Officials Refuse To Talk Further On Peace Moves By U. S. and England On Halting Naval Work

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Likelihood of a preliminary naval limitation conference by World powers before next spring was discussed today in governmental and diplomatic quarters, upon study and comparison of the pronouncements in that connection made yesterday by President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald.

Official information was lacking. The White House, state department and navy department refrained from comment on the prospective forthcoming international meeting referred to by the British Prime Minister. Unofficial views were expressed, that in postponing the construction of three cruisers, Mr. Hoover was looking forward to such a gathering well in advance of the close of the present fiscal year, June 30.

June 30 Is Deadline

By that time the first five vessels authorized by the 15 cruiser law must be laid down unless an international agreement on naval limitation has been reached meanwhile. Elaboration of Mr. Hoover's announcement concerning the suspension on work on parts of this year's building program was declined.

At the state department, Secretary Stimson defined the principle of parity of naval strength as agreed upon in the discussions between Mr. MacDonald and Ambassador Dawes to be respected by the two governments. He said it meant an absolute equality of fighting strength in

Senate Naval Chief Cannot See Immediate Suspension Of Cruiser Building; He Cites Act Of Congress

(By Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Maine, July 25.—No suspension of the naval construction program is immediately likely, in the opinion of Senator Frederick Hale, chairman of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs.

The cruiser bill of last winter empowered the President to suspend the authorized construction only in the event of an international agreement, the Senator pointed out. No such agreement has been reached, added, or can be reached until called by the Senate.

Can't Understand It

"I do not understand," Senator Hale said, "that the President is attempting to suspend in whole or in part any of the naval construction authorized under this act at the present time.

"In view of Great Britain's often expressed imperative need for cruisers, I can conceive of no possible agreement that can be reached with the United States whereby we should have to complete the first five ships already started."

ARBITRATION ARRANGED

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Secretary Stimson and Canadian Minister Massey have begun final arrangements for arbitration of the "I Alone" case.

Water Is Used Despite Rumor

The erroneous report of a "dead Mexican in the city water supply" may have effect on some people but according to reports from the municipal pump station, Lubbock citizens used more water the day such a rumor was scattered than any other day in the week.

J. J. Graham, superintendent, stated last night that according to his records for the three days preceding the death tale, Tuesday's consumption of water was 2,000 gallons more than average days. His report shows: Saturday, 1,265,000; Sunday, 1,313,000; Monday, 1,832,000, and Tuesday, 1,000,

Dickinson, elected as president for the coming year in a meeting of the directorate yesterday, told the Avalanche last night.

"You may say for us," Mr. Dickinson stated "that we intend to spare no labors to do our part in carrying out the ambitious program outlined by our predecessors and that every man on the board of directors is prepared to do his part to gain this end."

Thirty-first Bank In Florida Fails

ORMOND, Fla., July 25. (AP)—The Bank of Ormond, in this exclusive resort, winter home of John D. Rockefeller, sr., closed today. It was the 31st Florida banking institution to close since April 5th, two others having closed yesterday. They were the Bank of St. Augustine and the Phifer State Bank of Gainesville.

Officials did not disclose whether the millionaire oil magnate kept a deposit here during the summer months, but it was believed he had no funds in the bank.

Officers of the bank said it had deposits in the Merchants' Bank and Trust company of Daytona Beach, and when the latter institution failed recently, the Bank of Ormond "thus was adversely affected."

Houston Birdmen Hold To Hope Of Outlasting Robin

Both Endurance Planes Are Still In Air As Record Is Extended Each Minute By Missourians

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, July 25.—As the endurance plane "Billion Dollar City" wound up its eighth full day of flying two problems confronted Joe Glass and Glenn L. Loomis, pilots of the craft; bad weather, and the question, how long would they have to face a 100 hour handicap against them and in favor of the St. Louis Robin.

The Texas fliers were determined to outdo the boys who are trying to wear out a perfectly good motor in the Mississippi region, but that 100 hours lead will gape at them until the Robin pilots give up. Only then can they figure what it will take to ruin a real mark.

Barograph Runs Down

The Houston fliers this afternoon began to scheme in an effort to stay within sight or sound of the airport after their barograph will have run down. A midair transfer of the official from the refueling ship was suggested.

Seventeen Die In Terrible Heat Of American Desert

Imperial Valley Swelters In Excessive Humidity; Bodies Of Mother, Six Kiddies Recovered

(By Associated Press)

BLYTHE, Calif., July 25.—Torrid Imperial Valley is experiencing one of the most stifling heat waves in its history.

A check of heat deaths today disclosing 17 persons have succumbed in the last five days, including a Mexican mother and her six children.

The family, group accompanied by a Mexican man, was en route over a little used desert road when their motor car developed trouble and the entire party of eight perished of thirst.

Car Tank Drained

When the bodies were found it was discovered that the water had been drained from the radiator of the automobile presumably to drink.

Nine other victims of the heat, mostly Mexicans and negroes, died in cities. An extremely high humidity averaging about 78 for the past ten days was cited as the cause. Temperatures have not been abnormally high during the period, averaging about 106.

The desert victims, Enrique Armenta, Mrs. Julia Perez and her six children, were found dead after several Mexican boys reported the finding of Armenta's body. Early today by sheriff's party, tracing tracks from Armenta's automobile, trekked twelve miles across the wastes before they came upon the mother and her children, huddled together in death.

Thirst and Heat Fatal

The extreme heat combined with thirst, physicians said, caused the fatalities. From the tracks, authorities surmised the mother and chil-

Mayor Of Dallas Wants More Art

"Blue Shirt Boys" Will Be Privileged To Look Upon Municipal Gallery Again As Funds Are Assured

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, July 25 — Right after Mayor J. Waddy Tate came into office in a "hot dog" campaign the fund that maintained a municipal art gallery was cut out. The mayor announced today, however, that the "blue shirt boys are just as much entitled to enjoy the fine arts as the rich man" and that the city commission has appropriated $4,000 this year to keep art free to the common people.

He's "Blue Shirt" Favorite.

The mayor credits the "blue shirt boys" with his accession to office. To them he handed out hot dogs in his campaign and for them he gave a mighty inauguration ball which 20,000 attended. The proceeds — admission was 10c—went to charity.

"The rich family," Tate said in making his announcement, "can go to the great art centers of this country and the world and see the work of immortal artists but unless we develop an art gallery here and lead public support to the fine arts, the great bulk of our citizenship will be deprived of this opportunity."

Narcotics Given Doctor By Co-Ed, May Be His Plea

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., July 25.—Attorneys for Dr. James H. Snook deposed Ohio State university professor, indicated today they will attempt to show that the 48-year-old defendant killed Theora Hix, his 24-year-old co-ed paramour, while mentally unbalanced by the influence of dangerous narcotics taken by him and the girl as "love potions."

Veiled suggestions produced by Snook's attorney in examination of prospective jurors in the professor's trial on a charge of first degree murder, were that Miss Hix had given the professor narcotics, secretely at first, in baked goods, and that later they experimented with them freely during their three years period of illicit relationship.

Confession Recalled.

Dr. Snook's confession of the killing was that the girl had threatened the life of his wife and child, and believing his own life was in danger, also, he hammered the co-ed to death during a quarrel and then slit her throat to end her suffering.

The jury box was tentatively filled before defense attorney John F. Siedel revealed the intention to show that Miss Hix gave her lover concoctions which may have had an influence in the killing.

"FRAME TRIAL" SET

Dallas Policemen Will Be Given Hearing Monday

DALLAS, July 25. (AP)—Two policemen charged with attempting to "frame" their chief, Commissioner W. C. Graves, will be given a hearing before the city commission Monday, Graves announced today.

The police commissioner claims the officers, Mike F. Higgins and A. B. Farrow, plain clothes men, conspired to trap him into a compromising situation at a "beer house." They deny the allegation and contend certain persons misled the commissioner, seeking their dismissal from service.

Sanity Of Leahy Testified To By State Witnesses

Physicians Scout Defense Of Insanity; Sister Says Attack Of Fever Brought About Mind Weakness

(By Associated Press)

GEORGETOWN, July 25 — Harry Leahy, who must prove he is insane or face the electric chair for the murder of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, of Mathis, heard witness after witness testify that they believed him sane at his sanity hearing here today.

Old acquaintances, penitentiary officials, a Texas ranger and experts on mental disorders agreed from the stand that Leahy impressed them as a normal man capable of distinguishing right from wrong and realizing his desperate plight.

Defense Is Stumped.

Efforts of the defense through cross examination to change the story told by the witnesses met with little success although a number of the witnesses admitted that their observations were not based on extensive and recent examinations of the defendant and Dr. Joe Wooten, of Austin, and other experts, admitted that their examination had been incomplete, owing to Leahy's refusal to answer questions.

Mrs. J. R. Sullivan, of Corpus Christi, Leahy's sister, concluded direct testimony for the defense by telling of a serious fever which the defendant suffered when he was 20 years old, during which he was delerious and nervous. She said he recovered from the fever but that last October he suddenly changed and the nervousness reappeared.

E. T. Harrell, warden of the state penitentiary, who has had a chance to observe Leahy in the death cell,

SHANGHAI, July 25.—China expects that its dispute with Russia will be settled soon by direct negotiations, probably in Moscow, without intervention of any third power. It was thought that this method would have the approval of the Soviet government.

Minister Chu will have power to represent China. By traveling through Manchuria he will be able to observe at first hand, conditions along the Chinese Eastern railway and may have opportunity for conversations with General Chang Tso Hsiang, governor of Kirin, and Consul General B. N. Melnikov, who have been reported unofficially as already in communication.

The day brought the usual crop of reports of firing along the border and of Soviet airplanes operating over Chinese territory. Foreign Minister Wang, however, belittled similar reports.

Strip Will Connect Avenue J and Texas Avenue Over Seventh Street; Bids On West Tenth Discussed

HERALDING the day when the three block 'leave-out' on Nineteenth street between Avenues M and Q—long a bug-bear in city-bound traffic from the Southwest—will be hardsurfaced and an additional route of travel to the downtown section will be opened, members of the city commission in session Thursday afternoon, let two paving contracts to the Panhandle Construction company, Lubbock.

The contracts four blocks in all, call for the paving of the Nineteenth street 'leave-out' and, in addition, the paving of one block on Seventh street between Texas ave. and Avenue J.

Problem Is Settled

The problem of traffic on Avenue Q has long been the source of a serious problem to the Commission and with this additional paving traffic from the west will be enabled to continue on Nineteenth street to Avenue M or Texas Avenue, thus elliminating a great amount of dangerous congestion, Mayor Harley D. Woods pointed out.

To Advertise Bids

Advertising for bids was also ordered by the Commission for paving on Tenth street from Avenue Q to College Avenue. Modern Speed Boat, In Final Spurt, Eclipses Record Of 'Robert E. Lee'

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 25. (AP)—The Steamboat Robert E. Lee, once called the "Monarch of the Mississippi," stood vanquished tonight. Its 59 year-old speed record from New Orleans To St. Louis was beaten today by a modern motor boat, the "Bogie" which completed the 1,154 miles in 87 hours and 31 minutes to clip two hours and 43 minutes off the Lee's mark.

But it was an endurance test for even the modern craft, a 26 foot boat equipped with a 150 horsepower motor, for it beat the Lee's record only after a strenuous dash over the last fifty miles of the course. And Dr. Louis Leroy, of Memphis, owner of the "Bogie" who failed in two previous attempts to set a new record, said he intends to "let the mark stand for awhile." "If someone wants to beat it," he added, "he will have to have lots of skill and luck."

Somehow the cross-country aerial honeymoon of Anne and Charles Lindbergh offers several appealing elements. There's a comradeship about the two newlyweds setting forth together in sport togs and with camping outfit, skimming down out of the high blue to land in a daisied meadow and fry bacon and eggs and brew coffee.

There is something more significant here, too. When Lindbergh's engagement was first announced straightway came another announcement to the effect that he would probably curtail his flying to considerable extent.

* * *

JUST WAIT!

It looks as if his bride not only accepts his flying in full measure but intends doing it with him, to boot.

That is, for a while. Anne Morrow Lindbergh is described as "typically feminine." And not much gypsy blood lives in "typically feminine" veins.

It won't be long before Anne will think of such things as jade and orange drapes for the sunroom, ice-less refrigeration, moss roses for the garden, and a green kitchen.

About that time, too, the first fine noble gesture of yielding up her young husband to his chosen life of aviation may be mingled with more orthodox wifely dreads. Anyway, the world is watching to see.

* * *

WHAT'D SHE EXPECT?

Mrs. Mabel—excuse us, Mabelle—Gilman Corey, divorced wife of the steel king, will not wed her prince Don Luis Somebody or Other, cousin to the King of Spain. His mama didn't seem to like the match, and he didn't like the monthly pin money that Mrs. Mabelle was allowing him.

Mabelle says that she's sorta glad, anyway, now she won't have to leave her own home and of course she says that the more she sees of men, the better she likes dogs.

* * *

THEIR IDEA

It seems that Mrs. Corey and the prince had been dickering for months about that marriage settlement. It seems queer to some of us that she should be at all surprised or shocked at the conduct of a prince who permitted his marriage to be dependent upon the proper settlement from the very beginning. Still, it's just the old difference between the continental and American viewpoint on this subject.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Perfume must be as old as civilization. For as far back as there are civilized writings to record the life of history there are mentions of sweet fragrances used in countless ways by people who realized their charm.

The ancient pagans used incense in their religious ceremonies, and other religious worshippers have followed their example. They threw sweet woods on their sacred fires and danced and prayed as the fragrance rose. Even in mythology there are references to perfumes. The gods of Olympus are described as fragrant. Sweet odors emanated from their feet and hands and hair. The early Greeks, according to history, used many perfumes at a time. Violet and orris were favorite scents with them, but they used other herbal fragrances, introduced from Arabia and farther east. One scent was used for the hair, another for the lips, still another for the breath, and sundry perfumed oils for their hands and feet.

Fifteen centuries ago the Arabs distilled perfumes, but it was not until several centuries later that the crusaders brought back from the east the rare, poetic art of making perfume. In the thirteenth century it was discovered that alcohol could be used to capture and hold elusive flower fragrances. It is said that a country girl about this time used alcohol to preserve some flowers and found, to her surprise, that a liquid fragrance was the result. Since then much experiment has been conducted to perfect this first discovery, for chemists found that the natural flower essence with alcohol alone was not a perfect reproduction of the flower odor. Other substances had to be combined with these bases and certain blended floral scents. Rose, lavender and orange flower scents were among the earliest perfected.

Not until the nineteenth century were synthetic perfumes developed. Then it was found by enterprising chemists that flower scents and other pleasant fragrances could be produced by certain chemicals in composition without the presence of the essential flower oils.

Floydada School Now Has 28 Units State Affiliated

Additional Credits Allowed In English And Vocational Agriculture; Every Credit Affiliated Now

(Special To The Avalanche)

FLOYDADA, July 25.—Additional credits in English and vocational agriculture effective this year brings the total number of credits of the Floydada high school to twenty-eight and makes every subject taught in the schools here affiliated with the State university. The news of the credit in fourth year English and one and one-half credits in agriculture was received by Superintendent W. E. Patty this week.

Vocational agriculture is one of the subjects that have been taught by the Floydada schools only two years and is under the supervision of O. T. Williams. The effective work done by this department of the local school has brought state wide recognition and the announcement of the additional credits did not come as a surprise to Superintendent Patty.

The English department of the school has received much attention from the superintendent and faculty and the fourth year credit places this department in line with much larger schols.

"It's An Old Gag, This Dead Mexican Tale," Former Chicago Man Declares

Rumors circulating throughout the streets of Lubbock concerning a contaminated city water supply caused by a dead Mexican found in one of the local reservoirs has revived various and sundry reports of the same calibre that have made the rounds in other centers.

C. E. Gough, president of the Gough Motor company, who was formerly a resident of Chicago, recalls several occasions when similar reports were common gossip on the streets of the Windy City.

It's an old yarn," the local Studebaker agent said, "and it always captivates the interest of the public. At regular intervals in Chicago reports circulated that a dozen of murdered gangsters had been thrown into the city water supply, located in huge "barns" on Lake Michigan. In spite of the absurdity of the rumors, the public became horrified on each occasion, and demanded investigations."

"The utter impossibility of any foreign matter gaining entrance to the well-protected tanks made the matter even more laughable. One report had it that a dead alligator was found in one of the reservoirs. One of these tropical animals would last just about as long in the cold waters of Lake Michigan as a snow ball in hades."

Connally Attacks Monopoly Menace

Congress Must Meet Merger Problem, Texas Senator Declares; Anti-Trust Laws Being Violated

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Charging the anti-trust laws have not been enforced, Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, predicted today congress would be forced to approach the problem of mergers and consolidations from a new angle.

He declared the "formation of monopolies dealing in the necessities of life constitute a menace to the industrial freedom of the country" and that it is "a problem congress must meet."

"Either far-reaching amendments to the anti-trust laws must be enacted," he said, "or a new method of regulating the activities of such monopolies and trusts in interstate commerce must be set up.

"The anti-trust laws have not been enforced," he said. "Under the last administration, the department of justice seemed either in sympathy with or indifferent to these great consolidations. It may be because through development of modern methods of financing and pyramiding of holding companies, the law is not adequate to meet present conditions."

Legal Battle Is Expected In Trial Of 2 Dry Officer

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 25.—battle to decide in which court state or federal—W. W. Thomaso federal prohibition enforcement o ficer, and Jeff Harris, under cov man, will be tried for murder, loom ed today.

Both men have been bound ov to district court on charges of mu der in connection with the slayin of two Oklahoma farmers, James Harris and his brother-in-law, O car Lowery, during a liquor raid o the Harris farm July 4.

Government Steps In

Yesterday the federal governmen stepped in, when the United State district court, through an orde signed by Ed S. Vaught, U. S. Dis trict Judge, assumed jurisdiction o the men and brought them fro the Pottawatomie county jai where they were being held with out bond, to an Oklahoma City jail

The order, issued by Judge Vaught at the request of attorneys for the two men, was based on the contention that both Thomason and Jeff Harris were on official government business when the farmers were slain and therefore were within jurisdiction of the federal court.

Randall Pitman, Pottawatomie county attorney, said he would "fight to the last resort" to have the men tried in a state court.

RIVERSIDES

The first choice of millions of motorists throughout America

YOU hear a lot of talk and read many statements nowadays, about how many millions of this or that tire have been sold ... and why. These statements fail to point out, however, that a large percentage of all these tires are sold as "factory equipment" on popular makes of automobiles. In other words, the motorist himself has had very little to say about selecting the tire equipment of the new car he buys.

When these same motorists, however, have an opportunity to study tire quality and tire values for themselves, the story becomes somewhat different! ...

Take, for example, the popularity of RIVERSIDES among car-owners. This famous tire was introduced to the American public 18 years ago. Since that time RIVERSIDES have been sold to many millions of motorists throughout America. A great majority of these tires have been sold on merit alone—without any high-pressure salesmanship. And they were bought on just three points: the splendid reputation of Montgomery Ward & Co.—the definite mileage guarantees under which RIVERSIDE Tires have always been sold—and the recommendation of millions of satisfied users.

Facts like these cannot be disputed or ignored. They explain why RIVERSIDE Tires occupy a place among the leaders of the industry—and it is because of these facts that we make the claim, and back it with our guarantees, that RIVERSIDES are THE EQUAL OF ANY TIRE MADE, regardless of price. This statement we are anxious to have you prove to your own satisfaction—on your own car—the next time you are in the market for tires.

In the matter of price, RIVERSIDES, of course, save you money. Compared with the five or six other leading makes of equal quality, for example, your savings on a RIVERSIDE range from about $2 per tire (on the 29 x 4.40 RIVERSIDE Balloon) to $5 to $10 on larger sizes. Surely such savings merit your most careful consideration ... particularly in view of the fact that when you purchase a RIVERSIDE you are protected by definite guarantees of 16,000 and 30,000 miles of service! No other make of tire in America today, backed by an organization with the responsibility of Montgomery Ward & Co., is sold under such definite mileage guarantees.

Visit our store today and see these RIVERSIDES for yourself. Note their quality construction, low price, ironclad mileage guarantees ... and buy on FACTS, not "talk."

Rev. Shuler Charges Grain Merchant With Assault And Battery; Sermons Are Believed Cause

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—A complaint charging assault and battery was sworn to by the Rev. R. P. Shuler in the district attorney's office today against Clayton C. Stafford, wealthy Elmonte grain merchant, accused of manhandling the pastor.

Mr. Shuler declared that in an unwarranted attack by Stafford in an Elmonte drug store yesterday his glasses were broken, his eyes blackened and his hands and face cut. Stafford's attorney said his client would surrender.

Cause Is Unknown

The cause of the attack on Shuler whose vigorous radio sermons have led to several libel suits and created uproars among public officials he has attacked, remained unrevealed.

The pastor claimed he spoke a casual greeting to Stafford as the grain merchant entered a drug store where Shuler was drinking a soda.

He replied, the pastor said, by attacking him. Shuler said he did not strike back.

Stafford, who is awaiting trial on charges of mistreating his former stenographer, Miss Rae Schade, 21, charged the pastor with addressing him viciously and making a radio talk on his case which he "couldn't stand for." The pastor denied Stafford's statements.

Mr. Shuler holds the pulpit here of the Trinity Episcopal church, South.

Fields Wins Welter Title From Dundee On Foul Blow

Chicago Sweeps Series With New York And Increases Lead Over Pirates

Chicago Fighter Awarded Decision In Second Round

Challenger Has Decisive Edge Over Champion When Foul Blow Struck; Dundee Floored Twice

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, Mich., July 25. (AP)—Jackie Fields, "sheikish" appearing youth of Chicago, won the world's welterweight championship tonight.

Fields defeated Joe Dundee, titleholder, on a foul in the second round of their scheduled fifteen round contest.

Dundee Badly Beaten.

Dundee, reeling and staggering after twice hitting the floor in the second round, delivered a terrific right-hand punch low in foul territory a minute and fifty-five seconds after the second round opened.

Fields, writhing in intense agony, backed into the ropes and then knifed to the floor. His seconds rushed into the ring and dragged him to his corner. He was in such pain that he was unable to sit on his chair. He fell into the resin in his own corner while his handlers worked frantically over him.

Loser Rocks Badly.

Meanwhile, Dundee, hopelessly beaten, staggered into his own corner. He was rocking like a reed in a heavy wind from the barrage of punches, that knocked him to the floor in the second round for the counts of nine and seven.

The second round had hardly started when Fields cut loose with a crushing right to the chin that knocked Dundee sprawling.

He gamely struggled to his feet and met another barrage that knocked him silly. This time it was another right that dropped him on his haunches. He got up, backed into the ropes and shook his head in an effort to shake the cobweb out of his dizzy brain. Then Dundee launched forward with a low sweeping right-hand punch. It landed squarely in foul territory. Fields was through. He was unable to continue.

Round One

They shook hands in the middle of the ring and came out fighting. Dundee missed a left and right to the head and they clinched. Fields dug a left to the body. Dundee drove a right to the head. Fields was short with a left to the head, but drove a right to the body. Fields hooked two lefts and rights to the head. They came together. Dundee landing a right to the head. Fields shot two lefts and rights to the head with Dundee backing to the ropes. Fields hooked a left to the body as the champion came into range. They traded lefts to the face. Fields hooked a left to the jaw and a right to the cheek. Fields hooked another left to the jaw with Dundee backing away as the round ended.

Round Two

Dundee was short with a left to the head and they clinched in mid ring. They exchanged body punches. Fields hooked two lefts to the body and a terrific right to the jaw. Dundee backed to the ropes and was floored with a heavy barrage of punches to the head. He got up at the count of nine and was knocked down again a moment later for a count of seven. Fields drove three rights to the paw that had the champion reeling. Dundee drove a hard right to foul territory and Fields fell to the floor in pain. His seconds started to work over him while he was dragged to his corner. He was unable to sit on the chair and fell to the floor. A doctor was called into the ring to make an examination. Fields was unable to continue and the fight was awarded to the challenger.

He sank to the floor, turned over upon his face and rolled over a couple of times before his seconds could get into the ring to drag him to the corner. Dundee delivered the foul when he apparently realized that he had no chance of defeating the youthful challenger and saving his title.

Good Crowd On Hand.

The battle was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 27,000 with net receipts around $125,000, a new record for a welterweight championship contest. The gate eclipsed the previous high mark of $88,000 when Dundee won the title from Pete Latzo at the Polo ground in New York in 1927.

The bout was staged in Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons' new arena at the Michigan State Fair grounds, with Fred W. Green, governor of Michigan and other notables in attendance. It was the first 15-round boxing contest under the new Michigan boxing law.

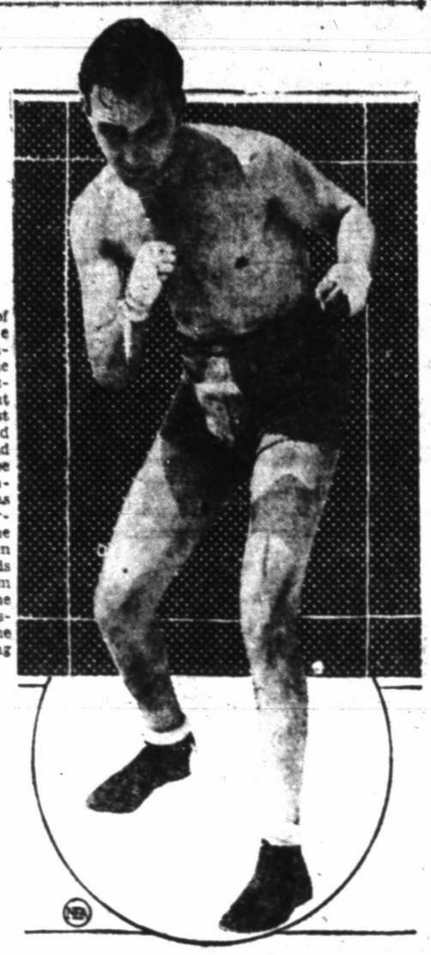
Miller was a battery mate in 1877 of Robert Mitchell of the Reds, first left handed pitcher to throw a curve ball.

Challenger Is Awarded Decision



Jackie Fields, of Chicago, won the welterweight championship of the world at Floyd Fitzsimmons' new fight arena in Detroit last night in the second round of the 15 round contest with Joe Dundee, the champion. Dundee was facing almost certain disaster when he landed the punch in foul territory. Fields swarmed all over him at the start of the second round, chasing him into the ropes after flooring him twice.

Barnes Shows Way In Canadian Open

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANAWAKI GOLF CLUB, Montreal, July 25. (AP)—"Long Jim" Barnes, retired professional golfer of New Rochelle, N. Y., who scorns knickers, showed as little respect for par over the Kanawaki course today and with a great 66 to lead the field in the first round on the Canadian open golf championships.

The former American and British open champion, insisted on wearing trousers long enough to cover all his long legs.

Ernie Wakelam, 29, Brockville, Ont., occupied second place tonight with 68. Two other sub-par scores, a pair of 69's returned by Tommy Armour, Detroit, former United States and Canadian open champion, and Billy Burke, Westport, N. Y., New York State open champion, represented a tie or the "place" position.

Tilden To Meet Old Rival Today

American Net Veteran Is Paired With Champion In Opening Round Of Davis Cup Play In Paris

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—Just as America would have it, and with France entirely satisfied too, the Davis Cup forces or two great tennis nations will swing into action tomorrow in the opening singles battles with Big Bill Tilden facing Henri Cochet and George Lott in the opposite court from Jean Borotra.

The draw for the challenge round for the historic trophy was staged today.

The veteran Tilden, America's chief hope, will face Cochet, world's champion in the crucial duel of the day at 4:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. E. S. T.) after Lott opens the series with Borotra. In the French mind Borotra is a two to one favorite to defeat Lott. Despite recent defeats, Tilden's reputation still carries such weight in France that he is quoted at even money with Cochet.

The pairings will be reversed for the second singles matches Sunday. Saturday Wilmer Allison, Texan, and John Van Ryn, Princeton, will engage the French in the doubles combat. France's double team will not be announced until tomorrow, but Cochet and Borotra were expected to carry that part of the cup defense burden also.

Fields Wins Welter Title From Dundee On Foul Blow

Chicago Sweeps Series With New York And Increases Lead Over Pirates

Chicago Fighter Awarded Decision In Second Round

Challenger Has Decisive Edge Over Champion When Foul Blow Struck; Dundee Floored Twice

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, Mich., July 25. (AP)—Jackie Fields, 'sheikish' appearing youth of Chicago, won the world's welterweight championship tonight.

Fields defeated Joe Dundee, titleholder, on a foul in the second round of their scheduled fifteen round contest.

Dundee Badly Beaten.

Dundee, reeling and staggering after twice hitting the floor in the second round, delivered a terrific right-hand punch low in foul territory a minute and fifty-five seconds after the second round opened.

Fields, writhing in intense agony, backed into the ropes and then knifed to the floor. His seconds rushed into the ring and dragged him to his corner. He was in such pain that he was unable to sit on his chair. He fell into the resin in his own corner while his handlers worked frantically over him.

Loser Rocks Badly.

Meanwhile, Dundee hopelessly beaten, staggered into his own corner. He was rocking like a reed in a heavy wind from the barrage of punches that knocked him to the floor in the second round for the counts of nine and seven.

The second round had hardly started when Fields cut loose with a crushing right to the chin that knocked Dundee sprawling.

He gamely struggled to his feet and met another barrage that knocked him silly. This time it was another right that dropped him on his haunches. He got up, backed into the ropes and shook his head in an effort to shake the cobweb out of his dizzy brain. Then Dundee launched forward with a low sweeping right-hand punch. It landed squarely in foul territory. Fields was through. He was unable to continue.

Round One

They shook hands in the middle of the ring and came out fighting. Dundee missed a left and right to the head and they clinched. Fields dug a left to the body. Dundee drove a right to the head. Fields was short with a left to the head, but drove a right to the body. Fields hooked two lefts and rights to the head. They came together. Dundee landing a right to the head. Fields shot two lefts and rights to the head with Dundee backing to the ropes. Fields hooked a left to the body as the champion came into range. They traded lefts to the face. Fields hooked a left to the jaw and a right to the cheek. Fields hooked another left to the jaw with Dundee backing away as the round ended.

Round Two

Dundee was short with a left to the head and they clinched in mid ring. They exchanged body punches. Fields hooked two lefts to the body and a terrific right to the jaw. Dundee backed to the ropes and was floored with a heavy barrage of punches to the head. He got up at the count of nine and was knocked down again a moment later for a count of seven. Fields drove three rights to the paw that had the champion reeling. Dundee drove a hard right to foul territory and Fields fell to the floor in pain. His seconds started to work over him while he was dragged to his corner. He was unable to sit on the chair and fell to the floor. A doctor was called into the ring to make an examination. Fields was unable to continue and the fight was awarded to the challenger.

He sank to the floor, turned over upon his face and rolled over a couple of times before his seconds could get into the ring to drag him to the corner. Dundee delivered the foul when he apparently realized that he had no chance of defeating the youthful challenger and saving his title.

Good Crowd On Hand.

The battle was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 27,000 with net receipts around $125,000, a new record for a welterweight championship contest. The gate eclipsed the previous high mark of $88,000 when Dundee won the title from Pete Latzo at the Polo ground in New York in 1927.

The bout was staged in Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons' new arena at the Michigan State Fair grounds with Fred W. Green, governor of Michigan and other notables in attendance. It was the first 15-round boxing contest under the new Michigan boxing law.

Challenger Is Awarded Decision

Jackie Fields of Chicago, won the welterweight championship of the world at Floyd Fitzsimmons' new fight arena in Detroit last night in the second round of the 15 round contest with Joe Dundee, the champion. Dundee was facing almost certain disaster when he landed the punch in foul territory. Fields swarmed all over him at the start of the second round, chasing him into the ropes after flooring him twice.

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANAWAKI GOLF CLUB, Montreal, July 25. (AP)—"Long Jim" Barnes, retired professional golfer of New Rochelle, N. Y., who scorns knickers, showed as little respect for par over the Kanawaki course today and with a great 66 to lead the field in the first round on the Canadian open golf championships.

The former American and British open champion, insisted on wearing trousers long enough to cover all his long legs.

Ernie Wakelam, 29, Brockville, Ont., occupied second place tonight with 68. Two other sub-par scores, a pair of 69's returned by Tommy Armour, Detroit, former United States and Canadian open champion, and Billy Burke, Westport, N. Y., New York State open champion, represented a tie or the "place" position.

The Nut Cracker

The wrestling racket in its present status has everybody guessing. Gus Sonnenberg, who won the title from Choker Lewis actually defeated the Smotherer in a return engagement.

• • •

ACCORDING TO THE CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF THE GRAPPLERS' UNION, GUS SHOULD HAVE LOST THAT MATCH, MAKING A PLAYOFF THE NECESSARY AND TERRIBLE PROSPECT.

• • •

Baybe the stranglers think Boston will stand for any kind of an old gag.

• • •

Mr. Lewis did score one fall, however, and this makes it almost sure that the two will have to put on their act again.

• • •

Sonnenberg butts his way to victory. There are any number of piano movers in the profession, however, who get by on headwork.

• • •

The mat sport has become a game of ifs and butts.

Sonnenberg is charged with wrestling the same guy in six different places under different names. You can't blame him for that—it's so hard to find a guy you can depend upon in that racket.

Tilden To Meet Old Rival Today

American Net Veteran Is Paired With Champion In Opening Round Of Davis Cup Play In Paris

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—Just as America would have it, and with France entirely satisfied too, the Davis Cup forces or two great tennis nations will swing into action tomorrow in the opening singles battles with Big Bill Tilden facing Henri Cochet and George Lott in the opposite court from Jean Borotra.

The draw for the challenge round for the historic trophy was staged today.

The veteran Tilden, America's chief hope, will face Cochet, world's champion in the crucial duel of the day at 4:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. E. S. T.) after Lott opens the series with Borotra. In the French mind Borotra is a two to one favorite to defeat Lott. Despite recent defeats, Tilden's reputation still carries such weight in France that he is quoted at even money with Cochet.

The pairings will be reversed for the second singles matches Sunday. Saturday Wilmer Allison, Texan, and John Van Ryn, Princeton, will engage the French in the doubles combat. France's double team will not be announced until tomorrow, but Cochet and Borotra were expected to carry that part of the cup defense burden also.

Important Prehistoric Material Is Discovered On Swenson Ranch; Area Is Yielding Many Valuble Specimens

Michigan Professor Closes Week of Research Work; Dr. Patton Will Bring Specimen To Tech

(Special To The Avalanche)

SPUR, July 25.—Dr. E. C. Case, professor of paleontology, University of Michigan has just closed a week of field research on the properties of S. M. Swenson and Sons, in Crosby county. Dr. Case and his party were successful in securing some hitherto unheard of specimens from prehistoric life. This collection consisted of a very large skull, with teeth intact, and a large number of vertebrae.

This section skirting the Cap Rock has yielded many very interesting specimens, one of which measured 18 feet in length. This large reptile found by Dr. Case, proved to be an hitherto unknown sub-order of prehistoric reptile to which was given the name Spurensis. It was in a remarkable state of preservation, and was found in the Upper Triassic.

Of the recent remains unearthed by Dr. Case in the Spur country some 250 pounds was shipped to Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Dr. L. T. Patton of Texas Tech, during the past few years has recovered many valuable specimens of the class reptiles. These have been saved to Texas and may be seen at the Texas Technological college, at Lubbock.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Behold, as the eyes of servants look upon the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden look unto the hand of her mistress; so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until that he may have mercy upon us. — Psalm cxxiii, 2.

A WISE SELECTION

THE MORNING AVALANCHE is frankly pleased at the selection of Byron Carleton Dickinson as president of the Greater-Than-Ever Panhandle-South Plains fair. The directorate of this ever-expanding exposition is to be congratulated in its choice of a man whose every action in recent years has marked him as far-seeing and progressive.

It has been the pleasure of this newspaper to watch the civic enterprises of Byron Dickinson for a good many years. It remembers four, five and six years ago when his ambition and energy was largely responsible for a successful Junior Chamber of Commerce and for varied improvements suggested and completed by that organization. When Lubbock was in its earlier formative stages the name and the labors of Byron Dickinson were among the foremost in this community. He was a busy city builder—a worker for the common weal.

In the past several years Byron Dickinson's activities have been largely confined to his own business interests although he has kept in touch with civic problems throughout. After the earlier formative period was successfully passed, Mr. Dickinson saw plenty of workers available and with others of the local citizenry, retired more or less from the civic field to take a well-earned rest. Now that he is back in the harness The Morning Avalanche rejoices. His heading of the 1929 Panhandle-South Plains fair is a guarantee of aggressive progress and a forecast of a job well done.

A home product—a resident of Lubbock for a quarter-century—the new fair executive has the South Plains background essential to success in his endeavor for from natural and first-hand experience it has been his lot to see this territory grow from a ranching section through the struggling stages of farming until it has taken its present place as a great agricultural empire. The benefit of this experience will in the opinion of The Morning Avalanche, react most favorably to the fair.

Mr. Dickinson's selection and acceptance of as great a task as confronts this city and section forecasts nothing less than a bigger and better territorial fair and in its choice of a new executive the fair directorate has chosen a man who is capable in every way of carrying to a successful climax the ambitious program outlined by out-going President I. E. Barr and his predecessors.

And, in this selection, The Morning Avalanche congratulates not only the fair directorate but the forward-looking people of Lubbock and the South Plains who see in the exposition a great institution for the betterment of this mammoth area.

CHINESE NATIONALISM AIDED

In delivering an ultimatum to Nationalist China against seizure of the Chinese Eastern railway, Soviet Russia is inadvertently promoting unity where unity is most to be feared. If the Russians, that is to say, are somewhat fearful of Chinese ascendency, they are pursuing the very course designed to make that ascendency felt throughout the Orient.

For the past several years China has been split into contending factions. Civil war has been rife and the country has been disintegrated by internal friction. The Nationalist government, now at the helm, has been facing something of a struggle for effective unification.

Russia's present policy stands a good chance of providing the needed cohesion. With a foreign foe giving expression to veiled threats, the Chinese people will be fused into a group dominated by a single sovereign objective and the net result may be the emergence of a solid power such as the Soviet government has not anticipated.

The world generally will hope that dire forecasts of war will prove unfounded. But whatever the outcome, it is reasonable to assume that, in a nationalistic sense, China will be the gainer. It's the old story of a quarreling husband and wife fighting shoulder to shoulder smothering their differences when an unpopular neighbor attempts to intervene.

A BIG CHANCE FOR SOME BOY

In a recent interview Henry Ford raised the question whether the airplane engine had yet been produced and inferentially invited the youth of the world to produce it. In all contemporary flights the great question has been fuel consumption; in two west-east transatlantic flights shortage of fuel brought the planes down on the Spanish coast. The amphibian which sought to make the northern circle was constantly exercised about fuel supply. In all preliminary information concerning long flights the gasoline capacity figures prominently, since it, of course, determines the hours the airship can stay in the air.

Obviously here is a tremendous field for the young Fords, Edisons and Westinghouses. And just as certainly somewhere in this wide world is the lad who is going to turn the trick. Just as great problems have been solved before and without the stimulating success of this age as an assurance.

In the beginning men attempted the incredible. Today nothing is incredible nor is it impossible. Somewhere out of the laboratories will come a new compact fuel; somewhere out of the shops will come, possibly, a new type of engine. Both would find a world market. So far from the inventive genius of our time having exhausted the possibilities, the age of invention and adaptation is just beginning, and every boy carries in his knapsack not a marshal's baton but the touchstone of fame, fortune and service.

Mussolini now decrees that straw hats must be worn by Italian collegians. This bare-headed, rah-rah stuff simply won't be tolerated by Il Duce.

Diets and operations are subjects which always are available when conversation begins to lag.

Cole Blease calls Mr. Hoover a Mussolini, but it is hardly a fair criticism. Under Mussolini, would there be a Cole Blease?

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

CHAIRMAN ADMITS LUCKY BREAK AS FARM BOARD BEGINS WORK

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 25. — "We start right off with a lucky break" remarked Chairman Alexander Legge, of the federal farm board, as he and his fellow agriculture experts assembled for the first time the other day in Washington.

Chairman Legge was referring to the market bulge in wheat—due, as he plainly implied, to prospects of an overseas crop shortage this season—enough of a shortage, maybe, to take up all of America's last year's surplus, as well as the whole of our 1929 yield—and do it at good stiff prices, too.

Ah, Mr. Legge, a fine politician you are! — I certainly don't think.

A chance for you and your board to grab off all the credit for having saved the farmers, right from the jump!—and you attribute it to pure luck! Oh, my!

• • • •

Believe me Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde made no such mistake.

"Farm prices are up and coming already," he proclaimed exultantly. "See how wheat's advanced, thanks solely to the psychological effect of the new board's appointment, even before it has had time to map out a plan."

At that, doesn't it beat four of a kind how luck does play into the G. O. P.'s hand?

It will be a wonder if the corn borer, the boll weevil and the fruit fly fail to take a vacation in this country and work overtime everywhere abroad for the next three years, just to enable Chairman Legge & Co. to make good.

And, if so, will the farm voters realize in 1932 that it's providence and not the Republican party they are indebted to? Ha, ha!

In appearance and manner, Chairman Legge is very typical of the International Harvester company's personnel—which is a compliment, too.

What the company is like I don't know, but I have met its representatives over quite a bit of the globe—not only here, but in Europe, the Far East and South America, where ever farm machinery is sold—and have often thought how uniformly fine a corps they are. So have others. They attract attention, their average is so high.

As the International's president since 1922, and general manager for a decade before that, not to mention several important jobs still earlier, Mr. Legge must have had a lot to do with selecting them: Chicago, his headquarters, dispatches them hither and yon.

It speaks well for a boss to have recruited such a picked lot of hired men—from district managers down to work-a-day mechanics out in the sticks the whole world 'round.

• • • •

A big six-footer, or over, is Chairman Legge. He looks in prime condition, and although he carefully omits the date of his birth from 'Who's Who" he looks to be about 50 years old—but he must be older than that, unless he began work for the original McCormick Harvester company in Omaha at an unusually early age, because that was in 1891.

Mr. Legge is the only member of the board who is not a practical dirt farmer.

He is the board's "big business" man.

He resembles a dirt farmer, however, more than any of the rest.

Some of them are pretty spruce. Not that Mr. Legge is not spruce also, but in an unconventional way.

• • • •

He has a weather-beaten smooth-shaven face with a rather unusually jutting Roman nose, and hayseed would not look out of place in his hair.

He receives callers in rolled up shirt sleeves.

In speech he is friendly and democratic—no swank, no airs.

A fine, competent, companionable chap, as like as two peas to any one of a dozen or twenty International mechanics I have drunk beer with in the Balkans and the Argentine Republic and (pre-war, of course) out in Nebraska many's the time.

• • • •

The farm board, he said, has not yet decided by just what means it will rescue agriculture.

What of it, anyway?—with the luck it's going to have.

They say Chairman Legge pronounces his name "Leggy." He will get over that. I heard about 40 people address him while I was there and they called him 'Mr. Leg'—every one.

USE OF X-RAY IS VERY VALUABLE IN TREATING BROKEN BONES

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

All too frequently one hears a person whose medical education in youth was neglected say regarding the unfortunate sufferer from accident: "The bone was not broken, it was only fractured."

Of course, a fracture is a break and vice versa. Part of the trouble arises from the fact that the language of the surgeons relative to fractures, dislocations and sprains is highly complicated. The surgeons recognize simple fractures and compound fractures; they speak of green stick fractures and comminuted fractures; there may be separation at the epiphysis, fracture into the joint, ununited fractures and other varieties.

The number of ways in which portions of bone may be separated off or broken apart would astonish a cabinet maker or a layer of parquet floors.

When one thinks that he has suffered breaking of bone, either of a small part, or cracking into the bone or breaking the bone into two parts, the most important thing is to find out exactly the nature and extent of the injury. Through his study of similar cases the competent surgeon can tell a great deal by his examination of the part, studying its movements, sounds, amount and character of swelling and shortening or lengthening of tissues and amount of distortion.

However, the most exact information is to be obtained by the use of the X-ray and it is by far the safest procedure in case of fracture to have the X-ray plate made as soon as possible.

The first step in the correction of the injury is to put the parts of the bone together again as nearly as possible as they were before. This is called setting the fracture. Sometimes because of the action of the muscles and of the ligaments, or because a portion of the tissues has gotten between the parts of the bone this cannot be done without opening up the tissues.

In cases of compound fracture, which are those in which the tissues are broken open, there is the added danger of infection from an unclean open wound.

As soon as a girl learns to wrap a man around her finger, she replaces him with a ring.

The town population isn't as large as it seems. They should take the farm census at night when everybody is back home.

Anniversary Notes

POSTOFFICE ORGANIZED

One hundred and fifty-four years ago today, on July 26, 1775, the Continental Congress established a postoffice department with Benjamin Franklin in charge as postmaster general.

Franklin was authorized to establish a line of posts from Falmouth, Me., to Savannah, Ga., and as many cross posts as might seem to him necessary.

In 1792 rates of postage for letters were fixed which remained unaltered for nearly half a century. They were: for 30 miles and under, 6 cents; over 30 miles and not exceeding 60 miles, 8 cents; over 60 and not exceeding 100 miles, 10 cents, and so on up to 450 miles and over, for which the charge was 25 cents.

In 1845 the rates were lowered and a scale based on weight as well as distance was adopted.

The element of distance as a factor in fixing rates was abolished in 1855, and a uniform rate of 3 cents was established for letters not exceeding one-half ounce in weight.

There was no house-to-house delivery service in the first postal system in the United States. The mail was sent from town to town by horseback and the residents called at the local postoffice for all their mail.

TRAFFIC IS RENEWED

MEXICO CITY, July 25. (AP) — Renewal immediately of foot and automobile traffic over the Brownsville and Matamoros Bridge company's bridge connecting the two border towns was authorized by the Mexican department of communications today. Immigration and sanitary inspectors and the customs service will be installed at once.

Nearly 8,900,000 persons have visited the top of Washington Monument.

Today's Poem

WAKE, LADY

Up! quit thy bowef! late wears the hour,
Long have the rooks cawed around the tower;
O'er flower and tree loud hums the bee,
And the wild kid sports merrily.
The sun is bright, the sun is clear;
Wake, lady, wake! and hasten here.

Up! maiden fair, and bind thy hair,
And rouse thee in the breezy air!
The lulling stream that soothed thy dream
Is dancing in the sunny beam.
Waste not these hours, so fresh and gay;
Leave thy soft couch, and haste away!

Up! Time will tell the morning bell
Its service-sound has chimed well.
The aged crone keeps house alone,
The reapers to the fields are gone.
Lose not these hours, so cool and gay;
Lo! while thou sleep'st they haste away!

Los Angeles And Midland Airways Draw New Planes

DALLAS, July 25. (AP)—Two giant tri-motored Fokker airplanes of the Standard air lines of California landed here today en route to Los Angeles where they will replace single-motored passenger planes in the air-and-rail transportation schedule maintained between Los Angeles and Midland, by the Standard lines and the Texas and Pacific railway, jointly.

The planes, which officials of the lines claimed to be the finest ever built, costing around $80,000 each, were greeted here by Texas and Pacific officials. They will fly to El Paso tonight.

The planes connect Dallas traffic with Los Angeles through the Sunshine Special here to El Paso, leaving here at 12:45 p. m., and arriving in El Paso at 8 o'clock the following morning. Passengers are then transferred to the planes, arriving in Los Angees at 4 o'clock the same afternoon.

The SHINING TALENT

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MOLLY BURNHAM, reporter, has come off the celebrated BARROWS trial. Barrows, wealthy and socially prominent, was tried for the murder of BERNICE BRADFORD, a rather famous woman, beautiful and undeniably immoral. To everybody's surprise he was acquitted. Molly covered the trial in brilliant fashion and as reward of merit has been given a bonus and a week off.

Molly happens to be very much in love with a poor young man named JACK WELLS, but she has decided to postpone her marriage until such time as Jack has saved a little money. Meanwhile she is bending all her efforts to the task of writing something really worth while. She is a clever little girl, and will probably succeed.

One night as she is revolving in her mind the plot of a story, her bell rings. It is RED FLYNN, police court reporter, with astonishing news of the Bradford murder. Red says that he has just left a boy named PERRY INGERSOLL, who was engaged to Bernice Bradford. He declared that Perry and Bernice were about to be married. And Red admits that he doesn't know exactly what he is going to do with the boy. Meantime, Perry is sleeping in Red's bed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI

Once a reporter, they say, always a reporter. And to a good newspaper woman everything is copy. Life, and death and love and hate. Obviously, then, this Ingersoll boy was copy. Rattling good copy, too.

Molly leaned forward eagerly.

"And what," she demanded, "are you going to do with him, Red?"

Red shrugged narrow shoulders eloquently.

"Darned if I know," he admitted. "There he lies—God's little gift to newspaper men. But you know, Molly, it seems a shame to tell the world."

"I don't know why," she retorted. "If he's spilled a solution of the Bradford murder, Red, it's your civic duty to 'tell the world.'"

"Maybe," he admitted. "But to tell the truth, dear, I haven't any of that stuff called civic pride."

"You're just soft-hearted," she accused.

"Soft-hearted nothing!" he rejoined indignantly. "I'm practical, that's all. And, just now, I've got an idea, Molly. A great big idea."

Molly sighed. "Go on," she urged. "I'm dying of curosity, Red. Tell me about the Ingersoll kid, and never mind your beautiful idea."

Red lighted another cigaret.

"Molly, darling," he informed her "I love you and all that, but you're a dreadful dumbell. Can't you see there's a plot for a play, or a novel, in this Ingersoll kid? Why throw the thing away on a newspaper yarn? Why not collaborate on something worth while? What's a bonus from the old man, a measley little $50 when we can make a fortune? I tell you, Molly, we can knock Broadway dead with the stuff that brat spilled tonight."

"But tell me!" she besought. "Red, you're infuriating. You haven't told me a thing. You're simply talking your head off. I don't know what it's all about."

"No? Listen, then." Solemnly Red began. "Perry Ingersoll fell in love with Bernice Bradford."

• • •

"Yes, yes," Molly nodded. "And because she was gay and charming, and very, very wise, this young Ingersoll found her captivating. She was different from all the nice little girls, who smoke a lot and drink a little, and pretend to be very, very bad. Bernice didn't have to pretend. She was just herself. Beautiful, and loving, and sinning. So Ingersoll fell in love with her, did he?"

"Well, he thought he did," amended Red, "and that's pretty much the same thing, as near as I can make out. She was just the glitteringest thing that had ever come into his life. And, when she gave him a little attention, he fell like a load of bricks. Did I tell you he wrote poetry to her? Called her his golden girl, and all that trash. His Glamorous Golden Girl. Doesn't it give you a pain, Molly?"

"No," she said. "I think it was rather sweet of him, Red, and awfully pathetic."

Red chuckled. "Just a born little romanticist," he chided. "And you a newspaper woman, Molly!"

"Go on!" she pleaded.

"Well, as I was saying, young Perry Ingersoll got a poetic passion for this woman, and pretty soon he started glorifying her. Wanted to marry her. But Bernice knew how to play her cards better than that. All adoring kid might be some use to a girl in her profession, but what the heck could she do with a sophomore husband?"

"You say he knew about Barrows?" questioned Molly.

"Oh, Barrows darn near broke the poor sap's heart," rejoined Red. "The kid was so jealous he couldn't see straight. That's why he was ready to swallow Bernice's proposition, hook, line and sinker."

"What proposition?"

"Don't be in such a hurry," he instructed. "Ain't I trying to tell you? First, you see, the kid was imploring Bernice to marry him, and she was laughing at him. Then, when he'd given up hope, and made up his mind she meant it she suddenly turned the tables. One night she asked Perry to marry her! I can imagine the poor boob's heart busting with joy, when Bernice promptly took all the joy out of life.

"'For a consideration,' she says. And then she outlined her schems.

"Now, Ingersoll's the sort of chap that would cry, and carry on like a woman. But he's a welcher at heart. If he wasn't, he'd never have consented to her proposition. And consent he did.

"Bernice knew he was infatuated with her, and that she could twist him right around her bejeweled little finger. She knew, too, that he was of the world toto[illegible] broke and desperately in need of money. There seems to have been something about gambling debts at the university, and the kid was afraid of an expose.

"Well, Bernice said she'd marry him, and give him a few thousand besides, if he'd be a good little boy, and do exactly as she told him. And then she confessed that Barrow was beginning to tire of her. Not that she gave a hoot whether he loved her or not. Oh, no, Bernice wasn't one of your sentimental models. I don't suppose she'd ever given a snap of her fingers for a man in her life. But there was a lot of money in the Barrows outfit.

"You remember Barrows' aunt was supposed to have provided the defense fund. Well, that wasn't his own aunt. She was his wife's aunt. And for Mrs. Barrows' sake the old lady would go through anything. Barrows' wife's people wouldn't stand for any scandal. And Bernice knew the game from a to z.

"But this was to be high class blackmail. Nothing small-time about Bernice. Barrows was too well known to have his private life concealed from anybody. It wouldn't do Bernice any good to say she did not know he had a wife.

"That being that, our heroine reckoned a husband would be a good bet. And this night I'm telling you about how she laid her cards on the table.

"'We'll get married,' she told young Ingersoll, 'and then you'll threaten to sue Barrows for alienation of my affections.'

"At first the kid didn't get it. And then she tells him she means to continue to play Barrows. Perry'll have to come home some night, and catch Barrows there. He's just to be the boob, that's all.

"Perry'd have to make a scene, she said, and make off he wanted to kill Barrows. Then Bernice was to interfere and try to patch things up. And in the end they'd have Barrows promising them anything they wanted. He could get money, you see, from his wife's aunt. There were two reasons why, the old lady would give it to him, and Bernice knew them both.

"First, there was the way she loved her niece. Then there was the scandal end of it. If the thing threatened to become a court case, the old lady's peel off a hundred thou to save the family honor."

• • •

Molly gasped. "You don't mean to tell me," she cried "that Ingersoll agreed to it?"

Red nodded contemptuously.

"He did," he affirmed, "just that. But don't forget, Molly, that the kid was absolutely infatuated with her—and after all he is a kid. And anyhow, he swears he had no intention of complying with her schemes. After they were married he never meant to leave her. The poor sap was going to make her love him. That was what he thought."

"Do you believe it?"

"Oh, I don't know. The kid's no Galahad. The point is, he promised he'd go through.

"And Bernice went and bought a wedding dress. That girl sure had a sense of humor. A white satin dress and a flock of tulle."

"I know," murmured Molly, "and a duchess' cap of seed pearls, with orange blossoms tucked in her veil. It wasn't a sense of humor though, Red. Women don't joke about things like that. Poor soul—she was buried in it."

Red nodded unfeelingly. "Swell looking corpse, wasn't she?"

"I didn't see her," admitted Molly, "but I had a good line about the way she looked. I said hers was 'a beauty made Death amorous.'"

"Good!" approved Red. "You can sure turn a pretty phrase, old dear."

"I did write some good stuff on that case," confessed Molly delightedly. "Emotional writing is what I like."

"And here's your chance," cut in Red excitely. "Don't you begin to see the thing, Molly? Say, this has all those crime and sex plays beat a mile. Why, honey, you can give the best of them a run for their money. Here you've go tall the ingredients for the best damn plot in history. Beautiful woman. Quivering Passion. The calf love of Ingersoll. Play Ingersoll alongside Barrows. And Bernice alongside Mrs. Barrows. Sin versus respectability, with Sin all glamorous and seductive. And Respectability so damn proper that Sin calls the trickz. And there's your Moral. Every play has to have a Moral."

"And Mystery!" cried Molly. "Why, Red, it's the most mysterious thing that ever was! Here's a woman, preparing for her wedding day. All set to blackmail a wealthy lover, and marry a boy who adored her. Everything rosy. Why—why would she kill herself?"

"That's just it!" announced Red triumphantly. "And the answer—she didn't!"

"But who—?" began Molly.

Texas Tech Regents Hold Session In Fort Worth

Needed Building Forms Basis For Directors' Meet

Failure Of Legislature To Include Funds For Dairy Products Structure Gets Airing At Cowtown

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, July 25.—Failure of the legislature to provide in its appropriations funds for the erection at Texas Technological college of a new dairy products building was discussed at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the school held here Thursday.

The appropriations for the college including an emergency fund of $37,000, and $150,000 for a new library building, have not been approved by the Governor and until he acts, little definite action could be taken on the matter of the school budget, it was said. A sharp retrenchment in the expansion program planned by the school will be necessitated by the tentative appropriation.

None Attend From Here

The meeting of the board of directors of Texas Technological college in Fort Worth Thursday was not attended by members or interested parties from Lubbock. Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college, stated last night that as the meeting was held for the sole purpose of discussing the recent bill allowing the college $150,000 for a library building, a means for building sheds for livestock and machinery and additional funds for operating expenses, he did not deem it necessary to be present at the meeting. His statement also indicated that matters of lesser importance were scheduled for discussion.

Members of the Board of Regents in attendance at the session included Houston Harte, San Angelo; Mrs. F. N. Drane, Corsicana; John W. Carpenter, Dallas, Chairman Clifford B. Jones, Spur, Frank E. Clarity, Ft. Worth; R. A. Underwood, Plainview, and Dr. G. C. Comegys, McKinney.

Henry T. Kimbro, Lubbock member of the board, was unable to attend, he said, but conferred with Regents Underwood and Jones here on Wednesday.

Divorce Petition Is Filed By Wife

In a petition filed for divorce Thursday by a Lubbock woman in the 99th District court, she charges that being a kind and considerate wife, it was her lot in life to draw from her husband a course of harsh, cruel and tyrannical treatment until she was no longer able to stand it and was forced to abandon him.

She alleges that often without cause he would call her improper names and accuse her of improper conduct, all of which she says was uncalled for and was done only by the defendant for the express purpose of causing her anguish and suffering. She states that his actions were of such a nature to render their living together insupportable and asks that the court dissolve all marriage relations and give to her such other relief as it deems she is entitled.

Film Plans For New School Here

A. C. Jackson, secretary of the Lubbock Board of Education, announced Thursday that a photograph of the architect's conception of the new $650,000 Lubbock High school building has been completed and will soon be placed on display.

The structure will be of modified Northern Italian design, similar to Spanish architecture. It will be constructed of light shade face brick and trimmed with stone or terra cotta. A beautiful effect will be obtained by strong contrast of broad plain surfaces and highly concentrated spots of ornament.

To Have Tower

An accent of interest will be a tower, which will also serve a utility purpose as an exhaust for ventilation of the auditorium.

Peters, Strange and Bradshaw are architects for the structures.

About sixty days will be required before all plans and specifications will be ready to submit to contractors, it was indicated.

POLICE KEEP BUSY

Officers "Bear Down" And Fine 19 Offenders

Lubbock city police have arrested 19 offenders violators of the parking ordinance this week in a continuance of their campaign to uphold the law. All of these paid fines in the city corporation court.

Most of the offenders paid fines on charges of parking in forbidden zones which have been marked with orange paint.

"We positively will enforce the traffic laws," said Chief of Police John Lemond. "These zones have been marked to facilitate convenient and safe traffic, and we will demand observance of regulations."

RAIN IS VERY LIGHT

Lowering skies and darkening clouds were hovering over Lubbock and the South Plains Wednesday night, following light spasmodic showers over the area Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

The fall in Lubbock was scarcely enough to register. A shower about 11:30 yesterday morning was only enough to cool the atmosphere and stopped before the noon hour.

Bus drivers from all sections of the Plains reported that showers were of no consequence in any portion.

Honor Of Family Upheld By Death

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 25. (AP)—A 17-year-old school boy was today placed on trial in the Stamboul criminal court, charged with murdering his 19-year-old aunt because she rode astride.

The youth declared the priest of his district had summoned him and complained of what he considered the girl's offense against decency. The boy said he remonstrated with his aunt. She declared Turkish women were now free to do as they liked. He then "avenged the family honor."

Fifteen Will Go To Short Course, Scurry Reports

(By Associated Press)

SNYDER, July 25 — Miss Jessie Lee Davis, county home demonstration agent, has announced that 10 girls and five women have been awarded free trips to the Short Course at College Station that opens next Monday. Judging of various contests were made by both Miss Davis and Miss Myrtle Murray, district agent.

Mrs. Oscar Costen, of Camp Springs, was county winner in the dress contest for women, while Mrs. John R. Truss of Fluvanna, placed first in the butter scoring. W. Wade at Gannaway will attend through a $15 surplus the club won last year and donations.

Miss Lera Mae Cook of Hud was county winner in the girls club contest and Lucille Harder, with first honors of a trip when her dress was awarded first prize in the school girls' contest.

The other eight girls include Esther Fambro, Lloyd Mountain; Eloise Lewis, Ira; Marie Guerrero and Ruby Lee Burney, Bison; Sybil Gilmore, Bethel; Jessie Dowden, Helms, and Dairy Harden, Hud.

Survey Of Route To Idalou To Be Begun Here Soon

State Engineer, In Note To County Judge, Says His Men Will Start Work On Highway's New Routing

Information contained in a letter to Judge Robert H. Bean Thursday from State Engineer Gib Gilchrist stated that a survey will be made east of Lubbock within the near future for the purpose of designating a route for highway 53 between this city and Idalou.

This was the first communication received with reference to the highway since the state department rescinded six weeks ago its previous designation of the route.

Petition Held Up.

Proposals for petitioning for a road bond election in the newly created Road District No. 2 which includes all of the county except the Slaton district have been held in abeyance, awaiting the new routing. The prepared petition for the election is in the hands of the Lubbock Good Roads association, of which Charles F. O'Neall is chairman.

Mr. Gilchrist did not specify the exact date when the survey will start. Judge Bean stated but it is likely that engineers will begin work within the next week.

The highway was formerly routed to lead out of the city on Avenue H and alongside the Santa Fe railroad to Idalou.

QUARREL INTO COURTS

Family Altercation Taken To Justice Of Peace

Following reports of a family quarrel, an altercation between a middle-aged resident of Lubbock county and his son-in-law and the filing of charges of chicken theft, the father-in-law was released without bond in the court of Justice of the Peace G. R. Scott after a preliminary trial conducted by County Attorney Vaughn Wilson.

A complaint charging theft of 100 chickens, was filed by the son-in-law as an aftermath to an altercation between the two.

The wife of the accuser testified in the examining trial that she had been living with her father, and that she had transferred the chickens from the farm of her estranged husband to her father's farm. The two families live about 17 miles west of Lubbock.

Herbert Kahn returned Thursday to his home in Cleveland, O., following a brief business visit in Lubbock.

Surrenders Car

Youth Gives Up To Officers

LONGVIEW, July 25. (AP)—Disgusted when the automobile he had stolen ran out of gasoline, a tall, bedraggled youth walked into the sheriff's office here the other night, asked for the sheriff, laid down a key and said:

"Well, here's the key. You'll find the rest of the car about three miles east of here. Any man who would try to drive a wreck like that one ought to be in prison. Lock me up."

The youth said he had stolen the car in Tyler, and that he was en route to Texarkana from where he had planned to depart for Chicago.

When Smith county officers referred to papers, they found the boy had already been indicted there on a forgery charge.

MEXICO CITY, July 25. (AP) — Rather than part with the animals at the city zoo, children of the primary schools here have agreed to contribute a cent a piece each day to pay for their food and care.

The city had decided to dispose of the animals because of the heavy cost.

Prairie Dog War Begun In County

R. J. Powell, of the United States Biological survey, with offices with the county agent at the courthouse, Thursday announced that all farmers or ranchers desiring help in the poisoning of prairie dogs should call him. He stated that he would be glad to help anyone, providing they had 100 acres or more.

In connection with this, Mr. Powell gave a formula for use of Cal-Cy in the poisoning of dogs. "Dash one or two tablespoons of dust in each prairie dog hole, then make the hole airtight by covering it with some grassy sod. Do not throw loose dirt in the hole as the dirt will tend to cover up the dust. This dust creates a gas, and the best time to put it out is in a damp spell or when the ground has a lot of moisture in it. When the ground is too dry the dust does not work so well."

NEW BABY ARRIVES

Announcement of the arrival of a son was made Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Strong, of New Orleans, formerly of Lubbock. The newcomer weighed in at eight pounds and twelve ounces. Both Mrs. Strong and the baby are doing nicely, telegrams to friends here said.

Billie Cochran, little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cochran, of Littlefield, was reported improved Thursday at the Lubbock sanitarium.

Dairymen of this territory think the plant's record is remarkable, considering the short time it has been operating. The creamery has annual capacity of 1,000,000 pounds of butter, and is mainly financed by Slaton farmers and business men who hold stock in the enterprise.

A clear skin is irresistible

.. in fact, popularity depends upon it ..

THAT priceless treasure—a clear, flawless, lovely skin—charms, with admiration, the hearts of men.

First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered. You, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

The way to the skin is through the blood. Strong, healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

Many thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking S.S.S. It is Nature's own blood tonic for raising the body's power of resistance to disease, improving the appetite, building firm flesh, and clearing the skin. Interscholastic League To Debate Highway Program

Proposed State-Wide Bond Issue Selected As Subject For Debates In Annual Competition

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 25.—The proposal to finance road construction in Texas with a $175,000,000 bond issue will be discussed pro and con in public debates throughout the state during the next few months.

The subject has been designated officially by the Interscholastic League for the competition in debate.

Data is being compiled and will be printed in a 200 page booklet which will be mailed to more than 5,400 member schools, according to Roy Bedichek, director of the league.

Keen interest in the proposal was aroused last winter when the 41st legislature during its regular session considered submitting a constitutional amendment in order to permit issuance of State bonds for road construction.

MEXICAN PRISONERS ESCAPE

TEOTITLAN DEL CAMINO, Oaxaca, Mexico, July 25 (AP)—Lieut. Juan Aguilar, accused of having executed en masse the city officials of Huahutla De Jiminez, Oaxaca, in June, 1928, with five other prisoners has escaped from the local jail. The six prisoners locked the warden in a cell. A seventh prisoner, who refused to escape, was armed by the authorities and took part in the fruitless search for the refugees. When the hunt was abandoned the prisoners was reincarcerated.

Finland is considering the improvement of 2,220 miles of highways.

With the exception of pigs livestock in England is declining according to a recent official report.

He Didn't Blame This Husband!

SAN ANTONIO, July 25. (AP)—Not every deserting husband is sought by the law, even though wife abandonment now is a felony in Texas.

Sometimes there are mitigating circumstances—this time there was.

This week one deserted wife came to the office of Fred N. Cowen, assistant district attorney in charge of wife and child abandonment cases, and sought to have the law chastise her lost husband.

After she had talked for many minutes without Cowen having a chance to stop her, she finally stopped to catch her breath and he got in his first words.

"Madame, if you were just half as disagreeable to your husband as you have been up here, I don't blame him for leaving," he said.

And the law refused to take any action in the matter.

"She had enough money to get along on, and the only way she could have sworn out charges against him would have been falsely," he explained.

Faded Records Of Early Texas Days To Be Preserved By Mrs. McCallum; Interesting Data Found In Capitol

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 25.—Faded records dating back to the days when Texas was a republic are being resurrected from dusty files in the capitol basement where they have lain for years and will be repaired and catalogued under direction of Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, Secretary of State.

The move was started to preserve the documents after Mrs. McCallum discovered Texas' Declaration of Independence hidden away under the floors of the state house. The instrument was ordered by Mrs. McCallum removed and framed. It shortly will be hung in the main capitol corridor.

Election Is Record

Result of an election contest held in Brazoria county in 1836 in which Gen. Sam Houston received 55 votes for president of the Republic and Stephen F. Austin one vote is one of the records which searchers have uncovered. Yellow and musty with age, the election return, written with a fine Spencerian hand, has been patched with linen and its life extended for several years.

Citizens of Boerne, where two excellent highways now converge, believed in 1361 that the county "was so completely intersected with rough rocky mountains that it was impractical ever to construct 'wagon or carrier road,'" a petition to the legislature revealed. Signers of the petition asked that Boerne be made a part of Kerr county on account of their inability to reach Blanco, 35 miles distant.

Guards Requested

In 1838 citizens of Colorado addressed a petition to the Republic of Texas, requesting that a captain's company of mounted gunmen be kept in the region until settlers gathered their crops.

The petition said that the rangers were needed until "such time as petitioners will have their crops gathered and will be in readiness to guard against, and protect themselves from, the tomahawk and scalping knife of the savage Indian."

Four thousand taxpayers of Brownsville protested against a petition to the legislature in 1851, asking that articles of incorporation for Brownsville be repealed, files now indexed reveal.

Court Is Remonstrated

The Supreme Court increased recently in a special election to nine members, enjoyed little favor in Burnet county in 1842. Among the documents to be found in the basement is one signed by 100 citizens, remonstrating against the power to be given judges through creation of the high court.

Tax problems, too, date back to the early days of the Lone Star State, the records indicate. In one of the files is to be found a protest from citizens of Austin, complaining that a 1 per cent ad valorem tax is "excessive, oppressive and unjust." The petition asks the legislature to allow the city to amend its charter so that not more than one-fourth of one per cent can be collected through an ad velorem tax without submission of the tax to a popular vote.

In another petition dated 1842, Austin citizens asked for an extension of time before paying for town lots to determine whether the seat of government should be moved.

Burning of houses by the army of the Republic of Texas as it retreated from Gonzales to the Colorado river in the fight with Mexico in 1836 is reflected in a claim made against the state by Jesse Burnum, whose house was fired.

In his petition asking $2,375 damages Burnum set out that he would have yielded cheerfully to any sacrifice for the protection of citizens but he believed there never existed a reason to justify the destruction of his property.

Woman Betrays

Jiminez's Death Is From Betrayal

DOLORES HIDALGO, Guanajuato, Mexico, July 25. (AP)—The fury of a woman scorned was responsible for the downfall of Primitivo Jiminez, rebel chieftan executed here July 16 authorities have disclosed.

The woman, once a favorite of the Caudillo, had been rejected. She made her way to an army unit and led the federal soldiers to Jiminez's hiding place. The leader at one time commanded several hundred men, but his following had dwindled to 20. He and his chief-of-staff, Juan Sanchez, were eating breakfast when they were surprised and captured. They were brought here and shot after a courtmartial.

Jiminez's most outstanding exploit was a raid on the city of Leon, largest town in this state, in June 1926. After looting the place he escaped.

"BAD MAN" IS SHOT

CIUDAD BRAVOS, State of Guerro, Mexico, July 25. (AP)—Reports reaching here from Ayutla say that Delfino Sanchez, a "bad character," was shot to death on the street by Judge Jesus Del Castillo, after Sanchez had been released in connection with a murder. Sanchez was held while the killing was investigated, but was released and was strolling away from the jail when he met the judge and was shot.

The reports say townspeople are incensed at the judges action.

Credit Situation Is Worry In Wall Street's Trading

Excellent Earnings Offset By Troublesome Credits; Bethleham Steel Reports New Peacetime Record

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—The stock market floundered about without direction today, as speculative sentiment was torn between further excellent earnings statements, and a troublesome credit situation. Operations were on a reduced scale less than 3,500,000 shares changed hands.

Call money mounted to 10 per cent after renewing at 8, and after the close of the market, the weekly federal reserve brokerage loan statement showed an increase of $95,000,000, carrying the total to a new high record at $5,908,000,000.

Situation is Tight

Calling of loans was negligible today, but yesterday's withdrawal of $40,000,000 left a tight situation that failed to find relief.

The Bank of England made no change in its discount rate, removing for the present apprehension over withdrawal of British funds from New York.

The outstanding development in the day's business news was when Bethlehem Steel placed its stock on a $6 annual dividend basis, against $4 previously, and announced record peacetime earnings or the second quarter equal to $5.33 per share, as compared to $1.57 on a lesser number of shares in the same quarter of last year.

Specialties Go Up

A few specialties reached new high ground, notably Hershey Chocolate, Remington Rand and Chicago Pneumatic Tool.

Heavy realizing came into the rails, such issues as Atchison, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, Missouri Pacific and Rock Island losing 2 to 4 points.

Foreign Exchanges Easy

Foreign exchanges eased somewhat, with sterling cables sagging 1-8 of a cent to $4.85 3-16.

Commodities were generally strong, wheat closing nearly 5 cents a bushel higher in response to further reductions of Canadian estimates, and corn 2 cents and more higher. Cotton closed slightly higher on bullish weather.

Wheat Prices Go Up Five Cents A Bushel Thursday

Pessimistic Reports From Canada Send Staple Hike Skyrocketing Again; Corn And Oats Also Go Up

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, July 25. (AP)—Reports of ruin of crops in Canada, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana led to 5c a bushel higher prices here today for wheat. Dealings in the wheat market took on immense proportions, word of increasing havoc by drought and extreme high temperatures being given added force by news that black rust has reached the danger stage in the Red river valley, one of the choiceest wheat regions of the Northwest.

Feverish At Close.

Closing wheat quotations were feverish at near the day's top level, 4 1-8c to 4 3-4c above yesterday's latest price. Corn closed 1 1-2c to 2 5-8c up; oats 7-8c to 1 1-2c advanced, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 10c.

Corn and oats were influenced not only by wheat strength but also by reports of drought in New England; word that corn is firing in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas and by advices that oats and hay crops in Europe are a failure.

Provisions averaged higher owing to upturns in hog values and in grain.

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, July 25. (AP) — Demand for wheat continued active on the Fort Worth cash grain market today with prices from 3 to 5 cents higher. Exporters and mills were buying heavily despite the port embargoes.

Leahy Trial

said that Leahy appeared to be sane. Light Townsend a state ranger, H. E. Moore, the warden's secretary, Lee M. Taylor, formerly of Georgetown, and Marvin Johnson, former district attorney at George West all said they believed Leahy sane and capable of realizing his position.

Dr. Wooten, who has practiced since 1895 and testified in many sanity hearings, said that Leahy's eyes and physical condition indicated he was normal in every way. The defendant Dr. Wooten said "in my opinion is sane. He knows right from wrong, realizes his position and is cautious, calm and collected."

Ignored Questions.

Leahy, he said, had refused to answer any questions put to him by the examiners designed to test his powers of association and rational thought, and his susceptibility to hallucinations.

Dr. W. G. Wheeler of the Rusk asylum echoed Dr. Wooten's opinion and added his impression that Leahy was "A man of strong mentality."

Hatcher To Make Governor's Race

W. GREGORY HATCHER

State Treasurer Gives Out His Announcement

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, July 25.—Another name was added today to the growing list of those who will seek the Governorship of Texas next year with the announcement of W. Gregory Hatcher, State Treasurer, that he would run.

Hatcher said he was actuated in announcing for the Governorship by the belief that it had become a public necessity for someone to be elected who is not afraid to speak out in the cause of the people.

Would Cut Costs

He said he believed reducing the cost of the State government to be the paramount issue.

Shortly after Hatcher made his announcement, State Representative John E. Davis said he would consider making the race for treasurer. He had declined to consider the race heretofore as he said he did not want to oppose Hatcher.

Pope Takes Stroll

Imprisonment Ends By Walk Of Pope

VATICAN CITY, July 25. (AP) —The long voluntary imprisonment of Roman Catholic pontiffs in the Vatican ended tonight as Pope Pius XI emerged from historic St. Peter's into the famous square before it and blessed a throng of 200,000 persons that knelt before him.

Amid deep religious solemnity, broken only at the beginning by cries of "Viva Il Papa" (Long Live the Pope), the pontiff made his way around the Bernini colonnade that circled the square behind a magnificent procession and back to a special altar at the other end of the colonnade.

Movie Stars' Salaries Plunge Down As Stage Folk Capture Talkies Films

Famous Artists Find Demands Costing Them Jobs

By DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 25.—What is the limit salary a motion picture star may receive?

This is a question which make-believe village has been regarding rather seriously during the past few months. And it became particularly important when Adolphe Menjou announced in New York he could no longer get work in Hollywood. What Menjou really meant was that he could no longer get work at his present salary, reputed to be somewhere between $6,000 and $7,000 weekly.

Menjou's predicament emphasizes a well-known fact around the film colony that a vast majority of the stars of today are not drawing the salaries that stars of a few years ago did.

Talkies Cut the Checks

One reason for the lower salaries is the influx of speaking films. The talkies have lured many celebrities from the legitimate stage, where salaries never reached the figures set forth on film pay checks. Naturally, such actors are willing to work for less than the movie stars have received.

The standard contract used by film studios calls for an increase in salary with the renewal of each six months or yearly option. Such contracts eventually boost salaries to the point where it is no longer profitable for a studio to retain a star. Many stars who are now losing out could keep their jobs if they would demand an increase in salary. But they have been spoiled and won't listen to any such agreement. That was Menjou's trouble.

Not long ago Pola Negri was forced to leave the celluloid hamlet because her salary of $8,500 a week was too high. Studio officials could not foresee profits from her pictures with so much money being paid to the star. And Pola absolutely refused to consider any offer for less money.

Colleen Moore who is probably the highest salaried star in the film business, with a weekly pay check amounting to $12,000, severed connections with First National upon completion of her last picture, "Footlights and Fools." First National said it didn't want to lose Colleen but that it could not afford to pay her such a salary. Colleen may sign with another studio or she may produce her own pictures in the future. She could do the latter very nicely as her husband, John McCormick, is one of the ablest executives in the business.

Denny Going Abroad

Reginald Denny is now making his last film for Universal. His contract is up and he wants more money to renew. As Universal refused to increase his salary, he will leave here immediately after he completes his current picture, having signed with an English concern.

Esther Ralston is another who may be released at the end of her contract. According to their agreement, Paramount will have to pay her considerably more if it renews the contract. So far Esther has turned a deaf ear to all propositions calling for her services at her present salary.

Tom Mix was one of the first of the big stars to be dropped because of an excessive salary. When the talkies came along the demand for westerns went on the decline with the speed of an express train and producers wouldn't even listen to his demands. Consequently Tom is now making a tour of the country with a circus for $10,000 a week.

Bebe Uses Her Head

A short time ago Bebe Daniels was released by Paramount because that studio claimed it could no longer stand the pressure of her salary. But being a smart business woman, Bebe went around the corner and signed a long term contract with the new RKO studio, which needs a few big names on its roster, for more money than she had been receiving. And when Richard Dix finishes his next picture he will follow right in Bebe's footsteps. Paramount executives said that Richard's films weren't bringing in sufficient returns to warrant his salary. But apparently RKO officials feel differently about it.

Endurance Flights

that all was well.

Missourians Sail On Toward 500 Hour Goal

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (AP) — Approaching the end of their second week of sustained flight, Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine tonight looked toward a goal of 500 hours in their record breaking performance in the monoplane "St. Louis Robin."

The motor of their plane was running "like a race horse" and fliers gave no indication of forsaking their temporary home in the sky.

At 12:17 p. m., (C. S. T.) they had been up 307 hours and had beaten the endurance record of the "Angeleno" by 58 hours.

Showers Fail.

Cloudy skys and intermittent showers caused the fliers to drop to a lower altitude as they circled Lambert-St. Louis field this afternoon, but they soared away tonight after taking a new supply of fuel.

O'Brine and Jackson were watching closely the progress of their rival endurance plane, the "Billion Dollar City," at Houston, and expressed determination to outlast the Texas fliers, more than 100 hours behind them.

Comment On Story.

Jackson commented on a newspaper article he read quoting Dr. A. C. Leggat, flight surgeon, as saying that he expected Jackson, who perspires freely, to lose about 20 pounds on the flight, and for O'Brien to lose about 10 pounds.

"Tell doc, he's wrong," Jackson said. "I'm not getting thin, I'm gaining weight. My pants are getting too tight for me."

Tom Love, In Speech To Veterans, Raps Slash In Pension For Widows Of Men Who Wore The Gray Uniforms

(By Associated Press)

DRIFTWOOD, Tex., July 25.—The present State Pension law regarding amounts allowed Civil war veterans and their widows was attacked by Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, in an address at a Confederate Veteran's reunion here today.

Senator Love, who recently announced his candidacy for Governor, said he favored giving the veterans and their widows an increase in monthly allowance, and that Texas should lead the way instead of being next to the bottom in the list of 13 states now paying the veterans pensions.

The Senator went into details regarding the statute concerning the paying of pensions, the changes it had undergone since being adopted in 1898 and the fight he made at the last legislature to have it increased.

He criticized the Forty-fourth legislature for decreasing allowances of veterans' widows under 70 years of age from $19 to an estimated $13 a month. He claimed this was below a fair livelihood. He said a great number of those affected were poor people.

He then related his two attempts at the last legislature to have passed a measure favorable to the old soldiers and their widows.

Turkey's Growth Proves Phenominal

(Special To The Avalanche)

TURKEY, July 25.—The construction crew of the West Texas Utilities company, will complete their task of removing power lines from the main streets to the alleys during the coming week. Total cost of improvements is about $10,000.

According to Mr. Reavis, local manager, the growth of the company's investment here has been in keeping with the phenominal growth of the town. When Mr. Reavis came to Turkey about two years ago, there were 96 meters, at the last count there were 336 and no evidence of stopping.

Forgery losses in 1928 were estimated to be $200,000,000.

The University of Pavia, Italy, was founded by Lothaire, grandson of Charlemagne, in 825 and celebrated its eleventh centenary on May 5, 1925.

Paris Learns About Our Cocktails

Stomach Disorders, Nervous Strain, Mental Derangement Are All Parts Of Volstead Drinks In U. S.

By MINOTT SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

PARIS, July 25. — What is in the American cocktail? The following according to Professor Guillain, eminent French savant:

Stomach disorder, nervous strain, mental derangement, heart disease, epileptic attacks, physical and psychical athenia, liver maladies, syncope, insomnia, depression, anxiety complex, inaptitude for intellectual work and over-excitation with impulsive reactions. Added to that there is a touch of bitters in the form of mentally and physically stunted children as the result of the drinking habits of parents.

That's something to swallow, but the distinguished Academy of Medicine got it down with a gulp when Professor Guillain warned that cocktails, like absinthe, must be prohibited in France. He was not giving a temperance lecture, but merely pointing out what he called the horrible results of the fast-spreading cocktail habit within French society. He warned that if conservative wine-drinking France didn't steer clear of these American concoctions she would have to face a prohibition problem.

Professor Guillain is more of an authority on the results of cocktail drinking than on the shaking of them. He holds the chair in neurology at the University of Paris Medical College and is consulting specialist at La Salpetriers, the famous hospital for the insane. He told his learned colleagues that he was alarmed at the increase in popularity of cocktails in fashionable circles while alcoholism among French working classes has been decreasing steadily for the last few years. He branded the cocktail as poisonous because it was a mixture of the most venomous of high liquors, such as whiskey, gin and brandies.

"A particularly vicious feature of the cocktail habit," he explained, "was the practice of taking the hard drinks on an empty stomach. The result is a great variety of gastronomic, nervous, mental and heart diseases. Numerous automobile accidents in France are caused by the fact that the driver has abandoned the normal wines of the country and turned to the cocktail. The offspring of the cocktail generation is already coming under the observation of scientists in the form of nervous, debilitated and backward children."

In his denunciation of the cocktail, Professor Guillain was staunchly supported by another eminent scientist, Professor Sergent. The medical academicians are pondering the problem with only good French wine for inspiration.

"Slander Of Borger" Puts Amarillo Editor Behind Jail Bars For Day

AMARILLO, July 25. (AP)—Gene Howe, Amarillo editor, was taken off a train at Borger and charged with malicious slander, returned to Amarillo today after having spent most of the day and part of the night behind the bars.

Howe, in his newspaper column, was charged with being responsible for articles that reflected upon the Borger citizenship. He had written some time back that he had stood on the main street of Borger at midnight and had read a newspaper by the flashes of guns.

The editor was tried in justice court and was released upon his statement that he merely had attempted to be humorous and that he apologized fully and humbly.

Howe today wrote an article complimenting Borger as a city, but stated he was astonished that a city of 10,000 inhabitants had policemen without uniforms. Howe has made an offer to purchase metropolitan uniforms for the eight Borger policemen.

Clara Bow Gets Engagement Ring

Clara Bow, famous "IT" girl of movieland, is pictured here with husband-to-be, Harry Richman, New York night club owner and singer. That beaming smile on Clara's face comes from the fact that "she's so happy!" as Richman slips on the $10,000 engagement Ring. They are to be married soon.

It's Just An Echo From The Past!

Former Governor Of Texas And Citizen Swap Negro Girl, Ten Barrels Whiskey, Ninety Dollars In Cash!

Eighty-seven years ago! When men were men, liquor was dirt cheap and the worth of a woman was estimated by the taste of her biscuits and not by the finer qualities expressed by Elinor Glynn's "It."

Few, very few there are in Lubbock or on the South Plains who can remember when real "honest-to-goodness" liquor sold at 22c per gallon and when a man could take a drink, more or less, and still be monarch in his own home!

Times Have Changed.

Those also were the days when a human soul and body could be bought for the trifling sum of $90. A slave to the buyer, sold into bondage for the duration of a lifetime.

The following clipping from the county of San Augustine, Texas, in 1842, property of James H. Goodman, of Lubbock, tells of the trade and sale of a negro girl and 10 barrels of whiskey, between Oran M. Roberts, later governor of Texas, and another man, Abner Parther.

"The Republic of Texas,

"San Augustine county. Know all men by these presents: that I Oran M. Roberts, for and in consideration of the sum of Ninety Dollars do by these presents bargain and sell unto Abner Parther a certain negro girl about fifteen years of age, named Sarah, of dark complexion, warranted to be a slave for life, the same to have and to hold to himself and legal representatives. Provided, however, and upon this condition, that whereas the said Roberts purchased ten barrels of whiskey from said Parther at twenty-two cents per gallon amounting in all to about ninety Dollars, four of which have already been delivered and other six barrels to be hereafter delivered upon order of said Roberts for which whiskey said Roberts binds himself to pay on or before the fifteenth day of November next. Now if the said Roberts shall well and truly pay said Abner Parther for said whiskey at said time, this instrument shall henceforth and forever after be fully discharged, cancelled and of no effect. This the 15th day of September, 1842.

"Witness my hand and seal, the word Parther is interlined before sealing and delivering.

"(Signed) Oran M. Roberts. (Seal) Test, John Martin."

Quite A Man
Ten-Year-Old Is Young Giant

RACINE, Wis., July 25.—Although only ten years old, Robert Wadlow has reached the stature of a well-developed man. He is 6 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 250 pounds. Special shoes built for him, size 25, were made from 5 square feet of leather. Physicians say he will grow to be 9 feet tall.

DRILLING IN ROCK

(Special To The Avalanche)

BIG SPRING, July 25.—Fuhrman Petroleum corporation's No. 1-Read, the test drilling within Big Spring city limits drilling at 1,770 feet in anhydrite and red rock, according to reports received Tuesday morning. The first sand series was passed in the No. 1-Read from 1515 to 82 feet, the report stated. Fuhrman's test is 2,310 feet north and 330 feet east of the southwest corner of section 41, block 32 township-1-north of the T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

FISH SHIPMENTS CUT

ORANGE, July 25.(AP)—Extremely hot weather this summer has caused discontinuance of fish shipments from here to the New York market. Elmer Bowman, pioneer fisherman who has a crew of men and boats and a regular New York market for buffalo fish from the Sabine river said in discontinung the shipments that the hot weather made icing cost so high that the profits were too small.

Jamaica's banana crop this year will exceed 17,000,000 bunches.

IT WAS A REAL SURPRISE FOR US

"Orgatone Has Restored My Wife's Health And Has Saved Me A Lot Of Money," Says Lubbock Man

"My wife is the very picture of health, and feels better than she has in several years," said T. K. Morgan, of 2312 Avenue T., Lubbock, Texas. Mr. Morgan is in the plumbing business, and while talking with the Orgatone representative stated that he was glad to tell about Orgatone, and what it had done for his wife.

"Orgatone was sure a surprise for us," he continued, "for my wife had taken so many different kinds of medicines we didn't think it would do her very much good. She suffered from stomach trouble and indigestion. She couldn't eat anything for it wouldn't agree with her and she had tertil she would be in misery for hours after eating.

"She was so run down and always had severe, sharp, shooting pains in her back and sides, and was so nervous she could hardly do anything. Her liver and kidneys bothered her quite a bit. Finally she got so weak and run down she couldn't do her own housework without stopping two or three times to rest. She was getting to feel melancholy and wasn't taking any interest in a thing.

"A friend of ours recommended Orgatone to her, and she began taking it. She has just taken two bottles and is like a different person. She is improving every day and now can eat anything she wants, without it hurting her in the least. She never complains as she used to and goes about her work feeling fine. She doesn't get tired and worn out now and is doing all her housework. Orgatone has restored my wife's health and has saved me lots of money, that I would have paid out trying to get back her health and we are both grateful and are glad to recommend it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store who are distributing agents. Adv.
