59TH YEAR — NO. 47

"O GIVE THANKS to the Lord." Not only on Thanksgiving Day, but throughout the year residents of Hereford and Deaf Smith County have many blessings for which to thank our Lord. During the recent year, farmers have reaped many bountiful harvests from fields of wheat, grain sorghum, cotton and vegetables. Now, with harvest of most of the crops finished, farmers will begin another cycle of planting — and with the grace of our Lord, they will be looking forward to future harvests. (Staff Photo)

City Battles Traffic Hazards

Two traffic problems were ordered changed by the Hereford City Commission during the 11th meeting Monday night.

In one, they ordered City Attorney Earnest Langley to draft an ordinance prohibiting signs from being displayed on highway right-of-way, particularly along U. S. Highway 60.

The other is an order to forbid parking on the south side of Park Avenue.

First change, along the highways, will prohibit businesses from having poles or signs on the right-of-way itself. It would allow a sign pole behind the r-o-w line, with an overhanging sign, at least eight feet above the ground and not extending past the curb line.

Reason for the ordinance is the difficulty encountered by motorists in seeing on-coming traffic when entering the highway from a side street.

Only exception to the no-parking ban on Park Avenue will be at the swimming pool and at a grocery store in the 1300 block of Park Avenue. Both these places have off-street parking.

Commissioners also voted to build a new golf cart shed on the south side of the Pitman Municipal Course, near the new pro shop. The 70x24 foot building will cost about $2,200. Bids will be taken for the building soon. Commissioners voted that all cart owners will be charged rental. Rental fees are expected to pay for the building in five years.

An offer to relieve the city of cost of underground conduit installation, if such were needed in the future, in exchange for an easement on the south side of the city dump ground by the Southwestern Public Service Company was tabled.

City Manager Dudley Bayne was authorized to extend two notes due at banks here. One note is for $25,000, the other for $30,000.

The City also voted to pave about 300 feet of Bradley Street inside the city limits west from Knight Street to the city limits. The county plans to pave the rest of the street west from there to the West Lawn Cemetery, to take traffic off of Harrison Highway. Claude Ricketts and Ezra Norton appeared to make the request.

Hold Man On DWI Charge

Lino R. Hernandez, 31, 305 Lake St., was charged with driving while intoxicated, first offense, after arrest by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department Saturday night south of Hereford.

Hernandez was arrested on the road between U. S. 385 and the Labor Camp at 9:43 p. m. Saturday. Making arrest was County Sheriff Lowell Sharp.

The case is pending action in County Court.

L. J. Clark Wins Football Contest

L. J. Clark, 316 Avenue J, finally worked his way up to first place in the Hereford Brand football contest. He compiled 134 points to win the ten-week contest and two tickets to the Cotton Bowl classic in Dallas on Jan. 2.

Clark won third in the contest in 1958 and placed second last year before working his way to the top of the heap this year.

Raymond Lueb took second in the contest with 129 correct choices while Ronnie Gray placed third with 127. Each will receive one ticket to the Cotton Bowl from the Brand.

Dallas Phillips and D. C. Martin tied for fourth place with 125 each.

Assistant resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, Clark said Tuesday he hoped to attend the Cotton Bowl game this year, particularly if Navy is the visiting team. Selection of the visiting team isn't expected until after this weekend's games across the country.

The slashing Razorbacks from Arkansas won a Cotton Bowl berth last Saturday by defeating Texas Tech. Two other ESCAPING INJURY when the car which he was driving struck the trailer of a semi-truck and flipped over a concrete culvert into a ditch Tuesday morning east of Hereford was Richard L. Logsdon, 22, a student of Oklahoma State University in Still-

An Oklahoma State University student escaped serious injury Tuesday morning when his car struck an oncoming semi-truck trailer, swerved into a concrete bridge and flipped over into a culvert east of Hereford.

Yule Lighting Goes Up Sunday

An atmosphere of Christmas time will follow Thanksgiving by only a few days when members of Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce dress Hereford for the yule season Sunday.

Jaycees will decorate Main Street, from First to Fifth streets; Park Ave., from Ave. E to McKinley; Mother's Park and Deaf Smith County Courthouse all day Sunday.

The city will take on a new look this season with 14 brand new gold and silver overhead garland strands. The aluminum strands will be brightened at night by white and yellow lights.

A huge "Merry Christmas" decoration will be placed over the east edge of Park Ave., at its intersection with Highway 60.

Thirteen overhead strands will be placed over sections of Main St. and Park Ave., and two evergreen trees in Mother's Park will be decorated by the Jaycees.

The County Courthouse will be completely decorated to add another feature to the annual Jaycee project this year, according to Gerald Hale, Christmas committee chairman.

Ten strands will be placed over Main Street in Downtown Hereford and three garland strands will be placed over Park.

The new decorations were approved earlier this year by the Merchants Committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The decorations are being paid for by donations.

"We hope to finish decorating by Sunday evening," Hale said. Jaycee members will do all the decorating.

Trailed By FBI, Fleeing Bandits Swap Autos Here

Two bandits being sought by law enforcement officials of three states in connection with the shooting and beating of an Elk City, Okla., man last week abandoned a car in Hereford Sunday night and stole another belonging to a local resident.

An abandoned 1955 Ford stolen in Butler, Okla., was found 200 yards from the site of the parking lot where a 1959 Pontiac belonging to J. B. Haile of Hereford was reported stolen at 8:45 p. m. Sunday.

The abandoned car had a sawed-off 12 gauge loaded shotgun under the front seat of the driver's side. The car was found at the rear of the Avenue Baptist Church on 25 Mile Ave.

The two men being sought by officers in Oklahoma, Texas and

Ten Days, $100 On DWI Charge

Nieves Rodriguez, 28, Route 1, Hereford, Monday in Deaf Smith County Court was sentenced to 10 days in County Jail and fined $100 and court costs after pleading guilty to charge of driving while intoxicated, first offense.

Rodriguez was arrested at 4:17 a. m. Sunday in the 600 block of E. First St. Making arrest was Hereford police patrolman Bobby Roberts.

The fine and jail sentence were assessed by County Judge Don Zimmerman Monday.

Around Town

This is the start of the frantic season. From now until the first of the year, it will be a constant whirl of activities, parties, and what not. Only thing we're sure of is that by Jan. 2, we will be dizzy. Somehow Thanksgiving sneaked up on us until Monday when he had turkey and dressing at two different places the same day. But that suits us just fine. We could stand such a menu more often than just one month a year.

County Discusses Building, Taxes

In a special meeting Monday, construction of a new barn was the main topic for Deaf Smith County Commissioners.

They spent a large part of the day conferring with Ernie Steel Products Co., successful bidder on the new building.

After going over preliminary plans and visiting the site, near the present Bull Barn, the court asked that one door be eliminated from the original building plans, at a savings of $167. Jack Messer of Hereford was instructed to prepare the building site for construction immediately. Messer said he would begin work Wednesday.

Commissioners also spent some time talking with Marcum

Waddill, deputy tax collector-assessor, about his plans for evaluating county property for tax purposes. Earlier this fall the court had decided to have Waddill do the appraisal work. Waddill said it would take about two years to make a complete survey of all property on the tax roll.

An audit of county funds for 1960 was ordered by the court, with an agreement that the audit be made each two years hereafter.

Miles Milhorne of Vega, county commissioners in Oldham County, appeared with a request that Deaf Smith County assist the Wildorado-Palo Duro Cemetery. (Continued on page 2)

Palo Duro, Dimmitt Cagers Foes For Hereford On Road

After their opener here Tuesday night against Friona, the Hereford Whitefaces face a pair of tough opponents on the road this week.

Friday night, the Hereford squad will face the Palo Duro Dons in Amarillo. On Saturday evening, the Whitefaces will be in Dimmitt. Both games will start at 8 p. m., after 3 team games.

Coach Tom Gilley's Dons will be opening their season Friday night. The 3-AAAA coaches rated the Dons fourth in the rugged conference, despite Gilley's personnel problems. Only starter returning for the Dons is smooth-shooting Steve Carter. Gilley's only returning letterman is Lynn Saunders.

Last year the Dons had a season record of 22-5, with an 11-3 mark in conference play. They finished second to Berger in the conference race.

Dimmitt Monday night gave notice that it will be hard to beat on the boards as the Bobcats clawed out an eye-opening 54-47 victory over Muleshoe.

Amarillo Boxing Team In Bouts Here On Friday

Canyon gloves will join Hereford Athletic Club boxers in a meet against Amarillo Boxing Club Friday night in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Some 15 matches will begin at 8 p. m., according to Don McNeese of Hereford, coach of the host club. Several regional Golden Gloves and several novice scrappers will be on the night's card.

The event will mark the first home meet of the season for Hereford boxers. Five boxers from Hereford entered a meet in Plainview Saturday night in first boxing activity of the year for this area.

Returning boxers to the Hereford team this year include Donny Lesly, 135-pound, 1960 Golden Gloves champion; Roy Rogers, 230-pound Golden Gloves heavyweight champ; Johnnie Welty, 145 pounds, runner-up in last year's regional tourney; and Leon Vogler, 175 pounds, light heavy runner-up. Seventy-pound Chester West also will return to fight Friday night.

Albert and Abel Moline, 126-pound twins, will head the Amarillo delegation to the meet here. Iron-fisted Manny Perez possibly will accompany the Amarillo team.

Canyon boxers who will join the Hereford team are Ross Bond, 145 pounds; Zeke Clements, 135, and Elmer Clements heavyweight.

Taking the only win for Hereford last Saturday night in Plainview was Roy Rogers, who won over former regional Golden Gloves champion Bill Lunsford of Plainview. Rogers is a Hereford High School student, and fights in the high school division.

1960-61 VARSITY BASKETBALL squad pauses in a huddle during workouts before opening the season against Friona here Tuesday night. Coach Cuby Kitchens, bottom right, will be mentor of the Hereford Whitefaces again this year. This year's edition, clockwise from Coach Kitchens, includes Charlie Thomas, Charlie Burrus, Ronnie

Botkin, Dennis Hodges, Jackie Oldham, Greg Combs, Thomas Coffman, Carl Miller and Ronnie Caster. Coffman and Hodges are co-captains. The team will meet Palo Duro High School in Amarillo Friday night and will face the Dimmitt Bobcats there Saturday night. (Staff Photo)

Seven ministers will take part in the annual program. An offering taken at the service is to be used to erect church welcome signs. The public is invited to attend.

Except for a few service establishments, Hereford will be closed tight on Thanksgiving Day. It is a holiday for banks, schools and stores. Everything will be open again Friday except the schools, which remain closed until Monday.

It seems we can't get a round Thanksgiving this week. Maybe this will be the last item. Anyway, the traditional turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, will be served at St. Anthony's school on Thursday from 11:30 a. m. until 2 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

We regret that we were unable to carry the results of Tuesday night's basketball game in this paper, but had to have an early deadline in order to get the Broad delivered before Thanksgiving.

Jody Beizer is to leave Dallas Friday with 32 other young Texans for the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Dec. 2. He will represent Deaf Smith County and help represent the state's 100,000 4-H Club members.

Hereford school board was slated to meet Tuesday, Nov. 22, after the basketball game.

Bill Thompson, the one who's Chamber manager, is painting his new house, assisted by his two older boys. They are becoming more noticeable each day as their clothes get whiter.

And James McAndrews' new split-level house east of town is attracting a lot of attention. Not only is the arrangement a bit unusual, but the house has such features as aluminum siding and New Mexico sandstone exterior, a huge fieldstone fireplace and a bomb shelter.

Hereford High basketball team will play Palo Duro in Amarillo Friday night and at Dimmitt on Saturday night, which should be enough to settle what meager Thanksgiving dinner coach Cuby Kitchens will allow them.

Remember the six Englishmen who visited in Hereford while seeing how we grew and used grain sorghums? One was a poultry raiser and bemoaned the absence of a Thanksgiving in England, claiming that it cut his market for turkeys down to Christmas only: Pity the poor English who stayed behind. When the Pilgrims sailed over the sea. Why eat turkey is a reason they can't find. While we eat heartily, but wish it were free.

(Continued from page 1) Dimmitt's win becomes even more impressive when it was revealed that Dimmitt had its first full team practice on Monday afternoon before going to Muleshoe.

During a murderous pre-conference season last year, Hereford dropped three games to the Palo Duro Dons and a pair of decisions to the Dimmitt Bobcats.

Hereford coach Cuby Kitchens is not expected to announce his starters for the two games this weekend before Thursday.

Kitchens this week announced his nine varsity players, eight of them lettermen from last year's young squad which tied for the conference championship.

They include: Carl Miller, Charlie Thomas, Charlie Burrus, Ronnie Botkin, Thomas Coffman, Ronnie Caster, Greg Combs, Dennis Hodges and Jackie Oldham.

Oldham, a senior, played on the B team last year as a transfer student. Hodges is a junior and all others are seniors.

Coffman and Hodges have been named co-captains of the 1960-61 squad.

The largest single display in the museum is a full-sized reproduction of the President's office in the White House. Among the desk ornaments is the famous sign used by Truman while he was President—"The Buck Stops Here."

Regular Check-Ups Help Prevent Most Baby Ills

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D. A. P. Newsfeatures

IT COSTS MONEY to go to the doctor. Is it important? Grandmother says it's all a lot of nonsense running to the doctor all the time. Her children never saw a doctor unless they were really sick, and they did all right.

But did they? Maybe she has forgotten Uncle Ben's running ear that developed into a mastoid infection and caused deafness in his left ear. Maybe she doesn't believe that aunt Alice really didn't have to suffer from flat feet all her life.

Statistics tell a little of the story.

In 1960, of every 1000 babies born in this country about 100 died before they were 1 year old. By 1920 this figure had dropped considerably and by 1950 only three babies out of each 1000 born died within the first year.

Impressive as these figures are they do not tell the whole story. It isn't only that medical knowledge has increased to the point where we can keep babies alive, it is that we can prevent little ailments from becoming life-long handicaps.

Tessy's mother thought her baby was just about perfect. She ate and slept and gurgled her contentment with life. She came in to the doctor's office for her one month check-up. Her weight was good. She looked pink and healthy. But as the doctor laid her on her abdomen and stretched her legs down he noticed that the folds in her plump little buttocks and legs were not symmetrical. He turned her over and pulled on her legs and hips.

"We have trouble here," he said gently to Tessy's mother, "I want an x-ray of these hips."

The x-ray showed, as the doctor feared, that the left hip bone was not properly in its socket. Tessy's legs and hips were put into a cast. It was a lot of trouble to take care of in that contraption, but in six months it was removed for good. Tessy is a 3-year-old now and runs and jumps like every other 3 year old.

A healthy little Tessy had not been taken to the doctor if it likely no one would have recognized her deformity until she began to walk and the limp showed. While something could have been done for her even then it would have taken a much longer time and the results might not have been as good.

Lisa wasn't doing very well. The doctor worried about her more than her mother did. Lisa seemed happy and cheerful, but at her monthly visits to her doctor, she didn't show the amount of gain he thought she should. She seemed a little pale. The doctor couldn't find much wrong and went over the baby's feeding and regime carefully with Lisa's mother.

At the next monthly visit she was no better; in fact her blood count had dropped a little more. She was still happy at home and her parents were not concerned. However, they accepted their doctor's judgment and had some special tests run.

Lisa had a tiny obstruction at the neck of her bladder. It was repaired by an operation. Then Lisa bloomed and it was only when her parents saw the amazing improvement in her that they realized how listless she really had been.

If that tiny obstruction had not been found and removed Lisa would never have grown up. Our aim is buoyant health for every child. We cannot always achieve it, but there are many little things that can be detected early and prevented from becoming lifelong handicaps.

EYE INSPECTION

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The right eye doesn't see exactly what the left eye sees in a method devised for x-ray study of the insides of missiles and space vehicles.

Convair Astronautics, builder of the big Atlas missile, devised the method to detect minor flaws in inner mechanism. The part to be studied is photographed by x-ray from slightly different angles.

The two films are fitted into viewers—one for the left eye and one for the right eye. The result is a three-dimensional observation. Only by such stereoscopic study can some faults be detected, says James L. Minos, company engineer.

SUMMERTIME REFRESHER for a winter day: canned frozen and fresh fruits are combined and served with watermelon flavored sherbet.

Fresh And Fancy Wintertime Sweets

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Newsfeatures Food Editor
 LIFT A WINTER menu out of the doldrums with a summertime dessert.
 To do this we combined fresh, canned and frozen fruit and served them with watermelon sherbet. No watermelon at this time of year? Use a package of the new watermelon - flavored gelatin to make the ice. This is a whole family dessert. Oldsters who watch calories will enjoy the fruit; small fry will go for the sherbet.
 The fruit combination will benefit if you prepare it attractively. Take fresh pineapple; we find that quartering it and then removing the pulp is easier than cutting away the rind and "eyes" from the whole fruit. Bananas look pretty when you run the sharp tines of a fork down them, after peeling, and then cut them crosswise so the slices have a fluted effect.

WINTER FRUIT MEDLEY
 Ingredients: 1 large ripe pineapple, 1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) dark sweet cherries (drained), 2 bananas, orange or lemon juice, 1 package (16 ounces) frozen melon balls.
 Method: Twist green leaves from pineapple; cut into quarters; lengthwise. Run knife between shell and pulp; remove pulp and dice; add to drained cherries. Slice bananas crosswise and dip in orange juice; add. Have melon balls thawed but still frosty and mix with other fruit. Turn into pretty serving dish. Serve with scoops of Watermelon Sherbet. Makes 8 servings.

Glass Shelves
Lengths of rubber hose of the type used for bathtub sprays make excellent guards for the edges of glass medicine cabinet shelves. The hose is split lengthwise along one side and pressed over the edge of the shelf. This not only keeps objects from sliding off shelves, but prevents breakage against shelf edges.

OLD BUDDIES
COLUMBUS, Ohio — Every so often, Air Force master sergeants John Rauckis and Adam Golden pay a social and professional visit to another master sergeant, James C. Kelly. It's a social call in the sense that the three military career men are old pals. It's a professional call in that Rauckis and Golden make it a point to renew their enlistments with Kelly, an Air Force recruiter. This year's re-enlistment visit to Kelly's office at Lockbourne Air Force Base here was the third for each. They say they'll be back in 1963.

TASTE A TORTE and you know what heaven man dessert is enriched with whipped cream is like! This version of the famous Ger- and filberts.

German Torte Is Delectable Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Newsfeatures Food Editor
ALL over the world the torte, wins friends and influences cooks.

This divine dessert is always light with eggs, often enriched with nuts. It may be cakelike, calling for a small amount of flour or crumbs. On the other hand there's the famous Schaum Torte that is nothing but a torte of meringue. As a rule, tortes come in layers — from 2 to 12.

The recipe for this Blitz Torte pops up regularly in regional cook books from Wisconsin, where families of German ancestry introduced it years ago. This particular torte is made in two layers, but each layer has two parts — a light butter-cake division and another of crisp meringue. The layers may be put together with custard or whipped cream.

BLITZ TORTE

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter, 1 1/2 cups plus

1 tablespoon superfine sugar, 4 eggs (separated), 3 tablespoons milk, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 3/4 cup thinly sliced prepared filberts, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 3/4 or 1 cup heavy cream (whipped and sweetened to taste and flavored with vanilla), 1/2 cup finely chopped prepared filberts.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and 1/2 cup sugar. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating for 3 or 4 minutes after each addition. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients, alternately with the milk, until smooth. Turn into prepared pans, spreading slightly high in center. Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until they hold a soft peak. Gradually beat in 1 cup sugar until meringue is very glossy and stiff. Spread meringue over batter in both pans. Mix 1 tablespoon sugar, sliced filberts and cinnamon; sprinkle over meringue. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven on lowest rack 40 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans, then remove. Turn one layer onto a cake plate with meringue either at bottom (classic method) or at top. Spread with whipped cream; sprinkle with finely chopped filberts; add remaining layer, meringue side up. Torte may be chilled about 1 hour but not so long as to make nuts soggy. Makes 8 to 12 servings. If meringue is cracked when torte is removed from oven, don't worry; it will sink back into place!

To Prepare Pans: If they are available, use two loose bottom 8-inch layer-cake pans; butter and dust with flour. Or use two regular 8-inch pans; grease, line bottoms with waxed paper; grease paper.

To Prepare Filberts: For the meringue tops, place filberts in a shallow pan in a slow (275 degrees) oven for 20 minutes, stirring a few times; rub off as much of the skins as possible (nutmeats will be pale) and slice. For the chopped filberts for the cream filling, place filberts in a shallow pan in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 10 minutes; rub off as much of the skins as possible (nutmeats will be browned) and chop fine.

Beauty At Home

Q. What is a good waist-slimming exercise for a teen-aged girl to practice?

A. If you have a long piano bench, lie on it face up. Grip the sides of the bench, bend knees back to chest, then push both legs far out to the left, straight downward, far out to the right, and then back to position. Only your spine and head rest on the bench — the lower part of your body is suspended in midair. By pushing both legs at once in a wide circle, you are strengthening and slimming your abdominal muscles. This is a rather difficult exercise — but it's a good one!

Q. How can I help to tone down the freckles on my arms?

A. Try spreading a paste on them made of cornmeal and sour milk or buttermilk, keeping this on for at least 20 minutes at a time and doing it every day. And, of course, try to keep those arms as much shaded from the sun's rays as possible.

Q. Will you please suggest a quick and effective way of purifying the breath?

A. Some persistent sucking on a lemon, followed by a drink of cold water, is good.

Q. What sort of hatwear is best for the girl with irregular features?

A. A broken line in a hat is better for this type than a straight one. Of course, not everyone with less-than-perfect features wants to wear a hat with jagged edges, but in general, it's pretty good idea.

Q. Please help me! What is a good treatment for removing blackheads from my skin?

A. Maybe you'd like this "abrasive" treatment. Apply some slightly moistened cereal grains (oatmeal, for instance) to the infested areas of your skin. Let these grains dry on the skin, then rub them off with a course towel. The friction of this treatment often helps to dislodge and eradicate the blackheads.

Q. How can I relieve eyestrain, and thus discourage fatigue lines around my eyes?

A. Try using a pack of steeped tea leaves, either hot or cold, on each eye after bathing them with a good eyewash.

Q. Mine is what some persons call a "boxface," that is, it is almost square in shape. What is my best hairstyle?

A. Curls or soft waves above your brow are what you should have to add needed height to your features. And brush your hair up and back at the sides, and avoid a flat top.

Madrid, capital of Spain, is on a high, windy plain.

BY JIMMIE GILLENTE
Football is pretty well wrapped up and ready to go on the shelf for another nine months. Ten years from now, it is doubtful if any of the players will remember the scores for each game, but there are many other things about the season which they will remember all all of their lives.

Olton barely nosed out Dimmitt in the big district game last Friday, for instance, and Bill Turner, Olton newspaper man, was telling me that the entire town of Olton developed a tremendous respect for Junior Coffey, the Negro lad, who has gained a statewide reputation as a ball carrier. In addition to his prowess on the gridiron, Bill reports that Junior was the only Bobcat player who took the trouble to come around to the Olton dressing rooms and congratulate the Mustangs on their victory. The gesture was unnecessary, but the folks down Olton way thought that it was a tremendous tribute to young Mr. Coffey, especially in view of the fact that he was by far and wide the outstanding player on the Dimmitt squad.

I have heard that Junior Coffey aspires to become a doctor, and you can bet that the people of Olton will be pulling for him. He is one young man who will never have to worry about integration. Instead of seeking a status through legislation, he is earning equality through ability, personal conduct and individual character. Without a doubt, he was the best ball player to dig cleats in the Whiteface turf this season.

Ernest Kendall was talking about the proposed beet sugar refinery, and says he doubts if people realize how much the project will mean to the community. Ernest has been operating the Colonial Motel for several months, and he says one of the reasons we have so many nice motels in Hereford can be attributed to our produce and vegetable industry. A large portion of our motel and hotel space, according to Ernest, is seasonally occupied by vegetable people, including processors and buyers.

THANKSGIVING VISITOR

Among the many Hereford students home for Thanksgiving from Oklahoma State University in Stillwater is Pat Robbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Robbins.

"Without the vegetable industry, it is doubtful if Hereford could support two average motels," he said. Ernest figures the sugar refinery will contribute to an improved situation, though possibly not so much as does the produce business.

Some development along the line of appointing a new postmaster can be expected in 1961.

now that the election is over and the Democrats control both the nomination and the confirmation, Sloan Osborn was telling me that Friona got a temporary postmaster shortly after Eisenhower was elected — and they are still operating on the temporary appointment.

Florence Traveek has been doing a good job here since Jim Lipscomb retired — but she says she runs into occasional days when she wishes they would replace her. The Spanish speaking office helper seems to have done a lot to improve service inside the office.

There is no substitute for thoughtful, considerate friends. Neil Cooper sent me a 25-rpm phonograph record. The title is "Richard Nixon's Victory March." I'll bet the people who made up the records took a real licking on that business venture. They probably had a Kennedy Victory March, too, but they were bound to lose one side or the other — unless a lot of people did like Cooper, and sent them out for jokes.

R. C. Cramer says I have a lot of learn about birds. He avows there is no such thing as a "pintail" grouse; instead the "pintail" is a duck. He was talking about the "sharp-tail" grouse. All of which is getting pretty technical for me, but I am sure he knows what he is talking about.

George McLean was drinking coffee the other day, finished and left but, on reaching the front door, met a friend and came back for another cup. Dudley Bayne was in the next booth, and really gave George a good ribbing. Pretty soon Dudley also finished and started back to work but, just as he reached the front door, he met someone he needed to see, so he came back for seconds. Trouble was, he had forgotten that George was still sitting there on his second round, and you finish the story from here.

Merry Kay Pruitt, our DE student, says that Hereford will have another good basketball team. I overheard her telling some of the gang that the Whitefaces are due to go into the state finals again this year. Naturally, we all hope she is right — and she might just be, too. Anyway, it won't hurt anything to hope.

Ever since the Commissioners planted the courthouse lawn in wheat, F. W. Dool and W. O. Shelton have been worrying about the crop. Dool, thinks those boys are better politicians than farmers. He says he doubts if they even have a wheat quota — and they should have put the paved parking area in the soil bank. Anyway, it is nice for the tax payers to take a sincere interest in county affairs, and you couldn't find two more serious minded old boys.

The nicest personal compliment I've had in a long time came from Mrs. Ed Loerwald, when she wanted to know if I was limping because I hurt my leg playing football. Every one likes to think of themselves as being younger than they are — and she shifted me back a good 20 years with the question.

Here's wishing everyone a truly enjoyable Thanksgiving Day. I guess the U. S. A. is the only country in the world that observes Thanksgiving, which is primarily a Christian reaction to a land of plenty. And in all the country there is probably no single area more fortunate than the one in which we reside. If you plan to visit or travel, that's fine — but remember to take it easy. A lot of folks who cannot drive so well as you are liable to be on the road.

Here's A Weight Watcher's Delight

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Newsfeatures Food Editor

With weight-watchers expected for dinner, we tried a recipe for a chiffon dessert calling for whipped nonfat dry milk and produced a dish that looked as if it might contain whipped cream.

To use this Pineapple Chiffon as a cake topping, fold waxed paper into several thicknesses 4 inches wide and long enough to overlap generously around an 8- or 9- inch cake layer. Attach the paper to the cake with sealing tape, making the collar 3 inches high. Turn in the Pineapple Chiffon, after the whipped milk is added, and chill until firm; remove the paper. The dessert may also be turned into an 8- or 9- inch baked pie shell.

PINEAPPLE CHIFFON
Ingredients: 1-2/3 cups canned crushed pineapple with syrup (just as it comes from can), 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 2 1/2 cups Whipped Milk, 1/2 cup flaked coconut.
Method: Drain pineapple; there should be about 3/4 cup syrup. Add enough water to syrup to make 1 cup; heat gently in a small saucepan with gelatin, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves. Mix in drained pineapple and vanilla. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold into whipped milk with coconut. Turn into dessert dishes; chill until firm. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Whipped Milk: In a bowl mix 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk with 1/2 cup ice water; beat until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice continue beating until firm peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Gradually beat in 1/4 cup sugar.

Note: A 13 1/2-ounce can of crushed pineapple will give the exact amount of fruit and syrup needed in this recipe.

THREE WAYS to use a pineapple chiffon dessert: as a pie filling, a cake topping of a light and airy pudding. Made with whipped nonfat dry milk, this sweet treat will appeal to weight-watchers.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio — Get fresh with a coed at Bowling Green State University, and you're liable to end up flat on your back. Members of the Pershing Rifles, a Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) organization, are teaching the young ladies judo self-protection tactics.

RIDGEFIELD, Conn. — A Parent-Teacher Assn. group, planning to show a documentary film about life at the North Pole, decided to serve quantities of hot cocoa to the audience.

ROLLING ALONG

A GRASS FIRE southwest of Hereford Monday afternoon raised a billowing cloud of smoke but caused little damage. The fire started south of the Santa Fe tracks, about even with the drive-in theatre and was pushed east ahead of a strong wind. Corralled along the way by Hereford firemen, it finally burned out when it came to a road intersection. (Staff Photo) about people and events around Hereford High School

Teen Topics

Thanksgiving is finally upon us. Among the many things we have to be thankful for, the four day holiday from school is probably high on the list. After the holidays, we have only four weeks of school until those wonderful Christmas holidays which last nearly two whole weeks.

Most of the girls around Hereford High should have been happy as boys from 18 schools invaded the High School grounds for the Future Farmer's of America contest. There were enough boys around for a change.

Congratulations to those who received yearbook honors in the annual "Kobbraey" assembly which was held last Monday morning. The basketball season got underway Tuesday night as most of you know by now. The White-faces also have a game at Palo Duro Friday night and at Dimmitt Saturday. Looks like they have a busy season ahead, and a successful one we might add.

Nice to see Doug Bryant back in school again. Where ya' been Doug? Dennis was kind of worried about you.

Well kiddies, old Saint Nick will be here Dec. 3. After you go see Santa, the football boys are having their annual football banquet, but I doubt that it has anything to do with his arrival.

Did James Gentry really spend the night in the chicken pen? Edwin Thomas doesn't look like the kind of a boy that cries for his Mother, but then, you never know.

It's just about time to start your Christmas shopping, just in case any of you forgot it was coming.

Tips On Tipping For The Tourists

By RAYMOND PALMER
LONDON — In 18th Century England, so the story goes, an enterprising innkeeper passed among his patrons a collecting box with the legend: To Insure Promptness.

The idea was that they'd get better service for a small donation. After awhile, only the initials were used. And thus was born the TIP. These days, because the standard 10 per cent tip has pretty much passed into history, the big problem is how much to give.

There are no hard and fast rules—except perhaps that it pays to be generous.

These suggestions, however, may be helpful:

It's usual to tip the waiter, the hall porter, ship's steward, cap driver, and the sleeping car attendant on the train.

Sometimes you also tip the head waiter, barman, usher, cloakroom attendant, elevator operator and railway porter.

It is usually not the custom to tip the air hostess, ship's officers, the boss of the joint.

It never pays to attempt to tip customs officers or cops. Your motives are likely to be misunderstood.

Tipping is heaviest and most widespread in France and Italy. In French hotels, anything from 10 to 25 per cent will be added for service. But most tourists still tip the maid, the porter and the waiter when they leave.

French restaurants have a service charge of at least 12 per cent and you will be assured that service is included. But in a good restaurant, the waiter usually gets another 5 to 7 per cent, the wine waiter 10 to 15 per cent of the wine bill.

Italian hotels add 15 to 20 per cent to the bill. But it is customary to offer small tips to staff members who have been helpful.

In Italian restaurants, expect 10 to 15 per cent to be added to your bill. And the waiter will expect at least another 50 or 100 lire for himself.

Many other European countries, including Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, and Austria, follow the lead of France and Italy.

But in Germany and Scandinavia tipping is less widespread and in Spain it is cheaper.

In Britain a service charge is rare, and tipping is the rule. In Germany, the sign that says "service included" means just that. The fixed 10 to 15 per cent rates are more or less observed but it is customary to leave the small change. Small tips will suffice for hotel porters, chambermaids and the like. And in restaurants and theaters cloakrooms are normally operated as a concession at a fixed tariff. Barmen, doormen, ushers are not tipped.

fast for the boys from Boy's Ranch, who were held to only ten points until late in the fourth quarter. Stanton coach Alex Glass let every man on the squad show his stuff in the opening game for the Dogies, as they were ahead 20-6 at the end of the first quarter.

Jim Haney, Eugene Green, Mike Ferguson, Earl Jackson, and Steve Conway started for the Dogies, and racked up a 14 point lead at the end of the first quarter.

Both teams scored only four points in the second quarter to set the score at 28-10 at the half. The scoreboard read 40-10 at the end of the third quarter, and 48-14 as the game ended.

Eugene Green scored 17 points to take honors for high scoring. Tall Jim Haney, Neal

Lueb, and David Stevens were in to take the majority of the rebounds for Stanton. Scoring for the Dogies went as follows:

Player	FG	FT	PF	TP
Eugene Green	8	1	2	17
Bill Hill	4	1	3	9
Jim Haney	3	0	0	6
David Block	2	0	1	4
David Stevens	0	4	2	4
Mike Ferguson	1	2	2	4
Earl Jackson	0	2	0	2
Wallace Shelton	1	0	0	2

All three Stanton teams journey to Springlake next Monday. The Seventh grade game will start at 5:00 p. m. The seventh and eighth grade game that was scheduled for last Monday night was called off by Olton.

Kelly Presents Gold Star Award

Charles Kelly, Gold Star Award winner of Carson County last year, attended the 4-H Achievement Banquet in Panhandle Saturday night.

Kelly presented this year's winner with the award at the affair, which used "4-H in Orbit" as a theme. Decorations carried out this theme.

Among the 235 persons present were the State 4-H president from Tulsa and the State Home Demonstration president from Mayside, Mrs. J. D. Kelly accompanied her son.

Taxi drivers in Tokyo don't expect a tip. Average taxi ride costs 25 cents or less.

Look Who's New!

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Villagas are the parents of a son born Nov. 20 at 11:14 a. m. The baby weighed 6 pounds one-half ounce.

VISIT IN O'DONNELL

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark, who are staying in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McGehee, are visiting in O'Donnell this week.

HOLIDAY VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dobbs of Portland, Ore., are spending the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Dobbs' mother, Mrs. Carl Forbus. Many local people will remember Mrs. Dobbs when she and her mother were managing the Green Hedge Cafe. Also visiting are Dr. and Mrs. Bill Forbus, Pam and Bill, of Dumas.

VISIT McGEHEE HOME

Guests in the home of Mrs. W. H. McGehee Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Van Pelt of Del Mar, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher and daughter of Dexter, N. M.

in Germany.

In Scandinavia, the service charge of 10 to 15 per cent, will be worked out to the last penny on even a glass of beer. On your hotel bill that takes care of most of the tipping except for the hall porter and the chambermaid.

On the Iberian Peninsula — tipping is comparatively small time. In Portugal one to five escudos will cover the whole range of tippees from cloakroom attendant to head waiter or hall porter. Few Spaniards will tip above the 15 per cent service charge added to the bill in most restaurants and hotels.

Taxi drivers are a law unto themselves. Except in Spain, Germany and Portugal — where small change will suffice — add 15 to 20 per cent on small amounts, less on long hauls.

In Britain, expect to tip the taxi driver at least one shilling up to a five shilling fare, two shillings up to one pound.

A Hungry Boy Eyes Thanksgiving Bird

The Hereford Brand

Hereford, Texas, Thursday, November 24, 1960

Section Two

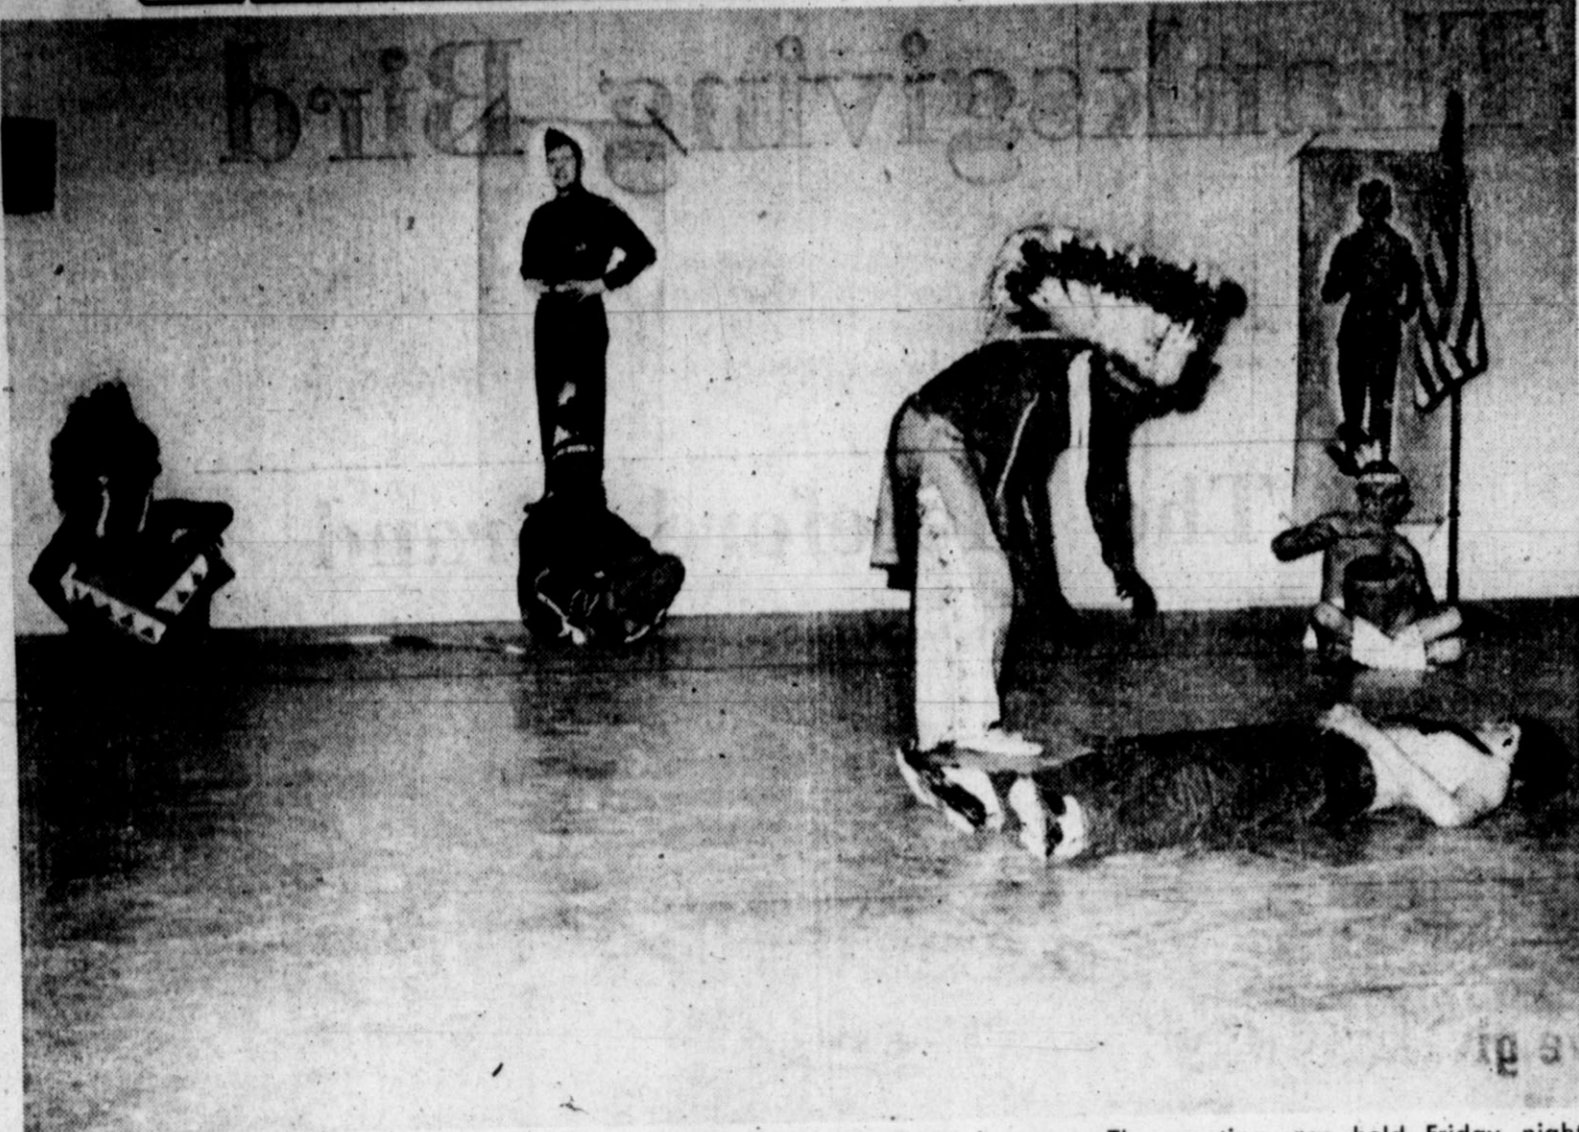

Pilgrims used a blunderbuss
And stealth to get their birds
But modern turkeys cause no fuss.
Just trot to town and say the word.

BOBBY WIMAN, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wiman, 433 Star, portrayed a typical little boy's reaction when he arrives at a groaning Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday. But like small boys throughout the country, he will soon find that his eyes are far larger than his capacity. Only consolation to this sad discovery is that some of the turkey will be awaiting the return of his appetite in an hour or so.

District Discusses Water Depletion

LUBBOCK—At a recently held business meeting of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, the major item on the agenda was the review of illustrations, charts, graphs and maps being prepared for use in the underground water depletion case which will be filed very soon in the federal court.

The Water District will attempt to show the court that underground water in the southern High Plains of Texas is a natural resource that is being mined in a manner quite similar to oil and gas, or any of the other natural deposits that come under federal laws allowing an income tax deduction for their depletion.

The District will contend that water users who can show an actual cost in underground water beneath their land and who are using the water to produce income should be entitled to deduct the cost of such water as it is exhausted.

The Board of Directors of the Water District reports that a favorable decision by the federal courts would ultimately mean millions of dollars in tax savings to water users in the southern High Plains during the lifetime of the underground water supply.

ital and of the lack of a qualified labor force. The natives generally eat a dequately, though their diet is unbalanced and erratic.

Although the countries of Ethiopia, Liberia, the Union of South Africa, and the United Arab Republic have known independence for some time, most of the African countries did not experience it until the past decade, and the bulk of them in 1960.

Despite the fact that each African country has an established boundary, the chief political divisions are tribal, and the tribe is the dominant factor in African life. Their food, shelter, and welfare are sought tribally. Food is obtained principally from hunting forays, although a few of the nomadic tribes do a small amount of cultivation and raise small herds.

In a sense, the prospect of independence is incomprehensible to the African mind, and there was considerable belief that independence would automatically solve the majority of their problems. It is difficult for the average native to understand the benefits and problems of working in a society and they cannot be employed for any length of time to be-ness and ability for self-government is what poses the tremendous question in the world today. Let us look at some of the factors which contribute to the riddle.

The continent is almost four times as large as the continental United States. Because it is impossible to traverse some parts of the continent, it is difficult to accurately assess the population, which is estimated to be something over 220 million people.

Literacy is also difficult to assess, but it is assumed that approximately 95 percent of the people cannot read or write. There are more than 700 languages spoken on the continent, very few of which are written at all.

The continent is rich in abundant natural resources which are principally unexploited because of the lack of cap-spell the difference in the concepts of freedom or slavery in other parts of the world.

This situation was brought about by the fact of the granting of independence and the privilege of self-determination for virtually all the countries of the continent, starting in 1957 when Britain granted independence to Ghana. From this point a great wave of nationalism has asserted itself in every political subdivision of Africa.

Certainly no one who believes in the dignity of the individual in a democracy would deny this right to any country or group of countries. Their status of read-

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Texas Entitled To New Congressman

BY VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN—Added to the list of lively topics for the next Legislature is the carving out of a new Congressional district.

Final figures in the national census show Texas entitled to a 23rd congressman. State's population rose 24.2 per cent to 9,579,677 — making it the sixth most populous state in the nation.

Even though population increase accounts for Texas' getting another representative to Congress, population will not be the sole consideration when lawmakers decide where to put the new district.

Population of Texas districts ranges widely, from about 227,000 to 614,000. It is highly unlikely that the legislature will undertake to rearrange the districts statewide so as to even out the differences. This would inconvenience too many incumbent congressmen, taking from their districts counties where they are popular and adding counties where they are unknown.

Texas' biggest congressional district — and the nation's biggest — area-wise, is the 16th, stretching all the way from Ozona to El Paso. But if El Paso, the only metropolitan area, were taken out, what was left would be short on population for a district.

After the 1950 census, the Legislature ducked for awhile the question of what to do with the extra congressman by having him serve "at large" (the whole state). Later Harris County (Houston) was given the extra congressman.

Texas Railroad Commission has set the December 31st allowable at 2,819,379 barrels a day on a nine-day producing pattern.

For the past seven months the state has been limited to eight producing days.

Independent producers, most of whom have been strong for holding production to eight days in previous months, recommended nine for December.

Earlier, TIPRO (Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners) had asked the Commission to consider whether the short cut-back in Texas production during the past two years actually had improved the supply situation or enabled other producing areas to grab some of Texas' share of the market.

In the enormous and often touchy job of adopting textbooks for public schools, the State Board of Education rejected one and accepted two of three books against which protests had been raised.

Board asked the publishers of the history text, "Texas and our Spanish Southwest," to correct errors before it reconsiders the book in January. Two other books criticized by J. Evetts Haley and a committee known as Texans for America were accepted by the Board.

These are "Language for Daily Use" for grades 7 and 8 and Haley's committee said the language book was based on too limited a vocabulary and the stockmen's book was too welfare state-ish in its discussion of farm issues.

Seven books opposed by Texans for America already had been eliminated by a teacher-composed advisory committee which screens textbooks offerings before they are considered by the Board of Education.

A plan that would divide part of the responsibilities for care of the aged and mentally ill, between state and local government, may be proposed in the next Legislature.

It would take a constitutional amendment approved by the people to put the plan into effect.

Legislative Budget Board has tentatively approved a recommendation whereby the state would split with a city, county or district the cost of such programs as out-patient care for mental patients and nursing home care for elderly patients.

It is felt that this approach might be more economical and effective for some patients. Nearly 100 recovered mental patients, for example, could be released from bed space at expensive state institutions and get treatment as needed from a nearby clinic.

Court of Criminal Appeals refused to reconsider its 2-to-1 decision that former Insurance Commissioner J. Byron Saunders could not be convicted for perjury as a result of testimony before a legislative committee.

But it did not make the opinion final. Travis County District Attorney Les Procter is filing a second motion for rehearing in hopes of keeping the issue alive until after the first of the year.

At that time one of the members holding in Saunderson's favor, Judge Lloyd Davidson, goes out of office. If incoming Judge W. T. McDonald took the other side, the scales would be tilted and Saunderson's conviction upheld.

Texas cannot collect a tax on the premiums of an insurance policy sold to a company in Texas by an out-of-state firm not licensed to do business in Texas.

Third Court of Civil Appeals ruled that this would conflict with U. S. Supreme Court decisions now in effect. A Texas law requires purchasers of insurance from companies not licensed in Texas to pay a tax equal to 5 per cent of the premiums. This is higher than the tax on companies licensed in the state.

Appeals Court suggested hopefully that the Supreme Court might reconsider its position so that the Texas law would become valid.

SHORT SNORTS — Secretary of State Zollicoffer has issued a charter for Houston Baptist College to be built by Texas Baptist on a 200-acre site in Harris County. College is to open its doors by September, 1962. It already has a $3,000,000 endowment for buildings.

Department of Public Safety reports a 7 per cent decrease in Texas traffic fatalities this year as compared with the same period last year. Number of death-causing accidents dropped 9 per cent. . . . Some parts of Texas had the wettest October on record, and all parts of the state except the southwest portion received above-average rainfall last month. State Board of Water Engineers reported that Corpus Christi and Victoria had the wettest October ever. Amarillo had rainfall 16.42 inches above normal by the first of October. . . . Unusually heavy moisture is blamed by Texas A&M experts for the state's generally poor pecan crop this year. Horticulture Professor Dr. Benton J. Store says why wet weather makes bad pecans is not fully understood. Most growers just call it "blight". . . . For ranchers, however, the rainy weather is mostly good news. U. S. Department of Agriculture says Texas ranges are going into the winter in "above average" condition.

Migrant Ministry Group Conducts Meeting Friday

A special meeting in connection with the work of the Hereford Migrant Ministry was held at the building erected by the organization near the Labor Camp on Friday evening, Nov. 18, at 7 p. m.

After the invocation, delivered by the Rev. John Ferguson of the Wesley Methodist Church, those present were served a Mexican dinner prepared by Mrs. Amelia Torres and her daughter, Miss Lupe Torres, who are presently occupying the living quarters in the building.

After the meal, short statements of the problems arising in the assimilation of the Latin-American in the community were made by County Sheriff Lowell Sharp, Chief of Police Henry Aycock, Hospital Manager T. E. Seigler, and Labor Camp Director Ed Dziuk.

Herbert Boardman, program director for the Hereford Migrant Ministry, gave a report on the efforts made, and those planned by the organization in meeting and solving these problems. Following Boardman's report, Mrs. Jess M. Carter gave a brief report of the past history of migrant ministry work in Hereford.

County Judge Don Zimmerman, in summing up the problems presented, agreed with the speakers preceding him in that education offered the only practical solution. He voiced his confidence in the coordinated efforts of the community through the Hereford Migrant Ministry in meeting the challenge.

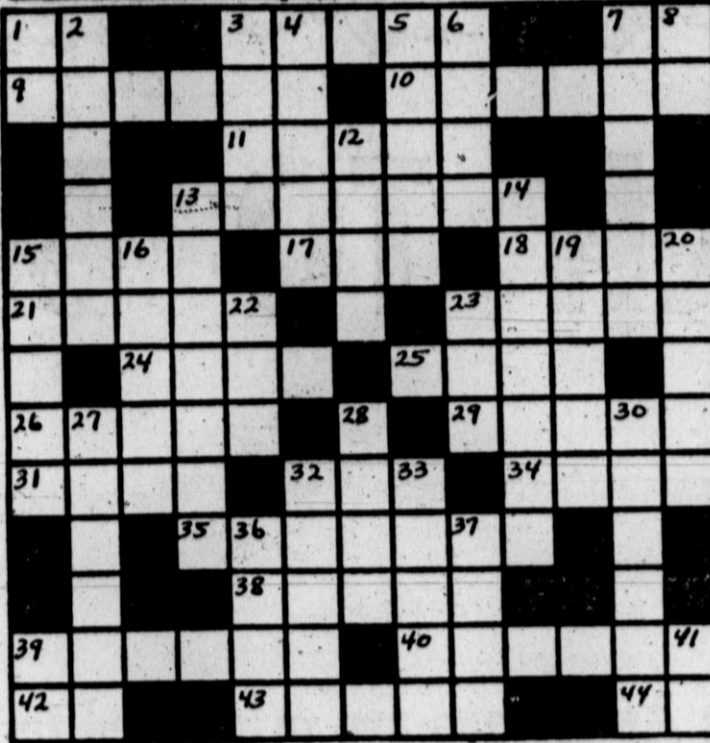

The meeting was closed with a prayer by the Rev. Joel C. Treadwell of St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK

Here are a couple of new non-fiction releases from the Deaf Smith County Library. Flights of Fancy by Frank Kingston Smith is about the adventures of a weekend pilot. Skeleton Coast by John Marsh and Lyman Anson is about the wreck of a British ship during World War II along the most desolate coastline in the world and of the efforts to effect rescue of the survivors.

Fancy is a Comanche airplane, a nice little four-place job that Philadelphia lawyer Smith buys in an effort to take his mind off his work. It was not his first plane, although he hasn't been a pilot too long. The book probably is one of the most informative and entertaining narratives we have ever read about light plane flying for pleasure and business.

Smith has a knack of writing about a technical subject with words that the layman (or non-flyer) can understand. He describes his own hesitancy about flying, which is overcome by a growing romance with air travel.

When Smith tells about his first night landing, his first flight over water, his first hesitant entrance into the busy traffic above a metropolitan airport, the reader is with him, sweating over the controls, seeking the right radio frequency, worrying about his reactions.

And the reader feels both amusement and compassion when Smith talks to one airport control tower while landing at another field, 35 miles away.

It isn't hard to get a strong dose of airplaneitis from Smith's enthusiastic stories of hopping down to Florida or Nassau for a week, or following the Mississippi River to its source in a single day.

Smith also throws in some practical advice learned the hard way about aerobatics, the "little black book under the seat" and the wonderful comradeship that exists between pilots.

Flights of Fancy is delightful reading for anyone who loves to fly, or anyone who hates it. Frank Kingston Smith, in his second book about flying, makes it sound like the most satisfying and appealing hobby anyone could have.

Skeleton Coast, by Marsh and Anson, also is an intriguing book, but for another reason. And we should warn anyone who checks it out that we started late one evening and didn't put it down until we had finished. It is that absorbing.

The British cargo ship Dundin Star was plying the lonely waters on the West coast of Africa in late 1942, carrying 21 passengers, including women and children, along with a vast cargo of munitions for British forces in North Africa.

It was staying well off the treacherous reefs and shoals of the Skeleton Coast, graveyard of ships for centuries.

But a hidden reef suddenly tore a gaping hole in the bottom of the Dundin Star. The captain first thought he had hit a submarine, but later realized it was a hidden reef. He headed the ship out to sea, but turned and headed back to the coast as the Diesel-powered ship started to settle.

He beached it about 600 yards from shore in the middle of the night. At dawn, a motor launch was put overboard and the passengers and crew started unloading on the shore. When about 68 of them were on the sandy, desolate shore, the launch was wrecked.

The nearest aid was 600 miles overland, with no means of transportation. An SOS was answered by three ships. Rescue was made of the crew remaining on board, but all efforts to reach those on shore failed. One after another, the ships flashed messages of encouragement, then sailed off.

This book tells from personal interviews of the desperate struggle to live on the sandy shore, where there was no shade or water to combat the 120-degree heat and blowing sand, no cover against the bitterly cold nights and heavy dew.

Dr. J. Burn Wood, an old man who loved his family in Capetown but couldn't resist going to sea, used the meager medical facilities at hand to treat the sick and injured, including three tiny babies and a woman who was pregnant.

But it was a battle for sanity more than anything else, as ship after ship failed to get anyone off the shore, a military plane which landed was bogged down in the sand, supplies which were dropped usually burst and quinched the thirst of only a tiny patch of sand. A land rescue attempt was not heard from. In any such emergency, there are those who emerge as heroes, such as Dr. Wood and three indomitable females, and others who reveal their cowardliness and greed.

In Skeleton Coast, you will find outstanding adventure and a revealing portrait of people who live balanced on the thin edge between hope and insanity.

Strangely enough, until the last two years, a book had never been written about this remote region. But just recently a fictional story used the locale as its setting. The book was A Twist of Sand. Now a story as incredible, but true, has emerged about the Skeleton Coast.

MILWAUKEE SENTINEL
PUBLISHES LINDA'S
STATEMENT OF FAITH

Linda Reineck

When 18-year old Linda Reineck had an unusual opportunity to "give a reason" for the Christian faith and hope she cherishes, the blond vivacious Milwaukee Lutheran High senior was more than ready.

Asked to write the Protestant view on "What My Religion Means to Me" for a special religious directory issued by the Milwaukee Sentinel, Linda inspired thousands of readers by her sincere expression of faith.

Linda, an honor-roll student and editor of her school paper, belongs to Immanuel Church (Missouri Synod), where she, brother Todd, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Reineck, sing in the choir.

Later she was also chosen by the Milwaukee committee for the observance of United Nations Day to represent Lutheran High on a trip to U. N. headquarters in New York.

Linda's statement in part reads: "I like all other human beings, was born in sin, but through Holy Baptism I was washed of my sins and made God's own. At confirmation I affirmed the vows my baptismal sponsors made for me, and I became a communicant member of the Lutheran Church.

"As a member of this church of Christ, my religion requires me to follow His example and to love my fellow men as He loves all men. At times it is difficult to be charitable, especially when someone has offended me. It is my faith which gives me strength to try to rise above base feelings.

"My religion, which is based solely on the Bible, teaches me to avoid worldly pleasures when they conflict with the will of God. At times I have to pause and consider whether I am seeking God's kingdom first. It often becomes necessary for me to make a choice. For instance, should I attend the Lenten service or watch that basketball game? Should I stay for family devotions after dinner or get ready for an early date? Should I miss the very special choir rehearsal or skip the party?

"My religion gives me great comfort when I am sad or depressed; strength, when given an unusually demanding responsibility; optimism, when confronted with an uncertain future; steadfastness, when my ideals and standards are being challenged.

"One of the most important truths of my religion is that we have the privilege of direct communication with God. It is He alone to whom I confess my sins, with whom I plead for forgiveness, and whom I thank for his mercy. For there is one God and one Mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus."

"Countless times daily I converse with my Savior. Christ is the Strength of my life and the Hope of my salvation. The following verse from my Lutheran Hymnal sums up very well what my religion means to me:

For the joy Thy advent gave me,
For Thy holy precious Word,
For Thy Baptism which doth save me,
For Thy blest Communion board;
For Thy death, the bitter scorn,
For Thy resurrection morn,
Lord, I thank Thee and extol Thee,
And in heaven I shall behold Thee."

Simple Tricks Make Treats

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Newsfeatures Food Editor
IT'S THE little extras that count.

Friends around our dining table sometimes are as interested in a garnish, a simple sleight of hand, as in a main dish we've slaved over.

What's our stock of tricks? An assortment of easy embellishments. Ideas picked up here, there and everywhere. From restaurants. At parties. Talking to people about cooking. Reading cook books—and other books, too.

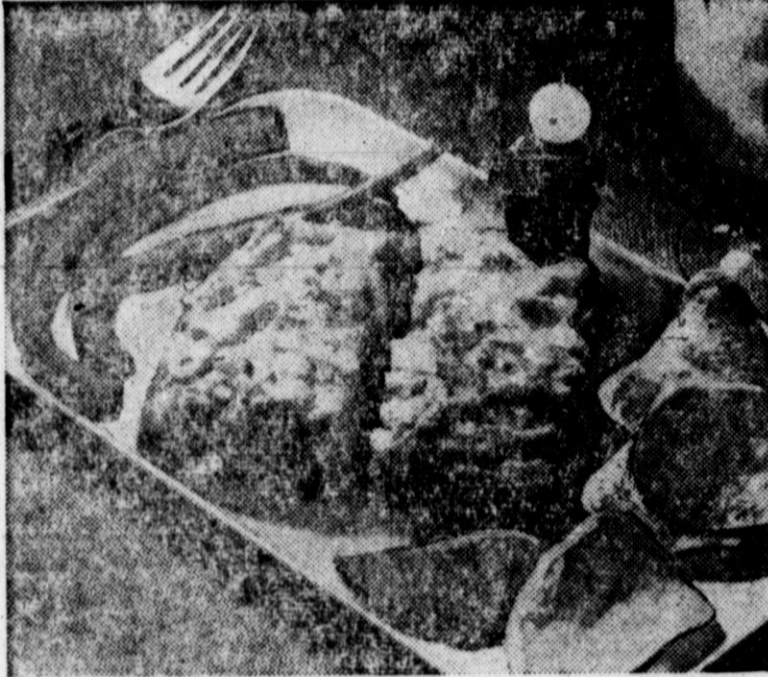

Most fun of all is to invent your own garnishes with what's in the kitchen and as you need them. Here's a grab-bag sampling of some of our own bagatelles. Help yourself to any that are new to you.

Serve yourself—accompaniments never fail to beguile. Offer them with soup.

Use miniature containers for these go-alongs. (Demi-tasse cups and spoons are fine.) Place them on a small tray for easy passing and fill each with a topping that will complement the flavor of the soup.

With jellied red madrilene or SOMETHING OLD, something new makes good company for open-face egg-salad sandwiches. Carrot sticks and potato chips are tried and true. Kebabs of pickle chunks on toothpick skewers, topped with onions, are fun to do.

a bisque (a creamy seafood or tomato concoction) we like cucumber, avocado, pimiento-stuffed green olives—all diced; minced chives or scallions.

Sandwich partners next. Brown shelled walnut halves in hot butter and salt lightly. Delicious to munch with tuna salad between slices of good bread.

Or feature one of these sandwich partners starring pickles.

For a bridge-luncheon make heart, diamond, club and spade shapes from pimientos using 1-inch cutters. (Sets of these small cutters include playing-card and other shapes.)

Stack flat bread—and-butter pickles in twos and threes and top each stack with one of these pimiento-pleasantries.

For roast duck we've invented this fresh-tasting garnish. Pare oranges so they are membrane-free; slice into about 1/4-inch thick rounds. Choose small onions and peel; slice into rounds just thick enough to stay together—they must not be separated into rings. Roll the outside edges of the onion slices in mayonnaise and then in parsley minced finer than fine. Place each green-ringed onion slice on a round of orange.

Fresh pineapple for dessert? Remove the plume and cut into crosswise slices; with a small sharp knife remove the outer covering. Cut out the core on each slice with a small heart-shaped cookie cutter. Amusing to serve with bouquets of sweet red cherries or raspberries and sprigs of mint.

Over the top of a frosted cake we like to fashion a large bunch of grapes. Fill in the shape of a cluster with sweet seedless grapes. Be sure to add a stem!

No decorating tube needed, and when it's time to create this frivolity we find teen-agers are more than willing aids.

JOT IT DOWN!
Pantry-shelf arithmetic: there are usually four slices of pineapple in a nine-ounce can.

WASH FIRST
Always wash shrimp—in-the-shell before cooking it. To prepare, drop a pound of the seafood into boiling water, then simmer about five minutes. Seasonings for "boiling" shrimp now comes packaged.

Max L. Cooley Discusses Social Security At Meet

Max L. Cooley, general agent of General American Life Insurance Company of Amarillo, presented a program of information on Social Security at the noon meeting of Hereford Lions Club Wednesday noon in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel.

He showed a film strip in addition to discussing the Social Security program. He pointed out there is a serious question as to soundness of the program.

Cooley commented that in 1937, 33 million workers were covered by Social Security, and that in 1958, more than 75 million were covered.

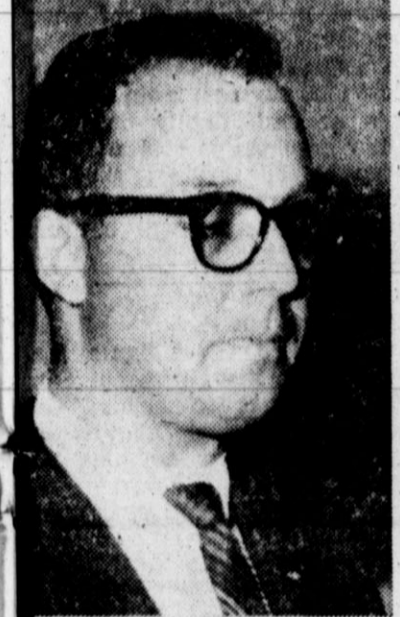

He added that both major political parties have reaffirmed support of the program since 1936. People receiving benefits feel they are getting a bargain for practically nothing, he commented.

"However," he said, "the dollars come out of our pockets." Cooley added that the government continually is expanding the program for future generations, and higher taxes are the only answer.

"I am not suggesting that the program be scratched," he said. "I am only suggesting that people know the facts on the program so they can keep it safe and sound."

He pointed out that citizens could keep the program "in bounds" by mastering facts on the program, letting various groups know of the facts, urge our representatives to keep it sound and use the program as a base for security, not a substitute.

New cub Lions Pat Ferguson and Gordon Smith were introduced at the meeting.

Coat small new cooked potatoes in parsley butter. A couple of tablespoons of minced parsley added to a quarter cup of melted butter will do the trick with a pound and a half of potatoes.

Hot from the oven, they had been sliced in half, given a generous swathing of butter, and then a luscious concoction of clover honey and walnuts was bedded down. Wrapped lovingly in a snowy white napkin and placed in a covered muffin dish, there was double assurance the biscuits would stay hot.

Method: Beat egg white, with a dash of salt, until bent-over peaks form when beater is slowly withdrawn. Beat in sugar thoroughly, 1 tablespoon at a time, and vanilla; mixture should be thick and glossy. Fold in walnuts. Drop a heaping teaspoonful of the meringue in a mound in the center of each cracker; do not spread. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in slow (325 degrees) oven 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Allow crackers to cool and re-crisp before serving; good 10 minutes or several hours after baking. Meringue will be soft or chewy, not crisp.

Noted Artist To Conduct Classes

Frederic Taubes, distinguished American Art instructor and one of the world's leading authorities on paint techniques, will present a series of art classes Feb. 6-11 at the Community Center.

Under the sponsorship of the Hereford Art Guild, these classes in oil painting will consist of instruction in Portrait, Still Life, Landscape and Composition.

Taubes has paintings in 26 museums and public collections in the United States, including the Metropolitan Gallery, San Francisco Museum of Art and many others. He has had more than 81 one-man exhibitions in museums and galleries. He is also the author of many leading instruction books for artists, including The Technique of Oil Painting, Studio Secrets and Better Frames For Your Pictures.

He is also contributing editor American Artist Magazine, where he conducts the famous Taubes Page. He was formerly contributing editor of the Encyclopaedia Britannica Yearbooks and The Pacific Art Review.

In 1948 Taubes was elected Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, London, England. He lectured at the Royal College of Art, the Slade School of Art, London University College; and many other institutions of learning.

The dead line for enrolling in the classes has been extended so that any interested person in the area will be able to study with this famous artist and teacher. Any member of the fireplace with comforting warmth.

Finally the tea-wagon was wheeled in from the dining room, a cozy atop the teapot. The cozy we remember was of tissue-thin brown Japanese silk embroidered with pink and white apple blossoms - or were they cherry? What fascinated us most was that, like a pillow slip, the brown silk encased a squashy white "muff." My mother used a cozy because it kept the brisk tea wonderfully hot, but to us it was an endlessly fascinating object.

My mother or one of my older sisters poured. We knew very well what was accompanying the cups of tea because we had done some pecking. If not tasting, in the kitchen.

It might be paper-thin slices of good old-fashioned bread, buttered to their very crusts, or my mother's baking-powder

DON'T OVERCROWD
Don't overcrowd the kettle when you are deep-frying doughnuts or other food.

BORROW A COOKBOOK
Have you ever thought of borrowing cookbooks from your local library? Most libraries have some of these aids to cooking; you may find interesting old volumes as well as new ones there.

USE A BLENDER
European recipes sometimes call for ground poppyseeds. An up-to-date electric blender will do the job beautifully!

Senior Class Personalities

Big Bob Barkley moved to Hereford from Bakersfield, Cal., in July of this year. "I got my kicks on Route 66," he said in explanation of how he came here (he hitchhiked all the way.) He has had lots of good advice in his lifetime, but he has never really needed any of it. His ambition is to make lots of money and his secret of success is procrastination. He has met several famous people, including Nat King Cole and Chief Justice of the U. S., Earl Warren. This summer he spent most of his time traveling between here and California and also to Mexico.

Elizabeth Brorman has a secret ambition of becoming a beautician. She has been nicknamed "Libel" by her cousin. She is 17 years old, lives on route one, and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brorman. "Libel" doesn't care for homework at all, but she would like to attend St. Mary's Of The Plains College at Dodge City, Kan. She made lots of money working at the Ink Spot this summer.

Sharon Newman advises all lower classmen to STUDY. She plans to work after her graduation this spring. She likes to read and her favorite book is A Summer Place. She spends her spare time bowling and "dragging Main. Her favorite food is fried chicken with all the trimmings. "Fillow Talk" is her favorite movie.

"I think 60 is a good age to die because by then I won't be childish yet," was Carolyn Diller's reply when asked what she thought was a good age to die. Carolyn Diller was born Dec. 10, 1942, in Canyon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Diller. Carolyn has always had a secret desire to be an airline hostess. However, she plans to get married when school is out. Her biggest disappointment was finally getting into high school and finding out it wasn't all fun. Carolyn is a member of F. H. A. and Mixed Choir. Carolyn says her pet peeve is two-faced people. She advises all underclassmen to finish high school. Her pastime is art. Her opinion of Hereford High School is "It'll do." During the summer Carolyn drove a truck in wheat harvest.

Ideal Boy

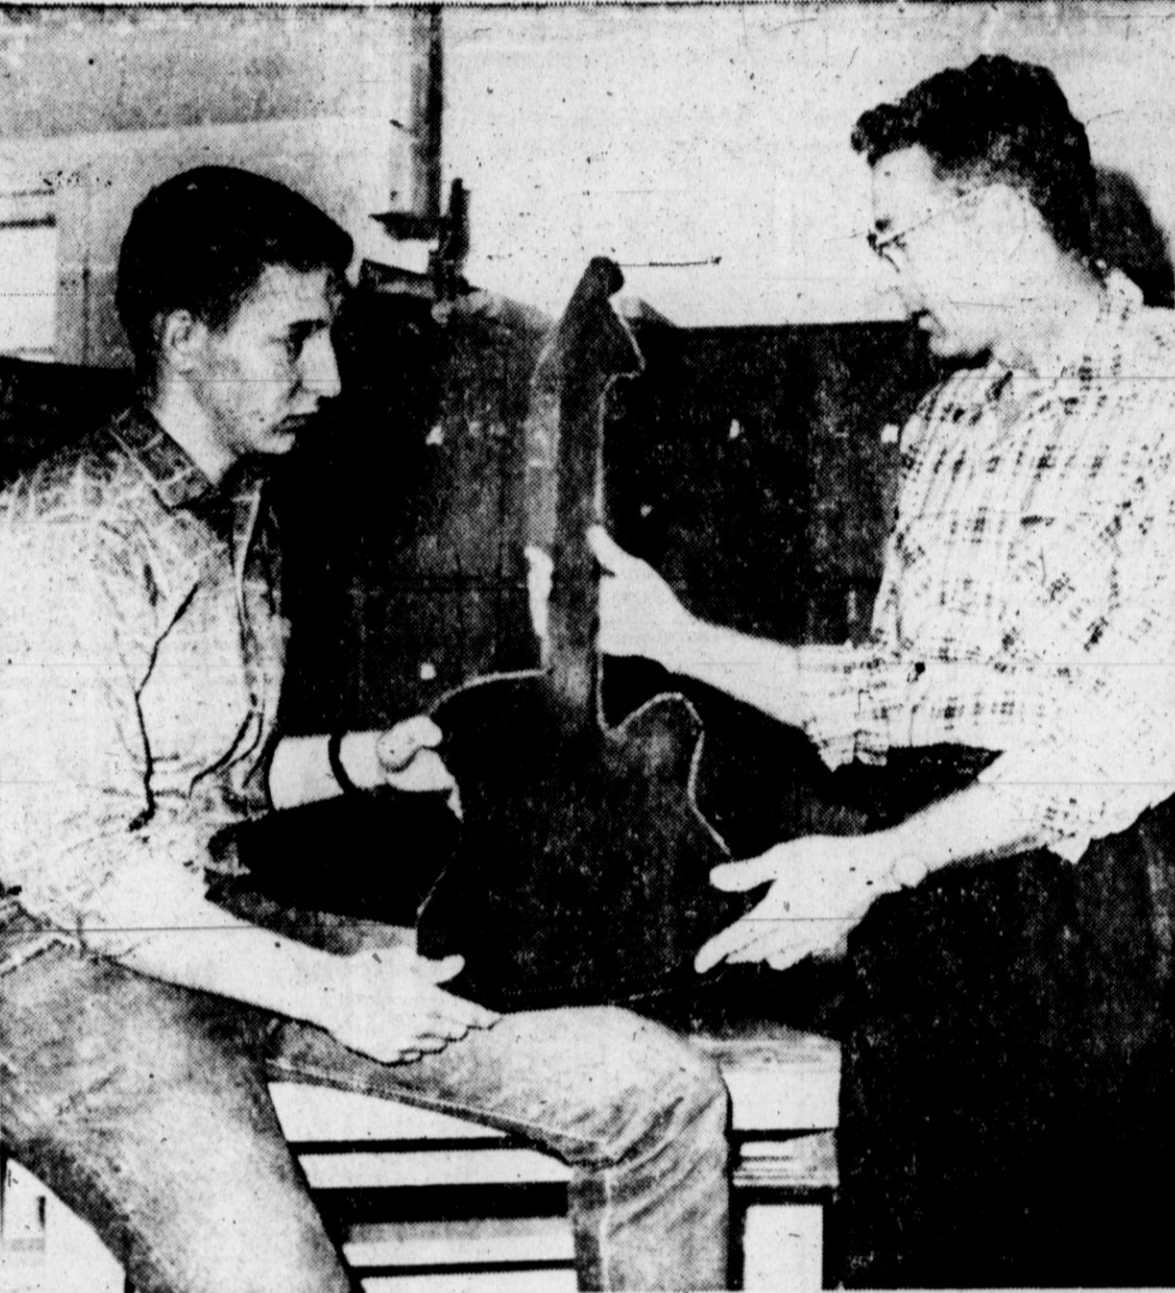

Jim Dziuk says his ideal girl would be as follows: versatile, Sandy Blythe; cutest, Joyce Ann Johnson; flirtiest, Sharon Hill; most beautiful, Jenny Holt; figure, Linda Edwards; friendliest, Sharon Hill; hands, Judy Bradley; eyes, Deanna Kriegshauser; hair, Bonnie Sparkman; mannerly, Linda Reed; athletic, Linda Renfro; walk, Suzanne Langley; nose, Marjeth Gilliland; best-all-around, Judy Fowlkes best dressed, Sharon Hill; smile, Beverly Boyer; best sport, Joy Story; wittiest, Linda Edwards; personality, Delores Price; voice, Susie Yarbro; talented, Kay Lemons; most fun, Toni Parker; and intelligent, Mar-Gwen Lackey.

Whiteface Whims

The photographer has just taken a picture of an old gentleman on the latter's 88th birthday. He thanked the oldest, saying "I hope to be around to take your picture when you are 100."

"Why not?" the old man replied, "You look pretty healthy."

A suburban father had to borrow a dollar from his thrifty and money-conscious first grader one night to pay the paper boy. The next morning he began to worry lest he had taken her lunch money; so he hurried to the school, knocked at her classroom door and asked to speak with her.

Mr. Guess Who was born June 14, 1943 in Hereford, and lives at 211 Ave. J. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Winget.

Among his favorites are food, steak; color, blue; movie, "Road Runner and the Coyote"; and song "Poetry In Motion." Mr. Guess Who plans to go to college at Denton and his ambition is to pass plane geometry. He said his hobby was hunting.

If you haven't guessed his identity by now, well, he spends most of his time goofing-off. And most of all, he doesn't like to baby sit.

"Have a good time," says Mr. Guess Who to all underclassmen. "It's a lot better than working," was his opinion of H. H. S.

Jeep The Peeper

Jeep the Peeper this week found out several things that some of the Hereford High School students don't know about and Jeep thought it might be funny if they did know. Some of these things are:

That Linda Edwards knows how and loves to drive Pam Clay's car even if she did scare Pam and Sharon Farmer to death.

That Clyde Whitaker thinks Diane Clearman and Nicky Bradford were the ones who wrapped his car so neatly in toilet paper.

going to put her flower on her cocktail dress when she goes to the football banquet.

Jeep was also very fortunate to hear that Hereford High School has one of California's most prominent people going to its school. That person is none other than Sharon Farmer, greatest sports editor California's ever had; she's also the greatest ten pound pot maker Hereford High School has ever had.

Jeep heard and saw that L. E. put a small size rinse on her hair and it turned.

Ideal Girl

Delores Price says her ideal boy would be as follows: versatile, Ken Waiser; cutest, Arnold Powell; most handsome, Joe Hersley; physique, Joe Mack Hale; friendliest, Bill Miller; hands, Eddie Gallagher; eyes, Roger Albracht;

Hair, Ronnie Byers; mannerly, Walker Parris; athletic, Edwin Thomas; walk, Bill Steele; neat, Lynn Robbs; best-all-around, John Buck; best dressed, Lynton Allred; smile, Charles Burrus; best sport, Bob Uelton; Wittiest, Edward Allison; personality, Jim Dziuk; voice, Ken Betzen; flirtiest, Mack Cansler; talented, Charles Kelly; most fun, Erik Okseter; teeth, David Dowell; and intelligent, Ronnie Botkin.

Entrance Into College Gets Harder And Harder

Students in school are required to obey certain commandments in order to become a good student. For a change, the paper staff would like to list some commandments for the teachers that they should obey. To become a better known teacher, try to remember the following commandments:

1. Thou shalt never under any circumstances give a pop test.
2. Thou shalt not keep a student away from his habits, like chewing gum and continued thirst.
3. Thou shalt not assign the students too much homework over the weekend because it is piled with fun.
4. Thou shalt give short and simple tests.
5. Thou shalt not require too much written work as it might lead to a broken hand and finger cramps.
6. Thou shalt talk with teachers to make sure that two tests are not given on the same day.
7. Thou shalt never take up love letters. Great romances of history have been born in classes.
8. Thou shalt never hear any conversation in the halls when classes are changing.
9. Thou shalt always fill out report cards with grade book closed.
10. Thou shalt not awaken students in class who are in need of rest.

From the Devine, Tex., High School paper, The Warhorse Round-up.

Today many young people are making plans to attend college. It is important that they have all of the requirements necessary to be admitted to the college of their choice. Here are the requirements of three of the colleges that some of you may plan to attend.

To be admitted to West Texas State College you must: (1) Be a high school graduate. (2) Have fifteen credited units, three of which must be in English, two in math (algebra and plane geometry) except in a few cases, one in lab science and two in social studies.

If you plan to attend Texas

Stand Up For Your Country

Do you know why people stand for the National Anthem? The Anthem is one of the most beautiful songs ever written and it should have a very special meaning to everyone who claims to be an American.

The Anthem is an everlasting symbol of our love for freedom, for our homes, and for our way of life.

These things combined make our nation the greatest nation on Earth. Our love for freedom should be a guiding light to those who are fighting for the freedoms we as Americans have always known.

At some of the recent football games, many spectators were talking and wandering around while the Anthem was being played. This is disrespectful to our flag and country.

If people won't even stand at attention for a few moments, we can all forget about freedom.

Do you want to stand up for your country? Let everyone's goal be total respect for our wonderful country!

Techn you must: (1) Be a high school graduate. (2) Have fifteen credited units, three in English, two in math (algebra and plane geometry), one in lab science and two in social studies.

At the University of Texas you are required to: (1) Be a

Poet's Corner

The following poems were composed for English III classes by students in Hereford High School.

FALL
By Patsy Livesay
Fall is a beautiful time of life. The trees turn golden over night. The birds fly south to their winter homes. They roost in many churches' domes. The ducks and the geese fill the air. To make Thanksgiving dinner a delicious affair. The hunters in the fields are hidden. To answer "The Call of the Wild" bidding. In the field the maize stands tall. As if it were the food for all. Yes, fall is beautiful, beautiful indeed. It's a shame it has to leave.

THE SEA
By Vicki Worley
The sea is large. The sea is wide. The sea is kind and cruel; 'Tis like a glistening jewel. Like a fair maid On the white sand stands Her hair is golden, every strand; Her eyes are the color of the sky, and merry; Her hair as fair as a lily fairy. She filled many, loved many, Set men out to sail. She learned much, saw much. (Continued on page 2) high school graduate. (2) Have fifteen credited units, three of these in English, two in math (algebra & plane geometry), and have two units from any two of the following: foreign language, science, and social studies.

At the present, The University of Texas, Rice, Southern Methodist and Trinity are the only colleges in Texas that require an entrance examination. In some cases, such as when a person majors in engineering or science, the requirements are higher than they would be if he had majored in something else.

There is a tendency among colleges today to become more strict in their requirements.

Football Personalities

Tail Carl Miller was born in Hayward, Calif., on Jan. 11, 1943. He is a senior at HHS and this makes his third year playing basketball for the Herd.

He thinks Berger will be the roughest team; they will play all year because of their good team that was partially left over from last year's state team.

"Dumas," he says, "will be the toughest in our district, though all of them will be pretty strong."

"Right now the team doesn't look too bad or too good, but will definitely be looking better before long," he says.

Carl thinks the odds are in their favor for them to go all the way this year, but a lot of hard work and determination will have to be shown.

He says his ambition is to go to state, while his hobby is playing basketball. His favorite pastime is goofing off on the weekends and working as little as he can.

123 Girls Stay Busy With Many Different PE Sports

Physical education plays a great part in the life of 123 healthy, active H. H. S. girls. Many hours are spent each day exercising, working out personal problems, learning the rules of sports, and developing skill in a sport.

Most of the girls excel in one or more of the varied activities in the high school program. For the past two months the girls have participated in a busy schedule of touch football, softball, bowling, jumping on the trampoline, swimming, archery, tennis, and of course, just good exercises.

The program for the remainder of the year includes basketball, volleyball, and more swimming, tennis, and softball.

"H. H. S. has lots of good facilities," commented Mrs. Pat Voyles, P. E. teacher, when asked about the department. "There is no need for more equipment; only more playing space is needed," she added.

The girls have quite a lot of equipment including badminton sets, horseshoe sets, basketballs, footballs, baseballs, bats, gloves, volleyballs, archery sets, and shuffleboard sets.

We Are Very Fortunate

The American people have long followed the Pilgrims' custom of setting aside a special day each year to give thanks to God for their good fortune.

We in this country have a great deal indeed for which to be thankful. All we have to do is to contrast our lot with that of people in most parts of the world to see how well off we really are.

We are much more fortunate than most other peoples on earth. For example, the average life span in the United States is about 65 years. In 21 countries it is from 32 to 40. In a number of other lands, the average person cannot expect to live past 50 years of age.

Then consider such material possessions as automobiles. We have one car for every three people. In 15 lands of the world, the number of persons per car ranges from 1,000 to 29,000. In many countries, the majority of inhabitants do not own automobiles, and seldom or never ride in them.

The people of most nations have never seen television. Hundreds of millions of them live in dwellings without plumbing facilities or any of the many work-saving appliances found in the average U. S. home.

American youths have educational and career opportunities undreamed of by most other young people in the world. In fact, our population as a whole enjoys comforts and luxuries unfortunately denied to the bulk of the earth's inhabitants.

Even more important than this material wealth, we in this country possess a maximum of freedom to live as we desire. We are free to express our opinions, to join the church of our choice, to help select our political leaders, and to prepare for any career we wish.

Because of our favored situation, we should not be boastful, smug, or indifferent. There is still room for much headway in our country. Not all Americans by any means, are well off. But our nation as a whole has come far along the road of progress. For this we should be constantly thankful, and we should resolve to do everything possible to help those less fortunate than ourselves, both here and abroad, to achieve a better way of life.

She's Following In Famous Footsteps

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Newsfeatures Food Editor

GIVE CREDIT to Fannie Farmer, that intriguing cooking teacher with red-gold hair and an indomitable will, for bringing level measurements to American recipes. Hats off, too, to Mrs. Wilma Lord Perkins, who for 30 years has been keeping Fannie Farmer's cook book up to date.

Meeting Mrs. Perkins recently, we were struck by her humor, energy and wide interests. She breathed a sigh of relief because "The All New Fannie Farmer Cook Book" had just been published. Following in famous footsteps takes some doing, and Mrs. Perkins doesn't let Aunt Fannie down.

After majoring in history at college, Mrs. Perkins married a history professor — Fannie Farmer's nephew — and inherited the cook book task. Her husband's work has given this editor a chance to travel regularly, here and abroad, and to taste some of the world's best dishes.

"My outstanding ability," Mrs. Perkins said, her eyes sparkling, "is persuading chefs to part with recipes!"

"We're a very 'family' family," she added. "In the summer we all congregate at the house Aunt Fannie built in the little town near Harvard College. We love to fill the house with guests (the sort that do at least their share) and fill the guests with good food, often cooked outdoors."

"Aunt Fannie was a driver," Mrs. Perkins went on. "I've worked hard on the cook book but I like to relax when I cook or serve."

What does a famous cook book editor serve her family and friends?

"We ask lots of company to come for Coffee Viennais and Florentines," Mrs. Perkins answered. "When I am doing a party meal by myself, I like to 'integrate' with the group, so I choose dishes that need no last-minute preparation: maybe a very New England supper of Fish Chowder, Pickled Beet Salad, Hot Rolls and Indian Pudding.

"When my husband and I are alone we often have roast lamb, broiled hamburger, broiled or poached fish. When guests come I add fillips. With before-dinner drinks I might serve stuffed mushroom eggs and corn crisps. Instead of plain fruit for dessert, we might have hot fruit compote or English trifle."

"The All New Fannie Farmer Cook Book" (Little, Brown) is outstanding. For the first time recipes are given step by step with ingredients set in bold type; all the fine basic rules are there but now they have interesting variations. Here are Mrs. Perkins' Florentines — delectable cookies made from a recipe hard to come by.

A READER ASKS how to prepare Fried Rice, often enjoyed in Chinese restaurants. Although there are innumerable variations of this dish, soy sauce and onions or scallions (or both) always season the rice.

A search of our dozen or so Chinese cook books reveals that roast pork and chicken are the meats most usually added to the rice and seasonings, but sometimes ham and beef go in. One New York restaurant features Fried Rice with Mixed Meat. Shrimp and lobster are popular seafood additions, but crab is another candidate.

When it comes to vegetables, we have found recipes with the following (besides onion and scallion) in various combinations: celery, celery cabbage, bean sprouts, green peas, water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, mushrooms, green pepper.

Pick 10 additions from these meats and vegetables, and you can correctly label your dish Fried Rice Subsum.

Unless your cooked rice is firm, you are likely to have Fried Rice Mush! Converted-type or long-grain rice cooked in a minimum amount of water to the proper stage for this dish will be done through but not soft.

Chinese Fried Rice recipes usually include egg and there are a couple of ways of adding it. We think you'll be most successful with the method given here.

ROAST PORK FRIED RICE
Ingredients: 2 tablespoons peanut or other salad (not olive) oil, 1/2 cup diced roast pork, 2 cups firm-cooked converted-type or long-grain rice (chilled), 1/3 cup diced green celery, 1/3 cup diced green pepper, 2 scallions (sliced thin crosswise with green tops included), 2 tablespoons soy sauce, egg strips.

Method: Slowly heat a 10-inch iron skillet until very hot; add oil and heat. Add pork and brown lightly. Add rice and heat rapidly, tossing. Add celery, tossing. Add celery, pepper, scallions and soy sauce; continue heating rapidly. Garnish with egg strips. Serve at once. Make 2 large or 4 small servings.

Egg strips: Heat 1 teaspoon oil in a 6-inch skillet; add a lightly beaten egg; cook until firm on bottom, drawing egg away from edge of pan so rest lemon-flavored gelatin and a spoon vanilla.

The second dessert is made from the syrup left from the canned apricots, a package of couple of egg whites. Molded in a fancy shape, it looks like a delectable mound of snow and is served with a custard sauce made from the vanilla pudding.

APRICOT CREAM CAKE
Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups cold homogenized milk, 1 package (3-3/4 ounces) vanilla-flavored instant pudding mix, one 8-inch sponge cake layer, whipped cream (if desired), 1 can (1 pound) unpeeled apricot halves in light syrup.

Method: Make up the pudding mix, using the 1 1/2 cups milk, according to package directions and allow to set. Cut cake horizontally to make 2 layers; put together with about two-thirds of the filling; spread remainder over top. Refrigerate about 1 hour or longer; garnish with whipped cream (if used) and drained apricots.

Note: To make this dessert more elaborate, mix apricot preserves with cognac to taste and spread over layers before adding filling and topping. Then put a brandied cherry in each apricot cavity; or use the pitted amarena cherries from Italy—they're divine!

APRICOT SNOW WITH PUDDING SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 package (3 ounces) lemon-flavored gelatin, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup syrup from a 1-pound can of unpeeled apricot halves, 2 egg whites, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 package (3-3/4 ounces) instant vanilla pudding, 2 1/2 cups cold homogenized milk, 1/2 cup cold light or heavy cream, 1/2 tea-

Method: Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; stir in apricot syrup. Chill, stirring often, until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in 2 tablespoons of the sugar. Without washing beater, beat gelatin rapidly for several minutes; add to beaten egg whites; beat enough to combine. Turn into a 5-cup mold; chill until set. Make up pudding according to package directions for sauce using the milk, cream, remaining 2 tablespoons sugar and vanilla. Serve with unmolded Apricot Snow. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SUTLESS SUIT

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—John H. Head says he caught a cold, and it's all the fault of a cleaning shop. He filed a $500 damage suit, claiming he caught the cold when he scampored home without his suit, which he said the cleaners lost while he waited in a booth.

IN THE NICK OF TIME

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Refrigerator repairman Norman Gibson went to the home of Mrs. Gaynell Durham on a routine call and was credited with saving the life of Mrs. Durham's 7-week-old baby.

Mrs. Durham said the infant girl quit breathing. Gibson gave her mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration and restored her breath.

ZESTFUL FLAVOR

Use a little dry mustard in that cheese sauce to step up flavor.

STORE SAFELY

Store pure vanilla in a dark place. True flavoring extracts are highly volatile; keep them tightly closed.

The Strait of Mackinac between Lake Michigan and Lake Huron is four miles wide.

Both desserts feature packaged instant vanilla pudding. One time it's used like the French Creme Patisserie, for filling and topping a cake. Then the cake is garnished with canned apricot halves.

Be Ye Thankful

The human is at his best when he prays... when he reaches up to the Divine. That's when time becomes part of eternity.

As when the pilgrims were struggling to make a go of it and even more so, we need to pause, take stock and thank God. Gratitude is a high virtue. Our cause to praise God is great. Our fathers bequeathed us rich land, good example and sustaining ideals. We must not inherit one without the other. The generous harvest of every year is ours and His. And His is the larger part for God has always been at work. What have we done to merit such blessing? We should join the call to worship this Thanksgiving Day, in the church of our choice... Consider why we should prosper as no other people on earth, fall on our knees and speak loud our thanks to the God of all. Your own soul will be aglow and your Thanksgiving dinner will have more taste if you will first remember Him, and if you will feed and clothe some other person, in His Name. This stimulating fellowship with God and our fellows could make this our greatest Thanksgiving Day. Then, "Come, ye Thankful people, come, and raise the song of Thanksgiving."

Helping Hand For Homeless Teens

CHICAGO (AP)—Homeless adolescents are one of society's peculiar problems, and Norman Herstein wants to give them a home.
 He has a program planned that would enable groups of eight teen-agers to live in a home under the care and protection of a house mother.
 "We want to get it going by next summer," he says. "Our plan of care for these children would enable them to care for themselves. They are from family court problems in which the parents are unable to care for them after they have broken up marriages."
 Herstein, director of the group home program of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, says adults hesitate to take adolescents into their homes.
 "They are at a stage where they are rebelling. So what we want to do is develop other kinds of resources and make use of community facilities. It would be a sort of 'half-way' house—a combination of a resident and treatment center," he says.
 Many of them are graduates of children's institutions and have nowhere to go. Other institutions are closed to them. It would take a special kind of mother to handle them. Some of the kids have trouble adjusting in school and getting along with kids or grownups.

 The children would be housed and fed in the home while they attend high school or vocational school. The aim is to help them develop into good neighbors, achieve socially acceptable manners, develop good standards of conduct and become wage earners, citizens and parents.
 So far, Herstein's program is without a home.
 Financing the project will require public contributions unless someone donates a home as a gift.

Cheers For The Apple Dumpling

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
APPLE DUMPLINGS HAVE a long history.

The most popular English cook book of the 18th century, Mrs. Hannah Glasse's "The Art of Cookery Made Plain and Easy" gives two ways of preparing this heart-warming and appetizing - satisfying dessert.

We're fortunate that early American cook-book writers were not averse to borrowing Mrs. Glasse's and other English cooks' receipts. Thank their good sense in pirating the rules for the dumpling! Apple dumplings are still with us as one of our most popular sweets, although through the years the making of them has been modified to suit our own tastes.

crust "light and good" and they were directed to take up the finished dumplings and "lay them in a dish; throw fine sugar all over them, and send them to the table. Have a good fresh butter melted in a cup, and fine beaten sugar in a saucer."

In Mrs. Glasse's second rule, the dumplings are made much the same way but when they are finished, she suggests treating them as follows. "Cut a little piece of the top off, and take out the core, take a teaspoonful of lemon peel shred as fine as possible, just give it a boil in two spoonful of rose or orange-flower water. In each dumpling put a teaspoonful of this liquor, between the apple with fine sugar, pour in some melted butter, and lay on your piece of crust again. Lay them in your dish, and throw fine sugar all over."

It's interesting to follow the evolution of the American apple dumpling from these receipts. First of all, we gave up using puff-paste for the wrap-around, preferring to use the easier-to-prepare pie or rich baking powder biscuit dough.

RECIPES FOR APPLE dumplings date back several centuries and this familiar dessert still is one of our most popular sweets. Here they are turned out as apple knapsacks, a new contribution by a good cook.

And instead of boiling them, we baked them. Finally, we sometimes added a caramel-type sauce during the baking instead of adding flavorings after it, or "sending them to the table" with extra trimmings.

Now a good cook has made a new contribution. She suggests cutting the pastry knapsack - fashion to intrigue your family and guests. Here's how:

APPLE KNAPSACKS
Ingredients: 4 large baking apples, rich biscuit dough based on 3 cups flour, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 cups light brown sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup cider vinegar, 3/4 cup water.
Method: Core and peel apples;

cut in half crosswise. Roll out biscuit dough as thin as possible. Cut into eight, 7-inch squares. Mix sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon; use to fill centers of apples. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Fold corners of squares to center top. Roll out scraps of biscuit dough; cut into eight strips about 1/2 inch wide and 6 inches long. "Tie" each strip to make a knot with long ends. Place on top of each "knapsack." Place in baking pan. Bake in hot (450 degrees) oven 15 minutes. Meanwhile prepare sauce; mix together well the brown sugar, remaining teaspoon cinnamon, cornstarch and salt. Add vinegar and water; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; boil 5 minutes. Add remaining tablespoon of butter. Pour syrup into baking pan,

Music Lovers' Capital, Frisco Hard On Needles

CHICAGO (AP) — Because its music fans wear out more phonograph needles per capita than any other city, San Francisco is considered the music capital of the United States.

"We wondered why San Francisco used more needles and we started investigating," says Karl Jensen, a phonograph needle manufacturer.

"We found the reason was the 'beatnik' population of San Francisco, as well as the culturally-conscious run-of-the-mill people who seem to enjoy classically music as well as jazz more than anywhere else."

The survey also revealed that the San Franciscan spends more for various forms of music than persons in any other city.

"Not even Boston with its cultural tradition or New York with its large foreign population comes close to San Francisco in playing records and wearing out needles," Jensen says.

San Franciscans seem to be more conscious of music quality and will replace needles more often, he adds.

Quick Lighting

You can be assured of instant lighting of the candles on a birthday cake the moment the match is applied if you first prepare the candles by applying a drop or two of fingernail polish to each wick.

Preserve Color

To prevent colored clothes from acquiring a gray appearance when laundered, add a tablespoonful of vinegar to the next-to-last rinse water.

lifting "knapsacks" so syrup will run underneath. Lower heat to slow (325 degrees); bake 20 to 30 minutes longer, or until apples are tender. Serve hot with plain cream. Makes 8 servings.

OLD-TIME TREAT, candy-coated popcorn, may be made at home. It is sweet and crunchy — a strictly American confection.

Crunchy Goodness In Candy Coated Popcorn

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Newsfeatures Food Editor
HERE WE go nostalgic again, and all in the cause of candy-coated popcorn. If this crunchy sweet stuff was something you adored as a child, you'll probably go right along with us.

Dark rumors have been heard in this land that nowadays candy-coated popcorn is not always what it used to be. So we jump into the fray and come up with a recipe that, according to our taste buds, reproduces that certain old-time taste and texture. In making up the following recipe, be absolutely sure you cook the syrup to the hard-crack stage. If you cook it only to soft-crack, you won't have that hard coating dear to the hearts of confirmed addicts of this confection.

When the syrup is ready to pour over the popped corn it will be thick and harden rapidly, so work faster than fast at this stage. Use two wooden spoons, or a very wide fork or what you will for the mixing of syrup and corn, but mix with speed.

Both white and yellow varieties of corn for popping come in 10-ounce cans and are widely available in food markets. We like this conveniently packaged modern corn because it pops easily and quickly. The white corn, after popping, is entirely free from hard centers and the yellow corn has practically none at all.

If you do not pop all the corn in a can at one sitting, be sure to store it in a tightly covered container so that it does not dry. You need moisture in the corn kernels because heat converts it to steam; it's this sudden release of steam pressure that forces the corn kernels into their flowerlike bursting.

CARMEL CORN

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons corn oil, 1/3 cup popcorn, 1 cup dark corn syrup, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup water, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3/4 cup salted Spanish (red-skinned) peanuts, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons hot water.

Method: In a 3-quart heavy aluminum or iron saucepan heat corn oil about 3 minutes over medium heat; add popcorn. Cover, leaving a small air space at edge of cover. Shake almost constantly until popping stops. Turn into a well-oiled roasting pan (13 by 9 by 3 is a good size) and remove unpopped grains. Place corn syrup, sugar, salt, water and butter in a saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved; cook, stirring occasionally, to hard-crack stage (300 degrees on candy thermometer) or until a small amount separates into hard brittle threads when tested in very cold water. Stir in peanuts; remove from heat. Stir baking soda into hot water; stir into hot syrup mixture. Pour hot syrup over popped corn in oiled roasting pan, mixing rapidly as you do so. Cool, turning at least once. When cool and hard, break into small pieces. Makes 1/2 to 2 quarts.

Note: To test whether oil is hot enough for corn, drop a few kernels into saucepan after oil starts heating; when they pop, add all the corn.

Anyone Can Bake Peach Dumplings

DUMPLINGS COME all sorts of wonderful ways. Here cling peach halves and fresh dates are wrapped in pastry that's rich and flaky to eat.

TAKE HEART, you cooks who have trouble making delicious light and flaky pastry. Take it easy, too.

If your peach pies leave something to be desired, try your hand at peach dumplings. You won't have the problem of shaping and fluting a large crust just so, of easing the pie dough into the pan so it won't shrink woefully, of having edges scorch and the top center look pasty.

This dumpling recipe belongs to pastry's Promised Land. Unless you are "all elbows," chances are you won't go wrong even the first time you try it. You may overwork the dough a bit, but the results definitely still will be worth eating.

Old-fashioned dumplings were often baked in an extremely sweet sauce; sometimes they still are. Here we depart from tradition. In these dumplings canned cling peach halves are used, and just a little brown-sugar sauce goes into each peach cavity before it is covered with pastry. At serving time the rest of the sauce is passed separately so eaters may add it or not, as they please.

Fresh dates also go into the peach cavities, and we mean fresh dates. Other dates may of course be used, but the flavor won't be the same. When baked, fresh dates add something delightfully different and special.

PEACH DUMPLINGS

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup yellow shortening, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup orange juice, 6 canned cling peach halves, 1/2 cup slivered pitted fresh dates (about 12), Brown Sugar Sauce.

Method: Sift together the flour and salt. Cut in shortening until fine; cut in butter so it is in pea-size lumps. Gradually mix in orange juice with a fork; shape stiff dough into a ball. Cut into 6 portions. Roll each out into a 6-inch square on a prepared pastry cloth with floured stockinet - covered rolling pin; place each square in a 6-ounce custard cup or similar individual baking dish. Set a peach half in each cup; fill cavities with dates and about 1 tablespoon of the hot Brown Sugar Sauce; fold pastry up and over to cover fruit; pinch top edges together. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 10 minutes; brush with milk or cream; bake 15 to 20 minutes longer; top should be tinged with brown. Serve warm with remaining hot Brown Sugar Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Brown Sugar Sauce: In a small skillet simmer for about 5 minutes 1/2 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar, 1/2 cup syrup from peaches, a dash of salt, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind and 3 tablespoons orange juice.

Beauty At Home

Q. What have you to say about makeup during hot weather?

A. Most women — and rightly so — like to use only very simple hot-weather makeup, consisting merely of face powder and lipstick. A small amount of hand lotion, smoothed over face and throat, will correct the dry look and will change the skin to satin. Furthermore, this provides a wonderful base for the face powder.

Note: Dough may be rolled into an 18 by 12 inch rectangle and then cut into 6 squares.

Q. Do you advocate the use of a black eyebrow pencil?

A. Only if you happen to have a naturally high coloring. Otherwise, a black pencil is apt to impart a "hard" and artificial look, and no sensible woman wants that. Brown pencil is usually much the safer.

Q. What do you recommend as a good, hot weather bodily "pick-me-up"?

A. A generous dousing of your body with your favorite cologne (first cooled in your refrigerator for this purpose) feels wonderful on a hot day. Especially dab some on your wrists and the soles of your feet. You'll be delighted with the results.

ROASTING TIP

Small broad-breasted turkeys take several hours to roast because of their large proportion of meat to bone.

Q. How can I remedy this situation?

A. You can keep your tubes of household cement usable to the last drop, if, after using it, you replace the cap carefully, put the tube into a small screw-top jar, and close it tightly.

Q. Do you have any good suggestions on how to keep glass coffee-table tops and mirrors gleaming?

A. You can accomplish this with a minimum amount of work, just by wiping them with a dampened newspaper, then polishing with a dry one. This system leaves no lint residue.

Q. How can I clean some plastic playing cards?

A. Wipe them carefully and thoroughly with a cloth moistened in starch solution.

Q. How can I clean straw matting?

A. Wash the straw matting with a cloth dampened in hot salt water, using a handful of salt to a bucket of hot water.

Q. I'm seldom able to use more than about half my tubes of household cement, because they become hardened. How

Q. How can I, when keeping some potted plants on a rather narrow window ledge, prevent their toppling off?

A. You can do this very nicely by attaching the ordinary kind of flat curtain rod to the window frame so that it rests just above the center of the pots.

Q. How can I remove the discolorations from the inside of a glass coffee percolator tube?

A. With a pipe cleaner soaked in liquid detergent.

CRUMB IT GOOD

Use the fine blade of a food chopper when you put ready-to-eat cereals through to make fine crumbs.

ORANGE RINDS USEFUL

Grate the rind from oranges to be squeezed for breakfast juice and add it to applesauce for delightful extra flavor.
