.

Feeding Results

steers in lot one were on pasture at the time the experiment began, while the ones in lot two were taken from a dry feed lot directly to the pasture, and as a result they ate less than the steers that were already accustomed to the green stuff.

At the beginning of the project the calves weighed an average of 559.5 pounds, those in lot one being slightly heavier than in lot two. The steers were weighed on June 19, and averaged 639.12 pounds.

The twelve steers which were used in the first of the projects began with an average weight of 432.7 pounds on Nov. 26, 1946. When sold at an auction in April of this year, the experimentally raised steers had an average of 1,073 pounds and sold at 28½ cents per pound. Six pastures were used in this experiment. They were seeded with alfalfa; alfalfa, brome grass and perennial rye grass; alfalfa and brome grass; native grass; and native grass with white clover. Greatest gains per acre of pasture were produced on the alfalfa-perennial rye grass mixture, and on the alfalfa-brome-perennial rye grass mixture.

The project is being followed by a similar feeding experiment with eight more calves in 1950, which will conclude the experiments. Results of the experiment supervised by Stangel will be published annually in a bulletin by the Agriculture department.

Don't Get Yourself All In A "Stew"

"Relax And Keep Busy—" That's Advice Offered For Sizzling Summer Weather

There must be something to the idea of keeping busy and not thinking about the heat.

Three persons were asked suggestions for escaping uncomfortable effects of hot weather.

Said Leo W. Weaver, official in charge of the U. S. Weather bureau station near Lubbock—"The only thing that I might suggest is to keep busy and not think about it."

Don't Think About It

Miss Sue Rainey, assistant professor of physical education for women at Texas Technological college, said, "Our theory is that if you're busy you'll not worry too much about it. I think the majority of persons think too much about it." She formerly lived in East Texas and doesn't find the heat here uncomfortable like the East Texas variety. Miss Rainey believes the apartment in which she lives stays cooler if the windows are left open all night and all windows are closed during the day. The kitchen door is left open when cooking is underway. Otherwise, the doors, too, are closed in daytime.

"We don't 'stew' about it. If you're relaxed and busy, you're not half as hot," she said.

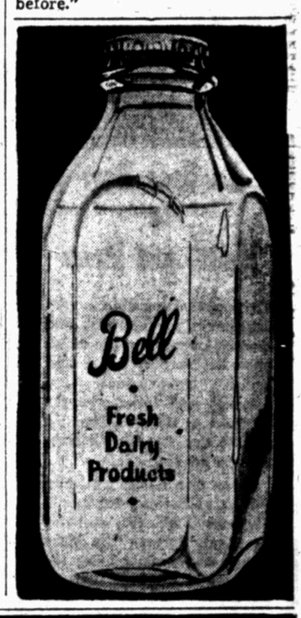

Effect Of Garments

Dr. M. F. Landwer, associate professor of biology at Texas Tech, said there's nothing in the physiology courses he teaches on how to avoid effects of heat, but he has some personal ideas. "The only way I know of is to be so busy you don't pay any attention to the heat," he said. The number and type of garments worn has some effect. The Chinese and Siamese have the right idea for keeping cool, he said. Baggy trousers with full top folded under and loose upper garments allow for general airiness. Shoes also have some effect. Dr. Landwer wears sandals. Cool drinks help temporarily to keep cool, he pointed out.

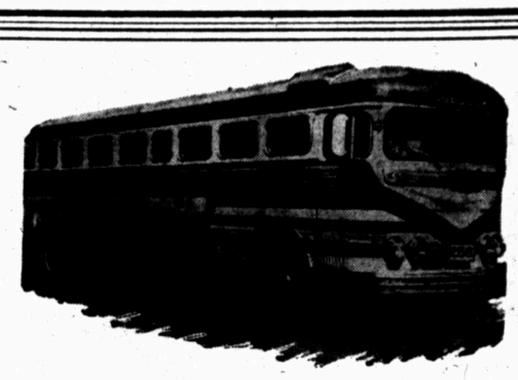

Neither of the three knew anyone else had suggested keeping busy as means of avoiding heat.

PATIENCE—AFTER 80 YEARS

WEYMOUTH, England (AP) — Eighty years old, Henry Holah spent 30 hours adrift at sea in a small motor boat after the engine broke down. "I wasn't unduly alarmed," he told coast guard rescuers. "I've been in tight spots before."

Labor Union Editors Dip Pens In Political Ink More Freely

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Labor union editors dipped their pens in political ink today without worrying about the Taft-Hartley law.

The Supreme court gave its approval yesterday by ruling unanimously that the act does not keep publications financed by unions or corporation funds from taking sides in a political campaign.

The nine justices agreed that if the law did ban such publication of union or management views, there would be grave doubt as to its constitutionality.

No Violation Seen

But the court said that there was no need to decide the constitutional issue now since, because the CIO did not violate the act by endorsing a congressional candidate in the CIO news.

The government and the CIO had pressed the case as a direct test of the Taft-Hartley act's general ban against political expenditures from union treasuries.

With the political campaign gathering momentum, the court ruling in the publication left unanswered the question of just how far unions can go in backing candidates without violating the act.

No further guidance before the November elections may be expected from the highest tribunal.

Meets Oct. 4

The court will not meet again until October 4.

So union leaders and corporation officials who want to step up their political blows must make their own decisions on how much they can do legally.

The major labor organizations already have separate agencies to handle political warchests, which are not covered by the ban. Almost 15,000,000 in contributions is expected from union members.

Among other things these funds would be used to finance a fight against the Taft-Hartley act and those Congress members who supported it.

Campaign Begins

The CIO issued a statement after the court decision saying:

"This case represents the successful beginning of our legal campaign against the Taft-Hartley law. We regret that a majority of the court did not deem it appropriate at this time to rule on the constitutionality of the entire political expenditures clause of the act. We are confident that this clause and many other provisions of this law violate basic constitutional rights."

CIO President Philip Murray set off the court fight deliberately to provide a test of the expenditure ban's validity. The union printed in its paper an endorsement of Edward Garmatz of Baltimore as Democratic candidate for Congress in last fall's election. Garmatz won.

Government Defeated

The government contended the CIO had violated the Taft-Hartley act's ban on union political expenditures.

But Justice Reed, who wrote the majority opinion in the case, said:

"We are unwilling to say that Congress by its prohibition against corporations or labor organizations making an 'expenditure in connection with any election' of candidates for federal office intended to outlaw such a publication."

idesteps Affidavits

The court did uphold the Taft-Hartley law's requirement that unions register and file financial statements with the Secretary of Labor. But it sidestepped a ruling at this time on the constitutionality of the companion provision for filing non-communist affidavits.

Those rulings came in an order by the court refusing to review a lower court decision which upheld the non-Communist oath requirement. The decision had been challenged by the CIO Maritime union.

British War Bride Is Granted Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22. (INS) Lily Joan Schliemann, 25-year-old British war bride, was granted a divorce today by superior Judge Sylvain Lazarus of San Francisco.

Her husband, Frank Schliemann, who had been ordered to appear for the hearing, was branded a disgrace to the U. S. Army after Mrs. Schliemann testified he was no longer interested in her or their two children. They were married in Sheffield, England, in 1944.

Judge Lazarus told the husband:

"You are a disgrace as an American representative in a foreign country."

Schliemann, a telephone worker, then offered to pay $60 a month alimony, although his wife had asked only $25.

"So ordered," snapped the judge.

Mrs. Schliemann, tears trickling down her cheeks, told the court she would return to England with the children, Richard, 3, and Michael, 1, to live with her father, a steel mill engineer. She said she is expecting another child.

Judge Lazarus leaned over and said:

"Goodbye and God bless you and will you give an old man a kiss."

Mrs. Schliemann did, and left.

Tidelands Question Becomes GOP Plank

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP)—The Republican convention platform drawn up by the resolutions committee includes a plank in favor of restoring tidelands ownership to the states.

The plank was inserted in the platform early today after Gordon X. Richmond of Orange, Calif., and Orville Bullington of Texas led the tidelands states in a winning fight against stiff opposition. Richmond is chairman of the resolutions subcommittee on western affairs.

It was learned that the proposal goes even beyond the tidelands to include inland waters and streams.

High Court Refuses To Reconsider Case

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—The Supreme court has refused to reconsider a June 7 decision upholding sale of the Consolidated Steel Corp. to Columbia Steel Co., a subsidiary of U. S. Steel.

The request to reconsider the ruling was made by the Justice department. The government had sought to halt the sale on the ground it would result in a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The Supreme court refused the request to reconsider yesterday.

In asking reconsideration, Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman said that the court erred in finding there was no "specific" intent to accomplish an unreasonable restraint of trade and in finding that there would be no such restraint in actual operation of the plants affected by the purchase.

County Committee Endorses Candidate

MARSHALL, June 22. (AP)—The candidacy of Ben Woodall, Marshall attorney, for Congressman from the First district carries the endorsement of the Harrison County Democratic committee.

In a resolution last night the committee said Woodall's voice was the first raised in this section of the state to denounce the Civil Rights program.
