By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today the economic outlook is so promising that the estimated $1.9 billion deficit in President Kennedy's 1963-64 budget may be cut a billion dollars.

This provides even more reason for reducing taxes, Dillon told a meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Kennedy had forecast the deficit of nearly $12 billion—largest ever projected—when he proposed a $8.8 billion spending program for the year beginning July 1, along with a three-step tax reducing plan.

In his prepared remarks for a tax and spending discussion on the second day of the business group's meeting, Dillon said it would have been unrealistic four or five months ago to expect conditions for a tax cut would be so favorable.

"There is enough evidence to convince me," Dillon said, "that an adequate investigation by Congress will uncover wrongdoing of the kind that will send men to jail."

Demo Solons Laud Selves

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democratic leaders tossed bouquets at themselves today on the basis of House passage of compromise bills to aid farmers and to promote medical education.

After their weekly breakfast with President Kennedy, the party chiefs told newsmen they had advised Kennedy of the strength of Democratic leadership and unity in both branches of Congress.

House Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana singled out the party's hierarchy in the House for a particular accolade.

"They're rolling," said Mansfield, who declared the House leadership's work has been outstanding in the last week or so, in addition to what they've done previously.

Haiti Chief Is Accused Of Offering Bases To Castro

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican Republic charged today that President Francois Duvalier of Haiti had offered military bases to Cuba's Fidel Castro.

The charge was made by Foreign Minister Andres Freites to a peace-keeping mission of the Organization of American States—OAS—which arrived here this morning.

Members of the mission flew to Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, after an aerial conference with Freites.

War threats here received as the Dominican Republic claimed a bloodless victory over Haitian dictator Duvalier.

The Dominican government had proclaimed a "triumph for our national dignity" in the Haitian government's removal of guards from the grounds of the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince. An alleged opponent of Duvalier had taken refuge there.

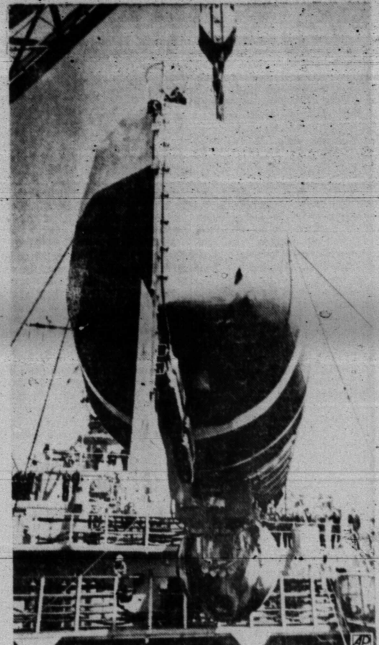

President Juan Bosch's government also took satisfaction from assurances from Haiti that it would respect the security of diplomatic missions there.

The Dominican government had charged that Haitian troops had invaded and surrounded its embassy in Port au Prince. Threatening to use force unless Duvalier gave in by 8 o'clock Monday night, it sent troop reinforcements to stations near the Haitian border and moved warships forward, the French-speaking Negro republic of which it shares the island of Hispaniola.

A fact-finding mission from the Organization of American States left New York for Port au Prince and Santo Domingo to try to smooth over the differences.

Haitian Foreign Minister Jean Francois Duvalier said President Freites had offered the Dominican government "all sorts of new offers to fight to free the people of Haiti from the dictatorship of Duvalier."

Boeing Faces Strike Edict

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The Boeing Co. faced a strike ultimatum today. The AFL-CIO Machinists' Union still held out hopes of averting a walkout, providing the huge aerospace firm would revise its contract offer.

The union Monday night, disclosed plans for a rolling strike to begin at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Thursday, reaching this area—site of Boeing's headquarters and center of its largest employment—next Tuesday.

Machinists' Vice President Harold J. Gibson said, "I want in the worst way to resolve this dispute, but the company hasn't given us any leeway."

Boeing, maker of the Minuteman missile and involved in other defense projects, declined comment.

The firm said earlier it would continue to operate in event of a strike and last week said it had no plans for improving a contract rejected by a margin of 877 votes out of more than 10,000 cast.

"Gibson said the strike would begin at 6 a.m. (local time) at the end of the third shift, whichever is later at each location."

Walkouts were scheduled Friday at Strategic Air Command and Minuteman bases at Minot, N.D.; Rapid City, S.D.; North Platte, Neb.; and Cheyenne, Wyo., and at the Boeing Air Force Base, Renton, Wash.

The work stoppage was set for next Monday at Vandenberg, AFB, Calif.; Huntsville, Ala.; and Miraflores, La. The strike at Boeing's Seattle and Renton plants and at the Boeing Air Force Base, Renton, Wash., was stated Tuesday.

A strike previously scheduled for April 15 was averted when negotiators in Washington, D.C., reached tentative agreement. That was overturned and the present strike precipitated when the union rank-and-file, led by Wichita workers, turned down the offer.

Another strike in the ten-month-old dispute set for Jan. 26 was skirted when President Kennedy obtained an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction.

About 15,000 of Boeing's production workers do not belong to the union. It has more than 50,000 other employees, including members of other unions, technicians, engineers, scientists and administrative personnel.

Performance analysis, a rating system for employees, is the key issue in dispute. Other items are relocation and travel pay at isolated missile sites, job evaluation, wages and union security.

Coastal Area Is Swept By Storms

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms swept parts of the lower Texas coast early Tuesday with damaging winds, hail and drenching rains.

Kennedy, in Karnes County, northwest of Corpus Christi, was hard hit. Two-thirds of a large steel shop building was knocked down by tornadic winds. Much tree damage occurred in a narrow path on the south part of town. Rain ranged from 1.5 to 2.5 inches.

Wood Hill, eight miles south of Victoria, reported 4.5 inches of rain during a 2 a.m. storm. Wind blew at 36 miles an hour.

Green and Chaulin in Karnes County reported 5 inches of rain. Karnes City, 7 miles away, gauged only .25 of an inch. Medco Creek went on a fast rise by the gauging.

Streams fell in an area where streams are expected to, far, outflow storm damage.

Water Registration Bill Barred For Day

By JERRY HILLARD
AUSTIN (AP) — Backers of a voter registration system began preparing amendments today after a technically barred a Senate-passed measure from today's House calendar.

Rep. Don Helton of Sherman, House sponsor of a Senate-passed annual voter registration bill—said a rule kept the Senate bill from the calendar. Tuesdays in the House are taken consideration of House and not Senate proposals.

On the House calendar is a House bill by Rep. Malcolm C. Gregor of El Paso setting up an annual voter registration system, such as the one backed by the Texas League of Women Voters.

McGregor's proposal would provide that a voter would re-register by voting at least once in a four-year period. No fee would be charged for voting.

The House spent the morning on a "local and untested" calendar.

The voter registration system will be needed if Texans vote to abolish the $175 poll tax.

Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio told the House Monday he will attempt to bring up a proposal to let 19-year olds vote in Texas.

The House last week voted 91-49 to submit this constitutional change to Texas voters, but lacked 5 votes of the required 100 to get it placed on the general election ballot.

Another proposal to let voters decide whether the legislature should treat congressional redistricting as it does House and Senate redistricting was postponed last week until today.

Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth is asking that voters approve a change to the constitution which would let a state board redraw congressional districts if the legislature fails to do so after 2 federal censuses.

With action on the tax bill scheduled Wednesday or Thursday, senators planned to spend all day today clearing some of the minor bills off their long calendar.

One voter registration proposal already passed by the Senate, sets up an annual voter registration system along with a 25-cent fee for voting. Sen. Tom Crenshaw of Mineral Wells is the sponsor. It does not contain a literacy test.

The other proposal, a House bill by Rep. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso, sets up a permanent voter registration system similar to that backed by the Texas League of Women Voters. A voter would register himself by voting at least once in a four-year period. No fee or literacy test is attached.

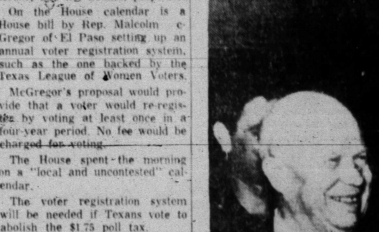

McGregor's proposal seems contingent upon approval by Texas voters of abolition of the poll tax.

A proposal to let voters decide if the legislature should take action on a House bill to set up the registration system only if the constitutional amendment were approved by the House.

Monday the House held morning, afternoon and a night session and gave tentative approval to several measures. It killed 103-37 a bill which would have allowed trucks to increase their lengths by 10 feet.

The House concurred in Senate amendments and sent to the governor a measure setting up a Texas tourist development agency, governed by a six-man advisory board and an executive director, all named by Comally. An appropriation of $20,000 is being sought for the agency.

Also sent to the governor a bill allowing the state Highway Department to set higher speed limits on Texas highways. The department could allow speed limits up to 70 miles per hour for automobiles in the daytime and 60 mph at night. Present limits are 60 and 55. Trucks could be permitted to drive 60 and 55, instead of the present 45 MPH.

Says Spiral Of Spending Starts Low

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, said today that "some of the roots of so-called high and reckless spending by the legislature are in the grass roots."

"To my knowledge the people of Texas have never defeated a constitutional amendment which called for spending money," Moffett told a breakfast meeting sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Moffett, chairman of the Senate subcommittee which wrote the appropriations bill, joined with Rep. W. B. Hooley of Paducah in a discussion of Texas' financial needs.

He said the legislature is trying to spend more than it takes in.

"We're in an era of big time spending," Moffett said. "In the biennium's appropriations, $1.11 there are about 10,000 items."

When the 59th Legislature meets, 1963 members must find a way to meet an increased expenditure in public education alone of not less than $50 million, Moffett said. "And I've said before and will maintain that the state sales tax will be up to 3.5 per cent in less than 10 years."

Hooley said the money spent is paying dividends.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—North Vietnamese Premier Phouma resumed talks today with Communist-controlled Pathet Lao.

He faced widening demands from the Pathet Lao in the talks, originally confined to hostilities in the Plain region but later enlarged to include political questions dividing the shaky coalition government.

Fighting in the Plain region has lulled since Friday.

The Pathet Lao demanded an expansion of the truce talks after charging that right-wing forces of the Phouma-Nouvion were infiltrating the Plain region.

The Phouma-Nouvion government has a long-term truce agreement with neutralist Gen. Kong Le.

Kong Le, Phouma and the American Embassy denied the accusations.

Western officials have charged that Communist North Viet Nam is aiding the Pathet Lao drive to take over the Plain region, Southeast Asian kingdom.

Sixteen North Vietnamese technicians employed at the Plain region, Laos, were registered to Hanoi today by agreement of the North Vietnamese and Laotian governments.

"It flopped before it began," Western observers said. "There is very little Russian aid today to influence the situation positively in Laos."

Dr. William H. Gordon Speaks To Snyder Audience On Food Fadism

Food fadism lies in with religious beliefs and the customs of a people. Dr. William H. Gordon told a large audience of Snyder people at the Food and Nutrition Meeting Thursday.

In some nations said Dr. Gordon, meat eating is taboo because of religious beliefs; in our nation certain meats are taboo for no known reason — we simply do not eat certain animals.

Other food patterns develop too. Dr. Gordon said, without understandable reason behind them. For example, the body actually needs about 1/2 gram of salt per day; most people in our country eat about 13 grams of salt each day, or about 26 times as much as they need. This desire for salt is an acquired taste, babies like food with no salt added. Usually this salt is not harmful or dangerous, but occasionally a condition develops in which it is necessary to limit the excess salt taken in by some individuals. It is essential, Dr. Gordon asked, to insist that all people limit their use of salt because it is harmful to a few people? This, he said, is one way food fads develop.

Americans, Dr. Gordon said, have gone on a vitamin binge. The proper place, he said, to buy vitamins is in the fruit and vegetable department of your grocery store. There are people who need vitamin supplements because their bodies for some reason does not assimilate the vitamins from the food they eat, or because they are unable to get or to eat the amount of fruits and vegetables they need. But most people, he said, can easily get all the vitamins they need. Many of the people who buy vitamin supplements are not ill, well-fed people who are getting more vitamins than they need.

There has to be some reason for us to leave this world, Dr. Gordon said. Since we have learned to prevent or cure many of the diseases that have served as that reason in past time, frequently now the reason is heart disease of some type. Hardening of the arteries, or atherosclerosis, is a frequent cause. Hardening of the arteries is a poor descriptive term, Dr. Gordon said, since it causes people to picture the arteries as stiffened like a stick of macaroni. It is more as if something is gradually deposited inside the tube of macaroni until the hole through it is much smaller. This occurs at all ages and no one knows why. It seems to occur more frequently in the United States than elsewhere.

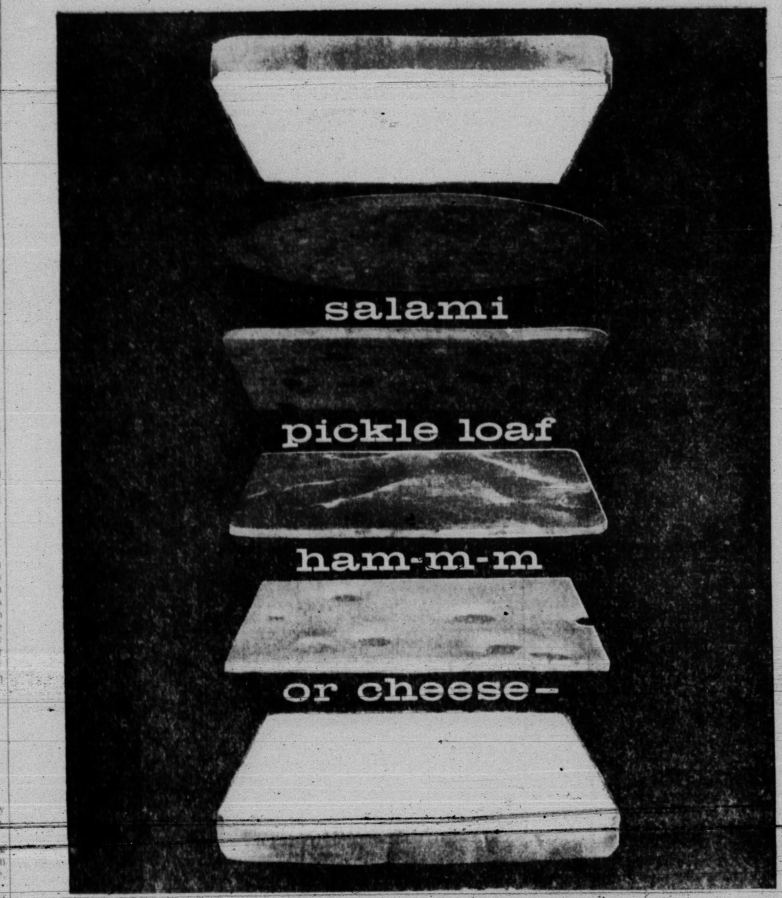

Much research is being done, Dr. Gordon said, but no one knows the answer yet. Americans have more animal fats in their diets than many other groups of people. Some research has indicated that animal fats may have an effect on the deposits in the blood vessels.

High that since some people with a high percentage of animal fat in their diet find this problem, then everyone should quit eating an

- Don't get in such a rut in your thinking, warned Miss Arnett, that you would prefer no breakfast at all for your child to a breakfast that varied from the one your family usually eats.
- School nurses have learned, she said, that one of the most frequent causes of upset stomach, and other cases of "feeling blue" between 8 and 10 a.m. is eating no breakfast.
- Miss Arnett showed slides she has taken in nursery schools and other child care centers. She used them to illustrate points in her discussion of food for pre-school children.
- Miss Arnett presented a similar program at 7 p.m. for a representative group of Mexican people. At the question and answer session following the night meeting Miss Arnett explained that children should not be forced to eat foods they dislike, but it is necessary to their health that they have some foods that supply certain necessary nutrients. She explained that it makes life pleasanter when they go away from home if they learn to accept a variety of foods.

Quebec Pearson's Biggest Problem

OTTAWA (AP) — One of the pressing problems facing Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson on the home front is growing discontent of Quebec Province with its role in the century-old Canadian confederation.

During this spring's election campaign Pearson, like other liberal party leaders, acknowledged the need for urgent action to improve the lot of the country's 5½ million French-speaking citizens. He indicated he would propose a commission to study the problem.

Most French-speaking Canadians live in Quebec, which includes the city of Montreal, and is after Ontario the second most populous province.

A terrorist organization called the Quebec Liberation Front has pulled off several bombings in the past few months. It says its object is to separate Quebec from the rest of Canada.

More peaceful French-Canadians say there is discrimination against them, especially in the choice of business executives and national officials. Many prominent leaders are pressing for official steps to insure a dual culture in Canada instead of efforts to assimilate French-speaking Canadians into an English-dominated culture. Both French and English are official languages.

Quebec's liberal premier, Jean Lesage has hit hard at the national government's attitude in the past. The fact that the Liberals are now in power in Ottawa is not expected to make him pull any punches on this issue.

The Canadian Press asked a number of prominent Quebec residents to state their views on their province's role in confederation. Almost invariably they expressed a belief that Lesage is moving toward a stronger role for Quebec in the national picture.

Novelist Hugh MacLennan said, "French-Canadians have developed remarkably and, at present, they have superb leadership in this province. They are going to exist and they have never been in a stronger position than now to maintain their existence. The Lesage government is determined not to leave culture at the mercy of a mass, continental market."

MacLennan said French-Canadians are "exasperated" when Canadians of English background cling to the notion that Canada is bound to develop as a sort of British state.

Historian Michel Brunet of the University of Montreal said Lesage's program is "nationalist enough" so that separatists—those who would split Quebec off from Canada—cannot find any fundamental quarrel with it. He said the collective ambitions of Quebec's citizens for a sense of identity depend for fulfillment largely upon the power and competence of the Quebec government.

A separatist spokesman, Andre d'Allemagne, described the Lesage program as "creative nationalism" but he said the full goal can never be achieved until Quebec has a national rather than a provincial government.

Jean Marchand, president of the Confederation of National Trade Unions, said separatism "isn't strong at the moment." He held that an atmosphere must be created in which Canadians of either language can feel at home anywhere in the country.

Aggies Boo Rudder Over Coed Deal

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — President Earl Rudder of Texas A&M was booed Monday by 4,000 students after he told them there was no chance of rescinding an order permitting women to attend the school.

Directors said Saturday women would be enrolled on a limited basis starting June 1.

The meeting Monday was attended by about half of the school's 100 students. The students chanted "we don't want to integrate."

The board of directors has absolute authority on this and other matters," Rudder said. "The United States Supreme Court has twice upheld the board's authority."

The A&M president said one of the reasons for making the school coeducational is that a bill is now pending in the legislature which would set up a second school of veterinary medicine at Texas Tech.

"If we had not voted to admit women to our school of veterinary medicine, many students would go to Texas Tech," Rudder said.

Rudder was booed and hissed numerous times by the Cadets.

France would fit comfortably inside the state of Texas.

Probe Due On Ouster Of Marine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican House member says the House Armed Services Committee will investigate the ouster of a former Marine officer who says he took part in a high-bush attempt to dispose of the body of a Cuban shot to death outside the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., said Monday after conferring with committee Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., that the committee staff will "immediately start an investigation" of the case of former Marine Lt. William A. Szil.

But Vinson declined comment on either the case or prospects for an investigation.

A former Marine captain believed to be involved in the case planned to leave San Jose, Calif., today with his wife to attend a White House reception Thursday night for 239 Medal of Honor winners.

Arthur J. Jackson, 37, now a medal carrier in San Jose, said, "I see no reason why the present publicity should change things. President and Mrs. Kennedy invited us and we certainly will attend."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Monday that Kennedy "had known about the case" when Jackson and the 239 other living recipients of the nation's highest military award were invited to the reception. Jackson was among the 239 who accepted. Jackson, honorably discharged from the Marines, has neither confirmed nor denied reports linking him with the death in 1961 of Ruben Lopez, whom Szil has characterized as a spy for Communist Cuba.

Base Funds Are Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee said today he is opposed to a Pentagon request for $18 million for improvements at the Roosevelt Roads Naval Base in Puerto Rico.

Vinson said there is nothing to published reports that the Navy wants to build up the Puerto Rico base as a step toward possible withdrawal from the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base in Cuba.

He said a special Armed Services subcommittee went to Puerto Rico last weekend to inspect the base.

"I asked them to go down there to make sure my position is correct," Vinson said.

The subcommittee, due to return to Washington today, is headed by Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C.

Electronic Computers Help Both Business, Government

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Instant analysis and total recall come ever closer to business and government. Nor is the housewife being forgotten.

Electronic computers and microfilm are teamed up to furnish information in a jiffy over the widening statistical spectrum that more and more colors everyone's life.

The Social Security Administration in Baltimore, for example, has more than 138 million accounts on microfilm. Each day between 10,000 and 15,000 applications for old age and disability retirement are received there for processing. Using microfilm information retrieval the agency can produce any Social Security number in less than 30 seconds. Even when the applicant has forgotten the number, the machine can find it.

At the National Microfilm Association meeting in San Francisco Wednesday, Recordak Corp. is introducing its Miracode system, which it calls an advance concept in automated microfilm information retrieval.

Microfilm is being used to keep case histories for hospitals, handie credit cards for oil companies, catch had check passers, preserve engineering drawings and plant layouts, keep records for public utilities, record complete editions of books, newspapers and periodicals.

The Church of the Latter-day Saints is putting all its worldwide genealogical records on microfilm some 15 years ago. This mission project is now about half-finished.

New machines with push button controls allow coded information to be retrieved on any desired length in seconds and reproduced clearly on a viewing screen. By touching another button, a copy can be made in seconds.

The microfilm industry is a wide one. Among those in the field are Remington Rand division of Sperry Rand Corp. Bell & Howell, Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing, Denocolor Corp. General Analytics & Film, Photostat Corp.

Among those turning out equipment to make microfilm more useful are Xerox, General Precision Equipment, and Television Utilities.

Mistakes are giving the industry a big workout. If a countdown is interrupted, repairmen use microfilm to find in about 30 seconds blueprints necessary for repairs.

And scientists are working on an adaptation for the housewife. One day they expect to supply a container about the size of the box camera of yesterday, so cheap that every housewife can keep her household records and receipts on film, along with birth certificates and clippings about and photos of family and friends.

East European Communist satellites had another poor crop year, in 1962 as a result of too little rain in parts, and too much rain and cold elsewhere.

Ponce de Leon first observed the Gulf Stream on a spring day in 1492.

Presentation Of Awards Is Teachers' Banquet Highlight

Presentation of service awards to school personnel highlighted the annual teachers' banquet Monday night at the high school cafeteria.

Attending the event were members of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association, the County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association and several guests.

Accepting 25-year service pin awards were Mrs. Marie Galbraith and Mrs. May Stantford, both of whom now teach at West Elementary School.

A 30-year pin went to Mrs. Rose Marie Lemons, teacher at Lamar Junior High.

The service awards were presented by William J. Scheibel, president of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association. He said the award is given to those who have shown exceptional ability in their profession.

Accepting 25-year service pins were Mrs. Marie Galbraith and Mrs. May Stantford, both of whom now teach at West Elementary School.

A 30-year pin went to Mrs. Rose Marie Lemons, teacher at Lamar Junior High.

The service awards were presented by William J. Scheibel, president of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association. He said the award is given to those who have shown exceptional ability in their profession.

New Manager Is Named By Phone Co.

Jim Brewer, manager for the southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Fort Stockton has been named manager for the company in Snyder, succeeding U. S. Strickland of 2911 Avenue V, who has been promoted to Unit Manager for the company in Abilene.

Brewer began his telephone career in Dallas in 1940 as a cable splice's helper. The following year he was promoted to commercial engineering assistant. He held various positions in the company's commercial department in Dallas until 1967 when he was transferred to Lubbock as forecast engineer. In 1966, he became commercial staff assistant, and in 1967 was appointed manager for the telephone company at Fort Stockton. He held that position until his transfer to Snyder.

Strickland has been manager for the telephone company in Snyder since 1962 when he was transferred here from commercial staff assistant in Dallas.

Volunteer In Final Fire Truck Ride

CHICAGO (AP)—Raymond Nelson, who served as a volunteer fireman in suburban River Grove for 36 years, will make his final ride today in a fire truck to be buried in Elmwood Cemetery.

Nelson, who is 81, joined as a volunteer fireman when he was 15 years old. He was the senior member of the 32-man department when he died Saturday of a stroke.

Fire Sweeps School Plant

RED OAK, Tex. (AP)—Fire swept through the Red Oak High School and gymnasium about 12 miles south of Dallas shortly after noon Monday causing $200,000 damage.

Black smoke and flames spewed from the 2½-story brick high school after the fire spread from the history frame gymnasium auditorium.

Some 60 pupils, eating lunch in the gym's lunchroom, and about 130 in the high school escaped without injury. Flames were discovered on the stage of the gym.

Fire Chief Perry McCallam estimated damages at $150,000 to the two buildings and $100,000 to the contents. He blamed defective wiring.

One of the prime objects in a general re-orientation is the budgeting of time, Dr. Wilborn declared. He said educators are beginning to question arbitrary allotments of time for various courses, because indications are that some require more than the traditional 60 minutes per day, while others may require substantially less.

Dr. Herman, president of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association, presided at the banquet. Scheibel was introduced by E. J. McCollum, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Wilborn was introduced by Herman Trigg, president of the Sturry County unit of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Strings Put On Transfers

RANGER, Tex. (AP)—Senior college athletes will not be permitted to transfer to members of the Texas Junior College Conference starting May 31.

The conference meeting here Monday passed a motion that "students having participated in senior college organized sports can not transfer to junior colleges after May 31, 1968, and participate in junior college athletic programs."

William C. Wir, dean of Schreiner Institute, was re-elected president of the conference.

Sentence Delayed To Finish Work

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A Minneapolis man who pleaded guilty to income tax evasion was sentenced to three months in prison, but he was granted a week's delay in order to finish some work.

Herbert Harfman, 59, told the court Monday his main occupation is preparing income tax returns for other people. U.S. Dist. Judge Edward Devitt stayed the start of the prison term to enable Harfman to complete some of his clients' tax returns.

Bride Is Killed In Auto-Truck Crash

DESERT CENTER, Calif. (AP)—A 19-year-old bride was killed when a truck crashed into her bridegroom's station wagon.

Airman Donald A. Scott, 22, of Luke Air Force Base, Glendale, Ariz., told police Monday that a short circuit doused the lights of the car. He said he was trying to repair it in darkness and was barely able to jump out of the truck's path seconds before it hit.

Dead is Alma Ray Scott, also of Glendale, Ariz. The driver of the truck, Benjamin C. Ford, 69, of Covina, Calif., was uninjured.

WITH WIN OVER CUBS

Tigers Can Sew Up Title Today

Senior Dalton Walton is the probable Snyder Tiger mound selection of this afternoon who will be trying to hurl his mates past the Brownfield Cubs and smack into the middle of the District 3-AAA three-room.

The first pitch is slated to be delivered at 4 o'clock, with the Towle Park diamond being the site for the important contest. Snyder is 5-1 in loop play, with only one game left with Lamesa (4-3) following the Brownfield engagement. Brownfield is standing in second place in the holdings with a 4-2 mark, so that victory today is essential to the Cubs' well-being, and also to the remainder of the league hands who still harbor hopes of a title tie.

The stark reality of the thing is that should Brownfield cart home a victory, then four of the five loop teams would still have a chance at no worse than a title tie. Lamesa is third at 4-3 and Colorado City fourth at 3-3, so that only winless Sweetwater (0-7) is out of the running on the eve of today's action.

Walton pitched the Tigers past the Cubs in their earlier meeting in Brownfield. He relinquished just two earned runs that day as his mates offered him ample plate support while snaring a 14-6 conquest. Walton, also one of the top stickmen on the club, currently carries a district win-loss record of 2-0. In addition to his pitching, he also numbers Sweetwater among his victims.

Bengal Coach Speedy Moffett has announced as his probable starting nine: Drew Ballard, second base, 364; Kenny Gay, catcher, 241; Walton, pitcher, 412; Kenny Well-

NEW YORK (AP)—Printed programs for college varsity coeds traditionally carry team rosters, providing such valuable information as: "Bunch Fatback—No. 20, Ht. 6-1, Age 21, Class Sr."

Now an additional column will have to be added, giving figures like these: "34-2-34."

These, of course, represent vital statistics of the other—or so-called weaker—sex, and we're going to be dealing with them on an increasing scale in the coming years.

The Southeastern Conference took the initiative recently—quietly and with a collective blush—by announcing that henceforth coeds would be allowed to compete on varsity athletic teams.

At Tulane, Martha Leveritt and Pam Hayes, a pair of shapely nermalids, went out for the swimming team and triggered a stampede for the university pool.

Miss Leveritt swam in two events in the 200-yard freestyle. She didn't score any points but, as one observer commented, "She upset the concentration of the opposition." Pam is a freshman breaststroker—Tulane's secret weapon for next year.

Women on varsity sports teams are not entirely new. Pat Lesser, former National Women's Amateur champion, played No. 1 on the Seattle golf team back in the 1950's. Janet Hopps and Maureen Driscoll were on the tennis team. Grace Lenzyk played varsity golf at Stetson and Mary Slaughter, whose dad was an All-American football star, was a tennis star at Virginia and later West Virginia.

But the most disquieting news comes from down Maryland-West Virginia way.

Marlene Hohmann is rated the third best shooter on West Virginia's rifle team which ranked fourth in the nation. And Maryland has three girls—Jean Hayes, Ruth Cole and Pat Sanford, on the national shoot-off this year.

One of the best players on the Memphis State tennis varsity is a girl named Bonnie Dondeville but the University of Mississippi refused to play against her. Nancy Devlin won three of her four matches at Marietta, Ohio, College and then was denied a varsity letter because of a rule limiting letters to "bonafide male undergraduates."

At Louisville, Martha Aulbach posted a 5-2 record and Elizabeth Cray 6-3 against males in varsity tennis. Then the opposition started protesting. Their complaint was that it created an awkward situation in dressing room facilities. The real trouble, someone said, was the girls' blistering forehands.

Carol Hanks, the No. 12-ranked women's tennis player in the United States, plays the second varsity position for Washington University of St. Louis, constantly clobbering her male opponents, and next year Athletic Director Harry Burrus says he hopes to have another fanking woman player—Justina Bricka, ninth nationally.

Coach Moffett has indicated that one possible switch could see Raymond Matthews (3-1) taking the hill instead of Walton. Should that be the case, then Walton will be inserted in center field.

Snyder is to close out its regular slate Saturday in Lamesa in a game scheduled to get underway at 2 o'clock.

Mets Win On Costly Balk

By MIKE RAYTHE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball, on the American plan, had an international flavor today with the men featuring a bunch of men in blue acting like Dutch and a couple of guys wondering whether they'll have to climb into khakis in the Caribbean.

The umpires went into their windmill act again Monday night, waving the winning run home on a balk as the New York Mets defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 in a historic game that insured the 1963 balk controversy its place in the record books.

San Francisco outfielder Felipe Alou said after the Mets' 4-3 victory over Philadelphia that he and pitcher Juan Marichal might be recalled to military service with the Dominican Republic's armed forces because of their homeland's current crisis with Haiti.

The only other major league games were played at Los Angeles where the Senators and Angels of the American League took turns walloping each other in a tail-night doubleheader. The Senators won the opener 9-3, the Angels took the nightcap 13-8.

Rain postponed the other games—Houston at Pittsburgh and Chicago at Cincinnati in the NL, and Baltimore at Minnesota and New York at Chicago in the AL.

The runs were forced in by balks in the Mets-Dodgers game. The first charged to New York starter Roger Craig, gave Los Angeles a 2-1 lead in the second inning. That held until the seventh when Ed Kranepool started a three-run rally with a double off Bob Miller. Charlie Neal then beat out a bunt, Kranepool scored the

Her Horizons Unlimited Now

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — After winning her first major golf tournament in 14 years as a professional, blue-eyed Marilyn Smith says she is ready to get down to business and make the game pay off.

"This is the fastest start I've ever had," she said after winning the Women's Titleholders Championship in a playoff Monday. "I feel that this year I'm going to see if I can make it pay off."

Trailing by three strokes after 13 holes, the Tequesta, Fla., pro made a remarkable comeback on the difficult back side of the Augusta Country Club course. She sank an 8-foot putt on the 18th green to defeat defending champion Mickey Wright by one stroke.

They were tied with 292 total after 72 holes of regulation play. Miss Smith won $1,000 for her first place and Miss Wright, of Dallas, received $1,000.

Vic Bubas is in his fourth season as basketball coach at Duke. He captained the 1949 North Carolina State team.

Illnesses Strike Yank, Cuban Camps

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Illnesses gave the gold medal to the U.S. track team both a boost and a blow as the track and field events resumed today at the Pan-American Games.

The only final event on today's card is the 2,000-meter steeplechase. George Young of Las Cruces, N.M., fifth in the event at the 1959 Games, probably will be scratched.

He has a lung spot which has failed to clear to the satisfaction of team doctors.

Balancing the loss of Young was the elimination of Cuba's Enrique Figueroa, 10-meter winner, from the 200-meter trials today. The chunky Cuban sprinter is down with neuralgia. His absence should improve the chances of U.S. sprinters.

In addition to the 200-meter trials are on tap in the broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400-meter hurdles. The decathlon also gets underway.

The U.S. has collected 64 gold medals so far. Three came Monday, all in shooting, during a very light schedule.

Yachting is scheduled to wind up today in all six classes, with competition in basketball, baseball, boxing, volleyball and water polo.

Another report from the sick bay had Earl Young of Abilene, Tex., fit for the 400 and 1,600 meter relays Saturday. Young missed the 400-meter final Sunday because of stomach trouble.

The U.S. also made an official request for heats in the 1,500 meters, where Jim Beatty and Jim Grelle, America's premier distance men, are the main attractions.

Head coach Lou Montgomery of Cornell said he wanted the heats Friday to trim the 14-man field to more manageable size. Beatty and Grelle will shoot Saturday for the games record of 3 minutes, 49.1 seconds set by Dyrrol Birlston in 1959, and should snap it by 10 seconds if they get running soon.

Coalition Loses In 4 Big Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The once powerful conservative coalition in the House has lost every test so far in the present Congress.

Leaders of both parties agreed today, in separate interviews, that the combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats that dominated the House for nearly a generation just isn't what it used to be.

A review of the four major test votes that have taken place in the House since the new Congress convened in January bears them out.

What has happened is this: The Republican ranks are as firm as ever, but more and more Southern Democrats are voting like Northern and Western Democrats.

However the four votes are not all clear-cut indicators of conservative strength. There is some indication that Democratic leaders have put their best foot forward by bringing up bills on which they felt their chances were best.

For the purposes of the analysis the votes of the 95 Democrats from the 11 states that made up the old Confederacy were examined. The total party division in the House is 257 Democrats and 177 Republicans, with one vacancy.

Here is the pro and anti-administration split among the Southern Democrats on the four votes:

—Jan. 9. To keep the Rules Committee membership at 15, aimed at making it easier to get administration bills to the House floor. Southerners voted 50-44 with the administration.

—April 10. To restore $450 million for emergency public works. The split was 60-20.

—April 24. Against removing a $30-million student loan provision from the doctor-dentist training bill. Southerners 53-28.

—April 25. Against killing the administration's feed grains bill. Southerners 67-16.

On all these votes Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana held his party members in a virtually solid block.

But, Halleck said in an interview, "we can't do anything for fiscal responsibility without some support for the other side. And that support just hasn't been there."

Solons Urge Protection Of Israel

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators called today for U.S. intervention to stave off any Arab aggression against Israel in the exclusive Middle East.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., proposed that the United States attempt to get Great Britain, France, and other Western nations to join it in a collective defense agreement with Israel.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said this country should offer its good offices for direct peace negotiations between Israel and its Arab neighbors. Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser is attempting to weld the Arab nations into a United Arab Republic.

Javits said in a prepared Senate speech that a threatened pro-Nasser takeover of Jordan, plus threats to Israel, indicates "time is running out on peace in the Middle East."

"To stop a mounting war threat now and foreclose also renewed Communist mischief," he said, "the United States in concert with the United Kingdom, France and other interested nations should offer to join in a collective defense agreement with Israel and any other Middle East state willing to join and carry out its obligations for the preservation of peace and security in the Middle East."

"The Soviet Union's support of Nasser goes far beyond even the huge masses of guns, tanks, planes, submarines and ships that it has poured into Egypt to re-equip Nasser's armies."

"Because the Kremlin knows Israel is committed to the free world by conviction as well as every other tie, it regards Israel as legitimate prey, and it will—as it has already—use every opportunity to stir up the Arabs and support their attacks on Israel."

Scott called in an address to the Adas Israel Congregation Monday night for an end to the Kennedy administration's "even-handed" policy in dealing with Middle East nations. He said this should be supplanted by direct support of Israel.

He said Nasser is continuing to get U.S. economic aid despite actions which violate congressional directives that help should not be given to countries which blockade international waterways, discriminate against U.S. citizens or divert their own economic resources to projects which support the Communist bloc.

"Nasser has been doing all of that and U.S. aid is still pouring into the U.A.R.," he said.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Well, we are in the midst of spring now (it starts in February when you are still shoveling snow) and in keeping with tradition the entire country is turning out for sporting events of various types.

Golf courses, tennis courts, soccer fields, baseball diamonds and the race track are filled to the brim with both spectators and contestants. As a matter of fact, every empty lot of any size in the city has weekend games going on.

A big lot may have two or three soccer or baseball games running simultaneously and is packed with neighborhood onlookers and ice cream vendors. Smaller lots sometimes have one soccer and one baseball game being played and occasionally the players get involved in each other's field which makes a very interesting contest.

Generally speaking, there are four seasons for sports here. For instance, you have spring golf, summer golf, fall golf and winter golf. The same periods apply to fishing, swimming and a number of other activities.

Let it be said now that Spring Fever, which starts around January 31 and continues until December 31, fails to hamper the efforts of the sports minded. Many a fan sits through heavy summer downpours to watch bullfights and it is a matter of record that no spirited bull ever backed out of a fight because of inclement weather.

Throughout their long history, Mexicans have been great indulgers in sports of all kinds. The Aztecs and Mayas used to play a game called "ring ball" in which the two sides scuffed for a hard rubber ball and tried to knock it through stone hoops on each side of the court. Presumably, the team with the highest score won a free trip to Greece or at least a season's pass to the old Gestalt Theater.

Another famous sport that has been handed down from generation to generation is "fiesta." When playing "fiesta," the contestants gather at somebody's house with their equipment which consists of music (live or on records), bottled chemicals like rum and tequila, and a supply of heavy laughter.

The music is turned on immediately, and everyone begins experimenting with the chemicals. There is no limit on the amount of game of "fiesta" and normally the side with the most players on their feet at the end is declared the winner.

This is probably the most popular game in the country today and is played the year-around, regardless of weather. Everyone in the country from the most humble peasant to the foreign diplomat corps is considered an expert "fiesta" player and could hold a strategic position on any team in the world.

For those less addicted to violence, however, there are various other acceptable sports enjoyed by millions of fans. Among these are: Watching Television — Requires for equipment one TV set, a newspaper to lay over your stomach when you scratch it, and one set of earplugs (optional) when the lawmen start shooting.

Thinking — For this game, a hammock is stretched between two trees and the participants assume a reclining position. A tin of uric acid should be kept with thoughts of what they would be doing if they were not thinking or possibly how many ways one may wind a wrist watch.

The professional think players can contemplate such subjects as expense accounts, income tax and the problem of relatives.

Nothing — This is my favorite and also is played with a hammock. The solitary version is best and the object is to lie in the hammock staring at a flower or the top of a tree until unconscious. A rough game, perhaps, but well worth it.

The next group of Ranger rockets is expected to be chiefly television stations in space.

New Book Points To Ominous South American Situation

By INEZ ROBB

No sane person will deny that in the second half of the 20th century we live in perilous times. And perhaps in no sphere is the time so perilous—or so smart—as in South America.

The reading I am about to recommend will give pleasure to no one. But at least it will inform Americans of the whirlwind, fed on hunger and despair, that is gathering in the other half of the hemisphere.

The title of revolution is running so strong in Latin America that Gertrud Clark's new book bears the ominous title, "The Coming Explosion in Latin America." David McKay Company, publishers, Clark, an associate editor of the Montreal Star and formerly its chief foreign correspondent, has written a treatise that ought to have the widest possible audience in the United States.

But his book emphasizes the fact that rampant revolution today is sparked not by Marxism but by hunger, and by men everywhere who are determined no longer to be either hungry, landless or exploited. Marxism rushes in to exploit the situation whenever and wherever it can. But the situation and the acute physical hunger of millions of men, women and children existed before Marxism and certainly before Fidelism.

Anyone who has traveled in Latin America must recognize the truth of Clark's factual account of the shuddering poverty that exists side by side with vast feudal wealth coupled with unconcern for the hungry poor.

"They are human cattle," a Peruvian oligarch told Clark. And he heard that phrase repeated over much of Latin America.

"More than half of Latin Americans are chronically undernourished and hungry," Clark writes. "Some of them live under conditions worse than anything I saw in China a few years ago. Most people possess nothing but their simple clothing (half the Brazilians have no shoes) and a decrepit chair or two; any hope of owning more is necessarily slight among human beings with a per capita income of only $280 a year."

"But even this figure is deceptive since the statisticians divide among the many the billions of dollars owned by the few. At least half, and probably closer to two-thirds, do not rank in the statistics as consumers at all; these are the men and women in the rural areas who exist on what they can grow in minuscule patches, and in the cities, on what they can pick up in scrap heaps."

"Although 60 percent of all Latin Americans are engaged in agriculture, the bulk of arable soil—three quarters of it—is owned by a handful class numbering two percent. Similarly, the mines, the oil fields, the utilities, when not under the control of foreign investors, are owned mostly by this layer of wealthy families.

"In essence, the feudal despotism created by the conquistadores persists, with minor modifications, to this day."

"The above is a moderate statement of facts, as well as an indictment of a system that is leading to what Clark sees as the coming explosion."

The Alliance for Progress has had little or no effect in changing the social and economic patterns of 400 years. The Alliance has not made even a dent in the tax system "where income tax dodging, next to making money, is the most popular pastime of Latin America's rioting."

It has had even less success in any kind of an equitable distribution of land. There are two kinds of hunger in Latin America: actual, physical hunger, and hunger for land, enough land on which a man can raise food to feed himself and his family.

"If there is no immediate land reform, there will be communism," says Clark.

Even before I read Clark's book I had read in the April 1 edition of "Christianity and Crisis" a most disturbing article, titled "The New Revolutionary Mood in Latin America" by Richard Shaull, a missionary in Latin America for many years and now a member of the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Neither Clark or Shaull offer comfort. But they offer information vital to us North Americans. Copyright, 1962, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Youngster Is Kept Fit By Telephonitis

By JOY STILLLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy himself may be worried about the physical fitness of the younger generation, but I can set his mind at ease about the younger generation "in our household, at least the necessities of life from the various storage places within her reach. Fortunately for her, the telephone is in the kitchen and the word-processor is in the refrigerator and to cabinets stocked with food to give her energy for her talkations."

Residing as a medium of communication and an opportunity to do the daily dozen, the prolonged sessions with Mr. Bell's brainchild give dad the perfect excuse when he's late for dinner. He can always claim he tried to call and the line was busy—and it always was.

Realizing that telephonitis is a disease as measles is common to childhood, I try to be patient with my AT&T addict.

My amateur athlete keeps herself in superb condition with three hours a day of these calisthenics, all while clutching the phone between her ear and shoulder, in the crook of her arm, or balanced on her stomach while she sprawls comfortably on the sofa.

A good deal of her activity is concerned with supplying herself with the necessities of life from the various storage places within her reach. ### Junior Editors Quiz on JUTE

QUESTION: Why are burlap bags called gunny sacks?

ANSWER: This is because such bags are made out of "gunny cloth," a coarse but strong material woven from jute fiber. Jiny and Jim are accustomed to seeing the feed they give their horse delivered in such sacks, but they little realize that the material in the bags has come to their barn all the way from India.

The jute fiber is taken from the stems of the jute plant, which has tall stalks up to 14 feet high. After these plants have bloomed, the jute farmers cut the stalks close to the ground and soak them in water so the gum which holds the fibers together is loosened. Then the fibers are beaten out, dried, and made into large bales. These are shipped to manufacturers in many places who spin the fibers into thread and weave them into gunny.

This cloth is used for many other purposes besides bags. As burlap, it is made in different weights and used as a support in upholstering furniture and inside automobile seats. It is a base material used in making linoleum and is very useful in packaging large objects.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here's an old sport from horse and buggy days with which you can still have a lot of fun. Get a few gunny sacks and a friend for each sack; then get the friends into the sacks, have them hold the sacks up under their arms, and start to race. All sorts of things will happen!

End Controls, Oilman Urges

By MAX B. SKELTON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of the Petroleum Association of America said today the industry must make immediate efforts to get Congress to remove wellhead prices of natural gas from federal controls. "There is no useful purpose in further postponing the inevitable," said Harold Decker, president of the Highland Oil Co. at Houston. The head of the 7,000-member trade group said totally unworkable efforts by the Federal Power Commission since 1954 to regulate gas prices have created one of the most serious, long-standing and frustrating dilemmas ever to confront the industry. "Nine years of experience have refuted the logic and proved the futility of such regulation," Decker told the final session of IPAA's mid-year meeting. A Texas congressman agreed. "History has already recorded the fallacy of attempting to effectively and fairly regulate at the federal level the production and gathering of natural gas," said Rep. Walter Rogers. "It would be my hope this issue be hit straight on and let the chips fall where they may," Rogers said this would require a united front by all segments of the industry. The Supreme Court ruled in 1954 the FPC should regulate the price of gas sold wholesale into interstate commerce for resale. The FPC sought originally to handle each producer's case on an individual basis but switched in 1960 to a formula under which prices were set for each of 23 major producing areas. Hearings on prices for the first of the 23 areas — the vast Permian Basin of West Texas and southeastern New Mexico — have been under way since early 1961. "There must eventually be corrective gas legislation to clarify the position of the producer," Decker said. "It is up to the industry to light the torch. Such legislation should be a priority objective of this association." IPAA's gas policy was expected to recommend today that vigorous efforts be made to get Congress to act this year. Two bills are before Congress. "It is my present feeling of

Village In Mexico Hit By Smallpox

By BOB M. GASSAWAY
ALAZAN, Mexico (AP) — Virtually every resident of this tiny northern Mexico village is ill, and at least eight are believed to have the dreaded smallpox. Doctors from the Red Cross hospital in nearby Rio Tiseno said early today that the tentative diagnosis of the illness of the Israel Gomez family—all eight members—is smallpox. They add, however, that the diagnosis has not been confirmed in a laboratory. The other 17 families in the village have illnesses ranging from tuberculosis to diarrhea. Most of the villagers also are suffering from dehydration and malnutrition, Dr. Soerates Garcia Cantu said. This tiny farming community is about 25 miles south of the Mexican-Texas border and some 45 miles northwest of Brownsville, Tex. Dr. Garcia said although the diagnosis had not been confirmed, all possible sanitary precautions were being taken at the village which already is plagued with a severe drought and lack of food. The community is not listed as an epidemic area, however. The area is accessible only by vehicles with four-wheel drive. Rugged ambulances were driven to the village early today to take the Gomez family to the federal hospital in Reynosa. There have been no deaths, but two doctors and a group of nurses were in the village immunizing all residents against smallpox. Dr. Garcia said many are suffering from a lack of vitamins and have lost the ability to see at night because of vitamin deficiencies. The Mexican Public Health Service reported 15 infants from the area have been treated for dehydration in the last two weeks. Residents of both sides of the Rio Grande, which separates Texas and Mexico, are attempting to aid the villagers. The Harlingen, Tex. Chamber of Commerce is collecting food and clothes. Merchants in Reynosa are sending corn for tortillas and beans, and at least three families from Brownsville drove to Rio Bravo Monday night to offer aid.

Panel Okays Odessa Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill creating a new state-supported school at Odessa won approval Monday night from the House State Affairs committee. The bill, by Rep. George Cook, Odessa, would elevate Odessa Junior College from a two-year school to Permian State College of Technology, a four-year institution, effective in 1965. The same committee approved measures last week which would set up new state colleges at San Angelo and Edinburg. San Angelo currently has a junior college while Permian State College at Edinburg is a four-year school but only partially state-supported. Debate by the entire House is pending on the San Angelo and Permian American bills. Voting against the Odessa measure were Reps. Sam Collins, Newton, David Crews, Conroe, Gene Hendryx, Alpine, John Allen, Longview, and Wilson Foreman, Austin. Allen, chairman of the committee, said last week that pressure was put on him and his committee by "the speaker, the lieutenant governor and the governor" to give committee approval to the San Angelo and Permian American proposals.

Leaders Are Reluctant To Shift Power

By JAMES MARILOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—All around the world younger men are in the wings, waiting to take over. It looks like some wait. Power is like glue. When a man has it he sticks to it unless he's pried loose or there's a rule against sticking to it. There are few such rules. So the world is run mostly by old-timers. President Kennedy at 45 is the only leader of a major nation under 60. The oldest, 87-year-old Chancel-

Pakistan Is Fearful Of India's Aims

By HENRY BRADSHIRE
KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan and Iran called on the Central Treaty Organization—CENTO—today to face up to possible non-Communist aggression as well as threats from Communist countries. Sources at a closed-door session of the annual meeting of CENTO foreign ministers said Pakistan Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto had India's military build-up in mind. He spoke after U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk defended Western arms aid to India at the public opening session. Iran was reported worried about trouble from the soon-to-be enlarged United Arab Republic. One of the three members of the new union will be Iraq. Iran's neighbor to the west. Rusk's remarks obviously were directed at Pakistan, which has threatened to re-examine its alliance with the West because of the U.S. British aid to India. Pakistanis contend the Western weapons may be turned against them in disputed Kashmir. Rusk told the other four foreign ministers of the alliance that Chinese aggression against India showed the continued danger of communism. He said American policy is to come to the aid of any victim of Communist aggression since peace is indivisible. "If Communist aggression succeeds anywhere it gains in appetite and weakens the free world morally and physically," he said. Britain, Pakistan, Iran and Turkey are CENTO members. The United States is a fully participating observer. Although the subject was soft-pedaled in the public speeches, British and American diplomats held private meetings with Pakistan leaders on the Kashmir dispute between India and Pakistan.

Deadline On Applications
WASHINGTON—Rep. Joe Pool, Congressman at Large from Texas has announced a May 25 deadline for filing applications for 1963 64 service academy nominations. Forms to be filed by applicants for nominations to the U. S. Air Force, Military, Naval and Merchant Marine academies must be returned from Rep. Pool in 142 Capitol Hill, Room 3109, Washington. Because of the volume of applications which he receives from districts throughout the state, the Congressman at Large explained he will ask each candidate to take a special Civil Service Commission examination to be given on July 8 at Civil Service Examination Center in Austin. Candidates also are required to have a complete physical examination at an authorized government medical center. "I am tremendously proud of the quality of young Texans who are interested in service academy appointment," Rep. Pool said, and I want to be sure of selection on the fairest possible basis.

SHS Judges Place High

The Snyder High School Future Farmers of America team placed first in area grass judging at Texas Tech over the weekend. The same team then placed second in overall judging. Tommy Hallmark of the Snyder team was high individual, while Ernest Shifflett was seventh high. The other member of the winning Snyder team was Paul Savage. The crops judging team composed of Billy Laster, John Zalman and Larry Lee placed fifth in area competition. The Snyder judging teams are coached by Billy McMillan, vocational agriculture teacher at Snyder High School. Spiders live high and low. Jumping spiders have been discovered at 22,000 feet on Mount Everest. Quicks are found in deep caves.

ROLLING RATTLER ROUNDUP—Miss Ethel Sperry of Tulsa captured a rattler during the annual Rattlesnake Roundup at Okeene, Okla., even though she's confined to a wheelchair by polio. Miss Sperry and a fellow employee, Juanita Moore, went hunting, not really expecting to catch anything. They found this 4-foot snake and Miss Sperry held it with a snake-catching tool and some men completed the capture. It was Miss Sperry's second snake hunt, but her first catch. (AP-Wirephoto)

Is Wrestling Sport, Or Just Vaudeville?

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—Even a jury can't decide whether pro wrestling is vaudeville or sport. Promoter Bob Reitzwig was charged with staging a wrestling show in El Monte without a license from the State Athletic Commission. Reitzwig brought his wrestlers into court and argued that all falls—and even the dialogue—were rehearsed and executed according to prepared scripts. The trial ended Monday in a hung jury. Municipal Judge John K. O'Neil set a new trial for June 10.

Adenauer's Christian Democratic party, over his protests, has picked a successor for him when he goes. If he goes, it will be either Ludwig Erhard if there is a change it probably won't come before next fall. Erhard may reverse Adenauer's bid, swinging more toward the United States, less toward France. No one is suggesting he'll fess with the NATO alliance. Chances are he'll try to make it stronger. Khrushchev longed for some of the tyranny of Stalin and loomed the unity of world communism by his downgrading of Stalin. He talked about getting along in a peaceful world. This time, he wouldn't try to grab all of it, if he could. No one expects his successor to be less eager. Still, it's unlikely the new boss, when Khrushchev goes, will try to revert to Stalinism. He probably couldn't if he wanted to. Mao Tse-tung in Red China has achieved around him trusted men to help him conquer. So things will hardly be better under his successor. France, under De Gaulle, is completely unpredictable. He saved it from chaos. Judging from the erratic history of the French, when De Gaulle goes the tide of chaos may sweep back. Britain, with its ties to this country, will probably follow the close unity with the United States. But the glass is too cloudy to attempt to say what the future holds in India when Nehru is gone. In Spain after Franco, or in Portugal after Salazar, or in Yugoslavia after Tito.

Barry Would Use Bombs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., says the United States should bomb certain rail and road facilities used by the Chinese Communist. He called for further Communist buildings in South Viet Nam and Laos. "It would be a risk," he told newsmen Monday. "But everything we do is a risk. If we are going to back away from risks we ought to quit." Goldwater, in Philadelphia to address the annual convention of the American Warehousemen's Association, said supplies from Communist China to the fighting front in Viet Nam could move along only one railroad line—a one-way, both in the Communist-held Red River valley of North Viet Nam. "He said he did not think the Soviet Union would become involved if the United States attacked those routes."

Jayne Flies For Divorce

JAUREZ, Mexico (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield's attorney said the hollywood blonde was to fly to this Mexican border town today for a quickie divorce from her musician husband, Mickey Hargitay. Less than two weeks ago, Miss Mansfield said, "I've been thinking it over and weighing our problems for more than a year. I think it's better that we go our separate ways." Her attorney, Gomez Trevino, said Monday she would file a divorce petition with the 1st Civil Court of Juarez soon after arriving from El Paso, Tex., just across the Rio Grande. She will have to wait 24 hours before the divorce is effective, Trevino said. A substance that repels boll weevils and that may eventually help control the pests has been discovered in the cotton plants themselves by Mississippi Experiment Station Scientists.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the morning "coffee" at the government mansion in Nashville, then speak at exercises commemorating Vanderbilt University's 90th anniversary. From the Vanderbilt Stadium the President will press a button triggering a blast of dynamite starting construction of the Percy Priest Dam on the Cumberland River. Averell Harriman has returned from his trouble-shooting mission over Laos with a written report for President Kennedy. Harriman, who visited Paris, London and Moscow on his week's trip, spoke for 3 1/2 hours with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. TEF FIGURES. The General Accounting Office, the experts who advise Congress on whether things add up, has reportedly given up trying to sort out the figures in the TEF warplane award. Sources said Monday that GAO found a confusing host of figures which defied its efforts to get at the basis for the disputed award of the contract to the General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex. Military boards had recommended a design by the Boeing Co. of Seattle and the Senate Investigations subcommittee has been holding hearings to learn why Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara overruled them.

BUILDING OR BUYING A NEW HOME?

YOU'LL WANT TO KNOW ABOUT THE ADVANTAGES OF A FLAMELESS ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

There's no better time than right now—while you're planning your new home—to discover the wonderful benefits of a flameless quick recovery electric water heater. Besides the dependable hot water supply you'll get, here are other reasons you'll be glad you chose electric:

- FAST—High-speed electric heating elements are immersed in the water, heating it and not the tank. The tank is insulated all around—including the bottom—to prevent heat loss.
- SAFE—Flameless electric water heating gives you peace of mind. No flame to blow out, no pilot light to worry about.

CLEAN—No by-products of combustion. No unpleasant fumes. No flue to accumulate soot. An electric water heater is as clean as an electric light.

SILENT—No annoying start-up or shut-off sounds. No noise at all while water is being heated. A flameless electric water heater is completely silent and carefree.

INSTALLS ALMOST ANYWHERE—Because a flameless electric water heater needs no flue, it can be installed almost anywhere in the house, close to the point of greatest use. This saves long pipe runs and waste due to water cooling in the pipes.
